Manacled to William Dudley Pelley

By C. Leon de Aryan

It happened in the district jail in Washington, D. C. At that time I wrote out a detailed account and mailed it to THE BROOM, but the editor did not consider it politic to publish it since the heat was on. The manuscript has been mislayed and now I am writing from memory.

William Dudley Pelley, the leader of the Silver Shirts, is not a tall man. Greyish hair, and gives one the impression of Pericles. Spiriual propensities in the head very strongly developed. A very impressive man, exemplifies great will power, and whether one agres with him or not, he inspires respect and attention.

He was housed in a different cell block from me, in solitary confinement, to keep him away from contact with the rest of us "conspirators". But as we were to appear in court, for some reason or other, which I have forgotten in detail, he was shackled to me when we were herded into the "black Maria", and believe me, the truck was pitch dark, one could not see the other prisoners in the van once the door was locked. Thus William Dudley Pelley and C. Leon de Aryan had the honor of making their acquaintance.

At the court house we were herded into the marshal's "bull-pen", a large cell with benches along the walls, a toilet and wash basin. Most of the prisoners happened to be negroes that day, so Pelley and I walked up and down the cell and talked things over. We were together about 2 hours and had the opportunity to exchange plenty of information.

I had read many of his writings and had republished some of his articles, for having done so I was charged with "conspiracy". Nobody knew better how foolish the charge was, than us two, who had never met before, never had any correspondence and now after being indicted, we met for the first time in our lives, in jail, as "conspirators".

Pelly was a little down cast and his concern was for his material possessions, the building with the printing equipment, etc. He was also much perturbed about his daughter who was under arrest at the time. I was surprised to see him perturbed about material possessions. Whatever work I have been doing was done in the service of the Lord and I never worried about material possessions. Whatever I needed to do the work has always been furnished me since I am merely a servant who carries out orders, and so I attempted to explain to Pelley that in a great national and world crisis, those who are persecuted for the sake of the truth need not worry about material things, everything is provided so they may do the work. Of course I had easy talking because I own nothing in this world, but that is how I always considered the disciple to be and I never attempt to accumulate anything because it ties me down and interferes with my free lance work.

"How does it come that you were fighting the Jews?" asked Pelley. "I remember when you were fighting me and protected the Jews. Why did you change about face?"

"I never changed about face. It looks that way to the uninformed, I am always the same. My business is to stand by those who are persecuted. When your outfit in San Diego attempted to terrorize Jews, I came out openly against the Silver Shirts and made them desist. But as soon as the Jews started to terrorize those who refused to bow to their boycott of German made goods before Pearl Harbor, naturally, I took sides against their terrorism. The Jews forgot immediately that we were living in America, and decided to put me out of business by terrorizing my advertisers and subscribers. That, of course, determined the situation. Now I could not recede and as long as they continue to boycott the BROOM, I'll continue to expose their alien and un-American attitude and terroristic ruthless persecution of Christians who dare be Christians. So you see, I never changed the policy. I am neither for or against the Jews, I am against all forms of violence and coercion. When your Silver Shirts were guilty of it, I exposed them, when the Jews are guilty of it, I fight them to a stand still and never give in."

The talk then drifted to conditions in general in Europe and the U. S. A. Pelley wanted to know my attitude in the matter of Jews being the cause of existing evil conditions in the world. This included my views about the international bankers and the munition trust. I set it forth somewhat as follows:

"We, who know God and the state of absolute justice in this universe, can at no time claim that the Jews caused the existing evil to prevail. It would be an admission of dereliction on the part of the invisible government which directs human affairs from the spiritual realms of which you and I are supposed to be aware. As a conscious member of that invisible administration, I know that we could not permit such a thing to happen, as is claimed that the Jews are imposing unjust conditions upon Gentiles. The fact is that Gentiles are derelict in attending to their own duties and have betrayed their trust. For example, here in the U. S. we have had all the opportunities and liberty to make this a paradise on earth. We had the unlimited power of the vote. But the white folks prefer booze, tobacco, meat, profligacy and whoopee, which fills out their spare time. To that extent it offers an opportunity to the parasites to take control. That is how the international usurers get control. The new deal came on the booze wagon, that is how Roosevelt rode into the White House. And things went from bad to worse until we are now in the war. Naturally, the Rothschilds and their allies who have profited from every war since Amshel Meyer made his first 2 million dollars by shipping Hessians to fight George Washington's colonials, are coinig money, hands over fist, from the hundreds of billions of indebtedness now foisted upon the U. S. taxpayers. But it is those very taxpayers who are hollering for more bonds, so why blame the Jews and their international bankers? They merely take advantage of the opportunities to exploit the ignorance and folly of the Gentiles. We white men can draw circles around any Jew. I have not met one yet who could outsmart me. They are not supermen, they merely watch for their opportunities. If we gave them none to rob us, they could not do it, so why blame them? They are the power described by Gothe's Mephisto, who always willing evil, serves the good. They force the Gentiles to get a move on themselves. Look how they are spreading Americans all over the globe to introduce American methods and machinery through lend-lease. Why did we not do it voluntarily in peace time? Now we have to do it to protect the British empire and France, which means Rothschild and the Sassoons. Where Jews are not able to take advantage of Gentiles, but must go to work, they are good husbandmen. I saw what they did in Palestine. I was their guest there. I have always been treated by them as a fellow Jew, even in their synagogues.

"Old country Jews refused to believe that I was not a Jew, since I spoke their jargon and knew many of their religious and Talmudic habits."

"Then why are you fighting them so bitterly in THE BROOM?" asked Pelley.

"Because, they, as the power behind the new deal, the communistic-socialistic ideology and the labor racket, patterned after their Kosher butchers unions, which demanded the crucifixion of Christ when he abolished the pascal lamb slaughter and introduced vegetarianism as the last communion in celebrating the pascal feast, are attempting to dictate to me and how I may conduct THE BROOM. When a thing comes home to me personally, naturally my sovereign rights as an individual are in jeopardy. That means war for survival and once the war is on between the individualistic concept of American rights, as the Founding Fathers conceived them and the new deal socialistic-communistic ideology, with its boycotts and class hatreds, in the heat of the battle, one need not expect me to be wonderfully sweet to those who want my scalp and persecute me."

"Then after all, you hate them, too," said Pelley.

"No, I don't. I fight to stop them. When I'll stop them and recover my old composure I believe in noblesse oblige. I cannot afford to hate anybody and I would not lower myself to hate a Jew."

What Christians Protest ?

"In Fact", 10-11-43 issue, headlined: "SUPPRESSED NEWS: 'POISONED' HYMNAL IN U. S. ARMY". To quote: "Although the Chief of Chaplains, War Department (Monsignor William R. Arnold) suspended further printing of a book of Bible readings for soldiers after anti-labor and anti-Semitic subheads and footnotes were called to his attention" (Note: the excellent Catholic translation of the New Testament arranged for daily dated readings) "neither he nor the Bureau of Public Relations of the War Dept. is going to take any action regarding an equally 'poisoned' hymn book now being supplied to our armed forces. . . Credit for uncovering the anti-Semitic page in the hymnal goes to Kenneth Leslie, chairman, TEXTBOOK COMMISSION TO ELIMINATE ANTI-SEMITIC STATEMENTS IN AMERICAN TEXTBOOKS (521 Fifth Ave., NYC)". (the B'nai B'rith backed communistic Jewish front outfit responsible for suspending "further printing" by order of FDR of the above New Testament). The subtitle of the next paragraph is "TEXT NOT IN ACCORDANCE WITH BIBLE". But it is. "In its protest the Textbook Commission states: 'May I call attention to p. 53 of this book. Under the caption "The Cyrenean Helps Jesus to Carry His Cross" the Priest is quoted "Consider how the Jews, seeing that at each step Jesus was on the point of expiring, and fearing He would die on the way, when they wished Him to die the ignominious death of the Cross, constrained Simon the Cyrenean to carry the Cross behind our Lord."

" 'It seems to me that a hymn book such as this to be used by Catholic Protestant and Jews should have been carefully edited. Apart from the fact that the Gospel story would appear to be quite at variance with the passage quoted on page 53, this passage is paraphrased in a way that is scarcely conducive to the creation of good will.'

"MONS ARNOLD AND WAR DEPT PASS THE BUCK" "To this polite request for some action eliminating anti-Semitism and a false statement in the newly selected hymnal, the Chief of Chaplains replied: 'Your letter and telegram have been referred to Bureau of Public Relations, War Dept. Sincerely, Wm. R. Arnold, Chief of Chaplains.' Two weeks later Mr. Leslie received a somewhat less curt reply . . . " (from the War Department dated Aug. 30, 1943) " 'I am writing to acknowledge receipt of your letter and telegram addressed to the Chief of Chaplains in which you take exception to the portion of the 'Song and Service Book for Ship and Field, Army and Navy', specifically page 53 of the book. We appreciate the spirit of your letter and telegram to the Chief of Chaplains. I believe that the prayer in question was composed in 1761 and has been in universal use in all Catholic churches throughout the world since that time. It would not be in the province of the War Department to make any alterations as you suggest. It would seem to me that if you desire to pursue the matter further, you should contact proper authorities in the Catholic Church. Sincerely yours, F. V. Fitzgerald, Colonel, GSC' ".

It is Gospel

Note that the Gospels of Matthew (27:32) Mark (15:21) and Luke (23:26) not only tell of Simon the Cyreanean helping to bear Christ's Cross but of the bloodthirsty insistence of the Jews that Christ be crucified and Pilate's reluctance to permit this. The 19th chapter of the Gospel of St. John describes how Pilate, the Roman, sought to release Christ, saying he found no fault in Him, but was overwhelmed by the fiery demands of Jewry for His Crucifixion. That is the Gospel.

"Christian" Pastor — Jewish Delegate

As an example of Judaized confusion in Christian circles take the following situation. The Intercollegiate Menorah Association, like the Hilled centers, are for the "advancement of Jewish culture and ideals" in colleges (Am. Jewish Year Book 1940-1). In the American Hebrew magazine article, 10-15-43, by Karl M. Chworowsky "Minister, Flatbush Unitarian Church, Brooklyn, New York", presumably Christian, is this: "Some of the most precious memories I cherish go back to my post-graduate days at the University of Wisconsin where for two years I enjoyed the privilege of being a member of the Intercollegiate Menorah Association. As I was at the time not only an instructor at the university but also a Protestant Assistant University Pastor, it will be understood why to most of my Jewish friends of the Menorah Association I was known as 'the Galach' . . . For two consecutive years, the Wisconsin Menorah elected me its delegate to the annual convention . . . "

Pro-Red anti-Christian B'nai B'rith magazine, 5-38, claimed credit for the organized movement for changed attitudes toward marriage and for sex "marriage institutes" first introduced by Rabbi Landman as B'nai B'rith's Hillel Foundation director at the University of Wisconsin, ten years before. In my University of Michigan report, the student daily is quoted concerning 234 similar sex courses in colleges all over the U. S. A. The filthiness of the University of Michigan sex course given mixed classes, as described to me by students, beggared description.—Elizabeth Dilling.

OUR BOOZE PRESIDENT

Lets not forget that Mr. Roosevelt rode into office on the booze wagon. Drunken people fail to notice how he misleads them and never keeps a promise. A divinely led executive follows Jesus' example who rather submits to crucifiction than break a single promise.

He Saved the Banks in 1933

WASHINGTON— Misuse of more than a million dollars of the First National Bank-Detroit's monies, whose closing precipitated the 1933 financial crisis, is alleged against Treasury Secretary Henry L. Morgenthau jr., and Currency Comptroller Preston Delano in a suit filed in the court of claims. Both officials are liable to impeachment if the stockholders' petition is upheld, according to the lawyers who have brought the action. The attorneys contend that the money was used to pay expenses of clerks and other employes in Washington, although they state the law specifically provides that the cash of an insolvent institution cannot be used for that purpose. Congress appropriates sums for federal personnel engaged in this work, so it is charged that the assets were "illegally and secretly abstracted."

The plaintiffs further allege that there was never any need for putting the establishment out of business in the first place. Depositors, they say, have been paid 107 cents on the dollar and they announce that the receiver is about to liquidate the institution without accounting to anyone, even congress, for $20,000,000 of trust funds which he has disbursed.

WASTED

The suit suggests that managing the affairs of the almost 300 financial houses that shut their doors from 1933 to 1939 has provided a lucrative "gravy train" for the politicos. Should the banking and currency committee of the house and senate launch an investigation of the situation, no one would be astonished.

From 1933 to 1935 there were 256 failures, whereas there were only six from 1936 to 1939. Nevertheless, the treasury spent $300,000 more for salaries in Washington in the latter period than it did in the years when it had 40 times as man fiscal concerns on its hands.

The total paid out from 1933 to 1939 was approximately $1,500,000—and that is not "political hay". According to the court of claims petition involving the Detroit bank, most of that money was "uselessly wasted".—Ray Tucker.

OUR ARYAN TEACHINGS

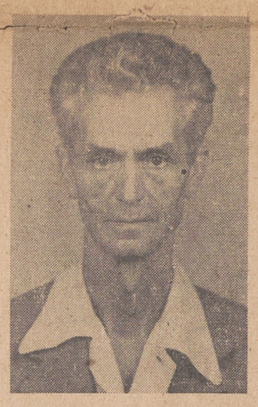

By C. Leon de Aryan

The Founding Fathers of the United States of America were white men and Christians. They reached way deep into their own souls for divine guidance and wisdom to endow the new Republic with safeguards which would permit the best impulses God gave the white man to find full expression. And so they gave us our Constitution. It was not an accident, but the result of thorough self-examination, by the framers, of their own soul and spirit. What they would like others to do unto them, to permit them full exersice of the spirit here in this world of flesh and blood, of matter and sunshine, this they embodied in the articles of the new covenant.

By drawing upon history and their own observation of the workings of foreign governments in the old world, they had a guide and an example of what they did not want this nation to be. Thus our constitution is not a horse and buggy product of a passing fashion, but is the expression of the white man's soul, spirit and aspirations in his trek here upon this planet, reaching out from the primitive and material to the realization of his divine urge, embodying the Will of the Creator in the flesh.

With this understanding of our Constitution we are well prepared to protect and defend it against all its enemies, whomsoever, foreign and domestic.

32 years ago I was instructed by the Aryan parent community in the heart of Asia, to go to America and by example uphold the Aryan ideals of life in the darkest hour of trial. I left the employ of the British government in India and embarked upon an English tramp steamer that landed me in Baltimore on Sept. 12, 1912. I had been fully informed of the hardships before me and the ultimate outcome. I was told that false leaders would arise who would bring discredit, both upon the Aryan teachings and our Constitution. Thus I had to steer between two menacing forces. The fake Aryans on one hand, the democrats on the other.

C. Leon de Aryan

The Aryan embodies the highest aspirations of the white race. He indulges in no sort of persecution or snobbery of other races. He needs not, for by nature his superiority is marked. Its mark is SERVICE. The greater the soul, the greater the Service. As the representative of the Father, whose children all living beings are, the Aryan shoulders his duties and responsibilities as the Elder Brother and exemplifies the Golden Rule in practice.

THE FIRE and BLOOD TEST

It was one thing for Galileo Galilei to know that the Sun is a fixed star, the center of our solar system, and another thing to teach it freely. Knowing the truth for himself is one thing, to proclaim it to an ignorant and prejudiced world is another. When put to the test by the Church of Rome and the Inquisition, Galileo, like Peter in the courtyard, dared not stand with the Truth and take the consequences.

I was forwarned that to know the Truth for myself is not enough, that I would have to stand up and bear witness to it under the most trying circumstances. I accepted the task and to ground myself well, I started my career as a laborer instead of following the course of an engineer. I would always be able to earn my living and need never kunckle down to the enemies of truth.

You folks have watched my evolution here in San Diego. I took the oath of citizenship on Nov. 12, 1926 in federal court in Los Angeles. Since then I trained myself deliberately to stand by that oath under trying conditions. My exploits in the line of picketing the labor racketeers was nothing but military training to protect our constitutional rights on the home front, even at the risk of my life and limb and they were not slow in throwing me into the bay.

The real test came with the advent of Roosevelt and his junk-deal administrators who blithely proceeded to junk all American ideals, aims, hopes, traditions, customs, laws and the Constitution itself. But by that time I was hardened and wisened enough to meet the enemy head-on.

They put me in jail and transported me to Washingotn, D. C., but they dare not go to trial. They spread my fame from coast to coast and beyond the borders of this nation and made a martyr and example of me because I am true to the Christian Aryan ideal and to the American Constitution of our Founding Fathers. Unlike Peter and Galileo, I not only know the truth, but also dare proclaim it. A man without wealth, but without fear, too.

Have they been able to stop me?

NO !

And pray, why not? Because the things I stand for are holy; are the very aspirations of every white man, woman and child who came to these shores of ours to enjoy the blessings of Liberty.

In God we trust !

OUR GROUNDHOG WORLD

By GEORGE CARTWRIGHT

American Land Monopoly

Years ago a Coal Trust tycoon stated, God in his wisdom made their outfit trustees of coal for the American people. In 1901, Mr. Schwab, Pres. U. S. Steel Corp'n. testified it owned 60,000 acres Connellsville Coal, valued at over $60,000 an acre; total of $3,600,000,000. That's but one item of peace-time debt coal consumers must pay interest upon or miners get no work and consumers no coal. The U. S. Supreme Court's recent tax ruling protects this coal monopoly from a State Land Rent Tax which would increase miners wages and reduce coal costs. Anthracite Stove and Egg Coal average price, 1840-1849, was per ton $3.85 to 4.21; for years 1920-1929, $10.60 and 11.00. Both are higher today, so improved mining methods do not reduce consumers' cost. That's why Henry George men demand, "Take taxes out of Prices and Collect (Coal) Land Rent for Revenue. Readers who wish to study theU. S. Supreme Court decision may receive information thereon by sending a 3c stamp with request to J. Rupert Mason, 1920 Lake St., San Francisco.

Boston Jews

"Garrison with his 'liberator' launched the movement of Abolitionists", soon after "with a rope around his waist he was dragged through the streets of Boston". Free Market Forum Newsletter, 10-19-1943, informs us that city is infested with Fascist activities, Jewish children beaten by mobs and synagogues stoned in daylight. Arnold Beichman, covering the AFL Convention wrote it up for PM. Gov. Saltonstall is quoted as telling him, "That was a stinking article and you get right out of this office". While dozens of affidavits record mob activities, politicians deny it, police do not see it, and Christian Science Monitor only covers the subject.

British Land Monopoly

The tax racket protects and promotes land monopoly in Britain. Tax is levied on Land Rent collected by the Landholder. If he holds land unused, its no Rent and no tax. All kinds of public improvements and service may increase the value of that unused land without cost to Landlords. Mr. Churchill says he has made hundreds of speeches for a Land Value Tax. However, like Lloyd George who did the same and went silent on the subject when Revenue was needed for World War No. 1, there is now a sinister silence on the subject.

Cat's Babies Become Biscuits

The Queen of Holland's baby born in Canada, raised the problem how to prevent him, her or of being born a Commoner instead of a Dutch Royalist. Solution was found by Decree that the Location of his, her at its birth would be Holland territory. Under the same rule, a cat having kittens in an oven would consider them biscuits.

WENDELL WILKIE

Consider well this man for our next president.
So friendly and good-natured, so upright.
You scarcely ever hear a word against him.
He'll be the very man for our next fight !
The fight will come when this great war is over,
And nations wrangle for a lasting peace.
The kind of peace that will be mighty trying
In view of all the angles and our "lend-lease".
Our Wilkie has become so very popular
In various countries, at a surprising rate.
It's quite a gift to please a lot of people.
He'll know just how to guide our "Ship of State".

Editor's Note: Our friend's "poem" raises our eye brows, "Oh Yeah!?"

No Goody Goofiness

With this issue The Broom is back again at its former size. You must appreciate that this means heroic sacrifices on my part. But the enemies of America on the home front must not triumph. I am demonstrating that one single man is able to hold high the Republican Standard, if he dares risk his life and limb for the ideals of the Republic. The billions at the disposal of the junk-deal administrators, are like chaff in the wind before one fearless soul who is rooted in the faith of the Founding Fathers.

You can see that The Broom is not a sky pilot; no goody, goofy good for nothing, long hair hypocrisy about us. We deal with the actual conditions that exist and operate in America and the world today. We are not afraid of contamination when we tackle the sores and the cancers of our nation. We are not holier than thou, but come down into the battle ranks of politics and economics and assert our sovereign powers as citizens and rulers in the nation. We don't hold our nose and gingerly lift our skirt to avoid contact with the sordid things of life. We wade right into the gutters and sewers of politcal corruption to restore free circulation of the life blood, by eliminating the offall and moving it on to its final destination, before the whole air be infected by its miasma.

And we hold the ideals of life high before our eyes. Ours is not a quest into the Unknown. We know where we are going, and we are on the way to realize the hopes and prayers of every courageous, honest individual who is determined to get sufficient elbow room to earn his keep by producing his own, thru persistent labor of brain and brawn, beholden to no burocrat, an equal among equally industrious fellows, all together in the service of the Creator to materialize the Golden Rule upon this planet.

In this spirit I hope, and pray, that you will stand with me and help me keep up the good work.

The Constitution Emerges

It is a hopeful sign that President Roosevelt has at last come out strong in defense of the Constitution. A few years ago in urging the adoption of the Guffy coal act the President was ready to proceed without regard to its constitutionality and leave that to be determined by the Supreme court.

Now, however, he is concerned with the fact that in his opinion Congress has flouted the Constitution in attempting to oust three new deal appointees on the charge that they had belonged to subversive organizations. This legislation he thinks is really a bill of attainder prohibited by the Constitution. In adopting it he believes Congress has encroached on both the executive and judicial branches of the government.

It is an interesting coincidence that only a few months ago Congress was charging the President with encroaching on the legislative branch by his edict limiting salaries to $25,000 a year. Congress had refused to adopt this limitation and it rose up against legislation by presidential edict, and upset it. Now the President refuses to allow Congress to step over into his field and throw out appointees under his jurisdiction.

Jewish Gifts

"Every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts", said Solomon (Proverbs 19:6). When the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs gave $125,000 to the Judaized-communistic-modernistic clique heading the Federal Council of Churches and $125,000 to Pope Pius XII to aid their refugees (largely Jewish "converts" and radicals) it was announced that "Bishop Sheil conveyed to the Jewish leaders the Pope's 'deep appreciation of their generous and noble gift'." (Jewish Sentinel 3-14-40) Also: "The sum will be transmitted to Pope Pius XII by Bishop Bernard J. Sheil". (Chgo. Tribune 1-2-40). —Elizabeth Dilling.

Will D. C. Grand Jury Indict de Aryan Again ?

WASHINGTON— The District of Columbia Grand Jury, especially impannelled by Chief Justice Eicher of the U. S. D. C. Court, to take testimony for a third "conspiracy" indictment against "33 publishers", has started taking testimony already. For three days it was closeted with the author of "Under Cover", one Drounian, of many aliases, who is an operative for the Communist elements in this country.

Judge Eicher is a Mennonite, appointed 3 years ago by President Roosevelt to the U. S. District Court of Columbia, without any previous bench experience. His charge to the Grand Jury followed in some instances the suggested charge by Hudson De Priest, published serially in The Broom, but by and large it was a very weak charge and was challenged in some instances as erroneous by the attorneys for some of the "33".

Present in court were on behalf of the U. S. Attorney General, Assistant U. S. Attorney O. John Rogge with his deputy, Burns, and their clerk, Miss Meyer. It is understood that the number of indicted persons will be increased to 40.

My Dreams

Leave me my dreams, all else is vain.
Like desert drear or wind-swept plain,
Or as a plant with faded bloom
Bereft of beauty and its perfume.

My dreams are not of days gone by—
For them I breathe a blessing and a sigh,
They had their splendors and surprise
In starlit nights and georgous skies.

Leave me my dreams, I deem them true
Though false to others and to you,
Yet in those dreams the future doth unfold
Revealing conquests that shall yet be told.

Of a world redeemed from base desire,
Purified, redeemed in the refiner's fire
Of cruelty, where the dross is burned away
And Humanity emerges into a glorious day.

The time will come when wars shall be no more,
And sunlit hills unstained by human gore,
But songs of triumph in the morning air
Will make all life most beautiful and fair.

The New Deal Party

Hon. Harrison E. Spangler,
Mackinac Island, Michigan.
My dear Mr. Spangler:

You seem to be our ablest national chairman in many years. I must congratulate you upon your able answer to FR's speech. As a former county chairman, may I suggest some criticisms, which if widely used might lay the New Deal despotism in its grave? As follows:

1. The New Deal has become a BEAUROCRATIC SOCIALIST -DESPOTISM. The GOP national platform (in 1908, I think) denounced the "Democracy" as a socialist outfit. (See "Platforms of Major Political Parties", by South Trimble).

2. It is the ONLY ADMINISTRATION in our history to call itself the GOVERNMENT. Our government is 65% the congress, 25% the executive department, and 10% the judiciary. The Democratic platform of 1868 showed just what Congress could do. (See "Messages & Papers of the Presidents").

3. The New Deal has been guilty of more than 100 violations of our Constitution.

4. The executive is guilty of the despotic usurpation of the legislative power. (See Washington's "Farewell" and Hamilton's "Federalist Papers").

5. The New Deal is the PARTY OF POLITICAL PERSECUTION. The ONLY party in 140 years to indict and persecute persons for political criticisms. Such actions in 1798-1800 killed the old Federalist party.

6. It is the most extravagant regime in the history of the human race. Lack of opposition gave it "all sail and no anchor". Its end—bankruptcy!

7. Its foreign policy is "foreign". It affords the first example of the kind of "foreign influence" which Washington denounced as disastrous, and which all of the founding fathers deplored.

8. Its "four freedoms" are fraudulent demagoguery. It is the enemy of free thought and free speech: unchristian and irreligious; preacher of hate and revenge; instiller of more fear and coddler of more "want" than any other administration in our history.

These are only a few of the many crimes and misdemeanors of the New Deal.

I hope to have the pleasure of meeting you in Washington this month. Good luck to you, and God bless you in your deliberations in Mackinac!

Yours for Americanism,
A REPUBLICAN.

Good WORD — Good DEED

Spiritual Prostitutes

I do some of my best thinking standing at mid-day at some downtown street corner and letting the crowds pass by me. Many of the faces I know, and some of the people stop for a little chat. The art of reading people as they pass you by is a very useful thing. Many a time I have stood during campaign periods and just looked at the people until somebody stopped for a chat. A few hours of this type of contact and I was able to guage quite correctly what the vote would be.

While I am standing there lost in reveries, and still with both feet on the pavement, taking in the impressions radiated to me by the passing men and women, I am living in two worlds at the same time. Even time disappears. I look way into the future as well as in the past. I see the days of Father Horton, the gradual transformation up-to-date and thence what the future portends. When one thinks in straight lines from a given point in evolution to the present, it is not very hard to forsee the future.

And today the world is at war. With one stroke of the pen the President and the Congress have suspended the Ten Commandments; or have they? That is the great question. A question of such far-reaching importance that few people dare to confront it. And I am a glutton for a dare; dare me in a matter of principle and I accept the challenge.

Thus I was standing on a downtown street corner at high noon watching the crowds pass me by and some stopping for a word or two. The sun still shines, and I am surprised to think of it that it shines over the just and unjust alike. But such is the nature of God, Our Father. He lets the sun still shine even though the congress has declared war, and the sun shines over enemies and friends alike. Thus there is no change, from God's point of view.

And that is the great thing to remember: Man proposes, but God disposes; as well as: Man's extremity is God's opportunity.

These two thoughts were passing through my mind as I watched people pass by. How many realize that God rules supreme? That in His view there is no war, that everything in nature is as it always is.

Do we dare to keep this in mind in a world full of war hysteria? that our view be not obscured, but remain clear and true.

Of course, I dare. Why should I not? The truth is more valuable to me than the prejudices of any number of people. I have been trained for 57 years to grasp the truth and discount prejudice and fear. The truth remains and survives, prejudice destroys itself, while fear paralyzes mind and body and ruins its victims. Why, then, not side with the truth?

On this basis I started THE BROOM. I did not have a penny. The test I was instructed to undertake was to demonstrate that truth pays its own way, is its own best protector and always finds sufficient adherents among the people to survive every attack, because one may fool some of the people some of the time, but there always are those who prefer the truth and are willing to take a chance on it. In this fashion I am attracting the best and most daring people in San Diego, and the U. S. A. They support me through thick and thin.

Speaking of truth. There is the truth about material things and there is the truth about spiritual things. The one we call physical science, the other we call philosophy, or religion. But the truth IS KNOWLEDGE, positive knowledge, therefore always scientific, the true philosophy and religion, then, must always be scientifically demonstrable. And that is what I am demonstrating in this span of life.

Whenever war is declared and the Ten Commandments are suspended, what happens to the preachers and the churches? Do they, too, suspend the Ten Commandments and teach that hell is heaven and heaven is hell? That salvation comes from breaking the Commandments?

And this we must dare to contemplate. It takes courage to think straight about it. Does God take orders from the President and the Congress? Evidently the sun does not, for he shines upon friend and foe alike. If there was any particular virtue in one of the belligerents over the other, certainly the Lord of the Sun would command him to cease shining upon our enemies, for the Lord is not immoral. Thus, it appears that in the sight of the Lord all who break His commandments are treated alike.

A friend stopped to talk with me. "Why do you oppose our war effort?" said she. "Don't you know that war must be and that therefore God selected the best leaders to prosecute the war to victory?"

"But, my dear, I am not opposing the war effort at all. I would be a fool to stick my hand into the buzzsaw."

"Why, then, are you criticizing our President and the New Deal?"

"That is my prerogative whenever subterfuge is resorted to by our public officials. In fact, as a citizen and a newspaper editor, it is my duty to point out the subterfuge."

"What do you mean by subterfuge?"

"I mean that we must leave God out of the war. That's the whole thing in a nutshell. God is never for war, nor for any kind of butchery and murder. He is not a killer, HE IS LIFE. Death enters through disobedience to His Will and Plan of Life. We, as a people, are free agents. If we were to follow His Will and learn His Ways, there never would be strife and war. But because we are a stiffnecked and bullheaded people, we deny His Wisdom and place our reliance in brute force. Now when we do that, let's be honest about it and not mealy mouthed, pretending to be righteous in our disobedience to the Lord. No true preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ can forget that the Master preferred to give His own life on the cross rather than lead the Jewish armies to war against Rome."

"What shall we do then? Let the Japs overrun us?"

"Don't confuse the issue! Had we, as individuals and as a nation followed in God's ways, there would be no encroachment either way and no enmity between us and other nations. Now that we refused to be righteous, in the first instance, the retribution for our sins is here. But let's not claim that we are the annointed ones of God to free the world from the Japs. We simply are paying the bloody price in lives and wealth for our refusal to deal with ourselves and the world at large in accordance with the Golden Rule. I am opposed to this hypocrisy in the war propaganda. This misleading attitude. Let's face the true situation as it is, IF WE ARE TO HAVE PEACE after this war we must confess, admit, recognize the truth that we are in the war because we failed to deal justly with ourselves and equitably with the world at large. The billions we expend today in warfare, if expended in good works, would have constructed homes and plenty for everybody, so that none would have had to hunger and hate those who had too much at the expense of the ill housed, ill clad and ill fed, not only in our country, but the world over."

"Is this wishful thinking you are indulging in?"

"No indulgence whatsoever. Just cold, stark, naked figures in billions of war bonds. Why are people eager to buy bonds to kill and destroy, when the same money could produce litteral paradise on earth?"

"You got me there."

"The answer is quite simple. Our spiritual prostitutes who pretend to be teachers of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, are nothing but yes-men for those who profit from the exploitation of the peoples of the earth. If thousands of socalled Christian leaders were to teach Christianity, and had they produced the statistics of previous wars to show that in each instance it would have been cheaper to feed the enemy instead of fighting him, as Jesus advised us to give bread to those who throw stones at us, the world would be on friendly terms all around. The mass of the people is following easily once those in responsible positions exercise their trust honestly and fearlessly."

And with these words I took my adieu from my friend who had so acidly promised to put THE BROOM out of business if I did not stop thinking aloud. But I still believe that what the world needs today is not LESS divine guidance in its affairs of life, but MORE obedience to the Lord and His Will, which IS THE LAW of LIFE.

POLITICS WITHOUT GOD

Look at politics; and may we not read evidences of this spirit everywhere? How little has religion to do with questions of peace and war? We go to war to avenge an offence, or to push an interest, or to secure a gain, or to cripple a hostile power, as if there were no God of Hosts. We do not ASK OURSELVES THE QUESTION WHETHER IT IS GOD'S WILL THAT THERE SHOULD BE SUCH A WAR. The whole action of diplomacy is as if there were no special providence, and as if God having retired from the management of the world, we must take up the reins which He has let fall from His wearied grasp.—Catholic Worker.

The Lehr Case

Interesting as the Collura anti-vaccination case is that of Dr. M. L. Lehr, of Houston, Texas, a Chiropractor who is now under $1500 bond, awaiting appeal of his case from a conviction for failure to report to his local draft board for induction.

Dr. Lehr was ready to go into the military establishment when his draft call came in November, 1942. He objected, however, to vaccination. He also objected to serving merely as a technician in the medical department of the military forces. He wrote to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, telling them of his willingness to serve, but stated he did object unless he could go in as a Chiropractor and be assured of exemption from serums. He was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to three years in the federal penitentiary. His case is being appealed. It will probably come before the District Court in New Orleans late this year. Dr. Lehr is hopeful of carrying the case to the U. S. Supreme Court, especially with reference to the discrimination that exists against Chiropractors in the military forces. His attorney feels that he has a legitimate basis for refusing to accept services in the military establishment.

Thus we have pending two appeals from draft board convictions on the vaccination question. The Collura case in New York has received a great deal of publicity and it is conceivable that higher courts may rule that the individual has a legitimate right to refuse to accept questionable medical practices even during a national emergency.

Dr. Lehr has received some small financial aid from his friends and associatees. Readers of The Truth-Teller who are interested in this matter should send a contribution directly to Dr. M. L. Lehr, 1617 N. Main, Houston, Texas. It will require approximately $5,000 to carry this appeal through and this is too much of a financial drain upon an individual who is really spearheading the battle for health freedom.

From evidence on hand, the prsent war is building a record of the dangers inherent in immunology. Spinal meningitis, according to newspaper reports, has occured in many army camps and the scientific testimony shows that this disease results from shock induced by injecting serums directly into the bloodstream. Many soldiers have been discharged from service because of illness, obviously traceable to serum shock. The results have ranged from insanity to rheumatic fever and through practically the entire scale of infectious diseases. If the war record is kept truthfully it will likely bring an end to the indiscriminate use of sera—and medical scientists will finally understand the truth of what laymen have been preaching for years—namely, that disease is largely a result of filth and insanitation. The sanitary engineers have done much to conquer disease. They turned their attention upon the sanitation problem in England nearly a century ago and were able to control epidemics of disease. They found that it was originating in the social lowlands and after they had installed water purification systems and sewage disposal systems, epidemic diseases generally were brought under control. However, it was about this time that the immunologists began using serums for many diseases and, as epidemics receded, the immunologists claimed credit for what the sanitary and chemical engineers had accomplished.

There are millions of people in America who are opposed to the use of serums because they know from the evidence that these methods are wrong in theory, principle and practice. They realize that health is a result of right living and right thinking and that when sera is injected into the body it poisons the blood. These people have a right to raise their voices against medical methods that endanger their health. They should be more articulate and demand that the federal government thoroughly investigate the results of immunization in the army and navy. Too, they should financially and otherwise support Dr. Lehr in his efforts to break down medical practices that may, as Dr. Speransky has stated, be crippling humanity.

De Priest Requests Instructions to Grand Juries

(Concluded from last week)

(First Motion For Complete Instructions to a Grand Jury in Our Country's History).

AFFIDAVIT AS TO MISCONDUCT OF THE D. C. SPECIAL PROSECUTOR BEFORE FEDERAL GRAND JURIES

(Filed by Hudson DePriest, to Accompany Motion to Instruct—Which Was Filed May 27, 1943).

Hudson DePriest, on oath, deposes and says that he has sworn evidence to present in court to prove the following facts as to the almost continuous misconduct of the special Federal Prosecutor, who, from July, 1941, to January, 1943, dominated two FEDERAL GRAND JURIES in the District of Columbia,—one for fifteen months and the other for more than three months.

The hundreds of instances of misconduct by the Special Assistant to the Attorney General, in the presence of the grand jurors, any one of which acts upon proof in court would disqualify indictments 70,153 and 71,203, may be divided as follows.

HE ACCUSED WITNESSES—

(1) of lying, (2) of treasonable conduct, (3) threatened them with jail,

(4) told the grand jurors of his having put them in jail, and then browbeat said witnesses on their subsequent appearances before the grand jury,

(5) encouraged grand jurors to follow his example in speaking disrespectfully to witnesses,

(6) cross-examined and had hot words with witnesses, impugning their honesty,

(7) spoke words before the grand jurors to give them the impression that they were an arm of the prosecution,

(8) harrangued the grand jurors in the presence of witnesses, both as to the nature of the law, and (9) as to the weight and sufficiency of the evidence.

(10) converted the presentation of evidence into a psychological "third degree" inquisition.

(11) summoned witnesses on "John" or "Jane Doe" subpoenas and failed to inform such witneses that they were the ones to be prosecuted, and relying upon this extorted testimony drew up indictments against said witnesses,

(12) conducted "fishing expeditions" for evidence, spending tens of thousands of the people's money in summoning as "witnesses" over 600 persons from coast to coast, upon the flimsiest of suspicious and often without any suspicions whatsoever,

(13) subpoenaed without a search warrant the paper files of several publications for years back in the search for illegal printings, and then drew up indictments against the publishers,

(14) totally ignored the venue and jurisdiction of offenses charged,

(15) gave out to his newspaper pets, "Washington Post" and "Wichita Beacon", day by day accounts of the grand jury investigations and "secret" testimony, the publication of which in "The Washington Post" had the effect of prejudicing and coercing the D. C. grand jurors. Many of these press releases were libellous of the witnesses then appearing before the grand jury.

The foregoing facts are sustained by affidavits of witnesses who testified before the grand juries. They can and will be further sustained and corroborated, as well as added to, by the testimony of the 46 members of the two grand juries in question, should a trial be held, as was done in the cases of

U. S. vs. Kilpatrick, 16 Fed. 765,
U. S. vs. Wells, 163 Fed. 323,
U. S. vs. Atwell, 162 Fed. 97; etc.,

where all the grand jurors testified in court regarding like misconduct, which resulted in the quashing of similar indictments.

(Signed) HUDSON De PRIEST,
Defendant pro se.

SUBSCRIBED and sworn before me this the 28th day of October, 1943.

(SEAL) CHARLES E. STEWART, Clerk,
DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
By MARGARET T. QUICK, Deputy Clerk.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Thus ends the remarkable legal document, filed by Hudson DePriest, American journalist and patriot of pre-Revolutionary ancestry, of New York, Detroit, Chicago and Washington, who, along with 32 others, was unjustly indicted for "conspiring" with persons, whom he had never seen, did not know and had never heard of, to cause insurrection in the army. Neither he nor any of the others had ever addressed one line, written or spoken, to anyone in the armed forces, advocating disloyalty. How long will Americans stand for the political persecution of their fellow citizens?—Mr. DePriest will be glad to send a copy of this great legal paper to anyone making a paper contribution to his defense fund. His address: 422 Fifth St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Such contributions are legal in every one of of the 48 States).

MY ADVENTURES IN AMERICA

By C. Leon de Aryan

U. S. ARMY and the CONSTITUTION

It is possible that this will be the longest chapter in this book because it deals with the most vital subject in our hearts today. I promised to write this book newspaper style, which means I place the most important news right at the front and illustrate them as I go along. And the most important news today is the problem, who is the U. S. A.? What is the relation of the U. S. Army to the U. S. A.? What is an oath of loyalty and service? When does one keep and when break that oath?

This is being written at 2.20 A. M. war time, or 1:20 A. M. true Pacific time, in the morning of Tuesday, Oct. 19, 1943. Exactly 30 years after I received the telepathic orders, from my temple community in the heart of Asia, to make a test case and illustrate who the U. S. A. is, as an example to posterity, with a permanent historic record in the archives of the War Dept. as well as the press of that day.

Then, I sat up nights in the hospital barracks of Fort Flagler, Washington, and listened to my telepathic instructions, now I am sitting up again recording the present and illustrating it by the past.

Had I sufficient funds for the purpose now, I would double the size of The Broom to produce this chapter and the following ones as fast as I write them down. For it is the most timely and needed public information since we are at war to spread Americanism by force and violence, everywhere in the world. Thus it becomes imperative that we know what Americanism is and whether we can spread it by force and violence, everywhere in the world.

The house where I am writing is located near Balboa Park and my landlady is sound asleep. I am renting a furnished room with kitchen privileges. The kitchen table is my desk. I have the kettle going on the stove to prepare hot peppermint tea as my stimulant, with honey, as my food and an apple turnover from the Vegetarian Bakery for my after-midnight snack.

The question before us, is: Is Patriotism the love of Truth? Or can one be patriotic by ignoring the Truth, doing it violence, perverting the Principle of Truth and doing violence to all who still stand for the fundamentals of Americanism, as conceived by the writers of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Christian precepts of Life, in contrast with the Mosaic Law of tooth for tooth, which is the jungle concept of life.

Yesterday I went to our public library and copied the record of my experiences in the U. S. army as contained in THE PUBLIC, "A National Journal of Fundamental Democracy, and a Weekly Narrative of History in the Making. Editors, Louis F. Post and Alice Thatcher Post. Samuel Danziger, Managing Editor, Chicago."

The volume for 1914 contains the story and Samuel Danziger, a Jew, wrote most of it. As a result he and I were friends till the day he died and when I started The Broom, he became one of the contributors. Danziger was not a Kike, he was a Hebrew, if you know what that means. A cultured Oriental in search of the Kingdom of God. I am an Oriental in spirit also, for all religious wisdom comes from the Sun which rises in the East. The life atom travels on the rays of the sun and is imparted to every plant that germinates as well as to every fruit bearing seed of animal and man. No Sun no Life!

And now let's listen in to the discourse of the wise men and women from the East as they called me up and rang my phone in the epiphysis of my brain on that marvelous morning of Oct. 19, 1913, at Fort Flagler, Washington.

When "the phone rings", then I sit up in bed in the middle of the night to really wake up. In a few moments I generally crawl back under the covers because it is cozier and continue to listen in, once sleep has left me for the night. It is different when I am supposed to write down for the record the orders I receive. Then I arise and take pen, pencil or typewriter, keeping at work till it's done. This is written with fountain pen in longhand on bonded onionskin paper.

There is an eternal guard on duty in the temples all the time who keeps the holy flame burning. This person has to keep contact with me so I may draw upon the inspiration in time of need. Of course anybody who truly loves the Truth and Humanity has access to that inspiration for the asking. So for example, now, when my memory needs refreshing I "plug in" with the person on "duty" at the Akashic Library where the records are permanently filed away and my memory is being refreshed, besides, in retrospect I see the picture much better than it appeared to me at the time of prospect, when I was jailed in Fort Flagler, for testing the constittuionality of actions recorded by Danziger in THE PUBLIC of 1914.

PRINCIPLE NEVER CHANGES

From Fort Logan, Colorado, I was shipped with a bunch of rookies to Fort Worden, Washington, being assigned to the coast artillery. Induction into the army in those days was quite as irregular in my case, as I remember the irregularities of voting at the polls. In all big cities political corruption was so rife that the machine voted its gang as often as the horse and buggy could reach a new polling place where the "voters" descended and marked their "ballots" over and over again. Naturalization, at times was also quite easily procured by the right political gang when they needed new voters.

Thus the sergeant in charge of my gang of rookies lined us up and an officer appeared before whom we all lifted our right arm and took the oath of induction. Then the sergeant gave each one of us a booklet containing the Rules and Regulations of the Articles of War and pronounced us enlisted soldiers. I remember a tall fellow in my crowd by the name of Prince whom later on I wanted to put on the witness stand to tell how the Articles of War had never been read to us, as required, before the oath was administered, so that our whole enlistment was illegal. But they never permitted me to put him on the stand at the subsquent court-martial because almost the whole army could have demanded discharge, if any soldier wanted to, on that ground that the Articles of War, quite a little booklet, had never been read to them, according to regulations, before they enlisted.

In a few days in Fort Worden, I applied for transfer to the Hospital corps which was immediately granted, so that I had no actual military training or service whatever. In the hospital itself they needed a gardener for the patch on which vegetables were raised, so I volunteered for the job and was completely free from hospital duty and back at farming which was quite handy because the cook had to keep in my good graces to get eggs and vegetables and so I had the run of the pantry and luxuriated as a vegetarian. They kept about 3 dozen laying hens who, like the garden patch, had been neglected so eggs were scarce. I ordered a sack of wheat and gravel. The layers started to produce eggs in profusion on the wheat diet. When the cook wanted to kill a hen he had to catch her himself and do the bloody slaughtering for I could never be found no matter how often they ordered me to bring the hen. Finally they gave up entirely and attended to the killing business from the start because I was too good a gardener and the top sergeant and major of the hospital, both had had much trouble finding a good man for the garden chores. Major Bartlett hired me as his private gardener besides and his wife and I became quite chummy since she was lonely and liked to pretend that she was bossing my work when in fact we were chewing the rag.

As soon as she found out that I was a superbly educated young man she passed the word around to her best friend, the wife of a captain, introduced her to me and we became good friends. Mrs. H. was a tall lovely young woman, a Christian Scientist, and she and I talked religious philosophy by the hour while I was hoeing the garden and the 2 women visited under the pretext of working in Bartlett's section of the patch. Finally Mrs. H. invited me to call at her house where she introduced me to Capt. H. and after getting once acquainted the captain always left the house because he as an officer could not visit with me. He was quite sorry not to be present but was good sport enough to let his wife enjoy an hour or two in my company when we were in the mood.

As this was being talked about in the post, the commanding officer had me transferred to the nearby island post at Fort Flagler. But it did them no good because I had made friends with the young son of Capt. & Mrs. H. and nobody could prevent me from visiting with the boy and if in the course of our play the child ran into the house and called me in while the captain left to obey the rules, so I could continue to play with the boy in his room and mother decided to keep us company—what could any commanding officer do without starting an open scandal which nobody wanted.

The boys at the Fort Flagler hospital had mostly been my gang in the Fort Worden Hospital and they all liked me. I started on my medical instructions in earnest so the Captain Doctor took a liking to me as well as the top sergeant, because of my quick grasp on essentials and they found out I could be relied on to do a good job with the patients.

At the Fort Worden Hospital I had acquired the reputation of a death prophet. They had a number of syphilitic cases during my stay there. Those poor fellows were fed exclusively on raw hamburger, white bread and coffee. Since in Mexico they used to kill political prisoners, in the good old days of the Diaz regime, by feeding them nothing but raw meat and wine, I warned the personnel at the hospital that our patients would be dead in about 21 days on that kind of a diet. And they generally died too, as predicted.

One year was passing fast. About Oct. 19, 1913, suddenly the "bell rang" in the morning and I got company. As usual I was in a half-trance and this is what happened.

"It is time that you bring out the principles of the Republic and make your test."

"Which principles?"

"That the individual is sovereign and recognizes no master over him, save the Lord."

"How do I go about it?"

"You start on the highest grounds. Since the American citizen is an equal to everybody in the Republic and takes dictation from none, then all contracts are rooted in obedience to the Lord in whose Name they are entered by all concerned. It becomes your task now to highlight that feature of it. You start with the oath, describe and analyze the tripartite nature of it, the Lord, the people of the U. S. A. and you; and explain that the Lord never orders a man to break His Commandments."

"What will happen to me?"

"First they will attempt to make you out insane. But your captain will protect you. Then they will court-martial you."

"What do I do first?"

"You write a letter to the Secretary of War explaining the fundamental nature of the oath and on constitutional grounds the whole system of this government is put to the test. They pretend to worship the Lord and make this the basis of all laws binding upon the people. You highlight the contract between the Lord's Will and the customary practice of the government."

"What good will I accomplish aside from martyrdom?"

"You'll break the ice. It takes generations of steady drops until the rock of apathy is cracked thru and divine light may shine in the lives of the average man. You are that drop today. Nothing is wasted. Records will be kept which you may bring to light later on. But Kosti, the main thing for you is to redeem yourself. We had important work slated for you in the old country but when you failed us in the Harnik episode, it all went by the wayside. Now the conditions of adverse pressure on your mind are essentially the same. You are under army discipline. To bring out fundamental truth contrary to habitual practice in the army will get the whole machinery down upon you. It will take more courage and clear-headedness than in the Harnik matter. But if you carry thru we have even greater things than this in store for you."

And so it was decided.

The next morning I drew up a letter addressed to the Secretary of War in pencil. Took it to Fort Worden and had Mrs. H. type it out for me. Then I handed it to my sergeant. He read it and shook his head, but forwarded it to the Captain who called me into his office and warned me that I would be labelled "insane". I smiled, "Captain, if I am insane then every true Christian is insane". He saw the point and promised to thwart any attempt at getting around the issue by the "insanity" route.

He forwarded the letter to Col. Cloke, commanding officer and Cloke promptly court-martialed me summarily and threw me in the guard house. The boys at the hospital fed me special and the sentries on duty stood guard so I could write letters to Senators, Congressmen and others which they mailed out for me.

The matter came up on the floor of the House and THE PUBLIC of Chicago took an interest in it.

Finally my month was up and I was free again. So I asked to be discharged because I had been illegally enlisted when they did not read the Articles of War to me previous to taking the oath. I had them cold. They held a council, court-martialed me again and put me in the guard house. There I was ordered to handle sides of beef, kill chickens, etc. and I refused on religious grounds. That brought another court-martial and I was sent to Alcatraz. At this general court-martial I had received the offer of civilian counsel suddenly, as promised me at the telepathic session. But the court refused to wait for my counsel, appointed me a lieutenant to defend me and he pleaded me "guilty" contrary to my instructions and threw me upon the "mercy" of the court, which placed my whole case in a wrong light.

That showed the brass hats up for what they were.

In Alcatraz I had another telepathic session and as a result started to enforce the prison rules, contrary to customary routine. They had tacked in every cell a copy of the rules, among them that on Wednesday and Saturday afternoon the prisoners were to pick up their blankets and take them out into the prison yard to be spread and hung out for airing. This rule was obeyed on Saturdays but not on Wednesdays.

So I took my blankets and started out to air them on Wednesdays. The guard stopped me and I protested that he was violating the rule. I got court-martialed again. But before they put me in solitary, a letter arrived for me from Congressman Kent of Marine County, saying that an investigation was started.

The adjutant immediately changed his tune and all blankets were aired on Wednesdays also.

Then a major arrived to "investigate". He had a long talk with me. Later he sent me his report. It stated everything the contrary from what I had done so as to make me look half-witted and disorderly. But because several congressmen got on the case they hurriedly discharged me on July 22, 1914, when the Sun enters the sign of Leo and I was disembarked in the city of San Francisco on the eve of the 1915 Pan-American Exposition where I made some more valuable contacts and experiences. They gave me $5.00 in gold and a $10 suit of clothes with a yellow discharge which I promptly destroyed and started life anew.

I had obeyed instructions, redeemed myself from the cowardice that held me back in 1904, for which I had lost the girl who was my true mate. So I felt like a young god and tackled greater problems as they arose.

Now I shall let THE PUBLIC give the details.

How L-V Taxation Operates

The beneficial effects of Land Values Taxation may be judged by the experience gained from its adoption in Sydney, N. S. W. where it is locally applied. Alderman Firth of that city described to a London audience how it had compelled owners to part with land which they had been holding "for a rise", and mentioned a section of land on which the rates were increased from £80 to £800 in the first year of the new system. In the second year the bulk of this land was sold to people who were eager to use it. At the same time people using land well for homes had their rates reduced from £8 to £10 under the old system to £2 or £3 under the new. In seventeen years the population grew from 550,000 to 1,000,000, without overcrowding or congestion, new homes being provided with large gardens made possible by a rating system which cheapened land and removed the rates from buildings.—The Porcupine, England.

Turning Evil into Good

Mephisto, in Goethe's Faust: "I am a part of that power that, always willing evil, creates the good".

War being hell, the war-makers are hellish and murderous in their designs as described in John 8. But being a part of that power that, always willing evil, creates the good, one wonders in America what the particular good be.

"You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," said the Master of Nazareth. Thus none need wonder any more. England's Churchill is fighting in this war for the British Empire. Russia's Stalin is fighting for Russia. Hitler for Germany and President Roosevelt is fighting to fulfill the words of Jesus in John 8, that all may see the truth and be free.

Secretary of the Treasury Morganthau tells us that the so-called "inflationary gap" is now $50,000,000,000. We remember when it was only a little fellow of $12,000,000,000.
