NEW RELEASE!

ECONOMIC SYSTEMS

by L. Ron Hubbard

TODAY we are suffering from world idiot economics.

When the industrial system came along, barely a hundred and fifty years ago, the giant brains that pretend to run affairs of state were still wearing horned hats and are no less primitive today.

Once upon a time, economics were more simple: If the village was hungry it was because they were not smart enough to husband game or plant enough crops. One produced or one starved and that was that.

Then somebody — probably named Ugh — invented government, which was a system which said: "When you haven't got enough to eat, I grab it so I won't starve." And founded a primary principle that today is called "taxation".

But as years rolled into centuries, people finally got restive. And, terrified as they always are, the heads of state invented a thing called "welfare". Welfare is a system invented by Robin Hood: take from the rich and give to the poor (except of course, one never got around to the latter step). And so we then got "income tax". Except they don't take from the rich; they take from the productive.

A basic principle of government today is "Reward the downstat". If somebody won't work or produce, why then, one simply grabs money from the guy who can and will and hands it over to the one who can't and won't.

But, as they would have to be drilled and drilled to pass a baby's moronic I.Q. test, the government powers that be are not up to recognizing a very vital principle when one goes in for hand-outs: One cannot economically engage in welfare without at the same time increasing the real value of the civilization — to the extent this isn't done, inflation will result.

When one hands out money for nothing, one is creating buying power without creating the goods to buy. Therefore, the existing goods will become scarcer and more expensive. And that's inflation.

Based on these idiocies, the policies of government get one into trouble. Eventually even the worker cannot afford bread.

When too many basic principles are violated, the whole civilization begins to starve and, welfare or no welfare, we're right back to the village that didn't husband game or plant enough crops.

But it is even worse today because of another factor: Safeguarded and defended by patronizing governments, the greedy friends of the state have been permitted to run wild — they are emptying the oceans of fish, chopping down the forests that produced rain, defiling the rivers with pollution and poisoning the air. The get-rich-quick capitalist and the incompetent heads of state are destroying the planet.

Short term gain is their motto. It doesn't matter that the banker hogs the money and won't lend it to plant crops; it doesn't matter if the planes are falling apart — fly them anyway! It doesn't matter if we spend the public coffers into bankruptcy, we won't — they think — be here in a few years, so bleed the place white and who cares about misgovernment.

So we are living in the tag end of a civilization, in the end of a planet.

And it didn't happen accidentally. It happened because of idiot economics. And these all depend upon two things: government greed and the reward of downstats. They think they have to buy the votes by giving away things they don't own. Of course they have to buy the votes — who in his right mind would ever elect such idiots?

So the next time you notice the bread price has gone up, you'll know why.

The people on welfare all want jobs, but it takes smart thinking to actually set up things so people can produce — don't expect that smart thinking from government.

But also don't think that nothing can be done about it and that there is not a better way. The basic principles of economics are quite sound and they exact terrible revenge when tampered with. There IS a subject called economics. But short term profit and advantage can be momentarily achieved at vast expense by avoiding it.

The primary concern of government is to stay in power. Yet the actions that they take today will wind up by destroying this whole planet. If you don't believe it, just look around.

Focus on Success

RUNNING a profitable business in the given economic climate is nigh on impossible without adequate training and guidelines.

I consider myself well hatted as an executive and I sometimes have to pull out all the tricks from the hat and be heroic on occasion to make things work. It is true that the society is carried on the backs of a few desperate men. The obstacles that stand in the way of business success are formidable and require an executive who is not only well trained but very 'together' as a person. Apart from 'sex', I've found that the most aberrated area is 'finance', the exec's achilles heel. So much false data prevails on the subjects of money, economics etc. Additionally, there is the suppressive activity: taxation.

My story is that I was raised on low-havingness regarding money and possessions. I became an ultra-conservative hoarder. I knew nothing about the effect of suppression on one's havingness, one's ability to have things and reach out. I considered that if I could hoard a few pounds a week, put it in the bank and deny myself things, I'd be safe. All else revolved around this — no spirit of play, no adventure, no high pay, no other technology.

I broke this cycle by getting myself de-PTSed with Ron's tech, by studying volume 3 of the Org Exec Course and the 'Finance Series', and as it happens, by joining Scientology staff. This last point toughened me up and forced me to get my business delegated so that I could run it and do what I really wanted to do in life.

All of the above raised my havingness and gave me the correct rules of running business. Things improved. I started to charge for my services instead of dramatising propitiation. I got some promo out, and took on some staff to do all the things I considered that only I could do. I even started to pay myself something decent. Then by intensifying my quest for personal ability and management data I expanded even further. And on the way I learned something. There are a few rules in Finance which can be found to be an extension really of basic Scientology axioms. If one is utterly unreasonable in applying them, one can make a fortune if one wants to: such things as Exchange; Overts and Withholds; Antisocial characteristics, what a Product is; Ethics Conditions; etc.

My business is now turning over over a million pounds a year, run on a part-time basis. It affords me the Bridge™ (classification and gradation chart), a good living, and above all I now discover that I have gained personal ability which could not have been gained in any other way.

If you aren't earning enough, you aren't well enough hatted and apprenticed in LRH's tech.

Tony Brown, SHSBC Student

EVER SINCE I've been knee high to a grasshopper, I've had — in one breath — an abundance of money, and in the next breath I lost it. In 1972 I had a construction company with 80 to 90 employees and large lucrative contracts. Through violation of the Conditions formulae and not knowing what money was, basically lack of the right LRH tech, I lost everything. After that, with the possibility of earning millions in a new company in the Middle East, my partners and I, through violating the Conditions Formulae etc., had £300,000 to £400,000 stolen from us.

Since coming back from the Middle East in early 1984, through having done the Financial Rescue Course, confessionals, training and just carrying on up the Bridge, I find myself in the position of having two businesses with the potential of earning my long awaited, elusive millions. Also, over this period (since early 1984), my wife and I have paid in handsomely for services without breaking sweat.

Pete McAuley

I WAS an engineer on a construction site, when I came into Scientology, and was fairly causative, but — to spare the details — I was stuck in a HORRENDOUS HOLE! I found and read Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health. I continued on in Scientology with admin courses, tech training etc., until now where I'm privileged to be training full-time at AOSH UK.

Through the application of LRH tech, I live in a completely different and MUCH better world. I have more confidence in self and greater capability at handling my own life and in handling others. I also acquired something which to me is more valuable than that: a certainty that I'll gain even greater competence than I have now.

My greatest thanks go to LRH for the technology.

John Buckley

I GOT my present job after receiving auditing in 1981. Before that time I'd been having a hard time with work. After that, things started going really well. I was taken-on on a six-month contract. I have just done five years with the firm! During that time I've increased my sphere of responsibility greatly and one of the primary reasons for this, is knowledge of the Axioms of Scientology, in particular, Axiom 47 — THETA CAN RESOLVE PROBLEMS. This datum has enabled me to complete any project I've been involved in; whereas several previous engineers on one project I took over failed to achieve results and left the company.

The gains I've made, the use I've made of LRH's tech, has enabled me to demand a high income and get good pay rises over the last few years; much higher than the average for my firm (in one year I got a 40% pay rise where other employees got 8%).

Ed Long

WHEN I came into Scientology (applied religious philosophy), through the Communication Course, I was working as a cleaner at University College Hospital, London. At this time, my levels of ability and confront were such that I was happy to mop floors and have as little responsibility as possible.

The Communication Course started something which changed my whole life. No small part of that change was achieved by training (admin as well as tech) and the demonstration of competence in putting the training to use. If you have training which you use, your survival is that much more increased — spiritually and materially. Through applying daily over seven and a half years, the training I've had, I went from humble cleaner, to managing a company employing eighteen people with a turnover of around £400,000 per year. It also 10X'd my own income.

Ability is important definitely, but without training I'd perhaps now be simply a cleared cleaner.

Kevin Culmer

■ John Buckley, Site Electrical Engineer: "Greater capability at handling my own life, and in handling others."

THERE IS probably no area more riddled with False Data than that of Economics and Business. Applied to the world of business and industry, L. Ron Hubbard's technology is an almost incredible passport to success.

I know of an auto executive who concentrated for a two year stint on getting the goals and purposes of his UK operation expressed and communicated within his company. Note: with 'goals' and 'purposes', he was only just beginning to get in the Admin Scale* for his activity. His statistics went through the roof and he was promoted to head up the commercial vehicle division for his group.

A nutrition company I have an interest in, with an all-Scientology exec structure, has been in a screaming affluence for years. This has been entirely due to LRH admin tech and good people who apply it.

I have consulted to a number of businesses, one a Scientologist owned hair fashion group. This group regularly sets new production records and earns editorial praise in fashion magazines etc. Their success is achieved by simply applying LRH data on statistical management, the PR series† and a few other policies.

A medical practice in the West Country went into a supercharged affluence once their organising board was adjusted, and the vital actions of a dissemination division were put into practice.

My observation over 30 years is that those endeavours which put LRH tech into use boom, and when they falter or fail, it is because they failed to use more of the same.

Scientology is the technology which encompasses and is senior to all other technologies. It is a vital prerequisite to continued success and achievement.

A DAY ON THE SAINT HILL SPECIAL BRIEFING COURSE

THE Saint Hill Special Briefing Course, at Saint Hill its original home, is supervised by Flag trained supervisors, there to see that each student gets maximum gain from his studies. After a 'snap and pop' roll-call at 9.15, and 'start', all attention is immediately channelled to the books, tapes, packs and material of the checksheet each student is working on. Students on course are engaged at various levels: some working on level A, some on level B, some on level C and so on.

And on each level, some students might be working on the Theory section of the checksheet and some doing Practical. Students on the same level twin-up.

The checksheet is divided into the Theory section which contains the written data of the level that must be understood by the student — the bulletins, the policy letters, books, tapes and manuals, and the Practical section where the student does the clay demos, E-Meter™ drills and Doll drills that will make him well practised and competent on that level. Each student rigorously follows the checksheet signing off each item when he's fully certain that he's duplicated the data.

Morning continues, each student busily going about his work; some reading, some star-rating or zero-rating on bulletins, some listening to the LRH taped lectures (and following the text on transcript) that are relevant to the level he is studying. Others do E-Meter drills and Doll drills.

On the practical section, a student gains proficiency in the tech he will soon be delivering in session; all aspects of the level he is working on are covered fully. With his twin he works on E-Meter drills, he does TRs, he perfects his auditing comm cycle, he does the Doll Drill for every process he will be auditing on the particular level. While the student was still on the Theory section, he studied these processes from the appropriate source reference.

He learned why the process was done, and he learned the basic format of the process. Now on the Practical section, he will drill with another student and a doll until he is able to deliver that process flawlessly and is able to determine when to end the process so that his PC gets maximum gain. When a student takes someone into session he already is experienced.

At 12.00 sharp, the supervisor gives a 'that's it' and class breaks for lunch. Now the students get to know each other better over lunch, or on a pleasant walk through the Saint Hill grounds, but whatever, it's an enjoyable time of the day. At 1.00 o'clock the Supervisor calls the roll and 'Starts' the class. Everyone again gets down to work.

A lot of auditing gets done on the Briefing Course. It takes a lot of auditing to make a grade of Release. Each grade has many processes and the student learns to audit each of them standardly. And on the SHSBC™ every-thing except Power auditing can be co-audited up to, and including, OT™ Preps and OT Eligibility auditing. (To co-audit NED™, the NED course must be done). There is a lot of enthusiasm.

There is a high level of ARC between students and supervisors, and students and fellow students. A student can always rely on a fellow student to give him an extra bit of coaching. Of course the supervisor is there to rapidly and standardly debug any problems that arise.

Study and drills continue into the afternoon. Students, about to give a session review their preclears' folders.

When a student has studied all of the Theory section of his checksheet and knows that he understands it, he attests to it if 'Fast Flow', or gets an examination if he isn't. Having passed that, he is ready to move on to the Practical section of his checksheet which also includes all of the auditing of that level. When he has successfully completed this he then becomes a level A auditor or level B, level C, D, E or when he has completed level F he is, of course, an SHSBC graduate.

When someone completes a level it's a memorable event for all the other students. And the graduating student will receive a photo of Ron in his office in Saint Hill Manor. When someone completes all of the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course, it's a momentous event for the entire org at Saint Hill.

At 3.30 there is a fifteen minute break (if you're on target) with the opportunity of a cup of tea or coffee and a friendly hello to fellow students and preclears and Pre-OTs around the org. The course starts again until 6.00. And then from 7.00 or 8.00 depending on your schedule, to 11.00 p.m. At the end of the day you post your points on your graph. If your points dip, you get a rapid in-tech debug. You will see your daily stats rise to a level where you are studying, learning and delivering tech to the optimum quality and quantity. On occasion, if needed, you might get debugged in the cramming section.

At the end of the last study-period you get a final 'That's it'. You and/or your fellow students give the many wins you've had.

It's been another great day on the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course. It's been fun; it's been challenging and it's the best way in the world — the only way in the world — to gain a philosophical understanding of the subject of Scientology.

NEWS FROM ARC

UK WINS

The wins in this section (UK) are attributable to SoCo (Social Coordination). It is the means by which we will get LRH technologies into standard use in all the non-church areas of society; and was established, primarily, to assist those groups involved in revitalising the fields of education, drugs, and criminal rehabilitation.

THERE IS great news from Social Co-ordination as it continues to get its technology delivered to more and more people — both in the UK and New Commonwealth areas.

Effective Education Association (EAA), a SoCo group, existed only in East Grinstead two and a half years ago. Now there is also an EAA in Croydon near London, an EAA Southwest (in Plymouth), an EAA North (in Cumbria), an EAA Sunderland, and an EEA Scotland.

EAA East Grinstead continues to deliver to children and parents alike. Parents are enthusiastic about the difference to the family which hatting on LRH material for parents has made. One parent said her children were so much better behaved even before she had had a chance to apply her newly learned technology to them!

Concerned Businessmen's Associations are springing up in many places around the UK. (A Concerned Businessmen's Association is a group of businessmen — Scientologists and non-Scientologists — working together with the aim of raising the moral and ethical standards in society through the distribution of the Way to Happiness booklet). One such group, newly formed in Sunderland contacted a school which wanted six of its teachers to train on the Way to Happiness courses so that they could better help children at their school. One main thrust of the Concerned Businessmen's Associations' work is to improve the moral and ethical standards of youth. This is being carried out with the national Set A Good Example Competition where people between ages six and eighteen (divided into four age categories) apply a precept of the Way to Happiness book and send their application-project in, to be judged by April 1987. The winners not only stay in a fine upstat London hotel with their parents, are entertained in London, go on TV and receive their medals at a special Awards luncheon, but also automatically qualify for the International contest and the possibility of winning a holiday in California!

Weekly, thousands of UK children are asking for competition entry forms.

LRH technology is also being applied to the businessworld. Recently, a busy medical practice became even busier by use of standard administration applied to the practice, and a nationally known company was helped successfully with the application of LRH technology to a specific business situation.

Especially at this time of year, more businesses than usual find it appropriate to send out copies of The Way to Happiness to their customers. One firm which has been doing this for over a year found that its income had grown threefold since it had been doing this!

An army of Field Staff Members is needed to help in this area of SoCo's activities where the potential publics number in the millions. (SoCo has the purpose of making a safer saner UK and Commonwealth). If you have any friends who could make use of the technology in their work (e.g. teachers, social workers, parents, company directors etc.) please contact Social Coordination today who will help you get your contacts set up with the right LRH tech.

SoCo are also looking for Narconon* lecturers and staff. The aim is to get Narconon fully operational in the UK and revert the current drug problem.

For further information please contact today:

Sheila Gaiman, Social Coordination UK
1 Normans Gardens, East Grinstead
West Sussex RH19 1BB. Telephone 0342 24662

Congratulations to Sheila Gaiman (SHSBC graduate and Executive Director of SoCo UK), who has just become the first UK staff member to complete New OT VII! VERY WELL DONE!

* Narconon: the Narconon programme based on the technology of L. Ron Hubbard, is designed to make drug dependent people, non-drug dependent. It is highly successful.

Greenfields LRH study tech school near East Grinstead has continued to expand in terms of student numbers enrolling, facilities, and in its influence. Two of their teaching staff were recently filmed by Croydon cable TV in a discussion on the state of Education today. Naturally, the use of LRH study tech was advanced as a solution to the existing educational crisis.

She is also to perform in a major concert at the Olympia Theatre in Paris in aid of a well-known charity, "Little Brothers of the Poor". Then after completing the promotion of Dianetics in France, Julia will be flying to London to perform on the Des O'Connor Show!!

The incredible job which Julia has been doing in France is attributable in no small part to the wins she has been getting from her auditing on the special celebrity project, which is being run by Religious Technology Center® in Los Angeles. For the past year the project has been auditing celebrities on False Purpose Rundown™ counselling with the end result that the celebrities are now applying Scientology ethics, tech and policy right across their dynamics and openly disseminating Scientology.

Julia is one of the many celebrities on the project who are broadly disseminating their successes in applying Scientology technology while becoming increasingly successful in their careers. Earlier this year Julia won the prestigious "Hispanic (Spanish) Woman of the Year Award", proving she is a stellar example of a celebrity in her field applying standard tech to her life and achieving results!

On the Celebrity auditing project there are many other well known celebrities who are receiving auditing on the False Purpose Rundown. These include John Travolta, Priscilla Presley, Karen Black, Misha Segal (Emmy Award winning composer), Michael Roberts, Geoff Lewis, Frank Stallone (actor), Cyprien Katsaris and Chick Corea.

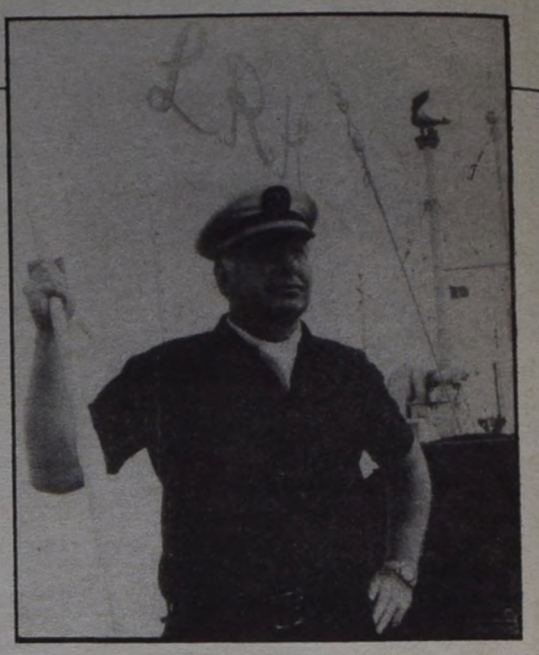

John Travolta

INTERNATIONAL movie star John Travolta has selected twelve people to the Santa Barbara California org for services. To acknowledge Dan Forrest, the auditor of several of his selectees, Travolta invited Dan and his wife Willie May, out to his ranch for dinner. Dan and Willie Mae then returned the favour and had Travolta over to their home for dinner.

Ali buys DMSMH!

A SAN FRANCISCO Mission registrar recently met former world heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali in a hotel elevator and got in comm with him. The registrar then accompanied Ali into the hotel restaurant and sold him a copy of Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health!

"Others talk about a better world. We are making one. We're the ONLY chance man has. Don't forget it."

L. Ron Hubbard (Ron's Journal 28, 1971)

DMSMH sales rocket to over 8 million!

L. RON HUBBARD's Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health is taking the United States by storm, with sales figures having now reached the 8 million mark! First published in 1950 — when it immediately shot to the top of best-seller lists across the country — Ron's famous self-help book is today one of the most sought-after works in American bookstores.

As far as the publishing industry is concerned, Dianetics is an unprecedented phenomenon. Ron has recently achieved something that no other author of non-fiction has ever accomplished before — after 36 years in print, after 60 printings, Dianetics has returned to the prestigious New York Times best-seller list. And it has stayed there for over three months (so far).

The New York Times best-seller list is the one that is considered by the literary world as THE measure of a book's popularity. The list is compiled from a weekly survey of the most popular books, measured by sales statistics, in more than 2,000 bookstores across the United States.

Orgs and missions across the country are gearing up for the inflow of new pcs that always follows such a boom in booksales. The Dianetics hotline — a nation-wide toll-free number that people can call for more information on Dianetics — has been inundated with calls from all over the U.S., virtually all with the same basic request: "I've read the book; now where can I find an auditor?"

THE FIFTH VOLUME of LRH's bestselling Mission Earth series, Fortune of Fear, has just been released and is now on sale in the US and Canada.

Already the book is in the top five of the bestseller lists across the country including the New York Times bestseller list! This means that every volume of the series so far has been a national and a New York Times bestseller.

China reads Dianetics!

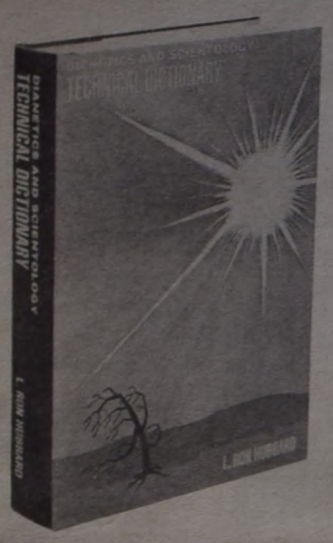

JUST RECENTLY a very large number of copies of Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health were purchased by the government of China to be distributed throughout the nation. This came about after the Chinese government official responsible for ordering books was given a Book One™ session by a SoCo representative.

REALLY KNOW THE STUDY TECH AND REFER TO IT AGAIN AND AGAIN!

One of Ron's most basic and far-reaching breakthroughs is the exact tech of how to study.

This knowledge — completely unknown before Ron discovered it — can enable you to duplicate and apply virtually anything you study.

The ten high-quality tape cassettes in Ron's own voice and printed transcripts in one sturdy, custom binder make this set an invaluable tool and reference — to help you move through any course faster.

Here you'll find Ron's original and full and entertaining explanation of the Barriers to Study, Duplication and Judgement, Practical Application and all the other aspects of successful study.

And it is invaluable for anyone!

HOW TO ORDER

Get your own STUDY TAPES package by sending your order to the AOSHUK Bookstore Officer. Equip yourself with the "know-how" of how to learn any subject you study.

E-METERS™ AND BOOKS FOR ACADEMY STUDENTS

There is a policy for Academies that each student own his own E-Meter. This is true for any level Academy Course.

It's up to the D of T* to make sure his students own their own meters and are using E-Meters as per policy.

TEXTBOOKS

An Org Tech Div or any other part of the organization may not provide a library as a substitute for students buying their own textbooks. In any non-state supported grade school and in any college or university students are expected to buy their own textbooks for their courses. They are told what to buy before starting the course and do so. Don't violate this custom.

Also, students will do better if they own their own textbooks as, naturally, they will need them for reference.

Any Scientology book on a check sheet must be bought by the student for that course. This is true of Foundation courses also.

UND THE WORLD

Book One Fair

ABOUT seven blocks of New York's busiest most upstat street is closed off on one Sunday and people who love books and reading visit the booths set up by the different publishers. This year's fair was attended by over 100,000 people.

The response from the public to our LRH books promotion was overwhelming. There were four Book One auditors kept busy for five to six hours. People had to line up and wait for sessions. At one point all the auditors were busy and a woman really wanted a session (she had been waiting ten minutes!) An FSM in the crowd was pulled in, crammed on the spot, and the woman was taken into session in a quiet spot between two booths!

Some of the wins were: an Indian gynaecologist and author ran a car accident and came out VGIs* knowing that Dianetics technology works!

A young woman ran an incident of child abuse and did an interview right afterwards (which was videotaped). In this she raved about the tech and said she was going to tell everyone about it!

A woman handled her personal ruin in life, came out of the session and started saying to her friend: "I've just had the most incredible experience . . ."

One auditor had had 20 PCs. All of them said they wanted to buy the book or get more auditing!

Very Good Indicators*

Tanzania

A PUBLISHER in Tanzania, in Africa, has ordered 10,000 copies of the Learning Book.

Nationally televised Flag!

THE Flag™ Land Base in Clearwater, Florida, USA has been hosting highly successful conventions and meetings of international opinion leaders.

At one recent convention, the Secretary of State of Florida, the Secretary of Culture of Mexico, fifteen to twenty specially invited Equadorians and many other guests were present. The convention was video-taped and includes great shots of the Lobby, Ballroom and several other upstat areas of the Fort Harrison (Flag's main building). The full unedited version of this video is being broadcast on both Florida cable TV and Equador national TV!

In Australia

RECENTLY, in Sydney Australia, a two hour interview was broadcast on national radio. This programme, on Battlefield Earth and Mission Earth, was broadcast to around 100,000 listeners. It was pure theta! The disc jockey has read Battlefield Earth and Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health, and is now completely enthusiastic about L. Ron Hubbard. He had seen Battlefield Earth in a lending library, picked it up and started reading. Seven hours later when the library was due to close, he was still reading. He then hid the book and came back next morning and completed it. Then he bought Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health (DMSMH) and other non-fiction books by LRH and loved them. The disc jockey said that he had actually compared Battlefield Earth with DMSMH and he could see Hubbard's philosophy shining through in some of the characters!

Italy

A FULL three-page book review of All About Radiation was printed in a national Italian monthly magazine for urban public!

Four new TV channels in ITALY have started to broadcast the whole 21-part series of the Anatomy of the Human Mind course. This is in addition to the seven stations which have already been running the programmes weekly.

Italian Road to Freedom

IN A recent week, in Italy, thirty five radio stations played different songs from LRH's Road to Freedom album.

Interest grows in India

DIANETICS: The Modern Science of Mental Health was released in India recently. To connect up the public buying the book, Dr. Subash Sood a long time Scientologist in India was contacted by I HELP (these letters stand for International Hubbard Ecclesiastical League of Pastors. It is responsible for Field Auditor activities). Dr. Sood readily agreed to get together a group of interested public for a Book One workshop. Trey Lotz, an experienced Field Auditor in Los Angeles, volunteered to go to India to deliver the workshop and establish a field group.

The workshop was held in Ambala about 150 miles north of New Delhi, the capital. There were 24 attendees. Trey found that his students were community leaders and noted scholars in the area. Among the attendees were six medical doctors, two university professors, three engineers and several teachers, lawyers and other professionals. One doctor thanked Trey for bringing Dianetics technology to India.

There was a unanimous dicision to form up a Dianetics Counselling Group. The org board was made and the posts assigned. A good stock of DMSMH had been brought up from New Delhi for resale. For further expansion a forming Mission is planned for the area and preparations are already underway!

Books on the move!

STAFF MEMBERS in Italian orgs have begun a dissemination and booksales campaign using motor vans. These are fitted out with books and promotional literature and sent into heavily populated areas where there are no orgs or other groups. Field staff members manning the vans pass out large quantities of fliers, sell books and give introductory lectures. The vans compete with each other in production stats such as booksales, and people signed up and gotten onto services. The top three vans will be awarded the Golden Van, the Silver Van, and the Bronze Van trophies. So far, Padova org, Brescia org, Milano org, and Roma org have these vans. The Padova org van (first one operational) travels on the coast near Venice which is crowded with tourists.

In a recent week, nine Purification Rundown starts came directly from dissemination activities done with these vans. Many Field staff members involved in the Van Game are starting new groups in areas they visit. SIXTEEN new groups have opened in this way since the game started!

Dissemination in Spain

VERY RECENTLY, the internationally syndicated* Spanish newspaper YA printed an interview they'd just done with the Executive Director of the Way to Happiness Foundation. This newspaper, which goes to all Spanish-speaking areas of the world then printed a very theta article on the Foundation's work. One radio station broadcasting worldwide, and three national radio stations in Spain picked up the story and sent reporters to interview the Way to Happiness Campaign In-Charge. The Campaign In-Charge also received a letter from the magistrate of the Ministry of Education in Spain who wanted to know more about The Way to Happiness. He originated that he may want to use the precepts in a course the Ministry of Education has created on morals and ethics!

The Campaign In-Charge was also reached by the Agence EFE. This, for the Spanish-speaking world, is the equivalent of United Press International or Associated Press wireservices. This agency supplies the Spanish television radio and print media around the planet with news items. They enquired about The Way to Happiness booklet and The Way to Happiness Foundation.

* (Syndicate: to publish through an association that acquires stories, articles etc., for simultaneous publication in numerous newspapers and periodicals).

Italians read LRH

AVANTI, a national newspaper in Italy with a circulation of over 200,000 copies, recently had an article on LRH and The Fundamentals of Thought. There was a long quote from Fundamentals of Thought in the article. Avanti is the national newspaper of the Socialist Party in Italy. It's the second time in two months that they have printed a theta article on LRH and his books.

HAPI

(The initials HAPI stand for Hubbard Academy of Personal Independence. It is located in Edinburgh, Scotland).

Celebrity Centre™ Event at HAPI

HAPI on Saturday, 22nd November experienced its most successful event in many years. It was for the setting up of a Celebrity Centre™ in Edinburgh.

Seventy five people packed into the Adam Room of the George Hotel off Princes Street, Edinburgh and for nearly three hours thrilled to the entertainment of Scientology poet Ren (Bake) from Toronto Canada, international singer Andrik and the East Grinstead Scientology band EXIT. (Paul Fink, Tom Hardy, Craig Mathieson, Tony Phipps and 'Woody' Woodmansey).

The Poet Ren read his own and LRH's poetry, the band played, and Andrik sang. (Andrik, a recording artist and singer in eight languages is best known in Mexico and Latin America and areas of the United States. He is a Sea Org member now and still performs some public concerts).

The audience responded with standing ovation after standing ovation and cheered thunderously when Andrik (natively Dutch) returned to the stage after his first 'set' wearing full Scottish dress including kilt and sporran!

The audience's enthusiasm was reflected in the £120,000 pledged towards the setting up of Celebrity Centre Edinburgh. The day after the event, the following people signed up for CC Edinburgh staff: Brian Henderson, Vera Lessen, Cathy Marsh, Norrie Maver, Stephen Milroy, Lorraine McCallum, Tracey MacLure, Dorothy Milton, Ian Milton, Jimmy Peace and Betty Spence.

Betty Wordie who had set up the event said: "The reason it was so successful was that everything to do with its organization was done based on LRH's original advices for Scotland. Seventy people were confirmed as coming to the event; seventy five turned up. That's almost unheard of anywhere. What this has done is revive the whole Scottish purpose!"

Sign up for your OT Preps Auditing at Saint Hill UK

OT Preparation Auditing is a tailor-made programme for the pre-OT for exactly what that pre-OT needs to be in good case shape to get onto his OT Levels. No actions, not needed by that particular individual for preparation for the OT sections are given on OT Preparation auditing.

". . . at this point on the Bridge the person's past auditing is reviewed and repaired as needed, his Clear state is verified, he is cleaned up with Confessionals and any study problems are handled."

From HCOB 3 Dec 1981 RC, OT Preparations/Solo Set Ups by LRH

Saint Hill UK pre-OTs have reported incredible wins and changes on their OT Preps. They rave about just how accurate the action was in pin-pointing exactly the exact 'bug' on their case; and how much gain they got out of the action.

If as a Pre-OT you are yet to receive this action, YOU NEED TO GET ONTO IT FAST! RON TELLS YOU TO!

"IT IS VITALLY, VITALLY IMPORTANT THAT ONE GETS ANY PERSON WHO HAS GONE CLEAR THROUGH HIS NEXT REQUIRED STEPS ONTO OT I AND THROUGH OT III RAPIDLY.

"This means with no unnecessary interruption of that route whatsoever. It means with any additional required auditing or preparation kept to the minimum that IS needed."

From HCOB 23 Dec 1971 RA The No-Interference Area Clarified and Re-Enforced by LRH

The average time it takes most pre-OTs to get through their OT Preps is about one to two intensives. It must be kept in mind that this is a totally tailored action for each individual, and that this is only an average. Some people will require more, some complete in less than an intensive.

However long it takes, your Preps will only be the minimum auditing needed to clean up your case, and ensure that you are set up to go through the OT sections smoothly and with maximum case gain.

Your OT Preps at Saint Hill can be done concurrently with Solo Part One.

Contact the AOSH UK Registrar on 0342 314140 or 0342 24571.

PLYMOUTH

Plymouth org's number one FSM Sheila Penny is doing very well. She has a group in Torpoint (that's around five miles out from the town of Plymouth itself). One other prominent group member is Kandie Chalmers. They meet every Monday evening and have just had two completions on the 'How To Achieve Effective Communication' course. As well as running the group, Sheila helps out in the org during the afternoons. (In the evenings she trains on the Academy levels).

Jenny and Phil Scarfe-Beckett are setting up a Field Practice in Plymouth; and Plymouth org also has a fulltime Field Auditor who delivers Book One auditing, Paul Timms.

GET TRAINED!

THE LEAD ARTICLE to this issue of the Auditor, ECONOMIC SYSTEMS, gives you a pretty good idea why you need to get trained.

It is fine to be processed and in good case shape. Everyone should be. But Training is the ONLY way you can guarantee yourself you will stay that way. THE TRAINED AUDITOR UNDERSTANDS WHY THINGS ARE THE WAY THEY ARE AND HE KNOWS HOW TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT THEM.

Training is the way to get ALL of the Bridge (classification and gradation chart). Training answers all the questions, unlocks all the secrets, exposes all the mysteries.

Check over again what Ron says in that article. It's of course accurate. Life in this universe can be a rough proposition. In Dianetics (spiritual healing technology) and Scientology (applied religious philosophy) we have the road out. TO GET ALL THE WAY OUT — TO REALLY BECOME CAUSE OVER LIFE — YOU MUST GET TRAINED.

CELEBRITY CENTRE EVENT AT SAINT HILL!

ON Saturday 15th November, an event was held at Saint Hill to initiate the launch of a new Celebrity Centre London.

With musical entertainment provided by Jane Billing, Bob Carter, Paul Fink, Tom Hardy, Craig Mathieson, Tony Phipps, Peter Schless, Alexis Whyte, Mike ('Woody') Woodmansey and Gwen Young, the event was addressed by the Vice President of Celebrity Centre International Pat Gualtieri, and Scientology celebrities Jeff Pomerantz, Peter Schless and international singer Andrik. (Andrik is best known in Mexico, Latin America and areas of the United States. He is a Sea Org member at Celebrity Centre International. He still performs some public concerts.)

Jeff Pomerantz before joining Sea Org staff at Celebrity Centre International in Los Angeles, was an accomplished and highly successful actor. He plays a lead role in the recently released LRH movie 'What Happened To These Civilisations'. He has appeared in many Broadway plays and has starred in numerous TV series including the very popular Dynasty. Peter Schless amongst his many credits has composed music for the movie Rambo, and wrote the song, 'On the Wings of Love'. An overwhelming international success, it was not only a chart-topping hit, but the most performed song around the planet in 1983. Peter Schless is a full time staff member at Celebrity Centre International.

The expansion of the Celebrity Centre network is an on-going activity. Celebrity Centres exist in Los Angeles, New York, Las Vegas, Paris and Hamburg. There are forming Celebrity Centres (CCs) in Washington, Nashville and Chicago in the USA; in Montreal, Toronto and Edmonton in Canada; in Firenze, Italy; and in Dusseldorf in Germany. And there are two new CCs soon to join the network: Celebrity Centre Anchorage, Alaska; and Celebrity Centre Cuernavaca, Mexico. So if a Celebrity Centre London was being established because one doesn't exist there at present, that would be good enough reason. But there is more to it. As Peter Schless says: "London is particularly important. Two or three years ago, with the advent of producers like Phil Collins, terminals in the UK music industry became Opinion Leaders for the American music industry.

"The English music industry does make a very heavy impact on the entire music world. A Celebrity Centre London will be there to bring Ethics tech to the English music industry; it will be there to salvage artists. The consequences of there being a Celebrity Centre in London, should be a saner planet."

From A Description of Scientology: "It is a discovery of Scientology . . . that people are not bodies, but that people are living units operating bodies".

Andrik says similarly: "England has been an empire of Culture for the planet and the new CC will be there to deliver LRH's technology to all the true celebrities of the Anglo Saxon culture and speed up in an important way the renaissance of a new civilisation".

And Pat Gualtieri (Vice President of Celebrity Centre International in Los Angeles): "You have to look at it from the viewpoint of clearing a planet. You need to look over what Ron says an Opinion Leader is — also what a Celebrity is — and does. In PR Series[1] 6: "opinion leaders" form public opinion"; and a Celebrity is by definition[2] an Opinion Leader".

"Right here in London you have some of the biggest opinion leaders it's possible to have anywhere in the world. Hit Broadway shows like 'Cats' and 'Evita' originate here. The Paul McCartneys and the Andrew Lloyd-Webers are here. In theatre, music, the Arts in general; and in business, London is the crossroads of the world."

professional musician, and as a celebrity himself, produced the first hit single ('Wham Rap') of the international chart-topping group WHAM! Commenting on the proposed Celebrity Centre and the fact that he will be on staff there he spoke for many when he said: "This is totally along my purpose line; the whole thing is like a dream come true".

[2] Given in HCO Policy Letter 23 May 1976, CELEBRITIES, by LRH.

CELEBRITY is also further defined as: ANY PERSON IMPORTANT IN HIS FIELD OR AN OPINION LEADER OR HIS ENTOURAGE, BUSINESS ASSOCIATES, FAMILY OR FRIENDS WITH PARTICULAR ATTENTION TO THE ARTS, SPORTS AND MANAGEMENT AND GOVERNMENT.
