THE JOURNAL OF BORDERLAND RESEARCH

BSRF No. 1 Published by Borderland Sciences Research Foundation, Inc., PO Box 548, Vista, California 92083 USA. Edited by the Director, Riley Hansard Crabb, Doctor of Metaphysics in the Society of St. Luke the Physician.

The Journal is published six issues a year with the assistance of the Associates, at the Director's home, 1103 Bobolink Drive, Vista. It is printed, 36 pages an issue. The Foundation was incorporated under California law, May 21, 1951, #254263, and has been in continuous existence since then. Address all correspondence to the PO Box. The Journal is included in the Foundation membership of $7.50 a year. Single copies and back issues of the Journal are now $1.50 each. If you dont care to join you may receive the Journal by donating $7.50 a year or more to the Foundation. The Director's wife, Ms. Judith Crabb, is office manager and Secretary-Treasurer.

PURPOSES OF BSRF: This is non-profit organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRA from 1946 to 1959: "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: The Fortean falls of objects from the sky. Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, Nature of the Ethers and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In the year 1946 BSRA obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which since has come to be known as the Ethereal or 4-D interpretation, and which has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Foundation is to make this kind of unusual information available as a public service at reasonable cost. Headquarters acts as a receiving, coordinating and distributing center. An important part of the Director's work is to give recognition, understanding and encouragement to people who are having unusual experiences of the borderland type and/or are conducting research in any of the above fields. For consultation on borderland problems or for Spiritual healing through prayer, write or phone 714-724-2043 for help or for an appointment. Donations and bequests toward Foundation research programs and expenses are welcome.

The 28-page list of BSRF publications is available from Headquarters for 50¢ in check, coins or stamps. This includes brochures on borderland subjects, tape recordings of Mr. Crabb’s lectures and of members of the Inner Circle, talking through trance-medium Mark Probert. URI GELLER, CHALLENGE TO SCIENCE AND TO METAPHYSICS

Lecture Review Of Dr. Andrija Puharich's book "Uri" by Riley Hansard Crabb, Director, BSRF, Published by Doubleday, New York, 1974, $7.95

There is nothing really new in Dr. Puharich's fascinating autobiography of his attempts to validate the psychokinetic and telepathic powers of this handsome young Jew, Uri -- not to the experienced Flying Saucer researcher, at least. But the book is a significant contribution to Saucer literature, probably the best since Capt. Bruce Cathie's "Harmonic 33", published in 1968. The main reason is that here we have a scientist of international stature becoming a Flying Saucer contactee, and he puts it all in print for the world to read. Beyond that, for the first time, we have an indication here of one of the major religious principalities of the world as one of the sources of UFO phenomena.

That power is one of the oldest and most enduring in the world, the Hindu religion. Puharich apparently had his first contact with it, in this life, Feb. 16, 1952; and that was a year of really great Flying Saucer activity, as our records show. He had a serious meeting in New York City with "Dr. D.G.Vinod, a Hindu scholar and sage from Poona, India. . . At that time he surprised me by asking permission to hold my right ring finger at the middle joint with his right thumb and index finger. . . He did this for about a minute, whistling between his teeth as though he were trying to find a pitch. Then he leaned back in his chair, and for an hour told me my life story with utter precision, as though he were reading out of a book. His accuracy about the past was extraordinary. He then predicted such a rosy future for me as an Arjuna figure that I was embarrassed. Nevertheless, I realized that here was an intelligence on a scale I had not imagined to exist. I promised Dr. Vinod that I would call him to the laboratory in Maine as soon as my next experiment was ready."

Arjuna, remember, is one of the great epic figures of Hindu scripture, the Mahabarata, especially that part called the Bhagavad Gita, the Book of Devotion. As we point out in one of our earliest lectures on UFOs, "Communication With Flying Saucers", this is the usual line in hooking a contactee, "You are the chosen one to carry our message to mankind." The appeal to ego.

URI GELLER - Scientists confirm his long-distance results.

Maine is the site of borderland research for two others figures in parapsychology. A hundred years earlier, Phineas Parkhurst Quimby was developing his Science of Mind at Portland. Mary Baker Eddy was the most famous of his patients and students. She appropriated his work and made the modern religion out of it we know as Christian Science.

Contemporary with Puharich was Dr. Wilhelm Reich, whose laboratories were at Rangeley, Maine in the early 1950s. Already, Dr. Reich was proving the reality of Flying Saucers with his own test equipment. But young Dr. Puharich, still to be drafted as a medic in the Korean War, was researching telepathy in his lab at Glen Cove on Penobscot Bay, with such subjects as Peter Hurkos, Harry Stone and Eileen Garrett. The results of that research are written up in his books, "The Sacred Mushroom" and "Beyond Telepathy" (Doubleday), and Peter Hurkos gives a description of the lab and its work in his book, "Psychic, the Story of Peter Hurkos", (Bobbs-Merrill).

The Brahmin sage, Dr. Vinod, arrived at the Maine laboratory Dec. 31, 1952, in Puharich's company, and immediately went into trance. His high-pitched voice gave way to a sonorous baritone and Puharich and his lab administrator, Hank Jackson, were subjected to a ninety-minute discourse which implied a lot but said little of substance, judging from the portion which Puharich reproduces in "Uri".

Here's a typical phrase: "We propose to work with in some essential respects with the relation of contradiction and contrariety. We shall negate and revise part of your work..." And another: "I deeply appreciate your dedicatedness (sic) to the great cause of peace which is a fulfillment of finitesimal existences... But today, at the moment of our advent, the most eventful and spectacular phase of your work begins."

To which Puharich replied: "It is helpful to have your guidance."

"We dont guide, nor do we seek guidance, although we appreciate the sense in which you mean it. All of us, including yourselves, can claim no better than being the expressive instruments and avenues of this purpose..." But it never becomes quite clear what "this purpose" is, even at the end of the book!

Nevertheless, Puharich was impressed. They even gave him an Einstein-type equation which "they" claimed expressed the "infini-tization of any mass", but there's no indication in the book that this was useful in the planning of the construction of a working model of a Flying Saucer. For a month, through the mediumship of this Hindu, Puharich and Jackson had "the deeply moving experience" of "listening to the profound wisdom of the Nine".

INITIATION

Then Puharich was drafted into the Army as a captain in the Medical Corps. He didn't go overseas but was assigned to a big Eastern base; perhaps the Nine were already showing their power to manipulate matter for their own purposes; for this made it easy for Puharich to return to his Round Table Foundation laboratory in Maine, June 27, 1953, on leave for another seance with Dr. Vinod and eight of Puharich's friends and assistants.

Vinod was seated on the floor in one of the Hindu asanas, with magical implements around him. One of the Nine spoke to the circle of sitters: "Tonight we want to create Brahmins in this world. Brahmin means a person dedicated to Brahman." Yes, they were to be "threaded" as priests in one of the oldest religious systems or principalities in the world.

A ball of strings or threads materialized on the floor in front of the entranced Vinod, the control leaned the body forward, untangled the strings and handed a loop to each of the nine seated in the circle, to be placed over the right shoulder and under the left arm. The voice of the control said: "Each one of you becomes a Brahmin on this full moon day." He suggested that there should be three threads in each string, representing the Alchemical problem which faces each human being, overcoming deterioration, disease and death. But there is another traditional meaning of the thrice-knotted cord of the Brahmins: Poverty, Chastity and Obedience! The control didn't mention that.

"We took every precaution against fraud," writes Puharich, "and the staff and I became thoroughly convinced that we were dealing with some kind of an extraordinary extraterrestrial intelligence. But for this belief we had no solid proof in 1953."

It seems obvious to this reviewer that Puharich and his staff were not dealing with Visitors from Outer Space, but rather with initiate Brahmin priests from the Astral plane of planet earth! And here we can see these ghostly figures laying the groundwork for eventual control of the Flying Saucer phenomenon for their own benefit. That "benefit" of course is to keep millions of Hindus and other unsuspecting people under their control. Let us follow the suggestion of another Flying Saucer contactee, John Keel, and call these entities Ultra-terrestrials. Metaphysical kindergartners cannot be expected to know the difference until learning has moved them on up a grade or two.
"URI" MEANS LIGHT

At this time in 1953 the Nine were revealing his psychokinetic powers to a bored schoolboy in Tel Aviv. Uri Geller was being prepared for his role in later years. He found that his strong desire to have the hands of his wristwatch show lunch time, 12 noon, actually moved the hands to that position! Of course the hands of the classroom clock were still at 10; so he had to sweat out the rest of the morning session.

But four years earlier Uri had conscious contact with the Flying Saucers of the Brahmins. A three-year-old accidentally found his way into the enclosed garden of a wealthy Arab on a warm December afternoon in 1949. It was deserted. After a nap by the pool he awakened to see a bowl-shaped space ship settling down from the sky. It made no noise like airplanes, giving little Uri "a feeling of peace and beauty and of strength like when he was with his father.

"Suddenly between himself and the bowl in the sky there was the shadow of a huge figure like the shadow of a man with a long cape, because there were no arms or legs to be seen. As he stared at this figure, a blinding ray of light came from its head and struck Uri so forcibly he fell over backward and into a deep sleep."

The young Jew, born Dec. 20, 1946, never forgot this powerful experience but its significance was lost on him until it was discussed with Dr. Puharich in Israel in 1972. We wonder, too, about the appearance of the shapeless black figure. Was it an elemental Nature god, so hideous it cant reveal itself in its natural form to humans? Without driving them out of their minds?

We look up Uri's birth date in Sepharial's "Degrees of the Zodiac Symbolized" (Fowler, London, 1898) and find Charubel's symbol for 30° of Sagittarius most appropriate: "A man standing alone in a dark and gloomy valley, and a ray of brilliant light coming direct from the heavens on the crown of his head." And Sepharial observes that this "denotes one who will have a mission to execute; a cyclic man, not a time man; one who lives a life beyond his day; not always understood, he suffers accordingly". Born in the Third Decanate of Sagittarius, Uri has the Sun as his personal ruler, "standing for dignity, honor, loyalty and ambition". Zolar reminds us that "the Sun in this aspect creates a great love for change and a desire for reform. .. These natives are full of enterprise and novel ideas." Which certainly characterizes Uri's drive, to demonstrate his magical powers to a sceptical world. And an even more novel twist has been added, Uri and his mentor, Dr. Puharich admit that the young man's powers are not really his but come from the pilots of Flying Saucers. That's a novel idea all right! And one that makes validation of those powers even more difficult to sceptical, orthodox science. But the situation is desperate and the religious principalities of the world must take drastic measures to maintain control of their domains, astral and physical.

"DOOMSDAY DOC"

Another significant contact for Dr. Puharich as an "Arjuna figure" in the Flying Saucer field was his meeting with Dr. Charles Laughead and his wife Lillian. This was in July 1956 at Acambaro, Mexico. Puharich was there with Peter Hurkos on an archaeological trip, the Laugheads to look for Flying Saucer contacts among the Indians. Through a mixup of hotel rooms the Nine saw to it that the four were brought together. Laughead's reaction was that the two were Visitors from Outer Space and none of Puharich's laughing protests could convince him otherwise!

"Because of the unusual nature of this meeting with you gentlemen and the work under investigation," said Laughead, "we feel you must be related in some way to the unfolding story of the ancient mystery of man in space, even though at the present time you may not have recall of previous life cycles on this and other planets.

"The voices of our mentors speaking through our young channel sounded so authoritative that we felt impelled to follow through with their suggestions and come to Mexico. And here we are, having arrived only an hour before you. Are you not brothers from space?"

No, Puharich and Hurkos were sure they were not and deliberately avoided this "naive couple" for the rest of their stay. "This space brothers talk was just too wild for our tastes."

If the name Charles Laughead rings a bell in your memory, it should. Early in the 1950s as a rather prominent doctor in the Chicago area, the Laugheads became involved with a Flying Saucer cult leader and her group. To hold the attention of her followers, continually demanding more spectacular information, she followed the usual pattern of such leaders and began prophesying cataclysm and disaster for the world, with specific dates. Laughead took these prophecies seriously, passed them on in conversation to his friends. The press picked them up -- news was kind of dull at the time; the wire services got into the act with an appropriate title for him; and "Doomsday Doc" Laughead and his prophecies became national news for a couple of days, much to his consternation.

In the light of the information contained in "Uri" it looks as though Laughead's experience was another example of the power of the Nine, the Brahmins who initiated Puharich in the Maine laboratory. The Flying Saucer phenomenon was getting out of hand. Laughead and the doomsday prophecies -- which didn't come true -- were used to discredit it and to make UFO contactees look ridiculous in the eyes of the public.

Laughead was sacrificed to the Gods. There was nothing for him to do but to resign from his position and take a much less prominent one on the medical staff of the state sanitarium for tubercular patients at Whipple, Arizona. That is where Mrs. Crabb and I met them in October 1959. We were lecturing on Flying Saucers in nearby Prescott and spent the night as guests in their home on the sanitarium grounds. Doctor Laughead told us the whole story.

GEORGE HUNT WILLIAMSON

They also told us that there had been hundreds of seance sessions in their living room, with Ric Williamson as the trance medium. He was the channel for the material put out under his name in "Secret Places of the Lion", with no credit to the Laugheads, who acted as physical plane "gatekeepers" and operated the tape-recorder for transcribing the messages. It seems likely that the "young medium" referred to by Laughead in Mexico and in a follow-up letter to Puharich, was Williamson.

Laughead's Chicago experience did not lessen his belief in the reality of Flying Saucers and space contacts, rather it strengthened it, in this special area of parapsychological research. He referred to it in his Aug. 12, 1956 letter to Puharich in Maine:

"As you well know, a professional man that dares to venture into this area is certain to have a lot of 'pot shots' taken at him, and I admire your courage in devoting your full time to this study. . . our journey eventually took us as far as Mesa Verde in Colorado, visiting Indian tribes along the way. At Mesa Verde a great spacecraft landed and contact was made at that time with the brothers of space."

The parapsychologist had two tested mediums at the Maine laboratory. He put Laughead's letter in a plain brown envelope and handed it to Peter Hurkos for a little psychometry. To his surprise Peter said: "I must tell you, Andrija, this is not a fake. No, it is not a fantasy. These people have found out something. . ."

Harry Stone wanted into the act. Holding the envelope brought to his mind's eyes a blowtorch type image, which even began to sear him with its flame. Puharich asked him "to look into that fire".

"Now I see the eye of a hurricane turning around. I see two men -- I think they are two men, but they don't want to show their faces to anyone. They were covering themselves somehow."

Later, he thought the covering was because of the heat of the flame. Hurkos' drawing of the figure he saw "showed a figure in black with a pointed cap, but no arms or legs".

Thus was Dr. Andrija Puharich's mind conditioned or programmed for more specific research in the Flying Saucer field in the 1970s, a decade of tremendous importance in the Armageddon for control of men's minds here on the planet earth. Who is going to win that war, the powers and principalities of earth? Or Visitors from Space?
HIS OWN SIGHTING

This didn't occur for Dr. Puharich until 1963. At that time he was researching advanced type hearing-aid equipment for the Intelelectron Corporation in New York City and living at Ossining, New York. He still hoped that his contacts with the Nine through Dr. Vinod were true; but he had no objective proof -- the kind which satisfies a scientist who demands physical evidence acceptable to one or more of his five senses. Apparently the materialized string by which he had been "threaded" as a Brahmin priest wasn't enough.

If, as a result of that initiation in 1953, the good doctor had set up a typical Yoga regimen -- of purification, rhythmic breathing, concentration and contemplation -- the interior faith and certainty would have been forthcoming. As it was, the Nine had to tune him up for a UFO sighting with an exhausting day at the office and a fast, to lessen the body's hold on the consciousness. At home in Ossining he threw himself on his bed for a nap without eating supper. When he awoke refreshed he lay there looking out at the night sky with its twinkling stars. Suddenly a bright light appeared among them, the size of the full moon!

Startled, he arose and went to the window for a closer look. Hypnotized by the light of the Flying Saucer he gazed at it unblinking for a full 20 minutes by the clock. Then it went out as suddenly as it had appeared.

"I began to have a profound feeling of the gravity of this moment. I knew that the light was very, very real, and it gave me the feeling of a living thing. . ."

But he felt no urge to validate the experience by trying to get a motion picture of the UFO. This was a "pure experience" for his own private treasuring. The dedicated scientist and researcher, after the light went out he stood there unmoving, staring, for another hour, but there was no repetition of the phenomenon. That Puharich suspected it was a psychic experience is indicated in this observation: "It was too private to reveal and, besides, it had no objective corroboration. . . What I had seen had to stand by itself. None of the descriptions (of other UFO sightings by other people) fit my experience. . ."

CORROBORATION IN BRAZIL

It wasn't solid, photographable Flying Saucers that gave Dr. Puharich the evidence for the reality of psychic phenomena he was seeking; it was the astounding psychic surgery of Dr. Fritz through the Brazilian civil service worker, Arigo. Hearing of it from a Brazilian doctor whose opinion he respected, he took leave from Intelelectron in August, 1963, packed up his cameras and tape recorders, and headed south. He wasn't impressed by Arigo's blunt statement that the power was not his but that of the German doctor, killed in World War I, in 1918. That could be a hallucination. He was impressed by the fact that Arigo handled over 200 patients in four hours!! He operated on some with lightning speed, using an unsterilized paring knife -- with no patient preparation, diagnosis or anesthesia. Others were given a prescription. Still others were sent away with the curt admonition that ordinary physical plane doctors could handle their complaints. No money was asked or offered for the work.

STUNNING SPIRIT POWER

It was the psychic surgery that staggered Dr. Puharich. To see a rusty knife or pair of nail scissors plunged into a conscious patient's eye and gouged around while the patient sits there unperturbed and unflinching -- as in the picture at left (from the London "Psychic News") -- is a shock to anyone, especially an MD trained in orthodox procedures.

"I was in a state of shock as I witnessed his apparently successful handling of these patients while violating every rule of medicine and surgery in which I had been indoctrinated. I simply could not believe what I was seeing and experiencing."

It is obvious from Puharich's above statement that the Brahmin initiation he had received ten years earlier in Maine did not "take". He did not believe in magick. In spite of all his years of research work with Eileen Garrett, Peter Hurkos, Harry Stone, he still could not accept the reality of the Spirit world nor of its forces. The Yogins have a statement that covers it: "The mind is the slayer of the real." Or as a Cabalist would say, Puharich's scientific scepticism destroyed the mental images forming in Hod, the eighth Sephirah, as soon as they started forming.

Dr. Adolfo Fritz, working through the entranced Arigo, convinced Dr. Puharich of his work by removing a cyst from the researcher's arm with his usual technique, no anesthesia, no sterilization of the "Swiss army knife" borrowed from another patient awaiting his turn.

Puharich had the operation filmed by an assistant. It took five seconds. The tumor popped out of Puharich's right forearm. Fritz didn't cut it out, though the incision was made with the knife. There was no pain, and just a think trickle of blood a half inch long to convince him that his body had indeed been opened.

Puharich, always wary of hallucination and mass hypnosis, felt he had no scientific evidence or data to back up his experience -- it all happened too fast -- until he had his film developed. Cameras are not known to be suggestible.

The wound healed in four days. There was no infection. "With this evidence I was now convinced that Arigo had extraordinary powers in surgery, bacterial control and anesthesia... It is now ten years since the operation. The surgical scar remains; the tumor is still in a bottle of alcohol; there have been no complications." But he was not convinced the work was done by a spirit doctor.

FLYING SAUCER PICTURES

Puharich made more trips to Brazil to study and record the Fritz-Arigo medical mission, in 1967 and 1968. The ranch he rented as quarters for his research team was two miles out of the village of Congonhas do Campo, where Arigo lived and worked. It must have been close under one of the UFO grid lines spanning Brazil; for they saw many bright, star-like lights travelling in horizontal flight through the sky. Puharich even got some streak photos of some of them, using super-fast Polaroid film.

The owner of the ranch told the research team that he had actually witnessed a UFO landing on his property two years earlier, just after sunset. He walked toward the lens-shaped craft and saw figures digging in the earth. At his close approach, 30 metres, they disappeared aboard the UFO and it took off straight up, emitting fire and smoke.

THE "WE ARE PROPERTY" THEORY

"During the next few days," writes Puharich, "we discussed for the first time the theory that Arigo's powers may not be due to a Dr. Fritz, but to some intelligent beings associated with spacecraft of extraterrestrial origin. This seemed to be a perfectly logical hypothesis but, of course, there was no way to test it. We spoke to Arigo about this possibility and he just laughed away the question."

There is an important distinction here which Puharich failed to mention, or didn't think worthy of note because he didn't really believe in Dr. Fritz anyway, was the UFO question asked of Arigo while in control of his own body? Or was it asked of Dr. Fritz while Arigo was in trance?

Because of the pressure of his New York business obligations Puharich had to return without making the "concentrated study" of the Fritz-Arigo medical mission it deserved. He intended to go back to finish the research project and kept making plans, but three years went by. He wasn't in close touch enough to hear of Arigo's blunt statement in 1970 that he expected to be dead within a year; nor was he informed of Dr. Fritz's prophecy, in November 1970, that his medium would be gone in a month or less. An automobile accident was the cause. Arigo was in his mid-forties.

The news came in a direct phone call to Dr. Puharich at his New York office, Jan. 11, 1971. It was such a shock to him that he could formulate no statement for the press. The caller was a woman, a stranger, he noted her name and phone number on his desk pad. He just could not believe that the "greatest healer in the world" was gone. He checked with the Brazilian embassy, the wire services. Arigo wasn't important enough that his passing was news. Finally, Puharich got confirmation from friends in Brazil. Then, when he was ready to return the woman informant's call, the desk pad was blank, clean.

His secretary had no recollection or record of any phone call coming in at that time that morning. Here was an early warning that the Nine could exercise more control over his life than he was aware of. The "woman's" call came at 11:00. Arigo died at 11:15 a.m.

DEATH AND REBIRTH, "CHRISTMAS"

"I was personally despondent over the loss of Arigo. Humanity had lost its great luminary," writes Puharich. "It was as though the sun had gone out. The shock was so deep to me that I decided to go on a fourteen-day fast and re-examine all of my life and weigh the meaning of Arigo, both in life and in death."

Against the advice of relatives and friends, Dr. Puharich gave up all his "duties and jobs from foundations, companies and laboratories. . . I could not really make any more creative contributions in this area. Others could carry on what I had started. . . I wanted to get into the full-time study of the mysterious powers of the human mind. . . I had two goals: one was to develop a theoretical base for all of my mind researches, and the other was to find human beings with great psychic talents who would cooperate as such research subjects." He gave himself two years.

Here is a strong indication of the Brahmin influence on Dr. Puharich. It is not unusual for a Hindu businessman to voluntarily go through such a figurative death and re-birth. He has fulfilled his obligations to the world as a Householder. His children are grown and gone. Making money for its own sake has lost its charm. The worldly load is dumped, one way or another, and the happy pilgrim sets out for some great, distant religious shrine -- or perhaps for the Himalayas -- in search of the Master. He may even become a monk or recluse.

"BEYOND TELEPATHY"

Ten years earlier, in the Foreword to his book, "Beyond Telepathy" (Doubleday, 1962, $4.50), Puharich had written: "This work provides a journey that every man can follow. It is an exploration of the personal world of your own mind. If you believe this is not very interesting because your life has not been exciting, I want to show you that this is just not so. The nature of the individual mind is such that potentially every nook and cranny of the world can be reflected in it, and there are ways and means to experience this."

This was written at his new laboratory at Carmel Valley, California in 1960. What he had yet to learn was that the borderland between the physical world and the Astral world is heavily patrolled. Unless the prober of the borderland has the correct password, he or she may not cross. There are organizations of men and women on this planet, both physical and Astral, who have developed their telepathic powers to an enormous degree. They dont want the nooks and crannies of their daily operations investigated, by anyone who is not of their group; and they have the power to prevent such investigations.

Or, if a dedicated researcher does succeed in piercing the veil -- by the use of natural mediums such as Hurkos, Stone and Garrett -- his investigations can be directed, or mis-directed, without his even realizing it. Thus the results of the research can be used for other purposes -- the purposes of the Nine from the Astral plane, for instance -- than those intended by the researcher. This conflict of intentions was made amply clear to Dr. Puharich after he found his new research subject, Uri Geller, in Israel. The date of their historic meeting was Nov. 20, 1971.

Out of this research project has come a very important contribution to Flying Saucer literature. It leaves the major questions still unanswered, but the Fourth Dimensional aspects of it have been made more clear and we'll get into those in the next Journal.
ABRAHAM, THE DORSETSHIRE GIANT

By the Hon. S. Shuttleworth

Travellers on the SouthWest coast railway in England have been able up to lately to see the gigantic male figure laid out in chalk on the hillside of Cerne Abbas in Dorsetshire, but few know whom it commemorates. A late friend, Mr. Devereux Gordon, was not only a careful Bible student and a wide reader, but a seer of mythology; for he named many of the constellations of the Zodiac by collating them with the ancient Biblical Patriarchs; thus the stars become far more interesting.

Indeed, I became convinced that those who had picked out this huge figure in wide chalk lines on that hillside in Dorsetshire had copied from the stars above their heads a figure waving a mace. Today we label this star group as ORION.

Arthur Mee, the writer, calculated that the height of the hillside giant would take thirty tall men standing one above another. The mace or club alone is forty yards long. To visualize an upright figure, Orion, waving a rod alongside the group of stars we call Taurus today requires an aeronaut. What remains visible of the Taurus figure today, thousands of years after it was drawn or scraped out of the earth, is so distorted that to grasp its immensity one needs to view it from the sky. Perhaps that is why it was drawn originally, for Sky Visitors. I have placed the upright Taurean figure alongside and threatening the Dorset giant.

Chambers Encyclopedia describes GOMER and MAGOG as the grandsons of JAPHET, Genesis 10:2. They appear to have been giants whose identities have been forgotten, although images of them in the Guildhall, London, can be remembered. JAPHETIC descendants must certainly have been formidable as the KEBRA NEGAST tells us that babies born of mothers cohabiting with evil giants or beasts were so enormous that they had to be born and brought out where the umbilical cord enters the navel. As Revelations 12:9 reads "when Satan was cast down to earth his angels were cast out with him". Evidently beastial sexuality was not neglected.

Histories of the giants are certainly confused. Enemies of JAVH they were and may yet be. (The Qliphoth of the Cabalist). The "Book of the Cave of Treasures", compiled by Wallis Budge, but now out of print, describes how these early monsters taught the art of tattooing the skin; the harps they played on were operated by devilish powers; and that one named Gunnun fabricated iron weapons of war. I find tradition of four descendants of Japhet, son of Noah, who settled to possess some petroleum wells at SODOM; and because LOT, the nephew of Abraham, was then living in this evil city, they captured him and carried him off. We read that Abraham rescued him, together with his family possessions; and how MELCHIZEDEK, King of Salem, sallied forth to applaud Abraham for his success against these giant robbers of Japhetian descent.

VISIT TO ENGLAND

Beyond Genesis 25 giving record of a number of sons born to him by Keturah, we lost sight of Abraham. Since he prospered in whatever he undertook -- because he always played faithfully with GOD regarding a Divine Covenant of his vast geographical expansion -- Abraham may well have shipped to Albion, and travelling around with some of his sons, accomplished the feats of slaying pagan giants. He is rumoured to have had a castle called DOR and the area carries the name of DORSET, where his great figure can still be discerned on the hillside of Cerne, although his remains repose at Hebron in Palestine.

After a life full of incident Abraham died at age 175; but as his absence from England prevented his Dorset admirers from honouring his dead body, they settled that the constellation ORION in the sky most resembled their dead hero; as that group of stars showed them a form of one wielding a club or mace; so instead of a tomb they built chalk into the ground to be visible for many miles from air and ground; where he must have created an undying impression on their behalf of a GOD-given efficiency.

Devereux Gordon never doubted that ORION in the sky pictured Abraham of UR; while ARIES the Bull Ram is thought of as SAKH (Isaac), Milner's "Chronology" names TAURUS as SATURNUS KRONUS, under the title of Jacob, the grandson of ABRAHAM. Thus the true history of our very ancient ancestry weaves together some four thousand years later.

A COMING CHANGE IN FLYING SAUCER POLICY?

According to the "National Tattler": "President Ford and Vice Presidential-designate Nelson Rockefeller are expected to lift the veil of official secrecy surrounding government information on unidentified flying objects and demand major new investigations into the UFO phenomena. Both men are firmly on record as believing in the existence of UFOs and in the need for the federal government to level with the public on the subject. The two highest executives in this country have maintained their positions for years. Their influence toward revealing government knowledge about the UFO phenomena is already being felt. The Defense Department has already started burning its files and photos about UFOs. Rockefeller, in a statement to NICAP said flatly that the many reported UFO sightings by reputable people should 'be given all reasonable credence'.'

THE HEALING, ASCENDED CHRIST IN BELFAST

By Rev. Rufus J. Womble, D.D.

From "Sharing"

The Rev. Stanley Baird, Warden of the Church's Ministry of Healing in Ireland invited me to conduct healing missions in Belfast, Dublin, and throughout the area of Ireland known as the Ring of Kerry. I was delighted and grateful to receive this invitation and on May 16 (1973) I left Little Rock, bound for Ireland and other parts of Europe for a two months trip. Half of this time would be spent in conducting healing missions. The dangerous situation existing in Belfast caused many of my friends and relatives to discourage my going there, but I acted on the conviction that God would provide in every way, and without fear I arrived in Belfast where I received one of the most gracious welcomes of my entire trip.

It is true that destruction was going on in Belfast, but it is also true that the Healing Christ is there, healing fears, healing relationships and healing bodies, minds and spirits. Christ has filled many of the Christians there with great courage and determination. They bubble with enthusiasm for the assurance that Christ is there, working out His plan, standing with them in every situation. Even though the radios that are tuned in every hour or so tell of the latest tragedies, the people keep going and living in a triumphant way.

There are hundreds of Protestants and Catholics who meet together in the name of Christ under the direction of the Holy Spirit. These undaunted Christians of different loyalties cross the dangerous dividing zone in order to pray together and to offer their friendship and Christian love to one another. The Healing Christ is creating new relationships on the grass root level in an unprecedented way. Christ is truly forming a new creation in the hearts and lives of these believing people.

A Healing service was conducted in St. Anne's Cathedral of the Church of Ireland on a Saturday afternoon. A few hours after we left the Cathedral a building located about one block away was bombed and completely demolished. This nearby explosion did not frighten the people away from the Sunday service of worship. The Sunday afternoon service saw the Cathedral nearly full of believing people.

The Sunday night service, which was the final healing service of my mission there, brought out more than 500 people. They were filled with anticipation and expectation for they have been well trained and inspired by some of the most outstanding exponents of the Healing Ministry, anywhere in the world. The atmosphere was charged with the Spirit of the Healing Christ. His presence was easy to feel through the marvelous intercessory prayers offered by the Warden. The hymns of praise rang with a strong note of joy and reality. The congregation listened to the message with intense concentration. Every moment of the service seemed of vital importance to each one there.

Yet when the invitation was given to come forward for the Laying on of Hands for God's healing either for themselves or for someone else, there was an additional surge of new enthusiasm and an even greater manifestation of hope and expectancy. Mothers with babies in their arms were invited to come first to the altar rail. A first century picture of mothers bringing their young to Christ to be touched and healed came to mind. Some of the clergy at the rail held the babies in their arms as they prayed for God to heal the various imperfections and afflictions of these infants. The faith of these parents bringing their children to the rail for God's healing inspired the congregation to united in silent prayer as the clergy prayed audibly. This remarkable first rail of mothers and babies seemed to fill, with greater intensity and assurance, the other hundreds of people who came forward for healing.

After prayers of thanksgiving this moving service was closed with the benediction by the great Dean of the Cathedral, the Very Rev. Samuel Crooks. The service had lasted for more than two hours but many of the people lingered in the wonderful atmosphere and friendly fellowship. Nearly all of the available literature was purchased for the follow-through of the healing mission and additional orders were taken for copies that were sold out. As the people lingered on in various groups there were still requests for more healing prayers. Some had questions to ask; some wanted to give thanks and say goodbye and in time all left, uplifted and grateful.

This evening healing service in the center of downtown Belfast was truly a haven of blessing and of peace. . . within the Cathedral walls the people seemed to be in a completely different world. They found that the promises of Christ are for Belfast as well as for other communities the world over. . . (Rev. Womble is Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Little Rock, Arkansas. JOSEF BLUMRICH

This space engineer read Erich Von Daniken's "Gods From Outer Space" while in Germany and intended to discredit him. But reading and interpreting Ezekiel as a space scientist, Blumrich became an enthusiastic proponent. Among other things, Blumrich designed the landing pads on the lunar modules used in the NASA moon program. From the descriptions of the Flying Saucers given by Ezekiel in the Bible, he worked out the general design of the UFOs. He used six different translations of Ezekiel and found them all alike. The second contact of Ezekiel with the Visitors was three months later. The third contact was a year later, in 591 B.C. The fourth encounter was still later, after 19 years had passed, but the Flying Saucer looked like the first one he saw. Contactee Ezekiel was taken up by a second space ship and flown to what is now Tel Aviv.
TOM VALENTINE

There is a sunken island off the coast of Australia in which have been found a buried city with roads and walls of great length. This is shown in Stell's map of Mu (Lemuria). Proof of Mu also is determined by finding that the soil of California is entirely different that of any other part of North America. (The W. Scott Elliott maps of the Lemurian epoch in world history show California as the east coast of the ancient continent. These maps are supposed to be copies of those kept in repositories in the Cavern world under Tibet in the Himalayas. RhC.)

There are basins in the ocean and on land which at one time represented the North and South pole caps of ice frozen to a great depth, causing the land underneath to sink. A polar shift caused the ice to melt and left deep basins. One of these is the Sudan basin in what is now equatorial Africa. Another is the Caspian sea. 96% of the ice on earth is at the Antarctic, which weights the earth in an unbalanced state. The North Pole is very light and helps produce the earth's wobble. It can also produce a sudden shift of the poles. (This Polar Flip hypotheses is discussed at length and illustrated in our third Flying Saucer lecture of the early 1960s, "Flying Saucers and America's Destiny", $2.00)

The original city of Carthage (in Africa) was a plan that had a mote around the city, then a strip of land, then another mote. Mexico City had the same site plan as Carthage when the Spaniards first came in the early 16th Century.

Robert Stell wrote the book, "The Sun Rises" and described Mu from tuning into the Akashic records in visions.

The Maoris in New Zealand had knowledge of the rings around Saturn. The Australian aborigines, some of the most primitive people on earth, use the boomerang, which is a highly sophisticated device of aerodynamic design. They could not have discovered this in their culture; so it must have been given through contacts with space beings.

The Mayan culture combined astronomy with the architecture of their buildings. When Joseph Smith, prophet of the Mormons, had his visions and described the Mayan culture, this was before the culture was uncovered by the archaeologists. The first book on Yucatan wasn't written until years later, in 1841.

JIM BEAL (With Mitchell's "Association of Noetic Sciences")

In 1935 Henry Coanda designed a Flying Saucer using the Lenticular (saucer-shaped) Aerodynamics principal. Much earlier, in 1914, he discovered and proved that living plants have an electrical charge in them, and measured their "heart" beats, long before Cleve Backster. Coanda also worked out a true, organic fertilizer.
In 1917 a Portuguese researcher discovered that a common household material could be used to produce a cheap gasoline product in quantity and burned it successfully in an automobile engine. He mysteriously disappeared. In 1900 a T. Morehead extracted static electricity from the earth by using 29 frequency dividers. His son is carrying on his research in Utah. (This sounds like T. Henry Moray of Salt Lake City. RNC.) A device called the Moray device can cut stone like butter.

Col. Fawcett heard about a city in the Brazilian jungles, went to explore it, never returned. A group exploring the jungles there stopped to eat. Afterward they washed their dishes with an organic solution from a nearby plant. The dishes were set on a rock to dry. When the dishes were picked up it was found that the dishwashing solution had softened the rock underneath. Could the ancients have had such a solution to soften the rock they cut so precisely to build the Peruvian monuments?

By using a metal plate connected to a Direct Current power supply of 300 to 500 volts and mounting the plate over your head but under the roof of the car will produce negative ions to keep you from falling asleep and help you to be a more vigilant driver.

Negative Ions generated in quantities in the atmosphere of your garden stimulate the growth of plants and flowers. Generate them in the air of your room to maintain positive, happy feelings in yourself. Dust will be reduced. An Ion generator can be bought from a Swiss firm for about $100.

(At right is our rough sketch of a simple and inexpensive Negative Ion generator reproduced originally in Reader's Digest years ago, as we recall. A large fruit juice can with both ends removed makes a good tube. Line it with aluminum foil. Mount it on a convenient sized board for a wall bracket. Inside the tube and near the bottom mount a standard light socket with wire for the 115 vac house current. You need a source of ultra-violet light which, bouncing off the aluminum foil, produces a steady stream of Negative Ions. The heat from the bulb causes convection. The warm air rises through the tube, picking up a generous supply of Negative Ions, and guaranteeing steady circulation, day and night. The General Electric Argon bulb (AR-1) is suitable for this. It probably is available from Edmund Scientific Co., Barrington, New Jersey 08007, Catalog #751, their part No. 41685, $3.50 postpaid, and burns only a few cents worth of electricity a month. This same bulb, driven by the output of an MWO or Kirlian Tesla Coil, becomes a germicidal lamp for neutralizing local infections. RHC.)

People with with lots of hair on their faces and bodies have fewer colds because of the higher electro-static field generated by the hair. Negative Ions applied to burns eliminates the pain. A Dr. Becker of Rochester (Mayo Clinic?) is developing and applying electricity to re-generate body organs and limbs. The Egyptians had acupuncture before the Chinese.

Anything you read or hear should be accepted and stored in the subconscious without passing judgment on it. It will later mix with other ideas and be put together to form a concrete idea, thus avoiding mental blocks.

If you want to improve your hearing or taste, place a cardboard cylinder with your positive message printed on it, on the record-player turntable. Set it going at 33 1/3 rpm and try to read the words as the cylinder revolves. If you stick to it the words will suddenly show up clearly and your hearing and taste will be sharper. (A mechanical prayer wheel?)

Fire walkers have been tested and found that they raise their emanations of body energy to a high voltage by emotional means. This surrounds the feet with a magnetic field which cools the feet at that point. A test was made by directing a high voltage Tesla coil discharge against a sheet heated from behind with a Bunsen burner and found to be cool at that contact point.

VON DANIKEN

When we visit other planets we will not necessarily find life there the same as ours; however, we will seek planets whose life is close to our own in appearance. Space beings are told to create some form of life similar to their own when visiting a new planet. This insures the multiplying of similar types of humans and encourages the space gods to visit their creations, guiding them to follow their own pattern of evolution.

(Von Daniken showed slides of his archaeological researches all over the planet for evidence of Visitors from outer space, and told of visiting the Room of the Golden Tablets in the Cavern world under Ecuador. This is described fully in his latest book, paper back, "The Gold of the Gods", Bantam, $1.75. Other Bantams by him are, "Chariots of the Gods" and "Gods From Outer Space". The Josef Blumrich book, "The Spaceships of Ezekiel" is also a Bantam paper back.)

This is the title of a 54-page brochure, price not given, by scientist T. Henry Moray, Research Institute, Inc., 2505 South 4th East, Salt Lake City, Utah 84111, published by him in 1959. (Notes first published in 1940.) Apparently Moray was experimenting successfully with the beneficial effects of High Frequency electrical fields on living tissue at about the same time Georges Lakhovsky was doing similar work with his Multi-Wave Oscillator in Paris in the 1930s.

In the brochure on his technique which he calls Cosray, Dr. Moray does not give details of his equipment, but he makes these interesting observations about Cosray electric therapy:

"Water, salts of minerals, carbohydrates, fats, protein, enzymes, hormones and other substances all play an important part in cell embryology and when aided by the flow of an electric current, of the right frequency, potential and quantity (amperage), cell development is greatly aided. If the development of certain types of cells is not desired, such growth retarding or cell destruction may be accomplished by agitating those cells in a suitable electrical field and saturating the cells with rays which set up a faster rate of oxidation, a burning up process. This method is used where destruction of cells and tissues is desirable.

"Where a building up process is desired, as in the case of cell injury, through disease or physical injury, the reversed process is used as given before. These findings have proven to us that this process is of the greatest benefit in building up of flesh and muscle. Such restoration is of exceptional value in the treatment of heart ailments, restoring sprained, twisted or stretched muscles and torn tissue and in atrophy caused by poliomyelitis.

"Working on the theory that cancer is a deficiency disease... we have reached a degree of success in the treatment of cancer so that we feel our doctors can treat this ailment with the confidence of success in a large percentage of cases coming in...

When Mrs. Crabb and I visited Dr. Moray and his son in his lab at Salt Lake City in 1961, the Photo Actinia equipment was there but inactive. The medical authorities had made it clear to him that a successful, non-medical, non-surgical cure for cancer was not wanted; so he was pushing research in other directions. But in view of the recently nationally publicized breast cancer surgery of the President's wife, Betty Ford, we pass along Dr. Moray's
"We have had cases of cancer come to our Medical Doctors for treatment which have been operated on even several times, or radium or X-rays used. Our faith in the knife as a cure for cancer and that for X-ray and radium has been rudely shattered as four-fifths of the severe cases we have seen in the past 12 years, after these modalities have been used, have turned out worse than before the knife, X-ray or radium has been used."

THE MAYO SLAUGHTERHOUSE

In our own brochure, "The Koch Remedy for Cancer and Other Diseases" ($3.75) we quote from the Proceedings of the Canadian Cancer Commission, 1939, Dr. J.W. Kannel speaking:

"Mr. Chairman, I feel very much encouraged since I have combined the Koch cancer treatment with my surgery. Previously to that I was very badly discouraged. Now, when anybody comes to me and I think there is hope, I can tell them so; but with the 24 years of experience previous to 1925, I could not offer any hope because all my patients died."

"You never saw a case of cancer of the breast cured by surgery?" asked Commissioner Valin.

"I do not think I have had any," replied Dr. Kannel. "I do not say I have seen any cases that were cured. I go to the Mayo's (Rochester, Minn.) about every two years -- that human slaughter house as I call it -- and I saw a man operating on five cases of cancer of the breast in one day. I asked him, 'Will this cure the cancer cases?' and he said, 'No, it will only arrest them,' and I said, 'What do you do following this?' and he said, 'Give them X-rays and radium.' I said to him, 'Then what is the use of mutilating the body?' and he said, 'Well, we do not know anything else to do!'. You cannot cure cancer by cutting it out! I have determined that by experience, but you can clear up the toxemia (poison) in the blood by Koch's Glyoxyldie."

Well, Koch Glyoxyldie may be available through a few brave doctors who are bootlegging it into the country; and Dr. Moray's Photo Actinia has long been gathering dust in his museum of useful but condemned inventions; but high frequency Tesla Coils can be bought in this country -- or the parts obtained and the electronic equipment constructed -- and the experimenter can prove for himself or herself the beneficial effects of high frequency radiation on living tissue.

There is enough information in our brochure, "The Lakhovsky MWO (Multi-Wave Oscillator)" that a borderlander can set up his own or her own research program and carry it forward to a successful conclusion. $3.00. For First Class Postage, add 70c.
WHO HAS BEEN BRAINWASHED?

"I have read your excellent publication concerning the Koch Remedy For Cancer and Other Diseases, recently ordered. I have been very much interested in cancer therapies since I got hold of Arlin Brown's booklet 'The March of Truth On Cancer', four or five years ago. It was a revelation to me as I am sure it would be to anyone who has been brainwashed by the medical trust in this country, and I believe we all should become very much concerned with cancer remedies and prevention if we are to survive.

"I am sure that Koch Glyoxylide cannot be bought in this country because of the FDA, although it can be obtained in other countries. However, I wonder if Glycolic acid can be easily obtained? Or have the medical boys done a hatchet job on that also? If you can give my any information as to where it might be bought, I shall appreciate your help. I have a cousin pretty far along with cancer now and she could use some help. I am enclosing a stamped and addressed envelope for your reply, also a check for $7.50 as payment for dues for one year."

W.H.W., LaFayette, Louisiana

Thanks for the membership/subscription to the Journal and for the appreciation of the Koch brochure. Glycolic acid should be readily available at an industrial chemical supplier in your area. We have here the MC/B Laboratory Chemical Catalog for 1972 and Glycolic Acid is listed openly on page 103: GX230: 70% Tech: one kilogram $4.29. Several branch offices are listed, including Baton Rouge, PO Box 15847, Louisiana 70815, phone (504) 927-5318. Remember, Dr. Koch was a crackerjack chemist and his approach to disease was that of an allopathic doctor or physician. His Glyoxylide, injected directly into the bloodstream created a lightning-like electrical reaction which shattered the accumulated poisons in the blood. Some patients actually shook physically for several minutes from the powerful action of the electrolytic homeopathic solution. But Lakhovsky and Moray, as physicists and engineers, chose rather to create the purifying electrical action directly, with high frequency electronic equipment. This approach to therapy is much cheaper and simpler, as few people can duplicate the ideal laboratory conditions demanded for the production of Glyoxylide, or even want to take the time and trouble to make a homeopathic remedy by trituration.

MORAL DECAY IN HIGH PLACES

"I look forward to receiving your publications. May I also congratulate yourselves on the correct assessments you made of the Watergate affair. It looks as if seers such as Jeanne Dixon were wrong in protesting Nixon's innocence. Whereas your own suggestions that Nixon would be kept in power long enough to expose completely the extent of moral decay in high places is vindicated. There is also a new book recently available in New Zealand which I am sure you would find very interesting. It is published in England

by Spearman's, called THE SPEAR OF DESTINY, by Trevor Ravenscroft
(The occult power behind the spear which pierced the side of Christ, and how Hitler inverted the Force in a bid to conquer the world.)
It is a far deeper study than the 'Dawn of Magic' by Pauwels and

LIVING LOVE WITH RITES

"Enclosed is my check for $2.25 for 'The Five Rites of Rejuvenation (plus one)' by Peter Kelder. The Rites are being used every morning for exercises at the Living Love Center in Berkeley, which is where I first experienced them. I would appreciate any literature you could send me and book lists. Thank you so much.
Joy and love to you."

Ms. J. C., Studio City, Cal.

A TREMENDOUS HELP

"Will you kindly send me two more copies of The Five Rites by Peter Kelder as soon as possible? The Rites have been a tremendous help to me and I have a friend desperately in need of help.
I have told so many people about it, and so many have been helped by them. Enclosed is check for $4.25."

M.E.S., Los Angeles, California

A SIMPLE PROGRAM OF SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT

"I am a yoga and meditation instructor who has become fascinated with the Five Rites of Rejuvenation. I have found that these Rites, done daily with a solid meditation program, offer the individual a clear, simple program of spiritual development. Because of this I wish to teach the Five Rites. I am also preparing a book of spiritual techniques in which I would like to include them, but I thought I should check with you before I start spreading the Rites.
In other words, may I teach the Rites, both in form and in print?

"Secondly, do you know how one is supposed to breathe while performing the Rites? I found no clue to this in Peter Kelder's description of them. Thirdly, I am curious about your or-organization. What are its goals and functions?"

T.T., Heritage Village,
Southbury, Connecticut
I have found the principle of breathing used by weightlifters to be most effective: Start with empty lungs and breathe in as you begin the "lift". This strengthens lungs and breathing muscles as well. Breathe out as you finish the lift and return to your original position. With Rite No. 5 illustrated here you would empty the lungs while in the plow position on the preceding page, then breathe in while lifting the middle of the body into the high arch shown above. Then breathe out while returning to the plow position for the next repetition. We have no claim on the Five Rites. You are free to use them in any way you like.

THAT OL' DEBBIL MOON

"I have a theory about the Moon. I have never read it anywhere or heard it. Isn't it possible that our Moon is now dead because some warlike beings killed it? I have read that there may be people living under the surface, and that they may be using the Moon as a base; but nowhere have I read that they may have had an atomic war and killed everything. There would be a chain reaction on earth if a real Hydrogen bomb went off, and every particle of matter would be annihilated. The atmosphere would be burned up. The rocks would become glass. The heat, while the rocks were boiling would produce the bubbles which, on the Moon, the scientists call craters. The only safe place would be under the surface. Does this make sense?"

C.M., Watertown, Wisconsin

Several years ago in the Journal we passed along the theories of a South African astronomer. His thesis was that the asteroids orbiting the sun between Mars and Jupiter did not by themselves bulk large enough to account for the huge planet that once upon a time orbited there. After the breakup of Maldek, the largest portion spiraled outward to settle down in the erratic orbit we know as the planet Pluto. The second largest chunk spiraled inward, with its appropriate load of backward souls, to become the jail of the planet earth, the Moon. Millions of Maldekians are now incarnated here on earth from the Moon, working out their salvation, on probation. Among the early messages received by contactee George Hunt Williamson and his UFO research group at Prescott, Arizona was this information, Aug. 17, 1952. This was before he came under the influence of the Laugheads and their Brahmin mentors. These messages are in the out-of-print book, "The Saucers Speak", by the New Age Publishing Company, Glendale, California, 1954.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE PLANET EARTH

"Zo again. 'To apples we salt we return.' You may not understand this strange saying now, but someday you will. It is from one of our old prophecy legends. Rites will save your people. We are here to warn you. If there is dissension among you we will not contact you. Be calm and quiet! We have only love for all men. We hold certain councils on Uranus. We must now decide what to do about your planet Earth. Your bombs will destroy universal balance. Your Hydrogen Bomb could make an asteroid belt out of you. This happened many years ago to planet of the fifth orbit. We knew what they were doing but we didn't interfere. We cannot stand by and see another waste.

"After their destruction (Maldek) there were terrible disasters on Masar (Mars). Great volcanic eruptions took place. Many of our people perished. We would have been thrown out of the solar system and lost if we had not quickly constructed two artificial satellites. Some of your scientists have noticed that Phobos and Deimos reflect too much light to be made of earthly substance. They are right. They are metallic in nature. They readjusted our unstable condition and saved a planet. Zo speaking. Peace to all men everywhere. Discontinue."

The Williamson group was warned that "Certain great powers in your world wish to see us go away or see us destroyed. Neither will happen. These Powers fear us, and when you fear anything you hate it." So here we have one reason for the "silence policy" on Flying Saucers by all the governments in the world. Behind those governments are the great religious principalities or powers: Koman Catholic, Brahmin, Mohammedan, Buddhist, Confucian, Shinto -- who have nothing to gain and everything to lose by the public knowledge of the Extraterrestrials on earth, and in our skies.

In the Theosophical book, "Man, Whence, How and Whither", Besant and Leadbeater describe early life on the Moon, when it had air and water. Our own Inner Circle contacts have told us the Moon once had air and water. Now we wonder if that wasn't when the Moon was part of the larger planet, Maldek and that the air and water had been stripped from it before it became an earth satellite, by the Maldekian atomic war. After Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin had made their Moon walks in July 1969, we were told that the two "had returned to the scene of the crime". The crime of destroying a planet. This would only make sense if the Maldekian story told Williamson were true.

THE FIRST MAN ON THE MOON? NOT ARMSTRONG!

"To show how the average Earthman is informed about things, I want to say that the two men, astronauts of Apollo 11, Armstrong and Aldrin, that landed on the Moon July 20, 1969, were claimed to be the first men to land on the Moon. Men have been landing there for centuries! Well, in the same year 1969 on the 26th day of November, when I was there in a Flying Saucer and went inside the Moon, I found a lot of people there. I met a man who said he was from Los Angeles, a Mr. Hamilton. He had been there for some time and is production engineer for a factory making electrical products for the space-ships.

"The people that inhabit the Moon live inside and are just as human as we are (maybe more Humane than some of us). I was there for only a short time and didn't get a chance to learn much about the Lunarians, but I am sure they are just as intelligent as we are. They are of a white race and speak English fluently. My pilot, Volna, said that the English language is used on many of the planets, and is used where he came from, Venus. There is a large Space-ship port there. Ships from many other planets land there. It is located in a large crater. Our astronauts saw it and reported it to the mission control on Earth, but NASA silenced that information immediately and refused to transmit it to the public. They didn't want us to know there was anyone there ahead of us..."

By the Rev. Edward M. Palmer, from his August 1974 Newsletter, Cosmic Science Research Center, 1646 SE Elliott St., Portland, Ore.

Ed's personal experience illustrates the problem of understanding the Flying Saucer phenomenon. He may be ready to swear on a stack of Bibles that the trip to the Moon was real, as real as any physical experience he has ever had. But was he really in his 3-D physical body? Or was it the Etheric Double? Which is of another order of magnitude, as the physicist would say. The same test would have to be applied to Astronaut sightings of UFOs and space-base installations on the Moon. If these installations are not visible to earth telescopes, then it is logical to assume that these installations are not 3-D physical as we know physical matter, but are in the Etheric order of magnitude, and not visible to normal physical sight. How did some of the Astronauts see them? Because after three days of sensory deprivation in space they had achieved some degree of psychic sensitivity, and their visions would have to be classed as psychic phenomena. Such visions are highly personal, and disturbing to the person who is not prepared for them. An Astronaut having such a vision would not be likely to want to talk about it, even to his closest companions, for fear of ridicule and misunderstanding.

In religious terms such an experience signals the birth of Christ-consciousness in the heart. This is what Christmas is all about. Maybe Jesus was a Visitor from Outer Space, as some do say.

EXCEPTIONAL KIRLIAN PHOTOGRAPHY

"I attended my first Psychic Fair, held in Dallas, Texas, April 5, 6 & 7, 1974. There was a lot of power in that group. I enjoyed it. A Mr. Kirby (4912 Swiss Ave., Dallas 75214) was taking pictures the Kirlian way, using Polaroid color film. The enclosed is a sketch of my print. (I am no artist.) The lower circle maybe the third joint of my index finger. The Cross on the picture is what baffled us.

"He asked if I was wearing a cross, but I was not. The whole background is very dark. The rest in two shades of blue and white. I don't recall what I was thinking about at the time to interpret it for me. There are also invisible faces in the picture (for those that can see) on both sides of the cross. The center of the finger tip is full of fine lines going in every direction. The circle around the center is white with zigzags blue lines. The edge of the cross is a darker blue than the center. I saw other Kirlian prints that had larger auras around the finger tip, but none that had a cross. Would you or your group be able to interpret this for me. Enclosed is a check for $2.00 for a copy of 'Closed Class No. 5, with the Yada.'

E.M.D., Clovis, New Mexico

The cross in your skotograph is a true Calvary Cross. The shaft is three times the length of the cross arms. This is the traditional Christian symbol of self-sacrifice and service. Your teachers and guides on the Inner Planes took advantage of the opportunity at the Fair to show you that you are wearing a Cross, in your heart, as you prepare to do healing work for those less fortunate than yourself.

It is true you have chosen healing techniques developed by Dr. Bhattacharya, a Hindu, and described in his book "Teletherapy" ($3.25), using gem stones and a vibrator; nevertheless you are under the Christian dispensation of the West. Holding the office of World Teacher, and as transmitter of the re-generative force of the Sun on earth, the Christ has general supervision over all healers and healing work. Of course in the East, healers have different names for Him, Lord Maitreya, for instance; and the illuminating symbol would be different.

Healing is so desperately needed now, not only of bodies, but also of hearts and minds and pocketbooks, that anyone who takes up the Cross will have all the support and encouragement he or she needs to become a radioactive center of light.

MAJORITY OF IRISH SICK OF WAR

Vatican City (AP) Oct. 2, 1974 - "Cardinal William Conway, primate of all Ireland, said the violence in Ulster is not a religious war but a political and social conflict and the majority is utterly sick of it. The Belfast-born Conway said that relations between the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches in the strife-beset country remain very good.

"As far as the great mass of the population, Catholic and Protestant, are concerned, they are utterly sick of the violence and passionately pray for peace. The image of a whole people steeped in violence and fighting a religious war in the 20th century is fundamentally false, and one hopes that it will be recognized as such throughout the world," Conway said."

NOW WE KNOW THE REAL REASON

Throughout his political life, former President Nixon prided himself on being a realist, not an idealist. There's no money in Brotherhood. There is in oil! So when he casually tossed aside 25 years of anti-Communist hysteria and went to China and Peking with great public fanfare, we waited patiently for the real reason to come out. Sure enough it was published in the Sunday Los Angeles "Times" for Oct. 14, 1974 in an article by China-born Ping Ti-ho, professor of history of the University of Chicago.

"The size of China's known oil deposits, not counting the unexplored and potentially rich areas of the Yellow Sea and East China Sea, are larger than presently known reserves of the entire Mideast. The reserves, confirmed to me by authoritative sources in Peking during a visit to China last summer, have tremendous implications not only for China's development, but for the world oil situation and for U.S.-China relations. Chinese oil could, within several years, become a counterweight to Arab dominance of the oil trade, supplying much of the petroleum needs of Japan and perhaps the United States. . . ."

"By far the richest oil discoveries have been made in a large area along the east coast called Takang (Great Port) . . . a combined on-shore and off-shore area stretching over perhaps 200 kilometers and containing thousands of square kilometers of oil-bearing area. Not only is there a tremendous volume of oil and gas in the Takang region, but its quality is extraordinary, with a sulphur content of less than 0.08%. . . ."

MARTHA MITCHELL SOUNDS OFF AGAIN

It was London, Sept. 20, 1974. The wife of Nixon's attorney general was being interviewed for British Broadcasting by television personality David Frost. She made the startling assertion that our former president "was behind the assassination attempt on George Wallace in May 1972. . . . She said Wallace had made the allegations when she visited him at the governor's mansion in Montgomery, Alabama. 'He made no bones about it. He said, 'Nixon was the one that had me shot.' Oh yes, definitely, outright."

"Reuters reported that Frost asked whether Wallace had any evidence and that Mrs. Mitchell replied: 'Yes, to a certain extent, because you remember one of the people in the White House went to see Bremer (the would-be assassin) prior to the shooting.'" (Quotes are from an AP newsitem in the Los Angeles "Times", Sept. 21, 1974)

ANOTHER LIBERAL LEADER GONE

"The weekend of Sept. 1st was a sad one for us here in New Zealand; as our Prime Minister, Norman Kirk, died of a heart seizure in a hospital in Wellington, our capital city. He had been our PM for 21 months and as head of the Labour government was very much concentrating on the implementation of the Social and Welfare policies to which the Labour government had committed itself when elected. Overwork and strain had quite obviously taken a terrific toll of Mr. Kirk. He had been ailing for a couple of months.

"We are aware that he got a terrific battering from the opposition party and it takes a strong man to be able to do it were 'ward off' attacks of the poisonous and bitter kind to which he was subjected while in office. There are those who, it would appear, have the know-how to manipulate evil forces to use them to gain their own ends. The destruction of Norman Kirk was the quite obvious goal of some of the members of the opposition party here in our own parliament. The first action of Kirk's Labour government was to withdraw our armed forces from Vietnam."

AND ONE WHO PROTECTS HIMSELF

The California labor leader, Cesar Chavez "has six or seven German shepherd dogs. Two of them, named Boycott and Huelga (the Spanish word for strike) go where Cesar goes. They are big dogs and they keep their heads low. A photographer tells this story: 'He trains them himself, as a hobby. Occasionally he sells one of them, but only if it is not exactly right for him. He watches their temperaments closely. If they are snappish and excitable, he sells them.

"'They walk beside him, one on each side. They don't look vicious but you know they mean business. I was taking pictures of Cesar at La Paz. I'd been around awhile and the dogs were used to me. But one time I moved very quickly, crouching, and raised my camera to make a picture. One of the dogs was on me just like that. He put his mouth over the lens of the camera. If the camera had been a gun, it would have blown the dog's head off. Cesar grinned and spoke to the dog and I wiped off my lens and went on shooting.'" (From the LA "Times", June 23, 1974)
"PROJECT CIVILIZATION"

"Why don't we start a mail campaign of writing to the President, suggesting that he have an open meeting with Russian leader Brezhnev in which they agree to stop the arms race at once, scrapping and dismantling all the atomic and military hardware that they have accumulated. Like the Manhattan Project this could be called Civilization Project. Since the head hunters and cannibals of darkest Africa no doubt are hanging their heads in shame to live in the same world with such uncivilized, warlike, murderous people as we are, Project Civilization seems like a good name for a job that should have been accomplished a zillion years ago when Tony Stonehammer and his pals were running things.

"The President should go for the idea if for no reason other than to get something less stressful in the news than Watergate, Inflation and Arab oil. Maybe if we got the Project Civilization really rolling we could sort of counteract the influence of Devils, Devas and evil 'angels' from the lower Astral seem to be having on some of the world leaders. Wouldn't it be wonderful to think of ending such utter damn foolishness as war and the arms race in our time? Golly, am I naive to even dream of such a thing?"

H.L., Nykobing, Denmark

Yes, and that's the kind of Christmas spirit and naivete that will take us surely into the New Age! Your letter reminds me of the late Albert Schweitzer. A reporter was interviewing the great healer and humanitarian at his African headquarters, and asked Schweitzer what he thought of civilization.

"Sounds like a great idea," replied Albert, "perhaps we should try it!"

Apparently the only way the All-Present Creator can affect any significant change in the direction of mankind is to significantly alter the quality of great numbers of souls coming into incarnation. In this way He or It can bring an end to one Age and begin another. Remove the meat-eating, violence-prone Pisceans from the scene by attrition, and replace them with vegetarian, brotherhood-prone Aquarians. One of the Mahatmas of the Himalayas, D.K., signaled such a coming change back in 1925, when he wrote through his chela, Alice Bailey:

"A great factor and one that is hard to explain so that the average thinker can understand it is the cyclic coming in of egos who are at a point of evolution where they are ready for their first radioactive life. In one great department of this hierarchical endeavor all Egos are divided into two groups, according to their cycle and according to their type of energy. These grades are in turn subdivided according to the quality and vibratory effect to be induced upon any one kingdom of nature by their united, or single, incarnation. This might be illustrated by pointing out that by the gradual coming in of human beings who are vegetarians by natural inclination and by the appearance of egos who are interested specifically in the welfare and nurture of animals (as is the case so noticeably now). We have the cyclic appearance of a whole group of human units who have a definite karmic relation to the Third Kingdom (animal). This relation is of a kind differing in specific detail from the meat-eating, and oft inhuman, groups of the past five hundred years."

Dwal Kul refers more specifically to the Fourth Root Race and some of its more advanced thinkers as being "rendered radioactive". These are the Atlantean types still in the majority on the planet, with their straight hair and brown or yellow skins. He prophecies that the great Chinese sage, Confucius, will reincarnate to "super-intend the work", which will not reach its peak until around 2050 A.D. (Quoted from page 1080 of "A Treatise On Cosmic Fire" by Alice A. Bailey, Fifth Edition, 1958, published by the Lucis Trust, 866 United Nations Plaza, suite 566-7, New York, NY 10017.)

LONG AWAITED REPORT ON URI GELLER

"While at the convention of the Parapsychological Association in Jamaica, New York in August I had an opportunity to talk to Harold Puthoff of the Stanford Research Institute, Palo Alto, California. Harold was one of the scientists who examined Uri Geller. For some time we have been asking why the proper scientific report of their tests had not been issued. Now I have been assured that the scientific report will be published in NATURE this September. That is the publication of British scientists."

Why should the prestigious Stanford Research Institute have to go to a British publication to air its positive findings on Uri's psychokinetie powers? Very revealing of Powers operating behind the scenes, isn't it? Puherich and Geller, as initiates of the Brahmin priesthood of India -- and their guiding Mentors from the Astral plane -- have invaded the domain of the Roman Catholic priesthood here in the United States. That they are not welcome was made obvious by the character-assassination article on Geller in "Time" Magazine, in which he was called a fraud.

"My talk with Dr. Andrija Puherich scheduled for Aug. 21 did not materialize as he had to go off to Italy that day and was gone when we called to confirm the appointment. Just before writing this I happened to look at the mail and saw the copy of FATE magazine which had just come in, October issue. In it was an article by the publisher himself, Curtis Fuller, on the Puherich/Geller phenomena. Fuller fully accepts the psychic feats of Uri, but notes that Geller does not seem to be on the high spiritual level which would be expected of one through whom higher beings from other planes work. Mr. Fuller does not question Dr. Puherich's integrity but wonders if the whole thing is not a product consciously or unconsciously, of the actual psychic effects produced by Geller."
"After reading that I telephoned Dr. Puharich, found him in, and that he had not yet learned of the FATE article. I again asked for an appointment and was told that he could not tell when he could find the time, as he was extremely busy with scientific conferences to arrange, and with developing another psychic whose potentials were similar to those of Uri."

Art Rosenbloom, Aquarian Research Foundation Newsletter, #54, Aug. 29, 1974, 5620 Morton St., Philadelphia, Penna., 19144, $10 a year.

We think it significant that Curtis Fuller, publisher of "Fate" and long-time observer of the Flying Saucer phenomenon, should also doubt the Extraterrestrial source of Geller's powers. This gives more weight to our thesis, that they are from Ultra-terrestrials, non-physical humans and elemental Nature gods who are as much at home on this planet as we are! But only occult scientists, with long backgrounds of study in the Mysteriös, both East and West, will be able to sort out the Forces involved in this Armageddon.

AURICAL ELECTRONIC THERAPY

"Ever since publication of the first reports on UFO sightings that is a subject that has fascinated me, so naturally I enjoy the articles by Trevor James. Even more so because I met the author during the time Alpha and I were in California in 1963. With only a handshake I recognized him as a kindred soul, altho beyond that and a few words we never had any further contact.

"Perhaps I've never mentioned to you that I have been having some physical difficulties which cause me to walk bent over, and spending two weeks in the hospital having tests, plus a visit to one Oklahoma City clinic for an EMG, at $200, with no successful diagnosis or help, I finally turned to chiropractic. Fortunately for me, I was given a friendly tip on this particular man and discovered he uses the most modern techniques, aided by electronic equipment, X-rays, and is open-minded toward different approaches. He is currently treating me with Aurical Electronic Therapy, which works through impulses sent to the brain, via the ears. It requires holding an electrode in the hand on the side with the ear being treated. He described it to me as sending a message to the brain to wake it up and stimulated it to action in the area of imbalance, where it has been lazy. With only one treatment, I have noticed an improvement in kidney function and bladder control. At last I am given some hope of recovery."

TERRIFYING REACTIONS FROM BIOFEEDBACK

"Please send me two copies of your BSRF No. 2-D, 'Communication With Flying Saucers', for which I enclose my check. I want them for the information they contain on 'the dangers of a human being who indiscriminately yearns for more Light from heaven' and 'a description of the characteristics of a psychic racketeer'. I am being called upon increasingly to talk to the young who have been sucked in to these Alpha rhythm and feedback courses and are having terrifying reactions. It seems that the 'teachers' know only the mechanics of their subjects and none of the dangers. I am told that I was able to assist in the prevention of a young school teacher committing suicide by having your 'Retro Me, a Practical Guide to Psychic Self-Defense' made available to her. But I need more information in depth.

"Would it be possible to bring out a pamphlet especially for those who are convinced that they have found the answer to all life and that any criticism is the work of the devil? It will be hard to make such a pamphlet convincing but it has to be done if we are to prevent a certain number of fine young people from self-destruction. Keep up the good work as your ideas are becoming more important every day."

N.A.D., Boston, Massachusetts

It would be possible to bring out a pamphlet on the Dweller On The Threshold but getting biofeedback and mind control students -- or their teachers -- to read it is something else! We went through the same thing with Dianetics and Scientology enthusiasts in Honolulu in the 1950s. What they cannot or will not learn by precept or example, they will have to learn by experience. Max Freedom Long's Huna students had the same wide-eyed, naive approach to occult science. They thought that as long as they adhered to the Huna principle of "no hurts" to others, they would be safe from attacks by the "horrid things of the darkness".

What they are not taught is that this guardian, this Dweller on the Threshold between the two worlds is their own creation. This "sin body" is the total accumulation of wilful misdeeds from past lives; and it is standing there, awaiting redemption, demanding it, from its creator. We carry this thing with us wherever we go. It's part of our subconscious. It's evil vibrations are usually the first to come in to waking consciousness when the Veil is first lifted. If the student has adequate training in mental and emotional control he can face up to this "horrid thing of the darkness" out of his own past, ignore it, and go on to more inspiring visions. If he isn't prepared for it, the challenge will drive him screaming back to the familiar reality of physical waking consciousness.

The student of the Mysteries must also realise that if he is to overcome and redeem the Dweller at least 51% of his waking activity must be constructive, unselfish service of some kind. He may be an angel of virtue in class or during his meditation periods, but if this is overbalanced by long periods of depression, fear, anger, prejudice, bigotry, thoughts and feelings of revenge and violence, or over indulgence in liquor, drugs, gambling, sex -- he's fighting a losing battle. The "eating companion" of his subconscious remains strong and vital from the hourly doses of coarse, animal vibrations. The Path to freedom is not a some time thing.

ESP, THE SPACE TRAVEL PROBLEM, and How We'll Solve It -- through mastery of Occult Science! This is Director Crabb's review of the almost insoluble problem of keeping a man alive, sane and well in deep space, as revealed in the press and by our Extraterrestrial contacts, given to the San Francisco Interplanetary Club, Sept. 25, 1964. Insoluble, that is, unless the Astronaut becomes an Adept in the power of mind over matter -- in the honorable tradition of the pagan Kahuna, the Shaman, the Yogin, witch doctor or medicine man. This lecture transcript contains a review of Dr. Andrija Puharich's "Beyond Telepathy", especially his description of how gravity helps consciousness stay tied to the physical body. Illustrated, 35 pages, 8½x11 mimeo. . . . $1.50

COMMUNICATION WITH FLYING SAUCERS (And Their Occupants) Here Crabb gives an analysis of the problem of communication with outer space, both from the standpoint of the Visitors and the Invaders to our skies, and from that of the human who yearns for more Light from Heaven. We give the five different kinds of ESP or mediumship, and the three types of contact. We contrast the characteristics of the psychic racketeer and of the sincerely deluded contactee, mostly from our direct observation of them over the years of UFO research. Talk contains a review of data on contacts with Venusians in Los Angeles in 1953. Illustrated. . $2.00

FLYING SAUCERS AND AMERICA'S DESTINY This is the lecture containing so much data on the Polar Flip hypothesis. More important is the revelation of America's leading place in the New Age, once the cataclysmic activity is over. Crabb compares the scientific data on planetary cycles with that of certain astrologers, the Theosophical Society and the Teachers of contactee George Van Tassel. Other subjects touched on in this illustrated talk are: the sinking of Atlantis, the Judgment Day, the Trance of Change, the prophecy of George Washington, and the role of the Space Visitors at this time. The master, the major and the minor planetary cycles of the last 25,900 years are charted. . . . . $2.00

THE WAY OF THE FAQUEER, First of THE FOUR WAYS TO FREEDOM Lesson Eight of our Series of Cabalistic studies contains an extensive review of the powerful Nature magick of the Faqueers of the Brahmin religion. The effectiveness of that magick is being demonstrated to America by the psychokinetic and telepathic powers of Uri Geller. Was he a Faqueer in a past life in India? Who knows. Our material is from the first-hand observations of Hindu magick by the French jurist, Jacioillot, a hundred years ago in Benares. We take the Four Ways of Ouspensky's teacher, Gurdjieff, and relate them to the Four Worlds of the Cabalist: Physical, Emotional, Mental and Spiritual, and to the Way of the Faqueer, the Monk or Nun, the Cabalist or Yogin, and the Adept or Master. The emphasis is on the Way of the Faqueer and the subduing of the physical body through control mana, prana or ectoplasm. Illustrated, 48 pages. . . . . . . . . . $2.00

RETRO ME or The Art of Psychic Self-Defense is concerned chiefly with methods of sealing the aura against intrusion by obsessing entities and by telepathic meddlers who are encouraged to practice their art on the unsuspecting. Several simple rituals are included, especially the powerful Lesser Banishing Ritual of the Pentagram, fully described and illustrated. Daily use of the Pentagram Ritual also breaks up and gradually destroys one's own negative, obsessive ideas or vices. This 17-page brochure contains the Statement of the Inner Circle on the subject, and Meade Layne's discussion of the Use of Ritual, Obtaining Desired Things, Vampirism, Talismans and Symbols. Illustrated, 8½x11 mimeo. ........... 50¢

PSYCHIC SURGERY IN THE PHILIPPINES and Pagan Healing In Hawaii
Only an Occult Scientist can intelligently analyze this borderland phenomenon and give some explanation of the Invisible Forces at work in Psychic Surgery. Orthodox science and medicine are totally confounded. This talk contains Dr. Nelson Decker's two months of training and initiation in psychic surgery under Brother Terte and Tony Agpaoa in Manila and Baguio City. It also contains Director Crabb's research on pagan healing in Hawaii. There are descriptions of BSRF equipment for setting up a borderland therapy research program. ........ $2.00

CLOSED CLASS WITH THE YADA, No. 6
Continuing the Studies in Occult Science with a "living Buddha", a Tulku, includes such subjects as: Saving the World, Full Identity With Self-Awareness, Telepathy In Russia and Our Own Secret Services, Nerves, Body Chemistry and Health, A Warning About Healing, Clairvoyance A Matter Of Practice, The Power of Hate, Gandhi, Concentration Must Be practiced, All Nature Is Down On Man's Head, Don't Look For Phenomena, Know What Is! $2.00. Tape or Cassette, 1½hrs. $6.50

THE OTHER MEANING OF CHRISTMAS -- This gives the Hidden Side of the Winter Solstice Festival with its five-fold cosmic cycles of Nativity, Conversion, Baptism of Sorrow, Transfiguration or Upliftment, Betrayal and Crucifixion. 41 pages, illustrated. ............... $1.50
