The Gossip Stock Account

Deals Only in Stocks That Are Listed on the Goldfield Exchanges

WE are open to receive cash for market buying and selling of listed stocks in amounts from $200.00 up to $5,000.00 or $10,000. We have no proposition whatever to make to the small investor, and we strongly urge that he do not regard the mining stock market as a road to wealth through small beginnings. We ask the consideration and patronage of large concerns having money to invest in considerable amounts.

We have never yet been wrong on the market, and we offer our services to buyers with the assurance that we make no deals without carefully balancing beforehand the chances of profit and loss.

We print each week in "Gossip" a statement compiled at the close of the Saturday trading, setting forth, as under, the stocks bought or sold or held, with dates and amounts.

We buy always in lots of not less than 1,000 shares if possible.

We keep separate accounts for each investor, and give him an immediate notification of all sales or purchases made for his account as soon as the same are made.

This account is in charge of an expert accountant, and the books are open to the immediate inspection of any investor, or to any agent whom he may appoint to act for him.

It is our opinion that an account of this nature requires the fullest publicity, as well as careful handling. Our charges are: ONE CENT A SHARE ON EVERY TRANSACTION.

EDITORIAL NOTES

By SYDNEY FLOWER

Diamonds? Diamonds?

Has our friend Cooney, a Goldfield Man of Destiny, found diamonds in Oroville, Cal., or has he not?

If he has really found the "PIPE," and the blue clay Kimberlite in which the gems repose at depth, there will be no lack of millions at the disposal of the company. There are a dozen or two real true millionaires who would ask nothing better than to pour out their millions for a reasonable interest in the proposition. If he has not found diamonds it is probable that the stock will be offered by the company to the public at from 10 to 15 cents per share.

If the stock is offered to the public at from 10 to 15 cents per share, then it is probable that the company has no diamonds. That's all.

We wish Mr. Cooney all success, and hope that his company will remain a close corporation until government experts have reported upon the formation.

The Lion of Judah

We hear a good deal these days of the successes that have been made in mining in Nevada, and it is pleasant enough to be able to point to the facts in each case and to know that the stories are true.

But there is another kind of success that belongs also particularly to Goldfield, and of this we see less frequent mention, though it seems to me to reflect even greater credit on the town and the individual.

This is "COMMERCIAL SUCCESS."

There may be a doubt in the mind of the reader concerning the actual cash balance in favor of many of our reputed millionaires but there can be no doubt of the dividend-paying power of many of Goldfield's commercial enterprises.

For example there is the rise of the house of W. Bair & Son, who are at present in the Furniture and Supplies business on a large scale at 612 Broadway, Goldfield.

The most interesting feature of the whole story to me is that the head of the family came here a year and a half ago, with money, lost it and made good with no capital at all.

He lost it by going into the prospecting game in the Death Valley country; he made it again by opening a small second-hand store in Goldfield, and sticking to trade.

When W. Bair, the father, first hit this country, he went into the restaurant business at Sodaville, and lost money.

He went through then to Tonopah, and put up a good-sized lodging house, sending for his wife from Butte to come on and take charge of same.

The plague struck Tonopah, and father Bair hustled his wife back again to Butte, sold out the lodging-house at a loss, and went south to Bullfrog. There he got the mining-bee in his bonnet, though he should have known better, and equipped five men to go with him to wrest the yellow metal from the sands of the burning desert. Not being an experienced hand with a pick, it was Mr. Bair's task to draw water for the outfit, a distance of some ten miles. The days were hot and the water-carrier was thirsty, and it befell more than once that he arrived at camp with nothing but the empty bucket to show for his journey.

At the end of several months his money was out; he paid his men, and the little party of brave but thirsty souls returned to the sheltering arms of Bullfrog. Father Bair's capital now resolved itself into eight mattresses of moderate value, and a cuckoo-clock. He arranged with one of the big freighting teams returning empty from Bullfrog to Goldfield to take him along with the mattresses and clock, on his mere promise to pay as soon as he could make the necessary $25 for the journey.

Even so the patriarch arrived in Goldfield, with his stock in hand.

He sought another of his race, and asked a loan of $20 to begin business on, together with a little room at the back where he could lay down the burden of his mattresses, with the cuckoo to sweeten his rest. The favor was granted at a stiff rental, and 50% interest on the loan.

There is a man by the name of Zangwill, a Jew, who writes with genius and light, with all wit and humor, of the strength and weakness of his race, and in his books "The Children of the Ghetto" and "Dreamers of the Ghetto" you will find frequent recurrence to that extraordinary trait of the Jew which leads him to seek always to assist a brother Jew but to drive a hard bargain with him at the same time.

Father Bair made the best of the bargain since he could do no better, sold his mattresses, and laid in more stock, sold that and got more. Then he paid back his benefactor, and rented a small second-hand store on Ramsey street.

He started clear with two overcoats, the cuckoo-clock, and $9 in cash.

He went out and hustled for bargains, and sold at a profit to the Gentile.

During the first eight weeks of his establishment in this business he sent every week to Mrs. Bair in Butte $10, saved from the profits. The proposition appealed to Mrs. Bair, and she wrote to say she was coming on. He replied, "Not yet, for God's sake! I am not ready for you!"

She answered that not for Jehovah's but for Mr. Bair's sake she was coming, and would be with him in a week.

She arrived. At the splendor of her surroundings she wept. The father of the house of Bair comforted her. He said: "If you are going to cry all the time why did you come?" She said, "Where is all your money gone?" He answered, "I have been prospecting." She replied, "I thought so."

Mrs. Bair aried her eyes, and looked about her. Then she took a lease on a store on Columbia street, and opened a delicatessen business.

She sent for her daughter from Portland, to assist her, and the place lost money for the first three months.

Mrs. Bair is a fine cook. Reference has been made to Mrs. Bair's chicken-dinners in this paper of an earlier date. She prospered. Her place became very popular, because she charged fancy prices, and everything served was clean and well-cooked.

The cuckoo-clock hung on the wall, emblem of good cheer.

Miss Bair bought Jumbo Extension, Red Hills, Triangle and a few others, when they were low, and sold them when they were high.

Mrs. Bair cooked, and cooked well.

Father Bair sold out his second-hand store, took a lease on a big building on Broadway, and sent for his son from Butte to help him run things.

Young Isal Bair knew the ropes of the gents' clothing business, but he took to furniture as a duck takes to water.

The Bairs, mother and daughter, left the restaurant business when the year's lease was up, with Ten Thousand Dollars between them as cash profits thereon, several thousand dollars profits in stocks and some good residence property thrown in.

W. Bair & Son built a big addition to the store, filled it full of goods, bought a horse and wagon, ordered their stuff by the carload, and will put up a corrugated iron warehouse to hold their stock safe from fire just as soon as they can get time to turn around.

They are doing one of the biggest businesses in the city, and it's increasing all the time.

This story seems to me to be more worth while than any quantity of talk of rich strikes and millionaires of a night, because it is the story of a family that plucked success out of failure, and built up a monster business from nothing right here in Goldfield inside of a year. This is a story that is worth while.

Much honor to the house of Bair.

This firm today enjoys the custom of the best people of Goldfield, does a strictly cash business, and does not misrepresent its goods.

Next month probably a trip to Europe for the family, leaving the youth, Isal, at the helm to steer the Goldfield bark.

The Jew is always a delight to me in his keen business insight, his pride of race, his alert sense of enjoyment, and his protecting love for his family. Truly the sacredness of kinship is no mere figure of speech in the mouth of the Jew. He is of all the races the one successful home-builder, the one who uniformly, not exceptionally, honors his father and his mother, and whose days are therefore likely to be long in the land which the Lord his God has given him to make money out of.

When Mrs. Bair tells me of her coming to Goldfield I think of the Psalm beginning, "By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept."

But Miss Bair speaks of Europe and the joys of travel.

For The Summer

Some two months ago we informed you in "Gossip" that we should issue no paper during the summer months, feeling that the market would be a thing of quietness during the dog-days of June, July and August, and that we ourselves were entitled to a rest from all thought of stocks.

However, having been cheated out of our winter and spring markets by all manner of troubles within and without, we are pretty well assured that we shall have a summer-market for a change, and it therefore looks as though you would not be able to do entirely without the stimulus of this remarkable periodical altogether, so we will compromise the matter with you, and issue a monthly "Gossip" for the days beginning June the first to September the first, picking up the weekly proposition again in October, in time for the Fall business. Therefore this is the last weekly "Gossip" you will receive, and your next number will come to you in its monthly form, about June 1. Cheer up, brethren. To help you in some measure over your natural loneliness and desolation of spirit at this piece of news, we will send to you a great big map of the Wonder Mining District, free of charge. We have ordered ten thousand of these maps from the Reno Engraving Company and will send one to each of you just to show that we like you.

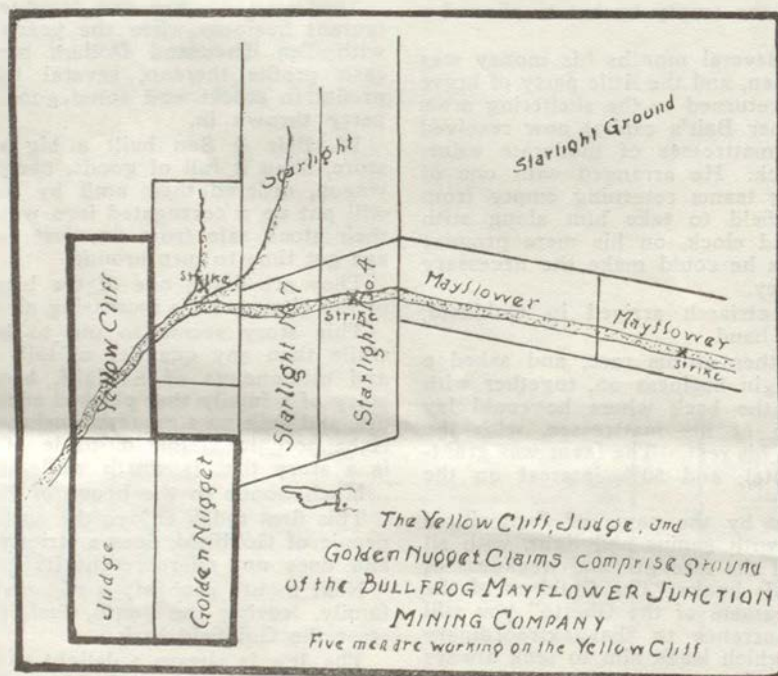

This is the big Sullivan & Rice map, and you are requested not to pester us with inquiries as to when it will be out, etc., because it is out already, and will be sent you as soon as we get our lot printed.

Ruby Wonder Extension

Of no less importance as a first-class buy in a Wonder property is the Ruby Extension, at 10 cents. This ground is rich, big acreage, well located, and is being well-worked with a force of five men. The original owners, Moss & Norrington, are in control of the property, and are heavy holders of Wonder ground. As soon as the treasury is properly protected the stock will be listed, and will certainly command a much higher price than its present quotation of 10 cents. Bear in mind that this is the first price at which the stock is being offered to the public.

The Bullfrog Mayflower Junction

W. R. Spenser arrived from Bullfrog a couple of days ago, and brought with him some good news of the work being done on the Mayflower Junction ground by C. E. Burke and his men.

Bullfrog Mayflower Junction

As this property was financed by "Gossip" readers they will naturally be interested to know that at 40 feet, the present depth of the working shaft, the rock is similar in appearance to the hanging wall of the Mayflower Consolidated ledge, from which ground the Mayflower Consolidated Company is at present shipping selected lots of ore going several thousand dollars to the ton, taken from the 300-foot level of the workings.

The Junction should make a rich mine with depth, and it is being well-worked.

The Market

Are you down in the mouth about prices? There is no need. Following close on the heels of our own labor trouble came the San Francisco strikes, and these are not yet over; but we are shipping ore from our Goldfield mines, good friends, and there is no reason why the Consolidated should not pay a dividend pretty soon. The following table will give you the detail of the output last week:

	Tons
Combination Mines	30
Florence	46
Jumbo	155
Loftus & Davis	204
Morton Beesley	222
Quartzite Dump	42
Truett Dump	42
Frances Mohawk Dump	132
St. Ives Leasing	20
Total	873

Wise buyers are picking up all the Goldfield stocks they can lay their hands on at this time, and at the present prices, and you would do well to follow their lead. The best buy of all seems to me to lie, not in Goldfield but in Wonder, in the shape of Oro Wonder stock at 15 cents. This is a property that is making good quietly, and without any flourish of trumpets, and is being steadily developed by three shifts of men, with a backing of strong capital behind the property.

Wonder is a camp that is mineralized for an extent of as much as eight miles, and if it comes up to the promise of its present indications it will be the wonder of the world sure enough.

Gossip's Directory of Goldfield Mines

Herewith is presented to you Mr. Wall's second attempt to get the complete directory of the mines and prospects of the Goldfield Mining District. There's a deuce of a lot of work about a thing of this kind, when it is conscientiously done, and we shall do better yet in the June number of "Gossip," it being our purpose to print this directory every month during the summer, showing the work that is being done on all the properties of the Goldfield district. As this is done solely for your benefit, and profits us nothing individually, you might assist Mr. Wall by sending him word of any of these properties in which you are interested, but which are omitted from the directory as published. Also a word of cheer to Samuel now and then will indicate to him that you watch his good and solid work with an approving eye.

Novelty is Ever Refreshing

You will discover in this number a cut of the ground of the Lida Queen Extension that is reversed. Hold it up to a looking-glass in order to decipher it easily. We might have sent it back to the printers, of course, to have the error rectified, but the work was done by a Goldfield firm after three weeks of waiting, and we were so pleased to get the product that we could not bring ourselves to let it go again. Hereafter we will get our cuts made in Reno.

The Lida Queen Extension

Another "Gossip" property, adjoining the famous old Buster mine, which is now the Lida Queen. We present a cut of the mill of the Lida Queen. The following report from Percy down on the Buster Extension ground, as I think we have the best showing there, and I hope before long to be able to show up something good. We have prospected the ground in good shape from one end to the other, and where we are going to sink we have a three-foot ledge

Pigeon Springs, May 8th.

"Everything is moving along nicely. We have our windlass up, and are going to follow the ledge that shows quartz identical with the rock of the Buster vein on the Lida Queen. We will sink this shaft about three hundred feet east of where the location work has been done, and on the same ledge as that work disclosed.

Nevada Stock on New York Produce Exchange

E. W. Thomas, of Boyer, Thomas & Company, returned from the east last Wednesday after a very successful business trip. Mr. Thomas says there is a great deal of interest in Nevada throughout the east. The New York Produce Exchange began calling mining stocks on April 15, about ten brokers taking an interest in the calling of the mining stocks had increased to 100. As the Produce Exchange has a membership of 2,400, the advantage of having Nevada mining stocks listed on that exchange can be appreciated. While in New York Mr. Thomas purchased a seat on the exchange for the firm and arranged for the listing of some of the stocks in which they are interested. He was given an ovation when he appeared on the floor and took advantage of the occasion to deliver a short lecture to the assembled brokers on the subject of mining investments, and Nevada mining investment in particular. He urged prospective investors to examine the properties they were asked to buy before purchasing and warned them that their neglect to do so in the past was mainly responsible for the "wildcats" that they complained of.

The Greater Nevada Goldfield Mining Company, one of the Boyer & Thomas properties will be listed on the Produce Exchange as soon as the necessary formalities can be complied with and Mr. Thomas had many inquiries about the property during his stay in New York.

While in the east Mr. Thomas established branch offices for the firm in New York and Chicago. They already have a branch office in Philadelphia. He predicts that Nevada will receive a great deal of attention from eastern investors in the future.

Jim's Hangin'

On the ranges o' the Blackfoot, me an' Jim wuz punchin' steers,
The bizness was a new one, but I never had no fears;
An' Jim somehow got ter likin' me, an' seemed ter like my ways,
An' allers rode 'long side o' me when on the trail fer days.

He said he knowed the country, an' he named each clump o' sage,
An' more 'en that he claimed ter know each pine an' cedar's age;
An' thar wuzn't no disputin' er a givin' out a bluff,
Fer Jim wore number 'leven gloves, an' could be purty rough.

One black night it were rainin', o, the worst you ever seen,
An' we run our bays ter shelter down ter Quakin' Asp ravine;
'Least we thought that we wuz goin' thar, but must have missed the road,
An' went poundin' through a sheep camp ter a herder's rude abode.

The dogs they like er eat us, an' the herder, gun in hand,
Come runnin' out on murder bent, fer ter perfect the band;
An' Jim were in fer shootin', but I quieted the cuss
Apologizin' kinder, fer a kickin' up the fuss.

An' the herder asked if we wuz lost, I sed "yes" I'll admit,
Though Jim denied, an wuz fer goin' on, but I sez "quit."
An' fer oncet he took my reasonin' an' soon his stubborn head
Wuz temblin' from his snorin' in the herder's warmin' bed.

An' the sky wuz clear at daylight, after bustin' all the night,
An' we blest the greasy herder fer a treatin' us so white,
Fer he filled us up with breakfast, an' he fixed us up a lunch
So we wouldn't feel no hungerin' afore we reached the bunch.

We had lamb chops an' mutton chops, an' sheep an' mutton stew,
An' mutton broth, an' leg o' lamb an' roast o' mutton, too,
An' we thanked him fer the feedin' an' we said that Chris'mus time
We wuz goin' ter the city, an' we'd like ter see him prime.

Well I went down ter the city, along with Sagebrush Jim,
An' sure enough we met our host, an' went ter treatin' him,
An' Jim asked him ter supper an' we put on lots o' style
An' Jim kep' drinkin' heaps o' funny mixtures all the while.

"What'll you have?" Jim asked our friend, an' he sez "mutton broth;"
Jim orders it, but I could see as he wuz purty wroth,
"An' next I'll have some mutton chops"—Jim wiggled in his seat,
You'd a thought the damn fool herder'd wanted somethin' good ter eat.

"Fer meat, I'll have some mutton stew, an' then a leg o' lamb—
Then fer dessert, well let me see, a fricassee o' ram—"
"Bang!" Jim he couldn't stand it, an' let fly a lump o' lead,
An' the herder risin' fell acrost the bloody table, dead.

The crowd they yelled ter lynch him, but Jim he stood 'em off,
With his brace o' shinin' shooters which now an then would cough,
An' the sheriff got him safe ter jail an' finally ter court
An' Jim he took it jest as cool, considerin' it as sport.

Ter the Jedge he told his story an' I helped him out a bit
An' his honor an' the jury wuz muchly teched by it;
An' they wuz not five minutes, all the time they seemed ter need
An' comin' in reported that the bunch had disagreed.

The Jedge he frowned an' stormed around, an' asked who blocked the way,
"Jest one man" sed the foreman, "he's a sheepman so they say."
"A sheepman" hissed the ragin' Jedge, "I'll give him ninety years, Jest lock him up, an' send this Sagebrush Jim back ter his steers."

An' Jim he learned a lesson, an' wuz keeful after that,
An' he wuzn't stuck on fightin' at the droppin' of a hat;
But I think that he's a waitin' fer ter perferate the scamp
That ever dares ter bring a leg o' mutton into camp.

When we're sittin' 'round the fire in the evenin' after drives,
An' blowin' 'bout experunces that near has cost our lives,
It's mighty entertain' fer old Jim ter loosen up,
An' tell with great bravader how he sent the herder up.

There isn't a mother in Goldfield who will admit that anyone in the world has as bright a child as hers. Most of them will bore you to death recounting the double barrelled action of the brains of their young phenoms, but some of the stories are worth repeating. For example this—

There's a youngster in town who went through a serious runaway and came out unharmed. He was wildly excited over the unusual event, and made a specialty of telling everyone about it.

During the runaway, one of the ladies in the phaeton was thrown out, and the first thing this youngster said to a caller who came to the house was—"We had a runaway, and Mrs. T— broke off."

Children are not always particular about what they say and where they say it. In fact little as they are, they care not the proverbial epithet attributed to the tinker for anybody or any thing.

In a roomful the other night, was a small boy asking more questions and volunteering more opinions than everybody.

"Muver," he said "if a li'l baby was borned on a ship way out in the ocean, what country would own him?"

"The country of his parents."

"What's parents?"

"Well, it's mamma."

"But what if it was travelin' wif its aunt?"

Another little fellow couldn't understand how in the world his legs and arms moved, and asked his mother about it.

She explained that when he wanted to walk his brain telephoned down to his legs, and then they began to move. Nothing more was said about the matter, and a week or two later his mother started down town with him. His mother was in a hurry and told him to trot along.

"Tan't, telephone's broke," said the precocious brat, and then his mother had to slow up to laugh.

A lady went up to Lake Tahoe some time ago taking her small boy with her. The boy's father was going to follow them as soon as his business would permit, and was expected any time unknown to the youngster.

He got off the train one evening at Truckee, and instead of waiting till morning, hired a team to take him to Tahoe.

Reaching there after midnight, he did not wish to disturb anyone, so went directly to the room where his wife and son were sleeping, and got in bed, the small boy unmindful of it all.

About 3 a. m. Mister Junior awoke, and seeing his mother on one side of him and a man on the other, grabbed his mother and whispered, "Muver, Muver, there's a man in the bed."

There's a little girl in Goldfield who went to church with her mother and father last Sunday, and during the sermon borrowed her father's pencil. Then unobserved she wrote in the prayer book:

"You are the dearest man in the world—anyway I think so." Then she nudged her father to call his attention to the note.

If there isn't more real religion in that than there is in hearing some bald headed old goat tell how hot hell is we'll start to go to Sunday school.

Life in Wonder, the Game of Tomorrow

By S. W. WALL

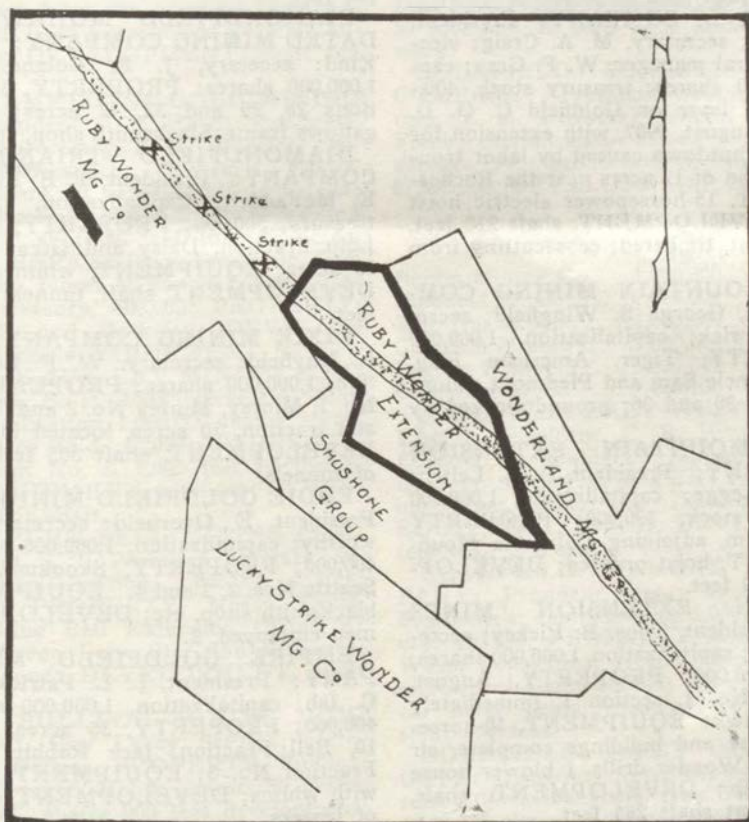

A battery of inquiries comes to "Gossip" by every mail asking all manner of questions about Wonder, the town, the wages paid there and the conditions of life generally. The town is just emerging from the period of the tent, through that of the shack and on toward the first faint glimmerings of the substantial city that it is destined to be. There are several very respectable buildings in the town now and there is no good excuse for a rustler going without bed or breakfast—if he has the price about him—and if he is a real rustler he should be able to get this if he has it not. Wages are five dollars for miners, six for blacksmiths and engineers.

Many correspondents are concerned about the water system. There is no need of concern for the district is well supplied in this regard. A little while ago water was hauled into town and sold at five dollars a barrel but this has been supplanted by a gravity system which brings good water from Horse Creek through pipes in quantity to supply the needs of the town for all present purposes.

$79, $79 and $73. The highest proportion of gold in these was $14. Both shafts had, at the time, reached a depth of seventy feet. A hoist has been installed on one of these shafts and sinking is proceeding at both points as fast as possible. Twelve men are employed on the group which includes six claims. A shipment has been made of eighteen tons to the sampler.

A full crew is at work on the Ruby Wonder Extension, trenching and sampling to determine the best place to locate the shaft. Good values have been exposed and it is only a question of where the best may be found. It is at a point within 160 feet of the endline of the Ruby Wonder Extension that the Ruby Wonder has found its shipping ore. They are sacking four feet of $137 ore from a shaft but fifty feet in depth.

The golden Dawn which adjoins the Oro Wonder has started two shafts on the two principal of its ledges and is employing twenty men. These ledges run through the Oro Wonder.

Ruby Wonder Extension

As an indication of how the district is growing—the strongest possible indication—it should be noted that as many as twenty-five gasoline hoists have been ordered from one firm. This means faith and the expenditure of money for the development of the mines.

A telegram from Superintendent Harris announces that the Jack Pot has picked up the rich vein at the 100-foot level in a crosscut and that it makes a better showing in value and width. The 50-horsepower hoist, the first of the long line on the road to reach the district, has been installed and a shipment of twenty tons has been made. Both the Jack Pot and the Ruby Wonder will continue to make regular shipments of high grade ore. Word has been received by Marvin E. Ish and brother from Superintendent Fred Harris of the Ruby Wonder containing assay returns from different points in two shafts of this mine which show conclusively the consistency of values of the mine. There are four assays going respectively, $103,

John Humphreys is conducting a system of thorough prospecting on the Queen Anne Wonder for this same purpose of determining the place to begin sinking. He is trenching along the ledges.

N. H. Truett, of this city, during a recent visit to the camp of Wonder was made president of the Wonder Bank and Trust Company. The bank has deposits to the sum of $100,000. John E. Pelton of Colorado is vice-president. The bank is capitalized at $50,000.

Mr. Truett, who is of the now famous Truett leases in the Goldfield district is, with others, forming a company to develop a group of three claims, the "Lucky Jack," the "Lucky Kate," and the "Alice," recently purchased. For the Alice the purchase price is said to have been $20,000 and 100,000 shares of stock. The claims lie in the west part of the district between the Ruby Wonder and the Colorado. For the Colorado $100,000 was recently paid.

Mr. Truett is back in Goldfield and speaks very enthusiastically of the new camp.

¶ If you want to know something of the facts of the mining industry and the mining stock game (stocks are always a game, and fall under much the same rules as poker, whist, etc.), then you should read "Gossip" for yourself, and advise your friends to do the same thing. Because you will save a good many dollars by reading "Gossip" and studying its opinions. ¶ We don't say its opinions are never wrong. ¶ We don't say its opinions are always right. ¶ But we say that in its market dope "Gossip" has come very near the mark right straight along from the time it put out the first number. And its opinions are at least honest.

"Gossip's" Complete Directory of Goldfield Mines

By SAM W. WALL

Here is the second attempt to cover the status of properties in the Goldfield mining district represented on the call boards of the two exchanges. This time it is complete. Not all the information desired to be conveyed here, as to every company, is given in every instance, but the exceptions are comprised within a dozen and they are unimportant. In these cases the information was not to be had in full. In many cases the report of the DEVELOPMENT is not down to date but it is sufficient to prove a guide to the investor. This directory is to be published in GOSSIP every month. The next attempt will cover a still larger field and will include a report upon ALL the properties listed on both Goldfield exchanges. And after that the whole will be repeated and presented up to date every month. "Gossip" will keep the report of the DEVELOPMENT up to date, so far as this is possible, knowing how valuable this feature must be to investors. This directory will be made the feature of "Gossip" hereafter. Keep your eye constantly upon it.

Queen Anne Wonder Mining Company owns the Sunrise Lode Mining claim located in the heart of the Wonder district, less than 1,000 feet west of the famous Nevada Wonder, whose stock is selling for $4 a share. The famous June Wonder is about 1,000 feet north of the property, which is now sacking as rich ore as developed in the Wonder district. It lies in the center of the proven mineralized zone and in the trend of the largest ledges developed in the Wonder district. The relative position of the Sunrise to the Nevada Wonder is the same as the Red Top to the principal producers in the Goldfield district two years ago. The possibility of making the Queen Anne Wonder one of the leading properties in the district is assured. Being situated on the west side of Wonder mountain and less than one mile from the town of Wonder, the property is placed right for a quick advance in value.

SECOND ALLOTMENT

Of Treasury Stock of

The Lida Queen Extension Mining Co.

AT 7 CENTS A SHARE

In Seven Monthly Payments of $10 Each

Incorporated Under the Laws of the State of Nevada.

Capital, $1,000,000.

Owners' Stock, 600,000 Shares.

Treasury Stock, 40,000 Shares. Par Value, $1.00.

Stock Fully Paid and Forever Non-Assessable.

"Gossip" is the chief owner in this property, holding 400,000 shares of the owners' stock.

The property consists of four full claims and a fraction adjoining the Lida Queen Mine.

One of these claims is a direct extension of the Esmeralda claim of the Lida Queen, and the main east and west fissure vein of the Lida Queen, which is not less than 100 feet wide, bears through our ground.

The Lida Queen spent $40,000 last year in erecting its own mill. It has already a perfectly equipped cyanide plant, and is in every respect an up-to-date first-class mine. Its stock is tightly held by San Luis Obispo capitalists, and is not offered for sale. It is a dividend proposition entirely, but it will be listed shortly.

We purchased the controlling interest in the Lida Queen Extension group from the partners of Dr. W. Y. Croxall of Goldfield, who is himself a heavy owner in the Lida Queen, and retains an interest in the owners' stock of the Lida Queen Extension in preference to selling out his holdings to us. So much for the faith he has in the merits of Lida Queen Extension ground.

OFFICERS OF THE COMPANY

President.....Dr. W. Y. Croxall.
Vice-President.....Lewis H. Rogers.
Secretary-Treasurer.....Sydney Flower.

Consists of the above officers, together with S. G. Porteous of Reno, Capitalist; A. C. Roach, of Hawthorne, Treasurer of Esmeralda Co.

THE PROPERTY

The Piute group consists of five claims (100 acres). On the Piute have been sunk two inclines of 43 and 35 feet deep and drifts run from them, and wherever they went the rich ore held out while the lower grade ore improved. The Indians who discovered the ledge worked this ore in an Arastra four miles off by packing it on horseback. Of course they could only afford to move the rich ore that assayed from $80 to $158 per ton, and the dump left by them averages $36 per ton. We are now sinking a shaft on the Piute about 300 feet south of the old works, to strike the ledge at 150 to 200 feet deep. This will give us over 350 feet to stope to the surface. The ore has been found at several points along the ledge, on the surface and it always assays the same as far west as 1,200 feet, which is beyond the discovery of the Squaw, where the men lately working state it shows up better than in the Piute at the same depth. The ledge is from five to twenty feet wide and the ledge matter assays up to $40 per ton, outside the rich vein of ore before mentioned.

Two Payments to Gossip Readers AT 10 CENTS

We Announce

THE FIRST OFFERING

of Treasury Stock of

The RUBY WONDER Extension Mining COMPANY

Incorporated under the laws of the State of Nevada. Capitalization, $1,000,000; 400,000 shares in Treasury Stock, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

Property: Fifty-five acres of the best ground in Wonder.

Officers: President, J. J. Moss of Wonder; vice-president, John Reynolds of Goldfield; secretary-treasurer, R. W. Norrington of Goldfield.

This property lies directly east of the Ruby Wonder ground, which is now sacking high-grade ore, and in a straight line west from the Nevada Wonder, being about midway between the Nevada Wonder and the Spider and Wasp properties.

The Ruby Wonder Extension ground consists of a little over fifty-five acres, and is composed of the following claims and fractions: Decoration Hill, Decoration Hill Fraction, Prize, part of the Daisy Fraction and Peerless Lode.

Two of the ledges of the Ruby Wonder, which have yielded high-grade ore, have been traced across the ground of the Ruby Wonder Extension, and two other well-defined ledges outcrop on the ground. Prospecting of the ledges is being actively prosecuted, and the company's shafts will be immediately sunk to depth at the most advantageous points.

Whenever the ore in the Wonder district crops at the surface, as in this Ruby Wonder Extension ground, the values increase rapidly with depth. Ore taken from the surface of the Ruby Wonder Extension assays over $40.

You can buy this stock from us in two payments, half cash, balance thirty days, at 10 cents a share. Three other brokers are putting out this stock at 10 cents in one payment.

Our allotment will go fast.

A first-class Wonder buy at 10 cents a share is unusual. Take it.

Five hundred shares is the smallest amount of this stock that we can sell. Better take Five Thousand while you can get it at 10 cents.

GET YOUR NAME HERE!

We are preparing a Special List of Brokers and Agents, who are readers of "Gossip" and who sell stocks upon commission.

The pulling power of "Gossip" is phenomenal in itself. It generally takes us three weeks at the outside to place any offering of 100,000 shares.

But the pulling power of "Gossip's" Special List of Agents will accomplish far more than we can bring to a conclusion alone.

We wish for your co-operation in the matter of placing good stocks at a right price.

We shall make this a profitable undertaking for you, and as our specialty is the placing of treasury stock upon instalment payments, we make it easy for our agents to make sales.

You will confer a favor and save time by sending us with your name and address the names and addresses of two residents of standing in your town who will vouch for your good intention.

Your ability is not of so much importance. We can supply you with ability. Your experience is of no account. You will get experience enough. But it is essential that you have some character. Just so we can depend on you to do the right thing at all times.

This is a good business for any man or woman to take up for the Summer months.

GOLDFIELD, NEV.

GOLDFIELD SOCIETY

By MARY RICHARDS GRAY

Being a Good Fellow

The curse of a mining camp socially is the well preserved tradition that a man must be a "good fellow." Almost every man, no matter what his standing, feels that he might as well be dead if not classed with the "good fellows." This is the masculine point of view; the feminine one differs materially.

Being a "good fellow" means being away from home, up late nights, hanging around saloons or clubs, and drinking and gambling. Keeping up the pace and treating, one of the most foolish of American customs, costs on an average fifty dollars a day. To really afford such an expenditure of money, carry on a business, and running expenses requires a millionaire's income, which few men have, despite reports of fabulous wealth. Upon the wife and family of "the good fellow" fall the worries, economies, and heart aches of the pace. Whatever shortcomings the head of her family may have had in other places and at other times, when a number of miles separated home and business, and Mary could not so easily acquaint herself with what Frederick was doing, are as naught with those developed in a mining camp. Formerly Frederick came home to dinner sober, or reasonably so, and with the worries of business over was ready for a quiet evening at home.

Now the companionship of the family counts for very little when weighed in the balance with the exchange, club, or "business at the office" in the evening. Every man has to go to the exchange, office or club, or all three places every night, so he says. He is possessed of such a feverish restlessness to see what is doing and take a part in it that he can rarely settle down quietly at home. The exchange is a mild diversion compared with the haunts in which men congregate to "talk business in the evening." "Business"—this is the all-convincing, all-powerful excuse for escaping from home, the open sesame that leads on to "being a good fellow." Society means giving some heed to the conventions of life. It is taboo with "the good fellow"; its strain is so great that it can be indulged only on state occasions. Is it any wonder that most women long to go elsewhere; to have the happy day come when fortune smiles? But will that day be happy? What of the secret apprehension that no man who has once tried the freedom of an unconventional life, the excitements of a booming mining camp is ever going to be satisfied with anything else?

Our Society Leader

Mrs. Charles S. Sprague, the leader of Goldfield society, is busy these days with plans for installing herself and her family in a beautiful new home on Sundog avenue. The house in question was begun some time ago but for a variety of reasons, good, bad, and indifferent, is not yet completed. However, the rapidity with which work is progressing these last few days is such as to turn one from a doubting Thomas to a firm believer that neither wind, weather, washouts, railroad wrecks, strikes, boycotts, lock-outs, deadlocks, nor murder trials, will prevent the finishing of the house by June first. One wonders how Mrs. Sprague, with the cares of a household upon her shoulders, can find time to do so much for the pleasure of others. There is always something required in connection with St. John's church; the Woman's club demands a great deal of its president, for it is only just now well organized and all the work of preparing the calendar of the coming year must pass under her supervision, and the Sacajawea Chapter of the D. A. R. is just at the stage of organization where the State Regent must work. Tonopah, too, has sent a call for the State Regent to help her Daughters organize and this is not all. Goldfield now aspires to have a Society of Colonial Dames. To California belongs the honor of having the first society organized outside of the thirteen original Colonial States. Goldfield aspires to have the first society of the Great American Desert and Mrs. Sprague is doing all in her power to "boost."

Eligibility to the Society of Colonial Dames is derived from lineal descent from high officials who came to this country before 1750, and closes with the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Revolutionary service does not carry with it eligibility. It is an interesting fact that the California society has had but one president, Mrs. Selden S. Wright, since the organization in 1895. Then Mrs. Harry Townsend of New York, the national president, appointed her to organize a local branch, and since then the members have refused to have any other head officer.

With the Churches

Work has begun on the Sacred Heart church on the corner of Franklin and Hall streets. This church when completed will be the largest and most expensive in camp. Romanesque in style with the exception of Tuscan columns—straight shafts with very light bases—the design of the interior is simple in the extreme. The main entrance leads through a tower, one hundred and forty-four feet in height, into the body of the church which is divided by four-way arches into nave and side aisles. The high altar stands opposite the main entrance and has behind it space for three large memorial windows. The sides of the building, which is one hundred feet in length by sixty-four in width, are practically all given over to window spaces up to the vaulted ceiling. Over the main entrance there is an organ loft with seats for one hundred choristers.

The building material for the exterior will be the native malapai, which varies in color in different places. The light gray is to be used for the main body of the church, and that of a decidedly bluish cast for trimmings instead of the effective white stone which disintegrates too readily to be of practical value. The woodwork of the interior—panelings, enrichments, wainscoting—will be Oregon pine, finished in oil in imitation of cherry. A long flight of steps leads up to a handsomely tiled vestibule. The elevation gives ample room for a basement extending under the entire church. At the front is a large room for Sunday school and sodality meetings. In this is a wooden blind arrangement which can be let down from the ceiling when necessary to have the space partitioned off. A plant which is to furnish heat and power for generating electricity for lighting occupies the rear.

The contract has been let for excavating, foundation work and carpentering. The entire cost of the basement is $22,100. The award for the superstructure has not been let. The building will cost $70,000 and of this sum a good part has already been subscribed, and the promises of more are sure.

The first call for money for the new structure which has been a necessity for months, as there is never a service at which there are accommodations for all who come, brought $7,000. As yet no arrangements have been made for buying an organ or providing furnishings. One donor who does not wish his name mentioned has ordered a design for a five thousand dollar memorial window, which is to occupy the space directly behind the altar. The architect to furnish the plans for this church is J. B. Randall, who has had a wide experience in building in mining camps.

Father Dermody, to whose untiring labors the new church is due, has overworked in trying to do without the aid of an assistant what is required in a parish having four thousand communicants. Father Dermody was one of the pioneers of Goldfield, arriving here two years ago, on Thanksgiving Day. He has been indefatigable in working for the moral welfare of the camp. To him are due the old Catholic church on Cedar street, the new Sacred Heart church in process of construction, and a hospital—work on which is to begin immediately.

The strain of so much in addition to regular parochial duties is telling on the Reverend Father, who is experiencing a nervous breakdown. On Tuesday night it was thought that he was dying and Father Butler of Tonopah was summoned, but since then he has rallied sufficiently to go down to Auburn, where he will stay for a few days and then come back and make preparations for an extended trip to Ireland. Father Foin is here for a short stay, but as he is in charge of a parish at Bishop, cannot be away any length of time. However, a priest who can stay on indefinitely has been sent for and is expected to arrive very soon. It is with regret that the people of Goldfield learn of Father Dermody's illness and his probable absence for a long time. There is no one here who has done more for the camp, no one more generally beloved.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the dedicatory exercises which are to take place at the Presbyterian church tomorrow. Workmen have been busy during the week remodeling and tinting the interior of the church. The Rev. E. E. Baker of the First Presbyterian church, Oakland, who made such a name for himself as the head of the relief committees in Oakland at the time of the disaster, the Rev. Carl Klass of Tonopah, and several Presbyterian ministers from different parts of the State are in camp to assist the Rev. Byers. Recently at the meeting of the presbytery in Sacramento it was decided that to the church of Goldfield belonged the honor of doing the most progressive work that is going on in this part of the country.

With the Clubs

The regular meeting of the Shakespeare section of the Woman's club took place at the home of Miss Pyne, on Crook street, on Monday afternoon. Despite the heavy downpour of rain the attendance was good. The play under discussion was "Hamlet," probably the most popular of the great dramatist's works. As the class took up the questions of sources of material, characters, motives, in detail, they got through with only the first act. At the next meeting on Monday afternoon they will continue with the second act and finish if possible.

Manhattan is the next in line for a Woman's club. Though Tonopah is by far the oldest of the camps of the real desert the women have no organizations outside of the different churches. Their first club organization will be a chapter of the D. A. R. The State Regent, Mrs. Charles S. Sprague, has taken the initial steps for an organization of this sort and now it is only a matter of proving up records, difficult work in camps in which the libraries, when there are any, are of the simplest sort.

The leaders of the different sections of the Woman's club are asked to call meetings of their members during the week to discuss the work for the ensuing year, elect a chairman and secretary and arrange their programs, that they may be turned over immediately to the committee having in charge the programs to be given before the club year, and the compiling of a calendar.

The meeting of the Woman's club on Thursday afternoon was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. Mrs. Sprague charmingly gowned in gray with a small black and gray toque, trimmed with lavender flowers, opened the meeting by graciously thanking the club for re-electing her to the office of president for a second year by an unanimous vote, then in simple fashion installed the newly-elected officers.

After this Mr. Charles S. Sprague formally presented the club with a flag, which they purchased some time ago in anticipation of giving an entertainment, planned for the 22nd of February. His eulogy of Old Glory, which he designated as "A piece of floating poetry" was very interesting. He dwelt in particular upon the part woman has taken in designing, upholding, glorifying with the sacrifice of her flesh and blood the symbol of American freedom.

"Womanhood gave much to the flag. While the flag waved along the entire battle line, the women of the nation remained at home and prayed—prayed that the God of battles would bring back their loved ones—their husbands, their sons and their lovers. That is what the women of the country gave to the country—they gave of their very flesh and blood for the stars and stripes."

Then the speaker told the story of Betsy Ross, seamstress, of Philadelphia, who made the first flag and in part designed it from ideas furnished by her brother-in-law, Colonel George Ross, William Randolph, and George Washington.

When in 1777, Congress passed an act saying we should have a flag with thirteen alternating stripes of red and white and thirteen stars in honor of the thirteen states, and that the colors used should be white to typify purity, red for valor, and blue for justice, to the lot of the woman, who was accustomed to embroidering George Washington's waistcoats fell the task of making the flag, which she did without too much deference to masculine opinions. After reading extracts from the speeches of Henry Ward Beecher, General Joseph Wheeler, and Daniel Webster, in eulogy of the flag, Mr. Sprague said in conclusion:

"This beautiful emblem of our country is given into the keeping of the Women's club—protect it as you would your own firesides, for without it the land of the free would become a land of tyranny and oppression."

Mrs. Sprague, speaking on behalf of the club, replied:

"We assume charge of the flag and welcome it as the first associate member of the Women's club of Goldfield, and we promise to love, honor and cherish it always."

After members and guests sang "The Star Spangled Banner" Mrs. Allan read one of James Whitcomb Riley's poems called "Old Glory," stirring verses inspired by an incident in connection with the Spanish-American war.

Mrs. Geldert read a history of the club and while it ran something after the style of the simple annals or the poorly "Got up, washed, dressed, ate, breakfast, etc., went to bed, got up, etc.," in its startling lack of details, it proved intensely interesting both to those who experienced the trials of organization and the newcomers. However simple the beginnings of the first real woman's club of the real desert its name and its fame traveled so far and so fast that it was not long before the president was fairly besieged with letters from women all over the country, asking for information chiefly on the question of business opportunities for women. One wanted to do manicuring, another teaching, a third millinery, a fourth dressmaking, etc., until the category of undertakings for women was exhausted. So voluminous was the correspondence entailed that one of the first necessities of the Greater club was a corresponding secretary. To the credit of the women of the club be it said that the first informal meeting called about a year ago, brought out thirty and the membership now is only about sixty. The Women's club of Goldfield, fully organized and in a flourishing condition in every way, is now entering upon the second year of its history.

A social hour followed the meeting.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. John Wellington Finch left on Sunday for a three weeks' trip to Denver.

Mrs. Henry C. Gillespie who has been so very ill for a number of weeks and was finally taken to a hospital in Los Angeles, is reported much improved in health. When she will be able to endure the rigors of camp life, however, is another matter. No date is set for her return.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watson are back in camp. Mrs. Watson has been in Pasadena for a long time and now is here only on a short visit. Mr. Watson's business keeps him in and out of camp all of the time. Mrs. Watson, who is a member of a number of women's organizations in other cities is delighted with the clubs of the desert. She was one of the guests at the Women's club on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ferguson of New York City have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Euclid avenue for the past week. Today all left for the coast for a little trip.

Mr. Oakley who is well known here in camp has just brought on his bride from New York City and they have gone to housekeeping on South Fifth avenue.

Mrs. J. W. Allan of Sundog avenue entertained very informally Wednesday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Dazeear, who is here from Pittsburgh on a visit.

Mrs. Blanchard and her little daughter who have been down on the coast for the past few weeks have just returned home.

Madame Fried-Griselda who is to give a concert at Ross theatre on the 26th of May is hoping to arrange for a string orchestra to assist her. There are in camp a number of musicians, some of whom are recent arrivals from abroad, where they have appeared with the greatest artistes. What success she will have in getting them together remains to be seen. The Madame herself is a great artiste and demands of musicians what is highest and best. She has appeared before the most cultured audiences, not only of Europe and America but also of India, and always with success.

Neither here nor elsewhere has she ever been able to bring herself to offer anything that does not come up to the highest standards. She always prefers an audience well versed in music, finding in them sympathetic and appreciative listeners. As yet her program is not wholly arranged but she has decided upon one or two Grieg numbers, Gounod's "Ave Maria," Brahms' "Ich schleich umher," Tschaikowsky's "The Pilgrim Song," and "Mon coeur s'ouvre a ta voix" from the opera of Samson et Delila. To hear the best of classical music sung by a great artiste is something out of the ordinary in a mining camp and the people of Goldfield should avail themselves of an opportunity.

Notes

The Sanitary Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, having in charge the cleaning of the streets of Goldfield, have set apart May 12th as house-cleaning day and asked the co-operation of the women of the camp. This was the scheme adopted in San Francisco which proved so successful. The women stationed themselves a few blocks apart and served hot coffee and sandwiches to the men who did the hard part of the work in making the metropolis of the coast a "City Beautiful." The Goldfield Woman's club has been asked for assistance and not knowing exactly what was wanted the president, Mrs. Sprague appointed the following committee of seven, Mesdames E. T. Patrick, Geldert, Hopkins, Cochran, Peer, Andrus, and Byler to go to the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on the evening of May 9th, to confer on final arrangements. They went, but there were so many other matters under consideration that nothing was done.

The question of extending the scope of the Humane Society to include the care of children is under consideration. The Woman's club took the initial steps towards organizing a Humane Society some little time ago and is now ready to co-operate with Mr. William Schnitzer and his associates who have formed "The Esmeralda County Humane Society." As no representative of the new organization was present at the meeting of the club on Thursday last no action was taken. However, this does not mean that the work is not progressing. More than five hundred persons have pledged support to the cause of suffering animals on the desert.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Patrick are building a new home on the southwest corner of Sundog avenue and Myers street. In style the structure will combine the simplicity of a bungalow with a number of Colonial features. There are to be seven rooms on the main floor, space for at least three rooms in the second story, a cellar, and a low porch formed by an extension of the roof. This goes around the four sides of the house. Altogether Architect Randall's designs and plans are most attractive and give promise of much in the way of comfort and beauty.

Mrs. Clarence Mackay's recent appearance at the Metropolitan Opera House on a gala night called forth much comment as it was the first time she has been out for several months. "She wore a black chiffon gown and in her dark hair there was a fillet-like tiara in Greek key pattern, the band not being over an inch and a half wide, and the diamonds apparently being of the same size. On the corsage gleamed a large irregularly shaped bowknot with two curving ends in large and small diamonds. Her three-quarters length coat was of black velvet, half covered with band embroidery done in black silk. The collar was of ermine." Mr. and Mrs. Mackay expect to go abroad for the summer.

Spring has come. You have but to look off to the Malapai and towards Columbia to satisfy yourself of the fact heralded by the warm sunshiny days. There are suggestions of green. The stunted growth of sagebrush which ordinarily shows but faintly against the somber gray fastes on the sides of the extinct volcanoes around us is really green. It suggests, though faintly, the wealth of vegetation in the region beyond the pales of the desert.

AN ANSWER TO YOUR INQUIRY

"Gossip" here undertakes to give to individuals information which they seek. The answer will be as full and yet as brief as possible. The editor of this column does not have all knowledge within him. He is willing to go to great pains to gain the information sought but it is a great draft upon his time at best. Therefore correspondents will please give all the information they have that may serve to guide him. Even with this it will take time, and the correspondent should not expect a reply upon the minute—it will be forthcoming as soon as it is possible.]

Frank M. Jefferson, Little Rock, Ark.—Golden Dawn has been listed with several others on the New York Produce Exchange. The stock was originally put out at 50 cents. The Oro Wonder will be listed in a few days on the Goldfield Stock Exchange at 10 cents.

W. H. Robinson, Alameda, Cal.—The Fairview Silver King Company was organized and financed by W. A. Stevens, well known mining engineer. The property lies in the center of the proven area of the Wonder District and development is going forward with every prospect of making a mine. What you say concerning the relations of the Water Company and the Silver King is understood to be correct.

W. H. Muncaster, Chicago.—Your inquiry regarding Goldfield Coming Nation is answered in another column of this issue.

Noe Fahan, New York City.—The Goldfield Ledge Mining Company is capitalized for 1,500,000; treasury stock, 285,000. It is said to own 200 acres, not patented, five miles east of Goldfield. Development consists of assessment work. Address, Exchange Building, Denver. The stock is not listed nor is the company represented on any map of Goldfield mines.

John Brown, Airlie, Ore.—There is no record here of the Butte Boys Consolidated Mines.

Frank J. Parker, Portland, Ore.—The Apache Diamondfield Gold Mines Company was quoted for a little while on the old exchange but was dropped soon after listing. The property consists of one claim and three fractions, ending the Vernal in the Diamondfield section. The Board of Control of the exchange made repeated inquiries of the officers of the company for certain information desired and no reply was received. It was discovered that a certain assay office in this city was shipping high grade in the name of the Apache Company—high grade that did not come from the Apache ground and for which, so far as could be learned, the Apache Company received no benefit. For these and other reasons the Apache name was stricken out from the call boards.

Frank W. Bailey, Los Angeles.—Your inquiry concerning Adams, Blue Bell and Blue Bull is answered in the Directory of Goldfield Mines in this issue.

J. J. Conklin, Leonard, Texas.—You will notice that the "Gossip" directory only reports upon properties listed on the Goldfield exchange and as yet is limited to such in the Goldfield district but will later include them all. The Sunrise Company is not listed. The Goldfield Sunrise Mining Company is capitalized for 1,500,000 shares, treasury stock, 725,000. Owns Rough Diamond and Big Jim claims in Goldfield district and four claims on Bonanza Mountain in Bullfrog district. H. R. Gardner is secretary, Colorado Springs. They report 150 feet of shaft and 20 feet of drifts with one set of leasers at work.

Charles I. Calame, Passaic, N. J.—The Fairview Aztec mine is a promotion of Bond & Company, this city. The manager is W. H. Webber, manager of the Nevada Hills. There is a shaft down 200 feet. The property is equipped with a hoist. They are sinking to 800 feet before crosscutting. The property endlines on the Eagle, which has shipping ore in four places. The Eagle adjoins the Nevada Hills. The Pyramid, adjoining the Aztec on the south, is prospecting with diamond drills on a bend that trends northerly. The Aztec people are working on the theory that they have the Eagle ledge and have hopes of catching the Pyramid ledge.

J. W. Custer.—You neglected to date your letter, leaving us in darkness as to where you live. Why not fix a price on your stocks at which you are willing to sell and authorize someone here to act for you when the price is reached. In that case you would be required to leave the stock with your broker.

C. H. Workman, San Francisco.—We quite agree with you that "Gossip" is worth $10 a year to every buyer of Nevada stocks. Credit the $8 difference to a good heart; to philanthropy.

C. H. Knott, Akron, Ohio.—We never heard of the Goldfield Freedom Mining Company. Who are the officers?
