TRUE KNOWLEDGE.

We often visit friends in earth form, well we know their sorrows and cares;

We sympathise and try to help them understand the Cross they bear;

For a true knowledge of good and evil, is all there is on earth to gain;

Be good, do good, and ne'er do evil, but try to reach a higher plain.

Think less important worldly matters and bring to light the soul within;

Nor bind your selves with creeds and dogmas be even free and happy then;

We will come with songs to greet you, with cheering words to lead you on;

We'll guide your feet in paths of virtue, until your journey on earth is done.

STOMACH AND BOWELS.

It has been said that "more people have died from over-eating than from starvation," which may be true, one thing however, is absolutely true—that none of the vital organs are more abused than the stomach, which is treated worse than a slave; work, work, work, day and night—no rest, no chance for recuperation.

The heart action has a partial cessation and rest during sleep, but the digestive organs have to toil and slave incessantly in order to keep up with an abnormal and unsatisfiable appetite, is it any wonder then that these organs from sheer exhaustion sometimes refuse to perform their duty, and even at times reject and expell ill-selected food, indeed it often looks like the stomach was wiser than the brain, and in order to cap the climax or perhaps to show the superiority of the brain over the stomach under such conditions, a quantity of poisonous medicine is dumped into this catch-all, and then more food is forced down and at prescribed intervals more drugs, more something else, until the stomach gets too weak to raise an objection to the superior brain, and simply submits to the inevitable like a slave under the lash. It is this tired and weakened condition the catarrhal microbe is laying for, watching for an opportunity to get a foothold for extension of territory: this little imperialist is a staunch believer in expansion by invasion and conquest, and delights to have his own way without the formality of asking your consent, and seldom ever lowers the flag when once raised; he sticks closer than a brother and never neglects his business to conquer the whole territory along the alimentary canal where colonies are planted under favorable conditions, with the sole view of exacting tribute in the way of life force and vitality. It is true that a warfare is steadily going on to expell this army of invading bush-hawkers, and to the same degree that the allied forces are able to cope with this terrible foe and enemy of mankind. Will you be free from catarrh. But often the war is carried right into Jericho, and by trumpet blast and shouts of victory the walls will tumble and fall, and there you are—yourself transported into a new country on the evergreen shores of eternity, to the celestial city, into which Mr. Catarrhal Microbe has no passport, but is left behind to assist nature in the transmutation of matter, and to look after its own posterity—and yours. Friends, what do you think of it? Would it not be advisable to rally your own forces, to call in additional allied powers and exterminate these boxers before it is too late, or have a treaty of peace signed and executed, or have a Chinese wall built around you, that you might live in peace and security?

Digestion is a chemical process which takes place in and by the actions of the digestive organs. If a chemist does not have the proper instruments and the proper amount and quality of material, according to exact formula, the looked for result cannot be obtained. In nature's laboratory when harmony is in evidence, all the different actions and re-actions are perfect and more or less automatic, but still under supervision of the chemist—just like the action of the piano player's hand which has by a constant repetition become automatic, but yet governed by the artist. These so-called involuntary actions are not as involuntary as generally supposed, for they are amenable to the same general law that governs all action.

A chemist may in his own laboratory, obtain desired results, but if he should be indisposed, unable to handle the nicely adjusted instruments, then there is no reason why another chemist, perhaps with greater knowledge of the art, could not in the same laboratory, with the same instruments obtain perhaps still better results, providing, however, the other chemist would lay down and not interfere, if he was not able to co-operate in the experiments. He should step to one side and let the more active operator have at least as much freedom and liberty as possible. By the way, this is the position a Healer takes under the method of suggestion, when the patient is in a hypnotic state, but bear in mind, suggestion in itself does not cure anybody; some person might stand and suggest movements of the bowels for a million of years providing the patient lived that long and have no more effect than if he, in the same length of time, should by suggestion try to stop the moon in its orbit; suggestive moonshine. Fellow students, please don't overlook the real power behind the throne; now friends, don't be alarmed if we, in a simple way, tell you a few facts regarding your long endured chronic bowel trouble; what have you done to correct this unnatural condition? Taken medicine to regulate the bowels of course; well, did they stay regulated? No indeed, when I stopped regulating, regulation stopped also; by this fact we discover that the patient was all the time trying to regulate the effect instead of regulating or removing the cause that produced the effect, hence the regulation was not and could not be permanent. Now listen. This irregularity of the bowels is the result of several different causes, some of which may readily be ascertained from symptoms, and again others cannot be correctly known except by a physical diagnostician that is able to penetrate the hidden recesses of nature's laboratory in the physical organism; now you may readily understand why you have chronic bowel trouble; the right kind of medicine was never applied at the right point. Often in such cases we have obtained the desired result in a few days by concentrating our forces on the point of causation, the pancreas gland, which like a truant school boy hides behind the stomach and never says booh, but just refuses by its inactive condition to secrete the necessary amount of pancreatic fluid which is absolutely necessary for a proper digestion of food in the intestines, hence intestinal indigestion and all this trouble that refuses to be regulated by regulating the effect. A Healer who does not concentrate the healing force at the right point will have the same result, and perhaps failure as when medicine was relied upon for this reason. In the case in question the pancreas gland would only receive its prorata amount of healing force, which perhaps was not enough in this particular case to restore activity and harmony in regulation, hence only a partial result, but if continued long enough we will admit would, in most cases, bring about a result that might have been obtained in half the time if the Healer had known the cause of the trouble and concentrated his forces at that point, assisted by a well directed effort by the patient. We must know what we are going after and then go after it in an intelligent manner. Now listen to a story told us by a physician a few days ago: "A patient had bowel trouble and on exhibiting symptoms of colic and cramps a large quantity of medicine with a high-sounding name was prepared and taken with the customary result, patient got well, but a friend got sick with the same trouble and the same medicine was given without any result whatever; the patient thought he was going to die; the same doctor was called in; some more of the same medicine (paragoric) with another name was given; the patient at once had relief and fell into a sound sleep and awoke ound and well." It is still an open question with that doctor as to what cured the patient. Of course the suggestion fellows will jump up and declare that suggestion did it, whereas mental scientists will have just as good grounds for declaring that mind, their pet theory, did the job, and so on all along the line of the different schools. Would it not be more philosophical to accept the hypothesis, suggestion, mind, life force and magnetism, yes all the different theoretical propositions had something to do with obtaining that result, although administered unconsciously by the physicians? Now we claim that the actual process that takes place, by which this result was obtained in this case can be as accurately explained as the physicians can explain the process that takes place in the alimentary canal when a cathartic pill is taken.

It looks to a man up a tree that the metaphysical schools are in most cases each trying to build a wheel with only one spoke in it, and ride it as a hobby horse. Such a wheel will always be considered lacking in strength and durability. If we want a perfect wheel we must have all the spokes radiating from center to circumference as a harmonious whole, onto which we may attach all the different (school) fellows, then strengthen the whole by a tire of conscious knowledge and brotherly love; such a wheel would be the wheel of progress exhibiting harmony in all its bearings from hub to rim; we may perhaps have to reset the tire now and then as we wheel along the road of experience and progress into higher knowledge and wisdom, the result of which would be exemplified in a higher perfection, more strength and durability and at last perfect harmony in a perfect whole. It is hoped that progress in the "Healing Art Devine" will ultimately lead to this point, that in place of superstition and ignorance, the metaphysician of the 20th century will possess scientific knowledge and wisdom, based upon demonstrated facts that sickness and discord may be, if not wholly eliminated from the human family, at least so modified, that is the forces, environments and conditions under which a person is born might be so modified that life upon earth would be comparatively a blessing as nature intended it should be; if not, why not?

To the amateur Healer we want to give a few words of advice in regard to this chronic bowel trouble; if such a case comes to you, treat the pancreas gland and you will obtain the desired result nine times out of ten for if that was not the seat of the trouble they would have been cured long ago, but one thing you must remember inasmuch as there is no pain connected with the inactivity of the aforesaid gland you must create the same kind of psychological condition as when pain is present in order to have a reasonably quick result. We once before made the remark that pain is a wise provision of nature and is in reality one of the means by which nature heals; the truth of this statement is exemplified throughout the whole lower animal kingdom where instinct takes the place of our boasted knowledge, and nature in its own sweet way, without any diploma, prefix or affix becomes the healer and physician and mistakes are very seldom made; health as a general rule is predominant among the lower animals; compare their health condition with the much doctored and medicine taking higher animal—man, with all his knowledge of physiology and therapeutics and you will find it is far below the standard of health and way above par in death rate. This condition should be exactly the reverse. If our boasted knowledge of sciences stand for anything, besides the greater advantages man has in "right living and right thinking." Fellow students of nature, there is something wrong here; have we so far departed from nature that with our higher (?) education we thwart every effort in keeping up that equilibrium and balance which is the key note of health, happiness and prosperity. Healers, we admonish you to take your lessons from nature and follow its teachings closely and you may earn the distinction of being called "natural healers" and be able to catch up with the "instinct doctor" that has such wonderful success in the lower animal kingdom; the tuition in this college will cost you nothing except time and study and your diploma will not be a meaningless sheepskin printed in latin phrases but painted in rosy colors on well rounded faces, happy, smiling countenances forever beaming forth a living testimony to your efficacy as a "Natural Healer."

In a future number of HARMONY we shall elucidate more fully on the question of pain being a means of a cure, and as such, is not only a wise provision of nature but also a blessing to suffering humanity.

DIVINE MAGNETIC HEALING.

Editor Harmony: I see by the August number of your unique magazine that you give the science of magnetic devine healing your best thought in print and your best effort in practice as experience has convinced me.

I see by the Occult Review of Reviews that the papers and magazines devoted to physichthought and metaphysical healing of every name have so multiplied that there are to-day hundreds of them published. They are all good; all have a work to do to set all classes of people to thinking and also to realize what the result of this thought out-put is. Then there are perhaps thousands of healers, counting the Christian scientists, mental scientists, etc., and those who prefer the term of mental therapeutics.

The healing agency of thought, of vital magnetisms etc. are so powerfully demonstrated at present that it marks a new epoch in the world's history and gives us pause to study the causes of all these effects

We learn by ardent efforts that a revolutionizing of the entire medical system was launched on earth and is conducted by higher than mortal power and it will not fail in its purpose though time is required for a purposed consumation. Man has been urged ever since his awakened consciousness admitted of thought agitation that he must learn himself. He has failed thus far because he did not look within himself for the finding of facts sought. Now he is compelled to learn by all the active force plays to which he is conditioned and in which he is active. Thus pressed forward he has learned in a measure his relations to his natural, material and spiritual sources and begins variously to realize that as by selfishness or any cause he becomes alienated therefrom; he loses part of his natural supplies to his being and gradually becomes impoverished in vital energy and loses his system poise in a measure which is manifested in mental and bodily ailments. Here he is in need of some one who can fill this gap and supply sufficient vital substance to give him strength to become linked again to where he in the ratio of degrees belongs. In other words his proper equilibrium must be established.

The divine healer who is by nature fitted to receive and impart these supplies is the one fitted to do this service for he is also intuitively furnished with the needed knowledge and is in this sense ahead of the masses of people in this knowledge which is the divine heritage of all. The true healer first seeks to find the keynote of harmony belonging to the system that needs treatment, then he seeks to establish the somewhat shaken equilibrium. He knows that the eternal unity of being is there, but through weakness caused by illness and discouragement and various causes the rates of vibration have become so changed that they are below their normal rates, which deprives them of their proper ratio of needed vital supplies for health and strength. Each separate case intrusted to a healer's care needs perhaps some change in the method of treatment to insure success but in all cases it is necessary that sympathetic lines between the healer and the patient be established so that the magnetic induction is possible to the degree of changing stratic vibrations and raise the afflicted thereby from sickness to health, therefore contact is desirable, as in absent treatment these conditions upon which success depends are in most cases hard to meet.

It were well if all healers would unite on one common basis and organize to become a strong power by their united effort and separate services to change human ills into weal and rejoicing.

Yours for the cause of humanity.

MRS. M. KLEIN.

BOOK REVIEW.

The Key to Magnetic Healing, comprising the history of magnetic healing, the theories of vital magnetism, mental science, pasivity and telepathy and the practice of magnetic healing. This is the most practical treatise on magnetic healing we ever had the pleasure of examining and can honestly recommend it to all healers, and especially as a hand book to new beginners; it is worthy of a place in the libraries of ministers, doctors, lawyers, teachers, students, business men, nurses, mechanics, farmers and everybody keeping abreast of the times, in fact it should be a text book in our common schools. The book is a large 12 mo of 200 pages, is neatly bound in cloth and has a half tone portrait of the author, Prof. J. H. Strasser and Mrs. Dr. Emilie Strasser as a frontispiece, of the Magnetic Institute of Healing at New Ulm, Minn. The price of the book is $5.00. For sale at this office.

Principles of Astrology.

NUMBER THREE.

Our second lesson in June number, explained the twelve signs of the Zodiac, all of which are now represented in their regular order on the backcover. We will now consider the twelve mundane houses. They are divisions of the apparent daily path of the sun and planets, around the earth, and are numbered in order from one to twelve. An observer at a given place on the earth, looking to the Heavens, has three prominent sections before him: if he looks east or to the place where he first sees the sun in the morning, he sees the eastern horizon; looking west, to a point directly opposite, he sees the western horizon. The eastern horizon is the point, where, either, sun moon, planet or fixed star is first seen to rise, and the western horizon, the place where they are last seen to set, and these two points mark the beginning of the first house, or ascendant, and seventh house or descendant, called cusps. Directly overhead he sees the Zenith or Cusp of the midheaven, while under his feet and on the other side of the earth, is the Cusp of the fourth; were he facing south, to the right he sees the seventh, eighth, and ninth houses. To the left is the tenth, eleventh and twelfth. These houses are called Diurnal: it is light when the sun is in them, and they are always seen, for they are fixed in relation to the place of observation.

The number of degrees of the Zodiac seen in these houses, varies with the latitude of the place. The other six houses could not be seen from this place, but were we on the opposite side of the globe we would then see them. These twelve houses are shown in the outer circle of Uncle Sam's Horoscope.

While the planets move through the signs from Aries, in their order, as shows by the arrow. The signs move through the houses, in the reverse, from the Cusps of the first through the twelfth, eleventh, tenth, ninth, eighth and seventh, or descendant, and thence through the sixth, fifth, fourth, third, second and first. With each revolution of the earth on its axes, so that every sign rises and sets once every twenty-four hours, rising from the Cusp of the fourth to the Cusp of the tenth or midheaven, then setting from this point till the Cusp of the fourth is again reached. This revolution of the signs, carries the planets in them along, hence at a given time of the day, a planet is seen in a certain sign and house. These houses are divided into three classes, viz: Angular, Succedent, and Cadent. The first, tenth, fourth and third are Angular and are sometimes called Angles. The second, fifth, eighth and eleventh are succedent, while the third, sixth, ninth and twelfth are Cadent. They have distinct degrees of power which vary in relative proportions. The first house is first in power, the tenth, second and eleventh, is third, seventh is fourth, second is fifth, third is sixth, ninth is seventh, fourth is eighth, twelfth is ninth, fifth is tenth, sixth is fifteenth, eighth is twelfth, each house has signification of special things in the different department branches of the art. In studying the nativity of persons, the first house shows personal appearance, temperament and disposition. The second shows the wealth, property and liberty of the native. The third concerns brothers, sisters, neighbors, letters and writing and short journeys by rail, or wagon. The fourth shows the father, inheritance, or property, and natives condition at close of life. The fifth house governs children of the native, his pleasures and speculations. The sixth house rules the sickness of which the native is liable and shows their exact nature if any planet be therein afflicting the sun or moon. The seventh house governs love courtship and marriage, also all partnerships, financial or intellectual, and public opponents. The eighth house rules our relations with the dead, their wills and legacies, and has some significance of the native's death if the Lord there of be anareta. The ninth house governs long journeys, voyages, etc., and has much influence over the native's religious and philosophical studies and opinions (similar to the third, but is more external.) The tenth, rules the honor, credit and business of the native, and is therefore the most important of all from an earthly standpoint. It also signifies the mother. The eleventh rules the natives friends and friendships, hopes and desires in life, the mothers wealth etc. The twelfth house governs the natives fortune in relation to enmity, sorrow and distress, secret foes and imprisonment.

UNCL SAM, S HYLEG AND PROSPCTS OF HEALTH AND LONG LIFE.

The planets in Uncle's horoscope form the following aspects: Moon is leaving Trine of Saturn, and applying to Trine of Mars. Mercury is leaving Semisextile of Mars, Semisquare of Uranus, and Trine of Neptune. Venus is applying to a conjunction of Jupiter. Sun is leaving a Semisextile of Uranus, a Quintile of Neptune, and applying to Square of Neptune. Jupiter is applying to Semisextile of Uranus. Saturn is leaving Trine of Uranus.

In Astrology, the Sun and Moon are the givers of life, and are called the Hylegs. Ptolemy said "the Sun is the source of the vital power and the Moon the Natural power." In a male Horoscope the Sun is Hyleg when it is above the horizon and if the Sun is not above the horizon and the Moon is above the horizon, then the Moon and Sun rule the vitality, and such a life in force is termed Luni-Solar. To determine the strength of the vital powers, we must consider the Hylegs, the tenth house, ascendant and its lord and whatever aspect are made to them, also whatever the place of nativity be in the northern or southern hemisphere, as the time of greatest Solar energy varies in them. In the northern hemisphere, the solar force is greatest from the 21st of March to June 21st; the second from June, 21st to September 21st; the third grade from December, 21st to March 21st, and the fourth grade is from September 21st to same date in December.

The signs of the Zodiac also have their influence; the fiery and airy signs form the strongest in a male Horoscope. In the case of Uncle Sam, we have the second grade of Cosmic energy combined with the air, electric signs of Gemini in the first and Aquarius in the tenth, which give him the second grade of vitality. The moon a magnetic orb, is above the horizon, in tenth house, and the Sun below the horizon, in cancer. The sign of the Moon and in the first house, give him a Luni-Solar quality of power. The Sun and Mercury being in the Magnetic sign of Cancer, with Moon in Aquarius, gives a predominance of Magnetic forces thus giving him the Magnetic temperament, whose keynote is B, as Brother Pearson has stated; such a system is liable to give off its forces too freely and thus become weak.

Mars, lord of the sixth house is in the Ascendant and shows general poor health and especially in early years, and indicate much trouble from servants, while the Sun receives the semisextile of Uranus from the twelfth (house of secret enemies) for which Uncle Sam will be very unfortunate; and will lose health by the treachery of his pretended friends (of which England is a good type) who will be private enemies; and Uranus lord of the tenth, afflicted herein, shows that he will have to endure much strain on the nerves on account of advocating reforms of a socialistic nature. But the Moon is strong in the tenth and Sun is strong in first, and the former is leaving a good Trine of Saturn, and applying to another good Trine of Mars, in the first and as she is free of evil aspects, it shows that while liable to many disorders of a feverish, and inflammatory nature the life force will pull him through, and as the lord of the house of death is in his fall, we proclaim a long life for the venerable guardian of our national institutions.

C. S. TISDALE,
Consulting Astrologer.

Astrology will open up a mine of knowledge and treasure which cannot be found anywhere else

Will those that have read our forecasts in March number, deny that Astral science is true? The war of China comes in fulfillment of our words concerning China, and every Nation named in our predictions has run up against its fate.

Our aim is to deal with questions of a public character, so that all our readers can see the facts for themselves. Hence while we endeavor to give the theory principles and claims of Astrology, we will at all times make Uncle Sam's case a sample and prove our teachings from his life, which you are all familiar with.

Supplement.

The twelve signs of the Zodiac, are divided into four classes or triplicities, which are called from their nature; Fiery, Earth Airy and Watery. Aries, Leo and Sagittarius compose the Fiery; Taurus, Virgo and Capricornus, the Earthy; Gemini, Libra and Aquarius, the Airy; and Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces, the Watery; and were so divided and named by the ancient Alchemists, who held that the signs are agencies of divine force of which they found four qualities.

Aspects are certain distances between the Heavenly bodies, measured by degrees, and the line between which forms some standard geometrical angle. We give them in the order of their strength.

First. Conjunction in same sign and in five degrees of each other, also when having equal latitude, N. S. or both. Sometimes the conjunction of latitude is called a parallel or 180 degrees distance.

Second: Opposition.

Third: Square or angle of 90 degrees.

Fourth: Sextile or angle of 60 " "

Fifth: Trine or angle of 120 " "

Sixth: B. opposition or angle of 150 " "

Seventh: Semisextile or ang. 30 " "

Eighth Quintile or angle of 72 " "

Ninth Semmi-square or ang. of 45 " "

Tenth Sextisquare or angle of 135 " "

Eleventh B Opposition or ang. of 144 " "

When planets are within five degrees, more or less of these distances they are in aspect.

THE EARTH WITH A FENCE AROUND IT.

Last month we did say something about wanting to give our subscribers the earth with a fence around it if we could possibly do it. But a lady subscriber, A. W. in Washington, writes very modestly and says she does not want a fence around the earth if she can only have a string around it with a loop so she can jerk the old thing around to suit her own notions as regards temperature, seasons and astrological influences. She doesn't care much for astrology but she has that inborn curiosity to want to look on the back of the man in the moon, for she very learnedly asks us to show her the other side of the moon; we suppose she at one time lived in Missouri and has to be shown. Now we are going to try, and accommodate all our subscribers in everything, and of course, we will furnish this one in particular with this string with a loop in it, but we want it distinctly understood that we will not be responsible from now on for any changes in the weather or temperature or any cyclonic disturbances or tornadoes that may destroy human habitation excepting, of course, the state of Washington. She says we are of a benevolent disposition, and will right here, prove that statement by advising here to be careful while manipulating the string and not get tangled up in the loop, but remember the boy leading the calf with the rope tied around his waist; if an accident like that should happen, astrologers might have another planet with a train; to reckon with that would perhaps have a peculiar influence on the male population especially when in conjunction with the moon. Now sister A. W., be very careful how you jerk us around in interstellar space; we are all at your mercy with your hand in the loop.

RARE CHANCE.

An Unprecedented Offer.

The world moves and so do we, but sometimes we get at it on the jump, like a comet. ### LANDSCAPE PAINTING.

We should like to correspond with a good landscape artist for the purpose of having a picture in pencil drawing reproduced in oil. This landscape picture was obtained in a very peculiar way; being no artist ourself we were just playing with the pencil one evening to see what might be produced by a first attempt at landscape drawing; we proceeded in a natural way to construct a crude outline as suggested by our mind, which we continued to round out and fill in with details in a rough way, and were just on the point of throwing the whole thing in the waste basket when lo and behold we discovered that we had a master piece of art right under our nose, a veritable diamond in the rough, which critics have named "The Living Moving Picture," for it was really discovered to possess these peculiarities: objects will increase in size more than double, then decrease again and change their relative position and turn one quarter round. Some objects will change from a relative parallel position to a rectangular, when at the same time other objects are twisting and turning around while you look at them; the more we studied this crude drawing the more of its wonderful peculiarities were discovered, hence in place of assigning it to the waste basket we prize it very highly and wish to have it reproduced in colors, retaining those very peculiarities as much as possible. None but first-class artists need apply.

Our New Enterprise.

We have our mind's eye set on this new enterprise which will come out in Harmony as a great surprise. If it cannot be materialized for the want of a sufficient number of subscribers at our great club offer we shall be more disappointed than any of our readers; the suppression of a grand idea produces a choking sensation to the originator; if a proper exit cannot be had, a new-born idea may become a consuming fire in the originator's brain and vanish in smoke. The enterprise requires three full page zinc engraved plates which are quite costly. Come to the front and help secure those 1,000 new subscribers during the next two months. A little effort on your part will do it; "force is energy in motion;" apply a little of this motion in the right direction, that is, get a move on yourself; don't be afraid of starting a commotion; we will take care of that by the power of locomotion, that set it to going, get motion out of motion and our great enterprise will be moving along the line of progress while you will be the most happily surprised.

Thought Vibrations.

Vibration.

What is vibration?

Vibration is energy in motion.

If thoughts are things, we move something when we think.

If we think when we are thinking how about thinking when we don't think?

If thought is the result of energy in motion, what is the power that sets this energy in motion?

Everything good that comes in contact with the human mind brings forth as a result a tear or a smile—sometimes both.

If we analyze thought, motion, energy and the power that sets energy in motion, what kind of a "thing" (?) do we find thought to be constructed of?

Enjoy yourself hugely during the fall festivities but exercise good judgment and common sense in your enjoyment and don't forget to give your digestive organs a little rest once in while.

Thinking a thought, is the action of soul power, through the attribute mind setting up activity in the brain cells which we call mental vibration hence thought is a vibrating force negative to soul force which is positive.

Just as thought force is formulated into words in the posterior part of the brain, so is soul force translated into thought force in the anterior part of the brain, by the action of the mind which is an attribute of the soul, and acts as agent in this translation.

We do not think "a thing" we think about "a thing" hence "a thing" we think about is not thought, hence thought is not "a thing" but is a vibratory force directed to "a thing" by the higher positive soul force which is the power setting energy in motion.

To the same degree as one soul can withdraw from action, which we call "passivity," in a higher degree "trance"—can another in like manner produce thought, word and action, this is called mediumship.

If you are a modern scientific healer and had constructed a beautiful theory without any proof; your system very much admired by a credulous world, marveling over your wonderful results and miraculous cures, which had made you famous from one end of the country to the other; and some other common sense man should discover the key that would unlock the shrine, containing the hidden mysteries, and explode your whole theory; wouldn't you feel like an earthquake was doing business right under your feet.

If you are taking treatment from a Psychopath, or any other kind of healer for stomach and bowel trouble, always remember to observe hygienic laws at anytime, but especially under such treatments, it is well to abstain from eating solid food, one day out of seven, call this your fruit day and eat only fruit easily digested. The idea is to give the digestive organs as much rest as possible.

When your system is out of order, nature at once makes you aware of this fact, by those bad feelings and pains commonly called symptoms. If you at first don't heed this warning you will ere long be compelled to form a better acquaintance, with your own organism. It is by this wise provision of nature that your physical organism appeals to your higher self for assistance.

Don't crowd yourself in anyway; listen to nature's mandates, and rest when that command is given, for right living and right thinking is the key-note of those vibrations constituting, health, happiness and prosperity.

Look diligently after the harmonious activity of the vital organs of your system. If any one of them should at any time lag behind in vibration, tune up with an increased supply of vital energy, directed to the right spot by concentrated mind action.

Your long endured chronic bowel trouble should be attended to at once. You should know the exact nature of the cause or causes producing this malady, then you would know how to apply the right remedy, that will not only relieve but affect a permanent cure.

Notice our great clubbing offer where we cut prices right in two. Take advantage of this and provide yourself and family with next years reading.

Our Great Club Offer.

HARMONY one year 50c. "Words that Burn" one year $1.50. Both for $1.50 post paid.

"HARMONY" the most unique, interesting, and progressive monthly journal, "the gem of the southwest," is said by critics to stand in the front ranks of all metaphysical publications of today. In order that we may be able to achieve still greater success, we make this unprecedented offer, that we may, during the next two months increase our subscription list by one thousand new subscribers, that we may be justified in promulgating, a new enterprise in HARMONY in the near future, which will be both original and interesting, worth in its self to every subscriber more than the whole years subscription price. This new enterprise will pertain to metaphysical healing in the highest advanced state of scientific perfection.

"Words that Burn" is the latest up-to-date novel and should have a place in every 20th century library in the United States. After reading this book of 366 pages, you will, like others, say that the description in advertisement on page — does not tell one half of its excellency and worth.

Don't neglect to take advantage of this rare offer, but send in your order at once to 'HARMONY office, Ponca City, O. T.

OUR NEW PRINTING OFFICE.

Next time when we undertake to print HARMONY in a new office, we shall want six months' time to experiment with the machinery, besides we want to give a few days success treatment to the employes, that they, the machinery and the devils, may work harmoniously. Just as we thought everything was going all right, the foreman and pressman got into some kind of inharmonious vibrations that impringed upon the pay roll to such an extent that paralysis resulted in the different departments of what we thought a well regulated office. In our dilemma we appealed to the devil, and by his assistance we were able to at least bring "Harmony" out of chaos. We have no doubt that our readers are waiting patiently, and we hope sympathetically, and only ask you to remember that "Harmony" is BETTER late than never. Next issue will come promptly to you at the usual time, loaded full to the brim with all the best things of earth. Don't forget our great club offers, and get your next year's reading for half price, and besides that, new enterprise is choking us all the time. Open the safety valve, a thousand new subscribers hung on the lever, will hold the safety valve open, and you will be surprised at the volume of steam that will escape in "Harmony" in the near future.

Each student will be examined as to natural adaptability. The class, if possible, should consist of even numbers of ladies and gentlemen in order to obtain the best result in scientific experiments.

OUR BOYS.

Our boys will in the next generation be presidents, congressmen, legislators, etc. Great national and international questions are piling up for them to solve; great responsibility will rest on their shoulders. If you want to be a Dewey you must prepare yourself and stand ready for any Manila bay proposition our country may call upon you to tackle.

Now boys, let me tell you that the road of success does not lay in the direction of cigarette smoking or any of the other bad habitt following in the wake of our boasted civilization. The road will lead you to the poor house and insane asylum if you keep on. If you want to change and be a Dewey you must get up on the Dewey plane of existence where there is no slavery to body and mind destroying habets, but liberty and full possession of mental and physical powers which are yours by the inscrutable right as a human being.

Now you may ask how am I to get out of the old rut? How am I to get from under that old tirant and slave master, habit? Come to me. I will tell you how. I will help you through the process of regeneration so that you may be able to develop your brain powers and train your mind up to its fullest capacity, that you may through a clear active mind become master of your own conditions and be ready at a moments notice to handle any kind of a Manila bay proposition that may present itself, or any other "White Man's Burden" you may be called upon to shoulder.

The Evolution of Immortality.

By Rosierucia, author of the Rosy Cross Principles of Nature and of Life 12 mo. Cloth. Price one dollar. Eulian Publishing Company, Salem; Mass.

How many earnest souls are searching for light upon the subject treated by the author of this work. As the author states, immortality, like all things in Nature, is dual: that is to say, self-conscious being and unconscious being; and the aim of this work is to show that immortality is a possible attainment of the present consciousness while involved in matter, rather than a gift to man in a future state of consciousness not so involved. Immortality is predicated of the whole man, not merely a part of him, and as in this work the way to soul power is clearly indicated, the book will prove of the utmost value to all who are willing to accept the consequence of the thoughts and actions they send forth and who desire to work out their own salvation and attainment unto conscious immortality through the union of truth and love. The author treats at length the subjects of energy, consciousness, life, love, truth, wisdom, sex, immortality and divinity, showing the progressive evolution of the soul through the realm of material incarnation from the atom to the organization, the mineral to the human and from the human to the divine, and teaching, as he does, a clearer understanding of the great problem of sex, its nature, use and control, one may well, with such a comprehension, come into a larger realization of the power to be and to do in accordance with his highest ideals. The work goes directly to the heart of the ever present problem of the mystery of life and its environment and treats it with such thoroughness and clearness of spiritual insight that the book may be considered well nigh indispensable to healers and teachers of the New Thought, while thinkers, preachers, and students of all classes will find its contents of greatest interest and profits. For sale at this office price $ 1.50

Library Of Congress.

The Librarian of Congress has lately fitted up a public reading room, where all publications are kept on file for the benefit of the reading public; by the request of the librarian, HARMONY has been placed on file, with all back numbers.

Investigate.

The school of Psychology will soon be ready to commence instructing the students in the mysteries of life, occult forces, Psychic Phenomena, the Invisible Forces in Nature, and How to Control Them, that you may enjoy Health, Happiness and Prosperity, would you not be delighted to positively know what you hitherto have been thought to believe—just believe, and nothing more—and have faith in faith. Come in and join our school and exchange faith for knowledge, and know where you are at.

We want only those for students, who earnestly, honestly, and sincerely seek the true knowledge, and who humbly and patiently are willing to receive those higher gifts from the higher realms of existence, who desire to unfold or develop their own psychic powers and become susceptible, to the influx of the finer forces in nature.

These teachings will be accompanied with demonstrations, giving the student a chance to investigate under scientific experiments, and obtain that demonstrated knowledge which is superior to any other knowledge because you know from your own experience by the testimony of the five senses, that statements are true.

We have engaged a large room in a private family where the most favorable conditions are obtained for the success of the school; we now only lack four more students to make up the desired number, send in your name at once.

INTERMITTENT FEVER, CHILLS, BOWELS AND KIDNEY TROUBLE CURED BY ABSENT TREATMENT.

Gladness and gratitude go hand in hand when we testify to restored health conditions. After one week's attack of intermittent chills and fever with bowels and kidneys in a fearful condition, approaching a stage of typhoid malaria I sent for Mr. Pearson, of Ponca City, to come and heal me but as he was unable to come, he sent some magnetized papers and gave absent treatment which at once broke up the chills and fever. Pains in stomach and bowels left me and in two weeks time recovered without having to resort to the "slop barrel—of the stomach method." Surely this new method beats the old. Friends who suffer, if you don't believe it, just try it once. Mrs. M. C. MADISON,

RHEUMATISM CURED BY A TOUCH.

Ponca City, O. T., July 30, 1899.

To the public in general:—My arm was lame from some unknown cause for fifteen years and with one treatment Peter Pearson relieved the lameness, and the relief is permanent. Don't be afraid to test his method of cure for it is certainly up-to-date and does the work. D. LAPE HUBLER, Attorney and Notary Public.

WONDERFUL CURE.

To the afflicted,

I wish to speak from the standpoint of knowledge in regard to Pearson's method of restoring sick people to health. My wife being sick for over a year, more than half the time in bed I spent over $400 without obtaining the slightest relief, in fact she was worse the day fate or circumstances made it possible for me to meet Mr. Pearson who at once diagnosed my wife's condition correctly and commenced giving her absent treatments although she was eleven miles out in the country, and the next day I discovered she was getting better and in a few days she was out of bed, slowly recovering her health and in less than three weeks was visiting neighbors and going everywhere. If you should see her now you would not believe she had been sick for so long a time. A smiling countenance, a cheerful, happy feeling of deep gratitude to her healer are prima facie evidence of these facts. Friends and neighbors, don't be blind or prejudiced in the face of cold facts, but go thou and do likewise and obtain that blessing which is in store for you if you will only prepare yourself to receive it. Yours truly,

HARRISON BLACKWELL,
Resides 11 miles east of Ponca City.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

To whom it may concern:

Let it be known that I was afflicted with rheumatism in arm and hand, more than a year ago, my arm and finger swelling and being very painful and had to carry arm in sling. By one treatment of Mr. Pearson and by the mysterious healing powers imparted by his magic touch, I was restored the next day and have been ever since.
