A VISIT TO THE DELAWARR LABORATORIES -

(Excerpts from letter, Capt. O'B ff. . of London, to R.T. of Vancouver, B.C. with permission to quote).

. . . The buildings occupy several acres on the side of a hill overlooking the spires and domes of this old University City. One drives in through imposing gates and finds oneself among cared-for lawns and gardens, with many buildings in red brick, the dwelling house and offices, greenhouses, garages etc on the lower level and the laboratories, studios etc.on the higher side of the garden. A couple of assistants and a number of secretaries as well as out-door employees were there. One of the former was Dr. L.P. Corte (Ph.D., F.R.S.A., etc.).

This young man together with a Pakistani assistantdemonstrated to me the photographing of a dog's diseased kidney by means of his hair. We went into the photographic studio.

1. The hair of the dog in an envelope.
2. The formula is set by the diagnostic instrument (operated by Miss de la Warr)
3. The determined rate has a numerical sequence; this represents the different magnetic centers of the body. This has been determined by de la Warr but how much he has borrowed from Abrams I do not know.
4. Rate transferred to north and east faces of the camera box..
5. The spiral reading of the south side has a dial and is sensible only to the condition and not the organ.

Then they determine the position, the antenna readings, and the polaroid readings - and expose.

Determining the position is important because like a T.V set, the object, in this case the hair, must face in the right direction, like a compass needle.

De la Warr demonstrated this to me with a leaf out of the garden while Mrs. de la Warr stood by with her portable detector antenna, while he moved the leaf about on his desk until she got its beam.

I got the impression that the leaf has to be in rapport with the mother plant before there is that vibratory flow between them - distance no object, but adjustment critical.

You have heard of Abram's box, and of course of Drown's apparatus, the pathoclast and calibro magna wave. Well, this is something on the same principle.

An instrument has been developed (Coloscope Major) with which the frequencies of an ill condition can be reversed and the diseased part bombarded with its own frequencies on the rebound. This corresponds to the process of vaccination where the frequencies of would -be ill condition are injected, thus neutralizing the antagonism of unlike frequencies. It has been found that each organ emits its own characteristic energy pattern, and is therefore itself sensi - tive to such radiation; or in other words it is tuned to receive a specific energy stimulus.

"This treatment", writes de la Warr, "causes the correct radionic energy patternto be manifested and projected at the patient's blood specimen, which in turn transmits it to the patient".

It has been found that the selection of suitable treatment patterns for radiation calls for much skill and specially trained operators. If, for instance, the patient has rheumatism, it may be necessary to stimulate certain hormones by using the pattern of the pituitary gland or some other part of the endocrine system - even the cells of the bone marrow might come in for attention in a rheumatic patient.

George de la Warr states that there are two bodies to all created things; an ethereal or pneumaplasmic body and a tangible body form. It is in the former that all ills of the whole body originate, but man is limited to the latter because it is there that his centering and response exist.

The emulsion of any photographic plate is very sensitive to energy impulses. For instance, two plates were used for the photographing of the dog's kidney thru the medium of the hair.

For the first I was present in the photographic studio, but for the second I was outside watching the proceedings through a small window in the door. Owing to the interference of my vibrations the first film was almost a blank; but the second was wholly successful, showing the kidney and its ill condition. When I asked why my vibrations should have caused this interference, rather than those of the two assistants, I was told that the film, in fact the whole instrument, was highly susceptible to the influence of individual vibrations. The camera by itself was quite ineffective and could operate only through the medium of a human being's vibrations. The vibrations of those to whom the instrument and plate are not attuned can upset its proper function.

All this eems very complicated to us who as yet have only a rudimentary concept of this new science. Perhaps we who have been trained in Ontology can sense it more than those who approach it only from the physical science angle. "The emulsion on the photograph of a person", says de la Warr, "is in some way related to that individual" - and this goes also for plants and other living things.

This letter is somewhat thrown together, as I had no time to do more than copy my rough notes.

NOTE: The photographing of past and future events, as the stages in the life of a plant, crop melioration (destruction of insect pests by a directed carrier wave, the inevitable recognition of th existence of the etheric body (or 'double'), the whole field of electronics in diagnosis and treatment, the incred - ible performances in radiesthesia -- all this is deeply inter-related, is the basic science of the future, and may conveniently be summed up under the heading of Psychical Physics. To those who regard all such material as 'outlaw' science and pseudo-science we recommend the book under that title (S.W. Tromp, Professor of Geology, Fouad Univ., Cairo, Egypt. Markham House Press. 31 Kings Road, London S.W. 3, Eng. Ca. 450 pgs. $8.00).

'The de la Warr's have been trying for nearly a decade to offer theri discoveries to the medical profession and the informed public, but are up against bigotry, prejudice, and 'vested interests'. As here in the US, so in England. " Let him who can cure a patient of cancer, look out, for the medical profession will turn on him like a pack of wolves, for cancer is a means of livlihood for them and their profession." So writes a correspondent long familiar with conditions in the tight little island. And at this moment the de la Warr laboratories are in a most pre - carious financial condition.

We take this opportunity to refer again to the new book New Worlds Beyond the Atom, by Langston Day in collaboration with George de la Warr - describing the results of some ten years of laboratory research. Published by Vincent Stuart Ltd. 55 Welbeck Street, W-1, London. Price 26 s. net. (about $3.65). (Do not order from BSR Hdqrs., please.

HAVE THE EXTRA-TERRESTRIALS EVER INTERVENED? Or, 24 hours to the World's End:

YES, says Mr. Daniel Fry, three times. In each case an atomic test was about to innocently turn the earth into a gaseous nova. In the WEC testing grounds in the Pacific, Fry relates, the 1951 underwater burst of an atomic bomb only slightly below the surface was to be followed by a deep-water burst. But the extra-terrestrial group, recognizing that the scientists in charge had overlooked one deadly detail, exercised a form of telepathic warning. A scant 24 hours before the end of the world, the s econdary A-Bomb test was called off. Here's Fry's description of what would have happened:

"The depth and pressure of the water surrounding the bomb bunker would have prolonged the 'life' of the first of the first fission fireball (they normally last a millionth of a second). This multiplied heat could have liberated the hydrogen atoms in the sea water, causing a hydrogen chain reaction that in a twinkling would have spanned to every ocean on earth, burning up the atmosphere. The theory was easily recognizable to the AEC scientists, Fry asserted, once their thoughts had been directed to the computations. But it was from this untried that the deadly successor to the A-Bomb, the Hydrogen bomb, was created. Fry theorizes that it was this development which practically guarantees we'll have no fission or fusion wars. Indirectly, we can thank the Extra-terrestrial group for this universal Sword of Damocles which dangles above our heads, according to Fry..."

NOTE TO THE FOREGOING: Daniel Fry is the author of two books concerning space-craft, in one of which, The White Sands Incident, he describes a ride which he took in one of the space craft and the information given him by its operator. There can be no question as to Mr. Fry's technical and scientific abilities and he holds an important position with a large engineering firm. As a lecturer and writer he is one of the few who have the gift of exposition required for making the concepts of the 'new physics' both interesting and intelligible to the layman.

Mr. Fry lectured in Seattle recently, and the lecture, together with a private interview was recorded on tape by Mr. J.R. French, of 2826 - 109th, S.E. Belleview, Washington. A 7-pg transcript was then made of excerpts from the tape - this may be obtained for $1.00 from Mr. French. We do NOT have these transcripts for distribution at BSR Hdqrs. but strongly recommend them to all Associates. (ml)

The "24 hours to the world's end" item awakens mixed emotions - if one believes it - as the BSR Director does. So all the race of man, his cities and civilizations, his works both good and evil, the seas and continents , the great globe itself, all that it inherits would dissolve, and like an insubstantial pageant faded, leave not a wrack behind !!! And how and why? 'The computations were correct, the God in the machine made no error from its premises - but some dull or weary or possessed human mind failed to read between the lines, or beneath or behind them. Future events exist - pre-exist - as Projects in minds of the Creative Entities; but these Projects are not certain, a fool can disrupt them, on any plane of existence, once he slips past the protective Nets of the Guardians . Planet to Nova by a 24-hour margin, save for the interposition of the Guardians!! This I think should somewhat chill even the most ardent devotee of scientific infallibility ... ml

A FURTHER NOTE ON THE B-CELL: John C. Brown, writing to Assoc. O.O.Reynolds of San Diego: "Two visiting scientists, from Los Angeles and La Mesa, Calif., said that the B-Cell discovery cannot be described in words, must be seen to be appreciated. They are to return with others and want to carry on experiments with the Cell in relation to other natural forces. I shall give them every assistance but their proposed experiments are now up to them ... JCB

"A NIGHTMARE -- BUT TRUE" --

The Antarctic Ice Cap is the divinely appointed executioner of our civilization. It is a creeping menace. The continuous fall of non-melting snow and hoar frost changes to deep-freeze, cold storage glacial ice and the Ice Cap grows larger and heavier continuously.

The globe wobbles, forcing the Ice Cap's center, and the earth's Axis of Figure, to wander off-center from the earth's Axis of Spin. Its rotation creates a throw of eccentric centrifugal force in the off-center Polar Ice Cap, which must eventually cause the earth to tip over, like an overloaded canoe towed behind a power boat in a circle.

A destructive eccentric centrifugal force, or side throw, will be created by the weight of the Ice Cap and the speed of its rotation, when the off-center distance of its center of gyration becomes one inch too great - a cotangent function of $E = \frac{1}{2} M V^2$ where M equals mass, V velocity and E is the energy developed. Cataclysmic destruction occurs when this force overcomes the cohesion of the weakest restraining land layers of the earth's top strata.

The estimated yearly snowfall on all of Antarctica is equivalent to about 18 inches of rainfall, and amounts to about 7 trillion tons per year, or about 20 billion tons per average day of the year. This is reduced to about 6 billion tons per day when educated guesses are made for ablation - principally the annual flow-off of icebergs.

The growth of the Ice Cap may be controllable by the will of man to survive on the earth. The wobble of the globe is not under man's control.

Our own epoch of time has run about 7800 years; which compared to the age of the earth is as a single tick of a 7-day clock, which ticks each second. The most authentic timescales of our epoch are the gorges of the Niagara and Mississippi Rivers. Both gorges indicate that our epoch of time has run less than 8,000 years.

The earth is about $4\frac{1}{2}$ billion years old, and during its slow creation has rolled around sideways about one million times, resulting in the formation of about a million separate strata, or layers of the earth, between core and surface. Each layer of the earth's growth corresponds to one epoch of time between the recurrent careens of the globe, according to the new theory of continuous creation through celestial radiant energy and by photo-synthesis.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, director of the United States Antarctic Program, credits President Eisenhower with the impetus which has resulted in the present massive attacks on the secrets of Antarctica, now being undertaken by the U.S. Navy. Write to your U.S. senators and representatives and urge them to use their influence to promote Antarctic research, and to report what progress they are making. "The life you save may be your own." The foregoing paragraphs are a transcript of a mimeographed article sent us by Hugh Auchincloss Brown, E.E., of 141 Park Lane, Douglaston 63, N.Y., with permission to reproduce. Of Mr. Brown's intense sincerity there can be no question, and we are told that his computations have been checked carefully by other mathematicians and are free from error. His warning now gains much weight from the facts cited in the last paragraph above. (*) ml

FLYING SAUCER REVIEW: Pub. every other month, at 1 Doughty St., Lon. WC 1. Edited by The Hon. Brinsley le Poer Trench. (First Editor Derek D. Dempster). A 'slick paper' publication; 32 pgs. Year, $3.50. Recommended. (Another REVIEW with the same title is published in Seattle, Wash., USA, by Civilian Flying Saucer Intelligence: q.v.). . The following paragraphs are quotes or synopses from the London Flying Saucer Review of July-August 1956; Vol. 2 No. 4.

'We have maintained a policy of aloofness' (writes the REVIEW Editor) with regard to nuclear weapons and atomic tests ... but recent tests have changed our views. We are worried because it seems that our scientists have gone quite berserk over nuclear power and are losing all sense of proportion over the magnitude of the explosion the structure of this world can take . . . What point is there in continuing atomic tests? There is none. The great nations have the power to destroy civilization and life itself. . . In the long run the peaceful uses of atomic energy will also lead to annihilation. . . The alternative is, that all this money and effort should be channelled into solving the secrets of gravity... Others in the universe have attained the beneficial use of cosmic energy without using brute force to extract it. '

The Brazilian Air Force states officially and emphatically that 'flying saucers are real' (pg.3).

THE ETHER: 'I define ether as the texture of finite stimulated space (such as in a universe), and it is obvious that if there is no ether there can be no cosmic bodies. . . The only Creative is Consciousness, the fundamental force from which all others are derivatives, and the vehicle of which is thought-force producing thought-forms, organic or otherwise. . . That energy is the operative of Consciousness, and all functioning is first in the energy-form, before appearing as, e.g., light, sound, heat, electricity and magnetism... This is the reason why science cannot as yet decide whether there is an ether or not. . . Experiments fail to detect it because the ether is not in the energy-form, but in a latent state. It is a static condition in which there is no functioning except when polarization takes place. . . Instruments measure phenomena in the secondary states of matter; they are useless in the primary state ... '

'Matter is materialized energy ... Atomic particles are not basic, but evolved ...

'Primary Physics contends that atomic particles were not present when the universe was formed, but are after-products of cosmic functioning as yet unknown to science. . . A universe is a thought-form in Infinite Space, a tensioning toward a generative center. Tensioning must produce curvature, but this cannot produce matter or modify its distribution if matter is in its latent form. Primary matter is not an inertial mass. It is energy, but in the energy-form; not an element but the Elemental. . . The texture of space (the Ether) is homogeneous oxygen and hydrogen energy in the energy form, not as a gaseous state. . . The Elemental is not a duality - hydrogen (energy-form) is the elemental condition, not yet substance, and oxygen (energy form) is merely its complementary protective covering. . .'

From article "Essence of Primary Physics" in Flying Saucer Review, pg. 8 ff., by Cyril W. Davson, author of the book, Physics of the Primary State of Matter. Inquire of the F.S. Review as to price etc.

To those of us who have followed the physics and chemistry of the Mark Probert Controls during the last ten years, it is very remarkable to note how closely these coincide with aspects of the "new physics", such as appear in the excerpts above.

Publications, Con.

re, the 'new Physics! The foregoing brings to mind certain expressions of that neglected genius Morley-Martin: 'Life is not an ex - pression of the forces of the body; the body is the expression of a vital force, pre-existent and indestructible. Protoplasm is not physical basis of life, but FOR life. Life never ceases. The animal loses its body but not its life. There is life in azoic and igneous rocks as in the sedimentary or fossil-bearing. Some vertebrates arose from rocks in which no fossil ever existed. There is nothing without life, and no form of life is ever extinguished. Nothing dies, and the identity of animal life survives. . . The contrary of life is not death, but latency. Man lies latent in the rock. The total of embodied life is negligible compared to the life which has no body. There is no division into organic and mineral kingdoms. There is only one universal substance revealed to us by an incessant play of forms. Our senses perceive only a minute fraction of the whole process'.

So wrote Morley-Martin between 1931 and 1937 - and the words I have under - scored embody a new science and new metaphysics . . .

But of course, 'new' in a relative way only. Consider the semi-mystical expressions of the Qabalist Dion Fortune, speaking of the Tree of Life (Otz Chiim):

> "The Universe is a thought-form projected by the mind of God. The TREE is like a dream picture arising from the subconsciousness of God and dramatizing the subconscious content of Deity". . . The Tree of Life reduces to diagrammatic form every force and factor in the universe and in the soul of Man. "

Such wayside scatterings as have here crept into this issue of C.Q.C. remind me of that man who was SO happy wherever he found himself - "because from where I am right now, I can go anywhere in the whole world".. . That is another way of saying, "the actuality of any fact is inexhaustible", or "the range of action of a single electron is infinite". Associates and friends - we can go anywhere from where we are now, but I don't think we can stand still.

In this same issue of the F.S. Review, Arthur Constance has an article which will be of special interest, in that it deals with that Great Boyg of literature named OAHSPE. "Open mouths are more common than open minds" writes A.C., and, "an open mind is rare as a dodo's egg". Yet a dodo with a closed beak will die soon of starvation, and a closed mind "makes no practise flights, but withers and dies and sings no praises to God." Further, "one must accept enlightenment in whatever form it comes" - even in the "800-odd pages" (and very odd pages they are) of OAHSPE. Come with an open beak - mind, I mean - prepared for anything in the history of etheric worlds and races and Gods, and not prepared to trust your first impressions because, whatever they are, they will be wrong. And if you are interested in UFO's (as you jolly well should be) you will find here a book-full of them, incredible but magnificent, sized like a planet and swifter than the wings of thought ... How Mr. Arthur Constance, with his gift of tongues, held himself down to a four-page review of this 800-page octopus (of no earth-origin by my guess) is beyond divination ...

This book or Great Boyg of some 800 odd-pages can be had for $5.00 (soon to be $6) from the KOSMON PUBLISHING COMPANY of 2208 West 11th St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Our Associates of the BSR will be gratified to note Arthur Constance's friendly approval of our publications and other activities.

A note about the Morley-Martin booklet; it's 26 pages, price $1.00 - remarkable material and the only existing compilation. A BSR publication, order from Hdqrs.

FLYING SAUCER REVIEW: 5108 Findlay St., Seattle 18, Washington. Monthly; $3.00 per year; single .30 Editor, R.J. Gribble. ... The August issue (Vol. II - No. 8) has a long article concerning the "spacecraft mass reconnaissance of Brazil" -- quotes research scientist Carl A. Zapffe as saying: "Flying saucers must be either from another planet or from the 4th dimension. Think of the atom and H bombs, both of which were conceived by the use of 4th dimension mathe - matics. There is the crux. We must think in inter-spacial terms, not inter-planetary terms. These things are difficult to conceive. . .

This issue of F.S. Review also quotes from a lecture by Daniel W. Fry, in which author-scientist Fry predicts that within ten years or less the U.S. will have a duplicate craft using identical propulsion means. We think this is quite likely - and BSR has never denied that these visiting craft, within the environs of the earth, are material inour common sense of the word - or rather, some of them are 'material' sometimes. Those who have no perspective, no grasp of the real problem of the UFO will be easily and happily satisfied.

The article in F.S. Review is by J.R. French, who also had a long interview with Mr. Fry. 'Some of this has been transcribed from a tape recording and is available to interested parties at no cost while the supply lasts. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope to J.R. French, 2826 109 th S.E. Belleview, Washington. '

SAUCER NEWS: P.O. Box 163, Fort Lee, N.J. James W. Moseley, Editor. Pub. every second month; $2.00 per year. This issue (Aug.-Sept., III-5) is especially valuable for the article "UFO and Unnatural Clouds", by Frank Reid, pgs 7-9.

> "Clouds - Clouds that have objects in them. Clouds that drop things. Clouds that give. And, CLOUDS THAT TAKE? How, in Heaven's name, can they be explained otherwise than as phenomena related to UFO's ? "

The 'clouds that take' refers to planes that have entered clouds and never emerged from them, or emerged as fragments and wreckage only. The Plantier theory gives a plausible relationship between UFO and small clouds or vapor formations (see Aime' Michel's Truth About Flying Saucers for Plantier), but certainly nothing to meet the demands of the uncanny phenomena.

Editor Moseley is the proponent of the idea that some or many of the UFO's are earth-made in huge underground caverns, under direction and control of a mysterious 'super-government' or organization - but he by no means thinks that this is the whole answer to the whole problem. If the BSR had an 'official' viewpoint it would be that no simple and single explanation is possible - since the cosmos is a 'sizable place', and probably swarms with life in every part, and we are im - mersed in a sea of unknown forces -- and it's a kind of Bed of Procrustes for which the whole human race is too short, so that all of us will have to b e stretched to fit both in minds and bodies, probably with yowls of pain and howls of indignation. . . We'll probably never fly as skilfully as a thimble-size hummingbird, which comes on the scene as an 800-mile-hour streak without motors, and can stop, poise, and back up at 180 deg. angle in two seconds flat. . . But for all that one can beat birdie to the bonnie blossom if we learn how to think of ourselves as being there first. Well ---

There is no light yet, on what happened to the Joyita, with her 16 crew mem - bers and nine passengers, found wrecked and flooded last November. This comes from a report made to the New Zealand Parliament on April 14 last, by a Commission of inquiry - noted in Saucer News, issue cited sup.

TWO LETTERS TO LARRICK"

by Mrs. Mickey Cullen: Printed in Defender Magazine for Sept. 1956 (Vol. 31, No. 5). Defender also prints the following prefatory note:

The Cullen family is one of the wealthiest in the world. Mrs Mickey Cullen, like many other Americans, is outraged over the efforts of Commissioner George Larrick of the Food and Drug Administration to destroy the Hoxsey cancer treatment. She wrote him a letter of protest and received in return an envelope full of trash .. but not the courtesy of a personal reply. Thereupon she wrote him again.

We reprint here, in C.Q.C. a few excerpts from Mrs. Cullen's admirable letters to Mr. Larrick. Both were dated in last July and no answer to them was received.

Mrs Cullen to Commissioner Larrick .

" . . I think it is a dirty shame for you to spend the tax - payers money fighting Dr. Harry M. Hoxsey because he does not bow down to the dictates of the American Medical Association. I do not know what you call your attack on Dr. Hoxsey, nor who you say is behind it, but it is my firm opinion that the AMA tells you when to breathe, how to breathe and where to breathe ... As a large taxpayer and as an American citizen, I am asking you the following questions, and I do want an answer:

"Dr. Hoxsey advises me that in 1949 he sued the Hearst Newspapers for slander and libel for saying that he did NOT have a successful treatment for cancer - and that he went into Federal Court and proved that he did have a cure for cancer, got a money judgment and collected it. Is this true?

"He also advises me that the Food & Drug Adm filed on him in Dallas, in 1950... Judge William Hawley Atwell ... found that he did cure both internal and external cancer, and decided in his favor. If Dr. Hoxsey convinced Judge Atwell of this, (by producing witnesses), then I think there is something 'screwy' about the reversal you got in a higher court.

"Dr. Hoxsey also advises me that he sued "Dr." Morris Fishbein for slander and libel, took him into court and presented forty or fifty cured patients. The jury found Dr. Fishbein guilty ... he paid the money judgment and did not appeal the decision. . . . '

(Mrs. Cullen next quotes documented details of two remarkable cures of terminal cases of cancer by the Hoxsey method. Both subjects are living and in good health).

"Now, Mr. Larrick, I want you to know that you are not going to kid the Cullen family, because either you are right, or all these people are lying. I want you to tell me who it is. What do you think the taxpayers of the United States will say when the truth is brought to them. I am starting today to circulate a petition ... asking that an investigation be made of your Department, the Surgeon General's offices, and the American Medical Association ... I will wait one week for an answer from you ... I want you to furnish me proof that these cases are wrong, or admit they are right, instead of spending hundreds of thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money. It should be a very simple thing for you to investigate some of the thousands of cases now under treatment at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic. . . "

The "reply" to this, according to Defender Editor, was "a batch of form releases loaded with lies, such as Larrick is currently sending out to newspapers and magazines. No effort was made to disprove the cases mentioned by Mrs Cullen. A few excerpts from her second letter follow:

LETTERS TO LARRICK: (con.)

Second letter from Mrs. Cullen. . . . . ..

On July 31 Mrs Cullen again wrote Commissioner Larrick, reminding him of her first letter, and continuing:

"How can you, the head of a large department set up by Congress for the protection of the health and welfare of a hundred and sixty million Americans, take sides like you have done in this fight and spend the taxpayers' money as you are doing, when you know and I know that the records I am enclosing are from govern - ment hospitals, signed by givernment doctors, in which they admit that Hoxsey has cured these men. One case has been cured 16 years after the government hospitals admitted that he has malignant metastatic carcinoma - and yet you say the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic does not even render relief, let alone "cure".

"I want to say to you, Mr. Larrick, if you send out one piece of literature such as you sent me, after you receive this letter, don't blame me and my father for the action we take in this matter.

"Dr. Hoxsey advises me he is in a life and death struggle with you, in a court case at Pittsburgh . . . also that he has at least fifty pathologically proven cases just as outstanding as the three government hospital records I have presented to you. So I feel sure that a hundred and sixty million Americans will come to know the truth, and the truth will set them free, when they learn that you have been using your office and their money to malign, harass, ridicule and sup - press Dr. Hoxsey and his fight for suffering humanity.

Why is it, now that you have these Veterans of Foreign Wars records of cancer victims who had been cut up, burned up, and mutilated in government hospitals before they went to Hoxsey, that they are today all well men? Why don't you re - verse yourself . . . It will take a big man to do this, but I think any man who has (your) responsibility should be of that stature.

Dr. Hoxsey has been, for over a quarter of a century, begging the AMA, the Surgeon General, the American Cancer Society, and the National Cancer Institute to come to his clinic and make an unbiased investigation and tell the public the truth just as it is, good, or bad.

However, the fact that you refused to answer the questions in my letter of July 20, and that you now have these three government hospital records in your hands, leads me to believe that none of these organizations, nor yourself, are looking for a treatment for cancer, other than radium, X-ray, and surgery, where they own and control its use and collect millions every year from cut up, burned up and mutilated cancer victims who die the most excruciating death that it is possible to die.

In your report that you are sending out, why don't you tell about the ten medical doctors who visited the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in 1954 and endorsed the Hoxsey method of treatment? Don't you think it would be fair togive both sides?

I am leaving for Dallas on August 5th to open headquarters and start the drive to get petitions signed. My headquarters will be at 1108 Bishop St., Dallas, where I trust there will be an answer to this letter waiting for me. I want you to tell me whether or not these government records I am sending you are true and authentic. I have seen the originals and know that these men are all living today.

If you will tell me that you are going to cease and desist sending out this slanderous literature, until after the Pittsburgh trial at least, I will not start my drive for petitions asking for an investigation of your department, the Surgeon General's office, and the American Medical Association. Otherwise I have no alternative. . . . Let your conscience be your guide . . .

(Mrs Mickey Cullen)

PROJECT HERMES (Instrumental inter-plane communication):

The following memo. from research worker Arthur H. Bird will be of interest to our Associates and other American investigators: He writes:

> I have now completed the receiver using the Raytheon tubes and other units recommended. The chief effects observed are the feeling of a band being tightened on the forehead and a tingling sensation in the arms and legs - which proves that the instrument is working. I think much depends on the psychical condition of the experimenter. I am now trying to superimpose colour vibrations by means of coloured solutions and measuring their effects on the resistances of the various colours.

NEW RESEARCH CENTER:

"The present letter is to communicate officially that a Flying Saucer Research Center has been organized in Sao Paulo., Brazil, So. America - June 19, last. . . We intend to publish all the UFO Brazilian sightings and related events, also articles and essays on this subject. We shall print a mimeo Bulletin O DISCO VOADOR monthly in both languages, Portuguese and English. Address the Center, or Director JOSE ESCOBAR FARIA, Rua 15 de Novembro, 228/40 andar, Sala 412, Sao Paulo, Brazil, S.A. (This is a non-profit organization and will welcome contacts with similar publications and individuals in the United States.

THE "B"-CELL LABORATORIES: 96 Miller St., Middleboro, Mass. John C. Brown, (Biologist), to Dr. P. C. Cosman of San Diego: Excerpts from letter.

. . . I want to notify you and M.L. of what took place at the Tiffin, Ohio meeting, when a scientist called on me. This woman scientist is at the head of a laboratory in New York (Foundation for the Study of Consciousness), is very capable, and has found out a great deal about the "B-Cell". She tells me that it 'can't miss' when the facts are accepted in the near future - also that it more than doubles the vitality in everything it comes in contact with. She said also that it transmutes inorganic (dead) water into crystalline pure water and introduces potential high life into it. This test was carried on from the little catalyzer that goes into the gallon of tap water. Further, it neutralizes all the poisons added to the water and eliminates all parasites . . . She is now going on with other tests for such conditions as cancer, leukemia, heart, high blood pressure and other vital diseases. She will also go into matter of rejuvenation effects . . . . . You will know a great deal more about these natural (mitogenetic) rays than I, but I know them as true rays of reproduction and natural life. These rays from the cell nucleus travel nearly twice as fast as those of natural light . . . They are derived from the blue pigment found in the nucleus of the B cell. . . "

A 7-pg brochure on the B-Cell, by biologist Brown, may be had from the laboratories at address above, on request. We also have a limited supply at BSR Hdqrs. Stamped and self-addressed envelopes (.06) and any small donation to this non-profit research work will be greatly appreciated. Some ten years of research is in the background of this work, reports from it are most remarkable, and we consider it a privilege to publicise them.
