I honor any man who in the conscientious discharge of his duty dares to stand alone; the world, with ignorant, intolerant judgment, may condemn, the countenances of relatives may be averted, and the hearts of friends grow cold, but the sense of duty done shall be sweeter than the applause of the world, the countenances of relatives, or the hearts of friends.

 Nor Theologic — M. D. — Pool !
 As men are what they think they are

WHY NOT STAMPEDE TOGETHER M. D. QUACKERY ?

Cher Citizen Immanuel Pfeiffer, Health Reformer
(par excellence), Bedford, Mass. :
 As I do not Lecture To-day
 Why not let us Collaborate
 To sweep 'Health Board Frauds' away
 In 'Health Reform Books' Up-to-Date ?

We are Two Victims of M. D.'s.
 Why not drop that much (of your name)
 And stand alone upon our Fame,
 Of curing Death's (all time) Disease?
 I mail to you (As you to me)
 My Case and Yours (of Dynamite).
 Where both of us show Honor Bright
 Exposing 'Health Board Quackery!'
 Half Million (Sea to Sea) of Quacks
 Are Murdering Life 'for Quack Fee'
 And your Lessons are Typing Facts
 While Our Cases are Proof of Acts
 Of 'Vaccine Virus-Infamy!'
 What do you pay for Typewriters
 (Ten Dollars stops circulation)
 We want to Kill Vaccination
 As both are born 'Reform Fighters!'

G. F. T.

FASTING WILL STOP ALL WORRYING!

Worry is Lifehood's Worse-Disease,
 'Imagination's Hobgoblin-Scare,'
 Weakness of Will! (Nervous-Nightmare)
 Abnormal! Unnatural-Care!
 '(Un) Digested (Food) Securities!'
 Use breeds Habit, it feeds upon ,

Worry To day ! Worse To-morrow !
 It Compounds (Life's Worry Sorrow.)
 Continuing when once begun !
 'Spectre-of-Brocken' (Delusion)
 In Hartz Mountains in Germany.
 Disappears in Strange Confusion,
 When approaching where one can see !
 Mental Emotions purge the Mind,
 In Reflections of Nerved Mankind,
 Thousand hands unseen will help one on
 Till lovely Sunshine smiles are won !
 But Worry makes you Deaf ! Dumb ! Blind !
G. F. T.

[Stop Fear ! Worry ! 'Care' ! and Checkmate
 Ills of Life ! Why don't M. D.'s tell People how not to be sick ? Because that would spoil their Trade, closing M. D. Living !]

KEEP AWAY FROM TABLE ! STARVE YOURSELVES INTO HEALTH !

Sick men are Rascals (Johnson said
 To Boswell, the Grand Reconteur),
 They are only quiet when Dead,
 Illustrating their Character !
 Keep Health, and Worry Disappears,
 Smiles follow Health, as Sickness Tears,

Good Nature, always Thoroughbred !
 Get out in Air, and have a run
 For Ozone-Atmosphere in Sun !
 Worry is simply 'Temperament,
 Which brings 'Demon-Ized-Discontent,'
 Increasing Worry, once begun !
 Dyspepsia tells Food to pass on.
 All eat too much ! Dyspepsia-pained
 And Worry makes Everything blamed
 Where Happiness is never won !
 Get well by Fasting week or Two.
 Give Stomach its Dyspepsia rest.
 Fast is always Welcome-Ing Guest,
 And yourself. (Lifelihood's Entertainer.)

G. F. T.

[Be polite ! Nothing so cheap as Courtesy ! Kindness ! Good Nature ! Smiles ! Be true to self and you cannot be false to others ! Don't Smoke ! Drink !
 Swear ! or, tell Vulgar stories !]

LAUGH! DON'T CRY! (WHY WORRY?)

Why Cross Bridges before you reach
 Them ? Why imagine Things go wrong ?
 Why not Practise what Christians Preach,
 And turn your Crying into Song ?
 'Chronic-Worryers' should be tied
 In Chair or Chamber (Deified)

Then Vale of tears (Hades allied)
 'Look Pleasant, Please, and move along !
 'Don't Worry Clubs' are all the go,
 In Stopping 'Wail-of-Worry-Woe,' Mountains of Day, 'Morrow's, Ant Hills !
 In dispelling Dyspepsia's Ills,
 Said Psychic Writer long ago !
 Why be hurt by Careless, Thoughtless Words
 Of 'Slander's Jealous, Cunning Birds,'
 Said Poet Edgar Allan Poe !
 Laws about carrying deathly Guns,
 But why not against Life's Troubles.
 How happy Summer Stream that runs,
 Smiling with Life Joy in Bubbles !

G. F. T.

['Cleanliness is next to Godliness,' is an insult to Common Sense ! Words are used to deceive ! Is to be Clean, Holy ? Why compare Health Conditions to Myths and Phantoms ?]

OUR LIFE "OF SHADOWS."

There is no change since world began
 Save Customs ! Habits ! (Birth ! Life ! Death !),
 Are all the same, (In Age of Man)
 Cradle to Casket, Breath with Breath,
 We Live ! We move ! We have Being
 To-day as when Cosmos was born,

Walking ! Eating ! Drinking ! Seeing
 Life's Muzzled ox still gathers Corn !
 Passions and Appetites Exist
 Humanity is Cheered and Hissed,
 Through Smiles and Tears ! Through Stress and Storm !
 Each species has its Environ,
 Each Race its Destiny and Fate,
 Fauna—Flora, Time begun,
 Repeats Itself, Creation's Mate.

G. F. T.

FACULTY'S TWO PATENTED WORDS FOR DISEASE AND DEATH!

Where Appetites, the Passions Sway,

 They do not mean Temperature
 Has Fallen below Ninety-Eight,
 But Risen above ! That is Hot

Not Cold ! (Fever and Ague Rot !)
 Another Word they have for Death,
 ('Heart Failure') Well, does not Lost Breath

 With these Two Words, They collect Fees
 For all Disease ! (Druggists M. D.'s.)
 Live off 'Fee Destiny of Fate !'

PROFESSIONAL EPIDEMICS.

(Vide Pfeiffer Lectures !)

Why talk of Plague ! Pox ! Pest ! Locusts !
 Instead of Legals ! Medicals !

DEATH BOARDS OF HEALTH.

Doctors harangue about Disease,
 Yet never try to prevent Ills,
 For fear of Spoiling Sale of Pills,
 And hurry off their Poison Bills,
 In Professional Wigs of M. D.'s !
 There are no Poison-Disease-Germs !
 There is no ' Contagious Illness.'
 Faculty-Medical-Ized Names
 Are Apothecary Death Terms,
 Causing Humanity Distress !
 You and I (Pfeiffer) Know that Health
 Is Contagious (with Knowledge).
 No Diploma (out of College)
 Can enrich (Ill Common-Wealth).

We both have been through ' Pest House Mill '
 But neither had Life's Deathly Chill !
 ' Kidnapped ' (myself) by M. D. Stealth !
 We know that as Iconoclast
 Of Human Ills, Health comes through Fast.
 Why not learn to Doctor One's Self ?

Our Ignorant Doctors (And Fools)

 Of course more Compounded Disease,
 Where Imbecility is Dense !

THE VACCINE-VIRUS FRAUD.

(See Pfeiffer in V. V., on Durgin-Shea, et al.)

Three Times a day.

Tune: Our Boarding House.

We have a Board of Death (not far away);
There's where they vaccinate three times a day.
Note ye how the doctors grin,
And declare it is no sin
With the virus to begin,
Three times a day!

But should the vaccine kill,—may be it will,—
What matter if it does, just pay the bill.
Hear the frightened children scream
When they see the lancet gleam!
Vaccinate them while they dream.
Three times a day!

So let the 'Boards of Death' halt while they may!
List now the people's voice; list while they pray
For every degenerate,
Whom the good must execrate,
And all who vaccinate
Three times a day!

E. C. TOWNSEND, New York,
(In Minneapolis Liberator).

M. D. ('Boards of Death'), In White Robes,
Show that Vaccine Virus is Fraud
As Preventive (Small Pox accord)
Of Variola — (Demon Microbes!)

Heart does not circulate the Blood
 (But Oxygen from which Blood derived)
 Heart distributes it to Life Club,
 Under it so many survived !
 No Impurities enter Lungs
 From Air Breathed (Says Dr. Rodermund)
 Reversing M. D. Pens and Tongues !
 Doctors always Opinions change,
 Nature's Laws are always steadfast.
 Know yourself an Iconoclast,

Meaning of "U. S."

My old friend Citizen George Francis Train is editor of "OUR HOME RIGHTS, which advocates reform in social, political, and religious life. At the very outset he says : " U. S. stands for United States, Uncle Sam, Undigested Securities." And that's what's the matter with Hanna !

Under Ad. and subscription notice New York Press says : The New York Press has the largest Republican circulation by many thousands of copies a day.

Our Mr. Immanuel Pfeiffer called on Francis Whitney Halsey (Appletons, N. Y.) about next Book on Small Pox knowledge.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS DEPARTMENT.

BY LUCY WATERS PHELPS.

The use of the word "obey" in the marriage service is simply one of the many links yet remaining of that once galling chain that bound woman in every conceivable way of which the human mind was capable, when assuming to assign to her a relative position to man in regard to rights and individuality.

It is one of the many brands so long used to stamp the mark of inferiority and subjection on woman. This is arbitrary and unjust. The true man will be the true husband in spite of it, but it gives the unprincipled man free license to continue in his unjust course. The true man needs no fetters or stated license to direct his action.

In discussing the right or wrong of a question then we should have in mind what will be the effect on a would-be victim of some unprincipled man. None can say that the degrading condition of master and servant can equal in true enjoyment that of companion and co-worker. None can say that the fruit of arrogant authority and cringing submission can rank beside that of simple equality. Then abolish that "obey" from the position it never should have commanded.

West Sutton, Mass.

UNCONQUERED.

However skilled and strong art thou, my foe,
 However fierce is thy relentless hate,
 Though firm thy hand, and strong thy aim, and straight,
 Thy poisoned arrow leaves the bended bow
 To pierce the target of my heart, ah ! know
 I am the master yet of my own fate.
 Thou canst not rob me of my best estate,
 Though fortune, fame, and friends — yea, love—shall go.

Not to the dust shall my true self be hurled,
 Nor shall I meet thy worst assaults dismayed.
 When all things in the balance are well weighed,
 There is but one great danger in the world :
Thou canst not force my soul to wish thee ill—
 That is the only evil that can kill.

—ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

TRAIN VS. HUBBARD, AND TRUTH VS. FALSEHOOD.

If the following had appeared in a Roman Catholic newspaper or in an Anthony Comstock Organ, we would not have been surprised, but to find such sentiment in "The Philistine" is hard to be understood.

Fra Albertus says in his December number, under the headline, "When you read intelligently, you collaborate with the author" : —

"When George Francis Train picked out certain parts of the Bible and printed them, and was arrested for publishing obscene literature, the charge was proper and right. There are things that need not be emphasized—they may all be part of life, but in books they should be slurred over, as simply representing a passing of nature.”

I would give a cent to know what Hubbard had been eating and drinking when he wrote the above words about Citizen Train, and in fact the whole article, and I would give two cents to know how he spent the night preceding it. I am pretty sure he did not sleep soundly, but was tossed around, the victim of indigestion, suffering from nightmare, and I am reasonably sure, he was still under control when he wrote that article. There is not one sentence in the whole thing which can stand analyzing, but in this short paragraph I will confine myself to what Hubbard said about Train. He said that it was right and proper that Train should be arrested for printing part of the Bible, on the flimsical ground that there are things in books that need not be emphasized—they should be slurred over. The friends of the Bible say it is God's Words and call it a Holy Book.

Like everything else this is either true or false. If true, it cannot contain anything obscene, and consequently Hubbard lies when he says that it was right and proper that Train should be arrested for making his quotations. If, on the other hand, the statement is false, Train deserves credit for pointing it out, and speaking the Truth, instead of slurring it over as is done by so many modern hypocrites, of whom Hubbard evidently is one. A whole cannot be sound if part of it is decayed. A thing cannot be holy if part of it is obscene, and a man who is unwilling to admit this is a fool. The Bible as a whole can be sent through the mail, and placed upon the family table, but part of it is confiscated because it is considered obscene. How absurd ! Suppose I was making a pot of soup, and had put into it the best ingredients necessary to make good soup, would I not spoil it if I put into it a certain amount of impure matter ? Of course I would ! Who would deny it ? If I write — or rather, if a number of us should undertake to write a book, but aiming at the best principles, would this book not decrease in value if we allowed immoral persons to weave into the book chapter after chapter of vile, dirty stuff ? Who would deny this ? Train is a practical man, and more than this, he is honest and fearless. He knows that children point out to each other chapters and verses in the Bible f. i. Deut. 23 : 1 ; 2 Kings 17 : 27 ; Genesis 34 : 1-29 ; 35 : 22 ; 38 : 6-30.

Train pointed out a number of filthy, immoral passages in the Bible, showing how ridiculous and wrong it is to call such nasty stuff by the name of Holiness, and the Sage of East Aurora says with Comstock it was right that his reward should be imprisonment.

As an expert alienist I say, away with such rot! It is time we call things by their true names, and it is idiotic to continue to say that any book, as a whole, is Holy, but taken apart is obscene. It is no credit to any man to say in public print that any part of a good book should be slurred over. Every word in any book should be able to stand on its own merit, and if it cannot stand analyzing it should fall. Would Hubbard apply the same rule to reading the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence as he recommends for the Bible? If not, why not?

HEREDITY.

There is nothing we cannot overcome.

Say not thy evil instinct is inherited,
Or that some trait inborn makes thy whole life forlorn
And calls down punishment that is not merited.
Back of thy parents and grandparents lies
The Great Eternal Will! That, too, is thine
Inheritance — strong, beautiful, divine,
Such lever of success for one who tries.

Pry up thy faults with this great lever — will!

However deeply bedded in propensity,
However firmly set, I tell thee firmer yet

Is that vast power that comes from truth's immensity.

Thou art a part of that strange world, I say !
 Its forces lie within thee, stronger far
 Than all thy mortal sins and frailties are.
 Believe thyself divine, and watch and pray.

There is no noble height thou canst not climb;
 All triumphs may be thine in time's futurity
 If whatsoe'er thy fault thou dost not faint or halt,
 But lean upon the staff of God's security.
 Earth has no claim the soul cannot contest;
 Know thyself part of the Eternal Source,
 And naught can stand before thy spirit's force;
 The soul's divine inheritance is best.

THE WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

In reproducing the following article we regret not to be able to give the illustration referred to as it appeared in the New York Tribune.

In reading the article we wondered if the material of which physicians are made to-day is any better than at the time referred to in our sketch, when the medical male students of Philadelphia proved themselves to be blackguards and rascals. We doubt it! One thing is sure: the entrance of women has improved the medical profession. Who can read this article and fail to give the women credit for their lady-like behavior, compared with the utter absence of gentlemanly conduct of the male students? If a medical man forgets that his mother and sister are women what can we expect of him when he comes in contact with other women ?

“One of the most astonishing sights conceivable for the male Rip Van Winkle who has slumbered through the recent years of women’s progress is that presented on clinic days at the Woman’s Medical College of Pennsylvania. It would probably convince him that the term ‘weaker sex,’ as applied by men to women, should be relegated to the region of misnomers.

“There was little sign of weakness about the operating physician the other day, when a reporter was present, as she donned rubber gloves and picked up a knife in readiness for the operation ; not a tremor disturbed the calm serenity of the woman who was administering the ether to the patient ; no symptoms of hysteria were visible among the corps of busy nurses and assistants, who quickly and silently took their stations around the operating table, each with her part in the work assigned to her and ready to do it swiftly and intelligently ; no excitement was visible among the hundred or so of women students who looked down on the scene from the tiers of seats. The woman dear to the older poets and romancists, she of the tender, clinging nature, likened so often to the vine that depends for its support on the giant oak round which it twines, could not be recognized here without a violent stretch of imagination.

“Certainly, the operating physician was no clinging vine. No man could have surpassed her in the coolness with which she approached the operating table and prepared to demonstrate to the girl students that modern skill could cope with the ailment of the moaning figure there. It was a moment when there inevitably arose in the mind of the onlooker certain cut and dried aphorisms regarding the right and proper place for women, most of them in the abstract, tending to show that her place is necessarily and forever where she happens to find herself in the beginning, but all setting down very clearly the conclusion that never can she be more than a gentle alleviator of the world’s woes, a comforter of the distressed, and a smotherer of troubled pillows. With the scene in the operating room before the view, such ideas seemed very much out of date. From the self-reliant looking woman physician who was the central figure in the scene to the girl student at the top of the tier of watchers, there was no one present who showed any sign of hesitation or nervousness.

“Yet there was not a woman present of the masculine type of which so many have a horror. The camera has faithfully reproduced the scene. A study of the faces will show that the young women looking down are as winsome and sweet as can be seen in any gathering of feminine students. With her head swathed in a linen turban the operating physician did look a little formidable, but seen later in the street, in ordinary attire, she had resumed the appearance of an attractive, womanly woman, who might have come from attending to her domestic duties as a happy wife and mother of the refined class, instead of emerging from a hospital after performing several difficult surgical operations.

“Another remarkable feature of this remarkable scene was that among the attentive listeners to the doctor’s lecture were students from several foreign countries. A young Chinese woman is in her third year at the college, and when graduated will return to the Orient to practice a more recently taught method of curing human ills than that in vogue in the Flowery Land, where sharks’-fin tonic and dried-frog lozenges are considered potent medicants. Another interesting student hails from Constantinople, and intends to minister to the physical needs of the women of the Sultan’s domain when she has won her degree ; still others are from Australia and New Zealand, and one is an Italian.

“In order that the true significance of the present flourishing condition of the college may be realized it is only necessary to hark back to the early days of the efforts of women to break into the profession of medicine. In a volume written by the dean of the Woman's College of Pennsylvania, Dr. Clara Marshall, the following is extracted from one of the leading newspapers of Philadelphia, the report having reference to a clinic at the Pennsylvania Hospital on November 6, 1869 :—

“ ‘ The students of the male colleges, knowing that the ladies would be present, turned out several hundred strong, with the design of expressing their disapproval of the action of the managers of the hospital particularly and of the admission of women to the medical profession generally.

“ ‘ Ranging themselves in line, these gallant gentlemen assailed the young ladies as they passed out with insolent and offensive language, and then followed them into the street, where the whole gang, with the fluency of long practice, joined in insulting them. It was an action which deprived every man in the crowd of all claim to the title of gentleman. If these women had given gross offence, if they had indulged in any unwomanly behavior, if they had intruded themselves in the hospital in violation of the rules, even then there would have been no excuse for such infamous conduct as this on the part of the students. But these ladies had absolute right there ; they were admitted by precisely the same authority that admits men, and, more than this, it was right that they should accept the privilege offered them if they wished to do so.'

"Subsequently there appeared as a communication to the same paper the following:—

"'When the ladies entered the amphitheatre they were greeted by yells, hisses, caterwaulings, mock applause, offensive remarks upon personal appearance, etc. . . . During the last hour missiles of paper, tin-foil, tobacco quids, etc., were thrown upon the ladies, while some of these men (?) defiled the desks of the ladies near them with tobacco juice.

"'It is but just to the ladies to say that they maintained their position as scientific students by a quiet and modest demeanor.'

"It seems a swift and dizzy flight from this scene of disorder at the clinic of 1869 to that described in the opening paragraph in the year of grace 1903, but in reality the progress has been painfully slow and laborious. The women have fought their way upward in the medical profession, meeting all opposition firmly and bravely, and mounting step by step, until to-day they have their own college, their own clinics, their own examinations, their own degrees, and their own sphere of action.

"What becomes of the graduates? There is a mistaken notion existing that most of them marry and cease to practise their profession. To prove how erroneous is this idea an effort was made some time ago to trace the careers of 244 of the graduates of the college. Of this number 166 responded affirmatively to the question, Are you now engaged in active medical practice? Twenty-three responded in the negative, giving as reasons for the negative reply: domestic duties, 8; philanthropic work, 1; ill health, 6; retired, 3; no reason assigned, 5. Seventy-six of the women written to replied, stating the monetary value of their practice a year. Twenty-four made $1,000 a year or more, but less than $2,000; twenty as much as $2,000, and less than $3,000; ten as much as $3,000 and less than $4,000; five as much as $4,000, and less than $5,000; three as much as $5,000 and less than $15,000. Four reported sums varying from $15,000 to $20,000 a year. Ten reported less than $1,000 a year. The average income was found to be $2,907.30."

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The time has arrived when the first step has been taken toward placing OUR HOME RIGHTS in every home, not only in the United States, but throughout civilization. The price henceforth will be only twenty-five cents per year. Who will not spend twenty-five cents a year to have the liveliest and most advanced magazine, advocating Truth and the People's Rights? In a short time arrangements will be made to issue OUR HOME RIGHTS in every modern language, thereby promoting its general usefulness. In the future OUR HOME RIGHTS will stand absolutely on its own merits entirely, edited by Citizens George Francis Train and Immanuel Pfeiffer. All live issues having an interest to Humanity will be fearlessly discussed from an independent standpoint, guarding the People's interest. OUR HOME RIGHTS' editors stand united in believing that as long as our false social, political, and religious system allows Doctors, Lawyers, and Ministers—a non-producing Trio—to flourish, and extract Millions—yea, Billions—from the masses, it will be utterly impossible for the People to rise into a high state of Health and Independence. Who will deny that in the same proportion that the People give evidence of ignorance, disease, and error (another trio closely related), the three professions will flourish? Who ever knew a Lawyer, Doctor, or Minister to give value for money received? Is it not clear to all that these three classes are financially interested in keeping a system going which promotes their interest and makes them leaders in society? Is it not true that when the masses reach a higher standing of Civilization they will not need any assistance from the Trio-Professions, hence will save their earnings, and Mr. Non-producer will be obliged to go to work to earn a living. This is a very clear proposition. Now comes the interesting question: Who dares attack the Professions, and show them up in a manner that the people will understand? The answer is: OUR HOME RIGHTS is pledged to fulfil this mission in a style which is bound to carry success in its wake. Citizens Train and Pfeiffer will devote their energies and best efforts to bring about a most needed reform, and they have the means at their command to furnish the ammunition necessary to demolish the artificial breastworks of the Enemies. The three Professions are a sham—Corruption and Selfishness are their foundation—Lies and falsehood are their weapons—and their unnatural and unjust power must be curtailed. Truth and knowledge will win the battle, and we know that as soon as our campaign is properly opened, the people for whom we fight will flock to our Banner, not for our sake, but for their own. We want to rescue the children of the present and coming generations, and prevent them from falling into the erroneous ways of their Parents. With this declaration we launch our ship of freedom upon the waves of the Cosmos, wishing all the friends of Humanity a happy and prosperous New Year. Let Justice take the place of Charity—

Light the place of Darkness—Truth the place of Falsehood—Knowledge the place of Ignorance—Health the place of Disease—Life the place of Death. These reforms practically introduced, and the Drones of Society will take their places on the back seat.

MY LIFE IN MANY STATES AND IN FOREIGN LANDS.

Written in Mills Hotel, in my Seventy-Fourth Year. By George Francis Train. Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, $1.25; postage, 12 cents.

Citizen Train's reminiscences will be widely read. He has been for more than thirty years one of the picturesque figures in America. All States have known him, and in many he has had his home. There are few lands on the globe to which he has not made journeys, few conditions of fortune he has not experienced. With stenographer at his side, he has prepared this book during summer now two-thirds gone. His memory has shown surprising tenacity, his mind clearness and vigor unusual to one of his age.
