Influence of Thought Atmospheres

THAT an audience 'makes' a performance is axiomatic in theatre lore," declares Jane Cowl. "I have no hesitation in affirming that my own performance rises on the wings of that subtle, indefinable aura of friendliness, which certain audiences manifest almost immediately after the rise of the curtain, while I am correspondingly depressed by an opposite mental attitude on the part of the people for whom I am playing.

"It will always be a marvel to me, this impalpable something that goes from the audience to the player at every performance. I have not spoken my first line before I am immediately conscious, perhaps I should say subconscious, of either the mental support which is a positive force, or a state of cold indifference, negative but equally effective, which is projected toward me from the other side of the footlights.

"The composite-audience-mind offers a most interesting study to the student of psycho-analysis. How to account for it? Whether it is dominated by certain thought currents which are stronger than others—for assuredly all the people composing an audience cannot arrive at the theatre in the same mood. Whether all the different mental waves are fused and focused at a certain point? How much the weather has to do with it all? These are a few of the interesting queries that some clever psychologist might study with more or less profit.

"Whatever the answer, I know that these mysterious forces or currents emanating from the people out front make all the difference in the world in the individual response of the actor, and thus, in the entire performance of the play.

"Audiences cannot make a bad play good by maintaining a friendly attitude toward it, but they can come very near to making a good play bad.

"The greater the artist in the theatre, the finer his sensibilities to external influences; therefore, it is 'up to' an audience to get the best which a player has to give in return for a warm and friendly attitude of receptivity or to bring forth an indifferent or even a bad performance, which is the reaction from that subtle antagonism which certain audiences manage to throw at the player, and which meets its reward in a corresponding antipathic response from him."

Thought Atmospheres

WHEN a person of prominence becomes ill the newspapers announce the fact, and indirectly give the idea that the condition is more serious than the physician will admit. The reading public is encouraged in the belief that there may be a fatal outcome. With the general belief that disease is more powerful than health, the whole force of the negative faith of hundreds of thousands of minds is turned against the effort of the sick person to overcome his indisposition. When we understand that the human spirit is sensitive to all such thoughts aroused in minds by the news reports, we can readily understand that it has not only the disease to overcome but the depressing thought of all these minds as well.

Dr. Sheldon Leavitt writes of such unfavorable thought atmosphere on the sick:

"The private history of the case embraces a primary period of slight physical disturbance, giving occasion for no alarm. But when the newspapers turn the thought of thousands of persons to expecting something serious the symptoms deepen, and appallingly often they ultimate in death. Such an experience appears to be one of the penalties of eminence. It has become true that an attack of serious illness in a person of prominence, in most cases, has a fatal ending. The man of no reputation stands a far better chance for life." Dr. Leavitt wrote several years ago of Dr. Harper, who was President of the Chicago University: "I had a dozen private interviews with Dr. Harper during his illness. In one of them as I sat on the edge of his bed with his hand in mine, I said, 'Dr. Harper I am a firm believer in the existence and influence of thought atmospheres established by the thoughts of many minds—atmospheres which may elevate or depress both mentally and physically, according to their character, 'And so am I,' he responded. 'You do not know how dreadfully I have suffered from their effects.' And then he went on to tell me that he had suffered the oppression of such atmospheres until they seemed unbearable.

"As tending to show how earnestly he desired to get rid of this influence I may add that, with Dr. Harper's earnest approval, an attempt was made quietly to organize a band of resolute, faithful souls to stem the tide of this pernicious flood by their optimistic thought and affirmations. But it was found that there were so few to whom the subject could be broached, without endangering its designed effect, that the effort was dropped. It was the case of a mere handful against a million."

You, as a student or member of the Eloist Ministry are united with a Ministry which provides you with a mighty spiritual protection against the adverse thoughts and feelings of other minds. All your efforts to outgrow the negative mental and physical conditions by which you have been limited are strengthened by your union with this organization of Ministers who keep attuned constantly to the mightiest faith and love, and give you their blessings to inspire and strengthen all your efforts.

The heavy thought vibrations which come over you suddenly and depress you, are evidence of this realm of negative forces which you need to understand in order to overcome them. You feel the thought atmospheres most sensibly when you are on the threshold of the sub-conscious state, either when just falling asleep or when awakening. The person in apparently good health who becomes subject to fits of depression, and who is affected by a melancholia so profound that life does not seem worth living, is affected by the realm of negative thought forces. These depressing forces of thought touch the region of the subconscious mind, and their influence is great because people are affected more by their subconscious impressions and impulses than they are by the thoughts and feelings created by their conscious minds. Their conscious minds are not sufficiently creative to overcome these subconscious impressions.

In this School you are taught the Culture of your creative Will, but as time is required to gain the conscious direction of all your own spiritual forces, your spirit needs to be enfolded in the bright blessings created in the Sanctuary and radiated to all who are learning to minister with us.

You can learn with us to transmit your thoughts and feelings instantaneously to bless and benefit any mind in any part of the world. Your positive affirmations of faith and love will generate thought waves which will radiate to every person in sympathy with your mind—and this includes many persons whom you have never met. As a positive, creative thinker of good thoughts you will more and more influence all minds passive to your good influence.

Positive thinkers of selfish and hateful thoughts influence many to help them fulfil their greedy or destructive designs, but you can unite with others to create beneficial thought influences which will inspire many to plan and work together for the good of the human race.

Whether the race shall continue to suffer the results of moral degeneration in this world and the next, depends upon the power of good will which many can create together and direct for the spiritual and physical regeneration of society. There is no nobler or more inspiring work than this of acting as agents of the Father's Will and working together to give wisdom and love to all humanity.

A Beautiful Home

THERE is a home in Chicago which illustrates the need of many homes and the benefit which any mother can receive by affiliation with the Eloist Ministry, and by teaching and practicing its principles in her home. The mother in this home is faced with the problem of providing religious instruction for her young children. She has outgrown the religious beliefs of those churches which teach the blood atonement and a plan of salvation to save from the wrath to come. She has more sympathy with the liberal churches, but even they do not teach how to exercise the real dynamics of Godhood which she has learned slumber within the souls of her self and children. If she sends her children to either class of these churches, they will not receive the instruction which will help them develop their spirits, as she realizes that they may be developed, by the right instruction. In fact she knows that many of the ideas of immortality, of the providence of Angels, of spiritual progression, and of the practice which develops the divinity in the soul, may be nullified and weakened by the more materialistic instruction given at Sunday School. So she prefers to teach her own children, and thereby give them the broad and deep vision of spiritual principles which she has gained, and at the same time draw her children closer in love and sympathy to her, and gain their co-operation in the development of that family spirit which is most like the Spirit which unites the angels in heaven.

This mother found in the teachings in the Magazine RELIGION and in the lessons sent from time to time, the material which she uses, and after meditation, adapts them to the growing minds of her children.

She was first a student of the Eloist Ministry by correspondence. From the instruction provided, she learned how to commune with the power of God in her own soul, which resulted in the uncovering of daily strength for daily needs. Then there was the wonderfully beautiful revelation of the powers and possibilities which could be brought into expression in humanity through the inspiration of the Ministry of Angels. Her study and meditation upon the lessons and her hourly association in thought with this organized Spirit of the Eloist Ministry made her aware of its marvellous blessings of light and peace. To her the Ministry of Angels has become a reality and a source of spiritual protection and strength which she wants her husband and children to share with her.

After some months of study this mother was convinced that she believed in the Religion of the Eloist Ministry with all her heart, and that she could no longer honestly subscribe to the doctrines of the church with which she had been affiliated since childhood. She felt that in all honesty she should give her loyal faith and her financial support to the Ministry from which she was receiving spiritual instruction and illumination. She, therefore, withdrew from her local church affiliation and became a member of the Eloist Ministry, and agreed to give a certain part of her income each month to supporting its activities.

She now finds great happiness in learning how to express her knowledge of spiritual principles to her children. Religion is no longer a belief to which she subscribes without thought. It is something to be practiced from hour to hour in the building of her soul and in the shaping of her destiny. Its principles must be applied in helping her husband and children to solve their problems. It is this application of the principles that calls out the creative powers of her mind, because the problem of raising and educating children is so complicated. Still, the very importance of the right solution of this problem has challenged her intelligence, and she has not lacked wisdom. As each problem has presented itself, she has held it in mind until, from her own effort to understand and use the principles, she has called forth the intuitive wisdom of her soul.

She is a successful Eloist—a doer of the will of God—and she has the admiration and love of her children, who bring to her all the materialistic and degrading mental attitudes which they gain from their contact with other children of this jarring age. With these materialistic ideas she contrasts the spiritual thought of the immortality and progression of their spirits, and shows her children what will be the effect on their lives and immortal characters of the present mental attitude and search for selfish gratification of the children of this age.

Such pictures of the consequences of human thoughts and actions as were given in "Behind the Veil of Death" and "The Triumph Over Death" have enabled her to teach her children, most effectively, the great spiritual law that "whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap."

The father of this family is a business man. He has watched his wife's efforts at teaching and practicing the principles of Religion with growing interest and admiration. From an attitude of tolerance, he has developed an attitude of wonder and co-operation, as he has seen his wife exemplify and demonstrate the principles which mean to her the practicality of Religion as a uniting, organizing, harmonizing and healing force in human lives.

This man is learning to apply the principles to business affairs. In his office he hears the clock strike the hour in a nearby tower, and this recalls him to the use of the affirmation which he has written on a card and placed near his hand on the desk. If he is busy at the moment, he merely reaches for the card and without interrupting the business in hand he reads the affirmation with the thought of his wife and children, and of that larger Family of Eloists located in all parts of the world, who are linked together in thought as the clock strikes the hour. When he is not busy he gives more attention to the affirmation, closing his eyes and repeating it silently and asserting his power to bless The Eloist Ministry and its hosts of ministering angels.

This business man has learned through his wife's instruction how to exercise the creative power of thought to become superior to destructive worries. By the use of the sacred name of his own eternal being, he has found the place of power in the center of his nature. He can, at will, unlock the door of the holy of holies of his own temple and enter into its interior state of peace. When business problems arise he no longer worries about them, but enters into his private office, and centering his thoughts upon the solution of the problem, he thinks constructively about it until the light of intuition dawns and the way to accomplish is clearly seen. As a result he is becoming a more masterful mind. He has learned to generate and radiate a stronger spirit of faith and good-will which is felt by his associates. Consequently, he is exercising a greater influence as a business organizer and is becoming a stronger polarizing center for that success and prosperity which result from the wise development of personal influence.

The home life of this family is becoming more joyously radiant with love and health every day. With every member of the family radiantly happy, their spirits are resistant to disease. The love which they express one to another is a life-giving and invigorating spiritual element of the greatest potency in keeping the spirit of health positive and active in every member of the family.

The mother and children have little concentration classes from time to time as they feel inclined, and sometimes they unite with their father in the evening when he is at home. Instead of going to church on Sunday they devote the eleven o'clock hour to family service. They have learned to sing their affirmations as they are sung in the Sanctuary of the Ministry, and they bless friends and neighbors with their united love. They have the joy of realizing that they have saved many of their friends from the destructive effects of disease and operations by exercising and directing the blessings of love which they generate together. Into their lives has come the Ministry of Angels. This life has become the preparatory School for the life of eternal progression that lies before them. They are living the eternal life now, which has no prospect of death or limit to it. They are learning to exercise the noblest powers of their souls in ministering to others under the inspiration of the Ministry of Angels. They know that as they live and think and bless joyously in this world, they will continue to live joyously and actively doing good forever.

A Mighty Organization of Ministers

"A union of those who love
In the service of those who suffer"

IN the cities, in the villages and on the farms all over this broad land, are students and members of the Eloist Ministry who are learning how to develop the mighty dynamics of their own divinity by doing the will of the Father.

From England, Germany, Africa, Australia, and many other foreign lands, and from the islands of the seas, they write from month to month telling of their problems, and how they are solving them by exercising the latent intelligence within their souls.

No local church has so widespread or so strong a fellowship in study and co-operation. Those who hear their pastor in church on Sunday may forget his words before the week is out. Not so with the students and members of The Eloist Ministry. They study and apply the principles of Religion which they are taught by correspondence, and which they have learned will solve all the problems of human life. These principles have become as practical to them as the science of electricity. They have entered upon the great adventure of making God, and His love in their hearts, an actual creative and regenerative power in their lives.

You can become a person of great spiritual influence in your world by studying and practicing the Principles of Religion with the members of The Eloist Ministry.

The lessons will ignite the latent spiritual force of your soul as a spark ignites powder. You will realize that the words of spiritual truth are charged with the dynamics generated by all the students and members of the Ministry. During your daily study you will feel the awakening of the power in your own soul which we are realizing and radiating from our souls to you.

As you gain a living faith in this practice, your personal influence will increase. You will gain more by co-operation with the Ministry than you can gain by studying alone, because you will have the organized influence and energy of the Eloists in the Sanctuary blessing you from day to day.

As Jane Cowl, or any actress, feels the combined thought atmosphere of her audience as a tangible, helpful, or hindering force, so you will feel the Blessings of this Ministry creating a helpful, healing atmosphere that will affect and benefit you and every one in your world.

We are consciously vibrating a vital, spiritual force from hour to hour in our Sanctuary. The letters we receive attest that these Blessings are felt as a quickening, healing force by every student who keeps his mind attund to our positive realization of healing life. In this way, we are exerting an influence in the lives of thousands of persons.

Every student who learns to exercise his will, his faith, and his love, to help humanity becomes a Masterful Mind. This way of everlasting life and progress is scientific and certain. We are only proving the truth of the words of Jesus when he stated:

He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also And greater works shall he do. John 14:12.

By practicing the teachings of Jesus, we have found the creative power of the Father which he realized. We have spent years learning how to cultivate love, how to increase faith, and how to concentrate our united wills, to organize the creative Will of the Father into a most helpful, healing Ministry. Because of this long experience, we have gained the wisdom and power to help you overcome more quickly, if you will unite with us, than you can overcome alone.

When we concentrate together in the Sanctuary our souls burn with the fire of spiritual fervor, and our bodies become radiant with a healing power which we sense physically. We radiate this physical glow and spiritual glory to all our friends at a distance. We are exhilarated and invigorated as we bless. You, in like manner, can feel new life and energy radiating through every part of your body as you learn to bless with us.

We are sharing our united realization of spiritual life with thousands of students in all parts of the world. We are personifying the love and blessings of our Father. Because we are positive and radiant with love, these students, even at a distance, feel our influence and become positive and radiant. As they become positive with good feelings, they open the inner door of their souls through which the creative energy of love expresses to heal their bodies.

All human beings, whether in or out of the physical body, live in the Mind of God, the Creator. Minds are superior to space, and those in sympathy with one another are united by their sympathy, even though they be miles apart. The students who are in sympathy with the members of this Ministry feel what we feel, and are blessed by our positive realizations of life, love, and wisdom.

We keep ourselves positive in a most joyous realization of life and love, so that every one who vibrates in sympathy with our sphere of influence feels inspired with healing life and love. By studying our lessons, you can cultivate this same attitude of mind, and become positive to every depressing thought, a center of radiant influence to every one in your world, a Master Mind.

When we lived in thoughtless and weak states of mind, we suffered and failed. As we became positive and superior to those negative states of mind, we realized a greater measure of health and success.

Your progress in spiritual power depends upon how you exercise your mind and organize creative power into your nature. Enter to-day the pathway of spiritual progression. Begin to study and practice the Principles of Religion which will be the joyous, creative activity of your life throughout the aeons of eternity. Thus you will reorganize and regenerate your personality into positive power for good. We will gladly give our united Blessings to help you overcome every obstacle.

As a large mass of inert iron becomes electrified into a powerful magnet to attract and lift a heavy load of metal, so your personality, no matter how weak and inert it may be at present, can be electrified by the power of the Father's Will to attract health, friends, good-fortune, opportunities, success, and become an uplifting influence to others. We would be your friends and minister to you with the love of "legions of angels," and help you to express all that you aspire to be for the glory of God and for the good of your fellow men.

Physicians and Surgeons. Your patients have spiritual bodies as well as physical bodies. There are spiritual as well as physical causes for their diseases. Learn to minister to their distressed and weakened spirits. Become a silent Minister with the Eloist Ministry. Learn to impart spiritual life through your spirit to those who are too weak spiritually to overcome. When possible get them to become students of our principles that they may receive the spiritual life which their spirits crave and need. Unite with this Ministry, and we will help you to accomplish spiritual healing for your patients while you are ministering to their physical needs.

Osteopaths, Chiropractors, and Nature Curists. We will give you the benefit of the Blessings of this Ministry to help you in your work as healers of humanity. We can add to the power of your personalities the power of many concentrating personalities. As you manipulate and treat your patients, you can, at the same time, transmit to them the spiritual power of a mighty ministry of healers. Become students of The Eloist Ministry and partake of the power which will increase your healing influence an hundred fold. As you unite with this Ministry and use its methods, you will heal patients which heretofore have seemed incurable.

Healers and Nurses. You are dealing constantly with the sick. You need the added spiritual strength of those who are on the mountain height of realization to help your spirit withstand the negative and depressing atmosphere of those whom you are helping. We have seen so many nurses and healers overcome in the long run by these depressing conditions that we gladly proclaim a method of protection. We have developed a Ministry which provides angelic inspiration and protection for all those who affiliate to educate and uplift human souls. We would give you the benefit of all that experience has taught us as healers of the sick. You need the backing of a Ministry of positive personalities to sustain you and help you to overcome the depressing atmosphere into which your merciful calling carries you day and night. You can minister with us and silently give every one of your patients of the added power which you will receive from our hourly Blessings.

Pastors and Teachers. Do you want to teach a dynamic Religion and express the power of dynamic personalities? Do you not know that spiritual power can be measured as a physicist measures electrical force? We would reveal to you the dynamics of Religion. We would show you that we are developing dyamos for the generation of spiritual power as engineers develop dynamos for the generation of electrical energy.

Unless you practice the principles of Religion in such a way as to develop your personal dynamo so that you can create and radiate spiritual power, you will not succeed in making religion vital and practical. Religion is useless unless it regenerates characters and human society. Healing is not the object of Religion, it is only one of the effects of the transformation of character which comes from learning how to express God's love.

You are called to reveal the Gospel of love and to organize love in mankind, so that it will overcome the aggregate organized forces of selfishness and hatred. The psychology of fear and the search for personal salvation have not availed to bring the kingdom of Love on earth. You are making no progress in conquering the evils of human nature and society.

We have discovered how to develop the dynamics of the divinity in every human being. We have learned how to personify the love of the Father, and how to grow in the realization of His presence day by day. We have developed personal dynamos and a Place of Power through which the Ministry of Angels can bring their organized Providence of Love to earth to awaken and regenerate human souls.

Study with this Ministry and learn to become a dynamo of Divinity generating the living power of God for the resurrection of souls from selfishness and sorrow. Come and learn the Gospel of Immortality and Minister henceforth as a Minister of the Immortals.

Lecturers and Leaders. You are standing in positions before the public which make you magnets for all the undeveloped and depressing psychical forces in the astral realms. You exert a mighty psychological sway over the minds of men. The forces of the universal Mind obey your wills and desires and bring people and money to you abundantly. But you need protection from these very forces which blindly obey your wills. Your need is greater than you know. Seeing for years how the lecturers and leaders were ultimately overcome by the greatness of the spiritual power which for a time they directed without any evil effect, we sought for the cause and cure of these psychical conditions. We gained the wisdom and protection of the Immortals, and we would give you their organized protection. We would help you to minister to mortals without being overwhelmed by their heaviness of spirit. We would save you from the disaster and defeat which has overwhelmed many who have gone forth to battle with ignorance and selfishness with the sincerest and noblest motives. Let the Ministry of the Immortals reveal to you the way of wisdom and protection that your spirit may ever increase in power, and the influence of your personality may grow greater and greater through immortal ways of endless progression.

How to Receive The Blessings of The Immortals

When you write for the instruction of The Eloist Ministry you will receive a concentration card containing a mystical Name the use of which will cause your soul to vibrate with the mighty Ministry of the Immortals.

This card will teach you how to attune your mind to the Tone of the Kingdom, the Wavelength of the Broadcasting Station of the Immortals now established on earth.

Your practice of this method exclusively will enable you to rise superior to the disease-producing broadcasts of negative and depressing minds. After practicing this instruction one of the students wrote:

"Your letter has been received enclosing that wonderful exercise, and I immediately began to use it. When I thought of the vast multitude of voices in that great chorus, I immediately realized the wonderful power and mighty stream of Light focused on me through The Eloist Ministry and its Ministry of Angels. Then a flood of gratitude swept over my soul as I realized the meaning of that big "B" in Blessings that you always write at the end of your letters. Indeed I am truly blessed—wonderfully, gloriously so, in having such protection and power around me at all times. I know that as long as I bless here at my end and join in the grand chorus with you I shall always receive as I give forth. Then another realization came. Not to-morrow, next year, but this moment,—always—this mighty Sun-Ray or stream of light from The Eloist Ministry is pouring forth, blessing me, helping me. I can never say that I am lonely again, for I have only to join in the chorus of the mighty host of Angels blessing in UNITY."

"This sacred word is proving the keynote that puts me in tune with ALL. It has a wonderful effect on me. I have been so free and happy, and I know it is the magic word to place me in touch with the Ministry of Angels and all the members of The Eloist Ministry. It is the same as when we give the musicians in the orchestra the A on the piano to tune up to the pitch desired. This word is the sacred keynote of The Eloist Ministry and the great Spirit Orchestra of the Immortals."

Another student receiving the same instruction writes:

"I had a very impressive experience repeating the sacred word you sent me, which is the keynote to The Eloist Ministry. I was walking, repeating the exercise, and realized the Radiant Center of Light and that the shaft of force or searchlight Ray was ready to be directed to heal any place I chose to turn it. Immediately I began to bless everyone that came into my thought with it, repeating those lines you gave in RELIGION: 'My friend, I love you and bless you with my love.' During that time I felt powerful enough to heal anything. After a walk of four miles I arrived at my daughter's. Her husband was very ill with grippe, and wanted to start out on a business trip that night, but couldn't. I was still conscious of the shaft of light focused upon me and blessed him with it. The effect was almost instantaneous; the discord dissolved and he started that night. He telegraphed my daughter two days later that in all his career with this firm for which he travels he had never had such remarkable success as in those two days."

As you study the article entitled "A Mighty Organization of Ministers," you will see more clearly how greatly you can be benefited by becoming a student of The Eloist Ministry and receiving the Blessings of the Immortals.

STAND FORTH

STAND forth, my soul, and grip thy woe,
Buckle the sword and face thy foe.
What right hast thou to be afraid
When all the universe will aid?
Ten thousand rally to thy name,
Horses and chariots of flame.
Do others fear? Do others fail?
My soul must grapple and prevail.
My soul must scale the mountain side
And with the conquering army ride—
Stand forth, my soul!

Stand forth, my soul, and take command.
'Tis I, thy master, bid thee stand.
Claim thou thy ground and thrust thy foe,
Plead not thine enemy should go.
Let others cringe! My soul is free,
No hostile host can conquer me.
There lives no circumstance so great
Can make me yield, or doubt my fate.
My soul must know what kings have known.
Must reach and claim its rightful throne—
Stand forth, my soul!

I ask no truce, I have no qualms,
I seek no quarter and no alms.
Let those who will obey the sod,
My soul sprang from the living God.
'Tis I, the king, who bid thee stand;
Grasp with thy hand my royal hand—
Stand forth!
