Of all the gifts that come to cheer,
The best one is a brand New Year.
Snow-wrapped and holly-decked it comes
To richest and to poorest homes.
Twelve jeweled Months all set with Days
Of priceless Opportunities.
A silver Moon and a golden Sun,
With diamond Stars when the day is done;
And over all a sapphire sky,
Where pearly clouds go floating by.
Joy to You for the Year that brings
So many and such precious Things.

The Harmonic Philosophy is a philosophy of action as well as of introspection. It means the doing of that which is practical, as well as a contemplation of that which is ethical. It calls for the exercise of reason and the practice of principles, as well as the indulgence of the emotions and development of the aesthetic tastes. It looks to knowledge and goodness, as well as to culture and refinement. It means more than thinking or speculating or believing. It is the living and learning and doing. It is a life, not a creed.

—Harmonics of Evolution p 461.

January 2

By the right application of his knowledge and the right use of all his acquired powers he (man) comes into full co-operation with Nature's Constructive Principle.

—The Great Psychological Crime p. 299.

January 3

The individual who is honest with himself will not hesitate the fraction of a second to align himself with the position of the Great School, which holds that "all knowledge is a sacred trust." It is a trust, under the control of those who possess it, that must be administered for the greatest good to the largest number, which means for the greatest good of society.

—The Great Work p. 197.

Law and order are a necessary part of man's rational development.

—Harmonics of Evolution p. 363.

January 5

True spiritual development involves correct knowledge and correct use of power.

—Harmonics of Evolution p. 54.

January 6

Maintain at all times the active, wakeful consciousness, and in the largest measure possible develop the power of individual self-control.

January 7

Right praying is the bond between those who need and those who can give.

—Who Answers Prayer p. 37.

January 8

The Great Work is an "individual" work. It is a work of individual development, individual unfoldment, individual attainment. It cannot be delegated. The individual who is to receive the benefits must do the work.

—The Great Work p. 363.

January 9

Every unselfish act done in behalf of one's fellow man brings to the benefactor a definite soul reward.

True Happiness is the result of Love alone. Perfect Happiness is the result of the perfect Love relation. There are no substitutes.

—The Great Work p. 308.

January 11

Courage, brightness, cheerfulness, freedom from care, with perseverance, determination, hope and Faith are all mighty factors to supplement Nature's Constructive Principle in the restoration and conservation of health and life.

—The Great Psychological Crime p. 100.

January 12

As far as we are able to trace the authentic history of mankind, human intelligence has intuitively sensed a great fundamental law of Equity, Justice and Right which runs throughout all the manifestations of nature.

Each individual is the architect of his own destiny. He is the builder or destroyer of his own happiness. There is no royal road to happiness, any more than there is to knowledge, power or fame. Rational happiness necessitates rational knowledge of the laws of life. It necessitates rational conformity to spiritual principles. It necessitates legal sanctions for natural relations.

—Harmonics of Evolution p. 261.

January 23

Whatever may be claimed for astrology as a "science of prophecy," it must never be forgotten that man's individual power of Will is greater than the influence of any planet or combination of planets, in determining the lines of his individual life and conduct.

From the viewpoint of spiritual life, the man or the woman whose earthly life is spent in the accumulation and selfish enjoyment of the material things of earth, is far more to be pitied than those who have lived this life in poverty and want and who at death have nothing of material value to leave behind.

—The Great Work p. 356.

January 26

Knowledge and wisdom and experience are the earned increment of the Soul.

January 27

Consciousness is at the foundation of knowledge. Knowledge is an essential factor at the very foundation of Moral Accountability. Moral Accountability is at the foundation of Constructive Spirituality. But Constructive Spirituality is also at the foundation of Spiritual Independence and Mastership.

Give us Men!

“God give us men! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;

Men whom the lust of lucre does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office can not buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;

Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking;

Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog,
In public duty, and in private thinking:

For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their large professions, and their little deeds,
Mingle in selfish strife, Lo! freedom weeps;
Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps.”

There is a universal law of individual development and fulfillment. There is a natural law of marriage and a natural law of happiness. The universal ideal of love and of individual companionship between man and woman is neither a dream nor a delusion. That perfect ideal is the Soul's perception of a natural relation. Song of Patience

Live on, O life of mine!
Though often thou dost yearn to be at rest,
He who hath lent thee life hath thought it best
Thine to prolong till more through thee are blest;
Live on, and cease repine.

Work on, O hands of mine!
Ennobling thought that even thou canst share
A part with God in making earth more fair;
Then labor calmly on, and to complain forbear,
Fulfilling his design.

Trust on, O heart of mine!
Though dark the way and rough the angry sea,
Thy pilot holds the helm, thy Father beckons thee;
One guides the course of every songster free,
To him thine all resign.

Sing on, O soul of mine!
Sing songs of faith, and hope, and joy, and cheer:
Outsound the discord grating on thine ear,
And bring celestial music, sweet and clear,
To lonelier hearts than thine.

Three Gates

“If you are tempted to reveal
A tale someone to you has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, Three Gates of Gold.

Three narrow gates—First, “Is it true?”
Then, “Is it needful?” In your mind
Give truthful answer. And the next
Is last and narrowest, “Is it kind?”

And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.”

This philosophy accepts this earthly life, and this physical body with all its functions, as a necessary, important and legitimate part of the destiny of the soul. It, therefore, enjoins an earthly life well sustained and well rounded in all its activities and relations. The individual is not admonished to "lose himself in the Universal," but rather to find himself in a particular world of actualities. Earthly life is not presented here as an illusion of the senses, but as a very real and tangible opportunity for the intelligent soul.

Look Pleasant

We cannot, of course, all be handsome,
And it's hard for us all to be good;
We are sure now and then to be lonely,
And we don't always do as we should.

To be patient is not always easy,
To be cheerful is much harder still;
But at least we can always be pleasant,
If we make up our mind that we will.

And it pays every time to look kindly,
Although you feel worried and blue;
If you smile at the world and be cheerful,
The world will smile back at you.

So try to brace up and look pleasant,
No matter how low you are down,
Good humor is always contagious,
But you banish your friends when you frown.

When?

When is the age of romance quite over?
When does the spirit of fancy die?
When is a man too old for a lover?
When is a woman too old to sigh?

When are we gladdened by white hairs sprinkled
Over the brown and over the gold?
When do we welcome a face that is wrinkled?
When are we willing to call ourselves old?

When the song of a bird has no hint of gladness,
And our hearts are not warmed by the roses
in bloom;

When laughter of childhood beguiles us to sadness,
And fullness of springtime compels us to gloom;

When light-hearted lovers are sights that distress us,
And all generations seem great but the last;
In yearning—not pleasures, but priests to confess us,
We know beyond doubting that fair youth is past.

“Youth” and “Old Age” are words without meaning,
Save as life’s sorrows are heaped upon men;
Age may descend upon youth in its dreaming,
While youth may abide with three score and ten.

The path to the South is extremely narrow and rough, uphill all the way, in the sun and facing the wind. To travel this way is difficult. It calls for the most intense and unremitting Personal Effort. Every step of the way the traveler must overcome the pull of gravity from behind and the push of the wind in front. He must climb over many an obstruction and remove many an obstacle from his way. And he must do all this himself.

Our Creed

“Who asks not, the chambers are darkened
Where his soul sits in silence alone.
Who gives not, his soul never hearkened
To the love call of zone unto zone.
Who prays not, exists, but he lives not,
A blot and a discord is he.
Who asks not, receives not and gives not,
Were better drowned in the sea.
Ah, the asking, receiving and giving
Is the soul of the life that we live.
All the beauty and sweetness of living
Is to ask, to receive and to give.”

As You Make It

To the preacher life's a sermon,
To the joker it's a jest;
To the miser life is money,
To the loafer life is rest.

To the lawyer life's a trial,
To the poet life's a song;
To the doctor life's a patient

Life perhaps is but a burden
To the man beneath the hod.

Life is lovely to the lover,
To the player life's a play;
Life may be a load of trouble
To the man upon the dray.

Life is but a long vacation
To the man who loves his work;
Life's an everlasting effort
To shun duty to the shirk.

To the heaven-blest romancer
Life's a story ever new;
Life is what we try to make it—
Brother, what is life to you?

When it is said that true marriage must have the sanction of both intuition and reason, it is meant that the act must be a matter of impulse, feeling, love, and also a matter of reason, judgment and reflection. It must be remembered that Nature supplies man with his impulses and his intuitions. Man, however, must supply his own reasoning.

The Fool's Prayer

The royal feast was done; the King
Sought some new sport to banish care,
And to his jester cried: "Sir Fool,
Kneel now, and make for us a prayer!"

The jester doffed his cap and bells,
And stood the mocking court before;
They could not see the bitter smile
Behind the painted grin he wore.

He bowed his head, and bent his knee
Upon the monarch's silken stool;
His pleading voice arose: "O Lord,
Be merciful to me, a fool!

"No pity, Lord, could change the heart
From red with wrong to white as wool;
The rod must heal the sin: but, Lord,
Be merciful to me, a fool!

"'Tis not by guilt the onward sweep
Of truth and right, O Lord, we stay;
'Tis by our follies that so long
We hold the earth from heaven away.

"These clumsy feet, still in the mire,
Go crushing blossoms without end;
These hard, well-meaning hands we thrust
Among the heart-strings of a friend.

"The ill-timed truth we might have kept—
Who knows how sharp it pierced and stung?
The word we had not sense to say—
Who knows how grandly it had rung?

"Our faults no tenderness should ask,
The chastening stripes must cleanse them all;
But for our blunders—oh, in shame
Before the eyes of heaven we fall.

"Earth bears no balsam for mistakes;
Men crown the knave, and scourge the tool
That did his will; but Thou, O Lord,
Be merciful to me, a fool!"

The room was hushed; in silence rose
The king, and sought his gardens cool,
And walked apart, and murmured low,
"Be merciful to me, a fool!"

Judge Not

Judge not; the workings of his brain
And of his heart thou canst not see;
What looks to thy dim eyes a stain,
In God's pure light may only be
A scar, brought from some well won field,
Where thou wouldst only faint and yield.

The look, the air, that frets thy sight
May be a token that below
The soul has closed in deadly fight
With some infernal fiery foe,
Whose glance would scorch thy smiling grace,
And cast thee shuddering on thy face!

The fall thou darest to despise—
May be the angel's slackened hand
Has suffered it, that he may rise
And take a firmer, surer stand;
Or, trusting less to earthly things,
May henceforth learn to use his wings.

And judge none lost; but wait and see,
With hopeful pity, not disdain;
The depth of the abyss may be
The measure of the height and pain
And love and glory that may raise
This soul to God in after days!

A Promise

“If only we strive to be pure and true
To each of us all there will come an hour
When the tree of life shall burst into flower
And rain at our feet the wonderful dower
Of something grander than ever we knew.”

—Wordsworth.

Great Father, to whom we are all as but children; Friends of the friendless, and Helpers of those who need; Be our Friends when other friends have failed us; be our Helpers in the hour of our extremity. In so far as may be for our mutual good, be with us this day and through all the days of this our earthly life. Lead us by the hand of Love. Point us to the pathway of Duty. Bear with us when we stumble over the pathway which leads onward and upward into the Light. And we shall hope one day to stand with You, in the midst of the Radiant Splendor of Eternal Truth. And we shall be ever grateful.

Will-Power

There is no chance, no destiny, no fate,
Can circumvent, or hinder, or control,
The firm resolve of a determined soul.
Gifts count for little; Will alone is great;
All things give way before it soon or late.
What obstacle can stay the mighty force
Of the sea-seeking river in its course,
Or cause the ascending Orb of day to wait?
Each well-born Soul must win what it deserves.
Let the fool prate of Luck! The fortunate
Is he whose earnest purpose never swerves,
Whose slightest action or inaction serves
The one great aim.
Why, even death stands still
And waits an hour, sometimes, for such a Will!

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.
