THE LOST ROAD Androgynous Unity The Way of Generation

by Gladys I. Spearman-Cook

Is it a Lost Road or is it a myth?

THE WRITINGS OF THE SCRIPTURES, Philosophy and Mythology breath of purity and androgynicity, and advocate to man that which was, and still is the only road. Yet we take all of this in Word and say how wonderful, pride ourselves on our intellect and wonder why not any of it works out as stated, even though we would favour at least the purity if not the androgynicity.

Androgynicity refers to soul characteristics being of both male and female embraced in one individual; that which came from the hermaphrodite, became of the duad, stagnated into chaos, and has been wandering ever since. An hermaphrodite is an individual in whom are united the properties of both sexes, which became separated, and through the lack of proper guidance have been in the marches of hell. Is this the meaning of Christ going down into Hell? The Christos blood that is being crucified by the world? This article is intended to be very forthright and right down to the marrow, but its intent is to help answer many questions. It is not intended to be bewildering or even alarming, and certainly not spectacular. It was a question put to Ra-Men-Ra during one Sunday evening lecture, that, on being recorded, inspired me to grapple with this problem. Sitting amongst the students was a young native from Ghana, one studying at the Bar for law. But like, not only young Africans, but also other young men, he finds the same problem that has been besetting those who are studying the mysteries, the mind tired, tense and sparse, sex in abundance, and a highly strung state of nerves. Though in the case of the young African he had perceived the wisdom of control and was seeking to obey many rules advised by the Teacher. But in the case of many other students it is often abandonment resulting in breakdowns, drugs and finally Schizophrenia.

Ra-Men-Ra has ever advocated abstinence for the student who is seeking into the spiral of ascent, particularly when in the Mysteries; otherwise disaster is bound to follow, and furthermore that is the only road eventually for all men, and will be the means of solving all problems and inducing into the soul the mind attributes they are seeking. Even the Mysteries talk about the Cross and Serpent, the Rose and the Cross; while all apply to the Mystery of the Serpent Fire that has, and still does more than ever, sting men into madness.

Aquarius—The Age of Mystery

THEN you might say leave such things alone. But how can we when the age of Mystery is upon us in the form of the Aquarian Equinox? Aquarian constellatory Lords are ruled by Saturn and connected with the outer world planet of Uranus which are sending powers to earth to help man digest the wisdom left in Pisces, which was ruled by Neptune and Jupiter. Thus there is much to contend with and can only be met through the wisdom of the Mysteries. Aquarius is the complete polarity to Leo, the age of Atlantis. So there must be investigation since religion is such a failure, being the misguided conception of the Piscean depth of Cross and Crucifixion.

The Birth of Manhood

THE simplicity and beauty conceals yet emphasises the real wealth of Man, Nature and the Cosmic Energies. The human sees not his original God-root, but at one time Nature was the garment of Spirit activated and motivated by the Sperm Seed, which whether in man Star or Sun is of the Unknown Creative force, that produces the Manhood, the true Mind-son, and the Mother is raised up through her travail, Psyche reborn. But this god-creative energy was misused hence the picture on Page 3.

Editorial Fear of the Occult

OCCULTISM is not the fearsome word it has become by reputation. The word means hidden and it refers to the hidden past wealth within mankind. Reincarnation is accepted by all who seek into real spiritual wealth, yet the width of implication is not generally examined and understood. Past lives are as the strata growth as in the text of Geology. Right in the bowels of the Earth lie great pockets of Oil and Gas, of such value that we cannot estimate its real wealth. So too are there metals and riches that would change national economies overnight. But most of this hidden wealth has been unthought of and even now is untapped. Immediately such is discovered the whole surface undergoes a violent change as derrick after derrick is erected to drill and test the most likely spot.

What man does not apply to himself is exactly the same analogy. Hidden under his earth surface or personality character lies untold wealth. But many many lives separate the present personality from those of the past, and in between those of great Wealth are various curious and very destructive rebellious life-personalities, which need to be faced and conquered otherwise not only do you lose the wealth of those old lives but the present life invariably suffers, because it cannot harness the rebellious past personality.

The time is here in this Age when all the past must be revealed—the age of Relativity—and the only way that mankind will be able to start mastering the past, as it awakens within him tendencies and feelings that he had not been aware he possessed, is to study some knowledge which will at least give him sufficient understanding to be alert to face his own self.

THIS is the True Road and Royal Road of Mysticism and the only way whereby we can attune ourselves into the eternal Law of Change. This too is not faced, and the greatest reason why many fail to fulfill the course that they were once so enamoured with. Just as a country is unaware of its geological wealth until there has been a seismic survey or some other method of search, so too a person is equally ignorant of his past lives, and in fact is only conditioned and born out of the past few.

The vast majority are hidden below the surface or personality character and stay that way, and such are content to "fire" along jogging away at half the cylinder strength. Their characters are only made up of the past few lives and to this they cling tenaciously and fight all who seek to take it from them.

He who is determined to fight and pioneer, and puts all his trust in his Teacher knows of an absolute certainty that he will undergo a complete character change. As he commences his path he will acknowledge that he is only responding to a quarter of his past and will seek to alter as each life is resurrected through the delving into the wisdom. So from merely responding to a dozen lives he suddenly becomes a manipulator of 100 or more.

Naturally a complete mixed 'bag' will arise, all of different countries and races, all of different tongue and creed, and some in the past with Intelligences far beyond our present understanding. To unite all these the true Initiate must seek to build a present mind state receptive to the mind Intelligence that used to command the body with such a clarity of thought and force. But it is of no earthly use to seek to use the modern intellectual text-book brain mind and interpret and mould the cryptic Intelligence of that Ancient Past Life. Such a life only used the epigrammatical phrase and hardly found the multiplicity of words of use, relying on the intensity and simplicity of a mind vibration to receive and know.

Thus it is why Occult Language is purposely couched in a way that is cryptic and epigrammatical, for the very ancient wisdom, that coming from those ancient past incarnations, can only be understood in this light. It is this language that is the ONE TONGUE of the Bible and other scriptures. All this proves very surely the vast necessity of change when any start to seek into their

This is the reason why fear is with a soul because basically it cannot tolerate the swift tide of continual change and find the daily revelation of old character growths too much to stomach. This is why many shut their ears and minds to new truths and refuse to even accept the first elementary truth of reincarnation.

There is no unknown other than the strata growth within man, for if he could harness the inner element Fire within the bowels of Earth and turn such into a radiance of life-giving energy, far from being a disunited self-grabbing animal turmoil he would become a radiating source of Divine or Cosmic Energy. As within Nature so within Man as he is made in such image.

This is the Son of Man which has been the eternal promise down the Ages and which all prophets foretell. This is the final consummation of the Christos Awareness, the sum total of united Knowing. But all begins from being prepared to enter the swift stream of dynamic change and face the darkness of the Unknown, the Mysteries of the multiple self.

This is the task of the Pioneer, The Seagoat, the one who is prepared to do anything to aid the greatest of all Cosmic Laws, the inevitability of Change. They do not seek to first interpret the why and the wherefore, because they know instinctively the importance of immediate action as in a moving tide.

This is the way to harness the mass movement of the Cosmic Rays as they are pouring down into matter, the willingness to be a source of change, even at times to be the instrument to force radical and violent change into that which is stubborn. To be the wielder of the sword. What takes place in the blowing up of the rocks to extract the wealth, must also take place in the geological strata of man, his carnological growth.

These are the pearls of wisdom that THE SCHOOL OF UNIVERSAL PHILOSOPHY AND HEALING fearlessly teach. This is the reason why the ancient myths and legends alone supply the key to understand the roots of our own past natures. The myths and legends of the Bible as well as the Lore of others. Once this wisdom is accepted the fear of the Occult blows away and in its place enters Awe and wonderment, as the seeker sees the laws of God and Nature working side by side through him as the Agent.

HE BECOMES AS A SPIRIT INSPIRED PIONEER FIGHTING FOR TRUTH.

But it is of no earthly use to seek to use the modern intellectual text-book brain mind and interpret and mould the cryptic Intelliancient wealth.

Their whole surface covering or present personality as well as mind state must be prepared for a radical change as the present mind led by the individuality is suddenly widened by the awakening of possibly a hundred or more past lives all of which are going to add their quota to the soul's Geological Wealth.

WITH this once understood immediately it becomes plain why so many refuse to seek into the OCCULT LORE because they are so appallingly selfish, and tenaciously hold on to their pleasures and self-opinionated view-points. They refuse to change. This is the instinctive reaction of the many who see the word Occult on a placard or a heading and the reason why so many avoid the Teaching of the Mysteries.

THE LOST ROAD

So having introduced the reason why the Mysteries must be unravelled if possible, let us try and seek into this by a mode of investigation via fact and fiction; or at least what man calls fiction. Since the question put was in regard to sex problems, we must recognise that this is what the Great Initiate of the Piscean Era strove to straighten, and leave with man a way to redemption. But unfortunately not any of the real works have ever been brought to light, only the conception dictated by orthodoxy.

So first, what causes the sex fire to boil over.

Secondly what should have been, if not of generation by sex?

To answer these we can only travel backward into those things that belong to the road of progress, and which have been the means through time of building up the fact of life from primordial to the present. For man is the past, and all is buried within him. These are part of the questions that are asked.

What activates life?

What causes the works to accumulate?

What causes the passions to boil in some and remain calm and cool in others?

Alchemicalization! whether we accept as scientific fact or metaphysical knowledge.

To try and investigate the fact of this wisdom it would be well to take the mythological, for as life presents its facts to soul investigation did it form into solid creation, and of which a totemic unfoldment came forth. And so as not to lose any point, what is totemic? A mode of growth, via belief and ritual, that brought security and intent.

To most of the ancients it was by a god manifestation which built up a spiral growth until a one God acceptance was established. And even that has its furthered agreement, by being recognised it brought a unity to bring forth greater Forces of Universal activity.

Mythologically it has always been accepted by the primitive, particularly the Egyptian, that man came forth from the Sun and Moon, OSIRIS and ISIS, while RA as the Sun God, begotten from that creation, was ever beckoning them on. The river Nile to them was the continuation of the Great Nile in heaven, the Eridanus. Why? Because there was truth in their belief. The great Powers of Unseen Forces were ever pouring down from this great River of Light, to all Planetary Planes as well as to Earth and her children.

Ra

BOTH these figures represent Ra the Solar Light. The left being hawk-headed as the symbol of Light and Spirit because of the quickness of its motion and the speed of its ascent to the upper regions of the air, and the fact that the hawk looks more intently at the Sun than any other bird, thus it represented the Lord of Vision. Both have the solar disk and the risen uraeus, or kundalini fires.

first place, but went to this state through deterioration, for the black races are black by racial blood not climatic conditions.

The fact that these ancient tribes of Africa believed that they could become white, accounts for the hidden mystery of the mysterious and lost white Races of central Africa, Mexico, and other diminishing Races that are now with us as Native Races today.

The present black races are the degenerated Nations of a past great world, and the belief that they could become white, was the knowledge of their own ancestor creation attached to them as their personalities that were born of those white Races. This applies to the present day man who through Spiritualism talks about guides and helpers.

The majority of these are their personalities that come forward with powers, a certain amount of knowledge, though very limited, and are of different Races. It also accounts for why so much of the greater wisdom is denied by these entities who bring so much of the religious dogma of the ages.

In the myth of the Ancients, it was declared that the white men stood on the other side of the great river of life, and called them to come over as it was better on that side. And when RA appeared and called them, it caused the sun god TEMU to awaken out of NNU, and a new figure of life came forth.

This was the progress that was made on the totemic tree of life, and is pointing out how man came forth with personalities attached that would lead him onwards until he could, through mind unfoldment, absorb all into a oneness. And here we are perceiving what is advocated by Orthodox Religion in the birth of the God in the womb of the virgin.

For the mythology of Ægypt has been copied all through the ages, and was taken by Rome and compiled in the same way. In fact it is a totemic increase on the Pole of survival, which literally links with the Solar Pole of the world and will be the means of man eventually coming to the truth. It is the power that comes via this Pole, that builds the inner fires that bring forth the mind of man within his own womb of creation.

But it is not this that causes man to boil over, but those creations that he brings about during the weaving of the ages.

So by looking into the intricacies created through the ages we may be able to see what can be corrected, and how and why we do boil over. The only way we can delve into these personal intermeshes is by seeking into what was left with man, as guiding points, by those in the beginning who were less embroiled but were our own ancestors, and are still with us today as states of diverse creations that sway us hither and thither.

Species in the Blood

TO state alchemicalization, which is quite correct, is not entirely sufficient; the question should be what does the alchemicalization meet in the form of species within our blood? Surely those states of personality, which, when fed by present states or conditions, come to the fore until we can learn to recognise and control them. (See plate on page 4, cols. 2 and 3).

But how can we control them if we do not know how why and wherefore?

Thus here we can see how we get the state of black and white as polarity of continuum, and how we are also made up of all those other states of the past which today have lost their purpose, and merely result in the myths that so many condemn.

Since many cannot even accept some of the simpler truths that the deeper wisdom advocates, by continuing with these ancient facts it could reveal those inner states that writhe and boil and prove that that which we put down to the Mysteries as upsetting our personal equilibrium is not the Mysteries at all but of our own past discordant states that link with these simple truths.

The Ancients on their totemic path as well as seeing his first God, RA, also beheld six souls coming forth from the genesis of Nature through the breath of life. These were the seven Gods linking with the seven Planetary forces, that linked with their own seven natures to be brought forth and developed. The six that came forth in differentiation and the seventh in solid form, with one of the Gods called SHU as the God of breathing force aiding all to come forth.

These souls were not wrong in their mode of belief and literally give of a truth that we have forgotten, or perhaps cannot believe. All men that

Man's Creative Gift

AS equally as great as is its power to create so is its power to destroy. Here the sex-fires have so boiled over that their misuse is destroying the sensitivity of the higher testes. When a soul has sought whether in this life or a past to live a celibate life and build the mind to be a vehicle of the Spirit there cannot be any returning into the physical ways of generation. If such in fact happens then this picture portrays what will take place. All the purity (the white horses) of the sea foam (the sensitivity) becomes defiled and destroyed by the beast of lust and animalism.

give some thought to this matter are aware in some way or another, that there are great Powers that descend in and around the Earth. But where the primitive man had more than man today he knew and believed, and drew those powers to himself, as well as many using of their power and force by studying them, obeying them, and often mastering them.

Yet if we could really accept the fact that continuum has ever been, we will have to accept that these states belong to our own inner being, and of which those personalities were created from.

Thus the Mysteries are nothing more than our own inner history, and hold the idiosyncrasies of our present day blood states that cause our emotions to boil over when brought to a state of alchemicalization in the moving creation of relativity.

But one thing we must see, the primitive did really carry out the command to replenish the earth and subdue it; and yet again we must not forget that was our own creation when we were young, and those still existing are our brothers.

Those primitives really did believe that by praying to his God or Totem he was truly being assisted and helped. Thus he drew unto himself the great ELEMENT POWERS and established them within his own being. Man prays now, but how many really believe that those prayers can be fulfilled? Not even when completely lost and derelict, so is having to resort to drugs.

The Native had a truth, for man now, without effort and belief, can extract from the breath of the Solar Life all he requires according to his state of animistic freedom, and further, according to his inter-blended intelligence can he place what he has extracted into virilic force and strength.

This is where he builds up his sex fluid containing the amount of qualities he has been able to draw from the Solar life and is the heritage gained from the primitive birth. But whatever he has drawn, whether male or female, there will be the Seed Principle which no man has yet been able to manufacture. This is the one mystery of life that God keeps to himself, yet shares with man by creating him in His image.

The Doctrine of SHU

EVERY man, animal, tree and stone receives the same inflow, but only man by selection. SHU was the God

Shu

THE god Shu of the Egyptian wisdom had upon his head either one or a fourfold ostrich plume symbolising the bringing of Truth and the diffusing of light and he is known as the destroyer of darkness.

who gave this breath for his Father RA to shine forth, and he links with Mercury, and is one of the Elemental Powers divinized as Male. Unless we see this in a simple way, and accept by mode of perceptory reasoning of how these elements became and created, we shall never be able to continue partaking and creating.

For life is still continuing as it began, and will ever go on. So we must see these as revolving forces creating and building life into form yet coming from the beginning when no one can say, we were of these Powers; sparks descending and coming forth with the germ or secret hidden within our forming vestures.

These Elements have since been ascribed to Earth, Water, Air and Fire and have ever continued to build up the soul creation, once solid, by modus operandi, and here is where Alchemy can teach us of the modern understanding of these simple people. That is, if we are not too sophisticated and imbued with drug, knife and religion to behold its ancient depth.

The doctrine of SHU was insufflation of the female element by the spirit of air, and

Truth realised

SUDDENLY the true state of ones self is faced and all the lifeless frozen characters of mind and soul are seen as dwarfs, those parts that have never grown up into manhood. Hitherto the soul was oblivious to his real self and lived in an isolated cave of his own world of self importance out of touch with reality and Truth.

She of the many breasts and the four fold being as the bringer forth of the four elements. Yet all had to pass through the being called man whose furnace creation gives light to the world, and it is here we return to our course after wandering amongst his creative origin, to wonder at those great Powers that had insufflated themselves into man through their agent Shu.

Man—a Being of Multitudes

WE understand that soul, in its animal creation, has passed through the kingdoms of Mineral, Plant and Animal, which became transformed into the human through the Holy Ghost of the Glorious Ones, and as man is now of divine origin. For now he is infused by the one God of the Solar light or Deity Creation, and is creation. Whether taken from a mythological or logical angle, this is not wrong, and only needs a little further argument for one to begin to see light, that is, if they are genuinely seeking by an unbiased mind.

The ancient man once believed and created by fetish worship, of figures and forms that represented their beliefs in certain powers: states that ever drew into their midst their desired belief, consequently they became imaged in that power. And by that belief that the great Elements drew unto them, there became the Ali or Elohim, the divine Masters as well as the time-keepers, who are the makers and creators through their creation in man; with their further birth into the Starry elements as ultimate light creation. The Nature Powers raised up to position on high, as evolved life.

But it must be understood, that although man became created unto this image of that which he set as fetish, these Powers never left or came down to man, man became unto them by the breath from their sources to create of the Seven Glorious ones.

This is the eschatology of the Seven Logoi before the Throne; the seven KHUS with ANUP on the mount in man himself, and all brought about by the Great Mother.

now being created in his image. Thus man is his journey through Time is a being of "multitudes," which is what he is now having to contend with in the present age, and draw into a ONENESS of ANDROGYNOUS TEXTURE.

Man now receives insufflation by these Great Elemental forces by and through the Solar injunction, which now as SHU or air of life make entry as the Ruach, to enter down into the generative caverns or furnace and becomes as fluid. It continues to make its entry into the bloodstream in the same way as spirit-soul creation descended. Air, as mind belief in breathing, to become the emotional waters which must now be spun up immediately into mind activity as a force of active creation, or it will become a suppurating force of irritant waters.

The Serpent Apep

THE fact that the ancient Egyptians taught the control of the passions is seen by this plate which is the destruction of the serpent Apep by Horus the risen Mind Awareness that is now the directing ruler of the soul.

But what now is as generation was never intended to be, for man on his journey created of this way, so this way he must go, but act in deluge and disease.

There are those who are awakening to this truth, for here we have a young African, he of the ancient heritage, recognising the value of conserving his Serpent Fire, and placing the question to the Teacher as to what he should do to control the overflow. This is where we now go into the heights to understand of the depths, which, as a unity creation is the foundation of the Universe. Then if it is as vast and royal as those few words can convey, we must now try to comprehend in the light that now follows.

When Air as Serpent or Elemental Air is breathed in by man, it contains the germ or seed of Him, the Solar Deity or Great Anup, and is the potential Christos fluidic element of fiery life. For all the twelve Heptonomis of Seven Logoi are contained in the Solar Spectrum enveloped in the stream of Waters that flows down to man as air. Yes, even unto the Uranian fire and Neptunian black fire which is the super-lunar force as the dark side of the Moon.

This may sound extremely complicated and imaginative, but man has not yet realised of the wonders that flow in and expand his spirit through the wisdom of his past primitive ancestors. What he partakes of today, the practical ignorance exists in the modern age when simplicity was his ruling virtue. Now, unknown to himself, he is supplied of that wealth.

The imitations once drawn from those Great Powers are still with man, who on taking the inflow is near spinning it up into moist air, and when wise, as the Word and intelligent thinking. For the air, in entering into the bloodstream, alchemicalizes in its first stage into fluid, to finally enter into the caverns where the internal fiery element of Solar Life begins to seethe and boil as though seeking to become free.

This is the Christ in Hell, accepted alike by Religion, Medical and Mythological. But it is here that the secret is revealed, and one that not many at the present are willing to share, yet they would seek of the prize that results from the labours that were once allotted unto Hercules.

The Key is Embracing Abstinence

If the soul labours with abstinence and spins with intelligence and activity the fiery element enters back into the bloodstream as lymph, dances on the lymphatics as Elixir and enters into the spinal column as moist air, to rise as Kundalini fire to renew the mind and Third Eye. Clouds of new life to descend again as dew or rebirth.

But what if the soul does not alchemicalize as Solar and Lunar in unity, and bring forth the son or mind birth? This is where we bring an answer to the young African student. The soul allows it to remain in the lunar through lowered ideas and beliefs, causing the seminal vessels to fill up, and man is besieged by desire with the mind eventually suffering.

In this School we have met all stages and states of growth; but no one enters as group student but who believes in a purpose of unfoldment and is willing to embrace abstinence. A number have had college education with the same sad experiences belonging to all human life, and have sought of wisdom to solve their problems; and WE HAVE.

But it is of no use unless there is a genuine purpose whereby the soul has a greater ideal than just grasping wisdom, and becoming glutton with knowledge which takes place in academical tuition.

By moderated and controlled diet the animal heats are reduced, so that a fiery current can radiate through the blood and lymphatic channels. (See diagram of the blood circulation on page 3 of May 1963 and article in August 1962). But again I repeat, this is of no use without the mind has set its purpose, for if there is a wavering to and fro on a desire basis, the metabolism of the liver will suffer through food, and mind will suffer in the case of sex.

I have perceived that in the case of academical education,

A Little Dash of Taste

The Spirit of Air

HERE Mary the intuitive virgo mind birth, now infused with the Spirit of air that has descended into the soul's being, becomes radiant in awareness as the million eyes of the peacock the new garment of sensitivity that the soul has earned through labour and sacrifice. Now the white Vulture wings are its mind power being able to be the eagle in the abstract and the Reasoning mind that 'eats' up that which should 'die' and change within the soul.

where intense swatting takes place through text book knowledge and no inspiration born from solar firing, all turns to fluid in the seminal base impoverishing the bloodstream; and most of all, it never becomes fired up into an airy current of moist air.

PAN the Satyr of Love sets the mind adancing.

This means the mind is never replenished, and what light is created goes out. By continual rising as into the womb of Mary, the 6th house of the zodiacal chart, the intuitive mind is replenished as verified in orthodox religion. Mary ever giving birth to the future son of God; he that is being imaged in the ways of the great Elemental Powers to enter into the Starry heights, the planes of the Gods.

After all has entered into the womb of creation, it begins to rise up for its journey unto the Hill Calvary via the field of Golgotha. The diminishing of old memories to reach the heights of a greater understanding in the 10th. This is man being stretched on the cross of life, and changing the old skull for a new creation of belief; this is involution and evolution, for man is mind and mind alone.

Reaching the heights is the involution of all gained; whereby personal states become of the mind memory as experience gained; and the irrational is continually transferred to the rational until oneness is achieved. The buddhic plane of the enlightened one.

My experiences in this direction as a teacher and expounder of these beliefs and ideals, has been vast and demonstrable, for I have seen a young man, with a most brilliant mind and superlative qualities of healing and bone manipulation, turn back on himself because he listened to evil elementals, and become raving with sex desire.

Yet when under control, and fully advocating to others of his belief, was brilliant and extremely balanced.

Which was the right creation?

Are there not many who are seeking for such as one of these sons of God to help them solve their problems?

Man completely swamped by the commercialism raping the world as it was 2,000 years ago, is now being led and betrayed into deluge;

but the promise now is not by water, but by fire.

The fire of sex; and we have not yet started to see anywhere of the worst, which is yet to come. (See plate cols. 4 and 5).

This is the beast of the world to be conquered. Drugs are only killing the mind and disorganizing the glandular functions, therefore the answer is PURPOSE, WILL and CREATION.

The Hidden Key

BUT to fulfill the article to the very full, let us get a further idea by what takes place in the determined mind of the Great Mother, Mother Nature. In old folk tales of mythological belief much can be found to verify that which I advocate. For it is in these ancient myths, as age old wisdom established by Sages, is found the hidden key, of which we must not underestimate.

For I have driven into wild parts of Scotland at the base of the mountains by Glen Coe, where the air was so wild and untamed of Elemental Powers, as to make one terrified and seek quickly for more cultivated atmosphere.

These are the powers that man can draw unto himself once he is under control for in these wild spots where man is not now destroying one could feel the elementals pressing in, those that ever live in the stratosphere of man's creation; for some very dreadful slaughter had taken place in the past around these wild and rugged heights, which, if captured through the breath and tamed by solar interblending with man's own alchemical retort, would bring new life to the Nation. But man clings to the crowded cities. These powers are new but very old.

The soul by right of heritage is a temple of the Christos, but the road is dual, for God and the devil walk side by side, and must become united by God knowing the devil and the devil knowing of God. No greater advocator for this was there than Job of the Holy Writ, for as this is of a personal matter, so is it a Cosmic.

It is not the wisdom of the scientists which is going to solve the problems of this world, but the myths of the Ancients, which the scientist ignores. For out of his sophistication he turns all back into problems of multiplicity, which is actually turning all into disintegration; the real answer is oneness or wholeness.

I and my Father are One is the very crux of what man is seeking, NOT I and the scientist are one.

It is not easy now to be able to solve the depths in the ancient myths because they have become so covered with layers of materialism in man's repeating, that man is literally lost to the interpretation that can solve his own ancient depth where lies his original causes. For instance when they refer to the little men who had webbed feet like a goose or duck, they referred to a state that originated from a period of SEB growth, and has never changed in the rock foundation of the soul.

This still remains with the soul as ancestor states of psychological idiosyncrasies, and are being refired by the Elements which are attracted by phenomenal laws to mate up with their lost elements in the soul's rock or Saturn growth.

The Witchetty Grub Clan

In the ancient myths it was considered that when spirit children were derived from the soul, who was held to be inherent in the element of water—or still in the emotional state of growth, they had become a member, or the soul was created of the water totem; emotional tree growth, and were referred to those of the quatcha totem.

The myth goes, on that one day a lubra of the Witchetty-grub clan, or fire element, conceived a child while she happened to be in the neighbourhood of the water locality;—or in a state of emotional movement gave birth to a fiery idea. This tribe were those equal to the witch doctors who had fiery powers to infect or aid others, and is referring to one of the twelve tribes within the soul, of which the soul is being created of the twelve elements.

It is these states that are at variance that cause the psychological and pathological disturbances that continually take place, and when dissected by these ancient myths, can be seen to be one of the soul's ancient causes still prevalent in an ancestor state that is influencing the soul at periods.

The myth continues that the female, negative and not gestating, was taking a drink near where the spirits dwell, when she heard the cry of MIA, MIA! get fertile, get fertile. She was not anxious to have a child, or change to serve and aid, but preferred to be glutton and lazy. Thus ran away, but could not escape, for she was fat and far too well nourished and glutton of thought by element creation; therefore the spirit-child overtook her and was incorporated. In this instance the spirit of emotion, or water element, became of the Witchetty grub clan instead of the water spirit, and explains of the changes that take place, although we fight and refuse.

These old legends and myths are similar to the Bible, which again has of legends of Cosmic essence of purpose, and is apt to steal and arrogate what is not theirs by right of conquest. But by fill of stealing are forced to assume what is an added burden of responsibility to now labour and bring into birth, or suffer.

A true son born of fire is seen in the son of Mauike who received a spark of fire. This spark, sent by the Alcheringa or Elements, was blown by the north wind from the place where fire is kindled, the great celestial North, the pineal virgin spark, or norm within the head cavity, and passed down through all the natures to the seventh. But only after the soul had breathed in of the breath that contained the Essence of the great Heights, and by study of the Word and heart intent, be able to winnow out this fireball, or idea, from the heights.

That which can break up the old earthy state of the soul and establish of the spirit, which eventually results in I and my father are one—oneness or awareness.

Although, as this fireball fell to earth, it caused a great conflagration, and when it subsided a creature issued from the ashes, which equals the wisdom of the phoenix. This represents one of the ancestors of the fire-totem attached to the soul

The Pit of Desire

WHETHER he wishes to accept the Wisdom of the prophets and Teachers of the Ages or not, one day every soul must face this serpent pit and become determined to master it. Though it appears a mere shepherd boy unarmed, in fact it is he, the simple youth as a David, who relies on his Crook and becomes the Victor, the crook being the upwards ascent up the spinal column and over the head of the seminal fluid, the generative energies becoming the vision and intensity of the Third Eye.

creation and points out the way of the spiral revolution that must ever repeat; the same applies to the soul.

But for the time the soul is closed down and feels all lost; sometimes thinking has been down by arrogance and will intent; a lesson is needed to teach that soul a severe lesson for it has not learned the way by the elemental heights of ages past becoming further unborn through the fire descending in the Breath from heaven.

And this soul would now have the right to give unto others of the word, for God was being made flesh through the word radiating as practical

Ra-Men-Ra's Astrology Lectures

(All genuine guides are trying to bring man into contact with the Master's Realms. It is their purpose to help man out of the density of matter that he has fallen into. They come in answer to the cries of suffering humanity.)

All souls on earth who practise entire self abnegation and offer themselves wholeheartedly for service gradually make a direct contact with the Master's Realms. They follow the same path as Jesus, Buddha, Gandhi, Confucius and others, who have now become part of the Wholeness. The name Ra-Men-Ra means God-Men-God. It is the wisdom and experiences of this wholeness which is directed to the earth through the name Ra-Men-Ra and he tells us to judge him by his works. Editor).

WE SHALL GIVE MUCH TIME TO THE STUDY OF ARIES, IT being that of the pioneer. Wherever the Sun be placed in this sign, does it indicate the purpose of the pioneership. If placed upon a house without the Sun therein, will also indicate that purpose. For instance, if on the 2nd house, you will study, and master, actions to do with delights that the soul has never probed into before; where the soul must put into the 'royal' delights. Upon the 7th, pioneership of unity in all its degrees; on the 9th house, that of the deeper wisdom, or inner mysteries.

So to follow of this wisdom, recognise that of the Heavens portraying unto man—which took picture-form in his eyes,—as that of the Heavenly Host Becoming, from the shape and form, being created by man in his heavens, or mind. So whatever is coming into your being will be coming down from your own heavens, mind of understanding; and would be the incoming Christos or Holy Ghost of the Higher Hosts, Archetypes; and you would place it into shape and form according to your layer of outlook.

The Woman is the Feminine Principle with the Seed within her Womb, both of Matter and matter; and as it is crushed, it brings the dying Christ into resurrection and rebirth after the death. So the Feminine Principle is the great Harlot of Life, and within you, the very depths of that Feminine Principle is the Principle of Life, the Masculine, the Godhead hidden within the very depths. And as you wrestle with the feminine principle of life, nature power, do you extract the Godhead, and you bring the Christos into birth, which is the light thereof.

Aries is that of the head and mind, and the Gospels say, I have exalted thee, O Father.

In the sign of Aries the Sun is exalted, particularly in the 19th degree. It is the fall of Saturn (Satan), for now the Lord of Hosts is exalted in the mind, or purpose of new creation. It is the detriment of Venus, being a lustful sign; as David on his first perception of Bathsheba, desired, and not Desired. He was not ready to transmute of the gift into Grace (that of the Godhead). So if you have Aries upon the 1st house, then all you have gathered in the whole round or wheel of the chart is now in its fullness in your mind, or going forth as the pioneer.

If Aries is on the 9th house, then you have gathered all into the purpose of the higher mind, and all you would receive as the gifts from spirit would be put into Grace, the Grace of the Wisdom; and being so high, it would indeed be of the higher Wisdom. It would not be as David placed it—in lusting after the woman, the feminine self or desires, which brought into birth a stunted child.

Aries has been represented by the cock, indicating Abraxas the undisciplined power, denot-ing boastful or fighting qualities, that must be transmuted; so whatever house he be upon, apply this discipline to the purpose of the house. But more generally is symbolised by the ram, being in nature rash, hardy, springy, lascivious and combative.

Do not expect to see this Ram in the heavens; but when the ancient astrologers first saw this group of stars, they were so near to the Heavenly Hosts that they had not put on too many 'coats of skin'; they had not become worldly. So when they received the knowledge—which they received in just the same way as you might, when sitting for development—they had the wisdom impressed upon them.

This was of the ram, the beginning of time, the Godhead,—to be brought into the lamb as white as driven snow, through transmutation. The soul that was ever going to sacrifice different states of itself, sacrificing the animal self and bringing the SPIRIT INTO BIRTH.

Pioneer for the Winged Mind

New Series

During the next few years short extracts are going to be printed from the Astrological Series of Lectures which were given at the School of Universal Philosophy and Healing, the Publishers of the Occult Gazette. difficulty. You are becoming an evolved soul, ready to give nourishment to the world.

EL SEDER, The Woman freed, or Feminine Principle reformed, in man's freedom from delights, unto mind Delight of Word. The man now has gathered of will, strength in himself, and is able to control himself as the power comes in; as he seeks to be a healer, teacher; he no longer becomes a victim to the conditions of others.

The constellation passes vertically over Britannicus every day and is easily distinguished by its five brightest stars forming an irregular W. The brightest star in the left breast is named SCHEDIR, which means "that freed;" the next, on top of the chair named CAPH, which means "the branch." She is highly exalted, and making herself ready, as her hands are no longer bound, and are engaged in this happy work of producing. With her right hand she is arranging her robes, or garments, while with her left she is adorning her hair, or strength, as growth of mind. She is seated upon the Arctic circle, where the snow moves down south, and close by the side of Cepheus, the king.

You are now ready to fight the world; because you have been absorbing the feminine principle, your nature power of life, and you have brought it into the Christ within yourself; the powers of life.

If you can see her as the Harlot becoming redeemed, and your harlot, now as the Madonna carrying the Child, you will also perceive her as "the Bride," the Lamb's wife; the heavenly city; the new Jerusalem; the "partakers of the heavenly calling." He who has redeemed her is "the Lamb that was slain."

This is the sufferings of the Christ Rays or Solar Rays, as the Feminine Principle is reformed from Delighting, and brought into the Risen One. But as above so below in man who is the pioneer for God's son to come forth.

So the Christ Power or the Solar Rays poured into the earth as the Feminine Principle that of the Spectrum, and is the Red Ray which is known as the Ray of Mars. You know now how to draw in of the Orange Ray; you are able to get a simpering of it; but the majority draw in of the Prana, which is the Red Ray.

Man cannot close his eyes to the testimony of the Scriptures—that Israel, the Feminine Principle is the Bride to the Lamb. When you have all these and more,—why should you read the Church into these ancient prophecies, which was the subject of a long-subsequent revelation, merely because, in Ephesians, c. 5 v. 25, Christ's love to His Church is compared to a husband's love for his wife?

"Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church."

There is not a word here about the church being His wife. On the contrary, it reveals the secret that the Church of Christ, the catholicity, is to be the mystical Body of Christ, part of the Husband. That is,—the very Body of Light, which you are going to absorb and bring forth within you as strength, is going to be the very church within you, and your feminine principle is going to be married to the Christhood within your own being.

"One new man," whereas restored Israel is to be the Bride of this "New Man," the Bride of Christ, the Lamb's wife.

The very revealer of the glory. Blessed indeed it is to be united to Christ as a wife to a husband; but more glorious beyond description, to be "one" with Christ, part of His mystical Body; absorbed into the whole.

This, then, is the truth set forth by this enthroned woman, the Feminine Principle as Binah, understanding, now Isis decked with jewels of Wisdom. The blessing founded on Atonement, discarding in self-abnegation, and the Redemption brought by the Lamb that was slain; the Christ that became the saviour, in that which went down into darkness of hell, with that desired, and caused the soul to Desire the Light. Thus continual death and re-birth through the Redeemer on all phases and planes.

As you take in the wisdom it is going to go down into the hell of yourself, and you are going to put it into operation; you are going to wrestle with the power. And this is the Christ, the great Principle of Life, or the Solar Rays which, in the beginning, are black.

The Solar Light as it comes to the earth is not brilliant as you see it. It is a Black Ray,—blackness to be brought forth in striking the earth and rebounding through the maelstrom, the outer spheres. It opens up the light that man has found in his awareness; because the maelstrom or the astral planes reflect man's mind as a mirror; and when these Black Rays strike the earth, they bring forth the light according to man's own unfoldment. And that was where the Solar Rays did not come into life until after the third day.

And again it has been proved that if you go outside the maelstrom it is pitch darkness, completely black,—man's own reflection. And this is all in your Holy Scriptures if you could but seek it out; and that is why they are a mystery, and man discards; they are the Hebrew legends of life, handed down to man from the Egyptian legends of life; because Egypt was the cradle of civilisation.

Thus Israel's prayer resulted in a glorious answer;

"Turn our captivity (in the darkness of desire) O Lord" (Word); Psalm 126, v. 4, when they have "sown in tears shall reap in joy; the Lord (Word) shall loosen her bonds (avidya),

Astrological Lectures

ALL who would have a full and comprehensive knowledge of this astrological wisdom, would do well to obtain the full list of lectures as delivered by Ra-Men-Ra in the School's teachings. These to be appreciated have to be enquired into, for they contain the whole of the wealth that astrological wisdom can deliver to a truly zealous enquirer. Not anything was left untouched in this enquiry, and these alone open the way for the mysteries to be enquired into in a safe and sound way. No one need be afraid of the mysteries in the way that these have been brought forward for they are simple, deductive and truly comprehensive in teaching the soul of the greater purpose that can come forth from the endeavour.

and place her (understanding) enthroned by His side (Light)." You were the Hebrews that were rescued, and you became the Israelites as you unfolded through the lives. You are going to turn that captivity of yourself, where you cannot give forth of what you would like to do, into freedom. You are trying to release yourself from all those things that are holding you a captive.

You were the Hebrews that were rescued, and you became the Israelites as you unfolded through the lives. You are going to turn that captivity of yourself, where you cannot give forth of what you would like to do, into freedom. You are trying to release yourself from all those things that are holding you a captive.

So the bonds are avidya, ignorance, your lack of knowledge; and once it becomes as understanding within you, then it is light, and you sit on the right hand of God, goodness.

The Leviathan of Power

THIS involves the destruction of her enemy as we shall see, as we now take of the 2nd decan. (Ten degrees unto each decan).

This is of CETUS, a monster constellation to the south of the ecliptic. It is the Leviathan of Job and Isaiah, that develops and becomes out of control in the inversion and alternation, if not regulated by the Word. It is seen as a gigantic scaly beast with enormous head, mouth and front paws, with the body and tail of a whale.

This is the enemy, desire, over-indulgence caused by the invading of the Waters in deluge, and not being utilised in action of Beauty, Love and Creation of the restored God-head in matter. The Shekinah or Holy Spirit finds no resting place in the involution, thus runs rampant in matter, chaotic.

Cetus is the sea monster that devours, and John is the husbandman in the garden of Bacchus, who gathers of the fruit sown and ripened by the satyr who became the Centaur and then risen man; for, when John sees the New Jerusalem,—the new city of Creation through Righteousness of action, the Bride, the Lamb's wife, or Mary in her radiance of Solar glory,—Satan or Saturn has been bound already.

"I saw an angel (new thought and hope) come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand." The greasy pole, of which there is little or no grip in resistance. And he (man) laid hold of the dragon, that Old Serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, (who forces man to become, in torment) and bound him (in stability and kept him bound) a thousand years; and cast him into the bottomless pit (to perish in quick-lime of sorrow of experience) and shut him up, and set a seal upon him (wisdom) that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled.

You saw the very depths coming down into your midst you gripped with all your determination to overcome of the powers of life. The 1,000 years means through the whole of the quadrature, the 4 elements, the 4 worlds.

This great Sea-monster is the curse of Aries; filled with that of realisation or fullness for the first of the circling, it becomes drunken and refuses to let go, until the red-hot embers burn and sear. This sea-monster is the natural enemy of fishes, or fruits of the sea, wisdom, light. It is situated very low down among the constellations—far away towards the south or lower regions of the sky.

One of the weaknesses of the Aries soul, or Aries on the 1st house, is that when they grip hold of the power when it comes in, they refuse to budge and become stubborn; they are satisfied with the richness it brings to them, and then it begins to burn and sear. The heavens, the sky, links with your mind, which is as a miniature sky.

Its name in the Denderah Zodiac is Knem, which means subdued. You see it pictured as a monstrous head, trodden under foot by the swine,—he who swallowed the "pearl" and turned and rended the giver,—and is the natural enemy of the serpent. The hawk also is over this figure, crowned with a mortar, denoting bruising, and is another "type" of enemy of the serpent; one who crushes in the mortar to reveal.

So Aries must crush down everything that comes up, to find out the fullest extent of what it all means.

In mythology, it is the creature which the sea-god sent to devour Andromeda chained to the rock of man's own creation. So there you see the Feminine Principle, or the Nature of Life, which is chained to your rock.

It is your feminine principle chained to a rock; and you allow these desires to come in, which is, as you see by the Leviathan's mouth, the Fiery essence, which is going to try and devour your feminine principle so that you are not going to have the feminine principle to go on generating with.

But there, above, you see the equivalent. So, as you have the lowest that will come forth, so you see the highest. And this is what is meant by the myths and legends.

Andromeda is the one that is ever chained to the rock of self, and you have to break it away and wing forth the higher wisdom out of the Fiery depths. The rock is that with which you are building the foundation of life, as all becomes covered with verdure, life, activity.

This is of the Beauty being devoured in by delights. It is found in and of downward, southern constellation, bordering on what is called the lower regions. Mira, one of its stars, is variable, typical of the deceived; its name means the rebel, which is typical of the character of the Arian soul in formation, being soul formation with large perceptions, destructiveness and combativeness fully developed from the previous circling.

But then you must have one who is going to break down for new life to come forth.

There you see the whole of the circle which has been right round in the 1st, of the etheric body, in the downward coming into life. In your coming in the evolution, taking on the 'coats of skin,' you were building an etheric body; and when you took on of your 'coats of skin' (which is greater destiny) you were putting on the solid foundation, the body foundation.

So you were coming from the Lunar state, the Moon Globe state, into a solid state of earth. And this is a state of evolution. Darwin was trying to portray it; your Scriptures portray it.

You have been that round that wheel and now you are going to enter into Aries for the second time; and this is easily portrayed in the way in the position of the sun in the chart.

You are now on the wheel on the wheel, and it is your new power, your new rebellious power to come in, to gobble up this power; it wants to be the 'god almighty'; it wants to dominate; it wants to rule others with a rod of iron.

Aries has to learn to understand it must learn the lesson of love. It must learn to be gentle; it must learn to train souls,—not force them;—but be patient.

And although they may be called upon to break old states and bring in a new state, they will do it with the right motive—the motive of justice.

Mira means The Rebel; its name is ominous, for the star is one of the most remarkable.

Now to help those of you who do not understand of the starry heights; they are not stars and bodies as you see them; they are the astral planes; and when you see the spirit world appear to you, you only see a star.

The stars that you are seeing on the maelstrom are the great bodies of group souls, and their light that you are aware of, through your mind unfoldment, is as a star.

This is the new knowledge that will have to come to man to prevent him continuing with the damage he is causing, through his lack of knowledge; sending mechanical devices into the sky to find a body up there. There is no body at all; it is man's own illusion. This is known to your metaphysical scientist,—not the ordinary scientist,—but those who understand this depth, and understand the knowledge of relativity.

So when you see these stars in the sky—as known to the ancients—they know it as the unfoldment of the ancient Egyptians, the Atlanteans; that they were bringing these planes into being.

As you descended down from the Godhead, as a spark, and took on layer after layer, you made the spheres as you came down. Now you are going to travel up through them, which is Jacob's ladder, and the dream of life. You are going to climb back by unfolding the dream, which is the very Word descending down the ladder, which you are going to absorb; and as you absorb of the Word and put into activity, you automatically climb up.

Simply this is simple and logical—if you are not blinded with orthodoxy and old ideas? It must appear to you as an answer to the riddle of life.

Cetus is bound or bridled to the two fishes (Pisces) while the Lamb, the Light of purification, holds the reins with one foot or hand. The reins being Eridanus, the swift-flowing stream of evolving activity; fluidic water of fruitfulness, which is coming into the world as the activity of life.

The very atomic power that has come down is fruitfulness, is activity, which man has only captured as an atomic bomb creation. But if you are a soul, an initiate, working on the higher planes, you are going to climb up the atomic energy,—which is the Christos,—and you will not be subject to the atomic fall-out; you will be able to absorb it, and flourish on it; you will be able to climb on it, because you are absorbing the real power in its right place. The atomic energy will be able to do new things. You will be able to do new things. You will be able to do new things. You will be able to do new things. You will be able to do new things. You will be able to do new things.

Reminiscences CALENDAR OF THE GODS

VERY FEW UNDERSTAND THE preparation of a paper, so they cannot realise that all articles are prepared long before the time of printing. Thus here we are at the last week of March and being called upon to prepare the May issue; yet as the sequel to the hour, I am now penning a greater understanding of the Vernal Equinox.

First let us gain a little more wisdom on the latter, then we shall know that we are not merely talking from an occult angle, but a factual as gathered by the Astronomers over the Ages. The Equinoxes, both Vernal and Autumnal, are the two points of intersection of the ecliptic and equator. Then the days and nights are equal; therefore when the Sun crosses the equator at the north point in the month of Aries, it is termed the vernal equinox. When at the opposite point Libra, it is then the autumnal equinox. Since the Sun travels around the ecliptic belt it means that twice a year the Sun is on the celestial equator, and nearer to the earth than at any other time. Thus showers his blessings in Aries on the Northern hemisphere, and when in Libra, on the Southern.

To the everyday soul who just lives life, this means nothing. To the religious, in Aries it brings Holy Week in Lent. As to why? they have been told so by the priesthood of the religion holding sway at the time. So that has to suffice.

For our second pointer let us turn to Ecclesiastes 3 where we find these words,

"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven."

Then for 21 verses it lays down the how and why-for of human travail that the soul can bring forth of his works. Again, unless a soul seeks deeply into words and their purpose, these also will mean nothing to him. So there has to be some depth and belief, and it is to those I commend this Reminiscence. With these two pointers and the latter, we can come to the purpose of this dissertation; for this is only for the man who is in dead earnest with regard to life and his effort to maintain it to the best degree possible.

How many really know that there is a season, a time and a purpose for everything, which if not carried out, causes the soul to be out in his calendar with the gods.

We have already commented upon the ecliptic belt which holds of the Celestial signs, and of which conform with the constellations that are as planes of light. It is upon these planes that the more evolved entities exist. When these come to the Earth, of which they do occasionally, their task is to labour and send up to those planes new thoughts and ideas so that there is a continual revolving between Earth and Spirit. If this is not maintained there would not be a renewed stream of life to the Earth.

So this alone explains much of why man and beast is in the state he is today. For how many make communication between the lower and upper planes? Yes! Astral and Earth, but not the Upper Planes.

Hence having seen more clearly of the rhyme and reason of linking with the gods as celestial influences, we might also further understand them as the Elementary influences that sweep around the Earth in the daily phenomenon. For they are sending forth to man, as once upon a time man sent forth to them in a way of inducing their powers down into their being. But this is all forgotten, and today the majority leave this to the God upon the Cross, while the

The Neptunian Waters

ON Sunday April 12th 1964 during the course of the usual Lecture Ra-Men-Ra the Voice of the Masters who use Mrs. Gladys Spearman-Cook made the following announcement when he made reference to the Neptunian Waters. These are the powers that issue forth from the 7th Chakra the wealth of the Pineal Gland when it has opened up to receive the inflow of the Christos Waters. The Uranian power referred to is the action of this power which causes the wielding of the Sword, the forcing of decision that constantly separates the sheep from the goats. This was demonstrated by the fact that when these Powers were brought down or activated immediately those who could no longer stay left. These were they whose ideas did not accord to the standard of action now demanded of them to live up to the Higher Principles of Conduct and Honour, in order to uphold the Neptunian Powers in purity.

NOW many a god has been lost under the Neptunian Waters and WE call a god a god when he arrives strives to bring these Teachings. This is the first School that has ever held its road of Neptunian Waters without any disaster, real disaster. Oh yes! they have come and gone, but only because Uranus has said, 'You cannot stay here any longer with those ideas.' That is what happened. Uranus took them out, nobody else. There has not been trouble here because Uranus has said, 'Out you go, no longer can you stay here you have become a nuisance.'

THIS SCHOOL HAS KEPT THE NEPTUNIAN WATERS PURE, AND THE FIRST SCHOOL EVER TO HAVE DONE IT.

STUDENTS who wish to read more of what the Neptunian and Uranian Powers are should read the articles in September and August 1961, where there are special articles on these Planetary Forces. Also amongst others the Waters of Fire article in February 1963 should be read again.

former sits back and waits for result.

Then he wonders why he has to visit the physician to obtain drugs to keep the upper and lower regions of himself intact. Little does he know that having been so self-supporting in the past, to have dropped the spinning of the hub, it has cooled down and gone cold. So life now only flickers on a very dim light. It is this that brings the mind into being.

The Seasons

BUT let us go back to the seasons. These are not just Winter, Summer, Autumn and Spring, but seasons set by these great upper Powers that They could feed and guide man. But also times when man made unity with these gods and drew down to earth streams of Life that fortified their needs.

So it can be seen that these were fixed as much as any other reason, as periods of Time fixed by periods of Necessity. This has linking with man and his intercalary, the polarity of action between the opposite signs, that, in being balanced, bring to man unfolding of his faculties.

The Egyptian knew as much as any regarding this wisdom, and they fixed these periods as Pointers, although of course in the opposite hemisphere; therefore in polarity on a wider scale. Everything being states of polarity which bring friction and action. But the real point is the Pointer, something that has travelled right down the Ages, and been maintained in every religion and cult. Yes! even in orthodoxy; only they altered the day slightly, and gave it the name of a patron saint.

This is where they committed one of the greatest errors; for in slightly altering the day they have misjudged the moment for millions of people, who now are out in their linking with the higher powers.

Hence no true unity, and man today is dead and lost to the greater needs of life, the Seasons, and even God himself.

Man has found himself automatically shunning religion and looking for the real answer. But something yet more subtle than this has taken place; the error committed here according to the Hebraic Laws that continued, that set into operation in Egypt, was that of the sin of Chata whereby they caused others to stumble and miss the mark; thus falling short until things are beyond repair.

It is no good man denying these ancient laws, for they were set by the Prototype, and can only be adjusted, not scrapped. Laws are more than just written word on paper, they are God himself, and accounts for why it was stated in Matt. 5 v 17

Taurus the Bull

"I come not to destroy the law... but to fulfill it."

The reason of this being, that these laws were set by the gods through man that the new stream of life could be protected. That is why Moses was given the Law before the new inflow of Solar life was set.

When man looks at life seriously, that is, he feels inwardly an urge to look more deeply into the purpose of living, the time has come to order and regulate his life; thus conform to the seasons.

Birth of the Solar Deity

THE next point to seek into, is the fact that all this really circles around the bringing forth of the Solar Deity, who is the visible manifestation of God or the Face. Not that the Great Omnipotent Being has not always been there and ever will be, but man, by his recognition, brings His Being into prominence within himself and the Cosmos. Thus builds up the Solar manifestation.

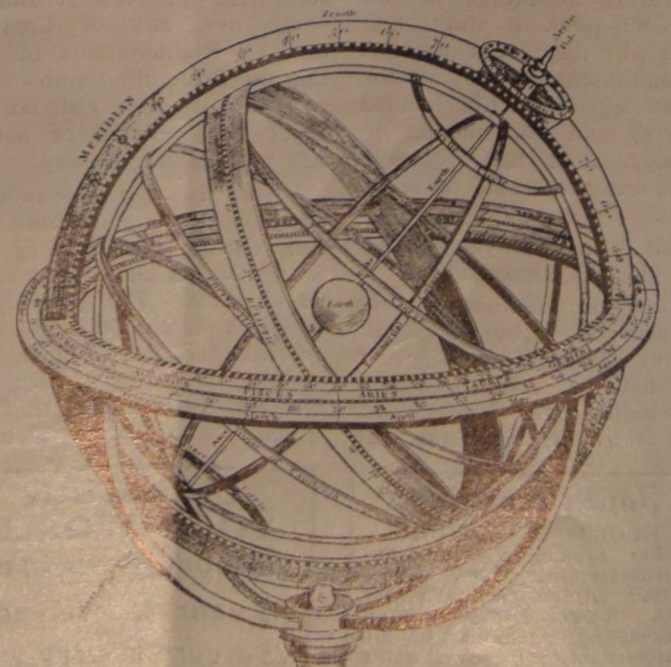

So man, being of the lunar creation, is seeking to be born of the Solar, and bring forth that of mind; the MAN. This is the verging of the Law, so man automatically draws towards its issue. As to how he puts it into operation is another matter.

Until the creature called man perfects this he remains as the lunar, and slides more and more down into the depths, but all the time spinning up on the higher. This alone gives the wide thinking soul of what will take place, a separation in the two minds; the upper and lower. Of which of course there is much evidence at the present moment.

Therefore the soul who suddenly awakens to the situation of disaster, although perhaps not quite in that way of thinking, is the soul who has gained sufficient of the solar impregnation, and by mind stimulation awakens to his direction; and unconsciously seeks of advice regarding a round-about-turn. This is the solar or Christos light now taking the lead.

Once this begins then it is time for the soul, now as a candidate for greater ideas, to begin looking into the means and mode of direction that will help him maintain his new purpose. The answer to this is reliable occult teachings, and learning to understand and obey the Seasons; the laws and ways of the gods that bring a continual stream of revolving power between man and the outer world sources. Yet a great deal more than just these statements apply to the depths that go with them. So perhaps it would be just as well if we look into it a little more, especially where our ancient roots are concerned.

Then he will be able to draw from the gods, and be helped and directed upon his road. He becomes a natural warrior and husbandman, and really begins to contribute something to life. He keeps a humming and movement that helps the plane of earth far more than man realises.

The Armillary Spheres

THE Armillary Sphere is a brass ringed sphere containing the circles of the celestial horizon, equator, ecliptical belt, the tropics and the celestial polar circles. This is the Ptolemaic Theory in which the Earth is represented within the centre of a fixed Sphere.

It was through necessity that man originally formed of a calendar. This he did by observing the moon and sun periods as well as the habits of animals and birds. But unfortunately in the beginning his calculations were not always accurate, and this actually had an effect upon the Pole, and caused his reckoning to be out with the Pole star. Man and the Pole star are very closely allied, although not so much now as he has been; but once he completely held this under control by his direction of will, and it is a vast subject which we could take another time independently on its own.

The Canicular Cycle

MAN has always built up his life by and through the unity with the phenomenon, in the form of Seasons bringing festivals and periods of sacrifice. For then he knew the full meaning of struggling to meet the last inflowing tide that brought the Horæ into being, and of which he could gather at the time when Sirius would top the pole. Apart from the fact that unity between man and the gods would maintain him with a creational flow, that would give him a force of life that would augur security as well as strength and purpose.

This is not paganism, or taking the wisdom away from the Great Omnipotent One, but the abiding by His laws that come to man through different agencies. It is no good man in his present state of ignorance going past his station of understanding, and, what is more, these agencies have their part to play, and are conveying down to man the wealth that passes through their organization. These are the twelve sons created by Jacob in the Book of the Genus, which shows unto man the Prototype prepared.

Man in those days realised that if all this was not maintained in unity, he would be days out with that expected and required; thereby chaos would result. This is where man founded the theory of War in heaven, for he not only brought chaos between Earth and Heaven, but in heaven itself as time became more and more chaotic. It was through this that the priests eventually brought a calendar into action containing 365 days.

Yet even this had a wider extension, for it was the means of bringing into birth the Sothic period; a very important time that gave man untold power, particularly the Taureans. For it incorporated the period of the Exodus, and was known as the Canicular Cycle because of the Pole star being the Dog star in the Canis Major. Naturally it sounds ridiculous to the majority that man can draw power and wealth from the heavens through the starry heights. Man did it in the beginning of time, and still has the power to do so. The real difficulty lies in being able to handle the power when he has brought it down. We have only to realise that he automatically draws his first supply from the Aurora Borealis, and his second from the Aurora Australis. These are the two poles which link with man in the upper wheel and the lower.

When man gets his Chakras working in full unity between heights and depths, he is a spinning top that draws the Borealis powers down through the fontanelle, the circle of Willis, into the Sahasrara the 7th Chakra.

This is why the monk created the tonsure upon the top of his head, for he believed, and quite rightly too, that by flagellation and sacrifice the magnetic fires from the Australis, drawn up from the earth via his coccyx in the end of his spine, would, in unity with the solar, spin right up the spine out through the vertebrae prominens. This, if his thought action was great enough, would go forth like an antennae from the back of his head, and draw down these powers into his being.

This is possible, for I have proved it, and handled these powers, and brought mankind wisdom through them. The through natural means as well as by immaculate conception through the Yod of God. The birth that can take place through the Jesse's rod on the 7th Chakra.

This can be understood if we look towards I Sam. 16 v 10-13 where Jesse made seven of his sons to pass before Samuel, but it was not until he brought forth his "8th" who was a ruddy and goodly child, he born of the solar ray, did he anoint with oil. He was a god-life born within a soul through a Mary or the feminine principle as the mother of a god.

Many a great power and entity has come to the earth this way, and brought untold their worth, and their unseen qualities.

But it can also be seen at such a deep point of my dissertation, of how all men gather up the whole seeds of life within their bloodstream, for all is within the maelstrom as the Hall of Mirrors. Therefore man breathes into his blood of this life force whatever life he is born in. It is a continuum through mind and spirit, thus feeds the soul body. So it can be understood why the soul ever seeks to return to resuscitate and find further growth, which he does through the mind memory of the soul. This is how many re-recognise states and being.

Birth of the Sun

HERE can be seen how it is the practical exhortations and prayers whilst in the flesh and the fullest recognition that it is from the Spirit Planes alone that sustenance comes, that causes the soul to call down the Powers and Vibrations from the Outer Stellar Planes. By the labouring to give mind recognition to the powers that enter as a result, the Solar Awareness is born and the soul raises up the strong magnetic calls from the Nature Powers to blend in mind comprehension. Here can be seen the essential feature for constant obedience to the timing and moments when the Stellar Forces commence to enter the Earth's Maelstrom.

trouble is, like the prophets in the Bible, the people that helped them to maintain the work in progress, could not take the power. This is an age-old story; yet man is ready for these powers, hence his deteriorating state.

Academy of the Masters

WITH this knowledge we may be able to get a better understanding of periods and seasons, and their intent; and how they are repeated cycle after cycle, whereby greater powers become established on the earth, besides gods and goddesses actually coming to the earth to be born power and life to the plane, and remains as a part of the mysteries of life that have, for the time being, been shelved. Yet now it is known that with generative conditions as they are, these will never come again; so the earth will continue from Astral to Earth, Earth to Astral.

The former are those who generally bring some form of genius, thus bring a source or stream of life that feeds the earth; that which floods and uplifts the world while they live.

Often these are very cruelly treated by those of a more conventional turn of mind, but there are many who recognise

One of the most important periods of time was that of Taurus when powers descended on Mount Taurus for a period of years. Then dynamic wealth was earthed; but since it was never woven in as it should have been, Taurus as the Bull has remained the constellatory powers to be brought into action as the generative force of life. This is what has caused him to remain as Atlas or Hercules at the back of the neck that holds up the world. The mind creation to ever be reborn until fully restored into real creative life. (See chart P.11).

It is here in the constellation that the Pleiades reside, and also where the Great Masters hold their Academy. It is from here the directive flow of life is controlled; it is also from here that great lives are directed to the earth that the Earth can be resuscitated.

But of course we must not see this as a City or World, but a plane of mind-light, which would be far beyond the understanding of most, especially now.

In the same way that man found it difficult to pass from Taurus to Aries, so is he finding it difficult to pass from Pisces to Aquarius; and it has left just as dynamic effect upon the world as it did then. Then it was the Exodus, now it is Captivity through the Water-pot being empty at a critical time; and most of all, man being ignorant of the workings of the Masters and the gods.

The Horæ

WE have already stated of the great Powers that descend at the Christmas tide, of which is the birthday of the gods. A time when the Great Solar Deity, as a dynamic force, chooses to enter deeper into the Earth as an Embodiment. But it does not just enter and remain at that, it has to be continued as a source of power-feeding-life for that particular year of seasons.

Thus wise the man who imbibes of the Horæ and follows round and grows year after year under the hand of the Masters and the gods; thus ever gathering up of the Great Solar Deity as a Father God, a continual source of light.

So the thing is, what are the seasons that resuscitate man?

First we must start with the Horæ according to the right we have to receive a new creative source of life for the coming year. Once this is received as a gift from Father Christmas coming down from the North, or the three Wise Men bringing Gifts to mankind as the triune of Fiery Life to the Earth, we can go forth.

This is born between the six hours of one year folding into another, when Virgo rises and kisses her Solar lord at midnight on the 21st of December. Then there are six hours of NO MAN'S LAND. This is why orthodoxy chose it as the birth of Christ, who is the Fiery Solar Life. This enters under the cover of the Life-Seed seeking root within the soul, to be watered in March when the golden Rain begins to fall to water that seed into further life.

This is called the month of Abib, the month of green ears.

Then is the time man buys symbolically Easter eggs, and seeks of a new easter bonnet of mind purpose. So everybody receives of something in some way or another; as to whether he fosters or natures is another matter. But this year is a very special time, for man should have been fully prepared to make the up-rise to make his journey back home.

Yet the question is, how far is Sir B. Lovell right in his assertions, and if so, how much has it deterred the up-rise of man? (See article called The Golden Rain on page 10 of April 1964).

I was shown golden rain falling that held a great amount of lead coloured substance, so I rather think the professor was right. So it means that man is receiving what he had hoped would never reach the earth.

THE TWO FACES OF JANUS

THE 12th HOUSE
concluded from last month
by James Averill

IT is not exactly a case of being a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde—the extremes in being two-faced—but the 12th house Root in its multiplicity of tentacles never really knows which way it is looking in truth and purpose. Time and again has the keenest student of the Metaphysical and Spiritual Pathway come to the Occult Door in its final journey of unravelment and looked into the mirror of self. Up to that point none could have appeared more sincere and earnest in its willingness to be a true worker in the cause of Spirit. None could have worked, so it appeared, more devotedly and loyally to the Cause it espoused. But as soon as it walked through the portals of the Twelfth House of the Mystical straightaway its Fate was unknown even to itself or the Master that guided the soul to the Gate

None who has had the privilege of delineating can fail to recognise this truth. The Occult Path is so very different to others and that is why so many see the word Occult and run like rabbits in their terror at being stripped bare and exposed as to their Nakedness of Spirit-Fire.

The very word Occult shows that that which is hidden and secret is now to be unveiled and the Raw Truth revealed, and until the very last Root has been traced with soul-geological exactness it is never certain whether that deepest tentacle is founded on the wilderness or the Garden of Eden.

If only those who have twelfth house planets can willingly allow themselves to be utterly stripped of all their unlawful possessions, especially mind possessions, then they can become the greatest Teachers of the Journey of Return to the Spirit.

Their true task is one of dynamic success or putrefying failure. The disc is loaded against them because the maelstrom pull against the Spirit ascension is so very strong, especially now man has turned to the path of commercial delight and scientific genocide. But if only the 12th house student could stop being two faced literally and face himself resolutely and truthfully then Jerusalem is His and he becomes one of the few Twice-born souls that have been born. Born into the Solar Birth of Mind radiance.

The Two Faces of Pisces (with its plane of magnetic power,—turned into the circumference of mind ☉ activated by the Solar Light of Awareness, the Pineal infusion.

So great has been the interest in this house—for so many of our readers have 12th house planets—that six charts are to be taken this time as a special article to help students.

The one key to the 12th house of the Mysteries is that the soul has stolen that wealth and has not earned it by prowess; it is a thief. The law demands that it must be stripped of that which another has laboured for and which this soul has acclaimed as its own. Thus it must shed its load as in Ali Baba and the forty thieves.

IN Chart No. 421 this lady has a remarkable map for all her planets are in Virgo which in her chart rules both the 12th house and the first.

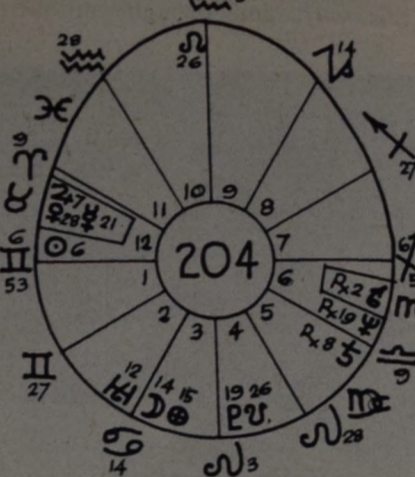

Her mass of planets indicate the building up of great knowledge and experience of earth matters, and depths, which has never been activated through her own struggle to find out the Truth. So all that taken in experience must now be shed and the soul learn to find out what is the truth of its own accord. This she will do by seeking into the Mysteries of herself and start being willing to recognise how much she too is two-faced.

Virgos, no more than any other person is willing to declare she is a thief and a liar etc. but as soon as the soul does pluck up enough courage it will forge ahead. This lady is personally known to me and from my short insight into her character she exhibits all the difficulties of a Virgo.

She will not listen to what is being told her, and when she is told that she must start to carry out the Mystical Teachings which she studies by putting it into practice she just replies, "How?"

She does not believe that it is her own responsibility to pioneer and discover the answer herself and stop stealing the answers provided by another's labouring.

The very attributes she has accumulated as power must be shed and given back unsullied. This is shown by her Path of Destiny conjunct to her Dragon's Head in Libra in the first house. She must be the fighter to establish the spiritual blending or marriage (Libra) and be an example to the Cause to which one face is looking. Alas the weight of self possessions in the 12th, and the blind 'i-know' attitude of Virgos makes her go on her own way—the other face looks backwards.

Her Health will suffer grievously in the end of her life as is shown by Uranus in the house of Virgo in the sign of Pisces the ruler of the 12th house.

Confusion as to what and how service should be carried out is shown by the Pluto in the 10th house and this will make her full of indecision. With 5 Earth planets she will not easily sacrifice and instead cling to the remnants of mind knowledge even to the extent of knowing she will be ill. Why, Oh Why?

And she has such dynamic healing powers and strength, and if she could only strip what a wonderful example to others!

NO. 204 similarly has the Sun, Jupiter and Mercury though in Gemini and in Taurus.

Whereas it tended to be greed for spiritual knowledge that caused 421 to be a prisoner in the 12th,—she wanted to achieve purity—204 has lapped up others mind gifts through sheer inertia and mind cunning. Laziness of mind is his undoing. That is why the position of Uranus in Virgo's house, the 6th, in 421 and in Taurus' second house in 204.

Where Uranus is signifies the real root of thievery or difficulty, and shows how it should be broken up.

If 204 does not learn to generate his mind by hard effort and sacrifice, he will find the 6th house health troubles beset him early in life. He is still in his teens, and must watch particularly the Mars retrograde in Scorpio which uses the generative powers, as well as the Neptune powers retrograde in Libra. It shows that he had a Greek incarnation, and turned his whole attention to body perfection and not mind attainment, wastage of energies in delights of the flesh.

This explains the last of his planets in the twelfth that of Venus, the losing of those creative qualities through possessiveness and vanity. His Path of Destiny conjunct with the Moon in Cancer in the third shows how he must bring reformation to the Mind by plunging into the depths of Tartaros his own past character experiences and being willing to rebuild the mind he exploited.

This one thing a 12th house person must never forget.

If he can face and recognise himself and then turn and become by sheer hard work the living example of the wealth he has stolen, so that he eventually wears that stolen wealth by right of personal conquest and prowess, then he truly is the Royal Janus and can proudly be the Two Faces of Janus in One.

The 12th house therefore holds the whole wealth of all houses, so he who can face and master wears the Laurel of Victory.

NO. 432 is a mixture of prowess and mind achievement.

With Pisces as the ascendant this soul must seek to become a fighter to establish the Mysteries of the Occult the ability to infuse mind with Spirit Inflow. He will achieve this goal by recognising and stripping himself first and foremost of the powers he has taken in the 12th house.

There in Aquarius lie Saturn the Moon and Venus indicating that the magnetic powers of mind illusion through worshipping the power that knowledge gives has given him a serious handicap, the electrical quality of mind is held prisoner in the 12th as the Aquarian planets foretell.

It is through the Gate of Aquarius that all must now travel, the path of Electrical mind,—intelligence and not the accumulation of intellect, education or text-book.

This is what this soul has done and as a result he has come back with handicaps in the 12th and wisdom achieved in the first. Is he now to take the Path of Destiny in the 12th seriously and become a seeker for TRUTH or will the pride of learning and taking the table food of others prowess prove the stronger.

Knowledge and his eager desire to absorb more and more is preventing him being the example his knowledge tells him to become.

His Path of Destiny with all the lunar powers of Saturn and the Moon point that to find the Mind Radiance untouched by earth loads he must strip himself of his stolen wealth and thus be minus the wealth stolen OR labour and fight to find out what he should achieve to become a living example of what has been taken.

NOW to 44 and 366. Both are learning to build into the flesh the true vehicle of Priesthood so that they can become worthy channels for the Spirit Powers of the Outer Elements to flow through them (Leo on the Ascendant). Their methods to fulfill such will be different.

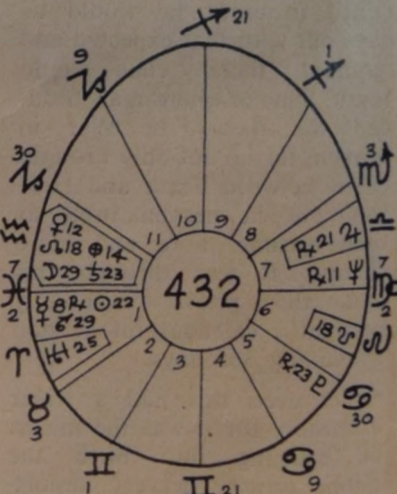

366 has relied on the path of practical knowledge to guide him, and is of the kind of man who has no time for the theoretician and prefers the worker and labourer.

This has much force of truth but the danger is that such a soul refuses to accept any interpretation but the superficial skin of the earth experience and will not listen to the voice of the child to instruct him as to how to use the mass of knowledge and experience that he has built up over the ages. (2nd house Sun, Mars, and Mercury all conjunct in Virgo).

He is immensely proud of the power that knowledge has given him in the material world and this pride will be his biggest drawback.

That he has this gift of experience is undeniable but he will not turn to the Spirit and away from the lunar or psychic plane. He has become vain of knowledge and turned the powers of illumination into illusion. Because he finds it easy to use his gifts in matter, according to his interpretation of what such experience means, he resolutely refuses to be the little child and listen to the Voice of the Spirit, the Solar Light. Worshipping knowledge is preventing the Spirit infusion. This seen in the Path of Destiny in Leo in the 12th.

So it will only be by learning how to be a child and admitting that his knowledge is a real danger, and unless he has the point of Awareness by which to give Life and vibrancy to others, he will only add to their confusion. He must learn to infuse the quickening powers of instant action to the intuitional faculty born out of experience... or the 12th house will be the real hell of seeing all his grandiose plans go awry.

44 has a very strong orthodox and religious approach which is demanding a new birth. The qualities of Leo, Honour, Priesthood as well as conscience should be strong with her as she has the sun in Leo in 2nd. But there is still a very strong logical mind state whereby she is relying upon the multiplicity and not on the Eye of The One Seed of Life.

This is what she must attempt to learn in this life,—find the Spirit Purpose to the knowledge gained so that she can learn how to nurture souls into Life.

It is no use gathering knowledge and multiplying your allegiances if you do not know the Real Truth of how to apply it. In the past this lady has been used by a Priest to be the earthing channel of the Uranian Powers of Perceptivity which would give unto him the powers of being able to infuse life and fire into others. She by being the earthing point has also got this ability but must seek very earnestly that that stimulated into Life is directed in the right direction.

This is what 44 does not know and however much she thinks she does it is not so. Her gift is great, and humility and taking second place will help her.

With Mars in the first house she will find it difficult to control the generative powers, unless she turns to celibacy and seeks to raise them up to feed the mind.

The roots of character—and all twelfth house roots have personal tendencies and habits they certainly don't want to broadcast—can only be mastered in the 12th house by seeking to give a new way of how to use the lunar powers, accumulated.

Both 44 and 366 have one further thing in common the position of their Saturn in the 9th house, both retrograde, showing that the eager seeking to gain experience and knowledge in the past is blocking the mind rising out of the rut of earth.

FINALLY No. 362. It is odd how though each person has had the same motive to take the powers all have taken different aspects of that same power and applied the powers taken to different uses.

application. But this could not take place if the soul was not seeking to control and conserve its own fiery elements of serpent fire; it would remain dead and lifeless.

For instance, if you are already consistent of the fiery element, you are related to the Element of Fire, and when the heights send fireballs to earth as inflow of current through configuration, you can become reborn even though you do not want to change. But much depends upon how you receive and construct in the receiving. No mind construction, it only plays havoc with the soul, especially if you are only of superficial mind purpose; therefore the blow is dynamic. But if the soul is of true purpose, will make a fight whatever the cause, and steady the ideals. So the change in the soul may only be of water to air, or fire to fire in greater quantity of action.

Hall of the Golden Dragon

THIS is intended to answer a question regarding the configuration of February 1962, when then man either took the incoming Fireballs as mind, or it entered into the vehicles as sex desire and the beast will rise up as permanent establishment.

This is the age of dynamic change.

The Golden Dragon

NEITHER prelate nor priest, prince nor politician, earn the right to receive the Solar Child. It is not the rich and gaudy of mind or habit that attracts the Golden Rain. It is the peasant in the field labouring unstintingly of time energy and travail that, expecting nothing, toiling alone, to whom the Great Birth doth come. The Christos Child of Mind Radiance.

It is most difficult to see, that the first product of earth as self, issued forth in an self-opinionated state and has remained in such a state right through the ages, to increase and become of a burden at more evolved times.

This is the water element in the soul that is as the instinctive mind, or Virgo element that the soul will not change. Then the fixed pubes become of the Witchetty-grub, one ready to be spermed for new life to come forth. These are the terms of the myths that appear so misleading to many; yet they are the guard to the royal secrets, but when the enquiring soul finds the art of mind fencing, he will gain admittance into the Hall of the Golden Dragon.

This is the soul raising up its own pet dragon, or Saturn of the depths, its own internal karma; yet if on the other hand, after the pubes have been set alight the soul refuses to obey the law, nomes divide and schizophrenia sets in causing a divided state; Spirit and matter not balanced in the bodies.

But when fired by Solar life, the soul becomes of pure spirit or one Christos born; superhuman and enduring beyond the life of the mortal. The tribal elders as Seven become the storehouse in which the stones of conception are kept so sacred that they must never be looked upon by the uninitiated man; and is the mystery of the veil over Moses face, and furthermore the Sphinx.

Within the great descending Breath are the atoms of the Hierarchical Elements on which man feeds and gluts. When these are not brought into conscious awareness by word digestion, the soul creates elemental or emotional states as magnetic force within itself and in the maelstrom.

These elemental forces are real and stay with the soul as impregnated materia in the flesh; for instead of the Word made flesh, it is carnal delights made into personality states.

On death these elemental forces continue moving around as the maelstrom conglomeration, constantly impinging their tentacles upon others. Thus it is always wise for the flesh body to be cremated at death, then the danger is avoided and these elementals are not left in the maelstrom but released as pure elements having passed through the fire with the body.

On the other hand, if the soul expiring has intaken Solar life and turned the absorbed elements by alchemicalization into Solar light, the flesh becomes impregnated with Light-radiance. Here again the body must be burnt at death; otherwise the elementals already in the maelstrom of magnetic fire will feed and wax fat on the light, and the maelstrom powers will become the same as the heavens with confusion ensuing.

This danger is overwhelmingly serious, especially in the Aquarian age of transmuting vibrations; it also accounts for why only the bravest of souls, those great in heart, take on the job of world Teacher.

For when a soul becomes of such Light by either stealing or becoming, they have the body brought to such a vibration that they become a target for all and sundry.

These above all must have their body burnt on expiring, or a Master-Teacher must seek by Uranian Power to draw back all the light taken by these souls.

THIS IS THE SWORD OF THE CHRISTOS.

PSYCHIC SIGHT

by Mark Western

THE term Psychic Sight must be here taken to mean, all those contacts with the immaterial or non physical side of creation that men and women are capable of. Whether these contacts manifest as sight, sound, taste, feeling, smell, inspiration or emotional and religious uplift we will group them together for our purposes here. The grouping together of these different facets of contact with non-material forces may to some seem unscientific. The reason for this will however become plain as we proceed.

Man's Awareness

AS an aid to understanding this subject, it is necessary for us first to review some of the conclusions investigators have arrived at regarding mans awareness or consciousness and its relationship to the psychic forces.

We will start then with the easiest to recognise, physical consciousness and our body. With this we will place what has come to be called subjective consciousness. The latter is that state of mind which we bring about by sitting and thinking about something.

We may not be aware of the people around us at such a time, only our thoughts and feelings are real to us. Although our surroundings in this state, leave little impression on us, we are not what one would call asleep, or unconscious.

Physical consciousness is of course our awareness of our body, its sensations and surroundings. Thus, if I am on a train, I may be aware of the wind on my face, the people around me, and other physical impressions.

Within these two levels of consciousness, we tend to think and see in pictures, forms and sensations which are related to our physical senses. Thus, if we sit and think about success, it may stimulate a picture of ourselves in a better house, a nice car, newer clothes, or better schooling for our children, or ourselves giving greater aid to others.

If we think in a more abstract sense, such thoughts may give rise to feelings of satisfaction, content, ambition etc. These imaginings, pictures and feelings, are all ones we can associate with material experiences.

Subconscious Activities

IN turning to the next type of awareness, we have what is generally called the subconscious. This is an amazing level of our being which controls all of our unconscious or involuntary activities, such as blood circulation, nervous system, body repairs etc.

The subconscious can however, at times become the conscious. Remembered dreams are an example of this. So also is psychic sight. Dreams are though, excellent examples of the working methods of the subconscious.

As an illustration of this, we can take the man who is dreaming he is swimming in a river, which is threatening to carry him away. The wind is howling, the storm is blowing, and water is slapping in his face. At this point he wakes and finds that rain has been blowing through the open window on to his face.

This is a common enough type of dream, and shows clearly how the subconscious forms pictures, or pictured events around impressions. In this particular case the impressions were external, the rain on the face.

Dreams are also formed around internal impression. Virtually all of us have had dreams based on things we are worrying about, or thinking about.

And of course, we have dreams built around an internal pain or discomfort somewhere in the body. One notices, on analysing the dream that the impression has collected—in the dream—many ideas or events that one would associate with it, and that they are placed in some plausible or fantastic sequence.

In the dream mentioned above, the impression of rain on the face, brought the associated ideas of a river, high wind, a storm, and placed them in some sequence.

Another source of impressions in dreams is from beyond ones own being and physical surroundings. Quoted is a dream of my father's to illustrate this. He dreamt that he saw passports of his two brothers. Then they are on a plane flying to Italy.

There is a terrible feeling of fear and heartbreak running through the dream. My mother is woken by his crying in his sleep. She wakes him to ask what is the matter. Even while awake he still cries openly, and can only say that he doesn't know (consciously) what the matter is, but he feels that something is wrong with his father.

Now his father, at the time was on holiday in Italy. They had, up to that time, no bad news from him, and being a native of that country he was quite able to fend for himself. However, the next day a telegram arrived to say that his father had died in his sleep without previous illness or warning. Also, the two brothers did obtain passports and fly to Italy to arrange for the body to be brought back to England.

There are, of course, other types of dreams. Some have their source in our own soul, and have a direct relationship to our life. But we can still place this in one of our three classifications—external, internal, and beyond.

Before we leave the subject of the subconscious there are a few other things we must note. Many students do not realise this, but when one enters the subconscious level of awareness, one has in fact entered what is known as the psychic plane.

Link with the Infinite

THE psychic plane, is that condition, in which the incarnated personality can contact any mind in existence, in or out of the body. Here, all cosmic or soul influences are brought down and translated into normal awareness.

It is like a radio set. The radio waves are formless, invisible, unknown. The radio is sensitive to them. It translates these formless impulses or vibrations into understandable physical sound, which our physical ears can hear. Therefore, we can say, that the subconscious is a meeting point.

The soul and God, all mystics agree, are formless, ineffable, infinite, illimitable. The subconscious is in attunement with these formless God and soul impulses. It receives them, and translates them into terms, ideas, feelings or pictures that we can realise subjectively. It can do this because of what it is, for it also receives impulses and information from the other direction, the physical senses. This needs a little explanation however.

The subconscious, compared with the body, is eternal. It is not effected by the destruction of the body, as it is an extension of the soul nature. Its function or attributes are memory, deductive reasoning, the construction of thought forms and ideas, soul and cosmic attunement, and the alchemical process of soul translation. If we consider a little, we may see how it achieves the latter.

The Powers of Nature

Little does man realise of the immense potential that is with him as his Nature powers. If he could but obey the commands of the Scriptures and labour at all hours in real travail to achieve a sensitivity of mind, then he would become the active agent for the Cosmic Rays to enter in and bring forth the Light of Mind realisation. It is unifying the 7 Nature Powers into One Solar Force that this represents, provided the Torch of Generation is kept alive and used to feed the mind awareness. It will be then that the hidden sub-conscious will become the radiating Solar Mind, a ONENESS.

Personality

THE subconscious is an ancient thing, one might use the word archaic. During each existence the formless soul has had in a body, the subconscious has recorded its impressions from its two sources of information, body and soul.

Whatever the race of man has been, what it has seen or realized, so has the subconscious. The urges and influences that have played upon mans consciousness from without or within, have become the warf and woof of the subconscious structure.

Like a huge ocean it has todays sunshine upon its surface, but its depths conceal the strange sediments of life from a strange and ancient past. It is a storehouse of impressions, of thoughts, of pictures the eyes have shown it; of deeps of love and pain that life has brought to it, it is unimaginable in its vastness. It has seen the childhood of mankind, with the incarnation of humanity.

The rise and fall of empires have been seen through the eyes it has known.

Our present personality is just another coat of paint on a surface painted with the scenes of time. On the other hand it has known the constant God urge from within. The force that seeks expression and creativity. These two worlds it has had to balance as best it could.

Here then in its memory, it has formed a stock of forms that it can associate with the formless urges playing upon it.

The Psychic Self

WE begin to have, then, an idea of psychic sight. The influences of radiations from one mind to another, or one soul to another are formless.

They are indeed like radio learning what impressions and ideas are associated with the ideas and pictures presented to us. My wife has found that when her subconscious presents her with pictures and dream representations of our children, it means her own higher attributes or soul qualities.

Also the name of the dream characters is usually a symbol of their potency or meaning. Thus Helen Dawn means the Light Dawning. But we each have a different symbolism, it is up to us to find it.

We have seen that the subconscious is our psychic self, the point where two worlds meet. As Edgar Cayce has given in his readings, at so called death, the subconscious becomes the conscious, and the soul, or as some call it the spirit, is now the direct subconscious. What about the soul then, what part does this play in psychic sight.

Soul-Mind-God

MYSTICS and seers of all times have found great joy in trying to understand the soul, or God segment within them. There are literally thousands of writings on the subject. Here we can only bring out the common factors that exist in this wealth of information.

All agree that the soul is a very part of God's being. That there is only one soul in all of us, which is God. It is impersonal in its All, personal in its manifestation. It is all powerful, all wise, perfect. Its consciousness is never individualised, for it is constantly at one with all other soul segments.

Like electricity in the atmosphere, it can flow into many generators at once, all over the world, and yet remain one. So does the one united soul enliven every man and woman at once, and yet remain as one, God.

When the subconscious contacts this level of our being, it can contact any other mind in the world, or universe, for at this level we are all ONE. This explains many strange events in the lives of individuals. The strange urge that brings certain people together at times from great distances.

Many people thinking the same thing at the same time, or urged to do the same thing at the same time. Or even stranger, individuals, who have never met physically, each starting on the path to the same project because of strong urges from within, eventually meeting each other and being amazed at the thread that unites them all.

The soul can be called the impelling force which urges us on to self discipline in order to provide expanding means of expression. It is so inextricably bound up with every other soul that its urges always lead us to do what is best for all mankind, considering our personality and its demands very little.

Each level of our being produces desires or demands. Our body demands its own welfare above all else. Our mind desires TO KNOW; realisation, personal knowledge and expression; and the soul desires a channel of expression to do that which manifests the statement 'Thy will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven.'

As we have seen, in heaven, all souls are one in consciousness. So we can say that the soul urge, the Cosmic thrust, is trying to bring about the oneness of mankind on earth, universal brotherhood, and realisation of our one source.

signals. These the subconscious is sensitive to. But they remain unknown to our ordinary awareness until the subconscious associates ideas, feelings or pictures with these impressions.

Then we have psychic sight. This operates on various levels as we shall see. The manifestation of the psychic sight depends upon how much union and alignment there is between the conscious and the subconscious.

The dreams we mentioned, especially where the impressions come from beyond, are examples of the subconscious at work.

Here we see the formless impressions translated into pictures or feelings understandable to the conscious mind. Sometime the pictures or visions seem to have no meaning, but this is because we have not learnt the language of our subconscious.

We will find the meaning by

Sister Whitford's Column

by Helen Whitford, S.R.N., S.C.M. Member of the Royal College of Nursing

Psychological Problems No. I 'JEALOUSY'

(Readers are requested to send their personal health problems to the Principal of the School of Universal Philosophy and Healing at 6 Phillimore Place, Kensington, W.8., and some of these will be selected to be published. Wherever possible the exact time, place and day of birth should be included as the Astrological Log invariably helps to show the deeper causes of health conditions. Where it is especially requested that no details are published then naturally it will be treated confidentially. Editor).

A GAIN WE BRING ANOTHER POINT AS requested, this time that of the self-inflicted disease of jealousy. This usually results in slander, which is the world's greatest evil and master weapon of the dark forces, and is ever with man as one of the causes of mental and physical illness. Slander, like suspicion, is a corrosive acid which is soul destroying when taking the long term view.

It must be seen by many that the dark forces, the collective evil breath of man, are ever ready and waiting to find a willing instrument for their evil work; and get into the most highly protected groups and families, causing much sorrow and mental suffering.

It is because of this, that I was asked to comment upon this very prevalent, yet acrid disease; for disease it surely is.

What is it that often causes very balanced people to suddenly destroy the happiness of another by a few spiteful words? I believe jealousy, for it is one of the seven deadly sins, and a major cause, for it gets into people like a disease; in fact, those suffering from this complaint are usually very sick people indeed. For jealousy itself has a far deeper meaning that most people realise, and like many other of these complaints, become like a mirror reflecting the weaknesses of the one in question.

During the years I worked in hospital I thought a great deal over this question of slander and its effect upon others. For I saw many a tragedy that could have been avoided.

For instance during my midwifery training life was not easy for me, for being considered a born midwife, which some of the natural psychics can be by receiving help from the realms of spirit, it caused many an uncalled-for comment from those more professionally trained.

Therefore whatever the calling, many a promising instrument of truth,—and by this I mean one receiving wisdom from the realms of spirit,—has been completely broken down by spiteful and jealous people. While as one who has been investigating spiritual wisdom for years, I have seen many a genuine medium crushed under the weight of this ghastly evil.

My own personal friend, the late Margaret Temple Cox was unable to fulfill the best of her work, because as an excellent medium, she was a victim of slanderous tongues.

After many years of wondering why such should be allowed to take place, I, now privileged to work with one whose wisdom solves these many problems, can see more clearly of what lies at the bottom of these evils that cause so much tragedy in life.

The founder and Teacher of this School, one fast becoming a legend in her own lifetime, has in spite of bitter opposition upheld the Principles of the School, and, through so doing, has been the subject of much bitter tongue wagging and evil action on the part of others who should have known a great deal better.

That is, if they were as spiritual as they pretended to be. After all, Mrs. X, you did ask me to answer your letter, and I am doing so with just as much indignation as you.

This teacher's plain speaking and brilliant teachings are the best the world has ever offered, and certainly are causing a stir and movement in the outside world; but I quite agree with you, isn't this what we want. Hence, the terrible onslaught from time to time, which at times even hinders her work, and The Masters finding it more and more difficult to contact matter.

But as through the Ages, it seems that history is only repeating itself, for as you know, prophets of old suffered exactly the same old difficulty.

Yet the task is a very hard one, and one that very few have the courage to undertake, for to become a Scapegoat like my most revered friend Gladys Spearman-Cook, to me, is the acme of divine service.

It is about time that all serious minded people gave this subject some deeper thought, and declared war on all scandal-mongers, especially in such a promising cult as Occultism.

For as an outsider, in a profession that ever seeks to quell such evil creation, and even in opposition to the great possibilities of spiritual healing, I now see what can come forth from this hidden wealth, and eagerly seek to add my wisdom unto the greater. But I also know it needs true and faithful workers that are without blemish to fulfill such an honoured and valuable task.

These at the present are few and far between, for very few have the courage and determination of the Teacher of this School. Very few have the will or purpose to hold fast and true to their principles come what may; so it can be understood why the medical fraternity shun any form of alliance with such matters as spiritual healing or diagnosis. Perhaps this lies in the future when man has learned to bring the seven deadly sins up to seven degrees of spiritual perceptivity, for they are the contemporary of one another.

So now let us see what this month's postbag has delivered.

BRONCHIAL CONGESTION

Mrs. J. S-W. of Hants.

I SEE by your letter that you are suffering with Bronchial Congestion and Constipation. You know a short fast on fruit juice would help your condition, apart from bringing a new lease of life

You certainly have the right idea when you state "That what we think has an effect on the outer vehicle." If only we could get a few more people to understand this truth, for it is quite true, all does come from within.

Mrs. S-W., what little I can see of it and the experiences of our Teacher who is around the same age as yourself, you are at the period when you have come to the root of yourself; therefore what turns up now in the form of relativity, comes from "Ancient China," the depths of oneself. I am sure you will understand this.

The only advice I can give you is plod on with the original suggestions of Buchu, St. John's Wort, Marigold and Vervain. Then we will seek into it again when we have been able to clear up a little of the congestion.

Author's Stop-Press Comment. But I have just heard that you have replied and state that the herbs are very successful, so much so, that you are requiring lectures in the bargain. Then I was not wrong about "Ancient China."

BLADDER TROUBLE

Mr. S. Q. of Bristol.

DEAR friend it is quite a common complaint for females to have trouble with the bladder. But I am rather inclined to think that this goes far deeper than you can possibly understand at the moment. Your wife is a lady with a very deep SEED, meaning that her depths could have been very rich if they could have blossomed; but, like many a poor Eve, withered on the tree without being picked and seeded, thus everything has become congested.

This is one of the great mysteries of life that man has failed to understand and comprehend from the great Occult Book, the Holy Scriptures. Let us hope the end of Aquarius gives some of these wilting daughters a greater chance; but perhaps by then the majority of seeds will have died and a new race begin.

Do not become alarmed at this, but it really means one with deep powers hidden in their depths that has never been expressed. Mrs. Spearman-Cook has already written upon this subject in the past.

We will add Broom unto the herbs already sent; all good wishes to you both.

HEART TROUBLE

Miss R. L. of Rhodesia.

FIRST of all I must tell you that Mrs. Spearman-Cook has taken your letter under her wing, for she found it extremely interesting; her statement being that it was a pamphlet on its own, and she felt she could make some use of it in her Reminiscence page. For she often states, Miss L., that people in England do not know how well off they are, and how they should be making much more of their Island life as a community.

So I will not comment on those details. But I would like to comment on your first paragraph.

"I am astonished to read that Mrs. Casebourne has left the School, as in her letter to me dated 20th August, 1963 she stated that she was water fasting, and appeared very sincere and earnest."

Your letter is one of a vast number that I have received, and I can assure you and all others that many people do a lot of talking, but are not so genuine as they might be. It is when we are put to the test on our principles and ideals that they prove that we are genuine or not; but to fall down like a pack of cards on a false illusion only goes to prove that we have been nothing more than hot air. There is a great deal more attached to this, and if fully known would prove to the world the genuineness of the founder.

Regarding your own illness, quite candidly I think I too would have a heart attack, for there is nothing I loathe more than snakes, especially a King Cobra. I suppose they come in from the bush or whatever you call your jungle out there. It is obvious you are not suited for the hot weather. Are you English or of African birth?; but it certainly seems to me you want a cooler climate.

We have just been looking at your Astrological chart, and in my opinion your difficulty is more psychological than pathological. What you want to do is express yourself; and what I was stating to Mr. Q. about his wife, also applies to you.

Mrs. Spearman-Cook suggested that with your Neptune in the M.C. (Mid heavens) you should try and write some articles on the mysteries of Rhodesia and the Rhodesian people. She feels sure that a little expression would help your health difficulties.

Yet on making enquiries we find that you have already sent some in and they are going to be printed very soon. In the meantime why not try some Buchu, St. John's Wort, Lily of the Valley and Vervain which we are sending to you. Thank you for your interesting letter.

BLOOD COMPLAINT

Miss M. H. of Hove.

I FOUND your letter very interesting, and note that your doctor states that your "complaint is nothing else but nerves." Well! wouldn't it be a good idea if we tried to work on that idea, for auto-suggestion goes a long way; and I am sure you want to get well.

Do note that age here would be rather difficult, and many changes take place when menopause is being encountered. If only we could get the female family to understand the importance of the change of life and the rich advantage that could lay ahead for those who are ready to grasp its possibilities. It is the time when woman should rise and cast off her old clouts of Sister Martha and take on the royal robe of Mother Mary. For all women are the mother of God.

I know the depth of that is profound, but perhaps we can one day get Mrs. Spearman-Cook to write upon this subject, for it does happen to be one of her pet subjects. Her whole heart is in the sponsoring of woman. I am privileged to be with her, so I know.

You hav'nt told us a great deal about your complaint, but I would suggest Agrimony, Buchu and Vervain, also some Nerve pills.

Psychological Problems No. 1 'JEALOUSY'

(Readers are requested to send their personal health problems to the Principal of the School of Universal Philosophy and Healing at 6 Phillimore Place, Kensington, W.8., and some of these will be selected to be published. Wherever possible the exact time, place and day of birth should be included as the Astrological Log invariably helps to show the deeper causes of health conditions. Where it is especially requested that no details are published then naturally it will be treated confidentially. Editor).

A GAIN WE BRING ANOTHER POINT AS requested, this time that of the self-inflicted disease of jealousy. This usually results in slander, which is the world's greatest evil and master weapon of the dark forces, and is ever with man as one of the causes of mental and physical illness. Slander, like suspicion, is a corrosive acid which is soul destroying when taking the long term view.

It must be seen by many that the dark forces, the collective evil breath of man, are ever ready and waiting to find a willing instrument for their evil work; and get into the most highly protected groups and families, causing much sorrow and mental suffering.

It is because of this, that I was asked to comment upon this very prevalent, yet acrid disease; for disease it surely is.

What is it that often causes very balanced people to suddenly destroy the happiness of another by a few spiteful words? I believe jealousy, for it is one of the seven deadly sins, and a major cause, for it gets into people like a disease; in fact, those suffering from this complaint are usually very sick people indeed. For jealousy itself has a far deeper meaning that most people realise, and like many other of these complaints, become like a mirror reflecting the weaknesses of the one in question.

During the years I worked in hospital I thought a great deal over this question of slander and its effect upon others. For I saw many a tragedy that could have been avoided.

For instance during my midwifery training life was not easy for me, for being considered a born midwife, which some of the natural psychics can be by receiving help from the realms of spirit, it caused many an uncalled-for comment from those more professionally trained.

Therefore whatever the calling, many a promising instrument of truth,—and by this I mean one receiving wisdom from the realms of spirit,—has been completely broken down by spiteful and jealous people. While as one who has been investigating spiritual wisdom for years, I have seen many a genuine medium crushed under the weight of this ghastly evil.

My own personal friend, the late Margaret Temple Cox was unable to fulfill the best of her work, because as an excellent medium, she was a victim of slanderous tongues.

After many years of wondering why such should be allowed to take place, I, now privileged to work with one whose wisdom solves these many problems, can see more clearly of what lies at the bottom of these evils that cause so much tragedy in life.

The founder and Teacher of this School, one fast becoming a legend in her own lifetime, has in spite of bitter opposition upheld the Principles of the School, and, through so doing, has been the subject of much bitter tongue wagging and evil action on the part of others who should have known a great deal better.

That is, if they were as spiritual as they pretended to be. After all, Mrs. X, you did ask me to answer your letter, and I am doing so with just as much indignation as you.

This teacher's plain speaking and brilliant teachings are the best the world has ever offered, and certainly are causing a stir and movement in the outside world; but I quite agree with you, isn't this what we want. Readers' Letters

New PIONEER PROJECT Begins

WONDERFUL News comes this Month by the Announcement of a great Anonymous Gift which will more than anything help to spread the Teachings through-out the World. An offer was made to send out hundreds of Occult Gazettes to New readers in towns and hamlets in every country where we at present have readers. Thus we have started to enlist our Readers' aid and the Response has truly been magnificent. We now have many spirit-led Pioneers, as points of distribution, being guided and led to place the Gazette into fertile fields. The Importance of this cannot be over estimated. So many people have written to us so utterly grateful that they have had the opportunity to be sent or given the Occult Gazette out of the Blue, a typical letter being that of Mrs. E. M. Jones of Cheltenham, who wrote so feelingly of her joy.

This is willing service given unstintingly only hoping that amongst the struggle to find good soil for the sowing of the Word, there are to be found those who are desperately crying out for help and guidance.

Our First Response

Mrs. E. M. Jones' Cheltenham, Gloucester.

I FELT I had to write and thank you for sending me the April Issue of the Occult Gazette. I would like you to know it arrived at a very opportune time and from some of the articles it confirmed that some of "my thoughts" are not quite so "off-beat."

It has given me confidence to fight further.

It is terribly difficult fighting orthodoxy, materialist thinking, hypocrisy and appearing sane!

Thanking you again for widening my thoughts and vision.

Enthusiastic Readers' Replies

Mrs. Joan Edwards,
Eccles, Nr. Manchester.

Thank you for your letter, and I shall be happy to be of service to pass on copies of the Occult Gazette. It is a wonderful paper.

Mrs. Margaret Rodgers,
Clacton-on-Sea, Essex.

I shall be very pleased to help you in your Pioneering Task, and will start as soon as you are ready. Thank you for giving me the chance to be of service.

Mr. Frank Critten,
London, N.8.

Jolly good luck on your enterprising adventure. All grist to the mill. I will gladly distribute 26 copies of Occult Gazette to different folks.

Best Wishes for your success, and regards to all for Easter. I really find time, like your good-selves, most pressing. Don't give up.

Mr. George Gudze,
Phila 26, Pa. U.S.A.

In your letter of 21.3.64 you would like me to do some distributing of your literature. I would be glad to participate along with your suggestion.

My situation is more that I can explain to you, but it is such that I am in a "mental swamp," surrounded with poisoned minds.

Your literature should be placed in fertile soil. My lot is that I have no way of meeting such prospects that would be interested in learning the Universal Creative Power. Mostly those I meet follow the priest, and blindly believe in god and heaven; thus it is a difficult problem to awaken them, because the mental poisoning has been done in their childhood.

Kate McMonigal,
Portland, Oregon, U.S.A.

Thank you for asking me to distribute the papers. I feel humbly grateful to be considered worthy of doing even a much smaller task in order to further Spiritual understanding in these last trying days.

I shall be happy to be one of the Pioneers and am sure each one, through prayer and diligence, can achieve a very great, in fact tremendous surge of Power and enlightenment.

Mr. R. Blackburn,
Rochdale, Lancs.

How I am going to accomplish this task I have little idea, as I realise that the mere disposal of this wonderful paper is not the required object. Therefore I must earnestly seek for the guidance you mention, in complete Faith.

Much of the teachings is still too deep for me to assimilate yet, and a lot of that due to my own failure, I think, to put into active operation the self-discipline required. What I seem to lack mostly is concentration of mind, but slowly I am trying to master.

I will not take up more of your time, but end by sending you and those faithfully standing by you, my best wishes.

Mrs. Anne Dering,
Chicago, Illinois.

I will be very happy to receive the 26 copies of the O.G. for free distribution. This is a wonderful way of getting people acquainted with knowledge, of which some never even thought existed.

Miss A. A. Lawrence,
Slough, Bucks.

Your suggestion of points of light distributing the O.G. is a splendid one, and I do admire your enthusiasm and drive. I do congratulate you on the marked improvement of the Gazette. It is now coming out

★ "Save the Main Trunk" ★

Mrs. Ralph Smith,
Pennsylvania, U.S.A.

THANK you for making a dream come true. It has been my wish to be able to share this wonder (Occult Gazette) with others. Now you have made it possible. It will be a great privilege and honor. Each month I shall try to give it to a new-comer, and hope they will pass it along to others.

Sitting here it is hard to realise the oneness in all the members of Occult staff, and reaching to each as an individual and forgetting the teachings of the Scriptures. What good is the body without its branches or the branches without the body? It is easy to write to the most inspired and learned man or woman and forget the new twigs that are growing. They are so easily bruised and destroyed. This cannot be, lest the whole body will die out. Therefore we must save the old body, the main trunk, (Mrs. Gladys I. Spearman-Cook) by accepting the new branches and letting them reach forward and grow into strong branches that will support as well as protect that which has given its life. Without the trunk there would be no branches.

Sometimes the branches become entangled when it storms; they bend and sway as the winds use their force, yet always protecting that which gave them life (the trunk of main body) for when it dies what will happen to its branches?

May I reach forward with a helping hand to help both trunk and branches; they must stay firmly rooted where they are, but its seeds and deeds of kindness can be sent anywhere, LIKE GOD'S BLESSINGS.

PEACE REIGN AND CONQUER THE UNIVERSE.

Healing & Lecture Visits

Mrs. Ella E. Mulcrone,
Walthamstow, E.17.

Your Sanctuary was visited by me for the first time on Sunday, March 22nd (you may have remembered a stranger that evening), and I was most impressed by the power gathered in that room, also the Lecture which was delivered so clearly. Astrology is a subject I am not well versed in, but admit to an interest, especially as Taurus seemed to hold so much sway, and a sign which I was born under; also Scorpio and Virgo are signs my children were born under.

Miss Mavis Fearnley, Heston, Middlesex.

I would like to express my appreciation of the Service on Sunday evening: it was the first time for me to come, and of course I found it extremely interesting. I do like the forthrightness of the Lecturer.

I would thank you for the Healing Treatment received yesterday. The Sincerity and devotion of your helpers was a comfort in itself.

Mr. W. E. Norley,
Kofondua, Ghana.

I am writing these few words just to inform you that one of my best friends, named G. O. Yirenth, has recommended your Healing to me, and that you are the best Healer in the City of London; so now I believe in your Healing. But one thing is this: I am suffer-of its Infancy. The Captions and the Lay-out, with the subject matter more easily and readily understood if contacted for the first time. It certainly gives me a great joy and uplift on visiting the Sanctuary.

Arthur Kranz,
Los Angeles, California.

Received your most welcome letter and am very happy to be chosen to be of service, so send me what ever you have in mind and I shall be very happy to fulfil your desire. Thank you again for choosing me and to be of service for a worthy cause.

Miss Rose Lupton,
Salisbury, Rhodesia.

Thank you for airmail regarding free distribution of Occult Gazette monthly. Yes—can do and will do with pleasure.

Lottie Riddell,
Wichita, Kansas, U.S.A.

If there is any way I may assist in your great service, I will certainly give my all and in the highest regards. Of course we need to experience and see results. I will be glad to try and if satisfactorily to your approval. Every family should have one kept in the home, and on the sacred shelf with Scriptures; they bless me beyond degree.

Arthur Baldwin, of East Ham, London.

I will be delighted to try and spread this wonderful truth to the people, knowing that these readings will be a seed sown to those who read them.

Mrs. Enid Preston,

As one of your very first readers I can still say I never cease to be inspired by the Occult Gazette by the Leadership of Mrs. Spearman-Cook.

Miss Louise James,
Long Island, New York.

I have been a subscriber quite a while now and I marvel each month how you can find so many fabulous illustrations. And the text! One could meditate productively a whole life-time on any one issue. The last issue contains "City of the Sun," one of the most informative studies it has been my good fortune to come upon in my years of searching. I especially study your perceptive articles (Astrology, on Readers' Charts). They go right to many a critical point I need. Best wishes to you all.

★ Danger of Missiles ★

Mrs. A. Anderson,
Fifeshire, Scotland.

I always pass the Occult Gazettes on to someone, or just leave them in a bus or train, as someone is sure to pick them up: but most of the people I know are church-goers. I find the best way for me is just to pass on the Occult Gazette to someone: if they are truly interested they will send for another number.

I do wish that thousands of people, who do fully understand the dangerous game man is playing today and who know what the outcome of man's actions will be,—using the most destructive weapons in their pursuit of the unknown,—would give their warnings through the Press; also by discussion on the television and radio. Perhaps this might awaken the public to a realisation of the impending danger to their world.

Anyway, I have always had this awful dread each time they send missiles into space, or even any explosion of nuclear bombs arouses in me this fear, which I cannot fully explain, but in some uncanny way know the result is devastating. So many people feel the same as I do.

Old readers well know of the constant warnings that have been published in the Occult Gazette, that the missiles are diabolical, and have cut mankind off from the Inflow of the Spirit. Warnings in April, June, July and October Issues of 1962, February 1963 and only last month in April 1964 have been published. But Scientists and Chemists rule the world backed by the Moloch-god of commerce, and mankind are rapidly degenerating into mindless automatons. (Editor).

A MODERN STORY OF DAVID

THIS letter speaks for itself. A young man in his early thirties who was a real rough diamond having had many different hard working jobs, found a Sanctuary and a Haven so that he could carry out his life's ambition, giving Healing balm and Life to others. In this letter he writes how he came to find his Destiny. (Editor).

THIS letter is one that should have been written before, but like everybody else I was too slow on the mark. I have had more Jobs than there are leaves on a cabbage, for e.g. fitter's mate, wet and dried fish merchant, fireman, confectioner—these are only a few. My life has been one of turmoil, uncertainty, and everlasting change regarding moods, employment, and Bon appetite.

For years I have lived alone within myself not knowing the real truth, hoping, to find it through others of which I did not, and began to give up trying. Fate or destiny as you might call it lead me to an old engine driver. He was a person one would look sideways at, as being rather peculiar. He was a great medium and I was well at home with him on the Foot Plate.

He introduced me to many books. I felt this would help me and felt drawn to them; I'm sure I was guided, never had I seen or heard anything out of the ordinary as others seem to do, but I've always kept an open mind.

So I delved into spiritualism after a few months, and through experiences at different churches I became convinced of reincarnation. This satisfied my appetite for a while and a little harmony seemed to dwell within me.

One day whilst around Leicester Square I spotted the OCCULT GAZETTE; this was what I'd been looking for all my life.

Each month I devoured every line and really turned my eyes inside out; looked down into my guts, determined to find out who and what I was.

Knowing these Cosmic words were the truth, I wrote to the School for past lectures and magazines, also a Diet Treatise and really got down to business.

May be I am lucky, because, following the wisdom, I managed to stop smoking, drinking, gambling, above all managed to become a vegetarian.

To attend the lectures was my next step,—the radiance of the place, kindness, and the love shown was, to me, well appreciated.

My whole being had changed; after that I could not keep away even on my day off. I'd hoped they could find something I could do for them. Now, I am in the Temple, and have become a celibate, and at last under the wing of Mrs. Spearman-Cook in her fortress of faith. I have at last found the healing power to heal the sick which I hope to do all my days.

Through deep prayer, my desires have been answered.

Firstly, I asked that I should love my fellow man.

Secondly, that my hands should be blessed to heal.

Thirdly, that my lust could be conquered.

I fought and won over my diet and within two years I am here ready to heal with the great power the Master has given me to use under the guidance of a Great Teacher. With bowed head I say there is nothing to stop any man whether he is Cowboy, Clown, or Head Waiter from doing likewise. I have truly been saved by a Saviour.

A WHITSUN GATHERING

ENTRY OF THE SUN INTO GEMINI

ON Sunday, 17th May a very special Programme is being held not only to celebrate the Solar entry into Gemini, which will occur on the 21st, but because it is on these occasions that we have many of our readers come and visit us from the distant parts. As usual the Lecture commences at 6.30 p.m. and the doors are open at 5 o'clock to enable visitors to listen to the Special Music Programme before the Lecture. The Music to be played is Mendelssohn's Concerto in E Minor, and Bruch's Concerto No. 1 in G Minor both being performed by the Philharmonia Orchestra with the Soloist as Yehudi Menuhin.

The Lecture will be held in the Sanctuary of the Publishers, The School of Universal Philosophy and Healing, at 6 Phillimore Place, Kensington, W.8. We do hope that many friends of our Readers will also come, and we would advise them to let us know so that we can reserve seats for the Occasion.

Yet I can offer hope if you can believe it, there were those who were contacted regarding this matter, and a stream of Solar life was set flowing independent of that already reaching the earth, for I had to weather the draft and handle the power.

This I can well assure you is perfectly correct; and from outside of this School we have been receiving showers of letters closely linking with what was going to take place; although they were not aware of what they were stating. This has much linking with my 16th Initiation when there was a thorough cleansing by the great Powers, and only those who could endure the work and strength necessary for the moment of issue were gathered together.

Perhaps we can understand now why Sir B. Lovell was inspired to write his article, and the Pope summoned a Pilgrimage that ended up in him kissing a dead cold stone!

From here it would be as well to pass onto the rest of the seasons and how they affect mankind. From the Vernal Rains we pass to the first of May which links with the day of Pentecost when the fiery gifts are due to be received from spirit; that which will anoint

THE WHEEL OF RELATIVITY

THE above diagram describes the approximate date of the commencement of Each Equinox Age since the Age of Leo, and describes the result of Precession of the Equinoxes. The equinox point is where the celestial Equator cuts the belt of the ecliptic, which it does twice each year giving to the earth periods of equal day and night. Each year the exact point of cutting moves backwards about 50" causing a complete Cycle of Equinoxes to occur over a period of 26,000 years.

that growing in the earth as the "seed" received at Christmas. Thus the soul being touched with divine life if they have so spun up their Chakras as to be a spinning hub to draw such wealth unto them. This is where the antennae comes in as the extended mind.

Then in June Hestia blesses with her fire that sets the hearth ablaze, and the soul has a fire alight whereby they can bake the meal for the mystery visitors when they call. These are the three visitors that called upon Abraham and he ordered Sarah to bake them a cake. Then in July the harvest is cut, and man knows exactly where he stands; what he has gathered over the year, and what he is responsible for during the autumn months.

Man will be surprised at what power or wealth is derived when these seasons are recognised, especially regards the true and royal purpose; the soul gathering up of the solar life, and they give birth to what is known as a sun-god.

That gathered is blessed with solar life, and now crowning the mind with the golden aura

The Brotherhood of Time & Purpose

THIS is the true way of evolution where man and god are in unity. Then the Great Omnipotent Being will have a clear channel to direct to earth new life, thought and purpose.

Once upon a time man knew these better than they knew life, but gradually they have forgotten, and merely come down to observing all these festivals as Bank holidays only. Thus man and god are miles apart, and slowly separating, with man completely forgetting the royal and wonderful wealth that once was his.

This is also the wealth of the Earth, and although man may not be aware of what streams of life descend and refreshen the way, he does unconsciously partake of this inflow and become blessed with renewed purpose and hope. Yet there are bound to be some who will ask of how did these come about, and did anybody have any connection with the origin of these festive days.

Yes! At certain periods man became impressed of preparing themselves to draw down certain powers, and they being ready to embrace the inflow, and so help certain gods and entities to become established on earth. Many of these became grounded, thus what is known as being stoned. Once upon a time these were recognised, and many a great festival took place activating great powers into the earth awaiting their solar rising.

Perhaps we might ask as to what great Powers descended at the Grand Canyon in America which caused all to become as rock for they were never able to activate, or those there grew and migrated to more fertile planes. For after a while, unless there is resuscitation all grows cold and dead.

Yet we cannot get away from this unseen phenomenon which man is not always aware of as being that which brings streams of light and life to the earth that binds the whole Universe together, and is the means whereby its interlinking makes all into one great Brotherhood of Time and Purpose.

MAN THE GOD-HERITAGE

by Gladys I. Spearman-Cook

MAN is the organism of Spirit and matter becoming blended, and the soul being born and ever becoming through the journey being fulfilled as unity. Outer and inner Space being united in the man as awareness and and God consciousness. These two are represented in man as high and low states of consciousness. But Atma, the plane of fulfilment, is divine consciousness, and brings unto man peace and contentment; life and balance. Until then Man is not really born, and remains as the primitive with knowledge and intellect. The garment of Spirit has been forming ever since the Fiery breath of life began the mind consciousness. The Sonship of the man organism. Unless the Spirit is really and truly ensconced the mind is insecure and has no vessel of adaptation. It merely becomes a cloud in its first state of solidification as rock purpose and cannot become dissolved. This can part from the man, leaving him only as the owner of mind instinct, personality, to be gathered up by earth-bound forces who immediately become a power of contention. A Spiritless one of immense Power, clambering for domination.

Man is the microcosm as "little cosmos." Potentially, an image of the macrocosm; for man in taking on of the label as Man, laid the foundation of Macrocosm, as planes of descent. These, in "Time," become the ladder of ascent. But it must be seen that as well as there is a building of Mind, so there are changes being effected in the body. The absorbing of Cosmic Rays by the soul as man, generates generative impulses or fiery action.

By understanding the functions of the body you can understand its workings and what must be fulfilled for such to climb up that ladder that the Spirit can be retained and not lost.

"NYMPH" The Spirit-Water

THE blood and lymphatics are the carriers of this consciousness, and are maintained by the food of which man partakes. These in the state of transmutation pass through the process of first becoming chyle, then blood, finally to pass to the generative functions. Enfolded within all is the "Seed," or Life Principle, which is the nucleus of all existing life, whatever phase it adopts. This is the germinator or activator; to the Scientist, the Principle.

Through the function of alchemicalisation—which is ever taking place as the prerogative of man—the basic begins to germinate. This is changed into lymph, the transparent colourless fluid called spirit-water, or water of life; and is so-called from nymph, spirit. After passing through all physical changes, would bring forth of the mental states called "bodies."

But the more the seed and fluids are retained in the body without waste, the greater fullness of life, health and power is experienced by the soul. An abundance of lymph, forming bright red corpuscles of the blood, brings sustenance to the nervous system and brain, giving a greater subtlety to thought potency.

These are the carriers of experience, and glow with the potency of action, or remain dull and limp. But when in form of Martian activity regenerates the blood, passing into the spleen where osmosis takes place of the bodies, and then becomes absorbed into protoplasmic structure. The spending of these life forces wantonly is very foolish; for

The Birth of the Word

HOW simply through symbolism of art is the truth represented. Here the soul with all the Purple headgear of mind establishment, guards the Spirit as it the Spirit seeks to capture the Winged Word up in the Eagle Heights. In its hand is the net of sensitivity formed through the purity of the lymph, the Nymph, that adorns all those who value Mind above animalism.

if in true mental pursuits, life will evolve within the bodies.

A chaste life enables the soul to conserve his resources, bringing his mental faculties to yet greater perfection.

Man is only of a mind plane as god or beast, mind awareness or merely instinct. Yet potentially, an image of the universal, celestial, or divine order. Man being created in the image of God.

As man, in the first place, stole the "animal skin," colourless through lack of experience, he has gradually reformed of more modern garments, according to age and time, from within its folds.

This brings them to scarlet and then purple; the blended mind and passions. The struggle is to capture the beast, and is the mystery of Revelations solved to some degree.

Every new thought born must follow this pattern and become the "stolen skin," colourless and without expression. Only something desired by idea and ideal. Then it must become the possibility and then real, otherwise it drives like a wasp with a coat of black and yellow, and not the bee of mind activity.

How can pure spirit, formless, undifferentiated, become an individual spirit?

Why! by it becoming individualised in a descent into matter by conjunction with human consciousness, which, without its presence, would be severely raised a degree above that of the most highly evolved of animals.

The Triad of Spirit

MAN is a "seed" born from completed worlds and now being re-clothed from yet higher but unknown sources. He must seek beyond that which appears familiar to his present existence, and become stimulated by his difficulties to make Mother Hera bend to his will.

For every microcosm is a stone, a living stone, with its fitted place in the vast plan of life. Your Solar system is the first of an eternal design yet to be born. The future sections of which stretch forth into infinite expanse, and of which you only see of its inner belt, that of the Milky Way. Man being fed from outer Space or Illimitable heights, whether he wishes to accept it or not.

It is that already obtained, becoming stagnant, that drives man to inadequacy and resolving of his own "dung." Every nation has passed through these phases and nations come and go. What today appears as the delinquent will tomorrow be the blazing light of the horizon. The two extremes of life fighting one another, until an answer is resolved, and genius is born.

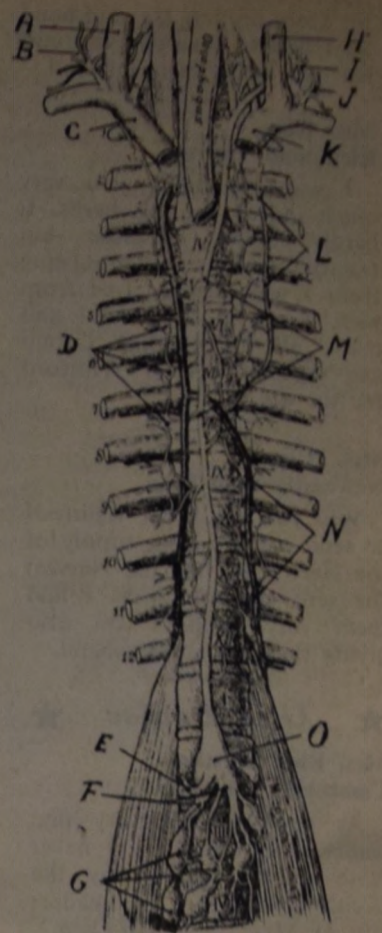

Then he begins his birth pangs, and slowly mankind comes forth, but ever only producing, The Man; seeds brought to perfection in this phase of evolution.

Materialism is swamping the race. Art and genius are forgotten as something decadent. All that man seems to remember is that once there were worlds alive with beauty; now it is sensation. Anything to stir the imagination that will revive action, but for superficial results. Certainly not for the awakening of the Gods, that man and the heights can unite in fresh life flooding the lower planes.

Man is the God heritage brought forth through trial and error. Investigation by the awakened ones into what has been, becoming what it can be, that fallen man can be assisted to rise and find new life.

It is not the personality that is to be rescued but the individuality; that which has fallen asleep. Personality is the lunar emotional states of the soul. Individuality is the Solar light resurrected as Conscious awareness or Be-ness: that brought forth as Oneness. THE MAN.

The trinity in the triad coming forth in that of Spirit or Genius, cohered by the supreme Unknowable. That yet
