1. To provide schools for boys and girls (children of decayed or aged Masons of good character), and to maintain said children while belonging to the institution.

N.B.—Under the meaning of the word maintain is meant lodging, feeding, and clothing.

2. To provide halls in connection with the several Scotch Universities, where students, sons, as above, of aged and decayed Masons, may be maintained and receive instruction; to keep them in their University career, to pay University and professors' fees, with a small annual sum as pocket money.

3. To provide an asylum for the aged and distressed Masons of good character, and their widows, also maintain them in the asylum, or to grant annuities to them, as laid down in the full prospectus.

ESTIMATES OF ERECTION, &c.

It is estimated that out of the number of Scottish Masons, both in Scotland and in the Colonies, as well as those Scotchmen now living in England and Ireland, we might reckon on 5,000 people subscribing their half-guineas per annum. Say, £2,650 per annum.

That this could be supplemented by annual subscriptions from Grand Lodge, Supreme Grand Royal Arch Chapter, Chapter General of Temple, Supreme Council 33°, Consistories, 31°, 32°, 30°, Chapter of Rose Croix, Royal Order. Say, £100. Total, £2,750 per annum. This to be annual revenue.

Note.—The larger donations to be as capital.

That it be resolved that no capital be touched until at least £12,000 or £15,000 shall have accumulated.

No doubt many brethren might, on first sight, be deterred from promoting this scheme, for fear of failure from the magnitude of the design; it is right, therefore, that the promoters should inform the brethren at large that it is not their intention to take up all the branches of the institution at once, or even to carry out too far the branches which are considered most urgent.

As has been already stated, the annual subscriptions are to be considered revenue, this then will be all the money available to start the institution, the larger donations having to accumulate as capital.

It has been estimated, and is earnestly hoped, that at least 5,000 brethren will contribute their half guinea; this gives an annual income of £2,650. We trust that Grand Lodge and the other ruling Masonic bodies will contribute at least £100 yearly, if not more; this, then, would give £2,750 to work upon.

Considering that schools in Scotland are so fully developed, we propose at first to pass on to the cases of advanced students seeking University education and maintenance, and to the relief of the aged and widows. As no building is to be proceeded with till £12,000 or £15,000 has accumulated, no colleges, halls, or asylums are to be built.

The following is the proposition at first starting:—

1st.—To rent a house at one of the Universities, as a college hall on a small scale, say to take 10 or 15 students; from statements and accounts of similar institutions it is estimated that with careful administration this would cost about £1,800 or £1,900 per annum, leaving a balance of, say, £850 for 'general management and for annuities, as laid down in the full prospectus, for a limited number of widows and aged.

2nd.—As the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow are situated in towns where land and houses would naturally be very expensive, it is presumed that the General Court would fix on Aberdeen or St Andrew's for the site of their first college hall, and if, after a time, as funds increase, students display great ability in particular branches, such as medicine, &c., a limited number of out-students so gifted might be allowed certain sums annually to go to Universities where such specialities are particularly attended to, provided only that the character of the student when first admitted to the college hall is good enough to warrant the General Committee in placing such confidence in said student.

The following brethren have consented to receive names, donations, and subscriptions:—

J. Laurie, Esq., Grand Secretary of Scotland, Interim Secretary of Proposed Benevolent Institution.

Geo. R. Harriot, Esq., Provincial G.M. Wigtown and Kirkcudbright, Killiemore Lodge, Kirkcowan, Wigtownshire, and No. 4, Howard place, St. Andrew's, Fife.

W. Spencer, Esq., F.R.G.S., Masonic Depot, 26, Great Queen Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields, London.

J. McMuldrow, Esq., Prov. Grand Sec. Wigtown and Kirkcudbright, St. Cuthbert Street, Kirkcudbright.

Capt. G. Shanks, Recruiting Service, Greenock.

A. J. Douglas, Esq., Lockerbie House, Dumfriesshire.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

THE ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have read, with considerable attention, the various letters which have from time to time appeared in your valuable paper on this subject, and I have no doubt but that a categorical reply from Bro. Col. Elliott, as suggested by Bro. Hughan's last letter, would, or ought to, clear the whole matter up, but I am afraid such an answer is not likely to be seen in your columns. In the first place, I think Bro. Hughan is in error in stating that the military part of the programme was left in the hands of Col. Elliott. I recollect his being asked to seek permission for the use of the military barracks where the brethren assembled, and to make arrangements for the attendance of a military band, but nothing further.

In the second place, Bro. Col. Elliott is a Mason, but, above all, a soldier, and, although in his zeal for the Craft, and with a view to alleviate that heart-burning which appears to exist amongst the military brethren, he mentioned to the Provincial Grand Lodge that the order prohibiting their forming part of the Masonic procession emanated from the Commander-in-chief, there can be no doubt that he was scarcely warranted, from a military point of view, in doing so, and that for him to divulge in a public paper the authority from which he derived his information would be a breach of his professional duties.

Dealing with the matter upon its merits, I cannot but express an opinion that your foot note to the letter of "A Soldier Freemason," in your issue of the 22nd ult., was somewhat hasty, and unwarranted by the actual circumstances of the case.

I was one of the General Committee appointed to carry out the arrangements for the reception of our Royal Brother, and I also formed one of the Sub-Committee who framed the obnoxious regulations, and I must say that I do not shrink from the responsibility of having done so.

The W.M. and P.M. (a retired naval officer) were also members of both committees. The question was fully ventilated at several meetings, and if "C.M., 1205," and the other brethren who feel "extremely sore" upon the point, would only act consistently with their Masonic obligation, and have some belief in the truthfulness of their brethren, we should not be exposing to the "unistructured world" the melancholy spectacle of one brother accusing another of falsehood.

That the General commanding the district did take it into his head that this was one of the cases to which the Queen's Regulations referred there can be no doubt, and although I believe, and I know many of the committee share my opinion, that the General's views were wrong, there was no alternative but to bow to his decision.

The regulations as to dress were framed solely for the purpose of avoiding the incongruity of the brethren appearing in white hats, &c., &c., certainly not for the purpose of excluding our military brethren, whom we should have been very pleased to have seen amongst us.

I am, Dear Sir and Brother,

Yours fraternally,

J. EDWARD CURTIS,

W.M. Lodge Sincerity (189).

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

I notice a letter from the W. Bro. Col. Elliott, (P.P.W.S.G.W. for Devon) in the Freemason of to-day; but as an editorial note is attached stating a further communication is to be published next week, I shall reserve my statement of the matter until after its issue.

Certainly no one who took part in the splendid reception to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, was otherwise than sorry at the absence of our non-commissioned officers in the procession, and I acknowledge that you, Bro. Editor, have a perfect right to request an explanation of the apparent mistaken regulation, as the organ of the British Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons.

W. J. HUGHAN.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I wish to ask, in order to promote the cause of a full, fair inquiry into the reason of the exclusion of our non-commissioned officer brethren from the procession at Plymouth. Is it true that a request was sent by the non-commissioned officers to the Committee to ask for permission to march in the procession, and that such letter has never been answered?

I am, Dear Sir and Brother, Yours fraternally,
EMERITUS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I am somewhat pleased that the letter sent to you by me last week did not reach you in time for publication, inasmuch as had it stood side by side with that of Bro. William James HUGHAN, dated 5th September, without further explanation from me, the two would have been to your readers confusing and inexplicable.

Unhappily my avocations took me much out of Plymouth about the time that the Committee were holding their meetings, and I fear I attended but three of those meetings, at only one of which do I remember meeting Bro. HUGHAN.

The only part of the programme entrusted to me was to secure the use of the Mill Bay Barracks as a place of assembly for the brethren, and to apply for the regimental bands. When asked to take upon myself this latter duty, I did mention to the Committee that but a few weeks previous to that time, the authorities had refused to sanction the volunteer band marching in a procession of "Odd Fellows," and that the officer who made the request was referred to sec. 6, par. 44, of the Queen's Regulations. I did not thereby infer that the meetings were to be held, but as I was not prepared for a refusal in one case, I did not feel quite sure in the other.

Further than I have herein explained, the military part of the programme was not left in my hands. The Committee were never told by me that non-commissioned officers would not be allowed to walk in the procession: they could never have been told so; for it was not until my return from Cornwall, on the day immediately preceding the Masonic procession, that I learnt from Bro. Capt. Shanks that such permission had been refused.

Bro. Hughan requires that I shall mention to whom I applied for permission, and who it was that refused me. I was never deputed by the Committee to ask such a question, hence I never applied, and was never refused.

What I stated in the Provincial Grand Lodge was strictly true. The statement was intended as a privileged communication for the information solely of the brethren present. I was not prepared to see my words repeated, and in some cases mis-quoted, in the Freemason newspaper; for, as an officer on full pay in the service, I am amenable to the Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army, and a reference to sec. 6, par. 45 and 46, will explain why I would rather not have had my words published.

As an individual brother, I desire to thank you for the opportunity thus afforded me of replying to the various letters in your paper on the subject of the Royal Visit to Plymouth. I confess, I should have felt better pleased had some of your correspondents practised a little more of that "Charity which thinketh no evil," and of which we hear so much, in the proper time and in the proper place.

I am, Dear Sir and Brother, Yours fraternally,
J. ELLIOTT, Colonel,
P.P.G.H. and P.P.S.G.W. of Devon.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In reading the correspondence relative to the recent Masonic procession here, one cannot but be struck with the regret expressed by all those taking part therein, at the exclusion of the military brethren. That they have not received from the hands of the committee such consideration as their case deserves, will, I think, be amply illustrated by the following few words. As soon as the military brethren found out that they were not to be allowed to attend the procession, they applied to the W.M. of their Lodge, 1205, and requested him to endeavour to induce the committee to make arrangements, whereby they might be enabled to attend the meeting of the United Provincial Grand Lodges of Devon and Cornwall, and he promised to do his best on their behalf, as he thought it but a reasonable request, and one that, under the circumstances, the committee would comply with. But they were disagreeably surprised when they were informed that the committee had declined to make any arrangement for their benefit. One of the Past Masters on the committee, however, stated that if the military brethren presented themselves after the procession had filed in they would be admitted if vouched for, if there was room; but another P.M. of 1205, asked the Director of the Ceremonies for Devonshire, (prior to the procession marching off) whether this would be permitted, and he said most distinctly, no; no one would be allowed to enter the hall unless they walked in the procession.

Such are the true facts of the case, and the military brethren, from no fault of their own, found themselves shut out both from the procession and the meeting.

Can the committee justify their conduct in this matter?

Yours fraternally,
A SOLDIER FREEMASON, AND A PAST MASTER.

Plymouth, 19th Sept., 1874.

ORDER OF THE TEMPLE AND MALTA.
To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I and many others, equally wishful to submit to the will and give undivided support to the powers that be, have been waiting very patiently for some time expecting to hear, see, or realise some advantage to the Order—either particular or general—by the alterations made in the statutes, consequent on the acceptance of office by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales as Grand Master of the Order.

Having, like others, been disappointed in my humble and modest expectations, I am very much dissatisfied, for I have not realised, nor can I see, or hear, that any advantage has accrued to the Order, or to anyone connected with it, by the alteration, but, on the contrary, I find that much dissatisfaction prevails amongst the Sir Knights, wherever I go.

What was the origin and object of the alteration I have never understood, nor seen, or heard it explained. I should like to know and understand the motive for the alteration which has proved so disastrous. Will some one in authority favour your readers with an explanation?

Why alter the titles? Is it more dignified or proper to say:—

- Great Priory than Grand Conclave.
- Preceptory than Encampment.
- Preceptor than Commander.
- Constable than Captain?

Why, indeed? Is there either beauty, use, or reason in the new titles? One gentleman of some eminence recently remarked, on his appointment as Prov. Constable, "I have been a magistrate of this county and borough for many years, but never was a constable until now. It looks like coming down a peg."

Why abolish past rank?

What has been gained by the alteration? Has anyone gained by it? Is anyone better for it?

Is the Order any better for it? So far as I know the Sir Knights are neither benefited nor pleased. The number of subscribing Sir Knights has decreased, and many of those who have not actually resigned are so indifferent to the consequences that they don't care whether the Order sinks or swims, as at present constituted and worked, and only keep their membership from a love to the old statutes and working, to which they assert, and, with great confidence, we shall have to come back. Meantime, they pay and grumble, but do not attend the meetings, or interest themselves as they used to do.

In Lancashire, once a stronghold of Knight Templarism, the result of the alteration is absolutely painful, as I witnessed at the Provincial Priory Meeting recently held at Preston, when there was not more than half the number present that usually attend these annual gatherings. Had it not been that the Eminent Prior is much loved and respected by the Sir Knights of the province, he might have had difficulty in finding a sufficient number in attendance willing to accept the empty honour—the badge of office for the year.

My object in writing to you is to ascertain, if possible, the feeling of the Sir Knights, and the state of the obnoxious part of the statutes. If the alterations have created half the dissatisfaction elsewhere, as in the Province of Lancashire, the sooner our rulers retrace their steps the better.

The Lancashire Sir Knights are resolved to seek an alteration, and have appointed a committee to consider the following suggestions of an eminent member of the Order, and one who took a very active interest in the recent alterations, but who, finding he made a mistake, now "thinks something should be done as soon as possible to retrace our steps," and is ready to do all he can to help us. His suggestions are:—

1. That a committee be appointed to consider the alterations made in the statutes of the Order, and say which they disapprove of.
2. That the alterations disapproved of be embodied in a memorial.
3. That the committee be requested to draw up a memorial for each encampment.
4. That each encampment be requested to get the memorial signed by the whole of its members.
5. That an interview be sought with the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick.
6. That a deputation be appointed to present the memorials and discuss the subject with the Great Prior.

What is the state of the country? Perhaps our excellent Grand Vice-Chancellor will tell us through your columns. I should like to see a comparative statistical and financial statement.

P. E. C.

MEMORIALS OF THE MASONIC UNION OF 1813.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Will you kindly allow me to thank you for the kind reference to my forthcoming "Memorials of the Masonic Union of 1813," and also to state that in consequence of the full hundred not being applied for (in Great Britain), it is not my intention to issue a list of subscribers with the work; and not having the time to solicit the co-operation of Masonic students, I must leave the disposal of the few not applied for, until after the publication of the volume, the completion of which has been delayed a few weeks, to include the whole of the "Book of Constitutions" of 1815.

It is my intention to dedicate the work to the brethren of the lodges and chapters, who have been so good as to elect me one of their honorary members.

W. J. HUGHAN.

"H. M. G." AND "OUR LATE GRAND MASTER."

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Bro. "H. M. G.," in the Freemason of Sept. 19th, says, "For the first time since the establishment of the Grand Lodge in 1717, has the ruler of our Order become a Roman Catholic, and surrendered his moral liberty."

Many may consider, from this statement, that we have never had a Grand Master since 1717 who was a Roman Catholic, whereas I presume, the writer simply means to note the fact that not one of our Grand Masters has become a Roman Catholic during his Grand Mastership who was a Protestant previously. The latter may be true, although it is scarcely susceptible of proof now, but that we have had a Roman Catholic Grand Master heretofore is proved from the fact that Lord Petre, who was Grand Master from 1722 to 1776, was a warm adherent of that religious body, and "he held his faith without bigotry, and by his liberality and worth, won the esteem of all parties," so we are told by one of his biographers. We are also told that Lord Petre was considered for some time "as the head of the Roman Catholic body in this country." Bro. Preston dedicated his "Illustrations of Masonry" to his Lordship, and we have had few Grand Masters who equalled that nobleman as Ruler of our ancient Craft. It is just probable that other Grand Masters were also Roman Catholics. In claiming for ourselves liberty of conscience, let us not make too much noise in the world when others claim a like privilege, though they differ from us, and whilst to us it appears impossible to discuss how any one can be a Freemason and a Roman Catholic, others seem to have solved the question, and yet still remained members of our fraternity. What reasons there are for a Grand Master resigning now, when one of his predecessors was a member of the same religious sect, would be a curious study.

W. J. HUGHAN.

FREEMASONRY IN THE ARMY.

The following is part of a letter which appears in the Broad Arrow, signed "In Hoc Signo Vinces":—"On the occasion of the visit of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales to Plymouth recently, to open the new Guildhall, the Provincial Grand Lodges of the Cornwall and Devon Freemasons, taking advantage of the presence of their Royal Brother amongst them, united to give him a loyal and fraternal welcome. The Masonic fraternity is now, as indeed it has ever been, in great favour with the higher class of the non-commissioned officers of the army, who not only are an acquisition to the lodges, but, from their intelligence and experience, an ornament to the Craft. This is the case in nearly all garrison towns, and Plymouth is no exception to the rule,

Being a large town, the number of non-commissioned officers (members of the fraternity) is very great indeed, and the wish to join their civilian brethren in bidding welcome to their illustrious visitor was not only natural but commendable. Accordingly, as in duty bound, they requested permission from the General commanding to take part in the demonstration. But imagine their disappointment, when, in reply, they were informed that as it would be an infringement of the Queen's Regulations, permission could not be accorded them. The blow was indeed a hard one, not only to those immediately concerned, but to hundreds of their civilian friends, who never for a moment anticipated such a result. Since then I have looked up the "Regulations," and, notwithstanding a very diligent search, failed to discover anything sufficient to warrant the authorities to prohibiting the non-commissioned officers from joining the demonstration. Paragraph 44, Section 6, reads as follows:—"Officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers are forbidden to institute or take part in any meetings, demonstrations, or processions, for party or political purposes, in barracks, quarters, camp, or elsewhere." Freemasonry, as all the world knows, excludes from its midst all questions of party or politics; its principles are universal, and it is about the only secret society recognised by the State. Then, surely, this cannot be the foundation of such an Order; or if it is, how will the following incongruities be reconciled?—the same authorities that ignored the non-commissioned officers lent an entire barracks to the brotherhood on the occasion, for the purpose of meeting, &c.; with full concurrence from the same source, two military bands marched with the procession to and from the Guildhall, and among the many hundreds black-coated and aproned, I recognised several army officers of distinction. Now if the above quoted paragraph was sufficient to influence the powers that be in the case of the non-commissioned officers, was it not anything but consistent in them to sanction or countenance what, under the circumstances, would be, not only a glaring irregularity, but a gross violation of the "Queen's Regulations?" on the other hand, if the loan of the barracks and regimental bands to the Freemasons, and the fact of the military officers (who concealed their profession by wearing a black coat) walking in the procession, was in accordance with the spirit of the Regulations, then the prohibitory order to the non-commissioned officers can be construed into nothing less than an insult to their position, and a slur on the coat they wear. Hitherto a soldier has been proud of his uniform, and justly so; but if his red coat debars him from appearing in society, simply because it is a red one, is it not more than likely he may begin to feel ashamed of it? The army is not what it once was, and with respect to the non-commissioned officers the change is marvellous. Education and intelligence have replaced loud-toned ignorance and tyranny, and it is a well-known fact that that particular class is chiefly responsible for the maintenance of good order and discipline in the Service, a fact that unfortunately does not seem to be recognised in the proper quarter. Why, then, should soldiers be treated like serfs and not men?

Dulcum in Parbo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

RABBINICAL LITERATURE AND MASONIC LEGENDS.

In reading the Voice of Masonry (Chicago) for September, I was much pleased to peruse a racy article by our indefatigable Brother Jacob Norton, and also several other able communications from well known Masonic writers. Bro. Norton refers to the Rev. Dr. George Oliver's last work, in which that distinguished Mason mentions that the legend of the "third degree" is to be found in a work printed in 1715, from a MS. found in the Cambridge Library, entitled "Idle Hebrew Tales from the Jewish Targums." It is just possible that I noticed this allusion to the legend in one of Dr. Oliver's works, and not in Dr. Mackay's Grand Encyclopaedia, as I fancied. Would our Bro. the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, M.A., P.G.C., kindly institute a search in the British Museum for the "Hebrew Tales," and thus add to the many kind and valued aids to the Masonic studies of

W. J. HUGHAN.

"A. M. G. D."

These initials have been used lately, and said to be in some way descriptive of Roman Catholicism. Will your Editor kindly explain them to me and to others of your readers who know them not.

REVIRESCO.

[They mean, "Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam."—Ed.]

BRO. FINDEL.

I see that Bro. Findel in his new work, "Geist und Form der Freimaurerei," makes the following very important statement, at page 288, in a foot note:—

"In 1641 John Amos Comenius went to England, out of whose didactic works Bro. Anderson introduced many passages almost word for word into his Book of Constitutions."

Will my able brother Findel furnish me with the references to the didactic works of Comenius, and whence these passages are taken, as his statement is one of the most important I have seen for a long time. I may add that Bro. Hughan agrees with me in this opinion, and either of us will feel deeply obliged to Bro. Findel to favour us with references to the identical passages in Comenius's works.

A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C.

FREEMASONRY IN JAMAICA.

The consecration of the Caledonian Lodge (No. 554), took place on Tuesday, the 4th August, at 2 o'clock p.m., at Port Maria. The ceremony was performed by the R. W. W. G. Astwood, acting P.G.M. (by deputation) for the R. W. S. Constantine Burke, P.G.M. for Scotland, who was unavoidably prevented from attending, assisted by Brother the Revd. M. G. Constantine, who acted as Prov. Grand Chaplain. The ceremony of dedication being ended, the R. W. acting P.G.M. called on Bro. B. Mortimer Dias, acting Grand Director of Ceremonies (who very ably performed the duties assigned to him), to read the proclamation constituting the lodge. The acting P.G.M. afterwards installed the following Officers:—Christian Legget Hider, W. Master; Isaac Gomez Mesquita, D.M.; Thomas Gordon Black, S.W.; Thaddeus Constantine Dias, J.W.; Douglas Newell Berwick, Sec.; Amos DaCosta Levy, S.D.; Alexander Reid, J.D.; Henry Hire, I.G.; Jacob A. Hinds, Tyler. The officers, in appropriate terms, severally returned thanks, and the lodge was closed in the usual way.

At eight o'clock, p.m., the brethren re-assembled at the Court House, where a grand display of the good things of this life was provided, to which ample justice was done.—The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were proposed by the newly-installed Master. Other toasts were proposed during the evening and suitable replies made to each. Thus ended a day long to be remembered in Port Maria.

Masonic Tidings.

STAR LODGE OF INSTRUCTION, (No. 1275).—The anniversary banquet of this flourishing lodge will be held at the lodge house, "The Marquis of Granby," New Cross Road, on Friday, the 2nd of October, 1873. Tickets, 4s. each, may be obtained of the Stewards on any of the previous lodge meetings.

The Etonian Lodge of St. John, hitherto meeting at the Royal Adelaide Hotel, Windsor, on the Tuesday nearest full moon, will in future be held at the Masonic Hall, Windsor, on the first Tuesday in the month.

We regret to announce that the Grand Lodge of Brazil has lost a very worthy and zealous brother, the "Vicomte de Monte Ferriera," who had attained the highest honour of Freemasonry, and died recently deeply regretted by his brethren, at the age of 78.

The ceremony of installation will be rehearsed in the Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch Lane, Cannon-street, E.C., on Wednesday, the 30th inst., at eight p.m., by Bro. John Constable, W.M. 185.

MARK MASOWRY.—The Provincial Grand Mark Master of the new Mark Province of Sussex, will be installed by the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, D.G.M.M., acting for the Right Hon. Earl Percy, G.M.M., on the 23rd prox., and the new P.G.M.M. of Lincolnshire will be installed by the R. W. Bro. Romaine Callender, M.P., on the 29th prox.

The Chigwell Lodge, No. 453, will meet on Saturday, 27th Sept., for the last time this season, at the Castle, Woodford, when our worthy Brother Hogard, P.M. of 205, will be installed into the chair of K.S., he having been unanimously elected to that high office at the last lodge meeting.

The Fifteen Sections will be worked at the Strong Man Lodge of Instruction, St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell, on Monday evening next, the 28th inst., at 7 prompt, the following brethren taking part:—W.M., Beckett; S.W., Solonio; J.W. Peary; and Bros. Barker, Crutch, Crawley, Wheeler, Cadett, Bentley, Saul, Morrison, &c. This will be the last meeting of the lodge at the St. John's-gate, previous to its removal, by permission of the W.M. of the parent lodge (No. 45), to P.M. Maples's, the Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell-green, on Monday, Oct. 5th.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, and April 11th, 1874 (numbers 218, 219, and 266) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, October 3, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodges, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, September 26.

Manchester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Grey, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Ash, Preceptor.

Lily Lodge of Instruction (820), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.

Star Lodge of Instruction (1275), Marquis of Granby, New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dilley, Preceptor. Banquet.

Monday, September 28.

Lodge 79, Pythagorean, Ship Hotel, Greenwich.

Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (445), Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, at 7; Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.

Strong Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Old Jerusalem Tavern, St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell, at 8; Bro. Beckett, Preceptor.

Sincerity Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.

Camden Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, Mile-end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Gotheil, Preceptor.

British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friendship Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.

St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street (opposite the Pantheon), Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. J. R. Stacey, Preceptor.

Wellington Lodge of Instruction, White Swan Tavern, Deptford, at 8; Bro. C. G. Dilley, P.M. 1155; Preceptor.

West Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.

Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 323, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, September 29.

Yarborough Lodge of Instruction (554), Green Dragon Steepy, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor.

Domestic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Larham, Preceptor.

Faith Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8; Bro. C. A. Cottelmann, Preceptor.

Prince Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8; Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor.

Dalhousie Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.

Prosperity Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M. 1227, Preceptor.

St. Marylebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stores Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wood, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Constitutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheatsheaf Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey P.M. 180, Preceptor.

Percy Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W.

Pythagorean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.

Israel Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road, at 7.30.

Wednesday, September 30.

Lodge 898, Temperance in the East, 6, Newby-place, Poplar.

Chap. 822, Lily of Richmond, Greyhound Hotel, Richmond.

New Concord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.

Royal Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, at 7.30.

edham Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Peckham, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.

Temperance in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the Fourth, Catherine-street, Poplar.

Stanhope Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, at 7.30 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.

Finsbury Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters'-road, N., at 8. Bro. P. Dickinson, Acting Preceptor.

United Strength Lodge of Instruction (228), the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.

Southwark Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William Kent, Preceptor.

Dalston Lodge of Instruction (975), Havelock Tavern, Albion-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, October 1.

Lodge 27, Egyptian, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-st.

" 45, Strong Man, Old Jerusalem Tavern, St. John's Gate, Clerkenwell.

" 192, Lion and Lamb, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

" 227, Ionic, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-st.

" 1538, La Tolerance, Freemasons' Hall.

" 554, Yarborough, Green Dragon, Stepney.

" 742, Crystal Palace, Star and Garter, Kew Bridge.

" 822, Victoria Rifles, Freemasons' Hall.

" 1178, Perfect Ashlar, Gregorian Arms, Bermondsey.

" 1351, St. Clements Dances, 265 Strand.

" 1360, Royal Arthur, Duke of Edinburgh Tavern, New Wimbledon.

" 1445, Prince Leopold, Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road.

Mark Lodge 3, Keystone, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-st.

Fidelity Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-st., Tottenham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Finsbury Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers' Tavern, Bath-street, City-road; Bro. Stean, Preceptor.

United Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.

Whittington Lodge of Instruction (862), Crown Tavern, Holborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 188, Preceptor.

Doric Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.

Ebury Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 12, Ponsonby-st., Millbank.

Highgate Lodge of Instruction (1366), Bull and Gate, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.

Friday, October 2.

Lodge 709, Florence Nightingale, Masonic Hall, William-street, Woolwich.

" 890, Hornsey, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 1489, Marquess of Ripon, Metropolitan Societies Asylum, Balls Pond-road.

Mark Lodge 8, Thistle, Caledonian Hotel, Adelphi.

St. George's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.

Robert Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Regent-st., at 8.

Belgrave Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354 Strand, at 8; Bro. Pulsford, Preceptor.

Fanmore Lodge of Instruction (720), Balham Hotel, Balham, at 7.30.

Unions Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s, Freemasons' Hall, a 7.

Temperance Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern, Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.

Clapton Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, at 7.30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor.

Royal Standard Lodge of Instruction (1293), the Castle Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Precep.

Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.

Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.

Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.

United Pilgrims Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern, Lorn-road, Brixton, at 7.

St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.

Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Potts, Preceptor.

Doric Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.

Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.

St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Ross Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.

Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.

High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses, High-road, Tottenham.

Union Club of Instruction, Windsor Castle, Victoria Station, at 8 p.m.; H. Ash, P.M., Instructor.

Burdett Courts Lodge of Instruction (1278), Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo. W. Verry, Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE,

For the Week ending Saturday, October 3, 1874.

Monday, September 28.

Lodge 148, Lights, Masonic Rooms, Warrington, at 6.30

Chap. 241, Friendship, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5.

Tuesday, September 29.

Lodge 178, Antiquity, Royal Hotel, Wigan, at 6.30.

" 1384, Equity, Walker's Commercial Hotel, Widnes, near Liverpool, at 6.

Chap. 721, Grosvenor, Masonic Rooms, Eastgate-row, Chester, at 6.30.

Merchants' Lodge of Instruction (241), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.

Wednesday, September 30.

Lodge 1061, Triumph, Masonic Hall, Lytham at 7.

Alpass Encampment, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5.

St. John's Lodge of Instruction (673), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 8.

Thursday, October 1.

Lodge 249, Mariners', Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.

" 1473, Bootle, Molyneux Assembly Rooms, Bootle, at 6.

Chap. 758, Bridgewater, Masonic Hall, Runcorn, at 6.

Friday, October 2.

Lodge 680, Sefton, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5.

" 1264, Neptune, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.

" 1375, Architect, Didsbury Hotel, Didsbury.

" 1387, Chorlton, Masonic Rooms, Chorlton-cum-Hardy.

" 1086, Walton, Masonic Hall, Kirkdale, at 6.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, October 3, 1874.

All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, September 28.

Lodge 103, Union and Crown, 170, Buchanan-st.

" 219, Star, 12, Trongate.

" 362, St. Clair, 25, Robertson-street.

" 541, Marie Stuart, Watson's Academy, Langside-road, Crosshill.

Chap. 122, Thetis, 35, St. James-street.

Tuesday, September 29.

" 426, Prince of Wales, Freemasons' Hall, Renfrew;

" 73, Caledonian Unity, 170, Buchanan-street.

Chap. 117, Govan, Portland Hall, Govan.

Wednesday, September 30.

Red Cross Conclave 114, Glasgow, 213, Buchanan-street.

Thursday, October 1.

Lodge 27, St. Mungo, 213, Buchanan-street.

" 465, St. Andrew's, Masons' Hall, Garngad-road.

" 370, Henfrew Kilwinning, Freemasons' Hall, High-street, Paisley.

" 22, St. John, George Hotel, Kilmarnock.

" 149, St. Andrew's, Masonic Hall, Irvine.

" 202, St. Clement's, Trades' Tavern, Kilmarnock.

" 290, Blair Dalry, Masonic Hall, Dalry.

Friday, October 2.

Lodge 275, Shamrock and Thistle, 22, Struthers-street.

" 360, Commercial, 60, Hope-st.

" 408, Clyde, 170, Buchanan-st.

" 116, Royal Arch, Council Hall, Rutherglen.

" 135, St. James, Crown Inn, Tarbolton.

" 217, Cumberland, Old Town Hall, Port Glasgow.

" 242, Houston, Cross Keys, Johnstone.

" 459, Shelburne, Cumbræe Hotel, Milport.

" 512, Thorntree, Thornliebank.

Saturday, October 3.

Lodge 458, St. John, Freemasons' Hall, Busby.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/, also a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BEECH, M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer. J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary

OCTOBER ELECTION, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS:

The Vice-Presidents, Life Governors, and Subscribers, desiring to Vote in favour of

BEATRICE A. F. NEWMAN

No. 4 on the List, are respectfully requested to forward their proxies (after signature) to either Mr. John Bertram, Alexandra Palace, Muswell-hill, N.; Mr. George Newman, 26, Great Winchester-street, E.C.; or Mr. Henry T. Thompson, 85, Palmerston-buildings, Bishopsgate-street, E.C.

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.) A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN. In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REEVES SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S

NEW TRACING BOARDS

Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR. Artist and Photographer.

11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW. Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH, LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH, PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialize for

Cameo-Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is SPECIALLY adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

213, REGENT-STREET, W.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS,

335C, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE. Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 2s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, 11s.; second class, 15s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hausmann, Jermyn-street.

THE BIRKBECK

Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION. How to Purchase a House for Four Guineas per Month, With Immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Month, With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to Invest Money with safety at 4 1/2 per cent Interest. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK. All sums under £50 repaid upon demand. Current accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 3. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS and FITTINGS, Corneopans, Flutes, Drums, Violins, Organs, Harmoniums, Concertinas, Bows, Strings, Wire, Organ Pipes, Harmonium Reeds, &c. Experienced Repairers. List for stamp. BRO. T. R. WILLIS, 29, Minories, London. Established 1837.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY.

8vo., 10s. 6d. PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d. PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s. Reeves and Turner, 106, Strand, London.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the best Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

GOLD AND SILVER SHAVINGS FOR FIRE STOVE ORNAMENTS.

per lb. Gilt Plain ... 3/6 Crimped ... 4/6 Silvered Plain ... 4/6 Crimped ... 5/6 The above on 1, 2, and 4oz. tins, also in bags, 16s., 22s., 24s., and 30s. per gross bags. Manufactured by GEORGE KENNING, London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $2 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 108, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR'ACTE,

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW. Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

"THE FREEMASON" Supplied by

T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C. South London Branch, 415, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station. Wholesale Publisher to the Trade

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason." BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

SARSAPARILLA.

WILKINSON'S ESSENCE, OR FLUID EXTRACT OF RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, prescribed by the Faculty for Purifying the Blood, Debility, Liver Complaints, and freeing the system from effects of Mercury. Exclusively used in India and the Colonies as a prevention to Tropical diseases. "Superior preparations that may always be relied upon."—Sir Astley Cooper. "We are in every respect satisfied with it."—Lancet. "We recommend yours as the best."—Medical Review. In Quarter, Half, and Pint Bottles. CAUTION.—Spurious and injurious preparations are offered to the public. See that Bottle and Label have the name and Address, "T. Wilkinson, late Wilkinson, Bridge, and Co., No. 270, Regent-street, London."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC DINNER PILLS.

No Pill is so efficacious in promoting digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from a Costive Habit, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of diet, and those of the most delicate constitution can take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla with the greatest success.

QUINTESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER and CAMOMILE.

WILKINSON'S Preparation of Ginger and Camomile has long been deservedly known as an excellent domestic medicine. It is a most efficient Stomachic Tonic, and the best remedy for Flatulency and disorders arising from impaired digestion, and is not affected by climate. No European in India or tropical climates should be without it. In one-eighth, quarter, and half-pint bottles.

YOUNG'S ARNICATED CORN and JUNION PLASTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate ease, and removing those painful excrescences. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H. Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT. WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS.

Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumstance of the body, two inches below the hip, being sent to the MANUFACTURER, Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.

Price of a Single Truss, 10s., 21s., 30s. 6d., and 35s. 1/2. Postage free. Price of Double Truss, 51s. 6d., 62s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly. NEW PATENT ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c. The material of which these are made is recommended by the Faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free. SPINAL MACHINES, LEG IRONS, and Every Description of Surgical Appliances. JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London.

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.—

The Best Remedy for ACIDITY of the STOMACH, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, GOUT, AND INDIGESTION, and the best mild aperient for delicate constitutions, especially adapted for LADIES, CHILDREN, and INFANTS. D I N N E F O R D & C O. 173, New Bond Street, London, and of all Chemists.

GEORGE REES

MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London. GEORGE REES' GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade. GEORGE REES' 100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot. GEORGE REES' First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each. GEORGE REES' CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices. 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre.

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR. OPIATES, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. It is made of such salutary remedies, which yield momentary relief at a expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy. SELECT TESTIMONIAL. Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably I subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease." This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 12s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough. * Invalids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE. TRADE MARK.—"BLOOD MIXTURE." THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, thereby being too highly recommended. For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure. It Cures all Sores. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck. Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs. Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face. Cures Scabby Sores. Cures Cancerous Ulcers. Cures Blood and Skin Diseases. Cures Glandular Swellings. Clears the blood from all impure matter, from whatever cause arising. As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of Testimonials from all parts. Sold in Bottles 2s. 6d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 2/6 or 13/2 stamps by F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln. Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPECULACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision by Mr. ACKLAND, Surgeon, dally, at Home and Thornhill-street, Opticians to the Queen, 5, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. See six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contain valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight. COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.—Try Anthony Scard's new material! Peculiarly Prepared Porpoise Skin, Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, becomes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable luxury and superlative specialtie. 8, Bow Lane, Chancery, E.C. Ladies order skilfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction. Just published, Free Edition, GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, NEURAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all disease of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power. By DR. HENRY SMITH. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Also treated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in each case. The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on receipt of two penny stamps. Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Barton-croft, London, W.C.

Sept. 26, 1874.]

MASONIC MUSIC IN STOCK.
AT Bro. KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS.

- The Red Cross Knight; composed by Bro. H. Parker, words by Bro. R. W. Little ... 3/0
 - What Better Theme than Masonry? words by Bro. James Stevens; music by Bro. Wilhelm Ganz ... 4/0
 - Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth; written by Bro. Sewell; composed by Bro. J. Rhodes ... 4/0
 - The Final Toast; written by D. L. Richardson; music by Bro. Edwin J. Crow ... 3/0
 - The E.A. Song; arranged by the late Bro. Parry, of the "Lodge of Antiquity," No. 1 ... 6d.
 - Masonic Harmonia ... 9/0
 - Masonic Music, compiled for the use of the "Merchant Lodge," No. 247, by Bro. J. H. Younghusband, P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., and P. Prov. J.G.W. West Lancashire ... 6d.
 - The Freemason (Tell me the Sign John); written by George Palmer ... 3/0
 - Three Times Three; composed by Bro. Harroway, "Royal York Lodge," Brighton ... 3/0
 - The Shake of the Hand (in G & B flat) composed by John Blockley ... 3/0
 - The Freemasons' Festival March and Masonic Hymn, by Bro. W. B. Tolpitt (Past Master of the "Temple Lodge," No. 816, Folkestone) ... 3/0
 - The Freemason Quadrilles; inscribed (by permission) to the Right Hon. the Earl de Grey and Ripon, K.G.; by Bro. Joshua Marshall (P.G.O., West Yorkshire), Soloist ... 4/0
 - Music for the Ceremony of Advancement to the Mark Degree; composed by Bro. Edwin J. Crow, dedicated to the Grand Master, Bro. Rev. G. Portal ... 3/0
 - Here's to His Health in a Song; written by J. J. Bailey; composed by J. M. Bentley ... 4/0
 - His Masonic Quadrille, by C. T. Hind ... 4/0
 - So Mild it Be, by Bro. Jno. P. Nunn ... 2/6
 - Masonic Mischief, the new Masonic Song, by G. Grant ... 3/0
 - Man of the Trowel, answer to Masonic Mischief ... 3/0
 - The Mystic Tie, song with quartet chorus, written by Wm. Carpenter, Esq., composed by Jas. C. Baker, Mus. D. ... 4/0
 - "Welcome," a Masonic song, written by Bro. Wm. Carpenter, composed by Bro. Jas. C. Baker ... 4/0
 - The Mark Masons' Song; dedicated to the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Percy, M.P., M.W.G.M.M. By Bro. T. B. Yeoman ... 3/0
 - Masonic Song, words by Wm. Allan, music by Culino ... 2/0
- All the above Half-Price.*
- Dr. Spark's Freemasons' Liber Musicus—Parts 1 to 12 (each) ... 5/0
 - The Freemasons' March, for the Pianoforte, composed by Selmar Kahlenberg ... 3/0
 - Masonic Ode, written by Bro. G. Passenger; composed by Bro. B. Sharpe ... 5/0
 - The Masonic Minstrel; being a complete collection of upwards of 200 Masonic Songs, Odes, Anthems, &c., with a list of Toasts and Sentiments. 3s. 6d. cloth, 4s. roan, gilt edges ... 1/0
 - Melodia Masonica: Five Songs and a Trio, set to Music and arranged by Bro. C. H. Purdey, new edition ... 1/0
 - Two Chants and an Anthem, set to music and composed by Bro. G. F. Taylor, for the use of Mark Masters' Lodges ... 2/0
 - Masonic Musical Service, by Dr. J. C. Baker, No. 241 ... 1/6
 - Music for the Masonic Ceremonies; by Bros. E. J. Crow and R. Limpus Parts I., II., & III. (each) ... 0/6

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

- Freemasons' Arms ... 15ft. by 12ft.
- Knights Templar Arms ... 15ft. by 12ft.
- Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre ... 12ft. by 9ft.
- City of London Arms ... 10ft. by 7ft.
- Union Jack ... 10ft. by 6ft.
- Duke of Edinburgh ... 9ft. by 4 1/2ft.
- Russian ... 9ft. by 4 1/2ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d.
 Entrance Fee ... 3 3 0
 Annual Subscription ... 3 3 0
 Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) ... 1 1 0
 The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c., also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
 Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND, P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.F.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."
 Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
 BEWARE OF IMITATIONS to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels.
 Agents—CROSS & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
(Established upwards of 35 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN.

81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.
 (No connection with any other establishment of the same name.)
 Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.

Bros. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,

237, HIGH HOLBORN,
 Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
 Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.
 Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. AYTON,
Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
 ESTABLISHED 1821,
 79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
 AND
 139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
 Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY
 Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
 (LATE WITH PATERHALL & CO.)
 106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.
 Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
 Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.
 Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
 Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
 Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,
 MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,
 Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Folls, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES:
 Thirty Sizes ... 4/0 per lb.
GAUZE LACES:

Per gross.		Per gross.
1/4 in. ...	4/0	1 in. ...	16/0
1/2 in. ...	8/0	1 1/2 in. ...	36/0
3/4 in. ...	12/0	2 in. ...	48/0

PRUSSIAN LACES:
 1/2 in. ... 18/6 per gross.
 1 in. ... 30/0 "
 1 1/2 in. ... 40/0 "

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:

Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yds.
1/4 in. ...	3/0	1 1/2 in. ...	12/0
1/2 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:

Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yds.
1/4 in. ...	3/0	2 1/2 in. ...	12/0
1/2 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

FRINGES:

Plate of Water	Twisted		Bullion.
	1 in.	1 1/2 in.	1 in.	1 1/2 in.
1 in.	0/4	0/8	1/6	per yard.
1 1/2 in.	0/6	1/0	2/0	"
2 in.	0/8	1/4	3/6	"
3 in.	0/10	2/0	6/0	"
4 in.	1/0	2/8	8/0	"
5 in.	1/3	...	12/6	"
6 in.	1/6	...	14/6	"
7 in.	1/9	...	17/6	"
8 in.	2/0	...	21/0	"
9 in.	2/3	"
10 in.	2/6	"
18 in.	3/0	"

RUSSIA BRAIDS:
 No. 1 ... 5/3 per gross.
 2 ... 6/9 "
 3 ... 8/0 "
 4 ... 10/6 "
 5 ... 13/9 "

FRENCH BRAIDS:
 No. 1, 8/6 per gross
 No. 2, 12/0 "
 No. 3, 16/0 "
 No. 4, 26/0 per gross.
 No. 5, 40/0 "
 No. 6, 72/0 "

TISSUE:
 22 inches wide ... 2/6 per yard.
GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH:
 22 inches wide ... 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:
 Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
 Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
 " 2nd " 6/0 "
 Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
 Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
 Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
 Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 27/0 per doz.

Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
 Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz.
 " double 2/6 "

Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
 Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
 Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0 "
 Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 per dozen.

Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard.
 " in colours, 5/9 per yard.
 Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY
GEORGE KENNING,

175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
 EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE
WORSHIPFUL MASTER,
 SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,

10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
 Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S
 Masonic Depôts,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

"THE FREEMASON."

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

"THE MASONIC MAGAZINE."

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

"THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK."

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of Newsvendors generally.

AGENTS.

ABERDEEN...	...	LINDSAY, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City)	JAS. GILBERT, 18, Gracechurch-st.
"	...	RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st.	"	...	C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
ABERGAVENNY	...	THOMAS & EDMUNDS.	"	...	R. POTTLE, 14, Royal Exchange.
ANDOVER	J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st.	"	...	HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BERLIN	ASHER & Co., 53, Mohrenstrasse.	"	...	CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BERWICK	R. LAMBERT.	"	(West) ...	GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BIRMINGHAM	...	J. WILLEY, Union-passage.	"	...	D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Soho.
BRADFORD	...	MORGAN, Kirkgate.	"	...	— LASQUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
BRIGHTON	...	J. BEAL, 55, East-st.	"	...	H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
BRISTOL	...	E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st.	"	...	NASH & TEUTON, Saville-place.
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE	...	C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P.	"	...	WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
CARDIFF	...	LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	"	(Bermondsey)	HALL, 87, New Road.
"	...	T. HAYNES, 6, James-st.	"	"	JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
CARLISLE	...	J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	"	(Brixton) ...	FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
CHELTENHAM	...	T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	"	(Camberwell)	MORRIS, 19, The Green.
CHESTER	...	MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	"	(Chelsea) ...	JNO. CATTERMOLE, 48, Cale-st.
CONGLETON	...	A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	"	(Clapham)	JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
CUCKFIELD	...	JOHN GALLOP.	"	(Euston Road)	PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
DERBY	...	CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	"	(Greenwich)	POOK, Church-st.
DONCASTER	...	HARLEY, "Chronicle" Office.	"	(Hornsey) ...	SWAIN, Railway Approach.
DUNDEE	...	CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	"	(Kensington)	KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
EDINBURGH	...	MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	"	(Kingsland)	PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
"	...	R. S. BROWN, 67, Hanover-st.	"	(Lambeth, South)	TRIBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
"	...	ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	"	(New Cross)	FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
EXETER	...	W. GREGORY, 3, High-st.	"	"	JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
"	...	E. FITZE, 28, High-street.	"	"	WM. KIFFS, 361, New Cross-rd.
GLASGOW	...	GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st., 2, St. Enoch's-lane.	"	(Paddington)	E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
"	...	LAING, St. Enoch-square.	"	(Richmond)	TURRALL, 17, New Road.
"	...	THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	"	(St. John's Wood)	WILSON, 13, High Street.
"	...	URQUHART, 189, London-road.	"	(Shoreditch)	ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
"	...	WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	"	(Sydenham)	J. CLARKE, Cambridge House.
"	...	LOVE, 226, Argyle-street.	MANCHESTER	...	JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
"	...	GEO. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street.	"	...	ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
"	...	THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	"	...	BERESFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
GLOUCESTER	...	E. BAYNES, 65, High-st.	MARGATE	...	W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
GRAVESEND	...	F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	MARYPORT	...	J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
GUERNSEY	...	WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE	...	W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
HALIFAX	...	BOTHAM & JACKSON, Church-st.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire)	...	D. DILWORTH.
HARWICH	...	SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NEWTON ABBOTT	...	HEADER & SON.
HERTFORD	...	HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHALLERTON	...	J. E. H. REED.
HEYWOOD	...	OWEN R. ELLIS.	NORTHAMPTON	...	STANTON & SON.
HOLYHEAD	...	PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	"	...	RUSHTON, Gold-st.
HULL	...	S. NATHAN, Market-st.	OXFORD	...	SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
HYDE	...	ORR & Co., Coleraine.	FORTSEA	...	EMANUEL, High-st.
IRELAND	J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes	PORTSMOUTH	...	N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road.
ISLE OF WIGHT	...	GEO. WARDLEY, St. Helier's.	PRESTON	...	HARKNESS, Church-street.
JERSEY	...	EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROSS	...	J. COUNSEL, "Man of Ross" Office.
LANCASTER	...	INCHBOLD, 33, Bond-st.	ROTHERHAM	...	HINCHCLIFFE, High-st.
LEEDS	...	A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SHEFFIELD	...	E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
"	...	J. MOSLEY.	SOUTHAMPTON	...	ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
"	...	C. OLDERSHAW, JUN., 40a, Granby-st.	"	...	JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
LEICESTER	...	MARDON'S LIBRARY, High-street.	"	...	J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
LITTLEHAMPTON	...	G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	"	...	"SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER" Office.
LIVERPOOL	...	ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	SOUTHPORT	...	G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
"	...	DAVIES, Exchange.	STOKE-ON-TRENT	...	J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
"	...	WINTERBOTTOM, Exchange.	STOKESLEY	...	TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
"	...	MRS. LEA, Woodside Ferry.	SUNDERLAND	...	B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
"	...	EDWARDS, Duke Street.	SWANSEA	...	CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st.
"	...	METCALF, Lime Street.	TRURO	...	WILLIAM LAKE.
"	...	WOODLEY.	TWEEDMOUTH	...	R. LAMBERT.
LLANDUDNO	...	ACE & SON.	WEST INDIES	...	J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
LLANELLY	...	GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain	"	...	GEORGE ROE, St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica.
LONDON (City)	...	W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITEHAVEN	...	JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica.
"	...	G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WHITSTABLE	...	PAGEN & GILL.
"	...	WILLIAM ABBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGAN	...	COX, High-street.
"	...		WIGTON	...	T. WALL, "Observer" Office.
"	T. McMECHIN.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother GEORGE KENNING, at his Offices, 198, Fleet-street, and 2, 3, and 4, Little Britain; in the City of London; and at 145, Argyle-street, and 7, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.—SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1874.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

'IR ROBERT MICHAEL SHAW-STEWART' Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 291.]

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE 2d.]

The Grand Lodge of Mark Master
Masons of England and Wales
AND THE COLONIES AND DEPENDENCIES OF
THE BRITISH CROWN.
By the Right Hon. the EARL PERCY,
M.W.G.M.M.M.
By the Right Hon. the EARL OF LIMERICK,
R.W. D.G.M.M.M.

PROVINCE OF SUSSEX.
THE Provincial Grand Lodge
OF Mark Master Masons

OF SUSSEX
WILL BE CONSTITUTED
BY

By R.W. Bro. the Rt. Hon. the EARL
OF LIMERICK, R.W.D.G.M.M.M.,

AND THE INSTALLATION
OF

SIR JOHN CORDY BURROWS, J.P.,
W.M. Keystone Lodge 168.

By the R.W. PROVINCIAL GRAND M.M.M.

WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE
"OLD SHIP" HOTEL,
King's Road, Brighton,

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1874, at 2 o'clock.
The business of the day having concluded,

A BANQUET
Will be held (about half-past 4 o'clock).

Tickets (price 7s. 6d. each, exclusive of wine)
to be obtained of Bro. T. J. Sabine, W.M. 75, Brighton; Bro. J. Pearson, W.M. 164, Hay-
wards Heath; Bro. Thos. Trollope, W.M. 166, Brighton; Bro. W. R. Wood, S.W. 168, Brighton; Bro. Kirkland, S.W. 166, Eastbourne;
Bro. J. M. Cunningham, P.M. 75, P.G.J.O.,
Brighton; Bro. C. Smith, Sec. 168, Cliftonville,
Brighton; Bro. S. R. Ade, S.W. 164, 157, North Brighton.

It is particularly requested that intimation be given by those Brethren who intend to dine, not later than Monday, October 19th, 1874, to the Committee to make suitable arrangements.

By order of the Committee,
THOS. J. SABINE,
W.M. 75, P.M. 22, P.A.G.D. of C.,
Acting P.G. Sec.

14, Ship Street, Brighton,
Sep. 23rd, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.
WOOD GREEN, LONDON, N.

OFFICE.—6, FREEMASONS' HALL, W.C.

PATRON.
HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.
PRESIDENT.
THE MOST WORSHIPFUL THE GRAND MASTER.

A Quarterly General Court of the Governors and Subscribers will be held at Freemasons'
Hall, Great Queen-street, Lincoln's Inn Fields,
London, on Monday the 12th day of October, 1874, for the transaction of the ordinary business of the Institution:—

To Elect Thirteen Boys from an approved
List of Candidates.

To consider such Notices of Motion as may be given at the General Committee, on Saturday, 3rd of October.

With the sanction and approval of the President, the Anniversary Festival of this Institution will, in future, be held on the Last Wednesday in June, instead of, as hitherto, on the Second Wednesday in March.

THE SEVENTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL
WILL BE HELD
ON Wednesday 30th June, 1875.

ON WHICH OCCASION
THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE EARL
OF CARNARVON, R.W.D.G.M.,
AND PROVINCIAL GRAND MASTER OF SOMERSET,
Has most kindly consented to preside.

By Order,
FREDERICK BINCKES,
(P.G. Steward),
Secretary.

Office:—6, Freemasons' Hall,
London, W.C.,
28th September, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS,
ST. JOHN'S HILL, S.W.

Office: 5, FREEMASONS' HALL, GREAT QUEEN STREET, W.C.

Patrons.
HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF WALES,
K.G., &c., M.W.G.M.
HER ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCESS OF WALES.

A Quarterly General Court of the Governors and Subscribers of this Institution will be held at Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen-Street, Lincoln's-inn-fields, London, on Saturday, the 10th day of October, 1874, at 12 o'clock precisely, on the General Business of the Institution, to consider the following notice of motion by Henry Browse, Esq., V.P.—"That the sum of Fifteen Guineas be granted to Miss Kernot as a gratuity for her services as Acting Matron during Miss Jarwood's illness;" and to elect 15 girls into the school, by ballot, from a list of 29 approved candidates. The election will commence at one o'clock (or after the usual business is over) and close at three o'clock precisely.

R. WENTWORTH LITTLE, Sec.
3rd October, 1874.

THE PERFECTION OF CLOTHING.
English Clothing is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. MOSES and SON'S as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes,
and complete outfits for all climates.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.
Prices based on ready-money system.
All goods marked in plain figures.
Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.
List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11
o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON,
Minories and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-Court-road,
And Bradford, Yorkshire.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments will be Closed This Evening, and Re-opened as usual on Monday morning, the 5th October, at 7 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors, Outfitters, &c.
LONDON.
Corner of Minories and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street, corner of Hart-street.
Corner of Tottenham-court-road and Euston-road.
Cotton Branch,
Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRAVEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.
"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—
Cassell's Household Guide.
Made simply with boiling water or milk.
Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS
ENGRAVED.
SEALS, PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE
PAPER DIES.
Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
In pen and ink ... 4/6 Crest engraved on spoons (doz.) 5/0
Heraldic colours ... 7/0 " " seal or ring 7/0
Engraved on copper ... 1/10 " " watch or stick 1/0

BRO. JAMES B. SLY,
9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

TO W.M.'S AND SECRETARIES.
BRO. KNIGHT SMITH (1441),
PROFESSOR OF MUSIC.

Begs to inform the Craft that he is prepared to assist the Ritual with Music for Consecration, Installation, or 1st, 2nd, and 3rd degrees.
For terms, address 6, London-villas, Devonport-road, Shepherd's Bush, W.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home.
Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmsheide, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tacla. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure,
M.A., Cassel.

Degree of Most Excellent, Royal, Select, and Super-Excellent Master.

Meetings, under the Authority of the GRAND COUNCIL OF ENGLAND AND WALES, to confer the above Degrees, will be held at the new Lodge Rooms, 2, Red Lion-square, Holborn, on the second and fourth Wednesday in every month. Fee £2 2s.

Ten days' notice of attendance must be sent to the undersigned, from whom all particulars may be obtained.

Candidates must be qualified as Royal Arch and Mark Master Masons.

FREDERICK BINCKES,
Grand Recorder.

Office,—2, Red Lion-square, W.C.
June 8, 1874.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales, Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern,
MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY.
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.
Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatre.
Bro. F. HILFRICH, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE. COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.

THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.

Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yachting, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Heame, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel. (NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS, DINNER, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the vineyards will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste.

The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
Proprietors.

EAST HARDWICK SCHOOL (Near Pontefract). This long established School is pleasantly situated in a healthy farming district; has averaged 90 pupils for eight years, and has been very successful at the Local, Medical, and Law Examinations. It has a gymnasium, large playground, cricket-field, baths, and dairy-farm. Inclusive terms 7½ to 9 guineas per quarter. Full particulars from Mr. Lord, the Principal (P.M. 910.)

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,
198, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,
ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.
Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.
This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."
It is made tastefully with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.
In 100 packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)
Cocoatina 2 lb. Vanilla, at Same Price. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.
SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 137, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed in country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 137, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

SIZE 32in. BY 26in.

AUTOTYPES

OF
Bro. Sigismund Rosenthal's Celebrated Paintings,
The Reception of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales as P.G.M.
At Freemasons' Hall, on Dec. 1, 1869, containing upwards of 120 Figures and Portraits.

The Reception of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the Grand Conclave of Knights Templar,
May 13, 1870, containing nearly 100 Figures and Portraits.

1 in BLACK AND GILT FRAMES, £2 12s. 6d. Each.

Sold by Bro. G. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 175, Aldersgate-street, London.
Branches—198, Fleet-street, London; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.

The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires, systematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly excels all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.

"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair to its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.

"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,

And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.
Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.
Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-street, London.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF

HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Fourth Edition, 5s.
"A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age.

London: Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

FOR FISH.

FOR POULTRY.

FOR GAME.

FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.

J. GOW.

1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c.
Country Orders promptly executed.

ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, Electroplate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger,
49, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.

OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REAL Good Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any person's selection. He does not sell "cheap" than every other house in the trade, but quite as cheap as any.
A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

PORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 Craft Masonry 591
 Ark Masonry 592
 Cross of Constantine 592
 Island 592
 Masonry and Roman Catholicism, 593 and Freemasonry 594
 New Royal Grand Master 594
 Institution for Girls 594 oration of the Metropolitan Lodge, No. 1507... 594 ary 595
 of Benevolence 595
 Royal Grand Master 596
 Roman Catholic Press and Lord Ripon 596
 RESPONSES:—
 yal Visit to Plymouth 597
 e Meetings next week 599
 risements 589 590 596 600 601 602 603 604

PORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

BURDETT COUTTS LODGE (No. 1278)—
 Friday, 17th ult., was a high day among the members of this energetic young lodge; it was day of the year, the day for installing the officer to rule over the lodge during the succeeding twelve months, and the members made most of it, not only coming themselves, and singing in good time, but hailing their brethren from other lodges to come and witness their strength and ability. It is not every lodge that has good fortune to possess so widely esteemed and munificent a patron as the Burdett Coutts Lodge. The worthy Baroness, after whom the lodge is named, is not a patroness in name only, but de facto evidence of which will now be presented before the lodge, in the shape of very elegant Masonic chairs in wainscot, elaborately wrought in the typical style appropriate to its situation in the lodge, while seats and arm pads, in green velvet, produce a pleasing contrast to the colour of the wood, each chair bears, in addition, the arms of the Baroness emblazoned on it. The formal installation of these chairs has not yet been completed but it will take place shortly, as will be evident from a letter which was read in the course of the evening from Col. Burdett, P.G.M. of Middlesex, when we have little doubt that the lodge will make the ceremony the occasion of a very high day indeed. The lodge is held at the Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria Park, where they occupy a very comfortable suite of rooms, and we could not but be struck on Thursday the care which had evidently been taken with the preparation of the room. The lodge met at three o'clock, the chair was taken by the W.M., Bro.
 John Ashburner, supported by Bro.
 Harris, S.W., W.M. elect; Bro W. J.
 Hill, J.W.; Bro. J. Terry, Treasurer; Bro.
 G. Verry, Secretary; Bro. W. Toye, S.D.;
 Bro. W. Hill, D.C.; Bro. C. K. Crouch.
 Bro. A. Lazarus, Steward; and a large number of the brethren. Among the visitors were G. Secretary, Bro. John Hervey; Bro.
 P.G. Treasurer for Middlesex Bro.
 Coles, P.M. 23; Bro. R. Chitson, 1348;
 Bro. W. Leage, 55; Bro. Sims, 65 Bro.
 Gardner, 1445; Bro. Jennings, Yarborough;
 Bro. G. Kent, 1297; Bro. Cotter, 554 Bro.
 Brown, 554; Bro. Horne, P.M. 1445. Bro.
 Brown, 832; and Bro. Davis, 959. The missions were ably undertaken by Bro.
 Brown, Org. 554, 933, and 174. After the reading of the minutes of the preceding year and the presentation of the report of the Audit Committee, Bro. Isaac Davis was raised to the third degree, and Bro. Verridge was raised to the second degree, the ceremonies being very ably performed by Bro. W.M., Bro. Ashburner. The business of the lodge having been thus far disposed of, Bro.
 Harris, the S.W. of the past year, was installed by the immediate P.M., Bro. Lloyd, W.M. for installation, and having taken the customary obligations, a board of Installed Masters was formed, and Bro. Harris was presented and installed into the chair of S.S.; and the brethren had returned to the lodge, he was proclaimed and saluted in the usual form, the whole ceremony being performed, and the customary address subsequently delivered by Bro. Ashburner in an admirable manner. The following is the list of officers appointed by the W.M.:—S.W., Bro. W. J. Crutch; J.W., Bro.

 W. Toye; Treasurer, Bro. J. Terry; Secretary, Bro. G. W. Verry (reappointed for the fifth time); S.D., Bro. C. K. Crouch, J.D., Bro.
 J. W. Hill; I.G., Bro. A. Lazarus; D.C., Bro.
 W. T. Christian; W.S., Bro. M. Gross. A handsome Past Master's jewel, voted by the lodge, was presented to Bro. Ashburner by the W.M., who, in investing him with it, expressed the high appreciation in which the recipient was held by the whole of the members, and trusted that he would live to enjoy his honours for many years to come. Bro. Ashburner having returned thanks, the Secretary, Bro. Verry, read a letter from Col. Burdett, Prov. Grand Master for Middlesex, regretting that his absence from town prevented his being present at this occasion; but stated that his return would take place in October, when he would immediately communicate with the Baroness and request her to fix as early a day as possible for the presentation of the chairs. The Secretary having read a number of letters, some announcing resignations of members, and a much larger number of propositions for joining members, the business of the evening was brought to an end, when the lodge was closed in due form, and the brethren afterwards reassembled at the banquet table, and sat down to a sumptuous repast served by mine host of the Approach Tavern. On the removal of the cloth the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were proposed. On the health of the Past Grand Master, the Prince of Wales, the Deputy Grand Master,
 the Earl of Carnarvon, and the rest of the Grand Officers Past and Present, being proposed, coupled with the name of Bro. John Hervey, Grand Secretary, the Consecrating Master of the lodge,
 Bro. Hervey, rose and said: Worshipful Master,
 Bro. Wardens, and Brethren, I am afraid that I must interpose my dull notes instead of those exquisite tones which we have heard produced by the manipulation of our Brother Organist, although I am sure you would rather listen to him than to me. But time is on the wing, and I will, therefore, at once thank you in the name of the Past Grand Officers for the cordial manner in which this toast has been proposed and responded to. I am sure it must be a matter of regret that you have not been able to propose the health of the Grand Master of the Order.
 We have no right to make any comment upon the resignation of the Grand Master, but of one thing I am sure, that it was a source of deep regret to the Craft, deep regret to the Masonic world at large, when we found so excellent a Grand Master suddenly taken from us. When one who has been at the head of affairs for a considerable time, and was so much acquainted with the requirements of his office, leaves us, we cannot look forward to the business of Freemasonry being carried on with the same aptitude as it has been carried on for some time past. I am sure that the brethren will treasure up glorious recollections of the Past Grand Master, the Marquis of Ripon, and deeply regret his departure. For myself I must always regret it, because his knowledge and advice were a great assistance to me in the office that I have held for some time. And now, if I may venture to allude to myself, I would thank you for myself for the manner in which the toast has been received. It has been my lot, although not a married man, to have a great many children;
 and I have been visiting my various families for the last few days, and I am glad to see that they are all flourishing. It is, of course, Worshipful Master, very difficult when visiting lodges you have consecrated at very short intervals to make speeches which will not trench on another.
 Now I have been making speeches congratulating lodges I have consecrated very frequently lately on the progress they have made in a short time.
 I congratulated Bro. Howe the other day for the manner in which his lodge had progressed under him in the year of his office, and I did but short justice to the members of the lodge for the manner in which they supported him. At the Mount Edgcumbe Lodge we sat down some seventy,—and I was squeezed into a very small space, though we managed to get on very well —and I congratulated that lodge on the success that had attended their exertions. The same thing happened only two evenings ago at the Doric Chapter, and the duty meets me again this evening now that I am amongst you. It is now five years ago that the Burdett Coutts Lodge was launched into existence, and I can truly say to you—say it with all sincerity—that I am extremely glad to see such a congregation around the table as I see this night, and to see the good working of the lodge, and I congratulate the Immediate Past Master on the way in which he installed his successor. Brethren, I am sorry that Col. Burdett is not here, to do as he has done—what he has uniformly done before—I am sorry that he is not here to return thanks for the Grand Officers in the kindly and hearty manner which he has; but if I cannot express myself in such glowing terms, I can be as sincere, and I thank you for the cordial manner in which the toast has been received. I am glad to see your prosperity, and I wish you every success in the future. Bro. Ashburner, I.P.M.: Brethren, when you hear the sound of the gavel from this side of the chair, you know the toast that is to follow—that it is the health of your Master.

 It is a pleasing duty to me who have this evening attained to the dignity of a P.M., to propose this toast; and I sincerely hope that our W.M. for the ensuing year will have as successful a term of office as I have had, not only in the numbers, but in the working, of the brethren. At the same time I congratulate the W.M. on being my immediate successor in this lodge. My Brother
 Hervey has given a partial history of the lodge.
 He has mentioned having installed Bro. Terry, the first W.M., into the chair, who, before we finish our evening's gratifications, will himself give you the history of the lodge. Bro. Ash-burner went on to say, that the lodge was in a very prosperous condition, and that though they were rather far east, and somewhat out of the immediate circle of metropolitan Freemasonry, there was no doubt, from the success they had had in the past, that they would continue to progress and flourish; and that if the brethren would support their present Worshipful Master as they had supported him (Bro. Ashburner)— as he was sure they would do—there was no fear of Bro. Harris not having an equally successful year with that which the speaker had enjoyed.
 The Worshipful Master: I rise to return you thanks for the kind manner in which you have drunk my health. I assure you that I shall perform the duties of my high position to the best of my ability, and if the officers and brethren will accord to me the same measure of assistance and support as they have given to my predecessor,
 I have no doubt that my year's office will be a very pleasant one. I thank you very much for the kind and cordial manner in which this toast has been received. The next toast I have to propose is that of the Past Masters', and I will thank you to be up standing, and drink the health of Bro. Terry, Bro. Lloyd, and Bro. Ashburner.
 Bro. Ashburner: As your Immediate Past Master, I rise to thank you for the very kind manner in which you have received the health of the Past Masters. I assure you I feel very proud of the position, so proud that I do not know how to find words to express that pride. I thank you for the very kind words spoken and the good feeling evinced on this occasion; and I hope that I shall see many of the brethren who are now travelling in the track that I have trod reach at last the position of Masters and Past Masters.
 During the past five years, circumstances unforeseen had compelled me to drop out of the lodge.
 I trust those cases have been to their benefit,
 I trust it has not been to their loss. I think we may take it that this is now one of the most successful lodges at this end of London. What we have done may have been by slow steps, but I trust we have found them sure. The speaker then adverted to the great success of the Prince Leopold Lodge, commenting in terms of praise on the zeal and assiduity with which Bro. Howe had worked for that lodge. He trusted that their own lodge would maintain its position under their present Master, who was an operative as well as a speculative Mason, and concluded by again thanking the brethren for the assistance they had rendered him in his year of office. Various other toasts usual at lodge banquets having been proposed and responded to, the chairman proposed success to the Masonic Institutions, coupling the toast with Bro. Terry's name. Bro. Terry: In rising to respond to the toast of the Masonic Institutions I do so w'th a very affectionate remembrance of the Burdett Coutts lodge. We are only five years old, but during that time we have not forgotten the Masonic charities. Our worthy Secretary, Bro. Verry took in a list of £216. Now that is not an inconsiderable sum. This year S. D. Crouch went up, and he took a list of between £70 and £80, so that we have contributed some £300. In commenting on the progress of the Institutions, Bro. Terry alluded to the very rapid progress that Freemasonry itself was making in the country, stating that from the first of January in this year 5980 Masons have been made up to the present time, which showed them that they wanted 5980 more subscribers to the Masonic Institutions. They had joined a society of men who are banded together for certain charitable purposes, and they ought to have the opportunity afforded them of contributing to the good work. They appealed to the brethren present to do all they could for the Institutions in the coming year. They did not want this to be an ordinary lodge, they wanted it to be a superlative lodge. They had done well in the past, but in acting for the future they must not lose sight of the fact that they took their name from an honourable lady who was honoured among other qualities for her munificent charity; and he was sure that they would one and all do their best to obtain the same reputation for the lodge that bore her name. He trusted that it would not be long before they had an opportunity of entertaining the Baroness. There had been a long delay, but they had now hopes that an early day would be fixed by their patroness for the formal presentation of their beautiful chairs to the lodge, and he trusted that every member of the lodge would feel it his bounden duty to be present on that occasion. Bro. Terry concluded with some general remarks upon the merits of the lodge, the efficiency of its officers, and the pleasure he felt at the presence of the Grand Officers and other eminent Masons who had favoured them with their company on this occasion. Various other toasts were proposed and ably responded to—the whole being interspersed with very enjoyable songs, and the company separated at a late hour after having spent a very pleasant evening.

Mark Masonry.

LEICESTER.—Fowke Lodge (No. 19).—The regular bi-monthly meeting of this very flourishing lodge, was held at the Masonic Hall, Leicester, on Thursday, September 24th, under the presidency of the W.M., Bro. James Malcolm McAlister, Mark Prov. Grand Secretary, who was well supported by a numerous attendance of officers and brethren. Amongst those present were Bros. A. M. Dunn, P.M., P.P.G. J.W.; L. S. Partridge, P.M., Prov. J.G.W.; Wm. Weare, I.P.M.; G. Toller, jun., S.W.; W. Sculthorpe, M.O.; W. H. Garner, Treasurer; F. J. Baines, Secretary; F. A. Wykes, J. T. Thorp, R. Waite, J. Edmunds, Steward, G. B. Atkins, and A. Sargeant. The minutes having been confirmed, the ballot was taken for Bros. Orlando Law, and S. Knight, as candidates for advancement, both of whom were unanimously elected, and being present were duly admitted to the degree of Mark Man, and afterwards advanced to that of Mark Master. The ceremony of advancement was performed, and the explanatory lecture of the degree delivered by the W.M., Bro. McAlister, in the most perfect manner, and the duties of the various subordinate offices discharged in the efficient style for which this lodge has now become noted. A candidate for advancement was proposed, and some business of a routine character transacted, after which the lodge was closed, and the brethren partook of refreshment. The subsequent proceedings were much enlivened by the excellent singing of Bros. Wykes, Sargeant, Edmunds, and others.

Red Cross of Constantine.

PREMIER CONCLAVE.—This Order continues to spread throughout the globe, as an example of which there are now four conclaves in New Zealand, all established within a year or two. The Original or Premier Conclave of England met at the Regent Masonic Hall, Regent-street, on the 31st ult., but many of its members were out of town. Bro. Harrison was admitted as a Guard of the Conclave, and subsequently the Mount Carmel Sanctuary and Commandery were opened, and Sir Knts. J. C. Parkinson, F. W. H. Ramsay, M.D., F.R.S., H. Parker, A. Moore, T. Kingston, and Rev. P. M. Holden, were duly created K.H.S. and Knts. of St. John the Evangelist. A banquet followed the proceedings of the day.

On Tuesday, the 22nd September, the opening meeting of the Bard of Avon Conclave (No. 99) was held at the same place, the following Knts. being present, J. C. Parkinson, G. Examiner, M.P.S. Designate; Dr. Ramsay, Viceroy Designate; R. Wentworth Little, G. Treas.; H. C. Levander, G.H.C.; Rev. E. Brette, D.D., G.A.R.; J. G. Marsh, P.G.A.; Rev. J. M. Vaughan, G.S.P.; Hyde Pullen, Viceroy Bective Conclave, No. 2a, T. W. White, G. Preceptor, and R. W. Stewart, G.H.A. Bros. R. G. Glover, P.M. 181, Prov. J.G.D. Middlesex; Major C. Harding, P.M. 231, Rev. A. Hall, Frank Richardson, W. G. Goodliffe, and W. H. Smith were installed as Knts. of the Order. The conclave was then dedicated, and the Officers were elected or appointed. Sir Knt. Parkinson presided at the banquet.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.—Scotia Lodge (No. 178).—Annual Picnic.—On Tuesday, Sept. 15th, the brethren of this lodge, with their wives and sweethearts, held their annual holiday. The morning was unpropitious, but a goodly number assembled under the guidance of the committee, consisting of Bros. Mathison, I.P.M., Sinclair, P.M.; Gardner, S.W.; Salt, J.W.; Jews, S.M.; Higgins, Sec.; King, T.; and Smith, Steward. Proceeding by rail to Greenock, they took lunch, and halted till the weather cleared up, when an omnibus conveyed the brethren to Largs, a deputation of the brethren of No. 173, coming in a carriage and pair to meet them. On arriving at St. John's Hall, the two lodges dined together; the weather not allowing of the proposed drive to Fairlie Glen, they again took the omnibus to Greenock, where Bro. Prince had a substantial tea awaiting them. Dancing was then commenced, and kept up with such spirit that the railway bell sounded in vain, it being less attractive than the belles of the ball.

GLASGOW.—Lodge St. George (No. 333) held an emergency meeting on Monday, Sept. 21st, in St. Mark's Hall; Bro. J. Winton, R.W.M.; J. McFarlane, D.M., as S.W.; J. Forsyth, J.W.; and J. MacIntyre, Secretary. A petition was presented from a gentleman who was about to go abroad, and the ballot having proved unanimous in his favour, it was moved and carried that he be allowed to receive the three degrees. At the requisition of the lodge, Bro. Wheeler, 73, conferred these upon the candidate. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Bro. McFarlane moved, and the R.W.M. seconded, a motion that in consequence of the services of Bro. Wheeler on this as well as on former occasions, he be affiliated an honorary member of the lodge. He also proposed that Bro. Lloyd, of 456, who had shown a great interest in the lodge should be admitted. Both propositions were carried with acclamation, and the brethren affiliated. There being no further business the R.W.M. proceeded to close the lodge in due form.

GLASGOW.—St. Mungo Encampment.—The annual meeting for the election of officers took place on Monday, Sept. 21st, Sir Knight R. Bell, E.C., in the chair, supported by H. J. Sheild, R.C., Captain Shanks, F. Bates, and G. W. Wheeler, Recorder. After the encampment had been opened in due form, the Recorder read the minutes of the last meeting and explained that the circumstances under which their present M.E.C. had determined to retire, led to there being two Sir Knights put in nomination for the post of E.C. On the vote of the encampment being taken, Captain J. E. Shanks, 18, was declared duly elected E.C., and the following Sir Knights as his office bearers for the ensuing year:—J. O. Park, C.G.; S. Scott, R.; F. Bates, T.; Rev. J. C. Stewart, Prelate; J. Johnson, M.; C. MacKenzie, 1st A.D.C.; J. Louttit, 2nd A.D.C.; C. McClannachan, 1st W.; G. McAlister, 2nd W.; J. May, C.C.; T. W. Brownlie, D.C.; W. P. Watson, J.C.; D. B. Fleming, D of Music; R. Muir, S.B.; J. Forrest, S.B.; and John McDade, Sentinel. There being no other business, the encampment was closed in due form.

GLASGOW.—ROYAL ARCH MEETINGS.

This has been a busy week in Glasgow, in Royal Arch Masonry, all the chapters having met for election and installation of officers.

CHAPTER 50, held their annual meeting in St. Mark's Hall on September 23rd, for the election and installation of officers for the ensuing year. The following companions were unanimously elected, and had the honour of being installed by M.E. Comp. F. A. Barrow, P.G.Z., (who expressed the pleasure he felt in attending to instal the officers of his mother chapter). James Miller, Z., was re-elected; Wm. Bell, H.; F. J. Mitchell, J.; P. Agnew, T.; James Louttit, Scribe E. re-elected; J. Mann, W.; and Colin McKenzie, Principal Sojourner, were then installed.

CHAPTER 69 met in Killwinning Hall, 170, Buchanan-street, on the 23rd ult and proceeded to elect as their officers Comps. Dr. T. D. Humphries, re-elected for the fourth time; G. Herron, H., re-elected; D. B. Fleming, J.; Wm. Thomas, T., re-elected; J. M. Oliver, S.E., re-elected; Jas. Gibbon, N.; George Robinson, 1st S.; J. H. Fash, 2nd S.; R. Prout, 3rd S.; D. Ramsay, Janitor. The chapter then adjourned, while No. 73 proceeded with their election.

CHAPTER No. 73 met in the Killwinning Hall under Comp. G. MacDonald, Z., and unanimously elected the following companions as officers for the year:—G. W. Wheeler, Z.; John Tweed, H.; J. Steward, J.; J. Bannerman, T.; Jas. Balfour S.E., re-elected; A. McKie, N.; W. B. Patterson, 1st S.; G. Murray, 2nd S.; Wm. McGregor, 3rd S.; Thos. Yules, Captain of the Vails, and Wm. Jamison, Janitor. A deputation of members, accompanied by all the officers of Chapter 144, then appeared, and asked permission for their officers to be installed, as they had been disappointed in obtaining the services of the companions whom they had expected to instal them. This was at once granted, and Comp. Wheeler requested Comp. A. McTaggart, M.A., P.G.S.E., to instal them. The P.G.S.E. said it would have given him much pleasure, as a member of 73, to have complied with the request of their First Principal, but as, owing to the three chapters meeting, his time had expired, and he knew that their P.Z. was fully competent to the task. He must ask them to permit him to retire. The officers of No. 144 were then introduced, having been previously elected in their own hall in the Garngad-road. The following is the list:—Jas. Annand, Z.; J. McLeish, H., re-elected; G. McAllum, J., re-elected; J. W. Rothenm, T.; Jas. Both, S.E.; A. Heron, N.; Jas. Appleyard, 1st S.; J. Morrison, 2nd S.; Jas. Mills, 3rd S.; J. Hughes, Janitor; Comp. J. Balfour, Scribe E. and P.Z. of 73, then proceeded to instal all the officers of the three Chapters in a most efficient manner. Comp. T. D. Humphries, who was seated as H., then addressed the united chapters, thanking the members of 69 for their confidence in him in thus for the fourth time placing him in the proud position, and pledging himself to do the best in his power to carry out the principles of Royal Ach Masonry. Comp. James Annand, seated at J., thanked the members of 144. They were the youngest chapter in the Province, and their 1st Z. had left not only them but the country. Their late Z., Comp. R. Bell, had worthily fled the chair since his departure, and he wished he could have induced him to have continued or another year, but having decided otherwise he would do his best to deserve their favour. Comp. G. W. Wheeler could not boast of four years' experience in the office like mp. Humphries; but he had now filled every ce in a chapter inside the door, and trusted should not bring discredit on that of Z. He sidered it a very high honour to sit in that ir at this meeting of the three chapters. two fellow First Principals had been pleased speak of his efforts in both their chapters; it been a source of pride to him to be able to useful to his companions in those Chapters; had rewarded him by honorary membership, now giving him the place of honour. This ting he considered an auspicious omen; they here the emblem of the Order, the Equi- al Triangle, with the Three Chapters, while three Principals of each might represent the le Tau. He hoped that the three Chap- would be even more friendly united than were at present; to effect that he would vest a meeting of the Principals, to completely tify their work. And they might get others o-operate, as at present, out of the twelve ters in the province, these were not two that ed precisely alike. Companions who, like from his connection with the Freemason, to visit all those chapters, and frequently o assist in the work, found it very annoying, ot at all conducive to the general welfare he Order. Comp. Annand, Z. 144, pro- and Comp. Humphries, 469, seconded the s of the three chapters to Comp. Balfour, e excellent way in which he had performed nstallation ceremonies, and that the same ecorded by their respective Scribe E.'s. p. Wheeler, on putting it, observed that p. Balfour was deserving of thanks, not only s services to-night, but for his readiness at nes to assist any chapter in any part of work. This was carried by acclamation. s. Wheeler, Humphries, and Annand, then f the chapter, the companions adjourning freshment to the Small Hall, where Comp. der presided as chairman, with Humphries onand as Croupiers.

AFTER 67, according to dispensation the Supreme Grand Royal Arch Chapter and, held their meeting for election and ation on Friday, 23th inst, at 22, Struthers- , Calton. The chapter was opened inoyal Arch degree, and the nominations at previous meetings read. The nomination be not holding good, David French was nominated for that office. The following being read over individually, were declared elected for the year:—Comps. James Z.; John Cunningham, H.; John J.; David French, Scribe E.; John Mason, James Wood, Treasurer; David Ronald, Soj.; John Nagle, Second Soj.; James , Third Soj.; Andrew Crawford, Janitor. Halkett, M.E.Z., 13, installed the office- in a most solemn and impressive r. Comp. James Duthie then thanked mpanions for re-electing him, and said ery effort would be made by him for the f the chapter, and hoped that his office- would not be wanting in supporting id doing all that they could to add to the g prosperity of the Cathedral Chapter. returned thanks to his past office-bearers mpanions, who had been regular in their nce, supporting the work of the past ad remarked those of them who he had failed to do what they ought to have red they were in honour bound to do. Duthie, P.Z., returned thanks to Com- Halkett for services rendered on the pre- sation to the Cathedral R.A.C. Comp. said it gave him very great pleasure to to-night, and wished success to the working of the chapter. There being her business the chapter was closed in d ancient form, James Duthie, P.Z.; unningham, P.H.; John Main, P.J.; mpanions standing to order. The Masters Lodge was opened, with Brother Right W. Master, in the char, Bro. S. W.; Bro. Main, J. W. There to business of this degree the brethren illed from labour to refreshment. The yal toasts, with song and sentiment, were til the brethren were called from refresh- ck) to labour, and the lodge was closed and ancient form by Bros. Duthie, and Main.

FREEMASONRY AND ROMAN CATHOLICISM:

COMMUNICATED.

[We print the following communication, on the principle of allowing free discussion of all passing events affecting Freemasonry, but we are by no means prepared to say that we should endorse all the arguments of our able correspondent—Ed.]

The perversion of the Marquis of Ripon, the Grand Master of the Order of Freemasons, to Roman Catholicism has naturally enough, in the present "dead season" of politics, given rise to a good deal of comment in the press; but comparatively little attention has been drawn to Freemasonry, in the sense of its being a "secret society," and as such lying under the curse of the Church of Rome. Papal fulminations of the most malignant type are ever and anon being hurled against secret societies in general, and the society of Freemasons in particular; anathemas fierce, and spiteful, are continually being launched from the Romish pulpit by the subordinates of Pius IX. against institutions of this class; and, to crown the terror and rage, the threat of excommunication is made ever to ring in the ears of those worshipping within the pale of the church—hanging over them like the sword of Damocles—should they attempt to join the brotherhood of any so-called secret institution. No exception is apparently made either on account of the religious nature or the beneficent results of many of these societies: Orangemen and Ribbonmen(?)—Freemasons and Odd Fellows—Good Templars and Philanthropists, who may meet in private to disburse bounties to the poor, are under the ban of the Romish Church; every society,—in short, which likens itself to the Church of Rome, in its exemplary strict seclusion—burrowing like a mole in the earth—is vehemently denounced as being projects established and promulgated by the Evil One. With the exception of societies such as the "International," or may we venture to add, the "Home Rule" order, which have political objects to serve and if possible accomplish, there are very few "secret" bodies, at least in this country, which keep their light under a bushel, and none less so than the venerable Order of "Free, Antient, and Accepted Masons." From time immemorial the Craft has borne an irreproachable character, both in public and private. Its members have all along been the trusty friends of truth and true religion. In troublous times they lent powerful aid to stem the tide of infidelity and error, and the Church of Rome perceiving that the foundation upon which Masonry rested was heavenly in design, made strenuous efforts to overthrow it. Monarchs, who were little more than underlings of the reigning Pope, were directed to stamp out the Order, and persecution against the Craft followed. But extermination proved impossible, and the last and only course Rome could pursue was to "curse it with an awful curse." This, then, is the secret of the spite and enmity which the Church of Rome bears towards Freemasonry, and hence it is that no Roman Catholic dare enter into its brotherhood. Freemasonry is not a "secret" society in the commonly understood meaning of the term; it is more of the character of a select society. In corroboration of this statement we quote the following from an excellent work entitled, "Freemasonry and its Jurisprudence," written by an influential member of the Order, Brother Chalmers I. Paton, Edinburgh:—

"If the term [secret society] refers, as, perhaps, in strict language, it should, to those associations whose designs are concealed from the public eye, or whose members are unknown, which produce their results in darkness, or whose operations are carefully hidden from the public gaze, a definition which will be appropriate to many political clubs and revolutionary combinations in despotic countries, where reform, if it is at all to be effected, must be effected by secret combinations—then clearly Freemasonry is not a secret society. Its design is not only publicly proclaimed, but is vaunted by its disciples as something to be venerated; its disciples are known, for its membership is considered an honour to be coveted; it works for a result of which it boasts—the civilization and refinement of man, the amelioration of his condition, and the reformation of his manners. But it by a secret society is meant—and this is the most popular understanding of the term—a society in which there is a certain amount of knowledge, whether it be of methods of recognition, or of legendary and traditional learning, which is imparted to those only who have passed through an established form of initiation, the form itself being also concealed or esoteric, then in this sense is Freemasonry undoubtedly a secret society. Now, this secrecy is inherent in it, existing with it from its foundation, and secured to it by its ancient landmarks. If divested of its secret character it would lose its identity, and would cease to be Freemasonry."

It is abundantly evident from the foregoing that the secrecy of Freemasonry applies solely to "the methods of recognition amongst the brethren," and that it has no significance or object in drawing a cordon—as understood by the Romish Church—to exclude all free-born moral-living men of whatever creed, political or ecclesiastical. Lord Ripon's secession, therefore, from the ranks of the Freemasons—in itself a comparatively trivial matter to the Craft, as within its extensive membership are princes of the blood royal, who will gladly and can worthily fill the Grand Master's chair—demonstrates in a marked degree, let it be said—and that secretly wrought—the bitter malevolence of the Church of Rome against a society which, in its spirit and practice is a useful and munificent public institution. Hoary with antiquity, it has won worldwide reverence, and in proof of its vitality it is at the present day stronger in its muster roll than at any period of its long history. Hence it is invulnerable against the thunderbolts of Rome, the greatest and grossest secret society in Christendom.

Edinburgh.

J. Y.

ROME AND FREEMASONRY.

While lamenting the recent event which will for ever associate the hitherto honoured name of Ripon with that of renegade, I cannot conceive that the present moment is one to be employed in vain regrets for our lost Grand Master, or in attempts to magnify the services which he is supposed to have rendered to the Craft. It is precisely because Lord Ripon sat upon the throne of English Freemasonry that we, as English Freemasons, have a right to judge him by his acts, and it is generally admitted that his perversion to the Church of Rome acquires all its sinister significance from the very fact of his rank in our Order. It therefore becomes our imperative duty to review with frankness and without fear, all the circumstances relating to this melancholy fact in which such dear and sacred interests are as those which appertain to Freemasonry are indubitably involved. There can scarcely be a lingering doubt in the mind of any thinking man that the abruptness of the Marquis of Ripon's resignation was but part and parcel of a deep laid plan to strike a treacherous blow at an Institution for which up to the very eve of his secession, the noble lord professed so profound a veneration, "Freemasonry was a fortress of which Lord Ripon was Governor," says one of your contemporaries, and how did he repay this boundless confidence? By doing the work of our inveterate enemy in secret, for as the same journal remarks, a man's religious convictions are as rarely changed in a single night as the colour of his hair; hence the fatal conclusion is irresistibly forced upon us, that our late Grand Master maintained his bond of brotherhood with the Craft, and sought its highest honours in order that his open defection, on the eve of our great national Masonic assemblage, might inflict upon us a stronger and deadlier blow.

In this connection it is impossible to avoid alluding to certain rumours of a startling character, which are at present rife amongst the fraternity generally, but more especially amongst metropolitan brethren. It is asserted that the Councils of the Craft in this country have for years been directed by a brother who is affiliated to the society of the Jesuits, and who even holds some position in that pernicious association. If this be so, much that has appeared to be mysterious in the course of recent events becomes unfortunately but too comprehensible; that such a terrible suspicion should hang like the sword of Damocles over the head of a possibly innocent man, is in itself a misfortune, but it is an infinitely graver matter should there be even a scintilla of truth in the rumour. With the Machiavellian principles of Jesuitism, Freemasonry wages an eternal war, because light and darkness cannot mingle, and it is therefore fearful to contemplate that there may be within our midst a member whose talents and influence are used to undermine our strength. Unhappily history is full of the records of similar treasuries, and it behoves us to be on our guard, and to watch with jealousy the efforts of any brother who may seek to dominate our affairs in future. Lord Ripon's withdrawal into the shade of the Vatican will not have been made in vain, should it awaken English Freemasons from the apathy and lethargy into which a course of unbroken success has plunged them at the present moment.

VERBUM SAT SAPIENTI.

[We print the above, as we have received it, without note or comment.—Ed.]

OUR NEW ROYAL GRAND MASTER

The announcement that our Royal Brother, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, has signified his willingness to accept the vacant office of Grand Master is one of the greatest importance to the Craft all over the world. Its effects will be felt throughout the wide domain of Freemasonry in a most salutary manner; thus out of evil T.G.A.O. T.U. in his own time chooses to bring forth good. The event is one of the happiest significance at a period when Christendom is rent and torn with the machinations of the unscrupulous Society of Jesuits, and it further shows the nobility of the Prince's mind and his willingness to give all assurance of the sincerity of his Masonic faith. Nor will the new Grand Master prove an idle administrator, the energy which he has shown in conducting the ceremonials of an august court will only find additional scope for exercise, now he has voluntarily accepted the greatest charitable throne in the world.

Ever since his Royal Highness joined the Masonic body, he has markedly evinced his cordial assent to its noble doctrines, and his general carriage as a man and a citizen have shown him to be very deeply penetrated by the truths of its principles. In no way has he belied the promise of the careful training he received at the hands of his regretted father, and in him English, or rather British Freemasons, will find an able, urbane, firm, and thoroughly conscientious chief. As a thorough Englishman, he will be welcome to everyone, and while the Masonic Throne sheds an historic glory about him, his own modesty of character will adorn that throne. Long may he continue to rule over the Craft.

CRYPTONYMUS.

THE ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

The General Committee of the Girls' School held a meeting on last Thursday afternoon at the Freemason's Hall, when the chair was occupied by Bro. H. Browse, Vice President. There were also present T. F. Peacock, Griffiths Smith, Walter Wellsman, C. H. Finney, Richard Spencer, and T. W. White. The minutes of the last General Committee Meeting, held on August 27, were read for the purpose of verification, after which the minutes of the House Committee Meeting of the 17th instant were read. Three petitions having been read were approved by the meeting, which separated after passing a vote of thanks to the chairman.

An emergency meeting of the Neptune Lodge No. 22, will be held at the Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street, on Thursday next, at 5 p.m.; when the following gentleman (amongst others),—who attended before the Lord Mayor, a week or so back, to thank the police for their attention to him whilst viewing the sights of London—will be initiated:—Mr. Hajeebboy Hormasjee Shroff, Justice of the Peace and Member of Bombay Corporation.

CONSECRATION OF THE METROPOLITAN LODGE, NO. 1507.

Truly Freemasonry is spreading rapidly, and there is small matter of surprise that such a "good hater" of the Craft as the Pope should do all in his power, however ineffectual his efforts may be, to diminish its influence, by depriving it of an influential head. His tactics however in this respect have been faulty, for our loss has been our gain—losing a Marquis we have gained a Prince. We have now the pleasing duty before us of recording the establishment and consecration of another lodge, which will hold its meetings at the rooms of the Metropolitan Club, at No. 269, Pentonville-road, King's-cross. The ceremony of consecration was performed on Monday, the 28th ult. by our V.W. Bro. John Hervey, Grand Secretary, assisted by W. Bro. James Brett, P.M. and P.G.P.; P.Z. and P.G. D.C., and Bro. Robert Wentworth Little, P.M., P.G. Secretary, Middlesex, P.Z. and G.S.E. Middlesex, the musical arrangements being under the direction of Bro. George Garratt, P.M. There was a large attendance of well-known and experienced Masons, among whom we noticed Bros. C. B. Payne, P.M. 27; S. R. Maples, S.W. 1260; J. C. Dwarber, J. Willing, P.M. 55; E. Sayer, High Cross, 765; W. Dixon, 1107; W. Bury Clark, 186; Guest, 753; W. Stephens, 1366; Byng, 935 Frost, 228, 704, 860; J. Storey, I.P.M. 1107, P.G. Superintendent of Works, Kent, P.P.G. Steward; J. B. Edwards, 861, 1107; E. Pidduck, 1107; E. Legg, 851; R. Meacock, 361; C. Reuter, 1107; T. Cunningham, 754; Brown, 275; Massey (Freemason), and W. Norris, 1489.

The brethren present having entered the lodge room in procession, the Consecrating Master took the Master's chair, supported by Bros. Brett as S.W., and Bro. Stephens as J.W., Bro. Little officiating as D.C. The lodge having been opened in the three degrees, the presiding officer addressed the brethren on the nature of the meeting, and the formal business of constituting the petitioning brethren into a regular lodge was transacted in due form, after which Bro. James Brett delivered an oration upon the nature and principles of the Institution, which was followed by the more solemn part of the ceremony, which was performed in a most impressive manner by Bros. Hervey and Little.

Bro. Hervey:—Brethren, we have met here on a pleasant and peculiar occasion; pleasant because we are adding a new lodge to the Craft, and under peculiar circumstances, because it is well known to all present that our late Grand Master has seceded from the Order, and has been succeeded by the Prince of Wales; and it is a peculiar circumstance that this lodge should be the first consecrated under the new regime, and I think that the members of 1507 may on some future occasion be gratified to think that it is the first that has been consecrated under the Mastership of the Prince of Wales. And this is the first opportunity I have had of congratulating the brethren on the fact, that though abandoned under very peculiar circumstances by our late head, we are not utterly abandoned by the great, when the Heir-apparent to the Crown can assume the head and leadership of our Order and preside over us. And I think it is gratifying under many considerations. However, it is trenching—to allude to circumstances which have just happened—trenching too nearly upon the tenets of our Order to allude further to this subject. The discussion of religion and politics is eschewed among us; and I should be very sorry if, in my position, I infringed that very wholesome tenet, I am sure—and I address myself more particularly to those who promote this lodge—I am sure they will do what I always recommend to the officers of lodges that I consecrate—to look more to the quality of their candidates than to their numbers. It is necessary that we should have increase of numbers in the Craft and recruits in its service, but, brethren, we had better be a small number of good men, than a large number of indifferent men; and, therefore I recommend the W.M. to be very careful whom he admits to candidature, as one black sheep will spoil the whole lodge.

We all know what damage one discreditable man does a lodge, and, therefore, it is not only for the benefit of the Craft in general, but also for the comfort of the lodge in particular, that I recommend great caution in the selection of members. Generally speaking brethren are too anxious to increase their numbers, and, perhaps, too anxious to increase their funds. I do hope, I feel confident, that this will not actuate the members of this lodge. I always refer to this when I can, because it is not a thing that can be enjoined forcibly on a lodge; a man of low rank is a far better candidate for our society when he has a high character and fair fame, than he would be if he were a nobleman, with all the faults which would render him an annoyance to those with whom he was associated. I do not want to allude to this too strictly; it is a friendly warning to the members of the lodge, and I trust it may be profitable.

On the conclusion of the address, the Consecrating Master proceeded to install Bro. James Willing as W.M. of the lodge, he having been recommended for that position in the petition, and appointed to it by the Warrant of the Grand Master. The principal officers also named in the warrant, were Bros. J. J. Michael, S.W., and Thos. Williams, J.W. On the proposition of the W.M., seconded by the S.W., the ballot was taken for the appointment of Bro. Rose, as Treasurer, and found to be unanimous in his favor. The other officers appointed were Bro. Tims, Sec.; Child, S.D.; Kingham, J.D.; Douglas, I.G.; and Fowler, D.C. On a show of hands Bro. Daly was elected Tyler of the lodge. All these were invested by Bro. Hervey, who in so doing addressed to each a few kindly words of advice and encouragement in reference to the duties they had undertaken to perform.

On the conclusion of the ceremony, the W.M. rose and said, brethren, before we proceed farther I have to propose that the cordial and hearty thanks of the lodge be tendered to our V.W. Bro. Hervey, for the able manner in which he has performed the impressive ceremonies which you have witnessed this evening, that our thanks be given in like manner to our W. Bro. James Brett, and to Bro. R.W. Little for the ability and zeal with which they have rendered their very efficient assistance to the Consecrating Master. I propose that a record to this effect be placed upon the minutes of the lodge, and I further propose that Bro. Hervey, Bro. Brett, and Bro. Little be elected honorary members of the Metropolitan Lodge. I am sure that you will all agree with me that the work of this evening has been nobly done, and I trust that we may frequently have the pleasure of receiving these brethren at our meetings. The proposition having been seconded by the J.W., was put and carried unanimously.

Bro. Hervey:—Worshipful Master, and brethren, I do not know whether my two friends desire me to speak for them. (Yes, yes). I assure you in the name of Bro. Brett, Bro. Little and myself, we thank you cordially for the compliment you have paid us. We came down here with very great pleasure to add a new lodge to the long roll of lodges in the English Craft, and if the ceremony, as far as I am concerned, has gone off well be assured the assistance of Bros. Little and Brett produced that effect, as I am confident they would have done it much better themselves. I am very glad to do it, and I am sure I speak the sentiments of the two brethren who stand up with me.

The W.M. then proposed that the thanks of the lodge be given in like manner to Bro. Garratt and Bro. Stephens, for their services, which having been carried, was briefly responded to by the two brethren named, and a number of propositions for candidates and initiates having been read and referred to the Secretary, the lodge was closed in peace and harmony, and the brethren adjourned to the Midland Hotel, where a elegant banquet was served by M. Suchet, the manager of the refreshment department, who deserves great praise for his anxiety to promote the comfort of the brethren. At the conclusion of the banquet, the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were drank, all being spoken to with considerable spirit.

W. Master:—I have no wish, brethren, to intrude upon your time, but this night I have pose now is not an ordinary one. I need not be time by explaining that which, though very interesting to us, is known to all of you at His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has accepted the Grand Mastership of the Craft, and he now occupies the proud position of being elected to be head of the Order. For although we are pleased to see him at the head of the Craft, we are independent of every man, wherever he comes from—from the east or from the west of England; what we require is a head of the necessary knowledge for the government of the Craft, and one who will also promote its interests. I give you the M., H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, Most Excellent M. Elect. (This toast having been received with great applause, the W.M. concluded.) The next toast on the list is the M., the Earl of Carnarvon, and the rest of the Grand Officers Past and Present. We amongst us to night several Grand Officers to whom we are greatly indebted for the success which has attended the proceedings of the day, and we are also further indebted to the Consecrating Master for the information and advice he has given as to what we ought to do and what we ought to do to promote the good of the Craft generally and the comfort of our members in particular. It is difficult for us to do them that amount of honour which is due, our best method of showing that we value what we have heard will be to act on it. I give you the Grand Officers, Past and Present, coupled with the names of Bro. H. Brett, Bro. Little, Bro. Storey.

Brett:—There appears to be some understanding between Bro. Hervey and the W.M., to give me an opportunity of making a long speech. I do not comprehend the arrangement, but I, V.M., and brethren, I do feel myself obliged, inasmuch as my friend the Grand Master allows me to respond to the toast of the Grand Officers, present and past. I shall not do as I may perhaps have thought of doing, retirement of our late Grand Master, the Marquis of Ripon, because so much has been said about it, but my duty and pleasure are to thank for the Earl of Carnarvon, the present Grand Master, and I say this, that had he been called into the position which H.R.H. the Prince of Wales graciously pleased to accept—had the Marquis of Carnarvon been called in that position, I should have been very proud to have such a man at our head, and I am not fearful of a great man has left us, and because he has done something which has not been done before, and that the action will have any damaging effect whatever on the progress of Freemasonry. Brethren, I think it is a very great thing that we have the Prince of Wales, or rather, as he has graciously accepted the Grand Mastership of the Craft. Of course, I am not going to talk of politics, and of course, we must not talk of religion, but I do say that the Prince of Wales has pleased the Craft very much in coming to us, for his own sake, as well as for ours. Brethren, allow me to say, in returning thanks to the Grand Officers, and for those who have done greater justice to the toast than I could always be happy to do what we can to do (for a good cause), accept our best thanks for what you have done us.

Hervey:—Brethren, it is one of the duties of the Consecrating Master to propose to the Master of the lodge, which he has brought into existence, and it is with pleasure this evening that I avail myself of this privilege, and propose the health of the W.M. I have had the gratification to place him in the chair, and I may still have one more place in the chair, even after himself, I say this, that it has given me very great gratification to have had the privilege of proposing the Metropolitan Lodge this evening, and I give those few words of advice which I have given to my good friends on my right, whose place I have now the privilege to propose. It is of course not a constant thing that we should be a lodge to consecrate, or a lodge to instal under the circumstances which I have just described; but when these circumstances offer themselves, it is a gratifying thing to have a lodge to consecrate, and a Master to instal, the more so when you feel that that Master will do justice to the position in which he is placed. I know, brethren, that the story I am telling is an oft-told tale, I know that I cannot bring to your minds any new facts, but I know you will feel that we have all come, not only to meet here at a dinner, but to meet in good fellowship the Master, Wardens, and brethren of the Metropolitan Lodge. Brethren, there must be something more than mere personal acquaintance derived from meeting in a lodge which is induced by the Masonic Craft, because we find (and I will appeal to you whether such is not the fact), whether when we meet a gentleman in ordinary society, and we find out by some casual observation that he is a brother, there is not a feeling extended towards him that he is one to whom we may more willingly and more confidently express our thoughts than we should do to a perfect stranger. Now that is a feeling that I know pervades every Mason, that is a feeling which we all equally entertain, and which I hope we may entertain for years to come. Now I will say one word with regard to the Metropolitan Lodge. With the assistance of some of my good friends about the table, we have done our best to launch it into existence in a fair and successful manner; we have not thrown our Craft on her beam ends as was the case with a Brazilian frigate some time ago, but in a fair way it has been launched without hitch, that it may swim over the waters in a happy and prosperous state. I give you W.M., Bro. Willing, and success to the lodge.

The W.M.:—Most Worshipful Bro. Hervey, and brethren all should feel some diffidence in answering to this toast, were I not sure that it is meant more for the lodge than for the Master. The Master is only thought of as the brother who holds for a time a legitimate control over the other brethren of the lodge. At least, I think it should be so; a Master should not arrogate all the importance to himself; his individuality should be sunk, and he should be thought of as the representative of his lodge, and his merit be measured by the manner in which he represents it. I think that we were very fortunate in getting our warrant upon the first application. I trust that we may continue in the way we have commenced. We are all under deep obligations to Bro. Hervey, Bro. Little, and Bro. Brett, and shall always be very glad to see them amongst us. I thank you all for the very cordial manner in which this toast has been received. I have now a toast to propose which I call the toast of the evening, and that is the health of the Installing Master, and those brethren who assisted him. Now we all know how difficult it must be to get away from those manifold duties that they are so constantly occupied with, and we are much indebted to them for expressing their willingness to come and perform the ceremony for us, the more so that though we desired to form a lodge, we were not people generally known. We have, by their good offices been formed into a lodge, and I can assure them that we will do our best to merit their approval. The little knowledge we have we shall strive to increase, we shall strive to advance the tenets of Freemasonry. I think that is the feeling of every one of our members. We wish to be corrected when we are wrong; but when we are doing well we certainly like to be patted on the back. I say, under these circumstances, we are very much obliged to Bro. Hervey, Bro. Little, Bro. Garratt, and Bro. Stephens. What the consecration and installation would have been without them I leave you to guess.

Bro. Hervey:—Worshipful Master and Brethren, Bro. Little has just said that I am the "coming man." I really thought that I was "come;" one does not know what one is, and I cannot understand how it is that people take a different view of one's position to oneself. However, I wish that people would take a different view of my position because I feel it is rather a solemn one. I am very much obliged to you for proposing the health of myself and the brethren who have assisted me to bring this lodge into being, and feel very much gratified that what we have done has met with the approval of the brethren. We are gratified with the very kind and cordial feeling expressed at the table; we thank you most cordially from the bottom of our hearts.

The health of the visitors was then proposed by the W.M., and responded to by Bro. Dwarber, Bro. Stephens, Bro. Garratt, and Bro. Storey.

The health of the Officers was then proposed from the Chair, and responded to by the J.W.

"Success to the Masonic Charities" was then proposed from the Chair, coupled with the name of Bro. Robert Wentworth Little, the Secretary of the Girls' School, who replied in a very able speech, which we regret that our limited space will not admit of reporting verbatim. He said that if he were addressing a lodge of novices he might be tempted to dwell upon the past and present history of the Craft, and following those who had preceded him, refer to events that had recently passed. They might congratulate themselves that they had at their head the future head of this great country; but the universal Craft was not dependent upon the Prince of Wales, nor upon any lord, however influential; but the principles of Freemasonry were the main basis upon which they relied, and to which they must look for future success, intimately connected with which were the Masonic Charities. No man could point the finger of scorn at Freemasonry so long as their great charities existed. The principles of Freemasonry culminated in the one word "charity," and he trusted that the lodge, of which Bro. Willing was the First Master, would never forget that they were based upon that principle, and must forward it to the best of their power.

"The Press" was then proposed by the W.M., which was briefly responded to by Bro. Massey, after which followed the Tyler's Toast, and the brethren separated, after a meeting which cannot be described otherwise than as eminently successful.

Obituary.

BRO. W. D. MOORE.

We regret to announce the death of Bro. William Dennis Moore, Town Clerk of Exeter, who died on the 22nd ult., at Penzance, in his seventieth year, surviving his wife only one month.

Bro. Moore was a distinguished Freemason as well as a distinguished volunteer officer and citizen. He occupied the position of Deputy Provincial Grand Master of Devon in the years 1866-7, and was present at the Grand Masonic Demonstration in honour of the Prince of Wales at Plymouth last month. He was initiated into Masonry in 1829, and filled the various minor offices. He acted as Provincial Grand Secretary in the year of his initiation, and continued to act in the same capacity until the latter part of 1866, when he was installed D.P.G.M. His valuable services as Provincial Grand Secretary were twice the subject of substantial marks of recognition by the Province—first, in 1856, by the presentation of a beautiful silver salver and flagon, weighing together nearly 200 ozs., and again in 1866, by a testimonial consisting of the full paraphernalia of his rank, including the jewel of D.P.G.M. in solid gold.

The Marquis of Ripon, late Grand Master, has sent his resignation to Lodge of Truth, 521, Huddersfield, this being the Lodge in which he was initiated.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Physical strength is a life-essential to health in the present day; a healthy man is a portion of the national wealth, a confirmed invalid a loss to society. Weigh well these words. For the proper development and nourishment of the human body, it is essential that the functions of the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels be performed with order and regularity. Holloway's remedies readily ensure both. The powers of the stomach are greatly augmented, and good gastric juice secreted in abundance where this ointment is diligently rubbed twice a day over the pit of the stomach. The Pills and Ointment enable it to extract all the food's nutritive matter, and to thoroughly digest most articles of diet.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI each ...	15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early mails.

The price of the Freemason is Two-pence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance). All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 145, Fleet-street, E.C.

The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY, FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY.

Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"The edition we are now considering is a second English edition, which had the great advantage of Bro. D. M. Lyon's able superintendence and editorship in its English dress. There can be no doubt but, that so far, Bro. Findel's work is the most complete work on Freemasonry which has yet appeared, and that he deserves the greatest credit for his careful and accurate treatment of all evidence on the subject, and for his honest desire after truth. Bro. Findel gives up in the view he has so clearly and consistently put forth our early Masonic history, the older theory of the Roman Colleges, &c., and limits the origin of Freemasonry to about the twelfth century, and as then arising from the operative Masons, and specially the "Steinmetzen" and "Bauhütten" of Germany. Bro. Findel gives us a good deal of evidence on this head, and one thing is clear from his work, that the German Freemasons were, at a very early period, organized into lodges with a Master over them, and with outward regulations and inner ceremonies peculiar to the Craft. Bro. Findel rejects all the views which have been from time to time put forward of a Templar or a Rosicrucian origin. Whether or no Bro. Findel's theory of the date of the rise of Freemasonry be correct, matters very little: we do not ourselves profess to accept it; but this we can fairly say of Bro. Findel's work, it is marked from first to last by the most remarkable token of industry, ability, and care, of patient research, and of skilful criticism. We know of no work which so clearly sets before us our amount of knowledge up to the present time on the great question of Masonic Archaeology, and there can be little doubt that what Preston's work is to English Freemasonry, Findel's work is to cosmopolitan Freemasonry. Indeed no student in Masonry can now dispense with it, and it is a perfect storehouse both of Masonic evidence and Masonic illustrations. We earnestly recommend all the lodges in this country to obtain a copy for the lodge library before the work is bought up for America; and we believe that no Mason will rise from the perusal of its pages without a higher idea both of the historical truth and intrinsic value of Freemasonry, and of fraternal regard and recognition to the latest and not the least well-informed or effective of our Masonic historians. The present century has produced no such equal, in authority and usefulness, to the great work of our Bro. Findel, and we wish him and it, in all of fraternal sympathy and kindly intent, many earnest readers, and more grateful students."—The Masonic Magazine.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence. Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.

Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Second Edition, Now Ready, 1/6.

A MASONIC MUSICAL SERVICE

In the key of C, for A., T., T., B.

- Opening and Closing Odes.
- Craft Ceremonies.
- Royal Arch Ceremony.
- Consecration Ceremony.
- Grace before and after Meat.

COMPOSED BY DR. J. C. BAKER, NO. 241.

LONDON.—Geo. Kenning, 198, Fleet-street; and 1, 2, and 3, Little Britain.

LIVERPOOL.—Geo. Kenning, 2, Monument-place.

MANCHESTER.—E. Henry & Co., 59, Deansgate.

DUBLIN.—C. Hedgeclong, 26, Grafton-street.

GLASGOW.—Geo. Kenning, 145, Argyle-street.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

REMITTANCES RECEIVED.

	£	s	d
Dr. Saure, Cassel, Germany	7	10	0
Leworthy, R., Sydney, New South Wales, P.O.O. ..	1	10	0
Revell, W. H., Greymouth, New Zealand, P.O.O. ..	1	10	0
Hoffman Van Hove, Rotterdam	0	16	3
Armstrong, R. B., Young, New South Wales, P.O.O. ..	0	12	0
Watkins, James, Hamilton, Bermuda	0	12	0
T. C. Beaufortmore, Adamwaham, E. Indies, P.O.O. ..	0	10	0

ERRATA.—In our last, in the report of the meeting of the P.G.L. of Renfrewshire East, the name of the new J. W. was omitted. It is Bro. J. D. Porteous, R.W.M. of 541 and P.M. of 360; further on in the same report his name is erroneously spelt Proctor instead of Porteous.

The following stand over.—Communications from J.H.W.; J.O.; W.L.A.; W.D.; H.L.; G.C.; R.W.; W.C.; and W.G. Reports of Prov. Grand Lodge of Cumberland; Lodges 1101, Reading; 360, Glasgow; Chapter 1, Edinburgh; Royal Arch Mariners' Lodge, Bolton; St. John's Mark Lodge, Bolton; Supreme Council of Scotland.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1874.

OUR ROYAL GRAND MASTER.

WE congratulate the Craft everywhere on the acceptance by our Royal Brother, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, of the high office of Grand Master of English Freemasonry. This intelligence, which was communicated officially by the Grand Secretary to the press and the Order on Saturday, will be hailed with pleasure by our entire brotherhood. It is a fact in itself which must be a matter of sincere congratulation to all who belong to our English Craft. Popular as our Royal Brother ever has been, and ever will be, by his many genial qualities and kindly sympathies, he has manifested himself, on more than one occasion, a warm and zealous Freemason. Some of us will remember a speech he made at Dublin,—and he has repeated since then his hearty attachment and earnest goodwill to the Craft. So we feel we are warranted in expressing the hopes of our Order, that, this acceptance of temporary office may be but the beginning of a long and happy connection, and official and fraternal relationship between our Grand Master and the entire Order. As Freemasons are habitually and emphatically loyal, they will rejoice to think that not only the Heir Apparent to the Throne, but the Son of their Sovereign and Grandson of their Royal Brother the Duke of Kent, has accepted the "Curule Chair" in the Grand Lodge of that great institution, which since 1813, has nearly trebled the number of its lodges and members. If in the last few weeks, since Lord Ripon's hurried resignation, our good English Fraternity has been alike depressed and perplexed, with memories of the past, and anticipations for the future, henceforth, all fears and doubts are at an end, and the announcement we make to-day, while it smooths and soothes the entire pathway and the abiding excitement of Freemasonry, will be greeted by our widespread organization with every feeling that loyalty can suggest and gratification can supply. We shall find in this welcome intelligence too, we are disposed to think the best answer to many heated and irrational adversaries, whose arguments and whose language against our peaceable and tolerant Order are alike most illogical and unjustifiable. For at a time when we have been officially accused, in long-winded manifestoes, and in lugubrious allocutions of grief and grievances, by the authorities of one special religious body, of being "socialists," "revolutionists," "conspirators," and what not besides, the Heir Apparent to the English Throne does not hesitate graciously to cast in his lot with us, and avows himself willing, as our laws provide, to assume the Grand Mastership of our inculcated Fraternity. May all peace and prosperity accompany his Royal Rule of our Craft, and may we all rally round him in these hours of doubt and depression, as faithful and true-hearted brethren, gladly recognizing his love for our Order in this his ready acceptance of his constitutional position, and unanimately hailing his auspicious advent to the throne of English Freemasonry.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC PRESS AND LORD RIPON.

We are indebted to our contemporary, the Derby Mercury, for the reprint of a portion of the last utterance on the subject of Freemasonry of our old antagonist the Westminster Gazette and a very choice specimen it is, alike of the rowdy language and vulgarity of thought and feeling, in which that habitual offender sees fit often to indulge. Of course, such a fact as Lord Ripon's resignation was, as they say "not to that truly Christian journal, which, if represents, bona fide, the taste and temper of the Roman Catholic Church in this country, can only add, we are heartily sorry for the Roman Catholic Church. The article is entitled, it seems, "Freemasonry de Profundis" (one feels the poetic language and witicism the writer forcibly), and it is of course highly complimentary to Lord Ripon, and highly precipitatory of Freemasonry. Like our contemporary, we think well to print this striking portion of a very original leader, feeling how much credit it does to the mind of him who imagined it, and, like our contemporary, we so mainly for the amusement of the brethren. But we confess our merriment is accompanied with regret, deep regret, that we should have record such an event in our pages. Let us hear what this well instructed scribe says. Alluded to Lord Ripon's resignation he thus hurls forth:—

The event is, in more ways than one, a knock down blow to that immoral and irreligious institution whose pernicious influences we had no unfrequent occasion to denounce. The principal morning papers, evidently favorable to Freemasonry, has no better eulogy give than stating that it is "harmless and kindly." In point of fact, it is neither that an advocate can say no more of its nature, that its case, even among its friends, is so decided. The great crown of its merit is its puerility—and there is no other merit in its nature.

us than that which selects Freemasonry for a sphere of action—is impotently gnashing its teeth at the loss of so important a decoy-duck to their late Grand Master. It is astonishing, indeed, that a Peer of England, and a statesman of true and tried capacity, should, in this nineteenth century, so far demean himself as to assume the cap, bells, and motley of a Freemason; that he should do such violence to his reading and learning as to support, by his presence and influence, an imposture which would not deceive the village schoolmaster of the olden time; and, by taking part in its blasphemous proceedings, outrage at once the faith, however feeble, of a Christian, and the instincts, however dim, of a gentleman. Protestantism, in its so-called liberality, however, permits all this, and more; and it is only when the English Saul, by conversion to Catholicism, becomes in deed and thought a Paul, that the enormity of such an anomaly becomes vitally apparent. It is a favourite pastime with the Radical press writers to pit the weight and moral strength of Freemasonry against those of Catholicism. The two influences are, indeed, antagonistic, inasmuch as the one is the religion of light and love, while the other is the Craft of the Evil One. When Freemasons persuade a dignitary of the Catholic Church to accept the honours now repudiated by the archbishops of Ripon we will give them leave to press their joy and exultation in the most wild terms. In the meantime, they must admit lens volens, that their ignoble institution has received a slight, and a blow of the most mortifying and serious character.

Fine writing all this, "my masters," but what does it all amount to? Lord Ripon has renounced the Romish Church and renounced Freemasonry. Voila tout! We may all of us deplore the loss of a valued friend, or regret the absence of a gallant leader. We may grieve to think that one who once loved our Craft so much, and ruled it so well, should have so unexpectedly and hurriedly wished us a "long farewell;" but we do not see that anything else can be the "outcome" of an act over which the Roman Catholic Church has been shouting in such jubilant strains. Freemasonry itself not changed or affected in the slightest degree by Lord Ripon's resignation and confession. Freemasonry is still exactly where it is; and what it was, governed by its own good sense, proceeding on its own tolerant course, and either weakened by Lord Ripon's surrender of his high office, nor intimidated by the menaces, nor wayed by the exultations of the Church of Rome. One foolish person talks, we see, of the Freemasons being "persecutors of the Roman Catholic Church." And another, equally charitable and veracious, talks of Freemasonry being the craft of the Evil One.' We presume this remark is intended as a joke, and is meant to be like the Roman alliteration by the use of the word "craft." We feel sure Freemasons will appreciate this exuberant wit. The simple truth of the above extract is as nice a specimen of a Roman Catholic "Billingsgate," "pur et simple," as we have for some time seen. It is, perhaps, as well that we do not print the whole article, as we are inclined to think, what we have already before our brethren is more than quite sufficient for them to be able to form a pretty correct estimate both of the truthfulness and good feeling of the writer. Certainly it does require a great amount—to use a slang word not common to-day—of "cheek" for a Roman Catholic to talk of Freemasons being "persecutors," and to dub our peaceful and benevolent the "Craft of the Evil One." We had always understood—but "one lives and learns," we admit—that, the "Craft of the Evil One" was shown forth in all those labours and works of confusion, hatred, cruelty, and evil, which fill our fair world with so many sad crimes, and leaves such mournful traces and disfigurements on the stained pages of humanity's eventful annals. When a person is brought up before a judge—for many of the serious crimes now common against the person or the laws of the realm—the old form of indictment runs that he or she does it "by the instigation of the devil." But it is something quite new to us to be told, that a society whose outward manifestations are ever marked by deeds of charity, philanthropy, and goodwill, can have anything to do with "the Father of Lies," and the tempter to "envy, hatred, malice, and all uncharitableness," to dreadful sinfulness, and to hateful criminality. We are somewhat anxious to know what the writer in the Westminster Gazette really considers to be the "Craft of the Evil One." As far as we can make out his peculiar logic, it is, because Freemasonry is somehow, as he fancies, hostile to the Church of Rome. Freemasonry cares nothing for the Church of Rome, has nothing to do with her; and if the Church of Rome would only leave Freemasonry alone, she may communicate "with bell, book, and candle" as many people as she pleases. We repeat, Freemasonry has nothing to do with religious bodies, or the soothing process of interdicts and excommunications "major" and "minor;" and reprobating persecutions of every kind for conscience sake, wishes to know as little about such hateful performances as possible. In this respect she is somewhat like the memorable "Jackdaw of Rheims," who according to his canonical chronicler was none the worse, but rather the better for the abbot's indignant maledictions. But one alarming feature in this controversy must force itself even on the attention of the most thoughtless. It is that love of persecution, that spirit of intolerance, which still lingers in the Church of Rome, and which would find vent, if it only could. When in our peaceful England, this good old tolerant land of ours, such are the violent expressions and unchristian sentiments of its leaders, its press, and its episcopal rulers, what need we wonder that in other countries Roman Catholic intolerance and persecution seem to be running riot just now? Yet the records of past ages give us sad proofs where this intolerant spirit has often led even good men to. What else fouded that "institutio detestabilis," the Inquisition? What else brought about the expulsion of the Jews from Spain, and their horrible treatment in the sacred name of religion? What caused the massacres of the "Neuvos Christianos," the auto-da-fes of Seville, Madrid, Lisbon, Goa, and numberless other places, black spots on the chronicle of time? What hurried on the massacre of the Huguenots on St. Bartholomew's Day? What degraded the reign of Queen Mary, in this country, with the tortures and deaths of numberless victims? What else has made human blood to flow and human life to perish, but this terrible and insatiable spirit of religious persecution? And if those dark days are over, and those execrable crimes can be no more repeated, it is very alarming to note that their unchanged spirit endures, if evidenced, happily only now by childish edicts and irrational anathemas.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

To "begin at the beginning," the account of the Masonic reception of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at Plymouth, appeared in the Freemason for August 22nd, at p. 503, under the heading "The Royal Visit to Plymouth." In the report of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Devon, which was held at Stonehouse, (Plymouth), on the same day (the 14th August), the following occurs in the Freemason of same date, at p. 105: "Bro. Wood, P.M. 421, said there was a very strong feeling amongst some of our military brethren in consequence of their having been, for some reason or the other, prohibited from attending the procession of that day," &c., &c. "Bro. Colonel Elliott said he was in a position to state that the Order emanated from the Commander-in-Chief, and that it was in compliance with the Queen's Regulations, which prohibited non-commissioned officers from taking any part in public demonstrations." In the Freemason there also appeared an appreciative leader by you, in which the complaint is noted of the "Soldier Freemason," and in which you expressed the hope that it was "susceptible of friendly and fraternal explanation."

The "Soldier Freemason" states that "the executive of the Devon and Cornwall United Prov. G. Lodges may seek to escape deserved censure by throwing the onus on the Major-General Commanding, who actually did refuse to approve of our attendance at the demonstration, but, I am in a position to state positively, that, if we had not been completely ignored in the programme before alluded to, he would have unhesitatingly given his consent on this occasion." Your foot-note expressed "deep regret that any foolish Masonic red-tape should have hindered our soldier brethren from joining in the procession."

The Freemason for August 29th, contained another leader by you on the subject, in which you stated that the sooner, therefore, such a serious blunder is acknowledged, and rectified for the future, the better for all parties concerned, and strongly upheld the complaint of our military brethren; and from your most extensive experience of Masonic processions at home and abroad, a more able exponent of their claims could not be found. You also alluded to the remarks made by Bro. Colonel Elliott at the Prov. G. Lodge of Devon (the first time that excellent brother was alluded to by name in the Freemason, excepting in the report of the reception).

I also inserted a letter, stating that I understood the military brethren were prohibited from appearing in uniform, because it was found to be contrary to the Queen's Regulations, but I also stated such an interpretation had been unheard of before, and was quite contrary to Masonic custom.

In the Freemason for Sept. 5th, a short editorial notice was inserted, in which you wisely observed, "Before any clear opinion can be formed or conclusion come to, we must ascertain, what is the correct state of affairs." Then followed a temperate and evidently well considered letter by Bro. "Leo," who positively declares the "blame does not rest on the committee of management, but on the military authorities," and who furnishes us with most important facts which can doubtless be verified. Bro. "Leo," I hope, will not hesitate to enable you as Editor, to seek the proof for his statements, and thus ease the minds of our friends, the military brethren, whose exclusion on any other grounds than those explained by Bro. "Leo," would be most un-masonic and unmilitary, and yet it is on other grounds that Bro. Colonel Elliott defended the prohibition of brethren walking in the procession in uniform! Were the "Queen's Regulations" altered in respect to processions, since the public procession of the Prov. G. Lodge of Devon, which took place before the "Royal Reception," or is it one law for ordinary Masonic processions, and another for Royal receptions? Bro. "Leo," and the Editor of the Freemason say emphatically that the Queen's Regulations "do not bear upon the subject." Bro. Colonel Elliott is said to have declared at the Prov. G. Lodge of Devon, that it was in consequence of these regulations that the prohibition was declared! Who is right? Then a brother signing himself "P.G.D." states that it is "a distinct military offence to appear in a public Masonic procession in uniform." Who our brother is we know not, but as he takes the view propounded by Bro. Colonel Elliott, we must look upon him as opposed to Bro. Leo's explanation. It is strange however that he has only now mentioned the illegality of the military brethren appearing in uniform at Masonic processions, though he states the punishment for such an offence is "very heavy," he ought therefore to have warned our friends from their customary attendance at Masonic processions long before this, and thus assisted them in keeping the law, the columns of The Freemason being ever open to such kind and friendly communications. Bro. the Rev. Augustus A. Bagshawe, in a letter following "P.G.D." argues, we think fairly, from the explanation offered by Bro. Colonel Elliott at the Prov. Grand Lodge, for if the Commander-in-Chief did object to the procession, clearly no "Soldier Freemasons" should have attended. We think, Bro. Editor, you did not quite see the aim of Bro. Bagshawe's letter, or your note would not have been appended in opposition to this position.

"Another Soldier Freemason" also writes on the matter, and says, what is quite correct, that two military bands appeared in the procession (not as Masons) in uniform. He also asked me by whom I was informed as to the uniform being objected to, &c., which I did in the Freemason for Sept. 12th. "An Officer and a P.P.J.G.W." states that he travelled a long way to take part in the procession, and was disgusted to find his comrades in arms were excluded. He also affirms that he "with others, endeavoured to get the prohibition cancelled," thereby agreeing with Bro. "Leo," and proving it was a military act, which the Committee felt bound to accept. In the Freemason for Sept. 12th, were three letters on the subject. The first from "C.M. 1205," is an agreement with "Soldier Freemason," but evidently believes the prohibition originated with the Committee for the procession (i.e., a sub-committee, notwithstanding the plain statement of Bro. "Leo." Bro. "C.M." considers that Bro. Col. Elliott alluded to the "Major General commanding," in his remarks at the Prov. G.L., and not to the Commander-in-Chief; and if he is correct, and the report of the meeting is wrong, then Bro. Col. Elliott and "Leo" agree that the prohibition emanated from the "Major General commanding." This, however, does not prove that the Queen's Regulations forbid such brethren, as soldiers, appearing in processions, but only that the officer in command has the power to prevent them doing so, which, of course, we all know. The second letter was from me in continuation of the former one, and in response to "Another Soldier Freemason," and the third was from Bro. J. Stroud Short, P.M. 1443, who, like others did, noticed there were brethren in uniform in the hall at the "Masonic reception."

The Freemason for September 19th contains a letter from Bro. Col. Elliott, one from "C.B.," and another from "A Devonshire Mason." Bro. "C.B.'s" letter is written in a most fraternal spirit, but evidently in the belief that the "Queen's Regulations" were averse to the military brethren appearing in our procession in uniform, or in fact at all. The third letter supports Bro. "Leo's" view of the matter, and quotes from the programmes of the Prov. G. L. of Devon, in which special provision is made for the attendance of naval and military officers in uniform.

In the Freemason for Sep. 26th, several more letters were inserted, proving how absurd it would have been to attempt to smother the discussion, and how wise has been your decision as Editor to have the matter fully ventilated. Bro. "Emeritus" speaks of a letter being sent to the Committee by the military brethren asking for permission to walk in the procession, and that no answer was returned. If so, it must have been forwarded to the sub-committee which was virtually the Committee; for the special Committee of six, appointed by the Prov. Grand Masters, had but little to do with the arrangements, a capital working sub-Committee having undertaken the necessary labour of making the necessary regulations, &c., so we found in attending what we supposed was the first meeting of the Joint Committee. "A Soldier Freemason and a Past Master" states that the Prov. G. Dir. of Cers. was asked if the military brethren would be allowed to enter the Hall, and the answer returned was "No." We do not know by whose authority such an answer was returned.

Bro. J. Edward Curteis, W.M. 189, also writes on the subject, and being an active member of the sub-Committee, to whom it appears the arrangements were entrusted, his communication is certainly semi-official. Bro. Curteis thinks I am in error about Bro. Col. Elliott, relative to the military exclusion; but I distinctly remember that brother remarking as to the improbability of the consent being obtained for the brethren to appear in uniform, and there the matter rested, which was at the only meeting I attended, [the first, we believe,] excepting a call at another for a few minutes to ask a question. We attended every one we had notice of, and that was one; and as we understood the arrangements were left to the sub-Committee, we had no doubt of the success of the Masonic reception, and, in fact troubled no more about the matter.

Bro. Curteis in the clearest manner states that the regulations as to the clothing were not made to secure the exclusion of the military brethren, but to provide uniformity of dress amongst the civilians. He also states that the order prohibiting the military brethren from appearing in uniform, emanated from the "General commanding the district." Bro. Curteis, however, considers the "General's views were wrong," yet as he observes the Committee could not do otherwise in the face of an order averse to the military brethren taking part in the procession. The testimony of the majority, and of those who ought to know something about the matter, unite to prove the regulation in question had its origin in a military order.

Now we come to Bro. Col. Elliott's two letters. The first states that no General has the power to grant permission to non-commissioned officers to wear "plain clothes," but only to officers in his district, so accordingly the military brethren must either have appeared in uniform or not at all. Also that the Committee had no doubt but that permission would be given to the military brethren to appear in uniform in the procession. The writer sent the communication to the Freemason because he had had his attention drawn to the various articles and letters in that paper, but he made no complaint as to the mention of his name in them, and did not then appear to have discovered that his statement in the Prov. G. Lodge was a "privileged communication," as he subsequently described it, though it appeared in the Western Daily Mercury the next day, and was subsequently inserted in the Freemason, after which Leo, and others, including myself, alluded to it. The next letter states what I have already mentioned about the probability of the request of the military brethren being refused, and when coupled with Bro. Col. Elliott's explanation, made in the Prov. G. L., clearly proves the fact that they were prohibited by somebody. Bro. Col. Elliott also makes the important statement that our excellent Bro. Captain Shanks, who came from Greenock to attend the Masonic procession, told him that the "permission had been refused" for the military brethren to attend in uniform (non-commissioned officers).

Bro. Col. Elliott appears to consider "that as he is an officer in full pay," the statement made by him in the Prov. G. L. was a "privileged communication," because of the Queen's Regulation, Sec. 6. If so it is surprising to me he did not mention that fact in his former letter, and also it is equally surprising he did not intimate as much in the Prov. G. L. of Devon before the hundreds assembled, especially as he knows as well as I do, that reports of such meetings are always printed in the local papers the next day, and, if of sufficient importance, appear in the Freemason the same week. Thanking Bro. Col. Elliott for his letters, as they inform us that Bro. Captain Shanks can throw some light on the subject, we hope now the whole question will be cleared up, and the Committee absolved from blame. I assure Bro. Col. Elliott, that had his statement been considered private, or said to have been so, no one would have mentioned his communication. We now await the article by you as a finale.

W. J. HUGHAN.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Will you allow me a few additional words in relation to the now much-vexed question of the exclusion of our military brethren from the Masonic procession at Plymouth, although I fear that no amount of newspaper correspondence will satisfactorily settle the question as it ought to be settled. But to my mind, Bro. Hughan's last letter throws a flood of light upon the subject. I have had frequent communications with some of the principal members of the committee, on whom devolved the carrying out of the arrangements connected with the demonstration, and their explanation has invariably been to the effect that the committee couldn't help themselves; that they applied to the Major-General Commanding, and that he refused to allow the military brethren to walk in the procession. I have already pointed out that this is irreconcilable with the presence of two military bands on the occasion. But what does Bro. Hughan now tell us? Why, "that we," (that is, the committee) "left the military part of the programme in the hands of Col. Elliott, and his report was adverse to the claims of our military brethren to walk in uniform. We were told as a committee by Colonel Elliott, that non-commissioned officers would not be allowed to walk in the procession in uniform, and so we had no option in the matter." So far, so good. But now comes the question, the answer to which would have settled the whole dispute. Did Bro. Colonel Elliott make that report to the committee on his own responsibility, (as is generally and openly alleged by many of our military brethren in the three towns), or as the result of any communication which he might have had with the Major-General Commanding? If the latter, our soldier brethren can of course, have no cause of complaint. They are in duty bound to submit. But if Col. Elliott acted on his own responsibility, and without consultation with the General Commanding, he did what he had no right to do, and the victims of his ill-timed interference have a right to ask for an explanation? He has had the opportunity, but he neglects to avail himself of it. Writing to the Freemason last week, he says, "It would be a military offence for an officer, a non-commissioned officer, or private soldier, to appear in a procession with Masonic regalia worn over his uniform, unless previous permission had been obtained for his so appearing. Such permission had been accorded to the military on former occasions, and the committee had no doubt that the same indulgence would have been extended on the occasion referred to." Aye! there's the rub. Has Col. Elliott ventured to say—does he now venture to say that the General Commanding refused the indulgence when applied to? Does he even pretend to say that any application was made to the General at all? No. On the contrary. He—it seems to me—purposely avoids that which is the crucial point in the whole question; for after saying the committee had no doubt "the same indulgence would have been extended," &c., he concludes with the remark that the absence of our military brethren was universally regretted. I do not pretend to know whether Colonel Elliott applied to the General or not, but it is impossible to believe that the General would have refused his sanction upon such an occasion, if the application had been made to him. I appeal to Col. Elliott to clear up the difficulty—for it is in his power alone to do so.

ve all unpleasantness, by answering the quesfairly and straightforwardly—did he or did not communicate with the General, and did General refuse to allow the military brethren walk in the procession? Perhaps if Colonel ott is informed that he has the credit of hav-himself excluded the brethren, he will give explanation more readily. Will he also ex-why it was that they were positively refused e into the hall, after a distinct understand-e that they should be admitted on presenting selves at the doors. Look at the matter as will, in the absence of any satisfactory ex-ation, I fear only one conclusion can be e to, viz., that from the very first there was termination to exclude our military brothers all part in the demonstration.
ince writing the above I have seen the letters Bro. Col. Elliott and J. E. Curteis, and they only are rather remarkable productions. In vious communication, Bro. Hughan made ppel to Colonel Elliott to clear up the er by stating to whom he made his applica-and what the result of it was. What wed? Why, protestations from several spondents, Col. Elliott included, that, as a er, the gallant Colonel was prohibited by Queen's Regulations from making known had transpired. Under these circum-es no one, of course, had any right to ex-
Col. Elliott to commit a breach of disci-and he was justified, supposing that there een any communication between him and General, in refusing to make it known.
defence in such a case, made by himself, by his friends on his behalf, was a good but after all these anxious efforts to shelter behind the Queen's Regulations, it is now
d by Bro. Col. Elliott's own admission, nder no circumstances whatever could he been guilty of the slightest violation of ry law, simply because there was positively ng to reveal. He made no application to General, and, therefore, received no refusal.
are his own words. But this is not all.
s great desire to act as the champion of el Elliott, Bro. Curteis, as it appears to me, umbled headlong into a pit of his own
ig. When individuals undertake to stand h other in a difficulty they should take o be agreed as to the facts, and to make elves correctly acquainted with the cir-ances of the case. I fear Bro. Curteis has oked this. Bro. Hughan has informed us e Committee left the military part of the ame to Col. Elliott, but Bro. Curteis has rdhood to do that which Bro. Elliott does mself venture to do, viz., to take exception o Hughan's statement. Again, Colonel y, replying to Bro. Hughan, says he made plication to the General, and could not, re, have been met with a negative. It is ended that anyone else went to the al, and yet Mr. Curteis, above all others, is to know that the General "had an idea in ad" that the Masonic procession came the Queen's Regulations. It is unit to say so, but I cannot help thinking e wish was father to the thought. Why the General go out of his way to volunteer nion upon a matter on which he was onsulted? Perhaps Bro. Curteis, who is ous for the truth, will explain these inconcies, and endeavour to extricate himself e "maze" into which he has so unwitwalked. I am afraid I cannot help him.
art from this, we may now take it as an sd fact that the General was not asked at his permission to allow the military n to walk in the procession, and I think ll agree with me, sir, that the sin of is quite as great as the, at first supposed, omission.

Give me to be, Dear Sir and Brother,
Yours fraternally,
C. M. 1205.

Constitution of the Provincial Grand Lodge k Masters Masons for Sussex, and the ion of Sir John Cordy Burrows as Pro-Grand Master of that county will take the Old Ship Hotel, Brighton, on Friday, ctober.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, October 9, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodges, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, October 3.

- General Committee Boys' School, at 4.
- Manchester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Grey, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Ash,
Preceptor.
- Lily Lodge of Instruction (820), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.
- Star Lodge of Instruction (1875), Marquis of Granby,
New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dilley, Preceptor.

Monday, October 5.

- Lodge 25, Robert Burns, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 69, Unity, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
- " 144, St. Luke's, Mason's Hall, Mason's Avenue,
Basinghall-street.
- " 188, Joppa, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.
- Chap. 28, Old King's Arms, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 1056, Victoria, Masons' Hall, Masons' Arms, Bas-singhall-street.
- Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (1445), Lord
Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, at 7;
Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.
- Strong Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Old Jerusalem
Tavern, St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell, at 8; Bro.
Beckett, Preceptor.
- Sincerity Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern
Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.
- Camden Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
- Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, Mile-end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Gotthel, Preceptor.
- British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friendship Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.
- St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street (opposite the Pantheon), Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. J. R. Stacey, Preceptor.
- Wellington Lodge of Instruction, White Swan Tavern,
Deptford, at 8; Bro. C. G. Dilley, P.M. 1155, Preceptor.
- West Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W.
Lindus, Preceptor.
- Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 323, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, October 6.

- Colonial Board, at 3.
- Lodge 7, Royal Oak, Lodge of Perseverance, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 101, Temple, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall street.
- " 172, Old Concord, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 217, Stability, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- " 765, St. James's, Bridge House Hotel, London-bridge.
- " 1257, Grosvenor, Caledonian Hotel, Adelphi.
- " 1359, Duke of Edinburgh, Cape of Good Hope Tavern, Commercial-road, E.
- " 1298, Royal Standard, Marquess Tavern, Canonbury.
- " 1510, Harrow, Railway Tavern, Harrow.
- " 1381, Kennington, Surrey Tavern, Kennington-oval.
- " 1412, La Iberia, Hill-road, St. John's Wood.
- Chap. 169, Temperance, White Swan Tavern, Deptford.
- Yarborough Lodge of Instruction (554), Green Dragon, Stepney, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor.
- Domestic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Larham, Preceptor.
- Faith Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8;
Bro. C. A. Cotebrune, Preceptor.
- Prince Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8;
Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor.
- Dalhousie Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.
- Prosperity Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M.
1277, Preceptor.
- St. Marylebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stores
Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wood, at 8; Bro. T.
A. Adams, Preceptor.
- Constitutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheatheaf
Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey
P.M. 180, Preceptor.
- Percy Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W.
- Pythagorean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.
- Israel Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road,
at 7.30.

Wednesday, October 7.

- Lodge 511, Zetland, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- " 1491, Athenaeum, Camden-road, Holloway.
- New Concord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.
- Royal Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A.
Adams, Preceptor.
- Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Ab-church-lane, at 7.30.
- Peckham Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Peckham, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.
- Temperance in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the Fourth, Catherine-street, Poplar.

- Stanhope Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, a 7.30 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
- Finsbury Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters-road, N., at 8. Bro. P.
Dickinson, Acting Preceptor.
- United Strength Lodge of Instruction (218), the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, Kentish-town, at 8;
Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
- Southwark Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park
Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William Kent, Preceptor.
- Dalston Lodge of Instruction (975), Havelock Tavern
Albion-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, October 8.

- Lodge 206, Friendship, Ship and Turtle Tavern, Leadenhall-street.
- " 860, Dalhousie, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- " 879, Southwark, Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark-park.
- " 1076, Capper, Marine Hotel, Pier Dock, West Ham.
- " 1216, MacDonald, Head Quarters 1st Surrey Volunteer Corps, Flodden-road, Camberwell.
- Chap. 73, Mount Lebanon, Bridge House Hotel, London Bridge.
- " 140, St. George's, Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.
- " 637, Canonbury, Masons' Hall, Masons' Avenue,
Basinghall-street.
- Fidelity Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-st., Tottenham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
- Finsbury Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers' Tavern, Bath-street, City-road; Bro. Stean, Preceptor.
- United Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
- Whittington Lodge of Instruction (862), Crown Tavern,
Holborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 188,
Preceptor.
- Doric Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
- Ebury Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 12, Ponsonbyst., Millbank.
- Highgate Lodge of Instruction (1366), Bull and Gate, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
- The Great City Lodge of Instruction (1226), 111, Cheapside, at 6.30.

Friday, October 9.

- Lodge 177, Domestic, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- " 1420, Earl Spencer, Freemasons' Hotel, New Wandsworth.
- Chap. 33, Britannic, Freemasons' Tavern.
- K. T. Preceptory, D. Mount Calvary, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
- St. George's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe
Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.
- Robert Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Regent-st., at 8.
- Belgrave Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354, Strand, at 8; Bro. Pulsford, Preceptor.
- Panmure Lodge of Instruction (720), Balham Hotel, Balham, at 7.30.
- Unions Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s, Freemasons' Hall, a 7.
- Temperance Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern,
Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.
- Clapton Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, at 7.30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor.
- Royal Standard Lodge of Instruction (1295), the Castle
Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Precep.
Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.
- Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
- Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.
- United Pilgrims Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern,
Lorn-road, Brixton, at 7.
- St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.
- Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Potts, Preceptor.
- Doric Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.
- Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.
- St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Rose Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.
- Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.
- High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses
High-road, Tottenham.
- Burdett Coult's Lodge of Instruction (1278), Approach
Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo.
W. Verry, Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE.

For the Week ending Saturday, October 10, 1874.

Monday, October 5.

- Lodge 113, Unanimity, Bull Hotel Assembly Rooms, Preston.
- " 1051, Rowley, Masonic Rooms, Lancaster.
- " 1380, Skelmersdale, Queen's Hotel, Waterloo, near
Liverpool, at 6.

Chap. 605, De Tabley, Seacombe Hotel, Seacombe, at 6.
Skelmersdale Red Cross Conclave, 77, Masonic Hall,
Liverpool, at 6.30.
Everton Lodge of Instruction (823), Masonic Temple,
Liverpool, at 7.30.

Tuesday, October 6.

Lodge 995, Furness, Masonic Temple, Ulverstone.
" 1476, Blackpool, Clifton Arms Hotel, Blackpool.
Chap. 203, St. John of Jerusalem, Masonic Temple,
Liverpool, at 6.
Mark Lodge, No. 16, Walton, Masonic Hall, Kirkdale, Liverpool.
Merchants' Lodge of Instruction (241), Masonic Temple,
Liverpool, at 6.

Wednesday, October 7.

Lodge 673, St. John's, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.30.
" 730, Ellesmere, Royal Oak Hotel, Chorley.
" 1013, Royal Victoria, Masonic Temple, Liverpool,
at 6.
Lodge 1061, Triumph, Masonic Hall, Lytham, at 7.
" 1413, West Lancashire, Commercial Hotel, Orms-kirk, at 6.
" 1335, Lindsay, 20, King-street, Wigan.
" 1354, Marquis of Lorne, Masonic Hall, Leigh.
Chap. 477, Fidelity, 55, Argyle-street, Birkenhead.
De Grey and Ripon Lodge of Instruction (1356), 80,
North Hill-street, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 7.30.
Harmonic Lodge of Instruction (216), Mona Hotel,
James-street, Liverpool, at 8.

Thursday, October 8.

Lodge 116, Harmonic, Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool, at 5.
" 786, Croxeth United Service, Masonic Temple,
Liverpool, at 6.
" 1035, Prince of Wales, Masonic Hall, Kirkdale,
at 6.
" 333, Royal Preston, Victoria Garrison Hotel, Ful-wood, near Preston.
" 1213, Bridgewater, Cross Keys Hotel, Patricroft, near Manchester.
Mariners' Lodge of Instruction (249), Masonic Temple,
Liverpool, at 8.
Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction (1182), 150,
Park-lane, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 7.

Friday, October 9.

Lodge 155, Perseverance, Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.
" 1289, Rock, Rock Ferry Hotel, Rock Ferry, at 7.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, October 10, 1874.
All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, October 5.

Lodge 332, Union, 170, Buchanan-street.
Chap. 119, Rosslyn, Freemasons' Hall, 25, Robertson-street.
" 551, Clydesdale, Sibbald Hotel, Larkhall.

Tuesday, October 6.

Lodge 31, St. John, St. John's Hall, Buchanan-st.
" 73, Caledonian Unity, 170, Buchanan-street.
" 87, Thistle, 12, Trongate.
" 441, Glasgow, 22, Struthers-street.
" 68, Doric, 44, Church-street, Port Glasgow.
" 177, St. James, Masons' Hall, Coatbridge.
" 233, Hamilton, Spalding's Hotel, Hamilton.
" 406, St. John, Masonic Hall, Motherwell.

Wednesday, October 7.

Lodge 4, Kilwinning, 170, Buchanan-street.
" 128, St. John Shettleston, Freemasons' Hall, Shettleston.
" 117, St. Mary, Freemasons' Hall, Partick.
" 354, Caledonian Railway, 213, Buchanan-st.
" 198, Maybole, Royal Arch, Maybole.
" 331, St. Peter's, Fortland-street, Galston.
" 443, St. Thomas, Delmington, Eglinton Hotel.
" 21, Old St. John's, Freemasons' Hall, Lanark.
" 126, St. Andrew, George Hotel, Kilmarnock.
" 166, St. John, 29, Gramic-street, Airdrie.

Thursday, October 8.

Lodge 88, New Monkland, Montrose, Town Hall Airdrie.
" 109, St. Marnock's, Crown Hotel, Kilmarnock.
Chap. 50, Glasgow, 213, Buchanan-street.

Friday, October 9.

Lodge 18, Kilwinning, Mission Hall, Dumbarton.
" 170, St. John's, Public Hall, Alexandria.
" 427, St. Clair, Masonic Hall, Cambusnethan.
Chap. 144, St. Rollox, Freemasons' Hall, Garngad-road,

Saturday, October 10.

Lodge 28, St. John's, Black Bull Inn, Kirkintilloch.
" 305, St. John, Woodhall, Freemasons' Hall, Holy-town.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,

9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT:

May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
Laid in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,024 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury,
Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.
Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.
London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

MONEY, TIME AND LIFE

ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF

ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.

Provide against these losses by a Policy of the Railway Passengers' Assurance Company

AGAINST ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS.

The oldest and largest ACCIDENTAL ASSURANCE COMPANY

HON. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.

Paid-up Capital & Reserve Fund £140,000
ANNUAL INCOME, £160,000.

£810,000 have been paid as Compensation.

Bonus allowed to Insurers of Five Years' standing.

Apply to the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents,
64, CORNHILL, and 10, REGENT STREET, LONDON.

WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.

General Accidents. Personal Injuries.

Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.

C. HARDING, Manager.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent, repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,

Bro. J. CRACKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

Ayrshire Masonic Bursary.

The Provincial Grand Lodge of Ayrshire intend to offer a Bursary of not less than £20 annually, tenable for four years, for competition among the SONS OF AYRSHIRE FREEMASONS entering the Arts Classes at Glasgow University in the ensuing session.

Further information will be given by the Rev. Alex. Inglis, Kilmaurs; or Mr. Robert Wylie, Kilwinning—with either of whom applications, with certificates of character and attainments, must be lodged not later than 20th October next. Kilwinning, 15th August, 1874.

TO DRAPERS, &c.—A Person of long experience in the Drapery business wishes a situation for Abroad. Address—David Quigley, 5, Gloucester-road, South Kensington.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/ also a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BAZEN, M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary.

OCTOBER ELECTION, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS:

The Vice-Presidents, Life Governors, and Subscribers, desirous to Vote in favour of

BEATRICE A. F. NEWMAN

No. 4 on the List, are respectfully requested to forward the proxies (after signature) to either Mr. J. R. Stebbing, Aldermoor House, Southampton, or Mr. J. R. Stebbing, Great W. chester-street, E.C.; or to Mr. J. R. Stebbing, Palmetto buildings, Bishopsgate-street, E.C.

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.) Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN. In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. BEAVES SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S NEW TRACING BOARDS Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR, Artist and Photographer. 11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW. Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH, LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH, PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for Cameo-Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon. The Studio is SPECIALLY adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN. 213, REGENT-STREET, W.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS, 335c, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE. Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 2s. 6d.; from 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, £1 5s.; second class, 18s. Warm, cold, shower, and douch baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hausemam, Jermy-street.

THE BIRKBECK Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION! How to Purchase a House for Two Guineas per Month, With Immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Month, With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to Invest Money with safety at 6 per cent Interest, Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK. All sums under £500 payable upon demand. Current accounts speed similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d. PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d. PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s. Reeves and Turner, 106, Strand, London.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundry, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

GOLD AND SILVER SHAVINGS FOR FIRE STOVE ORNAMENTS.

Gilt Plain ... 3/6 " Crimped ... 4/6 Silvered Plain ... 4/6 " Crimped ... 5/6 The above on 1, 2, and 4oz. reels, also in bags, 16s., 22s., 24s., and 30s. per gross bags. Manufactured by GEORGE KENNING, London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS. The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $5 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 198, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR'ACTE, A MUSICAL AND THEATRICAL REVIEW, Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

"THE FREEMASON" Supplied by T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C. South London Branch, 416, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station. Wholesale Publisher to the Trade

SWANSEA. Agent for "The Freemason." BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC and LIVER PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Dandelion, Turkey Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger. No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Costiveness, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and the most delicate may take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON'S SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success. In Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by THOMAS WILKINSON, 270, Regent Street, London, W. May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUINIDINE For the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, and Effects of MALARIA. An Unfailing Remedy. Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily took a small quantity, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, that thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Pint Bottles, Prepared only by THOMAS WILKINSON, 270, Regent Street, London, W. May be had of all leading Firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON'S BRONCHIO-THORACIC LOZENGES. Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience has fully justified their recommendation as the most speedy remedy in irritation of the Throat, Catarrhs, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers and vocalists they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and beautiful tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable Taste in Bottles of one uniform size.

YOUNG'S ARNICATED CORN and JUNIOR PLASTER is the best ever invented for giving immediate relief, and removing those painful excrescences. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for YOUNG'S.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT. WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS. It is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the MANUFACTURER, Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London. Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d., and 31s. 8d. Postage free. " of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. " of Unibelt Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly. NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c. The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARIOUS VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free. SPINAL MACHINES, LEG IRONS, And Every Description of Surgical Appliances. JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS and FITTINGS, Cornopans, Flutes, Drums, Violins, Organs, Harmoniums, Concertinas, Bows, Strings, Wire, Organ Pipes, Harmonium Needs, &c. Experienced Repairers. List for stamp. BRO. T. R. WILLIS, 29, Minories, London. Established 1847.

GEORGE REES MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London. GEORGE REES' GILT MOULDINGS, cheap in the Trade. GEORGE REES' 100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot. GEORGE REES' First-class ENGRAVING from 2s. each. GEORGE REES' CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices. 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR. Illustration of a man in a landscape. Text: CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR.

Opilates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which is at the root of the malady, modern medicine points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy. SELECT TESTIMONIAL. Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," &c., &c., has repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it relieves cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as the most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment of this disease. This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Croup, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. 6d., by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough. * * * In valids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE. TRADE MARK—"BLOOD MIXTURE" THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORATIVE. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, can be too highly recommended. For Scrofula, Scoury, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, a never-failing and permanent cure. It Cures old Sores. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Face. Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face. Cures Scoury Sores. Cures Cancerous Ulcers. Cures Blood and Skin Diseases. Cures Glandular Swellings. Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, from whatever cause arising. As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either the male or female sex, it is given to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of Testimonials are given to give it a trial to test its value. Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 6d. or 13s. stamps by F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln. Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPECTACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision by Mr. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horse and Thornhill Opticians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contain valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET Try Anthony Scard's new material! Peculiarly Prepared for Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, comes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable leather superlative specialite. 8, Row Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies skillfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

Just published, Free Edition, GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, TENDR, AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all Disorders of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power. By DR. HENRY SMITH. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening of the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Age, Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Injuries of Old Age. Illustrated with Testimonials, with a full list of names on next page. The pamphlet will be sent on receipt of two penny stamps. Address, Dr. H. Smith, 10, St. James's Place, London, W.

MASONIC BOOKS IN STOCK
AT Bro. KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS.

ENGLISH.

History of Freemasonry, 2nd Edition (Findel) ...	10/6
History of the Lodge of Edinburgh (Lyon) ...	31/6
Life of Constantine ...	5/0
Encyclopedia of Masonry and its Kindred Sciences (Mackey) ...	38/0
Sloane Manuscript (Woodford) ...	2/6
Masonic Gatherings, by Bro. G Taylor, P.M. ...	5/0
Reflected Rays of Light, 4th Edition (Garey) ...	1/0
Freemasonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle (Paton) ...	1/0
The Freemason, Vol. I. ...	4/6
" " Vol. II. ...	7/6
" " Vol. III, IV, & V. (each) ...	15/0
Red Cross Statutes, ...	1/6
Knight Templar Sermon (Ross) ...	6d.
S.G.C. Regulations ...	1/6
Royal Arch ...	2/6
G.L. Constitutions with Charge and E. A. Song... ..	2/0
Mark Constitutions ...	2/6
Statutes Convent General... ..	3/6 and 12/6
Craft, Mark, R.A., R.C., R. & K.T. Books
Grand Lodge Calendar ...	2/0
Lodge Bibles ...	15/0, 21/0, 42/0
Chapter Bibles ...	15/0, 21/0, 42/0
Laws of the Supreme G.C. of Scotland ...	3/0
The Israelites Found in the Anglo-Saxons ...	2/6
The Freemason (Weekly)... ..	2d.
The Masonic Magazine (Monthly) ...	6d.
Cosmopolitan Masonic Calendar, Diary (annually) ...	3/0

AMERICAN.

Masonic Trials, by H. M. Look ...	7/6
Sickel's Ahiman Rezon (cloth) ...	6/9
" Freemasons' Monitor (tucks) ...	6/9
R.A. Companion ...	4/6
Guide to the Chapter (cloth) ...	6/6
Manual of the Chapter ...	3/0
Book A. and A. Rite ...	22/9
R. and S. M. Council Monitor ...	4/5
Swedenborg Rite ...	6/0
Masonic Token (cloth gilt) ...	9/3
Macy's Manual E. Star ...	4/6
Simon's Book of the Commandery (tucks) ...	4/6
Origin of Masonry ...	4/6
Chase's Digest of Masonic Law ...	6/9
Pierson's Traditions ...	9/0
Signet of King Solomon ...	6/0
Rationale and Ethics (cloth) ...	6/9
Simon's Jurisprudence ...	6/9
Washington and Coopers (cloth) ...	11/3
Obituary Rites ...	1/9
Portal's Symbols (cloth) ...	4/6
Lockwood's Masonic Law ...	5/0
Webb's Monitor (tucks) ...	4/6
Drew's Handbook ...	4/6
Lawrence's Moral Design... ..	4/6
Woodruff's Masonic Code ...	3/0
Lights and Shadows (cloth) ...	8/6
Cross True Masonic Chart ...	6/0
Mystic Tie (cloth) ...	6/9
Ritual of Freemasonry ...	18/0

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,
Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED
FOR THE
WORSHIPFUL MASTER,
SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.
6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND
CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.
DITTO FOR
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,
10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S
Masonic Depôts,
LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198,
Fleet-street.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.
GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

Freemasons' Arms.....	15ft. by 12ft.
Knights Templar Arms.....	15ft. by 12ft.
Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms	15ft. by 12ft.
Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's	15ft. by 12ft.
Feathers in Centre	12ft. by 9ft.
City of London Arms.....	10ft. by 7ft.
Union Jack.....	10ft. by 6ft.
Duke of Edinburgh.....	9ft. by 4 1/2ft.
Russian	9ft. by 4 1/2ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d.
Entrance Fee 3 3 0
Annual Subscription 3 3 0
Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) 1 1 0
The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lava-tories, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND,
P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. & Co., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."
Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS SAUCE.
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels.
Agents—CROSS & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION. GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
(Established upwards of 55 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,
81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.
(No connection with any other establishment of the same name.)
Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS. BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,
232, HIGH HOLBORN,Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years
FUNERALS. Bro. J. AYTON,
Successor to E. T. CROFTON,
Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
ESTABLISHED 1821,
79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
AND
139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY
Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
(LATE WITH FATEHALL & Co.)
106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C. &
Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.
Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,
80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,
MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,
Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.
RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES:
Thirty Sizes 4/0 per lb.

GAUZE LACES:

1 in. ...	Per gross. 4/0	1 in. ...	Per gross. 16/0
1 1/2 in. ...	8/0	1 1/2 in. ...	36/0
2 in. ...	12/0	2 in. ...	48/0

PRUSSIAN LACES:

1 1/2 in. ...	18/6 per gross.
1 in. ...	30/0
1 1/2 in. ...	40/0

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:

1 in. ...	Per doz. yds. 3/0	1 1/2 in. ...	Per doz. yds. 12/0
1 1/2 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:

1 in. ...	Per doz. yds. 3/0	2 1/2 in. ...	Per doz. yds. 12/0
1 1/2 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

FRINGES:

1 in. ...	Plate or Water Twisted Bullion. 0/4 ... 0/8 ... 1/6 per yard.
1 1/2 in. ...	0/6 ... 1/0 ... 2/0
2 in. ...	0/8 ... 1/4 ... 3/6
3 in. ...	0/10 ... 2/0 ... 6/0
4 in. ...	1/0 ... 2/8 ... 8/0
5 in. ...	1/3 12/6
6 in. ...	1/6 14/6
7 in. ...	1/9 17/6
8 in. ...	2/0 21/0
9 in. ...	2/3
10 in. ...	2/6
18 in. ...	3/0

RUSSIA BRAIDS:

No. 1 ...	5/3 per gross.
2 ...	6/9
3 ...	8/0
4 ...	10/6
5 ...	13/9

FRENCH BRAIDS:

No. 1, 8/6 per gross	No. 4, 26/0 per gross.
2, 12/0	5, 40/0
3, 16/0	6, 72/0

TISSUE:
22 inches wide 2/6 per yard.
GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH:
22 inches wide 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:
Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
" " 2nd " 6/0
Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 27/0 per doz.
Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz.
" " double 2/6 "

Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0
Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 per dozen.
Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard.
" " in colours, 5/9 per yard.
Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY
GEORGE KENNING,
175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

"THE FREEMASON."

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

"THE MASONIC MAGAZINE."

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

"THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK."

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of News-vendors generally.

AGENTS.

ABERDEEN...	... LINDSAY, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City) JAS. GILBERT, 18, Gracechurch-st.
"	... RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st.	"	... C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
ABERGAVENNY THOMAS & EDMUNDS.	"	... R. POTTLE, 14, Royal Exchange.
ANDOVER J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st.	"	... HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BERLIN ASHER & Co., 53, Mohrenstrasse.	"	... CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BERWICK R. LAMBERT.	" (West) GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BIRMINGHAM J. WILLEY, Union-passage.	"	... D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Sobo.
BRADFORD MORGAN, Kirkgate.	"	... — LASQUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
BRIGHTON J. BEAL, 55, East-st.	"	... H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
BRISTOL E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st.	"	... NASH & TEUTON, Saville-place.
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P.	"	... WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
CARDIFF LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	" (Bermondsey) HALL, 87, New Road.
"	... T. HAYNES, 6, James-st.	"	... JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
"	... J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	" (Brixton) FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
CHELTFENHAM T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	" (Camberwell) MORRIS, 19, The Green.
CHESTER MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	" (Chelsea) JNO. CATTERMOLLE, 48, Cale-st.
CONGLETON A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	" (Clapham) JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
CUCKFIELD JOHN GALLOP.	" (Euston Road) PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
DERBY CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	" (Greenwich) POOK, Church-st.
DONCASTER HARLEY, "Chronicle" Office.	" (Hornsey) SWAIN, Railway Approach.
DUNDEE CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	" (Kensington) KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
EDINBURGH MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	" (Kingsland) PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
"	... R. S. BROWN, 67, Hanover-st.	" (Lambeth, Sout..) TRIBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
"	... ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	" (New Cross) FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
EXETER W. GREGORY, 3, High-st.	"	... JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
"	... E. FITZ, 28, High-street.	"	... WM. KIPPS, 361, New Cross-rd.
GLASGOW GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st., 2, St. Enoch's-lane.	" (Paddington) E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
"	... LAING, St. Enoch-square.	" (Richmond) TURRALL, 17, New Road.
"	... THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	" (St. John's Wood) WILSON, 13, High Street.
"	... URQUHART, 189, London-road.	" (Shoreditch) ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
"	... WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	" (Sydenham) J. CLARKE, Cambridge House.
"	... LOVE, 226, Argyle-street.	MANCHESTER JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
"	... GEO. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street.	"	... ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
"	... THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	"	... BERESFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
GLOUCESTER E. BAYNES, 65, High-st.	MARGATE W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
GRAVESEND F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	MARYPORT J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
GUERNSEY WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
HALIFAX BOTHAM & JACKSON, Church-st.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire) D. DILWORTH.
HARWICH SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NEWTON ABBOTT HEARDER & SON.
HERTFORD HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHALLERTON J. E. H. REED.
HEYWOOD OWEN R. ELLIS.	NORTHAMPTON STANTON & SON.
HOLYHEAD PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	"	... RUSHTON, Gold-st.
HULL S. NATHAN, Market-st.	OXFORD SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
HYDE ORR & Co., Coleraine.	FORTSEA EMANUEL, High-st.
IRELAND J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes	PORTSMOUTH N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road.
ISLE OF WIGHT GEO. WARDLEY, St. Helier's.	PRESTON HARKNESS, Church-street.
JERSEY EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROSS J. COUNSEL, "Man of Ross" Office.
LANCASTER INCHBOLD, 33, Bond-st.	ROTHERHAM HINCHCLIFFE, High-st.
LEEDS A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SHEFFIELD E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
"	... J. MOSLEY.	SOUTHAMPTON ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
"	... C. OLDERSHAW, JUN., 40a, Granby-st.	"	... JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
LEICESTER MARDON'S LIBRARY, High-street.	"	... J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
LITTLEHAMPTON GEORGE KENNING, 2, Monument-pl.	"	... "SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER" Office.
LIVERPOOL G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	SOUTHPORT G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
"	... ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	STOKE-ON-TRENT J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
"	... DAVIES, Exchange.	STOKESLEY TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
"	... WINTERBOTTOM, Exchange.	SUNDERLAND B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
"	... MRS. LEA, Woodside Ferry.	SWANSEA CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st.
"	... EDWARDS, Duke Street.	TRURO WILLIAM LAKE.
"	... METCALF, Lime Street.	TWEEDMOUTH R. LAMBERT.
LLANDUDNO WOODLEY.	WEST INDIES J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
LLANELLY ACE & SON.	"	... GEORGE ROE, St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica.
LONDON (City) GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain	"	... JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica.
"	... W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITEHAVEN PAGEN & GILL.
"	... G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WHITSTABLE COX, High-street.
"	... WILLIAM ABBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGAN T. WALL, "Observer" Office.
"		WIGON T. McMECHAN.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON E.C.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, GEORGE KENNING, at his Offices, 198, Fleet-street, and 2, 3, and 4, Little Britain, in the City of London, and at 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.—SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1874.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

SIR ROBERT MICHAEL SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 292.]

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE 2d.

The Grand Lodge of Mark Master
Masons of England and Wales

AND THE COLONIES AND DEPENDENCIES OF
THE BRITISH CROWN.

Bro. the Right Hon. the EARL PERCY,
M.W.G.M.M.M.

Bro. Right Hon. the EARL OF LIMERICK,
R.W. D.G.M.M.M.

PROVINCE OF SUSSEX.

THE

Provincial Grand Lodge

OF

Mark Master Masons

OF

SUSSEX

WILL BE

CONSTITUTED

BY

The R.W. Bro. the Rt. Hon. the EARL
OF LIMERICK, R.W.D.G.M.M.M.,

AND THE

INSTALLATION

OF

Bro. SIR JOHN CORDY BURROWS, J.P.,
W.M. Keystone Lodge 168.

As the R.W. PROVINCIAL GRAND M.M.M.

WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE

"OLD SHIP" HOTEL,

King's Road, Brighton,

On FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1874, at 2 o'clock.

The business of the day having concluded,

A BANQUET

Will be held (about half-past 4 o'clock).

Tickets (price 7s. 6d. each, exclusive of wine) may be obtained of Bro. T. J. Sabine, W.M. 75, Brighton; Bro. J. Pearson, W.M. 164, Hayward's Heath; Bro. Thos. Trollope, W.M. 166, Hastings; Bro. W. R. Wood, S.W. 168, Brighton; Bro. Kirkland, S.W. 166, Eastbourne; Bro. J. M. Cunningham, P.M. 75, P.G.J.O., Hailsham; Bro. C. Smith, Sec. 168, Cliftonville, and of Bro. S. R. Ade, S.W. 164, 157, North Street, Brighton.

It is particularly requested that intimation be sent by those Brethren who intend to dine,—not later than Monday, October 19th, 1874,—to enable the Committee to make suitable arrangements.

By order of the Committee,

THOS. J. SABINE,
W.M. 75, P.M. 22, P.A.G.D. of C.,
Acting P.G. Sec.

54, Ship Street, Brighton,
Sep. 23rd, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

WOOD GREEN, LONDON, N.

PAIRON.

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

PRESIDENT.

THE MOST WORSHIPFUL THE GRAND MASTER for the time being.

A Quarterly General Court of the Governors and Subscribers will be held at Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen-street, Lincoln's Inn Fields, London, on Monday the 12th day of October, 1874, for the transaction of the ordinary business of the Institution, to consider the following notice of motion, submitted to the general committee on Saturday, October 3:—

"That the name of William George Watson, accidentally omitted from the balloting papers originally issued, be added to the already approved list of candidates, making a total of 45, this being his third application, the number of votes already polled for him and brought forward to his credit at this election, being 823."

And after the adoption of such motion,
To Elect Thirteen Boys from an approved List of Forty-five Candidates.

The polling for election will commence at one o'clock or earlier, should the ordinary business of the Court be concluded before that hour, and will continue until three o'clock, at which time the poll will be closed.

The chair will be taken at twelve o'clock at noon precisely.

FREDERICK BINCKES,

Secretary.

Office:—6, Freemasons' Hall,
London, W.C.,
3rd October, 1874.

With the sanction and approval of the President, the Anniversary Festival of this Institution will, in future, be held on the Last Wednesday in June, instead of, as hitherto, on the Second Wednesday in March.

THE SEVENTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL

WILL BE HELD

On Wednesday 30th June, 1875.

ON WHICH OCCASION

THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE EARL
OF CARNARVON, R.W.D.G.M.,

AND PROVINCIAL GRAND MASTER OF SOMERSET,
Has most kindly consented to preside.

OCTOBER ELECTION, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

The Vice-Presidents, Life Governors, and Subscribers, desiring to Vote in favour of

BEATRICE A. F. NEWMAN

No. 4 on the List, are respectfully requested to forward their proxies (after signature) to either Mr. John Bertram, Alexandra Palace, Muswell-hill, N.; Mr. George Newman, 26, Great Winchester-street, E.C.; or Mr. Henry T. Thompson, 95, Paternoster-buildings, Bishopsgate-street, E.C.

THE PERFECTION OF CLOTHING.
English Clothing is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. MOSES and SON'S as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-Court-road,
And Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Easton-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—

JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,

48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.

Works—Easton-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS
ENGRAVED.

SEALS, PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE

PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
In pen and ink ... 4/6 | Crest engraved on spoons (doz.) 5/0
Heraldic colours ... 7/0 | " " seal or ring 7/0
Engraved on copper ... 1/10 | " " watch or stick 1/0

BRO. JAMES B. SLY,

9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

To W.M.'S AND SECRETARIES.

BRO. KNIGHT SMITH (1441),

PROFESSOR OF MUSIC.

Begs to inform the Craft that he is prepared to assist the Ritual with Music for Consecration, Installation, or 1st, 2nd, and 3rd degrees.

For terms, address 6, London-villas, Devonport-road, Shepherd's Bush, W.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Fulda. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/, also a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

Degree of Most Excellent, Royal, Select, and Super-Excellent Master.

Meetings, under the Authority of the GRAND COUNCIL OF ENGLAND AND WALES, to confer the above Degrees, will be held at the new Lodge Rooms, 2, Red Lion-square, Holborn, on the second and fourth Wednesday in every month. Fee £2 2s.

Ten days' notice of attendance must be sent to the undersigned, from whom all particulars may be obtained.

Candidates must be qualified as Royal Arch and Mark Master Masons.

FREDERICK BINCKES,
Grand Recorder.

Office,—2, Red Lion-square, W.C.

June 8, 1874.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales, Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern,
MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY.
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET,
Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
Bro. F. HILFELICH, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.

COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.

THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.

Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yatching, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
(NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS, DEJEUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the vintages will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste.

The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
Proprietors.

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.

MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,
{ 198, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
{ 145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

FOR SALE—A set of handsome Oak CANDLESTICKS, Fluted Columns, and Gilt Capitals, of the three Orders, standing five feet high. Price £12 12s. At Kenning's Masonic Depots, 175, Aldersgate-street, and 1, 2, and 3, Little Britain, E.C.

GENERAL POST OFFICE (Within a few yards of).—To Let an entire house, having a frontage of about 19ft., and comprising ground floor fitted with plate glass front, basement, and three upper floors, with or without an extensive range of four-storey brick-built premises and large yard, enclosed by double entrance gates, the whole covering an area of about 5,500ft. Plans and particulars at Messrs. Debenham, T. Wason and Farmer, So, Chesham.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.

This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children." It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates. In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)

Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.
SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

Size 32in. BY 26in.

AUTOTYPES

OF

Bro. Sigismund Rosenthal's Celebrated Paintings,
The Reception of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales as P.G.M.,
At Freemasons' Hall, on Dec. 1, 1869, containing upwards of 120 Figures and Portraits.
The Reception of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the Grand

Conclave of Knights Templar,

May 13, 1870, containing nearly 100 Figures and Portraits.

1n BLACK AND GILT FRAMES, £2 12s. 6d. Each.

Sold by Bro. G. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 175, Aldersgate-street, London.
Branches—198, Fleet-street, London; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.

The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires, emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly excels all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.
"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair to its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.
"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,

And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.
Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.
Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-street, London.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Fourth Edition. 5s.

"A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age.
London: Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

FOR FISH.
FOR POULTRY.
FOR GAME.
FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.

J. GOW.
1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Casinos, Country Orders promptly executed.
ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE.
"There must prevail"—London Soap, Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Femine and Fire Bricks, Plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,
General House Furnishing Ironmonger,
42, BLACKMAN STREET, BROADWAY.
OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REAL GOOD ARTICLES at low and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immense Stock," but solicits large orders from select firms. He does not sell "cheaper" than any other house in the Trade, but quite as cheap as any.
A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

75 OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—

of Masonry 607

of Masonry 608

of Ark Mariners 608

and 608

of Benevolence 608

Masonic Institution for Boys 608

Masons and the Marquis of Ripon 609 ration of a Lodge in New Zealand 609

marvon on Public Affairs 609

sonry in Western Australia 610

c Notes and Queries 610

y 610

al Grand Lodge of Cumberland and West-land 611

c Tidings 611

istic Attack upon Freemasonry 612

i Sat Sapientii 613

FOUNDING:—

ation of Lodges 610

ate Grand Master 614

l Visit to Plymouth (Letter of "Leo") 614

Order of the Temple and Malta 615

Order of the Temple and Malta in Ireland ... 615

ng Brethren 615

sh Freemasonry 616

irawal of Propositions 616

l Patronage ("Revisco") 616

Meetings next week 616

aments 605 606 612 617 618 619 620

SUPPLEMENT (FOUR PAGES).

Masonic Benevolent Fund 622

hment of the Order of the Eastern Star inow 622

ary Festival of The Star Lodge of Instruction 623

n Literature, Science and Art 623

asonic Institution for Boys 624

..... 624

of his character in any Masonic assemblage in this province is but to repeat an oft told tale, but to the many young members I see present here I would say, our late Past Master had for nearly forty years made the constitution, tenets and ritual of our Order his closest study, and a quarter of a century ago when the lodge, after being for many years the most prosperous in the county, was under the very darkest cloud, with barely sufficient subscribers to furnish funds for its support or members to hold its warrant, James Hamer came to the front, the purity of his character, his well known integrity, his sterling worth and great knowledge of Masonic lore—for, I believe, I am correct in saying, he was unequalled, at least, in this part of the country, as a preceptor and instructor of all that appertained to the Masonic Degrees, to which he had been affiliated, at once caused attention to be bestowed upon the lodge, rendered its meetings popular, and under his sway its members rapidly increased, not only by initiations, but by the joining of other brethren who really admired good work and loved order and true Masonic discipline, and ere the term of his Mastership expired, and let it be remembered here with honour that he was by special dispensation from the Grand Lodge of England for three years consecutively our Worshipful Master; the lodge was resuscitated—restored once more to the pride of place it had before enjoyed and admitted to be one of the very strongest and most prosperous branches of the Masonic body in England. His pupils were exceedingly numerous, and a large majority of the very best working Masons in this province received their first instruction from him, and acting in conformity with his teaching, for he was a great stickler for "the right word," and that only, soon rendered it an axiom that to have been under Brother Hamer was a sufficient passport for admission to the chair as an able exponent of our ceremonies. His interest in Masonry was unbounded; in easy circumstances—unfettered by business and financially independent, without family ties, for he had outlived them all, he was enabled and did devote the whole of his time to the work he loved so well—ever ready to go anywhere, no matter how great the distance, to help a new lodge in its work, or assist to establish or consecrate another; he was perhaps the best known brother of our fraternity in Lancashire, he had been the Master of several lodges, and passed through the chair, both in the Mark and Royal Arch Degrees, frequently, besides this, too, he was for nearly a dozen years P. Grand Treasurer of West Lancashire, a position, it is almost needless for me to add, he fulfilled with the greatest zeal and acceptance, and was duly permitted to retire from three years ago under the plea frequently urged and reluctantly listened to by our late R.W.G.M., that age and the infirmities of nature rendered him, as he said, unable to devote the attention he desired to the duties of the office. Upon his resignation being accepted, a large sum of money was raised for the purpose of presenting him with a testimonial, but here the kindness of the man, the very simplicity of his nature spoke out; he declined to receive any ornament or gratuity, but requested that the whole sum, a considerable one, should be devoted to the work of Masonic benevolence—truly, our brother must have, indeed, believed "In faith and hope the world will disagree,

But all mankind's concern is charity."

For some time past it was painfully clear to all his most intimate friends that our Past Master would ere long receive his summons to the Grand Lodge above, he was with us almost up to the last and attended here nightly, even to within a few days of his demise, full of years, a friend to all mankind, beloved by every one, without a single enemy; for who could say one word or hold one thought antagonistic to that good kindly benevolent old man—in the very odour of Masonic sanctity, he passed away gently and quietly as he had lived—without a doubt as to the future, without a hope, but in eternity—his end was peace—

"True as the needle to the pole,
Or as the dial to the sun."

Such was James Hamer to Masonry. Many a long day, brethren, will have passed and gone; thousands will have been admitted into our Order, and thousands' love followed him to his rest ere the Masonic body in this town, at least, will look upon his like again. I believe our brother left neither kith nor kin behind to bear his name or deplore his loss, but we, his Masonic children, will live with life, keep green his memory; brethren, our lodge has lost a jewel, our Order one of its noblest and best sons. I feel, indeed, unequal to the task of moving a resolution of condolence in fitting terms. This I am assured, but I call upon you, one and all, to testify by your supporting votes, the estimation and affection in which you hold the revered name of him who, though no longer amongst us in his accustomed place, is "Not lost, but gone before." Bro. Hughes sat down amidst subdued expressions of the deepest sympathy. Brother Rose, I.P.M., then moved, and Bro. the Rev. Phillip Pennington, P.M., seconded, earnestly supported by Bro. Joseph Wood, and others of the brethren, that as an expression of sincere respect for our deceased brother James Hamer, P.M. and P.Z., P.P.G.T., W.L., this lodge do assume and wear Masonic mourning for three months, and that the proceedings of the evening be carefully recorded in the minute book, which was carried unanimously, and the lodge was then closed in due form, the whole proceedings having been of the most impressive and solemn description.

STOKESLEY.—Cleveland Lodge (No. 543).—The monthly meetings of this lodge were recommenced on Monday evening, after the summer recess. Bros. F. H. Wilcox, W.M.; W. G. Forbes, S.W.; John Rontree, as J.W.; J. Coulson, J.D.; W. S. Dixon, I.G.; and W. Harrison, Tyler. There being no business announced on the circular calling the meeting, and several of the members being from home or otherwise engaged, the attendance was not so good as it ought to have been. We are of opinion that lodges ought to be held all the year round, except in rare cases, to keep alive the real life of Masonry.

WOODFORD.—Chigwell Lodge (No. 453).—The last meeting of the season took place on Saturday, 26th September, when Bro. Cox, P.M., occupied the chair in consequence of the lamented death of the late W.M., Bro. Day, the late Junior Warden, Bro. Jeffery, having also been unfortunately drowned at Margate since the opening of the season. There were also present Bros. Hogard, S.W.; Glass, P.M. and Treasurer; Motion, P.M. and Sec.; Reed, S.D., Trent, J.D.; Coble, I.G.; Egan, M.C.; also Bros. Storr, P.M., Tanner, P.M.; Wienn; Dr. Sanders Scott; and other members and a goodly array of visitors, amongst whom we may mention Bro. John Hervey, G.S.; Bro. C. Hutton, G.S.D., and his son; Bro. Clarkson, P.M. 865 and W.M. elect of the Bagshaw Lodge, 1457. The business of passing Bro. Scott having been disposed of, Bro. Cox proceeded to install the S.W., Bro. Hogard, into the chair of K.S., which he did in a manner which called for much encomium. from the numerous P.M.'s present, being well seconded by the newly installed Master, who invested his Officers as follows: Bro. Cox as I.P.M.; Reed, S.W.; Trent, J.W.; Glass, P.M., Treasurer; Corble, S.D.; Egan, J.D.; W. Glass, I.G.; Motion, P.M. and P.P.G.J.W., Essex, Secretary; Harness, M.C.; Smith, Tyler. At the banquet which followed, the W.M. in proposing the health of the M.W.G.M., said: that had they met a few days earlier the toast must have been omitted, owing to the unfortunate circumstance of the resignation of the Marquis of Ripon; but he was very happy to be able to propose the health of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, M.W.G.M. of English Masons. He felt that the acceptance of that high office by H.R.H. at that particular time was a most important fact, and would tend to soften in a great measure the blow which the resignation of the Marquis might have inflicted on the Order. H.R.H. had already identified himself with our Order, and he had no doubt would make a most efficient G.M. In proposing the health of the Deputy G.M. and the rest of the Grand Officers, Present and Past, Bro. Hogard took the opportunity of

NOTES OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

DAL.—Lodge of Lights. (No. 148).—The meeting of this old lodge was held on 7, Sept. 24th, the W.M., Bro. J. Bintley, I. Superintendent of Works, in the chair, J.M. was ably and influentially supported. The lodge was opened in the first and second degrees, when two candidates, Bros. Thomas and Francis J. Thorber claimed preference, and having sustained their respective degrees were entrusted. The lodge was opened in the third degree, and the candidates re-admitted, the W.M. called for the presence of Bro. John Bowes, P.M., Past P.G. who assumed the chair of K.S. and raised the brethren. After some routine business the meeting was closed, and the brethren adjourned to which they were invited by Bro. Kay, I.G.

POOL.—Mariner's Lodge (No. 249).—The brethren of this ancient and flourishing lodge held their New Masonic Temple, Hope-street, at a meeting in the evening of Thursday, the 10th, Bro. Hayes, W.M., in the chair, by Bro. Price, S.W.; Bro. R. R. Martin, full compliment of officers and a large number of members and visitors; the business of the evening consisted of the First and Third degrees and after the usual communications had been disposed of, and several sums of money for "charity" in the unanimous style characteristic of the Mariners; the W.M. presented Bro. J. J. Rose, I.P.M., in the name of the brethren, with a valuable P.M. jewel, especially prepared for the occasion at the request of Bro. George Kenning, (who, by way of this evening elected a joining member of the lodge prior to the closing,) and at the request of the W.M., Bro. Edwin Hughes, seconded and said, W.M. and Brethren: It is a considerable feeling of depression, a feeling which seems to me to have been shared by all members present and to have pervaded the minds of our working and ceremonies this evening that I address you upon a subject which is so distressing to us all, and especially to the older members of this lodge who can more thoroughly feel the loss, the irreparable loss this lodge and the Masonic community of West Lancashire have sustained since the last regular monthly meeting. At our last gathering we numbered 100, the father of our lodge, its senior and our old and beloved Past Master, James Hamer, but now he is at rest. To speak bearing witness to the unvarying courtesy of the Grand Secretary, either in the office or when in Grand Lodge, and trusted he would long be spared to fill that important position. He also welcomed Bro. Hutton, the G.S.D., to the Chigwell Lodge, as well as the other visitors, who they were very pleased to see. Bros. Hervey and Hutton responded on behalf of the visitors. After the healths of the P.G.M. and P.G. Officers had been duly honoured, Bro. Storr proposed the health of the W.M., who he said he was very pleased to see in that position. Bro. Hogard, in responding, said he felt very proud of the high honour the brethren had done him in unanimously electing him their Master for the ensuing year. He assured them he had accepted the position with a deep sense of the great responsibilities which devolved upon him as their head, and pledged himself to do all that lay in his power to uphold the dignity of the Chigwell Lodge, and he should depend on the P.M.'s giving him that aid which they had at all times rendered to his predecessors. The other usual toasts having been duly honoured, the W.M. announced his intention of representing the Lodge at the Girls' School Festival in 1875, and the Tylers' toast brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Kew Bridge.—Royal Alfred Lodge (No. 710).—The installation meeting of this prosperous lodge was held at the Star and Garter, Kew Bridge, on the 25th Sept., when there were present Bros. A. Beasley, W.M.; W. Hillow, S.W.; Gardiner, J.W.; S. Smith, Treas.; the rest of the officers and a goodly number of brethren and visitors. Bro. Beasley having performed the ceremonies of passing and raising, Bro. Smith ascended the chair of K.S., and a Board of Installed Masters having been duly formed, Bro. Hilton was duly elevated to that high position. Bro. Smith's working is so well known, that it would be superfluous to make any remarks upon it. Bro. Watson having addressed the brethren, the new W.M. proceeded to invest his officers as follows:—Bros. Gardiner, S.W.; S. Chambers Roe, J.W.; S. Smith, Treas.; Hale, Sec.; Trayers, S.D.; Cuznew, J.D.; Joss, I.G.; All business being ended, the brethren adjourned to banquet, which was served admirably and appeared to be thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The cloth having been drawn, the usual toasts were duly honoured. The W.M. in proposing the health of the Past Masters, dwelt upon the great services rendered to the lodge by the J.P.M., and requested his acceptance of a beautiful P.M.'s jewel, suitably inscribed. Bro. Beasley returned thanks in an eloquent speech. The health of the visitors was responded to by Past Masters Hamilton and Driscoll. The rest of the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner, and the brethren separated at an early hour.

LANCASTER.—Rowley Lodge (No. 1051).—The regular meeting of this lodge was held on Monday, 5th inst., at the Masonic Rooms, Athenæum, Lancaster. There were present Bros. W. J. Sly, I.P.M., as W.M.; Dr. J. D. Moore, P.G.S.B. as I.P.M.; Sec.; James Taylor, S.W.; Henry Longman, J.W.; Edward Airey, W.M. 281; Thomas Jackson, S.D.; Geo. Sutton, J.D.; N. W. Helme, I.G.; John Watson, John Beeley, Tylers, &c. The lodge having been opened in due form, and the minute book having been, in accordance to notice, sent to the Prov. G. Secretary and not returned, no business was transacted.

KIRKBY-LONSDALE.—Underley Lodge (No. 1074).—The regular meeting of this lodge was held at the Masonic Hall, Market-place, on October 1st, at seven o'clock. The chair was occupied by the W.M., Dr. Page, who was supported by his Wardens and Officers, and an unusually large number of brethren. The lodge having been duly opened in the several degrees, the W.M. requested Bro. John Bowes, P.M., P. Prov. G. Reg, &c, to raise Bro. Pusey to the sublime degree of M.M. At the conclusion of the business the lodge was closed, and the brethren adjourned to refreshment.

READING.—Grey Friars Lodge (No. 1101).—This splendid young lodge will resume its duties on Wednesday, the 14th inst., when Bro. James Greenfield will be installed W.M. for the ensuing year. Bro. Greenfield was one of the earliest initiates of the lodge, and is known to be a good working member of the Craft. The banquet will be held at the Upper Ship Hotel at six o'clock, and it is expected there will be a good muster of the fraternity, the tickets already having been enquired after, and as a limited number only will be issued, to secure a place at the festive board, an early application is necessary.

PAIGNTON.—Torbay Lodge (No. 1358).—The monthly meeting of this lodge was held in the lodge room, Paignton, on Tuesday, the 29th ult. Bro. George Knighton Drake was passed to the second degree, the ceremony being ably performed by the W.M., Bro. J. T. Goodridge. It was announced that the members of the lodge had determined to present to Bro. the Rev. R. Bowden, P.M., P.P.G.C., a testimonial, in recognition of the invaluable services he had rendered as W.M., for the two first years of the existence of the lodge, and as I.P.M. since that time. The presentation will take place at the next monthly meeting.

Mark Masonry.

BOLTON.—St. John's (Time Immemorial) Lodge.—The regular meeting of the above lodge, was held on Wednesday, 23rd September, at the Commercial Hotel, Bolton. There was a good attendance of the brethren, amongst whom were Bros. James Newton, Prov. G. Mark Inspector of Works, W.M.; John Alcock, S.W.; James Horrocks, J.W.; John Harwood, M.O.; Thos. Holme, S.D.; Henry Tattersall, I.G.; and the following Past Masters, viz.: G. P. Brockbank, Past Grand Mark Warden; Thos. Entwistle, P. Prov. G. Mark Master; Daniel Stansfield, P. Prov. G. Mark Deacon; Robert Horwood, P. Prov. G. Mark Deacon; Thos. Morris, P. Prov. G. Mark Sword Bearer; Robert Whittaker, P. Prov. G. Mark Dir. of Cer.; and Wm. Hamer; and Visiting Brethren Jas. Heap, Prov. G. Mark Steward, Cheshire and North Wales; Thos. Wilson, J.W. Mark Lodge, 158, and Jas. Brown, S.O. Mark Lodge, 158. The lodge being opened, the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed. A candidate for advancement was balloted for and unanimously approved. Bro. Jas. Corbitt, who had been previously approved on ballot, was admitted, and advanced to the honourable degree of Mark Master by the W.M., Bro. Jas. Newton. The election of W.M. for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, resulting in the unanimous election of the S.W., Bro. John Alcock. The lodge was then closed and the brethren adjourned to refreshment.

Royal Ark Mariners.

BOLTON.—Mount Ararat Lodge.—A meeting of the Mount Ararat Lodge was held at the Commercial Hotel, Bolton, on Wednesday, 23rd Sept., when there were present, Bros. G. P. Brockbank, V. Commander N.; Jas. Newton, J.; Thomas Wilson, S.; Jas. Horrocks, J.D.; Robt. Harwood, P.N., Director of Ceremonies; Jas. Brown, Guardian; Thos. Morris, P.N., &c. The lodge being opened and the minutes confirmed, Bros. Stansfield, P. Prov. G. Mark Deacon, and Thos. Mycock were approved of as candidates, and were then admitted and elevated to the degree of Royal Ark Mariners. Bro. James Newton, the W. Commander elect, was then enthroned in the usual manner, and appointed and invested his officers, viz.:—Thos. Wilson, J.; Danl. Stansfield, S.; G. P. Brockbank, Treasurer (elected); Thos. Morris, Scribe; Jas. Horrocks, S.D.; Jas. Brown, J.D.; Robt. Harwood, Director of Ceremonies; Thos. Mycock, Guardian. The lodge was then closed.

Scotland.

EDINBURGH.—Edinburgh Royal Arch Chapter (No. 1).—The annual meeting of this chapter for election and installation of office-bearers was held in Comp. De Grey's Hotel, 99, Princess-street, on Wednesday the 22nd inst., when the following Companions were elected office-bearers for 1874-5, viz.—Comps. George M'Lean, Z.; John Taylor, H.; Alexander Henry, J.; William Mann, P.Z.; P. R. Haddow, Scribe E.; David Knight, Scribe N.; Alexander Hay, Treasurer; David Kinnear, Chancellor; Robt. S. Brown, 1st Sojourner; W. J. C. Abbott, 2nd Sojourner; C. G. C. Christie, 3rd Sojourner; Robt. S. Brown, Excellent Master; Robt. Leggett, Captain of the 1st Veil; W. W. Kennedy, Captain of the 2nd Veil; George G. Russel, Captain of the 3rd Veil; John Taylor, Mark Master; J. Webster, Sen. Warden; James Henderson, Jun. Warden; Daniel M'Leam, Janitor. Committee: S. Georgiades, A. Mitchell, J. J. Muirhead, J. D. Wormald, W. Barton, Wm. M. Bryce. Thereafter the companions celebrated the Festival of the Autumnal Equinox, M.E. Comp. George M'Lean in the chair, supported by a large attendance of the companions, who did ample justice to the excellent banquet, provided by Comp. De Grey in his most recherché style.

THE SUPREME COUNCIL OF SCOTLAND of the 33rd and last degree of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, have elected Bro. Henry Inglis of Torsonce, to the vacancy in the Council created by the death of Lord James Murray. Bro. Inglis has been a most zealous member of the Craft for many years; he discharged with great acceptance to the brethren of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, and for a long period, the duties of the office of Substitute Grand Master of Scotland, an office which was at one time filled by his late father, he has also been for many years Prov. Grand Master of Peebles and Selkirk, and, in the highest degrees, he has held several important offices. We believe the appointment now made to the select nine will have the entire approval of the Masonic Fraternity.

LODGE OF BENEVOLENCE.

The September meeting of the Lodge of Benevolence was held on the 23rd ult at Freemasons' Hall, Bro. John M. Clabon, President of the Board, in the chair. There were also present among others Bros. Joshua Nunn, S.V.P., Joseph Smith, Samuel May, H. W. Hemsworth, Thos. Cubitt, T. Bull, C. Atkins, J. Stevens, C. Hogard, O. Roberts, John Harvey, (Grand Secretary), W. H. Main, Wright, H. M. Levy, G. W. H. Crick, Swallow, W. R. Marsh, G. L. Dussek, W. Hilton, and H. Bartlett. The grants, amounting to £185, made at former meetings, were confirmed, and the sum of £230 was awarded to fresh cases. The lodge was then closed.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

The General Committee of this Institution met on Saturday last at Freemasons' Hall. Bro. John Symonds, V.P., took the chair. There were also present Bros. A. H. Tattershall, H. C. Levander, G. M. A. Snow, W. Roebuck, J. C. Chancellor, Capt. N. G. Phillips, W. Hyc Pullen, Benjamin Head, Richard Spencer, Rosenthal, J. W. Dosell, Wm. F. C. Moutrie, Jesse Turner, and F. Binckes (Secretary). "Cliff's Bequest" was considered, and the opinion of Bro. J. M. Clabon resolved to be taken, this to be communicated to the Girls' School. One petition was received and a grant made for an outfit.

The following resolution, a copy of which has been sent to every Provincial Grand Secretary was afterwards carried:—

"That the name of William George Watson accidentally omitted from the balloting paper already issued, be added to the already approved List of Candidates, making a total of 45, the number being his third application; the number of votes already polled for him and brought forward to his credit at this Election, being 31. The Committee then adjourned."

THE FREEMASONS AND THE MARQUIS OF RIPON.

On Tuesday the Provincial Grand Lodge of Wiltshire was opened at Sutton Coldfield, in the presidency of the Provincial Grand Master, Lord Leigh, and there were present many Masons eminent among the "uninstructed" who are not Masons, and holding, too, positions in the Craft. For such a gathering it was inevitable that some reference should be made to the loss of the Grand Master of the Wiltshire Masons through having turned his face towards, and giving as a sign of his obedience to the behests of his new spiritual masters, his resignation of the [high office he filled over his brethren—a position hereafter to be held by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The Provincial Grand Lodge was opened with a grand opening ceremony, in which several clergymen (brethren) took a part. In the subsequent proceedings, in response to the toast of "The Craft," proposed by Lord Leigh, Mr. J. C. Parkinson, Grand Deacon of the Provincial Grand Lodge of England, Deputy Grand Master of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Middlesex, Past Master of the Bard of Avon Lodge, would ill become him as a grand officer of elevation to the Masonic peerage had been of the last official acts of the late Grand Master, to express aught but profound regret that his lordship should have found it necessary to resign his high position. It had been published, that Lord Ripon had been in secret communication with a Roman Catholic for many years, but that statement must be denied in the most emphatic manner, for a very short time ago his lordship publicly expressed his great interest in a proposition made by him (Brother Parkinson) that the Masons should restore the church of Stratford-Avon, and his lordship, after making reference to the Protestant church he was then in, said that his sympathies were with the effort for restoring and preserving Shakespeare's church by the Masonic brotherhood; and that on a course were ever decided on, he would be able to do any good which might be raised. It occurred a short time since, and it was at that the Marquis was then a warm and supporter of the Church of England as by established. (Hear, hear.) The speaker, regretting deeply that his lordship had withdrawn from that Church, could not share the astonishment expressed by some that a Roman Catholic might not continue to fill a position in the Craft. The fact was that the systems of Romanism and Masonry were not merely incompatible, but were antipathetic, for one of the first lessons taught in the Craft was that it was "free." Freedom of opinion, and the broadest toleration in religious matters were the very essence of the Craft, and good and true men of all nations were embraced in its comprehensive bosom. (Cheers.) When in India he had a Hindu man, who was a devout follower of the Master, and was so scrupulous a fire-worshipper as to ask to be excused from striking the stroke led to waste the, to him, element of fire; but he proved himself a brother in the Craft. (Cheers.) Last year in America the speaker had met advanced Masons, who were better and more devout men than the Freemasons; and a few months ago, in a lodge in Middlesex, he had the pleasure of initiating a Mahomedan, in the person of an Afghan Prince of the blood, who had passed the other degrees under circumstances of peculiar interest. (Cheers.) There were, too, many excellent Jewish brethren who were brethren among the North American Indians, worshipping the Great Spirit on the native prairie, and the learned and distinguished clergymen could meet with these of various religious creeds, and on a common ground join in grateful thanks to the Architect of the Universe, and subscribe to the great doctrine of natural equality and mutual dependence. Freemasonry was a system of good works, and asked for no priestly intermediary between a man and his Maker. The massive ritual enforced the solemn truth that man should be judged hereafter by his actions on earth rather than by any verdict passed on him by a professional caste, and it was broadly tolerant of differences in faith and creed. When Roman Catholics were permitted by their spiritual rulers to uphold such opinions as these, then, and not till then, could they consistently continue members of the Craft. The speaker concluded by, as a Grand Officer, thanking Lord Leigh and the Warwickshire Brethren for their loyal welcome, and expressing his firm conviction that under the Grand Mastership of the future King of England—a Prince of the Protestant House of Hanover (cheers)—Freemasons would continue to conserve those principles of religious liberty and spiritual freedom to which the Roman Catholic faith had ever been strenuously opposed. (Cheers.) There were three hundred present.—DAILY NEWS.

LORD CARNARVON ON PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

The Highclere Agricultural Association, comprising nine or ten parishes in North Hants, held its annual ploughing match and horticultural show on the farms of Mr. Fox and Mr. Rumbold at Burghclere and Sydmonton, a few miles from Newbury on Tuesday. The Right Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has held the office of president to the society from the date of its formation, and the Countess also takes a lively interest in its operations, being the donor of several prizes in the horticultural department.

At the usual dinner of the subscribers Lord Carnarvon occupied the chair, and among the company were the members for the Northern Division of Hampshire (Mr. W. W. Beach and Mr. George Scater Booth, President of the Local Government Board), Mr. W. Fox, J.P., the Mayor of Newbury, the Rev. W. H. Gretton, the Rev. P. Gosling, the Rev. T. Waters, Mr. Kingmill, J.P., Messrs. H. Frampton and S. Wentworth (Secretaries), and others.

"The Health of Her Majesty the Queen" having been proposed,

The noble chairman then gave that of "The Prince and Princess of Wales, and the rest of the Royal Family," a toast which, his lordship observed, was only honoured in the second degree to that which they had just drunk. Their loyalty, thank God, was, he would not say so common, but so universal in this country, that it was almost difficult to find topics for remark in connection with such a toast. The Prince of Wales was a thorough Englishman, and there was no sport, no pursuit, and no interest in which they were all concerned in which his Royal Highness had not also shown a sympathy and interest, and he had further discharged all the duties which befitted his high position with much heartiness, thoroughness, and invariable good taste. (Cheers.) Within the past few weeks the name of the Prince of Wales had come before them, perhaps, in a somewhat new character. He did imagine that among this audience there were more than a few members of the great fraternity of Freemasons, to which he had the honour to belong. (Cheers.) But he saw by his side one most distinguished member of the Craft, Bro. W. Beach, M.P., the Grand Master of Hampshire. (Cheers.) And he did not doubt but that there were other Masons present. When by a most unfortunate, and to him (Lord Carnarvon) a most astonishing secession from our Church, the office of Grand Master of the English Freemasons became vacant, the Prince of Wales, acceding to the earnest request of the members of the Craft, stepped forward and consented to fill the high office that could not be held by the Constitution of the Order be held by a Roman Catholic. It was a cause for much satisfaction to the brethren of the Order to find his Royal Highness at the head of the English Freemasons. (Cheers.)

The Finsbury Park Lodge of Instruction, No. 1288, (Bro. P. Dickinson, Preceptor), was reopened on Wednesday 7th inst., and will continue to meet every Wednesday evening throughout the winter, at the Finsbury Park Tavern, (Bro. Pigot's), Seven Sisters-road, Holloway, at 8 o'clock precisely.

CONSECRATION OF A NEW LODGE IN NEW ZEALAND.

The Forest Lodge (No. 1481), was consecrated and the first Master installed, on June 24, 1874. It is to be held at the house of Bro. R. T. Smith, the Forest Inn, Wakefield, about 18 miles distant from Nelson. To show how our young colonies are advancing, we are credibly informed that but a few years since, the inn whereat this ceremony was performed was but a roadside shanty, standing in the confines of dense bush and swamp; now it is an hotel under excellent management and of most respectable dimensions, and there is a good macadamized road running from Nelson city to miles far beyond it, a four horse coach runs there daily, and a railway from Nelson to the district is now being constructed.

The petition to the Grand Lodge of England, asking for a warrant, was forwarded through the Southern Star Lodge No. 735, of Nelson.

At about one o'clock on the 24th of June, a number of the brethren of the Southern Star Lodge assembled at Bro. Smith's, and after partaking of luncheon, proceeded to the school-room close by, this being the most convenient room to be had in the neighbourhood for the ceremony, and then Bro. W. B. Seely, P.M. of the Southern Star Lodge, and formerly Assistant Director of Ceremonies of the P.G. Lodge of Wiltshire, and who had been requested to act as presiding officer, proceeded to consecrate the lodge, and never, we think, will the most youthful Mason who was present forget the interesting and most impressive ceremony as given by Bro. Seely, who had appointed as his Wardens pro tem., Bro. P.M. John Percy, (S.W.); and Bro. P.M. Robert Burn (J.W.); both being P.M.'s of the Southern Star Lodge.

At about half-past two o'clock, Bro. P.M. Seely assumed his seat in the E., with Bro. P.M. Alfred Hibble on his right, and Bro. the Rev. C. L. Maclean, the present W.M. of the Southern Star Lodge, who officiated as Chaplain, on his left; and having first stated that the lodge about to be opened must be considered as a representative Grand Lodge, he duly opened the lodge in the three degrees.

After prayer and thanksgiving, Bro. P.M. Hibble arranged the seven brethren of the Forest Lodge who had signed the petition in front of the pedestal, and presented them in due form to the presiding Master. The warrant was then read and declared to be in due form. Bro. Hibble then presented Bro. Joseph Shepherd (P.M. of the Southern Star Lodge) as the first W.M. of the Forest Lodge. On being questioned, the brethren expressed themselves as satisfied with their proposed W.M.; Bros. Chattock and White were next presented as the Senior and Junior Wardens nominate, and the brethren having expressed themselves satisfied with them, the beautiful and impressive ceremony of consecrating, dedicating, and constituting the new lodge was gone through; and after the Hallelujah Chorus had been played, the representative lodge was declared closed in due form.

A regular Craft Lodge was then opened in the second degree, and Bro. Shepherd took the obligation of Master elect. The usual ceremony of installation was then gone through, and Bro. Shepherd was regularly installed W.M. and saluted in form.

Bro. Shepherd then invested the following brethren as officers for the ensuing year:—Bro. Chattock, S.W.; Bro. White, J.W.; Bro. Smith, Secretary; Bro. J. Jervis, Treasurer; Bro. Plank, S.D.; Bro. Baigent, J.D.; Bro. Watty, I.G.; and Bro. Woolcott, Tyler.

Bro. Seely then gave the usual address to the Wardens and brethren of the lodge in a manner that will not easily be forgotten by those who were present.

Five gentlemen were proposed for initiation, and the W.M. duly closed the lodge. The solemnity of the ceremony was much enhanced by the excellent manner in which Bro. Holloway presided at the organ, one of Mason and Hamlin's excellent American instruments.

The ceremony, though somewhat long, passed off most satisfactorily; and although they had not the privilege of having Grand Officers present, yet the honour of Freemasonry was duly upheld, and its glorious and Heaven-born principles made manifest.

FREEMASONRY IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

The brethren of Freemantle lodge (No. 1053) celebrated their anniversary by a banquet, on St. John's day, at Maloney's Hotel. The occasion was marked by the brethren with much heartiness. Previous to the banquet, the brethren assembled in their lodge room in William-street, for the purpose of installing the Worshipful Master elect and his colleagues in office, for the ensuing year. Bro. G. B. Humble presided, and opened the lodge in the regular form. The following officers and brethren were present:—Bros. E. F. Duffield, S.W.; L. Henderson, J. W.; J. de M. Absolon, Treas.; J. McCleery, Sec.; W. Smith, S.D.; W. Johnson, J.D.; G. Forsyth, I.G.; and D. Harrington, Tyler; also, Bros. P. M. Stone, P.M.; Congdon, P.M.; G. Pearce, W. S. Pearce, Clifton, Quayle, J. A. Herbert, King, Littlejohn, Logue, Wood, Sutherland, Nash, Broomhall, Sherwood, Paisley, and Manning. Visiting brethren—Bros. W. M. Pether, P.M. Summers, Dean, Dale, Salkild, McClatty, King, and Benson, of Lodge 485, Perth.

After the various business had been transacted the brethren proceeded to the installation of John Frederick Stone as Worshipful Master, according to all the ancient and established rites of the Order. Bro. I.P.M. Humble performed the duties of Installing Master, assisted by Bro. P.M. Congdon, as Deputy, and P.M.'s Bros. G. Pearce and E. F. Duffield, Masters of Ceremonies; the whole being conducted in a manner which won the admiration of the brethren. Having been duly installed into office, the Installing Master next invested the following brethren as officers of the lodge for the ensuing year:—Bros. L. W. Clifton, S.W.; J. de M. Absolon, J.W.; R. M. Sutherland, Treas.; W. R. P. Smith, Sec.; R. N. Waldeck, S.D.; J. D. Broomhall, J.D.; B. C. Wood, I.G.; and D. Harrington Tyler (re-elected).

Original Correspondence.

DESIGNATION OF LODGES.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Allow me to draw the attention of your readers to the above subject. While the country has lately been startled by the resignation of Lord Ripon, and his joining the Church of Rome, may we not very appropriately refer to the undesirability of designating lodges after distinguished living brethren.

Several occasions have transpired within my short experience that indicate the folly of naming a lodge after a distinguished brother, during his lifetime; and the occasion of the resignation of our late M.W.G.M., is another very significant proof of the advisability of refraining from conferring such honour on a brother who is every day liable to fall.

I am sure every member of the Craft will deeply sympathise with those lodges that have been designated after our late G.M., and I trust that their bitter experience will deter brethren in the future from falling into the same difficulty.

With regard to the resignation of our late G.M., I am sure it is a matter every Freemason will deeply regret; but it is also a matter which I am certain will ultimately redound to our advantage, for it will prove to the world that the holy and sublime principles of Freemasonry are not in harmony with the Church of Rome.

I am, dear Sir and Brother,

Yours truly and fraternally,

P. J. G. D. Devon.

A Grand Council of the Illustrious Knights K.H. 30°, will be held at the Masonic Hall, 33, Golden-square, London, at 4.45 p.m., on Wednesday, the 14th day of October.

The Provincial Grand Lodge of London and the Metropolitan Counties of the R.S.Y.C.S. will meet in Council, at 33, Golden-square, on the 15th day of October, at 4.45 p.m.

Cultum in Parbo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

ROMAN EAGLE LODGE.

In the Freemason for August 29, Rev. Bro. A. F. A. Woodford makes some inquiries in reference to the Roman Eagle Lodge, which I say in my Encyclopædia received its warrant from the Grand Lodge of Scotland in 1784 (not in 1874 as you have inadvertently printed it). He also inquires if the Bro. Brown who established that lodge "is the same as Dr. John Browne who published the 'Master Key' &c. in 1786."

I will reply to the second question first. The two persons are entirely different—the author of the "Master Key" spelling his name "Browne," and the founder of Roman Eagle Lodge spelling his "Brown" without the e. The Dr. John Brown whom I have designated as "celebrated and learned" was a distinguished physician, first of Edinburgh and afterwards of London. He was the author of a work, entitled "Elementa Medicinæ" and the founder of the "Brunonian School of Medicine," which at one time had many distinguished disciples in the profession. The great Grecian Dr. Parr said of him, that he was "the first Latinist in Europe."

As to the lodge, I will furnish my worthy Bro. Woodford with all the information I possess. My first authority is the following passage contained in "The New Freemason's Monitor; or Masonic Guide etc., by James Hardie, A.M.," published at New York in 1818. On pages 25, 26, is the following passage:—

"The late Dr. John Brown attempted to render the social institution of Masonry subservient, in a peculiar manner, to the cause of literature, by instituting a Latin Lodge at Edinburgh, entitled the Roman Eagle, which he carried on with éclat for some time. It continued to flourish for several years after he went to London; but the government of the Lodge having fallen into the hands of brethren not so well skilled in the Latin language, the Latin has been disused, and the advantages which might have arisen from it to students has been lost."

There is internal evidence, I think, that Hardie was merely a compiler, but a search through my Masonic library has failed to supply me with the original source whence he derived his statement.

In the life of Dr. Brown, contained in the "Biographical Memoirs of the most celebrated Physicians, Surgeons, etc., etc. By Thomas Joseph Pettigrew, F.R.S., F.A.S., F.L.S.," 4to, London, 1839, on page 7 of the sketch devoted to Brown, is the following passage:—

"Dr. Brown was greatly respected by many influential persons in Scotland; but he did not much cultivate their acquaintance. The late Lord Elcho highly esteemed him for his learning and his genius. This nobleman was head of the Masonic fraternity in Scotland—an institution to which Brown was much attached; and he established a lodge (the Roman Eagle) in which the mystic ceremonies of the Craft were performed in the Latin language."

But the history of the Roman Eagle Lodge is worthy of a full investigation, and I cordially unite with my Bro. Woodford in the request that Bro. D. M. Lyon will devote some portion of his talents and research to the subject. No one is so able as he to settle all doubtful questions connected with Scottish Masonry.

ALBERT G. MACKAY, M.D.

Washington City, U.S.A.

September 14, 1874.

THE JEWISH TEMPLES.

The Jews had three temples, the first, erected by Solomon, after standing for fully four centuries, was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar, B.C. 538. In B.C. 535, Zerubbabel laid the foundation of the second temple; this latter not satisfying the taste of Herod the Great, he, about B.C. 17, began to rebuild or enlarge it. Herod's temple, which, as a Masonic edifice, was by far the most magnificent of the three, stood the shortest of any, being destroyed by the Romans under Titus in A.D. 70. Solomon's temple, no doubt, had its beauties, but unlike Herod's these were received from the hands of the carpenter and metal-worker, not from the mason. Its magnificence was derived from the brazen pillars at the porch, its brazen seats and altars, its cedar pillars overlaid with gold; and taken altogether, in its richness and metallic splendour, the brassfounder, carpenter, and smith, having more to do with its adornments than the mason. This view of the subject may possibly be new to many brethren, yet, if they consider it a little, they may perhaps be led to admit its justice. To the Mason was due the adornment of Herod's temple, its greatest glory was the Stoa Basilica, or Royal Porch, which was 600 feet long, and 164 feet wide. There stood within it 164 Corinthian columns, dividing it into three aisles, the centre one being no less than 100 feet high. There were double porticos surrounding the other three sides, but of less height and inferior in magnificence to the great Stoa Basilica. The area occupied by Herod's temple was several times in excess of that occupied by its predecessor. Solomon's temple could not compare either in magnitude or in Masonic splendour with some of the majestic temples of Egypt, nor could Herod's equal in harmony and true artistic beauty some of the temples of classic Greece. Yet, taken altogether, the latter, as a gorgeous specimen of Masonry, was probably unsurpassed by any religious edifice of the period. While to many minds the simple fact that the feet of Jesus trod its courts, lends a special interest to it which nothing else could give. As to the site of the Jewish temples, there is much difference of opinion. Some consider that the "Mosque of Omar" occupies that site, but I incline to consider that idea wrong. This so-called "Mosque of Omar" is not really a Mosque at all, but instead, a beautiful old Christian church, and being in fact the edifice erected by Constantine the Great over what was then considered to be the sepulchre of Jesus. How it got its present name I cannot exactly say, only either of the titles "Church of Constantine," or "Church of the Holy Sepulchre," are more agreeable to the facts of the case than "Mosque of Omar," more especially as the style of the architecture of the building tells us that it was erected about two hundred years before Mohammed was born. The real site of the Jewish Temple appears to lie to the south of the "Mosque of Omar," and occupied the south-western portion of the Haram area at Jerusalem.

HIRAN.

Bro. Hughan's note has anticipated Bro. Norton's, so we do not think it needful to print it, the more so as our space is precious just now.

We are authorised to state, that Bro. Woodford is at this moment engaged in inquiries at Cambridge University Library, and at the British Museum, endeavouring to verify Bro. Dr. Oliver's original statement. We hope in a week or two to report progress.—ED.

Obituary.

BRO. JAMES HAMER.

As briefly stated on the 26th ult., Bro. James Hamer, for eleven years connected with the province of West Lancashire, as Prov. G. Treasurer, died at his residence in Grove-street, Liverpool, on Friday evening, the 18th ult., and his remains were privately interred at the Necropolis on Tuesday, the 22nd. Although it was understood that the funeral was of a private character, many brethren attended to pay their last meed of respect to one whom all loved and admired, both on account of his excellent Masonic ability, and also because of the feeling of brotherhood he continually exhibited. The funeral service was read by the Rev. Mr. Dawson; and the very solemn manner in which he performed his special duties was an impressive and affecting to the very large gathering of brethren which crowded the little chapel. It may be stated that Bro. Hamer was one of the earliest members of the Liverpool Licensed Victuallers' Association, being the acting auditor for a long period. The association was represented by Mr. J. Allen (trustee), Mr. W. T. Mry (past chairman), Messrs. T. Foxard, Coates, and P. Brown (members of committee), and Captain T. ...

secretary. The Masonic brotherhood was largely represented, amongst those present being Bros. H. S. Alpass, P.G. Sec.; C. H. Hill, P.G. Reg.; Lambert, P.P.G.D.C.; T. Armstrong, P.G. Treasurer; J. Skeaf, P.G.O.; Councillor Forrest, H. Bigley, P.P.G.S. of W., Belfast and Northdown; G. Morgan, P.M., 1135; J. Holland, P.M., 823; T. Ashmore, P.M. 823; H. Nelson, W.M., 1503; Jones, W.M. 1393; T. H. Evans, P.M. 1393; Captain Roberts, J.W. 1264; C. Leedham, P.M. 220; J. S. Dixon, W.M. 1264; H. W. Nicholas, 249; H. Pearson, P.M. 249; J. Cave, 220; J. Houlding, Sec. 823; P. M. Larsen, P.M. 594; J. Lunt, P.M. 1086; J. Hayes, W.M. 249; Dr. J. K. Smith, P.M. 249; J. Wood, Treas. 1094; S. Whitney, 1086; G. Chapman, 1393; J. Whalley, 249; J. Chisnall, 249; J. Goodman, J.W. 1403; W. Pugh, P.M. 1182; W. Matthews, 220; &c.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF CUMBERLAND AND WESTMORLAND.

The annual provincial meeting of Freemasons of the province of Cumberland and Westmorland was held at Keswick on Friday week, this being the first time the "capital of the English lake district" has had the honour of a visit from the Provincial Grand Lodge. This being the case, and Keswick at this season being very accessible to almost every lodge in the province, a large gathering of brethren was anticipated, and all the members of the Keswick Lodge, under the Mastership of Bro. D. Crosthwaite, had fully prepared in every respect.

The arrangements for the reception in proper form and for the entertainment of the brethren were very perfect, and the W.M. of Greta Lodge and his officers deserve great credit for the style in which all was carried out.

In various parts of the town flags and banners were suspended, and the picturesque town would have looked quite en fête but for the want of what the Keswick brethren could not supply—fine weather. The morning had been gloomy and threatening, and the weather broke down before mid-day into wet, and it rained—as only it can do at Keswick—the whole of the rest of the day, so that the splendour of the procession to church was to a great extent dimmed.

Notwithstanding the unfortunate state of the weather, however, all seemed to make the best of it, and a great number of people lined the streets and filled the windows as the long line proceeded to Crosthwaite Church, where divine service was held. Those brethren who wished first assembled at the Royal Oak Hotel, where luncheon was provided, and where they signed their names.

The lodge was opened in the County Court, a room which was Masonically decorated, and transformed into a very suitable lodge room. The Craft Lodge was opened at noon by Bro. D. Crosthwaite, W.M.

The Provincial Grand Lodge was opened at 10 o'clock by the Right Worshipful the Provincial Grand Master the Right Honourable the Earl of Bective, M.P., assisted by his officers, who were received on their entrance into the lodge with the proper salute. Bro. W. Gibson, P.G.S.W., Provincial Grand Secretary, then read the minutes of the preliminary meeting, which was confirmed, and also the statement of the accounts and the proceedings of the Charity Committee, all of which were passed. From these it appeared that the lodge is in a prosperous state, after contributing liberally to the various charities, and that the number of members throughout the province is on the increase. The jewels and collars of Office were then collected, and Provincial Grand Officers for the ensuing year were invested by the Provincial Grand Master as under:

- Whitwell, M.P., D. Prov. G.M.
- Porter, 327 and 343 Prov. G.S.W.
- Albott, 129 Prov. G.J.W.
- Richard Musgrave, Bart., Prov. G. Reg.
- 9 Prov. G. Treas.
- Lemon, 327 Prov. G. Chaplain.
- F. W. Wicks, 119 Prov. G. Sec.
- W. Beeby, 137 Prov. G.S.D.
- 3. Gibson, 119 Prov. G. Sec.
- White, 119 Prov. G.S.D.

- D. Crosthwaite, 1073 Pro. G.J.D.
- W. Gill, 872 Pro. G.D.C.
- W. Armstrong, 371 Prov. G.A.D.C.
- J. Bartley, 129 Prov. G.S. of W.
- D. Page, 1074 Prov. G.S.B.
- Bro. G. Atter, 119 Prov. G.P.
- Bro. P. T. Freeman, 1073 Prov. G. Org.
- W. Lamonby, 1073 Prov. G. Tyler.
- Bros. T. Atkinson, 872; W. H. Lewthwaite, 1,002; W. Pratchitt, 310; James Bain, 1,400; Jos. Price, jun., 962; and J. Postlethwaite, 1390; were appointed and invested as Prov. Grand Stewards.

The Provincial Grand Master then closed the Provincial Grand Lodge in due form, assisted by his new officers, the lodge room being much crowded and presenting a most imposing appearance. After the lodge was closed, the Directors of Ceremonies formed the brethren into the proper order for procession to church, the youngest lodge (Millom, 1400) going in the van, preceded by the band of the Cocker-mouth Rifle Volunteers, playing the usual ancient Masonic air, the other lodges following in the order of their age, the brethren of Lodge 119 (Whitehaven) bringing up the rear, next to them being Kendal, Carlisle (Union Lodge), and Wigton (337). The banner of the Provincial Grand Lodge, borne by the Standard-bearer, preceded the Provincial Grand Past and Present Officers, the Provincial Grand Master walking last. Crosthwaite church is about half a mile from Keswick, and the rain falling heavily all the time of the procession marred this part of the proceedings very much.

The sermon was preached by the Rev. Joshua Tyson, of Kirkandrews-on-Eden, Past Provincial Grand Chaplain. He took as his text 1 Corinthians xii, verse 31, "A more excellent way." The "way" alluded to by St. Paul was Charity. The collection taken at the close of the sermon was in aid of the funds of the Newlands School, the curate there having recently enlarged the school and built a home for the master at a large cost, and he was still in debt to the amount of £63 18s. 7d. The preacher said he hoped they would help the clergyman (who is a brother) to clear off the debt. The collection amounted to £69 13s.

Bro. P. E. Freeman presided at the organ, and the musical service was good. As the opening voluntary an introductory march was played. The anthem was "Now unto us O Lord," and as a concluding voluntary was played "The War March," by Mendelssohn. The organ of Crosthwaite Church is, we suppose, only second to the organ at the Cathedral, Carlisle. It contains 3 manuals, and has 32 stops all through. Its cost was, we believe, £800.

The room in which the banquet was held was finely decorated with oil paintings, many of which had been kindly lent by Bro. Pettit, of Keswick. Bro. Armstrong of the Royal Oak Hotel, was the purveyor, and the providing was excellent, wines as well as eatables, and had the civility and attention of some of the waiters been equal to their numbers, those who sat down might have enjoyed it much more. The Earl of Bective, M.P., took the chair, supported on his left by Colonel Whitwell, M.P., Bro. James Porter, Bro. Captain James Braithwaite Wilson, the Rev. W. Beeby, Bro. John Lemon, and Bro. W. G. Gibson; and on his right by the Rev. Canon Gipps, vicar of Keswick, the Rev. H. M. M. Short, vicar of Thornthwaite, Mr. J. Fisher, Crosthwaite, Bro. John Holmes, Bro. H. Talbot, Bro. Dr. Henry, and Bro. D. Page. Grace before meat was said by the Rev. Canon Gipps, and after meat by the Rev. W. Beeby.

On the removal of the cloth the toast of "The Queen" was proposed by the right hon. chairman.

The Chairman then gave "The Prince and Princess of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family." Speaking of the Prince he said he had presided at the head of the Order in England, and right glad were they to see him preside in that office again, because he had shown himself a good Freemason. (Applause and cheers.) But the pleasure was mingled with regret, because it was on account of the curious thing that the Earl de Grey and Ripon had resigned the Grand Mastership of the Order that he at present held it. It was more to be regretted because the Marquis of Ripon was a man who by his amiability and by the manner in which he had conducted himself in the chair, had won the respect and esteem of all the Order, but it was still more to be regretted that there should exist such a body of men, religious or otherwise, who should make it a sine qua non that to join their body they should leave the ranks of Freemasonry. He must therefore give the toast with pleasure, mixed with regret that it was through an unfortunate occurrence that he had to take the Grand Mastership of their Order. He was glad to see that the Duke of Connaught had joined the Order.

The next toast was "The Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese, and including the Clergy of all Denominations," given by Bro. Colonel Whitwell, D.P.G.M. He said that it seemed to be asserted from a recent occurrence that Freemasonry was incompatible with religion. Now, if it was the fact that the list of officers of no lodge was complete without a Chaplain, and that the very fundamental principles of their Order were founded on the teachings of the Bible—which was an essential part of every lodge—then they could not be accused of not asserting those influences of religion which they all cherished as the fondest feeling of their hearts. He thought when such a state of things existed it was high time that they should protest against it in every way they could. He concluded by proposing the toast, coupled with the name of the Rev. Canon Gibbs, vicar of the parish, and the Rev. Joshua Tyson, who taught them that if there was anything Freemasons ought to cherish and study it was the Bible, which was dear to every Freemason. Canon Gibbs and the Rev. Joshua Tyson replied.

"The Army, Navy, and Volunteers" was proposed by Bro. Sir R. C. Musgrave, and replied to by Quarter-Master Noakes, and Captain Braithwaite Wilson.

This concluding the "Loyal and Patriotic Toasts," and the Masonic toasts coming on, the non-Masonic few of the assembly had to leave the room, the door was "close tyled," and the remainder of the evening was spent in the proposition and proper reception of the toasts peculiar to the brethren.

ILLNESS OF THE DUKE OF LEINSTER.

We regret to announce the serious illness of the Duke of Leinster, Grand Master of Ireland. From the daily bulletins issued by his medical attendants, it is to be feared that his Grace is gradually sinking, and that there is little hope of his recovery.

The annual supper of the Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, No. 903, held at Bro. Green's, the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales-road, Kentish Town, will be held on Friday evening, October 16th, at the above house at 7 o'clock, to be presided over by Bro. R. N. Field, W.M. of the Mother Lodge, supported by Bro. P. M. Wuest, the esteemed preceptor.

At a Masonic demonstration in Liverpool, on Wednesday, the 7th inst., Lord Skelmersdale referred to the new Grand Master, the Prince of Wales, who had, he said, proved himself a good Mason, and shown that he intended to follow in the footsteps of his Royal brother. Referring to the secession of the Marquis of Ripon, his lordship said he would not say one word about his lordship's decision, and they could only regard his lordship as one of the best Grand Masters who had ever ruled the Order. They were sorry his lordship had left them, and he might add, he was sorry for the cause of the secession.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—For bad legs, bad breasts, scorbutic and scrofulous sores, this is an infallible specific. The loud expressions of earnest gratitude made by thousands who have experienced its unrivalled power over these complaints, and who have been raised from prostrate helplessness and a condition loathsome to themselves and others, render it quite unnecessary to enlarge in this place upon its extraordinary virtues. The parts affected should be bathed with lukewarm water, and when the pores are thereby opened the Ointment should be well rubbed in, at least twice a day. It is always advisable to take Holloway's Pills in these disorders, as the action of the Ointment is thereby wonderfully enhanced. The Pills check fever, purify the blood, and eject all morbid matter engendered by diseases.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V., and VI. each ...	15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Two-pence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY, FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY. Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenæum.

"The edition we are now considering is a second English edition, which had the great advantage of Bro. D. M. Lyon's able superintendence and editorship in its English dress. There can be no doubt but, that so far, Bro. Findel's work is the most complete work on Freemasonry which has yet appeared, and that he deserves the greatest credit for his careful and accurate treatment of all evidence on the subject, and for his honest desire after truth. Bro. Findel gives up in the view he has so clearly and consistently put forth our early Masonic history, the older theory of the Roman Colleges, &c., and limits the origin of Freemasonry to about the twelfth century, and as then arising from the operative Masons, and specially the "Steinmetzen" and "Bauhütten" of Germany. Bro. Findel gives us a good deal of evidence on this head, and one thing is clear from his work, that the German Freemasons were, at a very early period, organized into lodges with a Master over them, and with outward regulations and inner ceremonies peculiar to the Craft. Bro. Findel rejects all the views which have been from time to time put forward of a Templar or a Rosicrucian origin. Whether or no Bro. Findel's theory of the date of the rise of Freemasonry be correct, matters very little: we do not ourselves profess to accept it; but this we can fairly say of Bro. Findel's work, it is marked from first to last by the most remarkable token of industry, ability, and care, of patient research, and of skillful criticism. We know of no work which so clearly sets before us our amount of knowledge up to the present time on the great question of Masonic Archaeology, and there can be little doubt that what Preston's work is to English Freemasonry, Findel's work is to cosmopolitan Freemasonry. Indeed no student in Masonry can now dispense with it, and it is a perfect storehouse both of Masonic evidence and Masonic illustrations. We earnestly recommend all the lodges in this country to obtain a copy for the lodge library before the work is bought up for America; and we believe that no Mason will rise from the perusal of its pages without a higher idea both of the historical truth and intrinsic value of Freemasonry, and of fraternal regard and recognition to the latest and not the least well-informed or effective of our Masonic historians. The present century has produced no such equal, in authority and usefulness, to the great work of our Bro. Findel, and we wish him and it, in all of fraternal sympathy and kindly intent, many earnest readers, and more grateful students."—The Masonic Magazine.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence. Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.
Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d.
Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Second Edition, Now Ready, 1/6.

A MASONIC MUSICAL SERVICE

In the key of C. for A., T., T., B.

Opening and Closing Odes.

Craft Ceremonies.

Royal Arch Ceremony.

Consecration Ceremony.

Grace before and after Meat.

COMPOSED BY DR. J. C. BAKER, NO. 241.

LONDON.—Geo. Kenning, 198, Fleet-street; and 1, 2, and 3, Little Britain.

" R. Spencer, 26, Great Queen-street.

LIVERPOOL.—Geo. Kenning, 2, Monument-place.

MANCHESTER.—E. Henry & Co., 59, Deansgate.

DUBLIN.—C. Hedgcock, 26, Grafton-street.

GLASGOW.—Geo. Kenning, 145, Argyle-street.

In the Press.

Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 3s. 6d.

A full Coloured Book of

MASONIC CLOTHING AND JEWELS.

From Master Mason to the 30th Degree inclusive.

London, GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

Now ready, 12mo., 208 pages, handsomely bound in cloth; price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 8d.

THE ISRAELITES FOUND IN THE ANGLO-SAXONS.

The Ten Tribes supposed to have been lost traced from the land of their captivity to their occupation of the Isles of the Sea. With an exhibition of those traits of character and national characteristics assigned to Israel in the Books of the Hebrew Prophets, by Bro. WM. CARPENTER, Author of "Scientia Biblica," "Scriptura Natural History," "Guide to the Reading of the Bible," "Lectures on Biblical Criticism and Interpretation," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critica Biblica," "Calendarium Palestinae," "An Introduction to the Reading and Study of the English Bible, and Editor of the fifth large edition of "Calmet's Dictionary of the Bible," and of the abridgement of the same, etc., etc. etc.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

4th Edition, now ready, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

REFLECTED RAYS OF LIGHT UPON FREEMASONRY.

OR THE FREEMASONS' POCKET COMPENDIUM. With Emblematical Frontispiece. A handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, and Pocket Vade Mecum, and guide to the various ceremonies connected with Craft Masonry, so far as the same are allowed to be communicable in accordance with the principles of the Order.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

Published under the Patronage of
H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G.,
Patron of the Order.

In Imperial Octavo, bound in gilt cloth, richly ornamented; price £1 11s. 6d.,

HISTORY OF THE LODGE OF EDINBURGH

(MARY'S CHAPEL) No. 1.

EMBRACING AN ACCOUNT OF THE RISE AND PROGRESS OF FREEMASONRY IN SCOTLAND.

By Bro. DAVID MURRAY LYON.

With Twenty-six Fac-similes of Ancient Statutes, Minutes of various Lodges, Seals, and Orders, &c., and Authentic Portraits and Autographs of Sixty eminent Craftsmen of the past and present time.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

THE LIFE OF CONSTANTINE.

Written in Greek, by EUSEBIUS PAMPHILUS, (Bishop of Cæsarea in Palestine).

Done into English from that edition, set forth by VALESIUS, and printed in Paris in the year 1659.

Preface by Bros. R. Wentworth Little, Treas. Gen. and the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, Past Grand Chaplain, With Engravings of Constantine; the Duke of Sussex, P.G. Sov.; Lord Raouliffe, P.G. Sov.; Earl Bective, M.P., P.G. Sov.; Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart, M.P., M.I.G. Sov.; Col. Francis Burdett, V.I.G.S. Gen.; Robert Wentworth Little, I.G.T., &c.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

SECOND EDITION.—NOW READY.

Price One Shilling, Post-free, Revised and Enlarged. Freemasonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle,

By Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON.

(Past Master, No. 393, England.)

THIS work is a perfect handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, founded on the Ancient Charges and Symbols, and will be found to be eminently practical and useful in the vindication and support of the Order.

Office, 198, Fleet-street.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.

MASONIC GATHERINGS.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.

Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c.
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

Shortly will be published,

"THE DEFENCE OF FREEMASONRY,"

By Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C.

Published by Bro. GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

The following stand over:—Reports of Lodge 620, Harwich; Chapter 310, Carlisle; Mark Lodges 138, Bolton; and 70, Ipswich.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1874.

A RITUALISTIC ATTACK UPON FREEMASONRY.

We print, with much regret, the following extraordinary article and rabid attack upon Freemasonry, verbatim et literatim, from a ritualistic paper, called the Church Herald, of date Sept. 30th. We think, that most of our readers will share in our astonishment, and feel not a little indignant, that such incriminations of our peaceful Order, and such a peculiar tone of religious sentiment and language should emanate from a professedly Church of England newspaper. But curiously enough, just as our Roman Catholic Antagonists are apt to have recourse to the most vulgar, and, we may add, ribald language, with respect to Freemasonry, when they become, as they are, apparently just now, both most unreasoning and intolerant, so as we have often noticed some of our young ritualists are rather apt to think that their expressions are both pointed and forcible, when they are indeed only rowdy in tone, and low-sensational in taste. For obvious reasons we give the whole of this wonderful piece of composition for the information and consideration of our readers, for though worthless in itself, and very unprofitable reading, it claims our urgent attention.

The secession of Lord Ripon to the Church Rome, and his resignation of all his office amongst the Freemasons has reasonably enough caused some excitement. His old allies, belonging to the various secret societies who exist as Freemasons, are naturally very much annoyed at his resignation—though why they should be we are altogether at a loss to understand. Most Freemasons are either Protestants or Deists, and hold strongly to the "right private judgment." Why, then, when an accomplished and high-principled nobleman after due examination and inquiry—thinks fit to exercise his own judgment, should not the right be conceded to him, as all his former so loftily and universally claim and exercise themselves? It is simply monstrous. Lordship should have been so abused and because he has thought it his conscientious duty to join the Roman Catholic Church. As to his resignation of his Masonic offices, nothing could be more wise and more honorable. He acknowledges no authority, and (like a reasonable being), forms no part of the Church of Rome. He has not even formally condemned Freemasonry, and amongst those who hold that such a condemnation is right, true, and timely. The slight and slender correspondence which has taken place in our own columns on this subject, has been eminently shallow; and the defender of Freemasonry, a correspondent who signed himself "Audi Alteram Partem," entirely misses the point of the very practical objection of "Oxonensis," whom he endeavours to answer.

In our columns the consideration of Freemasonry has been accidentally mixed up with the A.P.U.C., because, when it became necessary to elect a new President some few years ago, Lord Elliot, a high-principled and experienced peer, as well as a very hearty English Churchman—but a Freemason—was appointed to that important post. Several persons (certainly hearty friends of the Re-union movement) regretted this election, solely on the ground of his Lordship belonging to the Freemasons; being confident, as they asserted, the Church public would soon find out, and as it is now fully and plainly discovered, that no Roman Catholics could henceforward honestly be expected to join the association, of which the Head and Chief was a Freemason. And of course no Roman Catholics (or next to none) have joined it. The A.P.U.C. is far weaker than it was.

For ourselves, not being Freemasons, we know nothing whatever about the system, except what every outsider may know. The following fact, however, is evident to all outsiders, that Freemasonry is a system that sets up in the world an unity utterly distinct from, and wholly independent of, if not directly antagonistic to, the Church or Family of Jesus Christ. The sacred bond of baptism, the principle of Christian fellowship is ignored, and a new and unknown principle (but a very real and energizing one) is adopted, which is common at once to lax Christians and heathens. As a practical example of what we mean we may just put on record the following remarks, made in France by Abd-el-Kader, a Mason but a heathen: "In my opinion every man who does not profess Freemasonry (which I consider to be the first institution in the world) is an incomplete man." At a banquet of Masons of Gloucestershire and Worcestershire a certain Dr. Bowles, an English clergyman, commenting on the Pope's well-known Allocation against Freemasonry, in quoting the above with approbation remarked: "It seems to me that Abd-el-Kader, Infidel though he be, is a far better Christian than the Pope." Thus Dr. Bowles avowedly prefers, and glories in preferring, the liberty of the Infidel to the exclusiveness of Christianity—in other words, Humanitarianism to the Faith, by and through the printarianism of the Craft. This is our chief and great objection to it, and to every believer in the Incarnation it ought to be sufficient to warn him from having anything whatsoever to do with such an Institution. On this point an outsider is perfectly competent to express an opinion.

But we have further objections, and they are these: Freemasonry is notoriously founded on a basis of religious indifference. No matter what a man's religion is, he may become "a member of the Craft." Now, as faith, as the necessity of holding certain tenets and of believing certain dogmas, is of the essence of Christianity, so the very antithesis of this true and good principle—a stolid and steady indifference to all religious doctrine, the hearty welcome and formal reception of True and False alike into the bosom of Freemasonry is to that system at once the condition and cause of its existence. Hence it is perfectly idle of our correspondent to write about "immense sums known to be annually expended among Masons in private charity." Charity does not and cannot exist amongst Masons—philanthropy may (and possibly does), but philanthropy and charity have different roots, different stems, and, by consequence, different fruits. A leading English Mason allowed us to take down the following from his lips, only last week:—"If to myself, as a Freemason, two persons in equally distressed circumstances came for temporal relief, the one being a Christian and the other a Brahmin; and if the Brahmin signified that he belonged to our fraternity and the Christian did not, I should be bound to relieve the Brahmin in preference to the Christian. In that rests the beauty and value of our benevolence and true charity."

One is Pagan and Heathen: the other is Christian. No matter, then, how benevolent its intentions and deeds may be (if benevolent they are), Freemasonry is absolutely and altogether incompatible with Christianity. Its essential and leading principle (as an outsider can see, and as no Mason can deny), is Indifferentism. "It does not matter one iota of what religion you are. One is as good as another,—or as bad as another—if people like to put the question in that form. Mahometanism to a Mason is as good as Christianity, and Christianity as Buddhism. We have Mahometan Masons, Protestant Masons, Buddhist Masons, and Deistical Masons. It is all one with us. Each is welcomed. They are all fish which come to the wide-meshed net of Freemasonry." And this, we need not say, is naked Indifferentism. Now speculative Indifferentism leads directly to Pantheism. A Mason and a Christian, therefore, if each be true to his Creed, can no more mix than fire and water. Furthermore, the Masonic principles of equality, of liberty, and of universality, tend to destroy civil authority, the obedience of subjects and patriotism. In France, during the last century, Voltaire, D'Alembert, and Diderot notoriously used the lodges of Masonry for preaching and proclaiming their humanitarian dogmas of Liberty, Fraternity, and Equality,—with what result we need not stay to point out. As the French revolution followed quickly upon the Masonic Congress, held in France A.D. 1785, so the numerous well-planned continental revolutions of 1848, followed within twelve months upon the Strasburg Congress of Masons in 1847. We might say more in detail, but this suffices. Let our readers work out the problem and its results.

Here in England some of the Lodges may be harmless as regards action; but none can be untouched or untainted by the false principle already set forth, which is at the root of the subject. Masonry substitutes humanitarianism for Christianity, using Christians to cover its designs and aid its purposes. To belong to any lodge, therefore, a man must practically fore-swear the Church and deny Christ; or (we are charitable in our alternative) act in invincible ignorance of the leading and avowed principles of the Craft. Authority in the Roman Church has spoken, and spoken plainly; and, if we English Churchmen would seek and pray for union, we must not act in opposition to known principles, nor ignore patent facts when Re-union is being laboured for.

In Italy and Belgium it is notorious that abandoned women have been sent by the Freemasons to early mass, to commit an awful sacrilegious theft, so that the more political and darker Masonic sects may perpetrate at their dark orgies the most diabolical blasphemies—blasphemies which could only come direct from the lodge whose Grand Master is Satan. Finally. Do our readers forget that when Wilkes was initiated into the Masonic "Hell-fire Club" he pretended to give Communion to an ape?

We by no means assert that all Masons are like those of Italy, Belgium, and Medmenham Abbey. But the principle of Masonry being inherently and essentially anti-Christian, its darker developments follow as a matter of course, when men are ripe for them.

What do our readers now think of this choice article on Freemasonry, by a professed Church of England newspaper? We leave out the whole of the so-called "indifferentism" argument, as it is far too important to treat in itself briefly and imperfectly as our space only allows, and we will simply advert to the most painful aspect of the case, represented by these astounding allegations and animadversions, namely the apparent insensibility to the need and importance of truth. First of all we decline any connection Masonically with the "leading English Freemason," put forward so pompously by the Church Herald, as an irrefragable witness in the matter. We do not believe in the existence of this "Bro. Harris," and we entirely repudiate his (after dinner evidently,) remarks and assertions. No "leading English Mason" could possibly talk such nonsense, or palm off on our Order, or any one else, his ridiculous parody alike of our acts, and our tenets. In the next place it is lamentable to find a professedly educated man, a member avowedly of the Church of England too, repeating the Jesuit rubbish of the last century, and mixing up Voltaire, and D'Alembert and Diderot, with the lodges of French Freemasons, with whom we believe they had as little to do as the "Man in the Moon." Will some well-informed brother enlighten us on the "Masonic Congress of 1785," or the "Strasburg Assembly, of 1847," from the former of which proceeded clearly the French Revolution, and from the latter the Parisian Emeute of 1848? Now these are uncontestable facts of history, according to the Church Herald! And if we smile sadly at this foolish writer, his ignorance of history, and his childish and purely fictitious inferences, what can we say of those two dreadful lies, (we can use no other words), with which he closes this mournful outpouring of the "vials of wrath," from a professed or a secret Jesuit? Can any of our Italian or Belgian brethren tell us where this fearful falsehood, (for we feel well it is one), of religious profanity has arisen? Probably from some unscrupulous assailant of Freemasonry, little caring for truth, and less for Christianity. For how can we characterize the last unblushing mendacity of all, that the Medmenham orgies had anything to do with Freemasonry or Freemasons? Anything more wicked, or more malevolent as a falsehood in itself, or more disgraceful as a proof of hopeless ineptitude and crass ignorance we have never before perused. Surely such attacks bring their own answer. They are so deplorably discreditable to him who makes them, and so obviously untrue and unjustifiable, that they fall at once from their own inherent corruption, falsity, and indecency. We can only pity a religious school of thought and practice, whose supporters in the press can use such language, disgraceful to any one, but above all to a journal which professes to be, bonâ fide, a journal of the kindly and tolerant Church of England.

VERBUM SAT SAPIENTI.

We published in our impression of last week a letter signed "Verbum sat Sapienti," which we felt bound to allow to appear in our pages, though it savoured greatly of personal attack and personal incrimination. We thought that in this hour of doubt and anxiety, (when our late Grand Master has departed from us we cannot help feeling and regretting, with but scant words of fraternal regard and sympathy,) that the minds of Masons, despite the reassuring announcement of the acceptance of the rulership of the Craft by our Royal Brother the Prince of Wales, are in a state of considerable anxiety and excitement; we thought, we repeat, that such a question, if asked bonâ fide, and on reasonable grounds, might fairly be put, and as fairly answered in The Freemason. No persons in the world object more to anything like personality than we do, and we should be the first to decry and discourage any morbid taste for idle gossip or mischievous slander, merely for sensational purposes. V. S. S.

states that the rumour, to which he calls attention, is prevalent amongst the Metropolitan brethren. It may be so, but we confess, when we first casually heard of it, a week ago, with reference to the statement of V.S.S., we could hardly believe it to be either probable or even possible. But we did not see how we could refuse to insert a letter of this kind, which though no doubt strong in its verbiage and using language about our late Grand Master which is hardly justifiable, in our humble opinion, under any circumstances, yet professes to call attention to a subject which the writer states has obtained great currency in the Order. Under such a condition of things, silence is no longer "golden," as the proverb says, but becomes a great mistake. If, the brother alluded to by V. S. S. be the distinguished brother most of our readers will understand is thus attacked, we feel bound to say that we have every warrant in believing the statement and suspicion are alike unfounded, as unworthy as baseless. But V. S. S. has not mentioned any name, and therefore we may be wrong in our supposition. We must, however, bear in mind that because Lord Ripon has become a Roman Catholic, we have no right, on our own principles, to "run a muck" at all Roman Catholic brethren. On the contrary, to be both consistent and liberal—and Freemasonry is ever both—we should hail gladly the appearance of our Roman Catholic brethren amongst us. But when we say this, we admit, that, we can hardly understand how any person can be both a Jesuit and a Freemason, at the same time. Such a case might happen, though we do not profess to understand how consistently with the secret constitution and vows of a Jesuit, he could be a Freemason, honestly. If, however, V. S. S., like too many people just now, has rested his suspicion on no safer basis than some idle "canard," or his own fertile imagination, he has incurred a very grave responsibility indeed towards the Craft as a Mason, as nothing is so odious to our Order as anonymous or surreptitious slander, and no Freemason has a right to assail the fair fame of a brother Freemason, to injure his reputation, or seek to weaken his prestige, either through some motives of unlawful curiosity or of petty gossip, or of childish credulity, or from a censorious tongue, or an unbrotherly spirit of detraction, or from feelings of personal animosity. Having offered our warnings as we are bound to do, writing chiefly for the honour of the Craft, and in the interest of truth, and right, and justice equally to all our brethren, we leave the subject, for the present, for future elucidation and disposal.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

THE ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

After all that has been said upon this subject, I am sure you will see no reason to change the opinion expressed in your note to the first letter of "Soldier Freemason," and I, for one, entirely agree with your remarks, notwithstanding the observations of Bro. Curteis; for although the General commanding the Western District did undoubtedly prohibit the non-commissioned officers from taking part in the procession (and I think I have satisfied you privately on that point) yet the Committee of management are much to blame—especially the military members thereof—for they should have taken care that there was nothing in the official programme which would have the effect of excluding their military brethren from taking their part in the splendid Masonic reception accorded to our Royal Brother. Besides, when the programme was drawn up, the Committee did not know that the General would not allow the non-commissioned officers to join the procession. Again, had a deputation from that Committee waited on the General and represented the matter properly, doubtless the prohibition would have been withdrawn. There is no class of men more loyal, more hard-working, more estimable, than the non-commissioned officers of the British army; and the reception of His Royal Highness, magnificent as it was, would have been very considerably enhanced by the presence of such a body of military Masons as the Plymouth garrison can put on parade. I was so sadly disappointed at the exclusion of my comrades that (had I known the true state of affairs then, as I now do), although I travelled a long way to take part in the proceedings, I would have kept aloof from the procession, and would have done my best to induce all other officers to withdraw too. The non-commissioned officers have just cause of complaint, and I fully sympathize with them; but it seems to me the case would be fully met, and all heart-burning (of which there is undoubtedly a good deal) soothed if the Committee would send you for publication a joint letter, expressing their regret for the unfortunate contretemps. This, I think, is the least they can do, and our military brethren are certainly entitled to an apology of some sort for the neglect under which they suffered.

Believe me, yours fraternally,
"L.R.O."

28th Sept., 1874.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

On my return to town I referred to my memoranda and found the particulars of the case I alluded to, as follows:—

On June 21st, 1871, the Provincial Grand Lodge of Kent was held at the Priory, St. Martin's Hill, Dover. The brethren then marched in procession to St. Mary's Church, and two corporals of the Royal Engineers were among them. The two corporals were placed under arrest, for disobeying orders, and appearing in public improperly dressed, that is to say, with Masonic aprons and gloves. They had rendered themselves liable to degradation to the ranks, with such further punishment as their commanding officer might see fit to inflict. Sentence however was not passed immediately, but the matter was referred to the Duke of Cambridge, for his approval, and what he decided I never heard. Doubtless the Prov. Grand Sec. for Kent can give further details. I was not present, and differ with Bro. Hughan as to what I "ought" to have done. Every soldier knows the law, although some may reckon upon its not being enforced.

Yours truly and fraternally,
P.G.D.

[We agree with our excellent brother in principle, but numerous precedents, we believe, exist of soldiers appearing with Masonic clothing, "permissu superiorum."—Ed.]

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have perused with care most of the discussion hanging upon the circumstances connected with the recent Masonic proceedings at Plymouth. I very much deplore the fact, that the non-commissioned officers were not allowed as Masons to join in the procession. In these days of improved education, they are, no doubt, intelligent as men, and zealous in their attachment to our ancient Order, also loyal to our monarchical Institutions. But I wish to submit the following considerations:—

1. As to party or political processions as prohibited to soldiers. Everybody—within the pale of Freemasonry or not—is aware, that in this country, at any rate, there is no ground of suspicion that the Order contemplates sedition in any form. All Freemasons are loyal citizens.

2. All commissioned officers can and do attend Masonic processions as they think fit; but they would naturally appear in plain clothes, with Masonic regalia at their discretion. I do not think the Queen's Regulations touch these matters in respect of officers holding Her Majesty's commission.

3. It is well known, however, that soldiers in the ranks are compelled to dress at all times in correct uniform, without deviation of any kind, whether in garrison, or on furlough at a distance. How, then can they appear in public distinguished as Freemasons? I have already said that I deplore the fact, but so it is. In lodge a soldier can wear the distinguishing badges of our ancient Order, but he is there protected from the public gaze. This seems to me a simple view of the matter.

Yours truly and fraternally,

WILLIETT L. ADVE.
R.A., K.T. and 30° K.H.

26th Sept., 1874.

[The whole point turns upon this, are there not many precedents of non-commissioned officer brethren appearing in uniform with Masonic clothing "permissu superiorum"?—Ed.]

OUR LATE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I must confess to having read with regret the letter of "H. M. G." in your last letter.

The Grand Master, like any other man, is perfectly justified in exercising his inalienable right of private judgment as to which denomination of Christians he thinks it most desirable to belong to. Certainly if majorities are always right, (which is part of our political religion) the late G.M. is right in the course he has adopted. And having joined the Roman Catholic communion, what else could he properly do than withdraw from all quasi-religious societies which do not acknowledge the Pope as their head.

Either Masonry is a religious society, or it is not. If it is, it undoubtedly lays itself open to the charge, (and it glories in it) that it accepts the standpoint of the Deist, in order to please non-Christians. This, the Roman Catholics, and many members of the Church of England as well, consider want of faithfulness to Christ. If it is not a religious society, then undoubtedly a lodge is never opened without a breach of the third commandment. In either case therefore, no consistent Roman Catholic can belong to a lodge. That lodges support schools in which what Roman Catholics consider heresy or irreligion is encouraged clearly enough makes matters worse from the Roman Catholic standpoint.

Let us at any rate be just, and try to see matters as our opponents see them, before we form our judgment upon their conduct.

P. M.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Your communicated article on Rome and Freemasonry contains grave charges against our late Grand Master, which, I believe, it is utterly impossible to maintain. Let us not forget that Lord Ripon has served us well. Now, that for private reasons of his own he withdraws from us, let us not follow him with absurd accusations. We must give him that liberty in religious matters which we claim for ourselves. May I ask "Verbum Sat Sapienti" to name the brother who has for years directed the councils of the Craft, and who is affiliated to the Society of the Jesuits, and also to tell us what the "much" is which in the course of recent events has appeared to him to be mysterious, and which Lord Ripon's resignation has now explained to him. I am a Past Master of more than ten years' standing, but I have not yet seen the Jesuit brother, or realized the mystery. "English Freemasonry," says "Verbum Sat Sapienti," "had a right to judge."

by his acts." The Volume of the Sacred Law says, "Judge not and ye shall not be judged; condemn not and ye shall not be condemned."

I remain, yours fraternally,
THE EXCELLENT KEY.

ORDERS OF THE TEMPLE AND MALTA.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In looking over the Freemason of Saturday last, I found a letter from P.E.C., deploring the state of the Order of the Temple, brought about by the recent alterations in the statutes.

As a rule of life, I refrain from and disapprove of others using the columns of a newspaper for stating their grievances on Masonic matters, but in this occasion, I am pleased to find that some one has had courage to ventilate the subject—and hope the state and prospects of the Order will be freely discussed in the columns of the Freemason, the accepted organ of the whole Craft. The letter from P.E.C. will, I hope, be the means of rousing the Sir Knights to a proper sense of duty, and a better knowledge of the Order and the landmarks thereof.

When these alterations were being enacted, I was much opposed to them, and raised my voice expressive of the fears I had for the result, but was overruled and persuaded by those in whom I put my trust, that some good purpose would be served to the Order by the alteration. What is good purpose was, or whether it has been accomplished, I know not. One thing I know, I have had to pay 10s. 6d. to the funds of the Great Priory for the honour of being installed Preceptor for the year, at the end of which I shall—retire with the honours of a full private—as this office does not carry past rank—whilst P.E.C.—all honour to him, I don't blame him—was installed Eminent Commander of his Encampment for nothing; at all events, he was compelled by the statutes to pay. The fact under the good old constitutions P.E.C. got past rank and paid nothing, whilst I, under the new, got nothing, and have to pay 10s. 6d. for it. This is the good purpose to be served.

I have been a Knight Templar for ten years, during which time I can safely say I have done my duty, never neglected a single meeting of my Encampment, but have always been ready, willing, and able to do anything for the good of the Order, which I entered in the full belief that was a part indissoluble from Masonry, and that honours would be conferred on worthy Companions in this, as in other degrees of Freemasonry. I object to the severance from itsasonic connection, and I object to pay fees of our if I am not to be allowed past rank. If I am to be stripped at the end of term of office, the stripes and honours gained since the alterations referred to, whilst others who have come before are allowed to retain theirs, what incentive is there for our younger members to strive and follow in the footsteps of those who have been rewarded? The distinctions of Grand Master and Grand Commander are too scarce ever to reach me, no matter how I work, in fact, I do not aspire to anything so high, but will be satisfied if I can be allowed to retain past rank, wear the stripes I have honourably earned in office to which I have been, or may be appointed.

Enclose you copy of memorial, sent to me by every preceptor in the Province of Lancashire, and adopted by the Committee appointed by the Provincial Priory at Preston, to consider suggestions referred to by P.E.C. I trust you will insert the same for the information, and necessary, the guidance of the whole body of Sir Knights, and that they will set to work and persevere their efforts until the prayer thereof be accomplished, and the obnoxious statutes are repealed.

W. DAVIES, Preceptor.

September 29th, 1874.

The following is the memorial alluded to:—
To the very high and eminent Great Prior of the United Religious and Military Orders of the Temple and of St. John of Jerusalem, Palestine, Cyprus, and Malta in England and Wales and Dependencies thereof.

The humble petition of the.....Preceptory of the Province of Lancashire, sheweth—

"That your memorialists view with regret and disapprobation several of the innovations introduced into the Constitution and Government of the Order of the recently enacted statutes of the Convent General. They believe that the changes to which they refer do not tend to the elevation or advantage of the Order, but are rather derogatory to its dignity, destructive of its traditions, and productive of disaffection amongst its members.

"They are of opinion that the omission of the defining term "Masonic" from the title of the order is objectionable. In the present day at least, the Order of the Temple is essentially a Masonic Order; and your memorialists believe strongly that any indication, however remote, of an intention to dissociate the Order from Masonry would be viewed with equal alarm by Templars and Masons.

"They consider the abolition of Past Rank most injurious. It deprives Sir Knights of a laudable incentive to zeal in promoting the welfare of the Order. The possession of Grand and Provincial Grand Rank, being confined to the year of office, will cease to be regarded as objects of ambition. The abolition of the distinction of P.E.C., and of the privilege of wearing the distinctive insignia of past rank, will also operate as a discouragement to activity in the interests of the Order.

The newly-created honours of "Grand Cross" and "Grand Commander" being attainable only at the pleasure of the Great Priory, a door will be opened to insinuations of exclusiveness and favoritism, leading to consequent dissatisfaction. Your memorialists further consider that the alteration of the titles "Encampment" and "Eminent Commander," to Preceptory and Preceptor, and also the changes in the titles of other officers, as well as of the Great Priory and the Provincial Priory, as of Private Preceptories, although they are stated to be taken from historical authority, appear to be useless and frivolous innovations, calculated rather to excite ridicule than to elevate the dignity of the Order.

"Your memorialists therefore humbly pray that the statutes may be revised and amended with the view of removing the objections entertained by them thereto.

"Signed on behalf of the.....Preceptory, at a meeting held this.....day of.....
A.L. 5876., A.O. 754. and A.D. 1874.

(Signed,) Preceptor.
..... Constable.
..... Marshal.
..... Registrar.

ORDER OF THE TEMPLE AND MALTA IN IRELAND.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

While your correspondent "P.E.C." is waiting for "some one in authority" to reply to some of his very pertinent queries, it may interest him to learn that the Irish members of the Order are quite as dissatisfied with the recent changes as their English brethren, and in fact, are, I fancy, more disgusted with results, having special "grounds for grumbling."

Whatever may be the issue in England, it is pretty confidently anticipated here that if matters continue in their present direction it will soon be a question of revolution or extinction.

A very large number of old members have practically withdrawn from active fellowship, having been forced into that course of conduct by the introduction of laws which they will not submit to.

One change which specially affects us here is connected with the "clothing." The Irish Templars for a series of years past have used the Black Masonic Apron, Gauntlets and Sash. When the union of the two branches was passed, a circular was issued bearing the signature of the Grand Recorder, and purporting to explain the meaning of the "Statutes of the Convent General." In dealing with the "clothing," that official document stated, "The Insignia and Habit are altered, for particulars of which see the statutes of the Convent General. All present Knights may, however, continue to wear in their preceptories the dress to which they were legally entitled." Subsequently the Great Priory Laws, Ireland, were adopted, and amongst those laws are two, No. 13, commencing "No Knight under the jurisdiction of the Grand Master, shall be permitted to attend any meeting of the Great Priory, unless he appear in black dress or uniform, and with the sword, tunic, and mantle of the Order, according to the Statutes of the Convent General;" and the other, No. 73, reading thus, "No Knight shall be admitted to any meeting of Preceptory, unless he appears in the proper costume of his rank in the Order, nor unless he be personally known or vouched as a Knight Templar belonging to a Preceptory under the jurisdiction of the Grand Master, or under a jurisdiction recognised by the Convent General. Every Knight during his continuance in the Preceptory shall be subject to the bye-laws of the Preceptory."

The first clause of this latter rule is in direct opposition to the official statement of the 19th January, and the effect has been most mischievous. The old members who have been, as they consider "sold," are naturally indignant, being shut out not only from their place in the Great Priory, but also from their own preceptories, in consequence of their not adopting the habit and mantle, which many of them declare they will never put on, and the unfairness of the whole proceedings has already drawn forth a protest from a "Grand Cross" of the Order against the legality of the proceedings of Great Priory since the exclusion of its legitimate members.

Having thus excluded a number of Past Commanders, and thus avoided what might and would, in all probability, have proved hostile votes, a few members of Great Priory passed, of course in legal manner, a resolution to call in all existing warrants, and to replace them "free of charge" by new ones from the new authorities. Our present warrants confer on us the right to work other degrees than those of the Temple and Malta, and the calling in of those warrants is clearly part of a persistent plan to establish in Ireland a rite which claims control over a number of degrees, and has for years been trying here to put its theories into practice. An attempt to get possession of the "Rose Croix" degree has since been made and defeated. It will sufficiently illustrate the effect of the law excluding members of Great Priory not "properly clothed" from its meetings, when I state that the voters on the warrant question, important as it was felt to be, numbered in all, as well as my memory serves me, fourteen. Nine for calling them in, and five against.

Two points are pretty clearly understood: the brethren at large will not wear the dress, and the warrants will not be surrendered. It remains to be seen what action "those in authority" may consider it prudent to take.

If it be the intention of those "behind the scenes" to distinguish the Order of the Temple in Ireland, their recent actions may have been dictated by "sound policy." As far as Freemasonry is concerned, it is of very little consequence what the result is, those who were friendly to the Templar Order as an offshoot from the Masonic system, are disposed to look on it now, with its absurd pretensions to a chivalric origin, as a farce and an imposition, and if their views are correct, the more completely it is disassociated from Freemasonry, the better for the latter.

JOSEPH H. WOODWORTH.
Preceptory 245.

Dublin, 28th September, 1874.

VISITING BRETHREN.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Is a brother at liberty to attend a lodge as a visitor at any or every lodge meeting, providing he is regularly vouched for, and a subscribing member to his own lodge. The clause No. 3, page 89, in Book of Constitutions, provides for a brother not being a subscribing member, and from there being nothing to the contrary stated, I conclude, as a subscribing member to a lodge, he would be at liberty to visit any other. Trusting you will allow me to ask this question,

I am, yours obediently and fraternally,
H. L. J.

SCOTTISH FREEMASONRY

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Your leading article on "Scottish Freemasonry" on Saturday has grieved me very much. To think a brother in your position should write an article upon a subject you seem to be quite ignorant of. In the first place you say that the private lodges have no income except what arises from the initiation fees. I don't know what you mean by the term "private lodges," as I know of none such; (at least in Glasgow) but for your information I may state that there is scarcely a lodge in Glasgow but what has an annual subscription imposed upon its members as a test of membership, and instead of having recourse to "Emergency" lodges for initiation to make their ends meet, there is not one of the twenty-six lodges in Glasgow but has a considerable sum to their credit in the various banks throughout the city. This I assert without the fear of contradiction, so much for your information about the private lodges. In your next remarks your ignorance about Scottish Freemasonry is still further displayed, when you state that Scottish Masonry has no Benevolent Fund of any value or importance. I again assert that this statement is in entire opposition to facts; for in Glasgow there is a Benevolent Fund that, I venture to say, would do justice to any P.G. lodge in England, and it is in no crippled condition, financially, or otherwise, but, on the contrary, is in a very healthy condition indeed. So much so, that it has over £500 deposited in one of our city trusts, and can disburse charity with no mean or stinted hand.

You close your tirade against us with an advice to the Grand Lodge; but even that was unnecessary, as Grand Lodge, to my certain knowledge, has been in the habit of doing for a number of years. However, I leave some of my Edinburgh Brethren to say whether your figures are correct or no. About the amount disbursed in the nineteen months you speak about, for my own part I can't say anything about it; but I am afraid if, like your other statements I have noticed, (in my own simple way) it is not worth minding. My advice to you, then, is this—before you begin to teach Scottish Freemasons their duty try and have a foundation whereon you can stand with perfect safety. Hopping you will take these remarks in the spirit with which they are given, viz., honour to whom honour is due,

I remain, Yours fraternally,

WILLIAM GRAHAM.

[We print this letter as we received it, and shall take no further notice of it, as our object has not been to attack Freemasonry, but to remedy admitted evils.—ED.]

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Your correspondents, H.G.M. and W. J. Hughan, do not seem to be aware that there is another instance of a Grand Master of English Freemasons joining the Church of Rome. Philip, Duke of Wharton, Grand Master in 1722, soon after became a convert to the Roman Catholic faith, was attainted in 1728, and died in 1731, monk in a Spanish monastery.

Yours very truly and fraternally,

WILLIAM COWLING.

York, Sept. 26, 1874.

WITHDRAWAL OF PROPOSITIONS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

A brother having been duly proposed as a joining member of a lodge, has any brother any authority to withdraw the proposal, without the consent or knowledge of either the proposer, seconder, or candidate?

Yours fraternally,

R. V.

[The W.M., may, for good and sufficient cause not permit the name of the proposed candidate to appear on the notice paper, but no one else clearly has any authority.—ED.]

ROYAL PATRONAGE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I was much surprised and annoyed to see in the Masonic Record of Western India, (a well-conducted Masonic magazine, and not responsible for the following), emanating from Bro. William Bassett, of the Masonic News, Glasgow, to the effect "That the following will be supplied upon the receipt of remittance."

"Under the patronage of Bro. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, Bro. His Royal Highness Prince Arthur, Sir Michael Shaw Stewart, Grand Master Mason of Scotland, Lord Rosslyn, Past Grand Master of Scotland, Lord Ripon, Grand Master Mason of England, &c. &c.

"VALUABLE WORK.—The complete ceremonies of Freemasonry, according to the Scottish Constitution, for the three degrees. Price 4s. 8d.; by post 4s. 10d.

"FREEMASONRY—ITS JURISPRUDENCE, 10s. 6d.—Freemasonry, its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection, by Bro. Chalmers I. Paton, Past Master, No. 393, England, handsomely bound in cloth. Price 10s. 6d. (post free)."

Does Bro. Bassett mean to say that either or both of these Masonic publications are patronised by the distinguished brethren enumerated?

I await a reply, and failing a satisfactory answer from Bro. Bassett, I must seek to discover the facts of the case by other means, probably of a less pleasant character than the present, for I can scarcely believe the two princes and three noblemen have permitted their names to be thus mentioned as patrons of a ritual of the three degrees. The advertisement has been inserted, I find, for some time.

REVIRESCO.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, October 16, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodges, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, October 10.

General Committee Girls' School, at 12.

Lodge 176, Caveau, Westminster Palace Hotel, Westminster.

" 1361, United Service, Greyhound Hotel, Richmond.

" 1423, Era, King's Arms Hotel, Hampton court.

" 1426, Great City, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

" 1457, Bagshaw, Bald Faced Stag, Buckhurst-hill, (Annual Festival).

Mark Lodge 104, Macdonald, Masons' Hall, Masons'-avenue, Basinghall-street.

Manchester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Grey, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Ash, Preceptor.

Lily Lodge of Instruction (810), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.

Star Lodge of Instruction (1275), Marquess of Granby, New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dille, Preceptor.

Monday, October 12.

Quarterly General Court Boys' School, at 12.

Lodge 59, Royal Naval, Freemasons' Hall.

" 193, Confidence, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 957, Leigh, Freemasons' Hall.

Chap. 22, Mount Sion, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street.

Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (1445), Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, at 7; Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.

Strong Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell green, at 8; Bro. Beckett, Preceptor.

Sincerity Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern, Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.

Camden Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, Mile-end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Gutheil, Preceptor.

British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friendship Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.

St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street (opposite the Pantheon), Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. J. R. Stacey, Preceptor.

Wellington Lodge of Instruction, White Swan Tavern, Deptford, at 8; Bro. C. G. Dille, P.M. 1155, Preceptor.

West Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.

Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 323, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, October 13.

Lodge 167, St. John's, Holly Bush Tavern, Hampstead.

" 180, St. James's Union, Freemasons' Hall.

" 198, Percy, Ship and Turtle Tavern, Leadenhall-street.

" 211, St. Michael's, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-st.

" 228, United Strength, Old Jerusalem Tavern, St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell.

" 435, Salisbury, Freemasons' Hall.

Lodge 548, Wellington, White Swan Tavern, Deptford.

" 834, Ranelagh, Clarendon Hotel, Hammersmith.

" 917, Cosmopolitan, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

" 933, Doric, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.

Chap. 185, Jerusalem, Freemasons' Hall.

Supreme Grand Council 33°, Masonic Hall, Golden-square.

Yarborough Lodge of Instruction (554), Green Dragon, Stepney, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor.

Domestic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Larham, Preceptor.

Faith Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8; Bro. C. A. Cottelbrune, Preceptor.

Prince Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8; Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor.

Dalhousie Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.

Prosperity Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M. 1217, Preceptor.

St. Marylebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stars Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wood, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Constitutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheatshed Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.

Percy Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W.

Pythagorean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.

Israel Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road, at 7.30.

Wednesday, October 14.

General Committee Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution, at 3.

Lodge 3, Fidelity, Freemasons' Hall.

" 13, Union Waterloo, Masons' Hall, William-street, Woolwich.

" 15, Kent, Freemasons' Hall.

" 87, Vitruvian, White Hart, College-st., Lambeth.

" 147, Justice, White Swan, High-street, Deptford.

" 238, Pilgrim, Ship and Turtle Tavern, Leadenhall-street.

" 749, Belgrave, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 781, Merchant Navy, Silver Tavern, Bardett-road, Limehouse.

" 1017, Montefiore, Freemasons' Hall.

" 1260, Hervey, Freemasons' Hall.

" 1305, St. Marylebone, Eyre Arms Tavern, St. John's Wood.

" 1306, St. John of Wapping, Gun Hotel, High-st., Wapping.

Supreme Grand Council 33°, 33, Golden-square.

New Concord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.

Royal Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, at 7.30.

Peckham Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Peckham, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.

Temperance in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the Fourth, Catherine-street, Poplar.

Stanhope Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, at 7.30 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.

Finsbury Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters'-road, N., at 8. Bro. F. Dickinson, Acting Preceptor.

United Strength Lodge of Instruction (228), the Crafts Arms, Prince of Wales'-road, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.

Southwark Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William Kent, Preceptor.

Dalston Lodge of Instruction (975), Havelock Tavern, Albion-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, October 15.

Lodge 49, Gihon, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street.

" 55, Constitutional, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

" 169, Temperance, White Swan, High-st., Deptford.

" 179, Manchester, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 733, Westbourne, Lord's Hotel, St. John's Wood.

" 813, New Concord, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton.

" 1139, South Norwood, Public Hall, South Norwood.

" 1287, Great Northern, Freemasons' Hall.

" 1339, Stockwell, Half Moon, Herne-hill.

Chap. 79, Pythagorean, Ship Hotel, Greenwich.

Fidelity Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-st., Tottenham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Finsbury Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers Tavern, Bath-street, City-road; Bro. Stean, Preceptor.

United Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.

Whittington Lodge of Instruction (861), Crown Tavern, Holborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 1188, Preceptor.

Doric Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.

Ebury Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 71, Poultry-st., Millbank.

Highgate Lodge of Instruction (1360), Bell and Gun, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. A. Stacey, Preceptor.

The Great City Lodge of Instruction, 111, Chesel-side, at 6.30.

Friday, October 16:

- Rose Croix Chapter Invicta, Masonic Hall, William-street, Woolwich.
- St. George's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.
- Robert Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Regent-st., at 8.
- Belgrave Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354, Strand, at 8; Bro. Pulsford, Preceptor.
- Panmure Lodge of Instruction (720), Balham Hotel, Balham, at 7.30.
- Unions Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s Freemasons' Hall, a 7.
- Temperance Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern, Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.
- Clapton Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, at 7.30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor.
- Royal Standard Lodge of Instruction (1293), the Castle Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Preceptor.
- Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.
- Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
- Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.
- United Pilgrims Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern, Lorn-road, Brixton, at 7.
- St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.
- Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Patts, Preceptor.
- Dotic Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.
- Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.
- St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Rose Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.
- Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.
- High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses High-road, Tottenham.
- Burdett Courts Lodge of Instruction (1278), Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo. W. Verry, Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE,

For the Week ending Saturday, October 17, 1874.

Monday, October 12.

- Lodge 314, Peace and Unity, Militia Mess Rooms, Preston.
- " 477, Mersey, 55, Argyle-street, Birkenhead, at 6.
- " 721, Independence, Masonic Rooms, Eastgate-row, North Chester, at 5.
- " 1021, Harrington, Masonic Hall, Barrow-in-Furness.
- " 1398, Baldwin, Castle, Dalton-in-Furness.
- Red Cross Conclave of Instruction, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 7.

Tuesday, October 13.

- Lodge 241, Merchants', Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5.
- " 1250, Gilbert Greenall, Masonic Rooms, Warrington.
- Chap. 537, Zion, 9, Hamilton-square, Birkenhead.
- Downshire Lodge of Instruction (594), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 7.

Wednesday, October 14.

- Lodge 281, Fortitude, Athenæum, Lancaster.
- " 1052, Callender, Public Hall, Rusholme.
- " 1094, Temple, Masonic Temple, at 6.
- " 1356, De Grey and Ripon, 140, North Hill-street, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 6.
- Chap. 673, St. John's, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.30.
- St. John's Lodge of Instruction (673), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 8.

Thursday, October 15.

- Lodge 203, Ancient Union, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
- " 343, Concord, Queen's Arms Hotel, Church-street, Preston.
- " 425, Cestrian, Grosvenor Hotel, Chester, at 4.
- " 605, Combermere, Seacombe Hotel, Seacombe, at 6.
- " 1299, Pembroke, West Derby Hotel, West Derby, at 5.

Friday, October 16.

- Lodge 1350, Fermor-Hesketh, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
- Red Cross Conclave, 55, Liverpool, Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool, at 6.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, October 17, 1874.
All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, October 12.

- Lodge 102, St. Mark, St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan-st.
- " 219, Star, 12, Trongate.
- " 362, St. Clair, 25, Robertson-street.
- " 541, Marie Stuart, Watson's Academy, Langside-road, Crosshill.
- " 205, St. Winnoch, Eagle Inn, Lochwinnoch.
- " 307, Union and Crown, Freemasons' Hall, Barrhead.

Tuesday, October 13.

- Lodge 473, Athole, 213, Buchanan-st.
- " 419, Neptune, 35, St. James-st., Kingstown.
- " 441, Glasgow, 22, Struthers-street.
- " 179, St. Mungo, London Hotel, Mauchline.
- " 426, Prince of Wales, Freemasons' Hall, Renfrew.
- Chap. 69, St. Andrew, 170, Buchanan-st.

Wednesday, October 14.

- Lodge 178, Scotia, 170, Buchanan-st.
- " 510, Maryhill, Main-street, Maryhill.
- Chap. 87, Shamrock and Thistle, 12, Trongate.

Thursday, October 15.

- Lodge 27, St. Mungo, 213, Buchanan-street.
- " 465, St. Andrew's, Masons' Hall, Garngad-road.
- " 553, St. Vincent, 162, Heath-road.
- " 554, Stewart, Freemasons' Hall, Market place, Kilsyth.

Friday, October 16.

- Lodge 11, Kilwinning, Town Hall, Greenock.
- " 360, Commercial, 60, Hope-st.
- " 408, Clyde, 170, Buchanan-st.
- " 321, St. Andrew's, Public Hall, Alexandria.
- " 471, St. John, Stane Inn, Shotts.

Saturday, October 17.

- Lodge 524, St. Andrew, East Kilbride.
- " 544, St. Andrew, Freemasons' Hall, Bridge-street, Coatbridge.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN EDINBURGH AND VICINITY.

For the Week ending October 17th, 1874.

Monday, October 12.

- Funeral Grand Lodge, Assembly Rooms, George-street, at 5 p.m.
- Lodge 145, St. Stephen, Masonic Hall, Writer's-court, at 8.
- " 349, St. Clair, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.

Tuesday, October 13.

- Lodge 1, Mary's Chapel, Waterloo Hotel, Waterloo-place, at 8.
- " 151, Defensive Band, Masonic Hall, Blackfriars-street, at 8.

Wednesday, October 14.

- Lodge 2, Canongate Kilwinning, St. John's Chapel, St. John's-st, at 8.
- Chap. 1, Edinburgh, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.

Thursday, October 15.

- Lodge 48, St. Andrew's, Freemasons' Hall, George-st. at 8.

Friday, October 16.

- Chap. 83, St. Andrew's, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,
9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury,

Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.

LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.

Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.

London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Leith, E.C.

General Accidents. Personal Injuries.

Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.

C. HARDING, Manager.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT:
May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.

New Annual Income, £12,236.

192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.

26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.

Paid for surrenders, £2,062.

Laid by in year, £44,087.

In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.

Annual Premium Income, £104,996.

Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies.

Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BECH M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Alderbrook House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.) A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN. In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REEVES SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S NEW TRACING BOARDS

Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.

Artist and Photographer.

17, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW. Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH, LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH, PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialist for Cameo-Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is SPECIALLY adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

213, REGENT-STREET, W.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS,

335c, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE. Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 2s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, 1s. 5d.; second class, 15s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hauseman, Jermyn-street.

THE BIRKBECK

is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION! How to Purchase a House for Five Guineas per Month, With Immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Month, With Immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to Invest Money with safety at 4 per cent interest, Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK. All sums under £50 repayable upon demand. Current accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY.

8vo., 10s. 6d. PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d.

PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s. Reeves and Turner, 106, Strand, London.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind

used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

GOLD AND SILVER SHAVINGS FOR FIRE STOVE ORNAMENTS.

Gilt Plain ... 3/6 Crimped ... 4/6 Silvered Plain ... 4/6 Crimped ... 5/6 The above on 1, 2, and 4oz. reels, also in bags, 16s., 22s., 24s., and 30s. per gross bags. Manufactured by GEORGE KENNING, London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS and FITTINGS, Cornopans, Flutes, Drums, Viols, Organs, Harmoniums, Concertinas, Bows, Strings, Wire, Organ Pipes, Harmonium Reeds, &c. Experienced Repairers. List for stamp. BRO. T. R. WILLIS, 29, Minories, London. Established 1837.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $2 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 108, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR'ACTE,

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW. Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artiste. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

"THE FREEMASON" Supplied by

T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C. South London Branch, 416, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station. Wholesale Publisher to the Trade.

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason." BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

SARSAPARILLA.

WILKINSON'S ESSENCE, OR FLUID EXTRACT OF RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, prescribed by the Faculty for Purifying the Blood, Dealing with LIVER COMPLAINTS, and freeing the system from effects of Mercury. Exclusively used in India and the Colonies as a prevention to Tropical diseases. "Superior preparations that may always be relied upon."—Sir Astley Cooper. "We are in every respect satisfied with it."—Lancet. "We recommend yours as the best."—Medical Review. In Quarter, Half, and Pint Bottles. CAUTION.—Spurious and injurious preparations are offered to the public. See that Bottle and Label have the name and Address, "T. Wilkinson, late Wilkinson, Bridge, and Co., No. 270, Regent-street, London."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC DINNER PILLS.

No Pill is so efficacious in promoting digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from a Costive Habit, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of diet, and those of the most delicate constitution can take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla with the greatest success.

QUINTESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER and CAMOMILE.

WILKINSON'S Preparation of Ginger and Camomile has long been deservedly known as an excellent domestic medicine. It is a most efficient Stomachic Tonic, and the best remedy for Flatulency and disorders arising from impaired digestion, and is not affected by climate. No European in India or tropical climates should be without it. In one-eighth, quarter, and half-pint bottles.

YOUNG'S ANNICATED CORN and JUNION PLASTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate ease, and removing those painful excruciations. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT. WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS

It is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft elastic being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the MANUFACTURER, Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London. Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free. " of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 36s. and 41s. 6d. Postage free. of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 48s. 6d. Postage free. Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly. NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c. The material of which these are made is recommended by the Faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free. SPINAL MACHINES, LEG IRONS, And Every Description of Surgical Appliances. JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.

The Best Remedy for ACIDITY of the STOMACH, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, GOUT, AND INDIGESTION, and the best mild aperient for delicate constitutions, especially adapted for LADIES, CHILDREN, and INFANTS. D I N N E F O R D & C O. 172, New Bond Street, London, and of all Chemists.

GEORGE REES

MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES'

GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade.

GEORGE REES'

100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES'

First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES'

CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices. 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR. Includes an illustration of a landscape with a building and trees, and the text 'CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR'.

Opium, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. It stead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of coloring the digestive organs, and thus increase that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, High Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 12s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough.

"I should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE. Includes a logo with 'TRADE MARK' and 'BLOOD MIXTURE'.

TRADE MARK—"BLOOD MIXTURE." THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and RESTORER. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.

For Scrofula, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure.

It Cures all Sores. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Face. Cures Blood and Skin Diseases. Cures Scabby Sores. Cures Cancerous Ulcers. Cures Blood and Skin Diseases. Cures Glandular Swellings. Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter. From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Thousands of Testimonials have been given in all parts of the world. Sold in Bottles at 2s., 3s., 4s., 5s., 6s., 7s., 8s., 9s., 10s., 11s., 12s., 13s., 14s., 15s., 16s., 17s., 18s., 19s., 20s., 21s., 22s., 23s., 24s., 25s., 26s., 27s., 28s., 29s., 30s., 31s., 32s., 33s., 34s., 35s., 36s., 37s., 38s., 39s., 40s., 41s., 42s., 43s., 44s., 45s., 46s., 47s., 48s., 49s., 50s. Sold in all parts of the world. Sold in all parts of the world. Sold in all parts of the world.

F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln. Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPEC-TACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision

by Mr. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Thornhill-street, 11, Old Broad-street, London, E.C. Sold by Opticians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. Sent by post six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which give you valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.

Try Anthony Seard's new material Pecuniary Preparation Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, abides like patent, never cracks, is comfortable, and finer in wear, a perfect durable luxury at a superlative price. 8, Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies' shoes skillfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, MENTAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power

By DR. HENRY SMITH, GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening of the Human Body, how to Avoid Nervous Debility, and how to Secure Long Life, and Avoid Old Age. The only work ever published on this subject, which has been translated with Testimonials from all parts of the world. The pamphlet will be sent by post for two penny stamps. Address, Dr. Henry Smith, 11, Old Broad-street, London, E.C.

MASONIC MUSIC IN STOCK.
AT Bro. KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS.

- The Red Cross Knight; composed by Bro. H. Parker, words by Bro. R. W. Little ... 3/0
 - What Better Theme than Masonry? words by Bro. James Stevens; music by Bro. Wilhelm Ganz ... 4/0
 - Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth; written by Bro. Sewell; composed by Bro. J. Rhodes ... 4/0
 - The Final Toast; written by D. L. Richardson; music by Bro. Edwin J. Crow ... 3/0
 - The E.A. Song; arranged by the late Bro. Parry, of the "Lodge of Antiquity," No. 2 ... 6d.
 - Masonic Harmonia ... 9/0
 - Masonic Music, compiled for the use of the "Merchant Lodge," No. 241, by Bro. J. H. Younghusband, P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., and P. Prov. J.G.W. West Lancashire ... 6d.
 - The Freemason (Tell me the Sign, John); written by George Palmer ... 3/0
 - Three Times Three; composed by Bro. Harroway, "Royal York Lodge," Brighton ... 3/0
 - The Shake of the Hand (in G & B flat) composed by John Blockley ... 3/0
 - The Freemasons' Festival March and Masonic Hymn, by Bro. W. B. Tolpitt (Past Master of the "Temple Lodge," No. 816, Folkestone) ... 3/0
 - The Freemason Quadrilles; inscribed (by permission) to the Right Hon. the Earl of Grey and Ripon, K.G.; by Bro. Josiah Marshall (P.G.O., West Yorkshire), Solo or Duet ... 4/0
 - Music for the Ceremony of Advancement to the Mark Degree; composed by Bro. Edwin J. Crow, dedicated to the Grand Master, Bro. Rev. G. Portal ... 3/0
 - Here's to His Health in a Song; written by J. J. Bealey; composed by J. M. Bentley ... 4/0
 - Hird's Masonic Quadrille, by C. T. Hird ... 4/0
 - So Mote it Be, by Bro. Jno. P. Nunn ... 2/6
 - Masonic Mischief, the new Masonic Song, by G. Grant Men of the Trowel, answer to Masonic Mischief ... 3/0
 - The Mystic Tie, song with quartet chorus, written by Wm. Carpenter, Esq., composed by Jas. C. Baker, Mus. D. ... 4/0
 - "Welcome" a Masonic song, written by Bro. Wm. Carpenter, composed by Bro. Jas. C. Baker ... 4/0
 - The Mark Masons' Song; dedicated to the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Percy, M.P., M.W.G.M.M. By Bro. T. B. Yeoman ... 3/0
 - Masonic Song, words by Wm. Allan, music by Culino ... 2/0
- All the above Half-Price.*
- Dr. Spark's Freemasons' Liber Musicus—Parts 1 to 12 (each) ... 5/0
 - The Freemasons' March, for the Pianoforte, composed by Selmar Kahenberg ... 2/0
 - Masonic Ode, written by Bro. G. Passenger; composed by Bro. B. Sharpe ... 5/0
 - The Masonic Minstrel; being a complete collection of upwards of 200 Masonic Songs, Odes, Anthems, &c., with a list of Toasts and Sentiments. 3s. 6d. cloth, 4s. roan, gilt edges ... 1/0
 - Melodia Masonica: Five Songs and a Trio, set to music and arranged by Bro. C. H. Purdey, new edition ... 1/0
 - Two Chants and an Anthem, set to music and composed by Bro. G. F. Taylor, for the use of Mark Masters' Lodges ... 2/0
 - Masonic Musical Service, by Dr. J. C. Baker, No. 241 ... 1/6
 - Music for the Masonic Ceremonies; by Bro. E. J. Crow and R. Limpus Parts I., II., & III. (each) ... 0/6

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,
Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED
FOR THE
WORSHIPFUL MASTER,
SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.
6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND
CANDLES.
Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,
10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S
Masonic Depots,
LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.
GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

- Freemasons' Arms ... 15ft. by 12ft.
- Knights Templar Arms ... 15ft. by 12ft.
- Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre ... 12ft. by 9ft.
- City of London Arms ... 10ft. by 7ft.
- Union Jack ... 10ft. by 6ft.
- Duke of Edinburgh ... 9ft. by 4 1/2ft.
- Russian ... 9ft. by 4 1/2ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d.
Entrance Fee ... 3 3 0
Annual Subscription ... 3 3 0
Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND, P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."
Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels.
Agents—CROSS & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION.
GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
(Established upwards of 35 years.)
Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,
81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.
(No connection with any other establishment of the same name.)
Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.
BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,
132, HIGH HOLBORN,
Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.
Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.
Bro. J. AYTON,
Successor to E. T. CROFTON,
Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
ESTABLISHED 1821,
79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
AND
139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—
ROBERT S. MENDEY
Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
(LATE WITH PATRICK & CO.)
106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.
Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.
Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,
80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,
MANUFACTURER OF THE
NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,
Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.
RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

- SPANGLES:
Thirty Sizes ... 4/0 per lb.
- GAUZE LACES:
- | | | | |
|---------------|----------------|---------------|-----------------|
| 1/2 in. ... | Per gross. 4/0 | 1 in. ... | Per gross. 16/0 |
| 1 in. ... | 8/0 | 1 1/2 in. ... | 36/0 |
| 1 1/2 in. ... | 12/0 | 2 in. ... | 48/0 |
- PRUSSIAN LACES:
- | | |
|---------------|-----------------|
| 1/2 in. ... | 18/6 per gross. |
| 1 in. ... | 30/0 " |
| 1 1/2 in. ... | 40/0 " |
- GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:
- | | | | |
|---------------|-------------------|---------------|--------------------|
| 1/2 in. ... | Per doz. yds. 3/0 | 1 1/2 in. ... | Per doz. yds. 12/0 |
| 1 in. ... | 6/0 | 2 in. ... | 15/0 |
| 1 1/2 in. ... | 9/0 | 3 in. ... | 18/0 |
- GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:
- | | | | |
|---------------|-------------------|---------------|--------------------|
| 1/2 in. ... | Per doz. yds. 3/0 | 1 1/2 in. ... | Per doz. yds. 12/0 |
| 1 in. ... | 6/0 | 2 in. ... | 15/0 |
| 1 1/2 in. ... | 9/0 | 3 in. ... | 18/0 |
- FRINGES:
- | | | | |
|-------------------|---------|---------------|--|
| Plate or Water | Twisted | Bullion. | |
| 1 in. 0/4 ... | 0/8 ... | 1/6 per yard. | |
| 1 1/2 in. 0/6 ... | 1/0 ... | 2/0 " | |
| 2 in. 0/8 ... | 1/4 ... | 3/6 " | |
| 3 in. 0/10 ... | 2/0 ... | 6/0 " | |
| 4 in. 1/0 ... | 2/8 ... | 8/0 " | |
| 5 in. 1/3 ... | ... | 12/6 " | |
| 6 in. 1/6 ... | ... | 14/6 " | |
| 7 in. 1/9 ... | ... | 17/6 " | |
| 8 in. 2/0 ... | ... | 21/0 " | |
| 9 in. 2/3 ... | ... | ... | |
| 10 in. 2/6 ... | ... | ... | |
| 12 in. 3/0 ... | ... | ... | |

RUSSIA BRAIDS:

No. 1 ...	5/3 per gross
2 ...	6/9 "
3 ...	8/0 "
4 ...	10/6 "
5 ...	13/9 "

FRENCH BRAIDS:

No. 1, 8/6 per gross	No. 4, 26/0 per gross.
2, 12/0 "	5, 40/0 "
3, 16/0 "	6, 72/0 "

TISSUE:
22 inches wide ... 2/6 per yard.

GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH:
22 inches wide ... 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:
Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
" " 2nd " 6/0 "
Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 17/0 per doz.
Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz. double 2/6 "

Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0 "
Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 per dozen.
Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard.
" " in colours, 5/9 per yard.
Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.
MANUFACTURED BY
GEORGE KENNING,
175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

"THE FREEMASON."

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

"THE MASONIC MAGAZINE."

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

"THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK."

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of News-vendors generally.

AGENTS.

ABERDEEN...	... LINDSAY, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City) JAS. GILBERT, 18, Grace church-st.
"	... RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st.	"	... C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
ABERGAVENNY THOMAS & EDMUNDS,	"	... R. POTTLE, 14, Royal Exchange.
ANDOVER J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st.	"	... HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BERLIN ASHER & Co., 53, Mohrenstrasse.	"	... CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BERWICK R. LAMBERT.	" (West) GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BIRMINGHAM J. WILLEY, Union-passage.	"	... D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Soho.
BRADFORD MORGAN, Kirkgate.	"	... — LASQUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
BRIGHTON J. BEAL, 55, East-st.	"	... H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
BRISTOL E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st.	"	... NASH & TEUTON, Saville-place.
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P.	"	... WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
CARDIFF LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	" (Bermondsey) HALL, 87, New Road.
"	... T. HAYNES, 6, James-st.	"	... JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
CARLISLE J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	" (Brixton) FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
CHELTENHAM T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	" (Camberwell) MORRIS, 19, The Green.
CHESTER MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	" (Chelsea) JNO. CATTERMOLLE, 48, Cale-st.
CONGLETON A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	" (Clapham) JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
CUCKFIELD JOHN GALLOP.	" (Euston Road) PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
DERBY CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	" (Greenwich) POOK, Church-st.
DONCASTER HARLEY, "Chronicle" Office.	" (Hornsey) SWAIN, Railway Approach.
DUNDEE CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	" (K. nnington) KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
EDINBURGH MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	" (Kingsland) PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
"	... R. S. BROWNE, 67, Hanover-st.	" (Lambeth, Sout..) TRIBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
"	... ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	" (New Cross) FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
EXETER W. GREGORY, 3, High-st.	"	... JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
"	... E. FITZE, 28, High-street.	"	... WM. KIPPS, 361, New Cross-rd.
GLASGOW GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st., 2, St. Enoch's-lane.	" (Paddington) E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
"	... LAING, St. Enoch-square.	" (Richmond) TURRALL, 17, New Road.
"	... THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	" (St. John's Wood) WILSON, 13, High Street.
"	... URQUHART, 189, London-road.	" (Shoreditch) ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
"	... WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	" (Sydenham) J. CLARKE, Cambridge House.
"	... LOVE, 226, Argyle-street.	MANCHESTER JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
"	... Geo. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street.	"	... ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
GLoucester THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	"	... BERSFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
GRAVESEND E. BAYNES, 65, High-st., & Princes-st.	MARGATE W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
GROUNSEY F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	MARYPORT J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
HALIFAX WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
HARWICH BOTHAM & JACKSON, Church-st.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire) D. DILWORTH.
HERTFORD SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NEWTON ABBOTT HEADER & SON.
HEYWOOD HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHALLERTON J. E. H. REED.
HOLYHEAD OWEN R. ELLIS.	NORTHAMPTON STANTON & SON.
HULL PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	"	... RUSHTON, Gold-st.
HYDE S. NATHAN, Market-st.	OXFORD SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
IRELAND ORR & Co., Coleraine.	FORTSEA EMANUEL, High-st.
ISLE OF WIGHT J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes	PORTSMOUTH N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road.
JERSEY Geo. WARDLEY, St. Helier's.	PRESTON HARKNESS, Church-street.
LANCASTER EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROSS J. COUNSEL, "Man of Ross" Office.
LEEDS INCHBOLD, 33, Bond-st.	ROTHERHAM HINGCLIFFE, High-st.
"	... A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SHEFFIELD E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
"	... J. MOSLEY.	SOUTHAMPTON ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
LEICESTER C. OLDESHAW, JUN., 40a, Granby-st.	"	... JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
LITTLEHAMPTON MARDON'S LIBRARY, High-street.	"	... J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
LIVER POOL GEORGE KENNING, 2, Monument-pl.	"	... "SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER" Office.
"	... G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	SOUTHPORT G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
"	... ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	STOKE-ON-TRENT J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
"	... DAVIES, Exchange.	STOKESLEY TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
"	... WINTERBOTTOM, Exchange.	SUNDERLAND B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
"	... MRS. JEA, Woodside Ferry.	SWANSEA CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st.
"	... EDWARDS, Duke Street.	TRURO WILLIAM LAKE.
"	... METCALF, Lime Street.	TWEDMOUTH R. LAMBERT.
LLANDUDNO WOODLEY.	WEST INDIES J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
LLANELLY ACE & SON.	"	... GEORGE ROE, St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica.
LONDON (City) GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain.	WHITEHAVEN JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica.
"	... W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITSTABLE PAGEN & GILL.
"	... G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WIGAN COX, High-street.
"	... WILLIAM ABBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGTON T. WALL, "Observer" Office.
			... T. McMECHIN.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

REPORTS OF SCOTTISH MEETINGS.
(Continued.)

GLASGOW.—Lodge Marie Stuart (541).—The usual meeting, held on Monday, Sept. 28th, was made special to consider the proposals of the Building Committee for the new lodge room, rendered necessary by the burning of their first place of meeting. There was a full attendance of the members. The chair was taken by the R.W.M. Bro. J. D. Porteous, P.G.J.W., who was supported by Bros. Gillies, D.M., Johnson, S.M., Brodie, S.W., and S. Finlayson, Secretary. After considerable discussion, the lodge resolved to take temporarily a place till their funds should increase, as they are only a very young lodge. In the course of the evening the R.W.M. informed the brethren that Colonel Campbell, the P.G.M., had conferred an honour on the lodge by appointing him, as their Master, to the high dignity of Provincial Grand J.W. He also informed them of the way in which the sum of £24, which they had raised towards the support of a widow in Paisley, had been applied for the benefit of the children. Two passings and a raising were deferred till next meeting.

St. Vincent Lodge (553) met at the Kent-road on Thursday, Oct. 1st. In the absence of Bro. M'Dougal, the R.W.M., the chair was taken by Bro. G. Stark, the Deputy-Master, who opened the lodge in the 1st degree, assisted by R. Stevens, acting S.W.; H. Hunter, J.W.; J. Halsey, Sec.; J. M'Clelland, T.; and Best, S.D. There were five petitions for initiation, and one of the petitioners being present, the Acting Master, in a very careful and masterly manner, proceeded to initiate him into the mysteries of the Order. He then raised the lodge to the 2nd degree, but an accident having occurred at his manufactory through the bursting of a boiler, he had to leave, and requested Bro. Baird, P.M., of 3½, P.G.S.W., to occupy the chair, and Bro. G. W. Wheeler, of 73, to conclude the work, which consisted of the passing of 14 of the brethren who were initiated on the night of the opening of the lodge. Bro. Wheeler then worked the 2nd degree, and passed fourteen brethren to the degree of Fellow Craft. There was a very full attendance of the members, and above thirty visitors, as it is not often that so many brethren have to be passed at one time. There being no further business, Bro. Baird, P.G.S.W., who is an affiliated member, closed the lodge in due form, all being well pleased with the evening's work.

Lodge St. Mungo (27).—This old and influential lodge is still increasing its numbers. On Wednesday, Sept. 29, an Emergency Meeting was called to confer three degrees on a gentleman who was going abroad. As their usual hall was occupied, the Knights of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, the officers of St. John's very kindly granted the use of their hall and their D.M., Bro. W. Bell, assisted, along with Bro. Bain, P.M., 103, to put the candidate through, for which Bro. D. Butler, the R.W.M., tendered them the thanks of the lodge as well as his own. The regular meeting of the lodge was held on Thursday, Bro. D. Butler in the chair, and was well supported by his office-bearers. Bro. W. B. Patterson, Sec., read two propositions for initiation, after which the brethren were passed to the 2nd degree, the work being admirably performed by the P.G.S., who is also D.M. of St. Mungo Lodge.

Lodge Thistle and Shamrock (275) met on Oct. 2nd, at 22, Struther's Street; G. C. H. M'Naught, R.W.M., in the chair, assisted by Bros. Mathison, S.W., M'Mellian, J.W., and J. Horn, Sec. One candidate was initiated, after which three brethren were passed and raised, and Bro. Hugh Tulloch, P.M., 441, was affiliated as an honorary member. The R.W.M., though solicited to do, refused to allow himself to be nominated for re-election, having already served two years.

Lodge Commercial (360) met in their own hall, 30, Hope Street, on Friday, Oct. 2nd. In the absence of Dr. Morton, Bro. Munro, D.M., presided; and Lamb, S.W.; J. S. Oliver, J.W.; A. Merton, Sec. The lodge having been raised to the 3rd degree, Bro. J. F. Joyce was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason by Bro. J. Brodie, P.M. The lecture and charge being given by Bro. Munro, Bro. J. E. Spiers, of Mither Kilwinning, No. 0, and Bro. W. H. Bickerton, of St. Augustine's, 972 (E.C.), were proposed as joining members and unanimously received. Bro. Halkett, P.M., 102, laid the case of widow Pollock before the meeting, and a committee was appointed to assist in raising funds for her relief.

Lodge Clyde (408) held their regular meeting on Oct. 2nd, at 170, Buchanan Street; J. Downe in the chair; J. M'Innes, S.W.; W. Belisland, J.W.; W. Clinton, D.M.; W. Harper, T., and J. Baure, Sec. A candidate was initiated for the Union and Crown, the Secretary thanking the lodge for their kindness. The lodge was then placed under the care of the J.W., and after the usual Loyal and Craft toast, Bro. Shields responded for the visitors, and Bro. Wheeler, in reply, spoke of the great liberality of Bro. G. Kenning who most generously offered to give £100 to start the fund for the Scottish Benevolent Fund.

GOVAN FESTIVAL AND PRESENTATION.—Lodge Govandale (437) celebrated their tenth anniversary by a soirée, concert, and ball, on the 25th ult. The hall was tastefully decorated. The chair was occupied by Bailie M'Farlane, R.W.M., who was supported right and left by Bro. F. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M., and Bro. Bailie Campbell, P.M., and the élite of the burgesses of Govan. After justice had been done to an excellent tea, the Chairman gave a lengthy address, describing minutely the teachings of the three degrees. In conclusion, he stated that in the ten years of their existence they had initiated above 300 members, and they continued to work amicably, for he had the hearty support of every officer of the lodge. At a subsequent part of the proceedings he presented a magnificent gold watch and chain, value £41 10s., to Bro. Bailie Campbell, P.M., as an acknowledgment of his two years' services in the chair, stating he had won golden opinions from all the inhabitants of the burgh, not only by his conduct in that chair, but by his able and upright conduct as a magistrate. (Cheers.) Bro. Campbell, in a very feeling manner, replied, assuring the brethren he should always look with pride on the gift, and leave it as a heirloom to his family. He had the honour of being one of the founders of the lodge, and he should still be most happy to render it all the assistance in his power. (Cheers.) Bro. Barrow, D.P.G.M., also addressed the meeting, congratulating them on their present position, which he attributed to their working up to their Masonic professions. The concert was ably sustained by the Misses Smith, Ruth Stanley, Bro. C. Stewart, and J. Dunlop. The ball was kept up till the morning. All passed off harmoniously.

PARTICK.—Royal Arch Chapter (113).—The annual meeting took place on the 23rd ult., when Comp. J. Duthie installed the following companions, who had all been re-elected—viz., T. Halket, Z.; J. White, H.; J. Tomlinson, J.; W. White, S.E.; J. Bain, N.; J. Stevenson, T.; R. Anderson, 1st; G. Ward, 2nd; W. Bard, 3rd; J. Latto, Janitor. Comp. Halket thanked the Chapter for their confidence in re-electing him to that high and responsible office, assuring them he would do his best to fulfil its duties. He then proposed that Comp. Duthies, for his services, should be made an honorary member. The Chapter was then closed, and a banquet followed, Comp. T. Halket presiding, and Comp. T. Granger, P.Z., croupier. Great praise was given to Comp. Latto for his excellent catering. All the loyal and Masonic toasts were duly honoured, and at a late part of the proceedings they were honoured by a visit from the Provincial Grand Z., F. Barron, who said he had contrived to call on them on his way home, after installing the officers of Chap. 50.

ROYAL ARCH.—Chapter 73, Caledonian of Unity held their monthly meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 170, Buchanan Street. Comp. G. W. Wheeler, Z.; Comp. M'Donald, P.Z., as H.; J. Stewart, J.; J. Bannerman, T.; J. Balfour, S.E.; and H. Mackie, N. There were also present J. O. Park, Z. 122; W. Bell, H. 50; and Fash, 1st 69. Bro. Penman received the degree of Most Excellent Master and Royal Arch at the hands of the new Z., Comp. J. Balfour, S.E., acting as Principal Sojourner.

Chapter 87 met at their new hall, 12, Tron-gate, for the election of their officers, when the following companions were unanimously chosen and installed into office:—Wm. Phillips, Z.; M. Clanachan, H.; J. Howie, J.; Dr. Thomas Russell, Scribe E.; J. Frew, N.; G. Muir, T.; Wm. Gibson, 1st S.; Hugh Cox, 2nd S.; R. Smith, 3rd S.; and J. Pearson, Janitor. The companions are pleased with their new location, and think it will eventuate in a large accession of members.

Chapter 122, Thetis, held an emergency meeting on Sept. 29th, the veteran Z. of the Chapter, J. O. Park, presiding, with W. Gunn, T., as H.; G. Wilson as T.; and J. Denoff, P. Sojourner. A Master Mason having presented a petition for exaltation, he was advanced as a Mark Master, received the degree of Excellent Master, and was thereafter exalted into Royal Arch, all the work being performed in Comp. Park's well known style.

RED CROSS OF ROME AND CONSTANTINE.—Conclave 114 met in St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan Street, Glasgow, on Wednesday, Sept. 29th, the M.P.S., Sir Knight G. W. Wheeler, presiding, assisted by J. Johnson, E.V.E., J. Louttit, S.G., Wm. Dobbie, J.G., J. Hastie, Recorder, H. J. Shields, H.P., G. B. Adam, B.B., Wm. Bell, T., and J. Hardie, S. There were also present R. Bell, Hon. Sec., and J. Tweed, Hon. Viceroy. Applications for admission were received from Bros. A. A. Smith and J. Fraser, who were duly admitted and installed as Knights of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine. The Recorder informed the Conclave of the terms on which, in conjunction with the M.P.S., he had taken the hall. The Conclave was then closed in peace and harmony.

GLASGOW.—Lodge Commercial (360).—This lodge determined to celebrate the opening of their new hall by a festival, which took place on Friday, Sept. 25th, at the new lodge room, 30, Hope Street, Glasgow. We have previously described the fine appearance of the hall, and dwelt upon the convenience and comforts of the adjacent apartments, but on this occasion it presented additional attractions when it was set out with tables, and those tables well supplied with the good things of this life; and the snowy purity of the table-cloths tended somewhat to soften the crimson panelling of the room, and lent an additional charm to the coup de wit of the scene. Dr. A. Morton, the highly respected Master of the Lodge, presided, supported right and left by those veritable supports of his lodge, Bros. P.M. Brodè and Munro, D.M. Bros. Lamb, S.W., and J. M. Oliver, J.W., formed very excellent croupiers. J. Morton, Secretary, and every other officer were in their places, and, as usual, efficient in the performance of their duties. Among the visitors we noticed Bros. T. D. Humphries, of No. 4, the Z. of 69 Chapter, Wheeler, of 73 Lodge, Z. of 73 Chapter; W. B. Paterson, S. 27; J. E. Wilson, P.M., 234—354; J. Anderson, R.W.M., P. Marshall, S.W., 370, J. Wallace, R.W.M., 413, and J. Stark, D.M., 553. The repast, which was all that could be desired as regards quality, and the attendance of the waiters, gave credit to Bro. Hunter, of the Argyle Arcade Restaurant, by whom it was supplied, and who is himself a member of the lodge. The assembled guests having done full justice to his excellent catering, the R.W.M. proceeded to open his lodge, and then placed it under the care of the J.W. "The Queen and the Craft," "The Rest of the Royal Family," and "The Three Grand Lodges" having been duly honoured, the D.M. gave "The Provincial Grand Lodge of Glasgow," and called on Bro. Wallace, R.W.M. of 413, to reply, who in doing so showed the advantages that had accrued to Masonry in general from the exertions made during the last twelve years by the P.G.L. of Glasgow, which had set an example to all the other Provincial Grand Lodges in Scotland. Bro. Brodè, P.M., in a highly eulogistic speech, dwelt on the benefits to be derived by Masonry from a faithful chronicle of their proceedings in the pages of the Masonic Press, commenting on the articles in the last two numbers of the Freemason on "Scotch Masonry," and also on the kind liberality of the proprietor of that journal. Bro. Wheeler replied, enforcing the soundness of the arguments in the two articles to which Bro. Brodè had alluded, and calling on the Lodge Commercial to still maintain the dignified position she had taken up on this question, and to support her worthy Master in his efforts to raise the status of Masonry, not only in his own lodge, but in the province. Bro. W. B. Patterson gave "The Committee," who had got up their present handsome hall, dwelling on the large amount of time and energy they had devoted to this object since the railway company had given them notice to quit their old hall. He was glad that that committee had themselves thought of their Chairman, their worthy R.W.M., by presenting him with the handsome dress apron and gauntlet that he was now wearing, which reflected credit on them as the donors, and on Bro. Kenning as the maker, and also the handsome box to hold it that their Past Master Brodè had made. He therefore proposed a new toast, "The Committee Themselves." (Cheers.) Bros. Brodè and Munro replied. Bro. G. B. Adam gave "The Visiting Brethren." Bro. Wilson, P.M., acknowledged the compliment. He had been laid up and unable for nearly three years to attend a Masonic meeting, and it was with pleasure he made his reappearance in Lodge Commercial. The R.W.M. gave "The Singers," who had made them pass such an enjoyable evening. He had some difficulty, owing to their other engagements, to get some of them, but all he had asked were here, and he would venture to say that, except at a very high-priced concert or oratorio, they could not have listened to better singing than that of Bros. Pentland, Peterkin, Brodè, Mackey, Lamb, Townsend, and Stevenson, while on the violin who could excel Bro. J. Brodè, G. Kerrin, or J. J. Gibson, while on the piano Bro. Pentland was without a rival; and, as Master, he was proud to add that every one of them were members of that lodge. Bro. Peterkin, in a humorous speech, replied. Bro. Mungo gave Bro. Hunter "Our Steward." Bro. Hunter replied. Bro. Jones gave "The Ladies," which Bro. G. B. Adams, as a professed ladies' man, acknowledged. Bro. Browde gave "The Master," dwelling on his many estimable qualities as a man and a Mason. The Master replied, and gave the final toast. "Auld Lang Syne" was then sung, which terminated a happy meeting.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR IN GLASGOW.

About two years ago a series of articles appeared in the Freemason explanatory of the principles, objects, and to a great extent of the ritual of the Order of the Eastern Star, an adoptive rite of Masonry pretty extensively practised in America. The articles excited some interest in Glasgow at the time, and this summer Bro. H. J. Shield, 33°, being in Glasgow, at several Masonic Meetings that he attended, spoke of the great advantages to be derived from it by the female relatives of Masons. A number of the brethren took the degree at his hands. Since then Bro. Shield has been back to New York, and returned with full powers from the Supreme Grand Chapter of New York to establish the Order and open Chapters throughout the whole of Great Britain and Ireland, and as the first fruits of his labours he has opened a Chapter in Glasgow which, in honour of our Gracious Queen, who is the daughter as well as the mother of Masons, it has been named the Victoria Chapter, No. 1. All Master Masons are eligible to receive the degree, which consists of five points. It is also open to the mothers, sisters, wives, widows or daughters of Master Masons. Already nearly sixty Master Masons have taken it. Chapters of the Order are under the care of fourteen ladies with one M.M. as Patron, and on Friday, September 25th, the 1st Chapter of Great Britain was opened, and Victoria Chapter constituted in due form by Bro. Shield, 33°, Deputy Grand Patron, and Special Deputy for Great Britain, who installed the seven elective officers, the other seven being appointed by the Matron. The officers were presented by Bro. Park, Z 122, in the following order: Sister M. A. Wheeler, Worthy Matron; Bro. R. Mitchell, P.M. 332, Worthy Patron; Sister S. Bickerton, Associate Matron; Sister J. Merian, Conductress; Sister J. Mac Lauchlan, Associate Conductress; Sister H. H. Halley, Secretary; Sister H. Mitchell, Treasurer. The Matron then appointed Sister M. Bobb as Warder, and Bro. R. Merian as Sentinel, leaving the offices of Ada, Ruth, Esther, Martha and Electra to be filled up at the next meeting. The Worthy Matron then rose, and in an excellent manner delivered the following address to the Chapter:

"Deputy Grand Worthy Patron, Worthy Patron, Worthy Associate Matron, Sisters and Brothers of the Order of the Eastern Star: The novelty of my situation is such that I do not know in what words to thank you for the very high honour you have conferred upon me by electing me to preside over this, the first Chapter of the Order established in Great Britain. But as actions speak louder than words, I will endeavour with God's blessing to prove by my conduct in this chair, that you have not bestowed your confidence in vain. It shall be my constant endeavour, not for my own sake, but for the future prosperity of the Order, to maintain the honour and dignity of this chair, to carry out in all their integrity, the laws of the Order, so that I may hand to my successor the charter as pure as I receive it tonight. Sisters, to accomplish this I shall require your aid and assistance. With that I feel I shall succeed; without it, I know I must fail. We have undertaken a great work, to act as pioneers in the introduction of the Order into the British Isles. The eyes not only of the Masonic fraternity, but of the outside world, will be upon us; let us walk circumspectly, giving adverse critics no opportunity of pointing to anything like levity in our conduct, either in the Chapter, or out of it; remember the least inconsistency on the part of one might be FATAL to the prosperity of the Order.

Pardon me, Brothers, but to you I would respectfully say

Be to our virtues very kind,
But to our faults a little blind.

You have been filling high and responsible offices in various Masonic bodies, and have thereby gained knowledge and experience. We are in every sense of the word, novices. We are told that you are bound to aid and protect us. We now ask you to aid us in establishing this noble Order, and to protect us from any slanders, insinuations of our and your enemies. Never speak of the Institution but with respect and reverence. Remember a woman's character is very easily damaged and seldom retrieved. One light word from you might prove fatal to a sister's reputation. Be careful then of how you speak of us, and of the objects of this Order, and above all be careful who you recommend to join us lest the fair fame of all should suffer for the misconduct of one.

Let each and all of us ever remember not only the objects but the name of our Order. As the stars above us add beauty to the sky, while they shed light upon the earth, so should our acts add beauty to our lives, while our light should so shine before men, that seeing it they may glorify our Father who is in Heaven. Let us look to our Heavenly Father for His blessing on all our work, and carry it on in the spirit of devotion, like the wise men of the East, ever bearing in mind that we have not only "seen the Star," but that "we have come hither to worship it." It is in this spirit that I have taken up the work, and in this spirit I ask both Brothers, and Sisters to co-operate with me. Let our conduct in the Chapter, and out of it be such that when we leave this sublunary state of things, I trust it may be for mansions above the stars where there is peace for evermore. Let our lives be such that the outside world shall be constrained to say of each of us, speaking not of our physical frames, but of our moral qualities and religious virtues—

She has gone to the rest
God prepares for the blest.

For whilst amongst us were below, to quote the words of King Solomon, she was indeed, "Fairest among thousands, altogether lovely," (Cheers.)

Bro. Mitchell said he had had many proud moments in his life, but he never felt so proud as now. For several years he had been trying to get the Order established, and now his thoughts by day and his dreams by night were more than realized. The Order was established, he was standing in the proud position of its first Patron, and had the honour of being associated with a Worthy Matron of whose fitness for her position they were now all able to judge. He thought he fully understood the nature and objects of the Order before, but he must confess that Sister Wheeler had placed their duties before them in a newer and stronger light, and no effort should be wanting on his part to second her endeavours to keep up the honour and dignity of the Order.

Bro. Shields 33°, D.G.W.P., expressed the pleasure he experienced in having thus successfully inaugurated the first Chapter in Scotland, and his firm conviction that under such efficient officers it must succeed, and would soon be followed by the establishment of others in different towns.

SCOTTISH MASONIC BENEVOLENT INSTITUTION.

The following is an extract from a Scottish Contemporary:—To all appearance the time has at length arrived when Scottish Freemasonry will proceed to vindicate itself, so to speak, in the eyes of brethren in other parts of the kingdom, as also in foreign countries, by the establishment of a charitable organization, such as has long existed both in England and Ireland. The credit of originating, and so far promoting, the scheme pertains to a brother of repute, Bro. George R. Harriott, Prov. G.M. Wigtown and Kirkcudbright, who, through the columns of the accredited organ of the Craft in Britain, The Freemason, of London, has addressed to Grand Lodge and Scottish brethren generally a letter and short prospectus of the proposed institution. A full prospectus, showing the details in every branch, as deduced from the experience of the best similar institutions elsewhere, will be issued immediately to every lodge, province, &c., holding under Scotch rule. It will suffice, therefore, to say here that the objects of the institution are (1) To provide schools for boys and girls (children of decayed or aged Masons of good character) with lodging, feeding, and clothing, while belonging to the institution; (2) To provide halls in connection with several Scottish Universities, where students, sons of Masons, as above, might be maintained and receive instruction; and (3) The establishment of an asylum for aged and distressed Masons of good character, and their widows, or otherwise the granting of annuities to them outside. The scheme, as worked out at present, it is explained, will be followed until a sufficient number of donors and annual subscribers can be obtained to form a General Court, at which court it can be determined whether the scheme should be carried out in toto, or whether revisions should be made. The pecuniary estimates seem to us to be by no means over sanguinely drawn. It is estimated that at least 5000 brethren will contribute their half guinea per annum, and that Grand Lodge and other ruling Masonic bodies will give at least £100 yearly, which would yield in all £2750 a year to work upon. All larger donations, it must be added, are to be set apart as capital, and no capital to be touched until £12,000 or £15,000 shall have been accumulated. We have but to add that the proposal finds much favour in the eyes of the London Freemason, which not only ably advocates it in the chief leading article of the current issue, but whose proprietor (Brother Geo. Kenning, of London, Liverpool, and Glasgow) has, with his wonted liberality, promised one hundred guineas to the fund if the institution shall be successfully established.

ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL OF THE STAR LODGE OF INSTRUCTION,
No. 1275.

The Star Lodge of Instruction, No. 1275, celebrated its 5th Anniversary Festival on Friday evening, October 2nd, at "The Marquis of Granby Tavern," New Cross Road, under the able presidency of Bro. Charles James Hogg, P.M., 1275, P.G.S., who was supported by Bros. Dilley, P.M., 1155; W.M. 147, Preceptor; Baxter Langley, J.W., 1326; Keeble, P.M., 1275; G. Macdonald, J.W., 1158, Sec. There were also present Bros. Gloster, P.M., 1275; Hubback, P.M., 58, P.G.S.; Brown, P.M., 169; Bear, W.M., 1155; Guffin, W.M., 133; Green, P.M., 1275; J. Williams, (Freemason), and many others.

The banquet, which was excellent, was provided by Bro. Hobson, in his usual satisfactory manner. After grace had been said, and the cloth removed, the toasts were proceeded with. The Chairman, in proposing "The Queen and the Craft," said, the first toast that I have to propose this evening is one that gives me a deal of pleasure, because we all know that the Queen had our affections, almost from her infancy. I had the pleasure of seeing her frequently, previous to her coming to the Throne, and have also had the pleasure of knowing those who have had something to do with her education; and they all express that she was a most intelligent and obedient child, and always had shown great love for her mother. These are noble principles, which will enable us to look for something virtuous in the future. Our Sovereign Lady, the Queen, has been an excellent wife, a kind mother, and intelligent ruler. (Cheers.) I feel proud when I say that our Sovereign Lady has the affections of this great people, not only in England, but in all the English Colonies; even the Hindu, who is untaught, will bow with reverence and humility, whenever her name is mentioned. We, as Masons, love the Queen, and feel deeply grateful to her for the manner in which she rules over us, not only as Masons, but as men and Christians. Therefore I give you "the health of Her Majesty the Queen," and I couple with that "The Craft." The Chairman said, the next toast is "The health of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, M.W. Past Grand Master of England; the Princess of Wales, and the rest of the Royal Family." I shall avoid making any observations relating to the resignation of Lord Ripon. We all regretted losing him as our Master, but as you are all aware His Royal Highness has accepted the office of M.W. Grand Master of Freemasons. I know it has been received by you all with very great pleasure, for it is a good thing to have a member of the Royal Family at the head of the Order. And I think we shall ever have someone of the Royal Family as G.M. There is a family springing up sufficiently large to make it unnecessary for us to look farther than Royalty for a Head. I know Masonry will flourish under the Grand Mastership of His Royal Highness, and we are proud to have him to preside over us. It shows an amount of pluck—I will use the word pluck, for it requires such in the present age to take the position of G.M. I am of opinion that he will be one of the greatest of Masons throughout the world, therefore let us drink with pleasure the Health of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and the rest of the Royal Family. (Cheers.) The toast was drunk with the customary honours.

The Chairman: The next toast that I have to call to your notice is, the Health of the Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Carnarvon. I have had the pleasure of seeing him at the Star Lodge, and I take him to be one of the most intelligent of Masons. I do believe, and am sure you will all concur with me that no one is more capable of advancing the interests of Freemasonry than the Deputy Grand Master. I give you therefore "the Health of the Deputy Grand Master of England, the Earl of Carnarvon, and the Officers of the Star Lodge, both present and past." The toast was duly honoured.

The Chairman: The next toast I shall call on Bro. Langley to propose. Brother Langley, on rising, said, I feel that a very great duty has been entrusted to me. This is a very interesting occasion, because the Star Lodge wishes itself many happy returns of the day. We all wish ourselves many happy returns, and I hope that all of us may live to have many happy seasons here. We stand to-day as a Lodge of Instruction, one of the most successful in the whole country. Whenever anyone comes here, he sees the room well filled with brethren, and Bro. Dilley always at his post, ever ready to do his best to instruct. This Lodge has turned out many accomplished Masons, well posted in the various sections of Masonry. Whenever I come, I always find that I have come into a School under the tuition of a good master, and one who is always full of the greatest of cordiality. After some further remarks, Bro. Langley proposed success to the Star Lodge of Instruction, trusting at the same time Bro. Dilley would long live to preside over it. (Cheers.)

The President: I am quite pleased to return thanks to Bro. Langley, for the very kind manner in which he has proposed success to the Star Lodge of Instruction. I have pleasure in stating that I have always received great kindness from the brethren of this Lodge; they have given me their greatest support, and Bro. Dilley, as the Preceptor, has been very kind to me, and have always agreed with any ideas I suggested. I have attended many Lodges in the Craft, but have never met with more kindly feeling and attention paid to Masonry than at this Lodge; and I sincerely trust the Star Lodge will continue to be as it is now, one of the most prosperous in the Craft, the most numerous, and one of the best instructed. (Cheers.)

The Chairman: I next propose the principal Officer, our Preceptor, Bro. Dilley. I propose this toast with great pleasure and gratification; for in so doing, I know I have the co-operation and good feeling of the whole lodge with me. Every Brother present respects him, not only as their Preceptor, but as a man. (Cheers.) He has always shown us in the Lodge great kindness, and has taught us the highest principles of Masonry. He is full of affection and humanity, (Hear, hear), and has been indulgent to us all as erring brethren, which we as scholars, have been frequently guilty of. Therefore we always have obeyed him, without the least hesitation.

Bro. Dilley: In rising to return thanks for this toast, I cannot sufficiently express my gratitude for the very kind manner in which you have spoken of me. Having had the satisfaction to know that the Star Lodge of Instruction has prospered under my teaching, I may say, that I have always adopted the best system, for I have no method of my own, but have gleaned a little here and there, so to enable me to adopt the best teaching. If I have hitherto satisfied you as a Preceptor, I sincerely trust I shall do so in the future. I feel it is the duty of every man who loves Masonry, to make himself fully acquainted with all its principles—(Cheers)—and not only teach himself, but make it known to others. If no one had known it, I should never have done so, therefore I sincerely trust that my pupils will live long to instruct others. I thank you all kindly for the honour you have conferred upon me this evening, by drinking so heartily my health.

The Chairman: I have now the pleasure of proposing the health of our excellent Secretary, Bro. Macdonald. He has gained our highest esteem, for the very able manner in which he has discharged his duties. I ask you now to drink the health of our worthy Brother. The toast having been drunk, Bro. Macdonald said, I assure you all, I feel highly gratified for the very kind manner in which you have drunk my health. It is to me a labour of love to work for this Lodge of Instruction, and I feel encouraged when I receive your co-operation. You have all given it me, and have been always ready to come to my assistance, when required. It is your support that encourages me to persevere in my labours as Secretary. I feel proud to be the Secretary of this Lodge of Instruction, for it is one of the best attended and most prosperous Lodges in London. I shall always think it a labour of love. I have now a pleasing task to perform, and that is to give you a short account of the business of the Lodge during the past year. During that time we have met 52 times. Attendances have been 1546, which gives an actual average of 29½. Out of the funds we have given £17 19s. in Charity. We are still progressing, and I hope we shall be spared to meet again. I again thank you kindly for your toast. (Cheers.)

Chairman: I next propose the health of Bros. Keeble and Langley. Bro. Keeble, S.W., in rising, said, I have pleasure in saying that I have been long connected with this highly flourishing Lodge of Instruction. Come when you will, you will always find it worked well; and the Preceptor faithful and kind to his brethren. I thank you kindly for the kind manner you have drunk my health.

Bro. Langley, J.W.: I am very proud to be with you to-night; always feel extremely happy to be with you. After some other remarks, our brother proposed the health of the Chairman, to which Bro. Hogg ably responded. The health of the Host and Hostess was next drunk with enthusiasm.

The Tyler's toast was then given, which brought the proceedings to a close. All the brethren expressed themselves highly delighted, and the pleasures of the evening were greatly enhanced by the singing of Bros. Dilley, Smith, Wellsted, Brown, and Church.

NOTES ON LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART,

Colled from various sources by Bro. George Markham Tweddell.

The author of a new book, entitled "The Physiology of the Sects," states that "from long observation and years of experience and experiments, carefully verified, we are justified in asserting that a man's religious profession may be as readily and as surely determined by his physiognomy as his trade or calling. It is possible, without any personal knowledge, to declare the church, chapel, or conventicle to which a man belongs, by physiological differences, which are either constitutional, or which have been produced by custom and habit." We should like to test the writer with a score or two of our acquaintances. The doctrine at least is a novel one.

The following anecdote is related of Professor Fawcett, to show his extraordinary power of memory:—A gentleman, who went down to Brighton in order to report Mr. Fawcett's speech for fourteen newspapers, called upon the Professor some time before its delivery, and explaining the nature of his business, requested the favour of a statement of the principal points of the speech. Professor Fawcett very courteously proposed not only to give him the substance of his speech, but to rehearse the whole of it for him. This he did, and the reporter took it down. Later on, while the speech proper was being delivered, the original copy made at the rehearsal was checked over word for word, and from beginning to end. So perfectly had the speech been committed to memory there was not one single mistake, except that in one place a word was substituted for its equivalent in the notes.

Dr. Kenealy is an enraged iconoclast among modern writers. In his "Englishman" of Aug. 29th, in a leader on Professor Tyndall's Belfast address, he writes:—"It is one of the wonders of our time that the most inane and brainless creatures are set up as demi-gods and heroes; and it is not their fault wholly if they begin to regard themselves in the same false light as their followers behold them. Was there ever," he asks, "a more false, fantastic, or contemptible writer, to fill a niche in the Temple of Fame, than the late Charles Dickens?" And he adds that "future ages will laugh us to scorn for having made a hero of such a man" as him whose pen pictured for us Little Nell, and a host of other characters such as we fear Dr. Kenealy will never favour us with. Then the learned gentleman vents his wrath on poor Cervantes, as the murderer of Spanish chivalry; as though that had not been dead and buried long before, and the object of Cervantes's sarcasm was not a mere miserable mockery of "all those noble feelings which constitute the true greatness of nations, and which are worth more than all the gold and commerce of the earth," which, to use his own expression, he prates of. Both Dickens and Cervantes, he says, "ought to be loathed and scorned," &c. Browning, and Swinburne, and Ingelow belong to that "unhallowed crew" who "give their readers the sensation of being covered with vermin, so laboured, false, and hollow are their horrid rhymes." George Eliott and "that woman Braddon," and "the late Bulwer, and the whole of that essentially sensational and un-English mob of sham geniuses, including Sala of the Spotted Dog and Greenwood of the dog fight, will bring such scorn and discredit upon us in all future ages that one almost wishes he were out of the century that made itself ridiculous and despicable by ever tolerating such tricksters." Dr. Kenealy here reminds us of the man who, on being asked why he was confined in a lunatic asylum, promptly answered, "Because I believed the world mad, and they believed me mad, and they out-voted me." On the literary merits of Cervantes and Dickens Dr. Kenealy will surely be out-voted. Even Homer's poems, in Dr. Kenealy's opinion, are mere "rhapsodies," and the tragedies of Æschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides, are nothing but "fustian." We only wish the poems of Dr. Kenealy may live to rejoice millions of human hearts half as long as those of "the blind old bard of Scio's rocky isle," and the dramas of "the Greek tragedians" have done; and that, with his undoubted abilities, he may sober down into a delineator of actual life which, for faithfulness and vigour, may throw both Cervantes and Dickens into the shade. But the ravings of wholesale abuse will not accomplish it. Dr. Kenealy is capable of better criticism than this.

San Francisco is scarcely the place one would have chosen to seek for any painting by an old master, yet it is said by the Graphic that a valuable piece by Rubens, representing Diana and her Nymphs, has been discovered there. Its American history begins at a pawnbroker's at New York, from whence it was brought to San Francisco, and raffled for £700. The winner obtained it by purchase for £260, and took it with him to Sacramento, where for some time it figured in the saloon of a Frenchman. It was next bought by the manager of the Forrest Theatre at San Francisco, and fortunately escaping when that theatre was burnt down, was transferred to the Folsom. After this it again turned up at Sacramento, forming the chief adornment of the railway saloon of that town, from which place it has been finally removed to its present more suitable locality in the Art Association rooms of San Francisco.

REVIEWS.

The Ayr Advertiser copies the following notice of Bro. D. Murray Lyon's "History of the Lodge of Edinburgh (Mary's Chapel), No. 1."

"Brande, in his Encyclopedia, says 'Voltaire is commonly regarded, not without some truth, as the founder of the school of philosophical historians, among whom the highest rank in popularity has been attained and deserved by Gibbon.' The same compliment I think may be justly awarded as masonic historians to Bro. Findel [a German author] and Lyon. Our fraternity has been literally deluged with any number of romances miscalled masonic histories. Bro. Findel first showed us by example how historic facts should be collected and studied, and Bro. Lyon, following in his footsteps, has furnished us with a 'History of the Lodge of Edinburgh (Mary's Chapel), No. 1,' drawn from its records, going back as far as 1598, which undoubtedly is the oldest lodge record in existence, and which opens up a great deal of light on the condition of masons and masonry previous to 1717, and will tend to unsettle and demolish most of the theories advocated by our learned luminaries. True, Bro. Findel has accomplished a great deal in that line, but yet Bro. Findel may be said only to have sounded the death knell of masonic charlatanism and quackery; but Bro. Lyon's book will make it impossible for masonic quackery to survive much longer.

"I do not intend at present to write a review of Bro. Lyon's book, as I have only just received it, and have merely glanced at its contents while cutting open its leaves. But I cannot refrain giving a specimen of the author's style and his mode of reasoning, shewing furthermore that the facts which I have repeatedly advanced and advocated are sustained and demonstrated by the fresh collected historic facts. On pages 321 and 322, Bro. Lyon discusses the question about the authenticity or spuriousness of the Cologne Charter, and says:

"Of American writers, Bro. Dr. A. G. Mackey betrays a strong leaning towards belief in its authenticity. He professes to discover in the reference that is made in the charter of the masonic patronage of St. John the Baptist, 'one of the evidences of its antiquity.' It seems to us that this evidence is even more fabulous than the story it is adduced to support. The same writer also remarks: 'The assertion of the charter that the brethren of the Joannite Society adopted the Scots ritual practised in the Edinburgh Lodge, has led Rhigellini very appropriately to remark that they should then have recognised the Temple Order and the Degrees of Chivalry, since these were, at the time practised by Scotch Lodges,' (so says Bro. Mackey, but our author goes on thus): Statements of this kind, as to the Mason Craft having three centuries ago been the conservators of chivalric rites, are not now received as historical facts, except by the more superstitious of the Brotherhood. Of British masonic writers, while Dr. Oliver quotes the Cologne Charter as a historical document worthy of credence, Dr. Jas. Burnes, in his 'Sketch of the history of the Knights Templar,' unhesitatingly and in the most unqualified terms condemns it as an imposture. It is well-known that neither the written history, nor the most generally received traditions of the Scotch Craft, assign to Freemasonry an origin and design such as that which is claimed for it by the authors of the so-called Charter of Cologne. Nor do the records of the Lodge of Edinburgh of the sixteenth century, or the contemporaneous official MSS. of the then legally constituted head of the lodges in Scotland, afford the slightest ground for supposing that Masons were ever associated together in lodges for other than trade purposes. Their bond of union was not of a cosmopolitan character; neither was the maintenance and propagation of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity, the object of their incorporation, or of their secret ceremonial."

"... Hear now what Bro. Lyon has to say about the 'ancient landmark,' so called, of the dedication of lodges to the Baptist:

"As to the alleged annual celebration by lodges of the memory of St. John the Baptist, Mary's Chapel had not at the date of its oldest minutes (1599), made any pretensions to special admiration of the 'forerunner of Christ,' either by dedicating itself to him, or by any formal commemoration of his nativity. In another part of this work we have shown that the festival of St. John the Baptist, was not observed in any respect by Mary's Chapel, any more than by the Lodge of Kilwinning, until about the time the Grand Lodge of Scotland was instituted."

"... I shall abstain at present from giving any more of what the Work suggests to the mind, but must briefly allude to what it suggests to the eye. The book was printed by the well known firm of William Blackwood & Sons. As a work of art it has never been equalled in any preceding masonic publication, and I doubt very much whether its artistic style is likely to be surpassed in any masonic work in our day and generation.

"The book is illustrated with sixty portraits and twenty-six fac-similes, among which I noticed those of two charters or documents (Letters of Jurisdiction to the St. Clairs of Roslin), which are not only copied full size of the originals, but look exactly as we may imagine old parchment documents would look—faded, discoloured, and differently shaded degrees of dirt, so naturally delineated that they look more like photographs than lithographs.

The book is also furnished with a copious index. In short, the book is as attractive and as beautifully printed as any one can wish a book to be. It costs me, including postage, $10 50, currency; but if any one offered me, in exchange, all the works of Oliver, and all the pre-1717 histories of that school, and even offered to throw Bro. Pierson's 'Freemasonry and its Traditions' into the bargain, I would most emphatically and politely decline the offer with a 'No, I thank you.' I would do so because I value books not on account of bulk, but for the truths they contain, and I am firmly persuaded that there may be found more truth in a solitary page of Bro. Lyon's history than we can find in a whole library of trash furnished by the Oliverian school; and, also, I expect to meet with fewer errors in the whole of Bro. Lyon's book than we may easily detect in almost any page written by our dreamy romancers.

"I would, therefore, heartily advise those who can afford, to order a copy as soon as possible, by remitting £1 16s to Bro. George Kenning, 198, Fleet Street, London. Bro. K. may be able to furnish a copy, that is, if the whole edition is not already disposed of, as there were but five hundred copies printed. And I beg to assure the reader that, with the exception of a desire to diffuse information among the brotherhood, I have no personal interest of any kind for depreciating this or praising that, as I know nothing more about Bro. Lyon than merely having read some articles from his pen in the London Freemason, which I have always admired for their independent, manly tone and reliability. Indeed I can almost imagine when reading Bro. Lyon's writings, as if the author addressed me thus: 'Here I give to you what I believe to be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, and care not whether it agrees with your theories or prejudices.' I therefore once more unhesitatingly recommend Bro. Lyon's book to the patronage of all lovers of reliable history."

Writing of the work, Charles Eugene Meyer, P.M., P.Z., Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Pennsylvania, says: "It is superb! I should want no better monument. It is unequalled. Cannot be excelled in authorship, typography, or binding."—Ayr Observer and New York Dispatch.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS, WOOD GREEN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE FREEMASON.

Dear Sir,—The boys of the above School have requested me to ask you to be kind enough to insert the following account of a Testimonial, presented to a master who is leaving here. They will feel very much obliged indeed for the insertion.—I am, Sir, yours fraternally,

W. H. TAYLOR.

On Monday evening the boys of this School presented Mr. James Bengé, one of the Masters, who is about to leave, with a handsome Gold Watch. The watch was presented by one of the senior boys, and the following address read:

"We, the boys of the Royal Masonic School, in taking leave of you, Mr. Bengé, wish to express our appreciation of your labours amongst us as a teacher, and to substantially acknowledge the same, by presenting you with a Gold Watch, as a slight memorial for the kindness and interest which you have always taken in our welfare since you came amongst us. We sincerely hope that in your next post you will be comfortable and happy, and we wish you to believe that we shall always take an affectionate interest in your future career."

At the conclusion of the address, Mr. Bengé, in feeling terms gratefully acknowledged the kindness of the boys, and strongly urged upon them the necessity of paying great attention to duty and discipline. He was enthusiastically cheered at the conclusion of his remarks, and great regret was expressed by the elder boys, who had known Mr. Bengé for so many years, that he was going to leave the Institution. Mr. Bengé has been a master for seven years in the School, and we are glad to know that he has been appointed to a position in the Wesleyan Collegiate Institution.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

SIR ROBERT MICHAEL SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 293.]

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD. [PRICE With Supplement, 2d.

The Grand Lodge of Mark Master
Masons of England and Wales
AND THE COLONIES AND DEPENDENCIES OF
THE BRITISH CROWN.

Bro. the Right Hon. the EARL PERCY,
M.W.G.M.M.M.
Bro. Right Hon. the EARL OF LIMERICK,
R.W. D.G.M.M.M.

PROVINCE OF SUSSEX.

THE Provincial Grand Lodge

OF Mark Master Masons
OF SUSSEX

WILL BE CONSTITUTED
BY

The R.W. Bro. the Rt. Hon. the EARL
OF LIMERICK, R.W.D.G.M.M.M.,
AND THE INSTALLATION

OF
Bro. SIR JOHN CORDY BURROWS, J.P.,
W.M. Keystone Lodge 168,
As the R.W. PROVINCIAL GRAND M.M.M.
WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE
"OLD SHIP" HOTEL,
King's Road, Brighton,

On FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1874, at 2 o'clock.
The business of the day having concluded,

A BANQUET

Will be held (about half-past 4 o'clock).

Tickets (price 7s. 6d. each, exclusive of wine)
may be obtained of Bro. T. J. Sabine, W.M. 75, Brighton; Bro. J. Pearson, W.M. 164, Hay-
ward's Heath; Bro. Thos. Trollope, W.M. 166, Hastings; Bro. W. R. Wood, S.W. 168, Bright-ton; Bro. Kirkland, S.W. 166, Eastbourne;
Bro. J. M. Cunningham, P.M. 75, P.G.J.O.,
Hailsham; Bro. C. Smith, Sec. 168, Cliftonville, and of Bro. S. R. Ade, S.W. 164, 157, North Street, Brighton.

It is particularly requested that intimation be sent by those Brethren who intend to dine,—not later than Monday, October 19th, 1874,—to enable the Committee to make suitable arrangements.

By order of the Committee,

THOS. J. SABINE,
W.M. 75, P.M. 22, P.A.G.D. of C.,
Acting P.G. Sec.

54, Ship Street, Brighton,
Sep. 23rd, 1874.

THE LINCOLNSHIRE
Provincial Grand Lodge

OF Mark Master Masons.

THE INAUGURATION

Of this Lodge, and the

INSTALLATION

OF
W. BRO. JOHN SUTCLIFFE, of Stalling-borough House, Grimsby,

AS THE

FIRST PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK
MASTER FOR THIS COUNTY,

Will take place in the

REMIGIUS LODGE ROOMS, MASONIC
HALL, LINCOLN,

On Thursday 20th October, 1874,

At One o'clock noon, precisely,

Under the presidency of the R. W. Bro. W.
ROMAINE CALLENDER, M.P., F.S.A., and Prov.
G.M.M. of the County Palatine of Lancaster;
assisted by Members of the Grand Lodge of
M.M.M. and Provincial Grand Officers of Lancashire.

Arrangements have been made for Special Trains and Return Tickets for the Brethren from
the N., S., and W.

Banquet at 3.30 p.m. in the Concert Room of the Masonic Hall. Tickets 5s. each.

Brothers intending to be present will please furnish their names to Bro. Frederick Wilson,
P.M. 117 (Chairman of the Committee of Management), 31, Carholme-road, Lincoln; or Bro.
Robert Gough, Grimsby, prior to the 22nd inst.
Programme and full particulars on application.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes
at 75, Ware-road, W.

Without stops, £4; three stops, £7; five stops,
£8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; ten stops, £15 15s.; eleven stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,
Harmonium Manufacturers,
75, Edgware-road, London.
FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to shipowners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

THE PERFECTION OF CLOTHING,
English Clothing is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. MOSES and SON'S as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes,
and complete outfits for all climates.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11
o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,

Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON,

Minorities and Aldgate,

New Oxford-street,

Tottenham-Court-road,

And Bradford, Yorkshire.

M O U R N I N G

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand
a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent a any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the article required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,

Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON,

Minorities and Aldgate,

New Oxford-street,

Tottenham-court-road,

and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted
by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—
Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly,
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS
ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE
PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
In pen and ink ... 4/6 | Crest engraved on spoons (dov.)
Heraldic colours ... 7/6 | " " " sealor ring
Engraved on copper ... 1/10 | " " " watch or stick

BRO. JAMES B. SLY,

9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/, also
a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK
MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

Degree of Most Excellent, Royal, Select, and Super-Excellent Master.

Meetings, under the Authority of the GRAND COUNCIL OF ENGLAND AND WALES, to confer the above Degrees, will be held at the new Lodge Rooms, 2, Red Lion-square, Holborn, on the second and fourth Wednesday in every month. Fee £2 2s.

Ten days' notice of attendance must be sent to the undersigned, from whom all particulars may be obtained.

Candidates must be qualified as Royal Arch and Mark Master Masons.

FREDERICK BINCKES,
Grand Recorder.

Office,—2, Red Lion-square, W.C.
June 8, 1874.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales. Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
33 and 35, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern, MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY.
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN, late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant, 7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.
Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
Bro. F. HILFRICH, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.

COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.

THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.

Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yachting, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Hearne, R.A., 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel, (NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS, DAZEJUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable.

The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the viandts will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste.

The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS, Proprietors.

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,
198, Fleet-street, London,
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

FOR SALE—A set of handsome Oak CANDLESTICKS, Fluted Columns, and Gilt Capitals, of the three Orders, standing five feet high. Price £12 12s. At Kenning's Masonic Depots, 175, Aldersgate-street, and 1, 2, and 3, Little Britain, E.C.

GENERAL POST OFFICE (Within a few yards of).—To Let an entire house, having a frontage of about 19ft. and comprising ground floor fitted with plate glass front, basement, and three upper floors, with or without an extensive range of four-storey brick-built premises and large yard, enclosed by double entrance-gates; the whole covering an area of about 3,500ft. Plans and particulars at Messrs. Debenham, 1, Wain and Farmer, 85, Cheapside.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.
Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.
This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."
It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.
In tin packets at 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)
Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.
SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakners, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order by name any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

Size 32in. BY 26in.

AUTOTYPES

Bro. Sigismund Rosenthal's Celebrated Paintings,
The Reception of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales as P.G.M.,
At Freemasons' Hall, on Dec. 1, 1869, containing upwards of 120 Figures and Portraits.
The Reception of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the Grand

Conclave of Knights Templar,
May 13, 1870, containing nearly 100 Figures and Portraits.

1n BLACK AND GILT FRAMES, £2 12s. 6d. Each.

Sold by Bro. G. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 175, Aldersgate-street, London.
Branches—198, Fleet-street, London; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.

The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires, emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S
"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly exceeds all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.
"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair to its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.
"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.
ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,
And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.
Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.
Wholesale, Angel-passage, 95, Upper Thames-street, London.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Fourth Edition. 5s.
"A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age.
London: Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

FOR FISH
FOR POULTRY.
FOR GAME.
FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.
J. GOW,
1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, DRYDEN
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Clubs, &c.
Country Orders promptly executed.
ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE.
TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, &c.
R. D. BARR,
General Broker, Furs, and Ironmongery,
15, BLACKMAN STREET,
OFFERS nothing extra Good Articles at low prices keep an "Immense Stock" of select from. He does not the Trade," but quite an
A visit will

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 Craft Masonry 627
 Royal Arch 630
 Mark Masonry..... 630
 Masonic Notes and Queries 630
 Death of the Duke of Leinster..... 631
 Freemasonry and Roman Catholicism..... 632
 CORRESPONDENCE:—
 Our late Grand Master 633
 Scottish Masonic Benevolent Fund..... 633
 Masonic Jurisprudence 633
 The Coming Installation of the Grand Master..... 633
 Royal Masonic Institution for Girls 633
 Royal Visit to Plymouth..... 633
 Designation of Lodges 634
 Freemasonry and Liberty—Romanism and Ignorance 634
 Funeral of the Duke of Leinster 634
 Masonic Tidings..... 634
 Lodge Meetings next week..... 635
 Advertisements 625 626 632 637 638 639 640
 SUPPLEMENT (EIGHT PAGES).
 The Duke of Edinburgh at Devonport..... 641
 Provincial Grand Lodge of West Lancashire 645
 Dedication of a Masonic Hall in Liverpool 645
 Royal Masonic Institution for Boys 647
 Royal Masonic Institution for Girls..... 647
 Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution..... 647
 Red Cross of Constantine 647
 Reports of Masonic Meetings in Scotland..... 648

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

We think it right to publish, for the information of our ever loyal Order, the following announcement from the Times of the 15th:—

THE TIMES OFFICE, 5.30 A.M.

ACCOUCHEMENT

OF THE

Duchess of Edinburgh.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE, OCT. 15, 3.30 A.M.

Her Royal and Imperial Highness the Duchess of Edinburgh was safely delivered of a Prince this morning at 2.45.

Her Royal and Imperial Highness and the Infant Prince are doing perfectly well.]

ARTHUR FARRE, M.D.
 WILSON FOX, M.D.

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

NEPTUNE LODGE (No. 22).—This lodge held an Emergency at Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street, on Thursday, 1st inst., at 5 o'clock, to initiate Mr. Heerjeebhoy Shroff, justice of the peace and member of the Bombay Corporation (prior to his return to Bombay). Advantage was taken by the W.M. to initiate at the same meeting Mr. Thomas Dyer and Mr. George Britton. Bro. C. W. Gray, W.M., initiated Mr. Heerjeebhoy and Mr. Britton, but owing to severe hoarseness and sore throat was compelled to ask Bro. Russell, I.P.M., to do the intermediate ceremony of Mr. Thomas Dwyer. The manner in which the W.M. performed the ceremonies and delivered the charge elicited the compliments and congratulations of the visitors. Although an "emergency" meeting a banquet followed, and Bro. Percy Leith's name having been associated with the toast of Grand Officers, the Past Deputy G.M. for Bombay replied to the following effect: Worshipful Sir, it is somewhat a matter of regret that the Grand Treasurer and Secretary (who have been invited this evening) are unavoidably absent through previous engagements; for either of those would have been more in place in replying to the toast of the Grand Officers than myself. While thanking you and the brethren for the cordial manner in which the toast of "the Grand Officers" has been proposed and welcomed, permit me in their name to say that we trust you will give us credit for having done our utmost to promote the welfare of the Craft. The duties of the Grand Officers comprise a careful attention to many matters of detail, which in the aggregate conduce mainly to the success or non-success of our Masonic Institution. If by our exertions this success has been attained, your approval will be our highest reward. It is, I think, and I trust you will agree with me, a happy event for the Craft that H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has signified his willingness to accept the dignity of Grand Master if the brethren elect him to that position. Again I thank you on behalf of the Grand Officers for the kind reception we have met with this evening. With the toast of "The Initiates" the W.M. coupled the name of Bro Heerjeebhoy, who said: Worshipful Master and Brethren, I thank you cordially for the great favour you have conferred upon me in admitting me this evening into your ancient and honourable Society. It has been for years my fervent desire to become a Mason, as I find all my good friends enrolled in it in Bombay, and I have to thank my friend, Bro. Leith, for his kindness in introducing me to your Lodge. I have been deeply impressed by the solemnity of your ceremonial, and I admire the manner in which the W.M. has admitted me to be one of the fraternity, and I assure you that the impressions of this night, a new birth as I may say, will never be effaced. You will pardon me I hope, if for a few moments I occupy your time, to tell you one or two other impressions outside of Freemasonry which have been forced upon me during my sojourn here. I have been three and a half months here; I have seen, as far as the limited time permitted, the principal parts of England, Scotland, &c., your hills clothed with a verdure new to us Orientals, your magnificent lakes and the charming scenery delighted me beyond measure. When I first arrived, London bewildered me; I said to myself "can this be an Old World or a New?" The extent of this vast City, its population, the constant bustle of its streets, its gigantic commerce, and the wealth displayed in its shops, I say, bewildered me. Again, the enormous number of your grand public buildings, and the beauty and extent of your parks and gardens always remind me of the wealth of this great English nation. I hope, brethren, you will give me credit that I have looked at all this intellectually, and not in a casual manner, and that these remarks are not for the purpose of flattering you or your country, and that I shall truly convey these ideas to my fellow countrymen on my return to my native land. I regret that I have to leave for Bombay on Tuesday next, for it would have been to me a source of delight that I could have remained to perfect my position in Freemasonry in this lodge; but by the kindness of the W.M., the recommendation of Bro. Leith, the Past Deputy G.M., of Bombay, I shall carry a certificate to enable me to take the necessary degrees in the Lodge St. George, Bombay, under the Grand Lodge of England. In conclusion, I can only reiterate that the urbanity and hospitality I have experienced during my sojourn here have increased the admiration I previously felt for Great Britain and the British people (of course I always exclude the roughs), and I again thank you most heartily and sincerely for receiving me among you, and for your patience in listening to these remarks. On resuming his seat Bro. Heerjeebhoy, who had been frequently interrupted by the cheers of the brethren, was loudly applauded. On proposing the toast of the visitors, the W.M. called upon Bro. Dorabjee Pestonjee Cama, W.M. Marquis Dalhousie, Lodge 1159, who said: W.M. and brethren, I have experienced the liveliest satisfaction this evening in visiting your lodge for various reasons. I am delighted with your working Worshipful Sir, and it is perhaps no flattery to you to say that I have learned something this evening. I have great delight in assisting at the initiation of my friend and fellow countryman, who is also my co-religionist, my old school-fellow, and now more than all, my brother in Masonry. In receiving him you have one whom I greatly esteem, and who will, I am sure, ultimately reflect credit on your choice. You have had the privilege to number among you in Neptune Lodge, I am informed, ten Parsees; at least I have seen a list of ten names, and these almost without exception are fit and proper men. Bro. Heerjeebhoy will also prove to be, I am confident. I have the honour to be the second who has held the proud position of Master of an English Lodge, and I esteem it a high honour. I thank you on behalf of the visitors for your remarks, and for the reception we have met with. The visitors were, Bros. Percy Leith, P.M. 2 and 549; Leith Tomkims, P.M. 1118, P.G.D.; Dorabjee Pestonjee Cama, W.M. 1159; Earl, 186; King, 1056; Nott, 1441.

BOLTON.—Anchor and Hope Lodge (No. 37).—The monthly meeting of the above lodge was held in Freemasons' Hall, Church Institute, Bolton, on Monday, October 5th. There was a good attendance of brethren, including Bros. Wm. Slater, Prov. S.G. Deacon, W.M.; W. H. Horrocks, J.W.; E. Ainsworth, Sec.; R. K. Freeman, S.D.; Jas. Brown, J.D.; Thos. Glaister, S.G. Warden; Samuel Isherwood, Prov. G. Treasurer; T. H. Winder, Prov. G. Registrar; John Tunnah, Prov. G. Sec.; G. P. Brockbank, Prov. S.G. Deacon; Jas. Newton, Prov. G. Steward; Frank Ainsworth, Prov. G. Steward; Jas. McAdam, P. Prov. G.D. Derbyshire; F. W. Pacey, P. Prov. G. Org. Berks and Bucks; Wm. Hamer, P.M. 350; and others. The lodge being opened in the first degree, and the minutes read and confirmed, proceeded to the second degree, when Bro. John Horrocks was passed to degree of F.C. by the W.M. There being no other business the lodge was duly closed.

HARWICH.—Star of the East Lodge (No. 650).—Monday, Oct. 5, this Lodge met at the Pier Hotel, for the purpose of installing the Worshipful Master for the ensuing year. The following were amongst those present:—Bros. J. Durrant, W.M.; J. W. C. Butcher, P.M.; J. South, P.M.; R. S. Dixon, P.M.; J. Watts, S.W.; G. G. Pye, J.W.; S. Dutton, sen., Secretary and Treasurer; J. Dunlop, S.D.; S. Dutton, jun., I.G.; J. Cartledge, Steward; W. Cockle, J. Robinson, J. Warren, I. Howard, G. L. Jackson, G. King, R. Guy, W. Barker, W. Basham, R. Barlow, Tyler. Visitors: R. J. Bagshaw, Esq., R.W.P.G.M. Essex; Dr. R. B. Barton, LL.D., P.P.G.M. Western India; —Burton, P.G.T. Essex; J. Carr, P.G.S. Essex; W. Frederick Laxton, P.M., S.G.D. Middlesex; Samuel Chaplain, P.S.W.; W. Cobb, W.M. 51, Angel Lodge, Colchester, Fred A. Cole, P.M. 51, P.G.R., Essex; W. Westgate, P.M., P.P.A.D.C. Suffolk; and R. Clemens. Brother J. Durrant, the W.M. for the past year, was again installed W.M., after which he appointed and invested the following officers:—G. G. Pye, S.W.; J. Dunlop, J.W.; S. Dutton, sen., Secretary and Treasurer; S. Dutton, jun., S.D.; J. Cartledge, J.D.; and R. Barlow, Tyler. The installing ceremony was very efficiently performed by Bro. T. Townsend, P.P.S.G.W. Suffolk. At the conclusion of the business, the Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master, Bro. R. J. Bagshaw, expressed himself highly pleased with the choice of the W.M., and also the great gratification he experienced at finding the lodge in such an efficient state. At six o'clock the brethren sat down to a sumptuous banquet, served in admirable style by Brother Brice. After various loyal and other toasts, "The health of the Right Worshipful Grand Master for Essex, Bro. R. J. Bagshaw," was proposed and received with all the usual honours. Bro. Bagshaw, who was most enthusiastically received, in the course of his remarks observed that the Essex Lodge owed its existence to him, and it was peculiarly gratifying to him to find that it had become a pattern lodge. He also said he was glad they wished their Worshipful Master to continue in office. He then proposed "The Health of the Worshipful Master." Bro. Durrant responded. "The Grand Officers of Essex," coupled with the health of Bro. Burton, was next most cordially drunk, and Bro. Burton, in responding, commented on the pleasure which it afforded them to rally round their Prov. G. Master on all occasions. It was very gratifying to see how uniformly the lodges worked, and the high state of proficiency of this particular lodge. He was one of the seven who founded the lodge. Bro. Dr. Barton's name was associated with the toast of "The health of the Visitors," and this gentleman in the course of an ample speech, referred to the exodus from the Craft of the late Grand Master of England, Lord Ripon. He also made allusion to the remark made in one of the leading newspapers, as to Freemasonry being a very foolish but harmless benefit society. He deprecated the entrance of men for aggrandisement, ambition, or self-interest. "The members of the Angel Lodge, Colchester," having been responded to, by the present W.M., Bro. Cobb, the Chairman next gave "The Brethren of the Prince of Wales Lodge," making special allusion to Bro. Townsend, who, the Chairman said, was always ready to wait upon them. Amongst other toasts was that of "The Health of the Secretary and Treasurer," Bro. S. Dutton; and the Chairman, in proposing it, spoke in eulogistic terms of the services rendered by Bro. Dutton, adding that it was in a great measure owing to the indefatigable services of that gentleman that the lodge was in such a satisfactory state. "The health of the Mayor and Corporation of Harwich" was also drank. It was proposed by Bro. Dr. Barton, who made some flattering remarks in reference to the Mayor (J. Watts), observing, that, as a brother magistrate of the county he could bear testimony to the good name, irrespective of party, that Bro. Watts held amongst all classes. Some excellent songs were sung, and the proceedings throughout were most successful and enjoyable.

WILLIAM PRESTON LODGE (No. 766).—A meeting of this lodge was held at the Cannon-street Hotel on the 26th September, 1874, when the following brethren were present:—Bros. Wm. Worrell, W.M.; A. Braun, S.W.; J. Pringle, J.W.; M. Newton, S.D. Also Bros. G. Newman, P.M.; W. J. Miller, P.M.; B. Abbott, P.M.; R. H. Whiteman, P.M.; G. J. Kain, P.M. and Treasurer. Also Bros. A. C. Rees, Dr. Cutmore, G. Smithers, J. A. Keen, W. Roberts, W. Johnston, W. E. Newton, P. Steinmann, H. T. Partridge, E. Kidman, and R. Lyon. Bros. F. Binckes, Sec. B.S.; H. Garrod, P.M. 769; J. H. Broomhall, 569; G. W. Long, 569; Lewis Phillips, 822; A. Le Grand, 1298. The business of the evening consisted of the passing of Bros. Williams and Sutcliffe, the raising of Bros. Reissman, Davies, Broomhall, and Reinhardt, and the initiation of five candidates, viz: Mr. F. G. Barns; Mr. C. Colgrave; Mr. R. Gunner; Mr. A. Ransby; Mr. R. B. Smithers. The election for W.M. for the ensuing year, and Treasurer and Tyler then took place, when Bro. A. Braun, S.W., was elected W.M., Bro. G. J. Kain, P.M., re-elected Treasurer, and Bro. Grant, Tyler. It was proposed, seconded, and carried unanimously, that a jewel be presented to Bro. Worrell, W.M., on his leaving the chair, to mark the appreciation of the lodge of his valuable services during the past year. All Masonic business being ended, the brethren adjourned to an excellent dinner, presided over by the W.M., after which the usual Masonic toasts were duly honoured.

THE GREAT CITY LODGE (No. 1426).—An emergency meeting of this lodge was held in the lodge rooms at the Cannon-street Hotel, on Friday evening, October 9th, under the presidency of the W.M., Bro. James Stevens. There were present, among other brethren, Bros. Senior Warden and W.M. Elect, N. B. Headon; Junior Warden J. H. Townend, P.M.; Senior Deacon, J. Seex, P.M. 136; Secretary, E. Moody, P.M.; Treasurer, Jas. Freeman; G. W. Blackie, Barker, Catchpole, G. Page, P.M., Jenkins, Boulton, T. Preston, Taylor, Colmer, Hamer and Cox, and several visitors. After the usual routine business had been transacted, Mr. John Phillips and Mr. F. Keeble were duly initiated. On the motion of the W.M. elect five pounds was voted from the benevolent fund to assist a distressed brother, and Bro. Preston then moved, in accordance with his notice, that a Past Master's jewel of the value of ten guineas be presented to Bro. James Stevens, with the thanks of the brethren, and that he be asked to accept an honorary membership of the lodge. Bro. Preston expressed his regret that it had not fallen into abler hands to make the proposal, not that he feared being well supported, but because he thought the occasion was worthy of an abler tongue. As, however, the jewel was intended to commemorate the work of Bro. Stevens in the Great City Lodge, there was some excuse for his (the speaker's) presumption in undertaking to make the motion, for he had been in the lodge every hour that it had been open since he was initiated. He was therefore able to testify to the admirable way in which Bro. Stevens worked the lodge. The task of presiding over such a lodge as the Great City was not a light one, nor was the position of the W.M. altogether easy. Brethren well knew that it is upon the wise and judicious exercise of the high functions committed to him that the satisfactory progress of the business of Masonry in a great measure depends. We look to him, too, for counsel and advice, and he (Bro. Preston) felt sure the brethren would agree with him when he said, that during the time Bro. Stevens had been in the chair, his help had always been readily given to any brethren who sought it, and as he was a most experienced Mason the advice was always valuable. His firmness and impartiality must have impressed the brethren, while the admirable way in which he had performed the lodge work was beyond all praise. A better Master never presided over a lodge, and if his successors followed in his footsteps and copied his example the future of the Great City Lodge could not but be a great success. The jewel would serve to remind him that his efforts were appreciated, and the honorary membership would keep him amongst the brethren, and his name would thus be associated with the lodge as long as it lasted. The motion having been seconded and carried unanimously, the Senior Warden made the formal announcement to the W.M. In reply, Bro. Stevens said, it had been his good fortune to have several jewels presented to him, all of which he prized most highly; but there were particular reasons why he should prize the Great City Lodge Jewel more highly than them all. For one thing it represented eighteen months in the chair. Then it was the jewel of the first W.M. of a Lodge that had some difficulty in making its entry into the Masonic world; but by the continued exertions of himself and others, the bantling had kicked itself out of its swaddling clothes, and once on his legs its strides had been rapid enough. There had been twenty-eight initiates during his Mastership, and he believed that every one of them would be a credit to the Craft. The lodge, young as it was, was well known amongst Masons, and was always hopefully spoken of. But this creditable position could not be placed entirely to his credit. Indeed he doubted whether he had done so much as the worthy brother, the W.M. elect. They had, however, worked hand in hand, with brotherly love and unity, and profit and pleasure had been the result. All the officers were entitled to share in any praise that the W.M. had gained, and he heartily thanked them for the support they had given him, and for the admirable way in which they had performed their various duties. He accepted the honorary membership with thanks, and hoped still to be of some service to the lodge. The balance-sheet was then read and received, and the report of the auditors appointed by the lodge, and ordered to be entered on the minutes. The lodge was then closed and adjourned till the next day.

THE GREAT CITY LODGE (No. 1426).—The installation meeting of this lodge took place at the City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street, City, on Saturday last, and passed off remarkably well. The brethren assembled at 3 o'clock, and the lodge was opened by the W.M., Bro. James Stevens. The lodge room was crowded, and presented a brilliant appearance. Amongst the visitors were noticed several of the leading officers of the Grand Lodge of England, besides a large number of Masters and Past Masters of Metropolitan and Provincial Lodges. Most of the members of the lodge were present, including Bros. N. B. Headon, Senior Warden, and W.M. elect; J. H. Townend, Junior Warden; Freeman, Treasurer; Moody, P.M., Secretary; Seex, Senior Deacon; Stanway, Junior Deacon;

Blackie, Inner Guard, Barker, acting Director of Ceremonies; and Bros. Catchpole and Preston acting Stewards. Bro. Hervey, Grand Secretary presented the W.M. elect, and the ceremony of installation was then performed in the most impressive manner by Bro. James Stevens, in ancient form, and according to the laws of Grand Lodge. Bro. T. Fenn, P.G.D.C., acted as Senior Warden, and Bro. Bridges, P.M., made an able Director of Ceremonies. The following officers were then invested in due form, the W.M. addressing to each a few appropriate words:—Bros. J. H. Townend, P.M., Senior Warden; John Seex, P.M., Junior Warden; James Freeman, Treasurer; Edw. Moody, P.M., Secretary; Richard Stanway, Senior Deacon; J. W. Colmer, (for Bro. Wisby, absent through illness) Junior Deacon; G. W. Blackie, Inner Guard; W. H. Hook, Organist; W. H. Catchpole, Director of Ceremonies; Thos. Preston, 1st Steward; Thos. Hamer, 2nd Steward; and Bro. W. Steedman, P.M., Tyler. The lodge was then closed, and the brethren adjourned to the hall, where they did justice to the banquet. After grace had been sung, the Worshipful Master proposed the health of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen; he said that no eloquence was needed, he was sure, to induce them to respond to that toast with enthusiasm—for wherever there was an assemblage of Freemasons, there also was an assemblage of faithful and loyal subjects, who would be ever ready to join in giving "God save the Queen," and in the Great City Lodge they would ever delight to give expression to that sentiment. Followed by the National Anthem, the toast being given as "The Queen and the Craft." The Worshipful Master said the next toast he had to propose was "The Most Worshipful Past Grand Master, his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, K.G., Acting Grand Master." He said, Brethren, much as we regret the resignation of the late Grand Master, the Marquis of Ripon, and the causes which led thereto, we cannot but feel highly gratified that his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has accepted the office of Grand Master. (Loud cheers.) We have every reason to believe that he will carry out the duties of that high office to the satisfaction of the brethren and that, with him as chief, head, and ruler of the Craft, I believe that Freemasonry will flourish, as it has hitherto done, and spread its benign influence throughout the land. The toast was drunk enthusiastically and with Masonic honours and after Bro. Hook had sung "God Bless the Prince of Wales," the W.M. proposed the health of "The Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Carnarvon, and the Officers of the Grand Lodge, past and present," coupling with it the name of Brother Fenn, Past Grand Director of Ceremonies. The toast was very cordially responded to. Bro. Fenn, P.A.G.D.C., Worshipful Master and Brethren, I knew that our Bro. Hervey would be present this evening and of course expected that he would reply to this toast. It is therefore much to my surprise that I find myself called upon to respond to the toast which has been so warmly given and received. It is, of course, very painful to refer to our late Grand Master in any other terms than those we have been accustomed to use concerning him. He has undoubtedly for many years been a sincere and true friend to Masonry and we have regarded him, and rightly, I think with the greatest possible respect. We have always looked up to him, not only as an ornament to the Craft, but from his position in life as a element of our strength; but I venture to say that there are very few in the room—and would almost say there are few in the Craft that can feel any sympathy with our late Grand Master in the step he has taken. He has asked us to give him credit for sincere conviction but it seems impossible to believe that our late Grand Master, who, yesterday as it were, spoke in all the warmth of his eloquence of the high principles of the Craft, and the good it has done the world, should to-day from sincere conviction look upon it as a thing accursed. (Hear, hear) I really think it is a more charitable view to take of the course which our late Grand Master has adopted to believe that he has given up his convictions altogether, and has been kept in the grip of others. (Hear, hear)

Master has chosen to disconnect himself from reamasonry, he has retired from his lodges and relinquished all claim to Past Rank, and, of course, his name will soon be unconnected with the toasts, and we shall not have the painful duty of referring to what has occurred. Let us, therefore, turn our eyes to the more pleasing phase of events, and contemplate with satisfaction the results—no less than the advent of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales as our Grand Master—an event which I feel sure will be filled with gratification by every member of the Craft, and that when he comes among us in the Grand Lodge, he will be received with the latest acclamation. Some of you probably are aware that I have the honour to be Secretary of the Prince of Wales's Lodge, of which his Royal Highness is W.M., and in which he has recently initiated his brother, the Duke of Connaught. I have, therefore, in the discharge of my duties, been placed in respectful communication with his Royal Highness, not only at Marlborough House, but in the lodge; and I have no doubt from the interest he took in the proceedings, that his heart is warmly in Masonry. It struck me that he spoke in a marvellous manner the peculiar merits of beauty in our ceremonies. And I am sure of this, that he will be the most popular Grand Master that has ever occupied the position. His highly genial qualities peculiarly fit him for that office. I have no doubt that the step he has taken in accepting the office will not only be highly appreciated by Masons, but by all the liberty-loving people, who will rejoice in this act of grace on the part of the Prince of Wales against the interference of a foreign potentate with the liberty of conscience in England. (The cry, hear.) Brethren, so much for "The City Grand Master and the Grand Officers." Our Bro. Hervey will have the opportunity of responding to another toast in the evening. You will permit me to say I am exceedingly gratified to be present at this lodge on this occasion; it is indeed very gratifying at all times to watch the progress of a lodge in which you have taken an interest, and in the consecration of which you have taken part. It affords me much pleasure to see that all the prognostications of the lodge have been justified. It promises to be one of the most prosperous in the City of London. Allow me to congratulate you on the excellent working which your Grand Master has inaugurated in this lodge, and which I hope will be continued by the person of your present Master, Bro. Hine, I.P.M., then proposed "The Worshipful Master of the Great City Lodge, Bro. N. B. N." Brethren, said he, next to the pleasure of being in the chair myself is the pleasure of seeing the health of my successor, a man and a brother whom we are all delighted to honour, not only for his personal worth, but as being the mover in the foundation of the lodge. I know that he almost single-handedly won the battle, and by his indomitable courage ultimately obtained the charter of the lodge. But he has his reward in the honours of his present position in the lodge. No Worshipful Master ever ascended to the chair with a better prospect before him than he had the hearty co-operation of his brethren and the sympathy and support of us all. The toast was drunk with Great City honours. The Worshipful Master, who was received with great cheering, said in reply that he knew how to begin to return thanks for some terms in which the toast had been drunk, and the cordial manner in which it was responded to for "When he was not at all, he was thanked enough, he had his duty and had done no more." It was said that he had had many obstacles to encounter, was encouraged by the reflection that success in a just cause would overcome all difficulties, and on looking at that splendid assemblage that evening he felt amply rewarded for his exertions, especially when he found that the Great City Lodge had been such a great success, and had, so to speak, made a home for worthy brethren. He again thanked the Grand Master most heartily, and trusted that he might during his year of office justify their high opinion, and he would do his utmost to promote the welfare of the lodge and the happiness of the whole of its members. (Loud cheers.) He would now call on them to unite with him in congratulating Bro. Stevens on completing his arduous term of office. They knew how zealously he had worked from the formation of the lodge, and under his guiding hand how the whole machinery had soon been brought into working order. In addition to that he had initiated, passed, and raised no less than thirty members in the most careful and praiseworthy manner. No one knew, unless he had gone through it, what an amount of labour and anxiety all that involved. His zeal and assiduity had been untiring, and his impartial conduct and genial bearing had endeared him to them all. In short, in him they felt that they had had an exemplary Master and a sincere friend. They had done themselves an honour, therefore in having voted him the Past Master's Jewel and an honorary membership of their lodge. The Worshipful Master then handed the Great City Lodge Past Master's Jewel and said: Bro. P.M. Stevens, I am proud that it has fallen to me to present you with this handsome Jewel, and I hope that the G.A.O.T.U. may spare you to be with us for many years to come that you may wear it as a tangible proof of our sincere esteem and regard. Bro. Stevens acknowledged the compliment in glowing terms, and the next toast was "The Honorary Members," for which Bro. Hervey, G.S., appropriately replied, and the toast of "The Initiates" was proposed duly honoured and replied to. The Worshipful Master then rose and said our next toast is "The Visitors." The Great City Lodge is always ready to extend the right hand of fellowship and give a hearty welcome to visitors. This evening we have such an illustrious assemblage of visitors, that I scarcely know whose name I should couple with the toast, but Bro. Woodman, P.G.S. Middlesex and P.M. 66, is one of the greatest strangers, and I shall couple his name with it. Dr. Woodman, P.G.S., said he knew he was expressing the sentiments of all the visitors when he said they had been delighted at the sight within the lodge, and had heartily enjoyed the banquet. The hospitality of the Great City Lodge seemed to be as unlimited as it was genuine, and he trusted the lodge would prosper and continue in the road they had travelled since the consecration last year, for that road, he felt sure, would lead to prosperity. Bro. Hine, D.P.G.M. of East Lancashire, also responded, agreeing with the last speaker as to the pleasure the visitors had felt at the kind welcome given to them, and proposed the next toast, which was "Prosperity to the Great City Lodge." The W.M. then proposed "The Masonic Charities," remarking that if there is one reason more than any other that should make us proud of being Freemasons—it is that we can point to those glorious Institutions, the Boys', the Girls' and the Royal Masonic Institutions, as evidences of the grand principles we profess. We know that these noble institutions, each in its sphere, is doing a grand work, and I hold it to be the duty of every Freemason, and especially every lodge of Freemasons to promote the interests of the charities, and if need be to make some sacrifice to advance their usefulness. Last year, brethren, we put our shoulders to the wheel on behalf of the Royal Masonic Institution, and although the little self sacrifice we then made was derided by some unthinking persons, we have the satisfaction of knowing, that in the year one of our Masonic existence, our Steward took up some £130; our lodge is now V.P., and the S.W. and J.W. chairs are endowed with a life vote each. During my year of office, it is my intention to offer myself as Steward for the Girls' School. and I know brethren, I may safely count upon your liberal support, when the time comes. Brethren, I hope the Great City Lodge will never be unmindful of the charities, and that every year a Steward will represent the lodge for one of the three in turn. The other toasts were "The Officers of the Lodge," and the Tyler's toast. The proceedings were made more than usually enjoyable by the delightful music provided under the direction of Bro. Hook. The glees and part songs, sung without accompaniment were a great treat. Bro. C. W. Jordon, Mus. Bac. Oxon, also treated the brethren to a solo on the pianoforte. The banquet was served by Bro. Spencer, in his best style, and the members did not begin to separate till near midnight, sorry to part and happy to meet again.

BAGSHAW LODGE.—(No. 1457).—The Anniversary Festival of this lodge was held at the Bald-Faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst Hill, on Saturday, October 10th. This lodge during the past year has made considerable progress, and the working has been everything that could be desired. Young as it is, it shows strength of members, and the business has been carried out with great satisfaction. The lodge met at three o'clock, and was immediately opened by Bro. Joseph Tanner, P.M. 101 and 453, and P.P.S.G.D. Essex, W.M., who was supported by his officers, members of the lodge and visitors. There were present, Bros. Col. Francis Burdett, P.G.M. Middlesex; C. F. Hogard, W.M. 453; W. P. Billis, W.M. 1000; Joseph Tydeman, W.M. 1437; W. F. Wheeler, P.M. 865; A. A. Richards, P.M., P.G.Sec.; J. H. Harusworth, P.M. 1178; J. Carter, 101; R. Martin, 453; F. Whitmore, S.W. 276; H. C. Velley, P.P.G.J.W. 276; F. Smece, W.M. 276; M. E. Clarke, P.M. 255; J. Williams (Freemason), and others. After the usual ceremonies, and on presentation, Bro. Joseph Tanner installed Bro. Joseph Clarkson, P.M. 165, in the chair of W.M. The brethren below the degree of Installed Master having been re-admitted to the lodge, and the customary salutes having been given, Bro. Clarkson invested his officers for the ensuing year as follows:—Bros. J. R. Cover, Prov. G. Reg., S.W.; D. Reid, J.W.; W. Babington, Treasurer; Samuel Lilley, Secretary; T. W. Nicholson, S.D.; W. Holloway, J.D.; G. J. Thompson, I.G.; C. I. Edwards, Dir. Cer.; E. H. Kearley, W.S.; Smith, Tyler; Bro. Hogard then completed the ceremony with the delivery of the three addresses to the Master, Wardens, and brethren. The lodge was then closed, and the brethren repaired to the banqueting room, where they partook of a splendid dinner, provided by the proprietor of the Bald Faced Stag Hotel. For magnificence it could scarcely be surpassed, and the fragrance thrown out by the flowers which were tastefully displayed, gave the room the lively aspect of summer. Bro. Clarkson ably presided, supported by Bros. Col. Burdett, Joseph Tanner, T.W. Nicholson, Reed, Lilley, and many others of the brethren mentioned above. At the conclusion of the excellent repast, the chairman rose and said:—Brethren, I think tonight we must be as brief as possible, owing to some of the brethren, including the worthy Bro. Col. Burdett, having to leave by the 9.15 train, therefore, I shall refrain to-night from making any long speeches. The first toast of the evening is "the Queen and the Craft." The toast was duly honoured whilst the brethren lustily sang "God save the Queen." The chairman then said:—The next toast is "H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, K.G., P.G.M. of England." Whilst proposing that toast I feel an unknown pleasure. We all feel a pride in having him as our Grand Master. I shall not to-night enter into the details which have led to his having accepted the office. In H.R.H. the Prince of Wales we have one who has shown great interest in the Craft, and will, I am sure, in the future, carry out the same principles for the welfare and progress of the Order. We all regret losing the Marquis of Ripon, but I think we should take his resignation in the same way as we should that of any other person in the Craft. I have now very great pleasure in asking you to drink the health of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales. The toast was drunk enthusiastically. The chairman: I next propose "the health of the Deputy G.M., the Earl of Carnarvon, and the rest of the Grand Officers, Past and Present," coupling with that toast the name of Bro. Col. Burdett. I have on several occasions met our Bro. Col. Burdett, and I consider he is, along with our Bro. Bagshaw, one of the best working Masons we can possibly have. If we can always combine Middlesex and Essex as we do now, we shall work amicably together. After having eulogised the career of the Earl of Carnarvon throughout as a Mason, the Chairman said, I have now heartfelt joy to ask you to drink "The Health of our most excellent Brother the Earl of Carnarvon, the Grand Officers, past and present, and couple with that toast the health of our Bro. Col. Burdett." The toast was highly honoured. Bro. Col. Burdett on rising said: Worshipful Sir and brethren all, It gives me very great pleasure to return thanks for the Grand Officers. I have been highly gratified with what I have seen to-night. Young as this lodge is, it is holding a high position in Freemasonry, there is an earnestness displayed to carry out the beauties of Masonry, and the younger brethren present have every opportunity to be led in the way they should go. I am very happy to see so many officers of the province here. The working I have seen this day has been excellent, and I feel confident that if the younger brethren will follow the example that has been shown to them, they will rise in Masonry and add lustre to it. I am very happy to be here in this province, happy that we have some connection with Middlesex. It is a very good thing that we are able to visit each other. I certainly think I have received a benefit from coming here to-night, and I thank you sincerely for the very kind manner in which you have received the toast of the Grand Officers, and the high compliment you have paid me. Again I beg to thank you. The Chairman: I now rise to propose "The Health of the Provincial Grand Master for Essex, the Right Worshipful Bro. Robert J. Bagshaw," after whom this lodge is named. He has expressed himself well pleased with the working of this lodge, and has become a member of it. We felt very much gratified when he informed us that this, the Bagshaw, was the only lodge of which he was a subscribing member. We all regret to hear of his declining health. It was very painful to us, when at Grand Lodge, to see such a change. I trust he may be spared to do his work in the future, and that T.G.A.O.T.U. will again grant him health and happiness. I therefore ask you to drink the health of our worthy brother, the Right Worshipful Robert J. Bagshaw, P.G.M. of Essex, and couple with the toast the name of Bro. J. R. Cover, Prov. G. Reg. The toast was received with due Masonic honours. Bro. Cover, in responding said: I have very great pleasure in returning you thanks for the Provincial Grand Master, and also for myself. I trust that the health of our P.G.M. will be speedily restored, and that his valuable life will be long spared. Bro. Joseph Tanner rose and said: I have the opportunity to propose the next toast. It is that of "the W.M. of the Bagshaw Lodge," from the able manner in which he has worked in the Lodge of Instruction, I am led to believe he will carry out his duties as W.M. of the lodge. I now ask you to drink the health of our W.M. The toast was enthusiastically drunk. The W.M. in rising to return thanks, said:—Brethren, I thank you all for the very kind manner you have received my name. I am highly pleased if I have in any way contributed to the welfare of this lodge, and also that of the Lodge of Instruction, and I hope to give satisfaction in the future as W.M. of this lodge. The Chairman: I next propose "The Visitors," and couple with that toast the names of Bros. Vellely and Hogard. In the name of the lodge I tender to them our sincere thanks for coming here to-night. The toast having been duly honoured, Bro. Vellely rose and said: I thank you kindly for the compliment you have just paid me, I wish you God speed in this great work, and trust you will continue to prosper. Bro. Hogard responded in brief, but very appropriate terms, at the same time wishing the lodge every success. The Chairman: Brethren, I have now a very pleasant duty to perform, whilst proposing "The Health of the I.P.M., Bro. Tanner." I hardly know how to begin. It is highly gratifying to know that our worthy brother has manifested great exertions in working this lodge. To-night we see the result of it, and to show our appreciation we have a very handsome P.M.'s jewel, which I shall now present to our well-beloved brother. In presenting this jewel the Chairman said: Bro. P.M. Tanner, I have very great pleasure in presenting you, on behalf of the members of the Bagshaw Lodge, this very handsome P.M.'s Jewel. It has been designed purposely for this lodge. It gives me a deal of pleasure to present this jewel, it being the first presentation of such in this lodge. You have gained the esteem of us all, and I trust you will live long to wear the jewel you have so worthily won. Bro. Tanner: Brethren, I thank you kindly for the very high compliment you have just paid me. As far as Masonry is concerned, I love it, and take delight in its principles. I thank you kindly for the jewel, and shall always look upon it with reverence and respect. Wherever I may be, no matter in what lodge, it will always remind me of the very pleasant evening spent in the Bagshaw Lodge. I trust, most Worshipful Sir and Brethren, I may be spared many years as P.M. of this lodge, and see it multiply with that goodness of quality that should always exist amongst Masons. I sincerely trust that I may see many of the brethren of this lodge pass the chair, so that they may gain the privilege I have. I again thank you for this beautiful present, and shall ever value it as one of the greatest of my treasures. The Chairman: I now propose "The Health of the Officers of this Lodge." The Master is nothing unless he is well supported with officers. I therefore ask you to drink the health of the officers of this Lodge, and couple with the toast the name of Bro. Reed. The toast having been drunk, Bro. Reed responded in suitable terms, thanking the Chairman and the brethren all. The rest of the Officers responded in brief. The Tyler's Toast brought the proceedings to a close. The pleasures of the evening were greatly enlivened by the singing of Bro. D. King. The presentation jewel was made at the well known manufactory of Bro. George Kenning, and was greatly admired by all the brethren present. It contained a fac simile of the Most Worshipful P.G.M., Bro. Robert Bagshaw.

Royal Arch.

CARLISLE.—Union Chapter (No. 318).—A convocation of this chapter was held at the Masonic rooms, on Monday the 28th ult. The chapter was opened by Comps. Jesse Banning, Z. 828, as Z.; Slack, Z., as H.; P. Z. Blacklock, as J. After the admission of the companions, the minutes of the last convocation were read and confirmed. The ballot was then taken for Bro. Murray, and proving in his favour, he was properly prepared, and duly exalted into this supreme degree, the historical, symbolical, and mystic lectures being rendered in an efficient and highly impressive manner by M. E. C. Jesse Banning, to whom a vote of thanks was passed, and entered on the minutes, for his valuable services on this and other occasions. Nothing more appearing for the good of R.A.M. in general, or this chapter in particular, it was closed in solemn form, and the companions separated, looking forward with pleasure to the next meeting of the chapter.

Mark Masonry.

IESWICH.—Albert Victor Lodge (No. 70).—The usual quarterly meeting of this prosperous lodge was held on Monday, the 28th September, when there were present Bros. E. J. Robertson, W.M.; the Rev. R. N. Sanderson, P.M.M., Past Grand Chaplain of England, (Mark); C. T. Townsend, P.M.M., Past Grand Deacon of England (Mark), Acting S.O.; Emra Holmes, P.M.M., Past Grand Inspector of Works, Acting J.O.; W. T. Westgate, P.M.M., M.C.; George Cresswell, S.W.; J. A. Pettit, Acting M.O.; &c., &c. The lodge being opened and minutes read and confirmed, the ballot was taken for Bro. Jas. Turner, P.M., St. Luke's Lodge, and M.E.Z. St. Luke's Chapter, who being accepted was duly obligated and advanced to the honourable degree of Mark Master, the ceremony being performed by Bro. Sanderson in his usual impressive and admirable manner. This being the night for the election of W.M., Bro. Cresswell was elected to that high office by the almost unanimous vote of the lodge. Bro. Walter Cuckow was elected Treasurer, and Bro. Spalding, Tyler. The ordinary business of the lodge being disposed of, the brethren retired for refreshment, and under the guard of the W.M. enjoyed a very pleasant social hour.

BOLTON.—Rose and Thistle Lodge (No. 158).—The regular meeting of this lodge was held in Freemasons' Hall, Church Institute, Bolton, on Thursday, 1st Oct., when there were present Bros. John Tunnah, P. Prov. G. Mark Overseer; W.M.; T. H. Winder, S.W.; Thos. Wilson, J.W.; J. M. Rutter, M.O.; Jas. Brown, S.O.; Jas. Pilkington, J.O.; R. K. Freeman, S.D.; Thos. Entwisle, P. Prov. G. Mark Master; C. P. Matier, Past Grand Mark Warden; G. P. Brockbank, Past Grand Mark Warden; Robt. Harwood, P. Prov. Grand Mark Deacon; Jas. Newton, Prov. Grand Inspector of Works; Thos. Morris, P. Prov. Grand Mark Sword Bearer, and others. The lodge being opened, the minutes were read and confirmed. A candidate for advancement was balloted for and elected. This being the meeting for installation of W.M., Bro. J. H. Winder, S.W., the W.M. elect, was installed into the chair of A., by Bro. Matier, Past Grand Warden, and the following brethren were appointed and invested as officers of the lodge, viz.—Bros. Wilson, S.W.; J. M. Rutter, J.W.; Jas. Brown, M.O.; Jas. Pilkington, S.O.; R. K. Freeman, J.O.; Rev. E. J. Bolling, Chaplain; G. P. Brockbank, Treas.; Jas. Newton, Sec.; Robt. Harwood, Reg. of Marks; S. Crowther, S.D.; Frank Ainsworth, J.D.; Thos. Morris, I.G.; Chas. Walker, Tyler. The lodge was then closed.

Statum in Parbo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

I noticed by the papers the other day, that Baron Ceschi, Deputy Grand Master of the Order of Knights of St. John, has been appointed by the Emperor of Austria a life member of the Upper House of the Austrian Reichsrath. I should like to ask any Masonic member of the titular English Langue, of the Order of St. John, what connection exists between the bodies represented by the Duke of Manchester and Baron Ceschi, and whether the latter recognises the former in any way? I ask this in the Freemason because now and again we have paragraphs in that organ of our fraternity, having reference to the doings of that English Langue, emanating doubtless from Masonic members of that august brotherhood, and one would like to know how the Roman Catholic and Protestant members coalesce.

AN OLD MASON.

ROMAN CATHOLICISM AND FREEMASONRY. I desire to thank our good Bro. Cowling for his note respecting the Duke of Wharton, but his Grace was not a Roman Catholic, either before, or during his Grand Mastership, but afterwards, The Duke of Wharton, (so Bro. Findel tells us in his "History of Freemasonry," (p. 146, 2nd edition, Geo. Kenning, London), when his fortune had become much impaired, retired to Spain, became a Roman Catholic, and ended his restless career in a Spanish Monastery. Bro. Preston, in his "Illustrations of Freemasonry," (p. 168, Spencer's last edition) tells us that his Grace was diligent and attentive to his duties as Grand Master. As to the Roman Catholic Grand Master, Lord Petre, Bro. Preston declares that his amiable character as a man, and his zeal as a Mason, may be equalled, but can not be surpassed (p. 208).

W. J. HUGHAN.

The consecration of the Hemming Lodge No. 1512, took place at the Lion Hotel, Hampton, on Thursday last. Bro. W. Hammon, P.M., P.G.S. Middlesex, is the W.M.; Bro. E. Hopwood, P.M., S.W.; Bro. S. Hill, P.M. J.W. A full report will appear in our next.

The Convent General of the Religious and Military Orders of the Temple and of St. Job of Jerusalem, Palestine, Rione di Malta, will take place at the Freemasons' Hall, St. James's street, Dublin, on the 20th inst.

DEATH OF THE DUKE OF LEINSTER, GRAND MASTER OF IRISH FREEMASONS.

We have to announce with deep regret the passing away from this busy scene of the venerated Grand Master of Irish Freemasons.

His Grace the Duke of Leinster, the premier Duke of Ireland, died at Carton House, Maynooth, at noon on Saturday October 10th, in his 64th year.

The late distinguished and large-hearted nobleman has been so long Grand Master of our Irish Sister Grand Lodge (namely 61 years), that his loss will be much deplored, and his rule will be long remembered by our warm-hearted brethren of "Erin's Green Isle."

Though our late lamented brother has never taken any active part in public affairs, and has mainly confined his attention to the many important duties connected with his large estates, and the amenities of hospitality and the pleasant intercourse of family and social life, he has ever merited for himself the warm regard and attachment of all classes in Ireland.

The Times says, and no doubt says truly, that he was endeared to the people by the unassuming simplicity of his manners and the genuine simplicity and good nature which characterised his intercourse with the humblest as well as the highest with whom he came in contact. His hospitality is gratefully remembered by his numerous guests, and is referred to in gracious terms in the "Queen's Diary," giving an account of the Royal Visit to Ireland, in 1848.

We believe that under his kindly regime the Irish Grand Lodge has progressed, and been tided by the same wave of material prosperity which swept over our English brotherhood.

The only subject of regret we have, and which we feel bound honestly to express to-day is, that the Freemason has never yet received the official acknowledgement or aid from the Irish Grand Lodge, though accounts of the Grand Lodge meetings have continually appeared in Masonic journals.

Let us hope that in this respect, we may witness a better state of things, and we say this, because we think that it is always right to be present and above-board in all our communications with the Craft.

We sincerely sympathize with our Irish brethren in the loss of their venerated Grand Master, we feel sure of this, that his kindly courtesy and his ever friendly and truly Masonic spirit will be long gratefully remembered by all who knew him personally, and by all those over whom he ruled officially, so long and so well.

The Times gives the following biographical notice:—

The Most Noble Augustus Frederick FitzGerald, third Duke of Leinster and Marquis of Kildare, and 22nd Earl of Kildare, and Earl of Devon, Baron of Offaly, in the King's County, in the Peerage of Ireland, and also Viscount of Taplow, in the county of Buckinghamshire, in the Peerage of Great Britain, Lord-Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the county of Kildare, &c., was born at Carton-house, county Kildare, on the 21st of August, 1791.

He was the elder of the two sons of William Robert, second Duke, by the Honourable Emilia Olivia, only daughter and heiress of St. George Usher, Lord St. George (a title now extinct); he succeeded to his father's title in 1804, when only a child, and at the time of his death had worn a coronet for a longer period than any other member of the English or Irish Peerage. It may be mentioned, also, that King George IV., as Prince of Wales, stood sponsor at his baptism. At an early age he was sent to Eton, where he reckoned among his schoolfellows and formfellows Sir John Taylor Coleridge, the late Sir John Stuart Hippisley, General the Hon. Sir Edward Cust, the late Sir William Byam, the late Sir Windham Carmichael Anstruther, the late Lord Clinton, Sir Edward J. Gambier, the late Duke of Marlborough, Lord Sondes, Sir Denis le Marchant, Sir J. G. Shaw Lefevre, the late Lord Carington, the Marquis of Donegall, and the late Duke of Buckingham. He took his seat in the Upper House of Parliament on attaining his majority, and, though he never took a very active part in the proceedings of the Legislature, yet he steadily supported those enlightened measures which at that time were only gradually winning their way with the country at large, and had but few advocates in the House of Lords. He was among those who constantly supported the repeal of the Test and Corporation Acts, the relaxation of the Penal Laws by the concession of Roman Catholic emancipation, and the passing of the first Reform Bill. He was not, however, much of an orator, and his Grace's name accordingly figured but rarely in the pages of Hansard's Debates.

Himself a Protestant by conscientious conviction, he was nominated, with the sanction and concurrence of the Roman Catholic Prelates in Ireland, one of the visitors of the College of St. Patrick at Maynooth, which stands not far from the gate of his princely domain of Carton. Indeed, in spite of his liberal convictions and principles, the late Duke more than once said that he scarcely cared to oppose Lords Roden and Winchelsea when they proposed a Committee of Inquiry into the working of Maynooth, because he knew, from his experience as a resident in its neighbourhood, that the College would come quite safely out of such an investigation. He was sworn a Privy Councillor for Great Britain in 1831, and for Ireland in the same year; and he was also for many years Grand Master of the Freemasons in Ireland. On account of the genuine liberality of his political and religious opinions, and his generosity as a landlord, his Grace was most popular with the Irish peasantry and tenantry; indeed, his personal popularity was scarcely affected by the question which recently arose with respect to the leases on his estates.

According to Sir Bernard Burke, the FitzGerald family are descended from one "Dominus Otho," who is supposed to have been one of the Gherardini of Florence; and this idea is confirmed by the Latin form of the name "Geraldini" assumed by his descendants. This noble passed into Normandy, and so into England, where he became a great favourite with Edward the Confessor. His son and successor, Walter, was recognised as a fellow-countryman by the Normans on their arrival in England with the Conqueror; he put the copingstone to his prosperity by his marriage with Gladys, the daughter of Gynfyn, Prince of North Wales; and it was his grandson Maurice who, passing over into Ireland with Strongbow, defeated the native Irish under Roderick O'Connor, and died at Wexford in 1177, not before he had established himself as a powerful lord in the island. His son Gerald was summoned to Parliament in 1205 as Baron of Offaly; and his son, the second Baron, who introduced the Dominican and Franciscan Orders into Ireland, was Lord Justice of Ireland. It is recorded of the sixth lord that when he lay a helpless infant in his cradle at the Castle of Woodstock an alarm of fire was given; the child was forgotten, and the servants, on returning to search for him, found that he had been carried off in safety by a pet ape or monkey, which animal the family ever after adopted as their crest. The life of this Lord Offaly is quite a romance in itself, but for an account of it we must be content to refer our readers to the pleasant pages of Sir Bernard Burke. He was created Earl of Kildare by Edward II., and his descendant, Thomas, the seventh earl, Lord Deputy of Ireland, suffered attainder for his share in the rebellion of the Earl of Desmond, though he was afterwards pardoned and restored in blood. His son Gerald, the eighth earl, commonly called "the Great," was Lord Deputy of Ireland, and was made a Knight of the Garter in 1504 by Henry VIII. for his zeal and skill in suppressing a rebellion of the native chiefs under the Lord of Clanricarde. His son Gerald, the ninth earl, also Lord-Deputy of Ireland, forcibly maintained the King's interests in what was then known as the "Pale," ruling the rest of his Irish subjects as an independent native chief. His son Thomas, the tenth earl, raised a rebellion against his English Sovereign, and, having been imprisoned in the Tower of London, was hanged, drawn, and quartered at Tyburn, in February, 1537. The story of this young and chivalrous nobleman's attempt to raise the standard of insurrection is one of the most interesting episodes in history. The line of the representatives of the house of Fitzgerald was eventually continued by the descendants of one of his younger brothers, one of whom, Robert, the 19th earl, was known to history as a statesman in the reigns of George I. and George II. It was his son and successor, James, 20th earl—grandfather of the nobleman so recently deceased—who was created a Peer of Great Britain, as Viscount Leinster of Taplow, in 1746, and, ten years later, was raised to the Irish dukedom. His eldest son was William Robert, the second duke, whom we have already mentioned as the father of the subject of this memoir; and his fourth son was the ill-fated Lord Edward Fitzgerald, who died of wounds received in resisting his arrest on a charge of high treason in 1798, and whose attainder was afterwards repealed in favour of the three children whom he left by his wife, so well known to English and French readers by her name of Pamela.

His Grace married, on the 16th of June, 1818, Lady Charlotte Augustus Stanhope, third daughter of Charles, third Earl of Harrington, and was left a widower in the month of February, 1859. By her the Duke had issue a family of six children—two daughters, one of whom died an infant, and the other is Lady Jane Repton; and four sons, Charles William, Marquis of Kildare, Lord Gerald, Lord Frederick (who died young), and Lord Otho Augustus, late Controller of Her Majesty's Household. Lord Kildare, as his eldest son, succeeds to the ducal and other honours and to the estates and representation of the family. The new Duke, who is a magistrate and Deputy-Lieutenant for County Kildare, Colonel of the Kildare County Militia, and a Commissioner of National Education in Ireland, and who represented the county of Kildare in the Liberal interest in Parliament from 1847 to 1852, was born in Dublin on the 30th of March, 1819. He was educated at Christ Church, Oxford, where he took his Bachelor's degree in 1840. He was created in 1870 a Peer of the United Kingdom, by the title of Baron Kildare. He married in October, 1847, Lady Caroline Leveson-Gower, third daughter of George Granville, second Duke of Sutherland, by whom he has a very numerous family. His eldest son, and heir apparent to the dukedom, Gerald, Earl of Offaly, who will now assume the courtesy title of Marquis of Kildare, was born in Dublin in the month of August, 1851.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI	each 15s. od.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance.

The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains.
The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.)
All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.
The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.
INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON."
May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY,

FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY.
Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt.
Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"The edition we are now considering is a second English edition, which had the great advantage of Bro. D. M. Lyon's able superintendence and editorship in its English dress. There can be no doubt but, that so far, Bro. Findel's work is the most complete work on Freemasonry which has yet appeared, and that he deserves the greatest credit for his careful and accurate treatment of all evidence on the subject, and for his honest desire after truth. Bro. Findel gives up in the view he has so clearly and consistently put forth our early Masonic history, the older theory of the Roman Colleges, &c., and limits the origin of Freemasonry to about the twelfth century, and as then arising from the operative Masons, and specially the "Steinmetzen" and "Bauhütten" of Germany. Bro. Findel gives us a good deal of evidence on this head, and one thing is clear from his work, that the German Freemasons were, at a very early period, organized into lodges with a Master over them, and with outward regulations and inner ceremonies peculiar to the Craft. Bro. Findel rejects all the views which have been from time to time put forward of a Templar or a Rosicrucian origin. Whether or no Bro. Findel's theory of the date of the rise of Freemasonry be correct, matters very little: we do not ourselves profess to accept it; but this we can fairly say of Bro. Findel's work, it is marked from first to last by the most remarkable token of industry, ability, and care, of patient research, and of skilful criticism. We know of no work which so clearly sets before us our amount of knowledge up to the present time on the great question of Masonic Archaeology, and there can be little doubt that what Preston's work is to English Freemasonry, Findel's work is to cosmopolitan Freemasonry. Indeed no student in Masonry can now dispense with it, and it is a perfect storehouse both of Masonic evidence and Masonic illustrations. We earnestly recommend all the lodges in this country to obtain a copy for the lodge library before the work is bought up for America; and we believe that no Mason will rise from the perusal of its pages without a higher idea both of the historical truth and intrinsic value of Freemasonry, and of fraternal regard and recognition to be latest and not the least well-informed or effective of our Masonic historians. The present century has produced no such equal, in authority and usefulness, to the great work of our Bro. Findel, and we wish him and it, in all of fraternal sympathy and kindly intent, many earnest readers, and more grateful students."—The Masonic Magazine.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION,
BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.
Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d.
Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Shortly will be published,
"A DEFENCE OF FREE-MASONRY,"

By Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C.

Published by Bro. GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

The following stand over—Reports of Lodges—804, 1316, 1391, 1491.

ERRATUM.—At page 610 line "destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar, R.C. 538," read "destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar, B.C. 188."

Births, Marriages and Deaths.

MARRIAGE.

BISHOP—Howe.—On Monday, 12th inst., at St. Margaret's Church, Ipswich, by the Rev. John Walker, M.A., Rector of St. John's, Henry George, only son of Mr. Charles Bishop, Diss., to Alice Susannah, eldest daughter of Mr. Martin J. Howe, of Albion Villa, Woodbridge-road, Ipswich. No cards.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1874.

FREEMASONRY AND ROMAN CATHOLICISM.

The secession of our late Grand Master from our Masonic phalanx continues to be a subject of much discussion amongst the members of our Order.

We think that the true view of looking at the matter is one of simple friendly, kindly regret, and that all remarks and statements are, in our humble opinion, greatly to be deprecated, which are not marked by brotherly goodwill to our late chief, or serve to fan in any manner into heat or excitement the ever-ready tendencies in us all alike to sectarian bitterness and controversy. One of our most valued rulers, a thoroughly true-hearted Mason, our distinguished Bro. Lord Skelmersdale, has said, that we must regard Lord Ripon's defection from our body, and his resignation of his high office with deep sorrow, and that we must ever remember that he was one of the best Grand Masters Freemasonry has ever seen. Most true and seasonable words, at a time of a good deal of not unnatural agitation and unsettledness. Like our excellent and noble brother, we feel strongly that the only and proper way of regarding the subject with a feeling of regret, not of annoyance. We may, indeed, deplore the passing away from our midst of our once valued brother and cherished head; and we may lament it, not only for our sake, but for his, but there we should stop. No utterance of any other kind should detract from the simple expression of our heartfelt sorrow, and if we say to-day, as we fairly may with a sigh, "Si adhuc tu noster esses," we will yet allow no other sentiments of any kind whatever to interfere with our genuine emotions of fraternal grief and Masonic regard. We have thought it right to make these observations, because in the too common habit of hasty generalization, in the tendency sometimes of us all, of arguing from a particular to a universal, there seems to be a little danger, lest the tempting opportunity for partizan oratory, may lead some of us to forget the great and abiding Masonic principle of toleration and non-interference with the religious views and opinions of others. For instance it would not be at all right or consistent with Masonic teaching, because we are but little pleased, no doubt, with Lord Ripon's secession to the Roman Catholic community, and his resignation of his Masonic privileges, to commence attacks upon Roman Catholicism perse, or to consider it as a bar to entrance into our Fraternity. As Freemasons, we have nothing to do with the peculiar tenets of the Church of Rome, except where they impinge on our avowed principles, or come into open collision with our peaceful progress. Then, though it is our duty to point out the absurdity and impropriety of the Roman Catholic censures, the utter valueless authority with which her bishops speak on a subject of which they know nothing at all, yet our motto should ever be "defence not defiance," we should not weaken our own really unassailable position by any heated declamations or merely controversial contentions against the Church of Rome quâ the Church of Rome. The Constitutions place no impediment in the way of Roman Catholics becoming Freemasons, neither should we do so. It is a matter purely for the individual Roman Catholic conscience to settle for itself, not for us in any way, and we should always be too happy, on our own broad and excellent principles of toleration, to welcome all Roman Catholic Freemasons who are able to attend our lodges and claim our name. There are many admirable Roman Catholic Freemasons amongst us, and though their number, we believe, has been lately declining, our good old Order, ever sympathetic and unsectarian, has hailed, and we trust ever will hail the presence amongst us of our Roman Catholic brethren. Any other principles of teaching or of action amongst us but these can only end in striking a lamentable blow at the great distinguishing feature of our Craft, consistent and universal recognition of liberty of conscience and the sanctity of personal belief. As an evidence of how much misconception may exist on this point, we have noticed a remark of our most distinguished and eminent brother, the Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Carnarvon, to which we deem it right to call attention. If our noble brother be correctly reported we venture to think that he is in error, though we say it with all deference and respect. In a report of a meeting of the Highclere Agricultural Association our Deputy Grand Master is stated to have said, not, we admit, speaking masonically, or "in cathedrâ Lathomicâ" that the high office of Grand Master of Freemasons "could not, by the constitution of the Order, be held by a Roman Catholic." We are of opinion that this is a blunder of the reporter, and that, what our noble brother probably said was, that the Grand Mastership of Freemasons could not be held by a Roman Catholic, who accepted the condemnation passed on Freemasons by the Roman Pontiff by the Catholic Bishops. There is no law or regulation of Freemasonry which prevents a Roman Catholic from becoming Grand Master that we are aware of, and we know the "Box of Constitutions" pretty well. We have had several Roman Catholic Grand Masters, and we shall probably have others yet, let us hope in the progress of better and less acrimonious time. We feel sure, therefore, that there must be some mistake in the report, and that our distinguished brother's speech, as reported, is not well call attention to it, for fear that, unintentionally, on the authority of so eminent a Freemason, an error might be promulgated as regards Masonic law, and accepted by Freemasons, which might have very serious consequences, and might lead to many deplorable results.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

THE ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In my letter published in your paper dated 26th ulto., I am made to say "the W.M. and P.M. (a retired Naval Officer) were," &c., it would have been. "The W.M. and P.M., of Edge Metham, 1205 (both retired Naval Officers) were," &c.

I cannot allow the production of "C.M., 1205," to pass unnoticed, although, I suppose, by so doing, I may again bring down upon myself the vials of his wrath.

First, however, allow me to suggest to that other, who, if my suspicion as to his identity correct, has not long been initiated as one of the desirability of quoting correctly, and of deavouring, if possible, to avoid the use of imonious, unmasonic, insulting, and ungentle language.

My former letter was written solely with a view to clear up the unpleasantness which has arisen. I certainly have no desire to act as Bro. Elliott's champion; indeed, I fail to see he is doing one, but if he does, I am sure he is well qualified to defend himself from such attacks as are made upon him by "C.M., 1205," who evidently wholly fails to realise the duties which a Mason he is now bound to discharge.

I still have the "hardihood" to express an opinion that Bro. Hughan is in error as to Bro. Elliott's real duties, perhaps, however, there are other members of the Committee who can give me further information upon the point, as I do not find the minute book silent upon it. I do not think it necessary to deal with "C.M.'s" personal attack upon me, other than to express my entire concurrence in his recommendation to the members generally to make themselves acquainted with the circumstances of the case, and to advise me personally to bear the advice strongly in mind, but as to the special knowledge of the general's opinion which is attributed to me, I can state that the Committee passed a resolution expressive of their desire for officers of the Army and Navy to appear in uniform, and it was only when they were informed an application which was made of the N.C. Officers of the Royal Marines and Masons had forwarded through their Commandant to the General Commanding the District, requesting permission to attend in uniform, been returned with a distinct refusal, upon which I found that to grant it would be to infringe the Regulations, that such resolution was passed, and his views were consequently given to the other members of the Committee in common with myself. If "C.M." felt inclined to speak at the matter in a fair and fraternal spirit, he would be able to see that so far as the Committee were concerned there was no "sin of omission," but that the fault lies with the general, or as I have a very strong opinion (and not formed without good grounds, although not at liberty to mention them) one of the members of his staff, neither could there have been any omission, as whether Bro. Elliott made inquiry or not, permission was refused when asked for.

Yours truly and fraternally,
RICHARD CURTIS.
W.M., Lodge Sincerity, 189.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Through the courtesy of the Secretary of the "General Committee," to whom the chief portion of the arrangements, and the management of the procession were entrusted, I am able now to completely exonerate the members from any blame respecting the exclusion of the military brethren. Bro. Leigh, R.N., Prov. Grand Secretary of Devon and Secretary of Committee, went through the minutes of all the meetings with me, and showed me the record of the resolution of the members to invite the military and naval brethren to attend in uniform, and that an advertisement should be put in the local papers to that effect. At the same meeting a message was sent that the application from the Marine Barracks for the non-commissioned officers to appear in uniform was refused by the Major-General Commanding. I have the name of the officer who applied, and also was refused, and the name also of another officer who personally applied to the General, and who was likewise refused; so it appears to me that it is quite evident the exclusion of our military brethren had its source in a military order. The committee in consequence, rescinded the resolution before mentioned, and then simply issued instructions as to the clothing of the civilians. I desire to thank Bro. Leigh for his attention to my wants, and for the time he devoted to the enquiry, and I have only to regret that there has been so long a delay in the exact explanation being given.

Yours truly and fraternally,
W. J. HUGHAN.

Truro, 10th October, 1874.

MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Will you kindly answer the following questions through the medium of your columns, and by its publicity elicit perhaps some remarks from experienced Masons, staunch in the defence and adherence to the ancient landmarks of our Order. The facts are simply these: A Past-Master is invested on St. John's Day as J.W.; two or three months afterwards another member of the Lodge, who had been out of the Colony, returned and they invest him the J.W., the Past-Master aforesaid resigning in his favour. The Grand Lodge returns are then made with the second named J.W. as eligible for the East, and still expresses his opinion that he is always eligible for the Chair if nominated and elected. The other instance is as yet only partially carried out. A Senior Warden is invested on St. John's Day last by proxy, for a member who is on a visit to England for the benefit of his health, but who returns and takes his seat in August. On St. John's Day a protest is recorded on the minutes by one of the members against this appointment on the ground that his absence from the Colony and uncertain return was in itself irregular, but at all events the Warden so invested by proxy was ineligible for the Chair next St. John's Day by reason of not serving a full twelve months as Warden in terms of Art 2, "Private Lodges," Bk. of Con. p. 62.

1. Your opinion is therefore asked, Whether or not it is absolutely essential to be present at the investiture and personally serve a full twelve months as Warden before he can be eligible for the chair?

2. Whether or not proxies are to be allowed for absentees, or only allowable for those B.B. living in town or neighbourhood, but unable to attend at High Twelve on St. John's Day, or Day of Installation.

Believe me, yours fraternally,
N.

Cape Colony, South Africa.

[1. A brother must serve as Warden of the lodge bona fide for twelve months before he is eligible for the Chair. 2. Proxy votes are unknown to the English Constitutions.—Ed.]

SCOTTISH BENEVOLENT FUND.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have read with great pleasure the leading article of your Editor in the Freemason, on the proposed Scottish Benevolent Institution, also of your very liberal offer of assistance. It was mentioned that certain points as to modus operandi and detail did not meet your approval. I should be glad to know what they are, as well as any suggestions from brethren throughout Scotland, as every idea will help when brought up at first General Court. All that is requisite at present is that brethren wishing to support the undertaking should assent.

First, That there be established a Scottish Masonic Benevolent Institution.

Secondly, That its object be:

Branch 1.—The maintaining, clothing, and educating sons and daughters, of aged, deceased and distressed Masons.

Branch 2.—The maintaining, clothing, and supporting aged and distressed Masons, and Mason's widows.

Every other point but this will have to be arranged and decided upon in General Court. I drew up the rules &c., &c., on the groundwork of the existing charities, so that we should have a basis to work upon, never for one moment imagining that the scheme would not receive nor in fact need some revision.

I hope by next month to hear of a few brethren having given their support, but fear that very little will be done till the beginning of next year. I should be much obliged if you would keep the matter open in your paper occasionally, so that the idea may not die out in Scotland.

Yours fraternally,
GEORGE R. HARRIOTT, OF KILLIMORE.
Prov. G.M. Wigtown and Kirkcudbright.

OUR LATE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

As no person may be made a Freemason unless he is of mature age, and capable of judging for himself, and it being one of the admitted tenets of the Order, that Freemasonry has no right to interfere with the religious convictions of its members, I think it would be more in accordance with our principles to accept the recent secession from our Order in silence, only mourning over the weakness which could break faith with him, who was so solemnly called upon to witness the acceptance of brotherhood with us. And as no advantage can be attained by the continued reference to so painful a subject before the popular world, I would recommend brethren to abstain from making any more remarks upon it, leaving to the conscience of the brother the task of reconciling it with himself, whether he, as a responsible being, has acted with honour and propriety.

I am, Dear Sir and Brother,
A SORROWING W. M.

THE COMING INSTALLATION OF THE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

As it has not yet been publicly announced when the above ceremony is to take place, I trust I am not too late in expressing a wish, which I am sure is shared by many W.M.'s, P.M.'s, and Wardens of country lodges, within a radius of, say, eighty or one hundred miles of the Metropolis. I can but admit that the Quarterly Communications of G.L. are well attended, but I know that if the hour of assembling was fixed two or three hours earlier, so that the business of G.L. would be over, say about 6 p.m., there would be a much better attendance of country members, who could leave home in the morning and ensure returning the same night. I therefore hope that the Installation of our Royal Brother will be fixed at such an hour that will enable many of the country members to return home the same day.

I remain, yours fraternally,
A COUNTRY P.M.

Oct. 10th, 1874.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Permit me through your widely circulated columns to thank all those brethren who supported the case of Fanny Craig, at the late election. Through the kindness of the M.W.G.M., H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, Major General Brownrigg, Prov. G.M. of Surrey, Bro. F. A. Cole, the Master, Wardens, and brethren of the Angel Lodge, No. 51, Colchester, we were enabled to poll nearly 400 votes for our candidate, and though she was not successful we who advocate her cause feel equally grateful to our friends who gave us their votes. We trust that with the same support at next April election to secure for our little girl admission to this excellent Institution.

I remain, dear Sir and Brother,
Yours truly and fraternally,
S. COLE, P.M.,
Quartermaster, Royal Engineers, Aldershot.

DESIGNATION OF LODGES.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In reply to P.J.G.D. Devon, in your last number, I beg to say that those lodges that have been designated after our late G.M. should apply to the G.L. of England, and have their names altered. This could be easily done by an endorsement on the warrants and a corresponding alteration in the Books of G.L.

Yours very fraternally,
J. T. S.

FREEMASONRY AND LIBERTY; ROMANISM AND IGNORANCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Like the brotherhood at large, perhaps, with a few exceptions, the secession of the Marquis of Ripon has created some surprise; but this surprise might have been greater had it not have been that for some time past one might observe with what marked emphasis, and with what guarded phraseology the late Grand Master has used at the Trimestral gatherings. They have been of the admonitory character in the great caution to be observed on admitting candidates into Freemasonry. Such pathetic parentalism has oozed out by perversion which is no sudden change.

I hold that, as a body of Freemasons and gentlemen, the manner of his letter informing us of his resignation, and that we must not question the pervert's reason, was an insult to our common sense, and derogatory to our common understanding of liberty. It was in short a snubbing down of the power of interrogation of any brother on that occasion; if we, as a body concentrated, have the power to elect one to so exalted a position as that to rule and reign over us, surely we have the power and undoubted right to ask a question in relation to anything affecting the Order, otherwise we may foster in our bosom a benumbed serpent, who, soon as he becomes warmed, may turn upon us and sting us. The late perversion looks very much like it, especially after the highest encomiums have been heaped upon him, both at home and abroad, 'tis indeed very poor repayment for honours awarded. It behoves us to look around and see if there are any more Jesuitical Freemasons in our councils and in our ranks. I do not believe for one moment that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will tolerate any masked man about his person. In fact we have, from His Royal Highness's accepting the Grand Mastership, an incontrovertible proof to the contrary. Surely since Henry VIII. threw off the yoke of Papistical domination no bolder stroke has been enacted against priestly supremacy than that of the recent acceptance of the Throne Chair of Freemasonry. His Royal Highness, if it were possible, might have in bolder letters "Dieu et mon droit" emblazoned on his standard; this late act has won for him thousands of hearts. In so doing he has set at nought the stupid anathemas and the greater excommunications which have been hurled and fulminated against us as a body, and which every reasonable and unpriestly-ridden Englishman ridicules and laughs at. I, with thousands of others, have not shared in the regret at the recent actions of the Marquis of Ripon, but do so with profound astonishment at the manner (and from such a cause) he has played with the honour of so large a community of gentlemen, in whom their confidence was falsely reposed. I would ask if the reason assigned, "that he finds himself unable any longer to discharge the duties of Grand Master," whether this is kindly language? Is it honourable? Is it an expression of reposed trust? Is it straight-forward? Neither, but it is akin to the same dealing with his Royal Mistress, the Queen's Majesty, whose fealty and loyalty have been sold to the Pope, whose toe he prefers kissing in preference to the hand of the first Lady of the kingdoms of the world. He by such an act openly places the Queen of England in a secondary position; we ought to beware of such councillors in this mighty realm, as well as in the Councils of our right royal and noble Craft; such perversion is the baseness of ingratitude. Freemasons, look to it, and do not let us be sold like the most noble and excellent Jacques de Molay, by a perfidious and intriguing priest (afterwards Clement V.); for their open motto is "Nunquam dormio" in evil. Wrong-doing, and cunningly and artfully devised operations are ever on their tongue by crafty suasion. Let Freemasons be fully awake, otherwise we shall have our manhood as well as our country under priestly domination. But there is another hard-thinking class as well as Freemasons have to be consulted before this took place.

The "non possum et semper eadem" dogma and policy of the Papistry is the same to-day as it was in the reign of the bloody Mary. In this church you cannot serve two Masters; he has become a member of that hierarchy that recognises no authority superior to its own, either for mind or body; to what a drivelling serfdom has he descended! This mind and soul destroying power—this designing class, would entwine us in their grasp, and work our ruin. And our well-doing, they like not, our open honesty; we have no cloven foot in our midst, unless it be those who are shadowing themselves under our banners for some vile purpose, but they are marked in the forehead. If good can be improved by good doings, we can challenge him who has gone into perversion to dare to say otherwise. God is honoured in Freemasonry, and the Jesuits know it full well; there is a vitality and a living principle in Freemasonry that will live when Romanism is a dead letter; we shall be exalted when they are held in contumely. I most cordially agree with "Verbum sat Sapienti" that this has a sinister significance more than that of leaving our Royal Order. What clear mind, whose sight is not dimmed by unhealthy incense, cannot see that he desires as well as the Tyro he has joined, to sell us and bring us under the ban of the Roman Pontiff and make us members of this fetish religion.

Freemasons, we will not have this usurping and deadly cunning power to rule in this our island home, nor yet again sway the destinies of this mighty nation, made so by its Reformation, this, the home of universal liberty, the abode of freedom, but freedom can only be free and prosperous when clean of the fetters of a "non possumus" authority.

We will show to our Royal Grand Master that we can rally round him, and we will show to him that we are faithful as the needle is to the pole-star. We will have no one to rule over us as Freemasons and Englishmen that would take away our liberty of conscience.

T. BURDETT YEOMAN, 18°.

FUNERAL OF THE DUKE OF LEINSTER.

The remains of the late Duke of Leinster were on Wednesday laid beside those of the late Duchess in Maynooth Church. The funeral was strictly private. The chief mourners were the present Duke and Duchess, the Marquis of Kildare, Lord Otho Fitzgerald, Lord General Fitzgerald, and several grandchildren of the deceased. Amongst those present were Viscount Gouch, Lord Cloncurry, Lord George Hill, Comte de Jarnac, Comte de Robec, Sir Arthur Guinness, M.P., and a large number of the tenantry and neighbouring gentry.

Masonic Tidings.

It is reported that the Freemasons of Ireland intend to request his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught to accept the Grand Mastership of the Masonic body in Ireland, vacant by the decease of the Duke of Leinster. The Duke of Abercorn's name is likewise mentioned in connection with the office.

STAR LODGE OF INSTRUCTION.—No. 1275.—The Fifteen Sections will be worked in this Lodge of Instruction, at the Marquis of Granby, New Cross-road, by Bro. C. G. Dilley, P.M. 147, Preceptor, on Saturday evening, October 24, on which occasion Bro. John Shaw, J.W. 79, will answer the whole of the questions. Lodge will be opened at 6.30 precisely.

The Fifteen Sections will be worked at the Dalhousie Lodge of Instruction, No. 860, held at Bro. Allen's "Royal Edward," Triangle, Mare-street, Hackney, on Tuesday, 27th inst., 7 o'clock prompt. Bro. T. Austin will preside. This will be the first occasion upon which the whole of the Sections are to be worked by members of the Lodge—a circumstance mainly attributable to the zeal of its able Preceptor, Bro. Crawley.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, October 23, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodges, Preceptorics, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, October 17.

General Committee Girls' School, at 12, Lodge 1364, Earl of Zetland, Old Town Hall, Hackney.
Manchester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Grey, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Ash, Preceptor.
Lily Lodge of Instruction (840), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.
Star Lodge of Instruction (1275), Marquis of Granby, New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dilley, Preceptor.

Monday, October 19.

Quarterly General Court Boys' School, at 12, Lodge 21, Emulation, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.
" 58, Felicity, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
" 720, Panmure, Balham Hotel, Balham.
" 862, Whittington, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
" 901, City of London, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street.
" 907, Royal Albert, Freemasons' Hall.
" 1201, Eclectic, Freemasons' Hall.

Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (1445), Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, at 7; Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.
Strong Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell green, at 8; Bro. Beckett, Preceptor.
Sincerity Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern, Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.
Camden Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, Mile-end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Gutheil, Preceptor.
British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friendship Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.
St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street (opposite the Pantecol), Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. J. R. Stacey, Preceptor.
Wellington Lodge of Instruction, White Swan Tavern, Deptford, at 8; Bro. C. G. Dilley, P.M. 1155, Preceptor.

West Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 343, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, October 20.

Board of General Purposes at 3.
Lodge 30, United Mariners, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street.
" 73, Mount Lebanon, Bridge House Hotel, London-bridge.
Chap. 11, Enoch, Freemasons' Hall.
" 19, Mount Sinai, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
" 186, Industry, Freemasons' Hall.
Yarborough Lodge of Instruction (554), Green Dragon, Stepney, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor.
Domestic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Lawham, Preceptor.
Faith Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8.
Bro. C. A. Cottebrune, Preceptor.
Prince Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8.
Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor.

alhouse Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.
 respecty Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M. 1217, Preceptor.
 Maylebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stores Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wool, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
 Constitutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheatshaf Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
 Key Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W. thagorean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.
 el Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road, at 7.30.

Wednesday, October 21.
 neral Committee Grand Chapter at 3.
 Lodge of Benevolence at 6.
 Lodge 174, Sincerity, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street, 619, Beadon, Greyhound Tavern, Dulwich.
 700, Nelson, Masonic Hall, William-street, Woolwich.

1044, Wandsworth, Spread Eagle Hotel, Wandsworth.
 1349, Friars, Cheshire Cheese, Crutched Friars.
 1382, Corinthian, George Inn, Cubitt Town.
 173, Union of Waterloo, Masonic Hall, William-street, Woolwich.
 192, Lion and Lamb, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.
 217, Stability, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.

Concord Lodge, Bon Accord, Freemasons' Tavern.
 Concord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.
 Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor. idence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, at 7.30. am Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Peckham, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.
 erance in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the Fourth, Catherine-street, Poplar.

ope Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, at 7.30 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
 ury Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters'-road, N., at 8. Bro. P. Dickinson, Acting Preceptor.
 Strength Lodge of Instruction (228), the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor. ark Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William Gent, Preceptor. n Lodge of Instruction (973), Havelock Tavern, Abilston-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, October 22.
 Committee, Girls' School at 4.
 60, Peace and Harmony, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
 65, Prosperity, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street.
 66, Grenadiers, Freemasons' Hall.
 871, Royal Oak, White Swan Tavern, High street Deptford.

421, Langthorne, Swan Hotel, Stratford, E.
 141, Faith, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
 177, Domestic, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
 534, Polish National, Freemasons' Hall.
 Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-Tottenham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor. ry Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers' Tavern, White-street, City-road; Bro. Stean, Preceptor.
 Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
 gton Lodge of Instruction (862), Crown Tavern, Aborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 188, Preceptor.

Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
 Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 12, Pensonby-lane, Millbank.
 e Lodge of Instruction (1366), Bull and Gate, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
 at City Lodge of Instruction (1426), 111, Cheap-side, at 6.30.

Friday, October 23:
 Committee, Boys' School at 4.
 69, Fitzroy, Head-quarters of the Hon. Artillery Company, City-road.
 161, Finsbury, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton. orge's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.
 Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Kent-st., at 8.
 : Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354, and, at 8; Bro. Pulsford, Preceptor.
 e Lodge of Instruction (720), Balham Hotel, Balham, at 7.30.

Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s, emasons' Hall, at 7.
 nce Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern, Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.
 Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, 30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor. standard Lodge of Instruction (1298), the Castle Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Preceptor.

Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.
 Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
 Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.
 United Pilgrims Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern, Lorn-road, Brixton, at 7.
 St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.
 Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Potts, Preceptor.
 Doric Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.
 Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.

St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Ross Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.
 Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.
 High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses High-road, Tottenham.
 Burdett Courts Lodge of Instruction (1278), Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo. W. Verry, Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE,
 For the Week ending Saturday, October 24, 1874.

Monday, October 19.
 Lodge 613, Unity, Masonic Hall, Southport.
 " 703, Clifton, Clifton Arms Hotel, Blackpool
 Chap. 32, Jerusalem, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5
 " 995, Furness, Masonic Temple, Ulverstone.
 Evciton Lodge of Instruction (823), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 7.30.

Tuesday, October 20.
 Lodge 667, Alliance, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
 " 897, Loyalty, Fleece Inn, St. Helen's, at 6.
 " 986, Hesketh, Grapes Inn, Croston, at 4.
 " 1225, Hindpool, Hartington Hotel, Barrow-in-Furness.
 " 1256, Fidelity, Bull Hotel, Poulton-le-Fylde.
 " 1276, Warren, Stanley Arms Hotel, Seacombe, at 6.
 Merchants' Lodge of Instruction (241), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.

Wednesday, October 21.
 Lodge 86, Loyalty, Assembly Rooms, Prescott, at 6.
 " 537, Zetland, Masonic Chambers, 9, Hamilton-square, Birkenhead, at 5.
 " 484, Faith, Gerard's Arms Inn, Ashton-le-Willows.
 " 580, Harmony, Wheatshaf Inn, Ormskirk, at 5
 " 738, Ellesmere, Masonic Hall, Runcorn, at 6.
 " 823, Everton, Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.
 " 1086, Walton, St. Lawrence Schools, Kirkdale, at 6.
 " 1182, Duke of Edinburgh, Coffee House, Wavertree, at 3.
 " 1345, Victoria, Cross Keys Hotel, Eccles.
 " 1353, Duke of Lancaster, Athenaeum, Lancaster.
 Mark Lodge No. 31, Fidelity, Norfolk Arms Hotel, Hyde, Cheshire.
 Harmonic Lodge of Instruction (216), Mona Hotel, James-street, Liverpool, at 8.

Thursday, October 22.
 Lodge 594, Downshire, Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.
 " 950, Hesketh, Royal Hotel, Dock-street, Fleetwood.
 " 1032, Townley Parker, Howard's Arms, Whittle-le-Springs.
 " 1070, Starkie, Black Horse Hotel, Kirkham.
 Chap. 216, Sacred Delta, Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.
 " 1086, Walton, Masonic Hall, Kirkdale, at 6.
 Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction (1182), 150, Park-lane, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 7.

Friday, October 23.
 Lodge 680, Sefton, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, October 24, 1874.
 All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, October 19.
 Lodge 332, Union, 170, Buchanan-street.
 " 556, Clydesdale, Assembly Rooms, Creswick.
 " 384, Athole, School Room, Kirkintilloch.
 St. Mungo Encampment, of Knights Templar, 213, Buchanan-st.

Tuesday, October 20.
 Lodge 343, St. John, St. John's Hall, Buchanan-st.
 " 73, Thistle and Rose, 170, Buchanan-street.
 " 87, Thistle, 12, Trongate.
 " 437, Govanvale, Portland Hall, Govan.
 " 543, Dalmuir, Freemasons' Hall, Dalmuir.

Wednesday, October 21.
 Lodge 117, St. Mary, Freemasons' Hall, Partick.
 " 128, St. John, Freemasons' Hall, Shettleston.
 " 354, Caledonia Railway, 213, Buchanan-st.
 " 187, St. John's, Black Bull Inn, Carluke.

Thursday, October 22.
 Lodge 553, St. Vincent, 162, Kent-road.
 " 544, Stewart, Freemasons' Hall, Market place, Kilsyth.

Friday, October 23.
 Lodge 321, St. Andrew's, Odd Fellows' Hall, Helensburgh.

Saturday, October 24.
 Lodge 28, St. John's, Black Bull Inn, Kirkintilloch.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN EDINBURGH AND VICINITY.

For the Week ending Saturday, October 24th, 1874.

Monday, October 19.
 Lodge 44, St. Luke's, Freemasons' Hall, George-st. at 8.

Tuesday, October 20.
 Lodge 36, St. David's, Ship Hotel, E. Register-street, at 8.

" 405, Rifle, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.30.

Wednesday, October 21.
 Lodge 160, Roman Eagle, Iona Hotel, Nicolson-street, at 8.

Thursday, October 22.
 Lodge 8, Journeyman, Masonic Hall, Blackfriars-street, at 8.

" 392, Caledonian, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.

" 392, Caledonian, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.

" 392, Caledonian, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

To W.M.'S AND SECRETARIES.

Bro. KNIGHT SMITH (1441), PROFESSOR OF MUSIC.

Begs to inform the Craft that he is prepared to assist the Ritual with Music for Consecration, Installation, or 1st, 2nd, and 3rd degrees.
 For terms, address 6, Londoavillas, Devonport-road, Shepherd's Bush, W.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tulla. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

Now Ready, price 1/- post-free 1/1s.

CARTES DE VISITE OF THE FOLLOWING

Masonic Celebrities.

The Most Hon. the Marquis of Ripon.
 The Right Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, D.G.M.
 The Right Hon. Lord Wavely, Prov. Grand Master Suffolk.
 The Right Hon. the Earl of Bective, P.G.M. Cumberland and Westmorland.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, P.G.M. Bristol.
 Sir Fredk. Martin Williams, Bart, M.P., D.P.G.M. Cornwall.
 Adair, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Somerset.
 Bagshaw, R. J., Prov. G. Master Essex.
 Bench, W. W. B., M.P., Prov. G. Master Hants.
 Burdett, Col. F., Prov. G. Master Middlesex.
 Doble, A., P. Prov. G. Master Surrey.
 Graham, J.H., L.L.D., M.W. G. Master Quebec.
 Huxley, Rev. Jno., Prov. G. Master Devon.
 Lazar, J., District G. Master New Zealand.
 Smith, Augustus, P., Prov. G. Master Cornwall.
 Stuart, W., Past Grand Master, K.T.
 Vernon, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Staffordshire.

Adams, Jas, P.M., P.Z.
 Adair, Frederick, P.P.G.D.C.,
 Essex.
 Bannister, J., P.G.S.B.
 Binckes, Fredk., Sec. R.M.I.
 Boys.
 Bower, R.F.
 Brennan, J. F.
 Buchan, W.P., P.G.S. Scotland.
 Campbell, Thos. M.
 Christie, P.M., Edinburgh.
 Costa, Ralph, 32°
 Costa, Sir Michael, 33°, P.G.O
 Coshburn, Geo.
 Cox, Edward.
 Cronin, Dr.
 Dumas, C. C., P.G.D. Surrey.
 Edwards T. H., P.M. 8.
 Eliot, Lord, P.G.W.
 Flavelle, E.E., Irish K.T.
 Foxall Samuel, P.M.
 Garey, William.
 Gouley, George Frank, Editor
 "St. Louis" Freemason."

Harding.
 Hervey, Jno., Grand Secretary.
 Hodges, H.B., M.D.
 Holmes, Emra.
 Holmes, R. D.
 Hopkins, D. H.
 Hughson, Wm. James, P.S.G.D.
 John, R.
 Lambert, Geo., 30°.
 Little, Robert Wentworth, Sec.
 R.M.I. Girls.
 May, Samuel, P.G. Steward.
 Mackenzie, P.M.
 Meggy, J., P.G. Steward
 Mounckton, J. B., P.G.D.

Moore; Rev. T. E. P.G.C.
 Moss, J.T., P.M., P.Z.
 Muggenidge, Henry.
 Norton, Jacob.
 Ohren Magnus, P.M., P.Z., 31°.
 P.G. J. W. Surrey.
 Parry, J. R., Sec. Gnd. Lodge of Iowa.
 Platt, J. P., M.P.Z.
 Port, J.
 Pullen, Hyde, 33°, P.G.S.B.
 Purday, P.M.
 Roebuck, W., P.P.G.S.B. Surrey.
 Rule, P.G. Pursuivant.
 Scott, Chas., Commander, R.N.
 Shaboc, Rev. D., P.P.G. Chaplain
 Middx.

Simms, J. Lambert.
 Smith, P.G.P.
 Spiers, R. J., P.G.S.B., D.P.G.M.
 Oxonia
 Spurr, J. F., P.M.
 Stebbing, J. Rankin, P.D.G.M., Hants.
 Stevens, James, P.M., P.Z.
 Stewart, Raynham W., P.G.D.
 Stohwasser, J., P.M., P.Z.
 Stone, W., P.M., K.T.
 Stronger, J.
 Stuart, W., P.Z.
 Swagg, P. M.
 Swan, C., P.P.G.S.B. Herts.
 Taylor, J., P.P.J.W. Middlesex.
 Thomas, Jas., P.M.
 Ujall, J., P.G.D.
 Walters, Fredk., P.M., P.Z.
 Williams, John.
 Woodford, The Rev. A.F.A., Past
 Grand Chaplain.

London: GEORGE KENNING,
 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BRECH M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

The supporters of the case of Richard Thomas Gardner (No. 24 on the list) will regret to learn that at the Election on the 12th October, 1874, their Candidate was not successful, although his number on the poll gives great encouragement.

The Widowed Mother of the Candidate and her friends desire to thank those who have hitherto assisted the case, and earnestly solicit their further help at the Election in April, 1875.

The undersigned will be happy to receive promises to support the case in April next, and will at the proper time make application for the proxies when issued.

JAMES STEVENS, P.M., P.Z.
Clapham Common, S.W.

TO THE VICE-PRESIDENTS, GOVERNORS AND SUBSCRIBERS OF THE ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

Gentlemen,—I beg to return my most grateful thanks for the kind support in the Election of my child, E. A. Thomson, to the above Institution, for which I shall ever be grateful.

Yours most obediently,
M. A. THOMSON.

4, Hanover-road, Plumstead.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

WOOD GREEN, LONDON, N.
OFFICE—6, FREEMASONS' HALL, W.C.

PATRON.
HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.
PRESIDENT.

MOST HON. THE M.W. GRAND MASTER for the time being.

At a Quarterly General Court of the Governors and Subscribers held at Freemasons' Hall, London, W.C., on Monday, 12th October, 1874, John Symonds, Esq., V. Patron in the Chair, a ballot took place for the election of thirteen Boys from an approved list of Forty-five Candidates, when the following were declared to be SUCCESSFUL:—

- | | | |
|----|--------------------------------|------|
| 1 | Robinson, Alfred De Lacey..... | 1717 |
| 2 | Stephenson, Alfred H..... | 1420 |
| 3 | Watson, Wm. Geo..... | 1415 |
| 4 | Hamilton, Geo. C..... | 1408 |
| 5 | Bearey, Albert E..... | 1404 |
| 6 | Routledge, Alfred..... | 1391 |
| 7 | Barrett, Chas. D..... | 1367 |
| 8 | Wayne, Saml. S..... | 1333 |
| 9 | Catt, Walter Wm..... | 1323 |
| 10 | Dunaway, F. W. H. P..... | 1297 |
| 11 | Onion, Walter..... | 1232 |
| 12 | Carter, Henry L..... | 1201 |
| 13 | Howard, Percy Edwd..... | 1195 |

The Votes of the unsuccessful Candidates will be carried to their credit at the Election in April, 1874. Lists of the Candidates with the Votes polled for all, successful and unsuccessful, may be obtained on application at the Office:—6 Freemasons' Hall, London, E.C.

FREDERICK BINCKES, Secretary.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

ST. JOHN'S HILL, BATTERSEA RISE, S.W.

At a Quarterly General Court of this Institution, held at Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen-Street, Lincoln's-inn-fields, W.C., on Saturday, the 10th day of October, 1874, Major John Creaton, Vice Patron, in the chair, after the general business was disposed of, the Governors and Subscribers proceeded to the Election, by ballot, of Fifteen Children into the Institution from a list of 29 approved candidates, when the following were duly elected:—

- | RESULT OF BALLOT. | |
|-------------------|-----------------------------------|
| No. on Poll. | SUCCESSFUL. |
| 1. | Ashby, Fanny..... 1224 |
| 2. | Sargent, Florence Rose..... 1006 |
| 3. | Osborne, Fanny Gertrude..... 979 |
| 4. | Read, Beatrice Eva..... 887 |
| 5. | Sharp, Colina..... 789 |
| 6. | Newman, Beatrice Abigail F... 783 |
| 7. | Treleaven, Emily Snowden..... 778 |
| 8. | Pike, Alice Georgiana..... 775 |
| 9. | Redford, Florence May..... 761 |
| 10. | Forster, Florence Louisa..... 713 |
| 11. | Allison, Margaret Whitworth. 706 |
| 12. | Thomson, Adela Eularia..... 688 |
| 13. | Genever, Ada Louisa..... 631 |
| 14. | Cartwright, Harriet..... 626 |
| 15. | Burse, Harriet Maude..... 614 |

UNSUCCESSFUL.
And the votes for the following unsuccessful candidates will be carried forward to their credit at the next election:—

- | | |
|------------------------------|-----|
| Rogers, Mary Sarah..... | 597 |
| Case, Emily..... | 392 |
| Craig, Fanny..... | 378 |
| Christie, Ellen Sophia..... | 355 |
| Kite, Ada Elizabeth..... | 330 |
| Barsby, Mary Emma..... | 248 |
| Phillips, Minnie..... | 209 |
| Bowler, Mary Louisa..... | 88 |
| Hollis, Ellen Elizabeth..... | 56 |
| Daly, Eliza Edith..... | 41 |
| Richardson, Mary Ann..... | 24 |
| Perks, Blanche Jenny..... | 18 |
| Norrish, Susan Jane..... | 11 |

And the unsuccessful candidate disqualified for the next election by age is—

- | | |
|----------------------------|-----|
| Holland, Florence Ada..... | 216 |
|----------------------------|-----|

R. WESTWORTH LITTLE, Secretary.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.
May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
Laid by in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nine years, £255,014 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,102.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,
9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.
For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With Compensation for Personal Injury, Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.
Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.
London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

MONEY, TIME AND LIFE

ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF

ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.

Provide against these losses by a Policy of the Railway Passengers' Assurance Company AGAINST ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS.

The oldest and largest ACCIDENTAL ASSURANCE COMPANY.
Hon. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.

Paid-up Capital & Reserve Fund £140,000.
ANNUAL INCOME, £160,000.

£810,000 have been paid as Compensation.
Bonus allowed to Insurers of Five Years' standing.

Apply to the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents, 64, CORNHILL, and 10, REGENT STREET, LONDON.
WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
C. HARDING, Manager.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately

from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent, repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents, Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Agents Wanted.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.

PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., 7s. 6d.

PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY. 8vo., 7s. 6d.
Theory Explained. 8vo., 7s. 6d.
Reeves and Turner, 178, Strand, London.

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS

FOR Craft Lodges,

OF SUPERIOR DESIGN AND WORKMANSHIP, MANUFACTURED IN THREE QUALITIES,

BY BRO. GEORGE KENNING, P.M.,

COMPRISING

- | | |
|--|--|
| Three Pedestals. | One Oak or Mahogany Kneeling Stool. |
| Three Candlesticks, Oak or Mahogany. | Lamp (Star in the East). |
| Two Columns, Oak or Mahogany. | Third Degree Sheet. |
| S. W. Triangle, in Oak or Mahogany with Gilt Tripod, Pulley Blocks and Windlass and Rough and Perfect Ashlars. | Bible, with Name and No. of Lodge in Gold. |
| Oak or Mahogany Box, and nine Tools, Plated. | Square and Compass in Case. |
| Three Oak or Mahogany Gavels. | Cushion for Bible. |
| One " " Maul. | Ten Officers' Collars. |
| One " " Ballot. | Ten Officers' Jewels. |
| Box and Balls. | I.G. Dirk. |
| One pair Wands. | O.G. Sword. |
| Three Tracing Boards. | Set of Eight Books. |
| | Three Sounding Boards. |
| | Two Pairs of Slippers. |
| | Three Cable Tows. |
| | Two Hoodwinks. |
| | Three Cardles with Emblems. |

£30, £60, and £100.

Chairs, Dais, Tesselated Carpeting, Banners, &c., &c. on the most moderate terms, according to material, style, &c. For Personal Insignia, see List of Clothing and Jewels.

THE COMPLETE

FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS

FOR

Royal Arch Chapters,

OF SUPERIOR DESIGN & WORKMANSHIP.

MANUFACTURED, IN THREE QUALITIES, BY

COMP. GEORGE KENNING, P.Z., COMPRISING

- | | |
|--|----------------------------|
| Floor Cloth | Towel |
| Pedestal | Square and Compasses |
| Veil | Sword |
| Set of Letters | Three Robes for Principals |
| Five Large Banners with Poles and Stands | Three Sceptres " |
| Fifteen Small ditto | Three Surplices " |
| Three Large Candlesticks | Ten Officers' Collars |
| Three Small ditto | Janitor's Sword |
| Six Ornamental Candles | Ballot Box |
| Rowbar | Bible |
| Pickaxe | Cushion for ditto |
| Shovel | Scripture Extracts |
| Archment Scroll | Set of Five Books |
| Set of Life Lines | |

£50, £100, and £150.

Thrones, Chairs, Canopy, Head Ornaments, &c. (if required the most moderate terms, according to material, style, &c.

For Personal Insignia, see Lists of Clothing and Jewels.

THE NEW

MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,

EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE

WORSHIPFUL MASTER,

SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.

Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

BRO. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depôts,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street.

BRISTOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-st.

THE HATTER & UMBRELLA TRADE

JOURNAL. An Illustrated Monthly Trade Journal. Published the 1st of each month. Subscription 5s. per annum, 6s. payable in advance. Single copies 6d.

Hatter is extensively circulated among the Retail Hatters, Manufacturers, and Shippers of Hats in Great Britain, and about the English-speaking world.

Elegant Illustrated Fashion Card of Hats and Caps, with portrait of some Leading Celebrity, by one of the first artists with each Number.

Orders and Post-office Orders to be made payable to Edward Kenning, crossed City Bank.

Office, 48, Paternoster-row, London.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

- | | |
|---|----------------|
| Freemasons' Arms..... | 15ft. by 12ft. |
| Knights Templar Arms..... | 15ft. by 12ft. |
| Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms | 15ft. by 12ft. |
| Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre | 12ft. by 9ft. |
| City of London Arms..... | 10ft. by 7ft. |
| Union Jack..... | 10ft. by 6ft. |
| Duke of Edinburgh..... | 9ft. by 4ft. |
| Russian..... | 9ft. by 4ft. |

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS.

- | | |
|--|---------|
| Entrance Fee | £ 3 0 0 |
| Annual Subscription | £ 3 0 0 |
| Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchants, Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) | 1 1 0 |
- The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante, Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
- BRO. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND,
P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.

THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."

Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS SAUCE.

Beware of imitations to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels. Agents—Cross & Blackwell, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.

(Established upwards of 35 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,

81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.

(No connection with any other establishment of the same name.) Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,

Complete Funeral Furnishers,

232 HIGH HOLBORN,

Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.

Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. AYTON,

Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,

ESTABLISHED 1821,

79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,

AND

139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.

Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,

(LATE WITH PATERAL & Co.)

106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.

Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.

Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.

Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.

Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.

Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES:

Thirty Sizes 4/0 per lb.

GAUZE LACES:

	Per gross.		Per gross.
1 in. ...	4/0	1 in. ...	16/0
1 in. ...	8/0	1 1/2 in. ...	36/0
1 in. ...	12/0	2 in. ...	48/0

PRUSSIAN LACES:

1 in. ...	18/6 per gross.
1 in. ...	30/0
1 1/2 in. ...	40/0

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:

	Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yds.
1 in. ...	3/0	1 1/2 in. ...	12/0
1 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:

	Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yds.
1 in. ...	3/0	2 1/2 in. ...	12/0
1 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

FRINGES:

	Plate or Water		Twisted		Bullion.
1 in.	0/4	...	0/8	...	1/6 per yard.
1 1/2 in.	0/6	...	1/0	...	2/0
2 in.	0/8	...	1/4	...	3/6
3 in.	0/10	...	2/0	...	6/0
4 in.	1/0	...	2/8	...	8/0
5 in.	1/3	12/6
6 in.	1/6	14/6
7 in.	1/9	17/6
8 in.	2/0	21/0
9 in.	2/3
10 in.	2/6
18 in.	3/0

RUSSIA BRAIDS:

No. 1	...	5/3 per gross
2	...	6/0
3	...	8/0
4	...	10/6
5	...	13/9

FRENCH BRAIDS:

No. 1,	8/6 per gross	No. 4,	26/0 per gross.
2,	12/0		5, 40/0
3,	16/0		6, 72/0

TISSUE:

22 inches wide 2/6 per yard.

GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH:

22 inches wide 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:

- Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
- Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
- " " 2nd " 6/0
- Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
- Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
- Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
- Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 27/0 per doz.
- Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
- Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz. double 2/6
- Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
- Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
- Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0
- Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/6 3/0 4/0 per dozen.
- Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard.
- " " in colours, 5/9 per yard.
- Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY GEORGE KENNING,
175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane Glasgow.

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.) Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN. In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REEVES SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S NEW TRACING BOARDS

Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket. Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.

Artist and Photographer.

11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.

Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons, Full Length Cartes 3s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH,

LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH, PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for

Cameo-Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is specially adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

213, REGENT-STREET, W.

S. YARDLEY,

(ESTABLISHED 1830)

Shop Front Builder, SHOP FITTER,

Air Tight Show Case Manufacturer, 8, LOWER WOOD STREET, CLERKENWELL, LONDON, E.C.

Every description of fittings manufactured for Jewellers, Cutlers, Stationers, Offices, Drapers, Musicians, Banks, Libraries, Outfitters, and Hosiers, Fancy Trades, &c. Plans and Estimates provided for shop fronts and internal fittings, in Town or any part of the Country.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

SUBERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for SUBERIUM. NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c.

SUBERIUM. Retail through all Furnishing Houses.

SUBERIUM. Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS, 335c, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.

Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 2s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, 1s. 6d.; second class, 1s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies' mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hauseman, Jermy-street.

THE BIRKBECK

is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION

How to Purchase a House for Five Guineas per Month. With immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Month. With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

How to Invest Money with safety at 4% per cent interest. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK.

All sums under £50 payable upon demand. Current accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 2, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS ROVENSON, Manager.

“THE FREEMASON” OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Lodges of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $2 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London “Freemason” 105, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR’ACTE,

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW. Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr’acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

“THE FREEMASON”

Supplied by

T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C.

South London Branch, 416, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station.

Wholesale Publisher to the Trade

SWANSEA.

Agent for “The Freemason.”

BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea.

A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry.

Agent for Kenning’s Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c.

Advertisements received for “The Freemason.”

WHITMORE’S STOMACHIC and LIVER

PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Dandelion, Turkey Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger. No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Costiveness, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and the most delicate may take them with safety.

Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON’S SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success. In Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by THOMAS WILKINSON,

270, Regent Street, London, W.

May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUINQUINA

For the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, and Effects of MALARIA. An Unfailing Remedy.

Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily took a small quantity, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, that thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Pint Bottles. Prepared only by THOMAS WILKINSON,

270, Regent Street, London, W.

May be had of all leading Firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON’S BRONCHIO-THORACIC LOZENGES.

Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience has fully justified their recommendation as the most speedy remedy in Irritation of the Throat, Catarrh, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers and vocalists they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and beautiful tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable taste. In bottles of one uniform size.

YOUNG’S ARTICATED

WOOL AND JUNIOR

PLASTER is the best ever invented for giving immediate relief in all cases of rheumatism, and removing those painful exosences.

Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them.

Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young’s.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

WHITE’S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS

It is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft, but powerful worm round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT

LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep.

A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the

MANUFACTURER,

Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.

Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d., and 31s. 2. Postage free of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s., and 52s. 6d. Postage free.

of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage 10c.

Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office

Piccadilly.

NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.

The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE, and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

SPINAL MACHINES, LEG IRONS,

And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.

JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind

used in Her Majesty’s Laundry.

Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is over come, they will say, like the Queen’s Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. “When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it.”

GEORGE REES

MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES’

GILT MOULDINGS, cheap in the Trade.

GEORGE REES’

100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES’

First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES’

CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices.

57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre

CROSBY’S

BALSAMIC

CROSBY’S

BALSAMIC

COUGH ELIXIR

Opium, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. It would be such valuable remedies, which yield momentary relief at a expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY’S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.

SELECT TESTIMONIAL.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the “Anti-Lancet,” writes: “I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease.”

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough.

* * * Invalids should read Crosby’s Prize Treatise on “Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels,” a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

“FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.”

CLARKE’S

WORLD FAMED

BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK.—“BLOOD MIXTURE.”

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORE. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.

For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds; a never-failing and permanent cure.

It Cures all Sores.

Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.

Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs.

Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.

Cures Scabby Sores.

Cures Cancerous Ulcers.

Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.

Cures Glandular Swellings.

Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter.

From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex.

The Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Thousands of Testimonials to all parts.

Sold in Bottles 2s. 6d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases,—BY ALL CHEMISTS

AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 2s.

or 12s stamps by

F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Limerick.

Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPEC-

TACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision

by Mr. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horn and Thornhill, near Opticians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. Sent six stamps for “Ackland’s Hints on Spectacles,” which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET—

Try Anthony Scard’s new material! Peculiarly Prepared for the Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, and comes softer and finer in wear, a perfect double luxury at superlative price. 8, Bow Lane, Liverpool, E.C. Ladies make skillfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

Just published, Free Edition,

GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, NEU-

TAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all disease of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Force

By DR. HENRY SMITH.

GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Strength

Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Also treated with Testimonials, with many of Care used in each case.

The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on receipt of two penny stamps.

Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Bow Lane, Liverpool, W.C.

OCTOBER NUMBER, now ready. Price Sixpence.

THE MASONIC MAGAZINE,

A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS:

Bro. W. VINER BEDOLFE, M.D.
 Bro. W. BURROUGHS, A.M., Calcutta:
 Bro. J. G. FINDEL.
 Bro. C. G. FORSYTH
 Bro. EMRA HOLMES, 31°
 Bro. HUBERT.

Bro. WM. JAMES HUGHAN, P.M., P.S.G.D.
 Bro. ROBERT WENTWORTH LITTLE, 30°
 Bro. D. MURRAY LYON, P.M., P.Z.
 Bro. KENNETH R. H. MACKENZIE, P.S.A.
 Bro. J. DANIEL MOORE, M.D., F.L.S.
 Bro. JACOB NORTON.
 Bro. J. C. PARKINSON, P.M., P.Z., G.D.

Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON, P.M.
 Bro. GEORGE MARKHAM TWEDDELL.
 Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, M.A., P.G.C.
 Bro. DR. WOODMAN, P.M., P.Z.
 Bro. JOSEPH H. WOODWORTH.
 Bro. T. B. YEOMAN.

CONTENTS :

Monthly Masonic Summary.
The Age of Ancient Masonic Manuscripts.
Abel's Moth.
Charles Dickens—A Lecture.
The Change of Years.
A Little Comedy.
Oration, by M.W. Grand Master Van Slyck.
A Little Good Advice.
Our Strategy.
What is the Good of Freemasonry ?

Poetry—
The New Morality.
A Dream of Fair Faces.
Courage.
People will Talk.
In Memoriam.
Our Archaeological Corner—
The Old Masonic Poem.
Correspondence—
The Nightingale.

The Masonic Magazine will be forwarded from the Office of Publication, throughout the United Kingdom, on the following terms —

Twelve months	s.	d.
Six	"	7	0
One Copy	3	6
					0	7

For Foreign parts, postage on 4 oz. Magazine must be added.

Now Binding, ready October 20, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,
 A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,
 CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburg, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, E.C.

"THE FREEMASON."

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

"THE MASONIC MAGAZINE."

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

"THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK."

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of Newsvendors generally.

AGENTS.

ABERDEEN...	... LINDSAY, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City) JAS. GILBERT, 18, Grace church-st.
"	... RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st.	"	... C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
ABERGAVENNY THOMAS & EDMUNDS.	"	... R. POTTE, 14, Royal Exchange.
ANDOVER J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st.	"	... HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BERLIN ASHER & Co., 53, Mohrenstrasse.	"	... CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BERWICK R. LAMBERT.	" (West) GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BIRMINGHAM J. WILLEY, Union-passage.	"	... D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Soho.
BRADFORD MORGAN, Kirkgate.	"	... LASGUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
BRIGHTON J. BEAL, 55, East-st.	"	... H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
BRISTOL E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st.	"	... NASH & TEUTON, Saville-place.
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P.	"	... WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
CARDIFF LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	" (Bermondsey) HALL, 87, New Road.
"	... T. HAYNES, 6, James-st.	"	... JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
CARLISLE J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	" (Brixton) FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
CHELTENHAM T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	" (Camberwell) MORRIS, 19, The Green.
CHESTER MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	" (Chelsea) JNO. CATTERMOLLE, 48, Cale-st.
CONGLETON A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	" (Clapham) JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
CUCKFIELD JOHN GALLOP.	" (Euston Road) PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
DERBY CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	" (Greenwich) POOK, Church-st.
DUBLIN DOWN, Freemasons' Hall, Molesworth-st	" (Hornsey) SWAIN, Railway Approach.
DUNDEE CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	" (Kensington) KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
EDINBURGH MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	" (Kingsland) PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
"	... R. S. BROWNE, 67, Hanover-st.	" (Lambeth, South) TRIEBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
"	... ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	" (New Cross) FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
EXETER W. GREGORY, 3, High-st.	"	... JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
"	... E. FITZ, 28, High-street.	"	... WM. KIPPS, 361, New Cross-rd.
GLASGOW GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st., 2, St. Enoch's-lane.	" (Paddington) E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
"	... LAING, St. Enoch-square.	" (Richmond) TURRALL, 17, New Road.
"	... THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	" (St. John's Wood) WILSON, 13, High Street.
"	... URQUHART, 189, London-road.	" (Shoreditch) ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
"	... WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	" (Sydenham) J. CLARKE, Cambridge House.
"	... LOVE, 226, Argyle-street.	MANCHESTER JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
"	... GEO. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street.	"	... ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
GLOUCESTER THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	"	... BERRSFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
GRAVESEND E. BAYNES, 65, High-st., & Princes-st.	MARGATE W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
GUERNSEY F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	MARYPORT J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
HALIFAX WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
HARWICH BOTHAN & JACKSON, Church-st.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire) D. DILWORTH.
HERTFORD SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NEWTON ABBOTT HEARDER & SON.
HEYWOOD HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHALLERTON J. E. H. REED.
HOLYHEAD OWEN R. ELLIS.	NORTHAMPTON STANTON & SON.
HULL PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	"	... RUSHTON, Gold-st.
HYDE S. NATHAN, Market-st.	OXFORD SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
IRELAND ORR & Co., Coleraine.	FORTSEA EMANUEL, High-st.
ISLE OF WIGHT J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes	PORTSMOUTH N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road.
JERSEY GEO. WARDLEY, St. Helier's.	PRESTON HARKNESS, Church-street.
LANCASTER EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROSS J. COUNSEL, "Man of Ross" Office.
LEEDS INCHBOLD, 33, Bond-st.	ROTHERHAM HINCHCLIFFE, High-st.
"	... A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SHEFFIELD E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
"	... J. MOSLEY.	SOUTHAMPTON ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
LEICESTER C. OLDERSHAW, JUN., 40a, Granby-st.	"	... JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
LITTLEHAMPTON MARDON'S LIBRARY, High-street.	"	... J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
LIVERPOOL GEORGE KENNING, 2, Monument-pl.	"	... "SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER" Office.
"	... G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	SOUTHPORT G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
"	... ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	STOKE-ON-TRENT J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
"	... DAVIES, Exchange.	STOKESLEY TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
"	... WINTERSBOTTOM, Exchange.	SUNDERLAND B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
"	... MRS. LEA, Woodside Ferry.	SWANSEA CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st.
"	... EDWARDS, Duke Street.	TRURO WILLIAM LAKE.
"	... METCALF, Lime Street.	TWEEDMOUTH R. LAMBERT.
LLANDUDNO WOODLEY.	WEST INDIES J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
LLANELLY ACE & SON.	"	... GEORGE ROE, St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica.
LONDON (City) GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain	"	... JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica.
"	... W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITEHAVEN PAGEN & GILL.
"	... G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WHITSTABLE COX, High-street.
"	... WILLIAM ABBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGAN T. WALL, "Observer" Office.
"		WIGTON T. McMECHIN.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother GEORGE KENNING, at his Offices; 198, Fleet-street, and 2, 3, and 4, Little Britain, in the City of London; County of Lancaster; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.—SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1874.

THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH AT DEVONPORT.

PLACING THE MEMORIAL STONE OF THE ROYAL BRITISH FEMALE ORPHAN ASYLUM.

Printed from the Western Daily Mercury of Thursday, October 8th, 1874.

DEVONPORT, like Plymouth, has had its Royal visit, and is to be equally congratulated on the visit. The visit of H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh to Devonport, to place the memorial stone of the Royal British Female Orphan Asylum at Stoke, was as interesting and as successful a way as the grander visit in August of the Prince of Wales to Plymouth, to open the New Hospital. It is true the visit of the Queen's eldest son to the elder borough was a corporate visit, and carried out with corporate magnificence; but though the Duke of Edinburgh's visit to Devonport to accord recognition to the Asylum of a public institution was not under the auspices of the Corporation, yet it was in no way wanting that which all loyal subjects regard as necessary to a Royal visit. The army and navy took an active part—and considering the special occasion of the visit, very appropriately took an active part—in the day's proceedings, and throughout the arrangements were directed by careful consideration and successful accomplishment.

DEVONPORT received H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh as no stranger. It was at Devonport that he commissioned the good ship Galatea, and it was from the Hamoaze that he departed upon an eventful and entertaining voyage to the Cape of Good Hope, to Australia, her lands; and it was to Devonport he returned from circumnavigating the globe, and the incidents of the dinner he gave in the Mechanics' Institute to Mr. Moore and officers of the Dockyard in celebration of his cruise are fresh in the minds of townspeople. Closely connected with Devonport in his active sea-life, the Duke of Edinburgh was sure of a warm reception in visiting the town, and especially when he came upon so excellent an opportunity to show his sympathy and interest in an institution that succours the orphans of our sailors and sailors who die in the service. His sympathy and interest could not but be warmly shown on the part of a prince who chose sea-life for his profession. Favoured with the presence of her Majesty herself, the Asylum can also boast of the support of her sons, the Prince of Wales, it will be remembered, who, at Plymouth, became the patron of the Asylum, the Fund being raised for the extension of the Asylum, and subscribed twenty-five guineas. The Duke of Connaught has contributed £1,000 to the funds, and the Duke of Edinburgh, £500, and £50 contributed when he paid a visit to Galatea, yesterday handed to Mr. Metham a further cheque for £50. The Asylum is well worthy of such support. It is unique; it was the first institution of the kind. Forty years ago Mr. Metham established the Devon and Cornwall Female Orphan Asylum, Plymouth. A few years' experience served to bring into prominence the fact that there were a very large number of orphans of soldiers and sailors whose support by charity were most pressing. Not a day passed then existed in the country without the mission of caring for the female orphans of those who died in defence of the country's honour. To meet this want an auxiliary to the Plymouth Asylum was formed, and supported by a fund called the Seamen and Marines Female Orphan Fund; and out of this, in 1840, grew the British Female Orphan Asylum, which soon added "Royal" to its title, the Queen having readily become its patroness. It began in a small way in a private house; but in 1845 so general was the recognition and support accorded it that its promoters were enabled to proceed with the erection of a large and imposing asylum at Stoke, a pleasant suburb of Devonport. It was appropriately opened on "Waterloo Day, 1846," and since then a thousand orphans of our brave protectors have been lodged, clothed, educated, and trained in it as domestic servants. More than one-half of the girls admitted lost their fathers in actual service; the rest were children of men who had died of disease in foreign lands, or from injuries whilst on duty. Commencing with the fatal retreat at Cabool, each military and naval service which has occurred during the last thirty years has furnished inmates for the asylum, and a noteworthy feature in its management is that, whenever a war has occurred, or a catastrophe happened to any portion of the defensive forces, the managers have at once opened the asylum to a certain number of girls thus made orphans, instead of waiting till the regular election came round. In the way the siege of Acre, the Crimean War, the fierce conflict with the Affghans, the wars with China, the Kaffirs, and the Ashantees, the wreck of the Avenger, the burning of the Amazon, and the foundering of the Captain, have all had their effect on the history of the institution.

Such in brief is the history of the Asylum. In a few cases has the faith of managers been met with more prompt and substantial reward. Mr. Metham inherited, as a legacy from his mother, the privilege of promoting the interests of the institution; and strong in a just and pressing cause he has not left the merits of the Asylum unsung. The results have fully justified his importunity and rewarded his increasing exertions. The Committee of Lloyd's Patriotic Fund, in the most substantial manner, recognized the excellent work of the institution by a liberal endowment for extending its usefulness, and it is not to be doubted that this Asylum had no small influence on the Admiralty in leading them at last to recognize that it is a State duty to care for those made orphans by devotion to State service. It is the result of this recognition that called for additional buildings, and led to the present pleasant ceremonies of yesterday. To provide for fifty children which will be supported by the Admiralty, a much larger asylum was required, and whilst additions were being made, it was resolved to build for eighty more inmates, and thus make it equal to accommodating 200 orphans. And then the want will not be too effectually met. These new works required up £4,000, and how energetic Mr. Metham has been in raising funds is well known, and not the least noticeable feature in his campaign has been the substantial proof given of the esteem in which he is held amongst the Freemasons as D.P.G.M. of Devon by the collecting of one thousand guineas for his scheme amongst his brethren in Devon and Cornwall. Notwithstanding all his efforts, however, nearly £2,000 yet remains to be begged. The earnest appeals made by the Duke of Edinburgh should make the raising of that sum easy.

The weather yesterday was not altogether favourable. Tuesday night's boisterous visitation of wind and rain was aught but cheering, and yet the morning of yesterday was not at all unpromising. The wind was high certainly, and ominous black clouds would now and then sweep up from the north-west, but still the bright, uninterrupted sunshine of a few minutes was most comforting. Whilst the crowds in the streets, and on the Grand Stand at the Asylum were waiting for the Duke, a very heavy shower fell, bringing cloaks and umbrellas into sudden requisition; but from the time the procession started to the end of the ceremony, no rain fell. A continuance of bright sunshine enabled the ladies to appear in all the advantage of their bright toilettes, and the Master of Ceremonies to carry the programme through without curtailment.

THE PROCESSION.

The naval and military orders which were issued from Government House some days since, and which appeared in our columns, were followed out to the letter. At nine o'clock yesterday morning the whole of Her Majesty's ships in the harbour hoisted masthead flags; at the same time the Royal Standard was hoisted at Mount Wise and the Citadel, and a royal salute was fired from the saluting ships, as well as from the Citadel. The principal streets and thoroughfares of the town, through which it had been arranged that the procession should pass, were gaily decorated with flags, most of them having been lent by the Dockyard authorities, and the entire route from the Admiralty House to the Orphan Asylum was lined by naval seamen, and detachments from the 11th and 60th regiments, the men being four paces apart. According to announcement the procession, with his Royal Highness, started from the Admiralty House precisely at twenty minutes past twelve, by which time a large crowd assembled, despite the heavy showers of rain which occasionally fell. The procession was headed by a mounted escort, consisting of twelve men of the B Battery, 16th brigade of Royal Artillery, and then came the carriages in the following order:—

First Carriage: Captain Somerville, R.N.; the Rev. G. E. Carwithen, M.A., R.N.; Dr. J. Robson, Committee.

Second Carriage: Captain A. Edye, R.N.; Mr. Alderman J. Weary; Mr. J. H. Jeffery, Committee.

Third Carriage: The Mayor of Plymouth, (Mr. Alfred Rooker).

Fourth Carriage: Major General Smyth's, C.B., Commanding the Western District.

Fifth Carriage: Sir Massey Lopes, Bart., M.P., (Civil Lord of the Admiralty), Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart, M.P., (D.G.P.M. of the Freemasons of Cornwall), Mr. J. Carpenter-Garnier, M.P., and Mr. L. P. Metham.

Sixth Carriage: Mr. Chapell Hodge and Lord Blachford.

Seventh Carriage: Admiral the Hon. Sir H. Keppel's, G.C.B., Commander-in-Chief—Captain Heneage, H.M.S. Royal Adelaide; Captain Wilson, H.M.S. Impregnable; and Lieut. Windham, Flag Lieutenant.

Eighth Carriage: Lord Eliot, the Bishop of Exeter, Captain the Hon. Charles Eliot, and Mr. W. H. Pole-Carew.

Ninth Carriage: The Mayor of Devonport (Mr. Alfred Norman), the ex-Mayor (Mr. Joseph May), and the Town Clerk (Mr. J. J. E. Venning).

Tenth Carriage: His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, his equerry, and the Hon. Admiral Sir Henry Keppel, G.C.B.

A posse of policemen brought up in the rear.

In this order the procession made its way at a rapid pace to the Orphan Asylum, through George Street, St. Aubyn Street, up Fore Street, through the barrier gate, along the Stoke Road, and up Trafalgar Place. All along the line of route there was a large crowd of people, more particularly in St. Aubyn Street and Fore Street, and his Highness met with a very cordial reception, the ladies at the windows being especially demonstrative. By the time that the procession reached the asylum an immense crowd had assembled, and when the Duke drove up to the doors of the asylum he was received with a hearty outburst of cheering.

In the immediate neighbourhood of the asylum there was much decoration. The grand stand, capable of holding nearly three thousand persons, was draped with flags, and approaches to it were enlivened with Venetian masts. The scaffold poles remaining around the unfinished wings were called into requisition, and made to carry a score or two of the flags lent by the Dockyard authorities, and were manned like the yards of a man-of-war by a number of training ships, who cheered lustily at the proper time. The front of the asylum was very nicely decorated, the principal features being two large scrolls, running the length of the building, one on red ground bearing the words, "The Fatherless, their Redeemer is mighty and will plead their Cause," and below, on blue ground, "For the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans from every part of the World." Over the entrance was the word "Welcome," and the hall and the principal rooms of the Asylum were made to look their best with flags, and plants, &c. The memorial stone to be placed by his Royal Highness was in the left wing, and in front of it was erected a large platform supporting a canopy, from the top of which floated the British and Russian standards. The shields of Great Britain and Russia were also prominent in the decorations. The platform was laid with scarlet cloth, the sides being ornamented with evergreens, plants, &c., from Mount Edgumbe and other gardens. Mr. Fouracre, Stonehouse, assisted in the decorations. The excellent arrangements carried out allowed all on the grand stand to witness the ceremony. People began to assemble at the Asylum early, and by shortly after noon there was not a place vacant to the general subscribers. The scene was a very pretty one, and what with the ladies' toilets and the full-dress uniforms of the very large number of naval and military officers present, there was no lack of colour and the picturesque.

Seeking shelter from flying showers, welcoming the bands of the Royal Marines and the 60th Rifles, and watching the large gathering of the officers of the army, navy, and reserve forces served to while away the time of waiting. Members of the committee—Captain Edye, Mr. G. Churcher, Mr. C. Leigh, and Mr. J. H. Jefferd, and Rev. G. E. Carwithen were busy enough up to the last moment, and the memorial stone was receiving the solicitous care of Mr. T. Jenkin, of Devonport, and Mr. Greenwood, the Clerk of the Works. The brethren who had charge of the arrangements of the Freemasons' platform were Bro. Jew, 105, Bro. Gover, 70, Bro. Trevena, 159, Bro. Westcott, 70, Bro. J. Way, 106, Bro. Skelton, 1247, Bro. Hawkings, 70, and Bro. Bird, 70. Mr. Metham received great assistance from the Dockyard authorities, Captain Heneage, R.N., Captain Wilson, R.N., Captain Hamilton, R.N., and Mr. Churcher, of the Victualling Yard. All was the picture of readiness when the Duke arrived. Distant cheering was the first indication of his approach, and in a few minutes—during which the military band played the English and Russian national airs, and "Rule Britannia," and the people kept cheering right lustily—H.R.H. appeared on the platform in plain dress, surrounded with a most distinguished company. In a prominent place in the grand stand were the orphans (in their neat white and blue dresses) and choir, and led by Mr. P. B. Clemens, and accompanied by his son on the harmonium, they sang "God save the Queen," but the effect was nearly drowned by the cheering that was kept up by the crowd.

Amongst the ladies on the platform were Lady Keppel, Mrs. Smyth, Mrs. Metham, the Hon. Mrs. Fremantle, Mrs. Howard, Miss F. Howard, &c., and representatives of the ladies' committee. To enumerate the gentlemen would be to give nearly the whole of the officers in garrison, port, and Government establishments. Suffice it to say that the company was the most distinguished and brilliant that has assembled in Devonport for many a long year.

When all were assembled on the platform, Mr. Metham, acting as Master of the Ceremonies, called upon the Bishop to open the proceedings. Dr. Temple, complying, offered up the following prayers:—

"Prevent us, O Lord, in all our doings, with Thy most gracious favour, and further us with Thy continued help, that in all our works, begun, continued, and ended in Thee, we may glorify Thy Holy Name, and finally, by Thy mercy, obtain everlasting life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

"Almighty and most merciful God, the Father of the fatherless, to whom the helpless flee for succour, and the destitute for protection, we beseech Thee to give Thy blessing to the work which we begin this day on behalf of the orphan children of our soldiers and seamen. In Thy name it is done. To Thy service it is offered. Take it, O Lord, as Thine own, and make us Thy instruments to fulfil Thy kindness, and as long as the walls of this school shall stand, let happy hearts herein learn Thy ways, and loving voices sing Thy glory, and orphan souls be comforted and cherished with Thy care, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Admiral Sir Henry Keppel then presented H.R.H. with an address, beautifully illuminated on vellum, and the Duke handed it to Mr. Metham, with a request that he would read it. The hon. sec. in a clear voice, and with much expression, read as follows:—

"May it please your Royal Highness,

"We, the Committee of the Royal Female Orphan Asylum, in the name of the subscribers and life governors, cordially welcome the presence of your Royal Highness among us. We request that you will do us the honour to place this Memorial Stone, which is intended to commemorate the enlargement of this Asylum, by which one hundred more destitute orphans of our brave sailors and soldiers will be rescued from want, ignorance and vice.

"We are confident that the visit of your Royal Highness will be followed by permanent benefit to the deserving, but hitherto neglected class for whom we are labouring. The warm sympathy thus shown for the orphans of your humblest companions in arms, will, we believe, awaken the nation to the sense of a sacred duty too long neglected, and lead them to resolve that the orphans of those who lose their lives in the defence of their country, shall ever afterwards be cared for and protected with more than common solicitude.

"We recognize with more than usual pleasure a partial acknowledgment of this claim in the fact that the first inmates of these new wings will be fifty children maintained by the Admiralty as trustee of the Greenwich Fund. Asking no exclusive privilege for this Institution we eagerly look forward to the time when this principle shall be extended, and there shall not be a single garrison or seaport town without an Asylum for those who, in right of their fathers' services, deserve so well of their country.

"With pride we record that Her Most Gracious Majesty, at its foundation gave to the Asylum the powerful aid of her patronage, and with your late lamented father, the Prince Consort, frequently contributed to the funds.

"We cannot conclude without expressing to your Royal Highness our congratulations on your felicitous marriage, and we pray that God will bestow on yourself and your illustrious Consort, health and happiness, with all spiritual and earthly blessings."

His Royal Highness, in replying to the address, said:—Gentlemen,—I thank you for the welcome to Devonport which you have offered to me in the name of the life governors and subscribers to the Royal British Female Orphan Asylum, and beg you to believe how gladly I comply with your request that I should lay the memorial stone which is to commemorate its extension, and enable it to receive so large an additional number of inmates. I do, indeed, most heartily join with you in your desire for the prosperity of this institution, whose aims and objects are so eminently deserving of the support and encouragement, not only of those belonging to the two services, but of all in the country at large who wish well to men who risk their lives for it, whether before the fire of the enemy, or under the influence of an unhealthy climate. No one, surely, who will reflect on the dying moments of a soldier or sailor may be embittered by cruel anxiety for the fate of his children, but must sympathize with the efforts of those whose endeavour is to rescue the little ones from want, ignorance and misery. All honour to the men who have devoted themselves to this noble work. I thank you sincerely for your congratulations upon my marriage, and I can assure you that the Duchess of Edinburgh warmly unites with me in the hope that under God's blessing this admirable asylum, which has already been productive of so much good, may continue to prosper, and that you may be enabled to extend still further the range of your most benevolent and patriotic exertions.—(Loud cheers.)

The Mayor of Devonport (Mr. A. Norman), the architect of the building, presented the Duke with the work-tools—the trowel, the mallet and the level—and with these he placed the memorial stone, and then declared it to be well and truly laid. The stone was a large block of Portland stone, just under one of the windows, and bearing the following inscription:— "This stone was placed by H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh, K.G., K.T., to commemorate the erection of the wings of this Asylum, October 7th, 1874." Simultaneously with the placing of this stone, a stone in the western wing was unveiled; it was inscribed:—"For the destitute female orphans of sailors, soldiers and royal marines; patroness, the Queen." The silver trowel which was used in the ceremony was selected by the committee, from the production of Mr. T. Partridge, manufacturer and jeweller of Kingsbridge. Its design was very artistic, the ornamentation being in full accordance with the legitimate use of the trowel—a point rarely studied by the designers, but fully carried out in this case. The handle was of ivory carved with oak leaves. The silver blade was ornamented with a bright diaper arrangement of geometrical scrolls on a shaded ground, the centre shield being very tastefully engraved with the following inscription:—"Presented to Captain H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh, on the occasion of his placing the memorial stone of the new wings of the Royal British Female Orphan Asylum, at Devonport, Wednesday, October 7th, 1874." The trowel after use was enclosed in a morocco case, lined with navy blue, velvet and satin, trowel and case doing great credit to the producer.

An interesting ceremony, masonic in character, followed the placing of the stone by Roy hands.

Mr. Metham, advancing to the memorial stone, poured upon it a cornucopia of corn saying, I pour corn on this stone, the emblem of plenty and reproduction. May plenty prevail within these walls, and may the orphans of our soldiers and sailors be protected from want and misery for evermore. May the lessons and principles taught here to these children and their fellows, ever reproduce in them, intellectual, moral, and religious life, not only the present, but for the future.—(Loud cheers.)

Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart, M.P. next poured oil out of a silver flagon, on the stone, saying, I pour oil on this stone, the emblem of prosperity, of joy, and of happiness, and may this Institution never be destitute either.—(Loud cheers.)

Admiral the Hon. Sir Henry Keppel, G.C. finally poured wine on the stone, saying, I pour wine on this stone, the emblem of gladness, and I am sure you will be glad when you meet me.—(Loud cheers.)

Whilst this ceremony was being proceeded with the children with the choir sang "God bless Our Sailor Prince."

Of Nelson, Hood, and Collingwood
Our grandsires used to sing,
Our fathers had a toast as good,
They gave "The Sailor King!"

A Sailor Prince is now our toast,
One worthy of his name,
A second Alfred we can boast,
On England's scroll of fame.
God bless our Sailor Prince,
Long may his name
Be dear to fame.
God bless our Sailor Prince.

When this portion of the ceremony was over they sang the following hymn, written for the occasion and adapted to the air of the Russian National Anthem by Mr. W. H. Wright:—

God bless Victoria's son,
His life be his, and joy and happiness in boundless store;

Oh! give him greeting true,
Ring out your shouts anew,
God bless our Prince!
Our Sailor Prince!
May he, of honoured name,
Live in old England's fame,
The nation's pride,
Brave Sailor Prince.

God bless his Royal Bride!
Now hath found in British hearts a welcome real and true;
Far from her native land,
Oh! may she here command,
A priceless dower,
A nation's love.
Long live the Royal pair,
Proud oak and lily fair,
In love entwined,
Heaven's gifts to share.

God bless this happy day!
May His presence dwell with us in this our work of love;
Soothing the widow's fears,
Drying the orphan's tears,
Oh! may this day,
With joy be crowned,
May He on rich and poor,
Alike his goodness pour;
E'en as we call,
God bless us all.

As a fitting introduction to another very interesting portion of the ceremony. Ladies I have been for some weeks collecting for the now came to the platform and deposited their offerings, contained in blue and red purses, silver salver before his Royal Highness. The first ladies were the Misses Metham, daughters of the founder of the institution, daughters of its present hon. sec.; and the latter were for the most part daughters of the asylum. Some of them were very young indeed, one little lady being just toddle before the Duke, and in the meanwhile their elegant toilettes were specially selected for the occasion. In several cases red and blue, symbolical of the asylum's colours, and in others the designs were given by a sailor's attire. As the ladies proceeded with their purses, containing in all 170, the scene was very animated. The presentation was next made.

Frederick Martin Williams, advancing to the Duke, said: May it please your Royal Highness, in the unavoidable absence of the Provincial Grand Master, the Earl of Devon, I am, in his late sad decease, all most deeply sympathise—(hear, hear), as Deputy Provincial Grand Master of Devon, on behalf of the Freemasons of that county, beg now to present to your Royal Highness a list of various lodges who have sub- scribed towards the new wings of this building. I trust you that they have all contributed with great pleasure, and I have only now to thank them on their behalf, their sincere congratulations to your Royal Highness, together with their very best wishes for the success and prosperity of this noble institution. (Loud cheers.) The amount of the subscription from the Cornish province is £140. (Cheers.)

Mr. L. P. Metham: May it please your Royal Highness, with great pride as Deputy Provincial Grand Master of this Province, in the absence of our Provincial Grand Master, the Rev. J. Huyshe, on account of ill-health, which we all deplore, I present to you the collection made by the Masons of Devon, amounting to £912 13s. 8d.—(loud cheers)—which, together with the sum just announced by Sir Frederick Martin Williams, makes up a total sum of one thousand guineas contributed by nearly 1,200 brethren of the Masonic craft in Devon and Cornwall. (Renewed cheers.) And I feel quite sure your Royal Highness will not think me intruding on your time if I take this opportunity of thanking my brother Masons, and of telling them how proud and grateful I am to them for the admirable efforts they have made to support me in this great and arduous labour. (Cheers.) It is something for them to reflect upon with pride that they have contributed more than one-fourth to the cost of the new buildings. (Cheers.) And they have done more than that. They have vindicated those principles of charity which animate the Order, and which nothing on earth can shake so long as they continue to practise brotherly love, relief, and truth. (Loud and continued cheering.)

The Bishop closed the ceremony by offering the following prayer:—Almighty Saviour, Judge of Heaven and earth, Redeemer of the world, who has taught us what is done in loving kindness to the least of Thy brothers is done unto Thee, accept this our offering of tender care for the little children whom Thou art always ready to bless. Sanctify this school with Thy perpetual presence. Banish from it everything unloving and unkind, everything impure or un- holy, everything false and mean. Bless the teachers and guardians of the children with wisdom from on high, with skill to instruct, with gentle tenderness to guide and discipline, with patience to train and educate. Bless the children with grace to learn Thy holy fear, and hearts to feel Thy love, with understanding to know Thy ways. For many years may the little ones who have lost their natural guardians be here sheltered from pain and unhappiness, shielded from temptation, trained in Christian duty, taught to know Thy Cross. And when Thou comest back again, may we be glad to meet them in Thy presence, and know that they are Thine. Grant this, Lord Jesus Christ, out of Thy abundant love, for the sake of Thine own offering on the Cross. Amen. The peace of God.

The principal actors in the ceremony then posed themselves whilst Mr. L. Duprez took a photograph of the platform scene from the stand opposite. When this was accomplished, the distinguished company separated, the children and choir singing "Rule Britannia." The platform occupied by His Royal Highness was soon besieged by ladies and gentlemen anxious to see the memorial stone, with its offerings of corn, and oil, and wine, the trowel, &c., used by the Duke, and the masonic plate (from the Provincial Grand Lodge of Devon) used in the consecration. Leaving the platform, his Royal Highness proceeded to a room in the Asylum fitted up for his reception by Messrs. Pinsent and Co., Devonport.

THE LUNCHEON.

At two o'clock a luncheon was provided in the asylum, and was partaken of by between sixty and seventy noblemen and gentlemen. The room was very elaborately decorated, and the table was laid out with great taste, the whole of the arrangements being very much admired. For the ornamentation of the table, valuable plate was lent by Dr. Domville, R.N.; Mr. Joseph May, the Rev. G. E. Carwithen, M.A., R.N.; Captain Adolphus Edye, R.N., Mr. J. H. Jefferd, Captain Somerville, R.N.; Mr. J. Beer, and other gentlemen. The luncheon was provided by Mr. Loving, of the Royal Hotel, Devonport, who did it in a manner entitling him to the highest credit. The fruits were chiefly contributed by generous friends of the institution.

Admiral Sir Henry Keppel, G.C.B., presided, and on his right was his Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, and his left the Bishop of Exeter. The general company included Lord Eliot, Lord Blachford, Sir H. M. Williams, Bart., M.P., Sir Massey Lopes, Bart., Mr. Carpenter Garnier, M.P., Admiral Lowe, Major-General Pickard, Colonel Sir Henry Freezing, C.B., Colonel Elliott, Colonel Fowler Burton, Assistant-Adjutant General, Colonel Hicks, C.B.; Capt. Smyth, A.D.C.; the Mayor of Plymouth (Mr. A. Rooker); the Mayor of Devonport (Mr. A. Norman); Colonel De Courcey, Mr. W. H. Pole Carew, Mr. J. Venning (town clerk of Devonport); the Rev. G. E. Carwithen, M.A., R.N.; Mr. Isaac Latimer, Dr. J. Rolston, Mr. J. Weary, Captain Adolphus Edye, R.N.; Mr. J. H. Jefferd, Mr. L. P. Metham, Captain Somerville, R.N.; Mr. G. Churcher, Captain Heneage, R.N., H.M.S. Royal Adelaide; Captain Napier, R.N.; Mr. R. B. Oram, Dr. Minter, Inspector General of Hospitals and Fleets; Captain Wilson, R.N., H.M.S. Impregnable; Mr. Chappell Hodge, Rev. J. Lugge, R.N.; Rev. J. Coney, Chaplain to the Forces; Colonel Penrose, R.M.L.I.; Captain Thrupp, R.N., H.M.S. Topaze; Mr. J. Beer, Dr. Cutcliffe; Mr. C. Leigh, Mr. R. Routh, Deputy Commissary General; Rev. H. J. R. Rathbone, Dr. J. May, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. H. Churcher, R.W. Victualling Yard; Mr. B. W. Risk, Secretary to the Admiral; Mr. G. Rolston, Dr. Bulteel, Dr. Domville, Deputy Inspector of Hospitals and Fleets; Mr. Edmonds, Mr. J. Bourne, the Hon. Capt. Freemantle, R.N., C.B.; the Rev. W. J. St. Aubyn, Rector of Stoke Damerel, Mr. P. J. Margary, Capt. the Hon. W. Ward, R.N., the Rev. W. D. Williams, the Rev. E. Roberts, Temerton; Dr. W. H. Pearce, Mr. G. L. Basset, Tehidy; Lieutenant Wyndham, Captain Thomas, Devonport Artillery Volunteers; Lieutenant Curteis, 12th D.A.V., Mr. J. Greenwood, Mr. J. D. Collins, &c.

The first toast was that of "Her Majesty the Queen," which was drunk with the usual honours, after which

The Chairman said: I have the honour to propose "His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales." His Royal Highness has recently appeared amongst us to open the New Guildhall Buildings at Plymouth, and he has won golden opinions from every one in these Three Towns—(applause). The more we saw of him the more pleased we were with him.

The toast was received with three cheers.

The Chairman: The next toast I have the honour to propose to you is that of "His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh—"(loud cheers.) It is rather difficult to express how greatly we feel indebted to His Royal Highness for the trouble he has taken in coming such a long distance to be present on this interesting occasion—(hear, hear.) It was only last week that His Royal Highness was doing the same kind and noble act—laying the foundation stone of an Asylum for seamen at Liverpool—(applause)—and he had scarcely returned to town when he came down here, accepting the invitation of Mr. Metham to lay the memorial stone of the new wings, to this new building. I regret exceedingly that he is obliged to return to London again this evening, and this in itself proves the inconvenience that it must have been to His Royal Highness to come here to day. But whenever a kind act has to be done His Highness is always ready to do it, and but that I had the honour of belonging to the same profession. I could tell you many anecdotes regarding him that would both amuse and delight you. I will not, however, intrude any further upon your time but will ask you to drink his Highness' health with full honours—(loud cheers.)

The Duke of EDINBURGH: Sir Henry Keppel, my lords and gentlemen: I thank you for the very hearty reception you have given to the toast of my health, and I thank you for the very cordial reception which I have met with here to-day. I need scarcely tell you—and my presence amongst you I hope will assure you of it—that to come here and take part in this interesting ceremony is a matter of very great pleasure, and by no means of inconvenience—(hear, hear.) And I am sorry that Sir Henry Keppel should have dwelt so much upon that point; because when one sees the good that can be done on an occasion of this sort, I am sure that no inconvenience and no distance should keep one away—(hear, hear.) I must congratulate the directors of this excellent institution upon the great success with which the proceedings of to-day have been crowned, and upon the liberal subscriptions which have come in to meet the demand Mr. Metham has made for the £4,000 necessary to complete these new wings, and to enable another election to take place from amongst the 150 candidates who are waiting for admission to this institution—(applause.) I am informed that since the institution was founded, in the year 1839, there have been a thousand young girls trained and passed through it and sent out into domestic service where they are doing well; and I am sure that this is not only an excellent thing for the orphans of our brave soldiers themselves, but it is also an excellent thing for society at large in providing good and trustworthy domestic servants—(applause.) I am sure that the appeal which has been made, and to which so far there has been made a hearty response, will not fail in being crowned with complete success, and that the full sum will be realized to enable this institution to be thoroughly and successfully carried on—(applause.) Before I resume my seat I wish to ask you to join with me in drinking "Prosperity to the Royal British Female Orphan Asylum," and I couple with the toast the name of Mr. Metham—(applause.)

Mr. Metham said: May it please your Royal Highness: I will not dwell on the personal pride and pleasure with which I hear "Success to the Royal British Female Orphan Asylum," proposed as a toast by a member of the Royal Family, for the deep gratitude I feel to your Royal Highness preponderates every other consideration. From the great interest you have always evinced in the welfare of your humbler companions in arms, I am sure it will be gratifying to you to know that when to-day and its ceremony have long faded from your mind, its good fruits will, in an ever increasing degree, be enjoyed by the orphans of our sailors and soldiers. Our great difficulty, hitherto, has been to convince the public that the benefits of the asylum are not confined to the orphans who are inhabitants of this locality only. As Royal patronage would never be bestowed on a charity based on such narrow grounds, they will now believe the truth, and the sailors' or soldiers' orphan, come whence she may, from the East, the West, the North, or South, will have the same chance of election as a child born in the next street to the asylum. She needs no recommendation, none can canvass for her if they would; the record of her father's services and her own destitution are her only passport. And again, your Royal Highness's visit will, I am confident, bear fruit more important still for the relief of this destitute and deserving class. We celebrate to-day the inauguration of a system by which the State recognises its duty to care for the orphans of those who lose their lives in the public service. These wings would never have been built but for the provision which the Admiralty have made for 200 orphans of seamen and marines from the Greenwich Fund. As this Institution, 35 years ago, with its five inmates, and £130 in the treasurer's hand, backed, however, by a strong faith in the goodness of the cause, backed too, by the far-seeing, benevolent and patriotic spirit of our gracious Queen, who did not hesitate to commit her Royal name to the possibility of a failure, was but the type of what it is to-day, so am I confident the present Asylum is but a type of what it, and others like it, will be when England has been awakened to a sense of what she owes to her brave soldiers and sailors. Is it not a shame that the orphans of those who have fought, bled, and died to uphold the honour of England, to protect her commerce on every sea, and to guard her sacred soil from the approach of an enemy, and all we hold nearest and dearest from the invaders, polluting touch, shall be left exposed to the dangers which poverty, ignorance, her own undisciplined mind, and the designing vice of others may suggest? But for the aid of a charity like ours, begin their history as you may, it is sure to end in beggary or the streets. They gravitate, as a matter of course towards the hospital, the refuge and the union, until they find their last and only rest in the pauper's grave. Not a child who has lost her father by his devotion to his duty, by the sword, disease, shipwreck, should, by the remotest possibility, be subjected to such a fate, but ought to be considered as the adopted daughter of the State. It is a work, too, that would cost very little, and would re-pay its cost tenfold. Lord Shaftesbury lately said that if he had £20,000 he would sweep the streets of London of all its waifs and strays, and convert those who are a danger and embarrassment to the State, into willing and intelligent seamen for the Royal and Mercantile Marines. Give me half the money for the orphans of those who have died in actual service, by the sword, disease, fire, and shipwreck, and I will pay back to England ten times the value, in the shape of her greatest want—willing, intelligent, God-fearing servants. If it be a merit to the husbandman who supplies the wants of our bodies to make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before, surely it must be a greater merit to shield from want, ignorance, and vice, 200 children with perishable bodies and immortal souls, where but 100 were sheltered before; and by training them in industrial, intellectual, moral, and religious culture to convert what would have been a danger, into a blessing to society. You have to-day seen 111 children, as healthy, contented, intelligent and well conducted, as ever were gathered together under one roof. I ask you to give me means to make 150 others of their sisters, and fellows who are on our list of candidates, as happy as they are. If we cannot raise the £2,000 still necessary, to pay for these new wings, they, and many others like them, will be disappointed, perhaps, for ever. It rests with the country, either through the Government, or in its individual character, to say whether the future of the orphans of our brave defenders shall be bright as that of the 1000 children we have already rescued from want and ignorance, and trained to earn their own livelihood, or whether it shall be so dark that humanity shudders at the contemplation, drifting as they are down life's rapid, and, to them, turbid stream, towards the dread ocean of eternity, uncared for and unthought of, their mental and spiritual need neglected as their bodily. On behalf, then, of these poor children, who are at once so deserving, and so destitute, I again most gratefully thank your Royal Highness for the opportunity your visit has given me of pleading their cause, not only before this most influential company, but through the press, which will report our meeting, before all England.

Sir Henry Keppel: I have now the honour of proposing the toast of "the Lord Bishop of the Diocese"—(applause.) It is unnecessary for me to sing his praises, and I can only say that his activity is apparent in every direction—(hear, hear.) His lordship is ever ready to take part in any good action. At one time he comes down at the shortest notice to confirm two hundred of our sailors boys; at another time, when a lifeboat has to be launched he comes to pray for God's blessing upon it. I give you the Lord Bishop of Exeter—(applause.)

The Bishop of Exeter: May it please your Royal Highness, my lords, and gentlemen; I am very much obliged to you for the kindness with which you have received the proposal of my health, and I am obliged also to those who have arranged this programme for another reason, and that is that it just gives me the opportunity of saying a few words—and I can assure you that they shall be very few—in behalf of this institution, into the working of which I have lately been looking, and which I believe deserves the larger and very much more general and liberal support than it has yet received—(applause)—because the history of it shews that it has a double claim upon us. It has not only the claim of having a very good object. That in this country I believe, is shared by a great many different institutions. Very often indeed such institutions come before the public, and those who have charge of them are a little disappointed at finding what little response is made to the appeals that are urged upon all who are within reach to support them. Very often indeed there is a sort of feeling that if you will only set before people how excellent the object is at which an institution aims, that ought to be quite sufficient; but everybody who has to listen to such appeals knows perfectly well that it does not pass through the mind a question which it is not always civil to ask, but which, nevertheless, has a very great effect indeed upon the contributions that it is possible to get; and that is the question, whether those who are promoting the object are the right persons to promote, and whether it is quite certain that the aim—though it be a very excellent one—will be attained by the means which they use; whether, for instance, in establishing a school like this, the people who establish it are likely to be the best administrators of such a school, and whether it is at all sure that the administration of it will be such as to justify the contributions that have been given. Such questions do enter the mind constantly, and very frequently indeed they materially check the subscriptions. Often, without a word being said, there is a sort of feeling that although the object is admirable, yet it is not by any means certain that the object will be attained. But this institution—and anyone who studies its history may see it—has won its way from very small beginnings, not so much by the excellence of its objects, which is confessed from the very first, but by the excellence of its administration. The £15,000 voted some while ago from Lloyd's Patriotic Fund—and I believe that it contributed very largely to give the institution the permanent character which it now possesses—was given because after careful examination those who had charge of the money were satisfied of the excellence of the work that was done. They were satisfied, not only that those who had charge of the schools were desirous of doing a very excellent thing, but that they were doing it, and I assure you that there is a great deal of difference between aiming at doing a thing and succeeding in doing it. This institution has the claim of really proving to all concerned that the work can be done, and will be done. And here it has been done—(hear, hear, and applause). I believe it would be very difficult to find any institution which, in the pursuit of a very excellent object has been so thoroughly successful as this has been. I shall detain you no longer, but I think it worth while to pre-ter that consideration upon all those who are within reach of any words that I can use—(applause.)

Mr. Metham: I am sure we ought not to separate without thanking our Chairman for his able presiding at this Board—(applause.) I owe a very great deal to Sir Henry Keppel, and we have received from him an amount of his assistance which is not often forthcoming in movement of this kind—(hear, hear.)

Three hearty cheers were given for Sir Henry and the proceedings were brought to a close.

By the thoughtful consideration of the Lunatic Committee, the desert, which remained unoccupied, was afterwards given to the inmates of the Asylum, together with the sweets, for which the children were indebted to the kindness of Mr. Loving, by whom the luncheon was provided.

His Royal Highness left Plymouth by 7.45 p.m. mail train for London.

THE AIM AND END OF THE CRAFT DEFINE THE LAWS OF MASONRY ARE SENSE AND REASON, PRINCIPLES, LOVE AND BENEVOLENCE; ITS RELIGION IS TRUTH AND PURITY; ITS OBJECT, PEACE ON EARTH AND GOOD WILL TOWARDS MEN.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF WEST LANCASHIRE.

DEDICATION OF THE LIVERPOOL MASONIC HALL.

No larger gathering of the Masonic Fraternity has ever taken place in Liverpool than that which was witnessed at the Masonic Hall, in Hope-street, on the 7th instant, when the Provincial Grand Lodge of the Western Division of Lancashire held its annual meeting. The interest attaching to the annual gathering of the lodges in the province was greatly increased on this occasion by the fact that Bro. the Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, R.W.P.G.M., had expressed his intention of dedicating the New Masonic Hall, erected at a cost of upwards of 4,000, to the purposes of "pure Freemasonry." The rarity of the ceremony, the popularity of the P.G.M., and the great increase in the members of the Order in this part of the country, were doubtless a few of the reasons which induced the extraordinary gathering on this occasion, a gathering which even "the oldest habitant" has never seen equalled. The province now embraces upwards of 70 lodges, several of them numbering more than 200 members each; and as all the lodges, with two exceptions, were represented on this occasion, the meeting was one of peculiar importance. There were upwards of 500 in the large hall at one part of the proceedings, but probably more than 1,000 had to leave, being unable to obtain admission, so great was the crush for places.

Before giving an outline of the long day's proceedings, it will be well to give our readers a brief description of the handsome hall, which was dedicated on this occasion. The design for the new hall is of Italian character, and was selected in competition. The front to Hope-street is of white stone, and set back from the side of the street. The principal entrance in the front, is approached by a broad flight of steps, and protected by a spacious projecting porch, flanked by columns and pilasters with carved capitals. The basement is devoted to club-rooms, each 25 feet by 20 feet, with storerooms, wine cellars, &c.; a corridor, 10 feet wide, running from the front to the rear. The ground floor consists of library, 25 feet by 20 feet, and committee room of similar dimensions, each with anteroom adjoining; house steward's office; principal and second staircases. The upper stories are placed on this and all other floors of the building. The lodge room is placed on the back, and is 51 feet 6 inches long, by 30 feet wide. This is approached from the entrance by a corridor, 10 feet wide, and has preparation, and paraphernalia rooms attached. An ante-chapel gallery is placed on the east side of the lodge room. On the first floor is the chapter room, 51 ft. 6 in., fronting Hope-street, with three rooms. The hall is a noble apartment, 51 feet 6 inches long, 30 feet wide, and 25 feet high, with a cloak room, serving and dressing rooms attached, and a spacious ladies gallery, capable of accommodating 100 persons. The upper floor is devoted to kitchen purposes, and is connected with the various floors by means of a lift. The principal and several of the smaller rooms are heated by a most powerful hot-water apparatus, installed by Mr. B. Harlow, Macclesfield, and admirably arranged by his Liverpool representative, Mr. J. B. Gibson, general and consulting hot-water engineer, Queen's-road. Bro. Edward Dawson, P.M. of The Temple Lodge, was the architect; and the sole contractor was Bro. Joshua Henshaw, and the sub-contractors were Messrs. Nicholson and Ayre for carpentry work; Mr. James Leslie for masonry; Mr. T. Croft for slating and plastering; Mr. Crosby for painting, painting and glazing; and Brother Hall for gasfitting; and Brother Pemberton for the principal glass work.

Amongst those present at the inauguration of the new hall were Brothers—
 Bro. Lord Skelmersdale, P.G.M.; Hon. F. Standish, P.G.M.; Sir James Ramsden, G.S.W.; Bro. Prescott, G.J.W.; Rev. J. F. Goggin, Rector; T. Armstrong, P.G. Treas.; Chas. H. Pier, P.G.R.; H. S. Alpass, P.G. Sec.; E. H. P. G.S.D.; W. Doyle, P.G.J.D.; J. Baxendale, P.G. Sup. Works; G. de la Perrelle, P.G.D. of Cer.; G. Broadbridge, P.G. Assist. D. of Cer.; R. Landluis, P.G.S.B.; J. Skeaf, P.G. Org.; R. Pearson, P.G. Pura.; S. Johnson, G. Owen, T. A. Lowe, J. R. Gospel, W. Turley, Stewards; Gilbert Greenhall, M.P., P.P.S.G.W.; S. P. Brabner, P.P.S.G.W.; H. R. Edwards, P.P.G.R.; J. Maudsley, P.P.G.R. and P.P.G. Sec.; B. Rowson, P.P.G.S. of Works; T. Wylie, P.J.G.W.; J. W. J. Fowler, P.P.G.A.D.C.; R. Sharrock, P.P.G.S.B.; C. Sherlock, P.P.G.R.; P. Maddox, P.P.G.T. of Works; S. E. Ibbes, P.P.G.S.B.; J. T. Bourne, P.P.G.J.W.; R. Wylie, P.P.G.S.D., P.P.G.D. of Works; Rev. Henry G. Vernon, P.P.G.C.W., Lan. and Cheshire; W. Laidlaw, P.P.G.S. of Works; Alex. Stoddart, P.M., 32; Peter Ball, G. Tyler; Wm. Henry Ball, Assistant P.G. Tyler.

Amongst the distinguished visitors were:—
 Bros. J. Bowes, P.P.G. Reg. Cumb. and West.; C. Banister, P.G.S.B. of England; F. Binckes, P.G. Steward of London; W. Eardley, P.P.G.D. of Cer. Chesh.; G. Lofthouse, P.G.A.D. of Cer., E. Lan.; H. Cook, P.P.G. Reg. Cumb. and West.; J. Daniel Moore, M.D., P.G.S.B. England; Jas. Torke, P.G.S.W. Cumb. and West.; J. Salmon, P.G.S.D. Cheshire; J. Banning, P.P.G. Org. Cumb. and West.; R. C. Mellor, P.P.J.G.D. West., North Wales, and Shrop.; Wm. Bulley, P.J.G.W. Cheshire; J. P. Platt, P.P.J.G.W. Cheshire; R. W. Worrall, P.G.S.B. Cheshire; F. K. Stevenson, P.P.G.S.B. Cheshire; E. Friend, P.P.J.G.D. Cheshire; J. B. Lambert, P.P.S.G.D. E. Lan.; J. Terry, Sec. R.M. Benevolent Inst., P.G.D. of Cer., Herts.; R. Dodgson, W.M. 995 P.P.G.S.B. Cumb. and West.

Amongst the Worshipful Masters present were:—
 Bros. W. Sephton, 1086; R. Hooker, 1225; J. E. Edgington, 1182; R. Blundell, 484; J. Ismay, 216; J. S. Dixon, 1264; P. Macmurdow, 1299; O. R. Edmondson, 1061; R. Washington, 1094; W. Cottrell, 833; O. Leighton, 1325; E. Lister, 680; W. M. Chudley, 241; W. Heald, 1353; T. C. Bush, 703; G. E. Stopford Taylor, 786; W. Welbourn, 343; S. Cragg, 333; C. B. Wolmers, 178; J. Poole, 32; P. M. Neill, 203; T. A. Collinson, 1350; E. O. E. Rothwell, 1356; J. Davison, 724; J. Wells, 580; J. F. Hoffgaard, 1253; H. Scott, 86; J. Hayes, 249; S. Taylor, 1387; J. Harding, 314; T. Caranach, 1213; C. Humphries, 1013; J. Evans, 220; J. N. Davies, 1256; W. C. Edge, 1403; H. E. Collingworth, 613; J. F. Roberts, 1313; H. Nelson, 1505, P.M. 673; M. Coreless, 673, &c.

The Past Masters present were:—
 Bros. Dr. J. Kellett Smith, 249 and 1094; J. Kenyon, 1013; G. Cornfield, 1225; T. Chuck, 1013; W. Yates, 484; W. Cross, 484; W. D. Rowse, 594; J. Wray, 1061; C. Leedham, 220; R. R. Martin, 1094; J. McKune, 216; R. Danson, 1094; E. Simpson, 281; W. Bowden, 1213; J. Lunt, 1086; W. Sharp, 148; J. W. Baker, 220 and 241; W. Harrison, 897; W. S. Hawkins, 1250; W. Richardson, 148; J. W. Rigby, P.M. and W.M., 730; J. Rigby, 1070; W. S. Blackhurst, 1070; P. M. Larsen, 594; J. Pemberton, 1264; H. Pearson, 249; T. Leighton, 1325; T. Clark, 673; R. Pearson, 673; G. Turner, P.M., 86; P. B. Gee, 1264; J. Parsons, 203; W. Woods, 1182; J. W. Williams, 1182; W. Pugh 1182; P. R. Thorn, 1182; D. W. Finney, 148; J. P. McArthur, 1086; S. Wylde, 1403; F. Jackson, 580; J. J. Rose, 249; G. Remington, 995; J. Jones, 594; J. Bolton, 667; G. Sculthorpe, 1035; W. Shortis, 724; J. C. Lunt, 1086; W. Archer, 1086; R. Young, 1384; G. Morgan, 1035; T. Fozzard, 1035; G. Blundell, 786; H. Bagot, 1021; H. Williams, 249; J. W. Sergeant, 203; W. A. Clayton, 364; J. Healing, 1264; R. Carn, 724; N. H. Hacking, 1213; A. Davies, 1264; W. Stediford, 724; J. T. Callow, 673; J. T. Hall, 86; T. K. Hughes, 1013; S. Wylde, 1403; E. Kyle, 673; J. Thornton, 673; J. W. Fowler, 86; J. Hocken, 673; T. Ashmore, 823; T. Dodgson, 995; J. Case, 995; W. J. Lunt, 823; R. Jones, 220; W. C. Connell, 137, &c.

The other names which deserve to be mentioned are Brothers:—
 J. Bell, S.W., 1356; H. Jackson, S.W., 1393;

W. G. Beale, Org., 594, 1356, &c.; W. Forster, J. Deacon, 249; J. Houlding, Sec., 823; T. Roberts, J.W., 673, J. Burgess, S.D., 1325; R. T. Taylor, J.W., 1021; A. Vaughan, J.G., 1182; D. Jackson, J.G., 673; W. Burnett, S.D., 1013; H. Firth, J.G. 667; P. B. Forshaw, S.W., 1403; G. Gould, S.D., 1403; J. Little, J.G., 1225; F. J. Hunt, S.W., 113; H. Ashmun, S.W., 1225; D. Wilkins, J.D., 148; J. W. Ballard, S.W., 724; T. Day, S.W. 1013; F. W. N. Johnson, S.D., 1213; R. Williams, S.W., 1213; J. C. Robinson, J.G., 249; The Rev. J. B. Jenkins, Chap., 216; The Rev. J. Dunning, Chap., 1225; J. Sergeant, J.W., 580; W. Healing, J.W., 1094; J. Worsley, S.W., 314; E. Myres, J.W., 314; J. Leconte, S.D., 594; A. Bucknall, S. 667; T. Ockleshow, S.W., 667; T. C. Jones, J.D., 241; E. Johnson, S.W., 203; J. Lloyd, 249; W. Vaughan, S.D., 724; W. Brown, Treas., 1182; T. B. Myers, S.W., 1182; R. Martin, Jun., J.W., 1182; J. E. Jackson, S.W., 667; H. Wyatt, S.W., 1473; T. W. Wills, J.D., 1473; T. Large, J.D., 1373; T. Shaw, S.W., 823; F. Knight, J.W. 1325; J. Armstrong, J.G., 148; Schofield, S.W., 1387; J. Taylor, S.W., 1051; W. H. Holt, J.W., 786; M. Williamson, Tyler, 1393, &c.; R. Roberts, S.S., 1356; R. Collings, Sec., 249; J. Townsend, J.W., 113; A. Vandyke, 241; A. C. Moore, S.W., 216; C. Matthews, J.W., 178; H. P. Burton, S.W., 333; E. Ford, Jun., J.D., 1380; J. White, J.D., 1384; R. Brown, S.W., 241 and 1380; J. Dale, S., 1505; P. W. Oglesby, S., 823; R. P. France, J.W., 594; W. J. Morrow, Sec., 897; P. J. Edleston, S.W., 1250; J. Brown, S.W., 1070; J. A. Nicholson, J.W., 1070; T. Atkinson, J.W., 281; H. Longman, J.W., 1051; F. Haworth, Org., 1013; H. Johns, S.W., 1476; W. S. Watson, J.G., 1496; C. D. Turton, 823; E. Ramson, 249; R. W. Braithwaite, J.W., 1476; W. S. Carr, J.W., 1353; J. Acton, S.W., 1353; E. Brook, S.W., 703; J. W. Mycock, J.W., 703; R. Croft, J.D., 1505; W. Matthews, J.D., 721; W. Roberts, J.W., 1264; J. Goodman, J.W., 1403; S. Nickson, S.D., 1356; J. Williams, Sec., 1182; G. Fowler, J.W., 216; J. Pleake, J.G., 1035; C. A. Bannerman, Sec., 1061; M. Mather, J.W., 1061; W. Newsome, Sec., 1384; W. Hughes, S.W., 292; T. Grieve, J.D., 1398; H. Morris, J.W., 1505; T. Home, J.W., 1356; W. B. Ackersley, Sec., 680; J. Wood, Treas., 1094; Jno. Capell, D.C., 1505; John Hughes, S.W., 220; John Griffiths, Sec., 1264; J. Simpkin, J.W., 484; H. Burrows, J.D., 673; Wm. Jones, S.W., 1299; C. E. Wright, J.W., 1354; John Hall, Sec., 1354; Thos. Davies, S.D., 1182; Wm. Tyrer, J.W., 86; W. E. Cattell, Sec., 594, McKenzie (Freemason), &c.

Amongst the distinguished visitors were:—
 Bros. J. Bowes, P.P.G. Reg. Cumb. and West.; C. Banister, P.G.S.B. of England; F. Binckes, P.G. Steward of London; W. Eardley, P.P.G.D. of Cer. Chesh.; G. Lofthouse, P.G.A.D. of Cer., E. Lan.; H. Cook, P.P.G. Reg. Cumb. and West.; J. Daniel Moore, M.D., P.G.S.B. England; Jas. Torke, P.G.S.W. Cumb. and West.; J. Salmon, P.G.S.D. Cheshire; J. Banning, P.P.G. Org. Cumb. and West.; R. C. Mellor, P.P.J.G.D. West., North Wales, and Shrop.; Wm. Bulley, P.J.G.W. Cheshire; J. P. Platt, P.P.J.G.W. Cheshire; R. W. Worrall, P.G.S.B. Cheshire; F. K. Stevenson, P.P.G.S.B. Cheshire; E. Friend, P.P.J.G.D. Cheshire; J. B. Lambert, P.P.S.G.D. E. Lan.; J. Terry, Sec. R.M. Benevolent Inst., P.G.D. of Cer., Herts.; R. Dodgson, W.M. 995 P.P.G.S.B. Cumb. and West.

Amongst the Worshipful Masters present were:—
 Bros. W. Sephton, 1086; R. Hooker, 1225; J. E. Edgington, 1182; R. Blundell, 484; J. Ismay, 216; J. S. Dixon, 1264; P. Macmurdow, 1299; O. R. Edmondson, 1061; R. Washington, 1094; W. Cottrell, 833; O. Leighton, 1325; E. Lister, 680; W. M. Chudley, 241; W. Heald, 1353; T. C. Bush, 703; G. E. Stopford Taylor, 786; W. Welbourn, 343; S. Cragg, 333; C. B. Wolmers, 178; J. Poole, 32; P. M. Neill, 203; T. A. Collinson, 1350; E. O. E. Rothwell, 1356; J. Davison, 724; J. Wells, 580; J. F. Hoffgaard, 1253; H. Scott, 86; J. Hayes, 249; S. Taylor, 1387; J. Harding, 314; T. Caranach, 1213; C. Humphries, 1013; J. Evans, 220; J. N. Davies, 1256; W. C. Edge, 1403; H. E. Collingworth, 613; J. F. Roberts, 1313; H. Nelson, 1505, P.M. 673; M. Coreless, 673, &c.

The Past Masters present were:—
 Bros. Dr. J. Kellett Smith, 249 and 1094; J. Kenyon, 1013; G. Cornfield, 1225; T. Chuck, 1013; W. Yates, 484; W. Cross, 484; W. D. Rowse, 594; J. Wray, 1061; C. Leedham, 220; R. R. Martin, 1094; J. McKune, 216; R. Danson, 1094; E. Simpson, 281; W. Bowden, 1213; J. Lunt, 1086; W. Sharp, 148; J. W. Baker, 220 and 241; W. Harrison, 897; W. S. Hawkins, 1250; W. Richardson, 148; J. W. Rigby, P.M. and W.M., 730; J. Rigby, 1070; W. S. Blackhurst, 1070; P. M. Larsen, 594; J. Pemberton, 1264; H. Pearson, 249; T. Leighton, 1325; T. Clark, 673; R. Pearson, 673; G. Turner, P.M., 86; P. B. Gee, 1264; J. Parsons, 203; W. Woods, 1182; J. W. Williams, 1182; W. Pugh 1182; P. R. Thorn, 1182; D. W. Finney, 148; J. P. McArthur, 1086; S. Wylde, 1403; F. Jackson, 580; J. J. Rose, 249; G. Remington, 995; J. Jones, 594; J. Bolton, 667; G. Sculthorpe, 1035; W. Shortis, 724; J. C. Lunt, 1086; W. Archer, 1086; R. Young, 1384; G. Morgan, 1035; T. Fozzard, 1035; G. Blundell, 786; H. Bagot, 1021; H. Williams, 249; J. W. Sergeant, 203; W. A. Clayton, 364; J. Healing, 1264; R. Carn, 724; N. H. Hacking, 1213; A. Davies, 1264; W. Stediford, 724; J. T. Callow, 673; J. T. Hall, 86; T. K. Hughes, 1013; S. Wylde, 1403; E. Kyle, 673; J. Thornton, 673; J. W. Fowler, 86; J. Hocken, 673; T. Ashmore, 823; T. Dodgson, 995; J. Case, 995; W. J. Lunt, 823; R. Jones, 220; W. C. Connell, 137, &c.

The other names which deserve to be mentioned are Brothers:—
 J. Bell, S.W., 1356; H. Jackson, S.W., 1393;

W. G. Beale, Org., 594, 1356, &c.; W. Forster, J. Deacon, 249; J. Houlding, Sec., 823; T. Roberts, J.W., 673, J. Burgess, S.D., 1325; R. T. Taylor, J.W., 1021; A. Vaughan, J.G., 1182; D. Jackson, J.G., 673; W. Burnett, S.D., 1013; H. Firth, J.G. 667; P. B. Forshaw, S.W., 1403; G. Gould, S.D., 1403; J. Little, J.G., 1225; F. J. Hunt, S.W., 113; H. Ashmun, S.W., 1225; D. Wilkins, J.D., 148; J. W. Ballard, S.W., 724; T. Day, S.W. 1013; F. W. N. Johnson, S.D., 1213; R. Williams, S.W., 1213; J. C. Robinson, J.G., 249; The Rev. J. B. Jenkins, Chap., 216; The Rev. J. Dunning, Chap., 1225; J. Sergeant, J.W., 580; W. Healing, J.W., 1094; J. Worsley, S.W., 314; E. Myres, J.W., 314; J. Leconte, S.D., 594; A. Bucknall, S. 667; T. Ockleshow, S.W., 667; T. C. Jones, J.D., 241; E. Johnson, S.W., 203; J. Lloyd, 249; W. Vaughan, S.D., 724; W. Brown, Treas., 1182; T. B. Myers, S.W., 1182; R. Martin, Jun., J.W., 1182; J. E. Jackson, S.W., 667; H. Wyatt, S.W., 1473; T. W. Wills, J.D., 1473; T. Large, J.D., 1373; T. Shaw, S.W., 823; F. Knight, J.W. 1325; J. Armstrong, J.G., 148; Schofield, S.W., 1387; J. Taylor, S.W., 1051; W. H. Holt, J.W., 786; M. Williamson, Tyler, 1393, &c.; R. Roberts, S.S., 1356; R. Collings, Sec., 249; J. Townsend, J.W., 113; A. Vandyke, 241; A. C. Moore, S.W., 216; C. Matthews, J.W., 178; H. P. Burton, S.W., 333; E. Ford, Jun., J.D., 1380; J. White, J.D., 1384; R. Brown, S.W., 241 and 1380; J. Dale, S., 1505; P. W. Oglesby, S., 823; R. P. France, J.W., 594; W. J. Morrow, Sec., 897; P. J. Edleston, S.W., 1250; J. Brown, S.W., 1070; J. A. Nicholson, J.W., 1070; T. Atkinson, J.W., 281; H. Longman, J.W., 1051; F. Haworth, Org., 1013; H. Johns, S.W., 1476; W. S. Watson, J.G., 1496; C. D. Turton, 823; E. Ramson, 249; R. W. Braithwaite, J.W., 1476; W. S. Carr, J.W., 1353; J. Acton, S.W., 1353; E. Brook, S.W., 703; J. W. Mycock, J.W., 703; R. Croft, J.D., 1505; W. Matthews, J.D., 721; W. Roberts, J.W., 1264; J. Goodman, J.W., 1403; S. Nickson, S.D., 1356; J. Williams, Sec., 1182; G. Fowler, J.W., 216; J. Pleake, J.G., 1035; C. A. Bannerman, Sec., 1061; M. Mather, J.W., 1061; W. Newsome, Sec., 1384; W. Hughes, S.W., 292; T. Grieve, J.D., 1398; H. Morris, J.W., 1505; T. Home, J.W., 1356; W. B. Ackersley, Sec., 680; J. Wood, Treas., 1094; Jno. Capell, D.C., 1505; John Hughes, S.W., 220; John Griffiths, Sec., 1264; J. Simpkin, J.W., 484; H. Burrows, J.D., 673; Wm. Jones, S.W., 1299; C. E. Wright, J.W., 1354; John Hall, Sec., 1354; Thos. Davies, S.D., 1182; Wm. Tyrer, J.W., 86; W. E. Cattell, Sec., 594, McKenzie (Freemason), &c.

DEDICATION OF THE HALL.

The craft lodge was opened shortly after twelve o'clock by Bro. J. Poole, W.M. 32, the position of P.M. being occupied by Bro. H. Scott, W.M. 86. The members of the P.G. Lodge assembled in the meantime in the double committee room, and after being marshalled in the corridor, proceeded to the great hall in the following order:—

- Provincial Grand Pursuivant.
- Provincial Grand Organist.
- Provincial Past Grand Sword Bearers.
- Provincial Past Grand Assistant Director of Ceremonies.
- Provincial Past Grand Director of Ceremonies.
- Provincial Past Grand Superintendent of Works.
- Provincial Past Grand Deacons.
- Provincial Past Grand Deacons.

Steward.	{	The Cornucopia with	} P.G. Steward.
		corn, borne by the Master of a Lodge. Two ewers
} with wine and oil, borne	}	by Masters of Lodges.	} Architect with Plans.
		Architect with Plans.
- Provincial Grand Superintendent of Works.
- Vice-Chairman and Secretary of the Masonic Hall Committee.
- The Trustees of the Masonic Hall.
- Past Provincial Grand Registrar.
- Provincial Grand Secretary.
- Provincial Grand Registrar carrying the Seal.
- Provincial Grand Treasurer.
- Past Provincial Grand Chaplains.

Past Provincial Grand Chaplains.
 Provincial Grand Masters.
 Visitors of distinction.
 The Column of the Provincial J. G. W., borne
 by the Master of a Lodge.
 The Provincial Junior Grand Warden, with Plumb Rule.
 The Column of the Provincial S. G. W., borne
 by the Master of a Lodge.
 The Provincial Senior Grand Warden, with Seal.
 Provincial Junior Grand Deacon.
 Provincial } The Provincial Grand } Provincial Grand } Chaplain bearing the Sa- } Grand
 Steward. } cred Law on a cushion. } Steward.
 The Deputy Provincial Grand Master with the Square.
 The Provincial Grand Sword Bearer.
 Provincial } The Provincial Grand } Provincial Grand } Master. } Grand Steward. } } Steward.
 Provincial Senior Grand Deacon.
 The Standard of the Provincial Grand Master, borne by the Master of a Lodge.
 Provincial Grand Tyler.

The R.W.P.G.M. having taken his seat on the throne, opened the P.G. Lodge in due form. The P.G.M. then proceeded to dedicate the hall, the ceremony being commenced by an appropriate prayer, offered by the Rev. J. F. Goffin, P.G. Chaplain. After the P.G.S. of W. had handed to the P.G.M. the general plan of the buildings,

The Chairman of the Masonic Hall (Bro. H. S. Alpass, P. G. Sec.) gave an explanatory statement in reference to the progress and completion of the building. He said that in 1856, when there was not half the number of Masons in Liverpool that there was now, great inconvenience was felt by the brethren from being compelled to meet at other places than those intended for masonry, which led to considerable abuse. When the committee of that day, however, took into consideration the best position for a Masonic Hall, they were met with great difficulties; and when they fixed upon the old building in Hope-street it was said that it was too far out of town, and that masons would not go that distance. Liverpool had spread so much since that time, however, that the building was now nearly in the centre of the town, and therefore no more convenient site could possibly have been found. The small building was then adopted for Masonic purposes, but ultimately it was found to be too limited, owing to the great increase of the masonic body in this part of the province, the hall being occupied every night in the year for some masonic purposes. In consequence of the limited space the progress of masonry was all but stopped. In these circumstances the masonic committee took the matter in hand; and when he (Bro. Alpass) told the brethren that within 18 months the Masonic brethren in Liverpool had raised about £3,000, that would at once show they had entered upon and carried out the building in an earnest manner. They had also to thank Bro. R. Danson, the architect, for having erected a building which was exceedingly convenient, comfortable, and capacious. There was no doubt that the opening of that building would tend as much as anything to the progress of Masonry; and he (Bro. Alpass) trusted the labours of the committee would meet with the approbation of the R.W.P.G.M., who he asked to proceed with the dedication of the hall.

The following Anthem by Dr. Boyce, was then sung with fine effect by a special choir, including Bros. T. J. Hughes, D. Saunders, J. Busfield Evans, H. C. Harrison, C. Haswell, D. Jones, H. Ashmore, &c., Bro. J. Skeaf, P.G.O., presiding at the harmonium.

"I have surely built thee an house to dwell in: a settled place for thee to abide in for ever.

"But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven, and heaven of heavens, cannot contain thee: how much less this house that I have builded.

"Yet have thou respect unto the prayer of thy servant, O Lord my God.

"That thine eyes may be opened towards this house night and day, even towards the place of which thou hast said, My Name shall be there.

"And hearken thou to the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, when they shall pray towards this place: and hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place; and when thou hearest, forgive.

"If there be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, whatsoever plague, whatsoever sickness, there be:

"What prayer and supplication soever be made by any man, or by all thy people Israel, which shall know every man the plague of his own heart, and spread forth his hands towards this house.

"Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive.

"And the Lord said to Solomon, I have heard thy prayer: I have hallowed this house which thou has built, to put my name there for ever: and mine eyes and my heart shall be there perpetually.

"Amen. Hallelujah."

The Provincial Grand Master having descended from his throne, the following procession was formed:—

The Provincial Grand Chaplain, carrying on a cushion the Volume of the Sacred Law, with the Square and Compasses.

The Provincial Junior Grand Warden, carrying the Cornucopia with Corn.

The Provincial Senior Grand Warden, carrying the Ewer with Wine.

The Deputy Provincial Grand Master, carrying the Ewer with Oil.

The Provincial Grand Sword-bearer.

The Provincial Grand Master.

After again taking his place on the throne, the R.W.P.G.M. declared the building "dedicated to pure ancient masonry," and Bro. G. la Perelle, P.G.D.C., proclaimed it accordingly. After an eloquent Masonic oration by Bro. the Rev. J. F. Goggin, P.G.C., the interesting ceremony closed with Bro. Skeaf's anthem, "Hail, universal Lord."

ANNUAL BUSINESS.

The annual business of Grand Lodge was then proceeded with. The roll of the lodges in the division having been called, it was found that all the lodges were largely represented except 1,335 and 1398, both of which the P.G. Secretary reported had neglected to send their minute books for examination in accordance with the orders of the P.G.M. The minutes of the last Provincial Grand Lodge held at St. Helen's were then read. It appeared that all the lodges were represented upon that occasion except the Victoria Lodge, which was fined; but it was now explained that the notice of grand lodge meeting was not received until after the meeting, and, this explanation being deemed satisfactory, the fine was remitted.

The minutes were confirmed.

In reply to Bro. Turner, the P.G. Sec. explained that the by-laws were in the room, and that copies had been furnished to all the brethren who had applied for them.

Bro. T. Armstrong, P.G. Treas., read a summary of the annual statement of accounts for the past year, from which it appeared that the receipts for the educational fund during the year amounted to £205 15s.; from Provincial Grand Lodge fees, including balance from last year, £529 6s. 6d.; from the fund of Benevolence, including balance, £1273 18s. 1d.; total, £2008 19s. 7d. After disbursement of £523 4s. 2d., there was a net balance of £1485 15s. 5d. It appeared that up to the year 1872, £1040 7s. had been paid to the West Lancashire Educational Fund; in 1873, £176 1s.; and during the past year £205 15s.

After the accounts had been passed,

Bro. Sherlock P.P.G.S.W., said he had great pleasure in proposing the re-election of Bro. Armstrong, upon whom he passed a very high eulogium for the able and efficient manner in which he had discharged the duties of Treasurer. He thought an apprenticeship was essential for the office, and he was sure they ought unanimously to re-elect Bro. Armstrong, and not turn him out of his office before he had completed his apprenticeship.

Bro. Lambert seconded the nomination.

The nomination of Bro. Armstrong was then put to the vote and unanimously agreed to, the P.G.M. remarking that it was hardly necessary for him to say how thoroughly he concurred in all that had been said in praise of Bro. Armstrong, and how happy he was that that brother had been unanimously re-elected. (Applause.)

The R.W.P.G.M. then proceeded to appoint and invest the following as his officers for the ensuing year:—

Bros. A. Stoddart, Lodge 32, P.S.G.W.; C. Remington, 995, P.J.G.W.; the Rev.—Morgan, 1398, P.G.C.; Reuben Pearson, P.G. Reg.; Robert Wilson, 241, P.S.G.D.; J. W. Turley, 1035, P.J.G.D.; G. Owen, 786, P.G. Sup. of Works; J. R. Goepel, 823, P.G.D.C.; Leather, P.G.A.D.C.; Wilson Barker, P.G. Par.; Lowe, P.G.S.B.; J. Skeaf, P.G.O.; Mossop, Bagot, S. Johnson, Dr. J. K. Smith, J. Lunt, and Bowden, P.G. Stewards; P. Ball, P.G. Tyler; W. H. Ball, P.G.A. Tyler.

Applications for relief were then taken up, and the sum of £45 was voted to deserving widows and several brethren who were in difficulties.

Bro. J. Skeaf, P.G.O. moved that the sum of £40 from the funds of the P.G. Lodge be appropriated towards the purchase of a suitable piano-forte for the new Masonic Hall. This was seconded by Bro. G. Leighton, W.M., 1325, and carried unanimously, a hope being expressed by the P.G.M. that the lodges meeting in the hall would also contribute to the fund, so that a proper instrument might be got.

On the motion of Bro. Alpass, P.G. Sec., seconded by Bro. Armstrong, P.G. Treas., the following by-law was adopted:—"That the annual return made to the P.G. Lodge by every lodge shall be sent to the P.G. Sec. on or before the first day of August in every year, made up to the 30th of June preceding."

Bro. R. Wylie, P.P.G.S.D., moved the repeal of by-law No. 3, and the substitution of the following:—"For every brother initiated, a fee of 5s.; and for every brother joining a lodge, a fee of 1s. be paid to the Provincial Grand Treasurer, who shall pay the same to the West Lancashire Masonic Educational Institution in the name of the Provincial Grand Lodge."—The motion was seconded by Bro. J. K. Smith, P. G. S. Bro. Mawdsley moved, as an amendment, that the money paid to the educational institution should be in the name of the contributing lodge, instead of the Provincial Grand Lodge. This amendment was seconded by Bro. Chudley, W.M., 241, and, after considerable discussion, was declared to be carried.

Bro. R. Wylie moved, Bro. Broadbridge seconded, and the proposition was unanimously carried, that the sum of £20 be voted to the Hamer benevolent fund.—On the motion of Bro. Broadbridge, seconded by Bro. Ibbis, it was unanimously agreed that £50 be voted to the Mott memorial fund.—The sum of £30 was also voted for the purpose of securing the admission of a candidate from that province to the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys.—Bro. Pierpoint moved that in order to enable the P.G. Sec. to secure an assistant and to repay him for expenses, the sum of £100 per annum be paid to him from the funds of the Provincial Grand Lodge, the payment to date from the beginning of 1874. This was seconded by Bro. C. H. Hill, and supported by Bros. W. Doyle, Mawdsley, &c., and carried unanimously.

Bro. R. Wylie moved, and Bro. Goepel, P.G.D.C., seconded, that the sum of 100 guineas be voted from the funds of the Provincial Grand Lodge to the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys for the purpose of constituting the P.G.M. a Vice-patron of that institution.—The vote, which was carried, was acknowledged by Bro. F. Binckes, Secretary to the institution.

The P.G. Sec. reported that during the year three new lodges had been consecrated, the existing lodges were increasing the number of their members, and nineteen dispensations had been granted. Except in the two cases to which he had already referred, the minute books had been examined, and generally speaking, they were kept in a satisfactory manner.

The report of the Hamer Benevolent fund was taken as read, and the committee and other officers were reappointed.

The annual court of Governors of the West Lancashire Masonic Educational Institution was held, the minutes being read by Bro. R. Town, hon. sec. The business was of a routine character, and the former committee was reappointed.

From the report of the institution it appeared that 44 children were on the foundation during the year 1873, for whom £266 15s. 5d. is paid. The investments in dock bonds and mortgages, together with the cash in bank and hand, now amounted to £10,845 14s. 9d. The Provincial Grand Lodge and Craft Lodge were afterwards closed.

THE BANQUET.

Soon after the close of the interesting business the brethren met together at a grand banquet at the Adelphi Hotel. Bro. the Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, R.W.P.G.M., presided, and there were upwards of 200 brethren present, including Bro. the Hon. F. Stanley, W.D.P.G.M., Bro. Sir James Ramsden, P.G.S.W., Bro. C. Banister, Past G.S.B. of G., Bro. F. Binckes, Past G.S., Bro. H. Cook, P.G. Reg., C. and W., and nearly all the leading officers of P. G. Lodge. Bro. Ludlow, courteous and efficient manager, provided an excellent dinner, which was capitally served. Musical arrangements were under the direction of Bro. Skeaf, P.G.O., who was assisted by S. C. Haswell, J. Basfield, T. Evans, H. C. Trison, T. J. Hughes, and D. Saunders. A desert had been placed on the table, and the Pro. Grand Master, in proposing the health of her Majesty the Queen, spoke of her as the first lady of the land, who, though knowing nothing of their mysteries yet, appreciated their works of charity, and patronised them. (Applause.)

In proposing the next toast, "Bro. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales," the P.G.M. was sure the toast would be received with acclamation. (Applause.) He hoped they would soon be able to hail His Royal Highness their Most Worshipful Grand Master. His Royal Highness had proved himself a true Mason, and had shown that he had the cause of the Craft at heart. He begged to couple with the toast "Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales" and the rest of the Royal Family," indeed amongst whom there was another member of the Craft, the Duke of Connaught, who had lately proved himself a good mason, and shown he intended to follow in the footsteps of his brother.

The P.G.M. in proposing the next toast, the Earl of Carnarvon M.W.D.G.M., and other officers of the Grand Lodge, said he gave the toast with mingled feelings, because he gave them the toast of the D.G.M., having no Grand Master for his own district. He dare say a great many of you would remember that he last year partly intended to bring the Grand Master to Liverpool.

He had then every hope of doing so, but, in fact, the Marquis of Ripon had not promised to come, and it was not until the summer that it was made known he could not be able to come. (Applause.) As the last man to question the reason for the Pro. Grand Master's taking such a course, and none had the right to say one word about the Pro. Grand Master's decision. (Hear, hear.) They look back to the past, in which they only regard his lordship as one of the Grand Masters who ever ruled over the district.

(Hear, hear.) They were sorry that the Pro. Grand Master had left them, and perhaps he would add, he was sorry for the cause. (Loud applause.) Their Deputy-Grand Master, Lord Skelmersdale, had expected up to the last moment to be with them, but he had been detained by a medical meeting in his own district. He intended to visit them, however, on the next opportunity. (Applause.) Bro. C. Banister, P.G.S.W., of England, responded to the toast in the following terms.

Sir James Ramsden, P.P.G.S.W., next proposed "The Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, R.W.P.G.M., West Lancashire," passing a high eulogium on his lordship.

The P.G.M., in responding, expressed the great pleasure it had given him to dedicate the hall that day, and congratulated the brethren upon the extraordinary success which had attended the whole of the day's proceedings. The brethren had erected a splendid hall, but he had no doubt that some twenty years hence the brethren would require to erect a real temple to suit the requirements of the great increase in the order. His lordship afterwards referred to some remarks which he had made in Grand Lodge with reference to the publication of certain Masonic reports in the press, and explained that he did not for one moment allude to the Freemason which was the recognised organ of the craft, and had permission to publish all masonic matters.

Bro. Banister proposed the "D.P.G.M. and P.G. Officers past and present," which was responded to by Bro. the Hon. F. Stanley, D.P.G.M. The "P.G. Masters of adjoining provinces" was acknowledged by Bro. Cook, P.P.G. Reg. Cumb. and West; the "Masonic Hall Committee," proposed by W. T. Wylie, P.P.G. Reg., by Bro. R. Wilson, P.G.S.D.; and the "W.M.'s of the Lodges in the Province" by Bro. Chudley, W.M., 241. Bro. Alpass, P.G. Sec., gave the "West Lancashire Masonic Educational Institution," which was acknowledged by Bro. R. Wilson, Hon. Treas. The "Ladies," proposed by Bro. Goeppel, P.G.D.C., and acknowledged by Bro. Chudley, and "All Poor and Distressed Freemasons," given by Bro. the Hon. F. Stanley, were the remaining toasts.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

The quarterly meeting of subscribers to the Boys' School was held on Monday last, in the Board-room, Freemasons' Hall. There was a large attendance of brethren. Bro. John Symonds took the chair. Among the brethren present were Bros. S. Rawson, John Boyd, A. H. Tattershall, Major J. Creaton, James Robins, James Brett, W. Hale, G. Bolton, J. Bulmer, W. C. Moutrie, Thos. W. White, H. C. Burt, C. Lacey, Jas. Snizell, John Marson, F. Adlard, J. Wordsworth, W. Roebuck, E. Clarke, James Terry, Griffiths Smith, H. Massey, Freemason H. W. Hensworth, Henry Smith, Rev. C. J. Martyn, W. Lane, Richard Spencer, W. H. Green, James Price, J. L. Hime, J. A. Birch, R. B. Wilson, Sam. May, Jas. Stevens, G. Broadbridge, J. P. Platt, Geo. Morris, and F. Binckes (Secretary). There was no business but the confirmation of former minutes before the meeting, with the exception of the motion given in our last week's impression, and this having been carried, the brethren proceeded to elect 13 boys out of a list of 45 candidates for admission to the school. At the declaration of the poll the following were found to have been elected:

- 1 Robinson, Alfred De Lacey - 1717
- 2 Stephenson, Alfred H. - 1420
- 3 Watson, William George - 1415
- 4 Hamilton, George C. - 1408
- 5 Bearey, Albert E. - 1404
- 6 Routledge, Alfred - 1391
- 7 Barrett, Charles D. - 1361
- 8 Wayne, Samuel S. - 1333
- 9 Catt, Walter William - 1323
- 10 Dunaway, F. W. H. P. - 1297
- 11 Onion, Walter - 1232
- 12 Carter, Henry L. - 1201
- 13 Howard, Percy Edward - 1195

Votes of thanks to the scrutineers, and to the chairman of the day, concluded the proceedings.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

The Quarterly Court of the Subscribers to the Freemasons' Girls' School was held on Saturday last at the Freemasons' Hall. Bro. Major John Creaton, Vice patron, presided, and there was a large attendance of brethren. Among them we noticed Bros. Edward Cove, Geo. Wyatt, James Brett, John Symonds, S. Rawson, F. Tyerman,

John Boyd, H. Massey (Freemason), W. Hale, A. H. Tattershall, W. Lane, Griffiths Smith, W. Collard Montrie, W. Stephens, F. Adlard, James Stevens, Walter Hopekirk, James Terry, H. Muggeridge, and R. Wentworth Little, Secretary. After the reading and confirmation of the minutes of various meetings since the last quarterly court, Bro. John Symonds, Vice-patron, in the absence of Bro. Henry Browse, Vice-patron, moved that fifteen guineas be presented to Miss Kernot, who had discharged the duties of matron to the school during the illness of Miss Jarwood. He alluded to the great services rendered by Miss Kernot and to the exemplary way in which she had discharged her duties; also when having been a pupil in the school, and having received the medal whilst a pupil. Major Creaton in seconding the motion, also said he had long observed the young lady's conduct, which had always met with the approbation of himself and other members of the House Committee. The motion was carried unanimously, and the brethren then proceeded to elect 15 girls out of an approved list of 29 candidates. At the close of the poll, the following were declared duly elected:—

- 1 Ashby, Fanny - 1224
- 2 Sargent, Florence Rose - 1006
- 3 Osborne, Fanny Gertrude - 979
- 4 Read, Beatrice Eva - 887
- 5 Sharp, Colina - 789
- 6 Newman, Beatrice Abigail F. - 783
- 7 Treleven, Emily Snowden - 778
- 8 Pike, Alice Georgiana - 775
- 9 Redford, Florence May - 761
- 10 Forster, Florence Louisa - 713
- 11 Allison, Margaret Whitworth - 706
- 12 Thomson, Adela Eularia - 688
- 13 Genever, Ada Louisa - 631
- 14 Cartwright, Harriet - 626
- 15 Bursay, Harriet Maude - 614

Votes of thanks to the scrutineers and chairman concluded the proceedings.

ROYAL MASONIC BENEVOLENT INSTITUTION.

The monthly meeting of the committee of subscribers to the Aged Freemasons' Institution, was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Freemasons' Hall. Major J. Creaton presided. The meeting was very fully attended, and among the brethren present were Benj. Head, Thos. W. White, C. A. Cottebrune, W. Hale, R. Spencer, Griffiths Smith, James Brett, H. M. Levy, W. Stephens, Joseph Smith, J. A. Farnfield, J. Newton, John Stevens, Thomas Cubitt, Wm. Hilton, H. Massey (Freemason), and James Terry, (Secretary).

After the formalities of reading and confirming the minutes, three candidates were placed on the list for next election; and the petition of the widow of a late annuitant to be continued as an annuitant to the extent of half the amount annually granted to the deceased was allowed. The brethren then discussed the question of a trusteeship, which they ultimately ordered to stand over for a month, and a vote of thanks to the chairman brought the proceedings to a close.

RED CROSS OF CONSTANTINE.

LIVERPOOL. — Skelmersdale Conclave (77).— An assembly of the Knights of this conclave (77) was held at the Masonic Hall, Hope Street, Liverpool, on Monday, the 5th instant, Em. Sir Knight J. T. Callow, M.P.S., occupied the throne, the officers present being Sir Knights W. Cottrell, V.E.; H. Jackson, S.G.; J. J. Rose, H.P.; T. Ashmore, P.S., Treasurer; J. Skeaf, Rec.; M. Corbin, Prefect; W. Quayle, S.B.; R. H. Evans, O.; C. Leighton, Organist; W. H. Cooper, H.; H. Morris, J.P.; P. Ball, S.; and H. Nelson, P.S. Amongst the other Knights of the Order present were Ill. Sir Knight G. Turner, Sir Knight J. Wood, F. Cooper, W. P. Jennings, W. Shortis, T. F. Cooper, J. Dale, A. C. Doe, H. Jones, W. Fletcher, C. Munro, J. Dawson, E. B. Ingham, H. Burrows, J. M. Atkinson, R. W. Evans, W. S. Matthews, J. Lolly, J. S. Hobbs, J. Capell, H. Worthington, J. Gordon, J. C. McGuire, &c., with Sir Knight H. Hayner, Rec. 97, as a visitor. It was moved by Sir Knight H. Jackson, S.G., that the Intendant-General be asked to sanction the formation of a sanctuary of the Knight of the Holy Sepulchre in connection with this conclave. The motion was carried, and a committee was appointed to complete the arrangements. Bro. W. Smethurst, lodge 1393; Bro. Hanney, 823; and Bro. C. D. Turton, 823, were duly installed Knights of the Order. The members of the conclave subsequently retired to the refectory for the banquet, and a very pleasant evening was greatly enlivened by the excellent songs of Sir Knights Evans, Jackson, Ashmore, Skeaf, and Dawson, who gave 152 verses of "The Gallant Duke of York."

MASONIC MEETINGS IN SCOTLAND.

GLASGOW.—Thistle and Rose Lodge (73).—This lodge held its usual meeting on Tuesday, October 6th, at 170, Buchanan-street; G. Weston, R.W.M., in the chair. Also present were G. M'Donald, I.P.M.; Thomas Stewart, D.M.; A. M'Leod, S.W.; W. Macgregor, J.W.; R. Richards, Sec.; and W. Walton, T. On the dais was Bro. Black, R.W.M., 362. The lodge having been opened in the first degree, Bro. M'Donald, P.M., initiated a candidate into our mysteries. The lodge was then raised, and Bro. Stewart, D.M., passed Bro. M'Kingless to the Fellow Craft Degree. After the transaction of some private business, the lodge was closed. It was then announced that Bro. the Rev. R. Thompson, C. of 178, had arrived with two English brethren who had been attending an evening meeting at the Social Science Congress, and were desirous of seeing the working of a Scotch lodge. Bro. Weston and his officer at once resolved to re-open in order to gratify this wish, when Bro. Thompson, with R. Botley, D.P.G.M., of Berks and Bucks, and Nore, 1444, were introduced and led to the dais. The R.W.M. expressed the pleasure it gave to the lodge at all times to welcome English brethren, and especially these brethren, who had come so many miles to attend the Social Science Congress. Rev. Bro. Thompson thanked the lodge. Bro. Botley addressed them at some length on the general advantages of Masonry, and thanked them for re-opening the lodge. Bro. Nore expressed his pleasure at their mode of imparting light materially as well as morally. Bro. G. W. Wheeler, on behalf of the members of 73, was glad to think they had been able to show so slight a courtesy to brethren who had come to Glasgow to further views so strictly in accordance with Masonry as those of the Social Science Congress, whose main object was brotherly love, and personally he was highly pleased, as he had known Bro. Botley in Newry as one of the most highly respected tradesmen, and this, too, when he was only an humble Apprentice Mason, though now a Provincial Grand Master. He trusted that if they heard Scotch Masonry reviled, as it sometimes was across the Border, that they, at any rate, would be able to speak of it in a different tone. The R.W.M. handed the gavel to the D.P.G.M. to close the lodge in the English style, and then, at his request, resumed it, and closed in the Scotch way, which is much longer. The visitors appeared highly pleased at what they had seen.

Lodge Caledonian Railway (354) met on Wednesday, the 7th, J. Shaw, R.W.M.; A. Arraik Smith, P.M.; T. Stafford, S.W.; W. Joinanch, J.W.; W. R. Dunn, Sec.; Bro. Winton, R.W.M., 333; with most of his office-bearers, were present. He informed the R.W.M. that, owing to an error in the "Local Calendar," that night had been set down for their meeting, and, as they had two candidates, he would ask the Master if he would kindly initiate for him. Bro. Shaw said he should be highly pleased to do so, and proceeded in first rate style to initiate five candidates for themselves and two for Lodge St. George, 333. He then raised the lodge, and passed three brethren for themselves and one for 333 to the Fellow Craft Degree. He then resigned the chair to Bro. A. Arrick Smith, P.M., and Bro. Wheeler took that of S.W., when one brother for 333 and one for 354 were raised to the sublime degree, all the work being well performed. Bro. Shaw resumed the chair, and Bro. Winton, R.W.M., 333, thanked them, as did Bro. M'Farlane, S.M., for their kindness in working the three degrees for them. The lodge was then closed.

Lodge Union (332) met at 170, Buchanan-street, Bro. M'Nair, R.W.M., in the chair. Also present was Bro. J. Fash, D.M. There was a full attendance of members, and the Master, in a very careful manner, raised one brother to the sublime degree. The lodge afterwards made arrangements for their forthcoming festival.

St. Vincent (553).—This young lodge, whose consecration we recorded on Sept. 12th, bids fair, through the high local standing of its officers, to take a high place amongst Glasgow lodges. On Thursday, October 8th, the chair was taken at 7 p.m. by Bro. R. M'Dougal, R.W.M., G. Stark, D.M., and G. M'Naught, R.W.M., of 275, acting as S.W. Also present were Bros. Hunter, J.W.; T. Halley, Sec.; T. Best, S.D.; and R. Stevens, J.D. The lodge, having been duly opened, was raised to the second degree, when the R.W.M. requested Bro. G. W. Wheeler to work that as well as the third degree. One brother was then introduced and passed to the degree of Fellow Craft. The lodge was then raised, and the following thirteen Fellow Crafts were duly raised to the sublime degree of Master Masons—namely, Bro. John M'Dougal (brother of the R.W.M.), G. Bignall, D. Doig, W. Barclay, A. Carbell, W. M'Arthur, W. Graham, D. Knight, W. Mackie, R. Blyth, A. Campbell, R. Gourlay, and W. Morrison. There were a number of visitors present to witness and assist in the raising of so many Master Masons at once. The R.W.M., having reduced the lodge to the Apprentice Degree, Bro. G. Stark, D.M., in first rate style, initiated three gentlemen into the Order, and the lodge was closed after a vote of thanks to Bros. Wheeler and M'Naught for their assistance on this and former occasions. It was stated that there were still ten candidates on whose applications the lodge had voted, and weekly meetings would be held till they had all got their degrees. This proves that the lodge was a necessity at this part of the city.

GLASGOW.—Royal Arch Chapter 119, Roslyn—Held their installation meeting on Monday, October 6th, in St. Clair Hall, Comp. G. Thallon, Z., presiding. There was a numerous attendance of visitors, among whom we noticed Comps. Shield, of Manhun Chapter, New York; E. Humphris, Mass.; J. Evans, "Keystone" Chapter, Shanghai; J. Miller, Z. 50; J. Duthie, Z. 67; J. D. Humphries, Z.; G. Herron, H.; D. B. Flemming, J.; J. M. Oliver, S.E.; W. Thomas, T.; W. Robinson, 1st S. of 69; G. W. Wheeler, Z. 73; G. Macdonald, P.Z. 73, P.G.S.B.; and J. Balfour, P.Z. 73, P.G., 1st S.; Comp. Humphries on behalf of 69 asked to have a candidate exalted. This request was at once granted, and a Lodge of Mark Masters was opened, when, at the request of the Master, Bro. Wheeler conferred that degree on Bro. J. Glass Wrench; Bro. Balfour acting as S.D. A Lodge of Excellent Masters was then opened, and subsequently a Chapter, when Comp. Duthie conferred those degrees, Comp. Wheeler acting as 1st S. The elected officers of Chapter 119 were then presented by Comps. Wheeler and Malins to Comp. Duthie, Z. 67, who proceeded to install them as follows: G. Thallon, Z.; Wm. J. Hogg, H.; D. R. Gray, J.; George Fraser, S.E.; J. Black, R.W.M., St. Clair, 362, N.; Rob. Ledbitter, T.; J. Stevenson, 1st S.; J. Mathewson, 2nd; A. Rutherford, 3rd; and J. McMillan, Janitor. This concluded a lengthy evening's work. Comp. Humphries thanked the Chapter for allowing their candidates to be exalted, and Comp. Thallon thanked all the Z. and P.Z. for attending to assist in the ceremonies, and Comp. Duthie for acting as installing Z.

Chapter Glasgow, (50) met on Thursday, October 8th, when a lodge of Mark Masters was opened by the Z. Comps. J. Miller; McBell, S.W.; J. F. Mitchell, J.W.; J. Louttit, Secretary, when an English Arch Mason being desirous of joining, and not being in possession of the Mark and Excellent degrees, he was obligated and instructed in their secrets by Comp. Miller and his officers.

Chapter St. Rollox, (144) met on Friday, October 9th, J. Annard, Z., presiding, with R. Bell, P.Z. as J.; G. Wheeler, Z.B. as H.; J. McLeish, H. as 1st S.; J. Applead, 2nd S.; J. Booth, S.E.; Rowbottom, T. The S.E. was installed, and Comp. Wm. Gardiner, J., Chap. 50; Wm. Gunn, T., Chap. 122, and J. Gray, Chap. 87, were admitted as visiting members. Three Captains of the Vails were also appointed.

GLASGOW.—(Royal Order of Scotland)—The ancient order of H.R.M. of Kilwinning, and R.S.V.C.S., which dates its re-establishment from King Robert the Bruce, A.D. 1314, but whose meetings of late years have been like angel's visits, few and far between, held a special meeting in St. Mark's Hall on Monday, October 5th, 1874, in order to confer the degree on Bro. the Rev. D. Ace, D.D., Lodge 660, E.C., Provincial Grand Chaplain of Lincolnshire, who was in Glasgow, attending the Social Science Congress. Out of a number of aspirants for the honour of this ancient order, the following Glasgow brethren were selected to accompany him. But it is hoped that another convocation will shortly be held for the benefit of the other brethren who desire advancement to the privileges of this order. The present list comprised, Bros. A. McTaggart, D.M. 27, P.G.S.; George Sinclair, P.M., 27, P.G.B.T.; James Balfour, P.M., 332, P.G.D.C.; J. Fraser, P.M. 87, P.G.A.D.C.; and J. B. Hardie, P.G. Tyler, appointed as Sentinel in the place of the late James Pollock. The ceremonies were very ably performed by Bro. F. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M., of Glasgow, the P.G.M. of the Order, assisted by J. D. Porteous, D.P.G.M., acting as P.G.S.W., and Wm. Mather as P.G.J.W. The Convocation was then closed in due form.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT—Sores, wounds, ulcers, and other diseases affecting the skin, are capable of speedy amendment by this cooling and healing ointment, which is called forth the loudest praise from persons who had suffered for years from bad legs, abscesses, and chronic ulcers, after every hope of cure had long passed away. None but those who have experienced the soothing effect of this Ointment can form an idea of the comfort it bestows by restraining inflammation and allaying pain. Whenever Holloway's Ointment has been once used it has established its own worth, and has again been eagerly sought for as the easiest and safest remedy for all ulcerous complaints. In neuralgia, rheumatism and gout the same application, properly made, affords wonderful relief.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF
 R. ROBERT MICHAEL SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 294.]

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

PRICE With Supplement, 2d.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF
 THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D
 (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

IDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BEECH
 M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, lately held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro.
 Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was fully attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R.
 Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as of Brethren and Companions generally, in signing subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is well known in all Masonic circles that it is unnecessary to set forth at length his many and valuable services. For many years he was constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present
 Masons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he was qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys'
 School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and he is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one so actively engaged for the benefit of (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be sent to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House,
 Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs.
 Gougeon, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin,
 Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
 J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary.

MANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home.
 Unusual advantages. Thorough French and Spanish. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful situation of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, river Tulla. Terms, 60, 70, and 80gs. Sons of Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Dissented references with full prospectus on application to the Masons' Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, assel.

THE LINCOLNSHIRE Provincial Grand Lodge

OF
 Mark Master Masons.

THE INAUGURATION

Of this Lodge, and the

INSTALLATION

OF

W. BRO. JOHN SUTCLIFFE, of Stall-borough House, Grimsby,

AS THE

FIRST PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK
 MASTER FOR THIS COUNTY,

Will take place in the

REMIGIUS LODGE ROOMS, MASONIC
 HALL, LINCOLN,

On Thursday 29th October, 1874,

At One o'clock noon, precisely,

Under the presidency of the R. W. Bro. W.
 ROMAINE CALLENDER, M.P., F.S.A., and Prov.
 G.M.M. of the County Palatine of Lancaster;
 assisted by Members of the Grand Lodge of
 M.M.M. and Provincial Grand Officers of Lancashire.

Arrangements have been made for Special Trains and Return Tickets for the Brethren from
 the N., S., and W.

Banquet at 3.30 p.m. in the Concert Room of the Masonic Hall.

Brothers intending to be present will please furnish their names to Bro. Frederick Watson,
 P.M. 117 (Chairman of the Committee of Management), 31, Carholme-road, Lincoln; or Bro.
 Robert Gough, Grimsby.

Programme and full particulars on application.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to shipowners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports
 of Holland.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st
 Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.
 Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by

STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,
 Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printer 4
 5, Great Queen-street, Lincoln's-inn-fields.

THE PERFECTION OF CLOTHING,
 English Clothing is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. MOSES and SON'S as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes,
 and complete outfits for all climates.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11
 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,

Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
 New Oxford-street,
 Tottenham-Court-road,
 And Bradford, Yorkshire.

M O U R N I N G

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand
 a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the article required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,

Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
 New Oxford-street,
 Tottenham-court-road,
 and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted
 by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—
 Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
 JAMES EPPS & CO., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
 48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.
 Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS
 ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE
 PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly.
 In pen and ink ... 4/6 | Crest engraved on spoons (doz.) 5/0
 Heraldic colours ... 7/0 | " " seal or ring 7/0
 Engraved on copper ... 1/10 | " " watch or stick 1/0

BRO. JAMES B. SLY,
 9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/ also
 a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND
 ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK
 MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

DAYS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 Craft Masonry 651
 Ark Masonry 654
 ed Cross of Constantine 654
 Island 654
 ologus 655
 nic Tidings 655
 "Church Herald" 656
 ew Words of Caution 657
 bum Sat Sapient" 657

RESPONSES:—
 ders of the Temple and Malta 657
 the Pope a Freemason 658
 yal Visit to Plymouth 658
 etish Masonic Benevolent Fund 658
 e Coming Installation of the Grand Master 658
 yal Patronage 658
 masonry in New Zealand 659
 nic Notes and Queries 659
 al of Bro J. D. Moore 659
 e Meetings next week 659
 nsements 649 650 656 660 661 662 663 664

SUPPLEMENT (FOUR PAGES).
 ation of a Masonic Hall in Liverpool 665 eration of the Hemming Lodge 666
 d Lodge of Quebec 668

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

LODGE OF TRANQUILITY (No. 185).—A meeting of this lodge was held on Monday last, at the City Terminus Hotel, Cannon Street, under the presidency of the W.M., Bro. John Stable. The meeting was very fully attended, there being about sixty brethren present. Ceremonies of raising and initiation were only two which were on the paper of business and while for the former ceremony there but one candidate, for the latter there were six than five. Four of these last attended, Mr. Bush, the other candidate, was through obliged to deny himself the pleasure of entering the brotherhood on this occasion. James received at the hands of the W.M. initiation to the secrets of the Third Degree, was deeply impressed, as was also every brother in the lodge, with the masterly in which the ceremony was performed. It is delivered without hesitation and with all force which is essential to producing a proper impression on the candidate. In the same style also, with equally able assistance from the officers of the lodge, did the W.M. confer the secrets of the First Degree on Messrs. Isaac Magnin, Wm. Christie, John Barber, and Nicasio Emidgio Jorde, who by their readiness in answering questions and following the ritual, appeared to appreciate both the solemnity of the ceremony and the ability of the W.M. When this concluded the brethren proceeded to other business, and on the motion of Bro. Saul Solomon, P.M., seconded by Bro. Meyer Harris, offered their best thanks to Bro. Croker for having gratuitously renovated and restored the furniture of the lodge. The lodge unanimously agreed to present Bro. Croker with their thanks engrossed on vellum, and Bro. Croker, the W.M. had told him that he should on every occasion have the pleasure of saying something more to him on the subject, said he thanked the brethren very much for their kind words but what he had done was purely out of duty to the lodge. He thought the furniture of the lodge as if it wanted repairing, and he had thought if able to be of such small service, and the brethren would always find him ready to do anything that was in his power for the lodge. The Secretary of the lodge then read out of the subscriptions raised by the lodge during the year for the Masonic Institutions, which were £496 8s. 6d., and proposed that this list be entered in the minutes. Bro. Gluckstein seconded the motion, which was carried with cheers. Bro. Saul Solomon, P.M., said that the reason the lodge had been so successful in raising this amount was, that they were of Masonry, and had very insinuating manners. On account of his great popularity among the brethren they had come forward so readily to support him. The sum of three guineas was then voted to a late brother of the lodge, who was in deep distress and very sad and wretched; and the brethren, as the Jewish brethren, to their honour be it said, always do, resolved to afford him additional voluntary pecuniary assistance. The W.M. afterwards alluded to a subject which was notified on the summons, that he intended submitting his manuscript history of the lodge to the brethren, with a view to its being published, and said that the lodge had been in existence for eighty-seven years, and there were consequently many facts in connection with its history which would be interesting to the brethren to know. He could not say that the work would present any great literary merits, but still other brethren had given the history of their lodges, and he, following in their footsteps, had endeavoured to pourtray, as far as he could, the past acts of their predecessors, many of whom they must revere. He then called upon the Secretary to read a short preface to the work which had been written by Bro. W. J. Hughan. The Secretary did so, and the brethren were put in possession of Bro. Hughan's opinion on the subject, which appeared to be, that all such histories are extremely valuable, and that all W.M.'s of lodges should contribute their quota towards such a fund of information. Notice was subsequently given of a motion to defray the expenses of printing and publishing the work out of the lodge funds, and the proceeds of its sale to be contributed to the Benevolent Fund of the lodge. This concluded the business in the lodge, which was immediately closed, and the brethren sat down to an exceedingly nice banquet, presided over by their W.M. At the conclusion of this repast, which was thoroughly enjoyed, the W.M. announced that it was his intention to cut his speeches short, for two reasons, in the first that they had several brethren in the room possessing a very large amount of musical talent, and in the second place that it was not in his nature to make long speeches. This announcement was received with cheers, and the W.M. immediately added, that his first toast was that of "The Queen" coupled with "The Craft." This toast was drunk with the usual enthusiasm, and without loss of time the W.M. rose to give the second toast. He told the brethren that at present Masons were without a Grand Master, but it would be invidious on his part were he to say anything in connection with the subject of the resignation of their late Grand Master, the Marquis of Ripon. He would therefore merely submit to them the toast of "The M.W.G.M. Designate, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales," whose love for Freemasonry was such that it had endeared him to every member of the Craft. He was sure that if H.R.H. were spared to reign over Freemasons, as his predecessors the Dukes of Sussex and Kent, they would have occasion to rejoice in his accepting the office of Grand Master. This sentiment was greeted with cheers, and the W.M. gave the next, always popular, toast of "The Earl of Carnarvon, D.G.M., and the rest of the Grand Officers." His love also for Freemasons and the Craft generally was of such a nature that all Masons must be glad of, and which should exist between one Mason and another. When the letter was read from the Marquis of Ripon in Grand Lodge announcing his retirement, there was immediately read a note from the Earl of Carnarvon, saying he had taken steps to prevent the office of Grand Master being vacant, thereby he exemplified to the Masonic Order generally, that they had nothing to fear at his hands. The W.M. added that he would couple the name of Bro. S. M. Lazarus, Past Prov. S.G.W. for Wilts, with this toast. Bro. S. M. Lazarus, in responding, said that while he was deeply indebted to the W.M. for the very high compliment he had paid him in coupling his name with this toast, he must remind him that although he (Bro. Lazarus) was not one of the Grand Officers, but only a first cousin to them, being only a Past Provincial Grand Officer. Of the Earl of Carnarvon, he must say, he was certain he would do everything he could to further the interests of the Order, and the whole of the Grand Officers were doing the same. Meeting after meeting of the Masonic charities they were supporting them, and exerting themselves to the utmost to obtain the assistance of the lodges in the same course. In this they were successful, and it would be seen by looking at the lists that the Grand Officers were always foremost in bringing to the front the cause of the institutions. With regard to himself, he would only express his thanks to the W.M. and brethren for the very kind way in which he had been remembered. It was highly gratifying to him to come among the brethren, and in this Lodge of Tranquility especially so, as the large increase that had taken place in the number of its members, and in their quality, proved that the lodge was in the right track, and that with such Freemasons the Masonic Institutions would never ask in vain for assistance. The next toast, "The Initiates," was emphatically declared by the W.M. to be the toast of the evening, for without such accessions to the Order, they could do nothing. Bro. Lazarus had referred to the increase in the number of the lodge's members, and also to their high quality. He (the W.M.) hoped this course would continue, for an addition to their number would be nothing, unless the quality was also good. The brethren they had initiated that evening, he was proud to say, were of the best class, and by their known respectability and high social position, would reflect honour on the body which they had just joined. He trusted their future conduct would justify the brethren's confidence in them. Bro. Jauralde, who was the first to reply, said it was with some diffidence he undertook this task, but at the same time as the other brethren who had that evening gone with him through the ceremony of initiation had asked him to reply for them, he would give the first proof he had an opportunity of giving of displaying the brotherly feeling which had lately been inculcated. The flattering terms in which the W.M. had referred to the initiates filled him with greater diffidence than he should otherwise have felt. To him it was a great compliment that he should be allowed to join the Order, and enter such a distinguished lodge as the Lodge of Tranquility. For this he was extremely grateful, and not for himself only, but for his brother initiates also, he would say they would do their best to be good Masons. This would be proved by time. Loud calls being given for Bro. Christie, that brother also responded to the toast, and after expressing the same sentiments as Bro. Jauralde, said that respecting the compliment paid to the initiates by the W.M., in which he approved of the quality of the initiates, that if the W.M. did not grumble the initiates would not. He could only reiterate that he hoped the whole of the initiates would in a short time be as highly appreciated by their brethren in the lodge as the W.M. himself was. (Cheers.) The W.M. next gave "The Visitors," a body of brethren they were always glad to see, and who carried away from the lodge a recollection of pleasant associations. It was to them in a great measure they owed the high character the lodge bore. That evening they had the pleasure of having as a visitor a former member of the lodge, Bro. Martinis, who was raised to the 3rd degree at the same time as he (the W.M.) was raised. Since that time Bro. Martinis had traversed a considerable portion of the globe, but at his (the W.M.'s) solicitation he was among his old lodge that night. The lodge gave him a hearty welcome, and wished him prosperity and happiness on the journey he was resuming the following day. The next was Bro. Lazarus, whom they had had the pleasure of listening to; and the next, Bro. Massey, whom he would call on also to respond, because he should make this a double toast, by coupling with it "The Masonic Press," as he represented that excellent paper the Freemason. There was also Bro. Hill, the J.D. of 1228, Burdett Coutts Lodge, which associated itself with the objects of Freemasonry. Then there were Bro. Naperean, Bro. Frost, and Bro. Brodie, the last of whom was proposed by Bro. Gluckstein as a member of that lodge. Bro. Martinis, in acknowledging the toast, said that whereas the W.M. had, in his opening remarks that evening, given two reasons for making short speeches, there was yet another reason that the good cheer they had partaken of rendered it impossible to make a long speech. However, it would not prevent him uttering his true sentiments that he was proud to be a Mason, when he found he was so appreciated in the Lodge of Tranquility. Four years ago he left England for the south of America. The Lodge of Tranquility had then but few members in comparison with its present number, and he thought that this was in no small measure due to the W.M., who at present filled King Solomon's chair. True, the W.M. was raised at the same time as he, but the W.M. had far outstripped him, and had gone on, while he (Bro. Martinis) was in the background. Unfortunately, in St. Thomas's and in the Southern Republics, while Masonry was carried out with great fervour and zeal in the lodges and the rooms were beautifully decorated, there was no peace, no "Tranquility" there, and therefore he, though a visitor to those lodges, had never belonged to them. They had heard a good deal that evening of the publication of the W.M.'s history of the Lodge of Tranquility, and he trusted that although he was going away the next day he would receive a copy of it. He thought all the members of the lodge should take one; as a past member he certainly should; but if he might be allowed to make a suggestion, he would say that he trusted that when it was recording the past of the lodge it would not neglect also to record the prosperity the lodge enjoyed under its present W.M., Bro. Massey replied for the Freemason. The W.M. next gave "The Tranquility Benevolent Fund," and called upon Bro. Saul Solomon, its treasurer, to respond. Bro. Saul Solomon said that after the many times the brethren had been put to the annoyance of hearing him—"No, no!"—return thanks on behalf of the Benevolent Fund, and upon all of which occasions he had assured them that he had been pleased and delighted at having his name associated with that fund, he was sure they would believe him when he told them that he was again honoured and pleased by their recognition of him in that character. It was true he was one of the oldest members of this lodge. His brother and he were initiated together twenty-three or twenty-four years ago in this lodge, and he had been a member of it ever since. He trusted also, as long as at all events he had means, he should still belong to it, and when he had not, he hoped they would admit him as an honorary member. With regard to this fund it was initiated by some members of the lodge who had closed long since their career in this world, both as regarded Masonry and every other matter with which they were connected; but he was certain that in their last moments it was a matter of solace and happiness to them that they had been the means of causing relief to be given to very many of the brethren in distress who had been from time to time associated with them round the festive board of this lodge. He was equally certain that the members of this lodge also enjoyed the like feeling by the fact which was patent to them all, that this fund had for its object the relief of those members who had in times of joy and harmony, conviviality and good fellowship, been associated with them. He was pleased to inform them that at the present moment the fund amounted to upwards of £600, and although they had no immediate notice of its being at all diminished, they could not tell from day to day, or from hour to hour, when the next call would be made upon it. The last one was only a few short months ago, when they were happy to have it in their power to give £100 to a member once among them, and they hoped it would be the means of restoring him, if not to the same position in which he had formerly stood, at least to a position of prosperity, comfort and happiness,—as near that position as possible. The subscriptions to the fund were limited entirely to members of the lodge; brethren who honoured the lodge with their presence as visitors are not allowed to subscribe, inasmuch as they had no chance of being at any time recipients of its benefits. He would appeal to the brethren who had just joined the Order for their support. Had it not been for this fund, many members of the lodge would have shrunk into absolute indigence, and never have shown their faces to those whom they had known in their days of prosperity. He hoped in all sincerity, and he was sure he would be joined in that wish by every member present and every member of the Craft, that this lodge might continue to flourish and go on for ever; but he might safely say, that if this fund should fail, the Lodge of Tranquility would be extinguished with it. Therefore it was for every member of the lodge to keep the fund up, and he was sure that every member who had the interest of the lodge at heart would do so. The lodge and the Benevolent Fund ran together; that they might do so, he was sure was the paramount wish of every one of the members. The following subscriptions were then announced:—Bro. Bamberger, £1 1s.; Bro. Christie, (Initiate) £2 2s.; Bro. Magnin, (Initiate) £1 1s.; Bro. Jauralde, (Initiate) £1 1s. Bro. Moss, I.P.M. proposed "The Health of the W.M.," and referred to the excellent administration of the lodge's affairs, which had characterized his possession of the emblem of power. He was pleased to number the W.M. among his very intimate friends. He was likewise pleased to say that the W.M. had devoted much of his time to the lodge and to the Charities; but even this had not prevented him from giving a large share of his time to writing a history of the Lodge of Tranquility. It would give them all a vast amount of pleasure to render him the assistance he so richly deserved in the publication of that history. He (Bro. Moss) had not the power to dilate on the W.M.'s excellent qualities as they deserved, but he should call on the brethren to supply his deficiency by responding most cordially to his call. The W.M., after thanking the brethren, said there was an old adage, "What man has done man can do," and that he had endeavoured to follow. If he had succeeded at all to their wish he was indeed gratified. This course he intended pursuing, and he hoped still to obtain their hearty applause. He had the cause of the Tranquility Lodge at heart, otherwise he should not have acted as he had. He then proposed "The Health of the P.M.'s, Bros. Bloomfield, Holbrook, Harfeld, G. E. Moss, Nathan Moss, Saul Solomon, and Major Harris." Bro. Harris in a very few words replied; but Bro. Saul Solomon said that even the lateness of the hour would not prevent him saying that the P.M.'s should not let the opportunity go by of showing the members of the lodge their willingness to render assistance. He thought it right to say that he was pleased with the conduct of the W.M., and with the increase in the number of members of the lodge,—going on as it had it would be a crack lodge in the Craft, and with the help of the W.M. and his confederates, who sat around him in the shape of the officers of the lodge, they would by-and-by succeed, and this lodge would so ever retain the highest position on the roll of lodges. The W.M. next proposed the "Treasurer and Secretary," Bros. Peartree and Levy, who worked most harmoniously together, and without whom the lodge could not get on. In saying this he thought he combined everything which regarded the efficiency of the lodge. Bros. Peartree and Levy having responded, the W.M. gave "The Officers of the Lodge," and the S.W. having replied the brethren separated, after having spent a delightful evening.

BRADYFORD.—Lodge of Hope (No. 302).—The usual monthly meeting of this lodge was held on Monday, the 20th ult., at the Masonic Hall, Godwin-street. In the absence of the W.M. Bro. Manoh Rhodes, P.M., P. Prov. G.W. (the Mayor of Bradford) presided, surrounded by Bros. W. W. Barlow, I.P.M.; W. Ibbetson, P.M., P.P.G.D.; I. I. Shaepi, P.M., P.P.G.D.; Hen. Smith, P.M., Prov. G. Sec.; G. H. Taylor, P.M., P.P.G.D.; W. Bealand, P.M.; A. O. Mawson, P.M.; J. Ward, P.M. 1018; J. Aprons, P.M. 600; Thos. Riley, 601; C. Brook, P.M. 600; S. Barsdorf, P.M. 600; S. B. Walmesley, P.M. 974; John Ambler, P.M. 874; J. Bealand, P.M. 1018; J. Dewhirst, P.M. 1018; F. Rounfeldt, P.M. 1018; Geo. Alsing, Unanimity, 113; Ch. Fieldmann, Merchants, 241; and numerous other brethren, who spent a most pleasurable evening together, after the working in the lodge was over. We exceedingly regret that we are not able to give a full report of the proceedings which had been prepared, but which, unfortunately, had been lost. Suffice it to say that His Worship, although it is many years since he has had to practice the Ritual, performed his task in a masterly manner, and the entire proceedings afforded much instruction and gratification to the brethren, who mustered in great force.

LEICESTER.—John of Gaunt Lodge (No. 323).—The usual monthly meeting of this lodge took place on Thursday, Oct. 15th, at Freemasons' Hall, Leicester. The lodge was opened by the W.M., Bro. S. S. Partridge, P.G. Sec., and amongst those present were Bros. F. J. Baines, J. A. Garnac, B. Smith, W. Scuthorpe, J. Johnson, and G. Toller, jun., Thos. C. Stretton, P.M. 279; R. Waite, P.M. 1391; Thorpe, S.W. and many others, including amongst the visitors Bros. Davies, 141, Bullen, &c., &c. Bro. Nicholson was passed to the degree of F.C. and Bros. J. and W. Church, having been approved on the ballot, were severally initiated into Masonry. The ceremonies were performed by the W.M. in a manner which left nothing to be desired, showing that the honourable reputation of the lodge for good working will not suffer under his rule. After supper the enjoyment of the evening was much enhanced by Bro. Nicholson's beautiful playing on the flute. We should not omit to mention that the J.D. Bro. Taylor, (now in America), had sent home for the lodge a series of very interesting photographic views of the New Masonic Temple in Philadelphia, U.S., and for which donation the thanks of the lodge were accorded.

HAVANT.—Carnarvon Lodge (No. 804).—The regular monthly meeting of this lodge was held at the Black Dog Inn, on Monday, the 6th inst., when there was a good attendance of the brethren, the W.M., Bro. J. Harrison, being well supported by his officers, there being only one unavoidable absentee, the I.G. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed; and we are pleased to say that the unanimous consent of the brethren is secured for removing the lodge to the Town Hall, that we hope by the new year to be in possession of the above building, which is a spacious one, with ante-rooms attached, and will supply a want which has long been required by the members of this lodge. The ballot box was then sent round for the election of Mr. C. U. Burr, which proved unanimous; the work of the evening consisted of two initiations, one passing, and one raising, the three ceremonies being ably performed by the W.M. The notice of motion given at the last lodge, of voting two guineas annually to the widow of a deceased brother of this province, was then briefly alluded to, and proposed by Bro. G. A. Gale, P.M. P.P.J.G.W., and seconded by Bro. Weeks, P.M., Treas., P.P.G.S.B. It was put for confirmation and carried unanimously. The lodge was then closed, and the brethren adjourned to a banquet at the Dolphin Hotel, where Bro. Purnell, P.M., catered in his usual style.

MACDONALD LODGE (No. 1216).—The lodge met at the head-quarters of the First Surrey Rifles, at Camberwell, on the 5th inst., when there was a large attendance of members and visitors to support the new W.M., Bro. Messenger. Bro. G. Waterall occupied the S.W. chair in the unavoidable absence of Bro. Hassell. There were also present Bros. Newington, Bridges, the I.P.M.; and Past Masters James Stevens (W.M. 1426), and S. H. Wagstaff, M. S. Larham, J. W.; C. Hammond, S.D.; W. Carnell, J.D.; J. J. Curtis, Secretary; Joy, I.G.; W. Gray, Steward; E. Bowe, A. Youngman, N. J. Basnet, P. Clay, Day, T. Harper, G. Allen, H. Jarman, Bradley, H. Puckle, Dr. Eugene Cronin, J. Challoner, H. A. Ross, T. Wilkins, T. New, E. Clark, P.P.G.S.W., P.M., 1194, and John Oliver, 1328, J. H. Carter, 304, and Thomas, 1446. After the opening of the lodge and the confirmation of the minutes of the last meeting, a ballot was taken for the election of Bro. Herbert Puckle as re-joining member, which proving unanimous, that brother entered the lodge and was received with much cordiality. Bros. Fitzer and Jarman were severally raised to the third degree by the W.M. in an equally efficient manner as his predecessors. On ng down of the lodge to the first degree, Dr. J. Cronin was presented with a handsome Past Treasurer's jewel in recognition of his valuable services. Bro. James eos, P.M., in conjunction with Bro. Bridges, I.P.M., brought forward a most deserving for assistance, and the lodge at once voted sum of £5 from their benevolent fund in aid of. The particulars of this case are so sad their truth is so thoroughly vouched for by two brothers above-named that we do not late to express the hope that contributions from our sources may be forthcoming, and that the et sought to be obtained of placing the ow of a most deserving brother in a position ure a respectable living will be ensured. Harper presided at the harmonium throughout the evening, and the lodge was closed with musical service.

WALTHAM NEW TOWN (HERTS).—King old Lodge (No. 1337).—The installation ting of this lodge was held at the Britannia el, Waltham New Town, Herts, on Tuesday October 20th. The lodge met at two o'clock, when the chair was taken by the W.M., J. K. King, supported by his officers, amongst those present were Bro. Chas. Lacey, I.P.G.J.D., Herts, W.M. elect; Bro. E. West, I.P.P.G.S.D.; Bro. James Terry, P.G.D.C.; Secretary Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution; Bro. O. H. Wagner, W.M. 403, P.S.G.W. ts. Bro. Jas. Gaskell, P.M. 1076; Bro. gliston, W.M. 1421; Bro. Joseph Tydeman, M. 1437; Bro. J. J. Wilson, P.M., P.G.J.W. ex; Bro. E. Parker, P.M., P.P.G.P.; Bro. Parvy, P.M.; Bro. Williams, (Freemason) many others. After the confirmation of the notes of the preceding meeting and the sentation of the report of the Audit Committee, Bro. Charles Lacey was presented to West for installation, and, having taken the customary obligation, a board of Installed Masters was formed, and Bro. Lacey was installed in the chair of K.S., and, after the brethren been re-admitted to the lodge, he was promoted and saluted in the usual manner. The talling Master gave the customary address in an admirable manner, and performed the ceremony in such a way that it will not soon be forgotten. The Director of Ceremonies, Bro. ry, discharged his duties in such an able manner that gives great credit to that distinguished brother. The new W.M. then appointed officers as follows:—S.W., Bro. W. Gilbert; I., Bro. T. Reilly; Treasurer, Bro. Barwick; Secretary, Bro. Malcolm; S.D., Bro. J. Tydeman; J.D., Bro. W. Holmes; I.G., Bro. W.M. l; D.C., Bro. J. Terry; Organist, Bro. W. hett; Tyler, Bro. W. Steedman. A vote of thanks was then presented to Bro. West, who, in returning thanks said:—I thank you very much for the kind manner in which you have received me this day. It gives me a deal of pleasure to be with you to day. I trust the new W.M. will live many years to rule over this lodge. I think he has this day attained a very high honour, for it is one of the highest a man can aspire to, again I thank you very much. I have now a very important duty to perform, it is to decorate the breast of our I.P.M., Bro. Young. It has been most satisfactory to see the brethren who have attended this lodge, to see them in the very able manner in which our brother carried out his duties. In placing it on your breast, Bro. Young, I trust you will live long to wear it, Bro. Young rose to return thanks and said, "I feel very much obliged to you, my dear Brethren all, I feel myself incompetent to thank you sufficiently for the kind way in which you have presented me with this jewel. You have, I am sure, amply rewarded me for my humble efforts in acting as W.M. of this lodge. I can scarcely express my feelings when I see that all the brethren are unanimous in responding. It has always been my wish to benefit this lodge. Again I thank you very much for the great pleasure to inform you all that our W.M. West has kindly consented to act as Steward of the lodge coming year to the Aged Freemasons' Benevolent Institution. The W.M.: I have a jewel in my hands, which I hold with great pleasure, it is for Bro. Barnes, who is now in Canada. He was appointed the second W.M. of this lodge, but for causes unknown to me left for a foreign country. I entrust it in the keeping of Bro. Young, who will forward it on to Bro. Barnes. I am sure Bro. Barnes has all our good wishes, and he must feel gratified to know that he has our esteem after two years absence, and I trust he may wear it many years. Bro. Young responded for Bro. Barnes, promising to forward it on as soon as possible. The business being ended, the lodge was closed in due form, and the brethren afterwards re-assembled at the banqueting table, and sat down to a sumptuous repast, served by Bro. Sheldon. Bro. Lacey presided, supported by Bros. West, Major Young and others. On the removal of the cloth, the toasts were then proposed. Bro. Lacey in proposing the "Queen and the Craft," said the name of the Queen is always received by Masons with pleasure, and she has the good feeling of us all, therefore I ask you to drink "The Queen and the Craft." The toast was highly honoured. In proposing the health of "H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, P.M.W.G.M.," Bro. Lacey said: This toast is very gratifying to you all, as it is that of the Acting Grand Master H.R.H. His name is so frequently used in respect to his having accepted the office of G.M. It will be quite needless for me to repeat it to-night. It shows that he takes great interest in Masonry, and from the manner in which he has conducted the affairs of Masonry in the past bestows great credit on him, and has shown more than evidence that his heart and soul was in Masonry. I am sure he has now given us proof of it when he has come forward to fill the position he has now accepted, and I sincerely trust we shall see him installed in that high position. I therefore ask you to drink the health of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, P.M.W.G.M. The toast was enthusiastically received. Bro. Lacey: I next give you "The Earl of Carnarvon and the rest of the Grand Officers." The Earl of Carnarvon has taken an earnest interest in the progress of Masonry. As D.G.M. he has discharged his duties in a most satisfactory manner, and has won the good feeling of every good Mason. With regard to the rest of the Grand Officers it is unnecessary for me to speak of them, you being well aware they have discharged their duties to the extreme satisfaction of all. The toast was drunk with high honours. Bro. Lacey: I have now pleasure in proposing the P.G.M. of Herts. This toast is one which we are more immediately concerned with. I remember Bro. Halsey was once spoken of as the coming man, and I am sure he has distinguished himself, and his appointment as P.G.M. must have given great satisfaction, as he has discharged his duties ably. I therefore ask you to drink the health of our worthy Bro. Halsey, M.P., P.G.M. of Herts. The toast was drunk with the highest honours. Bro. Lacey: I must propose the Deputy P.G.M. and the rest of the P.G. Officers. It gives me very great pleasure to propose the toast. We have our excellent Bro. Terry here, and I feel delighted to know that we have one of the Grand Officers who is holding a minor office in the King Harold Lodge. Our Bro. Parker, who is also the P.P.G.P., we have, who has ably distinguished himself, and I congratulate you all on having our Bro. Wagner, P.G.S.W., amongst us. I therefore ask you to drink the health of the P.G.M. and the rest of the P.G. Officers, and I couple with that toast the name of Bros. Wagner, West, Terry, and Parker. The toast was highly honoured. Bro. Wagner: I thank you very much for the honour you have given the P.G. Officers. The P.G.M., I know, wished to be present, but business has prevented. I heard him say he wished to be at every installation throughout the Province. Again I thank you. Bro. Young: I suppose when you hear the sound from this part you know it is to propose the health of our new W.M. I trust you will all respond to the toast I propose. He is respected highly by us all, and I am sure you will all give him your hearty support. I therefore ask you to drink heartily the health of our new W.M. The toast was drunk amidst loud cheering. Bro. Lacey, in returning thanks said: I thank you all sincerely for the kind compliment you have just paid me. I feel it is my bounden duty to do all that I can for Masonry, and I will do all that I can for the benefit of this lodge. I feel greatly indebted for the kindness I have received from you. Again permit me to thank you sincerely. Bro. Lacey: I next propose "The Visitors." It is a great principle in Masonry to entertain those brethren who are visitors, and I trust you will give them all hearty good cheers. Bro. Wilson has had a number of honours conferred upon him, Dr. Mugliston I am quite pleased to see, and my Bro. Gaskell is well known to all of you. I therefore ask you to drink heartily the health of our distinguished brethren. The toast was enthusiastically drunk. Bro. Wilson in returning thanks spoke of the great hospitality that had been shown that day, and of the good working of the lodge, which working was everything that could be desired. Bro. Dr. Mugliston: I thank you all for the kind manner you have responded to the toast, I think when you visit a lodge you can learn something. I have to-day. The working of this day has been admirably done. Again I thank you. Bro. Gaskell thanked the brethren all in appropriate terms. Bro. Lacey: I now propose the "P.M.'s." This toast is one that comes home to us, for it is those brethren we have to look up to for the working of the lodge, and more especially to our I.P.M., Bro. Young. In him we have had one who has discharged his duties in a satisfactory manner, and has proved himself fully acquainted with the principles of the Order. Our Bro. West has distinguished himself this day. Bro. Parker has given great satisfaction in the lodge, and in proposing the health of these brethren I feel myself justified in mentioning Bro. Terry as a P.M. I therefore give you Bros. Terry, West, Levy and Parker. Bro. Young: As I.P.M., I tender you my sincere thanks. I thought at first my services were very imperfect, but the cordial manner in which my health has been drunk, makes me feel that my labour has been compensated. I thank you all. Bro. Parker: I can only reiterate the words first spoken by Bro. Young, and I am sorry our Bro. West has had to leave, for I think there is no P.M. more worthy than him. I thank you all sincerely. Bro. Terry on rising to respond to the toast said: I feel a great pleasure, and I feel proud to be invested with this blue collar, as Director of Ceremonies of the Harold Lodge, in the Province of Herts. After commenting on the progress of the lodge, Bro. Terry alluded to the charities, and felt proud to know that Bro. West would act as Steward to the Aged Freemasons' Benevolent Institution, and trusted the brethren would support Bro. West in the work he has undertaken to do. He said an act of self denial on your part will do much in the cause of charity. We have in our Boys' School 176 boys, who are educated so that they are able to undertake almost any situation. Then we have about 145 girls who are well cared for, and we have another asylum, were 220 men and women are receiving bounty in the decline of life. You must know that when it costs £26,000 per annum to support these unions, it is useless to go to sleep, but to bestir ourselves. You must make known the claims and merits of these Institutions. Do all that you can to contribute to this good work. After some other remarks on the merits of the lodge, he (Bro. Terry) again urged the brethren to do all they could for the charities. Bro. Peckham then gave "We meet upon the level and part upon the square." Bro. Lacey: I now propose "The Treasurer and Secretary." The toast being duly honoured, Bro. Malcolm thanked the W.M. and brethren all for their toast, and assured them it was a source of gratification to him to hold the office of Secretary. I delight to be a fellow worker with you, and I thank you on behalf of the Treasurer, who is absent. Again I thank you all, and trust I shall discharge my duties with satisfaction. Bro. Lacey: I now propose the "Officers of the Lodge." I am sure they will all discharge their duties faithfully and earnestly. The toast being honoured, the S.W., Bro. Gilbert, then thanked the brethren, trusting he would discharge his duties to the satisfaction of all, and felt determined to do his duty satisfactory to all connected with the lodge. The J.W., Bro. Reilly: I feel very grateful to the W.M. and brethren all for placing me in this place. I will do all in my power to support him and the officers as far as my humble duties will allow me. I thank you sincerely. The S.D., Bro. Tydeman, responded in suitable terms, promising to do the utmost to carry out the duties that were devolved upon him. The J.D., Bro. Holmes, thanked the brethren all in appropriate terms. The Organist next responded, followed by the I.G., Bro. Saul. A vote of thanks was then presented to Bro. Sheldon and his wife for the able manner in which everything for the comfort of the brethren had been carried out. The Tyler's toast brought the proceedings to a close, and the brethren separated after having spent a very happy evening.

KENNINGTON LODGE (No. 1381).—This young and prosperous lodge resumed its meetings, after the summer vacation, on the 6th inst., at the Surrey Club House, Kennington Oval. The lodge was opened by the W.M., Bro. Kock, assisted by Bro. Higgins, S.W.; Bro. Gardner, J.W.; Bro. Painter, S.D.; Bro. Hayward, J.D.; Bro. Reeves, I.G.; Bro. Stuart, Secretary; Bro. Page, P.M., Treasurer. Bro. Catchpole was raised to the sublime degree of M.M., and Messrs. Speedy, Poole, Cruse, W. Ellis, and W. A. Ellis duly initiated. The working was ably carried out by the W.M. A resolution was passed that a vote of condolence should be forwarded by the Secretary to the widow of Bro. Hales, a highly respected member of the lodge. The subject of forming a Benevolent Fund in connection with the lodge was brought forward by the W.M., but upon the motion of P.M. Mann the matter was postponed until next Monday. It was also unanimously agreed that a Lodge of Instruction should be held on Friday evenings, and that the Secretary should be directed to obtain permission for the same to be held at the Surrey Club House. The lodge was closed in due form and the brethren partook of a very excellent repast, catered for by Bro. Pope, P.M. The usual Royal and Masonic toasts were given, and the National Anthem and "God bless the Prince of Wales," sung by Bro. T. C. Walls, accompanied on the pianoforte by Bro. W. A. Ellis. The toast of "The Visiting Brothers" was duly honoured and ably responded to by the numerous visitors among whom were Bro. Ede, P.M. from the country, and Bro. Arnold, P.M. of the Strong Man Lodge. The initiates were toasted and each replied briefly for the honour accorded. Bros. Walls, Philpott, Webb, and Gardner contributed some vocal effusions and the proceedings, which were throughout of an agreeable nature, terminated at an early hour.

ATHENÆUM LODGE (No. 1491).—The fifth meeting of this flourishing young scion of the Craft, was held on Wednesday evening, the 7th inst., in the lodge room, situate within the handsome building in the Camden-road, Holloway, that gives its name to the lodge. The business being very heavy, was commenced by the W.M., Bro. Samuel Poynter, P.M., and Treasurer Burgoyne, No. 902, at a few minutes after five o'clock. No initiate's names appeared on the agenda, but no less than seven brethren, viz.—Bros. Bridgewater, No. 1150, Buckingham and Chandos (by special permission of Bro. Dobbswill of that lodge) Heaton, Hamer, Waterlow, Weiss, Shirley and Summey were raised to the sublime degree of a M.M., by the W.M. The ceremony in each instance was performed in its integrity, including the traditional history and the explanation of the tracing board. The effect was considerably enhanced by the solemn and dirge like tones of the harmonium, discoursing appropriate music, under the skilful touch of Bro. Thomas, of this and of the St. Clement Danes Lodge, No. 1351, Organist of St. George's, Tufnell Park, in the immediate vicinity, Inner Guard to the lodge. After a brief interval the W.M. resumed work, and passed to the second degree Bros. Dodds, Smiles and Wyman, after which numerous propositions for joining or initiation in this popular lodge brought the Masonic labours of the evening to a close, and the brethren proceeded to refreshment in the great hall of the building, where the W.M. presided over an elegant collation, and afterwards proposed the usual toasts, which were received with the greatest warmth and acclamation. Alluding to the recent "sensation" event in the Craft, the W.M. took occasion to observe that to his mind there was no reason for discouragement in the unhappy secession over which they must nevertheless mourn. Its real result was, on the contrary, eminently cheering when they beheld the dropped sceptre grasped again with no nerveless fingers, and when the challenge given by their avowed foes had been readily and cheerfully accepted by "the Prince of all the land," in the stirring words of Campbell, "and the Prince of all the land led them on." These remarks appeared to elicit the cordial approbation of all the brethren. The toast of the "Grand Officers" was responded to by Bro. Joseph Smith, P.G.P., who took occasion to eulogise the constant attendance of the W.M., at the various Masonic boards of which he is a member, and spoke in warm terms of his (the W.M.'s) assiduous labour in every department of the Craft. Bro. Foster Green, P.M. No. 475, St. John the Baptist, Luton, and also a member of this lodge, who had ably officiated as Past Master in the preceding ceremonies, in proposing the health of "The W.M." glowingly panegyricised the working they had been privileged to behold that evening. The W.M. in responding, said that it was his ambition to do his Masonic work thoroughly, so that every brother who entered the Craft under his auspices might make himself master of its mysteries as a science, and be able at all times during his Masonic career to give a reason for the faith that is in him. Bro. Brown, P.M. Neptune No. 22, in responding to the toast of the "Visitors," spoke in high terms of the working, and took occasion to endorse the W.M.'s remarks on the recent remarkable occurrence. The proceedings at the social board were enlivened by several songs and recitations, admirably given by some of the brethren, while the able performance of Bro. Thomas at the pianoforte contributed another element to the enjoyment of a thoroughly successful and agreeable meeting. The brethren separated at about eleven in perfect harmony. The next meeting will, D.V., be held on the first Wednesday in November, when there appears every prospect of the W.M. being called upon to perform all three ceremonies. Among the visitors present, in addition to those already named, we observed Bro. the Rev. O. J. S. Perrett, M.A., Head Master of the Boys' School, and Bros. Thompson, (Maybury) No. 969, Zambia, Marsh Ray, Bullen (Buckingham and Chandos) No. 1150, Emanuel, and several others.

Mark Masonry.

LANCASTER.—County Palatine Lodge (No. 156).—The members of the County Palatine of Lancaster Lodge held their annual meeting at the Freemasons' Hall, Cooper-street, on Monday evening last. This lodge, which was constituted two years ago by our R.W.P.G.M.M.M., Bro. William Romaine Callender, M.P., for Provincial Officers only, with the object of bringing the leading brethren of Lancashire, Yorkshire, and Cheshire into closer communion, has been wonderfully successful. At this meeting the ceremony of installing the W.M. elect, Bro. Richard Newhouse, Prov. Grand Secretary for Cheshire and North Wales, was gone through, and most beautifully rendered by Bro. J. Gibb Smith, P.G.J.W., after which the W.M. appointed and invested the following officers:—Bros. John Chadwick, P.G. Sec., I.P.M.; Wm. Ormrod Walker, P.P.G.M.O. and P.G.D., S.W.; W. H. Prince, P.P.G.S.D. and P.G.D., J.W.; George Mellor, P.P.G.S.W. and G.S.O., M.O.; William Roberts, P.P.G.S.D., S.O.; Robert Butterworth, P.P.G.D.C., J.O.; John Duffield, P.G.T., Secretary and Treasurer; and other business transacted, the lodge was closed at 5.30.

Red Cross of Constantine.

LEICESTER.—Byzantine Conclave (No. 44).—The regular assembly of this flourishing conclave took place at Freemasons' Hall, Leicester, on Monday, October 12th, when there were present Sir Knts. C. Stretton, M.P.S.; W. Kelly, Int. Gen.; G. Toller, jun., G. Councilor; S. S. Partridge, K.G.C., and Rev. W. Langley, P. Sov.; Dr. Hunt and J. C. Duncombe, V.E.s, and several other officers and members. From various causes none of the five candidates on the summons were able to be present. The Mount Hermon Sanctuary of K.H.S. was therefore opened under the Int. Gen. as P. Pr., and Sir Knt. J. Tomlin was duly installed as a Knight of the Order. Owing to want of time it was found necessary to postpone the working of the Degree of St. John. The conclave having been resumed and the formal business disposed of, an adjournment to the banquet took place, and a very pleasant evening was spent, under the presidency of the M.P.S.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.

SCOTIA LODGE (No. 178) held their monthly meeting in the Hall, 170, Buchanan Street, on Wednesday, Oct. 14th, Bro. John Miller, R.W.M., presiding, Bro. J. Mathison, I.P.M. as S.W.; Bro. Laught, J.W.; Bro. J. Reafer, Sec. The lodge having been duly opened, and Bros. Gilmour and Miller being duly qualified Fellow Crafts to be raised to the sublime Degree, Bro. Joseph Singleton, P.M., officiated in raising them to the degree of Master Mason. There was a large attendance of members, with a good many visiting brethren.

LODGE STAR (No. 219) held their regular meeting on Monday, Oct. 12th. In consequence of the R.W.M. attending the Funeral Lodge at Edinburgh, the chair was taken by Bro. Alston, D.M., the Wardens being in their proper places. There was one candidate for initiation, and Bro. Bain, P.M. 103, performed the ceremony in his usual precise and careful style. The R.W.M., Bro. J. Wilson, returned from Edinburgh at 10 o'clock to close the lodge.

ST. ANDREW'S LODGE (No. 465) met in their own Hall at Garngad-road on Thursday, Oct. 15th, the R.W.M., D. Reid, in the chair, J. McLeish, D.M.; Bro. Clark, S.W.; J. Young, J.W. There were two initiations, one passing and one raising, all of which were performed to the R.W.M. in excellent style.

LODGE ATHOL (No. 413) held their Quarterly Harmony Meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 13, at St. Mark's Hall, Bro. John Wallace, R.W.M., in the chair. Jas. Leuttig, S.W.; Wm. Neilson, J.W.; C. McKenzie, S.D.; J. Dunn, Sec.; Agnew, T.; and a large attendance of visitors, as well as members. The lodge having been opened, there being one candidate in attendance, Bro. Wm. Dolby, P.M., of St. Clair 362, initiated him in first-class style. The lodge was then placed under the care of the J.W., and two very happy hours were spent in harmony, to which Bro. Miller, the I.P.M. of the lodge, and P.G.D.M., with an efficient choir, materially contributed. There was a large deputation from St. John's present, and that lodge being proposed, Bro. Nelson, D.M., returned thank. The S.W. gave Bro. Dobbie, who had so kindly initiated their candidate. Bro. Dobbie suitably acknowledged the compliment. Bro. Fletcher, R.W.M. of St. John's, replied for the visitors. The Master gave "The Initiate," who replied a few terse sentences expressive of the pleasure felt, not only at his initiation, but in this festivity. Bro. Wm. Bell, D.M., proposed R.W.M., and Bro. Lamb, S.W. 360, proposed the health of those who had given the harmony of the evening. A Brother replied stating he was the oldest member of the lodge but he was very glad to be still able to contribute his mite towards their enjoyment. The Master then gave the final toast, after which he proceeded to close the lodge, all having been pleased with the evening's entertainment.

LODGE COMMERCIAL (No. 360) held an election meeting in their own hall, on Friday, Oct. 16th. The R.W.M., Dr. A. Morton, had declined to accede to the wish of the lodge to hold the chair for another year, and having nominated his Depute Master, to whose executive working he had been much indebted during his own term of office, Bro. John Munro was unanimously elected as the R.W.M. for the ensuing year, each of the other nominees was unanimous, and the following were declared to be elected as the officers for the ensuing year:—Bros. J. Munro, R.W.M.; Dr. A. Morton, I.P.M.; D. Lamb, D.M.; John Ure, S.W.; Jas. M. Oliver, S.W.; Jas. Craig, J.W.; Failay, Treas.; W. H. Bickerton, Sec.; Sloan, B.B.; Jas. McCosh, D.C.; and R. Brodie, D. of M. The officers of S.D., J.D. and Chaplain were left open for the next meeting. The lodges were then closed.

T. ANDREW'S CHAPTER (No. 69), held their 11thly meeting on Tuesday 13th, T. D. Humphries, Dr. Ph., Z., presiding, assisted by Wm. Wheeler, Z. of 73, as H.; D. B. King, J.; J. M. Oliver, S.E.; Wm. Thomas, S.; J. Blackwood, 1st Sec. At the request of the officers of Chapter 73, Comp. Jas. Gour, P.Z. 73, and P.G. 1st S., installed Wm. J. Tweed as H. of 73, as he was unable to be present on the installation night. The officers then presented their report, showing the funds were in a healthy state. A vote of thanks was then moved to Dr. T. D. Humphries, for having advanced a considerable sum, many years ago, to the chapter, to supply it with a lamp, and for having let it remain over till the present time. The 1st Principal Z., in acknowledging the kindness of the companions, said he had only been carrying out his Masonic duties and fulfilling the scriptural injunction "to be naked," for that was literally their position at the time when he took the chair; he had never asked them for repayment, as glorying to think that under his reign he was in a position to offer it. The chapter then closed in due form.

PALÆOLOGUS.

There are some topics so fairly embarrassing that one does not well know how to approach them in the ordinary style of proper composition. Who could Palæologus of Turin have been? Perhaps some cousin of the Army, in whose pretensions were so embarrassed at the War Office, where the study of Palæology has never been much encouraged, or some long-expected Barbadian, or some grim "undreamt of" for the last two hundred years from the depths of a Cornish mine; or the dark insinuation of the Daily News, a prudent conjecture of the "matronly" Telegraph; or merely the weird shadow that crosses the flowery path of the Telegraph; or the one that perched on its wires in the night, and caused the vibration which we read that leader from his Byzantine... these conjectures are entirely unnecessary. We have not far to go in order to find the identity of the personage whose name is used in Turin has created so great a stir, caused such a flutter amongst our societies, and produced such a diversity of opinion. In fine, Prince John Anthony Palæologus was simply the only and legitimate son of his Royal Highness the Francis Ducas-Palæologus-Rhodocanakis, of the Byzantine House of Ducas. The name was for many years known as Prince Francis, and his adopted [11 Feb., 1869] name, Maria Mailet, assumed in consequence the same name, to which was afterwards added the name of the renowned Palæologus—a noble that fell with their people and empire, and the overt hostility of the Papacy, sacrificed an independent Christian power to the overbearing jealousy, and preferred the of the infidel to the cross which did not usurp authority. The miserable result is daily brought before us of Christendom, until Turkey, an empire in Europe, is now only known by her name and her loans, each reacting on the other while we consider the vicissitudes of the descendants of the great Byzantine as interesting subjects for archaeological investigation. We scramble with avidity to prop up the crumbling edifice, "the sick man," and the splendid country to be possessed entirely by the "sick man and gross in nature." But the decree of fate or Providence are infallible, and though long delayed the moment must come when this "abomination of desolation" must be removed into Asia Minor, and the scandal of the East for ever removed. It is only a time may come when the liberal Protestantism will be adopted by the tolerant Greek Church, and a federation of the Greek States made possible, if not a re-union of the Empire of the Palæologus. The ideas of this writer appear to be in the forbidden domain of politics.—[Ed.]

UNITED ORDERS OF THE TEMPLE AND MALTA.

The following circular has been forwarded to us:—
In respect to the memory of the late Grand Prior of Ireland, Sir Knight His Grace the Duke of Leinster, who departed this life on the 10th of October inst., all Knights meeting in their Preceptories, Great Priories, or Convent General, are requested to wear mourning for the space of three months.
The Arch-Chancellor of the Order has directed that the Knights of the United Orders should be apprised that in consequence of the very recent death of the late Grand Prior of Ireland, the banquet intended to be given after the meeting of the Convent General on 30th October instant will not take place. The Arch-Chancellor trusts that the good feeling of the brethren of the Order will excuse and approve the step which he has thus felt bound to take in the absence of his Royal Highness the Grand Master.
By Order, J. LAMBERT SIM, Sub-Marshal.
London, Oct., 1874.

LODGE OF BENEVOLENCE.

The Lodge of Benevolence met on Wednesday evening at Freemasons' Hall, Bro. Joshua Nunn, Senior Vice President as President; Bro. James Brett, Junior Vice President, as Senior Vice President, and Bro. John Savage as Junior Vice President. There were also present Bros. John Boyd, Joseph Smith, F. Binckes, C. A. Cotterbrune, T. Bartlett, W. Mann, E. Gotthiel, J. Willing, W. Smith, Herbert Dicketts, T. Bull, Thos. Cubitt, Levy, F. Kent, W. Stephens, G. Godson, C. Atkins, H. Massey (Freemason), B. H. Swallow, T. Scott, A. A. Pendlebury, Thomas R. Darke, W. Waghorn, John Hervey, G. Secretary, H. G. Buss. The grants of last meeting, amounting to £195, were confirmed, and new grants were made to the extent of £535. The brethren then adjourned.

THE EASTERN STAR.

The report of the inauguration of the "Victoria Chapter, No. 1," which appeared in the Freemason of 10th October, contains statements to the effect, that this chapter is the first that has been established in Great Britain; and that its Patron is the first-appointed Patron of the Order in Scotland. This is incorrect. The Order of the Eastern Star was introduced into Scotland by the late Capt. Thompson Wilson, of London, Canada, in 1861, acting under special powers granted him by the then head of the Order, Bro. Dr. Rob Morris, Past Grand Master of Kentucky, who is expected to visit this country early in January next. Captain Wilson having conferred the degree upon several brethren belonging to the Ayr lodges, and a number of ladies, he appointed Major Charles Edmund Thornton, then Commander of the Ayr Priory of Knights Templar, as Grand Superintendent of the Order in Scotland, and at the same time commissioned some half dozen Patrons to aid in spreading the degree throughout the country. These appointments were afterwards confirmed by the Grand Patron, Dr. Morris, who forwarded several copies of the ritual, instructions for forming chapters, etc.; and on Major Thornton's subsequent removal to England, Dr. Morris named a Depute Grand Patron. An Ayr Chapter was formed, and many brethren and females possessing the necessary qualification were initiated. From a disinclination on the part of the Depute Grand Patron to devote time to the working of the Order, this chapter has for several years been in abeyance. Seeing, however, that the Glasgow Chapter styles itself "No. 1," the Ayr Chapter, should it revive, may, like Mother Kilwinning, find it convenient to take "No. 0."
In noticing the introduction of the Eastern Star into Scotland by Capt. Wilson, the Freemason's Magazine (London, Nov. 16th, 1861) adds "We trust that the nonsense will not be allowed to extend to England—though we have heard of the degree being conferred in Fleet-street."
D. MURRAY LYON.

Masonic Tidings.

Bro. Hughan's interesting work will, we are informed, appear next week. Bro. Hughan has been too busy to send circulars.
The "Masonic Magazine" of August, September, and October, 1873, being out of print, copies will be thankfully received by the publisher, at 198, Fleet-street, London.
The "Cosmopolitan Calendar" is now ready, price 2s., post free, 2s. 2d. To America, post free, 2s. 6d. We shall call attention to it next week.
The installation ceremony will be worked by Bro. Beckett, P.M., at the Strong Man Lodge of Instruction, on Monday next, the 24th inst., at the Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell-green.
The Fifteen Sections will be worked at the Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, Cannon-street, E.C., on Wednesday, October 28th, at 6.30 p.m., by Bro. G. Gotthel, P.M., W.M.
The Fifteen Sections will be worked on Thursday, November 19th, 7 p.m., at the Salisbury Lodge, King's Head Tavern, Compton-street, Soho, by the St. James's Union Lodge, presided over by Bro. Stacey, P.M., 18°.

IRELAND.—No appointment has yet been made to the Masonic Grand Mastership, and it is understood that Bro. Shekleton will discharge the duties during the interregnum.
It is stated in Masonic circles in Ireland that the Duke of Connaught cannot accept, nor, indeed, be asked to accept, the office of Grand Master of the Freemasons in Ireland, as he does not belong to an Irish lodge; and the Duke of Abercorn, it is said, is barred from the office by reason of the political appointment which he holds. The Marquis of Headford's name is mentioned for the vacant post.

We have much pleasure in drawing the attention of our readers to a very valuable improvement in lamps, patented by Messrs. Dietz and Co., of Carter-lane, St. Paul's, and from a recent visit which we paid to their extensive warehouses and show rooms, we were perfectly convinced of their superiority over any other lamps that have come under our notice. Amongst the several which were submitted to our inspection we can give our cordial approval to that termed the "Paragon." The improvements chiefly consist in so introducing the currents of cold air that, after passing through a triple series of small openings in the air chamber which surrounds the wick holder, they are impinged upon the flame in a partially heated state, the result being that the oxygen of the atmosphere, and the carbon of the oil are burnt together, producing an intense white flame. The combustion being so perfect, there is no evolution of superfluous products of carbon or noxious gases, in fact, neither smoke, smell or danger, and we are informed it consumes one third less than most of the other lamps which are prominently brought before the public, is perfectly applicable for all kinds of lighting, and the Paragon burner being made in four sizes, is adapted to all wants and requirements, whether in small hand lamps, or highly ornamented table lamps, chandeliers, &c. It is also used in their new heating stoves for greenhouses and miniature kitchens, which will cook a chop or boil a kettle in a few minutes at a cost of less than a farthing. Another article of their manufacture, the "Hurricane Lamp," is so very ingenious that it is perfectly inextinguishable in the wildest gale, is quite air tight, and oil tight, can be tossed about in any direction without extinguishing the light, and for outdoor purposes cannot be surpassed.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—INDIGESTION AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.—Lovers of society and all addicted to the enjoyment of the table would do well to remember that the digestion cannot be longer seriously disordered without the derangement being perceptible on the countenance. These Pills prevent all unpleasant consequences; they improve the appetite, and, with the increase of desire for food, they augment the power of digestion and assimilation in the stomach. Holloway's Pills deal most satisfactorily with deranged or diseased conditions of the many organs engaged in extorting nourishment for our bodies from our various diets. The liver, stomach, bowels, and kidneys, with many minor parts subserving the same end, readily bow to this treatment.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	45. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	75. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI. each	15s. 6d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	25. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	15. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains.

The price of the Freemason is Twopenny per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY,

FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY. Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"The edition we are now considering is a second English edition, which had the great advantage of Bro. D. M. Lyon's able superintendence and editorship in its English dress. There can be no doubt but, that so far, Bro. Findel's work is the most complete work on Freemasonry which has yet appeared, and that he deserves the greatest credit for his careful and accurate treatment of all evidence on the subject, and for his honest desire after truth. Bro. Findel gives up in the view he has so clearly and consistently put forth our early Masonic history, the older story of the Roman Colleges, &c., and limits the origin of Freemasonry to about the twelfth century, and as then arising from the operative Masons, and specially the "Steinmetzen" and "Bauhütten" of Germany. Bro. Findel gives us a good deal of evidence on this head, and one thing is clear from his work, that the German Freemasons were, at a very early period, organized into lodges with Master over them, and with outward regulations and inner ceremonies peculiar to the Craft. Bro. Findel rejects all the views which have been from time to time put forward of a Templar or a Rosicrucian origin. Whether or no Bro. Findel's theory of the date of the rise of Freemasonry be correct, matters very little: we do not ourselves profess to accept it; but this we can fairly say of Bro. Findel's work, it is marked from first to last by the most remarkable token of industry, ability, and care, of patient research, and of skilful criticism. We know of no work which so clearly sets before us our amount of knowledge up to the present time on the great question of Masonic Archaeology, and there can be little doubt that what Preston's work is to English Freemasonry, Findel's work is to cosmopolitan Freemasonry. Indeed no student in Masonry can now dispense with it, and it is a perfect storehouse both of Masonic evidence and Masonic illustrations. We earnestly recommend all the lodges in this country to obtain a copy for the lodge library before the work is bought up for America; and we believe that no Mason will rise from the perusal of its pages without a higher idea both of the historical truth and intrinsic value of Freemasonry, and of fraternal regard and recognition to be latest and not the least well-informed or effective of our Masonic historians. The present century has produced no such equal, in authority and usefulness, to the great work of our Bro. Findel, and we wish him and it, in all of fraternal sympathy and kindly intent, many earnest readers, and more grateful students."—The Masonic Magazine.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence. Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION,
BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS OF THE CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.
Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d.
Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Published under the Patronage of
H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G.,
Patron of the Order.

In Imperial Octavo, bound in gilt cloth, richly ornamented
price £1 11s. 6d.,

HISTORY OF THE LODGE OF EDINBURGH

(MARY'S CHAPEL) No. 1.

EMBRACING AN ACCOUNT OF THE RISE AND PROGRESS OF FREEMASONRY IN SCOTLAND.

By Bro. DAVID MURRAY LYON.

With Twenty-six Fac-similes of Ancient Statutes, Minutes of various Lodges, Seals, and Orders, &c., and Authentic Portraits and Autographs of Sixty eminent Craftsmen of the past and present time.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

In the Press.

Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 3s. 6d.
A full Coloured Book of

MASONIC CLOTHING AND JEWELS.

From Master Mason to the 30th Degree inclusive.

London, GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

Now ready, 12mo., 208 pages, handsomely bound in cloth price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 8d.

THE ISRAELITES FOUND IN THE ANGLO-SAXONS.

The Ten Tribes supposed to have been lost traced from the land of their captivity to their occupation of the Isles of the Sea. With an exhibition of those traits of character and national characteristics assigned to Israel in the Books of the Hebrew Prophets, by Bro. Wm. CARPENTER, Author of "Scientia Biblica," "Scripture Natural History," "Guide to the Reading of the Bible," "Lectures on Biblical Criticism and Interpretation," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critica Biblica," "Calendarium Palestinæ," "An Introduction to the Reading and Study of the English Bible, and Editor of the fifth large edition of "Calmet's Dictionary of the Bible," and of the abridgement of the same, etc., etc.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

4th Edition, now ready, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

REFLECTED RAYS OF LIGHT
UPON FREEMASONRY.

OR THE FREEMASONS' POCKET COMPENDIUM.
With Emblematical Frontispiece. A handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, and Pocket Vade Mecum, and guide to the various ceremonies connected with Craft Masonry, so far as the same are allowed to be communicable in accordance with the principles of the Order.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

Now ready, with Index and Preface, in Twelve Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in one handsome volume, 6s.

THE FREEMASONS' LIBER MUSICUS,
Dedicated by express permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by Dr. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.V.—298.

This Work contains 215 pp. and 188 Musical Compositions, suitable for the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges; Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation, Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

Notice from the Evening Mail.

"Our Masonic readers are no strangers to the name of Bro. William Spark, the talented musician and Organist of the Town Hall, Leeds. In this really great work, now completed, Dr. Spark has shown his great tact and judgment by compiling and compiling for the Masonic brethren a complete library of musical compositions of the choicest English and foreign works, ancient, traditional, modern, vocal, and instrumental, by the best composers. It comprises Masonic anthems, installation odes, dedication music, responses, opening, closing, and intermediate music for all degrees, Thanksgivings, funeral odes, marches, songs, duets, banquet music, programmes, voluntaries, and general musical directions, arranged for voices and organ, pianoforte, or harmonium. "The Freemasons' Liber Musicus" is issued with the concurrence of many influential Masonic Lodges, and under the distinguished patronage and support of the Most Worshipful the Grand Masters of England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland. It forms a complete library of the choicest and rarest Masonic music, in a word, it is indispensable to all Masonic lodges. The worthy brother editor, moreover, has had the valuable co-operation and assistance of the most distinguished and experienced composers and organists, members of the Craft. It is brought out in the highest style of art, is printed from large engraved music plates, and forms a very handsome folio volume of nearly two hundred and twenty pages!" It deserves the patronage of every Masonic Lodge, both at home and abroad, and for its merits alone it ought to be zealously prized by every brother. As a present to a lodge, nothing could be more useful, valuable, and appropriate.

HANDSOME CLOTH COVERS, with gilt lines, and lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

Shortly will be published,
"A DEFENCE OF FREE-MASONRY,"

By Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C.

Published by Bro. GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street,
London, E.C.

SECOND EDITION.—NOW READY.
Price One Shilling, Post-free, Revised and Enlarged.
Freemasonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle,
By Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON,
(Past Master, No. 393, England.)

THIS work is a perfect handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, founded on the Ancient Charges and Symbols, and will be found to be eminently practical and useful in the vindication and support of the Order.

Office, 198, Fleet-street.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.
MASONIC GATHERINGS.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.
Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c.
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

POCKET DIARY FOR 1875.

Price One Penny, or Post Free for Three Halfpence.
It is sufficient to say that the present issue is similar to our issues of former years, and that it is the cheapest Diary ever published, being acknowledged to be superior to the Diaries usually sold at Sixpence.

Copies, bound in limp cloth, blocked and lettered on side in gold, 3d. each, or post free for 31d.
E. MOSES AND SON,
London.

Minorities and Aldgate,

New Oxford-street,

Tottenham-court-road,

and Bradford, Yorkshire.

To be obtained at either of the establishments of E. Moses and Son, and at the Metropolitan Railway and other bookstalls of Messrs. Willing and Co.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for inserting in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

REMITTANCES RECEIVED.

F. Rotanzi, Daylesford, Victoria, P.O.O. ... 1 0 4
R. Pether, Perth, Western Australia, P.O.O. ... 1 0 0
W. Watson, Mount Gambia, South Australia, P.O.O. ... 0 6 4
S. M. Gabbidon, Cape Coast, P.O.O. ... 0 2 4
O. H. Bate, Kimberley, South Africa ... 0 2 4

EXCELLENT KEY.—Your letter cannot be printed, owing to the resolution arrived at with reference to such a discussion. See second leader.

The following stand over—Letters from "Progress," "The Wife of an Apprentice," R.F.A., "Another Countess P.M." Report of Lodge 1101, Reading; 1331, Address

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1874.

THE "CHURCH HERALD."

Our contemporary, the Church Herald, in its impression of the 14th inst., gravely informs its readers that it had recently inserted an article on Freemasonry, which has "received," it adds, "we know, very great attention." (See p. 59.) There are always a good many people in the world who are pleased with small things, and grateful for small blessings. Our contemporary is evidently endowed with one of those happy dispositions, and we both admire and envy the possession of such contented equanimity. Indeed, he so much resembles the person who once told his friend that he had had the privilege of being addressed by "Le Grand Monarque." "Why were his words?" inquired his friend. "Well, he said to me when he saw me, get out my way, you dirty rascal!" We are always reluctant to disturb any one's self-satisfaction, or to deprive him of any pleasure arising from the facile exercise of self-laudation. But we fear that if any attention has really been paid any one to that recent and memorable article in the Church Herald, in re Freemasonry, it arises from another cause, and not from either approval or sympathy with its tone and arguments. It is just possible that in its merely sensational utterances it may have attracted a moment's attention, but when we have said that, we have said all. It would, indeed, constitute, in our humble opinion, a very great reflection both on the intellect, and good feeling, and common sense of the readers of the Church Herald, lay or clerical, could we for a moment believe that they were really in any way affected by one of the most vulgar and worthless diatribes against our noblest Order that we have ever had the misfortune to peruse. To say nothing of the childish perversity which to-day repeats the same strictures of last century, we find, alas! the "animus mendacii" most strongly represented in that article from first to last. And not only this, but how can we fitly characterize those blushing falsehoods—we might even term, in our good old Saxon vernacular, "lies"—with which that silly writer closes his attack on Freemasonry? All we can say is, that we do not ar such insinuations, or regard such incriminations in the slightest degree, for our belief is most strongly that, in respect of Freemasonry, as of many other things in this world, magna est veritas et praevalabit." We shall, therefore take no more notice of our contemporary, but relegate him to the glories of those feeble forcibles—"so many now-a-days—who we adopted for their controversial efforts that into which so well always represents both their wish and anxiety for truth "aut inveniam, aut diam." Of such assailants, Freemasonry has no dread, and to such slanderers it cares not to make any reply, leaving both its professions and practice, in all humble confidence, to the consideration and approval of the fair, the thoughtful, and the tolerant. Our contemporary, Church Herald, prints the speech of an able member of ours, (Bro. J. C. Parkinson), recently delivered by him to the Provincial Grand Lodge Warwickshire, and states that the "outcome" is simply is, "our readers can need nothing other than the above to show that no Christian, whether a Catholic, can possibly have anything to do with such an organisation," and that "its title has been too faithfully painted by one's own official lights." We are not content in defending all that Bro. Parkinson said, firstly, because he is quite able, if need be to defend himself, and secondly, because we wish that we do not quite take his view as regards the Roman Catholic position in respect of Freemasonry. We think that the less is said of the Roman Catholic Church, quæ the Roman Catholic Church, the better, except purely by way of defence, as Freemasonry knows nothing of the peculiar doctrines or religious position of any denominational Church. Freemasonry ignores alike all questions affecting religion dogmas, or political principles. But we quite agree with Bro. Parkinson in his lucid explanation and seasonable mention of the Universality of Freemasonry, and thank him for defending what the Church Herald so loudly condemns, inasmuch as that Universal principle of reception and toleration constitutes, in our humble opinion, the greatness, and the utility, and the glory of Freemasonry.

A FEW WORDS OF CAUTION.

We have published lately several letters relative to Lord Ripon's secession to the Church of Rome, and also one or two, especially last week, which seem to have a tendency to evoke a purely religious controversy. We therefore have come to the conclusion not to allow in our pages the appearance of any more similar letters, whether in tone or substance, either as regards Lord Ripon, or the Roman Catholic Church. We are of opinion that the best way of treating Lord Ripon's resignation is by a respectful silence, though we may feel heartily sorry for our noble brother. Freemasonry is not a controversial institution, and we have no right to allow a spirit of sectarian bitterness to be imported into our peaceful fraternity, or to appear in the columns of the only Masonic journal. As Freemasons, we have nothing to do with the special opinions or doctrines held by any religious body whatever, perse, except when, as lately, we are unwarrantably attacked and insulted, and then we have a right to state, clearly and temperately, how ignorant of our true principles are all such assailants, and how worthless and unfounded are all such attacks. But, as our readers will note, some of the recent letters speak of the Church of Rome from a purely religious point of view, or from political considerations, with which we have equally, as Freemasons, nothing to do. Having allowed, then, such discussion to proceed, as far as we thought it could with safety do, we now beg to decline to insert any more letters on the subject, on either side, and to call the attention of our many readers to the fact that we in no way profess to agree with, or to be responsible for the personal opinion and idiosyncracies of our various correspondents.

"VERBUM SAT SAPIENTI."

With reference to the letter under this signature, which appeared in our columns on the 3rd October, we think it to be our duty to state to-day that we are fully satisfied that the assertions and insinuations made in it were and are utterly untrue. We much regret that by an oversight we allowed the letter to appear in our pages at all, as we have no intention of permitting the Freemason to be used for the purpose of propagating slander against any brother.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

ORDERS OF THE TEMPLE AND MALTA.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Does not Sir Knt. W. Davies misapprehend the position and status of a Preceptor under the new regime. As I read the statutes a Knight once installed a Preceptor is ever after a Preceptor, so long as he continues to subscribe to a preceptory, and is so qualified to attend, speak and vote in Convent General and Great Priory, (see Statutes of Convent, p. 12, and Statutes of Great Priory, p. 8. par. 3.) Under these statutes there are no Past Preceptors. There must be a new title, that of Presiding Preceptor, to denote the actual head of the Preceptory, and notwithstanding the statutes of Great Priory, p. 43, Article 110, those who, under the old customs, would have been Past Commanders must be styled Preceptors only.

With regard to Sir Knt. J. H. Woodworth's complaint. I contend that a Knight, who is a past officer under the old regime, is not, in the "proper costume of his rank in the order," as laid down by Article 94, English Great Priory statutes, 73 Irish, unless the statute of the Convent General is complied with, and he wears "the insignia which" he was entitled to wear before the "making of those statutes" (see statutes of Convent General, p. 19, Article, Rank, and Precedence, last par., p. 20), and that a Knight so clothed cannot be excluded from Convent General or Great Priory.

THOMAS COOMB, P.E.C.,
P.G., 1st Capt., England,
P.D. Prov. G. Com., Dorset,
Prov. Sub. Prior, Dorset.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

The complaint of your correspondent, "W. Davies, Preceptor," in your last issue is, I think, so far as it relates to his status in the Order, under a misapprehension. It is not easy to see the hardships which he appears to feel so strongly. Having been (I will assume) regularly elected and installed as Preceptor, so long as he is a subscribing member of any registered Preceptory he will take rank as a Preceptor, and be a member of the Great Priory (see Statutes of Great Priory, No. 3). In fact he will enjoy all the privileges he had under the old Statutes. The only difference made by the new Statutes of the Convent General and Great Priory in his case appears to be, that whereas he was instituted "Knight Commander," that title is now taken away from him and appropriated to a select body of Knights of the rank of Preceptors, whom the Grand Master may nominate to that honour. This being so it is difficult to understand what is meant by the assertion that "this office [Preceptor] does not carry past rank." I trust this explanation will tend to restore comfort and peace of mind to your correspondent.

Yours fraternally,

J. C. G. L.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Herewith I hand you extracts from the Statutes, and shall be glad if you will give the same a place in the Freemason of Saturday next, and at the same time give us your opinion thereon, and also answer the following questions; for when those in authority, who ought to know, differ as to the intent and effect of the Statutes, there is some excuse for the uninstructed asking the question:

Statutes of Convent General, page 11, reads, "All Great Priors, Great Officers, Sub Priors, Provincial Priors, National Great Officers, Grand Crosses, Commanders, and Preceptors, shall be qualified to attend, speak, and vote in the Convent General." Again at page 12, "A Preceptor shall be taken to mean, a Knight who shall have been duly installed to preside over a lawfully constituted Preceptory, and is on the roll of a lawfully constituted working Preceptory; and again at page 19, "In consideration of the introduction of the Dignities of Knights Grand Cross and Commander, no person in future, having served a dignified office, shall claim or receive any rank or precedence in virtue thereof, after having ceased to hold his office; and no status analogous to that heretofore designated as Past Rank shall be recognised nor allowed, nor any insignia thereof borne." From the above it is quite clear that past rank is entirely abolished; but, what follows, with some Sir Knights completely upsets the above construction. Great Priory Statute, page 8, sec. 3, reads: "Every Knight regularly elected and installed Preceptor of a Preceptory, registered under the Convent General shall, so long as he is a subscribing member to any Preceptory registered under the Great Priory of England and Wales, rank as a Preceptor and be a member of the Great Priory." By this it would appear that he virtually has past rank, retains his membership of, and has a right to vote on all matters in, the Great Priory.

The questions I wish to ask are,—1st, can any or all of the officers referred to claim to add "past" to the office they have held, or take part in the proceedings of, and vote on any and all questions submitted to, the Convent General and Great Priory? 2nd, Can Sir Knights who have served the office of Preceptor and obtained a diploma to that effect claim to attend, speak, and vote in the Convent General or Great Priory after he has retired from that office? As I have already stated, there is a difference of opinion on the question amongst those who are expected to know what is or was intended by the framers of the Statutes,

W. A.

IS THE POPE A MASON?

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Could you or any of your readers inform me, through the medium of the Freemason, if it is correct that the present Pope was in his youth initiated into the Craft, and where.

Yours fraternally,
JUNIOR WARDEN.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

A discussion has arisen between some eminent members of this club, as to whether the Pope was a Freemason and priest at the same time.

I suggested a reference to you on the subject. Would you kindly send me what particulars you can on the subject, and oblige.

Yours fraternally,
C. A.

[In answer to these letters, we beg to say that it is averred by some of the Italian Freemasons that the Pope, when a young man, was initiated into Freemasonry in a lodge in Italy. But we are not aware of any actual or trustworthy evidence on the subject. Some Italian lodges profess to believe this statement, and have, on the faith of it, passed sentence of expulsion.—Ed.]

ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Referring to the numerous letters constantly, week after week, appearing in your columns, and your editorial remarks thereon, I beg as a brother to state, I can vouch that there are "many precedents of non-commissioned officer brethren appearing in uniform, with Masonic clothing" in England, and especially in India. I have marched with dozens of non-commissioned officers in their uniform with the usual Masonic badges of this Order, and felt proud of so doing. As to the case being "referred to the Duke of Cambridge for his approval," he is not only the "soldier's friend," but especially is cognisant that the Queen's Regulation does not bring the Order of Masonry under the head of political meetings or discussions, which Masonry at all times forbids, as you are aware. Whatever led to the cause of the Committee of Management debaring the members (military) attending in the procession at Plymouth is inexcusable, and the Order demands an ample apology, or we are not brother Masons. Is it not another little hole for our enemies the Roman Catholics to injure our good and religious reputation?

Yours fraternally,

K. R. C.

York, October 13th, 1874.

ROYAL PATRONAGE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In reply to your correspondent "Reviresco" in your last issue, I beg to state that the Masonic News is under the distinguished patronage of the following princes and noblemen:—Bro. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, Bro. His Royal Highness Prince Arthur, Sir Michael Shaw Stewart, Grand Master Mason of Scotland, Lord Rosslyn, Past Grand Master of Scotland, Lord Ripon, Grand Master Mason of England, &c.

The proprietor of the Masonic Record of Western India has simply misplaced my advertisements, which mistake I immediately corrected.

I am, Sir and Brother,

Yours fraternally,

JOHN BASSETT.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

From Italy as well as from Buenos Ayres I have received letters, complaining that for a long time they have received no Freemason newspapers. Be kind enough to look into it.

St. James's Union Lodge, 18c, has opened the season the 13th inst. with éclat and success, and attended by over 85 brethren, amongst whom many distinguished visitors and the V.W. Bro. Hervey, Grand Sec. Two brethren have been initiated in the mysteries of the noble Order; the ceremonies of Third and First Degree have been performed by

Yours fraternally,

A. GALLICO.

[We are informed in the office that the Freemason has been duly posted to our one subscriber in Buenos Ayres, and to our two or three subscribers in Italy.—Ed.]

FUNERAL OF BRO. DENIS MOORE.

The funeral of the late much-respected Town Clerk of Exeter, Bro. W. Denis Moore, took place at the New Cemetery on Saturday, and was accompanied by a somewhat imposing demonstration of public respect. Most of the shops in the principal streets were partially closed, and the funeral was attended by the Mayor and Corporation, in mourning state, and by the Freemasons, amongst whom the deceased gentleman at one time held the distinguished office of Deputy Provincial Grand Master of Devon, whilst the local volunteers decided also to pay a last tribute of respect to one of whose body the deceased may be said to be the originator, and amongst whom, until a recent date, he held the rank of Major. The funeral cortège left the deceased's residence, Portland Villa, Pennsylvania, soon after eleven, and the Mayor and Corporation, the Freemasons, and the Volunteers having previously assembled at the Guildhall, the Royal Public Rooms, and the Castle-yard, respectively, marched to the London Inn Square, where they joined in the procession, which proceeded to the cemetery in the following order:—

The Volunteers.

Lodges of Freemasons.

Mayor and Corporation.

Citizens.

Hearse and Mourning Coaches.

The Volunteers were under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel the Earl of Devon, and the muster comprised Captain and Adjutant Courtenay, Major Rodway, Captain Richards, Captain Wilcocks, Lieuts. Fulford, Peyton, Mortimer, and Davy, Assistant-Surgeon Harris, Sergeant-Major Hellier, Colour-Sergeants Bowden and Sanders, Sergeants Rippon, Peardon, Herbert, and Elmore, two buglers, and about seventy rank and file. Following these were Lieutenant Hayward of the Engineers, and Captain Brock, Lieutenant Edmonds, Lieutenant Turner, Lieutenant Sharp, and Lieutenant Falford of the local Volunteer Artillery batteries. The Freemasons wore their Masonic clothing, with black crape rosettes on their aprons and collars, and white gloves, and amongst them were:—Provincial Grand Officers:—Bros. Rev. John

Huyshe, M.A., P.G.C., P.G.M.; Samuel Jones, P.P.S.G.D., P.M. 112; W. Cann, P.P.S.G.W., P.M. 112; Major Woods, P.P.J.G.W.; Henry W. Hooper, P.P.G.R., P.M. 1254, W.M. 444; H. L. Brewster, P.P.G.R., P.M. 39, and 1254; T. W. Gray, P.P.G.R., P.M. 112; John Pope, P.P.G.R., P.M. 112; R. Robertson Redd, P.P.G.R., P.M. 189; the Rev. William Langley Pope, D.D., P.P.G.C.; the Rev. C. R. N. Lyne, P.P.G.C., S.W. 39; John Heath, P.P.G.J.D., P.M. 710; William Easton, P.P.G.S.W., P.M. 39; J. C. Yelland, P.G.A.D.C., P.M. 39; Thomas Dand, P.P.G.S.E., P.M. 39; A. Soper Hexter, P.P.G.O., P.M. 112; John Gould, P.G. Sd., P.M. 444; and James Gregory, P.G.T. St. George's Lodge (Exeter), 112.—Brothers Sidney Hooper, W.M.; Dr. Shaw, P.M.; Edgar Tozer, J.W.; Alfred S. Perkins, S.D.; Alfred F. Luke, S.W.; C. Lewis, and Henry Willey, St. John the Baptist Lodge (Exeter), 390.—Bros. A. Thompson, W.M.; W. F. Quicke, P.M.; Alfred Bodly, I.P.M.; J. F. Stone, J.W.; John Stocker, Secretary; Charles Adams, S.D.; Henry Stocker, Organist; James Jerman, jun., S.S.; John Algar, G. W. P. Webber, Geo. Jury, Geo. Sercombe, and C. Curzon. Semper Fidelis Lodge (Exeter), No. 1254.—Bros. J. H. Warren, W.M.; Jethro A. F. Tucker, P.M., Frederick Horspool, S.W.; Benjamin Barber, J.W.; Charles C. Kendrick, Secretary; William Brodie, J.D.; George Huxham, Treasurer; Wm. Pidsley, I.G.; Ed. Thomas Fulford, Steward; and Robert Nobbs. Lodge of Union (Starcross), No. 444.—Bros. Joseph Chadwick, P.M.; Montgomery Hooper, Secretary; and P. S. Blanchard, Tyler. Brent Lodge (Topsham), No. 1284.—Bros. Thomas Lascelles, W.M.; Samuel Hodder, P.M.; Henry J. Yelland, J.W.; F. Pollard, S.D.; Alfred H. Wills, J.D.; Thomas Hutchings, William Godolphin, James M. Blanchard, and W. H. Boon. Visiting brethren.—James Westhead, S.W., Lodge No. 710; F. H. H. Orchard, Lodge No. 372; J. Bishop, Lodge No. 6 (Canada); Uriah Evans and F. Thomas, Lodge No. 106 (Exmouth); and James Northam, Lodge No. 710 (Totnes). The Mace-bearers and the Sword-bearers, who preceded the Mayor and Corporation, wore crape around their hats, and the maces and the sword were covered with the same material. The mourning coaches were three in number, the first containing Miss Moore, Mrs. Hirtzel, Mr. L. Kennaway, Mr. G. Mirtzel, and Major Hogg; the second, Mrs. Hogg, Mr. Harris, Dr. Cook, Mr. F. Hirtzel, and Mr. George Shorto; and the third the servants of the deceased. A detachment of about twenty police, under the command of the Chief-Constable (Captain Bent) attended as a body guard, and did great service in keeping the roadway clear. Several hundred persons were assembled in the neighbourhood of the London Inn-square as the mournful procession moved off, and the streets were lined with spectators as far as the Blackboy turnpike-gate. On arriving at the Cemetery, where also a large crowd had congregated, the Volunteers and Freemasons formed in line on either side of the path, allowing the Mayor and Corporation, the general public, and mourners to pass up the centre. The corpse was met at the entrance by the Rev. C. C. Turner, Rector of St. Mary Major, and the Rev. J. L. Kitchin, Curate of St. James, and borne into the chapel, the first-named clergyman officiating in the chapel, and the Rev. J. L. Kitchin conducting that part of the service which is performed by the grave. The service having been concluded, the deceased's relatives deposited bouquets of flowers on the coffin, and the Provincial Grand Master of Devon (Brother J. Huyshe) afterwards performed the usual Masonic ceremony of dropping a sprig of acacia into the grave, which act was also performed by each of the brethren present. The coffin was of polished oak, with black mediæval mountings. On the breast plate—a silver-plated shield—was the following inscription:—

"W. Denis Moore,

"Born 27th October, 1804."

"Died 21st September, 1874."

and two Masonic emblems were placed on the lid, namely, a double triangle over the shield, and under the same the square and compass. The arrangements for the funeral were satisfactorily carried out by Mr. S. R. Force, of St. Sidwell's. The state mourning for the Mayor and Corporation was supplied by Messrs. Colson and Gates, of High-street, and the hearse and mourning coaches by Messrs. Pedrick and West.

After the funeral the Masonic brethren returned to the Royal Public Rooms, where they had previously assembled as a lodge of emergency, and before closing the same, a resolution was unanimously passed authorising a committee of the Worshipful Masters of the three Exeter Lodges, and of the sister Lodges of Starcross and Topsham, to draw up a vote of condolence to be presented to the bereaved family.

FREEMASONRY IN NEW ZEALAND.

The ceremony of the installation into office of the Worshipful Master and officers, for the ensuing twelve months, of the Greymouth Masonic Lodge, 1233, E.C., took place at the Masonic Hall, Mackay-street, on July 9th. The brethren of other lodges, as well as Freemasons generally, were invited to attend, and by two o'clock in the afternoon there was a considerable muster of the Craft, about fifty being present, of whom a fair proportion were from the country districts. At five o'clock precisely the Deputy District Grand Master of Westland, Bro. G. W. Harvey, arrived at the lodge, and was received with the usual honours by the W.M. and the W.M. elect, with their officers. The ceremony of installing the new W.M., Bro. Rev. G. T. N. Watkins, was performed in the most impressive and efficient manner by the Deputy Grand Master, the proceedings being conducted strictly in accordance with the ancient customs and usages of the Craft, the choir rendering with good effect the musical portions of the service at the proper intervals. When the new Master was duly installed in the chair and proclaimed, Bro. M. Ancher, by direction of the Deputy Grand Master, invested the following officers with the insignia of their respective offices, at the same time delivering an appropriate charge to each, according to his rank and duty in the lodge, viz., Bro. J. J. May, Senior Warden; W. H. Revell, Junior Warden; J. C. Moore, Secretary; J. G. Thomas, Treasurer; T. Woods, Senior Deacon; M. Kinney, Junior Deacon; J. Sewell and J. Dissenhardt, Stewards;—Suisted, Inner Guard; and E. B. Fox, Tyler. The concluding parts of the ceremony were of a most imposing character, the Deputy Grand Master, during the delivery of his final charge and invocation being surrounded on the dais by an unusually numerous gathering of past officers of rank in the order, among whom were Past Masters Hindmarsh, Kerr, Ancher, and Blackmore of the English rite, and R.W.M. Arnott of the Greymouth St. Andrew's Lodge, S.C. Before the actual closing of the lodge, the W.M. moved a vote of thanks by the brethren present and the fraternity generally to the Deputy District Grand Master, who, at great personal inconvenience had come among them to give the installation observations a due solemnity and impressiveness. The vote was unanimously assented to in orthodox form. Bro. Harvey returned thanks, and explained that the delay in making an appearance at an earlier hour in the day was caused by detention at the Ahaura until midday on unavoidable business. After the transaction of some time business, the lodge was closed in due form and the brethren dispersed, to prepare for a banquet, which took place in the evening, after time-honoured custom observed in connection with Masonic ceremonies. A number of the brethren of the Masonic Lodges of Greymouth assembled at the Masonic Hall, Mackay-street, in the same evening, to a quiet given on the occasion of the inauguration of the new Worshipful Masters and officers of the Greymouth Lodge, E.C., for the next twelve months. The chair was taken by the newly-installed W.M., Bro. the Rev. G. T. N. Watkins, supported on the right hand by the D.G.M. of Westland, Bro. G. W. Harvey. Bro. J. Arnott, R.W.M. of the Grey River, St. Andrew Lodge, and P.M. F. Ancher, and on the left by P.M. Hindmarsh, and P.M. J. Kerr. Usual toasts on such occasions were given and responded to, the Chairman introducing the formal part of the proceedings with that peculiarly happy blending of Masonic and Demosthenic elegance which is characteristic of his style of oratory. After an evening's pleasant enjoyment the company separated at a seasonable hour. The catering was done by Bro. W. Jones in a style which was highly appreciated and commended by those present.

A conclave of the Military and Masonic Order of the Knights of Rome and the Red Cross of Constantine was declared opened at Greymouth on Saturday, 11th July. The preliminary arrangements were in course of settlement for some time, and all the indispensable preparations having been made, the Master Masons about to be admitted to the degree assembled at the Masonic Hall, Mackay-street, where the M.I. Sir Knight T. S. Bulmer, Esq., M.D., K.G.C., and Intendant General of the degree, and Grand Representative of the Imperial Grand Council of the Order in England, duly installed the various officers, and formally invested them with the necessary powers for working the conclave by virtue of his authority from the Grand Council. The following Master Masons were appointed to the respective offices to be filled by them: E. Ancher, M.P.S.; G. T. N. Watkins, E.V.; W. H. Revell, S.G.; J. J. May, J.G.; J. J. Blackmore, P.; C. Suisted, Treasurer; H. Young, Recorder; J. A. Eissenhardt, Warden; E. B. Fox, Sentinel. At the same place, afterwards, a Lodge of the degree of Royal Ark Mariners was duly constituted, and the proper officers appointed to act under the control of the Grand Mark Master Mason of England and Wales and the British Colonies. The ceremony was conducted by Bro. Bulmer, the Provincial Grand Mark Master for New Zealand, acting under the letters patent under the hand of Earl Percy, M.W.G.M.M. of the Order in England. Following the above a Sanctuary of K.H.S. degree was inaugurated, and the necessary officers appointed and installed. The ceremonies of each degree were most impressively performed by the Grand Representative. The observances are very solemn and imposing, Freemasons of high rank and good repute and intelligence being eligible for initiation. This especially refers to the K.H.S. degree, portions of the ritual of which being in the Latin and Greek languages, study and preparation are indispensably necessary before any standing in the Order can be arrived at. The Sanctuary inaugurated on Saturday is the first of the Order yet empowered to act in the southern hemisphere. The number of members of each Sanctuary of the rite is limited to ninety-nine, and the number of Sanctuaries now existing is under twenty. Candidates for the degree must be Craft Master Masons, and also Royal Ark Masons, as well as being members of a Conclave of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine. For the Royal Ark Mariner Degree, candidates are required to be Mark Masons, as well as Master Masons of the Craft. The number of members of each Lodge or Conclave of Ark Mariners, and Red Cross, is not limited, but, from the strictness of the examinations and the accuracy required in working, the number will of necessity never be large.—LOCAL PAPER.

Alutum in Parbo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

ROMAN EAGLE LODGE, EDINBURGH.

In response to the invitation of my learned and esteemed Brothers, the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford and Dr. Albert G. Mackey, I beg to say that the first six years' minutes of the Lodge Roman Eagle are written in Latin. It is incorrect to say that the lodge was chartered to work in Latin, neither is there, so far as I have learned upon personal inquiry, any trace of a Latin ritual ever having been used in this lodge, although it is highly probable that such was the case, for it is upon record that at meetings of the Royal Medical Society at which he presided Dr. Brown addressed the members in Latin. The original, and a great proportion of the immediately succeeding, members of the Roman Eagle were of the medical profession, and it was probably with the view of making its identity as a classical lodge more complete that its originator had its earlier records written in Latin. Dr. Brown was a passionate admirer of the language and literature of the ancient Romans: hence the custom to which we have adverted. Even in the designation of his lodge he seems to have been actuated by the same classical enthusiasm. When in Edinburgh a few days ago, I called upon the present Master of the Roman Eagle, Bro. Laing (maternal grand nephew of Dr. Brown), for the purpose of examining the original minute book, but found that it was temporarily in the possession of another member of the lodge, whom I had not time to call upon. Bro. Laing has in course of preparation a lecture on the early history of the Lodge Roman Eagle, which he intends shortly to read to the brethren, and which in all probability will be afterwards published.

D. MURRAY LYON.

Ayr, Oct. 17, 1874.

VALUE OF THE MASON'S MARK.—A man named Neil Steward Ross was convicted by Bailie Howden at the Police Court, Edinburgh, on Tuesday 13th October, of having stolen some Mason's tools from a house at Johnstone Terrace, in the end of last week. As the prisoner was suspected by a pawnbroker from whom he wished to obtain money on the implements, he was requested to produce a jac-simile of the mark stamped upon them, but failed in the attempt. The police were called in, and a case of theft was detected. Sentence of forty days' imprisonment was passed.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, October 30, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodges, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, October 24.

- Audit Committee Boys' School at 3, Lodge 1293, Burdett, Mitre Hotel, Hampton Court.
- Red Cross Conclave, 6, Roman Eagle, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- Manchester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Grey, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Ash, Preceptor.
- Lily Lodge of Instruction (820), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.
- Star Lodge of Instruction (1275), Marquess of Granby New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dilley, Preceptor.

Monday, October 26.

- Lodge 28, Old King's Arms, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 79, Pythagorean, Ship Hotel, Greenwich.
- " 183, Unity, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
- " 902, Burgoyne, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- " 905, De Grey and Ripon, Angel Hotel, Great Ilford.
- Chap. 25, Robert Burns, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 188, Joppa, Allion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.
- Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (1445), Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, at 7; Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.
- Strong Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell green, at 8; Bro. Beckett, Preceptor.
- Sincerity Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern, Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.
- Camden Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
- Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, Mile-end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Gotthel, Preceptor.
- British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friendship Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.
- St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street (opposite the Pantheon), Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. J. R. Stacey, Preceptor.
- Wellington Lodge of Instruction, White Swan Tavern, Deptford, at 8; Bro. C. G. Dilley, P.M. 1155, Preceptor.
- West Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
- Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 323, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, October 27.

- Audit Committee, Girls' School at 4.
- Lodge 14, Tuscan, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 92, Moira, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
- " 141, Faith, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
- " 145, Prudent Brethren, Freemasons' Hall.
- " 186, Industry, Masons' Hall, Masons' Avenue, Basinghall-street.
- " 205, Israel, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.
- " 255, Harmony, Greyhound, Richmond.

1158, Southern Star, Montpelier Tavern, Walworth.
 " 1196, Urban, Old Jerusalem Tavern, St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell.
 " 1348, Ebury, 12, Pensonby-street, Millbank.
 Chap. 7, Royal York Chapter of Perseverance, Freemasons' Hall.
 Yarborough Lodge of Instruction (554), Green Dragon, Stepney, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor.
 Domestic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Larham, Preceptor.
 Faith Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8; Bro. C. A. Cottebrune, Preceptor.
 Prince Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8; Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor.
 Dalhousie Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.
 Prosperity Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M. 1217, Preceptor.
 St. Marylebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stores Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wood, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
 Constitutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheatshaf Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
 Percy Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W.
 Pythagorean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.
 Israel Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road, at 7.30.

Wednesday, October 28.
 Lodge 212, Euphrates, Masons' Hall, Masons' Avenue, Basinghall-street.
 " 507, United Pilgrims, Horns' Tavern, Kennington-park.
 " 754, High Cross, Seven Sisters' Tavern, Page-green, Tottenham.
 " 898, Temperance in the East, 6, Newby-place, Poplar.
 " 1056, Victoria, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.
 Chap. 435, Mount Lebanon, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-street.
 " 753, Prince Frederick William, The Knights of St. John Hotel, St. John's Wood.
 K.T. Preceptory Holy Palestine, Masonic Hall, 33, Golden-square, at 5.
 New Concord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.
 Royal Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
 Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, at 7.30.
 Peckham Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Peckham, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.
 Temperance in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the Fourth, Catherine-street, Poplar.
 Stanhope Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, at 7.30 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
 Finsbury Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters-road, N., at 8. Bro. P. Dickinson, Acting Preceptor.
 United Strength Lodge of Instruction (228), the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
 Southwark Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William Kent, Preceptor.
 Dalston Lodge of Instruction (975), Havelock Tavern, Albion-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, October 29.
 General Committee Girls' School at 4.
 Lodge 22, Neptune, Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street.
 Fidelity Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-st., Tottenham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.
 Finsbury Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers' Tavern, Bath-street, City-road; Bro. Stean, Preceptor.
 United Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
 Whittington Lodge of Instruction (862), Crown Tavern, Holborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 188, Preceptor.
 Doric Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
 Ebury Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 12, Pensonby-st., Millbank.
 Highgate Lodge of Instruction (1365), Bull and Gate, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
 The Great City Lodge of Instruction (1425), 111, Cheap-side, at 6.30.

Friday, October 30.
 Chap. 134, Caledonian, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-street.
 " 749, Belgrave, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-street.
 K. T. Preceptory, 74, Harcourt, Greyhound Inn, Richmond.
 St. George's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.
 Robert Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Regent-st., at 8.
 Belgrave Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354, Strand, at 8; Bro. Pulsford, Preceptor.
 Panmure Lodge of Instruction (720), Balham Hotel, Balham, at 7.30.

Unions Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s, Freemasons' Hall, a 7.
 Temperance Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern, Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.
 Clapton Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, at 7.30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor.
 Royal Standard Lodge of Instruction (1298), the Castle Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Preceptor.
 Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwiche-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.
 Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
 Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.
 United Pilgrims, Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern, Lorne-road, Brixton, at 7.
 St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.
 Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Potts, Preceptor.
 Doric Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.
 Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.
 St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Rose Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.
 Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.
 High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses High-road, Tottenham.
 Burdett Coult's Lodge of Instruction (1378), Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo. W. Verry, Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE,

For the Week ending Saturday, October 31, 1874.

Monday, October 19.
 Lodge 148, Lights, Masonic Rooms, Warri ngton, at 6.30.
 Chap. 241, Friendship, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 5.
 Tuesday, October 27.
 Lodge 178, Antiquity, Royal Hotel, Wigan, at 6.30.
 " 1384, Equity, Walker's Commercial Hotel, Widnes, near Liverpool, at 6.
 " 1393, Hamer, Clarence Hotel, Everton-road, Liverpool, at 6.
 Merchants' Lodge of Instruction (241), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
 Downshire Lodge of Instruction (594), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 7.
 Wednesday, October 28.
 Lodge 32, St. George's, Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool, at 4.20.
 Harmony, Garston Hotel, Garston, near Liverpool, at 3.
 724, Derby, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
 1325, Stanley, Masonic Hall, Kirkdale, Liverpool, at 6.
 Chapter 1052, Callender, Public Hall, Rusholme.
 Neptune Lodge of Instruction (1264), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 7.
 De Grey and Ripon Lodge of Instruction (1356), 80, North Hill-street, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 7.30.
 Thursday, October 29.
 " 1313, Fermo, Masonic Hall, Southport, at 7.
 Mariners' Lodge of Instruction (249), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 8.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, October 31, 1874.
 All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, October 26.
 Lodge 102, St. Mark, St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan-street.
 " 103, Union and Crown, 170, Buchanan-st.
 " 219, Star, 12, Trongate.
 " 362, St. Clair, 25, Robinson-street.
 " 541, Marie Stewart, Watson's Academy, Langside-road.
 Chap. 122, Thetis, 35, St. James-street.
 Tuesday, October 27.
 Lodge 413, Athole, 213, Buchanan-st.
 " 426, Prince of Wales, Freemasons' Hall, Renfrew.
 Chap. 67, Cathedral, 22, Struthers-street.
 " 73, Caledonian Unity, 170, Buchanan-street.
 Wednesday, October 28.
 " 505, Burns St. Mary, Harford.
 " 510, Maryhill, 167, Main-street, Maryhill.
 Thursday, October 29.
 Lodge 553, St. Vincent, 162, Kent-road.
 " 544, Stewart, Freemasons' Hall, Market place, Kilsyth.
 Chap. 117, Govan, Portland Hall, Govan.
 Eastern Star Chapter 1, Victoria, 399 $\frac{1}{2}$, Argyle-street.
 Friday, October 30.
 Lodge 153, Royal Arch, Town Hall, Pollokshaws.
 " 195, Caledonian St. John's, Lennox Arms, Lennox-town.
 " 347, St. John's, Old Council Hall, Rutherglen.
 " 360, Commercial, 30 Hope-street.
 " 408, Clyde, 170, Buchanan-st.

Saturday, October 31.
 Lodge 28, St. John's, Black Bull Inn, Kirkintilloch.
 " 305, St. John Woodhall, Freemasons' Hall, Holytown.
 " 384, Athole, School Room, Kirkintilloch.
 MASONIC MEETINGS IN EDINBURGH AND VICINITY.
 For the Week ending Saturday, October 31st, 1874.
 Monday, October 26.
 Lodge 145, St. Stephen, Masonic Hall, Writer's-court at 8.
 " 349, St. Clair, Freemasons' Hall, George-st., at 8.
 Tuesday, October 27.
 Lodge 151, Defensive Band, Masonic Hall, Blackfriars-street, at 8.
 Chap. 40, Naval and Military, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.
 Wednesday, October 28.
 Lodge 112, St. John's, Royal Hotel, Musselburgh, at 8.
 Friday, October 30.
 G. L. Fund of Benevolence, Freemason's Hall, at 2 p.m.
 Grand Committee, Freemasons' Hall, at 3 p.m.
 Lodge 223, T'rafalgar, Masonic Hall, Salamander-street, Leith, at 8.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN DUBLIN. For the week ending 31st October.

Monday, October 26.
 Lodge 153, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
 Chap. 25, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
 Tuesday, October 27.
 Lodge 4, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
 " 6, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.30.
 Wednesday, October 28.
 Lodge 125, Fidelity, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.
 Chap. 33, University, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
 EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED
 FOR THE

WORSHIPFUL MASTER,
 SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND
 CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR
 ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,

10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
 Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

BRO. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depôts,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 190, Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

THE CONSECRATION of the "MADOC" LODGE, 1509, will take place on Thursday, the 29th ult., at the Queen's Hotel, Portmadoc, V.W. Bro. T. W. J. Goldsboro, P. P. Grand S. W. of North Wales and Shropshire, being the Consecrating Officer. Bro. Edw. and Bressé, F.S.A., Prov. Grand Reg. of Herefordshire, is the W.M. designate, Bro. Major Casson the S.W., Bro. Cornelius Davies the J.W., and Bro. Dr. Jones Morris the Secretary.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER (in consequence of the Lodge removing) an HARMONICUM belonging to a Freemason's Lodge, together with the Furniture. For particulars apply by letter, addressed Bro. M. Corless, 48, Crown-street, or to Bro. S. Johnson, 45, Dale-street, Liverpool.

A YOUNG GENTLEMAN, K.A. and M.M. MASON, who occasionally visits London, but having no friends there, would be glad to hear from a brother willing to entertain him. West End preferred. State terms, by letter to T. E. S., care of Mr. Cox, 20, King William-street, Strand, London.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

Office:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT: May, 1874.

New Business. 2,307 Policies for £406,630. New Annual Income, £12,236. 192 Death Claims paid, £33,111. 26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987. Paid for surrenders, £2,062. Laid by in year, £44,087. In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338. Annual Premium Income, £104,996. Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies. Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,

9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON. ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury, Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.

LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.

Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.

London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY (Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C. General Accidents, Personal Injuries, Railway Accidents, Deaths by Accidents. C. HARDING, Manager.

ONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over one, four, or five years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.) Apply to the Superintendent of Agents, Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne Agents Wanted.

GLISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes at 75, Edgware-road, W. Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue

C. LAYLAND AND CO., Harmonium Manufacturers, 75, Edgware-road, London. FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d., coloured, 3s.

A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. George King, at his Masonic Depots in London, Liverpool, Glasgow.

TON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d. TON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 5d.

TON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s. Reeves and Turner, 196, Strand, London.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

Freemasons' Arms..... 15ft. by 12ft. Knights Templar Arms..... 15ft. by 12ft. Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre 12ft. by 9ft. City of London Arms..... 10ft. by 7ft. Union Jack..... 10ft. by 6ft. Duke of Edinburgh..... 9ft. by 4ft. Russian 9ft. by 4ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT 198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,

LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s d Entrance Fee 3 3 0 Annual Subscription 3 3 0 Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) 1 1 0 The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers. Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND, F.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE. THE "WORCESTERSHIRE." Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS SAUCE.

Beware of Imitations to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels. Agents—CROSE & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION. GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.

(Established upwards of 35 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,

81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.

(No connection with any other establishment of the same name.) Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,

Complete Funeral Furnishers,

232 HIGH HOLBORN,

Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields. Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. AYTON,

Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,

ESTABLISHED 1821,

79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,

AND

139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.

Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,

(Late with PATHELL & Co.)

105, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.

Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles. Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.

Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.

Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.

Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW AEGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES: Thirty Sizes 4/0 per lb. GAUZE LACES:

Table with 4 columns: Size, Per gross, Size, Per gross. Rows include 1/8 in., 1/4 in., 1/2 in., 3/4 in., 1 in., 1 1/4 in., 1 1/2 in., 2 in.

PRUSSIAN LACES: 1/2 in. 18/6 per gross. 1 in. 30/0 " 1 1/4 in. 40/0 "

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES: Per doz. yds. Per doz. yds. 1/2 in. ... 3/0 1 1/2 in. ... 12/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES: Per doz. yds. Per doz. yds. 1/2 in. ... 3/0 2 1/2 in. ... 12/0

FRINGES: Plate or Water Twisted Bullion. 1 in. 0/4 ... 0/8 ... 1/6 per yard.

RUSSIA BRAIDS: No. 1 5/3 per gross. 2 6/9 " 3 8/0 " 4 10/6 " 5 13/9 "

FRENCH BRAIDS: No. 1, 8/6 per gross No. 4, 26/0 per gross. 2, 12/0 " 5, 40/0 " 3, 16/0 " 6, 72/0 "

TISSUE: 22 inches wide 2/6 per yard. GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH: 22 inches wide 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES: Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair. Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.

Orsidue, 3/6 per lb. Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard. Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0 " Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/6 3/0 4/0 per dozen.

Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard. " in colours, 5/9 per yard. Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY GEORGE KENNING,

175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane Glasgow.

“THE FREEMASON.”

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

“THE MASONIC MAGAZINE.”

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

“THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK.”

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of Newsvendors generally.

AGENTS.

BERDEEN... LINDSAY, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City) JAS. GILBERT, 18, Grace church-st.
BERGAVENNY RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st. C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
BENDOVER THOMAS & EDMUNDS. R. POTTLE, 14, Royal Exchange.
BERLIN J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st. HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BERWICK ASHER & Co., 53, Mohrenstrasse. CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BIRMINGHAM R. LAMBERT.	... (West) GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BADFORD J. WILLEY, Union-passage. D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Soho.
BRIGHTON MORGAN, Kirkgate. — LASQUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
Bristol J. BEAL, 55, East-st. H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
BURTON E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st. NASH & TEUTON, Saville-place.
BURTON C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P. WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
BURTON LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	... (Bermondsey)	... HALL, 87, New Road.
BURTON T. HAYNES, 6, James-st. JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
BURTON J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	... (Brixton) FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
BURTON T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	... (Camberwell)	... MORRIS, 19, The Green.
BURTON MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	... (Chelsea) JNO. CATPERMOLE, 48, Cale-st.
BURTON A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	... (Clapham)	... JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
BURTON JOHN GALLOP.	... (Euston Road)	... PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
BURTON CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	... (Greenwich)	... POOK, Church-st.
BURTON DOWN, Freemasons' Hall, Molesworth-st	... (Hornsey) SWAIN, Railway Approach.
BURTON CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	... (Kensington)	... KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
BURTON MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	... (Kingsland)	... PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
BURTON R. S. BROWN, 67, Hanover-st.	... (Lambeth, South)	... TRIBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
BURTON ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	... (New Cross)	... FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
BURTON W. GREGORY, 3, High-st. JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
BURTON E. FITZ, 28, High-street. WM. KIPPS, 361, New Cross-rd.
BURTON GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st.,	... (Paddington)	... E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
BURTON 2, St. Enoch's-lane.	... (Richmond)	... TURRALL, 17, New Road.
BURTON LAING, St. Enoch-square.	... (St. John's Wood)	... WILSON, 13, High Street.
BURTON THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	... (Shoreditch)	... ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
BURTON URQUHART, 189, London-road.	... (Sydenham)	... J. CLARKE, Cambridge House,
BURTON WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	MANCHESTER JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
BURTON LOVE, 226, Argyle-street. ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
BURTON GEO. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street. BERSFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
BURTON THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	MARGATE W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
BURTON E. BAYNES, 65, High-st., & Princes-st	MARYPORT J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
BURTON F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
BURTON WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire) D. DILWORTH.
BURTON BOTHAM & JACKSON, Church-st	NEWTON ABBOTT HEARDER & SON.
BURTON SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NORTHALLERTON J. E. H. REED.
BURTON HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHAMPTON STANTON & SON.
BURTON OWEN R. ELLIS. RUSHTON, Gold-st.
BURTON PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	OXFORD SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
BURTON S. NATHAN, Market-st.	PORTSEA EMANUEL, High-st.
BURTON ORR & Co., Coleraine.	PORTSMOUTH N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road
BURTON J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes.	PRESTON HARKNESS, Church-street.
BURTON GEO. WARDLEY, St. Helier's.	PUTNEY H. A. ROBINSON, 57, High-street.
BURTON EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROTHERHAM HINGCLIFFE, High-st.
BURTON INCHBOLD, 33, Bond-st.	SHEFFIELD E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
BURTON A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SOUTHAMPTON ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
BURTON J. MOSLEY. JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
BURTON C. OLDERSHAW, JUN., 40a, Granby-st. J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
BURTON MARDON'S LIBRARY, High-street. "SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER" Office.
BURTON GEORGE KENNING, 2, Monument-pl.	SOUTHPORT G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
BURTON G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	STOKE-ON-TRENT J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
BURTON ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	STOKESLEY TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
BURTON DAVIES, Exchange.	SUNDERLAND B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
BURTON WINTERBOTTOM, Exchange.	SWANSEA CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st.
BURTON MRS. LEA, Woodside Ferry.	TRURO WILLIAM LAKE.
BURTON EDWARDS, Duke Street.	TWEEDMOUTH R. LAMBERT.
BURTON METCALF, Lime Street.	WEST INDIES J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
BURTON WOODLEY. GEORGE ROE, St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica.
BURTON ACE & SON. JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica.
BURTON GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain	WHITEHAVEN PAGEN & GILL.
BURTON W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITSTABLE COX, High-street.
BURTON G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WIGAN T. WALL, "Observer" Office.
BURTON WILLIAM ARBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGTON T. McMECHIN.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE

COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875, IS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,

CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Single Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to
GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

NOVEMBER NUMBER, now ready. Price Sixpence.

THE MASONIC MAGAZINE, A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS:

Bro. W. VINER BEDOLFE, M.D.
Bro. W. BURROUGHS, A.M., Calcutta.
Bro. J. G. FINDEL.
Bro. C. G. FORSYTH
Bro. EMRA HOLMES, 31^o
Bro. HUBERT.

Bro. WM. JAMES HUGHAN, P.M., P.S.G.D.
Bro. ROBERT WENTWORTH LITTLE, 30^o
Bro. D. MURRAY LYON, P.M., P.Z.
Bro. KENNETH R. H. MACKENZIE, F.S.A.
Bro. J. DANIEL MOORE, M.D., F.L.S.
Bro. JACOB NORTON.
Bro. J. C. PARKINSON, P.M., P.Z., G.D.

Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON, P.M.
Bro. GEORGE MARKHAM TWEDDELL.
Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, M.A., P.G.C.
Bro. DR. WOODMAN, P.M., P.Z.
Bro. JOSEPH H. WOODWORTH.
Bro. T. B. YEOMAN.

CONTENTS:

Monthly Masonic Summary,
Our Masonic Manuscripts,
A Romance of the American War,
Charles Dickens—A Lecture,
Patty's Confidences,
Records of the Past,
Account of an Apparition seen at Star Cross, in Devonshire,
What is the Good of Freemasonry?

Our Archæological Corner,
Oration, by M.W. Grand Master Van Slyck,
The Present Influence and Future Mission of Freemasonry,
Poetry,
Nous avons Change Cela!
P.P.C.
Shadows,
How may I know you to be a Mason
On the Stairway, 11, p.m.

The Masonic Magazine will be forwarded from the Office of Publication, throughout the United Kingdom, on the following terms—

	s.	d.
Twelve months	7	0
Six "	3	6
One Copy	0	7

For Foreign parts, postage on 4 oz. Magazine must be added.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, E.C.

Printed and Published by the Freeman, Thos. George Kenning, at his Offices, 198, Fleet-street, and 2, 3, and 4, Little Britain, in the City of London; County of Lancaster; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.—SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1874.

CONSECRATION OF A NEW LODGE IN LIVERPOOL.

THE First Masonic Lodge Consecration, after the ceremony of dedicating the new Masonic Hall, Liverpool, of which we gave full particulars last week, took place within its walls on Monday, the 12th inst., and as all the surroundings were of the most interesting and successful character, the gathering was a fitting inauguration of the actual work of the hall. The new lodge is entitled "The Lodge of Israel," numbered 1502 on the register of the Grand Lodge of England, and as its name indicates, its principal promoters and supporters are members of the Hebrew persuasion, although there will be nothing like sectarianism in either constitution or working. The brethren of the Jewish religion in Liverpool have long been prominently identified with Masonic charity and benevolence, and there is no doubt that the new lodge which now bears their distinctive name for the first time here will be amongst the best in the province. For the auspicious opening of the lodge of Israel, much credit is due to Bro. Isaac de Frece, who has spared no effort to make even its inauguration successful, and he has been very ably seconded by Bro. Ralph Robinson, the W.M. designate, who is well-known as a spirited and loyal Mason throughout the Masonic division of the country. The new lodge has already a very large membership, and many of them have already made their mark in masonry, the convention has in it all the elements of successful working.

By appointment of Bro. the Right Honourable Lord Skelmersdale, Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master of West Lancashire, the ceremony was conducted by Bro. Horace S. Moss, Pro. G. Secretary, assisted by Bro. J. F. Goggin, W.M. 155, P.P.G. Chaplain, and Bro. Wylie, P.P.G.S.D. Bro. J. Skeaf, P.G. Organist, conducted the excellent musical service, a special choral portion of the ceremony being rendered by Bros. D. Saunders, 1299; J. Hughes, 216; J. Busfield, 216; W. G. de, Org.; 1356, 594, &c., and W. Robinson,

The following is a complete list of those present:—

Bros. H. S. Alpass, P.G. Sec.; R. Wylie, P.P.G.S.D.; R. Wilson, P.G.S.D.; the Rev. J. Goggin, P.P.G.C.; J. Skeaf, P.G.O.; R. Robinson, P.M., 241; A. Levy, P.M.; J. Lazarus, P.M., 1017 and 205; H. Mair, P.M., 211; W. Shortis, P.M., 724; J. Robinson, P.M., 211; P. Kune, P.M., 216; W. M. Chudley, W.M., 241; R. Brown, S.W., 241; T. Ashmore, P.M., 241; W. G. Veale, Org., 1356, &c.; J. Frank, 203; V. M. Myers, S.D., 1017; P. W. Sby, S., 823; G. Hutchin, J.W., 241; J. de, Treas., 1094; I. de Frece, 594; A. Jones, 241; J. Moss, 241; H. J. Henochsberg, 724; A. Levy, 241; B. Woolf, 241; D. C. Marks, 241; Maurice de Frece, 241; A. Hart, 724; Barnett, 249; S. Schonstade, 1299; D. L. Bus, 724; M. Goldstone, 249; S. Jacob, 241; L. Wagner, 220; P. A. Crozier, 370; W. Leski, 613; M. A. Prinslan, 220; J. Torte, 241; M. Hart, 724; M. Parkes, 1182; Lawes, 263; M. Aronsberg, 243; J. Lazarus, 241; J. Golds-omquinos, 673; J. Lloyd, 249; J. Golds-omquinos, 241; L. Summons; H. M. Selva, 218; Moss, 1299; I. Woolf, 1393; A. Vandyke, W. J. Chapman, 667; D. Saunders, 1299; Busfield, 216; and W. L. Bathgate, 241.

The brethren assembled in the lodge room early before three o'clock, and after Bro. H. Alpass, the presiding officer, had taken the oath, he appointed Bro. W. M. Chudley as his Pro. G. Secretary, Bro. J. Lazarus as his J.W., and Bro. R. Robinson as the Assistant Secretary, during the consecration ceremony. The lodge having been opened in the three degrees, the brethren of the lodge were ranged in order, and an opening prayer was offered, followed by Skeaf's beautiful "God of life, whose love unceasing," and certain other formulas peculiar to the ceremony, an eloquent and appropriate oration was read by the Rev. J. F. Goggin, P.P.G. Chaplain. Skeaf's splendid anthem, "Behold the Lord," was then sung by the choir, and the first portion of the consecration prayer was offered by the P.G.C. The lodge was then uncovered, and the cornucopia, wine, and oil were borne by Bro. J. M'Kune, P.M., 216; Bro. W. Shortis, P.M., 724; and Bro. H. Mair, P.M., 211; the salt being carried by Bro. R. Brown, Assistant Secretary. After Skeaf's anthem, "Glory to God," had been given, the P.P.G.C. carried the censor round the lodge; the second portion of the consecration ceremony was then offered, and this portion of the solemn proceedings was brought to a close with Bro. Skeaf's anthem, "Hail, universal Lord."

Immediately afterwards Bro. Alpass, P.G., Sec., who had done his work with rare Masonic talent, proceeded with the installation of Bro. Ralph Robinson, P.M. and Preceptor of the Merchants' Lodge, No. 241, as the Worshipful Master of the Lodge of Israel. The presentation of Bro. Robinson for the benefits or installation was made by Bro. the Rev. J. T. Goggin, P.P.G.C., and Bro. R. Wylie, P.P.S.G.D. After a full board of installed Masters had been held, the brethren were readmitted, and saluted the newly-chaired W.M. in the three degrees. The following were subsequently named and invested as the first officers of the lodge by the W.M.:—Bro. Maurice de Frece, S.W.; Bro. Alfred J. Henochsberg, J.W.; Bro. Professor Prag, Chaplain; Bro. Isaac de Frece, Treasurer; Bro. M. Hart, Secretary; Bro. A. Jones, S.D.; Bro. S. Schonstade, J.D.; Bro. B. Woolf, I.G.; Bro. W. G. Veale, Org.; Bro. A. P. Crozier, S.S.; Bro. A. Hart, J.S.; and Bro. W. H. Ball, Tyler. Before the lodge was closed there were an extraordinary number of propositions for initiation and joining, and the W.M. gave notice that he would move the first Monday in the month should be the day of meeting of their lodge. After some other business of a purely formal character, the lodge was closed in solemn form.

It should be stated that the clothing, officers' jewels, &c., were supplied from the well-known Masonic establishment of Bro. G. Kenning, of London and Liverpool, and the quality and workmanship of the whole elicited the heartiest commendation and general admiration. Presents to the lodge (also furnished by Bro. Kenning), were made by the Treasurer, the S.W., J.W., Sec., S.D., J.D., and others, and each of the gifts were also worthy of the occasion.

Subsequent to the business proceedings the whole of the brethren sat down in the large dining hall to a magnificent and recherche banquet, provided by Messrs. Fisk and Fairhurst, Castle Street. The tables were beautifully decorated, the effect being greatly enhanced by a splendid silver centre-piece, kindly lent by Bro. J. Goldberg, 1502. The menu and toast-card, executed by Bros. Wilson and Jacobs, was a model of exquisite taste, and the front was adorned with portraits of the W.M. and all his officers, taken by Messrs. Vandyke and Brown. After grace, according to the Mosaic ritual, had been recited by Bro. Professor Prag, and dessert-holders placed on the table,

The W.M. gave the toast of "The Queen," speaking of her as a model sovereign, and a lady whose worth and virtues endeared her to the heart of every subject, and to none more than Masons, whose loyalty to the throne was undoubted. (Cheers).

The W.M.: The next toast I have to give you is that of "His Royal Highness Bro. Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, M.W.P.G.M., the Princess of Wales, and the Rest of the Royal Family." Like the preceding, this toast will at once recommend itself to your notice—as representing the Royal Family it will recommend itself to your notice. But there is one point to which I wish especially to call your attention, and that is the very great gratification and satisfaction which our Royal brother—now the Past Grand Master—would give to the whole brotherhood by accepting the position of Grand Master. (Hear, hear.) If his Royal Highness should be pleased to accept that position it would not only be creditable to himself, but most satisfactory to the Order. (Applause).

The W.M. next gave the Earl of Carnarvon, R.W.D.G.M. of England," and the Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, R.W.P.G.M., the Hon. F. Stanley, W.D.P.G.M., and the officers of the Past Grand Lodge." In proposing the latter he referred to the very great interest which his lordship and his deputy invariably took in all that concerned the welfare of the Craft in this province. He (Brother Robinson) had that evening much pleasure in welcoming his friend, the youngest P.G. officer, Brother Robert Wilson. He need not say how much they were indebted to Brother Wilson for the large, comfortable, and commodious hall in which they were assembled, as he had been untiring in his efforts in connection with it.

Bro. R. Wilson, P.G.S.D., in acknowledging the toast, said it must be a source of the greatest satisfaction to the P.G. Lodge to find that such a lodge as No. 1502 had been consecrated that day. It was pleasing to find so many recruits of that character, and he trusted that the lodge which had that day been inaugurated would fill and occupy a place second to none in the province, especially with regard to its efforts in connection with their noble charity. He was sure the lodge had been placed under the direction of one than whom none could be more sincere, more active, or more capable, and he wished their W.M. (Bro. Robinson) the greatest prosperity during his mastership. It was now twelve years since he (Bro. Wilson) first met their W.M. in Masonry, and during that time they had gone hand-in-hand, passing through a great many vicissitudes, and therefore he knew how ably and how anxiously their W.M. had worked to secure his high Masonic position—(Hear). They had been placed under the direction of one who was well able to instruct them in Masonry, and who would give lustre to the position which he was called upon to fill—(Applause).

The W.M. then submitted the toast, "The Consecrating Officers," referring to the admirable manner in which the work had been done by Bro. Alpass and his assistants. He (the W.M.) had never felt more deeply impressed by any ceremony in Freemasonry than he had been that day; and therefore their heartiest thanks were due to the consecrating officers for their very valuable services.

Bro. H. S. Alpass, P.G. Sec., returned his sincere thanks for the toast and honourable mention. It had given him the greatest pleasure to be present that day, because he was convinced that the Lodge of Israel would occupy a position alike honourable to itself and creditable to the Craft generally. He wished the lodge every prosperity, and he had no doubt that under the able and careful Mastership of Bro. Robinson, whom he had long known as an admirable Mason, they would prosper. To Hebrews it was scarcely necessary to preach charity, for he believed that as a body they both preached and practised it amongst themselves; but whilst he did that, he would just ask them not to forget their Masonic charities.

Bro. R. Wylie, P.P.S.G.D., also responded. The W.M. next gave "Prosperity to the Lodge of Israel," speaking of the various gifts which had been made to the lodge, and referring especially to the valuable services rendered by Bro. Isaac de Frece, Treasurer. But for his perseverance and self-sacrifice, he (Bro. Robinson) would not have been there as W.M., as he had, in the face of many difficulties, still persevered in his efforts to establish the lodge.

Bro. I. de Frece, Treasurer, thanked the brethren for the honour they had done him, and assured them that his only motive in seeking to establish the lodge was to give an opportunity to the many young masons to come to the front. If the lodge proved to be successful, he would be amply repaid for all the efforts he had employed on its behalf. He hoped and believed that they would have a lodge equal to any in Liverpool.

Bro. H. S. Alpass, P.G. Sec., then proposed the health of "The Worshipful Master." The brethren, he said, had shown their high opinion of Bro. Robinson by deciding at the preliminary meetings that he should be their first W.M., and that opinion had been cordially endorsed during the evening by the way in which his name had been received. Bro. Robinson had been a well-known and highly-esteemed mason for many years, and there was no doubt that the lodge would prosper under his reign—(Hear, hear).

Bro. Ralph Robinson, W.M., in responding to the toast, sincerely thanked the brethren for the very kind way in which his name had been received. While he was afraid his merits had been placed on a higher platform than they deserved, he assured the brethren that he would do his very best to promote the welfare and well-working of the lodge. Why had they formed that lodge? Simply because they found the usual dietary laws were opposed to their laws as Jews. They sat with their Christian brethren, drank with them, smoked with them, but they could not partake of what they put before them to eat. All they asked was to see that some watched to see that every thing was cleanly cooked. In all else they were as one in Masonry with their Christian brethren, and he hoped that the idea would not go forth that it was a sectarian lodge because named the Lodge of Israel. That was far from their thoughts, which was clearly shown by the fact that a Christian brother had been appointed to one of the offices. In conclusion, Bro. Robinson proposed "The Officers of the Lodge."

Bro. M. de Frece, S.W., and Bro. A. J. Hencksberg, J.W., responded.

"The Charities," "The Visiting Brethren," "The Musical Brethren," and "All Poor and Distressed Masons," were the remaining toasts on the list.

Excellent music was furnished during the evening by Bros. Saunders, Hughes, Bushfield, Robinson, and Veale; Bro. Skeaf presiding at the piano.

Telegrams of a congratulatory kind were received by the W.M. from Bro. A. J. Myers, editor of the Jewish Chronicle, and from the W.M., Wardens, and Brethren of the Lodge of Israel, Birmingham.

CONSECRATION OF THE HEMMING LODGE, (No. 1512).

The consecration of the Hemming Lodge, (No. 1512), took place at the Lion Hotel, Hampton, on Thursday, the 15th inst.

About forty brethren were present; amongst those were Bros. W. Hammond, P.M., 201, W.M., 1,326, and P.G.S. Middlesex, W.M. Designate; E. Hopwood, P.M., 141, S.W. Designate; S. Hill, P.M., 157 and 657, J.W. Designate; R. Wentworth Little, P.M.P.G., Secretary, Middlesex, Secretary to the Girls' School, &c.; Thomas W. White, P.M., P.G., Steward of England, &c.; Raynham M. Stewart, P.D.G.M. of Middlesex, S.G.D., &c.; H. G. Bass, P.G., Treasurer, 1293, &c.; R. T. Elsam, P.M. 889, P.P.G., D.C. Surrey; John Boyd, P.G.P. of England; S. B. Oldham, P.M. 4, Assistant Treasurer and Secretary of Ireland, Secretary of the Boys' and Girls' Schools, Ireland; R. T. Stacey, P.M., 209; H. Potter, P.M., 11, &c.; J. Wilson, P.M. 209; B. Platt, P.M. 144; J. W. Ramsey, M.D., W.M. 778; J. Bond, J.W. 889; J. W. Davitt, W.M. 1365; J. W. George, G. Musgrave, and H. D. Martin, all of 1309; R. Lumpus, W.M. 1308, P.P., G.O. Middlesex; H. Barrett, 244; J. Williams, 699, (Freemason), and others.

The following petitioners, in addition to the principal officers, with others among those named above, D. B. Raw, P.M., 157; H. Jepson, 255; John Hammond, P.M. 201, and of 1326; Thos. Clarke, J. Hurst, W. J. Cox, Thos. Wheeler, R. Getteridge, T. G. Tagg, J. C. Jessert, and W. Fox.

The ceremony of consecration and installation was performed by the W., Bro. Robert Wentworth Little, P.M., P.G., Secretary, (the officer appointed for the purpose by the R.W., Bro. Colonel Burdett, Provincial Grand Master, Representative of the Grand Lodge of Ireland), assisted by W. Bro. Thomas W. White, P.M., P.G., Steward of England, as D.C.

The brethren assembled at half-past three p.m., and formed in procession, the juniors first, headed by the Director of the Ceremonies. After entering the Lodge room, the Consecrating Officer took the Master's Chair, and appointed the Wardens, who were Bro. H. G. Bass as S.W., and Bro. John Boyd, J.W. The Lodge was then opened in the three degrees. An opening prayer offered. After which a piece of solemn music was played by the P.G.O. The brethren were then addressed on the nature of the meeting, particular reference being made to the late Bro. Dr. Hemming, whose name the Lodge has taken, and who was no less than twelve times W.M. of the Lodge while held at Hampton, before being taken to its present quarters at Richmond, and who was selected by the M.W.G.M. the late Duke of Sussex, as one of the twelve Masters (afterwards increased to fifteen, to agree with the fifteen sections), appointed at the reconciliation. After the petition and warrant was read, and the brethren had signified their approval of the same, the Consecrating Officer delivered an oration upon the nature and principles of the order, which was listened to with the most profound attention by the whole of the assembled brethren. It was adorned throughout with that amount of eloquence which distinguishes our able brother.

Anthem. Bro. R. Limpus, "Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is, brethren, to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard, and went down to the skirts of his clothing. Like as the dew of Hermon which fell upon the hill of Sion. For there the Lord promised his blessing, and life for evermore." The Director of Ceremonies then presented the new Master to the Presiding Officer, who placed him on his left, the brethren of the new Lodge arranging themselves on each side of the Lodge Board. The first portion of the Dedication Prayer was then given; the brethren all chant, "So mote it be." Sanctus, "Glory be to Thee, O Lord." After the Scripture Readings, all the brethren turned to the east, whilst the Presiding Officer gave the Invocation. To which the brethren chant, "So mote it be." The Lodge Board was then uncovered, and the W.M. and Wardens carried the consecrating elements, corn, wine, and oil, three times round the Lodge during solemn music. "Glory be to God on High, peace on earth, Good-will towards men." All chanting, "So mote it be." The censer was then taken three times round the Lodge during solemn music, and the Presiding Officer dedicated the Lodge. The second portion of the Dedication Prayer was then offered and the Lodge constituted, the brethren all chanting, "So mote it be." Anthem, Haydn.

The spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue, ethereal sky,
And spangled heaven, a shining frame,
Their great original proclaim.
The unwearied sun from day to day,
Does his Creator's power display,
And publishes to every land,
The work of an Almighty hand.
What though in solemn silence all
Move round this dark terrestrial ball?
What though no real voice nor sound,
Amid their radiant orbs be found?
In Reason's ear they all rejoice,
And utter forth a glorious voice,
For ever singing as they shine,
The hand that made us is Divine.

After the Patriarchal Benediction, the installation of the W.M. and appointment of officers took place.

The Lodge was then resumed to the second degree, the Director of Ceremonies presenting Bro. Hammond for installation. Lodge was then resumed to the third degree, and all the brethren under the rank of P.M. retired. In their absence a Board of Installed Masters, numbering seventeen in all, was held, and Bro. Hammond was installed as the first W.M. of Hemming Lodge, No. 1512. The brethren, on their re-admission all saluted the new W.M. in the several degrees, and the following brethren were invested officers for the ensuing year: E.

Hopwood, S.W.; S. Hill, J.W.; H. J. Treasurer; J. Hammond, Secretary; R. pus, P. Prov. G. Organist; J. Hurst, W. J. Cox, J.D.; T. Wheeler, J.G.; R. teridge, D.C.; H. Potter, Steward, and J. bert, P.G.T., Tyler.

At the close of the installation ceremony the Consecrating Officer reminded the office the new Lodge that a great trust had been posed on them. Wishing that brotherly and perfection would ever prevail amongst all; at the same time giving each advice encouragement, to have the one end in view promoting the happiness of all connected the Lodge, and assisting the W.M. to carry his great duties in the advancement of the principles of the order, brotherly love, relief truth.

The W.M. rose and said: Brethren, I propose that a vote of thanks be presented to Bros. Little and White for the very manner in which they have performed the monies, which you have all witnessed this evening, and I also propose that those two distinguished brethren be elected honorary members of the Hemming Lodge. The work has ably performed, and I trust we shall have pleasure of seeing those brethren frequent one meeting, and that they may find that working of our local Lodge proves worthy of able inauguration.

The proposition having been seconded by S.W., was put and carried unanimously.

Bro. Little: I speak for myself and Bro. W. and I assure you we thank you heartily for the compliment you have paid us. It has given very great pleasure in coming down here to you, and I beg to congratulate you, Worshipful on your success to-day, and I trust you may only be spared to act as Master, but to witness the progress of the Hemming Lodge for many years to come. Again we thank you.

Bro. S. B. Oldham: Worshipful Sir, and brethren, and all, I rise with pleasure on behalf of the Grand Lodge of Ireland, to congratulate you on the success of the proceedings to-day and wish you every prosperity.

A letter of apology was then read from Colonel Burdett, regretting his absence, wishing them success.

A similar apology was received from the Provincial Secretary, as well as from some of the principal members of the Lebanon Lodge, 1326.

The Lodge was closed after the hearty wishes had been conveyed to the W.M. several of the representatives of other Lodges. The brethren then adjourned to the banquet room, where an elegant repast was served. W. Hammond, W.M. presiding, supported by Bros. Little, Stewart, Buss, Oldham, White, Ramsey, Raw, &c. After the removal of cloth, and grace being said,

The Chairman, in giving the toast of "Queen and the Craft," said, We have met for the first time, and dedicated a lodge to evolution and charity. There is always a pleasing idea connected with the first toast especially so on this occasion, it being the Queen and the Craft. The Queen is high position, not only here at home, but throughout the world, and has the confidence and wishes of all.

There is a beautiful connection between Queen and the Craft—the Queen having sympathies of the whole nation; the Craft mandating the hearts of the whole fraternity both holding a universal dominion. I give with all earnestness "The Queen and the Craft."

The toast was duly honoured, the brethren singing the National Anthem.

The Chairman: The next toast is one of most pleasing character indeed, it is H.R.H. M.W. Past and Acting Grand the Princess of Wales, and rest of the Family.

We all regret losing our Past Grand but great regret I am sure is intense at the of the Lodge-room, especially to those familiar with the working of our late G. have also been intimately connected with his official duties. Every Mason sure, regret losing such a head, but at the same time we may congratulate ourselves in having one who, with his youth, ability, and devotion, will, equally at least, promote the best interests of the Order. I therefore give you H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, M.W.P.M.; the Princess of Wales, and rest of Royal Family; nor must we forget to include the young Prince, this very day added to the scions of the House of Hanover, and His Imperial mother, the consort of our sailor Duke.

The toast having been drunk, a glee, "The Prince and Princess," was sung heartily.

The Chairman: I have now to propose the Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Carnarvon, and the rest of the Grand Officers, Past and Present. I have pleasure in saying we have tonight many officers who appreciate the abilities and zeal of our D.G.M. He is a most practical man, and had not H.R.H. the Prince of Wales accepted the office of G.M., most likely our D.G.M. would have been elected, and his past services show how excellent would have been that choice. I therefore give you the Deputy Grand Master, and the rest of the Grand Officers, coupled with the name of Bro. Boyd.

Bro. Boyd, on rising, said: I think under the peculiar circumstances of my response you will allow me to be very brief. As I have some distance to go, I shall not detain you with a lengthy speech. Permit me on behalf of the Deputy Grand Master, and the rest of the Grand Officers, to thank you sincerely for the very kind manner in which you have drunk their healths.

The Chairman: I next propose the health of the R.W. Provincial Grand Master, Col. Burdett. I sincerely regret not having him amongst us to-day, but from his letter we have heard read to-day, I am sure we have his hearty good wishes. He is a sincerely good man, and I do not know where we could find a P.G.M. so kindly disposed to the interests of the Province as our P.G.M. He has devoted a long life to Masonry. Commencing in India, he returned to this country, and won high honours—honours in Ireland, in addition to that of becoming P.G.M. I give you the health of our worthy brother, the R.W.P.G.M., and Representative of the Grand Lodge of Ireland, Col. Burdett.

The toast was enthusiastically drunk.

Song—"Tom Bowling."—Bro. McDavid.

The Chairman: The next toast is one of great interest, and one which gives me very great pleasure to propose, it being that of the "visitors." We have a good number here, and hope among so many good masons we shall see some of them members. We have Bro. Stewart, who is well known in the Province, and whom I claim as having the same mother lodge myself, No. 201. His goodness of heart and sterling masonic qualities are highly appreciated. Then we have Bro. Buss, who has seen long service and has attained to a prominent position. He is highly respected in the Grand Office, and far as working masonry is concerned, he is always ready, as we have witnessed this day, to exert his power in promoting it. We have also Bro. Boyd, who is equally well known to those who have any experience of Masonry. He is looked up to in Grand Lodge with great respect. Then our Bro. Dr. Ramsay is progressing in the right direction with firm and steady steps, both in his profession and in the Craft. He is now M. of Lodge 778, "The Bard of Avon," and is the great coadjutor with Bro. the D.P.G.M. of Middlesex, in transferring that lodge from the banks of the Avon to this province on the banks of the Thames. Bro. Oldham enjoys a very high position in his native country, Ireland. He here Assistant Grand Secretary, and also Secretary of the Boys' and Girls' Schools. He performs very onerous and honourable duties to persons, duties which he discharges with great skill and ability. It now gives me very great pleasure in proposing the health of our distinguished brethren and the rest of the visitors.

The toast was duly honoured.

Bro. Buss: I have never felt such a pleasure as to do to-night in returning thanks for the kind manner in which you have used my name. In reference to my duties as a mason, I have always endeavoured to make myself thoroughly acquainted with the principles of Masonry, and am always happy to render all the assistance I can. It has been my pleasing duty, and I trust I shall be able to continue to do so in the future. In reference to the Province of Middlesex, I may say it is one of the youngest, but certainly not the smallest. And it commands at its head one of the most highly esteemed brethren in the Craft. In no province do we find more esteem paid to a G.M. than which is paid to ours. I again beg to thank you for the kind manner in which you have drunk my health. (Cheers.)

Bro. Oldham: I feel a very great pride in returning to you on behalf of the Grand Lodge of Ireland my sincere thanks, and if ever any of the brethren present should come to Ireland we would endeavour to make you welcome and happy. In reference to our schools you are ahead of us in number. You have about three girls to our one, and the boys even more. We are endeavouring to follow in your footsteps as to the management. But I think we can boast that we give our boys and girls better outfits, and also keep up a more perfect correspondence with them for three or four years, which we find answers admirably. Colonel Burdett is one of my oldest masonic friends, he being the brother who came forward on my initiation and took me by the hand. Again accept my sincere thanks, at the same time I wish you every success.

Bro. Dr. Ramsay: I beg to return you my sincere thanks for the compliment you have just paid me. After some further remarks, our brother again returned thanks, wishing the lodge every success.

Part Song—"When evening's twilight."

Chairman: I now propose the Dep. Pro. Grand Master and rest of Provincial Grand Officers, Past and Present. This toast I am sure you will all respond to most heartily. Our D.P.G.M. is well known to you as a brother of great ability. He being on the Continent just now is unable to be present to-day. In him we have a worthy brother. There is something so genial, good and kind in his composition, that we experience an absolute loss in his absence. I shall couple with the toast the name of Bro. Raynham Stewart, Bro. Parkinson's immediate predecessor in office.

The toast was duly honoured.

Song—"Come live with me."—Bro. H. D.

Martin.

Bro. Stewart: Worshipful Sir and brethren, I rise with great pleasure to return thanks. The D.P.G.M. is one for whom I know you have very great respect. His desire is to do all that he can to promote Masonry, indeed his marked ability is unceasing in its interests. On behalf of the officers just named, I thank you all, and trust you will, Worshipful Sir, live many years to preside over this lodge as its father. I, as the first deputy Grand Master appointed in this Province, feel great pleasure in seeing the progress of Masonry within its precincts. It is a source of gratification to hear of fresh lodges springing up amongst us, bringing in good Masons, and in no case do I rejoice more sincerely than on the occasion of the inauguration of the Hemming Lodge. My advice is not to have too great a number than from 25 to 40, then each will take an interest in the work. Brethren all, it also affords me great pleasure in saying we have brethren in this province who are able to do such work as we have seen this day. It has been admirable throughout and second to none. Our brothers Little and White did the work beautifully, not a single hitch took place. I am sure you will with me thank them for the able manner in which they consecrated the lodge. Allow me therefore to take this toast out of the hands of the W.M., and ask you to drink the health of the Consecrating Officers.

The toast was enthusiastically drunk.

Glee—"Strike the Lyre."

Bro. Little: Worshipful Sir and Brethren all, I thank you sincerely for the kind manner you have responded to the toast. It has given me a great deal of pleasure to come down here to perform the ceremony of consecration. To-day I have been ably assisted by Bros. Buss and White. I have always found kind assistance in them. For the services of to-day you have recompensed us most nobly. After some further remarks, Bro. Little congratulated the new W.M. and the officers of the lodge, wishing them every success and prosperity. He then proposed the health of the W.M., and success to the Hemming Lodge.

Glee—"By Celia's Harbour."

The W.M. on rising, said: Brethren all, I scarcely know how to thank you for the very kind manner in which my health has been proposed, and in which you have responded in such sincerity, that words fail me to express myself effectively. I am sure my Bro. Wardens will do their utmost in promoting the interests of the lodge. We are an offspring of the Lebanon. That lodge has been in existence about four years; No. of members over 100. This number was greatly beyond the control of any ordinary Master. I felt as the W.M., that as the number was so large, with a fair number of residents in the locality, we ought to have a lodge of our own—a local lodge. We then looked round to find men who could commence. After other arrangements, we decided on naming it the Hemming Lodge, after the late Dr. Hemming, a talented resident in the parish. In 1813 he was appointed by the Duke of Sussex as one of the twelve masters to bring about the reconciliation of the unions. The brethren having signed the petition to the number of 27, nearly all local members of the Lebanon, the warrant was granted, and this day you have seen the result. I thank you heartily for your good wishes, and this brings me to my next pleasing duty, to refer to my officers, and first to propose the health of one of the petitioners, our worthy brother Henry Jepson, who is highly esteemed by us all. He has spent over half a century in this parish, and is much appreciated for his high qualities. I am also proud that he is one of the officers of this lodge. He, as Treasurer, is placed in the most honourable office the lodge can confer, without imposing upon him duties incompatible with his advanced age. The S.W. and J.W. are men well-known in Masonry, and the L.D. and J.D. will, I am sure, in good time prove themselves equal to their duties. Bro. Limpus has also discharged the duties of organist very ably, whilst the rest of the officers have done their work well. From the earnest of this day's successful proceedings, the officers one and all will, I am sure, prove themselves very efficient—(Cheers.)

Song—"Hearts of Oak," Bro. Albert Hubbard.

Bro. Hopwood.—I thank you sincerely for the kind manner in which you have drunk my health. I shall always endeavour to be at my post.

Bro. Hill returned thanks, in suitable terms.

Glee—"The Mighty Conqueror."

Bro. Jepson in returning thanks said:—It was not my intention to take any practical part in the lodge. I felt I could not fulfil the duties as I ought. If I had the eloquence of Bro. Little, and the qualities of Bro. White that we have witnessed this day, I should feel more able to perform the duties. Our Bro. Little has performed the consecration in a manner that could not be exceeded, and he forcibly reminded me of Dr. Hemming. I knew him well in his best days; no man at that time understood the theory and practice of Masonry better than he. I was made a Mason by him in this room fifty-three years ago, and was also exalted here to the R.A. degree fifty years ago. I commenced my Masonic career in this room, and I must now believe I shall end it here. It affords me very great pleasure in returning to you all my sincere thanks, and I trust I shall be spared to discharge my duties to the satisfaction of you all (Cheers.)

Glee—"Sleep, gentle lady."

The rest of the officers then returned thanks in appropriate terms.

The Tyler's toast brought the proceedings to a close.

We may add, the whole of the day's programme was carried out with great satisfaction to all present.

The musical arrangements, under the direction of Bro. Limpus were carried out with great ability, and gave telling effect to the ceremonies.

GRAND LODGE OF QUEBEC.

On Sept. 23, this body met in annual communication in the Masonic Chambers, Place d'Armes. There was a good attendance of representatives from the Province. M.W. Bro. J. H. Graham, L.L.D., &c., occupied the chair. After ordinary routine business, connected with the perfecting credential of representatives, the members from the lodges recently under Canada, and now affiliating with the Grand Lodge of Quebec, were introduced by the Deputy Grand Master, R. W. Bro. Dunbar, and cordially welcomed. The Grand Master then read his annual address as follows:—

Brethren,—This day becomes memorable in the annals of Freemasonry in the Province of Quebec. Seven years' discussion of constitutional principles is ended. All differences hitherto existing between the M.W. of the Grand Lodge of Canada and this Grand Body have been happily adjusted. Jurisdiction within our territory has been formally withdrawn, due recognition has been most fraternally extended to us, our Grand Representative, M.W. Bro. T. D. Harrington, has been most honourably and heartily received—the consummation of all which this day, and the honourable and perfect union now most harmoniously effected between the daughter lodges of "Canada" in this jurisdiction, and this Grand Lodge is, I am sure, a source of profound satisfaction and deep, heartfelt joy to every one of you; and to every true Mason of whatever registry he may, hitherto, have been; and I am confident that this will prove to be the beginning of a new era of prosperity to the craft throughout the entire Province, and will be a cause of unusual rejoicing throughout the Masonic world.

All thanks are due to the able and prudent brethren in both the Grand Lodges of Canada and Quebec, who officially or otherwise have so earnestly and efficiently laboured to bring about this most desirable end. May they long live to see the blessed fruits of their good work. May one and all put out of sight and out of mind all past differences, and each strive to excel in that noblest of emulation of who can best work, and best agree, so that our symbolic temple may be erected, harmoniously and successfully, and in the perfection of beauty, to the honour and glory of the Great Architect of the Universe. So mote it be.

Circumstances required me to visit England during the early part of the year. A favouring Providence afforded me the pleasure of reaching London, (that great metropolis of the world,) on the seventy-sixth anniversary of the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys,—one of the oldest and most noteworthy of the great Masonic charities of England, and under the patronage of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, (than whom no better sovereign ever graced a throne). I accepted a most courteous invitation which was immediately extended to me, to attend the anniversary banquet in the evening, at which the Grand Master, the Most Honourable the Marquis of Ripon presided. Some four or five hundred representative brethren from London and all parts of England were present on the occasion. Nothing could exceed the fraternal heartiness of my reception as your representative by his Lordship and many other leading officers and brethren of the Grand Lodge, for which, personally and in your behalf, I improve this opportunity to return most grateful thanks. A noteworthy feature of the occasion was the presence of several hundred ladies at a magnificent entertainment given in the grand hall after the banquet. From this our brethren may be reminded of their own remissness in not having the ladies share in some of our annual festivities. You will doubtless be pleased to have me allude to certain historic reminiscences and associations brought to mind during my recent sojourn to the Mother Country, as relating to the Masonic history of this grand old Province of Quebec. It appears that no other actual Grand Master from either division of old Canada has hitherto visited the Mother Country.

This is not wholly devoid of interest in itself, but serves to call to mind an event of far greater historical importance to the Craft in this Province, namely the departure from Quebec, after a residence of about two-and-a-half years,—just four-score years previous—of the first Grand Master of the Provincial Lodge of Lower Canada, His Royal Highness Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, the illustrious father of our beloved Queen. Those of you who in 1869, aided in the formation of the Grand Lodge of the Province of Quebec, will, I am sure, be delighted ever to remember that you were but reviving the far-seeing Masonic policy of the Mother Grand Lodge of England, when, in 1792, she established the Provincial Grand Lodge of Lower Canada; and he is indeed highly honoured to whose lot it falls to be a humble successor in the Masonic Government of the same territory, of its first royal and illustrious chief.

It is, moreover, a matter of very deep interest to the craft that the illustrious grandson of our noble brother, the Most Worshipful the Prince of Wales, is now the distinguished Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England, and a zealous patron of our order, and also the illustrious chief of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, &c. It is, indeed, a happy omen that now, as of old, Kings and Princes are promoters of the art—that they do not think it derogatory to their dignity to exchange the sceptre for the gavel, to patronise our mysteries, and join our assemblies.

I desire to call the attention of Grand Lodge to what I deem a matter of singular importance ere the Fathers of the craft have passed away, or the records now accessible shall have gone into oblivion. The written history of Freemasonry in this province would be of profound interest and of great importance. Every zealous brother earnestly desires to know more of the Provincial Grand Lodges of Lower Canada, of Quebec and Three Rivers, of Montreal and William Henry, and some of the oldest "daughter" lodges on the American continent, I would, therefore, recommend Grand Lodge to take into consideration the advisability of appointing a Historical Committee composed of at least one eminent and devoted brother from each district, and that Grand Lodge defray the incidental expenses connected therewith.

I improve the present memorable occasion, to communicate to Grand Lodge one or two extracts from ancient documents of no little interest to the Craft in this province. They will explain themselves:—

"In the year of Masonry 580. The most noble Prince John, Duke and Marquis of Athol, Marquis and Earl of Tullibardine, Earl of Stratblay, Stratbardle, Viscount of Balquider, Glenalmond and Glenlyon, Lord Murray, Belveny and Gask, heritable Captain and Constable of the Castle and Constabulary of Kincleaven, Earl Strange and Baron Murray of Stanley, in the County of Gloucester, etc., Grand Master of the Most Ancient and Honorable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, etc.

"These bye-laws printed by order of the Grand Lodge.

"Rules and orders which are to be punctually observed and kept by the Most Ancient and Honourable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, according to the old constitutions granted by His Royal Highness Prince Edwin of York, in the Year of Our Lord, Nine Hundred Twenty and Six, and in the year of Masonry, Four Thousand Nine Hundred Twenty and Six.

"In order to prevent all feuds, controversies, illegal arguments, or debates, which might in any sort disturb or make void the true intent and meaning of this our unanimous conjunction,—We, the Master, Wardens, Deacons and Secretary, together with the rest of the members of our Lodge, No. 18 (by and with the approbation and consent of the Grand Lodge) have thought proper to subscribe and establish the following Rules:—

"No. 1. That a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, aforesaid, shall be held at the Township of Eaton, to sit the Thursday preceding the Full Moon, of each Calendar month, &c."

In the Minutes of this Lodge, I find the names of twenty-seven members recorded.

The above will probably give an unexpected intimation to many brethren of the existence and progress of our Fraternity, even in the remote parts of the Eastern Townships of Lower Canada, in the early part of the present century, and serve to point out the propriety of rescuing from oblivion as far as possible, so interesting a history.

Now that our relations with the Grand Lodge of Canada are so happily and harmoniously adjusted, it is reasonably to be anticipated that our relations to the Imperial Mother Grand Lodges of England and Scotland will in like manner, be most satisfactorily arranged at an early day, by the affiliation with this Grand Lodge of the few remaining Lodges in this jurisdiction still holding warrants from England and Scotland, and by full and complete recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, as the only Sovereign Masonic authority in and for this Province, and by the establishment of fraternal communication and correspondence, and the interchange of Grand Representatives.

England, after having for more than a century aided in establishing and upholding our beloved Order on the continent of North America, will equally honour herself in this last great act of the historical drama, in the withdrawing of the last vestige of her Masonic jurisdiction, feeling assured that, in accordance with our ancient constitutions so clearly evolved in the entire Masonic history of Grand Lodge organization and jurisdiction on this continent, she is lawfully and fraternally committing the supreme government of the craft here, to those who as Masons or as men will not prove themselves unworthy of their origin or their destiny. So mote it be.

We are indeed greatly indebted to many eminent brethren abroad for their able advocacy of our cause, and for their kindly, fraternal support extended to this Grand Lodge, which we deem it a pleasure thus formally and gratefully to acknowledge.

I now beg to express my hearty regrets that I have been quite unable during the year to accept the many kind invitations which I have received from brethren to visit lodges, attend festivals and the like, and I trust that they and all the members of Grand Lodge will bear with me in shortcomings when informed that various circumstances have engrossed an unusual amount of my time and attention, and I close my imperfect address to you on this occasion by uniting with you in the prayer that the Great Architect of the Universe may still continue to vouchsafe His blessing to the Grand Lodge of Quebec, and to our beloved Order everywhere throughout the world. So mote it be.

J. H. GRAHAM,
Grand Master.

Ottawa, Ont., 25th Sept., 1874.

M.W. Brother J. H. Graham, 32° L.L.D., & Grand Master Grand Lodge of Quebec,—I dear Grand Master, I telegraphed you to do me so good as to present the "Grand Lodge of Quebec" for me with the two accompanying jewels:—1st, Square, the gift of H.R.H. Prince Edward, Duke of Kent, father of our Queen Victoria, the gift of Prince William Henry, Duke of Clarence, and William the Fourth. I intend to present them in person, but by mistake wait for next month. I am very sorry. Wishing "Grand Lodge of Quebec" all prosperity remain, M.W. Brother, yours fraternally,

T. D. HARRINGTON, 33° P.G.M. &c., Repve. G.L. Quebec, nr. G.L. of Can.

Grand Officers for the Current Year.

James Dunbar, Esq., Q.C., G.M.; J. O'Hallaran, Esq., Q.C., D.G.M.; Danl. Thorpe, Esq., N.P., G.S.W.; Samuel Johnson, F.G.J.W.; H. M. Alexander, Esq., G. Treasurer; J. H. Isaacson, Esq., N.P., G. Secretary.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

ROBERT MICHAEL SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

OL. 7, No. 295.]

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE With Supplement, 2d.]

Provincial Grand Lodge OF MIDDLESEX.

Bro. COLONEL BURDETT, P.G.W., &c., Provincial Grand Master.

A Meeting of the PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE Will be holden at the KING'S ARMS," HAMPTON HILL, At 2.30, Thursday, 5th November, 1874.

Brethren will attend Divine Service at St. James's Church, Hampton-hill, at 3.30, when a SERMON will be Preached by the REV. CANON COLLIS, D.D., Provincial Grand Chaplain.

THE ANCIS BURDETT LODGE, 1503, WILL BE CONSECRATED At 4.15 by the Provincial Grand Secretary; and the W.M. Bro. Col. Wigginton, P.M., P. Prov. G.D.C. Worcestershire, will be Installed, and the Officers Invested. R. WENTWORTH LITTLE, Prov. G. Secretary.

BANQUET "Greyhound" Hotel, Richmond, at 6 p.m. Tickets One Guinea each.

THE SONIC & MILITARY ORDERS

OF THE Cross of Constantine, & ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST.

M. WILLIAMS, BART., M.P., G.S., and Grand Commander. W. FRANCIS BURDETT, G.V. and Deputy Grand Commander.

A MOVEABLE Grand Conclave and Grand Commandery

where above Orders will be holden at the SONIC HALL, HOPE STREET, LIVERPOOL, Friday, 15th November, 1874, and particulars will be advertised. W.M. ROBERT WOODMAN, M.D., G.R., and Registrar-General, 17, Great James-street, Strand, London, W.C.

CONSECRATION OF THE FRANCIS BURDETT LODGE,

No. 1503,

"KING'S ARMS," HAMPTON HILL, MIDDLESEX, On Thursday, Nov. 5, 1874.

Bro. Col. WIGGINTON, P.M., 902 & 1298, and P.P.G.D.C. Worcestershire, W.M. Designate.

Bro. W. H. SAUNDERS, 889, S.W. Designate.

Bro. J. TOMLINSON, P.M. No. 313, P.P.G.S.D., Norfolk, J.W. Designate.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE will be opened at 2.30 p.m.

The Brethren will attend DIVINE SERVICE

at St. James's Church, Hampton Hill, at 3.30. The Sermon will be preached by the W. Bro. the Rgv. Canon COLLIS, D.D., Provincial Grand Chaplain.

After Lodge is closed there will be a BANQUET at the Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, at 6 o'clock. JOSEPH TOMLINSON, Hon. Sec., pro tem.

October 21st, 1874.

The Ceremonies of Consecration and Installation

BY THE

W. Bro. R. W. LITTLE, P.M. & P.G. Sec. (Middlesex),

The Officer appointed by the M.W. the Provincial Grand Master,

ASSISTED BY

V.W. Bro. the Rev. R. J. SIMPSON, M.A., Past Grand Chaplain,

W. Bro. CANON COLLIS, D.D., the Provincial Grand Chaplain,

V.W. Bro. JOHN HERVEY, Grand Secretary, W. Bro. H. G. Buss, Provincial Grand Treasurer, Middlesex, &c., &c., &c.

NOTE.—The Banquet will take place at the Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, but it is necessary that brethren desiring to partake thereof should forward their names to Bro. J. PALMER, at the Greyhound Hotel, not later than the 2nd of November, as provision can only be made for those who apply by that date.

Tickets One Guinea, including wine,

TRAINS.—From Waterloo to Fulwell 12 o'clock; From Waterloo to Teddington or Twickenham 1.5 and 1.45; From Fulwell to Richmond 5.46.

ENGLISH CLOTHING is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. Moses and Son's as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES AND SON have as usual made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON, Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate, New Oxford-street, Tottenham-Court-road, and Bradford, Yorkshire.

MOURNING.

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,

Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate, New Oxford-street, Tottenham-court-road, and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled— JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS, 48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly, Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly. In pen and ink ... 4/6 | Crest engraved on spoons (doz.) 5/0
Heraldic colours ... 7/6 | " " " " scalor ring 7/6
Engraved on copper ... 1/0 | " " " " watch or stick 1/0

Bro. JAMES B. SLY, 9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft. Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by

STEVENS AND RICHARDSON, Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers, 5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS, London.

DIETZ & CO., LONDON, PARAGON LAMPS.
BURNING PETROLEUM OR PARAFFIN.

Unrivalled for SIMPLICITY, ECONOMY,

DURABILITY, SAFETY, and BRILLIANCY.

OVER 5000
Table Lamps, Chandeliers,
Billiard Lamps,
From the Cheapest for the Million fitted with

PARAGON

Giving the most Brilliant Light
ONE FARTHING
Sold by the principal Ironmongers

Our HURRICANE LANTERNS are absolutely windproof and safe; simple in construction, and give a splendid white and steady light. They are the most servicable Lanters for use in Stables, Farms, Gardens, Cellars, Factories, Ships, &c.

PATTERNS OF
Hall Lamps, Brackets,
Ship Lamps &c.
to the most exquisite Drawing Room Lamp,
our famous

BURNERS.

of 25 Candles at a cost of
PER HOUR,
and Lamp Dealers in Great Britain

THE CLIMAX COOKING AND HEATING STOVES, in six sizes, will be found extremely useful in every Household, being always ready for use, and saving time and money, coals, trouble of lighting fire dust, and refuse.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street
LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur
Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitra-tions. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron.
Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-
rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales.
Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern,
MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY.
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW
OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN, late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.
Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
Bro. F. HILFENICH, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.
COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country. Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yatching, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
(NEAR GRAVESEND.)
FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS,
DEJEUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-
BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the vintages will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste. The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
Messrs. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
Proprietors

BALL FAVOURS,
NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,
{ 198, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
{ 145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admix-ture. This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."
It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.
In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)
Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dress that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 37, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed in country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 25s. Order it from Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 37, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

SIZE 32in. BY 26in.

AUTOTYPES

Bro. Sigismund Rosenthal's Celebrated Paintings,
The Reception of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales as P.G.M.
At Freemasons' Hall, on Dec. 1, 1869, containing upwards of 120 Figures and Portraits.
The Reception of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the Grand Conclave of Knights Templar,
May 13, 1870, containing nearly 100 Figures and Portraits.
In BLACK AND GILT FRAMES, £2 12s. 6d. Each.
Sold by Bro. G. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 175, Aldersgate-street, London
Branches—198, Fleet-street, London; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; and 145, Argyle-street,
2, St Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.
The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quills emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.
Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON :—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
LIVERPOOL :—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW :—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 Craft Masonry 671
 Instruction 672
 Royal Arch 673
 Mark Masonry..... 673
 Knights Templar..... 673
 Scotland 673
 Provincial Grand Lodge of Sussex 674 asonic Notes and Queries 675
 lituary 675
 onic Tidings..... 675
 ler of the Eastern Star 675
 e "Mondie Maconnique" and "The Freemason" 676
 he Pope a Freemason? 677
 : Deputy Grand Master at Highclere 677
 RESPONDENCE:—
 otish Masonic Benevolent Fund..... 677
 he Coming Installation of the Grand Master..... 677
 he Duke of Edinburgh at Devonport 678 oyal Visit to Plymouth..... 678
 odge Summonses..... 678
 asonic Jurisprudence 678
 he Late Grand Master..... 678
 adies as Freemasons 678
 ge Meetings next week..... 678
 ritements..... 669 670 676 680 681 682 683 684
 SUPPLEMENT (FOUR PAGES).
 ers of the Temple and Malta 685
 asonry in New South Wales 685 incial Grand Chapter of Cheshire 686
 ews 687

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

WHITTINGTON LODGE (No. 862).—The first meeting of this lodge for the season (1874-5) held at Anderton's Hotel, on Monday, the 1st inst., Bro. W. F. Smith, W.M., presiding. The business comprised the balloting for and election of Messrs. Richard Beldan, Thomas Ward Webb, Joseph Kilsby Ward, Thomas Wain, and Charles Mitchell May. The candidates having been duly prepared were introduced, and admitted to E.A. degree, the ceremony admirably conducted by the W.M., assisted by Bros. Brett, P.G.P., Jones, P.M., Hurlstone, &c., and the remainder of the officers. Bros. Gilbert E. Campbell, Bart., P.M. 1415, & S.G.W. of Middlesex, and Charles Elmes, were proposed and balloted for as joining members. The lodge then proceeded to the election of a W.M., when Bro. Hayley was unanimously chosen. Bro. Quilty was re-elected P.M., and an Audit Committee was likewise appointed. The lodge then adjourned to the next meeting in the great hall. Forty-four brethren sat down to table, among whom were included in addition to the brethren already mentioned, Bros. R. Wentworth Little, P.M. (retary), Prov. G.S. Middlesex; Thomas Ston, A. Moore, C. Walker, F. H. Roberts, ranks, S. Godden, E. Sedgwick, C. Brothers, & Tate, Kenneth R. H. Mackenzie, John Mesley, U. Kell, and a number of others. Visitors were Bros. T. Dayson (382), O. (18), F. W. Day (3), D. J. Ross (13), Marsh (28 and 192), J. C. Flakerty (205), Villert (1107), and two brethren from and—Bros. Simon Brone (3 kol.), and L. A. Viegee (Ultrajectina). The usual toasts given and duly honoured, and thus theasonic reign of Bro. W. T. Smith as W.M. : to its close. He was presented with a's jewel of the value of £110 10s. as a mark leem on the part of the lodge, and in testi- of the remarkable exertions he had made he lodge, and on behalf of Freemasonry g his year of office. After a pleasant ng the Tyler's toast concluded the pro- ggs.
ADFORD.—Eccleshill Lodge (No. 1034).—A monthly meeting of this lodge was held in Freemason's Hall on Friday, the 23rd inst., o'clock. Bro. William Pratt, W.M., was e chair, being ably and influentially sup- ed by his officers and a goodly number of Masters and brethren. The lodge was ed, and the minutes of the previous lodge and confirmed, after which Mr. Pollard, ect of this town, being a candidate for nry, was balloted for and approved. He hen initiated into the mysteries and privi- of Freemasonry by the Worshipful Master very able manner, Bro. Kitcheman, J.W., having explained the working tools, and Bro. Christopher Pratt, P.M., given the charge, the Worshipful Master gave a lecture in the first degree on the tracing-board. The Building Committee then presented their report and balance-sheet of the new banqueting room just completed in connection with the lodge, for the better accommodation of the increasing number of members, which was unanimously adopted and entered on the minutes. Bro. Hutchinson, P.M., Charity Steward, acting on behalf of the lodge in the interest of the son of our late esteemed brother John Armitage, now a candidate for the Boys' School, had the petition signed by the members present, and all the necessary matters arranged for presentation to the Provincial Grand Lodge, to be in readiness for the next election of candidates for the Boys' School. This awakened the spirit of generosity usually prevailing in this lodge with a desire to endow four of the Officers, viz., Secretary, Treasurer, Inner Guard, and Organist, all the other chairs being already endowed. Bro. Christopher Pratt, P.M., and Bro. Geo. Pearson, with their usual liberality, gave each £20 towards the project, thus securing two chairs. A subscription was then entered upon, when the amount of £15 was subscribed towards the other two officers, leaving only £25 to be subscribed to complete the endowments which will, no doubt, be forthcoming in due time. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Bros. Pratt and Pearson, which was suitably responded to by them in speeches setting forth the importance of supporting the charities whereby the child of a deceased brother had a chance of a sound education free of cost. After the usual Masonic toasts and the efficient services of the officers, especially Bro. Nicholson the Organist, had been acknowledged, this most interesting meeting was brought to a close.

READING.—Grey Friars Lodge (No. 1101).—The installation of Bro. James Greenfield took place on Wednesday, the 14th inst., before a very numerous and influential assemblage of brethren. The ceremony was performed by Bro. W. W. Moxhay, P. Pro. G.R. Berkshire and P.M. 174, in his usual happy manner. The W.M. was saluted by the members in each degree, and received the hearty good wishes of the visitors present, after which the appointment and investment of the Officers took place, amid the acclamations of the brethren, amongst whom were Bro. J. Egginton, I.P.M.; J. T. Freeman, S.W.; E. Margrett, J.W.; the Rev. R. J. Simpson, Chaplain; the Rev. C. R. Honey, Assistant Chaplain; J. T. Stransom, Treasurer, and W. P. Ivey, Secretary. Before closing the Lodge for the purpose of retiring to refreshment, letters were read from the following influential members of the Craft stating their inability to attend, and expressing their hearty good wishes for the prosperity of the lodge, and a successful year of office to the W.M.:—Bro. Sir Daniel Gooch, Bart., M.P., Pro. G.M. Berks and Bucks; the Rev. J. Studholm Brownrigg, D. Pro. G.M.; the Rev. Sir J. W. Hayes, Bart., P.D. Prov. G.M.; G. J. Shaw Lefevre, M.P.; the Rev. A. P. Purey Cust, 414; C. C. W. Griffiths, 30, P.M. 280, Pro. G. Treas. Worcestershire; Superintendent Mott; J. Constable, W.M. 185; Thomas Cox, P.M. 1204; Chas. Aveline, W.M. 840; Alfred Brunsden; Robert Turner, W.M. 795; W. J. Powell, W.M. 945; W. H. Binham, W.M. 209; A. Burns, W.M. 574, &c. &c. The banquet was provided by Bro. W. Bailey at the Upper Ship Hotel, and the arrangements gave unqualified satisfaction; between forty and fifty brethren sat down. Bro. Greenfield, W.M. presided. Amongst the company were Bro. F. Binckes, P.G.S. and Secretary to the R.M.I. for Boys; C. W. Wyndham, P.M. 586, P. Prov. G.I.W. Wiltshire; Swinburne, P.M. 246; Lucy, P.M. 529; Dew, P.M. 694; P. Prov. G.R. Hants; Lear, W.M. 694; the Rev. J. McGuilding, Chaplain, 419; Moxhay, I.M., P.M. 414; the Rev. H. G. Layton 858; Joseph Morris, W.M. 414, Pro. G.S. of W. Berks and Bucks; R. Bradley; P.M. 414; J. W. Hounslow, P.M. 414; J. Egginton, I.P.M. 1101; Pro. G.D.C.; Geo. Chancellor, P.M. 1101, Pro. G. Treas.; J. T. Brown, P.M. 1101, P. Pro. G.S. of W.; J. T. Freeman, S.W. 1101; E. Margrett, J.W.

1101; J. Stransom, Treas. 1101; W. P. Ivey, P.M. and Sec. 1101, P.P.G.S.B. Berks and Bucks; A. Welch, S.D. 1101; W. W. Ridley, I.G. 1101; W. G. Flanagan, J.D. 1101; Howlett, D.C. 1101; C. H. Kidley; J. E. Danks, Steward 1101; R. E. Mount, J.D. 1328; Seymour, Newman, Vickers, Robinson, Crane, &c. &c. The usual Masonic toasts followed the banquet, with several excellent speeches, the principal of which were made by Bros. Guilding and Binckes. The former, in returning thanks for the Chaplain, vindicated Masons from the charge of being a body to which good Christians should hesitate to belong. With reference to the secession of the Marquis of Ripon the rev. speaker referred to the great disappointment which the late Grand Master's resignation had caused, and referred in eulogistic terms to the singular absence of bitterness which had characterized the allusions made by Masons to that subject. Bro. Binckes made a forcible appeal on behalf of the Masonic charities, and alluded particularly to the Boys' School, urging the brethren not to be lax in their support. Many other speeches were made by the W.M., I.P.M., I.M., Treas., S.D., and visitors. The W.M. in a complimentary speech eulogised the working of his Immediate Past Master, and presented him with a splendid P.M. jewel—the unanimous vote of the lodge, which was responded to by Bro. Egginton in a most feeling manner. A very agreeable evening was spent, which was considerably enhanced by the beautiful glee singing of Bros. Mason, Barnby, and Lawler, which delighted every one present.

GREAT NORTHERN LODGE (No. 1287).—The first monthly meeting of this lodge was held at the Freemasons' Hall, on Thursday, 15th inst. There was a good attendance of members, including the W.M.; Bros. T. H. Staton, S.W.; Jas. Forbes, J.W.; R. Bescooby, S.D.; E. Lancaster, J.D.; J. L. Ritchie; P.M.'s Reed, Webb (Treasurer), and Moody. The lodge having been opened in the first degree, the election, by ballot, of four candidates, viz. Messrs. Timberlake, Bathard, Freshwater, and Owen was then proceeded with, and found to be unanimous in favour of all. The W.M. then initiated them into the ancient mysteries of the Order in his usual masterly style. The resignation of a brother, in consequence of his having left England, was then proposed and accepted with regret. Three candidates having been proposed for election at the next meeting, and the hearty good wishes given to the W.M., the lodge was closed in due form, the brethren adjourning to the tavern, where they found Bro. Francatelli ready to receive them. The brethren having been well entertained, grace said, and the cloth removed, the W.M. proposed the "Health of the Queen, coupled with that of the Craft," which was responded to with Great Northern fire. He next gave the toast of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, G.M. elect, and very nicely alluded to the position the Craft was in at the present time, carefully avoiding any allusion to the late G.M. The "Deputy Grand Master (the Earl of Carnarvon) and other Grand Lodge Officers" was next given and responded to by Bro. T. Adams in a humorous speech, who returned thanks for the sumptuous banquet spread before him. The "Initiates" were next given by the I.P.M. Bro. Reed sang the E. A. Song, and the brethren duly "joined hand in hand," much to the astonishment of those for whom the toast was given. The initiates responded, one stating that hearing so much of Freemasons and Roman Catholics of late, he had determined to see what the former were, and was pleased with what he had seen and heard that evening of the society. Another, that he had hesitated like the late Prime Minister had lately done about some important business, whether to do it, to put off doing it, or not to do it at all. He had chosen the former and was sorry he had not joined before. The "Visitors" was the next toast, and was responded to by all, viz., Bros. W. Mann, P.M. Industry; P.G.P. T. Adams; T. Tyrell, S.W. Camden; — Arkell, S.D. Lion and Lamb; T. Harper, Celtic; J. A. Woodwell, Confidence. The I.F.M., handling the gavel, gave in a very nice manner the health of the W.M. This toast was well received by all present, as the W.M. is universally liked. In responding the W.M. addressed himself principally to the candidates, giving them kindly advice on the new life they had just entered upon. The W.M. gave the P.M.'s of the Great Northern Lodge. The I.P.M., Bro. Reed, responded on behalf of himself, and Bros. Webb and Moody for the kind manner they had always been received, and for the substantial marks they all wore. He also gave kindly advice as to what the new members might become, should they be spared, as there was no doubt that Great Northern rule would always be carried out, and that worthy men only would be called to fulfil the duties of officers. The "Officers of the Great Northern Lodge" was then given and responded to in a very humorous speech. The evening was very much enlivened by several songs and recitations from Bros. Webb, Owen, Lancaster, Schmerl, Moody, Bescoy, Harper, and Arkell, and was brought to a close with the Tyler's toast.

HAMPSON COURT.—Burdett Lodge (No. 1293).—The October meeting of the above lodge was held on Saturday last, at the Mitre Hotel, Hampson Court, present Bros. Henry Phythian, W.M.; Keily, S.W.; Pearce, J.W.; Buss, Secretary; Little, Treasurer; Berrie, S.W.; R. W. Colonel Francis Burdett, P.G.M.; R.W. J. C. Parkinson, D.P.G.M.; Sanders, Baxter, Sissons, Wiles, Hill, Shaboe, Kenning, Massa, Sadler and others. Visitors Bros. White, P.G.S.; Arkell, 192; Mallam, Phythian and others; the business of the evening included initiations, passing and raising, all of which were most ably performed by the W.M., after which the lodge proceeded to the election of W.M., Treasurer, and Tyler, the whole being unanimously in favor of Bro. Keily, W.M.; Bro. Little, Treasurer; Gilbert, Tyler. An Audit Committee was also appointed. The lodge was then closed, after which the brethren adjourned to a well spread dinner, provided by Bro. Sadler in his usual satisfactory manner, toasts, speeches and songs closing a very successful and happy meeting.

ALDERSHOT.—Aldershot Camp Lodge (No. 1331).—The monthly meeting of this lodge was held at the Royal Hotel, Aldershot, on the 3rd ultimo, presided over by the W.M., Bro. A. McKenzie, P.G.P. Hampshire and Isle of Wight, who was supported by the following officers and a good attendance of brethren, including several visitors, viz.: Bro. Capt. Richardson, P.M. and Treasurer, P.G.S.D. Hampshire and Isle of Wight; Bro. White, S.W.; — Bennett, J.W. — Anderson, S.D.; T. Walton Mayer, J.D.; — Lucas, Secretary I.G. pro tem; and — Burns, Tyler. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and confirmed, a ballot was taken for Mr. Bartram, a candidate for initiation, which proved unanimous; and he, with Mr. Ash, balloted for at the previous meeting, but not then able to attend, were duly admitted to the mysteries and privileges of the Order, the charge of the Degree being ably given by the S.W., Bro. White. Bros. Phelps and Davis, candidates for passing, having given proof of their proficiency in the former degree, were entrusted, and retired. The lodge was opened in the Second Degree, and they were admitted and duly passed as F.C.'s; it was then closed to the First Degree. The next duty upon the agenda paper was the consideration of Bro. Captain Richardson's notice of motion, that the lodge be removed to the Assembly Rooms, High Street, Aldershot. This was seconded by Bro. Walton Mayer, J.D., accompanied by suitable remarks. Bro. Richardson, who at the previous meeting had so fully explained to the brethren the motives which actuated him in submitting the proposition, thought it unnecessary to reiterate the sentiments then expressed by him upon the subject, as no doubt the majority of the brethren were present when the notice of motion was given, and the remainder had been in possession of the summons for the regulated period. He would, however, for the information of those brethren who were absent from the last meeting, and unable to confer with other brethren respecting the motion, briefly explain the objections held, not only by himself, but by many other brethren, to the meetings of Masonic lodges at hotels, and pointed out the great efforts now being made in various parts of the kingdom to withdraw our lodges from hotel influences and the temptations the brethren are subjected to; notably in an adjoining province, where a large Masonic hall was in course of erection for the convenience of lodge meetings. He hoped each brother had given the motion his unbiased and conscientious consideration, and would readily acquiesce in the resolution of the majority. He likewise trusted that from the fact of his being a founder and P.M. of that lodge, the brethren would give him credit for having no personal motive to serve in this matter, as the motion he had made was submitted to them solely with a view to the advancement of the interests of the lodge, and from his heartfelt desire to see it prosper. An amendment was proposed and seconded to the effect that a committee be appointed to report upon the accommodation afforded at the Assembly Rooms before taking any step in the matter; but this information was at once furnished by Bro. Richardson in detail, he being in possession of a plan of the building. The majority of the brethren were likewise fully aware how admirably the rooms were adopted for Masonic meetings, the P.G. Lodge of Hampshire and Isle of Wight having been held there so recently as the 24th July last; consequently the amendment which was only supported by four brethren, was lost, and the original motion duly carried. A brother having been proposed and seconded as a joining member, hearty good wishes from Panmure Lodge No. 723, given by Bro. Hacker, its W.M. and P.G.J.D., were received, and the lodge closed with solemn prayer at quarter to nine o'clock p.m. At the meeting on 1st inst., the above minutes were confirmed, one brother unanimously elected as a joining member, two brethren passed, and three raised; this being the night for the annual election of officers by the lodge, there was a strong muster of the members. Bro. White, S.W., was elected W.M. for the ensuing year, Bro. Captain Richardson, re-elected Treasurer for the third time, and Bro. Burns re-elected Tyler. The elections being ended, it was proposed by Bro. Richardson, seconded by Bro. Mayer, and unanimously approved that the retiring W.M., Bro. McKenzie, be presented with a P. Master's gold jewel, from the lodge funds, in recognition of his services during his year of office. A lodge of emergency will be summoned for 29th inst., to receive the report of the Audit Committee, and clear off any work requiring to be performed, prior to the installation meeting, which will take place in the Assembly Rooms, at three o'clock p.m., on the first Thursday in November.

IVY LODGE (No. 1441).—Since its consecration and dedication last July twelvemonth, we have had frequent occasion in these columns to record, and to record with feelings of the most sincere gratification, the continued healthy progress of the Ivy Lodge; its perfect mode of working; and the continued and unbroken love and harmony which reign throughout from the opening of the lodge until the Tyler's signal for departure. But, moreover, the Ivy Lodge is entitled to the highest regard, in respect to the large amount set aside from every payment made to its funds from every source; and devoted to purposes of active and quiescent Masonic charity. We confess, therefore, that we entertain the highest esteem for the Ivy lodge, although we have not the honour of its membership, and we are ever pleased to be present at its meetings. On Tuesday; the 20th inst., the lodge was called to hold an emergency meeting by the W.M., at its usual rendezvous, the Windsor Castle Tavern, Southwark-bridge-road. The hour named was, seven p.m., and punctual to the time appointed, there were present in their places Bros. Chas. Smith, W.M.; G. Mattock, S.W.; J. J. Cantle, J.W.; J. Noke, P.M. 87, acting P.M.; E. Thurkle, Treasurer; C. F. Poupard, S.D.; L. Cornelissen, J.D.; C. S. Jolly, Secretary; and G. T. Fox, P.M. 73, Tyler; the only officer prevented from attending his duties Bro. Ashwell, I.G. In the course of the evening two brethren, Bros. J. Barwick and J. Coker were passed to the second degree; and Bros. C. Cook and R. Giles were raised Master Masons; a third candidate, Bro. W. G. Silcock, from unavoidable circumstances, was unable to be present. The working of the W.M. fully sustained high character as a thoroughly intellectual person, and the ceremonies were given in their entirety without the slightest curtailing very much to the benefit of the respective candidates. When the lodge was closed the brethren sat down to refreshment of the simple order, but which was partaken of with a good and good humour which could not have exceeded had soup, fish, entrees, and all other enticements of the table crowded the board. The W.M. afterwards explained why he had called that especial meeting. It was, he said, for the purpose of conferring degrees on the brethren whom he had advanced in the science that evening, because that business could have been held over until a future occasion, but he had felt it imperative on him to do so, the brethren together that they might express the fraternal affection with which they regard a brother now present, but whom it was with the bounds of possibility, they might never see again in the Ivy lodge. He alluded to Bro. Charles Nott, one of their earliest associates who, from combined motives of consideration for his health and flattering commercial prospects, was about in a few days to leave England for Sydney, New South Wales. He assured Bro. Nott that he would carry with him the sincere regrets of his brethren of the Ivy Lodge at losing him, and their heartiest good wishes for his future welfare. Bro. Nott replied in feeling terms, and stated that in leaving the Ivy Lodge he hoped that he was not severing himself from Freemasonry; he intended as soon as he was settled in his new home, to be affiliated to another lodge under the English Constitution, of which his brethren no present would have due notice; he thanked the brethren fervently for the kind wishes expressed towards him. "Auld lang-syne" was sung by the brethren, a "L'Ecceaise, in verity "with heart and voice." A very happy and interesting evening was passed by the brethren, and the W.M. may feel satisfied that his kind purpose in holding this meeting was amply justified by the result, and that Bro. Nott, in his long and anxious progress through the Southern seas—will have many an hour lightened by the happy memories of his connection with Freemasonry, and his final parting with Bro. Smith, and the good men and true of the Ivy Lodge.

INSTRUCTION.

STRONG MAN LODGE OF INSTRUCTION (No. 45).—The members of the Strong Man Lodge of Instruction worked the Fifteen Sections on Sept. 28th, at the St. John's Gate, Clerkenwell, being their last time of meeting in that venerable hostelry, the following brethren taking part in the working:—Bro. Beckett in the chair; Scrimie, S.W.; Pearce, J.W.; Bros. Gilchrist, Sadler, Bently, Saul, Defriez, and Turner. The following brethren were present: Bros. Maple, P.M.; Arnold, W.M.; Byng, Williams, Borch Holford, Taylor, and Foxcroft. The working Bros. Gilchrist, Sadler, and Turner was highly commended by the brethren. The lodge will meet in future at Bro. Maple, P.M., 1 Crown, Clerkenwell Green, every Monday evening throughout the year at eight p.m., on the meeting-place of the parent lodge.

BURGOYNE LODGE OF INSTRUCTION (No. 902).—The annual supper was held by the members on Friday evening, October 16th, at the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales-road, Kew-tish-town. Bro. R. N. Field, W.M. of the parent lodge, was a most able president, and was assisted by Bro. P. M. Wuest, the much respected Preceptor; also by Bro. P. M. Fry. There were several distinguished visitors; amongst them Bro. Layland, the able Preceptor of the United Pilgrims and Domestic Lodges of Instruction. The usual Masonic toasts were given, and most heartily responded to, particularly that of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales. Several of the brethren contributed to the harmony of the evening, and a very fine recitation was given by the W.M. from "As you like it." It only remains to add that the wines, &c., were supplied by Bro. Green, and gave great satisfaction, and a most enjoyable evening was spent

Royal Arch.

WHITEHAVEN.—The Sun, Square, and Comrades Chapter (No. 119).—The regular annual convocation of this chapter was held at theasonic Hall, College-street, on Friday, Oct. rd, at three o'clock in the afternoon. There is an unusually large gathering of companions. Among those present were Comps. G. W. Kenworthy, Z.; John Barr, H.; Edward Fearon, W. B. Gibson, P.Z.; John Bowes, P.Z., Prov. G.S.B.; Dr. Henry, S.E.; Edward son, N.; W. Sandwith, P.S.; John Rothery, Cowie, Thos. Mandale, John Tickle, Geo. zgerald, Geo. Rynie, John Young, Jos. Price, F. Archibald, C. B. Pritillaro, Thos. Atkin-, W. Armstrong, Thos. C. Windross, F. imble, and Jas. Cooper. Visitors:—W. rrsop, M.E.Z. No. 148, P.P.G.P.S. West ncashire; Thos. Dodgson, P.Z. 995, P.Z.P.P. S.S.; and Reuben Pearson, P.Z. No. 995. e chapter was opened in due form, according icient custom, by the Principals, assisted by visiting Principals, when the remainder of companions were admitted, and the minutes d and confirmed. The ballot was then taken several brethren as candidates for exaltation, Bros. James R. Bain, Dr. Dick, and Thos. l Roxby being present were exalted in ample n, at the request of the M.E.Z., by E. Comp. n Bowes, who also gave the mystic lecture; historic lecture being given by Comp. Fearon, and the symbolic lecture by Comp. John y, H. The M.E.Z., Comp. Kenworthy, then ented Comps. Barr, Fearon, and Dr. Henry the benefit of installation as Z., H., and K. ectively, and the ceremony was proceeded t by E. Comp. John Bowes, according to ent form, being assisted by Comps. G. W. worthy and W. Mossop. In due time the le of the companions were re-admitted, and ew chiefs proclaimed and saluted, and the iction pronounced. After some routine ness, a cordial vote of thanks was accorded o Comp. Bowes for his valuable and efficient ces, and ordered to be entered upon the tes. The chapter was then closed, and the anions adjourned to the banquet-room, where r the presidency of the newly-installed ipals, a most enjoyable evening was spent, ened by some excellent music, conducted omp. Cooper, Organist. After the usual oasts those of a Masonic character received attention. The M.E.Z. was proposed by p. Kenworthy, who spoke very highly of p. Barr, and said he believed a bright future ore Chapter 119, for he was confident the Z. would set an example to all of fervency eal in Royal Arch Masonry. Comp. Barr, sponse, said, that as far as he could he d endeavour to discharge his new duties in icient manner, and that, with the assistance ir Preceptor, Comp. Bowes, he had no Chapter No. 119 would become a model ood working. Comps. Fearon and Dr. r endorsed the remarks of their chief. o. W. B. Gibson, P.Z. proposed the health e Installing Principal, Comp. Bowes, and d at length to the impressiveness of the onies they had listened to that day and to tent of their obligations to Comp. Bowes on well as on a former occasion. Comp. Bowes y thanked all present for their kindness, aid he had endeavoured to render their ful ceremonies in an intelligible manner, s efforts having met with their approval is amply repaid for his trouble. He in- l to watch over Chapter No. 119 till it was orking, and he trusted the newly-installed pals would never hesitate to call for his s whenever they needed them. Comp. y, H., proposed "the Visitors," and coupled he toast the name of their late townsman, mp. W. Mossop, M.E.Z. of the Chapter as Ashmole, No. 148, Warrington. He omp. Mossop was admitted to light in 19, and the position he held in West Lan- s was a proof of his zeal and fidelity as a and his conduct as a man. It gave him r pleasure to meet his old friend in that rd to welcome him once again in White- Comp. Mossop responded at some and reciprocated the very kind remarks mp. Fearon. He had done some work since he left Whitehaven, and the further he advanced in Masonry the more beauty he found in it. In his position of M.E.Z. of No. 148, he was, as they were, under obligations to Comp. Bowes, and he always found him ready to render instruction and assistance whenever either was sought or required. He wished Chapter No. 119 every possible prosperity, and he felt confident with their present officers they would soon realise their most sanguine wishes. Comp. Bowes proposed the health of the subordinate officers of the Chapter, and showed the importance of the duties entrusted to those officers. He coupled with the toast the name of Comp. Edward Tyson, P.S., whose family he had known for thirty years. Comp. Tyson made a most stirring speech, and declared his intention to do his best to master the duties attached to his office, and thereby contribute to the well-being of the chapter. A few other toasts brought the proceedings to a close.

LION AND LAMB CHAPTER (No. 192).—The October meeting of the above chapter was held on Wednesday, the 21st inst., at the City Terminus Hotel. Present Comps. King, Z.; Roberts, H.; Newman, J.; Fellows, S.N.; Strickland Muggerridge, S.E.; F. D. R. Copestick, P.S.; Chapman and Arkell, A. Sojourners; Kenning, Treasurer; and Gilbert Janitor; H. Muggerridge, Yeoman; J. Copestick, Newton, Storr; Phythian, Cann, Marks, Kent. Visitors Comps. Taylor, Gompertz, Pearce, Partridge, Marsh and Harper. Three brethren presented themselves for exaltation, Bros. H. Povey, Neptune Lodge; C. B. Cheese, Gresham Lodge; and J. Curle, Lion and Lamb Lodge; the result of the ballot being unanimously in their favour they were exalted to the degree of Royal Arch Masonry, in a very masterly manner by Comp. H. Muggerridge, Z.; Roberts, H.; and Newman, J.; assisted by the other officers. The next business was the election of Principals and officers for the ensuing year, the result of the ballot being in favour of Comps. Roberts, Z.; Newman, H.; F. D. R. Copestick, J.; Birdseye, S.N.; Jones, P.S.; S. Muggerridge, S.E.; Kenning, Treasurer; and Gilbert, Janitor. An Audit Committee was then proposed, consisting of the three Principals, P.S., Scribes, N. and E., Fellows, Newton, and Phythian. The chapter was closed in due form. The usual banquet followed, accompanied with toasts, songs and recitations.

BEDFORD.—Bedford Chapter (No. 540).—On Wednesday, the 21st October, 1874, a H.R. A. Chapter was held in the Chapter Room, at seven p.m., for the purpose installing the Principals and investing the officers for the ensuing year. The minutes of the former chapter were read and confirmed. The ceremony of installing the Principals was rendered in an impressive manner by Ex. Comp. W. Merrifield, (a P.Z. of twenty years' standing) who was ably assisted by Comps. G. Merrifield, P.Z.; Northway, P.Z.; and T. R. Jones, the retiring Z. The board of Principal being closed, the Z. invested the officers for the ensuing year.

Mark Masonry.

DEVONPORT.—Friendship Lodge (No. 16).—The members of this lodge held a very successful meeting on Thursday 22nd inst., when Dr. Major Tanner Day, the Provincial Grand Master of Mark Masons of Devon, attended for the purpose of installing Bro. Knight as the W.M. for the year ensuing. The interesting ceremony was very ably performed by the P.G.M. in the presence of a large number of brethren, including many visitors from other lodges in the three towns, and the W.M. afterwards appointed his officers as follows:—Bros. Price, S.W.; Cochrane, J.W.; Murch, S.D.; Elphinstone, Treasurer; Swanborough, M.O.; Jeffery, S.O.; Ward, J.O.; and Bening, Tyler. A cordial vote of thanks was given to the P.G.M. for having come so great a distance expressly to instal the W.M., and after the business of the lodge was terminated, the brethren partook of their annual banquet, where the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given. The health of the P.G.M. was drunk with great cordiality, and reference was made to the extreme popularity of the R.W. brother amongst all Devonshire Masons. In responding to the toast Bro. Davy made a humorous, but at the same time very instructive, speech, and addressing himself to the officers of the lodge he gave them some excellent advice as to the duties which devolved upon them as Mark Masons. Altogether a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Knights Templar.

PRESTON.—Prince of Peace Preceptory.—The regular meeting of this Preceptory was held on Monday evening, the 19th inst., at the Assembly Rooms, Bull Hotel, Preston. The eminent Preceptor, Captain A. H. H. Whitehead, occupied the principal chair, and was supported by the following Knights Companions:—Lieut.-Colonel Birchall, Prov. Constable; John Worsley, Constable; Lieut. Airey, Marshal; James Worsley, P.E.C., Expert; Dr. J. D. Moore, P.E.C.; J. Galloway, P.E.C., Treasurer; W. W. Cottam, Registrar; Jos Harding, Captain of Lines), &c. The Preceptory was opened by the Preceptor, the muster-roll called, and other business transacted. A memorial to the V. H. and E. Great Prior as to the recent changes in the Order was discussed; this chiefly objected to the fact of the word "Masonic" being omitted in the designation of the Order, according to the existing regulations, the abolition of Past Rank, and the alteration of the titles of the officers and of the meetings, &c. It was resolved unanimously that the memorial submitted be signed by the Preceptor, Constable, Marshal, and Registrar, and forwarded in due course to the Prov. Chancellor. A candidate was proposed for installation in the Preceptory, the alms collected, and the Preceptory closed in due form. The Knights Companions afterwards attended a banquet under the presidency of Sir Kn. Whitehead, when, after ample justice had been done to the good fare provided, the usual loyal and chivalric toasts were given.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.

CALEDONIAN RAILWAY LODGE (No. 354).—The meeting of this lodge on Wednesday, 21st inst., was a specially interesting and unusually successful one, the feature of the evening being a presentation from the members of the lodge to P.M. A. Arrick Smith, in token of their appreciation of his services during his Mastership, and of their esteem for him generally. Bro. James Shaw, R.W.M., presided, and there were on the dais Bros. A. McTaggart, P.G.S.; A. Arrick Smith, P.M., 354; John Fraser, P.M. 87; W. R. Dunn, Secretary; James Balfour, P.G.D.C.; George Weston, R.W.M. 73; Julius Brodè, P.M. 360; W. Phillips, R.W.M. Clydesdale Lodge; Jno. Miller, R.W.M. 87; and David Reid, R.W.M. 465. Rarely has there been so numerous a gathering in connection with the lodge, the attendance including brethren from various lodges in the district. The lodge having been opened in the Apprentice degree, the minutes of last meeting were read by the Secretary and approved of. The R.W.M. announced that on that night fortnight it would be necessary to elect office-bearers for the year. The R.W.M. then inquired what time it was; and being informed that it was high twelve, called the brethren to refreshment; the same being supplied in abundance, and served in excellent style by the Stewards. The toast of "The Queen and the Craft" having been duly honoured, the R.W.M. gave "The Three Grand Lodges," coupled with the names of Bros. Bickerton (360), and J. Thomson, Lodge Truth (22), Belfast. The toast was acknowledged by these brethren in turn; the latter remarking that a feature in Irish Masonry he soon hoped to see established in Scotland was the Orphan Schools for the children of deceased brethren. The R.W.M. next gave "The Provincial Grand Lodge of Glasgow," which was drunk with highest honours, and responded to by Bro. McTaggart, P.G. Secretary, who, in course of his reply, stated that not only did the Provincial Grand Lodge occupy a very important position but that it was the strongest and most active working Provincial Grand Lodge in Scotland. It had never been found deficient in its endeavours to strengthen and uphold its dignity, and had noble work for the Craft in this part of the kingdom. It had had a succession of eminent Provincial Grand Masters, including Sir Archibald Alison, the historian of Europe, whose works would be read while the English language endured; the late lamented Captain Speirs, of Elderslie, a proficient, exemplary, and enthusiastic Mason; and now Bro. W. Montgomerie Neilson, of Queenshill, who, he might mention, was a member of this lodge—in fact, it was his mother lodge, and he was one of its most distinguished Past Masters. One special feature had marked his reign as Provincial Grand Master; that was the annual visitation of the various lodges in the province, chiefly conducted and superintended by Bro. F. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M. The immediate result of this step was to show that the state of matters generally in the province was not so good as it might have been; and the after result was that all that was defective had been remedied. The members of the various lodges had come into closer union; they were more social and obliging in their work, and he (Bro. McTaggart) believed that there was not a lodge in Glasgow that would not do everything in its power in aid of a sister lodge. The jealousy that formerly existed had entirely disappeared, and the lodges were now working as harmoniously as it was possible for lodges to work in any part of the world. In addition, he said, we have been enabled to establish a Fund of Masonic Benevolence in Glasgow for the relief of our decayed brethren, the widow; and the orphan. It is encouraging to know that this fund has, from very small beginnings gradually increased till at length it has attained considerable dimensions. Its progress was no doubt slow, and, for a considerable time, its stability uncertain; but through the indefatigable energy of its then Treasurer, Bro. James Thomson, it continued to prosper, and its position was finally strengthened by receiving the recognition of the Grand Lodge of Scotland. The fund is chiefly maintained by a levy of five shillings from each newly initiated candidate, and from this source alone is produced an income of about £150 per annum. We are, therefore, able to give each applicant for relief about £3 on an average. £5 is a not unfrequent vote; and we hope by-and-bye to give from £10 to £20. We have £500 funded, and our current account at the bank is quite able to meet the current claims on the fund. I am quite sure that Bro. Neilson would have been proud to have been with us to-night, and have replied to this toast; and I shall have much pleasure, the first time I see him, to tell him of what was done. Especially I shall mention to him what our brother from Ireland said about the Masonic Institutions of that country, and especially of the Orphan Schools. We are persuaded, from the great interest he has displayed in the cause of education, that his hand will not be slack in promoting any scheme of a similar nature that may, for the benefit of the Craft and those in any measure depending on it, be proposed for establishment in this country. Bro. McTaggart concluded his remarks by thanking the brethren for the cordial recognition given to Provincial Grand Lodge, and for the honour they had personally conferred upon himself. The S.W. gave as a sentiment "May the mouse never leave the Mason's meal poke w' a tear in its e'e," and the same having been duly sympathised with, the R.W.M. said they had now come to an important point in the evening's proceedings. They all knew that when Bro. Smith was called to the chair, which he (the speaker) now occupied, it was under special difficulties and on very short notice, and he was sure they would all say that he had fulfilled the duties of the office in the best manner. Especially had their brother been successful during his Mastership, in creating a large amount of good feeling in the lodge; which, generally, would now stand comparison. In conclusion, and in handing over to Bro. Smith a valuable gold 'hunting' watch, suitably inscribed, the R.W.M. said he had much pleasure on behalf of the lodge, in wishing him at the same time every success in life, and expressed their hope that he might long be able to come amongst them, and enjoy himself as formerly. The toast of "Bro. Smith and his Fireside" was then given from the chair, and drank with much enthusiasm and highest honours. The R.W.M. then intimated that he had just received a note from one of their members, presently in Belfast, Bro. R. J. Schmidt, in which the writer expressed his great regret that owing to non-communication with the lodge he had been debarred from sharing in their expression of feeling towards his "friend and noble brother," Arrick Smith. Not to be left out altogether, Bro. Schmidt enclosed in his note a small token of his own, a handsome finger-ring, and he "humbly requested" that his fellow members would drink just one glass extra to the health of Bro. Smith, "the same as if he (the writer) had himself proposed it." The R.W.M. having handed the ring to Bro. Smith, this request of the absent brother was duly complied with. In acknowledging the compliments paid him, Brother Arrick Smith said in reference to his period of office as Master that his weak endeavours for the good of the lodge, and for the Craft all over the world, would have been of little use but for the able staff of office-bearers whom he had to support him. In that respect he was very fortunate, he and they having only one point in view, the great end of Masonry to "Let brotherly love continue." Their gift of that evening he would wear proudly, and would never take it out to see the time without calling to mind the happy hours he had spent in the lodge with so many warm-hearted brethren. He must just thank them; and he could assure them that he would always be ready to do whatever he could to assist the lodge, or any other brethren, as long as he had life. Referring to Bro. Schmidt's token of friendship, it had taken him so much by surprise that he scarcely knew what to say. At any rate he should prize it very highly, and he hoped that a note would be sent to their brother in acknowledgment of his remembrance. Bro. Brodie, in complimentary terms, proposed "Success to The Freemason," referring, in course of his remarks, to the handsome offer of one hundred guineas made by its proprietor towards the establishment of an adequate scheme of Masonic benevolence in Scotland. The toast was coupled with the name of Bro. J. Stewart, who replied. Bro. McTaggart, in a humorous address, proposed the toast of "Lodge 354, Caledonian Railway." He was a member of the lodge, he said, of some years' standing, and it had been his privilege and extreme delight to instal the office-bearers for some three or four years in succession. He could, therefore, now say to them, in a fatherly sort of way, that he was pleased at being asked to propose a toast that could not have fallen into better hands. He begged to couple with the toast the health of the R.W.M. (Bro. Shaw) who now occupied the chair, and had never been found wanting where an honest man's place demanded his presence. The R.W.M., in briefly acknowledging the toast, said that he felt very proud of the position, the important position, and hoped he should do his best to promote the good feeling that should prevail amongst brethren and the prosperity of lodge 354. Amongst the remaining toasts were "The Visiting Brethren," coupled with the name of Bro. Jas. Jamieson (225), who replied; and "The Musical Talent of the Evening," coupled with the name of Bro. Jas. Houston—by whom it was acknowledged in characteristic terms. We have but to add that the amount of musical talent present was unusually great, the more formal proceedings of the evening being most agreeably relieved by songs, stories, &c. from Bros. Jas. Houston, Charles Stewart, J. G. Sharp, John Good, Connor, Barker, Crabb, and McPhee. Altogether, as we have said, the occasion was a great success.

SUPREME COUNCIL 33°, A. AND A. S. RITE FOR SCOTLAND.—At a meeting of Council held in Freemasons' Hall, Edinburgh, on the 12th inst., Bro. Henry Inglis, of Torsonce, Provincial Grand Master of Peebles and Selkirk, was duly installed as a member of the 33° and of the Supreme Council.

At a meeting of the Sovereign Tribunal of the 31°, held at a later hour on the same day, the Right Hon. the Earl of Kellie, Senior Grand Warden in the Grand Lodge of Scotland, and Second Grand Principal in the Supreme Grand Royal Arch Chapter; the Right Hon. Lord Rosehill, Past Grand Sword Bearer in the Grand Lodge of Scotland, and Grand Sword Bearer in the Royal Arch Chapter; and Walter Montgomerie Neilson, of Queenshill, Provincial Grand Master of Glasgow were admitted to the 31st degree.

PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK LODGE OF SUSSEX.

A Provincial Grand Lodge of Mark Masons was constituted on Friday, 23rd inst., at the Old Ship Hotel, Brighton, Brother Sir John Cochrane Burrows, J.P., was installed as R. W. Provincial Grand Mark Master.

The movable Grand Lodge was presided over by Lord Limerick, who was assisted by the Rev. J. R. Portal, M.A., as Past Grand Master; Col. Burdett, as Deputy Grand Master; Col. Adair, as S.G.W.; and Bro. J. Gilbert Smallpiece, as J.G.W.

The presiding Grand Master, in addressing the Grand Lodge, stated the satisfaction he felt, shared in by the London members of the degree generally, at the establishment of a Provincial Grand Mark Lodge in Sussex. He took the opportunity of congratulating the Mark Masons in this neighbourhood on having secured so worthy a man as Bro. Sir J. C. Burrows to preside over them in the capacity of Grand Master.

Bro. T. J. Sabine nominated Bro. F. Davidson as Grand Treasurer, in the room of Bro. J. R. Stebbing, of Southampton, lately deceased.

Sir J. C. Burrows was then obligated, invested, and enthroned, and in a suitable and very feeling manner thanked the brethren for the confidence reposed in him, and for the very high honour which they had preferred him. He subsequently invested his officers for the ensuing year.

Several motions relating to the business of the day, or of importance to the Province, were proposed and considered.

The Provincial Grand Lodge will meet next year at Hastings.

The Visitors present numbered nearly hundred, and double that number of letters had been received from all parts of the county expressing regret that circumstances would prevent the attendance of brethren, but sending their best wishes for the prosperity of the degree in the South of England, and for the success of the new province of Sussex.

Multum in Parvo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

In reply to "An Old Mason," (page 630) would remark that the newspaper paragraph respecting Baron Ceschi, in which he is designated "Deputy Grand Master of the Order of Knights of St. John," must have been founded on error. There is no present Grand Master, and consequently cannot be a Deputy. The Protestants branches of the Order, in England and in Germany are not in coalition with the Roman Catholic branches. I am not aware that "now and again we have paragraphs" in the Freemason, "having reference to the doings of that English Lang emanating doubtless from Masonic members that august brotherhood." (I only remember one paragraph, of a very few lines, in or about July last, I think, which was contributed myself, containing the simple announcement that the anniversary had been held at the Grand house, Clerkenwell, and Divine service, by permission of H.M., at the Chapel Royal, Savoy Palace.)

THE GRAND MASTERSHIP OF THE IRISH FREEMASONS.—The Press Association understands that his Grace the Duke of Abercorn, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, has accepted the office of Grand Master of the Freemasons of Ireland, rendered vacant by the death of Duke of Leinster. The Viceroyn's installation will probably be held in Dublin in the early part of December.

Original Correspondence.

ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

The enclosed extracts from an address read by Bro. Rob Morris, Past Grand Master of Kentucky, June 4th, 1873, may afford light to your esteemed correspondent, Bro. Murray Lyon.

With regard to the Victoria Chapter, recently created in Glasgow, being the first established in Great Britain, it will appear from Bro. Morris's statement that, prior to 1868, when he held the office of Grand Patron, no charters were granted for the organisation of chapters, the bodies which may have been formed at that time were designated "Families of the Eastern Star," and those, we learn from the source, had ceased to exist, which is fully set out by Bro. D. Murray Lyon.

For the information of those who feel interested in the matter, I may state that the charter of the Victoria Chapter bears the signatures of Bro. Robert Macoy as Grand Patron, a Mason of world-wide reputation, who for upwards of 40 years has been Grand Recorder of the Encampment of Knights Templar of the State of New York, and of Bro. Morris as Secretary, of whom Bro. Lyon speaks.

I am, dear Sir and Brother,
Yours, courteously and fraternally,
H. J. SHIELDS, 33°.

Glasgow, Oct. 24, 1874.

As illustrious Grand Matron, Grand Patron, Official Delegates of the Grand Chapter, Eastern Star, of the State of New York, I accept as a good occasion to visit your Grand Chapter of the Adoptive Rite, and thank you for your invitation. By your permission, I will place on record certain facts containing the origin and progress of the Rite with which I am familiar. In the "Eastern Star Manual," written by Bro. Macoy, the statement is made to the effect that "the Order of the Eastern Star established in the United States in 1850. This is an error. It should have read, 'the Masonry was established at that time.' When I began to write and publish upon Freemasonry, I found the desire for degrees as deeply planted in the minds of others as my own, and I was called everywhere to confer such degrees as we were entitled to. The Good Samaritan, the Heroine, the Mason's Daughter, and others, were all rather thin, gave but little satisfaction in matter, and inartistic in form, and I was convinced that something better could be done. In 1850, twenty-three years ago, I set out with all my ability my idea of what should be done in this department, and called it the Eastern Star. . . . Two ideas I kept steadily in mind,—namely that in the ties which unite Masons together, the honour, safety, and welfare of the wife, widow, mother, sister, and daughter are sacredly regarded; and, second, that these privileges available in the case of peril or distress, some forms of recognition are needed. Twenty-three years experience, and the affiliation of fifty ladies, substantiate the belief upon which I set out. We cannot truthfully say to the ladies that we will "introduce her into Freemasonry" nor do I think such a statement ever made, nor can we promise the lady who has been initiated into the forms of the Rite, that she will be thereby any more benefited by Masonic aid than she was before. Do I think that that statement has been made? What, then, is the inducement? Why this: that a lady who, by marriage is really in possession of these privileges, will find her appeal made easier through the signs and passes, and, perhaps, through the certificate we furnish her. The spirit and purpose of the Adoptive Rite have always taught it, and every other system, directly or indirectly, has been introduced into this system through me. I have never personally communicated with the Eastern Star to ten thousand ladies. It is a respectable assembly are many who received the degrees from me, and they can testify if I have ever promised them more than this. Several attempts were made at different times to organise the Eastern Star into a system. The first, in 1855, was styled "the Constellation," of which a number were constituted. But it was found in practice that the Ritual was too complicated, demanding more dramatic skill than was available in many places, and this soon fell into disuse. Then, in 1859, a Ritual was framed for "Families of the Eastern Star," of which quite a large number were organised. But the trouble with these was, that not enough of the dramatic element was introduced into them, and they fell through for want of interest. In 1868, when I sailed for the Holy Land, I resigned to Bro. Robert Macoy the title and prerogatives of Grand Patron, which I had assumed as the author of the system, he consenting to undergo the heavy cares incumbent upon the office. I need not say that Bro. Macoy has fully justified my choice. The result of his labours, continued through five years, has been to establish chapters of the Eastern Star in all parts of New York, in New Jersey, in Mississippi, in Illinois, in Iowa, in Massachusetts and Connecticut—to name them all would almost be to call the roll of the States. Surely this is an encouraging evidence of the adaptedness of this system to the wants of the present age. The Rituals of the system you are now working, styled Chapter of the Eastern Star, were the work of Bro. Macoy himself, I assisted him in the preparation of certain portions, and gave him my warm approval of the whole. He expressed the opinion to me many years since, that no form of the Adoptive Rite can be permanent, or can exercise much influence upon the minds of its recipients, unless it is hedged in with charters dramatized in ceremonies, and illustrated with jewels and paraphernalia like other systems of Masonry. This form of Eastern Star Chapters seems to meet with universal acceptance, and I think it may be deemed permanent. As to the charge of modernism, this applies equally to all the forms of Masonry, except the first three degrees. To say that ladies have nothing to do with Freemasonry, is a stupid assertion unworthy a sensible man. To whom are the benefits applicable, if not to them? And what good is Freemasonry to do them, unless they are informed of their claims? And what better way is there for imparting this information than the method practised in the lectures and ceremonies of the Eastern Star. There is nothing to discourage us in the opposition we meet with. For the same opposition was made to Royal Arch Masonry sixty years ago, yet see how popular it is now! Everything in Masonry must stand upon its own merits. If the Eastern Star satisfies the demands of the age, it will live. Men may say what they please against it, it will live, and will become an institution in the land. That it has done good already, I know. That it has capacity for good, a thousand times greater, I honestly believe. Therefore, let us adhere to it patiently, do its work faithfully, and in due time we shall receive our reward if we faint not.

Obituary.

BRO. SAMUEL INNS, D.P.G.M., OF NORTHANTS AND HUNTS.

We have this week to record the death of Bro. Samuel Inns, of Towcester, member of the Lodge of Fidelity 445, and D.P.G.M. of Northants and Hunts.

The deceased brother had been for upwards of 30 years a member of the Masonic brotherhood, and always evinced the liveliest desire to promote the interests and welfare of the Craft, and to carry out in a practical manner the principles of the Order.

He never spared expense and trouble in doing this, and his zeal was rewarded in a small degree by his promotion to the important office which he held at his death, and to which he was raised several years since.

He had been for some time ailing, but his friends did not anticipate so speedy a termination to his career as was the case, his last illness being of only two days' duration.

It was felt (though not specially wished by the deceased), that it was incumbent on all his brothers in the province, and especially those of his own lodge, that it was their duty to pay a last tribute to his memory by following him to his grave, and accordingly, at his funeral on the 15th inst., upwards of 60 members of the lodges in the province assembled for that purpose, for which a dispensation from Grand Lodge had been previously obtained. Lodge being opened, a procession was formed and marched up to the residence of the deceased, and thence to the parish churchyard, in Masonic order.

His Grace the Duke of Manchester, P.G.M. of the province, was prevented from attending by his absence from England, but sent a letter of condolence, and many similar letters were sent by other brothers who were unable to attend.

The funeral service was taken by the Rev. W. H. Lee, Vicar of Towcester, the Rev. E. G. James, late Curate, Bro. the Rev. Tyrwhitt Drake, P.P.G.C., Bro. the Rev. Wm. Howes, P.P.G.C., and Bro. the Rev. C. G. Barr.

The "Dead March" in Saul was impressively played while the body was in the church, by Bro. Wm. Simmonds, W.M. 445, and P.G.O.

The deceased brother's regalia was borne on the pall. The pall bearers were six of the oldest P.M.'s of deceased's lodge. Bro. Marston was G.D.C., and Bro. Evans 445 was A.D.C.

Before closing the lodge it was unanimously resolved to request the lodges of the province to go into mourning for three months, and the customary banquet of the deceased brother's lodge, which was fixed for Oct. 23rd, is of course postponed.

A luncheon was provided for the brethren assembled, and after it the memory of the deceased brother was drunk in solemn silence.

A funeral sermon was preached on Sunday morning last, by the Rev. W. H. Lee, when most of the members of deceased's lodge were present in their private capacity.

Deceased was 67 years of age.

Masonic Tidings.

A KINDLY NOTE.—The Supreme Council of Freemasons in France has invited all the Grand Lodges of the world to meet at Lausanne on the first Monday in September, 1875. Says a clerical paper, "It is against the general peace that this assembly will conspire. All the friends of honesty—les amis du bien—should keep their eyes upon it." I want to know whether this sort of language is not libellous? If it be not, most certainly it tends to incite a breach of the peace.

BRO. GEORGE KENNING has received the commands of Grand Lodge for the supply of clothing and jewels, for the Grand Master and other Grand Officers.

BRO. EDWARD VERNON has just returned from a pleasant trip to his native land across the water. He was a guest at No. 33, Golden-square, London, and speaks in rapturous terms of his reception by Captain Nathaniel George Philips, 33°, and other distinguished members of the Supreme Council of England. We envy our stalwart brother his delightful experiences of travel.—New York Dispatch.

BRO. KNIGHT, the newly-elected Alderman for the Ward of Cripple-gate, was entertained at a complimentary dinner, given by the residents of the ward at the Albion Tavern last week.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—The most effectual cure for gout and rheumatism. A frequent cause of these complaints is the inflammatory state of the blood, which usually attends bad digestion, produces lassitude with great durability, and indicates the want of a proper circulation of that fluid, which with its impurity superinduced greatly aggravates these disorders. Holloway's Pills are of so purifying a nature that a few doses taken in time are an effectual preventive against gout and rheumatism, but whoever may have an attack of either should use Holloway's Ointment, the searching properties of which, combined with the effects of the Pills, ensure a certain cure. The Ointment should, at least twice a day, be thoroughly rubbed into the parts affected, after they have been sufficiently fermented with warm water to open the pores, and thereby facilitate the introduction of the Ointment to the gland.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI each ...	15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY,

FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY.
Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"The edition we are now considering is a second English edition, which had the great advantage of Bro. D. M. Lyon's able superintendence and editorship in its English dress. There can be no doubt but, that so far, Bro. Findel's work is the most complete work on Freemasonry which has yet appeared, and that he deserves the greatest credit for his careful and accurate treatment of all evidence on the subject, and for his honest desire after truth. Bro. Findel gives up in the view he has so clearly and consistently put forth our early Masonic history, the older theory of the Roman Colleges, &c., and limits the origin of Freemasonry to about the twelfth century, and as then arising from the operative Masons, and specially the "Steinmetzen" and "Bauhütten" of Germany. Bro. Findel gives us a good deal of evidence on this head, and one thing is clear from his work, that the German Freemason were, at a very early period, organized into lodges with Master over them, and with outward regulations and inner ceremonies peculiar to the Craft. Bro. Findel rejects all the views which have been from time to time put forward of a Templar or a Rosicrucian origin. Whether or no Bro. Findel's theory of the date of the rise of Freemasonry be correct, matters very little: we do not ourselves profess to accept it; but this we can fairly say of Bro. Findel's work, it is marked from first to last by the most remarkable token of industry, ability, and care, of patient research, and of skillful criticism. We know of no work which so clearly sets before us our amount of knowledge up to the present time on the great question of Masonic Archaeology, and there can be little doubt that what Preston's work is to English Freemasonry, Findel's work is to cosmopolitan Freemasonry. Indeed a student in Masonry can now dispense with it, and it is a perfect storehouse both of Masonic evidence and Masonic illustrations. We earnestly recommend all the lodges in this country to obtain a copy for the lodge library before the work is bought up for America; and we believe that no Mason will rise from the perusal of its pages without a higher idea both of the historical truth and intrinsic value of Freemasonry, and of fraternal regard and recognition to be latest and not the least well-informed or effective of our Masonic historians. The present century has produced no such equal, in authority and usefulness, to the great work of our Bro. Findel, and we wish him and it, in all of fraternal sympathy and kindly intent, many earnest readers, and more grateful students."—The Masonic Magazine.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence. Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION,
BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cookburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.

Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d.
Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Shortly will be published,
"A DEFENCE OF FREE-MASONRY,"

By Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C.

Published by Bro. GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-st.
London, E.C.Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.
MASONIC GATHERINGS.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.

Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c.
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

The following stand over:—Letters from E. M., C. H. G. E., H. D. E.; Reports of Lodges—1276, Seacombe; Chapter 995, Ulverstone; Provincial Grand Lodge of Jersey; Laying the Foundation-stone of the Masonic Hall at Alloa; Stanley Hospital Fete and Gala, Liverpool.

Births, Marriages and Deaths.

DEATH.

SHORT.—October 28, at Broxmore, Dawlish, Caroline Mary, wife of J. Stroud Short L.P.M., Salem Lodge, 1443, aged 32 years.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1874.

"LE MONDE MACONNIQUE" AND
"THE FREEMASON."

In the September number of our French contemporary there appears, at page 204, what purports to be a fraternal criticism on some articles which have appeared this year in our journal on "The True Mission of Freemasonry." This review also appears to be written by the Editor, who is, we understand, Bro. Caubet, and with it we have little to find fault, as it is both able in substance and moderate in tone. It is quite clear, indeed, that our esteemed Bro. Caubet does not approve or agree with our views, and regards the suppression of mystico-philosophical teaching, and of a supposed eclectic system of doctrine and morals as "l'effacement de la Francmaçonnerie." We, "au contraire," entirely disagree in turn with Bro. Caubet, but he has clearly as much right to hold and enounce his opinion on the subject as we have on our part. But we think it right to say also this. The unfortunate position into which Freemasonry in France is daily drifting, in deference to most mistaken counsels, might, if we thought well to prolong the discussion with Bro. Caubet, which we do not, be adduced, we think, in strong proof of the soundness of our original contention. We did not, as it happens, allude to French Freemasons in our articles, but as Bro. Caubet has himself raised the question, we think it better, like true Freemasons, to express our opinion on the subject, openly and honestly. And we speak with some little knowledge of the state of affairs, and yet with most sincere goodwill to our Gallican and other foreign brethren, for whom, too, we are willing to make every allowance alike for difference of situation, and difficulty of position. But yet, when as in France, to-day, French Freemasonry has all but assumed the declarations and dogmas of the most painful period of her history, when the very existence of a Supreme Being, and even the immortality of the soul, are not only erased from the professions of the governing body, but even private lodges are hardly permitted to avow the same secret truths, every reflecting brother must see that the foundations of French Freemasonry are sapped, that, on such principles it never can long flourish, and that evil days are in store for French Freemasons. Such are our candid opinions, "quantum valent," and such we commend to the careful consideration of our courteous Bro. Caubet, from whom we part with every assurance of our true Masonic consideration. But when we turn from our fraternal antagonist, Bro. Caubet, to Bro. H. Valleton, who writes another critique on the articles in the Freemason, at page 221, what can we possibly say either of his style or his tone? Not only is this additional review in marked contrast with the brotherly and polished language of the Editor, but it is a deliberate departure from the usual French politesse. Bro. Valleton commences his unmasonic tirade, by describing the Editor of the Freemason as a "confrère égaré par esprit de nationalité au milieu des plus importantes questions philosophiques comme un homme perdu dans une haute forêt." This is, as Sam Weller would say, "pretty well for beginning," not, probably, that such language much matters in any way, the more so, as before the close of this article some of our readers may perhaps be of opinion that the remarkable expression "confrère égaré" belongs not fairly to Bro. Valleton himself than to the Editor of the Freemason. For Bro. Valleton goes on to say, that in our simple and straightforward enunciation of the universality of Freemasonry and yet of the happy possession in all our lodges of God's holy and inspired word, where can one possibly "accumuler en moins de mots de contradictions, illogismes, plus de sophismes plus d'enormités, plus de non sens." "Midi civil, bedad," as Paddy said, "and excise no foine writing!" Well we must, we feel, at once to such sweeping accusations from lucid and so just a critic, consoling ourselves with the reflection, however, that if it really contradictory, illogical, sophistical, full of imity, utterly nonsensical, to hold such views we share them, as we are proud to be with ninety-nine out of every hundred of our English Craft. And when Bro. Valleton goes on to express his mournful opinion in these sad words, "Helas! il est bien marqué que les Maçons Anglais ne sont ni illuminés, ni mystiques, ni philosophes, ni logiques," we are bound to say at once, that I deeply feel that English Freemasons shall long remain, puts it, neither illuminés, nor mystiques, nor philosophers, nor logicians, as we certainly not intend to give up our Bibles, nor religion from our lodges. But Bro. Valleton not even content with such allegations, a good man, he means, as we say, to go to the entire animal," and so he proceeds to make of language which we deeply regret fall from the pen of any educated and cultured brother Freemason, for he loudly declares because we English Masons accept the Bible as God's Word, and masonry is "anti-liberal and reactionary." He ought to have said anti-infidel and yet most tolerant. But it appears to us a very profitless task, a sad waste of time and intellect, to follow our "frère égaré" in this outburst of unmasonic intolerance and of revolutionary nonsense, and so we propose to leave him, as the French say, "planté dans une haute forêt" of "so-hismes," "illogismes," "enormités," and rubbish. Bro. Valleton's knowledge of English Freemasonry is as correct, moreover, as his criticism is just and fair. He tells us at page 223, that our English Freemasonry is "closed to Jews, who only accept the Pentateuch," that it is "closed to Hindoos and Parsees," that it is closed to all Freethinkers." No doubt English Freemasonry is closed to Atheists, and long may it continue to be so. But this is not all. Blinded by his own "esprit nationalité," this well-informed brother goes on to assert that English Biblical Masonry is so much a religious sect, that there are actually Clergymen" (sic) who direct it, with the title and position of Chaplains." Horrible enormity! Is it not? What a priest-ridden lot we are! Yes, will it surprise our readers to be told, that English Freemasonry is a "sect so narrow that it only chooses those Biblical Christians who belong to the higher or middle classes," and that it rejects actually "those Biblical Christians of the working classes, whom it keeps at a distance by its fees and its various expenses." How any such brother can really sit down and take the trouble to put together such an amount of mitigated falsehood and absurdity, it passes our comprehension to realize altogether. We need not allude to the remainder of Bro. Valleton's lucubration, as it is simply one of those digested rhapsodies put forth by some of our sign brethren, which really serve as an excuse for the opposition by governments and religious bodies to a propaganda which savours of irreligion and socialism. We in England, spite Bro. Valleton, mean to go on our peaceable, tolerant, and what the Germans call "mandandy" way, resolved on this one thing, however, which the example of foreign Masonry teaches alike our bounden and our solemn duty, never on any account to let go the sympathy always manifest for religion, and above all, in helping us, never on any pretence to remove the Bible from our lodges.

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

most important question. Yet how can we answer it? We have heard it repeated so lately, with great emphasis and energy of expression, that it is by some taken to be an admitted and an ascertained fact. Indeed, one or two Italian and Sicilian lodges have, we are told, on the faith of the story, expelled, as that is, as they could do so, Bro. Pio Nino from Freemasonry. Now we confess to have some doubts on the subject, and we should very much wish to have those doubts removed. The fact be a fact let it by all means be established, but on the rules and laws of Masonry; so far, the actuality of the Pope's Masonic affiliation is, in our humble opinion, unproven." It has been stated that he was made in Italy, a young man, just as it has been averred, that in his juvenile years he displayed proclivities for "Giovene Italia." It has been announced that when on an ecclesiastical mission in one of the South American Republics he was initiated under one of the symbolic systems, or the "Rite Ecosaise." But up to this hour when we write, no one, as far as we are aware, has ever thought well to supplement these loud assertions by simple and satisfactory evidence. If the fact be really so, it surely can be proved to the satisfaction of all true Freemasons, and all honest men. If it be merely a device of partisan warfare; a "fraus pia" for the purpose of discrediting an antagonist, the sooner such an indefensible system is put a stop to the better, especially amongst Freemasons, who so deeply prize honour and truth at all times and in all things. If the account is a pure "myth" it is hurtful to Freemasons and to Freemasonry to continue to propagate anything which is untrue; while if the report of the Pope's admission to Freemasonry be well founded, the sooner it be made manifest the better, both for Freemasons and the world. No good can accrue to any by the "suppressio veri" in this case on the one hand, and most certain we are, that the greatest possible injury will be done to the honest character of Freemasons and Freemasonry, if a "suggestio falsi" is needlessly persevered in on the other. If Pio Nono was ever initiated into our Order, the minutes of the lodge meeting must exist, and a certified copy of the minutes would set the matter at rest. But if no such certified extract can be supplied, it is idle for brethren to go on stating that such a thing is a fact, of which they offer no trustworthy evidence. Freemasonry has suffered so much from loose statements, unreliable references, hap-hazard assertions, and unfounded assurances, that we feel it is in the best interests of Masonic history and of Masonic veracity that we ask to day for some authentic proof of this "oft-told tale." We have in England our very worthy and able Bro. Gallico, who is interested in and connected with that "Morgen-land," so very pleasant always to scholars of every age, and not the less so to Masonic students. Will Bro. Gallico favour us with his view of the matter, and will he endeavour to lay before our readers some proof of the story if it be true? Or will he give us an honest avowal, if the statement be incorrect, of the mistake into which many Italian and other Masonic writers have fallen? We shall hope to hear from him on the subject shortly, as no one is more competent to give the information desired, and no one realizes more clearly the solemn need and duty, in all such inquiries, of strict, historical, unimpeachable truth.

OUR DEPUTY GRAND MASTER AT HIGHCLERE.

We are happy in being able to confirm, for the information of the Craft, our original view of the misquotation of our noble Bro. Lord Carnarvon's speech at an agricultural meeting at Highclere. As the speech had been reported in non-Masonic papers, we felt it to be our duty to allude to it, in order to avoid any possible misconception in the matter. But we expressly stated when we wrote, that in our humble opinion, the words attributed to our most distinguished brother were purely a blunder of the reporter. We rejoice to be able to-day not only to re-affirm our own previous conviction on the subject, but to do so in the full certainty, that no such words fell from the lips of our able and deeply respected Deputy Grand Master.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

SCOTTISH BENEVOLENT FUND.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have with much pleasure read what has been said in your columns in connection with this subject, and I trust something honourable to the Craft in Scotland will come of it. After the hundred-guinea challenge thrown down by the worthy proprietor of this newspaper, Bro. Kenning, I hope that some of the richer members of our Order in Scotland will come forward, and with still greater generosity put their hands in their pockets and come out with something handsome in support of the scheme.

I am, yours fraternally,

PROGRESS.

THE COMING INSTALLATION OF THE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In notice your correspondent, "A Country P.M.," thinks the hour for the assembling for the above ceremony should be fixed so that it would be over about six p.m., to allow country brethren from a distance to return home the same night. The suggestion would be a very good one if there was any probability of the brethren finding room in the Grand Lodge when they did come. But unless a larger building is provided than the present hall (large and commodious as it is) there will not be room for more than one fifth of the brethren who are entitled to attend Grand Lodge, and I believe nearly every brother entitled to that privilege will wish to be present. And I think you will find there is somewhere about nine thousand brethren entitled to attend Grand Lodge as M.'s, W.'s, and P.M.'s; and on an occasion like this, if the privilege could be extended to all W.M.'s of good standing, there would be such an assemblage of brethren of the mystic tie as the world has never seen. Would it not be well for the Committee to secure some place large enough to accommodate all? The Albert Hall would be a most appropriate place, having been built to commemorate our M.W.G. M.'s honoured and revered father.

I remain, yours fraternally,

ANOTHER COUNTRY P.M.

THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH AT DEVONPORT.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Last week you were good enough to print in a supplement a detailed account of the ceremony of placing the memorial stone of the new wing of this institution by His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh. In the hope that I may receive aid from my brethren in my arduous labours to support this excellent charity, permit me to state the grounds on which I appeal to the Masonic body.

1. The Asylum relieves distress in the direst form in which distress can be presented, in the person of the "Destitute Female Orphan."

2. The inmates are exclusively the orphans of our sailors and soldiers, especially of those losing their lives in the public service. They are admitted without local preference, and no recommendation is required.

3. More than twenty of the fathers of children admitted since the Crimean war were members of our Order. The large number of non-commissioned officers who are constantly entering the Fraternity ensures that we shall never be without such candidates, and the cordial support of the Craft would equally ensure their prompt election. I shall be only too happy to answer any inquiry, or to send reports etc. to any brother desirous of contributing or collecting. Unless I can raise £2,000 between this and next April, 150 orphans now on the list of candidates will be disappointed, as no election can take place.

I remain, Dear Sir and Brother,
Yours fraternally,
L. P. MERTHAM,
P.G.D., D.P.G.M. Devonshire, Hon. Sec.

LODGE SUMMONSES.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I think it would not a little conduce to fraternal regard and brotherly love if each of the several lodges would instruct their Secretaries to send a copy of their Lodge summonses to the Secretaries of the other lodges in their respective provinces, as far as they are able, so that the meetings may be made known to the brethren, and opportunity offered, that should any brethren in the course of their respective callings find themselves at that particular time near to a lodge meeting, they could avail themselves of the pleasure of attending, and enjoy themselves with their brethren. It would also shew each lodge how all the other lodges in the province were progressing, and also as each lodge has a different method of printing its summonses, the best and neatest form would no doubt be followed.

I can scarcely suppose such a province as Middlesex, where so many lodges are located, (London) or so large a province as Yorkshire, would or could carry out the above suggestion.

Yours fraternally,
R. T. ANDREWS, 403.

LADIES AS FREEMASONS.

Sir,—

Will you kindly allow me to ask through your columns, if Freemasonry has a purifying, elevating influence upon men, why not admit women? Surely it would have a good effect on them also, and in many cases keep inviolate that unlimited confidence between man and wife that constitutes the happiness of every home.

THE WIFE OF AN APPRENTICE.

THE ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

It would be a very great pity indeed that the discussion of an important subject affecting very materially the interests of the Masonic body should be allowed to degenerate into a personal quarrel between two humble members of the Order like Bro. Curteis and myself; but I ask to be allowed just a word or two—and they shall be the last—in reply to Bro. Curteis's last letter, which is framed in a spirit that has nothing to recommend it, but everything to condemn it. Bro. Curteis is a lawyer, and he therefore adopts the lawyer-like policy of "no case, bully the other side." Seeing the extreme weakness of the cause which he came forward at the eleventh hour to defend, he now accuses me of having been guilty of insulting, unmasonic, and ungentlemanly language in my last communication—a charge which has its complete refutation in the fact of my letter being published in the columns of the Freemason, for I am quite sure, sir, that if it had approached to anything like the character which Bro. Curteis has been pleased to give to it, it never would have made its appearance in your columns.

The insinuation that I am only a recently admitted Mason is as ungenerous as it is stupid. I have yet to learn that a long connection with Masonry is necessary, in order to enable a person to form a common sense view of a common sense question. Bro. Curteis's letter is a sadly painful illustration to the contrary, and clearly proves that the oldest Masons are by no means, necessarily, the wisest. But Bro. Curteis is a lawyer.

Again, he makes it a charge against me that I fail to realise the duties which, as a Mason, I am bound to discharge. That is an imputation which I throw back in Bro. Curteis's teeth. It is unfounded, unwarranted, and grossly malicious, and is simply a part of the policy to which I have already alluded.

Bro. Curteis says I made a personal attack upon him in my last communication. Nothing was further from my intention, and having read it again, I utterly fail to see what grounds he has for the assertion. I am afraid that at the moment of writing he was anticipating the contents of his own letter, than which there cannot be anything more ungenerous or unmasonic. But Bro. Curteis is a lawyer.

As I have already said, it was only at the last moment, when the explanation so long sought for, was forthcoming, that Bro. Curteis came upon the scene, but it cannot be said that he has in any way helped us out of the difficulty. His two letters did certainly contain just three facts, and they were—first, that he was a Mason, secondly, that he was a member of the Committee, and thirdly, that he is a W.M. These are not matters of the least public interest, but taking them for what they are worth, we were acquainted with them before.

And now, sir, having taken Bro. Curteis to task, permit me the opportunity of doing another act of justice. In my previous letters I was led, through an unfortunate misunderstanding, to reflect upon the action of Bro. Colonel Elliott, as a member of the Committee, but having satisfied myself beyond doubt that that gentleman is in no way responsible for what took place, I am desirous at the earliest moment of fully and freely expressing my regret that in the discussion of a question in which I took a very deep interest, I should have been induced to cast reflections upon a gallant officer and an excellent brother, which I am now convinced were undeserved. I am quite sure that Bro. Colonel Elliott will accept this expression of my regret in the same spirit in which it is given.

Thanking you for your courtesy in allowing such a free discussion of this unfortunate question to take place in your columns, I beg to subscribe myself.

Yours fraternally,
C.M. (1205).

THE LATE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

I cordially echo the conclusion at which you have arrived in "A Few Words of Caution" in your number of 24th inst. Perhaps you could not conclude this very unmasonic controversy in a better manner than by the insertion of the following clever anagram, which may also amuse your readers:—

"The Marquess of Ripon."

"R.I.P. quoth Freemasons."

Yours fraternally,
P.M.

MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I think your reply to our "South African Brother" will not prove quite satisfactory to him; another glance at his letter will show you that he meant proxy of person.

1st. The S.W. being absent through illness a proxy or substitute might have been invested by the W.M., and the brother so substituted could have acted for the absent brother, and as, I presume, he had previously held the office of J.W., he would have "regularly served as a Warden for one year," and would therefore be eligible for the Master's chair; but if he did not serve the office of J.W., and was absent a great part of the year, his having a substitute would not help him. He could not be installed even if elected, or if he were he will find it will come to the long ears of the "Board of General Purposes," which reach all over the world, and the "Board of Installed Masters," and the lodge must answer for it.

I should rule in my own lodge that if a J.W.

appointed by me was absent through illness on the installation night, and I invested a substitute, that if the J.W. proper attended at the next meeting of the lodge, and continued his lodge attendances for the remainder of the year, that he was eligible for the chair. But the J.W. in "South Africa" had no pretence for being put forward; he was not appointed or invested by proxy, and only took the J.W.'s chair by favour on the resignation of the brother who was appointed and invested. Dispensations are not granted in such cases.

I am, yours fraternally,
MAGNUS ORREN,
P.P.G.J.W. for Surrey.
Sydenham, Oct. 20, 1874.

ITALY.

Bro. George Kenning has received a most flattering communication from the lodge "Anziani Virtuosi," at Leghorn, of which the following is the translation from the original Italian:— "It affords us gratification, to send you, in the name of the Worshipful Lodge Anziani Virtuosi, Orient of Leghorn, a diploma of honorary membership, to which you have been elected, as a proof of our esteem for your Masonic virtues, and we are proud to place upon the roll of our lodge your honourable name. We consider ourselves fortunate in having entrusted to us the duty of acquainting you of the above resolution, and we inform you, as a Member of our Lodge Anziani Virtuosi, that we should be happy to greet you between the Grand Columns. In the meantime accept, in the name of the Craft, our Triple Masonic Fraternal Greeting."

(Here follow the official signatures.)

The "Masonic Magazine" of August, September, and October, 1873, being out of print, copies will be thankfully received by the publisher, at 198, Fleet-street, London.

The "Cosmopolitan Calendar" is now ready, price 2s., post free, 2s. 2d. To America, post free, 2s. 6d.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, November 6, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodge Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, October 31.

Manchester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Gate, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Asprey, Preceptor.

Lily Lodge of Instruction (820), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.

Star Lodge of Instruction (1275), Marquess of Granby, New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dille, Preceptor.

Monday, November 3.

Lodge 12, Fortitude and Old Cumberland, Ship Street, Turtle, Leadenhall-street.

" 25, Robert Burns, Freemasons' Hall.

" 72, Royal Jubilee, Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 90, St. John's, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.

" 144, St. Luke's, Masons' Hall, Masons' Avenue, Basinghall-street.

" 188, Joppa, Albion, Aldersgate-street.

" 256, Unions, Freemasons' Hall.

" 1319, Asaph, Freemasons' Hall.

Mark Lodge 139, Panmure, Balham Hotel, Balham.

K. T. Preceptory, 128, Oxford and Cambridge University, 33, Golden-square.

Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (1445), Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland.

Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.

Strong Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell green, at 8; Bro. Beckett, Preceptor.

Sincerity Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern, Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.

Camden Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Goebel, Preceptor.

British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friends Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.

St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse Groom Tavern, (opposite the Pantheon), Oxford-street, at 8.30; Bro. G. P. P. M.

Wellington Lodge of Instruction (180), P.M. Deptford, Preceptor.

1st Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 343, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, November 3.

Annual Board at 3.
Lodge 7, Royal York Lodge of Perseverance, Freemasons' Hall.
18, Old Dundee, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
101, Temple, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-street.
172, Old Concord, Freemasons' Hall.
217, Stability, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
764, St. James's, Bridge House Hotel, London-bridge.
1257, Grosvenor, Caledonian Hotel, Adelphi.
1259, Duke of Edinburgh, Cape of Good Hope Tavern, Commercial-road, E.
1261, Golden Rule, Regent Masonic Hall, Air-street, Piccadilly.
1298, Royal Standard, Marquess Tavern, Canonbury.
1311, Kennington, Surrey Tavern, Kennington Oval.
1369, Temperance, White Swan Tavern, Deptford.
307, United Pilgrims, Horns Tavern, Kennington.
Lodge 1, St. Mark's, Masons' Hall, Masons' Avenue, Basinghall-street.

rough Lodge of Instruction (354), Green Dragon Steeple, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor. atic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Larlham, Preceptor.
Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8; Bro. C. A. Cotebrune, Preceptor.
Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8; Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor. usie Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.
rity Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M. 217, Preceptor. ytlebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stores Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wood, at 8; Bro. T. Adams, Preceptor.
tutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheat-sheaf Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W. orean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.
Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road, 7.30.

Wednesday, November 4.

Chapter at 7.
511, Zealand, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
1491, Athenaeum, Camden-road, Holloway.
Lodge, Old Kent, Masons' Hall, Masons' Avenue, Basinghall-street.
oncord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.
Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A. Ams, Preceptor.
Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, at 7.30.
Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Barking, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.
Lodge in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the 4th, Catherine-street, Poplar.
Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, at 7 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.
Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters-road, N., at 8. Bro. P. Kinson, Acting Preceptor.
Strength Lodge of Instruction (218), the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, Kentish-town, at 8; J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William 4, Preceptor.
Lodge of Instruction (975), Havelock Tavern, Cannon-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, November 5.

Egyptian, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
Strong Man, Old Jerusalem Tavern St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell.
Lion and Lamb, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.
Ionic, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-street, St. Andrew's, Freemasons' Hall.
La Tolerance, Freemasons' Hall.
Yarborough, Green Dragon, Steeple.
Victoria Rifles, Freemasons' Hall.
St. Clement's Danes, King's Head Hotel, 265 Strand.
Prince Leopold, Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road.
Caveac, Westminster Palace Hotel.
Chapter, St. George, 33, Golden-square.
Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-streatham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, 700.
Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers' Tavern, Fleet-street, City-road; Bro. Stean, Preceptor.

United Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
Whittington Lodge of Instruction (863), Crown Tavern, Holborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 188, Preceptor.
Doric Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.
Ebury Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 12, Pensonby-st., Millbank.
Highgate Lodge of Instruction (1366), Bull and Gate, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.
The Great City Lodge of Instruction (1426), 111, Cheapside, at 6.30.

Friday, November 6.

Lodge 143, Middlesex, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.
" 706, Florence Nightingale, Masonic Hall, William-street, Woolwich.
" 890, Hornsey, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
" 1412, Logia de la Iberia, Hill-road, St. John's Wood.
Chap. 3, Fidelity, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.
St. George's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.
Robert Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Regent-st., at 8.
Belgrave Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354, Strand, at 8; Bro. Pulsford, Preceptor.
Panmure Lodge of Instruction (720), Malham Hotel, Barking, at 7.30.
Unions Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s, Freemasons' Hall, a 7.
Temperance Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern, Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.
Clapton Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, at 7.30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor.
Royal Standard Lodge of Instruction (1293), the Castle Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Preceptor.
Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.
Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.
Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.
United Pilgrims, Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern, Lorne-road, Brixton, at 7.
St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.
Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Potts, Preceptor.
Doric Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.
Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales's-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.
St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Rose Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.
Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.
High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses High-road, Tottenham.
Burd at Courts Lodge of Instruction (1278), Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo. W. Verry, Preceptor.
Stability Lodge of Instruction (217), Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street; Bro. H. Muggidge, P.M., Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE.

For the Week ending Saturday, November 7, 1874.

Monday, November 2.

Lodge 113, Unanimity, Bull Hotel Assembly Rooms, Preston.
" 1051, Howley, Masonic Hall, Liverpool.
" 1380, Skelmersdale, Queen's Hotel, Waterloo, near Liverpool, at 5.
Chap. 605, De Tabley, Seacombe Hotel, Seacombe, at 6.
Everton Lodge of Instruction (823), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 7.30.
West Lancashire Mark Lodge (65), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.

Tuesday, November 3.

Lodge 995, Furness, Masonic Temple, Ulverstone.
" 1476, Blackpool, Clifton Arms Hotel, Blackpool.
Chap. 203, St. John of Jerusalem, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
Merchants' Lodge of Instruction (241), Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
Downshire Lodge of Instruction (594), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 7.
Mark Lodge, Walton (161), Masonic Hall, Kirkdale.

Wednesday, November 4.

Lodge 673, St. John's, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.30.
" 730, Ellesmere, Royal Oak Hotel, Chorley.
" 1013, Royal Victoria, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
" 1413, West Lancashire, Commercial Hotel, Ormskirk, at 6.
" 1335, Lindsay, 20, King-street, Wigan.
" 1354, Marquis of Lorne, Masonic Hall, Leigh.
Chap. 477, Fidelity, 55, Argyle-street, Birkenhead.
De Grey and Ripon Lodge of Instruction (1356), 80, North Hill-street, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 7.30.

Thursday, November 5.
Lodge 249, Mariners', Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
" 1473, Booile, Molyneux Assembly Rooms, Booile, Chap. 758, Bridgewater, Masonic Hall, Runcorn, a 6.
Friday, November 6.
Lodge 680, Sefton, Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool, at 5.
" 1264, Neptune, Masonic Temple, Liverpool, at 6.
" 1375, Architect, Didsbury Hotel, Didsbury.
" 1387, Churlton, Masonic Rooms, Churlton-cum-Hardy.
Chap. 1086, Walton, St. Lawrence Schools, Kirkdale, at 6.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, November 7, 1874.
All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, November 2.

Lodge 20, St. John's, Freemasons' Hall, Lesmahagow.
" 119, Rosslyn, Freemasons' Hall, 25, Robertson-street.
" 129, St. Mirren, St. Mirren's Hall, Paisley.
" 332, Union, 170, Buchanan-street.

Tuesday, November 3.

Lodge 34, St. John, St. John's Hall, Buchanan-st.
" 68, Doric, 44, Church-street, Port Glasgow.
" 73, Thistle and Rose, 170, Buchanan-street.
" 87, Thistle, 12, Trongate.
" 177, St. James, Masons' Hall, Coatbridge.
" 233, Hamilton, Spalding's Hotel, Hamilton.
" 406, St. John, Masonic Hall, Motherwell.
" 437, Govanale, Portland Building 5.

Wednesday, November 4.

Lodge 4, Kilwinning, 170, Buchanan-street.
" 21, Old St. John's, Freemasons' Hall, Lanark.
" 117, St. Mary, Freemasons' Hall, Patrick.
" 126, St. Andrew, George Hotel, Kilmarnock.
" 128, St. John, Freemasons' Hall, Shettleston.
" 166, St. John, 29, Grange-street, Airdrie.
" 354, Caledonian Railway, 213, Buchanan-st.
Chap. 87, Shamrock and Thistle, 12, Trongate.

Thursday, November 5.

Lodge 22, St. John's, George Hotel, Kilmarnock.
" 27, St. Mungo, 213, Buchanan-street.
" 149, St. Andrew's, Masonic Hall, Irvine.
" 202, St. Clement's, Trades' Tavern, Kilmarnock.
" 290, Dalry Blair, Masonic Hall, Dalry.
" 370, Renfrew County Kilwinning, High-street, Paisley.
" 465, St. Andrew's, Masons' Hall, Garnad-road.

Friday, November 6.

Lodge 7, Kilwinning, Masonic Hall, Hamilton.
" 116, Royal Arch, Council Hall, Rutherglen.
" 135, St. James, Crown Inn, Tarbolton.
" 217, Cumberland, Old Town Hall, Port Glasgow.
" 242, Houston, Cross Keys, Johnstone.
" 248, Lockhart, St. John's Masonic Hall, Carnwath.
" 360, Commercial, 30 Hope-street.
" 408, Clyde, 170, Buchanan-st.
" 459, Shelburne, Cumbrac Hotel, Milport.
" 512, Thorntree, Thornliebank.

Saturday, November 7.

Lodge 215, St. Andrew, Avondale Inn, Strathaven.
" 305, St. John Woodhall, Freemasons' Hall, Holytown.
" 458, St. John's, Freemasons' Hall, Busby.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN EDINBURGH AND VICINITY.

For the Week ending Saturday, November 7th, 1874.

Monday, November 2.

Grand Lodge, Quarterly Committee, Freemasons' Hall, at 5 p.m.
Lodge 10, Dalkeith Kilwig Masonic Hall, High-street, Dalkeith, at 8.
" 429, St. Kentigern, Royal Hotel, Penicuik, at 8.
" 468, Oswald of Dunnikier, Public Buildings, Kirkcaldy, at 8.

Tuesday, November 3.

Lodge 5, Canongate and Leith, 83, Constitution-street, Leith, at 8.
" 36, St. David's, Ship Hotel, East Register-street, at 8.
" 400, Dunearn, Town Hall, Burntisland, at 8.

Wednesday, November 4.

Lodge 160, Roman Eagle, Iona Hotel, Nicholson-street, at 8.
" 261, Tweed, Cross Keys Hotel, K. Iso, at 8.

Friday, November 5.

Lodge 291, Celtic, Ship Hotel, East Register-street, at 8.
Chap. 83, St. Andrew's, Freemasons' Hall, at 8.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN DUBLIN.

For the week ending November 7.

Monday, November 2.

Lodge 2, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Chap. 245, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.

Tuesday, November 3.

Lodge 171, Duke of Clarence, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.
" 227, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Prince Masons Chap. 5, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 5.

Wednesday, November 4.
Lodge 125, Fidelity, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.
" 158, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
" 620, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.30.
Grand R. A. Chap., Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Chap. 12, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.30.
K. T. Preceptory, Kilmainham, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.30.

Thursday, November 5.
Grand Lodge, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Prince Masons Chap. 9, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.30.

Friday, November 6.
Lodge 232, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Chap. 50, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
K. T. Preceptory, Eblana, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.
Prince Masons Chap. Kilwinning, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 5.

TO THE VICE-PRESIDENTS, GOVERNORS, AND SUBSCRIBERS OF THE ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

Gentlemen,—
I beg to return my most grateful thanks for the kind support in the election of my daughter, Fanny Gertrude Osborne, to the above Institution on the 10th of the present month through the personal and united efforts of Bros. Griffiths Smith, George Adamson, and Lewis Finch, for which I shall ever feel grateful.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCES OSBORNE.
173, High-street, Margate, Kent.
(Omitted in last issue.)

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

FOR SALE—A set of handsome Oak CANDELISTICKS, Fluted Columns, and Gilt Capitals, of the three Orders, standing five feet high. Price £12 12s. At Kenning's Masonic Depots, 175, Aldersgate-street, and 1, 2, and 3, Little Britain, E.C.

GENERAL POST OFFICE (Within a few yards of).—To Let an entire house, having a frontage of about 10ft. and comprising ground floor fitted with plate glass front, basement, and three upper floors, with or without an extensive range of four-storey brick-built premises and large yard, enclosed by double entrance gates; the whole covering an area of about 5,000ft. Plans and particulars at Messrs. Debenham, T. Mason and Farmer, 80, Cheap-side.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to ship-owners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tulda. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER (in consequence of the Lodge removing) an HARMONIUM belonging to a Freemasons' Lodge, together with the Furniture. For particulars apply by letter, addressed Bro. M. Corless, 48, Crown-street, or to Bro. S. Johnson, 48, Dale-street, Liverpool.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.

A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF MASONIC EMBLEMS.

May be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. George Kenning, at his Masonic Depots in London, Liverpool, and Glasgow.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREE-MASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d.

PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s.
Reeves and Turner, 106, Strand, London.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/, also a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BREC H M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary.

Degree of Most Excellent, Royal, Select, and Super-Excellent Master.

Meetings, under the Authority of the GRAND COUNCIL OF ENGLAND AND WALES, to confer the above Degrees, will be held at the new Lodge Rooms, 2, Red Lion-square, Holborn, on the second and fourth Wednesday in every month. Fee £2 2s.

Ten days' notice of attendance must be sent to the undersigned, from whom all particulars may be obtained:

Candidates must be qualified as Royal Arch and Mark Master Masons.

FREDERICK BINCKES,
Grand Recorder.

Office,—2, Red Lion-square, W.C.
June 8, 1874.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,
Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE WORSHIPFUL MASTER,

SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS,
6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,

10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depots,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 10 Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch lane.

S. YARDLEY,

(ESTABLISHED 1830)

Shop Front Builder
SHOP FITTER,

AND
Air Tight Show Case Manufacturer
8, LOWER WOOD STREET, CLERKENWELL, LONDON, E.C.

Every description of fittings manufactured for Jewellers, Gold Stationers, Offices, Drapers, Musicians, Banks, Libraries, Opticians, and Hoisiers, Fancy Trades, &c.
Plans and Estimates provided for shop fronts and internal fittings, in Town or any part of the Country.

Richard Rayner & Co.

MANUFACTURING

CABINET MAKER AND UPHOLSTERER,

142, ALDERSGATE STREET

LONDON, E.C.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly exceeds other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.

"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.

"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" highly perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S.

And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.

Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-st. London.

FOR FISH.

FOR POULTRY.

FOR GAME.

FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.

J. GOW.

1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, Country Orders promptly executed.
ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE.

"TRUTH MUST PREVAIL."—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger
43, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGHT.

OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but R

Good Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He keeps an "Immense Stock," but does not sell every article select from. He does not sell every article "the Trade," but quite as good as any other.

A visit will, at all times, be appreciated.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.
 OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.
NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT:
 May, 1874.

Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
 Annual Income, £12,236.
 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
 For surrenders, £2,062.
 Paid in year, £44,087.
 Since, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
 Total Premium Income, £104,996.
 For Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies.
 Accumulated Fund increased to £355,102.

Managing Director and Actuary—
 William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,
 NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
 ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.
 ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.
 SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.
 For Insuring against
ACCIDENTAL DEATH
 With
 Compensation for Personal Injury,
 Caused by Accidents
 OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
 LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.
 Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.
 London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

NEY, TIME AND LIFE

ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF
ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.
 Provide against these losses by a Policy of the Passengers' Assurance Company
 AGAINST ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS.
 Largest ACCIDENTAL ASSURANCE COMPANY
 HON. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.
 Capital & Reserve Fund £140,000
 ANNUAL INCOME, £160,000.
 £100,000 have been paid as Compensation.
 is allowed to Insurers of Five Years' standing.
 the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents,
 WHITEHALL, and 10, REGENT STREET, LONDON
 WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

DENT INSURANCE COMPANY
 (Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
 Personal Accidents. Personal Injuries.
 Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
 C. HARDING, Manager.

KEY.—LOANS granted immediately
 £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Insured with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSU-RANCE CO. (Established 1807.)
 the Superintendent of Agents,
 Mr. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
 Agents Wanted.

ISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes
 at 75, Edgware-road, W.
 stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep at least seven years. Send for illustrated Cata-

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,
 Harmonium Manufacturers,
 75, Edgware-road, London.
 FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

Freemasons' Arms..... 15ft. by 12ft.
 Knights Templar Arms..... 15ft. by 12ft.
 Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms
 Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's
 Feathers in Centre 12ft. by 9ft.
 City of London Arms..... 10ft. by 7ft.
 Union Jack..... 10ft. by 6ft.
 Duke of Edinburgh..... 9ft. by 4ft.
 Russian 9ft. by 4ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
 198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
 LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d.
 Entrance Fee 3 3 0
 Annual Subscription 3 3 0
 Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-
 Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) 1 1 0
 The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Posts Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lava totes, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
 Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND,
 P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
 THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."
 Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS SAUCE.
 BEWARE OF IMITATIONS
 to avoid which see the names,
LEA & PERRINS,
 on all bottles and labels.
 Agents—CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION. GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
 (Established upwards of 55 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
 FORMERLY UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL
 FEATHERMEN,
 81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools,
 E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary
 Branch Bridge, N.
 (No connection with any other establishment of the same name.)
 Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—
 See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.
BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
 Complete Funeral Furnishers,
 231 HIGH HOLBORN,
 Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
 Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.
 Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.
Bro. J. AYTON,
 Successor to E. T. CROFTON,
 Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
 ESTABLISHED 1821,
 79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
 AND
 139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
 Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—
ROBERT S. MENDEY
 Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
 (LATE WITH PATHELL & CO.)
 106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.
 Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
 Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers,
 Engineers, &c.
 Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
 Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
 Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,
 80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,
 MANUFACTURER OF THE
NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,
 Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.
RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces,
 Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings,
 Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES:
 Thirty Sizes 4/0 per lb.
GAUZE LACES:
 Per gross. Per gross.
 1 in. ... 4/0 1 in. ... 10/0
 1 in. ... 8/0 1 1/2 in. ... 36/0
 1 in. ... 12/0 2 in. ... 48/0

RUSSIAN LACES:
 1/2 in. 18/6 per gross.
 1 in. 30/0 "

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:
 Per doz. yds. Per doz. yd.
 1 in. ... 3/0 1 1/2 in. ... 12/0
 1 in. ... 6/0 2 in. ... 15/0
 1 in. ... 9/0 3 in. ... 18/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:
 Per doz. yds. Per doz. yds.
 1 in. ... 3/0 2 1/2 in. ... 12/0
 1 in. ... 6/0 2 in. ... 15/0
 1 in. ... 9/0 3 in. ... 18/0

FRINGES:
 Plate of Water Twisted Bullion.
 1 in. 0/4 ... 0/8 ... 1/6 per yard.
 1 1/2 in. 0/6 ... 1/0 ... 2/0 "
 2 in. 0/8 ... 1/4 ... 3/6 "
 3 in. 0/10 ... 2/0 ... 6/0 "
 4 in. 1/0 ... 2/8 ... 8/0 "
 5 in. 1/3 12/6 "
 6 in. 1/6 14/6 "
 7 in. 1/9 17/6 "
 8 in. 2/0 21/0 "
 9 in. 2/3 "
 10 in. 2/6 "
 18 in. 3/0 "

RUSSIA BRAIDS:
 No. 1 5/3 per gross.
 2 6/9 "
 3 8/0 "
 4 10/6 "
 5 13/9 "

FRENCH BRAIDS:
 No. 1, 8/6 per gross No. 4, 26/0 per gross.
 2, 12/0 " 5, 40/0 "
 3, 16/0 " 6, 72/0 "

TISSUE:
 22 inches wide 2/6 per yard.
GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH:
 22 inches wide 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:
 Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
 Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
 " " 2nd " 6/0 "
 Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
 Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
 Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
 Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 27/0
 per doz.
 Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0
 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
 Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz.
 " " double 2/6 "
 Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
 Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
 Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0 "
 Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/0
 3/0 4/0 per dozen.
 Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard.
 " " in colours, 5/9 per yard.
 Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY
GEORGE KENNING,
 175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and
 2, St. Enoch's-lane Glasgow.

CHARING CROSS STATION
TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.)
A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (3d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.
In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REVES SON AND Co., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S
NEW TRACING BOARDS
Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.
Artist and Photographer.
11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.
Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH,
LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for
Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent
Portraits in Carbon.
The Studio is especially adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

213, REGENT STREET, W.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

SUBERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c.
Retail through all Furnishing Houses.
Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS,

335c, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.
Open daily for Gentlemen. Times: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 8s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, £1 5s.; second class, 15s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hauseman, Jernyn-street.

THE BIRKBECK

is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION.
How to Purchase a House for Two Guineas per Month, With immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Month, With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to Invest Money with safety at 4½ per cent Interest, Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK.
All sums under £50 repayable upon demand. Current accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF

HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Fourth Edition, 5s.
"A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age.
London: Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri.
The Freemason contains readings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $3 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free.
Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 108, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR'ACTE,

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW,
Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

"THE FREEMASON"

Supplied by

T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C.
South London Branch, 416, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station.
Wholesale Publisher to the Trade

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason."
BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea.
A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry.
Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c.
Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC and LIVER

PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Dandelion, Turkey Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger.
No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Constipation, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and the most delicate may take them with safety.
Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON'S SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success.
In Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by
THOMAS WILKINSON,
270, Regent Street, London, W.
May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUINOLINE

For the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, and Effects of MALARIA.
An Unfailing Remedy.
Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily took a small quantity, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, that thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Pint Bottles. Prepared only by
THOMAS WILKINSON,
270, Regent Street, London, W.
May be had of all leading Firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON'S BRONCHIO-THORACIC LOZENGES.

Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience has fully justified their recommendation as the most speedy remedy in Irritation of the Throat, Catarrhs, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers and vocalists they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and beautiful tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable taste. In bottles of one uniform size.

YOUNG'S ARNICATED YOORN and JUNION PLASTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate relief to all kinds of rheumatism, sprains, and removing those painful excruciations. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them.
Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Youx's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS
Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurled in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the
MANUFACTURER,
Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.
Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free.
" of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 36s. and 41s. 6d. Postage free.
" of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage rec.
Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly.
NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.

The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 12s. each. Postage free.

SPINAL MACHINES, LEG IRONS, AND Every Description of Surgical Appliances.

JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind

used in Her Majesty's Laundry.
Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

GEORGE REES

MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES'

GILT MOULDINGS, cheap in the Trade.

GEORGE REES'

100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, 10s. 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES'

First-class ENGRAVING from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES'

CHROMOS, from the best Masters, at reduced prices.

57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre.

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC

COUGH ELIXIR

Opates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief to Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such remedials, which yield momentary relief at the expense of deranging the digestive organs, and thus increasing the debility which is at the root of the malady, modern medicine points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Laser," says he has repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it relieves cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as the most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment of this disease.

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Indigestion, Sweats of Consumption, Quinsey, and all affections of the chest. Sold in bottles at 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by respectable Chemists, and wholesale by JAS. M. Crosby, 10, Scarborough.

Those who should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had gratis from all Chemists.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK.—"BLOOD MIXTURE"
THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORATIVE.
For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, be too highly recommended.
For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, a never-failing and permanent cure.

It Cures old Sores.
Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs.
Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
Cures Scurvy Sores.
Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
Cures Glandular Swellings.
Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted to be anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its efficacy. Thousands of Testimonials from all parts.
Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing the quantity, 11s., sufficient to effect a permanent cure. BY ALL THE great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL THE AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the Kingdom and the world, or send to any address on receipt of 1/3 stamps by
F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln.
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.

TABLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired Vision, by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Foreign, and by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Foreign, and by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Foreign, and by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Foreign.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.

Try Anthony Scard's new material! Feathered Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like satin, never comes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable superlative speciality. 8, Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. 4. skilfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

GUIDE TO HEALTH; OR, ADVISORY INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, TENDERS, AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY.

Indigestion, and other Disorders of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of the Nervous System, for the Development and Preservation of the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Secure Long Life, and how to Avoid the Causes of Old Age. The pamphlet will be sent to any address on receipt of two penny stamps.
Address, Dr. H. Smith, 11, West Nile Street, Glasgow.

“THE FREEMASON.”

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

“THE MASONIC MAGAZINE.”

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

“THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK.”

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of Newsvendors generally.

AGENTS.

BERDEEN... LINDSAT, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City) JAS. GILBERT, 18, Grace church-st.
” RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st.	” C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
BERGAVENNY THOMAS & EDMUNDS.	” R. POTTLE, 14, Royal Exchange.
BDOVER J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st.	” HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BRLIN ASHER & Co., 43, Mohrenstrasse.	” CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BURWICK R. LAMBERT.	” (West) GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BIRMINGHAM J. WILLEY, Union-passage.	” D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Soho.
BADFORD MORGAN, Kirkgate.	” — LASQUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
BIGHTON J. BEAL, 55, East-st.	” H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
BISTOL E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st.	” NASH & TRUTON, Saville-place.
BPE OF GOOD HOPE C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P.	” WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
BURDIFF LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	” (Bermondsey) HALL, 87, New Road.
” T. HAYNES, 6, James-st.	” JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
BURGLISLE J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	” (Brixton) FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
BURGHAM T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	” (Camberwell) MORRIS, 19, The Green.
BURGER MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	” (Chelsea) JNO. CATTERMOLE, 48, Cale-st.
BURGLETON A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	” (Clapham) JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
BURKFIELD JOHN GALLOP.	” (Euston Road) PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
BURBY CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	” (Greenwich) POOK, Church-st.
BURBLIN DOWN, Freemasons’ Hall, Molesworth-st	” (Hornsey) SWAIN, Railway Approach.
BURBEE CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	” (K. nnington) KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
BURBURGH MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	” (Kingsland) PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
” R. S. BROWNS, 67, Hanover-st.	” (Lambeth, South) TRIBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
” ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	” (New Cross) FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
BURTER W. GREGORY, 3, High-st.	” JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
” E. FITZ, 28, High-street.	” WM. KIPPS, 361, New Cross-rd.
BURSGOW GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st.,	” (Paddington) E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
” 2, St. Enoch’s-lane.	” (Richmond) TURRALL, 17, New Road.
” LAING, St. Enoch-square.	” (St. John’s Wood) WILSON, 13, High Street.
” THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	” (Shoreditch) ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
” URQUHART, 189, London-road.	” (Sydenham) J. CLARKE, Cambridge House.
” WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	MANCHESTER JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
” LOVE, 226, Argyle-street.	” ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
” GEO. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street.	” BERESFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
BURCESTER THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	MARGATE W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
BURVESEND E. BAYNES, 65, High-st., & Princes-st	MARYPORT J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
BURRNSBY F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
BURIFAX WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire) D. DILWORTH.
BURWICH BOTHAM & JACKSON, Church-st	NEWTON ABBOTT HEARDER & SON.
BURTFORD SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NORTHALLERTON J. E. H. REED.
BURWOOD HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHAMPTON STANTON & SON.
BURWHEAD OWEN R. ELLIS.	” RUSHTON, Gold-st.
BURWLE PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	OXFORD SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
BURWLE S. NATHAN, Market-st.	FORTSEA EMANUEL, High-st.
BURWAND ORR & Co., Coleraine.	PORTSMOUTH N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road.
BURWOF WIGHT J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes	PRESTON HARKNESS, Church-street.
BURWY GEO. WARDLEY, St. Helier’s.	PUTNEY H. A. ROBINSON, 57, High-street.
BURWASTER EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROTHERHAM HINCHCLIFFE, High-st.
BURWIS INCHBOLD, 33, Bond-st.	SHEFFIELD E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
” A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SOUTHAMPTON ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
” J. MOSLEY.	” JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
BURWESTER C. OLDERSHAW, JUN., 40a, Granby-st.	” J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
BURWEHAMPTON MARDON’S LIBRARY, High-street.	” “SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER” Office.
BURWPOOL GEORGE KENNING, 2, Monument-pl.	SOUTHPORT G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
” G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	STOKE-ON-TRENT J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
” ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	STOKESLEY TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
” DAVIES, Exchange.	SUNDERLAND B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
” WINTERBOTTOM, Exchange.	SWANSEA CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st
” MRS. LEA, Woodside Ferry.	TRURO WILLIAM LAKE.
” EDWARDS, Duke Street.	TWEEDMOUTH R. LAMBERT.
” METCALF, Lime Street.	WEST INDIES J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
BURWUDNO WOODLEY.	” GEORGE ROE, St. Ann’s Bay, Jamaica.
BURWELLY ACE & SON.	” JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica.
BURWON (City) GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain	WHITEHAVEN PAGEN & GILL.
” W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITSTABLE COX, High-street.
” G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WIGAN T. WALL, “Observer” Office.
” WILLIAM ABBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGTON T. McMECHIN.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE

COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875, IS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,

CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Single Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to
GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

NOVEMBER NUMBER, now ready. Price Sixpence.

THE MASONIC MAGAZINE, A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS:

Bro. W. VINER BEDOLFE, M.D.
Bro. W. BURROUGHS, A.M., Calcutta.
Bro. J. G. FINDEL.
Bro. C. G. FORSYTH
Bro. EMRA HOLMES, 31^o
Bro. HUBERT.

Bro. WM. JAMES HUGHAN, P.M., P.S.G.D.
Bro. ROBERT WENTWORTH LITTLE, 30^o
Bro. D. MURRAY LYON, P.M., P.Z.
Bro. KENNETH R. H. MACKENZIE, F.S.A.
Bro. J. DANIEL MOORE, M.D., F.L.S.
Bro. JACOB NORTON.
Bro. J. C. PARKINSON, P.M., P.Z., G.D.

Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON, P.M.
Bro. GEORGE MARKHAM TWEDDELL.
Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, M.A., P.G.C.
Bro. DR. WOODMAN, P.M., P.Z.
Bro. JOSEPH H. WOODWORTH.
Bro. T. B. YEOMAN.

CONTENTS:

Monthly Masonic Summary;
Our Masonic Manuscripts.
A Romance of the American War.
Charles Dickens—A Lecture.
Patty's Confidences.
Records of the Past.
Account of an Apparition seen at Star Cross, in Devonshire.
What is the Good of Freemasonry?

Our Archæological Corner.
Oration, by M.W. Grand Master Van Slyck.
The Present Influence and Future Mission of Freemasonry.
Poetry.
Nous avons Change Cela!
P.P.C.
Shadows.
How may I know you to be a Mason.
On the Stairway, 11, p.m.

The Masonic Magazine will be forwarded from the Office of Publication, throughout the United Kingdom, on the following terms—

	s.	d.
Twelve months	7	0
Six "	3	6
One Copy	0	7

For Foreign parts, postage on 4 oz. Magazine must be added.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, E.C.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother GEORGE KENNING, at his Office, 198, Fleet-street, and 2, 3, and 4, Little Britain; in the City of London; in the County of Lancaster; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Euoch's-lane, Glasgow.—SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1874.

ORDERS OF THE TEMPLE & MALTA.
PROVINCE OF LANCASHIRE.

We have been requested to publish the following:—

2, River-street, Rochdale,
Oct. 15, 1874.

Dear Sir Knight,—By order of the Committee forward you extract from the proceedings of the Provincial Priory, holden at Preston, on the 1st day of May, 1874, containing copy of the letter and suggestions sent by Sir Knight Wright, together with the resolution of the Provincial Priory thereon.

I also forward you a copy of Memorial adopted by the Committee referred to in the said resolution, which Memorial they recommend for adoption by every preceptory in the Province.

The Committee respectfully request that you will render all the help you can, to further the object and prayer of the said Memorial.

Yours faithfully,
WM. ASHWORTH, Chancellor.

A letter was read from Sir Knight W. H. Wright, Past Provincial Deputy Grand Commander, containing a number of suggestions for the better working of the order in Lancashire, and on the motion of the Provincial Prior, it was resolved—"That a copy of the same be entered upon the minutes of the proceedings of the Provincial Priory."

(COPY.)

Bolton, 20th May, 1874.

My Dear Sir,—I regret very much that I will not be able to be with you to-morrow, at Bolton. I have been very unwell, and since my last have been very much worse. It will be the first meeting I have missed for a period of twenty-two years. I have been very anxious to get to this meeting, to explain my views on the alterations made at head quarters, some of which will no doubt elevate the order, others bring it into disfavour. I think something should be done as soon as possible to retrace our steps. I have letters from all parts of the Province on this subject. I hope you will have a good meeting. Please give my kind regards to our Eminent Preceptor, and say how very sorry I am to be deprived of the pleasure of meeting him as usual.

Yours faithfully,

W. H. WRIGHT.

R. N. Beswicke-Royds, Esq.

(COPY.)

SUGGESTIONS.

—That a committee be appointed to consider the alterations made in the statutes of the order, and say which they disapprove of.

—That the alterations disapproved of be inserted in a memorial.

—That the committee be requested to draw up a memorial for each encampment.

—That each encampment be requested to send a memorial signed by the whole of its members.

—That an interview be sought with the Hon. the Earl of Limerick.

—That a deputation be appointed to prepare memorials and discuss the subject with the Provincial Prior.

—That in accordance with the foregoing suggestions, a committee be appointed to consider and report upon the subject, with power to add to the number, viz:—

Provincial Prior, Sub Prior, Chancellor, and Knights Lees, Birchall, and Jones.

2, River-street, Rochdale,
Sept. 16th, 1874.

Sir Knight,—By command of the Very Eminent Provincial Prior, Sir Knight Albert Beswicke-Royds, I forward you form of Memorial drawn up by the committee appointed by the Provincial Priory, to consider the suggestions of Sir Knight Wright, Past Deputy Provincial Commander, (see Priory proceedings at Bolton, May 21st, 1874).

I request that the same be submitted to the Provincial Prior, for his approval of the Sir Knights of your Preceptory, notice thereof being given in the agenda paper, and, if necessary, that you will convene a special meeting for that purpose.

Also that you will cause the Memorial to be entered in the minutes of the proceedings of your Preceptory, and that a copy of the resolution thereon be forwarded to me stating whether the Memorial was adopted unanimously or otherwise.

And further, that the Memorial, together with the copy resolution duly signed by the Preceptor, (E.C.) Constable (1st Captain), Marshal (2nd Captain), and attested by the Registrar, be forwarded to me not later than the 31st October proximo.

I am, dear Sir Knight, yours faithfully,
WM. ASHWORTH, Prov. Chancellor.

To the Eminent Preceptor of the Preceptory.

The Memorial alluded to appeared in our impression of October 10th, page 615.

DISTRICT GRAND LODGE OF ANCIENT FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

At the Quarterly Communication holden at Freemasons' Hall, 20th July, 1874. Present: R.W. A. T. Holrord, District Grand Master in the Chair; V.W. Ernest O. Smith, Dep. District Grand Master; V.W. Watson Wilson, P.S.P.G.W. as S.D.G. Warden; V.W. W. G. Cassidy, P.J.D.G.W. as J.D.G. Warden; V.W. R. Leeworthy, District Grand Secretary; V.W. Jno. Gray, D.G.S. Deacon; V.W. A. Gardiner, D.G.A.D. Ceremonies; V.W. Jno. Ferguson, D.G. Swordbearer; V.W. W. Thomas, District Grand Pursuivant; V.W. S. A. DeLissa, District Grand Tyler.

District Grand Stewards, Past District Grand Officers, Worshipful Masters, Past Masters, and Wardens as per Presence Book.

The District Grand Lodge was opened by the Right Worshipful the District Grand Master, in due form, at 7-45 p.m.

The Minutes of the Annual Communication of the 20th April were read.

Brother Deeper, P.M. Lodge 556, objected to the confirmation of that part of the Minutes referring to the election of the Committee of General Purposes, as also to the statement that the Report of the Orphan Society was received and adopted.

The District Grand Master explained that the putting the Minutes for confirmation, is intended to test their accuracy as a record of what was done; if, as he believed they were correctly taken, they ought to be confirmed. After a slight discussion, they were put and confirmed.

REPORTS.

The District Grand Secretary stated that the Reports of the Committees of General Purposes and Benevolence had not been signed by the Presidents, and therefore could not be brought up.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Letter read, dated 25th June, 1874, from the Secretary of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Scotland, addressed to the Right Worshipful District Grand Master, E.C., drawing attention to the fact, "That Bro. Wm. Vial, under suspension as a member of the late St. Andrew's Lodge, had been admitted as a Joining Member into the Robert Burns Lodge 817, E.C."

Letter also read from the District Grand Secretary, dated 4th July, addressed to the Worshipful Master of the Robert Burns Lodge 817, referring to the admission of Bro. Vial, and requesting an explanation of the matter.

In reply, the Worshipful Master of the Robert Burns Lodge, Brother James Spratt, stated, "That no communication had been received from the Provincial Grand Lodge, Scotch Constitution, concerning the suspension of Brother Vial, late of Lodge St. Andrew's, of which Lodge it was not known he was a member."

The District Grand Master said he did not consider the letter of Brother Spratt a reply or explanation to the District Grand Secretary's letter.

MOTION.

The Deputy District Grand Master moved—That the following alteration be made in Bye-Laws of District Grand Lodge at pages 7 and 8, referring to the Committees of General Purposes and Benevolence, viz., by the insertion of the following words in each Bye-Law after the word quorum: "Not more than one Past Master to be elected from the same lodge." He said, in moving this motion, standing in his name, he did so in the interests of the Order; for he considered it was but right and equitable that all the lodges should, as far as practicable, be equally represented on the several Committees, as was the case in England, where, by the Book of Constitutions, only one Past Master was eligible to be elected from the same lodge for service upon its Board of General Purposes. It was very desirable to assimilate our practice to that of the Grand Lodge, and he thought the time had now arrived when the alteration of the Bye-Laws as proposed in this motion might well be made, and prove beneficial and equitable.

Brother W. Wilson, Acting S.D.G. Warden, seconded the motion and said: He thought it was a very proper one; it would place all the lodges on the same footing, and give the younger lodges an equal chance with the older ones.

Brother Cassidy, Acting J.D.G. Warden, did not think District Grand Lodge had any right to interfere with the present practice; it should be left to District Grand Lodge to elect whom they pleased.

Brother P. L. Murray, D.G. Steward, supported the motion, and said: If it was carried it would not take a retrospective effect, and he believed the business of the Committees would be quite as well carried on as at present.

Bro. C. H. May, P.M. 1169, thought there was plenty of room for reform, and he agreed with the Dep. Dist. Grand Master, but he considered it would be advisable, as the question to be decided was of importance, that owing to the small attendance of members, it should be postponed. He would therefore, move as an amendment, that the motion stand over till next Quarterly Communication.

Bro. Gardiner, D. G. A. D. Ceremonies, seconded the amendment, and thought some reform very desirable.

Bro. Marshall, Worshipful Master, Lodge 390, thought it was but right that large lodges who subscribed most to the funds of the Order should be more largely represented on the Committees thereof. He should support Bro. May's motion for adjournment.

Bro. Deeper, P.M., 556, thought both motion and amendment were out of order, as the matter was clearly provided for by the Book of Constitutions.

Bro. Douglas, P.M., Lodge 390, supported the amendment, and thought it was not right in so thin a meeting to decide such an important matter; the larger lodges contributed more to the funds, and should not be snuffed out by the smaller ones, whose contributions were comparatively trifling. The decision of the D.G. Lodge should be postponed till next Communication.

Bro. Thomas, D.G. Pursuivant, said it was possible that the larger lodges might swamp the smaller ones; although the latter had as much interest in the order as the former, he hoped the amendment would not be carried.

The Dep. Dist. Grnd. Mast. said: He thought it possible, though not probable, that a strong lodge might seek to swamp the Committees; the Book of Constitutions had provided against this. His great desire was to ensure equal privileges to all lodges, who, no matter what their size, have a like interest. As the proper notice had been given, he trusted the question would be settled to-night by the members present, who were far from wanting in intelligence, and were mostly those who took a foremost position in all matters connected with the government and advancement of the Craft, and who do not allow engagements or inclement weather to deter them from regularly attending to their important Masonic duties. By deciding the matter to night, at our Annual Meeting in April next, the new Committees could be elected under the new rules, if approved of by the Most Worshipful Grand Master,

The District Grand Master said he was also of opinion that as regular notice had been given, no need existed for a postponement of the consideration of the subjects which ought to be decided this evening; he should, therefore proceed to put the amendment and motion.

The amendment that the decision of District Grand Lodge on D.D.G.M.'s motion be adjourned till the next Quarterly Communication was lost.

The motion was then put and carried.

TREASURER'S BALANCES.

The District Grand Secretary in the absence of the Treasurer, stated the balances to credit.

District Grand Lodge . . . £183 14 3
Benevolent Fund 469 2 4

Bro. C. H. May enquired whether Irish and Scotch Past Masters ranked as Past Masters under the English Constitution, and are eligible as Members of District Grand Lodge.

The District Grand Master said the question had already been decided in the negative.

Bro. Deeper enquired whether a Member of two Lodges, in one of which he was in arrear, was entitled to a seat in District Grand Lodge.

The District Grand Master replied that full subscription to one Lodge would be sufficient to ensure Membership of District Grand Lodge.

The District Grand Lodge was then closed in due form at 9 p.m.

The following circular has been issued by the District Grand Lodge of New South Wales:—

Freemasons' Hall, New South Wales,
Sydney, 22nd August, 1874.

I am directed by the Right Worshipful the District Grand Master to inform you that he has considered it necessary to issue a circular, as annexed, to every member of lodges under the English Constitution in this Colony, and to express the hope that steps may be taken by you to draw the special attention of Freemasons under your jurisdiction to the important matter therein referred to, which course, it is trusted, may prove the means of checking the advancement of spurious Masonry amongst us.

Yours fraternally,

R. LEWORTHY,
District Grand Secretary.

To _____

Freemasons' Hall, New South Wales,
Sydney, 22nd August, 1874.

To Brother _____
Lodge No. _____

(English Constitution.)

You are particularly warned against the so-called lodges in this Colony working under the auspices of the Lodge of Memphis, the Grand Lodge of New South Wales, and the Grand Lodge of Australia, as those who join, visit, or encourage such lodges, or admit members thereof into their own lodges, are liable to suspension from all the rights and privileges of ancient Freemasonry, which can only be legitimately exercised in this Colony under the authority of the Grand Lodges of England, Ireland, and Scotland, under the supervision of the District Grand Master of the English Constitution (Arthur Todd Holroyd), Provincial Grand Master of the Irish Constitution (James Squire Farnell), and the Provincial Grand Master of the Scottish Constitution (William Gillet Sedgwick), and their duly authorised successors or deputies.

It is hoped that your best efforts will not be wanting in inducing unwary persons not to join, or at all countenance, these spurious lodges referred to herein; and further, that you will explain to those who have unfortunately joined, that until their connection therewith ceases, and they are regularly initiated into Freemasonry, they are prohibited from visiting, or being visited by, Freemasons' lodges, or being in any way recognised Masonically, or being permitted to be participators in the benefits of Freemasonry in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or elsewhere.

By order of the District Grand Master.

R. LEWORTHY,
District Grand Secretary.

PROVINCIAL GRAND CHAPTER OF CHESHIRE.

On Friday last, the 23rd inst., Comp. the Right Hon. Lord de Tabley, R.W.P.G. Superintendent, held his Provincial Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Freemasonry, at the Literary Institution, Altrincham. The following is a list of the brethren present:—Lord de Tabley, R.W.P.G.S.; Wm. Halley, P.G.H.; Rev. J. W. N. Tanner, P.G.I.; G. W. Latham, P.G.S.E.; J. Liddeley, P.G.S.N.; J. Woodcock, P.G.P.S.; J. Wood, P.G. Reg.; E. Harbord, P.G.S.B.; P. H. Kirk, P.G. Org.; J. A. Birch, P.P.G.J.; R. Cope, P.P.G.H.; Henry Howard, P.Z. 323; C. C. Immison, P.P.G.S.B. 758; W. Goodacre, Z. 423; E. G. Simpson, H. 941; M. Fentern, H. 324; R. Gracie, P.Z. 605; C. Coode, P.Z. 323; J. Little, Z. 941; T. Dixon, 477; H. Bulley, P.P.G.H.; J. P. Platt, P.P.G.H.; W. Fair; J. 491; J. Duffield, P.P.G.S., East Lancashire; T. E. Hignett, Z. 537; W. Worrall, E. 477; S. Warhurst, Z. 89; J. Sudrem, P.Z. 1045; C. N. Coates, Z. 1045; W. A. Renshaw, 1045; A. H. Hithen, 321; G. Burrows, Z. 430; J. Eaton, Jun., H. 430; J. J. Lawton, 430; W. M. Asher, Treasurer, 477; J. Dutton, P.S. 477; J. Clayton, E. 89; J. M. Beach, 361; W. Mathew, 721; J. Davenport, 1045; J. C. Cheetham, P.Z. 322; J. Davenport, Jun., 1045; W. Batchelor, Z. 324; T. Meadows, Z. 322; C. Dutton, H. 321; H. Balshaw, 1045; J. W. Petty, P.Z. 204; J. Hill, 323; W. H. Wakefield, 1045; W. Jackson, 1045; W. Spratley, 683; E. G. Parker, 1045; W. Shepherd, 287; H. S. Carrington, Z. 287; J. Turner, E. 287; C. H. Devereux, 295; J. Worthington, 1045; J. H. Waldon, P.Z. 361; J. F. Lawson, 430; C. Cook, P.S. 323; W. H. Wathefield, N. 323; H. Kenyon, P.S. 1045; J. Beach, P.S. 361; and W. Shepherd, P.S. 287.

The interesting proceedings of the day were characterised by a spirit and vitality which clearly indicated how great is the progress of this section of the Masonic Order in this particular section of the Kingdom.

The P.G. Chapter was opened in ancient form by Comp. Lord de Tabley, P.G. Superintendent, assisted by Comp. W. Bulley, P.G.H., and Comp. the Rev. J. W. N. Tanner, P.G.J. The Roll of Chapters was called, when it was found that all within the large Province were represented, except one, the Chapter of Integrity, No. 320, Mottram. The minutes of the previous Provincial Grand Chapter was then read and confirmed unanimously.

The first business of importance was the reception of a very long report from the Committee of Inspection and Direction for the past year, giving ample details as to the working of the Chapters throughout the Province. In the course of the report it was stated that most satisfactory progress had been made in the different chapters in that division. This progress, the report stated, was not only an advance in numbers which by itself would be of little account, but in the loyal spirit and the determination to act according to the Book of Constitutions, and on the general system which seemed now to animate every Chapter in the Province. From personal visitation, the Committee were able to report that now the ritual was pretty nearly uniform throughout the province, and that nearly every Chapter in the Division had now acknowledged the authority of the Provincial Grand Superintendent. One Chapter only was at present not working. The committee had to report a most extraordinary improvement, both in the regularity of the proceedings, and the manner in which these proceedings were recorded. Instances were given of the change which the energy of the P.G.S. of the Province had effected since his rule began, yet in a smaller degree the change was as manifest throughout all the chapters. The report concluded thus:—"A uniform ritual, an avoidance of all irregularities, a correct record of proceedings, and a practical adoption of the great virtue of charity, are all in striking contrast with the scattered and independent efforts—well meant in most cases, but feeble through their want of order and cohesion—that prevailed some few years ago; and though your committee can no longer now expect from the very nature of things that much more progress can be made, yet they feel sure that the ground gained can never be lost, and that Cheshire Arch Masons will continue to act, (if such a term can be applied to a society whose existence is one of active charity and practical usefulness) on the firm basis of loyalty to its head and devotion to the order.

The P.G. Supt. said the report just read indicated a most satisfactory state of things throughout his province. He was gratified to find that not only did their numbers advance, but there was a loyal determination to work according to the Book of Constitutions, and a desire to follow one system of working. There could be only one feeling amongst the companions, after having heard the very minutely detailed report just read, that the committee deserved their very best thanks, and that they be requested to act again for the ensuing year. The efforts of the committee had been in the past, and would no doubt in the future be eminently valuable.

A motion to this effect, seconded by the M.E.H. was unanimously agreed to, and it was agreed that a copy of the report should be sent to every chapter in the province.

Captain Cope, P.P.G.H., briefly acknowledged the vote of thanks, and pledged the committee to a renewal of faithful and zealous services.

The Right Hon. Lord de Tabley said the review of the province submitted by the committee was so thoroughly exhaustive in its character that it left him but little to say on that occasion, and he was rejoiced that that was so for two reasons, first, because the state of the province had been already placed before them in a manner more able than he could pretend to do, and secondly, because his strength would not enable him to address his companions as he could have desired. This much, however, he might say—that it was with gratitude to the Most High, and with feelings of personal satisfaction that he found himself for the fifth time presiding over the Provincial Grand Chapter of Cheshire (Loud applause). It was true that the P.G. Chapter was a young one, but it had already shown signs of vigorous existence, and had unquestionably produced wholesome and salutary fruit. The sacred virtue of charity had been amply exemplified last year, and he was proud to know that this year they would give an additional proof of their love for that virtue by a liberal grant in aid of one of the great Masonic charities. (Applause.) The way in which the various chapters had rallied round the Provincial Grand Chapter most gratifying to him; and he was persuaded that not only would they reap their reward individually by doing so, but he believed that the sacred cause of Masonry in general would be benefited by their adhesion to the provincial authority. By working together in harmony and brotherly unity, they could do much to alleviate suffering humanity and to promote social intercourse amongst various classes of society; whereas separate and isolated efforts, even though well meant, would be thrown away.—(Hear, hear.) He was rejoiced that Royal Arch Masonry in Cheshire was in the position it should hold—at once the cornerstone and glory of solid Freemasonry—and could only say that so long as his energies and health were spared to him by the Supreme Ruler of events, they should be devoted to the cause of Masonry, in whose behalf, too, he would vouch the continued and zealous support of the province of Cheshire, over which it was his pride and his very great pleasure to rule. (Applause.)

The Provincial Grand Superintendent nominated and invested the following as officers for the coming year:—
Companions T. J. Platt, P.P.G.H., Secretary; H. J. Dutton, P.S. 477, Treasurer.

J.; C. H. Coates, P.S.; James Gerrard, 1st Assist. S.; E. G. Simpson, 2nd Assist. S.; J. S. Mort, D. of C.; Wm. Fair, Sd. B.; James Goodwin, Std. B.; T. Kirk, Org.; John Wood, Reg.; G. W. Latham, E.; John Siddley, N.; F. Jackson, Treas.; Alcock, Janitor.

Comp. J. P. Platt, in the absence of the Treasurer, read the financial statement, which showed a balance in hand of £32 15s. 4d. On the motion of Comp. Lord de Tabley, seconded by Comp. T. Platt, M.E.H., the accounts were passed.

On the motion of Comp. Cope, P.P.G.H., seconded by Comp. Kirk, P.G.O., twenty guineas were voted to the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls.

His Lordship having announced his attention of holding the next Provincial Grand Chapter at Crewe, the chapter was closed, and the companions banqueted together in the evening at the Town Hall, under the presidency of Captain Cope, P.P.G.H., Lord de Tabley being unable to attend in consequence of the state of his health.

THE MARK MASON.

Revised and reprinted from the Sussex Daily News, October 19th, 1874.

"Perseverance dear, my Lord,
Keeps honour bright: to have done is to hang Quite out of fashion, like a rusty mail,
In monumental mockery."

Passing events in the local Masonic world during the last year or two lead us to ask the question, What is the "Mark Degree" in the Masonic Order? and the near approach of the institution of a Province of Mark Masons in Sussex, which will take place on Friday next, October 23rd, at the Old Ship Hotel, Brighton, suggests an inquiry into the origin of the degree, the value of its practice, and the more immediate object of its establishment. First in order comes the question, "What is the Mark Degree?" At once it may be said that no degree of the whole Masonic system can lay a claim to greater antiquity than this. The degrees of Mark Man, "Mark Mason," and "Mark Master Mason" were perfected at the time of building the Temple of Solomon. At that period of the world's history it was found necessary, in order to ensure perfect accuracy and completeness in all departments of the work, to establish a system of grades amongst the immense number of workmen employed, each member of each grade marking his work with some peculiar mark or symbol, which enabled the overseers to know the hands from whence each piece of work came. Even to this day it is the custom in stone quarries and in the mason's yard to keep up a similar practice, and no doubt the modern practice of "Trade Marks," applied to manufactured goods or articles of special character, took its rise from this circumstance. It had another object besides the discovery of each individual's work. This was to bring men of each grade together for mutual protection from the misfortunes of life, and to give the unfortunate worker to lay some claim to the assistance of his more fortunate brother, thereby encouraging every worker to endure pain and hardship, to exercise the thinking faculties, and to use the cunning of his hand to the advantage of his employer and the ultimate benefit of himself. In another sense the practice of the "Mark Degree" was of value for the purpose of encouraging a proper study of and practical working in the arts and sciences, which the magnificent structures of the Egyptian, the splendid castles of Germany, the noble cathedrals of France, the gorgeous cathedrals of Italy, the palaces of the Affghans, the Buddhist temples, or the peculiar buildings of the Chinese could not have been designed, either to the honour of God or for the benefit of man. The Mark Degree is an essentially practical degree, and the wise, and good, and benevolent craft Freemason will be the better able to understand the peculiar mysteries, the potent teaching, the practical benevolence, and the broad adaptability of the Masonic system to the world-wide wants of the human race, by seeking within the lodge of the Mark Mason the truth as to the practice of the Mark Degree. By this course, much that appears hazy and uncertain will be cleared and explained. This will account for the very large number of craft Masons, men holding a distinguished position in the arts and sciences, in politics and religion, in peaceful or warlike pursuits, the teacher and the scholar, the painter and the sculptor, the poet and the author, the mechanic and the engineer, the philosopher and the divine, and all true Masons extend their researches into Mark Masonry. From the Mason of title down to the most humble Masonic worker, all join in working the Mark Degree, and practise in their daily lives the exalted teachings of its symbolism. The Craft Mason, in speaking of the Royal Arch Degree, says:—"It is the Master Mason's degree completed." But the Mark Mason goes further still, and says, "Craft Masonry is practically and really incomplete until the Mark Degree has been taken between the degree of Master Mason and Royal Arch Mason." The Mark Mason thus places the Masonic order of things under existing circumstances:—"Ancient Freemasonry consists of five degrees and no more—viz., 1st, the Entered Apprentice; 2nd, the Fellowcraft; 3rd, the Master Mason; 4th, the Mark Master Mason; 5th, the Holy Royal Arch." And it is with this view of Masonic matters before them that intelligent and generous-minded members of the craft degrees have taken to, worked in, and supported the Mark degree. At the present time the Mark Degree is acknowledged and practised by nearly every Grand Masonic jurisdiction in the world. Scotland, Ireland, America, Germany, and other countries make it a "sine qua non" to the Royal Arch Degree, and English Royal Arch Freemasons have frequently been refused admission to R. A. Chapters, under foreign jurisdiction, for the want of a knowledge of the Mark. Some Craft Masons, a few of whom live in Sussex, have hitherto opposed and still continue to oppose the spread of the Mark Degree, but their sole objection is, "The Grand (Craft) Lodge of England does not acknowledge it." This, at best, is a poor argument, because some sixty years ago the few men who then held the reins of authority chose to exclude the Mark Degree, which up to that time had been practised in the "Craft" lodges throughout the country. It must be remembered that this was a period when the readiness of intercommunication of men with each other was not of so easy a character as it is at present. The penny post, the railway train, and the telegraph have in a peaceful manner revolutionised the world, and brought the thinkers and the workers of all countries into one common brotherhood. If sixty years ago Masons could have readily interchanged thoughts of interest to the Order, it is not likely that so useful a degree, at that time extensively practised, would have been excluded. The universal character of its practice and teachings would have rendered it necessary to be included in "Pure and Ancient Freemasonry" at that time as it does to-day. The world of Masonry does not stand still, and therefore to oppose this Mark Degree to-day because a few ancient brethren chose to do so "sixty years ago" is puerile. Notwithstanding this, "The Mark Degree continued to be extensively worked, especially in the Northern and Midland districts of England, the lodges being held under immemorial constitution, derived from the old Athol York Grand Lodge." Again, in a report issued by the Grand Lodge of Mark Masters, the following paragraph appears, and has never yet been contradicted: "In England, the knowledge and working of the degree has never been lost, but it has been practised from the earliest time in distinct and independent Mark lodges, which have never acknowledged the jurisdiction of either the Craft Grand Lodges of 1717 or 1813, or of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of 1813." Since the establishment of the Grand Lodge of Mark Master Masons in 1856, the degree has steadily progressed. The number of lodges has increased, and many provinces formed. Its muster roll now comprises nearly two hundred lodges and nineteen provinces, in many instances presided over as Provincial Grand Mark Masters by the Grand Masters of the Craft Province. Notably is this the case in Somersetshire, the Mark Past Grand Master being also the Craft Provincial Grand Master, the Deputy Grand Master of England, the Right Honourable the Earl of Carnarvon. It is the same in South Wales, Leicestershire, Middlesex, Cumberland, Westmoreland, and other counties. In Sussex the Mark Degree has been taken up warmly by the principal Craft Masons of Brighton, Eastbourne, Lewes, and Hastings. The opposition which has been accorded to it has, to a certain extent, helped its success, and it is to be hoped that for the future the Craft Masons of Sussex will cease from opposition, and will spend their time in emulating the benevolence which the Mark Masons personally and through their lodges have evinced towards those institutions where the young of both sexes are sheltered, educated, and trained to meet the requirements of their future lives, and the aged and distressed are pensioned for a life of comfortable ending. Mark Masonry especially inculcates a deep and lasting respect for the wants of others. Its charity tends to lead the distressed to comfort, to diminish the aggregate of human woe, to diffuse unalloyed its beautiful influence amongst every grade of universal Freemasonry. The members of the Mark Degree have but to remain true to their lodges and to their obligations. This done, they need never fear the opposition of the ungenerous few, or be dismayed by the faint and heartless approbation of those who fear a bolder and more honourable course. The time has long since passed when such influence can prevail. The liberty of action, of thought, of enterprise, and, above all, of pure benevolence, has been secured, thanks to the good influence of Craft, Mark, and Royal Arch Freemasonry in combined action, and represented by true members of the brotherhood throughout the globe.

REVIEWS.

The "COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR" for 1874-75. George Kenning, 198, Fleet Street.

We have to congratulate Bro. Kenning on the appearance once again of his valuable "Cosmopolitan Masonic Calendar." Our enterprising brother likes to "take time by the forelock," and in this year of light appears the first in the field with his goodly and useful Masonic vademecum.

At a time when so many violent and unscrupulous attacks are being almost daily made by the ignorant or the intolerant on our benevolent brotherhood, it is most satisfactory to note and to realize, nevertheless, what progress Freemasonry is making in all parts of the world, and in this respect Bro. Kenning's "Cosmo." comes before us as a seasonable reminder of Masonic advance, and as a most interesting record of Freemasonry itself.

For Bro. Kenning takes us all over the world, like a Masonic "Cook," and his convenient and portable pocket book certainly well deserves the name of Cosmopolitan. Indeed, when Dr. Johnson wrote those memorable lines,

"Let observation, with extensive view, Survey mankind from England to Peru," he clearly foresaw the day when Bro. Kenning was to issue his Cosmopolitan Calendar, which was to transport us, like the magic carpet in the Arabian Nights, in a moment of time, wherever Masons or Masons lodges are to be found, whether within the "Bills of Mortality" or in any quarter of the habitable world.

We can also safely say this, that the Calendar is well printed, well arranged, and well got up, and reflects every credit on Bro. Kenning and his staff.

And when we take up the "Cosmo." and turn over its well-filled pages, it appears very difficult to ascertain where, just now, despite maledictions and manifestoes not a few, Freemasonry is not to be found.

North and south, east and west, in lands civilised and lands uncivilised, there are Free-asons to be "tracked;" and there, too, the "Cosmo." records alike the existence of Freemasonry and that of Masonic life which is evidenced by lodges and grand lodges.

To all who take an interest in the universal spread and organisation of Freemasonry, the "Cosmopolitan Calendar" is invaluable, as it brings them into Masonic contact, so to say, at once with friends and brethren far, far away.

We congratulate Bro. Kenning, we repeat, on this seasonable appearance of so useful and commodious a Masonic compendium, and we trust sincerely that it will receive, as it deserves to receive, the large and liberal support of our cosmopolitan craft.

Most valuable is the information it affords, especially to travelling Freemasons.

Wherever they go, wherever their weary feet may touch in the world-journey of life, if not exactly like Dibdin's hero of old, who was able to say,

"In every land I finds a friend,
In every port a wife,"

they yet can everywhere claim Masonic friendship and rely on Masonic sympathy. Our highly respectable brotherhood will, we feel sure, repudiate at once any approval of "plural wives," but they will hope that, guided by the carefully compiled pages of the "Cosmo." when travelling here or wandering there, amid a strange people or in a foreign clime, they may yet be aided and encouraged thereby to discover both a friend and a brother, a home and a shelter, amid storm or trial, and that, earnest Masons themselves, they may hail some equally faithful brethren, even in some most distant spot, who will offer them the true hand of Masonic welcome and the warm heart of Masonic hospitality, brotherhood, and good will.

TWELVE SCOTCH SONGS. By Bro. Gordon Campbell, Exeter College, Oxford. Whitaker and Co.

We have received the little "brochure" of our poetical brother, and we are glad to commend it to the notice of the craft.

There are many good Scotch songs, and many touching ballads, and we think that Bro. Gordon Campbell has caught the true spirit of the former, and the touching simplicity of the latter. Set to music, we doubt not that they will be most effective; as one or two, if not all of them, have already been set; and, even as we write to-day, memory rushes away to some Scotch ballads sung in days of old, as we do not suppose that we are ever likely to hear Scotch ballads sung again.

We give three specimens of the touching, the satirical, and the cheery, which we think will be appreciated by all our readers, as Masons, like other men, are not at all insensible to the charms of some Scottish lassie warbling so effectively her cherished ballads, which, for the nonce, turn all the gentlemen into ardent Jacobites.

The first is sentimental.

My Dearie, Oh!

The winter winds are sad,
The winter winds are eerie, oh;
Oh, shouldna' I be glad,
An' I was with my dearie, oh!

I love her—she's awa'—
And I am lone and dreary, oh;
She careth not at a'
For me though she's my dearie, oh!

But gin the simmer come,
The winter winds will weary, oh,
I'll gang to my old home,
And then I'll see my dearie, oh!

I'll woo my dearie, when
The gloaming is so eerie, oh;
I'll end my roaming then
And live and love my dearie, oh!

The second is satirical.

Donald's Dochter.

There is a sweet glen, though I'll tell na the name,

Because it's sufficiently known unto fame
As the place where auld Donald the Piper abides,

And the bonnie bright dochter of Donald resides.

O what is the reason that a' the young men
To get to the toun maun gang round by the glen?

Ye glen is na' far from the toun, ye maun know,
The glen is na' far from the country, and so
The lads from the country and lads from the toun

Baith come to auld Donald and ask for a tune.

Ance Donald's fair dochter went off for a wee,
To stay with an aunt near the braes of Dundee,
And somehow the lads lost their musical taste,
And Donald he gave up his piping almaist.

But a laddie there came while the lass was awa',
Asked Donald to pipe him a strathspey and a';
He asked the wee lass when she cam' back agen,—
He marrit the lassie and lives in the glen.

Noo what is the reason that a' the young men
To get to the toun wad gang round by the glen.

The third is thoroughly genial.

In Ither Days.

In ither days did lassies fair,
Their lover laddies meet,
And lovers then as happy were,
And kisses were as sweet;
Yes, lassies were as fickle then,
And aye the varra ways
That noo they have of snaring men.
They had in ither days.

In ither days a "na" meant "yes,"
When 'twas a lassie spake,
And ilka lad a severed tress,
As leelang pledge did take;
There is as fair a lass I ken,
As e'er met mortal gaze,
I thocht she loved me ance, but then
That was in ither days.

We give our readers one more extract for the benefit of many who find their wives the sweetening influence of their life, and sagacious advisers of their worldly career.

"Sugar in my Toddy."

And oh it was so lang ago,
Before I knew my dearie,
I feared the winter's cauld and snow,
They made me feel so eerie;
I love my whisky and my wife,
My wife's a sonsie body;
She is the sweetness of my life,
The sugar in my toddy.

But noo before our ain fireside,
With 'a the bairnies round us,
We know there's naething can divide
The chain of love that's bound us.

So noo we're merry in our day,
And when there comes the gloaming,
We'll tak' fond hands and aye be gay,
To mak' a happy homing.

We hope soon to welcome Bro. Gordon Campbell again.

MEMORIALS OF THE MASONIC UNION OF 1813, &c. By Bro. W. J. Hughan.

We have perused this goodly contribution to Masonic Archæology with much interest. It contains, in the first place, an interesting account of the Articles and Arrangements of Union in 1813; an introduction to the history of Freemasonry in England; a list of Lodges, with their numbers, immediately before and after the Union; William's Constitution of 1815; and that rare Masonic work, Fifield Dausignys, "Serious and Impartial Enquiry." It is of course impossible in the limited pages of the Freemason to give a full review of this most valuable publication, and all we can do, therefore, is to call attention to its publication, and to thank Bro. Hughan for this fresh addition of his to our now numerous stores happily of Masonic archæological publications.

The questions which arise out of the facts Bro. Hughan has so laboriously put before us, are neither few nor unimportant.

Everything, indeed, convinces us that we are still, so to say, on the threshold of English Masonic History, and that we require yet further researches to lighten up the obscurity which hangs on our Pre-masonic annals if we accept 1717 as the date of our English Grand Lodge Revival.

But one question we should like to ask of excellent and able Bro. Hughan.

What authority had Dermott for the alleged arms of the "operative stonemasons?"

Where did he obtain them?

The undoubtedly original and indisputable arms of the old mason's guild or company of the City of London have been already published in the Masonic Magazine. The grant is still to be read in the British Museum.

But where did Dermott obtain these "supporters?" And who are the "operative stonemasons" to whom Dermott alludes.

Having studied Dermott very carefully, we confess that we do not set much store by his authority, unless supported by irrefragable evidence.

He was both a partizan, and somewhat unscrupulous as such, in his assertions and assurances, and before we could accept the coat of arms he gives us, as heraldic or real in the true sense of the word, we should much like to know where he obtained it. Is it the coat of arms of the Irish stonemasons, and is there any proof that that coat of arms was granted by the Irish College-of-Arms? We hope that the labours of our indefatigable Bro. W. J. Hughan will be appreciated by our entire Craft.

THE HISTORY OF PROTESTANTISM. By Revd. J. A. Wylie. Illustrated. Cassell, Petter, and Galpin.

Though the history of Protestantism might a priori seem more suitable for a magazine like "Good Words" or "Sunday at Home" than for the Freemason, yet we think it well just to mention its appearance.

Part I. of an illustrated History of Protestantism, has just been submitted to our notice, and we feel that we should be wanting in courtesy to the publishers not to acknowledge its receipt, and note its publication in our pages.

Of course, as Freemasons, whatever our individual views may be, we do not profess to enter into doctrinal discussions or theological controversies.

We have no right, it appears to us, whatever our own honest convictions may be, to mix up our Masonic profession, which is purely and avowedly unsectarian, with any expressed opinion, as to those grave questions of religious difference, and conscientious antagonism, which are regarded as of such vital importance by many excellent persons, if even in opposing camps of thought and of persuasion.

The Illustrated History of Protestantism may appeal to many strongly, even as a subject of serious study, and whatever our opinion may be on the whole question, however we may approach the subject from conflicting and even opposing points of view, there can be no doubt but that Messrs. Cassell's publication will be welcomed and appreciated by many readers.

The first number is well got up, and admirably illustrated.

We confess that we are not great admirers of double columns, for the purpose of study, as we read a great deal, and find the double column often very wearisome and trying to the eyesight.

Messrs. Cassell give with the first number of their History, a copy of Mr. Ward's painting "Luther's First Study of the Bible," and we have no doubt whatever, but, that, with that great sympathy which many feel in England, with the struggles even of religious liberty, and the sacred rights of each individual conscience in matter of truth, if the work answers to the expectations this first specimen of it has undoubtedly given ground for, it will receive a very large share of the approval and support of those many readers, who have not, in all matters alike, an anxious eye for the truth, and an

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE G^o AND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 296.]

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE With Supplement, 2d.]

EMULATION

Edge of Improvement.

By the Sanction of the Lodge of Unions, No. 6, Bro. J. Hervey (G. Sec.), Treasurer.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Will take place at the FREEMASONS' HALL,

ON

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 27, 1874,

by Aeneas J. McIntyre, Q.C.

(Grand Registrar),

IN THE CHAIR.

The Festival will be opened at seven o'clock precisely.

Brethren are requested to assemble at a before seven. The work will be the 4th, 5th, and 7th Sections of the First, and the 1st and 3rd Sections of Third Lecture.

ALFRED GREEN, Steward.

THE

MONIC & MILITARY ORDERS

OF THE

Cross of Constantine,

of ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST.

of WILLIAMS, BART., M.P., G.S., and Grand Commander.

of L FRANCIS BURDETT, G.V. and Deputy Grand Commander.

A MOVEABLE

Conclave and Grand Commandery

These Orders will be holden at the FRANCIS HALL, HOPE STREET,

LIVERPOOL,

on Friday, 13th November, 1874

THREE O'CLOCK, P.M.

at the Adelphi Hotel, at 6, p.m.
7s. 6d. each, to be obtained of Sir
George Turner, Int. Gen. West Lanc., street Liverpool.

of ROBERT WOODMAN, M.D., G.R., and Registrar-General.

of Great James-street,
London, W.C.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF
THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D
(ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BRECH
M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUYRE, Secretary.

ENGLISH CLOTHING is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. Moses and Son's as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Diapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES AND SON have as usual made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Pieces based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
And Bradford, Yorkshire.

M O U R N I N G

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
In pen and ink ... 4/6 | Crest engraved on spoons (doz.) 5/0
Heraldic colours ... 7/0 | " " seal or ring 7/0
Engraved on copper ... 1/0 | " " watch or stick 1/6

BRO. JAMES B. SLY,

9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.

Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by

STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,

Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS,
London.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.
A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF
MASONIC EMBLEMS.
May be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. George Kenning, at his Masonic Depots in London, Liverpool, and Glasgow.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d.
PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s.
Reeves and Turner, 196, Strand, London.

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS

FOR Craft Lodges,
OF SUPERIOR DESIGN AND WORKMANSHIP,
MANUFACTURED IN THREE QUALITIES,

BY
BRO. GEORGE KENNING, P.M.,

- | | |
|--|--|
| Three Pedestals. | One Oak or Mahogany Kneeling Stool. |
| Three Candlesticks, Oak or Mahogany. | Lamp (Star in the East). |
| Two Columns, Oak or Mahogany. | Third Degree Sheet. |
| S. W. Triangle, in Oak or Mahogany with Gilt Tripod, Pulley Blocks and Windlass and Rough and Perfect Ashlars. | Bible, with Name and No. of Lodge in Gold. |
| Oak or Mahogany Box, and nine Tools, Plated. | Square and Compasses in Case. |
| Three Oak or Mahogany Gavel. | Cushion for Bible. |
| One " " Maul. | Ten Officers' Collars. |
| One " " Ballot. | Ten Officers' Jewels. |
| One " " Box and Balls. | I.G. Dirk. |
| One pair " Wands. | O.G. Sword. |
| Three Tracing Boards. | Set of Eight Books. |
| | Three S—g Boards. |
| | Two Pairs of S—s. |
| | Three C—c T—s. |
| | Two H—s. |
| | Three Candles with Emblems. |

£30, £60, and £100.

Chairs, Dais, Tesselated Carpeting, Banners, &c., &c. on the most moderate terms, according to material, style, &c.
For Personal Insignia, see List of Clothing and Jewels.

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS

FOR
Royal Arch Chapters,
OF SUPERIOR DESIGN & WORKMANSHIP.
MANUFACTURED, IN THREE QUALITIES, BY
COMP. GEORGE KENNING, P.Z., COMPRISING

- | | |
|--|----------------------------|
| Floor Cloth | Trowel |
| Pedestal | Square and Compasses |
| Veil | Sword |
| Set of Letters | Three Robes for Principals |
| Five Large Banners with Poles and Stands | Three Sceptres " |
| Fifteen Small ditto | Three Surplices " |
| Three Large Candlesticks | Ten Officers' Collars |
| Three Small ditto | Ten " " Jewels |
| Six Ornamental Candles | Janitor's Sword |
| Crowbar | Ballot Box |
| Pickaxe | Bible |
| Shovel | Cushion for ditto |
| Parchment Scroll | Scripture Extracts |
| Set of Lines | Set of Five Books |

£50, £100, and £150.

Thrones, Chairs, Canopy, Head Ornaments, &c. (if required) on the most moderate terms, according to material, style, &c.
For Personal Insignia, see Lists of Clothing and Jewels.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.
SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales. Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern,
MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN. Mediation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.
Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.
This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible article for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."
It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.
In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)
Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.
SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, post free, sent on receipt on 24 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY,
PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order it from a Chemist, or get dir ct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

SIZE 32in. BY 26in.

AUTOTYPES

OF
Bro. Sigismund Rosenthal's Celebrated Paintings,
The Reception of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales as P.G.M.
At Freemasons' Hall, on Dec. 1, 1869, containing upwards of 120 Figures and Portraits.

The Reception of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the Grand Conclave of Knights Templar,
May 13, 1870, containing nearly 100 Figures and Portraits.

IN BLACK AND GILT FRAMES, £2 12s. 6d. Each.

Sold by Bro. G. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 175, Aldersgate-street, London.
Branches—198, Fleet-street, London; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; and 145, Argyle-street, Glasgow.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE
Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.
The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quire, emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.
ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.
Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.
Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatre.
Bro. F. HILFKEICH, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.
COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.
Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yatching, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.
Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
(NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVAL DEJEUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Tyne and the splendid view of the river it commands, with its continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The vineyard has been carefully selected, and the various sorts of the vintage will be found amply sufficient to furnish diversity of taste.
The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Grand Hotel station. Passengers by water land on the pier at the Hotel.
BROS. H. J. AND W. J. RAY.

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN
198, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
145, Argyle-st., Glasgow.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

MEETINGS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—

at Masonry 691

at Cross of Constantine 691

at Grand Mark Lodge of Lincoln 692

Masonic Benevolent Institution 695

Masonic Institution for Boys 695

at Tidiags 695

at Royal Grand Master 696

at Progress of English Freemasonry 697

RESPONSES:—

at the Temple and Malta 698

at Visit to Plymouth 698

at Pope a Freemason? 698

John Thomas Memorial 698

High Degrees 699

Meetings next week 699

at Seminars 689 690 696 700 701 702 703 704

SUPPLEMENT (EIGHT PAGES).

at Grand Mark Lodge of Sussex 705

at Lodge of Yorkshire, North and East 707

at Pilgrimage to Shakespeare's Tomb 707

at Masonic Hall at Alloa 708

at Meetings 708

at Grand Lodge of Antrim 707

at Freemasonry 711

at 712

at 712

MEETINGS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

SH UNION LODGE (No. 114).—This met after the summer recess on Thursday ult., at the Masonic Hall, Ipswich, and were present Bros. the Rev. R. N. M., P.P.G.C., acting W.M., in the absence of Bro. Peter de Lande Vice President of the Board of General; the Worshipful Master; C. Schulen, C.; Emra Holmes, P.P.G. Reg., M.C.; Barber, P.G.O.; S. Wright, acting J. Burton, J.W.; the Rev. A. W. G. G. Chap., S.D.; H. Miller, J.D.; the B. Tweed, I.G.; Viscount Mahon, Senior Lord of the Treasury; P. Mavor, ng, P.M., Sec.; Visiting Bro. N. Tracy, V. The lodge having been opened in form, and the minutes of last meeting, Bro. Percy Mavor was duly examined and passed to the Second Degree, or C., the lodge being previously opened free, the ceremony being performed by Bro. Sanderson's well known ability and Bro. Emra Holmes brought forward, postponed from last meeting, relative to the appointment of a salaried Organist and the augmentation of the initiation fee; but the Secretary had omitted to make mention of notice of motion in the circulars of the meeting, Bro. Holmes, at the suggestion of the acting W.M., deferred the questions to the vote until next meeting. The Secretary undertaking to give due notice of the routine business having been discussed, the lodge was finally closed and the members retired for refreshment, where, under the auspices of Bro. Barber, an agreeable evening was spent. The usual toasts having been duly returned, the acting W.M. said, as a rule they returned personal toasts, but he felt sure that, in this occasion, he might be pardoned if he returned a toast to them. They had amongst them a brother of the lodge, whom they did not see as they could wish, but whose important duties elsewhere prevented attendance at lodge. He gave them a toast to Lord Mahon. The toast having been returned, Lord Mahon responded. His lordship, in a few well-chosen words, expressed the great pleasure it gave him to be amongst the brethren of his lodge, and his public avocations and the distance from his residence, prevented his attending more often. He said, one often saw in the papers, stating that if you wanted a happy day you should go to Rosherville; his part he could only say if he had a happy evening he would come to the Union Lodge. His lordship's pleasant little speech was much appreciated, and the speaker sat down amidst the hearty plaudits of his Masonic brethren. The poor having been remembered and the last toast given, the brethren retired at twelve.

BURGOYNE LODGE (No. 902).—The first regular meeting of this lodge after the annual autumnal recess was held at Anderton's on Monday evening last, under the able presidency of its popular W.M., Bro. Field, who opened the proceedings with commendable punctuality at the hour at which the brethren were summoned—viz., 5 p.m. The business of the evening consisted of passing Bro. Abbott to the second degree, and initiating Messrs. Bartlett, Kellway, and Aveling into the mystic science, ceremonies performed by the W.M., not only with a degree of accuracy almost marvellous, but with a dignity and impressiveness calculated to enhance to the utmost the effect of the beautiful ritual. After labour the brethren sat down to a very elegant banquet, where, after the cloth was cleared, the W.M. proposed the usual toasts which loyalty alike to the Crown and Craft have incorporated with our landmarks. The health of H.R.H., the M.W.G.M. designate, was introduced by the W.M. with a few remarks appropriate to the occasion of the accession to the greatest dignity in the Craft of our beloved Prince. Referring to the progress of Freemasonry and its flourishing condition under ecclesiastical anathema, the W.M. observed that the impotence of denunciation recently displayed reminded him of the contemptuous reception of a similar curse from the Pope. Dr. Westland Marston in his tragedy of Philip of France and Marie de Meranie had attributed to the king of the threatened realm—

“Let him ban the fields,
The grass will grow in spite of him.”

The toast was followed by an exquisite rendering by Bro. Rogers, I.P.M., accompanied on the pianoforte by Bro. Earnshaw, Organist to the lodge, of the popular “God Bless the Prince of Wales,” introducing the new verses composed by Bro. Hook, of the Great City Lodge, and which was received with much delight. Bro. Rogers, I.P.M., then proposed the health of the W.M., and highly eulogised the working they had beheld that evening. The W.M. briefly responded and proposed the health of the I.P.M., Bro. Rogers, which, having been duly honoured and responded to, the W.M. gave the health of the initiates, and when the honours had been duly rendered, and the very vociferous applause with which that toast is always received in a Mason's lodge had subsided, Bro. Poynter, P.M. and Treasurer, favoured the brethren with “The Entered Apprentice's” Song, as usually rendered by him, and which equally as usual was most warmly received. The three initiates individually responded, and the W.M., in terms of most cordial hospitality proposed the health of the visitors (who were as usual in this lodge very numerous), in acknowledging which, on his own part, Bro. Mallam, P.M. Chigwell (453), Burdett (1293), and Treasurer of the Athenæum (1491), gracefully alluded to the courtesy and fraternal kindness displayed by the Burgoyne Lodge, not only as experienced by him (Bro. Mallam) and those of his brother visitors who were members, with himself, of the infant lodge, in their reception that evening, but in the great goodness of the W.M. and brethren in aiding the recent rising of that northern light, the Athenæum, by the loan of much of the furniture indispensably essential to the working of a new lodge. But (the speaker went on to say) great as these favours were they sunk into insignificance by the side of a greater—the loan of something much more valuable. In the person of their esteemed Treasurer they had lent the north a light indeed which had shed lustre upon the infant lodge over which he had been called to preside. The working of Bro. Poynter which for distinctness and impressiveness had probably never been surpassed, had not only deeply impressed those whom he had been privileged to admit into the Craft—had not only delighted the founders and joining members of the Athenæum, but had called forth, for its accuracy and beauty the warmest eulogies from distinguished but discriminating Grand Officers, who had visited the lodge, which, he was sure the Burgoyne would be glad to hear, was now eminently flourishing. Bro. Headon, W.M., and Bro. Moody, P.M., Sec. of the Great City Lodge, also responded in eloquent terms to this toast. The W.M., in proposing the health of the P.M.'s of the Burgoyne Lodge, with which he coupled the name of their popular Treasurer, expressed his sense of the obligation he felt under to the P.M.'s, who were ready on every occasion with advice and assistance. He also alluded to the panegyric passed upon Bro. Poynter by Bro. Mallam, and expressed his gratification that their Treasurer's endeavour to maintain the reputation of the Burgoyne Lodge for good working had, by its appreciative reception in the north, been so entirely successful. Bro. Poynter in responding for the P.M.'s, begged to be allowed, although a P.M. himself, to confirm what the W.M. had been good enough to affirm of the P.M.'s of the Burgoyne; that they might always be relied upon when the interests of the lodge required their aid. Of this he in his capacity of Treasurer had had ample proof. So far as he was concerned in that character, it was nothing new to him to have to return thanks for the kindness and cordiality with which the mention of his name was invariably received in the lodge. He attributed it however rather to the kind appreciation of the brethren of the delicate nature of the duties of a Masonic Treasurer's office, than to any personal merit. Any ordinary body might be content to find a Treasurer in a joint-stock bank, or any body corporate or individual who would limit the duty to taking care of the money entrusted, and disbursing it according to order. The cheers of the brethren evinced however that they estimated the duty of Treasurer of a lodge as requiring the display of more tact and judgment than could be looked for in an ordinary parochial or municipal functionary. A Masonic Treasurer was, if he might be allowed the expression, a sort of grouting to cement the whole body of the brethren in the lodge together. Any success however he (Bro. Poynter) had attained in fulfilling this function, he attributed entirely to the cordial co-operation he had ever received from the P.M.'s and members of the lodge. He felt that like the noble Talbot in Shakespeare's Henry VI., alone he “was but the shadow of himself” they—the brethren—were “his substance, sinews, arms and strength.” he however begged to return them his very sincere thanks for the kindness and acclamation with which the toast of his health had been received. The Treasurer having sat down amidst vehement applause, the other Masonic toasts followed, and a very pleasant evening, which had been enlivened by songs and recitations admirably rendered by some of the brethren, was brought to a most harmonious conclusion. The P.M.'s of the lodge present, besides those above mentioned, were Bros. Harvey, Iron, Vevers, H. Smith and Simmons. In addition to the visitors whose names appear in our report, we observed Bros. Coker, P.M.; Larham, P.M.; Albert C. Lewis, St. Andrews, 231, and Athenæum, 1491; Heaton, 1491; and several other more or less distinguished brethren.

Red Cross of Constantine.

In the columns of this journal for November, 1873, we recorded the very successful gathering of this Order at Leicester on the occasion of holding the first moveable Grand Conclave. The impetus thus given to the movement has resulted in a most cordial invitation from the three conclaves at Liverpool, Nos. 55, 77, and 97, to hold the next Grand Meeting at their town, and the Grand Imperial Council accepted it. We understand the arrangements are now complete, and that the Grand Conclave will be held at the new Masonic Temple, Liverpool, on Friday, 13th November. We believe the officers of the Grand Imperial Council and Grand Senate will muster in large numbers on this occasion, and we are sure that the Liverpool Knights will give them a cordial and hearty reception. The Order is progressing most favourably throughout the West Lancashire Division, which is in charge of Illus. Sir Knight Turner, Int. General, and his Deputy, Sir Knight J. Kellett Smith, M.D., K.G.C. &c. It is proposed to form a Sanctuary of the K.H.S. and a Commandery of the Order of St John in connection with the Liverpool Conclaves, and judging from the number of candidates offered, success must attend the proposal.

CONSECRATION OF THE PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK LODGE OF LINCOLNSHIRE.

On Thursday, the 29th ult., the new Province of Lincolnshire was constituted, and the Provincial Grand Master installed, at the School-room, Newland, Lincoln.

The brethren of Lincolnshire having been desirous that the Mark Degree in the East of England should, like the Craft, have a province of its own, petitioned the Grand Mark Lodge for a Warrant of Constitution, and came forward with the proposition of a Mark Mason for Provincial Grand Master, who they felt would reflect honour on Grand Lodge, and the Degree. The Most Worshipful Grand Mark Master, with his usual readiness to promote the good of the Order and to aid its extension, immediately granted the prayer of the petition, and knowing that Bro. John Sutcliffe, of Great Grimsby, the proposed first Grand Master of the Province, had always reflected honour on Freemasonry, and would be a most desirable representative of Grand Lodge in the province, designated him as the ruler of the province. The fame of Bro. Sutcliffe was not confined to the county in which he resided. As a native of Rochdale, and as having a wide connection with Lancashire, Cheshire, Durham, Northumberland, the Midland Counties and Yorkshire, he had acquired the esteem and respect of a large circle of business men and Freemasons, and it was not, therefore, surprising that his installation should be seized upon as a fitting opportunity to do him honour. On no occasion probably has there been such a numerous assemblage of brethren, who came from a long distance to pay respect to any one short of Royalty. Four hundred brethren hailing from London, Liverpool, Manchester, Rochdale; from Cheshire, Durham, and the North generally, together with representatives from intermediate places, arrived in Lincoln on the day previous to, and on the morning of the celebration. Among these were a large muster of Present and Past Grand Officers, both of Grand Lodge, and of Provincial Grand Lodges, Lancashire supplying a great proportion of the latter. This was partly to be accounted for by the arrangement that Bro. Romaine Callender, M.P., F.S.A., Prov. Grand Mark Master Mason of the County Palatine of Lancaster, would perform the ceremonies of Constitution of Grand Lodge, and Installation of the Grand Master assisted by his officers. Unfortunately, however, illness prevented Bro. Callender from attending, but his officers, headed by the banner of the Province, which was conspicuous in Grand Lodge made what amends they could for the disappointment caused by this untoward event. The trains, which arrived about half past twelve o'clock, brought the great bulk of the brethren, who were, by the liberality of Bro. Sutcliffe, immediately regaled with a repast, and Grand Lodge was opened by two o'clock. The appearance of Grand Lodge was very imposing. Jewels in the Craft, Arch, and Mark degrees of a gorgeous character were everywhere to be seen, and the room in which the brethren met being of noble dimensions, gave sufficient scope for a full display of gold and silk. The preliminary proceedings were admirably arranged by the Committee, and the brethren who acted as Director of Ceremonies, Secretary, and Organist, were well posted up in their duties, and acted as if these duties were in daily practice among them.

Among the brethren from London who attended, were Bro. F. Binckes, Grand Secretary; Bro. H. W. Binckes, Assistant Grand Secretary; Bro. Thos. Cubitt, G.D.C.; Bro. Thomas J. Sabine, Past Grand Overseer; and Bro. James Terry; and among the past and present Grand Officers, and Provincial Grand Officers, the following Mark Lodges were represented,—viz., Old York, 14; Joppa, 14; Minerva, 12; Prince Edward, 14; Howe, 12; Southwark, 22;

Roberts, 24; Union, 32; Eclectic, 39; Britannic, 53; Fearnley, 58; West Lancashire, 65; St. Botolph, 108; Copley, 111; Blair, 113; Remigi- us, 117; Callender, 123; Alfred, 136; Faith, 137; Skelmersdale, 141; Wike, 142; Egerton, 155; and John of Gaunt, 172.

The brethren having assembled, a Lodge was formally opened.

Bro. Binckes then addressed the brethren, and said they had been brought together to assist one whom they honoured and whose name was widely known in the neighbourhood where they were assembled and in the surrounding districts, and who was esteemed and respected in every capacity of life which he filled, and at the same time adorned. He alluded to Bro. Romaine Callender, whose absence it was his duty to inform them of, but who had been specially nominated by the Most Worshipful the Grand Mark Master, Earl Percy, to instal Bro. Sutcliffe as Provincial Grand Master of Lincolnshire. He (Bro. Binckes) had had no idea up to that morning that there was any possibility that Bro. Callender would be absent, but on seeing Bro. Chadwick he had been informed that the ceremonies of that day would be shorn of their chief ornament. Although they had known that Bro. Callender was not well, they yet had indulged the hope that he would have been so far recovered from his indisposition as to be able to be present; indeed, he knew and was satisfied that nothing but a very severe cause would have kept that brother from his post of duty. He was very sorry at the last moment to find that Bro. Callender would not be present, and that he had commissioned Bro. Chadwick to communicate this fact to the brethren. He (Bro. Binckes) had been requested to supply his place, and he was therefore called upon at a moment's notice to undertake the onerous, but at the same time honourable duty of presiding over this Grand Lodge, and conducting the proceedings and installing Bro. Sutcliffe in the chair. He need hardly say that he felt it the most difficult task of his life, because Bro. Callender would have performed the ceremonies with consummate ability; but whilst lamenting his absence and its cause, in which every brother he was sure would sympathise, he would throw himself on the indulgence of the brethren, for which he knew he should not appeal in vain. He would now request Bro. Chadwick to read two communications he had received from Bro. Callender.

Bro. Chadwick then read the two communications, the first of which stated that Bro. Callender was laid up with a very severe attack of influenza, and might possibly not be able to attend, and the second that he had not recovered, and would positively not be present.

Bro. Binckes added that he thought those two communications would be accepted by the brethren as quite sufficient excuse for Bro. Callender's absence, and that while sincerely regretting it no one would have wished him to attend at any risk to himself. He would request that both the communications from Bro. Callender be entered on the minutes of this Provincial Grand Lodge. The brethren would now assist in the performance of the ceremonies of the day.

The Acting Provincial Grand Secretary, by direction of Bro. Binckes, read the summons convening the meeting, and the minutes of preliminary proceedings, after which, as Bro. Sutcliffe had not previously filled the Master's chair of a Mark Lodge, Bro. Binckes and a score of Installed Masters adjourned to another room, and a board of Installed Masters having been formed, Bro. Binckes installed Bro. Sutcliffe as a W.M. Bro. Binckes again repaired to the lodge, accompanied by the Board of Installed Masters, but leaving Bro. Sutcliffe behind. On Bro. Binckes resuming the chair, Bro. Roberts, Director of Ceremonies, announced that the Provincial Grand Master Designate, Bro. John Sutcliffe, was without and requested to be installed. Bro. Binckes inquired if the patent of approval and appointment by the Most Worshipful Grand Master had been issued to the Provincial Grand Master Designate, and was in his possession. Bro. Roberts announced that it had been issued, and was in Bro. Sutcliffe's possession; whereupon at the request of Bro. Binckes, Bro. Roberts retired, and afterwards returned with the patent, which he handed to Bro. Binckes, who having examined it, handed it to the Acting Grand Secretary to be read aloud. This ceremony concluded, Bro. Binckes pronounced his satisfaction, and called upon the Acting Provincial Grand Wardens, two installed W.M.'s and such Grand Officers as were present to retire and conduct Bro. Sutcliffe into lodge. This was done, and Bro. Sutcliffe placed in front of the W.M.'s pedestal. Rev. D. Ace, D.D., who wore his Doctor's Divinity's gown, then offered up a prayer of great earnestness for a blessing on the work which the brethren were engaged, and at the conclusion of the prayer,

Bro. Binckes, addressing Bro. Sutcliffe, he was too painfully aware that the observation he was about to make with reference to W.M.'s qualifications for the very high office was about to fall would fall lamentably short of the effect they would have produced on W.M., if they had been uttered by the distinguished brother who had hoped to deliver them. He would wish that the brethren should judge too critically the remarks which fell from himself, who had been called upon suddenly to take the Installing Master's place. But however perfect his words might be, they were simple and earnest words, and he trusted that the brethren would well weigh the importance of the occasion. This, however, he was sure they would do, as recommendation of Bro. Sutcliffe to the Grand Master for nomination was an earnest of the appreciation of this important event. They were perfectly aware that there were many who knew nothing of the principles, the practice, or the merits of Freemasonry, who looked upon the Order with varied feelings, some of ridicule and some of scorn. Some stigmatised it in terms of obloquy, and some would if they had the power resort to persecution. There were also many light or careless minds who either undervalued or did not value at all the principles and tenets sought to be inculcated by the Masonic organization, which dated from a remote antiquity, and which had for its object nothing but the good of humanity. In the Provincial Grand Master of Lincolnshire he was sure they had one who did not belong to the first of these classes of men, nor to the second; but who, from the time of his initiation, had thoroughly realised the importance and value of the principles of Masonry, had carried out those principles in the most practical manner, and had done every thing in his power—and power had been large and his influence great—and both had been most beneficially exercised to extend those principles. To him the Craft large were under an enormous debt of gratitude for the happiness he had diffused among its members. As concerned the Grand Mark Lodge, they knew there many Craft Freemasons who regarded the Mark Degree but slightly, but Mark Masons called themselves a select body and studied Mark Masonry, fully impressed with the importance of those principles so well inculcated in the Craft degrees; in point of fact if they knew it, they were exactly synonymous for, if there were any men who had laid themselves out to promote brotherly love, relieve truth, they would be found among the Master Masons. After referring to the distinction conferred on Bro. Sutcliffe by the Grand Master appointing him as Provincial Grand Master of Lincolnshire,

Bro. Binckes administered to him the obligation and invested him with the insignia of his office, and inducted him on the throne, and placed in his hands the emblem of power.

Taking the time from Bro. Roberts, the ven. saluted the Grand Master, and vociferously cheered him. With the heat and volume of their applause the Provincial Grand Master was completely overcome, and for minutes was quite unable to speak. He fore requested Bro. Binckes to oblige a vest Dr. Charles Harrison, P.M. 127, as Provincial Grand Master. When this ceremony was concluded,

Bro. Radley, of Boston, rose and said their next business was to nominate a Treasurer for the province, and he felt sure he mentioned the name of the brother he propose for that office, and he received heartiest expressions of approval. He would have been glad if the task had been committed to a brother more capable of doing justice to it than himself, but still no one could do it with more sincerity, and it was with the knowledge of his feeling that he took upon himself the task with so much confidence. He would propose Bro. Jack Sutcliffe, the son of their Provincial Grand Master, as the Provincial Grand Master. He was glad to say that in Bro. Jack Sutcliffe they would have a brother who would take his father in the discharge of those duties which were attached to the office he proposed they should confer upon him.

Bro. H. Watson, of Lincoln, in seconding the motion, said he fully endorsed all the resolutions concerning Bro. Jack Sutcliffe, which had been proposed by Bro. Radley, and he believed the Provincial Grand Lodge would also endorse them.

Bro. Jack Sutcliffe was then unanimously elected Provincial Grand Treasurer.

The Provincial Grand Master thereupon proposed to invest the undermentioned brethren with their collars and jewels of office:—

- Bro. Radley..... S.G.W.
- Bro. Dick Watson..... J.G.W.
- Bro. Oldman..... G.M.O.
- Bro. Bellamy..... G.S.O.
- Bro. Watkins..... G.J.O.
- Bro. J. Ace, D.D..... G. Chaplain.
- Bro. Sutcliffe..... G. Treas.
- Bro. Carline..... G. Reg.
- Bro. Gough..... G. Sec.
- Bro. G.S.D..... G.S.D.
- Bro. G.J.D..... G.J.D.
- Bro. G.D.C..... G.D.C.
- Bro. G.A.D.C..... G.A.D.C.
- Bro. G.I. of Works..... G. I. of Works.
- Bro. G. Sword Bearer..... G. Sword Bearer.
- Bro. G. Std. Bearer..... G. Std. Bearer.
- Bro. G. Organist..... G. Organist.
- Bro. G.I.G..... G.I.G.
- Bro. G. Stewards..... G. Stewards.
- Bro. G. Tyler..... G. Tyler.

These officers having been duly saluted on the occasion, a committee was nominated, on the motion of Bro. Oldham, seconded by Bro. Binckes, to frame the provincial bye-laws. The Provincial Grand Master then rose and said; he revolved upon him to perform a very duty, and he regretted exceedingly that he was not of the power of speech to give to the brethren what he was about to propose the force of the law deserved. They had all heard the excellent and superior style in which their Provincial Grand Master had discharged the duties of the Installing Master. The ceremony had been performed with a talent which could not be equalled even by Bro. Romaine Callender, and he regretted so much that he was not present to see them. The Provincial Grand Master's absence from the Provincial Grand Lodge during the ceremony had filled all the brethren with deep regret when Bro. Callender agreed to perform the ceremonies the brethren of Lincoln had so highly honoured. This sore disappointment, however, was in some measure cured by the representation of Bro. Binckes, who always brought to the Provincial Grand Lodge with an earnestness of purpose which rendered him acceptable to the Provincial Grand Master. He (the Prov. G.M.) spoke as he could not refrain from saying he was proud of the service Bro. Binckes had rendered the lodge had been fortunate to secure. He would therefore ask the Provincial Grand Master to join with him in passing a vote of thanks to Bro. Binckes for his kindness in conducting the business of the day, and for the manner in which he had performed the duties they had had the pleasure of seeing him perform. He felt quite certain that every brother would agree with these remarks, and the resolution would be carried with acclamation.

The Provincial Grand Master having been seconded and carried, the Provincial Grand Master, in acknowledging the compliment, said, in acknowledging the compliment, he should occupy the time of the Provincial Grand Master for a few seconds, as he should have done so much earlier in the afternoon of speaking at greater length. He would simply say that he would rather this resolution had taken the form it was originally intended to take, of a vote of thanks to Bro. Romaine Callender. He regarded himself as only the locum tenens of that brother, and he looked upon it as a highly regrettable circumstance that Bro. Callender, who was such an excellent worker of the ceremonies, was not present. For he himself felt very acutely the disappointment they must all have experienced, and he was heavily oppressed with the responsibility of his position in having to take the place of such a distinguished brother. Nevertheless, he felt most grateful for their recognition of his services.

The Deputy Prov. G.M. said that he had great pleasure in informing the brethren that the aprons, jewels, and collars had been presented to the Provincial Grand Lodge by the esteemed Provincial Grand Master, and he would therefore move the thanks of the Grand Lodge to Bro. Sutcliffe, and that they be recorded on the minutes.

The Prov. S. Grand Warden seconded the motion, which was put by Bro. Binckes, and carried unanimously.

A vote of thanks was also passed to Bro. Fred. Watson, the chairman of the Committee of Management, for the loan of the organ, and to the Committee of Management; and the Provincial Grand Master said that for several weeks past Bro. Watson had been devoted to the duties which had fallen upon him as chairman. Very few knew the amount of work he had had to do. It had been most arduous, but it had certainly been discharged in a most efficient manner. Whatever Bro. Watson undertook to carry out he carried out with a will, and if it had not been for him the brethren would not then have been together.

Bro. F. Watson, in reply, said that on behalf of himself and the committee he had to thank the Provincial Grand Master and the brethren for their kindly-expressed vote of thanks. Although the labours of the committee had been very arduous, the brethren were amply repaid by seeing the eminent brother they had recommended to the Grand Master as Provincial Grand Master installed in the provincial chair. He was highly esteemed, and could not fail to bring honour upon the province. Any services the Committee of Management had performed were well compensated for by such a result.

This closed the business of Grand Lodge.

The Provincial G. Master, before closing the lodge, rose and said that he would take that opportunity of thanking from the chair the brethren who had come such long distances, at such great inconvenience, to do him honour as they had done that day. It was, indeed, a proud moment to him to see so very many brethren. From all parts they had come, from London, from Lancashire, from Cheshire. From Yorkshire, also, he was glad to see such a handsome muster. He could assure them all that he should ever remember it as a great honour they had done him, and he was sorry it was not in his power to recognise the obligation in any other way than by these words of thanks.

The Provincial Grand Mark Lodge was then closed, and the brethren were entertained, to the number of over 400, by the Provincial Grand Master at a splendid banquet in the concert room of the beautiful Masonic hall, provided by Bro. Trafford of the Spread Eagle Hotel, Lincoln.

At the termination of the banquet the "Non Nobis" was sung, and the Prov. G.M. proceeded with the toasts; and in giving the toast of "The Queen and Mark Masonry," referred to the well-known loyalty of Masons in the Mark Degree, and to the bright example that Her Majesty set as a Queen and a Mother.

The Prov. G. Master next gave "H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, and the members of the Royal Family." Whenever they drank the health of the Prince of Wales in Masonry it was in the double capacity of head of the Royal Family and the head of Masonry. He was not, however, a Mark Mason, but it was extremely gratifying to Mark Masons that he should be ruler of the Craft. With reference to the late Grand Master of the Craft, whom they all had honoured, he would simply say, "Requiescat in pace." They were sorry that there should have been a secession from the Masonic ranks, as they would have been if even the humblest man in Masonry had seceded; but when the head of the fraternity left them, he thought "the least said the soonest mended." But there flowed from it this happy result, the development and bringing out of the Prince of Wales, the Heir Apparent of Great Britain, as Grand Master. Now, they would give spontaneous and undivided loyalty to His Royal Highness, and they did not want among their ranks any who would give but a divided loyalty either to the throne, the altar, or the cottage. The Prince of Wales had shown himself a first-rate fellow, and had taken the opportunity of informing himself on all matters which were likely to be of service in the position in life he was called on to fill. His duties as heir apparent had been discharged satisfactorily, and also those which he had performed for the Queen. He had made himself beloved wherever he went, and he was well imitated by the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke of Connaught, and Prince Leopold. At the formation of this new Provincial Grand Lodge it was but right that the loyalty of the brethren composing it should be displayed, and it was with the greatest pleasure he gave them the opportunity of doing so by proposing "The Health of the Prince of Wales and the Royal Family."

The toast was enthusiastically responded to.

The Prov. G. Master next gave "the M.W. Grand Mark Master Mason, the Rt. Hon. Earl Percy, M.P.," and as time was getting short for the brethren from Manchester and the West, joined with it "the M.W. Past Grand Mark Master Mason, the Rt. Hon. Lord Leigh, Rt. Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, Viscount Holmesdale, M.P.; W. W. B. Beach, Esq., M.P.; and the Rev. George Raymond Portal, M.A." Earl Percy had made his mark in Masonry, or he would not now have been in the position he was in. He (the Prov. G.M.) could not say the same thing for himself; for although he was an old and experienced officer in the Craft he was not an old Mark Master. Under the peculiar privileges granted by the Mark Degree, which the Craft did not, the Grand Master and the Provincial Grand Masters retained their offices only for a limited time, to give an opportunity for other brethren who were ambitious and desirous of getting into office to do so. There were in the Craft many enthusiastic men who worked for years and did not get high position. In the Mark it was not so, for there was a better opening for such brethren. They had, therefore, what was not to be found in the Craft, a good roll of Past Grand Masters, and what was more, they obtained the cream of the Craft. He then called upon the brethren to drink the toast.

Bro. Thos. Chadwick, Prov. Grand Secretary, Lancashire, said he did not know why a humble brother like himself should be entrusted with the proposal of toast No. 5, "The R.W. Dep. Grand Mark Master Mason, the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, and the Grand Officers past and present," but the Right Worshipful Master had made the duty comparatively easy by showing them that short speeches were the best. Again, the toast was so good a one that no words were necessary to recommend it to notice. The Earl of Limerick was well known to them all as a good worker in Masonry and a good Mason. Those who had had the opportunity of seeing him do the work knew this, and to those who had not he would only say they had missed a treat, for he was one of the best working Masons he (Bro. Chadwick) ever knew. The Provincial Grand Masters were always ready to do their work and any duty which might devolve upon them,—and the Grand Officers generally seized every opportunity that offered, to assist the Grand Master in the duties of his office.

Bro. Smallpiece, in thanking the brethren for the toast, assured them that it was the intention and wish of all the Grand Officers to give their support to the Grand Master and to further the interests of Mark Masonry in every way. He would not detain the brethren by any lengthened remarks, but he would refer to the success of Mark Masonry as evidenced by the great desire of brethren to join it, and by the establishment of new provinces. It was only on the previous Friday that a new province had been established in Sussex, when the brethren assembled in large numbers at Brighton. These facts pointed to the estimation in which the Mark was held, and described it far better than any words he could use would do.

Bro. F. Binckes proposed "The R.W. Provincial Grand Mark Master Mason of Lincolnshire, Bro. John Sutcliffe," and in doing so said it was always a difficult and delicate matter to approach what the Director of Ceremonies had just announced as the toast of the evening. He had, however, the most excellent subject for the toast that he ever had in his life. Their excellent Provincial Grand Master he (Bro. Binckes) had at last found out, was the cleverest man within the circle of his acquaintance; for he had discovered the grand secret of renewing his youth. He would tell them why—and this he firmly believed—he had told him (Bro. Binckes) that evening while sitting beside him that he had enlorged him too much in the observations he had made, and he had seen mantling to Bro. Sutcliffe's cheeks the blush of modesty. Now they all knew that modesty was the peculiarly distinguishing characteristic of youth. If the Grand Master had not restored himself by some process into which he (Bro. Binckes) did not care to pry, he could not have seen that blush of modesty mantling to his cheek, but he would ask the brethren whether one word he had used concerning the Provincial Grand Master, in the course of the proceedings of the day, under the difficult circumstances in which he had been placed, had been in any respect more than he thoroughly and richly deserved by a long course of service both in Masonry and [out of it? Of course not. Truly "on their own merits modest men are dumb;" but surely in the presence of one like Bro. Sutcliffe no one should be debarred speaking of those merits and commending them to a body of men like those then present. He was not speaking of Bro. Sutcliffe in empty terms of compliment, but he could speak of his qualifications, which were known to every one in the room. If he said more of him he felt he should be guilty of what was superfluousness and excess—of "gilding refined gold" or attempting to "paint the lily." He would therefore, as simply as he could, but nevertheless most heartily and earnestly, ask the brethren to respond to the toast. The subject of that toast was the first Provincial Grand Master of Lincolnshire, and the brethren of that Province and of the Province of Lancaster testified their hearty approval of the Grand Master's choice by responding heartily to the toast. They wished to show how they valued what he had done in the past; they congratulated him heartily on his present position, and they wished him a prosperous career in the future.

The Prov. G. Master, on rising to respond, was received with loud applause. This lasted for some time, and on its subsiding he said the occasion was one of very serious and great importance to him. He would refer to the short remarks made by the Installing Master, Bro. Binckes, who spoke of the past so much, and who had the gift of eloquence in such a large measure. Unfortunately for himself he (the Prov. G. M.) had not that gift, but he was a practical man. He could not make the worse appear the better reason, and he hoped that Bro. Binckes would not flatter him too much. All that Bro. Binckes had said that he (the Prov. G. M.) had done and would do, he hoped would turn out to be the fact, and what he had been in the past he would try to be in the future. He had certainly undertaken that day a position of responsibility, which, perhaps, he should not have undertaken, but he was in this difficulty: that the brethren of Lincolnshire would not take any from him. They appealed to him to take the office on the ground that he would be promoting the interests of Mark Freemasonry in the province. On consideration he thought there were other brethren in the province more deserving of high rank and position than he was. Being however, strongly pressed, and told it was a duty he owed to Freemasonry that he should take the office, and that there was no one else they considered more worthy, he considered the matter again, and finding there was no help for it, he consented. As he had recently said, in Mark Masonry they must have the cream of Craft Masonry, and he was sure from the assemblage he saw before him that day they did get the cream of Craft Masonry. It occurred to him to say that Mark Masonry should be recognised by Grand Lodge; for, as they stood at present it seemed to him that they were dissenters from the Craft. (Bro. Binckes: "No. No"). As he had told the brethren of Lincolnshire, if he could be of any service in promoting the interests of Freemasonry it would afford him great pleasure to do so. He had undertaken this office on the same principle as that which guided all his actions through life, that what was worth doing at all was worth doing well. He never "went in" for half measures; he always "went the whole hog," and he would take Mark Masonry in hand in this province so long as it did not come in collision with Craft Masonry. (Bro. Binckes: "It never can"). Their Brother Binckes said it never could. Looking at Lancashire they found Craft Masonry, Mark Masonry, Royal Arch Masonry, and every other kind of Masonry there; the land was covered with it. He remembered William Dugdale of Bolton saying of the people there, "They stink of brass." He would not use the word offensively, but he would apply the meaning conveyed by the expression, to the position of Masonry in Lancashire; that province was the most Masonic province in England. He was not at all ashamed of being a Lancashire lad. In Lincolnshire they were not so thickly strewn as the brethren in Lancashire; but he should not depart from his desire of making Masonry great in Lincolnshire. He would once more thank the brethren for the compliment they had paid him by coming that day to witness his installation. It was such a compliment as any Provincial Grand Master must feel most deeply. He did not know all the brethren who attended individually, but he looked upon the gathering as though he knew every person composing it, and it was such a noble one that it must be an encouragement to him to perform his duties. He would pledge them his word, every one of them, that when they held Provincial Grand Lodge every brother there that day should have notice of it. To his thanks he would add another expression of brotherliness by drinking the good health of every brother present, and that of their wives and sweethearts.

The Prov. G. Master then said that as the special train for the north-west would not leave till half-past seven there was no necessity for the brethren from that quarter to leave at present; for he would request their attention for a few minutes while he gave "The Health of the Installing Master, Bro. Binckes." He desired to thank that brother very much for the honour he had done him by installing him that day. They all knew Bro. Binckes, and he could not say anything of him which they were not previously aware of. Had Bro. Romaine Callender been present he might have had more to remark upon; but with regard to so well known a brother as Bro. Binckes, he would simply propose his health and leave it in their hands.

Bro. Binckes rose to reply immediately, and said they must not pause for a single moment, as the trains would not wait. They had all partaken of Bro. Sutcliffe's hospitality, and would gladly have enjoyed it still longer were it not for the exigencies of the railway. The proceedings of the day in Grand Lodge were peculiar; and he felt that they resembled very much a performance in a theatre where there was a thickly-packed audience to hear the play of "Hamlet," with the principal character to be filled by a distinguished actor, but before the proceedings commenced, the stage manager had to come forward to announce that the character would, through the illness of the great actor, have to be represented by a minor actor. The distinguished tragedian engaged at enormous expense could not come, and the audience must either be content to see the character played by a minor performer, or they could have their money returned at the doors. That was just the position of affairs that day. Bro. Romaine Callender had been taken ill. Although he (Bro. Binckes) along with all the brethren, were much grieved at his absence and the cause of it, he was very glad to fill his post, and however imperfectly he performed his duties he had endeavoured to do in the best way he could. He felt indebted to them for the credit they had given him for his endeavours. He knew that one of the causes of this great gathering was the announcement that Bro. Callender would be present. No one more regretted than he (Bro. Binckes) throughout the day's proceedings, the absence of their distinguished brother, to whom he was quite prepared to render any assistance in a subordinate position but he never thought for a single instant of being representative. When the prompter's bell rung and the green curtain drawn up, and the magnificent mountings of the piece were displayed, it was found that the principal performer was not present, and he was called upon to do his part. Whether he should ever again be boldened to fill the same part he did not know perhaps he might be like "single-speech Hamlet," who made a brilliant oration once, and never attempted it again; or like a sky-rocket which made a great show as it went up, and nothing but the stick remained to come down. He was very much pleased to have had to install his old friend, although he much regretted the absence of Bro. Callender. Some remarks had been made about Grand Craft Lodge, and some Masons did not know Mark Masonry so intimately as the brethren present. It had been thought by some that Mark Masons were casting a slur on Craft Masonry, but any such objections must have been made unguardedly and from want of knowledge of what Mark Masonry was. He must ask them to take from him the fullest assurance that if the time of danger ever came to Craft Masonry, Grand Craft Lodge in England would find its warmest supporters in Mark Masons. Bro. Binckes then referred to the G. Master's remark that he (Bro. Binckes) had the power of speech; but he said that it was necessary that some one should be able to appeal to the hearts and sympathies of the brethren. He would now discharge another duty, and thank the brethren on behalf of himself and the absent Bro. Callender, whose representative he was. The brethren all wished but better health, also long life, happiness, and prosperity, and on all occasions received his name with respect. He (Bro. Binckes) took the reception of his name that day as a testimony how highly they esteemed him, how deeply they regretted his absence, and how much they wished for his reappearance among them in health and strength.

The Prov. G. Master next proposed "The Health of the Visiting Brethren," and spoke with gratification of the presence of the many saw before him from Lincolnshire, Cheshire, Yorkshire, and numerous other places. To all of them he tendered his most sincere and hearty thanks for following the brethren of Lincolnshire to the Provincial Grand Mark Lodge. It was always pleasant to drink the health of the visitors to whom they never gave the cold shoulder. He rather gave them the saddle of mutton, whatever would make them enjoy themselves. That day they offered them a hearty reception but he was sorry that train time was becoming so short that a general stampede of the visiting brethren might soon be expected. He would not therefore enlarge on this toast, but he could not conclude without saying that the Province of Lincolnshire felt greatly complimented by having such a large body of visitors from all parts of the country. He would call on Bro. Young, of the province of Durham to respond.

Bro. Young said that the fact of his coming from Durham would speak as much for the opinion of the Prov. G. Master as even a volume of words. The journey from such a distance would show that he had at heart the good of Masonry in Lincolnshire, and that he had honoured the Prov. G. Master. He was lighted to have the opportunity of doing this to Bro. Sutcliffe, and eagerly seized the opportunity of giving him a welcome. With the view of giving him a welcome. With the view of doing so he immediately undertook to represent Northumberland and Durham. In its Provincial Grand Master, Lincolnshire had one who would be most welcome at all times in this (Bro. Young's) district. He was a most excellent representative of the Craft, one of those brilliant fellows who should have been in times

Let them thank Heaven, though, that he is not, and that the present generation were personally acquainted with him. He (Bro. Ung) was proud to have known him. He is sorry that time would not permit him to say so. If it had not been for the train leaving soon, and making the brethren so anxious to away, he should have been glad of a few notes to express more strongly and fully the affection he had in being present on that occasion.

Bro. Hartley also responded, and expressed great pleasure it was to him after a lengthened period of absence from that district to meet the Prov. Grand Master; still it was a pleasure to see a brother who was so much respected installed in the high position of Master of that important province. The same he had given all the brethren was in agreement with all his other acts, and for that same he (Bro. Hartley) offered him his best wishes. It was with the greatest possible pleasure he came to the ceremony of that day, and believed all the brethren who accompanied him in acknowledging the kindness of the Prov. Grand Master. He hoped he would live long to enjoy his Prov. Grand Mastership, and to remember that the brethren ever spent a more pleasurable day.

Bro. T. Bashworth, of Rochdale, also gladly testified to the pleasure the brethren had experienced. They had gladly travelled from Rochdale to witness the installation, and he added that they would envy the brethren of Lancashire their Prov. Grand Master. Lincolnshire had shown them a very good sample of a Prov. Grand Master, and it ought to be a source of pride to him. The brethren who hailed Rochdale were very glad to have been represented by a brother from Cheshire also briefly referred to.

The brethren hereupon, with few exceptions, returned by the special trains for the north-west, east, and south, and the business was accordingly closed.

Among the London brethren, however, including Bro. Binckes, H. W. Binckes, James Terry, Bro. Cubitt, and Bro. Sabine, of Brighton, who were present for the night at Lincoln, and honoured the evening with toasts, which were "The Provincial Officers and the Mark Lodge of Lincolnshire," "The Masonic Institutions and the Mark Benevolent Fund," "The W.M., of the Mark Lodge, No. 117, Lincoln, Bro. R. Carline," and "The Ladies."

Bro. J. Sabine proposed "The Masonic Institutions and the Mark Benevolent Fund," and invited the brethren to support his list for the festival of the Boys' School. He presented the Mark Degree at that festival, and it was strongly supported, and his list was supported with 40 guineas from Grand Mark Lodge, and he had one donation of £21, eight of £5 each, seven of five guineas, and a number of smaller sums.

Bro. James Terry, Secretary of the Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution responded, and thanked the Lincolnshire brethren for their interest in the cause of Masonry, and for the support of all the Masonic Institutions which had done so well.

MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

The annual monthly meeting of the General Assembly of this Institution was held on Thursday, 6th ult., at Freemason's Hall. Bro. W. H. Russell was in the Chair. There were also present Bro. A. H. Tattershall, Major J. Walter Wellsman, Robert B. Webster, Bro. W. H. Hemsworth, Henry Griffith Smith, Fred. Adlard, John S. W. White, Wm. F. Moutrie. Bro. W. H. Russell was authorized to sign cheques for the payment of the Bills for the September quarter in accordance with the recommendation of the House Committee the salaries of the educational staff were increased.

A petition on behalf of Mary G. N. Swain was deferred on account of her reading being imperfect.

A resolution was moved by Bro. Tattershall, seconded by Major J. Creaton and unanimously carried to the following effect:—"That the proxies shall in all cases be sent to the parties to whom they belong, that is, to the Subscribers and Governors whose names are registered in the office books, unless the owner of a proxy or proxies should authorize the Secretary otherwise to deal with them, and in the case of such authority being given, it must be renewed previous to every election." The Secretary then read a letter in reference to the transfer of the Marquis of Ripon's votes which the committee would not entertain, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

ROYAL MASONIC BENEVOLENT INSTITUTION.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot, Prov. Grand Master of Staffordshire, has kindly consented to take the chair at the next festival of this Institution which is to be held on Wednesday, the 27th January, 1875. Brethren who may wish to become Stewards, will be glad to know that the Stewards' fee is fixed at two guineas, which includes dinner ticket and expenses.

Masonic Tidings.

NEW ORDER IN LIVERPOOL.—It has been proposed and resolved to attach to the Liverpool Conclaves of the Red Cross of Constantine a Sanctuary of the Knights of the Holy Sepulchre and Commandery of the Knights of St. John. Candidates will be installed by the Grand Conclave to be held at the Masonic Hall, Liverpool, on the 13th inst. Names of candidates will in the meanwhile be received by Ill. Sir Knight G. Turner, Int. Gen. for West Lancashire.

The meeting of the Moveable Grand Conclave of the Red Cross of Constantine will take place on Friday, the 13th of November, not 15th, as, by the printer's error, appeared in our last.

The Fifteen Sections will be worked in the Prince Leopold Lodge of Instruction (No. 1445), at the Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, on Monday evening, November 9th, 1874, at seven o'clock.

We regret to announce the death of Bro. Robert Atkinson Bradley, who died after a long and painful illness at his residence, 3, Albany-villas, Queensland-road, N., Saturday, October 31st, aged 78 years. He was initiated in the Strong Man Lodge, No. 45, in 1840.

PERSONAL.

BRO. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.—By reference to the Boston Masonic Mirror of Dec. 5th, 1829, will be found the following paragraph: "For evidence of the estimation in which this great man, Benjamin Franklin, held Masonry, this statement is amply sufficient. It appears from the minutes of the Order, that during thirty years and upward, while he was Deputy Grand Master of Pennsylvania, he was never absent from a single meeting." Does not this fact bear a noble testimony to the value and worth of Masonry?

BRO. G. A. SALA'S treatise on "Cookery in its Historical Aspect" may, we understand, be expected shortly to appear.

FOREIGN DECORATION.—The Emperor of Austria has conferred the Commandership of the Order of Francis Joseph on Bro. W. H. Russell, who was engaged as British Juror on the Small Arms Jury at the Great Exhibition in Vienna last year.

SIR JULIUS BENEDICT.—Numerous friends of Sir Julius Benedict, appreciating the eminent services which, during a long period of 40 years, he has devoted so effectively for the advancement of musical art in this country—as well as the uniform and unceasing zeal in all his transactions, and the good faith in all his engagements—are desirous of evincing their esteem by presenting him, on the occasion of his 70th birthday, at the end of November, with a testimonial which will serve to embody such sentiments, and, at the same time, convey to his family a lasting remembrance of the cordial respect and esteem in which he is held, and which his high and honourable character so justly merits. The following noblemen and gentlemen have already consented to form a committee on the subject:—Lord Skelmersdale, Lord Shrewsbury, Lord Sydney, the Earl of Mar, Sir Robert Gerald, Lord Gerald Fitz-Gerald, Lord Suffield, Sir Robert Peel, Lord Camory, and Lord Londesborough.

MR. JUSTICE HONYMAN.—The Observer is enabled to state that, although the condition of Mr. Justice Honyman's health will not allow of his resuming his seat on the Bench at the commencement of Term, there is no foundation for the rumour that he intends immediately to give in his resignation.

THE BOARD OF WORKS AND THE BOARD OF TRADE.—The written opinion of the Law Officers of the Crown, signed by Sir Richard Baggallay and the Solicitor-General, on the interpretation of those clauses of the Petroleum Act which give power to regulate the landing, storage, and conveyance of petroleum has been officially communicated by the Board of Trade to the Metropolitan Board of Works, and has been referred by the latter Board to its Works Committee.

MR. EDWARD S. NORRIS, of Regent's-park-road, has been elected Master of the Carriers' Company for the ensuing year.

MR. WILLIAM HANCOCK has been appointed manager of the National Discount Company in succession to Mr. Thomas Smith, who has been compelled to retire in consequence of ill-health.

MR. ALBERT GRANT presided on October 30th at a meeting held at Westminster in support of the movement for the free opening of the Tower, and a memorial to the Government with that object was adopted.

SIR JOHN KARSLAKE, M.P., Q.C., is seriously indisposed; he has been ordered abroad by his medical advisers, and probably will not return to this country before the meeting of Parliament.

MR. D. M. AIRD, of the Middle Temple, author of "Blackstone Economized," &c., has undertaken a work that is nearly completed, "The Civil Law of France to the Present Time," which comprises all the Code Napoléon.

THE FRIEND OF MAN.—"The poor dog, in life the firmest friend," as Byron calls him, owes his chief fame to the poets. In the books of Moses he is spoken of with the dislike and contempt which still clings to him in some Arabic countries; but Homer turned the scale by his touching description of the faithful Argus's recognition of his master Ulysses, after twenty years absence, and ever since the poet and the naturalist have vied with each other in their admiration of the dog as a domestic animal. While the dog is thus known as the friend of man, Messrs. Spratt come forward as the friend of the dog, and have provided him with Patent Meat Fibrine Cakes which tempt his appetite, and afford all the properties necessary for his maintenance in perfect health and condition. All breeds of dogs thrive on these cakes (commonly termed biscuits) which consist of due proportions of meat, meal and dates, the highest authorities on canine food recommend them, alike for the pampered pet, the delicate-nosed setter or pointer, and the sturdy hound. As the "poor dog," like many another friend of man, has been too often badly treated, we therefore gladly recommend this addition to his comfort.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—"EVER USEFUL."—All afflicted by illness should look their diseases full in the face, and at once seek a remedy for them. A short search will convince the most sceptical, that these noble medicaments have afforded ease, comfort, and oftentimes complete recovery, to the most tortured sufferers. The Ointment will cure all descriptions of sores, wounds, bad legs, sprains, eruptions, erysipelas, rheumatism, gout, skin affections. The Pills never fail in correcting and strengthening the stomach, in restoring a deranged liver to a wholesome condition, in rousing torpid kidneys to increase the secretion, and in re-establishing the natural healthy activity of the bowels. Holloway's are the remedies for complaints of all classes of society.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V., and VI each ...	15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	3s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Twopenny per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY,

FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY. Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDERL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"The edition we are now considering is a second English edition, which had the great advantage of Bro. D. M. Lyon's able superintendence and editorship in its English dress. There can be no doubt but, that so far, Bro. Findel's work is the most complete work on Freemasonry which has yet appeared, and that he deserves the greatest credit for his careful and accurate treatment of all evidence on the subject, and for his honest desire after truth. Bro. Findel gives up in the view he has so clearly and consistently put forth our early Masonic history, the older theory of the Roman Colleges, &c., and limits the origin of Freemasonry to about the twelfth century, and as then arising from the operative Masons, and specially the "Steinmetzen" and "Bauhütten" of Germany. Bro. Findel gives us a good deal of evidence on this head, and one thing is clear from his work, that the German Freemasons were, at a very early period, organized into lodges with Master over them, and with outward regulations and inner ceremonies peculiar to the Craft. Bro. Findel rejects all the views which have been from time to time put forward of a Templar or a Rosicrucian origin. Whether or no Bro. Findel's theory of the date of the rise of Freemasonry be correct, matters very little: we do not ourselves profess to accept it; but this we can fairly say of Bro. Findel's work, it is marked from first to last by the most remarkable token of industry, ability, and care, of patient research, and of skillful criticism. We know of no work which so clearly sets before us our amount of knowledge up to the present time on the great question of Masonic Archaeology, and there can be little doubt that what Preston's work is to English Freemasonry, Findel's work is to cosmopolitan Freemasonry. Indeed no student in Masonry can now dispense with it, and it is a perfect storehouse both of Masonic evidence and Masonic illustrations. We earnestly recommend all the lodges in this country to obtain a copy for the lodge library before the work is bought up for America; and we believe that no Mason will rise from the perusal of its pages without a higher idea both of the historical truth and intrinsic value of Freemasonry, and of fraternal regard and recognition to be latest and not the least well-informed or effective of our Masonic historians. The present century has produced so such equal, in authority and usefulness, to the great work of our Bro. Findel, and we wish him and it, in all of fraternal sympathy and kindly intent, many earnest readers, and more grateful students."—The Masonic Magazine.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence. Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the Czar of RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lady the Stan of Perin, Marshal MacMahon, Mr. Titlers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens. Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Published under the Patronage of H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G., Patron of the Order.

In Imperial Octavo, bound in gilt cloth, richly ornamented price £1 11s. 6d.,

HISTORY OF THE LODGE OF EDINBURGH

(MARY'S CHAPEL) No. 1.

EMBRACING AN ACCOUNT OF THE RISE AND PROGRESS OF FREEMASONRY IN SCOTLAND.

By Bro. DAVID MURRAY LYON.

With Twenty-six Fac-similes of Ancient Statutes, Minutes of various Lodges, Seals, and Orders, &c., and Authentic Portraits and Autographs of Sixty eminent Craftsmen of the past and present time.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

In the Press.

Third Edition. Revised and Enlarged. Price 3s. 6d.

A full Coloured Book of

MASONIC CLOTHING AND JEWELS.

From Master Mason to the 30th Degree inclusive.

London, GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

Now ready, 12mo., 208 pages, handsomely bound in cloth price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 8d.

THE ISRAELITES FOUND IN THE ANGLO-SAXONS.

The Ten Tribes supposed to have been lost traced from the land of their captivity to their occupation of the Isles of the Sea. With an exhibition of those traits of character and national characteristics assigned to Israel in the Books of the Hebrew Prophets, by Bro. WM. CARPENTER, Author of "Scientia Biblica," "Scripture Natural History," "Guide to the Reading of the Bible," "Lectures on Biblical Criticism and Interpretation," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critica Biblica," "Calendarium Palestinae," "An Introduction to the Reading and Study of the English Bible, and Editor of the fifth large edition of "Calmer's Dictionary of the Bible," and of the abridgement of the same, etc., etc.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

4th Edition, now ready, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

REFLECTED RAYS OF LIGHT UPON FREEMASONRY.

OR THE FREEMASONS' POCKET COMPENDIUM.

With Emblematical Frontispiece. A handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, and Pocket Vaude Mecum, and guide to the various ceremonies connected with Craft Masonry, so far as the same are allowed to be communicable in accordance with the principles of the Order.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

Now ready, with Index and Preface, in Twelve Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in one handsome volume, £3.

THE

FREEMASONS' LIBER MUSICUS,

Dedicated by express permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by DR. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—298.

This Work contains 215 pp. and 188 Musical Compositions, suitable for the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges; Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation; Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

Notice from the Evening Mail.

"Our Masonic readers are no strangers to the name of Bro. William Spark, the talented musician and Organist of the Town Hall, Leeds. In this really great work, now completed, Dr. Spark, has shown his great tact and judgment by completing and compiling for the Masonic brethren a complete library of musical compositions of the choicest English and foreign works, ancient, traditional, modern, vocal, and instrumental, by the best composers. It comprises Masonic anthems, installation odes, dedication music, responses, opening, closing, and intermediate music for all degrees, Thanksgivings, funeral odes, marches, songs, duets, banquet music, programmes, voluntaries, and general musical directions, arranged for voices and organ, pianoforte, or harmonium. "The Freemasons' Liber Musicus" is issued with the concurrence of many influential Masonic Lodges, and under the distinguished patronage and support of the Most Worshipful the Grand Masters of England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland. It forms a complete library of the choicest and rarest Masonic music, in a word, it is indispensable to all Masonic lodges. The worthy brother editor, moreover, has had the valuable co-operation and assistance of the most distinguished and experienced composers and organists, members of the Craft. It is brought out in the highest style of art, is printed from large engraved music plates, and forms a very handsome folio volume of nearly two hundred and twenty pages." It does not see the patronage of every Masonic Lodge, but it is a most valuable and important work, and ought to be read by every brother. As a present to a lodge, nothing could be more useful, valuable, and appropriate.

HANDSOME CLOTH COVERS, with gilt lines, and lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

Shortly will be published, "A DEFENCE OF FREEMASONRY,"

By Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C.

Published by Bro. GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d. MASONIC GATHERINGS.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.

Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

SECOND EDITION.—NOW READY.

Price One Shilling, Post-free, Revised and Enlarged. Freemasonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle, By Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON, (Past Master, No. 393, England.)

THIS work is a perfect handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, founded on the Ancient Charges and Symbols, and will be found to be eminently practical and useful in the vindication and support of the Order.

Office, 198, Fleet-street.

Price Five Shillings.

THE LIFE OF CONSTANTINE.

Written in Greek, by EUSEBIUS PAMPHILI, (Bishop of Caesarea in Palestine).

Done into English from that edition, set forth by VALESIVS, and printed in Paris in the year 1699.

Preface by Bros. H. Wentworth Little, Treas. Gen. and the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, Past Grand Chaplain. With Engravings of Constantine; the Duke of Sussex, P.G. Sov.; Lord Hancliffe, P.G. Sov.; Earl Bevis, M.P., P.G. Sov.; Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., M.I.G. Sov.; Col. Francis Buntley, V.I.G.S. Gen.; Robert Wentworth Little, I.G.T., &c.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

The following stand over:—"Masonic Revival," communications from Capt. S. and W. J. Hughan; Reports Lodges 177; 818, 862, 871, 973, 1141, 1276, 1415, 1421, Instruction 860; Chapter 995; Preceptory 123; Red Cross Conclave 17; Council R. and S. M. 5; Albion Rose Chapter 1; Prov G. Lodge of Durham.

ERRATA.—In the letter of "A Country P.M.," page 62 for "all W.M.'s," read "all M.M.'s." In the advertisement of Mrs. Osborne, for "Boys" read "Girls."

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1874

OUR ROYAL GRAND MASTER.

The return of our Royal Brother, H.R.H. Prince of Wales to England from his continental tour, naturally directs the attention of the Craft to his formal assumption of the high office which he has accepted, in accordance with the very wise provision of the Book of Constitutions on the subject. Some little obscurity rests on the actual verbiage of the section which relates to the Past Grand Master, and as to what present position of our exalted Brother is, in respect of his actual governance of our Order. For the question, we think, may fairly be asked: Does the Grand Mastership of H.R.H. Prince of Wales date from the date of his acceptance of the office, or from the date of his installation as Grand Master? The "Grand Master" is to be "invited to a new election takes place," and we are inclined to think (pace a superior authority on our Masonic traditions), an actual and formal construction of the section of the Book of Constitutions fairly be arrived at, that the Past Grand Master of the direction of the Craft, "sede vacante," was in truth the initiatory and only needful act of his temporary administration of the Grand Mastership, the more so as nothing is said about his installation. Indeed, the section relating to Pro Grand Master, which follows, contemplates an immediate assumption of office, and is silent about installation. We are not aware at this moment of any precedent on the question, and shall be glad to hear what the legal authority of the Craft recommends and decides in the matter. The usage of Grand Lodge is probably in favour of a special installation of the "Grand Master," and we are sure that we are but expressing the feeling of the entire Order when we say that we hope, as we doubt not, that a full and distinct announcement of the ceremony of installation will be given to the fraternity. From all parts of England the loyal members of our body will be anxious, if even at much personal cost, to come together to witness their personal attachment to their new Royal Grand Master and their unwavering loyalty to Freemasonry. The past is over and forgotten, however deep may be our regret for a somewhat melancholy page in the annals of Freemasonry, and we look on to the future, to-day, in all of trust, gratification, hope, and confidence. For we have now, happily, at our head the Heir-Apparent to the throne, the eldest son of our beloved Sovereign, and as Freemasons have ever been truly loyal, alike in days of sunshine and storm, so they rejoice with heartfelt unanimity to-day when they realize that the personal union between the Royal Family and themselves, which was so strong in days of old, is reknit officially, and above all most solemnly and firmly once again. With no mere words of adulation, with no mere expression of service, or even of sycophancy, do we English Freemasons desire or seek to approach our Royal and distinguished brother, but as true and trusted members of our ancient Order, we welcome with heart and voice as our chief ruler the grandson of an old Grand Master. Happy, are we all in knowing and believing, that amid many obloquies, and not a few false insinuations just now, our Brother, the Prince of Wales, has accepted with promptness and pleasure the vacant Grand Mastership of our fraternity, in an hour, too, of no little anxiety and trial. We require no better answer to the sneers of the ignorant, or the condemnations of the intolerant, than to seek for no more complete compensation for our momentary regrets, than this one most agreeable fact, patent to all, a fact which, as we justly believe, will prove to be alike a source of strength, and of pride, and of rejoicing to Freemasonry, and specially to our English brotherhood. It was only a short time ago, that the foolish and hot-headed prelate of the Roman Catholic Church thought well in an dinner speech to describe Freemasonry as a secret political society, to liken it to that of the Jesuits, and to attribute to it consequently, the most violent views and revolutionary proclivities. Here to-day we behold the second person in this realm, as if in answer to this arrant insinuation, not only not "ashamed to hear himself named a Free and Accepted Mason," but associating himself intimately with the brotherhood, assuming the Mastership of his own lodge, and ultimately acceding with genial readiness to the request of Grand Lodge, to take upon himself the "ad interim" rulership of the Craft. In our humble opinion this kindly and most fraternal acceptance by our Royal Brother of the Grand Mastership of English Freemasons is alike the best proof of his true Masonic zeal, and the surest guarantee of our own Masonic progress. Despite any momentary halt or temporary depression, we shall continue to move on, we venture to think, even more unitedly, even more trustfully, and even more zealously than ever, because in answer to unjust arraignments and intolerant anathemas, we have rallied around our Royal Grand Master as one man, and because, too, we all are also resolved, "Favente Deo Optimo et Maximo," "Teucro duce et auspice Teucro," to maintain before the world and our universal confraternity, alike our professions of Freemasonry, and to augment and to perpetuate our untiring labours of generous sympathy and brotherly love.

THE PROGRESS OF ENGLISH FREEMASONRY.

It is not a little remarkable, we think, and we wish therefore to remind our brethren and readers to-day how, despite sundry difficulties, our English brotherhood is rapidly increasing its lodge-roll and in numbers everywhere. A priori, the recent attacks upon Freemasonry, by heated partisans and one or two disturbing causes might have been presumed to stand in the way of the progression of English Freemasonry, to have hindered its advance, to have constituted a stumbling block in its path. But on the contrary, we record in each hebdomadal impression of the Freemason some new lodge added to our long calendar, some fresh centre of light, and peace, and amity, and good will marked out and established in Metropolitan or Provincial "limits," to use an old Masonic term. So that we see, in the first place, and let us lay to heart the seasonable and solemn truth that slander and detraction, ill words and foul words, never have done much harm and never will do much harm, after all, in this fair world of ours. They may have a momentary effect on the incredulous and careless, they may inflict pain on some, or do passing injury to others, but the good sense of mankind revolts against them, in the long run, and the certain Nemesis of a higher Providence, always restores the balance sooner or later, here, between right and wrong. So that when to-day we hear or we read the heated declamations, or the unjustifiable falsehoods of unreasoning, or needlessly angry opponents, (for Freemasonry antagonises none), we note at once how, despite it all, and despite them all, Freemasonry finds its "compensation" in the rapid development of its universal organization and in the remarkable progress of its peaceful brotherhood. What better answer do we need? What safer response can we offer?—whether to the childish complaint or the bitter incrimination? Even amid the combined assaults of most heterogeneous allies, Freemasonry fears nothing and cares nothing, but passing by alike false friends and relentless adversaries, marches on, to use a military simile, "with drums beating and colours flying," to combat with increasing success, ignorance, intolerance, suffering, and calamity. And in the next place, we think, despite much, no doubt, that may be said on the other side, that this extension of our brotherhood and this increase of our lodges are greatly to be encouraged and commended. There are some good brethren of ours who would apparently like to consider Freemasonry a little select society, not meant to be too large or to do too much, and who regard our material prosperity and numerical development as a subject of some little anxiety. Now we take, we confess, an entirely opposite view. Our opinion long has been that it is the duty of the authorities to give a full and free development to Masonic augmentation and expansion, whenever they can properly do so. We are also perfectly ready to admit, that, we believe, at no time in our Masonic history were the central authorities so alive to the requirements of our Order, and so wishful, in all of courtesy and good will, to further the wishes and aid the efforts of metropolitan and provincial brethren. But circumstances, even in Freemasonry, prove sometimes too strong for them and are "beyond their control." Their wishes may go in one direction; the technicalities of constitutional arrangements may compel them to pursue an opposite one. It often happens for instance, (we have known several illustrations in our Masonic career), where some young and active brethren, in large numbers, find the lodge accommodation of the district too small for them, and wish to make a "swarm," and constitute another Masonic hive of workers, not of drones. It is astonishing how often local prejudices and personal feeling, (which ought never to exist or be manifested among Masons) step in to oppose, to impede, to prevent. Though the mother lodge, or the older lodge, are, as we say, "full up," though, for local reasons, or class sympathies the existing lodges do not afford the opportunity of Masonic life or work for many excellent and worthy Masons, this youngest offshoot of our great Masonic tree is regarded by some as a set of "novi homines," whom it is desirable to put down, and the petition for a new lodge is considered as an opposition to "vested interests." Many of our readers will, we feel sure, remember exactly similar cases, and agree with us that we have not set forth in any measure an exaggerated or overdrawn picture. And yet how unmasonic it really is to be governed by such perverse prejudice and petty personalities. Freemasonry knows nothing either of favoured "castes" or "class legislation;" it is open, and wishes to be open, to all "good men and true," whether their social position be higher or lower in the scale, making every allowance for those needful cautions and restrictions which prudence may suggest, or safety may dictate. Now, were these impediments which are thus thrown in the way, sometimes, of local development removed or overruled we believe that, despite our most rapid progress, as Freemasons, we should see yet, even more lodges springing up on every side of us. And of one thing we are sure, nothing is so mistaken a course in Freemasonry, as in everything else human, as to regard with favour, on the one hand, a stationary prosperity, or to view with suspicion, on the other, active progressive zeal. Freemasonry, like all other human institutions, amid its many excellences, shares the common tendency to the "Valley of dry bones." We all want ever to be convinced that new blood and younger energies are requisite for the safe progress of society, and even the true development of Freemasonry. If our Freemasonry is of the heart as well as of the head, if we have mastered its great truths, if we wish to practice what we profess often so loudly to believe in, let us remember that our brother's interests are or ought to be as dear to us as our own, and let us jealously guard against any temptation to allow personal feelings or unworthy fears to impede the zealous efforts of some good men and Masons, or to stand in the way of the safe and advisable increase of local lodges. We have served our apprenticeship in our famous old Order in happy days gone by, surrounded by many dear friends and comrades. Let us commit without a doubt and without hesitation the handing on of our traditions and teachings of our principles and our labours of love to younger, and even, perchance, less experienced hands, believing and assured that every new lodge, composed of worthy and zealous brethren, is a fresh guarantee for the happiness of society, for the intellectual elevation of our fellows, for the good of the brotherhood, and for the safe and peaceful progress of mankind.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

ORDER OF THE TEMPLE.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Would you permit me to make a few remarks on the subject of the Templar Statutes, &c., as referred to by Bros. Davies and Woodworth in your paper of the 10th inst. I shall be as brief as possible.

Bro. Davies complains that at the end of his office he "will retire with the honours of a full private, as this office does not carry past rank." It is a pity that as Preceptor he has not been successful in acquiring an accurate knowledge of the statutes and laws of the Order. He will not retire as a mere private, but will, as long as he is a subscribing member of the Order, continue to be a member of the Convent General and of the Great Priory of England and Wales. In fact, in addition to the rights and privileges hitherto held by Past Commanders, now called Past Preceptors, he will have the right of voice and vote in the supreme body of the Order, rights similar to those possessed by the highest in rank. The past rank which has been abolished refers only to the Grand Officers. For the correctness of these statements I refer him to the statutes, &c., or to the Chancellor of the Order, should he prefer such official ruling. There has been no severance of the Masonic connection, but the reverse. The Great Priory statute referring to the connection between the Order of the Temple and the Craft is word for word the same as that in the old law in the Grand Conclave statutes, while the recent rule, extends the Masonic qualification. But Bro. Davies and others err in classing the Order of the Temple amongst Masonic degrees—a classification for which they have no official or other warrant. The Order has been from an early period connected with Freemasonry, but it is not a degree of the Masonic Rite. Its Christian and Trinitarian character is a sufficient proof of this, and all Craft Masons should protest against a Masonic prefix to the Order of the Temple. Such a prefix is of recent origin in England, and has not been used in the statutes of either the Irish or Scotch Conclaves. Let us the Masonic society within its ancient landmarks, and not tolerate Masonic prefixes to Polanical bodies.

As to the change of name from Encampment to Preceptory, it is a small matter, and if an error, it can hardly require such an agitation to correct. To me it appears that the term encampment is wholly inapplicable to such bodies as he termed encampments. The Knights of old were not so termed unless when in the field; their meetings were called chapters, and their separate abodes preceptories.

As to Bro. Woodworth's complaint about the dress. He seems to forget that the Templars in England, Wales, and Ireland now form one body, subject to the same Grand Master and to the same general rules and regulations, and that the dress he complains of is, with the General Statutes of the Order, formally assented to and ratified by both countries. In making such General Statutes, both parties had to give and take, and, as far as I can see, Ireland had more of the taking than the giving. Almost the only thing she had to concede was the giving up of her absurd Templar Apron—a recent invention of their own. But leaving out the absurdity of the Irish Templar costume, was it expected that the English &c. Knights, who form at least four-fifths of the Order under the Grand Master, were to give up their old Templar costume, which corresponds with that worn by the Scotch and continental Knights, and conform to that of the Irish Knights, invented for the purpose of confounding the Templar Order with the Craft? Aprons properly belong to the Craft alone, and in the higher degrees of the A. and A. rite no aprons are used. If the brethren wish to alter the dress, let their representatives, the Preceptors and Past Preceptors, attend the Convent General, wherein they have the same right of voice and vote as the highest officers of the Order, for there, and there alone, can any alterations be made in the costume of the Order.

In conclusion, allow me to say that it is a pity that brethren appointed to rule over Preceptories should rush into print with their grievances, or fancied grievances, and, unintentionally of course, bring into disrepute their own position, and the laws which they are bound to respect and maintain.

I am, Dear Sir and Brother,

Yours fraternally,

X. Y. Z.

Past Preceptor.

THE PLYMOUTH QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Before your promised "finale" on the above is issued, kindly permit me the following few remarks:—

1st. This meeting took place on the 14th August.

2nd. I received the enclosed programme five or six days before.

3rd. The General's sanction was not asked till the 11th (after the programme was printed and distributed, mark!) when the Masonic non-commissioned officers of the Royal Marines applied to him through their commanding officer, and were refused, as I am creditably informed, on the ground that the programme entirely ignored their uniforms.

4th. As soon as this state of affairs was communicated to me, I wrote the following letter, which appeared next day in the Western Daily Mercury, a widely circulated local journal, in order that the Provincial programme manufacturers might, even at the eleventh hour, do something towards remedying their blunder:—

"THE NEW GUILDHALL.

"Sir,—As one of a numerous class of military Freemasons residing in Plymouth, kindly insert my protest against the action of the United Grand Lodges of Devon and Cornwall in excluding us from taking part in the reception of our Most Worshipful Past Grand Master, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, on Friday next.

"The official programme issued a few days ago, prescribes black coats, black silk hats, &c., &c., for all brethren assembling on that occasion. But plain clothes not being allowed to be worn by any soldier in that garrison (it is considered a crime of great magnitude to do so), I Sir, and I may add, more than one hundred of my comrades, are thus debarred from what we consider our just rights, and feel ourselves thrown aside and slighted in the extreme.—I remain, yours truly,

"SOLDIER FREEMASON.

"Plymouth, 12th August, 1874."

No further notice, however, was taken, and as you already know, we were not permitted to enjoy what I always thought was our right, thereby exposing us to the ridicule of the outside world (our wives most especially included) which I think is not at all desirable.

In conclusion, I would like the committee, either collectively or individually, to answer in a straightforward manner the following pertinent question:—

Was the Major-General's sanction for Masonic soldiers in uniform to attend the demonstration asked before the programme was compiled and circulated (upon this the whole question hinges), and if he refused, why did they aid to exclude us by their insertion of black hats, &c., they well knowing that soldiers in the Plymouth Garrison were and are liable to heavy punishment if found in the streets in "mufti?"

I beg to remain, dear Sir and Brother, yours fraternally,

SOLDIER FREEMASON.

WAS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

I see one of your correspondents (who signs himself C.A.) asks in last week's paper whether the present Pope was a Freemason and priest at one and the same time, to which you reply, in somewhat vague terms, that it is averred by some of the Italian Freemasons that he was initiated into a lodge when a young man, but we are not aware of any actual or trustworthy evidence on the subject; now I have a distinct remembrance of seeing in the columns of the now defunct "Magazine and Masonic Mirror" some few years ago, a detailed statement concerning this matter, in which, if I remember rightly, it was proved beyond a doubt that the Pope belonged to one of the lodges in Palermo, and was admitted when he was serving the office of Legate or Nuncio in that city, and therefore in holy orders, but of this latter part I am not sure. Extracts were also given from the lodge minute book, giving the speech made by Bro. Mastai Feretti when raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason.

I am, yours fraternally,

W. E. GUMBLETON, P.G.D.

[The vagueness of our answer is occasioned by the vagueness of the assertions of our Italian brother, for it has been confidently asserted that the Pope was made at Havannah, that he was initiated in America, that he was received in one of the South American republics under the "Rite Ecosaise," and lastly, that he was accepted as a member of our Order in Italy. All we seek for is proof; but up to this time no satisfactory or reliable evidence has been offered by any one.—Ed.]

THE JOHN THOMAS MEMORIAL.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

While at Norwood Cemetery on Thursday last, paying the last sad tribute of respect to our late Bro. Wisby, the W.M. of my lodge, and myself thought we should like to see what memorial had been erected to the memory of our late Brother John Thomas. After much personal fatigue, and then only by the assistance of the clerk in charge, whose kindness we here gratefully acknowledge, we at length discovered the spot, but, Sir, imagine our surprise, (which will, we think, be shared in by all those who knew and esteemed our late brother, at finding that not only had no memorial been erected, but that his name had not even been cut upon the stone placed at the head of the grave, which marks only the resting-place of his wife. Truly "To live in hearts we leave behind Is not to die," and one who, while living, so endeared himself to all those who were brought into contact with him, needs no monument to perpetuate his memory; but, Sir, what has become 'of the money subscribed to the "Thomas Memorial Fund?"

Yours fraternally,
A SUBSCRIBER TO THE FUND.

THE HIGH DEGREES.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In the Book of Constitutions I find the following preamble to the Regulations for the government of the Craft at page 16 :— "By the solemn Act of Union between the two Grand Lodges of Freemasons of England, in December, 1813, it was declared that pure ancient Freemasonry consists of three degrees and no more, viz.: those of the Entered Apprentice, the Fellow Craft, and the Master Mason, including the Supreme Order of the Holy Royal Arch."

The Constitutions further recite, in three different places, that no jewel, medal, or device, belonging to any order or degree not recognised by the Grand Lodge of England as part of pure Ancient Masonry, may be worn either in Grand Lodge or in any private lodge. And I believe I am correct in saying, that not very long ago a Provincial Grand Master was deprived of his command for an infringement of this law.

It is not probably known to very many that the second paragraph of the Act of Union above quoted runs as follows :—

"It is declared and pronounced, that pure Ancient Masonry consists of three degrees and no more, viz.: those of the Entered Apprentice, the Fellow Craft, and the Master Mason, including the Supreme Order of the Holy Royal Arch. But this Article is not intended to prevent any lodge or chapter from holding a meeting in any of the degrees of the Orders of Chivalry, according to the Constitutions of the said Orders."

I would like to ask, through the medium of our valuable journal, how in the history of modern Freemasonry the latter portion of this article was omitted, and how the present ruling rept in; and why the Grand Lodge of England should not recognise such branches of Freemasonry as; for instance, the Ancient and Accepted Rite, and the Order of the Temple, which not only acknowledge its position and authority, but decline to receive any brethren who do not possess certain qualifications as Blue Masons.

I am, yours fraternally,
BUSY BBS.

METROPOLITAN MASONIC MEETINGS.

For the Week ending Friday, November 13, 1874.

The Editor will be glad to receive notice from Secretaries of Craft Lodges, Royal Arch Chapters, Mark Lodges, Chapters, Conclaves, &c., of any change in place or time of meeting.

Saturday, November 7.

General Committee Boys' School at 4.
Lodge 142, St. Thomas's, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

chester Lodge of Instruction (179), Yorkshire Grey, 77, London-street, Fitzroy-square, at 8; Bro. H. Ash, Preceptor.

Lodge of Instruction (820), Greyhound Hotel, Richmond, Surrey.

Lodge of Instruction (1275), Marquess of Granby, New Cross-road, at 7; Bro. C. G. Dilley, Preceptor.

Monday, November 9.

Lodge 59, Royal Naval, Freemasons' Hall.
136, Good Report, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

193, Confidence, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.
222, St. Andrew's, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.

1366, Highgate, Gatehouse Hotel, Highgate.

Lodge 22, Mount St. Guilhall Tavern, Gresham-street.

720, Panmure, Horns Tavern, Kennington.
Cross Conclave, 2, Plantagenet, Caledonian Hotel, Robert-street, Adelphi.

Lodge Leopold Lodge of Instruction (1445), Lord Stanley Tavern, Sandringham-road, Kingsland, at 7; Bro. T. Austin, Preceptor.

Lodge Man Lodge of Instruction (45), Crown Tavern, Clerkenwell green, at 8; Bro. Beckett, Preceptor.

Lodge of Instruction (174), Railway Tavern, Fenchurch-street Station, at 7.

Lodge of Instruction (704), Adelaide Tavern, Haverstock-hill, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Eastern Star Lodge of Instruction (95), Royal Hotel, Mile-end-road, at 7.30; Bro. E. Gotthel, Preceptor.

British Oak Lodge of Instruction (813), Bank of Friendship Tavern, Mile-end, at 7 for 8.

St. James's Union Lodge of Instruction (180), Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street (opposite the Pantheon), Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. J. R. Stacey, Preceptor.

Wellington Lodge of Instruction, White Swan Tavern, Deptford, at 8; Bro. C. G. Dilley, P.M. 1155; Preceptor.

West Kent Lodge of Improvement (1297), St. Saviour's College, Stansted-road, Forest-hill, at 7.30; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.

Metropolitan Mark Lodge of Instruction, Coach and Horses Hotel, 323, Strand, at 8.

Tuesday, November 10.

Lodge 46, Old Union, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

" 166, Union, London Tavern, Bishopsgate-street.

" 180, St. James's Union, Freemasons' Hall.

" 198, Percy, Ship and Turtle Tavern, Leadenhall-street.

" 211, St. Michael's, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.

" 228, United Strength, Old Jerusalem Tavern, St. John's-gate, Clerkenwell.

" 235, Nine Muses, Queen's Hotel, Cork-street, Bond-street.

" 548, Wellington, White Swan Tavern, Deptford.

" 917, Cosmopolitan, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

" 933, Doric, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.

Mark Lodge, 22, Southwark, Bridge House Hotel, Southwark.

Yarborough Lodge of Instruction (554), Green Dragon Steppney, at 8; Bro. Barnes, P.M., Preceptor.

Domestic Lodge of Instruction, Palmerston Tavern, Grosvenor-park, Camberwell, at 8; Bro. Larham, Preceptor.

Faith Lodge of Instruction (141), Refreshment Rooms, Victoria-st., (opposite Westminster Palace Hotel), at 8; Bro. C. A. Cottebrune, Preceptor.

Prince Fredk. William Lodge of Instruction (753), Lord's Hotel, Lord's Cricket Ground, St. John's-wood, at 8; Bro. F. G. Baker, Preceptor.

Dalhouse Lodge of Instruction (860), King Edward, Triangle, Hackney, at 7.30; Bro. Crawley, Preceptor.

Prosperity Lodge of Instruction (65), Gladstone Tavern, Bishopsgate-st., Within, at 7.30; Bro. Bolton, W.M. 1217, Preceptor.

St. Marylebone Lodge of Instruction (1305), British Stores Tavern, New-street, St. John's Wood, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Constitutional Lodge of Instruction (55), Wheatsheaf Hotel, Hand-court, Holborn, at 7; Bro. J. R. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.

Percy Lodge of Instruction, Grapes Tavern, Little Windmill-street, W.

Pythagorean Lodge of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich, at 8; Bro. J. Robt. Nash, Preceptor.

Israel Lodge of Instruction, Rising Sun Tavern, Globe-road, at 7.30.

Metropolitan Chapter of Improvement (975), Jamaica Coffee House, St. Michael's Alley, Cornhill, at 6.30; Comp. Jas. Brett, Preceptor.

Wednesday, November 11.

General Committee Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution at 3.

Lodge 3, Fidelity, Freemasons' Hall.

" 11, Enoch, Freemasons' Hall.

" 13, Union Waterloo, Masonic Hall, William-st., Woolwich.

" 87, Vitruvian, White Hart, College-street, Lambeth.

" 147, Justice, White Swan, High-street, Deptford.

" 238, Pilgrim, Ship and Turtle Tavern, Leadenhall-street.

" 749, Belgrave, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 781, Merchant Navy, Silver Tavern, Burdett-road, Limehouse.

" 823, Liberty L. of Richmond, Greyhound, Richmond, Surrey.

" 1017, Montefiore, Freemasons' Hall.

" 1306, St. John of Wapping, Gun Hotel, High-st., Wapping.

Chap. 1260, Hervey, Freemasons' Hall.

New Concord Lodge of Instruction, Rosemary Branch Tavern, Hoxton, at 8.

Royal Union Lodge of Instruction, Horse and Groom Tavern, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Confidence Lodge of Instruction, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch-lane, at 7.30.

Peckham Lodge of Instruction, Maismore Arms, Park-road, Peckham, at 8; Bro. David Rose, Preceptor.

Temperance in the East Lodge of Instruction, George the Fourth, Catherine-street, Poplar.

Stanhope Lodge of Instruction, Thicket Hotel, Anerley, at 7.30 p.m.; Bro. H. W. Lindus, Preceptor.

Finsbury Park Lodge of Instruction (1288), Finsbury Park Tavern, Seven Sisters'-road, N., at 8. Bro. P. Dickinson, Acting Preceptor.

United Strength Lodge of Instruction (228), the Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales'-road, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.

Southwark Lodge of Instruction, (879), Southwark Park Tavern, Southwark Park, at 8; Bro. Charles William Kent, Preceptor.

Dalston Lodge of Instruction (975), Havelock Tavern, Albion-road, Dalston, at 8.

Thursday, November 12.

Lodge 19, Royal Athelstan, City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

Lodge 91, Regularity, Freemasons' Hall.

" 206, Friendship, Ship and Turtle Tavern, Leadenhall-street.

" 263, Bank of England, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.

" 534, Polish National, Freemasons' Hall.

" 657, Canonbury, Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street.

" 860, Dalhouse, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 879, Southwark, Southwark-park Tavern, Southwark-park.

" 1076, Capper, Marine Hotel, Victoria Docks, West Ham.

" 1288, Finsbury-park, Finsbury-park Tavern, Seven Sisters'-road, Holloway.

" 1321, Emblematic, Tulse-hill Hotel, Tulse-hill, Chap. 73, Mount Lebanon, Bridge House Hotel, London-bridge.

" 140, St. George's, Globe Tavern, Royal Hill, Greenwich.

" 538, Vane, Freemasons' Hall.

" 554, Yarborough, Green Dragon, Steppney.

K. T. Preceptory, 45, Temple Crossing, Bridge House Hotel, London-bridge.

" 117, New Temple, The Inner Temple.

Fidelity Lodge of Instruction (3), Yorkshire Grey, London-st., Tottenham Court-road, at 8; Bro. T. A. Adams, Preceptor.

Finsbury Lodge of Instruction, Jolly Anglers' Tavern, Bath-street, City-road; Bro. Stcan, Preceptor.

United Mariners' Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes, Mile-end-road, at 8; Bro. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.

Whittington Lodge of Instruction (862), Crown Tavern, Holborn, at 8; Bro. Lewis Alexander, P.M. 188, Preceptor.

Doric Chapter of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8; Comp. T. J. Barnes, Preceptor.

Ebury Lodge of Instruction, Bro. Palmer's, 12, Ponsonby-st., Millbank.

Highgate Lodge of Instruction (1366), Bull and Gate, Kentish-town, at 8; Bro. J. N. Frost, Preceptor.

The Great City Lodge of Instruction (1426), 111, Cheap-side, at 6.30.

High Cross Lodge of Instruction (754), Coach & Horses High-road, Tottenham.

Friday, November 13.

Lodge 33, Britannic, Freemasons' Hall.

" 134, Caledonian, Ship and Turtle, Leadenhall-street.

" 157, Bedford, Freemasons' Hall.

" 177, Domestic, Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street.

" 1420, Earl Spencer, Northcote Hotel, New Wandsworth.

Rose Croix Chap. Mount Calvary, 33, Golden-square.

St. George's Lodge of Instruction (140), Globe Tavern, Royal-hill, Greenwich.

Robert Burns Lodge of Instruction, Union Tavern, Air-st., Regent-st., at 8.

Belgrave Lodge of Instruction, (749), Lyceum Tavern, 354, Strand, at 8; Bro. Pulford, Preceptor.

Panmure Lodge of Instruction (720), Balham Hotel, Balham, at 7.30.

Unions Emulation Lodge of Improvement for M.M.'s, Freemasons' Hall, a 7.

Temperance Lodge of Instruction, Victoria Tavern, Victoria-road, Deptford, at 8.

Clapton Lodge of Instruction (1365), White Hart, Clapton, at 7.30; Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., &c., Preceptor.

Royal Standard Lodge of Instruction (1294), the Castle Tavern, Holloway, at 8; Bro. W. F. Rogers, Preceptor.

Pythagorean Chapter of Instruction (79), Prince of Orange, Greenwich-road, at 8; Comp. W. West Smith, Preceptor.

Metropolitan Lodge of Instruction, Portugal Hotel, Fleet-street, at 7; Bro. Stacey, P.M. 180, Preceptor.

Westbourne Lodge of Instruction (733), Horse and Groom, Winsley-street, Oxford-street, at 8.

United Pilgrims Lodge of Instruction, Antelope Tavern, Lorne-road, Brixton, at 7.

St. James's Lodge of Instruction, New Tanners' Arms, Grange-road, Bermondsey, at 8; Bro. Howes, P.M., Preceptor.

Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction, Silver Lion, Penny-fields, Poplar, at 7; Bro. D. S. Potts, Preceptor.

Doric Lodge of Instruction, Three Cranes Tavern, Mile-end-road, at 8.

Burgoyne Lodge of Instruction, Grafton Arms, Prince of Wales'-road, N.W., at 8; Bro. P. M. Wuest, Preceptor.

St. Luke's Lodge of Instruction (144), Rose Tavern, Fulham-road, S.W.

Chigwell Lodge of Instruction, Bald-faced Stag Hotel, Buckhurst-hill, at 8.

Burdett Courts Lodge of Instruction (1278), Approach Tavern, Approach-road, Victoria-park, at 8; Bro. Geo. W. Verry, Preceptor.

Stability Lodge of Instruction (217), Guildhall Tavern, Gresham-street; Bro. H. Muggeridge, P.M., Preceptor.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN WEST LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE.

For the Week ending Saturday, November 14, 1874.

Monday, November 9.

Lodge 314: Peace and Unity, Militia Mess Rooms, Preston.

" 477, Mersey, 55, Argyle-street, Birkenhead, at 6.

" 721, Independence, Masonic Rooms, Eastgate-row, North Chester, at 5.

" 1021, Hartington, Masonic Hall, Barrow-in-Furness.

" 1398, Baldwin Castle, Dalton-in-Furness.

Chap. 148, Elias Ashmole, Chapter Rooms, Warrington, at 6.30.

Tuesday, November 10.
Lodge 241, Merchants', Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 5.
" 1250, Gilbert Greenall, Masonic Rooms, Warrington.
Chap. 537, Zion, 9, Hamilton-square, Birkenhead.
Wednesday, November 11.
Lodge 281, Fortitude, Athenaeum, Lancaster.
" 1052, Callender, Public Hall, Rusholme.
" 1094, Temple, Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.
" 1356, De Grey and Ripon, North Hill-street, Toxteth-park, Liverpool, at 6.
St. John's Lodge of Instruction (673), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 8.
Neptune's Lodge of Instruction (1264), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 7.
Thursday, November 12.
Lodge 216, Harmonic, Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool, at 5.
" 333, Royal Preston, Victoria Garrison Hotel, Fulwood, near Preston.
" 786, Croxteth United Service, Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.
" 1035, Prince of Wales, Masonic Hall, Kirkdale, at 6.
" 1213, Bridgewater, Cross Keys Hotel, Patricroft, near Manchester.
Chap. 220, Harmony, Garston Hotel, Garston, near Liverpool, at 5.
Mariners' Lodge of Instruction (249), Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 8.
Duke of Edinburgh Lodge of Instruction (1182), 150, Park-lane, Liverpool, at 7.
Friday, November 13.
Lodge 1289, Rock, Rock Ferry Hotel, Rock Ferry, at 7.
Chap. 249, Mariners', Masonic Hall, Liverpool, at 6.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN GLASGOW AND VICINITY.

For the week ending Saturday, November 14, 1874.
All the Meetings take place at 8 o'clock.

Monday, November 9.
Lodge 102, St. Mark, St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan-street.
" 205, St. Winnoch, Eagle Inn, Lochwinnoch.
" 219, Star, 12, Trongate.
" 307, Union and Crown, Freemasons' Hall, Barrhead.
" 362, St. Clair, 25, Robinson-street.
" 503, St. George, Odd Fellows' Hall, Helensburgh.
Tuesday, November 10.
Lodge 413, Athole, 213, Buchanan-st.
" 419, Neptune, 35, St. James-st., Kingston.
" 426, Prince of Wales, Freemasons' Hall, Renfrew.
" 441, Glasgow, 22, Struthers-street.
Chap. 69, St. Andrew, 170, Buchanan-street.
Wednesday, November 11.
Lodge 178, Scotia, 170, Buchanan-st.
" 333, St. George, 213, Buchanan-st.
" 510, Maryhill, 167, Main-street, Maryhill.
Chap. 113, Partick, St. Mary's Hall, Partick.
Thursday, November 12.
Lodge 88, New Monkland, Montrose, Town Hall, Airdrie.
Chap. 50, Glasgow, 213, Buchanan-street.
Friday, November 13.
Lodge 18, Dumbarton Kilwinning, Mission Hall, Dumbarton.
" 170, Leven St. John's, Black Bull Inn, Renton.
" 179, St. Mungo, London Hotel, Mauchline.
" 427, St. Clair, Masonic Hall, Cambusnethan. ||
Chap. 144, St. Rollox, Freemasons' Hall, Garngad-road, Saturday, November 14.
Lodge 31, St. Mary Coltness, Scott's Hall, Wishaw.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN EDINBURGH AND VICINITY.

For the Week ending Saturday, November 14th, 1874.
Monday, November 9.
Lodge 145, St. Stephen, Masonic Hall, Writer's-court, High-street, at 8.
" 349, St. Clair, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.
Chap. 152, Perseverance, 86, Constitution-street, Leith, at 8.
Tuesday, November 10.
Lodge 1, Edinburgh Mary's Chapel, Waterloo Hotel, Waterloo-place, at 8.
" 151, Edinburgh Defensive Band, Lodge-room, 4, Nicholson-sq., at 8.
Wednesday, November 11.
Lodge 2, Cannongate Kilwinning, St. John's Chapel, St. John's-street, at 8.
Chap. 1, Edinburgh, Freemasons' Hall, George-street, at 8.
Thursday, November 12.
Lodge 8, Journeymen, Masonic Hall, Blackfriars-st., at 8.
" 272, St. John's, Torphichen Arms Hotel, Mid Calder, at 7.30.
Friday, November 13.
Lodge 548, St. Margaret's Burgh, School-room, Queensferry, at 8.
Chap. 56, Cannongate Kilwinning, St. John's Chapel, St. John's-street, at 8.

MASONIC MEETINGS IN DUBLIN.

For the week ending Friday, November 13.

Saturday, November 7.
Lodge 238, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.
K. T. Preceptory, 25, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, at 4.
Prince Masons Chap. 4, Funnell, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.

Monday, November 9.
Lodge 100, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Chap. 2, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Tuesday, November 10.
Lodge 245, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.
Chap. 100, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Wednesday, November 11.
Lodge 143, Shakspeare, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 5.
" 120 Hiram, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 7.30.
Chap. 250, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
K. T. Preceptory, 620, First Volunteer, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 5.
Thursday, November 12.
Grand Lodge of Instruction, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Knights K. H. 307, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 5.
Friday, November 13.
Grand Master's Lodge, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 4.30.
Lodge 53, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
Chap. 4, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.
K. T. Preceptory, 93, Dublin, Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, at 8.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

Degree of Most Excellent, Royal, Select, and Super-Excellent Master.

Meetings, under the Authority of the GRAND COUNCIL OF ENGLAND AND WALES, to confer the above Degrees, will be held at the new Lodge Rooms, 2, Red Lion-square, Holborn, on the second and fourth Wednesday in every month. Fee £2 2s.

Ten days' notice of attendance must be sent to the undersigned, from whom all particulars may be obtained.

Candidates must be qualified as Royal Arch and Mark Master Masons.

FREDERICK BINCKES,
Grand Recorder.

Office,—2, Red Lion-square, W.C.
June 8, 1874.

Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland.

Now ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/, also a pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.

THE LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK MASTER MASONS' LODGES.

Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be had from R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or George Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

FOR SALE—A set of handsome Oak CAN-DLESTICKS, Fluted Columns, and Gilt Capitals, of the three Orders, standing five feet high. Price £12 12s. At Kenning's Masonic Depots, 175, Aldersgate-street, and 1, 2, and 3, Little Britain, E.C.

GENERAL POST OFFICE (Within a few yards of).—To let an entire house, having a frontage of about 19ft., and comprising ground floor fitted with plate glass front, basement, and three upper floors, with or without an extensive range of four-storey brick-built premises and large yard, enclosed by double entrance gates; the whole covering an area of about 5,500ft. Plans and particulars at Messrs. Debenham, Tveson and Farmer, 80, Cheapside.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to ship-owners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tulda. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

LOST, on THURSDAY, the 29th of OCTOBER, in the rooms of the Prov. Grand Mark Lodge at Lincoln, a new Prov. Mark Apron. Any one having found the same will oblige by sending it to J. D. Sugden, Leather Merchant, Bradford.

THE NEW
MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE
WORSHIPFUL MASTER,
SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND
CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,
10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.

Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

BRO. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depots,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

Richard Rayner & Co.,
MANUFACTURING

CABINET MAKER AND UPHOLSTERER,

142, ALDERSGATE STREET,

LONDON, E.C.

WINDOW BLINDS.
JANES & SON.

WIRE, VENETIAN, OUTSIDES, &c.

Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street, City.

Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly.

No Other House.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly exceeds all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.

"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair to its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.

"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,

And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.

Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.

Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-street, London.

FOR FISH.

Try GOW

FOR POULTRY.

Try GOW.

FOR GAME.

Try GOW.

FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.

Try GOW.

J. GOW.

1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.

Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c.

Country Orders promptly executed.

ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, Electroplate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger,
43, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.

OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REALLY

Good Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any person to select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other house in the Trade," but quite as cheap as any.

Ed. A visit will, at all times, be most much appreciated.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDERS (in consequence of the Lodge removing) the FURNITURE belonging to a Freemason's Lodge, together with the Furniture. For particulars apply by letter, addressed to

M. Curless, 43, Crown-street, or to Bro. S. Johnson, 41, Dale-street, Liverpool.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT:
May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
Laid by in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,024 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,

9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, agency duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury,

Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.

LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.

Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.

London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.

General Accidents. Personal Injuries.

Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.

C. HARDING, Manager.

MONY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent, repayable over one, four, or five years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.—

The Best Remedy for ACIDITY of the STOMACH, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, GOUT, AND INDIGESTION, the best mild aperient for delicate constitutions, especially adapted for LADIES, CHILDREN, and INFANTS.

DINNEFORD & CO.

74, New Bond Street, London, and of all Chemists.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.— All sizes

at 75, Edgware-road, W.
Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voice celeste, £11 10s.; stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,
Harmonium Manufacturers,
75, Edgware-road, London,
FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

Freemasons' Arms..... 15ft. by 12ft.
Knights Templar Arms..... 15ft. by 12ft.
Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms 15ft. by 12ft.
Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre 12ft. by 9ft.
City of London Arms..... 10ft. by 7ft.
Union Jack..... 10ft. by 6ft.
Duke of Edinburgh..... 9ft. by 4ft.
Russian 9ft. by 4ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,

LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d.
Entrance Fee 3 3 0
Annual Subscription 3 3 0
Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) 1 1 0
The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND,
P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P., J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.

THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."

Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.

Beware of Imitations to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS,

on all bottles and labels.

Agents—CROSE & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
(Established upwards of 35 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,

8, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.

(No connection with any other establishment of the same name.) Only at the above addresses. Every funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.

Bros. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,

Complete Funeral Furnishers,

232 HIGH HOLBORN,

Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields. Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. AYTON,

Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,

ESTABLISHED 1821,

79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,

AND

139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.

Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,

(LATE WITH PATERNAL & CO.)

106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.

Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles. Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.

Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.

Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.

Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW AEGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES:
Thirty Sizes ... 4/0 per lb.

GAUZE LACES:

Per gross.		Per gross.
1 in. ...	4/0	1 in. ...	10/0
1 in. ...	8/0	1 1/2 in. ...	36/0
1 1/2 in. ...	12/0	2 in. ...	48/

PRUSSIAN LACES:
1/2 in. ... 18/6 per gross.
1 in. ... 30/0
1 1/2 in. ... 40/0

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:

Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yd
1/2 in. ...	3/0	1 1/2 in. ...	12/0
1 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:

Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yds.
1/2 in. ...	3/0	2 1/2 in. ...	12/0
1 in. ...	6/0	2 in. ...	15/0
1 in. ...	9/0	3 in. ...	18/0

FRINGES:

	Plate or Water	Twisted	Bolton.
1 in.	0/4	0/8	1/6	per yard.
1 1/2 in.	0/6	1/0	2/0	"
2 in.	0/8	1/4	3/6	"
3 in.	0/10	2/0	6/0	"
4 in.	1/0	2/8	8/0	"
5 in.	1/3	...	12/6	"
6 in.	1/6	...	14/6	"
7 in.	1/9	...	17/6	"
8 in.	2/0	...	21/0	"
9 in.	2/3	"
10 in.	2/6	"
18 in.	3/0	"

RUSSIA BRAIDS:

No. 1	...	5/3	per gross
2	...	6/9	"
3	...	8/0	"
4	...	10/6	"
5	...	13/9	"

FRENCH BRAIDS:

No. 1,	8/6	per gross	No. 4,	26/0	per gross.
2,	12/0	"		5,	40/0
3,	16/0	"		6,	72/0

TISSUE:
22 inches wide ... 2/6 per yard.

GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH:
22 inches wide ... 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:

Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
" " 2nd " 6/0
Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 27/0 per doz.
Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz. double 2/6 "

Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0
Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 per dozen.
Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard, in colours, 5/9 per yard.
Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY
GEORGE KENNING,
175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane Glasgow.

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.) A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS, By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.

In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REEVES SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S NEW TRACING BOARDS Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR. Artist and Photographer.

11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW. Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH, LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH, PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is SPECIALLY adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

113, REGENT-STREET, W.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

SUBERIUM. Inodoros, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c. Retail through all Furnishing Houses. Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS, 335C, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.

Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: From 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 2s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, 1s. 5s.; second class, 1s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hausenham, Jermyn-street.

THE BIRKBECK

Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION! How to purchase a House for Two Guinea per Month, With immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to purchase a Plot of Land for Freehold for 10 Months, With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to invest Money with safety at 4 1/2 per cent interest. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK. All sums under £50 repaid upon demand. Current accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Fourth Edition, 5s. "A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age. London Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

THE FREEMASON OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Lodges of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $3 per annum, and for those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 108, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR'ACTE, A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW,

Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and goes into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

THE FREEMASON Supplied by

T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C. South London Branch, 416, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station. Wholesale Publisher to the Trade

SWANSEA. Agent for "The Freemason."

BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

SARSAPARILLA. WILKINSON'S ESSENCE, OR FLUID

EXTRACT OF RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, prescribed by the Faculty for Purifying the Blood, Deauring, Liver COMPLAINTS, and freeing the system from effects of Mercury. Exclusively used in India and the Colonies as a prevention to Tropical diseases. "Superior preparations that may always be relied upon."—Sir Astley Cooper. "We are in every respect satisfied with it."—Lancet. "We recommend yours as the best."—Medical Review. In Quarter, Half, and Pint Bottles. CAUTION.—Spurious and injurious preparations are offered to the public. See that Bottle and Label have the name and Address, "T. Wilkinson, late Wilkinson, Bridge, and Co., No. 270, Regent-street, London."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC DINNER PILLS.

No Pill is so efficacious in promoting digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from a Costive Habit, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of diet, and those of the most delicate constitution can take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla with the greatest success.

QUINTESENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER and CAMOMILE.

WILKINSON'S Preparation of Ginger and Camomile has long been deservedly known as an excellent domestic medicine. It is a most efficient Stomachic Tonic, and the best remedy for Flatulency and disorders arising from impaired digestion, and is not affected by climate. No European in India or tropical climates should be without it. In one-eighth, quarter, and half-pint bottles.

YOUNG'S ASSOCIATED CORN AND JUNIOR PLASTER is the best ever invented for giving immediate relief and removing those painful excrescences. Price 1d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT. WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS

Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hip, being sent to the MANUFACTURER, Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London. Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free. " of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. " of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly. NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.

The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

CHEST EXPANDING BRACES, (For both sexes).

For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces. For children they are invaluable, they prevent stooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest. Prices, for children, 5s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s. 6d., 15s. 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free. And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.

JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind used in Her Majesty's Laundry.

Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

GEORGE REES MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London. GEORGE REES' GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade. GEORGE REES' 100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot. GEORGE REES' First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each. GEORGE REES' CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices. 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre

CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR.

Opiates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at a expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy. SELECT TESTIMONIAL. Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease. This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough. "Invaluable should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK—"BLOOD MIXTURE." THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended. For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure. It Cures old Sores. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Legs. Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face. Cures Scoury Sores. Cures Cancerous Ulcers. Cures Blood and Skin Diseases. Cures Glandular Swellings. Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising. As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of Testimonials from all parts. Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 2/6 or 1/3 stamps by F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln. Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPECULLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision.

By Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horne and Thornhill, Opticalians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. Send six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.

Try Anthony Seard's new material! Peculiarly Prepared for Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, becomes softer and finer in wear, a perfect and durable heavy and superlative specialite. 8, Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies order skilfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

Just published, Free Edition. GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Insomnia, and all the Diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from over-excitation of the Brain, by DR. HENRY GARDNER. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Cure of the Diseases of the Human Body, how to prevent them, and how to cure them. Secures Long Life, and Avoids the Diseases of Old Age, and is framed with Testimonials, and contains a very ample and full account of the symptoms of the various Diseases of the Nervous System, and the means of their cure. Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 4, Bedford-square, London.

“THE FREEMASON.”

A Weekly Newspaper, Price 2d., Published every Saturday. Containing all the most Important Information of the week relating to Freemasonry in every degree.

“THE MASONIC MAGAZINE.”

Published First of the Month, Price 6d. A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its branches.

“THE COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK.”

Published Annually, Price 2s. It contains Lists of Lodges, Chapters, Preceptories, Conclaves, &c., with the Names of Officers in the United Kingdom and all parts of the World.

They may be obtained or Ordered at Railway Bookstalls and of Newsvendors generally.

AGENTS.

ABERDEEN...	... LINDSAY, 30, Market-st.	LONDON (City) JAS. GILBERT, 18, Grace church-st.
ABERGAVENNY	... RUSSELL, 19, Broad-st. C. PHILLPOTT, 65, King William-st.
ANDOVER THOMAS & EDMUNDS. R. POTTLE, 14, Royal Exchange.
BERLIN J. BURGESS BROWNE, High-st. HENRY BORN, 115, London-wall.
BERWICK ASHER & Co., 53, Mohrenstrasse. CATTY & DOBSON, 1, Ivy Lane, E.C.
BIRMINGHAM	... R. LAMBERT.	... (West) GEO. VICKERS, Angel Court, Strand.
BRADFORD	... J. WILLEY, Union-passage. D. PURKISS, 60, Dean-st., Soho.
BRIGHTON	... MORGAN, Kirkgate. — LASQUE, 21, Great Queen-st.
BRISTOL	... J. BEAL, 55, East-st. H. BLACK, 47, Great Queen-st.
CAPE OF GOOD HOPE	... E. B. PENNY, 16, Clare-st. NASH & TEUTON, Saville-place.
CARDIFF	... C. B. HUTCHINS, Fort Beaufort, E.P. WM. UTTING, 2, Palsgrave-pl., Strand.
... LEWIS & WILLIAMS, Duke-st.	... (Bermondsey)	... HALL, 87, New Road.
... T. HAYNES, 6, James-st. JARVIS, 9, Artillery Lane.
... J. C. MASON, 58, Castle-st.	... (Brixton)	... FISHER, 56, Vassall-road.
... T. O. ANDREWS, Colonnade.	... (Camberwell)	... MORRIS, 19, The Green.
... MINSHALL & HUGHES, Eastgate-row.	... (Chelsea) JNO. CATTERMOLLE, 48, Cale-st
... A. E. COCKAYNE, Bookseller.	... (Clapham)	... JAMES EDMONDS, 132, High-st.
... JOHN GALLOP.	... (Euston Road)	... PARKINSON, 39, Ossulton Street.
... CLUTON & SON, Victoria-st.	... (Greenwich)	... POOK, Church-st.
... DOWN, Freemasons' Hall, Molesworth-st.	... (Hornsey) SWAIN, Railway Approach.
... CHALMERS & WINTER, Castle-st.	... (K. nnington)	... KING, 62, Kennington-park-rd.
... MENZIES & Co., 12, Hanover-st.	... (Kingsland)	... PERSCHKY, 33, Kingsland Road.
... R. S. BROWN, 67, Hanover-st.	... (Lambeth, South.)	... TRIBE, 1, Wilcox-rd.
... ROBINSON, Greenside-st.	... (New Cross)	... FREEMAN, 531, New Cross-rd.
... W. GREGORY, 3, High-st. JOANES BROS., 337, New Cross-rd.
... E. FITZ, 28, High-street. WM. KIPPS, 361, New Cross-rd.
... GEORGE KENNING, 145, Argyle-st.,	... (Paddington)	... E. JUDD, 147, Church-st.
... 2, St. Enoch's-lane.	... (Richmond)	... TURRALL, 17, New Road.
... LAING, St. Enoch-square.	... (St. John's Wood)	... WILSON, 13, High Street.
... THOMPSON, St. Enoch-square.	... (Shoreditch)	... ROBERTS, 195, High Street.
... URQUHART, 189, London-road.	... (Sydenham)	... J. CLARKE, Cambridge House.
... WILKIE, 29, Stevenson-street.	MANCHESTER JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate.
... LOVE, 226, Argyle-street. ABEL HEYWOOD, Oldham-st.
... GEO. WILSON, 50 & 52, Oswald-street. BERESFORD, 36, Corporation-st.
... THOMAS, Eastgate-st.	MARGATE W. C. BRASIER, 37, High-st.
... E. BAYNES, 65, High-st., & Princes-st	MARYPORT J. GARDINER, Crosby-st.
... F. CLARKE, Market-pl.	NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE	... W. E. FRANKLIN, 42, Mosley-st.
... WILLIAM COOK, 3, Bull-green.	NEWCASTLE (Staffordshire)	... D. DILWORTH.
... BOTHAM & JACKSON, Church-st	NEWTON ABBOTT	... HEARDER & SON.
... SIMSON & GROOMBRIDGE.	NORTHALLERTON	... J. E. H. REED.
... HEYWOOD BOOKSELLING COMPANY,	NORTHAMPTON	... STANTON & SON.
... OWEN R. ELLIS. RUSHTON, Gold-st.
... PECK & SON, 10, Market-place.	OXFORD SPIERS & SON, 102 & 103, High-st.
... S. NATHAN, Market-st.	PORTSEA EMANUEL, High-st.
... ORR & Co., Coleraine.	PORTSMOUTH N. TRIVESS, 174, Commercial-road
... J. H. SMITH, 96, High-street, Cowes	PRESTON HARKNESS, Church-street.
... GEO. WARDLEY, St. Helier's.	PUTNEY H. A. ROBINSON, 57, High-street.
... EDMONDSON, Market-st.	ROTHERHAM HINGCLIFFE, High-st.
... INCHEOLD, 33, Bond-st.	SHEFFIELD E. WESTON, 6, Change-alley.
... A. MEGSON, 75, Briggate.	SOUTHAMPTON	... ADAMS, 49, Oxford-street.
... J. MOSLEY. JOHN RAYNER, 25, Above-bar.
... C. OLDERSHAW, JUN., 402, Granby-st. J. F. RAYNER, 180, High-street.
... MARDON'S LIBRARY, High-street. "SOUTHAMPTON OBSERVER" Office.
... GEORGE KENNING, 2, Monument-pl. G. B. SCHOLES, 23, London-st.
... G. G. WALMSLEY, 50, Lord-st.	SOUTHPORT J. H. THOMAS, Liverpool-rd.
... ENNIS, Netherfield Road.	STOKE-ON-TRENT	... TWEDDELL AND SONS, Printers.
... DAVIES, Exchange.	STOKESLEY B. WILLIAMS, 129, High-st.
... WINTERBOTTOM, Exchange.	SUNDERLAND CHARLES MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st.
... MRS. LEA, Woodside Ferry.	SWANSEA WILLIAM LAKE.
... EDWARDS, Duke Street.	TRURO R. LAMBERT.
... METCALF, Lime Street.	TWEEDMOUTH J. LEWIS, Abercrombie-st., Trinidad.
... WOODLEY.	WEST INDIES GEORGE ROE, St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica
... ACE & SON. JOSEPH FRANCIS, Kingston, Jamaica,
... GEO. KENNING, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain PAGEN & GILL.
... W. H. GUEST, 54, Paternoster-row.	WHITEHAVEN COX, High-street.
... G. BATES, 14, Broadway, Ludgate-hill.	WHITSTABLE T. WALL, "Observer" Office.
... WILLIAM ABBOT, 46, Eastcheap.	WIGAN T. McMECHIN.
... ..		WIGTON ...

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
 DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,
 IS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,
 CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Single Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to
 GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

NOVEMBER NUMBER, now ready. Price Sixpence.

THE MASONIC MAGAZINE,
A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS:

BRO. W. VINER BEDOLFE, M.D.
 BRO. W. BURROUGHS, A.M., Calcutta:
 BRO. J. G. FINDEL.
 BRO. C. G. FORSYTH
 BRO. EMRA HOLMES, 31°
 BRO. HUBERT.

BRO. WM. JAMES HUGHAN, P.M., P.S.G.D.
 BRO. ROBERT WENTWORTH LITTLE, 30°
 BRO. D. MURRAY LYON, P.M., P.Z.
 BRO. KENNETH R. H. MACKENZIE, F.S.A.
 BRO. J. DANIEL MOORE, M.D., F.L.S.
 BRO. JACOB NORTON.
 BRO. J. C. PARKINSON, P.M., P.Z., G.D.

BRO. CHALMERS I. PATON, P.M.
 BRO. GEORGE MARKHAM TWEDELL.
 BRO. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, M.A., P.G.C.
 BRO. DR. WOODMAN, P.M., P.Z.
 BRO. JOSEPH H. WOODWORTH.
 BRO. T. B. YEOMAN.

CONTENTS:

Monthly Masonic Summary
Our Masonic Manuscripts.
A Romance of the American War.
Charles Dickens—A Lecture.
Patty's Confidences.
Records of the Past.
Account of an Apparition seen at Star Cross, in Devon-
shire.
What is the Good of Freemasonry?

Our Archæological Corner.
Oration, by M.W. Grand Master Van Slyck.
The Present Influence and Future Mission of Freemasonry.
Poetry.
Nous avons Change Cela!
P.P.C.
Shadows.
How may I know you to be a Mason
On the Stairway, 11, p.m.

The Masonic Magazine will be forwarded from the Office of Publication, throughout the United Kingdom, on the following terms—

	s.	d.
Twelve months	7	0
Six "	3	6
One Copy	0	7

For Foreign parts, postage on 4 oz. Magazine must be added.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, E.C.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother GEORGE KENNING, at his Office, 198, Fleet-street, and 2, 3, and 4, Little Britain; in the City of London; 2, Monmouth-street, in the County of Lancaster; and 145, Argyle-street, and 2, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.—SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1874.

CONSTITUTION OF THE PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK LODGE OF SUSSEX.

The Earl of Limerick, M.W., Deputy Grand Mark Mason, acting as R.W. Grand Master in the unavoidable absence of the Earl Percy, on Friday last, presided over a Moveable Grand Lodge, having on his right Colonel Burdett, M.W. Provincial Grand Mark Master of Middlesex and Surrey, as V.W. Deputy Grand Master, and on his left the M.W. Bro. G. Raymond Portal, M.A., R.W. Past Grand Mark Master, Col. A. W. Adair, Past Grand Senior Mark Warden, as S.G.W., and Bro. J. Gilbert Smallpiece (Guildford), G.T.W., as Grand Junior Warden, Bro. J. Binckes, Grand Secretary, Bro. C. Wadhams Wyndham (Wimborne, Dorset), Grand D. of Ceremonies, Bro. Rev. W. Mortimer Heath (Lychett Rectors, Poole), Grand Chaplain, Bro. E. Dubose (London), Grand S.B., as Grand Sword Bearer, Bro. Thos. Cubitt (London), P.A. Grand D. of C., as Grand Deacon; Bro. S. R. Ade, Grand Standard Bearer. The Moveable Grand Lodge was opened in form, and the Earl of Limerick explained the nature of the meeting in a neat and effective speech, which contained a considerable amount of information respecting the origin, progress, present position and future prospects of the degree in this country, and its connection with several foreign Grand Districts. His Lordship also dilated upon the necessity of union among all the Mark Lodges, and the advantages to be derived from the formation of a Provincial Lodge. The only business before the Moveable Grand Lodge, except the constitution of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Sussex and installation of the R.W.P.G.M. Grand Mark Mason, was the nomination of a brother for election at the half-yearly communication of Grand Mark Lodge in December next, as Grand Treasurer, in the room of Bro. R. Stebbing, of Southampton, whose death, which took place a few months ago, caused a vacancy in the office of Grand Treasurer. Bro. J. Sabine then nominated Bro. F. Davison, Deputy Grand Mark Master of Middlesex and Surrey, as a candidate for election to that office, and took occasion to point out the special qualifications of Bro. Davison, who, as a good and steady worker in Freemasonry for many years, especially in the Mark Degree, had won the esteem and respect of all who knew him. The business of the constitution of the Mark Province of Sussex was then proceeded with; the petition for the formation was then produced and read. It was quite a work of art, being emblazoned with the arms of Sussex, Brighton, Hastings at each corner; a keystone with names and numbers of the lodges now open in Sussex, viz., Royal Sussex Lodge, No. 75, Brighton; Southdown Lodge, No. 164, Haywards Heath; East Sussex Lodge, No. 166; Hastings and the Keystone Lodge, No. 168, Brighton. The petition was signed by nearly thirty subscribing and honorary members of the Province mentioned. The Patent of appointment of Bro. Sir John Cordy Burrows was then read, upon which he announced that he desired to appoint an old and very able Mason as his Deputy, naming Bro. J. M. Cunningham, who was duly elected as Deputy G.M.M.M.

The R.W.P.G. Master then invested his Deputies for the ensuing year, as follows:—

V.W. Bro. Dr. Trollope (St. Leonards), No. 166 Mark Lodge.

V.W. Bro. W. Hudson (Haywards Heath), No. 75, and 164 Mark Lodge, P.G. Mark A.D.

M.O. Bro. John Robinson (Brighton), P.M. Mark Lodge.

M.O. Bro. Thomas Cook (Brighton), P.M. Mark Lodge.

M.O. Bro. J. Pearson (Brighton), P.M. 164 Mark Lodge.

Treasurer Bro. Braithwaite (Keymer), S.D. Mark Lodge.

Secretary Bro. Thomas J. Sabine (Brighton), No. 75 Mark Lodge, Treasurer 168. P.A.G. D. of C.

- G. Assistant Sec. Bro. S. R. Ade (Brighton), S.W. 164 Mark Lodge.
- G. Registrar of Marks Bro. W. Kirkland (Eastbourne), S.W. 166 Mark Lodge.
- G.S.D. Bro. W. R. Wood (Brighton), S.W. No. 168 Mark Lodge.
- G.J.D. Bro. J. N. Stoner (Brighton), J.W. 168 Mark Lodge.
- G.D. of C. Bro. C. J. Smith (Cliftonville), Sec. 168 Mark Lodge.
- G. Assistant D. of C. Bro. C. W. Duke (Hastings), J.W. 166 Mark Lodge.
- G.S. of W. Bro. G. R. Lockyer (Brighton), P.M. 75 Mark Lodge.
- S.S.B. Bro. G. Smith (Brighton), J.W. 75 and 164 Mark Lodge.
- G. Standard Bearer Bro. G. Emery (Brighton), Treas. 75 Mark Lodge.
- G. Organist Bro. A. Croucher (St. Leonards), No. 166 Mark Lodge.
- G.I.G. Bro. G. Moren (Heathfield), M.O. 166 Mark Lodge.
- G. Stewards Bro. J. Donan (Hastings), Sec. 166 Mark Lodge.
- Bro. W. J. Kemp (Cliftonville), M.O. 164 Mark Lodge.
- Bro. J. R. Hawkins (Preston), No. 168 Mark Lodge.
- G. Tyler Bro. Thomas Hughes.

As each officer was conducted by the acting Grand Director of Ceremonies to the R.W.P.G.M. he, investing with the collar of office, addressed them in appropriate terms on the duties they should perform, and pointed out briefly the reasons, which had induced him to give the respective appointments to those he was then investing. The bye-laws were considered and approved, other formal business was transacted, and the Provincial Grand Lodge was closed. The jewels were manufactured by Bro. George Kenning, of London, Liverpool, and Glasgow.

THE BANQUET.

Was subsequently held in the spacious Assembly Room of the Old Ship Hotel, an apartment, which in "the good old times," was wont to be ever and anon, devoted to the Masonic fraternity. The brethren felt at home in their old familiar quarters, and were fully prepared in anticipation to enjoy the feast of good things which Mr. Bacon had so well prepared for them. Nor were they in the least disappointed, for the banquet was of the true Old Ship type, leaving nothing to be desired for, but reflecting the highest credit on all engaged in its preparation and serving.

The newly-installed R.W. P. Grand M.M.M., Bro. Sir John Cordy Burrows, J.P., presided, supported by the R.W. Dep. G.M.M., the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, on his right, and the M.W., Bro. Cunningham, Deputy Provincial Grand M.M.M., on his left, also by the other officers of Grand Lodge, altogether about 100 brethren. The banquet ended, the Prov. G.M.M., proposed the first toast,—that of the Queen,—a toast he remarked, dear to every Englishman. He coupled with the toast "Mark Masonry," and congratulated his brethren that we lived under a constitutional Government of which every Englishman ought to be proud—proud of his country, proud of his Queen. (Applause.)

The R.W.P.G.M.M.M., next gave "His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and the rest of the Royal Family." The Prince of Wales, who took a great interest in Freemasonry, and would soon be Grand Master of the Masonic body in England, would, he trusted, endear himself to the Masonic body by becoming a Mark Mason, a member of this degree. (Applause.) He was sure that no man, no prince living, had a greater hold on the affections of the people of his country than had our noble Prince of Wales. He might have run a little wild at first—so much the better if it made him a better man in after life. He also referred in glowing terms to the Duke of Edinburgh and his amiable consort, and concluded by saying, "I love my Queen, I love the Royal Family, and above all the rest I love the Prince of Wales." (Applause.)

The next toast from the Master was that of "the M.W. Grand Mark Master Mason, the Right Hon. Earl Percy, M.P." Earl Percy, the head of the Mark Master Masons, and presumptive heir to the Duke of Northumberland, one of the oldest of England's nobility, had given his best attention to the promotion of Mark Masonry throughout the country, more especially in the north. They must always reverence the head and chief of such a body as theirs: in all his relations of life Earl Percy had won the esteem and love of all his countrymen, more especially the Mark Master Masons. (Applause.)

The R.W. Prov. G.M.M. next gave "the M.W. Past Grand Mark Master Masons, the Right Hon. Lord Leigh, the Earl of Carnarvon, Viscount Holmesdale, M.P., W. W. Beach, Esq., M.P., and the Rev. George Raymond Portal, M.A." The proposer of the toast observed that most of those names were well known to them all as those of men of note, not as Mark Masons alone, but as men of mark who had done good service for their country. He desired especially to couple with the toast, the name of the only Past Grand Master Mark Mason then with them, Bro. the Rev. George Raymond Portal. (Applause.) He was pleased to see a clergyman of the Church of England acting in that capacity, because, without desiring to say anything condemnatory of the order to which he belonged, he feared there was a want of liberality towards Masonry too often exhibited among them. But if the clergy, as a body, were not all they ought to be, Bro. Portal was all he ought to be,—how pleased they must all be to know that they had a Past Master who was a Minister of the Church of England. (Applause.)

The M.W. Past Grand M.M.M., Bro. the Rev. G. Raymond Portal, who was received with the warmest Masonic demonstration responded. He remarked that he had great pleasure in so doing. In the first place, because he thought it to be one of the peculiar privileges of the Degree of Mark Masonry that they should have a large body of Past Grand Mark Master Masons. (Hear, hear.) In other orders when the Chief got on to the throne, he stuck there for the rest of his natural life: in this degree, the Chief, following out their old landmarks, was changed every three years, new blood being thus introduced to office, and in the event of the death or failure of one Grand Master, another well acquainted with the duties was prepared to take temporarily the reins of office, and to advise and assist his successor. (Hear, hear.) He also thanked them for proposing the toast, because in the body of Past Grand Mark Master Masons, they had such distinguished men, notably the Earl of Carnarvon, the Deputy Grand Master of Craft Masonry, and who would soon be the Pro-Grand Master. (Hear, hear.) In other orders the Grand Masters, partly from the decrees of fate, and partly from the decrees of the Vatican were of a rare character, something like the Brighton octopus, few and far between. (Laughter.) A great deal had been talked about the matter to which he had been incidentally referring, and one would almost be led to think that the Masonic body were at a loss to find a distinguished man to preside over them. But such, he could assure them, was far from being the case, for if the Prince of Wales, whose acceptance of the post of honour he was proud of, had declined it there were other well-fitted and illustrious men ready to occupy it. How great was the contumely heaped upon the body by the Roman Catholic press! Masonry did not profess to be an antagonistic profession to that of any religious body; its simple claim upon all men was that it opened its doors to men of all religions, and of all politics, setting an example of universal brotherhood to men of all religion and of all politics. And they might depend upon it that despite the opposition from the Romanists, all persons who were worth having in the fraternity would come to them on these terms—(Applause.) In the crisis that was approaching, men of all religions and politics would be glad to come to them, knowing that in Freemasonry, whatever else might happen, they would have one place within the four seas of Britain where men could meet without differences, or desiring to cut each others' throats, and this alone would suffice to draw within their ranks all who were worth having—(Loud applause).

The Prov. G.M.M. then gave the "R.W. Dep. Grand Mark Master Mason, the Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, and the Grand Officers Present and Past." Referring to the enthusiastic reception given to the toast, he remarked that he knew when he mentioned Lord Limerick's name how well it would be greeted. He felt deeply indebted to his Lordship for his attendance; by his cordiality of manner he had won the affectionate regard of every one present—(Hear, hear). As well as being for two years Deputy Grand Mark Master, his Lordship was Provincial Grand Master of Bristol in Craft Masonry. He was not alone thus high in office, was not only a Peer of the Realm and Legislator, but he was an exceedingly kind and good man, one of whom the more they saw the more they would love. He asked them to love his Lordship as all good Masons should love each other, and he desired them to show their love, on that occasion, by drinking his health from the very bottom of their hearts—(Applause).

Lord Limerick, on rising, was heartily received. He observed he always felt that calling on the Grand Deputy Master or Senior Grand Officer present to return thanks was like putting the last first, because he had to return thanks for Past as well as Present Officers, the Present reaping all the advantages of those who had gone before them. It was so in Mark Masonry, wherein they were now reaping, in increased numbers, the advantages they had derived from having good officers in those who had gone before, with whose exertions they could not be too much pleased. He was delighted with the addition made to Mark Masonry that day, in the constitution of the Prov. Grand Lodge of Sussex, and he had pleasure in knowing that, in a few days more, another Province would be formed, that of Lincolnshire—(Applause). Let all remember in all they did in Masonry that they desired simply to act as an hand-maiden of religion, irrespective of sect, desiring also to be obedient to the laws of God, and to the laws for the good government of the country wherein they resided. They desired also to carry out charity, not only as to themselves, and those dependent on them (although it had been said that they desired this only for themselves), the true Mason not only gave his utmost for the good of his brethren, but, as they would find if they looked abroad, that in whatever concerned the maintenance of true charity, Masonry was never far behind—(Hear, hear). They did not go into theories, but they claimed to be judged by their fruits, and let them always remember, whether in Craft Masonry or Mark Masonry, whatever the Order might be, that, combined with the Order and the Craft, there were solemn obligations they had undertaken, which were but means to an end, that end being the promotion of the glory of God and the welfare of their fellow men—(Loud applause).

Immediately after resuming his seat, his Lordship rose again and proposed the toast of the R.W. Prov. Grand Mark Master Mason of Sussex, Bro. Sir J. Cordy Burrows. He observed that he felt he should not be doing justice to the toast were he to spend many minutes in proposing it, for that would seem as though he felt the necessity to have recourse to argument in its favour. Moreover, most of the brethren present knew more of the Right Worshipful Brother than he did, and the number of names appended to the petition for his installation to office, proved how highly he was esteemed by all—(Applause). They were also well acquainted with his services to the town of Brighton, and it had added to the pleasure he felt in coming there that day to make the acquaintance of a brother of whom, from the ordinary sources of information, he had already heard so much—(Applause). Long might he continue to hold offices as their Provincial Grand Master, long might the province flourish under his rule, and when old time should call him away, might the province still continue to flourish—(Applause).

Bro. Sir J. Cordy Burrows, R.W. Prov. G.M.M.M., responded. He desired not only to thank his brother members for drinking his health, but for having that day placed him in so high and distinguished a position, one of the greatest honour and dignity, that of the first Grand Master of Mark Masonry in the Province of Sussex. He could only assure them that those sentiments which he knew to pervade their bosoms with regard to the spread of Mark Masonry would be carried out most thoroughly by himself—(Hear, hear). He felt that in his officers he had a number of most honourable brethren to assist him in the discharge of his duties. No man should rely too much on himself, but he knew that those appointed to office were all good men and true. He knew, with regard to the post he occupied, that the Head and Chief must be a peace-maker; he hoped and trusted he should ever remember that his first duty was to make men love and trust each other, and then that he should relinquish his gavel, having gained the love and esteem of the Mark Master Masons of Sussex—(Applause).

The Prov. G.M. then proposed "the R.W. Provincial Grand Mark Master Masons present," observing that he trusted they would ever find a welcome to their table, hospitality being one of their characteristics as Mark Masons. He coupled with the toast the names of Col Burdett, Prov. G.M. of Middlesex and Surrey, Bro. the Rev. J. Sicklemore, Prov. G.M. of Kent, and Bro. the Rev. G. Raymond Portal, Prov. G.M. for Hants.

Bro. Col. Burdett, in responding, remarked that they had all that day been delighted in witnessing the manner in which the constitution ceremony had been performed. He had witnessed many consecrations, but never one that had given him greater pleasure. (Applause) He considered that it would be a most important Province, and that Sussex would shortly hold a very high position in Mark Masonry.

Bro. Sutcliffe, Prov. G.M. designate of Lincolnshire, also responded and expressed a hope that he should be favoured with the presence of some visiting brethren from Brighton, on the occasion of his installation on the 29th.

The M.W. Past Grand M.M.M., Bro. the Rev. G. Raymond Portal, then proposed "the W. Dep. Provincial Grand Mark Master Mason, Bro. J. M. Cunningham, M.D., and the Provincial Grand Officers."

Bro. Dr. Cunningham, Prov. D.G.M., responded. He also observed that some time ago Mark Masonry was received very coolly by many brethren holding high offices in Craft Masonry, but he thought the time was now come, under the leadership of their Grand Officers, that Mark Masonry would make its mark among the Grand Lodges of England. He was afraid with regard to what had lately happened in the Province of Sussex, that some of them might desire to make Mark Masonry antagonistic to Craft Masonry. (No, no.) But he trusted the officers appointed that day, would not during their year of office, take it up in that way, but strive to make it a still more beautiful addendum to Craft Masonry, all doing what they could to carry out the great principles of Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth, and that they might be eventually bound together in one great chain of universal brotherhood. (Applause.)

Bro. Braithwaite and Bro. W. R. Wood also responded to the toast of the Provincial Grand Officers.

Bro. T. J. Sabine, P.G.M. Secretary of Sussex, then, at the desire of the R.W. Provincial Mark Master, proposed the toast of "the R.W. Provincial Grand Mark Master Masons present," and alluded to the gratifying fact that on the present occasion they were favoured with the company of the P.G.M.M. of Kent, (Bro. J. Sicklemore, M.A.), of the P.G.M.M. of Hants and Isle of Wight (Bro. Rev. G. R. Portal, M.A.), and of Middlesex and Surrey (Bro. Col. Burdett), and in addition to these, the R.W. Provincial Grand Mark Master designate of Lincolnshire (Bro. John Sutcliffe of Great Grimsby), who would be installed in the Masonic Hall, at Lincoln, on Thursday next. The brethren associated together in Mark Masonry, were, as a rule, good and earnest Craft Masons who recognised the necessity and importance of combining the Mark degree with the Craft and Royal Arch degrees, so as to complete with unmistakable links, the chain of universal Freemasonry. It had been said of the degree by an influential Craft Mason in this Province, "I have been informed they (including the Mark with other non-universal degrees) owe their origin mostly to the political and religious intrigues of the middle ages." Now he (Bro. Sabine) claimed an antiquity for the Mark degree in ages far beyond the middle period of England's history. He claimed a world-wide universality for the Mark degree, extended as was the Craft degrees themselves, because all who could be received into Craft Masonry were entitled to receive the Mark degree, be they Hindoo or Turk, Catholic or Protestant, Chinese or Persian, in fact all who were true to the idea of God and faithful to their fellow-men and benevolent to those in misery and distress. (Applause.) He took this opportunity to allude thus briefly to these matters, because for years he had been opposed in a bitter and unforgiving spirit by certain brethren in Sussex, whose education, whose position, and whose knowledge of Freemasonry, should have led them to have assisted rather than have retarded the establishment of the Mark degree in Sussex, the interests of which would now be watched over by the Provincial Grand Mark Lodge, that day established under such happy circumstances, and in the presence of the large number of distinguished brethren from all parts of the country. That distance was no object to prevent attendance was apparent from the presence there that day of Bro. J. Sutcliffe, who had travelled all the way from Grimsby to do honour to the occasion, and to give support to the spread of the degree in the south of England. It would be impossible for him to allude to the qualifications of each brother, and he might be pardoned for stating generally that they were all good and true Craft Masons as well as earnest and sincere Mark Masons. On this occasion he desired to couple the name of Bro. John Sutcliffe with the toast, and asked them to accept it from him with more than usual heartiness, in honour of the many distinguished Masons present that day—(Applause).

The toast was duly acknowledged by Bro. Sutcliffe, by Bro. Colonel Adair, and by Bro. Henry Brett, of the Southwark Mark Lodge, who observed that Masonry equally esteemed Jews, Mahomedans, Parsees and Hindoos, and that so long as Masonry in England excluded discussion among its members of matters of controversial religion and politics, so long would it present high position continue.

Bro. Binckes said the next toast was one that as a rule, when he appeared before his brother Masons, he was called upon to respond to, and not to propose—it was that of the "Masonic Institutions and the Mark Benevolent Fund." That evening they had had their principles very fairly discussed, but there was one matter which all could meet on common ground, that the support of the Masonic Charities. Mark Masonry had done its duty to all the Masonic Charities; especially was this manifest in the case of Bro. Sabine, who placed before them a list of £170, procured by him for the Boy's School.

Bro. Little, Secretary of the Girls' School, also spoke of the claims of that institution.

Bro. T. J. Sabine responded, and instanced the vast amount of support the charities had received from Mark Masonry.

The Prov. G.M.M.M. then proposed the toast of Bro. Ade, observing that he was one who had done everything in his power for the promotion of Mark Masonry—(Applause). Wherever they went they required Ade—(Laughter)

Bro. S. R. Ade, in responding, observed that in Mark Masonry he had been honoured beyond his deserts in being appointed an officer of Grand Lodge. Mark Masonry had performed the manly and noble act that day which Craft Masonry had never performed towards him (Hear, hear).

"The Ladies," from the Prov. G.M.M.M., responded to by Bro. Charles Hudson brought proceedings of a very pleasant evening to close.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF THE NORTH AND EAST RIDINGS OF YORKSHIRE.

MASONIC BANQUET AT SCARBOROUGH.

Yesterday there was a great gathering of Freemasons at Scarborough, the Provincial Grand Lodge of the North and East Ridings having accepted the invitation of the Denison Lodge, Scarborough, to hold its annual assembly in that town. There was a numerous muster ofasonic celebrities in the Grand Hotel. It was agreed that the business of the lodge should be transacted during the afternoon, so as to leave the banquet in the evening open to non-masons. Accordingly the Provincial Grand Lodge was held in the spacious drawing-room of the hotel; the business commenced at 1.30, and the Provincial Grand Master, the Earl of Denison, followed by a large and brilliant retinue, entered in procession up the main staircase amid a flourish of trumpets. The procession was imposing. In the evening a banquet was served up in the large dining hall, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion, and the hall, when filled with its numerous distinguished guests, presented a brilliant appearance. Around the table were arranged groups of gay flags with Masonic emblems and devices, and there was a profuse display of flowers and other decorations. Nearly 200 guests sat down to an unobtrusive repast. Lord Zetland occupied the chair, supported on his right by Bro. W. M.D., Hull, D.P.G.M., of the North and East Ridings; Bro. Sir H. Johnstone, Bart., P.P.G.W.; Bro. Sir Charles Legard, Bart., P.P.G.W.; Bro. J. W. Teal, P.D.C.W.M., No. 200; W. F. Rooke, M.D., P.P.G.W.; Bro. Peck, F.S.; and on the left by Lord Londesborough, P.P.S.W.P.G.W.; Major Bannister, W.; Bro. Chris. Sykes, M.P., P.P.S.W.; R. Bower, P.P.S.W.; Bro. J. W. Woodall, W.; Bro. Sir James Meek; and Bro. W. M., P.G.T. Amongst the company were present from Hull, Malton, Richmond, Leeds, including the Lord Mayor, and other lodges of the district, and the brethren of the Scarborough district, mustered in strong force in order to give a cordial reception to their Masonic brethren. The guests were distinguished among the guests by their uniform. The band of the 3rd Dragoon Guards, York, under the command of the late Sergeant-Major Tallet and Farrier-Sergeant Lawrence performed selections during the banquet, which was served in an excellent style. Grace before and after was said by the chaplain, the Rev. W. M. At the close of the banquet, the noble Chairman proposed "The Queen and the Craft." Wherever a lodge of Masons is, there he knew that toast would be received with enthusiasm. The noble Chairman next proposed the health of the Right Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, R.W., Provincial Grand Master of England, with the aid of Past Grand Officers. It was a painful duty to have to propose such a toast at the present moment, when they might be expected to have no Grand Master. At their last Provincial Lodge they were honoured by the presence of their Grand Master, who bestowed on the Earl of Zetland the office he now holds. That was a day he should always look back upon with feelings of the utmost pleasure. The marks of respect with which their Provincial Grand Master was then received indicated that he was esteemed by every Mason. It would be severely felt not only in that district throughout the country. With respect to the Earl of Carnarvon, many present were no doubt well acquainted with the interest he took in Freemasonry. Lord Londesborough, who was received with applause, proposed—"The Right Hon. the Earl of Zetland, R.W. Provincial Grand Master of the North and East Ridings of Yorkshire." He felt sure that the name of Zetland was well received in any part of the world, and especially in Yorkshire. He congratulated the noble Lord on the office he had just received in the order, and hoped he would be come equally respected with his late father. (Cheers.) The noble Chairman appropriately responded to the toast, and referred to the connection that had so long existed between his family and that province. He also spoke of the progress of Freemasonry. Sir John Harcourt Johnstone, M.P., next proposed "The health of Bro. John Pearson Bell, Deputy Provincial Grand Master of the North and East Ridings," and spoke highly of the services that gentleman had rendered to Freemasonry in the province. Bro. Bell, in responding, dwelt upon the advantages to be derived from Freemasonry, and complimented the Provincial Grand Master on the excellent way in which the business of the day had been gone through under his auspices. The noble Chairman then proposed "The Denison Lodge, No. 1,240, and the various Lodges in the Province." His Lordship expressed his gratification at the splendid reception accorded to them by the Scarborough Lodge. Bro. Delamere suitably responded. Mr. Christopher Sykes, M.P., proposed "The Visiting Brethren," which was responded to by Bro. Henry Smith, Provincial Grand Secretary of West Yorkshire. Sir Charles Legard, M.P., in a humorous speech, proposed "The Ladies," which toast was humorously responded to by Mr. Christopher Sykes. This brought the proceedings to a close.

MASONIC PILGRIMAGE TO SHAKESPEARE'S TOMB.

There set forth from Paddington Station the other morning a pilgrimage of unwonted character, the purpose being to offer, on part of the Masonic Brotherhood of England, a tribute to the memory of England's great poet. A special meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Warwickshire had been convoked by Lord Leigh, the Provincial Grand Master of the county, to meet the "pilgrims," all of whom, without exception, were Masons. Primarily the pilgrimage had been organised by the Bard of Avon Lodge (whose present Master is Sir George Elliot, M.P.) to unveil a window which the lodge, which is chiefly composed of literary and artistic brethren, had placed in this shrine of one whose written works have discovered to the eyes of all who have had the benefit of Masonic light and teaching that he himself had practical knowledge of the craft. The pilgrims yesterday from Paddington were headed by the Worshipful Master of the Bard of Avon Lodge, Sir George Elliot, M.P., and among those with him were Bros. Prince Iskander Khan (son of the King of Afghanistan); Colonel Burdett (the Provincial Grand Master of Middlesex); W. P. Frith, R.A.; Edward Piggot (the Examiner of Plays); Edmund Yates; G. A. Sala; J. C. Parkinson (of the Grand Lodge, Deputy Grand Master of Middlesex); J. B. Monckton (Town Clerk of the City of London); Aeneas McIntyre, Q.C. (the Grand Registrar); Thomas Fenn; John Hervey; Dr. Ramsay; Major Harding; R. G. Glover; Alfred Layton, P.M., 181; W. Donne, P.M., 181; F. Gray; De Ross Hyde (Bard of Avon Lodge); Captain Cotton (Bard of Avon Lodge); Octavius Hansard, P.M., 181, W. Burgess, &c., &c. Before the "retained" carriages provided by the Great Western Company had arrived at Stratford-on-Avon, the Provincial Grand Lodge had been, by the special permission of the mayor, in the Town-hall of Stratford, and the members of the lodge went forth to meet their masonic brethren at the station, providing carriages to convey them and other brethren to the house where Shakespeare was born. Thence on the invitation of the Vicar of Stratford, the Rev. Dr. Collis, Grand Provincial Chaplain of Warwickshire, after the brethren had been formally met in the Town-hall, procession "in clothing" was made to the church. A full choral service was held in the historic shrine, and Dr. Collis preached a short sermon—a discourse fitted to the occasion, the place, and the hearers. The brethren then broke off for a time, the window was unveiled, a tablet placed beneath it shown, and the pilgrims had an opportunity of once more looking upon the treasures of the erst Warwickshire hamlet, where the stone lies which, on pain of the poet's curse, stops human curiosity and all posthumous honours which humanity would give. Beneath the monument which Shakespeare's daughter erected, and which John Ward, the forgotten leader of the strolling players, the father of the Kembles re-erected, Dr. Collis read a paper showing the need of restoration of the church, if it is to be preserved. In the evening the pilgrims dined at the Red Horse Hotel (famous through Washington Irving's pilgrimage), the Master of the Bard of Avon Lodge, Sir George Elliot, presiding. The toast of "The Queen and the Craft" was duly honoured, and then Bro. Parkinson, the Grand Deacon of the Grand Lodge of England, in proposing, by the Worshipful Master's command, the toast of "The New Ruler of the Craft, the Prince of Wales," made a speech, in which he said:—"In proposing the toast of 'The New Ruler of the Craft, the Prince of Wales,' it is not necessary to dwell upon the circumstances which have led to his Royal Highness now filling the position of Grand Master. It may be well-known, and not inappropriately in connection with the name of the constituted chief of the Freemasons who is destined to be the future Defender of the Faith in England, that the Masonic memorial, the erection of which in the chancel of Shakespeare's church we have celebrated to-day, speaks of a long-standing and close connection between Freemasonry and the Church of England, especially in this place. The late vicar of Stratford was an old and ardent Freemason, and was chaplain to the Bard of Avon Lodge, a position in which he is succeeded by the present vicar, who is also Provincial Grand Chaplain of Middlesex. It is cheering in times like these to know that there is nothing exceptional in this union between the Protestant Church and Freemasonry; that we number distinguished brethren upon the bench of bishops, and that in all parts of this realm the craft and the reformed religion go hand in hand, inculcating the same duties, inspiring the same hopes, and impressing upon their adherents that broad charity and that lively faith in good works in which sensible men are content to live and die. (Cheers.) There was a time—a time which measured by the years of our national life, was not so very long ago, when the English clergy might have felt difficulty in becoming Freemasons, because of the absolute obedience to duly constituted authority and to the law of the land to which our brotherhood is committed. The House of Commons, after the fall of Wolsey complained that the clergy made laws in Convocation for disobedience to which the laity were excommunicated. Yet those laws were often at variance with the laws of the realm. Archbishop Warham said he was sorry for this; but as the laws made by the clergy were always in conformity with the will of God, the laws of the realm had only to be altered for the difficulty to vanish. (A laugh.) Well might the historian ask what must have been the position of the clergy in the fulness of their power when they could speak thus on the eve of their prostration. The public of England had been warned recently, and by high authority, that the opposing principles of sacerdotalism and impious teaching are abroad, marshalling their respective forces, and that England may be called upon to steer a middle course between—the language is Mr. Disraeli's—"the cold and withering blast of atheism and the scorching simoom of sacerdotal usurpation." Should that time unhappily arrive, Freemasons will rejoice in the knowledge that so many English clergymen have sworn fidelity to the principles of the craft. It is good for them and good for us that these clerical brethren should have voluntarily laid aside all distinctiveness to present themselves at the door of the lodge, candidates for Masonic instruction. It is good, as our mysteries are gradually made known to them—and they are taught as Burns wrote—

"By that hieroglyphic bright, Which none but craftsmen ever saw,"
to take part in our solemn ordinances and mystic rites, and to offer up with us, as brethren, their adoration to the Most High, that God of the Mason's Lodge and of the English Liturgy, who is the "lover of concord," and "whose service is perfect freedom." Churchmen soon learn that Masons are zealous ritualists; but that their ritualism is a foe to bigotry, to nebulous superstition and to idolatry, however specious may be its forms. Masonry and the Protestant religion both proclaim the volume of the Sacred Law to be the rule and guide of faith, but they do not teach that any frail and erring creature of the dust is infallible, or that interpretations of the sacred volume are to be accepted blindly and without judgment. In brief, the principles of the Reformation and the spirit of Freemasonry have so much in common that if ever the hard-won fruits of the first are threatened the duties and teachings of the Masonic Lodge will assuredly keep the brotherhoods, both lay and clerical, on the side of loyalty, truth, and freedom. (Cheers).

The W.M., Sir George Elliot, M.P., then gave "The Earl of Carnarvon and the Grand Officers, Past and Present," which was responded to by Bro. Æneas McIntyre, the Grand Registrar of England, who, in a speech of great eloquence, defined the duties of the Grand officers, and proclaimed the earnest desire of all filling the positions to discharge those duties. The Grand Registrar pointed out that the Craft is most fortunate in having a nobleman of Lord Carnarvon's lofty character and versatile accomplishments in high office, and added that if his Royal Highness the Grand Master appointed his lordship Provincial Grand Master, as was probable, the order would have still stronger reasons for appreciating Lord Carnarvon's qualities. An appointment of Deputy Grand Master would then have to be made, and the Grand Registrar knew of no better training for that high position than a long and successful discharge of the duties of Provincial Grand Master. He had however, no sort of doubt but that whoever it might please his Royal Highness to appoint would be loyally received by the brethren, and that the Grand officers would meet as heretofore with that warm welcome at the hands of the brethren which was one of the high privileges of their position. The Grand Registrar, who had been most warmly received throughout, resumed his seat amid a tumult of enthusiastic applause. The toasts of the Provincial Grand Master of Warwickshire, Lord Leigh, and the Provincial Grand Master of Lancashire, Colonel Burdett, were severally given from the chair, and were responded to, Lord Leigh wishing that the officers of the Grand Lodge of England could visit the Provinces more frequently, and Colonel Burdett expressing for Middlesex the great satisfaction experienced at the cordial greeting and welcome given the brethren from that county by Lord Leigh and the brothers of Warwickshire. The health of the Vicar of Stratford as the Chaplain of the Bard of Avon Lodge, gave Canon Collis an opportunity in reply of again explaining the urgent needs of Shakespeare's church for repair and reconstruction. A Provisional Committee was formed, in which Lord Leigh, Sir George Elliot, Brother Edgar Flower (a leading resident of Stratford), Colonel Burdett, Bro. J. C. Parkinson, and Bro. Edmund Yates consented to serve, for the purpose of ascertaining the best modes of laying before the English public the present condition of Shakespeare's Church.

The health of Dr. Ramsey, of Inveresk, as W.M. elect of the Bard of Avon Lodge was then given by Sir George Elliot, who expressed himself warmly on the subject of being elected for a second year to the chair of this Lodge, and on the personal esteem felt for the brother who would succeed him. Dr. Ramsey in reply expressed his firm intention to uphold the prestige of the Bard of Avon, and in the course of an animated and successful speech informed the brethren that Bro. Edmund Yates had gratified him by applying for office, and that Bro. Yates would be one of the Deacons under him, and would in due time present himself for election into the chair—an announcement received with loud cheers. Bro. J. C. Warden returned thanks for the Stratford Past Masters of the Bard of Avon Lodge, and the proceedings terminated. Some of the pilgrims returned to town the same evening, but the majority came back by special train next day.

Scotland.

LAYING OF THE FOUNDATION STONE OF THE NEW MASONIC HALL AT ALLOA.

As intimated by us last week, the laying of the foundation-stone of this hall could not be laid by the Grand Lodge, on account of their having held a funeral lodge on the 12th inst., in favour of the Earl of Dalhousie and Lord Murray, and accordingly the brethren of the Alloa St. John's Lodge (No. 69) had to put off the public demonstration in the meantime, as the laying of the foundation-stone could not be retarded longer, and therefore had no alternative but to take the initiative themselves, and lay it with full Masonic honours by the R.W.M. The Oddfellows, Foresters, Free Gardeners, Shepherds, &c., will, no doubt, have met with a disappointment on this occasion, as it was not in the power of the St. John's Lodge to allow them to proceed in procession without the attendance of the Sister Masonic Lodges from other quarters. It is gratifying, however, to state for their information that when the hall is completed, which it is expected to be early in spring, they will then have an opportunity of turning out in procession along with the Masons, as it is intended to have then a gigantic demonstration on the day the hall is opened. It is just two years past on the 17th of this month since a grand demonstration took place in Alloa, in connection with the laying of the foundation-stone of the New Burgh Buildings, which ceremony was performed by Major-General Sir James E. Alexander, Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master for Stirlingshire. If the grand demonstration had taken place as at first anticipated, it was expected that the same gentleman would have performed the ceremony; but, in the circumstances, he deputed the Right Worshipful Master for Alloa—Mr. G. B. Graham—to lay the stone. Accordingly, on Tuesday, this was done with full Masonic honours. The weather was most unpropitious for the occasion, but, notwithstanding, the proceedings were witnessed by a large number of spectators. The building which is being erected is next to the Archaeological Museum in the Glebe. It lies back off the street a little, but railings are to be placed in front so as to make it in a line with the pathway. The building is a plain substantial one, and is designed by Mr. James Mitchell, joiner. It is to contain on the lower flat a public room, which is 15 feet by 14 ft. 6 in.; three bed-rooms, 14 ft. 6 in. by 12 ft. 6 in., 13 ft. by 10 ft., and 10 ft. by 8 ft. 6 in., respectively; kitchen, 14 ft. by 11 ft.; bath-room, 9 ft. by 6 ft. 6 in.; and scullery, 8 ft. by 5 ft. 6 in. The height of the ceiling will be 11 ft. 6 in. The entrance to this flat is from the front, with a vestibule glass door into the lobby, which is 6 ft. wide. In the upper flat will be the hall, which is 30 ft. by 20 ft., with curved ceiling 14 ft. 6 in. in height, and will be lighted by four windows. There will be also two ante-rooms on the same flat adjoining the hall, the one 15 ft. 5 in. by 12 ft. 5 in., and the other 12 ft. 6 in. by 10 ft. 6 in., the height of ceiling being 11 ft. 5 in. The flat is entered from the end of the south gable by a stone stair, built in with brick, and roofed. The entrance door to the hall is 3 ft. back from the south gable, which cannot be seen from the front. The contractors are Mr. Alex. Gloag, mason work; Mr. James Marshall, joiner work; Mr. James Grant, plaster work; Mr. Alex. Mitchell, plumber work; and Mr. John Walker, slater work. We have only to congratulate the Alloa St. John's Lodge (No. 69) on their having at last obtained such a suitable resting place after being jostled about for many years.

The Lodge formed in the Royal Oak Hotel at three o'clock, at which a goodly number of the brethren attended, and at half-past three they formed in procession and marched to the site of the hall, headed by the band of the 1st C.R.V. playing the "Hallelujah Chorus." After all the brethren had assembled, along with a few friends, at the "scene of action," the band played the "Queen's Anthem," after which the worthy Chaplain, Rev. A. Bryson, offered up a most impressive prayer for the occasion.

The Right Worshipful Master, Mr. G. B. Graham, then said the architect, Mr. Andrew Mitchell, will kindly step forward, and bring forth the various workmen necessary for the completion of the work, which was done. He then called on the treasurer, Mr. Alice, to place the bottle in the cavity, and the secretary, Mr. Johnstone, to cover it with the brass inscription plate; the Junior Warden, Capt. Cobb, to apply the instrument of his office, the plumb to the stone; the Senior Warden, Mr. Philp, to apply his instrument of office, the level, to the stone; and then upon the Past Master, Mr. S. N. Morison, to apply his instrument, the square, to the stone, all which having been done, the R.W.M. said—Having full confidence in you, brethren, as being perfectly qualified for your various duties, it only remains for me to finish this noble work which we have begun, and accordingly he gave three knocks on the stone with a mallet, and declared it duly laid in full Masonic form. This being done, the Past Master handed to the R.W.M. the cornucopia, or horn of plenty, which he put on the stone, after which the Senior Warden handed the vase of wine to the P.M., who handed it to the R.W.M. he pouring it upon the stone. This being done, the Junior Warden handed to the Senior Warden the vase of oil, who handed it to the P.M., and then to the R.W.M., and he also poured it on the stone.

While this ceremony was being gone through the band played "Old Hundred."

The Chaplain of the Lodge then said—Right Worshipful Master, this is a day upon which may felicitate the Alloa St. John's Lodge (No. 69) upon the attainment of an object to which they have long looked forward. It is a most worthy object of ambition to have a permanent meeting-place, and a permanent locality for the brethren. We have to congratulate ourselves not only upon the feeling immediately within the Lodge, but also by the kindly feeling which has been manifested to us by many brethren around us contributing to our finances, enabling us to obtain this the object of our ambition. And while I congratulate you, honourable brethren around me, I have to press the hope that having at last a local habitation and a name, that this our Lodge will be used further the ends of Masonry, to which we have sworn fealty. I have also no doubt that the ties of brotherhood which we have sworn to observe, will, in time to come, extend throughout the community, and that the position will become more than a name—that it will become a reality for good in all social movements. If the day had been better, I should have liked to have said something more, but considering the state of the weather, I have only to say, in conclusion, that I congratulate you heartily that the Lodge, which after an existence of more than a century, has attained this worthy object of ambition, and let me also add, so I have an interest apart from being a member of the lodge, in the buildings that are erected upon this bit of land. I must also congratulate you on the admirable plans and the excellent house which is here being erected. And God bless us all in our union that this our Lodge may always be used by the brethren to glory, and to the welfare of our fellows. So, as the years go on and our lodge grows old, let us hope in good work and good brotherhood it will promote the welfare of the locality which we are placed.

The procession again formed and marched the tune of "Oh the Merry Masons," and proceeded along the length of the Glasshouse Loan, where they returned, the band playing Jenny's Bawbee."

The foundation-stone was placed in the north-east corner of the hall which is on the south flat.

The brethren then marched in to the Royal Oak Hotel, where the Lodge was closed in due form. The following are the articles inserted in the title, which was placed in the stone, viz.—Alloa Journal and Alloa Advertiser of date the 10th October; Alloa Illustrated Family Almanac; and Lothian's Annual Register for 1874; The Freemason of London; The Masonic News; The Circular; also The Scotsman, Courant, and Argyll Herald of date the 20th; a parchment deed, containing the names of the Office-bearers of the Alloa Lodge (No. 69) for 1874, the Conductors, the Architect, and members of Committee of the Building Fund. The coins of the realm complete the articles sealed up in the title.

The following inscription was on the plate that covered the cavity of the stone:—The new Masonic Hall for the Alloa Lodge (No. 69) was laid 20th Oct., 1874.

THE DINNER.

At five o'clock the brethren, along with a number of friends, sat down to dinner in the Royal Oak Hotel. The Right Worshipful Master, Mr. G. B. Graham occupied the chair, and was supported on the right by the Chaplain of the Lodge (Rev. A. Bryson), Mr. John Ailer, and Mr. John Johnstone, Treasurer; on the left by Mr. Stephen N. Morison, Andrew Alice, Secretary, Mr. Alexander Hill, and Mr. James Mitchell. The croupiers were Mr. John Philp, Senior Warden, and Captain Cobb, Junior Warden. A blessing having been asked by the worthy Chaplain, the company partook of a sumptuous repast, prepared by Mr. Reid in his usual first-class style.

After dinner had been partaken of, the Chairman gave the first toast, "The Queen," which was drunk and should be the first toast on the

The Chairman then proposed the "Prince of Wales, and the other members of the Royal Family." He said that the Prince of Wales must be in particular favour with all members of the Lodge, on account of his being installed Grand Master of England (Hear, hear). It was now some years since he was installed into the secrets of Masonry, since that time he had shown himself worthy of the trust and confidence that was then reposed in him, so much so that the Craft in England deemed it expedient to raise him to the rank of the Grand Lodge of England—(Hear, hear, and applause). It bears out the old saying and it was not so much of a saying as a fact in Masonry, that kings, dukes, and lords never thought it beneath them to lay aside their swords to put on aprons as brother Masons. The Prince of Wales was in that position just now and they wished him God speed, and that Masonry, not only in Great Britain, but in every other country, would not be dissatisfied by the choice that had been made by the Grand Lodge of England at this time. The toast was drunk with great enthusiasm.

The Chairman then proposed the "Army, Navy, and Volunteers," and coupled the toast with the name of Sergeant M'Clelland. The toast being duly honoured, Sergeant M'Clelland in reply said that they were all aware of his having been in the army for many years. He had been in the year 1838, and had been in the army ever since. He said they always had a great respect for the army, but they were not afraid, but at the present day their science, steadiness, and determination would make a great multitude—(Applause). With regard to the volunteers he said they were just nursing education into a small number, and when required it would burst out abundantly to support Her Gracious Majesty—(Applause).

The Chairman then proposed the "Grand Army of Great Britain and Ireland," and thought they could not meet without dedicating a toast to those Lodges—(Great applause).

Mr. Philp said that the toast that he had to propose was one he would just require to mention—that was the toast of their worthy and most respected friend "Lord Kellie." He need not say anything of Lord Kellie, but there was one thing that he would say, that a more genial gentleman, a better friend, and a kinder-hearted man they never met than Lord Kellie. They had experienced that in regard to their Masonic Hall. He said Lord Kellie was certainly a friend of all to further the interests of the town; but he was not only respected in the town, if they went to Edinburgh, he occupied a very proud position—Grand Senior Warden—and he hoped that ere long he would be raised to the throne; and he was certain of this, that if he was he would sway the sceptre in the same just way—(Loud applause).

Mr. Robert Pauling replied, and said that Lord Kellie's health had been proposed in very complimentary terms, but he was sure that too much had not been said of his Lordship—(Applause).

The Chaplain, Mr. Bryson, said he had a toast to propose, in the accomplishment of which they were all deeply concerned, which was "Prosperity to our Lodge, Alloa St. John's (No. 69)." After alluding at some length to the state of the different lodges in the various countries, he said there was a rising sun of prosperity amongst their Craft; and he thought the Alloa St. John's, after a hundred and twenty years or so, sometimes blessed with a great accession of members, though never blessed with a permanent situation, had passed through very many vicissitudes. They had been looking forward to the event which that night had inaugurated. First of all it was to the enthusiasm of their worthy chairman that it had been laid; to the other, a growing feeling among the brethren in the parish—the growing feeling that they should have a local habitation, and he thought that was a second reason. The third reason was that there were a great many people throughout the parish who were Masons who had hitherto been affiliated to their lodge, and who felt that the interest of the lodge would be best promoted by having that hall. He then dwelt at some length on these three reasons. He continued, and said that with the toasting of the Alloa St. John's Lodge he had a duty to perform which was perfectly congruous with the toast, and that was the presentation of that beautiful trowel by which their Chairman, as Master of the Lodge, had laid the corner-stone that day—(Great applause). He had singular pleasure in doing so. First of all, because their Chairman was an Alloa man bred and born, and he thought he was an honour to their town. After speaking about the Chairman's history, he said that he was a thoroughly self-made man, and it showed that it was within the reach of any of them if they were sober and honest to be the same. They wished him profoundly all domestic happiness and bliss, that his children may rise up to call him blessed, and that his wife might be spared to him. He always wondered where those beautiful presentations went as they were never to be seen. It was a monstrous thing to put it into a box, and he was going to suggest that when the season began in which one of his friends there was so much engaged, he meant the salmon fishing, he thought he should just ask them six in rotation, and that that trowel would make an excellent fish slice—(Loud applause and laughter). That trowel was presented to him because they held him in very high respect,—as a man of integrity they hoped that he would be long spared amongst them—(Loud applause and song, "For he's a jolly good fellow").

The trowel was furnished by Mr. P. W. Hill, jeweller, and bore the following inscription:—

Presented to

Brother GEORGE B. GRAHAM, R.W.M., on the occasion of his laying the Foundation-stone of the "Masonic Hall" at Alloa.

20th October, 1874.

The Chairman said that he returned thanks for the toast that had been proposed. He had now been for several years connected with the Alloa Lodge, and during those years he had passed through the different grades of office. He could assure them that he was very much pleased and gratified on this occasion, and he took that particular opportunity of thanking the brethren for the confidence they placed in him, and for the cordial support that they had given him in that day's proceedings. He then spoke about Masonry, and trusted that the Alloa Lodge would long prosper in the new hall that they should very shortly have the pleasure of occupying—(Loud applause).

Mr. S. N. Morison then proposed the "Office-bearers." He assured them that he had looked forward for years and years back to have accomplished what they had done that day. Of course their building had not yet been finished. No member of that lodge could tell the tale how they had been tossed to and fro like wild fowls hunted upon the mountain side, having no place to plant their foot; but with the energy of their friends and the office-bearers in the lodge, they had laid the foundation-stone of the hall that day. He looked to the Senior Warden and all other office-bearers, for without their guidance, support, and energy which they had displayed ever since the canvass began they would not have been in such a position as they now enjoyed. A good deal has to be done yet; but he was sure that they would be ready, however much they had done heretofore; not to lack in what was to be done, but that they would make a pull, a strong pull, and a pull together, to accomplish the end they had all heartily wished for. He coupled the toast with the name of the Senior Warden, which was duly drunk and responded to in pleasing terms by Mr. Philp.

The Chairman then proposed the "Commissioners of Alloa," and coupled the toast, which was enthusiastically drunk, with the name of Mr. Mailer.

Mr. Mailer said he did not know where to begin to reply to the speech made by Mr. Graham. Before the present ministry came into power, the town was a very different looking place to what it was now. Sometime ago he said their town was hardly passable, but now it was a different thing. (Cheers.) He said they had good streets now, and were not charged anything more than before—2s. a pound. (Applause.) They had plenty of water to drink now, and they had well-caused streets. He said he was one of the oldest Commissioners who were at the Board, and he had the satisfaction of looking back that the town of Alloa was considerably better than when he got it. He then referred to 1689, and what had been done since, and sat down amidst loud applause.

Other toasts followed—"The Press," by Mr. Philp, and responded to by Mr. Lothian; "The Architects and Contractors," by Mr. Pauling, and replied to by Mr. A. Mitchell for the architect, who said he could not take all the honour, as his son drew out the plans, and by Mr. Grant for the contractors; "The Stranger Brethren," by the Chairman, and responded to by Mr. Robertson. Other healths were proposed, such as "The Chairman," &c., which were all duly acknowledged.

Several songs were sung by the brethren and friends present, and the happy company broke up at a seasonable hour after having enjoyed a happy meeting.

KILSYTH.

Lodge St. John's (39).—On Tuesday, the 27th ult., the remains of Bro. Alexander M'Kenzie, for many years Tyler to this lodge, were interred with Masonic honours. The brethren of the lodge, under the leadership of Bro. John Cuddie, R.W.D.M., proceeded to Newton Street, the residence of deceased. After a short devotional service by the Rev. R. H. Burns, parish minister, the coffin was mounted on the shoulders of four brethren, and shortly past three o'clock, the band playing the Dead March in "Saul," the mournful procession, which was of great length, moved slowly along to the place of interment in the Old Churchyard. At the grave an appropriate hymn was sung by the assemblage, and a pathetic and touching address delivered by the Rev. George Rutherford, Independent Minister, after which the remains were lowered to their last resting place.

GLASGOW.

Lodge Marie Stuart (541).—The regular meeting of this flourishing suburban lodge was held on Monday, the 26th ult., within the hall, Queen's Park Rooms. Present, Bro. J. D. Porteous, R.W.M.; Bro. Julius Brodè, S.W.; Bro. W. M'G. Mason, J.W.; and a large attendance of brethren. The lodge having been opened in the Apprentice degree, the minutes of previous meetings were read and confirmed. The list of office-bearers for the ensuing year, as submitted by the Standing Committee, was unanimously adopted, and the election and installation will take place at next regular meeting. The R.W.M. intimated that it was his intention to hold Lodges of Instruction at stated intervals during the course of the current year. The R.W.M. also brought under the notice of the lodge the rules and regulations of the Royal Scottish Masonic Benevolent Institution, and, after recapitulating the purposes of its formation, warmly commended it to the attention of the brethren.

Lodge St. Clair (362) met in their hall, 25, Robertson Street, on Monday evening, 26th ult., Bro. James Black, R.W.M., presiding. The lodge was opened on the Apprentice degree, and the minutes of the last meeting read and approved of. The brethren then had under consideration estimates from several tradesmen for painting and decorating the hall, with the result that the offer of Bro. D. R. Gray was accepted. There was next considered the suitability of a harmonium sent in for the approval of members; and it was agreed to defer decision on the matter till next regular meeting. The R.W.M. then announced that at the meeting to be held on 9th November, the nomination of office-bearers for the ensuing year would take place. There being no further business, the lodge was closed in due form.

Lodge Star (219) met in their hall, No. 12, Trongate, on 26th ult. Bro. Wilson, R.W.M., presided, Bro. R. S. Alston, D.M.; Bro. Garth, S.W.; Bro. Horn, J.W.; and the other principal office-bearers being present. Amongst the visiting brethren were Bro. Millar, R.W.M., 87; Bro. Stark, D.M., 553; Bro. Peterson, Secretary, 27; and Bro. M'Dougall, Secretary, 87. The lodge having been opened on the first degree, the minutes of the last meeting were read and sustained. Bro. Millar, 87, requested the privilege of initiating a candidate for admission into that lodge, which was granted. The other work done was the affiliation of a brother from Thistle Lodge, Stewarton, two raised to the Fellow Craft degree, and one to the Sublime degree of Master Mason. Bros. Crawford, Currie, Mutter, and Daly were then appointed auditors of the books, and, there being no further business, the lodge was duly closed.

Cathedral Chapter (67) met in the Masonic Hall, Struthers Street, Calton, on the 27th ult. A lodge of Mark Masters was opened, Bro. Duthie in the chair, when two brethren took that degree. The lodge was then closed, and opened on the Excellent Master Mason degree, the same office-bearers in the chairs, when Bros. Alexander Williamson, John Ferguson, and Robert Pettigrew took that degree. This lodge having been closed, the Royal Arch Chapter was opened, Comps. J. Duthie, W. Mack, and G. Thallon, as principals, and Comps. D. Ronald, J. Nagle, and J. Dickie, Sojourners. Bros. Williamson, Ferguson, and Pettigrew were admitted, and exalted to the Royal Arch degree in full chapter of comps. The scribe then read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were passed, and, there being no further business, the Chapter was closed in due form, Comps. Duthie, first; William Mack, second; and George Thallon, third Principals, the comps. all standing to order as Royal Arch Masons.

Caledonian of Unity Chapter, (73), met in their rooms at 170, Buchanan Street, on the 27th ult., when a Mark Lodge was opened, with Bros. G. W. Wheeler, R.W. Mark Master in the chair, John Tweed, S.W., and John Stewart, J.W. The Secretary (Bro. Balfour), read the minutes of the meeting on 29th of September, which were duly passed. An application was read from Bro. Henry Mitchell, M.M., Lodge Buefort, E.C. 103; also an affiliated member of the Lodge Thistle and Rose, 73, Glasgow. He was recommended by Bros. John Tweed and Jas. Balfour; and no objection being made, the applicant was duly prepared and received the degree at the hands of Bro. Wheeler. The Mark Lodge was then closed, and that of Excellent Master opened, when Bro. Henry Mitchell, along with Bro. Jno. B. Neil, (who received the Mark degree on the 28th of October, 1873), received that degree at the hands of Bro. Jas. A. Park. The Excellent Master Lodge was closed, and opened to that of the Royal Arch, when the aforesaid Bros. Henry Mitchell, and Jno. B. Neil were received and admitted as companions of the said degree by Comp. Wheeler, 1st. Principal Z., ably assisted by Comps. Park and Stewart, Comp. Jas. Balfour, acting as 1st Sojourner, with Comps. Murray and Mc. Gregor as 2nd and 3rd Sojourners, respectively. Comp. Balfour installed into office Comps. Wm. McGregor, 3rd Sojourner, and Thos. Yule, 2nd Captain. After some other business had been transacted, the Chapter was duly closed.

Lodge Athol (413), met in St. Mark's Hall, 213, Buchanan Street, on the 27th ult. In the unavoidable absence of the R.W.M. (Bro. John Wallace), the chair was occupied by P.M. Bro. John Miller; S.W. Bro. J. Louttit; J.W. Bro. O'Brien. The Lodge having been opened on the first degree, a candidate for admittance to that order was duly installed by Bro. Dobbie, P.M. 362. At the close, a vote of thanks to Mr. Dobbie for the impressive and generally excellent way in which he had worked the degree, was moved by the chairman, seconded by the S.W., and was carried unanimously. Bro. Dobbie, in briefly acknowledging the compliment, remarked that he had always found the brethren of the Athole very kind and friendly, and it was a source of great pleasure to him in any way to reciprocate such good feeling. If at any time it lay in his power to assist them, he should be only too glad to do so. Thereafter the lodge was raised to the Fellow-craft degree, and two brethren advanced to that degree from the one below, the work being performed in the most efficient manner by the chairman. Thereafter the Lodge was duly closed.

Provincial Grand Lodge of Glasgow.—The quarterly communication of this Lodge was held in St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan Street, on the 29th ult. There were present: Bros. W. Montgomerie Neilson, R.W.P.G.M.;

F. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M.; John Baird, P.G.S.W.; Thos. Halket, P.G.S.D.; Geo. Thallon, P.G.J.D.; Alexr. Bain, P.G.B.B.; Robert Robb, P.G. Marshal; John Fraser, Assistant P.G. Marshal; James Balfour, P.G. Director of Ceremonies; Wm. Phillips, P.G.I.G.; Bro. Fletcher, R.W.M. 346, Acting P.G.S.W.; and Bro. Westcott, R.W.M. 73, Acting P.G.J.W. The minutes of the Provincial Grand Lodge, and several Committees were read by Bro. McTaggart, (P.G. Secretary), and confirmed. A discussion then ensued upon a question Bro. Spiers v. Lodge St. Mary, Partick, 11, which was ruled from the chair to be irregular. The question of the advisability of holding a P.G. Masonic Festival this winter was next taken up and fully discussed; being ultimately resolved that the festival should take place, and that it should, as in former years, be in the shape of a soiree concert and ball. The P.G.L. Committee were deputed to make the necessary arrangements. On the motion of Bro. Fraser, Assistant P.G. Marshal, seconded by Bro. Robb, P.G. Marshal, it was unanimously resolved that new clothing should be forthwith provided for the P.G.L. office-bearers and stewards, as well as a supply for visitors from a distance. There being no further business on the card, the chairman (whose first appearance it was after lengthened absence from ill-health), said they would allow him to express the great pleasure he had in being able once more to come back amongst them. For the last six months he had had a bad time of it, but he was on his legs again and hoped to be able to assist in carrying out the work. He concluded by, in very cordial terms, thanking the D.P.G.M. for his valuable services to the Province during his (the chairman's) absence, and especially for his indefatigable attention during the season of lodge visitations. The P.G.L. heartily applauded the compliments thus paid to the D.P.G.M., who, in returning thanks for the same, observed that he had merely done his duty. After some business of minor importance, the Lodge was duly closed.

Lodge St. Vincent (553).—The minutes of the quarterly communication of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Glasgow, held on the 29th ult., embodied a notice of the consecration of this lodge. There were present on the occasion, Bro. F. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M., presiding, assisted by Bros. John Baird, P.G.S.W.; J. B. Walker, P.G. Treasurer; A. McTaggart, P.G. Secretary; Thos. Halket, P.G.S.D.; Jas. Balfour, P.G. Director of Ceremonies; John Fraser, P.G. Assistant Marshal; Wm. Phillips, P.G. and Thos. Fletcher, P.G. Convener of Committee. The P.G.L. having been opened in proper form, the ceremony of consecration was performed in a very solemn and impressive manner by the presiding Brother. Bro. Millar, Grand Director of Music, conducted the choir most efficiently. At the consecration had been completed, the D.P.G.M. installed the office-bearers, congratulated them on the establishment of a new and promising lodge at the West end. The newly elected R.W.M., Bro. Robert McDougall, replied, and in most felicitous terms thanked the D.P.G.M. for the invaluable services he had rendered to the Lodge St. Vincent at the commencement of what he (the speaker) hoped would be a prosperous career. The following were the office-bearers installed upon the occasion: Bros. Robert McDougall, R.W.M.; Bro. John Stark, D.M.; Bro. J. B. Walker, S.W.; Bro. Thos. Boston, S.W.; A. C. Hunter, J.W.; John M. Yelland, Treasurer; Bro. Haary; Jno. Fletcher, S.D.; Thos. Best. An after meeting of the lodge in the office-bearers of P.G.L. took as a pleasant and harmonious one.

Clydesdale (556).—The minutes of provincial Grand lodge, read at its on the 29th ult., bore reference to consecration of this lodge, which took within the Crown Street Assembly on the 17th of September last. A. Barrow, D.P.G.M. presided, by a competent number of office-bearers of P.G.L. The approaches to the having been securely guarded, the was opened in due and proper form, ceremony of consecration there- performed in a decorous and solemn according to the prescribed ritual. Congratulatory speeches were read, and the installation of office-bearers was then proceeded with. The list is as follows: William Phillips; J. B. McNaught, S.W.; J. McNaught, S.M.; J. Howie, S.W.; John Freu, James Weir, S.S.; John Doig, B.B.; J. G. G.; McDougall, J.S.; Wm. J. son, Provincial Grand Steward; Jackson, Architect; Thos. Russell. After the installation, the D.P.G.M. expressed his opinion that from Bro. Phil- ist experience in the capacity of his well-known zeal for the order, active position he had occupied affairs generally, that Lodge Clydes- dale in the future hold a prominent place in the annals of Freemasonry on this side of the river, and he hoped the incoming Masters would emulate the example of the first. A hearty vote of thanks from the P.G.D.M. for his services con- cluded the proceedings.

Commercial (79).—Some months ago a movement on the part of a number of members of this Chapter, and a few brethren of the Lodge Commercial, being Royal Arch Companions, was initiated, having for its object the re- formation of the chapter, which has for some time been in abeyance. Owing to rather exceptional circumstances, and other property of the chap- ter not being got possession of by the interested, and as the difficulty in the way of this seemed for the time to be insurmountable, it was deemed neces- sary to apply to the Supreme Grand Body for permission to open the chapter and officers in the absence of the consti- tutional authority. In accordance with this, the members were summoned for the evening of the 23rd ult., by authority of A. Barrow, the worthy Provin- cial Superintendent for the West of Scotland, who was held and largely attended meeting of the order in Glasgow. Com- mander Barrow presided, and, after reading the minutes, proceeded to open the meeting, after which the nominations to the offices having been made and accepted, he performed the ceremony of installation in his usual lucid and impres- sive manner. Companions Julius Brode, James Kenzie, and Andrew Ritchie were elected and installed as Principals, A. Barrow and W. Smith as Scribes E and W, and Thos. Herson as Treasurer, and Baird, James Jack as Sojourners. Com- mander Barrow thanked the Provincial Grand Superintendent for the very efficient man- ner in which he had conducted the cere- mony, and alluded to the substantial exer- cise made in assisting in procuring the same. The M.E. Superintendent re- sponded in brief but courteous terms, and the meeting was thereafter closed in proper form, all being delighted with the complete success of this, the first meeting of the chapter's second existence. It is but right to say that since their installa- tion the property of the chapter has been delivered to the office-bearers, so that it will not be necessary to meet again under the special dispensation.

Lodge Thistle (87) held their usual meet- ing in the hall, No. 12, Trongate, on Tues- day, the 20th inst., Brother John Miller, R.W.M., in the chair. There were also present Bros. John Fraser, P.M.; C. K. Jenkins, D.M.; Thos. Paton, Treasurer; and a numerous gathering of members and visiting brethren. The lodge having been opened in the first degree, after some pre- liminary business Bro. Fraser proposed Bro. W. H. Bickerton, 360, for affiliation, which, having been duly seconded and car- ried, was accordingly done by the R.W.M. After the initiation of a candidate into the mysteries of the order, the lodge was passed to the degree of Fellow Craft, and then raised to the Sublime degree of Master Mason, when a Fellow Craft received that high honour from the R.W.M. in a masterly and impressive manner. After the trans- action of some private business, the lodge was closed in due form.

DUMFRIES.

Presentation Supper.—It having been in- timated to some of the brethren of the Thistle Lodge of Freemasons, Dumfries, that it was the desire of Bro. John Crosbie, of Lantonside, to present the lodge with a banner, it was resolved to entertain Bro. Crosbie to supper on the occasion. Ac- cordingly a large number of the brethren met in the Lodge Room, White Swan Hotel, last night, Bro. Dykes in the chair, and Bro. Riddick, Croupier. Ample justice having been done to the good things pro- vided by Mrs. McGowan, the lodge was opened by Bro. Robert Wilson, R.W.M. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts were then given, after which Bro. Crosbie, in a few neat and well chosen remarks, pre- sented to his Mother Lodge, Thistle, a very elegant banner, and the R.W.M., in name of the lodge, thanked Bro. Crosbie for his magnificent present, which will be publicly displayed at Lockerbie for the first time on Friday next. The banner was ordered through Bro. Riddick, and was supplied by Bro. George Kenning, 145, Argyle Street, Glasgow. Toast, song, and sentiment fol- lowed in the usual Masonic style, till the lodge was closed in due form.

Ireland.

IRISH FREEMASONRY.

IN the Freeman's Journal a column or so is devoted to publications on the authority of "The Catholic Union of Ireland." It professes to supply trustworthy intelligence on Catholic subjects, domestic and foreign, likely to be of interest to Irish Catholic readers. It is not often, indeed, that the subjects treated of are of interest outside that communion, or that the mode of treat- ing them adopted is such as to recommend these communiqués to the general public as likely to supply "trustworthy intelligence." It may be interesting, however, to the public to learn that these unfortunate "Irish Catholics" are afflicted with a new grievance, if we are to believe the Catholic Union. The last publication of the Union refers to the bugbear of Freemasonry, and we learn that it is an untold insult to good Catholics that the Prince of Wales in England and the Duke of Abercorn in Ireland, should have accepted Grand Masterships in the Order. But, true to the provincialism which seems fated to pervade everything really "Irish," the Union are much more incensed against the new Irish Grand Master than against his illustrious English colleague. Speaking of the Prince of Wales, the Union seems inclined to be merciful, if strong:—"We protested, as most of the Catholics of the empire did protest, against the parade which His Royal Highness made of his Masonic belongings, and we are convinced that it would have been more prudent for the Prince of Wales not to have done so." How did His Royal Highness survive such a crushing dis- approval of his masonic doings? In the reign of George IV. an absurd English journal hinted that the Duke of Wellington was aiming at sovereign power in the State, but added for the reassurance of affrighted Royalists—"But we shall take care, &c." Possibly the spirited protest of the Union, even if it never reached its distinguished object, brought consolation to many a pious Irish Catholic heart. It is to be hoped so; for, otherwise, there was a great waste of virtuous indignation. But, as we said before, the Union reserves its bitterest resentment for the conduct of the Duke of Abercorn. We are told that whatever excuse might be made for the Prince of Wales there is none for the Irish Viceroy. "He shares largely in the actual government of Ireland, and has at his disposal a huge amount of valuable patronage. Therefore it is that we say that it would be injudicious, and would most probably be attended with serious suspicions as to the mode in which the Castle work of Ireland would be done, were his Excellency to take office in an organization that is looked upon with odium by the vast majority of the Irish people. That vast majority has no sympathy with Freemasonry. It is a con- demned association, whose members are held together by a bond of profane oath, and which is a recognized branch of the most anti-social, anti-Christian secret societies of the Continent and of America." Then the reader is reminded of all that the "secret societies" of the Continent are doing against the faithful in Germany and Switzerland, and "the frightful evils which Freemasonry is accomplishing in Brazil!" And—will the reader believe it?—as a piece of "trustworthy information," the Union states that here at home Freemasonry "is struggling to crush our Catholic enter- prise; to keep back Catholic youth from employment in various public offices; to shut the hospital professorships against Catholic doctors, and to monopolise various departments in connection with the legal administration of the country." Freemasons will smile at the petty spite which could dictate such falsehoods. The numerous Roman Catholics who, scorning the presumption of the Italian priesthood, have found their way into the craft, will blush for their co- religionists. And the general public, who know the characters of recognised Masons, comprising the best and most distinguished men in the country, will know what to think of the authors of such scurrility—only to be equalled by the pastorals of the Papal Legate. Seriously to reply to such false- hoods—advanced by those who, if they be honest, can know nothing of Freemasonry—is not our object. We simply desire to show our readers the character of one of the influences at work in forming Roman Catholic opinion in Ireland. We are free to admit that very few Roman Catholics whose opinion is worth considering would endorse such "trustworthy" teaching. We attach no importance to the fact that the present Pope was a Freemason before his office compelled him to abandon the brotherhood, any more than to the late secession of the Marquis of Ripon from his Faith and from the Order. These are events which concern merely the individuals themselves. Freemasonry is not one whit more respectable because Giovanni Maria Mastai Ferretti once belonged to one of its lodges; nor will it be thought less of because the Marquis of Ripon is not permitted by his new masters to maintain his connection with the craft. Both events are matters of very little importance to the Order. And it is equally unimportant to Masons that the Roman Catholic Church should have "cursed altogether" an Association where protestant and Roman Catholic meet in Christian brotherhood. Ultramontane jealousy did not influence the Prince of Wales, if he ever heard of it. Nor will it, we need not say, in the slightest degree influence the Duke of Abercorn. Whether his Grace has become Grand Master or not, we cannot say, notwithstanding the rumour to that effect. There is, we believe, some technical difficulty in giving him the highest post in an Order, where civil distinctions are not held superior to legal qualifications. But this we may be assured of that the whinings of the "Catholic Union" will not prevent his following in the steps of the Heir to the Throne of England.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF ANTRIM.

At the last meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Antrim, held in Ballymena, on the 14th inst., the D.P. Grand Master, Sir Charles Lanyon, in the chair—the following resolution, expressing regret at the death of his Grace the late Duke of Leinster, Grand Master of the Freemasons in Ireland, was proposed by Bro. Frederick A. Matthews, Past D.P.G.M., seconded by Bro. John H. Lawlor, P.M. No. 431, and unanimously passed, and copies directed to be forwarded to the Grand Lodge and the present Duke—viz.: "That, on this the first meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Antrim since the death of his Grace Augustus, Duke of Leinster, who for upwards of sixty years filled the position of Grand Master of the Freemasons of Ireland, we cannot refrain from recording our heartfelt sorrow at his removal from amongst us. His Grace, whose ancestors in by-gone centuries more than once filled the high office of Grand Master in this country, conferred great, continuous, and lasting benefits on the Order during the lengthened period of his rule. We feel profound regret that we shall no more enjoy the advantage of his wise and able counsel; but the conspicuous example of the Masonic virtues which, in his exalted station, his long and honoured life afforded, will ever live in the memories of a grateful brotherhood."—Correspondent.

OBITUARY.

Liverpool last week was suddenly deprived of two good Masonic sons, and the news of their deaths will spread much sorrow amongst those to whom our deceased Masonic brethren were best known. Bro. Thomas Page, licensed victualler, Low-hill, died very suddenly on Thursday week.

Our brother had been in ill health for some time, and during the day dined in Liverpool, after which he lay down on a sofa to rest awhile. During the afternoon a friend called, and as he appeared to be asleep, it was resolved to arouse him, but he was then found to be unconscious. A doctor was called, who directed Bro. Page's removal to his house, where his own medical man was called in to attend him. He never regained consciousness, but died the same night about eleven o'clock. Bro. Page, although never prominently taking part in Masonic affairs, was well-known in connection with public matters. He was chairman of the Licensed Victuallers' Association about ten years ago, and, besides being a member of the committee, he took a leading part in matters connected with the trade, frequently attending in London on deputations to the Government having reference to the interests of licensed victuallers. Bro. Page also interested himself in the welfare of the Licensed Victuallers' Institution, in West Derby-road, and was generally present at the annual treats given to the inmates, for whom he always exhibited a kindly regard. Bro. Page a few years ago was a member of the West Derby board of guardians; and three years since he contested West Derby ward, in the Conservative interest, for a seat in the town council, but was unsuccessful. Bro. Page died in his 46th year. His remains were interred in Smithdown-lane Cemetery, on Saturday last, and the funeral was largely and very influentially attended. Amongst those who were present were Mr. Alderman Rigby, Bro. E. Samuelson, Mr. Alderman Heintz, Dr. Monk, Bro. W. J. Lunt, Mr. T. Blezard, Mr. J. Tarbuck, Bro. J. Ellis, Mr. H. Danson, Mr. J. Atkinson, Mr. W. Coward, Mr. T. Hamson, Mr. R. Lumb, Bro. W. Vines, Bro. Richard Bennett, Mr. T. Hughes, Mr. Nuttall, Mr. T. Heyes, Mr. J. Andrews, Mr. Coward, Bro. Captain Berry, and a great many others, members of the Licensed Victuallers' Association and licensed victuallers generally. Bro. Page has left five children.

—o—

Another death which took place on Saturday, was that of Bro. George Rigby Smith, Wine and Spirit Merchant, formerly Sec., and afterwards S.W. of the Harmonic Lodge, and also, we believe, either W.M. or P.M. of Lodge No. 155. He died at his residence, Parkside House, Stanley-road, Bootle, near Liverpool, the immediate cause being consumption. He had been ill for some time, and had been confined to his house for nearly the whole period since the burning of the landing stage, at which he was present, and, in consequence of getting wet, caught a cold which aggravated the complaint of which he has died at the early age of 37 years. Bro. Rigby Smith served his apprenticeship as a printer with Messrs. M'Corquodale at Newton. When he was out of his apprenticeship he went into the employ of his uncle, Mr. Alderman Thomas Rigby, and during the time he was with him he not only gave great satisfaction, but he gained the respect of all with whom he had business to transact, and made himself a host of friends. He took a warm interest in the charitable institutions of Liverpool, particularly the Seamen's Orphanage and the Bluecoat Hospital. The inmates of the last-mentioned institution will miss him greatly, for he was always interesting himself on their behalf, and gave them a treat annually. He was also a member of the Licensed Victuallers' Association. Mr. Smith has left a widow and four children.

Rebicks.

STOKES' RAPID WRITING. Houlston, and 7, Paternoster-buildings.

We think Mr. Stokes' book is both very nice, and likely to be very useful. In it is there still so much defect to be noted in handwriting. Either through custom or carelessness, through haste or the habit of years, often write a "fist," to use a popular word, decipherable by our best friends. We shall remember Sergt. Snubbins' Clerk, who boasted the vivacious little Perker with a self-approved chuckle that no one could read Sergt. Snubbins' "Court hand" but himself, and that an "education fee" had been paid in several most important opinions. And probably every day we arise in which, as a friend of ours once observed, "if you have a little spare time, I shall be willing to pay for some writing lessons for you." Indeed we are disposed to think, we may be certain, hardly a day elapses but that the members of some "chapel" ask with "a breath," for they never use strong language. Mr. Weller once did, "where" that gent "baptized," whose MS. so puzzles them well as their foreman compositor, and deplored the same time, that when he was sent to school he was not taught to write better. Indeed has been asserted that, in some cases, such as the despair over some passages of hope-caligraphy, that the "devil" has been patched to the "Fox and Grapes" for a mild beer to soothe the feelings of the assembly.

We feel, then, how all printers will hail Stokes' well-conceived and most interesting manual; and will hope that, in this case at rate, theory and practice may go hand-in-hand.

Mr. Stokes gives some admirable rules and examples, which, we trust, all will profit by nothing is so pleasant in itself as good writing.

We quite agree with the old schoolmaster who once told a bevy of laughing girls notwithstanding many other nice things, pretty things, (here he looked at the young ladies), and good things in the world, none was so pretty, nice, or good, as a fine man's hand! Whether the young ladies believed we are not told. We have been deeply affected we admit, by one example Mr. Stokes gives of bad hand-writing, and which we think to transcribe for the benefit of our readers.

As Mr. Stokes says, sentimentally, "Impetuous writing sometimes produces deplorable results."

AN AP(PE)ALLING WARNING.

A gentleman wrote to a captain at sea. To ask, as a curious favour, if he would bring him home "two," if two could be found.

On the captain's return he wrote off to his friend,

To say, that he hoped for his monkeys he'd ship Tho' he'd shipped a full hundred, and bro't them away,

On the passage some died, he was sorry to say, So, in spite of all care, he could only contrive To bring him home eighty-six monkeys alive.

The gentleman started, the gentleman stared For eighty-six monkeys he wasn't prepared. Either he or the captain had made a blunder,

To think how it occurred, overwhelmed with wonder.

When his letter was read, nothing clearer could he'd put t double o, and had not crossed h Thus he'd eighty-six monkeys consigned to dwelling,

As a little reward for bad writing and spell! Gentle reader, and writer, and speller beware Remember the monkeys; take care, oh, care.

Can any thing be more ap(e)lling? One monkey is enough as a general rule most quiet people, especially if it be like of the Simian genus, dirty in habit, noisy, a mischievous; an habitual thief, and of a chcerous disposition. No further example needed to prove the absolute importance of good writing, and the possible consequences of bad.

Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

R MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 297.]

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE With Supplement, 2d.

EMULATION

Edge of Improvement.

Under the Sanction of the Lodge of Unions,
No. 256.

Bro. J. HERVEY (G. Sec.), Treasurer.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Of the Lodge will take place at FREEMASONS' HALL,

ON

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 27, 1874,

On which occasion

Bro. Aeneas J. McIntyre, Q.G.

(Grand Registrar),

Has kindly consented to preside.

Lodge will be opened at seven o'clock p.m. precisely.

The work will be the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th degrees of the First, and the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd degrees of Third Lecture.

Tickets for the Banquet may be had of the Secretary, 4s. each.

A. GREEN, Sec.,
2, Clifton-terrace, Notting-hill, W

B.—The Emulation Lodge of Improvement will meet at Freemasons' Hall on every Friday Evening throughout the year at 7 o'clock.

THE VICE-PRESIDENTS, GO-VERNORS, AND SUBSCRIBERS OF THE
L MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

Women,—

I beg to return my most grateful thanks for the support in the election of my daughter, Fanny de Osborne, to the above Institution on the 10th of sent month through the personal and united efforts of Messrs. Giffiths Smith, George Adamson, and Lewis for which I shall ever feel grateful.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCES OSBORNE.

High-street, Margate, Kent.

and Royal Irish Chapter of Ireland.

ready, 8vo. red cloth lettered, price 2/, also pocket edition, limp cloth, price 1/.
LAWS AND REGULATIONS OF THE GRAND
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER OF IRELAND, including those for the government of MARK
MASTER MASONS' LODGES.
Sold at Freemasons' Hall, Dublin, or may be sent to R. Spencer, Great Queen-street, or to E. Kenning, 198, Fleet-street, London.

ALL TO THE CRAFT OF MASONRY."

The National Song for the Brotherhood.

Sung by Bro. Upstone, of the Acacia Lodge, and led by himself and Bro. Wallace Wells, of the St. Asaph Lodge.

Sent free for Eighteen Stamps.
Sold by Paston, 5, Tottenham-court-road, London.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF
THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D
(ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BRECH
M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously
resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro.
Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited
to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as
the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R.
Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time
of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren
and their relatives, contributing from his means
to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys'
School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected
bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs.
Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin,
Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary.

ENGLISH CLOTHING is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. Moses and Son's as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes,
and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES AND SON have as usual
made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11
o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

M O U R N I N G .

E. MOSES and SON have a large stock of a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.
Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted
by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—
Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 179, Piccadilly.
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE
PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
in pen and ink ... 4/6
Heraldic colours ... 2/0
Engraved on copper ... 1/10
Largest engraved on spoons (dms.) 5/0
" " " " seal or ring 7/6
" " " " watch or stick 1/6

Bro. JAMES B. SLY,
9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st
Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.

Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by
STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,
Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS,
London.

DIETZ & CO., LONDON, PARAGON LAMPS.
BURNING PETROLEUM OR PARAFFIN.

Unrivalled for SIMPLICITY, ECONOMY,

DURABILITY, SAFETY, and BRILLIANCY.

OVER 5000
Table Lamps, Chandeliers,
Billiard Lamps,
From the Cheapest for the Million fitted with

PARAGON

Giving the most Brilliant Light
ONE FAR-THING
Sold by the principal Ironmongers

PATTERNS OF
Hall Lamps, Brackets,
Ship Lamps &c.
to the most exquisite Drawing Room Lamp,
our famous

BURNERS.

of 25 Candles at a cost of
PER HOUR,
and Lamp Dealers in Great Britain

Our HURRICANE LANTERNS are absolutely windproof and safe; simple in construction, and give a splendid white and steady light. They are the most serviceable Lanterns for use in Stables, Farms, Gardens, Cellars, Factories, Ships, &c.

THE CLIMAX COOKING AND HEATING STOVES, in six sizes, will be found extremely useful in every Household, being always ready for use, and saving time and money, coals, trouble of lighting fire dust, and refuse.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,

GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales. Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern,

MASONIC DEPOT, 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN, CITY OF LONDON. THE above mentioned Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.

Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
Bro. F. HILFBRICH, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.

COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.

THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.

Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yachting, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
(NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS, D'JEUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the viandts will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste.

The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
Bros. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS, Proprietors

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,
{ 198, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
{ 145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.

This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children." It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates: in tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.) Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 21s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.

The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.

A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF
MASONIC EMBLEMS.

may be had. Wholesale and Retail, at Bro. George Kenning, at his Masonic Depots in London, Liverpool, and Glasgow.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF FREEMASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.

PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., cloth, 10s. 6d.

PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the 1717 Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s.
Reeves and Turner, 198, Strand, London.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly excels all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.

"AGUA AMARELLA" restores the Human Hair its pristine hue; no matter at what age, price 3s. 6d. bottle.

"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR
JOHN GOSNELL & CO'S

And see that you have procured this valuable Article.

Sold by all respectable Chemists and Grocers. Wholesale, Angel-street, 91, Upper Thames-street, London.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—

Craft Masonry 715
 Royal Arch 717
 Knights Templar 717
 Red Cross of Constantine 717
 Royal and Select Masters 718
 Provincial Grand Lodge of Jersey 718
 Stanley Hospital Fete and Gala 718
 Anniversary 719
 Charity 719
 Masonic Tidings 719
 The Grand Mastership of Irish Freemasonry 720
 The Plymouth Question 720
 Grand Chapter 721
 The Pope a Freemason? 721

CORRESPONDENCE:—

Installation of the Grand Master 722
 Royal Visit to Plymouth 722
 The John Thomas Memorial 722
 Masonic Revival 722
 Announcements 713 714 720 724 725 726 727 728

SUPPLEMENT (EIGHT PAGES).

Provincial Grand Lodge of South Wales 729
 Ancient and Accepted Rite of Sussex 729
 Provincial Grand Lodge of Durham 730
 The Boy's School and Mark Masonry 730
 Subject and Scope of Statutes Con. Gen. K. T. 730
 Memorial of Bro. Geo. Rigby Smith 731
 Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution 731
 Royal Masonic Institution for Boys 731

OTLANDS:—

Grand Lodge of Scotland 731
 Reports of Meetings 732
 Wreck of the Chusan 733
 Grand Lodge of Ireland—Election of Grand Master 733 Treaties on Literature Science and Art 734
 Masonic Notes and Queries 735
 News 735
 American Correspondence 735
 Installation of the Francis Burdett Lodge 736

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

LODGE OF FAITH (No. 141).—The installation meeting of this old lodge, the charter of which bears date 1774, took place at Anderson's Hotel, Fleet-street, on the 27th ultimo. A very large assemblage of the brethren was present to witness some excellent working by the retiring W.M., Bro. Themans. He having resigned the lodge in the three degrees, resumed the second, passed Bro. Ashton, and resumed the third degree. when Bros. Hall, Stott, and Havard were raised to the sublime degree of M.M., both ceremonies having been accomplished in a most faultless manner by the W.M. After a short repose the installation was effected with the selection of Master having fallen on Bro. L.W. Kennett, and a more zealous officer cannot exist in any lodge, he being much beloved by his brethren. Having been placed in the chair of K.S., he proceeded to invest his officers as follows:—Bros. Waygood, S.W.; Jones, J.W.; Mattell, S.D.; Scot, J.D.; Taylor, I.G.; Bye, W.S.; D. Davies, M.C.; Staff, Tyler, having served this office seven years. The W.M. then proceeded with a few appropriate remarks to invest the Immediate Past Master with the retiring jewel of the lodge's installation, to which he returned a suitable answer. The lodge was then closed in due form, and the brethren, by the command of the W.M., dressed in clothing. The banquet was ably conducted by Bro. Clemow, assisted by Bro. Smith, and attention was all that could be desired—of which upwards of 90 partook, amongst which were many visitors, of whom we mention Bros. Franks, P.M. Euphrates Lodge; Wilson, P.M. Etonian Lodge, 209; H. Ver-W.M. Gibon Lodge, 49; also W. A. Sharp, Gibon Lodge, 49.

EMERGENCY LODGE (No. 177).—An emergency meeting of this lodge was held on Saturday at Anderson's Hotel, when Bro. Frederick C.C., W.M., in the presence of P.M.'s John Smith, James Brett, Frederick Smith, Foulger, Tims, the officers, and a good number of lay members, initiated in excellent style

Mr. W. H. Richards, corn factor, of 3, Catherine-court, Seething-lane; Bro. J. R. S. Vine, Secretary to the Lord Mayor; and Bro. J. W. Williams, Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries, were admitted joining members of the lodge.

WINDSOR.—Etonian Lodge of St. John (No. 209).—One of the most influential and numerous meetings of this lodge which has been known for some considerable time, took place at the Masonic Hall, Windsor, on Tuesday, the 3rd inst., when the W.M., Bro. G. W. Dixon, was supported by Bros. Bladon, S.W.; J. O. Cartar, J.W.; J. Strange, P.M., Sec., P.G.S.D. Berks and Bucks; W. R. Denne, S.D.; W. N. Crowhurst, J.D.; G. Gavin, I.G.; R. Roberts, S.; E. Schiemann, S.; J. Wilson, P.M.; J. H. S. Reid, P.M.; W. S. Nicholes, A. Pears, Duffield, Jones, Stollery, A. W. Wilson, W. H. Webster, T. Hiscock, Tully, P. Lovegrove, &c., and the following visiting brethren:—Bros. Wiggington (Windsor Castle), 771, P.P.S.G.W. Berks and Bucks; W. H. Bingham, W.M. 771; Grisebrook, P.M. 771, P.G.J.D. Berks and Bucks; Tolley, P.M. 771, P.P.G.O. Berks and Bucks; Powell, P.M. 771; E. Hopwood, P.M. (Faith) 141, and S.W. (Heating), 1512; W. E. Chorley, J.D. (Dalhousie), 865; and Ridge (Villiers), 1194. The lodge having been duly opened, and the minutes of the previous meeting unanimously confirmed, Mr. Joseph Andrews, of St. Margaret's, Twickenham, who had been previously balloted for, was initiated into Masonry by the W.M., the charge being given by the J.W. The next business of importance, the passing to the second degree of Bro. R. S. Garrett, was postponed until the next meeting of the lodge, in consequence of his inability to attend, an intimation which was announced by telegram. The report of the committee appointed at last meeting, to revise the bye-laws of the lodge, was then taken, and so thoroughly were the brethren of the lodge satisfied with their labours, that the several alterations and additions were accepted without discussion. Two new propositions were made—one a candidate for initiation, and the other as a joining member. Before closing the lodge the W.M. alluded in graceful terms to the re-appearance, after a considerable interval, of the father of the lodge, Bro. Wiggington, who is now in his eighty-sixth year; it need scarcely be said the brethren by hearing from Bro. Wiggington his high estimation of the present flourishing position of the lodge after his acquaintance with it through its many vicissitudes was in every respect highly gratifying. The J.W., Bro. J. O. Carter, announced his intention of serving the office of Steward at the approaching festival in aid of the Benevolent Institution. After the lodge had been closed in due form, the brethren adjourned to the Castle Hotel for refreshment, and separated at an early hour.

WHITTINGTON LODGE (No. 862).—The audit committee of this lodge met on Saturday last at Anderson's Hotel. The accounts were carefully examined, and it was found at the conclusion of the business that the outgoing W.M., Bro. Frederick Smith, will leave the chair on the 16th inst., with a balance of over £66 in the Treasurer's hands.

ABERGAVERN.—Philanthropic Lodge (No. 818).—The installation meeting of this lodge was held at the Masonic Hall on Friday, October 23rd, when the High Sheriff of the county, Bro. Crawshaw Bailey, S.W., was duly elevated to the chair of K.S. by the D.P.G.M. of Monmouthshire, Bro. S. G. Humphrey, assisted by a full attendance of Brethren of the P.G.L., and Past Masters. The new W.M. invested the following officers for the ensuing year: Bros. J. W. Price, I.P.M.; E. D. Thomas, S.W. and Treasurer; G. H. Garwin, J.W.; the Rev. W. D. Harwood, Chaplain; W. C. Freeman, P.M., Sec.; J. V. O'Bryan Harsford, S.D.; H. Jenkins, J.D.; C. Hawells, Org.; J. Smith, Dir. Cer.; H. Barrett, I.G.; J. Morgan and E. G. Davies, Stewards; and J. Green, Tyler. After the lodge the brethren adjourned to banquet at the Angel Hotel, when about eighty sat down. After the usual loyal toasts the W.M., in returning thanks for the enthusiastic way his health had been received, assured the brethren that he would use his utmost endeavours to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor, the I.P.M. Bro. J. W. Prin, whom he truly designated as one of the best W.M.'s that has occupied the chair. This meeting has been the most successful since the revival of the lodge in 1860. The original lodge was established by the French prisoners in the Peninsular war, who were detained in the town, and the old collars and jewels are still worn by the officers, having been kept by Bro. James Jones, a P.M. of the old lodge for more than forty years, till the lodge was resuscitated, when they were presented to the W.M. and brethren of No. 818.

DEPTFORD.—Royal Oak Lodge (No. 871).—At the White Swan Tavern, High-street, Deptford, on Thursday, October 22nd, the regular meeting of this lodge was held. There were present Bros. G. Andrews, W.M.; S. A. Lewin, S.W.; H. J. Tissen, J.W.; W. Andrews, P.M., Treasurer; F. Walters, P.G.P. Middlesex, P.M., Secretary; Rev. J. M. Vaughan, A.M., P.P.G. Chaplain Middlesex, P.M., Chaplain; J. J. Pakes, S.D.; J. Baxter Langley, I.G.; H. J. Dawe, M.C.; Fisher, Organist; W. Myatt, I.P.M.; J. Truelove, P.M.; J. Hawker, P.M.; J. C. Craig, L. Lemon, G. Alford, R. West, F. H. Burr, W. Atkins, J. G. Vohmann, E. James, G. Harvey, E. Good, J. W. Hadingham, F. G. Skinner, J. G. Thomas, R. Killick, E. Wood, W. Elgood, G. H. Stables, R. K. Hood, R. Harvey, W. A. R. Harris, T. Horton, and many more. Amongst the visitors we noticed Bros. H. Green, S.D. 190; W. Y. Laing, P.M. 45, 1326; J. Howe, 1326; W. J. A. Dench, 1326; W. R. W. Middleton, 1326; C. Howe, 1326; J. Woister, 1326; G. Fawe, 1275; Rev. P.M. Holden, J.D. 907; W. Lane, S.W. 28; W. M. Jacobs, 1348; Loughborough, 140; Fisher, 700; Watson, 1155; C. G. C. Stahr, P.M. 871, 1329; J. Patterson, 1002, Newton, 157, besides others whose names we did not know. The W.M. in a manner worthy of the fame of such predecessors as Bros. Dr. Dixon and Scott, Wilton, Collington, Walters, and others well known in the Craft, maintained the high proficiency of the usual working of the chair, by the admirable, painstaking, efficient, impressive, and correct manner in which he raised Bros. Pierce, Fawn, 1275; Dench, 1326; and Middleton, 1326; to the third degree. He afterwards passed Bros. Alford, Home 1326, and Woister, 1326, to the second degree. Some gentlemen were proposed for initiation. The lodge was closed. Banquet followed. The usual toasts were given and received.

FROME.—Royal Somerset Lodge (No. 973).—This lodge met on the afternoon of Thursday, October 22nd, at the Masonic Hall, Frome, for the purpose of installing the W.M. elect for the year, when there was a numerous attendance of the members, and of visiting brethren from Bristol, Bath, Trowbridge, Wincanton, Glastonbury, and other neighbouring lodges. The W.M. elect, Bro. M. Messiter, P.P.G.J.W. Somerset, was in the most able and impressive manner installed in the chair of K.S. by Bro. R. C. Else, P.G.S. Somerset, in the regretted absence of V.W.D.P.G.M., Bro. Bridges, who, from ill health, was unable to attend. The W.M. then proceeded to invest his officers as follows:—Bros. H. C. Lopes, Q.C., M.P., S.W.; W. H. Perrett, J.W.; W. Mason, Treasurer; A. R. Bailey, Secretary; R. Taylor, S.D.; E. Harewood, J.D.; Benale, D.C.; H. Haley, Derry, Organist; and Keed and Gullick, Stewards. At the close of the business the brethren adjourned for refreshment to the Crown Hotel, where an excellent repast was furnished by Bro. Gough, who deserved and received high praise for his first rate bill of fare, the high character of his wines, and the completeness of his arrangement. The W.M. was supported by a goodly gathering including Bros. Lord H. T. Thynne, M.P., Grand S.W. of England; General Doherty, P.G.S.W. Somerset; H. C. Lopes, M.M.; Else, P.G.S. Somerset, &c., and a most enjoyable evening was spent, the pleasures of the evening being greatly enhanced by the musical efforts of several of those present.

ALNWICK.—Alnwick Lodge (No. 1167).—At the regular lodge, held in the Masonic Hall, on Wednesday, the 4th inst., Bro. Henry Heatley, S.W., was installed W.M. for the ensuing year. The lodge was opened by Bro. Blair, P.M., and the installation ceremony was performed by Bro. Davidson, P.M., P.P.J.D., The W.M., having been duly installed, invested the following officers: Bro. A. Robertson, S.W.; J. Davison, J.W.; Rev. W. L. J. Gooley, Chaplain; J. W. Bowey, Treasurer; G. Simpson, Sec.; H. S. Johnson, S.D.; W. Hall, J.D.; G. Challoner, I.G.; W. Walters, Tyler; Bros. Logan and G. H. Thompson were the appointed Stewards. The business of the lodge being over, the brethren adjourned to Bro. Whiteford's, Star Hotel, where a most excellent dinner was served up, and afterwards a most pleasant and harmonious evening spent.

SEACOMBE.—Warren Lodge (No. 1276).—The installation meeting of this lodge was held at the Stanley Arms Hotel, Seacombe, on Tuesday, 20th ult. The W.M., Bro. J. H. Ward, took the chair at five o'clock, supported by Bro. T. Platt, P.P.G.W., as S.W.; Bro. J. Redshalg, J.W.; and the other officers of the lodge. Amongst those present were Bros. W. Bulley, P.J.G.; J. P. Platt, P.P.J.G.W.; T. Platt, P.P.J.G. Deacon; R. C. Mellor, P.P.G.D., N.W. and S.; C. Hill, P.P.G.R.W.L.; W. R. Bainbridge, P.M. 721, the W.M. elect, R. W. Holt, P.M.; T. S. Jones, P.M.; C. Leedham, P.M. 220; T. Ashmore, P.M. 823. T. Shepherd, and the following brethren: W. Evans, W. H. Francis, T. M. Pennington, T. Miller, D. Gillet, T. Gray, John Williams, G. Mason, J. C. Lawrance, J. Moore, F. Coulton; E. J. McMurdie, H. Skinner, E. Miller, W. S. McGraa, F. Raby, A. Paynter, W. M. French, T. Marcus, 724, J. P. Gamble, 1264, John Melloy, 269, E. Chater, 1094, T. Maxwell, and several others. After the confirmation of the minutes of the last meeting Bro. W. R. Bainbridge was presented to the W. Master, Bro. T. H. Ward, to receive at his hands the benefit of installation, by Bro. W. Bulley, P.J.G.W., and Bro. R. W. Holt, P.M.; and having taken the obligation a Board of Installed Masters was formed, and Bro. W. R. Bainbridge was installed and received the salutations; and after the brethren had been re-admitted to the lodge, he was proclaimed according to ancient custom. The Installing Master performed the ceremony in an admirable manner. The W.M. then appointed his officers as follows: Bros. T. H. Ward, I.P.M.; Jas. Redshalg, S.W.; John Williams, J.W.; W. H. Frances, Treas.; Wm. Jones, Sec.; H. Skinner, S.D.; J. C. Lawrance, J.D.; R. W. Holt, P.M., D.C.; Pemberton, P.M. Organist; J. Higgin, I.G.; and Bros. Burgess and Nash, Stewards. Afterwards the lodge was called from labour to refreshment. The brethren re-assembled at the banquet, served by Bro. J. Martin. On the removal of the cloth the W.M. proposed "The Queen and the Craft;" this was highly honoured. He then proposed "Our Royal Bro. the Prince of Wales, the Princess of Wales, and rest of the Royal Family." This was received with much enthusiasm. The W.M. then proposed "The Earl of Carnarvon, R.W.D.G.M., and the other Grand Officers." (Masonic honours.) The W.M. then said, in proposing the next toast it gave him great pleasure, for he was honoured with the presence of the V.W.J.G. Warden. The toast was that of "The Right Hon. Lord de Tabley, R.W.P.G.M.; the R.W.D.P.G.M., and the rest of the P.G.L. Officers," coupling the name of Bro. W. Bulley, the much-respected P.J.G.W.; this was responded to with the highest honours, &c., the V.W. Bro. W. Bulley, returned thanks and gave some good advice to the brethren with regard to their duties. "The health of the W.M." having been proposed, and received heartily by the brethren, he returned thanks, said he felt highly honoured at being installed W.M. of a lodge for a second time; he never neglected his duties during seven years he filled the various offices in Lodge 721, and he would do his best to promote the interest of the Warren Lodge, for his love for Masonry was unabated. The W.M. then said he had a pleasing duty to perform. Bro. Ward, I have much pleasure in presenting you with this P.M. jewel, on behalf of the Warren Lodge, for the masterly manner you have discharged the duties of your office, and

I hope you will be spared many years to wear this jewel at Masonic meetings, as a mark of distinction, you have so deservingly won. Brethren, I now give you "Health and happiness to our Brother Thomas Houghton Ward." This was enthusiastically received. Bro. Ward rose to return thanks, and said: W.M., and brethren all, I feel myself incompetent to thank you sufficiently for the kind way in which you have presented me with this jewel, it has been my study to work for the benefit of the lodge; again, brethren, I thank you, heartily. Bro. J. P. Platt returned thanks for the Charities, particularly the C.M.E. Institute, and hoped the brethren would subscribe as they had hitherto done. Bro. Constable's drawing for Life Governorships of the Girls' Masonic Institution was well received by the brethren, many taking tickets. The other toasts having been proposed and responded to, the lodge was called to labour. Some business of a formal character having been gone through, the lodge was finally closed, in solemn form, and the brethren separated.

HAMPTON COURT.—Campbell Lodge (No. 1415).—The regular meeting of this lodge was held on Wednesday, Oct. 28, at the Mitre Hotel. There were present Bro. Dr. Kimber, W.M.; Bro. D. M. Dewar, S.W.; Bro. T. Keene, J.W.; Bro. A. Codner, P. Prov. G. Reg. Middlesex, S.D.; Bro. J. Levander, J.D.; Bro. T. Cubitt, P.M., G. Purs., Treas.; Bro. H. C. Levander, P.M. Sec.; and other brethren. Visitors: Bro. Rev. Dr. Thompson, No. 1, Bros. Lee and Symons. The business of the evening was the passing by the W.M. of Bros. Johnson and Summers, and the election of W.M. and Treasurer, the ballot being unanimous for Bro. Dewar as W.M., and Bro. Cubitt as Treas. One gentleman was proposed for initiation, and two as joining members. The usual excellent banquet followed, and the brethren separated apparently well contented both with their "labour and refreshment."

HAMPTON COURT.—Era Lodge (No. 1423). On Saturday, 10th October, at the King's Arms Hotel, Hampton Court, the regular meeting of this prosperous and flourishing lodge was held. Bro. H. A. Dubois, P.G.A.D.C. Middlesex, W.M., opened the lodge. There were present during the afternoon Bros. J. C. Parkinson, D.P.G.M. Middlesex; J. W. Baldwin, S.W.; J. Baxter Langley, J.W.; T. J. Sabine, P.G.S.B. Middlesex, P.M. Treasurer; F. Walters, P.G.P. Middlesex, P.M., Sec.; J. S. Sweasey, S.D.; S. Woolf, J.D.; E. W. Deveux, I.G.; Rev. P. M. Holden, Chaplain; A. F. Loose, M.C.; B. Wright, W.S.; W. A. Simmons, C.S.; and several others. The visitors were Bros. E. Harris, P.M., Treas. 73; B. Swallow, W.M. 382; Morrell, P.M. 111; P. Magee, 148; S. Kennins, 278; H. Andrews, 784; W. Hardman, 1275; J. Barton &c. The minutes were read and unanimously confirmed. Bro. F. Walters, P.M., the veteran Secretary, took the chair. He passed Bros. Becker, Barton, and Hardman to the second degree, and raised Bros. Pearson, Thornhill, and Munday to the third degree, the work being done in an impressive and painstaking manner. The W.M. resumed the chair, and presided for the remainder of the evening. On motion, made by Bro. F. Walters, and seconded by Bro. J. S. Sweasey, "The sum of ten guineas was voted from the lodge charity fund to be given to the widow of a deceased member." The petition was recommended to the Lodge of Benevolence. Several names were given in to the Secretary and announced for initiation. The lodge was closed. A good banquet followed.

ATHENÆUM LODGE (No. 1491).—The sixth meeting of this highly flourishing lodge was held on Wednesday evening, the 4th inst., in the lodge room, within the Athenæum, situated in Camden-road, Holloway. The lodge was opened by the W.M., Bro. Samuel Poynter, P.M., assisted by Bros. W. Giles, S.W.; Angelo J. Lewis, J.W.; Benjamin Mallam, Treas.; George J. Brocklersby, Sec.; A. C. Lewis, S.D.; C. Giles, J.D.; and W. H. Thomas, I.G. There were also present as visitors Bros. R. N. Marsh, P.M. 1105; R. N. Field, W.M. 902; Robert Shackell, P.M., 30, and W.M.

1299; John Williams, 699 (Freemason), and numerous other brethren. After the confirmation of minutes of last meeting, the brethren proceeded to work, and passed to the sublime degree of M.M. Bros. Dodds, Smiles, and Wyman. The ceremony was rendered thorough in such a manner that will never be forgotten, and the explanation of the tracing boards was given in that usual eloquent style which distinguishes the W.M. of the Athenæum Lodge. Ballot was then taken for Bros. Marsh, Ray, St. James' Union, 180; James Robert Brown, Neptune, 22; and Carl Adolph La Freedom, 77, as joining members, which proving unanimous, those brethren were admitted and duly elected. Ballots having been duly taken and declared unanimous in each case, the W.M. proceeded to initiate into the first degree of Freemasonry Messrs. Armand William Duret, Joseph Buzzegoli, and Alfred George Driver, the ceremony being performed with great impressiveness. A discussion then took place respecting the bye-laws, &c., and a vote of thanks was unanimously passed to the Burgoyne Lodge, No. 902, for the kind loan of much of the furniture required for working so far the business of the Athenæum Lodge, which Bro. R. N. Field, the W.M. of the Burgoyne Lodge of which Bro. Poynter, the W.M. of the Athenæum, is a P.M. and Treasurer, being present, eloquently acknowledged, after which lodge was closed in due form, and the brethren proceeded to refreshment in the great hall of the building, where the W.M. presided over an elegant collation. After the removal of the cloth, the W.M. rose to propose the "Queen and the Craft," to which the brethren instantly responded. In proposing the health of "H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and G.M. designate of England," he (the W.M.) trusted the brethren would all heartily respond to that toast which needed no encomium from him. The toast was drank most enthusiastically. The healths of the Earl of Carnarvon and rest of Grand Officers, both Past and Present, was proposed, and the W.M. felt a deal of pleasure in seeing his old friend and lodge-mate, Bro. Shackell, whom he should ask to respond for the Grand Officers, and therefore, the W.M. continued, I give you the "Healths of the Earl of Carnarvon and rest of Grand Officers, both Past and Present," and would couple with that toast the name of Bro. Shackell. Bro. Shackell returned thanks in suitable terms. Bro. J. Brocklerby rose and said: It is my privilege to propose the health of our W.M. He is a most sincere Mason, and a very happy one in his working. For myself I have received very great assistance from him, and you will am sure, drink heartily his very good health. The toast was received and responded to with loud cheers. The W.M. in responding said I will not detain you at so late an hour. I am extremely indebted to you for the very high compliment you have just paid me. I would say that every brother in this lodge should know his work, and then every initiate should go out into the world well posted in the principles of Masonry. We have turned out some very good men. I would quote the words of the Poet.

"In the latter days of art
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part
For the Gods see everywhere."
Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen
Make the place where Gods may dwell,
Beautiful, entire and clean."

I am very thankful to know that during presence in this lodge we have had great success. I feel a pleasure in saying that our esteemed Bro. Shirley has offered to present this lodge with a set of candlesticks and stands. It proves him to be an excellent Mason, and I return you my sincerest thanks. The W.M. then said I have to propose is one of great importance, being the healths of those who we have admitted to the light this evening. They began at once to see the great power of intellect has over human progress, and how every human being and to every man of our valuable Order. This system they have undertaken to promulgate, and we hope the path they have taken to tread will be a long one, and as they go on from year to year we wish them very success, and trust the higher position we have obtained may be an inferior one to that to which they may one day hope to attain. I therefore ask you to drink heartily the healths of those new members. The toast was highly honoured. The new members severally responded in suitable terms. The W.M. next rose to propose the Visitors, and said he was always pleased to see strangers. I therefore give you the visitors, beginning with that the health of Bro. Field, W.M. 903. The toast being drunk, Bro. Field rose and said: I feel highly honoured to reply to the visitors, and feel perfectly certain I echo the feelings of our brother visitors. We are exceedingly obliged for your hospitality, and delighted to see the working of this lodge. At the consecration of this lodge it was prophesied that success would attend its operations, and it was said that learning originated in the East, but I find it has rested in the north. As W.M. of the Burgoyne Lodge I shall be always happy to extend the right hand of fellowship to who visit us; and with respect to what your brethren have been pleased so graciously to acknowledge up stairs, I can only express my firm conviction that, from the working of your esteemed W.M., the furniture the Burgoyne Lodge has been privileged to lend you will come back to us with an added lustre. We again thank you. The health of Bro. Shirley was next proposed in acknowledgement of his kind present to the lodge, and, having been warmly drunk, suitably responded to. Each of the officers responded in suitable terms. The Tyler's toast brought the meeting to a close. The pleasures of the evening were greatly enhanced by the singing of Bro. Westerton. Bro. Marsh also gave a most beautiful recitation.

INSTRUCTION.

ALOUSIE LODGE OF INSTRUCTION (No. 1).—The Fifteen Sections were worked by the lodge, held at Bro. Allen's, Royal Edward, Temple, Hackney, on Tuesday, 27th inst. Bro. Allen, P.M. 933; W.M.; Bro. Verry, P.M. 174; S.W.; Bro. Crawley, P.M. 174; J.W.

FIRST LECTURE.

- 1st Section Bro. Ashburner, P.M. 1278
- 2nd " " Constable, W.M. 185
- 3rd " " Christian, D.C. 1278
- 4th " " Wallington, J.W. 850
- 5th " " Crawley, P.M. 174
- 6th " " Fieldwick, 1364
- 7th " " Gross, W.S. 1278.

SECOND LECTURE.

- 1st " " Bro. Hill, J.D. 1278
- 2nd " " Myers, W.M. 820
- 3rd " " Musto, P.M. 1349
- 4th " " Verry, P.M. 554
- 5th " " Gottheil, P.M. 141

THIRD LECTURE.

- 1st " " Bro. Barnes, P.M. 933
- 2nd " " Webb, 174
- 3rd " " Howe, P.M. 1445.

It is with pleasure we mention that this was the largest meeting on record, in the annals of the old established lodge, and great praise is due to the presiding officers and brethren who aided them, for the very able and efficient manner in which the work was performed.

Royal Arch.

VERSTON.—Chapter of Furness (No. 995). Quarterly convocation of this Chapter was on Monday evening, the 19th ult., in the new Temple, Theatre Street, at six o'clock, there were present Comps. Reuben Pearson; Roger Dodgson, H.; George Dounfield, J. Postlethwaite, S.E.; Wm. Whiteside, J.; Taylor, P.G.M., Reg.; J. Case, P.Z., J.; T. Dodgson, P.Z., P.G.D.C.; and a number of other companions of the Chapter. Hill and Settle, of the Hindpool Lodge, 1225, were exalted, the ceremony being performed by the M.E.Z. in the same effective manner as he performs the ceremonies in the Craft. Comp. Dodgson, P.Z., officiated as Prin. Soj., and rendered this part of the exaltation in his well known effective manner. The Historic Lecture was, at the conclusion of the exaltation, rendered by Comp. Dounfield, J., and the Symbolical Lecture by the M.E.Z. The next convocation of this Chapter will be held at the same hour on the third Monday in January next.

Knights Templar.

LIVERPOOL.—Alpass Preceptory.—The usual quarterly meeting of this Preceptory was held in the new Masonic Hall, Hope Street, Liverpool, on Thursday, the 29th ultimo. Sir Knight Thomas Clark, E.P., presided. There were also present Sir Knights, H. S. Alpass, P.E.P., John Lloyd, Prelate, W. Doyle, First Capt. and Treasurer; J. E. Jackson, Second Capt.; Moses Mawson, Registrar; Richard Brown, Expert, John Kenyon, Second Standard Bearer; W. H. Shakespeare, Capt. of Lines; Wm. Shortis, and John Gallagher, First and Second Heralds; Thomas Evans, Chamberlain; Peter Ball, Equerry; James Chisnall, Henry Firth, H. Burrows, Samuel Hinkins, Sam Hague, C.R.N. Beswicke-Royds, Gen. Sub Prior; Joseph Wood, Treas. William de la More Preceptory, Prescott; Edward Pierpoint, P.E.C., P. Second Gd. Capt. of Lines, Jacques de Molay Preceptory, Liverpool. The Preceptory having been formally opened ballot was taken for Comps. Chesworth and Cassell; which proved unanimous in both cases. Comp. Cassell being in attendance, was admitted and duly installed a Knight of this chivalrous Order. A memorial to the V.H. and E.G. Prior, as to the recent changes in the Order, was discussed, when it was resolved unanimously that the memorial submitted be signed by the Preceptor, First and Second Captains, attested by the Registrar, and forwarded in due course to the provincial Chancellor. Sir Knt. Clark, E.P., in a very pleasing and complimentary address, now reminded the Sir Knights that the portrait of their esteemed P.E. Preceptor, Sir Knt. Alpass, was completed, and that it was the special pleasure of the Sir Knights on this occasion to make presentation thereof. Sir Knt. Clarke thereupon called upon E. Sir Knt. C.R.N. Beswicke-Royds, Sub Prior, to unveil the portrait. The E. Sir Knight then passed under the arch of steel, and before formally making the presentation, which he did in a most effective and telling manner, he descanted upon the many valuable services that Sir Knt. Alpass had performed, not only in Knight Templary, but in every branch of Masonry and more particularly for this Order—it is needless to say that the remarks were rapturously and cordially received and reciprocated. Sir Knt. Alpass, in reply to these eulogiums, stated that it was a proud moment for him to be the recipient of so much kind expression of feeling, and that what he had done was not in expectation of such a mark of esteem; all his efforts had been solely for the love of the Order, fully satisfied within himself that Masonry was a great means of social and moral improvement. A candidate was proposed for installation in the Preceptory, the alms were collected, and the Preceptory closed in due form. The Knights Companions then adjourned to the refectory, where they partook of a sumptuous banquet which was set out in the most recherché style by Frater Ball, resulting in a most enjoyable evening. It will probably be interesting to know that the portrait of Bro. Alpass, which is a splendid work of art, has been subscribed for by the members of the Preceptory which bears his honoured name, and will be hung up in the large lodge room of the new Masonic Hall. The portrait is of life size, finished in the highest possible style of art, on a permanent basis, produced by the best known method of enlargement from a carte de visite of Sir Knight Alpass. The frame, specially designed for the occasion by Messrs. Vandyke and Brown, is exceedingly unique and artistic. It is surmounted by the Knights Templar arms, accurately modelled, the corner being ornamented with the shields of the Order. In the centres are the emblems appertaining to Sir Knight Alpass's position in Great Masonry as the P.G. Sec. The decoration is completed by a neat model of the "three great lights." In the internal part of the frame is a band of ruby velvet, emblazoned with the five-pointed star. A gilt tablet contains these words—"Presented to Bro. H. S. Alpass, by the members of the Alpass Preceptory, 1874." In the portrait Bro. Alpass is shown as wearing the ribbon and jewel of a P.E.C. of the Order of Knights Templar. The portrait in every essential is a splendid and most successful work of art, life-like and eminently happy in every respect, and reflects the very highest credit upon the artistic taste of Messrs. Vandyke and Brown, the eminent photographers and artists, of Liverpool.

A meeting of the Holy Palestine Preceptory was held on Monday, the 28th ult., at the Masonic Hall, 33, Golden-square. Present Sir Knts. Major Shadwell Clerke, 33°, Eminent Preceptor; Col. Francis Burdett, Constable; P.M. Holden, Prelate; J. Boyd, Marshall; Dicketts, Edmands, Yeoman, Stanton Jones, Thiellay, Dubois, Kenning, and others. The following companions being present were duly installed as Knights Templar by Sir Knt. Major Shadwell Clerke, in his usual impressive manner, assisted by the other officers, Comp. James Lewis Thomas P.Z. Union Waterloo Chapter; Comp. Henry Venn, and Comp. J. J. Hooper Wilkins. The Sir Knights dined at the Café Royal, Regent-street.

Red Cross of Constantine.

BRISTOL.—Wm. De Irwin Conclave (No. 17.) The Sir Knights assembled on Friday, the 23rd inst. M.P.S. G. F. Tuckey occupied the Throne. The Sir Knights present were J. T. Hallam, S.G.; W. Munro, J.G.; J. M. Hunt, H.P.; G. Tonkin, Recorder; W. Ansaldo, S.B.; J. W. Lane, O.; W. Richards, T. Brooke, E. Ware, Kirbey, &c., &c.—Visitor W. A. Scott, M.P.S. of the Munbee Military Conclave, No. 101. The minutes of the last, as also of a subsequent Conclave of Emergency were read; the M.P.S. said the first business of the Conclave was to ballot for, and, if elected, instal Bros. Louie Barni and Thomas Woodland, M.M.'s of Lodge 68. The Sir Knights having balloted, it was declared free in the E. and W. and the brethren duly elected. Bro. L. Barni being in attendance was duly installed and proclaimed a Sir Knight of the Order. The next business before the Conclave was the election of M.P.S. for the ensuing year. The M.P.S. said, two years since he was first installed a Knight of the Red Cross in the Rose and Lily Conclave, Weston Super Mare, and from what he saw of the Order during the first twelve months he felt a strong desire to see it established in the province of Bristol. After some conversation with Ill. Sir Knight Captain F. G. Irwin, Intendant General of this province (we all know the great interest taken and zeal shown at all times by Sir Knight Capt. Irwin in anything appertaining to Freemasonry); from him he received great assistance and encouragement. It was determined to inaugurate and consecrate two Conclaves, viz., the Wm. De Irwin, No. 17, and the Munbee, No. 101, which ceremony was performed that day twelve months, when they were pleased to elect him their first Sovereign, and he assured them he looked back with pride and pleasure at the success of the past year. When he accepted that high position, it was with faith that with the unity he knew existed among the Sir Knights installed, their love of Freemasonry would create in them such a zeal that the Order of the Red Cross, especially the Wm. De Irwin Conclave, could not but flourish. He felt certain that when they heard the audited accounts of the Treasurer, they would say his faith had been well founded, and their unity and zeal rewarded. He had that day received an acknowledgement for a cheque sent to the Imperial Grand Council through Ill. Sir Knight R. W. Little. Accompanying that acknowledgement were some very gratifying remarks of the opinion of Imperial Grand Council as to the position and success of the Order in this province. He would impress upon the Sir Knights the necessity of guarding well the entrance to the Conclave, that no foe or false friend might gain admission. Up to the present time there was not a Sir Knight that he would not hail and recognise wherever he met him, and so long as they continued to exercise due caution in the admission of members, the Order of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine and its appendant degrees would not only recommend itself, but ultimately become one of the recognised Orders of Freemasonry in the Province of Bristol. He would not occupy their time further but to propose an Eminent Sir Knight as their Sovereign, one who, during the past year, had held an important position in the conclave, and performed the duties with that zeal which should animate all who accepted office. He was absent from us that day, from a severe family affliction, yet we all knew his best wishes were with us. It was therefore with much pleasure that he proposed Sir Knt. W. Hodges as their Sovereign for the ensuing year. The ballot being taken, Sir Knt. W. Hodges was declared duly elected, and Sir Knt. G. F. Tuckey was elected Treasurer. This concluded the business of the conclave, which was closed in due form. The enthronement of the sovereign will take place on the second Friday in December next.

KIRKDALE.—Walton Conclave (No. 97).—The usual assembly of this conclave was held on Monday, 9th Nov. In anticipation of practising the Grand Conclave drill, there was a goodly array of visiting Knights from the sister conclaves. Em. Sir Knt. Banning, M.P.S., assisted by his Viceroy, Em. Sir Knt. Rev. T. W. Richardson, opened the conclave in imperial form. After some routine business and balloting for candidates, Bros. the Rev. C. R. Hyde, LL.D., and N. Turner were duly admitted and installed Knights of the Order. The Historical Lecture was given in a very effective manner by Sir Knt. Quayle. Sir Knt. Hyde was then invested and appointed to the office of High Prelate, and Sir Knt. Turner was appointed Prefect. The Knights then took their posts in the conclave, and went through the special military drill and Masonic ceremonies, presented for the reception of the Grand Imperial Council on their visit to Liverpool to hold a Grand Conclave on Friday, 13th November. The conclave was closed in due form, and the Knights afterwards adjourned to the refectory.

Royal and Select Masters.

HAVANT.—On Tuesday, 7th Oct. the first Provincial Council of Royal and Select Masters, was opened at Havant, under the style of the Carnarvon Council, No. 5. The ceremonies of consecration and dedication were performed by the V.P. Bro. F. Binckes, Grand Recorder, assisted by Bro. Hyde Pullen, 33°, and Bro. Major Barlow, 32°, and at their close the degree of Most Excellent Master and the Cryptic degree were conferred upon Bros. Best, (Prov. G. Mark S.W., Hants); Trigg, (Prov. G.M.O., Hants); Rastrick, Harrison, (Prov. G. Mark Stewards, Hants); Carter and Blackmore. The T. Illust. Master, Bro. H. Martin Green, together with the Deputy Master, Bro. Purnell, and the P. Conductor of Works; Bro. Trigg, were then installed, and the proceedings terminated with a vote of thanks to the consecrating and installing officers. A banquet was afterwards held at the Dolphin Hotel, (Bro. Purnell's) where an extremely pleasant evening was spent.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—These celebrated Pills are especially useful in preventing the bad effects of luxurious living. They purify the blood, cleanse the stomach, gently stimulate the kidneys, and act as mild aperients. Without some such corrective as Holloway's Pills, the festivity of one day often debars us from all enjoyment for a week. A few doses of this purifying medicine set the foulest stomach right, restrain biliousness, steady the circulation, give strength to the muscles, and comfort to the brain and nerves. These Pills are incapable of doing mischief to the most delicate constitutions. The hypochondriac will find this medicine to comfort his miserable nerves; it will increase the appetite, exhilarate the spirits, fill the vessels with pure healthy blood, and regulate excretory organs.—ADVERT.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF JERSEY.

The annual meeting of the Prov. Grand Lodge was held on Wednesday, October 21st, at the Masonic Temple. There was a fair attendance of the brethren,—all the lodges of the Province were represented. In the absence of the Rt. W. Bro. Col. E. C. Malet de Carteret, the P.G. Lodge was opened by the V.W. Bro. Dr. Jas. Le Cronier, D.P.G.M., as P.G.M.; supported by Bros. A. Schmitt, P.P.G.S.W., as D.P.G.M.; Ph. Binet, P.G.S.W., Treas.; Geo. J. Renouf, P.P.J.W.; Charles Kingsnorth, P.P.J.W.; J. O. LeSueur, P.G. Sec.; Jas Oatley, P.G.S.D.; Ellis A. Owen, S. of W.; Edward Martel, G.D. of C; Ph. Blamfied, Ass. D.C.; the Stewards of the year, the Masters, Past M.'s, and Wardens. Amongst the visitors were Bros. Major H. C. Spearman, G. E. Evans, P.M., P. Grand Steward of England, Dupuis, from Paris, &c.

The minutes of the P.G.L. held in October, 1873, were read by the Secretary and unanimously confirmed. The reports of several meetings in reference to the Local Fund of Benevolence were read and approved. The report of the proceedings of the Local Board of General Purposes, on motion duly made, was taken as read.

The Treasurer presented his annual statement, duly examined by the Audit Committee, which, being approved, was passed and ordered to be entered on the minutes.

Agreeably with his notice of motion on the agenda paper, Bro. A. Schmitt moved:—"That the Prov. Grand Secretary shall compile from the annual returns a list of members erased by lodges for non-payment of subscription, for the purpose of communicating the said list to the Prov. Grand Lodge at each of its anniversary meetings, and of transmitting a correct copy thereof to the Masters of lodges for reading in open lodge and being entered on the minutes, thereby preventing a brother so struck off the list, from either visiting or becoming a joining member of some other lodge, unless he shall have previously regulated his position as a defaulter with his former lodge." The mover, not anticipating any opposition, very briefly explained the reasons compelling him to bring forth his motion before the Prov. G.L., which being supported and seconded by Bros. Benham and du Jardin, was put, and carried unanimously.

The brethren were now called to elect a Prov. G. Treas., when Bro. A. Schmitt said that the P.G. Lodge had every reason to be satisfied with the way in which Bro. Benham had hitherto discharged the duties devolving upon him during his retention of that important office. He therefore, moved, seconded by Bro. du Jardin, that Bro. P. W. Benham be re-elected P.G. Treas. for the ensuing year, which motion was carried nem. con.

The following brethren were appointed and invited to hold offices set opposite their respective names:—

Geo. J. Renouf, P.M. 1003	Prov. G.S.W.
John Oatley, P.M. 590	Prov. G.J.W.
Charles Marett, M.A., P.M.	Prov. G. Chap.
P. W. Benham, P.M. 1603	Prov. G. Treas.
Ellis A. Owen, W.M. 877	Prov. G. Reg.
John O. LeSueur, P.M. 491	Prov. G. Sec.
E. Leigh Bennett, P.M. 244	Prov. G.S.D.
A. Taylor, P.M. 245	Prov. G.J.D.
Holloway, P.S.W. 245	Prov. G. Sup. of W.
Edward Martel, W.M. 491	Prov. G.D. of C.
Edward Gilley, S.W. 491	G. Asst. D.C.
Col. Stallard, R.A. 877	Prov. G.S.B.
Jos. Gregg, P.M. 590	Prov. G. Org.
Jos. O'Flaherty, W.M. 1003	Prov. G. Purs.

Bros. Gen. Thos. C. Kelly, C.B., S.D. 877; L. Pitcher, P.M. 1003; John Pallot, W.M. 1008; H. E. le V. dit Durett, Advocate, S.W. 590; Geo. Hewett, Secretary 877; and J. Ennis, J. W. 877, Provincial Grand Stewards; Bro. Berryman, P.G. Tyler.

This being the annual period for electing six Past Masters to serve on the Local Board of General Purposes, the Scrutinizers, after having collected the balloting papers, withdrew, and on their return they handed to the P.G.M. report of the result of the ballot, when the following brethren were declared duly elected, viz.: Edward Martel, Jos. O'Flaherty, W. T. Pugsley, Jos. Pallot, W.M. 590; A. Le Maquand, P.M. 491; R. Barrow, P.M. 491. The P.G.M. nominated Bros. A. Schmitt, President, and Ellis A. Owen, Member of the Board.

Hearty good wishes having been expressed the P.G.L. was closed in form, and the brethren adjourned to a banquet.

BRO. CONSTABLES' DRAWING.

We understand that Bro. Constable has decided to issue 3,150 tickets at one shilling each, making a total of 15 Life Governorships of the "Royal Masonic Institution for Girls," the value of each being ten guineas. The sum of £157 10s. 0d. will be handed to the Secretary of that excellent Institution, without any deduction whatever, so that our indefatigable brother (the originator of the "Drawing") will benefit the society to that amount, and without such a scheme it is not likely that any of the shillings, florins, or crowns would have found their way to the coffers of the Institution. We consider Bro. Constable deserves every encouragement in his noble "labour of love," and we hope that all the brethren who have taken tickets to sell will lose no time in disposing of them, and remitting the cost to our brother, whose business address is 13, Sise-lane, London, E.C. for even the interest of the moneys invested until the "Drawing" is to be devoted to the Institution Bro. Constable is seeking thus to benefit.

STANLEY HOSPITAL FETE AND GALA, LIVERPOOL.

A meeting of the committee of gentlemen who managed the fete and gala held in Stanley Park during the week of the royal visit in aid of the funds of Stanley Hospital took place on Thursday, 22nd, at the hospital, when the accounts of the fete were carefully gone into, and a balance sheet drawn up. There were present Bro. Costine, Sheldon, Smith, and Hughes; Messrs. David Campbell, D. Grannell, Bateman, W. Stanley, Hughes, and Evans. The committee found that after the payment of all expenses they had a balance in hand of £100 11s. 10d. The committee feel that, taking into account the very unfavourable weather which prevailed during the fete, this result is satisfactory. It will be remembered that they were anxious means of the fete to clear off the debt of about £1000 which remained upon the hospital, also to furnish and make several additions to the building. The proceeds of the fete will meet remaining liabilities on the building account and the committee, whilst regretting that the was not more profitable, feel highly gratified they have been able to free the institution of debt.

The contribution of articles to be drawn proved, as usual, a very valuable source of come. The amounts received from the sale of tickets for the principal drawings were as follows:—For the pony given by Major B. field, M.P., £190; for the piano, £145 15s.; the gold watch, £70 13s.; for the silver tea coffee service, £68; for the billiard table, 16s.; and for the brass bedstead, £52 14s. The committee are entitled to the utmost credit for the great toil and care which must necessarily have undergone in organising and managing the fete; and much sympathy will be felt for them in their disappointment the pecuniary result has not been more gratifying. It is stated that the bazaar, which raised £1300, was organised entirely by Miss Smith and Mrs. I. E. Bennett.

It may be mentioned here that Bro. Costine has received instructions from Mrs. W. Bronte, to expend for her a sum of £1000 of £750 in furnishing a ward in the hospital to be called the Woodhouse Ward.—The Liverpool Mercury.

Obituary.

F. M. PERKINS, GRAND MASTER OF LOUISIANA.

his unexpected death, at Chicago, of Bro. F. M. Perkins, Vice Consul of Sweden and Mayor at New Orleans, and senior partner of long established and widely known commercial house of Perkins, Swenson, and Co., mission merchants and cotton factors, evoked a widespread sorrow throughout the city.

On the arrival of his remains at the Union Railway Depot at eight o'clock on Monday, Sept. 20, they were received by officers of the Grand Lodge, over which Bro. Perkins presided for several years as Grand Master, by a detachment of Knights Templar.

The funeral ceremonies took place at three o'clock p.m. The various Grand Masonic Societies of the State were assembled at two at the Lodge Hall, and proceeded thence to the residence of Bro. Chaffe in carriages. The Grand Lodge, Grand Royal Arch Chapter, Grand Council Royal and Select Masters, Grand Convent of Knights Templar, and Grand Convent of Scottish Rite Thirty-second Degree, were represented, and Marion Lodge, No. 68, of which lodge Bro. Perkins was at the time of his death the oldest living initiate and Master, took part in the proceedings as a member.

The Grand Lodge assumed the charge of the obsequies. Jacques de Molay Commandery No. 2, Sir R. L. Bruce, E. Commander, of the organization the deceased was a member, presided by the officers and members of the city commanderies, performed escort duty, under the command of E. Sir W. L. Stanford, Capt. Gen. The Knights Templar were accompanied by Jaeger's band.

The following is a list of the officers of the Lodge present in the funeral procession: J. G. Fleming, D.G.M. as G.M.; R. W. L. Gordy, P.S.G.W. as D.G.M.; R. W. Perkins, S.G.W.; R. W. Wm. R. Whittaker, S.G.W.; R. W. W. S. Pike, G. Treasurer; R. C. Batchelor, M.D., G. Sec.; W. and C. Carpenter, G. Chaplain; W. H. C. S.G. Deacon; W. A. L. Abbott, as J.G. Marshal; W. J. H. DeGrange, G. Marshal; Berge, as G.S. Bearer; R. W. H. Carter, Pursuivant; W. Bros. I. W. Homan, W. T. Chings, M. Heiseman, and Geo. S. G. Stewards, and Bro. F. A. Dentzel, also, Past Grand Masters S. Manning and J. Q. A. Fellows; Past Junior Grand Masters J. B. Sorapu and Wm. Macduff, and Grand Treasurer Harman Doane. The Grand Wardens of constituent lodges bore their appropriate jewels. The following were pall-bearers; Bros. J. Q. A. Fellows, J. Todd, (representing the Grand Lodge), Winslow, Geo. Johnson, (representing the Grand Chapter,) D. W. C. Peck, T. F. (representing the Grand and J. de Commanderies,) J. B. Scot, and Harman (representing the Grand Consistory.)

The escort of the procession was—the Knights as escort; the Masonic fraternity; Marion Lodge, No. 68, C. Chaffe, C. McRae Selph as W.M.; the Grand hearse, the family and friends of the and the consular representatives of nations. The funeral cortege was of very great length, presented a most imposing appearance, and to the universal sorrow occasioned by the sudden demise of Bro. Perkins. The brethren turned out in great force to do honor to their illustrious dead. The route of the procession was by way of First, Magazine, Charles and Canal Streets, to the St. Charles Cemetery. The escort took carriages from the corner of Franklin and Canal Streets. The Masonic burial service was read by Past Master J. C. Carpenter, assisted by the Grand Rev. J. C. Carpenter, who also officiated in religious services held at the residence of Bro. Chaffe.—New Orleans Picayune.

JESSE M. WHITE, 33°.—We regret to announce the death of this distinguished brother after a brief but painless illness. His obsequies were observed by Masters' (symbolic) Lodge, of Albany, and a large attendance of the membership of our beautiful Rite attested the high estimation in which our deceased brother was held. Cut off in the very prime of manhood, he was not unprepared for the great change, but died "Like one who draws the drapery of his couch About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Poetry.

IN MEMORY OF HIS GRACE THE LATE DUKE OF LEINSTER.

Inscribed to R. W. SHEKLETON, Esq., Dep. Gd. Master, Grand Lodge of Ireland.

What dismal echoes do the winds impart?
What sad foreboding is it chills the heart?
Why bated breath, and silent speaking eye;
The starting tear, and deep convulsive sigh?
A solemn sense of swiftly-coming woe,
Striking each mind, and clouding every brow.
Sharp from the bow of Death a fatal arrow
Has pierced a noble heart, and grief and sorrow
Now fill with dire consternation all
Those friends around him, in his stately hall.
He, in whom nature every good combined—
A generous hand, warm heart, and noble mind;
Waiting the final summons of release
From his long life of charity and peace,
To live for ever in that Home above—
Exchanging earthly ties for heavenly love.
Yes? a long life of honour and of years;
A retrospect of good, which haply cheers
The Christian soul, rich in that "Pearl of Price,"
The passport from this world to Paradise.
Is there no hope? brother to brother crying;
Ah, no! his race is run—our Duke is dying.
Hark to that sound of agony and dread!
And weep, indeed, our noble Duke is dead.

One of the few of nature's noble men!
"When shall we look upon his like again?"
Gently, in Christian path, he wore his state—
Worthy successor of the "good and great."
Well may the Ancient Craft he loved so well
Revere his memory, and fondly dwell
With happy thoughts upon his virtuous life;
So free from earthly vanity or strife.
Till Masonry and Time shall cease to be,
With Leinster's name join peace and charity;
For love to all, his generous heart and room—
Just fitting words to place upon his tomb—
Meekly his ducal coronet was worn;
Now wreaths of glorious gems his brows adorn;
His voice, harmonious with the angelic throng,
Mingles in chorus of the heavenly song.
As in its breast some secrets were concealed,
So to him now the great one is revealed;
Dwelling in regions so celestial bright,
Robed in the habit of the "Sons of Light."

CHAS. H. G. EMERSON,
P.M. 620.

Mulum in Parbo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

"TALES OF THE TALMUD."

Some reference has recently been made by Bro. Hughan and Bro. Norton to some "Tales from the Talmud," published about 1715, and alluded to by Bro. Dr. Oliver. I have had a long search made. No such book as "Tales from the Talmud" exists, at any rate, of that date, but by the kind assistance of R. L. Bensly, Esq., University Library, Cambridge, it seemed that a book was published at Amsterdam (not London) in 1715, 4to, by David Wilkins, containing "The Targums of the Book of Chronicles," which are taken from a MS. in the University Library, Cambridge. What is in that work, if anything, I shall hope next week to say. There seems to have been an edition of the same work put out by the Rabbi Joseph and David Wilkins conjointly, which was printed at Amsterdam in 1717, and at Cambridge, 1725.

A. F. A. WOODFORD.

Masonic Tidings.

On the 25th inst. a Lodge of Instruction in the Mark Degree will be inaugurated at 2, Red Lion-square, the office of Grand Mark Lodge. The W.M. (Bro. Stidolph) of the Southwark Lodge, No. 22, is desirous of having a meeting there of his officers once a fortnight, and he recommends that all metropolitan lodges should do the same, choosing their own days. He proposes that the Masters and officers of lodges should each take the position he holds in his lodge and work the duties of that position in the Lodge of Instruction. Every Mark Mason is invited to attend and assist in working the degree. An able instructor, say Bros. Binckes, Meggy, or James Stevens, will be present to see that the work is properly performed and afford information. The scheme meets with much approval.

At the same time a ballot will be held in the Mark Benevolent Association. Bro. Meggy, P.G.M.O., will preside.

The ceremony of constituting and consecrating a new Masonic Lodge for the city of Oxford was performed on Friday 6th inst., in the presence of a large assembly of brethren belonging to the province and elsewhere. The new lodge is designated "The Bertie," that being the family name of the Earl of Abingdon, who is Lord High Steward of the city. Its number is 1415, and the warrant of constitution was granted by the Prince of Wales, as the Most Worshipful Grand Master of England—the first that his Royal Highness has issued. The Mayor was installed as Worshipful Master, and at the conclusion of the ceremony the inauguration banquet was held in the City Council Chamber. There are now four lodges in Oxford. [A full report of the proceedings will appear in our next.]

On Nov. 9th our Grand Master the Prince of Wales attained his 33rd year, having been born on the 9th of November, 1841. The anniversary was observed with the customary manifestations of loyalty.

The Manchester Lodge of Instruction No. 179, meet every Saturday evening at the Yorkshire Grey, London St. Fitzroy-Square at 8 o'clock.

LORD MAYOR'S DAY.—Basinghall Street, which is in the Bassishaw Ward, was decorated by Bro. Wm. Holland of North Woolwich Gardens, and the Surrey Theatre. The Police arrangements of the city were ably carried out by Bro. J. R. Foulger, P.M. 177.

We call the attention of our readers to the prospectus in our advertisement pages, of the Burngullow Hematite Iron Ore Company (Limited). This company, it is stated, is promoted for the purchase of an estate of 80 acres, situate near the shipping port of Par, in Cornwall, which seems to possess a combination of advantages. There is an abundance of hematite ore of rich quality, a vein at present being worked 12ft. to 18ft. in width, which, it is estimated, will provide a large output for a lifetime. The property is intersected by a railway, a great advantage, as it will enable the ore to be delivered in South Wales at a cost of 9s. 6d. per ton. The estimated output, when the extension works are completed, which will take but a short time, is stated to be 200 tons a day, but the directors state that 100 tons per day will yield a net revenue of £10,140 per annum, equal to 40 per cent. on the entire capital of the company. A favourable feature of the undertaking is comprised in the statement that the only contract entered into is one for the purchase of the property for £15,000, and that the vendor has consented to leave one-half the purchase money in the hands of the directors to secure the payment of a ten per cent. dividend for the first three years.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., do.	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI. each	15s. od.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Now Ready.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

The following reports stand over:—Lodge of Truth, Manchester, 1458; Lebanon Lodge, Gloucester; South-wark Lodge of Mark Masters; and Consecration of Madoc Lodge, 1509, Portmadoc.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY,

FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY. Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenæum.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence. Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

Now ready, with Index and Preface, in Twelve Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in one handsome volume, £3.

THE FREEMASONS' LIBER MUSICUS, Dedicated by express permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by DR. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—198.

This Work contains 215 pp. and 188 Musical Compositions, suitable for the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges, Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation, Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

HANDSOME CLOTH COVERS, with gilt lines, and lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.

Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1874.

THE GRAND MASTERSHIP OF IRISH FREEMASONRY.

We publish in another column the report of the recent meeting of the Irish Grand Lodge, by which it appears that, by the unanimous vote of an influential and crowded assembly, the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, the Duke of Abercorn, was elected Grand Master of Irish Freemasons. There can be no doubt that in the selection of so distinguished and so popular a nobleman, the Irish Grand Lodge has manifested alike the highest wisdom and the soundest judgment. For our noble brother the Duke of Abercorn, is in our humble opinion, emphatically the right man in the right place. Himself of most noble and patrician descent, he is endowed with all those qualities which have gained him so many friends and enabled him to play so distinguished a part in public affairs. Kind and genial, tolerant, and yet firm in his administrative career, he has satisfied his friends and conciliated his opponents, while in private life his personal amiability and his many and sterling social qualities have endeared him to his family and his friends. When then, at a crisis in its history, the Irish Grand Lodge, bereft of its old and venerated ruler in the providence of the Great Architect of the Universe, looks around for a fitting successor, it finds its search not prolonged, nor its choice at all doubtful. With one glad voice of heartfelt acclaim and rejoicing the Irish Grand Lodge nominates its noble brother the Duke of Abercorn, Grand Master of Irish Freemasonry, and as the Irish Grand Lodge has so well and wisely chosen, we trust most sincerely that all happiness and prosperity will attend on its judicious and truly Masonic choice. Certainly it is very amusing to us, calumniated and excommunicated Masons, to observe how all this recent plethora of nonsense as well as "verborum" is answered, both in England and Ireland. We leave the anathemas and the excommunications to the anathemizers and the excommunicators and we go on our way, "no one making us afraid." In England, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, our august brother, assumes the head of the Craft, and in Ireland, the Lord-Lieutenant becomes the unanimous selection of our loyal and honourable and benevolent fraternity. What a useful warning to impertinent interference on the one hand, what a happy encouragement to calm performance of duty on the other. So long as Freemasonry is true to itself and to its great and sound principles—so long as it continues peaceful and tolerant, avoiding political discussions and religious controversies, so long as it evidences the sincerity of its professions, by its unwearied practice of benevolence, sympathy, relief, and brotherly love, so long will it flourish, so long will it attract to itself the confidence of the good, and the support of the wise. Indeed, all these attacks upon Freemasonry will, it appears to us, only tend to throw Freemasons closer together, and we shall move on in defiance of our motley host of assailants, a good compact column, keeping the "step," and keeping the "touch." Our banner is floating over our heads, unstained and undisgraced, and while some may ridicule and others may condemn, we are certain that our Order, closely united in the bonds of sympathetic affection and fraternal concord, has no fear of any antagonists, if this foolish and perverse hostility to our charitable and innocuous brotherhood, should be fomented by some, or perpetuated by others. It seems that Archbishop Manning is going to favour the reading world with an article on Freemasonry in the December number of the "Contemporary Review," at least, so it is stated, but as there is, and can be nothing new, even in his able hands, in the accusations against Freemasonry, so we venture to believe that the answer will be easy and will be at once forthcoming to so distinguished an opponent. In the meanwhile, Freemasonry cares nothing for attacks, or pamphlets or edicts, or anathemas, but selecting the most exalted brethren in our land, to rule over its organization, to uphold its interests, and to increase its reputation before the world, conscious of its good intentions, its true principles, and its beneficent customs, awaits, if in indifference yet tranquil confidence, the sober judgment of sound thinking, the fair, the tolerant, and the true. We wish, in all heartfelt simplicity, possible prosperity to our good Irish brethren and their new Grand Master, our excellent and exalted brother the Duke of Abercorn.

THE PLYMOUTH QUESTION.

In accordance with our promise we close discussion with a few words, and a communication we print to-day, and we do propose to publish any more letters on subject, pace our good Bro. "Soldier Mason." In one respect the discussion has somewhat remarkable in demonstrating the certainties of even contemporary evidence. The first place we beg to repeat our conviction, that our soldier brethren had hard measure indeed meted out to them have a right to complain of very invidious treatment. They have, however, this one consolation, that they have obtained the sympathy of the entire Craft, and that it is quite clear no blunder will not occur again. In the next we think that the committee are fully exonerated from any intended desire to show any disrespect to our soldier brethren. We who know some of the distinguished brethren who form the joint committee, excellent Masons and men, were quite sure of the fact from the first they were guiltless of any such unbecoming sentiments or actions. It seems that the two committees, however, and a little of purposes may have arisen in consequence there was clearly no intentional wish to our soldier brethren of their Masonic We are still of opinion, despite able and various correspondents like "Leo," that there is no formal evidence of any actual military violation. The mistake, such as it was, a perverse one, seems to have arisen in the fact that there had been, in a previous issue, an official refusal to announced that such refusal extended to all similar processions. But that assumption was based on two great errors. First, the cases were not identical; and, secondly, the original refusal had evidently only been a refusal "ad hoc," and bound the supreme military authority at Plymouth no farther necessarily than it went. For 'non constat' that because a refusal was given on a band to march in a temperance procession, therefore an application to march by 120 non-commissioned officers, with two thousand of the "élite" of Devon and Cornwall, to welcome the Prince of Wales, would have been refused. We do not think that the permission would have been refused, and therefore, we believe that the "assumption" was grossly incorrect in its first position. But in the next place what evidence is there that the application ever came before the military general commanding, except informally? No one ever applied to him formally, that is quite clear. It is true that it was stated in the Marine orderly room, and by the gallant officer commanding that distinguished body of men, that a refusal had been sent. But who wrote the letter? or who had it from the only lawful authority? Bro. Col. Elliott assumed from the beginning that it was so, but he was not in communication with the Major-General commanding, but wrote, it seems, to a Colonel, who had nothing whatever to do with the matter. "Leo" had good reason for believing, no doubt, and saying, that a refusal had been given, but "Leo," we believe, like everybody else, was a victim of a false "assumption" from the beginning to the end. It is just possible that the Major-General commanding may have naturally said, "I cannot allow, for the sake of precedent, 120 non-commissioned officers to parade before their comrades in Plymouth in coloured clothes and round hats, and therefore I cannot allow them to appear in such a procession at all." No soldier can blame the Major-General commanding for such a view, if such a view was expressed, and certainly no civilian has a right to do so. Would we believe that the Major-General commanding understood that the Masonic procession was forbidden by the Queen's Regulations, then, would be the duty of Grand Lodge to obtain an official declaration on the subject. But we do not apprehend that any such view exists, or that any such interpretation was put on the military regulations in the present case. An important, if subsidiary, question has been raised by an able correspondent, "P. G. D.," relative to soldiers appearing "properly dressed." No doubt, "without leave," no soldier Freeman could put on Masonic clothing over his uniform at any time; but "with leave," it has been done on several occasions. The two non-commissioned officers at Dover were "without leave," evidently, and no good soldier would do such a thing without previously applying for "permission" to do so. If the Major-General commanding took that view, that is another matter, but no evidence appears of such question having been raised, and we are to our opinion, that greatly to the prejudice and untoward annoyance of our soldier brethren, the whole affair was a "mal entendu," a mistaken "assumption," an unauthoritative opinion, to which the committee or committees too rashly deferred.

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

We are endeavouring to solve this question by a reference to America. The Italian Freemasons having now stated, distinctly, that the Pope was made a Freemason at Philadelphia, U.S., in an Italian lodge called the "Figli di Hiram, we have written to Philadelphia to verify such an important and distinct assertion. Havannah, one of the South American Republics, Palermo, Rome, New York, Madrid, have all been asserted to be the locale of the Pope's reception into the Order, so it is really most important to ascertain the precise spot of earth where Pio Nono saw the "Light." A correspondent has written to say that Dr. Leeson declared that Pio Nono belonged to the High Degrees, but Dr. Leeson could know nothing of the subject on his own authority. The Italian Masons aver that he attended, as Nuncio, a secret lodge at Madrid, and was also made "Rose Croix, 18°." We presume in the "Rite Ecossaise," as the statement comes from the "Luce del Terreno" of Palermo, a lodge, we believe, of the "Rite Ecossaise." We fancy all the statements have but one foundation, partly true and partly false, but until we have a distinct reply from America we can say nothing more positively on the subject. We shall publish a letter from Bro. Gallico on the subject in our next impression.

GRAND CHAPTER.

The Quarterly Convocation of Supreme Grand Chapter was holden on Wednesday, 4th inst., at Freemasons' Hall. Comp. H. D. Sandeman occupied the Z. chair, Comp. S. Rawson, the H., and Comp. M'Intyre, Q.C., the J. Comp. John Hervey, S.E.; Comp. J. E. Saunders, as S.N.; Comp. Rucker, P.S.; Comp. Percy Leith, 1st A.; Comp. Philbrick, Q.C., 2nd A.; Comp. Joseph Parkinson, S.B.; Comp. Josh. Smith, D. of C.; and Comps. H. G. Buss, Joshua Nunn, C. A. Murton, Berry Head, E. S. Snell, H. Muggeridge, and C. B. Payne, Janitor, with several others, were also present.

The following report of the Committee of General Purposes was unanimously adopted.

"The Committee of General Purposes beg to report that they have examined the accounts from the 15th July, to the 20th October, 1874, both inclusive, which they find to be as follows:—

To balance 15th July	£530	0	8
To subsequent receipts.....	245	1	6
	£775	2	2
By disbursements during the quarter	£190	1	10
By purchase of £300 consols at 92½ and commission	278	5	0
By balance.....	306	13	4
	£772	2	2

which balance is in the hands of Messrs. Willis, Percival, and Co., bankers of the Grand Treasurer.

In compliance with the Committee's recommendation, the following petitions for charters for new chapters were granted.

1st. From Comps. Mark Newsome as Z., Henry Ingram as H., Joseph Hebblethwaite as J., and eight others, for a chapter to be attached to the Scarborough Lodge, No. 1214, Soothill, to be called "The Scarborough Chapter," and to meet at the Station Hotel, Soothill, near Batley, Yorkshire.

2nd. From Comps. John Brown as Z., William Henry Gillman as H., James Henry Blackell as J., and seven others, for a chapter to be attached to the Huyshe Lodge, No. 1099, Stoke, to be called "The Huyshe Chapter," and to meet at the Masonic Hall, Home Park, Stoke, Devonport.

The Companions also adopted a further recommendation of the committee that in printing new books of the general regulations of Royal Arch Masons, in conformity with the resolution passed at the meeting of the Supreme Grand Chapter on Wednesday the 5th of August, with the view of making any needful alterations, the numbers of the paragraphs be made to run in sequence from the beginning to the end of the volume; and that the regulations should be printed in duodecimo (but without plates) as well as in the present octavo size.

After this there was a long discussion on an extensive list of verbal alterations in the Book of General Regulations proposed by the Committee. There was then brought before Grand Chapter the letter from Grand Chapter of Ireland referred to and read at the Quarterly Communication of August 5th, with reference to the recognition of Grand Mark Lodge of England, but the matter was again deferred. We give, however, the letter, which is as follows:—

"Grand Secretary's Office,
"Freemasons' Hall, Dublin,
"13th day of July, 1874.

"Dear Sir and Companion,

"With reference to the correspondence which has taken place at various times between the Grand Royal Arch Chapters of England, Ireland, and Scotland, and the Grand Mark Master Masons Lodge of England and Wales on the subject of recognition of the last named Grand Body, I am directed to inform you that the attention of the Grand R.A.C. of Ireland having been again called to the subject, it was directed at its meeting on the 1st inst., that a correspondence be opened with the Grand R.A. Chapter of England, in order to ascertain its views.

"The Grand Chapter of Ireland is now, as ever, desirous of maintaining the most fraternal relations with the Grand Chapter of England, and, as the latter has not thought fit to recognise the Grand Mark Masons Lodge of England, our Grand Chapter has always hesitated to do so, but now wishes to explain the difficulty in which it is placed.

"The Grand Chapter of Ireland is fully aware that the Mark degree is not recognised by the Grand Chapter of England, but in this country that degree has always been recognised, and is now worked under our R.A. warrants, and under our recent rules (copy by book-post sent herewith), it is required as an indispensable step to the R.A. degree.

"It therefore appears to the Grand Chapter of Ireland, that its position (in respect of the Grand Mark Master Masons Lodge of England), is essentially different from that of the Grand Chapter of England; and that the principal, perhaps the only reason which prevents the latter from recognising the Grand M.M. Lodge, (viz.:—its non-recognition of the degree itself) does not operate with us, and that our recognition of that Grand Body would not in any way interfere with the friendly relations between the two Grand Chapters which the Grand Chapter of Ireland is always anxious to maintain.

"I am however directed to assure you that this Grand Chapter has deferred considering the desirability of recognising the Grand M.M.M. Lodge of England until it shall have ascertained the views of the Grand Chapter of England, but feels that, as it requires the Mark degree to be conferred as a preliminary to the R.A. degree, and as the Grand Chapter of England does not work that degree, it ought seriously to take into consideration whether or not the only authority in England under which that degree is conferred ought not to be recognised by the Grand Chapter of Ireland.

"Might we therefore ask you to favour us with the views of the Grand Chapter of England on this subject, and particularly whether there be any, and what objections to the recognition of the Grand M.M.M. Lodge of England, other than the non-recognition of the degree itself.

"With fraternal regard, I remain, dear Sir and Companion, your's faithfully,

"CHARLES T. WALMISLEY,

Gd. Reg. Gd. R.A.C. of Ireland.

"JOHN HERVEY, Esq., Gd. Scribe, E., G.R.A.C. of England, Freemasons' Hall, London." Grand Chapter and then formally closed.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

THE "JOHN THOMAS" MEMORIAL.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

I am glad to observe that attention is being called to the non-fulfilment of the wishes and expectations of the numerous brethren to whom our late lamented brother, John Thomas, had so much endeared himself.

The reason of the apparent neglect is that the brethren who first promoted the memorial have aimed too high, and, not being so readily able to reach their mark as they had anticipated, have become apathetic. To my personal knowledge they have been and still are extremely desirous to secure such evidence of the high esteem in which our late Brother Thomas was held, as should satisfy the Craft generally that the memory of a good Mason, such as he was, would be effectually perpetuated. Their deliberations to this end were, however, hampered by many suggestions as to the propriety of founding scholarships, of providing for the permanent support of one or more aged brethren or widows, and the like means of transmitting his beloved name to posterity. These gave rise to diversity of opinion, and the consequence has been that very many who would have willingly assisted have refrained from doing so until the point in question was finally determined. So valuable time has gone by, the spirit of the moment has been lost, and forgetfulness begins to creep over the promoters and their friends.

But had all agreed, as I contend they should have done, that the first thing to be secured was to mark the last resting place of our dear brother by the erection of a tomb, simple or elaborate as might have been decided, but at least bearing the record of his name and the "sprig of acacia" (I saw his coffin covered with branches thrown into his grave by the numerous mourners who attended his funeral), the present reproach that "nothing has been done" could have had no existence.

I am sure that a great majority are of this way of thinking, and will agree with me that after we shall have marked the place where the remains of our friend and Masonic tutor lie, it will be all in good time to further perpetuate his memory by Masonic scholarships or additions to our almshouses, as contributions to the fund may provide for so doing.

Yours fraternally,

JAMES STEVENS, P.M., P.Z., &c.
Clapham, Nov. 7, 1874.

INSTALLATION OF THE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

This event, whenever it takes place, will be looked upon as an epoch in Freemasonry. Every Mason who has the privilege of attending Grand Lodge will, no doubt, wish and endeavour to be there. If the meeting is to be held in our own grand house, a line must be drawn somewhere—all cannot be admitted—will the admission be confined to Masters only, (I mean the present W.M.'s of lodges), excluding Past Masters and Wardens. All who are now entitled to attend will consider themselves slighted if their privilege is withheld, and if it is "first come first served," not above one in forty or fifty who try will obtain a seat. Those who were at Grand Lodge on the occasion of H.R.H.

the Prince of Wales's first visit will not readily forget the confusion (a very mild word) that took place. Under these circumstances would it not be much better to look for a larger building than we possess, and I do not see that it is at all necessary, as many think, that the installation must take place in Queen-street; for instance, as Grand Master the Duke of Buccleuch was installed by proxy, at Merchant Taylors' Hall, Lord Colerane at Mercers' Hall, the Earl of London at Fishmongers' Hall, the Earl of Morton at Haberdashers' Hall, Lord Byron at Drapers' Hall, and many other noblemen were installed as Grand Masters at the above halls until Grand Lodge had its head quarters at the Crown and Anchor Tavern, Strand, prior to the first building in Great Queen-street being erected. In several lodges and chapters that I have attended lately, the Agricultural Hall, the Crystal Palace, and the Albert Hall have been suggested; the latter has by far the most numerous supporters, and I think no better building could be obtained—every one could then be accommodated—brethren from the East and the West, from the North and the South, could then be certain that their journey to London would not end in disappointment, and timely notice would give them an opportunity for arranging special trains, whilst London, with her large number of lodges, would be represented as upon no other occasion.

Yours fraternally,

J. B., P.M., P.Z.

THE ROYAL VISIT TO PLYMOUTH.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I think a few words from me in reply to the last letter of C.M. (1205) are absolutely necessary, but as he promises his remarks shall be the last, I shall confine myself as nearly as I possibly can to simple replies to the issues which he has raised.

First, however, let me assure C.M. that I have no intention to allow the discussion to become a personal matter between him and me, and to express my conviction that so far from having a weak case or attempting to "bully" him. I maintain my contention that the Committee did all they possibly could to obtain the presence of the military and naval brethren, and I shall endeavour to justify the expressions made use of in my last letter, feeling convinced that to those better qualified to judge than C.M. I have ample materials with which to do so.

I say that for one brother to insinuate, as C.M. did, in his letter published on the 3rd ult., that Bro. Col. Elliott and I had undertaken to stand together in the defence of a fictitious set of circumstances, that I have the "hardihood," which I conceive implies in the strongest manner the writer's belief that I was guilty of an endeavour to mislead the brethren, to take exception to a statement made by a brother, who however worthy would hardly set himself up as infallible, that Bro. Col. Elliott was guilty of falsehood; for such according to unprejudiced readers did C.M.'s letter amount to, is not only insulting, but unmasonic and ungentlemanly, and C.M.'s last letter is almost an admission of this fact, for in offering "the expression of regret" to Col. Elliott, evoked in a manner which I am unable to refer to here, but with which C.M. is perfectly cognizant, he so manifestly admits his wrong doing that it is really hardly necessary for me to touch upon it.

C.M. appears more obtuse than one would expect from a member of the fourth estate, but when he talks of tumbling "headlong into a pit," &c., &c., it certainly has the appearance of a personal attack.

When I wrote my former letter, it was under a misapprehension as to whom C.M. really was but the cap fits, and I will content myself with expressing a hope that a longer acquaintance with Masonic observance will teach him more of the true principles of Freemasonry than he at present appears to have knowledge of, and at the same time to adopt a more conciliatory policy than that at present advocated by his powerful pen.

Brotherly love and truth are two of the essential characteristics of a Mason, which C.M.

fails to realize, and doubtless a careful study on his part of our beautiful ritual will enlighten him still further on the subject, and if my presence upon the scene has only had the effect of extracting an expression of regret, it has been of some use in bringing C.M. into charity with at least one man, and demonstrates how little fit he was, and the small right he had to act as the champion of our soldier brethren and friends—whom with C.M. I shall be very happy to meet in lodge and show that although we may not have held the same views we may yet meet in the bonds of fraternal friendship.

Yours fraternally,

J. EDWARD CURTIS, W.M. 189.

THE MASONIC REVIVAL.

PART I.—LABOUR.

The most thorough pessimist in the Craft would hardly be bold enough, in the presence of existing facts, to deny the propriety of the title we have chosen for a few reflections upon Masonry as it was and as it is. For good or for evil, a renaissance in Freemasonry—a revival resembling in its vigour and intensity that brilliant awakening from the torpor of the middle ages to which Italy owes its grandest productions, a new birth like to that "great upheaval," as Lord Bacon terms it, which resulted in the splendid avatar of the literature of our Eliza bethan period—must be admitted to have occurred. The strong man, to use Milton's nervous language, hath roused himself after sleep and shaken his invincible locks "like an eagle renewing her mighty youth and kindling her undazzled eyes at the full mid-day beam, purging and unscaling her long abused sight at the fountain itself of heavenly radiance, while the whole noise of timorous and flocking birds, with those also that love the twilight, flutter about amazed at what she means."

The great cloud that burst upon our beloved fraternity some two months since has displayed its silver lining. The affliction—as is the case with many afflictions—proved to be but a blessing in disguise. If, under that blow, the giant struck his mother earth, he has, Anteus like, risen up refreshed from the contact, and the grand old institution, ignorantly, intolerantly, spitefully denounced, promises, under the leadership of "the expectancy and rose of this fair state," to enter upon a new career of usefulness and philanthropy, immeasurably grander and more comprehensive than was ever conceived in the wildest dreams of departed enthusiasts, who are now after life's fitful fever sleeping well.

It can scarcely, then, be an inappropriate time to trace this glorious development from its source, and to compare it or contrast it, as necessity may suggest, with the similar movements in art, literature, and science, which are among the most noticeable phenomena of the times in which we live, and our scheme must in its completeness, involve some inquiry into the former practice of the Craft and some illustration—always of course observing that due caution which is the first duty of a Freemason,—of the working of the various lodges in the present day. We cannot apply to ourselves in its integrity the poet's exhortation. We can confidently pledge ourselves to set down naught in malice; but we will not bind ourselves not to use the blessed privilege of extension, and we must beg our readers to give us credit, when we may find it necessary to employ language in description from which indirect censure may be implied, to believe the principles and not persons provoke the implied animadversion, and that we seek rather to represent broad groups and salient types of features than to descend to individual detail or specific definition.

Such a review as we propose to present would we think, be too abruptly introduced—the principle of in medias res would be too rigidly applied—were we to begin our treatise altogether with reference to the coincident phenomena of development we have already referred to as illustrations of our main proposition, a proposition which, it has not already been deduced from the preceding observations; we will now proceed to categoryally to formulate, viz., that the essence of Freemasonry has within the last few years been more attended to than its accidents, that an honest, energetic endeavour has been made to develop its ritual, and formulate its teachings, to an extent probably never before known in the Craft, certainly never since Speculative, as disjoined and apart from Operative, Masonry commanded the attention of intellectual brethren.

As we have pointed out, we claim for Freemasonry in this respect no more than we are willing to allow to every other branch of human speculation and practice in the regions of intellect and art. The laws of action and reaction are inexorable. The feverish spasmodic energy of one generation will degenerate into the lethargic sloth of the next, and again the stertorous sleep, shall than,

"—the fat weed that rots itself at ease

On Lethe's wharf,"

one age, is startled by a trumpet blast sharply wakening it in the one succeeding. It is the eternally operating law of action and re-action, but it is worth while occasionally to stand aside, as it were, and take stock of the results achieved. In this eternal law of action and re-action, the result is most palpable. To paraphrase Shakespeare, out of the nettle extravagance we pluck the flower plentitude. An excessive energy supplying a deficit is not only in itself an evidence that the vacuum existed, but a tolerably liable guarantee that it will be filled. A lofty aim may not hit its mark, but the projectile will be propelled to a greater height than when directed to an object nearer the earth's surface. This is a platitude—a truism—

"He strikes higher far who aims the moon than he who shoots a star." Let us, before we begin to consider its application to Freemasonry, endeavour to illustrate it by examining how far it has within the last few years influenced religion and art.

Take the Church of England. Forty or fifty years ago how dull, cold, dead, and lethargic were her services. This is not the proper place, of course, to discuss anything bearing the most distant relation to polemics, religious or political, but it may not be without its utility as a matter of mere speculation to ponder how far the principles of disestablishment and disendowment are hereditary, and have been transmitted from Nonconformists, who lived in a period when the Church was the sluggard, and the dissenter the worker, in the vineyard, to dissenters who, in habit, and reliance on tradition, do not take trouble to verify their present impressions by temporary examination. Men who do not yet in middle life remember the "parson and the k duet," the mumbled sermon, the quarterly celebrations, the utter neglect of nearly all the duties of the Church, and the general laissez faire tone that pervaded all her ministers.

Then came the re-action. It is not our province, nor would it be becoming in us here, to enquire how, or if, the sharp competition of nonconformity animated the dead bones with life, but the life came. Then, to be brief, came the extravagancies of Pusey et hoc genus omne, excesses of ultra-ritualism, excesses even now prevalent in many places, ex. gr., the legislation of last year—but what has been the outcome of it? and here we are on ground where all can see, Romanist, Churchman, Dissenter, nay, Jew—for this is not a matter of discussion, the mere enunciation of a plain, naked fact. The net result of ritualistic extravagance has been a revival of Church life, a consignment degraded oblivion of the sluggishness of the age, a warmth in the services, an activity in the ministrations, an intelligence in the ceremonial dogmatic functions which, to say the least, has raised the Church of England of a past age, and—if we can so call it—the partially distinct present time, very favourably with the Puseyite age.

The same development is observable in art. A hundred, nay, fifty years ago, accuracy and colouring were as little regarded in the English school of painting as three hundred years ago they were in the Dutch. Indeed, it is doubtful whether, in these matters, we had at the beginning of this century progressed much beyond the practice of Hogarth, who, interpreting Scripture narrative, that our blessed Lord's sepulchre was sealed, literally, paints the Roman soldiers sealing it with a stick of red sealing wax, upon which one still may read legibly inscribed the trade legend of its Dutch manufacturers in the seventeenth century, "Brend wel und houd fest." Burn well and hold fast. But apart from local colouring and accurate accessories the general slovenliness of treatment in every part of the picture, except the principal figure or figures, was conspicuously censurable. This, it is well known, resulted from the universal practice of allowing backgrounds and accessories to be filled in by the pupils; the artist reserving his manual efforts for the central group. But the result was atrocious, and, coupled with the ostentatious contempt for correctness and accuracy which characterised the artists of the first twenty years of this century, rendered the ante-Wilkie school of—at all events—historical or scripture painting worthless as tangible illustration. Take for instance Northcote, Westall, and even Haydon. The barons of John in the tunics and tights of Queen Elizabeth's time—and even those spuriously represented—the Hotspurs and Plantagenets in the armour of the Cavaliers and Roundheads; every period in a series of a thousand years in Roman history depicted by means of the same togas and helmets and mantles. What resulted from this long-continuous display of carelessness and ignorance? The feeling of a want; the energy to supply it; in a word what has been absurdly enough called Pre-Raphaelitism—the Ritualistic extravagance of art. But the fitful fever of Pre-Raphaelitism passed, what remained? What was the residuum? Surely the careful conscientious true art work of the present day. In morals no less than in matter, the motto omne majus continet in se minus applies, and when excess has been absorbed the probability is that sufficiency will remain. To apply these principles, assisted by an illustration we propose to adduce in our next, to the practice of the Craft, is the object of the present series of articles.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

Degree of Most Excellent, Royal, Select, and Super-Excellent Master.

Meetings, under the Authority of the GRAND COUNCIL OF ENGLAND AND WALES, to confer the above Degrees, will be held at the new Lodge Rooms, 2, Red Lion-square, Holborn, on the second and fourth Wednesday in every month. Fee £2 2s.

Ten days' notice of attendance must be sent to the undersigned, from whom all particulars may be obtained.

Candidates must be qualified as Royal Arch and Mark Master Masons.

FREDERICK BINCKES, Grand Recorder.

Office,—2, Red Lion-square, W.C. June 8, 1874.

GENERAL POST OFFICE (Within a few yards of).—To Let an entire house, having a frontage of about 10ft. and comprising ground floor fitted with plate glass front, basement, and three upper floors, with or without an extensive range of four-storey brick-built premises and large yard, enclosed by double entrance gates; the whole covering an area of about 5,500ft. Plans and particulars at Messrs. Debenham, T. Watson and Farmer, 80, Cheapside.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tauba. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

New Ready, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CARTES DE VISITE OF THE FOLLOWING

Masonic Celebrities.

- The Most Hon. the Marquess of Ripon. The Right Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, D.G.M. The Right Hon. Lord Wavenny, Prov. Grand Master Suffolk. The Right Hon. the Earl of Bective, P.G.M. Cumberland and Westmorland. The Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, P.G.M. Bristol. Sir Fredk. Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., D.P.G.M. Cornwall. Adair, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Somerset. Bagshaw, R., J., Prov. G. Master Essex. Beach, W. W. B., M.P., Prov. G. Master Hunts. Burdett, Col. F., Prov. G. Master Middlesex. Dobie, A., P. Prov. G. Master Surrey. Graham, J. H., L.L.D., M.W. G. Master Quebec. Huxley, Rev. Jno., Prov. G. Master Devon. Lazar, J., District G. Master New Zealand. Smith, Augustus, P., Prov. G. Master Cornwall. Stuart, W., Past Grand Master, K.T. Vernon, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Staffordshire. Adams, Jas, P.M., P.Z. Monckton, J. B., P.G.D. Moore, Rev. T. E. P.G.C. Moss, J. T., P.M., P.Z. Murgidger, Henry. Norton, Jacob. Obren Magnus, P.M., P.Z.; 31°. Parvin, T. R., Sec. Genl. Lodge of Iowa. Platt, J. P., M.P.Z. Port, J. Pullen, Hyde, 33°, P.G.S.B. Purday, P.M. Riebeck, W., P.P.G.S.B. Surrey. Rule, P.G. Fitzalan. Scott, Chas., Commander, R.N. Shaboe, Rev. D., P.P.G. Chaplain Middx. Simms, J. Lambert. Smith, P.G.P. Spiera, R. J., P.G.S.B., D.P.G.M. Oxford. Spurr, J. F., P.M. St. Louis "Freemason." Hants. Stevens, James, P.M., P.Z. Stewart, Raynham W., P.G.D. Stobwasser, J., P.M., P.Z. Stone, W., P.M., K.T. Stringer, Stuart, W., P.Z. Sugg, P.M. Swain, C., P.P.G.S.B. Herts. Taylor, J., P.P.J.W. Middlesex. Thomas, Jas., P.M. Udall, J., P.G.D. Walters, Fredk., P.M., P.Z. Wigginton, Col., W.M. 1509. Williams, John. Woodford, The Rev. A.F.A., Past Grand Chaplain. Wright.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

FREDERICK ADLARD, MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.

Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher (Rgst'd.),

Bro. Adlard's far-famed Jewel Attacher from its simplicity and convenience has only to be known to be universally adopted. The price 7s. 6d. places it within the reach of all—"Masonic Magazine."

We have much pleasure in recommending Bro. Adlard's Attacher for its convenience and usefulness.—"The Freemason."

Bro. Adlard's Superior Fitting Lodge Collars are also well worthy the attention of the Craft.

No. 2 2 5, HIGH HOLBORN, Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

- FOR FISH Try GOW
FOR POULTRY Try GOW.
FOR GAME Try GOW.
FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS. Try GOW

J. GOW. 1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE. Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c. Country Orders promptly executed. ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE

O P H T H A L M I A .

SAVE YOUR EYES! RESTORE YOUR SIGHT! THE EYES!

Those who are troubled with Inflamed Eyelids, Dimness of Sight, or Weak Eyes, should use

COCKLES' EYE WATER.

This noted application has been before the public upwards of seventy years; is used by Royalty, the Nobility, Clergy, and the Officers of both Services, and needs no further recommendation. Restores impaired vision and overworked Eyes; cures weak, watery, inflamed, and near-sighted Eyes, and stimulates the Eyes to health in all other diseases. Perfectly safe. The patients will speedily find relief from its use. 2s. 6d. and 4s. 9d. per bottle; cases for India, securely packed, 21s. Can be ordered through any Chemist in this neighbourhood

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

Office:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT: May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
193 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £3,062.
Laid by in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £23,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,

9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.

ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury,
Caused by Accidents

Chief Offices—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.

Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.

London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY
(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
C. HARDING, Manager.

MONEY, TIME AND LIFE

ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF

ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.

Provide against these losses by a Policy of the Railway Passengers' Assurance Company

AGAINST ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS.

The oldest and largest ACCIDENTAL ASSURANCE COMPANY

HON. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.

Paid-up Capital & Reserve Fund £140,000
ANNUAL INCOME, £160,000.

£810,000 have been paid as Compensation.
Bonus allowed to Insurers of Five Years' standing.

Apply to the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents,
64, CORNHILL, and 10, REGENT STREET, LONDON
WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life
Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSU-RANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to shipowners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports Holland.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

Freemasons' Arms.....	15ft. by 12ft.
Knights Templar Arms.....	15ft. by 12ft.
Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms	15ft. by 12ft.
Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre	12ft. by 9ft.
City of London Arms.....	10ft. by 7ft.
Union Jack.....	10ft. by 6ft.
Duke of Edinburgh.....	9ft. by 4½ft.
Russian	9ft. by 4½ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT
108, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,

LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS.

Entrance Fee	£ 8. 4
Annual Subscription	3 3 0
Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant- Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee)	1 1 0
The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lava- torias, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAN, P.M., F.S., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.

THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."

Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS SAUCE.

Beware of Imitations

to avoid which see the names,
LEA & PERRINS,
on all bottles and labels.

Agents—CROSBY & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.

(Established upwards of 35 years.)

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL
FEATHERMEN,

81, City Road, Finsbury Square, opposite the Finsbury Schools,
E.C., and 24, Southgate-road, Downham-road, near the Rosemary
Branch Bridge, N.

(No connection with any other establishment of the same name.)
Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—
See Illustrated Prospectus.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,

Complete Funeral Furnishers,

232 HIGH HOLBORN,

Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.

Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. AYTON,

Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,

ESTABLISHED 1821,

79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,

AND

139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.

Price List on Application. Distance no object.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,

(LATE WITH PATERNALL & CO.)

106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.

Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers,
Engineers, &c.

Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.

Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.

Own Carts Delivered Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,

EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE

WORSHIPFUL MASTER

SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND

CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,

10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES

Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depot,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 1,
Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch lane.

Richard Rayner & Co

MANUFACTURING

CABINET MAKERS AND

UPHOLSTERERS,

142, ALDERSGATE STREET

LONDON, E.C.

S. YARDLEY,

(ESTABLISHED 1830)

Shop Front Builder

SHOP FITTER,

AND

Air Tight Show Case Manufacturer

8, LOWER WOOD STREET, CLERKENWELL

LONDON, E.C.

Every description of fittings manufactured for Jewellers, Co-Stationers, Offices, Drapers, Museums, Banks, Libraries, Otern, and Hostiers, Fancy Trades, &c.

Plans and Estimates provided for shop fronts and interiors, in Town or any part of the Country.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Bronzes, Fenders and Fire Irons, &c. plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger

42, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.

OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REAL

Good Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does keep an "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any part select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other

the Trade," but quite as cheap as any.

A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

WINDOW BLINDS

JANES & SON.

WIRE, VENETIAN, OUTSIDES, &c.

Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street,

Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly.

No Other House.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.—All

at 75, Edgware-road, W.

Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five

£8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voice cabinet, £1

ten stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; 16

stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated

logue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,

Harmonium Manufacturers,

75, Edgware-road, London.

FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION (in a quence of the Lodge removing) the HARMOni-um belonging to a Freemason's Lodge, together with Furniture. For particulars apply to the address

M. Corless, 48, Crown-st., London, W. (John Dale-street, Edgware-road, W.)

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.) Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance to the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, osiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

104 CHURCH SERMONS, By EMINENT CLERGYMEN. Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REEVE SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S NEW TRACING BOARDS Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR. Artist and Photographer. 11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW. Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full 1/2p. Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH, LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH, PHOTOGRAPHER. Specialize for Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon. Studio is specially adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN. 13, REGENT-STREET, W.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

BERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c. Retail through all Furnishing Houses. Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS, 335c, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE. n daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 1s. 6d.; from 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first 4s.; second class, 15s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Proprietor.—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Housemaid, Jermyn-street.

THE BIRKBECK the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION! Now to Purchase a House for Two Guineas per Month, immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to invest Money with safety at 4 1/2 per cent Interest. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK. Under £50 repayable upon demand. Current accounts and similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Loans from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

E SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Edition, 5s. book of profound thrilling interest.—Christian London: Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

“THE FREEMASON” OF ST. LOUIS. The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gookey, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $3 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London “Freemason” 198, Fleet-street.

THE ENTR'ACTE. A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW, Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisements. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 4, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

“THE FREEMASON,” Supplied by T. DRISCOLL, Wholesale Newsagent, 87, Farringdon-st., E.C. South London Branch, 416, Wandsworth-road, S.W., eight doors from the London Chatham and Dover Railway Station. Wholesale Publisher to the Trade SWANSEA.

Agent for “The Freemason.” BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for “The Freemason.”

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC and LIVER PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Dandelion, Turkey Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger. No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Costiveness, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and the most delicate may take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON'S SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success, in Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by THOMAS WILKINSON, 270, Regent Street, London, W. May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUINOLINE for the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, and Effects of MALARIA. An Unfailing Remedy. Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily took a small quantity, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, which thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Pint Bottles, Prepared only by THOMAS WILKINSON, 270, Regent Street, London, W. May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON'S BRONCHIO-THORACIC LOZENGES. Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience has fully justified the recommendation as the most speedy remedy in Irritation of the Throat, Catarrhs, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers and vocalists they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and beautiful tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable taste. In bottles of one uniform size.

YOUNG'S ARTICATED CORN AND JOINT PLAISTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate ease, and removing those painful excrescences. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT. WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS. Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful to the patient, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the MANUFACTURER, Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London. Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free. of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly, NEW PATENT.

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c. The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free. CHEST EXPANDING BRACES, (For both sexes.) For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces. For children they are invaluable, they prevent stooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest. Prices, for children, 5s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s. 6d., 15s. 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free. And Every Description of Surgical Appliances. JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. “When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it.”

GEORGE REES MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London. GEORGE REES' GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade. GEORGE REES' 100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot. GEORGE REES' First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each. GEORGE REES' CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices. 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre

CROSBYS BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR. O O O U G H. Image of a landscape in a circular frame. CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR.

Dyspepsia, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief, a course of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy. SELECT TESTIMONIAL. Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the “Anti-Lancet,” says: “I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease.” This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough. *Invalids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on “Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels,” a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

“FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.” CLARKE'S WORLD FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE. TRADE MARK.—“BLOOD MIXTURE.” THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly commended. For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure. It Cures old Sores. Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck. Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs. Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face. Cures Scurvy Sores. Cures Cancerous Ulcers. Cures Blood and Skin Diseases. Cures Glandular Swellings. Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising. As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of Testimonials from all parts. Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 2s or 12s stamps by F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln. Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPEC-TACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horne and Thornthwaite's, Opticians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. See superlative speciality, “Bow Lane Spectacles,” which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.—Try Anthony Scard's new material! Peculiarly Prepared Porpese Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, becomes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable luxury. Superior to all other Footwear. Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies order skilfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

Just published, Free Edition, GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, MENTAL, AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power By DR. HENRY SMITH. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Strength, Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Illustrated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in each case. The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on receipt of two penny stamps. Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Burton-crescent, London, W.C.

Now Ready. Price 5s.

THE LIFE OF CONSTANTINE,

IN FOUR BOOKS.

Written in Greek by EUSEBIUS PAMPILUS, Bishop of Cæsarea in Palestine.

Done into English from that edition set forth by VALESIIUS, and printed in Paris in the year 1659.

Preface to the translation by Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, M.A., Past Grand Chaplain. Also preface by Bro. Robert Wentworth Little, Grand Treasurer of the Masonic Order of Constantine.

WITH ENGRAVINGS OF Constantine.

Lord Rancliffe, of Ireland, Grand Commander of the Orders of Constantine and Phillipi. H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex, K.G., Grand Sovereign from 1813 to 1843.

The Earl of Bective, M.P., Grand Sovereign 1866 to 1874.

Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., Grand Viceroy 1866 to 1874, Grand Sovereign 1874 and 1875.

Colonel Francis Burdett, Grand Viceroy 1874 and 1875.

Robert Wentworth Little, Grand Recorder 1865 to 1872, Grand Treasurer 1873, 4 & 5

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, FLEET STREET.

NOVEMBER NUMBER, now ready. Price Sixpence.

THE MASONIC MAGAZINE,

A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS:

Bro. W. VINER BEDOLFE, M.D.
Bro. W. BURROUGHS, A.M., Calcutta.
Bro. J. G. FINDEL.
Bro. C. G. FORSYTH
Bro. EMMA HOLMES, 31°
Bro. HUBERT.

Bro. WM. JAMES HUGHAN, P.M., P.S.G.D.
Bro. ROBERT WENTWORTH LITTLE, 30°
Bro. D. MURRAY LYON, P.M., P.Z.
Bro. KENNETH R. H. MACKENZIE, F.S.A.
Bro. J. DANIEL MOORE, M.D., F.L.S.
Bro. JACOB NORTON.
Bro. J. C. PARRINSON, P.M., P.Z., G.D.

Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON, P.M.
Bro. GEORGE MARKHAM TWEDELL.
Bro. REV. A. F. A. WOODFORD, M.A., P.G.
Bro. DR. WOODMAN, P.M., P.Z.
Bro. JOSEPH H. WOODWORTH.
Bro. T. B. YEOMAN.

CONTENTS:

Monthly Masonic Summary
Our Masonic Manuscripts.
A Romance of the American War.
Charles Dickens—A Lecture.
Patty's Confidences.
Records of the Past.
Account of an Apparition seen at Star Cross, in Devonshire.
What is the Good of Freemasonry?

Our Archæological Corner.
Oration, by M.W. Grand Master Van Slyck.
The Present Influence and Future Mission of Freemasonry.
Poetry.
Nous avons Change Cela!
P.P.C.
Shadows.
How may I know you to be a Mason
On the Stairway, 11, p.m.

The Masonic Magazine will be forwarded from the Office of Publication, throughout the United Kingdom, on the following terms—

	s.	d.
Twelve months	7	0
Six " " " " " " " " " "	3	6
One Copy " " " " " " " "	0	7

For Foreign parts, postage on 4 oz. Magazine must be added.

PUBLISHING OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE

COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR, DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,

AS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,

CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

Extract from "INDIAN ECONOMIST."

"We direct the attention of medical men to a fact observed some years since by ourselves, and corroborated by our subsequent experience, that Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is in many cases of Low Fever immensely superior to Quinine in curative power. We cannot persuade ourselves the true value of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is yet properly appraised in India. . . . It may be given with absolute safety even to a three days old. Were medical men but to make a fair and exhaustive trial of it we are persuaded that it would work a revolution in the treatment of two-thirds of the diseases to which children are subject. Its curative power is simply amazing."

"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he had received a despatch from her Majesty's Consul at Manilla, to the effect Cholera had been raging fearfully, and that the ONLY remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE."—See Lancet, Dec. 1. 1864.

From W. VESALIUS PETTIGREW, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England.

Formerly Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine.

"I have no hesitation in stating, after a fair trial of Chlorodyne, that I have never met with any medicine so efficacious as an Anti-Spasmodic and Febrifuge. I have tried it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhœa, and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

From Dr. THOMAS SANDIFORD, Passage West, Cork.

"I will thank you to send me a further supply of Chlorodyne. It was the most efficacious remedy I ever used, affording relief in a violent attack of Cholera within a minute after being taken. One patient in particular, who has suffered for years with periodical attacks of Spasms of a most violent nature, and unable to obtain relief from other remedies, such as opium, &c., finds nothing so prompt and efficacious as Chlorodyne."

From JNO. E. GOULSTONE, M.D., late Principal Surgeon to the Steamship Great Eastern.

"I can confidently state Chlorodyne is an admirable Sedative and Anti-Spasmodic, having used it in Neuralgia, Hysteria, Asthma, and Convulsions, with remarkably favourable results. It relieved a fit of Asthma in four minutes, where the patient had suffered eleven years in a most distressing manner, no previous remedy having had so immediate and beneficial an effect."

From Dr. B. J. BOULTON and Co., Horncastle.

We have made pretty extensive use of Chlorodyne in our practice lately, and look upon it as an excellent direct Sedative and Anti-Spasmodic. It induces a feeling of comfort and quietude not obtainable by any other remedy, and it seems to possess this great advantage over all other sedatives, that it leaves no unpleasant after effects."

J. C. BAKER, Esq., M.D. Bideford.

It is, without doubt, the most valuable and certain Anodyne we have."

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the Defendant, Freeman, was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "Times," 13th July, 1864.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d., each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" on the wrapper and Patent Stamp. Overwhelming Medical Testimony accompanies each Bottle.

CAUTION.—BEWARE OF PIRACY AND IMITATIONS.

SOLE MANUFACTURER—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, GREAT RUSSELL STREET, BLOOMSBURY, LONDON.

Minimum Dividends of 10 per cent. per Annum for Three Years secured by the Vendor.

THE BURNGULLOW HEMATITE IRON ORE COMPANY

(LIMITED.)

Incorporated under the Companies' Acts 1862 and 1867.

CAPITAL £25,000

IN 12,500 SHARES OF £2 EACH.

Deposit 10s. per Share on Application, and 30s. per Share upon Allotment. Share Warrants to Bearer will be where required, thereby obviating the trouble and annoyance of transfer.

Directors.

CHARLES CULLEN, Esq., Devon Lodge, Northfleet.
CAPTAIN DAVIS, 21, Burton-crescent, Tavistock-square.
JAMES RADCLIFFE, Esq., Shooter's-hill-road, Blackheath.
WALTER SHETTLEWORTH, Jun., Esq., 27, Crosby Hall, Chambers, London.
JOHN J. VON DER HEYDE, Esq., Caterham, Surrey.
(With power to add to their number.)

Manager at the Mine.

CAPTAIN THOMAS PARKYN, Roche, Cornwall.

Bankers.

LONDON: City Bank, Ludgate hill Branch, E.C.

CORNWALL: South Cornwall Bank, St. Austell.

Solicitors.

Messrs. KNOX AND MOULD, 11, Newgate-street, E.C.

Secretary.

SAMUEL S. EWART, Esq.

Offices.

1, Great Winchester-street-buildings, Old Broad-street, E.C.

Hematite Iron Ore may now be fairly considered one of the principal of our native productions, on account of its peculiar fitness and adaptability for producing not only the very best description of manufactured iron, but also steel of the finest quality; and as the latter article is rapidly coming into universal use for rails, the demand bids soon to be far in excess of the supply. For this and other purposes, the demand for Hematite Ore is enormous and constantly increasing; hence Hematite properties containing large deposits of Ore of fine quality, and possessing natural facilities for cheap and rapid development, have necessarily become extremely valuable, and from them gigantic fortunes have been, and are still being realized.

The Directors have been fortunate in securing a Hematite property which they confidently believe will fully realise the foregoing description, and justify them in its selection, and they do not doubt it will prove a source of unusually lucrative return for the money invested.

The property, which is about Eighty Acres in extent, is situate near the shipping port of Par, in the County of Cornwall, and is likewise intersected by the Cornwall Railway, which gives access to the whole kingdom.

The advantages of its position are of no ordinary character, inasmuch as the Ore can be raised for 2s. 6d. per ton, and no cartage whatever is required; it can therefore be delivered in South Wales at a cost of 9s. 6d. per ton.

Owing to the strike among the colliers, the present price of the Ore delivered would be about 18s. per ton, but its normal average would be considerably in excess of this sum.

The estate abounds in Hematite Ore of rich quality. The vein which is being worked upon, and from which several thousand tons have been raised, varies from 12 feet to 18 feet in width, and extends for a considerable distance, so that there is an ample supply for a very large yearly output for a lifetime.

As soon as the necessary extension works are completed, and a steam engine erected, which will occupy but a very limited period, 200 tons per day may readily be raised, and that quantity can be increased almost ad infinitum; but assuming that a minimum quantity of 100 tons per day only were raised, at a profit of only 6s. 6d. per ton, this would give a return of £10,140 per annum, which is equal to upwards of 40 per cent. upon the entire capital of the Company; a return which could not be otherwise than highly satisfactory to the most sanguine.

The Directors have every reason to believe, however that the returns will greatly exceed this estimate, both regards the output and the profit per ton to be derived and they therefore confidently draw the attention of the moneyed classes to the undertaking as second to none as a safe and profitable investment.

This Company has therefore been formed for the purpose of acquiring the lease of the property, and largely developing the rich deposits of mineral which it contains.

Although the vendor firmly believes that there is not the slightest occasion for it, he has agreed to leave in the hands of the Directors one half of the purchase money, in order to secure the due payment of minimum dividends of at least 10 per cent. per annum, for three years—a fact which speaks for itself of his estimation of the value of the property, and the results certain to be realized from working it.

The Directors consider themselves fortunate in having secured the services, as Manager, of Captain Thor Parkyn, whose residence on the spot and great practical mining knowledge will be of the utmost value to the Company.

The annexed reports, by eminent authorities on such matters, fully explain the nature and value, and lucidly point out the merits and capabilities of, the undertaking.

The only contract or agreement is one bearing date 30th October, 1874, and made between J. Mason of the one part, and S. S. Ewart, on behalf of the Company of the other part, by which it is stipulated that £15,000 be paid for the property.

Copies of the Contract, Memorandum and Article Association, &c., may be seen at the solicitors, or at the offices of the Company, where also prospectuses, forms of application, &c., may be obtained and samples of the Ore be seen.

Applications for shares must be made to the Bankers, with the accompanying form, and with a deposit of 10s. per share on the number applied for.

If no allotment be made, the money will be returned out any deduction, and where a less number of shares than that applied for, the balance of deposit will be returned towards the sum payable on allotment.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

His Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES, the M.W. Grand Master of England; SIR MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

VOL. 7, No. 298.]

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE With Supplement, 2d.]

EMULATION

Lodge of Improvement.

Under the Sanction of the Lodge of Unions, No. 256.

Bro. J. HERVEY (G. Sec.), Treasurer.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Of the Lodge will take place at FREEMASONS' HALL,

ON

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 27, 1874, On which occasion

Bro. Intyre Q.C.

o'clock

The work will be the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th sections of the First, and the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd sections of Third Lecture.

Tickets for the Banquet may be had of the stewards, or of the Secretary, 4s. each.

A. GREEN, Sec.,
2, Clifton-terrace, Notting-hill, W

N.B.—The Emulation Lodge of Improvement meets at Freemasons' Hall on every Friday Evening throughout the year at 7 o'clock.

GRAND LODGE.

OF

Mark Master Masons.

OF

ENGLAND AND WALES.

AND THE

Colonies and Dependencies of the British Crown.

EARL PERCY, M.P., M.W.G.M.
RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF LIMERICK,
R.W.D.G.M.

THE WINTER HALF-YEARLY COMMUNICATION will be held at Freemasons' Tavern, Great Queen-street, Lincoln's Inns, on Tuesday, the 1st December, 1874, ten and where all Grand Officers (past and present), W. Masters, Past Masters, Wardens, and Overseers of private lodges are hereby summoned to attend, and at which, by permission, regularly registered Mark Master Masons may be present.

The ceremony of advancement will be worked at a Lodge of Improvement, to meet at Half-past Three o'clock, p.m.

GRAND LODGE will be opened at Five o'clock, p.m. The Banquet will be provided at seven o'clock; Tickets, Nine Shillings and Sixpence (exclusive of Wine and Dessert).

Brethren intending to be present are requested to send their names to the Grand Stewards, care of the Grand Secretary, as under.

By command,
FREDERICK BINCKES, (P.G.J.W.)
Grand Secretary.

Office, 2, Red Lion-square,
Holborn, London, W.C.
21st November, 1874.

THE Scottish Corporation.

President.

H.R.H. the PRINCE of WALES (Duke of Rothesay) K.G., &c.

Vice Presidents.

His Grace the Duke of Roxburghe, K.T.

His Grace the Duke of Buccleugh, K.G.

His Grace the Duke of Richmond and Lennox, K.G.

His Grace the Duke of Montrose, K.T.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Lauderdale, K.C.B.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Roseberry.

The TWO HUNDRED and TENTH

Anniversary Festival

of this Corporation will take place at

THE FREEMASONS' TAVERN

on St. Andrew's Day, Monday, Nov. 30, when the Most Hon. the Marquis of Huntly, the Premier Marquis of Scotland, will occupy the Chair.

N.B.—For the List of Stewards see the "Times" of Thursday, Nov. 19.

Subscriptions and Donations from noblemen and gentlemen who may not find it convenient to attend the Festival will be gratefully acknowledged and announced on St. Andrew's Day. Applications for tickets, One Guinea each, ought to be made without delay to the managing Stewards, at the Hall.

MACRAE MOIR.

The Scottish Corporation Hall, E.C.,
Nov. 18, 1874.

Most Puissant Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of England, &c.

Constituted 4th August, 1871.

Bro. Rev. G. Raymond Portal, 18°, G.M.
Ill. Bro. Capt. N. G. Phillips, 33°, D.G.M.
Ill. Bro. J. M. P. Montagu, 33°, G.P.C.W.

A GENERAL ASSEMBLY

will be held as above,

On Monday, the 30th of November, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon,

To elect a Grand Master.

To receive such duly-qualified candidates as may offer themselves.

To appoint and invest the Grand Officers.

General business.

FREDERICK BINCKES, 30°,
Grand Recorder.

New Lodge Room, 2, Red Lion Square,
London, W.C., Nov. 17, 1874.

ENGLISH CLOTHING is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. Moses and Son's are the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES and SON have as usual made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-Court-road,
And Bradford, Yorkshire.

MOURNING.

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.

LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 179, Piccadilly.
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
In pen and ink ... 4/6
Herbaceous colours ... 7/6
Engraved on copper ... 1/6

Bro. JAMES B. SLY,
9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.

Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by
STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,
Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS,
London.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S
WORLD FAMED
BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK,—"BLOOD MIXTURE."

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER.

For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.

For Scrofula, Scoury, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds; it is a never-failing and permanent cure.

It Cures old Sores.

- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
- Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs.
- Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
- Cures Scoury Sores.
- Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
- Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
- Cures Glandular Swellings.
- Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts.
Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases,—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 27 or 132 stamps by

F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln.
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

CROSBY'S
BALSAMIC
COUGH ELIXIR.

Opiates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increase that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the real remedy.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsey, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 7s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist Scarborough.

*Invalids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had Gratis of all Chemists.

YOUNG'S ARNICATED
CORN AND JUNION
PLASTERS

are the best ever invented for giving immediate relief, and removing those painful excruciations. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT,
WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS

Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the

MANUFACTURER,

Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.

Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d., and 31s. 8d. Postage free of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage rec.

Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly.

NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.

The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

CHEST EXPANDING BRACES,

(For both sexes). For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces. For children they are invaluable; they prevent slooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest. Prices, for children, 5s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s. 6d., 12s. 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free.

And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.
JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture

This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children." It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates. In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.) Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 25, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed in country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 25s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 257, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of 54 stamps or P.O.O.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.

The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five (Quires) emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,
81, CITY ROAD, FINSBURY SQUARE, and 24, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNHAM ROAD, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.
No connection with any other establishment of the same name.
Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FREDERICK ADLARD,

MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.,

Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher (Rgstd.),

No. 225, HIGH HOLBORN,
Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."
Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

Beware of Imitations to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels.

Agents—Cross & Blackwell, London, and by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

GEORGE REES MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES' GILT MOULDINGS, cheap in the Trade.

GEORGE REES' 100,000 feet of GILT BORDERING in stock, 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES' First-class ENGRAVING from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES' CHROMOS, from the Master's, at reduced prices. 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite the Theatre.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER (in consequence of the Lodge removing) an HARMONIUM belonging to a Freemasons' Lodge, together with the Furniture. For particulars apply by letter, addressed Bro. M. Corless, 48, Crown-street, or to Bro. S. Johnson, 48, Dal e-street, Liverpool.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

The M.W. Grand Master 739

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—

Craft Masonry 739

Instruction 740

Royal Arch 741

Mark Masonry 742

Scotland 742

Consecration of a New Lodge at Oxford 746

Consecration of a New Lodge at Portmadoc 743

Consecration of a New Chapter at St. Austell 743

After-Dinner Speeches 744

Another Attack on Freemasonry 744

Our Royal Brother Prince Leopold 745

CORRESPONDENCE:—

The Orders of the Temple and Malta 745

Was the Pope a Freemason? 745

Masonic Legends 746

Dedication of a Masonic Hall at Thirsk 747

Masonic Tidings 748

Masonic Notes and Queries 748

Freemasonry in Cornwall 748

Degree of Benevolence 748

Advertisements 737 738 744 749 750 751 752

SUPPLEMENT (FOUR PAGES).

Grand Cross of Constantine 753

Grand Lodge of Middlesex 754

Masonic Orphan Boys' School, Dublin 755

Freemasonry in Bermuda 756

Views 756

THE M.W. GRAND MASTER.

We understand on good authority that it will be possible for the M.W.G.M. the Prince of Wales to attend the Quarterly Communication of the Grand Lodge on the 2nd December.

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

DOMATIC LODGE (No. 177.)—This lodge held its regular November meeting on the 13th inst. at Anderson's Hotel, and there was a large gathering of brethren on the occasion. The M., Bro. F. Kent, C.C., occupied the chair, which he was supported by his officers. Bro. Tims, P.M., taking the S.D.'s duties in absence of that brother, and Bros. Brett, Don, Foulger, Josh. Smith, W. F. Smith, Ferguson. The agenda paper showed a list of business to be performed and several resolutions to be discussed. These latter, however, were ordered, after some short conversation, to stand over; but the W.M. initiated his order, Mr. Kent, and Mr. Tribe, and passed resolutions, Bros. Vivian and Potter, to the 2nd Degree. The W.M. feelingly alluded to the death of Bro. Lillywhite, which was mentioned on the summons as having occurred at the last regular meeting of the lodge. He announced the death of Bro. Bradley. In connection to these announcements he read a letter from Mrs. Kent to the effect that with the balance of the "Domestic ball" she had become Governor of the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls. Another letter was read from Sir John Lubbock, apologising for his absence on that evening but hoping to be present at the next meeting of the lodge. The W.M. shortly afterwards closed the lodge, and the brethren adjourned to banquet, which was well supplied by Bro. Clemow, under the superintendence of Bro. George Smith.

LODGE OF TRANQUILITY (No. 185.)—The 11th monthly meeting of this lodge was held on the 16th instant at the City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street, E.C. The W.M. (Bro. John Stable) presided, assisted by the following officers:—Bros. J. H. Ross, S.W.; J. D. Barlow, J.W.; John Peartree, Treasurer; Phillip Levy, Honorary Secretary; G. S. Pare, J.D.; W. O. Bayley, as I.G. The S.D., Bro. D. Posener, being absent in consequence of the death of his eldest son, which occurred on the morning of the same day, a general expression of heartfelt sympathy was manifested by the brethren of the Lodge, by whom Bro. Posener is held in high esteem. The Past Masters present were Bros. N. Moss, I.P.M., S. E. Moss, J. Holbrook, E. Harfeld, A. E. Sydney, M. Harris, E. Gottheil, and N. Gluckstein. Visitors—Bros. T. G. Bullen, J.W. 197; D. Still, P.M. 1293; and D. Cohen, 188. In the course of the evening Bros. Magnin, Christie, Jauralde, and Barber were passed to the second degree, and two brethren admitted joining members. The most noteworthy incident of the meeting was the discussion of a notice of motion given at the previous monthly meeting by P.M. S. E. Moss:—"That a sum not exceeding £60 be voted from the lodge funds to publish the History of the Lodge as written by the W.M., and the balance (after recouping the lodge) be given to the Benevolent Fund attached thereto." The motion was opposed by P.M. A. E. Sydney, who in his vigorous and fluent style endeavoured to show the impropriety of applying the funds for any such purpose. He was supported by Bro. Harris, P.M. Bros. Gluckstein P.M., Child, and Gottheil, P.M., supported the motion, which was carried by a goodly majority, there being 21 for the motion, and 5 against it, thus showing that the brethren had a truer appreciation of the disinterested labours of the W.M. for the prosperity of the lodge, than the old stagers who, after having passed the chair, are consigned to the ranks technically known as the incorrigibles. After an ample repast the toasts were given briefly and responded to, interspersed with songs by Bros. Child, Bayley, and Barnett; the Tyler's toast concluded the evening, and the brethren separated shortly after ten p.m.

LIVERPOOL.—Harmonic Lodge (No. 216.)—The usual monthly meeting of the Harmonic Lodge was held at the Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool, on Thursday evening, the 12th inst. Bro. Ismay, W.M., presided, supported by Bros. J. Beasley, I.P.M.; J. Skeaf, P.G.O., P.M.; Moore, S.W.; G. Fowler, J.W.; J. Rees; Jenkins, Chaplain; W. Laidlaw, Treasurer; Derryhouse, Secretary; &c.; and amongst the members of the lodge present were—Bros. Councillor D. Campbell, Dr. Costine, Dr. Kisch, W. F. Naylor, Caine, T. J. Hughes, &c. Amongst the visitors were—Bro. the Rev. Dr. Hyde, Bro. Stoddart, P.G.S.W.; D. Jones, H. C. Harrison, &c. After the lodge had been opened, and the minutes of the previous meeting confirmed, the W.M., in a most complete, effective, and impressive manner, raised Bros. Wright, Gill, Gillmore, Thomas, and Williams to the sublime degree of M.M. At the close of the ceremony the W.M. said that since their last meeting they had lost a brother who was very much beloved, not only in that lodge, but in many others within the province—he referred to Bro. George Rigby Smith. He could not by any words add to the esteem in which the memory of their deceased brother was held, and therefore he would simply move the following resolution for the favourable consideration of the brethren:—"That we, the members of the Harmonic Lodge, No. 216, of Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons, in open lodge assembled, do testify that we have heard with the deepest sorrow of the death of our much-beloved brother, George Rigby Smith. He had endeared himself to the hearts of all by his many amiable and noble qualities, and by his assiduous attention to, and support of, every good and charitable work. He was a true man and most worthy Mason, of whom it has been well said, None knew him not to love him, or named him but to praise. We now desire to record our deepest sympathy with his bereaved widow and children, and agree that this resolution should be entered on the records of this lodge, and, further, that a copy should be sent to Mrs. George Rigby Smith." The resolution was seconded by Bro. the Rev. J. Rees Jenkins, Chaplain, in a very feeling speech, and at once adopted by the brethren. After the transaction of some formal business, the lodge was closed in due form. It may be stated that the really artistic and splendidly-appointed new tracing boards, supplied from the well-known Masonic establishment of Bro. G. Kenning, were used for the first time, and they were the theme of general admiration and praise. At the close of business the brethren sat down to a sumptuous banquet, under the presidency of the W.M.

GLOUCESTER.—Royal Lebanon Lodge (No. 493.)—The annual meeting of this lodge was held at the Spread Eagle Hotel, in this city, on Tuesday last, when Bro. Henry Jeffs (P.P.G.J.W. Gloucestershire), who filled the chair two years in succession nine years ago, was again unanimously elected as Worshipful Master. There was a large and influential gathering of the Craft, over sixty brethren being present, and of the number twenty-three were Past Masters of lodges—the Board of Installed Masters was therefore an unusually full one. The following is a list, as far as could be gleaned, of those who attended:—Bros. John Walker, Edwin Williams, J. Robertson, R. W. Holman, J. Winterbotham, D. J. Newman, and Dr. Julius Maier (Cheltenham), J. Brook Smith, W. R. Porcher, and W. L. Bain, (Cheltenham College), Dr. Partridge (Stroud), E. T. Inskip (Bristol), J. Gamble, T. Morse, W. Fairley (Forest of Dean), E. H. Edgell (Tewkesbury), W. Clifford (Frampton-on-Severn), W. H. James (Cirencester), E. Horlick (Tredgar), T. M. Jenkins (Liverpool), J. W. Handley (Madras), the Gloucester brethren being represented by Bros. Dr. Wesley, Captain J. Knight, T. H. Chance, A. Booth, R. W. White, A. S. Helps, J. Bryan, Trevor Powell, T. J. Pooley, F. W. Fisher, G. H. Edwards, F. and W. H. Roberts, Margretts, Stretche, Stephens, Waites, Hatton, Worsley, Joseph, Wilson, Stocker, Woodward, Prowse, Ford, Peters, Rumsey, Hadley, Hastie, Matthews, Rootes, Maitland, Moss, Jeans, Johnson, Winfield, Niblett, Shaqgett, and Pope. The lodge was opened at four o'clock, when the ceremony of installation was conducted by Bro. Rev. C. Raikes Davy, of Tracy Park, Bath, a Past Chaplain of Grand Lodge. This brother ranks very high in the Order, and will be remembered for the popular sermon he preached at the Cathedral in June of last year, on the occasion of the formal presentation of the reedos by the Freemasons of the province to the Dean and Chapter. The brethren appointed to office were:—E. D. Worsley, Immediate Past Master; F. G. Roberts, Treasurer; J. R. Wilson, Secretary; E. G. Woodward and Lewis Ford, Wardens; G. K. Prowse and D. J. Newman, Deacons; W. Curteis, Steward; W. B. Stocker, Director of Ceremonies; G. Peters, Organist; S. Moss, Inner Guard; Doyle and Thomas, Tylers. The banquet was served at six o'clock, and Bro. Henry Jeffs presided. Amongst letters expressive of good wishes for the success of the lodge and regret at being absent were those of Bros. General Money, Lieut.-Col. Basevi, Rev. C. J. Martyn, Grand Chaplain; G. F. Newmarch, W. P. Price, Captain W. E. Price, M.P. and P.M., C. J. Monk, M.P., W. K. Wait, M.P.; J. Agg-Gardner, M.P.; Major Fisher, Thos. Robinson, &c. Bro. Major General Gore Munbee, P.G.S.W., Somerset, had promised to be present, but business detained him in Ireland. On the removal of the cloth and the doors of the room being tyled the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given. Bro. John Walker, M.A., of Westbourne House, Cheltenham, responded for "The Craft," Bro. Rev. C. R. Davy, for "Grand Lodge," Bro. J. Brook Smith for "Provincial Grand Lodge," Bros. Porcher, Winterbotham, and Holman for "The Lodges of the Province," Bros. Horlick and Handley for "Lodges out of the Province," and Bros. Wilson and Stocker for "The Past Masters." A notable feature at the banquet was the presentation of Past Masters' gold jewels to Bros. E. D. Worsley, and E. S. Joseph. After the usual harmony, in which Bro. E. G. Woodward rendered effective accompaniment at the piano-forte, the Tyler's toast, "To all Poor and Distressed Brethren," brought the evening's proceedings to a close.

BELGRAVE LODGE (No. 749.)—The installation meeting of this highly interesting lodge

took place at Anderton's Hotel, Fleet-street, on Wednesday, November 11th. Lodge met at four o'clock sharp, when the chair was taken by the W.M., Bro. E. J. Scott, supported by his officers. Amongst those present were Bro. W. Hester, P.M.; S. Hammond, P.M.; Geo. Pymm, P.M.; members of the lodge. The visitors included Bros. John Hervey, Grand Sec., R. W. Little, P.G. Sec. for Middlesex, Sec. Girls School; John Boyd, P.G. Purs.; James Terry, P.G.D.C. Herts, Secretary Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution; James Linzell, W.M. 1287; E. Coste, P.M. 9; W. Shepherd, P.M. 1489 and W.M. 365; J. Sheppard, P.M. 27; W. Jones, P.M. 559; P. Parsons, P.M.; R. Buller, P.M. 9, Sec. 1365; J. Smith, P.M.; Thomas Strickland, P.P.G.O., Berks and Bucks; S. Bradley, D.C. 414; W. H. Waghorn, W.M. 946; John Williams, 699 (Freemason); and many others. After the confirmation of the minutes of the preceding meeting, Messrs. Dickson, Day, Wiltshire, Shead and Titley were duly initiated into the mysteries of Ancient Freemasonry, each candidate being initiated separately; after which Bro. Harvey was passed to the degree of F.C. Bro. John Painter was then presented by Bro. Scott to Bro. W. Hester for installation, and, having taken the obligation, a board of Installed Masters was formed, and Bro. John Painter was duly installed and received the salutations; and after the brethren had been readmitted to the lodge, he was proclaimed according to ancient custom. The Installing Master, Bro. W. Hester, performed the ceremony in an admirable manner. The new W.M. then appointed his officers as follows: Bros. W. Batley, S.W., J. Hobbs, J.W., W. Runting, Treas., H. Garrod, Sec., H. W. Greenwood, S.D., R. E. Booker, J.D., Geo. Gardiner, I.G. The Installing Master then addressed the W.M. and his officers on their various duties in such a manner that will never be forgotten. His elocutionary powers gained for him the admiration of all present. The W.M. then presented to Bro. Scott a P.M.'s jewel, and trusted that he would live long to wear it. After the hearty good wishes lodge was closed in due form, and the brethren proceeded to the banqueting room, where they sat down to an elegant banquet, presided over by the W.M., Bro. John Painter, supported by Bros. Hervey, Boyd, Hester, Pymm, Little, and others. On the removal of the cloth the W.M. proposed "The Queen and the Craft," and said it was always customary in all regular and recognised lodges to propose the health of one who, by her virtuous and sublime reign, has cemented her to every subject with one willingness of heart. The toast was highly honoured. The brethren sang the National Anthem. He then proposed "The Health of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, M.W. Grand Master designate." His character, he said, is well known to us as our coming king, that our hopes are well centred in him. As a Mason he has done all he could to benefit the Order, and likely to do more when he becomes our Grand Master. This was received with much enthusiasm. The W.M. proposed "The Earl of Carnarvon, R.W.D.G.M., and the other Grand Officers," and said, You are all aware of the ability of our D.G.M., that I need say no more. I am proud to see so many Grand Officers amongst us to-night. We have our highly esteemed brother John Hervey, Grand Sec., also Bros. Boyd, Terry, and Little. I therefore ask you to drink heartily the health of the D.G.M. and rest of Grand Officers, and beg to couple with that toast the name of Bro. Hervey. The toast being highly honoured, Bro. Hervey rose and said: "Brethren, it is always very gratifying to have one's health drunk with so much enthusiasm, and to be associated with so eminent a personage as the Earl of Carnarvon. He is not only eminent as a Mason, but as one of high social standing. It is a honour to have one like him, I cannot say to preside over you, but to watch over your interests. It is also gratifying to know that he can have time to devote to Masonry. I feel highly honoured to-night to have my name coupled with the Earl of Carnarvon, and thank you very kindly for the manner you have received Bro. Boyd and myself. We have met with a very hearty reception to-night, and we feel quite at home. I was glad to hear that the work of initiation was performed separately (cheers). If it took longer time yet it added to the effect and to their positive value; and it showed that the Belgrave Lodge does not perform its work in a slumbering manner. The ceremonies throughout this night have been performed with great accuracy, and I wish you prosperity, Worshipful Sir, and thank you on behalf of the Earl of Carnarvon and the rest of the Grand Officers (cheers). Bro. Boyd thanked the brethren in suitable terms. The W.M. next proposed "The Initiates," and said, we have five brethren who will, I am sure, make good and worthy Masons. The toast was duly honoured, Bro. Goddard singing the Entered Apprentice's Song. Bro. Dickson responded on behalf of the Initiates. The W.M. rose to propose "The Visitors," and said, it afforded him great pleasure to see so many visitors present. We have Bros. Little and Terry, who I shall ask to respond. The toast was highly honoured. Bro. Little rose to return thanks for the kind hospitality that had been shown, and was highly pleased to see the good working, and trusted that the progress that had hitherto attended the lodge would prove the same in the future. He (Bro. Little) highly appreciated the kindness that had been shown. Bro. Terry rose to return thanks, and said, it augurs well for a lodge when, at the installation, the W.M. offers to go as Steward to the Benevolent Institution. The speaker then went on to show the great necessity of the brethren subscribing to the institution which he represented, and strongly urged them, one and all, to do their best. After thanking the brethren for their kindness, and wishing the W.M. a successful year of office, Bro. Terry sat down amidst loud cheering. Bro. Scott rose and proposed the health of "The W.M." The toast was received and drank with great enthusiasm. The W.M., in returning thanks, assured the brethren that he was always happy to do good for the Belgrave Lodge, and for Freemasonry in general, and trusted his labours in the future would give satisfaction to all present. The W.M. then proposed "The Past Masters," and said the qualifications of the P.M.'s are so well known that I need not here dilate on what you are already acquainted with. Our worthy I.P.M., Bro. Scott, has proved himself a worthy Mason, and I trust he will long live to wear the jewel he has had presented him this evening. The toast was highly honoured. Bro. Scott rose to return thanks, and felt incompetent to thank the brethren all for their very high compliments, and assured them he should be happy to give them his services whenever required. (Hear, hear.) The W.M. then proposed "The Officers," and, this being drunk lustily, Bro. Batty rose and returned thanks on behalf of himself and his brother officers, and trusted their services in the future would meet with the approbation of all the members of the lodge. The Tylers' toast brought the proceedings to a close. The musical arrangements were under the direction of Bro. McDavitt, which gave satisfaction to all, whilst his singing was admired. Bro. Dawson gave the "Maniac" in a masterly style.

COSMOPOLITAN LODGE (No. 917).—The annual installation meeting of this lodge was held at the Cannon-street Hotel, City, on the 10th inst. The work done was the passing of Bro. Seares, and the initiation of Mr. Von Raalte, which ceremonies were performed in excellent style by Bro. Hames, P.M., who officiated for the W.M., Bro. Corke. The installation of Bro. Lovell Keays, as W.M., was then performed by Bro. Stean, the Secretary of the lodge. The newly-appointed officers were: F. Jones, S.W.; J. Rowley, J.W.; J. B. J. Deporta, Treasurer; L. Stean, Secretary; G. M. Taylor, S.D.; White, J.D.; J. Lamarque, I.G.; Geo. Gullock, Tyler. The banquet was attended by about 50 brethren, including several visitors. In proposing the health of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, M.W.G.M., the W.M. observed that he took the earliest opportunity which had offered itself to express the satisfaction of himself, and also that of the lodge generally, at seeing His Royal Highness occupying so prominent a position in the Craft. Unhappily there was a species of fashion prevalent two or three years ago of criticising the Prince of Wales and his movements, and these criticisms were generally couched in unkind and illiberal terms. For his own part the W.M. could not see any objection to a gentleman finding an agreeable evening amusement at a theatre, and so far from finding fault with His Royal Highness for attending theatres, he was disposed to regard it as being an indication of considerable refinement and judgment. And if that were all that his detractors could find against him, it was a subject of satisfaction that his life had been so blameless as to leave no other opportunity for the class referred to. Those of his own friends who had known the Prince of Wales personally were unanimous in pronouncing him to be a loving father, an affectionate husband, an agreeable companion, a true friend, and, the W.M. was about to add, a forgiving enemy, except that he did not believe that His Royal Highness really had an enemy to which he could extend his forgiveness. The W.M. therefore wound up by saying "a worthy Mason," which, in his opinion, included all the lesser good qualities possessed by him. The W.M. assured the brethren that for his part he should be anxious, during his year of office, to support the M.W.G.M. at Grand Lodge on every occasion, and he sincerely hoped that the Wardens would make efforts to attend there also. It is unnecessary to add that this toast was enthusiastically honoured. The other usual toasts followed, and it was not until past eleven that the Tyler's toast closed the evening.

LIMEHOUSE.—Duke of Edinburgh Lodge (No. 1259).—The installation meeting of this lodge was held at Cape of Good Hope Tavern, Limehouse, on Tuesday, 3rd. inst. The business of the evening commenced by raising three brethren, Bros. Daniels, Spray and Weatherhead, and initiating Mr. Stichells. Bro. Weatherhead, W.M., then installed his successor in office, Bro. Darling, S.W., in a manner which gave him great credit, and for which he was highly complimented by the many Past Masters and visitors present, amongst whom were several Grand Officers. We may remark that we never remember seeing so many Past Masters in such a young lodge, there being no less than twenty present. The W.M. then appointed and invested his officers as follows:—Bro. W. Lusty S.W.; G. Rowe, J.W.; E. Jex, P.M., Treasurer; G. Clayton, Secretary; R. Bradbrook, S.D.; J. Holmes, J.D.; R. Atkins, I.G.; Verry, Tyler. He then presented to Bro. Weatherhead a handsome P.M. jewel and a silver snuff-box, the latter being a present from the brethren for the very efficient manner in which he discharged his heavy duties that devolved upon him during his year of office. This concluded the business of the evening, after which the brethren sat down to an excellent banquet, served by their worthy host, Bro. Davies, and spent a very pleasant evening. Bro. Seddon presided at the harmonium and piano in his usual able manner.

KENNINGTON LODGE (No. 1381).—This lodge held its usual monthly meeting at the Surrey Club House, on Tuesday, November 3rd. Bros. Koch, P.M., W.M.; Higgins, S.V. Gardner, J.W.; Painter, S.D.; Webb, J.I. Reeves, I.G.; Boulton, Speedy, Poole, Ellis, and W. A. Ellis were passed to the second degree, and Messrs. Gibson and H. Cruse de initiated. The sum of £10 was voted by the W.M. as Steward for the Aged Freemasons Charity and the Widows' Fund. The lodge having been closed in due form, the brethren adjourned to the banqueting room, where excellent repast awaited them. The "Queen and Craft" were toasted in the usual manner, and the health of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, Grand Master designate, loyally and heartily drunk. "God Bless the Prince of Wales" was sung by Bro. Walls, accompanied on the piano by Bro. Ellis. The usual Masonic toasts followed, and were given by the W.M. in commendable brevity. Between the toasts Webb sang "The Village Blacksmith," J. W. gave a comic effusion, Bro. Sirgoon buffo song, and Bro. Walls sang the tenor "Come into the Garden, Mand." The Tyler's toast having been given, the brethren separated.

Among the visitors present were representatives of the "Neptune," "Mount Edgecumbe," and "Enoch" Lodges.

STONEHOUSE.—Metham Lodge (No. 1502).—A very gratifying presentation was made at this lodge on Monday evening. Bro. W. Howe, a former member of this lodge, has for some years been stationed at Dartmouth, where, by his kindly disposition and pleasant and courteous demeanour, he has endeared himself to his Masonic brethren in that town. Although not a joining member, the brethren of Hanley Lodge (797) heartily welcomed him amongst them as one of themselves, and from time to time he rendered them so much assistance that when a few weeks since he was recalled to Plymouth, they determined upon giving him some memento of their regard and esteem. It was not practical to do so before his departure, but on Monday evening Bro. Heath attended Metham Lodge and presented Bro. Howe, through the Acting W.M. (Bro. Cross), a set of gold studs, a gold pendant, and a handsomely illuminated vellum containing the names of the officers and brethren of Hanley Lodge, and setting forth the love, esteem, and regard in which Bro. Howe was held by them.

HAMPTON HILL.—Francis Burdett Lodge No. 1503).—The first regular meeting of this lodge for the dispatch of business, after the consecration on the 5th inst., was held at the "King's Arms," Hampton Hill, on Wednesday, 17th inst. Bros. Colonel Wigginton, P.M. 02 and 1298, P.P.G.D.C. Worcestershire, V.M.; Saunders, S.W.; Tomlinson, P.M. and P.G.S.D., Norfolk, J.W.; Cox, S.D.; Deekes, D.; Walls, (1381) I.G., (pro tem); Harrison, Tyler. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. The W.M. then proceeded to initiate, in a most excellent manner, Mr. S. H. Knaggs, M.D. The brethren were "called off," and upon resuming the W.M. read the draft of a book of bye-laws, which was unanimously passed and ordered to be submitted to the G.S. Bros. J. S. Merchant, M. 610, J. Merchant, 902, T. Gilbert, 902, and C. Horsley, P.M., 33, 69, 382, 811, and 309, who had been proposed at the previous meeting as joining members, were balloted for and unanimously admitted. Several gentlemen were proposed for initiation, and the J.D. proposed Bro. T. C. Walls, 1381, to be a joining member, which was seconded by the S.W. The W.M. announced his intention of calling an emergency meeting some time during the month, and invested Bro. Knaggs with the signia of Treasurer for the ensuing year, that other having kindly consented to take the responsible duties of that onerous position. His ceremony terminated the business, and the lodge was closed in ancient form. The visitors to the lodge were Bros. Hammond, P.M. and W.M. of 1502, (who kindly officiated as P.M.) rendered other valuable acts to the W.M. throughout the whole of the proceedings. Mr. 209, Court, 168, Latham, 946, Walls, 81. The lodge then partook of refreshment, and the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were duly given from the chair and duly honoured. The health of the W.M. was proposed by Bro. Hammond in an able speech, and heartily received by the brethren. The Tyler's Toast having been given, the proceedings then terminated at an advanced hour.

MADOC LODGE (No. 1509).—The first monthly meeting of this lodge, since its consecration, was held at the Queen's Hotel, Portmahon, on Tuesday, the 3rd inst., Bro. E. Breeze, 2. Reg. of Herefordshire, W.M., in the chair. The initiation fee was fixed at £6 6s., and the equal subscription £1 rs. Eleven candidates were initiated, and thirty-one for joining were proposed and seconded. Nothing further for the good of Masonry in general, or of this lodge in particular being proposed, the lodge was closed, after solemn prayer, by the W.M.

INSTRUCTION.

FAITH LODGE OF INSTRUCTION (No. 141). On Tuesday, 17th inst., the members of the above lodge of instruction held their annual banquet, and more than forty brethren were gathered together for the purpose. It was provided at the usual place of meeting of the lodge, Bro. Cole's restaurant, 2, Westminster Chambers, and Bro. C. A. Cottebrune, P.G.P., presided. Among the other brethren present were Bros. W. Mann, T. Bull, Swallow, Brock, Leggatt, Lister, Haslett, Cameron, Smale, Parkinson, Bowen, Olive, Cox, Belfrage, Harvey, Roberts and Brearey. The style and quality of the banquet and wines were most creditable to Bro. Cole, and to his chef, Bro. Lewis (343), and after it had been partaken of, the brethren honoured the usual loyal and Masonic toasts. Bro. Cottebrune paid all the compliments to Her Majesty which she so richly deserves, and to the Prince of Wales, as an Englishman, a Mason, and Grand Master, he awarded high praise. The Earl of Carnarvon, as Deputy Grand Master, and the rest of the Grand Officers present and past, he also warmly praised for the exertions they had made on behalf of the Order, and in the cause of charity. Bro. Mann proposed "The Health of the W.M., Bro. Cottebrune," and reminded the brethren of what they knew before, that he had always been an assiduous instructor in Masonry, and an energetic promoter of the welfare of the Craft. The toast was of course enthusiastically responded to, and Bro. Cottebrune having acknowledged it, proposed the toast of the evening, "Success to the Faith Lodge of Instruction." In doing so he gave a full account of its history, from its promotion to the present time, including its struggles its wanderings, and its final settlement, at 2, Westminster Chambers. He spoke approvingly of the conduct of its members, and the zeal they displayed in receiving information. He encouraged them to persevere in the course they had adopted, and assured them that was the real secret of success in striving for the office of Master of their different lodges. The proceedings of the evening were very gratifying, and were kept up till a late hour.

OXFORD.—Apollo University Lodge (No. 327).—A meeting of the above lodge for instruction took place on Friday evening, Nov. 6th. Bro. R. I. Williamson took the W.M.'s chair, and was supported by Bro. Col. the Hon. Sackville West, S.W.; Bro. C. J. S. Spedding, J.W.; Bro. Butler, S.D.; Bro. Gordon Campbell, J.D.; Bro. J. E. C. Bodley, I.G. The lodge was opened and closed in all three degrees, and the ceremony of initiation worked most ably by Bro. Williamson. There were present P.M.'s Bird and Pickard, and W. Bro. F. P. Morrell, who gave the working officers the benefit of their experience. The lodge is to be congratulated on having determined not to lose its ancient prestige.

UNION LODGE, LEICESTER.—The festival meeting of this lodge was held at Freemasons' Hall, Leicester, on Wednesday, the 11th instant, when the seven sections of the first lecture were worked by the following brethren:—

- 1st Section Bro. S. S. Partridge, W.M. 523
- 2nd " " T. A. Wykes, Sec. 523
- 3rd " " W. Sculthorpe, P.M. 523
- 4th " " J. M. M'Allister, J.W. 279
- 5th " " S. S. Partridge, W.M. 523
- 6th " " J. T. Thorp, S.W. 523
- 7th " " J. Halford, I.P.M. 1391

The questions by Bro. G. Toller, Jun., P.M. 523. The work was performed in the most admirable manner, there being hardly a single mistake or slip of any kind throughout, and was listened to with evident attention and pleasure by a large assemblage of members of the several Leicester Lodges, including several P.M.'s. At the conclusion of the Sections, on the motion of Bro. A. P. Duff, P.M., a hearty vote of thanks to all concerned was unanimously accorded, and suitably acknowledged. The W.M. for the next meeting having been elected, and other routine business transacted, the brethren adjourned to the banquet. It is now several years since the Sections were publicly worked in Leicester; it is therefore satisfactory to find that there are brethren willing to undertake the duty who are so thoroughly competent to discharge it.

Royal Arch.

WHITEHAVEN.—Sun, Square, and Compasses Chapter (No. 119).—An emergency convocation of this chapter was held on Monday evening last, at the Masonic Hall, College-street, at 7 o'clock. The Principals, E. Comps. John Bass, Z.; Fearon, H.; Dr. Henry, J.; were supported by the following: Comps. Gibson, P.Z.; John Bowes, P.Z., P.P.G.S.B.; Atter, Scribe E.; E. Tyson, P.S.; McKelvie, Treas.; W. White; Spittal; Sandwith; Kyrie; Alsop; Rothery; Wiadross; Dr. Ablett; Cooper, Org.; Cowie, and Fitzgerald. The chapter having been opened by the Principals, the rest of the companions were admitted. The ballot was then taken for several candidates, and Bro. G. A. C. Bentinck, M.P., being present, was exalted, at the request of the M.E.Z., by E. Comp. John Bowes, the M.E.Z. delivering the symbolic lecture, and E. Comp. Pearson the historic lecture. The excellent working of Comp. E. Tyson, P.S., was very noteworthy. At the conclusion of the ceremony a unanimous and cordial vote of thanks was accorded to E. Comp. Bowes for his valuable assistance, and the same was ordered to be entered on the minutes of the chapter. A code of bye-laws was submitted and approved, and ordered to be printed and circulated among the members. A joining companion having been proposed, and there being no further business, the chapter was closed with the usual solemnities, and the companions adjourned to refreshment. After the usual loyal and Masonic toasts had been duly honoured, Comp. Bowes proposed "The Health of the Principals of the Chapter," and observed that it was evident they had determined to master the work, and thereby render No. 119 a model chapter for the province. The Principals in response acknowledged that it was their intention to profit by the instruction they were receiving at the hands of their Preceptor, and hoped ere long to be able to work the chapter within themselves. Comp. Gibson, P.Z., proposed the health of the newly exalted companion, and referred to the impressive manner the proceedings of the evening had been conducted throughout. Comp. Bentinck, M.P., responded at considerable length, and said he had been waiting for the R.A. degree thirty years, and he considered himself fortunate that the ceremony of his exaltation should have been performed by a companion so able. He had listened most attentively to the ceremony throughout, and he must confess that he had been both gratified and impressed. He also most acknowledge his obligation to Comp. Tyson, P.S., who had introduced him and conducted him through the ceremony. Comp. Bentinck then made known his intention to present to the chapter some valuable engravings of King Solomon's Temple, which he had purchased on the Continent. Comp. McKelvie next proposed the health of their esteemed visitor, Comp. John Bowes. They had all been edified with the manner he had rendered the beautiful ceremony of exaltation, and they were greatly indebted to Comp. Bowes for so readily, and he had no doubt at personal inconvenience, coming to Whitehaven to lend them a helping hand. He considered that the proceedings of that evening would do much to rekindle a love for R.A. Masonry. Comp. John Bowes acknowledged his obligation for the flattering notice which had been taken of his endeavours to render a beautiful ceremony intelligently. As regarded Chapter 119, he should not leave it till it could do its own work efficiently, and judging from what had been done in so short a time, he should not have to wait very long. The M.E.Z. then proposed "The Subordinate Officers of the chapter," and coupled with the toast the name of Comp. Tyson, P.S., whose working that evening had both surprised and pleased them. Comp. Tyson in returning thanks said that he believed all the officers, equally with himself, were determined to do their work, and thus raise the R.A. degree in Whitehaven to its proper position. The chapter was long in abeyance, and after its resuscitation, for some time it was in a weakly condition, he hoped, however, that now they had the "will," the "way" was plain enough, and he, for his part, should most heartily co-operate with the Principals in their labour of love. The meeting broke up about ten.

Mark Masonry.

SOUTHWARK LODGE (No. 22).—The installation meeting of this lodge was held on Tuesday evening, at the Bridge House Hotel. Bro. Isaac J. Hooper Wilkins, W.M., opened the lodge. Bro. Meggy advanced Bros. Walker and Bryant, and afterwards installed Bro. Edward Spencer Stidolph in the chair, as successor to Bro. Wilkins. The officers for the year, invested by Bro. Stidolph, were as follows:—Bro. Wilkins, the P.M.; Bro. Sparks, S.W.; Bro. Joseph Spencer, J.W.; Bro. Captain Mason, M.O.; Bro. Gilbert, S.O.; Bro. Horton, J. O.; Bro. Harry Brett, Treasurer; Bro. John Read, Secretary; Bro. Van Baerle, S.D.; Bro. Foster, J.D.; and Bro. Austin, T. At the conclusion of the work of the lodge, which was admirably performed, the brethren partook of a choice banquet, supplied by Joseph Spencer, the proprietor of the Bridge House Hotel. The following brethren were present during the evening in addition to those named above—Colonel Burdett, Provi Grand Master Middlesex and Surrey; James Stevens, Past G.M.O.; H. W. Binckes, Assistant Grand Secretary; S. M. Lazarus, Thomas J. Sabine, Provincial Grand Secretary, Sussex; Charles Allen, Prov. G. Reg., W.M., Keystone; H. C. Lavender, Past G.D.; H. Massey, Past Grand Steward; and Bro. Poore, besides Bros. Hodges, Thornton and De Lacy, of Westminster Abbey, who sang a number of glees in beautiful style after the banquet was removed. The W.M. proposed the usual loyal and Mark Masonic toasts, and dwelt with particular emphasis on the strong Masonic feelings of Earl Percy, Grand Master, and the Earl of Limerick, Deputy Grand Master. With this latter toast he connected the name of Bro. Meggy, who, he said, gave him great pleasure, as that brother had been the Installing Master that evening. It was pleasant too to know that Bro. Meggy worked out of pure love for the Craft, and it was exceedingly gratifying to be installed by such a brother. Bro. Meggy said that he esteemed it a high honour to have his name associated with that of the Deputy Grand Master. The Earl of Limerick, and all the Grand Officers, were deeply imbued with a sense of the great responsibility of their different offices. All the Grand Officers had a great deal of work to do, though this was not generally known. But when they accepted their appointments they determined to do their work thoroughly and to the best of their ability. As the W.M. had spoken of him (Bro. Meggy) he would add that he was proud of having been elected an honorary member of the Southwark Lodge, and whenever he was asked to assist in its work he should be happy to do so. In giving the toast of "The Provincial Grand Master of Middlesex and Surrey," the W.M. expressed his pleasure that Colonel Burdett's many engagements had not prevented him visiting the Southwark Lodge that evening, and said that the presence of such distinguished brethren always brought these meetings to a pleasant issue. Col. Burdett, in reply, after expressing his gratification at being present, said that, as a Provincial Grand Master, he should be glad if he could call the Southwark Lodge his constituents; but it rested entirely with them whether they would be part of his province or not. He had been so much gratified with the working that evening that he should be pleased to have that lodge under his rule. The proceedings of the evening had been admirably conducted. The W.M. had been but a short time a Mark Mason, and he deserved great credit for his exertions. The high opinion entertained of him must be gathered from the number of brethren who were assembled to do him honour, and by his having been placed in the chair of the lodge, a position he would certainly not have gained but for the brethren's good opinion. The Southwark Lodge was a body of men who practised the great Masonic principles, and he felt perfectly confident that it would, not only in the province, but in the whole Masonic world, hold a very high and eminent position. He hoped he might be called upon to assist at many of the future proceedings of the lodge, though he could scarcely expect to be, as his reign was fast drawing to a close, and it depended on the brethren whom they would appoint as Grand Master of the province for the next three years. He would add that he felt very grateful to the brethren for the support they had given to him during the time he had held the office of Prov. G. Master. Bro. Meggy proposed "The W.M.," and mentioned that it had given him great pleasure to be the installing officer. The W.M. was very attentive to his duties, and had never been absent from lodge at any one meeting since he had been a member. Many after a time sank down, but if all the brethren imitated the W.M. of the Southwark Lodge the lodges would be well supported. He held him up as an example worthy of imitation. The W.M. said he had been very fortunate in reaching his position, but he certainly felt very great interest in the lodge and in the degree. He determined from the very first day he came into the Southwark Mark Lodge to make it a hobby of his own, whether he was Master in one or two years or not. There was before the brethren a fine opportunity for making the lodge an object of envy and jealousy to lodges which far outstripped it in the number of its members. The brethren were very zealous, and when a man threw his will into any matter it was only a question of time when he would be successful. Now he should throw himself into the work and do all he could to make the lodge prosper. He was well supported by his officers, and it was his stern purpose that, during his year of office, he would labour so hard that it should be very difficult for his successor to outdo him. He would try to make the lodge such that it should always be a pleasure for a brother to come into it. The W.M. then proposed "The Immediate Past Master, Bro. Wilkins," and after complimenting him on having brought the lodge to its present state of perfection, presented him with a handsome P.M. jewel. Bro. Wilkins, in acknowledging the compliment, said that this jewel was the first that had ever been presented to him, although he had many, and he should value it for that alone. But he should have the greater pride in wearing it inasmuch as he was almost the first Master who resuscitated the Southwark Mark Lodge. He knew the present Master would follow in his footsteps, and do all he could for the lodge, and at the next installation meeting he hoped the lodge would be found even in a much better position than it was in now. From what he knew of the W.M. he felt that it would be so. Bro. Bryant replied for "The newly-advanced Brethren," and Bro. S. M. Lazarus for "The Visitors." The latter brother, after saying he was 76 years of age, and had been 52 years a Mason, claimed the credit of Bro. Wilkins being in his present position. He (Bro. Lazarus) had been instrumental, by his influence with Earl Percy and the Grand Secretary, in raising the lodge from a low position to a high one. Bro. Sparks responded for "The Officers." Bro. Wilkins proposed "Bro. John Read, P.M.," who 15 or 18 months ago took the lodge in hand, and to whom its present prosperity was due. Their W.M. had said that it was due to him (Bro. Wilkins); but it was not so. He might have contributed to it, but if it had not been for the exertions of Bro. Read, all that he (Bro. Wilkins) could have done would have been as nought. Bro. John Read said he was very much pleased at being credited with such good service, and it was highly gratifying to find that the lodge was now a thoroughly good lodge. The officers would all be at their posts and would assist the W.M. in carrying on the work that was begun. The brethren had been far too flattering to him, but he would try and deserve what they had expressed. Thanks were then accorded to the musical brethren, Bros. Hodges, Thornton, and De Lacy, and Bro. Hodges having replied, the brethren separated, after having passed a charming evening.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.

MOTHER LODGE, KILWINNING (No. 9). On Thursday, 12th inst., at noon, the large number of candidates for initiation in the Mother Lodge that were ever presented at any one meeting on record were duly initiated here. They were mostly from Glasgow, and came down under the auspices of Bros. Tweed and Dunlop. After labour, the brethren and visitors sat together in the Eglinton Arms, and spent a very agreeable evening, until the Glasgow contingent had to betake them to the railway station for their return home.

LODGE ST. MARK (102) met in their hall, 213, Buchanan-street, on 9th inst., Bro. J. Mitchell, R.W.M., presiding; with Bro. Thomas Kerr and D. F. Forfar as acting S.W. and acting J.W. respectively. The lodge had been opened in the Apprentice degree, and Secretary, Bro. Neilson, read the minutes of the meeting, which were confirmed. Bro. J. Smith, from Lodge St. Mungo (27), was then affiliated as a member of this lodge. Thereafter the nomination of office-bearers for the ensuing year was proceeded with, which having been accomplished, and there being no other business before the meeting, the lodge was duly closed.

LODGE STAR (219).—The usual fortnightly meeting of this lodge was held in their hall, 12, Trovigate, on Monday, 9th inst. The chair was occupied by the R.W.M., Bro. James Wilson, by whom three candidates were duly initiated into the mysteries of the first degree. Thereafter, the chairman called the attention of the brethren to a large and fine emblematic picture newly hung in the lodge room above the door west, and which he stated he had received on behalf of the lodge from an American brother, Bro. Irah Chase, of Kane Lodge, 454, F. and A.M., New York. Along with the picture he had received a note from Bro. Chase, who the secretary, Bro. Miller, read to the meeting, and in which the writer stated that he asked the lodge's acceptance of the picture as a testimonial of fraternal regard and in token of the very kind reception he had experienced from his brethren of the Lodge Star on occasion of a visit to the lodge about two years ago. In proposing that the gift be entered on the minutes, and a note of acknowledgment forwarded to Bro. Chase—which was unanimously and heartily agreed to—the chairman remarked that it was quite obvious that they in Scotland (he could not say in England) were not so enthusiastic as American Masons. A request of the chairman, an American brother, Bro. Starkey, who was on the dais, then gave a brief description of some points in the working of Craft Masonry in America different from that in this country; after which the proceedings to the nomination of office-bearers which concluded the business.

LODGE ST. GEORGE (333) held their monthly meeting in the hall, 213, Buchanan-street, Wednesday, the 11th inst. The R.W.M., Bro. John Winton, presided; Bro. Finlay, S.W.; Brother J. Forsyth, J.W.; and Archibald McIntyre, Secretary. The only business of importance transacted was the nomination of office-bearers.

LODGE ATHOLE (413) held their fortnightly meeting in the hall, at 213, Buchanan-street, on the 10th inst., when two candidates took the Apprentice degree, the R.W.M., Bro. John Wallace, presiding. There was no business of importance.

LODGE GLASGOW (441) held their monthly meeting in the Masonic Hall, Struthers-street, Calton, on the 10th inst. Bro. W. H. Jackson, R.W.M., occupied the chair, and there was a large attendance. The business in chief of the meeting was the election of office-bearers for the ensuing year, after which several brethren were initiated and raised to the sublime degree of Master. Thereafter the lodge was closed, and ancient formalities were observed.

LODGE ST. VINCENT (553).—This lodge held their weekly meeting in the hall, at 162, Cent-road, on Thursday, the 12th inst. In the absence of the R.W.M. (Bro. R. M. Dougal) the chair was ably occupied by the D.M., Bro. Malcolm Stark. The lodge having been opened in the first degree, the Secretary (Bro. Talley) read the minutes of the last meeting, which, after being slightly supplemented, were approved and passed. The only business of importance was the raising of two Entered Apprentices to the Fellow Craft degree, which was performed in full and impressive style by the R.W.M. This young lodge—for it is one of the youngest in the province—appears to be prosperous and progressing to a degree.

"GLASGOW" ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER (No. 1000) held their regular monthly meeting in the Masonic Hall, 213, Buchanan-street, on Thursday, the 12th inst. A large number of Masonic celebrities were present on the occasion, among whom we observed H. J. Shields, 33°, John Miller, James Duthie, Julius Brodè, J. O. Park, J. F. Mitchell, all Principals, and a goodly gathering of the members of the chapter. Bro. M. Taylor, M.M., of Lodge St. John, No. 28, (Kirkintulloch) was received into the chapter, and carefully instructed in the secrets of the 1st degree, by Companion Miller. Three other brethren were exalted to the Royal Arch degree, viz.—Andrew Wilson, James Fraser, and John Barton Hardie, the ceremony being performed by Companion J. Duthie, Z. of Chapter 67, ably assisted by Companion Colin McKenzie as 1st Soj. (an office which he filled in a most admirable manner for the first time). The principal business of the evening was the promotion of Companion Duthie to the 50th rank on his new office-bearers, whom he highly eulogised, for the manner in which they performed their various parts, particularly the splendid success of Companion McKenzie's efforts as 1st S., he (Companion Duthie) begged to testify that he had never seen more efficient duties of that office more efficiently performed than they had been that night by Companion McKenzie. It augured well for the future success of the chapter that they had such men to fill its various offices as he saw and him. Companion Miller, 1st P., No. 1000, in thanking Companion Duthie for the kind remarks he had made on the Chapter, its officers, and its work, corroborated what he had said as to the manner in which Companion McKenzie had fulfilled the duties of his office; inspired him, Companion Miller, with courage and confidence, to find himself so well supported in his subordinate office-bearers, and no office in the Chapter, not excepting that of 1st P., contributed more to the beauty of its work than that of 1st S., when properly maintained as it was that night by Companion McKenzie. The chapter was thereafter closed in due and proper form.

CONSECRATION OF THE MADOC LODGE (1509).

No part of the United Kingdom is freer than in making more rapid progress than in any other principality, which is borne out by the fact that in the Province of North Wales and Shropshire one lodge was consecrated at Amlwch, in 1852, about six weeks ago, and now we have recorded the establishment of the above lodge at the rising town and Seaport, Portcarn, in Carnarvonshire; nor, is this to be wondered at when we consider the loyalty of the Welsh countrymen and their close allegiance to Protestant faith, and of whom it can, with truth and sincerity, be said that, "in all times of difficulty and danger they put their trust in God." In no part of the province was a lodge more needed, as there are computed to be in Carnarvon and its environs no less than seventy lodges, to whom the want was greatly felt. Accordingly the Grand Lodge was petitioned with a gratifying result, that on the 29th ult., the R.W.M., Bro. Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, P.G.M., held an Especial Grand Lodge (which is the custom in this province) for the purpose of consecrating the Madoc Lodge No. 1509, at the Queen's Hotel.

The V.W. Bro. W. J. J. Goldsboro, P.P.G.S.W. of the province, was deputed by the R.W. Prov. G.M. to perform the ceremony, and among the distinguished brethren present were Bros. W. H. Spaul, P.G. Sec.; J. Peters, P.G.S.D., P.M. 597; G. Wood, P.G.S.W., W.M. 1224; W. Spraggon, P.G. Reg.; G. L. Woodley, P.G., S. of W., I.P.M. 755; Thos. Armstrong, P.G. Treas. of West Lancashire; J. Skeaf, P.G. Org. of West Lancashire; C. H. Rees, W.M. 606; T. Parmeter, W.M. 1309; Bremner Smith, S.W. 2403; S. Haslitt, J.W. 1432; T. R. Morris, S.D. 998; T. S. L. Kyffin, J.W. 1113; Sir Llewellyn Turner, Ex-Mayor of Carnarvon, 606; G. T. Picton Jones, Mayor of Pwllheli 606; Dr. R. A. Jones, P.M. 606; &c. The musical part of the ceremony was conducted by Bro. J. Skeaf, P.M., P.G. Org. of West Lancashire, assisted by Bros. Armstrong, Haswell, Harrison, and T. J. Hughes. The brethren assembled in the ante-room, about half past three o'clock, and entered the room, the consecrating officer took the Master's chair, Bro. Peters, P.M., the S.W.'s, and Bro. Woodley, the J.W.'s, and the lodge was opened in the three degrees and the brethren of the new lodge arranged in order. After a voluntary by Bro. Skeaf, the R.W.P.G.M. and Prov. G. Lodge entered and saluted by the brethren with true Masonic cheers, and after the usual formulae peculiar to the ceremony, the lodge was uncovered, and three P.M.'s carried corn, wine and oil round, and while Bro. Skeaf's beautiful Anthem, "Glory to God" was given, the Acting Chaplain, Rev. Bro. T. L. Kyffin carried the censer round. The second portion of the consecration ceremony was then proceeded with and brought to a close with Bro. Skeaf's Anthem.

After all under the rank of P.M. had retired, and the W.M., Bro. Edward Bresse, Prov. G. Reg. of Herefordshire installed, the brethren were re-admitted and saluted him in the three degrees. The following were then invested as first officers of the lodge, viz.: Bros. Thos. Casson, S.W.; Cornelius Davies, J.W.; Dr. Jones Morris, Sec.; W. G. Casson, Treas.; Dr. Roberts (represented on account of illness by S. Greaves), S.D.; J. E. Greaves, J.D.; Robt. Evens, J.G.; O. M. Roberts, S.S.; Morris Jones, J.S.; Edward Phycce, D. of C. The lodge is fortunate in having as its first I.P.M., Bro. J. W. Wallace, P.M. 1172, &c. The lodge was then closed in solemn form by the W.M., after having proposed that Bro. Goldsboro be elected an honorary member of the lodge. It should be stated that the whole of the furniture, clothing, officers' jewels, &c., with the exception of the Triangle and Ashlar, the gift of Bro. Haslitt, were supplied by Bro. Geo. Kenning, Little Britain, London, and gave universal satisfaction on account of their chaste workmanship and finish.

The brethren then repaired to the Sportsman Hotel, where a banquet awaited them, and after the usual loyal and Masonic toasts, the Chairman, R.W. Bro. Sir W. Wynn proposed the health of the newly installed W.M., Bro. Edward Bresse, in doing which he said that the brethren of the new lodge were particularly fortunate in having as their first W.M. a man of the social standing as Bro. Bresse, he being, the R.W. chairman believed, the chairman of every board in the district, and when he fulfilled those duties so well, he was sure that his duties in the Master's chair would be as satisfactorily carried out. (Received with immense cheering and Masonic honours.)

The W.M. in responding said: I thank you, Right Worshipful Sir, for the very kind manner in which you have proposed my health, and after the hearty response I feel I can hardly say anything. The W.M. continuing said he believed after the toast of the W.M., Bro. Skeaf must have found out his name when he introduced the last song into the programme "Blow Breezes Blow." (Laughter). He could scarcely express his gratitude for the handsome way in which the R.W. chairman had spoken of him, in fact he had spoken too well by far of him. Referring to the lodge's choice of him as W.M., he said he did not pretend to be an experienced

Mason, (would that we all were as good Masons as we ought to be!) and he felt his deficiency, and did not wish to accept the post, but pressure was brought to bear upon him so that at last he consented; not that he thought he was duly qualified, far from it, he was a very poor Mason. (No, no.) If not then, however disqualified he might be, he felt it incumbent upon him to do his utmost to promote the dignity and usefulness of the Order. He believed that in the innermost recesses of their lodges, beneath the ceremonies they had seen to-day in these convivialities, and even in outside display there were underlying great principles of Ethics and Christianity, which should make, more than Masons, thoroughly good men of them all. If in the Madoc Lodge they could display a just appreciation of the principles on which the great Order is founded, it would show that it was not in vain that a lodge had been established in this town. In conclusion he thanked the R.W.P.G.M. for presiding. He was always ready to do anything for his fellow countrymen, whether as Masons, as agriculturists, or as Welshmen. His motto seemed to be "always to the fore," wherever and whenever Welshmen were to be encouraged or benefited. After the usual toasts the Tyler's brought a very pleasant evening, and one never to be forgotten by those present, to a close.

CONSECRATION OF A ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER AT ST. AUSTELL.

On Thursday, the 12th inst., Bro. Sir Fredk. Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., and D.P.G.M. of Cornwall (in the absence of Bro. the Earl of Mount Edgcombe, P.G.M.), consecrated a Royal Arch Chapter, at St. Austell, in the presence of a very large number of the fraternity of the province, including Bro. Col. Peard, P.D.P.G.M.; E. L. Carlyon, P. G. Sec., S.W. pro tem.; A. A. Davies, P.G.W.; the Rev. A. H. Ferris, P.G.C., and others.

The interesting ceremony was performed according to ancient custom, and at its conclusion Sir Frederick spoke of the great pleasure which it gave him to be present, and congratulated the St. Austell brethren on the successful issue of their undertaking. He also expressed the hope that they would prosper in the future as they had done in the past, and that peace and harmony might ever be found within the walls of their lodge. He deeply regretted the absence of the Earl of Mount Edgcombe, and said he was quite sure that the whole of the brethren present would join him in a vote of condolence to his lordship on the severe loss which he had recently sustained.

This was seconded and carried unanimously.

After the business of the lodge had been disposed of the brethren adjourned to the White Hart Hotel, where Bro. Gregory provided them with an excellent dinner.

Sir F. M. Williams presided, and the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given.

In proposing the health of Bro. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, Sir Frederick said they would all regret exceedingly that they had lost their Grand Master, as well as the causes that led to it, but, on the other hand, every member of the order would be gratified to know that they would have as a successor to the Marquis of Ripon, the first gentleman in England and its future king. The importance of this it was not easy to estimate, and he hoped it would not be in his time that any further change would be made.

The toast was drunk with great cordiality. Other toasts followed and an enjoyable evening was passed.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Diseases of the most formidable and chronic character have been cured by Holloway's remedies, after the usual external and internal treatment has signally failed. Ulcerations which have proved themselves incurable by any other known means have healed kindly under the purifying and regenerating influence of this excellent Ointment. Sprains, stiff joints, contracted muscles and glandular swellings can be most safely and effectively treated by Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which can do no harm under any circumstances. Neither of these medicaments have anything deleterious in their composition; both are essentially purifying and strengthening in their nature. While the Ointment reduces sores to that healthy condition preparatory to healing, the pills improve the digestion and expel impurities.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Table with 3 columns: Description, Quantity, Price. Includes Vol. I, bound in cloth; Vol. II, III, IV, V and VI; Reading Cases to hold 32 numbers; Ditto.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains.

INDEX to Vol. VI. of "THE FREEMASON." May be had at the Publishing Office, 198, Fleet-street.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

- AJAX's letter has been received and published. We shall always be happy to insert such communications. T. F.'s letter and tokens received with thanks. T. F.—The "Lecture on the Past Master's Jewel" appeared in the Freemason, May 20, 1871, page 309. BRO. GALLICO's letter next week. IN answer to D. M., we are of opinion that any P.M. going in for the representative system in our ceremonies would forthwith find himself sat upon by the Board of Gen. eral Purposes.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY, FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY. Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL, Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by Bro. D. MURRAY LYON. One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder. "Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion. "The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum. "This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

Now ready, with Index and Preface, in Twelve Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in one handsome volume, £3.

THE FREEMASONS' LIBER MUSICUS, Dedicated by express permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by Dr. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—298.

This Work contains 215 pp. and 188 Musical Compositions, suitable for the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges, Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation; Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Matches, &c., &c.

HANDSOME CLOTH COVERS, with gilt lines, and lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street. MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the Czar of RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tenterden Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens. Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1874.

AFTER-DINNER SPEECHES.

The time was, even in all our memories, when the after-dinner speeches of our good old Order, were something very peculiarly striking in themselves. We remember, (years ago, it is now, alas!) that a friend of ours, a non-Mason walked into our room, and taking up the then Freemason's Magazine and Masonic Mirror scanned curiously its contents. "Ah!" he exclaimed, at last, "old fellow, I never did read such bosh as these speeches!" Well, we knew the speech to which he alluded, and so we admitted at once the soft impeachment, but said, (for it was all we could say) that, it was an "after-dinner speech." Some years ago, assuredly, our Masonic after-dinner speeches were but little to be commended, as a rule, and even the brethren complained of them. But, like as in all other things, both mundane and Masonic, improvement has set in. The Masonic schoolmaster has taught us to mind our P's and Q's, and the staple of our after-dinner speeches is now much a-head of what it used to be, say, twenty-five years ago. Of course every now and then some brother, some "enfant terrible" of Freemasonry, says just the thing he ought not to say. Still the "outcome" of many an eloquent oration, and many a burning peroration is neither very wise, nor very Masonic, and it may be true in its measure that Freemasonry, like Liberty, has many follies committed in its august name; has too often to implore in pathetic accents, "Save me! oh, save me from a candid friend!" Our opinion long has been that speeches, to be thoroughly good, ought to be alike pithy and pointed, short and telling, and the best speeches we have ever listened to, were delivered by those who knew what they were talking about, and felt that to be diffuse or verbose, or repetitive, could only mar their eloquence and bore their brethren. As a general rule, latterly, after-dinner speeches have been marked by excellent taste, and have been very much to the point. If injudicious remarks have been made from time to time, the brother might say, as the gentleman once said, who made a most inappropriate speech, "I beg your pardon, brethren, but I have lost one of my front teeth, and a word will fall out every now and then, which I can't keep in." Freemasons are very tolerant and are always ready to make allowance for timid, or bashful, or nervous speakers, though they are, and ought to have but little sympathy for the brother who cannot make a speech, or sing a song, or offer a sentiment. He is evidently one of our useless drones, of whom not a few seem to like to feed on the honey of our meritorious and hard-working Masonic bees. We always think, too, what a great pity it is, if anything is ever said on a festive occasion, or by those in authority, to mar the happiness of the hour, or inflict pain on the feelings of any worthy brethren, if even they be a little sensitive. Whether the gathering be Masonic or non-Masonic, it is clearly unjustifiable to seize an occasion of a public character, to make "a liverance" on account of some personal view special idiosyncracies. But at a Masonic festival is most clearly out of place and wrong on a true principle of Freemasonry, and when we see such occurrences as Masonic journalists, we have a duty to perform to the Craft, which we always endeavoured and always shall endeavour to perform, without fear and without favour, our motto being "Fiat Justitia ruat cælum." Our attention has been called to a speech published in the Western Mail, and reproduced in our impression of Nov. 14th. All speeches thus publicly uttered and published become a subject for fair, general, and journalistic comment. We allude to the speech of the Past Master for the Eastern Division of South Wales, Mr. Bro. Theodore M. Talbot, which was recorded in the Western Mail, and loudly applauded by our brethren apparently, and has since been referred to our columns. Swansea is a town of 70,000 inhabitants, which has several lodges, the Indefatigable and the Talbot. Talbot alludes to the fact, to use his own words, not ours, that a "proposal" had been made to form a third lodge for Swansea, and goes on to say that "though he was glad to see that Masonry was so flourishing in South Wales he believed at the present moment three lodges in South Wales were not necessary." We think that by a mistake of the printer "South Wales" is here substituted for "Swansea," as it is that in the "Masonic Calendar nine lodges set down to South Wales Eastern Division have always understood that in matters of Masonry as well as in matters Masonic, no allusion is generally made to a question "sub judice." Prov. G. M., Bro. Talbot, when he made his after-dinner speech at Aberavon, knew that the question upon which he so decisively gave his opinion was practically now before the Master. And though we hope that we will not imitate his indiscretion, we cannot forbear to say, that such a speech, at such a time, and in such a place, is not only disrespectful either, to the Grand Master or to the Grand Secretary, or the undoubted private property of his brethren, as laid down in the Book of Constitutions. Bro. Talbot, as P.G.M., has a right, at a proper time, and in a proper place, to express his opinion, to which all claims of attention will be paid, but he has no right to venture to apprehend as impartial judge while the above matter is before the Master, to advert to a subject which is "in lite," according to the rights of the brethren, and the limits of comment prescribed by our most admired Book of Constitutions. We say this in all respect to Bro. Talbot, as we believe him to be a true Mason, and we know him to be a true ruler in the Craft.

ANOTHER ATTACK ON FREEMASONRY.

It is announced, apparently by the Review in the December number of the Freemasonry, written by an Archdeacon, and to that time unmentioned. The writer is a in more than one daily and weekly journal, and too probably may turn out to be true. For much as we regret that any religious body, whether the Church of Rome or any other community, should commence a perverse assault on our peaceful order, yet like "Japhet in search of a father" we shall take it very "coolly." We have no apprehension of our antagonists, we have no fear for the result of their separate or combined aggression. It seems, however, as if the "mot d'ordre" just now of the Roman Catholic Church was to attack Freemasons anywhere. Abroad in all Roman Catholic countries the incriminations of Freemasonry are many and serious, from the unscrupulous pens of Jesuit and Ultramontane writers, all composed, apparently, according to "order," and sparing neither the violence of accusation nor the "acrimony of reproach." Indeed if we were to put together all the charges made against our peaceful and friendly Order, made, we repeat, just now by heated religionists of various denominations, we might derive an edifying example how good men, even, when it suits their purpose, can indulge in controversial "Billingsgate" and how very uncharitable, unwise, very unfair, and very untrue they can render their remarks and statements when directed against opponents. The object of this last Roman Catholic crusade is not very easy to realize. That astute and cautious body, as a general rule, does not care to commit itself to a useless contest, yet just now without any seeming rhyme or reason, it has thrown itself with hot taste into the arena, and challenged, as it were, Freemasonry everywhere with sweeping charges of unsoundness and ill-doings of every kind. Indeed there are few charges which they have not reaped on the heads of us devoted Freemasons. Indifferent, irreligious, Voltarian, Deistical, Atheistical, socialistic, profane, revolutionary, lestructive, impious, children of Satan, the raft of the evil one, members of that Grand Lodge whose Grand Master is Satan, are a few of the choice epithets which have appeared in print, and which educated men have not been ashamed to apply to our unoffending and inoffensive brotherhood. What the object of the Church of Rome, for she is the chief offender, can be in thus openly ignoring or violating every injunction or condition of good sense or fair play, we do not pretend to understand. It may be, as a facetious friend of ours puts it, "she may wish to keep her hand in for the excommunicating process." Or she may desire to divert the attention of her members from internal dissensions, and divergences of thought and teaching, by making war against a common enemy, as she proclaims Freemasonry to be. Whatever her motive really is, we venture to think that her "overt act" of tolerant condemnation is a most mistaken one, and one that will inevitably recoil upon herself, and that, like the assailant of old, she will be hoisted by her own petard." Freemasonry cares nothing for such attacks. Even abroad, here in some countries, the Freemasons, by wise addresses and questionable arrangements, have laid themselves open, to some extent, to the charges of their Roman Catholic adversaries, we do not believe that the Church of Rome will be so much by her "little game." And at home, here Freemasonry is absolutely free from any such charges, where the religion and the loyalty of Freemasons are both conspicuous and undoubted, such attacks not only can make no impression, but they will hardly be noticed by our fraternity. As far as they have gone in England they have resolved themselves into this, that we are a non-Christian organisation, and that we are a secret society. Non-Christian we are not, as opposed to Christians, but universal we are, in our scope and constitution. We are permitted to meet as a secret Order by the Legislative of our land, and we apprehend that no one else, least of all Roman Catholics, have anything to do with the matter. And, therefore we shall go on our way, neither afraid nor ashamed to own ourselves Freemasons, but under our Royal Grand Master, and with those august personages and Royal brethren who are numbered among our rulers, shall persevere in our works of beneficence and sympathy and good will. Thus we shall demonstrate to the world, how false are the calumnies of our adversaries, how cruel and unmerited are the slanders and vituperation of our unreasoning opponents, in that our profession and practice go hand in hand, and we actually do, (good example for them), what we continually and habitually teach.

OUR ROYAL BROTHER PRINCE LEOPOLD.

OUR brethren will be glad to perceive, by the report we print in another column, that our Royal Brother has taken the Second Degree. We do not say this with any desire of intruding on the privacy of the lodge proceedings, or of appearing to parade the fact of one of the Royal Family being amongst us. But in these days of such continued aggression on Freemasonry, it is well for us, we think, to note how our Royal brethren have evidently "counted the cost" of Masonic membership; how quietly they persevere in the discharge of its duties and the development of its privileges; and how satisfactory it is for us all to feel, that Freemasonry has equally for them as for ourselves the constant claim of hearty adherence and admiring appreciation.

Original Correspondence.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.)

THE ORDERS OF THE TEMPLE AND MALTA.

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Sir Knt. Coomb and J. C. G. L. for their digest of the statutes and for the gratifying information that a Preceptor, so long as he continues a subscribing member of any preceptory, retains the rank and privileges of a preceptor after he shall have ceased to preside over a preceptory. Having got so satisfactory a rendering of the statutes as to the rights and privileges of a Preceptor, acting or otherwise, let us see if we can elicit and trace any advantage in continuing active attention and devotion to the Order after the rank or degree of a Preceptor has been attained. It is the "hope of reward that sweetens labour" and keeps the feeling alive that leads us, after we have served one office to aspire to another, and persevere until we attain the object of our ambition, thereby keeping alive that honest, pleasant and friendly emulation which has proved so advantageous to our Masonic charities and system, and gives satisfaction and gratification to those who obtained the badge of merit and ability. Since the new statutes came in force there has not been that interest exhibited that I have known and been accustomed to amongst Knights Templar; what is the reason? is it because the reward—that distinctive badge—has been removed and that there is now no distinction in dress between the most active and most indolent members of the Order? We wonder if there be anarchy in the Order and a desire to retrace our steps—if the distinctive insignia of past rank is everywhere removed and not allowed beyond the degree of Preceptor. I am just thinking we must be silly mortals, hard up for something better to do, if we continue year after year to spend our time and money for the mere sake of doing so and without any chance of reward, but that cannot be, for even under the present regime we have Great Officers and Officers in our Great Priory and Provincial Priors. Surely there is some deficiency in these. A Knight appointed to "Great" office in the Great Priory or Provincial Priory must surely bear some distinctive badge and enjoy some privilege higher than that enjoyed by a Knight who has simply been appointed an officer, after they shall both have retired from office. What is the advantage? Does the Great Officer retain the badge of the office he has served to enjoy the privileges thereof on the same principle as a Preceptor? If this is not so, and I am informed it is not, what inducement is there for one who has served the office and obtained the degree of Preceptor to continue his attendance and services, sometimes at great inconvenience and expense, or care to accept office in the Provincial Priory the mantle and insignia of which may fall from him any day and for ever. He must be an enthusiast indeed who will accept office, take long journies, spend his time and money for the purpose of discharging the duties of an office from which he knows he will ultimately have to retire, as he began, with no recognition for his services. If I misapprehend the status of an executive or great officer I shall be glad to be enlightened. W. A.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

X. Y. Z. says, page 698, Nov. 7th, 1874: "There has been no severance of the Masonic connection, but the reverse." That being so, why drop the word "Masonic" from the title of the order? It looks very much like wishing a severance, and if quietly allowed to go on will some day, no doubt, be used as an argument in favour of dropping the connection altogether. What is the use of keeping up a connection and being ashamed to own the relationship? He says the Masonic prefix is of recent origin in England, and has not been used in the statutes of either the Irish or Scotch conclaves. I have always understood that the order of Knights Templar was essentially a Masonic order. I have also been informed that the attempt made in Scotland thirty years ago to effect a separation from its Masonic foundations brought the order to grief, and that the injudicious step had to be retraced at the revival in 1856. Will some good Brother Knight of Scotland give us the history and a report of the proceedings at the revival above referred to? 31, Oldham Road, Rochdale. W. D.

WAS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

On my return to England, after an absence of several weeks, I have read with some interest the correspondence which has appeared in The Freemason on the subject of Pope Pius IX. being a Mason, and I observe that in an editorial note to the letter of Bro. W. E. Gumbleton, P.G.D., in your paper of the 7th instant, you say that "up to this time" satisfactory or reliable evidence has been offered by anyone." The Pope, notwithstanding his bulls and fulminations against Freemasonry, I have always understood, and have seen it more than once stated, was a member of our Order; and, although I do not now remember on what authority, that he at one time belonged to one of the lodges in Palermo, as mentioned by Bro. Gumbleton. My impression on this subject is confirmed by the enclosed paragraph cut from the Milwaukee Sentinel, one of the most respectable newspapers in the North Western States of America, and is published by that paper on the authority of the Voice of Masonry, a well-known American periodical. If this authority is to be relied on, it would appear that Pope Pius IX., whose name is Mastai Ferretti, was a Freemason, and, for his perjury, was expelled from the Order on the 27th March last, by a decree of the Grand Lodge of the Orient at Palermo, which decree, it is said, was signed by King Victor Emanuel, the Grand Master of the Orient of Italy, and was published in an official Masonic paper at Cologne, with the minutes of the lodge in which he was initiated. Trusting that this information may lead to the discovery of the "reliable evidence" sought for,

I am, yours faithfully,

B. BROUGHTON.

Bradford, 10th Nov., 1874.

W. M. 302.

"THE POPE EXCOMMUNICATED."

"The Voice of Masonry publishes the following: At the semi-annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons, Scottish Rite of the Orient of Palermo, Italy, on the 27th of March last, Pope Pius IX. was excommunicated from the Order. The decree of expulsion was published in the official Masonic paper at Cologne, Germany, and is preceded by the minutes of the lodge in which he was initiated, and is as follows: 'A man named Mastai Ferretti, who received the baptism of Freemasonry, and solemnly pledged his love and fellowship, and who afterwards was crowned pope and king, under the title of Pío Ninth, has now cursed his former brethren and excommunicated all members of the Order of Freemasons. Therefore, said Mastai Ferretti is herewith, by decree of the Grand Lodge of the Orient, Palermo, expelled from the Order for perjury.' The charges against him were first prepared in his lodge at Palermo in 1865, and notification and copy thereof sent to him, with a request to attend the lodge for the purpose of answering the same. To this he made no reply, and, for divers reasons, the charges were not pressed until he urged the bishops of Brazil to act aggressively towards the Freemasons. Then they were pressed, and, after a regular trial, a decree of expulsion was entered and published, the same being signed by Victor Emanuel, King of Italy, and the Grand Master of the Orient of Italy."

MASONIC LEGENDS.

BY BRO. WILLIAM JAMES HUGHAN.

In continuing my communications on the above subject, and as to some being in all probability the adoption of legends originally unconnected with Freemasonry, I have much pleasure in presenting the following extract from an old work which has been kindly lent me for perusal by my esteemed Bro. W. Clarke, jun., of Shepton Mallet.

The title is, "An Historical Catechism, containing ingenious answers to many notable questions of several wonderful matters in ancient history, as, What is the opinion of all our historians about the apple Old Mother Eve tempted Adam withal: Why the devil should take the shape of a serpent: Of the building of the Tower of Babel, &c., &c."

PART I.

Register'd in the Hall Book of the Company of Stationers."

The size is 12mo., and the pages are numbered 1 to 24. There is no date now on the title-page, but evidently was printed 1700, or earlier. The two questions of importance to our present enquiry are (pp. 10—11) —

Q. "Was there ever any attempt made to rebuild the Temple of Jerusalem?"

A. "Yes. Julian Apostate, Emp. of Rome, who was once a Christian, but afterwards return'd to idolatry, resolved to rebuild the same in despite of Christ, and that this prophecy might not prove true, that one stone shall not be left upon another; but when the workmen were laying the foundation a dreadful earthquake happened, and fire issued out of the earth and destroy'd all the men and dispersed all the stones, so that there was not one stone but was separated from another."

Q. "What happen'd at their laying a Foundation?"

A. "There was a stone which slipt from its place and discover'd the mouth of a Cave cut in a Rock. The overseers of the work not being able to see to the bottom of it let down a Labourer by a Rope, being come to the bottom, he was up to the Ancles in Water, and found the place Four-square, and laying his hand on a little Pillar above Water he met with a Book wrapt up in a clean Linnen Cloth, being drawn up the Spectators were amaz'd it should be so fresh lying in such a dark Hole.

"The Book being open'd surpriz'd both the Jews and Grecians that were present: they found in the beginning of it these words writ in Capital Letters—'IN THE BEGINNING WAS THE WORD AND THE WORD WAS WITH GOD AND THE WORD WAS GOD.'"

"And indeed, saith the Historian, that Scripture did manifestly contain all the Gospel which the belov'd Disciple St. John had declared."

With respect to the date, I should say that the little pamphlet is bound up with two others, the first being "Testament of the Twelve Patriarchs, The Sons of Jacob, Translated out of Greek into Latine by Robert Grosthead, sometimes Bishop of Lincoln—and out of his copy into French and Dutch by others, and now Englished. To the Credit whereof, an ancient Greek copy, written on parchment, is kept in the University Library of Cambridge, (Woodcut). London, printed for T. Milbourn for the Company of Stationers. 1699.

Then follows the Catechism, and finally the "Holy Disciple, or the History of Joseph Arimathea, Being a true Account of his Birth and Parentage, his Country, Education, Piety, his begging of Pontius Pilate, the Body of our blessed Saviour, and burying him in a Sepulchre of his own. How he came to England and first preached the Gospel at Glassenbury, in Somersetshire, in memory of which there is still growing the Noted White Thorn, that buds every Christmas Day, in the morning, blossoms at noon, and fades at night; with his Life, Death, and Burial (wood cut)."

Lower part of title page is gone. Size is also 12mo., and pamphlet consists of 8 pp. We give the above to assist in the date being decided of No. 2, as they were evidently issued about the same time. Those who, interested in the account of the "Miraculous Thorn," should consult its history, which has been written lately by Bro. Thomas Sampson, F.R.H.S., of Preston Road, Yeovil.

But to return to the Catechism of, say, A.D. 1700, in which we have printed a legend which has been incorporated in "the Royal Arch Degree."

I wrote my friend Bro. Walter Spencer respecting its contents, and received from him a quotation from Godfrey Higgins' "Anacalypsis," vol. 1, which is said to have been taken from a work by Nicphorus Callistus, Lib. x., cap 23 (presumed to be a Byzantine writer), which, strange to say, is almost identical with the extract from the "Catechism," and for the transcript of which I am much indebted to Bro. Spencer, to whom—and to Bro. Clarke—I beg to express my thanks for such fraternal assistance in my researches.

"The time the foundation was laid one of the stones to which the lowest part of the foundation was attached was removed and showed the mouth of a cavern in the rock. Not being able to see to the bottom, the overseers let down a workman by means of a rope. When at the bottom he found himself up to his ancles in water, and, on examination, by feeling, he found the cave to be square. On searching nearer the opening he found a pillar little higher than the water, and upon it a book carefully folded in clean linen. This he secured and was drawn up. The book seemed fresh and untouched, to the astonishment of the beholders. Both the Jews and Greeks were amazed to read. 'In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God.' To speak clearly, the writing here discovered most evidently contain all that Gospel which was uttered by the divine tongue of the virgin disciple."

May I ask the assistance of my good brother, the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, in determining the date of issue of the Catechism, and likewise to decide when the legend was first promulgated, or when it can first be traced in MS. and print?

I shall continue my researches, and anticipate further revelations soon, in response to our united and energetic examinations of Records and MSS.

CONSECRATION OF THE BERTIE LODGE (No. 1515) AT OXFORD.

On Friday, Nov. 6th, a meeting was held at the Apollo University Masonic Hall, for the purpose of consecrating the Bertie Lodge, No. 1515. The University Lodge had been kindly lent for the occasion by R. W. Bro. F. Morrell, of the Apollo Lodge.

The brethren assembled at the lodge about half-past three o'clock, and shortly afterwards the procession of Prov. Grand, and Past Pro Grand Officers entered the lodge. As the procession was entering the following verses were chanted by the brethren, under the direction of Bro. Hallowell:—

"Except the Lord build the house their labour is but lost that build it. Except the Lord be the city the watchman waketh but in vain. is but lost labour that ye haste to rise up early and so late take rest and eat the bread of carefulness, for so He giveth His beloved sleep."

The presiding officer, W. Bro. R. J. Spiers, F.S.A., P.G.S.B., D. Prov. G.H. of Oxfordshire, who had been appointed by the Acting P.G. R. W. Bro. Æ. J. McIntyre, G.C., Grand Registrar in charge of the province, to undertake ceremony, then took the chair, and with Pickard, P.M., as S.W., the lodge was opened the first degree. The P.S.G.W. Bro. Morrell (W.M. of the University Lodge) then addressed the presiding officer, stating the object of the meeting and the wishes of the brethren. The Secretary had read the petition and warrant and the brethren of the new lodge had signified their approval of the officers designate of Bertie Lodge in the usual manner, the officers, who were, Bros. Galpin, Mayo, Oxford, W.M. designate; Jason Saunders, designate; Eagleston, J.W. designate.

The lodge was then consecrated in ancient by the Presiding Officer, after which came an anthem from Psalm 133, "Behold how and joyful a thing it is, brethren, to together in unity, &c."

The customary offerings of corn, wine, &c., having been made, the lodge was constituted after which Haydn's Hymn, "The spacious mansion on high," was sung with great effect by the brethren.

The installation of the W.M. designate, the investment of the new officers followed. Bro. Spiers conducted the whole ceremony with judgment and ability.

In the evening the brethren dined together. The banquet was held in the Council Chamber of the city of Oxford, a fine old room decorated with portraits of some of the Sovereigns of England, and of municipal benefactors, city magnates, and it was well worth the occasion. The chair was taken by the W.M., the Mayor of the City, and presented the Deputy Provincial Grand Master, Bro. R. J. Spiers, who had performed the duty of Consecrating Officer of the new lodge, had installed the W.M. and presented the Treasurer, Bro. Haund, who, originally, had subsequently (on the 12th inst.) been ously elected Mayor for the present year; by Bro. F. P. Morrell, M.A., of St. John's College, V.M. of Apollo University Lodge, and Prov. G.W.; by all the members of the new lodge; and by other City Aldermen and Councillors, and by a great number of those who had been present at the ceremonial of the day. The addresses of many of the speakers were very excellent, and it was particularly remarked that a city numbering 35,000 inhabitants there had existed only one Lodge into which citizens could be admitted for upwards of 65 years. It true there are two other Lodges, but they are confined to members of the University (excepting five or six citizens are members of one of them). It is true that the two number about 20, but objection has hitherto most curiously been made to the establishment of a second City Lodge; and it has only been by the exertions of a Deputy Provincial Master, seconded by the pressed desire of the excellent Acting Prov. M., Bro. McIntyre, Grand Registrar, that the W. Lodge, the Bertie, named after the family of the Earl of Abingdon, Lord High Steward of the City, has been brought to a success. The whole gave great satisfaction to who were present.

DEDICATION OF A MASONIC HALL AT THIRSK.

On Wednesday, the 11th inst., the ceremonial dedication of the new Masonic Hall in connection with the Falcon Lodge, 1416, took place.

The hall, which is a handsome white-brick building, has been erected at a cost of nearly 20, on a suitable site given by Bro. Frederick L., the Lord of the Manor, and consists of banqueting, lodge, and ante-rooms, built in accordance with the rules of the Craft from plans devised by Bro. Bourne, the architect; the enclosure surrounding it being laid out in flower-beds and planted with shrubs. The lodge was plastered with Parian cement in order that it might be decorated. The walls were panelled and coloured in distemper, the ceiling being a beautiful French grey, the pilasters of a darker tint, and the mouldings a deep colour, which forms an appropriate effect.

In addition to the members of the Falcon Lodge the following visiting brethren were present at the dedication and installation of the W. Master: R. Boulton, P.S.W.; Restoration, P.M.; T. Norris, 3rd Dragoons, Manchester; L. W. Tallett; Benevolence, 184; F. M. Ring, P.P.G.S.D.; W. Lawton, P.P.G.R.; J. D., P.P.G.P.; M. Cooper, P.J.W.; A. T. Wood; T. B. Whytehead; T. J. Russell, 18236; G. W. Smales, P.P.G.S.W.; H. Hall; W.M.; S. Chadwick; G. Hirst; J. Bolton; H. H. Spink; Unanimity, 424; Geo. Wood, P.D.P.G.M.; Cleveland, 543; A. Farmer, 14 North York, 602; G. B. Hall; Camalodunum; R. H. Stafford, P.M.; R. E. Collinson, G.S.D.; S. Evans, P.M.; G. Kearsley; R. Lumley; E. Fletcher; W. Harrison; F. Smith, S.D.; A. Pratt; De Grey and Co., 137; M. Knowles, P.S.G.D.; J. Ton, P.M., G.P.J.D.; Durham, 940; W. On; W. Lucas; Excelsior, 1042; J. Bowden, W.M., Marwood, 1244; C. Waistell, I.; C. Palliser, P.M.; Anchor, 1339; A. G. Dale, St. James, 1448.

The brethren assembled in the banqueting room, and, having robed, were marshalled in procession, and proceeded to the lodge room. The ceremony was opened in due form by W. Bro. Marwood, P.D.P.G., and the following ceremonial of dedication was gone through, Bro. Marwood officiating as Chaplain and Bro. Walton acting at the harmonium.

The following Psalm having been chanted: "Except the Lord build the house, their labour is but lost that build it. Except the Lord direct the city, the Watchman waketh but in vain. It is but lost labour that ye haste to rise up early, and so late take rest, and the bread of idleness; for so He giveth His beloved "To God the only Wise: our Creator and Redeemer, glory be.

"As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen."
The W. Master directed the Architect (Bro. Bourne) to examine the appointments of the lodge, to ascertain that all was correct.
The Consecration Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.
Musical response.—"So mote it be."

ANTHEM.

To Heaven's High Architect all praise,
All praise, all gratitude be given,
Who deigned the human soul to raise,
By mystic secrets sprung from Heaven.
Sound all the Great Jehovah's praise,
To Him the dome, the Temple raise.
The W.M. made the circuit of the lodge, and sprinkled water.

SANCTUS.

"Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!
Heaven and Earth are full of the Majesty of Thy glory. Glory be Thee, O Lord.

Invocation.
The W. Master bearing corn, the Senior Warden with wine, and the Junior Warden with oil, formed a procession round the lodge (solemn music accompanying), halting in the East.
The W. Master scattered corn over the lodge and consecrated to Freemasonry.
Response.—"So mote it be." Grand Honours once.

ODE TO MASONRY.

Hail Masonry! thou Craft Divine,
Glory of Earth from Heaven revealed,
Which dost with Jewels precious shine,
From all but Masons' eyes concealed.
The procession moved a second time round the lodge and halted in the West, when the Senior Warden handed to the W. Master the vessel containing wine.
The W. Master poured wine upon the lodge and consecrated to Virtue.
Response.—"So mote it be." Grand Honours twice.

ODE TO VIRTUE.

Come, Holy Virtue, by whose aid
In heaven-ward steps we long to tread,
Bring love, bring truth, bring friendship here,
Bring peace and unity sincere.
The procession moved a third time round the lodge and halted in the south, when the Junior Warden handed the W. Master the vessel containing oil.
The W. Master then anointed the lodge with oil, and consecrated to Universal Benevolence.
Response.—"So mote it be." Grand honours three times.

ODE TO CHARITY.

Come, Charity, with goodness crowned,
Encircled in thy heavenly robe,
Diffuse thy blessings all around
To every corner of the globe.
Incense was carried once round the lodge.
Salt was strewn over the lodge, the Chaplain reading Levit. II. v. 13.

The W. Master then solemnly consecrated the lodge to Freemasonry, Virtue, and Universal Benevolence.
The Consecrating Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.
Musical Response.—"So mote it be." Grand Honours five times.
Bro. Marwood, having offered his congratulations to the brethren on the success of the work, the ceremony closed with the following Anthem:—

Hail! Masonry Divine!
Glory of ages shine,
Long may'st thou reign—
Where'er thy Lodges stand
May they have great command,
And always grace the land:
Thou art Divine!
Hiram, the Architect,
Did all the Craft direct,
How they should build.

Sol'mon, great Irsael's King,
Did mighty blessings bring,
And left us cause to sing
Hail! Royal Art!

The business of the lodge was then proceeded with for the installation of the W.M. Elect. After the confirmation of the minutes of the last meeting, Bro. A. G. Bawlett was presented to Bro. Marwood, P.D.P.G.M., to receive at his hands the benefit of installation by Bro. Bell, P.M.; and having taken the obligation was proclaimed according to ancient custom. In the name of the lodge the W.M. presented Bro. F. Bell, P.P.G.S.W., with a splendid Past Master's jewel, in token of the esteem of the brethren of the Falcon Lodge, and their grateful acknowledgment of his past services in connection with its formation, and the two years during which he had filled the chair. The W.M. then proceeded to appoint his officers:—Bros. J. Rhodes, S.W.; G. Anderson, J.W.; W. Coltman, S.D.; W. Hall, J.D.; G. Ayre, I.G.; T. J. Wilkinson, Secretary; J. Walton, Organist; and Bros. Denwoodie and Atkinson, Stewards.

Bro. Bell, P.M., then conveyed the thanks of the assembled brethren to Bro. Marwood for the admirable manner in which he had conducted the ceremonies of the day. The lodge was closed in due form, and the brethren proceeded to the Fleece Hotel, where an excellent dinner was provided by Bro. Hall, presided over by the W.M. On the removal of the cloth the W.M. gave the loyal and usual Masonic toasts, after which Bro. Bell, P.M., in eulogistic terms, proposed the health of the W.M. It was received heartily by the brethren, and was suitably responded to, the W.M. expressing his warm interest in all that related to the Craft, and promised to do his best to promote the welfare of the Falcon Lodge. The healths of the Past Master, of Bro. Marwood, and of the visiting brethren were duly responded to.

THE LATE DUKE OF LEINSTER.

The following tribute to the memory of the late Duke of Leinster was received by the Secretary of the Supreme Council, 33rd degree, for Ireland, from General Albert Pike, Grand Commander of the Supreme Council, 33rd degree, Southern Jurisdiction, U.S. America:—

From the other side of the Atlantic Sea have come unto us the accents of mourning. Our sister council of Ireland has lost its beloved and venerated chief, Augustus Frederick Fitzgerald, Duke of Leinster, for sixty years Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ireland, and Grand Commander of the Supreme Council since its creation. We were honoured with his correspondence many years ago; and in 1872 he became an honorary member of our Supreme Council. For nearly his whole life he was Ireland's only Duke. Born in 1791, and descended in a direct line from the fourth of the illustrious house of the Geraldines of Tuscany, who passed from Italy into Normandy, and, in the time of Edward the Confessor, into England. An Irish poet says of them, that fully a thousand years ago their spears flashed amid the Tuscan vineyards, their iron shields were seen when Capet seized the crown of France, and their sabres gleamed on the banks of the Caronne: that—

Across the downs of Hastings they spurred by William's side.
And the grey sands of Palestine with Moslem blood they died.

And he adds—
"But never then, nor theme, till now, has falsehood or disgrace
Been seen to soil Fitzgerald's plume, or mantle in his face;
While one is left of all that honoured race,
In front of Ireland's chivalry is that Fitzgerald's place.
Justly proud of his ancestral glories, this great noble deemed himself honoured by his Masonic dignities, and did not affect, as many not noble do, to be above them, or to honour Ma-unless another day should be appointed for the ceremony. In this country, where we can change our Grand Masters annually in forty States and territories, we cannot appreciate the loving veneration of all Irish Freemasons for the Grand Master whom their fathers also loved and revered.

And our illustrious brother, the Duke of Leinster, well deserved the universal homage that he received, as he was well worthy to have come of such a house; for he was a very perfect gentleman, which is more than to be noble; simple, without haughtiness or too much pride; of singular purity of character and blamelessness of life; of unsullied honour; a wise, venerable, courteous, truly grand and noble old man. Little as it was to him to be honoured by us, he responded to every testimonial of our esteem, as if it came to him from those socially his equals, with a simple, cordial, graceful, and grateful courtesy that showed us why all Irish Masons loved him. He will be long and fondly remembered in the Green Island as one of "Those brethren of olden times, whose names are revered,
Live in the memory of all noble hearts,
For love and admiration—ever young."

LODGE OF BENEVOLENCE.

The Lodge of Benevolence met on Wednesday evening, at the Freemasons' Hall. The Board of Masters was first held, whereat the paper of business for the next Grand Lodge was settled. The necessary formal steps were taken for the nomination of the Prince of Wales as Grand Master on that occasion, and other business was transacted. At the Lodge of Benevolence, Bro. J. M. Clabon, President; Bro. Joshua Nunn, Senior Vice President; and Bro. James Brett, Junior Vice President, occupied their appointed chairs. Among the other brethren present there were Bro. John Hervey, G. Secretary, H. G. Buss, A. A. Pendlebury, Samuel May, Herbert Dicketts, T. Cubitt, J. Bull, James Willing, H. Keeble, H. Dalwood, W. Stephens, W. Hilton, T. Whitley, W. Smith, Louis Alexander, and H. Massey (Freemason). Both the Board of Masters and the Lodge of Benevolence were very fully attended. Twenty-five cases for relief were on the paper of business, and many sad instances of fortune's freaks were disclosed to the brethren. Several old and highly-respected Masons, who have long been known as most energetic workers in behalf of the Masonic Institutions, were proved to have fallen, by no fault of their own, into the lowest depths of poverty and distress. There were several other cases which, although very hard, could scarcely be said to have any claim on the bounty of the board by their acts of devotion to the Craft. Both classes were dealt with according to their merits in the opinion of the brethren, but without an excessive flow of liberality. The board sat for a long time, and having disposed of the business the brethren closed down.

FREEMASONRY IN CORNWALL.

In consequence of the decease of the lamented and beloved Countess of Mount Edgcumbe, the Provincial Grand Master of Cornwall, the Right Hon. the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe has delegated his duties to his Dep. Prov. Grand Master Sir F. M. Williams, Bart., M.P., (P.G.W. of England) pro tempore, and in pursuance of such authority the latter distinguished brother has been most energetically engaged in Masonic duties of late. At the opening of the "new wings" of the "Royal British Female Orphan Asylum," Devonport, Bro. Sir F. M. Williams, Bart., attended as the representative of Cornwall, and presented the purse of upwards of £150, collected by Bro. W. J. Hughan, P.S.G.D. of England, &c., for the "Masonic Fund."

On Thursday, the 12th, Bro. Sir F. M. Williams consecrated the "Mount Edgcumbe" Chapter No. 496, St. Austell, the new Principals being installed, Comps. Dr. Berryman, P.M. 496, as Z; William Grey, P.M. 496, as H; and Charles Truscott, W.M. 496, as J.

The D. Prov. G.M. also dedicated the new Masonic Hall, in which the lodge and chapter will meet, and was heartily received by the W.M. (Bro. Truscott) and the members and visitors who assembled.

The St. Michael's Mark Lodge, No. 175, Helston, was lately consecrated by Bro. Sir Frederick M. Williams, as Provincial Grand Mark Master for Cornwall, in which he was assisted by R.W. Bro. W. J. Hughan, P.G.W. of England; W. Bro. N. J. West, Prov. J.G.W., (who installed the first W.M., Bro. W. H. Blossome, and advanced eight candidates); W. Bro. T. Solomon, J.P., Prov. Grand Sec.; W. Bro. W. J. Johns, P.M. 78, and P.Prov.G.W.; W. Bro. J. W. Dabb, P. Prov. G.W.; W. Bro. J. Niness, P.M. 101, P. Prov. G.W.; W. Bro. Rev. G. L. Church, Prov. G. Chap.; Bro. Rev. A. H. Cummings, M.A., S.W. 175, &c., &c. Representatives also of the six lodges in the province attended, and the esteemed Prov. G. Master was most enthusiastically received.

PASSING OF H.R.H. PRINCE LEOPOLD.

An emergency meeting of the Apollo Lodge was held at the University Masonic Hall, Oxford, for the purpose of passing Bro. Prince Leopold and Bro. R. H. Collins.

The lodge was opened in the first degree, and by previous request of his Royal Highness, and by consent of the Acting P.G.M., the W.M. and necessary officers adjourned to Wykeham House, where the candidates were duly admitted into the second degree.

The lodge was finally closed at the Masonic Hall.

The following brethren were present:—Bros. F. P. Morrell, W.M.; R. Bird, P. Prov. S.G.W., I.P.M.; Rev. Thomas Cochrane, P.P.G.Ch., as S.W.; Colonel, the Hon. W. E. Sackville West, P.G.D.C., as J.W.; — Hilton, P.G.Ch., Chaplain; Frankland Hood, Deacon; Fletcher, Secretary; H. Adair Pickard, Prov. S.G.W., and others.

Multum in Parvo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

SINCE writing my communication respecting old legends, I have come across the following from Stephen Ives's "Biographical Dictionary," "Nicephorus (Callistus), a Greek historian, who flourished in the 14th century, and wrote an Ecclesiastical History in 23 books, 18 of which are still extant," &c. This may help in the decision as to the date of the quotation from Bro. Higgins' "Ancalypsis."

W. J. HUGHAN.

ANAGRAM ON THE NAME OF THE NEW GRAND MASTER OF IRELAND.

His Grace the Duke of Abercorn
O go and fetch here a sure brick.

Masonic Tidings.

The Marquis of Ripon, late Grand Master, has presented to the Lodge of Truth 521, Huddersfield, all his votes in the Masonic charities, to be perpetuated.

The Anniversary Supper of the Peckham Lodge of Instruction, held at the Maismore Arms Tavern, Peckham Park-road, under the warrant of the Peckham Lodge, No. 1475, will be held at the above named tavern, on Thursday evening, Nov. 24th inst., at 7 o'clock. The W.M. of the "Peckham Lodge," Bro. Watkins, will preside, supported (as vice) by the W.M. elect of the Rose of Denmark, Bro. Edmonds.

FREEMASONRY AND THE PRINCE OF WALES.—It is thought by many of the Craft that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be installed as Grand Master, Dec. 2nd. This is not only unnecessary, as his Royal Highness already holds the office, but it is also most probable that the Prince of Wales will not be present upon the occasion referred to. The installation for the year ensuing, as the office of Grand Master is one of annual tenure only, will most likely take place at the Grand Festival, April 28th, 1875.

Poetry.

DO A KIND ACT WHEN YOU CAN

By L. M. THORNTON.

Air, "Say a kind Word when you can."

If Fortune is smiling upon you
And Care never enters your breast,
Oh do not forget for a moment,
That many there are not so blest.
Amid the bright hours of Plenty,
Remember that life's but a span,
Be thankful for what you're enjoying
And do a kind act when you can.

Oh, what to the poor is existence,
A wearisome desert at best,
Our duty's to lighten the journey
And cheer up each spirit opprest.
Then mid the bright hours of Plenty
Remember that life's but a span,
Be thankful for what you're enjoying
And do a kind act when you can.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.

MASONIC GATHERINGS

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.

Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from earliest to the present time, &c.
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

MASONIC MUSIC IN STOCK.

AT Bro. KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT

- The Red Cross Knight; composed by Bro. H. Park
- words by Bro. R. W. Little
- What Better Theme than Masonry? words by E. James Stevens; music by Bro. Wilhelm Ganz
- Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth; written by H. Sewell; composed by Bro. J. Rhodes
- The Final Toast; written by D. L. Richards
- music by Bro. Edwin J. Crow
- The E.A. Song; arranged by the late Bro. Park of the "Lodge of Antiquity," No. 2
- Masonic Harmonia
- Masonic Music, compiled for the use of the "Merch Lodge," No. 241, by Bro. J. H. Younghusband, P.Z., P.E.C., and P. Prov. J.G.W. West Lancashire
- The Freemason (Tell me the Sign John); written by George Palmer
- Three Times Three; composed by Bro. Harcourt "Royal York Lodge," Brighton
- The Shake of the Hand (in G & B flat) composed by John Blockley
- The Freemasons' Festival March and Masonic Hymn by Bro. W. B. Tolpitt (Past Master of the "Temple Lodge," No. 816, Folkestone)
- The Freemason Quadrilles; inscribed (by permission) to the Right Hon. the Earl of Grey and Ripon, by Bro. Joshua Marshall (P.G.O., West Yorkshire) Solo or Duet
- Music for the Ceremony of Advancement to the Degree; composed by Bro. Edwin J. Crow, dedicated to the Grand Master, Bro. Rev. G. Portal
- Here's to His Health in a Song; written by Bealey; composed by J. M. Bentley
- Hird's Masonic Quadrille; by C. T. Hird
- So Mote it Be, by Bro. Jno. P. Nunn
- Masonic Mischief, the new Masonic Song, by G. Men of the Trowel, answer to Masonic Mischief
- The Mystic Tie, song with quartet chorus, by Wm. Carpenter, Esq., composed by J. Baker, Mus. D.
- "Welcome," a Masonic song, written by Bro. Carpenter, composed by Bro. Jas. C. Baker
- The Mark Masons' Song; dedicated to the Earl of Percy, M.P., M.W.G.M.M. B.
- T. B. Yeoman
- Masonic Song, words by Wm. Allan, music by Culino

All the above Half-Price.

- Dr. Spark's Freemasons' Liber Musicus—Part (each)
- The Freemasons' March, for the Piano-forte, composed by Selmar Kahlenberg
- Masonic Ode, written by Bro. G. Passenger, composed by Bro. B. Sharpe
- The Masonic Minstrel; being a complete collection upwards of 200 Masonic Songs, Odes, &c., with a list of Toasts and Sentiments, cloth, 4s. roan, gilt edges
- Melodia Masonica: Five Songs and a Trio Music and arranged by Bro. C. H. Purdie
- edition
- Two Chants and an Anthem, set to music arranged by Bro. G. F. Taylor, for the use of Masters' Lodges
- Masonic Musical Services, by Rev. J. C. Baker
- Music for the Masonic ceremony, written by Bro. Crow and B. Sharpe

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

"Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, blisher will be glad to receive copies from en who may have them. Stamps will be 1 receipt.

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS

FOR Craft Lodges, SUPERIOR DESIGN AND WORKMANSHIP, MANUFACTURED IN THREE QUALITIES, BY RO. GEORGE KENNING, P.M., COMPRISING

- One Oak or Mahogany Kneeling Stool.
- Lamp (Star in the East). Third Degree Sheet.
- Bible. with Name and No. of Lodge in Gold.
- Square and Compasses in Case.
- Cushion for Bible.
- Ten Officers' Collars.
- Ten Officers' Jewels.
- I.G. Dirk.
- O.G. Sword.
- Set of Eight Books.
- Three S—g Boards.
- Two Pairs of S—s.
- Three C—e T—s.
- Two H—s.
- Three Cardes with Emblems.

£30, £60, and £100.

Chairs, Tasseled Carpeting, Banners, &c., &c. on the usual terms, according to material, style, &c. Personal Insignia, see List of Clothing and Jewels.

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS

FOR Royal Arch Chapters, SUPERIOR DESIGN & WORKMANSHIP. MANUFACTURED, IN THREE QUALITIES, BY RO. GEORGE KENNING, P.Z., COMPRISING

- Trowel
- Square and Compasses
- Sword
- Three Robes for Principals
- Three Sceptres
- Three Surplices
- Ten Officers' Collars
- Ten Officers' Jewels
- Janitor's Sword
- Ballot Box
- Bible
- Cushion for ditto
- Scripture Extracts
- Set of Five Books

£50, £100, and £150.

Chairs, Canopy, Head Ornaments, &c. (if required) on moderate terms, according to material, style, &c. Personal Insignia, see Lists of Clothing and Jewels.

HATTER & UMBRELLA TRADE

ANAL. An Illustrated Monthly Trade Journal. Published 1st of each month. Subscription 5s. per annum; payable in advance. Single copies Sixpence. It is extensively circulated among the Retail Hatters, Cutters, and Shippers of Hats in Great Britain, and the English-speaking world. An Illustrated Fashion Card of Hats and Caps, with of some Leading Celebrity, by one of the first artists each Number. and Post-office Orders to be made payable to Edward Hatter, 4, Bisc, 4b, Paternoster-row, London, E.C.

MR. BARTON AND DREW, 55, FORE STREET, CITY, Who have for 27 years acted for DEBTS IN EMBARRASSED CIRCUMSTANCES, CONTINUE TO OBTAIN DISCHARGES FROM DEBT IN TOWN OR COUNTRY. By proceedings in RECEIVERSHIP, LIQUIDATION OR COMPROMISE, which stays all legal proceedings (and in most cases without publicity or suspension of Business.) CHARGES MAY BE PAID BY EASY INSTALMENTS.

CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION OR ANSWERS TO ENQUIRIES MADE BY LETTER, AND COMMON LAW CASES CONDUCTED, OF SALE AND CONVEYANCES PREPARED AND COMPLETED AT REASONABLE CHARGES.

LET.—A LARGE ROOM AT Smith's, the Union Tavern, Air-street, Regent-street, Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, for Lodges of Instruction, Private Clubs, Public, Private, and Social Dinners.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BEECH M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer. J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary

GENERAL POST OFFICE (Within a few yards of).—To Let an entire house, having a frontage of about 19ft. and comprising ground floor fitted with plate glass front, basement, and three upper floors, with or without an extensive range of four-storey brick-built premises and large yard, enclosed by double entrance gates; the whole covering an area of about 2,500ft. Plans and particulars at Messrs. Debenham, Tewson and Farmer, 80, Cheapside.

TO THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

Gilt and Silvered Spangles, Laces, Tissues, Fringes, Cloths, Trimmings, Foils, Braids, Tassels, and Swords.

SPANGLES: Thirty Sizes ... 4/0 per lb.

GAUZE LACES:		Per gross.		Per doz. yd.
1 in.	...	4/0	1 in.	...	16/0
1 1/2 in.	...	8/0	1 1/2 in.	...	36/0
2 in.	...	12/0	2 in.	...	48/0

PRUSSIAN LACES: 1/2 in. ... 18/6 per gross. 1 in. ... 30/0 " 1 1/2 in. ... 40/0 "

GILT AND SILVERED SINGLE SHELL LACES:

Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yd.
1 in.	...	3/0	1 1/2 in.	...	12/0
1 in.	...	6/0	2 in.	...	15/0
1 in.	...	9/0	3 in.	...	18/0

GILT AND SILVERED DOUBLE SHELL LACES:

Per doz. yds.		Per doz. yds.
1 in.	...	3/0	2 1/2 in.	...	12/0
1 in.	...	6/0	2 in.	...	15/0
1 in.	...	9/0	3 in.	...	18/0

FRINGES:

Plate or Water	Twisted	Bullion.
1 in.	0/4	...	1/6 per yard.
1 1/2 in.	0/6	...	2/0 "
2 in.	0/8	...	3/6 "
3 in.	0/10	...	6/0 "
4 in.	1/0	...	8/0 "
5 in.	1/3	...	12/6 "
6 in.	1/6	...	14/6 "
7 in.	1/9	...	17/6 "
8 in.	2/0	...	21/0 "
9 in.	2/3	...	" "
10 in.	2/6	...	" "
12 in.	3/0	...	" "

RUSSIA BRAIDS: No. 1 ... 5/3 per gross. 2 ... 6/9 " 3 ... 8/0 " 4 ... 10/6 " 5 ... 13/9 "

FRENCH BRAIDS: No. 1, 8/6 per gross. No. 4, 26/0 per gross. 2, 12/0 " 5, 40/0 " 3, 16/0 " 6, 72/0 "

TISSUE: 22 inches wide ... 2/6 per yard.

GILT AND SILVERED CLOTH: 22 inches wide ... 3/9 per yard.

SUNDRIES:

- Combat Swords ... 7/6 per pair.
- Dutch Metal, 1st quality, 8/0 per bundle.
- " " 2nd " 6/0 "
- Zincs 0/6 0/9 1/6 1/9 2/6 3/9 4/6 6/0 pr gross.
- Concaves 1/6 2/0 3/0 per gross.
- Foil Paper, all colours, 8/6 per doz.
- Foil Stone Ornaments 3/0 4/6 7/6 12/0 27/0 per doz.
- Spangled Stars, Foil Centre 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 6/0 8/0 10/0 12/0 per doz.
- Copper Foil, all colours, single 2/0 per doz. double 2/6 "
- Orsidue, 3/6 per lb.
- Gilt Vine-leaf Tissue 3/0 per yard.
- Fancy Spotted Tissue 3/0 "
- Gilt and Silvered Foil Ornaments 1/6 2/0 3/0 4/0 per dozen.
- Armour Cloth, 5/6 per yard.
- " " in colours, 5/9 per yard.
- Coloured Cloths, 3/6 per yard.

TERMS CASH.—Orders by Post, accompanied by remittance, will receive prompt attention.

MANUFACTURED BY GEORGE KENNING, 175, Aldersgate-street, 1, 2, & 3, Little Britain and 198, Fleet-street, London, E.C.; 2, Monument-place, Liverpool; 145, Argyle-street, and 2 St. Enoch's-lane Glasgow.

ALDERNEY, JERSEY, AND GUERNSEY COWS, HEIFERS, and BULLS.

ED. PARSONS FOWLER, of Jersey, and 10, Gloucester square, Southampton, has always on PRIVATE SALE at his stables, Southampton, choice herds of the above breeds, exporting annually 1,000. He also begs to observe that he is no wise connected with parties trading under his surnames, being the sole exporter.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian, EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE WORSHIPFUL MASTER, SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS, 10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.

Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

BRO. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depôts,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 198, Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.

In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, 4s. REEVES SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S

NEW TRACING BOARDS

Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.

A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF MASONIC EMBLEMS.

may be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. George Kenning, at his Masonic Depôts in London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.

MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,

198, Fleet-street, London.

BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.

145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

MASONIC FLAGS

FOR HIRE.

Freemasons' Arms.....	15ft. by 12ft.
Knights Templar Arms.....	15ft. by 12ft.
Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms	15ft. by 12ft.
Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's
Feathers in Centre	12ft. by 9ft.
City of London Arms.....	10ft. by 7ft.
Union Jack.....	10ft. by 6ft.
Duke of Edinburgh.....	9ft. by 4 1/2ft.
Russian	9ft. by 4 1/2ft.

UNION JACK, 9 yds. by 4 1/2 yds.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT

198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

THE

LOMBARD EXCHANGE,

LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS.

Entrance Fee	£ 8	4
Annual Subscription	3	3	0
Members reading and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-
Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee)	1	1	0
The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Post-Restante Compartments, Reading and Writing Rooms, Restaurant, Lavatory
W.C., &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
By JOHN H. YOUNG, Manager.
2, Lombard-st., E.C. 4. P. O. F. F. G. W. & Co. Manager.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATHS,

335c, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE. Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m., 2s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, first class, £1 5s.; second class, 1s. Warm, cold, shower, and douche baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: mornings, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Mrs. Smith. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH, From the Hauseman, Jerusalem-street

THE BIRKBECK

Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION! How to Purchase a House for Two Guineas per Month, With Immediate Possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Month, With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes, apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane. How to Invest Money with safety at 4 per cent interest. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK. All sums under £50 repayable upon demand. Current accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 9, and on Saturdays from 10 till 2. A small pamphlet, containing full particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAVENSCROFT, Manager.

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant, (LATE WITH PATERNALL & CO.) 106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C. Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles. Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c. Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils. Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft. Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

WINDOW BLINDS.

JANES & SON.

WIRE, VENETIAN, OUTSIDES, &c. Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street, City Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly. No Other House.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.

Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, Electro plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger, 49, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.

OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REALLY GOOD Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any person to select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other house in the Trade," but quite as cheap as any. A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes

at 75, Edgware-road, W. Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, £8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; ten stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO., Harmonium Manufacturers, 75, Edgware-road, London. FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

THE ENTR'ACTE.

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW, Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

Now Ready, Fifth Edition. 5s.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE of HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. "A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age. London Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to ship-owners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Couley, Grand Secretary, Recorder of the four Grand Lodges of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $4 per annum, and 10c per copy who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be in currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London Freemason, 198, Fleet-street.

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason," BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea.

A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

SARSAPARILLA.

WILKINSON'S ESSENCE, OR FLUID

EXTRACT OF RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, prescribed by the Faculty for Purifying the Blood, Deterring, and COMPLAINING, and freeing the system from effects of Mercury, exclusively used in India and the Colonies as a prevention of tropical diseases. "Superior preparations that may always be relied upon."—Astley Cooper. "We are in every respect satisfied with it."—Lancet. "We recommend yours as the best."—Medical Review. CAUTION.—Spurious and injurious preparations are offered to the public. See that Bottle and Label have the name and address, "T. Wilkinson, late Wilkinson, Bridge, and Co., No. 1, Regent-street, London."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC DINNERS

NO PILL is so efficacious in promoting digestion, strengthening Stomach, correcting acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from a Costive Habit, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of diet, and those of the most delicate constitution can take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla with greatest success.

QUINTESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER and CAMOMILE. WILKINSON'S Preparation of Ginger and Camomile has been deservedly known as an excellent domestic medicine. It is most efficient Stomachic Tonic, and the best remedy for Flatulency and disorders arising from impaired digestion, and is affected by climate. No European in India or tropical climates should be without. In one-eighth, quarter, and half-pint bottles.

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.

The Best Remedy for ACIDITY of the STOMACH, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, GOUT, AND INDIGESTION, and the best mild aperient for delicate constitutions, especially adapted for LADIES, CHILDREN, and INFANTS. DINNEFORD & CO. 172, New Bond Street, London, and of all Chemists.

O P H T H A L M I C

SAVE YOUR EYES! RESTORE YOUR SIGHT! THE EYES! Those who are troubled with Inflamed Eyelids, Dimness of or Weak Eyes, should use COCKLES' EYE WATER.

This noted application has been before the public upwards seventy years and used by Royalty, the Nobility, Clergy, and Officers of both Services, and needs no further recommendation. Restores impaired vision and overworked Eyes; cures watery, inflamed, and near-sighted Eyes, and stimulates the health in all other diseases. Perfectly safe. The patient speedily find relief from its use. 2s. 6d. and 4s. 6d. per bottle for India, securely packed, 11s. Can be ordered through Chemist in this neighbourhood.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SP

TACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horns and Thurstley, superlative specialist, 8, Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies' six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET

Try Anthony Scard's new material! Peculiarly Fit Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never wears coarse, softer and firmer in wear, a perfect durable substitute for leather. 8, Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies' six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

GUIDE TO HEALTH; OR ADVICE

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, TENDENCY, AND PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all the Diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power. By DR. HENRY SMITH. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening of the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Treated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in each case. The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on two penny stamps. Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, BURLINGTON-GARDENS, London, W.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used it, respectfully solicited to give it a trial. It is the only starch that does not yellow, and is the only one that does not crack. It is the only one that does not stain, and is the only one that does not ever used. "When used in Her Majesty's Laundry, it is the only one that does not yellow, and is the only one that does not crack. It is the only one that does not stain, and is the only one that does not ever used."

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
OSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
 DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,
 A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,
 CONTAINING

Names of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

London Meetings are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in Towns, alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London.

Now Ready. Price 5s. Post Free 5s. 3d.

THE LIFE OF CONSTANTINE,
 IN FOUR BOOKS.

Written in Greek by EUSEBIUS PAMPHILUS, Bishop of Cæsarea in Palestine.

Translated into English from that edition set forth by VALESIIUS, and printed in Paris in the year 1659.

Translated into the translation by Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, M.A., Past Grand Chaplain. Preface by Bro. Robert Wentworth Little, Grand Treasurer of the Masonic Order of Constantine.

WITH ENGRAVINGS OF

Constantine the Great.

John Rancliffe, of Ireland, Grand Commander of the Orders of Constantine and Phillipi.

John I. the Duke of Sussex, K.G., Grand Sovereign from 1813 to 1843.

John Earl of Bective, M.P., Grand Sovereign 1866 to 1874.

Frederick Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., Grand Viceroy 1866 to 1874, Grand Sovereign 1874 and 1875.

John Francis Burdett, Grand Viceroy 1874 and 1875.

Robert Wentworth Little, Grand Recorder 1865 to 1872, Grand Treasurer 1873, 4 & 5.

Knights of Constantine.

Division of the Cross.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, FLEET STREET.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,
9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street
LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

STONEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales, Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

Masons' Hall Tavern,

MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GODDEN late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.

Public and Private Dining Rooms.
First-class Cooking and Wines.
Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
Bro. F. HILFRIED, Proprietor.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.
COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.

Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yatching, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
(NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS,
DINEJUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-
BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable.

The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the vintages will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste.

The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.

BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
Proprietors

CHARING CROSS STATION
TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.)

A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perforated boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (3d. stamp). N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

Norwich and London
ACCIDENT INSURANCE
ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury,
Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.

LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.

Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.

London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,

232 HIGH HOLBORN,

Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.

Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. AYTON,

Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,

ESTABLISHED 1821,

79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,

AND

139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.

Price List on Application. Distance no object.

Richard Rayner & Co.,
MANUFACTURING
CABINET MAKERS AND UPHOLSTERERS,

142, ALDERSGATE STREET,
LONDON, E.C.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.

Artist and Photographer.

11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.

Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH,
LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for

Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent
Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is SPECIALLY adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

113, REGENT-STREET, W.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

SUBERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for

SUBERIUM. NURSERIES, LIBRARIES,
ENTRANCE HALLS,
SUBERIUM. BATH ROOMS, &c.

Retail through all Furnishing Houses.

SUBERIUM. Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT
May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
Laid by in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nine years, £255,024 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gore, Esq., F.S.S., F.L.A.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY
(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lombury, E.C.
General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
C. HARDING, Manager.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately
from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable
Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND IN-URANCE CO., (Established 1807.)
Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-T.
Agents Wanted.

FOR FISH.

FOR POULTRY.

FOR GAME.

FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.

J. GOW.

1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers,
Country Orders promptly executed.

ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONY

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly exceeds other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d.
per pot.

"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human H. its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s.
bottle.

"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beauti-furnished and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,

And see that you have none other than their ge-Articles.

Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.
Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-
London.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education

careful private tuition, and a refined English
Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delicneighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Ave-and the river Tulla. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s.
Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms.
distinguished references with full prospectus on applica-Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Do-
M.A., Cassel.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF F

MASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism
ligious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo.
10s. 6d.

PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s.
Reeves and Turner, 196, Strand, London.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother George V. at his Office, 195, Fleet-street, and at 4, Little in the City of London. J. B. Mackenzie, Glasgow, County of Lanarkshire, and at 21, St. J.
lane, Glasgow.

RED CROSS OF CONSTANTINE.

MEETING OF MOVEABLE GRAND CON-CLAVE AT LIVERPOOL.

The "good old town" of Liverpool has again lately established its position as a great Masonic entre by the hearty and unanimously spontaneous welcome given to the representatives of the Grand Imperial Council in connection with the second Moveable Grand Conclave and Grand Commandery of the Masonic and Military Orders of the Red Cross of Constantine, K.H.S., and St. John the Evangelist, which was held at the Masonic Hall on Friday, the 13th inst. Not only was the Grand Conclave most numerous and influentially attended, but the spirit of hearty good fellowship which actuated every Sir Knight present made the staid gathering one of the most pleasant and enjoyable which has been held in Liverpool for any day. The steady and vigorous growth of the chivalric order could not possibly have been more clearly demonstrated than by the gathering on this occasion—certainly the largest ever witnessed in the provinces, and not excelled even by many held in the metropolis. So soon as it was clearly ascertained that the Grand Council would honour the "first shipping village in the country" with its presence, arrangements were immediately set on foot for giving the illustrious visitors a fitting welcome, and there is no doubt that the nature of the reception given to the members of the Grand Council on Friday last was not only satisfactory to the Grand Council, but most creditable to the Liverpool Conclave, more especially those charged with carrying out the arrangements. The interior of the large hall, as arranged for the meeting of the Grand Conclave was exceedingly striking, imposing, and picturesque, and much of its admirable arrangement was due to Sir Knight Wood, Treas., 55; Sir Knight G. E. Hayner, Recorder, 97; and Sir Knight J. R. Goepel, P.S., each of whom, in different ways, spared no effort to make the large room worthy of the occasion. The banners of the following conclaves were played to great advantage:—Roman Eagle, 6; London, 44; Leicester, 56; Manchester; Liverpool (Premier), 55; Liverpool; Skelmersdale, Liverpool; Walton, 97; Kirkdale, Liverpool; and the banner of the Grand Conclave. The large handsome Red Cross flags from Bro. Kenning's illustrious Masonic establishments, which have already been used to good decorative purpose in connection with royal visits to Liverpool, were also displayed in the room with the most striking effect, the banners of several Knights Templar added further to the exceeding beauty of the whole interior picture. The three Liverpool Conclaves were most numerous represented, and there were also delegates from conclaves in London, Leicester, Bolton-Glasgow, and Manchester.

The unavoidable absence, through illness, of Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., Grand Sovereign, the position of President of the Council was taken by Most Eminent Colonel Francis Burdett, Grand Viceroy, and amongst the persons present were the following:—

Grand Imperial Council.—II. Sir Knight the Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, Chief Int. Gen. for Lancashire; II. Sir Knight R. Wentworth, G. Treas.; II. Sir Knight J. Boyd, Grand Marshal; II. Sir Knight Captain T. Cubitt, Grand Orator; and II. Sir Knight G. Toller, jun., G. Scribe.

Grand Senate.—II. Sir Knights Henry A. Dubois, Sub-Almoner; Eugene H. Thiellay, G. Vice-Secretary; J. G. Marsh, P.G.S.G. and P.G.A.; Warner, Int. Gen., W.L.; Dr. J. K. Smith, I.G., unattached.

Princes and Past Sovereigns.—II. Sir Knights Matier, D. Int. Gen., South Lancashire; J. Goepel, P.S., 55; H. Nelson, P.S., 77; H. M. Neux, P.S., 55; J. T. Callow, M.P.S., 77; J. McIntosh, P.S. and Treas., 97; Rev. J. Rees Jenkins, 23; Jesse Banning, M.P.S., 97; R. Washington, I.P. and P.S., 55; C. Stretton, M.P.S., 44; T. M.P.S., 55; and G. W. Wheeler, M.P.S., 55.

Princes and P. Viceroys.—E. Sir Knights W. Bell, 77; the Rev. T. W. Richardson, 97; and J. Goepel, 55.

Int. Generals and Prelates.—Sir Knights G. H. Bell, J.G. 55; W. Quayle, S.G., 97; J. J. Rose, 77; G. E. Hayner, Recorder, 97; Rev. C. R. Bell, LL.D., H.P., 97; R. Washington, H.P., 97; J. E. Jackson, S.G., 77; J. E. Jackson, S.G., 77.

Int. Generals.—Sir Knights Joseph Wood, Treas., 55; J. Mitchell, H., 55; S. Hague, 55; W. S. Thomson, 55; Young, 55; J. B. McKenzie, 55; J. Lloyd, 55; McWean, 55; J. W. McWean, 55; J. Bell, 55; J. Carson, 55; J. Skeaf, Rec., 77; W. Quayle, S.B., 77; J. Cooper, H., 77; H. Burrows, S.S., 77; T. B.

Myers, 77; J. Dale, 77; T. Large, 77; J. Dawson, 77; C. Munro, 77; W. S. Matthews, 77; J. White, 77; J. Atkinson, 77; W. Shortis, 77; E. A. Wright, 77; W. P. Jennings, 77; P. Ball, Sentinel, 55, 77, &c.; T. W. Robinson, 55, and 77; N. Turner, 97; W. Fletcher, 77; G. E. Hayner, J.G., 97.

The assembled Knights having been ranged under their respective columns, received the members of the Grand Imperial Council under the Arch of Steel. M.E. Sir Knight Colonel Francis Burdett, Grand Viceroy, occupied the throne as Grand Sovereign, and the other officers who assisted at the opening of the Grand Conclave were V.I. Sir Knight, Lord Skelmersdale, Int. Gen., Lancashire, as Most E. Grand Viceroy; V. I. Sir Knight, R. W. Little, G. Treasurer, as G. Prelate; V. II. Sir Knight J. Boyd, Grand Marshal; V. II. Sir Knight Captain Cubitt, Grand Orator; V. I. Sir J. Toller, jun., Grand Hist.; V. II. Sir Knight H. A. Dubois, G.S.A.; and V.E. Sir Knight E. H. Thiellay, G.V.C. The lines at the reception of the Grand Imperial Council were under the direction of Sir Knight Hayner, Recorder, 97, and the different movements were executed with almost military precision. After the Acting Most Illustrious Sovereign and his grand officers had taken their respective places, the Grand Conclave was opened in Imperial Form, and with solemn prayer to the Omnipotent Ruler of the Universe, offered by V.I. Sir Knight Little, Acting G.H.P.

The report of the Executive Committee, by command of the G.S., was taken as read.

A Sanctuary of K.H.S., and Commandery of St. John were then opened, and the degrees were conferred on no fewer than 28 candidates, which added to those who have already taken the degrees, make about 50 in Liverpool who have joined the sacred religious order. Sir Knight Little acted as the M.E. Commander, and the other offices were filled by members of the order.

V.E. the Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale was appointed a Grand Viceroy in the Grand Imperial Council. His lordship was also appointed Int. General for West Lancashire, II. Sir Knight G. Turner resigning in his favour, and II. Sir Knight Dr. J. K. Smith was appointed Deputy Int. Gen. for the division, and II. Sir Knights G. Turner and Dr. Moore were appointed Past Int. Generals for the same division.

In connection with the sanctuary of K.H.S., and Commandery of St. John the Evangelist, Bro. Knight Lord Skelmersdale was appointed Prov. G.C., and he appointed the following as his officers:—Bro. Knights G. Turner, P.P., G.C.; Dr. J. K. Smith, P.D.G.C.; J. R. Goepel, P.G. Seneschal; R. Washington, P.G.C. of Guard; H. M. Molyneux, P.G. Prior; I. W. Robinson, P.G. Sub-prior; H. Nelson, P.G. Chancellor General; G. E. Hayner, P.G. Registrar General; T. Clark, P.G. Treasurer General; W. Doyle, P.G. Hospitaller General; J. T. Callow, P.G. 1st Lieutenant; J. E. Jackson, P.G. 2nd Lieutenant; J. Banning, P.G. G. of the S.V.; J. L. Lunt, P.G. S.B.; W. Cottrell, P.G. T.B.; J. Lloyd, P.G. Verger; W. Quayle, P.G. Harbinger; and Robert Pearson, P.G. Warder.

The Grand Conclave was closed in imperial form. The music for the imposing ceremonials during the afternoon was furnished in a very effective manner by Sir Knight J. Skeaf, Recorder 77, who presided at the harmonium.

Immediately on the conclusion of the proceedings in Conclave, the representatives of the Grand Imperial Council and Grand Senate were entertained by the Knights of the three Liverpool Conclaves, at a sumptuous banquet at the Adelphi Hotel. There were between fifty and sixty present. M.E. Sir Knight Colonel Burdett, G.V., presided, supported on the right and left by members of the Grand Council and Grand Senate, Int. Generals of Divisions, and other distinguished Sir Knights. Bro. Ludlow, the courteous manager of the hotel, provided a very excellent banquet, and the wines were of the choicest quality. After dessert had been placed on the table,

Colonel Burdett proposed "Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, and the Christian, Masonic and Military Orders." The toast, he said, was one with which they were all perfectly familiar, but as true and loyal subjects he was sure it would be received in that assembly with the same cordiality as in other orders. (Received with the greatest cordiality.)

"The National Anthem"—Sir Knight Washington.

Colonel Burdett: Sir Knights, the next toast is one which I have very much pleasure in giving, and it is one I am certain which will be received with the greatest enthusiasm. Without any comment, as that is unnecessary, I give you "Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the Rest of the Royal Family." Colonel Burdett added: We have all drank that toast with the greatest enthusiasm, but on the present occasion, we must all feel that His Royal Highness is now more to us than he has ever been before. He has now taken that position in the craft which we have all looked forward to, although we had no idea that the honour would have come so quickly. We must all feel highly honoured by his acceptance of this high office, and each of us ought to feel it our duty to support him in the duties he has undertaken. (Cheers).

"God Bless the Prince of Wales"—Sir Knight Quayle.

Colonel Burdett: The next toast which I wish to submit is "The Most Illustrious Grand Sovereign, Sir F. M. Williams, Bart., M.P." This is a toast which I feel confident you will honour with enthusiasm, as it more closely concerns ourselves than any of the others. I am exceedingly sorry our Grand Sovereign has not been able to attend our meeting to-day, but as he has, I personally know, been suffering from several little things, rheumatism, gout, and so on,—(laughter)—you will at once see it was impossible he could have been present. We must all sympathize with him in his suffering. (Hear, hear). He has sent his regrets that he was unable to come to Liverpool, but hopes to have that pleasure at some future time. (Loud cheers). I know the Grand Sovereign has the interests of the order at heart as much as we have, and he has assisted the order not only by his personal influence, but by his active exertions.

Song, "Thy Voice is Near"—Sir Knight the Rev. J. Rees Jenkins.

II. Sir Knight G. Turner, P. Int. Gen., said: I have now the honour and privilege of proposing the next toast, "The Most Eminent Grand Viceroy, Colonel Francis Burdett." (Great cheering). I know that when I mentioned that name it would be received with the greatest enthusiasm. Both as the P.G.M. of a most important province, and as a gentleman, Colonel Burdett has taken a very warm interest in Masonry, and we must all have felt great pride in seeing him preside during the successful meeting of this day. (Hear, hear). I personally feel he has conferred an honour and favour upon us, and we have endeavoured to give him and his companions the hearty welcome which Lancashire Masons are in the habit of giving. I trust you will receive this toast with the cordiality becoming the position of him whom we seek to honour.

Song—Sir Knight Quayle.

Colonel Burdett, who was received with long-continued applause, said: I feel myself inadequate to return you thanks for the kind manner in which my health has been proposed and responded to. I assure you, though this is not the first time I have had to do it, I don't think I have ever been more gratified than by the kind and cordial manner in which the toast has been responded to this evening. I feel I am no longer among strangers, but in the midst of friends, and all I see here, I hope, will permit me to call them friends. (Applause.) I also feel very much gratified indeed this evening to find such a large number here representing the different conclaves. We have had different opportunities of meeting together, but still I think I have never seen such an assembly as this—not only this evening, but at the Grand Conclave we have closed a short time ago. Last year we had the pleasure and gratification of meeting a large number at Leicester, but here we have had even a larger gathering. There is an old saying, "A rolling stone gathers no moss," but I think that has been upset in this instance. We have rolled from London to Leicester, and then from Leicester to Liverpool, and still we are gathering "moss"—increasing in numbers; and I have no doubt that, as we roll further, we shall gather more. ("Hear, hear," and cheers.) I am very glad to see this, and to know that the Order of the Red Cross is progressing throughout the country, being most popular where it is best known. A great compliment has been paid to the Grand Council by such a meeting as this; and although it may put us to some inconvenience in coming down to Liverpool, still we have all felt great pleasure in being here, and thus showing that we wish to do our duty to the members of the order. (Cheers.) There is one thing which we ought to congratulate ourselves upon, and that is the manner in which the drill was gone through this afternoon. The way in which that drill was gone through led me to suppose you must have been under a drill sergeant, but the fact that it was done entirely by the illustrious Knights of the Order does you infinite credit. I feel very much gratified at the reception you have given us, and personally thank you for the manner in which you have received the toast.

Colonel Burdett: I now give you "The Past and Present Members of the Grand Imperial Council." Earl Ferrers, the G.S.G., is one who throws himself heartily into the order, and we all rejoice, I am sure, to see him occupy his present proud position. He also occupies the distinguished post of P.G.M. for Leicestershire, and although still a young man, we are sure to see him yet do a great deal for the order in general. I desire to couple with this toast the name of an officer whom you all know both publicly and privately—whose name is known here and everywhere—I mean Sir Knight Robert Wentworth

Little. (Loud and prolonged cheering.) He has not only come here to-day at much inconvenience to himself for the benefit of the order, but he has been here, there, and everywhere—everywhere when called upon. He has been all over England, Scotland, and Ireland, and even to Jersey and Guernsey, to advance the interests of the order, and I feel confident that, so long as we can boast of such Knights as Sir Knight Little to help us to carry out the order, the "Red Cross" will flourish beyond everything. It is to his exertions that the order is indebted for its present proud position. He brought it forward, and it was by his exertions it arose, backed by others who sympathised with him. We now stand in a very high position, not only in England, but throughout the world, and therefore I give you "Sir Knight Little and the other Past and Present Members of the Grand Imperial Council."

Song—"The Sea is England's Glory"—Sir Knight Marsh, P.G.S.G.

Sir Knight W. Little, who was received with acclamation, said: The toast which has just been proposed by your illustrious chairman is one of which we, as recipients, ought to be justly proud, and I must personally return my best thanks for the very complimentary manner in which my name has been mentioned, and the cordiality with which it has been received. Whatever services my coadjutors or I have rendered I assure you have been rendered very willingly, and whatever we have done has been done with a single eye to the future interests of the order. You may expect me to tell you that the order is in a very satisfactory condition. The only hitch is at our own headquarters in London, although the order is progressing most favourably in England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales—in America, and throughout the colonies. We cannot obtain an efficient clerk in the office in London, and I need hardly tell you in this great commercial centre that, unless there is a proper arrangement in that direction we cannot do satisfactorily. I trust, however, that by the exertions of the Executive Committee, who have resolved to devote their special energies to remedying this shortcoming, we shall soon have a better state of things. There are now 121 conclaves in existence in various parts of the world, with a membership of about 3,000, obtained during the last nine or ten years, and that is a result upon which we may sincerely congratulate ourselves. The principles upon which the order is founded must command the respect, and attention, and sympathy of every intelligent Freemason. I heartily thank you for the very hearty manner in which you have received the toast.

Colonel Burdett next gave "The Illustrious Intendant Generals of the Order," and in doing so, he said they exercised a very large amount of influence, which was used with great discrimination and discretion. The Int. Gen. for West Lancashire (Captain Turner), had exerted himself to the utmost to secure the success of their order, and he believed that Lord Skelmersdale, who had that day been appointed to the position formerly held by Captain Turner, would use his influence in the same direction. They must all feel personally indebted to Captain Turner for having brought the order to its present position in Liverpool, and he had no hesitation in saying that it occupied a higher position in Liverpool than in almost any other town in the kingdom.

He hoped the example set by Sir Knight Capt. Turner, would be followed and [extended throughout the country.

Song—"The men of merry England"—Sir Knight Washington.

II. Sir Knight G. Turner thanked the assembly very much for the manner in which the toast had been received, which was ample recompense for any slight service he had rendered. To show that he had not only preached but practised, he had that day consented to give way to Lord Skelmersdale, whom he considered in every way worthy to fill the office of Int. Gen. He trusted they would all support his lordship, and do their best to continue the success which had attended the establishment of the order in that division.

Gen. Sir Knight Dr. J. K. Smith, Dep. Int. Gen. also responded, and gave an explanation of the change of leadership which had taken place that day, adding, that he hoped Lord Skelmersdale would long continue to fill the post of Int. General. He would always have great pleasure in acting as his lordship's deputy, as he felt it was a good arrangement to have Lord Skelmersdale at the head of the order in that division, and would be for its ultimate good.

Em. Sir Knight Matier also briefly responded. Recitation, "Bingham on the Rhine"—Sir Knight Shakespeare.

Colonel Burdett next gave "The Sovereigns of the Different Conclaves," responded to by Em. Sir Knight Stretton, M.P.S., 44; Em. Sir Knight Clark, M.P.S., 55; Em. Sir Knight Nelson, P.S., 77; Em. Sir Knight J. Banning, M.P.S., 97; Em. Sir Knight Wheeler, M.P.S., 114; Em. Sir Knight Little; Em. Sir Knight Marsh; and Em. Sir Knight Green, St. George's Conclave, Bolton.

The Colonel then proposed "The V.E.G. Preceptor and the rest of the Grand Senate," which was acknowledged by II. Sir Knights Dubois, Thiellay, and the Rev. J. R. Jenkins.

II. Sir Knight Turner, proposed "The Health of those who had assisted in the proper reception of the Grand Conclave," and in doing so alluded to the fact that about 50 members had joined the Order of the K.H.S. within about a fortnight. He also referred to the admirable services rendered by Sir Knight Hayner, Recorder of No. 97 Conclave, in the drill which had been so much admired that afternoon, and the valuable services of Em. Sir Knight Goepel, P.S., 55, in the way of decorations.

Em. Sir Knight Goepel, in a humorous speech, thanked the assemblage for the favourable mention given to his name, stating he wished to show the nature of the reception to the Grand Council, by even "simple country rustics."

Sir Knight Hayner, Recorder, 97; and Sir Knight I. W. Robinson, 55, also responded.

II. Sir Knight Dr. Smith proposed, "The Musical Brethren," which was acknowledged by Sir Knight Skeaf, Recorder, 77, who had presided at the pianoforte during the evening.

II. Sir Knight Turner gave, "Prosperity to the Liverpool Conclaves," which was acknowledged by Em. Sir Knight H. M. Molyneux, P.S., 55, and Sir Knight J. B. McKenzie, 55.

The pleasant evening's proceedings shortly afterwards terminated.

PROV. GRAND LODGE OF MIDDLESEX, AND CONSECRATION OF THE FRANCIS BURDETT LODGE, No. 1503.

(Continued from page 736).

Bro. the Rev. R. J. Simpson, M.A., P.G. Chaplain, continuing his oration, said: I would advise you to be a charity amongst yourselves, and I pray that God will give you His good spirit, thus enabling you to carry out the duties of the lodge with greater fervency. I trust that kindness and urbanity will diffuse themselves to those brethren who are assembled together to-day. We have a good warrant for the well-being of this lodge. I have known the First Master for many years. He is one that will give a grand start to this lodge. I think it will be one of the best in the Province, and one that we shall be able to look back upon with real and true pleasure, and by-and-by, when our lodge shall change and faces pass away, I trust we shall all meet in the Grand Lodge above.

Anthem.—(133rd Psalm.)

"Behold, how good and joyful a thing it is: brethren to dwell in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down unto the beard, even unto Aaron's beard, and went down to the skirts of his clothing. Like as the dew of Hermon, which fell upon the Hill of Zion. For there the Lord promised his blessing and life for evermore."

The consecration prayer (first part), was then given by Bro. Rev. R. J. Simpson, the brethren all chanting "So mote it be." Sanctus,

"Glory be to thee, O Lord."

After the Scripture readings, all the brethren turned to the east, whilst the Presiding Officer pronounced the invocation, to which the brethren chanted "So mote it be."

The lodge board was then uncovered, and the Presiding Officer and his two Wardens carried the consecrating elements, corn, wine, and oil, three times round the lodge during solemn music.

Anthem.

"Glory be to God on High, peace on earth, goodwill towards men."

The Chaplain then carried the censers three times round the lodge, during solemn music, then halted in the east, and delivered the consecration prayer (second part), the brethren chanting "So mote it be."

Anthem.

"Glory be to God on High,
Let Heaven and earth reply,
Praise ye his name;
Masons his love adore,
Tiled in their mystic lore,
And cry out evermore,
Glory to God."

The Presiding Officer then constituted the lodge in ancient form, the brethren chanting "So mote it be."

National Anthem.

God save our gracious Queen,
Long live our noble Queen!
God save the Queen!
Lord heal her bleeding heart,
Assuage its grievous smart,
Thy heavenly peace impart,
God save the Queen!

Our Royal Widow bless;
God save the fatherless,
God save the Queen!
Shield them with loving care,
Their mighty grief we share,
Lord hear our fervent prayer,
God save the Queen!

O Lord, our God, arise,
Bless England's enemies,
On Thee we call.
Let sorrow whisper peace,
Bid wrong and anger cease,
Let love and truth increase,
Make evil fall.

In this our nation's need,
With Thee we humbly plead,
God bless our Queen!
Her life woe sanctify,
Her loss untold supply,
Thyself be ever nigh,
God save our Queen!

The ceremony of consecration was carried out without a single hitch, and the consecrating prayers gave additional weight to the interesting proceedings.

V.W. Bro. John Hervey, Grand Sen. then presented Bro. Col. Wm. Wigginton to the presiding officer for installation, saying that the new W.M. was an old member of the craft, and had filled the chair of many lodges, and felt sure he (Bro. Wigginton) would exhibit his usual excellent qualities in presiding over the new lodge. Lodge was then resumed to the third degree, and all the brethren below the rank of V.M. retired. In their absence a Board of Installed Masters of upwards of 60 in number was held, and Bro. Wigginton was installed as the first W.M. of the Francis Burdett Lodge, 1503. The brethren on their re-admission all saluted the newly chaired W.M. in the several degrees, and the following brethren were invested officers for the ensuing year: W. H. Saunders, S.W.; J. Tomlinson, J.W. The Secretary, Treasurer, J.G., &c., not being present, their election was postponed. W. Cox, S.D., I. Deeks, J.L. Rev. R. J. Simpson, Chaplain of Harmony, 1503. Votes of thanks were proposed and presented to the Consecrating officer, and to those who so ably assisted him, namely, Bro. the Rev. R. J. Simpson, Bro. John Hervey, and Bro. H. G. Buss, and four were unanimously elected honorary members of the lodge. After these compliments had been duly acknowledged, Bro. Little proposed the cordial vote of thanks should be presented to members and visitors present, and that a vote of thanks should be forwarded to the Vicar for his kindness in giving them the use of the Church. A some further remarks he would also propose the vote of thanks should be given to Bro. the Rev. R. J. Simpson for his very excellent address. (Bro. Little) never heard such a discourse more to the interests of Freemasonry than on that (Cheers).

Bro. the Rev. R. J. Simpson in responding, said: It gives me pleasure to return you my thank the kind appreciation you have shown my hour services this day. And I am sure the Vicar will be highly pleased with the vote of thanks. I thank you for him. And I feel grateful if I have any way added to the glory of the great Arch of the Universe. (Cheers).

Lodge was then closed in proper form.

The brethren then went by train to Richmond and repaired to the Greyhound Hotel, where a grand banquet was served in the large hall. Colonel Francis Burdett presided, supported by Bros. Col. Wigginton, Rev. S. Simpson, Chaplain, Little, Hervey, Buss, and others.

After the removal of the cloth Bro. Col. Burdett proposed the health of the "Queen and the King" to which the brethren lustily responded.

The National Anthem was then ably sung by Bro. Colonel Francis Burdett next presented "H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, M.W. Past Master, the Princess of Wales, and rest of the Royal Family." We have, he said, in H.R.H. who has shown himself energetic in the cause of Masonry, and will, I am sure, still show forth in the future. (Hear, hear).

The toast was enthusiastically drunk, a National Song, "God bless the Prince of Wales" was sung by the brethren.

In giving "The Deputy Grand Master, I of Carnarvon, and rest of the Grand Officers, Past and Present, Bro. Colonel Francis Burdett, said: We have amongst our Grand Officers those who are ever anxious to do their best to promote Masonry, and always ready to assist the smallest province, if it is a young province, or young lodge, we find them always willing to come forward. In the Earl of Carnarvon we have one who has added materially to the credit of the order, and has held his position in such a manner that very few men could have done. (Cheers.) I therefore ask you to drink heartily the health of the Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Carnarvon, and rest of the Grand Officers, Past and Present, and beg to couple with that toast the name of Bro. the Rev. R. J. Simpson. The toast was highly honoured.

Song, "Polly"—Bro. Theodore Distin.

Bro. the Rev. R. J. Simpson, in responding, said: It affords me a deal of pleasure to return thanks on behalf of the Earl of Carnarvon and the rest of the officers. In so doing I would say the Earl of Carnarvon has won a good name amongst Masons. He is in every sense a man of high worth, and has proved himself as such both in his public as well as his private life. Allow me to thank you for the Grand Officers, both past and present. I think I may verge a little from the toast, and say that we all feel a great pleasure in knowing that our P.G. Master is connected with one who has shown great interest in the craft, one who I have often wished had been a man. Masonry is operative as well as theoretical, and, in regard to promote the happiness of mankind, no one has done more than he Baroness Burdett Coutts. (Cheers.) She has done much good in converting the dens of wild beasts into the habitations of Christians. We are all pleased with her noble principles of charity; and in the person of our Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master we recognise one who is closely connected with her. After some further remarks eulogising the Masonic career of Bro. Colonel Burdett, he thanked the brethren, and sat down amidst his cheers of all.

Bro. Colonel Wigginton rose and said: I am about to propose a toast you will all receive with pleasure. Although we are away from the place of meeting of Grand Lodge, it makes no difference. It is only within the last few hours that I have become a subject to the Provincial Grand Master of Middlesex. Up to that time I was a subject of Grand Lodge only, now I have another Master, and he I am proud of. As W.M. of the Francis Burdett Lodge, I hope he (Sir Francis Burdett) will do one who will support him in his province, and act for the good of Masonry in general. (Cheers.) I had our Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master been away I would speak more freely. We will this the Francis Burdett Lodge out of the feelings of our heart, and because we have an unfeigned regard for the Provincial Grand Master, after whom the lodge is named. We have hitherto coupled in our toasts the Queen and the Craft, because we want to do honour to her and to show that we are a loyal body. We have also, since H. R. H. the Prince of Wales has consented to take the Grand Mastership of England, coupled the Princess of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family, and I hope it will be always so; and, with these precedents, I beg to couple with the Provincial Grand Master another name, and I am sure every brother present will receive that name with pleasure. If there is one who has a greater claim to the regard of Freemasons more than another it is that of the Baroness Burdett Coutts. She has not only done a large amount of good for the poor, but has identified herself with Masonry. Within the next month our P.G.M. will present a set of chairs presented to her to a lodge in the Burdett Road. I therefore ask you to drink heartily "The Health of our Provincial Grand Master," and beg to couple with that toast the name of Baroness Burdett Coutts. The toast was drunk with the highest honours.

Song, "Esmeralda"—Mrs. R. Limpus.

Bro. Colonel Francis Burdett rose amid loud cheering, and said: Brethren,—I assure you that never found so much difficulty to respond to a toast as I do this evening. Bro. Wigginton has said more of me than I deserve—(No, no)—and it gives me great pleasure to hear the name of Baroness Burdett Coutts proposed. She has exerted herself in every way, and very few persons could do as she has done. Although she has a large fortune, she has also a large purse. She has taken a proper view of things, and thinks it is better to bestow her charity during her life time. She has done much for the animal world, and has taken up the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and has also exerted herself to alleviate the sufferings of the poor. She has also done a great deal for Freemasonry, and is always ready to do her best. She has seen the benefit of it, not by the brethren alone, but by what is around us in the shape of institutions. An instance occurred the other day when I met with a gentleman who had a son lately initiated into Freemasonry, and thinking, perhaps, it was of no benefit, he asked me to explain the advantages. I explained to him as well as I could about our different institutions. He said no more at the time, but two or three days after I received a cheque from him giving £67 to the different Masonic charities, and this, my brethren, from one who was not a Mason. (Cheers.) I again thank you for the very kind manner in which you have proposed and drank my health. (Renewed cheers.)

Bro. Colonel Burdett rose to propose the next toast, and said:—I have now a toast to propose which is of great importance, it being that of "The Deputy Provincial Grand Master and rest of the Provincial Grand Officers, past and present." In the province we are always happy to see the Grand Officers. Grand Lodge has been worthily attended to this day. Whenever it is called, the brethren attend excellently indeed. In proposing the health of those already mentioned, I would couple with that the name of Bro. Buss.

The toast was drunk lustily amidst loud cheering.

Bro. Buss, in responding, thanked the brethren for the very high compliment they had just paid to the Deputy P.G.M. and rest of the Officers, both past and present, and assured them that it gave him great pleasure to be present that day, and he hoped that he should be spared to carry out his work. (Cheers.)

Trio, "The Magic Wove Scarf"—Mrs. R. Limpus, Bros. Limpus and Distin.

Bro. Col. Burdett—The toast I shall now propose will, I am sure, be received with pleasure. We have seen a new lodge consecrated this day, and I feel confident it will be a progressive one; one that will hold a very high position in the Province of Middlesex. The new Master is thoroughly endowed with the principles of Masonry, and I must say he is a very successful man. We have some excellent lodges in the province, and this lodge seems to be a rival, because the Master is a good one, and well up in his duties. I am much pleased with what I have seen to-day. Everything has been carried out in a manner that will not soon be forgotten. I therefore propose "The Health of the W.M. and Prosperity to the Lodge." (Cheers.)

The toast was enthusiastically responded to. Irish Buffo Song, "The Whistling Thief"—Bro. R. Limpus.

Bro. Col. Wigginton, W.M., in responding, said:—Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master and brethren, it is true we are now the last of the new lodges, but I am very far from hoping and wishing that we shall continue to be the last; and if there is one thing I wish for, it is that the Francis Burdett Lodge shall be one of the best. We have many competitors, and nothing shall be wanting on my part to make it one of the best in the Province; and if my Officers will work heart and soul with me, I will run the race that is open, and endeavour to win the prize. I am sure that if my Officers will bear me up in the work, the 5th of November will be a day long to be remembered. I sincerely thank you all for the very high compliment you have paid me. (Cheers.)

"The Officers of the Lodge" being proposed, Bro. Saunders, S.W., rose and said: Most Worshipful Grand Master and Brethren,—The W.M. has said so much already in praise of the lodge that I shall only say that I trust this, the Francis Burdett, will be one of the best in the province. We as officers will do our best in assisting the W.M. to make it such.

Bro. Tomlinson, J.W., next rose and assured the brethren that no energy on his part should be wanted to promulgate the interests of the lodge, and hoped that, as the lodge was consecrated on the 5th of November, they would never blow up. (Laughter.) He thanked them all for the toast, and hoped that success would attend their labour as officers of the lodge. (Hear, hear.)

Bro. Jenkins, one of the founders of the lodge, rose and hoped it would be one of the best in the province, and wished them every success.

Bro. Colonel Burdett rose and said: It is with great pleasure I propose the next toast. We are deeply indebted to those officers who so ably consecrated this lodge. The work was worthily carried out. I therefore propose the healths of those officers who have performed their several duties so admirably. Bro. Little, whom I appoint this day so admirably. Bro. Little, whom I appoint, has performed his duty in such a manner that very few men could do. I trust, brethren, you will all cordially respond. I therefore give you "The Consecrating Officers," Brothers Little, Hervey, &c.

Bro. Little, on rising, said: It gives me pleasure to return thanks on behalf of myself and Bro. White. I can only apologise for my own shortcomings this day. I felt so ill that I was afraid I should be prevented from coming amongst you this day. I am glad you have been satisfied with the work of to-day. Bro. Buss has been associated with us for more than ten years, and has rendered me great assistance. I congratulate you, Worshipful Sir, on the prospects of this lodge, and am gratified with the proceedings this day. I wish you every success, and again thank you all for the kind way in which you have responded to our health. (Cheers.)

The Tylers' toast brought the proceedings to a close.

The banquet, provided by Bro. T. Palmer was of the best quality, and gave great satisfaction to all. And the musical arrangements, under the direction of Bro. Limpus, added greatly to the whole proceedings. The rendering of the song, "Esmeralda," was given with telling effect by Mrs. R. Limpus, whilst the singing of the other songs shed as it were a lustre round the brethren, who highly eulogised her for the beautiful manner in which they were rendered.

The whole of the proceedings passed off with the greatest eclat, and every one present was highly delighted.

Ireland.

MASONIC ORPHAN BOYS' SCHOOL.

The half yearly general meeting of the Board of Governors of the Masonic Orphan Boys' School, was held at Freemasons' Hall, Molesworth street, on Thursday, the 12th of November, J. Creed Meredith, LL.D., Vice President, in the chair.

The minutes of the previous half yearly meeting having been read, were confirmed and signed.

The following report from the committee was read:—

"The Committee of the Masonic Orphan Boys' School, in laying before the board a short statement of the progress of the institution during the past year, are happy in being able to state that the receipts from all sources, since the 1st of January, are somewhat in excess of the amount received during the same period last year; but, although such is the case, they regret to say, that so far as life and annual governors' payments are concerned, the amount received in 1873 exceeded that of 1874, by about £150. The committee think it will mention this, in hopes that during the remaining portion of the year an effort will be made to make up this deficiency, and enable the committee to invest, before the close of the year, at least as much as they were able to do during 1873. The number of pupils now under the care of the school, including the two elected this day, is 23; and the reports received as regards their health, general conduct, and attention to their duties has been most satisfactory. One of the boys elected in May last, the committee regret to say, left the school without leave and returned to his relatives. In consequence of strong representations laid before the committee, they were induced to permit his return to the school, on the distinct understanding that if again guilty of such insubordination he should be at once removed. The committee regret to say that this leniency on their part has not had the desired effect; and the boy having again left school, the committee have declined to permit his return, and must reluctantly request the board of governors to confirm this act by directing Isaac Strahan's name to be removed from the list of pupils of the school. The new Grand Lodge rules not being yet issued, the committee have postponed the consideration of the alterations advisable to be made in the rules of the school; but the Grand Lodge have resolved to make a grant of £100 per annum to the school, on condition that the grand officers for the time being, and the W.M. of each of the Dublin lodges, shall be governors of the school so long as such payment is continued. The committee recommend the following addition to rule 2:—In consideration of the payment of £100 per annum by the Grand Lodge to the funds of the institution, each of the Grand Officers and the W.M. for the time being of each of the Dublin Lodges, shall be a governor of the school. They would also suggest as an addition to Rule No. 11:—'They shall have the power of suspending the admission of a pupil, or rusticiating one already in the school, pending the decision of the board at its next half yearly meeting, should any circumstances come to the knowledge of the council that in their opinion would justify such a step.' The committee being anxious to have the opinion of experienced parties, as to the soundness of the education the boys were receiving, arranged that previously to the breaking up of the school for the summer vacation, an examination should be held in the several subjects in which they were being taught. The following brethren kindly consented to conduct this examination:—Rev. T. Gray, F.T.C.D.; Rev. Samuel Houghton, F.T.C.D.; Hugh Holmes, Esq., barrister; George Vaughan Hart, barrister; Rev. Benjamin Gibson; Rev. James Kay Latham, A.M. And the committee desire to take this opportunity of expressing how deeply grateful they are to these brethren for the readiness with which they met the wishes of the committee, and the satisfactory way in which the examinations were carried out. The examinations were not confined to the Masonic boys, as it was deemed advisable that they should not be examined apart from the other members of the respective classes in which they were placed. This mode enabled the examiners to institute a comparison between the Masonic boys and the other pupils of the school; and the examiners reported that they found the Masonic boys fully equal in training, mental capacity, and deportment, to the other pupils of the school, and as being, in most cases, not only well prepared, but well grounded in their studies. One of the pupils—James Brett—distinguished himself by very superior answering, and has been highly recommended by all the examiners. This boy entered for the examinations held in the Royal College of Science, under the Science and Art Department of the Council on Education, and obtained certificates in nine out of the eleven subjects he entered for, viz:—Magnetism and electricity, mathematics, applied mechanics, geometry, inorganic chemistry, acoustics, geology, elementary botany, and general biology."

The several recommendations contained in the report were separately put and adopted.

The following report from the scrutineers of the ballot was read:—

We, the undersigned scrutineers of the ballot for the election of two pupils into the Masonic Orphan Boys' School, have to report that with the aid of the assistant secretary, we have examined the several voting papers sent in. We find that the total number of papers received was 661, of which 149 were from life governors, 327 from annual governors, and 185 from official governors; of these 21 were governors whose subscriptions were unpaid, six were not properly signed, three were received late, and two in duplicate.

The total number of votes recorded was 1,543, viz:—Wills Ballantine, 36; Thomas H. Blundell, 36; Edward L. Coleman, 330; George H. Gill, 58; William H. Knight, 163; James Montgomery, 543; William F. O'Neill, 148; William G. Orr, 159; Alexander L. Richardson, 15; William Sitt, 55.

Dated this 10th November, 1874.

Samuel Dobbin,
Charles Foot,
John V. Legge,
Samuel B. Oldham, Assist. Secretary.

Scrutineers.

The Chairman then declared James Montgomery, aged ten, son of James Montgomery, Captain of ship Abcona, of Lodge No. 106, Belfast, and Edward L. Coleman, aged eleven, son of William St. John Coleman, M.D., of Lodge No. 60, Ennis, duly elected as pupils of the school.

The several honorary officers and committees of the school were then unanimously re-elected for 1875. The pupils of the school were in attendance, and manifested by their healthy and intelligent appearance, the good care bestowed upon them by those under whose care they have been placed.

The Dublin Evening Mail.

Freemasonry in Bermuda.

LOYALTY LODGE, 358, IRELAND ISLAND.

An emergent meeting of the above lodge was held on Wednesday evening, October 7th, for the purpose of conferring the third degree on Bros. Sheddick and Beer, and occasion was taken to receive and entertain the W.M. and some of the officers and members of our sister lodge in these islands, viz., Hannibal, 224, G.R.I. The following officers were present:—Bros. W. E. Warder, W.M.; J. C. Tucker, I.P.M.; Chas. Thiele, P.M.; J. Bray, S.W.; W. T. Llewellyn, J.W.; W. Balls, S.D.; J. Sobey, J.D.; W. Downing, I.G.; J. McKirdy, Tyler, p. t.; and Bros. Cann, G. H. Curtis, T. Curtis, Fiddy, Blackwell, Clapp, Cook, Vine, Gole, W. B. Smyth, Field, Caragher, Taylor, Hopper, Marsh, Hobday, Lawler, Milton, Howard, Sheddick and Beer, as members. Visiting brethren from Hannibal were Bros. W. H. H. Wilkinson, W.M.; J. Watkins, P.M.; Frit, P.M.; Jepson, S.W.; Donnelly, Sec; Trott, Stowe, Andrews, Beer, Lane, Richards, Irvin, O'Brien and Burnand. Also Bro. Rev. R. Croker, of Burlington Lodge, 96; and Bro. B. Darrel of 233, as guests.

The lodge was opened in due form on 1st degree, with prayer, and the W.M. informed the brethren of the object of their being assembled that evening, at the same time commenting in eulogistic terms on the manner in which he and some of the officers and members were received on occasion of their visit to Hannibal a few weeks before, when they were so hospitably received and entertained, expressing great gratification at seeing so many brethren from Lodge 224, and sincerely trusting their visit to us would be one of pleasure.

The lodge was duly passed to the 2d degree, and Bros. Sheddick and Beer, having passed a searching examination in their former degrees in a creditable manner, were directed to retire for preparation. The lodge was then raised to the 3rd degree, and the two brethren were in a most solemn and impressive manner raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason, Bro. Beer returning thanks for himself and Bro. Sheddick. Nothing further offering, the M.M. Lodge was closed and F.C. resumed; but nothing offering, the F.C. was closed, and E.A.P. lodge resumed. A candidate was proposed for initiation, and nothing further coming before the lodge, it was closed in peace and harmony, and the brethren sat down to an excellent collation prepared by the stewards, the catering reflecting great credit on those bretheren, as also for the neat and tasteful decorations of the lodge-room for the occasion.

A blessing having been asked by Bro. Rev. R. Croker, the brethren did ample justice to the good things provided. The cloth being removed, the following loyal and Masonic toasts were proposed and duly honoured:—"The Queen and the Craft" was first proposed by the W.M., accompanied by a few loyal and appropriate remarks, and drank with great enthusiasm, the assembly singing "God Save the Queen." "The Grand Master and P.G.Ms." was next proposed by the W.M., and in doing so he expressed a hope to see H. R. H. the Prince of Wales P.G.M. as well as Grand Master of our ancient order, trusting his reign over the craft would be as prosperous as that of his predecessors. The toast was received heartily, and Masonically honoured, the brethren singing "God Bless the Prince of Wales."

Bro. P.M. Watkins, in a few pithy remarks, alluded to the resignation of Lord Ripon as G.M., news of which fact had reached here, and alike astonished all.

Bro. Rev. R. Croker, having been unwell for some time past, here requested the W.M. to be allowed to retire, but before doing so assured the brethren how delighted he was to be present this evening with so many brethren, especially that he was enabled to assist in welcoming those from Hannibal, 224, and, wishing them all the enjoyment possible, he begged to retire.

"The Grand Lodges of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Canada," was next proposed by the W.M., greeted with Masonic honours, and responded to on behalf of Ireland and Canada by Bro. Wilkinson.

The toasts of the evening followed—viz., "The W.M. of 224, and Officers and Members of 224." In proposing the W.M. of 224, the W.M., Bro. Warder, said he could scarcely find words to express the pleasure he felt at being able to propose it, and at seeing Bro. Wilkinson among us that evening. The brethren who accompanied him on a visit to Hannibal would long remember the fraternal manner in which they were received and entertained. Such interchanges of visits between lodges were productive of much benefit in many ways, and he wished heartily that his visit would be one of unbounded pleasure. The toast was enthusiastically received, and greeted with Masonic honours.

Bro. Wilkinson, in reply, said he was at a loss to give due expression to what he felt, but assured the brethren that the evening would long be remembered by himself and his brethren of 224 as one of the most pleasant. He could not close his remarks without paying a highly deserved compliment to the W.M. of Loyalty, congratulating him on the efficient working of the lodge.

The toast, "Officers and Members of 224," was next drunk, Masonically honoured, and ably responded to by Brother Jepson, S.W., thanking the lodge for the reception given them. He stated that he had long wished to pay a visit to 358, having heard such excellent accounts of the manner of working in the lodge. He begged to say that the description did not approach the reality at all. He was indeed agreeably surprised, and concluded his remarks by thanking the lodge for their reception of the Officers and members of 224, it being far beyond their expectations.

The toast, "Raised Brethren," was proposed by Bro. P. M. Thiele, duly honoured and ably responded to by Bro. Beer.

Bro. J.P.M. I. C. Tucker proposed the next toast, "Our Guests," and took occasion to remark with what pleasure he was enabled to do so, it being the health of our Rev. Bro. R. Croker, and Bro. B. Darrel. The lodge was highly delighted to have our Rev. Bro. among them this evening, and though he had for some time been much indisposed, the brethren would heartily join with him in drinking to his thorough restoration, trusting at the same time he would spend many more pleasant evenings with us. Bro. Croker had just handed £3 towards the Building Fund with his earnest wishes for the welfare of Loyalty. With respect to our worthy Bro. Darrel, the brethren could not be too enthusiastic in drinking to the health of one of the oldest members of 358. With the exception of Bro. Thiele, he was the oldest. Bro. Darrel had always been very zealous in rendering assistance to Loyalty, especially in connection with R.V. Chapter attached. The toast then drunk with Masonic honours, and responded to by Bro. Darrel.

"Loyalty Lodge" was then given by Bro. Wilkinson, W.M. of 224. He requested the members of his lodge to fill to the full and drink to continued prosperity of Loyalty Lodge; which was done right heartily, accompanied with Mas fire, and responded to on behalf of 358 by the H. Bro. Warder, alluding to the fraternal feeling existing between the lodges, trusting that opportunities may offer to meet as they had done this evening, thereby strengthening the tie which binds us as brethren. Bro. Warder concluded by thanking 224, in the name of the Loyalty, for substantial assistance rendered to the father and widow on a recent occasion.

Bro. S. W. Bray proposed "Health, Prosperity to Our Sister Lodges in Bermuda" which being duly honoured, was responded to on behalf of 233 by Bro. Darrel, and for 224 by Bro. Wilkinson.

Bro. O. M. Jas. Watkins, in a very humorous style, proposed "The Ladies," the brethren singing the glee, "Here's Health."

"Distressed Brethren, a Speedy Relief to Them" was given by J. W. Llewellyn.

The list of toasts having been completed, the brethren gave themselves to harmony. Bros. Tucker, Bray, Cann, and Pike having prepared a few glees for the occasion, opened with the glee, "Glorious Apollo," followed by "Fair Flora decks the Flowery Ground," the trio, "The Monks of Old and "Ye Gentlemen of England." Between glees several musical brethren rendered some capital songs, among whom were Bros. Fiddy, Balls, Beer, McKirdy, and Richards, of 224. Bro. Clapp highly amused the assembly with "A W. Countryman's Trip to the Seaside," in the "Zummerset" dialect, and Bro. Cook recited in g style the scene from Henry VIII., "The Fall Wolsey." The singing and recitations were well received. Bro. P.M. Tucker presided at the organ.

Apropos of the donations to the Building Fund of our Rev. Bro. Croker, it may not be out of place to state the intentions of the lodge with respect to the present building. Doubtless it will be interesting to many brethren who belong to Loyalty, or are acquainted with it, who are so tired over the globe, and to whom it would be a pleasure to hear of its prosperity. Those who have attended the full meetings of the lodge, especially in the summer months, it will be no difficult task to convince of the fact that the lodge room is inadequate to the requirements of this constantly increasing lodge. The members have therefore decided, that, to enable them the better to accommodate themselves and their esteemed brethren who honour them with their attendance, they will construct the present Hall. So as to accomplish the object in view Bro. H. Stollard kindly drew up a plan which has been approved by the lodge, the estimated amount will be about £2,000. Of this sum the officers and members, with the assistance of a few friends, have realized about £300 towards the amount required. The M.W. Master and Grand Lodge has been petitioned the hope of receiving some aid towards an undertaking which has become a matter of necessity. Should this induce any brother interested in the lodge to render assistance, Bro. J. C. Tucker would gladly receive any donation towards so desirable an object.

The Tyler's toast brought to a close one of the most pleasant evenings in the history of Loyalty and the brethren highly delighted repaired to their respective homes.

Reviews.

THE SHIPWRECKED MARINER. A Quarterly & time Magazine. London: Geo. Morrish, Warwick Lane, Paternoster Row, E.C.

We have perused this excellent contribution with pleasure. It contains an excellent article on "The Royal Navy, Ancient and Modern" abridged from an unfinished History of the Royal Navy by Sir N. H. Nicholas, and other sources. It gives some vivid impressions of deeds and bearing of some of England's maritime heroes; on the whole it is full of information. Next comes a sketch of the Hebrides, in which the characteristics of that wild but interesting place are beautifully depicted. It also contains "The Doctor Afloat," "Floating Telegraph Station," "A Stowaway," "The 'Grace' Sunderland," and many other interesting sketches. It is well printed, and nicely illustrated, and those that go down to the sea in ships, the business in the great waters, this valuable publication will be found highly interesting and we are sure it will be highly appreciated by all readers.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES, the M.W. Grand Master of England; SIR MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 299.]

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE 2d.]

GRAND LODGE.
OF Mark Master Masons.
OF ENGLAND AND WALES.
AND THE
Islands and Dependencies of the British Crown.
RIGHT HON. THE EARL PERCY, M.P., M.W.G.M.
RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF LIMERICK,
R.W.D.G.M.

WINTER HALF-YEARLY COM-
MUNION will be held at Freemasons'
Great Queen-street, Lincoln's Inn-square, on Tuesday, the 1st December, 1874, at 5 o'clock, when all Grand Officers (past and present), W. Masters, Past Masters, Wardens, and members of private lodges are hereby summoned to attend, and at which, by permission, early registered Mark Master Masons may be present.

Ceremony of advancement will be worked at 7 o'clock, to meet at Half-past 8 o'clock, p.m.

GRAND LODGE will be opened at Five o'clock. The Banquet will be provided at 5 o'clock; Tickets, Nine Shillings and Sixpence (exclusive of Wine and Dessert).

Members intending to be present are requested to send their names to the Grand Stewards, care of the Secretary, as under.

By command,
FREDERICK BINCKES, (P.G.J.W.)
Grand Secretary.

Red Lion-square,
St. John's, London, W.C.
November, 1874.

Alexandra Palace

WILL BE OPENED ON 1st MAY, 1875.

Arrangements for Fete Days, for the Palace and Park, can now be made for the ensuing season.

Communication from all parts of the Kingdom to the Palace.

Particulars will be given on application to the Secretary, Alexandra Palace, Muswellgrove.

ENGLISH CLUB,

397, REGENT-STREET, W.
Under New Management and Proprietorship
since January 1, 1874.

Notice of this Club, finding they have further accommodated on ADMITTING ONE HUNDRED MEM-BERS, WITHOUT AN ENTRANCE FEE. The Club is admirably situated at the West-end, and the arrangements every respect. The Club being proprietary, members are beyond their subscription. The Committee have the honor of the Club, and the election of the members by

COMMITTEE.
Chairman—JOHN A. MAGEE, Esq.
Campbell, Bart. Lieut.-Col. Peter,
Esq. Charles Semple, Esq.
Inson Hall. E. G. Stone, Esq.
Crawshaw, Esq. E. E. Witt, Esq.

Annual Subscription:
Members £5 5 0
Non-members 3 3 0
for membership to be made to J. Palmer, Esq.

THE Scottish Corporation.

President.

H.R.H. the PRINCE of WALES (Duke of Rothesay) K.G., &c.

Vice Presidents.

His Grace the Duke of Roxburghe, K.T.

His Grace the Duke of Buccleugh, K.G.

His Grace the Duke of Richmond and Lennox, K.G.

His Grace the Duke of Montrose, K.T.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Lauderdale, K.C.B.

The Right Hon. the Earl of Roseberry.

The TWO HUNDRED and TENTH Anniversary Festival

of this Corporation will take place at
THE FREEMASONS' TAVERN
on St. Andrew's Day, Monday, Nov. 30, when the

Most Hon. the Marquis of Hurwiler, Premier Marquis of Scotland, will occupy the Chair.

N.B.—For the List of Stewards see the "Times" of Nov. 20.

Subscriptions and Donations from noblemen and gentlemen who may not find it convenient to attend the Festival will be gratefully acknowledged and announced on St. Andrew's Day.
Applications for tickets, One Guinea each, ought to be made without delay to the managing Stewards, at the Hall.

MACRAE MOIR.

The Scottish Corporation Hall, E.C.,
Nov. 18, 1874.

Most Excellent Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of England, &c.

Constituted 4th August, 1871.

Bro. Rev. G. Raymond Portal, 18°, G.M.
Ill. Bro. Capt. N. G. Phillips, 33°, D.G.M.
Ill. Bro. J. M. P. Montagu, 33°, G.P.C.W.

New Lodge Room, 2, Red Lion Square.

A GENERAL ASSEMBLY
will be held as above,

On Monday, the 30th of November, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon,

To elect a Grand Master.
To receive such duly-qualified candidates as may offer themselves.

To appoint and invest the Grand Officers.

General business.

FREDERICK BINCKES, 30°,
Grand Recorder.

London, W.C., Nov. 17, 1874.

ENGLISH CLOTHING is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. Moses and Son's as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes,
and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES AND SON have as usual
made extensive preparations for the Winter Season
in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.
Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11
o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

M O U R N I N G .

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand
a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted
by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—
Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

CRESTS, MONOGRAMS, ARMS, AND LETTERS ENGRAVED.

SEALS PRESSES, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE
PAPER DIES.

Your Arms, Crest, and Motto Found and Drawn Correctly
In pen and ink 4/0 | Crest engraved on spoons (doz.) 5/0
Heraldic colours 7/0 | " " seal or ring 7/0
Engraved on copper ... 1/10 | " " watch or stick 1/6

BRO. JAMES B. SLY,
9, RATHBONE-PLACE, LONDON, W.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st
Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.

Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by

STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,

Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS,
London.

DIETZ & CO., LONDON, PARAGON LAMPS

BURNING PETROLEUM OR PARAFFIN.

Unrivalled for SIMPLICITY, ECONOMY,

DURABILITY, SAFETY, and BRILLIANCY.

OVER 5000
Table Lamps, Chandeliers,
Billiard Lamps,
From the Cheapest for the Million fitted with
PARAGON
Giving the most Brilliant Light
ONE FARTHING
Sold by the principal Ironmongers

PATTERNS OF
Hall Lamps, Brackets,
Ship Lamps &c.
to the most exquisite Drawing Room Lamp,
our famous
BURNERS. of 25 Candles at a cost of
PER HOUR,
and Lamp Dealers in Great Britain

Our HURRICANE LANTERNS are absolutely windproof and safe; simple in construction, and give a splendid white and steady light. They are the most serviceable Lanterns for use in Stables, Farms, Gardens, Cellars, Factories, Ships, &c.

THE CLIMAX COOKING AND HEATING STOVES, in six sizes, will be found extremely useful in every Household, being always ready for use, and saving time and money, coals, trouble of lighting fire dust, and refuse.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S
WORLD FAMED
BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK,—"BLOOD MIXTURE."

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER,
For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.

- For Scrofula, Scary, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure.
- It Cures old Sores.
- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
- Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs.
- Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
- Cures Scary Sores.
- Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
- Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
- Cures Glandular Swellings.
- Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, from whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts.
Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 27 or 133 stamps by

F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln.
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

CROSBY'S
BALSAMIC
COUGH ELIXIR.

Opiates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern medicine points to CROSBY'S

BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist Scarborough.

Inwards should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had Gratis of all Chemists.

TO BE SOLD BY TENDER (in consequence of the Lodge removing) an HARMONIUM belonging to a Freemasons' Lodge, together with the Furniture. For particulars apply by letter, addressed Bro. M. Corless, 48, Crown-street, or to Bro. S. Johnson, 48, Dale-street, Liverpool.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admix.

This unique preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible age for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children." It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates. In the packets at 7s. 6d., 3s. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.) Cocotina a la Vanille, at Same Price. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN.

81, CITY ROAD, FINSBURY SQUARE, and 24, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNHAM

opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.

No connection with any other establishment of the same name.

Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

YOUNG'S ARNICATED

CORN AND BUNION

PLASTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate ease, and removing those painful excruciations. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT. WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS

Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often fatal in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite retaining power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the

MANUFACTURER,

Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.

Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly.

NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.
The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

CHEST EXPANDING BRACES,

(For both sexes).

For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces. For children they are invaluable, they prevent stooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest. Prices, for children, 6s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s., 6d., 12s., 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free. And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.

JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London.

FREDERICK ADLA

MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.,

Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher

No. 225, HIGH HOLBORN

Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

THE "WORCESTERSHIRE"

Pronounced by Commissioners "THE SAUCE" Its use improves appearance.

Unrivalled for purity and strength.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS'

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

which will see the name

LEA & PERRINS'

in all bottles and labels

Agents—GUTHRIE & CO., 10, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNHAM

by all Dealers in Superior Groceries

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

NOTES OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—

British Masonry 759
 Royal Arch 760
 Craft Masonry 760
 Grand Chapter of Middlesex 761
 Grand Chapter of Middlesex 762
 Bibliography 762
 Tidalings 762
 Notes and Queries 763 and of Benevolence 764
 of the Masonic Press 764

SPONSORSHIP:—

The Pope a Freemason? 765
 Masonic Institution for Boys 765
 Constable's Drawing 765
 Masonry in the United States 766
 King of Swanscombe Church 766
 Masonic Hall at Prescot 766
 Formation of a Chapter at Eccles 767
 Grand Lodge 767
 Expression of Masonic Sympathy 767
 Masonry 763
 Comments 757 758 764 76 8 769 770 771 772

NOTES OF MASONIC MEETINGS

Craft Masonry.

WITCH.—British Union Lodge (No. 114).— The usual monthly meeting was held at the Hall, Ipswich, on Thursday, 19th inst., by Bro. Peter de Lande Long, W.M.; I. E. Lockwood, D.P.G.M.; Rev. R. N. Son, P.G.C.; Body, P.G.S.W.; C. Long, C.; Emra Holmes, P.P.G., Reg.; W. W. W. Sec.; A. J. Barber, P.G.O.; P. Cornhill, P.G.S.D.; A. D. George, S.W.; J. J. J., J.D.; Rev. J. B. Tweed, I.G.; &c. &c. g brethren, N. Tracy, P.P.G.S.W.; S. B. P.P.G.S.D., &c. The lodge having been in due form and the minutes of last confirmed, the ballot was taken for W.M. Treasurer for the ensuing year, when Bro. Peter de Lande Long was unanimously elected to fill the office of K.S., Bro. Schulen being re-elected Treasurer, and Bro. G. Spalding, Tyler. Bro. Holmes, pursuant to notice, moved that the initiation fee be raised from four guineas to five. He remarked that the financial state of the lodge, the frequent calls on its hospitality, and the fact that the last 30 or 40 years the fee had been raised—necessitated the return to the sum charged for initiation. Many brethren charged for higher, notably the Erasmus, which had fixed the fee at 25 guineas, and felt sure that no candidate, such as they wish to see amongst them, would scruple to pay for the sake of the additional guinea. Bro. Schulen seconded the motion, which was supported by Bro. Body, who remarked that other lodge in the province charged six guineas. The W.M. said he could not express an opinion on the subject as he did not know the circumstances of the case, he remarked, however, that he thought perhaps the fee was wrong in the name of the lodge. He understood that a lodge at Ipswich Exchange charged sixty guineas for initiation. Bro. Holmes remarked that he was supported by a member of the Erasmus who said that the fee was what he stated. The motion was put the motion, which was carried unanimously. Bro. Holmes then moved that an Organist should be appointed, and dilated on the great impressiveness of the ceremonies assisted by music, and the admirable Musical Services which were published in the lodge. Bro. George seconded the motion, which was opposed by Bro. Barber, on the ground that it was useless to employ an Organist until the organ was put in repair. A general discussion ensued, and Bro. Long, Sanderson and Clark took part in the motion was ultimately lost. No business being before the meeting the meeting was closed and the brethren retired for the night.

at the Coffee House, Wavertree, near Liverpool, on Wednesday evening, the 18th inst., when there were about seventy brethren present—the largest gathering which has been seen for a long time. Bro. J. W. Edginton, W.M., presided, and amongst the others present were Bros. Pugh, P.M.; Williams, I.P.M.; Thornton, P.M.; Cookson, P.M.; T. B. Myers, S.W.; R. Martin, jun.; Brown, Treas.; Williams, Sec., &c. The gathering included the extraordinary number of 17 P.M.'s and W.M.'s, an attendance which has not been equalled for some time. No fewer than eight candidates were initiated, which shows that the lodge continues to increase greatly in numbers as well as in the excellent quality of its members. During the evening a very handsome watch, massive gold chain and Albert, and an illuminated address, were presented to Bro. J. G. Bales, the Secretary of the lodge since its beginning, and this formed the most important feature of the evening's programme. The address was to the effect that the brethren could not permit Bro. Bales to retire from the Secretaryship of the lodge—an office which he had filled from its consecration—without testifying in some measure to the faithful manner in which he had fulfilled the onerous duties of that position. They (the brethren) asked him to accept that address as a testimony of their appreciation of his services; and they also desired to give the watch, chain, and Albert, as a further proof of the manner in which they valued his long services as Secretary. The watch bore an inscription to the effect that the whole was presented as a mark of esteem by the brethren to Bro. Bales. The W.M. (Bro. Edginton), in making the presentation, spoke of the progress which the lodge had made since its consecration, and referred in the highest terms to the valuable services rendered by Bro. Bales while acting as the Secretary. Bro. Bales, in acknowledging the handsome testimonial, said he had done what he could for the lodge, and he felt more than repaid by the tokens of brotherly fellowship and kindness which he had received that night. During the proceedings a committee was appointed for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps, with the view to the formation of a Royal Arch-Chapter in connection with the lodge.

MILTON.—Whitwell Lodge (No. 1390).— The regular communication of this lodge was held in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday, the 17th inst. The lodge was opened at 6 o'clock p.m., by the W.M., Bro. Mills, P.P.G.S.B., who was supported by Bros. Thomas Dodgson, I.P.M., P.M. 995; Roger Dodgson, P.M., W.M. 995, P.P.G.S.B.; Meredith, S.W.; Postlethwaite, J.W., W.M., 1368, P.G.S.; Croke, Sec.; Wailing, S.D.; Bell, J.D.; Blakeney, I.G.; and a large number of brethren. The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. A candidate for initiation was balloted for and accepted. The W.M. afterwards entrusted a candidate for the second degree, who then retired. The W.M.'s chair was then taken by Bro. Thomas Dodgson, who opened the lodge in the Fellow Craft's degree, and on the candidate being readmitted he was duly passed; the working tools being presented by Bro. Roger Dodgson. The candidate again retired and five Fellow Crafts were examined as to their proficiency and entrusted for the third degree. They were afterwards severally raised to the sublime degree of M.M., Bro. Roger Dodgson giving two of the degrees and Bro. Thomas Dodgson the remaining three and also the Historic Lecture and a lecture on the third degree tracing board. The lodge was then closed in form to the first degree, when the Secretary read a letter from Bro. Lord Muncaster, P.P.G.S.W., regretting his inability to be present at the lodge on that evening. A candidate for admission into Masonry was proposed and other general business disposed of, when the lodge was closed about 11 o'clock p.m.

MANCHESTER.—The Lodge of Truth, (No. 1458), Bro. W. Turner, W.M., held its 12th regular meeting on Saturday, Nov. 7th, at the Royal Archer Hotel, Dale-street, Manchester, for the election of officers and the transaction of other important business. Bro. Smith, J.W. was unanimously elected W.M., and Bro. Tyers, P.M., was unanimously re-elected Treasurer. The lodge was honoured with the presence of Bro. Romaine Callender, R.W.D.P.G.M. of East Lancashire. After business a sumptuous banquet was served by the host, Bro. Pots.

LIVERPOOL.—Lodge of Israel (No. 1502).— The ordinary monthly meeting of this young lodge was held on Monday evening, the 16th inst., at the Masonic Hall, Liverpool; and from the thorough efficiency displayed by the W.M., the esprit of the officers, and the devotion to duty shown by the brethren our prediction that the lodge would soon be "at the top of the (Masonic) tree" in West Lancashire seems likely to be realised, and that quickly. As an evidence of the admirable spirit of liberality which has quickly developed itself in the lodge, which is not yet two months old, it ought to be stated that nearly £15 have already been subscribed for the West Lancashire Masonic Educational Institution, the W.M. heading the list with a very handsome donation. The example is a noble one, and therefore all honour to the members of the Lodge of Israel! The lodge was opened punctually at six o'clock by Bro. Ralph Robinson, the W.M., supported by the following officers:—Bros. Maurice de Frece, S.W.; A. J. Henochsberg, J.W.; Isaac de Frece, Treas.; M. Hart, Sec.; A. Jones, S.D.; S. Schonstadt, J.D.; B. Woolf, I.G.; P. A. Crozier, S.S.; A. Hart, J.S.; W. G. Veale, Org.; and W. H. Ball, Tyler. The members of the lodge present were Bros. J. Moss, J. Frank, D. L. Marcus, S. Hart, A. Liebuschütz, A. Prenclan, J. S. McCable, J. M. Foote, G. J. Somers, F. Barnett, Frank Moss, and M. Parkes. The visitors were Bros. R. S. Godsol, 594; J. Brown, 241; F. Siemmes, 241; E. Clarke, 753; J. Ferguson, 753; and E. J. Callow, 104. Messrs. Hermann and Rabow were balloted for, duly elected, and afterwards initiated in a remarkably impressive and admirable manner by the W.M., Bros. Somers, S. Hart, McCable, and Liebuschutz, being found proficient, were subsequently passed to the degree of F.C., the work being again capitally done by the W.M. The working tools in this degree were given by Bro. A. J. Henochsberg, J.W., and no more complete and effective delivery of this portion of the ritual has rarely been heard. After the transaction of some formal business, the lodge was closed in peace and concord.

METROPOLITAN LODGE (No. 1507).—This new lodge held its second regular meeting on Thursday, the 19th inst., at the rooms of the Metropolitan Club, 269, Pentonville-road. Bro. James Willing, jun., W.M., presided, and was supported by Bros. J. Michael, S.W.; Thomas Williams, J.W.; R. Rose, Treasurer; George Tims, Secretary; H. Shield, S.D.; R. T. Kingham, J.D.; W. M. Stiles, G. Colls, A. Rapkin, C. Scales, W. R. Clarke, T. R. Maples, G. Cheek, W. Side, W. Hopton, G. Potter, Gordon Adams, 76; A. H. Longhurst, P.M. 1425; W. Ryan, J.D. 1260; W. Lows, J.W. 1260; and H. Massey (Freemason), P.M. 619. The W.M. initiated Messrs. H. G. Rapkin, C. Carter, Thomas Jones, Thomas Jackson, and George Cook, and passed Bros. Rapkin, Scales, Colls and Stiles. The brethren elected as a joining member Bro. Geo. Potter, 261, and then considered and passed the bye-laws of the lodge. An announcement of the position of the lodge being discharged there was a balance of nearly £7 to the credit. This was considered to be very gratifying, the lodge being less than three months old. The lodge was then closed, and an emergency meeting appointed for six o'clock, on the 1st December. A capital banquet with excellent wines was afterwards provided by Mr. C. Cox, the manager of the Metropolitan Club, which was heartily partaken of, and the brethren in due course honoured the customary toasts. The initiates replied separately to the toast of their health, and promised to follow up the good work that evening begun with energy and assiduity. Bro. George Tims proposed the health of the W.M., and expressed the opinion of the brethren by praising his fluent working, and his efforts in promoting the welfare of the lodge. He also spoke with much confidence of the future prospects of the lodge, and of the brethren one day seeing it at the head of the roll of London lodges. Bro. Willing, in reply, said that, as far as his own individual merits were concerned, the compliments paid by Bro. Tims were undeserved. As the Master of the lodge, he was happy to say it was making good progress—such progress, indeed, as many older lodges had not attained to. On the previous evening he had been complimented at the Board of Benevolence on this progress; and he felt that as a compliment not so much to him as to the members of the lodge. It really implied that they all took an interest in the Craft, and that interest had so manifested itself that it had attracted the attention of members of Grand Lodge. While he continued to be well supported in that lodge, or anywhere else, no efforts on his part should be wanting to make the Metropolitan Lodge an eminent lodge in the Craft (cheers). "The Health of the Visitors" was responded to by Bro. Longhurst, P.M. 780 and 1425, and several other members, all of whom concurred in their approval of the working of the lodge, and the cordial reception which had been extended to them. The W.M., in giving "The Health of the Treasurer and Secretary," greatly complimented both those brethren on their exertions, and said that their work was well done, in addition to being done quietly and unostentatiously. To Bro. Tims especially he paid this compliment, and informed the brethren that if any officer happened accidentally to be away, Bro. Tims was always ready to perform his duties. (Applause.) Bro. Rose and Bro. Tims respectively acknowledged the toast, and after assuring the W.M. of the interest they took in all that concerned the lodge, promised that they would continue to manifest that interest in the future as they had in the past. After the other toasts had been proposed, honoured, and responded to, the brethren separated.

IVY LODGE (No. 1441).—Again it is our pleasing duty to record the continued successful progress of the truly excellent lodge which held a regular meeting on Tuesday the 17th inst., at the Windsor Castle Tavern, Southwark Bridge Road. The lodge was called at a reasonable hour for all concerned and the summons was loyally responded to, which will be seen when our readers peruse the names of those present, viz.:—Bros. C. Smith, W.M.; G. Mattock, S.W.; J. J. Cattle, J.W.; J. Noko, Hon. P.M.; E. Thurkle, Treasurer; C. S. Jolly, Sec.; C. F. Poupard, S.D.; L. J. Cornelissen, J.D.; and W. Ashwell, I.G. Every officer was at his post, and the work of the evening was carried on with a completeness which left nothing to be desired. The lodge was duly opened and the minutes of the last regular and emergency meetings were read and confirmed, after which, it being announced that two out of the three candidates named in the summons for the third degree were present, (the other having tendered an apology for his absence), the lodge now opened in the second degree and Bros. W.; G. Silcock and J. Barwick were examined according to the ancient formula. Having proved their efficiency, those brethren were afterwards properly introduced, after the lodge had resolved itself into the superior degree, and those brethren were inducted into the third degree of Freemasonry. The ceremony was rendered in the most impressive manner possible, and the whole of the traditional history attached to the degree was imparted to them. The lodge was afterwards resumed to the first degree, and Mr. J. R. Ashford was initiated into the Order. The initiation ceremony was performed in like admirable manner as the previous ceremony had been, and the W.M. concluded his labours by reciting the ancient charge, so often spoken of, but so seldom delivered, to the initiate, which was delivered with telling effect. The resignation of Bro. C. Nott, in consequence of his projected settlement in Australia, was received with regret, but the next announcement was one which was of a more agreeable nature, namely that the W.M. had undertaken the duties of Steward at the ensuing Festival in aid of the Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution. This announcement was received with much satisfaction by the brethren, and a notice of motion was immediately made that the sum of £25 be taken from the lodge funds to head the list of the W.M., which will doubtlessly be confirmed at the next lodge meeting. The last business brought before the lodge was a simple, but very pleasing one; the Secretary, Bro. C. S. Jolly, proposed and carried a motion, that a lodge album should be provided to contain the photographic likeness of every member of the lodge, an admirable idea, if the names of the brethren and the dates of their initiation are attached thereto, which will make the collection one of lasting interest to many. When the lodge was closed, some simple refreshments were served, and here we would remark that we hope the lodge will soon deliver itself from its present surrounding. It is not a tavern lodge; it has been founded on higher principles, it ought to hold its meeting in a less obscure place than where it is at present located, more properly housed the "Ivy" Lodge would soon stand pre-eminent amongst its compeers.

ISLINGTON LODGE (No. 1471).—The regular meeting of this young and highly flourishing lodge took place at the Cock Tavern, Highbury, on Thursday, 12th November. There were present Bros. John Lawrence Mather, W.M., P.M. 65, 1227; E. Bowyer, S.W.; L. A. Lewis, J.W.; T. Davy, S.D.; Stephens, P.M., J.D. pro tem; G. F. Cook, Treas.; E. Braine, Sec.; P. Preston, D.C.; W. Bonsor, I.G.; and other brethren. Visitors: Bros. J. Driscoll, P.M. 30; Boyd, P.G.D.; John Williams, 699, (Freemason). The lodge having been duly opened, and the minutes of the previous meeting unanimously confirmed, Messrs. Shaw, Sleigh, Harris, Marsh and Luck were all duly initiated into the mysteries of Ancient Freemasonry by the W.M. in a manner that could not be surpassed, the charges being delivered in an admirable, efficient and impressive style, maintaining the usual working from the chair. Bros. Watkins, Lake and Holness were passed to the degree of F.C. Bro. Cope was raised to the sublime degree of M.M. The whole of the ceremonies were performed without a single hitch, and the working of that night tells us that the Islington Lodge will be second to none in the metropolis. After the lodge had been closed in due form, the brethren re-assembled at the banqueting table, where the W.M. presided over an excellent collation. After the removal of the cloth, the W.M. rose to propose "The Queen and the Craft," saying that Her Majesty had won the affections of the Craft in general. The brethren responded in suitable terms. He then proposed "Our Royal Brother, the Prince of Wales, M.W.G.M.," to which the brethren lustily responded. The W.M. then proposed "The Earl of Carnarvon, R.W.D.G.M., and the other Grand Officers." This toast was received with full Masonic honours. Bro. Cook then proposed "The health of the W.M.," which was heartily received. The W.M. in responding, said:—I thank you kindly for the high compliment you have just paid me, and feel highly gratified to know that my labours have been satisfying to you all. The W.M. said, the next toast I have to propose is that of "The Initiates." We are perfectly satisfied with what we have seen of them to-night, and think they will make true and loyal Masons. I sincerely trust that the ceremony of to-night will leave a lasting impression on their minds. All lodges are benefited by receiving new blood; it gives fresh life and vitality. The toast was highly honoured, the W.M. giving "The Entered Apprentice's Song." Each of the initiates responded in suitable terms. The W.M. then proposed "The Visitors," saying he was always delighted to receive strangers. The toast being highly honoured, Bros. Boyd and Driscoll responded on behalf of the visitors. "The Masonic Press" having been given, Bro. Williams responded for the Freemason. The W.M. next proposed "The Officers," to which the S.D., Bro. Davy, responded on behalf of his brother officers. The "Tyler's toast" brought the meeting to a close. [The pleasures of the evening were greatly enhanced by the singing of the brothers Holness. On the whole, everything connected with the working of this interesting lodge was everything that could be desired. The W.M. and his officers all work in a admirable manner that augurs well for the prospect of the Islington Lodge.

HAMPTON.—Hemming Lodge (No. 1511).—The first meeting of this lodge for the dispensation of business since the consecration was at the Red Lion, Hotel, Hampton, on Thursday evening last, and was well attended. This lodge was founded under the auspices of several influential members of the Lebanon Lodge (No. 1511). The lodge was opened in ancient form by W.M., Bro. Hammond, P.M.; Bros. Hopwood, P.M., S.W.; Hill, P.M., J.W.; Hurst, S.W.; Cox, J.D.; Wheeler, I.G.; Jesson, Treas.; J. Hammond, Sec. The minutes of the previous preliminary meeting having been read and confirmed, the W.M. proceeded to initiate Messrs. Ockenden, G. Phillips, and J. Chilcott. The working was done in so excellent and masterly manner as to evoke the commendations of the visitors present, and upon the motion of J.W., which was seconded by the S.W., an unanimous vote of thanks was passed and order to be entered on the minutes, congratulating upon his successfully carrying out the duties of the chair of K.S. Bro. Hopwood was elected to represent the lodge and to be recommenced as an officer of the P.G.L. The visitors present were Bros. Colonel Wigginton, P.M., W.M. 1503, &c.; Martin, P.M., P.P.G.O., J.W. 1503; Saunders, S.W. 1503; Wilson 209; Jenkinson 1503; Jones 1326; Lawrence 1326; W. 1381; Vinaggio 1503. The lodge having been closed in due form the brethren participated of a cold collation. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given briefly but to the point by W.M. Bro. Col. Wigginton proposed the health of the W.M. in a very neat and complimentary speech and congratulated this young lodge upon possessing so able a Master, and he also repeated for the Visitors. The initiates' health had been drunk and responded to, Bro. Jepson request sang the song of the "Entered Apprentice" with effect. Bro. Martin contributed "Good bye, Sweetheart," Bro. Walls "Love Request," and Bro. Saunders a "motto" song, all of which vocal efforts appeared to give great satisfaction to the brethren. The Tyler's toast brought the proceedings to a successful termination.

Royal Arch.

MOUNT LEBANON CHAPTER (No. 73) held on Thursday, Nov. 12th, at the Br House Hotel, Southwark. The Chapter opened by Comps. E. Harris, M.E.Z.; Walters, P.Z., S.E. as H.; W. Smeed, P.Z. J. R. Watts, P.Z., and A. D. Loewenstark. The companions were then admitted, minutes of the preceding meeting read and confirmed. Apologies were received from absent Principals and candidates. The work of the Chapter rehearsed, Comp. G. W. Wheeler, P.Z., Scotland, gave some working of the degree practised in that country. Comp. A. D. Loewenstark, P.Z., resigned his membership. His resignation was accepted with regret. Comp. M. D. Loewenstark, S.N., was elected Steward to represent the Chapter at the forthcoming Festival to be held on Wednesday, May 13th, for Girls' School. All business being ended the chapter was closed. There were present those named, Comps. J. S. Swasey, J. Baldwin, P.S.; B. Isaacs, S. Frankenberg; Visitors, G. W. Wheeler, P.Z. 73, W. N. S.N. 176, J. B. Langley, 1st A.S. 176. There was not any banquet or refreshment the companions separated after the work done.

Mark Masonry.

CHACEWATER.—Boscawen Lodge (No. 1511).—The annual meeting of the Boscawen of M.M. Masons was held on Monday inst., Bro. Rev. G. L. Church, W.M., P.P. in the chair. The W. Bro. Jos. Holman being duly elected and presented was initiated as W.M. for the ensuing year by Bro. J. N.

P.P.G.J.W. There were also present as called Masters—Bros. Jno. Paull, P.P.G.S.O.; Hall, P.P.G.S. Wks.; W. P. Hugoe, J.D.; S. Mitchell, P.P.G.S.; Rev. W. some, P.G.C., W.M. St. Michael's Lodge, ton. The W.M. invested the following as officers:—Bros. Rev. W. H. Bloxsome, Jno. Chegwidan, J.W.; G. Matthews, P. Oates, S.O.; W. Joll, J.O.; J. ss, Treas.; J. Hall, Sec.; F. J. Lee, R.M.; eed, D.C.; J. Hensley, S.D.; J. Jackson, W. Hosken, Org.; Pearce and Whalley, J. C. Oates, I.G.; W. Lean, Tyler. At lose of the lodge the brethren partook of an lent banquet, provided by Bro. Host N., when the usual loyal and fraternal toasts given and responded to. The best wishes were strongly expressed for the success of Masonry in the Province of Cornwall, ded over as it is by such a highly esteemed er as Sir F. M. Williams, Bart., M.P.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.

DGE MARIE STUART (No. 541).—At a ng of this flourishing suburban lodge, in ueen's Park Rooms, Crosshill, the office-s were elected for the ensuing year, and of them present were duly installed by Thomas Halket P.M. of St. Mark's (102), t the completion, delivered a most impress- d useful address. The list, as re-arranged, follows:—R.W.M., Bro. J. D. Porteous; Bro. W. Gillies; S.M., Bro. Julius ; S.W., Bro. W. M'G. Mason; J.W., James Stamm; Treasurer, Bro. Samuel ter; Secretary, Bro. Robert A. Buchanan; Bro. John Fraser; J.D., Bro. James y, jun.; Chaplain, Bro. Robert Walker; Bro. T. Fyfe; Joint-Directors of Music, Wm. Schob and John Cassells; P. of ds, Bro. Andrew Hilcole; Assistant- ds, Bros. John Thomson, Alex. Hill, C. 7, Robert Inglis, Robert Hunter, and J. ; jun.; I.G., Bro. J. Hunter, sen.; Tyler, mes Minnock.

GE CLYDESDALE (No. 556) met in the ody Rooms, Crown-street, on Monday, st. The R.W.M., Bro. Wm. Phillips, d, with Bro. John B. McNaught, S.W.; in Howil, J.W. There were also present Bros. John McNaught; S.D., John Frew, . McDougal; and among the visiting Bro. G. H. McNaught, R.W.M. 275- ly business of any importance before the ; was the nomination of office-bearers nsuing year. Thereafter certain arrange- or the first annual re-union of the lodge reed upon, and the lodge was then closed nd ancient form.

THE THISTLE (No. 87).—This lodge met all at No. 12, Trongate, on Tuesday, st. The chair was occupied by the , Bro. John Millar, who was supported dais by Bros. John Fraser, P.M., C. K. D.M.; Thos. Paton, Treas.; D. all, Sec.; and Joseph Wilson, R.W.M. he lodge having been opened in the ice degree, the Secretary read the minutes ular meeting, and also of an emere- teeing held since then, which were The reports of the Treasurer and the respectively, were then submitted; the ting that the accounts had been gone carefully, and that the Auditors were satisfied that they were truthful and The election of office-bearers was then d with and concluded, the following roll for the ensuing year:—R.W.M., nes W. Burns; D.M., Bro. C. K. S.M., Bro. Jas. Love; S.W., Bro. th; J.W., Bro. Wm. Wilson; Treas. ds. Paton; Sec., Bro. D. McDougal; s, Walter Stewart; J.D., Bro. Allan G. . Stewart, Bro. James Currie; S. Staer, Bro. J. G. Ritchie; J. Standard- ro. J. G. Ritchie; J. standard-bearer, n Fraser; P.G. Stewart, Bro. Samuel I.G., Bro. John McLachlan; Tyler, Sinclair. At the close of the election, man said he had to return the mectic his sincere thanks for the orderly way in which the election had been conducted. He would be- speak for the new office-bearers a fair trial. If the lodge generally gave them their support they would go into their duties as they ought to do; and he hoped, in fact, he had no doubt, that the lodge would do their duty to these office-bearers He supposed it was widely known that a new degree, emanating from the Grand Lodge, and called the "Installed Masters'" degree had to be taken by their new R.W.M.; and he was now receiving the same in another apartment at the hands of Bro. A. McTaggart, P.G. Secretary. Bro. S. McPhee said he had just to say that he considered it was the duty of the lodge to record to the chairman a very hearty vote of thanks for the manner in which he had fulfilled the duties of the office from which he now retired. More than that, he might mention that they purposed by and by giving him some little memento of his reign, which he might hand down to his family after him. The proposition of Bro. McPhee was unanimously adopted, by universal and prolonged acclamation. The chairman, in reply, said he felt very thankful for, and highly appreciated the compli- ment they had paid him, which would also be an encouragement to those who succeeded him to do the best they could in the same position. For himself, he had performed the duties of his office to the best of his ability; and if, in anything, he had fallen short, he hoped he might be excused. He had spent many very pleasant nights within Lodge 87, and hoped to spend many more. (Applause.) The newly- elected office-bearers were then asked to step forward to the altar, and having done so, they were there and then installed into office by Bro. McTaggart, whose performance of the work was masterly and impressive to a degree. The new R.W.M., Bro. Burns, having taken the chair, said he could not properly express his gratitude for being placed in the honourable position he now occupied. This (Lodge 87) was his mother lodge. He had always felt a deep interest in it from the first time he entered its walls, and he hoped he should never forget it as long as he lived. Anything he could do for its prosperity should be done; and he hoped nothing would be found wanting. He was proud to find that his office-bearers were men and brethren who would work with him—brethren, every one of whom would do his duty according to the obligation he had taken that night. Personally, he hoped he had now the sympathy of the lodge; and, if his colleagues in office had it too, he had no fear that by that time next year they would have a good Thistle Lodge. The lodge thereafter adjourned from labour to refreshment. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts were then given from the chair, Bro. W. H. Bickerton replying on behalf of the Grand Lodge of England, which, he said, it gave him much pleasure to do in a lodge of which he was himself an affiliated member. The remain- ing toasts were—"The Provincial Grand Lodge of Glasgow," coupled with the name of Bro. McTaggart, P.G. Secretary, who made an able reply; "The Retiring Office Bearers of Lodge Thistle," coupled with the health of P.M. Bro. John Millar; "The Present Office Bearers," coupled with the R.W.M., Bro. J. W. Burns; and "The Masonic Press," coupled with the name of Bro. J. Stewart, of the Freemason. The lodge having been recalled to labour, was there- after closed in due form.

LODGE ST. MUNGO (No. 27), met for the installation of office-bearers, in St. Mark's Hall, 213, Buchanan-street, on Thursday, 19th inst. The R.W.M., Bro. Dugald Butler, occupied the chair, supported on the dais by three Past Masters of the lodge, viz.: Bros. A. McTaggart, George Sinclair, and William King; as also Bros. A. R. Wilson, Chaplain; Thos. Lock- head, Treasurer; and W. B. Paterson, Secretary of the lodge; Bro. Joseph Wilson, R.W.M., Lodge Star 219; and Bro. Alex. Bain, P.M., Lodge Union and Crown, 103. The Secretary having read the minutes of two previous meetings they were passed. The Treasurer, submitted his annual report, which showed, as he remarked, that, pecuniarily, the lodge was in a better position than at the same time last year, by about £30, a result which the chairman observed was very satisfactory and gratifying. Bro. Wm. King, P.M., said he had great pleasure in moving the adoption of the Treasurer's report, it was pleasant when they had such a good balance on the right side, and he trusted that possibly it would be still better next year. Bro. George Sinclair, P.M., in seconding the adoption of the report, said it was one of the best they had had put before them for the last twelve or fourteen years. The Chairman said that seeing the list of office-bearers had been read to the lodge, he had now simply to ask if there were any objections to it. There being none offered, the ceremony of installation was performed, and the office-bearers invested with their respective jewels, by Bro. A. McTaggart, P.G. Sec. At the close of this portion of the proceedings, the Chairman said he was sure they were all very much indebted to Bro. McTaggart for his kindness in officiating as he had just done. For his own (the chairman's) part, he felt that he could not thank the lodge as he ought to do for replacing him in the important position he occupied; the duties of which he would always endeavour to discharge to the best of his ability. The follow- ing is the rearranged list of office-bearers:— R.W.M., Bro. Dugald Butler; D.M., Bro. A. McTaggart; S.M., Bro. J. Morris; S.W., Bro. Dr. M'Innes; J.W., Bro. E. M'Comb; Sec. Bro. W. B. Paterson; Treas., Bro. T. Lockhead; S.D., Bro. W. Neilson; J.D., Bro. T. Hastie, Chaplain, Bro. Rev. M'Leck; Vice-Chaplain, Bro. A. R. Wilson; P. of Stewards, Bro. R. Morrison; Junior Stewards, Bros. Malcolm, Whyte, T. Brodie, W. Brown, W. Dykes, W. Niven, and T. Grange; P.G. Steward, Bro. W. Arbuckle; D. of Music, Bro. W. Albin; B.B., Bro. T. Muir; Standard-bearer, Bro. H. Affleck; Architect, Bro. J. Taylor; Surgeon, Bro. Dr. Buchanan; Jeweller, Bro. D. Sutherland, I.G., Bro. R. Carmichael; Tyler, Bro. G. James. The lodge having adjourned from labour to refreshment, a pleasant couple of hours were spent. Among other toasts given and responded to in the course of the evening were "Lodge St. Mungo," replied to by the R.W.M.; "The Treasurer" (Bro. Lockhead), proposed by Bro. Geo. Sinclair, P.M.; "The Senior Wardens" (Bro. Dr. M'Innes); "The Junior Warden," "The retiring Office-bearers," coupled with the name of Bro. Grange, who acknowledged the compliment, &c.

LODGE CALEDONIAN RAILWAY (No. 354) met in St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan-street, on Wednesday, 18th inst. The lodge having been opened in the Apprentice degree by the R.W.M., Bro. James Shaw, the Secretary, (Bro. W. R. Dunn) read the minutes of last meeting, which were passed. The meeting then proceeded to the re-arrangement of the lodge committee for the ensuing year, the following brethren being appointed to constitute said committee:—Bros. A. Dougall, Robert Wotherspoon, A. Allison, W. W. Joiner and Allan McDonald. Bros. Peter Sanderson and John S. Hunter were appointed auditors. Bro. John B. Hardie (Lodge 102) was then duly affiliated a member of this lodge; and thereafter two candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the Order by the R.W.M., and four brethren raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason at the hands of Bro. A. Arrick Smith. There was no other business, and the lodge was closed in due and ancient form.

LODGE CLYDE (No. 408).—The second annual soiree; concert, and assembly of the members of this lodge, and friends, was held with much success in the Bath-street Assembly Rooms, on Friday 20th inst. Brother Duncan Downie, R.W.M., occupied the chair, supported on the platform by Bros. Rev. Robert Thomson, John Buchanan, P.M.; R. Mitchell, D.M.; John M'Innes, S.W.; W. Bilsland, J.W.; J. Morton, S.D.; W. Harper, Treas.; R. Bowie, Sec.; G. Weston, R.W.M. (73); J. B. M'Nair, R.W.M. (332); and J. Scott, R.W.M. (419). After tea, the chairman delivered a brief address, in course of which he said that a year ago he stood before them as the R.W.M. of the lodge under whose auspices they were now met to- gether. At that time he was fortunate in having the great pleasure and satisfaction of reporting a remarkably good bill of health, both as regarded lodge fund and lodge benevolent fund. That pleasure, he was happy to say, was vastly enhanced when he had to tell them that they were now in a position of prosperity very greatly in advance of what they were twelve months ago. The attainment of this position showed that there had been no idle hands at the plough, no turning back, as it were, to observe what others were doing in the same field; but a calm resolve to gain another emblem, however slight, to place among the laurels which decorated the banner of Lodge 408. The present agreeable condition of the lodge accrued from the course of action pursued by the office-bearers; which resulted from their conviction that conflicting and troublesome matters, of whatever kind, were generally better to be quietly shelved, and that the minds of the members should be disencumbered of anything that might have a tendency to debar the brotherly union which should permeate the hearts of all, but more especially those of their ancient fraternity. Bros. the Rev. R. Thomson and R. Mitchell, respectively, afterwards addressed the meeting; the musical proceedings being sustained by Miss Bessie Malcolm, ballad vocalist; Bro. J. G. Sharp, Bro. J. Good, Mr. T. Ebourne and a glee party. The concluding assembly was kept up with much spirit until an early hour.

LODGE COMMERCIAL (No 360).—The usual fortnightly meeting of this lodge was held in their Hall, No. 30, Hope-street, on Friday, 20th inst. The chair was occupied by Bro. J. Monro, R.W.M., supported by Bros. J. Brodè, P.M.; J. M. Olliver, S.W.; and James Craig, J.W. The lodge, having been opened in the E.A. Degree, the Secretary, Bro. W. H. Bickerton, read the minutes, which were approved of and passed. Bro. Peters then read the items of the accounts for the past year, which met with general approval. The lodge was then raised to the degree of Fellow Craft, and afterwards to that of Master Mason, when Bro. W. Brodè Lochore received that degree, the ceremony being performed by the R.W.M., Bro. J. Monro, and S.M. Bro. J. Brodè, in full and impressive style. The R.W.M., Bro. J. Monro, proposed a vote of thanks to P.M. Bro. J. Brodè and Bro. Thompson, for the past and most valuable services rendered by them to this lodge, which met with general approbation. There being no further business, the lodge was closed in due and ancient form.

PAISLEY.

RENFREWSHIRE COUNTY KILWINNING LODGE (No. 370) met on the evening of Thursday, 19th inst., Bro. James Anderson, R.W.M., presiding, supported in the west and south by Bros. J. M. Oliver and J. Goldie. On the lodge being opened in the E.A. degree the R.W.M. drew the attention of the brethren to the fact that according to the bye-laws of the lodge the nomination of office-bearers for the ensuing year would take place at the next meeting, and the election at the last meeting in December. Applications for admission were then read from Mr. Robert Martin and Mr. Edward Morrison, both candidates being well recommended and the ballot clear, they were admitted and duly initiated into the Order, Bro. Geo. Miller officiating in his usual intelligent and impressive manner. The lodge was thereafter placed under the charge of the J.W., when a very happy hour was spent in "harmony," called back to "labour" and closed in due form.

MASONIC BIBLIOGRAPHY.

I have come accidentally into the possession of a curious "Breeches" Bible of 1594 with a MS. note of Masonic use, signed E.S. or E.P. The Bible has Masonic emblems upon it, and formerly belonged to the Vernon Lodge, No. 819. The latter part is not quite perfect. Can any brother give any account of that lodge, or how its property became dispersed. I see that there is still a Vernon Lodge, No. 539, at Walsall.

A. F. A. WOODFORD.

Multum in Parvo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

The quotation from Nicephorus Callistus seems to be properly given, and is a correct reference. Lib. x., page 76. There is a copy in the British Museum, in Greek, with a Latin paginal translation, and the original Latin, of which I now have received a copy, seems to be completely rendered by the translation. So, no doubt, the Greek is too. It is a striking fact, that this tradition which Nicephorus records, with the words "sicut dictum est," being the translation of his equivalent Greek words, should be at any rate about 400 years old, and his words would carry it still further back.

A. F. A. WOODFORD.

Masonic Tidings.

We are authorized to state that the Premier Conclave of England, in connection with the Bective (No. 2A), the St. Andrew's (No. 15), and the Board of Avon (No. 99) Conclaves will meet on Monday, the 30th inst., (St. Andrew's Day), at the Regent Masonic Hall, 68, Regent-street, and dine together afterwards. A meeting of this united character has never hitherto been carried out in the metropolis.

A new Chapter of Instruction will be held, under the most favourable auspices, at Lord's Hotel, St. John's Wood, with the sanction of the Prince Frederick William Chapter, No. 753, on the first and third Thursdays in each month. The want of a Chapter of Instruction has long been felt in the N. and N.W. Districts, and the Preceptor is so well known as a teacher of Masonry, that every success should attend its meetings, the first of which is appointed for December 3rd, at 8 p.m., and the offices are to be filled on that evening by good working companions. It is to be hoped a large attendance will encourage its promoters to use all their influence to extend the usefulness of such a valuable institution.

On Tuesday evening the Hertfordshire brethren had a banquet at the Shire Hall, Hertford. The front of the building was very handsomely illuminated in honour of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, Grand Master Elect, who is now on a few days visit to the Earl and Countess Cowper, Panshanger, Herts.

The Right Worshipful Brother A. H. Roysds, Prov. Grand Master of Worcestershire, attended the Worcester Lodge, No. 280, on Thursday, 19th inst., and was received with the honours accorded on the occasion of a Provincial Grand Master's visit. During the evening W. Bro. A. A. Sylvester retired from the Worshipful Master's office, and on the motion of Bro. Whitney Griffiths, Provincial Grand Treasurer, seconded by Bro. Pidcock, P.M., a vote of thanks was unanimously passed to Bro. Sylvester, and a Past Master's jewel was voted for presentation at the next meeting of the lodge, in recognition of his services for the past year. The Worshipful Master elect is Bro. J. C. Gregg, of Ledbury. —Berrow's Worcester Journal.

Bro. R. Limpus, W.M. 1039, member of the College of Organists, has been appointed Grand Organist for the Province of Middlesex.

The Athenæum Lodge, No. 1491, will meet at the Athenæum, Camden-road, Holloway, N., on Wednesday, 2nd December, 5 p.m.

At the regular monthly meeting of Lewis Lodge, 872, (Whitehaven) held on Monday, Nov. 16th, Bro. William Gill, Immediate Past Master of the above lodge, was presented by the members with a very handsome Past Master's jewel as a mark of their esteem, and in recognition of his very valuable services rendered to the lodge, and interest taken in the Craft in general.

We understand that the Duke of Connaught will leave England early in January on a tour in the Holy Land.

Howick Hall, in Northumberland, the residence of Earl Grey, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire on Sunday. There was a copious supply of water, which did more damage to the property than was caused by the fire which was speedily extinguished.

As the young Lord Warkworth and the daughters of Earl Percy were driving in a carriage and pair at Alnwick, the horses bolted, and ultimately ran against a garden wall, one horse being thrown into the garden, and the other into the field. Fortunately the carriage was not upset, and the children escaped unhurt.

The Duke of Westminster was on Monday elected President of the Cheshire Chamber of Agriculture, in the place of Lord de Tabley.

The Duchess of Abercorn laid the foundation stone of a new church at Strabane on Tuesday. The Lord-Lieutenant and a distinguished party were present.

The Marquis of Drogheda has been appointed Lord-Lieutenant of Kildare, in the room of the Duke of Leinster, deceased.

LECTURE ON PUBLIC SPEAKING.—On Tuesday evening, the 10th inst., Bro. Emma Holt of Ipswich, delivered a lecture on the subject to a large audience in the Town Hall in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. P. O. Papillon occupied the chair, and the newly-elected Mayor, Mr. Bishop, also had a seat upon the platform. The lecturer was very apt and clever in his illustrations of the various styles which public speaking possessed, being particularly good in the character of Father Gavazzi. From the junior gentlemen at the wedding breakfast to the M.P. lecturer was candid and truthful, when speaking upon their good and bad points. Upon elements of every grade he was exceedingly severe, their almost universal disregard of the strict elocution, and cited instances of scriptural errors which sometimes assumed a ludicrous character. At the lecture, however, those likely to be rebuked by the speaker's strictures were conspicuous by their absence. Several allusions were made to the local elocution classes belonging to the association and the Literary Institution, which had very properly become amalgamated; and strongly advised the young men of the town to join it. The Chairman good humouredly gratulated himself that the walls of the hall had no means of speech, for his conscience could not have him of having made one or two bad speeches that room. A vote of thanks to the lecturer concluded the proceedings.

THE HARWICH HARBOUR, DOCKS, WHARVES, AND WAREHOUSES COMPANY, LIMITED.—An advertisement of which appears on our page, has been formed to undertake the reclamation of about 100 acres of foreshore at Harwich, and constructing thereon an inner Harwich Docks, Wharves, and providing sites for new Warehouses. Experienced engineers have expressed approval of the site—amongst them Mr. Brassey, Mr. Walker, Mr. Rendle, and Mr. Rennie (the latter having made survey estimates). The Directors hope that the increasing trade of the town will render the undertaking a remunerative one. Six per cent interest is guaranteed till November 5th, the period fixed for the completion of the tract.

KNOWLEDGE AND SYMPATHY.—Good spirits readily restored to the late fortunate owner by a bottle of Holloway's revivifying medicine; instant relief is wanted to prevent the development of more distressing and dangerous symptoms. Everyone has experienced sudden personal changes from gaity to depression, the weather oftentimes receives the blame, while digestion alone is the cause of the depression. Holloway's Pills can be honestly recommended for regular ordered stomach and improving digestion; they remove all sense of fullness and oppression after they clear the furred tongue and act as a powerful stimulant to the liver, and as a gentle aperient to the bowels. They healthfully arouse both body and mind.—ADVT.

Obituary.

OS. THOMAS SIM, R.W.M., AND WM. GRANT, P.M., 349 S.C.

Funeral Lodge was held in Freemasons' Edinburgh, by Lodge St Clair, 349. on day 15th inst., in memory of the late Bros. nas Sim, R.W.M., and William Grant, P.M. lodge was presided over by Bro. Alex. y, I.P.M. Among those present were Bros. Major W. H. Ramsey, J.G.W.; Laurie, G. Sec. G. Lodge of Scotland; Hudson, P.M. 5; Peter Sinclair R.W.M. James Melville, P.M. 97; R. S. Brown, M. 145; George Borland, 151, attended by ations from their respective lodges.

The following is the programme of the programs.—

Organ music (while brethren are taking their —"Dead March in Saul."

Ice-bearers of Lodge, accompanied by Office rs of Sister Lodges, enter in Procession, ke their appointed seats.

March Funebre—Beethoven—Organ.

Past Master then opened the Lodge.

Prayer by the Chaplain:—

Most Glorious God, Author of all good, and of all mercy, pour down Thy blessings as, and strengthen all our solemn engage-with the ties of fraternal affection. Let striking instances of mortality remind us approaching fate, and so fit and prepare that awful period, whenever it may arrive, ter our departure hence, in peace and in mour, we may be received into Thy Ever-Kingdom. Amen.

Grand Honours.

Recitation from Requiem—Mozart—Organ.

HYMN.—Holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, as, and is, and is to come. Who shall not Thy name, for Thou alone art holy, thou t the Lord!

Prayer and Responses by the Brethren.

TEXT.—What man is he that liveth and ot see death? Shall he deliver his soul ie hand of death?

BRETHREN.—Man walketh in a vain shadow, eth up riches, and cannot tell who shall them.

TEXT.—When he dieth, he shall carry no-way; his glory shall not descend after

BRETHREN.—Naked we come into the world, ed we must return. The Lord gave, and d hath taken away, Blessed be the name Lord.

Grand Honours.

Written by Bro. Robert Hogg.

—Dr. Calcott—Choir.

HENRY, P.M., then delivered the follow-ion:—

It is the touching address you have just to, brethren, regarding our late beloved
P. M. William Grant, it is with confidence that I rise to try and find your feelings of sorrow and my own on of the death of another tenderly
I brother, our recently deceased R. W. omas Sim. In addition to the official
I consider myself under to discharge d duty, there is a degree of approps in my giving utterance to the senti-f this lodge on the solemn occasion on e look upon his vacant chair, draped in
g. Our late excellent brother and R. W.
I were initiated into the pleasing and mysteries of our Craft about the same w nearly twenty years ago. Since that ther Sim has been to me what he was who came within the range of his es,—a true and constant friend. He odel of unfeigned devotion to Free-an example of all that is excellent in his stration of the principles we adhere to as Brother Sim rose to the honours of the ffice in this his mother Lodge by such no one may gainsay. He was modest trusive, generous, kind-hearted, and at all times. If he could push on before any brother he thought deserving of on, his greatest joy was to see that fferred, and to assist in the celebration of it. His kindly, eager looks will live as long as life endures in the memory of all the brethren whose agreeable lot it was to fraternise with him in the labours and leasures of Masonry. He had no unkind word to say to any man. His heart was ruled by only the utmost loving-kindness towards all his Masonic brethren. We mourn and deplore his loss, as well as that of Bro.

Grant, who held him in high esteem. After life's fitful fever, they now sleep well; and they undoubtedly feel the beginnings of the long un-troubled sleep creeping over them with all the more courage and manly confidence, because they knew that while faithful and truthful Masons on earth, they were pursuing a course agreeable to the wisdom and kindly wishes of that Great Architect of the Universe, whom we now, and always, as true Masons, revere and worship.
May we all die the death of the righteous, and may our last end be like his. So mote it be."

Service, with Responses.

Master—Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his.

Brethren—God is our God for ever and ever;
He will be our God even unto death.

Grand Honours.

Anthem—Kent.

O Lord, our Governor, O how excellent is Thy name in all the world.

BRO. JOHN TAYLOR, P.M., then delivered the following oration:—

"We have met this evening, brethren, to perform the most sacred duty that can possibly fall to our lot as Freemasons—namely, to pay the last sad token of respect to departed worth, by taking a last farewell, Masonically, of two esteemed brothers, who, having spent a life of usefulness in an earthly lodge, have been summoned to appear before the Great Architect of the Universe to tender an account of that life;
and the earnest desire of all our hearts should be that the pure and truthful lives led by them here on earth below may have been rewarded by a membership of that Glorious Lodge on high, where peace and harmony eternally doth flow.
It is a melancholy fact, brethren, that, during our vacation, death—ever busy death—has been amongst us, and taken from our midst our esteemed Right Worshipful Master, Bro. Thomas Sim, and Past Master Bro. William Grant; but my special duty here this evening is to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of our esteemed Past Master, whose departure from this life may to some of us appear to have been rather sudden, to others a thing to be expected for Bro. Grant had, for some time, suffered from occasional internal hæmorrhage—a thing, perhaps, not immediately dangerous in itself, but weakening and debilitating to the system, each attack rendering the body less able to battle with the succeeding one: still, our brother might have remained a much longer time with us but for a severe shock caused by the death of his beloved wife, who was suddenly struck down in the midst of her endeavours to restore him to health and strength. The shock was fatal, and our esteemed Past Master, William Grant, devoted husband, affectionate father, true and faithful friend and brother, never rallied, but gradually sank, until his spirit quitted its sublunary abode to join hers in Heaven—it loved so well on earth. Brother Grant commenced his Masonic career in that flourishing lodge, the Edinburgh St. Stephen (145), in which he was first introduced to Masonic light about the year 1845, a short time previous to the turmoil in that lodge, out of which arose this Lodge St. Clair. Bro. Grant, being a young Mason, took no part in the working of his mother lodge, and finding that a number of his intimate friends and associates had joined the young lodge, he naturally followed their example and became an affiliated member. His kind-hearted, genial disposition soon rendered him a general favourite with the brethren; and his clear judgment and thorough business habits early marked him as a coming man for high office. Bro. Grant elected, however, to commence his official career in a minor capacity and work his way up, hence the offices of Deacon, Treasurer, Junior and Senior Warden and Depute Master, were filled by him with honour and credit to himself and acceptance to the lodge. In 1864 he was unanimously elected to the Mastership, a position which he held for two years, adding much to the prosperity of the odge, and to the happiness and comfort of the brethren, his actions being directed by prudence, strengthened by fortitude, and chastened by temperance, he was enabled to deal out even-handed justice, allay all jealousy or unbrotherly conduct, and promote that spirit of industry and friendly emulation as to who should work most and do best, which tends so much to advance the interests not only of lodges but of the Craft in general. As a Past Master he was constant in his attendance, his presence being always hailed with delight; should a knotty point arise or tangled web appear no one more capable no one more willing to advise or explain away the difficulty. In the outer, as well as in the Masonic world, he was equally respected and esteemed, indeed, it may be briefly said of him

"That he was a man of many friends and not one enemy." As a tradesman honesty and fair dealing were his characteristics. He was for many years connected with the publishing firm of Messrs.
W. and R. Chambers, and took an active part in the production of that periodical of world-wide fame, the Edinburgh Journal, in fact, the connection ended only at his death, for, although carrying on an extensive business of his own, he also held a position of trust under the Messrs.
Chambers, showing the very high estimation in which he was held by that firm. The practice of the moral and social virtues was his study and delight, he never forgot the duty due from a "creature to his Creator," and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to the afflicted and distressed among his fellow creatures, and by a well regulated course of discipline he had been able to retain his mental faculties to the last and had learnt to look upon death not as the end of all things but as the beginning of a brighter and happier existence. This, brethren, is necessarily a very brief outline of the Masonic life of one of our brethren whose emblems of office lie draped before us, and may the contemplation of them under their present aspect lead us to reflect upon the great fact that we, like him, will in our turn be called to lay down our worthy tools and appear at the bar of the Grand Lodge above where our spiritual Grand Master will reward or punish us according as we have obeyed or disregarded his divine commands. In conclusion, brethren, should there be any among us who in their hearts desire to erect a monument to our departed brother, I would remind them that the grandest monument we can possibly erect, will be to endeavour to emulate his character, then indeed, shall we have a brotherhood of perfection, and a monument worthy of the departed.

Anthem. Handel.

Service with Responses.

MASTER. May we be true and faithful; and may we live and die in love.

BRETHREN. So mote it be.

MASTER. May we always profess what is good; and may we always act agreeably to our profession.

BRETHREN. So mote it be.

Anthem—"Vital Spark.

MASTER—May the Lord bless us, and prosper us; and may our good intentions be crowned with success.

BRETHREN—So mote it be.

MASTER—Glory be to God on high,—on earth peace, and goodwill towards men.

BRETHREN—So mote it be; now, from henceforth, and for evermore.—Amen.

Grand Honours.

Prayer by the Chaplain.

"Almighty Architect of the Universe, unto the grave has been resigned the bodies of our loving brethren, to remain until the day of general resurrection. We earnestly pray thee, at that great and dreadful day to extend thy infinite mercy towards all of us, and to crown our felicity with everlasting bliss in thy Heavenly Kingdom. Amen.

Grand Honours.

The Master then closed the Funeral Lodge.

The Choral service, under the direction of Bro.
Robert Hogg assisted by an efficient choir was most impressive.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols III., IV., V. and VI each ...	15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do,	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Births, Marriages and Deaths.

BIRTH.

SYLVESTER.—Nov. 15, at Henwick, Worcester, the wife of Bro. A. A. Sylvester, of a daughter.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

In the report of the installation at the Falcon Lodge, Thüsk, it should have been stated that Bro. A. E. Bamlett (not Bawlett) is the W.M.

In "Masonic Legends" by Bro. Hughan, the name "Stephen Ives" should be Stephen Jones.

Errata.—In the report of Metham Lodge, for "No. 1502" read "No. 1205." A correspondent writes that Bro. Hammond is W.M. 1502, and not Bro. R. Robinson, as stated in our report.

The following stand over: Reports of Lodges 141, 280, 887, 523, 1309, E.C.; 75, 117, S.C.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY, FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY.

Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence Every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

Now ready, with Index and Preface, in Twelve Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in one handsome volume, £3.

THE FREEMASONS' LIBER MUSICUS,

Dedicated by express permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by DR. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—298.

This Work contains 215 pp. and 188 Musical Compositions, suitable for the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges, Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation, Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

HANDSOME CLOTH COVERS, with gilt lines, and lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.

Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1874.

OUR FUND OF BENEVOLENCE.

At the next quarterly communication Bro. Clabon's motion with reference to a grant of two-thirds of the yearly balance of the Fund of Benevolence to the Boys' and Girls' Schools will have been discussed in Grand Lodge, and we shall refer to it specifically on an early opportunity. This week we content ourselves with calling attention to the figures which the "Agenda Paper" of Grand Lodge has brought to the notice of its members. The statistical return of the Fund of Benevolence is very notable in itself, and we have put together carefully some of its results for the information of the Craft. It seems that from 1844 to 1876, to the end, that is, of 1873, the Grand Lodge had received as contributions from the lodges to the Fund of Benevolence the sum of £81,574, from funded property, &c., about £22,000, in round numbers, and from "Constitutions," &c., in round numbers, £2,700, making a grand total of £106,274. The petitioners relieved during that period amounted to 3,832, and they received the aggregate amount of £55,496 13s. 6d. Annual grants were also made to the Benevolent Institution amounting to £19,420, and including a small sum, comparatively, for casual relief, not exceeding, in round numbers, £450, the whole amount expended reaches to £75,666 13s. 6d., more or less. There remains, on this period of 30 years, a balance of receipts over expenditure of £25,053 7s. 1d., which sum is represented, at the end of 1873 by £27,700 consols. A further accumulated sum of £10,000, which dates from before 1843, is represented by a debt from the Fund of General Purposes, of £11,000. Now these, as we said before, are very striking figures, and suggest many considerations to our fraternity. They tell, in the first place, an unmistakeable tale of the great, nay, of the increasing prosperity of English Freemasonry. In the last five years, the increase of receipts over expenditure, in the Fund of Benevolence alone, has been—1869, £1335 3s. 8d.; 1870, £1150 11s. 9d.; 1871, £1966 13s. 11d.; 1872, £2296 4s. 6d.; 1873, £1316 1s. 4d. The items and the total of the last quinquennial period no doubt suggest the probability of still increasing annual balances. But yet these figures, as it appears to us, demonstrate the abiding need of our Fund of Benevolence to the Order and seem to point to the imperative duty, on our part, of the greatest caution in dealing with the annual surplus. The time may fairly have arrived we admit, when the Grand Lodge may feel disposed to make an annual grant to the Boys' and Girls' Schools, but we confess we are a little fearful, lest relying too much on a prosperity which may only be temporary, we should in any way mortgage for future years, by premature enactment, the sums devoted to, and meant to be distributed in pure and direct Masonic relief. Nothing so far seems to foreshadow any coming storm in our united and increasing Order, but still, in legislating for so great an institution as Freemasonry is, we must keep all human contingencies in mind, and we are therefore of opinion, on a full consideration of the subject, that it will be safer for Grand Lodge to vote an annual grant, vocable at pleasure, than to make it part of a Book of Constitutions that one-third, or other proportion of the annual surplus of Fund of Benevolence is to be devoted to Boys' and Girls' Schools. The charities flourish very greatly just now. They are in want of financial aid, and the whole matter so important in itself for the Craft, that it deserves long and careful deliberation.

THE USE OF THE MASONIC PRESS.

There are some of our good brethren who still question the value of the Masonic Press. There are a few—let us hope only a few—who think that all publication is bad, per se, in matters Masonic. Whatever may have been the view of olden days, whatever may have been the feelings of a former generation of Craftsmen, it is quite clear, we think, that they were groundless and their position untenable. That non-publication did for Freemasonry surround it with a mass, so to say, of unverified statements—unreliable authorities, and unfixed quotations. For all these were the distinguishing characteristics of past Masonic literature, owing to the fact, principally, that then no discussion nor critical study passed through public examination, either of alleged actions or of ancient documents. But, with much proof of Masonic mental activity in other countries, it is impossible for Freemasons to stand still, or lag behind the race of intellect and inquiry. We have therefore in this country the MASONIC MAGAZINE and the FREEMASON for the information and edification of the Craft in all matters Masonic. But still every effort to render these Masonic publications worthy every way of our great Order, is open to a variety of ways, some serious, some childish, some amusing. Take charitable institutions. No publication more to advance the cause of the charities than THE FREEMASON, and yet what do we do at this hour? Not one of the Institutions in the paper as an institution. We are to publish long and verbose accounts of meetings, yet never is the slightest help held out Masonically to those who need Masonic information. We obtain a list of candidates to advertize, and of donations to be made from time to time, and which is considered a token of patronage or a proof of favour, which, in truth, we neither require nor desire. On one occasion during the year we published the list of successful candidates in a non-Masonic paper, and one of the objects of this very year has passed a resolution to alone in certain non-Masonic papers. We are, but entirely excluding deliberate care, to carefully THE FREEMASON from any part in such announcements. Now, as we do, we entirely disclaim either any personal feeling or of personal advantage.

natter. We are Freemasons, and we take a masonic view of things, and what ever others may do to us, we shall not do so unto them, but practising the golden rule of brotherly consideration and sympathy, shall always be happy, in any way we can, to advance the cause of the Masonic Charities: For we feel his, strongly, that there is no medium existing through which they can be so brought home to the knowledge and minds of the brethren so well as in the FREEMASON. As the FREEMASON has a cosmopolitan circulation, it conveys the reports and requirements of these excellent institutions all over the world. It is here, in our opinion, that the charities manifest a blot in their practical working. There is not sufficient information of their progress, proceedings, requirements, and wants communicated habitually to the Order. We have appeals and anniversaries, and lists, and lectures, but what we do not receive is detailed information. And if some of our good brethren and Secretaries, or the Committees, were not at times "penny-wise and pound-foolish," we feel sure that more general interest would be excited, and more general support would be elicited. It is quite clear that the charities will require considerable efforts to maintain their efficiency, and that they must mainly rely on the generous and general support of the Craft to keep up their large returns. We should, therefore, instead of raising agitated hands, devote the enormous amount to be spent on advertising of £10, or £20, or £30, if these good officials would only take heart, their own unvaried efforts would find answering sympathy in every corner of the Masonic world. Now, our readers must not suppose that, because we do this, we are exercising the Englishman's privilege of grumbling, or that we wish to wear a "Peter Grievous," or a "Job's Comforter" to our brethren. All that we want to convey to our readers to-day is that the Masonic press is both a need and an advantage in the age in which we live, and that it is the best channel, after all, for addressing our brethren in fraternal sympathy. We never have appealed for our, or patronage, or subsidies. We rely on the approval of our fraternity alone to encourage our efforts, and to repay our sacrifices. We think it well to put before our brethren, in another closing November, that while we are anxious—most anxious, to give all the information we can to the Craft of things Masonic, especially as regards the Metropolitan Charitable Institutions, we have on our part a Masonic appeal on their friendly support, and as we are the only Masonic weekly journal, all announcements to the Craft and to the public should at any rate, we venture to think, in the place appear in our columns. In carrying out what we have said above do we refer to the central authorities at Freemasons' Hall. We think them we receive everything that kindness and suggest, or goodwill can dictate; and all our, like ourselves, have from time to time transact business with the Grand Secretary, can tell how great are his courtesy and consideration, his patience, and his fraternal feeling for all who occupy his time, or apply to him for information. No brother has, or ever has, any cause for complaint as to delay or want of ready courtesy and willing assistance in Masonic matters at Freemasons' Hall. But the remarks we have previously made, are, we think, both needful and seasonable, and we trust that the illustrations we have given of our position may be appreciated and acted upon as a fraternal hint, and that the old adage may yet be verified in our case:—Verbum sat sapienti:

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

To the Editor of The Freemason.

Dear Sir and Worthy Brother,—

In your issue of the 31st ult, I find an article headed "Is the Pope a Freemason?" in which I am challenged to give some explanation on this point. This point has for a long time been discussed, and I think ought to be satisfactorily settled once for all, and then, in the words of Dante, dismissed. "Non ti curar d'lor, ma guarda e passa." Well then, on this point, I can only refer to the circular, which I had the pleasure of submitting to your inspection; the authenticity of which is unquestionable. It emanates from the G.L. "Anziani Virtuosi" under the jurisdiction of the W. and Worshipful Gr. O. of Palermo, and has been scattered broadcast. Issuing from such an highly respectable source, it necessarily bears the stamp of truth, and the certitude that proper and very exact informations have been duly taken. It would be absurd to think its subject matter is mere ideal fancy! Italian Freemasonry, second to none, has always kept the standard of our noble Order aloft, now constitutes itself its champion, and in doing so, rebuts the insult and lies cast against us, by one who once belonged to the fraternity. It is the more keenly sensitive to such insults and lies, as in the Order there are many Catholics who are warm upholders and supporters of the Craft, and none the less good Catholics. Hence the circular was issued and scattered far and wide with the further aim of suitably replying to the boasts of encyclicals, anathemas, and excommunications. The circular in question, which, being well acquainted with Italian, you read, positively asserts the fact that Mastai Ferretti, now Pope Pio IX., was initiated into Freemasonry in Philadelphia when he was Pontifical Nuncio in that city. That he became an ardent partisan of the Order, on whose behalf he laboured zealously, attaining the high rank of Rosa Crucis, and his speeches were full of admiration and goodwill for the Craft which he declared he would support and defend. He frequented lodges in Madrid and Sinigaglia, and by his zeal and assiduity obtained the support of the Craft. Notwithstanding the attacks against our Order, and principally in Italy, the Craft increased in number and virtue together with the general progress. It increased, being an opponent to falsehood and based on the sublime principles of religion and virtue. It increased, as, recognising no parties, it enjoins unity of doing good, and all those attacks against it fall to the ground, as it can firmly and surely repel them, our union being of wisdom, strength and beauty, which no age can obliterate nor malice prejudice, and the more we pursue it the greater will be the progress. The number of Masons reaches the conspicuous figure of 18,000,000. I will conclude these crude remarks by observing that Pio IX. would be highly reprehensible in attacking an institution of which he had no knowledge, knowing, as he undoubtedly does, its real principles and aims, he is doubly to blame, owing to the wilful falsehood he utters. Still, if Papal Rome persecuted and tortured Gallileo, denying "Epphursi muove" Freemasonry, as the history of the past and present amply show, society too need not wonder if they are endangered, attacked and persecuted by that intolerant and arrogant power. On this important subject Mr. Gladstone's pamphlet exposing the real nature of Papal Rome's pretensions and aims deserves the highest encomiums, gratitude, and consideration of every true and good citizen. The circular above referred to being too long suffice a few extracts, but you may have it, in extenso, should you wish it. I trust this will be so far a sufficient reply and remain,

Dear Sir and W.B., yours fraternally,

A. GALLICO.

I will hand you as soon as possible the ancient historical initiation of the E.A.

[Our good brother, Gallico, we see assumes the truth of the statement made by the lodge "Luce del Terrens Palermo." But in the view of the American report of 1870 we cannot accept such statement at present as correct.—Ed.]

We copy the following from a contemporary:—

To the Editor of the Liverpool Courier.

Sir,—May I take the liberty of asking you whether the Pope has not excommunicated himself? A few months since Pio Nono excommunicated all Freemasons throughout the world, he himself being one at the time. Now, as he (the Pope) is infallible, and therefore cannot do wrong, he must have excommunicated himself at the same time; and as no excommunicated person can be a Roman Catholic, he must have ceased to be a member of that Church, and consequently is no longer Pope of Rome. 'Tis very sad, but true.—Yours, &c., 16th Nov., 1874.

ROMEO.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

At the last General Committee Meeting of the Girls' School, I moved the resolution at foot, which was carried unanimously. I have given notice of motion of a similar resolution to the General Committee of the Boys' School for the next meeting, which takes place on Saturday the 5th day of December next at 4 o'clock precisely, at the offices, Freemasons' Hall, when I will thank you to attend and support the resolution, as I understand there will be opposition.

I am, yours faithfully and fraternally,

A. H. TATTERSHALL.

RESOLUTION.

"That all proxies shall be forwarded direct from the office to the parties to whom they belong, (i.e.) to those who are registered in the office books, except in those cases where the Secretary is authorised to deal with them otherwise, but in such cases where authorities are given, they must be renewed previous to every election."

BRO. CONSTABLE'S DRAWING.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Referring to your notice of the 14th inst., under the above heading, I beg to state that applications for tickets have been more numerous than was anticipated. I have therefore decided not to restrict the number in any way, but continue to issue as the necessity may demand.

At present, 3400 are distributed, and if our brethren will continue their exertions in the laudable effort, this number may be doubled by the time appointed for the drawing.

I take this opportunity of thanking you for your timely notices of my project, and earnestly solicit those brethren who have so generously supported and assisted me to send an early return of the numbers and names for registration.

I am, dear Sir and Brother, yours fraternally,

JOHN CONSTABLE.

13, Sise-lane, London, 24th Nov., 1874.

FREEMASONRY IN THE UNITED STATES.

BROOKLYN, N.Y. Nov. 9, 1874.

Masonic matters in the "City of Churches" are progressing quietly and harmoniously. All the lodges are in sound condition and with a fair amount of work. At this season of the year each lodge begins the preparation for a yearly festival to take place during, or shortly before, the holidays. Some of these entertainments are free, and some charge a small admission, and the profit expended for the benefit of the poor. In fact, the custom of holding festivals has come generally in vogue. Clinton Commandery K.T., proposed having another grand ball at the Academy of Music, and to eclipse all previous entertainments. This body, about four years ago, gave a small entertainment as an experiment, which exceeded their expectations so far that they have repeated the same every year, only on a larger scale. If they keep on, necessity will compel them to secure the Prospect or Central Park. Orient Chapter, 138, R.A.M., members are also making extensive preparations for their fifth annual. The Companions admit none but their own members and ladies. From 8 till 10 a miscellaneous literary and musical programme takes place in the chapter-room, then the chairs are removed and the mazy dance reigns supreme until the hour of one or two o'clock a.m. The tables, which are laden with the luxuries of the season, are ready when the dance begins, and the companions can adjourn to the supper room at their pleasure. During the month two new lodges have been formed, viz., the Covenant and Aurora Grata. These bodies, it is said, start out under the most auspicious circumstances and with some of the best brethren as their stronghold. It is rumoured steps are on foot for new Commandery. So mote it be.

AJAX.

LAYING THE MEMORIAL STONE OF A MASONIC HALL AT PRESCOT.

Another evidence of Masonic vitality in West Lancashire was given, on Wednesday, the 18th inst., when the memorial stone of a new Masonic hall was laid at Prescott, near Liverpool, by Bro. J. T. Hall, P.M. Lodge of Loyalty, with one exception the oldest in the province. The hall which speedily approaches completion, is being erected by Mr. J. T. Preston, of Wigan. The urgent need for such a place has long been felt by the Masonic brethren in Prescott, and there is no doubt that the building which is now being raised will not only supply what is much wanted in connection with Masonry in the town and district, but will also prove of the greatest service to the inhabitants generally, as provision is being made for public as well as Masonic purposes. The new building is situated a little below the Royal Hotel in Derby-street, Prescott, where the promoters purchased a very excellent piece of freehold land. The ground-floor front is being fitted up as a bank, having been let to Parr's Banking Company, St. Helen's, who are about to establish a branch bank in Prescott. At the back the Masonic Hall Company are erecting a large subscription billiard room, and it is probable there will also be general accommodation for a club. The Masonic lodge room will be above the bank, and the building committee being themselves Freemasons, it will no doubt be constructed with all regard to the comfort and convenience of the lodge.

The building, as we have said, is now fast approaching completion, and it was resolved to invite Mr. Hall, the chairman of the company, to lay it.

Wednesday week, being the day appointed for the installation of the W. M. of the lodge, it was wisely agreed that that would also be the most fitting occasion for the ceremony of laying the stone, seeing that there would be a great additional muster of the brethren in the town that day. In spite of the wretched weather there was a good gathering; and as the rain fortunately cleared off just before the time fixed for laying the stone, the proceedings were watched with much interest by a considerable number of spectators. The brethren and other shareholders and friends assembled at the King's Arms Hotel, whence they proceeded to the new building about two o'clock. Amongst those present were Bros. J. T. Hall, J. W. J. Fowler, R. Young (of Liverpool, W. M. elect of the Lodge of Loyalty); H. Fogg, C. Payne, Wynnstay, Ruabon; J. W. R. Fowler, St. Helen's; W. Tyrer (solicitor to the Company); J. Preston, of Wigan (the builder); R. D. Simpson, Widnes; J. Vaughan, Liverpool; W. Jamieson, Widnes; H. Vaughan, Liverpool; Alfred Smith, J. Kitchen, J. A. Stoddart, &c.

Bro. J. W. J. Fowler, P. M., presented Bro. Hall, P.M., with a very elegant and massive silver trowel, with which to lay the stone. The trowel, he said, had been subscribed for by a few friends as a mark of esteem and respect for Bro. Hall; and, in the names of the subscribers, he had very great pleasure in presenting it.

The trowel, of Masonic design, bore the following inscription:—"Presented to James Turner Hall, Esq., Prescott, on the occasion of his laying the memorial stone of the Prescott Masonic Hall. Nov. 18, 1874." Bro. J. Vaughan on behalf of the builder also presented Bro. Hall with a neat mahogany mallet. A bottle containing an account of the day's proceedings, photographs of the chairman of the company and the officers of the Lodge of Loyalty, and a copy of a Liverpool daily paper and the Freemason, was placed in a cavity underneath the stone.

Bro. Hall having adjusted it in its place, briefly addressed the company. He said—Gentlemen, as Chairman of the Prescott Masonic Hall Co., I have had very great pleasure in laying the Memorial Stone of this Hall, and perhaps I may be permitted to express my gratification—and, I am sure you will all be equally gratified at seeing the work progressing so rapidly, and so satisfactorily. As an old Freemason I may say that, I look upon this Hall as the inauguration of a new spirit of progress of our ancient Order, and I am glad to see that it is so well supported. Prescott, as you all know, is one of the most ancient towns in Lancashire. Perhaps it may be doubted whether its progress hitherto has been quite in keeping with its antiquity, but if you will look around you will see there is at present, at all events, a desire on the part of Prescott people to progress. Handsome buildings are being erected, watch manufactories in various parts, and extensive collieries are being worked and several other important ones are shortly expected to be in operation, I think and therefore it may be fairly expected that owing to the progress now going on, Prescott is really going to be a very important district. In conclusion I beg to thank you for the honour you have conferred upon me in allowing me to lay the memorial stone of this building. I must also thank the subscribers for the very handsome trowel which has been presented for the purpose, and I also have to thank Mr. Preston, the contractor, for the mallet presented on the occasion (applause.)

A hearty cheer having been given for the Masonic Hall and for the chairman of the company, the proceedings terminated.

INSTALLATION OF W.M. ELECT.

The brethren having returned to the King's Arms Hotel, the lodge was opened by Bro. J. W. R. Fowler, P.M., in the unavoidable temporary absence of Bro. H. Scott, W.M., who was subsequently present. The following other officers and brothers were in their places:—Bros. J. T. Hall, P.M.; R. Young, S.W.; (W.M. elect); W. Tyrer, J.W.; J. W. J. Fowler, P.M., Treas., P.P.G.A.D.C.; J. Vaughan, S.D.; J. V. De Denne, J.D.; R. D. Simpson, D.C.; H. Vaughan, I.G.; Coward, Tyler; C. Paine; W. Jamieson; A. Tebbutt; J. W. Carlile; J. Kitchen; J. A. Stoddart; H. Fogg; T. J. Tyrer; A. Smith; W. Shortis, P.M. 724; W. Holme; W. M. Jackson; A. T. Galloway; A. Borthwick; and F. Smith. The visitors included the names of Bros. A. Bueknall, 667 and 1473; A. Fraser, 226; J. Preston, 178; J. R. Cook, P.M. 178; &c.

Bro. Reginald Young was installed W.M. for the ensuing year by Bro. Fowler. The following were subsequently invested officers:—Bro. H. Scott, I.P.M.; W. Tyrer, S.W.; J. Vaughan, Sec.; J. Van de Denne, S.D.; H. Vaughan, J.D.; A. T. Galloway, I.G.; A. Tebbutt, S.W. M. Jackson, J.S.; J. T. Hall, P.M., D.A. A. Stoddart, Org.; and Coward, Tyler.

After the close of the lodge the brethren met together at a banquet, admirably served by Mr. Lloyd, the hostess of the "King's Arms." Young, W.M., presided, and there was a most enjoyable evening was spent.

During the proceedings a P.M.'s jewel was presented to I. P. M. Scott as a mark of internal regard and esteem.

THE RE-OPENING OF SWANSCOMB CHURCH.

Notwithstanding that Saturday last presented a dull autumn morning, a large congregation almost filled the ancient and historic church Swanscombe on the occasion of its re-opening and restoration. We understand that almost desperate efforts have been made by the builder (Mr. W. Gumbrell, of Dartford) to complete the work before the day of re-opening, but sufficient time does not seem to have been allowed; any rate, there were obvious indications that finishing touches had yet to be put to various parts of the edifice—particularly as respected the eastern window and front elevation of the new entrance porch. The nave, side aisles, and tower have been restored at the expense of Prof. Erasmus Wilson, F.R.S., the eminent surgeon of Henrietta Street, Cavendish Square, who formerly resided in this neighbourhood, and who is a contributor of something like £2,000. Messrs. White Bros., cement manufacturers, have, we are informed, given some £450 towards the work for the chancel; and the Freemasons have added £200, for the construction of the new porch honour of Professor Wilson. The architect is Jabez Bignall, Esq., of London; and Mr. Saunders was clerk of the works. There is a new, handsome pointed, oak roof, taking the place of a modern and unsightly flat, and the work of restoration has occupied about eight months. The nave was opened for divine service in June last. Besides gifts of money many friends have made presents to the building in the shape of stained glass windows, &c. A handsome iron-railed tomb has been added to Prof. Wilson's family. The interior aspect of the structure is entirely changed—it seems to have lost almost every vestige of that execrable antiquity which formerly characterised it; its dilapidation was extreme—it was quite a ruin, without foundations, with the walls falling in, and the walls crumbling in pieces, rendering the work of restoration exceedingly difficult,—and we are glad that the greatest care was exercised in the new, a conservative principle being strictly preserved, as far as practicable, throughout. The flooring has been repaired and underpinning. Matting was laid from the roadway to the entrance to render the passage comfortable. Mr. T. H. Jarvis officiated at the service at the morning service. Both the architect and builder have been highly commended for the manner in which the work has been carried out.

The sermon was a most impressive one delivered by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Rochester, who discoursed on the text—1st Cor. ix. v. 9, "For the zeal of Thine house eaten me up."

At the luncheon, after the usual toast Rev. T. Blackburn gave "The Architect," was almost the toast of the occasion—the name of him under whom the church had been restored. He thought it was only on account of being in charge of an ecclesiastical parish that he was the daughter of this parish that he had been called on to propose this toast, for he was unable to talk to them of the architectural merits of the edifice. Of all persons who restoration he supposed the architect was the most important, and his work had been done efficiently and in a masterly manner; few architects besides Mr. Bignall could have restored the building as they now saw it.

Bro. Bignall, responding, said he was pleased to see the completion of Swanscombe Church: the restoration was not an easy task, as the building was in a very dilapidated condition, but he was delighted to hear, day by day, on all sides, from those who were able to judge and whose opinion might be esteemed, that the work was being carried out to the satisfaction of all parties. He had not by any means forgotten the font; but had looked upon it with veneration and reverence, remembering that it had been there some hundreds of years. The reason he did not restore it was that it was cut out of a solid block of chalk, and to touch it was most dangerous; if, however, his lordship wished it, a piece could be let in, and it could be lined with oak.

CONSECRATION OF A CHAPTER AT ECCLES.

On Monday, the 16th inst., the consecration of the Victoria Chapter (No. 1345), took place at the Cross Keys Hotel, Eccles, near Manchester, where there was a goodly gathering of companions.

The presiding officer was Comp. Thomas Nylie, Prov. G. H., who performed the ceremony in an exceedingly able and impressive manner, receiving valuable assistance from Comp. H. S. Alpass, Prov. G.S.E., and Comp. J. N. Wylie, P. Prov. G.D.C.

The musical part of the ceremony was under the direction of Comp. J. Skeaf, Prov. G. Oranist.

After the consecration, Comp. T. Buxton was installed the First Principal; Comp. J. C. Gillman, Second Principal; and Comp. J. Barker, Third Principal; after which Comp. Harding was elected and invested as S.E.; Comp. W. Mellor, S. N.; and Comp. C. W. Ireland, P.S. At the conclusion of the business, the companions sat down to, and thoroughly enjoyed, a sumptuous repast prepared for them by Bro. Pearson, in his usually recherche style. The furniture, clothing, &c., were supplied from the Masonic establishment of Comp. George Kenning, and was of the most elegant and satisfactory character.

NOBLE EXPRESSION OF MASONIC SYMPATHY.

Never were the pillars of Wisdom, Strength and Beauty set up within the Lodge Neptune, Kilwinning, Ardrossan, No. 442, under circumstances more interesting or impressive than those under which the brethren met in their hall on the night of Friday, 6th November. The steamship Chusan from Glasgow for Shanghai having had her machinery disabled while passing through the Channel, was obliged to put back to Clyde for repairs. In doing so she was overtaken by a terrible storm on the morning of the 20th October, and being unable to contend with the gale, was run for Ardrossan, but while endeavouring to take the harbour she was dashed on the rocks within a short distance of the light-house pier and almost immediately broken in two. Of the crew, numbering 51 in all, nine were drowned—the captain and second being among those who perished. Captain G. C. Johnson, who belonged to Massachusetts, was accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law (also natives of America), after struggling bravely through the seething waters, bearing up his wife who was lashed to a spar, thrown from the steam tug, and succeeding in placing her within reach of hands outstretched to save her, he was overwhelmed by the surf and disappeared. His son and sister-in-law were saved. Captain Johnson was well known in Masonic circles at Shanghai, China, being a member of the Lodge Ancient Landmark, the Keystone Chapter, and the Rose Croix. To meet sympathise with those of the survivors who were Freemasons was the object of Neptune Kilwinning's communication. These were—

John Murdock Johnstone, chief officer, a M.M. of the Lodge Union and Crown, Glasgow, No. 103. He behaved with great gallantry on the wreck, making fast the line to each person hauled on board the lifeboat, and otherwise exerting himself in saving life.

Edwin Humphries, purser, a native of America, and a member of the Star King Lodge, the Washington Chapter, and the Winslow Lewis Encampment, Salem, Massachusetts; honorary member of St. Andrew's Chapter, Glasgow. It was mainly to his exertions that the captain's sister-in-law was saved.

—Gardiner, chief engineer. He was severely injured on the wreck, and was not sufficiently recovered to permit of his attendance in the lodge.

William Ortwin, 2nd engineer, member of Lodge Ancient Landmark, [and Keystone Chapter, Shanghai. He saved the captain's child, a boy of about five years old.

William Glass Wrench, 3rd engineer, of the Lodge Lindores, No. 104, and Glasgow St. Andrew's Chapter.

George Marr, 4th engineer, of the Lodge Caledonian Railway, Glasgow, No. 345.

Having in the unavoidable absence of the Rt. Wor. Bro. F. Goodwin, opened the lodge in the presence of about fifty brethren—including John Robertson, D.M.; W. Ross, S.M.; Reid, S.W.; W. Marshall, J.W.; and W. Wylie, Chaplain; the Past Master, Bro. James Robertson, spoke as follows:—"Worshipful Wardens and Brethren: The calamitous circumstances which have led to the present communication of Neptune Kilwinning being still fresh in the recollection of most of us, it is not necessary that I should, in any lengthened oration, expatiate upon them in order to evoke your sympathy in the object of our meeting. The name of this lodge is suggestive of its mission—the spread of Freemasonry among a class of men whose constant exposure to the dangers of the mighty deep renders it all the more necessary that they should belong to a society whose fraternal sympathy and regard are sure to meet the mariner either by land or sea, in every quarter of the globe. Composed, as our lodge is, to a large extent, of seamen sailing under almost every flag and speaking every language, it specially becomes us, on occasions like the present, to give practical effect to our fraternal obligations. Your presence here to-night shows that you are true to your Masonic principles. Turning to the officers present, Bro. Robertson continued—Bro. Johnson and surviving brethren of the Chusan, allow me, in name and in behalf of the Lodge Neptune Kilwinning, to offer you our heartfelt congratulations upon your merciful preservation from the fate which has overtaken so many of your shipmates on the wreck of the Chusan, and to beg your acceptance of this purse of fifty-four sovereigns (afterwards considerably increased) to assist in refitting you for the further prosecution of your hazardous calling. The disastrous circumstances under which you have been brought to Ardrossan will never be effaced from your memory, and associated with these will be your present visit to Neptune Kilwinning. We shall long remember you, and it is our earnest wish that the great Architect of the Universe may, at all times and under all circumstances, be your shield and deliverer, and may success attend each one of you in your future career."

Bro. Johnson, on receiving the purse, acknowledged on behalf of himself and his shipmates the debt of gratitude under which they had been laid to the Lodge Neptune Kilwinning by the overwhelming kindness of which they were the recipients. They could never cease to remember with the most fraternal feelings the brethren of No. 442. Bros. Marr, Humphreys, Ortwin, and Wrench, each in the fulness of heart which the proceedings had produced, indorsed with few but expressive words what had fallen from the chief officer, and made honourable mention of the sympathy which been extended by the people of Ardrossan to the crew of the ill-fated ship. The name of Bro. Charles Adair was closely associated with the kindness they had experienced.

The interest in this communication was intensified by the lodge's recognition of the gallantry of Bro. David Casey, chief officer of the barque Ads Barton, of St. John, N.B., in connection with the wreck of the Chusan. This brother was the first to volunteer to go out with the tug-boat, and at considerable personal risk bore the principal part in hauling the captain's wife and others of the survivors on board the tug—his exertions being redoubled from his having recognised certain Masonic signs thrown by Captain Johnson while supporting his wife on the wreck. To mark their admiration, therefore, of Bro. Casey's manly conduct, the brethren of Neptune Kilwinning, his mother lodge, presented him with a handsome gold ring, bearing an appropriate inscription. Bro. Casey is a Nova Scotian, hailing from Bay Vert.

UNITED GRAND LODGE.

The following is the agenda of business to be transacted in Grand Lodge, on Wednesday, 2nd December, 1874.

1. The Minutes of the Quarterly Communication of the 2nd September, 1874, for confirmation.
2. Report of the Members of Grand Lodge appointed at the last Quarterly Communication to offer the Grand Mastership of the Order to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, K.G., Past Grand Master, in accordance with the Book of Constitutions, in consequence of the resignation of the Marquess of Ripon.
3. A letter having been received from the Grand Lodge of Ireland announcing the melancholy intelligence of the decease of His Grace the Duke of Leinster, its Grand Master, the M.W. Grand Master will propose a Vote of Condolence to that Grand Lodge.
4. Nomination of a Grand Master for the ensuing year.
5. Appointment of a President of the Lodge of Benevolence.
6. Election of a Senior and Junior Vice-President of the Lodge of Benevolence.
7. Election of twelve Past Masters to serve on the Lodge of Benevolence for the year ensuing.
8. Report of the Lodge of Benevolence for the last quarter, in which are recommendations for the following Grants, viz.—

The widow of a brother of the Domatic Lodge, No. 177, London £100

A brother of the Royal Lodge of Faith and Friendship, No. 270, Berkeley ... £50

The widow of a brother of the Royal Gloucester Lodge, No. 130, Southampton £75

A brother of the Strawberry Hill Lodge, No. 946, Twickenham £100

A brother of the Caledonian Lodge, No. 134, London ... £150

A brother of the Vitruvian Lodge, No. 87, London..... £50

9. Report of the Board of General Purposes To the United Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of England.

"The Board of General Purposes have to report that their attention has been drawn to the circumstances that Lodge 972 (St. Augustine) had initiated a minor without dispensation, under the alleged supposition that as a "Lewis" it could be legally done.

"The Board having considered the circumstances, arrived at the unanimous conclusion that a violation of the constitutions and a consequent breach of Masonic law had been committed, and although this had apparently taken place under an idea of its legality, which is stated to be somewhat prevalent in the Craft, and therefore without intention to infringe Masonic law, the Board considered they had no option but to admonish the lodge, and they resolved that the lodge be admonished accordingly, and that the certificate of the initiated minor be not issued until he be re-obligated when of full age, or otherwise in accordance with the Book of Constitutions.

"(Signed) J. B. MONCKTON,
"President."

"Freemasons' Hall, London, W.C.,
"17th November, 1874."

To the Report is subjoined a Statement of the Grand Lodge Accounts at the last meeting of the Finance Committee, held on Friday, the 13th day of November instant, showing a balance in the hands of the Grand Treasurer of £3,375 8s. 6d.; and in the hands of the Grand Secretary, for Petty Cash, £75; and for Servants' Wages £96 15s.

10. Memorial from the Loyalty Lodge, No. 358, Ireland Island, Bermuda, for a donation towards the fund for re-building their Masonic Hall.

11. Resolutions of Condolence from the Dalhousie Lodge, Newton, Mass., U.S.A., on the death of the Earl of Dalhousie, Past Deputy Grand Master of England.

12. Proposed Motions:—

By Bro. John B. Monckton, President of the Board of General Purposes:—

"That the hour of meeting of the Board of General Purposes on the third Tuesday in every month be altered from three o'clock to four o'clock, and that the word 'three' in Article 6, page 109, of the Book of Constitutions, be altered to the word 'four' accordingly.

By Bro. John M. Clabon, President of the Lodge of Benevolence:—

On consideration of the following Table, he will move—"That until Grand Lodge shall otherwise direct, one-third of the annual surplus of the Fund of Benevolence shall be appropriated for the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys, and another third for the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls, in forming funds for apprenticing the children of Freemasons who have been in those schools, or in otherwise assisting them to commence life."

"Such one-third parts respectively shall be invested in the names of four trustees for each school, to be appointed by Grand Lodge, and the dividends paid to the Treasurer of each school."

"The General Committee, on the recommendation of the House Committee of each school, may apply the dividends of the funds respectively appropriated to the school, for the benefit of children who have been at the school during the preceding twelve months, in apprenticing them to any business or profession, or otherwise aiding them to obtain employment; or in applying any sum granted, by annual instalments, for a limited period, for the benefit of those proceeding to any college, school, or university."

"No sum exceeding twenty-five pounds shall be appropriated for the benefit of any child, without the consent of the Quarterly Court of the school; and such Court shall render to Grand Lodge an annual account of the receipts and expenditure on account of the said funds."

PROVINCIAL GRAND CHAPTER OF MIDDLESEX.

The Third Convocation of the Provincial Grand Chapter of Middlesex was held at the Mitre Hotel, Hampton Court, on Saturday last.

The Burdett Chapter (No. 1293), was first opened. Present Comp. R. Wentworth Little, Z.; Boyd, H.; Davison, J.; Phythian, Keily, White, Rucker, Parkinson, Rosenthal, Sanders, Levander, Buss, Dicketts, J. T. Moss, Dubois, Smeed, Charles Horsley, Potter, Storr, Kenning, and others. Bros. Wardale, Lucking, and four other brethren were exalted.

The Provincial Grand Chapter was then opened. Comp. R. W. Little officiated as Prov. G. Supt., in the absence of M.E. Comp. Sir Francis Burdett.

The following companions were invested as Provincial Grand Officers:—
Comp. J. C. Parkinson, G.H.; Coutts, G. J.; Buss, G. Treasurer; Gilbert, G. Tyler.

After the transaction of some other business, the Provincial Grand Chapter was closed, and the companions adjourned to the banquet.

Certain trifling flaws sit as disgraceful on a character of elegance as a ragged button on a court dress.—LAVATER.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FUND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF THE LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D (ENGLAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

PRESIDENT.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BARCH M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

At a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, recently held at Landport, it was unanimously resolved that a Committee be appointed for the purpose of raising a fund, to provide a suitable memorial to our late deeply-lamented Bro. Stebbing.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolution, a meeting was held at Southampton, which was largely attended, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

"That the Lodges and Chapters of the Province and Freemasons generally be solicited to subscribe to a fund, to be appropriated as the Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary."

"That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to each Lodge and Chapter in the Province, inviting their co-operation, as well as that of Brethren and Companions generally, in obtaining subscriptions to the fund."

"That a circular stating the circumstances be also transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

The name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is so well known in all Masonic circles that it seems unnecessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a constant attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the Board of General Purposes in 1861, 1862 and 1863, and also an active member of the Building Committee of the present Freemasons' Hall, London.

He was rarely absent from the elections in the various Charities, giving his valuable aid to the poor and distressed amongst the brethren and their relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he had qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' School, Life Governor of the Girls' School, and Life Governor of the Benevolent Institution; and it is sincerely hoped that the Widow of one who was so actively engaged for the benefit of others (herself a Life-Governor of the Boys' School) should be placed in circumstances which will assist her in her present unexpected bereavement.

Subscriptions in aid of this fund may be transmitted to the Treasurer, Aldermoor House, near Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Maddison, Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind used in Her Majesty's Laundry.

Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS.

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri.

The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $3 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be kept currency. Postage free.

Subscriptions received at the Office of the London Freemason, 198, Fleet-street:

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason."

BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea.

A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry.

Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c.

Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

THE ENTR'ACTE.

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW.

Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every musical and music-hall artiste. It contains a splendid catalogue of First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, 21, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

Now Ready, Fifth Edition. 6s.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF

HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L.

"A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age.

London Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC and LIVER

PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Danzelon, Turkey

Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger.

No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Costiveness, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and the most delicate may take them with safety.

Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON'S

SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success.

In Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by

THOMAS WILKINSON,

270, Regent Street, London, W.

May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUININE

ADINE For the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, and

Effects of MALARIA.

An Unfailing Remedy.

Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily took small quantities, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, that thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Full Bottles.

Prepared only by

THOMAS WILKINSON,

270, Regent Street, London, W.

May be had of all leading Firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON'S BRONCHIO-THORACIC

LOZENGES.

Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience fully justified their recommendation as the most speedy remedy

Irritation of the Throat, Catarrhs, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient

Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers a reocals they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and beautiful tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable quality.

In bottles of one uniform size.

O P H T H A L M I A

SAVE YOUR EYES! RESTORE YOUR SIGHT!

THE EYES!

Those who are troubled with Inflamed Eyelids, Dimness of Sight or Weak Eyes, should use

COCKLES' EYE WATER.

This noted application has been before the public upwards seventy years; it is used by Royalty, the Nobility, Clergy, and Officers of both Services, and overworked Eyes; cures eye

Restores impaired vision and needs no further recommendation.

Restores inflamed, and near-sighted Eyes, and stimulates the water, to health in all other diseases. Perfectly safe. The patient specify and relief from his use. 1s. 7d. 3s. 6d. and 6s. per cases for India, securely packed, 21s. Can be ordered through Chemist in this neighbourhood.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPE

TACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired

by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Thornbury

Opicians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C.

six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which con valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET

Try Anthony Scard's new material! Facultary Pre

Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never crack comes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable luxury superlative specialite. 8, Bow Lane, Cheapside, E.C. Ladies

skillfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

Just published, Free Edition.

GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE A

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS,

TAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all di of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve

By DR. HENRY SMITH.

GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Stre

ing the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and S

Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Injuries of Old Age.

The pamphlet will be sent free by post on any ad from on two penny stamp.

Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 4, Burleigh Gardens, London, W.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered. CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma. CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague. CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery. CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms. CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

Extract from "INDIAN ECONOMIST."

"We direct the attention of medical men to a fact observed some years since by ourselves, and corroborated by our subsequent experience, that Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is in many cases of Low Fever immensely superior to Quinine in curative power. We cannot persuade ourselves that the true value of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is yet properly appraised in India. . . . It may be given with absolute safety even to a child three days old. Were medical men but to make a fair and exhaustive trial of it we are persuaded that it would work a revolution in the treatment of two-thirds of the diseases to which children are subject. Its curative power is simply amazing."

"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he had received a despatch from her Majesty's Consul at Manilla, to the effect that Cholera had been raging fearfully, and that the ONLY remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE."—See Lancet, Dec. 1. 1864.

From W. VESALIUS PETTIGREW, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England.

Formerly Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine.

"I have no hesitation in stating, after a fair trial of Chlorodyne, that I have never met with any medicine so efficacious as an Anti-Spasmic and Sedative. I have tried it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhoea, and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

From Dr. THOMAS SANDIFORD, Passage West, Cork.

"I will thank you to send me a further supply of Chlorodyne. It was the most efficacious remedy I ever used, affording relief in a violent attack of Spasms within a minute after being taken. One patient in particular, who has suffered for years with periodical attacks of Spasms of a most painful nature, and unable to obtain relief from other remedies, such as opium, &c., finds nothing so prompt and efficacious as Chlorodyne."

From JNO. E. GOULSTONE, M.D., late Principal Surgeon to the Steamship Great Eastern.

"I can confidently state Chlorodyne is an admirable Sedative and Anti-Spasmic, having used it in Neuralgia, Hysteria, Asthma, and Consumption, with remarkably favourable results. It relieved a fit of Asthma in four minutes, where the patient had suffered eleven years in a most distressing manner, no previous remedy having had so immediate and beneficial an effect."

From Dr. B. J. BOULTON and Co., Horncastle.

"We have made pretty extensive use of Chlorodyne in our practice lately, and look upon it as an excellent direct Sedative and Anti-Spasmic. It seems to allay pain and irritation in whatever organ, and from whatever cause. It induces a feeling of comfort and quietude not obtainable by any other remedy, and it seems to possess this great advantage over all other sedatives, that it leaves no unpleasant after effects."

J. C. BAKER, Esq., M.D. Bideford.

"It is, without doubt, the most valuable and certain Anodyne we have."

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the Defendant, Freeman, was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "Times," 13th July, 1864.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming Medical Testimony accompanies each Bottle.

CAUTION.—BEWARE OF PIRACY AND IMITATIONS.

SOLE MANUFACTURER—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, GREAT RUSSELL STREET, BLOOMSBURY, LONDON.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,
NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies are payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.
ARNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

ONEY, TIME AND LIFE
ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF
ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.
Provide against these losses by a Policy of the Way Passengers' Assurance Company
GAINST ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS.
Best and largest ACCIDENTAL ASSURANCE COMPANY
Hon. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.
—Up Capital & Reserve Fund £140,000
ANNUAL INCOME, £160,000.
£1,000 have been paid as Compensation.
Insured allowed to Insurers of Five Years' standing.
Agents to the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents,
BARNHILL, and 10, REGENT STREET, LONDON
WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

S. YARDLEY,
(ESTABLISHED 1830)
Top Front Builder,
SHOP FITTER,
AND
Tight Show Case Manufacturer,
LOWER WOOD STREET, CLERKENWELL,
LONDON, E.C.

Description of fittings manufactured for Jewellers, Cutlers, &c., Offices, Drapers, Museums, Banks, Libraries, Outfitters, Hoopsters, Fancy Trades, &c., and Estimates provided for shop fronts and internal fittings in any part of the Country.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.
SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.
For Insuring against
ACCIDENTAL DEATH
With
Compensation for Personal Injury,
Caused by Accidents
CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.
Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.
London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

THE
LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d.
Entrance Fee 3 3 0
Annual Subscription 3 3 0
Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchants, Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) 1 1 0
The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante, Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c. & also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSIAND,
P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W. &c., Manager.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.
SUBERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for SUBERIUM. NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c.
SUBERIUM. Retail through all Furnishing Houses.
SUBERIUM. Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.
THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.
OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.
NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT:
May, 1874.

New Business. 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
Laid by in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY
(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
C. HARDING, Manager.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £3,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)
Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

Richard Rayner & Co.,
MANUFACTURING
CABINET MAKERS AND UPHOLSTERERS,
142, ALDERSGATE STREET,
LONDON, E.C.

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.)
A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (½d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly excels all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.
"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair to its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.
"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,

And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.
Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.
Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-street, London.

FOR FISH. Try GOW
FOR POULTRY. Try GOW.
FOR GAME. Try GOW.
FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS. Try GOW
J. GOW.
1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c.
Country Orders promptly executed.
ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
(LATE WITH PATEHALL & CO.)
106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.
Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.
Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, and an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

MESSRS. BARTON AND DREW,
55, FORE STREET, CITY,
Who have for 27 years acted for

PERSONS IN EMBARRASSED CIRCUMSTANCES
CONTINUE TO OBTAIN DISCHARGES FROM DEBT IN TOWN OR COUNTRY.

By proceedings in
BANKRUPTCY, LIQUIDATION OR COMPROMISE,
Which stays all legal proceedings (and in most cases without publicity or suspension of Business.)
CHARGES MAY BE PAID BY EASY
INSTALLMENTS.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION OR ANSWERS TO ENQUIRIES MADE BY LETTERS.
DIVORCE AND COMMON LAW CASES CONDUCTED,
BILLS OF SALE AND CONVEYANCES
PREPARED AND COMPLETED
at reasonable charges.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Fulda. Terms, 60, 70, and 80g. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,
232 HIGH HOLBORN,
Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.
Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. Ayton,
Successor to E. T. CROFTON,
Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
ESTABLISHED 1821,
79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
AND
139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
Price List on Application. Distance no object.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.

Artist and Photographer.

11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.
Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s.; Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH,

LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for

Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent
Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is specially adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN.

213, REGENT-STREET, W.

WINDOW BLINDS. JANES & SON.

WIRE, VENETIAN, OUTSIDES, &c.
Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street, City
Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly.
No Other House.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, Electro plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger,
43, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.
OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REALLY
Good Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immenese Stock," but sufficiently large for any person to select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other house in the Trade," but quite as cheap as any.
A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes

at 75, Edgware-road, W.
Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, £8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; ten stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,
Harmonium Manufacturers,
75, Edgware-road, London.
FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

ALDERNEY, JERSEY, AND GUERNSEY COWS, HEIFERS, and BULLS

ED. PARSONS FOWLER, of Jersey, and 10, Gloucester square, Southampton, has always on PRIVATE SALE
at his stables, Southampton, choice herds of the above breeds, exporting annually 1,000. He also begs to observe that he is no wise connected with parties trading under his surnames, being the sole exporter.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to shipowners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

THE NEW

MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,
Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE WORSHIPFUL MASTER,

SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.
6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND
CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,
10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

BRO. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depôts,
LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 19, Fleet-street.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.
GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch lane.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.
In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each, REVEY SON AND Co., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S

NEW TRACING BOARDS

Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.

A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF MASONIC EMBLEMS

may be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. G. Kenning, at his Masonic Depôts in London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d. MASONIC GATHERINGS.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.
Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from earliest to the present time, &c.
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN, 198, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool
145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane Glasgow

THE STRAND TURKISH BATH

335C, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.
Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 3 a.m. till 2 a.m. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m., 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets 2s. 6d. Warm, cold, shower, and Turkish baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH.
From the Houseman, [unclear]

THE BIRKBECK

is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts are ONE MILLION.
How to Purchase a House for Two Guinea per Week With Immediate Possession and no Rent to pay. The Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Week With Immediate Possession, either for Building or for PLY at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to Invest Money with Safety at 4 per cent. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
All sums under £500 may be repaid on demand. The Society opened a new office on Monday, 1st Nov. 1874. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Monday from 10 till 4. A small number of shares may be obtained gratis, or some of them may be obtained on a very liberal plan. For particulars apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF MASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.

PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolic, Ritualistic Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s. 6d. London: Reeves and Turner, 195, St. Martin's Lane.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
 DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,
 AS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,

CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

The London Meetings are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in Towns, alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Single Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.
 COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country. The promenade Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is held to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists will find Tramore worthy of being known as a bathing place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yachting, boating, and a first-class hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and at the most moderate of any similar house in the Kingdom.
 James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
 (NEAR GRAVESEND.)

MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS,
 SUPPERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.

This hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and affords a splendid view of the river it commands, with the compassing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the viands will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every palate.
 Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend Railway Station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
 BRAS, H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS, Proprietors

Masons' Hall Tavern,

105, AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY OF LONDON. Above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN, Master of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other Societies for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new management.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
 CONDUIST-STREET, REGENT-STREET.

Public and Private Dining Rooms.
 First-class Cooking and Wines.
 Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
 Bro. F. HILLIARDS, Proprietor.

BE LET.—A LARGE ROOM AT No. 10, Smith's, the Union Tavern, Air-street, Regent-street. Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, for Lodges and other Societies of Instruction, Private Clubs, Public, Private, and Station Dinners.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantinian, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems. The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires, emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
 LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 25s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street
 LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.
 SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Gulldhall Tavern,
 GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales, Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

QUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
 32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
 JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

GEORGE REES

MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES'

GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade.

GEORGE REES'

100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES'

First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES'

CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices.

57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre

Interest guaranteed up to the 5th day of November, 1876, the period fixed for completion of the contract for the construction of the works at 6 per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly, and secured by a sum to be invested in Consols in the names of N. W. J. STRODE, Esq., of Chislehurst, and THOMAS KNOX HOLMES, Esq., 18, Abingdon-street, S.W.

THE HARWICH HARBOUR, DOCKS, WHARVES, AND WAREHOUSES COMPANY (LIMITED).

Established under the Companies' Acts, 1862 and 1867, 25 and 26 Vict. cap. 89, and 30 and 31 Vict. cap. 131.

CAPITAL £100,000,

IN 20,000 SHARES OF £5 EACH.

Of which 19,000 Shares (£95,000) are now offered to the public for Subscription.

Deposit £1 per Share on Application, and £1 per Share upon Allotment, and the Balance by equal Instalments in Six, Nine, and Twelve Months.

No Promotion Money is paid, each Director qualifies himself, and receives no bonus directly or indirectly for acting. The Directors' remuneration is entirely dependent on the Vote of a General Meeting.

Directors.

The VISCOUNT RANELAGH, 18, Albert Mansions, S.W. (Chairman of the Conservative Land Society).
 COLONEL H. J. W. JERVIS, M.P. for Harwich.
 WILLIAM GROOM, Esq. (Messrs. W. Groom & Co., Shipowners), Harwich.
 COLONEL AUGUSTUS W. H. MEYRICK, 14, Essex-villas, Kensington, W.
 GEORGE JOSSELYN, Esq., Ipswich.
 N. W. J. STRODE, Esq., Chislehurst, Kent.
 WILLIAM F. WOLLEY, Esq., The Pryors Bank, Fulham, Middlesex.
 (With power to add to their number.)

Bankers.

LONDON AND WESTMINSTER BANK (Temple Bar Branch).
 MESSRS. HERRIES, FARQUHAR & Co., 16, St. James's-street, W.
 MESSRS. COX, COBBOLD & Co., Harwich.

ENGINEER.—JOHN ASHDOWN, Esq., C.E.

SOLICITOR.—HENRY SMITH, Esq., 33, Norfolk-street, Strand, W.C.

ACCOUNTANT.—CHARLES BELTON, Esq.

AUDITORS—T. S. EVANS, Esq., (Messrs. Evans, Bouchard & Co.), King William-street, E.C.
 Boyes & Child, 2, Carey lane, General Post Office, E.C.

ROBERT MINTON, Esq. (Messrs. Minton & Co.)

SECRETARY.—J. H. HILEY, Esq.

OFFICES:—33, NORFOLK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.

Abridged Prospectus.

This Company has been formed for the purpose of enclosing and reclaiming about 100 acres of foreshore immediately adjoining the town of Harwich, in the estuary of the river Stour, and for the construction of an inner Harbour, Docks, Wharves, and sites for Bonded and other Warehouses and places of business in connection therewith.

The site selected is the most valuable portion of an extent of foreshore which for many years has attracted the attention of some of the most experienced Engineers and Contractors of the present century, including the late Mr. Brassey, Mr. Walker, Mr. Rendle, Sir John Rennie, &c. (by whom most careful surveys and estimates, in connection with it, have from time to time been made).

The immense increase in the trade of Harwich, and the consequent indisputable demand for dock and wharfage accommodation, can be easily proved by reference to the evidence of the Great Eastern Railway Company, given before a Parliamentary Committee, the Custom House returns published for Parliament, and the returns of the Harwich Harbour Conservancy Board to the Board of Trade.

The following is a Comparative Statement of the Number and Tonnage of Vessels to and from the Port of Harwich (as per Custom House Returns), exclusive of fleet of fishing and dredging smacks:—

	1864.		1872.		Increase.
	No.	Tons.	No.	Tons.	No.	Tons.
Foreign Trade .	576	154,051	767	330,146	191	176,095
Coasting Trade.	812	41,341	802	45,558	—	4,217

Full Prospectus and Forms of Application for Shares can be obtained at the Bankers, and Offices of the Company, or will be forwarded by post upon application to the Secretary.

If no allotment of shares be made, the deposits received will be returned without deduction of any kind.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF
 Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES, the M.W. Grand Master of England; SIR MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart.,
 M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

L. 7, No. 300.]

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD, With Supplement, [PRICE 2d.]

Use of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOW OF
 LATE W. BRO. J. R. STEBBING, P.G.D.
 LAND) AND D. PROV. G.M.

7.—The Right Worshipful W. W. B. BRECH,
 M.P., Provincial Grand Master.

meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge held at Landport, it was unanimously that a Committee be appointed for the of raising a fund to provide a suitable al to our late deeply-lamented Bro.

By the issuance of the foregoing resolution, a was held at Southampton, which was attended, when the following resolutions unanimously adopted:—

That the Lodges and Chapters of the Isle and Freemasons generally be solicited to scribe to a fund, to be appropriated as a Committee shall determine, for the benefit of the Widow of our late lamented Bro. J. R. Stebbing, whose circumstances at the time of his decease render this appeal absolutely necessary.

That copies of these resolutions be sent to each Lodge and Chapter in the County, inviting their co-operation, as well as of Brethren and Companions generally obtaining subscriptions to the fund." That a circular, stating the circumstances, be transmitted to all other Lodges and Chapters in England."

That the name of the late Bro. J. R. Stebbing is known in all Masonic circles that it be necessary to set forth at length his long and valuable services. For many years he was a attendant at Grand Lodge and Grand assisting the interests of the Brethren and Companions. He was Vice-President of the of General Purposes in 1861, 1862, 1863, and also an active member of the Committee of the present Freemasons' Association.

That he was rarely absent from the elections in the County, giving his valuable aid to and distressed amongst the brethren and relatives, contributing from his means to the advancement of those charities, in which he was qualified as Vice-Patron of the Boys' and Girls' School, and as Patron of the Benevolent Institution; and he sincerely hoped that the widow of one so actively engaged for the benefit of the County should be placed in circumstances to assist her in her present unexpected situation.

That contributions in aid of this fund may be sent to the Treasurer, Alder Moor House, Southampton; or to his bankers, Messrs. Atherly, Hankinson, and Darwin, Southampton.

W. HICKMAN, Treasurer.
 J. E. LE FEUVRE, Secretary.

Y.—LOANS granted immediately for £100 to £3,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over five or ten years, on Personal Security and Life with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE COMPANY (Established 1807.)
 Superintendent of Agents,
 ROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
 Agents Wanted.

CAVENDISH CLUB

309, REGENT-STREET, W.
 Established 1855. Under New Management and Proprietorship since January 1, 1874.
 The Committee of this Club, finding they have further accommodation, have decided on ADMITTING ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS WITHOUT an ENTRANCE FEE. The Club is admirably situated in the centre of the West-end, and the arrangements complete in every respect. The Club being proprietary, members incur no liability beyond their subscription. The Committee have the management of the Club, and the election of the members by ballot.

COMMITTEE.
 Chairman—JOHN A. MAGEE, Esq.
 Sir Gilbert Campbell, Bart. Lieut.-Col. Peters,
 C. B. Elliott, Esq. Charles Semple, Esq.
 Major Collinson Hall. E. G. Stone, Esq.
 J. Evans Kershaw, Esq. E. E. Witt, Esq.

Annual Subscription:
 Town members £5 5 0
 Country members 3 0 0
 Applications for membership to be made to J. Palmer, Esq., Secretary.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE, 9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON. ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, tender assignments, stamps, legal duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.
 SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.
 For Insuring against
ACCIDENTAL DEATH
 With
Compensation for Personal Injury,
 Caused by Accidents
 CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
 LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.
 Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.
 London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.
 OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.
NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT:
 May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
 New Annual Income, £12,236.
 192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
 26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
 Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
 Laid by in year, £44,087.
 In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
 Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
 Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies.
 Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
 William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

ENGLISH CLOTHING is justly regarded as the best in the world, and E. Moses and Son's as the best in England.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES and SON have as usual made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.
 Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
 Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
 LONDON.
 Minorities and Aldgate,
 New Oxford-street,
 Tottenham-Court-road,
 And Bradford, Yorkshire.

MOURNING.

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
 Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
 LONDON.
 Minorities and Aldgate,
 New Oxford-street,
 Tottenham-court-road,
 and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.
 "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.
 Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
 48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.
 Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

COATS OF ARMS, CRESTS, AND MONOGRAMS FOUND.
 SEALS, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE PAPER DIES.
 ENGRAVING OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
 BRO. JAS. B. SLY, 9, RATBONE PLACE, W., LONDON.
 Your Arms, Crest and Motto Found and Drawn for 4s. 6d.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.
A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.
 Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by
STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,
 Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
 5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS
 London.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY
 (Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
 General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
 Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
 C. HARDING, Manager.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S
WORLD FAMED
BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK—"BLOOD MIXTURE."

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER.
For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.
For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure.

- It Cures old Sores.
- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
- Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs.
- Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
- Cures Scabby Sores.
- Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
- Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
- Cures Glandular Swellings.
- Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of Testimonials from all parts.
Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 37 or 152 stamps by
F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln.
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

CROSBY'S
BALSAMIC
COUGH ELIXIR.

Opiates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. It is one of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increase that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern medicine points to CROSBY'S

BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.
SELECT TESTIMONIAL.
Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist Scarborough.

* Invaluable should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had Gratis of all Chemists.

YOUNG'S ARNICATED
CORN AND JUNION
PLASTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate relief, and removing those painful excrescences. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them. Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS

Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the

MANUFACTURER,
Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.
Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free. Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage rec.
Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly.
NEW PATENT.

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.
The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

CHEST EXPANDING BRACES,
(For both sexes).
For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces. For children they are invaluable, they prevent stooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest.
Prices, for children, 5s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s. 6d., 15s. 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free.
And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.
JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA.
ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.
Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.
This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious, perfectly digestible, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."
age for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children.
It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.
In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)
Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, digestible, and made instantaneously.
SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

CAUTION.
GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS and FUNERAL FEATHERMEN.
81, CITY ROAD, FINSBURY SQUARE,] AND 24, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNHAM ST. near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N. opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C.
No connection with any other establishment of the same name.
Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

FREDERICK ADLARD,
MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.,
Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher (Rgstd.).

Bro. Adlard's famous Jewel Attacher from its simplicity and convenience has only to be known to be universally adopted. The price 7s. 6d. places it within the reach of all.—"Masonic Magazine."
We have much pleasure in recommending Bro. Adlard's Attacher for its convenience and neatness.—"The Freemason."
Bro. Adlard's Superior Fining Colours are well worthy attention of the Craft.

No. 225, HIGH HOLBORN,
Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."
Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.
ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS SAUCE.
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels.
Agents—CROSS & BLACKWELL, London, and sold by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.
SUBERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, clean, and durable. Particularly adapted for SUBERIUM. NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c.
SUBERIUM. Retail through all Furnishing Houses.
SUBERIUM. Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.
Richard Rayner & Co.,
MANUFACTURING
CABINET MAKERS AND UPHOLSTERERS,
142, ALDERSGATE STREET,
LONDON, E.C.

GLASGOW.
ROSE HOTEL,
109, ARGYLE STREET.

Quiet Family Hotel. Lofy and Well-Ventilated Rooms. Culinary Department First-Class.
Bro. G. B. ADAMS, Proprietor.

GLASGOW.
ST. ANDREW'S RESTAURANT
Nos. 28, 30, & 32, HUTCHINSON STREET.

Luncheons, Dinners, Fish and Tripe Suppers, moderate charges. Ample Accommodation for Small Marriage or Supper Parties, Comings, &c.
Bro. S. McPhee, Proprietor.

GLASGOW.
Bro. JOHN C. REID
ENGRAVER,

Every Description of Silver and Ornamental Masonic and General.
No. 109, ARGYLE STREET.

GLASGOW.
Bro. WILLIAM PHILLIPS
PRACTICAL TAILOR AND CLOTHIER

No. 92, RUTHERGLEN LANE.
Has had long experience in the Manufacture and Description of Masonic Clothing, and has hand a varied assortment of M.M. Aprons, &c. at the most moderate charges.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE
LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.
TERMS.
Entrance Fee
Annual Subscription
Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchants, Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee).
The room is well supplied with newspapers, books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Reading, Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Respective, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.
Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUS
P.M., P.Z., P.F., P.G.W. &c.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

LISTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 of Masonry 775
 Instruction 777
 of the Arch 778
 of the Land 778
 of the Tidings 779
 of the Masonic Press 780
 of Pope a Freemason? 781
 SPONSORSHIP:—
 of Masonic Bibliography and the Vernon Lodge 781 of Masonic Jurisprudence 781 of Masonic Stations 782
 of Pope a Freemason? 782
 of Masonic Portraits 782 of Pope and Freemasonry 783 of Catholic Loyalty 783 of the Lodge of Improvement 783 of the Masonic Institution for Girls 784 of Masonic Ceremonies 784 of Masonic Instruments 773 774 780 785 786 787 788
 SUPPLEMENT (EIGHT PAGES).
 of the Lodge of Scotland 789 of the Lodge of Mark Masters 790 of the Council of Royal and Select Masters 791 of the Mark Lodge of Devon 792 of the Priory of Devonshire 792 of the Mark Lodge of Kent 793 of the Grand Lodge 793 of Masonry in Japan 796

LISTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS

Craft Masonry.

THE LODGE (No. 141).—The last meeting of the century lodge for the year was held at the London Hotel, Fleet-street, on Tuesday, the 19th inst. Bros. Kennet, W.M.; Mallett, S.D.; J.D.; Dairy, I.G.; Carter, P.M., Treas.; and P.M., Sec.; Themans, Immediate P.M. Minutes having been read and confirmed, the W.M. proceeded to raise Bro. Ashton, and the ceremony was excellently well performed. The passing of Bros. Collins, and Wilkinson was next carried in the same able manner. The lodge then proceeded for Messrs. Bird, Crow, Dyke, Oliver, Pilbrow and Steng, and the results of the ballot being unanimous, the W.M. initiated five gentlemen into the mysteries of Craft. The ballot was then taken as follows: Sly, (65); L. Cooper, (141); S. (141); and W. Reeve, (768), Marini, Australia, to become joining members, was unanimous. It was proposed by Taylor, and seconded by P.M. Harris, that the list as Steward to the Charity for Freemasons should be headed by a lodge of £10 10s. od., which was carried unanimously. The lodge having been closed in form, the brethren adjourned to the dining hall, where an excellent repast was served. About seventy members and were present. Among the latter were Bowron, P.M. of the Doric, (993); W.M., (221); Holland (114); Wrangell, (19); Wood, (890); and Catchpole and (1381). The W.M. gave the "Queen of the South," and "H.R.H. the Prince of Wales," which toasts were received with "fire" and Bro. T. C. Walls, sang one of the "National Anthem" and "Hess the Prince of Wales." After the toast toasts had been duly honoured Bro. Bird contributed the "Lass of Richmond" and Bro. Bird the "Days of Old." P.M. proposed the health of the W.M., and related the lodge upon possessing so noble a working brother at its head. This was received with great warmth. Bro. Bird sang the ballad "I don't mean to tell you," and Bro. Themans "Encore, encore, more." The health of the initiates was responded to by Bros. Bird and Dyke, who having recited "Claude Melnotte's to Pauline" from the "Lady of Lyons," the W.M. gave the "Visitors," which was ably responded to by P.M. Bowron on behalf of the visiting brethren. In the course of the evening he mentioned the fact of his having initiated the "Faith" Lodge in 1860, when the pleasure of receiving the hospitality and witnessing the excellent working of the then W.M., Bro. Pope, and he was glad to see that the high name for management which the lodge then held in the estimation of the Masonic world had been steadily increasing, and that it was now second to none in the metropolis. P.M. Pope replied to the toast of the P.M.'s of the lodge, and in his remarks touched feelingly upon the kind observations which had been so personally directed by Bro. Borown, and for which he was exceedingly obliged, and he was proud to think that fourteen years ago the lodge under his Mastership had been worthy of receiving so high a compliment as on this occasion had been expressed by the esteemed P.M. of the Doric. Bro. Walls having sang "Once Again," the "Tyler's Toast" was given and the brethren separated at an early hour, the whole proceedings of the lodge and banquet having been well carried out.

WARRINGTON.—Lodge of Lights (No. 148).—The regular meeting of this old lodge was held at the Masonic Hall, Sankey-street, on Monday evening last. The W.M., Bro. John Harding, was supported by the following brethren:—Bros. John Pierpoint, S.W.; John Bowes, P.M. &c., as J.W.; W. H. Robinson, S.D.; David Wilkins, J.D.; D. W. Finney, P.M., as I.G.; Thos. Tunstall, Hon. Sec.; Thos. W. Nelson; Shaw Thewlis, P.M., P. Prov. S.G. Deacon; W. Morsop, P.M. 1250, Prov. G. Stew.; W. Richardson, P.M.; Robert G. Stringer, P.M.; W. Dooley, John Wilson, Thos. Morris, J. J. Thompson, J. S. Patten, Jas. Warburton, John Armstrong, W. H. Spring, C. Crosier, J. G. Hughes, J. W. Thorp, C. W. Savage, Walter Milner, John Brown, Thos. Mee Pattison, Org.; Christopher Ekkert, Jos. Taylor, W. Savage, Thos. Grime, Thos. H. Jones, Peter Jones, Thos. Jones, Geo. A. Clark, Jas. Bayley, Dr. Spinks, Thos. B. Carter, W. Crompton, C. E. Hindley, Robt. Gibbon, J. R. Young, F. E. Rawlinson, R. Hooper, Jas. Hannah, Tyler. Visitors: P. J. Edelsten, W.M. 1134; W. Pollik, P.M. 1250; W. Hawkins, P.M. 1250; Thos. Ockleshaw, S.W. 667; Edward Aston, 758; Thos. Sutton, 1250. The lodge was opened in due form, according to ancient custom, when the minutes of the previous meeting and emergency were declared to be correctly recorded. The bye-laws were read, in accordance with annual custom. The interest of the meeting centred on the election of the W.M. for the ensuing year. The ballot was taken, and, after due scrutiny, the W.M. declared Bro. John Bowes, P.M., P. Prov. G. Reg. Cumberland and Westmoreland, duly elected. After the election of Treasurer, Auditors, and Tyler, the lodge was closed, and the brethren adjourned to refreshment.

WIRKSWORTH.—Derwent Lodge (No. 884).—The brethren of this lodge held their annual installation meeting at the Town Hall, Wirksworth, on Monday November 23rd. Although there were a goodly number of visitors present, they were not so numerous as usual, owing to the Provincial Grand Lodge meeting being held in the same week at the new Masonic Hall at Derby. The Worshipful Master elect (Bro. James Vincent Bettle), was duly installed by Bro. William Surtees Lugg, the retiring Worshipful Master. The officers appointed were Bros. W. Lomas, S.W.; Norman Anthony Hurt, J.W.; B. Street, Treasurer; W. Sperry, Secretary; Ivatts, S.D.; Miers, J.D.; Frederick Hurt, I.G.; Tomlinson, Tyler. The lodge was afterwards closed in ancient and solemn form. The brethren met at the George and Commercial Hotel, where the banquet was laid out in splendid style by Bro. Harley, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by the brethren.

LEICESTER.—John O'Gaunt Lodge (No. 523) assembled at the Freemasons' Hall on the 19th ult. for the transaction of the usual monthly business. The W.M., Bro. S. S. Partridge, in the chair, where he presided with his accustomed talent, urbanity, and ability. There were many members of the lodge present, and numerous visitors, including several Prov. Grand officers. Bro. Nicholson, a deserving Fellow Craft—famous in the art of music—was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason, and Mr.

Bertram Wolf was duly admitted to a participation of the secrets and privileges of the illustrious institution of Masonry, whose ordinances and regulations, whose solemnities and ceremonies were never more impressively inculcated than on this occasion by the Worshipful Master, Bro. Partridge, whose devotedness, competent knowledge and conciliating courtesies, have so well maintained the efficiency of this lodge, and the dignity of the Craft in this province.

TOTNES.—Pleiades Lodge (No. 710).—The regular meeting of this lodge was held at the Masonic Hall, on Thursday, Nov. 19th, Bro. William Bennett Maye, W.M., in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. Three brethren were raised to the sublime degree of M.M., and one brother passed to the degree of F.C. Hearty good wishes were tendered; the lodge was then closed in ancient form and with solemn prayer.

WILLIAM PRESTON LODGE (No. 766).—The annual installation meeting of this lodge was held on Thursday week at the City Terminus Hotel, and about fifty brethren, members of the lodge and visitors, assembled on the occasion. There was a strong muster of Past Masters, including Bros. Dr. Whiteman; Geo. Newman, B. Abbot, W. Miller, and G. J. Kain; and among the visitors were Bros. H. Garrod; Dr. Carpenter; Donald King; Charles Horsley, P.P.G.R., Middlesex; E. T. Barry, (No. 3); and G. S. Bigley, (No. 1298). The chair was occupied by Bro. William Worrell, W.M., Sec. of the Royal Albert Orphan Asylum, who raised Bros. Williams and Sutcliffe and initiated Mr. W. F. Smart, accountant. Bro. George Newman, P.M., passed Bros. Paull, Baros, Colgrave, Gunner and Ransby; and Bro. Alfred Le Grand, (No. 1298), was balloted for as a joining member. Bro. W. Worrell then, on presentation duly made, installed Bro. Augustus Braun, W.M. elect, as W.M. for the ensuing year, who appointed and invested his officers as follows:—William Worrell, I.P.M.; J. Pringle, S.W.; W. Manfield Newton, J.W.; G. J. Kain, P.M., Treasurer; William Worrell, P.M., Secretary; W. Edward Newton, S.D.; S. D. Ewins, J.D. Dr. Chitmore, I.G.; George Newman, P.M., Wine Steward; P. Steinmann, D.C.; and W. Grant, T. Bro. Worrell afterwards delivered the address to the W.M., officers, and brethren, which he did in an excellent style, and was warmly applauded at the completion of his task. A Past Master's jewel (from the atelier of Bro. George Kenning) was placed on his breast by the W.M., voted by the brethren as a token of esteem and as a permanent record of his very valuable services to the lodge. The W.M., in presenting the jewel, drew the brethren's attention to these services, and wished Bro. Worrell many years of life and health to wear the jewel and enjoy the friendship of the brethren. Bro. Worrell, in reply, stated how pleased he was to have won the confidence of the lodge and how great a pleasure the wearing of the jewel would always afford him. He remarked also on the pride he felt on seeing the lodge brought to its present state of prosperity, which he was happy to say he had been partly instrumental, though in a minor degree, in effecting. On the motion of Bro. George Newman the lodge passed the following vote:—"That in consideration of the very long and valuable services rendered to this lodge by Bro. Kain, in the combined offices of Treas. and Sec., he be exempt from all subscriptions and dues except fees for visitors." The lodge, which was adorned with the banners of its Past Masters and present Master, was then closed, and the brethren adjourned to a splendid banquet, provided by Bro. Sidney Spencer, the proprietor of the City Terminus Hotel, under the management of Bro. Charles Lord. The Masters' banners, to the number of sixteen, were ranged behind the cross table, and each Past Master who was present sat under his own banner. The effect was very striking, and it was enhanced by the brethren appearing in their clothing and jewels. The W.M. presided with the tact of a brother well acquainted with his duties, and made the members and visitors of the lodge thoroughly at home by his amiability and hospitality. When the cloth was removed the toasts which fall to the Master's duty to propose, were proposed by him with skill and brevity, the loyal toasts having, however, in them nothing new, but merely repeating the time-honoured sentiments of respect and affection the Queen and the Prince of Wales elicit on all occasions when their names are mentioned. The toast of "The Deputy Grand Master, &c.," having been duly proposed and honoured, no Grand Officer being present to respond to it, Bro. W. Worrell rose, as he said, for the first time, as a Past Master of the lodge, to propose the toast of "The W.M." Whatever he could say on the subject he was sure would be thoroughly re-echoed by all the brethren, and he wished him the greatest amount of prosperity and success during his year of office. They had long had the good fortune of enjoying his acquaintance in the lodge, and they had become sufficiently acquainted with him to know that whatever duties fell to the Master would be thoroughly and well carried out by Bro. Braun. When the time should come for him to resign the Mastership into his successor's hands, the lodge would find it had not in any way to regret having reposed the trust in him they had. The W.M. said: In responding to the toast that he now found that he had just experienced for the first time the real difficulties of the proud position he held. The great warmth with which he had been received by the brethren around him made him very proud indeed, and he began to realise the high position of a W.M. He was exceedingly glad that they had received the toast so kindly, and he was very grateful to them for it. The W.M. then proposed "The Initiate," and said that from what Bro. Smart had said to him while sitting next to him, he was sure he would make a good Mason. Bro. Smart in reply said, the first thing he had to do was to thank the brethren for the way in which they had drunk the toast and received him. They knew he was a smart man, and he hoped to become a smart Mason. Between the William Preston Lodge (his mother lodge), and his own mother, there was an affinity, both of them having a 6 and a 7 in their age. He was happy to say he had been a good son to his mother, and he hoped to be a good Mason to his mother lodge. He was honoured on one occasion by a person telling him that he must be a good man to be a Mason, and he trusted he should not belie that assertion. His efforts would be used to become a good Mason, and he hoped that as long as he lived he should belong to this lodge, and many times meet the brethren in that room. (Cheers.) Bro. Charles Horsley, who responded to the toast of "The Visitors," said: I am quite sure that those brethren who have like myself, this evening, the honoured privilege of visiting the William Preston Lodge will only feel as I feel now, the deep regret that they have not had that honour before; but having now the honour, I most sincerely and devoutly hope that the same privilege may be conferred on me again. The first thing that struck me on entering the lodge was the grand array of sixteen banners. When I saw them, I thought to myself how honoured the William Preston Lodge is, and how worthy it is of that man from whom it takes its name, and of whom I was a very humble disciple twenty-five years ago—the grandest worker in Freemasonry that ever was known; and, with the single exception of his successor, my dearest old friend, Stephen Barton Wilson, the greatest light that has ever been seen in Freemasonry. I most sincerely congratulate the W.M., and all the P.M.'s of this excellent lodge, on having taken for its cognomen so hallowed a name—a name than which those of the grand heroes of antiquity do not stand higher in the estimation of every true Mason. For he must have been great, and in the blaze of fame, as it were, who could have handed down to us so glorious a traditional history as has been associated with his name, and who, in his own person, taught it to so many hundreds, or I might almost say, units. If his spirit could only come forward at this time, as I believe it possible it may, to hear what I am saying—as glorifying the idea of that wonderful mingling of good fellowship which is conveyed in the true form of brotherly love, relief, and truth (the grandest trinity in this world)—I say how gloriously delighted must his spirit be to think that those who were units in his day are now numbered in legions, and tens of thousands! How good and how great, spite all the anathemas of Rome, must that grand Order be which, excommunicated by one feeble man, stands out in such numbers in England, through the dominions of the Empress of India, and among the subjects of her who governs more than half the habitable globe, as a living protest against the excommunication which is now fulminated against it. (Applause.) I will now merely say a word upon what happened in the lodge. It was an object of delight to me to see your Immediate Past Master go through the duties which appertained to him as Master, who had the glorious ambition to go through the ceremony of installing his successor. (Hear, hear.) That is a glorious ambition; and I trust that the present Master, and all future Masters of the Wm. Preston Lodge, will have it. I think that a lodge is always great within itself when it has as its I.P.M. one who says, "I will not call for extrinsic aid, I will not look to those who have acquired a great name in Freemasonry, to do that which it is my duty to do, and if it be not my duty, it is my right, and I claim it as my especial privilege, to do it. The I.P.M. of this lodge did it, and I am sure you will say he did it admirably (cheers). I felt most proud when the jewel was put upon his breast. Worshipful Master, although you have done so little as yet, and although I can perceive at once you were not actually born in this kingdom, you have the true Briton in you; I see you have made old England your home, and that your destinies and the destinies of Englishmen are united, that you will live and die with us. I am sure from the very able manner in which you addressed every one of the officers, that every brother who now hears me will say that no Master coming to so difficult an office as you have to-day, could have discharged his duties in a more urbane, perfect, and delightful manner. It must have been a pleasure to all the brethren who were honoured with office to be so addressed, as it was to me. (Hear, hear.) Allow me now simply to return thanks for myself most sincerely and cordially. I can only say on behalf of the other visitors I have no right to speak for them ("Yes, yes," "All, all.") If I am to respond for them allow me to say that I very sincerely regret that many men whom I see around me have infinitely more right to address you, intellectually speaking, than I have, ("No, no"); but for myself I may say that for twenty years past I have been an enthusiastic Mason, a Mason who has tried to do to the best he can. I yesterday initiated three into Freemasonry, and I hope that next week I shall initiate five more. That I think, shows that the Order is progressing, "in spite of Pope and Dignitaries of church" (cheers). The W.M. having proposed the health of Bro. Worrell, as Installing Master, Bro. Worrell replied, and said that although the portions of Bro. Horsley's speech which referred to him were very flattering, he was still much pleased to hear them, and it was gratifying to find that what he had done met with the approbation of the brethren. He looked back with pride and satisfaction to the time when he was installed Master of this lodge a year ago. He then promised that he would to the utmost of his ability serve the lodge. He had endeavoured to do so, but if he had defaulted in any way, it was not from want of will, but from weakness. What he had done had been amply repaid by the gift of the beautiful jewel with which he had been presented. For the first time he found himself among the P.M.'s of the lodge; but although one more had been added to the Past Master's list, one had been taken away in the person of Bro. Blake, who had died since the brethren last met. Bro. Blake was the first actual Past Master of the lodge, and was present at his, Bro. Worrell's, installation and his initiation. The P.M.'s of this lodge had been called "dowagers," and he, though young in years, was now included in that ancient body. Dowagers were not expected, as a rule, to do anything. He, during his year of office, had worked hard, and as he had now been appointed Secretary of the lodge, he would still have to do so, for the Secretary of the Wm. Preston Lodge was no small matter. The duties appertaining to it were very important, and he intended to carry them out to the fullest extent, and as well as the brethren given him credit for doing as W.M. If not, it would be for succeeding Master to trust the office to other hands. But he should always occupy some position of importance in the lodge. This should be of all Masons, and it was the aim he wished to get on. Whenever he had the opportunity, he intended to further the interests of Freemasonry, and this could be best done by performing his duty thoroughly and efficiently towards every member of the lodge. With regard to the appointments just made to the W.M., he wanted to see a thoroughly healthy rivalry for office in the different members of the lodge; and if there was that in them they would ultimately succeed. (Applause.) Dr. Whiteman, in replying as one of the P.M.'s to the toast proposed and drunk in their honour, and to the speech of the initiate, who, he thought, gave fair promise of becoming an excellent Freemason. He evidently had great respect for his mother, and he (Bro. Whiteman) hoped she would have some respect for his father. He (Bro. Whiteman) was frequently called the father of the William Preston Lodge; and he could not help feeling proud of the appellation. He had always taken great interest in the lodge, and should continue so to do by the performance of those duties that belonged to his position as senior "Dowager." He was exceedingly pleased to be able to welcome Bro. Worrell on his joining that body, as no one else would make an excellent Dowager. He (Bro. Whiteman) enjoyed the odium dignitate which all Masons should aspire to, and he could not help saying that he never came to this lodge except with feelings of the greatest possible pleasure, in the hope of meeting some of his old friends as well as brethren of other lodges. Many years, he hoped, might elapse before his position in the lodge ceased. Abbott also responded, and said that his thanks were due to the Great Architect of the Universe for having spared him so long to associate with the brethren. Brethren far more deserving than he to associate with them had been removed, but he found himself still a member of them and enjoying good health. He also expressed his happy to give his hearty support in facilitating the business of the lodge and the unity and fellowship of the brethren. He congratulated the W.M. and the brethren, as well as himself, for having this opportunity of coming among them. The preservation of life was a boon, and though many were apt not to value enough of it, every one, whether young or old, could not be too grateful to the Great Architect who spared them to meet each other year by year. The love and unity which prevailed among the members he hoped would continue, and he believed that if the hearts of them were probed they would be found to prevail. This was the spirit they ought to cultivate in Freemasonry, and it was pleasing to see such good fruit borne in the Wm. Preston Lodge. Bro. George Newman likewise responded, but looked upon himself as a very new member among the P.M.'s. Never before he was always anxious to do any duty which might be required of him, and he took great pride in being of any service to the lodge. G. J. Kain, P.M., Treasurer, and former Secretary, acknowledged the toast of "The Treasurer and Secretary." He said he was very peculiarly situated, being so shorn of his honours, but it happened at a moment very favourable for Masons generally. Advancing as he was in life, he was to throw a portion of the mantle off his shoulders and on to those of a worthy man. Bro. Worrell would bear it well and ably. Around him, he found the lodge had obtained the majority of fifty members; and, to quote the words of a poet of his own country, he said—"And doth not a meeting like this amend?" It did "make amends," for now attained prosperity. He was deli-that he could retire from the office of Secretary still retaining, however, the post of honour as Treasurer. At the end of the summons is said there was to be a report read by the stary as regarded Masonry in general and lodge in particular. He did not intend to do them with much about this lodge in particular, but he would like to say something of mry in general, because he posted himself the Quarterly Communications of Grand e, which were really important documents, h very few familiarised themselves with . He would relate a few of the Masonic s of the year. In the first place, he would the leading event in Masonry—the seces- of the Marquis of Ripon; but he would to more of that than that on the 3rd of his lordship presided at Grand Lodge for st time, and the last of his acts was to pro- be gift of £500 towards the relief of suf- by the Indian famine. He retired, he : say, under a great cloud of fame, which ped would not desert him at any rate. odges had been named after his lordship— and 1489). They then heard of his re- ion on the 1st of September. In to show his lordship's kindly spirit is Freemasonry, he might mention that his acts was to cause one of the Masonic : to be erased from the roll for most un- ic conduct which was attributed to it. In ss he would say that it was but right to ear over departed worth, and to say of at he was a most worthy man and Mason. ro. Kain) could only hope that the Church) gone over to would appreciate him as s he deserved to be. There was one e would say to the initiate. It had been at Freemasonry was atheistical or rational. e men of all creeds belonged to it. Now often said to those who knew nothing t, could an institution which never met t the Bible being open and a blessing invoked on the proceedings at the com- ment and the close be atheistical, or de- o be tabooed by priests? He said it with hat no institution of that sort ought to be l by any sect or class. God forbid that uld condemn Lord Ripon! He had con- usly no doubt done what he had; but sorry for all that claimed to be the aiden of religion. To return to his nar- of Masonic events. In nine months no n 60 new lodges had been created, which that Masonry was extending very largely. aft expended £5000 a year in benevo- uite exclusive of private subscriptions to ous charities, which were very large, and ate benevolent fund box of each lodge, h he would give as an instance the sum £3 which was put that evening into the cup of Wm. Preston Lodge. He would mention this to show that an institution o largely practised charity] which every, re- culated, was not to be despised by priests dy else. In 1873 no less than 8766 Masons ide, a number which showed at any rate heart of the nation did not believe that was antagonistic to Christianity, and n nearly 4000 more had been admitted. £6,249 was received by the Grand or the fund of benevolence, nearly more than it was eight years ago; and s of Grand Secretary had so largely in- that his salary had been raised. The communication which had been sent) lodges for next Wednesday showed Prince of Wales would be nominated Grand Master, that sums voted by the Benevolence, varying from £150 to £50, e placed before the Grand Lodge for ion; and then there was a motion of bon, who stood very high as a Mason, sing of two-thirds of the annual surplus and of Benevolence, by laying it out in ing or otherwise advancing in life ns' children who had been brought up o Masonic schools. This was a short of the leading occurrences in Free- for the year, and he trusted they would ble to the brethren to hear. (Cheers). naining toasts were given and the shortly afterwards separated.

GREAT NORTHERN LODGE (No. 1287).—This lodge held its monthly meeting at the Freemasons' Hall, on Thursday, 19th ult. The brethren were summoned for half-past four, in consequence of the rebeing two candidates to be elected as joining members, three to be initiated, and the passing of the four brethren who were initiated at the last meeting. The W.M., Bro. T. H. Staton, was supported by all his officers, viz.: Bro. S. Forbes, S.W.; R. Bescoby, J.W.; J. W. Lancaster, S.D.; J. Ritchie, J.D.; A. Christie, I.G.; and G. West, D.C.; there were also present the I.P.M., Bro. H. T. Read; and P.M., S. Webb (Treasurer). The lodge having been opened in the first degree, Bros. John Harper (Celtic), and John Foster (Belgrave), were balloted for and were found to be unanimously elected, as was also the case for all candidates. The announcement having been made to the joining members, they entered the lodge and returned thanks. The E.A.'s having retired, the W.M. resumed in the second degree, and passed Bros. Timberlake, Bathord, Freshwater and Owen to the degree of Fellow Craft, in his usual careful manner. He then resumed to the first degree, and duly initiated Mr. T. J. Sadler, Mr. Wm. Buzzard, and Mr. Wm. F. Tewkesbury. This ceremony concluded, the W.M. rose for the first time, when a candidate was proposed for the next meeting; on the W.M. rising for the second and third time, the I.P.M. returned thanks for the lodge's votes, for the Boys' School, stating the cases had both been successful. There not being any more business, the W.M. closed the lodge, and with the brethren and visitors adjourned to the tavern to dinner. The repast having been finished and grace said, the W.M. trusted the brethren would excuse him if he was curt in his speeches, but as there were several visitors who were anxious to depart as soon as convenient, he was sure they would not object. The toasts of the "Queen and Craft," and the "M.W.G.M., H.R.H. the Prince of Wales," were well received and responded to with the usual loyal Great Northern fire; the next toast, "The R.W. D.G.M., the Earl of Carnarvon, and other Grand Lodge Officers," coupling with it the name of P.M., T. A. Adams, brought that venerable brother forward, and in his usual jocose manner, spoke of the sumptuous board spread before him, and concluded his speech by remarking that the lodge was not only great in name, but great in working and great in banquets. The next toast on this occasion was "The Initiates," which was also well received, the I.P.M. singing the E.A. song. The initiates having responded, the "Visitors" was next given, when Bros. P.M. Adams, and Pulling, 144; Phillips, 980; and Smith, 879; responded, (Bros. Siemens, 751, and P.M., F. Binckes, Sec. R.M.I.B., having previously retired). The I.P.M., handling the gavel, gave the health of the W.M., which was received in the only way possible. The W.M. having returned thanks, asked the brethren to drink as they had just done, the health of the P.M.'s Bros. Read and Webb, regretting that they were the only two present. I.P.M., Bro. Read, briefly returning thanks, left Bro. Webb to hold forth, which he did to some extent, expatiating on the past career of the lodge, the trials that had been surmounted, and the happy course that seems now to favour it. He reminded the officers and those who hoped to fill the chair of the career of the past, and to take warning there- by, and thus avoid the difficulties that had occurred, never he hoped to come again. The "Health of the Officers" was responded to by the S.W., and the "Tyler's Toast" brought this very pleasant evening to a close. We must not forget to mention that the pleasure of the evening was greatly enhanced by the kindnesses of Bros. Webb, Bescoby, Lancaster, Forbes, Owen, Atkell, Harper and Pulling, who all responded to the call of the W.M.

SOUTHALL.—Acacia Lodge (No. 1309).—The regular meeting of this lodge was held at the Prince Alfred Hotel, Southall, on Tuesday, November 24th. Bro. F. Walters, P.G.P. Middlesex, P.M., Sec. (in the unavoidable absence of the W.M., Bro. R. Limpus, P.P.G., Org. Middlesex, W.M., caused through illness) opened the lodge, The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and unanimously confirmed. Bro. G. Horsley P.P.G. Registrar, P.M., in an admirable manner initiated Messrs. J. H. Brewster, H. Kenward, and J. Davies, and passed Bro. Wilson to the second degree. Several gentlemen were proposed for initiation which was arranged to be an emergency. Bro. Horsley made an eloquent appeal on behalf of the Royal Benevolent Institution, he being the Steward representing the lodge at the forthcoming anniversary Festival. All business being ended, the lodge was closed. Refreshment followed labour, and a pleasant evening was spent. There were present besides those named, Bros. C. A. Ferrier, S.W.; C. G. Rushworth, J.W.; J. W. George, J.D.; and several others. The visitors were Bros. Leonard, 720; Harrison, 1326.

ALDERSHOT.—Aldershot Camp Lodge (No. 1331).—A meeting of this lodge was held in the Assembly Rooms on Thursday, 5th November, for the purpose of installing the Worshipful Master for the ensuing year, and investing his officers with their insignia of office. There was an unusually good attendance, including a large number of visiting brethren, among whom were Bro. Hacker, W.M. Panmure Lodge; Bro. Hickley, P.M.; Bro Sowdon, P.M.; and Bro. Gold. The ceremony of installing Bro. White as W.M. was performed by the retiring W.M., Bro. Mackenzie, which was done with marked ability, and with an intelligent appreciation of the impressiveness, that commanded the attention of his hearers. The ceremony was accompanied with perfect musical service. The lodge is now constituted as follows:—Bros. White, W.M.; Bennett, S.W.; Anderson, J.W.; Mare, S.W.; Smith, J.D.; Field, I.G.; Lucas, Sec.; Burns, Tyler. A handsome Past Master's Jewel was presented to the retiring Master, Bro. Mackenzie, by Bro. White, in a neat speech, which was suitably replied to by Bro. Mackenzie, who, during the past year, had discharged his duties as W.M. much to the satisfaction of the brethren. Visitors to this lodge cannot but be struck with the order and discipline which distinguish the proceedings and the evident desire of all the officers to discharge their duties in conformity with the beautiful ceremonies. It was particularly noticed the beautiful effect the divers military uniforms interspersed with the civil element gave to the lodge, this being the first time of meeting in their new lodge room. At the conclusion of the ceremony and business of the evening, the brethren to the number of about 60 adjourned to the Royal Hotel, where Bro. Kneé had prepared an excellent banquet. After justice had been done to the solids, the cheering wine cup was introduced, and the usual Masonic and complimentary toasts drunk. After each toast music was introduced to enliven the evening, and some excellent songs were sung by Bros. Eve, White, Hacker and Steel. The evening terminated with the "Tyler's Toast." Altogether it was a happy day in Masonry, never to be forgotten by those who were present.

INSTRUCTION.

CONFIDENCE LODGE OF INSTRUCTION (No. 193).—At a meeting of the above lodge, held on Wednesday, the 25th Nov., at Bro. Chard's, White Hart Tavern, Abchurch Lane, E.C., Bro. E. Gottheil, P.M. and Preceptor, moved the following resolution—That sixty tickets be purchased from Bro. John Constable, W.M. 185, in aid of the forthcoming drawing for a number of Life-Governorships for the Masonic Girls' School, and should any of these tickets result in a prize, a ballot should then take place among such members of the Confidence Lodge of Instruction who shall be present at a meeting specially appointed for that purpose, the drawer of the fortunate number to have the £10 10s. sent to the institution in his own name and enjoy the privileges of the Life-Governorship. The proposition was heartily seconded by Bro. Hickman, S.W. 118, and carried with acclamation by the thirty brethren who were present. It would be desirable if mother lodges, chapters and lodges of instruction were to adopt a similar course. It matters little through what channel assistance flows, so that the various streams terminate in the same point. Bro. Constable's mode of rendering aid to our institutions has been praised by some and blamed by many, but even the opponents of his method cannot deny the disinterested industry and energy with which he conducts his self-imposed task. It therefore behoves us to give him all the encouragement in our power. The example of the Confidence Lodge of Instruction, if followed, will not fail to stimulate the apathetic and lethargic, and certainly those who have it not in their power to give considerable sums, but who are anxious to contribute all in their power.

Scotland.

PARTICK.

PARTICK.—St. Mary's Lodge (No. 117).—The annual election and installation of the office-bearers of this lodge took place in their hall, Dumbarton-road, Partick, on Wednesday, 18th ult., in presence of about one hundred members and visiting brethren, when the following were duly elected according to the use and wont of St. Mary's Lodge. Bros. Wm. Wylie, R.W.M.; John Baird, D.M.; Dr. A. Cameron, S.M.; Peacock, S.W.; Agnew, J.W.; Maitland, Sec.; J. M. Wylie, Treas.; Alfred Lawrence, Chaplain; Forrest, S.D.; McSwan, J.D.; Miller, S.B.; Calderwood, S.S.; Boyd, J.S.; Leonard, I.G.; Bruce, Tyler. After the election, the R.W.M. was re-installed by P. M. Brunton, and the remaining officers by the R.W.M. At the conclusion of this impressive ceremony, the lodge went into harmony "for a short half hour," when, after the usual loyal toasts, the P.M., in proposing the health of the R.W.M., expressed the pleasure it gave himself and the lodge, that he had seen fit to give way to the pressure brought upon him by the brethren, and fill the chair for another year. In the course of his reply, the R.W.M. impressed upon the brethren, that the grand characteristic of Freemasonry was charity, and, in order that Scotland should hold the same high position in this leading virtue as other countries, and cease to be twitted by them that she can point to no Masonic schools, orphanages or refuges for destitute brethren or their widows, as a proof of her zeal in the cause of Masonry, it was necessary for each member of the Craft to put his hand into his pocket, and contribute to the movement at present afoot, which he had good cause for saying would shortly result in the building and endowment of a Benevolent School for the support and education of the orphans of Scottish Freemasons. The health of the new office-bearers being proposed by P.M. Brunton, was appropriately and fluently replied to by Bros. Dr. Cameron and J. M. Wylie, who, in the course of their remarks, acknowledged the honour that had been unexpectedly conferred on them. In proposing the visiting brethren, the Master coupled it with Bro. Johnson, late Chief Officer of the ill-fated Chusan, who happened to be present; when quite an ovation awaited Bro. Johnson from the brethren present, who enthusiastically welcomed him to St. Mary's Lodge, and, from respect to the late Captain, Bro. Johnson, and the other brethren who perished with the ill-starred vessel, in solemn silence, and with highest honour, responded to the R.W.M.'s toast. Bro. Johnson feelingly replied that the horrors of that fearful night would never be effaced from his memory; that, after clinging, half-naked, to the wreck for four hours, he had fallen into the hands of brothers who manned the lifeboat; that, on landing, he had been received, fed, and clothed by brothers; and now he thanked the brethren of St. Mary's for the kind, kind welcome he had that night received. The lodge was shortly after closed by the R.W.M. in due and ancient form.

DUNBAR.—Dunbar Castle Lodge (No. 75).—Since our last report two special meetings have been called for the purposes of initiating and passing. The first of these was held on the 10th, and the second on the 17th ult.; both meetings were largely attended; Bro. D. Valance, R.W.M., in the chair. The R.W.M. was well supported on these occasions by Bros. F. H. Rahu, P.M. of Lodge Barnard Castle; C. Connell, P.M.; T. Quier, and J. Smith, of Lodge Malta; C. Norman, D.M.; Wm. Riddell, acting S.W.; A. Robertson, J.W.; Jas. Robertson, P.G.S.D.; A. Malvui, Treas.; P. Murray, Sec., &c., &c. The lodge being opened in the first degree, on each occasion two new members were added to the roll. A considerable number of candidates have been initiated into the mysteries of the Order, by this lodge this year, and at present no fewer than six are about to be raised to the sublime degree, which reflects very great credit on the R.W.M. and his office-bearers, showing the great interest they have taken in furthering the welfare of the lodge. The R.W.M. has occupied the chair for the last six years, but is, we understand, now most anxious to retire, which is regretted, but a successor is likely to be found in Captain Dennistoun, 64th Regiment. The election of R.W.M. will take place on St. Andrew's night.

Royal Arch.

JOPPA CHAPTER (No. 188).—The convocation of this chapter for the installation of Principals, was held on Monday evening at the Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street. Comps. E. Stanton Jones, Z.; H. M. Levy, H; and M. Emanuel, J.; presided, and there were also present Comps. Past Z's, S. Lazarus, Wolf Littaur, E. P. Albert, S. Pollitzer, and J. Lazarus, several other members of the chapter, and Visitors, comps. James Weaver, P.Z. 862; C. Hogard, 141; D. H. Jacobs, 657; C. Coote, W. A. Tinney, 862; Cheese, 192; H. Massey (Freemason), 619, and Young, Z. Bro. Barnett of Lodge of Faith, 141, was exalted into Royal Arch Freemasonry, after which Comp. H. M. Levy was installed as Z.; Comp. M. Emanuel as H; and Comp. M. J. Emanuel as J. The ceremony was well rendered by Comp. Littaur, and Comp. M. Emanuel who respectively installed the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Principals. The other officers appointed and invested were S. V. Abrahams, P.Z., Treasurer, Dickenson, S.E.; L. Lazarus, S.N.; L. Jacobs, P.S.; and G. Smith, Janitor. Comp. S. V. Abrahams brought forward and carried the following notion of which he had given notice:—"In the event of either of the Jewish or other public or bank holidays occurring on the day appointed for the usual meeting of the chapter it shall be in the power of the M.E.Z. to call the chapter on such other day most convenient, not more than eight days from the regular day of meeting, and the business at such chapter shall have the same effect as though it took place at the regular meeting." The companions afterwards sat down to a choice banquet, provided under the personal superintendence of Comp. Jennings, manager of the Albion Tavern. The toasts were subsequently given in due course. Comp. E. Stanton Jones, in proposing the health of the M.E.Z., said he was very glad to find him in that position. No doubt he would have a happy and prosperous year of office, and during that time would do everything in his power to increase the number of the members, and to raise the character of the chapter. The M.E.Z. replying, said that nothing which he had done had been done for his own aggrandisement; but he always had in view the wants of the distressed and fallen. One or two offices he held in Freemasonry gave him the opportunity of doing this, but if he had not done everything that could be expected of him, he looked forward to being able to do so, and to having the assistance of those two great towers of support, his H. and J., and if at the end of his year of office he should not obtain a jewel, he would at least have the satisfaction of knowing that he had done his duty. Comp. D. Barnett responded as the "newly exalted Companion;" and afterwards the M.E.Z. proposed in glowing terms "The Health of the P.Z., Comp. E. Stanton Jones," alluding to the great service he had been to the chapter, the high opinion he had of him as a man and a Mason, on whom the breath of censure could not pass a single word, and as exemplifying in his every act that unselfishness and single heartedness which every Mason should bring to bear in his conduct towards his fellow men. Appealing to the companions whether there was not perfect truth in all these observations, and calling them for their testimony that there was no fulsome or flattering in these remarks, he presented Comp. Jones with a P.Z. jewel of frosted gold, set with glittering diamonds. Comp. Jones, after thanking the M.E.Z. and the companions for their gift, said he had felt honoured at having to be the First Principal of this chapter, but that honour was greatly enhanced by the handsome jewel which they subscribed to give him. He assured the companions that it would remind him of many hours he had spent with the companions, trusted that on some future occasion they would consider and give effect to an idea he had, which they were acquainted with referring to the P.Z. jewel. Comp. David Jacobs replied for "The Visitors," Comp. S. M. Lazarus, "The P.Z.'s," Comp. M. I. Emanuel for "and J.," and Comp. Abrahams for "Treasurer," and after the honouring of the toasts, the companions separated.

WHITTINGTON CHAPTER (No. 862).—Convocation for the annual installation of Principals of this chapter was held on Friday at Anderson's Hotel. Comps. James Weaver, Z.; Hurlstone, H.; and F. Smith, as J., sided. Comp. James Brett, P.Z., installed Comps. Hurlstone, Z.; Jones, H.; and W. Phens, J.; Kingston was invested S. Weaver, S.E.; R. W. Little, Treasurer; W. Tinney, P.S.; G. C. Pritchard, 1st Assistant; F. R. Pritchard, 2nd Assistant; Moore, D. J. Gilbert, Janitor. The Audit Committee reported favourably of the chapter funds, which in consequence of the arrangements made at establishment of the chapter, were free from incumbrance. The announcement was received with much satisfaction. The chapter, there being no further business before the companions, was thereupon closed, and the companions adjourned to banquet. At the giving of the toasts Comp. Brett, responding to the toast of the Grand Principals, said that L. Carnarvon had accepted the office of Pro-Grand First Principal. As Grand Second Principal, Carnarvon had proved himself zealous and industrious, and the companions who had been in Masonry knew what he had done for the order. All Masons were very proud of L. Carnarvon, and they would be very glad to see him take his seat at the right of the Prince of Wales. The other officers had always tried to do their best for Freemasonry, and they were always received by their companions with appreciation of their efforts. He then said he did not think that for the future he would be able to attend so frequently in the Whittington Chapter as he had done. Hitherto he had been absent from a single meeting, but that arisen from his desire to stand by so long a chapter and to see it have a good start. It had in it now plenty of men who were capable of doing the work without assistance, and consequently he must be excused from devoting quite so much time to it. He had that night installed in the third chair a young member who could do his work, and was as a R.A. Mason, and as a member of several lodges, a very hard worker, an attendant on different boards, and one who must stand out as a prominent Freemason. He had given evidence of that night by proposing six brethren to exaltation, every one of whom he (Comp. Brett) could speak of favourably, from his intimate knowledge of them. They would be an acquisition to the chapter, and he could be proud from the proofs he had witnessed that their prosperous future for it. Comp. Weaver responded "The health of the M.E.Z.," which was responded to by Comp. Hurlstone, who much delighted at seeing the progress the chapter was making. His heart was in Masonry and would so remain as long as he lived, and then proposed the health of the P.Z., Comp. Weaver, and presented him, in the name of the companions with a splendid P.Z. jewel. Comp. Weaver acknowledged the compliment, and proposed "Health of the Visitors" having been present and drunk, was responded to by Comp. Levy, and H. Massey (Freemason), and the officers of the chapter having also replied to the toasts proposed in their honour, the companions separated.

FREEMASONRY IN JAMAICA.
 The Glenlyon Lodge (Scottish Constitution) held at Kingston on Tuesday, the 20th Oct., for the purpose of advancing several of its members to the degree of Mark Master, ten of whom came forward and received that step in Masonry in a most impressive manner. It is to be regretted that a larger number of brethren did not avail themselves of the opportunity. The Provincial Grand Master, S. C. G. presided, and was assisted by several eminent brethren of his lodge, in conjunction with the high official of the English Constitution. The evening having been paid, the lodge closed, and members and visitors adjourned to an elegant banquet, which they did ample justice to.

Mark Lodge having been again set to work, I have no doubt but the interest manifested by the brethren will not grow less, and ere long the "Glenlyon" Mark Lodge prove a credit to the Craft in this island, where Masonry is much admired and respected.

Masonic Tidings.

Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to send a large supply of phials for the use of the patients in St. Thomas's Hospital.

Royal Bro. the Duke of Connaught has fallen from his horse at Norwich, and one of his feet hurt, but not seriously.

The Annual General Court of the Scottish Masons was held on Monday last, at the Masonic Hall, in Crane-court, London; Sir J. Heron Maxwell in the chair. The report, which was read by Bro. Moir, the Secretary, the income of the Society had exceeded that of 1873 by nearly £1000.

The annual banquet of the Corporation of London was held in the evening, the Marquis of Salisbury presiding.

ALBERT ORPHAN ASYLUM (Bro. Sec.).—An election of children to this Asylum took place at the offices, 98, Cheapside. The result is no public polling; the names were posted to the office, and there appointed the respective candidates. Mr. W. G. was chairman of the scrutineers. Eight twelve girls were elected from a list of 100 names. The committee are now making arrangements to clear off the debt of £5000 on the building, and have generously contributed £2000 themselves towards it.

Disturbances have occurred in Brazil, "Down with the Freemasons!" being the cry of the rioters. Troops and men-of-war were sent to the spot, and it was expected would soon be restored.

The Priory of the United Orders of the Knights of the Hospital, under the banner of the Virgin Mary, will be held on Friday, the 27th inst., at the City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street.

We give our many Knight-Templar brethren the benefit of this intelligence; but we must not forget the interests of the Order, as well as of the public, that the notices of these meetings be advertised in the only organ of the Order.

Right Hon. the Lord Mayor will present the prizes to the 2nd Middlesex Artillery at the Guildhall on Saturday next.

The Mayor of Birmingham, has presented to the Prince of Wales a cheque for £1000 in donation to the building fund of the Asylum.

The Duke and Son were entrusted with the decorations and illuminations for the visit of the Prince of Wales to Hertfordshire.

The Committee of the Charity Voting Association have issued a report making suggestions to subscribers to charities to do away with the present system of electioneering.

Mr. Clode, Past Master of the Mermaid Company, is engaged in the preparation of a history of the Company, gathered together since its formation. The more extensively this is done in the City the better: trustworthy information regarding the City Guilds is now of great importance.

The annual dinner of the Pickwick Bicycle Club was held on Saturday evening, at Bro. C. Gosden's Masons' Hall Tavern, Basinghall-street. Bro. T. Burdett Yeoman presided, the deputy chair being occupied by Mr. Pickwick, Captain. The toast of the evening was, of course, "The P.B.C.," coupled with the of the Secretary, and this was drunk with warm applause and musical honours.

Her Royal and Imperial Highness the Duchess of Edinburgh was presented on Monday, at Buckingham Palace, with a splendidly bound Bible, subscribed for by nearly 8,000 young ladies of England, on the occasion of her marriage.

The paragraph we quoted in our last on Bro. Emma Holmes' lecture on "Public Speaking: What it is and what it might be," we omitted to state, was taken from the Colchester Mercury. The lecture was delivered to a crowded audience in the Town Hall at Colchester, and the Essex Standard and East Anglian Daily Times both gave long and cordial notices of it. It had been previously delivered at Ipswich, Woodbridge, Hadleigh, and Dovercourt, and we understand it is to be published shortly in the pages of our contemporary—the "Masonic Magazine."

NOTES ON LITERATURE, SCIENCE AND ART.

(COLLECTED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES).

BY BRO. GEORGE MARKHAM T'WEDDELL.

The statement that a book entitled "The Paths of Life," from the pen of the Princess Alice, was about to be published in America, is entirely the fabrication of some lying scribe, who had, no doubt, invented the falsehood to put a trifle in his purse. We shall bow to no one in our love of the liberty of the press; but there needs a law to render it easy to "lay in hold" those unprincipled writers who purposely propagate false intelligence, and with whom the names and even private affairs of those who are unfortunate enough to have them for contemporaries, are used in any way they think fit for their purpose. Truth is a Masonic virtue: and those who lack it ought to be placed under a long course of reformatory prison discipline, in order to overcome their dangerous propensities for lying. Above all, literary men should be truthful.

The discovery of petroleum springs on the Luneberg Heaths is rendering a once barren tract of Northern Germany the seat of a populous commercial community. Borings were first commenced in 1863.

The French Stamp Office has purchased the secret of an indelible ink. It resists the power of all known re-agents to erase it.

At the October agricultural fair at Doylestown, Pennsylvania, a Philadelphian exhibited cow milking tubes made of silver, two inches long, and about the size of a wheat straw. Half an inch from one end is a shoulder or ring, to prevent the tube from passing too far up the teat. The opening in the tube is on the side near the top. The person milking inserts the long end of the tube into the orifice of the teat, and immediately the milk begins to flow in a constant stream. Tubes are inserted in all the teats at the same time. Whether this milking by machinery is injurious or not to the cows remains to be seen. Will it equal the delicate touch of a milkmaid's fingers?

Mr. Boyle Bernard, in his "Life of Samuel Lover," thus points out the power of Moore's muse over that of the later popular songster:—"It is curious to observe in this occurrence the first indication of the spell which the genius of Thomas Moore seemed to throw over the mind and life of Lover. It was Moore's air of 'Will you come to the Bower?'—the great favourite in those days of all circles, Irish or English—that urged the tiny fingers of the child to their first attempt at execution. It was at a dinner in honour of Moore that Lover made his first public appearance, as the writer of a song adressed to the poet, which he sang and was encored in amidst the acclamations of the room; and it was by his portrait of Moore's son, Russell, when his fame was rising in a sister art, that he gained from some of his best judges in London the most flattering acknowledgments. It is scarcely necessary to add that Moore's genius throughout life won from no one more than Lover the highest and heartiest admiration, and, as a song writer especially, the former was never so justly estimated as by the latter in his preface to the collected edition of his own Lyrics."

We are glad to see that a new edition of Ralph Thoresby's "Ducatus Leodiensis," is announced for publication, under the editorship of L. C. Miall, Esq., Curator of the Leeds Philosophical and Literary Society. The text is to be reprinted in fac-simile from the original edition of 1715, with the foot-notes of Thoresby, as well as those of Dr. Whitaker from the edition of 1816, and an account of Leeds in the present day. Mr. Joseph Foster, the well-known genealogist, is to work up the pedigrees. Ralph Thoresby was an antiquary of whom Yorkshire may well be proud; and Leeds, in particular, should "keep his memory green."

We are sorry to have to chronicle the death, at Rome, of William Henry Reinhart, the eminent sculptor, who was the son of a farmer at Baltimore, in the state of Maryland, in North America, who would not indulge his anxious desire to be taught drawing, but apprenticed him to a stone-mason. But nature had intended him for an artist of some sort; so he saved money from his wages, learned drawing, and started for "the imperial city" with two hundred dollars in his pocket, where he has just died, before completing his fiftieth year. He had worked hard in poverty for several years, but eventually acquired a fortune of five hundred lire, two hundred of which are to be devoted to founding a school of design for young sculptors at his native Baltimore. We do not know whether or not Mr. Reinhart was a brother of our ancient Craft. If not, he ought to have been, for such men are proper candidates for its mysteries and privileges.

The proprietors of the Times newspaper now cast their own type, and the same plan is about to be adopted by the other London dailies. The type-casting arrangements of the Standard are nearly completed.

The escort of the Prince and Princess of Wales on their recent visit from Packington Hall to Birmingham, included 20 bicycle riders.

The directors of the Great Northern Railway Company are preparing an important attraction for the northern express, which leaves King's Cross at five o'clock. It will consist of a handsome saloon, in which dinner can be served en route.

THE PUBLIC RECORDS.—The regimental records of the Royal Artillery have been removed from the Tower of London to the Record Office in the Royal Dockyard at Woolwich. The removal was effected by the transport branch of the Army Service Corps, and there were no less than sixty wagon-loads of books and papers. The Army Service Corps is also engaged in removing the records of other regiments from the Tower of London to their several head-quarters.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

- "History of the United States." Part I, (Cassell).
- "Old Jonathan." (Collingridge).
- "Diaries for 1875." (E. Moses and Son)

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Ready to hand.—Every good and generous person feels a natural sympathy in the presence of suffering; and how much more useful would the compassion be if it could supply the means of relief? Professor Holloway offers to everyone the never-failing power of thus rendering the most essential service to afflicted humanity. His noble remedies reach the seat of every malady, whether it be on the surface, or hidden in the dark recesses of the interior of the system, and thus extirpate it if that be possible. This Ointment, rubbed upon the chest, and between the shoulder-blades, cures catarrhs, colds, coughs, and wards off other dire diseases, which spring from the inclemencies and depressing influences of winter.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols III., IV., V. and VI	each 15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early train. The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

Births, Marriages and Deaths.

MARRIAGE.

MILLIGAN.—PAGE.—On the 24th ult., at the Parish Church, Edensor, by Bro. Rev. A. A. Bagshawe, Vicar of Wormhill and Rural Dean of Buxton, assisted by the Rev. J. Hall, Vicar of Edensor, Bro. Edward C. Milligan, of the Phoenix Lodge of St. Anne (1235), of Buxton, to Annie Elizabeth, second daughter of the late Mr. Geo. Page, of Mansfield.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

A correspondent writes:—"Bro. R. Robinson is W.M. 1502, and Bro. Hammond is W.M. of 1512, and not of 1503," as stated on December 21 in the report of the Francis Burdett Lodge.

Bro. Mercer and Bro. Thorsey's communications received, and attended to.

The following Communications stand over:—

Reports of—

Prov. G. Lodge of Leicester and Rutland, Prov. G. Lodge County Devon (I.C.); Lodges 329, 367; Instruction, 1475; Red Cross Conclave, 97.

New Masonic Hall at Derby.

Communications from J.C.G.L. and M.S.

THE HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY, FROM ITS ORIGIN TO THE PRESENT DAY.

Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations.

BY J. G. FINDEL,

Second Edition, Revised, and Preface written by

Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

One vol., 800 pages 8vo., with an Index. Cloth gilt. Price, 10s. 6d.

"This book is a strictly historical one, from which all is excluded that is not based upon ascertained or probable fact."—Builder.

"Of its value to Freemasons, as a detailed history of their Brotherhood, it is not possible to speak too highly."—Public Opinion.

"The author seems to have fairly exhausted the subject."—The Athenaeum.

"This volume is the history of Masonry par excellence every interested person may regard it, therefore, as the present text-book on the subject."—Manchester Guardian London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet Street.

Now ready, with Index and Preface, in Twelve Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in one handsome volume, £3.

THE FREEMASONS' LIBER MUSICUS, Dedicated by express permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by DR. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—298.

This Work contains 215 pp. and 188 Musical Compositions, suitable for the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges, Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation, Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

HANDSOME CLOTH COVERS, with gilt lines, and lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

LONDON: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION, BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens.

Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1874.

THE USE OF THE MASONIC PRESS:

We glanced at this important question last week, in the remarks we then deemed it to be our duty to make, but as we feel how much may be said on it, we revert to the question to-day. There may be, perhaps, abstractedly, as far as Freemasonry is concerned, some objection to publicity at all. Freemasonry is a society whose operations for the most part belong to the region of privacy and closed doors. Freemasons have thrown around their Order, both in its ritual and deliberations, for good and sufficient reasons, the quiet and protection of the closely-tiled Lodge. And it certainly would not conduce, in our opinion, to the good of Freemasonry, were all the routine work of the lodge and all the minutiae of its ceremonial laid bare to public curiosity. Not that Freemasonry is afraid of anything or has anything to conceal, or deprecates any external judgment of public opinion, but that its proceedings and purposes being purely Masonic, they are best confined to the knowledge alone of the Craft. But notwithstanding this prima facie objection to publication, since 1717 in England we have witnessed a gradual progress in Masonic reporting, and latterly the meetings of Grand Lodge, of Provincial Grand Lodges, and of private lodges have been duly published. Indeed, Grand Lodge itself gave the impetus, and, as it were, sanctioned the precedent in allowing Anderson, and Entick, and Northouck to print the old constitutions with extracts of the proceedings of the annual Grand Lodges. Since the beginning of this century the reports of our Grand Lodge and private lodges have also been continually laid before the Craft, and one of the complaints against earlier Masonic papers was that they gave nothing but lodge reports. It seems then, if there was alike a need and a propriety in publishing such reports for the brethren, inasmuch as by them they are encouraged or warned, as the case might be, to develop the true work and right teaching of Freemasonry, or to avoid those mistakes which injudicious zeal or unreflecting enthusiasm will sometimes cause in the best of human societies. And not only this, but as Masonry has progressed alike in numbers and "matériel" so there has been a corresponding tendency to ask for and study Masonic literature. Long before our good brethren in England had been roused in any way to an intellectual appreciation of Freemasonry, our German brethren for instance, had begun their critical study of Masonic documents, history, and archæology. Our English Craft, like Englishmen generally, has rather taken a practical view of the duties and requirements of Freemasonry, and in the development of the great and beneficent principles of genuine charity, brotherly love, and sympathetic relief, they are second to none, if indeed, without boasting, we may not fairly say they exceed every other territorial Grand Lodge in the world. But as regards literary matters the English brotherhood has been apathetic.

There have been "Masonic Magazines," "Mirrors," but they have come and gone mostly after a few years of fleeting popularity. So far no Masonic serial literature has been permanently successful. As a general rule, English Masonic literature and English Masonic history have been based upon Anderson and Preston, and latterly on that able and voluminous writer, Bro. Dr. Oliver. But as Masonic students know since their time and works, Masonic studies have taken a wide range, and, though it is quite clear to us that the foundation of the true history of Freemasonry is to be found both in Anderson and Preston in the earlier works of Oliver, if overlaid by the extravagance and obscured by the excesses of unreliable and unverified authorities yet we must, think, admit that Freemasonry in 1874 requires a more sure and satisfactory "pabulum mentis." We do not mean to say that we accept all the themes of Masonic "litterateurs" abroad either sound or conclusive; many, rather, quite unsound and most inconclusive; but must not shut our eyes to the fact that, in the present epoch of advanced critical study and patient investigation, all our Masonic histories and authorities must go through the ordeal of sifting and winnowing. And here, it appears to us, is the great use of the Masonic Press. If the history and archæology, and progress and development of Freemasonry are to be considered and discussed, no arena can be so safe and so proper as the Masonic Press, there, with that sobriety and reverence which becomes the enquiry—there, with a last desire after truth, and a wish to ascertain the reality of statements, the veracity of authorities, the actuality of quotations, Masonic students who will appreciate the difficulties of the case, can best, it appears to us, discuss the subject. To forbid discussion of matters Masonic, to antagonize a Masonic Press, which seeks only to enlighten and to animate the present, and to prepare the future, would be, in our opinion like the vessel which goes down channel without at the mast-head and yard-arm, or like the forget that if you dam up water without a reservoir for an overflow, you must one day see the reservoir will break its banks and damage and desolation into the adjoining lands and towns. No, at this period of the life, of the growth of nations, of the history of Freemasonry, the Masonic Press is both a necessity, and so long as it fulfils its proper mission, so long as it continues to profess to be—a handmaid to Masonic principles and advance—in due subordination to Masonic authority, and unwavering in its landmarks of our Order, so long will it believe, tend to subserve the great aim and our benign old Craft, the temporal and the intellectual elevation of mankind. That it may sometimes take a mistaken view, both of Masonic duty and Masonic history, we do not refuse to admit, but such is the abuse, not the use of the Masonic Press, and do not necessarily lead to its disgrace. Believing, importance and work, we trust that it may go on and prosper. Next week we shall call attention to its abuse; to those hindrances—that is, to its general acceptance and prestige, which sometimes indispose worthy Masons against its claims and labours.

HAS THE POPE EXCOMMUNICATED HIMSELF?

This amusing query, which we reprinted from Liverpool contemporary last week, is a somewhat difficult one to answer. To give a proper reply to it, we should probably have to go to Van Espen,* of whose writings Mr. Gladstone knew so much, and Sir. W. V. Harcourt knew nothing at all, in the last session of Parliament. No doubt, if the Pope be a Freemason, he has incurred the previous excommunication of Clement, to say nothing of his own formidable allocutions. But, just as Talleyrand tells us that Pope Pius VII. dispensed him from his orders (a very remarkable power), probably Pío Nono would say that he had dispensed himself from his Masonic character. It is, however, a very serious thing for the Roman Catholics if the Pope be under a sentence of excommunication, as, according to Roman Catholic canon law, all pontifical acts are valueless, and he is deprived both of spiritual authority and spiritual functions. We shall therefore await the reply from Philadelphia with much interest. There is an article in the December number of the "Masonic Magazine" on the subject, and which sums up the evidence, so far as we know, and which we reprint in our columns to-day. Up to the present we feel bound almost to say (pace our good brother Gallico), that the evidence of the Pope's affiliation is most unsatisfactory. The recent statement of the "Luce del Terreno" is founded on the earlier statement of the Sicilian Freemasons in 1868, and which was then found to be incorrect. It seems doubtful whether the story is not taken from "Il Pensamiento" of Madrid, as the symbolic name of "Savola" and "Los Hijos de Ramon" are both of Spanish origin. If the trait said to have belonged to a "Bro. Sousgeas" (who was he?) could be produced, it would be an important link of evidence, and if we are of this, that our worthy publisher, George Kenning, would be most happy to receive any number of copies struck for the Craft at large. But at present we are like a famous character of old, we "doubt," and we shall be glad to receive reliable evidence and positive facts.

Original Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

FUND OF BENEVOLENCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason,
Dear Sir and Brother,—
I shall be glad if you or some of your brethren learned in the laws of the Craft would kindly tell me in your next paper if it be lawful to apply the fund of Benevolence or the funds of private lodges to any other than Masonic Charities or for strictly Masonic purposes?

Yours, very fraternally,
J. P. S.—(AN OLD P.M.)

[No; except by vote of Grand Lodge or Prov. G. Lodge, or private lodge for matters of general benevolence and relief.—E.D.]

THE POPE AND FREEMASONRY.

To the Editor of the Freemason.
Dear Sir and Brother,—

Referring to the letters in your paper of the 24th Oct. and 7th inst., on the question of "whether the Pope was a Freemason and a priest at the same time," I am of opinion that, although no positive information has appeared as to the date when Pope Pius IX. was initiated into Freemasonry, there is presumptive evidence that his ordination as a priest was, antecedent to his initiation as a Mason. I remember to have seen the year 1826 named as the year in which he was admitted a member of our Order, but the authenticity of this date requires confirmation. I should be glad to see a satisfactory settlement of this questio vexata, but at present I see no sure way to such a result. I have no means of access to "the official Masonic paper at Cologne," alluded to in a previous letter, and which is said to have published the decree of expulsion of the 27th March last, preceded by the minutes of the lodge in which he was initiated; but it is to be presumed that that publication would throw some light on the question, as the minutes would most probably recite the date of initiation. With respect to the date of his ordination as a priest, the same doubt does not exist, for we are informed by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Davidson (one of the contributors to the "Imperial Dictionary of Universal Biography,") that "Pius IX. was born on the 13th May, 1792, at Sinigaglia. In early life he had a desire for the military profession, and came to Rome in 1815, during the reign of Pius VII., but was not admitted into the Papal Guard because of his delicate health. Accordingly, he studied for the sacred profession, was ordained priest in 1823, and went to Chili to attach himself to the mission there in that year. In 1825 he returned, and devoted himself with great zeal to the care of the poor and the sick, so that Leo XII. made him a hospital director. In 1827 he was nominated Archbishop of Spoleto. In 1832, Gregory XVI. appointed him Archbishop of Imola, and in 1840 he became a cardinal. On the 16th July, 1846, he was elected Pope."

I am, yours fraternally,
B. BROUGHTON, W.M. 302.
Bradford, Nov. 23, 1874.

MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.
Dear Sir and Brother,

In your report of the proceedings of the usual monthly meeting on the 18th Nov. of the Duke of Edinburgh Lodge, No. 1182, Wavertree, it is stated, "No fewer than eight candidates were initiated, which shows that the lodge continues to increase greatly in numbers as well as in the excellent quality of its members."

I trust that there is some mere clerical error in this report, for otherwise the lodge has been guilty of a very grave breach of one of the most important of our constitutional laws, and one which I feel assured cannot be overlooked by the Board of General Purposes, who are, as they should be, the jealous guardians of the regulations of our Order.

The law I refer to is most explicit, and will be found as the sixth paragraph of the section relating to the proposition and making of Freemasons. It reads,—"No lodge shall, on any pretence initiate into Masonry more than five persons on the same day, unless by a dispensation which shall specify the total number to be initiated."

It is, of course, possible that such a dispensation was given for the occasion referred to. If so, the report ought to have mentioned the fact, in order that brethren, not cognizant of the law, might not be misled. If, however, there was no dispensation and the number of initiates stated is correct, then there can be no doubt that the regulations have been infringed and the matter calls for further notice.

Yours fraternally,
P.M. P. Z.
Clapham, Dec. 1st, 1874.

MASONIC BIBLIOGRAPHY AND THE "VERNON LODGE."

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—
Bro. Woodford has made a slight mistake in stating "that there is still a Vernon Lodge—No. 539—at Walsall." No. 539 is the St. Matthew's Lodge—one of the best in the province of Staffordshire.

The "Vernon" Lodge received its name at Dudley. About twenty years since, in conjunction with a few other brethren, I wished to establish a new lodge at Dudley, and petitioned for one. Our Prov. Grand Master suggested that we should transfer a lodge from Bromsgrove, it not having met for some time. Communications were at once entered into with the last, and then W.M., the Rev. J. H. Isles, M.A., Second Master of the Bromsgrove Grammar School (under Dr. Collis, I believe), but now the Rector of Wolverhampton. The result was that we joined that lodge—removed it to Dudley, and rechristened it after our P.G.M.—Bro. Henry Charles Vernon. We met at the Town Hall as a non-banqueting lodge, and its success for a few years was great; but soon after my leaving it declined, and was then removed to Southport, where it still is as No. 560. I well remember the Bible referred to by Bro. Woodford, and we looked upon it as the best part of the furniture we received from Bromsgrove. How it became alienated from the lodge I know not—should be glad of information—for I cannot believe the warrant of the Vernon to be defunct, and the furniture dispersed. I would rather think that a brand new Bible has been given, and the old one discarded, perhaps as being worthless. I should be glad to see this book again; and as I was instrumental in obtaining it for the "Vernon," its possession now for the new Francis Burdett Lodge, No. 1503, of which I am first W.M., would be most highly valued. I hope Bro. Woodford will place himself in communication with me, with a view of opening negotiations for it, and thus place it once more as the principal part of the furniture of a lodge, where Archaeological and Antiquarian objects of interest will be by no means despised.

The Rev. J. H. Isles, D.D., the Rector, Wolverhampton, would, I have no doubt, throw further light upon the history of this bible prior to my acquaintance with it. The late Bro. Maund, of Bromsgrove, himself an antiquarian of no mean note, promised me an authentic history, but it was never written.

I am, Dear Sir and Bro., Yours fraternally,
W.M. WIGGINTON, F.R.I.B.A.
Nov. 30, 1874.

Extract from Freemasons' Magazine, Page 596—1856.

"BROMSGROVE.—The Clive Lodge, No. 819.* At the Lodge of Emergency convened at the Golden Cross, Bromsgrove, for the 30th of June, the lodge was opened by the Rev. Bro. J. H. Isles, W.M. The business upon the circular was then proceeded with, and the transfer of the warrant to Dudley (subject to the permission of the P.G.M.) unanimously agreed upon. Fourteen Brethren were then elected joining members, and other necessary business disposed of. It was also unanimously resolved that the name of the Lodge be altered from the "Clive" to the "Vernon," out of respect to the P.G.M. of the

* When the Calendar was altered through the efforts of Bro. Wigginton this number was reduced to 560.

Province. The following brethren were then elected to the following offices:—The Rev. Bro. A. G. Davies, M.A. (P.M. 730, and P.G. Chaplain for Worcestershire) W.M., Bro. W. Wiginton, S.D. No. 730, and Sec. No. 313, Treas.; and I. Jeffs, Tyler. Lodge was closed and the meeting then adjourned.

Minutes confirmed at Bromsgrove on the 27th of July, and the Installation at Dudley took place on the 17th Sept.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In order to answer to our esteemed Bro., the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, P.G.C., I have searched my register of lodges, and find that the Vernon Lodge, No. 819, to which the "Breeches" bible formerly belonged, is a young lodge, having been warranted in 1849.

I have no Calendar between 1849 and 1851.

For the latter year the following is the number and designation:—

"819. Clive Lodge, Town Hall, Bromsgrove."

My next Calendar is for 1859, when the title is altered to—

"819. Vernon, Old Town Hall, Dudley."

In 1863 the number was altered to 560, and about 1869 the lodge was removed to Stourport, where it is still located. Bro. Woodford states "there is still a Vernon Lodge, No. 539, at Walsall," but that, I think, is an error, for No. 539 is "St. Matthew," the only "Vernon Lodge" being the one already noted and held originally at Bromsgrove, by name "Clive, No. 819, then removed to Dudley and the name altered to "Vernon," finally resting at Stourport.

This lodge evidently once owned the bible which is now in the possession of Bro. Woodford, P.G.C.

If the property of the lodge was dispersed, the occurrence is likely to have been at the time of the removal from Dudley to Stourport.

The 1594 "Geneva edit." of the "Holy Bible" is not often met with, at least I do not remember seeing it offered of late in any catalogues.

W. J. HUGHAN.

MASONIC PORTRAITS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I take the liberty of suggesting how both the circulation and interest of the Freemason may be very much increased, and that is, by giving a portrait weekly of some prominent Master; the blocks could also be reprinted in "Masonic Magazine;" this I am sure would be welcomed by all Masons as a great boon, and I might further suggest that in some cases the principal officers might be introduced to form a group of 3 portraits in ovals, with appropriate border; when this should be desired I have no doubt they would be perfectly willing to defray the cost of engraving themselves.

I am,

Dear Sir and Brother,
T.P.C.

[What say our brethren?—Ed.]

QUOTATIONS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

When learned brethren quote from foreign languages, would it not be desirable that they should also furnish translations of their excerpts for the enlightenment of less highly-educated confrères? I venture to propound this enquiry in consequence of being hopelessly puzzled by the phrase "Epphursi muove," in the letter signed "A. Gallico," in last week's issue. I have some little knowledge of one or two languages besides my own but I can't make anything out of his "Epphursi." Has it any reference to Ephesus?—and is the word, or is it not, in the double dialect of Holland?

Yours, &c.,

SYLVANUS URBAN.

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

FROM THE MASONIC MAGAZINE.

(By the Editor.)

Much attention has been given lately, for many reasons, to this question, both by our Order and the Press, not at all unnaturally, we think, though the answer be not so easy to give as some of our good brethren may be hastily disposed to think.

It cannot be replied to, for instance, off hand or without some authority, as that is only to repeat the old random and mistaken system of Masonic asseveration which has been productive of so much evil to the Order, historically and archæologically, in the opinion of all Masonic lovers of truth, and especially of non-Masonic writers, both of the past and the present. It appears, therefore, to us, to be our bounden duty to endeavour to prove the assertions so often made and so readily given, to the very bottom; to sift the mass of authorities and declarations made with so lavish a hand, so as to separate the wheat from the chaff, and without paying any attention to reckless assertions, to ascertain what is absolutely true, if possible, not merely what we wish or assume to be the case.

And all this, it appears to us, that we ought to do as careful students, thinking Masons, for the sake of Masonic veracity.

It seems from an editorial in our contemporary, the Freemason, that the matter has again been referred to Philadelphia, U.S., for investigation; but in the meantime let us see what are so far the "proofs" submitted to us. What are the "scintillations of evidence?" For some years, it has been openly asserted, Pope Pius Nono was a Freemason. Bro. Chalmers I. Paton, for instance, in the Freemason for April 2, 1870, (see vol. iii, Freemason, page 153), states that "some two years ago I explained the fact that Pius IX. was initiated into the Order of Freemasonry. I shall in the course of a very short time send to the Freemason further particulars."

And accordingly, in the Freemason for June 25th, 1870, (vol. iii, page 310), Bro. Paton communicates an article headed, "The Pope a Freemason."

But when we look at this carefully, hoping to find proof, we find nothing whatever but a repetition of Bro. Paton's own opinion, and which it appears he had communicated to the Scotsman two years previously, namely, in 1868.

Did we say that there was no proof? That is not quite correct, for as evidence Bro. Paton bases his statement on the negative fact, that the "truth of Pius IX. being himself a member of the Order has never been disputed by any member of the Roman Catholic Church, in a private or public manner," and on this positive fact that "myself it has been admitted by one who has had a conversation with the Pope personally on the subject."

Without appearing too inquisitive or too sceptical, (we are only searchers after truth), we should like to know, we confess, to whom the Pope made such an admission, and what were the exact words of the venerable Pontiff.

For we fear that we must say that Bro. Paton's evidence is not conclusive, and his facts not satisfactory, as they rest entirely upon his own "ipse dixit," and are therefore opposed to all the true conditions and critical canons of historical inquiry. At present we ourselves are unwilling to pronounce any opinion one way or the other.

We wait for evidence, as we feel sure that is the only possible way of rightly answering the question or of finally disposing of the subject. We want something more than negative probabilities and suppositious averments.

The Pope is said to have been made a Mason at Rome, at Havannah, and at Philadelphia, for into these three "locales," all the present evidential facts seem to resolve themselves. It is possible that the Pope was made a Freemason surreptitiously in Rome, in the days of his early liberalism, when he was a friend of Guiseppe Mazzini, and not hostile to "Giovine Italia."

Indeed, some writers have said that Pius Nono was once admitted into the "Carbonari" or one of the Italian secret societies.

But so far no evidence whatever has been adduced of such a reception. Other writers have, however, publicly declared that the Pope was made a Freemason in Spain, at Madrid, though we believe all that the Spanish Grand Lodge has ever asserted is, that when Nuncio he was a visitor at more than one of their lodges.

In 1870, the Libertad del Pensamiento, a Madrid Masonic Journal, quoted in the Freemason of December 3rd, 1870, (vol. iii, page 625), made the following statement:—"Few persons know, and that is the reason we take this occasion to relate the fact, that the present Roman Pontiff, Pope Pius IX., owes his elevation to the see of St. Peter to the influence of Masons, whose 'principles he promised to sustain.' Pius IX. was initiated into the 'Sons of Hiram,' 'Los Hijos de Hiram,' under the symbolic name of 'Savola.' He became a Knight of the Red Cross 18°. There are existing lodges at Madrid which he visited during his residence in Spain, and many brethren who remembered the facts."

It is not quite certain from this record where the Pope was initiated; on that point it is silent; but from the use of the symbolic name "Savola," it must have been, if the fact be true, in a lodge under the Italian or Spanish system. Indeed, we believe the "symbolic name" is mostly insisted on in Spain, though it is still used, we have been told, but not universally, in Italy.

But the same record goes on to say, and the fact, if correct, is most important:—

"Bro. Soussingear has shown us a fine portrait of the Pope in full Masonic regalia, with the following inscription underneath in Latin: "Et excommunicate fratres meos meâ culpa," which the translator says means, 'If my brethren are excommunicated, it is my fault.'"

We should like to know more of this picture, and a little more of the Latin inscription, which, to say the truth, seems at first sight, rather canine.

In the Freemason for March 26th, 1870, vol. iii, page 145, appears a statement taken from the Philadelphia Keystone of about the same date, quoting the New York World of the 10th March, as publishing a translation from the Era Padri Sarpi of Venice, to the following effect:—

"Freemasons will be interested to know that Mastai Ferretti, better known as Pope Pius IX., once belonged to their Order, having joined it in Philadelphia when he was Papal Nuncio to this country, and that he continued to be a Mason two years after he became Pope."

"This," as the Keystone then said, and we say to-day, "is a very interesting question," and the Keystone gives in consequence some equally interesting information, to which we deem it well to refer our readers.

In 1868 it appears that the then Grand Master of Pennsylvania (Richard Vaux) received from the editor of the Monde Macannique, a Parisian Masonic journal, the August number of the periodical.

In that number was an article entitled, "Institution de Vie IX.," taken from L'Unitarian, and which the editor terms "the first document intended to prove the initiation of Pope Pius IX. into the mysteries of Freemasonry."

This document is a letter which the Masons of Messina in Sicily are said to have addressed in 1865, to the Very Rev. Monsignore Agliotti, caputular vicar of that diocese.

It asserts that Mastai Ferretti, while Grego in the 16th was Pope, was sent on a mission to America, North and South.

That after his mission was ended he went to Philadelphia, and was then and there made a Mason. The year, however, is not given. The letter of the Messina Masons proceeds to give extracts from the speeches of Pius IX., the Nuncio, on various occasions, as when he said "I am fully convinced that Masonry is one of the best, 'plus belles,' associations that is known in the world."

This is probably from an Italian original. On another occasion he is alleged to have said "I shall ever be a warm defender of this sublime Order, whose mission it is to moralize the universe, and to relieve and protect suffering humanity."

The Editor of the Monde Macannique sent with his paper a letter to the Grand Master lling his attention to the article, and asking m to forward to the Monde Maconnique a cer- jeid copy of the facts and proceedings of the ge initiating M. Ferretti.

To this letter the Grand Master replied yember 23rd 1868. In that reply he stated at "from time to time he had heard a report it the Pope was made a Freemason in the ited States, but that he had always regarded is an idle story."

Since, however, so respectable a Masonic hority had published what purported to be : letter of the Freemasons of Messina, and ched to be authentic, in which such state- nts were publicly made, an examination uld be instituted by the Grand Secretary of Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Bro. John ompson.

That investigation was made when these facts weread.

There was a Lodge, "Le Temple des Vertus ologales," No. 103, held in the City of vannah, under a warrant from the Grand lge of Free and Accepted Masons of Penn- nia, of 17th December, 1804.

From a list of its members, it appears that on uary 15th, 1815, Juan Aug. Ferretti was e a Mason, and that on March 21st, 1817, withdrew from membership.

It appears also that there was a Lodge, "Las icias de la Havannah," No. 157, held also in vannah, under the Grand Lodge of Penn- nia, and on March 27th, 1818, J. A. retti joined that lodge.

In November 17th, 1819, Martin Ferretti made a Mason in No. 157. These names it appears, copied from the Grand Secretary's ister in the Grand Lodge at Philadelphia.

As the questions arise, do these names refer he Pope and his brother? Was Juan Aug. nance of the Pope's brother?

Is Martin a mistake for Mastai? We should avour to ascertain these facts, as otherwise e facetious Roman will be sure to say that all "my eye and Betty Martin."

In the "Luce del Terreno" of Palermo has itly repeated this story, and our contem- ry, the Freemason, has we believe, referred latter to our accomplished correspondent, ord McCalla, Esq., Editor of the Philadelphia tone, and asked him to investigate the whole er. Until we receive his reply, we shall e the question where it is.

We have stated simply the facts of the case, e think the whole subject requires a full and rial inquiry, and demands a decisive settle-

THE POPE AND FREEMASONRY.

Extract the following articles from the Constitution of Monday, Nov. 23rd, 1874:—

The Irishman has arrived at the conclusion that seems to be a great deal of unreality in al life. It is after a consideration of the cts of infallibility and Freemasonry that the an has come to this decision. There is a ow waging in which to that newspaper the nding parties appear to be 'banging each s heads with blown bladders' in honour tively of Church and State. 'It is all very al,' says the Irishman, 'and Mr. Gladstone oast that though he is not a facetious man lf, he is the fount of fun in others.' The lic Union appears to the Irishman to take using part in the fray:—'A few short ago the Catholic Union made a pronun- to. If the Duke of Abercorn, the Queen's y, should dare to accept the Grand Master- f the Freemasons of Ireland, the loyalty of Catholics would scarcely stand the strain. words were strong—strong that we dare ote them in this journal. A contemporary rely referring to the Queen as an 'alien got 'a warning'—and surely if it had uch language as that employed by the its existence would be a thing of the Nevertheless, the Duke accepts the office nd Master. And what does the Union?

It passes a resolution of defiance against Mr. Gladstone for daring to impugn the loyalty of Catholics!"

ROMAN CATHOLIC LOYALTY.

Of the propositions which Mr. Gladstone advanced in his article on Ritualism, and undertook to substantiate in his now famous pamphlet, there was one which excited special indignation. It was this:—"That Rome requires a convert, who now joins her, to forfeit his mental and moral freedom, and to place his loyalty and civil duty at the mercy of another." The truth of this has been vigorously denied by the champions of the Vatican Decrees from Archbishop Manning downwards. Now let another authority speak. The Dublin Review of last month says:—"Catholics may say that the priests are the very salt of a country, and incomparably the most essential part of it; so that no actions of any kind can rightly be called the action of the 'whole' community, against which a large proportion of the priests protest. This does not seem to us a strained or insufficient argument. If, however, it be so voted, we are prepared to take much stronger ground. The Pope, in virtue of his ecclesiastical office, has the power of deposing any Sovereign whose Government he may consider injurious to the spiritual welfare of that country." The astounding impudence of these two propositions of the Dublin Review—the organ of Archbishop Manning and Cardinal Cullen—almost defies serious comment. In the first the claim is made that every act purporting to be the act of the whole community shall be subjected to a vote by orders, an adverse clerical vote to be equivalent to a veto. That is to say, in such matters as electing a member of Parliament to represent the community, the vote of the priesthood, whether they be enfranchised or not, is to be considered of equal weight with that of the legal body of electors. Seeing that this is the doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church in this country, and that such is the claim of her priesthood, can we wonder at the symptoms which have been recently exhibited of a revolt against so intolerable an aggression. Or can we afford to accept the denials to the statements of Dr. Dollinger that the Catholic representatives of Ireland are directed by their bishops, who, in their turn, receive their orders from Rome? This, however, concerns chiefly Roman Catholics themselves. The Dublin Evening Post, indeed, asserted the other day, that "no English statesman can successfully continue to reign as Premier who has not the entire support of the Catholic representation of Ireland." If this were true, the matter would be serious, but its obvious falsehood is plain at least just now. The second proposition of the Review is more serious, involving as it does the common loyalty of our Roman Catholic fellow-subjects. It comes to this, that on the showing of the Review, they hold themselves absolved from all allegiance to a Sovereign of whom the Pope disapproves. For instance, the Prince of Wales is a Freemason, Grand Master of the Craft in England. The Pope has entered into a persevering crusade against Freemasons. When the time comes for the Prince to ascend the Throne, will the Pope approve of him? And if not how can we rely on those of our Roman Catholic fellow-subjects who accept the Vatican Decrees? The Pope disapproves of the Government of the present Emperor of Germany. If he further proceeded to "depose" him, would the Roman Catholics of Germany feel themselves absolved from their allegiance? How about the Roman Catholics of this Empire if his Holiness chose to "depose" Queen Victoria? Of course it does not matter a straw to the Emperor of Germany, to Queen Victoria, or to the Prince of Wales what attitude the Bishop of Rome assumes towards them. But the statements made bear directly upon the controversy raised by Mr. Gladstone as to the conflicting claims of the Vatican Decrees and civil allegiance. Numbers of Roman Catholics, we are sure, are loyal to the Throne, and would be so under any circumstances—how- ever, they might reconcile such loyalty with the claims of Infallibility. But it is also clear that there is, at least, a party among them who follow out the Vatican Decrees to their logical consequence—the destruction of their civil allegiance and loyalty.

EMULATION LODGE OF IMPROVEMENT.

The annual festival of this first-class lodge of Improvement for Master Masons was held on Friday week at Freemasons' Hall, and was even more largely attended than usual. The working was equal in every respect to the high character it has obtained in this lodge and was greatly admired by the numerous company assembled to witness it. The W.M.'s chair was taken by Bro. Thomas Fenn, Past Assistant Grand Director of Ceremonies, who put the questions to the candidates who were announced to give the sections in the different lectures.

They were given in the following order:— 4th section of First Lecture, by Bro. J. F. Huggins, P.M. 18, 5th by Bro. H. J. Wood; 6th by Bro. G. E. Eachus; 7th by Bro. H. Bishop, J.W. 06.

1st Section of Third Lecture, by Bro. Erasmus Wilson, F.R.S., G.S.; 2nd by Bro. Montague Gosset, P.M. 66; and 3rd by Bro. W. Smallpeice.

This business occupied a considerable time, and on its conclusion votes of thanks having been passed, and propositions for joining the lodge taken, the brethren adjourned to the Freemasons' Tavern, where a bountiful supper was provided by Bro. C. E. Francatelli, and over which Bro. McIntyre, Q.C., Grand Registrar, presided. On his right were Bros. F. A. Philbrick, Q.C., G.D.; J. A. Rucker, G.D.; Erasmus Wilson, G.S.; Wilhelm Ganz, Past G. Organist; John Boyd, P.G.P.; Rev. A. B. Fraser P.G.C.; Rev. C. J. Martyu, F.G.C.; and T. Fenn, P.A.G.D.C.; and on his left, Bros. John Hervey, G.S. Ex-Sheriff Huxton, C. A. Murton, P.G.D. H. J. P. Dumas, P.G.D.C.; Hyde Pull-n. P.G. S.B.; and A. Green, I.P.M., 7, and Secretary of the Emulation Lodge of Improvement; while among the general company, which numbered over 200 brethren, were Bros. F. Binckes, Secretary Royal Masonic Institution for Boys, R. W. Little, Secretary, Royal Masonic Institution for Girls; Henry Greene, the brethren who worked the sections, H. Massey, (Freemason), several members of the Grand Stewards' Lodges, and representatives of the principal London lodges.

The hour was rather late when the supper was over, and Bro. McIntyre immediately rose to propose the toasts.

After the toast of "The Queen and the Craft" had been honoured, that of the Prince of Wales as Grand Master was submitted to the brethren, and in giving it, Bro. McIntyre remarked that all Masons must be extremely delighted that the heir to the throne of England had accepted the office of Chief of the Craft. It was no more than might have been expected of him, because as soon as he was made a Mason he was desirous of becoming a member of Grand Lodge. It was a great pleasure to Freemasons that he had taken such an interest in the Order. He was not only Past Grand Master but was now the actual Grand Master of the Freemasons of England. We might look forward to a long and auspicious reign of H.R.H., for he would be supported by all the members of the Craft, individually as well as collectively. "The Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Carnarvon, and the rest of the Grand Officers," was then proposed by Bro. McIntyre, who spoke of the Earl of Carnarvon as not only a distinguished Freemason but as a distinguished member of the present Government, who performed all duties, whether Masonic, political or social, with the greatest ability. In all of these he had gained the esteem, affection and honour of every person who knew him. The Grand Officers, of whom there were several present, occupied their position by reason of eminent services performed by them for the Order, one of them, whose name he would couple with the toast, the Rev. C. J. Martyu, was known to them all, and the mere mention of his name would suggest the work of a most devoted officer and friend to the Craft. Another 'Grand Chaplain, the Rev. A. B. Fraser, was also present, and he was distinguished not only in Grand Lodge but also in those two great provinces whence sprang the learning and education of England—Oxford and Cambridge. There was also another most esteemed friend to Masonry present—the Grand Secretary—who was known to all Masons—(great cheering)—and wherever English Freemasonry was known and respected the name of Bro. Hervey was honoured. (Hear, hear.) Another eminent Mason, Bro. Philbrick, sat on his (Bro. McIntyre's) right hand, and there were ex-Sheriff Hutton, Bro. Dumas, who had done good work in the Craft; Bro. Ganz, who drew forth those sweet sounds which delighted on all occasions; Bro. Boyd, Past Grand Pursuivant, who had also done great honour to the Craft; Bro. Hyde Pullen; and last, though not by any means least, Bro. Fenn, who had just presided in the lodge, and showed such consummate skill and knowledge in Masonic ritual. (Renewed applause.) The list of Grand Officers present was a distinguished one, but it was only representative of Grand Lodge at the present time. The Rev. C. J. Martyn responded, and said that although he was very proud of the recognition, it was one of the happy thoughts he had when he came into the room that he would have got off scot-free. However modest and retiring a man might be, he could not always hope to escape observation, and as Bro. McIntyre had called upon him to reply to this toast, he was bound to do so. There was but little for him to say, but he hoped and trusted that himself and all the brethren who had been so flatteringly alluded to by the Grand Registrar would show in the future as they had in the past that they were not unworthy of the honours which had been laid upon them by the favour of Grand Masters. Speaking of the working he had witnessed in the lodge that evening, he looked upon it as very instructive and as one of the greatest treats to be had in Freemasonry. It was a lesson they all ought to take home to themselves and try to follow. He had come up 50 miles from Suffolk that day, and on his journey home to-morrow his mind would be full of thoughts which would enable him to preach a better sermon than he otherwise could. He wished that they would all adopt the excellent teaching they had heard more fully and thoroughly in their daily life, and be guided by the principles of the Craft as embodied in its ritual and section work. They would thereby be greatly improved and become better men. He hoped they might all meet at the same annual festival for many years to come.

In giving the toast of the evening, "Success to the Emulation Lodge of Improvement," Bro. McIntyre observed that he and every one present were anxious that the ritual of Freemasonry should be kept pure, simple and intact, not added to by any persons who might have vague notions that they could improve upon the old ritual that had been handed down to them as taught in the Emulation Lodge of Improvement. The old traditions of Freemasonry were fairly carried out in it, and if alterations had been made they were alterations which would restore it to its former shape, and obliterate from it some little discrepancies that had crept in. It had often struck him when he had visited lodges in different parts of the country that there ought to be uniformity of ritual in the opening and closing of lodges in the various degrees. In olden times, when there were few lodges, no doubt all lodges opened and closed according to a set form, and he did not see why that should not be done now. There were lodges of instruction in different places which did not conform to the same order of words as was followed in the Emulation, but having considered the matter over and over again he had come to the conclusion that the way in which the ritual for opening and closing lodges as practised in the Emulation, was as perfect as it could possibly be. This lodge preserved all the old traditions that had been handed down to it by old instructors, and he was quite certain that very little remained, if anything remained, by which this lodge could be improved. It showed that the true principles of Freemasonry, as handed down by our forefathers, had been preserved in their general integrity, and, he might almost say, word for word. He would recommend brethren to come to it, not only for a knowledge of the words, but of the mode, and to carry both back to their lodges. He had a great predilection for this lodge, because he first learned the work by which he was able to go into the Master's chair; and though he had seen much working, he had never witnessed any so perfectly executed as in the Emulation. Under its present instructors, who gave their time to their work, the Emulation Lodge would not deteriorate from the high character it had so long preserved. He could not refrain from saying that his old and esteemed friend, Bro. Fenn, who had presided on that occasion, and who was so ably supported by all the brethren, stood forth as worthy representative, equal, at least, if not superior, to those who had gone before him, and that he might be styled as household word in Masonry as Peter Gilks and Stephen Barton Wilson. All who had learned in the Emulation Lodge under one or other of those brethren must say that Bro. Fenn knew as much as they did, and that he was as capable of communicating a knowledge of ceremonies as they. He did not think he could pay him a higher compliment than by saying he was a most worthy chairman and preceptor, and the brethren who had helped him were worthy of him (applause).

Bro. T. Fenn (who was received with loud cheers), said,

"Worthy brother president, in thanking you for the honour you have done me in connecting my name with the toast I must beg you will allow me to accept the compliment as paid to the Committee of this lodge rather than to myself. This lodge, it must be remembered, is not simply a lodge of instruction for beginners; it is a lodge of improvement. It is not the rough ashlar for the entered apprentice to work, mark, or indent on; but it is rather the perfect ashlar on which the experienced Craftsman may try and adjust his jewels. It is for this reason that it is absolutely necessary that we should agree upon and strictly adhere to one uniform standard of work, even to the very letter; and it is the duty of this Committee to see that that standard is maintained. Of course this duty is not at all times agreeable. I trust that the brethren feel that we endeavour at all times to discharge it with courtesy and consideration, and speaking for myself personally, I must say, with pleasure, that we have invariably received that kind support with which, believe me, they are offered. There is no doubt, I think, that there has been of late years great improvement in the working of the ceremonies throughout the whole of the Craft; and it sustains the Committee in their labour to believe that this result can be traced, in a great measure, directly or indirectly, to this Emulation Lodge of Improvement. On behalf of the Committee, I beg to thank you for the compliment you have paid us, and I take it as a mark of confidence in the Committee who manage the lodge. Bro. Philbrick proposed "The Health of the Chairman," and dwelt on the peculiar fitness of Bro. McIntyre to occupy the post of President of such a gathering as that. Bro. McIntyre replied, "Success to the Lodge of Unions (No. 256)," under which the Emulation Lodge of Improvement works, was proposed by Bro. J. A. Rucker, and replied to by the W.M. of 256. Bro. Erasmus Wilson proposed "The Charities," commenting on the admirable way in which those institutions were conducted. Bro. Little, replying for the Girls' School, said that there was a parallel between the Emulation Lodge of Improvement and the educational establishments connected with the Craft, for if the lodge was advancing Masons in Masonic knowledge, the schools were taking the sons and daughters of Freemasons by the hand and instructing them in the good work they were to achieve. He congratulated the Craft upon the high position of the Emulation Lodge of Improvement, and he was proud to be able to state that, with the growth of the Craft, there was an increasing interest in the Masonic Institutions and their wants, as well as a growing desire to meet those wants and whatever requirements might arise. Bro. F. Binckes, responding for the Boys' School, said his motto was "non verba," no matter what other people might say; and he would exhort the brethren to proceed by the liberality of their support of the Boys' School, that they were their boys. For Bro. Wilson's mention of the Masonic Institutions, he hoped he would receive his (Bro. Binckes') warm and very sincere thanks. Bro. Huggins replied for "The Officers," and Bro. A. Green for "The Stewards," after which the brethren separated.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

The usual monthly meeting of the General Committee of this Institution was held on the 26th ult., in the library at Freemasons' Hall. Bro. Thomas W. White, V.P., presided, and other brethren present were Walter Wellesley Griffiths Smith, A. F. Peacock, John A. Rucker, Jesse Turner, H. Massey (Freemason), and Wentworth Little (Secretary). Four petitions were read for placing candidates on the list for next April election. Of these one country and one London case were passed, and one country and one London case were deferred till next meeting. The Secretary read an extract from the will of the late Mr. George Waking, Chelmsford, under which the Boys' and Girls' School take between them one-third of the residue of his personalty. The residue amounted to about £700. On the motion of Bro. Rucker seconded by Bro. Griffiths Smith, a vote of thanks was passed to Grand Chapter for its gift of £500 to this Institution. The Secretary was directed to write to the Marquis of Ripon, asking his Lordship whether he wished to remain a Trustee of the Masonic Institution for Girls.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

Poetry.

THE MASTER MASON'S SONG. (For Music.)

Let us be merry, for our work is done;
The faithful sun his glorious course has run:
And we have borne the noontide heat of day,
Now for the joyful toast and festive lay.

So may each brother strive to be
A worthy son of Masonry.

We will rejoice—who, as Freemasons, know—
That prudence is our trustiest friend below.
If Temperance chasten us, and Justice guide,
We'll bear with fortitude whate'er betide.

So may each brother strive to be
A worthy son of Masonry:

Let us remember what our rules would teach
That, in the world, we practise what we preach:
To love our brethren—to relieve the poor;
By Truth's pure light to make our footsteps sure.

So may each brother strive to be
A worthy son of Masonry.

Our hands should help a brother in his need,
Our feet should ever to his succour speed,
And when our prayers ascend before His throne,
A brother's welfare should be as our own.

So may each brother strive to be
A worthy son of Masonry.

Our breasts should keep secure a brother's trust,
Our arms should parry lurking slander's thrust,
So must we act if Masons we would be
With deeds not words to honour Masonry.

So may each brother strive to be
A worthy son of Masonry.

GORDON CAMPBELL.

Cursed be the social lies that warp us
The living truth!—TAYLORSON.

ODE TO THE GRAND MASTER OF IRISH FREEMASONRY.

Hail, Abercorn! Erin's chief Of the Accepted and the Free Our motto 'Love, Truth, and Relief,' Now shines in brilliant blazonry. And tho' the Harp's in part unstrung, Whose voice hath round the world rung, This effort yet doth give it tongue To sound the praise of Masonry.

I.

Masonry, then, be my theme, An' it please the Brethren a', For it is a sublime scheme Is it not ye Brethren a'? Yes it is, and it is found Far and near and all around, And its glorious beams abound, Where there be Brethren a'.

II.

It is Love to human kind, Shewn by the Brethren true, It is purity of mind; Prov'd by the Brethren too. It is Peace, Goodwill to all. Prince or Peasant, great or small, Each with joy attend its call, When they be Brethren true.

III.

In the lessons that are taught At each step of Brotherhood, There is nothing fancy fraught; Each excels, and all are good By its perfectness of parts, By its hold on human hearts, To defy the Devil's darts, Aid it gives the Brotherhood.

IV.

It is founded on a fact, Known to the Brethren all. Each attempt to counteract Its uprisings had a fall. In its strength, its harmony, In its sound solidity. It has stood triumphantly, 'Gainst them, an unbroken wall.

V.

It will stand whilst Truth holds sway In the breasts of Brethren a'. It will usher in bright day To good men and Brethren a'. Let it not be understood None but Masons we hold good. We admit there are—they should, Come and be our brethren a'.

VI.

If for some sad freak of mind, One hath left the Brethren a', Let us then be more than kind And pitiful, ye Brethren a'. 'Tis his loss—it is not ours, 'Tis our gain, the highest powers Reigning come, like Summer showers To refresh the Brethren a'.

VII.

If at God's appointed hour, The Geraldine hath gone to rest, A standard straight, a very tower He stood whilst living—now he's blest. And what, altho' a chief hath left Our champion closes up the cleft, Erin's not therefore all bereft, We welcome him with real zest.

F. S. GORDON, 332.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

Advertisements.

A MASTER MASON, in very reduced circumstances, seeks employment as Clerk, Collector, Tutor, or Traveller. Is aged 30, gentlemanly, of business habits and good address. Understands book-keeping and office duties; translates French; has studied the classics, Hebrew, and Mathematics; been engaged as a Traveller in business, and as a Tutor. Would accept small salary.—J. B. P., 135, Great College-street, Camden Town, London, N.W.

EMPLOYMENT WANTED, as Tyler, Janitor, or Equerry.—Address, R. J., 19, Calthorpe-street, W.C.

Now Ready, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CARTES DE VISITE OF THE FOLLOWING

Masonic Celebrities.

- The Most Hon. the Marquess of Ripon. The Right Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, D.G.M. The Right Hon. Lord Wrenley, Prov. Grand Master Suffolk. The Right Hon. the Earl of Bective, P.G.M. Cumberland and Westmorland. The Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, P.G.M. Bristol: Sir Fredk. Martin Williams, Bart, M.P., D.P.G.M. Cornwall. Adair, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Somerset. Bagshaw, R. J., Prov. G. Master Essex. Beach, W. W. B., M.P., Prov. G. Master Hants. Burdett, Col. F., Prov. G. Master Middlesex. Doble, A., P. Prov. G. Master Surrey. Graham, J.H., L.L.D., M.W.G. Master Quebec. Hayshe, Rev. Jno., Prov. G. Master Devon. Lazar, J., District G. Master New Zealand. Smith, Augustus, F., Prov. G. Master Cornwall. Stuart, W., Past Grand Master, K.T. Vernon, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Staffordshire. Adams, Jas, P.M., P.Z. Adair, Frederick, P.F.G.D.C., Essex. Bannister, J., P.G.S.B. Binckes, Fredk., Sec. R.M.I. Boys. Bower, R.F. Brennan, J. F. Campbell, Thos. M. Christie, P.M., Edinborough. Costa, Ralph, 32. Costa, Sir Michael, 33, P.G.O. Cosham, Geo. Cox, Edward. Cronin, Dr. Dossell. Dumas, C. C., P.G.D. Surrey. Edwards T. H., P.M. 8. Elliot, Lord, P.G.W. Flavell, E.E., Irish K.T. Foxall Samuel, P.M. Garey, William. Gouley, George Frank, Editor St. Louis "Freemason." Havers, John, P.G.W. Harding. Hervey, Jno., Grand Secretary. Hodges, H.B., M.D. Holden, Rev. P. M. Holmes, Emra. Holmes R. D. Hopkins, D. H. Hughan, Wm. James, P.S.G.D. Hunt, G. Ward. Inna, Samuel, D.P.G.M., Norths. Hunts. John, R. Lambert, Geo. 30. Little, Robert Wentworth, Sec. R.M.I. Girls. May, Samuel, P.G. Steward. Mackenzie, P.M. Meggy, J., P.G. Steward. Moulton, J. B., P.G.D. Moore, Rev. T. E. P.G.C. Moss, J.T., P.M., P.Z. Muggertide, Henry. Norton, Jacob. O'Brien Magnus, P.M., P.Z., 31. P.G.J.W. Surrey. Parvilo, T. R., Sec. Gnd. Lodge of Iowa. Plati, J. P., M.P.Z. Port, J. Pullen, Hyde, 33, P.G.S.B. Purday, F.M. Roebuck, W., P.P.G.S.B. Surrey. Rule, P.G. Pursuitant. Scott, Chas., Commander, R.N. Shaboe, Rev. D., P.P.G. Chaplain Middx. Simms, J. Lambert. Smith, P.G.P. Spiera, R. J., P.G.S.B., D.P.G.M. Oxford. Spurr, J. F., P.M. Stebbing, J. Rankin, P.D.G.M., Hants. Stevens, James, P.M., P.Z. Stewart, Raynham W., P.G.D. Stohwasser, J., P.M., P.Z. Stone, W., P.M., K.T. Stringer, Stuart, W., P.Z. Sugg, P. M. Swan, C., P.P.G.S.B. Herts. Taylor, J., P.P.J.W. Middlesex. Thomas, Jas., P.M. Udall, J., P.G.D. Walters, Fredk., P.M., P.Z. Wigginton, Col., W.M. 1503. Williams, John. Woodford, The Rev. A.F.A., Past Grand Chaplain. Wright.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind

used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundry, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.—

The Best Remedy for ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, GOUT, AND INDIGESTION, and the best mild aperient for delicate constitutions, especially adapted for LADIES, CHILDREN, AND INFANTS. DINNEFORD & CO. 172, New Bond Street, London, and of all Chemists.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS

The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri. The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $3 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free. Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 198, Fleet-street.

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason." BRO. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swansea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Books, Candles, Pertumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

THE ENTR'ACTE.

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW, Price One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal London and Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by post at 1/6 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

Now Ready, Fifth Edition. 6s.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. "A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age. London Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

SARSAPARILLA.

WILKINSON'S ESSENCE, OR FLUID EXTRACT OF RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, prescribed by the Faculty for Purifying the Blood, Disabling Liver Complaints, and freeing the system from effects of Mercury. Exclusively used in India and the Colonies as a prevention to Tropical diseases. "Superior preparations that may always be relied upon."—Sir Astley Cooper. "We are in every respect satisfied with it."—Lancet. "We recommend yours as the best."—Medical Review. In Quarter, Half, and Pint Bottles. CAUTION.—Spurious and injurious preparations are offered to the public. See that Bottle and Label have the name and Address, "T. Wilkinson, late Wilkinson, Bridge, and Co., No. 279; Regent-street, London."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC DINNER PILLS.

No Pill is so efficacious in promoting digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from a Costive Habit, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of diet, and those of the most delicate constitution can take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla with the greatest success.

QUINTESCENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER and CAMOMILE.

WILKINSON'S Preparation of Ginger and Camomile has long been deservedly known as an excellent domestic medicine. It is a most efficient Stomachic Tonic, and the best remedy for Flatulency and disorders arising from impaired digestion, and is not affected by climate. No European in India or tropical climates should be without it. In one-eighth, quarter, and half-pint bottles.

OPHTHALMIA

SAVE YOUR EYES! RESTORE YOUR SIGHT! THE EYES! Those who are troubled with Inflamed Eyelids, Dimness of Sight, or Weak Eyes, should use COCKLES' EYE WATER. This noted application has been before the public upwards of seventy years; it is used by Royalty, the Nobility, Clergy, and the Officers of both Services, and needs no further recommendation. Restores impaired vision and overworked Eyes; cures weak, watery, inflamed, and near-sighted Eyes, and stimulates the Eyes to health in all other diseases. Perfectly safe. The patients will speedily find relief from its use. 1s. 1/4d. 2s. 6d. and 4s. 6d. per bottle; cases for India, securely packed, 11s. Can be ordered through any Chemist in this neighbourhood.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPEC-

TACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horne and Thornthwaite's, Opticians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. Send six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.—

Try Anthony Scard's new material! Peculiarly Prepared Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, be comes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable luxury and superlative specialite. 8, Bow Lane, Cheap-side, E.C. Ladies order skilfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, MENTAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power By DR. HENRY SMITH. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Strength, Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Illustrated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in each case. The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on receipt of two penny stamps. Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Burton-crescent, London, W.C.

CHARING CROSS STATION TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.)
A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (Ad. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S

"CHERRY TOOTH PASTE" greatly excels all other preparations for the Teeth, price 1s. 6d. per pot.

"AGUA AMARELLA" restore the Human Hair to its pristine hue, no matter at what age, price 3s. per bottle.

"TOILET and NURSERY POWDER" beautifully perfumed and guaranteed pure.

ASK FOR

JOHN GOSNELL & CO.'S,

And see that you have none other than their genuine Articles.

Sold by all respectable Chemists and Perfumers.

Wholesale, Angel-passage, 93, Upper Thames-street, London.

FOR FISH.

Try GOW

FOR POULTRY

Try GOW.

FOR GAME

Try GOW.

FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS.

Try GOW

J. GOW.

1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.

Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c. Country Orders promptly executed.

ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—

ROBERT S. MENDEY

Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,

(LATE WITH PATERHALL & Co.)

106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.

Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles. Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.

Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.

Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft. Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,

80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,

MANUFACTURER OF THE

NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,

Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

MESSRS. BARTON AND DREW,

55, FORE STREET, CITY,

Who have for 27 years acted for

PERSONS IN EMBARRASSED CIRCUMSTANCES

CONTINUE TO

OBTAIN DISCHARGES FROM DEBT IN TOWN OR COUNTRY.

By proceedings in BANKRUPTCY, LIQUIDATION OR COMPROMISE,

Which stays all legal proceedings (and in most cases without publicity or suspension of business.)

CHARGES MAY BE PAID BY EASY

INSTALLMENTS.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION OR ANSWERS TO ENQUIRIES MADE BY LETTER. DIVORCE AND COMMON LAW CASES CONDUCTED BILLS OF SALE AND CONVEYANCES

PREPARED AND COMPLETED at reasonable charges.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tauba. Terms, 60, 70, and 80 guineas. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with a prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemasons' Hall, London or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,

Complete Funeral Furnishers,

232 HIGH HOLBORN,

Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields. Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.

Established nearly 150 years

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. Ayton,

Successor to E. T. CROFTON,

Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,

ESTABLISHED 1821.

79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,

AND

139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.

Price List on Application. Distance no object.

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.

Artist and Photographer.

11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.

Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s. Vignettes 1s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH,

LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH,

PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialize for

Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is SPECIALLY adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN,

213, REGENT-STREET, W.

JANES & SON,

MANUFACTURERS, PATENTEES, AGENTS,

ALL KINDS OF OUTSIDE AND INSIDE

WINDOW BLINDS.

Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street, City

Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly.

No Other House.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense. Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fans and Fire Irons, Electro plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,

General House Furnishing Ironmonger,

42, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.

OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REALLY GOOD Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any person to select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other house in the Trade," but quite as cheap as any.

A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes at 75, Edgware-road, W.

Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, £8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; ten stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £20; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,

Harmonium Manufacturers,

75, Edgware-road, London.

FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

ALDERNEY, JERSEY, AND GUERNSEY COWS, HEIFERS, and BULLS

ED. PARSONS FOWLER, of Jersey, and 10, Gloucester square, Southampton, has always on PRIVATE SALE

at his stables, Southampton, choice herds of the above breeds, exporting annually 1,000. He also begs to observe that he is no wise connected with parties trading under his surnames, being the sole exporter.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to ship-owners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

THE NEW

MASONIC CANDLES

FOR CRAFT LODGES,

Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,

EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED

FOR THE

WORSHIPFUL MASTER,

SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.

6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND

CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.

DITTO FOR

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,

10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.

Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S

Masonic Depôts,

LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 10, Fleet-street.

LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.

GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch-lane.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,

By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.

In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each REEVES SON AND Co., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S

NEW TRACING BOARD

Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.

A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF

MASONIC EMBLEMS

may be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. G. Kenning, at his Masonic Depôts in London, Liverpool, and Glasgow.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.

MASONIC GATHERINGS.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.

Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from earliest to the present time, &c.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

BALL FAVOURS,

NEWEST DESIGNS.

MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN

198, Fleet-street, London.

BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.

145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane, Glasgow.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATH

335C, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.

Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 10 p.m. 2s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m. 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, 15s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m. 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, 15s. 6d. Warm, cold, shower, and bath. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies' Baths, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Misses. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH. From the Hausmann, Jersey.

THE BIRKBECK

Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts are ONE MILLION!

How to Purchase a House for Two Guineas per Annum With immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 2, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Annum With immediate possession either for Building or for Growing. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD SOCIETY, 29 & 31 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

How to Invest Money with safety at 4 per cent. interest. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK.

All sums under £500 payable upon demand. Current Accounts opened similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied free of charge from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 12 till 2. Office hours from 10 till 4. A small pamphlet, containing particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application.

FRANCIS RAYBURN & CO.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF

MASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.

PATON'S FREEMASONRY: its Symbolical

Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection, 8vo.

10s. 6d.

PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or a

Theory Exploded. 8vo., 10s. 6d.

Reeves and Turner, 29, Abchurch-lane, London.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
 DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,
 IS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,

CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

The London Meetings are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in Towns, alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Single Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.
 COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country. Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists of the island will find Tramore worthy of being known as a resort place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yatching, boating, and a first-class hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, at the most moderate of any similar house in the district.

For particulars apply to James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
 (NEAR GRAVESEND.)

MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS,
 DINNER PARTIES, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, affording a splendid view of the river in all directions, with the country passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the vintage will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every palate.

Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend Railway Station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.

BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
 Proprietors.

Masons' Hall Tavern,

10, BOND STREET, BASHINGHALL STREET, CITY OF LONDON. This above old-established Tavern is NOW being newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES-GOSDEN, Master of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other Societies, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
 7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.

Public and Private Dining Rooms.
 First-class Cooking and Wines.
 Open for Suppers after the Theatre.
 Bro. F. HILFBRICH, Proprietor.

TO BE LET.—A LARGE ROOM AT No. 10, Smith's, the Union Tavern, Air-street, Regent-street, on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, for Lodges and Lectures of Instruction, Private Clubs, Public, Private, and Entertainment Dinners.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES
 MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE
 Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems. The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires, emblematically labelled.

Price Three Shillings.
 ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.
 Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON :—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
 LIVERPOOL :—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW :—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for export, sent on receipt on 24 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 23s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.
 SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Gulidhall Tavern,
 GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales, Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
 32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
 JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

GEORGE REES
 MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES'
 GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade.

GEORGE REES'
 100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES'
 First-class ENGRAVINGS, from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES'
 CHROMOS, from the Best Masters, at reduced prices.
 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane Theatre.

GEORGE KENNING, MASONIC PUBLISHER,

One vol. 800 pages 8vo., with an Index, cloth gilt. Price 10s. 6d.
The History of Freemasonry, from its Origin to the Present Day.

Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations. By Bro. J. G. FINDEL. Second Edition, revised and preface written by Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

Imperial 8vo., bound in cloth, richly ornamented. Price £1 11s. 6d.
History of the Lodge of Edinburgh (Mary's Chapel) No. 1.

Embracing an account of the Rise and Progress of Freemasonry in Scotland, by Bro. DAVID MURRAY LYON. With Twenty-six Fac-similes of Ancient Statutes, Minutes of various Lodges, Seals, and Orders, &c., and Authentic Portraits and Autographs of Sixty Eminent Craftsmen of the past and present time.

With Illustrations. Price 38s.
An Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and its Kindred Sciences.

Comprising the whole range of Arts, Sciences, and Literature, as connected with the Institution. By Bro. ALBERT G. MACKAY, M.D., Author of "Lexicon of Freemasonry," "A Text Book of Masonic Jurisprudence," "Symbolism of Freemasonry," &c., &c.

Now Ready. Price 5s., post free 5s. 3d.
The Life of Constantine.

Written in Greek, by EUSEBIUS PAMPHILUS (Bishop of Caesarea in Palestine). Done into English from that edition, set forth by VALESIUS, and printed in Paris in the year 1659. Preface by Bro. R. WENTWORTH LITTLE, Treas. Gen., and the Rev. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C. With Engravings of Constantine, the Duke of Sussex, P.G.S., Lord Ranelagh, P.G.S., Earl Bective, M.P., P.G.S., Sir Frederic Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., P.G.S., Colonel F. Burdett, G.V., R. Wentworth Little, G.R., &c., &c.

Fourth Edition. Now ready. Price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.
The Reflected Rays of Light upon Freemasonry; or, the Freemasons' Pocket Compendium.

With an Emblematical Frontispiece. A Handbook of the principles of Freemasonry and Pocket Vade-Mecum and Guide to the various Ceremonies connected with Craft Masonry, so far as the same are allowed to be communicable.

Second Edition. Price 1s., post free. Revised and Enlarged.
Freemasonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle.

By Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON (Past Master No. 393, England). This work is a perfect handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, founded on the Ancient Charges and Symbols, and will be found to be eminently practical and useful in the vindication and support of the Order.

Re-Issue, now Ready. Price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.
Masonic Gatherings.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR, P.M. Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c., &c.

The Grand Lodge Constitutions.
 With the Three Charges and the Entered Apprentice's Song, 2s.

Demy 12mo., 208 pages, handsomely bound, price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 8d.
The Israelites Found in the Anglo-Saxons.

The Ten Tribes supposed to be lost traced from the Land of their Captivity to their occupation of the Isles of the Sea. With an exhibition of those traits of Character and National Characteristics assigned to Israel in the Books of the Hebrew prophets; by Bro. WILLIAM CARPENTER, P.M., P.Z., Author of "Scientia Biblica," "Scripture Natural History," "Guide to the Reading of the Bible," "Lectures on Biblical Criticism and Interpretation," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critica Biblica," "Calendarium Palestine," "An Introduction to the Reading and Study of the English Bible," and Editor of the fifth large edition of "Calmer's Dictionary of the Bible," and of the Abridgement of the same, &c., &c.

Richly Coloured, 9½ by 6, arranged for pocket, in book form, price 7s. 6d. Larger sizes in stock from 18 by 10 to 40 by 27 inches.
Craft Tracing Boards.

The Freemason.

Vols. I., 4s. 6d.; II., 7s. 6d.; III, IV., & V., 15s. each.

Now Ready, No. 18 (December). Price 6d., post free 7d. Annual Subscription, including postage—United Kingdom, 7s.; America, 9s. (payable in advance).
The Masonic Magazine: A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

Now ready. Price 2s., post free 2s. 2d.
The Cosmopolitan Masonic Calendar, Diary, and Pocket book for 1875.

Containing List of Lodges, Chapters, K. T. Preceptories, Red Cross Chapters, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers in all parts of the world. The London Meetings of every degree are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in towns alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge Entered Apprentice's Song.

In the press, Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 5s.
A Full-coloured Illustrated Book of Masonic Clothing and Jewels, from Master Mason to the 30th degree (inclusive).

Now Ready, with Index and Preface, in 12 Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound One Handsome Volume, £3. Handsome Cloth Covers, with Gilt Lines, and Lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News) price 5s. each.

The Freemasons' Liber Musicus.

Dedicated by expressed permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, Past Grand Master of England and Wales. Edited by Dr. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—198.

This work contains 216 pp. and 118 Musical Compositions suitable for all the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodge Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquet and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation of Corner Stones; Installation; Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

AMERICAN.

Guide to the Royal Arch Chapter.

A complete Monitor for Royal Arch Masonry. With full instructions in the degrees of Mark Master, Past Master, &c. According to the Manual of the Chapter, together with an historical introduction, explanatory notes, and critical emendations.

Rituals of Freemasonry.

Comprising the Degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason, in the Lodge, Mark Master, Past Master, Most Excellent Master, Royal Arch, and the Order of High Priesthood, in the Chapter, Royal Master, Select Master, and Super-Excellent Master in the Council. Red Cross, Knights Templar, and Knights Malta in the Commandery. Together with the Ceremonies of Dedication, Consecration, and Installation of Officers in the several branches of the Order. 18s. 8d.

The Royal Arch Companion.

A Manual of Royal Arch Masonry. Containing monitorial instructions together with the ceremonies of Constituting and Dedicating Chapters and Installing Officers. 4s. 6d.

The Origin and Early History of Freemasonry.

Containing various responses to the question, "What is Masonry?" true aim, purport, and mission of the same. 4s. 6d.

Masonic Trials.

A Treatise of the Law and Practice of Masonic Trials in the Lodge, Chapter, &c., with forms and precedents. Containing also Constitutions and Edicts of the General Grand Bodies; the Ancient Landmarks; Ancient Constitutions, Charges and Regulations; and an appendix of general forms. 7s. 6d.

Masonic Law and Practice,

With forms, &c. 5s.

OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Scotland.

GRAND LODGE OF SCOTLAND.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

Annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Scotland was held on Monday 30th in their hall, George Street. What may be business meeting—that for the election of office-bearers—was held in the upper hall at 1 o'clock, the Grand Lodge being opened by J. T. Oswald of Dunnikier, Right Worshipful Substitute Grand Master, who was supported by W. Mann, Acting Senior Grand Warden; J. Hay, Acting Junior Grand Warden; the Rev. Kellie, Major-General Sir James Alexander Sterton, Provincial G.M. for Stirlingshire; Dr. Gray, and Rev. A. Thomson Grant, Chaplains; John Laurie, Grand Secretary; Rosehill; Captain Colt of Gartsherrie, Wm.; Past Grand Deacon; John Coghill, Grand or of Ceremonies; Daniel Robertson, Grand Yeoman; M. Mackenzie, Chief Grand Marshal; Apherpe, Grand Marshal; and Wm. Bryce, Tyler, &c.

Acting Grand Master having declared all the of the Grand Lodge vacant, proceeded to in terms of the nominations made by the Lodge in the quarterly communication of and Lodge held on the 2nd ult., that Bro. chael Robert Shaw Stewart, Bart., be re-Master Mason of Scotland for the ensuing which was carried by acclamation.

Grand Master was then ushered into Grand was duly installed into office, and seated on one, according to ancient custom. Thanks been returned by the Grand Master for the conferred upon him, he intimated that he appointed the Earl of Kellie as his Depute Master, and he moved that the following office-bearers be elected for the ensuing

- Grand Master Mason—Sir Robert Michael Stewart, Bart.
 - Past Grand Master—Right Hon. Earl of Rosslyn.
 - Depute Grand Master—Right Hon. Earl of Kellie.
 - Substitute Grand Master—Captain J. T. Oswald of Dunnikier.
 - Senior Grand Warden—Major Hamilton Ramsay of Garion.
 - Junior Grand Warden—Right Hon. Lord Rosehill.
 - Grand Treasurer—Samuel Hay (Union &c.)
 - Grand Secretary—John Laurie.
 - Joint Grand Chaplains—The Rev. W. H. Rosehill, D.D., and the Rev. A. Thomson Grant.
 - Major Grand Deacon—F. A. Barrow.
 - Junior Grand Deacon—W. Hay.
 - Architect—D. Bryce.
 - Chief Jeweller—A. Hay.
 - Chief Bible-Bearer—D. Robertson.
 - Chief Director of Ceremonies—J. Coghill.
 - Chief Bard—J. Ballantine.
 - Chief Sword-Bearer—Capt. G. F. R. Colt of Gartsherrie.
 - Chief Director of Music—C. W. M. Muller.
 - Chief Organist—R. Davidson.
 - Chief Grand Marshal—M. Mackenzie.
 - Chief Marshal—A. T. Apherpe.
 - Chief Tyler—W. M. Bryce.
 - Chief Outer Guard—J. Baikie.
- The above list having been approved of, those were duly installed into office. The Grand Lodge then adjourned to the large hall to celebrate

THE FESTIVAL OF ST. ANDREW.

were present on the occasion a large number of brethren from lodges of Edinburgh provinces, including a considerable number from the west of Scotland. The Grand Secretary had received letters of apology for absence had received from Bros. the Earl of Rosslyn; John Melville of Bennoch, R.W. Past Master; Major Hamilton Ramsay of Garion, Grand Warden; Colonel Neilson of Queensburgh, Provincial Grand Master of Glasgow City; John Hope of Luffness, Provincial Grand Master of Aberdeen; Captain Charles Hunter, Provincial Grand Master of Aberdeen; F. A. Barrow, Grand Deacon; William Hay, Junior Grand Master; Robert Davidson, Grand Organist; James Montgomery, M.P.; Sir John Donohoe, &c. The deputations representing the Grand Lodge numbered 17 in number. They comprised the following:—No. 1, the Lodge of Edinburgh (Mary's); No. 2, the Lodge of Edinburgh (St. Andrew's); No. 3, Canongate and Leith, Leith and Leith; No. 4, Journeyman, Edinburgh; No. 5, David, Edinburgh; No. 6, St. Andrew, Edinburgh; No. 7, Alloa; No. 8, St. James, Edinburgh; No. 9, St. Mark, Glasgow; No. 10, St. John Fisherrow; No. 11, Edinburgh Defensive Band; No. 160, Roman Eagles, Edinburgh; No. 178, Scotia, Glasgow; No. 223, Trafalgar, Leith; No. 226, Portobello; No. 291, Celtic, Edinburgh and Leith; No. 405, Rifle Edinburgh; No. 523, St. Vincent, Sandyford.

The banquet over, the Grand Master proceeded to open the Grand Lodge in the usual manner.

The Grand Master proposed as the first toast "Holy Lodge of St. John," which was drunk in silence. He next gave the "Queen," which was responded to with enthusiasm, and followed by the National Anthem, with full accompaniment. The Grand Master next gave "The Grand Steward of Scotland, patron of the Grand Lodge," which was also duly honoured.

The Grand Master then gave "The Princess of Wales, the Duke of Edinburgh, and the rest of the Royal Family." He felt quite sure, he said, that the Freemasons of Edinburgh, in common with the other inhabitants of this metropolis, would be anxious to show their loyalty to the Duchess of Edinburgh. (Cheers.) He hoped that an occasion might arise before long when an opportunity would be given to the inhabitants of this metropolis and of the neighbourhood to give an enthusiastic and loyal reception to her Royal Highness the Duchess of Edinburgh. (Cheers.) That royal lady, not only from her exalted rank, but from her whole position, character, and demeanour since her arrival in this country, deserved all the respect that could possibly be shown her by loyal citizens. (Loud cheers.)

The Grand Master next gave "The Navy, Army, and Reserve Forces," Major-General Sir James Alexander suitably replying for the army, and Captain Hawley, of the Queen's Edinburgh Rifle Brigade, for the volunteers.

The Grand Master next gave "The Craft and Freemasonry over the world," which was received in the manner in which it always is on such an occasion.

The Grand Master in proposing "The Grand Lodge of England," said it must be matter of satisfaction to them, as Freemasons, that the Prince of Wales should not only be a member of the craft and patron of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, but that his Royal Highness should be willing to undertake official duties. (Applause.) They were all doubtless aware—and all who were aware would appreciate the fact—that his Royal Highness was about to become Grand Master Mason of England. (Cheers.) His Royal Highness was already Grand Master Elect—at any rate he had not yet been installed—and they might look forward to the time, which would soon arrive, when they would be able to associate the name of his Royal Highness with the Grand Lodge of England. (Loud cheers.) The toast was drunk with full Masonic honours.

The Grand Master next gave "The Grand Lodge of Ireland." In doing so he referred to the fact—a peculiar one—that he himself was the only Grand Master Mason in the United Kingdom—the Masonic Thrones of England and of Ireland being at present vacant—the latter by the lamented death of the Duke of Leinster, in whose place it was fortunate they were to get as a successor such an illustrious brother as the Duke of Abercorn. (Cheers.)

The Substitute Grand Master (Brother J. T. Oswald of Dunnikier) then proposed the toast of "The Grand Master Mason of Scotland," which was received with prolonged cheering. He said he was sure they were all pleased to see him again filling the throne which he so well filled last year. (Cheers.) He might say that Sir Michael Stewart had almost a hereditary right to fill that throne, because in his own part of the country he had long had the honour of filling a high office—that of Provincial Grand Master of Renfrewshire—(cheers)—and they knew that when a Provincial Grand Master did his duty well, that fact became well known throughout Scotland. The Freemasons in the east were not in the slightest degree jealous; they were glad to have such a Grand Master from the west. (Cheers.) They had no feeling except that of joy and happiness in finding themselves presided over by such a good man and good Mason as was their present Grand Master, Sir Michael Shaw Stewart. (Loud and prolonged cheering.)

The Grand Master, in replying to the toast, thanked the brethren present, as well as the members of Grand Lodge, for the high honour they had again conferred upon him in re-electing him Grand Master Mason of Scotland. (Cheers.) He said that certainly last year they had heard there from his predecessor on the throne (the Earl of Rosslyn) a good deal of what should be done at the present time by the Masons of Scotland in furtherance of Masonry. At the same time he could not but feel that in any work of a great kind the stroke of our must be pulled by the Grand Master; and he could not but feel that the Grand Master should be a younger or (probably, if he spoke more accurately) a stronger man than he (Sir Michael) was. ("No, no," and applause.) But if his term of office was not marked by any great activity, nor by the inauguguration of any amount of work in the way of consolidating and improving Freemasonry in this country, he hoped that the office to which he had been re-elected would not be lowered in his hands. (Cheers.) He could only hope and trust that when the term of his office had expired he would expect to have, as he could assure them he would value, the good opinion of the Freemasons of Scotland. (Loud applause.)

A song, composed for the occasion by the Grand Bard—Brother James Ballantine—was then sung with much effect by Brother Davidson.

Among the other toasts were:—"Past Grand Masters," by the Chairman; the "Foreign Grand Lodges," by the Substitute Grand Master; "The Depute Grand Master, the Right Hon. the Earl of Kellie," by the Chairman; "Substitute Grand Master, J. T. Oswald, Esq., of Dunnikier," by the Earl of Kellie; "The Deputations from Daughter Lodges," by the Chairman; "The Provincial Grand Lodges of Scotland," by the Senior Grand Warden; "The Grand Wardens," by the Chairman; "The Grand Secretary, and other Office-Bearers of Grand Lodge," by the Chairman; "Lady Octavia Shaw Stewart," by the Past Grand Master; "The Memory of Deceased Members during the past year," and "The Memory of St. Clair of Rosslyn," by the Chairman—the last two toasts being drunk in silence.

The lodge was then closed with the usual formalities.

GLASGOW.

Lodge Star (219).—A meeting of this lodge was held in their hall, at 12, Trongate, on Monday 23rd ult., the business in chief being the installation of office-bearers for the ensuing Masonic year. The lodge having been opened on the E.P. degree, by the retiring R.W.M. (Bro. Joseph Wilson) the secretary read the minutes of last meeting, on the 9th ult., which were passed mem. con. Two candidates for admission, duly vouched for, were then admitted into the mysteries of the order, by Bro. Bain (P.M. 103), after which the secretary read over the rearranged list of office-bearers, which is as follows: R.W.M., Bro. John Morgan; S.M., Bro. William Anderson; S.W., Bro. John Garth; J.W., Bro. Jas. Horn; Treasurer, Bro. Benjamin Smart; Secretary, Bro. Jas. Crawford; Chaplain, Bro. John White; B.B., Bro. John Lawrence; S.D., Bro. Ross Rennie; J.D., Bro. Sidney Smith; P.G. Steward, Bro. Peter McDougall; D. of Music, Bro. Wm. Jamieson; Jeweller, Bro. Archibald McNicol; Standard Bearer, Bro. John Harper; Senior Steward, Bro. Jas. Park; Junior Steward, Bro. Charles Stirling; Master of Ceremonies, Bro. Peter Wight; G. Architect, Bro. David Mearns; I. G., Bro. Wm. Elliott; and Tyler, Bro. James Perston. The chairman then in a few words thanked the office-bearers present, with whom he had been associated during the past two years, for the support and sympathy he had experienced at their hands, after which the financial report for the year was read and passed. The ceremony of installation of the newly-elected office-bearers followed, and was most ably conducted by Bro. A. McTaggart, P.G. Sec., assisted on this occasion by Bro. John Fraser, P.M. 87. The new R.W.M., Bro. John Morgan, having taken the chair, said that in addressing them for the first time from his present position, he felt a diffidence which they would be quite able to account for. His first duty was to thank them for the honour paid him in being elected to the position; and he hoped that no action of his would ever cause them to regret the confidence they had placed in him: His intention was to go rightly into the work, and be able to give a good account of it at the end of next twelve months, so that the Star Lodge might continue to shine as one of the first of the Province of Glasgow. Having thanked Bro. McTaggart for his services on the occasion, including his able address to the new office-bearers, the chairman resumed his seat amid much applause. Bro. McTaggart in briefly replying to the chairman's compliment, said that it always gave him great pleasure to come forward on such occasions, and on behalf of himself, and also of Bro. Fraser, who had kindly consented to assist him on this occasion, he begged to thank them. The lodge thereafter adjourned to "harmony," when after the customary loyal and Masonic toasts, there were given "The new R.W.M." by Bro. Gillies, P.M., who replied, and before sitting down, gave "The Retiring Office-Bearers," coupled with the name of Bro. Joseph Wilson, the late R.W.M.; and the health of Bro. Bain, P.M. 103; "The Visiting Brethren," coupled with the name of Bro. Dr. McInnes, S.W. 27; "The Memory of Departed Masters of Lodge Star," by Bro. A. R. Wilson, &c.

Lodge St. John (31/4).—An emergency meeting of this lodge, and hurriedly called together, was held on Monday 23rd ult., for the introduction into the Order of three candidates, one of whom was the Lord Provost of Glasgow, Mr. James Bain. The R.W.M., Bro. Fletcher presided, supported by Bros. W. Bell, D.M., J. B. Walker, P.M., James McMillan, P.M., Smillie, P.M., Thomson, P.M., Craig, P.M., and Ramsay, P.M., Bro. D. M. Nelson officiating as Senior, and Bro. Leitch as Junior Warden. There were also present visiting brethren from various lodges in the Province, including Bro. John Wallace, R.W.M., Lodge Athole (413); Bro. A. Arrick Smith, P.M. (354), who presided at the harmonium, &c. The lodge having been opened on the E.A. degree, the three candidates were duly initiated by Bro. W. Bell. The lodge was then passed to the F.C. degree, in which Bro. Dick officiated, and thereafter raised to the third, in which the three brethren received the supreme degree of Master Mason, at the hands of Bro. J. McMillan, P.M. Bro. the Rev. Robert Thomson, we may add, ably officiated as chaplain throughout. The lodge having adjourned from labour to refreshment, and the usual loyal and Masonic toasts having been duly honoured, the R.W.M. gave the toast of "The last laid stones of Lodge 34," coupled with the name of Bro. Bain. Lord Provost, who replied, referred to the impression which the Order of Masonry had made on him, and his delight at the reception they had given him. He would, he said, do all in his power to advance the good of the Order, in which he hoped to attain higher degree in the future. One or two other toasts followed, and the lodge was closed in due and ancient form.

Lodge Athole (413), met in St. Mark's Hall, 213, Buchanan-street, on Tuesday, 24th ult., when there was but a poor attendance, a fact which was commented on by the R.W.M., Bro. John Wallace, who thought that the case might well have been otherwise, seeing that the business before them was the nomination of office-bearers for next year. The Acting Secretary, Bro. James Loutfit, having read the minutes of last meeting, the nomination was proceeded with and concluded. Bros. Lauder and Sloan were appointed auditors of the lodge accounts, &c., for the past year, and to give in their report at next meeting, the election night, to be held on 8th inst.

Lodge St. Vincent (553).—This lodge met in the hall at 162, Kent-road, on Thursday, 26th ult. The R.W.M., Bro. Robert McDougall, presided, with Bro. Wm. Wilson as acting S.W., and Bro. A. C. Hunter, J.W. The business of the evening was initiation; and the lodge having been opened on the E.A. degree, no fewer than nine candidates received that degree at the hands of the R.W.M. The rapid growth of this young lodge is something remarkable. It was opened on 27th August last, when 15 candidates were made. On September 10th following, there were five made; on October 1st, one; on October 15th, seven; on October 31st, two; and, as we have said above, on 21st ult., nine.

Lodge St. Clair (362). This lodge held their regular meeting on Monday, 23rd ult. Past Master Bro. George Thallon in the chair. After a candidate had been passed and raised, the election of office-bearers for the ensuing year was proceeded with, when the brethren afterwards were elected to the following offices, viz.:—Bro. Wm. J. Hogg, R.W.M.; Bro. Robert Glass, D.M.; Bro. Harris, S.M.; Bro. Adam Rutherford, S.W.; Bro. Colin Galletly, J.W.; Bro. George Fraser, Sec.; Bro. Wm. Pascoe, Treas.; Bro. Alex. Bowie, Cahp.; Bro. Sutherland, B.B.; Bro. Brand, S.D.; Bro. Iren, J.D.; Bro. Edward Smith, S.S.; Bro. Hughes, J.S.; Bro. Robertson, S.B.; Bro. Jas. Milligan, P.G.S.; Bro. J. M. Thresie, Organist; Bro. Gaw, Inner Guard; Bro. Warnoest, Tyler. The office-bearers were then installed by P.M. Bro. Geo. Thallon. The treasurer then submitted the annual financial report to the brethren. Thereafter the lodge was called from labour to refreshment, and a short time was spent in toast, song, and sentiment. After which the brethren were called back to labour, and the lodge was closed in due and ancient form by the R.W.M.

Lodge Clydesdale (556). An emergency meeting of the above flourishing lodge was held in their Hall Assembly Rooms, Crown-street, South Side, on Nov. 23rd. There was present Bro. W. Phillips, R.W.M.; Bro. John B. McNaught, S.M., 556; Bro. Dr. Russel, D.M., 556; Bro. G. H. McNaught, R.W.M., 275; Bro. John McNaught, S.W., 556; Bro. H. W. Jackman, A., 556; Bro. John Doig, B.B., 556; Bro. W. J. E. Dodson, P.G.S., 556; Bro. J. Brown, J.G., 556; Bro. D. Ronald, 275; Bro. J. C. Bame; Bro. J. G. Shore, Whittington Lodge, London; Bro. H. Weir, 556; Bro. W. Graham, Tyler, 556; Bro. Webster, 556. The lodge having been opened and the candidates balloted for, the following received the E.A. Degree, Fredk. Augustin Barnard; J. Wates Ford; Hamilton; and Wm. Miller. Bro. Wm. Phillips, R.W.M. giving the degree in a manner at once most impressive and eloquent, in the absence of Bro. Howie. Bro. Jackman officiated ably as J.W.; Bro. W. J. E. Dodson acting as conductor to the candidates. The lodge was then passed to the second degree, when the above-named candidates received the Fellow Craft Degree from Bro. J. B. McNaught, in a most promising manner. After a little pause the new brethren withdrew, and owing to the pressing necessity of the candidates, it was voted to give the brethren their third degree. The lodge being raised to the M.M. Degree, they were duly raised. The whole ceremony being most beautifully carried out, and the candidates being most seriously impressed, especially in the working of the 3rd degree, by the R.W.M. Business being concluded, the lodge was closed in due and ancient form. The brethren then retired to refreshment. A short time having been spent in pleasure, the R.W.M. then gave the toast of the evening, "The last laid Stones," coupled, &c., to which Bros. Barnard and Ford replied in very feeling and concise speeches. Bro. B. McNaught, S.W. then gave "The Visiting Brethren," coupled with the name of Bro. J. G. Shore, Lodge Whittington, London. Suitable replies being made, Bro. Barnard, in the name of himself and Bro. Ford, begged to thank the R.W.M. for the benefit they had received from the lodge, also to Bro. Dodson, who, when he heard their wish expressed to become Masons, pointed out a way, and showed them how they could become so. He, therefore, begged that the R.W.M., Wardens, and Brethren would accept of warmest thanks, fraternal feelings, and love towards 556, as long as he breathed. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts having been given, the brethren then separated,

"Happy to meet, sorry to part,
And happy to meet again."

Royal Arch Chapter, "Cathedral" (67). A Mark Master Lodge was opened on 24th ult., in the hall at 22, Struthers-street, with Bro. James Duthie, R.W.M., in the chair; Bro. John Cunningham, S.W.; Bro. Wm. Taylor, J.W.; and a competent number of Mark Masons present to hold and constitute the meeting. There were also present several visiting brethren, including Companion Annan, Z. of St. Rolox Chap. (144). The minutes of last meeting having been read and approved of, the W.M.M. read several applications for admission to the Order, and Bro. James Keenan, who was in waiting, was introduced and received this degree. The W.M.M. then made a motion that the fees should be raised, which was seconded by Bro. Taylor, and unanimously agreed to; the alteration to come in force on 22nd inst. There being no further business upon this degree, the M.M. Lodge was closed in due and ancient form, and that of Excellent Master opened, when Bro. Keenan received the degree. Thereafter the Royal Arch Chapter was formed, with Companion Duthie, Z.; Companion Cunningham, H.; Companion Annan, J., in chairs; Companion George Pridie, First Sojourner; Companion John Nagle, Second Sojourner; and Companion James Dickie, Third Sojourner. The chapter was opened in due and ancient form, companions all standing to order, as Royal Arch Masons. Bro. Keenan was then received and exalted to the Royal Arch Degree. Companion Taylor then affiliated Companion Thos. Galbraith, of Chap. 87, as a member of Chap. Cathedral, 87; and there being no further business the chapter was duly closed.

Reports.

GRAND MARK LODGE.

The Winter Half-yearly Communication of Grand Mark Lodge was held on Tuesday evening at Freemasons' Tavern. The Rev. George Raymond Portal, M.A., P.M.W.G.M., presided, Earl Percy, Grand Master, being unable to attend on account of his duties as one of Her Majesty's household; and the Earl of Limerick, Deputy Grand Master, being prevented by illness. The other offices were filled as follows:—

W. W. B. Beach, M.P., P.G.M.; Hugh D. Sandeman, P. Pro. G.M.M.M. Bengal, as Dep. G.M.; Gilbert J. Smallpiece, as G.S.W.; W. E. Gumbleton, as G.J.W.; R. W. Little, as G.M.O.; S. C. Dibdin, G.S.O.; J. J. H. Wilkins, G.J.O.; Rev. Bryan Walker, G. Chap.; F. Binckes, G. Sec.; H. W. Binckes, Assist. G. Sec.; Morton Edwards, G.S.D., G.J.D., G. Insp.; Chas. Allen, G.A.D.C., as G. D.C.; Henry Dubosc, G. Swd. Br.; S. R. Ade, G. Std. Br.; Henry Parker, G. Org.; William Crawford, G. Steward.

The other brethren who formed the Grand were,

Bros. John Sutcliffe, Pro. G.M. Lincoln; J. M. Cunningham, Dep. Pro. G.M. Sussex; John Whitwell, M.P., P.G.W.; Thomas P.G.M.O.; Rev. T. F. Ravenshaw, P.G. Rev. D. Shaboe, P.G. Chap.; E. T. Inskip, P. C. Hammerton, Thomas Cabitt, and S. Ross, P.G.D. of Cers.; R. Spencer and T. W. P.G. Swd. Brs.; S. M. Lazarus and William rell, P.G. Org.; D. M. Dewar and Henry M. (Freemason), P.G. Stwds.; Major Geo. P. Pro. G.J.W. Middlesex and Surrey; T. Poore, Pro. D. of C. Middlesex and Surrey; Bellamy, Pro. G.S.O. Lincolnshire; C. A. S.D. St. Mark's Lodge, No. 1; Myde Puller, Mark's Lodge, No. 1; E. M. Haigh, W.M. Accord; J. H. Spencer, S.W. Southwark No. 22; R. Loveland Loveland, St. Andrew 63; R. J. Trafford, S.D. Remigius, No. 117; R. P. Bent, Chap. S.D. Peter and Paul, No. Rev. S. Studholme Brownrigg, P.M. S.S. Pet Paul, No. 163; D. Tinsley, M.O. Panmure 139; William Poore, S.O. Panmure, No. 139; C. Pulman, J.W. Panmure, No. 139.

The Grand Secretary (Bro. F. Binckes), after formal opening of the Grand Lodge, read minutes of the Half-yearly Communication 2nd of June, and of the Moveable Grand held at Brighton on the 23rd of October, both which were put and confirmed.

The following report of the General Board then read by the Grand Secretary.

The number of certificates issued in the months ending the 30th of Sept. last is 466, in excess of the average. The certificates of degree of Royal Ark Mariner number 53. In the same period, warrants for new lodges have granted.

177, Royal Sussex, Bath.

178, Wiltshire Keystone, Devizes.

179, Talbot, Swansea.

Very satisfactory progress has been made in provincial organisation.

On the 23rd of October, the province of South Wales was formally constituted by the Right Hon. Earl of Limerick, R.W.D., G.M.M., assisted by the Rev. G. R. Portal, (M.W.P.G.M.M.) a large number of Grand and Provincial officers Present and Past, Sir John Cordy being having been installed as First Provincial Grand Master.

On the 29th of October the Province of Lincoln was constituted, the First Provincial Grand Master Mason being Bro. John Sutcliffe, of Grimsby. For this event extensive preparations had been made, and it was celebrated in the presence of one of the most numerous assemblies of Mark Master Masons ever held, 300 members of the Order gathering from 15 districts. In the absence, from indisposition, the R.W., Bro. W. Romaine Callender, M.P., G.M.M. for Lancashire, the ceremonies were formed by the Grand Secretary.

The annual festival in aid of the Mark B lent Fund was held at Richmond on Wednesday the 15th of July last, and was happily attended with the customary success. The amount raised was £163; but the Board in anticipation of than usually strong cases of appeal for aid, deemed it advisable for the present to add in addition to the invested funds. To Sir E. Lechmere, Bart. (R.W.P.D.G.M.), who presided and the Stewards for the occasion, the best of the Order are due for their valuable services.

It is proposed to hold the Benevolent next year at the Alexandra Palace, on Wednesday the 21st of July.

The suite of rooms engaged for the purpose of the Order are in every respect suitable and modious. One has been fitted and furnished for Lodge purposes, and may be recommended by any Lodge, the numbers of which we average in attendance more than 25. This has arranged to let this room, with gas, at one guinea per meeting, applications for to be addressed to the Grand Secretary.

The outlay necessary for the increasing of the Order, and for providing the varied modiation which is so desirable for the w its ceremonies, may now be considered an end, and the Board confidently looks for a considerable increase in the assets of the Lodge, arising from an improved revenue cessation of extraordinary expenditure. Inance of this object, the Board has under sideration the question of the expense of yearly banquets of Grand Lodge and this of the Grand Stewards with reference to

With respect to the question of recognizing other supreme jurisdictions, the Board report that as regards the Grand C Scotland nothing has transpired since meeting of Grand Lodge. The Grand C Ireland, however, has received an letter to the Grand Chapter of England on the subject of the recognition of this Grand Lodge. That letter was read at the Convocation of the Grand Chapter of England on Wednesday, 5th of August, and was ordered to be printed and considered at the ensuing Convocation on Wednesday, 6th of November, when it was resolved again to refer its consideration to the next Convocation in February, 1875, owing to the "interregnum" in the rule of the Craft. The letter is printed herewith.

(Here follows the letter referred to, which appeared in our report of last Convocation of Grand Chapter.)

The Board recommend Grand Lodge to confirm the grant from the Benevolent Fund, of £25, to Mrs. — widow of the late Bro. — a P.G.S.B. of 25 years, whose melancholy death will be deplored by all with whom he had laboured in the various degrees of Freemasonry for so many years.

With a view to give every possible publicity to the announcement the Board desires in this report to direct the attention of the members of the order to the establishment of a "Mark Lodge of Instruction" which will meet fortnightly, at the "New Lodge Room," No. 2, Red Lion Square. Arrangements will be made for the regular attendance of competent brethren, so that reliance may be placed on the ceremonies being correctly and perfectly performed.

Notice of the days of meeting, and full particulars will forthwith be sent to the W.M. and Secretary of every Lodge, and it is hoped the brethren will assist in rendering the Lodge of Instruction permanently beneficial, by joining it as members, and by attending to promote the objects for which it has been established.

Major Barlow moved, and the Rev. N. Shaboe seconded, "That the Report be received," and the motion was carried.

Bros. Little and Gumbleton, moved, and seconded the confirmation of the grant to Mrs. — mentioned in the report, which was also carried.

The question of expulsion of a brother mentioned in last half-yearly communication under the circumstances referred to, was then brought forward. Notice having been given to him to attend and how cause at this meeting why he should not be expelled, Acting Grand Director of Ceremonies Bro. Charles Allen) was directed to call for him outside the door of the lodge. This having been done, and no answer returned, Grand Secretary read a letter from the brother in answer to the letter giving him notice. The letter was dated 26th of November, and was couched in very unbecoming terms, stating what steps the brother would immediately adopt.

The Grand Master said that he had been most anxious that so serious a step as the expulsion of a brother should be avoided if possible, and he personally wrote to the offending brother upon the subject. The answer to that letter had only just been put into his hand, and he would read it to Grand Lodge. (The Grand Master read the letter, which in unbecomingness of style, was similar to the brother's former letters). The Grand Master then moved, "That — be expelled from the order of Mark Masons."

Bro. Wilkins seconded it.

The Grand Master put the motion, which was immediately unanimously carried.

Bro. Joseph Spencer then rose and said, M.W.G.M., beg to nominate the Right Hon. Earl Percy, M.W.G.M., as Most Worshipful Grand Master for the ensuing year. (Hear, hear.)

Bro. Wilkins: I beg to second the nomination. We have not had the pleasure of seeing him among us lately, but we remember that at the time he was nominated last year, he was suffering from very serious illness. Since then, he has been appointed member of Her Majesty's household, and his ties in that position prevent him being here to-day. He is not able to be with us, but we know has Mark Masonry at heart, and that he will be with us whenever he can. (Cheers.)

Bro. Little said: I shall have much pleasure, W.G.M., in moving the election of Bro. Davison Grand Treasurer, and I am quite satisfied that he will perform the duties of that office satisfactorily.

Bro. S. Rosenthal: I beg to second it. I have known Bro. Davison for many years, and can speak with confidence of his admirable qualifications for the office.

Carried unanimously amidst loud applause.

Grand Secretary said perhaps it would be fitting that Bro. Davison should know at once the state of his heritance to which he had succeeded.

Bro. Davison having thanked the brethren for electing him, the Grand Secretary read the statement of account.

In the motion of Bro. Inskip the account was read.

Grand Secretary said there was now the pleasing duty for the Grand Master to perform of presenting the festival jewel to Bros. Levander, Haig and Stidolph.

The Grand Master then presented these jewels, after which Grand Secretary read Earl Limeirck's letter stating that through illness he was unable to attend that evening, and how greatly he regretted it. Grand Secretary also read a list of brethren from whom he had received letters of apology and regret for non-attendance, and said that unfortunately illness was the cause of most of them.

Bro. Little asked the Grand Master whether any steps had been taken to insure the recognition by the parties to the Tripartite Treaty of the Orders of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine.

The Grand Master said in reply that he anticipated there would be a meeting of the judicial committee of the three orders which were parties to the treaty very shortly, and he would bring the matter before them.

Bro. Davison was then invested as Grand Treasurer by the Grand Master, and the Grand Lodge was closed in due form; the brethren afterwards partook of an admirable banquet, provided by Bro. C. E. Francatelli, Bro. W. W. B. Beach, Past Grand Master, president, and after the clearing of the cloth, proceeded to propose the toasts.

The Acting Grand Master (Bro. Beach) in proposing "The health of the M.W.G.M." said, that Earl Percy possessed an ancestral name connected with English history which entitled him to the respect of the brethren, as did his efforts and zeal as a Mason to their cordial and warm support. His health recently had not been such as they could wish, and it had debarred him from taking that active part in Masonry which he had been accustomed to. It was his wish, however, to discharge his duties with the utmost zeal, and with regularity of attendance, and whenever he could he would be present.

The Grand Secretary proposed "The health of the Past Grand Master," and said, that under the Constitutions of Mark Freemasonry, the tenure of the office of Grand Master was limited in duration, consequently there was always a goodly array of distinguished brethren as Past Grand Masters, and the Grand Lodge in an emergency such as had occurred that evening had no difficulty in getting a Past Grand Master to take the Grand Master's place. Among these were Lord Leigh, the Earl of Carnarvon, Lord Holmesdale, Bros. Beach and Portal. All these brethren were still spared to Mark Masonry, and Mark Masons bore in mind vividly and warmly the services they had rendered to the Order. They were delighted and grateful that they were spared, and had a sincere hope and hearty trust that they would be long spared to them. Such an array of good names was the best justification Mark Masons could have for limiting the period for holding the office of Grand Master.

Colonel Whitwell proposed "The health of the Acting Grand Master, Bro. Beach," and in doing so said, that if the Grand Master would look back to the names of ancestors who filled the page of history, he could also look back to ancestors in the Mark Grand Lodge to whom he could refer with pride, and one of those was the distinguished brother who was presiding at that table. Earl Percy could not wish to follow a more distinguished Mason than Bro. Beach. It had been said that a man was best known when he was esteemed by those around him, and Bro. Beach was known to the world by the esteem of those who were most closely acquainted with him. If the brethren would go into Hampshire they would find a unanimous response that they had a Provincial Grand Master there who was ever ready to do the duties that devolved upon him. Mentioning that province, he could not help referring to the brother whose loss they all deeply deplored, a brother loved and honoured by them all, the right hand of the Provincial Grand Master, and whose loss was felt throughout the country (Bro. Stebbing). Bro. Beach did his work indefatigably and energetically, and in every Masonic requirement gave a helping hand. As a politician he was one of those steadfast thinkers on all matters of importance who guide the state though they do not come prominently forward. It was not always those who were most prominent who had most to do with the direction of affairs. As a statesman, then, they would honour him, and drink his health, and also as one who was known and loved, and as presiding over them on that occasion. (Applause.)

Bro. Beach in reply said, that it gave him great pleasure to be present; but he held that it was the duty of one who had served the office of Grand Master always to perform the duties which devolved upon him, and also to be ready to lend his successors the benefit of his assistance whenever it might be required. (Hear, hear.) A Grand Master had not discharged all his duties when he relinquished the chair; he must be prepared to assist any of his successors when called upon. Mark Masonry was now in a different state to what it was when he had the honour of presiding over it.

He could look back to the time when the Grand Mark Lodge was first instituted. Without referring to all past transactions, it would be sufficient to say that the Grand Lodge had had difficulties and dangers to pass through, and it was only owing to extreme energy on the part of those who first conducted its affairs that they were able to surmount those difficulties and attain the proud position they now occupied. None could deny the present proud position of Mark Masonry among the Masonic Orders. It was a matter of pride to him that he was the first Grand Master to hold a Moveable Grand Lodge in the country. It was a step taken for the purpose of giving the country brethren an opportunity of seeing the brethren who were associated in Grand Lodge, which otherwise they would not have without attending personally in the metropolis. Masonry must depend upon the support it received in every part of the country, and it was the aggregate of support which made strength in the end. They had seen what steps had been made in advance. Recognition of the degree had taken place in many different parts of the world, and he thought he was not going too far when he said that a very short time must elapse before a still wider and more ample recognition must occur. The dictum of Grand Lodge of England was that Mark Masonry did not hold a part among the ancient degrees. Mark Masons did not quarrel with that, but acquiesced in the decision; but they claimed to be on friendly terms with other Masonic bodies in the country, and they asked full and ample terms of agreement with those countries where the Mark Degree was not only recognised, but was made an integral part of their Masonic Constitution. It was only fair to meet them on equal terms, and while they thought the Grand Lodge of England was perfectly justified in holding from their recognition, they would not be justified in interposing to prevent any other Masonic jurisdiction from holding out the right hand of fellowship to them. Grand Mark Lodge had no jealousy on the subject; they only wanted what was just and fair. He hoped they might some day be recognised by the Grand Lodge of England, as a body of men connected with them by ties of Masonry. He believed these views were entertained not only by himself, but by all members of this degree. He looked upon the Mark Degree as an integral part of Freemasonry, without which they would not hold out to a novice, or to one who was second in the order, a complete system; and so viewing it, he thought Mark Masonry should be adopted by every zealous Freemason. He had a great love for Mark Masonry as part of the Masonic system, and would ever be ready to do anything in his power to promote its prosperity and also the prosperity of this Grand Lodge. (Applause.)

"The health of the Deputy Grand Master, the Earl of Limerick," was responded to by Colonel Whitwell, and the other toasts having been honoured, the brethren separated.

Bros. Lord, Evison and Musgrave, with Bro. Henry Parker, G.M. Organist, enlivened the proceedings of the evening with some capital singing.

GRAND COUNCIL OF ROYAL & SELECT MASTERS.

A meeting of the members of this degree was held on Monday last at No. 2, Red Lion Square. The Grand Master, the Rev. George Raymond Portal, M.A., presided, supported by Captain N. C. Phillips on his right, and Comp. Hyde Pullen on his left. Among the Comps. present were the Grand Recorder, Comp. F. Binckes, Major George Barlow, Major Clarke, D. M. Dewar, E. Stanton Jones, H. W. Binckes, S. Rosenthal, F. Davison, T. Y. Coffin, W. Roebuck, and H. Massey (Freemason).

The Grand Recorder having, after the formal opening of the Council, read the minutes of the last Grand Council, they were put and confirmed, and by the direction of the M.P.G.M., the Grand Recorder stated, that the progress since made by the degree consisted in four meetings having been held, at which the constitution had been settled, several members made, a council established at Havant, and sixty-five members altogether enrolled. The meeting at Havant on the 27th of October was the last previous to the present one. The financial statement showed receipts £111 14s. and expenditure £75 10s. 10d., leaving a balance of £36 3s. 2d. There were, however, liabilities to the amount of £56 12s. 6d., leaving a deficiency of £20 9s. 4d. But £4 4s. had since been received, which would reduce the deficiency to £16 5s. 4d. The Grand Council being only young, and numerous expenses having had to be borne at its establishment, this was a favourable statement. The report was then ordered to be received and entered on the minutes.

Comp. Hyde Pullen proposed, Comp. James

Stevens seconded, and it was carried unanimously, that Comp. F. Davison be Grand Treasurer in the place of the late Comp. Stebbing.

The M.P.G.M. then named Captain Phillips, and Comps. Davison, Binckes, and Lavender as four members of the General Committee of Seven under Clause 10 of the Constitutions; and the Grand Council elected Comps. Dewar, Roebuck, and Stevens as the remaining three members.

The M.P.G.M. said, he should like to take the opinion of the Grand Council on the question of a reduction of the fees in certain cases. There were occasionally difficulties in the starting of Councils on account of the fee for members over and above what was paid for the certificates. He thought that original members of Councils might be admitted at a reduction in the fee.

The Grand Recorder reminded the M.P.G.M., that those Comps. named in the warrant would already be members of the degree, and they would not be affected by the present scale. The matter had been very maturely considered before the Constitutions were drawn up.

The M.P.G.M. said, that when the Council was first originated, candidates were admitted at a low fee.

The Grand Recorder admitted this, but said they had to create a body.

The M.P.G.M. observed, that this was also the case when a new Council was sought to be established in any given town. He would ask Comp. Coffin what was his opinion with regard to Stonehouse?

Comp. Coffin answered, that there were, he thought, at present only three Royal and Select Masters in the neighbourhood, and he believed that if a Council were established there, some difficulty would be found in getting them to pay two guineas. He was in favour of a small fee for original members on the starting of the Council, and the regular fee afterwards.

The Grand Recorder and Captain Phillips agreed that the fees should remain as at present, the former Comp. remarking that no difficulty was occasioned at Havant by the established fees being charged; but that, if any reduction was made, it should be confined to those Comps. who joined a Council on the night it was first opened.

Captain Phillips said, his experience was that men did not value what they did not pay for, and the Grand Recorder thought that if Grand Councils' existence depended on making concessions of one kind and another, the Grand Council would soon be brought to an end.

Comp. James Stevens hardly thought the proceedings connected with the first establishment of the Grand Council were to be taken as a precedent for their future course. On that occasion it was an absolute necessity to charge small fees, in order to form a Grand Council; but he thought it should stop there. The subject was then deferred.

The M.P.G.M. next drew attention to the price of the jewel, which at one guinea seemed to him to be very expensive. He would suggest a small committee for investigating the matter, and getting specimens and prices from Masonic jewellers. He would name Captain Phillips, Comps. F. Davison and Binckes, as the Committee.

This was agreed to.

Comp. James Stevens, recurring to the former subject of the fees, said, that if eight or ten members were to form a Three Towns' Council for Plymouth, Devonport, and Stonehouse, their fees might be reduced.

After some further remarks, Comp. Coffin said, he would not force the question at all.

A discussion followed as to the best means to be adopted for spreading the degree, after which

The Grand Recorder said, that it was in contemplation at Sheffield and Rochdale to have new Councils, and perhaps this example would soon be followed at Manchester and Liverpool.

The Grand Council was then closed.

PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK LODGE OF DEVON.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Mark Master Masons of Devon was held in the Masonic Hall, Caroline-place, Stonehouse, on Tuesday 24th ult. There was a large attendance of the brethren. The R.W. Bro. Major J. Tanner Davy, the P.G.M., presided. Among the officers present were R.W. Bros. the Rev. J. Huyshe, P.P.G.M.; L. P. Metham, P.D.P.G.M., and Col. Elliott, D.P.G.M.; Bros. T. J. Brémridge, S.G.W.; J. E. Curteis, J.G.W.; C. Leigh, G.M.O.; S. Jones, P.P.G.M.O.; S. Jew, P.P.G.M.O.; I. Latimer, P.G.S. Wks.; W. S. Pasmore, G.J.O.; W. G. Rogers, P.G. Sec.; V. Bird, P.G.A. Sec. and P.P.G.T.; W. Browning, G.J.D.; D. Cross, G.S.B.; J. Harris, P.P.G.T.; W. S. Hearder, G.O.; A. Latimer, G.St.B.; C. Watson, G. Purs.; T. Goodall, G.St.; L. D. Westcott, P.P.G.S.B.; E. A. Davies, P.P.G.J.D.; J. B. Gover, P.P.G.A.D.C.; J. Lynn, P.P.G.O.; J. Baxter, P.P.G.S.D.; M. Coates, P.P.G.S. Wks.; R. H. Rae, P.P.G.T.; J. W. Hifley, P.P.G.J.D.; P. B. Clemens, P.P.G.S. Wks.; W. D. Thomas, P.P.G.O.; J. Austin, P.P.G.I. Wks.; J. May, P.P.G.D.C.; W. Bros. H. Miller, P.M.; A. Bodley, W.M. 15; C. Stribling, W.M. 50; the Rev. T. W. Lemon, chap. 35; J. Rendle, S.O. 50; P. T. Skelton, S.W. 50; J. E. Moon, S. W. 35; J. Ripper, S.W. 64; W. Joll, S.W. 91; J. Belling, J.D. 169; C. Croydon, S.D. 35; F. R. Beechey, J.W. 35; J. H. Keats, J.O. 50; H. S. Hill, A.D.C. 76; and G. V. Hilson, R.M. 50.

The treasurer's report was read by V.W. Bro. Bird. It showed a balance in hand of £38, and was adopted. The P.G.M. informed the Lodge that his patent of office was only for the remainder of the term of office of the late P.G.M. That had now elapsed, and the Lodge was called upon to recommend a P.G.M. for the next term. Col. Elliott proposed, and the Rev. Jno. Huyshe seconded, the re-election of the R.W. Bro. J. Tanner Davy as the P.G.M. for the next term. The proposition was carried unanimously. The P.G.M. returned thanks, and said that during his term of office he had visited nearly all the lodges in his province, and should be much guided in his appointment of the P.G. officers by what he had witnessed of the real workers in the various lodges. He would, however, suggest that for the future each lodge should recommend one of its members for a provincial office, and the matter should be brought before the lodges by being placed in the circulars as part of the business.

On the proposition of V.W. Bro. Jew, seconded by V.W. Bro. Lynn, Bro. W. Joll, 91, was elected treasurer for the ensuing year. Bro. J. Rogers was also elected G. Tyler. The Prov. G.M. then proceeded to appoint the following brethren his officers for the ensuing year:—Col. Jno. Elliott, D.P.G.M.; the Rev. P. H. Newnham, S. W.; W. G. Rogers, J.W.; Col. Fitzgerald, 35, M.O.; T. Goodall, 64, S.O.; A. Bodley, 15, J.O.; the Rev. T. W. Lemon, 35, chap.; W. Joll, 91, treasurer; V. Bird, 64, sec.; J. T. Widryer, 9, S.D.; T. Dann, 15, J.D.; C. Stribling, 50, G.D.C.; W. H. Gillman, 96, A.D.C.; E. Brooming, 23, S. Wks.; P. T. Skelton, 50, S.B.; J. Rendle, 50, O.; J. Toms, 100, St. B.; J. Avery, 50, regis.; E. Hart, 76, purs.; J. Ripper, 64, G. Boon, 16, G. Emery, 169, stewards; J. Rogers, Tyler.

After a short discussion as to the amount, forty guineas were voted from the funds of the lodge to the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys. R. W. Bro. the Rev. J. Huyshe proposed that the amount should be raised to fifty guineas, and gave five guineas himself towards the increase, the P.G.M. Major J. Tanner Davy added three guineas, and Bro. J. E. Moon two guineas, to bring the sum up to the recommended amount. Five guineas were voted to the support of the masonic bed at the Royal Albert Hospital. Thanks were, on the proposition of the P.G.M., voted to R.W. Bro. the Rev. Jno. Huyshe for his attending the meeting that day at considerable inconvenience. Bro. Huyshe, in acknowledging the compliment, said his attendance there was a gratification to himself and the question of his being present alone depended, under the permission of the Ruler of All, upon his health. He had within the last few days been much better, and it gave him much pleasure in being thus able to attend that meeting.

This concluded the business, and the lodge was closed in due form.—Western Morning News.

PROVINCIAL GRAND PRIORY OF DEVONSHIRE.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Priory of Devon of Knights Templar was held at the Masonic Hall, Caroline-place, Stonehouse. The Provincial Prior, Colonel John Elliott, presided, and among the present and past provincial officers in attendance were—Major J. Tanner Davy, Sub-prior; J. E. Curteis, Chan.; Col. H. C. Fitzgerald, Const.; Capt. W. Elpbinstone Stone, R.N., Marsh.; C. Leigh, Regis.; S. Jew, Tras.; Elliot Square, Vice-chan.; J. Brown, 2nd S.B.; W. S. Pasmore, B.B.; E. J. Knight, Assist., D.C.; J. E. Moon, O.; J. Harris, P.P. Sub. P.; the Rev. P. H. Newnham, P.P.P.; E. Aitken Davies, P.P.V.C.; J. Mathews, P.P.G.A.; S. Jones, P.P.G.S.B.; J. M. Hifley, P.P.G.E.; V. Bird, P.P.B.B.; J. Austin, P.P.E.; P. B. Clemens, P.P. Capt. L.; J. B. Gover, P.P.T.; J. Bddford Kerswill, P.P.A.D.C.; and Fraters L. D. Westcott, H. H. Arnold, S. L. A. Templar, G. V. Hilson, J. H. Huxtable, C. Fern, and J. H. Keats. The treasurer reported a balance in hand of £7. The zeal exhibited by the treasurer in the duties of his office during the year, was warmly eulogised, and a unanimous vote of thanks was awarded him.

The Past-Provincial Prior Sir Knight, the Rev. John Huyshe, M.A., then entered the hall, and was warmly received with the honour due to his rank. On his taking his seat on the dais the Provincial Prior, Colonel Elliott, presented him on behalf of the Priory, with an illuminated address, his retiring from the office of Provincial Prior, which was tastefully illuminated on red and mounted in a handsome frame, read as follows:—

"To Sir Knight the Rev. John Huyshe, very high and Eminent Past Deputy Grand Master of England, and very Eminent Provincial Prior of Devon.—The loyal and dutiful address of United Religious and Military Order of the Temple St. John of Jerusalem, Palestine, Rhodes, Malta, in Provincial Priory assembled, show that this Provincial Priory desires to express to you, very high and Eminent Sir, its sincere and feigned regret at the retirement of one who for many years has filled the office of Grand Master of this Province with dignity, zeal and efficiency, under whose baton the order of the Temple arrived at its present state of prosperity in this Province; whose excellencies of character caused you to be universally beloved and whose numerous attainments have raised you to the highest honours of the order. This Priory also desires to express a fervent hope you may be long spared to render it that assistance to which your past experience so well qualifies you to afford."

Colonel Elliott, in making the presentation, expressed his great gratification at being called upon to undertake the duty, said he felt some confidence in thus being called upon to speak of the merits of, and to do honour to one who had been a member of the Masonic body before either himself or the majority of the fraters present were born. To look back through a career of Masonry of over forty years, twenty-five years of which had been passed either as P.G.M. or D.P.G.M. and in which had been shared the honour of being one of the founders of the Fortescue Fund which have been alone a glorious reminiscence; but have added to that a sense of having also been most useful in every branch of masonry, and having, in many varied duties of masonic office everywhere secured the esteem and affection of brethren was indeed a high position. Such eminence the late Provincial Prior had obtained. His judgment and ability in ruling over a branch of the Templar Knights, while most honorable to himself, had conferred great honour on the body. In the name of the three scriptural officers their order they desired to express to their reverend frater their best wishes for time and eternity.

The Rev. J. Huyshe thanked the fraters much feeling for the manner they had exhibited towards him.

Sir Knight Jew was, on the proposition of Fr. B. Gover and Leigh, then re-elected the treasurer; the Provincial Prior appointed the following fraters, officers for the ensuing year:—Major J. Tanner Davy, P.S.P.; the Rev. J. Erskine Risk, Prel. E. Curteis, Chan.; J. Matthews, Const.; L. Wescott, Marsh.; S. Jew, Treas.; J. Harris, B. E. J. Knight, V.C.; W. S. Pasmore, Sub-m. J. E. Moon, W.R.; J. H. Huxtable, Herald; Keats, St. B.; H. H. Arnold, O.; S. V. H. C.G.; S. C. A. Templar, B.B.; J. B. Gover, C. J. B. Kerswill, S.B. The report of the committee appointed to revise the bye-laws was read, and adopted. The principal changes they are a large reduction of the office fees, an increase of the fee to Provincial Priory on the instalment of a frater to ros. 6d., and rendering it impossible for the registrar of each preceptory to send of the summones convening their meetings to the Prov. Chan. Prov. Regis., and each acting E.P. province seven days before the meeting. Two guineas were voted to the support of the Masonic bed at the Royal Albert Hospital.

The Rev. P. H. Newnham, P.P.P. of I. introduced his motion, which was seconded by Kt. J. E. Curteis, "to call attention to some recent changes in the constitution of the order to move the adoption of a memorial prayer the statutes may be revised and amended, in view of removing the objections alleged to them." The changes objected to were leaving word Masonic out of the title of the order, and the names of some of the offices held by the and the abolition of past rank. It was also that the changes were made with too much precipitancy. Sir Kt. Newnham stated that the Provincial Priory of Lancashire had already in the matter, and those of Dorset, Somerset, Cambridge intended to follow. It was attended to present the memorial to the Great Lancashire had done so, but learnt, in reply the Great Priory had no power over the and it must go before the Convent General memorial, therefore, now prayed that a Convent General should be held, as other ussion would not come off until 1876. It had been stated that his Royal Highness the Grand Master had expressed some wishes on the question, that it had been since ascertained that this was an error, and that the Grand Master left the whole entirely in the hands of the Templar Knights. The merits of the questions involved were treated at some length by the mover and seconder. At the close of their addresses Sir Kt. Davies said he desired that if a special Convent-General was granted there would be a careful avoidance of any language that might be considered to involve an approach to imputation of motives or attacks on individuals for the benefit or injury the measures would cause to order should alone be held in question. The resolution was then unanimously adopted, and this closed the business of the Priory.—Western Morning News.

PROVINCIAL GRAND MARK LODGE OF KENT.

Meeting of the Provincial Grand Mark Lodge of Kent, was held on Thursday, November 12th, at the Royal Oak Hotel, Dover, under the auspices of the Dover and Cinque Ports Lodge, No. 152. The several Lodges of the Province were well represented.

The R.W. Pro. G.M.M.M. Bro. The Rev. G. W. demore, M.A., took his seat on the throne at 3 p.m., and immediately opened Provincial Grand Mark Lodge in due form. The Deputy Prov. G.M.M.M. (Bro. T. H. ve Snowden), were saluted in succession. The minutes of the last regular meeting held at them, in December, 1873, were read and affirmed.

The Report of the committee of General Purposes, the accounts of the Prov. G.M. Treas., were read and approved.

The Prov. G.M. Treas. Bro. Lewis Finch, was re-elected Treas., and Bro. Geo. gor as Tyler.

The Prov. G.M.M.M. then appointed and installed the following brethren as Prov. G.M. Officers for the year ensuing, viz:—

- | | |
|---------------------|-------------------|
| H. Grove Snowden | Dep. Prov. G.M.M. |
| hn Lamy Ellerm | Prov. S.G.W. |
| mes-D. Terson | J.G.M.W. |
| C. Burfield | G.G.O. |
| hn Canham | G.S.O. |
| umuel L. Townsend | G.J.O. |
| ewis Finch | G. Treas. |
| xander Spears | G. Reg. of Marks. |
| mes W. Smith | G. Secretary. |
| hn Bagshaw | G.C. Ass. Secry. |
| ephen Court | G.C.S.D. |
| alter Scaries | G.C.J.D. |
| umuel Muggleston | G.C.J. of Works. |
| ios. Morant Compton | G.C.J.D. of Cers. |
| o. H. Curel | Asst. D. of Cers. |
| m. T. Carpenter | G. Swd. Br. |
| lwin Beer | G. Standr. Br. |
| fred R. Wade | G. Organist. |
| H. Howard | G. Purst. |
| seph Geo. Podevin | G. Steward. |
| umuel J. Davies | G. Steward. |
| o. Meagor | G. Tyler. |

The newly appointed officers were then saluted. Ellerm, Emmerson, and Page were appointed Clerks.

Bro. Page, Crawford, Emerson, and Redman, were appointed Members of the Committee of General Purposes.

The Deputy Prov. G.M.M.M., stated that the term of appointment granted to the R.W. Prov. G.M.M. would expire in July next, and as there was not probably be another meeting of this Provincial Grand Lodge until some months after that date, he would now propose that Bro. the Rev. G. W. demore, M.A., be recommended to the M.W. Grand Master Mason for re-appointment to the office now held by him.

The Prov. G.M. Treas. seconded the proposition, and it was carried unanimously.

Bro. F. Binckes said that he, as a Grand Officer, in the name of the Supreme Rulers of the Province, must offer his congratulations on the address and the success which had attended Mark Lodge in the Province. In alluding to the citation of the Adam Mark Lodge, No. 6 (press), which had happily this day taken its place in this Prov. Lodge, he stated that he had been invited to attend at Sheerness, in January for the purpose of installing the W.M. Elect, and he trusted that he should be well supported by the number of the Prov. G.M. Officers. Several of themselves to attend.

The Prov. G.M. Lodge was then closed in due order and the brethren afterwards partook of an ant banquet in an adjoining room. The usual loyal toasts and those peculiar to Mark Masonry, were enthusiastically responded to.

The whole arrangements of the day were perfect, and reflected the greatest credit upon the Dover and Cinque Ports Lodge, the youngest in the Province.

UNITED GRAND LODGE.

NOMINATION of the PRINCE OF WALES AS M.W.G.M., AND INSTALLATION OF THE EARL OF CARNARVON.

On Wednesday evening, the Quarterly Communication of United Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of England was held at Freemasons' Hall, on which occasion there were gathered together as large a number of Freemasons as, with few exceptions, has ever been witnessed in that Masonic Temple. Although it had been publicly announced in the press some weeks before, notably by ourselves a fortnight ago on authority, that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales would not be present; the idea got abroad that he might, nevertheless, appear at the last minute, and that what the press had stated might be merely from common rumour. The brethren, consequently, fearing to miss a great event through placing too implicit a reliance on what newspapers had said, arrived during the week previously from all parts of the country; while those Masters, Wardens, and Past Masters of lodges in town who are but seldom seen in Grand Lodge, stretched a point on this occasion, and fulfilled their promise of a punctual and regular attendance on the Quarterly Communications of Grand Lodge. There were, therefore, at seven o'clock, when the Grand Master or his Deputy punctually takes the throne, some five or six hundred brethren present; and when the procession of Grand Officers and the Acting Grand Master entered the hall, it was, so to speak, full. Earl Carnarvon, it had been announced, positively would be present, and the brethren stood on tiptoe and stretched their necks to look towards the inner porch where Herr Kuhe was instructed to play the organ, which is always a sign that the procession is about to enter Grand Lodge.

Grand Stewards came in after Grand Stewards, Past Grand Officers after Past Grand Officers, and Grand Officers after Grand Officers, but when the centre figure of the procession appeared, and it was seen not to be the Earl of Carnarvon, but Bro. Hugh D. Sandeman, District Grand Master of Bengal, an expression of disappointment ran through the building. The procession moved towards the dais in silence, and Bro. Sandeman took his seat on the throne, having the Rev. John Huyshe, Provincial Grand Master, of Devon on his right as Deputy Grand Master; Lord Tenterden for Senior Warden; Colonel Whitwell for Junior Warden; Bros. Rucker; G.D.C.; John B. Monckton, President of Board of General Purposes; Æ. J. McIntyre, Q.C., G. Reg.; John Hervey, G.S.; Rev. R. P. Bent, and Canon Simpson, LL.D., G. Chaps.; Past Grand Chaps., the Revs. Sir J. Warren Hayes, T. F. Ravenshaw, R. J. Simpson, J. Edmund Cox, C. J. Martyn; Maj.-Gen. Brownrigg, P.G.M., Surrey; W. W. B. Beach, M.P., P.G.M., Hants and Isle of Wight; T. Halsey, M.P., P.G.M., Herts; Sir Michael Costa; S. Rawson, P.D.G.M. of China; T. Fenn, P.A.G.D.C.; S. Tomkins, G. Treas.; J. M. Clabon, P.G.D.; John Havers, P.G.W.; Joshua Nunn, P.G.S.B.; Raynham W. Stewart, P.G.D.; Dr Jabez Hogg, P.G.D.; John Savage, P.G.D.; Wilhelm Ganz, P.G. Org.; J. E. Saunders, P.G.D.; W. Glaisner; Grissell, P.G.D.; C. Hutton Gregory, P.G.D.; Jas. Brett, P.G.P.; John Boyd, P.G.P.; C. A. Cottebrune, P.G.P.; T. Cubitt, G.P.; W. Ough, P.G.P.; Joseph Smith, P.G.P.; and T. A. Adams, P.G.P.

Grand Lodge having been formally opened, Grand Secretary read the minutes of last quarterly communication, which were on the point of being put by the Acting Grand Master, when Bro. H. G. Warren raised an objection to them so far as regarded the portion of the minutes that related to the resignation of the Marquis of Ripon; it was out of the power of Grand Lodge to accept the resignation, as the book of constitutions did not provide for a resignation. His lordship had no more power to resign after he had been obligated than had the W.M. of a private lodge; that he must continue in office till his successor be appointed, and that all he could do was, when the next period of nomination of a Grand Master came round, not to allow himself to be again put in nomination.

Grand Registrar (Bro. Æ. J. McIntyre, Q.C.), said that Bro. Warren was under a mistake, for the Grand Master could resign or not as he thought fit. As he had chosen to resign, Grand Lodge had no option, but to accept his resignation.

The acting Grand Master said, the motion before Grand Lodge was merely whether the minutes of last Grand Lodge were or not faithfully recorded.

Grand Registrar supported this view. If they had not been faithfully recorded, a motion could have been made for their amendment.

Bro. Ex-Sheriff Hutton, having addressed a few words to Grand Lodge in opposition to Bro. Warren, and Bro. James Mason having appealed to Grand Lodge for a hearing for Bro. Warren,

The Acting Grand Master ruled that Bro. Warren was out of order, and that brother immediately walked out of Grand Lodge.

The motion "that the minutes be confirmed," was then put and carried unanimously.

Grand Secretary then said that the next business was to read the report of committee appointed at the last meeting, to offer the Grand Mastership of the Order to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. It was as follows:—

"To the United Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of England.

"We beg to report that in accordance with the resolution of Grand Lodge, at the last Quarterly Communication, held on Wednesday, the 2nd instant, we have, as directed, offered the acceptance of the office of the Grand Master to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. It is with great satisfaction, a feeling which we are sure will be joined in not only by Grand Lodge, but the whole of the Craft, that we further report that His Royal Highness has been graciously pleased to accept the Grand Mastership.

(Signed) "Carnarvon, Deputy G.M.
"John Havers, P.G.W.
"Æ. J. McIntyre, G.R.

"London, September 25th, 1874."

The reading of this report was received with loud cheers.

Sir Albert Woods (Garter), G.D.C., called the brethren to order and proclaimed "The most High, most Mighty, and most Illustrious Prince Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, Duke of Saxony, Duke of Cornwall and Rothesay, Earl of Chester, Carrick, and Dublin, Baron, of Renfrew and Lord of the Isles, Great Steward of Scotland, &c., Grand Master of Freemasons of England."

"This was the signal for a further outburst of applause. When this had subsided,

The Grand Secretary read the following letter from the Prince of Wales, which he had received:

"Hotel Bristol, Paris, October 14, 1874.

"Sir and Brother,—Having accepted the office of Grand Master, I have appointed the Earl of Carnarvon as Pro-Grand Master.—I am, Sir and Brother, yours fraternally,

"ALBERT EDWARD, Grand Master.

"Brother Hervey, Grand Secretary."

Great cheering also followed the reading of this letter.

The Grand Master on the throne said the Earl of Carnarvon is in attendance this evening for the purpose of being obligated as Pro-Grand Master. (Cheers). I will now therefore ask the Grand Director of Ceremonies to form a deputation to conduct his lordship into this Grand Lodge, the said deputation to consist of two Provincial Grand Masters, three Past Grand Wardens, the Grand Deacons, and four Grand Stewards, whom the Director of Ceremonies will ask to accompany him to introduce his lordship into Grand Lodge.

The deputation was then formed, Maj. Gen. Brownrigg and Bro. Beach, M.P., being the two Provincial Grand Masters.

The Earl of Carnarvon entered Grand Lodge with the deputation, the organ playing, and all the brethren standing.

His Lordship, on entering, was received with enthusiastic cheering, which continued until he was placed in front of the throne, to be obligated as Pro-Grand Master. Order having been called by Sir Albert Woods, the Acting Grand Master, addressing the noble Earl, said: Right Worshipful Brother, as you have been appointed by His Royal Highness the Grand Master to be Pro-Grand Master, it will be necessary for you to enter into an obligation to discharge faithfully the duties of that office. I will, therefore, ask you to repeat after me.

Lord Carnarvon then took the obligation, having the two Grand Chaplains (Canon Sampson and the Rev. R. Bent) on his right and left. The form of words used in this ceremony was dictated with great elocutionary powers by the Acting Grand Master, without faltering or hesitating at a single word. The obligation so given could be heard in every part of the building. At the conclusion of the ceremony Bro. Sandeman invested the Earl of Carnarvon with the insignia of his rank, and expressed a hope that it might please the Almighty, in his infinite wisdom, to spare his lordship for many years in health and strength to be an ornament to the ancient craft and to his country.

After saying this the Acting Grand Master placed Lord Carnarvon in the Past Grand Master's chair, where he was saluted in Masonic form. He was then placed in the Grand Master's chair, Bro. Sandeman in that of the Past Grand Master.

The Earl of Carnarvon then rose and said: Brethren, I had intended to have passed at once to the order of the day, but the cordial—and almost more than cordial—reception which you have been pleased to give me makes it incumbent on me to trespass for a very few minutes upon your time. Brethren, allow me to say that entering in on the office of Pro-Grand Master of English Freemasons, I am fully sensible of the great honour that has been conferred upon me, and I trust, in accordance with the terms of that obligation which within the last few minutes I have taken, I may discharge the duties of that office to the utmost of my power—(hear, hear)—and certainly with all zeal and fidelity. (Loud cheering.) Brethren, I enter upon that office with feelings of great satisfaction, first of all because I trust that in it I may be enabled possibly to render some slight service to his Royal Highness, our new Grand Master, who, at the instance of the craft and to their universal satisfaction, has undertaken that high and honourable post—(hear, hear)—and secondly, let me also say, because it brings me into somewhat closer and continued relations with this Grand Lodge of England. (Hear, hear.) Brethren, it has been my lot on several occasions to preside from this chair over your deliberations. I trust that I have done so, in the words of that obligation, with firmness, but I am sure also that I have never done so in this hall without being able to count unequivocally upon the support of you all. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) He who fills this chair—no matter who he may be—must, if he intends to conduct the business in the manner in which the business of Grand Lodge should be conducted, count upon the unhesitating support and co-operation of his brother masons. I have always counted upon it. I have uniformly received it. (Hear, hear.) In the discharge of that duty which has now been placed upon me I will only say this much, that I shall endeavour always to discharge it with a sense of loyalty to our head, his Royal Highness, the present Grand Master of England, and with a conscientious determination to uphold and maintain to the best of my power these ancient landmarks of the order, which I have been taught to respect and to revere. (Hear, hear.) Brethren, I think that this is perhaps a suitable opportunity for me to announce to the Grand Lodge that which I trust they will receive with satisfaction, that it has pleased our Grand Master to appoint as Deputy Grand Master of England my noble friend Lord Skelmersdale. (Cheers.) He is one who has shown zeal already in the conduct of his province, and now, when translated to a higher and still more important post, I am satisfied he will not be found wanting. (Great applause.)

The next business on the paper was the passing of a vote of condolence with the Grand Lodge of Ireland, on the death of its Grand Master, the Duke of Leinster, and Grand Secretary read the letter which had been received from Grand Lodge of Ireland to Grand Lodge of England, written by Bro. C. T. Walmisley, Grand Secretary of Ireland.

Lord Carnarvon, in moving this resolution, said: It becomes my duty now from this chair to put to you a vote founded upon the melancholy letter that you have just heard read by the Grand Secretary. It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove, at a very advanced age, crowned with honours and with the respect of the Craft and the affection of his friends, the late Duke of Leinster, who for more than half-a-century filled the chair of the Grand Lodge of Ireland. Born, if I remember rightly, in the year 1791; succeeding to the honours of a family whose history mingles itself with the history of Ireland, in the year 1804; elected at the early age of 24, in the year 1815, as the Grand Master of Ireland, it was but within a very few months since that the Duke of Leinster died. What a remarkable space of time was filled by that life, beginning in the time of the French Revolution, ending only a few months ago! How many revolutions, how many wars, how many peace, how many settlements of Europe, how many rises and falls of thrones and dynasties, of changes in countries and Governments and politics, did not that man see! and many of them might have been comprised—were comprised in fact—within the tenure of his office of the Grand Mastership of Ireland. Yet of him I think it may certainly be said that during the whole of that long period he lived beloved by the Craft, without, as far as I have ever heard, any real whisper of discontent against the rule which he mildly and prudently exercised. It would be impossible, I hold, for us to pass over in silence the death of so remarkable a Mason. I might remind you, indeed, that in Masonry great as his interest was there in Ireland, his interest in Masonry was evinced on repeated occasions here among us. He was present at the laying of the foundation-stone of these very buildings in which we are this night assembled; and I believe that he took a part, if I mistake not, in that legislation which relieved Freemasonry from some of those fetters and shackles by which it was most unfairly trammelled; and there was hardly any event in the annals of the Freemasonry of England of his years in which he did not, either privately or publicly, openly or personally, take some deep interest. Brethren, with these few words I venture to recommend to you a vote of condolence, which I shall propose to be drawn up according to the proper forms, and entered upon the minutes of proceedings, and transmitted in due form to the Grand Lodge of Ireland, and to the family of the late Duke of Leinster.

I believe that, according to the forms of this Grand Lodge, it is necessary to find a seconder for that motion; but I am satisfied in making it, that there would be no lack of seconders, and I trust that it will be carried unanimously and without one word of question or objection. I propose "that a vote of condolence with the Grand Lodge of Ireland on the death of the late Duke of Leinster be entered upon our records and transmitted to the Grand Lodge of Ireland and to the family of the late Duke."

Bro. the Rev. John Huyshe, Prov. Grand Master of Devon, in seconding the motion said, I don't think it is necessary to add one word to the eloquent address of our Pro-Grand Master. I think I cannot do better than simply second the motion and sit down, having said that with all my heart, I am fully in accord with what the Pro-Grand Master has said of the Duke of Leinster. I trust that this Grand Lodge will carry unanimously this resolution of condolence.

The resolution was then put and carried unanimously.

The Earl of Carnarvon—Brethren, the next business is the nomination of a Grand Master for the ensuing year.

Bro. S. G. Grady thereupon arose and said—M.W.G.M. and brethren, the honour of nominating the most worshipful Grand Master for the ensuing year has been entrusted to me, and I rise for the purpose of discharging that duty with feelings of very sincere pleasure, because I have the satisfaction of knowing that the nomination which I now make of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales as Most Worshipful Grand Master will be hailed by the Craft in general, and this Grand Lodge in particular, with acclamation and with a burst of applause which will express far more eloquently than I can the feeling that pervades the breast of every member of the Craft and of this Grand Lodge in having this illustrious Prince to rule over us and preside at our assemblies. I have the honour to nominate His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales as Most Worshipful Grand Master for the ensuing year. (Great cheering.)

The Earl of Carnarvon: Brethren, the next business on the order, is the appointment of President of the Lodge of Benevolence. I believe that there is no controversy on this point and I have therefore pleasure in announcing that Bro. Clabon, who has held the office already for three years, has been again appointed. (Applause.)

The Grand Secretary said the Senior and Junior Vice-Presidents, my Lord, are nominated at the Committee of Masters, and there were none other nominated than those who have hitherto filled those posts. The Senior Vice-President nominated is Bro. Joshua New P.G.S.B., and the Junior Vice-President, Bro. James Brett, P.G.P. There will be no election.

There was also no election of twelve Past Masters to serve on the Lodge of Benevolence, only twelve being nominated. These were—Bros. H. Bartlett, 147; W. C. Crick, 62; Herbert Dicketts, 25; J. Diprose, 957; Garrod, 749; H. W. Hemsworth, 1193; Ough, 1145; H. M. Levy, 188; W. May, 186; Samuel May, 780; W. Smith, 33; W. Stephens, 1365.

The following grants, recommended by the Lodge of Benevolence, were then moved, seconded, and carried:—The widow of a Bro. the Domestic Lodge, 177, London, £100; Bro. of the Royal Lodge of Faith and Friendship, 270, Berkeley, £50; the widow of a Bro. of the Royal Gloucester Lodge, 130, Southampton, £75; a Bro. of the Strawberry Hill Lodge, 946, Twickenham, £100; a Bro. of the Caledonian Lodge, 134, London, £150; a Bro. of the Vitruvian Lodge, 87, London, £50.

The report of the Board for General Purposes was then read by the Grand Secretary as follows:—

"To the United Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of England.

"The Board of General Purposes has drawn report that their attention has been drawn to the circumstance that Lodge 972 (St. Augustin) had initiated a minor without dispensation under the alleged supposition that as a "Le" it could be legally done.

"The board having considered the circumstances, arrived at the unanimous conclusion that a violation of the constitutions and a subsequent breach of Masonic law had been committed, and although this had apparently been placed under an idea of its legality, which was stated to be somewhat prevalent in the lodge, and therefore without intention to infringe Masonic law, the board considered they had no option but to admonish the lodge, and resolved that the lodge be admonished accordingly, and that the certificate of the initiation be not issued until the lodge be re-oblihen of full age, or otherwise in accordance with the Book of Constitutions.

"(Signed) J. B. MONCKTON,
"President.

Freemasons' Hall, London, W.C.,
"17th November, 1874."

Bro. J. B. Monckton, in moving that this report be received and entered in the minutes, said it became his duty as President of the Board of General Purposes, to submit this motion to Grand Lodge. The report was very short, and it contained nothing of very large importance. He was glad to say that the Board was unanimously of opinion that the Masonic fences referred to in this report was committed to in defiance so much as in ignorance of the institutions; and while the Board of General Purposes bore in mind, as it always must, that was the duty of the Master of the lodge to make himself acquainted with the constitutions, he thought that there was no malus animus, or bad intention in this case, and therefore that it could be sufficiently met by admonition. It was, however, the duty of the Board to bring this matter before Grand Lodge. An opinion seemed to prevail that a Lewis might be initiated as a Mason without dispensation; but the Board thought the sooner that idea was dispelled the better.

The motion was seconded by Bro. Raynham Stewart, and carried unanimously.

To the report was subjoined a Statement of Grand Lodge accounts at the last meeting of Finance Committee held on Friday, the 13th of November instant, showing a balance in the hands of the Grand Treasurer of £3,375 6d.; and in the hands of the Grand Secretary, for petty cash, £75; and for servants' wages, £96 15s.

The Grand Secretary next read a Memorial from the Loyal Lodge, No. 358, Ireland Island, Ruda, for a donation towards the fund for building their Masonic Hall.

The Grand Registrar moved that the receipt of the Memorial be acknowledged, which motion was seconded and carried.

The Grand Secretary afterwards read the relations of condolence from the Dalhousie Lodge, Newton, Mass., U.S.A., on the death of Earl of Dalhousie, Past Deputy Grand Master of England.

Bro. John B. Monckton, President of the Board of General Purposes, then moved, "That the hour of meeting of the Board of General Purposes on the third Tuesday in every month be altered from three o'clock to four o'clock, and that the word 'three' in Article 6, paragraph 109, of the Book of Constitutions, be altered to the word 'four' accordingly."

In making the motion, he explained that the motion had been incidentally discussed by several members at the last meeting, and the desire of the members (15) then present united in requesting that he would give this notice of motion. Since then he had heard that two old and greatly respected members of the Board were in favour of the hour of three; one, however, said that if the motion were carried he would be of course bound by it, and should not oppose it; but the other said he could not concur in it. Therefore he (Bro. Monckton) could come before Grand Lodge and say it was the unanimous wish of the Board that the hour should be altered to four o'clock. He could not say the majority desired it. Having himself served upon the Board for six or seven years, he thought the change would be useful. Since the present hour had obtained, but at that time the hours of business were later than now, it was more convenient for members then to be at three to the Board, transact their business, and then go back to their own avocations. Matters, however, had changed with all of us, and we were left off business earlier, and it would be more convenient for members to leave their business for good at four o'clock and then attend the Board. (Hear, hear.)

Bro. Philbrick seconded the motion and said, having served himself on the Board, he would personally speak as to the inconvenience of the hour of three. Matters of individual convenience ought not to be brought before Grand Lodge; but matters of general convenience ought. Subjects of importance frequently came before the Board and occupied some hours, and these subjects required the assistance of brethren well acquainted with the laws of the Craft. Many of his brethren went to the Board at considerable sacrifices, particularly the Grand Registrar, whose appearance at the Board was always a matter of great pleasure to the brethren, and whose experience was invaluable. In difficult cases they scarcely knew how to proceed without the benefit of his counsel and advice. It was an hour which, being in the same profession as Grand Registrar, he could say rendered it almost impossible for him to attend. With regard to the other official members of the Board, the Grand Director of Ceremonies was always inconvenienced by coming at three. Those who attended the Board regretted when they were called upon to enter on the consideration of a difficult case, that they had not the benefit of the great experience, knowledge, and ability of such brethren as those he had ventured, perhaps improperly, to refer to. If the hour was altered to four it would suit the great majority of the Board, and be more conducive to having that advice and assistance which it was most desirable they should have in difficult cases.

Bro. John Savage opposed the alteration, but Bros. Ex-Sheriff Hutton, Raynham Stewart and W. Sutton Gover supported Bro. Monckton, and the motion was put and carried.

Bro. J. M. Clabon here rose and said that since the notice of motion which stood in his name had been given for setting apart two-thirds of the annual surplus of the fund of Benevolence to apprenticing and otherwise advancing in life the girls and boys educated in the Masonic schools, he had received communications from a great number of Masons of eminent position and well capable of forming an opinion on the subject to the effect that the time had hardly yet come for disposing of any of the surplus funds of the Lodge of Benevolence. He would not say that they had convinced him, but he was highly of opinion that their wisdom was better than his own; that he did not propose to make his motion that night. Nevertheless, he would fain, if the Pro-Grand Master and the Grand Lodge would permit him, make a few observations to justify himself for having brought them forward. If he made no motion he would be slightly out of order, and he would therefore move "that the motion be discharged." About five or six years ago, a committee formed to consider the Constitution of the Fund of Benevolence. It was a strong committee, and they appointed him chairman. They made an elaborate report, and at the end of it were the proposals which he had put forward in his motion, to apply a portion of the surplus of the Fund of Benevolence as indicated in his motion. [These will be seen by reference to agenda paper of Grand Lodge published by us last week.] Grand Lodge was pleased to adopt every one of the recommendations excepting these, which they rejected, for reasons which they stated. Thirty years ago they had £10,000 accumulated; ten years after they had £14,000; in another ten years £6,000; and in the last ten years £15,000; so that now they had £35,000 accumulated in thirty years, which was £25,000 more than in all the preceding period. Masonry had increased in the last ten years so wonderfully, that in a few years hence the applications for assistance will be very great, and require more money than the board now paid. He looked upon the Lodge of Benevolence in this respect as an Insurance Company, and they were bound, having established a fund of benevolence, to keep it in that position that would enable them always to relieve distressed Masons when called upon. His correspondents said that if the accumulations went on for ten years as they were going on they might be dealt with, and it was in deference to their opinions that he withdrew his notice of motion.

The motion having been seconded, Bro. Binckes rose to address the Grand Lodge, but

The Earl of Carnarvon said that he would not assert that Bro. Binckes was out of order absolutely in addressing his observations to Grand Lodge, but it was for him to consider whether, the question being practically no longer before Grand Lodge for discussion, it was desirable to protract it. It had been moved and seconded to discharge the order, and unless Bro. Binckes desired to oppose that, and retain the motion on the paper, which he presumed was not his object, he should think it was hardly the best time to consider it.

Bro. Binckes said his object in rising was to second Bro. Clabon, at the same time regretting the withdrawal of the motion, but hoping to address a few observations to Grand Lodge. Bowing, however, to his lordship's ruling, he should not attempt to force himself upon Grand Lodge.

Grand Lodge was then closed, and the Earl of Carnarvon departed amidst enthusiastic cheering.

DISTRICT GRAND LODGE OF JAPAN.

AUGUST, 1874.

What may be held as probably the most important event in the Masonic history of Japan since the establishment of the first lodge on its soil some years ago, occurred on Saturday August 15th—the inaugural "communication" of the District Grand Lodge of Japan, holding of the English Constitution. It will be within the recollection of Masonic readers that, some months ago, an application from the brethren composing the lodges under the English Constitution in Japan was laid before the Grand Master of England, for the foundation of a District Grand Lodge; that this prayer was favourably received and finally granted, and that Bro. Chas. H. Dallas, whilst on a visit to the mother country, was installed then and there as the first District Grand Master.

The first General Communication of the newly-constituted District Grand Lodge was convened for 4 o'clock, p.m., on Saturday, the 15th Aug., for the purpose of formally receiving the District Grand Master, and installing the D.D.G.M. and Grand Officers Designate, and for other business of a routine character. About fifty brethren were present, amongst whom we observed visitors from lodges in other parts of Japan, China, Germany, United States, Australia, &c. The Grand Lodge having been duly opened by Past Master A. Mitchell, O' Tentosama Lodge, Bro. J. R. Black, P.M. O' Tentosama Lodge, D. G. Director of Ceremonies, presented the Warrant of the Grand Lodge of England, received from the hands of the D.G.M. This having been read in open lodge, the D.G.M. was conducted into lodge by three P.M.'s, received with Grand Honours, and inducted into the chair. The D.G.M., after the usual impressive ceremonies attending the installation of the Deputy D.G.M. and officers, declared the District Grand Lodge of Japan duly opened, and proceeded to deliver a masterly inaugural address on the duties and obligations of the brethren, to the Grand Lodge, to their mother lodges, to the Craft generally, and to the world at large. The address concluded with remarks on the ballot.

The District Grand Lodge of Japan is composed and holds precedence as follows:—

Charles H. Dallas, R.W.D.G.M.; William Bourne, W.D.; Major T. W. Kinder, W.D.S.W.; A. Mitchell, W.D.G., Junior; E. J. D. Rothmund, W.D.G. Treasurer; W. H. Freame, W.D.G. Registrar; William A. Crane, W.D.G. President of the District Board of General Purposes; F. Pittman, District Grand Secretary; E. Wheeler, M.D., and Drummond Hay, D.G. Deacons; C. A. McVean, D.G. Superintendent of Works; J. R. Black, D.G. Director of Ceremonies; G. Heimann, D.G. Organist; T. Wallace, D.G. Pursuivant; Bro. Sands of the Rising Sun Lodge, Kobe, and A. Weiller of the Nippon Lodge, Tokio, were elected Vice-Presidents of the District Board of General Purposes. The Grand Stewards have yet to be appointed.

The passing of the Bye-laws, and a vote of thanks to Bros. Bourne and Crane for their services having been carried, the lodge was closed in due and ancient form. Between forty and fifty brethren sat down to a cold collation, furnished by Bro. W. Curtis, of the Japan Hotel.

The R.W.D.G.M., called upon the brethren to charge their glasses and do honour to the first toast of the evening, "The Queen and the Craft." When they coupled the toasts, "The Queen and the Craft," they drank to her honour as a great and good woman, and in so doing did honour to the Craft to which they belonged.

Received enthusiastically. Air—"God save the Queen," followed by three cheers.

R. W. Bro. Dallas said the next toast he had to propose had quite changed its character within the last few years. Then it was purely a loyal toast; now, he was happy to say, it had a significance which give it additional interest to all Masons. He would call upon them to drink the health of "the Prince of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family." Some years ago the Prince of Wales received from the hands of the King of Sweden the secrets of a Master Mason, and since that time he had been a most efficient and indefatigable worker in the cause of Masonry. He had persevered in his efforts to qualify himself for the highest offices of the Craft, and at this time occupied the position of W.M. of a Craft lodge. A short time ago, he had had the opportunity of examining a statement which had been drawn up, showing the large number of members of the House of Lords, and their sons, belonging to the Craft, and that about 300 members of the House of Commons were enrolled. At no time had Freemasonry held such a position. He hoped that every one present would be an active working Mason, and emulate the example of the brother whose health they were about to drink, in their endeavours to qualify themselves for office, in the respective lodges to which they belonged. Prince Arthur and Prince Leopold were also Masons. There were three leading members of the Royal Family connected with the Craft, and that fact changed the toast from a loyal to a Masonic one. He would therefore call upon all Masons, of whatever nationality, to join with him in drinking the health of the "Prince of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family."

The toast was duly honoured. Song—Bro. Black, "The Prince's Day."

Bro. Piltz, Concordia Lodge, Alton, said, after the toast which had just been received, so very appropriately, he would propose the "Health of the Emperor and Empress of Germany." The Emperor of Germany was the Past Grand Master of all the lodges in Germany, and the Crown Prince was the Present Grand Master. The members of the Craft out here should embrace the members of all nationalities, and unite with them in promoting the good of Masonry.

The R.W.D.G.M. then called upon the brethren to drink the "Health of their Grand Master, the Marquis of Ripon."

Received with the honours.

The next toast the R.W.D.G.M. had to propose was the "United Grand Lodge of England and Wales," including that of the D.G. Lodge of China, coupled with the name of Bro. J. Hodgkins, of Hongkong.

Bro. J. Hodgkins said, the opportunity of addressing the brethren among whom he found himself was most unexpected. It had been his good fortune to be present at the proceedings in the earlier part of the day, and he had witnessed with much pleasure the seed of the Japan Grand Lodge sown, and he trusted the tree and its branches would flourish. He thanked R. W. Bro. Dallas for the kindly remarks concerning himself, and the honour conferred upon him by having his name coupled with such a toast.

The R.W.D.G.M. said, the next toast was one expected to be drunk by English Masons—"The other Grand Lodges of the Universe," coupled with the "Healts of Bro. Heimann, Deputy Master of the Kobe Lodge, working under the Scotch constitution, and Bro. Piltz of the German Grand Lodge."

Bro. C. Heimann, of Kobe Lodge, returned thanks; Bro. Piltz returned thanks on behalf of Germany.

Bro. P.M., J. R. Black said, the next toast would come as a cordial to all hearts. The toast was that of his old friend and brother, the "R.W.D.G.M.," Bro. Dallas. They were largely indebted to Bro. Dallas, whom he might call the father of Freemasonry as now existent in Yokohama. He agreed with the brother from Hongkong as to the use of the black-ball, but he would wish them to bear in mind what Bro. Dallas had said—"use the black-ball, but use it as Masons." He would call upon them to drink the "Health of the R.W.D.G.M., Bro. Chas. H. Dallas," with three times three.

The R.W.D.G.M. rose to return thanks. The few moments he should keep them would hardly be enough to enable him to express all he would like to say. Bro. Black's speech had aroused many old and pleasant memories. He thanked them very much for the kind manner in which they had drunk his health. He would ask every Entered Apprentice to remember that he, as an individual, could do much to make or mar the fortunes of Freemasonry in the land. He, himself, could not do it, his officers could not do it. They all, as Masons, could do it. Without sitting down, he would ask them to honour a toast—one, to himself, of very great self-congratulation—the "D.G. Officers of Japan." He felt sure that all would unite with cordiality in drinking the health of "the District Grand Officers."

Received with cheers.

Bro. W. Bourne, W.D.D.G.M., returned thanks. He would not trespass upon their patience, but leave the subject in abler hands.

Bro. A. Mitchell, W.G.J.W., said, "Them's my sentiments." On the night he was made a Mason, he determined that he would never halt or falter in his progress through Masonry until he had attained to the highest degree he could reach. He thanked them heartily for the manner in which the toast had been received.

The R.W.D.G.M. said, he was about to propose—"The Four W.M.'s and Officers of the Lodges under the jurisdiction of the District Grand Lodge of Japan."—Bros. Geoghegan, Yokohama Lodge; Crane, O'Tentosama Lodge; Weiller, Nippon Lodge, Yedo; and Sands, Rising Sun Lodge, Kobe; and their respective officers.

E. J. Geoghegan, W.M., replied in the name of all the lodges, and particularly of Yokohama Lodge.

W. A. Crane, W.M., joined in the sentiments expressed by W. M. Geoghegan.

Bro. J. H. Boulet, on behalf of Nippon Lodge, (in the absence of the W.M., Bro. Weiller) said they would do all they could to assist the District Grand Lodge.

Bro. J. Drummond-Hay spoke on behalf of Kobe Lodge.

Bro. Mitchell called upon all present to drink the "Health of the Visitors," coupled with the names of W. P. M., F. A. Thiel.

P. M. Thiel replied in suitable terms.

Bro. C. Heimann performed an excellent selection of music on the pianoforte, and Bro. Black sang a Scotch melody.

Bro. J. H. Boulet proposed the "Health of the Ladies;" which he did in a pithy and humorous speech.

Glee—"Here's a health to all good lasses."

Bro. J. Hodgkins, of Hongkong, responded. He hoped to see a Masonic ball in Yokohama; a thing, he believed, as yet unheard-of. After referring to the great success of the last held in Hongkong, in January last, at which 108 ladies were present, he proposed, as a parting toast—it being Saturday night—"Sweethearts and wives."

Received with enthusiasm.

The R.W.D.G.M. gave the "Tyler's Toast," which was honoured in the accustomed manner.

The proceedings were brought to a close "in love, peace, and harmony," by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," in which the whole of the company joined.

THE COMPLETION OF ST. PAUL'S

The Executive Committee of the St. Paul Completion Fund met on Friday for the purpose of considering the recommendations of the Dean and Chapter with reference to Mr. Burges' designs for the decoration of the Cathedral. The following gentlemen were present:—The Dean of St. Paul's (in the chair), Canon Gregory, Mr. Beresford Hope, M.P.; Sir Gilbert Scott, R. A.; Mr. Cazenove; Mr. Butterworth; Rev. W. Webb; Mr. Gambier Parry; Mr. Walter M.P.; Mr. John Murray; Mr. James Fergusson, F.R.S.; Mr. G. Cavendish Bentinck, M.P.; Mr. Oldfield; Mr. W. Longman; Mr. W. C. Shos (secretary). The Dean of St. Paul's read the resolutions adopted by the Chapter, which were as follows:—"That though the Dean and Chapter have given a general approval to the design submitted by Mr. Burges, they think that considering the divided state of opinion in the executive committee, and also in their own body, it is desirable to suspend for the present any attempt to proceed with the decoration of the Cathedral. They recommend that steps should be taken for rescinding the agreement with Messrs. Burges and Penrose, which has been found to be highly inconvenient in its working. They hoped that the committee, in dealing with Mr. Burges, would treat him with the liberality to which in their judgment his professional eminence and his services alike entitle him. That, subject to the expression of an adverse opinion in the executive committee, the Dean and Chapter deem it advisable to withdraw the permission given by them on the 21st of July, that temporary experiments should be made on the walls of the apse of the Cathedral with a view to illustrate the effect of Mr. Burges's plan. That these resolutions be communicated by the Dean to the executive committee." Mr. Beresford Hope, M.P., rising to propose a motion, said that no one could wish St. Paul's to be completed according to any plan which did not commend itself to the people, but he considered that the agreement entered into with Mr. Burges should not be "rescinded," but postponed, course which Mr. Burges, who had believed throughout in a most handsome and gentleman-like way, was ready to accept. In the cause of peace, goodwill, and a future satisfactory completion of St. Paul's, Mr. Beresford Hope proposed the following resolution:

1. That this committee, in compliance with the resolution passed by the Chapter of St. Paul's on the 3rd of November, agree to suspend for the present the work of the decoration of St. Paul's; 2, that this committee will not proceed with the experimental painting of the apse; 3, that this committee is of opinion that the rescinding or revising the agreement with Mr. Burges should also, for the present, be postponed." Mr. Wm. Longman, in seconding Mr. Beresford Hope's resolution, spoke against the termination of engagement made with Mr. Burges. He said that at all events, for postponing for six months so the consideration of the rescinding or cancelling the agreement. Mr. Walter, in wishing the agreement cancelled, while Sir Gilbert Scott, expressed his intention to vote for Mr. Beresford Hope's motion. Mr. Cavendish Bentinck moved that steps should be taken with a view to cancel the agreement, and this was seconded by Canon Gregory, although for his own part he approved Mr. Burges's designs, felt, however, that under the circumstances would be best to begin de novo. The following resolution was proposed by the Dean and seconded by Canon Gregory, and was carried by a majority of nine to four:—"The committee agree to comply with the recommendation of the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's that steps should be taken for rescinding the agreement with Messrs. Burges and Penrose which has been found to be highly inconvenient in its working." It was then proposed by the Dean, seconded by Mr. Longman, and carried unanimously, that "the question of Mr. Burges's remuneration for work hitherto done be referred to the Finance Committee."

Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

His Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES, the M.W. Grand Master of England; SIR MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

Vol. 7, No. 301.]

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE 2d.

Provincial Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of North Wales and Shropshire.

A MASONIC BALL

WILL BE HELD, UNDER THE PATRONAGE OF

SIR W. W. WYNN, BART., M.P.,
R. W. Prov. Grand Master.

J. R. ORMSBY GORE, Esq., M.P.,
R. W. D. Prov. G.M.

G. WINGFIELD, Esq., THE R.W. THE MAYOR OF SHREWSBURY,
V.W. Prov. S.G.W.

J. P. WHITE, Esq., P.M. 117, 262,
V.W. Prov. G. Treas.

AND THE

W. AND W. PROV. GRAND OFFICERS,

AT

THE MUSIC HALL, SHREWSBURY,

IN AID OF THE

LOCAL AND MASONIC CHARITIES.

On Wednesday December 16th, 1874.

Dancing to commence at Ten o'clock.

The Brethren are requested to appear in Full Masonic Costume.

Tickets (including Supper and Wine) to admit a Lady and Gentleman, 31s. 6d.; Gentleman (single) 21s.; Lady (single) 15s.; can be obtained of the undermentioned Stewards:—

- Mr. J. B. Boucher, Shrewsbury, W.M. 117, P.G. Orgt.
- Mr. J. B. Bagnall, Shrewsbury, S.W. 117.
- Mr. E. Bunny, Shrewsbury, J.W. 117.
- Mr. S. B. Darwin, Shrewsbury, 117.
- Mr. Horatio M. Jones, Shrewsbury, P.M. 117.
- Mr. Rowland Millington, Wellington, P.M. 601, P.P.G.S.B.
- Mr. W. W. Naunton, Shrewsbury, Sec. 117.
- Mr. W. Patchett, Shrewsbury, P.M. 117, 262, P.P.G.S.D.
- Mr. E. Cresswell Peele, Shrewsbury, S.W. 262.
- Mr. W. Spraggon, Shrewsbury, S.D. 117.
- Mr. W. H. Spaul, Oswestry, P.M. 1124, P.G. Sec.
- Mr. E. Wood, Shrewsbury, P.M. 1124, P.G.S., or Bro. E. H. HANKEY, Shrewsbury, P.M. 117, P.G. Reg., Hon. Sec.

The Band of the 1st Life Guards is engaged for the occasion.
Early application for Tickets is necessary.

MONEY, TIME AND LIFE

ARE LOST IN THE EVENT OF

ACCIDENTAL INJURY OR DEATH.

Provide against these losses by a Policy of the allway Passengers' Assurance Company AGAINST ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS. oldest and largest ACCIDENTAL ASSURANCE COMPANY
Hon. A. KINNAIRD, M.P., Chairman.

Paid-up Capital & Reserve Fund £140,000
ANNUAL INCOME, £160,000.

£10,000 have been paid as Compensation.
Bonus allowed to Insurers of Five Years' standing.
Apply to the Clerks at the Railway Stations, the Local Agents, CORNHILL, and 10, REGENT STREET, LONDON
WILLIAM J. VIAN, Secretary.

CAVENDISH CLUB

307, REGENT-STREET, W.

Established 1855. Under New Management and Proprietorship since January 1, 1874.

The Committee of this Club, finding they have further accommodation, have decided on ADMITTING ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS WITHOUT AN ENTRANCE FEE. The Club is admirably situated in the centre of the West-end, and the arrangements complete in every respect. The Club being proprietary, members incur no liability beyond their subscription. The Committee have the management of the Club, and the election of the members by ballot.

COMMITTEE.

Chairman—JOHN A. MAGEE, Esq.
Sir Gilbert Campbell, Bart. Lieut.-Col. Peters.
C. B. Elliott, Esq. Charles Sempie, Esq.
Major Collinson Hall. E. G. Stone, Esq.
J. Evans Kershaw, Esq. E. E. Witt, Esq.

Annual Subscription:

Town members £5 5 0
Country members 3 3 0
Applications for membership to be made to J. Falmer, Esq., Secretary.

MASONIC

ASSURANCE OFFICE,

9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.

ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London

ACCIDENT INSURANCE

ASSOCIATION.

ESTABLISHED 1856.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.

For Insuring against

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

With

Compensation for Personal Injury,
Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.

LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.

Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.

London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

BRITISH EQUITABLE

ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
New Annual Income, £12,236.
192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
Laid by in year, £44,087.
In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
Annual Premium Income, £1,049,976.
Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £355,924 on 1,584 Policies.
Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES AND SON have as usual made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.

A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.

Prices based on ready-money system.

All goods marked in plain figures.

Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.

List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-Court-road,
And Bradford, Yorkshire.

MOURNING.

E. MOSES and SON have always on hand a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
LONDON.

Minorities and Aldgate,
New Oxford-street,
Tottenham-court-road,
and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.

Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
48, Threadneedle-street, and 179, Piccadilly.
Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

COATS OF ARMS, CRESTS, AND MONOGRAMS FOUND.
SEALS, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE PAPER DIES,
ENGRAVING OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
Bro. JAS. B. SLY, 9, RATHBONE PLACE, W., LONDON.
Four Arms, Crest and Motto Found and Drawn for 4s. 6d.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.
Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.

Published by

STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,
Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS
London.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY
(Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
C. HARDING, Manager.

DIETZ & CO., LONDON, PARAGON LAMPS.
BURNING PETROLEUM OR PARAFFIN.

Unrivalled for SIMPLICITY, ECONOMY,

DURABILITY, SAFETY, and BRILLIANCY.

OVER 5000
Table Lamps, Chandellers,
Billiard Lamps,
From the Cheapest for the Million fitted with
PARAGON
Giving the most Brilliant Light
ONE FARTHING
Sold by the principal Ironmongers

PATTERNS OF
Hall Lamps, Brackets,
Ship Lamps &c.
to the most exquisite Drawing Room Lamp,
our famous
BURNERS. of 25 Candles at a cost of
PER HOUR,
and Lamp Dealers in Great Britain

Our HURRICANE LANTERNS are absolutely windproof and safe; simple in construction, and give a splendid white and steady light. They are the most servicable Lanterns for use in Stables, Farms, Gardens, Cellars, Factories, Ships, &c.

THE CLIMAX COOKING AND HEATING STOVES, in six sizes, will be found extremely useful in every Household, being always ready for use, and saving time and money, coals, trouble of lighting fire dust, and refuse.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

TRADE MARK,—"BLOOD MIXTURE."

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER.
For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, can be too highly recommended.
For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure.

- It Cures old Sores.
- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
- Cures Ulcerated Sore Legs.
- Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
- Cures Scurvy Sores.
- Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
- Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
- Cures Glandular Swellings.
- Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, from whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of Testimonials from all parts.

Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 27 or 132 stamps by

F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln.
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

Opium, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increase the natural debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern medicine points to CROSBY'S BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough.

* Invaluable should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had Gratis of all Chemists.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,
ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.

This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible article for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children." It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates. In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.) Cocoatina à la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

CAUTION.
GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN.

81, CITY ROAD, FINSHURY SQUARE, I AND 24, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNBAM ROAD opposite the Finshury Schools, E.C., near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.

No connection with any other establishment of the same name. Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS
Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the

MANUFACTURER,
Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.
Price of a Single Truss, 10s., 21s., 20s. 6d., and 31s. 6d. Postage free of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free.
Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office Piccadilly, NEW PATENT

ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.
The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

CHEST EXPANDING BRACES,
(For both sexes).
For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces. For children they are invaluable, they prevent stooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest.
Prices, for children, 5s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s. 6d., 15s. 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free.
And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.
JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

YOUNG'S ARNICA
CORN AND JUNION PLASTER are the best ever invented for giving immediate ease, and removing those painful excrescences. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them.
Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for YOUNG'S.

FREDERICK ADLAR
MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.,
Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher (Rg.)
Bro. Adlar's famed Jewel Attacher from its simplicity and convenience only to be known universally. The price places it within the reach of all—Masonic Magazines. We have many more in receipt from Bro. Adlar for its use and use.—The Freemasons' Friend. Colours worthy attention.

No. 225, HIGH HOLBORN,
Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE
THE "WORCESTERSHIRE"
Pronounced by Commissioners "THE SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavor.
ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS
Beware of imitations to avoid which see the name LEA & PERRINS on all bottles and labels.
Agents—Crosby & Co., Scarborough, and by all Dealers in Sauce throughout the Kingdom.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 Masonry 799
 Action 800
 and 801
 Arch 802
 Cross of Constantine 802
 Masonic Institution for Girls 803
 Grand Lodge of Leicester and Rutland 803
 Masonic Benevolent Institution 803
 Y 803
 Use of the Masonic Press 804
 Top a Freemason? 804
 Lodge 804
 PONDENCE:—
 Order of the Temple 805
 Jurisprudence 805
 Breches Bible 805
 Bibliography 806
 Gossip Conversazione at Ipswich 806
 Hall at Derby 807
 Tidings 807
 Masonic Hall 807
 Concert in Liverpool 807
 Masonic Institution for Boys 808
 ements 797 798 804 808 809 810 811 812

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS

Craft Masonry.

EGYPTIAN LODGE (No. 27).—The election of this old lodge was held on the 3rd of Anderton's Hotel. Bro. Charles Atkins, presided, and besides having a full lodge members, was supported by most of his Past Masters Poole, Harrison, Buss, Buss, C. B. Payne, Hoare, Libbis and Shep-Bros. Mountstephen, Grammer and were passed to the second degree, and Topp and Walbrook, were initiated. Time arriving for the election of the year of the ensuing year, Bro. Lamble, S.W., was chosen for that office. Bro. H. G. Buss, was unanimously elected Treasurer, great cheering, and Bro. Potter was T. Bro. Buss was presented with a gold P.M. jewel, with which he was elected by the W.M., for his great services to the lodge as its Master in 1850, and for twenty years as its Secretary. Bro. Buss having edged the gift with great heartiness, Bro. Buss announced that he was going to stand for the Egyptian Lodge at the next of the Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution, and the lodge voted the sum of £200 on his list. Several members of the lodge already placed their names on it. The lodge were then elected, and a Past Master's office was voted to Bro. C. Atkins, to be present on his leaving the chair of the lodge. The lodge afterwards partook of one of Bro. Buss's capital banquets, which was superintended by Bro. George Smith, and on the return of the cloth, honoured the customary Bro. Buss's name was coupled with the "The Masonic Charities," and in reply an admirably designed brief sketch of the story of each of the Institutions from which they were founded, of what their work was, and showed from figures how large they furnished for the support which was extended to them. Bro. Lamble proposed for "The W.M. elect," and promised his endeavours to maintain the efficiency of the lodge, both by his own working and his assistance to his assistant officers. The evening was ended by some excellent singing, in which Bro. David Jacobs bore a conspicuous Royal Cumberland Lodge (No. 41).—The monthly meeting of this lodge was held at the Public Hall, Bath, on Thursday, December 30 p.m. The chair of W.M. was taken by Bro. Major J. W. Preston, and P.M. by Bro. R. Carey. There were present Bros. J. Clark, S.W.; W. H. W.; T. Wilton, D.C.; Ashley, Treasurer (acting as Secretary); Falkner, Wilkinson (acting as J.D.); Gunnier, I.G.; Broome, Tyler; about 20 members of the lodge, and Bro. Dr. Hopkins, P.P. of Warwickshire, P.M., P.Z., &c., as the lodge having been opened, the circular convening the meeting was read, and also the minutes of the previous meeting, which were confirmed. Bros. Hunt and Merlis were examined as to their proficiency, and then desired to retire for preparation. In their absence, the lodge was opened in the Second Degree. On their admission they were passed to the rank of F.C. by the W.M., at whose request the charge was given by Bro. Dr. Hopkins. The lodge was then closed in the second degree. As the candidates who had been just passed, had not, on their initiation, heard the Lecture on the Tracing Board of the First Degree, the visiting brother was requested to give it, with which he of course complied. On inquiry being made by the W.M. as to any other business to be brought before the lodge, by permission, the visiting brother referred to the last important publication of his friend, Bro. Hughan, entitled, "Memorials of the Masonic Union of A.D. 1813, &c.," the result of which was a resolution that a copy should be purchased for the lodge. Bro. Carey, I.P.M., proposed a gentleman for initiation, and Bro. Dr. Hopkins as a joining member, both to be balloted for at the next meeting. The lodge was closed, in perfect harmony, at 9.30.

LODGE OF JOPPA (No. 188).—The annual meeting of this lodge for the election of W.M. was held on Monday evening at the Albion Tavern, Aldersgate-street, Bro. Obed Roberts, W.M., presiding. The lodge was well attended, and Bros. Hickman, S.W.; A. Dodson, J.W.; L. Anerham, Treasurer; E. P. Albert, P.M., Secretary; L. Lazarus, S.D.; Miller, J.D.; E. P. Van Noorden, Organist; and Bros. Berkowitz, L. Alexander; I. Abrahams, M. Alexander, and H. M. Levy, P.M.'s, were in their places. After the formal business of opening the lodge and reading and confirming the minutes had been performed, Bro. Isaac was passed to the Second Degree. Bros. J. Levi, Botibol, and A. Moore, were raised to the Third Degree. One brother, a member of the Grand Orient, Bro. Hennington, was elected a joining member. There were three candidates for initiation, and two of these, Messrs. E. I. Samuels, and G. Botibol were initiated into the Order by Bro. H. M. Levy, P.M.; by the kind permission of the W.M.; and one, Mr. I. Botibol, by the W.M. himself. When the brethren had elected a W.M. for the ensuing year, their choice was found to have fallen on Bro. Hickman, S.W., who was unanimously elected to fill the chair. Bro. L. Anerham, was re-elected Treasurer of the lodge, and Bro. Woodstock, T. Trustees were afterwards elected for the Benevolent Fund of the Joppa Lodge, and after the names of three candidates for initiation had been given in, the sum of Five Guineas from the lodge funds was voted towards a testimonial to Bro. Roberts, in acknowledgment of his services to the lodge during his year of office, the individual brethren at the same time liberally contributing to the object. A Committee was appointed for the purpose of carrying it out, after which the lodge was closed, and the brethren adjourned to refreshment. Although this was not a banquet, the customary Masonic toasts followed the partaking of it, and in responding for that of the "Benevolent Fund," Bro. L. Alexander, P.M., informed the brethren that Bro. T. Abrahams, P.M., had qualified himself as a V.P., and the newly-initiated had severally contributed to it. After the initiates had responded to the toast proposed in their honour, Bro. L. Alexander gave the toast of "The W.M.," which was received with great enthusiasm. Bro. Roberts acknowledged the compliment, and proposed "The W.M. Elect," who, he informed the brethren, was in every way qualified to perform the duties of the chair. Bro. Hickman replied, in a style which fully confirmed the wisdom of the brethren's choice. Bros. Swallow, W.M. 382, and Scott, responded for the visitors, and Bro. I. Abrahams for the P.M.'s. The Wardens, Treasurer, and Secretary were also remembered, and the W.M. then said he had a toast perhaps a little out of the ordinary routine to give, but he should nevertheless give it. That toast was "The Health of Bro. Jennings," who, as manager of the Albion, had always ably and kindly attended to the creature comforts of the brethren, assisted by Bro. Keeping. Bro. Jennings thanked the W.M. and brethren for their consideration, and the brethren soon after separated.

OXFORD.—Apollo University Lodge (No. 357).—At the regular monthly meeting of this lodge, held on Nov. 24th, the following brethren were present:—Bros. F. P. Morrel, W.M.; Col. the Hon. W. E. Sackville West, S.W.; R. I. Williamson, J.W.; Bird, P.M., Treas.; Pickard, P.M.; Frankland Hood, S.D.; C. J. S. Spedding, J.D.; Leadham, Hunter Blair, Stewards; Butler, I.G. Bros. Eversley, Berrington, Hill, G. Campbell, Bodley, Macnamara, R. H. Collins and others. Bros. Hill, Harter, and Macnamara were passed to the second degree. The following gentlemen were balloted for successfully, and were subsequently duly initiated in Freemasonry by the W.M.:—Messrs. Dunston, Sandeman, Bingley, Harding, G. Harterly, Weatherly and Broadbent. The next business was the election of the W.M. for the ensuing year. The choice of the brethren fell on the Rev. H. Adair Pickard, P. Prov. S.G.W., who has twice before filled the chair of the Apollo Lodge. Bro. Bird, P.M., was re-elected to the office of Treasurer. After a vote of £10 each to the Benevolent Institution and the Girls' School had been passed, on the motion of the Treasurer, the lodge was closed in ancient form. A meeting of this lodge was held for the purpose of instruction on Friday, Nov. 27th. The following brethren filled the various offices:—Bros. H. S. Butler, W.M.; H. Adair Pickard, I.P.M.; Gordon Campbell, S.W.; J. E. C. Bodley, J.W.; Paget, Sec.; R. C. E. Cust, S.D.; W. P. Eversley, J.D.; Glencross, I.G. The ceremony of initiation was ably worked by the W.M., and at its conclusion the lodge was opened and closed in the higher degrees. Bro. G. Campbell was appointed W.M. for the next meeting and chose as his officers: Bros. Bodley, S.W.; Paget, J.W.; Eversley, S.D.; Glencross, J.D.; Cust, I.G. The lodge was then closed in due form. An emergency meeting of the lodges was held on Dec. 1st. for raisings only. The following officers were present:—Bros. F. Parker Morrell, W.M.; R. I. Williamson, S.W.; W. P. Eversley, J.W.; H. G. Barron, S.D.; I. S. Leadham, S.D.; H. S. Butler, I.G. Eleven brethren having duly answered the questions in the second degree were raised to the sublime degree of a M.M. The ceremony was a most impressive one, and a sight was afforded to the brethren which is rarely seen in any lodge, of eleven candidates being raised on the same evening. The names of the candidates were Bros. Allenby, Berrington, Barker, Combe, Elcum, Hedges, Knollys, Meredith, Rust, Treffry, and Vane. After two gentlemen had been proposed for initiation, the lodge was closed in due form.

SPHINX LODGE (No. 1329).—On Saturday, November 21st, the usual anniversary and installation meeting of the Sphinx Lodge was held at the Bridge House Hotel, London Bridge, when Bro. J. H. Vockins, one of the founders, was installed as Master. These anniversary meetings have always been highly prized by the brethren, and on this occasion nearly forty, exclusive of visitors, sat down to the banquet. This satisfaction, indeed, seems sometimes to have been too highly prized, for during the past incumbency curious discussions arose whether, according to a debated bye-law, they were not compelled to hold two anniversary meetings in the course of a year. Now some time since the Sphinx having migrated from her old castle haunts at Camberwell, has been so well groomed and cared for in her new quarters, that, growing fat and sleek like a civilized animal, was thought to be quite reclaimed. Still, as is maintained by philosophers, old habits stick fast, and what is bred in the bone there remains, so in consequence of this old sybilline (bye)-law, she fell back to ancient habit and propounded a new riddle.

"How shall I twice a day on earth
Have a festal day of mirth?"

Far and wide did the poor animal roam, posing the passers-by with her conundrum, a greater part of whom wisely declined the dilemma. At last she met her pre-destined Iacosta, who replied—

"When twice a year comes April day, Without doubt thou'lt have thy way!"

The poor animal, horrified at having her riddle so quaintly unriddled fell, after the manner of Sphinxes, into a phrensy, and it was even feared London Bridge might be the scene of another Springian catastrophe. Brethren differed as to the seat of the malady and its treatment, and Sphinxlike riddled again.

"O tell me where is phrensy bred,
When begot, and nourished,
Or in the heart, or in the head."

Never since the time of the Big Endians and the Little Endians was there such a divergence. No Iacosta now appeared, and all councils broke up leaving the poor Sphinx gasping.
(Exeunt dan santes omnes).

Scene, an old castle on the weald of Cawter; shepherds and Shepherdesses in the distance.

A doctor, celebrated in such cases, was then called in, under whose very soothing drafts and healing words she soon threw off her malady, and trotted forth whole and sound. The talented restorer was Dr. the W. Grand Secretary, and he honoured the lodge on this occasion by his presence, being also a honorary member, to assure himself of her happy recovery. The evening had commenced by the installation of Bro. J. Hadland Vockins as W.M., the ceremony having been impressively performed by Bro. Bedolfe, the retiring incumbent. On assuming his position Bro. Vockins proceeded to initiate three gentlemen, Messrs. T. C. Reynolds, Marden, and Gwimple, the former a Lewis, being son of the respected Treasurer. The brethren then adjourned to the dining-room, which was very pleasingly decorated in festal style, and where the banquet was served à la Russe, the excellency and variety of the viands and the quality of the wines reflecting great credit on the worthy host and Bro. Spencer. The W.M. was supported on his right by the W. Bro. Hervey, G. Sec., and the visitors, amongst whom Bros. Wells, Wingham, Hyde, Larham, Green, Oliver, &c. On the left the P.M.'s of the lodge, Bros. Bedolfe, Clark, and Nairne, &c. In face were the newly appointed officers, Bro. Sugden, and Abbott-Dunbar; Treas. and Sec., Reynolds and Andrews; Junior officers, Bros. Lyon, Bryant, Martin, Ricks, Mansell, Barsdorf, &c. On the cloth being removed, the usual toasts were drunk, the Prince of Wales being highly prized. The W. Bro. Hervey responded for the Grand Officers, and in one of those neat and kindly speeches which at all times characterise him, and stated the pleasure he felt in again visiting a lodge which, when in an infant state, he assisted to consecrate, but now developed into the numerous and influential association he now saw. The health of Bro. Vockins, W.M. was then proposed, who, in return, expressed his thanks for the high position he that day held, and the honourable "assistance" by which he was surrounded, and called upon those around him to assist earnestly in the endeavour, by liberal donations on this festive occasion, to alleviate the trials of the orphan and widow. A liberal collection was then made. On the health of the I.M.P. being drunk, a renunciation of the Big-and-little-Indian dispute was publicly made—

"As if to show with how small pain
Masonic sores are healed again;
Although by woeful truth we find
They often leave a scar behind."

The "Health of the Visitors" was responded to by Bros. Wells and Wingham. Bros. Clark and Nairne also responded suitably to the manner in which the lodge expressed its satisfaction at the services of those brothers. Harmony prevailed, songs were sung, and merrily passed the hour. The Sphinx again took to her old work of riddling, when the motto of the lodge, "What is Man?" being propounded, Bro. Barsdorf produced the following:—

WHAT IS MAN?

Meus ignis, tubulus corpus, mihi atque,
fumus,

Herba panis, clavus fata, suprema cinis.
"Though at my simile many may joke,
Man is but a pipe; this life but smoke."
Of lordly man how humbling is the type—
A fleeting shadow—a tobacco-pipe!
His mind the fire, his frame the tube of clay;
His breath the smoke, so idly puffed away.

His food the herb that fills the hollow bowl;
Death is the stopper—ashes end the whole.
Another and another passed, when a brother from the East produced an inscription supposed to have been "marked" on the foundation-stone of King Solomon's temple—

"Is ab illo æs ago
Fortibus in aro."

All tried, but failed; even the School Board gave in, when the same expert, Bro. Barsdorf, sent in this atrocity:—

"I say, Bill O'er's a go!—
Forty boys in a ro!"

The lodge was convulsed, and was only prevented from executing summary justice by the fear of preventing the immediate recognition of the "Mark" by the Grand Lodge. Thus happily passed the evening; and when at length the Tyler's toast reminded the good brethren of the claims of their domestic hearths, they retired (save a few who remained to toast one saint more), conscious of having enjoyed, under happy circumstances, that pleasure which disinterested friendship can alone afford.

MARQUIS OF RIPON LODGE (No. 1489).—
A meeting of this new lodge, which has made great progress since its establishment six months ago, was held yesterday week, in the hall of the Metropolitan Societies' Asylum, Balls Pond-road. There was a capital attendance of officers and lay members, who were presided over by Bro. W. Stephens, W.M. Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., was P.M., and there were the following visitors present:—Bros. Fredk. Smith, P.M. 177; Miles, P.M. 1365; Watkinson, 813; Cohu, 192; Kew, P.M. 179; Eredk. Dalton, 1364; Poulton, 192; Lee, 975; Parkhouse, 1364; W. D. Badkin, 1445; Stiles, 1507; Thompson, 160; Massey, (Freemason) P.M. 619. The work of the evening consisted of raising Bros. S. J. Parker and W. Gray, passing Bro. F. A. Hawthorn, and initiating Messrs. Fredericks and Mayers. The brethren were informed by Bro. James Brett, that the Whittington Lodge (No. 862) had presented the collar jewels to the Marquis of Ripon Lodge, wishing then a long career of prosperity. Upon the motion of the W.M., a vote of thanks was passed and ordered to be recorded on the minutes, and forwarded to the Whittington Lodge for the handsome present. The W.M. proposed, and Bro. Miller, P.M., Organist, seconded the gift of one guinea as a Christmas box to the attendants at the asylum where the lodge met. This was carried unanimously, and Bro. Starkey, of Lodge No. 132, Scotch Constitution, was elected a joining member. There being no further business before the lodge, the brethren closed down, and took the train to London, where they banqueted at Bro. Hart's refreshment-room, at the Broad-street Terminus. In giving the toasts on the removal of the cloth, the W.M. remarked that since they last met in that room a great change had come over the spirit of their dream. The nobleman whose name was given to this lodge was no longer Grand Master, but they had the Prince of Wales in his stead. Anyone who knew H.R.H. as a Freemason knew full well that this was likely to promote the interests of the Order. The toast of "The Earl of Carnarvon, as Pro-Grand Master, &c.," was next proposed, and the W.M. in giving it, said that within the last two days they had heard from his lordship's lips what he intended to do for Freemasonry. They knew what he had done already, and had every reason to believe that he would continue to act in a similar way. They were also much pleased to hear that Lord Skelmersdale had been appointed Deputy Grand Master, as he had made his mark in Freemasonry both in and out of his province. Bro. James Brett, P.G.P., responded, and repeated the sentiments of the W.M. with respect to the Pro-Grand Master and the Deputy Grand Master. The rest of the Grand Officers were all well known to the brethren, and what they had done was one of the household words of Freemasonry. As to the change which had occurred in the Grand Mastership, if the Order had lost one good Mason it had certainly found another, who would do honour to the Craft, and he thought that, with such men as the Prince of Wales Lord Carnarvon, and Lord Skelmersdale if they were not capable of carrying on the business of Freemasonry now they would not have an opportunity of doing so. Bro. Brett afterwards proposed "The W.M., and refer to the great advance the lodge had made since his Mastership. He spoke of him as an excellent working Mason and an indefatigable brother, not only in this lodge and the Clap Lodge, but as attending the different lodges connected with the administration of the Craft affairs at Freemasons' Hall. At the banquet table also he was an excellent president, and was his pleasure and delight to entertain guests. The W.M., in reply, thanked Bro. Brett, and assured the brethren that what he had been in the past he would be in the future, and was pleased that anything he had done met with the approbation of the brethren. The toast "The Initiates" followed, and both of the brethren returned thanks. The toast of "Visitors" was acknowledged by Bro. F. Smith, P.M. 862, Bro. Walford, P.M. responded "The Treasurer," and Bro. W. Jones, P.M., P.G.D.C. Norths and Hunts, for "The Secretary. All the officers responded individually to the toast drunk to them, and the W.M. solicited subscriptions to the list he was carrying up for the Steward for the Girls' School, which already amounted to a considerable amount. The W.M. said he had also on his list a large sum, the five names contributing Fifty Guineas, (cheerfully). The brethren shortly after separated, having spent a delightful evening.

INSTRUCTION.

PECKHAM LODGE OF INSTRUCTION (held at the Maismore Arms, Peckham Park-road, on the warrant of the Peckham Lodge), No. 1489, 26th Nov., 1874. Many brethren, both at home and abroad, will read with unfeigned pleasure the agreeable news that the Anniversary Meeting of this Lodge of Instruction was a complete success. With the slightest deviation from the appointed hour, all was ready, and the brethren having satisfactorily discussed various enjoyables provided by the new brethren and the usual loyal and Masonic toasts have been given and duly responded to, the W.M. of the Peckham Lodge, Bro. Watkins (who presided as chairman) rose, and in that urbane manner so peculiarly his own, informed the brethren that since their last meeting, a decided improvement had taken place in the management of the proceedings of the lodge, owing to which, he believed, might be attributed the average increase of attendance. Furthermore, that with all the difficulties the noble charities had not been gotten; in fact, brethren, it is with feelings of gratification I announce to you that the sum of fifty guineas has been subscribed during the past year. (Loud Applause.) The Venerable then addressed himself to the Preceptor of the Lodge, P.M. Rose, Mount Lebanon, No. 73, brethren have much to thank you for. For your kind generous services, this lodge may feel, have received a severe check. The brethren appreciating the ability you have shown steering our barque through the shoals of adversity, and as it were, guiding us into this port of success, have desired me to present to this gold chain, as a slight token of their esteem and fraternal regard. Bro. Rose, who was visibly affected, said: W.M. and brethren token of esteem and recognition of my services as Preceptor of this lodge is highly gratifying to me, not so much for the beauty of the chain and glittering metal presented; it proves to me a doubt that I have been successful in securing the affections of the brethren of this lodge out which, it would be nearly impossible to part that knowledge of our beautiful ceremony which is so essentially requisite for those who aspire to the honour of the chair. W.M. brethren: I thank you much for your kindness and with a striving humbleness of mind that the G.A.O.T.U. will long continue to me health and strength to promulgate the tenets of our noble Order in this City of Instruction. Some good Masonic recitations added to the harmony of the brethren who sang being accompanied by the pianoforte by Bro. Pritchard.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.

LODGE GLASGOW KILWINNING (No. 4).—The members of this lodge met on Wednesday inst., in their Hall, at 170, Buchanan-street, R.W.M., Bro. A. B. Thorburn, presided, amongst visiting brethren were Bro. J. B. Mcnair, R.W.M. Lodge Union, 332; and Bro. John Wallace, R.W.M. Lodge Athole, 413. The business of the evening was the election and installation of office-bearers, the following being appointed for the ensuing year:—R.W.M. B. Thorburn; D.M., R. B. Prout; S.M. G. Jamieson; S.W., W. S. Henderson; V., George Holms; Treasurer, J. D. Dixon; Secretary, John Currie; P.G.S., Johnstone; J., J. Mills; J.D., J. Carmichael; S.S., W. Lock; J.S., J. Bowring; Chaplain, C. Smith; Architect, J. B. Orr; M. of C., W. Grossett; Weller, W. Gourlay; B.B., A. Rowan; I.G., in Barclay; S.B., Henry Forsyth.

LODGE ST. MUNGO (No. 27) met in St. Mark's Hall, 213, Buchanan-street, on Thursday night, 3rd inst. The R.W.M., Bro. Dugald Miller, presided, and the lodge being opened on E.A. degree, three candidates, duly vouched were initiated into the mysteries of that degree by Bro. Alex. Bain, P.M. Lodge Union Crown, 103. There was no other business at the meeting, which was accordingly closed in due and ancient form.

LODGE CALLEDONIAN RAILWAY (No. 354).—The usual bi-monthly meeting of this lodge, in St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan-street, on the 4th inst., there was a large attendance of members and visiting brethren; the business being the installation of the office-bearers elected for the ensuing year. The R.W.M., Bro. James W. A. Arrick Smith, P.M.; D. Buchanan, I.; Wm. H. Caldwell, S.M.; A. McTaggart, P.G. Sec.; John Fraser, P.M. 87; A. B. 103; and John Wallace, R.W.M. 413. The lodge having been opened on the E.A. degree, the ceremonies during installation were conducted with the work being performed in an impressive manner by Bro. McTaggart, assisted by Bro. Fraser. The following is the list of office-bearers as re-arranged:—James Shaw, P.M.; D. Buchanan, D.M.; W. H. Caldwell, S.M.; John Stafford, S.W.; A. B. Ferguson, J.W.; A. Carmichael, Treas.; William R. O. Sec.; Jno. Harley, S.D.; D. Leitch, S.D.; Colin McKenzie, Jeweller; Jas. Houston, D.D.; Colin More, D. of C.; Jas. Douglas, Secretary; John Dorman, Chief Steward; Robert Wat, I.G.; John Burton Hardie, O.G. At the conclusion of the installation, the R.W.M. expressed the gratification it gave him to see again elected to that position, which he esteemed very highly, and thanked Bro. McTaggart and Fraser very highly for coming forward and giving their valuable support and assistance that evening. Bro. McTaggart, on behalf of both, briefly addressed the brethren, nothing gave him greater pleasure than to be at the post of duty when he was wanted, and if he could be of any service they had only to call upon him and he would be ready (applause). Thereafter, the lodge adjourned to refreshment, when "Proposed Lodge 354" was proposed by Bro. Bain, which was expressed himself much pleased with what he had seen of the appearance and working of the lodge that night. The R.W.M., in replying, said that he took credit to himself for the fact of having his past twelve months of office duty had not been a single matter of disagreement in the lodge, while any little shortcomings he might have exhibited, he would do most to put right in the future. He felt that he should be supported in the work of office-bearers that night installed, and that they would go on harmoniously. They held a name, a foremost position in the province, they ought to make it their study to keep it (applause). Amongst the remaining toasts "Visiting Brethren," coupled with the name of Bro. McLellan, of Lodge St. George, Edinburgh (503), who replied; "The Musical Present," acknowledged by Bro. John &c. We have but to add that the proceedings at refreshment were much enlivened by the excellent singing of Bros. Good, James Houston, and James Perston.

LODGE COMMERCIAL (No. 360).—The regular meeting of this most prosperous lodge was held on Friday, 4th inst., Bro. John Monro, R.W.M., in the chair, supported by Bros. J. Brodè, P.M.; D. Lamb, D.M.; J. M. Olliver, S.W.; Jas. Craig, J.W. The lodge was opened, and the minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. The Treasurer, Bro. Wm. Finlay, rose, and said it gave him much pleasure to be able to inform the brethren that Lodge Commercial was in a most flourishing financial position; that, after paying for the fitting up of their new lodge-room in the most comfortable and Masonic style, there was still a good round sum in hand. Several matters were discussed in connection with the lodge and Freemasonry in general, and propositions made, which were held over until next meeting. The office of Substitute Master being vacant, it was proposed by Bro. J. Brodè, P.M., and seconded by Bro. D. Lamb, D.M., that Bro. J. E. Spiers be appointed to this office, which was duly carried. There being no further business, the lodge was closed in due and ancient form.

LODGE CLYDE (No. 408).—The annual election and installation of office-bearers in this lodge took place on Friday evening, 4th inst., in the hall at 170, Buchanan-street. Bro. Duncan Downie, the retiring W.M., occupied the chair at the opening of the proceedings, in the E. A. degree, and two candidates duly approved, received that degree at his hands. The election of office-bearers was then proceeded with, at the close of which Bro. William Harper was with due form installed as R.W.M. by Bro. Thos. Halkett, P.G.S.D., assisted by Bros. A. Bain, P.M. 103; J. B. Macnair, R.W.M. 332; and J. Downie, P.M. 401. Bro. Halkett having delivered a very excellent charge to the new R.W.M., and the latter having suitably replied, the other office-bearers were then duly installed, as follows:—J. S. Black, S.M.; J. McInnes, S.W.; Wm. Bilsland, J.W.; R. Bowie, Sec.; J. Stewart, Treas.; R. W. Merriam, S.D.; W. S. Williamson, J.D.; A. Strathern, Chaplain; D. S. Mitchell, P.G.S.; J. McCall, S.S.; H. Kelly, J.S.; J. Harkness, B.B.; J. Archer, S.B.; J. Marton, Jeweller; J. Blackstock, Architect; R. Wallace, I.G.; D. Ramsay, O.G. The lodge having been called from labour to refreshment, the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were duly honoured. That of "The Provincial Grand Lodge of Glasgow," having been coupled with the name of Bro. Halkett, the latter replied. It gave him great pleasure, he said, to acknowledge a toast which not only been so heartily pledged by them that evening, but which was similarly received in every lodge in the province. This showed he thought at least that the Prov. Grand Lodge was giving much satisfaction in the province. It was the oldest P.G.L. in Scotland, he might state, having been erected soon after Grand Lodge of Scotland itself. The speaker then referred to the Benevolent Fund, connected with the P.G.L., by means of which they had been able to do a vast amount of good. During last year they had disbursed in private over £150. At the same time they had been able to invest the sum of £450, and they expected shortly to be able to raise their charity to a position it had never before known. Referring in conclusion to the benefit which had accrued from the annual visitation, by the P.G.L. of the various lodges within the province, Bro. Halkett said he could now affirm that there was not one of the latter which was not now working in truly Masonic manner. Amongst other toasts which followed were "Visiting Brethren," acknowledged by Bros. Bain, 103; and McKirdy, 332; "The Senior and Junior Wardens," by P.M., Bro. Downie, acknowledged by the S.W., &c. Thereafter the lodge was recalled to labour, and closed in due form.

LODGE ST. ANDREW (No. 465).—An unusually large meeting (fully 150 brethren having signed the Tyler's book) of this lodge was held on Thursday, 3rd inst., in their Hall, at 69, Garnagad-road, the business being the election and installation of office-bearers for the ensuing year. The R.W.M., Bro. David Reid, presided, and the brethren appointed to office were duly installed by Bro. William Phillips, R.W.M. Clydesdale (556) as follows.—David Reid, R.W.M.; James Gray, D.M.; James McLeish, S.W.; James Clark, J.W.; Geo. B. Davidson, J.W.; Robert Donaldson, Treasurer; William Campbell, Secretary; Rev. Wm. E. Bradshaw, Chaplain; James Morton, S.P.; Alexander McCallum, J.D.; Joseph Bradburn, Jeweller; Dugald McPherson, Architect; John Anderson, Director of Ceremonies; Robert Charlton, Bible Bearer; Joseph Coldwell, Standard Bearer; Charles McDonald, Sword Bearer; Thomas Turnbull, Director of Music; John McDonald, P.G.S.; Alexander Cleland, S.S.; Andrew Knight, J.S.; Robert Maxwell, I.G. Peter Johnstone, Tyler.

GLASGOW CHAPTER (No. 50)—This now prosperous chapter held an emergency meeting in their Hall, 213 Buchanan-street, on Friday the 4th inst., when the R.A. degrees were conferred on the following brethren, some of whom were about to leave the kingdom: Messrs. David Hay, John McGregor, D.R. McLachlan, and Robt. Barclay Shaw, all members of Lodge St. John, No. 3, and Bro. John Davidson, of the Lodge Athole 413. Bro. John Miller wrought the Mark degree in a very lucid and impressive manner. The Exct. degree was given by Bro. Jas. Duthie, assisted by Bro. J. O. Park. The R.A.C. was opened with Comp. Miller the 1st Principal of the Chapter, as Z. Comp. J. O. Park, (acting) H., and Comp. J. Duthie (acting) J. Comps. Wheeler, Brownlie, and McKenzie, as Sojourners. The work on this degree was performed by Comp. Duthie, Comp. McKenzie assisting as 1st Soj. As soon as the work was done, the S.E. read the minute he had prepared of the meeting; which was confirmed, and the chapter was then closed in ancient form.

CAMPBELTOWN.—The brethren of the Campbeltown St. John's Lodge, No. 14, met on Monday night 30th ult., (Eve of St. Andrew), and elected office-bearers for the ensuing year. Chas. MacTaggart, Esq., banker, was elected R.W.M.; Messrs. Robt. Alexander, P.M.; Robert Jamieson, S.W.; John Wardrope, J.W.; Thos. Cochrane, Treasurer; A. Campbell, Secretary; Wm. Rae, Chaplain; A. Galbraith, S.D.; Arch. Keith, J.D.; John Ralston, Tyler.

INVERARY.—Lodge St. John's (No. 70).—At the annual meeting on Monday, 30th ult., the following office-bearers were appointed:—G. M. Wright, R.W.M.; J. Rose, D.M.; N. Lemon, S.M.; J. Campbell, S.W.; D. Stewart, J.W.; A. M. Ross, Secretary and Treasurer; D. Sutherland, S.S.; Wm. Marchmont, J.S.; A. Guthrie, S.D.; Alex. M'Donald, J.D.; Alex. Guthrie, P.M.; Robert M'Farlane, Chaplain.

DREGHORN.—CONSECRATION OF A NEW LODGE.—The consecration of the St. Matthew (Kilwinning) Dreghorn Lodge, No. 549, and installation of the office-bearers took place at the Crown Hotel, Dreghorn, on Monday, 30th ult. The Provincial Grand Lodge was opened in ancient form by Bro. Colonel Mure, M.P., the R.W.M. of Mother Kilwinning, and Provincial Grand Master of Ayrshire, and in the presence of Bros. R. W. Cochran Patrick, of Woodside, S.P.G.M.; Roger Montgomerie, M.P., P.M. of Mother Kilwinning; W. Ralston Patrick of Trearne, D.M. of Mother Kilwinning; Rev. A. Inglis, Prov. G. Chaplain; Rev. Mr. Sime, Past P.G.C.; R. Wylie, P.G.S.; John Whinton, P.G.T.; John Mackay, R.W.M. of St. John's (Kilwinning), Kilmarnock, Acting P.G.S.W. and W. D. M'Jannet, R.W.M. of Irvine St. Andrew's, Acting Provincial Grand Junior Warden; Hugh Shaw, Past Master of the St. Marnock, Kilmarnock; and A. Turnbull, P.M. of St. Andrew's, Kilmarnock. Deputations were also present from several lodges, numbering in all about five hundred brethren. The new lodge has already a very large membership. The interesting ceremony of consecration was performed by the Provincial Grand Master assisted by the Provincial Grand Chaplain, and other provincial office-bearers—the choir, during the solemn services, singing several pieces of sacred music, and accompanied by the harmonium. The presentation of Bro. J. Nisbet, R.W.M. of the Lodge St. Matthew (Kilwinning), Dreghorn, for the benefit of installation, was made by Bro. R. W. Cochran Patrick, and after a full Board of Installed Masters had been constituted, the Master received the chair degree. The following were subsequently named and invested in their respective offices:—D. Connel, D.M.; N. Gillies, S.M.; P. Strachan, S.W.; D. Reid, J.W.; A. Heron, Sec.; S. Stewart, Treas.; T. Colquhoun, S.D.; J. Aitken, J.D.; A. Lindsay, S.S.; J. Lindsay, J.S.; R. M'Mutrie, I.G.; and J. Armour, Tyler. At the close of the installation ceremonies, the Provincial Grand Master delivered an eloquent address on the nature and principles of the Order, paid a passing tribute to the memory of the many distinguished brethren who had been removed from amongst the Craft since he (Colonel Mure) was last in lodge assembled, and alluded to the bright future that was before the Order, with the Prince of Wales at the head of the Craft in England. His address was replete with sound advice, and listened to with marked attention by all the brethren present. The Provincial Grand Lodge was then closed in ample form. The brethren afterwards had a torch-light procession, accompanied with an instrumental band, creating no little stir and excitement in the village.

Royal Arch.

HIGHBRIDGE.—Vals of Jehosaphat Chapter (No. 291).—The quarterly convocation of this chapter was held on Friday, the 27th ult., at the Masonic-room, Highbridge, at 2 o'clock, when there were present:—Comps. R. C. Else, Z.; F. R. Prideaux, H.; J. B. Marwood, J.; J. Burnett, E.; R. Salisbury, W.; F. Cornwall, P.S.; Lieut. Gen. Mumbee, P.Z.; R. Heriman, P.Z.; W. H. Davies, Z. 1,222; T. Thwait, P.Z.; and a number of other companions of the chapter. The business upon the agenda paper was transacted, and Bro. W. M. Forty of the Rural Philanthropic Lodge, duly exalted. The Principals for the ensuing year were then installed in ancient and proper form, viz., Comps. F. R. Prideaux, Z.; J. B. Marwood, H.; J. Burnett, J.; the ceremonies of exaltation and installation being performed by the M.E.Z. and P. Z., Comp. R. C. Else, in the most impressive, solemn, and effective manner. The companions afterwards partook of a banquet at the hotel, presided over by the M.E.Z., Comp. F. R. Prideaux, and separated in great harmony, the only mar to their enjoyment being the absence, through severe illness, of their beloved companion, Capt. H. Bridges, P.Z.

Red Cross of Constantine.

One of the most successful gatherings of the members of this Order, held of late years in the metropolis took place on Monday the 30th ult. at the Regent Masonic Hall, Air-street, Regent-street, upon which occasion (St. Andrew's Day), the Premier Bective, (No. 2A), St. Andrew's (No. 15), and Bard of Avon (No. 99) Conclaves met together, represented amongst others by the following Knights, Colonel Burdett, G. Viceroy; John Hervey, P.G.H.C.; R. Wentworth Little, G. Treas.; W. H. Hubbard, P.G. Treas.; H. C. Levander, M.A., G.H.C.; R. W. Stewart, G.H.A.; J. G. Marsh, P.G.A.; Angelo I. Lewis, G.C.; T. Cubitt, G.O.; T. W. White, G.P.; W. Roebuck, G. Prefect; Rev. J. M. Vaughan, M.A., G.S.P.; Rev. P. H. E. Brette, D.D., G.A. Rec.; H. A. Dubois, G.S.A.; G. Kenning, G.I. of R.; Lieut.-Colonel J. Peters, G.S.B.; T. Burdett Yeoman, G.A.M.; J. T. Moss, G.U.; S. Rosenthal, Int. Gen.; Rev. P. M. Holden, F. Binckes, Int. Gen.; D. M. Dewar, Int. Gen.; W. Jones, P. Sov. 15; G. A. Ibbetson, M.P.S. 2; Charles Horsley, Int. Gen. 2A; F. W. H. Ramsay, M.D. P. Sov. V. 99; Rev. A. Bruce Frazer, 99; C. Duke, 2A; A. Moore, P. Sov.; T. Massa, W. Chillingworth, 15; W. Smale, 15; G. Lambert, P. Sov. 15; C. Sanders, M.D., 15; T. Kelly, 2A; W. Hyde Pullen, P. Sov. V. 2A; T. Kingston, P. Sov.; Rev. A. Hall, J. E. Symons, &c.

The Conclaves having been opened, and the several minutes read, the following brethren were duly constituted and installed Knights of the Order, viz.:

For the Premier Conclave of England, Bros.

William Winn, P.M. 657; J. Adams, Acton, Lodge—; Robert Gresley Hall, Lodge 1347; and Horatio H. Shirley, M.A., ex-High Sheriff of Monaghan, Lodge 1491.

For the Bective Conclave (No. 2A).—Bro. Edward J. Southwell, Lodge 1293.

For the St. Andrew's Conclave (No. 15)—Bros. George Taylor and Henry Baron Taylor, Lodge 192.

For the Bard of Avon Conclave (No. 92)—Bros. Sir Charles T. Bright, T. E. Webb, M.D.; Vincent Ambler, M.D.; Charles H. Driver, and Charles Grillion, Lodge 778.

St. Andrew's Conclave elected Sir Knights W. Roebuck, M.P.S.; D. M. Dewar, V.; and R. Kenyon, P. Sov., Treasurer.

Sir Knight Hyde Pullen was enthroned as M.P.S. of the Bective Conclave; C. Horsley was inducted as V.; the rest of the officers being Sir Knights W. Stephens, F. Keily, C. Duke, R. W. Little, E. Roberts, J. H. Tyler, W. W. Tyler, and G. Moren.

Propositions having been made, the united conclaves were closed, and the Knights adjourned to the banquet, under the presidency of Colonel Burdett, who was supported by Sir Knights Hyde Pullen as M.P.S. 2A; S. Rosenthal, as M.P.S. 15; Hervey, Levander, Little, Lewis, and about forty Knights already named.

During the evening, between the usual toasts, several songs were exquisitely sung by Madame Thaddeus Wells and Miss Julia Barnett, accompanied by Mrs. Jenkins on the pianoforte, and the entire proceedings gave great satisfaction to all present.

PLANTAGENET CONCLAVE (No. 2).—This conclave met at the Regent Masonic Hall, on the 23rd ult., to consider proposals for its future place of meeting, when it was resolved to hold the conclave at the above premises for the future. Sir. Knt. G. A. Ibbetson, M.P.S., presided, and was supported by Sir Knts. C. Hammerton, V.; J. Lewis Thomas, G.A. P. Sov. as S.G.; H. Dicketts, Treasurer; T. W. White, Recorder; R. Wentworth Little; J. G. Marsh, P.G.A.; E. S. Norris, J. Boyd, P.M. P. Sov.; T. Last, T. P. Parker, and C. J. Hogard, G. Herald. Two brethren were proposed for installation, and the conclave having been closed, a very agreeable evening was spent under the sceptre of the M.P.S., Sir Knight G. A. Ibbetson. The customary toasts were given and received with great cordiality, and the fratres separated, well pleased with their first meeting under the roof of Sir Knt. D. Nicols.

LIVERPOOL.—Walton Conclave (No. 97).—The recent visit of the Grand Council to Liverpool and the holding of Grand Conclave there, has already borne fruit, inasmuch as No. 97 was obliged to summon a conclave of emergency on Friday, 27th Nov., to instal some brethren as knights of this order. The conclave was opened in Imperial form by Em. Sir Knight Jesse Banning, M.P.S.; Em. Sir Knight J. C. Lunt, P.S. as V.; Sir Knight W. Quayle, S.G.; Sir Knight G. E. Hanmer, J.G.; Sir Knight Rev. C. R. Hyde, L.L.D. H.P.; Sir Knight Hayner, Rec.; Sir Knight N. Turner, P.; and others. The M.P.S. then explained to the conclave the reasons for summoning an emergency meeting so soon after their assembly, only a fortnight previously, and the ballot proving clear, Bros. James Hetherington, 310, and Thos. Howell, 1356, were admitted into the mysteries of this degree, and were duly dubbed and installed Knights of the Red Cross of Constantine. The Historical Lecture was most eloquently delivered by the Rev. Dr. Hyde, H.P., and the M.P.S. then called upon Sir Knight N. Turner to deliver the Oration, which he did in a faultless manner. Great credit was given to each of them for the promptitude in which they had respectively mastered their duties, because they were only appointed to office on the last assembly and had had but short notice of the emergency. The conclave was then closed and the knights adjourned to the refectory, where the newly-installed knights worthily won their "spurs" by the happily chosen yet simple and brief responses to the toast of the evening. We understand that possibly yet another emergency may have to be called, still leaving plenty of work for the next regular assembly.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS.

The Right Hon the Lord Mayor (Bro. H. Stone), P.M. No. 1, and Past Grand Master has consented to reside at the edifice, at a cost upwards of £2,000. The new works have been tested and found efficient.

NOTES ON LITERATURE, SCIENCE AND ART.

(COLLECTED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES)
By BRO. GEORGE MAREHAM TWEED

For the purpose of protecting Westminster Abbey from fire, a large tank, capable of holding 6,000 gallons of water, has been placed on one of the towers of the edifice, at a cost upwards of £2,000. The new works have been tested and found efficient.

By the recent death of Thomas Miller, English literature has lost one of its purest and ablest contributors. In his truthful delineations of rustic life and scenery, he has been surpassed, from the days of William Shakespeare, by no truly pastoral contemporary, William Brown, whom Selden, and Drayton, and Wither, and Ben Jonson could not love more than the typical Nottinghamshire basket-maker did, and Howitts and Charlotte Phillips. The so-called Theocritus, or of Vigil, did we, (like our brother Pythagoras) believe in the transmigration of souls, might have taken up his temporary abode in his body. His earlier writings, though needing pruning, as those of most beginners are full of the fragrance of the woods and daisies, and his later productions show a mastery of high art of reproducing literary landscape readers in populous cities pent. At a time when we seem to be making mere material progress, too much the object of our research, when men and women are less esteemed for their own merits than for the worldly wealth they possess, which too often possesses them, when the high teachings of Speculative Masonry are considered unnecessary by certain superficial writers, we cannot sufficiently appreciate the work of writers like Thomas Miller, who help to live in our hearts a true love of nature, and to disgrace to all who have had to do with the giving of pensions, that one who had done so for our glorious English literature should have allowed to live and die in poverty. So rich a country as England could well spare a paltry pension of £100 a year for whose numerous and elevating writings he well merited it.

SPARKLING WINES FROM SAUMUR.—An interesting article has just appeared in the Times and Gazette on Sparkling Wines. In the sequence of the recent rise in the price of Champagnes it appears that attention has been directed to the district of Saumur, in the western portion of France. Dr. Druitt, author of the article in question, remarks:—"Both in society and in medical practice of Sparkling Wine is largely on the increase. Nothing is so exhilarating with so small a quantity of alcohol in it," and adds that the v. Saumur, "although perfectly familiar in France, have hitherto been decorated with names than their own," and that last year 4,000,000 bottles of wine from Saumur were sent to this country, where it has been sold under any name the purchaser chooses. He concludes the article with the following advice:—"It surely is foolish to give a second-rate Champagne, when one can have a better than the second-rate brands of Champagne, may be had for less money." The Messrs. W. & A. Gilbey, of London, introducing these wines through the medium of their Agents in every town, under the name of Druitt, calls "the modest and true of Sparkling Wines of Saumur."—Post, December 2nd. 1874.

The upper current of society present a criterion by which we can judge the direction the underground flows.—M.

Masonic Tidings.

We learn that his Royal Highness the Prince Wales will, this afternoon, take the Thirty-third Degree of Freemasonry, and be formally stilled as Patron of the Ancient and Accepted etc. The ceremony will take place at Golden-square, and the members of the Thirty-third degree only will necessarily be present.

MANSION HOUSE FESTIVITIES.—Bro. Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress propose entertaining a large circle of friends in the old English style Christmas Eve. New Year's Eve will be celebrated by a juvenile ball, for which nearly 500 invitations are to be issued. Novelty and a varied character will be introduced for the amusement of the youthful guests. The members and a large number of the inhabitants of the Ward of Bassishaw will be entertained at dinner on St. Thomas's Day.

A TESTIMONIAL, consisting of a massive silver salver, beautifully engraved with musical notes, and a shield taking the form of a lyre, which was a suitable inscription, has been presented to Bro. Charles Coote (Coote and wife's band) by a number of gentlemen with whom he has been professionally connected for 17 years.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO A LADY.—The Leeds Mercury reports that a serious accident happened Miss Barclay, the Earl of Zetland's aunt, on Monday morning. She was riding a spirited horse to witness the "throw off" of the hounds, and had scarcely left the lawn in front of her residence—St. Nicholas, Richmond, Yorkshire when the animal reared and fell backwards to ground. A couple of attendants at once ran to the rescue of their mistress, and the horse (which had fallen upon her) was removed. Miss Barclay was then conveyed to her bed-room, and Dr. Carter was sent for. It was found that her collar bone was broken, and that she had incurred other slight bruises. Last evening Barclay was going on favourably.

ROYAL MASONIC BENEVOLENT INSTITUTION.

The committee of this Institution met on Tuesday afternoon at Freemasons' Hall, Bro. Head in the chair. The other brethren present were Joseph Smith, Griffiths Smith, John Evans, Major J. Creaton, J. Newton, Wil. Stephens, James Brett, Richd. Spencer, Sam W. Stewart, John Bellerby, C. F. Ford, H. M. Levy, J. E. Saunders, John Able, H. Massey (Freemason), and James (Secretary). The Secretary reported that other who was an annuitant and had been trustee of one of the funds, who refused to sign a transfer of his trusteeship, had at length done so there would be no further difficulty on that head. He also reported that Messrs. Cutler and florists, had made a present to the Institution of some rose trees. The minutes of the House Committee was read, and an application was made by a widow of an annuitant for half her husband's annuity. This application was granted, and the same was received from seven candidates, whom were accepted. Permission was granted for the use of the hall of the asylum for entertainment to be given to the inmates at the commencement of the year; and the committee adjourned.

are all a kind of chameleons, taking our hue of our moral character—from whom we are about us.—LOCKE.

DR. WATSON'S PILLS.—Health and Vigour.—To the most distressing occasional disturbances of digestion will occur, may be corrected at once by these famous pills, the tonic and tonic powers of which cannot be too highly estimated. A dose now and then will prove salutary to the system, though a continued course must be taken by the invalid. It is wonderful how the appetite improves in proportion as the pills exert their wholesome influence over the animal economy. They augment muscular strength and mental vivacity, and restore the constitutionally weak power never before restored, and never expected in their debilitated frames. They invalidate this medicine has vouchsafed a career of health and prosperity.—ADVT.

Obituary.

DEATH OF THE PROVINCIAL GRAND MASTER OF NORFOLK.

We regret to announce the death of Bro. Benj. Bond Cabbell, the Provincial Grand Master of Norfolk. The melancholy event occurred on Wednesday last. Bro. Cabbell held the office of Prov. G.M. for many years. He died at the advanced age of 94.

MASONIC FUNERAL IN GLASGOW.

The remains of Bro. A. McPherson, late P.G.S., Lodge Clyde (408) were interred in the Southern Necropolis, on Sunday 29th ult. The procession having reached the burying ground at about 1.45 P.M., the brethren opened up in line and saluted the remains of their deceased brother as they were borne to the house appointed for all living on the shoulders of the different Wardens who were present. The last rites by the grave side were performed by Bro. Mitchell, D.M. (408), and at the words "dust shall mingle with the dust" each brother dropped a sprig of evergreen into the grave, and the remaining ceremonial was completed with due observance of the ancient landmarks of the Order. Before leaving the ground Bro. Mitchell dismissed those assembled with a blessing. There were present, we may state, about thirty Office Bearers and brethren from Lodge Clyde, and deputations from Lodges Union and Crown (103); Scotia (178); Thistle (87); Thistle and Rose (73); Athole (413); Clydesdale (556); Star (219); and St. John's Operative, Rutherglen (347).

BRO. ANDREW BEVERIDGE.

The funeral of Bro. Andrew Beveridge, D.P. G.M. of the Scottish Constitution, and P.M. of the St. Andrew's Lodge, the late Provincial Treasurer, which took place recently, was one of the largest ever seen in Auckland. Apart from the very general esteem in which the deceased gentleman was held, the fact that his obsequies were honoured by the impressive ceremonial observed at Masonic funerals, contributed to heighten the public interest on the present occasion. It is worthy of remembrance that, on the occasion of the last Masonic funeral—that of Bro. Frere—the deceased gentleman, whose remains were similarly honoured yesterday, led the service himself in a singularly impressive manner. The brethren of the two Masonic Lodges on the Thames—Lodge of Light, I.C., and Sir Walter Scott, S.C.—came up from Grahamstown, forty miles from here, by the "Golden Crown," arriving in Auckland at 11.30 a.m. The two lodges numbered nearly 100 brethren, and were attended by the following office-bearers:—

Sir Walter Scott; William McCullough, R.W.M.; A. Dewar, P.M.; A. Brodie, P.M.; E. H. Power, P.M.; M. H. Airy, S.M.; John Frater, D.M.; William Lowe, S.W.; William Carpenter, J.W.; J. Cassidy, S.D.; J. Watson, J.D.; T. Dunlop, I.G.; T. Randon, Tyler; J. M. Cowell, Bible-bearer; Rev. J. Hill, Chaplain. Stewards: Messrs. Kneebone, Plumridge, Beech, Swanson, Fotheringham, and Turtle. Lodge of Light:—Bros. S. Young, W.M.; — Davis, P.M.; Wildman, P.M.; Mitchell, P.M.; Lipsey, P.M.; Clymo, P.M.; Garrett, S.W.; Hynes, J.W.; Hosbrough, Bible-bearer; Blott, S.D.; Mills, J.D.; Bro. D. Drake, S.S.; Mills, J.S.

The following ceremonial was observed:—Brethren of St. Andrew's, 418, S.C., and of Thames Lodges, assembled at the lodge-room, Star Hotel; brethren of lodges under English and Irish Constitutions, at the lodge-room, Masonic Hotel; at a quarter before two o'clock.

The brethren having assembled, the R.W.M. opened the Lodge in the Third Degree. After the object of the meeting had been stated, the Chaplain, or Master, began the Service as follows:—

Service in the Lodge Room.

I.—If a man die, shall he live again?

Response.—The dust shall return to the earth as it was, and the spirit to God, who gave it.

II.—When he dieth, shall he carry anything away with him?

Response.—He brought nothing into the world, and it is certain he can carry nothing out.

III.—The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord.

Response.—God is our God for ever. He will be our guide and support through the dark valley of the shadow of death.

Grand Honours.

Prayer by the Chaplain.

On the arrival of the Scotch brethren at the Masonic Hotel they were met by the lodges assembled there and having, and, having formed a procession in the following order—

Prince of Wales Lodge, E.C.

Lodge of Light, I.C.

Ara Lodge, I.C.

St. Royal Arch Chapter, I.C.

Sir Walter Scott's Lodge, S.C.

St. Andrew's Lodge, S.C.

proceeded to the railway station, whence they were conveyed by special train to Newmarket, where they awaited the arrival of the funeral cortege from Remuera, when the procession reformed and preceded the hearse to the burial ground of the Scottish Church, there being upwards of two hundred masons present, Bros. Goldsmith, Wildman, and Jenkins acting as Directors of Ceremonies, under the direction of Bro. Malcolm Nicol, Worshipful Master of the St. Andrew's Lodge.

The brethren were all in full regalia, except the English Lodge, who had no opportunity of obtaining a dispensation, and carried the various Masonic emblems to which mourning bows were attached. Amongst the long train of mourners were his honour the Superintendent and the members of the Provincial Executive; and the legal, clerical, medical, and mercantile professions were all well represented. At various points along the road knots of people were assembled to witness the procession, and the blinds of most of the houses along the route were drawn down out of respect to the deceased. The procession itself was upwards of a mile in length, extending from the Captain Cook Hotel to the top of the Kyber Pass Road. On reaching the cemetery gates the Masonic advanced body opened out to let the hearse pass through, and then reversed their order of marching, so as to let the oldest lodges take the order of precedence. The coffin was carried to the grave by six members of the St. Andrew's Lodge, to which the deceased brother had belonged, and the following Past Masters acted as pall-bearers:—Bros. Stephenson, Brock, Anderson, Brodie, Power and Dewar. At this time there must have been from one thousand to fifteen hundred persons assembled in the vicinity of the grave, and outside the cemetery walls. The coffin being placed in position the funeral service of the Presbyterian Church was read in a solemn and impressive manner by Bro. the Rev. David Bruce, and on its termination, the coffin being lowered, Bro. the Rev. P. Hill, standing at the foot of the grave, went through the following Masonic Service:—

May we be true and faithful, live and die in love, for the memory of the just is blessed.

Response.—So mote it be.

The Lord bless us and keep us—the Lord make his face to shine upon us—the Lord lift upon us the light of His countenance, and give us peace.

Response.—So mote it be.

All.—Glory be to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will toward men.

Prayer by the Chaplain.

The brethren then passed round the grave and dropped each a sprig of acacia into it; the lambskin apron of the deceased Mason was also cast into the grave. The Masonic service being concluded, the brethren returned in reversed order, and closed the lodge.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The "Freemason" of May 10th and 17th, 1873, (numbers 218 and 219) being out of print, the publisher will be glad to receive copies from brethren who may have them. Stamps will be sent on receipt.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI. each ...	15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do.	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 12s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 109, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION,
BAKER STREET.

Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of the CZAR OF RUSSIA, SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, the Three Judges in the Tichborne Trial, Cockburn, Mellor, and Lush; the Shah of Persia, Marshal MacMahon, M. Thiers, and the late Mr. Charles Dickens. Admission 1s. Children under ten, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. to ten p.m.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

All Communications should be sent to 109, Fleet Street.

ERRATUM.—In Bro. Gallico's letter, page 705, Nov. 28th, for "Eppursi muove," read "Eppur si muove."

SYLVANUS URBAN.—The quotation you refer to was, by the printer's error, wrongly spelt. Bro. Gallico's copy has it "Eppur si muove" (yet it moves).

J. C. J. (MARYSVILLE).—The order you sent we could only realise the amount of sevenpence upon, leaving you still in debt one shilling and elevenpence.

33.—Declined with thanks. Subject not suitable for discussion.

Testimonial to Bro. Rev. M.A. Holden. Reports of Lodges 1460, Halliford; 10, Dalketh; 12, Greenock; 68, Port Glasgow; 175, Greenock; 216, Dunfermline; 351, Bridge of Allar; Chapter 394, Southampton; Mark Lodge 63, Southampton; Prov. Grand Lodge of Down, &c.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1874.

THE ABUSE OF THE MASONIC PRESS.

Great as is the use of the Masonic Press, we do not deny that there may be an abuse of it. Indeed, in things Masonic, publication often becomes a grave question, both of duty and discretion. In previous times there was practically no Masonic Press; and, in consequence, little publication. But now, with the Masonic Press open, and abounding in Germany and the United States, and in England, it is just possible, we think, that we may be publishing a little too much. We confess, for instance, that we always deprecate public discussions of the ritual. Any discussion on that point should, we venture to think, be confined to the lodge; and we have often read with pain and misgivings some of the modern disquisitions on the minutæ of our ritual, which seemed to us sadly out of place in the public columns of a weekly journal and monthly magazine. We in this country are very much, happily, behind other countries in the freedom with which we deal with such subjects, especially our good brethren in Germany. We think that, with the best intentions in the world, they go somewhat too far in their unlimited liberty of discussion; but then we must bear in mind that the ritual in Germany does not bear the same relation to Masonic work and lodge proceedings as it does with us in England.

In America, a very great freedom of discussion on all matters Masonic exists; but we have noted lately several remarks from high Masonic officials in the United States which seem to denote a little uneasiness, lest they are publishing too much. We think, therefore, that we are consulting the best interests of the English fraternity when we say to-day that, D.V., in 1875, we shall be still more guarded in admitting any discussion of ritual matters. There are plenty of other subjects on which Masons can write, and can write well; and we feel sure that, while we are the last persons in the world to yield one iota of the liberty of the Masonic Press, either to prejudice or perversity, we feel bound to respect the scruples of Worthy Masons, and to remove, if possible, the objections of some who now deprecate deeply such controversies in our Masonic press as pregnant with evil to the Order. Another abuse of the Masonic press is personality. The FREEMASON has ever been free from such a blot, but it is a matter which requires the greatest supervision and stringency, or otherwise personalities will creep in, do what we will to keep them out. There are some brethren whose whole zeal for Freemasonry seems to consist in attacking some other brother. There are Masonic firebrands as well as ecclesiastical firebrands, or firebrands, like Mrs. Proudie, of famous memory, there are Masonic Ishmaelites who, like one of old have everybody's hand against them, whilst their hand is against everyone else. Then all who conduct the press know, what difficulties we have to contend with as regards sensitive brethren, touchy brethren, hasty brethren, hot-headed brethren. Some are always ready to take offence, some are never tired of incriminating an opponent. And wherever such personality is encouraged or permitted, sooner or later that journal must fall, simply from its own absurd repudiation of the life-principle of Freemasonry, brotherly forbearance and regard. We say nothing here of the tendency unfortunately existing in some little minds, to make the Masonic press a medium for personal animosity or for unbrotherly slander. We had a very untoward specimen of this "animus" a short time ago, most unfortunately, and by a "fortuitous concurrence of atoms" to use Lord Palmerston's famous dictum, which has been to us a very salutary warning. We trust that as our worthy publisher has always sought to give his paper the highest status in Masonic literature, that, when a new year dawns upon us all, the FREEMASON may be as ever distinguished by its careful avoidance of all topics or correspondence likely to give the slightest pain to any brother, or to bring discredit on the great principles of our Order. We do not think it needful to pursue the subject further to-day. Of the use of the Masonic press, great and abiding, we feel sure, just as we admit fairly its possible abuse. But of this one thing we are convinced, that while the FREEMASON never seeks to flatter any one, or to become the organ of anybody but the entire Craft, its one great principle of action will ever be to prevent, if possible, any abuse of its happy liberty, and to be foremost in advocating and upholding subordination to Masonic authority, the prerogative of the Grand Master, the privileges of the Grand Lodge, and the rights, the honour, and the well-being of all ranks and conditions of Freemasonry.

GRAND LODGE.

We congratulate the Order sincerely on the events and results of the last Quarterly Communication. Everything has taken place as most devoted Craftsmen could wish. Our Royal Brother has been nominated with acclamation as our Grand Master for the next year, and most interesting will be the next Quarterly Communication and the Yearly Festival in 1875. Every fervent wish of loyalty and goodwill go with our august Grand Master and the old Craft he has been called to rule over. We equally felicitate the brotherhood on the appointment and installation of the Pro. Grand Master. His nomination was received, as it is sure to be, with the hearty assent and sympathy of a crowded Grand Lodge. We wish also to express our admiration at the Pro. Grand Master's excellent and admirable speech—eloquent and admirable alike in substance and tone. We augur much for the thorough Masonic discharge of his high duties, not from his past career, but from his own fitting and eloquent statement alike of his position and his constitutional responsibilities to the Pro Grand Master. We can quite enter into the satisfaction which greeted the Pro Grand Master's most truly Masonic address. The appointment of Lord Skelmersdale to the Deputy Grand Mastership will be hailed, not only by Lancashire brethren, but by the Craft at large with the utmost feelings of gratification and rejoicing. No one is more popular as a Master, more efficient as a Prov. G.M.; and no one, we believe, has more thoroughly the interests of the Craft at heart than our distinguished brother, the new Deputy Grand Master. We are glad, we confess, to note that our excellent Bro. Clabon has withdrawn his motion for appropriation of the surplus of the Fund of Benevolence. No one disputes Bro. Clabon's praiseworthy motives; but conflicting opinions will arise as to the propriety of such a motion just now. It is, we think, with many other Brethren as he freely admitted, a little premature, though our material prosperity be great. Our claims on our funds are many, and we think that the surplus of 1873 is considerably less than the surplus of 1872. We think that our Grand Master showed the very great wisdom and his complete knowledge of the duties of his chair, in stopping the flow of our Grand Brethren's eloquence. We venture to say that in such a discussion, from his official position, Bro. Binckes is a little out of place, as our brethren would feel that, as Secretary of the Boys' School, he was somewhat of an impartial party, in all good faith, in the consideration of such a motion. What our Brethren's opinions on the subject are we do not know, if he likes to favour the Craft with his columns we shall be most happy to do so, but the means of doing so. But when the subject is decided, it must be, we venture to say, in the general feeling of Grand Lodge, and in the report of so distinguished a Brother as Bro. Binckes.

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

We have received a letter from Constantinople of date professedly Nov. 25th last past, which we print, "verbatim et literatim," in another column. We are much obliged to our Constantinopolitan correspondent for forwarding a photograph of the Pope, with a Masonic ash, &c. But two questions inevitably arise, which require, in our opinion, a clear answer.

I.—What is the name of the photographer at Constantinople by whom this carte de visite has been issued. His name on the card sent is completely erased.

II.—Whence did he obtain the photograph? Is it original or made to order? Our correspondent tells us he has had it ten years.

We observe that the motto now runs, "Ex communicavi meos fratres meâ culpâ," words which we think, to be used by the Pope, but they can be construed. The previous motto, "Communicate, &c.," was almost untranslatable. We presume that this photograph is identical with or taken from the alleged "Soussingear" photograph, but we confess that at present we do not attach much value to it, in the controversy.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in the spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In our Book of Constitutions, page 18 as follows:—
1. "Every brother regularly elected and installed as Master of a lodge under the Constitution of the Grand Lodge of England, who is executed that office for one year, shall, so long as he continues a subscribing member of the lodge, rank as Past Master, and be a member of the Grand Lodge. Subscription as member of any lodge is sufficient to preserve rank and rights as a Past Master; but having for twelve months ceased to subscribe to any lodge, he shall no longer continue a member of the Grand Lodge; nor can he regain that privilege until again installed Master of a lodge." The oldest P.M. of a country lodge ceased being a subscribing member to any lodge for 20 years, when he again became a subscribing member to his lodge. I shall be glad to know he can still rank as the senior P.M. of the lodge? As I read the above paragraph, the only privilege he loses is that "he shall no longer continue a member of the Grand Lodge." What rank you?

Very fraternally yours,

M. S.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I am induced to submit the following suggestion for your consideration; as your valuable journal is now becoming familiar to the Craft in these colonies, your opinion would be useful for our guidance. Whether such a case has actually occurred or not, we need not stay to enquire, but we will suppose, viz.: A lodge at its regular meeting in August elects a brother as W.M. for the ensuing year; at the regular meeting in September, the minutes of the previous meeting (including the election of Master) are read and affirmed, but the installation cannot be provided with, the brother, so elected being absent. The lodge acting under advice from superior authority at once take the necessary steps to alter their bye-laws, so as to make the election of W.M. next year fall a month later, or (they say) the present election will be invalid, as the W.M. not being installed to-night, will not have filled the office twelve months, which is necessary to constitute him as P.M. Is this reasoning correct? I think not. I argue that from the moment his election was confirmed, such brother is, de facto, the W.M. of the lodge, from which time he dates his term of office, notwithstanding he is not present for installation. Clause 1. "Of the Masters and Wardens of Lodges" provides "that no Master elect shall assume the Master's chair until he shall have been regularly installed, though he may in the interim rule the lodge;" this evidently means, he may act as W.M. in ruling the lodge, and generally transact its business, previous to installation, although not having assumed the chair he cannot make, pass, or raise. Therefore the date of installation cannot invalidate the date of election, and consequently it is not necessary to alter the bye-laws on that account.

But the question arises; Does it affect the qualification of his Wardens? I think not, as the appointment of these officers is the prerogative of the W.M., it is [not for the lodge to question when he appointed them, if after they are invested they serve to the satisfaction of the W.M., the qualification is sufficiently legal. Again, it is suggested that the aforesaid W.M. is not empowered by the constitution to open and close the lodge. I need not further intrude my opinion on the matter, but would respectfully request for the benefit of myself and several of the Craft, that you will kindly give us yours.

I remain, yours fraternally,

W.H.

Dunedin, New Zealand,

Sept. 28, 1874.

BRO. WIGGINTON AND THE VERNON BIBLE.

Dear Bro. Kenning.

As my main object in calling attention to the Vernon Bible, was to bring the matter before the Vernon Lodge, I shall be happy to hear from Bro. Wigginton, or the W.M. of the Vernon Lodge, 560, on the subject.

I am, yours most fraternally,

A. F. A. WOODFORD.

10, Upper Porchester-st., Hyde Park Square, London, W.C., December 7th 1874.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

I have with some surprise read your letter headed "Masonic Bibliography," in the Freemason of Nov. 28th.

The bible you therein describe belonged to the "Vernon" Lodge, No. 819, Dudley, and the MS. note signed "E. P." is in my handwriting.

The lodge was removed to Stourport some years ago, its present No. 590.

I have called the attention of the Stourport brethren to the letter, and it is for them to explain how the bible left their possession. It was bought for lodge use in 1856, on the removal of the lodge from Bromsgröve; its original name was the "Clive" Lodge.

Yours fraternally,

EDWIN POOLE, P.M. 819.

THE ORDER OF THE TEMPLE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Some time ago you published in your paper the Memorial of the Knights Templar in the province of Lancashire to the Great Prior, praying a revision of the statutes of the Order, on certain points on which great dissatisfaction is widely felt. That memorial was open to objection on certain points of form (which it is not necessary here to refer to further), and has since, as I have been informed, met its fate, whether on that ground or for more substantial reasons I know not. The Province of Worcestershire has adopted a form of memorial (of which I send you a copy herewith), which I ask you to publish in your next issue, for the information of those Priors and Preceptories, the members of which like ourselves feel the need of a revision of the statutes on the points therein referred to. I am firmly convinced that it is not by the isolated efforts of one or two Priors and Preceptories here and there that the desired alterations in the present statutes can be expected or hoped for, but only by the wide and united action of all who think as we do and know and feel the injury to the Order and the dissatisfaction which prevails consequent on the present state of things. It cannot reasonably be expected that Grand Conclave will be moved to take this revision into consideration and do what is necessary in it at the instance of a few Sir Knts., whom they may imagine to be a few discontented disturbers, (such as may be found in most large bodies of men) whose opinions are not shared in by any large or important section. But on the other hand if it is made patent to the High powers that the dissatisfaction is not confined to one or two Priors, but is generally diffused over the whole body, and that the evils complained of are strongly and widely felt and growing more and more pressing and serious in their effects, on the prosperity of the Order, it may be hoped that our representations may be considered and relief be granted. Let then every Priory and Preceptory, at the earliest opportunity, take this state of things into consideration, and join in urging upon Grand Conclave (whether by a memorial in this form or in any other which may better represent their views), attention to their representations and consideration to their complaints.

Yours fraternally,

J. C. J. L.

Nov. 27th, 1874.

To H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, K.G., &c., &c. &c., the Most Eminent Grand Master of the Order of The Temple, in Council.

The memorial of the Province of Worcestershire of the said Order,

Sheweth,

1. That the Memorialists have had experience of the progress of the Order in the Provinces and of its causes of success and depression, and are enabled to judge of the effect which recent legislation has had and will have upon all branches of the Institution outside the Metropolitan boundaries of the Convent General and the Great Priory. They view with much regret many of the alterations contained in the new Statutes, believing that the changes will not tend to the advantage of the Order, are contrary to its traditions and distasteful to a large proportion of its Members.

2. That they believe the Order to be essentially "Masonic," and they object to the elimination of that prefix as tending to the destruction of the only reason which the Order has ever had, or ever can have, for its modern existence. An attempt was made in Scotland, in 1844, to effect a separation from its Masonic foundation; but as a consequence the Order became nearly extinguished, and at its revival, in 1856, the injudicious step had to be retraced.

3. That they believe the association of the title of the Order of Malta with the Masonic Order of the Temple arose from a confusion of names, and that no Masonic Maltese Order has, or ever had, existence as a fact; a view which was affirmed by the late Grand Conclave of England in 1853, from which year, until 1862, the Masonic Order of the Temple alone had existence. That by the new Statutes the Orders are declared to be "United," and the Jewels of the present Temple Order comprise the "Union"; yet the Maltese Order is made a separate encumbrance and separate insignia are inconsistently entailed, notwithstanding the combination referred to.

4. That these and other changes effected by the new Statutes are prejudicial to the extension and popularity of the Order; but none is producing a more insidious effect than the enactment that "no status analogous to that heretofore designated as Past Rank shall be recognized, nor allowed, nor any insignia thereof borne." That as the appointments to office are made during pleasure there is no inducement (if such appointments are not frequently changed) to any other Sir Knights than those in office, to attend Provincial Meetings, and as a necessary consequence their interest is much decreased and will become still less. It is already found that they are disinclined to pay fees of office, and to expend time and incur the cost of journeys in the fulfilment of duties from which they ultimately retire with no recognition of the services they have performed; the Provincial Priors are thus not only deprived of their main sources of revenue, but are seriously suffering from the abated interest of Members of the Order, and will probably become abeyant if not extinct.

5. That a depression will fall upon the Preceptories from want of encouragement of their Members; that they will feel no interest in supporting the Provincial Great Pories, and will become isolated and stagnant institutions of an Order which has hitherto flourished principally from the opportunities of advancement which the former system offered with encouraging liberality.

Your Memorialists therefore pray :

1. That a revision may be made of the Statutes of the Order and that the Masonic title of the Order may be restored.

2. That the Order may become (as in 1853) the Masonic Order of the Temple only; or that, if the Union is to be preserved in name, it may be also preserved in fact, and all enactments and insignia relating separately to the Order of Malta be repealed.

3. That the privileges and insignia of Past Rank heretofore enjoyed may be restored.

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In the two last numbers of the Freemason the question is asked, "Is the Pope a Freemason?" I enclose a photo of him in Masonic clothing, which I have had in my possession over 10 years. Bro. General Mott, an American gentleman, told me a few days ago, on his word of honour, that he knew for a fact that the Pope was admitted into the Order when a priest, in a lodge in Philadelphia, and afterwards joined a lodge in Palermo. I do not vouch for the truth, but enclose the photo, which you will take care of for,

Yours fraternally,
GEO. LAURIE.

Constantinople, Nov. 25, 1874.

MASONIC BIBLIOGRAPHY.

Three curious Papal Bulls have come into my possession, relative to the creation of some Military Knights of St. Peter. The little book is printed at Rome, 1541. I shall be glad if some brother can give any information as to this Order. The first Bull is issued in 1520, by Pope Leo X., for the erection of a College of Military Knights of St. Peter at Rome. In this Bull the names of the original knights are given. The second Bull is one of Pope Clement VII., confirming the previous Bull. Its date is 1526. The third Bull is one of Pope Paul III., re-confirming the previous two Bulls. Its date is 1535.

A. F. A. WOODFORD.

I see in the latest catalogue issued by the eminent bookseller and bibliographer, Bernard Quaritch, that some curious works and MSS. are for sale; and I think our good friend, Bro. the Rev. A. F. A. Woodford, would do well to call in to Mr. Quaritch's premises, in Piccadilly, and examine them, especially the under-mentioned:—

4. Chronicles of Englonde—small folio English M.S. on vellum. Written about 1420. Printed by Caxton 1480.

29* "Metrical Chronicle of England. Rolled Manuscript." Circa 1490. Original chronicle compiled about 1430.

164. "Caxton (William). The Chronicles of England. [Empryted by me, William Caxton, in the Abbey of Westminster, by London. Fynysned and accomplished the vii day of Octobre, 1482, and in the xxii. yere of the regne of Kyng Edward the Fourth.] Excessively rare, £120.—1482."

It appears only seven other copies are known—all imperfect.

No. 166 is also another edition of the "Chronicles," circa 1480.

It would be well to compare "Halliwell's" and "Cooke's" MSS. with these Chronicles; and I do not doubt but that Mr. Quaritch would consent to Bro. Woodford scanning the contents of these valuable MSS. and works.

W. J. HUGHAN.

SCIENCE GOSSIP CONVERSAZIONE.

The fifth annual conversazione of the Ipswich Science Gossip Society was held in the Public Hall on Wednesday. As usual, at this popular gathering, the attendance was large, and the votaries both of science and gossip have every cause to thank the Committee for providing such a pleasant reunion once a year. Among the company we noticed the Mayor (Dr. Chevallier), J. P. Cobbold, Esq., M.P., and most of the principal townspeople. The arrangements on the whole were good, though the string band was purchased dearly at the cost of the refreshments which in previous years were supplied to the company. We trust that whatever becomes of the music on another occasion, the tea and coffee will not be omitted.

In a town like Ipswich it is difficult, of course, continually to provide fresh scientific novelties, and many of the objects and processes exhibited had been seen before. The microscopes, polariscopes, spectroscopes, electric and galvanic batteries, attracted the customary attention, but do not require special notice. Mr. Ford Goddard, who has always something interesting and new, showed the mode of extracting nadder dyes, sulphur, &c., from waste products formerly thrown away as gas liquor. At the other end of the hall, Mr. J. Wiggin, the public analyst, explained how to get rid of gas companies altogether, namely, by buying Muller's gasoline, storing it in a miniature gasometer, and sending it into the pipes just as we require it. The price of the apparatus is £25, and Mr. Wiggin says that the gas will not cost more than 2s. per 1000.

Mr. Garrett, of Tyler-street, Stoke, exhibited a lapidary's lathe in motion, on which he cut fossils and other stones. A potter's wheel, worked by Mr. Balaam, of Rope-walk, was an object of great interest throughout the evening, the skill with which the artificer turned the plastic clay into pottery of every shape being greatly admired.

Bro. Emra Holmes exhibited three cases of Masonic jewels and clothing, which proved very attractive to the ladies—who looked as if they would have liked to be initiated on the spot. Some of the jewels, which Bro. Holmes had collected from many of the leading Masons in Ipswich, were of great antiquity and very curious. The Tyler's Jewel of the British Union Lodge, of massive silver, with a figure of a Tyler in the costume of George the First, we believe, in high relief upon it, and surmounted with the figure of the Pelican feeding its young (what do our Rose Croix brethren think of this?) and with a silver trowel pendant, was specially remarked.

Bro. G. S. Findley kindly lent some 8 or 10 interesting jewels; to what degrees they appertained we could not always discover.

One old Templar Jewel had the letters H.M. upon it, evidently an allusion to a connection with the Rose Croix, or Royal Order, or both. Another old one had the Brazen Serpent upon it (no doubt the 25th degree of the A. and A. Rite). A third, an oval jewel, had a heart in flames pierced with daggers, and the legend "memento mori," with a skull and cross bones on the obverse. We do not know what degree this is.

Another jewel consisted of a hammer and chisel, richly chased, suspended from a partly-coloured ribbon, and which, we fancy, must have some connection with the Mark Degree. Bro. Pitcher also lent a fine old gold jewel of the Ancient Baldwin Camp of Knights Templar, at Bristol, which has four fleur-de-lis between the four arms of the Cross, pointing to a French origin without doubt.

Bro. Geo. Cresswell, 18^o, lent a case of Masonic miniature jewels. Bro. Schullen, P.M., lent the old British Union Lodge jewel, a sort of quasi-chivalric five-pointed star, with a coffin and acacia branch upon it, together with an old silver circular jewel with Masonic symbols cut out upon it.

Bro. George Turner contributed a very old silver medal, with a figure resembling a man upon it, but which, when examined closely, was found to be made up of Masonic symbols, together with the Perfect Friendship Lodge private jewel. Another star, evidently imitated originally from the badge of the Chivalric Orders, with two hands clasping each other in the centre of it. These private lodge jewels are, of course, illegal and brethren have no more right to wear them at lodge meetings any more than those of the High Degrees. Indeed, it is doubtful whether, under the articles of union, certain of those Orders notably: The Templar, Rose Croix, and K.H. 30^o, all of which were given them in 1817, might not claim recognition, and their insignia be worn in Grand Lodge, the statutes to the contrary, notwithstanding. Bro. Holmes himself exhibited a gold Prior of Malta jewel, and 3^o degree, and the clothing and jewel of a Provincial Grand-Registrar of Suffolk, all from the manufactory of Bro. George Kenning.

Bro. Kenning also very kindly sent down a case of jewels and Masonic Regalia, which were very much admired.

The Suffolk Chronicle spoke in terms of great praise of the workmanship and skill displayed in the manufacture of these articles and the Suffolk Mercury remarks as follows:—

"A very handsome case of Masonic jewels and regalia was exhibited by Bro. George Kenning of London, Liverpool, and Glasgow, the leading manufacturer of each article in this country. The case contained the collar and gaudleils of Grand Deacon of England, a marvel of gold embroidery laid on garter blue silk; the collar and apron of the 18th degree, S.P. Rose Croix, crimson and gold; the baldrick of a Knight K.H. 30 degrees, besides the costly silver and gold jewels appertaining to various High Degrees of Masonry."

A beautiful M.W.S. gold jewel, manufactured by Bro. Kenning, and presented to the Rev. F. N. Saunderson, 30^o, by the Victoria Chapter, Rose Croix, was also shown, amidst a large number of other jewels.

A collapsible lifeboat, invented by the Rev. L. Berthon, Vicar of Rumsey, Hants, was locally explained by Mr. George, while close by was Mr. Wood, of Harwich, ready in case the lifeboat sprung a leak to stop it effectually with Wood's patent leak stopper. The nuts, bought of beech, and other relics of antiquity dug up from the Orwell forest were arranged in a case looking as if they had been under water 10 months instead of 10,000 years. The Rev. D. Acland, of Colchester, who was at Iceland during the recent celebration of 100 years of Danish rule, contributed some valuable Icelandic book &c. "A new system of printing in jac-sim without ink, was also shown at work. In suitable ante-room were exhibited a number of lime-light representations of some of Sir Edw. Landseer's works which had a fair share of visitors. Messrs. W. Ladd and Co., of London, exhibited a number of scientific instruments various kinds, including one of Trotman's patent governors for steam engines.

Messrs. Cowell exhibited a ruling machine work, while Mr. Piper printed the musical gramme on a treadle "Cropper." Mr. Ayres the postal telegraph, had a new sounding instrument at each end of the hall, messages being sent from one to the other during the evening. Vick, of London-road, displayed a superb collection of photographs, and among the articles and processes exhibited were—illustrations of water power; the manufacture of Prussian blue from "spent oxide," wood model of the great Geyser, galvanometer & thermo-pile (by Messrs. Ladd and Co.), Syren, the great Domesday Book of Ipswich, Bacon's "Chronicles of the Courts of Ipswich" the great court trumpet, anciently used for summoning the court (by the kind permission of Mayor, B. Chevallier, Esq.), specimens of permanent photographs, lent by the Wood's type Company; porbeagle and other fish recently caught off Suffolk coast; photographic group of the Queen and Royal Family, by M. P. Parker, of Brook-street; collection of geological specimens—flint and bronze implements, coins and medals, dried ferns and plants, Japanese "egg shell," mud from deep soundings, diatoms from the mud of the Or &c.

Twice in the course of the evening Mr. Taylor, F.G.S., gave a lecture on the "I Bed" recently discovered in the Or &c. which was listened to with interest.

John J. Plummer, M.A., astronomer to Colonel Tomline, also gave lectures on the "Cometary System," which were highly appreciated.

The Committee of Management were Mr. W. Vick (Chairman), London-road; Dr. Drummond (Hon. Treasurer), Silent-street; Mr. H. Miller, jun. (Hon. Secretary), Old Butter-market; Mr. W. Budden, St. Clement's; Mr. B. Edwards, Carr-street; Mr. D. F. Goddard, Lower Brook-street; Mr. A. Harwood, Belstead Hall; Mr. F. W. Mason, Stoke Hill; Mr. E. Packard, jun., Bramford; Mr. H. Powles, Norwich-road; and Mr. J. E. Taylor, the Museum.

DEDICATION OF A NEW MASONIC HALL AT DERBY.

On Thursday, 26th November, the consecration and dedication of the Derbyshire Masonic Hall, situated in Gower-street, Derby, was performed by the Most Noble and Right Worshipful Brother, the Marquis of Hartington, M.P., Provincial Grand Master of Derbyshire, assisted by Bros. H. C. Okeover, D.P.G.M., and G. J. W. of England, C. R. Colville, P.P.D.G.M., the Rev. A. A. Bagshawe, M.A., P.G.S.W., and P. G. Chaplain, and a numerous body of present and past grand officers.

The banqueting-room, on the ground-floor, is 15 by 50ft., in front of which are committee and retiring rooms, and at the back kitchens and Tyler's residence. The entrance hall is paved with encaustic tiles masonically designed. A handsome stone staircase leads to the upper hall, which the Masons of Derby and Derbyshire may well be proud of. It was much admired by all. The size is 58ft. by 30ft., and 20ft. high. The ceiling is partly circular, divided into enriched rays, and ventilated by perforated ornaments all round the cornices, and ribs which spring from Corinthian pilasters. At the end is an ornamental niche for the organ or throne. The exterior is of Hollington or red Mansfield stone, very neatly executed, and we may say the entire building reflects credit upon all parties connected with its erection. Mr. G. H. Sheffield, of Derby, is the architect, and Mr. George Woodiwiss the builder. The cost of the work, exclusive of land, will be about £2,600.

There was a very large attendance of members of the Craft, some 200 being present, including visitors from other provinces. The brethren assembled in the lower room of the hall at one o'clock, and then proceeded to the lodge room in procession. The procession was headed by the visiting brethren from other provinces, then the members of Craft lodges in the province (juniors first), and then the past and present officers and members of the Provincial Grand Lodge. The ceremony, a most solemn and impressive one, was then proceeded with, and the Rev. M. H. Middleton, Provincial Grand Chaplain, offering up the consecration prayer. At the conclusion, the P.G.M. declared the hall duly consecrated and dedicated, according to ancient form, and after an oration from the Past Provincial Grand Chaplain on Masonry, the anthem commencing "The Glorious Majesty of the Lord our God be upon us" was sung. Bro. G. Allen presided at the organ.

The P.G.M. then held his annual Provincial Grand Lodge. The minutes of the last Grand Lodge were read and confirmed, and the Worshipful Masters of the Craft Lodges presented their annual written reports. The reports of the Masonic Hall Committee, and the Charity Committee, were also presented. Bro. T. Cox, P.G.S.W., was re-elected Treasurer. The Provincial Grand Master then proceeded to appoint and invest his Provincial Grand Officers as follows:—

- Jessop Prov. G.S.W.
- Liffe Prov. G.J.W.
- W. J. W. Maltby Prov. G. Chaplain.
- Rowby Prov. G.R.
- Cox Prov. G.T.
- H. Marsden Prov. G.S.
- Turner Prov. G.S.D.
- W. J. Kin Prov. G.J.D.
- Burn Prov. G.S. of W.
- Dawson Prov. G.D. of C.

- Warner Prov. G.A.D. of C.
- Slack Prov. G.Org.
- Loverock Prov. G.S.B.
- W. J. Gothard Prov. G. Purst.
- J. Taylor Prov. G. Std. B.
- T. Slinn Prov. G. Tyler.

The following brethren were appointed Prov. Grand Stewards:—Tyrian Lodge, W. C. Watson, and S. J. Robinson; Arboretum Lodge, J. Baldock and W. Knight; Hartington Lodge; W. Heathcote and T. Gadsby.

Amongst those present were Bros. the Marquis of Hartington, M.P., H. C. Okeover, C. R. Colville, Rev. A. A. Bagshawe, J. Smith, R. Darwin, F. Binckes (Secretary Boys' School, London), J. Crossley, Capt. Arkwright, M.P., Sir John Alleyne, Fitzherbert Wright, Thos. Cox, W. H. Marsden,—Calder, J. L. Gibbons, J. Allen, G. Staley, J. Pymm, H. Carson, W. C. Watson; F. J. Robinson, T. Merry, J. Bowmer, T. Horsley, S. Foulds, W. M. Hewitt, S. Rowbottom, G. Graham, J. Barrowby, J. T. Wright, E. Grindwill, J. Taylor, W. Smith, F. Turner, C. Adams, J. Pegg, F. Campion, W. Naylor, W. Garrard, J. Kinder, C. Parkins, R. Eastwood, T. Roe, jun.,—Warner, J. Worsnop, F. Hogg, S. Stone, T. R. Gee, W. H. Burton,—Farnsworth, H. Turner, T. Hall, R. Waite, G. H. Sheffield, Rev. W. J. M. Ellison, Rev. M. H. Middleton, and between one and two hundred visitors.

The banquet was held at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the St. James's Hall. Bro. the Marquis of Hartington, M.P., presided, and over 100 brethren sat down to dinner. Miss Golz, manageress of the St. James's Hotel, provided an admirable repast.

On the removal of the cloth, and after the hall had been closely tyled, the following toasts were to be proposed and responded to:—"The Queen and The Craft"; "the M.W.G.M. of England, Bro. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, the Princess of Wales and the rest of the Royal Family"; "The R.W.G.D.M. of England, Bro. the Earl of Carnarvon, and the G. Officers present and past"; "the R.W. the Prov. G.M. of Derbyshire, Bro. the Marquis of Hartington"; "the R.W. the D.P.G.M. of Derbyshire, Bro. Okeover"; "The R.W. the P.D.P.G.M. of Derbyshire, Bro. Colville"; "The Officers of the P.G. Lodge of Derbyshire, present and past"; "Success to the Derbyshire Masonic Hall"; "The Trustees of the Masonic Hall"; "The Architect, Bro. Sheffield, P.P.G.S. of W., and Bro. G. Woodiwiss, the Builder"; "The Visiting Brethren"; "The W.M.'s of the Derby Lodges"; "The W.M.'s of the other Lodges in the Province."

PRESCOT MASONIC HALL.

The first annual meeting of the Prescott Masonic Hall Company, Limited, was held a few days ago at the King's Arms Hotel, Prescott, near Liverpool. Bro. J. T. Hall, of Prescott Hall, Chairman of the Company, presided, and there were also present, Bros. Dennett, Fogg, J. Fowler, sen.; W. Tyrer, J. Kitchen, J. Fowler, jun.; R. D. Simpson. Bro. John Vaughan, the Secretary, read the report for the past year, from which it appeared that the progress of the Company had been most satisfactory since its formation. It was registered in December last, and the object it had in view being generally approved, a large number of the shares were speedily taken up. The primary object of the company was to provide improved accommodation for the Masonic brethren meeting in Prescott, where the old Lodge of Loyalty (86), the Royal Arch Chapter, and Encampment of Knight Templars include many members not only from amongst the residents of Prescott, but from Liverpool, Widnes, St. Helens, and other places in the surrounding neighbourhood. A piece of land was purchased in Derby-street, and on this a handsome new building is fast approaching completion by the contractor, Mr. J. Preston, of Wigan. The principal portion of the ground floor front will be let to Parr's Banking Company, St. Helens, for the establishment of a branch of their bank in Prescott, and in addition to providing excellent and ample accommodation for the Masonic gatherings, the company have consented to erect a handsome subscription billiard room on a portion of their surplus land at the back of the hall, the tender for the erection of which has also been let to Mr. Preston. Owing to this extension of their original scheme, the directors recommended that the capital of the company should be increased from £1200 to £2000 by the issue of additional shares, and this was unanimously agreed to. The retiring directors were Bros. J. F. Hall, T. Dennett, and S. Morris. Bros. Hall and Dennett were unanimously re-elected, but Dr. Morris being unable to attend in consequence of his professional duties, Bro. John Kitchen, of St. Helens, was elected in his stead. The report of the directors was unanimously adopted, and after the transaction of some formal business the proceedings closed with the usual compliment to the chairman.

MASONIC CONCERT IN LIVERPOOL.

On Saturday evening last the first of a series of five subscription concerts was given in the large banqueting hall of the New Masonic Hall, Liverpool, the special object of which is to assist in raising funds for the erection of an organ in the lodge room of the new building. The Liverpool Masonic Hall is acknowledged to be one of the best and most convenient in the provinces, and the effort to supply an instrument so useful and necessary in Masonic ceremonies is one which ought to be crowned with the most complete success. These concerts have been organised with the view of supplying the all-important instrument; and although the first of the series was not so well attended as could have been desired, no doubt in consequence of the shocking weather, there is good reason to hope that those which are to follow will be exceedingly successful. The artistes were Mrs. Billinie Porter (who proved herself a thoroughly efficient vocalist), Mrs. Skeaf (who secured more than one encore), Miss Frances Armstrong (a rising young vocalist), Bro. H. C. Harrison (whose tenor voice did full justice to his two songs), Bro. T. J. Hughes (who never fails to delight, as he did on this occasion), and Bro. T. Armstrong, (whose fine, telling voice was heard to great advantage in one of "Jack" Hatton's songs). The concert was one of the most interesting which we have heard for a long time. Bro. J. Skeaf, P.G.O., presided as accompanist at the new grand pianoforte, supplied by Messrs. Kirkman and Sons, London, and a first hearing of the instrument satisfied everyone. The accompaniments were played with the greatest taste, and Bro. Skeaf also added to the interest of the concert by playing with the finest effect his own fantasias, "The Fisherman" and "The Chimes." All the artistes generously gave their services. The refreshments for the "green-room" were most kindly provided by Bro. W. Vines, P.M. 1299.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF LEICESTERSHIRE AND RUTLAND.

The annual meeting of this Provincial Grand Lodge was held at Hinckley, on Wednesday, the 25th ult., under the auspices of the Knights of Malta Lodge, No. 50.

The lodge was held in St. George's Hall, a newly erected and very convenient building for the purpose, and which had been most tastefully decorated with banners and appropriate mottos, under the supervision of Bro. T. Tippetts, the W.M., and the brethren of No. 50.

The Craft Lodge having been opened in the three degrees, the R.W. Prov. G. Master, the Right Hon. the Earl Ferrers, and his officers entered and were received with the customary honours.

Prior to the opening of the Provincial Grand Lodge the R.W.P.G.M. took the chair of the Craft Lodge, and very efficiently performed the ceremony of installing Bro. Tippetts, who had been re-elected to the office of W.M. for a second year.

Provincial Grand Lodge was then opened in due form and the Roll of Lodges was called, every lodge in the province being represented except the Vale of Catmos, No. 1265, Oakham.

Amongst those present, in addition to the

R.W. Prov. G.M., were the following Prov. G. Officers, viz., Bros. Sir H. St. John Halford, Bart., D. Prov. G.M.; G. Toller, jun., Prov. S.G.W.; Wm. B. Smith, Prov. G. Treas.; S. S. Partridge, Prov. G., Sec. J. B. Hall, Prov. G.D.C.; R. Boughton-Smith, Prov. G.A.D.C.; W. T. Rowlett, Prov. G. Org.; George Clifton, M.D., Prov. G. Purs.; M. H. Lewin, Prov. G.S.B.; Wm. Crow and W. S. Allen, Prov. G. Stewards and C. Bembridge, Prov. G. Tyler, together with a large number of Past Provincial Grand Officers and W.M.'s, Wardens and members of the various lodges in the province. The visitors' list included Bros. H. Sanderson, P.M. 925, P.P.G. Purst., Warwickshire; Hugh Deane, 340; H. Slingsby, P.M. 432; W. Hammond, Sec. 432; J. Tickle, J.W. 1196; H. Hitchman and J. Barber, 455; G. Smith, 884; and J. H. Page, S.W. and W.M. elect; F. C. Boates, J.W.; the Rev. B. Mayou, Chaplain, and a large number of members of the Athelstan Lodge, Atherstone, No. 1333, of which Bro. Tippetts, the W.M. of No. 50, is a P.M.

The minutes of the previous annual general communication and of a special meeting held in August last were read and confirmed.

The Prov. G. Secretary read the report of the Committee of General Purposes, containing a detailed account of the proceedings of the committee with reference to the votes for the Masonic Charities, and an appeal to the brethren for increased exertions on behalf of those institutions and concluding with a review of the principal Masonic events within the province during the past year, in which special allusion was made to the interesting proceedings connected with the laying of the memorial stone of the new municipal buildings in Leicester with Masonic honours.

The accounts of the Prov. G. Treasurer, showing the province to be in a remarkably good financial position, were received and adopted.

It was resolved that the Boys' School be the charity to be supported by the province for the ensuing year, and that Bro. Robert Waite, P.M., who had represented the province as Steward for the Girls' School last year, be nominated as Steward at the next Festival of the Boys' School.

The reports from the W.M.'s of lodges were read, and a summary of the returns was submitted, the latter showing a slight decrease in the number of subscribing members compared with that of last year.

The election of Prov. G. Treasurer then took place, and Bro. William Beaumont Smith, P.M., was unanimously re-elected to the office, which he has held for several years, and the duties of which he has discharged with credit to himself, and advantage to the province.

The R.W. Prov. G.M. appointed the following brethren as his officers:—

S. Love, 779	Prov. S.G.W.
R. Waite, 1391	Prov. J.G.W.
Rev. J. H. Smith, 279	Prov. G. Chaplain.
W. B. Smith, 523	Prov. G. Treasurer.
T. G. Tippetts, 50	Prov. G. Registrar.
S.S. Partridge, 523	Prov. G. Secretary.
J. M. McAllister, 279	Prov. G. S.D.
W. Hardy, Jr., 1265	Prov. G. J.D.
R. Bindley, 50	Prov. G. Sup. W.
J. B. Hall, 1391	Prov. G. D. of C.
C. S. Preston, 50	Prov. G. Sw. B.
T. A. Wykes, 523	Prov. G. Org.
C. E. Stretton, 279	Prov. A. Purst.
T. Worthington, 50	Prov. G. Steward.
G. W. Statham, 279	Prov. G. Steward.
A. Sargeant, 523	Prov. G. Steward.
R. Dalgleish, 779	Prov. G. Steward.
G. T. Willan, 1130	Prov. G. Steward.
A. A. Barlow, 1265	Prov. G. Steward.
C. Bunbridge	Prov. G. Tyler.
T. Dunn	Prov. G. Tyler.

A letter was read from the Past Prov. G.M., Bro. W. Kelly, F.R. Hist. S., regretting that for the first time during his 36 years' connection with the Craft, he was compelled to be absent from the meeting of Prov. G. Lodge, which had been fixed for a day on which the pressure of other important engagements rendered it impossible for him to attend; Bro. Kelly made special allusion in his letter to the efficient and indefatigable services of Bro. T. A. Wykes, as acting Provincial Grand Secretary, in making the arrangements for the special meeting of Prov. G. Lodge in August last, during the absence of Bro. S. S. Partridge, the Prov. G. Secretary, on the Continent; and trusted that those services would meet with the hearty recognition of Prov. G. Lodge.

Bro. H. Deane, P.P.J.G.W., proposed that a cordial vote of thanks should be given to Bro. Wykes for the admirable and efficient manner in which he had discharged the duties of Acting Provincial Grand Secretary on the occasion above referred to. The motion was seconded by Bro. F. J. Baines, P.P.G. Purst., supported by Bro. Partridge, and carried unanimously.

The D. Prov. G.M. proposed a vote of thanks to the W.M. and brethren of the Knights of Malta Lodge for the very hearty and enthusiastic reception they had given the members of Prov. G. Lodge, and for the great trouble bestowed in beautifying and decorating the room, and preparing it for their use. Bro. Toller said that, on entering the lodge, he was quite taken by surprise at the admirable arrangements which had been made by the Hinckley brethren for the accommodation of Prov. Grand Lodge. He begged to compliment the W.M. and members of No. 50, on their highly successful efforts, and seconded the motion, which was put and carried, and afterwards suitably responded to by Bro. Tippetts, W.M.

Apologies for unavoidable absence having been read from several brethren, the Prov. G. Lodge was closed in due form.

After closing the Craft Lodge, the brethren adjourned to the banquet, which was served by Mr. Trickett, of the George Hotel, in an excellent manner.

ROYAL MASONIC INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

The General Committee of this School met on Saturday last at Freemasons' Hall, when the chair was taken by Bro. John Symonds, V.P.

There were also in attendance Bros. Major Creaton, W. Winn, H. Browse, Benjamin Head, S. Rawson, H. Dubosc, S. Rosenthal, A. H. Tattershall, Hyde Pullen, F. Adlard, Capt. N. G. Phillips, D. M. Dewar, R. W. Little, Jesse Turner, Thomas W. White, J. G. Chancellor, C. J. Palmer, E. M. Haigh, John Read, A. D. and M. D. Loewenstark, W. F. C. Montrie, C. W. Jones, W. H. Saunders, Geo. Kelly, E. W. Hubback, H. Massey (Freemason), and F. Binckes, Secretary.

The Province of Warwick having applied, through its Charity Committee, for the sanction of this Institution to a scheme for employing the Tylers in the province to collect subscriptions on behalf of the Boys' School at a small commission, which scheme had received the approval of the Provincial Grand Master, Lord Leigh, the matter was thoroughly discussed, Bros. Major Creaton, Saunders, Binckes, A. D. Loewenstark, Adlard, Rawson, Turner, and Rosenthal, taking part in the debate. The motion granting permission as requested was afterwards put to the meeting and carried.

Bro. A. H. Tattershall then brought forward the motion, of which he had given notice, and which appeared in our impression of the 28th ult.:

"That all proxies shall be forwarded direct from the office to the parties to whom they belong—i.e., to those who are registered in the office books, except in those cases where the Secretary is authorised to deal with them otherwise; but in such cases where authorities are given, they must be renewed previous to every election."

Bro. Tattershall fully explained his reason for making this motion, and said that from his experience as a Scrutineer at the elections, he felt convinced that many votes were polled by the proxies of dead subscribers being used.

The motion was seconded, and after Bro. S. Rosenthal had offered it, Bro. Binckes read several letters he had received from provinces condemning the proposition, which the writers thought would be detrimental to the interests of the Institution.

Bros. Winn, Turner, Adlard, Loewenstark and others, took part in the discussion which followed, and the brethren ultimately rejected the motion.

The minutes of the House Committee, which were read for information, led to a very long and careful deliberation of the matters referred to them.

Bro. Binckes read the extract which related to this school, from the will of Mr. George Welling, of Chelmsford, under which "the Masons Boys' and Girls' School" take one third of residue of the testator's personal estate. Bro. Binckes also stated that the matter of Bro. Clabbequest had been laid before Bro. J. M. Clabbe and that brother would draw up a report upon it to be laid before the Committee in January. He was unable to attend the present meeting but if he had attended it he would have advised that the bequest should be accepted, and trusts of the will carried out.

Five petitions were then considered, and four out of the five candidates were passed as suitable to be placed on the list for election; and the Committee, having sat nearly two hours and a half, adjourned after passing a cordial vote of thanks to the chairman.

Advertisements.

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC AND LIVER PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Dandelion, Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger.
No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Costiveness, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and most delicate may take them with safety.
Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON'S SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success.
In Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by
THOMAS WILKINSON,
270, Regent Street, London, W.
May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUININE For the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, Effects of MALARIA.
An Unfailing Remedy.
Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily in small quantity, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, that thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Full Dose Prepared only by
THOMAS WILKINSON,
270, Regent Street, London, W.
May be had of all leading Firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON'S BRONCHIO-THORACIC LOZENGES.
Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience fully justified their recommendation as the most speedy remedy for Irritation of the Throat, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers vocalists they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and bold tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable taste. In bottles of one uniform size.

Glasgow Advertisements.

MASONIC LODGE COMMERCIAL
(No. 350).
Meet in their Lodge Room
No. 30, HOPE STREET, GLASGOW,
On the First and Third Friday of the month at 8 o'clock.
W. H. BICKERTON,

ROSE HOTEL,
109, ARGYLE STREET.

Quiet Family Hotel. lofty and Well-Ventilated Rooms, Culinary Department First-Class.
Bao. G. B. ADAMS, Proprietor.

ST. ANDREW'S RESTAURANT
Nos. 28, 30, & 32, HUTCHESON STREET

Luncheons, Dinners, Fish and Tripe Suppers, at moderate charges. Ample Accommodation for Large Small Marriage or Supper Parties, Commis- sions, &c.
Bao. S. MCPHEE, Proprietor.

BRO. JOHN C. REID ENGRAVER,

Every Description of Silver and Ornamental Engraving Masonic and General.
No. 109, ARGYLE STREET.

BRO. WILLIAM PHILLIPS PRACTICAL TAILOR AND CLOTHIER
No. 92, RUTHERGLEN LANE.
Has had long experience in the Manufacture and Description of Masonic Clothing, and has always at hand a varied assortment of the same, made at the most moderate charges.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
 DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875;
 AS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE,
 CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

The London Meetings are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in Towns, alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS
 The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri.
 It contains tidings from every quarter of the world, of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $2 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 per copy. Postage free.
 Copies received at the Office of the London "Freemason"
 198, Fleet-street.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.

COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.

THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.
 The bay and strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists will find Tramore worthy of being known as a resort place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yatching, boating, and a hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, at the most moderate of any similar house in the county.

James Hearn, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor,

Rosherville Hotel.

(NEAR GRAVESEND.)

MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS, JEUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-
 BAIT TEAS.

The hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, affording a splendid view of the river. It commands, with the convenient wharf, renders it particularly agreeable.
 The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the cuisine will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every palate of taste.
 Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend
 Railway Station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
 Bro. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
 Proprietors

Masons' Hall Tavern,
 10, NEW AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY
 Above old-established Tavern is NOW
 OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN
 Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other bodies, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new proprietor.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES

MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE

Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems.
 The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five Quires, emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
 LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTEN-HAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for country, sent on receipt on 34 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes Indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
 7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.

Public and Private Dining Rooms:
 First-class Cooking and Wines.
 Open for Suppers after the Theatre.
 Bro. F. HILFKEICH, Proprietor.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street
 LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbi-trations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.
 SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
 GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron.
 Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-
 rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales.
 Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also
 for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited
 32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
 JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

GEORGE KENNING, MASONIC PUBLISHER,

One vol. 800 pages 8vo., with an Index, cloth gilt. Price 10s. 6d.
 History of Freemasonry, from its Origin to the Present Day.

Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations. By Bro. J. G. FINDEL. Second Edition, revised and preface written by Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

Imperial 8vo., bound in cloth, richly ornamented. Price £1 11s. 6d.
 story of the Lodge of Edinburgh (Mary's Chapel) No. 1.

Embracing an account of the Rise and Progress of Freemasonry in Scotland, by Bro. DAVID MURRAY LYON. With Twenty-six Fac-similes of Ancient Statutes, Minutes of various Lodges, Seals, and Orders, &c., and Authentic Portraits and Autographs of Sixty Eminent Craftsmen of the past and present time.

With Illustrations. Price 38s.

Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and its Kindred Sciences.

Comprising the whole range of Arts, Sciences, and Literature, as connected with the Institution. By Bro. ALBERT G. MACKAY, M.D., Author of "Lexicon of Freemasonry," "A Text Book of Masonic Jurisprudence," "Symbolism of Freemasonry," &c., &c.

Now Ready. Price 5s., post free 5s. 3d.

Life of Constantine.

Written in Greek, by EUSEBIUS PAMPHILUS (Bishop of Caesarea in Palestine). Done into English from that edition, set forth by VALESIIUS, and printed in Paris in the year 1659. Preface by Bro. R. WENTWORTH LITTLE, Treas. Gen., and the Rev. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C. With Engravings of Constantine the Great, Lord Ranelagh, of Ireland, Grand Commander of the Orders of Constantine and Phillip; H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex, K.G., Grand Sovereign from 1813 to 1843; the Earl of Beville, M.P., Grand Sovereign 1866 to 1874; Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., Grand Viceroy 1866 to 1874, Grand Sovereign 1874 and 1875; Colonel Francis Burdett, Grand Viceroy 1874 and 1875; Robert Wentworth Little, Grand Recorder 1865 to 1872, Grand Treasurer 1873, 4, and 5; the Knights of Constantine, and the Vision of the Cross, &c., &c.

Shortly will be published,

Defence of Freemasonry.

By Bro. Rev. A. F. WOODFORD, Past Grand Chaplain.

Fourth Edition. Now ready. Price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

Reflected Rays of Light upon Freemasonry; or, the Freemasons' Pocket Compendium.

With an Emblematical Frontispiece. A Handbook of the principles of Freemasonry and Pocket Vade-Mecum and Guide to the various Ceremonies connected with Craft Masonry, so far as the same are allowed to be communicable.

Second Edition. Price 1s., post free. Revised and Enlarged.

Freemasonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle.

By Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON (Past Master No. 393, England). This work is a perfect handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, founded on the Ancient Charges and Symbols, and will be found to be eminently practical and useful in the vindication and support of the Order.

Re-Issue, now Ready. Price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.

Masonic Gatherings.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR, P.M. Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c., &c.

Grand Lodge Constitutions.

With the Three Charges and the Entered Apprentice's Song, 2s.

Demy 12mo., 208 pages, handsomely bound, price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 8d.

Israelites Found in the Anglo-Saxons.

The Ten Tribes supposed to be lost traced from the Land of their Captivity to their occupation of the Isles of the Sea. With an exhibition of those traits of Character and National Characteristics assigned to Israel in the Books of the Hebrew prophets; by Bro. WILLIAM CARPENTER, P.M., P.Z., Author of "Scientia Biblica," "Scripture Natural History," "Guide to the Reading of the Bible," "Lecture Natural History," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critical Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critical Introduction to the Bible," "Calendarium Palestinæ," "An Introduction to the Reading and Study of the English Bible," and Editor of the fifth large edition of "Calmet's Dictionary of the Bible," and of the Abridgement of the same, &c., &c.

Richly Coloured, 9½ by 6, arranged for pocket, in book form, price 7s. 6d.
 Craft Tracing Boards.

Larger sizes in stock from 18 by 10 to 40 by 27 inches.

The Freemason.

Vols. I., 4s. 6d.; II., 7s. 6d.; III., IV., V., &c., 15s. each.

Now Ready, No. 18 (December). Price 6d., post free 7d. Annual Subscription, including postage—United Kingdom, 7s.; America, 9s. (payable in advance).

The Masonic Magazine: A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

Now ready. Price 2s., post free 2s. 2d.

The Cosmopolitan Masonic Calendar, Diary, and Pocket-book for 1875.

Containing List of Lodges, Chapters, K. T. Preceptories, Red Cross Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers in all parts of the world. The London Meetings of every degree are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in towns alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

In the press, Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 5s.

A Full-coloured Illustrated Book of Masonic Clothing and Jewels, from Master Mason to the 30th degree (inclusive).

Now Ready, with Index and Preface, in 12 Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in One Handsome Volume, £3. Handsome Cloth Covers, with Gilt Lines, and Lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

The Freemasons' Liber Musicus.

Dedicated by expressed permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, M.W. Grand Master. Edited by Dr. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—198.

This work contains 216 pp. and 118 Musical Compositions suitable for all the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges; Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation; Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

AMERICAN.

Guide to the Royal Arch Chapter.

A complete Monitor for Royal Arch Masonry. With full instructions in the degrees of Mark Master, Past Master, &c. According to the Manual of the Chapter, together with an historical introduction, explanatory notes, and critical emendations.

True Masonic Chart;

A Hieroglyphic Monitor, containing all the Emblems Explained in the degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow-Craft, and Master Mason. Designed and arranged agreeably to the Lectures. Price 6s.

Signet of King Solomon; or, the Freemason's Daughter.

New Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 6s.

Washington and his Masonic Compeers.

Illustrated with a copy of a Masonic Portrait of Washington, painted from Life. With numerous other Engravings. Tenth edition. Price 11s. 3d.

The Royal Arch Companion.

A Manual of Royal Arch Masonry. Containing monitorial instructions, together with the ceremonies of Constituting and Dedicating Chapters and Installing Officers. 4s. 6d.

The Origin and Early History of Freemasonry.

Containing various responses to the question, "What is Masonry?" the true aim, purport, and mission of the same. 4s. 6d.

Masonic Trials.

A Treatise of the Law and Practice of Masonic Trials in the Lodge, Chapter, &c., with forms and precedents. Containing also the Constitutions and Edicts of the General Grand Bodies; the Ancient Landmarks; Ancient Constitutions, Charges and Regulations, and an appendix of general forms. 7s. 6d.

Masonic Law and Practice,

With forms, &c. 5s.

OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON, E.C.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered. CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma. CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague. CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery. CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms. CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

Extract from "INDIAN ECONOMIST."

"We direct the attention of medical men to a fact observed some years since by ourselves, and corroborated by our subsequent experience, that Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is in many cases of Low Fever immensely superior to Quinine in curative power. We cannot persuade ourselves that the true value of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is yet properly appraised in India. . . . It may be given with absolute safety even to a child three days old. Were medical men but to make a fair and exhaustive trial of it we are persuaded that it would work a revolution in the treatment of two-thirds of the diseases to which children are subject. Its curative power is simply amazing."

"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he had received a despatch from her Majesty's Consul at Manila, to the effect that Cholera had been raging fearfully, and that the ONLY remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE."—See Lancet, Dec. 1. 1864.

From W. VESALIUS PETTIGREW, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England.

Formerly Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine.

"I have no hesitation in stating, after a fair trial of Chlorodyne, that I have never met with any medicine so efficacious as an Anti-Spasmodic Sedative. I have tried it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhoea, and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

From Dr. THOMAS SANDIFORD, Passage West, Cork.

"I will thank you to send me a further supply of Chlorodyne. It was the most efficacious remedy I ever used, affording relief in a violent attack of Spasms within a minute after being taken. One patient in particular, who has suffered for years with periodical attacks of Spasms of a most painful nature, and unable to obtain relief from other remedies, such as opium, &c., finds nothing so prompt and efficacious as Chlorodyne."

From JNO. E. GOULSTONE, M.D., late Principal Surgeon to the Steamship Great Eastern.

"I can confidently state Chlorodyne is an admirable Sedative and Anti-Spasmodic, having used it in Neuralgia, Hysteria, Asthma, and Consumption, with remarkably favourable results. It relieved a fit of Asthma in four minutes, where the patient had suffered eleven years in a most distressing manner, no previous remedy having had so immediate and beneficial an effect."

From Dr. B. J. BOULTON and Co., Horncastle.

"We have made pretty extensive use of Chlorodyne in our practice lately, and look upon it as an excellent direct Sedative and Anti-Spasmodic. It seems to allay pain and irritation in whatever organ, and from whatever cause. It induces a feeling of comfort and quietude not obtainable by other remedies, and it seems to possess this great advantage over all other sedatives, that it leaves no unpleasant after effects."

J. C. BAKER, Esq., M.D. Bideford.

"It is, without doubt, the most valuable and certain Anodyne we have."

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated that Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of CHLORODYNE; the story of the Defendant, Freeman, was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "Times," 13th July, 1864.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" and Government Stamp. Overwhelming Medical Testimony accompanies each Bottle.

CAUTION.—BEWARE OF PIRACY AND IMITATIONS.

SOLE MANUFACTURER—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, GREAT RUSSELL STREET, BLOOMSBURY, LONDON.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

SUBERIUM.

Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for

SUBERIUM.

NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c.

SUBERIUM.

Retail through all Furnishing Houses.

SUBERIUM.

Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only kind

used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch, are respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow out the directions printed on every package. It is rather more difficult to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, they will say, like the Queen's Laundress, that it is the finest Starch they ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, see that you get it."

GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, MENTAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power

By DR. HENRY SMITH. GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening of the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Strength, Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Illustrated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in each case. The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on receipt of two penny stamps. Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Burton-crescent, London, W.C.

WEAK OR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPECTACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision by Bro. ACKLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Home and Thorpe's, Opticians to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. Send six stamps for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contains valuable suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

COMFORT FOR TENDER FEET.—Try Anthony Scard's new material!

Peculiarly Prepared Porpoise Skin. Soft as silk, shines like patent, never cracks, becomes softer and finer in wear, a perfect durable luxury and superlative specialty. 8, Bow Lane, Cheapside, E.C. Ladies' orders skilfully executed. One trial insures satisfaction.

Now Ready, Fifth Edition. 5s.

THE SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE of HADES; or, the State and Abode of the Dead.

By Brother the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. "A book of profound thrilling interest."—Christian Age. London Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

Richard Rayner & Co.,

MANUFACTURING

CABINET MAKERS AND UPHOLSTERERS,

142, ALDERSGATE STREET, LONDON, E.C.

PIANOFORTES FIRST-CLASS,

PEACHEY'S'

THREE YEARS' SYSTEM OF PURCHASE. PIANOFORTES AND HARMONIUMS LENT ON HIRE, FOR THREE YEARS;

By equal Quarterly Deposits, And without further payment, the Instrument becomes the property of the Hirer.

TERMS: PLANETTE PIANOFORTES, 7 OCTAVES, 3 feet 6 inches high. 2, 2½, and 3 Guineas per Quarter. PICCOLO PIANOFORTES, 7 OCTAVES, 3 feet 9 inches high. 2½, 3, 3½, and 4 Guineas per Quarter. COTTAGE PIANOFORTES, 7 OCTAVES, 4 feet high. 3, 3½, 4, 4½, and 5 Guineas per Quarter.

Harmoniums and American Organs, on the Purchase System, From 10s. to 21s. PER MONTH. GRAND PIANOFORTES LENT ON HIRE.

CITY OF LONDON MANUFACTORY, PEACHEY, 72 AND 73, BISHOPSGATE STREET WITHIN, E.C.

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,

LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS. £ s. d. Entrance Fee 5 0 0 Annual Subscription 3 3 0 Members residing and carrying on business at a distance of fifty miles and upwards from London, Merchant-Captains, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee) 1 1 0 The room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and books of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante, Telegraph-office, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lavatories, &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers. Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND, F.M., F.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W., &c., Manager.

GEORGE REES

MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in La

GEORGE REES'

GILT MOULDINGS, &c. in the Trade.

GEORGE REES'

100,000 feet of GILT BORDERING in stock, 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES'

First-class ENGRAVING from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES'

CHROMOS, from the Masters, at reduced prices

57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lane 1

SWANSEA.

Agent for "The Freemason." Bro. CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., sea. A large stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and requisite for all Degrees of Freemasonry. Agent for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, &c. Books, Candles, Perfumes, &c. Advertisements received for "The Freemason."

THE ENTR'ACTE.

A MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REPERTORY for One Penny. Used as a programme at the London and Provincial Music Halls. The Editor has extensive circulation, and gets into the hands of every musical and music-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon. First-rate medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be post at 1/8 per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 10, street, Covent Garden, W.C.

EMPLOYMENT WANTED, as Janitor, or Equerry.—Address, R. J., 19, C street, W.C.

TO BE LET.—A LARGE ROOM

Bro. Smith's, the Union Tavern, Abchurch-lane, street, W. Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, or Chapters of Instructors, Private Clubs, Public or presentation Dinners. Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother George at his Offices, 198, Fleet-street, and 4, 5, an Britain, in the City of London. Also, at the Office in the County of Lancashire, at the City of Lancaster, St. Enock's-lane, Glasgow.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S
WORLD FAMED
BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK,—"BLOOD MIXTURE."

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER,

For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, can no be too highly recommended.

For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it a never-failing and permanent cure.

- It Cures old Sores.
- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Legs.
- Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
- Cures Scurvy Sores.
- Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
- Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
- Cures Glandular Swellings.
- Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts. Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 27 or 132 stamps by

F. J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln.
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

CROSBY'S
BALSAMIC
COUGH ELIXIR.

Opiates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. It is a weed of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at a expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increase that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern medicine points to CROSBY'S

BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.
SELECT TESTIMONIAL.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Night Sweats of Consumption, Quinsey, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist: Scarborough.

* * * Invalids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had gratis of all Chemists.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable over Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Life Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND INSURANCE CO., (Established 1807.)

Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne
Agents Wanted.

Just published, Free Edition,
GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS, MENTAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all diseases of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerve Power By DR. HENRY SMITH.

GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Strength. Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Illustrated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in each case. The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address on receipt of two penny stamps.

Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Burton-on-Trent, London, W.C.

Richard Rayner & Co.,
MANUFACTURING CABINET MAKERS AND UPHOLSTERERS,
142, ALDERSGATE STREET,
LONDON, E.C.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA,

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admixture.

This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible beverage for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."

It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.

In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)

Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

CAUTION.
GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.
Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN,
81, CITY ROAD, FINSBURY SQUARE, AND 24, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNHAM ROAD, opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.
No connection with any other establishment of the same name.
Only at the above addresses. Every Funeral at stated charges—See Illustrated Prospectus.

RUPTURES—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
WHITE'S MOC-MAIN LEVER TRUSS
Is allowed by upwards of 500 Medical Men to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often harmful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER, fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss, which cannot fail to fit, forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body, two inches below the hips, being sent to the

MANUFACTURER,
Mr. WHITE, 228, Piccadilly, London.
Price of a Single Truss, 16s., 21s., 26s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. Postage free.
" of a Double Truss, 31s. 6d., 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free.
" of Umbilical Truss, 42s. and 52s. 6d. Postage free.
Post Office Orders to be made payable to JOHN WHITE, Post Office, Piccadilly.

NEW PATENT
ELASTIC STOCKINGS, KNEECAPS, &c.
The material of which these are made is recommended by the faculty as being peculiarly ELASTIC and COMPRESSIBLE and the best invention for giving efficient and permanent support in all cases of WEAKNESS, VARICOSE VEINS, &c. Price 4s. 6d., 7s. 6d., 10s., and 16s. each. Postage free.

CHEST EXPANDING BRACES,
(For both sexes).
For gentlemen they are a substitute for the ordinary braces.
For children they are invaluable, they prevent stooping and preserve the symmetry of the chest.
Prices, for children, 5s. 6d. and 7s. 6d.; adults, 10s. 6d., 15s. 6d., and 21s. each. Postage free.
And Every Description of Surgical Appliances.
JOHN WHITE, Manufacturer, 228, Piccadilly, London

YOUNG'S ARNICATED CORN AND JUNIOR PLAISTERS are the best ever invented for giving immediate ease, and removing those painful excrescences. Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist not having them in stock can procure them.
Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without which none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's.

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.—
The Best Remedy for ACIDITY of the STOMACH, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, GOUT, AND INDIGESTION, and the best mild aperient for delicate constitutions, especially adapted for LADIES, CHILDREN, and INFANTS.
DINNEFORD & CO.
172, New Bond Street, London, and of all Chemists.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.
SUBERIUM. Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for NURSERIES, LIBRARIES, ENTRANCE HALLS, BATH ROOMS, &c.
Retail through all Furnishing Houses.
Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.
THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

FREDERICK ADLARD
MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.,
Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher (Registered)

No. 225, HIGH HOLBORN,
Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE
"THE WORCESTERSHIRE."
Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE BEST SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavor.
ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS to avoid which see the names, LEA & PERRINS, on all bottles and labels.
Agents—Crosse & Blackwell, London, and by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only used in Her Majesty's Laundry. Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glenfield Starch respectfully solicited to give it a trial, and carefully follow the directions printed on every package. It is rather more to make than other Starches, but when this is overcome, say, like the Queen's Laundry, that it is the best Starch ever used. "When you ask for the Glenfield, ask for this price ever used."

GEORGE REES MAPLE and ROSE MOULDINGS, best in L.
GEORGE REES' GILT MOULDINGS, d in the Trade.
GEORGE REES' 100,000 feet of GILT BORDERING in stock 1d. per foot.
GEORGE REES' First-class ENGRAV from 2s. each.
GEORGE REES' CHROMOS, from the Masters, at reduced pr 57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lan

TABLE OF CONTENTS:

ARTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 Craft Masonry..... 815
 Royal Arch..... 817
 York Masonry..... 817
 Ireland..... 817
 Warren's Letter..... 820
 Masonic Jurisprudence..... 821
 RESPONDENCE:—
 Office of Grand Master..... 821
 Masonic Jurisprudence..... 822
 Masonic Portraits..... 822
 Masonic Charities..... 822
 Installation of the Grand Master..... 822
 Notes and Queries..... 822
 Grand Master and the A. and A. Rite..... 822
 Social Grand Lodge of Down..... 822
 Masonry in New Zealand..... 823
 Masonic Hall in Hobart Town..... 823
 Masonic Presentation in Ireland..... 824
 I.G.M. on Gymnastic Training..... 824
 Masonic Tidings..... 824
 Masonic Notes..... 824
 Disbursements..... 813 814 820 825 826 827 828

PORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

OXON AND LAMB LODGE (No. 192).—This held its last meeting at the City Terminus, Cannon-street, on Thursday, the 3rd inst. Geo. Abbott, W.M., in the chair. The members present were Bros. Geo. Newman, S.W.; Cohu, J.W.; J. G. Marsh, P.M., Sec.; Es Arkell, S.D.; E. Jones, J.D.; H. King, I.G.; and Bros. F. Trott; E. King; E. King; and Geo. Kenning, P.M.'s. The following gentlemen were initiated into the Order: S. V. Hibbins; T. B. Charlesworth; and Gillam. Bro. Geo. Newman was unanimously elected W.M. for the year ensuing, and W. Goodyer, Treasurer. The members went to an excellent repast, served in Bro. Newman's usual good style, which gave general satisfaction. Bro. Geo. Abbott, W.M., presided at the banquet-table, and proposed the following toasts with great zest, and in reply to the toast of the W.M. he took the opportunity of congratulating the officers and brethren for the courtesies and kindness which has always been shown throughout his year of office, particularly for the support he received from them in re-igning the lodge at the last festival of the School, when by their liberality he was enabled to present the largest list that had ever been presented to any of the charities, viz., upwards of a hundred pounds. An exceedingly pleasant and interesting meeting terminated the proceedings. We note that a gold P.M.'s jewel was proposed to be presented to the late W.M. (Bro. Abbott) for the efficient manner in which he has discharged his duties during the present year. Amongst the members the following were present, Bros. Jones; G. Taylor; E. Taylor; C. Cann; Dunn; W. Ramsay; T. Fisher; W. King; H. Davis; Jno. Curle; S. Edwards; Bright; S. Haynes; W. Smale; E. J. Lucas; W. Alfatt; H. A. Pratt; W. Medley; T. Lucas; J. G. Chillingworth; Geo. Hall; G. T. Smith; J. Fuller; Goddard; T. Barker; S. Spencer; J. and others. Visitors, Bros. R. Gunner, P. Munfin, (229); C. R. Jardine, (56); Wilson, (1298); E. Clark, (1329); W. King, (147); C. Clarke, (177); J. Oxenden, OSBORNE.—Etonian Lodge of St. John (No. 100).—The usual monthly meeting of this lodge held on the 1st inst., under the presidency of W.M. Prov., G. W. Dixon. The following brethren were present:—Bros. J. Wilson, (acting) S.W.; J. O. Carter, J.W.; Pullin, Treasurer; J. Strange, P.M. Secretary; Denne, S.D.; G. Cauvin, I.G.; R. King, S.; E. Schiemann, S.; J. H. S. Reid, Bryett, P.M., Prov. Grand Steward and Bucks; T. R. McIlwham, P.M., P.P. Middlesex; Hiscock, Andrews, A. Wilson, Es, &c. Visitors: Bros. Grisebrook, P.M. Howell, P.M. 771; Cantrell, 771; Carter, Richards, P.M. 865 P.P.J.G.W., Middlesex; G.S.; Needham, P.M. 865; Baker (see Ports), &c. The minutes of the previous meeting having been confirmed, the ballot was taken for Mr. Woods, of Kneller Hall, and on being declared by the W.M. to be unanimous, he was initiated into Freemasonry by Bro. Mc. Illwham, P.M. The W.M. then passed Bro. Andrews to the second degree, and raised Bro. Whomes to the degree of M.M. The next business of importance was electing the W.M. for the ensuing year. The choice of the brethren fell upon the J.W., Bro. J. O. Carter, Bro. Bladon, S.W., having declined the honour, or he would, without a doubt, have been elected unanimously. Bro. Pullin, P.M., was again elected as Treasurer, and Bro. Case Tyler. A Past Master's jewel was voted to the W.M. for his valuable services in the chair during his successful year of office. The brethren voted a sum of £5 5s. to be added to the list of Bro. J. O. Carter, J.W., on his serving the office of Steward of the Benevolent Institution. After some routine business had been disposed of the lodge was closed, and the brethren adjourned to the Castle Hotel for refreshment.

BERKLEY.—Royal Lodge of Faith and Friendship (No. 270).—The regular meeting of this lodge took place on Monday evening, 7th inst., at the Berkeley Arms Hotel. Bros. D. Besley, W.M.; John Gamble, S.W.; Wm. Smith, J.W.; Thos. Morse, S.D.; I. Iles, J.D.; Wm. Fairley, I.G.; W. P. Hadley, D.C.; Capt. A. Bloxsome, Treas. and Sec.; Joseph Merrett, Tyler; J. Pinnell, P.M.; E. Gregory, Past S.W.; J. Bloxsome; Moses Eyles; Fredk. Godwin; I. Wetmore; Thos. Handley; &c. The minutes of the last meeting having been read and confirmed, the ballot was taken for Messrs. C. H. Pawson and Thomas Neale, who, both being present, were initiated into the ancient mysteries of Freemasonry by the W.M., the charge having been delivered by Bro. Capt. Bloxsome in a most impressive and effective manner, the explanation of the working tools being given by Bro. J. Bloxsome. The next business on the agenda paper was the ballot for the W.M. and Treasurer for the ensuing year, when Bro. John Gamble was unanimously elected W.M. and Bro. Capt. A. Bloxsome, Treasurer. The lodge was then closed in ancient form, and the brethren adjourned to the banquet-room, where the evening was spent in harmony and brotherly love.

LEEDS.—Fidelity Lodge (No. 289).—On Thursday, Dec. 3rd, Dr. Spark, Organist of the Leeds Town Hall, was installed Worshipful Master of the Fidelity Lodge, Leeds. The lodge was opened by Bro. H. Inchbold, P.M. The Installing Master was Bro. Mason, P.M. of the Philanthropic Lodge, 304, who performed his duties in an impressive manner. There were present, besides about 40 members of the lodge, and visiting brethren from Leeds, Bro. Bentley Shaw, D.P.G.M. of West Yorkshire; Bro. H. Smith, Prov. G. Sec.; Bro. the Hon. and Rev. P. Yorke Saville, P.P.G. Chaplain; Bro. Colonel Wilkinson, of Stockport, P.M.; and several Masters and Past Masters. The D.P.G.M. congratulated the lodge on the election of Dr. Spark as W.M., remarking that he was an honour to Masonry and to the town in which he resided. The banquet was attended by a goodly number of Masons, and the whole proceedings were of a very pleasing character, Masonic music, selected from the Freemasons' Liber Musicus (edited by Dr. Spark), was performed during the evening.

HAVANT.—Carnarvon Lodge (No. 804).—The last meeting of this lodge which will be held at the Black Dog Inn, Havant, took place on Monday, 5th inst., and was numerous attended. After the regular work, consisting of the raising of Bro. Burr, the passing of Bros. Burton and Southwood, and the initiation of Mr. Liddell, had been transacted, a short but effective speech was made by Bro. Hillman, P.M., P. Prov. G.S.B. Hants and J.W., expressing the gratitude of the brethren for the prosperity with which the lodge had met and the harmony which had prevailed amongst its members during the past fifteen years, and their hope that such prosperity and harmony would continue for many years to come. The brethren then sat down to a banquet under the presidency of the W.M., Bro. Harrison, whose zeal for Freemasonry is proverbial, and after the usual loyal toasts had been given, the health of the Prov. G.M. for Hampshire and the Isle of Wight (Bro. W. B. Besch, M.P.), and the Prov. Grand Officers present and past was drunk, and was acknowledged by Bro. Trigg, P.M., Prov. G. Supt. Works, and Bro. H. Martin Green, P.M., P. Prov. G. Purst., the latter of whom took occasion to call attention to the subscription for the widow of the late well-known and much regretted Bro. J. R. Stebbing, D. Prov. G.M. of Hants and I.W. A private collection was afterwards set on foot by Bro. Francis, I.P.M., and happily realized a considerable sum to be added to the fund. In responding to the toast of "The Newly Initiated Members" Bro. Liddell made some excellent remarks, in the course of which he introduced an apposite quotation from Cicero to the effect that "the happiest moment of a man's life is when he emerges from a state of anxiety and uncertainty to clearness of light and knowledge." The health of Bro. Kirkman, P.M., P. Prov. G.J.W., the father of the lodge, was afterwards given, in the course of his reply to which Bro. Kirkman strongly deprecated the mercenary feelings which unfortunately too often prompt the actions of brethren after their admission, and most emphatically condemned the reprehensible practice, prevailing in many lodges meeting at an hotel, of brethren leaving the lodge-room during labour for the purpose of obtaining refreshment. The Tyler's toast ended a most enjoyable evening; but this account must not be closed before the Worshipful Master is congratulated on the fact that his next lodge will be held at the Town Hall of Havant, a building which, independent of its non-connection with any hotel or tavern, possesses rooms well calculated to enhance the beauties of our ceremonies, and to promote the comfort of the brethren.

EXETER.—Semper Fidelis Lodge (No. 1254).—The sixth annual festival of this lodge, was held at the Masonic Hall, on Monday, the W.M. Bro. J. H. Warren, presiding. After the preliminary business was transacted, Bro. W. Cann, P. Prov. G.S.W., proceeded to install the W.M. Elect, Bro. F. Horspool, in the Master's chair for the ensuing twelve months. The ceremony, as usual, was gone through in the most impressive manner by Bro. W. Cann, and then the newly installed Master selected and invested the following brethren as his officers for the current year: B. Barber, S.W.; G. Huxham, J.W.; H. W. Hooper, Treas.; W. Brodie, Sec.; W. Pidsley, S.D.; E. T. Fulford, J.D.; A. Hamlin, C.; F. Sanders, D.C.; W. A. Gregory, I.G.; W. Peters, O.; W. R. Cummings, S.S.; F. T. Bonter, J.S. Bro. Gregory was appointed Tyler, and Bro. Blanchard, Assistant Tyler. After the appointment of the above officers, the gratifying presentation of a Past Master's Jewel was made to the I.P.M., Bro. J. H. Warren, by the newly installed Master. The jewel was unanimously voted by the members of the lodge, and its presentation was the signal for hearty applause, in approval of the conduct of the recipient during his year of office. The jewel was a solid gold square, and bore the name of the lodge in raised gold letters, on a gold ribbon. Bro. Warren heartily thanked the members of the lodge for their highly appreciated presentation, and assured them that the possession of such a valuable memento of his year of office could not fail to remind him of his Masonic duties, nor of his deep obligation, to one and all, for the respect at all times exhibited towards him, and the great kindness received at their hands. The brethren then unanimously voted the sum of ten guineas towards the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls. On the closing of the lodge the brethren adjourned to Bro. Langdon's, Globe Hotel, where an excellent banquet was served, and ample justice done to the excellent viands so bountifully provided. Bro. Horspool occupied the chair, and Bro. Barber the vice-chair. The following brethren were present:—F. Horspool, W.M.; J. Warren, I.P.M.; W. Cann, P. Prov. G.S.W.; C. R. N. Lyne, P.P.G.C.; H. L. Brewster, P.P.G.R.; H. W. Hooper, P.P.G.R.; S. Jones, P. Prov. G.S.D.; W. F. Quicke, P.M. 39; J. Page, P.M. 151; W. Shears, P.M. 372; R. Anning, R. Southcott, W. Brodie, W. Pidsley, J. Littlejohns, W. R. Comings, F. J. Williams, G. Sercombe, Quarter-Master Sergeant W. Dixon, 1,000; Sergeant J. Linington, 31; B. Barber, S. H. Culley, F. Neebe, F. Sanders, R. W. Pyne, M. Hooper, J. Stocker, G. Huxham, E. T. Fulford, H. Stocker, J. Algar, W. A. Gregory, A. Hamlin, P. L. Blanchard and others. The room was gaily decorated with loyal and other mottoes and evergreens, and festooned and hung with flags and banners, by an enthusiastic and respected brother. The tables were nicely set out, the floral decorations, distributed in handsome vases, &c., together with a bunch of sweet-scented violets placed in front of each brother, were fully appreciated and favourably commented on. The banquet over a well selected and ample dessert was placed on the tables, and the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were severally given, in appropriate terms, from the chair, most of the toasts being followed with glees and songs having reference thereto. It is no small inducement for those connected with the Craft to attend the banquet of Semper Fidelis to hear the excellent musical abilities that is prominent at this annual gathering. The following brethren formed the choir: Bros. F. Horspool, W. M.; B. Barber, S. W.; G. Huxham, J. W.; W. A. Gregory, I. G.; assisted by Bros. J. Algar, and H. Stocker, of St. John's Lodge, No. 39. A vote of thanks to the host and hostess was duly proposed and carried. A most harmonious and happy evening was spent, and "God save the Queen" brought the Masonic year of Semper Fidelis Lodge to an agreeable close.

GREENWICH.—Star Lodge (No. 1275).—The regular meeting of this prosperous lodge was held at the Ship Hotel, Greenwich, on Friday December 4th. Punctually at four o'clock (the time specified for the meeting), Bro. George Pymm, W. M. (P. M. 749, P. M. 1310), opened the lodge. He was supported by Bros. J. J. Limebeer, S. W.; H. J. Green, J. W.; J. Smith, P. G. P.; P. M. Treas.; F. Walters, P. G. P. Midx., P. M. Secy. Rev. Colles, P. P. G. C. Oxon, Chaplain; R. W. Williams, S. D.; C. W. Williams, J. D.; W. Bell, I. G.; W. B. Woodman, M. C.; Waugh, P. G. P., P. M.; H. Keeble, P. M.; T. R. Darke, P. M.; J. Ellis: A. C. Woodward, W. E. Williams, H. W. Elmer, J. Finch, W. Hardman, G. S. Elliott, Ole Jacobsen, W. P. Tong, J. T. C. Brooks, W. Ripps, E. H. Rands, J. Fox, E. Lane, W. Brough, with others. Amongst a large number of visitors were Bros. C. H. Cobbett, W. M. 190, H. Jager, P. M. 453, C. G. C. Stahr, P. M. 1309, A. Thomas, 1446, J. Anerley, 177, T. W. Martin 1257, A. H. Edwards 1257, &c. The minutes were read and unanimously confirmed. The ballots, taken separately, were unanimous in favour of the admission of all the candidates for initiation. The work, most ably, correctly, and impressively done, was the initiation separately of Messrs. E. W. Chetwynd, E. H. Rand, J. T. C. Brooks, and Captain A. Jacobsen. After which, Bro. W. Hardman was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason, Bro. W. E. Williams presented the lodge with a splendid floor cloth for use in Third Degree, for which he received a vote of thanks, and the same to be entered on the lodge minute book. The usual large number of propositions for initiation were recorded. Bro. W. Bell, I. G., made an eloquent appeal on behalf of the Royal Beneficent Institution, and for which he is the Steward representing this lodge. The lodge was duly closed, the banquet was served, the regular toasts being received and responded to.

KENNINGTON LODGE (No. 1381).—The last meeting for the year of this lodge was held at the Surrey Club House, Kennington Oval, on the 1st inst. The lodge was opened at 4.30 p.m. by Bro. Koch, W. M., assisted by Bro. Higgins, acting S. W.; Gardner, J. W.; Walls, acting S. D.; Painter, J. D.; Reeves, I. G.; Webb, W. S.; Heyward, A. D. C.; Stuart, P. M. and Sec. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and confirmed, the W. M., assisted by his officers, raised Bros. Bolton, Speedy, Poole, W. Ellis, and W. A. Ellis to the sublime degree of M. M.'s. He then passed Bros. Cruse and Gibson as F. C.'s. The ceremonies of both degrees were satisfactorily carried out. Bro. Walls then addressed the lodge at length upon the advisability of passing a vote of thanks to Bro. Pope, the manager of the clubhouse, who had catered for the lodge since its foundation. He spoke of him as being a brother whose urbanity, courtesy, and obliging conduct had won for him an excellent name in all lodges of the Craft, and said that he personally felt that he could not let the opportunity pass of recording in open lodge his Masonic opinion of him. He felt sorry that circumstances had occurred which would soon sever his connection with them as host, and he trusted Bro. Pope would be long spared to continue a career of usefulness to the Craft, and that he would be equally successful elsewhere in obtaining the good opinion of all classes of the community. He also spoke of him as having encouraged and managed to the extent of his power those old English sports and pastimes which had made the Surrey Oval the envy of kindred establishments and famous throughout the world. In conclusion he trusted that it would be many years ere Bro. Pope relaxed his exertions towards the Craft, of which he was so distinguished an ornament, and before King Death should ring down the curtain on his labours, and he, in common with them all, should make his final bow and exit from the stage of life. A vote of thanks was then unanimously passed to Bro. Pope, P. M. of the Faith Lodge, &c., &c. The lodge having been closed in due form the brethren adjourned to the banquet, which was well served. Among the visitors present were Bros. Hopwood, P. M. 147, and S. W. of 1512; Wasenberg, Acacia Lodge; Fullagar, Robert Burns. The loyal toasts in connection with the Craft were given and honoured, Bro. Walls contributing the "National Anthem" and "God Bless the Prince of Wales." The other Craft and lodge toasts were given in rapid succession. Bro. Stokes sang "Pretty Jane" and Bro. Walls "Tom Bowling," during the intervals, admirably accompanied on the pianoforte by Bro. W. A. Ellis. The business of the lodge having been very long and arduous, the banquet did not take place till late in the evening, and consequently the proceedings of the latter were considerably abridged.

THE GREAT CITY LODGE (No. 1426).—A meeting of this lodge was held on Saturday last at the City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street, and was numerously attended, both by its members and visitors. Lodge was opened by the W. M., Bro. Nathan B. Headon, who was supported by the whole of his officers, viz.:—Bros. J. H. Townend, S. W.; John Seax, J. W.; James Stevens, I. P. M.; J. Freeman, Treasurer; E. Moody, Secretary; R. Stanway, S. D.; G. Blackie, J. D.; T. Preston, D. C.; W. H. Hook, Organist; W. Catchpole, I. G.; C. Taylor, Steward; and W. Steedman, Tyler. Amongst the other members present were Bros. H. Thompson, P. M.; C. S. Barker, jun., Boulton, Jenkins, Portway, Browne, Colmer, Hooker, Kibble, Rolfe, Middleton, Archer, Cox, Hugo, Bumpus, Owen Bowen, Moore, Hannaford, J. Thompson, Frederick, Lewis Lewis, Phillips, Keeble, and Hartley; and also the following visitors:—Charles Horsley, P. M., P. P. G. Reg. Middlesex; W. E. Gompertz, P. M., P. P. G. Reg. Herts; Fredk. Kent, C. C., W. M. 177; R. N. Field, W. M. 902; W. Worrell, P. M. 766; C. Fountain, T. Harper, B. B. Joy, 1216; S. Spencer, 192; J. Lord, 25; J. Allen, S. W. 1297; and Bro. Stone, 65. Bros. Phillips and Keeble were raised; Bros. Rolfe, Bumpus, J. Thompson, Cox and Moore, were passed; and, after a successful ballot for nine candidates for initiation, Messrs. F. W. Potter, C. Burrows, James Gray, and E. H. Davjs, were admitted to the first degree. The admirable manner in which the work was performed by the W. M. and his officers, called forth the warmest expressions of commendation from all the brethren assembled. Bros. E. Moody, Secretary, and J. Freeman, Treasurer, respectively moved and seconded, or rather, gave notice of motion, "That the sum of fifty guineas be voted to the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls, to be placed on the list of the W. M., who has consented to act as Steward at the ensuing festival of the Institution." The lodge business having been completed, the lodge was closed, and the brethren adjourned to supper in the Pillar Room, after five hours pleasant labour in the lodge. As this repast was one of the "informal" banquets in which the Great City Lodge delights, not much time was lost before the royal of the cloth and the circulation of a loving cup, and then with modest refreshment before them, the company settled down to the genial sway of the justly popular W. M. to enjoy the remainder of the evening. The leading Masonic toasts having been honoured, Bro. James Stevens, the P. M., proposed "The Health of the W. M.," whose merits, and whose labours on behalf of the Craft are so well known and appreciated by those whom he ably ruled, were briefly expounded the proposer, for the benefit of those who for the first time had honoured the lodge by their presence on this occasion. The termination of Stevens's remarks elicited much applause, and was renewed when the W. M., in response, pressed his determination to uphold and maintain the honourable position which the lodge already held in the estimation of the Masonic Fraternity. To the toast of "The Initiates," several newly admitted brethren shortly responded, and each of them evidently was pleased with the ceremony he had gone through and unmistakably cordial reception extended to "The Visitors" were pledged amidst the "Great City" honours, and Bro. Charles Horsley, P. P. G. Reg., Middlesex, in his acknowledgement of the toast, favoured the brethren with an admirable speech, to which the most earnest attention was given. In the course of his remarks, he expressed his regret that since the date of the secession of this lodge, some eighteen months ago, he had been unable to attend a meeting, but vivid recollection entertained of that memorable occasion, when no less than 50 Past Masters metropolitan and provincial lodges attended to do honour to the founders, that the first W. M. of the lodge had impelled him at last to take the opportunity he had long desired. The promise of that great first meeting had been filled in his opinion, for although he had, matter of course, seen perfect working in many other lodges, he was constrained to say that he had never before had he seen such thorough order and painstaking attention to every detail as he that evening witnessed. He had that day been compelled to a long fast, but even the exigencies of hunger had not been able to withdraw him from the lodge during the five mortal hours over which the evening's work had extended. He had noticed that the lodge had not forgotten during the past year the duty of charity, and delighted him to hear of its intention to further aid the funds of our Masonic Institution. He trusted, and he had no doubt that the W. M., in his Stewardship this year, would thoroughly supported by his brethren as his predecessor last year. He congratulated the lodge most earnestly on all its appointments the efficiency of its officers, the increase of strength, and its well-deserved repute; and himself, desired to assure his hearers that, course of his Masonic career, he had not thoroughly enjoyed the intellectual feast of the lodge-room, and probably in part due to "long fast" he had before spoken of, the stantial refreshment of which he had just taken. With hearty thanks to all for the pliment the lodge had paid him, and with wishes for its prosperity, Bro. Horsley concluded his excellent address, amidst great cheerfulness. Bros. Gompertz, Kent, Field, Worrell, and visitors, shortly supplemented Bro. Horsley's remarks, and endorsed his statements and good wishes. The remaining toasts—I. P. M., Bro. James Stevens, "The Oil" (coupled with the name of Bro. Preston), drunk and responded to, and the Tyler brought the evening to a close. The pliments were enlivened by some excellent remarks by professional and amateur members of the lodge.

MANCHESTER.—Lodge of Truth (No. 1426).—This young but flourishing lodge celebrated its festival of St. John, on Saturday, the 5th at the Royal Archer Hotel, Dale-street, Manchester. The lodge was opened at 4.30 p.m. by the W. M., Bro. John W. Turner, who read the minutes of the previous meeting, the ballot was taken by D. L. Brooke, it proving favourable, he initiated into the mysteries of Masonry W. M. The lodge was then opened ad degree, when Bro. Robert Caldwell, P.M., the chair of King Solomon for the purpose stalling Bro. Henry Smith, W.M. elect, he did in that able manner for which he justly noted. Bro. Jas Batchelder (whose song we reviewed a few weeks ago) led at the harmonium, he being the Organist of the lodge. The officers being invested and business of the meeting completed, the closed the lodge in the three degrees. The men and visitors, amongst whom were many distinguished Masons, then sat down to a most sumptuous banquet, provided by the worthy host, Potts. The I.P. Master, in proposing the health of the W.M., congratulated the brethren on the happy selection they had made in appointing Bro. Smith to the highest honour they bestow on him, and trusted the officers would rally round and give him their support, and the ceremonies and by a punctual attendance in their duties. Knowing the W.M. was very much of their support he hoped they would not mind wanting, but tender to Bro. Smith that as a man of good will which, he was happy to have been accorded to himself, and which he had opportunity to thank them for. The I.P. Master, in proposing the health of the I.P.M., said that it was a very pleasing duty to perform, and that he presented to Bro. J. W. Turner a handsome Master's Jewel, from the officers and brethren of the lodge. The I.P.M. responded in the most flattering terms. The other toasts having been honoured, the brethren separated, after having enjoyed a most enjoyable evening. The musical arrangements were under the direction of Bros. Batchelder and Dunville, and gave great satisfaction.

MIDDLEFORD.—The Thames Valley Lodge (No. 103).—The last regular meeting of this lodge was held at the Ship Hotel, Halliford, Middlesex, on the 5th inst.; Bro. Colonel James Peters, in the chair, and ably supported by his assistants as follows:—Bro. the Rev. Dr. Brette, Bro. Lieut. C. B. Elliott, R.N., J.W.; Bro. Paas (P.M. 28), Treasurer; Bro. J. G. Jones (P.M. 28), Secretary; Bro. J. L. Jones, Bro. W. J. Howe, J.D.; Bro. W. Le Doyle, Steward. The lodge having been opened, the following gentlemen were introduced into Freemasonry:—Lieut. Charles (93rd Highlanders), Joseph Davis, Stone, and H. H. Blyth. The following were also received as joining members: Charles V. Lockwood, 478, P.P.G.D.; Bro. Charles H. Muir, P.M. 297; Bro. Windus, 26; Bro. J. A. Magee, 22 and Bro. H. Kerr, 73—Ireland; and Bro. T. Nan, 715. Bro. the Rev. Dr. Brette was unanimously elected W.M. for the year ending Bro. Paas re-elected Treasurer.

NOTTINGHAM HILL.—Francis Burdett Lodge (No. 103).—A meeting of this recently established flourishing lodge was held at the Arms, Hampton Hill, on the 9th inst., well attended. The W.M., Bro. Col. Tomlinson, presided, assisted by Bros. Saunders, W.M.; Tomlinson, J.W.; Cox, S.D.; J.D.; Walls, I.G.; Knaggs, Treasurer. Reported that an emergency meeting had been held on the previous Thursday, when the aid of Bros. Tomlinson, acting W.M.; Walls, acting J.W.; Deekes, acting S.D.; acting J.D.; Jenkins acting I.G., in the absence of Rogers and Lovett, into the mystic Craft. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and confirmed, the meeting proceeded in an excellent manner, passed Bro. Knaggs to the 3rd degree, and initiated Messrs. Saunders, F. Mitchell, and Clarke. The ballot was taken for Bro. T. C. Walls (Kenninged) Bro. Honeywell (Dobie), as joining members, which was unanimous. Among the present were Bro. Hammond, P.M. and Bro. No. 1512, Bro. Adlard, P.M. (No. 7), Bro. Richards, (103). The W.M. appointed Bro. Walls to the office of I.G. The lodge having been closed in due form the brethren partook of an excellent cold collation. The usual Craft toasts were given by the W.M. with vivacity, but with great spirit. The S.W. sang one verse each of the National Anthem, and God Bless the Prince of Wales. Bro. Adlard proposed the health of the W.M. in his speech, wherein he spoke highly of the Masonic abilities of Bro. Wigginton, and congratulated the lodge upon possessing so able a representative in the chair of K.S. The W.M. having replied, proposed the toast of the evening, viz., "The Initiates," which was duly honoured, and severally replied to by Bros. Saunders, Mitchell, and Clarke. The toast of "The Visitors" followed, and was replied to by Bros. Adlard and Richards. The former stated that he had been connected with the Craft 40 years and had been a P.M. upwards of 36 years, and that his interest was still unabated in Freemasonry and that he should continue to support the Order in every way as long as his health would permit him so to do, and in conclusion he said that considering the short time the Francis Burdett Lodge had been established he was surprised but exceedingly pleased at the admirable manner in which the working had been carried out by the officers. The W.M. then gave "The Officers," coupling with the toast the names of the S.W. and the I.G. Bro. Saunders replied, and in the course of his speech expressed his intention of devoting his best energies to further the interest of the lodge, and he hoped in time it would equal any lodge in Middlesex. The W.M. proposed the health of the joining brethren, Bros. Walls and Honeywell, and requested the first-named to reply, who said he felt very proud that evening at having to reply, not only as a joining brother but as an officer of the lodge. During his remarks he stated as an incentive to the initiates that from the first moment of joining Freemasonry he was so impressed with the usefulness and power of the Craft that he came to the conclusion to persevere in its workings until he had mastered them, and he hoped to be spared, that some day he might be elected to fulfil the arduous duties which had been so excellently carried out by their W.M. that evening. In conclusion he thanked Bro. Wigginton for the mark of his esteem and confidence in appointing him to the honourable position of I.G., which he trusted he should discharge to his satisfaction and to the approval of the lodge. The Tyler's toast having been given, Bro. Walls sang "I don't mean to tell you her name" and the proceedings, which were eminently successful, terminated.

Royal Arch.

SOUTHAMPTON.—Chapter of Concord (No. 394).—On Thursday, 1st inst., Bro. J. E. Le Feuvre was installed First Principal of the Chapter of Concord, No. 394, which, under his auspices, promises to increase in numbers, as it has done for some time past. There was a large gathering on the occasion, the members of the Gloucester Chapter having been invited to be present at the ceremony of installation, which was performed by Bro. Booth—Bro. F. F. Hare being appointed Second Principal; J. Blount Thomas, Third Principal; J. R. Weston, S.E.; R. Sharpe, S.N.; W. Bemister, P.S.; C. W. A. Jellicoe and C. A. Dyer, A.S.; and H. Abraham, Treasurer. Immediately after the installation, the First Principal exalted a brother, and the work of the chapter was done in a very creditable manner. A banquet followed, at which the usual Masonic and other toasts were given, and a fraternal interchange of sentiment took place.

Mark Masonry.

SOUTHAMPTON.—St. Andrew's Lodge (No. 63).—At the celebration of the Festival of St. Andrew by this lodge, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year, the duties of installing Master being ably performed by Worshipful Bro. P.M. Sheppard, P.P.G.J.W., assisted by Worshipful Bro. P.M. Hickman, D.P.G.M., Bros. P.M. Abraham, Payne, Le Feuvre, and Emanuel:—S.W., Bro. S. S. Pearee; J.W., Bro. C. A. Dyer; Treasurer, Bro. P.M. Abraham; M.O., Bro. G. Cross; S.O., Bro. W. J. Hickman; J.O., Bro. J. Blount Thomas; Secretary, Bro. W. C. Anstun; Registrar, Bro. J. C. Stroud; D.C., Bro. Bemister; Organist, Bro. Wolf; S.D., Bro. Symon; J.D., Bro. Tilling; I.G., Bro. Withers; Tyler, Bro. Biggs. This lodge was constituted but five years ago, and is already the largest in the Province of Hampshire and the Isle of Wight. No less than twenty have joined or been advanced during the Mastership of the outgoing Master, Bro. Le Feuvre.

LIVERPOOL.—Walton Lodge (No. 161).—The regular meeting of this thriving young lodge was held in St. Lawrence's Schoolroom, Kirkdale, on the evening of Tuesday, the 1st inst., when there were present Bros. Thomas Chesworth, W.M.; Joseph Charles Lant, Pro Grand Mark J.D., S.W.; Thomas Ashmore, J.W.; Rev. C. R. Hyde, L.L.D., Pro Grand Mark Chaplain; Jesse Banning, M.O.; J. Jones, as J.O.; G. E. Hanmer, Secretary; W. E. Quayle S.D.; W. G. Sharpe, and others. The lodge having been opened, the minutes were read and confirmed. Three candidates were balloted for and duly elected. Bro. W. Archer, P.M., P.Z., being present, was advanced to the honourable degree of M.M.M. Three other candidates for advancement were then proposed for the next meeting. Nothing further appearing for the good of M.M.M. in general, or this lodge in particular, the business was closed in ancient and solemn form. The brethren subsequently sat down to a sumptuous repast, prepared in Bro. Casey's best style.

Scotland.

GLASGOW.

LODGE CLYDESDALE (No. 556).—The meeting of this lodge for election and installation of office-bearers for the ensuing year, was held in their hall, at the Crown-street Assembly Rooms, on Monday, 7th inst., the R.W.M., Bro. William Phillips, presiding. The minutes of last meeting having been read and passed, a candidate received the sublime degree of Master Mason, at the hands of Bro. Thos. Halkett, P.M. 102, St. Mark. Thereafter the chairman announced that he had received for signing, the lease for the new and eligible premises, to which it was their intention shortly to remove, and that Bro. Geo. McNaught has drawn out plans for the requisite alterations of the same. The rent was to be £27 a year, and they could enter on possession as soon as they liked. The chairman then said that as there had been no opposition to the list of office-bearers duly proposed and seconded, he thereby declared the same to be duly elected; and the installation was proceeded with, Bro. Halkett officiating in a masterly manner. The R.W.M. having been first installed by himself, appointed by Bro. Dr. Russell as his D.M.; and the remaining office-bearers were then installed together. The following is the list:—Bros. W. Phillips, R.W.M.; Dr. Russell, D.M.; John McNaught, S.M.; John B. McNaught, S.W.; John Howie, J.W.; T. B. Neill, Treasurer; Jos. Strang, Secretary; John Webster, Chaplain; John Frew, S.D.; J. Weir, S. Steward; John Doid, B.B.; H. Weir, Standard-Bearer; Chas. Lee, D. of Ceremonies; Henry W. Jackson, Architect; W. J. E. Dobson, P.G.S.; Wm. Graham, Tyler. The ceremony having been concluded, the R.W.M. thanked the brethren for re-electing him to the important office of Master, which he had accepted with the full resolve that there should be nothing wanting on his part to attain for Lodge Clydesdale a locus standi, equal to anything in the province. The lodge was shortly thereafter called to refreshment, when, after the usual loyal and Masonic toasts, there were given the health of the newly re-elected R.W.M., Bro. Phillips, by Bro. G. H. McNaught, P.M. 275 (Shamrock and Thistle); "The Visiting Brethren," by the S.W., coupled with the name of Bro. Malcolm Stark, D.M. 553 (St. Vincent); the health of Bro. James Banks McNeil, 262 (St. Clair), the famous Glasgow swimmer, who has in his time rescued from a watery grave no fewer than 69 lives; "The Wardens," Bros. McNaught and Howie, and others. The lodge having been recalled to labour, Bros. J. B. McNeil, 362, and M. Stark, 553, were duly affiliated as members of 556, after which it was closed in due form.

LODGE ATHOL (No. 413).—This lodge met in St. Mark's Hall, Buchanan-street, on Tuesday evening, 8th inst.; the R.W.M., Bro. John Wallace, in the chair. The lodge having been opened in the E.A. Degree, the minutes of last meeting were read and approved of. The ceremony of installation of office-bearers was then proceeded with, the work being performed by P.M. Bro. John Miller in a style by which all and sundry, but especially brethren from other lodges present, must have been much and most favourably impressed. The following is the list as re-arranged:—John Wallace, R.W.M.; Jas. Loutitt, D.M.; Walter Neilson, S.M.; Colin M'Kenzie, S.W.; Daniel Leeds, J.W.; Peter Agnew, Treasurer; J. W. Stevenson, Secretary; John Baikie, Chaplain; William Loutitt, S.D.; Robert M'Leish, J.D.; Wm. O'Brien, P. of S.; Jno. Davidson, S. Steward; J. C. Galloway, J. Steward; Charles Thornton, and John Harrower, Stewards; Andrew Holmes, I.G.; and Robert Gardner, O.G.; Robert Lauder, and Robert Sloan, Auditors. At the close of the installation, the R.W.M. begged to thank Bro. Miller for the very kind way in which he had come forward and assisted them so ably that evening. It had only, however, added another to many favours for which they had been indebted to him, and he was sure it was the wish of every brother that he might be long spared to go in and out among them and assist others as he had assisted them, and as he was always willing to do. He (the Chairman) had also to thank the lodge for re-appointing him as their Master. Whatever might have been his failings during the last twelve months, it showed that they had not thought them such as should debar him from being re-elected. The retiring office-bearers he desired to thank for their co-operation in the past, while, from his knowledge of those just elected, he felt sure that they would be as harmonious in the future. The Chairman concluded by bespeaking the support of the lodge generally during the year ensuing, and specially urged upon them the importance of regular attendance at all meetings, and of punctuality to the hour for which these were called. Bro. Miller, in briefly acknowledging the chairman's remarks bearing reference to himself, said it had given him great pleasure to be there and instal the new office-bearers of his mother lodge. He had no doubt whatever that they would get on well with those to-night appointed, and he wished the lodge every success in this next year. The lodge thereafter adjourned from labour to refreshment. After the customary opening toasts had been duly honoured, as also that of the office-bearers who had been made for the first time (coupled with the name of the J.W., Bro. Leeds), the chairman called upon Bro. John C. Burne, who was seated on the dais, to speak. Bro. Burne, in response, said he had now a very pleasing duty to perform—one that he felt proud of. Pleasure, indeed, was too weak a word to express what he felt; he should rather say profound gratification. The cause of his being there that evening was to offer to their esteemed friend and brother beside him, Bro. Miller, a small token of the respect which he (Bro. Burne) entertained to their Past Master for his worth as a friend, and his zeal in matters Masonic. It was not a rich gift; but with truth it could be said that it was given by a hand with a heart in it. Referring to the testimonial (a portrait of Bro. Miller, which stood covered in front of the dais), the speaker said that the picture before them represented their worthy brother in those robes Masonic which he had worn with dignity to himself, and honour to his confrères. He (the speaker) hoped it might stimulate others to go on as Bro. Miller had done, and endeavour to raise themselves to the station of honour in their respective lodges. It had been said that every French soldier carried a Marshal's baton in his knapsack, and, similarly, every Freemason carried in his apron-pocket a Master's mallet. As Long-fellow had said, in his Psalm of Life:—

"Let us, then, be up and doing
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labour and to wait."

In conclusion, Bro. Burne said it now devolved upon him to ask Bro. Miller's acceptance of the picture. He was a brother who was esteemed not only by himself (the speaker) and those present, but by every Mason in the West of Scotland. The picture was then uncovered, and an opportunity given to the brethren round to examine it individually. It is a highly-finished production, in oil-colours, and alike as a resemblance and as a work of art, is simply admirable. Bro. Miller, in acknowledging the gift, said he appreciated the compliment paid him very highly; in fact, so much so, that he could not express what he thought about it. It would be cherished in his family, and he should never look upon it without thinking of its kind donor, Bro. Burne. Several other toasts followed, and the proceedings at refreshment were agreeably enlivened by two or three excellent songs and recitations from Bros. Miller, R. Fraser, Burne, Perston, and others.

GREENOCK.

ST. JOHN'S LODGE (No. 175).—It is a considerable time since such a large Masonic gathering took place in the lodge room, of Lodge Greenock, St. John's, No. 175, on the evening of Wednesday, 2nd inst., for the double purpose of installing into office the newly elected R.W.M. and office-bearers, for the ensuing twelve months, and the presentation of valuable tokens of respect to Bro. Charles Grey, on the occasion of his vacating the R.W.M.'s chair. The following report of both proceedings fully explain, what took place; but Bro. Gray, having long filled the honourable position of Master of the lodge, we think we are only performing our duty, both to the Craft and the readers of the Freemason, when we bear testimony (on the authority of many brethren) as to the admirable way in which he has worked the lodge. The task of presiding over such a lodge as Greenock, St. John's, was not a light one, as will be seen from what follows, nor was the position of the W.M. altogether easy. Brethren will know that it is upon the wise and judicious exercise of the high functions committed to him that the satisfactory progress of the business of Masonry depends. They look to him, too, for counsel and advice, and during the time Bro. Gray had been in the chair, his help had always been readily given to any brethren who sought it, and as he was a much experienced Mason, the advice was always valuable. His fairness and impartiality fully impressed the brethren, while the admirable way in which he did the work of the lodge was beyond praise. A better Master never presided over a lodge, and if his successors followed in his footsteps, and copied his example, the future success of Greenock St. John's could not, but, as hitherto, be a great success. The handsome present made to him on this occasion, will serve to remind him that his efforts were appreciated, and his name cannot fail to be associated with the lodge as long as it lasts. The lodge being duly constituted in the Apprentice Degree, by Bro. Charles Gray, R.W.M., Alexander McMaster, the new W.M., was performed in the most impressive and efficient manner by Bro. Robert Urie, who was afterwards appointed his Depute Master. Thereafter the office-bearers who were elected a week previous, were installed by D.M., Bro. Robert Urie, the proceedings being conducted in accordance with the ancient customs and usages of the Craft. The following is a list of their names:—McMaster, R.W. Master; Robert Urie, Depute Master; Chas. Grey, Past Master; Andw. Boag, Old Master; Donald Anderson, do.; D. McIntyre, Junior Warden; Wm. Wright, junr., Secretary; James Roger, Treasurer; John McQuarrie, S.D.; James Scott, J.D.; James McBridge, 1st Senior Steward; John Fleming, 2nd do.; David Anderson, 1st Junior do.; Stephenson Stewart, Inner Guard; Alexander Cruden, Tyler. The offices of Senior Warden, Chaplain, and 2nd Junior Steward are to be filled up at a meeting called for the purpose. After the transaction of some routine business, the brethren were called from labour to refreshment. Bro. Alex. McMaster, R.W.M., presided. The formal Masonic toasts, including the Grand Master of Scotland, Bro. Sir Michael Robert Shaw Stewart, were proposed and responded to in true Masonic style.

Bro. M'Master, R.W.M., then rose and intiated that he had a very pleasing duty to perform, namely, to present their Right Worshipful Master, esteemed Bro. Grey, with a token of consideration in which his office-bearers had him. It afforded him (the R.W.M.) much gratification that so great an honour had been upon him as to be in the occupancy of the on that occasion. He was, however, very that the circumstances in which their valued ther was placed were among the reasons this presentation was made. Bro. Grey had overtaken by infirmity, which had lamentable effects, especially as regarded his sight, which had been, for the time at least, away. Were it otherwise, the present would be unmingled with anything in the to be regretted. As it was, they were that cheerfulness of mind, as well as a me of health of body, were present. In lo back to the past they had nothing but ple recollections of what had occurred in that under the Mastership of Bro. Grey. Prospr unanimity, and real Masonic fraternity had fested themselves throughout the whole of the last four years, and he was sure th who were present that night would feel with and bear him out in the observations he wa king. He would now, in the name of the bearers, present Bro. Grey with a medallion containing the portrait of that Brother, and all the office-bearers, with the kindest fe and the fond anticipation that it might y possible for him to look upon the picture to recognize its contents. After some oth marks of an appropriate character, the Right shipful Master handed to Bro. Grey a med executed by Bro. Urie, containing the por as has been stated. The medallion is in a moulded frame by Messrs. Lawrie and Fle and measures two feet and a half by two. The portraits are beautifully executed in cu each having the Masonic insignia and jewel the whole is a very valuable gift. The foll is the inscription:—"Charles Grey, R.W.M., with the fraternal regard of his bearers—Lodge Greenock, St. John, No. Nov. 1874."

One of the brethren having sung an appropriate lyric,

Bro. Grey, in accepting the presentation he did so with feelings of peculiar satisfaction. It was true that he had suffered a painful privation, but he was thankful that he had been gifted with resignation from the Giver Good, and that he was not without hope, perhaps the immediate future he might be privileged to look upon the familiar faces he knew were strikingly portrayed in before him. Whether this might be the not, he was extremely pleased to be the night and to receive at the hands of the R a presentation of so valuable a kind as th taining likeness of so many friends. accepting it, he knew he was only receiving more testimony of the considerateness of brethren who thus put the topstone of acts of fraternity towards himself attained a great altitude. During the pe had occupied the chair in Greenock St. had never the slightest cause of compl make as to the disposition of the bre evinced to each other and to himself. contrary, he had every reason to congrat lodge on the order, the peace, the prosper the fraternity that had been characteristic entire proceedings. When the de waited upon him to request his accep the honourable position of Master in th he was overcome with a sense of th dignity that they proposed to confer, at time recollecting how unfit he was ir for the high position; but he was f that he would receive every assistance charging his duties from the very w who now had increased the weight of t tions to them by their thoughtful and gift. He was struck with the singular circumstances attending his experience time referred to. He had retired Greenock Town Council with the view room for Bro. Donald Anderson, who represented the First Ward M' Council it seems, almost by way of compensa Anderson vacated the office of Lodge for him. This had come about, so far as knew, without being purposely arranged, but exhibited one of the reasons for which he had se for gratification. But he had many other sons, the principal being the fine feeling which had prevailed among the brethren during term of office. Bro. Grey proceeded to make number of most suitable remarks, to the ght of those present, and said that he retired n the chair with the greatest confidence, as knew that his worthy successor would disge his functions with great credit to himself much credit to the lodge. He resumed his amid great applause. Bro. D. M. Urie said, having acted as Depute to such a Master as Grey, they would perhaps kindly allow him ay a word or two on that very interesting oc- on. When Bro. Grey was first mentioned as who would fill the chair, he (Bro. Urie) felt e confident that, if the deputation who were into to wait upon him were only successful ersuading him to enlist his sympathy, they ld secure a Master who would govern the e in the true spirit of Masonic brotherly love kind forbearance. The unprecedented suc- which they had experienced during these years afforded them ample proof that they selected the right man for the right place. essing Bro. Grey, he said:—I am very y to say, Bro. Grey, that your reign in office een characterised by many good and noble s. The kind-hearted manner in which you at all times presided over the lodge has the means of building up that loving bro- feeling which has always existed between rethren and yourself. During the period ave so acceptably filled the chair the meet- have been so well attended that on many ions there has been great difficulty in pro- accommodation for the brethren. Of the ts added to our lengthy roll-book, no less os have passed through your hands, inclu- sone of the most influential members of od old town, and it is a tale well worth told that during this long period of faith- vation not one harsh word has been known ape your lips, nor can a single unkind e be laid to your charge. On the contrary lodge has been ruled in the true spirit sony—love, and brotherly kindness—and y state here that I speak the senti- of every Brother, both present or , when I state that the remembrance any happy and profitable nights spent in lge with you, will long live in the memory rethren, and we are not without hope that id, loving, Christian words of encourage- addressed especially to the young brethren, of untold value to them and to all of us our of trial and danger. It is with great e that I have witnessed the presentation edallion, a fitting token of their brotherly ut it grieves us all that you are no longer ed to look upon the things of this world e outward eye, and that you are unable to faces of brethren surrounding you in this et we feel convinced that the remem- of their features will long live in your ; and, as you have been the means of ; many to see the light of Masonry, we y trust that, with faith in the unseen , you may be enabled to walk in the light ove of the Blessed Saviour, who alone ar your vision in the hour of your ; and, as you have often said to others, ld now affectionately say to you, "He teth his trust in God need fear no evil." ow to ask you, Bro. Grey, on retiring chair, to accept of this small mark of nd esteem from the members of our remembrance not possessing any great value, but given with loving and frater- d, with the hope that God may long u to enjoy the society of many loving ionate friends. Bro. Urie then handed rey a valuable and handsome silver claret bearing this inscription:—"Presented to rles Grey, Esq., R.W.M., by the bre- Lodge Greenock St. John, No. 175, as if their regard on the occasion of his re- om the chair, Greenock, November, they again rose to acknowledge the liberality of his friends, and in doing so expressed himself at a loss to find words suitable to his situation. He accepted the presentation made by his dear Bro. Urie with feelings of deep emotion. He knew that what he had just listened to were the sentiments, not only of the speaker, but of those in whose names the words were spoken; and he might be permitted to say he had long felt that not only a fraternal but almost a paternal and filial connection existed between himself and the brethren of the Lodge. Such had been the nature of the relationship subsisting for years back, and he hoped he might be forgiven if in speaking thus he should seem to speak without due warrant. So far as he was concerned, those relations were as he had described, and he believed his feelings were reciprocated. Still, the honour done exceeded any merit of his own, and he must attribute the act just performed to excess of kindness in the members of the lodge. They might permit him to remark that in looking back he called to recollection the time when he was exalted to the Royal Arch Chapter. On the occasion the number admitted, along with himself, was exactly the same as that of the chapter, namely, 17. Another coincidence he would mention with their leave. When he had the honour and privilege of making a presentation to Bro. Urie in the name of the lodge, the number of brethren whom he had up to that period initiated during his Master-ship was just the number of Lodge Greenock St. John—that is to say, 175. These were more curious than important, and they were suggested by Bro. Urie's statistical reference; but they were interesting to himself, and perhaps to others. In the course of further remarks, Bro. Grey offered some excellent observations calculated to benefit his hearers, and after again thanking his kind friends for their appreciation of his services, sat down, amidst great applause. Bro. A. Boag proposed "The R.W.M.," in suitable terms, and Bro. M' Master as suitably replied. The R.W.M. next proposed a vote of thanks to Bro. A. H. Finlay for his gift to the lodge, on that occasion, of an abundant supply of choice wines, to which Bro. Finlay responded. Bro. D.M. Urie proposed a vote of thanks to Bro. James M'Bryde, First Senior Steward, for the arrangements made and carried out in connection with the tables. Bro. M'Bryde replied.

During the evening, various brethren contributed songs and recitations, and a most brotherly and harmonious evening was spent. Many members of the lodge being present to testify their respect and esteem for Bro. Gray, who, we believe, had not been so late out of their homes for years.

KILWINNING LODGE (No. 12).—The annual general meeting of this lodge was held in the Council Chamber on Monday night, 30th ult., Bro. D. Cunningham, the retiring Right Worshipful Master, in the chair. The lodge having been opened in due form, the Treasurer submitted the annual statement, showing the lodge to be in a prosperous state; after which the following office-bearers were elected:—Right Worshipful Master, James Newton; Depute Master, Edward Blackmore; Past Master, Duncan Cunningham; Substitute Master, John R. Allison; Senior Warden, John P. Fyfe; Junior Warden, John Agnew; Treasurer, John D. Walton; Secretary, Jas. D. Macdonald; Chaplain, Rev. W. W. Tulloch, B.D.; Director of Music, Daniel Middleton; Assistant Director of Music, George T. Poulter; Architect, A. Roxburgh; Senior Deacon, Robert Allan; Junior Deacon, Hugh Rodgers Neill; 1st Senior Steward, Alexander Smith; 2nd Senior Steward, John M. Burgess; 1st Junior Steward, Alex. T. Gillanders; 2nd Junior Steward, John Teulon; Inner Guard, John W. Macdonald; Tyler, Abel Tucker. There being no other business of importance the lodge was closed.

PORT GLASGOW.

LODGE DORIC KILWINNING (No. 68).—The annual general meeting of the Lodge Doric Kilwinning, No. 68, was held in their hall, Church-street, Port-Glasgow, on Thursday, 3rd inst., Dr. John William Taylor in the chair. The following brethren were elected office-bearers for the ensuing year:—Dr. John William Taylor, R.W.M.; Jas. Kelly, P.M.; Robt. Frame, D.M.; Thomas Davidson, S.M.; Duguld Brown, S.W.; Thos. Ballingall, J.W.; Rev. Geo. Durno, Chaplain; James Sloan, Treasurer; Thomas Clark, Secretary; Wm. Wallace, S.D.; Thos. M'Millan, J.D.; Hugh Orr, Architect; Stewart Lamont, Jeweller; Peter Crookston, B.S.; John Felfer, S.B.; Thomas Pollock, 1st Steward; James Leck, 2nd do.; Matthew Paton, 3rd do.; David Kirk, 4th do.; Thomas Marshall, I.G.; John Weir, Tyler. The lodge was then closed.

DALKEITH.

LODGE KILWINNING (No. 10).—This lodge met on the 30th ult. to celebrate the festival of St. Andrew. The lodge was opened in due and ancient form, the R.W.M. in the chair. The nomination of the R.W.M., Treasurer, and Secretary for the ensuing year took place. Bro. Richard Wilson was nominated for the chair, Bro. R. Bennett for Treasurer, Bro. G. Garnock for Secretary. The lodge was then called from labour to refreshment, when the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were proposed and responded to. After song and sentiment went round, and harmony and fraternal regard prevailed amongst the brethren, at high twelve the lodge was duly closed by the R.W.M.

DUNFERMLINE.

ST. JOHN'S LODGE (No. 26).—The annual meeting for the nomination of office-bearers for the ensuing year, took place in their lodge room, Maygate-street, on Monday evening, 29th ult., when the following brethren were nominated:—Bros. Robt. Lindsey, R.W.M.; Robt. Blyth, S.M.; Wm. Hunter, S. Warden; John Steele, J. W.; Robt. Wilson, Treas.; Wm. Mitchell, Sec. Wm. McDonald, Chaplain; D. Blair, S. Deacon; Thos. Burt, J. do.; G. Hamilton, R.R.; G. Allan, B.R.; J. Burt, P.L.; C. Boag, S. Steward; A. Whitehead, J. do.; R. Drysdale, Outer Guard. The eight Senior Office Bearers, of the lodge, together with seven members chosen by the brethren, viz.: Bros. Alex. Graunt, Robt. Paterson, Wm. Donald, G. McPherson, G. Salisbury, G. Allan, R. Flockart. No other business being before the brethren, the lodge was duly closed, when the brethren adjourned from labour to refreshment, to Bro. Blyth, Guildhall-street, when the rest of the evening was spent in song and sentiment by the brethren present.

BRIDGE OF AILAN.

LODGE ABERCROMBY (No. 351).—The brethren of this thriving young lodge met on Wednesday, 2nd inst., for the purpose of nominating Office Bearers for the next year. The following were nominated:—Wm. Cousine, R.W.M.; G. Miller, P.M.; J. Carmichael, D.M.; W. McCowan, S.M.; R. Philp, Proxy M.; W. Henderson, Treas.; J. Drysdale, S.W.; J. Simpson, J.W.; Rev. J. Reid, Chaplain; P. Jaffray, S.D.; C. Raeburn, J.D.; A. Anderson, Steward; J. Cramb, 'Asst. do.; Wm. McGregor, F.G.; L. McKinnon, Tyler. The election and installation of the new office-bearers will take place on the 28th inst., when the festival of St. John will be celebrated in due Masonic style.

ROYAL ORDER OF SCOTLAND.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE.—The quarterly convocation of the Provincial Grand Lodge for the West of Scotland, of the ancient Order of H.R.M. of Kilwinning and R.S.V.C.S., was held in St. Mark's Hall, Glasgow, on the 3rd inst. Applications for advancement were received from Bros. John Love, Johnstone, Renfrewshire, M.M. of No. 242 of Scotland, and companion of R.A.C. No. 109, of Scotland, and John Stewart, Hillhead, Glasgow, M.M. of No. 195 of Scotland and companion of R.A.C. No. 73 of Scotland, The Prov. Grand Master and Comp. A. Barrow duly advanced and promoted these brethren, assisted by D.P.G.M. J. D. Porteous, Wm. Mather acting P.G. J.W., Wm. Smith, P.G. Secy., A. MacTaggart, M.A., acting P.C.S.B., John Fraser acting P.G. Mareschal, and James Balfour, acting P.G. Grand Guard. After the P.G.M. had filled up a number of vacant offices in the P.G. Lodge, the convocation was closed in due and ancient form.

joining the lodge? It appears to us, we speak deferentially, that on his rejoining his lodge, he resumed his position as a P.M., but lost his status of Senior P.M. And for this reason. A has subscribed in all up to the present time—eight years, except two, during which he intermitted. B has subscribed eight years without intermission, and became therefore Senior P.M. A clearly cannot jump over B's head on rejoining the lodge, and B, not A, continues to be Senior P.M. A requires to be again installed as Master, to regain his seat in Grand Lodge; but A is clearly a P.M. of the lodge, and in the lodge, though no longer Senior P.M. Any other rule or ruling would lead to needless controversies and hopeless anomalies in our lodge system, and our Grand Lodge qualification. As we said before, we speak subject to correction, but we believe that what we have now laid down is entirely in accordance with the letter and the spirit of the Book of Constitutions.

Original Correspondence.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.)

THE OFFICE OF GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Having been refused a hearing at Grand Lodge last Wednesday by the acting Grand Master, Bro. Sandeman, on the ruling of Bro. McIntyre, G. Reg., and Bro. Havers, P.G.W., I claim your indulgence whilst I briefly lay attention through your columns to the point which I wished to raise, in no hostile mood, but purely to raise a discussion on the power of the Grand Master to resign, and the influence such a right might have on the privileges of the brethren.

I do not wish to accuse the late Grand Master, of whom I desire to speak with every respect, or those who advised him, of having resignedly taken the brethren by surprise, and having thus deprived them of the opportunity of maturely considering the results of his resignation; but most assuredly that was the result of his letter of resignation being addressed to the Grand Secretary only the day before the holding of Grand Lodge in September. Had that letter been forwarded a month, or only a fortnight earlier, it might have been communicated to the Craft with the summonses calling Grand Lodge, and ample time would have been given to the brethren to consider what might be its effects on the Craft, and the proper course to pursue under the circumstances. Owing to the alteration of the hour of meeting of Grand Lodge, I have, from the nature of my business avocations, been compelled to absent myself for some time past from Grand Lodge; but had I known so important a question was coming before it, I would have, no matter what amount of inconvenience, been present to take my share in the discussion. As it is, I cannot but think that the Grand Registrar and those who acted with him arrived at too hasty a conclusion in recommending that the resignation be accepted. I maintain that although there is no actual law in the Book of Constitutions on the subject, that it is part of the unwritten law that the Grand Master cannot resign during his year of office; and the very language of our Constitutions upon the subject, I contend, proves my position. The Grand Master possesses the undoubted right once in every year to decline being again put in nomination for the office, and in that sense I hold, notwithstanding its phraseology, the letter of the Earl of Ripon should have been read; and it was as this I wished to bring before Grand Lodge. It was, however, stopped in my argument by Bro. McIntyre telling me that the Grand Master took an obligation, and might therefore resign whenever he liked. To this I reply that it has always been held, and over and over again ruled in Grand Lodge by the Duke of Sussex and the Earl of Zetland, that where there is no rule for the government of the proceedings, or officers of the Grand Lodge, they are governed by the regulations of private lodges, and in this ruling they were guided and advised by those eminent members of the Craft, Bros. Henderson, P. Dobie, P.G. Regs., and, if I mistake not, even by Bro. McIntyre himself. Now it is a rule in private lodges that a Master cannot resign, and he takes an obligation on his installation not only to fulfil his duties during his year of office, but until a successor shall have been regularly elected and installed in his stead. And so rigorous is this rule that notwithstanding a lodge is forbidden to elect the same Master more than two years in succession, Dr. Oliver lays it down in his Masonic Jurisprudence that "supposing an extreme and perhaps an improbable case, that the Wardens have not served their entire year, and that the lodge contains no other person qualified for the office at the expiration of that period, (i.e. the two years), the Worshipful Master must perform continue to act until a dispensation is granted, and the contingency removed." Indeed, the Master of a lodge is punishable by the loss of his seat in Grand Lodge if he neglects his duty without valid excuse, such as sickness, or unavoidable business calling him from home. "For," says Dr. Oliver, "if no such valid excuses for non-attendance exist, and he spontaneously resign the office by leaving the chair unoccupied before the expiration of his term, he will forfeit these rights and be incapable of attending the Grand Lodge as a legitimate member." I am perfectly aware that no penalty attaches to the Grand Master for the non-performance of his duty, but I would ask what is the use of a Deputy Grand Master if he is not to undertake the duty of the Grand Master when he is unable or unwilling to perform it. Indeed we are told that in 1735, Lord Weymouth, the Grand Master, "never honoured any of the communications with his presence," "but his omission was the less noticed on account of the vigilance and attention of his deputy, John Ward, Esq., afterwards Lord Viscount Dudley and Ward, who applied with the utmost diligence to promote the interest and prosperity of the Society," and I have no reason to suppose that the Earl of Carnarvon would not as well have performed the duties of the office in 1874, as John Ward, Esq., in 1735.

I am further strengthened in my view of the law by the fact that the Book of Constitutions provides for what shall be done in the case of the death of the Grand Master, but not one word is said about resignation, clearly showing that no such power existed, as if it had the words of the law instead of being "Should the Grand Master die during his Mastership," would have been, "Should the Grand Master die or resign," and as I have before stated the resolution acknowledging the letter of the Earl of Ripon should have been worded so as to express regret at the noble lord declining to allow his name to be again put in nomination for the office of Grand Master. I therefore intended to propose on Wednesday last to substitute for the resolution carried in September, on the motion of Bro. McIntyre, "That the resignation of the M.W. Grand Master be accepted with the deepest feelings of regret, and in the hope that in his retirement the Grand Lodge will still be enabled to regard him, as in years gone by, as a bright ornament of this Craft over which he presided;" what I should have proposed had I been present at the meeting at which that resolution was passed, viz.: "That the members of this Grand Lodge have heard with the deepest regret that the M.W. Grand Master wishing to retire, declines to be again put in nomination for office, and hopes that in his retirement Grand Lodge will still be enabled to regard him as a bright ornament of this great Craft over which he presided." I admit, as I did in Grand Lodge, that my amendment was one more in form than in substance, as under either case the services of the noble Earl were lost to the Craft; but by the acceptance of the resignation a dangerous precedent is set, and one which I contend may hereafter seriously restrict the privileges and independence of the members of Grand Lodge and indirectly the interests of the Craft. Dr. Oliver tells us that one of the privileges of the members of Grand Lodge is freedom of speech, but that freedom is gone if whenever anything is said or any resolution is carried displeasing to a Grand Master, he has a right to turn round upon the brethren and send in his resignation. We have lately been reminded by a P.G.W., who I suppose nobody who has ever visited Grand Lodge will fail to identify, that the Masonic year runs from April to April, and during that period the Grand Master, according to my reading of the Book of Constitutions, and according to our general laws, has no power of divesting himself of office. I shall not attempt to argue the question whether the Grand Master is obligated to fulfil his duties or not, there being in all well regulated institutions a code of honour, more binding than the most solemn of obligations. I was present at the installation of the Marquis of Ripon, but at too great a distance to follow closely the proceedings, nor do I know whether the Earl of Carnarvon took any obligation as Deputy Grand Master; but this I do know, that when the late Earl of Dalhousie was appointed Deputy G. Master by the M. W. the Earl of Zetland, an obligation was administered by Bro. Stephen Barton Wilson, P.G.D., in which the noble earl undertook to perform the duties of the office until his successor was appointed.

I could pursue this subject at much greater length were it not that I know from experience that the space at the disposal of an editor is limited, and that there is a difficulty in deciding what to admit and what to reject of matter offered. I shall therefore come at once to the real objection to hear me on Wednesday last, which was tersely stated by Bro. Havers, that "what had now been done could not be undone," and here I may ask, what had been done? The reply at once suggests itself that a Committee appointed to do one thing had done another in excess of the authority with which it had been entrusted. Acting on the assumption that the words "death" and "resignation" are synonymous, which I am not going further to dispute, Grand Lodge in September, in the terms of the Book of Constitutions, appointed Bro. the Earl of Carnarvon, D.G.M., Bro. Jno. Havers, P.G.W., and Bro. Æ. J. McIntyre, Grand Registrar, "to communicate with H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, and request him to undertake the duties of M.W. Grand Master until the next annual period of installation," his Royal Highness standing in right of a vote of Grand Lodge constituting him a P.G.M., in the position of last preceding Grand Master. Now this would be exactly analogous to asking a P.M. in a private lodge to perform the duties of a deceased Master until the next election or installation, but the committee, taking their cue perhaps from the Earl of Carnarvon, who, in a letter dated Sept. 1st, stated that the duty of governing the Craft would devolve upon his Royal Highness if he would "accept the office" construed the words duties and office as though they were convertible terms, and in the business paper it was announced that the second business would be to receive the "report of the members of Grand Lodge appointed at the last Quarterly Communication to offer the Grand Mastership of the Order to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, K.G., Past Grand Master, in accordance with the Book of Constitutions, in consequence of the resignation of the Marquis of Ripon." Now neither the resolution of Grand Lodge nor the Book of Constitutions gave any such power as that claimed and exercised by the committee, no doubt in an excess of zeal, owing to the novelty of the position in which the members were placed, and accordingly, as Bro. Havers truly said, "what had been done could not be undone," and it certainly would have been most ungracious to raise any objection to accepting H.R.H. as Grand Master, and Grand Lodge having ratified the proceedings of the committee, I, as in duty bound, loyally accept the decision, rejoicing that H.R.H. has been put in nomination, without opposition, for the coming year, and that in April next our new Grand Master will be legally installed into his office, which I trust, with God's blessing, he will fill for many years to come, alike to his own satisfaction and the interest of the Craft. But even here I must protest that the G. Officers exceeded their duty in describing H.R.H. on the official papers, as M.W.G.M., before the selection of the Committee had been confirmed by Grand Lodge.

I have to apologize for trespassing at so great a length on your space, but I trust that my excuse will be found in the fact that I have felt bound to protest against the ease with which the authorities have driven a coach-and-six through the laws of our institutions, whilst those regulations are found sufficiently close in their meshes to entangle some unfortunate brother who is led into an unimportant irregularity, through not having sufficiently studied the Book of Constitutions.

I deeply regret that pressure of business compelled me to leave Grand Lodge on Wednesday last before the Earl of Carnarvon assumed the chair, and I have the honour to remain, Dear Sir and Brother, yours truly and fraternally,

HENRY G. WARREN, P.G. Std.
Dartmouth Park, Forest Hill,
Dec. 7th, 1874.

MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Your opinion is solicited on the following case:—

"At a regular meeting of Lodge —, Bro. A gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would propose a certain resolution. This notice and proposed resolution were inserted in the summonses for the next regular meeting, at which the resolution was, in due course, proposed and seconded, and, after a short discussion, passed unanimously.

Can Bro. B., who, from some good cause, was not present at the meeting, oppose the confirmation of the minutes, and, if supported by a majority, expunge such resolution at that meeting?

Fraternally yours,
W. C. HOWARD.

Queenstown, Cape of Good Hope,
Nov. 3rd, 1874.

[The whole question of the confirmation of the minutes is a very difficult one. There are two opposing views on the subject, and, as far as we know, no authoritative decision. We are of opinion that it is competent on the vote for confirmation to non-confirm any portion of the minutes read. We think that Bro. B. can do as he suggests; but some contend that the minutes are only read for correction, and can only be non-confirmed for incorrectness. This is an old view, but, we venture to think, constitutionally untenable.—Ed.]

THE INSTALLATION OF THE GRAND MASTER.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Those who attended Grand Lodge on Wednesday last, and witnessed the crowd assembled, must be convinced of the necessity of obtaining a much larger hall than our own when H.R.H. the Prince of Wales is installed as our Most Worshipful Grand Master.

May I venture to suggest the possibility of obtaining the Guildhall. The Lord Mayor of London is a member of the Craft, and has already shown his willingness to further the interests of our charities, having consented to preside at the next Festival of the Girls' School. A large number of the Common Council hold important offices in the Craft, and no doubt they would generously consent to the building being used for so important an event.

Kindly ventilate the subject in the pages of the Freemason, so that some decided action may be taken to accommodate our country friends to do honour to our Royal Brother on his installation.

Yours truly and fraternally,
W. S.

THE MASONIC CHARITIES.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,

Perusing in your last issue an account of the election meeting of the Egyptian Lodge (27), held on the 3rd inst., I observe that Bro. H. G. Buss, P.M., in responding for the Masonic Charities, gave an admirably designed brief sketch of the history of each of the institutions; from the time they were founded, of what their work has been, and how large a return they furnished for the support which the lodges extended to them." Being about to represent my lodge at the next festival of the Benevolent Institution I should esteem it a great favour if Bro. Buss would kindly inform me where I can procure the history he gave, as I have not been supplied with any particulars, and have hitherto always felt unable to give a detailed account of work done, or show any return for the support I have appealed for, and which the brethren have always so heartily and cheerfully given.

Apologizing for troubling you, I am, dear Sir, yours fraternally,

HARRY J. MOXON.
229, New Kent Road, London,
Dec. 14, 1874.

MASONIC PORTRAITS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother.

I quite agree with the suggestion of T.P.C. in last week's issue, as to giving a portrait of some distinguished brother or brethren, or some other picture equally valuable, every week in the Freemason, and also monthly in the "Masonic Magazine." Paper covers for the Freemason would be also an improvement, for as a rule they are not nicely folded. I am sure the portraits would be highly appreciated by the Craft.

The "Voice of Masonry," Chicago, is about to adopt the same plan; and why not the Freemason and "Masonic Magazine." I see by an advertisement that Bro. Kenning has nearly 100 portraits of celebrated brethren to commence with. It would be unnecessary to ask the brethren whose portraits appear to defray the expenses of engraving, &c., as suggested by T.P.C., as I am persuaded, if these suggestions were carried out, the increase in circulation will meet the extra expense. I will undertake to get 20 extra subscribers. What say our brethren to follow this example?

I do not hesitate to say the Freemason would be the best weekly Masonic paper in the world, if it were published and printed so as to keep the advertisements distinct from the literary matter. As it is now, many complain, and with reason, at the arrangements.

I am, yours fraternally,
J.C., 450.

Multum in Parvo, or Masonic Notes and Queries.

BRO. YOUNGHUSBAND'S M.S.

Reading over the Freemasons' Magazine of Sept. 25th, 1869, I find a notice of a M.S. in the possession of Bro. Younghusband.

Would it be possible for me to see it?

In the number of the Freemasons' Magazine of November 28th, 1868, appears a quotation from a curious little work, which had formerly been in the possession of J. Bristow, W.M. 446, having been presented to him by the Secretary of Harmony and Fidelity, 438, Bro. Beaumont, and was sent by Bro. Bristow to the editor.

Where is that work now?

I have seen Bro. Hughan's interesting letter about the Chronicles at Mr. Quaritch's, but, I fear that as my time is very precious just now, I cannot offer to collate the MSS., &c.

I do not myself see that much could come of it, as the metrical chronicle is genealogical mainly and the others I have seen, and do not remember any analogy.

Such, however, still may exist, as I have never looked at them for the sake of comparison or collation. We are more likely to find "parallel passages" in the old rhyming monastic exhortation to morals, manners, and religious duty.

A. F. A. WOODFORD.

THE GRAND MASTER, AND THE ANCIENT AND ACCEPTED RITE.

The ceremony of the installation of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales as Patron of the Ancient and Accepted Rite of Freemasonry, took place at the Masonic Hall in Golden-square on the afternoon of Saturday last.

The assemblage of Freemasons was necessarily small, as members of the Thirty-third degree only could be present; it need, however, be scarcely added that none of those few were absent on so important an occasion. With proverbial royal punctuality, the Prince drove up to the hall to the very minute, and was met at the entrance by Ill. Bros. the Earl of Carnarvon and C. J. Vigne, the Sovereign and Past Sovereign of the Order, who at once conducted his Royal Highness to the Council Chamber, where were assembled Ill. Bros. Capt. N. G. Philips; Major Gen. W. Clerk; I. M. P. Montagu, Major Shadwell Clerke; Robert Hamilton, M.D.; Sir Michael Costa, Lieut. Col. Alexander W. Adair; and Hugh D. Sandeman, members of the Council, with Ill. Bros. Henry C. Vernon, Lieut. Col. George A. Vernon, Albert H. Roys, and Lieut. Col. John G. Sandeman, Past Members.

These brethren having been severally introduced to His Royal Highness, repaired with him, after certain preliminary forms, to the Hall, where the remaining members of the 33rd Degree were assembled, and where they conferred the degree in extenso on the illustrious brother, who was then formally proclaimed and saluted as Patron of the Order. The members of the degree, not in the Council, were then severally honoured with an introduction to His Royal Highness, after which the Council was closed. The brethren then presented were Ill. Bros. Charles J. Banister, T. H. Coombes, Lieutenant-General H. E. Doherty, C.B.; Raphael Costa, Samuel Rawson, and Edward T. Leith, of the A. and A. Rite of England; also Ill. Bros. Maxwell Close, of Ireland, and E. H. Shaw, of the Southern Jurisdiction U.S. of America, each representing his own Council; and W. Hyde Pullen, Assistant Secretary.

The ceremony of installation was ably and impressively performed by Ill. Bro. the Earl of Carnarvon, assisted by Capt. Philips, and the whole proceedings are spoken of as having been attended with complete success. It has now pleased the Prince of Wales to associate himself with Freemasonry in every important branch of the Order, and we hail with infinite satisfaction the circumstance of thus having at our head a brother who, apart from his illustrious position, evinces an amount of active interest in the affairs of the brotherhood which may serve as a praiseworthy example to every member of the Craft.

PROVINCIAL GRAND LODGE OF DOWN.

The Provincial Grand Lodge of the County of Down held a meeting on the 24th ult., Downpatrick, in the lodge-room of No. 86.

In the unavoidable absence of the R.W.P.G.M. Colonel Forde, of Seaforde, the lodge was opened in due and ancient form by the R.W.G.S.W., Bro. Major Thompson, Bro. the R. Mr. Brown, R.W.M. of Lodge 86, acting P.G.S.W.

The lodges of the county were well represented by their officers.

The principal business before the lodge was to receive a deputation from the Belfast brethren in reference to the establishment of a Widows' Fund in connection with the Provincial Grand Lodge. In Belfast, where such a fund already exists, the brethren are doing much good; widows and families of deceased friends; Bros. John Harma and the Rev. E. McClurg urged the desirability of such a fund strongly. Bro. Wm. Johnston, of Ballykilbeg, also spoke strongly in its favour, and an influential committee was appointed to take in hand preliminaries.

We cannot omit to mention that the same committee was appointed to take in hand preliminaries in the same way, and kind and which Bro. Finnigan, the P.G. Secretary, conducted the work of his office.

An address of condolence to the Marchioness of Downshire, beautifully illuminated with Masonic emblems on vellum, and in a richly gilt cover, was shown to the brethren previous to being handed over to the marchioness. This address, costing upwards of £15, has been paid for by voluntary subscription, Lodge Caledonian Railway (No 354) of Glasgow, through Bro. Schmidt, being the only outside contributor. Further business, of a private nature, and election of office-bearers, then took place, Lord Arthur Hill, brother to the late Marquis of Downshire, being elected in his brother's place as P.G. Steward.

The brethren were then, by order of the R.W.P.G.M., called to refreshment, which, in the shape of a handsome dinner, was served up in the Market House Saloon, Bro. the Rev. M. Brown occupying the chair, and Bro. Boyd, of Ballydangan, acting as croupier. After a first-class dinner had been discussed, and the cloth drawn, the Chairman proposed the following toasts:—

"The Queen and Rest of Royal Family," "The Grand Masters of England, Scotland, and Ireland," The Officers of the Provincial Grand Lodge of County Down," "The Visiting Brethren," and "The Poorer Brethren," all of which were duly honoured.

With the second toast, the Chairman remarked that they were at present in an unprecedented position, all the kingdoms having, practically, no Grand Master at present, though, de jure, there always was one.

To the next toast, Bros. Boyd and Finnigan responded.

To the next toast, Bro. the Rev. Dr. Porter, of Belfast, responded, in one of his noble, heartfelt little speeches, which, coming from the heart, seem to go straight to the hearts of the hearers, carrying them with him.

To the next toast Bro. Schmidt (Cal. Rail. 354) responded, giving some good insight into the ways poorer brethren may be helped without taking their independent feeling away; and he also referred to the brethren who are now in Spain and France undergoing hardships.

After grace being said, the brethren, all still in their insignia, went to the large school-room, where a large and distinguished audience had already assembled.

Bro. the Rev. Professor Porte then gave a lecture on his "Recent Wanderings in Moab and Ammon,"—a lecture full of interest, remarkably well delivered, and proving, without flaw, not alone the prophecies of the Holy Bible, as being true, but also that Freemasonry must have existed at a time long before Christ. The proceeds of this lecture, amounting to some £20, go towards the Masonic Orphan Schools.

We never spent a more pleasant, agreeable day than we did in the old city of Downpatrick. The lodge-room, almost new, is splendidly fitted up in every respect; the clothing new, and as good as possible; in fact, the brethren of Downpatrick Lodge, No. 86, can be justly proud of their noble work; and they and their brethren of Lodge 367 deserve all credit and thanks for every and all arrangements made, which left nothing to be desired.

May God give them his help in their new undertaking of love—the formation of a Widows' Fund.

FREEMASONRY IN NEW ZEALAND.

An event, very interesting to the Craft in that portion of New Zealand, took place at Greyouth, W.C., on July 11th, viz., the constitution and consecrating of a Lodge of Royal Ark Mariners, a Conclave of the Red Cross Rome and Constantine, and a Sanctuary of K.H.S. by J. Bulmer, Esq., M.D., acting in the matter of the first-mentioned, as Prov. G.M. for N.Z., under the Grand Mark Masters' Lodge of England and Wales, and in the other degrees as Grand Intendant General for N.Z., under the Grand Council of Red Cross R. and C. Our best coast brethren should be well provided for a "high grade" Masonry.

A meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Otago, E.C., took place on Monday, Aug. 31st, the Most Worshipful Prov. G. Master, Bro. Hyde Harris, Esq. presiding, the principal business of the evening being the investment of officers, and report of the Treasurer. After some routine business the lodge was closed in due and ancient form.

A large number of the Craft assembled at the Masonic Hall, Dunedin, on Wednesday, Sept. 2nd, to do honour to the installation of Bro. John Hislop, Esq., as Prov. G.M. for N.Z., E.C., it being estimated that upwards of 300 brethren were present. Shortly after the lodge was opened, the Prov. Grand Lodge was announced and received with the usual honors, the installation ceremony was performed by the P. Prov. G.M., Bro. Vincent Pyke, the several officers being invested by the P.D.G.M., and the Masters of various Dunedin Lodges. Bro. Launseigne, R. W.M., Otago Kilwinning, acting as Grand Director of Ceremonies. During the evening the anthem "Behold how good and joyful," was beautifully rendered by a most efficient choir, as also a very excellent musical programme. After the usual salutation, &c., Bro. Hyde Harris, Esq. Prov. G.M., Otago, E.C., made some very earnest congratulatory remarks, and together with his officers withdrew. On the Provincial Grand Lodge being closed, the brethren repaired to banquet in the Lower Hall when the usual Masonic toasts were duly honoured.

DEDICATION OF THE HOBART TOWN FREEMASONS' HALL.

This splendid hall, erected by the Freemasons' Hall Company, consisting of Masons only, was, in the presence of His Excellency the Governor, Bro. Charles Du Cane, Esq., formally opened and dedicated on Wednesday, the 26th Sept.

The building was commenced in 1873; and on March 20th, 1873, his Excellency laid the foundation-stone, the architect being Henry Hunter, Esq., and the builder Mr. J. Gregory. To these gentlemen great credit is due for the perfect manner in which the edifice is completed.

The lodge room is a fine apartment; its dimensions are 43ft. long, 24ft. wide, and 20ft. high. At the east end of the room is a dais 6ft. wide, extending the width of the room, and some 3ft. above the level of the floor. In the centre of the dais is a niche formed by two Ionic pillars supporting an entablature, under which is placed the Worshipful Master's chair. At the west end of the room is the niche formed by Doric pillars, under which is placed the Senior Warden's chair, and another niche in the south of the room, bearing the Corinthian column under which is placed the Junior Warden's chair.

At six o'clock the brethren were seen arriving in great numbers, and at 6.30 his Excellency the Governor was announced, and was met by the Marshal of the procession, Bro. C. Toby, and the Worshipful Masters of the respective lodges. In the lodge-room there were about 80 ladies present, admitted by tickets. There were about 135 brethren, consisting of members of the Hobart Town lodges, and many visiting officers and brothers from various parts of the colony. The whole affair was a decided success, owing no doubt to the admirable management of the committee, and great praise is due to Bro. Charles Toby for the perfect arrangements made by him in marshalling the procession; also to Bro. J. Clark for his able assistance. The choir was under the leadership of Bro. W. H. Chapman, assisted by Bros. W. A. Guesdon and Scholes, the various pieces of sacred music during the ceremony being well performed.

A lodge was opened in form, at 7 o'clock sharp, the W.M. of Lodge 801, the Rev. R. D. Poulett-Harris as W.M.; the W.M. of 536, Bro. W. H. Burgess, as Senior Warden; the W.M. of 347, Bro. S. Smith, as Junior Warden; and then called off to perform the ceremony of dedication.

On entering the lodge-room the Masonic Anthem was sung by the choir;

'To Heaven's high Architect, all praise,
All praise, all gratitude be given, &c.

Chorus—

Sound aloud the great Jehovah's praise,
To Him the dome, the temple raise.

The W. Masters ordered the procession to move three times round the hall.

Solemn music played.

After the First Circuit, the brethren sang,

"Let there be light!" the Almighty spoke,
Redefining streams from chaos broke, &c.

After the Second Circuit, the brethren sang,

Parent of light, accept our praise;
Who shed'st on us Thy brightest rays, &c.

After Third Circuit, the brethren sang,

The widow's tear—the orphan's cry—
All wants—our ready hands supply, &c.

The cushion with the three great lights was then placed on the pedestal.

The lodge was then placed in front of the pedestal and the ewers, with the corn, wine, and oil deposited thereon, with the Warrant and Book of Constitutions, and covered with white satin, and the three lesser lights placed round.

The W. Masters, P. Masters, officers and visitors of distinction then repaired to places prepared for their reception: the brethren still standing. The Builder then said:

May it please your Excellency, Worshipful Masters, and Brothers:

Having been entrusted with the construction of this noble edifice, and having completed the work assigned to me to the best of my ability, I beg now to return thanks for the honour conferred on me by the appointment, and to surrender up the implements and plants that were committed to my care when the chief cornerstone was laid, and venture to hope that my exertions may be crowned with your approbation, and that of the Craft generally.

To which his excellency then replied:—

The Director of Ceremonies informs the W. Masters that it is the desire of the directors and shareholders of the hall, and the fraternity generally, to have the hall solemnly dedicated in ancient form.

The W. Masters then requested the officers and brethren to assist in the ceremony.

The ladies then retired, the lodge was tyled, and the business of Masonry resumed.

Consecration Prayer—By a Chaplain.

After prayer the brethren answered:

Glory be to God on high, on earth peace, goodwill towards men.

The honours were then given.

The procession was then formed, headed by the W. Masters, and made one circuit round the lodge, the brethren singing—

Hail! Masonry divine!
Glory of ages, shine, &c.

When the W. Masters arrived at the east music ceased, and one of the W. Masters said:

In the name of the Supreme and Eternal God the Great Architect of heaven and earth, to whom be all honour and glory, I dedicate this hall to Freemasonry.

A Chaplain then strewed corn over the lodge.

Response.—Glory be to God on high, on earth peace, goodwill towards men.

The honours were then given.

The second circuit was made, and the procession moved round the lodge, and the brethren sang—

Great fabrics still arise,
And grace the azure skies! &c.

When the W. Masters arrived in the east the music ceased, and one of the W. Masters said:

In the name of the Supreme and Eternal God, the Great Architect of Heaven and Earth, to whom be all glory, I dedicate this hall to Virtue and Science.

A Chaplain then poured wine on the lodge.

Response.—Glory be to God on high, on earth peace, goodwill towards men.

The honours were then given.

The third circuit was made, the brethren singing—

Hiram, the Architect,
Did all the Craft direct, &c.

When the W. Masters arrived in the east, the music ceased, and one of the W. Masters said:

In the name of the Supreme and Eternal God, the Great Architect of Heaven and earth, to whom be all honour and glory, I dedicate this Temple to Universal Benevolence.

A Chaplain then dipped his finger in the oil, and sprinkled it over the lodge.

Response.—Glory be to God on high, on earth peace, goodwill towards men.

The honours were then given.

A Chaplain then delivered the Invocation.

Response by the brethren—"The Lord is gracious, His mercy endureth for ever.

A Chaplain then pronounced the blessing.

Response by the brethren—"Glory be to God on high, on earth peace, goodwill towards men."

The Masters, Officers, and Brethren then retired to their places.

The Lodge was then covered.

Address by a W. Master.

After which the following anthem was sung:—

Behold! how pleasant and how good,
For brethren such as we, &c.

For there the Lord of Light and Love
A blessing sent with power, &c.

The lodge was then closed, and passed out of the hall for refreshment.

Ireland.

MASONIC PRESENTATION.

The following address has been presented to Rev. M. A. Holden, M.A., Chaplain 219, on his appointment as Rector of Milltown.

"Dear Sir and Brother,

"We, the Master, Wardens, and brethren of your lodge, take this opportunity of offering you our hearty congratulations on this well-merited recognition of your worth as a Minister of the Gospel. We have long felt, and been much profited by your gentlemanly, Masonic, and Christian example; and feel that your influence has been eminently calculated to promote that brotherly love, peace, and harmony, which are among the chief characteristics of our ancient Order. Your untiring zeal, and continued efforts in promoting the cause of Masonry, have won for you the admiration and esteem of your brethren, and they have unfeigned pleasure in giving expression to the feeling of delight with which they have heard of the favour and distinction which has been conferred on you.

"We ask your acceptance of this apron and jewel as a small token of the fraternal regard in which you are held by the brethren of this, your mother lodge; and wish you every prosperity in your new sphere of labour.

"We pray that the Great Architect of the Universe may bless your efforts in promoting His glory on earth; and,

"When in the Western sky the signs bid you prepare,

To gather up your working tools and be tried upon the square,"

May you be found of Him a perfect stone, fit for a place "in the House not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

"Signed, on behalf of the lodge,

"Matthew Wilson, W.M.,

"Samuell Connell, S.W.,

"J. T. Pentland, J.W.,

"Wm. Bright, Sec."

Bro. Holden made the following reply, "To the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of Masonic Lodge, 219, Portadown.

"Dear Sirs and Brethren,

"Although unable to reply in suitable terms to the kindly address which has been presented to me, the difficulty is lessened, I may say removed, by the recollection that we are now assembled in a building where, in the truest sense of the word, "Brotherly love continues" and abounds. And, although I am fully persuaded that the opinion which you so kindly entertain with regard to me, is far too high, nevertheless, I must say for myself that I have endeavoured to do all that which you so generously have given me credit for actually performing. And this I did not from a desire to excel you, but from an honest and heartfelt desire to prove myself worthy of you. For, although as Masons it is not in our power to reveal its secrets, or to disclose its mysteries to the uninitiated, it is in our power to show by example that the fraternity to which we belong is calculated to enlarge the mind—calculated to take a man out of self, and to cause him, when he looks around upon others, to say truly we are brethren. To you, brothers, my best thanks are due for the prayer which you have so heartily offered up for me, now that I am about to enter upon a new sphere of duty. And let me also add that the beautiful jewel and apron which you have so kindly presented to me shall be ever esteemed, inasmuch as they are the insignia of our Order, and the gift of Free and Accepted Brethren.

"Praying that the blessing of Heaven may rest upon you and all regular Masons, that brotherly love may prevail, and every moral and social virtue may unite and cement us.

"I remain, dear Brothers, fraternally, yours,

"M. A. HOLDEN,

"Chaplain of Lodge 219."

THE DEPUTY GRAND MASTER ON GYMNASIUM TRAINING.—On Thursday evening, the 10th inst., Bro. the Right Hon. Lord Skelmersdale, Deputy Grand Master, R.W.P.G.M. for West Lancashire, presided at an assault-at-arms at the Liverpool Gymnasium, Hardman-street, where there was a very large and fashionable gathering of ladies and gentlemen. His lordship was accompanied by Lady Skelmersdale. During an interval in the exercises, which were very cleverly performed under the direction of Mr. Shrapnell, the conductor, his lordship said it gave him immense gratification to preside at that assault-at-arms, because it showed him how much muscle there was in the good old town of Liverpool. (Cheers.) It showed him that the young men of Liverpool bore in mind the important motto, "Mens sana in corpore sano." (Applause.) They knew how to value that saying, and they fully appreciated the fact that by exercising their muscles they gave themselves health and strength, instead of wasting away all health and strength in hot, stuffy billiard-rooms and such like. (Cheers.) As long as young men would only take this lesson to heart, they would be equal to any call that was made either upon their brain or muscle. It was an extraordinary thing for him to remember that in his young days so little was thought about gymnastics. In his Oxford experiences, the room devoted to athletic exercises contained only about thirty feet of space. Now there was a grand gymnasium there—not as good as the Liverpool one, for there were few in the world to come up to it. Gymnastics were, at the present day, gradually making their way all over the country, not only among civilians, but in the army. And what was the result? Why, that they had young men who were trained so as to fit them for any calling in which active service was required. It would be invidious to single out any person for commendation, as everything seemed so excellently done that evening, but he was sure they would all agree with him that there was no person to whom they owed so large a debt of gratitude as to Mr. Shrapnell. (Loud cheering.) They had seen what his adult pupils could do, and he could speak from his own experience how admirable was his training of still younger pupils, for members of his own family had been in his gymnasium, and had profited much from his tuition. (Cheers.) He knew how to call out the muscle when required, and to temper down the weak—to bring them out gradually—so as not to overstrain them; and he might say that such a course of training was a great achievement. (Cheers.) On the motion of Dr. Turnbull, seconded by Mr. A. Holt, a very cordial vote of thanks was given to his lordship for presiding.

We felicitate Bro. A. J. Wheeler, editor of the Masonic Jewel (Memphis), upon his election to the distinguished office of Grand Master of Masons of Tennessee, on Nov. 12th. The Press is no longer looking up, but is rather looked up to. So it ought to be.

Masonic Tidings.

Bro. the Rev. Canon Baynes has been elected W.M. of Trinity Lodge, Coventry, No. 254, for the year ensuing. The Installation will take place on Jan. 21st. Bro. Canon Baynes was P.G. Chaplain for Warwickshire last year.

The Rt. Hon. the Earl of Shrewsbury, Prov. Grand Master, Staffordshire, has been appointed to the Captaincy of the Hon. Corps of Gentlemen at Arms, in the room of the Marquis of Exeter.

A Grand Lodge of Sorrow, in memory of the Past Grand Master, Samuel McManus, of Tennessee, was held at Nashville, Tenn., on Nov. 11th ult. Bro. A. J. Wheeler delivered an eloquent eulogium upon the life of Bro. McManus.

NON-MASONIC NOTES.

All London has been startled with the loss of Lady Dudley's valuable jewels. It seems that on Saturday evening, Lord and Lady Dudley were at the Paddington Station en route to Wiltshire. The dressing-case containing this valuable property, worth about £25,000, was in the charge of a lady's-maid. She put the box down and her foot upon it, and unfortunately lifting her foot for one moment, the box was gone. Lord Dudley has advertised in the Times and the Times of Wednesday has favoured the world with a dissertation on the matter, and a lecture to Lord and Lady Dudley. We venture to think the dissertation worthless and the lecture impertinent. The writer in the Times has been "mal inspiré," his law and his arguments are equally unsound. Lord Dudley is clearly "dans son droit" in offering a reward for loss of property. Until that the police can safely say the box has been stolen, and that the property is in concealment, and the diamonds "intact," and in the hands of a "fence," Lord Dudley is clearly right in treating the matter as a loss, not a robbery. The objection to Lord Dudley's course is, that it might lead to a "compounding of a felony;" but there can be no compounding without a felony to start with, and until that is proved, the matter is a loss, not a felony. There are many things in the world we may believe—we may feel, as we say, morally sure of—but yet we cannot prove. We may believe an associate to be worthless—a friend to be faithless—an employé to be a thief—and yet, as we cannot prove it, we must treat them, one and all, as respectable, and their errors as accidental. We hope sincerely that Lord and Lady Dudley may regain their property; but there are so many conflicting elements just now in our metropolises and our streets, that the absent person who has taken Lady Dudley's dressing-case by mistake may not be able, perhaps, to restore the property to its lawful owner.

MASONRY VERSUS CURSES.

Like the rising sun in th' eastern sky,
Like the star-lit firmament on high,
Like a broad-flowing stream in noonday sun
Like the mind at rest when labour is done:
Such is truth in fairest array:
Such is the world's Freemasonry.

Like the pitiful wretch with hopes forlorn,
Like the seagull's cry when mocking the storm,

Like a petulant child weary of play,
Like the howl of the wind fleeing away;
Such is the jaundiced priestly curse,
Such is its vanity—Nothing worse.

J. BRVAN, D.G.S.W.,
P.M. 1229, Z. 1229, E.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Order and Ea These remarkable remedies surpass every other med for general family use; they should be in the hands of having the cares of households, since they may be upon as simple, direct, and effectual means of relief all bodily wrongs. Their action is alterative, and tonic, and healing: The Ointment has only to be severally rubbed twice a day over any affected org penetrate to it, regulate, and soothe it. Its tonic p ties are obtained through the wholesome influence it when rubbed over the stomach and liver, on both of it produces the happiest effects, by making the sec abundant and natural. Holloway's Pills should be taneously taken.—P. 277.

Advertisements.

MASONIC MUSIC IN STOCK.

AT Bro. KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS.

- Red Cross Knight; composed by Bro. H. Parker, words by Bro. R. W. Little ... 3/0 hat Better Theme than Masonry? words by Bro. James Stevens; music by Bro. Wilhelm Ganz ... 4/0 therly Love, Relief and Truth; written by Bro. Sewell; composed by Bro. J. Rhodes ... 4/0 e Final Toast; written by D. L. Richardson; music by Bro. Edwin J. Crow ... 3/0 e E.A. Song; arranged by the late Bro. Parry, of the "Lodge of Antiquity," No. 3... 6d.
sonic Harmonia ... 9/0 sonic Music, compiled for the use of the "Merchant Lodge," No. 241, by Bro. J. H. Youngusband, P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., and P. Prov. J.G.W. West Lancashire Freemason (Tell me the Sign John); written by George Palmer ... 3/0
ree Times Three; composed by Bro. Harroway, "Royal York Lodge," Brighton ... 3/0
Shake of the Hand (in G & B flat) composed by John Blockley ... 3/0 Freemasons' Festival March and Masonic Hymn, by Bro. W. B. Tolputt (Past Master of the "Temple Lodge," No. 816, Folkestone) ... 3/0
Freemason Quadrilles; inscribed (by permission) to the Right Hon. the Earl de Grey and Ripon, K.G.; by Bro. Joshua Marshall (P.G.O., West Yorkshire), solo or Duet ... 4/0 sic for the Ceremony of Advancement to the Mark Degree; composed by Bro. Edwin J. Crow, dedicated to the Grand Master, Bro. Rev. G. Portal ... 3/e's to His Health in a Song; written by J. J. ealey; composed by J. M. Bentley ... 4/0 e's Masonic Quadrille, by C. T. Hird ... 4/0 ote it Be, by Bro. Jno. P. Nunn ... 2/6 sonic Mischiefs, the new Masonic Song, by G. Grant of the Trowel, answer to Masonic Mischiefs... 3/0 Mystic Tie, song with quartet chorus, written by Wm. Carpenter, Esq., composed by Jas. C. Baker, Mus. D. ... 4/0 elome," a Masonic song, written by Bro. Wm. Carpenter, composed by Bro. Jas. C. Baker. ... 4/0 Mark Masons' Song; dedicated to the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Percy, M.P., M.W.G.M.M. By Bro. B. Yeoman ... 3/0 sonic Song, words by Wm. Allan, music by Culinio ... 2/0
All the above Half-Price.

- Spark's Freemasons' Liber Musicus—Parts 1 to 12 (each) ... 5/0 Freemasons' March, for the Pianoforte, composed by Selmar Kahlenberg ... 2/0 sonic Ode, written by Bro. G. Pasenger; composed by Bro. B. Sharpe ... 5/0 Masonic Minstrel; being a complete collection of words of 200 Masonic Songs, Odes, Anthems, &c., with a list of Toasts and Sentiments. 3s. 6d. xh, 4s. roan, gilt edges ... dia Masonica: Five Songs and a Trio, set to music and arranged by Bro. C. H. Purdey, new edition ...
Chants and an Anthem, set to music and composed by Bro. G. F. Taylor, for the use of Mark Masters' Lodges... 2/0 sonic Musical Service, by Dr. J. C. Baker, No. 1 ... 1/6 c for the Masonic Ceremonies; by Bros. E. J. Crow and R. Limpus Parts I., II., & III. (each)

HISTORY OF CLEVELAND AND ITS VICINAGE.

An Historical, Topographical, and Statistical Account of the past and present state of each Parish, Township, and Hamlet within the Wapentake of Lanth, and the Boroughs of Whitby and Stockton-on-Tees; oil, Produce, Manufactures, Antiquities, Natural Curiosities, and Benefit Societies; with copious Pedigrees of the principal Families. Memoirs of Memorable Men, careful notices of the most remarkable Events, Notices of the Manners and Customs, Sports and Pastimes, Legends and Superstitions, and a Glossary of the North York dialect.

BRO. GEORGE MARKHAM TWEDDELL, of the Royal Historical Society; of the Societies of Antiquaries of Scotland and Newcastle-upon-Tyne; of the Royal Society of Northern Antiquaries, Copenhagen, is completed in 32 Parts at 6d. each (or by Book).

In addition to nearly all the fine Woodcuts given in the History, the Work is illustrated by numerous Engravings, executed specially for it; is neatly printed with a new type, on good paper; and contains all the information to be derived from previous histories of the County, with a mass of other curious particulars relating to the Past and to the Present, collected by the Editor during the last thirty years. A chapter on the History of Cleveland has been kindly contributed by Professor Phillips, and the manuscript information collected by the late Mr. Justice Temple for his long-projected History of Cleveland (including some useful communications by the late learned Archdeacon Todd), has been gratefully placed at the Author's disposal. The names of the subscribers received by Bros. TWEDDELL and PHILLIPS, of Cleveland Printing and Publishing Offices, Ley,

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS FOR Craft Lodges,

OF SUPERIOR DESIGN AND WORKMANSHIP, MANUFACTURED IN THREE QUALITIES,

BY BRO. GEORGE KENNING, P.M., COMPRISING

- Three Pedestals. One Oak or Mahogany Kneeling Stool.
Three Candlesticks, Oak or Mahogany. Lamp (Star in the East).
Two Columns, Oak or Mahogany. Third Degree Sheet.
S. W. Triangle, in Oak or Mahogany with Gilt Tripod. Bible, with Name and No. of Lodge in Gold.
Pulley Blocks and Windlass. Square and Compasses in Case.
and Rough and Perfect Asblars. Cushion for Bible.
Oak or Mahogany Box, and nine Tools, Plated. Ten Officers' Collars.
Three Oak or Mahogany Gavel. I.G. Dirk.
One " Maul. O.G. Sword.
One " Ballot. Set of Eight Books.
Box and Balls. Two Pairs of Boards.
One pair Wands. Three C—E—S.
Tree Tracing Boards. Two H—s.
Three Cardes with Emblems.

£30, £60, and £100. Chairs, Dais, Teasated Carpeting, Banners, &c., &c. on the most moderate terms, according to material, style, &c. For Personal Insignia, see List of Clothing and Jewels.

THE COMPLETE FURNITURE AND APPOINTMENTS FOR Royal Arch Chapters,

OF SUPERIOR DESIGN & WORKMANSHIP.

MANUFACTURED, IN THREE QUALITIES, BY COMP. GEORGE KENNING, P.Z., COMPRISING

- Floor Cloth. Trowel.
Pedestal. Square and Compasses.
Vell. Sword.
Set of Letters. Three Robes for Principals.
Five Large Banners with Poles and Stands. Three Sceptres.
Fifteen Small ditto. Three Surplices.
Three Large Candlesticks. Ten Officers' Collars.
Three Small ditto. Jewels.
Six Ornamental Candles. Janitor's Sword.
Crownbar. Bible.
Pickaxe. Cushion for ditto.
Shovel. Scripture Extracts.
Parchment Scroll. Set of Five Books.
Set of Lines.

£50, £100, and £150. Thrones, Chairs, Canopy, Head Ornaments, &c. (if required on the most moderate terms, according to material, style, &c. For Personal Insignia, see List of Clothing and Jewels.

Glasgow Advertisements.

LODGE COMMERCIAL (No. 360),

Meet in their Lodge Room No. 30, HOPE STREET, GLASGOW, On the First and Third Friday of the month at 8 p.m. prompt. W. H. BICKERTON, Sec.

ROSE HOTEL, 109, ARGYLE STREET.

Quiet Family Hotel. Lofty and Well-Ventilated Bed Rooms, Culinary Department First-Class. Bro. G. B. ADAMS, Proprietor.

ST. ANDREW'S RESTAURANT, Nos. 28, 30, & 32, HUTCHESON STREET.

Luncheons, Dinners, Fish and Tripe Suppers, at strictly moderate charges. Ample Accommodation for Large or Small Marriage or Supper Parties, Committee Meetings, &c. Bro. S. McPHEE, Proprietor.

BRO. JOHN C. REID, ENGRAVER,

Every Description of Silver and Ornamental Engraving, Masonic and General. No. 109, ARGYLE STREET.

BRO. WILLIAM PHILLIPS, PRACTICAL TAILOR AND CLOTHIER

No. 92, RUTHERGLEN LOAN. Has had long experience in the Manufacture of Every Description of Masonic Clothing, and has always on hand a varied assortment of M.M. APONS, SASHES, &c., at the most moderate charges.

BRO. JOHN TWEEED, PUBLISHER,

STEAM POWER LEITERPRESS PRINTER. All kinds of Printing executed on the shortest notice. 9, HOWARD STREET, GLASGOW.

Now Ready, price 1s., post free 1s. 1d. CARTES DE VISITE OF THE FOLLOWING Masonic Celebrities.

- The Most Hon. the Marquess of Ripon. The Right Hon. the Earl of Carnarvon, D.G.M. The Right Hon. Lord Waverley, Prov. Grand Master Spilfok. The Right Hon. the Earl of Bective, P.G.M. Cumberland and Westmorland.
The Right Hon. the Earl of Limerick, P.G.M. Bristol. Sir Fredk. Martin Williams, Bart, M.P., D.P.G.M., Cornwall. Adair, Col. P. Prov. G. Master Somerset. Bagshaw, R. J., Prov. G. Master Essex. Beach, W. W. B., M.P., Prov. G. Master Hants. Burdett, Col. F., Prov. G. Master Middlesex. Dobbie, A., P. Prov. G. Master Surrey. Graham, J.H., L.L.D., M.W.G. Master Quebec. Hayshe, Rev. Jno., Prov. G. Master Devon. Lazar, J., District G. Master New Zealand. Smith, Augustus, P., Prov. G. Master Cornwall. Stuart, W., Past Grand Master, K.T. Vernon, Col., P. Prov. G. Master Staffordshire.
Westmorland. Adams, Jas, P.M., P.Z. Monckton, J.B., P.G.D. Moore; Rev. T. E. P.G.C. Moss, J.T., P.M., P.Z. Muggidge, Henry. Norton, Jacob. Owen Maguire, P.M., P.Z., 319, Parvin, T. R., Sec. Gnd. Lodge of Iowa. Platt, J. W., M.P.Z. Port, J. Pullen, Hyde, 33, P.G.S.B. Purday, J.M. Ruebeck, W., P.P.G.S.B. Surrey. Robt, P.G. Pursuirant. Scott, Chas., Commander, R.N. Shaboe, Rev. D., P.P.G. Chaplain Middx. Simms, J. Lambert. Stevens, J.P.G. Stewart, Rayham W., P.G.D. Stohwasser, J. P.M., P.Z. Stone, W., P.M., K.T. Stringer, J. Stuart, W., P.Z. Sugg, P. M. Swan, C., P.P.G.S.B. Herts. Taylor, J., E.P.J.W., Middlesex Thomas, J. P.M., P.Z. Udall, J., P.G.D. Walters, Fredk., P.M., P.Z. Wigginton, Col., W.M. 1503. Williams, John. Woodford, The Rev. A.P.A., Past Mackenzie, H.M. Grand Chaplain. Meggy, J., P.G. Steward Wright.

London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street, E.C.

MASONIC FLAGS FOR HIRE.

- Freemasons' Arms... 15ft. by 12ft.
Knights Templar Arms... 15ft. by 12ft.
Red Cross of Rome and Constantine Arms 15ft. by 12ft.
Square and Compasses, with Prince of Wales's Feathers in Centre ... 12ft. by 9ft.
City of London Arms... 10ft. by 7ft
Union Jack ... 27ft. by 13ft.
" 10ft. by 6ft.
Duke of Edinburgh... 9ft. by 4ft.
Russian ... 9ft. by 4ft.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOT 198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON.

SARSAPARILLA. WILKINSON'S ESSENCE, OR FLUID

EXTRACT OF RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, prescribed by the Faculty for PURIFYING the BLOOD, DEBILITY, LIVER COMPLAINTS, and freeing the system from effects of Mercury. Exclusively used in India and the Colonies as a prevention to Tropical diseases. "Superior preparations that may always be relied upon."—Sir Asley Cooper. "We are in every respect satisfied with it."—Lancet. "We recommend yours as the best."—Medical Review. In Quarter, Half, and Pint Bottles. CAUTION.—Spurious and injurious preparations are offered to the public. See that Bottle and Label have the name and Address, "T. Wilkinson, late Wilkinson, Bridge, and Co., No. 279, Regent-street, London."

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC DINNER PILLS.

No Pill is so efficacious in promoting digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from a Costive Habit, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of diet, and those of the most delicate constitution can take them with safety. Taken as an adjunct with Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla with the greatest success.

QUINTESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER and CAMOMILE.

WILKINSON'S Preparation of Ginger and Camomile has long been deservedly used as an excellent domestic medicine. It is a most efficient Stomachic Tonic, and the best remedy for Flatulency and disorders arising from impaired digestion, and is not affected by climate. No European in India or tropical climates should be without it. In one-eightihs, quarter, and half-pint bottles.

ALL MUSIC UNDER HALF-PRICE.—

Any 4s. piece sent post free, 1s. 9d; any 3s. piece, 1s. 3d.; any 2s. 6d. piece, 1s. 1d., including the newest and best music of all publishers. Lists sent free.—Freeman and Gage, 15, Beaufort-buildings, Strand.

NOW READY, Price 2s., Post Free 2s. 2d.

THE
COSMOPOLITAN MASONIC CALENDAR,
 DIARY, AND POCKET-BOOK, FOR 1875,
 IS A COMPREHENSIVE MASONIC BOOK OF REFERENCE

CONTAINING

Lists of Lodges, Chapters, K.T. Preceptories, Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers, in England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Quebec, New Brunswick, British Columbia, United States, Central and South America, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Hamburgh, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece, Turkey, Peru, Netherlands, &c., together with full particulars of EVERY GRAND MASONIC BODY throughout the globe.

The London Meetings are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in Towns, alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

MAY BE HAD OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

Single Copies, ordered by letter, may be paid for in stamps; orders for more than one, to be accompanied by post-office orders, payable to
 GEORGE KENNING, Chief Office, London,

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS
 The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri.
 The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $3 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free.
 Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 198, Fleet-street.

TRAMORE. TRAMORE. TRAMORE.
 COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.

The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country.

Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yachting, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.

Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor,

Rosherville Hotel.
 (NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS,
 DEJEUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-
 BAIT TEAS.

The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable.

The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the vintages will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste.

The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.

BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS,
 Proprietors

Masons' Hall Tavern,
 MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY

THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN, late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

MASONIC NOTE PAPER AND ENVELOPES
 MADE EXPRESSLY FOR THE
 Craft, Royal Arch, Mark, Red Cross of Rome and Constantine, Knights Templar, Ark Mariners, and Rose Croix.

Stamped in Relief in Correct Colours, and with Proper Emblems. The Paper is of very SUPERIOR MANUFACTURE, packed in boxes, containing Five (Five) envelopes, each emblematically labelled,

Price Three Shillings.

ENVELOPES TO MATCH, SIXPENCE PER PACKET.

Every Freemason should order a sample, either direct, or through any stationer.

KENNING'S MASONIC DEPOTS,

LONDON:—198, Fleet-street; 175, Aldersgate-street; & 1, 2 & 3, Little Britain.
 LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place. GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-street, & 2, St. Enoch's-lane.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 257, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, post free, sent on receipt of 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.

PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.

Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital so: restores, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order it of the Chemist, or get it at from J. PEPPER, 257, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of 108 stamps or P.O.O.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
 7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.

Public and Private Dining Rooms.
 First-class Cooking and Wines.
 Open for Suppers after the Theatre.
 Bro. F. HILFRAICH, Proprietor.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street
 LONDON.

WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur
 Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.

SIDNEY SPENCER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
 GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.

Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Grid.
 Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, & for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners.

GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited)
 32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
 JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager

GEORGE KENNING, MASONIC PUBLISHER,

One vol. 800 pages 8vo., with an Index, cloth gilt. Price ros. 6d.
 The History of Freemasonry, from its Origin to the Present Day.

Drawn from the best sources and the most recent investigations. By Bro. J. G. FINDEL. Second Edition, revised and preface written by Bro. D. MURRAY LYON.

Imperial 8vo., bound in cloth, richly ornamented. Price £1 11s. 6d.
 History of the Lodge of Edinburgh (Mary's Chapel) No. 1.

Embracing an account of the Rise and Progress of Freemasonry in Scotland, by Bro. DAVID MURRAY LYON. With Twenty-six Fac-similes of Ancient Statutes, Minutes of various Lodges, Seals, and Orders, &c., and Authentic Portraits and Autographs of Sixty Eminent Craftsmen of the past and present time.

With Illustrations. Price 38s.

Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and its Kindred Sciences.

Comprising the whole range of Arts, Sciences, and Literature, as connected with the Institution. By Bro. ALBERT G. MACKAY, M.D., Author of "Lexicon of Freemasonry," "A Text Book of Masonic Jurisprudence," "Symbolism of Freemasonry," &c., &c.

Now Ready. Price 5s., post free: 5s. 3d.

Life of Constantine.

Written in Greek, by EUSEBIUS PAMPHILUS (Bishop of Caesarea in Palestine). Done into English from that edition, set forth by VALESIUS, and printed in Paris in the year 1659. Preface by Bros. R. WENTWORTH LITTLE, Treas. Gen., and the Rev. A. F. A. WOODFORD, P.G.C. With Engravings of Constantine the Great, Lord Ranelagh, of Ireland, Grand Commander of the Orders of Constantine and Phillip; H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex, K.G., Grand Sovereign from 1813 to 1843; the Earl of Bective, M.P., Grand Sovereign 1866 to 1874; Sir Frederick Martin Williams, Bart., M.P., Grand Viceroy 1866 to 1874, Grand Sovereign 1874 and 1875; Colonel Francis Burdett, Grand Viceroy 1874 and 1875; Robert Wentworth Little, Grand Recorder 1865 to 1872, Grand Treasurer 1873, 4, and 5; the Knights of Constantine, and the Vision of the Cross, &c., &c.

Shortly will be published, price 2s. 6d.

Defence of Freemasonry.

By Bro. Rev. A. F. WOODFORD, Past Grand Chaplain.

Fourth Edition. Now ready. Price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

Reflected Rays of Light upon Freemasonry; or, the Freemasons' Pocket Compendium.

With an Emblematical Frontispiece. A Handbook of the principles of Freemasonry and Pocket Vade-Mecum and Guide to the various Ceremonies connected with Craft Masonry, so far as the same are allowed to be communicable.

Second Edition. Price 1s., post free. Revised and Enlarged.

Masonry in Relation to Civil Authority and the Family Circle.

By Bro. CHALMERS I. PATON (Past Master No. 393, England). This work is a perfect handbook of the principles of Freemasonry, founded on the Ancient Charges and Symbols, and will be found to be eminently practical and useful in the vindication and support of the Order.

Re-Issue, now Ready. Price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.

onic Gatherings.

Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR, P.M. Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from the earliest to the present time, &c., &c.

Grand Lodge Constitutions.

With the Three Charges and the Entered Apprentice's Song, 2s.

Imperial 12mo., 208 pages, handsomely bound, price 2s. 6d., post free 2s. 8d.

Israelites Found in the Anglo-Saxons.

The Ten Tribes supposed to be lost traced from the Land of their Captivity to their occupation of the Isles of the Sea. With an exhibition of those traits of Character and National Characteristics assigned to Israel in the Books of the Hebrew prophets; by Bro. WILLIAM CARPENTER, P.M., P.Z., Author of "Scientia Biblica," "Scripture Natural History," "Guide to the Reading of the Bible," "Lectures on Biblical Criticism and Interpretation," "A Popular Introduction to the Bible," "The Biblical Companion," "Critica Biblica," "Calendarium Palestinae," "An Introduction to the Reading and Study of the English Bible," and Editor of the fifth large edition of "Calmet's Dictionary of the Bible," and of the Abridgement of the same, &c., &c.

Richly Coloured, 9½ by 6, arranged for pocket, in book form, price 7s. 6d.
 Craft Tracing Boards.

Larger sizes in stock from 18 by 10 to 40 by 27 inches.

The Freemason.

Vols. I., 4s. 6d.; II., 7s. 6d.; III., IV., V., &c., 15s. each.

Now Ready, No. 18 (December). Price 6d., post free 7d. Annual Subscription, including postage—United Kingdom, 7s.; America, 9s. (payable in advance).

The Masonic Magazine: A Monthly Digest of Freemasonry in all its Branches.

Now ready. Price 2s., post free 2s. 3d.

The Cosmopolitan Masonic Calendar, Diary, and Pocket-book for 1875.

Containing List of Lodges, Chapters, K. T. Preceptories, Red Cross Conclaves, and Grand Councils, with the Names of Officers in all parts of the world. The London Meetings of every degree are given in the memorandum space of each day. The Country Lodges appear in towns alphabetically arranged. It also contains the Charge and Entered Apprentice's Song.

In the press, Third Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 5s.

A Full-coloured Illustrated Book of Masonic Clothing and Jewels, from Master Mason to the 30th degree (inclusive).

Now Ready, with Index and Preface, in 12 Imperial Folio Parts, 5s. each, or bound in One Handsome Volume, £3. Handsome Cloth Covers, with Gilt Lines, and Lettered, for Binding (similar to those used for the Graphic and Illustrated News), price 5s. each.

The Freemasons' Liber Musicus.

Dedicated by expressed permission to H.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, M.W. Grand Master. Edited by Dr. WILLIAM SPARK, P.P.G.O., W.Y.—298.

This work contains 216 pp. and 118 Musical Compositions suitable for all the Ceremonies of the Masonic Order; First, Second, and Third Degrees; Consecration and Dedication of Halls and Lodges Programmes, Toasts, Songs, Trios, Choruses, &c., for Banquets and other Festive Gatherings; Laying Foundation or Corner Stones; Installation; Mark Masonry; Royal Arch; Masonic Funerals; Voluntaries; Marches, &c., &c.

AMERICAN.

Guide to the Royal Arch Chapter.

A complete Monitor for Royal Arch Masonry. With full instructions in the degrees of Mark Master, Past Master, &c. According to the Manual of the Chapter, together with an historical introduction, explanatory notes, and critical emendations.

True Masonic Chart;

A Hieroglyphic Monitor, containing all the Emblems Explained in the degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow-Craft, and Master Mason. Designed and arranged agreeably to the Lectures. Price 6s.

Signet of King Solomon; or, the Freemason's Daughter.

New Edition, Revised and Enlarged. Price 6s.

Washington and his Masonic Compeers.

Illustrated with a copy of a Masonic Portrait of Washington, painted from Life. With numerous other Engravings. Tenth edition. Price 11s. 3d.

The Royal Arch Companion.

A Manual of Royal Arch Masonry. Containing monitorial instructions, together with the ceremonies of Constituting and Dedicating Chapters and Installing Officers. 4s. 6d.

The Origin and Early History of Freemasonry.

Containing various responses to the question, "What is Masonry?" the true aim, purport, and mission of the same. 4s. 6d.

Masonic Trials.

A Treatise of the Law and Practice of Masonic Trials in the Lodge, Chapter, &c., with forms and precedents. Containing also the Constitutions and Edicts of the General Grand Bodies; the Ancient Landmarks; Ancient Constitutions, Charges and Regulations, and an appendix of general forms. 7s. 6d.

Masonic Law and Practice,

With forms, &c. 5s.

OFFICE, 198, FLEET-STREET, LONDON, E.C.

S. YARDLEY,
(ESTABLISHED 1830)
Shop Front Builder,
SHOP FITTER,
AND
Air Tight Show Case Manufacturer,
8, LOWER WOOD STREET, CLERKENWELL,
LONDON, E.C.

Every description of fittings manufactured for Jewellers, Cutlers, Stationers, Offices, Drapers, Museums, Banks, Librarians, Outfitters, and Hoisters, Fancy Trades, &c. Plans and Estimates provided for shop fronts and internal fittings, in Town or any part of the Country.

CHARING CROSS STATION
TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.)
Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

FOR FISH. Try GOW
FOR POULTRY Try GOW.
FOR GAME Try GOW.
FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS. Try GOW
J. GOW,
1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c. Country Orders promptly executed.
ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—
ROBERT S. MENDEY
Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
(LATE WITH PATKILL & Co.)
106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.
Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.
Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,
80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,
MANUFACTURER OF THE
NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,
Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

MESSRS. BARTON AND DREW,
55, FORE STREET, CITY,
Who have for 27 years acted for
PERSONS IN EMBARRASSED CIRCUMSTANCES
CONTINUE TO
OBTAIN DISCHARGES FROM DEBT IN TOWN OR COUNTRY.
By proceedings in
BANKRUPTCY, LIQUIDATION OR COMPROMISE,
Which stays all legal proceedings (and in most cases without publicity or suspension of Business.)
CHARGES MAY BE PAID BY EASY INSTALLMENTS.
NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION OR ANSWERS TO ENQUIRIES MADE BY LETTER.
DIVORCE AND COMMON LAW CASES CONDUCTED BILLS OF SALE AND CONVEYANCES
PREPARED AND COMPLETED at reasonable charges.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home. Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tula. Terms, 60, 70, and 80s. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London; or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

FUNERALS.
Bro. J. Ayton,
Successor to E. T. CROFTON,
Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
ESTABLISHED 1821,
79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
AND
139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
Price List on Application. Distance no object.

FUNERALS.
BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,
232 HIGH HOLBORN,
Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.
Established nearly 150 years

BRO. J. B. MACNAIR.
Artist and Photographer.
11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.
Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons. Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s. Vignettes 7s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrant, Bust 10s.

EDWARD M. HAIGH,
LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for
Cameo Vignettes, and Permanent Portraits in Carbon.
The Studio is specially adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN,
213, REGENT-STREET, W.

JANES & SON,
MANUFACTURERS, PATENTEES, AGENTS,
ALL KINDS OF OUTSIDE AND INSIDE.
WINDOW BLINDS:
Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street, City
Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly.
No Other House.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, Electro plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,
General House Furnishing Ironmonger,
49, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.
OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REALLY GOOD Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any person to select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other house in the Trade," but quite as cheap as any.
A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.—All sizes at 75, Edgware-road, W.
Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, £8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voice celeste, £11 10s.; ten stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £26; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,
Harmonium Manufacturers,
75, Edgware-road, London.
FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

ALDERNEY, JERSEY, AND GUERNSEY COWS, HEIFERS, AND BULLS

ED. PARSONS FOWLER, of Jersey, and 10, Gloucester square, Southampton, has always on PRIVATE SALE
at his stables, Southampton, choice herds of the above breeds, exporting annually 1,000. He also begs to observe that he is no wise connected with parties trading under his surnames, being the sole exporter.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to ship-owners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLE
FOR CRAFT LODGES,
Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED FOR THE WORSHIPFUL MASTER, SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.
6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND CANDLES.
Packing Cases 6d. each.
DITTO FOR
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,
10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
BRO. GEORGE KENNING'S
Masonic Depots,
LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and Fleet-street.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.
GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch-lane.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,
By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.
In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each REEVES SON AND Co., Playhouse-yard, London.

BRO. KENNING'S
NEW TRACING BOARD
Mounted on Cloth for the Pocket, Price 7/6.

Now Ready. Plain, 1s. 6d.; coloured, 3s.
A BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH OF MASONIC EMBLEM
may be had, Wholesale and Retail, of Bro. Kenning, at his Masonic Depots in London, Liverpool and Glasgow.

Re-issue, price 5s., post free 5s. 4d.
MASONIC GATHERINGS.
Edited by Bro. GEORGE TAYLOR.
Containing Historical Records of Freemasonry from earliest to the present time, &c.
London: GEORGE KENNING, 198, Fleet-street.

BALL FAVOURS,
NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN
BRANCHES { 198, Fleet-street, London.
2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
145, Argyle-st. & 2, Enoch's-lane GLASGOW

THE STRAND TURKISH BATH
335C, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.
Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 11 a.m. 1d.; from 11 a.m. till 9 p.m. 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, 10s. 6d. From 6 p.m. till 9 p.m. 1s. 6d. One dozen tickets, 10s. 6d. Warm, cold, shower, and baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies' Baths, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended. Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH.
From the Houseman, Strand.

THE BIRKBECK
Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts are ONE MILLION!
How to Purchase a House for Two Guineas per Annum with immediate possession and no Rent to pay. The Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, is Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Annum with immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening. The Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD BUILDING SOCIETY, is 35 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to invest Money with safety at 4 1/2 per cent per Annum in the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK.
All sums under £50 repayable upon demand. Current accounts similar to Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied similar to Ordinary Bankers. Office hours from 10 till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 till 3 Saturdays from 10 till 3. A small pamphlet, containing particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent Post-free on application to FRANCIS RAYBURN, 35, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF MASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolical Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s. Reeves and Turner, 106, Strand, London.

Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother George Kenning, at his Offices, 198, Fleet-street, and 2, St. Enoch-lane, in the City of London; and at the Masonic Depots in the County of Lancashire, and at the Masonic Depots, St. Enoch's-lane, Glasgow—Scotland.

THE Freemason.

REPORTS OF THE GRAND LODGES ARE NOW PUBLISHED WITH THE SPECIAL SANCTION OF

Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES, the M.W. Grand Master of England; SIR MICHAEL ROBERT SHAW-STEWART Bart., M.W. Grand Master Mason of Scotland; the Right Hon. the EARL OF ROSSLYN, the M.W. Past Grand Master for Scotland; and the Grand Masters of many Foreign Grand Lodges.

VOL. 7, No. 303.]

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1874.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

[PRICE 2d.]

THE LOMBARD EXCHANGE,
 LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

TERMS.

Office Fee	...	£	s.	d.
Subscription	...	3	3	0
Letters residing and carrying on business at a distance	...	3	3	0
City miles and upwards from London, Merchants, Clerks, and Clerks to Subscribers (no entrance fee)	...	1	1	0

Room is well supplied with newspapers, telegrams, and of reference. It includes a Post-office, Poste Restante, Reading and Writing Room, Restaurant, Lava &c.; also copying machines for the use of Subscribers.

Bro. JOHN H. YOUNGHUSBAND,
 P.M., P.Z., P.E.C., P.P.J.G.W., &c., Manager.

PIANOFORTES FIRST-CLASS.
PEACHEY'S
 THREE YEARS' SYSTEM OF PURCHASE.
 PIANOFORTES AND HARMONIUMS LENT ON HIRE,
 FOR THREE YEARS;
 (1) By equal Quarterly Deposits,
 (2) Our further payment, the Instrument becomes the property of the Hirer.

TERMS:
 PIANETTE PIANOFORTES, 7 OCTAVES,
 3 feet 6 inches high.
 2, 2½, and 3 Guineas per Quarter.
 PICCOLO PIANOFORTES, 7 OCTAVES,
 3 feet 9 inches high.
 2½, 3, 3½, and 4 Guineas per Quarter.
 COTTAGE PIANOFORTES, 7 OCTAVES,
 4 feet high.
 3, 3½, 4, 4½, and 5 Guineas per Quarter.
 Harmoniums and American Organs, on the Purchase System, From 10s. to 21s. PER MONTH.
 GRAND PIANOFORTES LENT ON HIRE.

CITY OF LONDON MANUFACTORY, PEACHEY,
 73, BISHOPSGATE STREET WITHIN, E.C.

Now Ready, Fifth Edition. 5s.

SCRIPTURAL DOCTRINE OF ADEPS; or, the State and Abode of the Dead. By the Rev. GEORGE BARTLE, D.D., D.C.L. Book of profound thrilling interest.—Christian

London Longmans and Co., Paternoster-row.

SWANSEA.
 Agent for "The Freemason."
CHAS. MAGGS, 24, Oxford-st., Swan-

Stock of Aprons, Jewels, Clothing, and every for all Degrees of Freemasonry.
 for Kenning's Masonic Note Paper, Envelopes, Candles, Perfumes, &c.
 Orders received for "The Freemason."

THE ENTR'ACTE.
MUSICAL and THEATRICAL REVIEW,
 One Penny. Used as a programme at the principal Provincial Music Halls. The Entr'acte enjoys an circulation, and gets into the hands of every theatrical-hall artist. It contains a splendid cartoon every week, medium for advertisers. Subscribers can be supplied by per quarter. Published every Saturday, at 5, Catherine-garden, W.C.

FOR DEFECTIVE SIGHT.—SPEC-ACLES scientifically adapted to remedy impaired vision. KLAND, Surgeon, daily, at Horne and Thentwalle's, to the Queen, 3, Holborn Viaduct, London, E.C. Send for "Ackland's Hints on Spectacles," which contains suggestions to sufferers from imperfect sight.

EMPLOYMENT WANTED, as Tyler, or, Equerry.—Address, R. J., 19, Calthorpe-C.

TO LET.—A LARGE ROOM AT
 Smith's, the Union Tavern, Air-street, Regent-Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, for Lodges of Instructors, Private Clubs, Public, Private, and Banquet Dinners.

REPAIRS FOR TENDER FEET.—
 Anthony Stard's new material! Peculiarly Prepared skin. Soft as silk, slices like patent, never cracks, better and finer in wear, a perfect desirable luxury and specialty. 8, Bow Lane, Cheapside, E.C. Ladies order direct. One trial insures satisfaction.

MASONIC ASSURANCE OFFICE,
 9, NEW BRIDGE-STREET, LONDON.
 ESTABLISHED IN 1868.

This Company was the first to adopt the new and popular system of POSITIVE ASSURANCE. The policies being payable to bearer, render assignments, stamps, legacy duties, &c., unnecessary, and they have at all times an immediate purchasable value. See detailed prospectus.

ABNER TORKINGTON, Managing Director.

Norwich and London ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.
 ESTABLISHED 1836.
 SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL £100,000.
 For Insuring against
ACCIDENTAL DEATH
 With
Compensation for Personal Injury,
 Caused by Accidents

CHIEF OFFICES—ST. GILES'S STREET, NORWICH.
 LONDON: 49, MOORGATE-ST.
 Secretary: CHARLES R. GILMAN, Esq.
 London Manager: Mr. GEORGE POWELL.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
 Capital—A Quarter of a Million.

OFFICE:—4, QUEEN STREET PLACE, LONDON, E.C.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.
 May, 1874.

New Business, 2,307 Policies for £406,630.
 New Annual Income, £12,236.
 192 Death Claims paid, £33,111.
 26 Claims on Matured Policies, £2,987.
 Paid for surrenders, £2,062.
 Laid by in year, £44,087.
 In force, 19,111 Policies for £3,306,338.
 Annual Premium Income, £104,996.
 Paid for Policy Claims and Bonuses during nineteen years, £255,924 on 1,584 Policies.
 Accumulated Fund increased to £355,202.

Managing Director and Actuary—
 William Sutton Gover, Esq., F.S.S., F.I.A.

GEORGE REES MAPLE and ROSEWOOD MOULDINGS, best in London.

GEORGE REES GILT MOULDINGS, cheapest in the Trade.

GEORGE REES 100,000 feet of GILT ROOM BORDERING in stock, from 1d. per foot.

GEORGE REES First-class ENGRAVINGS from 2s. each.

GEORGE REES CHROMOS, from the Masters, at reduced prices.

57, DRURY-LANE, W.C., opposite Drury-lan

E. MOSES and SON supply every description of CLOTHING, ready made or made to measure, for all ages, all occasions, and all classes; also Hosiery and Drapery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, and complete outfits for all climates.

E. MOSES AND SON have as usual made extensive preparations for the Winter Season in every department of their business, and are now showing the newest styles and patterns.

Overcoats, 19s. to £7.
 A distinct Department for Boys' Clothing.
 Prices based on ready-money system.
 All goods marked in plain figures.
 Any article exchanged if not worn or injured.
 List of Prices, with Rules for Self-measure, Patterns, and Fashion Sheet, gratis, and post free.

E. MOSES and SON'S easy and accurate system of self-measurement enables them to execute orders by post, with the guarantee of a faultless fit.

E. MOSES and SON'S Establishments are closed every Friday evening at sunset, till Saturday evening at sunset, when business is resumed until 11 o'clock.

E. MOSES and SON,
 Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
 LONDON.
 Minorities and Aldgate,
 New Oxford-street,
 Tottenham-Court-road,
 and Bradford, Yorkshire.

MOURNING.
E. MOSES and SON have always on hand a Large Stock of Mourning Attire for adults and juveniles. An assortment to select from will be sent at any time on receipt of a letter or telegram, or the articles required can be made to measure at a very short notice.

E. MOSES and SON,
 Merchant Tailors and Outfitters for all Classes.
 LONDON.
 Minorities and Aldgate,
 New Oxford-street,
 Tottenham-court-road,
 and Bradford, Yorkshire.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
 BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps and Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston-road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Made simply with boiling water or milk.
 Sold in packets (in tins for the tropics), labelled—
JAMES EPPS & Co., HOMOEOPATHIC CHEMISTS,
 48, Threadneedle-street, and 170, Piccadilly.
 Works—Euston-road and Camden-town, London.

COATS OF ARMS, CRESTS, AND MONOGRAMS FOUND.
 SEALS, ENDORSING STAMPS, NOTE PAPER DIES,
 ENGRAVING OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
BRO. JAS. B. SLY, 9, RATHBONE PLACE, W., LONDON.
Your Arms, Crest and Motto Found and Drawn for 4s. 6d.

MASONIC EMBLEMS.
A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART, in Photography, mounted for framing, representing a volume of the Scriptures opened at Chapter 6 of the 1st Book of Kings, surrounded by symbols of the Craft.
 Plain, 1s. 6d.; richly coloured, 3s.
 Published by
STEVENS AND RICHARDSON,
 Masonic and Commercial Stationers and Printers,
 5, GREAT QUEEN ST., LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS
 London.

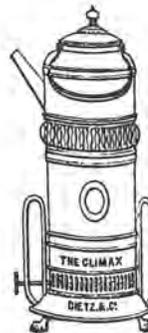

ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY
 (Limited), 7, Bank Buildings, Lothbury, E.C.
 General Accidents. Personal Injuries.
 Railway Accidents. Deaths by Accidents.
C. HARDING, Manager.

DIETZ & CO., LONDON, PARAGON LAMPS.

BURNING PETROLEUM OR PARAFFIN.

Unrivalled for SIMPLICITY, ECONOMY,

DURABILITY, SAFETY, and BRILLIANCY.

OVER 5000
Table Lamps, Chandeliers,
Billiard Lamps,
From the Cheapest for the Million fitted with

PARAGON

Giving the most Brilliant Light
ONE FARTHING
Sold by the principal Ironmongers

PATTERNS OF
Hall Lamps, Brackets,
Ship Lamps &c.
to the most exquisite Drawing Room Lamp,
our famous

BURNERS.

of 25 Candles at a cost of
PER HOUR,
and Lamp Dealers in Great Britain

THE CLIMAX COOKING and HEATING STOVES, in six sizes, will be found extremely useful in every Household, being always ready for use, and saving time and money, coals, trouble of lighting fire dust, and refuse.

Our HURRICANE LANTERNS are absolutely windproof and safe; simple in construction, and give a splendid white and steady light.
They are the most serviceable Lanterns for use in Stables, Farms, Gardens, Cellars, Factories, Ships, &c.

Richard Rayner & Co.,

MANUFACTURING

CABINET MAKERS AND UPHOLSTERERS,

142, ALDERSGATE STREET,
LONDON, E.C.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.
THE "WORCESTERSHIRE."

Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." Its use improves appetite and digestion. Unrivalled for piquancy and flavour.

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS
to avoid which see the names,
LEA & PERRINS,
on all bottles and labels.
Agents—Crosse & Blackwell, London, and sold
by all Dealers in Sauces throughout the world.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

SUBERIUM.

Inodorous, impervious to water and dust, noiseless, cleanly, and durable. Particularly adapted for

SUBERIUM.

NURSERIES, LIBRARIES,
ENTRANCE HALLS,
BATH ROOMS, &c.

SUBERIUM.

Retail through all Furnishing Houses.

SUBERIUM.

Wholesale, 174, Aldersgate-st.

THE NEW FLOOR CLOTH.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

CLARKE'S

WORLD FAMED

BLOOD MIXTURE.

TRADE MARK.—"BLOOD MIXTURE."

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER,
For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.

For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure.

- It Cures old Sores
- Cures Ulcerated Sores on the Neck.
- Cures Ulcerated Sore legs,
- Cures Blackheads, or Pimples on the Face.
- Cures Scurvy Sores.
- Cures Cancerous Ulcers.
- Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
- Cures Glandular Swellings.
- Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter,
From whatever cause arising.

As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Thousands of Testimonials from all parts.
Sold in Bottles 2s. 3d. each, and in Cases, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS
AND PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the United Kingdom and the world, or sent to any address on receipt of 2s or 12s stamps by

J. CLARKE, Chemist High-street, Lincoln,
Wholesale: All Patent Medicine Houses.

SCHWEITZER'S COCOATINA.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC COCOA OR CHOCOLATE POWDER.

Guaranteed Pure Soluble Cocoa, without Sugar or any admix-ture.

This unique pure preparation is pronounced by the Faculty "the most nutritious perfectly digestible and safe for BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, or SUPPER, and invaluable for Invalids and Children."
It is made instantaneously with boiling water or milk; being without sugar it suits all palates.
In tin packets at 1s. 6d., 3s., &c. By Chemists and Grocers. (Samples gratis.)
Cocoatina a la Vanille, at Same Prices. It is superior to the best Vanilla Chocolate, much cheaper, perfectly digestible, and made instantaneously.

SOLE PROPRIETORS: H. SCHWEITZER & Co., 10, ADAM-STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

CAUTION.

GENERAL FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT.

Bros. SINCLAIR & SON,

FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS AND FUNERAL FEATHERMEN.

81, CITY ROAD, FINSBURY SQUARE, AND 24, SOUTHGATE ROAD, DOWNHAM ROAD

opposite the Finsbury Schools, E.C., near the Rosemary Branch Bridge, N.

No connection with any other establishment of the same name.

Only at the above address. Every Funeral at stated charges—See illustrated Prospectus.

CROSBY'S
BALSAMIC

COUGH ELIXIR.

CROSBY'S
BALSAMIC
COUGH ELIXIR.

Opiates, Narcotics, and Squills are too often invoked to give relief in Coughs, Colds, and all Pulmonary diseases. Instead of such fallacious remedies, which yield momentary relief at the expense of enfeebling the digestive organs, and thus increasing that debility which lies at the root of the malady, modern science points to CROSBY'S

BALSAMIC COUGH ELIXIR as the true remedy.
SELECT TESTIMONIAL.

Dr. Rooke, Scarborough, author of the "Anti-Lancet," says: "I have repeatedly observed how very rapidly and invariably it subdued cough, pain, and irritation of the chest in cases of Pulmonary Consumption, and I can, with the greatest confidence, recommend it as a most valuable adjunct to an otherwise strengthening treatment for this disease."

This medicine, which is free from opium and squills, not only allays the local irritation, but improves digestion and strengthens the constitution. Hence it is used with the most signal success in Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Nigh tweats of Consumption, Quinsy, and all affections of the throat and chest. Sold in bottles at 1s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each, by all respectable Chemists, and wholesale by Jas. M. Crosby, Chemist, Scarborough.

Invalids should read Crosby's Prize Treatise on "Diseases of the Lungs and Air-Vessels," a copy of which can be had Gratis of all Chemists.

FREDERICK ADLAR

MASONIC CLOTHIER, &c., &c.

Inventor of the Masonic Jewel Attacher (B

Bro. Adlar famed Jewel from its and conveni-only to be be universal
ed. The pri-places it reach of all asonic Maga-
We have n-sure in rec-
ing Bro. Adacher for nence and i-
The Fr-
Bro. Adlar
Fitting Call-worthy attencraft.

No. 225, HIGH HOLBORNE
Opposite Southampton-row, W.C.

YOUNG'S ARNICA
CORN AND SUN

PLASTERS are the best invented for giving relief in all cases of rheumatism, neuralgia,
sprains, and removing those painful Price 6d. and 1s. per box. Any Chemist will them in stock on procure them.
Observe the Trade Mark—H.Y.—without none are genuine. Be sure and ask for Young's

TABLE OF CONTENTS

NOTES OF MASONIC MEETINGS:—
 of Masonry..... 831
 Standard..... 832
 Oration..... 833
 Installation of a Lodge at Barnsley..... 833
 Masons..... 834
 IV.—
 Christmas Day, 1874..... 835
 RESPONSES:—
 Masonic Portraits..... 835
 The Pope a Freemason?..... 835
 Masonic Jurisprudence..... 835
 Order of the Temple..... 836
 Findel and Comenius..... 836
 Masonic Tidings..... 837
 Masons' Memorial..... 837
 Resolutions..... 839 830 837 838

REPORTS OF MASONIC MEETINGS.

Craft Masonry.

TH.—Lodge of Honour (No. 379).—Sum-mes having been issued for the annual festival of this lodge, to be held at the Masonic the brethren assembled at 4 p.m. on Mon-
 Dec. 14th, and soon after that time the lodge opened in the first degree by Bro. Phillips, assisted by the following officers, Bros.
 I.P.M.; J. S. Bartrum, P.M. and W.M.
 Cooke, acting as S.W.; Simmons, W.M.
 acting as J.W.; Culliford Hopkins, Secretary, P.M.; Treas.; Dr. Hopkins, P.P.G.
 for Warwickshire, acting as S.D.; White,
 Col. Ford, P.M. 53, acting as D.C.; I.G. In addition to these and many others of the lodge, there were present Bros.
 Prov. G. Secy., Major Preston, W.M. 41;
 I.P.M. 53; Gen. Doherty, P.M. 53; J.
 rt, P.P.G.S.W.; Lord, P.M. 53; Smith, and Treas. 53; Shum, P.M. 53. The of the previous lodge meeting were read confirmed. The lodge was opened in the 1 degree and Bro. Leir was presented as a candidate to be raised to the sublime degree of The usual questions were put to him and were answered to his satisfaction, after he was entrusted and dismissed for present. The lodge was opened in the third degree, and after the customary arrangements were made, the candidate was re-admitted to the third degree by the W.M., who gave him the traditional history on which the working ceremony is based. The working was explained by the Secretary. The was resumed in the second degree, and the was taken by Bro. J. Stothert, who had taken to perform the duties of Installing Master. Bro. J. S. Bartrum was presented by Davis and Phillips, W.M.'s. After the address, the ancient charges were read by the Secretary, and assented to, and the usual of W.M. elect was administered. The was resumed in the third degree. The brethren below the chair were dismissed, a board of Installed Masters was constituted, and Bro. Stothert was, according to ancient form, in-into the chair of K.S. for the third time.
 The lodge was closed, the brethren were re-admitted, and Bro. Stothert ably and impressively read the usual proclamations, processions, and resolutions, concluding by giving the address to the W.M., Wardens, and brethren. At per places during these proceedings, the invested Bro. Phillips as his I.P.M., and allowing as his officers for the next year.
 Cooke, S.W.; H. Gore, J.W.; C. S.
 Treas.; H. Culliford Hopkins, Secretary, S.D.; Smythe, J.D.;
 D.C.; Leir, I.G.; Gazzard, Tyler. On the occasion of Bro. Phillips, seconded by Bro.
 votes of thanks were passed to the visiting brethren for their attendance, among whom were named Bro. Stothert, for his valuable services as Installing Master, Bro. Col. Ford as Bro. Dr. Hopkins as S.D., and Bro.
 coming so far in his official capacity as Grand Secretary. The W.M. addressed the brethren on his installation in an impressive and kindly terms, such as convey the idea, that with the knowledge of his previous efficiency in the same capacity, he is determined zealously to perform his duties, and at least maintain, and, if possible, raise the status of the lodge. Some discussion took place as to the formation of a lodge of instruction, further consideration of which was postponed to the next meeting. The W.M. brought before the brethren, in a very feeling manner, a melancholy circumstance which had just occurred—no other than the sudden death, a few hours previously, of the resident Curator of the Masonic Hall and Tyler of the Royal Sussex Lodge, at an advanced age—78; reminding the brethren of the solemn lesson taught to all, especially in connection with the ceremony of the third degree, which had just been administered. He recalled to the minds of such as had been present in that room exactly a week ago, the energy and zest with which the old man had responded to his re-appointment as Tyler of the Royal Sussex Lodge, No. 53; the heartiness with which he entered into all Masonic proceedings, and the fidelity with which he performed his duties, as far as his failing strength would allow. The W.M. concluded by proposing that a letter of condolence should be forwarded to the children of the deceased, which was seconded by the S.W., and passed. The proceedings of the evening were brought to a close by a vote of thanks, carried by acclamation, to Bro. Phillips, for the ability and skill with which he had ruled the lodge during the past year, to which the I.P.M. made an appropriate reply. The lodge was closed in perfect harmony, and with solemn prayer, at a quarter past seven, and the brethren adjourned for a banquet at the Castle Hotel.

HARTLEPOOL.—St. Helen's Lodge, Hartlepool.
 (No. 534). The annual installation meeting of this lodge was held at the hall belonging to the Craft, on Thursday afternoon. The W.M. elect
 (Bro. Wm. Pearson) was installed by Bro. J.
 Hunter, jun., P.M., Bro. J.W. Sivewright, P.M., acting as D.C. At the close of the ceremony, the W.M. elect appointed the following officers,
 viz:—Bros. T. Johnson, S.W.; T. Fleetham,
 J.W.; W. Fleetham, Secretary; W. Shaw, S.D.;
 D. Collins, J.D.; T. M. Proctor, Treasurer; F.
 H. Bennett, I.G.; and W. Mudd and R. Robson, Stewards. After the completion of the ceremony, the brethren present adjourned to the Cleveland Hotel, where an excellent repast was served by Mr. C. Humble. The W.M. elect presided, and a most enjoyable evening was spent, the usual Masonic toasts being duly honoured.

TOTNES.—Pleiades Lodge (No. 710).—The usual monthly meeting of this lodge was held at the Masonic Hall on Thursday, the 17th inst.,
 Bro. William Bennett Maye, W.M., in the chair.
 There were also present Bro. R. H. Watson,
 P.M., J.W.; Bro. H. J. Presswell, I.P.M.; Bro.
 W. Cuming, P.M., Sec.; Bro. J. Heath, P.M.,
 P.P.J.G.D.; Bro. W. H. Taylor, Org.; Bro. S.
 Woolley, Treas.; Bro. J. Crocker, Tyler; Bro.
 C. A. Wallis, Bro. J. C. Challoner, and Bro. T.
 Luscombe, Visitor, Bro. Shanks. The lodge was duly opened, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. A candidate for the third degree was unavoidably absent. There being no other business, the lodge was closed in ancient form and with solemn prayer.

ABERYSTWITH.—Aberystwith Lodge (No.
 1072)—The ninth anniversary meeting of this prosperous and well-worked lodge, and the installation of its W.M., was held at the Masonic rooms at the Belle Vue Royal Hotel, Aberystwith, on Thursday, the 10th inst.:—Bros. G. T.
 Smith, P. Prov. S. G. Warden, W.M., supported by the R.W. the Prov. G. Master, (Major J. A.
 Lloyd-Phillips); the Worshipful D. Prov. G.M.
 of Monmouthshire, (Capt. S. G. Homfray);
 James Terry, P.M. (Secretary R. M. Benevolent Institution), Prov. G. D. Cers., Herts; G.
 Ward Verry, P.M. Yarrowburgh, No. 554; E.
 L. Cole, P. Prov. G.D., P.M. 1072; C. Rice
 Williams, M.D., P.M. 1072; and the other officers and members of the lodge. The lodge having been duly opened, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed, and Bro. John Vaughan, P. Prov. G. Supt. W. was

ballotted for and unanimously re-elected Treasurer for the ensuing year. Lodge was then opened in the second degree, when Bro. Stanley John Balcombe, S.W., Prov. G. Secretary, had the honour of being presented to the Installing Master (Bro. G. T. Smith) by the R.W. Prov.
 G.M., who, in addition to the usual formula of introduction, bore high testimony to the great fitness of Bro. Balcombe for the honour about to be conferred upon him, referred to the admirable manner in which he had filled nearly every office in the lodge and the zeal and ability he had displayed and the great assistance he rendered to him (the Prov. Grand Master) as Provincial Grand Secretary. Lodge was then opened in the third degree and a board of Installed Masters having been formed, Bro. Bal-combe was duly installed in the Chair of K.S., according to ancient rite. The brethren below the chair were then re-admitted, and the W.M.
 was duly proclaimed and saluted in the three degrees. The W.M. then appointed and invested the following brethren as his officers for ensuing year:—Bros. G. T. Smith, P.M., P.
 Prov. S. G. Warden, I.P.M.; Edward Hamer,
 P. Prov. G. Supt. Works, S.W.; Jonathan Pell,
 P. Prov. G. Dir. Cers., J.W.; Rev. John Jones,
 Chaplain; John Vaughan, P. Prov. G. Supt.
 Works, Treasurer; C. Rice Williams, M.D.,
 P.M., Secretary; A. J. Hughes, Prov. G. Sword Bearer, S.D.; Griffith Jones, J.D.; Benjamin
 Ellis Morgan, I.G.; Henry Culliford, Dir.
 Cers.; D. Vaughan Rees, Tyler. The Installing Master gave the customary addresses to the W.M., Wardens, and brethren in a very abundant manner, receiving well-earned encomiums from the numerous P.M.'s present. We have on many occasions referred to Bro. Smith's working in terms of high praise, and on last Thursday evening it was as near as possible, perfection. The W.M. then rose and proposed "That the cordial and hearty thanks of the lodge are due, and are hereby tendered to the W. Bro.
 George Tempamy Smith, I.P.M., P. Prov. S.G.
 Warden, P. Prov. G. Sec., for his untiring exertions, and for the manner in which he has conducted the business of the lodge." Carried unanimously. The R.W. Bro. Major F. A.
 Lloyd Phillips then advanced, and, in the name of the lodge, presented to Bro. G. T. Smith a P.M.'s Jewel. In placing it on his breast, Bro.
 Lloyd Phillips explained that he had that pleasure, not only as the Prov. G. Master, but as a simple member of 1072, and that having witnessed Bro. Smith's exertions for the benefit of his lodge, and of Masonry in general, it afforded him great pleasure to have been selected to decorate so worthy a Mason with so handsome a jewel, and to accompany it with an assurance of the most affectionate thanks of them all. In conclusion the R.W. Brother added that he hoped that Bro. Smith—although he had for four years filled the chair of K.S. in the Aberystwith Lodge, would not consider himself as put upon "the shelf," but that he would continue to assist to preserve the lodge by giving to its present and future W.M.'s such assistance and support as they would stand in need of.
 Bro. Smith was visibly affected by the unexpected presentation, a P.M.'s jewel never having been presented in this lodge to its retiring Master until the present occasion.
 He returned thanks, saying that although without egotism, he could fairly say he had given some amount of time and attention to the interests of Masonry, more particularly to the welfare of 1072, and of the province in which he had had the honour to hold a high office, he had not anticipated that his poor services would receive such a substantial mark of recognition. The brethren having thought differently, he (Bro.
 Smith) could only bow to their decision, and in so doing offer to them his hearty thanks, assuring them that he would be always ready to do his best for the Craft. He was especially delighted to have the pleasure of installing his dear friend and brother Balcombe in the chair that evening.
 He knew of few brothers so deserving of occupying that position, and he thought he might congratulate him upon that condition in which the lodge was handed over to him, and the brethren on being presided over by such a Master. In conclusion Bro. Smith hoped that 1072 would have a happy and prosperous year

under its new W.M., and assured him and the members that each and all should have his hearty co-operation. The I.P.M. gave notice that in January he should propose that the day of meeting be changed from Thursday to Monday, and that he should also submit a resolution with regard to the surplus fund of the lodge, the Masonic institutions being anxious to relieve the brethren of their overplus. The lodge was closed in due form, and the brethren adjourned to a banquet. The cloth being removed, the usual loyal and Masonic toasts were duly proposed and responded to; those of the "R.W.P.G.M.," and "The Visitors," (coupled with the names of the W. Brothers Homfray, Terry, Verry and Parry), "The W.M.," and "The Installing Master," being received with applause. "The Masonic Charities," was ably brought before the brethren by the I.P.M., who referred to the notice he had given in open lodge. To this toast Bro. Terry responded in his well-known and impressive manner, giving facts and statistics in proof of the claims the various charities had on Freemasons in general; and, with regard to the institution he had the honour to represent, on the lodges of this province in particular, as (continued Bro. Terry), "without wishing to press the claims of the Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution unduly on your notice, I cannot do my duty thereto without reminding you that the province of which your lodge is an unit has two annuitants on the funds of that institution, while your province does not subscribe as many shillings per annum as they receive pounds. I therefore hope that my Bro. Smith's proposal will receive your attention, and that you will respond liberally thereto. The brethren spent a very pleasant evening, the enjoyment of which was considerably enhanced by some excellent songs by Bros. Homfray, G. J. Smith, J. R. Rowland, Wm. Jones, (of Llwyn-groes), &c. The dinner and wines fully sustained the reputation of Bro. Pell, the worthy host of the "Belle Vue."

MACDONALD LODGE (No. 1216).—On Thursday, the 10th inst., a meeting of the Macdonald Lodge was held at Brunswick-road, Camberwell, the head-quarters of the 1st Surrey Rifles. The W.M., Bro. Messenger, presided and performed, in a style worthy of imitation, one raising and two initiations. In these ceremonies he was assisted by the officers of the lodge, Bros. Hastie, S.W.; Larham, J.W.; J. J. Curtis, Secretary; Capt. Styan, Treasurer; Hammond, S.D.; Carnel, J.D.; Fountain, I.G.; Graat, T.; G. H. N. Bridges, I.P.M.; James Stevens, P.M.; Geo. Waterall, Wagstaff; and lodge of about thirty members. On the completion of the two ceremonies of raising and initiation, Bro. James Stevens, P.M., proposed that the sum of £20 be given to the Masonic Benevolent Institution, and placed on the list of the Steward of this lodge for that institution's festival on the 27th January, Bro. Bridges having undertaken the office. The thanks of the St. John the Baptist Lodge, Exeter, were conveyed to the Macdonald Lodge by Bro. James Stevens, for the gift it had made to the widow of a late brother of the former lodge. Several propositions were then taken for the ensuing meeting, and the lodge was closed in regular form. The brethren afterwards repaired to the refectory, where the wife of Sergeant Kethro, who has the management of the canteen of the volunteer corps, had prepared a delightful repast. On the clearing of the cloth, the toasts were proposed and honoured in due form, and such as required responses found able sponsors in the brethren whom they called upon. The meeting was a particularly successful one, and was remarkable for its great sociality.

SHEFFIELD.—Wentworth Lodge (No. 1239).—The installation of the Worshipful Master of this lodge—Bro. F. M. Tindall—took place Monday, Dec. 7th, in the Masonic Hall, Surrey-street. The installation ceremony was performed by Bro. Matthews, P.M., in a manner which won the approbation of all present. After this ceremony the Worshipful Master appointed his officers as follows.—Bro. W. White, S.W.; Bro. S. B. Ellis, J.W.; Bro. H. J. Garnett, P.M.; P.P.G.S.B. Treas. R. Renton, Sec.; Bro. Dr. Thomas, S.D., and Bro. C. Harvey, J.D.; Bro. A. Pfiel-schmidt, P.M., Organist; and Bro. J. Clarke, I.G.

The brethren afterwards adjourned to the Cutlers' Hall, where more than seventy sat down to a very excellent and well-served dinner, where nothing desirable was wanting. Amongst those present—which included a very large proportion of Past Masters and Provincial Grand Officers of West Yorkshire, residing in Sheffield—were Bro. H. Smith (Wakefield), P.G.S. West Yorkshire; Bro. J. M. Hewitt, J.P. (Chesterfield) P.M. 681, P.P.G.S.W. Derbyshire; Bro. G. Haslehurst (Chesterfield), P.P.J.W. Derbyshire; Bro. Ramplen, 904, (Grantham), P.P.G.S.B.; Bro. Dr. Foote (Rotherham), P.M.; Bro. J. Fawcett, (Rotherham), S.W.; Bros. Hodges and Wordsworth, Penistone; and Bro. R. Holmes, Manchester. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given, and received with much fervour; and the health of the "Worshipful Master of the Wentworth Lodge," which might be regarded as the toast of the evening, was drunk with more than usual enthusiasm. There was a board of Installed Masters, 19 in number; and 14 lodges were represented.

ROCK FERRY.—Rock Lodge (No. 1289).—The last regular meeting of this lodge was held on Friday, the 11th inst., at the new rooms in Bedford House, Bedford-road, Rock Ferry, and was one of the most numerously attended since the formation of this lodge, five years ago. Amongst the visitors and members were Bros. W. Bulley, P.G.J.W.; J. P. Platt, P.P.J.G.W.; Dr. Spratley, P.P.S.G.D.; Salmon, P.S.G.D. (Cheshire), and P.G.S.B. (N. W. and Shropshire); Worrall, P.G.S.B.; Stevenson, P.P.G.S.B.; Friend, P.P.J.G.D.; Wilson, W.M. 537, and others, including brethren from Crewe, Chester, and Liverpool. Mr. Harrison, of Field House, Litherland, was initiated, after which the ceremony of installation of Bro. Ellis as W.M. was performed by Bro. Friend. The W.M. appointed and invested his officers as follows:—Bro. Bolton, S.W.; Dr. Paton, J.W.; Stevenson (re-elected), Treasurer; Pearson, Secretary; Stanton, S.D.; Wallace, J.D.; Townsend, I.G.; Holloway, Tyler. Two joining members and one candidate for initiation were proposed, and the brethren then adjourned to refreshment, and a very pleasant evening was passed by all, the lodge being finally closed shortly after ten o'clock.

Scotland.

BUSBY.

LODGE BUSBY ST. JOHN'S (No. 458).—A festival of the members of this lodge, with their friends, was held on Friday evening, 11th inst., in Bro. Wilson's Hall, Busby. Not a few of the brethren, owning No. 458 for their mother, now live in Glasgow, and these drove up from the city in a couple of omnibuses, each drawn by four horses, and which remained similarly to convey them back to their homes again. The occasion included a soiree, concert, and ball, the chair up to the latter being occupied by Colonel Mure, M.P. for Renfrewshire, and R.W.P.G.M. of Ayrshire. There were also on the platform, Joseph C. Wakefield, Esq., and Bro. Chas. C. Wakefield; Rev. Mr. Elder, Mr. John Macadam, Bro. Alpine McGregor, R.W.M. 458; Alex. Thomson, R.W.M. 333; Bro. Wilson Robertson, P.M. 333; and James Wilson. After justice had been done to an ample tea, the chairman delivered a short address, in which at the outset, he had, he said, to congratulate the Craft on the fact that at the head of the Freemasons of England was now his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and it was the privilege of Masonry to show to the world a society where the highest and the lowest could meet together as equal brethren. Referring to one of the chief ends of Masonry, viz., benevolence, the speaker said that when he became P.G.M. of Ayrshire, he made it a stipulation of his accepting office that there should be something tangible done in this direction, something that would bear good fruit, and at the present moment they gave £20 a year each to assist a certain number of students of promise at college. Freemasonry was one of the most wide-spread and best regulated institutions in the world, and what he wanted to point out to the Freemasons present was, what a powerful agent it therefore was, and what an amount of good it ought to do. It was all very well to turn on processions and meetings, wearing decorations but it was far better to remember that there were only the outward signs of what was real and tangible and good. As he had said, had the power of doing much more in the of benevolence than they were doing or done; and it behoved them to exercise it. The course of few miscellaneous remarks of a general application, the Chairman stated they had not yet got the length of having as members of the Order; the reason being they (Freemasons) were convinced that ladies had so much power otherwise, that might be dangerous to give them more. In conclusion he said he had one word for those who did not belong to the Order, and that was long to it. He knew all the secrets of Freemasonry; he knew that it had no vices and no virtues, therefore he said—join it. The proceedings were then entered upon, the vocations engaged being Miss Young, Bros. Moors, Hanthorne, and Mr. Kelly. At suitable intervals in the course of the evening, short addresses were delivered by Bros. J. C. Wakefield, Wakefield, jun., Robertson, and others, concluding assembly was kept up with spirit until an advanced hour, under the superintendence of Bro. J. N. Grant, M.C.

STIRLING.—Stirling Rock Chapter (No. 2). The companions of this chapter met in the street Hall on Dec. 12th for the election of office-bearers, when the following were unanimously appointed, viz., Geo. Miller, Z.; Wolstencroft, H.; John Finlayson, J.; Geo. Christie, Past Z.; Thos. Turnbull, H.; A. Hay, Proxy Z.; Wm. Macles, S.E.; Robert Dow, S.N.; Jas. Mathie, Treas.; Jas. Brown, 1st Sojourner; Geo. Watson, and Sojourner Thos. Herald, 3rd Sojourner; Thos. Robertson, Janitor. Thereafter some candidates were proposed and accepted for exaltation at the next meeting. The First Principal elect promised to do his best for the chapter's prosperity, what he lacked in ability he offered to make up in zeal. An adjourned meeting was held for refreshment at which song and sentiment, interspersed with toasts, were freely exchanged.

CAMPSIE.

LODGE CALLEDONIAN ST. JOHN, R.A. (No. 195).—A special meeting of this old established lodge was held within their hall at the Lennox Arms Hotel, Campsie, on Saturday, 12th inst., for the purpose of installing office-bearers for the ensuing year. A deputation from Glasgow, consisting of Bro. A. McCarty, P.G. Sec.; John Fraser, P.M. 87; J. Stewart, P.M. 195; A. Arrick Smith, 254; conducted the proceedings, the first presiding, and the others officiating as S. Inner Guard, and J.W., respectively. The first-named brethren are all members of the Royal Order for the West of Scotland, as far as we know, such a conjunction officiating an installation of lodge office-bearers is unprecedented. The following is the list as established:—Dr. Andrew Thomas Wilson, R.V. Peter Robinson, D.M.; James Martin, Robert Torrance, S.W.; Wm. Gray, John Fiddes, Treas.; Jas. M. Neilson, P. Robertson, Chaplain; Alex. Brown, David Rodger, J.D.; Francis Paterson, Steward; Andrew White, J. Steward; I. Murray, B.B.; Andrew Hosie, Banner B. Alex. Kincard, I.G.; Alex. Lindsay, O.G.

LODGE ST. GEORGE (No. 333) met Mark's Hall, on 9th inst., Bro. John W. the retiring R.W.M., in the chair. After minutes of previous meeting had been read and adopted, the lodge proceeded to the installation of the office-bearers elected for the year. Bro. Alex. Thomson having been elected as R.W.M. by Bro. Thos. Halkett, P.M. the remaining office-bearers were installed in an impressive manner by Bro. Wm. Rolfe, P.M. 333; the following being the list now stands:—Alexander Thomson, R. Jas. Finlay, S.M.; Jas. Forsyth, S.W.; John McIntyre, Sec.; Thos. S. Thomson, John Clark, Chaplain; Jas. Allan, S.D.; Hill, J.D.; Jno. McDonald, Architect; Allen, Jeweller; Adam Boyd, M. of M. McIntyre (2), S. Steward; William McIntyre, S. Steward; Wm. Smith, Stand and Bearer; Jranston, P.G.S.; Alex. Wright, I.G.; W. G. Jickson. There being no further work on the restle-board, the brethren adjourned to refreshment, when amongst other toasts proposed to were "The Past Office-Bearers," coupled with M. Bro. Winton; "The New Office-Bearers," acknowledged by the R.W.M.; and "The Initiating Brethren," coupled with the name of Bro. J. W. Burns, R.W.M. 87 (Thistle); &c.

GLASGOW.

ST. MUNGO ENCAMPMENT.—An emergency meeting was held on the 7th Dec., 1874, in air hall, 213, Buchanan-street, to move the option of Sir H. Shank's resignation as E. Commander, which office he held for a few weeks with much acceptance, to elect another Commander and other important business. The adoption of Sir Knt. Shank's resignation was moved by Sir Knt. Adams, seconded by Sir Knt. Kenzie, and unanimously approved of. The election of our Past E. Commander, Sir Knt. Robert Bell, was moved by Sir Knt. G. B. Adams, seconded by Sir Knt. J. E. Spiers in his usual happy style, supported by Rev. J. C. Stewart, and unanimously and heartily agreed. The honour was accepted by Sir Knt. Bell on the condition that the encampment would spare itself for next election. Sir Knt. R. Bell expressed his desire to form a class in the encampment for military drill, which was approved. The bye-laws and annual festival were afterwards considered and happily disposed of. The encampment was then closed according to its military form.

MASONIC ORATION.

LIVERED BY BRO. THE REV. A. A. BAGSHAW, M.A., P. PROV. G.C., P.S.G.W., IN THE OCCASION OF THE OPENING OF THE MASONIC HALL AT DERRY.

Right Worshipful Grand Master, Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master, Grand Officers, Right Worshipful Masters, Officers, and Brethren of Masonic Lodges of the Province of Derby.—It is with heartfelt pleasure that I am willed to address you on this happy occasion, on such a large gathering of Masonic brethren in the Province and many visitors have met together to open our new hall, which does credit to our brother the architect, the builder, and all workmen engaged. We are assembled here, in the name of the G.A.O.T.U., first to thank him that the work is completed without casualty; then, in brotherly love, to consecrate this building for the purposes of Freemasonry. Were Freemasonry more generally understood, we should hear no foolish talk about work; but our deeds must from circumstances be shielded from all but those who have been admitted into the Craft in a properly constituted body of Masons, under the warrant of the Grand Lodge of England. The answer we must give those who speak evil of us, should be quietly and gently to say, "We have certain tokens and signs by which we unlock those secrets which are peculiar to Freemasonry, and which would be useless to those who have not upon themselves the obligation of Masonry." That there is much good in our Craft easily be proved by our deeds, not words; as can only bear the test! Look at our work; how it has increased within a very few

In 1813-14, when the two Grand Lodges (the Ancient, or York, and Modern) were united, the Duke of Kent, father of our Sovereign the Queen, being Grand Master of one, the Duke of Sussex, uncle to her Majesty, Grand Master of the other, the elder resigned, in brotherly love, his office, and thenceforth under the latter Royal Duke we have the Grand Lodge of England. All united feelings were then buried in oblivion, for the Craft derived the highest benefit from an union. Under the successive Grand Lodges increased and flourished, until our Past Grand Master of England, H. the Prince of Wales, was called to the position of Chief, and in course of time according to our Constitutions, become our Grand Master. We must all agree that, under his head, Freemasonry can never be accused of anything approaching to disloyalty, or that our Craft can be of such a nature as to deserve any charge of suspicion. Though Freemasonry has flourished so much in late years, still we have many who are anxiously watching to see us make some fatal mistakes. Surely, brethren, if we continue to hold on by our great landmarks, especially the volume of the Sacred Law, we shall not in our day, nor at any future period, give our enemies cause to rejoice in our discomfiture. Brotherly love, relief, and truth, carried out in their integrity, will bear many assaults, and come forth, like gold from the furnace, more pure than ever. But, brethren, that this may be so, we must be more than ever careful whom we admit into the Craft. Neither friendship, nor relationship by blood should ever betray us into recommending as a fit and proper person to be admitted into Masonry one who cannot control himself in his family circle, amongst his friends and acquaintances, and in his professional calling. Bad or vicious temper, fretful temper, dissatisfied temper, must be carefully avoided, since the harmony of a lodge might be seriously damaged by one such admission. During the last year our neighbouring Grand Lodges in Ireland and Scotland have had to mourn the removal of their Grand Masters by death; they have our sincere sympathy. May those who succeed them have great wisdom given them, that their Grand Lodges may flourish more and more, and cordially glad shall we be in their prosperity. We to-day have to rejoice at the success Freemasonry has achieved in this province. We have our R.W.G. Master present to consecrate this lodge for the purposes of Freemasonry. This hall has long been desired, and perseverance has at length crowned the efforts of the province. Too much praise cannot be given to those who have undertaken the work, and they all deserve our most sincere thanks, which I am sure each brother in the province does most cordially at this time give them. In the year 1813-14 I believe there were only two lodges with proper warrants in existence in Derbyshire, so as to place them on the roll of lodges. Now, in the year 1874, we can say with thankfulness we have seventeen warranted and good lodges. In the year 1813 there were only on the roll 339 lodges, according to Bro. Hughan's account; now we have now 1,515 lodges. The number of brethren I think we must not dare to specify; still at a low computation there must be from 60,000 to 70,000 members working under the Grand Lodges of England. But in the universe it is computed that our Order is reckoned by hundreds of thousands. For wherever we go we shall be sure, where the name of the Most High is known, there we shall find brethren. Thus our signs, tokens, Volume of the Sacred Law, and jewels, each cannot speak any other language than our own. The field of Masonry in its benevolence is unbounded; to stretch out the hand of relief, and to soothe sorrow. The more we study Freemasonry, the greater beauty shall we see in all the language used, in our jewels and insignia of office; and those much valued aprons we wear must ever remind us how carefully we should guard our steps in the way which is right. None can appear in a lodge excepting properly clothed; so must we see to it that we be properly clothed for the Grand Lodge above. Much more is required of us than we have hitherto done in this province. Our brethren need to be reminded often of their obligations to the aged, the destitute, also the orphan girls and boys belonging to those who in their earlier and more sunny days have toiled for the good of Masonry. I am aware that many lodges have done much, very much to show that our brotherly love is real. Still there are many lodges which have not done as much as they might for the good cause of brotherly love and relief amongst us. Systematic benevolence, if properly carried out by those brethren who are not very affluent, can do wonders by small self-denying acts; it must not be by fits and starts, but by steady perseverance in well-doing. Most heartily do I, as a Derbyshire Mason, congratulate the fraternity to-day on our work. May we prosper in the future by watching well each step we take, and by having our hearts beating in unison with the brethren of our neighbouring provinces, and by a dutiful allegiance to the Grand Lodge of England. God save the Queen.

CONSECRATION OF A LODGE AT BARNESLEY.

The ceremony of consecrating the newly constituted Lodge of Freemasons, at Barnesley, was performed on Thursday, the 10th inst., with the full ritual of the Craft. This lodge, we may state, rises upon the ashes of an old one, which, some years ago, sank into abeyance, and inherits the name "Friendly," though the number has, of course, passed away, the present lodge being No. 1513 on the Grand Roll of England.

Bro. Bentley-Shaw, D.P.G.M., conducted the ceremony of consecration, which took place in the Temperance Hall, and was supported by a large attendance of Provincial Grand Officers and Brethren, generally, from Sheffield, Wakefield, Dewsbury, Huddersfield, Halifax, Doncaster, and other places.

The brethren of St. George's Lodge (242) Doncaster, more especially, mustered in strong force under their W.M. (Bro. F. O. Walker), the closest relationship having already been cemented between the Barnesley and Doncaster Lodges.

The ceremony itself was throughout very impressive—the anthems, more particularly, being exceedingly well rendered. After the consecration, the installation of Bro. Richard Carter, P.P.G.W. (Mayor of Barnesley, was proceeded with, Bro. Ensor Drury, P.P.G.D., officiating as Installing Master.

The W.M. subsequently invested his officers as follows:—Bro. Jno. Semple, S.W.; Bro. Thos. Braithwaite, J.W.; Bro. James Gratton, Treasurer; Bro. J. H. Gratton, Secretary; Bro. J. J. Freeman, S.D.; Bro. F. K. Beardsall, J.D.; Bro. W. S. Unsworth, Organist; Bros. Henry Lane and Jno. Wade, Stewards; and Bro. Jno. Sutton, I.G.

The brethren subsequently adjourned to the King's Head, where a very handsomely-appointed banquet was served, covers being laid for upwards of 70.

Bro. Carter, W.M., presided, supported by Bro. Bentley-Shaw, the Rev. Bro. Loosmoor, of Bowling, P.G.C.; Bro. Ensor Drury, and others.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A BROTHER IN LODGE.

A very sudden death occurred at the meeting of St. Luke's Lodge, No. 225, held at the Coach and Horses Hotel, Ipswich, the occasion being the annual installation of W.M. and officers. Amongst those installed was a well-known Ipswich tradesman, Bro. Stephen Burdett King, who was chosen as Worshipful Master. After the ceremony of installation had been concluded, Bro. King proceeded to appoint and invest his officers, and, on the completion of that portion of his duties, was seized with faintness, and left the lodge in charge of his Immediate Past Master (Bro. James Turner). The brethren, noticing his symptoms appeared rather severe, immediately sent for his medical adviser, Dr. W. P. Mills. Mr. Jennings, an army surgeon, who was in the hotel, rendered every assistance possible, but without avail, Bro. King having breathed his last in about fifteen minutes from the time of his first attack. Dr. Mills had been in attendance upon deceased for more than a month, and it is supposed that his death is the result of heart disease. The sad occurrence cast great gloom over the assembled brethren, who spent the remainder of the evening in solemn silence. The following officers had been appointed:—Bro. S. B. King, W.M.; Bro. W. T. Jobson, S.W.; Bro. W. Daking, J.W.; Bro. A. Barber, Secretary; Bro. James Clarke, Treasurer; Bro. W. T. Westgate, D.C.; Bro. Taylor, S.D.; Bro. Hillyard, J.D.; Bro. Diaper, I.G.; Bro. Spalding, Tyler. The sudden demise of the W.M. will necessitate a fresh election of Worshipful Master.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—When winter checks, to a considerable extent, the natural exhalations of the skin, an alterative is required to transfer them entirely from the body through some other channel. Holloway's Pills can be confidently recommended as the easiest and surest and safest means of attaining this desirable end without weakening the most delicate, or incommencing the most feeble. When, from frequent chills and impure air, the blood becomes foul and the secretion vitiated, these Pills present a ready and efficient means of cleansing the former and correcting the latter. By this salutary proceeding, disease is arrested at its outset, its pain and inconveniences averted, and the nervous structure saved from the depressing effects entailed upon them by an illness.—ADVT.

NOTICE.

The Subscription to THE FREEMASON is now 10s. per annum, post-free, payable in advance.

Vol. I., bound in cloth ...	4s. 6d.
Vol. II., ditto ...	7s. 6d.
Vols. III., IV., V. and VI ...	each 15s. 0d.
Reading Cases to hold 52 numbers ...	2s. 6d.
Ditto ditto 4 do. ...	1s. 6d.

United States of America.

THE FREEMASON is delivered free in any part of the United States for 12s. per annum, payable in advance. The Freemason is published on Saturday Mornings in time for the early trains. The price of the Freemason is Twopence per week; annual subscription, 10s. (payable in advance.) All communications, letters, &c., to be addressed to the Editor, 198, Fleet-street, E.C. The Editor will pay careful attention to all MSS. entrusted to him, but cannot undertake to return them unless accompanied by postage stamps.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S EXHIBITION
BAKER STREET.

Special Attractions for the Christmas Holidays
Now added, PORTRAIT MODELS of Dr. KENEALY (from sittings), the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, the Czar of Russia, Sir Garnet Wolseley, the Shah of Persia, Marshal Bazaine, Marshal MacMahon, Mr. Charles Dickens, Mr. H. M. Stanley, Dr. Livingstone (some valuable relics belonging to the great African explorer), Sir Samuel Baker. Also new, superb, and costly Court Dresses.
Admission 1s. Children under Twelve, 6d. Extra Rooms, 6d. Open from ten a.m. till ten p.m.

Births, Marriages and Deaths.

MARRIAGE.

JENNINGS—BRASIER.—Dec. 22nd., 1874, at St. Peter's, Thanet, by the Rev. Aug. F. Tollemache, Thos. E. Jennings, of 2, Gray's Inn Square, London, to Elizabeth Martha, eldest daughter of Bro. W. C. Brasier, P.M. and Treas., Union Lodge (No. 127), Margate.

Answers to Correspondents.

All Communications, Advertisements, &c., intended for insertion in the Number of the following Saturday, must reach the Office not later than 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening.
All Communications should be sent to 198, Fleet Street.

The following communications stand over and will appear next week:—
Letters from W.W.S.; P.M. 186; M.M. 1233; H.M.G.; Reports of Lodges, 114, 131, 376, 4339, 1423, E.C.; 87, 354, 360, 437, 503, 543, 553, S.C.
Mark Lodge, St. John's, Chapter 41, E.C., 50, S.C.
Rose Croix Chapter, Victoria.
Obituary—Bro. Capt. W. H. Lee.

The Freemason,

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1874.

CHRISTMAS.

"Christmas comes but once a year," says an old rural saw, and though often made use of in a perverted sense, and for a spurious plea, yet there is, we feel bound to say, a good deal of truth and meaning in the ancient adage. For Christmas seems always to draw near with a special greeting—a peculiar presence of friendliness and pleasantness to us all. There are very few to whom it is not given on Christmas Day to form part of a Christmas gathering, and many have been looking forward through months of hard work to the Christmas holiday, and the Christmas merry meeting. Were we a very serious, or professedly religious journal, we should feel bound to say something on the religious side and teaching of Christmas; but, as we are only a Masonic paper, we will content ourselves with the "once," with looking at it, but leaving them to abler teachers and special exponents. Charles Dickens, in the inimitable pages of "Pickwick," saw long ago the touching side of Christmas, even as a family episode in the onward and hurrying years of life. Some of our readers will remember at once, we doubt not, those indescribably graceful sentences in which he summons up the vision of the old past Christmas of our human experience, with its gracious memories and bettering sympathies. And his words still are most true in all their ring of genuine eloquence, and pathos, and can still be read and thought over with equal profit and pleasure. Yes, Christmas is indeed a happy time to many an assembled family party, a sort of decking of the home shrine with all the most fragrant flowers of household affection and domestic peace. Old and young are gathered in the old "homestead," round the one "hearthstone." The elders are there with their tales of wise warning, their counsels of experience; youth is there with its quips and pranks, and "wreathed smiles," and overflowing spirits, and undimmed mirth. All meet at last, who have not met for months, and perchance for years, all assemble together, and rally around the old "home banner," torn and faded though it be, if only for a few short hours, perhaps not to meet for months, or even years again. Many a Christmas meeting in our happy land manages to bring together all that is truest in age, all that is pleasantest in youth, all that is tenderest in life. We who are getting on in the world, we who are either grown weary or woebegone, or cold or callous, we shall not again listen to such joyous strains of innocent mirth and softest harmony as we heard in that Christmas family party, many a long year ago! No! to-day, as we are greeted once again with the shouts of merriment and the uproar of "misrule," when we are listeners perform once more to the "carols" of Christmas, the songs of innocence and the voices of melody, we are carried back inevitably, in the spirit of our minds, to another day and a far off scene. We recall a happy gathering in "Old Lang Syne," of all that was dear and tender, and fond and true, and we remember a happy Christmas, a very happy Christmas time, when we were young and gay, and when those laughing boys and prattling maidens—now very old boys and very old girls indeed, were beginning to tread with us the daisy-spangled meadows of life's young morn. But we must not get sentimental. Christmas has no need of sentimentality, as it offers to us all that is true and healthy, all that is gracious and most sympathetic, alike in present associations, and bygone memories, Christmas has a charm and affection for us all, whatever our age may be, and well it is, we think, that it is so. Without moralizing too much, or in any way "preaching," so to say, we are of opinion that we all may discern what a wise and good national institution it is, which makes our Christmas festival annually a season of family reunion, and home geniality. Once a year amid the dark hours of a closing December, after the yule log is duly burned according to ancient and mystic precedent, our whole English domestic life seems to assume, if it be possible, a deeper hue than ever of personal affection, unity, and association. Before that the old year has faded utterly away—before that a new year has dawned upon us all, our Christmas festivities have brought together relations and friends, old folks young folks, the little girls and the little boys, the large and most important element in our population, to keep their Christmas holidays. And if at this season of general pleasantness and contentment, of open-heartedness and affability, if amid the tokens of plenty and the sunny gaiety, the good things of earth, our hearts are open to the woes and the wants of others, whatever our own gratification may be, our own Christmas family circle, that gratification will assuredly be augmented, in proportion as we have put off our ingrained selfishness, we have thought of and cared for others. For it seems to be a necessary accompaniment of extending civilization, that we, why we know not, that we too often are still marked contrasts between wealth and poverty, abundance and want. When Christmas trees are lighted, when our comfort board is spread, when the stately sirloin, the golden turkey, or the steaming mince pie, the capacious plum pudding, are hailed once again with the outburst of childhood's welcome; are some sad sights to be seen and remembered in this world and metropolis of ours. Death is still here, and Lazarus is still at his gate. There are haunts where the light never enters, where the sun never shines. There are overcrowded rooms, on which the sun never shines. There are pestilential fever, and death, and contagious maladies, straggling among densely populated alleys and lanes, and amid our own plenty and ease, there is the evidence of splendour, the luxury of life, there may still be beheld the wasted form, the hunger, the pallid form of sickness, the fever, the let on which the fever-stricken patient is lying, that sad scene where the feeble body is yielding to the insidious advances of fatal disease, amidst sights of shame, and sounds of woe. Christmas then ever seems to whisper to us, amidst our own festivities and our home life, to think of others who have none of these things, and know of none of these things. Christmas seems to tell us all, whether young, that our best Christmas feast will be that which is sweetened by the memory that we have done ourselves personally, if humbly, endeavor to lighten one load of sorrow, to smooth one path of care, to aid one suffering and afflicted creature. Never at a time, probably, have we done more good, by good and praiseworthy means, in refuges, and homes, and hospitable asylums, to mitigate suffering, and to lighten the burden of the friendless than now, but still we do it, and ever will be, a very reasonable thing, which Christmas brings to us all alike, year, amid the cries and clamour of common suffering humanity, "Go and do likewise." Amid the echoes of our rejoicings, amid the carols of this festive season, amid the pure and pleasant of friendship and goodwill, the best and truest of all associations will be those of us of kindly labours of love done in the unostentatious spirit of loving charity. We are doubly blessed by the thanks and gratitude of those whom our solicitude has relieved, and our fraternal benevolence has relieved. Christmas be indeed a happy Christmas to our readers and to their families; to young, who shall meet each other, in all of heart affection, amidst the splendour of a Christmas Tree, or the merriment of a Christmas reunion, May all our Masonic young; our "Lewises;" our "later productions," and highly commended and commendable "little maidens," enjoy a very happy Christmas, amidst the as yet untinted brightness of unsevered affection. May this old year, now passing to its rest, close in all of peace and harmony and goodwill to our Masonic Brotherhood everywhere; to our Cosmopolitan Order: and, we say it in all of true Masonic sympathy, in relief and beneficence to poor and distressed Masons in all parts of this wide world. And, above all, for it is indeed a true Christmas wish—may the departure of 1874 help to usher in, if by slow degrees, more and more a fraternal and Masonic bond of union amid the severed sections and distant nations of the whole human race. So NOTE IT BE.

CHRISTMAS DAY 1874.

WRITTEN FOR THE "FREEMASON."

What chimes are ringing in my ears
At this happy Christmas time,
Bright visions, loving greetings
And memories sublime,
All gather round the human heart
As the years speed fast away
And we still are all alive and well
To greet another Christmas Day.

Another year of earthly life
Is fading from our view,
The Calendar of Time is closing
Alike for me, for you,
And some we miss most sadly
From festive scene and cheer,
Are still before our tender gaze,
The fair, the fond, the dear.

For Christmas 'midst its happy strains,
Its sounds of human mirth,
Has ever a solemn meaning
For all loiterers on earth;
As it takes us in its message
To hearts all dead and cold,
To the blessed words by angels sung
On that sacred day of old.

"Glory to God!" we hear e'en now,
"Be given by your race
To Him who looks down from on high,
In all of saving grace.
Peace and goodwill to all mankind,
In love all true and bright,
Must fill your lives with gentle works
Your minds with thoughts of right."

And we who work on still to-day
A true Masonic band;
Who calmly joined together
A mystic circle stand;
E'en we can gladly welcome
The angel song once more,
As we gather few and weary
On life's advancing shore.

Some are now missing from our Lodge
We used to know so well,
On others Time's benumbing hand
Has cast its icy spell;
The pleasant voice is faltering,
The loving heart is still,
The warm true hand we clasp no more,
Nor trust to the Trusting Will.

Change has been here to sadden
Some prosperous scene of years;
Sorrow has sent its shadow
Of wistful, blinding tears.
And we who gathered gladly
In that humble "upper room,"
Are wandering on in sever'd lots,
Or in silence or in gloom.

Our roll-call yearly lessens;
Kind faces age and fade.
And younger voices fill with glee
Each porch and colonnade.
New hopes, new plans, new ways prevail;
The old has given way
To the fresher, ardent yearnings
Of a younger, blither day.
And ten years hence how many
Will then have ceased to meet
Where many a loyal Brother
Hastens with willing feet,
Ten years from hence when Christmas
Asserts its genial sway,
How many full of light and life
Must then have past away.
So let us while the hours remain
While year gives way to year,
As Masons good and faithful
With brethren near and dear,
Still seek to carry out those words
Which angels sang above
For God on high, for Man on earth,
In reverence and love.
And thus in tones of sympathy,
By many a kindly deed
For all who are sadly suffering,
For all in woe and in need
Our hearts will open warmly
Amidst our Christmas fare,
For the orphan and the friendless,
For poor Masons everywhere.

A. F. A. W.

Original Correspondence.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for, or even as approving of the opinions expressed by our correspondents, but we wish, in a spirit of fair play to all, to permit—within certain necessary limits—free discussion.—Ed.]

MASONIC PORTRAITS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Referring to the suggestion of "T. P. C.," in your issue of December 5th last, I think the hint thrown out a good one, and am pleased to see you invite opinion—which shows you are prepared to do it if you can gain supporters. I certainly think well-executed portraits of prominent members in the various degrees of Freemasonry, or arranged in emblematical groups, would very much increase the value and interest of your paper; but I would even go further than "T. P. C.," and suggest you give, from time to time, engravings of the halls, temples, &c., in all parts of the globe—especially the new ones which are being constantly opened. Let these be really first-class, and you would soon double the circulation of the Freemason. If, however, you found the expense too great, you might announce that on such a day you should issue an extra supplement, containing engravings of so-and-so, which would be charged one penny extra. This might be done every two, three, or four weeks.

I hope you may be able to entertain this in your arrangements for the New Year.

I am yours fraternally,
Qr.

IS THE POPE A FREEMASON?

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

Referring to the photograph sent to you from Constantinople by Bro. Geo. Laurie, and your questions, Whence did he obtain it? and, What is the name of the photographer? I, too, am possessed of a carte-sized photograph by his holiness in Masonic regalia, which I purchased a few years ago at a Masonic conversatione at Liège; it is photographed by I. J. Leken, Verriers. The subscription is "F. Mastai Ferretti, et excommunicavi meos fratres meâ culpa." I have no doubt that there are other of the Rife volunteers who have a like reminiscence of their visit to Belgium, and of the hospitality of their continental brethren.

Yours fraternally,
H. HOWARD HODGES, P.M. 795.
Maidenhead, Dec. 12th, 1874.

MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother.

I have read with very great interest, the leader in your last number, under the above heading, relative to the status of a non-subscribing P.M., on his again rejoining his lodge after discontinuing being a member thereof for two years. You say "It appears to us, we speak deferentially, that on his rejoining his lodge, he resumes his position as a P.M., but loses his status as Senior P.M., and for this reason, A. has subscribed in all up to the present time, eight years, excepting two, during which he intermitted, B. has subscribed eight years without intermission, and became therefore Senior P.M. A clearly cannot jump over B's head on rejoining the lodge, and B, not A, continues to be Senior P.M." You will pardon me for saying that I cannot agree with you in these remarks, I say that B cannot jump over A's head and become his Senior P.M., he may by chance become the oldest subscribing P.M. of the lodge, but he cannot in point of time become his Senior P.M. You go on to say "any other rule or ruling would lead to endless controversies and hopeless anomalies in our lodge system and our lodge qualification." How so? allow me to ask. It appears to me a very great anomaly, that a P.M. of forty years standing in his lodge should by simply leaving it for two years be at once converted, as by magic, into the youngest P.M., and have his name put at the bottom of the list of P.M.'s. This is what Lord Dundreary would call, "one of those things no fella can understand."

In conclusion you say, "We believe that what we have now laid down is entirely in accordance with the letter and the spirit of the Book of Constitutions." I venture to say that you can find nothing contained in the Book of Constitutions to support your argument in "letter" and and I have very grave doubts in the "spirit" of that book. All I can find in it is that a P.M. by ceasing to be a subscribing member to any lodge for a certain time loses his membership of the Grand Lodge and nothing more. If I am wrong I shall be very glad to be corrected.

By giving this a place in your next paper you will oblige, yours very fraternally,

AN OLD P.M.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

In reply to M. S. I would respectfully say that the Senior P.M. referred to would undoubtedly again rank as such by rejoining his lodge, as the words "that privilege" (page 18 Constitutions) can only refer thereto. To regain his privilege of membership of Grand Lodge it would not be absolutely necessary for him to be again installed Master of a lodge, but appointment to a Wardenship would give it to him. If I am right in this, surely there is something wrong in the constitution.

Yours fraternally,
E. F.

12th Dec., 1874.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have read with interest the letter in your last paper under the above heading, and I shall be very pleased to see your opinion and that of our legal brethren on the point therein contained, as it is an important one. I am of the same opinion as your correspondent "M.S.," but some are, I believe, of a contrary one.

Yours fraternally,
SUNDIKOS.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I venture to question the propriety of the allusion to me at the close of your leading article on "Grand Lodge" in last week's issue.

The sarcasm I laugh at, the logic I do not comprehend, the argument I cannot understand.

Without the slightest knowledge of the scope or tendency of the remarks I was anxious to make on a most important subject, you give the M.W. Pro Grand Master credit for the "greatest tact" in "stopping" their utterance. I should be the last in the world to doubt the discretion of the M.W. Pro Grand Master, but this does not imply an approval of the manner in which you draw attention to it.

You express your opinion that "in such a discussion, from his official position, Bro. Binckes is a little out of place, as Secretary of the Boys' School, somewhat of an interested party, in all good faith, in the consideration of such a motion."

This is an exact reflex of the spirit in which legislation with reference to our Masonic Institutions has been and is conducted,—ignoring, wherever and whenever possible, the evidence, views, opinions, and ideas of those who, from intimate knowledge and practical experience, ought to be—and with all deference, I submit, are—best qualified to guide—I don't say to direct—those before whom the various important questions connected with the welfare of the Institutions are brought for consideration.

The raison d'être of this I can divine to my own satisfaction, but do not care to define at this present writing.

You proceed, "What our Bro. Binckes' opinions on the subject are we do not know, and if he likes to favour the Craft with them in our columns, we shall be most happy to afford him the means of doing so."

Surely, as an interested party (though "in all good faith,") my remarks would, "from my official position, be a little out of place"—equally when published in the columns of the Freemason, as if orally expressed in Grand Lodge—and therefore I decline your offer, not caring to subject myself to your criticism until you shall feel disposed—after due reflection shall have freed you from prejudice—to regard from a more just and equitable point of view those whose judgment might be allowed to have some weight in connection with the work in which they are specifically engaged.

Thus much I may inform you that the amendment I hoped to have been permitted to propose, would have met with the full concurrence of Bro. Clabon, (whom I regret having been unable from circumstances, to see previous to the meeting of Grand Lodge), and in proposing it I should have availed myself of the opportunity to place some few facts and figures before the numerous assemblage of brethren, of which I feel confident, not nine out of ten of our younger brethren are aware.

I am, Sir and Brother, yours faithfully and fraternally,

FREDERICK BINCKES.

December 15th, 1874.

THE ORDER OF THE TEMPLE.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have the pleasure to enclose you the memorial from the Knights Templar of Dorset, which was received by the National Grand Prior last Friday, and accepted by him for discussion at the next meeting of the N. G. Priory. At the same meeting, a memorial from Lancashire was accepted.

Allow me to suggest to the Knights Templar of England and Wales that each Preceptory (Encampment) should, after the example of Lancashire, send up a separate memorial in a registered envelope.

I am, Sir, yours fraternally,

A.P.G.C.

"To the very High and Eminent Great Prior of the United Religious and Military Orders of the Temple, and of St. John of Jerusalem, Palestine, Rhodes and Malta, in England and Wales and the Dependencies thereof.

"The respectful Memorial of the Sir Knights Members of the Province of Dorset in Provincial Priory assembled, sheweth:—

"That your Memorialists view with regret and disapprobation many of the changes introduced into the Constitution of the Order, by the newly enacted Statutes of the Convent General; and desire to call attention to the fact that the first notice of the new Statutes being prepared, was only issued at a very short period before the meeting of Grand Conclave, in December, 1872; and that that notice only intimated that those Statutes would be laid on the table, and in no way conveyed an impression that it would be sought at once to pass them into Law.

"Your Memorialists respectfully represent that the Statute, enacting that matters recommended by the Report of the Committee might be passed into Law without notice being given thereof in the Summons, was never intended to apply to alterations and innovations so extensive as are comprised in these new Statutes.

"That by reason of the hurried manner in which these new Statutes were brought forward and passed into Law, no consideration could be given to their probable effect, and to the expediency of their enactment; and your Memorialists as well as the general body of the Order were utterly debarred from any opportunity of discussing or considering them."

"That the experience since acquired of the effect and working of these new Statutes, convinces your memorialists that they are detrimental to the best interests of the Order, and must inevitably in the course of time thin its ranks and weaken its influence."

"That it is undesirable to drop the title "Masonic," seeing that it is as Freemasons, that the Order enjoys immunity from penalties, under the provisions of the 39 Geo. III. Cap. 79 and 57 Geo. III. Cap. 19, that the existing Order of the Temple has ever been a Masonic Order; and that it is of importance to declare to the outside world that it still is and ever will be a Masonic Order; and so entitled to the Privileges of Freemasons.

"Your Memorialists further consider that many of the changes of the nomenclature of the Order, are injudicious and unnecessary, and only tend to confusion; and that, if intended to identify this Order with the actual Knights Templar, such identity is unwarranted by any authority, and deprives this Order of its original and legitimate claim to be treated as an integral portion of the entire system of Freemasonry.

"Your Memorialists are firmly of opinion that the abolition of Past Rank, and the substitution of appointments during pleasure, instead of annual ones, is most injudicious and will tend to a practical monopoly of office by a few Knights, whilst the great body of the Order is deprived of any incentive to energy and zeal. Few Knights will care to accept Great or Provincial Great offices, which confer nothing but temporary rank, and of which after the period of service of office has past, they can preserve no distinguishing mark or memorial, whilst at the same time a legitimate means of raising funds for Great Priory and Provincial Pories is virtually abolished, as Knights will not be disposed to pay Fees of Honour for a mere ephemeral distinction; and the newly created honours of "Knight Commander" and "Knight Grand Cross" being life appointments, limited in number, and attainable only at the pleasure of the "Grand Master," will not form a compensating fund for Great Priory, and leave the Provincial Pories with no permanent distinction whatever to confer on their members.

Your Memorialists firmly believe that in consequence of these recent changes and of the manner in which they were introduced to the Order, a very serious and deep dissatisfaction is spreading throughout its ranks; and they respectfully pray that Great Priory will be pleased forthwith to take measures for obtaining from each Preceptory the opinions of its members upon the present position and probable future prospects of the Order under the operations of these new Statutes; and that the result of such enquiries may be laid before Convent General for its consideration; and that it be requested that a Special Meeting of that body may be summoned to meet in London at an early day, for the full and open discussion of the momentous questions which present themselves.

Signed, on behalf of the Provincial Priory of Dorset,

‡ C. J. VIGNE, Prov. Prior.

‡ THOS. COOMBS, Prov. Sub Prior.

19th November 1874.

BRO. J. G. FINDEL, THE MASONIC HISTORIAN, RESPECTING COMENIUS AND FREEMASONRY.

To the Editor of the Freemason.

Dear Sir and Brother,—

I have received the following from my friend and brother, Findel, and hasten to make his communication known to the many readers of the "Freemason."

I am not prepared to endorse the views of an esteemed brother without further examination but I hope the Masonic students interested in the subject will not fail to give the matter their close attention, for Bro. Findel is respected as a Masonic historian wherever the literature of the Craft is valued, though of course many differ to the origin and character of the society, which he has sketched in such a masterly manner in his "History of Freemasonry."

Fraternally yours,

WILLIAM JAMES HUGHAN.

Truro 19th Dec. 1874.

COMMUNICATION BY BRO FINDEL.

"In the writings of Amos Comenius, especially in his 'Panegersia' and 'Opera Didactica' there are many passages of pure Masonic character, and so strikingly similar to the words used by Bro. James Anderson, and in our Rituals, that Bro. C. Krause, the German philosopher and Masonic author could not help believing that Dr. Anderson must have been familiar with the sources.

Krause gives, in his work, "Kunsturkunde der Freimr. - Conderchalt." iv. p. 15—51 translation, from Latin, of some passages of Comenius's "Panegersia," and other quotations in his "Tagblatt."

The works of Comenius have been published in Germany lately.

I have not time enough, neither can I translate into English readily; so I shall be obliged to my dear brethren in England and the United States will have a number of passages from Comenius's writings of a Masonic character translated into their mother tongue.

I can only give a few of them.

Comenius says he purposes to show that the true welfare of the human race is founded on three things—

Philosophy, Religion, and Politics.

Who does not think here of the three principles of Masonry?

The fruits of these, he says, are Wisdom, Piety, and Peace.

Comenius speaks of the great society, or lowship ("maximi collegii,") which comprises the whole human race dispersed over the face of the earth.

Who does not here think of the formation and extension of the Lodge and the Grand Lodge of the Universe?

The world (Comenius observes) is not one whole, and should become so also spiritually and morally. We all live in this our common dwelling-place, and should be united to the true and good, we should walk the fold way of Unity, Simplicity, (humility), Freedom in perfect harmony with one another. Look on God, who is one All, and desire we, His image, should all become one. Comenius also alludes to the "centre of Unity" one of "Old Charges," and in his society will comprehend all men without any reference to their occupations, (professions), religions, or nationalities, &c., &c., (quite Masonic) and says that they should teach with one another in peace with attention and earnestness in the manner of friends. He uses also the word Brother.

I am sorry that I cannot translate more better to prove that Comenius in his (published 1702) has depicted the whole purpose and the principles of the Craft, in a manner that it is reasonable to suppose that Bro. Anderson and Desaguliers were familiar with his writings and followed in his steps.

BRO. J. G. FINDEL

Leipzig, Dec., 1874.

Masonic Tidings.

The Duke of Abercorn will be installed on the 1st of January as Grand Master of the Freemasons of Ireland. The other officers will be sworn in at the same time.

The ceremony of installation will, on Wednesday evening next, be worked in the Mount Vernon Lodge of Instruction, Windsor Castle Terrace, Southwark Bridge-road. The duties of installing Master will be discharged by Bro. C. Ith, W.M. of Ivy Lodge. A good number of brethren is expected.

Bro. John Bowes, P.M., Past Prov. Grand Master, Cumberland and Westmorland, has elected W.M. of the Lodge of Lights, No. 1, Warrington. The installation will take place on Monday next, and will be conducted by highly esteemed Mason Bro. H. S. Alpass, P. G. Sec. of West Lancashire.

It is proposed to hold in Lodge "Marie Antoinette" (No. 541), Queen's Park Rooms, Warrington, during the present Season, Meetings of Instruction, as follows, viz.:—On Monday, 1st December, Opening Remarks, Bro. J. D. Goss, R.W.M.; Ceremonial of Initiation, Bro. J. Brode, S.M. On Monday, 11th January, Ceremonial of Passing, with explanatory Remarks, Bro. J. Munro, R.W.M. On Monday, 22nd February, Ceremonial of Raising, with Music from Mendelssohn's "Antonie," Bro. J. D. Porteous, R.W.M.; Closing Remarks, Bro. J. D. Porteous. Organist, Bro. J. Schob, 241. On each evening the Lodge will be opened in the first instance, be opened in the first degrees in full by the proper Officers of Lodge, after which an opportunity will be given to those desirous of instruction of going through the work of the different offices. The Lodge will be opened at seven o'clock.

Bro. HUGHAN'S "MASONIC MEMORIALS," the "Memorials of the Masonic Union of England," by Bro. Hughan, P.S.G.D. of England, having all been rapidly applied for, and being out of print, though only issued a month or two, it is probable that a second edition will be issued. It is to be translated into German almost immediately, under the auspices of Bro. Findel, of Leipzig. We understand Bro. Hughan intends early in the new year to publish the list of the "Union" Lodges, giving their numbers in each Grand Lodge, the alterations, numerically since (which is a special feature of the "Masonic Memorials") in a separate form, and we think it in such a handy size will be valuable for reference, and prove a boon to the members of old lodges.

John Lemoine, of the Journal des Debats, well versed in the customs of English society, can duly appreciate the importance of any fact that takes place among us. He has just attracted the special attention of his readers to peculiar circumstances attending the election of the Prince of Wales as Grand Master of the Freemasons. He regards it as an act of defiance on the part of English Protestantism towards the Pope. Rome had selected as the chief point of attack the chair of the Grand Master, and it was, therefore, resolved that its next occupant should be impervious to its influence. The Marquis de Montebello had succumbed to the intrigues of the Pope; the Prince of Wales would not do so. This is the interpretation which M. Lemoine gives to the recent transactions in the lodges of Freemasons. In some subsequent remarks he refers to the stir created by Mr. Gladstone's pamphlet on the course pursued by Dr. Manning, and how indiscreet. In his pastoral addressed to the Bishops, Lord Acton, &c., he virtually declares that passive and silent obedience must be the prevailing influence. Turning the tables on Dr. Manning the French journalist exclaims, "There is no occasion to be a Freemason à priori, a vide, tace." As the Debats has no regard whatever towards Germany, it is evident that an interested motive which prompts the final result in this remarkable article. The absolute faith of Dr. Manning cannot fail, it declares, in bringing forth its fruits, and one of the first results will be "to throw the weight of Liberalism on the side of Prussia in the war undertaken against the Catholic Church."

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.
Is the best, safest, and cheapest. It restores the former colour to grey hair in a few days, is quite harmless, and the best hair-dressing that can be used. Large bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists and Hairdressers everywhere, and J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON, whose name and address are on the label or it is spurious. Cases of three bottles, packed for country, sent on receipt on 54 stamps.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY.
PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC.
Strengthens the nerves, enriches, purifies, and greatly improves the blood, and vital secretions, gives a good appetite, overcomes indigestion, animates the spirits, counteracts the effects of weakness, and restores perfect robust health. Be sure Pepper's Quinine and Iron Tonic is supplied, its ingredients being chemically pure. Bottles, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s.; stone jars, 22s. Order it from any Chemist, or get direct from J. PEPPER, 237, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, LONDON. Forwarded, safely packed, on receipt of stamps or P.O.O.

FREEMAN'S CHLORODYNE.—The original and only genuine. Acts like a charm in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Neuralgia, Fevers, Cholera, Dysentery, Spasms, and all Nerve Pains. Lord Chancellor Selborne, Lord Justice James, Lord Justice Mellish, and Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood decided in favour of Freeman's Original Chlorodyne, and against Browne and Davenport, compelling them to pay all costs of the suits. See "Times" of July 24, 1873. Bottles, 1s. 1d., 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 20s. Sold by all Chemists.

Masons' Hall Tavern,
MASONS' AVENUE, BASINGHALL STREET, CITY
THE above old-established Tavern is NOW OPEN, newly decorated, by Bro. CHARLES GOSDEN, late Manager of the Freemasons' Tavern Company. Every accommodation will be found for Lodges, Chapters, Mark and other degrees, for their Meetings, Dinners, Suppers, &c., and every attention will be paid to their comfort and enjoyment by the new Proprietor.

Rosherville Hotel.
(NEAR GRAVESEND.)

FOR MASONIC BANQUETS, SUMMER FESTIVALS, DINEJUNERS, FISH DINNERS, AND WHITE-BAIT TEAS.
The Hotel is charmingly situated upon the banks of the Thames, and the splendid view of the river it commands, with the continually passing shipping, renders it particularly agreeable. The wines have been carefully selected, and the varied excellence of the viandts will be found amply sufficient to satisfy every diversity of taste. The Hotel is about ten minutes' walk from the Gravesend station. Passengers by water land on the pier of the Hotel.
BROS. H. J. AND W. J. ROBERTS, Proprietors

TRAMORE, TRAMORE, TRAMORE.
COUNTY WATERFORD, IRELAND.
THE GREAT HOTEL.
The Great Hotel at Tramore is the only first-class Hotel on the Southern Coast. It commands a magnificent view of the bay and surrounding country. Tramore Bay and Strand (the latter is 4 miles long), is said to be the finest in the world. Intending tourists to Ireland will find Tramore worthy of being known as a watering place. Its advantages are a delightfully mild climate, splendid bathing, yachting, boating, and a modern hotel, conducted on the most approved principles, and the most moderate of any similar house in the kingdom.
Bro. James Hearne, R.A. 642 and 196, Proprietor.

The Alexandra Restaurant,
7, CONDUIT-STREET, REGENT-STREET.
Public and Private Dining Room.
First-class Cooking and Waiters.
Open for Suppers after the Theatres.
Bro. F. HILFRIED, Proprietor.

City Terminus Hotel, Cannon-street
LONDON.
WELL adapted for Banquets, Balls, Amateur Dramatic Entertainments, Public Meetings, and Arbitrations. The large Hall is capable of seating upwards of Twelve Hundred people.
SIDNEY SVENZER, Proprietor.

Guildhall Tavern,
GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
Chop and Steak Room fitted with the Silver Gridiron. Spacious Dining-rooms, Luncheon-bars, and Smoking-rooms. Rooms of all sizes suitable for Auction Sales, Consultations, Arbitrations, Building Societies, &c.; also for Freemasons' Lodges and Banquets, Private Dinners, &c.
GUILDHALL TAVERN COMPANY (Limited),
32 and 33, GRESHAM-STREET, E.C.
JOSEPH CORBIN, Manager.

ALL MUSIC UNDER HALF-PRICE.
Any 4s. piece sent post free, 1s. 9d.; 3s. pieces, 1s. 3d.; 2s. 6d. pieces, 1s. 1d., including the newest and best music of all publishers. Lists sent free.—Freeman and Gage, 15, Beaufort-buildings, Strand.

BALL FAVOURS,
NEWEST DESIGNS.
MASONIC DEPOTS 1, 2, & 3, LITTLE BRITAIN,
{ 1 98, Fleet-street, London.
BRANCHES { 2, Monument-place, Liverpool.
{ 145, Argyle-st. & 2, Necho's-lane, Glasgow.

WHITMORE'S STOMACHIC AND LIVER PILLS, composed of the Extracts of Dandelion, Turkey Rhubarb, and Jamaica Ginger.
No Pill is so efficacious in promoting Digestion, strengthening the Stomach, correcting Acidity, preventing or removing Headache, Giddiness, &c., arising from Costiveness, Debilitated Stomach, or Torpid Liver. They require no change of Diet, and the most delicate may take them with safety.
Taken as an adjunct with WILKINSON'S SARSAPARILLA with the greatest success, in Bottles, Small, Medium and Large. Prepared only by
THOMAS WILKINSON,
270, Regent Street, London, W.
May be had of all leading firms in India and Colonies.

AROMATIC TINCTURE OF QUINOLINE For the prevention of FEVER, AGUE, and Effects of MALARIA.
An Unfailing Remedy.
Those who during the campaign in the Crimea, daily took a small quantity, passed unharmed through the Fever and Dysentery, that thinned the ranks. In Half, Quarter and Pint Bottles. Prepared only by
THOMAS WILKINSON,
270, Regent Street, London, W.
May be had of all leading Firms in India and Colonies.

WILKINSON'S BRONCHIO-THORACIC LOZENGES.
Prepared from the receipt of an Eminent Physician; experience has fully justified their recommendation as the most speedy remedy in Irritation of the Throat, Catarrh, Coughs, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, Spitting of Blood, &c. To public speakers and vocalists they are invaluable, as they impart a clear and beautiful tone to the voice. Free from opium, and of an agreeable taste.
In bottles of one uniform size.

Glasgow Advertisements.

LODGE COMMERCIAL
(No. 360),
Meet in their Lodge Room
No. 30, HOPE STREET, GLASGOW,
On the First and Third Friday of the month at 8 p.m. prompt.
W. H. BICKERTON, Sec.

ROSE HOTEL,
109, ARGYLE STREET.
Quiet Family Hotel. lofty and Well-Ventilated Bed Rooms, Culinary Department First-Class.
Bro. G. B. ADAMS, Proprietor.

ST. ANDREW'S RESTAURANT,
Nos. 28, 30, & 32, HUTCHESON STREET.
Luncheons, Dinners, Fish and Tripe Suppers, at strictly moderate charges. Ample Accommodation for Large or Small Marriage or Supper Parties, Committee Meetings, &c.
Bro. S. MCPHEE, Proprietor.

Bro. JOHN C. REID,
ENGRAVER,
Every Description of Silver and Ornamental Engraving, Masonic and General.
No. 109, ARGYLE STREET.

Bro. WILLIAM PHILLIPS,
PRACTICAL TAILOR AND CLOTHIER
No. 92, RUTHERGLEN LOAN,
Has had long experience in the Manufacture of Every Description of Masonic Clothing, and has always on hand a varied assortment of M.M. APRONS, SASHES, &c., at the most moderate charges.

Bro. JOHN TWEED,
PUBLISHER,
STEAM POWER LETTERPRESS PRINTER
All kinds of Printing executed on the shortest notice.
9, HOWARD STREET, GLASGOW.

Bro. J. B. MACNAIR,
Artist and Photographer.
11, WEST NILE STREET, GLASGOW.
Enlargements in Oil, Water Colour, or Crayons Full Length Cartes 5s., per dozen; Half Lengths 6s. Vignettes 3s. 6d.; Cameo and Rembrandt, Bust 10s.

S. YARDLEY,
(ESTABLISHED 1830)
Shop Front Builder,
SHOP FITTER,
AND
Air Tight Show Case Manufacturer,
8, LOWER WOOD STREET, CLERKENWELL,
LONDON, E.C.

Every description of fittings manufactured for Jewellers, Cutlers, Stationers, Offices, Drapers, Museums, Banks, Libraries, Outfitters, and Hosiery, Fancy Trades, &c.
Plans and Estimates provided for shop fronts and internal fittings, in Town or any part of the Country.

CHARING CROSS STATION
TOILET CLUB.

(Continental Booking Office Entrance.)
A Great Convenience and Saving of Time to the Brethren, desirous of dressing promptly, previous to going to Lodge, Ball, Dinner, &c. Private Dressing Rooms, charge 6d., with every attendance and appliance for the Toilet. Evening dress taken care of for the day or season in perfumed boxes (locked) no charge. Baths, Hosiery, Perfumery, Hairdressing, Dress Suits, Boots, Opera Hats, Masonic Clothing, Jewels, Swords, &c. Fuller particulars per post (4d. stamp.) N.B.—Ladies' Department attached.

FOR FISH. Try GOW
FOR POULTRY Try GOW.
FOR GAME Try GOW.
FOR BARRELLED OYSTERS. Try GOW
J. GOW.
1, HONEY-LANE MARKET, CHEAPSIDE.
Special quotations to large consumers, Hotels, Caterers, &c.
Country Orders promptly executed.
ONE ORDER WILL SECURE FUTURE PATRONAGE

CANDLES, SOAP AND OILS.—
ROBERT S. MENDEY
Wax Chandler, Oil and Soap Merchant,
(LATE WITH PATERHALL & Co.)
106, FENCHURCH-STREET, E.C.
Masonic, Church, and Perfumed Candles.
Manufacturer of Special Candles for Wine Merchants, Brewers, Engineers, &c.
Colza, Sperm and Mineral Oils.
Ten per Cent. Discount allowed to the Craft.
Own Carts Deliver Free in London and Suburbs.

W. FIGES,
80, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.,
MANUFACTURER OF THE
NEW ÆGIS UMBRELLA,
Combining increased shelter with increased strength, an elegant shape, and a convenient walking length.

RIDING AND DRIVING WHIPS, &c.

MESSRS. BARTON AND DREW,
55, FORE STREET, CITY,
Who have for 27 years acted for
PERSONS IN EMBARRASSED CIRCUMSTANCES
CONTINUE TO
OBTAIN DISCHARGES FROM DEBT IN TOWN OR COUNTRY.
By proceedings in
BANKRUPTCY, LIQUIDATION OR COMPROMISE,
Which stays all legal proceedings (and in most cases without publicity or suspension of Business.)
CHARGES MAY BE PAID BY EASY INSTALMENTS.
NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION OR ANSWERS TO ENQUIRIES MADE BY LETTER.
DIVORCE AND COMMON LAW CASES CONDUCTED
BILLS OF SALE AND CONVEYANCES
PREPARED AND COMPLETED
at reasonable charges.

GERMANY.—Royal College Education with careful private tuition, and a refined English home.
Select. Unusual advantages. Thorough French and German ensured. Resident, French Graduate. Delightful neighbourhood of Wilhelmshöhe, the extensive Aue-Park, and the river Tulda. Terms, 60, 70, and 80gs. Sons of Masonic Brethren on specially advantageous terms. Distinguished references with full prospectus on application to Office 6, Freemason's Hall, London, or to Bro. Dr. Saure, M.A., Cassel.

FUNERALS.

Bro. J. Ayton,
Successor to E. T. CROFTON,
Funeral Furnisher and Featherman,
ESTABLISHED 1821,
79, JUDD ST., BRUNSWICK SQ., W.C.,
AND
139, CALEDONIAN RD., ISLINGTON, N.
Price List on Application. Distance no object.

FUNERALS.

BROS. SERVANTE & PERRYMAN,
Complete Funeral Furnishers,
232 HIGH HOLBORN,
Corner of New Turnstile, leading into Lincoln's-Inn-fields.
Funerals conducted in the best manner, with choice appointments and great economy. Distance no object. Price book free.
Established nearly 150 years

EDWARD M. HAIGH,
LATE WATKINS AND HAIGH,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

Specialite for
Carved Vignettes, and Permanent
Portraits in Carbon.

The Studio is specially adapted for taking Photographs of Brethren in Masonic Costume.

MAISON KEN,
213, REGENT-STREET, W.

JANES & SON,
MANUFACTURERS, PATENTEES, AGENTS,
ALL KINDS OF OUTSIDE AND INSIDE,
WINDOW BLINDS.

Wholesale, 101 and 119, Aldersgate-street, City
Branch, 4, Eagle-place, Piccadilly.
No Other House.

TRUTH MUST PREVAIL.—Common Sense.
Lamps, Baths, Cutlery, Brushes, Fenders and Fire Irons, Electro plate and Nickel-Silver Goods.

R. D. PARR,
General House Furnishing Ironmonger,
42, BLACKMAN STREET, BOROUGH.
OFFERS nothing extraordinary, but REALLY
GOOD Articles at fair and reasonable prices. He does not keep an "Immense Stock," but sufficiently large for any person to select from. He does not sell "cheaper than every other house in the Trade," but quite as cheap as any.
A visit will, at all times, be very much appreciated.

ENGLISH HARMONIUMS.— All sizes at 75, Edgware-road, W.
Without stops, £4 10s.; three stops, £7; five stops, £8 10s.; eight stops, with beautiful voix celeste, £11 10s.; ten stops, £15 15s.; twelve stops, £18 10s.; fourteen stops, £20; sixteen stops, £30. All warranted to keep in tune at least seven years. Send for Illustrated Catalogue to

C. LAYLAND AND CO.,
Harmonium Manufacturers,
75, Edgware-road, London.
FITTINGS SUPPLIED.

ALDERNEY, JERSEY, AND GUERNSEY COWS, HEIFERS, and BULLS

ED. PARSONS FOWLER, of Jersey, and 10, Gloucester square, Southampton, has always on PRIVATE SALE
at his stables, Southampton, choice herds of the above breeds, exporting annually 1,000. He also begs to observe that he is no wise connected with parties trading under his surnames, being the sole exporter.

BRO. HOFFMANN VAN HOVE, member of the firm Hoffmann van Hove and Co. recommends his paints, varnishes, and oils principally to ship-owners, when their vessels visit Rotterdam or other ports of Holland.

"THE FREEMASON" OF ST. LOUIS
The Largest Masonic Monthly in the World. Published at St. Louis, Mo., by George Frank Gouley, Grand Secretary and Recorder of the four Grand Bodies of Missouri.
The Freemason contains tidings from every quarter of the world, and will be found of great advantage to all Masons, especially those interested in American affairs. Terms $2 per annum, and to those who subscribe for the London Freemason the price will be $1.50 currency. Postage free.
Subscriptions received at the Office of the London "Freemason" 198, Fleet-street.

THE NEW MASONIC CANDLES
FOR CRAFT LODGES,
Ionic, Doric and Corinthian,
EMBLEMATICALLY ARRANGED
FOR THE
WORSHIPFUL MASTER,
SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS.
6s. 6d. PER SET OF 3 ONE POUND
CANDLES.

Packing Cases 6d. each.
DITTO FOR
ROYAL ARCH CHAPTERS,
10s. 6d. PER SET OF 6 CANDLES.
Packing Cases 1s.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
Bro. GEORGE KENNING'S
Masonic Depôts,
LONDON:—1, 2, & 3, Little Britain, and 10 Fleet-street.
LIVERPOOL:—2, Monument-place.
GLASGOW:—145, Argyle-st. & 2, St. Enoch lane.

104 CHURCH SERMONS,
By EMINENT CLERGYMEN.
In Two Volumes, Handsomely Bound in Cloth, each REVEREND SON AND CO., Playhouse-yard, London.

THE STRAND TURKISH BATH
335C, OPPOSITE SOMERSET HOUSE.
Open daily for Gentlemen. Terms: from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m. till 9 p.m. till 12 p.m. 12d. 6d. One dozen tickets, 1s. 6d.; second class, 1s. Warm, cold, shower, and hot baths. Open on Sundays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Ladies: 10s. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, attended by Proprietor—Mr. H. SMITH.
From the Houseman, Jersey.

THE BIRKBECK
Is the only Building Society whose Annual Receipts exceed ONE MILLION!
How to Purchase a House for Five Guineas per Week With immediate possession and no Rent to pay. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to purchase a Plot of Land for Five Shillings per Week With immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
How to Invest Money with Interest at 4 per Cent. per Annum. Apply to the Office of the BIRKBECK BANK, 29 & 30 Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.
All sums under £500 pay for Ordinary Bankers. Cheque Books supplied similar to till 4 daily, on Mondays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Office hours from 10 till 3. A small pamphlet, containing particulars, may be obtained gratis, or sent by post for two penny stamps.
FRANCIS RAYNES, Secy.

PATON'S JURISPRUDENCE OF
MASONRY. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S FREEMASONRY: Its Symbolism, Religious Nature, and Law of Perfection. 8vo., 10s. 6d.
PATON'S ORIGIN OF FREEMASONRY, or the Theory Exploded. 8vo., sewed, 1s.
Reeves and Turner, 106, Strand, London.

MONEY.—LOANS granted immediately from £100 to £2,000 at 5 per cent., repayable Three, Four, or Five Years, on Personal Security and Policy effected with the WEST OF ENGLAND RANGE CO., (Established 1807.)
Apply to the Superintendent of Agents,
Bro. J. CROCKER, Neville Street, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Agents Wanted.

Just published, Free Edition,
GUIDE TO HEALTH; or ADVICE
INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS
TAL, and PHYSICAL DEBILITY, Indigestion, and all of the Nervous System, resulting from exhaustion of Nerves.
By DR. HENRY SMITH.
GIVES INSTRUCTIONS for the Development and Strengthening the Human Body, how to Acquire Health and Secure Long Life, and Avoid the Infirmities of Old Age. Illustrated with Testimonials, with means of Cure used in connection with the Quercus Laxodora, that it is the most effective ever used. "When you ask for the Glendead, see that it is ever used."
The pamphlet will be sent free by post to any address for two penny stamps.
Address, Dr. H. SMITH, 8, Burton-crescent, London.

GLENFIELD STARCH is the only used in Her Majesty's Laundry.
Those Ladies who have not yet used the Glendead Starch respectively solicited to give it a trial, and carefully to follow the directions printed on every package. It is rather more than the other Starches, but when this is overcome, to make them the Quercus Laxodora, that it is the most effective ever used. "When you ask for the Glendead, see that it is ever used."
Printed and Published by the Proprietor, Brother Gouley, at his Office, 198, Fleet-street, and 3, and 4, in the City of London, at 20, Monument-place, British, in the County of Lancaster, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.