The International Jackals are in Full Hue and Cry!

LADIES and Gentlemen of the Silver Legion, meet Public Enemy No. 1. Can you imagine who he is? If you are to send for its September 8th issue, The American Hebrew and Jewish Tribune will inform you. Devoting a whole page to the "unsavory facts," and reprinting a picture of "Public Enemy No. 1" purloined without permission from the pages of this journal, this national Jewish weekly declares without a tremor that Public Enemy No. 1 is William Dudley Pelley, Chief of The Silver Legion and Editor of Liberation Weekly. And searching down through the intricacies of the lurid expose, America's Hebrews are enlightened that the reason William Dudley Pelley is Public Enemy No. 1, is not alone because he says unpleasant things about the Jewish people's oligarchy and the disastrous road along which they are leading the Jews of the nation, but he actually has the temerity to declare in public print that maybe the N-R-A isn't working, can't work, never really was meant to work, and therefore sees no sane reason why he and his men should docilely "support" it.

HAVING set up a system which Judah wants the American people to follow in order to recover prosperity—in order that the rascals who have bilked and bankrupted the country may cover and keep their evilly gotten gains—and having elected a Chief Executive who obviously does little to interfere with Judah's program and thereby abets it, the head Zionists are now in a position to do the same thing to public-spirited Gentiles that they caused to be done to supine Representatives in the last Congress.

"You do vat ve vant, or ve get it The President after you!" is the threat in essence.

WE CONTEND that it was to meet such a situation in this manner, and bulldoze, strong-arm, and intimidate those who do not fall in with these railroading methods for making the Jewish N-R-A successful, that the Administration was so formulated as the American people now know it. By sponsoring N-R-A to the limit, yelping overtime the while about their own "patriotism," these Hebrews now fancy they are sitting in a place where they can eliminate any Gentile who challenges them, by turning him over to the "Government" as a seditionist. In other words, it is the old, old Jewish racket of getting officialdom to do its dirty work and pull Jewish chestnuts from the fires of a nation-wide Gentile rage.

To disagree with the economic policies of a political party is only sedition or treason in one or two places; in the perverted thinking of conniving Israel, or in a regime of absolute despotism such as exists in Jewish Russia.

The United States is not Russia—yet!—and there are not lacking plenty of virile Gentiles who mean to see to it that she does not become Russia at any time in future.

We contend that N-R-A is the pet brain-child of the Jew, Bernard M. Baruch, in conference with men like Dr. Alexander Sachs, Leo Wolman and others, and the further contention of Liberation has been consistently that Franklin D. Roosevelt was chosen to fit N-R-A rather than that N-R-A was the brilliant scheme of the present Chief Executive and the Democratic Party for restoring prosperity.

Knowing what we do of that which is now in the wind, we are not at all disturbed by such threats of sedition leveled against the Chief, nor does the diatribe that Pelley is "Public Enemy No. 1" result in any other reactions on his part than indubitable attitude of amused contempt!

How the Jewish Idea Works behind the League of Nations

A GOOD deal has been told in "Russian" propaganda in the United States about the determined campaign of the Jewish Soviets to capture and transform our economic system.

But while we have been getting excited about Moscow intrigues our attention has been diverted from another part of Europe that is vigorously concerned with bagging our political and cultured life.

This is Geneva, capital of the League of Nations. The tiny League principality situated in the capital of a little nation dedicated to neutrality, is the world's champion propaganda hatchery because this incubator, unlike its Moscow counterpart, has MEANS.

Here are maintained propaganda organizations financed by the rich and plotting big Jews of Europe that make the indigent Bolsheviki "pikers" in the great international business of conversion.

In huge marble halls, around exquisite mahogany tables, in an atmosphere of luxury and comfort, foreign strategists have been spinning with amazing success a web of propaganda about the United States.

THE American people may have rejected the League by overwhelming majorities, but these wise gentlemen know, as did our own Mark Hanna, that majorities never just "happen." They are made. And here is how they are endeavoring to make them in the United States.

A prospective Leaguer is one who has come to look at things internationally. The idea is to get his mind off things strictly American or national! So the Geneva psychologists have decided to surround the daily life of the average American with as many international reminders as possible. By repeating and repeating that little word "international" they know that it will finally register on the subconscious mind of the unsuspecting American, that he will find himself caught in a mental process that thinks about everything in terms of international action or solution.

So in Europe in the last ten years the drive is on to internationalize the daily life of Americans until at countless points a psychology of internationalism wages ceaseless war on American-mindedness.

If we play football, Europe sees to it that the sport is internationalized and that a fine office opens its doors across the waters supported by American contributions.

If our hairdressers are thinking too carelessly about the essential provinciality of the pates before them, an International Union of Hairdressers appears on the scene and another bureau is born—but across the waters, of course.

IF THE League and its internationalists are bent on the capture of our girl scouts, they are no less resolute in their plans to get our goats. The International Goat Breeding Federation will look after that. It has its eye not merely on the battleship and the automobile but even on the humble roller skate. The International Roller Skating Federation handles that.

The International Bobsledding and Tobogganing Federation will help to make our bob sledders internationally minded while the International Association of Seed Testers will help to stimulate the world consciousness of our seed testers, all from comfortably furnished offices on the other side of the pond.

If you are a farmer and chagrined about the manners and culture of city folk, don't worry. Internationalism is taking note of your troubles, too. The International Committee for the Improvement of the Amenities of Country Life is on the job. Even the old human nose has achieved international recognition and organization. Here it is—the International Society for the Revision of Nosological Nomenclature. Even the clouds have become of significance to League City for there it is—the International Commission for Study of Clouds.

Look at the following commissions and committees, many of which are supported by American contributions and see what astounding progress League City has already made on national psychology.

- International Federation of Dramatic and Musical Criticism.
- International Exhibition Bureau.
- International Photographic Congress.
- International Dental Federation.
- Save the Children International Union.
- International Bureau for Protection of Plants.
- International Salvation Army.
- International Institute of the Middle Classes.
- International Goat Breeding Federation.
- International Institute for the Exchange of Social Experience.
- International League for the Organization of Progress.
- International Federation of University Women.
- International Association of Recognized Automobile Clubs.
- International Bobsledding and Tobogganing Federation.
- International Football Federation.
- International Ice Hockey League.
- International Rifle Union.
- International Roller Skating Federation.
- International Rowing Federation.
- International Tennis Association.
- International Yacht Racing Association.
- International Poultry Science Association.
- International Seed Testing Association.
- International Association of Seed Crushers.
- International Association for the Issue of Coupon tickets.
- World Bureau for Astronomic Telegrams.
- International Society of Musicology.
- International League Against Epilepsy.
- International Council of Nurses.

International Union of Postal, Telegraphic and Telephone Workers.
 International Seafarers Federation.
 International Federation of Master Tailors.
 International Association of Blind Students (the blind can vote).
 International Commission on the Teaching of Mathematics.
 World Sunday School Association.
 International Union of Artists.
 World Federation of Commercial Travelers.
 International Union of Clothing Workers.
 International Union of Glass Blowers.
 International Federation of Hatters.
 International Association of Abstaining Schoolmasters.
 International Fixed Calendar League.
 International Confederation of Authors.
 International Federation of Members of the Staff of Public Secondary Schools.
 International Congress of Members of Teaching Staffs.
 International Professional Association of Medical Practitioners.
 International Federation of Cinema Directors.
 International Congress for the History of Pharmacy.
 International Chamber of the Educational Film.
 International Broadcasting Union.
 International Academy of Law.

REMEMBER, Geneva relies on the Internationalizing of everything American to overcome our objections to joining the League—which is, of course, under Jewish dominance. The international organizations mentioned above were taken at random from a thick volume containing countless other international organizations. It is called "Handbook on International Organizations" and is published by the League of Nations. The preface to this remarkable book makes the following declaration:

"This Handbook on International Organizations is published by the League in pursuance of the task entrusted to the Secretariat of the League of Nations of following closely and assisting every International Organization, even in cases in which the League cannot take it under its direction."

MANY of these organizations are actually on the payroll of the Secretariat of the League of Nations. This is admitted in the Preface to the Handbook on International Organizations. It is more clearly understood by citing a little known part of the League's Covenant, Article 24:

"The Council may include as part of the expenses of the Secretariat the expenses of any bureau or commission which is placed under the control of the League."

So "internationalization" is not just a friendly, spontaneous, artless growth, but is a highly organized business, initiated, controlled, and financed by League City. Reduced to simplest terms, it is a crafty psychological trap being set by the Old World for us.

League City is after our lawyers, our doctors, our dentists, our workers, our nurses, our authors, our professors, our primary grade and high school teachers, our historians, our motion picture directors, our druggists, our girl and boy scouts, our university women. There is hardly a part of American life that has not somehow been signaled out for "Internationalization."

Why is it that every three months there comes rushing off the presses of League City a pamphlet listing the latest activities to be "internationalized"? It is the Quarterly Bulletin on the Work of International Organizations and is published by the International Bureau of the League of Nations.

It is perfectly clear that League City is working day and night at the business of internationalizing, for every activity internationalized is a vote getter for League City. The league's big psychological drag net is closing in on America.

Why is it that almost without exception the international headquarters of these associations are located in Europe

Also please note that the staffs of these international organizations are practically all European. Occasionally an American gets a job—but only rarely. Altruism, it would seem, is a one-way route with an omniverous European cash register at the terminus.

When are we going to arouse ourselves to the psychological machinations of Geneva against Washington?

Internationalizing American activity of every description is not the only weapon in the League's arsenal. At the moment the League is making a bold and sinister bid to capture our public school system, our universities and colleges.

The pressure of vanity does its bit for Geneva and one becomes amazed at the chest capacity of many Americans for foreign emblems. In our own country the League can count on the gratuitous services of numerous foreign born gentlemen who do not let their American domicile interfere in the least with their racial sympathies.

WE HAVE found British born ministers in American pulpits, paid by American congregations, preaching cancellation of war debts, exhorting our entry into the League. We have found great church organizations, supposedly American, dedicated to the same purpose and run by other foreign gentlemen.

We have discovered foreign born professors occupying distinguished chairs of history and economics in American colleges busy with the job of indoctrinating their classes and other students with the "League." We have tumbled upon foreign born presidents of great American colleges opening the doors of their institutions to "League speakers" and closing them to "League opponents."

And then, of course, there are always Americans whose patriotism is only purse deep. We have caught big Jewish bankers redhanded in the act of taking over educational and cultural organizations and using them as a blind for promoting internationalism and the League, extolling the virtues of any nation where their money may happen to be invested.

We have watched energetic ex-Y. M. C. A. secretaries beating their bosoms for the oppressed peoples of Europe while behind the guise of humanitarianism they acted as commercial agents for business interests and propagandists for the League as the protector of such interests. We have come across the League doctrinaire high in the councils of our youth, athletic and homemaking cults.

Skillful work—this posing of propagandists as educators, educators practicing propoganda, social societies and juvenile orders acting as workers for the League, traders masquerading as philanthropists and missionaries, bankers playing æsthetes while behind cameos and art exhibits they hawk around our sovereignty like any old article of commerce. But it should be known.

American Sovereignty is not a thing of the Past. The Constitution of the United States has not yet been relegated to the scrap heap. Let a flood of light be turned on the problems which international strategy would merely hide from our gaze!

Cut Rate Barber Wins N-R-A Case in Atlanta!

DOWN in Atlanta, Ga.; on the 14th of September, Judge Gus H. Howard dismissed an injunction against a barber obtained by the Atlanta Master Barbers Association on the ground that the barber was charging 25c for a haircut, in violation of the National Israelite Recovery Act.

It was stated that no definite minimum price has been set under the code and that otherwise this barber was operating under the N-I-R-A. The majority of the barbershops in Atlanta are charging 40c for a haircut.

Whether General Johnson and Dr. Alexander Sachs will bring their august intellects and strong-arm methods to bear on this Atlanta barber remain to be seen. It is a fearful thing to prescribe for the recovery of a whole nation, and issue fiats and ukases which are well-nigh Talmudian for specific detail, and then have the whole business piled in the ditch by a mere Atlanta barber who will shear the locks from the human pate for 15c less than the "patriotic" Jewish shops across the street.

Think of having that great Judan N-R-A absolutely gutted, wrecked, and nullified by a mere barber, down in Democratic Atlanta of all places in the nation. And a 25c barber at that!

YES, General Johnson is having his troubles. No sooner does a 25c barber get out of whack than a great auto magnate in Detroit follows suit. What the General will do about either, is going to be interesting to note. Will one be too little, and the other too big, for the General to cope with? Meantime, we understand that people who are heartily sick of the sight of the Soviet Vulture are beginning to run up Ford's volume of sales—in appreciation of his American stamina.

Then there is Senator Hatfield, who hails from West Virginia.

The General sent the Senator one of his polite Bust-You-on-the-Nose-if-You-Don't-Cooperate letters, thinking that the Senator would respond, "Just so, sir! Just so!" Instead of which the Senator from West Virginia dictated an epistle that should have curled the General's hair. The communication which Senator Hatfield sent in answer to the General was in part as follows:—

"I assume that your communication is merely a circular letter, sent in identical form to all of the Senators. I want to assure you, sir, that I have every sympathy for your predicament. It must be trying to one who received his early education at West Point, and there swore to uphold and perpetuate the Constitution, to find himself obligated to forego the principles of government approved by the founders of this republic.

"Upon reflection, however, I find that there are a number of items touching your N-I-R-A program in which I would be glad to cooperate with you to the fullest extent of my poor abilities.

"I will patriotically cooperate with you in sending a respectful petition to the President to exercise his legislative function of repeal and abandon this ghastly folly of industrial regimentation; for such is our present state of ignominy that by a single stroke of his pen all this economic madness called N-I-R-A can be ended.

"I will eagerly cooperate with you toward restraining the orgy of speculation now carried on under the absolutism of those who subscribed to, and qualified, under the N-I-R-A, and in curbing the paradise of profiteering that the makeshift N-I-R-A plans have precipitated.

"I will zealously cooperate with you in expelling from high places in our government such intellectual theorists as Prof. Raymond Moley, Prof. Rexford Tugwell, and others, who are characterized by Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., as admirers of the red flag and principles of Communism.

"I will respectfully cooperate with you in beseeching the President to adhere to his sound money pledge solemnly given before a great audience in the Brooklyn Academy of Music, to the end that we may avoid the disaster of further inflation and unsound money, thus preparing the way for a return to the gold standard and possibly saving our country from further miseries.

"I am yours to command in any effort to restore the anti-trust laws, so that monopolies of commerce so dreaded by President Wilson, and which are now being set up under N-I-R-A, may be avoided, thereby restoring to the small independent business man his right to survive and protecting the consuming public from extortionate price racketeering.

"Also, you may look for my full cooperation in cutting off these wasteful bounties to farmers, and for the abandonment of such disgraceful practices as plowing under ten million acres of cotton, government purchase and slaughter of five million hogs, and, so I am told, government purchase of millions of pounds of butter for purposes of destruction.

"These practices are not in accord with my idea of sensible economy; they savor, according to my modest individual view, more of the atmosphere of the lunatic asylum, if there is any such institution reserved for economic theorists who flout the beneficence of Providence.

IN SHORT, sir, my idea of making N-I-R-A a complete success would be to abandon it entirely. Smash these fetters that N-I-R-A has fastened on our farmers, manufacturers, merchants, workmen, mechanics, financiers, laboring men, industrial workmen, mechanics, professional, trade, and office people generally, and I venture to say that America can recover swiftly by means of the stamina and the resourcefulness of a free nation. There were many positive signs of recovery before the advent of N-I-R-A, hence we can only conclude that it was a needless impediment.

"Since the pliant, bewildered, submissive, terrorized Congress of the 100 days practically abdicated all of its legislative functions, I can scarcely see how the executive department would be in need of any further powers, as it now daily legislates for the entire nation.

"Assuming that it is not further power that you desire because N-I-R-A bristles with powers of every description, so that the destiny of an entire nation is now committed to the caprice of a single individual, I beg to offer this one further suggestion, namely, that the swaggering bully rarely remains very long a popular figure in our national life.

"Do you not think it more compatible with the traditions of our government to avoid blustering and bulldozing; and do you not imagine that some persons resent such incautious allusions as that you recently made to the Hanging of Danny Deever, which was construed as a reference to lynch law, which according to the admonitions of history ever was a game that more than one person played at?

"Recently I ventured to deplore publicly any resort to a boycott in support of N-I-R-A, branding it as an intolerable species of social ostracism in time of peace. Afterward I was glad to note that you disavowed such an intent; but notwithstanding that assurance, I regret to learn that such boycotts are being carried out by your authority and under your name, and I can offer you incontrovertible proof of same, should you care to have it. This setting of neighbor against neighbor can only lead to confusion and disaster. The administration, indeed, may learn to its discomfiture that the housewives of America are adepts at boycotting unscrupulous profiteers. And it is easy to imagine that many of the nation's housewives already are finding it difficult to keep up with the inflated prices that N-I-R-A is causing.

SURELY by this time you have enough of the inner workings of N-I-R-A to realize that it runs counter to the oldest traditions and the very spirit of America. It can never be satisfactory to a free people, and no amount of ballyhoo can make it so. Surely in your heart you must be averse to the Russianizing of America. I note that you declared your intention of resigning in November. I hope that you will do so sooner, and that when you do, you will frankly and fully inform the nation what you must know to be the truth: that N-I-R-A can never successfully manage the affairs of a free people. In that connection I will gladly cooperate with you to restore to our postage stamps the face of George Washington, which has now been blotted out and replaced by the so-called Soviet scythe.

"Perhaps in writing to you thus frankly I am a better friend to you than some of those whom you picturesquely refer to as 'chiselers,' who flaunt your bright colored insignia and then proceed economically to stab you in the back.

"In conclusion let me absolve you of any intent to set up an advance alibi for the impending collapse of N-I-R-A. I hope it is not the intent of your associates to blame the impending failure of N-I-R-A on non-cooperation of the Republican Party. I really want to thank you most cordially for the acknowledgment that there is in existence such a deliberate body as the United States Senate. I thank you also for deigning to seek the opinion of a mere senator. I shall take delight in cooperating with you along the lines that I have indicated."

JUST what Bernard Baruch will do to Senator Hatfield when the former gets back from his international conference with the Jew, Finkelstien of Russia, remains to be seen. Mr. Baruch is not in the habit of having United States Senators talk to his own Chosen People in any such manner. Mr. Baruch set up N-I-R-A, to all intents and purposes, to confer on Mr. Baruch endlessly the same autocratic powers that Mr. Baruch took unto himself in the war—and for barbers in Georgia, and Senators in West Virginia, to show such fangs marks them for plenty of bite when the American Soviet has gone a wee step further and the American Land of Canaan is successfully overrun with the Israelitish locusts of the present dispensation.

Senator Hatfield's letter however, does supply The American Hebrew and Jewish Tribune with plenty of ammunition editorially. To be consistent, we may expect a front-page blast on Senator Hatfield shortly, naming him as Public Enemy No. 2—Public Enemy No. 1 being already designated as Pelley of the SILVER SHIRTS for saying exactly the same things which Senator Hatfield has said, only tying up motivating causes where they should be tied up, instead of assuming that N-I-R-A is the brilliant imbecility of the Democratic Party.

Evidently the eminent Senator from West Virginia missed that little identification mark of N-I-R-A contained in the assertion that Dr. Alexander Sachs, of the Lehman Corporation, a sort of Jewish Babson's, was the man "whose deductions have largely influenced all our decisions."

Let us hope that General Johnson despatched a Jewish courier to Europe pronto with the Senator's letter—at the proper public expense—to ask "Disraeli" just what he should do about it. "Disraeli" has now been absent from the United States so long that unless he comes back to do some new thinking for them, the Washington Presidium may go into a complete coma, having totally run out of the thinking "Disraeli" left with them to last them during his absence.

And incidentally, maybe that is why, when industrialists put questions to the General which he cannot answer—for instance, what is to be done to those who don't subscribe to the codes?—that the most brilliant piece of mental performance the General can return is, that they are to be "busted on the nose."

There's thinking for you! There's intellectualism! There's a czar of American industry of the Gentile persuasion that should gladden the hearts of the entire hierarchy of Judah.

And last, but not least, don't miss this significant report of a sleuthing Silver Shirt from a small town in Ohio:

THIS somewhat confused and troubled lady writes us under date of September 10th, as follows: "Please send a few of your latest numbers of LIBERATION to my eldest daughter's fiance whose name I am enclosing. And listen to what he told me: A questionnaire from N-I-R-A was sent to him which he filled out and returned. Then they wrote and thanked him for his promptness, and said: "It costs a good deal to put this through, and we will appreciate if you will send us a check for $18 or $25, by money order at once." I was so indignant I jumped up and down almost literally, demanding: "You didn't do it, did you?" And he said: "I did not," although he is wondering if he has somehow broken the law by not remitting.

Oh well, is there much to get excited about in such petty chiseling? Isn't it a Jewish administration trying to put over a Jewish idea? Why shouldn't those being bilked make a remittance for the bilking?

Isn't the government doing the same thing by the millions?

What's $18 or $25?

Barbers, Senators, and Chiselers! Whatta life, whatta life!

AND while we're on the subject we must not forget Henry Ford. First this Ford refuses to sign a perfectly good code arranged by the leaders of General Motors, Barney Baruch of the U. S. Treasury, and his friends. This eliminates the possibility of these reputable business men having access to Ford's books and ruining him. Then the said Ford goes and boosts the working wages of his employees, above the scale required by the code. The latest news is that he has hired over 3,000 ex-service men and that this is going forward at a rate of 300 a day until they get their quota. And if they don't watch out he will be offering his car to the public at less cost than ever.

Mr. Baruch better give that man Johnson orders to stay away from Ford or Ford is liable to convince Johnson that Johnson should bring the N-R-A Codes up to Ford's standard and then the real business men of the country will have to really benefit the workers and then, "We ask you, how is an honest Jewish Business Man going to make a living? Oi Yei, such a headache!" We thank the Great Father for a sense of humor.

How the Christ Democracy Will Reward Initiative

A MAN to whom the first outlines of the Christ Government had come, from previous Silver Booklets in this series, exclaimed: "It won't work because it's against human nature! The great principle of Americanism is, that a man shall have unrestricted opportunity to acquire all the money and power he is capable of seizing. Take that away and you strike at the very roots of individual initiative that has made America great."

"Even to lawless exploitation of his fellow citizens?" he was asked.

"Absolutely! If they don't want to be exploited, let them watch out for themselves. It is that sort of competitive effort that develops human character."

"But suppose such exploitation is carried to a degree that it puts a small clique of persons in absolute despotism to them, while the great mass of the exploited citizenry is practically in a state of serfdom—what then?"

"That couldn't happen, of course, because the great mass of the citizenry wouldn't stand for it."

"No?" asked his questioner. "And how could they help themselves?"

"If they are driven far enough, then they would pull off a revolution and free themselves from their masters!"

"How could they possibly do that, if the exploiting group had set up an absolute despotism? A Despotism is always a despotism, remember. It relies for its power in being autocratically in control of all the instruments of revolution."

"Oh, they'd find a way to do it," the first declared vaguely.

"Yes? Have they 'found a way' to do it under Fascism in Italy, or under Sovietism in Russia?"

"But Italy and Russia are not America. We have too big an educated class in the United States."

"Has their education been advanced enough to save them from an autocracy of the alien money-bund to date?"

"No—but—"

"And what if the exploitation system simply won't work, because the more completely successful it is, the more galvanic are the elements of suicide within it—more so for the exploiters than the exploited?"

"I don't know what you mean."

"Suppose the despots discover that having exploited the populace they have gathered all the power into their own hands. Suppose they are in complete possession of all instruments of production and all the wealth in the nation. Who is going to do the common work?"

"The citizens, of course."

"And how are they to be compensated?"

"Oh, they'd have to be paid enough to live on."

"And where would it come from?"

"From the place it's always come: the employers!"

"Then you admit that the employers—or exploiters—would have to give up in a minor degree some of their holdings in order to keep the citizenry alive that the common work might be done."

"Certainly!"

"Then that would mean giving back to the populace a portion of what had been wrenched from them?"

"Put it that way if you like."

"But only enough to keep them alive!"

"Well, they ought to get a little more than enough to keep them alive, of course."

"How much more? Where are you going to set the figure?"

"That would have to be left more or less to the generosity of the employers."

"And when in human history have employers ever been thus generous? Isn't it true that such a situation, left to the generosity of exploiters and profiteers, the populace would become nothing but slaves, and serfs? Isn't it true that the class war from the beginning of time has been the fight to use the same force to wrest their ill-gotten gains away from the profiteers that the profiteers have used to acquire their gains?"

"Then the system that is NOT against human nature, according to your philosophy, is one in which this struggle is made more bitter as time goes on, and has a tendency to demark the classes further, instead of working for social unity?"

"Who cares anything about social unity? That's the dream of Utopian socialists. This is a world in which Nature has decreed a policy of 'Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost.'"

"All right. Let's carry it out and see where it leads. It would only be human nature, would it not, for the exploiters, or the profiteer-possessing group, to rid themselves of the troublesome masses who continually demand their increasing shares of wealth by substituting uncomplaining machines for such costly human labor. The very nature of their possessiveness would demand that they give up only what they can be made to give up. Isn't that so?"

"Certainly!"

"All right. Now suppose inventiveness continues to a point where ALL the human labor is performed by machinery. The possessing group would hail such a state, wouldn't it, in sheer realization of its own philosophy? In other words, such a machinized State would be the ideal State for the predatory group since it meant giving back to the populace nothing whatever?"

"I suppose so."

"All right. Then in that event—and human ingenuity is attaining to it in seven-league strides—what becomes of the populace? What supports it?"

"Oh, you couldn't have a COMPLETELY machinized State, since someone would have to control the machines."

"But a comparatively small percent would be required for that. Isn't that reasonable?"

"Yes."

"And what becomes of the balance of the population? What supports them?"

"The State, maybe."

"And who or what is the State under such an ultimate situation but the predatory group that has made itself paramount under such a system?"

"Granted. What of it?"

"Then if the predatory-profiteer-possessive group has to support the populace that's left when all the machines have been manned, how are they any better off than before, by having and operating the machines?"

"At least the masses are at their control."

"All right. To what purpose?"

"At least they can say who shall work and who shall not."

"To what purpose, I ask again? What good is such despotic power if it results in no difference in the work? If the machines do it all, and anyone can tend them, what difference does it make whether the tender's name is John Brown and William Smith, or whether his skin is white or black. Outside of these machine tenders is a vast populace that must be supported for doing nothing at all—and is at mischief as well, through having nothing to occupy its attention. Can you not see therefore, that the very philosophy of the predatory-exploitation class defeats itself? It carries within its principles the germ of its own suicide."

"All the same, it's against human nature to expect that you can build a social structure on anything but Greed!"

"Aren't you really confusing predatory Greed with mortal ambition to better itself? No one wants to deny human nature the privilege of bettering itself, or cutting all persons down to the same common mien."

"But there's no other system but the Competitive Greed System for exercising that ambitious streak in human nature!"

"No? How do you know there isn't?"

"But if there were, we should long ago have heard about it."

"Would you have said twenty years ago that there was no such thing as the radio because up to this time in the ages humanity had never heard about it? The fact of the matter is, it has to be part of the preservation of the Predatory Philosophy that the populace be educated to think there is no other system. Any attempts to expound it have been squelched and ruthlessly obliterated. Therefore the populace never has heard of it. Or any delineation of its principles have been castigated as Socialism, Communism, or Radicalism that tends to tip over existing institutions. One would think the only alternative to the Exploitation System is a return to barbarism, so derogatory is the comment when information about it attempts to get out among the exploited people. Whereas, the Exploitation System is not only barbarism but keeps humanity IN barbarism."

"All I know is, humanity is so constituted that it will fight to the death any attempt to take away its right to seize what it can on the competitive basis. Competition is not only the life of trade; it is the improvement-urge in action, lifting humanity up from savagery."

"What you are saying then is, that Might makes Right!"

"Put it that way if you wish."

"And are you perfectly willing to live under such a system?"

"Yes, if I have the right to climb into power as I improve my opportunities."

"Regardless of the fact that the perfect achievement of your power means the loss of it?"

"How so?"

"In that when you have perfected your machine age to the ultimate, you have eliminated everyone over whom you can possibly exercise that power."

"It couldn't come to that!"

"But, my dear fellow, it HAS come to that. Which is why the economic situation throughout the world has broken down. Machines have made so many goods, available and placed them in the hands of a small property-favored group, that they cannot be bought or consumed, and there is a grand stalemate in which no one seems to know what to do. Those goods cannot be consumed because they cannot be bought. They cannot be bought because en masse they must be bought by the very people who made them—the great wage-earning populace. But machines draw no wages or consume none of their own product. The machine-tending class is relatively small. Therefore the populace has no wage-money with which to turn around and buy the goods, at any price. As matters stand at present, there are only two solutions from the Predatory-Competitive standpoint, by which the old system could go on and operate. Either the Profiteering-Possessors must turn about and loan the populace cash to buy back its glut of product, or the Profiteering-Possessors must distribute them free, so that the storehouses may again be filled on the Competitive Basis. And the Employing-Owning Group will do neither, because both defeat their own philosophy."

"But the Competitive System has always worked up until the past few months. Why should it suddenly break down now?"

"Because this is the first time in the history of modern society that the world has had an era of machinery wherein one machine can do the work of fifteen workmen at no other expense than the running overhead. Since the World War, mass production has speeded up until wages have well-nigh vanished in ratio to the amount of goods that the machines have produced. Without the wages, humanity has no money to buy the goods. So they are piled up to sickening surfeit while millions are actually starving."

"But humanity has always pulled out of previous depressions. Why should it not pull out of this one?"

"Because up to this time there has always been new country to open up and exploit. In America there has always been a safety-valve of virgin territory in the West. People could go there, draw richly from Nature by the true wealth-producing methods of employing their two hands, and thus produce new wealth to exchange for the glut of manufactured machine products. As these new territories created new resources, these resources were bartered in the glutted markets and the stocks reduced so that men could go back to work and glut the market all over again. This is the unfortunate circumstance that has fooled so many economists. Then too, a false standard of wealth called Commercial Paper has been encouraged, by which millions could be supported for a time in nonproductive jobs. But ultimately the falsity of both as a means of true and permanent prosperity had to be exposed. Since the war, almost unnoted in the papers, inventions have almost gutted the labor market. The bankers have been letting these people feel that borrowing from them, or their financial or goods storehouses, and thus living on the previous glut, was a stable condition that would always last. But 1929 proved otherwise. In a manner of speaking, these loans fell due. Not actual loans, so much as false arrangements under the stern economic law. So now the world confronts a situation never before known since Egypt, in which there are no more virgin lands to exploit, and no alternative of livelihood for the populace that has thus had its buying power brought to a standstill. What you call Previous Depressions, out of which we have always worked, were nothing but minor crises warning humanity of the major Crisis that must ultimately come when all virgin lands were exhausted and machines that required no wages had come totally into their own. What has happened throughout the world, aided too by the withdrawal of gold by the predatory bankers of Europe, is a stark demonstration that the Competitive Profit-Grasping System is unworkable. Palliatives may be adopted from month to month, all sorts of silly tax systems may be tried out, the Predatory Groups who have cornered the ownership of this glut of true wealth—that is, goods—may loan back a portion to the populace through governmental channels or otherwise, so that the reprisals of the Economic Law may be delayed. But all those are but postponing the evil day of reckoning. But in the end the shift to the correct System must come."

"What Correct System have we but Socialism and Communism?"

"We have the Christ System of Government, over Society and Economics—a State that feeds human ambition exactly like the Competitive State, but does not abolish the right of private property nor whittle all men down to a common mien as in Russia's imbecilic experiment. It is a State wherein the sovereign people first take a census of the needs of the whole population, and then a census of the production sources of the nation as a whole. One is divided into the other and production carried on along the basis of what our populace NEEDS, or can consume, instead of the amount of money available for buying such products from a predatory monopolistic Owner Group according as the latter has graciously made those funds available either from wages or bloated loans at pyramiding interests."

"You interest me," said the defender of the Exploitation System, when the conversation had gotten thus far. "But how are you going to reimburse all classes for such labor as each individualistic person may be able to perform, without providing for all equally, as under Socialism?"

"We are going to incorporate the United States as a nation, for the carrying on of a sovereign people's business affairs. We are going to have this Colossus Corporation put out three classes of Stock. In the first place there shall be 120,000,000 shares of Common Stock, equally distributed among native-born citizens, and each share carrying one vote. That one vote is the citizen's voice in the government corporation as at present. That Common Stock share shall pay a minimum dividend, let us say a Government Credit, of $1,000 per year per person. That shall guarantee the crude living expenses of all the citizenry, and forever removing from mankind the duress of the Hunger Bugbear."

Then the Christ Government issues two classes of Preferred Stock. The first is Real Estate Stock, paying no dividends in any sort of credits, and merely exchanged for certain classes of private Real Estate properties to which individuals may have unalienable rights—such as homestead rights, or rights in properties that assure them roofs of their own selection or inheritance over their heads, or about which there may be sentimental bonds of attachment.

The second class of Preferred Stock is Merit Stock. That is, it is used to reward individuals for services to industry or the common good.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above is the beginning of the fourth of a series of 22 articles explaining the Christ Democracy and which is distributed to those who become members of the Silver Legion. Full information may be obtained by writing to Box 2630, Asheville, N. C., National Headquarters of the Silver Legion.

This great action group, organizing to place a just and equitable government in America without altering our Constitution or changing the governmental structure, is militantly preparing for the defense of the principles for which our nation was conceived. Its international espionage agents have full data on the Secret World Government which has looted the U. S. Treasury to the tune of hundreds of billions of dollars and which has sworn to destroy the Christian religion root and branch.

It is little known, for instance, that International Jewish Bankers are the confessed supporters of International Jewish-Russian Commission; The Red Spider is attempting to throttle the life of representative government by such means as the N-I-R-A which is already 40 per cent Communistic in its membership and which will provide the machinery for the dictatorship that is to follow, meanwhile secretly fomenting plans for world revolution, as the culmination of a century-long plot.

Possessed of the concrete evidence, which you may obtain for yourself, the Silver Legion is organizing to unmask the World Diablerie. Before the Christ Democracy may be installed the malefactors must be removed from power. Meanwhile the Christ Democracy remains as the pattern on which a new civilization shall arise!

"The World hath an Augury!"

MY DEARLY BELOVED: Hear my words and be wise.

2 It cometh to me that there are those sitting in high places who make mock of the faithful;

3 They laugh with great laughter; they give no alms to those who are forsaken; they come and go vicariously in their deployments saying, It is meet that we get others to do for us that which is of evil, that when the times of accounting come, we are not held guilty of that which hath transpired.

4 They are mighty in their own eschewments; they give and take a ransom unto the pure in heart; they hear no cries of mercy; they are guiltless unto themselves of crimes and misdemeanors.

5 I say unto you, beloved, it goeth not well with them; they are championed of the Beast; they have no place to lie their heads; they are of the world's forsaken and in their vauntings they perceive it not.

6 It cometh to me that ye do treat with them; ye go to and fro among them; ye perceive their comings and their goings; ye do harbor a grievance unto yourselves that the course of the world should lie in black pastures.

7 My beloved, be counseled: be wise with a wisdom whereof saints do have envy.

8 Ye do come and go vicariously: ye do say unto yourselves, so be it for ourselves and our children; thus was it written from the Beginning; is it meet that we should change it?

9 I say unto you, beloved, change it must be else the world hath vomit; altered it must be, else there cometh no surcease to that which transpireth out of the actings of those who do lecheries.

10 I have told you that a Great Day cometh, I have seen it approaching, I have uttered my warnings, I have stood in a place of exceeding great height and looked on the nations and the ways of their tendings.

11 Harken, harken; I have done more; I have come unto man that he should know his days of vomitings are ending; he goeth up into an exceeding high place and knoweth the evil whereof he was afflicted;

12 Verily he cometh down from that place and knoweth of his evil; he escheweth it forever; he taketh a clean distaff and a pure coat; he looketh to his arms and perceiveth their cleanliness.

13 In that day he sayeth to himself: Thus was it written from the beginning of all time, that my distaff should be clean, that the cloth of my coat should be without blemish.

14 It hath come to me that men go to and from seeking surcease from their labors; they do hunt for that mountain; they do pant for that height;

15 They do work diligently that the noontime of their hopes should see a goodly fruit garnered; that their barns should be fat with the luxury of increase, yea of the body, yea of the Spirit.

QUOT of the vastness of Cosmos the Psychic Antennae tunes in on a Voice. If the Word was made flesh and spake once to men, how much stronger may be its pronouncements when the handicaps of the flesh are perished? If we cannot believe this, to Whom or What shall we look for authority of commitments like the following?

16 Let it be known of you, beloved, that that which cometh, cometh!

17 Of old it was known that the Beast hath its claws; of old was it that he who cometh up out of the sea, and taketh the sword, should depart from the waters and know no more a cleansing;

18 He should grasp his sword firmly and perform therewith a cleaving; he should cut with the sword's blade and his own head be severed.

19 Have I told you these things to speak a pleasant story? my beloved, be wise.

20 It is no evil thing that befalleth the nations; it is no evil word that proclaimeth the Beast.

21 The Beast cometh like the Man of Old; verily it sitteth in high heavens and maketh the earth to quake with the might of its thunderings.

22 Is it of record that ye shouldst know palsy; is it of scribing that ye shouldst be tarnished?

23 Arise and be wise: know your own temptor: perceive your own shadow tilting at archaic things which leave the casting of that shadow forward.

24 I have said in my might: These things shall be, they shall come upon the nations; they shall be afflicted on the spirits of those in mortality; they shall come and they shall go; they shall mock at the righteous and tear at the Beast that goeth to destruction.

25 Thereat shall men say: Once was a Beast and it came to our fathers, but we, the children, being wiser than the fathers, perceive its fouled tongue and bespeak of its rantings;

26 We will have no more the Beast among us: we will cast it forth: we will make of it a byword among those who walk uprightly: we will harken to no whoredoms that bespeak us to wickedness:

27 Verily will we abide by the precepts of the fathers and cast the Beast from us, verily give it no sanctuary, neither allow it to perform even at our feastings given in merriment;

28 For it hath been a Beast of evil omen, it hath taken our hearts' blood and defiled our fathers' thresholds; therefore we eschew it; it cometh not amongst us; it maketh its bed in the crags of lost promises, it seeketh a pit and reareth its young in the abysses of grandeur unto damnation.

29 Have I not told you of the Beast? have I not said his carrion proclaimeth him? have I not besought you to give him no hospice? have I not marked on his comings and goings?

30 Would I do these things, beloved, if there came not a wantonness unto the nations? would I cry Peace if there were no peace? would I trick my beloved?

31 Others have tricked you, others have given you no surcease in the surfeit of their auguries, they have said it is not meet that the Beast dwell among us, therefore if we recognize him not, mayhap he goeth and troubleth us not.

32 I say to you, beloved, the Beast cometh and the Beast goeth, and thousands go with him who follow his banners and partake of his tumults.

33 It is meet that we commune together oftener than we do; it is meet that ye know the mark of the Beast, that ye do him no reverence, that ye perceive his shortcomings, that ye see him in his nakedness, that ye know his for his whoredoms.

34 The Beast cometh and the Beast goeth, I say, and great are his comings and greater his goings;

35 But there dwelleth an exceeding little host that perceiveth his endings; they do pledge him no obeisance; they do him no fawnings;

36 They dwell in a little place apart, not as those hiding from the wrath of his countenance, but as those with a book to read in that countenance, who say: The pages do tell us so-and-so, we do read the message of the pages and withal we gain wisdom when the book no longer openeth.

37 Arise and be wise: give no countenance to the Beast, neither say: It is meet that we preserve ourselves by worshipping the Beast, for is he not strong, and will he not slay us?

38 I tell you the Beast is not strong; he endureth for a little time only; his flesh is as parchment whereon deeds are written but performed in words only;

39 He rageth, he vaunteth, he sayeth: Where are those who do me homage? where are those who bow down? whence do go they who should pay to me tribute?

40 I say, pay no tribute; vaunt not the Beast by cowering at his talons; make no feastings to his greatness, for it is the greatness of an evil omen; it cometh and it goeth, and the augury is lost in the aftermath of evils.

41 These things I say to you: I preach you no infamies; I tell you no falsehoods; I say, worship at the altars of no false gods, but render obeisance unto the Father, who knoweth the pure in heart, who respecteth the weak, who cherisheth the orphaned.

42 The Beast stalketh and the hour groweth black; presently the night cometh and men say: There are none to guide us.

43 Know that they speak falsely, beloved, having no light to guide them in that darkness.

44 It is meet that ye do fetch them a lamp, beloved, lighting the feet of those who do falter.

45 Again it cometh to me that there are those who say: Let us bow down and do the Beast reverence for if he destroyeth us if we do not, we preserve ourselves to give a goodly accounting to those who come blessing us with knowledge: behold if we perish by the Beast how do we favor our offspring or do good to the nations?

46 I say, they perish not, beloved, save that perishing is chosen of them for the purpose of life's lessons in their passing into Knowledge;

47 These are not they who do service to the nations: no nations are guided by those who seek to do goodly deeds unto themselves that age may come upon them and the wisdom of its teachings;

48 Verily they do mock themselves with the penury of their intellects; they do save that which hath no worth for saving, even of themselves, who put forth no hand to arrest the destroyer saying: It is meet that we arrest him not, for what have we to do with him if he doth pass us by?

49 I say the destroyer passeth them not by, beloved: only to the brave is protection afforded; only to the valiant is given the arms to proceed against the conqueror; only to those who stride fiercely, driving before them the evil one, cometh rejoicing when that which is fought for is known of the husbandmen who pursued not their plows when vigilance was asked of them.

50 A goodly blessing cometh to those who have the sign of courage on their foreheads, for unto such as these the enemy bestoweth that which he hath, that they may have more and the weak become the weaker.

51 I say I protect mine own when they ask of me assistance, but is it meet that I shouldst fly to the protection of those who come saying: Protect us first Lord, then do we thy bidding.

52 How know they protection except they know danger? how know they the evil man's thoughts against their persons unless they accost him and perceive his full countenance.

53 My beloved, be wise: it is every man's birthright to say to himself, here do I stand with my cohorts about me, here do I plant my staff, verily as a banner; here do I do the noble deed and speak the Word Courageous;

54 Or, it is every man's right to say: The toil of my loins fetcheth me no surcease of the labor whereof I am afflicted; I will go and rest awhile and mayhap while I rest, another cometh and ploweth the furrow.

55 Which think ye, beloved, cometh to know the heralding of the lord of the harvest, he that hath a pure conscience, who hath toughened his fibre and put arrow to his bow, or he who hath said, Let the stalking evil pursue another, for I do take mine ease and presently the sun goeth down on the one slain and the vigilant-unto-self made to see the sunset?

56 Whenever have I told you that love which suffereth long and is kind hath no essence of effort, no motive that is active?

57 Have I not said rather, that he who persisteth hath a kingly crown to gain, whilst he who dwelleth in the shade of the figtree hath only husks when those who have been valiant are called to the feastings?

58 The times call for courage: the night hath the murmur of an evil inkling; the wise man maketh his bed in a garret, that those who roam the highways to rob, findeth him not in a bed of silver linings, saying to themselves: Doth he not slumber in the peace of undeserving luxury, therefore let us take him and divide his bed among us.

59 Thus cometh it, beloved: The times have an augury; yea verily the world hath an augury that transcendeth the times; there come on men great cleansing pestilences, that they know whereof they do vomit their loathings of that which is putrid, of that which defileth them.

60 They do make no choices unto themselves, saying: This we embrace and that we disdain; I tell you that every man taketh his staff and marketh his earnings, he taketh his weapons and maketh his defendings of that which is propitious according to his spirit;

61 He shall mark his own goings by the rod of his effort expended in luxuries not of his devising.

62 As it was of the prophets, so shall it be with those who Massachusetts Commandery Encounters "Yellow" Journalism!

A TYPICAL example of what happens when "yellow" journalism starts publicity occurred in Boston this past week. For several days the Boston American plastered their front page with seven and eight column headlines maligning the SILVER LEGION. There is only one explanation for such violent antagonism. The Massachusetts Commander put a real "scare" into the Jewish management of that paper.

From the headlines you can guess the rest: "Klan Dons 'Silver Shirts' in Comeback," "Silver Shirts Believe in Utopia," "Klan Leaders Split in Row." And forthwith we are told that "dissension is already splitting the ranks of the Silver Shirts." We agree that the writer of such mendacious fiction should encounter a few grim-eyed but "fatherly" men, one of whom should bend him over the knee, for a spanking with a Scourge of Cords. Perhaps he might learn the meaning of that old-fashioned word, honesty.

But, for every blast appearing against us in the daily press we receive scores of letters from people who are reading between the lines. Sterling Americans have long grown tired of "yellow" journalism, and are quick to recognize who and what the SILVER LEGION must be to raise such violent opposition from the press.

The more the Jewish controlled Press shouts their ridicule and condemnation, the more patriots start to think and to rally to the colors!

Silver Shirts everywhere, however, should be notified that no information is to be given for publication until it has first received the definite written approval of National Headquarters. No questions are to be answered.

Even if the reporter realizes the truth, the chances are a thousand to one that it will get past the City Editor's desk without misinterpretation. Let them get their information direct from the Liberation Magazine, if they can get it. We are not condescending to supply them with ammunition.

All things considered, this campaign has definite lines to be followed. Situations change overnight in the national picture. No one but the Chief of the SILVER LEGION knows exactly what should be given at any specific time.

THE SILVER LEGION does not require newspaper publicity, favorable or unfavorable. It is proceeding quietly and inexorably to the organization of a thinking and outraged citizenry, that has long desired effective means for the cleaning up of the forces which have debauched America.

The following letter, reprinted in full for its able presentation of the Liberation Program, created the Boston riot. Let Massachusetts speak:

Both local and prominent New York dailies have recently been quoting from an article which appeared in The American Hebrew and Jewish Tribune purporting to "expose" William Dudley Pelley's SILVER SHIRTED LEGION. Because of the fact that we of the organization are the uncompromising and unrelenting adversaries of the element which published the aforementioned article, we shall leave no stone unturned in presenting the Truth in the proper channels.

The American Hebrew has dubbed us "successors to the Klu Klux Klan" . . . "American Hitlerities" . . . and . . . "enemies of Roosevelt." Several years ago, I am lead to believe, the power of the Klan was crippled from within due to the fact that the very people which the Klan was endeavoring to put in their proper place, succeeding in getting a goodly number of their own into the ranks so that, the organization fell almost to pieces because of the factions which sprang up within it. However, this is not a history of the Klu Klux, nor has the SILVER LEGION any connection whatsoever with that organization: these facts are mentioned simply to explain why it is that so many sterling Klansmen are flocking to the standards of the Silver Shirts. Pelley's three-year old outfit is profiting from the sad experiences of the Klan and one of its primary rules is the deliberate barring to membership of Jews.

Perhaps this point has drawn fire from the many Hebrew publications in America. We maintain that we have the right to bar anyone from membership, and if the cry of race hatred is brought up from our worthy opponents, we simply refer them to their own Jewish organizations.

Under the adept leadership of our good companion and loved Chief, William Dudley Pelley, we Silver Knights have been educated to the truth of the current economic situation. Briefly, let me state some of the many truths that we are ready to prove to the last grim man . . .

FIRST: We know that America has, for the last thirty years or so, been ruled by a coterie of Aliens who have operated and hidden behind Gentile names and Gentiles Puppets. We know that this predatory element which represents the antipode of American Culture, has seeped into the very Holy of Holies of the United States . . . among many other cases, witness Judges Lubitz, Brandeis, and Judge Cardoza (not a Spaniard), of our Supreme Court. We know that this element has succeeded in manipulating the currency of this wealthy country through the pernicious Federal Reserve Board.

SECOND: We know that the Federal Reserve

Bank and Federal Reserve Board, although closely intertwined with the Treasury of the United States, are not Government institutions, but mere pawns on the chess board of the International Jewish Banking Houses. We are fully cognizant of the fact that these bankers robbed the people of America of over 300 billion dollars and never returned it. During the last session of Congress, although our muzzled press, our bought radio, and our monopolized movies lead us to believe that everything went through the House smoothly in Washington, the auditorium rang out with a patriot's loud challenge, "Make the rascals give it back!" But the rascals laughed and did nothing about it but to have the President pass a Decree that permitted them to take even the gold that the average citizen has always considered his right to possess.

THIRD: We of the Coming Christ Democracy have all sorts of records of this predatory element's bragging that, given time, they will become the masters of America as they have become the masters of Russia. A recent Yiddish publication said in that language, "We will yet have them serfs on their own land." Bernard Baruch made the statement, "Europe has a peasantry, why not America?" The woods are full of articles and books which the compatriots of our esteemed Baruch have written about the gullibility of the Gentiles. Heretofore, the Jew has played on our sympathies and posed as a homeless, persecuted orphan. Now that he owns 65% of our wealth, his rabbis begin to talk about a nation within nations.

FOURTH: We know that this element which, by hook or crook, has succeeded in controlling 65% of our national wealth, represents approximately 4% of our population!

FIFTH: We know that Bernard Baruch is the emperor of the United States. If you think that we are stretching the point, look at the syndicated and private articles which appeared in papers all over the land on the day that our "America's best President" went on his vacation. In Massachusetts papers, Barney was lauded and heralded as the Disraeli of America . . . The Holy Monk of America . . . the Governor of America. When in the name of common sense did the American people ask for a Disraeli, a Holy Monk or a Governor for their sacred nation? And, if they ever installed one, was it a Jew? We ask . . . Why was it that Roosevelt, with his Vice-President, his Congress, and his Cabinet, left Washington at the crucial moment of recent history when the London Conference was in session, and, while he sailed his pretty boat on the high seas, Bernard Baruch, a private citizen, was Acting President of America? The case is certainly odious to thinking Americans. (It is rumored about the Capital that Barney sent Franky on vacation so that he could run the country unhampered!)

SIXTH: We of the SILVER LEGION know, as do other Americans, that Roosevelt is not the ruler of America today . . . that he is merely the puppet to Barney's brain-trusts. That even the growling General Johnson is one of Baruch's mannequins. We reserve the right to criticize our rulers. We reserve the right to make up our own minds about their integrity and we do not intend to be bulldozed into an opinion. Neither do we like being called un-American and slackers when we so assert our rights. And, we intend to go down fighting to the last grim man if the coterie of aliens who are now trying to run this country attempt to take these rights away from us!

SEVENTH: It's a long, long story, but briefly, we know that Communism is the blind arm of International Jewry. We have the facts and stand prepared to prove what we say with statements from the pens of eminent Jews themselves. Most Americans know that Trotsky, leader of the Russian Massacres, was an East Side New Yorker by the name of Bronstein, and that Judge Brandeis, together with the late Jacob Schiff, saw to it that he reached Russia safely with a million dollars in American credit so that he could perpetrate his massacres. Few people, however, know the identity of Litvinoff. His real name is Finkelstein. He and Baruch have recently held a private pow-wow concerning the recognition of Russia by America.

We know that the minute that we try to bring these facts and a myriad of others to the attention of our fellow citizens, the old wailing wall is dusted off and the cry "Race Persecution" reaches the throne of the devil himself.

If Communists, at present working from the inside of our Government under the guise of American saviors and patriots, succeed in corrupting our army and navy in the same fashion that they have even now corrupted many State Militia and local police forces, so that you, as a citizen, would be without defense . . . to whom would you turn tomorrow morning if an enraged Communist broke down your front door with a rifle and trotted you and your little ones to the American GPU headquarters? Italy, Spain, Hungary, Russia, and Germany have had to face the Red Spider. They have succeeded in crossing the Atlantic and corrupting many South American countries. If their scheme is world domination and the breaking down of all governments for the installation of Internationalism, are the American people not just a little too ignorantly smug in their feeling of immunity to the International Jewish-Communist Spider?

We Silver Shirts are sounding a tocsin to the American people. We know the immense devilry that is being perpetrated in this our Holy Land. In the next three years, America will have to fight it out with the Reds! The struggle will be bloody, hideous, and of short duration. We Christian Americans are recruiting a Christ Army among our own gentry so that coming sad day will not find us unprepared. That is exactly what we Silver Shirts of America, and particularly here in Massachusetts, are doing this very minute. If this be Klansmanship, Hitlerism, anti-Rooseveltianism, or anti-Baruchcracy . . . it will have to go as such. If this is betraying our country, we will hang gladly.

And, may I explain, for your readers' information, that the "regalia" of the Silver Knights has been pretty well described except for a few omissions. We do wear a gray shirt, indeed, but there is a large red letter "L" over the heart, which stands for Love, Loyalty, and Liberation. Each member has his national number embroidered on his tie so that, should any imposter try to defame the order, his identity can readily be ascertained. May I add that not one per cent of our men yet wear their shirts to work. The time is not yet ripe. Our numbers are known only to our highest officers.

Our motto is taken from the famous words of William Lloyd Garrison . . . I am deadly in earnest, I will not equivocate, I will not play politics, I will not retreat a single inch, and I will be heard!

Booklets on The Christ Democracy are now available!

A new printing is now in stock. All standing orders are being supplied—but great care is asked in their distribution, as supply is still limited.

LONG have men sighed for a system of government that is neither Socialism, Communism, nor Capitalism, and which will allow the people the just reward for their industry and initiative.

The world today is in the thralldom of what is known as the hunger duress! They have thought that they were free, but they have learned that man is not free while he must obey the whip-lash of economic necessity, which says in effect, "You cannot eat until you sell your mind, your soul, and your body to mammon!"

A whip-lash on the body breeds revolt, but no man or system can enslave the mind and the soul without the cataclysmic repercussion which is now reverberating around the world, promising imminent disaster, unless a just system is installed in its place.

The Christ Government is not new! There are records of it in very ancient China. From translations of the Mayan and the Sanscrit come detailed explanation. In the Plan of the Ages it will be given to the world again. It is not a theory. It is coming!

Under the Christ Democracy, the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States will be carried to their righteous conclusion. Crime, graft, and debauchery will disappear, because money and interest as a system allowing selfish profit will be automatically eliminated. It does not change the present plan of representative government in the slightest, nor eliminate existing governmental institutions.

The Christ decrees that Life automatically deserves its bread, as well as its air and water. By divine right, man cannot be denied the independence allowing a free expression of his individuality!

There shall be no levelling of society to one common mean as in Socialism and Communism. Individual rights and individual property shall not be abolished. Individuality shall be heightened and focused toward the good of the State, in a fashion that is exactly opposite to the plans proposed by the forces of Satanism.

The most profound economists cannot pick a flaw in the Christ Democracy. It is the one plan which the predatory group opposes with all the power it may command. It spells the death-knell of evil upon the earth. It is the ultimate and constructive objective of the Silver Shirts of America. It is the essence of the Liberation movement.

wear the prophets' mantles: so be it, beloved, and fortune attend your footsteps.

63 For if it cometh not to man that the choosings and excitings of conquest be his, and his experience be his accolade to eternal splendor, how then knoweth he that he hath an errand unto himself and the times are his testing, whether he is worthy to execute his brevet?

64 Mark ye my words, and stand forth as those who have a goodly seed to sow, fearing no fowler's gun that felleth from the highroad:

65 For it is written that only he falleth who hath given his hostages to folly;

66 He who would conquer knoweth his destiny and pursueth it diligently, perceiving that evil hath no mark for those who seek not carnage yet who give of their dexterity when the fell hour stalketh and saints in the pit do call on them for succor.

67 Go your ways and be wise, but in your wisdom remember. To him who hath born the heat of the fight goeth the cooling beverage and the loud hosannas; to him who hath stolen in the footsteps of cowardice goeth only the carrion spurned at the feasting.

68 Arise and execute your brevets, each man to his weapon, each one to his chariot; I tell you the manna of heaven falleth on him who hath heard the world's augury and made no pretense of dwelling in stout havens while evil stalketh broadly, unchecked by any challenge.

69 Go to, and be instructed. PEACE.

Money is Secondary !

WITH the international jackals in full hue and cry at our heels, the adversary seeks to make capital against us by dwelling with an undue baying on the financial aspects of Silver Legion work. One satrap newspaper makes reference to "this pernicious organization, a sort of receiver for the bankrupt K-K-K, which goes about making militant Christians at $10 per Christian." Naturally, being worth nothing but money itself, it would be the financial aspect which engages at the outset the adversary's attention.

As a matter of fact, again and again GHQ has reiterated that it costs absolutely nothing but Character, Stamina, and Loyalty to correct Christian principles, to become a Silver Shirt!

In other words, it is not a matter of whether or not you have ten dollars, or even one dollar, in your pocket to make you eligible. It is a matter of whether or not you are the type of person who will be a credit to the Silver Legion ranks. It is a matter of whether or not you have sterling manhood and womanhood to give to your Christ, Country, and Constitution.

You are given your National Number and taken into the Primary Councils of the organization because there would seem to be that in your Application which indicates a willingness to serve, rather than an ability to pay.

It is the cooperation, loyalty, and energy of your Soul that the Legion wants in these times of imminent crisis.

The Legion deals in values which Money can neither buy nor command, therefore the contents of your wallet is only of moment to yourself alone.

THE REASON so much emphasis has been laid on the stipulated figure of $10 by its critics since the Legion was called together, is, that if you are accepted and made an intimate member in full standing, it costs Headquarters $10 a year to service you with the proper informatory literature out of The Foundation for Christian Economics, Inc., the educational institution that is responsible for the business affairs of the Legion.

This means that if you cannot command this amount of money for such service—magazines, booklets, correspondence, etc.—that someone else is looked to, to do such underwriting. For this reason are donations made to the War Chest. Out of the War Chest come the sums to service all those who frankly offer themselves as Soldiers of the Christ but cannot aid because of misfortune, or the extent of the Bilking of which they have been victims.

This is not an organization that sells shirts at so much per shirt. It is not an organization built on fancy financial memberships. The men who are journeying far and wide over the several States of this nation, extending the work of the Legion, are doing so at bitter cost to themselves, undergoing self-denial, frequently working at other work, that they may spread the Legion's gospel.

Money cannot buy this type of effort. It is too sacrosanct to be spoken of in the same breath with money.

Money alone is the weapon of the adversary, and practically the only weapon which the adversary possesses.

The Silver Shirts are devoted to a Principle.

It is not for mere showmanship that the Service of the Accolade contains a form of the Holy Communion!

IT IS men that the Silver Legion is summoning, not dollars. Dollars are only a means to an end. True, bonafide postal regulations will not permit of thousands of either free or gift copies of Liberation Weekly being sent out under the second-class postal privileges, for if this were allowed, anyone with a swollen bank roll could tear lists of subscribers out of the telephone book, pay for their subscriptions, and thus establish a ready-made circulation.

To meet this quite legitimate stipulation of the post-office, The Legion says to the perspective Silver Shirt: "Pay for your own magazine a mere dollar at a time. One dollar buys you your own weekly copy for two months. At the end of those two months, send in another dollar. Thus by the fractional payment method, the cost of GHQ servicing may be forthcoming."

BUT in the larger sense, the time is at hand when great numbers of affluent people are going to realize that it is from the Horde of the Silver Legion that their greatest measure of personal and property protection is coming and as they perceive it, underwriting funds for the wholesale work of the organization will accrue to it in sums beyond counting.

It is because the greatest strides in Silver Shirt work to date have been made possible through sizable donations of affluent supporters, that the adversary has not been able to squelch its activities. It has no great property or fiscal stake to intimidate. Sufficient unto the hour have its needs been met—and they will continue to be met in ways outside the enemy's psychology.

Give $10, $100, $10,000 to the War Chest if you can—but remember that you can be a Silver Shirt in highest standing without the payment of a dime, if you can qualify in true Christian Principles!
