Something Has Happened!!!

by L. Ron Hubbard

The single largest technical gain in eight years has just occurred.

Anyone can be cleared by engram running.

A new style of auditing has had to be developed to handle the explosive power of the new Scientology methods of handling Dianetic engrams.

Shades of Book One! Whoever would have thought that engram running could be improved as much as it has been improved in the past three months.

To make engram running possible, twelve new TRs have had to be developed.

There are now three styles of auditing: Tone 40, Formal and Engram Auditing. The first two are quite adequate to clear fifty percent of cases. It takes a new approach to get enough locks off the rocks of the remaining fifty percent to get them clear too.

I've been busy, busy, busy. I had the largest ACC ever held in the world during October and November. And I had the luck in research to put us on a new plateau of stable clearing.

I asked the ACC Instructors, "What shall we do about America?" They were just about knocked to pieces training the British to handle the double-dynamite of modern engrams. But they said, "Somehow we've got to get in everybody we can to the January '59 ACC in Washington. We've got to get this data out."

So we're doing it in a Congress on the 3rd and 4th of January in D.C., and the 21st American ACC following.

Look, it's no promotion talk. It just can't be said hard enough. We're made it! We're shot through the last barrier. We've got it and a new society made.

We've worked hard. We're willing to work harder. But we need help. I want to drop some coal on the fire and get the show on the road. I need people who can do this. I can show a lot of people at a Congress and can show specialists in an ACC. I need staff and I need action.

ACCs are my own course. I don't care what arrangements are made to pay for it. But this one has been on wait for eight years and now it can get going.

I can't give another U.S. Congress and ACC for some time. There's only the 21st American ACC. And only the Success Congress.

Will I see you there?

HCO Bulletin of December 22, 1958

- NEW HGC PROCESS -

"A New Straight Wire"

There is a new process being used in HGC. It is ARC Break Straight Wire.

This process belongs after S-C-S and Factual Havingness and before What Can You Confront.

ARC Break Straight Wire is a form of Tr-5 ARC Break. Its processing number, however, is CCH-50.

Any and all rules governing Straight Wire apply, including

(a) The preclear cycles into the past and back to present time. Therefore, ask and pin point when.

(b) Stop the process only with the preclear near present time. Put in a bridge, therefore, without specified number of "more times". Wrong -- "I am going to ask this question three more times and end the process." Right -- "I am going to ask this question until your answers are close to present time and then end it if that's all right with you." Then check when on each reply, get preclear into present time and say, "Are you near present time? All right, this is the end of the process."

The Command to a Scientologist is, "Recall an ARC Break". This is for an unlimited type process. "Recall an ARC Break between us" or " ... in an auditing session" or " ... with your mother" to limit process to this life. The first form is preferred. The second form is used on a sticky valence that has been isolated.

The unlimited version rapidly dives for whole track and into engrams. This is all right. But don't stop and change the process. Just continue to run, "Recall an ARC Break" when the preclear gets into heavy weather.

Be very careful with this process to keep the Auditor's Code. Otherwise, 50% of the time is spent getting rid of ARC Breaks in the session itself -- and with this process these are heavy. (However, two auditors co-auditing who are a bit clumsy can use this process better than other processes and it and Factual Havingness should be the total activity of an auditor who is having trouble with a preclear who is having trouble with ARC Breaks.

The preclear, in diving for whole track, gets into and out of heavy incidents. So long as he answers the question, fine. Don't let him fail to answer every question.

Reality on the whole track leaps up with this process. This is the first process that accomplishes this easily.

In running it, remember that the overt act is as important as the motivator (see: A History of Man, Chap. 9). The reason A gets mad at B is as often because A has done something to B as it is because B has done something to A.

Here is a fine, smooth process that is a one-shot Clear, and can be used by auditors not ACC-trained to run engrams.

ARC Break Straight Wire is very useful in husband-wife co-auditing teams and, with Factual Havingness, is the only process that should be used in a co-auditing relationship that is already intimate to a point of easily gathering ARC Breaks.

From two standpoints the process is the best we have ever had --

(a) It handles touchy preclears well, and
(b) It is the first to open up whole track in general with as great a reality or greater than the R on present life.

From two other viewpoints the process is vulnerable:

(a) It requires strict observance of the Auditor's Code if you don't want to waste 50% to 75% of the auditing time.

(b) It runs the preclear into heavy incidents and the process must be continued until the preclear is again in present time -- making an uncertainty in session timing.

However, the shortcomings are far outweighed by the value of ARC Break Straight Wire.

There is one "bug" in the process. The non-Scientologist does not readily grasp the command -- and there is no substitute for a quick question.

ARC Break means "The assignment of responsibility for a sudden drop in Affinity, Reality or Communication." Thee and me have a "feel" for this.

Substitute commands are many, none as good. "Recall something you have done to a person" - "Recall something that has been done to you" is fair but misses by a mile.

History: This process is, in genus, very old. I introduced its rudiments at the June 1952 first Congress in Phoenix, Ariz. ARC is even older and goes to July of 1950. The present version in a narrower form was first used by Mary Sue Hubbard in 1958.

The valuable lesson this gives us is that Mary or Joe or Pete may be mad at us because Mary or Joe or Pete did something to us. We may or may not have done anything to Mary or Joe or Pete to make them mad at us. In other words, the preclear who comes back into session furious with the auditor, may have committed an overt act against the auditor out of session and not prompted by an action of the auditor. The wife may be mad at the husband because of something she did to the husband. She talked about him behind his back (prompted by some old engram about husbands) and, now having committed this overt act, she becomes furious with the husband. Etc. Etc. The person mad at Scientology may only be motivated by having done something to Scientology. Etc. Etc. A whole new view of human behavior opens when you see this point. Therefore, caution the preclear to "pick up his overt acts against things, too" while he's running it if he's only getting overt acts against him.

The only reason the process won't work is that the preclear isn't doing it, but only pretending to, or he doesn't understand it.

But all in all, we've a wonderful weapon here to straighten out a lot of lives. Use it with wild abandon and get the results in. It's good.
