Gateway to OT

The Solo Auditor Course is your gateway to the incomparable OT Levels!

Why Solo Auditing? Ron says, "Because of the nature of OT auditing the person has to learn to audit himself as most OT Levels are too fast to be audited by another."

On the Solo Auditor Course, the gates swing wide to a bright new viewpoint on auditing—and a new viewpoint on life itself! As you progress on the Solo Auditor Course, you learn how to audit yourself and handle your own case.

On the modern, streamlined Solo Auditor Course, you get all the data you need to solo audit, and you get the data fast. Then you drill solo procedures using special drills developed by Ron for this course. You can gain confidence rapidly and get into action as a solo auditor.

If you are a Dianetic Clear, a Grade VA Release or on Power, Power set-ups or Grade VI set-ups, you can enroll immediately on the Solo Auditor Course.

The only training prerequisite is the Basic Study Manual. And if you haven't taken that course, it's included free with the Solo Auditor Course!

There is no other training prerequisite. However, as Ron pointed out in Ron's Journal 30, "Some people, wanting the best auditing they can get for this solo flight, also take lower level professional auditor courses and even Class VI at the Saint Hills."

Course length: estimated two weeks full time.

Sign up for the Solo Auditor Course. It's your gateway to the OT Levels! Gain the confidence and certainty you'll need to handle your own case on these upper levels.

Contact the AO Registrar and sign up. The current requested donation is listed on the enclosed insert.

THE SOLO AUDITOR COURSE

Gain certainty on being able to handle your own case!

Set-up Auditing: What is it?

It is a datum in auditing that the preclear or pre-OT must be fully prepared or "set up" for any major auditing action.

It is especially important that a preclear or pre-OT be fully set up before he is allowed onto Advanced Courses materials.

Before a person begins on Advanced Courses, his case is fully checked over by the Solo Case Supervisor to see that all prerequisites are met. What are these prerequisites? See page 15 of this issue for a reprint of the HCO Bulletin by Ron giving all of the current prerequisites.

If any of these points are not fully handled, the necessary actions are done to get these points in and get the case fully set up for OT Levels.

The preclear or pre-OT would sign up for the necessary intensives to get fully set up.

LRH says "It is vital that a case be fully set up before beginning actual Solo Auditing."

How many hours does set-up auditing take? This varies greatly from person to person. A lot depends on how well and how thoroughly the earlier Grade Chart actions were done. If one has had excellent and thorough lower grade actions, then set-up auditing will be very straightforward. From this you can see the importance of not hurrying through one's Grades or earlier actions, but ensuring that full gains are attained. See Ron's article "How Not to Miss Out on Gains from Your Auditing", which was reprinted in Advance! Issue 67.

If you would like an individual tech estimate of the set-up auditing required in your case, contact the Registrar at the Advanced Org.

Now! A Solo Auditor Course especially for OT IIs and above the advanced solo auditor course

Now there's a special Solo Course just for OT IIs and above. It's designed by Ron to give pre-OTs the special skills and polish needed to get maximum gain from OT III and the upper OT Levels.

If you're ready to start on OT III or OT III Expanded, or if you have been off the lines for a while and should be getting back on to III or III Expanded — do this special course!

Those who have done this course find that OT III goes tremendously smoother with more cognitions and gains each session.

One pre-OT writes: "I was auditing on OT III, but with difficulty. Something was missing and I found myself efforting too much on my sessions. After going through the drills of this course, I was suddenly confident and certain I'd be able to handle the rest of OT III. Then, in my very next session everything went just as smooth as silk! I got more done and had more gains in that session than in the combined total of my previous auditing on III. It was fantastic! I urge anyone about to do OT III or who is having a rough time of it on OT III to do this course!"

What is this new course?

It contains special, newly developed drills that increase a pre-OT's ability to use intention. It also boosts the ability to control one's awareness and to focus it at will, where one wants it.

The drills themselves provide case gain! After completing one of the drills, one student said: "The most amazing drill I have ever done! The total simplicity of it hit me as a major cognition!"

Not only OT III, but any level above that would be helped greatly by this course. Whether you are about to start OT III, need to redo it, or want to polish and sharpen up your solo skills — do the Advanced Solo Auditor's Course!

The course in no way replaces OT III Theory. It is a vital preparatory step to polish up intention and metering skills.

Contact the AO Registrar and sign up. Prerequisites: Complete on OT II and the Hubbard Solo Auditor Course. Course Length: One week full time. Donation: See enclosed insert or contact the AO Registrar.

"The whole idea here is to restore freedom of action, freedom of thought, freedom to believe, freedom to survive, freedom to know, freedom to be responsible... freedom to win. Those are freedoms."

The Freedom to Win

Your activity in this universe is enforced or inhibited. You're given the supplies and then, to a large degree, not permitted to use them.

And your own manufacture of mock-ups is actually in contest with the MEST universe. The MEST universe says, "Look how big and strong and real I am, and how weak and puny you are."

How does it say that? It says, "My actuality is brighter than any you can make." This doesn't happen to be true. The reality of the MEST universe is poorer than a reality which a preclear can gain in his own universe. This would only be natural, because what is one's own can be more real than that which one has given to him. One always appreciates something of which he is the author more than something of which he is not the author.

UNIVERSITIES

One of the reasons universities get patronized is because they use the word "university". They get loyalty from their students because they say "your university". That's right. There really is no other reason.

Let's look at the facts of the case. The would-be writer goes to a university to write. But if he's "taught" to write in a university, he'll never write.

A painter goes there to learn how to paint, but when he comes out, he never paints. These are fascinating facts.

Why? Because he runs into authoritarianism. It does something to one's will to be positioned for such a long period of time—from the age of five to the age of 23 or 24. A young person can stand it up to about the age of 15, 16 or 17. Then he starts to suffer badly by being positioned.

If he does not take on the responsibilities of his own existence shortly after puberty, he is going to have a hard time of it the rest of his life. And that is the flat end of it.

The GI Bill* was a whip over the heads of anybody who wished to study. You had to have a high average to keep up. This is one of the ways the government used to keep everybody from benefitting by it. You had to have a high average; you had to get in there and know those facts. Instruction under those conditions was as many as 400 students to a class, with one instructor. And that instructor was just a lecturer—no instruction, really.

GI Bill*: The popular name of the U.S. Serviceman's Readjustment Act of 1944, which gave certain benefits to World War II Veterans, including providing tuition for higher education. "GI" (originally "government issue"—words stamped on army clothing and equipment) is the slang term for a member of the US armed forces.

There's one thing that saved the bacon of the GI: he'd been out on his own somewhat and he had found out how to duck and dodge in the service. It was the only thing he had.

WRITERS

If I have to rehabilitate one more writer that a university has ruined, I'm going to go over and zap some short story professors!

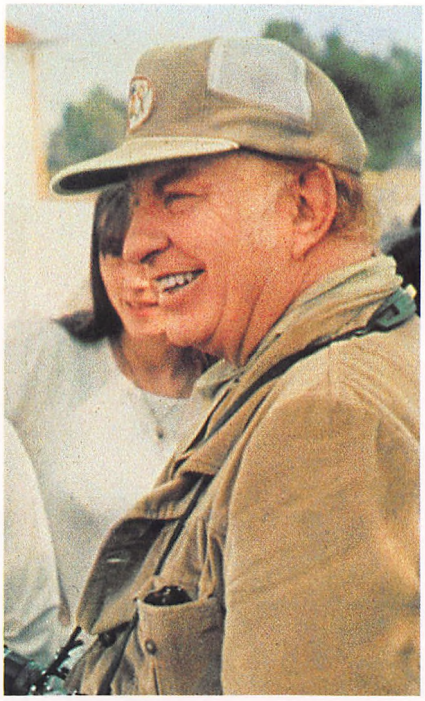

They all run the same thing: the kid turns in a good idea, a piece of his own universe, and he gets back "the punctuation is off." Who cares about the punctuation? That's what you have editors for. They teach these kids how to edit.

Some of the most famous writers in America were congregated in a room once, and they were looking for somebody who had a degree in literature. Everybody sort of squirmed. One fellow said, "Well, the fact of the matter is, I took engineering." Another said, "Well, I only spent the first year in college and then they kicked me out." Another fellow said, "You did? Well, I was there two years before they kicked me out!"

We looked through this whole crowd and we found that everybody there had been kicked out of the university and didn't spend very long there except if they were studying engineering. That was about all we had.

Then one small, proud voice piped up over in a corner and said "I have a degree in literature". It was a literary agent. He couldn't write!

The aggregate income in that room, by the way, was in excess of 150 thousand dollars a month, except the literary agent. He did criticisms for a dollar a manuscript!

by L. Ron Hubbard

Something must be off the rails if a country does not turn out aesthetics. There were 280 thousand Bachelors of Art graduated in 1947 in the United States. Think what would have happened if you have graduated 280 thousand good artists! The whole face of the United States would have changed.

There are things that can be taught, but not the arts. You can teach them engineering; you can teach them something that has a process or procedure. You can teach them government or law—but you can't teach the arts.

THE RIGHT TO KNOW

How much better could universities work? Well, they could work better if they stayed true to their own pretense that they're a university.

If one went to his "own university", he would have the right to think, and he'd have the right to have an opinion. He'd have the right to make up his own mind. He would be there so that information could be made available to him, so he could figure it out.

This problem would have been licked hundreds and hundreds of years ago if it hadn't been for the scholastics and the modern university. You owe them a great debt—a debt of continued slavery. Because they pretended they were responsible for this problem, and they never took responsibility for it.

Understand, I'm not trying to destroy the American university as an institution. I think we ought to have football!

RESTORING FREEDOM

The whole idea here is to restore freedom of action, freedom of thought, freedom to believe, freedom to survive, freedom to know, freedom to be responsible, freedom to create motion, freedom to be fate and not have to have it. Freedom to win. Those are freedoms.

The funny thing is that man has be free, in order to have those things. As soon as he starts being owned, he ceases to have them.

One of the first steps is to tell a person how nice it is to be owned. "We'll take full responsibility for you."

Did you know that in the Roman Empire, the consuls and proconsuls* were often just kids—the kind you might see going to a Boy Scout Troop in this society. This is how you defeat an abundance of labor.

Learn how to operate as a Being!

OT—Operating Thetan.

Ron defines the state as "a being who is cause over thought, life, matter, energy, space and time."

Being able to operate causatively and freely as a spirit, independent of a body or the material universe, is a long-time dream of man.

Man's legends and myths are full of stories of superhuman beings of great power and ability: gods, heroes, angels.

That man could himself rise above his humanity and become strong, causative and ethical as a spiritual being has been an impossible dream.

Today, man can reach his fullest potential as a being. A tried and proven road to increased spiritual ability and freedom exists on the OT Levels.

Move across the Bridge and do your OT Levels. Get rid of counter-intention in your universe and be able to operate without a lot of considerations and barriers. Become very causative across all of the dynamics!

You can advance enroll now on your OT Levels and put the postulate there. Just contact the Advanced Scheduling Registrar at the AO.

Then just keep moving across the Bridge, complete all of the prerequisites (see page 15) and get to the AO as fast as possible for your OT Levels.

The OT Levels await you. Sign up now, and go OT!

OT I

A short, pleasurable level—the first step in learning how to operate as a being. At OT I, the being looks at the mest universe and other beings with a fresh, causative OT viewpoint.

OT II

A powerful level on which the solo auditor confronts and handles sections of the whole track. Certain sections of the track have been occluded for a long time. On OT II you can handle vast hidden areas of charge, sweeping away the destructive effects, leaving you free and causative.

OT III

The final secret of this sector of the universe is revealed, a mystery of such deadly power that no one could pass through the "Wall of Fire". But Ron's breakthrough of OT III enables anyone to pass unscathed through this zone. This is a major level and one must allow time for it.

OT VII TO END PHENOMENA

Done after OT III to boost a thetan up so he is strong enough to completely handle OT III Expanded. It involves a remarkable increase of theta intention.

OT III EXPANDED

Designed to completely handle any residual effects of the "Wall of Fire", leaving a being fully self-determined and free.

OT IV

Consists of an audited section as well as a solo audited section. On OT IV, a being is freed from those factors that have trapped him and made him less than an OT. He gains certainty of himself as an immortal being.

OT V

Refamiliarizes a thetan exterior with the physical universe. Why does the universe seem to have such power over thetans? What are the secrets of mest? On OT V, OT drills are done designed to increase a being's ability to communicate with his environment—as a thetan.

OT VI

A thrilling level, designed to get the being into action as an OT—seeing, moving and operating outside the body at will. A being can become very causative across all eight dynamics.

FULL OT VIII

Rehabilitates intention from a new, higher level. Intention is the command factor of an OT—his power to get things done.

and beyond...

After Full OT VII, you will be ready for even higher OT Levels as they are released. Ron has stated that "there are perhaps 15 levels above OT VII fully developed but existing only in unissued note form, pending more people's full attainment of OT VI and VII."

"An ethic is that which is enforced by oneself, by one's belief in his own honor and good reason, and the optimum solution along eight dynamics."

families took on the duties of office at 12, 13 and 14. Most of the famous characters you read about in Roman history—you're reading about periods of their lives from 15 to 20. That's when the body is growing. He's vital and progressive and doesn't know the word "stop". He doesn't learn that until he's about 30. By that time he's got it good!

The second that a man says "I have to have some other force than my own", he ceases to be free. An interchange of knowledge can occur, but an interchange in borrowing of force cannot.

A state or a people have no business operating on a police basis. But this is a beautiful police universe. Police, police, police, everywhere you look.

Because people are persuaded to turn over their individual force to something that they are given to understand is superior to their own ability to protect. And that can never be. Nobody will look after a man's own but himself. Nobody will look after the property of a group but itself.

But if you propose that sort of thing, you are proposing anarchy. You are proposing that you do not have a government by force, and that anybody be given license in the field of force. That, unfortunately, isn't workable either—unless one has achieved at the same time a level of ethics which permits such a force to be in existence.

Unfortunately, nobody ever had the adventurousness or the information to find out if one's ethic increased to the degree that he was free, above a certain point. No, they looked at a rabble that had always been nailed down and chained down; the hangdog, mauled, rolled-under have-nots that would suddenly spring free, crawl out of the gutters and sewers and by negative-positive reaction hit a country, tear it to pieces and throw it back down the time track in havingness a thousand or two thousand years. Like the French Revolution.

And then they say, "Look what happens when you give them freedom. That's a good reason now why we should use force."

But it was force and the suppression of force which caused that action, not the giving of freedom.

MORALS AND ETHICS

A man's freedom, then, cannot be a halfway thing. You cannot compromise or quibble with the freedom of a man.

Many people have agreed that the perfect form of government would be anarchy. An anarchy, however, would have to be built out of individuals who were capable, each one, of complete self-government—which has been an impossible condition in the past.

If each person were capable of complete self-government and capable of taking responsibility utterly for his own acts, you would have for the first time, a basis of ethics.

The other way around, you only have a moral code, which is no good. An ethical code can be depended upon. And it exists only as long as a man has enough strength not to, himself, be afraid.

Anytime he is susceptible to terror, you're going to lose your ethic. And the only time a man gets afraid is when he loses his belief in himself and his trust in himself.

Every criminal you find in an institution started on the road to crime the moment he lost his self-respect. And if you want to rehabilitate the criminal, rehabilitate his self-respect. One day he suddenly found out he couldn't trust himself any more and from that moment on, he became a criminal because it did not matter, now, what he did.

And so you have our modern society.

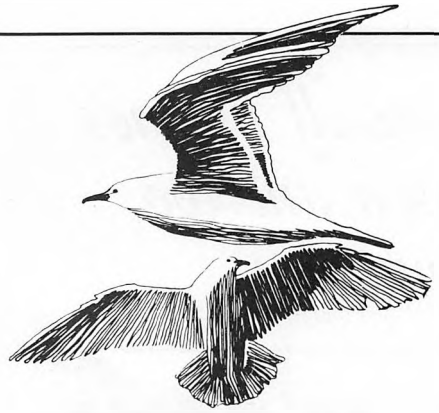

A LEVEL OF FREEDOM

What, then, is an attainable level of freedom? It would have to be a level which is so high that every man could reason and be responsible for for his own acts, and also for the acts of others.

Blame-regret, blame-regret is the course of a police state. And its spiral dwindles down very rapidly. So there is no halfway point on this scale. There's no point at which you can cut it off and say we've done a good job and reformed the whole world. You've got to go ahead and put the guy into shape so he can handle himself and his force.

You can patch up somebody and make him well. With the first book, you already start to break agreement with the MEST universe to some degree. You say "Look, it says I have engrams and things that force me to do various things. But I can run them out! As fast as bad things happen to me I can run them out."

To that extent, you are disagreeing with the mandates of the physical universe. But that extent

Know that you're at cause over your life

GO CLEAR!

"The Clear, then, is not an 'adjusted' person, driven to activity by his repressions now thoroughly encysted.* He is an unrepressed person, operating on self-determinism."

—L. Ron Hubbard
from Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health.

The Clear does not go through life being dictated to by the Reactive Mind. He or she can operate on full self-determinism.

The Reactive Mind, Ron points out, is "an obsessive strata of unknown, unseen, uninspected data which are forcing solutions, unknown and unsuspected, on the individual."

"An uncleared person," he adds, "is making himself the unknowing and unwilling effect of his own Reactive Mind."

Now you can get rid of the Reactive Mind and be free to be yourself and reach your full potential as a being.

Eliminate the Reactive Mind, and all of those things which make life dull, drab and unbearable. Go Clear!

If you have not gone Clear on earlier levels, come to the AO for the Clearing Course. You'll learn the basic anatomy of the Reactive Mind, see films of Ron's lectures and demonstrations to the first Clearing Course, and read Ron's confidential instructions for auditing Clearing Course materials.

Then you'll solo audit yourself to Clear under the expert guidance of the AO's Solo Case Supervisor.

Prerequisites: See page 15 of this issue. You also must have completed the Solo Auditor Course and Grade VI (Whole Track Release) at the AO before beginning the Clearing Course.

Contact the AO Registrar and sign up for the Clearing Course!

JOIN THE "I WANT TO GO CLEAR CLUB"

The "I Want to Go Clear Club" is an Advanced Organization club. All of its members want to go Clear and help others go Clear. Membership is free. Once you join, you will receive information, advice and assistance from the AO to help you go Clear. Write to the "I Want to Go Clear Club" Registrar.

encysted*: enclosed in or as if in a cyst, capsule or sac.

ceases at 4.0* and from there on up it requires other processes.

Homo sapiens can go to 4.0 with Dianetics: The Modern Science Mental Health and Science of Survival. But he can't go anyplace above that without having his self-determinism restored to him. He becomes well, he becomes better able to reason, but he does not become strong and ethical as he can potentially be.

An ethic is that which is enforced by oneself, by one's belief in his own honor and good reason, and the optimum solution along eight dynamics. That's an ethic.

Morals is when somebody hides a boogeyman back of a chair, tells you nothing and says you've got to do it because of "unseen gods". There's no difference between a taboo and a moral.

In the dictionaries of today, however—unlike the dictionaries of a hundred years ago —a moral is defined as an ethic and ethic is defined as a moral. They've even lost the philosophic definition of an ethic.

THE FEARS OF THE UNIVERSE

Homo sapiens is bad off. At 4.0, he's a lot better than homo sapiens has ever been, but even at 4.0 he is much, much less than a hundred-thousandth of his potential horsepower. He is at too fine and too small a strength to be able to stand up to the winds of the world, the howling and yells of all the fears of the universe.

The strength of the universe is too much for homo sapiens: too cold, or too hot, or too scarce. He can be killed too easily. As a consequence this big, blustering universe can look at him and say "You don't dare be ethical. You're afraid."

And so he is; he's afraid.

4.0*: The level of Enthusiasm on the Tone Scale: "by definition, one who has had all entheta in his current life converted to theta" (Science of Survival)

Here's typical behavior for homo sapiens: the elevator in a hotel is sticking. A girl gets on, and all the way down she's fussing and cursing terribly because this elevator is sticking. She's going to really give the management a piece of her mind. So she walks over to the desk and picks up her morning mail and says to the little tiny meek clerk: "I suppose you're fixing the elevators?" and he says "Yes." and she drops it at that. Real brave.

Well, we could ask the question: what is this girl doing needing an elevator?

This is a rough universe. You'd have to be able to handle the majority of forces in it before you could stand up to it and never be afraid. Or you would have to hold inside yourself a piece of courage that would be strained and tortured beyond all belief in an effort to be courageous enough to take this universe.

I believe the people who are alive today are by far the most courageous ones because this universe really dishes the boys in who aren't.

THE MEST UNIVERSE

Way back on the track, you've had terrific experience with mocking something up. But that is lost, because you kept putting your mockups in competition with the MEST universe and then agreeing with the MEST universe.

There's a certain feeling about something you haven't made yourself—it furnishes interest. You have to have something that somebody else has.

There is a lot of idiocy in this. You were ignorant. The early track thetan was gullible! He was in a state of capability of knowingness, but he didn't have any data. He was stupid!

Fortunately, you don't have to keep an education in terms of facsimiles, you can just park it as knowingness.

In Science of Survival, there is a description of how theta enturbulates with MEST, and then frees itself from MEST with a knowingness of what MEST is. It impinges itself too heavily upon MEST and then withdraws. And then it will impinge itself and withdraw; impinge itself and withdraw. And that cycle goes down until it knows all there is to know about MEST.

Well, we don't know all there is to know about MEST, but you don't have to know all there is to know about MEST.

You have an awful lot of information right now. If you pulled out, what a cagey character you would be. You have a knowingness about it; never discount it.

Knowingness doesn't really depend upon data. There is a basic knowingness that is you and that exists without wavelength.

A person can be very naive and way up tone scale. Then he becomes "sadder and wiser."

For the first time in this universe, really, homo sapiens can take the knowledge gained and back out. That's very valuable. He doesn't have to keep on digging in.

SURVIVIAL

You're actually worried, hour by hour and day by day about surviving. That's one of the grimmest tricks in the world. It's a typical reverse flow trick of this universe.

Above 40.0*, the idea of survival is just nonsense. How could anything immortal not survive?

And you're immortal!

The Phoenix Lectures by L. Ron Hubbard
How long has man been searching for himself? Ron reviews Eastern and Western religious history and shows how Scientology has continued and completed man's centuries-long search for the truth about the spirit. The book fully covers theta postulates and intentions, time and how to be cause over it, and a lot more.

The Creation of Human Ability by L. Ron Hubbard
"The freedom of an individual," says Ron in this book, "depends upon that individual's freedom to alter his considerations of space, energy, time and forms of life and his roles in it." How do you increase a thetan's ability and freedom? Read this book!

A History of Man by L. Ron Hubbard
The Vedas contain myths and tales of powerful gods and spirits who once existed. What is the truth about man's past? Where did we come from? How did we get where we are today? "A cold-blooded and factual account of your last sixty trillion years." (L. Ron Hubbard)

Hymn of Asia by L. Ron Hubbard
2500 years ago, Gautama Buddha gave man the hope that higher states of spiritual ability might be attainable. In this inspiring poetic message, Ron shows how this hope has come to be realized in the 20th Century.

Mission Into Time by L. Ron Hubbard
Can we remember our past lives? A Sea Org Mission is launched to verify whole track recall by visiting ancient sites. Read about one of the most unusual research voyages ever undertaken—a voyage into the realm of OT ability! Beautifully illustrated with charts and photographs.

Scientology 8-8008 by L. Ron Hubbard
The ancient Vedas talked about the universe as being "an illusion". What's this all about? What are matter, energy, space and time, and how do they relate to the thetan? How causative can a person be over these things? "The well beingness and, indeed, the continued survival of mankind,"says Ron in this book, "depend upon an exact knowledge of his own capabilities."

Scientology 8-80 by L. Ron Hubbard
An in-depth look at how a thetan deals with energy and energy flows. How does a thetan get trapped into a body? What happens to theta perceptions and how do you rehabilitate them? A full run-down on the "electronics of human thought and beingness."

THE OT LIBRARY

Stable data on OT to help you live more causatively now!

Nowadays they're relegated to children's stories and greeting cards. But in the dawn of western religion, they were the powerful and fearsome messengers of God; spiritual warriors who battled against the forces of evil. Another chapter in man's spiritual history:

Angels

Angels today are somewhat of an embarrassment to modern religions. The idea of winged human beings in white nightgowns who suddenly appear and disappear seems absurd. It belongs in the same category as children's fantasies, elves, fairies and the like.

Maybe we should blame the renaissance artists for this. Their white-robed and winged representations of angels were certainly beautiful and inspirational, but tended to cloud the issue. The man on the street knew that a winged human being was "impossible".

But an angel was never anything physical at all! It was an immortal spiritual being to whom are attributed greater than human power and ability.

Sound familiar?

Man has been looking for higher spiritual states for a long time. He had an inkling that higher beings could exist, but when he tried to name them or talk about them or picture them, he often ran into more complexity that he could cope with.

How do you paint something that is totally spiritual? How do you write about it? How do you find out about it in the first place? How do you measure its powers and abilities? These are some of the riddles and puzzles that man has faced on the subject of angels.

Where did this idea of angels come from, anyway?

GOOD AND EVIL SPIRITS

The idea that there are spirits or spiritual beings who intervene in the lives of men is a very old one. In primitive religions, the spirits are neither good nor bad; they are capable of being both benevolent and evil.

In western religions, the tendency is to identify certain spirits as good and others as evil.

In a polytheistic religion (one that worships many gods), the idea of spirits presents no problems—these just get identified as being minor gods.

But in a monotheistic religion, such as Judaism, Christianity or Islam, you need a new concept when talking about these subordinate spiritual beings, and so they were called "messengers"—mal'akh in Hebrew and angelos in Greek—angels!

The evil spirits were called demons, from the Greek daimon, which originally referred to any supernatural being or spirit.

BOUNTEOUS IMMORTALS

The idea of angels became more pronounced in Judaism after the period of the Babylonian exile (5th and 6th centuries B.C.), when contacts were made with Zoroastrianism.

Zoroastrianism was a dualistic religion which saw the universe as a conflict between good and evil forces. The supreme spirit of good was Ahura Mazda, the Wise Lord. The spirit of evil was Angra Mainyu.

Ahura Mazda had a number of attributes or aspects (such as "good mind", "holy character", "piety", etc.) which were personified as the amesha spentas, the "holy or bounteous immortals". These were angel-like entities who served Ahura Mazda. One of these, Vohu Manah ("good mind") revealed to Zoroaster the true God and his nature.

THE SONS OF GOD

After contact with Zoroastrianism, angels became more and more individual entities in Judaism, and were even named.

The first angels who appear in the Old Testament are simply referred to as Mal'akh Yahweh, "messengers of God." They are closely identified with Yahweh himself, and in fact the terms Yahweh and Right: An angel brings a message to St. Joachim, a 16th century woodcut by Dürer. One of the duties of angels was to act as "messengers of God", and in fact the word angel means messenger. Opposite page: St. Michael, leader of the heavenly host, battles a demon.

Mal'akh Yahweh are used interchangeably.

They are also referred to in Genesis as "sons of God", and the story is told, in Genesis 6, of the sons of God marrying the daughters of men.

Gradually, the angels cease being merely manifestations or extensions of God, and begin to take on their own identities and personalities.

In Psalms 89, God appears as lord of a "court of heaven", and in Job 1:6, God meets with his court of heaven to review mankind. One of the assembly is the satan or "adversary", who acts as a sort of public prosecutor and is appointed to try Job's faith.

Possibly patterned after the Zoroastrian Angra Mainyu, Satan grew into an evil archdemon. Evil actions began to be attributed not to Yahweh but to Satan. An example of this is the story of David's census. When the story is first told (in 2 Samuels 24) Yahweh puts the idea of numbering the people into David's mind, then punishes the crime with a plague. But when the story is retold in 1 Chronicles 21, it is Satan who suggests it!

So, beginning his career as a useful official in the court of heaven, Satan ends up being not only the adversary of man, but also the enemy of God! Various stories were told to account for this. One, inspired by Isaiah 14 ("How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer . . ."), was that his name as an angel had been Lucifer ("light-bearer") and he had rebelled, been defeated by the archangel Michael, and cast down to hell.

By the first century A.D., Satan had been identified with the serpent which had tempted Eve. The ferocious vision in Revelation 12 completes the picture: "Now war arose in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting against the dragon . . . And the great dragon was thrown down, that ancient serpent, who is called the Devil and Satan . . ."

THE ARCHANGELS

A group of 7 archangels eventually was agreed upon, similar to the seven amesha spentas of Zoroastrianism.

Only three, however, are named in the Old Testament: Gabriel, Michael and Raphael. In post-biblical Judaism, the other four are named: Uriel, Raguel, Sariel and Remiel (or Jeremiel).

Of the archangels, Gabriel and Michael are the best known. Gabriel was God's chief messenger and appears in Jewish, Christian and Mohammedan tradition. He is sent to explain visions to David, informs Zacharias of the birth of John the Baptist, and announces to the Virgin Mary the conception of Jesus. Mohammedans call him the spirit of truth and believe that he took Mohammed to heaven where the Koran was dictated to him.

Michael was the warrior-god, leader of the "heavenly host" or army. He appears as the champion of mankind and of the Church. He is represented in art wearing a coat of mail and helmet.

Medieval scholars of demonology, interestingly enough, also agreed to a hierarchy of seven arch demons—Lucifer, Mammon, Asmodeus, Satan, Beelzebub, Leviathan and Belphegor!

CHOIRS OF ANGELS

The magic number seven appears again in the ranks of angels. The New Testament groups angels into seven ranks. To these were added the cherubim and seraphim mentioned in the Old Testament, making a total of 9 groups, or choirs, in later Christian mystical theology. These were, in descending order, seraphim, cherubim, dominions, thrones, principalities, powers, virtues, archangels and angels.

The seraphim and cherubim were the highest ranking angels, directly concerned with God. They were his throne-bearers or throne-guardians.

We all know what cherubim look like—little roly-poly winged babies, right? Actually the original cherubim, called karibu in Mesopotamian tradition, were huge fearsome winged lions with human faces. The Persian throne-guardians were hybrid celestial winged beings, with human, animal or birdlike characteristics: winged bulls, sphynxes and griffins!

God's throne-bearers in the Old Testament are called keruvim. In Ezekial 1:6 and 10 there is a very vivid description of cherubim, as having 4 wings and 4 faces: a man, a lion, an ox and an eagle!

The word seraphim comes from the verb "to burn". Seraphim were pictured as red figures (symbolizing fire) with three sets of wings.

Just below the seraphim and cherubim were the thrones, who presided over divine judgment and ordinances.

Below this were the dominions, virtues and powers, who presided over the fundamental government of the universe and the world.

Then came the principalities, the high princes of noble spirits, guardians of nations and cities.

Below that were the archangels, the great messengers of God. And below that, the ordinary angels, the innumerable spiritual beings who were involved in the intimate affairs of individuals. These were countless—"far beyond all material multitude" said Thomas Aquinas. Only these lower orders, the archangels and angels, appeared to man.

GUARDIAN ANGELS

Angels had many duties. In addition to being messengers of God, revealing truths to man and announcing great events, such as divine births, angels also guarded and protected cities, nations and individual men.

As a part of the heavenly "host", or army, they fought an unceasing battle against evil. They protected man from demons and helped him to attain grace and salvation. Angels conducted souls to heaven where the archangel Michael weighed and judged them.

Babylonian guardian spirits were hybrid winged beings, often part human and part animal. These were the forerunners of the later cherubim and seraphim.

Angels were the guardians of nations, and it was said that when God sat in judgement of the world, each angel pleaded his country's cause.

Many religions believe that each person has his own guardian angel. In Manichaeism, a 3rd century Persian religion (see Advance! 66), the founder, Mani, had an angel "twin" which accompanied him, protected and inspired him.

In Islam, each person is said to have two spirits guarding him by day and another two by night, protecting him from harm and recording all of his actions. At sunrise and sunset, a man was particularly vulnerable, as that was when his spirits changed the guard!

Medieval Catholicism held the belief that each Christian had a guardian angel, based on the biblical quote (Matthew 18:10) where Jesus says not to despise children "for I tell you that in heaven their angels always behold the face of my Father". The early Christian Shepherd of Hermas says that each man is accompanied both by an angel who inspires his good actions and an evil spirit who inspires his bad ones.

ANGELS ON THE HEAD OF A PIN

Angelology reached its height in the Middle Ages, and medieval Christian scholars speculated and theorized endlessly about the exact nature and abilities of angels. Probably the most famous argument was one concerning how many angels could fit on the head of a pin!

Scholars speculated on such things as the size of angels, what food they ate, the hours at which they worshipped God, and what language they spoke!

But beneath all of this rather imaginative speculation, some very interesting questions were being raised and discussed, on the nature of spiritual beings.

An angel was conceived to be a spiritual being without a body, operating independently of the physical universe but impinging on it. What would be the abilities of such a being? How would it move? How would it communicate? What powers and knowledge would it have?

The most notable work done in this area was that by St. Thomas Aquinas (see Advance! 64). In his massive work, Summa theologiae he devotes 15 chapters to a study of angels.

St. Thomas concluded that angels were pure intellect, existing independent of the material universe. He noted that based on biblical references, angels seemed to have the ability to assume bodies in order to communicate to men.

He speculated on whether an angel could be located in space, and concluded that an angel was located only "by application of the angelic power" to a particular place. He concluded that an angel could "move" from one place to another without passing through the intervening space. Angelic movements would be instantaneous, he theorized, since an angel would not be bound by time.

He believed that such angels would not talk using the organs of their assumed bodies, but would communicate mind to mind. And they would perceive without going through the organs of their assumed bodies!

We can see that this was not merely a study of angels, but was study and speculation into the powers and abilities of spiritual beings. It was not only a study of angelology, but also a study of psychology.

Ron comments, in his famous lecture "The Road to Truth", that "Psychology (psyche—spirit, logos—study of) is a study which was entirely and completely a religious study up to 1879. It was not originally a product of the physical sciences. Psychology in general is totally a product of man's religions of yesteryear and the only place it was taught originally was in seminaries. In 1515, 'faculty psychology' was taught in religious universities. Saint Thomas Aquinas was writing textbooks on the subject."

It is interesting that St. Thomas reasoned that such spiritual beings would be naturally inclined to good.

SPIRITUAL ABILITY

Unfortunately, any serious study of the spirit dead-ended with 19th century materialism, which denies that there is such a thing. The study of psychology became a study of the brain, and was based on experiments in the conditioning and training of animals.

Man was a stimulus-response animal, and any idea of spiritual beings was put into the category of myth and fairy stories.

Hence, the modern angel. Stripped of any spiritual power or relevance, the angel has become an empty symbol, a decorative motif for Christmas cards.

Certainly the study of angels generated a lot of confusion, complexity, and even silliness. But beneath all that, we see man trying to cope with the riddles and mysteries of spiritual ability. They sensed that it might be possible for a spiritual being to exist independent of a body or the material universe. They wondered what such a being would be able to do.

Perhaps the ancient stories of angels were the dim rememberances of a time of true spiritual freedom and ability, lost in the mists of time.

The idea of a dwindling spiral of awareness was implicit in the hierarchy of the angels. The angels were ranked downwards, said St. Thomas, "according to the growing darkening of intellectual illumination."

Man's spiritual state has been far from angelic, and he has had no way to gradiently increase his own spiritual freedom and ability—until Scientology.

THE ROAD TO FREEDOM

Today, thanks to the research and breakthroughs of L. Ron Hubbard, the true nature and potentials of the thetan have been revealed. In his books and lectures (such as the Philadelphia Doctorate Course Lectures), Ron has provided spiritual knowledge which actually opens the road to betterment for man.

And in the Grade Chart and the OT Levels, a way is provided for anyone to gradiently increase his or her spiritual ability and freedom.

OTs! How do you develop your OT abilities and learn to use them more in life?

It's been called the "OT Apprenticeship"—a brilliant new course from Ron that teaches OTs how to fully realize their potentials and abilities as an OT.

It's the Doctorate Series Course for OTs.

Based on Ron's brilliant 1952 lectures on OT ability—the Philadelphia Doctorate Course Lectures—this course trains a pre-OT on being OT and refamiliarizes him with his abilities as an OT.

The data on these tapes is breathtaking enough (see next page for a description). Now imagine fully duplicating that data with no misunderstoods and then drilling it as an OT with a series of specially designed drills!

What better way to develop your natural abilities as a thetan? On this course, you gain knowledge and understanding of the state of OT and what being OT is all about. Then you get into action and drill that knowledge so you can use it.

Just listen to some of the wins OTs have had on this course:

"I now have the tools to operate—really operate—as an OT. I wish everyone could feel as alive, hopeful and powerful as I do now." —M.L.

"It is as if Ron has handed each of us a step-by-step construction set of theta-mest. The result, for me, is real knowingness, certainty and actual—positive—case gain on a level I had always wished for but never before quite attainded. This course is vital in all senses of the word for OTs."
—J.O.

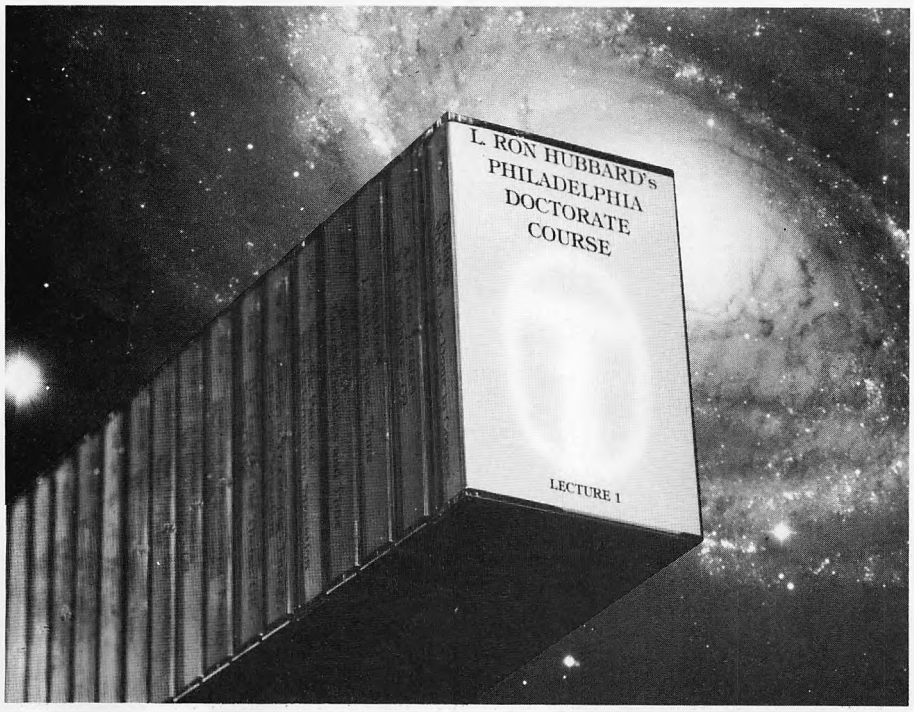

"This course gives the OT the necessary stable data with which to more safely operate in this universe and any other . . . With this course, I am free, in the fullest sense of the word, to accomplish my goals and realize my dreams for myself and for man."
—T.B.

If you've completed OT III and the Student Hat, start on this course now! Develop your OT abilities just as these and many other OTs have done. The course takes three to four weeks full time.

DOCTORATE SERIES COURSE FOR OTS

The legendary Philadelphia Doctorate Course Lectures are now on cassettes!

Seventy-six cassette lectures by L. Ron Hubbard about OT abilities!

The Philadelphia Doctorate Course Lectures have become almost legendary in the world of Scientology. Formerly available only on reel-to-reel tapes, these lectures had been heard in their entirety by few Scientologists.

Even so, word-of-mouth has made this the most famous set of lectures ever given by Ron.

Why?

Because it is the most comprehensive body of data available anywhere on the exact nature and extent of OT ABILITIES.

In 1952, L. Ron Hubbard was researching into the upper limits of theta ability. The subject of Scientology," Ron later said, "is to some degree developed in reverse order. The task was to undercut the current level of Man and this was the general target. Therefore one finds the higher levels publicly spoken of most frequently in the earliest books and tapes (between '51 and '55)".

In late 1952, L. Ron Hubbard gave seventy-six dynamic lectures about the nature and capabilities of OTs. The data is as vital and relevant today as it was nearly three decades ago. It is so important, in fact, that a special course for OT IIIs and above has been released, based on these lectures.

Included in the lectures are such things as universes, postulates, operating bodies, handling and using space, energy, flows, the history of thetans including the "races" of thetans, and much, much more.

This data has never been published anywhere, except for the few tantalizing excerpts which have appeared as Advance! Magazine articles.

Now these lectures are being released on cassettes, to put them within the reach of every Scientologist!

Get your own set. Find out what OT abilities are all about, in depth and in detail. Discover how an OT deals with the universe around him, how he operates as an OT and uses his abilities to be more causative across all of the dynamics.

Discover how you can be more OT in your daily life, by knowing and using this breathtaking data. Amazingly enough, the lectures are not confidential and can be enjoyed by anyone, OT or not.

The lectures are currently being put onto cassette by a special production team. Over half are available now and the rest will be completed as soon as possible.

Reserve your set now by ordering it from the AO Bookstore. Take immediate delivery on the available cassettes and the rest will be shipped to you as soon as completed.

See the insert to this magazine for price, or contact the AO Bookstore.

Angels

The road is open to OT.

In his article "OT Defined" (Advance! 59), Ron says:

". . . the idea that there is a spirit inhabiting the body is the oldest traditional concept of man, not the newest. The johnny-come-lately concept is 'all men are rats.'

"So we have the word thetan, which means the being. The being or life unit is the individual who inhabits the 'common clay' of the body. In other words, he gets in a body and moves it around.

"To that degree, anybody who can move a body is really operating as a thetan, but that isn't what we mean.

"We mean somebody who can operate without the body—somebody who can not only operate bodies but who can operate without a body!

"This leads us to our extremely specialized definition of Operating Thetan, which is a being who is cause over thought, life, matter, energy, space and time.

"By 'cause', we mean, as in the communication formula of cause-distance-effect, a source of action or impulse."

A fully causative, able being requires no guardian, but can be fully ethical on his own determinism and can make things go right in his life and environment.

Man has long looked towards the angels as models of spiritual ability and freedom. Now at last, man can realize his own potential as a being on the Advanced Courses.

Prerequisites for Solo Auditor Course and Advanced Course Levels

from HCO Bulletin of 20 December 1980

by L. Ron Hubbard

The following are the new prerequisites as they appear on the 1980 Grade Chart for persons going onto the Solo Auditor Course, preparatory to doing the Advanced Course Levels.

☐ 1. Basic Study Manual or Student Hat.

☐ 2. The Purification Rundown.

☐ 3. The Survival Rundown (unless full Objectives have been run, each to its End Phenomena).

☐ 4. Any TRs Course, such as Co-Audit TRs on the Survival Rundown, or the How to Achieve Effective Communication Course (the new HAS Course), or a Professional TRs Course.

☐ 5. New Era Dianetics Drug Rundown (or full Drug Rundown received prior to the release of New Era Dianetics). or
Scientology Drug Rundown (for persons who have attained Clear before the Clearing Course and before completing a Dianetic Drug Rundown).

☐ 6. Dianetics fully run to Dianetic Case Completion (on any non-Clear).

☐ 7. ARC SW and Grades O-IV fully run to End Phenomena, with the Ability Gained for each Grade (run Triple or Quad) with good Success Stories. All Expanded Grades Processes are run, if necessary, to achieve this.

☐ 8. If Clear has been attained before doing the Clearing Course: A full verification of the State of Clear done on the Dianetic Clear Special Intensive, with each step done and attested to by the C/S.

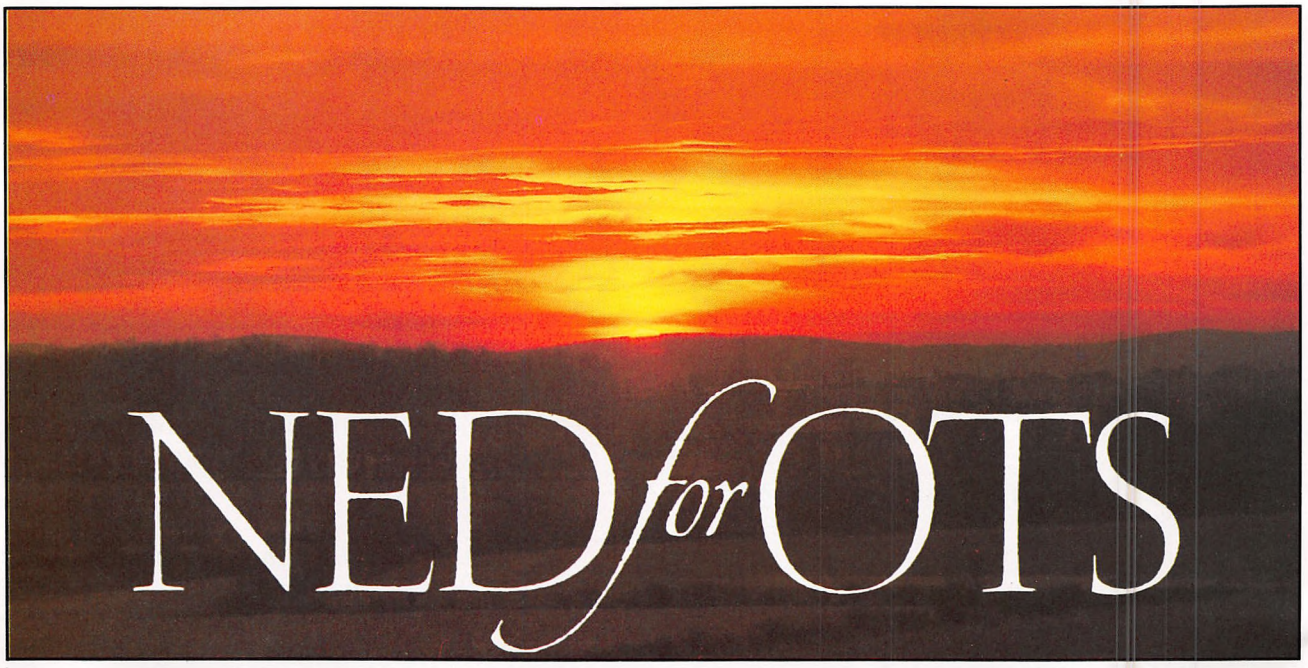

☐ 9. If Clear has not yet been attained: Power Processing (Grades V and VA) fully run to End Phenomena, before Advanced Courses are begun. To begin the Solo Auditor Course, the pc, if not complete on Power and VA, must be on Power or Power Set-Ups. A pc on Grade VI Set-Ups may also begin the Solo Auditor Course.
("Set-Ups" = A series of auditing actions given to ensure the pc is "set up" to receive a major action.) Solo Set-Ups can be done at a Saint Hill or an Advanced Org.

Advances made in the technology at both the beginning of the Bridge and in upper levels have resulted in these revised mandatory prerequisites. These steps fully and honestly done prepare the individual more fully than ever before for solo auditing successfully on his OT Courses.

SPOTLIGHT ON

What is NED for OTs?

In 1978, Ron announced: "An attempt to run NED (New Era Dianetics) on an OT resulted in a phenomenon which caught my attention, and on further investigation bought to light the fact that you cannot run NED, or any Dianetics for that matter, on a Clear (Dianetic or Scientology Clear) or above.

"Research into this paid off handsomely with a fantastic breakthrough for Clears and OTs. I have now developed an entirely new rundown called 'NED for OTS'. This deals with living lightning, the very stuff of life itself. Run exactly correctly by the book, it produces remarkable results in the OT band.

"While much of it is confidential I can tell you that the first step of 'NED for OTs' is designed to raise perceptions, especially theta perception, and as for the rest of the rundown. . . surprise, surprise, surprise!"

NED for OTs is a special, confidential rundown for OT IIIs and above designed to handle and remove an OT's last barriers to being totally cause over life.

At a recent briefing at Flag, the Senior C/S International had this to say about NED for OTs:

"When NED for OTs was originally released it was called the second wall of fire. There is a reason for that.

"Any effort made by an individual to become OT or to increase his OT powers results in a restimulation or reenactment of certain factors set up long long ago and which we all carry around with us to a greater or lesser degree.

"Ron found a way to bypass the factors that prevent a person from discovering and handling these things. That was a tremendous discovery in itself because now it was possible for people to move on up and to handle the major barriers towards the full attainment of OT.

"One of the reasons why the NED for OTs Rundown is long is because it is the equivalent of several major OT Levels. It is not a single level. Ron clarified this some time last year and he found out that what we were calling 'rest points' were actually points of major case change and the attainment of the equivalent of an OT Level."

What is Solo NED for OTs?

Solo NED for OTs is a Flag-only service. Ron made a discovery that after a person has been audited successfully on NED for OTs, and reached a stability on earlier steps, it is possible for the person to then solo audit on NED for OTs.

A pre-OT must be complete on NED for OTs or well advanced on the NED for OTs program to be eligible for Solo NOTs. The point that a pre-OT may go on to solo NOTs is adjudicated by the C/S based on confidential requirements. At that point the pre-OT may go to Flag for the Hubbard Solo NOTs Auditor Course and to solo audit NOTs.

OTs talk about their wins on NOTs:

Advance! talked to some OTs who have had NED for OTs auditing or are receiving it currently. Here are their comments and wins:

As a result of NED for OTs, I'm able to have people. I'm able to have more affinity and more enjoyment of people.

And as far as beingness, I am able to be myself. It's interesting what that means. I think it means approaching life situations in a way that is comfortable for you to approach them. In other words, having confidence that what you know and the approach that you take is workable for you, and not having to handle it the way you feel somebody else would handle it or would want you to handle it.

Trey Lotz: "I think any being wants to handle what NED for OTs handles."

If you're not being yourself, the things you're going to do are not going to be workable for you or give you the havingnesses you want out of life.

NED for OTs really, for me, hits the area of beingness. And that is so important because it's basic on be, do and have. You're going to get somebody whose activities are in alignment 24 hours a day, so you are going to get some power generated. People on NED for OTs have talked about this happening.

I think any being wants to handle what NED for OTs handles!

Trey Lotz
Field Auditor

NED for OTs has made those things I do with a body much easier, and has made possible those things I do without one.

NED for OTs has had the effect of widening, strengthening and accelerating the Bridge for all Scientologists. People know that total freedom can be achieved, because they see it being achieved, and that is operating strongly in the theta universe to pull people out of the weeds and accelerate the progress of everyone.

The service at the AO has been expert and professional. The speed of delivery, the pages, the C/Sing have been just wonderful; the best I've ever experienced!

Al Seidel

NED for OTs has increased my havingness, my awareness, my stability and my ability to do anything I want to do.

NED for OTs is so powerful that the effect it's creating is handling the whole planet, blowing away bank and aberration.

There is only one pure, true investment that we could take advantage of and that is Scientology. The first investment is that you take care of yourself, and if you invest in Scientology, you've got that totally under control.

Richard Stewart: "The effect it's creating is handling the whole planet."

I can prepare a person for inflation or depression or devaluation. That's nice. But in Scientology you can prepare them for the next lifetime, and that's something you can't do in any mest game. So the most important thing that I recommend for my clients is Scientology.

NED for OTs is the most incredible thing, the most powerful thing I have ever done in my life. The auditors here at the AO have been doing a phenomenal job, and I'm just totally pleased!

Richard Stewart
Investment Advisor

I just really feel that I'm winning. I had a letter from my partner and she said she felt the power flows to her since I've been on NED for OTs. And I can see things really beginning to go right! It's super! There is nothing better! I'm just excited about it and anticipate so much more when I'm a completion I can't even begin to believe what could happen!

This has been such a super experience! It's just beautiful the way it's set up here at the AO. We get fantastic treatment. I've got the best auditor in the world. I'm sure that others will tell you the same thing but I know mine is the best! I love it!

Edith Johnson
Freelance Writer

The list of my wins could go on for days!

Edith Johnson: "There is nothing better!"

I find that my ability to comm with another thetan and have that person walk away feeling better has increased.

My second dynamic has gotten completely ironed out. Of course, my wife is getting NED for OTs too!

My business, for the first time, has been able to function without me. I have been able to create the effect of my business continuing successfully from a distance.

When I first got into Scientology, I had a lot of hidden standards as to what I thought a Clear or OT should be able to do. I am now realizing they are all conceivable and are occurring right now.

I find that the things that I'm interested in have expanded. There are more areas I can be genuinely interested in; more areas that I can apply myself in and be effective than I thought.

The people in the AO's NED for OTs section probably have the best concept of service that I've ever run into in any organization. The speed of particle flow and willingness to communicate are exceptional.

Carl Mycoff

NED for OTs really rehabilitates one's integrity. It handles all the self-invalidation, the invalidation, the evaluations, the wrong indications. It handles your uncertainty as a being. It rehabilitates your ability to operate as an OT.

When I first came here to get NED for OTs, my attention was thoroughly and completely on my first dynamic. Now my attention is totally off that and on to the fourth. NED for OTs makes it very real that the planet is on its way to an OT civilization.

I can see why people are inhibited from operating with the potential they have as beings. I don't know how anyone can survive without getting this rundown. I don't know how I even made it! Survival to me was just a mental image picture to me before I got NED for OTs: a dream, a hope.

I have never been granted so much beingness in my life as I have by Ron in doing NED for OTs. He just totally granted me beingness as an OT. This rundown deals with nothing but the total 100% undiluted truth. It is "living lightning" to say the least!

If you had to pay a million dollars for an hour of NED for OTs, you'd be getting a very good "buy"!

Kirk Anderson
Staff, Salt Lake City Mission

Art is a very theta area. It is an area where I must really operate as a thetan.

I run an advertising agency that does much of its work in the entertainment industry. We do advertising campaigns for movies like "Being There", "Dressed to Kill", "The Octagon", "Meteor", "Oh, God", and others.

Since doing my OT levels through III and my NOTs, I have gained and heightened many abilities that help me greatly in my profession.

Persistence, perception of the clients needs and wants, creativity, operating in a complex situation, in each area my abilities have been enhanced by auditing. And as a result of my increased capacity and the LRH data, I have picked up along the way, I have substantially changed the success level of my company, turned it around and headed it out the top.

These are the kind of meat and potato wins that although not always spectacular, are the real basis of changed conditions.

LRH has greatly helped me in creating the kinds of effects I want. Thank you, Ron.

SPECIAL NOTE

"The Happiness Rundown can be audited on NOTs pre-OTs.

"The Happiness Rundown has been piloted on NOTs pre-OTs at varying stages on the NOTs Rundown. Not only is there no liability to running the HRD on NOTs pre-OTs, there are also distinct advantages. NOTs does not directly address the subject of morals or ethics, whereas the HRD does."

Join the campaign for more honesty and better ethics!

Ron's new booklet, "The Way to Happiness" is the first non-religious moral code. It is based on common sense.

In Ron's Journal 32, Ron said, "Reading the papers and wandering around in the society, it was pretty obvious that honesty and truth were not being held up to the standards they once had. People and even little kids in schools have gotten the idea that high moral standards are a thing of the past.

"Man has in his hands today a lot of violent weapons. He doesn't have the moral standards to go with them.

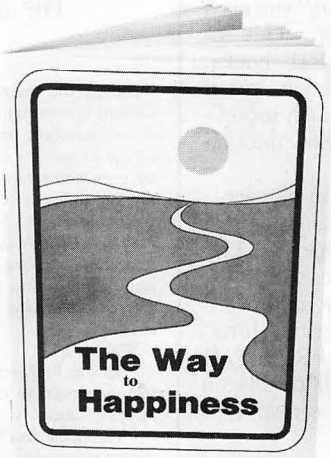

"Looking around, it seemed to me that any troubles or upsets you may be having are coming from the fact that the government and a lot of the public and the media were pretty immoral. The truth just isn't in them.

"So I wondered if we could do anything about this. And I found something astonishing: apparently there has never been a moral code based on common sense. In the past, philosophers did not have any basic principle to use to really work one out. We did. So I put together a booklet on how to increase one's survival potential . . .

"It isn't a church publication. It is not religious. It is called 'The Way to Happiness'. It can be handed out by the orgs, of course, but it is really designed to be handed around by the cops and the banks—and they'll do it to help themselves."

Just consider how much saner your environment could be if the people around you were more honest, more ethical.

Certainly you'd like to see some real change and improvement in public morality, but you may not have a lot of time to devote to such a campaign. Well, you don't need a lot of time. Just get copies of this booklet and get them handed around—it's designed to start a hand-to-hand, grassroots movement towards honesty and morality!

Order a dozen or two dozen copies right away, and get them handed out to your family, friends and associates. They'll want more copies for their friends!

Advanced Courses and the Class VIII Course – A winning combination!

Ron has said that 50%of a person's gains come from training. At the Advanced Org, it is as true as at lower levels.

The Class VIII Course is the perfect course for someone on the OT Levels. One OT says, "For me, the combination is perfect, as the confidential OT III material on the Class VIII Course has contributed a great deal to my handling and wins on OT III Expanded!"

Another OT says, "There are so many spiritual phenomena that an OT needs to know about in order to be cause of them . . . Ron certainly points out to us some incredible phenomena on the Class VIII Course!"

Class VIII is a Standard Tech course, and Class VIIIs all over the world pride themselves in keeping tech standard.

The purpose of the Class VIII Course is to train an auditor up to be able to deliver 100% Standard Tech and turn him into a zealot in pushing in Standard Tech in the field.

There are no case restrictions on becoming a Class VIII. The AO provides two Class VIII Courses: a non-confidential course for those who are not yet OT III, and the incredible confidential Class VIII Course for OT IIIs and above.

If you are Class VI, enroll now on the Class VIII Course. Become a confident, unshakeable expert in Standard Tech! Contact the AO Registrar. Prerequisites: Method One Word Clearing, Student Hat, Class VI, NED Course, TRs Course and, for the Confidential Class VIII Course, OT III. Having the correct prepared lists handy while auditing is important. Yet too often an auditor finds himself searching through a sheaf of papers, looking for the correct list at a critical point of the session. Or, even worse, having to take a session break while running to find a copy of the list–or xerox one!

Now there's a new innovation for auditors–the Prepared Lists Master Package. Brainstormed by Ron himself during recent tech film scriptwriting, manufactured and assembled by Pubs, the Prepared Lists Master Package is now ready for all auditors!

What is it?

• All the Prepared Lists an auditor needs (and there are over 80 of them!) in one neat, indexed carrying case!

• The case is made out of the same durable, high-impact material as the Mark VI E-Meter cases–and comes in the same range of colors!

• Included in the kit is a vinyl ring binder containing complete LRH data on the importance and use of Prepared Lists, as well as a complete index.

• There is also a portable vinyl mini-file included in the case for the auditor who has to travel light. This mini-file has 13 index dividers and is used for carrying the most needed lists to session.

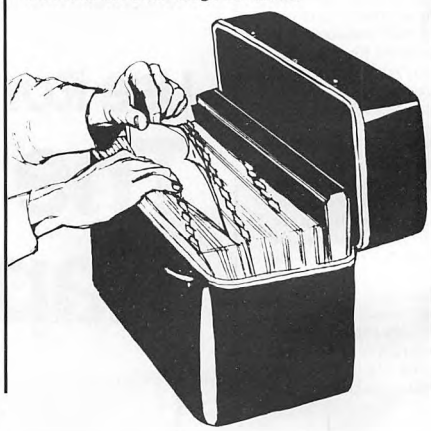

• A unique re-order system allows you to re-order any lists you need easily from Pubs–and at a special low rate.

The Prepared Lists Master Package is a vital tool that every auditor needs. It gives you the source references you need right at your fingertips in session. That way you can refer to source data immediately and know exactly what to do in session!

Travel confidently to OT with the computer-accurate MARK VI

The only meter accurate enough for upper level OT and NED for OTs auditing

Why are NED for OTs auditors and NED for OTs Solo auditors required to have the Mark VI?

It's the only meter accurate enough, sensitive enough to read correctly on the upper OT Levels, especially on solo cans.

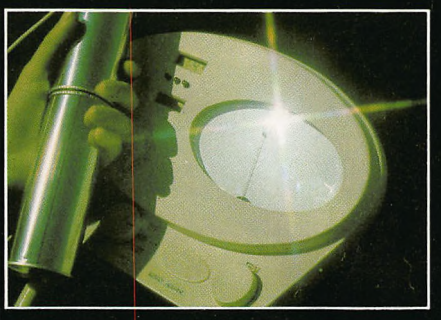

With a Mark V, especially on a one-hand electrode, you reach a point where the meter F/Ns and you can't get reads on it. Needed was a far more sensitive E-Meter for the upper OT Levels, and that's why Ron developed the Mark VI–the OT Meter!

Even on a one-hand electrode, the VI reads far more deeply on the bank than the V does with two cans.

Ron's intention for a computer-accurate guide for OTs is realized with the Mark VI breakthrough.

Here are just a few of the reasons why you should own and use a Mark VI:

- The Mark VI's highly sensitive E-Meter movement (the part of the meter to which the needle is attached and which is responsible for the correctness and accuracy of the reads) gives you a precise, accurate and instant responsiveness vital to upper level auditing.
- The Mark VI is made for ease of operation, with recessed, easy-to-operate Tone Arm and Sensitivity, digital Tone Arm Counter and digital clock, and a flip-out support leg at the back for fast, easy set-up.
- For ease of carrying, each Mark VI comes in its own lockable carrying case containing meter, cans, leads and charging cord–each item set into a molded foam well for maximum protection.
- The Mark VI even has a brilliant new engineering addition that will ensure you never have battery charging problems–you can charge the meter as you audit.

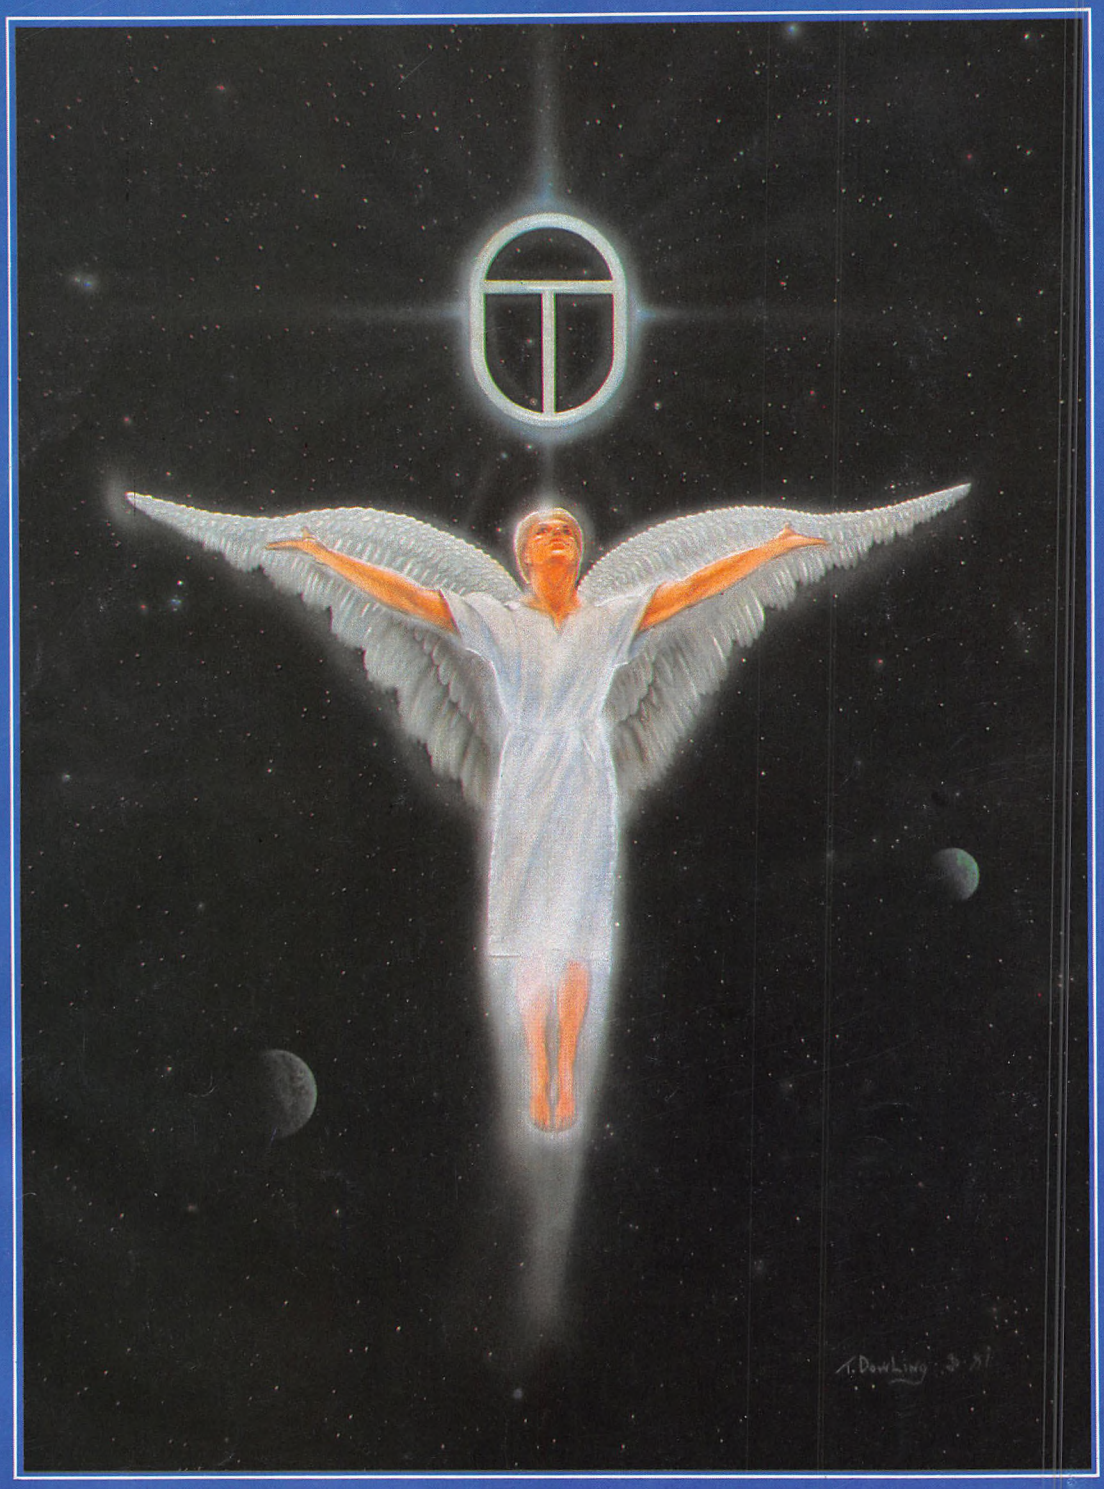

Don't be without the Mark VI, especially for your OT Levels. Apply for ownership now!

NOTE: The E-Meter is a religious artifact used in Church confessionals, and may only be purchased or owned by ministers or ministers-in-training. Apply for ownership to the AO Bookstore and you will be sent a purchase contract right away.
