*FAVORABLE AND UNFAVORABLE
DAYS IN JULY, 1921.*

According to Astrology

By Llewellyn George

Moon in Last Quarter. Decreasing. Dark.

FRIDAY, 1st—Moon is $14^{\circ} 15'$ in Taurus at 4 a.m. Pacific time. See Note on page 2.

Between 4.25 A. M. and 3.08 P. M. (Pacific time) several excellent planetary aspects are formed whose vibrations are a beneficial aid in matters pertaining to study, correspondence, property, land, repairs, art music, fancy work, healing. Good for business connected with teachers, authors, printers, landlords, min ers, actors, artists, musicians, hotel-keepers, managers, electricians, autoists, municipal employes.

After 3.08 P. M. be cautious regarding machinery, and excess in matter of pleasure.

Saturday, 2nd—Moon $28^{\circ} 01'$ in Taurus and enters Gemini at 7.22 A. M. Until 6.29 P. M. is rather favorable for matters ruled by Mars, mechanical and muscular activity; dealings with engineers, contractors, iron workers, sewer builders, scavengers, carpenters, lumbermen, machinists, smiths, repair men, hardware dealers. police, soldiers, sailors, stockmen, dentists, surgeons, butchers.

Be cautious in correspondence, agreements and promises. After 6.29 P. M. avoid haste, and impulse. Be careful of the traffic rules and refrain from breaking the speed limits.

Sunday, 3rd—Moon $12^{\circ} 15'$ in Gemini. Sun $10^{\circ} 58'$ in Cancer. Between 6.14 A. M. and 4.02 P. M. the principal planetary influence is Moon adverse Saturn. This tends to restrictions, limitations, obstacles, delays and disappointment, hence important engagements had best be postponed for a more auspicious day, and attention turned to minor, routine duties of ordinary nature. Read inspiring literature and aim to keep the mind from petty worries or depression and misgivings. A slightly good aspect of Mercury operates today which will assist your efforts to maintain poise and perform many useful duties. Exercise for health then relax and rest.

After 4.02 P. M. the indications are somewhat better generally.

Monday, 4th—Moon $26^{\circ} 56'$ in Gemini and enters Cancer at 8.55 A. M. No important aspects culminate today. so the aspects operating in your own horoscope will be most in evidence. Matters pertaining to liquids and chemicals will prove interesting, also those relating to psychic and occult science. Fairly good for metaphysical matters between noon and 2 P. M. Favorable for domestic work.

New Moon. First Quarter Begins on 5th at 5.37 A. M.

Tuesday, 5th—Moon $11^{\circ} 56'$ in Cancer. After 5.37 A. M. the planetary aspects are very benign and favor progressive effort towards construction, expansion and attainment. Deal with matters relating to land, produce, property, repairs, finances, collections, new business accounts, attention to old business, correspondence, buying, literary and intellectual affairs, travel, art, music and healing, meditation, study.

The evening is excellent for pleasure and social affairs.

Wednesday, 6th—Moon $27^{\circ} 06'$ in Cancer and enters Leo at 8.34 A. M. The principle aspect is Sun favorable with Jupiter, which is complete at 10.16 A. M. Pacific time (Mountain, Central and Eastern time is one, two and three hours in advance, respectively). Favorable for dealings with high officials, bankers, collegiates, wool and silk merchants, lawyers, doctors, judges, government officers.

After 10.16 A. M. is not so good for big business and attention should be turned to executing details and routine duties, aiming to keep the mind calm and optimistic.

Thursday, 7th—Moon $12^{\circ} 16'$ in Leo. A number of minor good aspects indicate a fairly good day for general business and intellectual activity, correspondence, study and shopping.

Friday, 8th—Moon $27^{\circ} 15'$ in Leo and enters Virgo at 8.27 A. M. The aspects are inclined to be disturbing; Moon and Venus affect domestic affairs with some disfavor, while Moon and Sun incline to rebuffs; Moon and Uranus to unpremeditated speech and action; Moon and Saturn to serious mien; but Moon parallel Jupiter in between times helps to offset real dire conditions until 11.06 A. M., then you will be left to your own resources to travel the rough road. Put a foot on the brake, or the soft pedal. Stop. Look. Listen. Be sure you're right, then go ahead.

Saturday, 9th—Moon $11^{\circ} 56'$ in Virgo, at 4 A. M. Pacific Standard time. Until 0.31 P. M. several benign planetary aspects are in operation which are good for general business and intellectual affairs, but afterward the Moon goes to conjunction Saturn, and Mercury conjunction Mars which indicates the necessity of strong effort to maintain poise and peace of mind. Not a good time for social matters, correspondence or agreements. Be careful of vehicles.

Sunday, 10th—Moon $26^{\circ} 13'$ in Virgo and enters Libra at 10:30 A. M. Sun $17^{\circ} 39'$ in Cancer. Very good vibrations prevail, particularly of the kind which is opposed to "Blue Sunday"; they favor pleasure, sociability and out-of-door sports of a wholesome and healthful nature. Good also for treatments, intellectual affairs and religious amusement, such as going to see the "movies" in the church.

Second Lunar Quarter Begins on 11th. at 8.16 P. M.
Increasing. Light.

Monday, 11th—Moon $10^{\circ} 05'$ in Libra. The aspects of today are of the mixed variety. good and adverse alternately. Caution should be exercised with correspondence, agreements, machinery, hardware and muscular exertion. Ask no favors. Deal not with managers and those in authority. Attend to routine duties of ordinary import and aim to improve health. Avoid excessive or nervous mental activity. To the extent that these cautions are observed will the better aspects be free to manifest.

Tuesday, 12th—Moon $23^{\circ} 33'$ in Libra, enters Scorpio at 3.43 P. M. Fairly good for general business pursuits until 3.51 P. M., if deliberation is employed. From 3.51 until 11.16 P. M. is an excellent period for business, intellectual and social matters, study, meditation and healing.

Wednesday, 13th—Moon $6^{\circ} 40'$ in Scorpio. Excellent vibrations operate with one exception, that which relates to oils, chemicals, liquids or anaesthetics, and that aspect (Moon adverse Neptune) ends at 3.07 P. M. After 3.07 Moon good to Jupiter and Mars makes a diligence and confidence. Try for new business and general improvement.

Thursday, 14th—Moon $19^{\circ} 28'$ in Scorpio. Fine conditions prevail until 8.07 A. M., Pacific time, which is 9, 10, 11 A. M. in Mountain, Central and Eastern time (Chicago is using "day-light saving time" so another hour must be added there, i.e., at 8.07 A. M. in Los Angeles it is 11.07 A. M. in Chicago). The balance of the day contains no important influences so is fair for ordinary matters. Tending to negative or psychic conditions in evening.

Friday, 15th—Moon $2^{\circ} 01'$ in Sagittarius. Unfavorable conditions are prevalent until 7.53 P. M. Use caution in dealings with the opposite sex, in matters of art, clothing and pleasure. Avoid being abrupt, unconventional, and premature in speech and action. Be careful of vehicles, electricity and explosives. Avoid risky ventures of any nature.

Saturday, 16th—Moon $14^{\circ} 23'$ in Sagittarius. A very unpropitious day. Avoid or postpone all important matters. Assume no liabilities or risks of any kind. Safeguard health, be careful in travel. Danger of loss, estrangement, or diversion of opinion. Try to maintain poise and optimism.

Sunday, 17th—Moon $26^{\circ} 36'$ in Sagittarius, enters Capricorn at 10.44 A.M. Sun $24^{\circ} 20'$ in Cancer. Unimportant aspects. Somewhat favorable for pleasure during the day, and for intellectual affairs in the evening.

Monday, 18th—Moon $8^{\circ} 41'$ Capricorn. From 8.57 A.M. to 7.52 P.M. is an excellent period for all general affairs and especially for dealings with doctors, judges, bankers, teachers, publishers, artists, musicians, actors, hotel-keepers, dressmakers, milliners, clothiers, milkmen and grocers.

Third Lunar Quarter begins on 19th at 4.08 P. M.
Full Moon. Decreasing.

Tuesday, 19th—Moon $20^{\circ} 41'$ in Capricorn, enters Aquarius at 10.44 P.M. No benign aspects operate after 4.15 A.M. today. Moon meets opposition Sun by 4.08 P.M., after which conditions are less tense. Not a good day to ask favors or deal with those of high position. Avoid risks. Attend to minor duties. Do not overtax stomach and heart.

Wednesday, 20th—Moon $2^{\circ} 36'$ in Aquarius. After 10.41 A.M., (Pacific time, all time quoted in these paragraphs is Pacific time, unless otherwise stated), is fair for all general business and social matters. Good for art, music, liquids, psychic, occult and metaphysical affairs. After 5.09 P.M. not quite so good.

Thursday, 21st—Moon $14^{\circ} 29'$ in Aquarius. Moon is trine Venus at 2.04 A.M., after which no other aspects are completed, hence the conditions will depend largely upon the operations in your own horoscope today and what effort you make to elevate the tone of mental activity within yourself.

Friday, 22nd—Moon $26^{\circ} 20'$ in Aquarius, enters Pisces at 11.23 A. M. At 4.38 A. M. the Moon is slightly adverse with Mercury; the next aspect to operate is Moon Parallel Jupiter, complete at 9.44 P. M. This is generally favorable for all ordinary affairs, including social and intellectual. It usually relaxes mind and body, makes one feel sociable and contented and not strenuous in executive action. In other words, it tends to make one good natured and easy going, desiring ease, luxury and pleasure. Note the difference in your feelings today and on Wednesday 27th, not that the 27th is such a bad day, but that the nature of the aspect is different, or inclines to satisfaction, the other to dissatisfaction.

Saturday, 23rd—Moon $8^{\circ} 12'$ in Pisces. Sun enters Leo at 2.31 A. M. Until 11.58 A. M. Moon is applying to a good aspect with Mercury, which is the best part of day for business matters, correspondence, shopping or short journeys to town, etc. After 11.58 noon Moon is adverse with Venus and Jupiter which tends to excess, extravagance, or misjudgment. Assume no liabilities. Avoid speculative ventures. Caution in diet.

Sunday, 24th—Moon $20^{\circ} 08'$ in Pisces, enters Aries at 11.41 P. M. Sun 1° in Leo. A fairly good day for usual Sunday activities. Care should be observed with regard to water, chemicals, and vehicles.

Tuesday, 26th—Moon $14^{\circ} 22'$ in Aries. Until 1.42 P. M. Moon in good aspect with Venus tends to favorable conditions of the gentle or refining order. After 1.42 P. M. conditions change and tend to haste, aggressiveness, etc. Be cautious of electricity, travel, vehicles.

Fourth Lunar Quarter Begins on 27th at 6.20 P. M.
Decreasing. Dark.

Wednesday, 27th—Moon $26^{\circ} 51'$ in Aries, enters Taurus at 9.57 A. M. No benign aspects operate today, and, while those which do manifest are not malignant, they incline to tense activity. Ask no favor. Care for the health. Caution in dealings with the opposite sex.

Thursday, 28th—Moon $9^{\circ} 39'$ in Taurus. Not good for courtship or marriage; likelihood of delays and disappointment in amusement or social matters. Slightly adverse for the health of women. Good for correspondence, study, and general business activity. Best part of the day is after 5.06 P. M.

Friday, 29th—Moon $22^{\circ} 52'$ in Taurus, enters Gemini at 4.37 P. M. Moon sextile Mars until 11.18 A. M. makes an excellent period for pushing business and work; tends to make one deft and executive. More favorable for muscular employment than for correspondence.

Saturday, 30th—Moon $6^{\circ} 32'$ in Gemini. Until 2.34 P. M. adverse aspects predominate suggesting extra caution in business matters, work, travel and health. Danger in connection with electricity, explosives, vehicles. After 2.34 conditions ease and are better for matters of common or ordinary nature.

Sunday, 31st—Moon $20^{\circ} 43'$ in Gemini, enters Cancer at 7.17 P. M. Sun $7^{\circ} 42'$ in Leo. The principle aspect is Moon conjunction Venus which inclines to sociability and entertainment. INFLUENCE OF THE NEW MOON

BETWEEN JULY 5th and AUGUST 3rd, 1921

(According to Astrology)

THE last few degrees of the sign Leo are rising on eastern horizon at the time of New Moon, July 5th, 8.28 A. M., Washington, D. C., mean time. The sun and Moon are conjoined in the eleventh "Mansion" of a chart made for that time; they have just passed Mars, are near Mercury, and forming sextiles to Jupiter and Saturn which are located near cusp of second "house", which indicates reductions in price of many things which are yet too high and a saner monetary situation. Legislation favorable to return of normal financial conditions.

Venus is in the 10th house, denoting a great deal of pleasure, travel, and easier business conditions.

The luminaries in good aspect to Jupiter and Saturn indicate restoring confidence which should reflect well in the value of stocks, wool, silk, mining, shipping and banks. In fact, the period until the 20th of July is replet with benign and constructive aspects.

Uranus in 7th house, retrograde, shows considerable European strife and uncertainty.

Neptune in 12th indicates considerable interest in psychical matters.

BACON MYSTERY CLEARS.

CIPHER CODE USED BY ANCIENT SCIENTIST IS EXPLAINED TO SURGEONS

L A Express April 21, 1921

Philadelphia, April 20.—The first public explanation of the key discovered to the cipher code used by Roger Bacon, the thirteenth-century philosopher, which has revealed Bacon knew of the telescope, microscope and scientific facts hitherto supposed to have been unknown until centuries later, was made tonight before the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Addresses were made by W. M. Voynich of London, owner of the Roger Bacon manuscript in which the key to the code was found, Prof. Romaine Newhold of the University of Pennsylvania, who is working on the cipher, and Prof. C. S. McClug who is assisting Prof. Newhold.

"At present it is only possible to conjecture at the extent and importance of the discoveries," said Prof. Newhold, "for the art of reading the cipher is yet in its early stages and it is not certain that the whole manuscript can be read.

The manuscript falls in four divisions he continued, "dealing with plants, the heavenly bodies, the generation of animal life and preparation of drugs. The common link connecting all four is probably Bacon's interest in the prolongation of human life."

"Plants are discussed because of their medicinal properties; stars because they determine a man's character at his birth and influence him throughout life; embryology because of the bearing on later life of all factors influencing conception, and pharmacology because drugs are essential to the cure of disease."

Venus is now a "morning star," which means that it will be a bright object in the eastern sky before sunrise.

The Zodiacal influence on People Born when the Sun is in Cancer Between June 21 and July 22 any year.

In Cancer, it gives quiet, reserved, retiring, sensitive disposition, yet inclined to publicity; versatile and changeable; has many ups and downs and changes of occupation and position, but desires to stick to their own course; fertile imagination and dramatic ability; loves Nature, adventure and strange experiences; influenced greatly by surroundings; mediumistic, receptive and very conscientious; industrious, prudent and frugal; attached to home and family; retentive memory; loves approbation, sympathy and kindness; fears ridicule; fruitful and reproductive; patriotic.

This sign is ruled by the Moon.

“The Better The Day, The Better The Deed”

FAVORABLE AND UNFAVORABLE DAYS IN AUGUST, 1921

According to Astrology

Monday, 1st—Moon 5° 21' in Cancer. A fairly good day for all general affairs and especially for those things which are new, odd, progressive; occult or reformative. Deal with electricians, inventors, metaphysicians, psychics, managers, and those in municipal offices. The evening is excellent for social and intellectual affairs.

Tuesday, 2nd—Moon $20^{\circ} 21'$ in Cancer, enters Leo at 7.11 P. M. A fairly good day for aggressive enterprise and that which requires physical activity and muscular effort, strenuous employment, providing you do not become over-forceful and positive as Moon conjunction Mars tends to contention and accidents unless moderation is observed.

First Lunar Quarter Begins on 3rd, at 0.18 P. M.
New Moon. Increasing.

Wednesday, 3rd—Moon $5^{\circ} 37'$ in Leo. While the aspects of today are not malign neither are they auspicious for important undertakings. A tendency to negative and psychic conditions or lowered vitality, hence, care should be given to health. Be cautious regarding the purity of foods, especially in canned goods. Spoiled, tainted or decaying matter is liable to be especially injurious today.

Thursday, 4th—Moon $20^{\circ} 55'$ in Leo, enters Virgo at 6.1 P.M. A good day for business, social, intellectual and mechanical activities.

Good for study, correspondence, invention, shopping, visits, art music, adornment.

Friday, 5th—Moon $6^{\circ} 06'$ in Virgo. The influence of some adverse planetary combinations lasts until 11.32 A. M. (Pacific time. See Note on page 1.) These incline to trouble and danger through electricity, vehicles, explosives. Use caution in travel. After 11.32 A. M. is somewhat better for general and ordinary duties.

Saturday, 6th—Moon $20^{\circ} 58'$ in Virgo, enters Libra at 6.53 P. M. Between 6.38 A. M. and 3.01 P. M. is a fairly good period for ordinary affairs. The balance of day and evening is not quite so good, especially for matters of art and odornment, but is good for mechanical efforts and muscular exercise.

Sunday, 7th—Moon $5^{\circ} 27'$ in Libra. Sun $14^{\circ} 24'$ in Leo. Until 11.38 A. M. Moon is parallel with Saturn, which is a quieting or retarding influence, but after that the aspects are benign and very good for the usual Sunday affairs.

Monday, 8th—Moon $19^{\circ} 28'$ in Libra, enters Scorpio at 10.35 p.m. Favorable vibrations until 9.51 A. M. for general affairs. After 9.51 A. M. the nature of vibrations change and incline to hasty speech, premature judgments which afterward require modification or change. Be cautious with correspondence, agreements, journeys, vehicles and machinery. Aim to maintain mental poise and take care of the health. Relax.

Tuesday, 9th—Moon $3^{\circ} 02'$ in Scorpio. There is just enough adverse aspects mingled with the good ones to make this a busy, active day for most people, and, as the good predominates, by maintaining poise, a great many useful duties can be accomplished. After 7.50 P. M. the conditions are negatively inclined, tending to misunderstanding. Not good for asking favors. Attend to health.

Second Lunar Quarter Begins on 10th, at 6.14 A. M.
Increasing in Light.

Wednesday, 10th—Moon $16^{\circ} 10'$ in Scorpio. Between 6.14 and 11.42 A. M. is best part of this day for important business. After 11.42 A. M. there is apt to be excessive mental activity; tendency to haste or controversy, mental conflicts, but attention to practical, useful and necessary matters will be beneficial in overcoming the other inclinations.

Thursday, 11th—Moon enters Sagittarius at 6.00 A. M. Moon is favorable with Mars but Mars is Adverse with Jupiter, hence do not let excessive active or enthusiasm exceed good judgment, as there may be a tendency to misjudgment, to over-shoot the mark. Use moderation in all things and much of use can be accomplished today.

Friday, 12th—Moon $11^{\circ} 25'$ in Sagittarius. Two favorable aspects operate before 8.28 A. M. which are good for ordinary pursuits. Two adverse aspects of Mercury operate between 8.28 and 11.10 A. M. which tend to anxiety and require extra caution in correspondence and agreements. Between 11.10 A. M. and 8.30 P. M. two good aspects occur which are good for business and social matters. After 8.30 unfavorable aspects prevail. Care for health.

Saturday, 13th—Moon $23^{\circ} 41'$ in Sagittarius, enters Capricorn at 4.30 P. M. Two minor adverse aspects operate until 2.04 P. M.; they are unimportant and comparatively insignificant so that even small personal effort for poise should transcend their influence. After 2.04 P. M. no more aspects culminate which leaves the influences in everyone's own horoscope opportunity to manifest unalloyed—watch your feelings—and improve them.

Sunday, 14th—Moon $5^{\circ} 46'$ in Capricorn. Sun $21^{\circ} 07'$ in Leo. From 4.47 to 9.03 A. M. Moon sextile Uranus is beneficial for all progressive affairs. After 9.03 A. M. the only other aspect is Moon opposition Venus, which is not a malign vibration, but inclines to excess in pleasures and unconventionality in social intercourse.

Monday, 15th—Moon $17^{\circ} 44'$ in Capricorn. Excellent aspects for business prevail until 2.55 P. M., after which conditions are but fair, and caution should be observed regarding machinery and vehicles. Patient and conservative attitudes should be encouraged.

Tuesday, 16th—Moon enters Aquarius at 4.42 A. M. Until 5.57 P. M. aspects prevail which usually incline to hasty, forceful attitudes resulting in misjudgment, difficulties and trouble. Not a good period which require calm, deliberate and prolonged attention.

From 5.57 to 9.24 P. M. is a fair period for ordinary matters, but the Moon is approaching an opposition to Mars which suggests self-control and the restraint of impulsive tendencies.

Wednesday, 17th—Moon $11^{\circ} 31'$ in Aquarius. The aspects of today are of mixed nature but not especially malign. It is indicated that extra care should be given in matters of promises, agreements or writings, with attention to diet, caution on short trips. Overcome any tendencies to excessive mental activity.

Third Lunar Quarter Begins on 18th, at 7.28 A. M.
Full Moon. Decreasing.

Thursday, 18th—Moon $23^{\circ} 23'$ in Aquarius, enters Pisces at 5.20 P. M. The day starts with aspects of adverse nature but as it advances their power wanes so that by 5.38 P. M. a change for the better occurs which makes the evening good for social and literary matters. During the business day act with deliberation to overcome any forceful and hasty tendencies.

Friday, 19th—Moon $5^{\circ} 17'$ in Pisces. A variety of experiences are apt to be met with conflicting emotions and results. If poise can be well maintained original ideas and methods of execution coupled with practical efforts will prevail and much work of satisfactory nature be accomplished. The conjunction of Moon and Uranus is not unfortunate for progressive people because it quickens intuition and gives a touch of originality and positivity which helps accomplishment and development.

Saturday, 20th—Moon $17^{\circ} 13'$ in Pisces. After 7.15 A. M. Moon forms adverse aspects which are effective until 10.27 P. M.; they incline to miscalculation, errors, loss, disappointment and delay, hence not a good day to chose for important matters. Rest, recreate and try to maintain optimism, avoiding worry and discontent.

Sunday, 21st—Moon enters Aries at 5.30 A. M. Sun $27^{\circ} 51'$ in Leo. A fairly good combination of aspects mark the day for ordinary Sunday interests.

Monday, 22nd—Moon $11^{\circ} 23'$ in Aries. Fairly good aspects for business of ordinary import until 9.17 A. M., but care should be observed in writings, agreements, promises and dealings with those of high position. After 9.17 A. M. Moon comes into opposition with Venus which is unfavorable for matters of art, and adornment. Tends to excess in eating or pleasure and possibility of disagreement with women.

Tuesday, 23rd—Moon $23^{\circ} 41'$ in Aries and enters Taurus at 4.07 P. M. Somewhat adverse conditions prevail until 7.34 A. M. but after that time they change for the better and are very good for dealings with those in high position, and writers, publishers, teachers, clerks. Sun enters Virgo at 9.15 A. M.

Wednesday, 24th—Moon $6^{\circ} 14'$ in Taurus. After 7.11 A. M. no good aspects operate, and those which do give a tendency to haste, aggressiveness, anxiety and misjudgment, hence not a good day to choose for beginning new business or the consummation of important affairs. Be extra cautious concerning liquids, chemicals, canned goods, anaesthetics, etc. Not favorable for psychic experiments. Danger in swimming, sailing, boating.

Thursday, 25th—Moon $19^{\circ} 03'$ in Taurus, enters

Gemini at 11.57 P.M. Excellent vibrations prevail which aid attention to matters of long standing, land, property, produce, financial affairs, social interests, healing, study, art, and domestic matters.

Fourth Lunar Quarter Begins on 26th at 4.51 A. M.
Decreasing. Dark.

Friday, 26th—Moon enters Gemini at 2.14 A. M. No benign aspects operate today, and those which do, incline to nervous tension, haste, force, discord. Avoid important matters. Be cautious about vehicles and machinery. Aim to maintain poise, harmony and relaxation.

Saturday, 27th—Moon $15^{\circ} 49'$ in Gemini. Fairly good for ordinary matters until 6.08 A. M. (Pacific time) after which the aspects grow more adverse until 7.50 P. M. Very deliberate and cautious action is required in all affairs, to offset the tendency to nervous haste, and to overcome the inclination to errors, loss and disappointment. Pay attention to health. Guard against undesirable mental states. Try to maintain hope, confidence and optimism.

Sunday, 28th—Moon enters Cancer at 4.18 A. M. Sun $4^{\circ} 36'$ in Virgo. After 6.12 A. M. excellent aspects prevail for all affairs. Especially good for correspondence, short trips, visits, progressive and occult matters.

Monday, 29th—Moon $14^{\circ} 15'$ in Cancer. A fairly good day for all ordinary pursuits. The best period is from 5:46 P. M. to 9:54 P. M., which is excellent for plans, decisions, treatments, study, social and intellectual affairs.

Tuesday, 30th—Moon enters Leo at 5:31 A. M. Fairly good indications for ordinary affairs until 6:53 P. M. but care must be taken to maintain poise. After 6:53 the aspects are adverse and suggest caution, regarding liquids, stimulents, chemicals, anaesthetics. Pay attention to health. Relax.

Wednesday, 31st—Moon $14^{\circ} 07'$ in Leo. The principal tendencies are haste, force, positivity of mind, yet with some there may be negative physical feeling. Some danger of trouble through electricity, explosives, vehicles, machinery. Over-active tendencies should be restrained and deliberation exercised in all matters. After 8:07 P. M. conditions improve.

For the benefit of new subscribers we wish to explain that every sentence in the daily advice is deducted from planetary vibrations for those days, and the purpose is to enable us to learn to create some of our own destiny and intelligently control our fate by rightly directed efforts, thus hastening advancement, releasing restrictions and extending our liberties.

By knowing the dates of favorable and unfavorable influences is gives us the opportunity TO THINK BEFORE IT IS TIME TO ACT, and to set a day in advance for any affair which will be most in keeping with the good results desired.

It is not intended that the things given in the list of days should be the only ones attended to, but rather that they should be incorporated into the general daily affairs of the native; however, it is well to avoid adverse days and choose those that are favorable.

INFLUENCE OF THE NEW MOON

BETWEEN AUGUST 3rd AND SEPTEMBER 1st, 1921

According to Astrology

THE New Moon occurs on August 3rd at 3:09 Washington, D. C. mean time. No very important features are indicated by this lunation.

Uranus in third house of chart for above time indicates much travel, especially by autos. Increase in occult literature. Venus in 7th domain shows more peaceful relations with former enemies. Mercury, Mars, the luminaries and Neptune, all posited in the 8th denote the demise of some high executive, complaint about financial or business depression, anxiety about the financial conditions of foreign countries. Saturn in Midheaven denotes difficult conditions for the President, and business depression in many places.

The Zodiacal Influence on People Born When the Sun is in Leo Between July 23 and August 22 Any Year

In Leo, is gives an active mind, good nature, generosity, many friends; natural leaders, ambitious, independent, determined, persistent industrious, honest and very conscientious; philosophical, philanthropic; quickly angered but quickly appeased; have a sunny disposition, frank, outspoken, candid, forceful and greatly appreciate affection, in which they are usually ardent and sincere; magnetic, intuitive and inventive; fond of honors and high office. This sign is ruled by the Sun.

San Juan is the site of the two great pyramids of Mexico, one to the Sun and the other to the Moon. Adjacent to these piles is a buried city which flourished probably 4000 years ago.

PLANETARY METEOROLOGY

By John Manson, Jr.

Lincoln, Calif., March 24th, 1921

From the 1st to 6th of July. We judge July to be very good thruout as there are seven sextiles for this month exhibited among the planets, but from 24th to 29th some important change is shown as Venus moves to square of Saturn on the 29th, with Sun semi-square the latter on the 30th, indicating a decided change to COLDER. Mercury sextile Jupiter on the 31st is some offset.

Minor disturbances are shown for August, on the 4-6-10-11-12-16-18. Centering about the 25th dense fog conditions are an indication for some sections of the Pacific seas-coast-line, with Mars conjunction Neptune. Other disturbances for the 27th, 28th, also for the 31st, with Sun opposition Uranus, and Mars parallel Neptune.

September indications are decidedly important for 1921, as Jupiter passes the conjunction of Saturn on September 10th. Said conjunction being termed "The Great Mutation," Jupiter crossing the equinoxial point on September 25th, so we judge—early rainfall—that same will be noticeable on September 2nd and 6th. Quite pronounced by the 10-12-13-15-16 in warm rains, but the latter becoming torrential in nature from the 19th on to 23rd.

Figure for Sun's entry into sign Libra, September 23rd, 6:20 a. m. (P. S. T.) shows Sun semi-square Neptune, Mercury parallel, also in strong aspect with Uranus, also opposition of Mars with Uranus. Altogether the above figure indicates COLDER AND TEMPESTUOUS CONDITIONS TO FOLLOW, quite noticeable about the 29th, with Sun parallel Saturn also.

Followed on October 1st with Mars parallel Uranus and Venus, ruler of the above figure, in opposition and parallel Uranus. From September 23rd and on we judge that Saturn and Neptune are the principal factors in succeeding weather change that there will be a PHENOMENAL CHANGE TO COLD, while Saturn is crossing the equinox, this taking place on October 7th, with the Moon square Saturn late evening of the 6th and early morning of the 7th. Very cold, with cold rains or snow, in many parts of the coast between the 10th and 16th.

In our study of this weather problem for this coast, we conclude by stating that after Jupiter and Saturn equinoxial excitement has subsided, beginning practically about January of 1922, there is indicated a temporary return to dryer conditions, lasting thruout part of 1923, during which the Moon's Nodal Influence, STILL SOUTH, will be felt. When the "Node" crosses over to North Latitude, late 1923 there will be a more regular rain fall for the nine years to follow, NO MORE PROLONGED DROUGHT CONDITIONS within the years as mentioned.

Note:—For the benefit of those who are not familiar with our methods, shall state that all dates given—mark—central—on a storm center all nature seems AT REST, often a very beautiful day and very deceiving to the many who are not familiar with the natural law governing—storms, and weather change.

ASTROLOGICAL OPTIMISM

Don't hunt for trouble, but look for success;
You'll find what you look for; don't look for distress.
If you see but your shadow, remember, I pray,
That the sun is still shining; but you're in the way.

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk;

Don't think of your worries, but think of your work.
The worries will vanish, the work will be done;
No man sees his shadow who faces the sun.—Ex.

TWO-MILLION-MILE TAIL OF PONS-WINNECKE
COMET WILL SIDE-SWEEP OLD MOTHER EARTH THIS MONTH

Spectacular Wanderer Traveling Toward This Globe at Rate of 72,000 Miles an Hour, but Scientists Say No Damage Will Result From Appendage's Contact With This Planet—Meteorites Will Shower Skies and Be Burned Out.

By H. O. Bishop.

BRIDES and poets, as a general rule, are permitted to monopolize the month of June. This year, however, the newlyweds and the verse smiths will be obliged to share their fascinating June-time with a whizzing comet which drags a tail more than two million miles in length.

This comet is known to astronomers as the Pons-Winnecke. The latter name is pronounced "Vinnicke." It was named in honor of two celebrated astronomers. Pons was a Frenchman and Winnecke a German. The former, who was known in his day as the greater "comet hunter," discovered the Pons-Winnecke on June 12, 1819. From that time until 1858 it was not observed by any of the world's astronomers. During the latter year Winnecke, the German, observed a comet and for a time thought that he had found an entirely new one. He was shortly convinced that it was merely a return of the Pons comet. Since that time it has always been referred to as the Pons-Winnecke.

This elongated bird of the distant heavens, shaped something like an eel or snake, is an amazingly swift flyer. It is traveling toward the United States at a speed of 72,000 miles per hour, or 1,728,000 miles per day. By June 27 it will reach a point in the skies about two million miles from the earth. This will be sufficiently close for the tail to side-swipe old mother earth and show whether it is made of harmless material or damaging stuff. For several days prior to June 27 the brilliant tail will be observable from all parts of the country.

It is rather difficult to conceive of anything two million miles in length. If that two-million-mile tail were attached to a live serpent of some kind, capable of controlling it in any desired fashion, it could easily be looped around the equatorial section of the earth 80 times. If the fair maid who is supposed to inhabit the moon should happen to take a fancy to the Pons-Winnecke comet tail and want to decorate her country, she would have enough streamers reaching all the way to the earth and enough left over to make a big bow hair ribbon for herself.

When Asaph Hall, professor of mathematics of the United States naval observatory, Washington, was asked whether any serious consequences were liable to result from the swishings of the Pons-Winnecke's tail against the bosom of the earth, he laughed heartily and said: "No, nothing serious is going to happen. The result of the contact will merely be spectacular shower of meteorites in the skies. They will travel so swiftly through space that they will doubtless be entirely burned out before reaching this planet. This vivid meteor shower, as a matter of fact, will be as harmless as the 'sparklers' used by little boys and girls on the Fourth of July."

This view of Prof. Hall is concurred in by that eminent English scientist, George F. Chambers, who says: "The idea of any danger happening to our planet, or to any other planet, from the advent of any of these wandering strangers may be dismissed once and for all, especially as we now know that the earth passed bodily through the tail of the great comet of 1861 during June of that year.”

This calm and serene view of comets has not always prevailed. In past years the appearance of a comet in any section of the world was invariably looked upon as an omen of bad luck and possible destruction of the earth. The pessimistic joy-killers of the world have never overlooked an opportunity to link up any natural catastrophe with the coming or going of a comet. Here is their record of unfortunate occurrences covering a period from the year A. D. 14 down to the world war, which they attribute to comets:

A. D. 14—A comet preceded the death of Augustus, the first emperor of Rome. Earthquake in Italy.

55—Suicide of Pontius Pilate, the judge who condemned Christ.

68—Halley's comet. Suicide of Nero, persecutor of Christians. Siege of Jerusalem.

73—A comet shone 180 days over Cypress. Earthquake in Cypress, in which 10,000 persons perished.

79—Death of Emperor Vespasian, who began the siege of Jerusalem. The Roman historians, Dion Cassius and Suetonius, relate that Vespasian, when taken sick, heard his astrologers discussing in a low tone of voice the comet, which was then visible, which, they said, predicted his death. The emperor roused angrily and said: “This hairy star is not meant for me. It must be meant for my enemy, the king of the Parthians, for he is hairy, while I am bald.” On the following night Vespasian died in great pain, and the comet was seen no more. Shortly after Vespasian's death followed the fierce eruption of Mount Vesuvius, November 1, which destroyed the two flourishing cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii.

1002—A comet over England and Scandinavia. Massacre of all Danes in England by King Ethelred.

1066—Halley's comet. It appeared in May at Easter time and shone for 40 nights, waxing and waning with the moon. William the Conqueror hailed it as an omen of destruction to Harold of England just before the battle of Hastings.

1148-9—Second crusade. Utter destruction of whole army of French and German crusaders.

1200—Comet recorded by Hal Ben Rodoan, an Arab astronomer, over North Africa. Bloody revolt of Arab warriors in Morocco.

1212—Lance-shaped comet shining over western Europe for 18 nights. The children's crusade. Thousands of German and French boy crusaders perished or were sold into slavery. Bloody invasion of Tartar hordes into Russia and Poland.

1223—Preaching of fifth crusade. Outbreak of "Guelph and Ghibelline" war between Emperor Frederick II of Germany and Pope Gregory IX.

1264—Very bright comet observed shining all over Europe for three months. Pope Urban IV died on the night of the comet's disappearance.

1298—Because of the appearance of a comet over middle Germany there were riots in Nuremberg and other neighboring cities, followed by a general massacre of the Jews in those cities.

1300—A brilliant preceded the jubilee of Pope Boniface VIII. The pope interpreted the comet as a happy omen, but because of the popular dread of the comet there were riots and bloodshed in Rome and elsewhere in Italy. The chroniclers of the times pointed out the significant fact that shortly after his jubilee Pope Boniface was made a prisoner by King Philip of France, causing him to die of rage.

1305—A comet "of horrible aspect" burning all through passion week preceded the outbreak of the terrible black plague which swept from the orient all over Europe and Asia.

1333—Chinese and Arab astronomers record a bright comet over China, Turkestan and Persia. Birth of Tamerlane, the "scourge of the nations," at Samarkand, in Turkestan.

1347—A comet precedes the "black death," a terrible pestilence, followed by famine all over the world. One-fourth of all the people of Europe died. Fifteen million deaths in China—twenty-five million in Europe.

1363—A comet of immense size shone for three months over northern Europe. Pestilence and famine in England, Poland and Russia.

1811-12—This huge comet was one of the most famous of modern times. It was first seen in France on March 26, 1811, and was last observed over southern Russia on August 17, 1812—an appearance of 17 months, the longest on record. For a while it had two tails, then only one. The length of this tail was estimated as 100,000,000 miles. It was called "Napoleon's comet." Under its luster Napoleon gathered his "grand armee," the greatest army assembled in Europe since Xerxes, and invaded Russia. Wars were fought at the same time in Portugal and Spain, where the British stormed Ciudad Rodrigo and Badajos; and in America, where Harrison's victory over the Indians under Tecumseh at Tippecanoe, and the sea-fight between the President and Little Belt ushered in the war of 1812. In Egypt the comet was taken as an omen of the bloody massacre of the Mamelukes perpetrated at Cairo.

1821—"Napoleon's comet." Seen one night only over France and over St. Helena the night before the death of Napoleon at St. Helena.

1835-6—Halley's comet. Immediately after the comet became generally visible in the old world the bubonic plague, known of old as the "black death," broke out in Egypt. In the city of Alexandria alone 9,000 people died in one day. By the Moslems this calamity was generally attributed to the evil influence of the comet.

In America the comet became visible to the naked eye only late in the year. Then, on its approach to the sun, it was lost to view and passed over to the southern hemisphere, where it was next observed by Sir John Herschel in South Africa.

Shortly after its brief blaze over North America the great "New York fire" laid waste the entire business section of the biggest city in the new world. All the commercial centers of the city, including the richest firms and largest commercial warehouses, were laid in ashes. The fire raged through days and nights. In all, 530 houses burned down and $18,000,000 of property was consumed. Owing to the intense cold, the sufferings of the homeless were pitiable.

In Florida, at the same time, Osceola, the chieftain of the Seminole Indians, called upon the comet as a signal for war against the whites. The Indians called the comet "Big Knife in the Sky."

The war began with a bloody massacre of American soldiers under General Wiley Thompson at Fort King. All were slaughtered. Osceola scalped General Thompson with his own hands. On the same day Major Dade of the United States army, who was leading a relief expedition into Florida from Tampa Bay, was ambushed by the Indians near Wahoo Swamp and massacred with his men. Of the whole expedition only four men escaped death.

With the passing of the comet to the southern hemisphere bloody wars broke out one after another in Mexico, Cuba, Central America, Ecuador, Bolivia, Peru and Argentina. All those countries were in a welter of blood.

At the same time the American settlers of Texas declared themselves independent and made open war on Mexico. The war began with the battle of Gonzales, in which 500 American frontiersmen fought and defeated over a thousand Mexican soldiers. This was followed by other fierce fights at Goliad and Bexar.

Next came the bloody massacre of the Alamo, when all of Bowie's and Crockett's American followers were killed in an all-night fight. Out of 200 Americans every man fell at his post. This was the deed of blood on which Joaquin Miller wrote his stirring "Ballad of the Alamo."

One month before the final disappearance of the comet the Texas war came to an end with the bloody battle of San Jacinto, when Sam Houston, with 800 American frontiersmen, defeated 1500 Mexicans and made a prisoner of President Santa Ana of Mexico.

When the comet had passed to the southern hemisphere it was seen at its brightest in South Africa. The pious Boers of Cape Colony understood it to be a sign from heaven and forthwith set out on their great trek across the Orange and Vaal Rivers, where they founded the Orange Free State and Transvaal republic.

Thus the comet was the signal for the first blood drawn in the long fight between the British and Boers.

1843—Another famous comet seen all over the world during the spring of that year. Especially brilliant in the southern hemisphere and in India. War in India on the part of the British against Afghanistan, Beluchistan, Scinde and against the Sikhs.

1848—Encke's famous periodic comet. Bloody revolutionary risings and civil wars in France, Hungary, Bohemia, Austria, Germany, Italy and Poland.

1858-59—Donati's comet. This comet, which appeared to be charging straight down from the zenith and had a curved tail, was observed from June, 1858, to April, 1859. It was seen at its brightest in the south, in Italy, Mexico and in the far east. While it shone over the far east there were bloody wars between the British and the risen people of India; between the British and the Chinese, who objected to having opium thrust upon them; while Japan was in the throes of revolution and civil war. In Mexico the standard of revolt against the clericals was raised by Juarez, thus plunging Mexico into civil war and war with France. Immediately after the disappearance of the comet war broke out in Italy between the French and Italians on one side and the Austrians on the other, ending in the bloody battle of Solferino.

1861—"First civil war comet." The brightest comet of the 19th century. Sir John Herschel, the English astronomer, said of this comet: "It far exceeded in brightness any I have before observed, those of 1811 and the recent splendid one of 1858 not excepted."

The comet was first seen by a layman and appeared at its brightest during the summer months in North America. Its coming was heralded as meaning a great civil war.

1862—"Second civil war comet." Another comet of very peculiar appearance, with jets of flame flaring from its head, showed itself during the summer months in North America. The civil war was then at its height. The coming of the comet was taken to herald the bloody battles of Shiloh, Williamsburg, Seven Days, Seven Pines, Cedar Mountain and Antietam, all fought that year after the comet's disappearance.

1877—Coggia's comet. This comet was seen at its brightest over southern France and Spain during the summer months of that year. Spain was then in the throes of the bloody Carlist war.

1881—Garfield's comet. The comet showed itself for a few nights only in March during the week following President Garfield's inauguration. It was observed also in Russia. On March 13 Emperor Alexander II of Russia was assassinated with a bomb. Three months later President Garfield was assassinated in Washington.

1882—Comet of Tel-el-Kebir. A comet with two tails was seen at its brightest over Egypt during the first two weeks of September. Egypt was then in the midst of Arabia Pasha's uprising against the British. On September 18, when the comet was last seen, Arabi Pasha was overthrown by General Wolseley in the bloody battle of Tel-el-Kebir.

1906—San Francisco comet. A comet discovered by Ross on March 17, remaining visible for one month. Observed from the Lick observatory in California. On April 17 came the California earthquake and burning of San Francisco.

1908—Morehouse's comet. Visible for more than a month, during the autumn. In Italy it was interpreted afterward as an omen foreboding the Messina earthquake late in the year.

1910—Halley's comet. Great wars prophesied. Pestilence and disease.—Sunday Oregonian, Portland, May 15, 1921.

ANENT THE COMET

IN 1910, when the earth was to pass through the tail of Halley's Comet, predictions made by Astronomers (not Astrologers) as to the dire results of damage which might occur, caused world-wide anxiety and fear. The "Bulletina" assured its readers that no ASTROLOGICAL configurations near that date showed any catastrophe. Nor was there any need for alarm. Slight changes in atmospheric conditions, noticable only to those who were psychic enough to perceive them, is all that transpired at that time. However, the elements which the comet introduced to our system soon bred war and pestilence. The Comet made its appearance in Aries, the Sign which rules England; King Edward died soon afterward. The Comet formed a square adverse aspect to Neptune which was located in Cancer, ruling China; the Chinese dynasty was overthrown with much bloodshed. Events in Servia occurred which led to the assassination of Prince Rudolph of Austria which brought on the great European war. During the war pestilence swept the world, visiting America in 1918, as indicated by the total eclipse of June 8th, as described in "How Planets Affect People."

Many of our readers will recall a more recent excitement when an Astronomer (NOT an Astrologer, as erroneously stated by a prominent New York occult monthly magazine) predicted a world cataclysm to take place December 17, 1919, because of a supposed combination of planets which would affect the earth and the Sun. So much notoriety was given the prediction that some people died of fright, others committed suicide, several went insane, many became ill through worry and fear. The "Bulletina" told its readers in Vol. 12, No. 134, "Not to be alarmed," that the planets mentioned were not in orb of influence at the time predicted and that no Astrological evidence indicated any such trouble. None occurred.

The Pons-Winnecke Comet is now being commented upon by Astronomers; the newspapers will probably feature it; a great deal of unnecessary excitement is likely to prevail; but there are no ASTROLOGICAL indications to show any physical damage to the earth by its near approach.

This Comet is a familiar visitor; (its period is about three years and one-third, the feature which should excite interest at this visit is owing to the relative periods of the earth, and the Comet, its nearest approach to the earth has been gradually diminishing, until now its transit nearly coincides with our own position in orbit. Its nearest approach will be around June 27th, according to astronomical calculations.

This short period Comet (its period was erroneously given by N. Y. Times Cable in March-April Bulletina) was sighted by Professor Barnard of the Yerkes Observatory, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin on the morning of April 10th, in Right Ascension 15 hours, 58 minutes, which is equal to longitude Scorpio 21 degrees, with Declination $37^{\circ} 15'$ North. It is travelling in a southeasterly direction toward Sagittarius, into which Zodiacal Sign it cuts before passing out of our range.

Between June 20 and July 20 will be one of the best periods in this year, from an Astrological standpoint, as there will occur more benign major aspects and less malefic aspects during that time than is usual. Hence, the transit of the Comet in this period is NOT a herald of disastrous collision. There is no danger that the Comet will consume or destroy the earth.

The Pons-Winnecke Comet is said to belong to the system of Jupiter, who possesses four moons and a coterie of small comets.

Comets appearing in "fixed" signs, such as Scorpio usually portend earthquakes, dries up olives and fruits and makes the air contagious with fevers and pestilence. In Sagittarius, thefts, rapines, destruction of horses.

The countries said to be ruled by Scorpio are: Algeria, Barbary, Bavarid, Cappodocia, Judea, Jutland, Morocco, Norway, N. Syria, Transvaal, Catalonia, Queenslands. Towns and Cities: Fez, Valentia, Frankfurt on Oder, Dover, Liverpool, Messina, Worthing, E. Grimstead, New Orleans, Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Hull, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, St. Johns, Newfoundland, Halifax, Stockfort, Newcastle, Glossop.

Countries ruled by Sagittarius: Arabia, Australia, Felix, Cape Frnisterre, Dalmatia, Hungary, Moravia, Sclavonia, Spain, Tuscany, Madazascar.

Towns and cities: Avignon, Buda, Cologne, Narbonne, Rattenburg, Nottingham, Sheffield, Stuttgart, Sunderland, Taranto, Toledo, W. Bromwich, Bladford.

Astrology has not yet recorded or classified all the countries and cities according to their ruling signs.

In the Bulletina of February 1920, Vol. 12, No. 136, was given a list of places ruled by all the Signs as far as known.

ADVERSE ASPECTS ARE NOT "EVIL"

During adverse aspects we are more apt to see and feel the necessity for action to overcome old difficulties and obstacles in the path of our progress; apt to feel the urge so strongly that a real anxiety develops to be up and doing to safeguard our interests and overcome the threatened troubles. The feeling within often becomes nervousness, and worry, a form of expression or manifestation which should be cast aside at once as it is a woeful waste of force, and a loss of power, leaves one less able to be up and doing that which will offset the undesirable conditions.

The first essential, then, to transcend adverse vibrations is to calm the mind through affirmation of a hopeful and positive nature. In other words, self-treatment, remembering that the kingdom of heaven is within and out of heaven all good things can come forth—if permitted—the way, the avenue of their coming is through harmony within. The price of success is harmony, hope, cheer and honest-to-goodness faith in yourself.

Any adverse aspect, any adverse condition can be transcended by this tried and proven method.

Don't sentence yourself to doom by saying "I can't do it." You can do it. Every being is born with those faculties, more or less latent, and they can be developed. The development of harmony, hope, cheer and faith in yourself means the development of your success, your progress, your health, your attainment.

Adverse planetary aspects viewed from the standpoint of those who are consciously making this delightful effort are looked upon as helping forces, because their frequent occurrence brings up an added urge to press on harder, faster towards the goal of achievement.

Start now. Begin a new campaign for the complete success of your highest aspirations through the incidents of every-day life by affirming here and now, "I CAN." "I WILL." Thus in every seemingly evil configuration among the planets there is something of ultimate good.

IN A letter for our esteemed friend, George J. M. McCormack, he says:

"We have formed a deduction that Los Angeles is strongly related to Leo—indeed it strongly bears the signature of that sign as a fifth house influence. However, we don't assume to accept that reasoning as authoritative until the authentic rulership of that city is definitely determined by subsequent observations. Now that Neptune is transiting through Leo, it is only reasonable to assume that it will express its influence in all places bearing the signature of Leo. These events are more likely to manifest when configurations with or transits over Neptune occur. Mars will transit Neptune in Leo about August 15-16th. In a similar way we have endeavored to follow the influence of Uranus in Pisces, and from various observations relative to disturbances in Buffalo coincidental with configurations to Uranus thus tenanted, there is a strong opinion that Buffalo bears relation to the sign Pisces.

"The foregoing may afford some hints or suggestions to be incorporated into astrological discussions, and I believe your "Chats with the Editor" will open a channel whereby the various students, whether elementary or advanced in the Hermetic arts, may be enabled to exchange their respective opinions with a view to further stimulating astrological investigation."

Referring to a map made for Los Angeles dated September 4th, 9:00 A. M., 1781, Mr. McCormack continues,

“If this map is correct the present transit of Jupiter over the radical Sun should benefit the government and expand business enterprise in your city. However, Uranus transiting to opposition of the Sun and remaining in close proximity to this position throughout the latter part of 1922 is ominous of some reforms in the motion picture industry and also presages some elements of unrest among the industrial classes. But fortunately, the coincidental transit of Jupiter through the ascendant will contribute to modify the Uranian influence then operating. The conjunction of Venus with Neptune is a salient feature of this chart, and being posited in the twelfth mansion, is a favorable indication for those whose interests are related to mysticism. The Moon, rising the midheaven opposes both Venus and Neptune, and squares Uranus which tenants the 9th. But, after all, these are related more to spiritual expression than to the material and external side of things, and adverse aspects usually indicate greater progress through striking out for new things as the result of difficult struggles. In connection with art, music, inspirational development along new thought lines, and for unique ideas Los Angeles should ultimately hold a world position. The transit of Jupiter over the conjoined Venus and Neptune this coming October should invite special interest as concerns the motion picture industry. Much of the oriental ideas will doubtless be expressed, and you may have observed that since Neptune entered Leo this oriental expression first manifested itself through the wierd syn-copated music in the dance halls and is now finding way into our fashions. Like every planetary influence we first expressed the lower octave of the Neptune influence reflecting through the heart sign, but as this proceeds we shall aspire to a higher vibration and cultured tastes other than through the spine in response to this Neptunian music. Prohibition is playing its particular part in this regeneration of the American race, and as our material vehicles become better purified by the sacrifices endured for a time we shall become more fit instruments to attune ourselves to higher vibratory forces whereby we may be enabled to regenerate higher senses within us.

Of course we all understand, in some measure, that Neptune has but little sympathy for the material, and when expressed through matter excites the sensations and leads to chasing bubbles that may eventually burst and cause chaos and obsession. And through its power to sway the emotions one can be led to extremes. It can truly be said that Los Angeles is the "Enchanted City" and that it exerts a very enchanting influence upon all who enter it. The Venus-Neptune conjunction is quite symbolic of this. There are many, however, who think of nothing but surrounding themselves with vast luxuries—which may be regarded as one of Neptune's material obsessions. But unless there is something spiritual to also hold on to, nothing very permanent can be expected. In my opinion the motion picture attractions will begin to fade considerably within another year, and these will give way to something of a higher order and of less commercially promoted schemes. Some new order of teachings will probably then spring up which will furnish another element of attraction and add to the city's prestige. With Uranus in the midheaven Los Angeles will always tend to something original and unique. Summed up, Los Angeles might be classed as the Orient of America. And eventually it will be the mystical center from which many of our future teachings will be received.

A LETTER ABOUT HEALING FROM A SUBSCRIBER.

Anent the article on healing on page 43 of May-June

“Bulletina,” Oliver Katzun writes the following:

Metaphysical Healers who understand planetary influence, know that the 9th house of the heavens governs religion, higher mind, things of the Spirit, astral journeys, etc. Now, all true and lasting healing is done by the Higher Mind, or Spirit (not by the lower mind, hypnotism).

Consequently when the Sun (symbol of the Soul, or Ego) passing through the 9th house, from 12 noon to 2 p.m., is the time most effective for concentration, healing, etc.

Also, to a lesser degree, when the Moon passes through the 9th house. But do not use the Moon's time for that purpose, a day before, and a day after the New Moon, as occultists claim the Moon's vibrations at that time are discordant.—Oliver Katzun.

Henry Knieriem, Jr., writes: “Please drop my name from this column as I now have all the correspondence I can handle.”

In the exchange of charts, examples, ideas, delineations, etc., much of benefit may be obtained, and if others would like to announce such correspondence desired send name and address to the editor and a notice similar to the above will be inserted in the Bulletina. This service is free; no charge for the notice.

Watch next issue of the “Bulletina” for a splendid article by Montreville Cogswell, entitled, “The Mystery of Sympathy and Antipathy, an Astrological Explanation." Also coming soon is a Progressed Horoscope illustrated and delineated, intended to serve as a working example for students.

If you have friends whom you believe would be interested in Astrology, send us their names and address and we will mail them a sample copy of the Bulletina.

Advertisers are always anxious to know in what magazines their notices are read—when you write to one of our advertisers please say "I saw your advertisement in the 'Astrological Bulletina.'"

When sending us change of address please state old address as well as the new. The postoffice does not forward magazines as it does letters; to get your magazine forwarded, notify the publisher. We mail on the 10th of month previous to date of issue.

In a letter just received Madame Christeen says she hopes in due time to bring together a body of higher minds who will be interested in forming a Colony where a center for all the philosophies for the New Age may be taught.

She says the destructive forces are so busy—that there is a demand for Constructive thought and power to dare to will and to do the thing which will instill new states of conscientiousness for the developing brain cell that it may vibrate to the highest keynote of God—or Pitchblende of Radium, Arc or Election—that we may walk in the Light and be children of light, and have life more abundant—and everlasting after the order of Melchizedek—the Sun ever on the ascendant.

THE STARS INCLINE BUT DO NOT COMPEL

By C. Tousey Taylor, Seattle, Wash.

Two Astrological magazines this month have articles denying the above statement and incline to the belief in foreordination. I once held to that belief and no one can blame an investigator of that grand and noble science for reaching that conclusion, unless he has first come into an understanding of what God is, and some of His immutable laws. As every manifestation depends entirely on thought—riches, poverty, success, failure, misery or happiness—then the question hinges on the one point of whether man can control his thoughts? If so then he is a free moral agent; if not then his life may be foreordained.

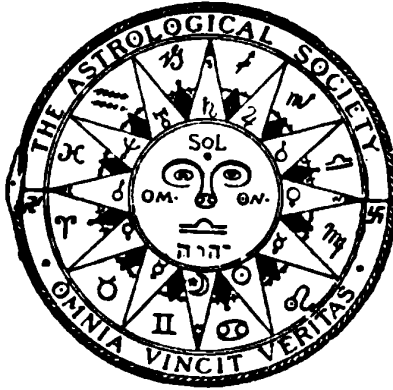

Gods laws are all fixed, unchangeable and eternal, but there is no law of God or man until thought has set it in motion. I have proven to my satisfaction that man is a creator and can create any condition he desires; creation of course consists in changing one form of physical manifestation to some other form of expression, mind being the substance from which all manifestations come, the earth and planets included. The cosmic or universal creations all come into manifestation through the law of agreement, and astrology teaches that law very nicely, that is why, to understand the Bible it is necessary to know something of that science.

When one hundred and forty-four thousand of the twelve tribes, which we are, agree, the rest of the world comes under that cosmic agreement, whether it is good or bad, and no cosmic manifestation comes without this agreement. This is why man is greater than the sun, moon and stars or their influence, for the Creator must necessarily be greater than that created. If we tried to plant a garden in December or January any place forty-five degrees north of the equator we would be working in opposition to the cosmic law, and the sun's influence would be evil. All of the planets have their good and evil influences, which we have created, and when we work in opposition to them we suffer. There is a time for everything under the sun. Jay Gould studied astrology under Dr. Broughton and did things in their season. When Saturn was passing through the ninth house of horoscope he built a yacht and was out on the high seas studying occult matters instead of trying to make money, thereby turning this influence to good account, whereas ninety-nine out of every hundred go broke under this influence trying to make money or better their condition financially. He overcame the disastrous influence and turned it to good account; so can anyone who works in harmony with the law instead of letting his thoughts come and go as the planets influence them and live the life pre-saged by their influence. The same law that makes iron sink makes it float; as a man thinketh in his heart so it is unto him.

The law and the word always go together; most astrologers look at results instead of how they are created and become fatalists. Man has the choosing of the word that sets the law in motion, and as he chooses so it is unto him. The Bible is full of this teaching; it is not so much the lost word as the consciousness of what the words we are using will create for us that has been lost. For further light along this line read my book "WHICH—Impulse, Instinct or Intuition," and "Health and Attainment through cosmic Vibration," by Llewellyn George.

VACCINATION AND ASTROLOGY

The medical fraternity is wrong in assuming that every child will sooner or later contract smallpox unless vaccinated, because unless Mars afflict either the ascendant or the luminaries (Sun and Moon), or is in the 6th house of the nativity, there is little liability to take smallpox. But persons who have the afflictions named should exercise constant sanitary precautions, and pay attention to hygiene and diet. "Directions" in the progressed horoscope would show when affection is likely and the person could apply double caution during such periods and reduce the chance to a minimum.

The nativity of a gentleman born at Sunderland, England, 0:54 A. M., June 10, 1853, shows 6 degrees of the zodiacal sign Aries rising and hyleg; Mars, its ruler, is in Taurus, nearly conjoined with Uranus and Saturn. He died at the age of 19 (a Mars period) of smallpox (a Martial disease). The "directions" operating was Mars conjunction and parallel ascendant. He was vaccinated in infancy. Mars in the sign of the Bull (Taurus) and afflicted would show no help from that animal source.

In fact, he would have been better off without the lymph in his system; this is shown by Mars being tinctured with evil rays from Uranus and Saturn.

GREAT MEN AND ASTROLOGY

In a small work called "The Uses of Biography," by Edwin Paxton Hood, London, England, published in 1853, in chapter VII, the writer gives an account of the foibles and vices of great men, and on pages 116 and 117 we have the following sentences:

"Cardinal Richelieu, the minister of a great empire (France) believed in the calculation of nativities. Even Sir Isaac Newton gave credit to the idle nonsense of judicial astrology; he who first calculated the distances of the stars and revealed the laws of motion by which the Supreme Being organizes and keeps in their orbits unnumbered worlds he who had revealed the mysteries of the stars themselves. Dryden, Sir Isaac Newton's contemporary, believed in the same absurdity."

(Is it not strange that a man may excel in all the modern sciences, and even make wonderful discoveries in such as astronomy and mathematics, and be counted sane and sensible, and even a very learned man, but the moment he touches astrology, by some legerdemain, he is said instantly to become insane or a scoundrel? There is no doubt but Sir Isaac Newton was an excellent Astrologer, and even calculated his own and most of his friends' horoscopes. Cardinal Richelieu no doubt understood Astrology, but probably he employed eminent Astrologers to do the most of the calculations for him in his judicial Astrology, as had Queen Elizabeth.)

"It is published by William Congreve, an English actor, and the same was also published in the Encyclopaedia Britannica and a number of other publications, that John Dryden calculated his son Charles' horoscope, and the predictions were filled to the letter. Mr. Congreve states that when Mrs. Dryden commenced in labor of her son Charles, Dryden left his watch in charge of one of the ladies in attendance with a strict injunction to notice the exact moment of the child's birth. In about a week after her confinement Mr. Dryden took the occasion to tell his wife that he had calculated the child's horoscope and observed with grief that the child was born in an evil hour. That Jupiter, Venus and the Sun were all under the earth, and the Lord of the ascendant was afflicted with a hateful square of Saturn and Mars. He went on to tell her that if he lives to arrive at his 8th birthday he will come near to a violent death, but if he escapes that, and I see but small hopes that he will, in his 23rd year he will again be under the same evil direction, and if he escapes that also, the 33rd and 34th years will, I fear—— There he was interrupted by the grief of Lady Dryden, who could no longer hear one calamity after another prophesied for her new-born son.

“When young Dryden arrived near his 8th year, it was arranged that Lady Dryden should spend the summer vacation with her Uncle Mourdant, and Mr. Dryden was invited to the country seat of Earl of Berkshire, his brother-in-law, to spend his vacation.” (It appears from the account published that Dryden had two sons, John and Charles; it was arranged that each of them should take one of the boys. Lady Dryden wished her husband to take John, as she desired to have Charles with her, feeling that he would be safer under her maternal care than in his father's company.) “But Dryden insisted on taking Charles, and they parted in anger.”

On the child's 8th birthday it was arranged by the Earl of Berkshire that his guests should go hunting, and Dryden, to keep the child out of mischief, set him a double lesson in Latin, with a strict injunction that he should not go out of the house. Charles was performing his duty in obedience to his father, but as ill-fate would have it, the stag made toward the house, and the noise, alarming the servants, they hastened out to see the sport. One of the servants took young Dryden by the hand and led him out to see it also; when just as they came to the gate, the stag, being at bay with the dogs, made a bold push and leaped over the court wall, which was low and very old, and the dogs, following, threw down a part of the wall ten yards in length, under which Charles Dryden lay buried. He was immediately dug out, and after six weeks' languishing in a dangerous way, he recovered. In the 23rd year of his age Charles fell from the top of an old tower belonging to the Vatican at Rome, occasioned by a dizziness with which he was seized, the heat of the day being excessive. He again recovered, but was ever after in a languishing, sickly state. In the 33rd year of his age, being returned to England, he was unhappily drowned at Windsor. He had, with another gentleman, swam twice across the Thames, but returning a third time, it was supposed he was taken with a cramp, because he called out for help, though too late. The father's calculation proved but too prophetic."

LUCKY NUMBER ASKED BY SANTA CLARA GIRL FOR AUTO LICENSE.

Sacramento, May 14.—Secretary of State Jordan has received a letter from a Santa Clara county girl who wants a lucky license number for her automobile.

She says: "I should like a number that does not begin or end in 13 or 23. I'd like awfully a number that would divide by three. I'll tell you why, I was born neither lucky nor rich, only handsome. And that's the worst luck of any. I am not fortunate and I've had experiences (really actual experiences) with the number 13 that have turned me gray. I'd rather wait a bit, if your rules permit, to get a number that's not a hoo-doo, for I'll run over somebody's hen or kill a man sure, not to mention the breaking of a few of my own bones."—Santa Cruz News.

EXEUNT "A M." AND "P. M."

So far as railroads, telegraph companies and the postal service are concerned, France, some years ago, said farewell to the system of dividing the day into two parts of twelve hours each.

The hours are now numbered from 1 to 24 and "a. m." and "p. m." are matters of record no longer. The new style was tried out in connection with telegraph service and proved so satisfactory that its adoption became general to the extent named.

There seems much to commend the departure from long established custom—and no good argument against it, except that it would "seem to strange" for a time.

FATE.

Two shall be born, the whole wide world apart,
And speak in different tongues and have no thought
Each of the other's being and have no heed;
And these o'er unknown seas to unknown lands
Shall cross, escaping wreck, defying death,
And all unconsciously shape every act,
And bend each wandering step to this one end—
That one day out of darkness they shall meet
And read life's meaning in each other's eyes.

And two shall walk some narrow way of life
So nearly side by side that, should one turn
Ever so little space to right or left,
They needs must stand acknowledged face to face,
And yet with wistful eyes they never meet,
With groping hands that never clasp, and lips
Calling in vain to ears that never hear,
They seek each other all their weary days
And die unsatisfied—and this is fate.

—Susan Marr Spalding.

HEALED CASES ARE BEST RECOMMENDATIONS.

READ THIS ONE

Dear Mr. George:—

I wish to write a few lines in praise of the "Aries" Cell Foods, of which I bought a box from you last December.

Before trying this remedy I had great deal of bother with blood going to my head, and causing deal of unpleasant feeling therein.

I could not read scarcely at all at night, and sleep well afterward: nor even think on any particular subject seriously without this awful fullness and disagreeable feeling in my head.

In fact, it became so I could feel it near all the time, and it seemed to be increasing as time went on; and I did not know what I could do to eliminate it.

I have great deal of power of the mind over my ailments, but when I try to use the mind on the head, it was a difficult task to make successful.

But I had the faith in the higher forces that in some way, and at some time something would come along that would remove this disagreeable and dangerous condition; which did come when I found your "Cell Foods" and tried Aries, No. 1, for only a few days or weeks.

Before I had used more than one half of a box, this complaint above mentioned was almost, or altogether eliminated, and I do not feel that affliction at all now.

And besides removing that complaint, it has made me feel better in many other ways. Though I was quite well anyway with the exception of the head trouble.

I would recommend this remedy to any one that has trouble of this kind or similar complaints. It cannot injure you if you take much or little.

Yours truly, J. A. Baker, 616 Grant Bldg., Los Angeles.

HOW PLANETS AFFECT PEOPLE

By Llewellyn George

A new book which tells in an interesting and instructive manner just how the planets do affect people. People often wonder how a planet which looks like a little speck in the sky, apparently millions of miles away, can have any influence upon human mind and destiny.

This book gives the philosophy of planetary vibrations and tells why one person is affected at one time—while their brother or wife or some one else is not; why one person may be inclined in certain directions and another in opposite or different directions. How planetary vibrations affect the mind and how the mind can react. How life and destiny can be improved.

A book full of idea-producing chapters, all written in a clear and concise manner so that the reader will have a better understanding of natural phenomena and of the causes which underlie feelings, tendencies, moods, thoughts, acts, fate and destiny, and be inspired to improve the life by the added knowledge—"Knowledge is Power."

OGILVIE'S ASTROLOGICAL BIRTHDAY BOOK

Your birthday is the most important day in your life. Yet how few people realize the importance and significance of that event! Wise men who have thought on this subject say that this cannot be due to mere chance; there must be some reason, some law, at work. They set about ascertaining this law—which relates to the time of birth—and discovered it in the science of Astrology. Certain signs and aspects are said to influence in some degree all born on a certain day, Ogilvie's Astrological Birthday Book contains a character reading for every day in the year based on observations of the aspects of the heavenly bodies on the day of birth.

It is useful as a guide to the course in life which you should pursue to achieve the greatest degree of success by the use of your known talents, and by the development of your talent or potential abilities in the field of endeavor to which you are naturally adapted. More than being useful, it is a source of much entertainment at a gathering to read aloud the characters of those present.

The book contains 264 pages printed on antique wove book paper, attractively bound in cloth, with jacket printed in colors. Price, $1.00 by mail, postpaid.
