WHAT IS A SCIENTOLOGIST

by L. Ron Hubbard

What is a Scientologist?

I would say he was somebody who brought light and humanity to Man and his sciences, because Man neglected to bring humanity in when he brought in Science. There is nothing at all wrong with physics, chemistry, mathematics, electronics or anything else, until some little slaphappy guy who doesn't even know he has a next door neighbor decides that the machine is far more important than men.

A Scientologist is a troubleshooter. People get into trouble they can't get out of. Life is going along, doing all right and suddenly the gates sort of drop across the time track and they just can't get out of that much trouble. Nobody in the past could get a person out of that much trouble. Here's a fellow, he's going along all right, the baby is born, then his wife all of a sudden has dizzy notions that she ought to kill the child. He's in too much trouble. His life for the next thirty or fifty years is going to be a burden to him.

A Scientologist can very well do something about that. But that isn't all. What about the fellow who just thought it was wonderful to go around and have big adventures and all of a sudden found himself falling into the traps of criminality? Nobody would let him have any adventure and he found out he couldn't have any adventure and he finally sunk down to the level of being a criminal.

What right does this society have to keep men in cages? I'll tell you what right it has – none. A Scientologist can do something about that, very definitely.

He's a troubleshooter for the individual, for children, the family and the political and economic group. He knows what life is about. He knows whether it's on the rails or off the rails. He knows whether a corporation is failing or not failing simply by estimating its level on a tone scale. How simple. What is the state of internal communications of the corporation? Just look at that. "What's the state of your inter office communications around here, boss? What inter office communications, you say? Well, I'll give this company about six months, that's about it. Here will be a lot of guys out of work suddenly." Here is management not taking its responsibility like it should. That's the economic group.

What about a political group? Well, there isn't too much you can do about political groups because they come and they go. But one thing about the world today which is intensely interesting is that the two parasitic groups of the world are at war one with the other. One of them is Communism and the other one is Capitalism. Communism is a military aristocracy which depends upon the worker, and Capitalism is a money aristocracy which depends upon the worker. Who cares about either one?

The Scientologist can remedy and rectify conditions unfavorable to the survival of desirable life forms. He has to make up his mind what a desirable life form is. He always has things he is siding with. Right now you are siding with Man, therefore flies aren't desirable. If you have mosquitoes all over the place, it would be a pretty good project to go out some Sunday with some kerosene cans and throw some kerosene on those ponds. The mosquito population would suddenly take a nosedive. That's well within your purview because it's part of the contest of Man and life against the environment of the MEST universe. Some forms of life have taken it into their minds that they must be the only thing that eats, and it's not going to let anything else eat. anywhere. That's bad. What's bad and what's good? Well, that happens to be bad.

A Scientologist is a counsellor for problems of culture. Culture consists of the productivity, the art forms. Here is where you would enter that immediately. You might know of a Broadway stage starlet who was doing fair, just fair. A little too self-conscious. You've got to have enough brass to go back of the scenes and pull her up the tone scale and make an actress out of her. You're helping culture when you're doing that.

Another thing a Scientologist could be is a counsellor for those responsible for the conduct and planning of political and economic groups. There are an awful lot of fellows around who carry a terrific weight on their backs. They just don't think there is anything at all that could possibly help them out. Your first interview with them would be, "Well, no, they don't want any of that – what is it, soap?" If they really knew you could help them out, you would be right in there. These guys need help. Somebody said one time, "the world is carried on the backs of a few desperate men." Very probably true. If you find any of these desperate men, why, just give them a little more back.

A Scientologist would be a teacher of doctrines useful in the tasks of survival. Things like concepts of the eight dynamics, the basic drives of existence.

I had a fellow tell me one time, "You know, you have no idea of the impact of that first article. I was in bed. I'd been sick for a long time. I read the first article and I got out of bed. I said to hell with being sick." He didn't get any processing. He just suddenly integrated life, and there he had something. He understood it better. He got well. The doctrines all by themselves have a potency which you shouldn't neglect. Somebody comes in, sits down, you process them for a little while and they go away. They think they know what Scientology is. No, they don't know what it is. It is a codification of an understanding of existence which is assimilable by Man.

A Scientologist would be a social catalyst dedicated tothe mission of raising the standards of happiness of Man and bringing him to recognize his brotherhood with the universe.

A Scientologist would be a leader in Man's conquest of his environment.

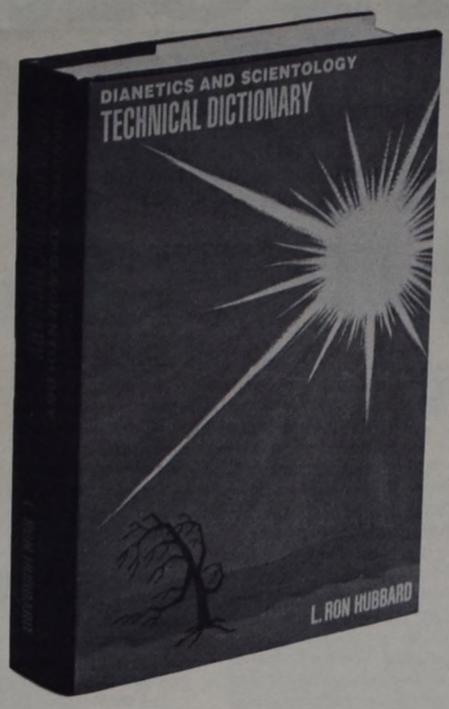

That's about the summation I would care to make of it. That is a lot of things. It is very very easy to be or do many of those things. Let's look at the eight dynamics and we find out that as soon as one is much more willing to be the first dynamic, he gets interested in kids, he gets interested in groups, and so on.

And the truth of the matter is that this universe is a tremendously interesting place.

In these days when crime is tearing countries apart, it is the highly trained Scientologist who is restoring true individual self-respect and respect for others. In a world where people have ceased to wholly trust each other, it is the highly trained Scientologist who is building a sane environment where real trust is again possible.

The ASHO Day Organization trains Scientologists who devote themselves to full time study so that they too can rapidly begin to help.

A BETTER WORLD through full use of Scientology data

Office Manager: THOUGHTFUL OF OTHERS

Brandie Brandt took her college degree in government because she wanted to help people. But after being active in campaigns and serving on a San Francisco civic leaders committee to revise the city charter, she despaired at the lack of ethics in politics.

Turning to study architecture, she began working part-time for an architect firm.

Then she discovered Scientology. Using Scientology data, she became office manager in only 6 months at nearly double pay. She was successful at completing projects hanging up the office for weeks. Her ability to get people into better communication won her the respect of her fellows. Brandie was chosen to represent the firm at an important national convention.

In 1974 she began Scientology training full time and within a month will be graduating from the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course at ASHO.

After her internship she plans to audit in the San Francisco area and continue applying Scientology data to Administration.

"In a way I could help people by creating more beautiful buildings, which is fun," she explains, "but a lot of people are not up to recognizing that as help. With auditing you can help anyone."

Briefing Course student Brandie Brandt stays in good physical condition by bicycling to course every day!

Teacher: BETTER EDUCATION FOR A SANE WORLD

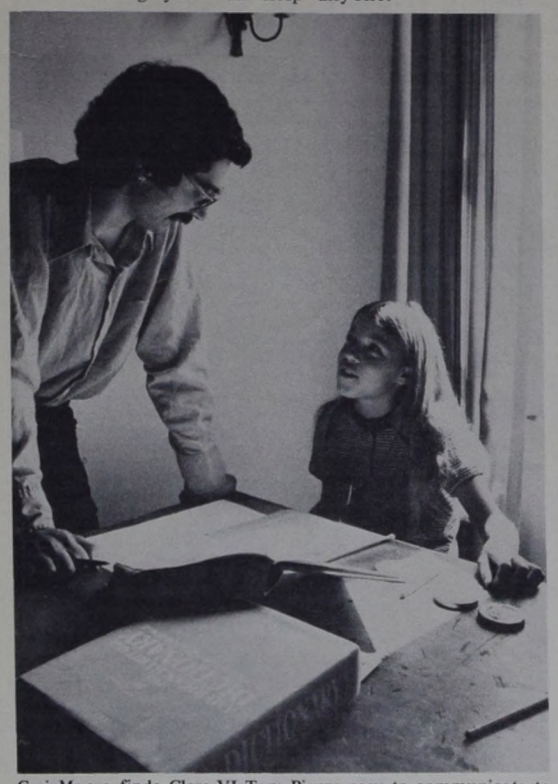

TOM PIAZZA, math teacher at Putnam Valley New York public school, is returning to teach after spending his sabbatical on the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course at ASHO.

When he became a Scientologist in 1970, he began using the study data developed by L. Ron Hubbard. Teaching through understanding and application, he made learning more fun for the students. Yet at the end of the year, they still did phenomenally well on the State Regency Exams. Half the class scored 100%, and the other half scored in the high 90s!

The next year he taught remedial classes. Students said their parents couldn't believe how well they were doing. Most jumped two or three years in ability.

"I want students to be able to apply math to their lives," Tom says, "and to be happy in a saner world." Now that he is a Class VI Auditor, he will be auditing adults after school hours to help put that saner world there.

Many teachers have been very impressed with his results. This coming year, now with a full grounding in the data, he plans to encourage other teachers throughout the school toward better methods.

Cari Moore finds Class VI Tom Piazza easy to communicate to about Math!

More trust in the World

CHEROKEE CHIEF HONORS L. RON HUBBARD

The principle Chief of the Cherokee Nation, William Keeler (TSU LA WESTA NEHI – The Man Who Never Sits Down, or The Worker) has given L. Ron Hubbard the title of Ambassador of Goodwill for the Cherokee Nation.

Keeler, former Chairman of Phillips Petroleum Co., gave this title to Hubbard for the remarkably effective methods Hubbard has developed in helping people to regain trust in themselves and one another.

In accepting the honor, Ron replied "I am deeply honored to accept this appointment as Ambassador of Goodwill for the great Cherokee Nation. I will represent you proudly. We shall work together towards world peace and improved relations amongst Mankind. I salute you proudly and request that you relay my highest regards to all members of my new nation. With great respect and love. Ron." This was cabled from the Apollo, the research yacht on which Hubbard lives and works with his family.

William Keeler is now reading books on Scientology and Dianetics to become more able to use Scientology data himself.
