THE "CURE OF EVIL."

WAUKSHAY, ILL. October 8, 1858.

C PARTHUR, Esq :- I have read with much interest the various speeches delivered at Utica, as far as I have yet obtained them through the Triedram and other periodicals, and from ing stand point of observation, I fail to discover the object of so great a meeting, namely, the cure of evil. Many excellent things were exhibited; many very great truths were presented to the minds of an auxious arrhence, but no practical result, I fear, can be expected to arise from this Convention, as each

The bulies of the meeting were conspicuous in the masterly That woman in the affectional department is varily superior to In regard to the judging of Spirits, I would by down this man, few will deny; that she can be, and often is, quite his is affected equally with man's by education and surrounding circountaines; but it is also a matter of history, that when the exil madon, she interits are let loose, the can surpass man in ther than we have certain knowledge to base our judgment beneality. During the first French revolution, when most was remains in streams through every street of Paris, the women were come to take the heads of their woonded appropents on their laps, and literally sawed them off with a common jackknife which, for a cause that has excaped my mem my, obtained the name of Catache. When I was a boy at school in Paris, about the y or 1918, the name of Listivilia was a general appellation for those one-blackd project knives made more for sale than for use, and which whoolhogs always contrived to have in their presession. History farther eags, that the women were frequently seem, in their enraged frenzy, to drink the blood of a fall-n enemy, particularly if he had any notoriety which termil and there to their already excited brutality.

Home of the ladics at Utima are represented to have expressed their opinion that man must be tought to look upon woman as a divine being. Whether they considered themselves dimae, I can not pretend to decide. Now, I feel willing to go as far as any man in my appreciation of the good qualities of the fairer ex; and without desiring to see them apprinted to the coremand of an army, or to lead a separation of mon-d-war against the fee, I am fully aware of the many difficultie, and injustices to which they are subjected by their lawmakers, and as much as thereeless with to see toose injustices removed; but Mrs. U. C-k notwithstanding, I can not consider any finite being as direct. Woman may be the divinity of one worship when the animal passions are no longer under control, as in youth, when we fall in love, as it is termed; but in solar judgment, I can ned consent to attach to the finite an attribute which, in my common, whele appertains to the Infinite. EVIDENCES THAT SPIRITS COMMUNICATE.

The nature and sufficiency of the evidences of the existence of Spirits, and of their manifestations to the natural senses of mortals, have always been questioned, and skepticism has been strengthened in many minds by the credulity, extravagant claims, overseal, superstition, authority and bigotry of those who believe. Modern Spiritualism is by no means free from these stumbling-blocks to skeptics. There are those whose senses and selfhood are absorbed and lost in spiritual authority, as well as those whose senses and selfhood are subjugated and lost in bigoted skepticism. The two extremes are equally undesirable, unsafe and unreliable. So long as man is fallible, we will not claim that there is answerre evidence of anything; but with the reservation of the infallibility of the human senses, we claim that the existence of Spirits, and their communion with mortals. is almolutely proved by the modern spiritual manifestations.

The best evidence that man can have of any existence or phenomenon, is the attestation of his natural senses. To be sure, the same way, and have no higher origin than man. mental condition of the person who observes, and of the senses which testify, are to be considered in determining whether any of the human spirit, whether it be encased in the body or is beexperience or observation be objective or subjective. SPIRITUAL LYCEUM AND CONFERENCE.

TWENTY-NINTH SESSION.

The question for this evening's discussion was: " What are the conditions and causes of the phenomena, and what are the reasons for and against the supposition that they are Spirits?"

Dr. Got LD said: That to save the reporter from labor and misapprehension, he had committed his thoughts to paper, and read as follows I understand the question to be. What are the conditions and philosophy of Spirit communications? The conditions required depend, as I think, on the character of the communications. These may be obtained out need. But if we seek them from Spirits occupying high moral sincerity, purity, with a temperate use of intellectual as well as physical aliment, and lastly a temperate atmosphere. I have observed that aications slacken.

round. We accordingly determined to keep our revival machinery in perpetual motion. We succeeded as long as the weather continued cool, but failed under summer heat. The same experiment was repeated several times in the same church, but always with like results. In reviewing the history of revivals (and with which I have been conversant since childhood) I concluded that summer revivals are generally spurious, and consequently if we have any hard jobs to propose for the Spirits, it will be the safest, as a general rule, to refrain from making our propositions in very hot weather. As to the philosophy of Spiritualism. I hold that it is something more than a knowledge of the agents and forces employed by Spirits, or an explanation of their mechanical effects upon either mind or matter, as witnessed in spiritual phenomena.

Philosophy being an explanation of the causes and reasons of things, it follows that every department of knowledge is a department of phileeophy; and hence to understand the philosophy of Spirit communications, we must investigate their physical, physiological, metaphysical, ethnological and theological sides.

If I am correct in this last assumption, then it follows that Dr. Gray. in ruling out of order those speakers who do not confine themselves to the mechanism and facts of Spiritualism, is (as I think he is in about eight-tenths of all his rulings) incorrect and unparliamentary. To understand the philosophy of Spirit communications, we should keep up a marked distinction between its signs and the things pointed toward. All psycho-dynamic demonstrations are mostly but signs appealing to the intellect and natural senses. They notify and warn of work to be done, but do not accomplish the work themselves. They are the bellringers who give the alarm, but not the fireman who puts out the firethe grand and overshadowing purpose of Spirit communication being. in every age, the cultivation and elevation of man's moral faculties.

Mr. VAN VLECK taid: So far as my experience goes, I am of the i opinion that credulity on the part of the investigator is the best condition. That Spirits do communicate with man I do not doubt-nay. I believe such is the fact. But such manifestations are extremely rare l whatever. In visiting one of your best tipping mediums, I always noticed that he placed his hands on the table so that the metacarpal boxes rested on its edge. In this way, any person may, by practice. tip a table from him, especially if the opposite legs of the table be kept in their places by nails driven into the floor. By actual experiment I have thus easily tipped tables weighing 100 lbs. The usual custom is to ask the investigator to write names of departed friends on separate slips of paper, and roll them up in separate pellets. Next. write relationship, age, occupation, etc. The medium then picks out a name and the age, relationship and occupation corresponding. This is called a good test. Now almost every person writes the name of his dearest friend first, and also the corresponding age and relationship first, so that the medium, if by a hasty glance he can get the peculiar shape of each first ballot in his eye, may very readily give the necesmry tests without any Spirit agency whatever. I know that by practice and a common exercise of keenness of vision, an adopt may, by an apparently casual glance, detect what name a person is writing, by simply looking at the top of his pencil. On a late visit to this medium. I took the precaution to write the age corresponding to my first name. on the second ballot, and the relationship on the third, and in consequence the medium selected ballots which had no agreement. Mr. V. V. related several other instances in which the manifestations seemed to him to be clearly of mundane origin, and in fact he had never been able to witness any physical performance which could be safely traced to miritual caumis.

Dr. Orrox asked Mr. Van Vleck to explain certain strange developments which had recently been exposed in Newark, in which himself had act d the part f medium.

Mr. Van Vanck replied: I will cheerfully do so. I am, as I have believer in mental manifestations. I am myself a mesmeric subject, and have been ever since I was a child. The physical manifestations I doubt and deny in toto. I have endeavored at various times and places to publicit explain the delusion and deception. But being continually met with the reply, that my exposures did not cover the manifestations. I was forced to the conclusion that the best way to meetings there, and sincerely intended on the fourth night to explain present skepticism.

Up to my last experiment the great majority of witnewes were ner that the Spirits worked the wonders, and it was only by the percevering scrutiny of a skeptic that I was at last detected. am going to hold a public meeting in Newark, and shall then confess all and explain all. In answer to questions from Mr. Smith of Chicago, Mr. V. V. said that he had frequently been made unconscious, and when in that condition may have been the medium for physical manifestations, although he was of opinion that Spirits had but little, if anything. to do in the matter.

Dr. Onrox said: I have known Mr. Van Vleck some time, and believe him to be a much honester man than he has made himself from undeveloped Spirits, as a general rule, on the sole condition of appear to be this evening. I have seen manifestations through him that he could not perform either consciously or unconsciously. I think planes, other conditions must be observed, such as passivity, humility, he is too nucharitable to mediums. When I have made friends, and know them to be honest in all their relations. I think I should not too easily discredit their integrity, or suspect them on slight proof. I when the thermometer mounts up to 75 and 80 degrees, Spirit commu. know I have heard raps that were not produced by hands or feet. In my own room, being in bed with Dr. Redman, I one night beard raps in Some twenty-five years ago I was connected with a church so very different parts of the room, and then a noise near the fire-place, which realous that they proposed to carry on a revival continuously the year sounded like the rattling of shovel and tongs. On getting up, the rape spelled out through Dr. Redman, "Cornelius is here and wants you to lock the door," a precaution which the Dr. had forgotten on retiring to bed. On another occasion, when four persons beside the medium. were present, a large table was lifted without hands, and moved toward each person present, and then hoisted above their heads and taken to another part of the room, turned upside down, brought back and safely deposited in its original position, right side up with care.

> Dr. GRAT said he had seen the same manifestation. The table was repeatedly lifted up, and moved over the heads of the company, and then brought back again, as Orton had stated. There were two other persons in the Conference who had seen the same manifestation.

> A gentleman in the audience asked Dr. Gray if this was done in the light?

Dr. Gray: No! it was in a dark circle.

Gentleman: How then did you know that the table was carried to another end of the room?

Dr. Gray: Because we could hear by the sound when it was thus deposited; and also when a light was struck, we found the table on the floor outside the circle. I also, on the same night, saw in a distant part of the room a bright light, which resembled the comet of 1811. It seemed a lambent flame fifteen or twenty feet distant from me, and moved in a zig-zag direction, like electricity shooting from one cloud to another. He had also heard a tune beat accurately by the rape, and had also, in company with three others, felt the clear touch of an infant's hand, every one present being adults. Every person present also testified to feeling the same unmistakable touch

Dr. Orron, in considering upon the table-manifestations before alluded to, was of opinion that the light had been gradually turned down, so that part of the manifestations were seen by the eye. He also saw the light spoken of, although it appeared to him to be a ball of I fire.

Here Dr. Grat ventured an opinion that Dr. Orton was not present at the circle he had described. Dr. Orton thought it was the same one. but was not sure; at all events, he saw a bright ball of fire.

Mr. Colles said: Herein lies one cause of my skepticism. Having and are of a mental, and not of a physical, character, this orghinner, of with and my physical manifestations but what might have been you may have faith in New York mediums, I must say that I have none produced by persons present. I am led to doubt the testimony of others, from the fact that they nawittingly mix up several manifestations together, from which they manufacture one strong case. Let four or more persons be questioned separately in reference to a manifestation seen by all at the same time, and different statements will be made. This is not designed, but is owing to a confusion of recollections and variations in memory. Neither do all our friends give all the facts in their narration. Thus Dr. Orton and Dr. Gray tell us very seriously that they have seen a table moved about the room, and lifted over their heads, and turned top-y-turry, and then they sit down Now, this seems good evidence, and makes out a strong case; but when a little cross-questioning shows that this was all done in the dark, it puts a quite different complexion on the affair. I often find that a little adroit-cross-questioning will account for the milk in the cocoa-nut, without going to the Spirit land. The other evening, I casually met an old and much-c-tremed friend, who remarked to me that he had just been at a circle where he had received the best test be had ever enjoyed. He said the Spirit of his deceased wife had come to him, and seating herself in his lap, threw her arms around his neck. and saluted him with a kiss whose flavor was identical in relish with those he had been favored with during her earth life; to him it was the very poetry of identification. Now, this statement left here, makes another very strong case. But before accepting the story as told, it occurred to me to gently cross question my friend, and to ask him if be meant to say that his Spirit wife really appeared to him in a tangible Spirit-form, and with purely angelic lips kissed him on the cheek. "Oh, no" said be. "I don't mean that! I mean that my wife took possession of a lade medium, and influenced her to ait in my lap and give me the carese." Here was a fact of another color again. Such methods of Spirit identification, it must be confessed, may be very agreeable to the inquiring mind, but they are very far from being absointely convincing. In looking over my past experience, I find that manifestations which, when witnessed appeared to be unmistakably catalogue of mundane can-- and beace I am inclined to make my root up the error was to make the manifestations first, and explain purely spiritual physical manifestation, I shall be most happy to them afterward. With this view I went to Newark. I had held three acknowledge it, and devoutly apologize to my spiritual friends for my

A GENTLEMAN arose in the audience and stated that in 1855 be arrived in this city from a British island, and being in search of spiritual light, he visited a circle where a gentleman was curiously inflaenced to deliver an admirable address on the subject of "Caurch and State." The company thought such a discourse rather irrelevant, until on inquiry they accertained their new visitor was an Englishman, and hence they concluded the address was designed for him. Presently the medium changed in his influence, and in a very dogmatic and illiberal manner, cried out, " bang him! hang him!" alleding, of course, to some imaginary culprit. The company pleaded that the prisoner should first be tried. "No, hang him, hang him!" was the obstinate reply. In a few moments the influence again changed, and the medium gave one of the most beautiful and eloquent discourses on the subject of charity, he ever remembered to have heard. He took the speech down as it was uttered, and had committed it to memory, and with the consent of the Conference will now repeat it. After the gentleman had given the piece, which was really a very pretty production, he turned toward Mr. Coles, and remarked, "there is the medium who spoke those words, and I marvel much how one who has been influenced to meak such beautiful thoughts, can be so skeptical as he appears to

Mr. Conns. in explanation, wished to my that he did not deny the power of Spirite to impress mortals. This is their legitimate sphere of action. His skepticism applied mostly to what are called physical yearifestations. It is true that he had originally spoken the words that I ad just been repeated, and, at the time, he really believed that a Shirit impressed him but he did not absolutely know such to be the case. He believed now, that Spirits could inspire our organs of sublimity. reverence, language, etc., and thus induce to speak better than in our ordinary states. But he could also do this himself at any time. He could sit passive, at will, and in a few minutes would feel an inspire ration in the higher organs, which would enable him to write poetry or proce in a manner superior to anything he could accomplish in his ordinary moments. But whether this condition is self-induced, or the product of Spirit agency, is what he is in doubt about.

Dr. Gotto said: I wonder how a medium like Mr. Coles. who has had so many excellent manifestations through his own organism, can be so skeptical. I am not sure but that he is under Spirit influence now. It is not too much to suppose that, in giving reins to our belief, we were getting to be rather too credulous, and that a little wholesome skepticism was needed to check our enthusiasm.

Mr. Colles accepted Dr. Gould's idea, and hoped that whatever he had uttered that was unsound, unphilosophical, or irrational might be attributed to the Spirite and not to himself.

Mr. J. W. SEATER, of Byron, N. Y. said: I have been a Spiritualist six or seven years, and if I had founded my faith on historical facts or the management of valences my second magan nate been terribly disken by what has been said to-night; but my faith is built upon the rock of my own experience. In the privacy of my own room, my arm has been seized by an unseen power, and I have been made to write the names of my father and my sister, accompanied with intelligence that could not have flown from my own mind. When riding alone in a burry from Byron to Rochester, an overshadowing power descended upon me, and caused me to exclaim in the fallness of my heart, "Thy will O Lord, and not mine be done." I have traveled hundreds of miles, and Mive borne togisseny wherever I could without money and without price, and I feel that I am but doing a rational duty in presenting these truths to my fellow-men.

Mr. Sarra, of Chicago, wished to remind the Conference that, notwith-tanding what is often said of the trickeries of mediums, there is still good testimony to be offered on the other side. The laseness of the boar alone prevented him from narrating manifestations which be had witnessed, which it was impossible for the mediums to have accompli-5rd.

Mr. D. G. Tatlor stated that he had seen a table move from one person to another in a circle, and answer questions by moving up and down, when no finger touched it. On one occasion, two skeptics came to his house who were very sure they could expect the humbur. His son, on being entranced, put his singer in the fame of a lamp and held it there until it actually turned black, which was a deministration the skeptical friends were not prepared for, and for which they could not account. On recovering his normal condition the medium found his diager unbart, notwithstanding the flery ordeal through which it had passed.

Dr. Gray mid: The object of these discussions is to ascertain the returnals of the manifestations. We assume them to be spiritual, but we want if possible, to prove them to be such. Opposition will do us no harm. I call that men a friend who opposes me for his very antagonism calls into direct society those foculties of my nature which are best calculated to illuminate and enlighten my own mind. Let us willingly hear both sides, and invite the cloust possible investigation.

LETTER FROM M. L. BLOOM.

NEW YORK, October 19, 1858.

Editor Spiritual Telegraph:

Dear Sir-Your report of what I said at the Utica Convention is, I consider, an incorrect one, to say the least. I did not utter myself precisely as therein represented; and the most important part of what I did say has been entirely omitted. Beside, from the wording of the latter part of what you report me as having said, most persons would be led to infer that I included the Bible among those things of which I have a alight estimate, which would be a gross mistake.*

Now, Sir, permit me to say that my sole aim in referring to myself personally in presenting a brief chapter from the "book of my life," was to show, in my concluding remarks, the utter inefficiency of any one or all mere external reforms to redeem man from evil, and bring him into oneness with God and his fellow man.

Knowing full well that I would not have a fair opportunity to be heard. I had prepared the substance of what I wished to offer, in the form of a series of postulates which in part 1 read to the audience, not a single one of which appears in your report! This, Sir, is certainly an unwarrantable omission, as it places me in a false position, by making it appear that I belong, apparently, at least, to that class of so-called reformers who, above all others, need first to be reformed themselves. Had I taken the popular side of Spiritualism, undoubtedly I would have been more correctly reported, and consequently better understood. I am not prepared to say that this incomplete and incorrect report of my remarks is intentional on your part, for I should not wish to place the SHRITUAL TELEURAPH in the category of papers that pander to the public taste by misrepresenting and caricaturing others who even sincerely dissent from in belief.

As a simple act of justice, I trust you will allow me here to may, that I am a Bible Spiritualist, holding that God is a pure Spirit, and the Bible is his word, which is infallibly correct in all its teachings, when correctly spiritually apprehended through the interpretation of the Spirit of truth, who is promised to all hour, have, by abuse and misuse on her part and the male man's try, viz.: Zoarites, Rappites, Ebenezers, United Believers who love Christ by keeping his words.

That the only true spiritual philosophy is developed in the

That Jesus is the Christ, the son of God, only through whose indwelling operation in all true believers, can man, as a believer, receive eternal life.

That man in his natural or fallen state is not immortal, but can become immortal only through laying down his own carnal life, and receiving Christ as his own life instead, and thereby become eternalized by the quickening power of that divine spiritual substance called in the Bible the love of God-the fire of God.

That the nature, origin, and remedy of evil can be solved only through inspiration of and revelation from God, by a heart-belief and mouth-confession, with a corresponding life of Joses Christ as an indwelling guiding Spirit—a present Savior from all sin, "in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge."

That, summing up the origin of evil, in a miniature epitome, all evils are only so many different manifestations of one evil being, called, in the Bible, the Evil One, whose dire magnetism is a spiritual substance familiarly termed selfishness, which in its very nature is death, and produces death, wherever it finds lodgment.

That all truths and good are only so many diverse manifestations of one dual being who, in the Bible, is called God, whose vitalizing magnetism is a spiritual substance, named love which, in lievers, by inspiration, into great and small numbers, having one its entire quality, is life, and produces life wherever it flows.

That this spiritual substance, love, is the all and all of spiritual pabulum of true believers in Christ, as well as the sole pabulum of Gud him elf and all his angles and the glorified Spirits of heaven And this very substance shed abroad in the (spiritual) heart of believers by the Holy Ghost, is what produces supreme love to God, and neighborly or brotherly love in those who are born of God. Vide the primitive Church-love.

That the normal state of man, is to receive influxes solely from Gca but capable of becoming worthy of partaking of the Tree of Life, and receiving immortality as a free gift from God.

That in the then mortal state of the dual man, and from the existence of the Evil One, as man was a materialized spirit, it was out of the power of God to prevent man from disobeying be judicious now to state. his will.

into the highest material creation of God, below man, which was a being possessed of instinctive rationality and outwardly resembling man-a being akin to the rufous chimpanzee-and acting on man's material nature, by tempting him, through this being, to partake of matter-the tree of knowledge of good and evilthat was in its life-essence the spiritual magnetism of the Evil One, which, operating on and in the man, created an abnormal excitement in him, and led him into an act by which the Evil One was enabled to reproduce his own likeness through him (man), and thereby seek to destroy the last and noblest work of God, man.

That under this magnetic spell, the first being born of the dual man was Cain, "who was of the Wicked One (or the Evil One), and who slew his brother."

That by man's thus listening to the Evil One, and disobeying God, his father and mother, man became influenced by the Evil One; and man and the earth suffered, as man thereby became subject to sin, disease and death, and the earth was suffused with Christ. the magnetism of the Evil One, and was poisoned; while the animals, thitherto subject to man, rose in rebellion against him, and all creation fell into bondage to the Evil One, who thereby became "Prince of this world" (or age.)

That, as before the fall, the male and female man was at one with God, and himself, one life being common to them all, after the fall the dual man became disconnected from his spiritual Head-God, and himself, resulting, as an effect of his union with the evil one, by influx and possession, in bringing on the male man the curse of hard labor, and on the female man excessive and abnormal conceptions—whose procreative functions, to this found only in the various communities now existing in this counpart, given her more suffering than any other part of her physi-[(Shakers), Bishop-Hill Colony, Oncida Community and its cal nature, as well as all other evils to which man has become branches.

That "overcoming evil with good," correctly spiritually apprebended, means overcoming the evil one with God.

That it is out of the power of man to overcome evil with good—overcome the evil one with God—solely by his own strength, independently of God's strength; for man, disconnected from all spiritual powers and principalities, hus no strength at all, and convequently to an culticly dependent, and ling guiding Spirit—a present Saviour from all sin. not in the least an independent, being.

That only as man becomes passive to Christ, can man, through Christ as an indwelling, guiding and protecting Spirit—a stronger man armed with present salvation from all sin-" overcome evil with good"—overcome the evil one with God, and re- Pharisaical religion, "doing the will of God from the heart." ceive eternal life as a free gift—the unspeakable gift of God through his son Jesus Christ.

That since the glorification of the Primitive Church, the letter only of the Bible has been known to the Church so called; but that now the Spirit of the Bible is to be revealed in the hearts and understandings of all who are convicted of sin, and discern Christ as a present savior from all sin, by believing in their hearts and confessing with their mouths, Christ as an indwelling, guiding and protecting Spirit - a present savior from all sin, preparatory to the gathering of all true betemporal and spiritual interest, and organized as home churches of God, waiting for the redemption of their bodies, and the establishment of the kingdom of God on the earth, and the union of all God's children with each other and with God, their eternal Father and Mother, who is love, and all of whose children will be loves; God and his family flowing to and into each other, blending and interblending with one another and all, as only pure divine Spirits can blend, and become indissolubly one -epiritually one.

That the present phenomena called spiritual manifestations, are actually demonstrations of disembodied souls—externally religious, philanthropic, philosophic, artistic, oratorical, medical, and also wicked, evil, disembodied Spirits, all of whom are on the plane of the carnel and natural man, and are under the power of the evil one, spell-bound and in the bondage of spirit-

That God created man in a state of innocence, not immortal, and slavery, ever learning, and never able to come to a knowledge of the truth; and some of whom are so direfully evil, a cunningly to deceive "youthful mediums," and other mediums, also, by flattery and cajolery, gaining control over their organisms, and seeking to destroy them, in more ways than it would

That all persons who seek to become mediums of some mere That the Evil One attacked man by infusing himself by influx, Spirit or Spirits who were once natural men, earthly exalted a they may have been, and not seek for the indwelling presence of the Spirit of Spirits—God, through Christ as an indwelling guiding Spirit-a present Saviour from all sin-will be doomed to bitter disappointment, and realize that no spiritual manifestation that does not act on their [spiritual] hearts and understandings, and lead them to become mediums for the manifestation of the Spirit of Truth, thereby being changed from independent selfish beings into dependent, loving believers in Christ, as the Way, the Truth, the Life, is of any permanent utility in redeeming them from sin and all Its consequences.

That no other than those who accept Christ as an indwelling guiding Spirit—a present Saviour from all sin—can ever become united and live together in love, peace, and joy, and be established in God's eternal kingdom.

That the spiritual manifestations will, in the providence of God, be overruled for good, and made subservient to his purposes, and redound to his glory and the glory of his son Jesus

That the Church, so called, at this day, comprises only carnally-minded believers, which class Paul declares is still spiriteally dead-who instead of having "one faith, one Lord, and one baptism," as the Primitive Church had, and being walking epistles read and known of all men, have many faiths, many Lord, many baptisms, and are scarcely distinguishable from other moral men, and are not to be looked to as any criteria by which to estimate the superiority of the Gospel of Christ over all other religions or philosophical systems.

That the only approximation to true churches of God, can be

That in whatever heart the Pather has revealed the Son and the Son is drawing that heart to the Father, there is commenced a church of God in its individual state, and there is planted the germ of the kingdom of God in earth.

That multitudes in the church, so called, as well as great numbers of "Spiritualists," and "reformers," and others, cre many years clapse, will become believers in Christ, as an indwel-

That, as one who desires "glory to God in the highest, and peace and good-will to men on earth," I extend my hand in love to all who sincerely desire that God's will may be done in canh as it is done in heaven, praying that I may be free from any

Were it not that I may have already trespassed on your patience and space to the extent of your willingness, I should wish that I might here present the postulates that I read before the Convention. But fearful that if I should add to the length of this communication by so doing, you might be induced to reject the whole, I shall feel thankful if you will accept this communication as it is.

Should any of your readers be interested in hearing farther from me, I would refer them to the Bible Spiritualest, the first uninber of which will be issued in a few weeks, due notice of which will be given in an advertisement in the Spiritual Yours, etc., TELEGRAPH. GREAT IDEAS AND SHALL DITIES -A soul occupied with great ideas best performs small duties. The divinest views of life penetrate most clearly into the meanest emergencies. So far from petry principles being best proportioned to potty trials, a heavenly spirit taking up its abode with us can alone sustain well the daily toils, and tranquilly pass the humilistions of our condition. Even in intellectual culture, the ripest knowledge is the best qualified to instruct the most complete ignorance. So, the trivial services of social life are the best p rformed, and the lesser particles of domestic happiness are most skilfully organz d, by the despent and fairest heart.

Early Rising - I would inscribe on the curtains of your bed, and the walls of your chamber, if you do not rise early, you can make progress in nothing; if you do not set apart your bours for reading, if you suffer yourself or any one also to break in upon them, your days will slip through your hands unprofitable and frivolous, and unenjoyed by yourself-

Bloom will please bear in mind that we simply published the report of the Convention which was furnished us by its own Commitsee, without taking any responsibility for its entire correctness, or feellag authorized to correct or alter it. -ED.

THE MOVING MENTAL WORLD-THE NEWS.

LITEST NEW & FROM INFERNO . - The Telegraph wires that spread see the land, together with scores of daily journals, are, as we write, builty employed in transmitting to the public the latest news from deridom, as relating to a most brutal prize fight which occurred at Lorg Point, in Canalu, a few days ago. We have re-olved that the muslished and demoralizing details shall not blot our pages, and we ke simply allude to the affair, in order to express a regret that the mblio prints can not fill up their columns with matter that is less poipasses to the minds of multitudes of their renders, and especially to the minds of youth. If a law were passed by the several States, with gental concurrence, providing for the punishment of the principals egiged in any prize fight, by imprisonment, at hard labor, for not less that tea veirs, and the seconds for a term not less thin three years, reshould probably thereafter be protected from the influence of such knolar zing scenes as that alluded to above.

INTERESTING MISCELLINY.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

One of the most beautiful and affering incidents in the biography of a great man which we have ever met, was related by Mr. Everett at the banquet gives at Springfield, Mass., in honor of the National Horse Show. He said :

If there is any one who doubts that the horamethe animal that most converse us on this operation-is an explicit of the kindest feelings of our nature, I think he would be convinced of his error by a most interesting an value of Elmand Barks. In the decline of Mr. Burke's life, when he was living in retirem at on his form at Beaconfield, the range went to London that he had goed mad; and the fact that was atsted in support of this rampe was, that he went round his park kinding the cown and horses. A friend, a man of rank and inflience, bearing this sory, and derming it of too much importance to be if automotioned, hastened down to Beaconfild and sought an introduction with a view of accertaining the truth of the ramer. He counted in a dispersation with him. Mr. Barke read to big some chapters from his " Letters on a Regicid - Peace." His friend imm distrily was, that though the certify the ment was verying hack to its native dust, the lamp of reason and genine shope with undimini-bid later within. He was accordingly more than sandied as by the object of his coming down, and in a private the even with Mrs. Burke, valuable, has not been ascertained. On the same day the steamer Routold her what he had come for, and received from his this pathetic ex-

Tole favorite animal was turned out by Mr. Burke, into the park, with directions to all his servanta that he should in every respect be to stol as a privil god favorite. Mr. Burke him etf. of course, in his more ing walks, would often stop to soldiers against them. News had been received of a victory over the carres the favorite animal. On one occasion, as be was tak og his morning walk through the park, he perceived the poor old suimal at a distance, and noticed in turn that he was recognized by him. The horse drew nearer and nearer to Mr. Burke, stopped, eyed him with a most pleading look of recognition, which said, as plainly as words could have said-"I have lost him too;" and then the poor duran beast deliberately laid his head upon Mr. Birke's bosom! Strack by the singularity of the occarrence, mived by the recollection of his won, whom he had never ceased to mourn with a grief that would not be comforted, over an elmed by the tend-ruess of the naimal, expressed in the mute elequence of holy Noture's universal lauguage, the illustrious statesm in for a moment lost his self-possession, and clasping his arms around the neck of his more farurite animal, lifted up that voice which had filled the arches of Westthrown into violent paroxysms, which the family considered an indica- impater Hall with the noblest strains that ever echoed within them, and wep! aloud!

These experiments were mule through long cylindrical pipes, which were con--tructed as conduits for fountains to embellish the city of Paris. With regard to the velocity of sound, it was accreained that its transmission was ten and a half times as quick as through the air. The pipes were over one thousand and thirty-nine yards in length. M. Biot was stationed at one end, and a friend at the other; they would the lowest voice so perfectly as to bear the words and keep up a conversation on the subject of the experiments. They wented to describe the lowest point at which the human voice seem d to be audiole, but sould not accomplish it; words spoken as low as when we whisper a secret were understood, so that not to be heard there was but one resource—that of not speaking at all. Between a qui sition and answer the interval was not greater than for the tran-mission of sound. The time in the experiment through one thousand and thirty-nine yards was about five and a helf seconds. Reports of a pistal fired at one end occasioned a considerable explosion at the o'b.r; the air was driven out of the pipe so as to give the hand a smert blow, and drive light substances out of it to the distance of half a yard, and to extinguish a candle.
