CAMERON ON CONES:

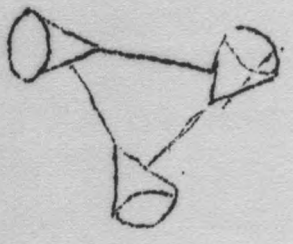

As readers are aware the subject of cones and their powers of concentration has formed the subject of many articles in previous issues of the PENDULUM as it constitutes one of the fundamental principles for the tapping of power supplies from natural sources. Nobody can pretend that we know all the answers, we are not even sure which questions to ask, but the careful work of many experimenters on both sides of the Atlantic gives great cause for hope for the future. The present notes were contributed by Carl H. Betz. It would appear that the reason for the increase in energy when the cone is sealed instead of being open is due to the external rather than the internal surface being the main channel for collection. (Ed. PENDULUM).

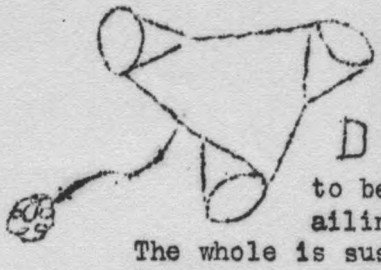

A. Energy from cones goes through walls of concrete.

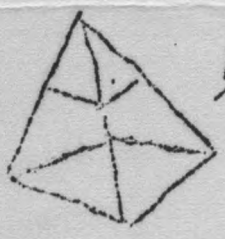

B. Energy is reflected by mirror -- like light apparently.

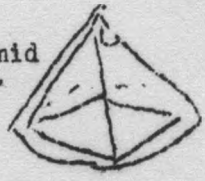

C. Transmitted from one cone to another; cones in line of beam will deflect it.

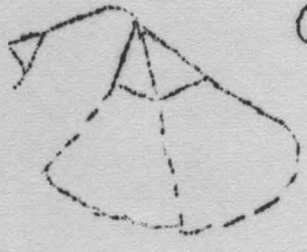

D - E. Treatment assembly with copper scouring pad to be applied to ailing part of body. The whole is suspended in air by string or thread. A 'ray' directed against the shoulder will come out of the chest).

F. Energy field of a pyramid extends below the pyramid.

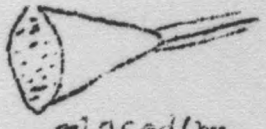

H. If cone is placed over pyramid they seem to cancel each other - energy field seems 'dead'.

G. If cone is attached to tip of pyramid, energy field grows larger under pyramid.

I.

If the bottom of the cone is closed off there is an apparent increase in the energy output

Biographical Notes on AIME' MICHEL, author of THE TRUTH ABOUT FLYING SAUCERS --
--(Criterion Books)

- Born in 1919 in southern France, Michel now lives in Paris. He is a bachelor.

Education:

Baccalaureat Mathematiques et Philosophies (1938)
Licence des Philosophie:
Psychologie et Philosophie generale (1941)
Histore de la Philosophie et Pedagogie (1942)
Mathematiques generales (1943)
Ingenieur du Son - Radiodiffusion (1944)

Books:

Etude Psychotechnique del'Ingenieur du Son (1944)
Montagnes Heroiques -- Histoire de l'Alpinisme (1953)
Lueurs sur les Soucoupes Volantes (1954) -- (THE TRUTH ABOUT FLYING SAUCERS)

Several other works are now in preparation. Michel has also written numerous magazine & newspaper articles.

From 1943 to 1944, Michel was professor of philosophy at Grenoble. Since that time (and at the present), he has been science editor of the French national radio network (la Radioffusion francaise).

Michel has written as follows about THE TRUTH ABOUT FLYING SAUCERS:

"Almost all books on the Flying Saucers have failed, be it through lack of information (Professor Menzel), lack of scientific knowledge (Keyhoe, who is, however, so honest & well informed), bad faith in one sense or another (I will not name anyone), lack of critical spirit, or a combination of all of these. That is why the Flying Saucers have aroused such controversy.

"I have therefore sought: 1) to assemble as much data as possible 2)to scrutinize this data scientifically 3) to isolate those cases which resist all explanation. I have brought to light a series of irrefutable eyewitness accounts from Europe and Africa and have reopened criticism of the American cases.

"In addition to the reporting of sightings, I have presented a critique of every 'explanation' in America and Europe, including the extraordinary theory of Lieutenant Plantier, disclosed for the first time in my book. This theory revolutionizes the entire question by explaining literally everything and by opening up the fantastic future which awaits us.

"Finally, for the first time also, my book opens up the philosophical aspects of the question, and also brings to light the actual discoveries of astrophysics, organic chemistry, biology, and even cybernetics. In this part of the book, I have made as general a definition as possible of life, in order to prepare for the possibility of life elsewhere in the universe."

Michel believes that his book "offers for the first time, perhaps, a solidly based study of the Flying Saucers, simultaneously avoiding the childish lies of certain publicity hunters and the peremptory 'nos' of certain scientists who have not gone to the trouble of studying the evidence seriously."

MENZEL SPEAKS:

"On your knees, fellow reader, the great White Father Donald H. Menzel has spoken again. The world expert on UFO's has written quite a spectacular article in the November '55 issue of Atlantic Magazine entitled "Other Worlds than Ours". Don has done a beautiful job of telling the reader why life could exist on other planets, but doesn't mention that nasty term "flying saucers". The article ends with the following paragraph:

... And if my speculative theory of planetary origin should prove to be correct, then we may expect to find a plurality in our universe. And what has happened on earth is surely not unique.

Life, even human or superhuman life, may exist in millions of places in the universe.

I would say Don has had a change of mind.

(Flying Saucer Review, R.J. Gribble, Editor: June 1956. Pub. mo. at 5108 Findlay St., Seattle 18, Washington. Copy, 30 cts. (Copyrighted).

CQC Editor has not read the Atlantic article - but evasive action and the tactics of retreat are often interesting. In this connection we call attention to The Solution of the Flying Saucer Mystery, by James W. Moseley, editor of Saucer News (Box 163, Fort Lee, N.J. .35). We respect the abilities and courage of editor Moseley, and in fairness to him recommend that the entire article be read, since the following summary is necessarily inadequate.

The UFO's, Editor Moseley believes - or rather, those of the disc-shaped kind or 'saucers', are manufactured by a powerful organization, by and with the consent of the US Government. This work is carried on in underground factories, plants and laboratories, and the saucers are sent forth over the entire world. For the facts are, says Mr. Moseley, that one of the atobomb tests got out of hand and poisoned the atmosphere of the entire planet. To publicise this fact was out of the question - and it became unnecessary, pro tem. at least, when it was found that the 'saucers' could be used to neutralize this poisoning. For this reason they were sent over the entire globe - and the dilemma and unintelligible tactics of the Air Force can be partly grasped.

The new principles of propulsion employed enable these saucers to carry out all the feats of flight and maneuver so often observed. This is the master key or grand secret - but Moseley makes clear that there may be other craft in our skies also, - cigar-shaped ones, for example, which he seems to regard with apprehension. And we should not forget that he claims to have positive proof of his main thesis, and more proof coming up, to be offered us later. Whether you and I personally believe this remarkable story is not too important, but it does seem to be a very comforting hide-out and retreat for the fearful ... Too bad, of course, that the AF couldn't have been let in on the secret, but had to go on and on sacrificing planes and pilots on interception flights, while all the time these beneficent monsters were being hatched right here in underground laboratories. But such is life-and-death in the AAF.

Don't take my word for it; get a copy of No.4 Vol. 3 of Saucer News and read all about it. Remember that Editor Moseley really and truly expects to be closed up or down by the Powers that be, as a result of his revelations,&deserves credit for courage and not ridicule at all -- There have even been people who ridiculed the "4-D" theory of the BSR about aeroforms, and which seems to me much simpler than the MIM (Made in 'Merica) idea - and so . . . . .

Contrary to our usual custom in such matters, we recommend to our Associates that they obtain a copy of a brochure of 4 mimeo pages, numbered 25-32 incl., with introductory note by Charles A. Laughead & Lillian Laughead. Address Dr.Laughead at P.O. Box 1, Whipple, Arizona. No charge stated but at least send postage. Philip and Koot Hoomi communicating. (Mention BSR if desired).

U.S.A. TODAY is the title of a recent book (1955), by Helen and Scott Nearing; published by the Social Science Institute, Harborside, Maine. This is the product of a three-year long gypsy-life wandering of highways and byways, with much penetrating analysis and comment. About 240 pages, with bibliography and index. BSRA can supply a few copies at $1.25 - a substantial saving over the publisher's price (new copies, not used). The contents includes:

Observations on the State of the Nation (Part I, 83 pgs)
Opposition, Resistance and Cold War in the USA (Part II, 62 pgs)
What is Happening to the United States? (Part III, 57 pgs)
The Tide Will Turn (36 pgs., Part IV)

The book was written under feelings of urgency and concern but the final outlook is not pessimistic. The authors have had wide experience and several excellent books to their credit, with many highly favorable reviews by the press. We do not as a rule give space in CQC to books outside the field of BSR activities, but are glad to make an exception in this instance.

FARMER BROWN'S HEALTH GERM:

Under this title, quoted from FATE magazine, our last issue of CQC (F-7) contained a write-up of what may prove to be an extremely important discovery -- of some kind of cellular biological unit which produces remarkable effects on plant growth. Mr Brown, by the way, is a naturalist and biochemist and apparently a very competent one, and he has since sent us a semi-technical brochure which we shall try to mimeograph, for distribution to Associates who want to experiment. And pending the technical study, anyone who wants to plant (say) a row of beans and irrigate half of them with activated water (B-Cell), can easily do so, and watch the results and report them to BSR Hdqrs. Write to Mr. John C. Brown, 92 Miller St., Middleboro, Mass., for one or two of the small discs containing the B Cell.

Those who are interested in comments from the 'other side' on such matters can consider the comment of the Yada on this B-Cell phenomenon. "This cell produces other cells in a normal manner, yet in doing so it emits a ray. This ray affects the aura of seeds or other plants , and by doing so stimulates the nerve centers of the plant". It is not quite clear whether the ray affects the etheric double or pattern - the Yada used the term "auric light" at one point. And the Control added, that he could not say what the long-range or cumulative effect would be on persons drinking the activated water - so that caution was to be recommended. . . . Mr. Brown claims to have a great mass of evidence with many micro-photographs and detailed growth records showing an astonishing effect on plant growth - and some effect of some kind on animals and humans would be an obvious inference.

Somewhat a propos of the foregoing, the following item appeared in the San Diego Union, 6-24-56: A rare acid obtained from a fungus of diseased Japanese rice . . . revealed by the agriculture Department ... minute amounts, one millionth of an ounce in an ounce of water put on a plant or tree caused remarkable acceleration of growth. This gibberellic acid has doubled or tripled the heights of various kinds of plants, with only one application. It was applied externally to the stems of young plants . In 3 to 4 weeks geranium, poinsettia, sunflower, rose, salvia, petunia and other ornamentals had grown one-half to three times taller than untreated. Heights of crop plants (beans, corn, barley etc) were doubled or tripled. New growth of forest trees was greatly increased, with some few exceptions. . .

Characteristically, it was the promise of increased supply of newsprint which interested the newspaper.

(Waukegan Contact Group) "W.C.G. Research Bulletin" (April, '56) --2135 Hyde Park, Waukegan, Ill. -- .50 per copy.)

". . . . This talk of radio communications may discourage some, but that leads me into our second method of communications, light beams. Light beams have many distinct advantages over radio. You don't need any license whatsoever, to operate the equipment. This should be a relief to anyone interested in this work who doesn't hold an F.C.C. license. Another advantage is that all communications are strictly two-way, whereas with radio, anyone having a short-wave receiver is able to monitor your transmissions. The unit is comparatively simple, therefore the price is not prohibitive. Depending on the type of unit built, including transmitter and receiver with all parts new, I would say that the cost could be kept under $30.

"A light beam receiver is nothing more than a photo-electric bulb (like those used to automatically open doors at supermarkets, etc.) connected with a two-tube amplifier. This is all run off of batteries in order to make it completely portable. Anyone with some electronic experience should be able to build one without too much difficulty. . . . "

(Some 7-8 years ago the Mark Probert Controls advised us to employ light beams as the most practicable means of communicating with the people of the aeroforms (Saucers). ML

"Flying Saucers Are Real": Says Brazilian Air Force Official Report. -- ..... This startling official statement was the first Air Force admission that the Saucers existed. It read in part as follows: "..... On December 2, 1954, came the last & most important development on this matter. A conference was performed at the Army Technical School, patronized by A.D.E.S.G. (Superior Army School Graduates Association,)a very responsible entity. The selected audience included important military personnel and civilian authorities. The subject to be discussed was entitled: 'Flying Saucers'. Colonel Adil de Oliveira was in charge. He made a careful evaluation of all information and evidence collected through the world since 1947. He analyzed Project Blue Book and studied seven outstanding cases from the Projects files. He discussed the best Brazilian sightings and concluded making the following statements:

"1. Evidence shows that the Saucers are real. No government could afford to ignore the reports about UFO's and all investigations should be made to determine the identity of any UFO sighted over the country. The problem could be of military interest.

"2. The Saucers appear to be some kind of revolutionary aircraft. They are not conventional phenomenon or illusions. There are too many responsible people involved to say that the whole thing was an hallucination.

"3. We don't know where they come from, and we don't know the purpose of their survey. I hope some day we can solve the riddle and know the answers."

Col. Adil de Oliveira finished his statement and walked back to the first row of the spectator section. The room was quiet. The audience stood motionless, some faces worried, some confused or perplexed, a few bewildered, none of them absent-minded. Then an analysis of the best sightings was started and, at the witness chair, three observers reported what they had seen. They were: Lt. Hernani Ferraz de Almeida, jet pilot; Major-Aviator Joao Magalhaes Mota; and Mr. Thelmo Braga, civilian.

Finally, closing the conference, Brigadier Guedes Muniz said a few words: "We, military technicians and aeronautic engineers, have not tried in the past to discuss the technological and scientific probability of these space vagabonds. And we are not trying to discuss it now, because we remember an old story, very good to be recalled here: 'Years ago, the best aeronautic engineers in the world assembled together to study the horn-beetle flight. They analyzed the horn-beetle, its aerodynamic shape entirely wrong, its flight surface tremendously deficient, its heaviness and its incredible power. After a great deal of reasoning and scientific experimentation, they had made certain that the horn-beetle could not fly. But the horn-beetle, knowing nothing of this, is still flying'.. . ."

"We Can Be Destroyed": (from a speech by Congressman Clarence Cannon, of Missouri -- - pg. 11, "The Beacon Light Herald", Atascadero, Calif. -Monthly publication, .50 per copy. -Wm. Kullgren, Ed. -- June, 1956 issue.)-- "....War to the hilt between communism and capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years. To win we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoise will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as the guard is down we shall smash them with our clenched fist.....Mass evacuation is an extremely complicated and difficult undertaking. It can be accomplished only if people know clearly where they are to go and what is expected of them. The next step, therefore, is a comprehensive, concise plan by civil defense authorities. There should be no uncertainties ....."

"Bomb-Weather Link Seen: (T.J. Constable letter to L.A. "Times", June 21, 1956) --

"-Since the much publicized air-drop of an H-bomb and the Japanese report of a subsequent blast which 'leaked' to the world press, nothing has been heard of the tests at Eniwetok. Is this because scientists and governments alike are afraid that intelligent laymen might detect correlation between the firing of these bombs and the incredibly irregular weather conditions throughout the world?

"Throughout the United States our people have been bedeviled for months by floods, tornadoes, and exceptional weather phenomena. This damage has cost untold millions and spread misery through our midst in a swath. Immediately after the airdrop bomb, for example, the city of Indianapolis was inundated by rain of torrential quantities, An undersea eruption takes place off the island of Oahu. The Idaho floods worsen as hundreds are driven from their homes.

"It should also be remembered by those seeking to find the answer that other disasters in the weather conditions can be explained by surreptitious Russian explosions made while the Soviet held forth the peace branch.

"Since the Soviets know when we fire a bomb, and vice versa, and also the approximate power of the detonation, it appears that only the public is to be kept in ignorance of what is happening.

"The planet on which we dwell belongs as much to the ordinary people paying the bills as to their governments and scientists. In my view, insufficient evidence has been accumulated to permit the pontifical denials by scientists that H-bombs affect the weather of our planet.

"In the interests of all, this subject deserves impartial investigation as public business. And the public should be told the truth when the investigation is concluded."

"The Story of Blood": (from "Electronic Medical Digest"(now discon.).-Address National Health Federation -- 2452 VanNess Ave., San Francisco 9, Calif.--Write for info.-)

-- "The Bible says:'The life of all flesh is in the blood thereof.'-Leviticus 17:14. Science says: 'Each drop of blood contains 3,500,000,000,000,000 (three quadrillion, five hundred trillion) protein molecules which, in turn, are made up of innumerable combinations of atoms which themselves are made up of protons, neutrons, and electrons. Each atom is a universe in itself; with its planetary electrons revolving around its nucleus at tremendous speed and each particle of it vibrating in accordance with its orbit, speed, and size.

" In normal conditions, the blood continually bathes the cells of the body tissues and provides them with needed chemical ingredients while removing from them the waste products created by their activity.

"We say:

1. Because of the foregoing natural phenomena, a drop of blood will contain a product of all the chemistry taking place in the living tissue of the person or animal from whom the blood was taken.

2. It takes a particular energy to move electrons in atoms to different orbits necessary to each particular chemical action. The shifting of electrons in chemical action causes them to vibrate in accordance with that shifting, thus giving off an energy which, if detected and recorded, will enable a skilled technician to compile a detailed picture of human or animal tissue, be it healthy or diseased..."

"ANATOMY OF:

"An Atom of any chemical element consists of an electron cloud in the center of which is a heavy nucleus, containing protons, neutrons, and mesatrons. Many atoms have the same kind of electron cloud but possess a different kind of nucleus. Such atoms are called

"Isotopes. Different isotopes of a single element are distinguished by a number which represents the weight of the nucleus, thus: H-1 and H-2 (Hydrogen) or U-238 and U-235 (Uranium). The nucleus, however, may not be stable. When it changes, it may emit gamma rays. What the nuclear physicist has discovered is a way to change the nucleus; to regroup atoms into new patterns; to transmute the elements rather than just to rearrange them; to control an entirely new group of natural phenomena. One of the most important by-products of the development of the atomic bomb are:

"Radioactive Isotopes, which can serve as new tools for basic research in many fields, including medicine, chemistry, and physics. They may be of greater value than the power potentialities of atomic energy. With modern instruments, their radioactivity can be detected at a distance and their presence readily located among stable atoms. That is why they are called:

"Tracer Elements, since their radiations are specific and unique, and can be followed outside the body, growing plant, or organism. There are tremendous possibilities in the utilization of radioactive carbon because carbon can form such an enormous number of organic compounds. The value of these new tools for acquiring information about living matter is almost limitless."

THE COMING RACE, by Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton. (No publishing date given, but Sir Edward lived from 1831 to 1981.) Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton was an occultist, and his connections with the Inner School are well known.

This is the story of a man, who on entering a cave and going deep into the earth, found strange but very far advanced races of human beings living together in the Center of the Earth. They had discovered a universal force which they called VRIL (this is said to have a meaning which may be discovered through the Tarot.) It was more subtle than electricity, and they used it to enrich their lives in many ways. (Transportation, light, heat.) It was very powerful. To quote: "Man was so com - pletely at the mercy of man, each whom he encountered being able if so willing to slay him on the instant, that all notions of government by force vanished from the political systems and forms of law."

How like the pattern of our future life this may be, yet it was written many, many years before our Atomic Age began, and before we became engaged in the struggle of "Atoms for Peace."

There is an interesting love story, as one of the VRIL-ya women who belonged to the College of Sages, fell in love with the visitor. Whether or not her great wisdom influenced him in refusing her love, is not clear, but there is such a suspicion noted. At any rate, refuse her he did, and was brought back to the outside of the Earth.

The races inside the Earth operated with a super-justice, which was not in accordance with the tolerance which we believe to be necessary in our attempt at Brotherhood.

Again, to quote, "Tenderness to all created things which the good of the community does not require to destroy." Our present civilization seems to be trying another line.

Sir Edward closes his narrative with the thought that when the VRIL-ya Race emerges into the sunlight, as it will, that it must become our inevitable destroyers, because of the difference in our objectives, and so has felt it necessary to "record these forewarnings of the COMING RACE.

"Pg. 15) VRIL. I know no word in any language that is the exact synonym for Vril. I should call it electricity except that it comprehends in its manifold branches other forces of nature to which in our scientific nomenclature differing names are assigned, such as magnetism, galvanism, etc. ---

"Terrible force, VRIL. -- brought the art of destruction to such perfection as to annul all superiority in numbers, discipline or military skill. The fire lodged in the hollow of a rod directed by the hand of a child could shatter the strongest fortress --

"Man was so completely at the mercy of man each whom he encountered being able if so willing to slay him on the instant that all notions of government by force gradually vanished from political systems and forms of law. There was no longer any necessity of self-preservation or the pride of aggrandizement to make one state desire to preponderate in population over another.

"No happiness without order, no order without authority and no authority without unity.--

"After the discovery of VRIL, they remodelled their political institutions. They expressly adopted a title taken from an extinct race, and a dead language for that of their chief magistrate, in order to avoid all titles for that office with which they had previous associations....." (Assoc. Mary J. Hyde, B.S.R.A)

WHATEVER HAPPENS, KEEP COOL:

Scientists have developed a real hot-weather suit - it will keep a man cool in temperatures up to 1400 degrees. This suit has a newly developed aluminum coating which reflects most of the heat, edevloped by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company, of St. Paul, Minn ... has been demonstrated publicly. The company statement said that nine-tenths of the heat is reflected away by the aluminum and the other tenth is dissipated by a layer of glass fibre quilting underneath. It was shown that an armload of wood carried into a 1200 degree F oven by a man clad in the fabric, will burst into flame and burn without injury to the man.

(CQC Editor lived for several years where the summer temperature averaged between 110 & 120 deg. but missed out on this. How about packing house walls or partitions with this stuff?).

We have on occasion printed memo. of books wanted by our Associates, with the result that in time about one-third of the titles asked for were sent in to us, with permission to sell and apply proceeds to BSR expenses. If you're not in a hurry for some book we may be able to get it for you at an attractive price. Also, as heretofore, if you have used books in the field of BSR interests and no longer need them, you might send them in as a donation to BSR work.

We have requests for used copies of the following: Communication with the Spirit World; Greber -- The Mystical Qabalah; Dion Fortune -- La Morte d'Arthur, Mallory -- Esoteric Orders and Their Work; Dion Fortune -- Spiritualism in the Light of Occult Science: Dion Fortune -- The Cosmic Doctrine; Dion Fortune -- The Qabalah Unveiled; Mathers -- There is a River: Sugrue --

If you have any of these which you care to donate to the BSR with permission to sell, it will be substantial help and much appreciated.

We could dispose of any reasonable number of copies of any of the books just mentioned.

We want to give special mention to an admirably written booklet (pocket size, 85 pgs.), by James Russell Lowell Morrell: Spiritism and the Beginnings of Christianity. Deals in large part with Apollonius of Tyana. ($1.00). (New books, unused).

We have additional copies of Apollonius of Tyana, by Alice Winston (information from the Akashic Records). (New books, not used) $2.50.

The Gospel of the Holy Twelve: Ouseley. Essene teachings. A scarce item; we have about a half-dozen copies; new (unused). Please ofder promptly if wanted. We have to ask $4.50 for these. (270 pgs. book is 7 x 5").

THE RESULT: Dr. O.A. Ostby. (Origin of New Testament etc.) (A compilation from various authorities). $1.00.

SPECULATIVE SUGGESTIONS: Paper, in 3 parts: (A) Concerning Spirit Forces in Science (B) Evolution of the Universe, by Michael Faraday (C) Finite Existence -- and: "Original Sin". All items in this paragraph for $1.00. (Compilations by F.R. Bartholomew).

THE COMING OF THE HUARDIANS: The third mimeo printing of this, with added material, is under way. We can accept advance orders ($3.00) and hope to deliver about the end of July. We have difficulty in getting paper supplies.

*Note:

As most of our readers understand, CQC is a kind of stop-gap publication between issues of Round Robin and we do not attempt to organize the material - hence the general grab-bag effect.
