MOUNT AUBURN CHAPEL.

ERECTED 1847.

MOUNT AUBURN CHAPEL AND CEMETERY.

By Nathaniel Dearborn.

This mystic Façade in Auburn's sculptured grounds,
Prefers to Heaven the griefs and suppliant sounds
 In aid of our infirmity ;
The chastened heart to save, the mourner cheer.
The message-promise from Jehovah hear
 Of bliss through an eternity ;
And here the bosomed relie of a friend,
Returns to what it was, and is, an end
 To re-produce frail, dying man .
The soul is called to Jesus' heavenly shrine,
Beatie essence of the mind divine,
 Communing with the GREAT I AM.

MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY, CAMBRIDGE.

1 1-4 miles west of Harvard University.

This spot of land was formerly called 'STONE'S WOODS:' its uncommonly gorgeous and beautifully varied scenery; its full grown umbrageous trees of many tribes, alluring numbers to its silent and peaceful shades, the name was changed by common consent to that of "SWEET AUBURN;" and under this appropriate appellation, it became more eminently a favorite grove for the lovers of nature, to enjoy the pleasing and healthy color and balmy atmosphere of green trees, shrubbery, grassy hills, solitary grottos, yet enlivened with music from the feathered songsters throughout this best elysium of nature's work.

The original lot comprised an area of 72 acres; but by an after purchase of 38½ acres, it now measures 110½ in all: the whole obtained at a cost of $9,766.89: The "HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY OF MASSACHUSETTS" were nobly impressed with the importance of an extensive rural cemetery for the burial of the dead, and after the above named purchases by them, they transferred the whole grounds to a society of gentlemen, who had labored for the accomplishment of this object, ever since the year 1825, for the sum of $4,222,42; thus making a generous gift of $5,544,47.

This latter society was Incorporated, as "THE PROPRIETORS OF MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY," June 23, 1831, and the ground consecrated on the 24th of Sept., in that year: the first meeting for agitating this subject, was held in 1825, at the house of Dr. Jacob Bigelow, the present President of the society; with the aid of the late George Bond, Wm. Sturgis, the late Hon. John Lowell, the late Samuel P. Gardiner, Thomas W. Ward, Nathan Hale, and John Tappan; who realized their fondest hopes in founding the FIRST, by date; the most enobling, and most beautiful garden cemetery in this extensive country; to become in time a paradise of sculptuary; of monuments and mausoleums, interspersed amid nature's loveliest productions; the capaciousness of the ground will permit 20,000 lots of 300 superficial square feet, each of which is offered at 100 dollars if purchased from any of those surveyed and located for the sale list; but if a lot be preferred in any part of the grounds not thus prepared, an additional sum will be required, say 10 dollars or more; around these lots the Avenues for carriages, 20 feet wide, and Paths for pedestrians, 6 feet wide, are laid out circuitously, to an extent, if measured in one straight line, would span a distance of 30 miles: about 1700 Lots have been disposed of, and about 350 Monuments, Shafts, Cenotaphs, Obelisks, and Slabs, have been raised to hallow and adorn the spot. All monies received from the sale of Lots or from any other source, is expended in ornamenting and improving this Garden Cemetery. During the two first years of its consecration, upwards of 30,000 dollars were expended in grading the roads, building a house, &c. for the Superintendent, fencing, &c. The front entrance Gate from Cambridge road, is a design from an Egyptian model, and is masterly chiseled in Granite, at a cost of about $10,000; and the cast iron picketed fence on that whole front line was erected at a cost of about $15,000:—a splendid Chapel was completed within its grounds in 1848, at a cost of about $25,000. The highest mound in the Cemetery is called Mt. Auburn, and is 125 feet above Charles River, which meanders by the grounds on its southern border: "It is proposed to erect on this summit a Tower; after some classic model, of sufficient height to be seen above the surrounding trees, to subserve the triple purpose of a landmark,—to identify the spot, and for an Observatory, commanding an uninterrupted view of the surrounding landscape" of cities, towns, hills, farms, rivers, Massachusetts bay, with its many islands and shipping; the lantern or cupola of this tower, to be at least 185 feet above the river Charles.

MR. RUFUS HOWE,

The Superintendent of Mount Auburn, resides within its borders; and conducts the affairs of the internal management of the Cemetery, in a very eminently judicious manner: any one applying to him for information concerning the lots on sale, for burials, or any other item appertaining to those grounds, will receive every polite attention; a direct application to him is therefore most adviseable, to save trouble and time.

By a reference to the Map of Mt. Auburn, which is on the last page of this pamphlet, the Avenues and Paths exhibit an universal curvature; their lines are "not straight, but crooked;" and if one is not familiar with their windings, a visit there may be attended with much fatigue and exhaustion; and that too, without the compensating gratification of seeing the beautiful and grand mementos of the living to the dead: to aid the visitor to thread this mazy labyrinth, with a tolerable understanding, attended too with a satisfactory result, a DIRECT GUIDE THROUGH MOUNT AUBURN, pausing at the various clusters of Monuments and Shafts, by the most convenient route, is to be found on page 8; the FORTY-SIX engraved representations of them, are placed in the same progressive rotation; so, that, as one advances in the circuit laid down, by the printed guide, the monuments, engraved, will be met with in their designated accompanying position:—thus; the Sarcophagus of the late Dr. Spurzheim is the first one approached, and that is the first engraving and the first one named in the printed Guide: the monument of Eldredge, being nearly the last one on passing through the Cemetery, by the printed Guide, the engraving of it is placed last in this work.

The order of the consecration of Mount Auburn, was an address from the late Hon. Judge Story, who was then President of the Institution; prayers from Dr. Ware and Rev. John Pierpont, with the following impressive hymn from the pen of the latter.

HYMN.

To thee, O God, in humble trust,
Our hearts their cheerful incense burn,
For this thy word, "Thou art of dust,"
And unto dust shalt thou return.

And what were life, life's work all done,
The hopes, joys, loves, that cling to clay,
All, all, departed, one by one,
And yet life's load borne on for aye!

Decay! decay! 'tis stamped on all,
All bloom in flower and flesh shall fade,
Ye whispering trees when ye shall fall,
Be our long sleep beneath your shade!

Here to thy bosom mother earth,
Take back in peace what thou hast given;
And all that is of heavenly birth,
O God, in peace, recall to heaven.

HYMN.

Home of the coming dead!
The spot whereon we tread
Is hallowed ground:
Here earth, in sacred trust,
Shall hold their sleeping dust,
Until her bonds they burst,
And rise unbound.

Here shall the weary rest,
And souls, with woes oppress'd,
No more shall weep:
And youth and age shall come,
And beauty in her bloom,
▲ And Manhood, to the tomb;
Sweet be their sleep!

Around their lowly bed
Shall flowers their fragrance shed,
And birds shall sing:
On every verdant mound
Love's offering shall be found,
And sighing trees around
Their shadows fling.

And there 's a holier light!
Hope, with her taper bright,
On every tomb,
Points upward to the sky;
There every tear is dry:
There is no mourner's sigh,
Nor death, nor gloom.

Third. The proprietor of the said lot shall have the right to erect stones, monuments, or sepulchral structures, and to cultivate trees, shrubs and plants in the same.

Fourth. The proprietor of the said lot shall erect, at his or her own expense, suitable land marks of stone or iron, at the corners thereof, and shall also cause the number thereof to be legibly and permanently marked on the premises. And if the proprietor shall omit for thirty days after notice, to erect such land marks and mark the number, the Trustees shall have authority to cause the same to be done at the expense of said proprietor.

Fifth. If the land marks and boundaries of the said lot shall be effaced, so that the said lot cannot with reasonable diligence be found and identified, the said Trustees shall set off to the said grantee, his or her heirs or assigns, a lot in lieu thereof, in such part of the cemetery, as they see fit, and the lot hereby granted shall in such case revert to the Corporation.

Ninth. No tomb shall be constructed within the bounds of the Cemetery except in or upon lots situated in such parts of the grounds as shall be designated by the Trustees for that purpose; and no proprietor shall suffer the remains of any person to be deposited in a tomb so authorized, for hire.

NOTE.—The society request that all railings or inclosures of lots may be light, neat and symmetrical,—that all stones erected in memory of the dead may be marble or granite,—and that no slabs be placed in the Cemetery. Fences composed in whole or in part of wood are prohibited.

"There's beauty all around our paths, if but our watchful eyes
Can trace it midst familiar things, and through their lowly guise;
We may find it where a hedgerow showers its blossoms o'er our way
Or a cottage-window sparkles forth in the last red light of day.

With shadows from the past, we fill the happy woodland shades,
And a mournful memory of the dead is with us in the glades;
And our dream-like fancies lend the wind an echo's plaintive tone,
Of voices, and of melodies, and of silvery laughter gone.

They hold us from the woodlark's haunts, and the violet-dingles back,
And from the lovely sounds and gleams in the shining river's track;
They bar us from our heritage of spring-time hope and mirth,
And weigh our burdened spirits down with the cumbering dust of earth."

GASPER SPURZHEIM, BORN DEC. 31, 1775. LOT 181.

This eminent and talented lecturer in the cause of science and humanity, was born on the banks of the Moselle, at Longvich; was educated at the college of Treves, and destined for the church; but the war with France, in 1797, dispersed the students, when Spurzheim went to Vienna, a pupil to Dr. Gall, and became his partner: they commenced their lectures on Phrenology, in 1804: the next year they were in Germany, teaching the science to academic Professors: in 1807, and till 1813, in Paris: in 1814, Dr. S. went to England and Scotland; he tarried there three years; then returned to Paris, and espoused an accomplished lady: in 1832 he visited this country, landing at New York, and died in Boston, Nov. 10, 1832.

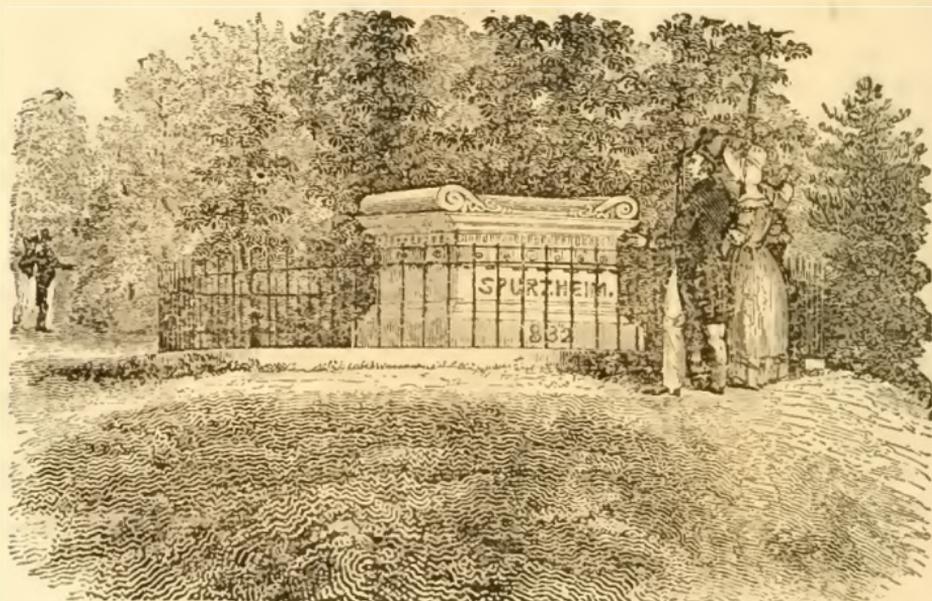

The most expressive tokens of regard and respect, and of mournful regret, were shown at his decease, by the government of the University at Cambridge, and an Eulogy pronounced by Dr. Follen; the following ode by Rev. John Pierpont, was written for the occasion.

Stranger, there is bending o'er thee
Many an eye with sorrow wet:
All our stricken hearts deplore thee
Who, that knew thee, can forget?
Who forget what thou hast spoken?
Who, thine eye,—thy noble frame?
But that golden bowl is broken,
In the greatness of thy fame.

Autumn's leaves shall fall and wither,
On the spot where thou shalt rest;
'Tis in love we bear thee thither,
To thy mourning mother's breast:
For the Stores of science brought us,
For the charm thy goodness gave;
For the lessons thou hast taught us,
Can we give thee but a grave?

Nature's priest, how pure and fervent
Was thy worship at her shrine!
Friend of man,—of God the servant,
Advocate of truth divine,—
Taught and charmed as by no other,
We have been and hope to be;
But while waiting round thee, brother,
For thy light,—'tis dark with thee!—

Dark with thee! no; thy Creator,
All whose creatures and whose laws
Thou did'st love,—shall give thee greater
Light than earth's, as earth withdraws.
To thy God, thy godlike spirit
Back we give in filial trust;
Thy cold clay—we grieve to bear it
To its chamber—but we must.

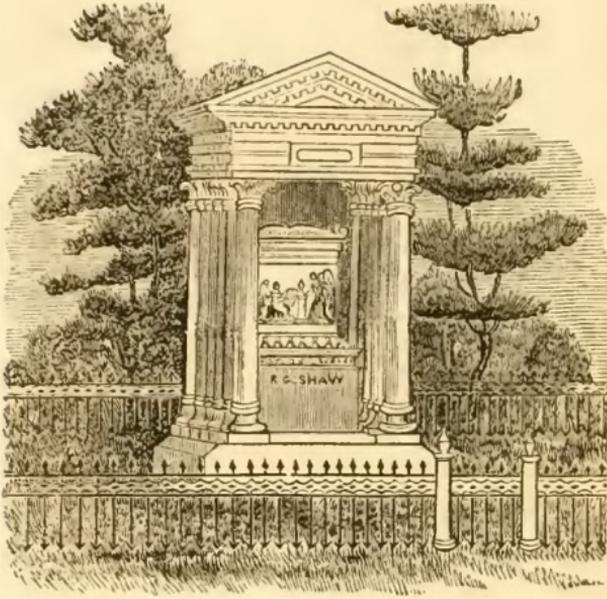

HON. NATHANIEL BOWDITCH, L. L. D. Died March 16, 1838.

The Bowditch Statue is placed about midway on Central Avenue, at the junction of Central and Chapel Avenues: the figure is of a Metallic composition (whose weight is about 2500.) representing that supreme Mathematician in a contemplative, studious, sitting attitude; with his volume of "MECANIQUE CELESTE," on which he rests his right arm, as if it were fully sufficient for the support of a more important part: that of mind, talent, industry and character; and beside him is a tome from his mathematical energies, of equally important contents:—that of his "AMERICAN NAVIGATOR," whereby most of the ships and floating craft on the broad expanse of ocean, which covers 3-5ths of the earth, are guided and directed safely to their destined port, if the elements of nature permit:—and next to that, is the Globe over which he traversed as a navigator many years; and which furnished his gigantic mind with the only basis for his immortal productions, and caused him to out-reach every one of his age in the abstruse yet sublime study of mathematics; to become President of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and to be invested with the collegiate degree of Doctor of Laws;—and yet, he set out in life with a common school education, and was brought up as a sailor boy from the port of Salem, Mass.; he removed to Boston in 1823, and died at the age of 65 years.

This statue is the first full length, cast metal figure, ever accomplished in this country: it was the work of Ball Hughes with his better half: they together formed this Chef d'Oeuvre in metal statuary.

LOT 714. A MONUMENT ON YARROW PATH,

On the lot of Mr. Elisha Turner of Dedham, has been much liked for its simple adornment of a Pall, and its correct proportions.

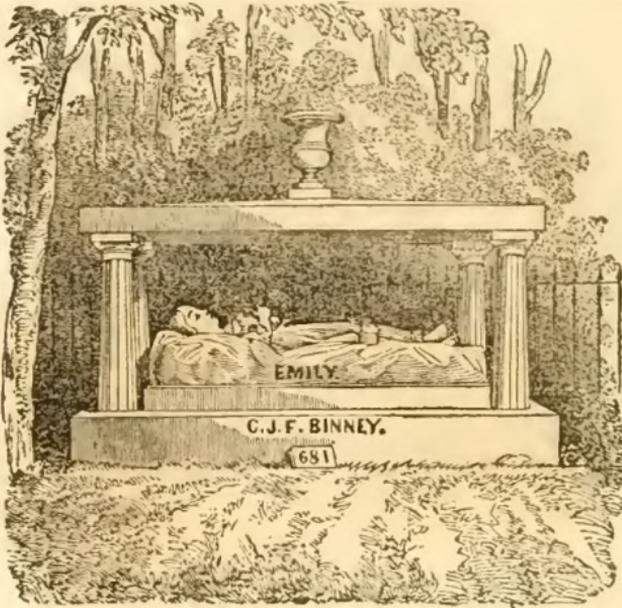

JOHN II. GOSSLER. LOT 1129, YARROW PATH.

"Alas! how vain
The wreath that Fame would bind around our tomb—
The winds shall waste it, and the worms destroy;
The fickle praise of far posterity,
Come, weigh it at the grave's brink, here with me,
If thou canst weigh a dream."

LOT 681. DEXTER'S SCULPTURE

Of EMILY, is on Yarrow Path, at the north-west part of the Cemetery; it is a good specimen of the art of sculpture and interesting to the eye.

ZACHARIAH HICKS. LOT 168, WALNUT AVENUE.

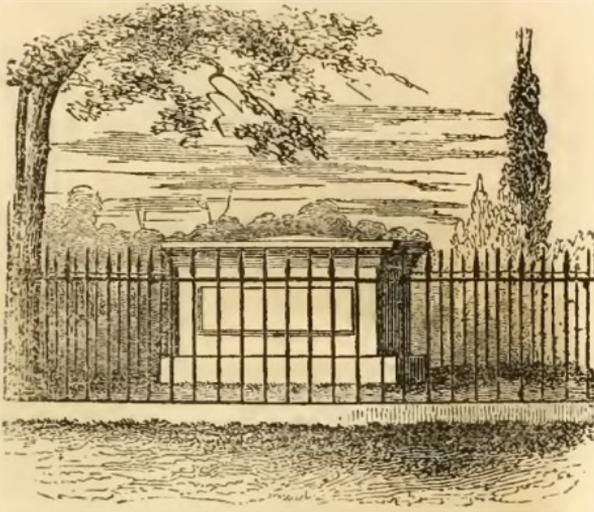

“I saw an aged man upon his bier:
His hair was thin and white, and on his brow
A record of the cares of many a year :—
Cares that were ended and forgotten now :
And there was sadness round, and faces bowed,
And women’s tears fell fast, and children wailed aloud.”

HENRY ANDREWS, LOT 930. AMARANTH PATH.

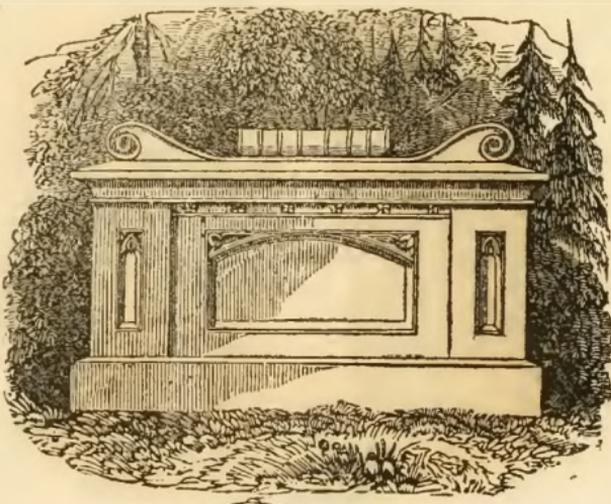

"Not lost, but gone before."

"For scarce upon our infant eyes,
The sprinkled dew of baptism dries,
E'er the thick frost of manhood's care.
And death's strong icy seal is there."

JOHN THORNTON KIRKLAND, L L. D. HARVARD HILL.

John Thornton Kirkland was President of Harvard University, from 1810, to 1828; which was a prosperous era for that institution: it was crowded with students, but his generosity kept him pennyless during the whole term: he loved his mother; in his memorandum book, he wrote, "one misfortune befel me in my junior year, which this world can never repair; my mother, on 23d Jan. 1788, died: the highest pleasure I could ever enjoy was that of pleasing her." he died April 26, 1840, Æ 69.

JOHN HOOKER ASHUMUN. HARVARD HILL, COLLEGE LOT.

He died April 1st, 1833, aged 33 years.

“Instructive emblem of this mortal state!
Where scenes as various every hour arise
In swift succession, which the hand of Fate
Presents, then whirls them from our wandering eyes.

Be taught, vain man, how fleeting all thy joys,
Thy boasted grandeur and thy glittering store;
Death comes and all thy fancied bliss destroys,
Quick as a dream it fades and is no more.

“Through earth’s thronged visions while we toss forlorn,
’Tis tumult all, and rage, and restless strife,
But these shall vanish like the dreams of morn
When death awakes us to immortal life.”

MONUMENT TO HOFFMAN. COLLEGE LOT.

“In memory of a beloved and only son, Frederick William, son of David and Mary Hoffman, of Baltimore, Maryland. Accompanied by his parents for Italy, he died at Lyons, France, on the 30th of November 1833, aged 17 years.”

Z. B. ADAMS. LOT 455. ROSEMARY PATH.

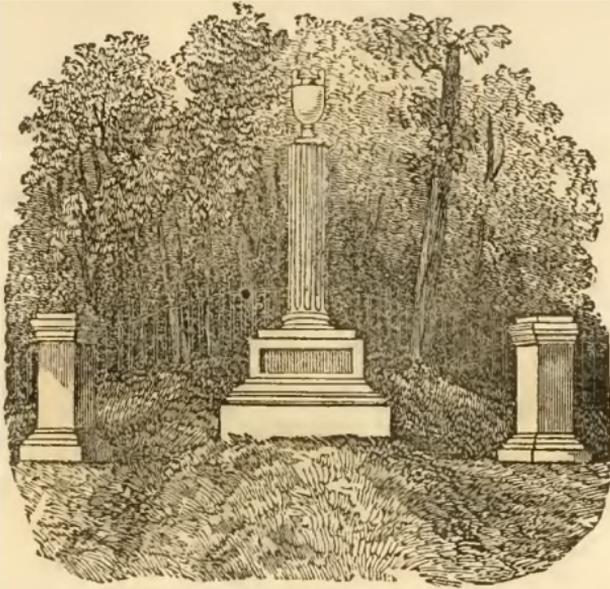

“And is this all—this mournful doom?
 Beams no glad light beyond the tomb?
 Mark how yon clouds in darkness ride;
 They do not quench the orb they hide;
 Still there it wheels—the tempest o'er

In a bright sky to burn once more;
 So, far above the clouds of time,
 Faith can behold a world sublime—
 There when the storms of life are past,
 The light beyond, shall break at last.”

His hope we trust was in Christ.

“The distinguished reputation of a scholar, the exalted integrity of a man, the noble qualities which grace a husband, father, son, brother, friend, as they were his, won the praise and love of every heart: so are they his just memorial. Quis desiderio sit pudor aut modus Tam chari capitis.”

WM. A. STEARNS. LOT 646. MOSS PATH. MON. TO SAM'L H. STEARNS.

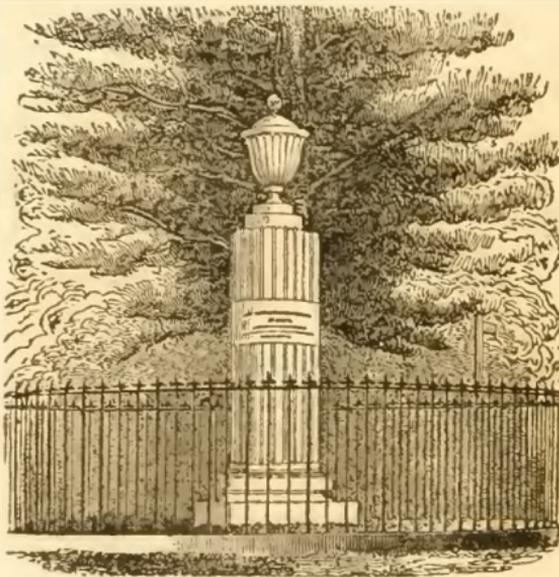

"Ay, freely hath the tear been given—and freely hath gone forth
 The sigh of grief, that one like thee should pass away from earth;
 But those who mourn thee, mourn thee not like those to whom is given
 No soothing hope, no blissful thoughts of parted friends in Heaven:
 They feel that thou wast summoned to the Christian's high reward,—
 The everlasting joys of those whose trust is in the Lord."

REV. JOHN MURRAY. LOT 587. MOSS PATH.

Preacher for the first Universalist society in Boston. Born in Alton,
 Eng., Dec. 10, 1741, died in Boston, Sept. 3, 1815.

"The Soul!—the Soul! with its eye of fire,
 Thus, thus shall it soar when its foes expire;
 It shall spread its wings o'er the ills that pained,
 The evils that shadowed, the sins that stained,
 It shall dwell where no rushing cloud hath sway
 And the pageants of earth shall have melted away."

REV. FREDERICK T. GRAY: LOT 46.

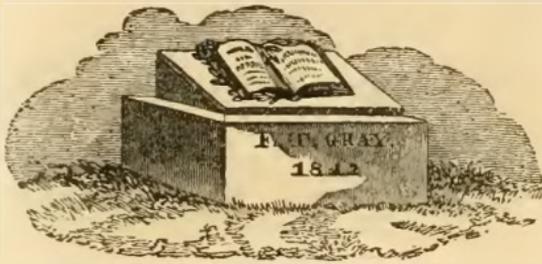

At the junction of Ivy and Moss Paths fronting Central Square, is a lowly, neat monument of a Bible opened, encircled with a branch of Olive, resting on an inclined slab, supported by a marble base.

“How beautiful on all the hills
The crimson light is shed!
’Tis like the peace the Christian gives
To mourners round his bed.

How mildly on the wandering cloud
The sunset beam is cast!
’Tis like the memory left behind
When loved ones breathe their last.”

“And now, above the dews of night,
The yellow star appears;
So faith springs in the heart of those
Whose eyes are bathed in tears.

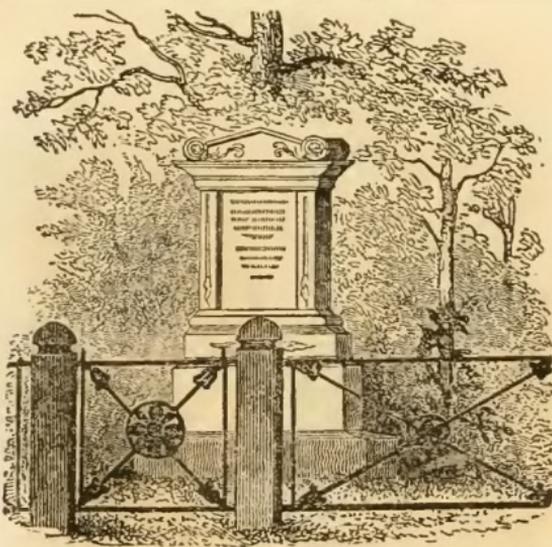

But soon the morning’s happier light
Its glory shall restore,
And eyelids that are sealed in death,
Shall wake to close no more.”

Blessed are the pure in heart.

MON. TO SAVAGE, ON GARDNER GREENLEAF'S LOT NO. 74, ALDER PATH.

"The dead, the much-loved dead!
 Who doth not yearn to know
 The secret of their dwelling place,
 And to what land they go?
 What heart but asks with ceaseless tone
 For some sure knowledge of its own?"

"Ye are not dead to us;
 But as bright stars unseen,
 We hold that ye are ever near,
 Though death intrudes between,
 Like some thin cloud, that veils from sight
 The countless spangles of the night."

HENRY OXNARD. LOT 364. NARCISSUS PATH.

“Ye living friends to sooth thy pain,
Remember we shall meet again!
Quell with this hope the victor’s sting,
And keep it as a signet ring.
Keep thou that hope to light thy gloom,
Till the last trumpet rends the tomb.”

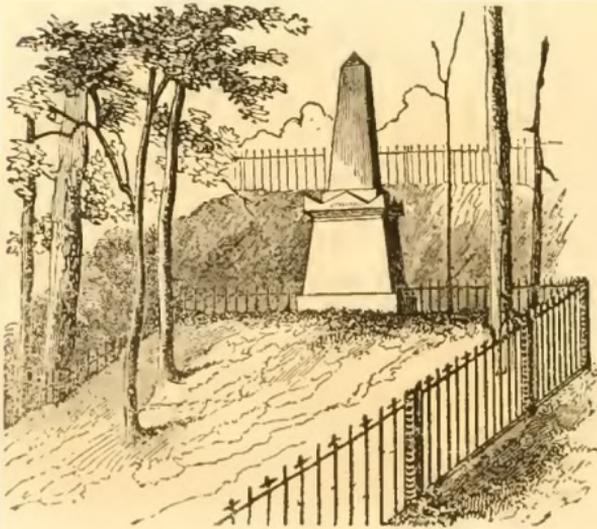

CLEMENT DURGIN. LOT 433. NARCISSUS PATH.

"Clement Durgin, Associate principal of Chauncy Hall School, Boston, born Sept. 29, 1802, died Sept. 30, 1833 : a student and lover of nature, in her wonders, he saw and acknowledged and through them adored her beneficent Author : his life was a beautiful illustration of his philosophy—his death, of the triumph of his faith : his pupils have reared this monument as an imperfect memorial of their great affection and respect."

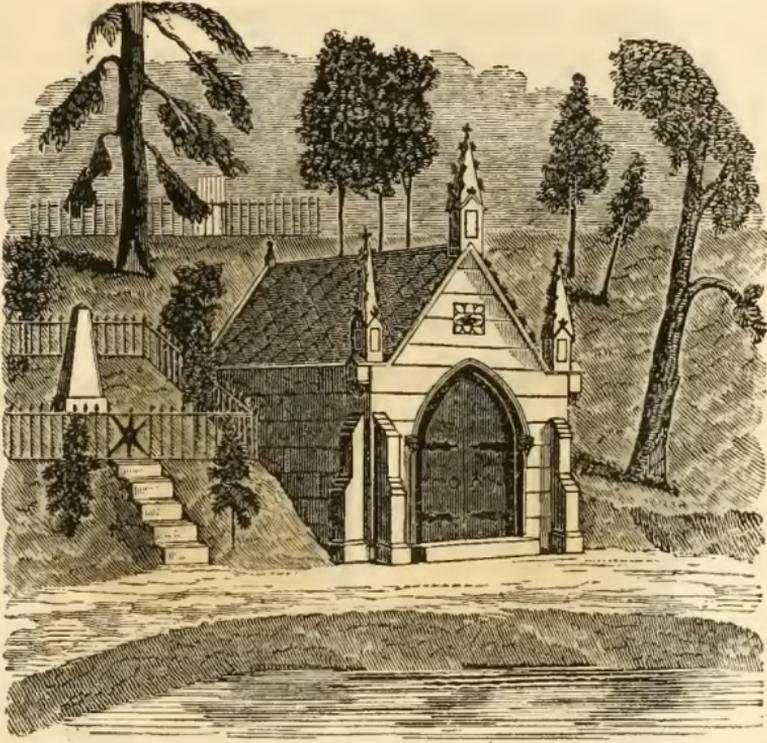

NATHANIEL FAXON. LOT 384 NARCISSUS PATH.

"There I placed
A frail memorial,—that when again
I should revisit it, the thought might come
Of the dull tide of life, and that pure spring
Which he who drinks of, never shall thirst more."

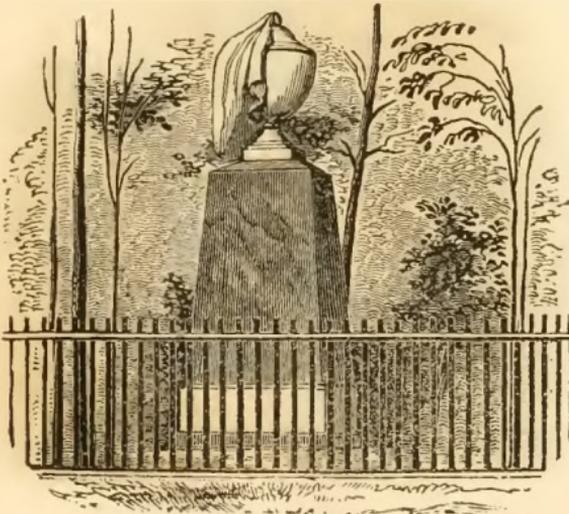

TOMB OF WM. P. WINCHESTER. LOT 380, NARCISSUS PATH.
Arthur Gilman, Architect.

MARTIN BRIMMER. LOT 394. INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

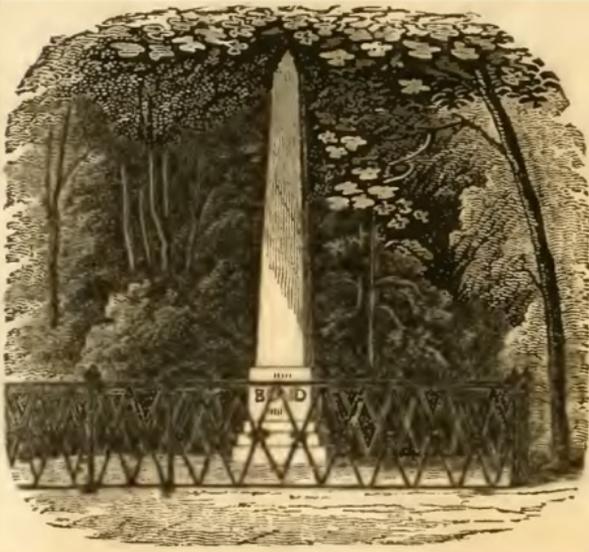

"The departed! the departed!
They visit us in dreams,
And they glide above our memories,
Like shadows over streams;
But where the cheerful lights of home
In constant lustre burn,
The departed! the departed!
Can never more return!

The good, the brave, the beautiful!
How dreamless is their sleep,
Where rolls the dirge-like music
Of the ever-tossing deep:—
Or where the hurrying night winds
Pale winter robes have spread,
Above the narrow palaces,
In the cities of the dead!"

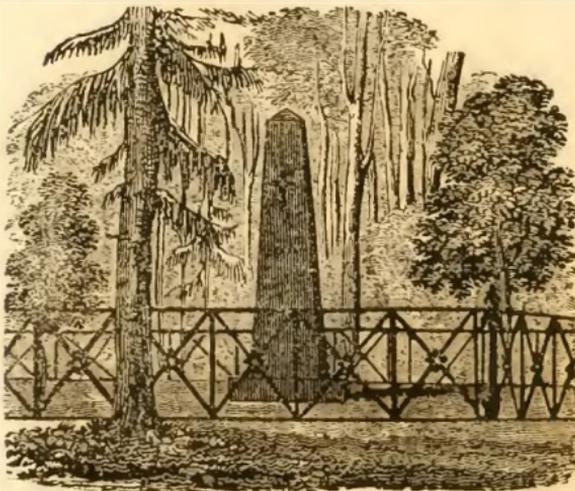

GEORGE BOND. LOT 156, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"Lost Friend, I shrink to say, so frail are we—
So like the brief ephemeron that wheels
Its momentary round, we scarce can weep
Our own bereavements, ere we haste to share
The clay with those we mourn."

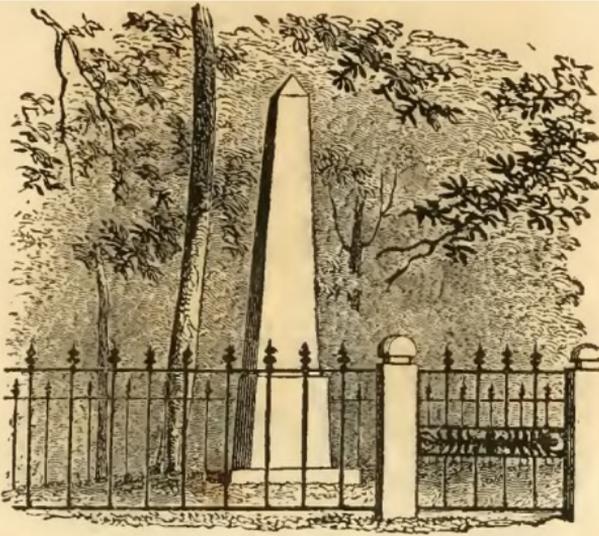

BENJAMIN SEAVER. LOT 158, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"I looked on manhood's towering form
Like some tall Oak when tempests blow
That scorns the fury of the storm
And strongly strikes its roots below :
Again I looked—with idiot cower
His vacaut eye's unmeaning ray
Told how the mind of godlike power
Passeth away."

THE NEWFOUNDLAND WATCH DOG,

On Lot No. 108, on Central Avenue, belonging to Mr. Thomas H. Perkins, Jr. is much admired;—and as history makes record of so many acts of fidelity, watchfulness and sagacity of the Dog, it is here considered appropriate to place him, as an apparent guard to the remains of the family who were his friends;—it was beautifully sculptured in Italy from the purest Italian marble.

NATHANIEL DEARBORN,

ENGRAVER & PRINTER, 104 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON,

Has lately issued a pocket volume of 450 pages, entitled "BOSTON NOTIONS," being an authentic and concise account of "THAT VILLAGE," from 1630 to 1847; containing 49 plates, — Maps, Miniatures, Wood Cuts, &c.

This work is highly appreciated by antiquarians and modern book worm gormandizers; among numerous other curiosities, it contains an account of all the inhabitants of Boston from 1630 to 1656; a list of the inhabitants for 1695, and a reprint of the first Directory for Boston, of 1789: numerous primitive laws: the trials for Heresy, Witchery, treatment of Quakers, Episcopalians, and Papists; a history of all the churches, with a record of all the ministers; to 1847. The volume is bound in morocco and sold at $1.50.

The Morning Post of May 2d, 1848, says "This thick little book contains more, it appears to us, than any one volume extant, excepting perhaps Webster's large Dictionary; the literary part of the work is written in a peculiar and original style, which cannot fail to please. In this age, when every body publishes his lucubrations, it is no easy matter to produce any thing which shall be both "new and true;" but we believe Mr. Dearborn has fully succeeded in giving to the world something both unique and valuable."

From Hon. James Savage, LL. D. Author of Wintthrop Journal, &c.

Dear Sir—You have laid our native city under great obligation, by printing your "Boston Notions." The title, however, is not descriptive of its scope or merits: whoever looks over the copious Index will be directed to very many points of our peninsula, which he never visited, and must indeed, be a geographer of extraordinary accuracy, if he ever heard of all of them before. Every day in the year he may take up the work and near the end of December, still find something new.

But it is not merely novelty, with which the reader of your book shall be gratified. There is much, very much, of exact information, derived from assiduous research in places inaccessible to most people. Even the errors will have the advantage of driving some explorers to unusual fields of investigation, for the pleasure of exposing the small number of them. More than the cost of the whole volume is well laid out for the knowledge of the curious censns, in either of the places between pages 42 and 65, and page 270 to 277, respectively one hundred and fifty, and two hundred years back. No other city in the world, I presume, can show lists of so distant times, with such approach to perfection.

With great regard, I am Sir,
your much obliged fellow worker,

Temple Place, 22 Nov., 1848.
