GREETINGS and a warm welcome to all the new members of the family of readers and supporters of this Spiritual Activity for the New Age known as THE FATHER 'S HOUSE Quarterly magazine. Copies of first issue which came out in February, are available to those who wish to have a complete set beginning with Volume 1, Number 1. We also some extra copies of the forerunner of this activity, the smaller booklet published in June 1968, under the title of "The Universal Link Concept". It is a brief resume of the Universal Link Concept and activity which originated in England eight years ago. Though it contained some inaccuracies due to lack of complete up-to-date information, it is still the only publication giving the whole story up through the year 1967. All our publications sent on a donation basis.

Our Invisible Director and Editor-in-Chief, has seen fit to bring a most unusual and unsurpassed Spiritual Feast to you in this Spring issue of the Father's House, - a full 12 course meal!! Most of you may be aware that during this past Easter season, there was another great acceleration of the all powerful spiritual forces and energies that are being focussed on this planet Earth in preparation for our entry into the Aquarian Age in which this "Prodigal Planet" and its people will finally return to The Father's House! Here is the Menu for the Feast of Spiritual Food in this issue:

"Thoughts on golden threads of endless length, stretch forth to you, and on each golden thread and between each bead of thought, is placed a bead of Love, and one of Peace! " (By Ban-Dhu of Jamal)

The Foundation Of THE FATHER'S HOUSE

"There is a plan for mankind on this planet, a Divine plan, and much must come to pass for this plan to be carried out. The race of mankind is now going through a process of transmutation, that it may reach the pinnacle that God has set for it.

There are many beings in this New Age who will lead the way. They will exemplify God's Divine Plan for all mankind. They will show the way to oneness with God and the Universe by being oneness! Everything they do, say and think will be totally the Will of God. They will be God's instruments, His messengers, His teachers. They will BE the Way!

The way is being prepared for the coming Avatar, the Christ, who will appear in a great Light. Humanity must be prepared to see this Light, to be unafraid of it, to know that it brings to them their liberation from all illusion and torment. At this time many are being made ready to be Way-showers. They can be found in all walks of life, and in all the hundreds of small meditation and enlightenment groups that are meeting and sharing all over the world. Soon we will notice profound changes being made in government, education, economic systems, science and all the arts. We will begin to see many Truths being revealed through these mediums. The groups that are gathering are Light Centres, and the members are Light Bearers. At this time they are going through a great deal to be transformed into the teachers and leaders of this New Age. We will soon know and be surprised at many who are a part of this great work.

Each of us must be deeply concerned with our own spiritual unfoldment, and with the establishing of the Law of Right Human Relations in our individual group wherever it may be. For every one of us who has achieved the Higher Consciousness of Love and Light, one thousand more will be brought into the Light. We can hasten our unfoldment in a simple way, and we can do this even as we take care of our daily responsibilities. We meditate, we study, we serve and follow our inner guidance. Eventually we will have complete mastery over our physical, emotional and mental bodies, and we will walk among our fellowmen with total soul-consciousness, radiating Light and Love everywhere. And then the great work will begin!

This magazine, "THE FATHER'S HOUSE", is a link in itself, - a link with the Light Centres around the world, and a link with our spiritual brothers in the Universe, as underscored by our special feature story in this issue, - in fact it has turned out to be a triple feature. Henceforth such contacts and events will become increasingly commonplace as more and more beings are brought into the Light of Spiritual awareness and understanding. It is therefore important that we support our Light Centres and magazines such as this one. This material is God's gift to you and all mankind. It travels around the globe encompassing all with its Light and Love. Your financial gifts are most welcome and needful to cover the cost of printing and mailing this unique publication to hundreds, yes thousands more, both here and abroad. We bless you in Infinite Light and Limitless Love."

future you may have a personal meeting with us. Until then, may our blessings -- and those of the Eternal Father's be with you in your daily life."

The saucer then glowed a bright red, flew off to the north at a fantastic speed-- and disappeared. So ended my first contact with the wonderful people from Venus. It has lasted for only a few minutes, but I felt as if I had been touched by another world. It was difficult to "come back to Earth," and for days I found it hard to concentrate on routine things.

I didn't tell anyone but my Aunt about my experience. She is very interested in these things, and she was the one who suggested that I send my story to AFSCA. But I wasn't quite sure yet what to do. There were many things to think about. At times I even wondered if I had really had the experience. It was almost too much to believe. I wondered if the shots in my camera would come out. The conflict in my mind was terrible. If I didn't publish my story, my conscience would never leave me alone. Yet people would often laugh at me if I did (as the Venusians had mentioned). And what if the photos didn't turn out, who would believe me? I wondered whether I could stand the ridicule. The indecision was agony.

Then one day in January (1-18-67) a newspaper reported that some UFO's were seen near Mayaguez. That gave me the encouragement I needed. I quickly took the remaining four shots in my camera of insignificant things just to use up the roll, and took it down to be developed. Unfortunately, only one of the eight saucer shots came out. But sure enough, there was one fairly good negative of the object I had seen and photographed! It gave me quite a thrill to see the actual evidence of my sighting, even though the photo was somewhat blurred from the camera motion, due to my excitement at the time, and the difficulty of holding the extremely long-focal-length-lens steady without a tripod.

At once I sat down and wrote my story and asked my Aunt to type it for me. Then I sent it with the saucer snapshot to a local paper, "El Imparcial." You can imagine how overjoyed I was when they printed my account on February 16, 1967! It was a beginning! I was on my way! And even more -- I had the hope of a personal contact with the Space People to look forward to! I could hardly contain my excitement and anticipation!

PART 2

MY RIDE IN A VENUSIAN SCOUT CRAFT: The message which the Space People had given me a few weeks before was constantly in my mind. I wondered how to go about publishing my story, so as to help as much as possible to tell others about the existance of people on other planets.

First, I became a member of AFSCA, as my Space friends had mentioned it as being a large Flying Saucer organization which prints stories of contacts with Space People. Several sightings were made between December and February, one of which was photographed by a young boy of 14, in Bayamon, and whose story was published in a newspaper called El Mundo.

Nothing unusual had happened on Friday, March 31 (1967) up until the time I left school for the day at about 3:00 P. M. I remember that when I got home I didn't feel very hungry. (Usually I'm famished!) I ate a very scant supper (I don't eat much meat) and afterwards I had a strange feeling of peace, and I felt very light. What could it mean? I didn't know, but the feeling grew stronger by the minute.

Shortly after 7:00 P. M., I suddenly found myself changing into street clothes. Then I went out and took a bus until it came to the end of the line in a coastal area. I wasn't sure exactly where it was but I realized that it was somewhere near the Yacht Club. Something compelled me to walk on, but all the while themain thing that puzzled me was the strange feeling that had come over me before I left home, -- and this feeling was still with me. Finally I found myself on a deserted beach called Pinones, the most desolate place I have ever been in my life. And it was a pitch black night. I stood silently, looking around-waiting for I knew not what.

In a few minutes I felt, rather than heard, my name called. When I turned around, I saw someone approaching me and waving in a friendly way. Then the same odd feeling took hold of me that I had experienced during my first (telepathic) contact. As the figure came nearer, I saw that it was a man about my own height (5 feet 9 inches). I estimated his weight at 145 pounds. I could tell that he had long hair to his shoulders and was wearing a close-fitting garment that looked like a one-piece suit. Suddenly, it came strongly into my mind that the man was not of this world, and at the same time I remembered Laan-Deeka's and Sharanna's promise that someday they would contact me personally! The man offered his hand in greeting and I responded in the usual way we do here. But the stranger merely pressed his palm lightly onto mine. The flesh was soft but firm, and later I noticed his hands were slender and artistic.

Then he spoke (in Spanish). "Yes, beloved Earth brother, I am Laan-Deeka, of the planet Venus, with whom you 'spoke' telepathically several weeks ago. We have been studying your world since long before you even started to live in cities. We have used our powers of clairvoyance and telethought for this, as well as living among you, unnoticed." "Laan-Deeka," I asked, "why did you call me 'brother', and what are these powers you call tele-thought and clairvoyance?" "I will answer your questions in order, Lester", he said. "Do you believe in reincarnation?" "Yes", I replied.

Laan-Deeka said, "Many Earthlings, if they observe nature's laws, may reincarnate on other planets which are more advanced than your Earth. The more one advances spiritually, the more he realizes that all men everywhere are brothers, becuase they are all the creations of the same Universal God". "In answer to your other question, telethought is the ability to hear or pick up another's thought at great distance, by telepathy -- or mind-to-mind communication. Even interplanetary and interstellar thought communications are possible. However, most of your people (Earthlings) have not yet developed their telepathic abilities. This is partly due to the fact that most people do not even realize that such a thing is possible, although many of your scientists are now convinced of it. Clairvoyance is the ability to see or to perceive with the mind's eye, events that occur in far away places." While I was quietly musing about what he had told me, Laan-Deeka said, "Beloved brother, let's go beyond that little rock wall. I want to show you something very marvelous."

When we arrived on the other side of the wall, Laan-Deeka stood quietly beside me for a few seconds, when I saw a disk-like outline start to materialize! And there before me, hovering with its top tilted toward me and with its flange about two feet off the ground, was an actual spaceship from another world! Boy, was I astonished! It seemed somewhat larger than the one I had sighted before when I took the photo. This one looked about forty feet across but was the same general shape as the one I had photographed previously. A power coil near the dome shone softly in a very beautiful color display. The main body of the craft appeared to be made of translucent metal. The part near the cabin shone in a low tone of blue. Suddenly a door slid open in the side of the ship. This was most amazing to me as there was no indication of any door at all when it was closed. Then a well proportioned woman stepped out and greeted me with the Venusian-style handclasp (palm to palm). She was so lovely that I was speechless for a moment. Her hair was long and fair, and she had a fantastic figure, which was none-the-less obvious in her one-piece "space suit" type garment. I estimated her measurements at 5'4" and 37-27-35.

Just as I was wondering if this was Laan-Deeka's companion of my first telepathic contact, she said, "I am Sharanna, Laan-Deeka's fiancee." In the soft, bluish light that came from within the ship, she looked very young - maybe still in her teens. Laan-Deeka also was very young looking (about 20) and his face was as hairless as a child's. But their manner was one of older, wiser people. Their foreheads were high and their features clean. Their eyes had a slight slant (his were green and hers were blue) and sparkled brilliantly, especially when they laughed. Their voices were very musical and indicated a great joy of life.

Just then the tide came up and caught us unaware. The Venusians only got their feet wet, but I was thoroughly splashed all over! Both Laan-Deeka and Sharanna laughed merrily, but there was not a trace of ridicule in it. I noticed how gracefully they both moved in their suits, which looked very light-textured and comfortable. The material was a pale orange color and there was a yellow band at the waist. They explained to me that they wore that color when landing in deserted places, so as to be more easily followed by the crews of their ships (the color contrasted with the ground), and to avoid getting lost. Suddenly Laan-Deeka said, "Quick, my brother, inside the ship. I sense someone approaching us".

He climbed up the slanted flange first, then Sharanna, and I followed behind her. Fortunately my shoes had rubber soles so I didn't slip. As soon as we passed through the door, it closed silently and left no evidence that it was there. Laan-Deeka pushed a button and then I heard a humming sound and felt a slight movement. On looking at the view panel in the floor, I saw that we already were very high up! Sharanna said, "We are now about 50,000 feet above sea-level, Lester". Her eyes sparkled merrily at my amazement, for we had gained that altitude in seconds! I had felt no discomfort or pressure at all. There was no more sensation or sense of motion than going up in an elevator. The seat on which I sat surrounded a center pole about 18 inches in diameter. Laan-Deeka spoke, "The center pole is magnetic, and it harnesses the natural force which holds the planets together in an orderly fashion (gravity). This craft is only a Scout Ship." (It was much like, or perhaps the same as, the wellknown bell-shaped Venusian Scout Craft that George Adamski described in his books "Flying Saucers Have Landed" and "Inside the Spaceships.") "It is used only for traveling within a planet's atmosphere. For broader space travel, we use great cigar shaped transport ships 1000 feet or more in length. They carry aboard many smaller ships like this one we are in now. We will now stop for a while and give you a chance to examine the ship's interior."

It looked about twenty feet in diameter and the roof about ten feet high. The magnetic center pole extended from the floor through the dome of the ship, where there was another view panel, or glass lens. Through it I could see the stars looking huge and very beautiful in the blackness of space. It made me marvel at the wonders of the Creator. There was a chart in the area where the door had been. It consisted of many different patterns of color, cris-crossed. The Venusians told me it showed the magnetic areas of the planets.

"We use a system of scrambling radar and light waves," Laan-Deeka said, "by the use of that special machine there by the control panel. It works electromagnetically and prevents us from being shot down by radar-guided missiles, and it also can make our ships invisible!" They kept amazing me more and more! Sharanna then said, "It is too bad that your Air Force tells people that UFO's as they call them, do not exist, and try to explain them away as weather-balloons, mirages, illusions, etc. They also say that photographs of these UFO's are fake. No doubt a few are fake -- made purposely by insincere persons trying to discredit all such photos. But to discredit all saucer photos is not right ortrue. Neither is it right for them to discredit 'contactees', as you call them, and their experiences. If their stories (the contactees') are sometimes contradictory, it is with good reason. Your Earth people are contacting Space People from different planets and different cultures, and in different stages of advancement - and these things are happening at different times and places. Therefore the reports could hardly be the same. However, it will be noticed that there are principles which are basic in most all the experiences. Your Earthly defense systems seek to destroy all the UFO's they see. Why do you think they would try so hard to destroy something they say does not exist? It is something to think about, isn't it?

"We Venusians, and most other Space People, as well, are loving and peaceful beings. We do not attack because that would be interfering with the Creator's laws. It is shameful that your Earthly brothers are more and more engaged in destructive activities of warfare with each other. This current war (Vietnam) is senseless and stupid -- as are all wars -- and could lead to the most terrible war in your Earth's history: World War III and atomic warfare, which would destroy your civilization. War is a monstrous violation of the Creator's laws."

THE FINDHORN STORY

By Peter Caddy

The community at Findhorn consists of a group of people pioneering a new way of living. There are no blueprints; we seek and follow God's guidance which comes in different ways. It is not a unique gift for the select few, but the most natural outcome of all, as we are told that in the beginning man walked and talked with God. The prophets of old heard God's voice within and were guided by it. All down through the ages man has listened and heard God's voice, and when he has obeyed it the Divine Will has been accomplished. God's voice comes to souls in many different ways: to some it comes as the still, small voice deep within, beside which, once recognized as God's voice, all other voices are as nothing.

My wife Eileen hears the still, small voice within and receives detailed guidance which we have followed with astonishing results. In this way God has guided and directed all that is taking place in this community at Findhorn and in our lives. Of ourselves we are nothing but with God the seemingly impossible becomes manifest. We are living a way of life which is undenominational and therefore cannot be labelled. It is not an easy life, for ultimately it calls for total surrender of the self before that direct link with God can be firmly established.

The story of our community at Findhorn is a demonstration of how God's guidance really works in practice and the fruit of much work is there for all to see. Several of us had previously been drawn together and had received a long training in the spiritual life before coming to Findhorn.

In the autumn of 1962, after fifteen years as an officer in the Royal Air Force and six years as manager of a large hotel, my wife Eileen and I, together with our three young sons and Dorothy Maclean, found ourselves wondering where to go next. We had a large caravan which we were led to put in a derelict corner of Findhorn Bay Caravan Park. This particular site was no more than a dump for broken bottles and old tin cans and was covered with gorse, brambles and stinging nettles. It was the last place we ourselves would have chosen. We had no money and in fact every time I tried to obtain work, I failed in the most extraordinary way as one job after the other fell through for no apparent reason.

I started to create a garden out of soil that was no more than sand and gravel with an inch or two of turf on top. For the next three years we were engaged in building foundations and creating the garden which provided much of our food, for we are vegetarians.

Then started the expansion, step by step, under God's guidance. We had to learn the laws of manifestation, for each one of us had given up all and were now entirely dependent upon God's limitless supply to meet our needs. As we became aware of a need, together we would ask that that need be met. We learned that our united thought and our act of asking were both important to manifest our needs, and we gave thanks immediately knowing in complete faith that they would be manifested. The following are a few examples of the way our needs were met.

The Sanctuary - In February 1968 Eileen was given a vision of a cedarwood building and we were told to go ahead in faith and order it built and that it would be the focal point for the expanding community. Details with regard to the colour scheme, heating, lighting, etc., were given step by step. The Sanctuary, which is 24 feet square, was completed on the Saturday evening ready for opening the next day - Easter Sunday. It has a dark green carpet, 50 gold covered chairs and magenta and green curtains. The central feature is an inspired sun panel woven for us and donated by the Donavourd Weavers in Pitlochry. The Sanctuary and all its furnishings and equipment were paid for through various channels within a matter of weeks. One friend supplied and fitted the carpet, and then donated it. We were guided to order another 20 chairs costing 10 pounds each, and the same week a cheque for that exact amount was received from an elderly lady in Canada!

Printing Machine: - We were led to obtain a litho offset printing machine for a fraction of its original cost, and were given the exact amount of money the same week. This machine is now housed in a separate building, and we have started to do our own printing.

Bungalows:- In February 1968 Eileen had a vision of seven cedarwood bungalows. By Easter, six had been erected, and there are now seven. These have been contributed by people, some of whom live here permanently, and others who come up for a part of the year, making them available to the community for the rest of the time. Sites are being prepared for 3 more.

As each need is met materially it is also being met with helpers. People are drawn here at the right time as helpers for the office, garden, and maintenance, etc. We are a living, working group, and all who come temporarily to join us should be willing to contribute their gifts as well as to help financially. Our aim is to manifest the Kingdom of Heaven on earth, and therefore everything must be as nearly perfect as possible to meet the need for which it is sought. This requires implicit faith and trust without any doubts, always depending on God's guidance and unlimited supply for all the needs of this ever expanding community. This is a totally new conception of living and pioneering a new way for the New Age, and will require a new type of man.

At present we are engaged in creating a garden of beauty out of the chaos and barrenness surrounding the bungalows and caravans. This is an important aspect of our work. We grow much of our own fruit, vegetables and herbs, using only natural organic fertilisation. The desert is being made to bloom, and our aim is to cooperate with nature. The complete story of this activity has been printed in a 50 page booklet, titled The Findhorn Garden. It will be sent upon request, accompanied by a donation to help defray the cost of publication and mailing. Address The Findhorn Trust, 27 Findhorn Bay Caravan Park, Forres, Moray, Scotland.

THE FINDHORN GARDEN STORY
FOREWORD

By Sir George Trevelyan, Bt.

This little booklet is the first presentation of a phenomenon that calls for investigation. At Easter 1968 I stayed with Peter Caddy, who lives with a small group of friends on the Caravan Site at Findhorn Bay in Moray. Their caravans are surrounded by a lovely garden. There were daffodils and narcissi as beautiful and large as I have ever seen, growing in beds crowded with other flowers. I was fed on the best vegetables I have ever tasted. A young chestnut eight feet high stood as a central feature, bursting with astonishing power and vigour. Fruit trees of all sorts were in blossom - in short, one of the most vigorous and productive of small gardens I have ever seen, with a quality of taste and color unsurpassed. Many species of broad leaved trees and shrubs are planted and thriving, yet the caravan site is on the landward slope of windswept dunes. The soil is simply sand and gravel on which grows spiky grass. Exactly opposite them is Culbin Sands where after 50 years' growing, conifers have rooted and held the dunes so that tough grass can now begin to root. Other folk on the caravan site, seeing the lovely burgeoning around their neighbors' caravans, put in cabbages and daffodils which came up as miserable specimens. Caddy claims to have grown a 42 lb cabbage!

He brings in straw and farmyard manure and makes compost. Some beds are liberally mulched and composted, though some seem to thrive with only a modest amount mixed into the dusty sandy soil. When I was there he was in process of planting 600 young beeches to make a hedge. Beeches simply do not grow on soil like this, nor any others of the many trees now thriving on the plot. Good basic organic husbandry is going on, but what at once struck me was that this was not an adequate explanation. Caddy began this garden in 1963, never having sown a seed in his life. The flower garden is less than a year old - the splendid show I saw is its first spring blooming.

I make no claim to be a gardener, but I am a member of the Soil Association and interested in the organic methods and have seen enough to know that compost and straw mulch alone mixed with poor and sandy soil is not enough to account for the garden. There must be, I thought, a "Factor X" to be taken into consideration. What was it?

I pressed Caddy for his explanation. Here we have to take the plunge and what follows will appeal to some and be unacceptable to others. Caddy's dedicated group are living a Cod-centered life. His wife, Elixir, makes a daily contact at the highest spiritual level which brings very direct advice and teaching. Another colleague, Divina, is a sensitive who can also in fullest consciousness listen in thought to higher beings. When they were prompted to start gardening in this unpromising terrain, they at once came up against difficulties through inexperience, but conceived a novel way of getting help and advice. They knew of the world of the devas, who might be described as the architects of the plant forms and the elemental nature beings (sylphs, gnomes, undines of the fairy world) who are the craftsmen carrying out the divine laws of plant growth and form. So they decided to seek help and Divina quite simply, in meditation, asked the Pea Deva for advice. Immediately and clearly she got the answer in her thinking! They acted on it and went ahead asking direction in like manner from the devas of other plants. Then a being whom they call "The Landscape Angel" controlling the whole area, came into contact. The response of the devas comes to Divina in the form of perfectly clear thought and feeling impressions in her higher consciousness which she translates into words.

To disarm a possible criticism, may I here say that I well know that there are a number of advanced sensitives who are in direct tough with the devic world and working with it. Steiner knew all about it and founded his bio-dynamic methods on this knowledge and on his investigation of the etheric formative forces. The gardeners with green fingers are, of course, working unconsciously with the nature spirits through their sheer love of plants. What appears to be new at Findhorn is that here is a group of amateurs, starting gardening from scratch, using a direct mental contact with the devic world and in fullest consciousness basing their work on this cooperation. It is a complete partnership of the human and spiritual worlds.

Another friend of Caddy's, closely in touch with the work there, is an older man whom they call Roc whose consciousness has opened to the elemental world. His ability to "talk" with these beings is therefore complimentary to Divina's deva contact and to Elixir's contact with the High Divine Source. This group together, with Caddy himself doing and directing the practical work, makes a balanced team to demonstrate this cooperation in action. They have wonderful stories of their contact with the elementals which are worth hearing! Suffice it to say that, when the goodwill of the nature spirits is won, they (the nature spirits) seem prepared to pour profusion into the garden. Thus bushels and bushels of blackcurrants came off the bushes last year when the crop largely failed in the rest of the country.

The ancients of course accepted the kingdom of nature spirits without question as a fact of direct vision and experience. Celtic clairvoyance can still see the "little people". With the development of modern intellectual consciousness this knowledge has dropped out of our thinking and is often written off as so much superstition. An alternative explanation is that the organs of perception of the super-sensible world have atrophied in modern man as part of the price to be paid for the evolving of the analytical scientific mind. The nature spirits may be just as real as they ever were, though not to be perceived except by those who can re-develop the faculty to see and experience them. Modern spiritual science shows that this is possible and that the conscious investigation of higher worlds is of the utmost importance in our understanding of life. Perhaps the phenomenon with which we are now concerned is simply one of many examples of a break-through from higher planes leading to new possibilities of creative cooperation.

In Peter Caddy's article mention is made of contacting Pan as lord of the nature spirits. This may at first cause surprise to some. Yet if we can accept the general concept that these beings are part of an eternal and divine world, it will be seen as a right and natural development that their leader should again show himself in recognisable form to one who had developed faculties of perception.

Fortunately Caddy rejected the offer of a walled garden and had the initial hunch that he must continue on his sandy barren plot. No human interference or the use of chemicals had touched it. The experiment is in this way a valid one. Had he chosen the good garden, the results would simply have been put down to organic husbandry. Now they are beyond normal rational explanation.

As I see it the implications are vast. This comes out in the comments from the deva world. The picture they give is that from their viewpoint the world situation is critical. The world of nature spirits is sick of the way man is treating the life forces. They (the devas and elementals) are working with God's law in plant growth. Man is continually violating it. There is real likelihood that they may even turn their back on man whom they sometimes consider to be a parasite on the earth. This could mean a withdrawal of life force from the plant forms, with obviously devastating results.

Yet their wish is to work in cooperation with man who has been given a divine task of tending the earth. For generations man has ignored them and even denied their existence. Now a group of men consciously invite them into their garden, as have the other rare individuals who, being adepts, are mostly working in secret. The delight in the deva world is apparently great. At last men have begun to wake up. Since the spiritual world is all one, a great living unity, the news shoots around instantly and the devas throng in with joy to help.

They are literally demonstrating that the desert can blossom as the rose. They also show the astonishing pace at which this can be brought about. If this can be done to quickly at Findhorn, it can be done in the Sahara. If enough men could really begin to use this cooperation consciously, food could be grown in quantity on the most infertile areas. There is virtually no limit if "Factor X" can be brought into play on top of our organic methods. Even if we blast part of the face of the planet, it can be purified again - but only if we work with these directive life forces consciously.

The danger of that world turning against man can be averted if enough men turn to them with love and invoke help. Here is the simple method:

1. We acknowledge they exist and offer our love and thanks.
2. We invoke their aid in inner thought contact.
3. We listen, with alert attention (whether or not we can consciously receive an answer).
4. Again we give thanks with love from the heart.

It must follow from the nature of the higher planes that even if we cannot (yet) hear their answers clearly in our thinking, the nature spirits must be able to hear us when we think up to them beyond and within the outer forms of tree and plant. It is, furthermore, likely that with the coming changes in consciousness and the raising of the vibratory note in matter which is foretold by so many, the world of the devas and nature spirits may open up to a great many more people who are inwardly prepared or a widening of conscious awareness. Then exciting and surprising things could begin to happen and a great step forward could be taken. If Caddy's group have done it, many others can do so too. It is not a question of more numbers but of finding sufficient centers which can invoke the inflow. Then the power of the devic world could turn again to flow into the work.

They stress again and again in their messages that they are part of the great Unity of Divine Life. We must recognize the hierarchy under God and also that every separate deva is one with the Divine wholeness. This unity in diversity and diversity in unity is hard for us to grasp with our analytical minds. Imagination can apprehend the whole. Wherever we are, we can invoke our devas, who doubtless are instantly in touch with those on the same wavelength anywhere else. This means that many gardeners can link up for help with centers like Findhorn where the break-through is conscious. The contact will not necessarily bring a scientific knowledge though this may follow. It will work in the immediate intuition of the gardener so that his hunches may guide him to the right, though perhaps unorthodox action. This is well demonstrated in Caddy's case and many others who will acknowledge and love the nature spirits may, even if they are in no way sensitive, find that their gardens begin to grow and respond as never before and that they are led with surer intuition to do the right thing in planting and tending.

This simple process of pioneering the direct contact could be begun forthwith by anyone with goodwill towards the spirit. Any cynicism would be likely to cause the nature spirits to withdraw. If several groups and centers began in a conscious experiment, results and experience could be compared and a periodical bulletin circulated.

The phenomenon is so remarkable that it calls for open-minded and unprejudiced investigation. The challenge, I repeat, is that here something is happening which appears to be beyond normal methods of organic husbandry. It is, in the opinion of several experts who have visited Findhorn, simply not enough to write it off as the use of good compost. The quality of flowers and vegetables growing in the sand simply belies it and if anyone believes he can achieve these results by normal methods, let him try in the next sand dune. This would make an interesting experiment.

The possibility of cooperation with the devas should be investigated seriously. The time has come when this can be spoken of more openly. The phenomenon of a group of amateurs doing this forces it into our attention. Many people are now ready to understand and that enough should understand and act on it is possibly of critical importance in the present world situation.

HEALING THROUGH HARMONIZATION WITH THE COSMIC KEYNOTE

Channel: Nellie Cain

Note by Editor:- Nellie has written what we consider as a very important explanatory letter to our readers which we feel should precede the main article on the above subject channeled from the "Keeper OF THE FLAME". It reads as follows:

"Beloved Readers, It is with great pleasure that I am submitting this transmission from "The Keeper of the Eternal Flame" for your benefit and enlightenment. I feel that this is the secret of all healing, and that if we can learn to use this law, we can literally 'change our world', because it can be used on all three levels of man's nature, - the physical, mental and spiritual.

Since there is reference to the 'Universal Octaval Structure', I feel that a brief explanation of this might be helpful to those who might not understand its meaning. According to the Ascended Masters, and also now definitely scientifically proven, the great Cosmic Spectrum of Life is composed of seven notes, which in turn each have their own 'inner octaves'. These notes are the various 'kingdoms' of universal life as the Divine Creative Power has developed more complex and more wonderful vehicles through which to express. Incidentally these are also the Biblical seven days of creation.

Before form, as we know it in this dimension, becomes manifest, there is a "note of creation" in which the archetypal, sub-atomic, atomic, gaseous and various formless activity is manifesting. Then comes the mineral note or kingdom; then the vegetable, the animal, the human, the Masters or Illumined beings, and finally the great note of the Lords of Creation whose mind and power direct the activity upon the seven Creative Rays.

Each 'Cosmic Note' is composed of its seven inner notes, and they in turn are each composed of their seven inner notes which comprise the "inner octaves". Thus we have the ancient truth of seven within seven within seven, etc.

Each Cosmic note comprises a specific range of frequency or vibration, and this is also true of all inner octaves and notes, so that each manifestation of Divine Life vibrates at its own specific frequency. Thus each person or thing has its own 'keynote' upon the "Cosmic Keyboard". There is a very precise mathematical law involved, both as to the frequency ratio of the notes to each other, and also the doubling of the frequency upon each inner octave. This is proven in a lesser way by the tonal range of the piano keyboard. In striking the key of low C, the string vibrates at the rate of 32 times per second. On the next C the rate is doubled to 64, the next 128, and then 256, until in striking high C, the string will vibrate 4056 times per second. When we consider this mathematical law as it applies to the note or octave of the Lords of Creation, we can begin to understand the magnitude of their vibratory frequency, and the power and light which is theirs. We can also understand why we seldom see Ascended Masters, because their frequency is beyond the range to which our eyes are sensitive. It then follows by the Law of Harmonics, all that is of a specific 'keynote' upon the entire 'Cosmic Keyboard', can be in complete harmony and resonance.

I am convinced that if we employ the technique which the "Keeper of the Flame" has given here, and by the use of the 'Cosmic Harmonics' of our own keynote, we can literally perform miracles in this dimension, as we attune to the frequencies of the higher octaves. It is in strict accordance with Divine Law, - and Divine Law is equally available and effective for all, and therefore it becomes only a matter of our own acceptance and application if we are to enjoy the rich rewards which can be ours through attunement and acceptance of the 'Harmony of Life' which the Divine Creator has provided.

Blessings of Limitless Love and Light, Sincerely, Nellie B. Cain, Spiritual Research Society

HEALING BY HARMONIZATION:

(As we entered meditation, we asked for enlightenment on a previous statement by the Keeper of the Flame, that we would be given the principle of healing by harmonization with the Keynote of the individual.)

In a little while the channel felt as if her entire body was like a tuning fork, literally "zinging", and she had the realizationthat by employing this technique, she or anyone, could attune to others, - either on the vibration of a specific organ, or on the entire physical, mental or spiritual levels, and act as a harmonizing agent, according to the need.)

"KEEPER of THE FLAME": - "Beloved Lights, yes that is the key to healing on all levels. Alignment and harmony with the Cosmic frequencies of the higher octaves, per ects and balances the physical and mental structure of the individual. A great and profound law which can be taught and experienced if one will learn how to let himself be made receptive and Light-filled.

This is how it is done: - The one to be healed is placed in the Divine Light, (or gives himself if personal help is required), the signal to project his consciousness into the higher octaves of the same keynote, and then let the power of those harmonic notes resonate within himself. The healing must then take place, - for the inharmony on the lower octave cannot withstand the power of the higher octave. Light of the same keynote, but of a higher frequency, is utilized, and lifts the organ, the mind or the soul of the individual into a new dimension which is free from the inharmony of the lower note or octave therein.

Utilization of this principle is the technique of the New Age healing art, and it will become universal in its acceptance. It is an age-old principle, and has been used by the few for countless ages. Few have understood the principle involved, and although they have used it, they have not understood how or why it was effective. Now they can know the law that is involved, - and please know that it is a law, and that it is available to any and all. You will find it readily accepted, although there are always those who scoff, but these too will eventually know the truth, and the truth will set them free.

It is one of the great revelations of the New Age, and the miracles wrought will be as great as those of the Master Jesus, for it is the same law which He applied in His healing.

Be Light-filled and lift yourself into this Divine Living Law where ALL things are possible. Transmutation is a reality! You are not bound to earths vibratory limitations! YOU ARE SPIRIT! You have access to the Light and tone, and color of the entire Cosmic Spectrum. Use it divinely, and you serve Life on all dimensions. Power beyond all human realization comes with the use of this Law, but it calls for Divine attunement and purity of purpose, and Light. It must be done in love which exceeds all personal feeling or limitation. You give it in perfect 'At-One-Ment', and for no selfish motive.

(At this point the Channel's body seemed to become light-filled, weightless and buoyant, vibrant and almost translucent, as did the bodies of those she looked at in the room. She sensed that this must be the consciousness and condition of the one who would help another in the harmonization process. The healer in the Light Body, moves into the Light Body of the one to be healed.) The Keeper of the Flame resumed: -

You have been given the technique, and it can be utilized on all levels of healing. Identify within the Light bodiesof those whom you would help, and lift them by calling them and moving with them into the higher scale of the harmonics of their Keynote. You can find their Key as you attune to them, but if you are not certain, you simply use the WHITE LIGHT which is the compilation of all color and tone.

Man must become aware of the universality of the multiples of the "Octaval Structure". Divine Law is immutable, and as it functions on one octave, you can be assured it likewise functions on all higher octaves. The law of geometric and mathematical progression moves ALL into ever expanding states of awareness and being. All are subject to the same immutable laws, so it really only becomes necessary to align oneself with the Law, and then let the harmonics of the Octaval Structure be resonated within oneself.

So much profundity and so little actual realization besets My children as they struggle through the maze of various philosophies and isms. Give them the understanding of the Law, and then let them learn to utilize their own harmony of life. Finding the harmonic scale of your individual Cosmic Keynote, and attuning yourself to it is the key. A knowledge of the Octaves and Keynotes, and the harmonics therein, will give man a new basis of understanding and unfoldment. My children seek, but man's orthodoxy has fallen far short in this era of scientific unfoldment. Now they must find TRUTH as a basis of challenge and consequent growth. The answer is in 'Octaval Harmonics', and the related teachings. Just as a great composer hears within himself the music, and then translates it into the symphony, so must man attune himself to the Universe; then in the Divine Harmonics of Life, he composes and plays his part in the Divine Cosmic Symphony of the Universe! Beloved ones, My Mantle of Love and Light surrounds you! Walk in perfect harmony." "Yojana! Yojana! Yojana!"

A DEEP MYSTICAL LESSON

By
"THE TEACHER" (Through Illiana)

Beloved Children of Earth, I have a message to bring to you this day of great importance - it is a mystical lesson and will require your complete attention if you are to gleam the Truth of it.

The Universal Mind, That which keeps each of the millions and millions of planets into motion, has created all that IS. All was formed, made and set into motion in perfect harmony. This Spirit or Mind ordained ALL as GOOD. It is this Spirit whom you call God, Jehovah, Lord of Lords - and the many other names devised by man. This Creative Spirit is ALL THAT REALLY IS but Earth Man's concepts have strayed so far off-base that this is very difficult to comprehend for most of your planetary beings. They reason that if what we say about Him is true then there should be no "evil" existing anywhere. But there IS what appears to be evil and so man asks: "Why doesn't this Great Power, if He is so great, put an end to it immediately?" And because of lack of spiritual knowledge on the part of your humans many lose all belief in a Mighty Power, a glorious Lover Who DOES indeed control the Universe. I will attempt to clarify some of this, children of the Earth, but I remind you that you must fervently concentrate and meditate after this study that the full vision of it all will come to you and make you better able to enlighten those who may yet be perplexed.

There are several planetary systems in the Universe which are dwelling places for beings such as yours - souls which are in need of "dual" education- the knowledge of "good" on the one hand and the knowledge of "evil" on the other. Earth is such a system.

Without this duality in your soul education there could be no advancement. You must have evil to know what is good - and you very well know that the reverse is also true. Oh, yes, it is quite accurate to believe that the All Good Universal Mind COULD abolish "evil" in the twinkling of an eye - but He will not. He desires that you be faced with the choice until you have learned to discriminate between the two and thus harmonize your lives and in that way your planet. The destiny of your planet lies in your hands - you must work at bringing the chaos to an end and replace harmony for the prevalent disharmony. Do I enlighten you?

Once you have been tried, tested and have overcome, you will SEE NO EVIL - in your soul; only GOOD will exist for you. It is then that you will have reached that blessed point of One-ness with ALL. Such progressed souls do not become ill, are not affected by so-called criminals, are exempt from tragic occurrences which plague others, because to them THERE IS NO EVIL. You see, dear Children of Earth, "evil" exists only for those who seek it! This phrase requires your deepest meditation. And "good" exists only for those who seek IT! Once the Children of Earth accept this Teaching, then will such children be merged with the ALL - the Universal Mind - and be once again part of the WHOLE. All that is proclaimed "evil" presently, will, in a future period, be merged into the ALL ONE OF CREATION. ALL once was ONE - ALL must once again be ONE. But until all souls realize this great truth the duality will exist as, one by one, souls are struck by the LIGHT of TRUTH.

You will have many questions and some of you will likely have doubts about what I say . . Be not impatient with yourselves nor with your Teachers. Go to the Source of ALL in meditation - there in the quiet of your soul will enlightenment come. After a period of many times spent in meditation on this matter, you will come to see that ALL IS GOOD in the sense, what is, that even the more negative aspects of your life SERVE YOU. Souls grow and progress through adversity as long as they are dwelling on planets of Earth's vibrations. For an example: How could dwellers of your planet know LOVE if they, at some time, had not experienced hate? How could one of your system know he is COURAGEOUS if he hadnot, at some other time, experienced fear? It is important that you realize this great Universal process involved in soul-growth. Once a soul has experienced all that is necessary, it then becomes part of the WHOLE - or ONE WITH HIM - and is not required to ever again inhabit planets such as yours.

This is not an easy lesson to absorb and comprehend for many of you - too often we sadly discover that many years have been spent by some of you in learning false concepts regarding the ALL UNIVERSAL ONE. It is now the time for deep learning of the TRUTH of the Universe - at a period in your history when turmoil prevails it is important that you understand the Universal Laws as they were intended to be understood.

In this lesson I have tried to describe a TRUTH - but words fail to give a vivid and clear explanation - that is why I have stressed the NECESSITY for DEEP AND SINCERE MEDITATION. For only then can HE - the Universal Mind - clarify for you the TRUTHS of the Spirit. There is inadequacy in your spoken word - and a tendency by some of your beings to use the words in a fashion pleasant to themselves. GO WITHIN - this is a direct plea from the Cosmic Ruler. GO WITHIN and there you will find wisdom and knowledge. ALL IS ONE - ONE IS ALL - YOU ARE ONE - YOU ARE ALL - ALL IS YOU - "IT" IS IN YOU - YOU ARE IN "IT". The Master Jesu said this when he said: "I and my Father are ONE."

Chant AUM. . AUM. . AUM. . The Cosmic Sound of the Universe.

I bless you as I leave you, my beloved Children.

I am to be known to you only as "THE TEACHER" and will come to you again.

I am from a plane higher yet than Jamal.

GLIMPSES OF GLORY

By Kay Dawson of The Lighted Way

All is one, and one is all. What hurts a unit of the whole, also hurts the whole. The great drama of life unfolds for all of creation, from the minute mineral atom to God Himself! The door to CosmicWisdom never closes to any aspiring disciple. All of life ebbs and flows in cycles.

The Teacher of men and of angels took upon Himself a highly refined body to become the Wayshower of humanity. Upon His great Cosmic Consciousness did the thought forms of ages descend. The sacrifice that the Christ made lessened some of the burdens of men, and proved that life is eternal. Tempted was He, but He faltered not, for well He knew His Fathers Plan for mankind.

In every department of human life are temptations, subtle or deliberate, and according to our inner strength do we meet these snares along the way. It has been said that we are given nothing which the soul cannot endure. It is not the burden we carry that measures our stature, but how we react to that burden. Wise is he who understands this law and reacts accordingly; who blesses this condition as a lesson to be learned, and well does he learn it. Ever is the soul strengthened upon its way back to the Father's House. Stumbling blocks are turned into stepping stones on the highway to the Infinite.

The Father is seeking channels to bring forth the teachings of all times and ages, - the truth of our Divine origin and of our ultimate return to the Father's House. Ever ripe are the fields of grain to be harvested, but the laborers are few. Souls who are incarnating at this time are increasing the ranks of these laborers to bring the truth of the Divine Plan. Each one, wherever he may be, whatever his station in life, can help in the unfolding of the Divine Plan. Each one can bring forth the Divinity within and express it to his fellow-man. This is the Christ Love.

Begin each day with a positive thought or affirmation, thus setting the condition for high and positive influences to work with us. Each one is a God in the making, - a co-creator with God.

As we go within to reach our higher self, - the teacher within, - we are guided and influenced by this higher self which knows our needs, both spiritually and materially. By keeping our aspirations high, the little self comes under the control of the higher self. Little problems and hindrances are overcome, and we are truly strengthened.

As we learn to live the life of the soul, and not the form, - we become filled with Light, and radiate this Light out as Love, peace and blessings to all with whom we come in contact. We are a vessel filled to overflowing, and the more we give to help others, the more is given to us. Surely our cup runneth over!

THE UNITY OF TENSION

By Mark Roser, D.D.

As reported by many sensitives, the daily press and other news media, the tensions of the world are increasing at a rapid pace. Man with his scientific concepts is at a loss to comprehend what is happening. Students of sociology and psychology find that their concepts for change and healing are being found wanting. Truly, man is being confused.

The roles of the sexes are being changed, and the very foundations of the institutional churches are creaking from within. To the intellectual man and the instinctive man, the times are really 'out of joint'. Many are seeking insight and peace of mind by running here and there, eyes glued to the T.V., listening to the hourly radio news, reading the latest book, etc.

To those who know, really know, this is part of the plan. Without the tension, the fear, the pain, many would not seek to learn truth, to ask for help, to really desire the peace and joy which unconsciously they know is their true destiny and life pattern.

Many new lights are being established on the earth plane. The Universal Link concept is spreading rapidly. What is heartening is that despite the closed doors of the university intellectual, the findings of the new para-psychology are seeping through. The reality of the cosmic mindand the proven communications from the 'invisibles', are making many lose their past learnings about material concepts.

We are acquainted with the Universal Link force as demonstrated in England Denmark and many places in this country. There is no doubt that this force is growing, and bringing many into not only new inner realizations, but new personal associations which strengthen the force for their individual benefit as well as others.

The writer was recently privileged to visit with the Sun Myung Moon group in Washington, D.C., who call themselves the "Unification Church of World Christianity", 1611 Upshur St. N.W., Washington, D.C. Even the most calloused person would be struck with joy by the strength and the intelligence of more then 70 young people gathered here. They learn the lessons of spiritual teaching, and apply them to their daily life in loving service to all. There is no generation gap here! No need for LSD, for the reality of their communications, their meditation together is a transcending experience.

Many sensitives around the world have attested to the unique force of the teacher, Sun Myung Moon, and his specific and unique world force at this time. That there is new light and force pouring into our world there is no doubt. The source of evil and the power of good in the life of man on this planet is being illuminated in a most penetrating manner not previously grasped by the churches. It seems as if at least some of the younger generation see the potential of these insights into their own life, and with it a satisfaction of their deep thirst for truth, love and real meaning. Truly there are a growing number of significant lights to illuminate the Cosmic Plan in our time of chaos, ever increasing tension and confusion.

End

Sadly I agreed, and I realized the vast ignorance that we Earth people demonstrate. Just then Sharanna pressed a button and one of the porthole windows appeared! I noticed that it was about twelve inches in diameter, and the glass (or whatever it was) was very thick. (I wondered what would happen if the glass were broken at that altitude, as there was no air there in space.)

There below was a breath-taking view of my small island, Puerto Rico! A magnified scene in color on the 2-1/2' x 3' view screen showed San Juan City, the capitol, and Sharanna said that the scene was relayed by a mother ship which was in another area of space at a greater altitude. She explained that they used a disc about the size of our L. P. records which contains a telescopic color TV camera and transmitter. She said the spaceships from Venus and from other worlds are constantly in the Earth's orbit and sometimes are in its atmosphere. They are not seen unless they choose to be, because of the use of the radar-scrambling device.

Then Sharanna brought a tray with three cup-like vessels filled with a golden liquid, and medium-sized dishes of fruit salad. We all sat on the center seats to have our refreshments. Sharanna lifted her glassand proposed a toast: "To a world of greater understanding and the forth-coming New Age -- which will be brought to your Earth by many wonderful souls, including you, some of whom we and our brothers from other planets have already contacted." We all drank to that, and the delicious fluid tasted similar to apricot juice. The salad fruits tasted like peaches, apples, cherries and grapes. They didn't look like our own fruit, but I could recognize one that looked like a grape, except that it was as large as a plum!

I had been feeling a bit weak because I had eaten only a light supper, but after this refreshment I felt much better. "This food was richer in vitamins than one of your one-pound steaks and two big glasses of milk!", said Sharanna, reading my thoughts. "We Venusians are strict vegetarians; we never eat creature-food, except honey. Plant food is more full of energy from the Sun than are animal foods." I looked again at the beautiful faces of the Venusians - so tan, so youthful and healthy-looking. (I wondered if maybe their golden coloring was due to the fact that their planet is closer to the Sun than ours). They were so friendly and understanding, and I was sure that they knew every thought in my head!

They told me that there is no disease on Venus and that the people live for a very long time and continue to be youthful. However, they do use a certain technique to heal injuries caused by accidents. A master healer or adept applies the natural law of Universal Magnetism to heal the injury. My Venusian friends told me that everyone of us is charged with a special kind of magnetism (called "Vril" by the Hindus), but that most Earth people have not yet developed it. They said that certain adepts in Earth's history have had this healing gift from birth: Laotse, Buddha, Confuscious and Jesus. I thought of Tony Agpaoa, the "Psychic Healer of the Philippines." Sharanna and Laan-Deeka told me that when Tony was a small child he had been visited by a master healer of Venus, and that afterwards he began to display his amazing healing abilities, which are not yet understood by Earthlings and, because of that, cannot be explained by medical science.

They spoke again of the wars on our planet, and said that if they are not soon abolished, we will completely destroy ourselves. They told me I must find a way to publish my story so that it could reach many people, especially young people of draft age. They suggested it be my mission to try to influence as many young people as possible against war and the draft. Gabriel Green's organization (AFSCA) was mentioned as a channel through which my story could be published. Then a wonderful thing happened; Sharanna kissed me on the cheek, and I was really ecstatic! It was so different from any kiss that I had ever experienced.

"Dear brother," she said, "we will have to return you to Earth now. But do not feel sorry about our departure. You will have no more personal contacts such as this one for quite awhile, unless needed to help you on your mission. But in the future - when you are more mature, we will have further teachings for you. There are many of us among your own people. They are there to study and to help those who are ready. Talk to others about your experiences with us whenever you can. We are aware of the negative attitudes and reactions of many Earth people to these ideas, but you must keep trying. For the present, get your story published." Then Laan-Deeka and Sharanna again took the controls, and I could tell that we were descending very fast.

Soon we were hovering over the area where we had left only a short time before. After saying their farewells and I disembarked, they told me to stand well back, so as not to be injured by the magnetic field when the ship lifted off again. Then the door panel closed, and as the ship began to ascend, I noticed the three ball-shaped landing gear on the bottom. In a few seconds the ship glowed a bright red, rose at great speed with a low humming sound - and disappeared into the night sky. It is difficult to describe the way I felt after my new friends had gone. I had been given so much, and in seconds they had vanished completely from my life. I'm sure I have been a different person since then. One could not have such an experience without being changed by it.

Before heading for home I looked to see if the ship had left any marks on the sand as evidence to back up my story. But there were no marks, as the ship had hovered both times. However, I found Laan-Deeka's footprints and marked them with a small twig that I imbedded in the sand near the footprints. When I returned home, via the same bus line, it was about 11:00 P.M. by the clock in our living room. In my haste to dress, I had forgotten to put on my watch, but I remembered that it was about 7:20 P.M. when I left home. The actual time of contact with my Venusian friends was about an hour and a half to two hours, the rest being travel time to the beach location and back. Somehow, even though my mind and heart were so full, I slept very soundly that night. The next day I couldn't wait to tell my good friend "C.J." about my experience. He had photographed a mother ship about a month previously on the outskirts of Arecibo, so I knew he would be more disposed to understand my experience than most people. That afternoon we returned to the remote beach area to photograph the footprints of the space people, but unfortunately they had already been messed up. I took a few pictures anyway just as a reminder.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM BAN-DHU

Through Illiana

Received April 20, 1969: My beloved, we have a message for our brethren of Earth - a message of joy and hope - a message to lighten your heart as it beats its pulsating rhythm in your mortal bodies - a message of love and peace - of rich encouragement from your Brothers and Sisters who dwell on the elevated planes both in your Solar System and from far beyond your system where lies Jamal and other myriads of inhabited planets.

Recently there has been keen awareness by members of planet Earth that unseen Helpers are surrounding them. This awareness reached its heighth during the Spring Equinox of your present year . . at that time the Cosmic Hierarchy caused to rain down on Earth the strongest vibrations yet felt on your planet in this generation. There has been since then an electrifying quality present on Earth, the like of which is difficult for many, less evolved souls, to accept . . but the concern of the Hierarchy is to raise your planet's vibrations and so this has to be. Those of you prepared for this acceleration are discovering a rise in your energy bank - you are capable of performing more activity without tiring; those of you who are ordained Receivers, or Channels, are discovering a sharp rise in attunement with your Teachers and Guides; many of you find that problems which, prior to this, caused strain and deep concern, are now much easier to cope with.

But, unhappily, there are the members of your planet, who, through resistance react quite differently to these raised Cosmic electrical vibrations- for them it is like grasping a high voltage live-wire which causes a tremendous shock to a physical body. To these beloved ones these Cosmic vibrations "shock" them causing many reactions . . mental depressions and various forms of spiritual upheavals. This cannot be helped . . if we are to repress these Energetic waves then Earth will not advance in spiritual evolution and you, the New Age Disciples, would then be deprived of this Energy which YOU are capable of using wisely and for the benefit of the whole planet. These "shocked" Souls will not remain thus . . IN TIME if they are helped by you and IF they submit themselves into the loving hands of the Cosmic Beloved, the All-Knowing-One, they will have adjusted to the new vibrations and will also be a Servant of Him who maketh all things NEW!

Due to these increased vibrations showered upon Earth, many guides and Teachers from elevated planets of your Solar System have been able to come to Earth. An abundant supply of these beings are now granted permission to enter your planetary system. In some instances they remain in their homes in the sky, (note: this perhaps refers to their "space ships". Illiana.) reaching some of you through telepathic means and using radio waves. If unusual experiences occur to you do not shrug it off - be patient and willing to endure many hours until you are fully reached. Others from these planets are entering Earth bodies either at the birth of a new body or occasionally in an adult body as it prepares for transition. . such ones, if beginning as a baby, will experience wisdom at an early age (as did Jesus the Christed One) - if they have taken on an adult body they will be known by their unusual depth of knowledge about MANY things and about their ability to be fully compassionate and loving; they will not be materialistic, will live simply, will be unobstrusive. To those whom they know will understand, they will speak freely and openly of their past life on a planet far from Earth. These "space" beings we speak of will be from planets of YOUR Solar System - in many cases they will be visible and tangible. We, of the other galaxies, will keep our existence invisible but we will be with ALL of you none the less! We will saturate your sould with our loving attendance - we will, through mind communication, instruct and guide you. We are the Messengers, the Angels your Holy Books speak so often of.

This is a glorious Springtime, my beloved ones! Glorious in the cool green of the healing rays; in the lush green of growth; in the light green of sympathy, understanding and charity. And as you look above you, the sky with its many hues of blue seems to say: "Look, look up and see the awakening spiritual man in the violet blue of my robes - see the high spiritual joy that is yours in the clear light blue which also adorns my spotless robes - and see the brighter blues, so clear a tint, which tells of the improved morality that Earth's sons and daughters are trying desperately to reach! And look into my clouds of foamy, perfect white and there you'll see the purity that I am trying to bring to the Earth."

Beloved ones, look up into the Sky - look down upon your Earth - its fields and streams - and SEE what glorious thing is happening! Be not blinded because of the negative rays that occasionally cast a shadow on some of the BEAUTY now rained upon you. If a glob of negativity "blinds" you, pick it up and cast it out! This you must do if you are truly a Disciple of the New Age. Do not be discouraged if storms rage and shake your planet - this is part of the cleansing - and if a "storm" rages within those you hold dear do not permit yourself to be shattered by these upheavals . . if you can weather the storms (both physical and spiritual) calmly then they too will find strength in YOUR calm and courage.

Remember, in the Father's House are MANY Mansions and from these Mansions (planets) are coming many Helpers to the Earth plane. If you observe them coming in the sky, watch and be ready - they may approach you. Welcome them for they come in love and with great wisdom. More of you will meet these "brothers from space" telepathically rather than physically . . their message will be for all Earth - share it wisely.

Yes, beloved, there is an acceleration of Energy on Earth - it will not dissipate itself, but rather will be even more accelerated as time nears the beginning of the New Era. Be prepared for this new and additional Energy. Meditate more deeply than EVER before; serve more generously the spiritually needy; live less and less in the physical; be warmed by the ever present Energy of the Christed One whose blessed Spirit permeates your very being - and yes, indeed, your whole planet!

Signs and wonders will be evidence. This Springtime of Earth will be one to record in Spiritual History. Embrace these wonders, understand the signs

For several weeks I had the feeling of being in two worlds at once, and again it was very hard for me to concentrate on my school work. I know my story will be hard for some of you to believe, but I tell you very sincerely, it is true! I am only one of many who have had such experiences. I urgently appeal to people of all countries, but especially to the young people to work together against war and the draft, and to let your wishes be known, - your desires for a peaceful harmonious world, and against the continual destruction which could lead to oblivion for all of us. The Venusians told me their people could help us to resolve our problems, but we must first learn to trust, respect and acknowledge them as friends and brothers. I firmly believe that this better world they tell us about is possible here on earth. But we are the ones who must take the next step, and it must be in the right direction, - towards a change in mind and heart, with understanding and acceptance of these wonderful people who can teach us so much. Then the terrible destruction can be ended to make way for a better life on Earth for us all."

(The Rosas Story will be concluded in the August issue.)

It has been said, "seek ye first the kingdom of God and all else shall be added unto you". The 'Father within' knows our every need, and every need shall be fulfilled for our highest good. The things of God are eternal; the things of man are transitory and soon pass away. Formulate your plans NOW! and harvest then NOW! Creative energy flows through all of us to utilize for the welfare of humanity. Each one must be a thinker; a knower and a doer! As we reach into the repository of memory, all things are revealed, - not alone to keep to ourself for personal unfoldment, but to share with humanity, and to awaken the spirit within each one. Let each one be guided by the Divine Star to even greater heights of consciousness, knowing as we keep our aspirations and ideals at the highest level of consciousness possible, we are accomplishing a dual purpose. As we send out our light and prayers for mankind, the vibrations are raised, both of the earth and of individuals. The atmosphere becomes rarified; our bodies become etherialized bodies of light, and the planet Earth will become a planet of Light. And SO WILL IT BE!"

given in the sky - and as the Sun warms your physical bodies, extend that warmth spiritually to the spiritually underfed members of your planet. Your love and kindness will reap many rewards for Earth.

You are blessed, my beholved ones, as we hear the Father say: "You are My Children in whom I am well pleased!" Peace!

Your Devoted Teacher and Servant BAN-DHU

MAN'S COMMUNION WITH HIS SOURCE
Through The COSMIC CHRIST

By Ivy Caygill

(Received during a period of Spiritual Attunement on March 11, 1969.)

"Beloved, many are aware of My Presence among them, and hold this precious thing unto themselves, feeling that they have been singularly, or more or less exclusively blessed. In so personalising this beautiful experience, it loses some of its Divinity.

The Light of the Divine Presence is of such tremendous brilliance that were any of you to perceive it in its full radiance, the physical body would quickly disintegrate, and the soul would be released. So My Father, in His Infinite Wisdom, blends down the radiance so that each soul may perceive of it at the level of his understanding. It has been radiated out through many fine souls down through eons of time. They have come in physical form as Avatars, to point out the way that each soul can aspire to communion with the God source, whom I, the Cosmic Christ speak of as My Father.

Man has been told many times that he "shall inherit the earth". His heritage is communion with his God from whence he came. Down through the ages many have given wrong interpretations, and thus man 'fell from grace'. The time of choice has now come, and he must decide once and for all, where he is going. The restless urge that is manifesting itself in many forms, is the stirring of the inner consciousness within man, and he feels that there is more to life and living, than the pattern that he has followed up until now. He is sick at heart of the torment of war and pestilence. At last the suffering of others is making itself felt, and man now knows that he must do something, - but what? His very inability frustrates him, and his consciousness stirs, for he realizes that he can do nothing, - but with GOD he can achieve everything! So begins the urge to seek the alternative to his present condition.

When he learns again to live according to the laws of God, to live in harmony with all things, and not to pervert these things to his own selfish aims, then he will begin to 'inherit the earth', and to find fulfillment in that promise given long ago when the world was young. All his needs are there, if only he will seek to find how the 'will of God' is indeed his own.

My child it is a hard lesson; it is a long and painful lesson, for each soul must learn through its own experiences that which God desires, and not what the self dictates. When man has learned to live within the Divine Plan, and to commune with his God again, then indeed will the earth be restored to Light. Love will be the harmonious music surrounding the earth, and the Kingdomwill have come into manifestation. Children of Light, be vigilant, and let your flame burn forth with love in all you do. Let My Love and radiance be your constant inspiration and sure protection. Be not faint-hearted, but go forth in My strength and in My peace, and great shall be the rejoicing in the days yet to come. So be it!

ABOUT "VIV FROM VENUS"

Perhaps some of our readers may not be quite ready to accept some of what might be termed 'far out' material that is being featured in this issue, but we feel that the time has come to climb out of the limited vision and perspectives of the 'valley' and accept the challenge of scaling the mountain of universal and cosmic knowledge above and beyond our own little earth. We know that it is no mere coincidence that after making arrangements to reprint the Lester Rosas story which appeared in the March issue of Flying Saucers International magazine, we also came across news of a comparatively recent arrival of an adult Venusian young lady, who has come here by Space Ship with the mission "TO LIGHTEN THIS PLANET WITH LOVE"!

Lester Rosas was told that many of their people had already been brought to various places on earth, working and mingling with 'earth natives' without being detected as natives of another planet. Usually they are from Venus, but there are also some from other planets.

VIV is now conducting a "Heart to Heart" series of talks at Carnegie Hall in New York City, Tuesdays and Fridays, 5:30 - 7:30 P.M. Those of you who are fortunate enough to be living or visiting in the New York area take note of this, and arrange to attend one or more of these talks; I'm sure you will find it an unforgettable experience.

I shall take the liberty to quote briefly from some of her material. "This world will awaken to love just as soon as it finds out what LOVE IS! I am here to tell you! On Venus we are taught that everyone has a "physical double, either on the same planet, or on another planet in the Universe. I was shown my physical double in a dream-vision several weeks prior to my coming here, and it was also made known that this young lady of 20, who was my physical double would take her own life, at which time I would be brought down here to assume her identity and start on my cherished mission. I came to earth on Sept. 24, 1960 at the time of her suicide, which no one knew anything about because it was in a secluded spot. I never saw her, for I was let out of one side of the ship, and she was taken aboard the other side, soul, mind and body, and taken away. I had no trouble finding her living quarters and assumed her identity and occupation. For six years and months I tried living your way. I, too, could only survive, though I tried as hard as anyone could. But at last I found the way to live by the universal laws and truths, - and by LIVING them, found the way to accomplish my mission without depending on ANYONE or ANYTHING outside of me. Regardless of circumstances, now I am all the time happy, and I am here to share my joy with you, because I LOVE YOU! "

"When the earth crumbles or becomes quicksand, reach not for a branch; it may break! Reach not to the person next to you, he is sinking too! Look not to the person walking on a cloud; he wont get his hands dirty!"

If you want to learn more about Viv and her mission, and also about life as it is lived on Venus, write her c/o Box 74 Cooper Station, New York, N. Y. 10003. Her pocket size book, 'Between Two Worlds" on donation basis.

GARMENTS FOR THE JOURNEY

'Voice of the Universe' Through Dorothy Davis

"You are a weaver! Your every act, every thought, every joy acts as a thread in the pattern which only you can weave. Each one is the weaver of his own destiny, and if he uses the threads of love and joy and happiness, expressing only the rightness of life, then he is weaving a "garment of light". For it is these threads that create the perfect light-woven mantle which you wear as a body for the soul's expression on its earthly journey.

When you go on a journey, you take the most suitable garments that you can obtain. When the soul starts its earthly journey, it requires a garment to shield it from the rigors of earth, and it strives to create a suitable covering. Many do not realize that they are their own tailors, and consequently they produce only a destitute wardrobe for themselves. If only they knew that they could be robed in the warm handsome garments of a prince, they would strive to recreate the rags they now wear. Only the 'risen ones' are robe wearers, for they have been given the robe of light which has been rewoven, and is a strong and powerful covering for the soul to wear to protect it from the violence and stress of the inharmonies of negative occurences that continually appear.

A knowledge of the power you posess to create what you wish to wear, to be, to have and to do, is the greatest gift that you can have, for it is the key to the kingdom, and you are entering into the realm of God's Divine Home.

Do you not see that when ALL are clothed in the garments of love and light, that there will be no need for enduring the great strife that is rampant today in order to obtain the necessities of life. Life is to be lived in joy, in growth, in song and in productive research, rather than in struggle, fear, violence and wandering in darkness. Life is a great journey, and if you can enjoy the journey, it will be so much easier and better understood, than when you rush through it without stopping to see what there is to be seen and experience. It is like taking an airplane and missing all the beauty of the countryside. The leisurely trip gives you the opportunity to enjoy each form of creation. But the hasty trip, without the opportunity to follow the inclinations of the heart, is nothing but a journey taken of necessity and gives nothing in return.

Take the journey of life with the freedom of soul experience, and find the answers to the many questions which are there to be found. Create a garment that will be comfortable, take the journey with joy, trust in God to be your guide, and you will find that it is a great journey indeed. You will return to your home with the conscious realization of what you have lived on earth for.

Beloved, My bond with all is only to show that the journey can be free from all the trials of birth and death, for in the long journey of the soul there comes a time when it is no longer necessary to be born into a physical body. Essentially this is the story and meaning of Easter, - that death is not necessary when you have accepted your Christ Self, and He rises with you to be no longer in the tomb of flesh. It is the stone that must be rolled away, - removed from your heart that the Christ may come forth, and you become the new resurrected self that knows no death, the resurrected Divinity in man. God has given each individual a portion of Himself, that each may live and know not death. When this portion of Himself is lifted out of the 'tomb of unknowing', and freed to express itself as God, then there will be no more need for Easter, for it will be Easter through all eternity.!

My Being will fill the Universe, and indwell all there is, all will recognize and co-relate with all else, and so the new will be experienced. In the resurrected earth there will be only light and love, joy and peace, and God will be in His Holy of Holies! Now My child, take your road to the King, be dressed in the finest of garments, for you are a child of the King and beloved by Him! May the Masters care for you as you journey ever onward and upward to the light. May God be your ever present companion, and may enduring peace be yours.
