To Fullest Light

Every bitter tear we shed
Is a sorrow to the dead;
Every grave we brood above
Is a triumph over love;
Every hour of vain regret
Binds the spirit in a net --

Binds the soul that would be free
Of incarnate misery.
And in spheres beyond the spheres
Triumph over mortal years,
And the hour to sorrow given
Casts a shadow into heaven.

Every word of hope and faith
Is a triumph over death;
Every syllable shall more
Open wide the secret door;
Only Love that knows not fear
Learns at last to see and hear.

For the quietude of sleep
Faith and Love will never weep;
Love that smiles and hears again
The viewless feet, the whisper plain;
Faith that knows, behind the night
Glow the dawn to fullest Light.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

SPACECRAFT FROM BEYOND THE SUN

By Riley Hansard Crabb

From a talk given at the Tenth Annual Space Craft Convention, Sunday afternoon, October 30th 1966, Berkeley, California

At the present time we have optimistic estimates from officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration that we may be sending Astronauts to the Moon in 1968. That's only two years away! We already have physical contact with the Moon with Surveyor I, with excellent pictures of the barren and lifeless surface.

What next? As we turn our attention to the planets of the solar system and beyond those to the next larger system, the Zodiac, are beings in these larger systems turning their attention on us? I think so. Let us assume that the universe is aware of us, even as we are becoming increasingly aware of it!

We have awe-inspiring photos of the earth from hundreds of miles out. Surveyor sent back one photo of the earth as seen from the Moon! These are New Age pictures. They begin a new cycle of human unfoldment. If you want a date for the beginning of the Aquarian Age, let that be it, Aug 23, 1966, the day our Lunar Orbiter satellite sent back a picture of the earth from the Moon. This new perspective of our little school room in the solar system is activating slumbering centers of our creativity. This new, higher form of energy will make itself increasingly evident for the next forty years.

If you know your astrology you know that Aquarius is an air sign. Is it any wonder that we are having such fantastic aerial developments? Air represents the finer, lighter forces in Nature. What planet rules the Zodiacal sign of Aquarius? Uranus. You-ran-us! Vast and revolutionary changes are focused through Uranus; for it makes all things new! The key words for this revolution in consciousness that is now upon us are brotherhood, cooperation and friendship. Can you imagine anything more revolutionary on this earth than to demand of all men and women that we get along with each other without fighting?

But this is the pressure for the New Age brought to us from the Sun behind the sun by the Visitors from outer space. The message transmitted by the Spacecraft from beyond the Sun -- some of them -- is that we must cooperate. We must move in harmonious orbits even as the suns, stars and planets move in harmonious orbits. Personal love we know and enjoy. The symbol for this in our solar system has always been Venus. But Uranus is the higher octave of Venus. Its subtle influence demands of us that we raise our personal affection for a few people to the heights of impersonal, universal love.

AN EXPANSION OF CONSCIOUSNESS

This is like asking us to hoist ourselves by our bootstraps. We cannot do it alone. There is help, plenty of it. This new Aquarian energy striking us through Uranus is quickening and sharpening our minds. This encourages us to welcome the new, to strike out in new directions. The earth has already been explored; so the New Age impulse forces to explore ourselves even as the astronauts reach out in thought toward new objectives beyond the Moon.

Rather a dizzying prospect isn't it? But doesn't this rapid expansion in consciousness invite us, men of earth, to play a new role in the unfolding cosmic drama of the Aquarian age? I think so. Here to fore you and I have been content to think of ourselves as citizens of the United States of America -- or some other nation. But the orbiting satellites, Russian and American, race across dozens of national frontiers every moment at 17,500 miles an hour. This is gradually forcing us to think of ourselves as citizens of earth.

But an even more radical revolution in consciousness will be forced on us by the outward trips beyond the Moon to the planets. We will be claiming citizenship in the solar system, perhaps even the cosmos! Here in America we know that citizenship -- for the white people at least -- bestows wonderful privileges; but we are also trained to accept the responsibilities of citizenship. If there were no sense of responsibility there would be no privilege. Now the New Age demands of us, the Visitors from beyond the sun demand of us, that we be responsible citizens of the solar system. With that solar or even cosmic responsibility will come privileges beyond our wildest dreams.

I have friends whose fondest dream is to take a vacation trip to Hawaii. They work for it and save their money. Others, like Mrs. Crabb and myself are looking forward, some day, to a trip around the world as a vacation reward. But wouldn't it be even more wonderful to be able to dream, and plan, and save for a vacation trip to Mars or Venus? Dare I suggest a trip outside the solar system in our time. Will some of us be making inter-stellar voyages to Sirius, the brightest star in the heavens, the Sun behind our sun? I think so. But before we can propose these ideas at the popular level -- and not just to a convention of the elect here at the Claremont -- we must be taught to realize that our thoughts are of greater consequence than our actions. The public at large must be taught that we are not alone in the universe. The earth is one of a family of planets in the solar system. We must unify ourselves by inter-weaving our thoughts with those of our fellow-humans on Mars, Venus and the other planets.

This expansion of consciousness began with a vengeance this year, 1966, with the persistent appearance of Flying Saucers all over the country; and most important of all, the national press, TV and radio are finally treating the sightings as straight news stories, factual observations by reliable people. Most recent, and hair-raising, is that two-part Flying Saucer story in the Oct. 4th and Oct. 18th issues of Look Magazine. If you haven't, get them and read them!

This "Aboard A Flying Saucer" story by John G. Fuller in Look Magazine is dramatic and national confirmation of what we in Borderland Sciences Research Associates were told 18 years ago! Back in 1948, Lao Tse of our Inner Circle, told us:

MAKING AN EXAMINATION FOR THE RECORD

"You ask why the Flying Saucers are here in large numbers? I shall tell you. Always, when a civilization, a culture has reached its height and is destined to collapse, the Ethereans have appeared in numbers. They come to make an examination and a final record, for their own knowledge, of the status of that civilization -- somewhat as you might do with disappearing tribes and races. And it is true also that they have been alerted and disturbed by your release of atomic energies."

So, in these recent issues of Look Magazine we have Fuller telling us of the personal experiences of Barney and Betty Hill in 1961. Their car was stopped on a New Hampshire highway. They were hypnotized. They were taken aboard a nearby Flying Saucer for a most thorough physical examination. Then they were given the post-hypnotic suggestion that the whole experience would be forgotten. Finally, they were taken back to their car and sent on their way by these scientific Visitors from some unnamed planet in some unknown solar system. Barney and Betty were treated humanely, but as impersonally and coolly as if they had been animals in some experimental farm.

But the experience of 1961 was too disturbing to remain dormant in their subconscious. They finally went to a psychiatrist for help a couple of years later. Under hypnotic regression, with Dr. Simon's expert help, the whole traumatic experience was brought to full consciousness. The part that concerns us and today's subject of Spacecraft from Beyond the Sun is the following exchange between Betty Hill and the Leader of the alien spacecraft:

"And so then I said. . . I knew he wasn't from the earth, and I wanted to know where he did come from. And he asked me if I knew anything about the universe. And I told him, no, I know practically nothing. . . And he went across the room and pulled out a map, and he asks me had I ever seen a map like this before. . . There all these dots on it, scattered all over it. Some were little, just pin-points. And others were big as a nickle. And there were lines. . . going from one dot to another. And there was one big circle, and it had a lot of lines coming out from it. A lot of lines going to another circle quite close, but not as big. And these were heavy lines. And I asked him what they meant. And he said that the heavy lines were trade routes. The other lines, the solid lines were places they went occasionally. And he said the broken lines were expeditions. . . And I asked him where was his home port, and he said: Where are you on the map? I looked and laughed and said I dont know. So he said: If you dont know where you are, then there isn't any point of my telling where I am from. And he put the map away. . . "

Tragic, isn't it, that we're all so ill-informed? It hasn't been too important in the past, to most of us, where our earth is in relation to other sun systems; but I suppose this will be required of every world citizen of the New Age. We do have one ancient and honorable road map of the heavens. This is the Tree of Life of our Western Mystery Tradition, to which we will refer later.

HOW TO GET THE HELL OFF THE EARTH!

Thousands of advanced humans have used the Tree of Life to map out a safe escape from the earth, and a safe return; but it was a well kept secret in the Mystery Schools of Atlantis, in Egypt, in the Holy Land and down to Europe and America of the present day. Now the demands of the space age will make it public knowledge. If we are to take our place as a welcome member of the family of planets in the solar system, we must know where we are, not only in the solar system but in the next larger family of suns, the Zodiac. As we move from Pisces into Aquarius the pressures of this new region in space will demand it of us.

Oh, you wont necessarily be going in a material space ship! These New Age developments wont be limited to physical achievements alone. Oh no. The Apollo trips to the Moon, the manned excursion to Mars are only preludes to personal explorations of the higher dimensions of the mind and heart!

You aren't going to free yourself from the earth by loading your mind down with physical facts. We could spend hours here detailing the monumental plans of the space engineers of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, until the lower mind staggers to exhaustion with the overload. No. The Aquarian stimulus is opening our higher minds. We hunger for information that only the spiritual world can provide.

True, the astronomical picture of the universe is stimulating, but what can the material-minded astronomer tell you of how it got here and who made it? The scientist has failed to establish a living relationship between ourselves and the universal order! As Theodore Heline has said recently, "The heart is left cold, the inner life undernourished. We need sustenance on deeper levels." And he reminds us of the profound observations of Sir Francis Bacon, now one of the advanced men, "men beyond mankind", who are helping to lead us into the New Age.

I am a Baconian Heretic. I am one of the growing number of people who believe that Francis Bacon wrote the great Plays under the pen name of William Shakespeare. But bless you, that was only one of many pen names used by this journalistic genius. Others were: T. Bright, Edmund Spenser, Burton, Marlow, Greene, Peele, Ben Jonson and - believe it or not -- the Man in the Moon!

Young Francis Bacon was frustrated by the "barrenness of academic knowledge" while at Cambridge in 1573 and 1574. Years later he took occasion to deride the fruitless pursuit of wisdom in books when he wrote the drama, "Love's Labor Lost". There he has Biron remark:

"Study is like the heaven's glorious sun,
That will not be deep-searched with saucy looks;
Small have continual plodders ever won,
Save base authority from others' books.
These earthly godfathers of heaven's lights,
That give a name to every fixed star,
Have no more profit of their shining nights
Than those that walk and wot not what they are.
Too much to know is to know naught but fame;
And every godfather can give a name."

And so it is with the present Gemini program and the coming Apollo trips to the Moon. Our knowledge of the earth and its immediate space environment is increasing tremendously, but where is the wisdom to translate this knowledge into a better world? It certainly isn't in the encyclopedias of information accumulating at NASA headquarters in Houston, Texas. These "books of base authority" cannot satisfy our thirst for treasures of the spirit.

We who study the Mysteries, the Ancient Wisdom, know that the Astronauts are bound to have spiritual experiences while in orbital flight. In the sensory deprivation of deep space the bonds of the flesh are loosened. Life yearns to return to the Father's House, it's real home. This change of consciousness has long been known to high altitude pilots as "the breakoff". But because of the materialistic concepts of the space scientists on the ground, and of the men who administer the space program, the Astronauts are very reluctant to discuss these treasures of personal awakening when they return to earth.

We have recently learned that Astronaut Scott Carpenter was one who "opened" and saw through the Veil while his Mercury capsule orbited the earth. The whole panorama of creation was spread before him, in both its good and its evil aspects. He learned by direct perception that space -- so-called empty space -- is peopled with intelligent beings, some of human type, some non-human. The trouble was that he apparently found it difficult to re-focus on his earthly responsibilities when it came time to prepare for re-entry during his third orbit. He made several operational errors and, as I recall, missed the landing target by a couple of hundred miles.

Most of us have to go through a long period of conscious preparation and conditioning before we are granted the kind of spiritual experience Scott Carpenter had. He was given a grandstand view of the problems that vex most of us. Once we have such a revelation of the deeper mysteries of our own being, and of the universe, no materialistic approach to life will ever satisfy us again. There is bred in us a divine discontent. I suggest that our space program is forcing a gradual but steady shift in our thoughts and feelings, away from physical, outer phenomena toward a much more satisfying inner reality.

Today's priests are the scientists. They are leading the change away from matter to energy. This has been going on for years now. Has anyone here ever seen an atom, or a neutrino? Of course not!

The physicists, these "earthly godfathers of heaven's lights", are giving names to vibrations. They have reduced matter to energy, to the first creation, sound. In the beginning was the Word. To the high priests of the super-physical space was still a vacuum full of nothing, 30 years ago. Now they speak glibly of the solar wind, great bursts of ionized particles -- whatever the hell they are -- streaming out from the sun in all directions and a deadly menace to warm human life as we know it, unless protected by a magnetic shield like the Van Allen belts, and an atmosphere. So physics has really become metaphysics but no self-respecting scientist will admit it.

METAPHYSICS IS A DIRTY WORD

In American laboratories what physicist would admit that he is studying metaphysics, or reincarnation, or karma? But his probings of energy will eventually lead him to these dogmas of occult science! For the physicist is looking for Causes, and Causes are Moral! There is right and wrong in the universe and an intelligent being is supposed to know the difference.

The problems of celestial navigation and the inter-planetary trips even now being programmed in Houston are forcing space scientists and the astronomers to examine the stars more closely than they have ever done. Eventually their astronomy is going to be come astrology. Yes, the "ancient and honorable science of the stars" is quite certain to be popular again. When earthly problems have threatened to overwhelm man he has always turned to the stars, to the constellations of the Zodiac, for guidance. Despite its boasted scientific attitude toward life, this civilization must do the same and the scientists are leading the way. Continued and close examination of the vibrations coming to us from the Pleiades, from the Great Bear, and from Sirius -- not to mention other constellations -- will eventually reveal an intelligence superimposed on the vibrations. Most of us don't know it but we are locked in the grip of the 12 rays coming from the Zodiac. If we want more light shed on the mystery of being, this is where we'll find it. One or two unorthodox radio astronomers have hazarded the guess that certain invisible but detectable radio signals from deep space may be beamed signals for the guidance of Flying Saucers! I believe they are very close to the truth.

THE MASS LANDINGS IN 9th CENTURY FRANCE

One of the most interesting pieces of comparatively early Flying Saucer literature was published in Paris, France in 1670. A lay priest of the Roman Catholic Church was the author, the Abbe de Villars. He titled his little masterpiece of occult literature, "The Comte de Gabalis", the Count of the Kabala; for this mysterious Count, an Adept from the Western Lodge, is the central figure. The material in the book is mainly a series of discourses by the Comte de Gabalis. These are instructions in metaphysics for his student, the Abbe. We have already referred to the Sun behind the sun in this talk, Sirius. It was our own reading of the Comte's discourses that stirred our interest in that tremendous, binary star system, the brightest star in our heavens. In the opening "Invocation to the Flame" there is a direct reference by the Comte to "the unseen parent of the sun". During the discourses it is made clear that this unseen sun is the brightest star which the Romans called the Dog Star, Sirius.

THE KABALIST, ZEDECHIAS

In Dicourse V the Count tells the Abbe of a Jewish Rabbi who was in contact with the Ethereans, the Visitors from outer space. It was long, long ago near the end of the reign of Charlemagne in France.

"The famous Cabalist Zedechias," said the Count, "in the reign of your Pepin, took it into his head to convince the world that the Elements are inhabited by these Peoples whose nature I have just described to you. The expedient of which he bethought himself was to advise the Sylphs to show themselves in the Air to everybody; they did so sumptuously.

"These beings were seen in the Air in human form, sometimes in battle array marching in good order, halting under arms, or encamped beneath magnificent tents. Sometimes on aerial ships, whose flying squadrons roved at the will of the Zephyrs. What happened? Do you suppose that the ignorant age would so much as reason as to the nature of these marvelous spectacles? The people straightaway believed that sorcerers had taken possession of the Air for the purpose of raising tempests and bringing hail upon their crops.

"The theologians and the learned jurists were soon of the same opinion as the masses. The Emperors believed it as well; and this ridiculous chimera went so far that the wise Charlemagne, and after him Louis the Debonnaire, imposed grievous penalties upon all these supposed Tyrants of the Air. You may see an account of this in the first chapter of the Capitularies of these two Emperors."

You see, the government of France imposed a "silence policy" on Flying Saucers in the 9th Century just as our government does today. And our "grievous penalties" against the Visitors is the standing order to Air Force and Navy pilots to shoot down Flying Saucers wherever they can. In the 9th Century the Ethereans tried a novel way to change the minds of the leaders and the masses. Said the Count:

"The Sylphs seeing the populace, the pedants and even the crowned heads thus alarmed against them, determined to dissipate the bad opinion people had their innocent fleet by carrying off men from every locality and showing them their beautiful women, their Republic, and their manner of government, and then setting them down again on earth in divers parts of the world."

No wonder those bloody dictators, Charlemagne and Louis, were so violently opposed to the presence of the Visitors. Thousands of Frenchmen were treated to a view of a republic, responsible citizens choosing their leaders by popular ballot. This was a threat to their absolute rule. The bloody dictators of the Roman Catholic Church were no less alarmed. The presence of the Flying Saucers was an open threat to their absolute rule of the minds and hearts of their pitiful subjects.

According to the Count the Sylphs "carried out their plan" of trying to awaken those southern Frenchmen to the possibility of a New Age of Enlightenment, free from ruthless dictators and religious tyrants. "The people who saw these men descending (from the space ships) came running from every direction, convinced beforehand that they were sorcerers who had separated from their companions in order to come and scatter poison on the fruit and in the springs. Carried away by the frenzy with which such fancies inspired them, they hurried these innocents off to torture. The great number of them who were put to death by fire and water throughout the kingdom is incredible."

HAVE WE CHANGED? NOT MUCH!

Of course we're too modern now to subject Flying Saucer contactees to torture or drowning. We are more sophisticated and more subtle than the Frenchman of the 9th Century; we use character assassination. Air Force spokesmen imply that people who see Flying Saucers are deluded dupes or outright frauds. Neighbors subject Flying Saucers sighters to all kinds of ridicule. Frank Mannor, the Michigan farmer who watched a Saucer maneuver around over his land for four hours one night last April, went through hell afterward. Drunks drove by his house afterward, at night, and heaved beer bottles through his car windows. He and his wife received threatening and obscene telephone calls from people who refused to identify themselves. Some of these callers were spurred on by their religious leaders, no doubt.

"One day among other instances," continued the Count, "it chanced at Lyons that three men and a woman were seen descending from these aerial ships. The entire city gathered about them crying out that they were magicians and were sent by Grimaldus, Duke of Beneventum, Charlemagne's enemy, to destroy the French harvests. In vain the four innocents sought to vindicate themselves by saying that they were their own countrymen, and had been carried away a short time since by miraculous men who had shown them unheard-of-marvels, and had desired them to give an account of what they had seen. The frenzied populace paid no heed to their defence, and were on the point of casting them into the fire when the worthy Abogard, Bishop of Lyons, who having been a monk in that city had acquired considerable authority there, came running at the noise, and having heard the accusations of the people and the defence of the accused, gravely pronounced that both one and the other were false. That it was not true that these men had fallen from the sky, and that what they said they had seen there was impossible."

Clever man, the Bishop of Lyons, he saved the lives of four innocent people. Even more important, he preserved the authority of the Roman Catholic Church. "The people believed what their good father, Agobard said rather than their own eyes, were pacified, set at liberty the four Ambassadors of the Sylphs, and received with wonder the book which Agobard wrote to confirm the judgment which he had pronounced. Thus the testimony of these four witnesses was rendered vain."

The negative bias of the Piscean Age was too strong to be overcome in the 9th Century with even this powerful testimony. This attempt of Zedechias and the Ethereans to open the minds of men failed, then, al-

THE PLATONIC YEAR

This 25,900 year cycle carries the name of the great Greek philosopher, but it was also known to the learned men of India, Chaldea, Yucatan and Egypt. Our sun and the planets make one complete tour of the Zodiac, spending about 2,100 years in each of the twelve Signs, from Aries through Pisces.

most; for there was no cessation in the endless wars, brutality and corruption of the times. Yet a philosophical seed had been planted by the Visitors; for the Count went on to tell the Abbe of the results of the visit to the Ethereal realms by the three men and the woman:

"Nevertheless, as they escaped with their lives they were free to recount what they had seen, which was not altogether fruitless; for, as you will recall, the age of Charlemagne was prolific of heroic men. This would indicate that the woman who had been in the home of the Sylphs found credence among the ladies of that period. . . which compelled the people of those times to apply themselves somewhat to Philosophy; and thence were derived all the stories of the fairies which you find in the love legends of the age of Charlemagne and of those which followed. . . "

THE DAWN OF PROTESTANTISM

Here is a clue to the seeds of protest against the corruption of priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church. They were planted in the hearts of Frenchmen of Languedoc and elsewhere in Southern France by Visitors from outer space in the 9th Century. Two centuries later the so-called Albigensian heresy was in full-blown revolt against the dead dogmas of the Church.

So liberal was the atmosphere of western Provence, Languedoc, then that the Kabala could be openly acknowledged and taught by such leaders as Abraham ben Isaac, president of the Court of Law in Narbonne. The oldest known book on the Kabala, the "Bahir", was in circulation. Then a religious fanatic named Lothario di Conti grabbed the throne in Rome and launched an all-out political and economic war against the French heretics, more generally known in those times as Catharists. In Peter of Castelnau this new pope, Innocent III, found a religious maniac as ruthless and greedy for power as himself. Castelnau was appointed Papal Legate with full power to enlist the aid of the king of France in destroying all liberty in Southern France. When Brother Peter was assassinated on Jan. 14, 1208, Innocent III conceived the brilliant scheme of launching the Fourth Crusade, not against the infidels in the Holy Land, but against good Christians in Southern France! The bloody, and successful, war against Christian heretics dragged on long after Innocent III's death. But self-consciousness does not end at the grave and in 1245 the great pope's revenge was complete. From the Catholic heaven he could watch in triumph as his fanatical followers overwhelmed the last Catharist citadel on Montsegur. To make their triumph complete the good Catholics roasted the remaining 200 protesting Christians alive. The stink of their burning flesh perfumed the air of Southern France for days afterward. Heresy was suppressed for a time and the teaching of the Ancient Wisdom was driven underground; but the Church forever lost its moral authority.

Nowhere in our history is the negative bias of the Piscean Age more obvious than in the sad tale told above. The story of the Albigensian heresy was dramatic proof of what the great Greek philosopher, Plato, had predicted almost a thousand years earlier at the end of the Aries Age. There are negative, barren periods when men lose sight of the divine principle within them, and they are governed solely by their animal passions. He foresaw correctly the endless strife and cruelty of the coming Piscean Age. Plato was also aware of the continuing and uplifting pressure of the Sun behind the sun.

THE DAILY "MONTSEGUR" OF VIETNAM

Thank God, Piscean influence is on the wane now. Daily, the Aquarian ideal of brotherhood is expressed more powerfully as millions lift their hearts and minds in prayers for peace. World War III, which threatened so surely from Korea 15 years ago, has been held off this long. Let us continue to believe that the increasing volume of prayer will be answered by an even mightier response from on high.

We cannot rest. There are billions of souls here on earth still dominated by Piscean Age influence. There is that religious fanatic Cardinal Spellman, for instance. A couple of years ago he prevailed upon the President of the United States to defend Catholic freedom in Vietnam by force of American arms. Communist and Buddhist heretics in that unhappy land were threatening to overpower the religious dictatorship of the extreme right. Every day is a "Montsegur" in South-eastern Asia, as patriotic Americans slaughter Vietnamese with the very best weapons. Those who aren't fortunate enough to be blown apart by our bombs are roasted to death with Napalm. This fiendish stuff is jellied from the best high-test gasoline Standard Oil can produce. The stink of burned hair and scorched flesh is a melancholy perfume indeed to send aloft anywhere. How much longer will we support the missionary effort of the Church in Vietnam before our national conscience is aroused? That is a moot question. The President has vowed to keep our troops there until every last heretic is killed, if necessary. Congress has voted more war-powers and money than he has asked for; and the majority of the people are backing him in this strife, according to the national polls.

But there is the continual and visible presence of Flying Saucers in America. All through 1966 the Visitors have been shaking our smug self-assurance. Sightings are so numerous and continuous now that Flying Saucer research groups cannot keep up with the flow of news stories. The Visitors will succeed now where they failed in the 9th Century. This is the end of the Piscean Age, not the middle of it. Saucer sightings and Saucer stories will continue to hammer away at our minds and hearts until we are forced to recognize that we are not alone in the universe. With this knowledge will come a sense of international responsibility so sadly lacking before. Even the President seems to be getting sick of the huge conflict he started without even bothering to obtain a declaration of war from Congress. During his recent tour of the far east he told the Australians:

"We are ready to stop the bombing of North Vietnam. We are ready to produce a schedule for the withdrawal of our troops whenever the other side tells us what it is prepared to do to move toward peace in Vietnam. . . We do not seek the unconditional surrender of those who oppose us, nor to destroy or change any system of government, nor to deprive any people of what is rightfully theirs. . . "

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME —

AS SUGGESTED IN THE NATION'S PRESS

For the past few months we've been tossing clippings into the "Future" file. These are from our own newspaper clips, books and magazines, and from those sent in by Associates. We're all hungry for prophecy whether it comes true or not; so let's "chew" on these items which indicate what may happen in economics, education, philosophy, religion, science, politics and the space race in the next few years.

BIG POTENTIAL SEEN FOR STRUCTURED FOODS

By Fred E. Tunks, Editor, "Feedstuffs"

Zero cholesterol foods, all vegetable, Kosher and Lenten meats, hot dogs, fruits, vegetables, nut meats -- they're all simulated or structured foods that represent the almost unlimited versatility of a single fiber base, spun oilseed protein.

Theoretically, an analog of any food with a basic fibril structure can be made from a refined oilseed base. Dr. A.D. Odell, manager of the isolated soybean program for General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, told how it's done last week at the Minnesota Nutrition Conference held here on the St. Paul campus of Minnesota's Institute of Agriculture. And he dramatically emphasized the importance of such food manufacturing in shortening the food supply chain to meet the demands of an exploding world population. The process he described shortens this chain by spinning pure protein from soybean meal, for instance, into food fibers to make analogs of real meat which require consumption of the soybean meal by an animal.

Dr. Odell's presentation attracted more than a consumer interest among the nutritionists assembled here because of what effect analog foods might have on animal agriculture.

General Mills is one of several firms producing these spun protein fibers and structural foods. Others are Ralston Purina Co., Worthington (Ohio) Foods and Unilever in London. Although General Mills is already deeply involved in the development of these oilseed fiber foods, Dr. Odell said it will be at least two years before the company will be able to go into full scale commercial production.

Worthington Foods has taken steps toward moving such products into general distribution. The company has developed a full line of products that look, taste and chew like chicken, pork and beef products. Some of these foods are marketed in Columbus, Ohio food stores. These products are Wham, a ham-like product and White-Chik, simulated white meat chicken.

VEGETABLE PROTEIN ANALOGS OF MEAT

The nutritionists had an opportunity to sample several structured foods as canapes before the lunch at which Dr. Odell spoke. They were furnished by General Mills. Also, Dr. Odell passed around plastic cases filled with samples of these products which were analogs of fish, bacon, ham and beef.

"The meat analogs which I have described and which you have eaten are in no sense a threat to the meat industry," Dr. Odell declared. "These new foods complement meat, extend and improve total carcass use and because of their special qualities, can reinforce a protein diet in situations and in ways where natural meat is not applicable."

He said it can be predicted that cost per pound of these meat analogs will be approximately one half of their cooked natural counterparts. And the dried versions, when compared with freeze dried meats, should be available for a "mere fraction" of the freeze-dried natural product.

Tenderness or toughness of the spun oilseed protein foods can be varied at will and the untritional level can be adjusted as desired. "Texture is under complete control," Dr. Odell said, "since fiber diameter and parallelism of fiber bundles or heterogeneity of short fibers can be deliberately used for mimicry of familiar textures. Dried versions regain the desirable texture after a few minutes in hot water and, since such dry items are stable, they can be stored on the shelf until needed, with no special care required."

To indicate what effect the addition of natural meats has on the flavor of the structured products, Dr. Odell notes that, for example, when up to 25% of bacon ends or chicken skins are incorporated in the binding mixture, the flavor of the product is improved and yet the cholesterol and animal fat content is held within acceptable limits. Further, highly nutritious portions of carcass which perform poorly in canning operations can be reconstituted and improved with spun soy fiber.

"By adding the legal minimum plus an additional amount of these new foods," Dr. Odell continued, "quality improvement is easy to achieve and the money mechanics are greatly improved for the meat grower, the meat processor and General Mills."

Here's how General Mills produces these foods which have a spun oilseed meal base:

1. 55% oilseed meal is upgraded to 97% pure protein.
2. This pure protein is dispersed in alkali and then precipitated at the isoelectric point in a bath by drawing it away, continuously, from the face of "spinnerets", much as one would for rayon or nylon. These monofilaments, which are not given any chemical hardening or other treatment, are easily digested.

3. The fibrils are combined with standard, edible items such as wheat gluten, egg albumin, vegetable or animal fats, flavors and dyes.

4. The mixture is cooked, setting up an edible mass.

5. Resultant products are used as such or refrigerated, canned or dried.

FOOD FOR THE INCREASING MILLIONS

From where will the world's food protein come in the aftermath of the population explosion? These are the sources mentioned by Dr. Odell.

-- Greater dichotomy in food production is necessary. Traditional methods will have to be augmented, not replaced, by tapping unused resources which have been more or less ignored thus far. At the same time, the food chain, whenever possible, must be shortened.

-- The 71% of the world represented by ocean must be tapped to a far greater extent than it is at present. Ways can and should be found to use oceanic, coastal and estuarial waters as well-mapped, controlled fish pastures. Italians have demonstrated that it is possible to raise 100,000 lbs. of shell fish on only one acre of estuarial bottom in one year.

-- Food yeasts and algae can be grown on industrial and metropolitan wastes. Japanese are actively engaged in pilot plant work on Chlorella and are predicting a powdered product which will cost about 35¢ per pound of protein.

-- Bacteria are another excellent source of high quality protein and the powders produced by harvesting and drying bacteria can have a protein level of 70% and an impressive vitamin content. A special class of bacteria and yeasts grow readily on crude oil. A thousand pound batch will multiply to 5,000 lb. in only 24 hours.

BUT THE FOODS MUST BE FAMILIAR!

Tapping these new food resources is feasible but, as pointed out by Dr. Odell, "no matter how hungry people are, they resist the unfamiliar and if it does not taste, look, smell and chew like familiar foods, it is difficult or impossible to get people to eat it, on a continuing basis."

That's why General Mills is working on the conversion of oilseed protein into monofilaments to provide a textural basis for meat analogs or other "textured" or "engineered" foods. "Meat, fish, fowl and vegetables are the most prized of foods in all cultures," Dr. Odell said, "This is because of their succulence, flavors, nutritional qualities, and, above all, the textures contributed by their basic fibril structure."

World population stands at 3.3 billion today, but it is predicted that it will climb to at least 7 billion in 35 years. "An entirely new U.S., duplicating all that has been done since Plymouth Rock, will will need to be superimposed on the same real estate in the next 30-40 years," Dr. Odell declared. "Even allowing for the average infant death rates (often as high as 50% in the emerging nations) one must conclude that 80% of the world's population will be Asian, African and Latin American.

"From my vantage point as a life scientist, it is terrifyingly apparent that no matter how newsworthy other modern scientific endeavors may be, none of them begin to approach in importance the desperate, almost world-wide race against protein malnutrition. . . Even to achieve a 20% improvement in their present, pitifully inadequate food supplies per capita, the emergent, technically unskilled nations must, by themselves, quadruple their current food production by the year 2000. In other words, they must add to the total world larder an amount of food equal to that being produced by the whole world at this moment.

"Can they do it? Obviously not, nor is there enough time left for birth control, new plant hybrids or any other device which could make any significant difference."

THE POLITICAL TIME-BOMB OF OVERPOPULATION

He talked of the political and socio-economic consequences of the world food shortage. The people of semi-starved nations, he reasoned, "will be very pliable putty in the hands of any regime which offers, however fraudulent it may be, any sort of anodyne to their anguish. This I fear is the time bomb which will be the devastating aftermath of the current population explosion."

In Dr. Odell's gloomy and all too true prediction we see the last surge of creativity of the waning Piscean Age. Millions of young souls will see, feel, touch, taste and smell life in the physical for the last time on this planet. From here on we'll need ideal weather conditions for production of the maximum amount of food for the hordes of hungry mouths. Will we have it? No, just the opposite. The cumulative effects of the atomic fusion and fission testing programs of the early 1950s are becoming increasingly apparent as the extremes of hot and cold, wet and dry become more violent. The recent disastrous floods in Italy and the total drouth in parts of India are current examples.

The positive side of Dr. Odell's talk was the story of the successful program for developing acceptable and tasty meat substitutes, from vegetable proteins. This promises to lift a tremendous burden from the animal kingdom as the gradual but inexorable shift from animal foods takes place. How else can the spiritual demands of the Aquarian Age be met except in more refined, lighter bodies? I suspect that not only meat but also the popular drugs, alcohol and tobacco will no longer be popular or even widely available. No doubt the animal kingdom itself will change as the carnivorous varieties disappear from the face of the earth.

THE POWERHOUSE BEHIND BSRA

By now, some of you who read these pages, are wondering at the source of inspiration which leads us to pull this kind of fantastic material together. Who brings these books and pamphlets to our hand, lights up our imagination, helps give shape and purpose to this talk, "Spacecraft From Beyond the Sun"?

We call our invisible powerhouse the Inner Circle. This is a group of sixteen men and women, all of whom were once dwellers in the flesh, and some of whom will return again to the physical world. Their dedicated channel for relaying information to the here-living is Mark Probert. His trance mediumship began to unfold or develop about the time our founder-director, Meade Layne, was organizing Borderland Sciences Research Associates in San Diego, California in 1946.

On the evening of Nov. 28, 1951, a small group of people gathered in the apartment of Mark and Irene Probert in San Diego. It included Meade Layne, the late director of BSRA, Francis Ohm, business man, Dr. J.K. Christie and C.J. Sherburne, electronics engineers, F.E. Rogers, editor and publisher, Harriet Foster, secretary, and Mark and Irene Probert.

This was a special meeting in which it was hoped to obtain more information on Flying Saucers, their origin, means of propulsion, and reasons for appearing around the earth at that time. Mark went into trance and the head of the Inner Circle, the Yada di Shi'ite took over.

"Friends, for aeons of time civilizations have come and gone. Great teachers have come to man, imploring him to turn from his selfish ways -- but to no avail. Man now, in this civilization, is no different from man 500,000 years ago (when the Yada lived in an ancient Himalayan civilization.) It is the same self-interest -- always I, I, I. This situation has brought about the destruction of other civilizations and it is going to do the same for you. Can you not smell it in the wind?

"This Korean affair is merely one of the many fuses leading to the main keg of explosives. This has to come if there is to be any peace on the earth hereafter. The world is filled with malignant growths and unless they are cut out, they will continue to eat and eat until your civilization dies of slow rot. Every turn you take in the scientific world, the religious world, the philosophical world, it is the same, 'I, the leader, say this to you, and you abide by it.'

"Now you want to know about the Discs and other strange things seen in your skies. Believe me, I do not desire to be an alarmist. I do not like to bring this kind of thought to you -- but need I? Is it not plainly observable to you? Yes, I know you are interested in doing what you can to help and there is great need for such people.

"Let me speak first of the Teacher you call Jesus the Christ.

He was a great man, a great Avatar, belonging to one of the most secret orders of Egypt and India. He knew that Man was once a space being before he built points in space to move around on. Jesus said, 'In my Father's house are many mansions', meaning thereby the bodies in space as well as space itself -- the planetary bodies, not alone in your solar system but in the others. No matter how great your telescopes, no end shall ever be found of these bodies.

THE EARTH'S JAIL, THE MOON

"Now I shall speak directly. Many of these bodies in your solar system have been occupied by Man from time to time. The Moon is not much of a place and is not often used except for a most secret kind of work. Mars -- the central part of Mars -- yes! The interior of Mars has been used many times, by human beings from planetary bodies in outer space beyond your solar system. It is so being used, now.

"These Discs that are in your sky do not come from these material planets, although similar ships have come from material planets. It is most difficult to express in understandable terms according to your laws of physics how a material plane could move at such great rates of speed in passing from one planetary body to another, because some of your most distinguished physicists believe that matter moving at the speed of light would turn into light. But this is not so. All that is needed is to get outside and away from the pressure of your own gravitation, and away from the magnetic fields of the earth, and then you can travel at speeds up into the millions of miles an hour without any ill effect."

"You mean that an airplane made of matter as we understand it could make that speed?" asked Meade Layne.

"Yes, that is right," replied the Yada.

"Can you give us any idea of the type of propulsion that would be used?" asked Meade.

"There are forces that might be called magnetism if you wish, existing between any two bodies in space. Your space here is very much like a heavy oil. Two bodies never really meet, but they play upon each other through this oily or jellied substance called the Ethers. To pick up this energy flow -- to come in on what you call 'the beam', is to follow these lines of energy existing between any two bodies in space. Some may believe that the magnetism of the earth is not very strong, but this is not so. All that is needed is an instrument sensitive enough to pick up these high rates of energy motion.

"How would our airship be protected?" asked F.E. Rogers.

"The outside of the craft could be so made that by a method of repulsion any other body would be held off with no danger of collision." replied the Yada.

"Is there any truth to reports of landings of large space ships?"

"In Australia," replied the Yada, "and also in the Andes mountains (in South America) there is a plateau on which these Discs have landed from time to time. Some of them are far too large to land in any of your modern airfields.

"The fireballs that have been seen in your skies do not come from Mars or any other body, but are space etheric phenomena. (In answer to a question) Yes, the Etherians have something to do with them. Mostly they are sent out to absorb the atomic radiations in your atmosphere. . . Yes, you do well to be thankful for them. Now, there are certain light-balls in the ethers that are projected by the Etherians and these act as photographic eyes. They can take, or register, lines of force, the entire inner parts of your planes; so the Etherians can see exactly how your planes are made. . . Yes, some of these photographic fireballs explode or disintegrate, but in the meantime they also pass back to certain points in space what they have photographed. Fireballs seen lately that act like meteors are those sent out to absorb the radiations of your atomic explosions."

"Do you know about reported landings in Australia and Scotland," asked Meade.

The Yada asks to be excused for a moment and speaks aside in the Yu language of his Himalayan time to someone on his own side of the Veil before replying.

"There is a certain secret work going on at present between the Etherians and certain high earth authorities -- you understand, I suppose, that I do not use the word 'high' in the usual sense. I am referring to those belonging to some of the secret Lodges of Earth -- . This work has to do with the great possibility of the Earth's destruction. Several miles under the Earth's crust a very serious dissolving is going on, more rapid than ever before.

"There are also long talks concerning the use of atomic energy against the ethers -- not because the Etherians are worried about your destroying yourselves physically, but it will break up the ether pressures on the earth -- and it is very serious to have these stresses disturbed. That's something for you to sleep on, if you can! These men have landed in Australia in a secret landing field. They have not only been in Scotland, but to high authorities in England, and to a few of your men and women here in high standing -- I refer to the Secret Orders."

"Are any of these men and women government officials?"

"Not many, but a few are members of these Orders. . . Yes, these Visitors are very human-like; but that does not mean that they come from any material planet, but from the etheric doubles of the planets. . . Yes, they may be said to materialize as human beings, like your own people, only healthier. Your body is under direct command of your mind. You'll realize this after you get out of it. . . Yes, this contact has been going on a long time -- ever since the world began.

The Etherian world has always acted as a guardian over its material brother. . . Yes, long before Atlantis, and long before my civilization of Yu which came before Atlantis. . .

INTERPLANETARY TRAVEL PREDICTED

". . . this war in Korea may come to a seeming end, but is really the beginning of a greater conflagration. And what are your people getting ready to do? To remove themselves from this planet. Not later than 1965, you will be travelling from planet to planet. . . Your scientists have not been permitted to tell you of life on other planets. A very concentrated move has been going on, to reach the moon, and it is now possible. (If the Yada is here referring to the successful manufacture of flyable interplanetary hardware by human beings of the U.S. and/or Russia in 1951, it is still a very well kept secret in 1966! He made no further reference to it in this 1951 seance. RHC.)

"Is the Roman Catholic Hierarchy aware of this communication with the Etherians?" asked Francis Ohm.

"Yes, but they are trying their utmost to keep it from the people. In the Catholic Hierarchy you are fighting an evil Power attempting the enslavement of the people. The war of Armageddon is coming. It is a direct conflict between 'black' and 'white' forces. That war will be a space war, perhaps tearing asunder a great part of the solar system. Many will come to know that they belong with either White or Black -- they will become consciously aware of it and will take up arms. Remember that Man, in moving from planet to planet, has made what are called different races on these different planets. Now these races were gathered here where the great Guardians of the Earth hoped they would come to an understanding, but no, they have not."

"There will be seismic disturbances?" asked Meade.

"Japan stands near the top of the list for almost complete destruction by quakes and tidal waves, perhaps in a short time -- maybe not longer than two years. . . Yes, the reason lies in the collective Karma of the people. . . Yes, also in the volcanic structure and in the deterioration I spoke of far below the crust. But we generalize too much. The Sun is going to have a great flare-up before long; there will be huge sunspots this coming year, some of the largest seen in the history of man. . . No. there seems no immediate probability of quakes in Korea, but Formosa is due for one. Any spot along the great fault is in constant danger of destruction. Of course, the disturbances that will hit the Japanese Islands will affect your coast here, with possibly a heavy tidal wave along the whole Pacific Coast. . . There is no danger of the San Andreas fault opening up again, except in case of a heavy Japanese quake. All faults along the line will probably be activated. Now perhaps this will not happen right away and you will be disappointed. I would like to bring a nice big quake to please you.

"As you know, we do not like to make predictions; because, after all, Man's mind governs the so-called acts of Nature. And he has the power -- and only he -- to change his way of thinking. So Man is the most unpredictable of -- shall I say? all God's creatures."

"Man's mind governs the so-called acts of Nature," said the Yada fifteen years ago. Since then millions of men and women must have shifted their feelings from war toward peace. If not, how can we explain the fact that the Korean war didn't expand into World War III? And at this writing the Japanese islands have still suffered only the usual quotas of earthquakes and tidal waves. Someone's hand is on the brakes of destruction!

"HE WALKS ON MOUNTAINS, NOT IN THE VALLEY"

In 1959 we had an interesting comment and observation on the spiritual background of the Yada di Shi'ite. This came unsolicited to BSRA from Peggy LeGrand, a "sensitive", channeling New Age information from her spiritual teachers, Astaron and Alsirian. In 1958, Bryant and Helen Reeve had played for Peggy a tape recording of one of the Mark Probert seances in San Diego, where the Yada had spoken. In September 1958 she asked her teachers about the Yada.

"We see our friends who are with you and the question in their minds concerning the entity they named to you (the Yada di Shi'ite). We are aware of this soul, this Intelligence. He is on a most impressive level of wisdom. He was an Easterner, or rather he lived in what is your Eastern world today, but it was far more civilized where he was than is that part of the Earth in this present age.

"He was a priest, a teacher, or whatever you choose to call it, an Initiate of the Mysteries and a wise and good man. He was not of our present world; so his ideas seem foreign to you; and his Teachers would be far beyond your comprehension. Some of them are Space men and some are in a strata of the Spirit world, beyond the reach of any living being. He was not on another star at the time he came to earth. He comes from another system and another form of world that I cannot now explain.

"Let us leave it at this: He is wise and his wisdom is, for the most part, beyond humanity's ability to grasp and for that reason he will never reach many, and those he reaches will be able to incorporate only a little of his teaching into their lives. Yet it will be of inestimable value and well worth hearing.

"He is not on a ray that understands Earth love, not even the higher type. His love is Cosmic and can aid only highly developed souls. He walks on mountains, not in the valley; yet his teachings may lift those in the valley to a higher place if they listen to and strive to understand them.

"He is a very powerful force in his world. He is hard to understand completely. Listen to his words when you can and do not be troubled if you cannot always follow them." Astaron.

Later, Alsirian made this observation: "You wish my word also on the Yada di Shi'ite? My word will only echo Astaron's. A great Mind, a great Soul, not of our evolution, not of our worlds. The Yada's teachings are most advanced and lofty, and even where not fully understood will yet awaken the thought of the listeners and lead them to new and helpful ideas and concepts. Not for any great audience, this one! The few who now and then hear his words profit by their stupendous wisdom."

The above is from our Round Robin Journal of Borderland Research for December 1959. The 1951 seance material on pps. 39-43 is from BSRA mimeo brochure #10-Q, of the Inner Circle communications.

OUR SUN TAKES A MATE!

Some of the most significant information about the Visitors from deep space, both within the Solar System and without, came in the early 1950s. A Brazilian named Dino Kraspedon was one of these fortunate or unfortunate earthlings. His material was published in 1957 under the title, "My Contact With Flying Saucers", by Gray Barker.

In November 1952 Kraspedon and a friend were driving in the Angatuba range of mountains near his home of Sao Paulo. They saw a formation of five Flying Saucers. The weather was bad and they couldn't stay in the area. Later, Dino and his friend returned and stayed three days and nights, hoping for a personal contact. The last night a Flying Saucer landed near their camp and they were invited aboard for a visit. Kraspedon says they stayed an hour and the captain of the space ship explained their equipment and the operations of the ship. He promised to visit Dino later at his home in Sao Paulo.

This occurred in about five months. Dino's wife suddenly announced to him one day that there was a minister at the door. He prided himself on being an atheist and very scientific; so it was a reluctant Brazilian who went to the door. The "missionary" there was dressed in the usual, conventional dark clothes; but in them was the captain of the Flying Saucer! Kraspedon's wife then left the house taking the children with her, and the two were free to discuss many of the problems of existence in this awesome universe.

To the doubtful Kraspedon the Saucer captain proved he was someone quite unusual by conversing easily in several earth tongues. His knowledge of our Bible and the Hebrew language -- and his unswerving belief in God -- eventually converted Kraspedon from an atheist to an ethical Deist. The captain said he and his craft came from Jupiter -- not from the parent body, of course, but from the largest moon of Jupiter, Ganymede. He sometimes lives on Io, also.

The Saucer captain was greatly concerned over the deplorable conditions of politics and social conditions in Brazil and elsewhere on the planet, and also the tragic backwardness of our science, which refuses to recognize and admit the errors in its basic theory!

One startling prophecy given at this time in 1953 by this UFO captain from Jupiter was this: Before the year 2000 our solar system will become a binary, with two suns!

"Another sun will soon enter our solar system," he told Dino. "It is a body of monstrous proportions which will shortly become visible in the direction of Cancer. It will not, however, emit any light, as the light of a sun only becomes intense when it enters into a secondary magnetic field such as our solar system. It begins to rotate on entering such a field. It deforms space around itself, and generates currents which rise to its brilliance.

"If it were luminous beforehand, its light would set up a force of repulsion, and it would be deflected from its path. With no luminosity it becomes subject to the pressure of our Sun, but its own momentum will ensure that it enters our system. It will first be seen as a reddish light, later turning to blue. After reaching the area of the large planetary bodies, it will encounter the repulsive force of the Sun; but in its rear it will then have the weight of the large bodies or planets (Saturn and Jupiter) also imparting a force of repulsion in the opposite direction. The force of repulsion of the planets behind it, the light it gives off and its great mass, will cause the present Sun to move farther away from the magnetic center of our system. Then the two Suns will settle down (in domestic felicity) in their new orbits, the one of greater mass and lesser light being nearer the center.

THERE'LL BE SOME CHANGES MADE?

"Two Suns in the solar system will create difficult problems," continued the Jupiter UFO captain. "The orbits of all the planets will be changed. Mercury will move into the area between the present orbits of Venus and the Earth. Venus will move out to a position between the present orbit of the Earth and Mars. The Earth will feel the effect before the new Sun settles down in its definitive orbit.

"As the luminosity of this body increases, the pressure of this light will cause the Moon to move out of its orbit and it will settle in a position that will turn it into a planet. With this displacement it will take part of the etheric mass of the Earth, which will impart to it a stabilized movement."

Hooray! Now we know how the laggard, Piscean-oriented souls are going to be removed from the earth and its Astral vicinity. The Moon will become a temporary solar system bus and take them with it. When it settles down in its own orbit as a planet, these blood-thirsty humans can reincarnate there and go on killing, lusting, hating and indulging their vices until they've had enough. How will these haters and bigots be removed from the flesh? And placed in that part of the Etheric-Astral which is going to be torn from the Earth? Read on.

"One of the satellites of Mars will be torn from its present orbit and thrown into space. As it is a relatively dense body it will be attracted towards the center of the system rather than repelled outwards. Its trajectory will be such that it will become a satellite of the Earth.

"Everything depends on its direction of travel when it contacts the Earth. If this happens to be against the direction of rotation of the Earth, then the shock produced by its contact with the etheric covering of the Earth will smash it to pieces. If it is with the rotation of the Earth, then the satellite will attach itself to this planet. The Earth, itself, will not be affected by this impact, as its etheric covering will protect it."

I suppose the way in which the Mars satellite, Phobos or Deimos, approaches us, against or with our rotation, will be decided by our behavior in the next 25 years.'

THE END OF SEGREGATION

"According to our calculations," the Jupiterian told Kraspedon, "a shower of rocks is all that will reach the surface of the planet, principally in the area of Europe and North Africa, Asia Minor, the north of South America and the south of North America. The impact will turn this now splendid Martian satellite into fragments weighing about 50 lbs. each, which will lay waste these areas. After that, everything will become normal again and we shall have a new sky in which to travel and you will have a new Earth."

If and when it comes, that shower of 50 pound rocks will certainly take care of the segregation problem in the southern states! And the poverty in northern Brazil. Kraspedon wondered how soon this calamity would happen.

THE SUN OF JUSTICE

"When will this take place? In the distant future?"

"It will be soon, toward the end of this century. The Earth will begin its millenium with a new source of light to illuminate it. Many people will vanish forever from the face of the earth but a small community, obedient to the Laws of God, will remain, and present suffering will cease.

"The Sun which is to come will be called the Sun of Justice. Its appearance in the heavens will be the warning signal of the coming of the One who will shine even more than the Sun itself!"

A MESSAGE FROM ASHTAR

Before concluding the transcript of this talk we must include part of a letter just received from long-time BSRAssociate Andy Hardie of Santa Barbara, California. Both of his married daughters came down from Oregon to help him celebrate his 80th birthday. Both are "sensitives". Both are students of metaphysics and believers in the Flying Saucer phenomenon. Andy was so impressed by the UFO story of Betty and Barney Hill in the October "Look" Magazines that he read it aloud to them. No sooner was he finished than one of the girls felt the presence of her "doorkeeper", and she wrote down this message:

"I am Ashtar. There are two active Command Members on the staff of Look Magazine, and this was the reason the coverage was made on the Hill's story. We have been pushing publication of that story for two years without success; for we knew it could bring millions into a new awareness of Space Contacts. This is just a taste of ESP and related subjects that will 'out -- far out' one another. This was not a space ship under my command, by the way, but rather an associate brotherhood which is not negative. But it does work with questionable ways of which I do not altogether approve. More could be said."

Yes, much could be said, pro and con, about the startling experience of Barney and Betty Hill related in the October "Look" magazines. Most people will want to reject the story because it portrays human beings as putty in the hands extra-terrestrials from who-knows-where. This is a painfully disagreeable blow to our pride. Meade Layne, our former director, and others, broached this aspect of the Flying Saucer phenomenon to members of the Inner Circle through Mark Probert. Meade was especially concerned about people and airplanes being kidnapped by UFOs, and whether or not the victims were well treated.

One one occasion the Yada di Shi'ite replied, "They are well treated generally, but who are you to object to the mistreatment of human beings?" At that time we were slaughtering orientals in Korea with great gusto, and the orientals were returning the compliment. And then there is the mistreatment of minority races here in the United States by the very best white people. What is going to happen to such cruel, bigoted, race-conscious people as we move into the Aquarian Age? They wont be around any more.

"There is no room for the Piscean Age people in the completed Aquarian concept; for change they do not like. Anything that uproots what they have standardized is an enemy! That is what the Spiritualist movement has become, a robot, supported by the dreams and hopes of the Piscean hangers-on. Ashtar."

CHANGE, IF YOU WOULD KNOW YOURSELF

Andy and his daughters had been discussing the use of psychedelic drugs, LSD, mescaline, etc., as a means of opening the psychic centers and got this observation from Ashtar last October:

"With the passing of time comes change, changes in how you think, feel and act. Those who cannot change first their thoughts cannot be expected to follow the new concepts being poured out, in action. I am repeating this again because man must first change before he can know himself.

"Those who seek to find in drugs a haven or a heaven are only deluding or forstalling the real experience. They who use an artificial means of opening the Chakras without spiritual understanding or guidance are toying with their own sanity. It takes Inner Balance to go forth each day into the light of each one's higher-self vibration. It takes no balance to swallow a drug and go on a self-propelled binge. This is like people who boast that liquor is good for you if you know how to use it. If one knew the spiritual chances one is taking one would never use it. Man does not know yet what the psychic side effects are to the use of these hallucinatory drugs. They are dealing with the effects to the lower-self only, not understanding the higher levels which are forced, undeveloped, into play.

"The spiritual way is one step at a time, quiet, and patient, no tricks, no experiments, no side-show pills. Spirit is not pushable, and those who try to develop at a speed not natural are only courting delay and disappointment. . . When one feels stress in any part of them selves they are trying too hard. . . "

BALANCE SPIRITUAL FORCES AND THE BODY FOLLOWS!

"Associate Ardella Wolf lent her pair of Eeman Screens to one of our Understanding members who had been thru untold torture with a hip ailment, bone deterioration, eventual surgery, and was given the maximum amount of pain killers. She pulled thru, but still in some pain. Anyway, after three days of using the Eeman Screens, her whole body broke out with red spots. We think it was the excessive sedatives being stirred up and out. There was no pain or itching. The spots lasted a couple of weeks then disappeared. Her son was so amazed he made up a pair of screens for her, and a set for himself."

Helen Anderson
Soquel, California

For years L.E. Eeman tried to get England's doctors and orthodox scientists to recognize the spiritual forces flowing along his screens and wires. They were so loaded down with Piscean limitations they absolutely refused to even look at the evidence. So these are spiritual healing devices operating in the area of religious concepts and beliefs. We believe that the Screens re-establish a balanced flow of the healing love of the Christ in the physical organism. For those Associates who haven't the time or the skill to make their own for a spiritual research program, we still make the Screens at $5 a pair, tax and post paid.

HIGH FREQUENCY ULTRA-VIOLET RAY LAMPS AVAILABLE

Earlier this year we spoke of research work being done by a few Associates, using the standard GE Argon bulb in connection with a high-frequency Tesla Coil. The Argon gas in the bulb emits a stream of ultra-violet rays and particles. These relieve infections around teeth and in other parts of the body. This is nothing new as ultra-violet ray lamp outfits were built and sold to doctors over fifty years ago! But Color-Ray healing is or will be Aquarian Age therapy; so the ultra-violet ray devices are way ahead of their time as far as orthodox medicine is concerned, centered as it is on the earth and earth forces in drugs. Color-Ray therapy uses Light! And Light is a function of space. We aren't fully in the Space Age yet!

Mrs. Wolf is a beautician and during a recent trip up the Pacific coast she showed us an ultra-violet ray device used as a skin and scalp stimulator in some beauty shops. This is the same identical argon bulb and coil offered to doctors as a therapeutic device fifty years ago! And refused by them as its use kills the sale of drugs. The outfit, complete and ready to go with instructions, in a case, can be bought from Master Appliances, Inc., 1600 Factory Ave., Marion, Indiana 46952 for $22.50. In writing to them, ask for their catalog of ultra-violet or highfrequency outfits.

HE HAS AN INFECTED TOOTH

"Enclosed find money order for the following items: $5.00 for membership renewal, $10 for a set of MWO antennas, and $1.25 for a copy of 'Spacecraft From Beyond The Sun'; also $2 for an Argon light bulb as you can get them without a lot of trouble. I would like to try the bulb for an infected tooth. Sure enjoy reading your wonderful magazine. Thanks."

C.F. Ford
Lexington, Virginia

Thanks so much for the renewal and for the order for BSRA material. The Spacecraft talk, the set of antennas and the bulb are on their way. For those of you who don't have an MWO Tesla Coil to drive an Argon bulb, the Master Highfrequency outfit described on the preceding page will do just as well.

For those of you who want to build your own MWO for research purposes, we can supply a pair of handmade antennas, aluminum foil on white fiberglass, for $10 a pair, post and tax paid. The same person here in Vista who makes these will also hand wind the Tesla Coil, on plastic forms, according to Bob Beck's original specifications, for $12.50 the set, post and tax paid.

ANOTHER COPY OF "RETURN OF THE DOVE" WANTED

"Would it be possible to get a copy of Margaret Storm's book, 'The Return of the Dove'? A friend of mine had a copy over here on loan to him from someone he knew; not being able to lend the book, I read through parts of it -- as much as I could -- until it was time for me to leave. . . Here's hoping you might be able to fill me in; maybe you even have this book for sale?"

Michael K. O'Callaghan
17 Albion St., So. Yarra, S.E. 1
Melbourne, Victoria, Australia

No, we have no copies of Margaret Storm's book for sale here but perhaps an Associate will be kind enough to offer one or let you know where one can be purchased.

1000 COPIES OF "THEY LIVE IN THE SKY" NOW AVAILABLE!

Gray Barker, Saucerian Books, PO Box 2228, Clarksburg, West Virginia, announces that he has discovered 1000 printed but unbound copies of Trevor James' masterpiece in his warehouse! Long out of print this revelation of Saucer contact material, with Ashtar as its chief source, has been much in demand among researchers. Gray will need cash in advance to finance the binding of the copies and is now offering them on a first-come, first-served basis at $4.95 a copy. He promises that if this limited offer is over-subscribed, he will return your money. In the book, Trevor offers photographic proof of the etheric nature of the aerofoms. Invaluable also is information on the good and evil aspects of the UFO phenomenon, and the danger of trying to contact the Shaver "Deros" in the Cavern world.

RUSSIANS ALREADY ON THE WAY TO MARS?

We continue to receive reports on ESP research from Associate Joe Ponciano and his Chicago group. They are using the Project Hermes device as an electronic stimulator of the telepathic centers in the head. (Schematic diagram and explanation of Project Hermes are in BSRA No. 12-A, 22 pages, $1.00) During the session of Tuesday night, Oct. 18, 1966, one female member of the group received and wrote down the following:

"The Russians are on their way to the Moon and Mars. We are watching them as they approach Mars. There is a wall of impassable atmosphere that will prevent them from landing. It has been erected for this purpose. They will return to earth safely after we have given them the same instructions and information we have given all those contacted in the past."

If this is true, it is quite likely our American Astronauts have been contacted at times during their orbital flights, but have been wise enough to keep their mouths shut about it for the time being.

"There will be a news leak about this but it will not give the whole story, as certain interests on earth are determined to keep everything on the basis that leads to self-destruction for earth. You will hear much more about spaceships in 1967. By the end of that year it will only be a rarity for an earth person not to have seen us.

UFO SIGHTINGS WILL NO LONGER BE DENIED

"Contact will be much more forceful, widespread. Our presence and our warnings will no longer be hushed or denied. We will do this only to discharge an obligation we feel towards our brothers on earth; so they may yet save themselves from the coming holocaust. The forces of good and evil, negative and positive, will come to battle in the next two years. Whatsoever is the outcome of this, so then is the die cast. Destruction for purification first -- before the Golden Age of brotherhood.

"If only all the world see the Light or a majority at least, then the Golden Age will come to you sooner by 75 years. But in the earth where all is illusion, one can only doubt that you will ever do things the easy way. The lessons must, as in all earth's history, be difficult to master. Lift up your hearts and continue to pray for peace and understanding.

"All these in this room need not have these lessons, because you have all learned these simple facts of universal law and life. You are going to see clearly and help others to understand. There is nothing for any of you to fear; things will happen to you in which you will feel a protection, an intervention of natural laws that surround you."

Transmission on this was stopped at this time, as it was the end of the 20-minute session and the Project Hermes device was shut off. Only two members are actually in the weak field of Hermes. The rest tune in by relaxing and turning inward, becoming "cholinergic".

"WORLD WIDE DIVINE LOVE RADIATION SERVICE"

How does one earn the right to the protection mentioned on the preceding page? By giving it! In the form of Love, poured out not only at this Christmastime 1966 but daily throughout the year. This is not the personal love exemplified by Venus, but as we mentioned earlier on page 1, the impersonal love of Uranus on a higher octave. This outpouring from your heart is a welcome contribution any time to that mighty reservoir of Light from which the Christ draws to carry on His work of salvation. But you may want to augment your own efforts by joining in a world-wide prayer service initiated by Dr. C.H. Yeang from Malaysia in 1960. Since then his little pink sheets, 360,000 of them have gone all over the world. Here, surely, is one very real Aquarian effort that has softened the hearts of the leaders. Dr. Yeang writes:

"Millions all over the world are daily praying for peace and good will, in churches, templs, monasteries and mosques. This is the most effective means the common man has of fighting fear, hatred and all negative emotions and conditions.

"Why not join hands with this peaceful army striving for peace? Dont just sit down and wait for things to happen. Your precious help is sought. No money is needed, no undue strain on your daily work -- only five minutes a day of mental concentration -- and you will be rewarded beyond measure. At the same time you will have contributed a tremendous amount towards achieving peace in the world. You are important.

"Sit down comfortably wherever you happen to be, concentrate on your heart and imagine or visualize a pink beam of light of Divine Love projecting outwards from you to the countries of the world (and their leaders, we might add) starting from the left of the imaginary world map of Canada, U.S.A, Mexico, Cuba and South America -- then, move slightly in your mind to the right to the British Isles, Europe, Africa; then Russia, Caucasus, Middle East, Israel, Egypt, Siberia, Central Asia, Tibet, Kashmir, Pakistan, India, Ceylon; then China, Korea, Japan, Taiwan, Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, Burma, Thailand, Maylasia, Singapore, Philippines, Indonesia, and finally, Australia and New Zealand.

"The combined energy and consciousness of thousands concentrating on Divine Love at the same time all over the world will have untold effect in harmonizing the feelings and emotinns of people, without exception, everywhere. Visualize each country and its people flooded with Divine Love. The accompanying timetable, if followed, will synchronize the concentration period.

THE ONE, UNIVERSAL, HARMONIZING FORCE

"On the Sphinx," writes Dr. Yeang, "was engraved the ancient teaching: 'Love is the secret of Life'; in the caves of the Anchorites near Mt. Sinai was repeated: 'Love, with Wisdom, is the Secret of life'; and again, at the doorway of the great rock near Dier, Petra are the words: 'The Torch of Life is fed by the Oil of Love'." What you project will return along the same route and bring love, harmony and peace into your heart, your family and business world. Put this to the test. Practise for one month. It will become a habit and you will always enjoy such wonderful service, . . .

"When sending Light to any area or decree, does that create a vortex to the parties involved?" asks a student.

"Decrees of Love and Light while beamed to any area or individual do not go directly to the individual in all its power," replied the Master. "Most of it goes as a wave to the Heavenly Hosts who are listening and receiving, and there it is amplified and returned to the place where it is decreed to. This is a triangle, so to speak, a 3-way wave which is sent in harmony and amplified. If this were not the case, your decrees would be of little effect. Your powers are unlimited when you are in harmony and resonance with the Universe. Like electronics at work, it must be in resonance. It is so powerful it can break the hardest steel."

THE SIMPLE MUSIC TRANSDUCER

"I'm very interested in the Transducer which converts sound waves into sensation. I feel that a careful selection of music could produce relaxation, physical healing -- and would be of great benefit to mental patients. I hope you have some of these instruments available. I'd like to buy one right away. You mentioned the possibility of making a regular and a deluxemodel yourself. Do you have them for sale?"

Jerry Moss
El Paso, Texas

Yes, we are making these simple music transducers now, when we can, using a regular, 6-volt filament transformer packaged in a neat, metal box. The deluxe model with Voltmeter and separate volume control costs $12.75, post and tax paid. The regular model is $6.50. This New Age borderland research gadget converts the musical output from radio, tape, record-player or hi-fi into higher-frequency, weak electrical pulses of variable power and rhythm, depending on the highs and lows in the music itself. The Transducer has a standard, 1/4 in. phono plug which plugs in to or attaches to the Extension Speaker outlet of your music system. This goes into the green leads of the transformer. The black leads on the other side of the transformer go to brass handles or electrodes for contact.

We believe this is random, electrical press-and-release "massage" of the body for the whole system responds to it. I find it stimulating when I am tired. I've also used it to relax musclespasm along my spine. To do this I wrap the brass handles in damp wash cloths and place these on the couch, so when I lie down, one is against the bare skin of my lower spine and the other under my neck. Other parts of the body can be experimented with in this way, with one electrode or handle against the affected spot, the other held in the hand. We'll be interested in hearing the results, favorable or otherwise, if you make and experiment with a Transducer.

AN ESP STIMULATOR?

Preliminary reports from a Socorro, New Mexico group indicate that the Transducer may also have some effect as an ESP stimulator! They sit in a row holding hands. One lead from the Transducer goes to the free hand of the person at each end of the row, thus completing the circuit. The highest frequencies are emphasized by turning down the bass or low notes and turning up the "tweeter". Another interesting possibility for experimentation is to power your Eeman Screen circuit with the Transducer. Simply hold the Transducer handles in your hands, along with the Screen handles, while lying on the Screens!

BSRA NO. 10-Q -- OF THE INNER CIRCLE TRANSCRIPTS OF 1951

Hot off the press, the latest in the hitherto unpublished communications through Mark Probert, from Lo Sun Yat, the Yada di Shi'ite, Ramon Natalli, Professor Luntz and the Maharaja Natcha. Their metaphysical and philosophical observations on war at the height of the Korean crisis are equally applicable today; for the same forces of the Extreme Left and the Extreme Right are again locked in combat in the Orient. These Seances date from July 3, through Sept. 27, 1951. One outstanding feature is a long discourse from the Hindu Adept, Natcha, on such diverse subjects as Astral Shells, Magnetic Vortexes, Reincarnation, the secrets of Egyptian Initiation on the Cross, Soul Seed. Professor Luntz gives an explanation of the psychic operation of the "water compass" or dowsing rod. 32 pages, indexed, mimeo. . . $1.25

FRANCIS BACON, 1597

Fiction based on fact. A romantic look at three harried days in the life of the graat Chancellor-to-be, July 26, 27, 28, 1597. London Playhouses were closed down by the Queen. A warrant was issued for the apprehension and arrest of the writer of the Plays attributed by Actor Will Shakespeare. He was home sick in Stratford and later fled England. Bacon, the actual writer of the politically explosive drama, "Richard II", tried to commit suicide at Gorbamby, but Lady Hatton helps to save him for a later day. Mimeo book, 125 pages, illustrated. . . . . $2.50

SPACECRAFT FROM BEYOND THE SUN

Even as the Flying Saucers are here to make an examination for the record of the last days of this Piscean civilization; so are the Visitors here to oversee the birth of a new Aquarian Age civilization! This latest talk by the Director of BSRA is an examination of significant prophetic material about this critical period, 1966 through 2000 A.D. This includes a review of the Coming of the Masters, from Alice Bailey's "A Treatise on Cosmic Fire", and the coming of a new Sun into our Solar System as described to Rino Kraspedon in 1952. 48 pages, 8 1/2 x 11 mimeo, illustrated, $1.25 post and tax paid.

Those Associates who have received renewal notices, please try to respond with a renewal before the end of the year.
