Technology and Application

by L. Ron Hubbard

Technical advance is composed of application and the technology.

Technology that is not or cannot be applied is worthless. You can have the most marvelous ideas in the world. You can have all sorts of Buddhisms and Krishnamurtisms and so forth. You can have all sorts of technology.

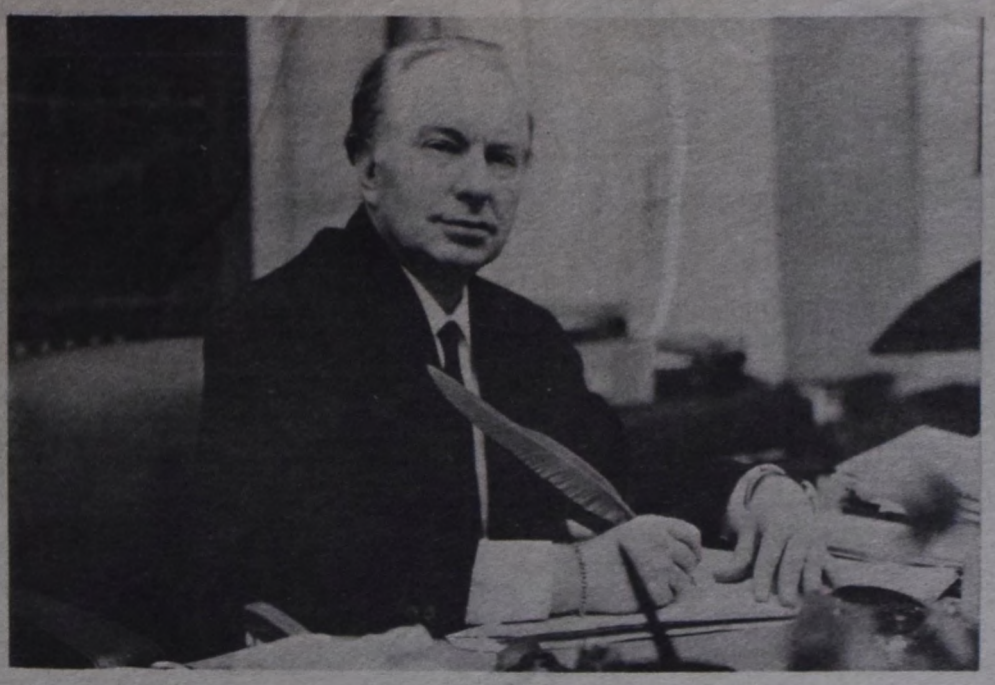

I'm sure that "turn the other cheek" is a wonderful technology. I'm sure if everybody turned his other cheek why everything would be fine. But notice that it's not applyable (different than applicable). It's not applyable because it isn't generally applied. Maybe the technology is all right but it isn't the type of technology which is generally applicable to a situation and it cannot be applied. So application, the ability to apply, is always part of the technology.

You can have the most marvelous plan, sitting up here in a patent office, that you ever wanted to see. You can have something like an animated seagull that delivers your mail. You can have all kinds of whizzlegiks and guff, and what you would say is there are a tremendous number of plans that are "well in advance of the art to make them" or that sort of thing. There are lots of plans, in other words, there are tremendous quantities of technology.

I'm sure there are mathematics today that are marvelous, that nobody can apply to anything. I know, I was taught some in university.

I was told one time very loftily that I would be expelled if I continued to try to find use and application for one of their pure mathematics. It goes so far as there are some things that are not supposed to be applied. You think I'm joking, but that happens to be an actual fact. They threatened me and said I was going to fail across the boards.

It got them very upset because I said, "This pure mathematics you've got here is actually applicable to aerial navigation, and by doing this and that, a pilot can plot himself out this way and that." Actually, what came out of that eventually was Loran, a long range navigational system. It was taken up by the Navy Department. It's a method of plotting a position on a sphere when given only one known point and an angle, if you get another known point and an angle. Then that reverses, if you've got two known points and two distances, you can always get your position on a sphere. It was computable on a sphere. They didn't think it could be done, only it can be done.

But I was threatened with being knocked in the head if I went ahead with this heresy that this pure mathematics was applicable to anything. So technology can even go in reverse and say, "This is beautiful technology but mustn't be applied to anything."

Part of technology is always it's application. It's all right for me to sit around and dream up this process and that process. Looking over the years I'm quite fascinated to discover that in some cases technology was in advance of application enormously.

We had a bug missing; we had a bug in our application. It wasn't missing in the technology. This bug, all by its little lonesome, made us look like we were standing still. Do you know what that was? It was the free needle, a floating needle. I knew all about floating needles, actually, from 1957 on. They are even described in the literature. But auditors were not taught to recognize one. The auditor was not taught ferociously enough that he must expect this to happen at any given instant. Isn't that interesting. The technology all existed. Some of it was too good if anything.

So our application is moving up toward technical. We don't have a bunch of "if you sit down on the mountain and regard your navel reverently for 20 years you will then make a state of meditee (new word). However, if you think of the word 'hippopotamus' during that time you won't make it." We don't have bugs of that character on the lineup.

We have most everything we need. As a matter of fact, we've thrown away more material than Man has ever developed.

This is what is known as working in abundance. The reason you are here is to learn the application of it, that's all. That is really why you're here. Or to receive the benefits of it. And you best receive the benefits of it through learning the application of it.

We are all accustomed in this world to thinking that what we're supposed to do is lie back and have it done. We work with machines all the time. We know what an automobile does when it has to be repaired. It sits quietly on jacks in the garage while people take out parts and put them back in. The automobile does not in the faintest contribute to this situation.

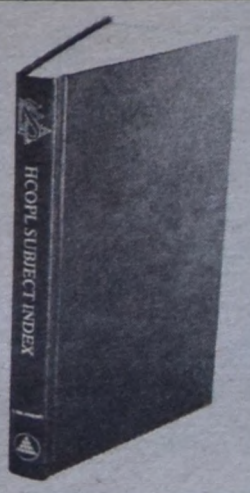

This would be all right if we were a bunch of body plumbers or something like that, whereby we were working with stilts and wrenches on ears and nose and screwing on eyeballs and doing this kind of thing. Yes, this could apply, but we don't happen to be in the field of body repair, because there's a higher game.

An old lady who was very mean to her relatives is going to die and get even with them by leaving it all to a cat hospital, and she's got lumbosis. We repair her lumbosis and she dies and leaves it all to the cat hospital, anyway. I don't think that's a right action, because we didn't do anything for the old lady, we did something for lumbosis. It's something on the idea of being in business to help malaria germs.

The thing that we are interested in is the final product of the individual, and it is very interesting how long it takes sometimes for an individual to find himself.

Philosophers have told him for ages that he should find himself. I'm quite fascinated because no truer word was ever spoken. "Know thyself", "To thine own self be true" – all kinds of platitudes. We all recognize the truth of these things, but that was not even technology. That was a commentary.

One of the big gains you get, which you don't think you would ever receive and which you already think you've got, and which you're startled half to death to finally receive, is on the road to Clear, somewhere up along that line, you all of a sudden find yourself sitting here saying "I'm me".

Terribly obvious answer to the long question, "who am I?"

HOW INTERNSHIPS RELATE TO TRAINING

by L. Ron Hubbard

The word INTERN or INTERNE means "An advanced graduate or a recent graduate in a professional field who is getting practical experience under the Supervision of an experienced worker."

An Internship then is serving a period as an Interne, or an activity offered by an org by which EXPERIENCE can be gained.

Interneships have been arranged this long while for every auditing class.

A COURSE GRADUATE BECOMES AN AUDITOR BY AUDITING.

That means LOTS of auditing.

An HDC graduate who doesn't then audit under an experienced Case Supervisor who knows and demands the standard actions rarely gets to be an HDC AUDITOR. It takes tons of hours to make a real Dianetic auditor who can toss off standard sessions and get his routine miracles.

So if an HDC doesn't INTERNE, but simply goes on to the Academy Courses or SHSBC he has skipped his apprenticeship as a Dianetic Auditor.

If he gets his Class VI and never interns but goes on to VIII — well, we now have somebody who has long since lost touch with the reality of why he is studying.

Regardless of Class as a course graduate, a C/S MUST INTERNE HIS AUDITORS FOR EACH INTERNSHIP MISSED ON THE WAY UP.

The "ok to audit" system is used.

One takes any graduate and Internes him on the lowest Interneship he has missed. He reviews his material, gets his drills checked, gets his misunderstood words cleared and gets an "ok to audit" for that level. If he goofs he is crammed. And sometimes wholly retreaded. The "ok to audit Dianetics" would be his first okay. This suspends if he has to retread.

When he then has turned out pcs, pcs, pcs, pcs, 5, 6, 8, 10 hours a day for weeks and weeks and is a total success as a Dianetic Auditor, he can go on up.

Then one day he is word cleared, checked out on his drills, and he qualifies for "ok to audit" for IV or VI.

Now it begins all over again. Flubs—Cramming, midnight oil, audit, audit cramming audit audit new word clear new drill work audit audit audit audit 5, 6, 8, 10 hours a day.

Now he is a IV or VI auditor.

His next real step is a VI or VII Interne at an SH. If he has been a good IV Interne Auditor his VI Internship after his SHSBC will be a VII Interneship. VII is an Interne activity.

If he is going to be a good VIII-IX auditor he will Interne in a SH under an experienced C/S.

Wherever this function is neglected, you don't get auditors. You get doubtful students and out-tech.

On Flag C/Ses have to catch up every missed Interneship to make a high volume high quality auditor.

The world renowned Superiority of Flag Auditors is built just like I am telling you here.

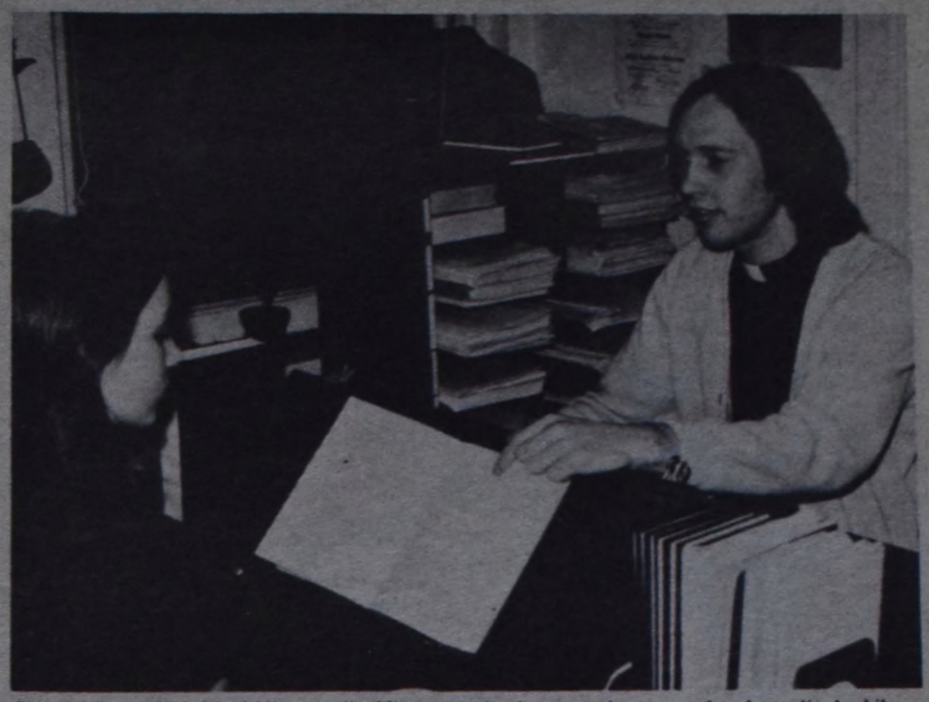

There is no reason just that same quality can't be built in any org.

And one day you have IN tech and high volume high Class auditing all over the place.

There IS a right way to go about it. It is by Interneship.

Excerpts from HCO Bulletin 19 July 71, INTERNS, by L. Ron Hubbard.

Class IV Roger Kniefel of Minneapolis, Minnesota clearing a word on a preclear he audited while on his internship.

FOCUS ON SUCCESS

Certainty Gained on Internships

Responsibility

The wins that occur on the Class IV Internship are countless. One win I noticed was that my auditing has moved out of a mechanical activity and into largely an intuitive activity. It's like more of a knowingness of what to say, when to acknowledge, where the basic is, how to get there, when you have end phenomena on the process, when you are getting close to it. Another big win was realizing the importance of the auditor's postulates in the session and being totally responsible for the preclear's communication cycle as well as my own. The internship has been very exciting and rewarding, thanks to the excellent standard C/Sing of ASHO-trained Class VIII Senior C/S Mike Norman.

Roger Kniefel, Minneapolis

Flubless

The Dianetic Internship is an incredible course. You gain the ability to be a flubless auditor and WOW, does that ever feel good. You have to dig what flubless is to really appreciate it. Ron says training is half your case gain. I think it could be more. Training puts you in the position so you won't ever fall in those depths of mud again. I know one thing, I'll do any training that Ron gives us and for sure any internship.

Phil Crooks, Portland

Standard

The Dianetic Internship has been quite an experience! I've been in Scientology eight years and have never received as standard a course as this one.

For the first time in Scientology I feel I can apply the materials I've studied.

Ron Fitzgerrel, Las Vegas

Valuable Experience

On the Class IV Internship, I have had incredible case gain studying the level, but these are minor since I've been doing some auditing. You really know how much good you can do and how valuable absolutely standard tech is. And with a Class VI C/S and a good cramming officer watching over you, you can pick up every possible error and correct it immediately.

Being able to audit on the internship is the greatest and most valuable experience I've ever had.

Janis Mullich, Las Vegas

"I Know I Can Audit"

Well, I've just completed the Dianetic Internship. In a few words, "it was great." I know I can audit. I know I can help a preclear win and overcome the bank. This is really helping my fellow man. It's what I've always wanted to do, now I'm doing it.

Jan Welda, ASHO

Internships Make a Professional

With fast flow training, internships become invaluable. Your internships make you a professional. Excellent supervision, tough checkouts and drilling, good C/Sing and standard cramming result in an auditor who doesn't "think" he's professional, but who IS professional. The missions and field are very enhanced by this certainty of standard delivery that ASHO is providing them. It makes you feel good as an auditor, too.

B. Hogan, ASHO

Class VI Internship

ASHO is THE PLACE

ASHO is undoubted THE place to get it together. There's so much data on the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course that it can remain a little abstract till you get the familiarity of auditing on the Internship – at least that's the way it was for me. I pulled in the exact types of cases, programs, actions that I needed to gain certainty on handling them.

Parran Dabney, ASHO

Really Knowing My Tools

Way back when I started this route, the training route to OT, all my supervisors kept stressing Ron's intention to apply the data: demo kits, clay demos, TV demos, examples, etc. Now, you KNOW I resisted that. My training patterns were intact. Nevertheless, they managed, and I got some pretty fine data out of those courses.

Then the internships – whew! Were they tough? For a novice such as I they were incredible. But, when I came out of there with my permanent Hubbard Senior Scientologist certificate, I KNEW my tools. Those internships made me a crackerjack.

Mark List, Putney, Vermont

Basic Auditing Skill

This internship has been an incredible experience. My auditing improved immensely – I got a lot of misunderstoods cleaned up and my basic auditing skills improved beyond anything I could imagine.

Barbara Slatkin, ASHO

Where a Pro is Made

The internship is where a "pro" is made – makes no difference who, what or where failed help has occurred. You KNOW you can get the job done after you've done an internship.

Mike Miller, Las Vegas

Got Desired Result

I've had more case gain on this internship than on just about any grade!

Ron is exactly right on what it takes to make an auditor.

The terminals at ASHO are fantastic and with them, the desired result is assured.

Rick White, ASHO

Polishing the Rough Edges

The internship is just great! Everyone who completes the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course should do it right away. It polishes those little rough edges you didn't know were there.

Ruth Knudsen, San Diego

Class VI C/S Internship

Standardness as a C/S

On the Class VI C/S Internship at ASHO, I really learned to C/S standardly. I can now program any case 100% standardly, handle auditors effectively and make them win and get the preclear through anything.

My personal beingness has expanded greatly through this cycle of the Class VI C/S Course and Internship.

Jerome Bloom, Los Angeles

Class VIII Internship

Flubless Auditing

On the Class VIII Internship, I really got polished and perfected until I was a shiny product capable of producing high volume flubless auditing.

Ray Barton, New York

Class VIII C/S Internship (HSST)

A Mindblower

HSST and particularly the internship is a mindblower. It teaches you how to unravel a bank and the final conclusion is it's too staggeringly simple. Finest course I ever did.

Dianetic intern Joe Caneen and Class IV Rob Wilbur drill mood TR's as part of ASHO's internship program. Mood Drills were developed by Ron to handle stuck or fixated Auditor moods or where some Auditor's mood entered into the session would rough up or upset a pc. Mood Drills consist of TR's 1 to 4 done out of session on each tone level of the full tone scale, hitting each mood up and down the scale. The coach calls the mood, the Auditor does TR's 1 to 4 in that mood. Pictured above, Caneen demonstrates grief, fear and then TR's naturally.

Interns at ASHO start the day with a series of exercises. Case Supervisor Drew Johnston validates an intern for a win from an earlier auditing session.

WHY INTERNSHIPS?

Why Internships?

Because internships and internships alone provide the total certainty of being a professional auditor or case supervisor. It's where you gain real application of the tech to all cases and become flubless as an auditor or case supervisor.

On internships, you can handle more in your daily life and the way you approach things – you are reaching a higher level of competence and can handle difficult cases. Training Routines are done at a higher level. You're more able to handle confusions on tech, or rough edges and leave the course room a pro.

You achieve a keener state on an internship – you learn to use all your tools. Sometimes it can be tough, but you come to accept the challenge with enthusiasm.

You are checked out on all materials so you really know them before you go in to audit. Any misunderstoods are cleared up.

The day in the life of an intern at ASHO starts off with body exercises, TRs (2½ hours a day) and a meeting with the Senior C/S to go over wins of the auditors and preclears in the Hubbard Guidance Center. On your internship, you work up to a high volume of consistently high-quality auditing. You will tape your sessions in order to demonstrate perfect tech and comm cycle and you will do auditing demonstrations on closed-circuit TV! These will be checked out by our Class VIII intern supervisor. You'll get lots of experience auditing many actions on many preclears.

A key factor in the importance of internships is that the only way to real certainty on your skills is to audit under highly trained, experienced supervision – the kind you get at ASHO. If you're having any difficulty in your auditing, there's a team of highly trained supervisors and Case Supervisors to closely check and drill all necessary actions to smooth out your skills up to 100% standard tech and consistently excellent results on your preclears.

When you've done high hours of flubless auditing on the actions of your level, with a tape of your session passed by the Senior C/S, you graduate with a permanent certificate. It's an exciting day in your life and you'll know you have the certainty of a real pro and true mastery of your auditing skills.

Interns at ASHO leave the course room with a dedicated attitude, knowing they're flubless in their application of tech.

You can have that level of certainty, too.

Start your internship at ASHO today!

Class VIII Intern Jasana Crowie hands bottle to her son Tad. In background is her husband Harvey, a Senior Saint Hill Briefing Course student at ASHO.

New Mother Continues Internship Training

Class VIII Auditor Jasana Crowie has many fond memories of her internships at ASHO. The one that stands out however, is the Expanded Dianetics Internship which she took after giving birth to her son, Tad, now 1½ years old.

Having Tad along didn't stop her from continuing her studies.

"Let's just say we did the internship together," Jasana said, "I had a lot of fun taking him with me. It was a pleasure to do touch assists and havingness drills with him."

Jasana, a staff member of the Scientology mission in Vancouver, British Columbia, plans to return to her home city soon with her husband Harvey. She recently completed her Class VIII internship and currently is on HSST.

Her gains from internships have been in the area of receiving the standard tech that ASHO has to offer.

"You can't get that at any other org," says Jasana. She says she likes the stability and permanance that an internship has to offer.

"This, of course, will be invaluable data for me when I return to Vancouver to audit and C/S."

Nurse's Career Improves After Dianetic Internship

Jane Lowe has been using Scientology tech in helping others in her professional career as a nurse.

Jane Lowe, a nurse and recent Dianetic Internship graduate, has found her skills as a Dianetic Counsellor useful in helping others on jer job.

She did her Dianetic Internship at the Church of Scientology of Missouri and currently is a registered nurse at St. Louis City Hospital.

"I now know what's going on with patients that are acting in a reactive way. Communication skills are so much needed and I'm the only person they can talk to. I've used locational processing many times. A patient came in with a minor laceration and he was on the table, screaming the whole time. I did a locational with him. His emotional tone went way up, he thanked me and he was really there for the first time and could answer questions."

"Since my Scientology training, I'm a lot more stable emotionally and I realize the value of my work. I have interest in what's going on around me and my environment. I keep my cool when things go wrong. It's a very high pressured area. But I find I can keep a lot calmer than other people around me."

After her academy Levels, Jane says she plans to go Clear and OT in July then return to St. Louis for more auditing and continue her career in nursing.

"I really love it. With more Scientology training, I'll have all the data about handling life and people and I know I'll be a lot more effective on my job."

A guest at Ron's Birthday celebration in Los Angeles enthusiastically receives an advance copy of the HCOPL Subject Index.

Lt. Laurel Watson, Ron's Personal Public Relations Officer, tells Southern California Scientologists at Birthday event – "Ron is the person who cares most that you are doing well and progressing."

3,000 Celebrate Ron's Birthday in Los Angeles

More than 3,000 Scientologists from Southern California gathered at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles March 13 to celebrate L. Ron Hubbard's Birthday.

The gala event took place in three large banquet rooms to accommodate the speakers, displays and entertainment featured at the party.

Master of ceremonies Robert F. Lyons opened the program by presenting Artie Maren, Deputy Guardian for Public Relations for the United States. In addition to presenting the wins of Scientology in the public press, Maren outlined the program for Prayer Day August 24-29 in Anaheim, California.

Laurel Watson, RON's Personal Public Relations Officer was invited and attended as Special Guest and on behalf of RON himself. She described, how RON grants his staff and all Scientologists, the beingness to fully and professionally do their jobs in Orgs and in society. She pointed out how professionally RON goes about his work. She then narrated a slide presentation, showing the work RON has been doing with the Photo Shoot Organization, as well as his daily activities.

A special message from Ron was read by Lt. Toby Young, Ron's Communicator for the United States, which extends the call for 100,000 auditors, C/Ses and Supervisors and 10,000 OTs to March 13, 1977.

In the message, Ron stated that as of March 13, 1976, 66% of all current active auditors, C/Ses and supervisors were trained and made active in the past year!

The total figure of active auditors, C/Ses and supervisors increased by 250% compared against figures at the time of Ron's call for 100,000 Auditors a year ago March!

Lt. Young then asked the audience to join in a toast to Ron. After the toast, a huge birthday cake was rolled in and Lt. Watson cut the first piece. The audience was then asked to enjoy the cake and other refreshments provided at the party.

Advance copies of Ron's newest book, the HCO Policy Subject Index, were flown in by the Publications Organization especially for the party. The Subject Index will make a tremendous impact on Scientology planetwide by making all policies easy to find.

The evening concluded with music and dancing.

New Interests for Class VI

Class VI auditor Jerry Hine of Phoenix, Arizona makes his first solo landing in a glider – one of numerous hobbies he's taken up after realizing new interests through auditing. "I gained a larger interest in a great many areas I had no interest in before and I find I want to find out as much as I can about everything," says Jerry. In addition to flying a glider, he's an avid skier, photographer and car-builder. According to Jerry, auditing has greatly increased his coordination, perceptions and confidence that were not good previously. The study tech has taught him the importance of not going past any misunderstood words. An OT III, Jerry works at the Phoenix Mission as a Class VI auditor. Jerry's future plans call for more tech training.

Playwright Finds Writing Easier Since Scientology

Michael Lewis, OT IV and recent Power Release at ASHO, has a "humorous" purpose in life – to make people happy and sane through his writings.

A playwright, actor and piano player before he became involved in Scientology, Lewis continued to write plays and currently is putting the finishing touches on a book called "The Org."

According to Lewis, it's a "warm, Theta" approach to his experiences to being on staff at the Founding Church of Scientology in Washington, D.C.

"I describe the people in the org and their daily lives. I've geared the book toward the general public. Basically, what I'm saying about Scientology is 'come on in the water's fine'."

A Class IV C/S, Lewis plans to do the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course at ASHO during his stay in Los Angeles.

Lewis wrote a series of one-act plays that have been produced on the East Coast. It was after opening night of his play "I Only Just Got Here Myself," that he was introduced into Scientology.

"The play was over and I was walking down the street feeling pretty good about the favorable response I got to the play," Lewis said. "A girl introduced herself and invited me to an introductory lecture on Scientology. I bought a book – Dianetics '55 – and decided that Scientology was for me. I started the Communications Course and have been moving up the Bridge ever since."

Playwright Michael Lewis types out some wins he had after receiving Power Processing at ASHO.

Lewis said being a humorist has always been his purpose. "Since getting trained and processed, I can see that happiness and sanity go together. I have observed that a happy audience will act sanely. I know I have the resources to create humor through my writing of plays, books and musicals.

"Since going Clear and from my tech training I can write at 80% more efficiency."

Study Tech Piloted in Public Schools

Former Lockheed scientist and nuclear engineer CLAYTON MATTHEWS joins educator SYLVIA HARE in going over pilot reading materials using L. Ron Hubbard's study technology at Abilities Research Associates.

Abilities Research Associates, founded as a non-profit corporation in 1974 by OT III Sylvia Hare, is now piloting individual learning programs in public schools which co-ordinate L. Ron Hubbard's study tech with basic school subjects.

A wide range of materials has been developed, from how-to-read checksheet workbooks to full grade level curricula. These are being piloted as special projects under the supervision of certified teachers who are also trained in study tech by Applied Scholastics.

The foundation's purpose is to contribute to educational reform so that children have the opportunity to obtain good education and develop judgement and responsible self-determinism.

A successful pilot of ARA materials is currently running in the Fulton Public Elementary School in Toledo, Ohio, with parents eager to see the program continued and expanded. Another pilot has been approved for the Soto Street School in East Los Angeles, to be supervised by Class IV L. J. Clifford, a 4th and 5th grade teacher there. Several other groups of children and their teachers are now applying materials on a test basis in other parts of the country, and more pilot outlets are being sought.

Educator Sylvia Hare was joined in this project in 1974 by Clayton Matthews, registered Professional Engineer in California who formerly was Staff Scientist and Senior Researcher at Lockheed Missile and Space Company. Clay, who became interested in Scientology in 1971 through his daughter Kristen, is a Hubbard Qualified Scientologist and plans to do the Dianetics Course and Academy levels soon. He is enthusiastic about applying his 25-year background in engineering and management to work for reforms in private and public education.

Dianetics on Television!

Spurred by the success of radio commercials in the Southern California area, a pilot television commercial program will be aired in mid-April to promote the Los Angeles Dianetics book campaign.

The pilot program will be a schedule of 30-second spots during late-evening movie time on an independent Los Angeles television station, featuring L. Ron Hubbard's Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health.

A special television documentary on Scientology has been scheduled at 7:30 p.m. April 9 on CBS (Channel 2) "The Followup Show" in Southern California. The program will deal with Scientology's fact-finding role in INTERPOL's activities and then will show scenes from The Manor, Celebrity Centre in Hollywood and ASHO. At Celebrity Centre, activities in the academy are scheduled to be shown and an E-Meter will be demonstrated.

The show will close with a commentary on Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health and how it has been the cornerstone of Scientology.

Book sales continue to boom in the Southern California area after being placed by major distributors into all paperback outlets from drug store chains and supermarkets to bookstores and variety stores. More than 8,000 DMSMH paperbacks have been sold in two months!

THE HCOB VOLUMES

The most complete technical reference work of Dianetics and Scientology ever published – in ten big volumes!

In 1966, Ron said, "Standard technology is contained in HCOBs, Hubbard Communications Office Bulletins, and they just run off one after the other. One of these fine days we will roll up our sleeves and publish them all in consecutive order, all corrected so that nothing ever corrects anything in the bulletins and make it very very easy. We will probably have to put them in seven or eight or ten different volumes because there are quite a few of them."

Now, ten years later, that fine day has arrived. And the final number is ten big volumes – large hardback books, bound in red.

All HCO Bulletins and technical articles (excepting only confidential ones) are in these books, professionally typeset, in chronological order, and fully indexed. Here's the entire track of technical research in one handy reference set.

The books that auditors and students have been waiting years for will soon be available.

Watch for price and ordering details in the Auditor!
