From the Waverley... I have banished the rule and the rod; I have taught them the goodness of knowledge.

They are idols of hearts and of households, They are angels of God in disguise; His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses.

I ask not a life for the dear one All radiant, as others have done, But that life may have just enough shadow

The twig is so easily bended I have banished the rule and the rod; I have taught them the goodness of knowledge.

I shall miss them at even and at even— Their song in the school and the street; I shall miss the low hum of their voices

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, AUG. 8, 1863.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Two Dollars Fifty a year, payable in advance. One Dollar Twenty-five for six months.

Money sent at our risk. For all large sums, drafts on New York should be procured, if possible.

A variety of interesting matter awaits you for an appearance in our columns.

Children's Annual Picnic.

A long and most beautiful procession left this office last Friday morning for the exciting heights of Fort Lee. The citizens of this metropolis witnessed for the first time a patriotic association of young men and maidens.

Subsequently, when all had returned and the dancers were in need of rest, the speaker's table was fixed, and the assemblage was first addressed by Mr. Lawrence.

A Preacher for the Times.

The New York correspondent of the Springfield Republican, in a recent letter, says: "I have been to hear your rare preacher, Frothingham, and it was good to hear him."

Free Speech for Treason.

A writer in one of the daily papers upon the question of British neutrality lays down the following positions: First, that it is impossible for any government to control the sympathies of its subjects.

We have stated this case simply because it so happily expresses what we conceive to be the truth respecting liberty of speech and action at home upon the subject of the rebellion.

Our hazards are less with free expressions of opinion than under any measure of military restraint. The American people are so sensitive to any infringement in this direction, that they listen to popular clamor, no matter how hypocritical, based on the accepted doctrine of absolute freedom of speech.

The right, then, to think as we please, to speak and write as we please, seems a privilege that even military necessities are not to infringe or curtail.

While we would silence no orator, muzzle no press, we would double the vigilance with which the consequences of such freedom are guarded, and prevent by severest penalties the least tangible, active expression of sympathy with the foul conspiracy against government, and freedom, and progress.

An Opportunity. Our readers will remember the appeal made by Mrs. Eliza W. Farnham from the fields of Gettysburg in behalf of the wounded soldiers.

We chance to know that this service was performed at a personal expense, of clothing destroyed, &c. of a sum not in itself so large, but important to one without fortune and dependent upon self-exertion for support.

A Heated Term.

If any lack of variety be observed in our "Items" department this week, we trust our readers will "keep cool" and attribute it to the "heated term."

Under existing circumstances our readers must be aware that mental activity is not to be expected. True, the devil is conceded to possess superior mental qualities, but none have attributed this to the temperature of his residence.

But though confining oneself strictly to heated subjects, we have wandered somewhat, and will, without farther circumlocution, remark that we wished simply to say, that for the week past, it has been too intensely hot for our brain to work, and—that's what's the matter!

Spiritual Meetings.

A mass Spiritual meeting will be held in a grove, near the residence of Mrs. Clark, in the village of Laphamville, on Saturday and Sunday, the 15th and 16th of August next.

The Spiritualists of Cicero, Onondaga Co., N. Y., will hold a grove meeting on Saturday and Sunday, August 15th and 16th next, two miles east from Cicero Corners.

Persons and Events.

PERSONAL ITEMS. —COLONEL T. W. HIGGINSON arrived in Worcester on Monday last, direct from his field of service in South Carolina, on a brief tour-rough.

—REV. DR. EDWARD BEECHER has given notice that he and others intend to try the council which tried and convicted his brother Charles Beecher, of Georgetown, of heresy.

—A. T. STEWART has given five thousand dollars for the benefit of the families of policemen and soldiers killed during the riot.

—Among the drafted at Dansville, in this State, we notice the name of James E. Clark, the poet and vocalist; Doctor T. W. Hurd, the Dress Reformer at the Dansville Home; and Giles F. Jackson, son of Dr. James C. Jackson.

—HENRY WARD BEECHER accepted a temperance breakfast before leaving London, at which some one made an anti-Union speech.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS. —There were no less than twenty cases of coup de soleil on Monday of this week in this city.

—An important internal revolution seems likely to break out in North Carolina. The Raleigh Standard denounces Jeff Davis as a repudiator, in whom no confidence can be placed, and whose efforts to establish a Southern Confederacy will be a failure.

—It is worthy of remark that under the vigilant eye of Street Inspector Boole the piles of stagnant filth are disappearing from the streets of New York.

—There are now thirteen major-generals without commands, viz.: McClellan, Fremont, Butler, Hooker, Hunter, Buell, McDowell, Franklin, McClelland, Curtis, Caldwell, Morell, Milroy. Will some one compute the cost to the country of these expensive "gentlemen soldiers"?

—At Jackson, Miss., General Sherman captured a number of rebels who had been paroled at the capitulation of Vicksburg.

—Who shall say the riot accomplished no good when it led the Sunday Times to utter what it never before was known to do, a word for the poor negro, as follows? "The most revolting portion of the last week's riots was the murder of colored people, the fring of their houses, and the plunder of their little property."

The Riotous Trinity.

THE GOVERNOR, THE ARCHBISHOP, AND THEIR "NOBLE FRIENDS," CALLED "RIOTERS."

The behavior of a community in such a season as that of the 15th, 16th, and 17th of July, in New York, is one of the very best tests which the exigencies of life can afford of its fitness for self-government.

Of all social monsters, a riot, therefore, is that one which, for the good of all, needs to feel most firmly the strangling cord of authority at its throat from the very first breath it draws.

Such were the characteristics of that remarkable period in the history of California, of which every one of her sober, right-minded citizens is and will continue to be proud to his last day—known as Vigilance-Committee times.

The Spiritualists of Cicero, Onondaga Co., N. Y., will hold a grove meeting on Saturday and Sunday, August 15th and 16th next, two miles east from Cicero Corners.
