WHAT THE ACADEMY IS DOING
by Kenneth D. Barrett, D.Scn.

The policy of the Academy of Religious Arts and Sciences covering training, is extremely effective, and at the same time, just like the material that it teaches, very simple. It can be stated in three words, "We make Auditors".

Now, off hand, this may seem a very simple thing, in that you would give the students data, and some processes, and send them on their way. While this is accepted as sufficient for public schools, here at the Academy, we teach them to ask, look, and listen, so that they will have a certainty on what the process does, by having the process run on them, and at the same time, giving them an objective certainty by having them maintain a high communication level with their preclears so that they at all times know precisely what is occuring with the preclear.

The curriculum here at the Academy starts off with a mechanical breakdown of two-way communication into a formula and the various component parts. The student is required to work with these until he can get anybody into real solid, two-way communication where the other person will express his views concerning life, be willing to talk about his fears and shortcomings, and even bring up his deepest secrets. The student is given complete explanations of all the basics of Scientology, as well as the terminology with which they are communicated, so that he can see these truths manifested in the life around him. Next comes the processes themselves. Here the student is taught to run the process until he can do it easily with precision, word for word with explanations of what happens if he deviates. The goal and/or goals of each process is clearly stated, and the way that the command is "cleared" by two-way communication so that the preclear is working directly towards the goal of the process, is demonstrated. The "hows" and "whys" of establishing a certainty in the preclear, are stressed emphatically at all times. Besides all of the above, the students are given a thorough background of the theory behind all of the processes, as well as little pointers and examples from years of auditing experience.

After having gone through the above, and being fully conversant with the doingness as an auditor, we graduate to the level of beingness. Under this heading, we take in what an auditor knows, and what he can do all the way from specific situations, to the more general levels of operation in life. He is taught how to be a minister as well as what a true minister does. He learns how to set up a private practice, run groups, start and conduct a Church, straighten out difficulties on a business or organizational level, until he has an understanding of his place in life, and of the tremendous need there is for him amongst his fellow men.

Thus at the end of training, we have an individual who not only knows that he knows, but is also on the road to obtaining the level of ability of which all mankind is capable. At the end of each day, he knows that he has assisted his fellow men upward to attaining a higher understanding, and well-being.

NEW ACADEMY ADDRESS - 1812 19th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. DON'T FORGET IT!

MRS. CONFUCIOUS SAYS:

Whether or not to take a bite?
To sink or swim - which is delight?
Life certainly is a derision
When one is filled with indecision
Not knowing what to do, is the matter.
So I sit and grow the fatter.
Problems are my behest
And livingness is not my crest.

Do not let this be your fore!
Have some processing. Settle the score.

THE NEW PROFESSIONAL COURSE!

Some in the field will be surprised to hear of the Professional Course (of July 1954, full title) as being new, yet, Don Breeding, who is in the enviable position of having all of the London A.C.C. and H.P.C. tapes cut recently by Ron, says its the honest truth. We quote from Don, "Honest, its terrific the way this new material fits in. In fact, I have discovered, cognited so to speak, that the Old Pro Course had more in it than I realized. Remember how I used to duck out on them on the second and third playing during OP PHOENIX? Well, I just made up for that and re-listened to them and they are the hottest set of tapes we have for sale today. And I'm gonna do something about 'em!" Unquote from Don.

Well, whether they are the hottest tapes of all we can't say but it is true that The Professional Course makes the only complete-in-itself Basic Teaching package today. It is the only series of tapes covering the History of Religion, The Axioms of Scientology, and the Six Basic Steps. The very important subject, AS-ISNESS, is fully contained in the Pro Course tapes and not available in any other package today.

Therefore the Tape Dept. takes pleasure in announcing "The New Professional Course". The series has been re-recorded to fit better with todays hi-fidelity requirements. Don says that both tracks have been paired along the tape so as to begin and end at about the same time. This simplifies finding the beginning of the 2nd track. Simply turn over the reel at the end of the 1st track and there it is. These tapes weren't originally recorded on the AMPEX so they aren't quite up to par with present Academy Series but we think they are swell.

We also think that more people ought to have them. The result is that this wonderful package will be available to Congress goers for only $75.00 (no further discount). The field will also be able to buy this set for less: $75.00 to registered groups and Congregations and $100.00 to individual buyers who read ABILITY, but who are not group members. These prices have no further discount.

The PROFESSIONAL COURSE OF JULY 1954 (actually covering June-December 1954) 26 half hour lectures, 13 reels attractively boxed shipped postpaid to all parts of the world. Congress Goers, $75.00; groups and Congregations, $75.00; individuals, $100.00.

The Sunburst Cross

"The Sunburst Cross", the basic design of which was found by Ron in an ancient Spanish mission in Arizona, is the exact official insignia for Scientology ministers that we have wanted for a long time. Available nowhere in the world outside the Founding Church of Scientology, this truly Scientology cross is startlingly beautiful. It is in pure silver, has nothing whatever to do with turn-around collars, and is worn simply and in good taste by men and women alike as a neckpiece on a silver chain. Men wear the insignia in place of a tie.

Our admiring silversmith is producing these at a smooth, unhurried rate of production, already having delivered over fifty of the crosses ahead of schedule so that we could have them on hand at the Congress. Our ministers are writing in saying they are glad the insignia is now available and send it immediately. Ministers locally who have seen them are buying them on the spot. The price for these is $16.50, and it is a non-profit item. The Founding Church makes nothing on the crosses, partly because the Founding Church does not have any jewellers around to make expert estimates, partly because these crosses belong to the ministers and we want every minister to be able to get one as soon as production allows. Please order your cross from the FOUNDING CHURCH OF SCIENTOLOGY, in care of the Distribution Center at Box 242, Silver Spring, Maryland, where the orders are being handled.
