WANTED—By W. J. SIMMONITE,

A Youth between 14 and 16 years of age, as an Usher; he must be a good Penman, and have a knowledge of the Latin tongue—apply by letter to the Author, No. 60, St. George's Square.

reverse of the foregoing, danger of loss from writings, bonds, lawsuits, controversy, trade, or office. To the place or bad aspects of the Moon, danger of sickness, not well to take journeys, especially if either of them rules the 3rd or 9th; disputation with wife or female foes, if she rule the 7th; death to a female, if she rules the 8th, or be on its cusp: to the good aspects of the Moon, advantages from females, also by speculations in those things found in 176. To the Dragon's Head, by bad aspect, unexpected adversity; but the good aspects produce unlooked-for prosperity: the bad aspects of the Dragon's Tail is bad, bringing disagreement with some of his acquaintance; but the good aspects are of very little importance.

Saturn to his own aspects, or to those of other Planets.

594. Saturn to his own good aspects is powerful in producing good according to the power he has at birth; if ruler of the 1st or 6th, health generally good; if ruler of the 2nd, pecuniary affairs are prosperous; if of the 10th, business is permanently good, with saturnine honor; his ill aspects act the reverse, producing sickness or loss, or other calamities, according to the house Saturn rules. To the body or good aspect of Jupiter, slight honor, health, wealth, and dignity from the favour of the great: to his ill aspects, slight dishonor and indisposition, with some loss, if either of them is ruler of the 10th or 2nd; bad for journeys, if rulers of the 3rd or 9th. Saturn to the good aspects of Mars, and Mars be well affected, then martial preferment, the native would do well in metals; yet he is given to dissemble, especially if ruler of the 12th or 8th; and the bad aspects produce danger among thieves; if ruler of the 7th or 6th, bad servants; if ruler of the 8th or 4th, danger of falls or bruises, during these effects it will be well for the native to be as little busied as possible with any new undertaking. To the body or bad aspects of the Sun, dishonor and loss in trade, if ruler of the 10th or 2nd, his expectations are frustrated; sickness if the Sun is hyleg, or either of them rule the 6th, or 8th, or 1st: their good aspects, not any thing important beyond the native being thoughtful, sparing, and he may attempt to obtain some office of trust (☉ to ♃). Saturn to the body or good aspects of Venus, the native is inclined to be immodest, given up to pleasure and company. The ill aspects, are productive of disputation with females, or with his wife if rulers of the 7th. To the body or ill aspect of Mercury, the native is subtle, crafty, knavish, vexed by words or writings, his fancy perplexed, children disobedient if ruler of the 5th, dull of apprehension, and he will affect gravity: the good aspects, he is conceited, full of whims, loves curiosity, and is studious and reserved. The body or bad aspects of the Moon, makes him changeable, he is plagued with coughs, colds, and rheumatisms, if the Moon is hyleg, or ruler of the 6th or 8th: he disagrees with his wife if in the 7th, or with the governess thereof; subject to enemies if ruler of the 12th: the good aspects, produce gain by all agricultural pursuits, and at this time farmers, masons (170), &c. are fortunate. Passing the 10th, trouble and difficulty by or through connexions formed at that time, especially if R. Passing the 4th, evil effects except counteracted by favourable configurations or circumstances in operation at the same time. Passing the 2nd, generally some great change in the native's pursuits in the world, often leading him into important speculations. Common sign on this cusp at birth, and Saturn therein, confer a restless, unsettled, speculative turn of mind: constantly removing or changing his business or pursuits, fond of travelling. Passing the 11th or 5th, lasting friendship. To the ♀, honor and happiness; to ♂, dishonor, contempt, malice, shame, enemies. To ⊕, increase of fortune if he was strong at birth.

Jupiter to his own aspects, or Transits to other Planets.

595. To his own place, or good aspect of others, much benefit, good health, an increase of acquaintances, respect and estimation. To Herschel, popularity and gain; but the ill aspects, disrepute and loss of honor: to Saturn, if Saturn be good in the radix, an augmentation of good; and if Jupiter rule the 1st, or come to bad aspect of Saturn, danger to the native, sorrow, implacable adversaries, and lingering indisposition, especially if Saturn rules the 1st, 6th, or 8th; but in the 12th, many secret sorrows: to the good aspect of Mars, profit by travel, commerce, kindred, and honorable men; but to the ill aspects, the reverse: to the body or bad aspect of Sol, denotes no good; prejudice from persons of character; but the good aspects, the reverse. Over the place of Venus, happiness, health of body, content of mind, with pecuniary advantages; the bad aspects are of but little moment, yet slight dishonor from a female or lover. Benefits when transiting the angles, except they are occupied by the sign Gemini, Virgo, or Capricorn. To the body or good aspect of Mercury, ingenuity, studious, and associates with good men. Transiting the body of the Moon, popularity, health, wealth, and honor by the commonalty, or by a lady, he may have a child born if married, especially if in the 5th house; if in the 3rd, a journey, and visiting among neighbours and relations. Transiting the ♀, good fame, and gain; but the ♂, shame and contempt: transiting the ⊕, augmentation of property. Passing the 10th, honor and good trade; the 11th, friends, and gain by trade; the 12th, to a farmer, great good, and to others less anxious fears.

Mars to his own place or Transiting others.

596. Mars to Herschel, a fever or inflammatory dealings: to Saturn, many sorrows, controversy, and sickness; intends short journeys, which will be attended with annoyance and disappointment: death in the family of an aged person: to Jupiter, advantages from profession and professional characters: to his own place, danger by fire, he forms new acquaintances, and may gain by martial procedures: to the Sun, imprisonment is threatened, and the disapprobation of some great man; yet, if well situated, it may give him a chance of advancement. To Venus, an infamous course of life; disputation with lover, wife, or mistress; given to gluttony and drunkenness. To Mercury, predisposes him to lying and cheating, with deception in his transactions, except Mercury be in the house of Venus. To the Moon, he associates with bad company, fond of women and wandering. To the ♀, success in war, quarrels, and duels: to the ♂, rashness, cowardice, and liable to perils. To the ⊕, profit in trade, good for speculating.

To his own good aspects, he does well in business; his bad aspects the reverse: over the cusp of the 1st, disputation and rash proceedings; indisposed, fretful, well not to undertake any new business, neither form any new acquaintanceships; to the 2nd, or its ruler, danger of bad bargains, neither buy nor trust: to the 3rd, disputations with relations; go no short journeys: to the 4th, of little effect, except to the native's father: to the 5th, or its ruler, bad time for speculating and to his children; take no species of pleasure: to the 6th, or its ruler, danger of sickness, and loss from thievish servants: to the 7th, or its lord, ill agreement with wife or lover; danger of lawsuit; if R, bustle and contention; danger of loss of situation, and has many public enemies: to the 8th, death in the family: to the 9th, bad long journeys, and sickness to the father: to the 10th, loss of honor; and if R, trouble and difficulty; well not to form any new connexions: to the 11th, hasty procedures; if R, violent and hasty: to the 12th, many enemies.

Venus to her own aspects, or Transiting others.

597. To the body of Herschel, some unexpected and sudden evil from females: to the ill aspects of Saturn, a libidinous course of life, trouble and crosses; disagrees with wife or husband, especially in the 7th: to Jupiter, the good aspects, an increase of wealth, virtue, and pleasure; visits his kindreds and friends; profits from persons in rank; feels disposed to be pious and useful: to the body of Mars, marriage, given to pleasure and debauchery; keeps ill company and fond of gaming: to the Sun, honor, pleasure, favor of respectable persons; if Sun be ill dignified, then evil attends the native; jealous of his wife or lover: to her own place, all things succeed, enjoys health, given to pleasure, music, dancing, &c.: to the place of Mercury, if both Venus and Mercury were well situated at birth, gives honor and gain by literature; he studies poetry and science: to the Moon, the native is changeable, obtains new acquaintances, and seeks female company: passing the cusp of the angles is good, the other houses of little importance: to the ♀, makes him happy: to the ♂, gives him disgrace by lude courses: to ⊕, gain, especially from women, and from all commodities signified by Venus. (174).

Mercury to his own aspects, or Transiting others.

598. To Herschel, gain by writings and science, (169): to Saturn, profit by husbandry, buildings, old persons; but inclines the native to knavery, (162): to Jupiter, a good time for gaining office, he gains by trade and is honorably employed: to Mars, inclined to all things brave, and magnanimous (164); but Mars weak, inclined to lying, cheating, wrangling with relations, and he falls into quarrels: to Sol, honor and preferment; but the bad aspects, busy in controversy, and meets with disappointments; bills of all descriptions should be avoided: to Venus, given to pleasure, carding, yet healthful and agreeable: to his own place, preferment; passing the angles, look well to his accounts: to the Moon, business, journeys, changes, new friends, and many advantages; if the Moon was strong at birth, then very good; if ill dignified, the reverse, (578): to ♀, credit from business; to ☿, loss and damage, with many little annoyances and disadvantages: to ⊕, gain by mercurialists, 175, and by some trades.

Moon's transits.

599. To Herschel, sudden good or ill, as Herschel is dignified, 565: to Saturn, the native is low spirited, pensive, meets with crosses, and is contentious about property, or with old persons: to Jupiter, health, contentment, good company, journeys by land; to the married an increase of family, or pleasure from those born: to Mars, sickness, controversy, danger in travelling; much wrangling with servants; and danger to the eyesight: to Venus, pleasure, according as Venus is situated at birth; beware of scandal under bad aspects: to the Sun, frowns or injuries; changes of residence: to Mercury, journeys, gain by merchandise; a good period for buying and selling: to ♀, credit and repute, especially among females: to ☿, loss of credit and estate; vexation from females: to ⊕, profit; but if badly situated at birth, then loss and disappointment.

600. I have always observed those times to be unfortunate to a native, when the luminaries are transiting, the conjunction, square, or opposition of the radical place of Herschel, Saturn, or Mars, especially if Sol or Luna happen to square their own place at the same time; or if the preceding lunation was in an evil place. Some remarkable evil event is generally at hand when the Sun is in opposition; or the Moon in square at the same time to a radical malefic.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

OF SECONDARY OR PROGRESSIVE DIRECTIONS.

601. All the directions hitherto contemplated and perspicuously explained are called PRIMARY DIRECTIONS; because they operate sometimes several weeks, 481. Secondary Directions are weaker than primary, and are those configurations and familiarities of the planets which arise daily from their Geocentric Longitude in the zodiacal signs, and their parallels of declination. All aspects to the planets or to the angles, that happen on the first day after birth, correspond to the first year, those of the second, to the second year, and so on. The nature of the event may be very clearly pointed out by paragraphs 593 to 600. These directions endure only a few weeks; the aspects of the Sun and the Moon operate about two months; Saturn and Herschel, three months; those of Mars are soon over, but are very effective. Parallels falling in the sign Capricorn or Cancer, continue a great length of time in operation. The aspects of the Moon with other planets are soon over. To judge more particularly, we must take into consideration the effects

OF PERIODIC REVOLUTIONS.

602. Each of the planets has a complete period of its own, entirely distinct from every other motion which it may acquire, either in the zodiac or in the world ; and a Problem is prepared for the working of these important periodic aspects. And here follow

The effects of the Periodic Direction of Saturn.

603. Saturn directed to his radical place of the Sun, is evil according to the house in which it falls, (146) causing discredit, loss of honor, makes the native changeable, weakness of sight ; sickness, especially if the Sun be hyleg, or ruler of the 6th or 8th ; the good aspects not much effect : to the Moon, evil, deaths among relations : to Venus, trouble through women, he keeps company with imprudent persons, and is dishonored by the same ; and if Venus be lady of the 7th, prejudice to the wife, and disappointments through love affairs, &c. : to Mercury, troubles in business, through writings, youthful persons, children disobedient, (if any) he is dull of apprehension, &c. : to Mars, accidents, danger among thieves ; but the good aspects and Mars well affected, short journeys, gain by military or martial preferment : to Jupiter, loss of money ; the good aspects, slight honor, dignity from persons in power.

The effects of Mars by periodic revolution.

604. Mars produces a variety of evil, but the effects are soon over. To Herschel, danger of sickness, pains in the head ; under this the native must not bathe, danger of thieves, falls, fires, gunshot, &c. ; if in the 6th, 4th, or 8th, danger of fractures from falls ; if in the 9th or 3rd, very dangerous on railways—do not speculate ; to Saturn's ill aspects, death to some distant relation ; if in the 10th, loss of office ; if in the 7th, controversy or law, with affliction to his enemies : to Jupiter, gain by kindred, the clergy, great cattle, lawyers, &c. ; if ill aspects, then the reverse : to Venus, love intrigues, or marriage, especially if these were in good aspect with each other, or with the Sun ; surfeit and infamy if in bad aspects : to Mercury, by body or bad aspect, inclined to dissemble, quarrel, evil speaking ; bad for writings, bonds, lawsuits, old debts : to the Moon, given to drink, ill company, short journeys ; slander from females, &c. 569. When Mars returns to his own place at nineteen years of age, and then is in good aspect of Sol or Venus, the native either marries or is engaged in love.

The effects of Jupiter by periodic revolution.

605. Over the Sun's place, friendship, prosperity, and honorable acquaintances ; health and gain ; the bad aspect, sickness, loss of office, or honor, 547 : over the Moon, marriage, or gain by a woman ; healthful and popularity ; reputation from the common people ; he takes a journey, or may have a child born, if married, 567 ; passing over the place of Mercury, gain in business, he seeks the company of learned persons ; he is ingenious and inclined to science : over Mars, in a male natus, friends ; in a female horoscope, courtship or marriage ; profits by travelling, but danger of indisposition ; by commerce and by kindreds : over Saturn, renewal of old acquaintance, esteem may be anticipated ; but if Saturn be ill aspected, many sorrows, enemies, &c. : over Herschel, or his good aspects, gain, studious if either rule the 9th, inventive, and sudden benefits ; to bad aspects, the reverse.

The effects of the Sun by periodic revolution.

606. The Sun is an active significator of honor, credit, and accidentally of life and health. His good aspects to Herschel, sudden honors and advancements, the ill aspects, dishonor and pecuniary losses; death to a distant relation: his bad aspects to Saturn (544), or to Mars (548) is decidedly dangerous. Every one who has the Sun afflicted at birth, has an illness or peculiar trouble every 10th year. The good aspects of Jupiter (546), or of Venus (550), is very fortunate, according to the house ruled, 476. Coming to the M. C., benefits in profession or business, but if in bad aspect of Mars at the time, then evil may occur: to good aspects of Mercury, journeys, removals, active business, and successful lawsuits, 552: his bad aspects, troubles by similar means, frauds from young persons, servants, &c. 553: to good aspects of the Moon, preferment, or an important change in circumstances, marriage or courtship, 555: his ill aspects, sickness, extravagant, fickleness, &c. 556.

The effects of the Moon by periodic revolution.

607. The Moon is powerful, producing numerous inferior events, which however light they may appear, do not fail to cause much passing annoyance or transitory benefit; her effects are frequently anticipated nearly three weeks, but seldom prolonged. To Herschel, a sudden journey, or public office: to Saturn by ill aspect, loss and annoyances; to good aspect, benefits, 556: to Jupiter, generally good, 567: to Venus, benefits by females, marriage, or children, 574 and 575: to Mercury, sudden slight changes, 577 and 578: to Mars, advancement, 570; his ill aspects, loss by frauds, disease, and death of relations, 569.

The effects of Venus by periodic revolution.

608. Venus's effects are transient, but generally good and agreeable (484): over the Sun, marriage, health, an inclination to enjoy pleasure and amusement, 550: her ill aspect cause troubles by females, and by free living, producing disease and discredit, disappointment in marriage, slander, and many vexations, 551: her aspects to Jupiter are good or ill according to Jupiter's power in the figure at birth: to Saturn or Mars, evil, disappointment, and sickness: to Herschel, benefits in the family: to Mercury, fond of study and science: to the Moon, or M. C. honor, pleasure, and prosperity, 571: to ill aspect, sickness and sorrow, produced from previous pleasure.

The effects of Mercury by periodic revolution.

609. Over Herschel, turmoil with money and bills, the native's creditors are unjust, and his debtors are dilatory. The situation of Mercury must be particularly noted, especially those planets with which he is in parallel, as he partakes strongly of the nature of those planets with which he is connected by aspect, and will act accordingly. If evil, at birth, and come to ill aspect of the Moon, or the hyleg, mental diseases, epilepsy, &c., may be expected. His good aspects generally give journeys, removals, much activity in business, and general success.

The effects of Herschel by periodic revolution.

610. Whatever good he may produce, when aspecting, will be of a sudden description, and out of the common course of things. His evil aspects to the hyleg are very evil, bringing death into the family: in ill aspect to Moon, Sun, or Venus, decidedly evil in domestic affairs, disorder and turmoil; he is equally evil in love, and peculiarly inimical to the fair sex: over Saturn or Mars, very evil, great care must be taken in health and wealth, matrimony and business.

611. Upon delivering judgment on any of these species of directions, it is absolutely necessary to pay the greatest attention to the nature and quality of the aspects; for it often happens that a primary direction may import much good, when, at the same time, a malignant secondary, or a periodic configuration may come up of so strong and powerful a nature as to frustrate all the beneficial effects portended by the former. The want of attending to this, has frequently confounded our modern practitioners; who, confiding in the benignant tendency of some extraordinary good aspect in the zodiac, have promised an advance of fortune to the native, which has never come to pass, because of counter-aspects of this latter order. Hence it must appear to every rational mind, and experimental astral student, that the strictest caution, and the utmost deliberation are necessary, in forming our opinion on the directions upon a nativity; for, if at least we err in this, all our labour is lost, and the unfortunate enquirer is deluded with vain expectations of a happy run of good fortune, or fearful of some dreadful catastrophe, neither of which, by the nature of the stars, was ever intended to happen.

 CHAPTER XXXV.

We do not consider any more kinds of directions than the two following: namely, 1st,

OF REVOLUTIONARY FIGURES.

612. A revolutionary figure is the exact position of the Heavens at the moment the Sun returns to the same degree and minute he possessed the moment the native was born. The judgments of a revolution are easy to be understood, by considering in what house and sign in the revolution, the radical significators are posited, for according to the concord or discordant positions and configurations, so must we judge. If the radical figure be unfortunate, the native will reap but little benefit from a promising revolution; for a radical evil can never be eradicated by an accidental good, though the evil may be mitigated.

613. Compare the figure of the revolution with that of birth, and observe how the cusp of the houses and the significators agree, or are disposed, for upon these the judgment depends. If the revolutionary Ascendant and M. C. be in good aspect with the radical, or be the same with the angles, signify good health, prosperous, and an increase of substance ; especially if the lords of the Ascendants be well dignified. If the Ascendant of the revolution be in bad aspect with the angles of the radix, then evil will be felt that year, according to the signification of the revolutionary Ascendant did signify in the radix.

614. If the planets are returned to their radical place, or in sextile, trine, parallel, or any good aspect thereto, shew a good revolution. If the planets are in bad aspect to their radical situation, then evil may necessarily be anticipated.

615. If the sign of the radical 6th, 7th, or 12th, be the 1st of the revolution, in that year may be expected sickness, open foes, imbecility of body, and such things as those houses signify ; and more especially if those houses or their lords were evilly disposed at birth. The sign of the 7th in the radix being the 1st, of the revolution, shews contentions, animosities, lawsuits, the native either marries or desires to do so.

616. Whenever you find the lord of the radical 2nd, Part of Fortune, or Jupiter, in the revolution 2nd, the native shall be pecuniarily advantaged, and augmentation of patrimony by things or persons signified by that house, &c. If the lord of the 2nd of the radix be in the 3rd, of the revolution, denotes gain by short journeys, kindreds, or neighbours ; and if lord of the 2nd be also in sextile or trine, with the lord of the 3rd, in the radix, the above effects will be felt. If with the lord of the 4th, by a father, prosperity. If in the 5th, or in sextile or trine to its lord, gain by children, speculation, gaming, sports, selling of spices, liquors. If in the 6th, or in sextile or trine with its radical lord, gain by servants, workmen, small cattle, tenants. Proceed in this way through all the houses, and if the significators be evil, then judge ill from the above portentions, &c.

617. So that it appears, that the significators of substance in a revolution, is not the lord of the 2nd in the revolution, but the lord of the 2nd in the radix ; the same understand of the rest of the houses. The revolution is firmer if the same sign ascend as that which ascended at birth : the same, if those planets which were lords of the house in the radix be lords of the same in the revolution, though they possess not the same sign. If in the revolution any of the planets behold the radical places of Sun, Moon, Jupiter, Part of Fortune, or Venus, by good aspect, are very good signs ; and so much the more if they behold them in the revolution with fortunate aspects. But the contrary effects will be felt if the aspects are evil ; as, 201.

618. In every revolution in which the planets are contrarily disposed to those in the radix, though of themselves be tolerably situated, yet they signify evil ; as, if at birth all the planets were above the earth and the revolution, any planets well aspected below the earth, they will have but little portention to good, &c. Ill may be expected when Herschel, Saturn, Mars, or ☿ passes over the Ascendant or M. C. of the revolutional figure.

619. Observe in what house the Sun is posited, and of what he is ruler, and accordingly those things which he signifies, will be either good or evil, honorable or dishonorable, joy or sorrow, according as the Sun is well or ill placed in the revolution ; and the good or evil may be known from the house in which the Sun is posited at the revolution, and by the nature of the impeding planet.

620. The planets of a revolution have no relation to the native, as lord of the houses of the revolution, but only from their radical position and domination; for the 1st of a revolution is not the native's Ascendant, but only an accidental Ascendant.

621. The transit of body or conjunction, is much more powerful than any aspect; and Sun or Moon transiting Herschel, Saturn, or Mars, or their opposition, especially if the luminaries be rulers of the Ascendant, will prove inimical, death or sickness if the hyleg be afflicted by direction. If Herschel, Saturn, Mars, or Mercury, was radically unfortunate, although they transit the angles, the places of Jupiter, Venus, Sun, or Moon, signify no good but losses, crosses, troubles, quarrels, and ill management of affairs, the same also when they pass their square or opposition; but when they pass their sextile, or trine, are adjunct of good if they have dignities in those places. We are to take great care of the transits, as we have before noticed their effects in part, together with the ingresses and Problems are provided for them—as for the

LUNATIONS

622. They are the full and new Moon immediately preceding any important event, which generally shew, by the position of the luminaries, as regards the planets' places in the radix, and at the revolution the nature of the events to follow.

OF TRANSITS OF PLANETS.

623. Transits are the planets' passing over important places of a radical figure, its Asc., M. C., and other parts of primary significance; also of the eratics aspecting the place of a planet, or the passing of one body over the place of another in both nata and revolutions. Transits of good planets signify good, but by evil places and aspects they denote evil; transits of Herschel, Saturn, and Jupiter, are of great importance, for they never pass without sensible effects. Transits of the planets are easily perceived by Simmonite's Ephemeris, in which the aspects are also calculated to the very moment when they take place. Observe the day on which any of the planets by body or aspect, good or evil, pass any of the cusps of the houses of the natus, or that degree wherein the planets possessed at birth.

624. In all transits observe the inherent properties of the transitor; the radical determination of the transit; and the state, capacity, or condition of the native at the time of the transit; as the transition may be strong or weak—fortunate or unfortunate—as to the planet or place transited. If Herschel, Saturn, Mars, or Mercury, was radically unfortunate, although they transit the body or good aspect of the angles or planets, they signify no good, but the contrary. If one bad transit, is speedily succeeded by another evil one, and more especially the same place or body, during a coherent direction or revolution; presages a duplication of the signified evil, and consequently augments danger and misfortune.

625. The actual transit of the Moon continues about 6 days—that of the Sun, 12 days—that of Jupiter 20 days—that of Saturn, 30 days—that of Mars about 9 days—that of Mercury, 6 days—that of Venus, 9 days—and the effect of Herschel's transits, not less than 40 days. The transits of Luna discover the almost daily occurrences of life, and she must be particularly attended to. See on what day she casts a good aspect to the cusp of the 2nd or its ruler, or a planet near its cusp, or to the \oplus , and say, that is a good day, and profitable for getting in money, or transacting any bargain; but the evil aspects to these act contrarily.

626. If good planets, or the lord of the Ascendant, transit the M. C. or place of its lord, or its good aspects (200), good for seeking orders in business, situations, &c., as the 10th house signifies. The ruler of the 1st, then health if a benefic; sickness, &c., if a malefic; to the 2nd, gain, &c.; to the 3rd by good aspect, a journey, friendship among brethren, &c., and so judge of the rest.
