DIANETICS 28TH ANNIVERSARY ISSUE!

DIANETICS and MAN

by L. Ron Hubbard

There is adequate and long background to Dianetics and Scientology. For fifty thousand years Man has been faced with the enigma of himself and his fellows. And Man has been victimized by impulses and brutal instincts which have caused him to erect in self-protection, prisons and legal codes and complex social systems. Man has not felt safe from Man. And indeed, the conduct of men down the ages has not much justified belief or faith. Wars, murder and arson, treachery and betrayal, cynicism and destruction have marred his progress until history itself has become a long montage of battles, murders and running blood.

Confronted with this aspect in himself and his fellows, Man has long searched for an answer to the riddle of his own behavior and for ways to remedy that behavior. Long before Diogenes, Man was searching for such answers to his questions. In Babylon, Chaldea, India and even into distant and primitive times those men who could think found concern in the antisocial and unreasonable conduct of their fellows. Throughout all these ages, little by little, bits of the answer were forthcoming.

No flashing and spectacular result in modern times can gainsay the brilliance of achievement of the early searchers in the field of the human mind, for these, out of the morass of superstition and taboo, sorted out the first phenomena vital to the solution of the problem.

Man's search for the answer to his own riddle was quickened during the last century by two things: the first was the energy and curiosity of Sigmund Freud and the second was the mathematics of James Clerk Maxwell who gave to us the fundamentals of energy.

To talk of the faults of Freud, as do those who practice psychoanalysis today, is ungenerous. This great pioneer, against the violent objections of medical doctors and the psychiatrists of his day, ventured to put forth the theory that memory was connected with present time behavior and that by talk alone a patient could be made well. Whatever the repute of the Libido theory, whatever the disillusionment of this great man himself – for he admitted defeat before he died – his work and method of address were a valuable step toward an eventual solution.

The probable reason why this solution did not earlier appear has to do with the knowledge we have gained in this century about the physical universe and its structure. The mind was a problem which had to be solved from a knowledge both of humanity and of nuclear physics and modern mathematics. The final solution was simple. The route to it required the physical universe knowledge given to us by searchers in the physical sciences and mathematics.

The story of how Scientology and Dianetics came about will demonstrate this. It will illustrate the background knowledge which was apparently necessary to carry forth to conclusion work which was initiated by Freud and the countless generations behind him.

In the twenties I was fortunate enough to know Commander Thompson of the Medical Corps of the United States Navy. He was a colorful man, poised, polished, greatly traveled, curious in half a hundred sciences. The United States Navy, having heard much of the work of Freud in Vienna, sent an officer, Commander Thompson, to study under Freud and bring back to the Navy any benefit from psychoanalysis. When I knew Thompson he was but lately returned from long study with the master. And Thompson was not too impatient and not too bored to communicate something of Freud's teachings to a boy. As a dashing and brilliant figure, Thompson was enough to incite enthusiasm in any youngster and I fear I imposed greatly on his patience and his time.

But a career in the humanities was not on schedule for me. My father, a naval officer, decreed that I would study engineering and mathematics and so I found myself obediently studying the physical sciences at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. A course called "Atomic and Molecular Phenomena" had been instituted there. Today we call it Nuclear Physics. I was fortunate enough to be an early student of that subject in what I believe was the first course in nuclear physics formally taught in the United States.

While at the University I adventured upon certain researches which were off curriculum. I wanted to find the smallest particle or unit of energy Man could contact. And, recalling Thompson's teachings, decided to investigate the energy of the human mind.

Considerable travel and examination of the cultures of Man, considerable study in philosophy, occasional encouragement from such men as Will Durant brought me by 1938 into possession of the basic formulas of human behavior. They were rough, those early conclusions. They were crude. And they lacked a technique of application.

The basic nature of Man is not bad. It is good. One should realize that as a possibility. The basic nature of Man itself is not at fault. But the basic primitive adventures of Man were violent and savage and, as Freud supposed, it is that imposed brutality which Man must hold in check.

Living with the beasts of the jungle, caught at every hand by death and terror, early Man could not but develop brutal reactions. Murder and war were the commonplace. Man had not learned to control his environment and so he had to combat it. Every walk forth from his cave might mean death or battle. Every mischance might bring about catastrophe. Man had no choice to be anything but brutal and savage.

Then came civilization. Then came law and order and the right to eat without being killed. Then came the partial control of the surroundings sufficient to call Man's state civilized.

But Man could not wholly escape his heritage. Here today, when Man supposedly can reason, murder, arson and war stalk his shaded streets and homes.

Man, in an apparent civilization, is haunted by instincts he cannot understand. He has prisons where he puts men such as one cages wild beasts. He has institutions which house millions upon millions of men who are insane and can no longer reason. And Man gazes with collective horror upon the prospect of being obliterated by a weapon so sweeping and terrible that all of civilization may perish in the click of a button—the atomic bomb.

Man is grasping wildly today for some method of restraining the brutality of his fellows or even himself.

And he is motivated in that brutality by all the crimes of his yesterdays.

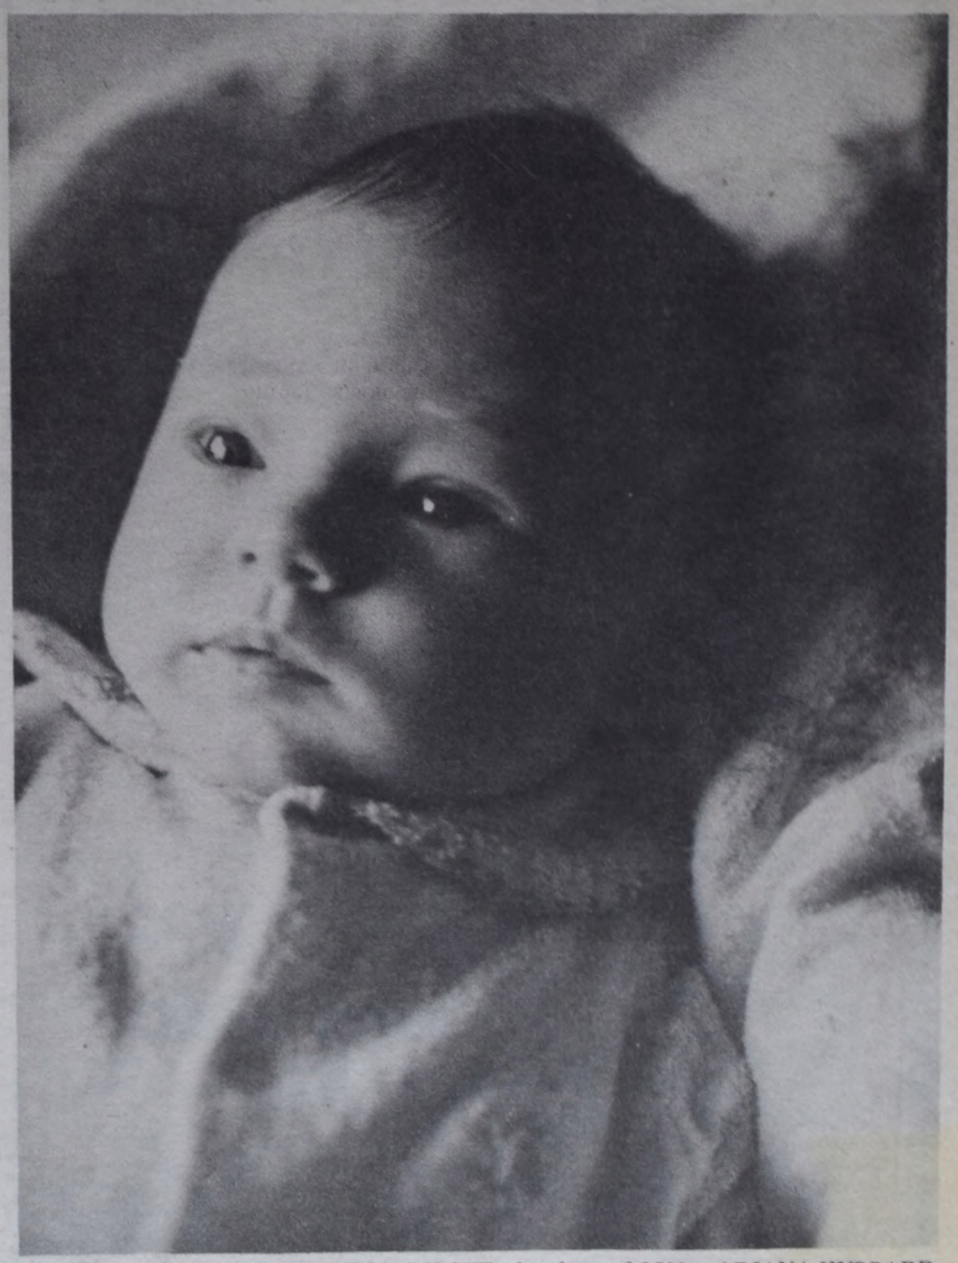

Man is subjugated and made afraid, he is made brutal and wicked by basic instincts. In order to be civilized Man must repress those instincts. The moment he represses them he becomes sick. Thus the solution is impossible. Unless Man can reach inside himself and eradicate in some manner the things which make him kill and steal and make war.

Can instincts be eradicated from the mind? They certainly can be and with less trouble than anyone ever suspected.

And is Man healthy and better with them gone? He is so much better, so much more reliable, so much healthier, so much happier that one immediately finds in him new hope for Mankind.

What is the basic nature of Man? Man is basically good. But between him and that goodness lies a savage and twisted past, inherited from all the centuries of his being, the instincts which he had to wear as a primitive, as a savage. They are still there, on full record, there in a world which now must be civilized if Man is not to perish from the earth.

The basic impulse of Man is to help his fellows. He is not a monomaniacal fiend, intent only upon his own gain. But the instincts, fears and rages he represses make him seem so. He wants to help his fellows. He wants Man to live. He wants the world to survive. But because he has been taught in the brutal school of tooth and claw that life can be treacherous, he seeks unreasonable and and treacherous means of achieving his ends.

Take away the savage antisocial impulses of Man, of any man or woman or child, and he is FREE, free to act, to be happy, to gain and to be without fear of what he might do if he let himself loose.

Take away these unwanted brutalities and Man's intelligence rises or even doubles. Take away these impulses and Man's health of being evidently improves beyond past knowledge.

In 1938 I codified certain axioms and phenomena into what I called "Scientology". Scientology is the science of knowledge or the codification of epistemology. Dianetics was evolved from these.

Over two hundred axioms comprise Scientology and embrace Dianetics. Over two hundred new phenomena concerning the human mind have been discovered and cataloged as to their relative importance.

In 1948 I wrote a thesis on an elementary technique of application and submitted it to the medical and psychiatric professions for their use or consideration. The data was not utilized. In 1950, I issued a popular book on the subject called Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health. The book, much to the astonishment of myself and everyone else, became a best seller immediately and still sells regularly. Other books followed.

The address of Dianetics and Scientology is not to the ill, the insane or the criminal. It is effective in these fields. But its intention is toward the improvement of the able. Men who already can accomplish things can accomplish more. The problems of the society depend upon clear-thinking and sane men. Processing can bring about that state according to long experience.

Processing has now become relatively simple. The auditor first must understand the basic axioms of the subject and their meaning in processing. He must have a good grasp of his essential tools. He can gain this understanding in a few weeks if he is quick and intelligent. He must then be able to handle the techniques of application. These are effective and swift.

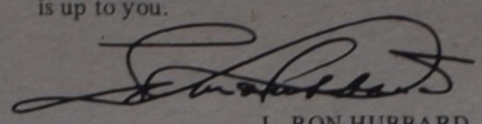

When one starts to handle primitive instincts in a human being, that human being sometimes has the sensation of having lived before. We know the instincts from distant times are there and we know where they are filed and we know how to change the record. It is relatively simple to call up in any human being the basic and underlying records which have haunted Man for generations. No matter how solidly he is repressing them, the instincts are there. When they are in sight and deintensified, he is able to relax, to be free, and to be effective.

The simplicity of the present techniques seems to belie the arduousness of their discovery. But they contain all the thousands of years of Man's search for what makes Man hate Man.

Dianetics and Scientology are no more than reason joining research in the humanities and research in the fields of energy and the physical sciences. Once this knowledge was joined, the answers were readily available.

Perhaps now it may be possible, in an overwrought world, to do something about the criminals, the insane, about war and the antisocial hatred Man feels for Man. Can we do something for the savage in civilized garb before he ruins this world and all Man? That is a question which the future must answer. I cannot do more than the work I have done and to publish and make available what has been done.

Every facility which I have and every knowledge which we have gained is at your disposal. It is at your disposal to improve you, to make crime a thing of yesterday, to banish war forever. But it is up to you.

Dianetics and Religion

by L. Ron Hubbard

Those engaged in dianetic processes are often interested in the effect of Dianetics upon religion. They generally desire to know whether dianetic processing will influence faith or atheism.

Dianetics is a science; as such, it has no opinion about religion, for sciences are based on natural laws, not on opinions.

Self-determinism is always to some degree circumscribed by the environment of the individual and the forces he faces. An individual without faith in something is lost and goalless. Faith is a necessary part of man. If that faith is given to a religion it can be observed that once given, it is steadfast and predictable.

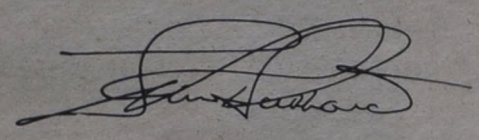

When any disordered mind grasps the fundamentals of a thing, one cannot predict the way that mind will use the information. Zealotism has many times made religion odious to a people and zealotism is definitely undesirable to a religious group since it too often masks sadism and paranoia. Churches have long been troubled with this problem. It is not a problem of faith. An orderly faith alone can promote religion. Zealotism is a problem in aberration; it is generally caused by a manic engram and quite unlike faith, is as likely to flash back against religion as it is to carry it forward. The action is unpredictable and the zealot alters his faith easily.

On the other hand atheism, which religion has found highly obstructive, has for its origin, according to our case histories, engrams. No "atheist" to date has remained an atheist after the engrams causing his objections have been removed. The atheist is activated by engrams as thoroughly as the zealot.

There are several cases on record of atheism having been altered to tolerance by dianetic processes and one case which joined a church after a release was effected. There are two cases of zealotism having abated to a sincere faith.

Insanity has long constituted a considerable threat to religion. Religious terminology, when permitted to creep into the engram bank, particularly as blasphemy, causes various disturbances in the psyche, and the various religions have throughout the duration of man as a rational being, been posed a difficult problem which can now be resolved. Dianetics not only pronounces but executes sentence upon insanity. It makes man sane.

What the world of man decrees about religion or what religion decrees about the world of man is well outside the regulation of Dianetics even though it is well within the province of dianetic studies of the activites of man.

DIANETICS: 28 YEARS

DIANETICS SALES BOOMING

ASHO Graduates Help

28 years ago, on May 9, 1950, a book burst onto the scene that immediately shot to the top of the Times Best Seller list and this book changed the face of the planet!

DIANETICS: THE MODERN SCIENCE OF MENTAL HEALTH by Ron and the start of Dianetics and Scientology.

28 years later, Dianetics, the book that kicked up such a storm and started it all, continues to be THE number one book that is getting thousands of individuals onto the Bridge.

Last year, in May, 1977, 27 years after its release, Dianetics soared to the Number One position on the major, Western U.S., Trade Best Seller List. No other book in history has re-appeared at the top of a major best seller list, let alone in its 27th year and was a feat acknowledged by the publishing industry.

And it didn't stop there.

In the United States, as Dianetics was selling so well and in so many places, it was transferred to the even more extensive and prestigious mass market category and in its 28th year shot to the top of the major Western U.S., Mass Market Best Seller List and then shot to the top of a major Publisher's NATIONAL Best Seller List, a feat unparalled in history. An outside non-Scientology publisher in the U.S. alone has sold over 35,000 copies in the first quarter of 1978, which is 7 times their sales from the previous quarter.

With the help of many dedicated Scientologists, Dianetics Campaigns are springing up across the United States and in other major countries. Mass Media advertising is being done on TV and in major, national magazines. Millions of people are being exposed to Dianetics every week. ASHO Graduates and students have lent a hand to National sales of Dianetics by appearing in National magazines, and giving their successes with the technology of Dianetics!

More than 11 million readers per month are being exposed to Dianetics ads in such magazines as Newsweek, Harpers, Psychology Today, Atlantic Monthly, Time, Master in Business, Administration, Fate, MS., New Engineer, Natural History, New Times, Apartment Life, and Cosmopolitan.

DMSMH campaigns running TV ads on DMSMH and on what the reactive mind is are being run in LA, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco, St. Louis, New York and Washington, D.C. Other cities are now planning similar campaigns. These TV ads sell DMSMH in volume, plus people are walking into orgs and missions wanting to find out about Dianetics and Scientology as these ads have such high impact.

Did you know that well over 50% of all people in Scientology today read DMSMH as their first book before coming into Scientology?

For 28 years, DMSMH has been and continues to be the number one and best dissemination tool we have ever had.

When every Scientologist sells one DMSMH and follows up on that sale to only one public person a month, there will be millions more copies of DMSMH into the hands of public and hundreds of thousands of more people flooding onto the Bridge each month over and above what is already occurring!

The 30th Anniversary of Dianetics in 1980, is being planned for Alcapulco, Mexico! It will be the largest meeting of Dianeticists and Scientologists ever!

OF PROGRESS FOR MAN

"Dianetics gave me... well, myself."

RITA VAN PATTEN, teacher, Virgil Junior High School, Los Angeles

"Dianetics was the first book on the mind that ever made sense to me," says Rita Van Patten.

"I'd considered myself a strong person, yet people and things in my environment threw me off balance sometimes. Dianetics explained why.

"So I tried what it said in the book. And it worked. I stopped being a nervous wreck after driving in rush hour traffic. I started getting more done in the same amount of time. If I hadn't read Dianetics I would have quit teaching because I couldn't take the constant pressure. Now I feel marvelous — vibrant. My vice principal can hardly believe how fresh I look at the end of each day.

"Dianetics has given me myself, free to act how I want to act, be how I want to be, without strain. My relationships are much more open. I enjoy being with people and I am genuinely interested in what they have to say.

"Incidentally, all my life I'd been allergic to cats — until Dianetics. I have two adorable kittens at home now."

"Dianetics made it more fun to be myself."

IMARA SHAW, Chief Administrator, Shaw Health Center, Los Angeles

—I used to think about who I was, what I felt, what I wanted," says Imara Shaw.

"Then I ran across Dianetics. I got really engrossed in the case histories and decided to try what the book suggested.

"Now I don't just think about being myself—I AM myself. Things I wanted to do and have were vague dreams in the future before—now they're my life around me. It's nothing mystical. I understand it, I know I'm responsible for it, and life is finally that great adventure I had wanted it to be—thanks to Dianetics.

"I feel so much brighter now. I'm much more observant. I have more energy, positive energy that I can direct. I wake up very quickly in the morning looking forward to the day. I find I can accomplish what I set out to do much more easily.

"It's a lot more fun to be alive since I read Dianetics."

"Dianetics enabled me to use my full potential."

DON LADEW, Engineer, Loral Electronics Systems, Los Angeles

"As an engineer, I'm interested in things that work, in solutions—not theories," says Don Ladew. "That's why I was fascinated with Dianetics from the very first page.

"Dianetics explained why I had become so jumpy, why I had constant headaches from the tension and pressure of my job.

"Within 3 months after I read Dianetics my headaches were gone and I was healthier than I had ever been. I work even longer hours now than before but instead of being dead tired at the end of the day I have plenty of energy left for my wife and children.

"Through Dianetics my full potential became available. I think more clearly—what used to take me 10 hours I now do in 4. I have produced more creative work since I read this book than in all my earlier years as an engineer.

"I've nearly doubled my salary. I have a great deal more responsibility which weighs me down far less, thanks to Dianetics."

Dianetics is the first engineering solution to the mind.

"Dianetics is the first book I've ever read that makes sense out of the human mind."

ED MORLER, MBA, Ph.D. Consultant/trainer Effective Communications Skills, New York

And with a Ph.D. in human development and management you can bet I've read plenty of books that tried.

"They all had bits and pieces of the picture, but Dianetics is the only book I've been exposed to that takes up fundamentals not just symptoms.

"With the insights I gained from Dianetics, I understand where people are coming from. Sc. I'm much more successful at getting to conclusions we're all happy with.

"Several friends have said I seem more comfortable lately, and it's true. I used to have such chronic tension in my shoulders that I was never relaxed. Through Dianetics I located the source of the tension and I haven't had it since.

"I'm enjoying life more. I've even taken up painting which I always wanted to do. In short, I'm happier and more productive than I've ever been, and that's a direct result of Dianetics.

"I think Dianetics in 100 years ahead of its time. It is without any question the most important book on human behavior and the mind I've ever read."

DIANETICS SWEEPING MEXICO

Picture a country where 32% of the people in the country knew some basic data on Dianetics and L. Ron Hubbard, not just heard about it, but use actual Dianetics Data in their everyday life. That country would be well on it's way to being the first Clear country on the planet! Mexico is that country!

Dianetics book sales range in the thousands weekly, and Ron's name is rapidly becoming known to people in all walks of life. Extensive seminars have appeared on National Television about Dianetics.

There are Dianetics Groups and Missions in Mexico City, Guadalajara, Tijuana, Tampico, Veracruz, Guanajuato, Queretaro, Tuxla Gutierrez, Madera and Coahuila.

In addition the Assistant Guardian Mexico, Ricardo Garcia, and many other Dianeticists in Mexico have helped to establish groups in Bolivia, Venezuela, Columbia, Honduras, Argentia, and El Salvador. Ricardo Garcia has just recently received an invitation from the President of the country to give a presentation on Dianetics in San Salvador.

Dianetics Week in Mexico City culminated in a huge event held to raise funds for the University of the Arts, a projected Dianetics and Scientology University.

Some 650 Community leaders attended the event. Three National TV Networks came to the event to cover it, two National radio stations, the government TV Stations, and all top National press (4 major newspapers).

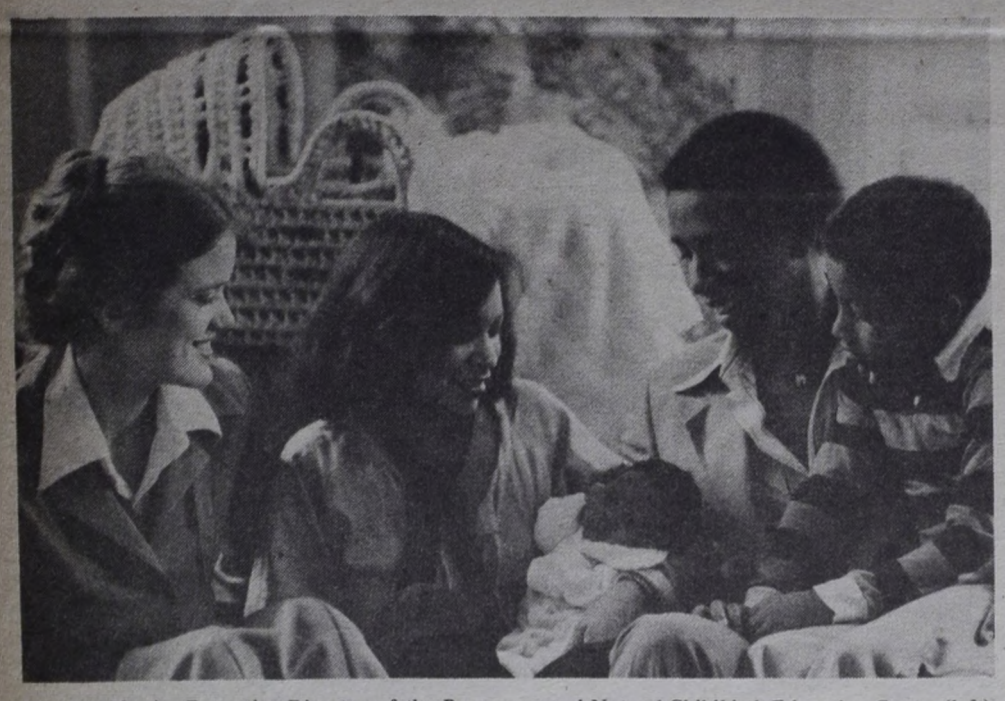

The Master of Ceremonies at the event was one of Mexico's top movie stars Helena Rojo. She introduced several major Mexican celebrities, all of whom are Dianeticists who sang or spoke on behalf of Dianetics.

Next, Hector Calderon, the first Mexican Scientologists, now Minister of the Mexican National Government spoke briefly.

Nadina de Garza spoke, as the head of the University of the Arts, on the purpose of the University. She quoted Ron on the importance of the role of the artist in society, much to the enthusiasm of the press and the audience in attendance.

Ricardo Garcia gave a brief address, thanking everyone for the enormous success of the event. Emma Sanchez, long-term Scientologist and recently appointed a Department head at the University of Pedagogy, presented a plaque to Ron thanking him for the Study Technology used in her recent course given to forty top professors of education. Ron's Personal Public Relations Officer, Liz Gablehouse accepted the plaque for Ron and spoke of the enthusiasm with which Ron has responded to the news of the Mexican accomplishments and Boom! A long standing ovation for Ron then followed the announcement that Ron is behind them in their postulate to have Mexico become the "First Clear Country."

The event was concluded with performances by Felipe Gil, a singer of great repute in Mexico, and Oscar Tarrago, famous concert pianist.

Preventive Dianetics In Use

L. Ron Hubbard in Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health was the first to emphazise the importance of proper treatment and care during pregnancy and birth. Now a Hubbard Dianetic Counselor, MARGARET MARTIN, is working to make this a reality for mothers all over the world.

Margaret has started an organization to help mothers bring their children into the world with less difficulty and pain then ever before. Her organization is called the Pregnancy and Natural Childbirth Education Center.

Ron's successful technology of Dianetics and Scientology is used throughout the course she teaches, including the Communication Training Routines which help to improve confront on pregnancy and birth as well as improving the communication abilities between the wife and husband. Also of special value during labor is Ron's Locational Assist which helps a woman in labor to become more comfortable in the environment – should she ever become overwhelmed, upset, or out of touch with her surroundings.

The techniques that Margaret does not use in the training are the stimulus-response conditioning techniques developed by the Russian psychologist Pavlov, which have filtered into natural childbirth education under the names of "The Lamaze Method", and "Prepared Childbirth". The method Margaret uses on her courses is set up so that the mother and father are in good communication, and are contributing to the motion of labor and birth.

Margaret's statistics are soaring. More than 90% of the couples who are being trained have gentle, happy, natural births, without the use of drugs or medicine.

She is currently working on a book to be released in May, dealing with Pregnancy and Natural Childbirth. The book has many quotes and 4 full pages of the works of L. Ron Hubbard on the subjects of birth, and children. Margaret is also on course at the Advanced Organization in Los Angeles.

Focus On Success

DIANETICS: The Science of the Mind

JOHN MATTOON, recent Dianetic preclear relaying some of his wins to a Registrar at ASHO!

I like the way I feel now – I feel really clean. I am here in present time and can now begin making my way in life in a pro-survival way or manner. As a fringe benefit I handled terminately my skin problems/irritations that I had for some 17 years. I also handled a 10 year old lower back (painful off and on since 1967) injury! I am much freer as a being because of L. Ron Hubbard's Dianetic Counseling Procedures.

– J.M.

Dianetics has been the most phenomenal counselling to date. I'm rid of petty jealousy, an ulcer, a zillion allergies, an addiction to coffee, and I can truly say that I am rid of all psychosomatic ills. I am happy. My thanks to L. Ron Hubbard, a very great man.

– G.S.

I had injured my finger while operating a machine, the machine in fact had taken off the entire tip of my right index finger. I started to receive Dianetic auditing to speed the healing. Very interesting things would happen when I went to the Doctor, he was very surprised at the rate of it's healing. Yep, it healed that fast! My thanks to Ron who made this success possible.

– J.G.

What a great action! My eyesight improved, my confidence and certainty came up and I even got some chronic somatics handled. What more could a person want from such an enjoyable action.

– G.K.

I definitely feel very well and happy! The only problem my body currently presents to me is its rediculous (seemingly) demands to be fed! Sometimes I hate to interrupt my exciting progress through my day or my work to feed or rest my body. My body and I do get along!

– J.T.

Being physically well is a new experience for me, and I really like it. I'm happier than I've ever been, and what's nice is that it's not an up and down thing it's stable.

– S.W.

I'm quite certain that there isn't anything that can't be handled in the way of physical or emotional distress. I am well and I am happy!

– T.M.K.

It is fantastic, I really feel happy. I had lots of wins and found out interesting things. Thank you all, and especially to Ron who made this technology to liberate human beings and make them happy as I am now.

– M.V.

My wins with Dianetics have been fantastic. I feel keen and sharp as a being. The host of things that subtly countered my intentions and actions are now gone. I'm doing better than at any point in my whole life.

– K.G.

My gains have been fantastic! I really feel good, much more extorverted and perceptive. I am certain the abilities I've gained will be of great value in everyday living!

– C.S.
