In Noah's time the earth was in its infancy. The longevity of man was very great. They lived many hundreds of years, some nearly a thousand. The vigor and strength of those antediluvians were tremendous. Imagine yourself in the place of those antediluvians and ask yourself the question, "Would I have walked near God when all the world had gone to the Devil? Would I have withdrawn myself from its pleasures and follies, or would I have allowed the antediluvian musicians to drag me down to hell?

"Would I have resisted the temptations to spend God's money upon the Devil's own? Would I have been able to say, 'Yes, it is true, Tubal-Cain is a first-class violinist, but I will see him further before he will get God's money.'"

I have not a cent for the Devil, have you? If I am never to hear good music on earth, I will wait until I get to heaven. Meanwhile, if need be, I will sing "The power of God is just the same today, it doesn't matter what the people say."

Zion Will Develop Her Own Music.

We are not reduced to that, however, because I wrote to New York two weeks ago to a lady who was trained by Paderewski's master, whose teacher has said that she is really, in some respects, one of the most brilliant pianists in the world. She is a member of this Church, and I told her to wind up things this year because I want her in Zion, although I might not be able to give her more than her bread and butter. But she said, "I will come."

Shall we develop music, or shall we hang around Tubal-Cain, or some other long-haired devil, for it? Can I not get satisfaction for my immortal spirit and the music in my soul without having to go and hear some dirty harlot?

It cuts me to the heart to hear that some of them sing "Home, Sweet Home" so divinely when they are the betrayers of home and the strumpets of libertines.

Going to hear them sing is simply crossing the line into the Devil's territory only for an hour or two. If any of you think there is going to be a hall in Zion City where any of their ilk will sing and play, you are mightily mistaken.

We will develop our own music. Come on, you violinists, and learn to play the violin for God. Come on, you singers, and learn to sing for God. Surely we can develop the music in Zion without going to the Devil for it.

The thing you will notice about Noah is that he did not cross the line He was 120 years building the ark, but he was singing all the time, walking with God all the time, and he was preaching to them all the time. Yet all whom he could get saved were Shem, Ham and Japheth and their wives, and I do not think they were very much saved, either.

There was a wicked spot about even Noah himself. After the Flood, I guess he thought he could let down the bars a little, as he was an old man, and take a little wine for his stomach's sake, and it pretty nearly sent him to hell.

Study Noah. Study the age in which he lived. Study him as a man of prayer, praying God that He would not cut off all humanity, but that He would spare a remnant, and in His infinite mercy, if he were to be the man, spare him.

God Can Always Find a Man.

Sometimes it is only one in a whole generation. While it repented Him at the heart that He had made man, and He had said He would destroy man, yet He knew He must fulfil that promise He made to the poor sinner Eve and the miserable Adam when He said, "The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head." It had to be done.

God will fulfil all His promises. The man of faith or the woman of faith who walks with God will find grace in the sight of the Lord and will be saved in the midst of a faithless generation, but it is because they never tampered with conscience and made no compromise with the Devil. It is because they are righteous and blameless in their lives that the record is made concerning them, "They walked with God."

When you walk with God, you can talk to God; but you cannot talk to Him unless you walk with Him.

The secret of talking to God is walking with God.

Zion's Conflict With Methodist Apostasy.

This book of 200 pages, just issued by Zion Publishing House, contains nine powerful discourses delivered in Central Zion Tabernacle by the General Overseer last May, during the session of the Methodist General Conference. They are of especial value for the full and fearless exposure of Freemasonry.

"The Methodist Church the Property of the Masonic Order," "Freemasonry: A Heathen and Antichristian Abomination," and "Degrees of Masonic Devilry" ought to be read by every lodge man.

The iniquity of the Mystic Shrine is laid bare.

"The Christian's Duty in Breaking a Bad Oath" is the address which preceded the public working of Masonic and Odd Fellow degrees in Central Zion Tabernacle, a full account of which is given.

Buy one of these books and keep lending it. No honest and intelligent man can read the book and still remain a Freemason.

ZION CITY BANK.

By DEACON WILLIAM S. PECKHAM.

THE Congress of the United States has assembled and the President has sent in his message, but there has been no unrest or anxiety in the business world. Every one feels that the commerce of the country is upon a solid basis. The financial system of the Government being now upon a solid gold basis, nothing is liable to occur to disturb the finances of the Nation, which enter so largely into all our commercial relations.

THE SILVER DELUSION has been buried alongside the greenback craze, and neither will ever have a resurrection.

Continued prosperity in all mercantile pursuits has followed the adoption of the gold basis for our financial system, and business men firmly believe it will continue to do so. That the President believes in the permanency of the present financial policy is shown by the fact that he has so little to say about financial affairs in his message.

THE FOREIGN RELATIONS of the country take up an important part of the message. But the Nation is to be congratulated that the foreign affairs are in the hands of such an able commission. The President has shown great wisdom in the selection of the men who will have so largely to deal with the great international questions which will enter so largely into the peace of the world as well as the peace and prosperity of the United States.

This Nation has gained prestige abroad by the able way it has handled all its diplomatic business. Its wise and conservative course in China has done much to preserve peace.

While there are dangerous breakers ahead, we believe this Nation will pilot the Ship of State into peaceful waters.

THE NEW ISLAND possessions are rapidly being put upon a stable financial basis. All these territories show largely increased revenues, and large sums will be ready for much-needed public improvements.

Our foreign trade has made tremendous gains, and is causing much uneasiness in some of the nations—notably in Germany. Our Nation has passed out of the borrowing class, and our great money centers are able to loan millions of dollars to other nations, and at a rate lower than can be secured by them at home.

THERE WILL BE a reduction in internal revenue taxes of about $40,000,000. The tax on telegrams, express orders, bank checks and certain legal papers will be taken off, and a small reduction of the tax on beer will probably be made.

A NEW TREATY has been signed by representatives of the United States and Nicaragua, giving us the exclusive right to conduct and operate a canal through Nicaragua. With an isthmian canal, we shall be brought into closer relations with the rest of the world.

It is to be hoped that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty will be ratified by Congress, and that a bill will be passed providing subsidies for American shipping.

SECRETARY GAGE has adopted the policy of redeeming government bonds by the sinking fund law. The following from the Economist gives a good understanding of that law:

In reply to your inquiries, I have to inform you that the sinking fund of the United States was created by Section 5 of the act of February 25, 1862 (12 Stat., p. 346), which provides for the purchase or payment of one per centum of the debt of the United States each fiscal year after July 1, 1862, to be set apart as a sinking fund, together with interest on the debt so applied.

By reason of the large expenditures necessarily following the close of the Civil War period, no applications were made to the fund until the fiscal year 1869; but yearly thereafter the bonds and other securities purchased and redeemed, including interest and premium paid, were applied to the fund, so that at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, the requirements of the fund between 1869 and 1891 had been fully met.

Since 1891 to June 30, 1900, the deficiency in the fund has reached the sum of $345,998,471.37, owing to the excess of ordinary expenditures over the revenues, during which period no large redemptions of the debt were made, except in the years 1892 and 1900.

The requirements of the fund of more than $50,000,000 annually were met last year by the application of the sum of $56,544,556.06, and the present condition of the Treasury points to the belief that the full requirement can be met during this and the next fiscal year.

THE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS of Zion are enjoying continued prosperity. The deposits of Zion City Bank have increased each week, and are now three times as large as they were at the beginning of this year. The number of depositors in the Savings Department has increased from something over 900 to 2600. The paid up capital stock of Zion City Bank is now $161,000. An Assistant Cashier and another bookkeeper have been added to the working force this year. Many of the merchants of Chicago and other cities have opened commercial accounts with us. Checks on Zion City Bank are good Chicago exchange, and accepted everywhere in payment of bills. All checks on Zion City Bank are payable through the Chicago Clearing House. Firms doing business with Zion City Bank could use checks on this Bank instead of buying New York or Chicago Exchange.

We hope to have the number of depositors in both our Savings and Commercial departments doubled during the coming year. This would give us about 6000 accounts, and we can easily pass this large number if our people continue to coöperate with us.

Our hearts are full of praise to God our Heavenly Father, for the many and great blessings of the year now closing, and we look forward to the future with great faith for yet greater things to come.

THE WISDOM of our General Overseer in establishing Zion City Bank has been clearly proven. The many and great material interests of Zion have all been easily cared for. Cashier Barnard has wisely administered the affairs of the Bank, and "carefully guarded the deposit." There have been no losses on account of bad debts, and every department of the Bank is in perfect condition.

THE INTEREST on savings accounts is now being figured, and will cause many of our depositors to realize the benefit of saving their money in this way.

Interest checks will be mailed to all stockholders on or before January 1, 1901. Zion City Bank is on a paying basis and ought to be the pride of all our people.

OUR GENERAL OVERSEER lives for his people. He has, under God, established the Church and all the institutions of Zion for the good of his people. He expects his people to get the benefit of their investments in Zion City and in Zion City Bank. Under God he is working for the extension of God's Kingdom, but we are the people of the Kingdom, and must share in all its triumphs and victories.

God's people now have a safe place for deposit and investment. Zion's Institutions do not depend upon worldly support. Zion stocks are not subject to the fluctuations of the stock markets of the world.

Let all Zion praise God for Zion City Bank.

He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.—Proverbs 10:4.

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME.

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, December 8, 1900, was conducted by Elder Fockler.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be eleven in number, as follows:

Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Austria, Canada, China, England, Germany and Ireland.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

MRS. GEORGE BAUMGARTNER, 1803 East Twenty-third Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I wish to speak of what God has done for me this week. About two months ago I had a very badly ulcerated tooth, with which I suffered greatly. I had the tooth extracted. My face was much swollen. I found that the cavity was filling up with some kind of a growth and that the jawbone had become diseased. It discharged so that my cheek became very sore and raw, and a part of the bone passed away. I asked Dr. Speicher to pray for me, which he did. The growth is now disappearing and the gum is becoming natural. I praise God for this victory."

ELDER A. W. MCCLURKIN, 1320 Wrightwood Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "'I will bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth.'

"It is a little more than two years ago since I came into Zion Home. Before that, when LEAVES OF HEALING came to me, I was delighted to read the testimonies. They have helped me and I know they have been helpful to others. I now enjoy being able to tell others of what God is doing in Zion and to be one of the Witnesses in Zion.

"I have greater joy in Zion than I ever had in my life. I enjoy God more, and it is something to trust in Him and obey Him. Sometimes I enjoy a real good fight with the Devil, too.

"I knew God was using those in Zion and I desired to be pure, so that God could use me also. That was my reason for coming into Zion. I thank God for the joy and blessing I have received in Zion. The last two years have been the best of my life, and this week is the best that I have ever had. I expect God to make next week better than this week, and tomorrow better than today."

MRS. LILLIAN RICHARDSON, Crow Agency, Montana, said: "I do not think there has been a year of my life, until the last seven, when I have not been sick for some weeks during the year I have not been sick for over two years. I think this in itself is enough to make me rejoice for having come into Zion. In addition to that, the great spiritual light has been something for which I praise God."

MRS. N. E. BAYLER, Roberts, Illinois, said: "I praise God for LEAVES OF HEALING. It has been a great blessing to me. I received a letter from a sister who had been afflicted for twenty years and was being treated by Christian Scientists, as she had become discouraged with doctors and medicines. I sent her LEAVES OF HEALING. She read the testimonies of those who had been healed in Zion, and as a last resort wrote to Zion for prayer. Her disease passed away and she has not seen any trace of it since."

MRS. ABBIE L. BURROWS, Nashville Center, Minnesota, said: "I thank God that I am in Zion. It is two years ago since I first received LEAVES OF HEALING. It has been a great blessing to me. A short time ago I cut my finger to the bone, from the joint down. I left it with God. It healed up right away and did not leave a scar."

MISS HATTIE BOWLBY, Marion, Kansas, said: "I thank God for blessings I have received since coming into Zion. I came here about two months ago. I had made other plans for this fall instead of coming to Zion, but the Lord seemed to direct that I should come here.

"Two years ago my hearing became affected. It became so noticeable that I was obliged to give up my occupation. I had been a teacher for several years, but I became so hard of hearing that it was with difficulty that I could hear the recitations of the children. As we have no specialist in our town, I went to Kansas City for treatment. I was so bad that I could not hear a watch tick one inch from my ear. Their treatment did me no good. Such was the condition of my hearing when I came to Zion.

"Since I have been here, the Lord has wonderfully blessed me. I can now hear a watch tick eighteen inches from my ear, and I am trusting God for complete deliverance.

"This catarrh affected other parts of my body as well. I have received much physical blessing.

"I also desire to tell you of my little niece who was healed. On the 17th of November, she was run over by a wagon loaded with stone. Both her limbs were broken and badly crushed. The Lord speedily delivered her from all pain and she has not felt any pain since she has been sick. Her papa says she lies in bed singing and laughing, waiting for her limbs to grow together."

MRS. ANN STEVENSON, Zion Home (late of Beeston, Notts, England), said: "I feel that God has been to me, as the Psalmist says, 'A God of deliverance.' I have known the Lord as my Healer for twelve years and He has indeed delivered me whenever I have been sick. I used to go to pills and medicines and doctors, but now it would be natural for me to go to God whenever I am sick. But I am never sick now.

"I have indeed proved God to be a God of deliverance to me, especially in the last month. The enemy tried to prevent us from coming to Zion, but God has overruled that. I do praise God for being in Zion. I desire the Lord to use me here. I do not wish to be a drone. I wish to be used of God that He may glorify His Name in me."

CLARA SCHILDER, Davenport, Iowa, said: "About a year and a half ago I was given LEAVES OF HEALING. I did not receive it well at first. I would not read it, but it seemed that whenever I would look for anything, LEAVES OF HEALING would come before me. I then heard of a woman who was healed, and I became interested in Zion. I can say that I have never been so healthy in my life as I am now. I praise God that I have been led into Zion."

The meeting was then closed with the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN OPENED.

WILL a man rob God? yet ye rob Me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob Me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse, that there may be meat in Mine house, and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of hosts.— Malachi 3:8-12.

ZION has proved that the above promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse" was not for the Mosaic Dispensation alone. She has obeyed the command upon which the promise rests. The "windows of heaven" have verily been opened.

That brings both command and promise up to date, and proves that God intended that His children in every age should pay Him a tithe of all He gives them.

Thousands in Zion have proved for themselves the truth of the promise.

Some of their happy testimonies are given herewith.

They tell of spiritual, psychical, physical, financial, domestic and other blessings through paying God His tithe.

There are many testimonies to the especial blessings in having a Storehouse in Zion for the whole tithe.

Many other testimonies to similar blessing have been received and will be published on this page from time to time.

The Storehouse in Zion Aids in Giving Tithes and Proves a Great Blessing.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 1, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—In response to your call of last Lord's Day for testimonies on the subject of tithing, I herewith give you a little of my own experience along this line.

About fifteen years ago, through the teaching of a good Baptist Deacon in this city, I was led to see that the Scriptures very clearly taught that God required a tithe of my income.

Accordingly I opened up an account on my books with the Lord, and for many succeeding years I systematically set aside a tenth of all I received.

In doing this I was greatly blessed both spiritually and temporally, although the disadvantages of being obliged to be my own Storehouse were very apparent; for as these funds were allowed to accumulate in anticipation of the various special collections so common in the churches with which I have heretofore been connected, I found myself frequently borrowing from them, thus getting me into no end of trouble.

Matters went along fairly well for some time, however, until I allowed myself unwisely to become involved financially, when the adversary as an angel of light persuaded me that it was my duty to stop tithing until I had paid off my debt.

From that time on for nearly six years I carried a great load and was robbed of spiritual blessing. Instead of getting out of debt, it seemed as if I kept going deeper.

Sickness came into our home, and as a consequence there was added to our otherwise heavy burden the doctor's bill.

Still it did not occur to us that our robbing God might lie at the bottom of all our troubles until about the close of the year 1897, when it began to dawn upon me that this was possibly the case.

My conscience had troubled me a great deal, however, and as I reviewed my experiences, I traced my troubles back to the time when I stopped tithing. This led to my promising God then and there to live up to the light which He had given me many years before on this matter.

Beginning with the first of January, 1898, until this time, we have paid our tithes regularly and have been greatly blessed in doing so.

About four months after the time we began to tithe, there came into our possession from a most unexpected source a sum of money sufficient to wipe out all our indebtedness; and eleven months after we were led to investigate Zion, where we learned that tithing was being taught according to the Scriptures in the strictest sense, in that His Church is the recognized Storehouse and the place in which the whole tithe should be deposited.

This greatly pleased us, and I can truthfully say that nothing has given me or my good wife greater joy than the depositing in Zion that which we recognize as the Lord's own, a tenth of all we receive, for we have proved by personal experience that this, like all other acts of obedience, brings its accompanying blessing.

May God lead all Zion quickly to see their duty and high privilege in this matter, that the Church may enjoy the larger blessings which are in store for her, is my prayer.

Sincerely your Brother in Christ, A. F. LEE.

God Enables One to Save Money When Tithes are Paid.

PLYMOUTH, CONNECTICUT, December 13, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer Piper:—A notice in LEAVES OF HEALING requested members of Zion to write you a brief testimony if they had received a blessing from paying tithes.

When I first began paying tithes, I paid to this, that and the other, but now all my tithes go into Zion Storehouse.

Since giving up medicine and insurance, and paying tithes, I find my money does not go so fast.

I often pay my tithes in advance.

Since paying tithes, I have saved from my small wages money to put into Zion Bank and Zion Lace Industries. I have also given free-will offerings, while before I could scarcely meet expenses, and many times had to borrow money.

The Lord has blessed me spiritually and financially since I have been paying tithes.

I feel tithes just as much of a debt to be paid, as I should if I went to a store and got credit for goods.

Before paying my tithes, once I drew a small amount from the bank to go on a visit, with the intention of putting it back afterwards; but I never was prospered to get enough ahead to pay it back, until I began to pay my tithes.

In Jesus' Name, GERTRUDE A. SCOTT.

Large Sum From Unexpected Source Sent When Tithes Were Paid.

CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE, December 11, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer in Christ:—In reply to your request, in last LEAVES OF HEALING, for testimonies on tithing, I wish to say that we as a family feel that we have been blessed of God in so doing.

At first I was inclined to think Dr. Dowie rather arbitrary about the tithes, but as I read and meditated over what God says in Malachi, I saw our dearly loved General Overseer was right about that, as I have always found him to be about everything else.

As a practical illustration of God's blessing, I wish to say that about a month ago I sent tithing for sale of a lot and regular tithing for my mother and self, amounting to about $——.

That same afternoon I received twice that sum, which I had not expected.

Who can doubt that God will be as good as His Word?

In greatful remembrance of all that God has done for us, I am faithfully

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) B. G. BROWN.

Extra Earnings More Than Pay the Tithes.

LEDYARD, IOWA, December 14, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—In answer to your request for testimonies in regard to paying tithes, I wish to give my experience.

My intention was to give the tenth several years before I heard of Zion, but now I am more careful in keeping the account, and I pay the tenth instead of giving it.

We do appreciate having the privilege of bringing it into the Storehouse instead of putting it, we did not know where.

The first month after paying the tithes into Zion, my earnings were $——, where before they were usually one-half or five-eighths of that sum.

My extra earnings every month since (now nearly a year) have more than paid the tithes, so I am richer instead of poorer.

I believed Mark 10:29-30 years ago, and called the attention of our minister to it. He applied it all spiritually.

We praise God that there is one Church which teaches that the promises of the Bible are for every part of the being, spirit, soul and body.

Yours in Zion, J. B. RENDALL.

AS COLD WATERS to a thirsty soul,
So is good news from a far country.—Proverbs 25:25.

THIS morning's mail brought us the following letter from Mr. O. L. Sprecher, Private Secretary to the General Overseer:

33 ROSEBERY AVENUE, E. C.,
LONDON, ENGLAND, December 4, 1900.

DEAR SISTER IN CHRIST:—I enclose herewith two letters from British soldiers who have sent in their applications for membership in the Christian Catholic Church; one from a missionary in Japan, who is much interested in Zion, and thanks you for literature sent; and a letter from a friend of Zion living in Edingburgh, who sends an offering toward the free distribution of LEAVES OF HEALING.

We have been having sharp conflicts all along the line, but God has been with us, fighting for us and overcoming Satan and his hosts.

We are all safe and have won many to God and have seen His works in them.

We have met a number of people who have received Zion Literature from Chicago, and we laid that at your door.

One young medical student in Edinburgh said that Zion Literature had come to China "in pecks." He said it would have been all right if the missionaries and the doctors had asked it to be sent, but he did not think it right that they should be troubled with it when they had not ordered it.

I afterwards saw this young medico in the crowd of howling and riotous students who attempted to break up the meetings in Edinburgh.

The General Overseer is to hold a meeting with the members of the Christian Catholic Church in London on the 20th; in Grimsby on the 22d and 23d; and then he returns to London again and holds another brief series of meetings, God willing, from the 26th to the 31st of December, 1900, and January 1, 1901, closing with an All-Night Meeting on the last mentioned date.

I shall be glad to return to America and get back to Central Zion Tabernacle, Chicago.

With Christian regards, and prayers for all Zion at Headquarters, I am
Faithfully yours in Jesus, O. L. SPRECHER.

We thank those friends of Zion who have helped us, through Zion's Literature Mission, to fire into the enemies' camps. We are glad, also, that we did not wait for the enemies' invitations before firing.

A Bishop is reported by a missionary to have declared that Zion Literature has played havoc with the missions in China.

It does a work like that of the roll or book which the Prophet Zechariah saw going forth over the face of the whole earth, which God said He sent forth to purge people from their sins.

Jesus does not say, "Wait until the people ask you to bring the Gospel to them," but he says:

Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to the whole creation. —Mark 16:15.

Protected in Battle by the Ninety-first Psalm.

FORT NAPIER, PIETERMARITZBURG,
NATAL, SOUTH AFRICA, September, 20, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—It is with great pleasure and hope that I now forward my application for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. A comrade named Cox is also sending his application to you by this mail.

"It is an ill-wind that blows nobody good," and I thank God that ever I came to South Africa, as do hundreds of my comrades.

Just before leaving home my master and workmates presented me with a Bible, a hymn book and a silver-mounted pocket flask.

I told my friends and relatives that I felt as confident as I did that I was standing before them that I would return to them. The ground of my confidence was the ninety-first Psalm.

I was all through with Sir Charles Warren's force under General Büller; so formed a part of the Ladysmith Relief Column.

I was on Spion Kop during our awful fight, and although my comrades were falling around me by scores, I felt as calm and confident as I would had I seen Christ putting a visible shield in front of me.

I was in all the fights with my regiment, "The King's Own"; and after the storming of Pieter's Hill, during which my company formed the front firing line, I and one of my young company officers were mentioned in one of General Büller's dispatches for performing an act of mercy.

I just mention these things to testify to God's goodness.

After the relief of Ladysmith one division came to Pietermaritzburg in order to proceed to "t'otherside," but the order was cancelled at the last moment and the division sent back to Ladysmith.

I was left here for duty, however, and have been employed as a clerk ever since.

Now I see clearly God's hand in it all.

I had not been here long when I made the acquaintance of John Thomson, of the Natal Bank, for which I most heartily thank God.

I and my other comrades who attend the meetings at the Soldiers' Home have received copies of LEAVES OF HEALING from him, and we have been blessed through reading them. I expect to be on my way home by the time you receive my application.

I have sent copies of LEAVES OF HEALING to many of my relatives and friends, because I wish them to know the whole truth, too. If you can have some Zion Literature sent to me for distribution, I shall be pleased to distribute it.

I have several times had to go out to draw the enemy's fire, and should like to do that by distributing Zion Literature at home.

With heartfelt gratitude to you for your faithful, fearless teaching, I remain, dear General Overseer,

Yours faithfully in the Master's Service, JOHN COSGROVE.

PIETERMARITZBURG,
NATAL, SOUTH AFRICA, September 21, 1900.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear Brother:—It is with joy that I apply for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

What blessing I have received through reading LEAVES OF HEALING! I do praise God for bringing me in touch with you.

You will think it very strange when you see that I was not a member of any Church.

I never liked that word "member," because I saw so many people who were members of different churches and were not Christians.

God healed me a short time ago of a very sore leg, caused by the hot weather. It was a great victory over the enemy. Praise the Lord.

Yours in His Service, ERNEST COX.

CHICAGO.

THE General Overseer will speak to an audience of from eight to ten thousand people on the first Lord's Day after his return to Zion, Chicago, January 20, 1901.

According to his directions, the Coliseum has been secured for that great meeting, and the arrangements for a grand and blessed time are being rapidly completed.

This Coliseum is located between Fourteenth and Sixteenth Streets on Wabash Avenue, only four blocks from Zion Home and two blocks from Central Zion Tabernacle.

The Cottage Grove and Wabash Avenue cable cars run before the door, the Sixteenth Street station of the Illinois Central Suburban Trains is only three blocks away, and the South Side Elevated Railway has a station at Eighteenth Street, only three and one-half blocks away.

The Coliseum was built in the summer of 1900 and is, hence, a perfectly new building. It is of handsome design and graceful, though enormous in proportions. It has chairs upon the main floor, and in the galleries which run on all four sides of the great building, for eight thousand people, and from one to two thousand more can find standing room.

The General Overseer will arrive in Chicago on the afternoon of Thursday, January 17, 1901. The time when his train will reach the city and the station at which he will leave the train will not be announced, as it would be unwise to have a great crowd gather in the station.

He will, however, as soon as he reaches the city, proceed to Central Zion Tabernacle, where he will meet all friends. The hour for his reception will be at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Thursday, January 17, 1901. Admission to the Tabernacle will be by ticket only. These tickets can be obtained free at Central Zion Tabernacle, Zion Publishing House, Zion City Bank, and at the other Zion Tabernacles in the city, on and after Lords' Day, January 6, 1901.

On Lord's Day morning, January 20, 1901, at 11 o'clock, the General Overseer will conduct services at Central Zion Tabernacle. Admission will be by ticket only, which can be secured free at the same time and places as the tickets mentioned above.

On Lord's Day afternoon at 3 o'clock will occur the great public gathering in the Coliseum. The services will open with a processional of 100 robed officers of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion and Zion's White-robed Choir, increased to 250 voices.

On the evening of the same day, the General Overseer will meet all members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and all Christians who desire to attend, at the communion of the Lord's Supper in Central Zion Tabernacle. Admission will be by ticket only. Tickets can be obtained free at the time and places mentioned above.

Such is the outline of the programme which will, God willing, be carried out at that long-looked-for time, now so near at hand, when the General Overseer shall return to Chicago.

Let all Zion pray for and prepare for such an outpouring of the power of God to save and to heal as Chicago has never before seen.

Park Side Zion Tabernacle

7124 Stony Island Avenue.
Rev. W. J. Stith, Elder-in-Charge.

Sunday morning, December 9th, witnessed another of Zion's Onward Movements.

It was that of consecrating another Tabernacle in Chicago, near that part of the city where the Christian Catholic Church in Zion was born, where the General Overseer fought some of the first battles for the supremacy of Zion's King in Chicago.

It is located about ten blocks south of what was once Zion Tabernacle No. 2, and within easy reach of Woodlawn, Brookdale, Windsor Park, Grand Crossing and South Chicago.

The Elder-in-Charge began a cottage meeting near the present Tabernacle about the first of last May, and the work has steadily advanced until it was deemed necessary to open a larger place for the progress of Zion in the Southeast District.

Overseer Speicher was present and conducted the opening services, to the edification of those present, and seemed much pleased with the outlook for the work of Zion at Park Side.

At the close of his discourse, he said it had been hinted by some one that the people present desired to assist in paying for the expense of fitting up the Tabernacle. He then gave an opportunity for free-will offerings, and $100 was soon raised.

Granville, Ohio.

The State of Ohio has been again disgraced by Masonic mob violence directed against an innocent, law-abiding Christian minister.

This time the little City of Granville has the "bad eminence" of being the scene of the mob.

Overseer George L. Mason, just completing a long tour of visitation and teaching among the Gatherings of the Friends of Zion in New York, New England, Pennsylvania and Ohio, spent Tuesday and Wednesday, December 18th and 19th, at Granville.

On the night of Wednesday, December 19th, while the Overseer was speaking in the Opera House, the Masonic Devil was aroused in great fury.

Eggs, vegetables, stones and chemicals were thrown, and other violence was done and attempted.

But God protected His servant and he was not injured in any way, nor were any of the Zion members.

On the morning of the next day, Overseer Mason sent the following telegram from the station at Newark, Ohio, where he was waiting while on his way to his next appointment at Sunbury, Ohio, where he closed his tour of visitation:

DEPOT, NEWARK, OHIO, December 20.

MRS. EMMA MASON,
1201 Michigan Avenue,
Granville mob devilish.
Eggs.
Stones.
Chemicals.
Nobody hurt.
Christ Conqueror.

G. L. MASON.

Mansfield, Ohio.

Rev. Cyrus B. Fockler, Elder-in-Charge.

God continues to bless the ministry of His servants who are sent, each Lord's Day, to Mansfield, Ohio.

Zion's calm persistence, her courageous trust in God, her love which casts out fear, her patient suffering of blows and indignities without striking back, have won for her the respect, not to say admiration, of many of the people of Mansfield who formerly, blinded and deceived by a false pulpit and lying press, had nothing but hatred and contempt for her.

Interest is being awakened in Zion's proclamation of the Everlasting Gospel.

On Lord's Day, December 9, 1900, Deacon Orren C. Kibbey, of Zion Headquarters, was directed by Overseer Piper to conduct the meetings in Mansfield.

He conducted two meetings at the homes of members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

God was with him, and Zion in Mansfield received much blessing.

After the meetings, he was accosted by two members of the Mansfield police force, who asked him if he were Orren Kibbey.

He replied that he was, and they began to talk together.

In the course of the conversation the officers said, "You're all right. Piper is all right. All you Zion Elders who have come here are all right except the two who got out because they were afraid" (referring to two officers of the Church who had been removed for cowardice and disobedience).

All good men, all courageous men, all the world, and even the Devil hate a coward.

On Lord's Day, December 16, 1900, Rev. J. C. Reiff, Elder in-Charge of the Branch of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion at Toledo, Ohio, who had been the first Zion Elder to visit Mansfield unmolested since the beginning of the persecution, again went there to hold meetings.

He reported, by telegram, in the afternoon, that he had held two good meetings with all quiet, closing with the two significant words, "Zion encouraged."

Zion in Central New York.

Overseer George L. Mason's Tour.

Overseer Mason's recent meetings helped the faith and courage of friends in Zion in various cities and towns.

He sends us the following very bright and interesting report of conditions in the places he visited, of the work which faithful Zion Gatherings are doing, and of the meetings held during his visitation:

It was impossible to visit all the places where there are groups of Zion people.

At Maryland, Otsego County, midway between Albany and Binghamton, Leonard A. Dibble, a young preacher, assisted by the zealous Green brothers, also members of Zion, has been teaching Christian Catholic truth to a good congregation meeting regularly in one of the old deserted meeting-houses in the village.

There have been conversions and healings, and the young men have sold hundreds of copies of LEAVES OF HEALING.

It was a joy to speak to many hearers, although it was on a very rainy Monday evening.

In Binghamton the meetings were held in the W. C. T. U. Hall. A Presbyterian preacher induced some of the ladies to try to back out of their agreement to hire us the hall. But C. J. Cook, the Conductor, had wisely paid for the hall, and the Devil was defeated.

In the meetings in Binghamton and Ithaca, Mr. Dibble was very helpful to us in singing and in testimony.

The Binghamton Gathering meets at 3 P. M. Lord's Day, with Mr. and Mrs. Pike, 37 Broom Street.

Ithaca, the seat of Cornell University, is full of unbelief and vice. The majority of the students smoke, hundreds of them drink rum, and many of them are fornicators.

Intellect is the popular god.

A pure Christian character is not required in the teachers.

The cold-storage churches, with preachers dying of propriety and in abject fear of Secretism, do not save the throngs of young men and women from perdition.

Thank God for the earnest Zion band in Ithaca, led by the faithful Conductor, D. W. Fish.

Our meetings were in his home. The power of God was manifest.

Two of those receiving Triune Immersion were opposed by foes in their own households, who said that they wished they would drown in the Baptism! George Markell's bold, blunt testimony that the Devil is in the hog has led scores of people, not yet members of Zion, to give up eating the flesh of the unspeakable pig.

The regular Zion meetings in Ithaca are held with D. W. Fish, 107 Fourth Street, Lord's Day, at 2:30 P. M., and Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The growing interest in Central New York needs the help of a resident Deacon or Elder.

Bluff Point, Yates County, was the next place visited. Here Frank Purdy and Mrs. Purdy and the two other faithful ones are bravely bearing up the Full Gospel Standard amid much opposition.

In Hornellsville, heavy rains on Lord's Day and Monday kept some from the meetings, yet the attendance was good.

On Tuesday, despite the cold, the Zion Message, both afternoon and evening, was spoken, not only in the hall, but in the open air on the street in song and testimony.

Several joyfully obeyed in Triune Immersion and applied for membership, thus rewarding the labor of love of the Conductor, Mrs. C. H. Osborn (19 State Street), and of her family and other earnest workers.

The regular meetings in Hornellsville are Lord's Day, 3:30 P. M., in Good Templars' Hall, and at 7:30 Thursday evening, at Mr. Taylor's, 65 Maple Street.

Let the bands in these several New York towns cultivate acquaintance through correspondence, visits, and above all, through mutual prayer for each other. Zion work is one.

In your prayer meetings often name the Gatherings and the friends in other towns.

Let Zion in New York State pray often for unhappy China.

Bradford, Pennsylvania.

Burnett S. Love, Conductor of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion in Bradford, Pennsylvania, gives the following brief but significant account of the blessing which God gave His people in that place on the occasion of Overseer George L. Mason's recent visit:

Overseer George L. Mason was with us Sunday and Monday, December 2d and 3d.

We had a grand time.

The daily papers gave us some free advertising as a result of the meetings on Sunday.

The Devil was aroused somewhat.

Five were baptized, three children were consecrated and over forty Christians partook of the Lord's Supper.

Hands were laid in prayer upon over thirty.

There was a good attendance at each service.

All members were quickened.

Zion is Going Forward in Bradford.

Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Deacon John G. Lake, in Charge.

Elder Daniel Bryant, in charge of the Branch of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion at Marinette, Wisconsin, recently held a mission at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, which was attended with great blessing.

Deacon John G. Lake, who is the Conductor of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion in that place, writes enthusiastically of the mission and of the progress which Zion in Sault Ste. Marie is making. He says:

I write to tell of Elder Bryant's mission and how wonderfully God has blessed his ministry among us.

Sinners have been saved, and our people have been drawn nearer to God.

There were two splendid healings in answer to Elder Bryant's prayers.

Five applications for membership have been received, which I enclose.

Zion has been built up.

Christ is enthroned in all our hearts.

Zion's Seventies have been reorganized. We have gone to work.

We have increased our LEAVES OF HEALING order to 150 copies per week. We thought "The Story of a Nickel" was good enough to inspire us to use an extra fifty copies of LEAVES OF HEALING.

Zion in Sault Ste. Marie has received more applications for membership during the year than any Church in the city.

Our Messenger, Miss Nellie J. Mitchell, has been transferred to Oconto, Wisconsin, with instructions to get the Zion sheep together.

Miss Mitchell is a hustler. The Devil hates her, praise the Lord. He hates all Zion.

We rejoice with you over victory in Mansfield.

We rejoice in advance over the victory which will come to Elder Brooks in British Columbia.

We rejoice for victory in Europe under the General Overseer's banner.

We believe that Zion will conquer the earth.

One team of Zion Saloon Seventies has sold 1000 copies of LEAVES OF HEALING in three months.

We have a very nice little hall, which will seat 100. We made our own seats, did our own electric light wiring and have a signwriter who has made us some beautiful signs to announce our meetings.

We are going to pray for an Elder. We need one and we are going to keep on praying till we get one.

In the meantime we are going to keep on fighting.

God bless Zion everywhere.

Cambridge, Ohio.

Overseer George L. Mason visited the Gathering of the Friends of Zion in Cambridge, Ohio, on Saturday and Sunday, December 15 and 16, 1900.

Mr. W. M. Suitt, Conductor of the Gathering, thus tells of the blessing which God gave in the meetings held:

As the result of Overseer Mason's visit, Zion in Cambridge has been wonderfully quickened and encouraged.

The meetings were very well attended. The meeting in the evening at the hall brought out 150.

The Overseer's subject, "Christ Manifest to Destroy the Works of the Devil," was a wonderful message. He spoke for nearly two hours, holding the earnest attention of the audience, which was largely made up of lodge men.

He pointed out the great sin in using tobacco, and exposed the murderous oaths of Freemasonry, calling them to repent and come out and be separate.

Those present could not help seeing the truth as he made it plain.

The Secret Society Devil is stirred up here and is doing some wholesale lying; but Zion only laughs and goes forward as usual.

Zion in Providence, Rhode Island.

The regular meetings are held every Sunday afternoon at the home of Bert C. Lee, 367 Friendship Street. The leader of the band is Walter Jones, 497 Washington Street.

The meetings of Overseer Mason were held in the Franklin Society Hall.

Providence is cursed with Baal-worship in myriad forms, and the Christian people are split up into more than the usual number of sects and go-as-you-please movements which do not move.

Let Zion pray for the Providence friends, that they may present the pure Gospel in its fulness and authority to the self-satisfied people.

To Teachers.

We desire to register the names of teachers who may wish to teach in our Junior Schools. None need apply except experienced ones, who are members of the Christian Catholic Church, and who have first-class credentials, testimonials of successful work, etc., to accompany their applications.

Each applicant must be ready to pass examination in each of the following branches: Reading; Writing; Spelling; Arithmetic; Grammar; Geography; Physiology, including the evil effects of drugs; United States History, and Bible Study.

In your application state (a) your age; (b) married, single, or widowed; (c) amount of experience; (d) kind of school taught; (e) when can you accept a call to Zion work?

Applicants must be willing to go where sent.

Address Superintendent John H. Sayrs, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

THE COMING CITY will be sent, postpaid, for $1 for the first thirteen numbers. Address subscriptions to Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, U. S. A.

CHRIST IS ALL AND IN ALL.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY DEACON H. WORTHINGTON JUDD.

FOR JEHOVAH hath comforted Zion: He hath comforted all her waste places, and hath made her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.—Isaiah 51:3.

ZION can give thanks and praise to Almighty God, who has brought great comfort, joy and gladness to the hearts of thousands of His courageous people during the year just closing.

IN SPITE of the bitter antagonism of her enemies (who were controlled by the Devil), she has kept valiantly forging onward, gathering in the trophies of triumph and victory which her enemies have been compelled to surrender and abandon in their retreat.

ONWARD, ZION! Strong in battle!
Rouse ye! in the Name of God!
Christ your Captain leads to conquer,
His power will crush the oppressor's rod.
Onward then! Be brave!
Our King will conquer!
Our God will save!

IT IS THE reproach, the revilings of men that keep men and women back from the truth of God which Zion is proclaiming. They are afraid of these whispering automatons, the "they says." But listen to what God says:

Hearken unto Me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is My law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye dismayed at their revilings. For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool.

WHY SHOULD there be any doubt in Zion, especially in the minds of those who know righteousness and in whose hearts is God's love? Why should any shrink from doing their whole duty by retaining their investments with those in the world who have no interest whatever in the promulgation of the Full Gospel and the establishment of the Kingdom of God?

BUT A FEW weeks remain before the General Overseer will return and announce to the world the Opening of the Gates of Zion City, and Zion Land and Investment Association will begin sending out the subdivided plats of the land to the shareholders, with the prices marked thereon.

SHAREHOLDERS only are to have the first choice in the selection of lots, and after they have made their selections the price of the remaining lots will be advanced and will continue to advance from time to time as improvements are made on the surrounding property.

IT IS THE EARNEST desire of the General Overseer that the members of the Christian Catholic Church, especially, shall receive the benefits to be derived from the increase in value of these beautiful lots, which are bound to be in great demand as soon as they are placed in the market.

IT BEHOOVES not only every member of the Christian Catholic Church, but every true child in God's Zion throughout the world, to respond quickly if there is a desire in their hearts either to locate in, or see the early establishment of a true, clean and enterprising modern Christian City, wherein God Himself shall rule and reign.

IF ANY HAVE money to invest and have failed to receive one of the letters recently sent to all of the members of Zion by Zion Land and Investment Association, write at once and one will be forwarded to you, including our new pamphlet entitled "Zion City in Prospect and Consummation." The Articles of Agreement between the General Overseer and each shareholder will also be mailed if desired.

LESS THAN one year has elapsed since Zion announced to the world the location of Zion City, and God has enabled us to expend tens of thousands of dollars during that period in improvements upon the land. There are now in course of construction the factory buildings wherein Zion will manufacture, under the direction of Deacon Samuel Stevenson and his corps of experts, the unexcelled Nottingham laces.

IF YOU FEEL you have all you care to invest in the stock of the Land Association, send in your application for stock in Zion Lace Industries or Zion City Bank, which are not only safe investments, but profitable ones as well.

THE FOLLOWING is a list of buildings and other improvements at Zion City which are completed or in process of construction:

Zion Lace Industries Home;
Zion Planing Mill;
Zion Freight Warehouse;
Zion Passenger Station;
Zion Artesian Well;
Zion General Store;
Zion Workingmen's Home;
Zion Observatory,
Zion Freight Depot,
Sidetracks, Roadways, etc.;
Zion Speakers' Stand in Temple Grove;
Zion Drainage Channel (one mile long);
Zion Lace Industries Building.

APPLICANTS for employment must not come on until sent for, or notice is officially given them either through this paper or THE COMING CITY.

By Rev. O. L. TINDALL, M. A., B. D., Principal Ministerial Department.

ZION students and instructors will appreciate the respite from their books for two weeks during the holidays, from December 22d till January 7th. We trust all will come back to their work refreshed and strengthened.

We are rejoicing in a new Home added to the College. The three stories and basement building at 1245 Michigan Avenue has been rented for Zion College purposes. In the basement will be the Zion Laundry for all Zion students. There students can have their washing done at a very reasonable rate.

This will be the beginning, in this department, of the principle of coöperation which Zion expects to work out and give to the world, an object lesson of how to do business in a Christian way, so that the strong shall help the weak.

On the first floor will be the Central Junior Schools. The accommodations are a great improvement on what they have had.

It has been necessary to add a new teacher for this school. Miss Nancy Starratt, of Toronto, Canada, has been appointed to the place. Miss Starratt has had much experience in teaching, and, what is better, she knows God and His Son as her Saviour and Healer, by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Her picture and testimony can be seen in Leaves of Healing of December 8, 1900.

What a blessing to the little ones to have as their instructors those who will teach them a Full Gospel, both by precept and example. Here lies the hope of the world. Solomon told the truth if he did not always live it.

> Train up a child in the way he should go,
> And even when he is old he will not depart from it.

Solomon's training was not what it should have been. There were too many mothers in that home, for one thing. The examples around him were not always the most savory.

On the second floor will be the Musical Department. Several pianos are in the rooms for the use of the students for lessons and practice.

The Musical Department is doing most excellent work, as was evidenced by those who had an opportunity to listen to the recital on Tuesday evening, the 11th inst., given by some of the pupils under Miss McFarland's instruction.

They showed the results of their careful and efficient training of one term of lessons.

Our much appreciated Conductor Rice has, we believe, the largest and most remarkable regular church choir in the world, and is soon to be reënforced by a young girls' chorus of fifty voices. Whereunto this thing will grow no one can tell. We believe our General Overseer's prophecy will be fulfilled when he said, "In Zion Temple we will have a thousand tongues to sing our Great Redeemer's praise in Zion Choir."

The Conductor is to have a room where he can give lessons in voice culture.

Our young people should avail themselves of this privilege. What can be more helpful to stir men's sluggish spirits to praise and love than music?

The third floor is for students. In the three Students' Homes and a Home for the teachers we can now accommodate the most of Zion College with good Christian homes at very low terms.

The afternoon popular lectures at 2 o'clock are much appreciated by the students and friends. Overseer Piper has been giving some very practical talks on many subjects. In connection with his lectures, opportunity is given for questions to be handed in by the students, which the Overseer answers in his own inimitable way.

Deacon Barnard, who has had many years' experience in banking, has given the students some very practical talks on the subject. Robert T. Aiston, D. D. S., one of our Zion dentists, has given some talks on the care of the teeth.

A young man writes us that he wants to come to Zion College. He says he would be willing to shovel coal to pay his way. This comes from a young man who has finished a high school course and is nearly through a university course.

He is afraid he will be dried up entirely in his spiritual life if he continues any longer in the valley of dry bones. He writes:

> After being so thoroughly saturated with Zion teaching, the work in a worldly university has become so odious to me that it is impossible for me to continue any longer in this form of apostasy and retain what I have gained.

We are all looking forward with much interest to the homecoming of our beloved President. We are praying constantly for his prosperity and safe return, and rejoicing in his wonderful victories through Him whose birth we now commemorate in these closing days of the Nineteenth Century.

Before the close of the next century we will, no doubt, see the Coming of our King, to reign on the earth for a thousand years.

Our Christmastime will then be turned into a jubilee.

May He be enthroned in all our lives now, and in our homes and in our Zion College.

We trust Zion students and teachers will take a share in the work of getting new subscribers for Leaves of Healing during their holidays.

What can be a better Christmas present or New Year's gift than a subscription for ten weeks for the small sum of twenty-five cents?

We hope no Zion Student will fail to furnish at least one new name to swell the list. They may then be able to tell a "Story of Half a Nickel."

REV. F. A. GRAVES, SUPERINTENDENT.

CHRISTMAS CAROL.

F. A. GRAVES. Luke 2: 14. Norwegian Melody.

AND THE ANGEL said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people: for there is born to you this day in the City of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

. . . . . .

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest,

And on earth peace among men in whom He is well pleased.

Thou shalt call His Name Jesus; for it is He that shall save His people from their sins.

And shall call His Name IMMANUEL, which is, being interpreted, God with us.

And His Name shall be called WONDERFUL, COUNSELLOR, MIGHTY GOD, EVERLASTING FATHER, PRINCE OF PEACE.

Cry aloud and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.—Isaiah 12:6.

What then shall one answer the Messengers of the nation? That the Lord hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of His people take refuge.—Isaiah 14:32.

Surely Zion can say, "Great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee."

How many over this broad land are rejoicing in the Living Saviour? And we are so glad that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever."

We have been studying during the past year of the life of this Jesus who is sung about all over the land today.

How many of the Juniors remember the eight things which we learned about during the Silent Years?

His Birth;
His Visit from the Shepherds;
His Name;
His Presentation in the Temple;
His Visit from the Wise Men;
His Flight into Egypt;
His Return to Nazareth;
His Visit to the Temple and talk with doctors of the law.

While we read "for He shall save His people from their sins," we also read in Matthew 8:17: "Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

Many hundreds of Juniors are living today who can testify that God has not only saved them from their sins, but also their sicknesses.

Let us trust this same Jesus this coming year, for He hath said:

I will not fail thee nor forsake thee.

CHRISTMAS time has come again,
Peace on earth, good will to men.
HOW the words still ring on earth,
Since the day of Jesus' birth.
RING, ye bells, sound out the strain;
Christmas time has come again.
IN a manger then He came;
Jesus was His blessed Name.
SAVIOUR He had come to be,
Found a home in Galilee.
THIRTY years in humble work,
Never once was known to shirk.
MARY, mother of this man,
Did her part in God's great plan.
AND we know today He lives,
Heals the sick, and sins forgives.
SING, O earth, in joyful strain,
Christmas time has come again.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 9th or 10th.

Happy-Heartedness.

1. It is impossible without a conscious knowledge of God.—Psalm 144:7-15.
   Is everything you have in God's hands?
   Is God taking care of every family relation?
   Has He supreme charge of all your business affairs?
2. Many persons are called happy who know nothing of happiness.—Malachi 3:13-17.
   Is the man happy who has plenty to eat and wear?
   Is the man happy who owns wealth and estates?
   Is the man happy who shines among many admirers?
3. It rests in the conviction that when right, nothing can harm one.—1 Peter 3:13-17.
   Can persecution ever injure one?
   Can malicious falsehood injure one?
   Can the opposition of an evil generation injure one?
4. He who through unselfishness lives to do no one harm, directly or indirectly, is happy.—Romans 14:12 23.
   How far reaching is influence?
   How much does one person imitate another?
   How far shall appetite and desire be controlled?
5. He who has learned the secret of getting help from God is happy.—Psalm 146:1-10.
   How much is God willing to do for one?
   When does God surely help?
   When should we begin to thank Him for what He will do?
6. He who seeks until he finds the wisdom from above is happy.—Proverbs 3:13-20.
   Is one ever in perplexity who has Divine Wisdom?
   How does the man progress who has it?
   Recount the blessings which come from it.
7. He who trusts not in himself or his achievements, but in what God is and does, is happy.—Proverbs 16:20-26.
   When a man trusts self, what does he become?
   When in God only is the trust, what then?
   How sweet is the conduct of a happy man?
8. He who shows mercy to the needy and lives for others is happy.—Proverbs 14:15-28.
   How does God give to him who withholds mercy?
   Is a person to give to everybody who tells a tale of hardship?
   For whom are we to live?

The Lord Our God is a Happiness-Bestowing God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 13th.

The Health of Cheerfulness.

1. The face tells the story of the work of sin.—Isaiah 3:9-11.
   Do not impure food and intoxicants mark the face?
   Do lustful thoughts and sensuality disfigure the face?
   Do low spirits and loss of vitality pale the face?
2. A happy countenance is contagious in others.—Proverbs 27:15-24.
   Does a trouble-faced mother make spoiled-faced children?
   When you look into a cheerful face, what do you get?
   Why should we cultivate a cheerful countenance?
3. The heart must be right before a happy countenance is permanent.—Proverbs 15:8 15.
   What man gets the most out of life?
   Must not a smile come from the heart?
   Should not a person be happy, even when reproved?
4. A man who does not know God in blessed relations is wisen-faced.—Ecclesiastes 8:1-5.
   Does not ignorance spoil every blessed relation in life?
   Can we be untrue to obligations and be happy?
   Cannot a happy face become permanently marked?
5. God's face shining on ours will cause ours to shine on others.—Psalm 67:1-7.
   Can God smile on us when we disobey Him?
   Does not God's smile fill the body with health?
   Are we happy when enjoying God's restored health?
6. God has done enough to drive every cloud from every face.—Psalm 104:10-24.
   Why should we think of the Water of Life God gives?
   Is it helpful to think of life in visible forms of expressions?
   What comes from thinking of the variations and changes God has ordered?
7. Some think good cheer depends upon having comfortable surroundings.—Proverbs 17:1-8.
   Are banquet halls happiness-producing places?
   Should we laugh at those who have little?
   Is being poor an excuse for not being all God would have you be?
8. God's grace in the heart makes a joyful face whatever occurs.—Hebrews 3:7-19.
   Does the man who gets joy from God have to go to others for it?
   Can one have the fruit of the spirit without joy?
   What does God's Elijah always get, and why?

God's Holy People are a Happy-Faced People.

All-Night Assemblies With God in Zion.

1900-1901.

ZION is looking forward with great joy to the coming All-Night with God in Central Zion Tabernacle, at the end of the Nineteenth Century and the dawn of the Twentieth Century. Her General Overseer will be conducting All-Night Assemblies with God in London on that night, but he will be present in the meeting in Chicago in spirit.

All who love God and Zion are invited to attend.

We quote the following from the General Overseer's call to the All-Night Meeting of 1899-1900:

It gives me joy to say, in His Name:

"Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord;

"And He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His Paths:

"For out of Zion shall go forth Instruction."

Prepare your hearts for a blessing.

Let all evil be repented of and put away.

Purity is the Grace which is waiting to bless thee at the Door of the New Year.

"Bring a blessing, and you will get a still greater blessing."

"The pure in heart shall see God."

. . . . . .

"All things are now ready."

Come: for the feast is spead.

All Heaven attends at God's command to bless you in spirit, soul and body, for time, and for eternity.

Monday, December 31, 1900—Tuesday, January 1, 1901.

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 11. CHICAGO, JANUARY 5, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

MIRACULOUSLY HEALED OF INTERNAL DISEASE, HEART TROUBLE, AND NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

MY WORD . . . SHALL NOT RETURN UNTO ME VOID, BUT IT SHALL ACCOMPLISH THAT WHICH I PLEASE, AND SHALL PROSPER IN THE THING WHERETO I SENT IT.

A little bit of torn, soiled paper, blown about the streets, attracted the attention of a child.

He carried it home, and gave it to his mother.

That bit of paper has been used of God to change the entire course of many lives, for time and for Eternity.

It has brought the unspeakable blessings of Salvation, Healing and Cleansing, through Jesus Christ the Son of God, by the power of the Holy Spirit, to many who were wandering in the dark ways of sin and sickness.

It has made happy many homes where all was dark before.

And its Story is only begun.

Time will see it grow more and more beautiful; Eternity only will see its consummation.

That bit of paper was a torn piece of Zion Literature.

It was brought to the woman whose bright and happy face smiles out from this page

It found her in the deepest distress of spirit, far away from home and mother, in a strange land. It found her terribly tortured by many foul diseases.

She had internal trouble which caused her ceaseless pain.

She had undergone the merciless butchery of a surgical operation in the vain hope of finding relief, but was nothing bettered. Her physician told her that her only hope of recovery was another operation.

MRS. ROSA PEETZ.

But her heart was too weak to endure another such ordeal. Hence she must suffer on, humanly speaking, without hope.

She was also racked by the nameless miseries of nervous prostration.

Almost in despair, she ignorantly blamed God for all her troubles.

Hope came into her weary heart through that bit of paper.

It told her that God was her loving Father, and that He was more willing that she should be well and happy than any earthly father could be.

She resolved to attend the services then being held in Zion Tabernacle No. 1.

She went, and heard Mrs Dowie tell of God's love and power.

That Message, so sweetly and so lovingly told, touched her rebellious heart, and she found peace for her spirit.

When Mrs. Dowie prayed for her, with laying on of hands, she received a great physical blessing, and immediately began to grow stronger.

Soon after she was given strength to have removed a surgical appliance without which she had been unable to walk.

She went to Zion Tabernacle again the next day.

She heard the wonderful Message which God had sent by His Messenger, John Alexander Dowie.

She heard that her diseases were all the work of the Devil.

She heard that Jesus came to destroy the works of the Devil.

She heard that God had said, "I am the Lord that healeth thee."

She heard that He had said, "I am the Lord, I change not."

She heard that Jesus, who "went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil," was with us still, according to His promise, and was "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever."

She believed that message.

She arose at the close with the words trembling upon her lips:

"My God and Father, in Jesus' Name, I come to Thee.

"Take me as I am, and make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body, by Thy Spirit's Power.

"Help me to repent of all my sins; to confess to all whom I have wronged; to restore all in my power to any whom I may have defrauded.

"Forgive my sins and heal my sicknesses, for Jesus' sake."

As she spoke the words she was instantly, miraculously and perfectly healed.

She distinctly felt the wonderful work of God being done in her body.

Her healing was so wonderful and so perfect that even her physician, upon examining her, the next day, exclaimed, "A miracle is done!"

Six years have passed since then, and she still remains well, strong and happy.

During those six years, she has faithfully witnessed for God to the wonderful things He has done for her.

She wrote her testimony to her mother in far-away Germany.

Through that testimony and the prayer of faith of the General Overseer, her mother was instantly and perfectly healed when given up to die of catarrh of the stomach.

She told the Story of God's love and what He had done in her to her cousin, Mr. Carl F. Stern, a dying drunkard, who had sounded the deepest depths of sin.

The Holy Spirit blessed that Story to him and he was led to Zion Tabernacle No. 2, where he was saved, healed and cleansed.

He is now working for God as the trusted personal attendant of the General Overseer.

He has been untiring in telling the glad tidings as he has gone about among men.

His testimony has been greatly blessed to the salvation and healing of many, his own aged father and mother among the number.

All these, in turn, are going forth giving their testimonies, and God is blessing them to others.

So the work of that little bit of paper goes on in ever-widening circles.

The Little White Dove now carries its Story, multiplied by thousands upon thousands, to every land beneath the sun.

Through it may thousands, now in the hell-forged bonds of sin and sickness, realize the blessed truth which shall make them free.

May they be led, by His Spirit, to make Repentance, Confession and Restitution, and by obeying God's Word show Him that they trust Him.

May they cry to Him to make them what they ought to be in spirit, in soul and in body.

His promise cannot fail.

He is no respecter of persons.

He longs to heal.

He will heal.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. ROSA PEETZ.

741 North Washtenaw Avenue,
Chicago, Illinois, December 6, 1900.

Dear General Overseer:—With a heart full of thanks to my God and Father, I write my testimony, believing that it may go forth for the Glory of God, to be a help to other poor women suffering as I did.

It was six years ago last summer, when I first heard of Dr. Dowie's Mission near Jackson Park.

A little boy, now grown up and in Zion Choir, found a piece of one of Dr. Dowie's tracts on the street when coming home from school. He picked it up, brought it home to his mamma, and she, knowing of my suffering, brought it upstairs to me to read.

I at once decided to go and find out all about it.

The following Sunday we went.

Mrs. Dowie led the meeting.

I, for the first time in my life, heard the Full Gospel preached.

I felt within me that that was the only place where I could be made whole again

I can never forget Mrs. Dowie's words, full of love, which went straight to my heart.

I saw in God a different God, a living and loving Father.

I was sick for seven and a half years with internal troubles, caused by childbirth; displacement, heart trouble, nervous prostration and other ailments.

I had undergone an operation, but was not benefited by it.

My physician gave me to understand that I had to undergo another operation.

But I knew I could not stand it a second time, on account of the heart trouble and having to take an anesthetic.

The first time I went into tho healing room, Mrs. Dowie prayed with the sick, and when she came to me and laid hands on me, I felt a hot stream like electricity going through my whole body.

From that moment I grew stronger.

One day after that it came to me to go to my physician and ask him to remove the instrument I had to wear internally; for without it I was unable to walk.

On Thursday, October 17, 1894, I went to my physician and asked him to remove the instrument.

After much persuasion he did so, hut told me to lie down and not be on my feet, and in two days I should call again.

I suffered horrible pains that time. I said to him, "Yes, I will come again in two days."

I went home, hoping and praying that the next day, being Friday, when, it was announced, Dr. Dowie would pray with the sick, would bring deliverance to my poor, diseased body—and so it was.

Before I left home I knelt down and prayed that if Dr. Dowie were a man of God, I should receive a healing; and if not, I would rather keep my sickness.

After I was through praying, I opened my Bible and my eyes fell upon the fifteenth chapter of Matthew, which I read. Then I went, expecting help.

To my greatest surprise, Dr. Dowie's lesson for that afternoon was the fifteenth chapter of Matthew.

At the close of the sermon, when the Call for Consecration was given, I arose and repeated Dr. Dowie's prayer, clause by clause.

At that moment I received an instantaneous and perfect healing.

A voice in my heart seemed to say "fear not," and as I repeated the Prayer of Consecration I felt the diseased part returning to its normal position, and felt it being fastened there.

After this was done the Prayer of Consecration was over and I, by the Grace of God, was healed.

I was so tired after that, that I wished I could lie down and sleep for a few minutes.

When I reached home and told my husband and others of my bealing, they would not believe me, but said it was imagination.

I cried out, "Oh, what shall I do?"

Then the thought came to me, "Tomorrow is Saturday and the second day when I promised to go to my physician. I will go. Maybe they will believe me after the doctor has seen me."

I could hardly wait till the time came when I should see my physician. How happy and glad I was!

When I entered his office he asked me how I was.

I thanked him and told him that I was very well.

He looked at me, not believing it, and said, "I will have to examine you."

I said, "You can do so," thinking and praying in my heart that it should be only done for the glory of God.

He examined me, questioning: "You have no pain, no particle of a pain?

"A miracle is done!

"The organ is in its place and fastened.

"When did that happen?"

The inflammation and laceration were gone and I was as normal as if I never had been sick.

"Come again," he said; "I want to see if it lasts."

I did so.

Over six years have passed now and I am kept by the power of God.

Whenever I get sick or whenever there is trial or temptation, I go to my Heavenly Father, who has never failed to help and deliver me.

One thing more I wish to say, and that is concerning the great spiritual blessing which I received in the first meeting which I attended, led by Mrs. Dowie.

I was homesick and heartbroken.

I cannot tell all the agony I suffered.

I hated Chicago. I almost hated the people and was in despair, accusing God all the time for my being here, and crying out: "Why is it, that I had to leave all my loved ones and come to Chicago?"

When I heard Mrs. Dowie, I saw how wrongly I had accused God, and everything rolled away from my heart. I found in Him my Father, my mother, my brother, my All.

In closing my testimony, I thank God with all my heart for Zion, for our beloved General Overseer and his dear wife.

May God richly bless them and continue to use them in proclaiming the Full Gospel to every nation.

Thankfully and faithfully

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) ROSA PEETZ.

TESTIMONY OF MRS. ANNA ARNETH, WRITTEN BY HER DAUGHTER, MRS. ROSA PEETZ.

CHICAGO, December 7, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I wish to give thanks to God for my mamma's bealing through the General Overseer's prayers.

Her name is Mrs. Anna Arneth, and she lives in Muncben (Munich), Bavaria, Germany.

She was sick for about twenty years with chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels.

I received letters from my uncle and brother, telling me that they did not expect her to live.

She was not able to digest any food and could not sleep.

The physicians had given her up.

Knowing through letters about my wonderful healing, she asked me to tell the General Overseer about her sickness, and send in a request for prayer.

We set a day and a certain hour for prayer, making allowances for the difference in time between Chicago and Munich.

The General Overseer prayed here, and mamma, at the same time there, and received an instantaneous healing.

That very evening she could eat, digest her food, and sleep well.

This happened four years ago, and in a letter written to me a few days ago mother said that she was well and feels younger from day to day.

Some weeks ago she caught a heavy cold, but she trusted in God for deliverance and did not take any medicine.

She also says that she is praying for Dr. Dowie and this glorious work in Chicago.

Her heart's desire would be to see the General Overseer, who is used so much by God.

Faithfully yours in Christ, (MRS.) ROSA PEETZ.

Notice to Officers and Members of the Christian Catholic Church.

Send all newspaper clippings concerning the General Overseer, the Elders, or any department of the work in connection with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, to Mrs. Carl F. Stern, Room 309, Zion Home, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Send as soon as possible after publication, and carefully mark name and date of the paper clipped from on each article. If this is not done, the clippings are absolutely useless.

Child Healed Instantly of Worm Fever.

AKRON, OHIO, December 10, 1900.

REV. JOHN G. SPEICHER:

Dear Brother in Christ:—Myself and family received your kind letter saying that you had prayed for our child who was so very sick with worm fever.

We feel very grateful for the prayer you offered.

The child began to mend immediately, and by the next day was seemingly as well as ever. By evening he had gained most wonderfully, so that he slept at night as though he had not been sick.

Now he is one of the most playful of five.

We give God all the praise and glory.

We constantly remember Zion's Messengers and God's co-workers in our prayers.

May He wonderfully lead in all your plans and deliberations for the extension of Christ's Kingdom in all the earth.

Yours very truly in Christ our Lord, H. H. SCHIEB AND FAMILY.

Six Bound Volumes of Leaves of Healing.

What six books, beside the Bible, could be more precious, more valuable to every member and friend of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, than the first six volumes of LEAVES OF HEALING?

They contain more of the Everlasting Gospel; more testimonies to Salvation, Healing and Cleansing through Faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God; more sound teaching, than any other six books published.

The world may scoff at that, but Zion knows it to be true.

Not only that, but these six Volumes contain, in some measure, the priceless record of God's dealings with Zion in these latter days. In them, as nowhere else, can be found the history of the mighty work which God has established for the extension of His Kingdom and the preparation of the world for the coming of Jesus as King.

In them is contained a large portion of the wonderful Message which God sent to the world by His Messenger.

In fact, when we stop to consider all the glorious things which have gone into the composition of these six Volumes, we find words insufficient and inadequate to express their value.

Those who have been saved, healed, cleansed, made prosperous and happy through the Message brought by one copy of the Little White Dove, perhaps know something of what a mighty storehouse of power these six Volumes are.

These Volumes have been bound, by Zion Publishing House, in strong, handsome black binding, half-morocco, with a graceful design, LEAVES OF HEALING, in gilt upon the front cover.

Each has a carefully prepared index covering all the principal subjects in the book.

They sell at the regular rate of $3.50 per Volume, or the exceedingly low rate of $15 for the six Volumes.

These books should be in every Zion household.

Send all orders to Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, U. S. A.

To Teachers.

We desire to register the names of teachers who may wish to teach in our Junior Schools. None need apply except experienced ones, who are members of the Christian Catholic Church, and who have first-class credentials, testimonials of successful work, etc., to accompany their applications.

Each applicant must be ready to pass examination in each of the following branches: Reading; Writing; Spelling; Arithmetic; Grammar; Geography; Physiology, including the evil effects of drugs; United States History, and Bible Study.

In your application state (a) your age; (b) married, single, or widowed; (c) amount of experience; (d) kind of school taught; (e) when can you accept a call to Zion work?

Applicants must be willing to go where sent.

GOD BLESSING CLOSING DAYS OF EUROPEAN MISSION.

Paris Meetings Blessed. Large Meeting at Grimsby. New Officers Ordained. Large Number Received Into Fellowship. Zion Going Forward Everywhere Gloriously.

AS THE General Overseer's Mission in Europe draws to its close, God is most gloriously pouring forth showers of blessing upon the work.

All Zion is looking forward to and praying for a great season of refreshing from the presence of the Lord at the closing meetings in London, from December 26, 1900, to January 1, 1901.

Especial manifestations of the Spirit's presence and power are Zion's expectations on the closing night of the Nineteenth Century and the dawning morning of the Twentieth Century.

Zion will pray in London with the General Overseer.

Zion will pray in Chicago, with Overseers and many Ordained Officers.

Zion in all the lands, and in the Islands of the Sea, even where only two or three are met together, or where only one faithful child of the Kingdom kneels, will pray in that midnight hour.

Already there is "the sound of abundance of rain."

The following cablegram from the General Overseer, read to the thousands in Central Zion Tabernacle on Lord's Day afternoon, December 23d, tells of the wondrous things God is doing, through His servant, in the Old World:

GRIMSBY, ENGLAND, December 23, 1900.

ZION, Michigan Avenue, Chicago.
Rejoice.
God blessed in Paris.
Arrived with wife and daughter in London, Thursday night.
Met with Zion there.
Preparation going forward for closing Mission in Bermondsey Town Hall, December 26th to January 1st.
Arrived Grimsby last night.
Began Mission, Town Hall, this morning.
Large meeting.
Ordained one Elder, two Deacons, two Deaconesses.
Received large number of members into fellowship, from Manchester, Doncaster, Nottingham, Grimsby, etc.
Zion going forward everywhere gloriously.
Hallelujah.
Pray for us.
Read last two verses of Bible:
(He which testifieth these things saith, Yea: I come quickly. Amen: come, Lord Jesus. The grace of the Lord Jesus be with the saints. Amen).

Mizpah. DOWIE.

On Christmas Day, December 25, 1900, the following beautiful Christmas verse was received, by cable, from the General Overseer:

LONDON, December 25, 1900.

ZION, Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

From Babel and from Satan's seat
Come Christmas Crowns to Zion's King;
The Continents and Islands meet,
The angels' song again to sing:
To God the highest Glory;
His peace to men on earth,
The sweetest, oldest Story,
The sinless, holy Birth. DOWIE.

Notice.

Shareholders in Zion Land and Investment Association, Zion City Bank or Zion Lace Industries should notify the officers of the respective Industries at once of any recent change in their addresses.

YE WALKED according to the course of this world, according to the Prince of the Power of the Air, of the Spirit that now worketh in the sons of disobedience.—Ephesians 2:2.

THE following extract is from the letter of an English lady who attended the meetings held by the General Overseer in London. She writes:

I also think we are nearing the latter days.

I for one am praying that I may be accounted worthy to escape those things that are coming to pass upon the earth. May God grant it.

Unbelief, rebellion and defiance against God and His truth and rule is rampant here in England. Now that our General Overseer is preaching such a Full Salvation for spirit, soul and body, it seems as if a fresh consignment of demon spirits have been dispatched to London and taken possession of all classes of men and women.

The press, the medicals, the men in our pulpits and the so-called Christians in the pews, all seem to have gone mad against our General Overseer. But, then, it is not he, it is the truth he teaches; yea, the God who speaks through the man and denounces their sins.

May God have mercy on them.

What pains me most, is the professed Christians, the professed holiness people, circulating anything they can obtain, even from any half-penny paper, and stating it as if it had a "Thus saith the Lord"—while the lie is clearly seen in the statements.

We are more than conquerors through Him.

Pray for London.

On the day the General Overseer appeared in the Police Court against the medicals, I had the text from the Lord, "Surely the wrath of man shall praise Thee: the residue of wrath shalt Thou restrain."

On that day the riots began to subside.

A Mrs. Hurran read the dreadful lies in the Daily Mail.

This aroused her curiosity, so she came to see and hear for herself.

She was suffering from Bright's disease of eleven years' standing. You can doubtless conclude the rest.

She stayed. The General Overseer prayed. God answered, and she felt at once the Lord had touched her, and she is now healed.

Here the wrath of man was made to praise Him.

God has blessed, and Eternity alone will reveal how much.

Personally, I have many of God's truths in a new light.

May grace, mercy and peace be the cement to bind all Zion hearts together.

Zion Literature Helps a Man in India to Quit Drink and Tobacco.

A Christian worker in India writes to Overseer Piper:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR:—I feel it my duty first to thank God and then Dr. Dowie for the good teaching and doctrine concerning salvation and healing.

My heart is so full of praise and thanks that I have no expression in words.

I am a native of India, belonging to the Congregational Church.

Believing that Christ was my Saviour only, I was doing the same bad things I did before, and saying every day that I was trying to lead a good life.

Thus I had not given up my bad habits and ways until I saw the good pamphlets and LEAVES OF HEALING, published by the Rev. Dr. Dowie.

I have been reading the LEAVES for more than ten months.

I have read the little books also.

I have given up my bad habits.

God, my Father, through Jesus Christ, helped me, and delivered me from tobacco, which I had been using for more than seventeen years.

I was a man addicted to drinking also.

I thank God from the bottom of my heart that the drinking, etc., is gone from me.

Really He has given me a sort of hatred to smoking and drinking.

I am glad to say that I am saved and healed from all my bad ways.

In my times of temptation God keeps me by His power and grace.

Pray for me and my family to grow in God's Grace more and more.

I am writing this letter with a great wish to become a member of Zion.

My wife has a great desire to be a member also.

We both trust God in our sicknesses and weaknesses that He will heal us and our children. We have no mind now to take any medicine, fully trusting in the Lord.

In this place there are a few members of the Christian Catholic Church.

By reading LEAVES OF HEALING I am growing in grace.

May God bless Dr. Dowie abundantly in his work, and God bless all in Zion Home who publish the things for man's salvation and healing.

Pray for me and send me LEAVES OF HEALING.

A Family in Africa Kept in Health by Trusting God.

The following letter was written by a mission worker in Africa to our General Overseer:

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear Brother in Christ Jesus:—Your letter came safely to hand, a week or so ago. I have read and re-read it. It has made me think and search my heart very much.

Yes, I do believe that my repentance, confession and consecration are what they ought to be in God's sight.

I thank you for your kind interest in the welfare of my family and your prayers on behalf of the children.

I am thankful to say that since we have trusted ourselves and children fully to God for healing they never were in better health, blessed be God.

I must also acknowledge receipt of tracts and LEAVES OF HEALING for distribution.

The LEAVES have been a great blessing to us.

We thank God for the many wonderful cases of healing on record.

Pray for us.

I feel God is going to own our labors among these poor, dark-minded people in the healing of their diseases.

We have not up to this time prayed for any sick, but it is impressed upon my heart that I must do so.

I feel sure it is God who is leading. We have no one but God to lead or direct, for we are quite isolated from white people.

I am sure there will be great rejoicing the day that an officer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion lands in Natal.

May God hasten the time.

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, December 15, 1900, was conducted by Overseer Piper.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be ten in number, as follows:

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

China, England, Ireland and Japan.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

N. A. ROBINSON, Zion College, said: "This morning when I arose I had a severe pain in my neck. I asked for prayer in the Students' Home, and I praise God I have felt no symptoms after that.

"God has healed and has kept me. I feel to rejoice greatly in God for this present help. I am very glad to be in Zion. God does manifest His power over disease today when we trust in Him for it."

DEACONESS SARAH E. HILL, Zion Home, said: "The first winter that I was here I suffered a great deal with chapped hands; my hands would be raw and almost bleeding. I always used something on them, either vaseline or glycerine; not to heal them, but to soften them and protect them from the weather. I got to thinking that I had better not use anything and trust God. Now winter after winter my hands are in the same condition as in the summer. This week my hands have become a little chapped. I believe it is because I have not been praising God enough. I have not praised God enough for what He has done for me through Zion, and I find the more I count my blessings, the more God blesses me.

"I thank God for the wonderful healings which have taken place in this room. Many have come into this room seeking healing and they have gone away rejoicing in health."

ELDER EMMA K. MASON, Zion Home, said: "Thank God for the good news from China and Japan. Four applications for admission into the Christian Catholic Church in Zion have come from China from our own people; one who was my Bible woman for some time and one from a little girl who lived with us for six months. Letters have come from missionaries who are looking Zionward.

"I feel very thankful for these applications, with others. Our Chinese and Japanese people are accepting Christ as the Healer."

MRS. J. H. SAYRS, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for healing of a cold. God has healed me of many things which I have mentioned before. I was healed of writers' cramp about three years ago, about which I have never testified."

MRS. MARY BARR, Logansport, Indiana, said: "I thank God this evening that I am in Zion. It is two months since I came. I had very poor health. For two years we have tried the best doctors in Logansport. I have been suffering with terrible pains in my side. The Elders have prayed for me, and I have been getting better ever since the first week I came."

J. W. BARR, Logansport, Indiana, said: "I praise God tonight, especially for spiritual blessing received since coming here. When I came here I was totally deaf in my right ear, and had been for eight years. I have been wonderfully blessed, and I feel it a great joy to be in Zion."

MRS. CHARLES HOWE, 1425 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I have been suffering this week from a severe attack of neuralgia in my face and arms. The pain was very severe and it seemed that I must get up and fight the Devil. I walked back and forth and the promise came to me that His love was ever the same and it shall be done, and all at once the pain left me. I praise God for delivering me."

ATTORNEY DAVID COWAN, Zion Home, testified to his having received great blessing and to his being partially delivered from paralysis since coming to Zion Home.

DEACONESS SOPHIA J. HERTRICH, Zion Home, said: "I am so glad for the privilege of being again in Zion Home in this gathering. I do praise God for His goodness and His mercy to me while away from home. I praise Him for having answered prayer when a request was sent into Headquarters before the letter had time to reach the Home, and above everything else, I thank Him for His precious blessings in sowing the seed of the Full Gospel, even amid those who are bitterly opposed to the truth, and for the privilege of telling them something about Zion. I realize that some seeds have been sown which will bear fruit in the days to come.

"I praise God for Zion every day that I live. I praise Him for answering prayer this afternoon in visiting the sick here in Chicago."

DEACONESS H. E. ROBBINS, Zion Home, said: "Three weeks ago this evening, Overseer Speicher sent me to Pontiac, Illinois, to see a lady who has a cancer. Two doctors had given her up and said that she ought to be operated upon, but for six months she has been too weak to undergo it.

"I mentioned her case to several Zion people and asked them to pray for her, and we also prayed for her at our Gathering. She is very much better now. She can sleep well and eat well and suffers no pain, and she can sit up some every day. She has no other thought but that she is going to recover. We are glad and praise God.

"A nice gathering of thirty-two members, several of them living in the country, meets at Pontiac. Three places for weekly cottage meetings were established and good leaders put in charge. We also started some saloon work. We visited eight saloons in two nights, sold forty-nine copies of LEAVES OF HEALING, and distributed quite a bit of literature in business houses.

"I think it a grand field to work in. I feel as if I would like to be thirty-five years old and a Zion Elder. I think I could do wonderful work there. I could hardly give it up."

DEACON A. F. LEE, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for the blessings received in this room. I was just trying to think of some special blessing which I have cause to be thankful for. The greatest blessing I have had for the last two years is that I have been thoroughly kept. I well remember the first meeting I attended in this room. It was on a Sunday morning two years ago. The General Overseer took the services. We came with our doubts and we were full of doubts, but we listened to the words which were spoken. It seemed strange that we had been living so long in Chicago and had heard so little of this work.

"When Mrs. Lee came here, many of you will remember how ill she was, and how different she looked then from what she looks today. We were slow to get the whole of this teaching, but God has been gracious. We have such a large field for labor in Zion, and God blesses us day by day. It seems to us that the longer we are in Zion, the more blessings we receive and the more cause we have for rejoicing."

ELDER F. A. GRAVES, Zion Home, said: "Thirteen years ago last week I gave up medicines. It seemed to be quite a big risk at that time. It was an untried road, but I can look back now over those thirteen years and thank God for His wonderful keeping power.

"I, too, am glad to be back in this room. It is nearly two years that I have spent in this room, more or less. Many changes have come during that time."

MISS MARGARET EINS, Detroit, Michigan, said: "I praise the Lord for what he has done for me this last week. There has been a marked change in the circulation of my blood."

N. L. MOSHER, Menominee, Michigan, said: "I thank God for the privilege of being among Zion people. Although I am not a member of Zion, the people of Zion have met at my home and held prayer meetings. I believe the work of Zion is the work of the Lord, and I praise God for the work they are doing."

WADE H. MYERS, Zion College, said: "I want to thank God for blessing received since I came into this room tonight. I had a very bad cold today and a very sore throat. Since coming in, the pain has all gone."

G. S. HONG (Chinese), Zion Home, said: "About two years ago I was in San Diego, California. At that time I was very sick. A friend gave me LEAVES OF HEALING and asked me why I did not trust God for healing. He told me of a minister of God in Chicago, and said that if I was a good Christian man, this minister would pray for me and I would be healed. This was the first I had heard, and I said, 'Yes, I believe God is the Healer,' but I did not understand much about this work.

"The doctors had been giving me many kinds of medicines and treatments, but they did not help me. I kept growing worse. The man who gave me LEAVES OF HEALING called on me and told me how Christ was the same, yesterday and today, yea and forever. I could not read English, so he explained it to me by the pictures. I became interested, and I knew Dr. Dowie was a man of God. I believed it.

"I am very glad to be in Zion. Since I have come my body is strong and my diseases have left me. My eyes have been troubling me, but they do not trouble me any more."

HORACE P. B. STANLEY, Logansport, Indiana, said: "I thank God for the many blessings I have received. I have been sitting here almost choking, wanting to tell of the many ways in which God has blessed me. I am very glad to be in Zion. I praise God that He has given me strength to stand in Him and to trust Him for everything."

GEORGE MARTINEAU, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for the blessings of this past week. I had a very bad cold, which seemed to take hold of my whole body. I thank God for deliverance. I was going to a cottage meeting the other night and the Devil told me, 'You had better not go, as you have a very bad cold.' But I went, and before I came back, the cold had entirely left me."

MRS. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER, Zion Home, said: "As I sat here, I was thinking of the past six years, the 29th of this month, since I have been healed. They have been wonderful years to me.

"When I came here six years ago, I did not care whether I lived or died, scarcely, and when I heard the teaching for the first time, life seemed to have new duties for me. I felt like living.

"I thank God for blessings received this last week. I have been annoyed greatly with what Overseer Piper calls 'the cold devil' I do not know what it was. I would begin to get cold from my feet up. Sometimes I would get two or three such chills in a night, but I have been entirely delivered from them.

"I have been healed of a great many things in the past six years. I feel that I have not appreciated my privileges in Zion as I should have done. I desire to leave everything with God."

W. R. STARRETT, 6837 Green Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I have many things to thank God for. On Tuesday night I caught a severe cold. I had chills all over my body. It seemed I just could not get warm. Then a great fever came upon me. Then the Devil gave me severe pains in my head, such as I have never had in all my life. It just seemed as if some one had a spike and was driving it through my head. I would wake up and pray and turn over and try to get to sleep, but I had that pain up to 4 o'clock in the morning. I got down on my knees before God and I said, 'I must have the victory,' and I did. At half-past 6 in the morning I awoke as bright as a dollar and did as much work that day as I have ever done in my life.

"I also praise God for healing of a fractured limb, caused by a fall. Elder Stokes and Overseer Speicher prayed for me. I was healed almost instantly when prayer was offered."

The following testimonies have been omitted from the regular weekly reports, and are appended without date, that they may go forth as a part of Zion's record:

MRS. MARY MUNGER, 1514 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "It was about six years ago, in the Little Wooden Hut, that I was healed. I was carried into Divine Healing Home No. 2. I was given up by seven doctors. I was very sick.

"I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble. I entered the Home on a Saturday and stayed till the next Saturday. I went home on the street cars and then walked five blocks from the cars to my home.

"I had a fall once since then from the range in my kitchen, while washing the paint. I dislocated my right shoulder. I went to Zion Tabernacle and had the General Overseer pray for me. I went home and could use my arm as well as ever before.

"Since I have been in Zion, I have seen all kinds of healing, I believe sometimes when death was on the people."

T. H. KETTELL, Zion Home, said: "It is nine months since I have had any desire for tobacco. I thank God for that deliverance. Best of all is the assuranee that I have salvation and peace in my heart. I have found God to be my Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper."

MISS MARGARET EINS, Detroit, Michigan, said: "I came to Zion four years ago. I had stomach trouble for twenty years and I was immediately healed of that. I was gradually healed of catarrh. I was healed of curvature of the spine last July. I am very thankful for what God has done for me. I am getting stronger and stronger, and I praise Him for it."

DEACONESS MARIE BRIEGER, Zion Home, said: "I have been feeling so weak that I felt unable to do my work, but united prayers were offered for me, and God has given me renewed strength for my daily task. I am so happy to be in Zion. It is glorious to be here. Every day is happier than the last."

ZION COLLEGE NEEDS THREE PIANOS.

The Musical Department of Zion College is growing rapidly and its needs are increasing. Three pianos are very much needed. Who will give one or all of them to be used for God?

A VOICE TO ZION AND GOD'S PEOPLE IN EVERY LAND.

O thou that tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the High Mountain. Lift up thy Voice with strength: Lift it up, be not afraid: Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Isaiah XL:9.

THE EVERLASTING GOSPEL DECLARED.

Report of Meeting held in Divine Healing Home No. 1, October 17, 1894. Morning Talk: "Healing Ever God's Will."

THE eighth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew is an inexhaustible treasure-house of God's freedom-giving truth, concerning the glorious teaching on Divine Healing. Day after day, month after month and year after year God's Messenger to Zion has been searching out its riches and giving them to the hundreds of thousands who have heard his talks on Divine Healing.

God has blessed these gems of truth, and many, now serving God in fulness of health and strength, praise Him for healing received through His Word as proclaimed to them from this chapter.

The talk which we publish this week was delivered in the early days of Zion in Chicago, six years ago.

It contains very important truths concerning God's willingness to heal, and closes with the most remarkable prophecy, which has since been so marvelously fulfilled, that Divine Healing, although at that time a "small thing," would become one of the leading questions of the end of the Nineteenth Century.

There is scarcely a newspaper, secular or religious, or a pulpit in any denomination, today, which is not discussing the subject of Divine Healing, on one side or the other.

The General Overseer has not revised this report. We know that God blessed the words as they were spoken, in that little room in Divine Healing Home No. 1, and we pray and believe that He will bless them now as they enter the hearts of tens of thousands over all the earth.

HEALING EVER GOD'S WILL.

Divine Healing Home Number 1. October 17, 1894.

Dr. Dowie read from the eighth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew.

The Willingness of God to Heal Inseparable From a Right Conception of His Nature.

The willingness of God to heal is, upon reflection, absolutely inseparable from any right conception of God's nature. We know it to be true, that "like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him."

The analogy throughout all the Scripture demands that we shall consider God in the light of a father toward his children. It also demands, consequently, that we shall not have, for one single moment, any conception that a good, kind father on earth would give evil things to his children. Our Lord Jesus Christ Himself brought that out in His talk with the bad men around Him.

Wicked and evil as these Pharisees and Sadducees were, cruel and hating the Lord for His purity and for His courage in smiting their impurity and uncleanness, there was not a Pharisee or Sadducee among them who, when he entered his home and took up his little baby in his arms, did not feel that he wanted to do for that baby every good thing

Even the Wicked Desire Their Children to Become Good Men and Women

How often you will see these bad men carefully shield their children from bad influences. Most saloonkeepers do not want their wives and children to live over the saloon. The last place they want their children to come into is the saloon. Over and over you see them guard their offspring with the utmost care. Gamblers and saloonkeepers and men who live vile lives will keep their wives and children in the suburbs, in a nice cottage away from the contaminating influence of the city. They would be exceedingly angry if their children were allowed to come into any of these bad places.

The proprietor of a theater in Australia said to me, "I never permit my wife or children to enter the theater. It is demoralizing. I have been a theatrical proprietor and manager for thirty years, but never permit my wife and children to attend the plays."

I was using his theater for my Sunday services. I was about to deliver two lectures against the theater. I asked him to call upon me, for I wanted a little conversation with him. I told him what lectures I intended to deliver.

I said, "Of course, if you desire to cancel my lease because of that, you are at liberty to do so; but if you do so for these two Sundays, you must do it altogether."

"No, sir," he said; "I wish you more power in fighting against the theater. It is demoralizing to the very depth. There is nothing good about it. I thought I did know one or two virtuous actresses, but I was mistaken. In all my life I have never found a virtuous actress, whether star or others. It is demoralizing. It aims to present life as it is, and life as it is for the masses of the people is essentially evil. I never permit my wife and children to enter the theater."

God is More Willing to Give Good Gifts Than are Our Earthly Parents.

Our Lord Jesus Christ took that analogy. If even bad men would shield their children from bad influence; if they would not give their children a stone for bread, a serpent for a fish, a scorpion for an egg, how much more should your Heavenly Father give good things to them that ask Him? Christ Himself puts that argument from the point of view of an ordinary earthly father who has no other desire than to save his children from disease of spirit, soul or body.

I have known of women who have lived the most infamous of lives, and on a large scale; have been keeping wicked houses and getting large revenues from them; but their children, who were carefully trained, never knew what their mothers did.

I know of one girl in Scotland who was educated with the utmost care by a most pious person who lived in a little cottage with her outside of Edinburgh. She never knew what her mother was. She thought that her mother lived in a distant part of England; but her mother lived an infamous life in the neighboring city of Edinburgh. That child was trained up in all respects a modest, sweet, pure, virtuous girl. She was a true Christian. Only after her mother's death, when she was twenty-five years of age, did she learn what her mother had been. Of course she was distracted with grief when she knew that the money which she had received had been badly acquired. She made a good use of it.

If such love for their children is shown in the lives of the vilest people, how can we imagine for a single moment that the infinitely good and Eternal Father could ever be the author of vile disease which torments the life out of His children and makes them to be miserable and wretched?

You cannot imagine it. There is the analogy given by God Himself:

> Like as a father pitieth his children,
> So the Lord pitieth them that fear Him.

It is not reasonable to suppose that God could be the author of sickness and other evil.

God is Pure, Hence No Disease Can Come From Him.

God could not be the author of disease on this ground; there is no disease in God and disease cannot come out of God. If there is no disease in me it is impossible for me by any touch to convey disease to you.

It would be impossible for you to get disease from my hand if I had no disease in me. Is it not in like manner impossible for God to communicate disease if there is no disease in God? Is there any disease in God? Is there any corruption? Then it is impossible for God to communicate them.

Lady in audience—"All things are possible with God."

Dr. Dowie—There are some things impossible with God.

It is Impossible for God to Do Any Evil.

I say it is impossible for God to lie; it is impossible for God to do evil. All things are not possible with God. There is no such statement in the Scripture. God is incapable of being a devil. God is incapable of being anything else but absolutely good. How could He be anything else and be God?

It is impossible for God to lie.

It is impossible for God to steal.

It is impossible for God to be filthy.

It is impossible for God to do evil.

It is impossible for God to be corrupt.

It is impossible for God to be diseased, and it is not possible, therefore, for God to communicate disease.

Is that not reasonable?

There rests the whole argument concerning this matter. God must be willing to heal because He cannot communicate disease.

Disease is the consequence of sin and the work of the Devil and would not have been in this world had there been no Devil. When you come to think right into that, you see how it falls into everything else in Scripture.

It is Impossible for Disease to Enter Heaven; Hence It Cannot Come From Heaven.

If it were possible for disease to enter heaven, then it would be possible for God's own dwelling place to be defiled.

I think you will read very plainly in the Word of God that that is impossible; for here is the revelation of God concerning the City of God. Here is a description of the City of God:

> And the gates thereof shall in no wise be shut by day (for there shall be no night there): and they shall bring the glory and the honor of the nations into it: and there shall in no wise enter into it anything unclean, or he that maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

Nothing which is unclean can enter heaven; nothing that defiles.

Does not disease defile? Then it cannot enter heaven. Therefore it cannot come from heaven.

As it cannot come from God and cannot come from heaven, where does it come from? It comes from just the opposite sources. It comes from Satan and from hell.

These simple fundamental truths are things which you must get a good firm hold of and tenaciously keep as the foundation of your whole faith in these things.

If one of you can imagine for a single moment that disease is a beneficent and good thing, throw up your hands and let disease come down in floods you cannot contain until you sink beneath them. The more disease you have, the better.

If disease is beneficent in its character, God forbid that I should want any of you to lose any of it. O God, here is a man with tuberculosis in his foot. If disease is beneficent in its nature, Lord, give him tuberculosis in the other foot.

Here is a dear brother who is blind. If disease is beneficent in its nature, O dear Lord, make him deaf, too.

Here is a sister who is deaf, and if it is a good thing to be deaf, O God, please make her blind, too. Of course that is right, if it is good and beneficent and works out good purposes.

Hallelujah! The more you get of it the better! Praise the Lord for what you have, and ask for more. That is logical.

The common sense of humanity as well as the Word of God is absolutely opposed to all this silly nonsense about disease being beneficial. People have tried to make themselves imagine that it would make them sweeter and better, but nobody was ever yet made sweeter by neuralgia or better by typhoid fever. No one ever realized how much sweeter the air was when they had lungs being eaten out by wretched little parasites.

Christ Came to Destroy the Works of the Devil.

The willingness of God to heal is absolute; because disease, as I have said before, is a consequence of sin and the work of Satan, and our Lord Jesus Christ came into the world to destroy the works of the Devil.

> To this end was the Son of God manifested, that He might destroy the works of the Devil.—1 John 3:8.

The great purpose of God in Christ is to go about as a Destroyer of sin and evil. Christ is a Deliverer of men from the power of the enemy and a Restorer of all that is wasted and destroyed by the evil one. He is the Giver of a power and life which will enable his people to carry out His blessed will; His redemption. If it were not for that, I could not claim the strength which I have to claim from day to day when truly weary and worn out with ceaseless toil. I have to claim it, and I do get it. I ask it and get it, and have gotten it all the years through, because I know it is there for me.

God Desires His Children to Be Clean.

Turn to the story of the leper. Notice that the Lord said, "I will," and took the "if" out of the leper's prayer, saying, "Be thou clean." Emphasize, please, these words: "Be thou clean." It is very clear that God wishes you to be clean.

First of all, you must be clean in spirit. You must have a clean heart.

> Create in me a clean heart, O God;
> And renew a right spirit within me.

We consist of spirit, soul and body. This soul is the animal life, the blood. The next thing is the cleansing of the blood.

Once a brother minister said to me, "I listened to you with great pleasure. Many things you teach are new to me; yet I see they are true. I think, however, that you go too far in saying that God is absolutely willing to purify the soul, in the sense in which you use the word, and I now think rightfully, the animal life. I do not believe it is anywhere said in the Scripture that the blood is to be cleansed by the Lord."

"How long have you been a minister?" I asked.

"Thirty years," he replied.

"Just thirty years too long, so far as this teaching is concerned; just thirty years of gross ignorance," I said.

"Pretty strong words, Doctor," he said.

"You know you told me to talk candidly, and I am doing it," I answered. "I told you I would not enter upon this conversation unless you would stand all I had to say."

"Well," he said, "I challenge your statement. I will give you all I have if you point to a single passage of Scripture which says that God will cleanse the blood."

I said, "I believe you have spoken rashly."

"No," he said, "I have not."

I said, "Either one of two things will happen: either in five minutes I will have a deed or some note in hand giving me all your possessions, or else you lie, and I believe you lie."

"Oh," he said, "that is worse than ever."

I said, "You do not intend to give me all you have. If you do, I want your paper in five minutes. Turn to your Bible. I will put it all on one clear, straight passage, although we can find a hundred."

He said, "The words I want are that the blood is to be cleansed by God. It isn't there."

I said, "Stop. You do not know anything at all about it, Brother, was not Joel the prophet of the Holy Spirit dispensation, and therefore the prophet of this dispensation?"

"I agree to that," he said.

God's Promise to Cleanse the Blood of His People.

I said, "Here is the word. The third chapter of the prophet Joel, and the last verse:

"And I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed; for the Lord dwelleth in Zion."

He looked at that passage and said, "I never saw that before."

I said, "Hand over to me all your property, right off."

He said, "I will not."

I said, "I told you you would lie."

He did lie, too. I did not covet his property. I would only have used it for good if I had gotten it. He erred, not knowing the Scripture nor the power of God.

What was the healing of the leper but the cleansing of his blood?

Divine Healing is in Most Cases the Cleansing of the Blood.

What else is Divine Healing but the cleansing of the blood?

Nineteen-twentieths of it, you might say the whole of it, is the cleansing of the blood.

Rheumatism is a blood disease.

Cancer is a blood disease.

Scrofula is a blood disease.

Catarrh simply means an impoverishment and pollution of the blood.

This absolute cleansing of the blood has been promised. That is healing. Healing is the cleansing out of the body, by the power of God, the impure thing which has caused the disease.

The spirit and soul and body of man have to be clean. You cannot have a clean body without clean blood.

It is only the power of the Holy Spirit, the Eternal Power of God Himself, that can cleanse the blood. When I pray for the healing of a rheumatic, I am praying for the cleansing of the blood; and I know there must flow through me some Power, the Power of the Spirit, which shall at once cleanse the blood.

The Purpose of Jesus in Sending the Healed Leper to the Priest.

I wish to point out to you something about the leper's story which is not generally understood. When this man was cleansed, immediately Jesus said to him, fourth verse:

And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

I desire to point out to you two things. First, what Christ's command was and the purpose of it; second, the disobedience of the leper and the very serious consequences of it.

Why did Christ tell the healed leper not to tell any man, but to go and show himself to the priest? Simply because the priest, under the Levitical law, was the proper sanitary officer. Under that law it was necessary for the man to report himself so that he could be officially cleansed and allowed to return to his family. In order to secure that official recognition of cleansing, a sacrifice had to be made.

The Ceremonial for a Cleansed Leper.

Refer to the fourteenth chapter of Leviticus and you will see what the law required in connection with the healing of a leper.

Taking that whole requirement, you can see the great wisdom of the Lord in sending this man to the priest.

When a man was cleansed and sent to the priest, the priest quarantined him. He examined the man again and again to prove by the closest scrutiny that there was no leprosy. Then the priest, with the full responsibility of what he was doing, showing the bare skin of the man, brought him, in the presence of all the people, to the door of the Temple—in the tabernacle times it was the door of the Tabernacle. There, before the vast multitudes, the priest would declare that the man was cleansed.

These multitudes would know that man had been unclean until the hand of the Lord touched him and said, "Be thou clean." You can see that symbolical touching, first, of the blood on the right thumb, on the ear, on the right big toe; the priest declaring that he was cleansed through the blood.

Then the oil, emblem of the Holy Spirit, was applied.

The oil is a type of the Spirit, and the blood typical of the sacrifice, Christ Himself, the Spotless Lamb.

The effect of that testimony in the presence of all the people would have been glorious. But the man did not do what Christ told him to do.

Perhaps the man said to himself, "What have I to do with the priest? He had nothing to do with my cleansing."

Some people nowadays say, "Why should I stand up in my Church and say, 'I am healed'? My minister had nothing to do with it."

That is just the place to tell it, "for a testimony unto them."

But this healed leper did not obey Christ.

The Serious Consequences of Disobedience.

Please refer to the first chapter of the Gospel according to St. Mark, the forty-fourth and forty-fifth verses:

See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the matter, insomuch that he (marginal reading) could no more openly enter into a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

To prove that the marginal reading is correct, I refer you to the next verse, "When He (Jesus) entered again into Capernaum." It was not Jesus who could not enter into the city. It was in the early part of Christ's ministry. Jesus openly entered into the cities of Capernaum, Bethsaida, and went in and out of the Temple at Jerusalem openly. Even in the days preceding His crucifixion, He went in and out openly. As He said, "I have spoken openly to the world, I ever taught in synagogues and in the Temple, where all the Jews come together." Why the translators put in the word "Jesus" I do not know. The correct reading is, "Insomuch that he (the leper, not Jesus) could no more openly enter into a city." In the Greek Testament it is simply the personal pronoun, "he."

Because of this man's disobedience, he was driven out into desert places. He could not resume his position in the city. The priests said, "How dare you come into this city? We have not cleansed you. We have not pronounced you clean. You have never offered the ceremonial cleansing sacrifice." They refused to believe that he was healed.

Loss to the Cause of Christ by the Healed Leper's Disobedience.

Not only did the man lose much by being out in the desert places, where they came to him from every quarter to see that he was healed; but his family lost much and the Church lost much. The spectacle of that man standing in the door of the synagogue, or perhaps the very door of the Temple itself, and being proclaimed to be clean by the priest, would have been a striking testimony to the Lord's having healed him. Instead of that, his testimony was conveyed to the few people or the many who came to him from the various places from all quarters. O how much more powerful would that testimony have been had it been delivered in a place where multitudes could have heard it!

It does not pay to disobey the Lord.

Perhaps this man thought he could save a little money. Perhaps he thought, "I did not get cleansed by the priests. It will cost me so many dollars to buy the lamb, to pay the Temple fees, to buy the log of oil and do this and that and the other thing," and in order to save a few dollars he disobeyed the Lord; and the consequence of that disobedience was that he was shut out.

I think that there are a great many people under this present dispensation who forget to make their offering to the Lord. They forget that the power and the blessing and the healing which came to them have to be spread abroad, and they do not make their offering to the Lord. The consequences are that they miss the blessing and are without in desert places. They do not stand forth boldly in the Church of God and witness.

Loss of Blessing Through Failure to Testify.

Beloved friends, I have seen a great many people wondrously healed, who, instead of giving their testimony, were afraid of what the priests would say, afraid of what the parson would say, afraid of what somebody else would say. They have trembled, kept it back and waited for a better occasion. Of course it never came, and their testimony was stifled, and people in their own churches did not know they were healed, because they did not have the boldness to rise up and say it in the Church.

The very best thing a Roman Catholic could do on being healed would be to go back to the priests and tell them.

What a mighty opportunity that man lost. He never got it again.

Opportunities Come to Us But Once.

I am never going to live inside this body a second time. I am never going to walk over the same road I am walking today, a second time. I am not going to live over October 17, 1894, a second time. Hence the opportunities which I have today I must seize and use now, because they will never come again.

Some other opportunity may come, another day may dawn, but it will not be the same opportunity, nor the same day. Before this day is over, some one whom I might have helped will pass beyond the possibility of my helping. Hence I take this opportunity. I desire to fill up all the day. I wish you to fill it. That you can live this day, that you have an opportunity of saying something for Christ today, are privileges which will never come again.

O how many opportunities we have lost; how many words might have been spoken!

You hear that some man is dead and you think, "Did I ever speak to that man? Did I ever talk to that man about his salvation? I was his next door neighbor. I met him in business. I never spoke to him."

You may think, "Here is my neighbor sick. I went down and I heard all these teachings, and I am ashamed to tell my neighbor; I am ashamed to write to my sister; I am ashamed to confess that Christ is the Healer."

Perhaps one of the reasons why the healed leper did not witness for Christ before the priest, was that he was afraid that these priests, whom he knew hated Christ, might take some steps to put him to death. It might have been fear, because he knew the priests hated Christ, which caused his disobedience.

These priests showed in their faces, and by their actions, that they were conspiring against Christ's life; trying to entrap Him. The great mass of the people saw the priests were bent on Christ's destruction just as soon as they could bring it about.

Whether it was fear or whether meanness to save a little money and not make the sacrifice that Moses commanded, whatever it was, he lost the opportunity. It does not matter how you lose the opportunity, whether through fear or through meanness, you will never have it again.

I have an opportunity now of devoting every dollar I have and every dollar I can get to the extension of the Kingdom of God. I have that opportunity now. I use it. I put every dollar on wheels to run around the world. I put dollars into type; I put them into Divine Healing Homes; I spread literature. I help some one.

This leper's opportunity was lost, and this most glorious healing lost nine-tenths of its power because the man from meanness or cowardice or some other wrong motive was disobedient. God requires of us the consequences of lost opportunities.

I repent every lost opportunity; repent in dust and ashes.

I used to think that expediency was an excellent thing and it was a good thing not to talk. If I were to keep my life by expediency now, I would not talk some of the things I talked yesterday. I would not talk some of the things I talk often. I have given expediency to the winds when it interferes with the plain, bold declaration of truth.

I have said:

"I Will Declare the Whole Counsel of God, Regardless of What Man May Say, Do, Think, or Threaten."

Witness to all the knowledge of God that you get. Some persons say, "I am not healed, how can I witness?"

Witness to what you know. Witness that others are healed. Witness that you know what the Bible teaches. If people turn around and say, "Why are you not healed?" confess that it was not God's fault, but some imperfection in yourself. Then ask the brother putting that question, "Brother, may it not be because you do not help me? May it not be because my own friends hinder me a little?" That will be a question for them to think about, because they can hinder a great deal.

Witness to the truth that you are not healed. Witness that Christ is the Healer of the sick. Tell others that the reason you are not healed is because you have failed somewhere to do your duty. You notice I say comparatively little about my healing publicly, because I do not need to. I am sure I am healed. People do not need me to tell them I am healed. They can see me and hear me.

You know that my lungs are in good order, because I make you hear me. One brother minister said, "Doctor, if you go on and talk like that, delivering two or three discourses a day, you will not last five years."

I said, "Brother, I will live to bury you, if I am in this country."

"Do you not think that you hurt your lungs?" he asked

"No. I expand them; I strengthen them," I replied. "The way for a man to get good lungs is to use them; not to lie on a sofa. The way for a person to have a good strong arm is to use it. If you do not use it, you will lose it. If you keep your eyes shut, no matter if you have ever so good and bright eyes, by and by the eyelids will refuse to open."

That is the way with some people. They shut their eyes against the truth until by and by they do not need any exercise of will to keep their eyes closed.

> For this people's heart is waxed gross,
> And their ears are dull of hearing,
> And their eyes they have closed;
> Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
> And hear with their ears,
> And understand with their heart,
> And should turn again,
> And I should heal them.

Testify to what you have.

Use for God what He has given you.

Some one may say, "I am sick, I cannot preach the Gospel."

I would preach the Gospel with the last lung power I had, if I were sick. I would fight the Devil with the last blow I could give. I would fight if I could only fight with my head or if I could only kick.

I Hate Sin and Disease and Death With Intense Hatred.

I hate sin. I will fight it to the end of life; I will die fighting the Devil's works.

I hate disease. That is one thing which keeps me up in this ministry. I hate tuberculosis; I hate to see a strong man's lungs dug out by the Devil. I hate to see a full, active life wasted. I hate to see a dear old mother tortured with rheumatism in her last days, which should be so peaceful and happy. I hate disease. I hate it with my whole heart, I hate it with a perfect hatred. That hatred was put into my heart by God. God hates sin.

> O ye that love the Lord, hate evil.

Hate evil with all the intensity of your nature. Your love for God will be in exact proportion to your hatred of sin.

These men about the world do not like to have you attack evil. They say, "Let it alone!" That proves they never learned to hate sin. If you have to deal with a fire and let it alone, it will burn down the house. Leave that little spark alone in the room and our house is gone. Sin is hell fire, and I will not leave it alone. God put me in this world to fight it. Did not His own Son come into the world to fight the works of the Devil?

I fight because I long to see you men and women free.

I have no weapons of war. I do not propose to use gunpowder or dynamite; but I propose to use the Word of God. I do not propose to use artillery to free men from sin; but let the enemy look out.

A Church Which Blocks God's Way Will Die.

Let the Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and others who are blocking the way to the delivery of men from sin and disease, look out.

The Jewish Church blocked God's way, and what did He do with it? He scattered it like the wind. The Jewish system has never been resurrected since that day. Christ said, "Your house is left unto you desolate."

If the Church of the Living God today will not do right, the Almighty will spew it out of His mouth. There are churches in this city God has spewed out of His mouth already. They have no life. Some churches die when their leaders die.

When John Alexander Dowie is dead, Divine Healing will still live, because it lives now. It lives in every place where I have ever taught it. It lives in the homes, in the lives of tens of thousands. If I were not preaching a living, Everlasting Gospel, it would not live. Divine Healing has never been dead. The Gospel has never been dead, but the churches which fight it will be. Last year in the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church in this city influential persons asked the minister, "Why do you not ask Dr. Dowie to come down and hold a mission in this church? This church would be full."

The pastor refused.

I dare say there are 200,000 people within half a mile radius of that church. Sometimes the congregation can be counted by tens. The church has a high steeple, and has seats for a thousand people. It is as dead as a door nail. They rejected Divine Healing; shut the door against it.

Divine Healing has come back to the earth, and if the Protestant churches will not accept it, they will suffer.

Divine Healing is a small thing today, but I believe it will be one of the great questions of the century.

Read The Coming City.

For all matters pertaining to the founding and building of Zion City, there is no source of information, complete and reliable, but THE COMING CITY. The story of Zion City is being and will be told in its pages, both by descriptive articles and by engravings from photographs. The paper also contains much other interesting matter, such as science notes, household suggestions, special articles on matters of interest to Zion people, and the news of the day.

The paper also contains four pages of advertisements, carefully selected, most of the advertisers being Zion people. It is important that every member of Zion should get THE COMING CITY, not only for the valuable information which it will contain, but for these advertisements. By reading them they will learn who are the Zion business men and thus be able to coöperate with each other.

Zion people should be glad to go a little out of their way to trade at a Zion shop. Zion money is thus kept in Zion instead of going to fill the coffers of the world's people, and each feels the influence of the increase in general prosperity.

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ

HAS GOD BLESSED YOU IN TITHING?

HAVE YOU realized a fulfilment of God's promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse"? If so, let others know how true the promise is. Write your testimony and send it to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Let your testimonies be brief and straight to the point.

ZION COLLEGE LECTURES ON PRAYER.

A Series Delivered Before the Students of Zion College by the President, Rev. John Alexander Dowie, General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

THE world today has learned that there is something far beyond the ordinary in the words and works of God's Messenger to Zion, John Alexander Dowie.

As this realization comes to the public, the first question always is, "How does he do it? What is the secret of his power?"

Those who know the General Overseer and have heard and heeded his teaching know that the power belongs to God. But the General Overseer is wonderfully used by God, as an instrument, on account of his mighty power in Prayer, taught him by the Holy Spirit.

Hence it was with the greatest joy that the students of Zion College received the announcement that the General Overseer would deliver a Series of Lectures on the subject of Prayer. It was an inestimable privilege to learn how to pray from a man whose whole life had become a mighty power for God through Prayer. But joyful as the anticipation was, it was more than justified by the realization.

Many members of the Christian Catholic Church also attended these Lectures and were amazed, from week to week, by the great depth and scope of the subject as it was opened up by the man of God

Since the delivery of these Lectures there has been a loud appeal, from many sides, to have them published.

The General Overseer was reluctant, as he felt that in the great pressure of his other duties he had not been able to give the Lectures as he might have done with more time at his disposal. He also felt that he should revise them before their publication, and this he could not find time to do.

At length, however, the appeal for them being urged, he consented that they should be sent forth, without his revision, during his absence in Europe and the Holy Land.

Accordingly this wonderful teaching will be printed, almost as it came from his lips, from time to time, in LEAVES OF HEALING. In preparing these Lectures for the press, we have eliminated some allusions to topics of the time and place and have written in some headlines. We have also cut out opening and closing exercises and arranged the matter consecutively without regard to number and date of Lectures.

We pray that God will bless these wonderful truths to all who read in even greater measure than He did to those who heard.

HOW TO GET ANSWER TO PRAYER.

The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field.

There is no treasure greater than the treasure of True Prayer.

There is no power greater than the power of Prevailing Prayer.

But, if we pray aright, we must understand the Divine conditions and human necessities. We must understand the Divine Way through which alone Prayer can be answered.

The Divine conditions are absolute. There can be no variation.

God Will Never Allow His Law to Accommodate Itself to Our Lawlessness.

Our natural lawlessness proceeds from Satan; from Sin; from Disease, and from the Powers of Death and Hell.

We do not understand God's conditions until we understand our own necessities. The fitness which God requires is that we shall feel our need of Him, and this He gives us.

It is "the Spirit's rising beam."

Therefore in pursuing this subject we have held that it was right to consider the regrettable necessity for Prayer. It is a most regrettable necessity. In a state of innocence man never prayed as we pray.

The necessities were not there. Satan had not entered. There was no need to pray for deliverance from Satan. Sin had not entered. There was no guilt, no transgression of law, hence no need to pray for deliverance from the consequence of sin.

Disease had not entered, death was unknown, and the powers of hell had no place on earth. Therefore there were none of these necessities existing.

Man was perfectly happy and the pursuit of knowledge was unaccompanied by pain. Some of you know that it is not unaccompanied now by pain.

The pursuit of knowledge was not perplexing on account of the persistent folly of mankind substituting ignorance for knowledge; substituting evil for good; substituting light for darkness.

Our principal difficulty is to unravel the tangled skein of human knowledge. These hard conditions were absolutely unknown to man in his innocence. They will again be absolutely unknown when Satan, Sin, Disease, Death and Hell have no place on earth: when "the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea," when we shall be delivered completely, and "the kingdom of the world is become the Kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ."

Man Not Entirely Responsible for the Fallen Condition of the Human Race.

Meanwhile this regrettable necessity exists. It has been imposed upon us, like so many other things from which we suffer, by the hereditary bondage coming down to us from primal transgression. That transgression goes far back beyond the fall of Adam and Eve. It is to be found first of all in the fall of angels.

There can be no doubt whatever that for the most part our thinking regarding these things and the teaching of the schools have been miserably short-sighted. The eye of the teacher has not looked into the conditions which made it possible for man to fall.

It is neither fair nor right to saddle the entire responsibility for its present condition upon the human race.

God has shown us clearly that but for the intervention of a being who did not belong to this race, man would have retained his primitive innocence. That being was a fallen angel of wondrous power even in his fallen condition. He was a leader of fallen hosts.

It is not right to consider man's condition apart from the fall of angels. But for the fall of these beings before man's creation, there would be no sin, humanly speaking.

Sin was imported. It was not generated. It was injected into humanity. It was the result of seduction and temptation.

God Himself says it is not right for us to consider the condition of humanity apart from these facts.

It is not possible to understand today how to pray, if you leave out the tremendous fact of diabolical possession.

If you consider man's transgressions to be spontaneous, of his own will, and do not look back and fairly consider the effects of sin in the generations preceding, hereditary transgressions, not merely of evil thought, but of decayed morality and distorted physical and psychical nature, you do mankind an injustice.

Digitized by Google

If you do not go back and recognize the fact that man became at one time so completely the habitation of demons that, excepting eight persons, the whole earth had to perish and the race of Cain had to be utterly destroyed, you cannot understand fully the subject of Prayer.

If you do not realize the fact that Cain was the offspring of the Devil; that he "was of the evil one, and slew his brother"; that all his race without exception went to the Devil until God permitted the Devil to destroy them, you cannot know how to pray.

If you do not realize the tremendous fact that the temple which God designed for Himself, of spirit, of soul, of body, had become the temple of demons and is now the temple of demons where God does not rule, then you do not understand anything about how to pray and nothing about how to help humanity.

You will never understand in its fulness how to pray until you understand these things.

If you do not realize these conditions, you will pray as most people pray: without getting any answer; you will get into the condition into which most people get, of not being troubled that they do not get an answer.

Billions of Ignorant Prayers Get No Answer.

It is a tremendous fact that 27,000,000 of praying Church members in this country uttered 81,000,000 of prayers every day last year. In the 365 days they prayed altogether probably thirty billion prayers, and at the end of the year the statistics of the churches in this country showed that the churches had grown about one-fourth of one per cent. For the most part the prayers were not only not answered, but the Church lost in numbers.

The prayers of these Church members were ineffectual to protect the petitioners themselves, much less save others.

That is the statistical fact. Well may the infidel point at that fact and say to the masses of the churches, "Where is your God?"

In eighty-four of the largest cities of the United States the Methodist Episcopal Church last year lost over 3000 members.

It is clear that they do not know how to pray.

God does not answer them while He does answer Zion.

Sometimes it seems to me as if they were tossing up a coin which has tails on both sides; tales of woe. "No answer! No answer!"

Is Zion College to produce men and women who shall know how to pray? If it is not, I wish to close Zion College.

I do not care how beautifully you can talk. The eloquence with which you can pray in words becomes a sounding of brass and a tinkling of cymbals. The great mass of people is being carried away by these things. They have itching ears.

The Devil Enters Man Through the Five Senses.

Sound! Sound!! Sound!! Boom! Ugh! (Laughter.) Sight of eye. Beauty. Art. Ugh! The nose. How sweet! The tongue. Ugh! How nice! Five senses ministering to the flesh damnation. The world has gone to hell again and again through the five senses.

You must watch them: ear, eye, nose, taste and feel.

Keep your hands clean. Keep your thoughts pure. Keep your eyes from evil. Shut out sounds which may be like the siren song leading you to the rocks of death.

The spiritual being of a man must be awakened. He must be above the senses which minister only to the flesh, and let the spiritual senses develop that he may be the Temple of God.

Hear as God hears; see as God sees; taste as God tastes; touch as God touches; smell as God smells.

Do not see what God does not see; do not hear what God does not hear, nor let the sense become subject to the demoniac powers which have dragged men down to hell.

Humanity Today Must Beware of the Same Tempter Who Brought About the Fall.

Therefore you are to go back to the beginning and understand that the same devil who whispered temptation in the ears of Eve is tempting man today.

He began by suggesting the doubt as to whether God had said something: "Hath God said?" After long discussion, he boldly admitted that God had said it, but declared that there was a better way; that God had said it because He did not want man to be happy. He said that man could be happy after the forbidden fruit had been eaten; that then they should be as gods.

How many of you have eaten the forbidden fruit? How many of you are eating the forbidden fruit? How many of you are drinking the damning poison which the druggists are dispensing; the accursed things which destroy brain, stomach and life?

How many of you are listening to the voices which you know are not inspired by God? Who is there of you eating of the forbidden fruit?

You must watch the same tempter.

If the Kingdom of God is to be established within you, must these powers of evil not be driven out? Unless you go back to these fundamental conditions, you will never understand how to pray.

To the great mass of the Church today it is perfectly shocking to talk about the Devil. They do not know any Devil. The Devil is a dead thing, an exploded fallacy, to them.

Christian Science comes to you in the flowing garments of a beautiful female, telling you that there is no evil.

Theosophy comes and tells you there is no Son of God, that there is no Holy Spirit.

The churches have become so broad and so shallow that their breadth is coëxtensive, for the most part, with all the vanities of the world, and their depth so shallow that the dry land appears everywhere.

It is a question as to whether some of them have a drop of Divine Life. The Water of Life is not there. It has dried up.

There is only one thing to be done: that is for man to be a real Temple of God, for the Devil to be wholly dispossessed, and for a generation to be raised in whom God dwells from the center to the circumference; a generation of men and women who are obedient.

Zion College would break on the rocks within a week; Zion Home would break on the rocks within a week; the Christian Catholic Church in Zion would break on the rocks within a week, if you were to destroy the principle of authority; if you, in your folly, should imagine that your own will was to be your authority. I speak this afternoon on this general principle for the reason that through the whole of these talks I have been developing the subject of Divine possession and demoniacal possession. The one is God's will and purpose in sending His Son and His Spirit, and the other is the Devil's will and purpose in sending innumerable spirits of the damned from hell.

Our warfare is not against flesh and blood. It is against principalities. It is against powers. It is against the world rulers of this darkness. It is against the hosts of evil spirits in the upper air who are around everywhere, and ever coming to you and saying, Assert your independence.

All Just Government Does Not Derive Its Power from the Consent of the Governed.

I hate the principle of government by the people. I hate the lie which says that the power of government must rest upon the consent of the governed.

Can you govern your family upon that principle? Must you get the consent of your babies in order to govern them?

True Government Rests Upon the Will of God; the Truth of God.

True government is not the rule of the people by the people; it is the rule of the people by God. It is not the rule of the people for the people; it is the rule of the people for God. It is not the rule of yourself by yourself and for yourself; it is the rule of yourself by God and for God.

Do you accept that principle in Zion?

Voices—"Yes."

President Dowie—If you say that the rule of yourself must be by yourself and for yourself, then you have no other God than yourself.

When a man told me the other day that he was a self-made man, I looked at him, I believed him (laughter), and he was like unto his maker. (Laughter.)

Let us be divinely made men and women; not self-made; not American-made; not British-made; not Dutch-made; but God-made.

There must be rule somewhere. You recognize the fact that you cannot make yourself, if you have any sense. You cannot make yourself proficient in anything unless you avail yourself of the knowledge of those who kindly communicate to you the knowledge which they have acquired. If you would counsel men in knowledge, you must first know at least all that they know about the subject in hand.

Recognizing these things, you must at the very beginning, as a practical matter, continue to remember that the Divine conditions are essential to your blessing. You must recognize the Divine revelation of your necessities, and the Divine revelation of the sufficiency of God to supply all your needs upon compliance with His Divine conditions.

Then you will get answers to Prayer.

I do not care further to exploit theory, no matter how effectual and good that theory may be, but I will close the address of this afternoon by endeavoring to bring you a little thought concerning immediate answer to Prayer.

A Practical Illustration of Answered Prayer.

Two hours ago my long-distance telephone bell rang. I was informed from the central office that a gentleman away up in the State of Minnesota wished to talk to me.

The wires were all connected. Everything along that line was put aside so that that man could talk to me. That has to be done.

The first thing in connection with Prayer is to be quite sure that all the wires are connected. The telephone company will not connect the wires up unless the price is paid; unless they know they will get the money for connecting these wires.

You cannot get in communication with God unless the price is paid.

When that gentleman walked into the telephone office in Rushford, Minnesota, he was told what it would cost; so many dollars. He had to go into his pocket and find the dollars; pay the price. The wires between Zion and Rushford had cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. He was called upon to pay, not even hundreds of dollars. He never could have paid them, but he was called upon to pay a fair thing; what he could pay.

The line which is established between Zion above and Zion on earth has cost an immense deal to make. If you were to pay the price, every time, of what it had cost to make the connection with God and man, you never could telephone to heaven at all. There is a price, however, which even we have to pay. God calls upon us for our proportion.

This man had a dying daughter. He wished to talk to Zion in Chicago. He paid his toll and got to the wire.

The wires were all connected.

There is no use in talking to heaven if the wires are not connected. There is no use of a man standing at a telephone and saying, "Dr. Dowie, are you there?" when the wires are not connected. There are scores of wires which must be disconnected in order that one wire may be connected.

There is no use in your standing at the other end of the telephone and trying to talk to God unless you come in His own way. You must pay the price. You must recognize Christ as the price paid.

You must recognize that the telephone company paid the price. You must recognize their right to control that line. You will not get to me in Zion at Chicago if you do not.

If you will not recognize God, you will not get an answer.

That man got to the other end of the wire and began to talk to me. He did not know how to talk. There were several things preventing. He was too much excited. He was choking. His voice was choking. His daughter was dying, and he was crying. There was a sob in his throat. He was standing too far away from the instrument.

I therefore said two things to him:

"You must stop crying, and then you must put your mouth into the phone."

"All right, Doctor," he said, and he did it.

Great Demonstration Does Not Indicate Deep Feeling.

Your tears will not get anything. Tears do not amount to anything. People who howl most, grieve least.

In the early days of my ministry I attended a great many funerals. I buried a great many people, and when I would be burying a man, and his wife would keep howling and would want to throw herself into the grave from grief—breaking her heart—I always knew that she would be married again within three months or thereabouts.

People who make great pretenses of love, and imagine that love consists in slobber, are very disgusting. You dirty slobberers! (Laughter.) That is not love; it is damning lust. It makes me angry. As if love consisted in so much physical contact!

If I find any of you slobbering in Zion College, you will go.

Emotions have their place. There is a place for tears. There is a place for kisses. It ought never to be permitted under circumstances which are debasing. A woman's lips and a woman's body are sacred.

The person who thinks that the way to God is by tears, will find that is not so.

I said to the man at the other end of that telephone wire, "Stop your crying. Put your mouth into the telephone and talk quietly and sensibly, like a man."

That stopped him. I did not want his tears. I knew he must be sorry, but that crying must stop. I no more wanted his tears than his fears. The moment that I found he was full of emotions I said to myself, "That man will be full of fears as well as tears."

When I got him to speak the first thing was, "My daughter is very sick. I am afraid she is dying. Send an Elder."

There were three things: "She is sick; I am afraid; send an Elder." I saw at once where that man was.

Fears Keep One From Receiving Answers to Prayer.

He was so excited, so full of fears and tears and impending death and present sickness, that he did not ask me to pray.

I said, "What is the matter with you? Why should I send an Elder?"

"Oh, she is sick and dying, Doctor."

"Why should I send an Elder? I can pray. Can you?"

He did not answer. I said, "Can you?"

"Yes."

"Why do you not? Put your ear to the phone and I will pray. God hears." So I prayed: "Oh God, have mercy upon this miserable sinner named ——."

"Amen," he said. (Laughter.)

He recognized the indictment in a moment. (Laughter.)

"Oh Lord, stop all tears and fears. He wants an Elder. He shall not get an Elder."

"Oh," he said. (Laughter.)

I said, "You did not say Amen. Say Amen."

There came a faint "Amen."

I said, "Lord, forgive the poor, wicked, fearful and tearful man."

"Amen," he said.

Then I said, "Lord, stretch forth Thine hand to heal. Bless that sick and dying girl tonight. May this man go home expecting to find her blessed, and let him write to me tonight, for Jesus' sake."

"Amen," he said. "Will you send an Elder?"

"No," I said. (Laughter.) "You will have to go over that Prayer again, and I will not pray a part of it."

"Amen," he said.

I said, "Either telephone to me or write to me after you have gotten home tonight, and I will consider the question of sending an Elder after you report to me."

It was 8 o'clock in the evening when he telephoned to me, and he got a letter into the mail which reached me at about midday the next day, saying that when he got home the girl was wonderfully well and I did not need to send an Elder.

There was a bit of long-distance telephoning.

I did not slobber over him. I did not weep over him. It was not a time for weeping. If I weep over every one who is sick, will my eyes ever be dry? Does Christ stand forever weeping in heaven? Are tears or fears or osculations or slobbers manifestations of faith or love?

Voices—"No."

President Dowie—Can you not get over the bridges of this miserable sensuality? You will never know how to pray until you cast the Devil out. Then with a love which is like the love of a little child who knows no fear, go to your Father.

We Should Go to God With the Fearless Confidence of a Child to His Father.

I knew that my Father in Heaven loved the child in Rushford. I knew that my Father in Heaven pitied this poor, broken-hearted father whose tears and fears were blinding his eyes, clouding his heart so that he could not see God. So I helped him to dry his tears. The only way to dry them was to tell him that he was a miserable wretch. He acknowledged it, too. His tears and his fears were sinful. They were the expression of his agonies, and apprehensions and dreads. There was no faith in them.

Whenever you are to be helpers of others, you must know how to pray.

Could my zeal no respite know;
Could my tears forever flow,
All for sin could not atone;
Christ must save, and He alone.

God in Christ must be my Healer.

My tears will not do it. There is a place for tears, and the best place is between you and God alone.

There may be a time when sympathy makes you weep. Let that be short.

Cast about for ways to help others. Do not merely cry with them or for them, and be more or less professional mourners with a doleful voice.

Some ministers come in and say, "Oh, my dear Mrs. Jones, it is a dispensation of God's providence." He has his funeral voice on. Humbug!

Ask the mother, "What did the child die of?"

"Oh, Doctor, I do not know."

"Is it not a fact that you gave that child some unripe fruit?"

"I am afraid it is."

"Then can you be surprised that your child is dead? You are a careless mother, Mrs. Jones. You do not deserve to have any child. Look sharply after the rest now."

That is the way to sympathize with Mrs. Jones. Sympathize with Mrs. Jones, but be sure you put Mrs. Jones right.

Prolonged Grief is a Curse to People.

A woman came to me one day and said:

"Oh Doctor, I am suffering so."

I said, "What are you suffering from?"

"I am suffering from the death of my dear daughter."

"How long since she died?"

"Two years, Doctor, and I have never gotten over it. I have cried every day. She was the best of all my children."

"You are sick in consequence of that?"

"Yes."

"You sinner! Was she a good girl?"

"Yes."

"Whither has she gone; heaven?"

"Oh, I am sure of that."

"You do not look as if you were sure. (Laughter.) You look as if you thought she were in great trouble somewhere."

"It is I who am miserable; I miss her so."

"Then you are an ungrateful wretch."

"What! Doctor, is that the sympathy for a sorrowing mother?"

"Yes. You have been pining away. You have not been attending to your family. You should have been making husband and sons and daughters all around you happy, and in your grief you have gone away out to her grave and have lain down upon the cold earth and gotten rheumatism. It served you right, you sinner."

She looked at me. She had never been treated so in her life.

I said, "How beautiful and encouraging it is for the rest of your children for you to say that the only good one was taken. How it encourages these dear children."

"Doctor!" she said, "I never had anybody talk to me like that before."

"It would have been a blessing if somebody had talked to you like that two years ago," I replied.

It was only her own selfishness. There was never any good done by anybody but this daughter, and this selfish sorrow for her daughter after all was only for herself. There were the other children neglected for two years and the husband walking through a vale of tears all the time until he went out at last and joined the lodge. He went to places where he could hear a song.

There is a Definite Way to Get Answer to Prayer.

I got the answer. If I had said over the telephone, "Dear Mr. ——, we will send an Elder. When does the next train go? I will send an Elder then. I am so anxious about that child" (laughter), that child would probably have been dead.

If God's people were where they ought to be, they would not need an Elder.

I have come down to a little bit of practical common sense; but all these things which I have said today have enabled me to exercise that common sense.

ZION BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

BY REV. J. G. SPEICHER, OVERSEER IN THE CHRISTIAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN ZION FOR CHICAGO.

ZION HOME OF HOPE FOR ERRING WOMEN.

WE AGAIN at this time claim a share of the attention of the members and friends of Zion for Zion Benevolent Institutions. The first of these, Zion Home of Hope for Erring Women, was organized about two years ago. We herewith give our second annual report for this Home.

God has wonderfully blessed the work in connection with this Home. Deaconess Paddock has more than ever manifested her capacity for this kind of work, and the words of love and appreciation expressed in the appended testimonies prove conclusively that God has ordained her to this special service. While, perhaps, in many ways, the most trying position of any in all the work of Zion, yet it is full of opportunities to do good and win the lost souls to Christ for Salvation, Healing and Cleansing.

The Story of the Year told in full would be a long one, but full of great interest. The way the poor girls were found and the condition in which they were found and their utter helplessness, and in some cases indifference, and then the Salvation, Healing and Cleansing which have come to them in Zion Home of Hope, makes a story over which angels rejoice and for which all Zion thanks God.

DEACONESS JENNIE PADDOCK.
Matron of Zion Home of Hope for Erring Women.

One poor woman who was covered with an awful disease and was an inebriate and an outcast, told me a few weeks ago that she was forty-seven years of age, and that until she came to Zion Home of Hope had never earned one honest dollar. She had been a clairvoyant, and according to her own confession lived a life of shame and dishonesty. She said that she had no more power to foretell the future than any one else; that there is absolutely nothing in the claim of clairvoyants, and that while she had a great influence among business men and young men and young women in all ranks of society who came to her for help, her predictions were simply based on what she could read of human nature. Yet she took their money, knowing that she did them a real injury.

This woman was most miraculously healed of her dreadful disease, was healed of her appetite for liquor, was converted and made repentant, was baptized, and today she is rejoicing in the knowledge of her salvation. This one case alone well repays for all the work which was done in Zion Home of Hope last year.

Other poor unfortunates were picked out of the streets, helpless and destitute.

Even the police of the city have taken these cases, when they have found them, and brought them to Zion Home of Hope. One poor woman, found with an arm broken, in a drunken fit, has found refuge in the Home, for which she thanks God.

We herewith present a report, given by Deaconess Paddock, of the work done in the Home which can be set down in figures:

Whole number sheltered in the Home for the year	59
Number of babies brought into the Home for the year	9
Number of babies born in the Home for the year	10
Total number cared for	78
Number baptized by Triune Immersion	33
Number received into Church fellowship	29
Number paying tithes	26
Number saved and returned to their mothers and friends	17
Number at work in this city in good homes	20
Whole number who have gone back to sin	4
Number remaining in the Home	18
Number of babies in the Home	13

Let the friends of Zion rejoice at this excellent record. Let their prayers ascend daily for dear Deaconess Paddock and the girls who shall be received in the Home for the coming year.

The following testimonies have been written by Deaconess Paddock and the girls under her care:

Deaconess Paddock Praises God for the Work He Has Done.

ZION HOME OF HOPE,
CHICAGO, ILL., December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the many blessings He has bestowed upon me during the past year.

I thank Him for His keeping power, after raising me from a dying bed.

I have been given strength to attend to the many duties I have been called on to perform in connection with this work.

Ofttimes I have felt discouraged, when Satan has sown discord and strife among the inmates of the Home, but still I have spent a happy year and realize the rich blessings I have received while teaching these dear girls the Word of God, and also to do housework.

I am so happy that only four have returned to sin.

I thank God for the health He has given the babies born in this Home. I pray that they may live to be true witnesses for God, and be loyal and true to God and Zion.

I thank God for the blessed privilege of doing this work for Him and for this beautiful Home, which you, our beloved General Overseer, and your dear wife, Mrs. Dowie, have opened for us.

I thank God for sending you and your dear family here, and for the love He has given me for these fallen sisters.

I find nothing too hard for me to do for the Master's sake.

Pray that God may still bless me with health and strength to do a greater work during the coming year

I remain your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) JENNIE PADDOCK, Matron of Zion Home of Hope.

18 EAST SIXTEENTH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I wish to thank you and God for the blessing I and my little girl have received in Zion. I have been saved from sin. I thank God for Zion Home of Hope and the love and kindness of Deaconess Paddock, and for her true teaching of God in the Home.

I have learned to trust God for healing and for all.

My little girl has been healed of measles here in the Home.

LEAVES OF HEALING has been a great blessing to me.

We pay God our tithes and are blessed for it.

Pray for us to be ever faithful to God and Zion.

Yours in Christ, LYDIA T——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for Zion Home of Hope, and the blessings baby and I receive here.

I was very sick. Deaconesses Paddock and Hertrich prayed for me and, thank God, I am well now.

I thank God for the General Overseer, Dr. Dowie, and dear Deaconess Paddock. May they live to be with us many years, to teach us the Full Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I have given baby to God, and I am a member of Zion.

EMMA B——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—My heart rejoices tonight over the blessings received since my arrival in Zion Home of Hope in September, and especially for the advent of a little daughter, which, by God's power, was a blessed deliverance.

I also feel grateful to Him for having raised up the kind and loving mother I have found in "Ma Paddock."

I thank Him for Dr. Dowie, through whom this Home has been established.

Yours most gratefully, ETHEL M. O——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the teaching which I received in Zion.

I entered Zion Home of Hope January 9, 1899.

I thank God for the great blessing and healing which I have had in Zion.

I also thank God for His wonderful healing of diphtheria of my little girl, when dying.

Deaconess Paddock prayed, and, thank God, the little one was instantly healed.

I give God all the glory.

I thank God for the beautiful Home which I have, and also for our dear Mother Paddock, who has been a true, good mother to me.

I thank God I have received a great blessing since I have been paying tithes.

I thank God for Dr. and Mrs. Dowie; for the teaching which I have received in Zion.

Pray that I may be faithful to God and Zion, and that I may lead others to God and Zion.

Your Sister in Christ, EMMA M——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for teaching which I have received since I have been in Zion.

I entered Zion Home of Hope May 23, 1899, and I praise God He saved a poor sinner like me.

Upon entering the Home of Hope I found a dear mother who helped to lead me to Christ, who told me of a Saviour mighty to save and to heal.

I was very sick with rheumatism. Deaconess Paddock sent for Overseer Speicher to pray with me, and I was instantly healed.

I am today happier and stronger than I ever was in my life. God has wonderfully blessed me in spirit, soul and body.

I have been blessed since paying tithes.

I find plenty of work and better wages.

I also praise God for Dr. Dowie and Mrs. Dowie, and for the blessed teaching which I have received in Zion.

Pray for me, that I may be faithful.

Yours in Christ, CARRIE Z——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the teaching which I have received since coming to Zion.

I entered Zion Home of Hope April 10, 1899.

I praise God He has saved me and healed me.

I suffered everything but death when I came, but I thank God, when Deaconess Paddock prayed I got some better. I went to Overseer Speicher and he prayed for me, and I thank God I was instantly healed.

I do praise Him for the good home which I have, and also for our dear mother.

I thank God for healing my little boy of measles, and for keeping him in good health.

I thank God for Dr. and Mrs. Dowie and for the teaching which I have received through them.

God has blessed me since I have been paying tithes.

Pray that I may be faithful to God and Zion.

Your Sister in Christ, FREDA V——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I have been in Zion Home of Hope but a short time, yet I praise God for His loving kindness, for Dr. Dowie, for Deaconess Paddock, and for the blessings I have received in spirit, soul and body; also for His goodness to my little boy.

I have thrown away the medicine I had for my little boy.

I thank God there is a Healer greater than man.

ANNA A——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise the Lord that I found Zion and Zion Home of Hope. It is a blessing to those in need of the teaching of God, and a home.

I thank God for Deaconess Paddock and her kindness to my dear little babe and me.

Baby is almost a year old, and is growing nicely. I intend to raise her for God.

I have a nice place to work.

I pay my tithes and God is blessing us.

Please pray for baby and me; we are both in Zion.

NETTIE F——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—Since coming to Zion and accepting the teaching of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, consecrating my life and my little son to God, I feel that I have been wonderfully blessed, in spirit, soul and body.

Since paying tithes, I have received special blessing, direct answer to prayer, opportunities previously not afforded, and a sweet peace.

For all this I constantly praise and thank God.

I thank Him for our dear General Overseer and his noble wife, and for all who have helped in forwarding the work of Zion.

I thank Him especially for our dear "Ma Paddock," and more than words can express for Zion Home of Hope.

Most gratefully yours, KATHARINE C——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER.—Before coming to Zion, I was driven to misfortune for want of a home and a friendly hand.

I was in the downward path of sin until the Lifeline of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living was thrown out to me by one of Zion's Seventies.

I was brought to Zion Home of Hope, with a broken arm in bandages. After being there two days, I discarded all the dressings, in faith, and God is healing me wonderfully.

I can truly say that God has cleansed my life and given me a thorough change of heart, for which I thank and praise God, and for Dr. Dowie, and especially for Zion Home of Hope.

Yours most gratefully, (MRS.) H. F. O——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the beautiful teachings I have received since coming to Zion.

I entered Zion Home of Hope October 8, 1900.

I praise God that He has saved and healed me, and also keeps me and my little one.

When I entered Zion Home of Hope I found a dear mother who taught me the love of Jesus.

I praise God that I have been blessed in paying tithes.

I am thankful to God for all He has done for me through the General Overseer and his noble wife.

Pray for me, that I may be faithful to God and Zion.

Your Sister in Christ. NELLIE W——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for what He has done for me and for my baby.

I came into Zion Home of Hope March 22, 1900. My baby was born on the 27th of May. It was then I found Jesus, my Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper.

I was a Roman Catholic before being baptized and joining Zion.

I have received many blessings, in spirit, soul and body.

My baby was very sick about November 20th.

I had Deaconess Paddock pray for her and she got better.

On Thanksgiving Day she was on the verge of having spasms. Again our dear Matron prayed for her and she was healed, praise God.

I thank God for our General Overseer, for Zion Home of Hope which He has given us, and for the blessings through the teachings of our General Overseer.

I thank God for dear Deaconess Paddock, who is a good mother to us.

Pray for me and for my baby.

Gratefully yours in Christ, ELIZABETH H——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the teaching I have received since coming to Zion.

I entered Zion Home of Hope March 12, 1899.

I praise God He has saved me and healed me.

I also thank Him for healing my baby.

When I came to the Home my baby was given up to die, but I praise God that when our dear Deaconess Paddock prayed for him, he got well, and has been well ever since.

I praise God that when I entered Zion Home of Hope, I found a dear mother, who showed me the way to Christ.

I thank my Heavenly Father for the General Overseer and Mrs. Dowie, and for the teaching which I have received in Zion.

Pray for me, that I may be faithful to God and Zion.

Your Sister in Christ, HANNAH J——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the teachings of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living as set forth in Zion by our General Overseer, and for Zion Home of Hope and for our dear Deaconess Paddock.

Coming from the hospital with a little three-weeks-old baby boy, whose right hand was paralyzed, and not being very well, I feel that I have been wonderfully blessed in receiving my healing and in the healing of my little boy, through Deaconess Paddock's prayers and God's great goodness.

I came back to the Home a second time and my little boy was healed of measles, bowel trouble and a large running sore on the back, a result of the effects of medicine given him at the Foundlings' Home.

For all this, I thank and praise God.

Most thankfully, ANNA C——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 23, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER—I have many things to thank God for.

I came into Zion Home of Hope February 9, 1900.

I was discouraged and suffering very much.

I had no hopes for the future; my life seemed a mere existence.

I thought myself friendless and homeless.

When I met Deaconess Paddock, I found a true friend and a mother.

Since coming to the Home my baby was born.

I lost my eyesight and seemed nigh death's door.

Elder Ernst and Overseer Speicher came and prayed for me.

After Overseer Speicher prayed, my sight returned, and my eyes feel stronger than they have for years.

I had been afflicted with tumors from childhood, but since coming to Zion I suffer no pain with them. I give all the praise to God.

I overtaxed my strength and caused a rupture, from which God has healed me.

My baby was ruptured when six weeks old. Elder Graves prayed for him and next morning the rupture had disappeared.

I thank God that Dr. and Mrs. Dowie have been raised up as leaders in Zion, and for the Home which they have opened.

I also thank Him for Deaconess Paddock, who has been such a kind mother to me.

I ask prayers of all Zion that I may ever prove faithful and be a help to others, and tell them of Jesus, "the Friend who sticketh closer than a brother."

Your Sister in Christ, EVA C——.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 24, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I thank God for Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, which I have found since coming into Zion, under the teaching of dear Deaconess Paddock.

I praise God for answering her prayers for me at different times, when I had toothache, headache, sore throat, and a severe burn on my left side, of which I was healed instantly.

I pay my tithes and feel blessed in doing what I think my duty. I will not rob God.

Pray for me.

Most truly grateful, FLORENCE D——.

ZION WORKING GIRLS' HOME.

THIS Home, which is under the care and supervision of Mrs. M. C. Moody, was formally opened less than a year ago. During the year, a large number of Christian girls who have sought employment in Chicago have found a home and shelter in this Home until suitable employment could be found. More than 100 different girls have been entertained during the year. We give below a report of the work done.

Many kind and encouraging words have come to us from those who have occupied this Home.

There has been some misunderstanding about the object of the Working Girls' Home. This is not a Home for sick people, neither is it a place for the weak and destitute, nor is it a place for those coming to Chicago seeking teaching in Divine Healing or the truths taught in Zion.

It is just what the name indicates, Zion Working Girls' Home. It is a Home for Zion working girls. It is our aim and object that there may be a Christian Home to which our dear girls may go for rest and recuperation and help; where they may find opportunities for securing employment in Zion homes when their fitness has been demonstrated.

The dangers of a great city are many. For even Christian girls to be cast upon a cold and heartless world in a great city exposes them to the temptations which otherwise would never come.

By giving them a place of refuge, we prevent all this danger of temptation and keep them from falling into the snare of the evil one.

We invite the hearty coöperation of the members and friends of Zion for the work of this Home.

Those who obtain girls from this Home ought to feel it their duty to do something to the support of the Home in thankfulness for the privilege of coming to such a place, and for the benefits derived in obtaining a Christian girl from Zion.

Mrs. Moody has been very self-sacrificing in caring for her girls and in going with them to find places of work. She depends upon the income of this work for her support, as she receives no salary.

It gives us great pleasure to append a report of the work of less than a year, for the Home was only opened May 1st, although Mrs. Moody had been receiving girls before that time.

We also give a very much abbreviated testimony of Mrs. Moody, and also a few of the many testimonies from the girls who have been blessed by and in the Home.

Number of girls received and cared for	101
Number of girls for whom employment was secured	87
Number of people supplied with girls	97
Number of girls supplied to Zion Home	10

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF ZION WORKING GIRLS' HOME.

Testimony of Mrs. M. C. Moody.

After receiving and reading a few copies of LEAVES OF HEALING, while I lived in Brandon, Manitoba, I decided to come to Chicago to learn about Zion.

I remained a month in Zion Home.

I decided that Zion was the only place in the world I could have my five children taught as I wanted them to be taught.

I am more than thankful I came, for all my children have, of their own free will, been baptized, and with one exception all are members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, attending Zion School and happy.

My eldest daughter is at work in the General Recorder's office, and although she works hard and attends school three evenings out of the week, she is well and strong.

From a tiny babe weighing three and one-half pounds when born, she has grown to weigh 157 pounds when seventeen years of age.

I have received and cared for 101 girls and women in this Home since May 1st.

I have secured work for eighty-seven different girls and supplied ninety-seven people with help of different kinds; some for housework, some as seamstresses.

I have placed ten girls in Zion Home to work.

In addition to this I have had the greater part of the time two little girls besides my own children to take care of, and part of the time three.

God has wonderfully kept me, for although I have been obliged to go out in all weather and at all times, besides attending to the children and the Home, I have not been ill one day, and scarcely had even a cold.

If I do not have a girl in the Home when a call for help comes, and I know of one anywhere in the city, if there is not time to write, I go and find her and tell her of the work.

If the girls are strangers, I have made it a rule to see them safely to the place.

I thank God I have been enabled to do the little work I have here among the girls, and that I am counted worthy to work for Him.

I pray I may have more wisdom and be better able to carry on the work as it increases as Zion grows.

I thank our General Overseer and Mrs. Dowie for the teaching of Zion, and for allowing me to help in this great work for our Master.

I also thank Overseer Speicher for his kindly advice and help, and interest he has always shown and given in my work.

May God bless all the Overseers and officers in Zion.

M. C. MOODY, Matron.

1411 MICHIGAN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 13, 1900.

DEAR MRS. MOODY:—It is with pleasure I look back upon my stay in your Home, and again I wish to thank you for your motherly kindness to me while there.

It is an ideal refuge for working girls, because of its homelike atmosphere and privileges.

It is a delightful feeling to one who is alone in the world to know there is some place she can call "Home," and be received from time to time with pleasure, as such has been my experience in Zion Working Girls' Home.

Gratefully yours,

LULU MAY FISHER.

5327 WASHINGTON AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 15, 1900.

MY DEAR MRS. MOODY:—I wish to thank you for sending me such a nice girl, and am only sorry that I had engaged one on Saturday.

If the one who is coming does not prove satisfactory, I would like to have one of your girls later.

Very sincerely,

SARA R. ZANE.

16 EAST EIGHTEENTH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 5, 1900.

DEAR MRS. MOODY:—Knowing that you are about to make out a report of the work of Zion Working Girls' Home, I wish to tell in that report what a help and blessing the Home has been to me.

I came to the Home March 17, 1899, and you have in every way possible helped me to find employment, even accompanying me to many places to make inquiries about work.

When I have been out of work I have felt in coming back to the Home that I was really coming home.

I thank you for what you have done and are still doing for me.

I thank God that He has raised up a handmaiden in Zion who is so truly a home-mother to the working girls in Zion.

Sincerely yours in Christ, (MISS) EMILY S. ARNOLD.

NEW AVON, MINNESOTA, December 16, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I feel it to be my duty as well as my privilege to praise God and to thank you for opening up a Zion Working Girls' Home. I was so glad for it during the five months I was there last summer. I know of many others who are.

A Home like that is needed for girls who have their own living to earn, yet need to be where they can receive the teaching which can be found nowhere outside of Zion.

I went to Chicago in order that I might attend the meetings in Zion Tabernacle, intending to sew with my cousin, but the way for me to do so seemed not to be open when I arrived.

I soon learned of the Home and the work Mrs. Moody, its Matron, was doing.

I went there to find work. At first she said she did not know of any, then finally said I might stay there and help her with her own sewing and attend the May meetings, then about to commence.

I did so, and from that on God gave me work there all summer.

I do most joyfully give Him all praise for all the blessings I received while there.

May God make it more of a blessing each day to the many girls who pass through its portals.

I pray daily that God will bless and keep you and give you power to go on until your work is done, and that you will come off more than conqueror through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Please pray that I may be faithful to God and Zion.

With Christian love, ELLA C. HUBBARD.

ZION ORPHANS' HOME.

WE desire to make a report upon a Home which has not yet been established. God has put it into our heart during the last year to pray for this very desirable and most necessary institution.

We are in great need of a place to care for helpless children, whether they are orphans or not.

God has been, in a measure, answering prayer in this direction. Last week a brother and sister sent in a check for $100 to be applied to this work.

A lady, a member of this Church, has recently made quite a large bequest for the founding of an Orphans' Home in Zion. This, of course, will not be immediately available.

We need a large sum of money immediately for the establishment of a Zion Orphans' Home.

Has not God put it into the heart of some of you to devote that which God has given you that we may undertake now the care of the children who are on the streets and are going to destruction, of whom Zion could well take care? We know there are those in Zion who could well do this and not feel it.

There is no better work to be done in all the world than the rescuing of the dear children; those whose parents have died and who are left upon the cold charities of the evil world, to be captured by the evil one and led into the paths of sin. They may be reclaimed in later years from their hard and terrible experiences by the sacrificing endeavors of godly men and women, but how much better to reach them before they have gone so deep into sin!

We believe we are praying the prayer of faith for this blessed consummation; the realization of a large fund of money for the establishment of an orphans' home in 1901, the first year of the new century.

Let all Zion pray with us for this.

THE MAKING OF WILLS.

WHILE we do not teach men to get ready to die, and it is our delight to help prepare men to live, yet we all know that unless Christ shall come, we will all have to fall asleep sooner or later.

Because of this fact, it becomes the duty of every man and every woman to whom God has given the stewardship of His good things: money, houses, lands and property of various kinds, to make sure that when he or she shall come to lay down the burdens of this life, the property shall not pass into the hands of those who belong to the world to be used against Zion, but that God shall get His own, that it may be used for the establishment of His Kingdom on earth.

To this end, then, it becomes the duty of every man and woman to write down upon paper, in black and white, the desires of their hearts as to the distribution of the means in their care, and state definitely just what shall be done with their property.

It is not their privilege to say that this or that man shall inherit the property if this or that man is an ungodly man.

It is the duty of Christians to see that God's money remains in the hands of Christians, and the time has come when it is necessary that the members of Zion appreciate more fully their responsibilities before God in taking steps to prevent the Devil controlling that which belongs to God in case of their departure from this life.

God claims at least one-tenth of the property which is left; and, in a great many cases, this is entirely too small an amount.

There is no danger that too much will be given to God.

Write your wills as the Holy Spirit directs, and trust Him for blessing, because you have done your duty.

CHICAGO.

A HAPPY and helpful Christmas Rally was held at Central Zion Tabernacle on Lord's Day afternoon, December 23d. Over 2000 members and friends of Zion joined hearts and voices in bringing Christmas Crowns of praise and glory to Zion's Triumphant King.

His sinless Sacrifice had paid the great price of the Salvation, Healing and Cleansing of nearly all of those present, and they could not praise Him enough on the anniversary of His birth.

Zion's White-robed Choir, including the reorganized Boys' Choir, filled almost the entire large choir gallery. Never did the music from these consecrated singers sound more sweetly than on this occasion, when the pure treble of the boys' voices joined with the resonant volume of the trained voices of the adult choir in singing "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom He is well pleased."

"The Birthday of a King," a ringing baritone solo by Conductor Burt M. Rice, with a glorious chorus by the choir, was rendered with a truth of spirit which uplifted the entire audience. There was great inspiration in the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah." This masterly composition was sung with accuracy and harmony, and with the joyful praise of every singer's heart in every Hallelujah. Only a Zion Choir could sing that wonderful Chorus with a genuine appreciation of the words: "The kingdom of the world has become the Kingdom of our Lord, and of His Christ, and He shall reign for ever and ever."

Overseers Piper and Speicher, and Elders Stith, McClurkin and Stokes paid tribute to Jesus the Saviour, Healer, Keeper and Coming King, and others from the audience added their meed of praise to Him who, by the power of the Holy Spirit, had brought such great blessings to them and to Zion.

Granville, Ohio.

In the last number of LEAVES OF HEALING this department contained a brief account of the shameful attack upon Overseer George L. Mason at Granville, Ohio, by a Secret Society mob.

Many important facts not then known to us are reported in the story of the fight, given by Overseer Mason, who is at home again in Zion Home, after a nine weeks' absence.

What hotbeds of lawlessness colleges are becoming when hypocritical cant which deceives no one is the only protest against disgraceful violence upon a Christian minister of unblemished reputation, for eighteen years a prominent missionary in China and an alumnus of the very college whose students and President were guilty!

The following is Overseer Mason's account:

In a mission tour of nine weeks, during which I spoke in eight States and in twenty-seven places, the only town where mob violence was met was Granville, Ohio, the seat of the Baptist College, Denison University, my own Alma Mater.

The first evening the meeting was in the home of E. E. Witter. A goodly number of students came, but those who came into the house were not specially boisterous.

The second evening, the meeting in Convention Hall was crowded and there were various attempts at disorder, which were promptly quelled. My subject was "How God Led Me Into the Christian Catholic Church."

Threats of violence against Zion coming to the ears of President Purinton, he addressed the students in chapel, giving weak advice and begging them not to disturb my meeting. He evidently does not know how to command.

The next evening, December 19th, the Devil raged when, in obedience to the Spirit's guidance, I declared "The Son of God manifest to destroy the works of the Devil in Granville." I gave an exposition of the Anti-christian nature of Masonry and Oddfellowship. No reference was made to College Greek-letter fraternities. But, as usual, the Greeks came to the rescue when their mother, Masonry, was exposed.

Student "hooligans" of the Phi Gamma Delta Secret Society mingled with town rowdies and were active in making disorder.

Stinking chemicals were thrown into the stove and on my clothing. Tobacco, snuff, a dead chicken, large stones, and many eggs were thrown into the hall.

Before the close of the meeting I appealed to Mayor Lewis. But the coward immediately left the scene. Outside he told a brave woman who rebuked him that the "Dowieites" would likely get in Granville what they had gotten in Mansfield.

After the meeting had continued more than an hour, I closed it.

The angry mob then crowded in upon me. Several men who claimed to be Freemasons, but who had done nothing to help keep order, now came to my side and offered to escort me to Mr. Witter's. The rabble surged upon us and the table was crushed beneath us.

Faithful Zion men and women stood by, ready to suffer with me if necessary. The mob followed to the house, but soon dispersed.

In the home of Mr. Witter we had a joyful season of praise and prayer. Then we partook of the Supper which shows forth our "Lord's Death until He come." The twenty-third Psalm seemed very real: "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies."

The violence was threatened before my arrival. It was not provoked by what I said, nor by any wrong spirit in saying it. The rowdy students planned the outrage beforehand.

The vote of disapproval of the riot which the President had the students express the next morning was sincere, doubtless, on the part of many, but, of course, was a hypocritical farce on the part of those students who had been active in fomenting the trouble and who yet voted their disapproval of it.

The real blame for the outrage, however, must be placed not on the students, but upon those preachers and professors who have long failed to teach the public the essential selfishness and lawlessness of secret, oath-bound societies, and have thus fostered the popular idea that secretism must not be publicly rebuked.

A chief offender has been President Purinton himself. At the Huron Association in 1898, at New London, he is reported to have spoken in favor of lodgeism, saying that he would join other secret societies if he could afford it.

No wonder that not a few cases are known of innocent Baptist boys being sent to Granville and returning home in a few years, smokers or Secret Society tricksters, or even infidels.

The salt has lost its savor.

Intellect is worshiped.

Spirituality is at a discount.

Many of the students are tobacco slaves. Many of the Baptist leaders are genteel backsliders.

Overseer Piper has received a letter from Mr. E. E. Witter, the brave Conductor of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion at Granville, telling in detail of the mob.

He speaks of the courage and calmness with which Overseer Mason faced the Mah-hah-bone demons. He also tells of the faithfulness of a number of fearless Zion women who surrounded the Overseer, when the mob was at its height, and formed a bodyguard to protect him.

He tells of the friendly action of many good people who deplored such disgraceful violence, and very significantly asks that twelve blank forms for application for fellowship be sent him.

Zion always takes a big stride forward when the Devil has been especially foolish and furious.

THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN OPENED.

WILL a man rob God? yet ye rob Me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob Me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse, that there may be meat in Mine house, and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of hosts.—Malachi 3:8-12.

Employment Found When Last Dollar is Paid in Tithes.

God's wonderful faithfulness in keeping His Covenant, "I am Jehovah, thy Provider," is witnessed to in the following letters which arrived just one week apart in the office of the Overseer-at-Large:

1635 MICHIGAN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, November 26, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

My Dear Brother:—Your invitation to write of anything practical about tithing hits me, and I write.

Tithing, with me, has been a lifelong practice.

The blessings following are without number.

Zion's way of tithing was not plain to me until yesterday, and my practice usually was convenience.

Now I see I was mistaken.

The amount I now owe to God is $——. Here is the amount and a little more.

I am out of employment; have been for several weeks.

This leaves me with just twenty-five cents, and my board is paid up to tomorrow night.

I have not one penny to lay my hands on and call it mine, save as above.

Whatever comes, I desire to be right with God.

He has never failed me and never can.

Will report to you the results.

Very truly, S. S. PALMER.

1635 MICHIGAN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 3, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

My Dear Brother:—Is not this practical on the question of tithes?

After writing you November 26th, one week ago, I met a friend whom I had not seen for thirty-five years.

We served in the same regiment during the Civil War, about four and a half years.

He is now a Colonel in the Regular Army and at the head of one department here in Chicago.

Had my courage been sufficient, I might have secured then what finally came today, employment and a renewed acquaintance of a very warm friend.

The salary now is not large, but will be much better as soon as I pass examination before the Civil Service Commissioners.

On the day my tithes were sent in, I also received information the value of which, to me, could not be measured by money.

The Lord is very gracious. His promises are sure.

This is my promised report.

Most truly yours in the Faith, S. S. PALMER.

God's Blessing Upon a Faithful Tither.

BROWNVILLE, IOWA, December 18, 1900.

REV. W. HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—We feel we have been greatly blessed in paying our tithes.

We feel we are not giving it, but that it is our Father's, and we will be very glad when the time comes we can do more to advance God's work.

Your Brother in Christ, T. J. WOOLDRIDGE.

Blessings in Every Form Follow Faithful Tithing.

HARVEY, ILLINOIS, December 17, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Beloved Overseer:—In reply to your inquiry, "Has God blessed you in tithing?" beg to say that Mrs. Dinius and myself joined the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in the spring of 1898. A few months thereafter we began paying our tithes regularly the first of each month.

At this time our debt to God is discharged before any other debts or expenses of living are counted out.

God has blessed us wonderfully, spiritually, physically and financially, and we know we have gained strength in every way in obeying this command.

While we recognize it as a command, we also consider it a privilege to have this opportunity to extend the Kingdom of God, even though it be in so small a way.

Faithfully yours, B. C. DINIUS.

Easy to Find Employment When Tithes are Paid..

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 18, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER-AT-LARGE:—I would like to give my testimony on tithing.

After I became acquainted with the Word of God sufficiently to know that one-tenth of what God gives one belongs to Him, I can truly say that I have been abundantly blessed.

Before I paid tithes, when I happened to be out of work it was hard to find it. After I paid tithes, one morning two men wanted to employ me at the same time, with more wages than I had had for several years.

It was only a short time after that, a man for whom I worked before found out where I was and came after me. He offered me whatever wages I wanted. I did not accept, so he afterwards called again.

I went with him and received more than any man in the same place before or since.

My boss said it was hard to get a sober butcher and a steady man.

Since I resigned and took a more humble position in Zion Home, I have received spiritual blessings which I could not have gotten selling ham and oysters.

Your Humble Servant, AUGUST ERHARDT.

God's Promises to Those Who Pay Tithes Found True.

DYER, INDIANA, December 18, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—We desire to tell how God has kept His Covenant with us regarding tithing.

Since my mother was healed so wonderfully, five years ago, we have given tithes, but did not understand fully, therefore gave to many different places where we thought God's work was being done. But when the tithe envelopes were issued, we began to bring the "Whole Tithe" into Zion's Storehouse.

We are glad to bring it where we believe it is being used for the extension of God's Kingdom.

When we receive money, God's tithe is laid aside first.

We have received God's blessing.

We have been kept from illness, and have prospered financially.

We know that God's promise in Malachi 3:8-12 is true.

Yours in Jesus, (MRS.) CARRIE JOHNS.
(MISS) KATHERINE JOHNS.

The Devil Gets Money Kept Back From God. God Blesses When Repentance is Made.

2523 KIMBALL AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, November 29, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer in Christ:—In regard to tithes, I have been paying tithes since 1897 and some in 1896. I am sorry I did not begin sooner.

I ask God to forgive me for wasting this money in the Devil's lodges.

I gave up my insurance policy of $2,000 some time ago.

It gives me great pleasure to pay tithes.

Once, not long ago, I was short and I kept back a dollar. I said I would make it up the next time. But the Devil got that dollar and I did not get to use it at all.

The Lord showed me that I did wrong.

I repented, and the Lord gave me three times what I had lost.

I thank God for Zion and His many blessings.

Your Brother in Christ, W. H. HANDYSIDE.

Great Blessing, Spiritually and Financially, in Tithing.

CAMBRIDGE, OHIO, December 17, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER:—I have been in Zion nearly one year, and it has been the best year of my life, spiritually and financially.

I have given more money to God than during my entire membership of twelve years in the M. E. Church, and I have more money left than any year previous to coming into Zion.

I have learned that it pays to obey God.

I am so glad I am no longer a thief and a robber.

Your Brother in Christ, W. C. SUITT.

NOTES OF THANKSGIVING TO ZION'S GOD

God Supplies Every Need. Healed of Grip.

SYCAMORE, ILLINOIS, December 5, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER:—I feel it my duty to write a testimony, to tell you the goodness of God to us, and also to thank you for your kindness to me.

I wrote you some time ago stating our circumstances.

You prayed that God would supply all our needs, and my husband has not been idle one day since.

About a year ago I was taken very ill with the grip. I had had it before and came near losing my life by it.

I thought that I could pray myself out of it, but all the time something seemed to tell me to write to you for prayer.

Still I delayed, until I got very ill.

One morning I was suffering intensely. I said to myself, "I will write to Dr. Speicher for prayer."

I arose from my couch and wrote a short note to you.

When I lay down again I was sorry I had not written before.

God showed me very plainly His promise, "Before they call, I will answer.

I was better that instant, and in a short time was as well as ever.

I never felt God so near as now.

Your Sister in Christ, ANNA HALL.

Boy Speedily Healed of Jaundice and Lung Fever.

PONTIAC, ILLINOIS, November 7, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Beloved Overseer:—For several days I have felt it my duty to write and tell you of my immediate recovery from illness, after sending you the request for prayer.

Our dear little son John was healed in answer to your prayer on the 21st of October, 1900. He had jaundice and was so sick he scarcely had any appetite.

But immediately after you prayed for him his complexion and eyeballs became natural in color and his appetite returned, so that for several days I really was afraid he would eat too much.

God gave us a glorious victory.

Satan made him sick since that time, his symptoms being lung fever.

But, praise God, his sickness was of very short duration, and in a week's time he was attending school again.

He used to have what was called a chronic cough, but he is healed of that complaint since we do not give him medicine.

I am thankful to you for your prayers.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) ANNIE B. BALMER.

Healed After Six Months' Suffering.

FITZGERALD, GEORGIA, December 6, 1900.

DEAR BROTHER IN CHRIST:—Your letter at hand.

I can say, praise the Lord, I could feel your prayers, it seemed to me, in my restoration.

Glory to God for such a Healer!

For six long months my head was in such a condition that I could not hear the Word of God preached, and my friends thought there was no chance for my recovery.

I went to church last Sunday and testified that I was healed through faith in Jesus, and the dear people seemed not to understand what it meant.

But I knew, and when I spoke the fire seemed to spread.

I do not believe in drugs, but launch out on the promises.

I wish that God would send some one to open a Zion Mission.

Your Sister in Christ, GENE BURNHAM.

Instant Healings in Answer to Prayer.

GALESVILLE, WISCONSIN, December 7, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—I was severely kicked by a horse.

I just looked to God in prayer, and all pain instantly left me.

D. E. MOUGHMER.

GALESVILLE, WISCONSIN, December 7, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—I wish to tell of an experience I have had, hoping it will benefit some one.

I destroyed all of the medicine we had in the house, but left a syringe. Something seemed to say to me, "Do away with that."

"Oh," I thought, "that won't hurt anything, and if necessary I will do away with it some time."

One day my little boy was eating wheat. My little girl also took some, and got a wheatbeard fastened in the root of her tongue and stuck in her nostrils.

She screamed and cried. I knelt down and earnestly prayed; but no help came.

I again prayed. Before I arose I asked God if there was anything in the way on my part.

The thought of that syringe came into my mind. I ran and took it from its case out the back way and smashed it.

When I came in, the litttle girl said, "I am all right now, mamma."

We have had answers to prayer too numerous to tell.

Our prayer is that God may bless Dr. Dowie, family and party who are laboring in Europe, and all members of Zion everywhere.

(MRS.) D. E. MOUGHMER.

Little Boy Instantly Healed of Gathering in the Head and Fever.

4502 EMERALD AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 13, 1900.

OVERSEER J. G. SPEICHER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—I write to inform you of the complete recovery of our little boy.

He had a very bad gathering in his head, and in answer to prayer it broke and the pain stopped.

Two days after, he became very sick with a high fever. Red blotches began to appear on his body and we began to think scarlet fever was developing.

We sent for an Elder, and at 5 o'clock that afternoon, I think about the time you received the message and prayed, he began to perspire.

His bowels had not moved for three days, and an hour after perspiration began, they moved perfectly naturally, praise the Lord.

It is the most wonderful healing we have had in our family.

I have just come in from my Zion's Seventy route. We had a good fight with the Devil.

By God's Grace we were enabled to enter three saloons, a thing I never thought I could do.

Praise God for Zion.

Faithfully your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) E. AISTON.

Blessed Fourfold in Giving to God's Work.

EDINBURG, OHIO, December 8, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I received your circular letter of November 10th, containing tract.

It came just at a time when it seemed, humanly speaking, simply impossible for me to spare the money for a subscription to LEAVES OF HEALING, as we needed coal and many other things to prepare us for the winter; but I told God about it, and at once it was made plain to me that it was a call from God to help forward His cause.

At the same time I received faith to believe that He was abundantly able to supply all our needs.

At once I put my trust in Him and responded to your call, sending money for a subscription to the LEAVES, to be sent to my brother who lives in California.

Within two weeks I received a letter from that same brother (he not knowing anything of what I had done), containing $5, with the explanation that it was a Christmas gift to myself and daughter.

Thus, from the very place I had sent the LEAVES, God returned the money I gave, fourfold.

I send enclosed for another subscription to the LEAVES, to be sent to another friend.

Faithfully your Brother, G. G. NORTHROP.

Childern Healed of Measles; Mother of Severe Cough.

607 EVERGREEN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 9, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—It is with a deep sense of gratitude to God that I write these lines, and tell of some of the blessings which He has brought to our home in the past two weeks.

Two weeks ago our little John was taken very sick with a cold, sore throat, vomiting and high fever.

It soon developed that he had a severe attack of the measles. His stomach would retain neither food nor water.

We had Elder Stevens come and pray with him, and soon after I prepared a nice supper for him. Before he ate, we all gathered around him and prayed that God would enable him to retain and digest the food.

God heard and answered prayer. The bad symptoms all disappeared and the boy was soon well.

One week ago Friday night, Ralph and Madge took the measles.

Their symptoms were as severe as John's, but they believed God would heal them.

Madge's fever was so high it seemed as if she would have spasms. We could not keep her in bed.

We prayed. In five minutes she was quiet, and soon went to sleep.

Sunday morning they both woke me calling for something to eat and begging me to get up.

We did not think it best for them to get up that day, so they were contented, and passed much of the day in singing.

Monday morning they got up and dressed as usual, and assisted me with the housework. They have been all right ever since.

We praise God for their healing, and give Him all the glory.

I also desire to thank God for an instantaneous healing on Saturday.

I had been miserable for several days, but still kept up.

I was busy doing my Saturday's work when I took sick very suddenly.

I had a sharp, cutting pain in my lung, and began coughing.

I expectorated yellow phlegm streaked with brown.

I was so sick that I could not stand up, and so short of breath that I could not lie down.

Everything seemed dark around me.

There was loud rattling in the lower part of my lungs and in my throat. I coughed continually.

I called the children to me and we all prayed.

God heard, and the answer came instantly

I only coughed once after that, and all bad symptoms disappeared.

I bless God for this victory over the Devil, and thank Him for Zion teaching, through which I have been led to know Christ as my Healer.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) CHARLES E. ROBINSON.

God Heals Little Girl of Croup at Time of Prayer.

On December 9, 1900, Overseer W. Hamner Piper received the following telegram, sent from Platte, South Dakota, by C. N. Richards:

Please pray at once for little daughter Hazel.

Croup.

Reply.

He prayed earnestly to God for the child's healing, and replied that he had prayed at 3:20 in the afternoon and would pray again at 9 in the evening.

On December 12th he received the following letter:

CASTALIA, SOUTH DAKOTA, December 10, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Yesterday we telegraphed you to pray for our little Hazel, who was very sick with croup.

You replied that you prayed at 3:20 and would pray again at 9.

She became much better in the afternoon.

At about twenty minutes to 4 she asked for something to eat, and ate heartily.

She is now almost entirely well.

We are very thankful to God for His goodness to us, and for this answer to prayer.

We also thank you for your kindness.

Some of our friends tell us that writing to Zion for prayers savors of Roman Catholicism.

I think it savors of obedience to God, according to His Word.

We are very thankful that there is a Church whose Elders can pray the prayer of faith.

May God bless you and all Zion everywhere.

Yours in Christ, MR. AND MRS. C. N. RICHARDS.

God Heals Father, Mother and Daughter.

BLOOMER, WISCONSIN, December 13, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMMER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I have felt it my duty for some time to write and tell you what God has done for us since we became members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

About eight months ago we were converted and began at once to trust God for keeping our spirits, souls, and bodies. He has kept us in good health, with but a few slight attacks of disease, since.

Our little girl, now nearly two and one-half years old, had medicine nearly every day for the first year and a half of her life, and was never well until we began to trust God for our bodies. She has not had one drop of medicine from that day to this.

About two months ago her mouth was cankered so she could not eat anything. We took her case to the Lord and asked the prayers of Zion members in this place.

God heard, and she was healed right away.

I was taken with cholera-morbus a short time ago, and we asked God to heal me, but I did not get relief until our little girl, two and one-half years old, asked God to heal papa. Then I was healed at once.

My wife had a gathering in her head about two weeks ago. She wrote to you for prayers, and she is getting along nicely now.

We are holding meetings in our log Tabernacle every Lord's Day, and we are having some wonderful meetings.

God is with us, but we need an Elder or some one to teach us.

We have been praying for Mansfield, Ohio, and are glad to hear that God has come out victorious, which He always will do.

Thanking you for your prayers,

Your Brother in Christ, A. S. BOWERS.

Baby Healed in Answer to Prayer of Faith of Zion Elder.

ALBION, INDIANA, December 15, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—I wish to send you a brief testimony of the healing of our little baby.

On September 29th last I telegraphed you that our little one was very sick with stomach and bowel trouble. He was quite low.

We had prayed for him and he would get some better, but then would become worse again.

The night on which I sent you the telegram, he was very ill, but was much better the next day. Toward night he became worse again.

This was the way he went on for several days.

Then Elder Fletcher, of Wolcottville, was impressed to come over and see him.

He prayed and laid hands on him, and he began to get better immediately. We could see the change the same day.

He gradually grew better, and now is strong and well, and weighs more than his twin brother, who has never been sick.

We praise God every day for His goodness to us, in keeping our dear ones for us.

My wife and I want to thank you also for your kindness.

God bless Zion. M. O. DECAMP.

Boys Healed When Near to Death with Diphtheria.

MONON, INDIANA, December 12, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I will send you my testimony to the wonderful deliverance we have had from measles.

When Deaconess Hertrich arrived, the Devil had gotten in ahead of her, and my little boy Charlie was quite sick with measles.

He had vomited every few minutes for one day and night.

On Sunday morning at 3 o'clock his head drew back and he became unconscious and cold; but it only lasted a few minntes.

At about 7 o'clock I telephoned to the Deaconess, and she prayed.

His vomiting ceased at once and he called for something to eat.

I must confess I did not have faith to believe the other little boy would not take the measles, so in two weeks he took it. He had a spasm at 1 o'clock in the night.

I prayed for him, then ran to the telephone and called the Deaconess. She prayed, and he was better in a few minutes.

At 4 o'clock he had another spasm, and I sent for a sister in the Christian Catholic Church. We prayed and held the fort until morning.

Then the Deaconess came and prayed for him, and the next day he was up all day, and has been well ever since.

I thank all in Zion who prayed with us at that time.

Yours in Christ, BLANCHE W. SPARROW.

Quickly Healed of Injury and Blood-Poisoning.

TELLURIDE, COLORADO, December 7, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—In answer to your letter just received, we can say that we are very thankful for healing received after you prayed.

About six weeks ago my husband fell and cut his knee to the bone, and we think smashed the bone.

He quit work for three days, but it was very sore and painful when he went to work. It eventually turned to blood-poisoning.

His whole leg to his ankle was a terrible sight. It was turning black in places when we sent the telegram, on Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday he sat up nearly all day.

On Thursday (Thanksgiving Day) he was at work around the house all day and felt well.

Friday he went to his regular work. He said he never felt better.

He has been working a week now, and his work keeps him on his feet all the time. His leg has never pained him a bit. There is hardly a trace of where the poison was.

We feel that we had a great deal to thank God for on that Thanksgiving Day.

We are also very thankful for one whom we feel God will answer when our own prayers fail.

Thanking you for your kindness, I am faithfully

Yours in Christ, (MRS.) F. C. VAN ZANDT.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

THE BLOODY UPRISING against all foreigners in China has sent many missionaries to the coast for safety. Thus some have been brought into contact with Zion at Shanghai.

Let all Zion pray much for Elder and Mrs. Viking, and for a blessing on the literature which they distribute to missionaries, merchants, soldiers and others.

AN EXCELLENT COUPLE, Rev. W. H. Cossum and wife, have joined the Christian Catholic Church, largely through the clear teaching of the Word by Elder Viking. Brother Cossum is the man who once threw a bombshell into the national meeting of the Baptists by intimating in a speech that what they needed was not more Rockefeller, but more religion. Mr. Cossum had been an active and popular speaker in the Student Volunteer Movement. The subjoined incisive message from him is well worth pondering:

WHY I BELIEVE IN ZION AND THE MINISTRY OF JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE.

I. Because his ministry fits "the times" as no other ministry of which I know.

(a.) He emphasizes the apostasy. We are living in the apostate end of this age. Laodicea! She thinks she is rich and in need of nothing, but God sees her to be blind and naked and miserable and poor. "Ye hypocrites, ye discern the face of the sky, why can ye not discern 'the times?'" The ministers and Church members of the day do not discern the apostasy, but live in it and breathe its atmosphere. John the Baptist was the minister to the apostasy of the last age or dispensation. His language was incisive, even harsh. "Vipers! who hath warned you to flee from wrath?" Not very polite. Deep-seated apostasy needed rough, piercing language to shake the proud Pharisee, the leaders, the clergy from their delusion that God was pleased with them. They were "vipers." Dr. Dowie has stopped fighting "behind entrenchments" and has come out to smite the forts of the enemy, and the apostate Church—not merely Rome, but the denominations—are being battered to pieces. Glory to God! John had a narrow message because his call was to the apostasy. Dr. Dowie's "call" is to reconstruct the Church. He must assail its apostasies in repeated messages. And yet he has the most loving appeals to the unsaved; his work is organized into "Seventies" doing the most thorough evangelistic work of any organization in existence. Thousands of the unsaved are being reached. Romanists, Jews, denominationalists and other religionists of the apostasy are also being cleaned up and saved.

(b.) His message of Healing is clean cut and garbled by no compromises. Medicine and doctors have sat in Christ's seat in the Church and in the hearts of Christians. They must be ousted. He does it. No place for doctors nor drugs in the Gospel of Healing. The medical missionary is preaching "another gospel" when he says he is doing as Christ told His disciples to do, preach and heal. It is the Devil's lie. Jesus never told any one to go and treat the bodies of the sick with poisons. His own pure life was the treatment poured in through the Holy Spirit.

(c.) Cleansing the Church and calling out the elect is a large part of the ministry of Zion. There are many whose hearts are sad over the condition of the Church in which they find themselves. They do not know what ails them. This is the fact: they have been born into the apostasy and the Spirit within them is protesting against it. My own ministry and Church membership illustrates this. I also had to preach searching sermons, sermons against sins in the Church and against worldliness. I would correct myself and my friends would correct me, but the Spirit repeatedly forced back upon me the same messages. I understand it now. I was the inheritor of apostate traditions, and yielding myself to the Spirit, He spoke in me against those things. This kind of preaching was necessary in the mind of God before the "feeding" could be profitable. We cannot leave sin alone and preach a "positive Gospel," so-called. There is no room for the richest and best of Gospel food in sinful and compromising lives. Dr. Dowie is doing the first thing first.

II. Zion and Dr. Dowie stand for Authority in the Church. The Church—"the congregational polity"—no longer rules the eldership and the overseers, but vice versa, as God intended.

III. A blessed and real Unity of God's people. This I have longed for for years, and intensely of late. It is a real thing in Zion.

IV. The simple platform of Church membership allowing room for fellowship for all Christians who will consent to listen to plain preaching about things on which they may differ.

V. God believes in Him. John 5:36-38; 9:16, 17, 24, 25, 30-41; 10:36-39; 12:34-41; 14:10, 11; 15:20-25. Note, also, Acts 4:14-19; 13:40, 41; 28:26-29.

HEALINGS IN JAPAN.—The following is from a private letter from Rev. T. A. Cairns, Nakamura, Yokohama, Japan:

God graciously answered prayers for the people in Hamamatsu. When I was there a month ago I prayed with some of them, and this time I heard their testimonies.

One woman who had brain disease was healed immediately, as was a man who had rheumatism of three years' standing.

One child was healed of croup, another of boils, one man of piles, etc.

One man for whom I prayed had the "kakke," or "beri-beri," a disease "for Japanese only."

This time I found that he was not better and I asked him where the trouble was, if there was any sin in his life. He said he knew of none.

But I saw an inscribed coin dangling from his watch chain as a charm, and after questioning him I found it to be inscribed with the name of the Buddhist god of health. People wear them with the hope of recovering. I told him that was the Devil's sign, and he must give it to me, for it belonged to Zion.

He did so, and I told him it was a trophy captured from the Devil, and I was going to send it to be nailed on the walls of Zion. Then I told the people that if there were any more trophies of war I wanted them, for they belonged to Zion.

I expect to get more the next time I go. I will keep this till an opportune time to send it. The characters on it mean, "Heavenly Shining Great Imperial God."

The work in Yokohama is going on nicely. God graciously answered prayer for one little Zion babe who had the measles.

Quite a number of children have died in Yokohama with the measles this fall, but one little Zion girl never got sick enough to go to bed. She was all broken out for a day or two, but did not seem to be sick at all.

We prayed for a blind woman. Immediately the pain left her eye, and her body, which had been completely poisoned by medicines, began to mend. She is much better, but cannot see yet.

Zion's Conflict With Methodist Apostasy.

This book of 200 pages, just issued by Zion Publishing House, contains nine powerful discourses delivered in Central Zion Tabernacle by the General Overseer last May, during the session of the Methodist General Conference. They are of especial value for the full and fearless exposure of Freemasonry.

"The Methodist Church the Property of the Masonic Order," "Freemasonry: A Heathen and Antichristian Abomination," and "Degrees of Masonic Devilry" ought to be read by every lodge man.

The iniquity of the Mystic Shrine is laid bare.

"The Christian's Duty in Breaking a Bad Oath" is the address which preceded the public working of Masonic and Odd Fellow degrees in Central Zion Tabernacle, a full account of which is given.

Buy one of these books and keep lending it. No honest and intelligent man can read the book and still remain a Freemason.

REV. F. A. GRAVES, SUPERINTENDENT.

BUT ye are come unto Mount Zion, and unto the City of the Living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to innumerable hosts of angels.—Hebrews 12:22.

And there shall be night no more; and they need no light of lamp, neither light of sun; for the Lord God shall give them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.—Revelation 22:5.

And the building of the wall thereof was jasper: and the City was pure gold, like unto pure glass.—Revelation 21:18.

SUCH is the description of the Beautiful Home about which we speak, from Zion Junior page, this week. How it helps us over the hard places in life to know that when we are all through with this life, a Beautiful Home is waiting for us.

I remember reading about a little girl who was playing in front of an old tumble-down house, built of sod, on the Western prairie. The roof leaked when it rained, and the windows were broken, and some of the doors were nearly off their hinges.

Yet she was singing and playing very happily. A stranger came along on horseback, and as he saw the poor, worthless "shanty," and noticed how happy the little girl was, he said to her, "Little girl, how can you be so happy when you are living in such a poor, miserable home?"

"Ah," said she, "if you ride on a little farther over that big hill, you will come to a new house that is being built. That is my papa's house, and we are going to live there just as soon as it is finished. And in that house is one room all my own. Papa is making it for me. I am so happy to think that I am going there soon, that I do not mind living in this old house a little while longer."

I wonder if all Zion Juniors are looking forward with such joyful anticipation to the Heavenly Home.

Even now, as I write, my mail brings me word of the death of one of my loved ones nearly eighty years old. He was not in Zion, but read LEAVES OF HEALING with much interest. I sat at his table one week ago today and ate breakfast with him. How sudden does the summons come to some.

God grant that he may have been ready to meet his Maker.

Juniors, "prepare to meet thy God."

BUT WHO are to enter that Beautiful Home that we have been talking about? Those who have "washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

Who are excluded? "And there shall in no wise enter into it anything unclean, or he that maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the Lamb's Book of Life."

God has made beautiful things for us in this world, and very much to enjoy. But the glories of the Home waiting God's children are well expressed in the words of Paul in 1 Corinthians 2:9:

Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,
And which entered not into the heart of man,
Whatsoever things God prepared for them that love Him.

HE LOVES me too well to forsake me,
Or give me one trial too much;
All His people have been dearly purchased,
And Satan can never claim such.
By and by I shall see Him and praise Him,
In the City of unending day,
And the toils of the road will seem nothing
When I get to the end of the way.

When the last feeble step has been taken,
And the gates of that City appear,
And the beautiful songs of the angels
Float out on my listening ear:
When all that now seems so mysterious
Will be bright and as clear as the day,
Then the toils of the road will seem nothing
When I get to the end of the way.

Relieved of a Very Severe Attack of Asthma.

CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE, December 11, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer in Christ:—In reading the testimonies of others, to healing, I have felt that they have been so helpful to me, and the conviction has come that I should witness to what God has done for me.

This fall I had a return of my old enemy asthma, and the Lord had almost delivered me when I again caught cold, and the next morning I had one of the worst attacks I ever remember having had.

All day I waited upon the Lord.

I telegraphed Zion for prayer, and toward evening, when one naturally gets worse, I began to improve so that I was able to lie down and sleep.

Oh that I could encourage some one else to "wait on the Lord."

I thank and praise Him for all His tender mercy to me.

Praise God that the shed blood of Christ can cover me completely, spirit, soul and body.

Faithfully yours in Christ, (MRS.) B. G. BROWN.

God Heals a Horse of Blindness.

ADELINE, ILLINOIS, November 27, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—We are thankful to you for your prayers, and we thank God that He heard and answered.

One of our horses was so nearly blind that she could not keep in the road, when driven.

Now she can see as well as ever. The other has not fully recovered his sight, but is getting better.

Yours in Christian love, (MRS.) HANNAH M. MAYBEE.

THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN OPENED.

Blessings in Spirit, Soul and Body Through Tithing.

MASON, WISCONSIN, December 16, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

My Dear Overseer in Christ:—I do thank and praise God for the health and strength I have received from Him, physically as well as spiritually, since I began to pay to God what belongs to Him.

Before I was in Zion I paid it to doctors and for drugs, besides losing many days in the year from pain and sickness.

Praise God for Zion. It took me out of the doctors' hands and placed me in care of the Great Physician for spirit, soul and body.

Your Brother in Christ, MAT WHITE.

Wages Increased When Tithes Are Paid.

BELVIDERE, ILLINOIS, December 17, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER:—God has prospered me since I began paying tithes.

I began work here the 4th of September, at $1.50 per day, and the next day my wages were raised to $1.75 per day.

Where I have been working since October 26th my tithes will average $1.20 per week. O. M. MARSHALL.

Nine-Tenths Has Greater Purchasing Power When God Receives His Tenth.

541 FIFTY-FIFTH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 10, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—In regard to tithing, I can say that since paying my tithes into the Storehouse of God I have been greatly blessed, spiritually, physically and financially

I find that by paying God one dollar out of ten, the other nine have a larger purchasing power than the ten had before.

Your Brother in Christ, J. A. MEARS.

More Means in One Year When Tithes are Paid Than in Five Before.

HUSTLER, WISCONSIN, December 13, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—I and my wife can truly say that God has blessed our paying our tithes.

We have more means to do with now in one year than we had in five before we paid God what we owed Him.

Your Brother in Jesus, BERTON B. FOBES.

Income Increased and Home Made Happy Through Tithing.

198 EAST FORTIETH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 11, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I thank God for His blessings since I have been paying tithes.

My income has increased.

Our home is a happier one now.

I have had many spiritual blessings.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) W. M. JOHNSTON.

FORM OF APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

—IN THE—

CHRISTIAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

To all who are desirous of entering into Fellowship with the Christian Catholic Church:

MY DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTERS:—The principles of the Christian Catholic Church have been fully set forth in the Reports of Two Conferences on Organization, held in Zion Tabernacle No. 2, which are fully reported in LEAVES OF HEALING for January 31 and February 7, 1896. The Basis of Fellowship is set forth in the second section of the Resolution passed on February 5th (see LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume II, Number 17, page 267):

FIRST—That we recognize the infallible inspiration and sufficiency of the Holy Scriptures as the rule of faith and practice.

SECOND—That we recognize that no persons can be members of the Church who have not repented of their sins and have not trusted in Christ for Salvation.

THIRD—That such persons must also be able to make a good profession, and declare that they do know, in their own hearts, that they have truly repented, and are truly trusting Christ, and have the witness, in a measure, of the Holy Spirit.

FOURTH—That all other questions of every kind shall be held to be matters of opinion and not matters that are essential to church unity.

All who are conscious of fulfilling these conditions, no matter where they may reside, are invited to fill up the following blank and answer the questions contained therein.

I am, faithfully yours in Jesus,

John Alex. Dowie

General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 16th or 17th.

Key Thoughts for Teachers.

1. You cannot become too familiar with God's Word to make it easily understood.—Nehemiah 8:5-8.
How many can put real life into the reading of the Bible?
How can one grasp the truth as he reads it?
Why is it so few people have an understanding heart?

2. In imparting truth, there must be much repetition in varied form before it is fully grasped.—Isaiah 28:9-13.
Is there enough relying on God in behalf of those taught?
Must not the truth be forced home on all?
Is it not slow work to get people awake to the truth?

3. Strive to grasp the deep things of God. Do not be afraid to receive all the truth.—Hebrews 5:8-14.
Who is it that enables one to see the deep things of God?
Must not one learn first principles well?
Who guides from truth to truth in all truth?

4. Aim to inspire others whom you teach, to impart what is given them to others.—2 Timothy 2:1-7.
What is a person to do with what is taught him?
Are they to give it out in the same spirit in which it is received?
What kind of persons are to be sent out to teach?

5. Remember that varying results and blessings come from the truth taught.—Matthew 13:18-23.
Do all get a like blessing from the truth taught?
Why do some get no blessing at all?
Why do some so soon lose all the help gained?

6. Do not be afraid to press home the truth on the hearts of hearers, making it each time of close application to all present.—2 Timothy 4:1-8.
Is a lesson to have reproof in it?
Is it to have exhortation in it?
Is it to have appeal in it?

The Lord Our God is a Teacher-Exhorting Goa.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 20th.

The Religious Feetwashing Delusion.

1. Feetwashing is not a commanded or perpetual ordinance.—Matthew 28:19, 20.
Where is the warrant for making it an ordinance?
What is the prime mission in evangelization?
What is the seal of a genuine repentance?

2. Feetwashing was a cleanly social custom of respect.—Luke 7:36-50.
Is not feetwashing a physical necessity?
Is it a religious duty or sanitary edict?
Was this custom in vogue where shoes were not worn?

3. It was a household act of courtesy, prudently exercised and consistent with saintly relations.—1 Timothy 5:5-13.
In these households, who served the guests?
What acts of benevolence does it center about?
What fitness were these acts to vouch for?

4. Jesus used this social custom to teach humility—a true ministerial quality.—John 13:3-12.
Before whom did Christ exhibit this spirit of service?
Should preachers become puffed up over their office?
Is a true minister above readiness for doing good where there is need?

5. The example was not to establish an ordinance, but to teach ministers to prefer each other in honor.—John 13:13-17.
What has one servant to boast of over another?
How can one esteem another better than himself?
Is God's greatest minister the greatest servant of His people as God directs?

6. In a country where dress admitted of it, and where shoes were not worn, feetwashing was an unconventional act.—Genesis 18:1-8.
Is there any need of washing feet which are clean?
Is it not folly to make it an act of worship?
Would not, in this country, giving a cup of cold water to the thirsty, or clothing the naked, or feeding the hungry, be a more gracious act?

7. It is not an act of piety to be subject to forms which operate against that grace which should strive for perfection.—Hebrews 6:1-5.
Do not some people go back to dead letters when God says Go on?
Do not some talk about conversion as if that were all?
Do not some Baptists make more of Baptism than they do of their Lord?

8. To wash the feet often is a duty to health and cleanliness, which the custom everywhere in the Bible emphasizes.—Genesis 19:1-3.
When a person is in health, cannot he bathe himself?
Is eating with unclean hands also a cause of ill health?
Is not washing the exposed parts of the body a frequent necessity?

God's Holy People are Not a Hobby-Riding People.

SUGGESTIVE NOTES FOR THE USE OF ZION'S BIBLE CLASS OUTLINES

The Seed is the Word of God and the Field is the World. Therefore go ye and preach the Gospel to every creature; which means that people must be touched at home centers. Divide your town into two or more divisions, your city into smaller sections by streets, your township into districts by roads, and then begin and systematically follow up a house-to-house visitation with short calls. Give a small Zion tract or a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING or A VOICE FROM ZION.

Do not argue or controvert with people, but in cheerfulness of spirit and glow of countenance extend the literature with supplication in spirit and a "God bless you." Where your peace is returned, note all such places, together with the names of the parties.

Continue then in thus so doing, and you will not have gone over a very large or compact area by such thorough and systematic work until you have found material enough near at hand for an occasional Cottage Prayer Meeting in some home which may open to you.

Then you will follow this up in due time with a Zion Bible Class Gathering in a home centrally located. This Gathering will be continued regularly each week with great blessing and profit to all who attend. If it is persevered in, it will ultimately grow into a strong Zion Assembly, and eventually become a Branch Church, with an Elder-in-Charge.

Every member, however, must set aside a time for doing this preliminary work. Where there are only a few members in a place, the division of the territory must be planned in conference with the Conductor of the Gathering or the Elder-in-Charge, or whoever else may be appointed by the General Overseer at Headquarters as the representative to thus have charge of Zion's affairs. An understanding will then enable every one to set about this work in an orderly way, reaching every home as speedily as possible, without two or more persons working in conflict or covering the same territory.

This is Christ's method of evangelization as outlined in the Gospels, and will win victory for God every time, in every place and by every person who is deeply consecrated to Him in discipleship.

The day has come when this must be done. Those who refuse to do it are cursed with a curse, for God says: "Woe unto those who are at ease in Zion."

A True Use of Sabbath Day Hours.

They should be improved well by every member and friend of Zion. The Bible Class Lesson outline should, with the Bible in hand, be gone over carefully and prayerfully, and the sermon by the General Overseer should also be attentively read. Assemble, sometime during the day, your own family. Invite in, if possible, those who want to know God in power, or desire from Him some blessing for spirit, soul or body. Where this is not possible, go where the sick and sinful, poor and neglected are, who have tasted only of the bitterness of life, and open up to them the Gospel which Jesus commanded should be preached to the poor. Where there are two or more members of Zion near you, do not fail to regularly come together sometime during the Lord's Day. Pray and speak with one another, and study together the Bible Class Lesson and talk over the marvelous doings of God in Zion. DO NOT OFFEND GOD BY GOING TO SOME CHURCH SERVICE WHERE GOD IS EVER DISHONORED AS THE HEALER, CLEANSER, KEEPER AND PROSPERER OF HIS PEOPLE. Do not go to hear His truth perverted by the cry of Peace, Peace, when sudden destruction is so near because of the prevalent wickedness of the world, which, with a worldly Church, is becoming more and more corrupt. Do not go where scoffing is everywhere heard from so-called Christians at the imminent coming of "the great God and Saviour Jesus Christ." He will receive unto Himself only those who look for Him; even ZION, whom He is now calling into Purity and Holy Living, who daily, in obedience to Her Lord, whatever the cost may be, is thus making herself READY TO SOON BECOME THE BRIDE OF CHRIST AT HIS APPEARING.

Be Alive to Your Opportunities for God. Through a Diligent Study and use of Zion's Bible Class Lessons and the fitness they will give toward a greater familiarity with the Holy Scripures and a clearer insight into God's truth, you will be prepared and furnished into every good work.

They will equip you for teaching those who will know God in power and blessing; for reproving those who trifle with God's mercies and despise His grace; for correcting those who have ignorant and false views of God and His relations to His people; and for instructing in righteousness those who are teachable and who would escape the corruption in the world through lust, who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus, and be blessed with all spiritual blessing in the world that now is as well as that which is to come.

This will include long life, happy heartedness and clearer insight into the purpose of life in all its relations, contributing to prosperity and financial success, as well as soul-saving usefulness.

Study Zion's Bible Class Lesson Daily. At family prayers let each member read a division of a lesson, the leader afterward asking the questions noted, receiving the answer in Scripture language with the particular verses used. An unfinished lesson can be continued at the next prayer season. Arrange in your home regularly some evening or Sunday afternoon a meeting, inviting in a few neighbors and friends, and with them study the lesson according to the plan above suggested, and recount to them the work God is doing in Zion. Above all, read carefully when all alone the Scripture cited in each lesson, marking a line around the same in your Bible, praying ever that God may bless the Word read to your own heart and life and enable you to speak it faithfully to others to their own good or admonition. Ever obey God and His Word will come with increasing light.

How a Zion Bible Class Lesson is Prepared May Interest You.

Aside from years of close study of the Bible and special capacity and gift from God for teaching, comes first the choosing of subjects within the scope of Scripture truth. Then comes their development and logical arrangement in outline, with the Scripture bearing upon the same which appears in the unfolding of a subject.

All the Scripture thus suggested is arranged in order by clipping and pasting, so that all verses pertaining to a given lesson fall under the eye at once.

It is then carefully weighed and the emphasis given it is considered. Thoughtfully the questions are prepared, bringing out and enforcing the phases or special truth of the subject, which, when done, complete the manuscript.

After this the lesson's outline is dictated and typewritten. The copy is then gone over carefully, modified or strengthened for greater force or clearness. It is then handed to the printer.

After being put in type, it is again considered carefully for final form or correction. All of this for a single week's outlines requires hours of time under prayer, preparation and Divine guidance. It is done that the thousands who each week read, and we believe increasingly study these lessons, may receive the greatest possible blessing from God through the power of His Word and thus extend the Kingdom of God in these days of the Restoration of His Church to its primitive power and usefulness. God is raising up a people and has commanded that the Truth be known, for He says: "Say unto Zion, thou art My people."

DO YOU KNOW GOD'S WAY OF HEALING?

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Let it be supposed that the following words are a conversation between the reader [A] and the writer [B].

A. What does this question mean? Do you really suppose that God has some one especial way of healing in these days of which men may know and avail themselves?

B. That is exactly my meaning, and I wish very much that you should know God's Way of Healing, as I have done for many years.

A. What is the way, in your opinion?

B. You should rather ask, WHO is God's Way? for the Way is a Person, not a thing. I will answer your question in His own words, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; no one cometh unto the Father, but by Me." These words were spoken by our Lord Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son of God, who is both our Saviour and our Healer. (John 14:6.)

A. But I always thought that these words only referred to Him as the Way of Salvation. How can you be sure that they refer to Him as the Way of Healing also?

B. Because He cannot change. He is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever." (Hebrews 13:8.) He said that He came to this earth not only to save us but to heal us (Luke 4:18), and He did this when in the flesh on earth. Being unchanged, He must be able and willing and desirous to heal now.

A. But is there not this difference, namely, that He is not with us now?

B. No; for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world"; and so He is with us now, in Spirit, just as much as when He was here in the flesh.

A. But did He not work these miracles of healing when on earth merely to prove that He was the Son of God?

B. No; there was still a greater purpose than that. He healed the sick who trusted in Him in order to show us that He came to die not only for our sins, but for our sicknesses, and to deliver us from both.

A. Then, if that is so, the atonement which He made on the Cross must have been for our sicknesses as well as our sins. Can you prove that is the fact from the Scriptures?

B. Yes, I can, and the passages are very numerous. I need quote two only. In Isaiah 53:4, it is written of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sickneses), and carried our sorrows; . . . and with His stripes we are healed." Then in the Gospel according to Matthew, this passage is quoted and directly applied to the work of bodily healing, in chapter 8, 17th verse. "That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

A. But do you not think that sickness is often God's will, and sent for our good, and therefore God may not wish us to be healed?

B. No, that cannot possibly be; for diseases of every kind are the Devil's work, and his work can never be God's will, since Christ came for the very purpose of destroying "the works of the Devil." (1 John 3:8.)

A. Do you mean to say that all disease is the work of Satan?

B. Yes, for if there had been no sin (which came through Satan) there never would have been any disease, and Jesus never in one single instance told any person that sickness was God's work or will, but the very contrary.

A. Can you prove from Scripture that all forms of sickness and infirmity are the Devil's work?

B. Yes, that can be done very easily. You will see in Matthew 4:23 and 9:35 that when Jesus was here in the flesh, He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." Then if you will refer to Acts 10:38 you will see that the Apostle Peter declares that He [Jesus] "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil." Notice that all whom He healed, not some, were suffering from Satan's evil power.

A. But does disease never come from God?

B. No, it cannot come from God, for He is pure, and disease is unclean; and it cannot come out of Heaven, for there is no disease there.

A. That is very different from the teachings which I have received all my life from ministers and in the churches. Do you really think that you are right, and that they are all wrong in this matter?

B. It is not a question as between myself and them. The only question is, What does God's Word say? God has said in all the ages to His Church, "I am the Lord that healeth thee" (Exodus 15:26), and therefore it would be wicked to say that He is the defiler of His people. All true Christians must believe the Bible, and it is impossible to believe that good and evil, sickness and health, sin and holiness could have a common origin in God. If the Bible really taught that, it would be impossible to believe our Lord Jesus Christ when He says, "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." (Matthew 7:18.)

A. But even if I agree with all you say, is it not true that the Gifts of Healing were removed from the Church, and are not in it now?

B. No, the "Gifts of Healing" were never withdrawn, and can never be withdrawn, from the true Church of God: for it is written, "The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance." (Romans 11:29.) There are nine gifts of God to the Church (enumerated in 1 Corinthians, 12:8 to 11), and all these are in the Holy Spirit. Therefore, so long as the Holy Spirit is in the Church, all the gifts must be there also. If they are not exercised, that does not prove that they do not exist, but that the faith to exercise them is lacking in God's servants. The gifts are all perfectly preserved; for the Holy Spirit, not the Church, keeps them safely.

A. What should a Christian then do when overtaken with sickness?

B. A Christian should obey God's command, and at once turn to Him for forgiveness of the sin which may have caused the sickness, and for immediate healing. Healing is obtained from God in one of four ways, namely: First, by the direct prayer of faith, without any aid from the officers of the Church, praying as the Centurion did in Matthew 8:5 to 12; second, by two faithful disciples praying in perfect agreement, in accordance with the Lord's promise in Matthew 18:19; third, by the anointing of the elders and the prayer of faith, according to the instructions in James 5:14 and 15; and fourth, by the laying on of the hands of them who believe, and whom God calls to that ministry, as the Lord commands in Mark 16:18, and in other places.

A. But are people healed in this way in these days?

B. Yes, in thousands of cases. I have myself laid hands upon many hundreds of thousands of persons, and I have seen the Lord's Power manifested in the healing of great numbers, many of whom are living witnesses in many countries, who have testified publicly before thousands, and who are prepared to testify at any time. This ministry is being exercised by devoted Christians in many parts of America, Europe, Australasia and elsewhere.

A. Is it not the same as Christian Science, Mind Healing, etc.?

B. No. Divine Healing is diametrically opposed to these diabolical counterfeits, which are utterly anti-Christian. These impostures are only seductive forms of Spiritualism. Trance Evangelism is also a more recent form of this delusion, and it deceives many.

A. But how shall I obtain the necessary faith to receive healing, which faith I am at present conscious I do not possess?

B. It is written, "Belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the Word of Christ." (Romans 10:17.) Our Missions are held for the express purpose of teaching fully the Word of God on this matter, and I very heartily invite you to attend the meetings which are announced for Zion Tabernacle. All are welcome and there are no charges of any kind made, for all God's gifts are free gifts. Salvation is the first of these, without which you cannot be healed through faith in Jesus. All the costs of this work are covered by the free-will offerings of the people who attend these meetings, and others whom the Lord leads to help; but the poorest who have nothing to give are as heartily welcome as the richest.

A. Do you see the sick and lay hands upon them in this Mission?

B. Yes; after we feel satisfied that they are fully resting in the Lord alone for the healing, we see privately, so far as time permits, those who attend; but under no circumstances do we claim the power to heal any; for "power belongeth unto God."

A. Have you any writings upon this subject which can be purchased?

B. Yes; these can be obtained at the office of Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, or at Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. But the best book on Divine Healing is the Bible itself, studied prayerfully and earnestly.

We extend to you a hearty invitation to attend the meetings, which are free to all. Our prayer is that you may be led to find in Jesus Christ our Lord and God, your present Saviour from sin, your Healer from sickness, your Cleanser from all evil, your Keeper in the way to Heaven, your Friend, and your All for Time and Eternity. We pray that these words may help many who read, and that our little conversation may bear fruit in leading many readers to look to Jesus only.

"The Healing of Christ's seamless dress
Is by all beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again."

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 12. CHICAGO, JANUARY 12, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

HEALED PERFECTLY AND PERMANENTLY OF CATARRH, CHRONIC SORE THROAT, STOMACH TROUBLE AND TUMOR.

CAST THY BURDEN UPON THE LORD.

With her heart full of praise to God, this Witness tells of His love. She has cast her terrible burden of sickness upon Him. It is gone. She left it with Him.

She suffers its tortures no longer.

Freed from its galling weight, she serves God with joy in the daily tasks He has given her to do.

For years she bore this burden laid upon her by Satan.

It grew heavier every day.

She suffered with the foul pollution, catarrh.

Chronic sore throat and stomach trouble caused her many days and nights of pain.

But more cruel than all was a tumor with its complications.

Growing and spreading, it impeded vital functions and caused intense agony.

The "physicians of no value" administered their poisons.

She only grew worse.

They took her to a hospital.

Her sufferings increased.

They told her that only an operation could save her life.

But they admitted that the operation itself might end in her death.

MISS MAUDE SMITH.

She endured the operation. She came from the bloody altar of the modern Moloch, Surgery, suffering the very agonies of hell. The operation had not brought death. In her despair it seemed to her that death would have been preferable.

Life seemed hopeless.

No ray of light penetrated the unutterable gloom of her heart.

Her burden had grown to a mountain-weight of woe.

The Methodist Church, to which she belonged, could only tell her the horrible lie that God had laid this affliction upon her for her good.

They made Him a blood-thirsty, cruel God, delighting in the writhings of His children in exquisite torture.

While thus afflicted and ready to die, one of God's Witnesses in Zion brought her the wonderful Message of the Everlasting Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

With that Message there came hope.

God opened the way and gave her strength to go to Zion Home.

There she learned the blessed truth that God was her Father, and that "like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him." She learned that He was the Healer, not the defiler.

She learned that He made a Covenant to heal His children, when He said, "I am the Lord that healeth thee."

She learned that He had said, "I the Lord change not."

She learned that He has sent His Son into the world, "teaching . . . and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, and healing all manner of disease among the people."

She learned that He had "healed all that were sick: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

She learned that Jesus "is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever."

She learned that He had promised, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

She learned that He said, "These signs shall follow them that believe: in My Name they shall lay hands on the sick and they shall recover."

What blessed truths were these to her weary heart!

Eagerly she fulfilled the Divine conditions of Repentance and Obedience.

She took her burden to God.

But alas! she did not leave it with Him.

In so far as she trusted Him, He healed her, and she grew better.

But she still bore her burdens.

She went to her home, seeking healing, but not "casting all her care upon Him."

God, in His Infinite Love and Mercy, again sent her a Message, by one of His Witnesses.

He told her to leave her burden with Him.

With a bound of joy her heart received the truth.

At night, as she lay in bed, she left it all with Him and fell into a sweet, peaceful sleep of absolute trust.

She had been healed in the twinkling of an eye.

Everwhere men are weary.

They are bowed down under burdens too great to be borne.

Fly to them, Little White Dove, with this beautiful Story.

Tell them the blessed truth which set this Witness free.

And may God, by His Holy Spirit, send that truth home to their hearts with convincing power. A. W. N.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MISS MAUDE SMITH.

MEAFORD, ONTARIO, CANADA, December 25, 1900.

REV. JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE.

Dear General Overseer:—Having enjoyed the life, light and liberty of the Full Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, through Jesus Christ our Lord, I send my testimony and can say with heartfelt gratitude, "Praise waiteth for Thee, O God, in Zion."

In 1888 we moved from the town of Thornbury to a farm five miles from Meaford.

I was at this time in very poor health, and as the years wore on I became more delicate, until I suffered a great deal from catarrh of the head, a chronic sore throat, stomach trouble, and worst of all a pain in my side, which became decidedly worse in 1894.

From this time on I suffered most intensely with my side, and in October, 1897, went to a hospital for one month for treatment.

My doctor said he thought this treatment would be very beneficial to me, but it proved the opposite—a curse.

My suffering became unbearable, so that in February, 1898, I went to the hospital again and underwent an operation.

The doctors discovered that I had a tumorous growth.

Mine was a complicated case.

I had suffered so long that I was just a wreck and could sleep and eat but very little.

My doctor, who was very honest with me, told me of the danger of death, but my suffering was so great death would have been a happy release. I used to say to mother, "If there were an animal on the farm suffering as I do, they would, out of pity, shoot it and put it out of misery."

But there seemed no help for me, no ray of light. No one told me of the love of God for the sick, and that in all our affliction He was afflicted.

No one told me of the gentle touch of our Heavenly Father's hand.

I write this to the shame of the apostate Methodist Church, which I had attended from my childhood and in which from the time I was twelve years old my soul had cried out for the true Bread of Heaven and the Living Water.

In my blindness and ignorance I was glad to undergo this operation, hoping to be benefited by it, or get relief in death.

I came out from under the effect of the chloroform, struggling in the agony of death.

We do not need to die to suffer the tortures of hell. It is useless to try to describe this suffering. It was beyond description.

One night when the doctor and two nurses stood near my cot, my hand and arm began to stiffen in death.

I knew I was very near the shores of eternity, but God spared my life; for in those days I looked to Him in prayer.

I do not remember that I could put my prayer into words, but God saw my heart.

I prayed, "Oh God, if I can be of any use in the extension of Thy Kingdom, raise me up."

If I could not, Oh how I longed for rest and freedom from this fiendish torture!

I lived on, and was in hospitals this time over two months. I could feel myself sinking every day.

They began poulticing my side before I left the hospital. I believe the doctors and nurses tried all they could to help me, but I came home about the 3d of May feeling that it was all an awful mistake and that there was no hope for me.

Years before this, when I used to read my Bible, where the Lord healed the sick—

"Then I longed for a Saviour—Could it be That the God of the Universe cared for me?"

I did not know the way to go to God for healing. I did not then know that Christ was "The Way, the Truth, and the Life."

All this time I had never seen LEAVES OF HEALING, and only got a faint echo of the work of Zion in Chicago. How I longed to know more about it, but could not even get the address.

Let me say to the members of Zion, be careful how you spend every five cents. Think what a five-cent copy of LEAVES OF HEALING might have saved me from!

When I was home from the hospital about seven weeks, I heard that a Mrs. McConnell (who lived about four miles from my home) was healed.

My sister, Mrs. Campbell, of Hamilton City (who was then home on a visit), and my younger sister went to see Mrs. McConnell.

She sent me some literature, including "He is Just the Same Today," by Rev. John Alexander Dowie. As my sister read this to me, how near God seemed to be!

On the following Sunday Mrs. McConnell came to see me. As we talked, how wonderfully the Spirit did speak within her!

I said, "I know none but the Great Physician can ever heal me, for I have had ten doctors, four of these being specialists."

She said, "I believe if you go to Chicago you will be healed."

A few days before this I had written to Dr. Dowie, telling him of my illness and that I would like to go to Chicago, but did not see my way clear to go. About the time Dr. Dowie got my letter, I got some relief, which we knew was in answer to prayer, and I asked God to open up the way for me to go.

The next Saturday my brother brought two letters to my bedside, one from Dr. Dowie, saying that if the Lord opened up the way for me to go to Chicago, they would do all they could for me in the Name of the Lord.

The other was from my youngest brother in Montana with a money order for $25 enclosed. He did not know that I wanted to go to Chicago. This I knew was a direct answer to prayer and gave me more confidence in God.

I told my parents that I wanted to go to Zion Home, but as they had spared no expense in trying to help me, they thought this would only be another failure, for they knew nothing of God's Way of Healing, and then I was so very ill in bed.

They said some one would have to go with me, and of course this meant double expense.

I said, "No! If the Lord is doing such wonderful things as to heal people, He can take me to Chicago alone."

They knew I could not be much worse than I was, and as there was nothing but death for me so far as earthly help was concerned, they consented to let me go.

Although I could scarcely sit up until my father brought the buggy to the door, I went alone in simple faith, for I had so little strength.

I did not ask any one to meet me in Chicago, for I did not know any one there.

I was seeking the Saviour, and my Father in Heaven took care of me.

In a few minutes after leaving the train I was in Zion Home. Oh, what a haven of rest this was to me! I felt so safe and at rest, for I knew that I was in the midst of God's people. They were all so kind to me.

I had money enough to stay only one week, for my people thought if there was anything in Divine Healing that I would get it in that time. How little we knew or understood God's Way.

At the end of the week I cried to God, "I cannot go home," for I felt that I needed more teaching. I stayed another week and trusted God to send the money, and He did.

During the time I was at the Home, I received a measure of healing. I was perfectly and permanently healed of constipation, which had been caused from the long-continued inflammation in my side. I also received new life and blood; my flesh became healthy-looking—just like a little child's.

When in Zion I heard the wonderful, plain and powerful teaching, which I had never heard before, of Repentance toward God and Faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

There God gave me not only a glimpse of myself, but a good, plain look at a wasted life.

I had always been unruly, disobedient and self-willed; had skated, danced and studied far beyond my strength; had lived, as it were, about three days every day of my life. I had never taken any care of my health, and when I heard that my body was the Temple of the Holy Spirit, and that we should glorify God in our bodies, I began to see how grievously I had sinned.

I deeply repented and, thank God, I got down deep enough in humility and repentance to put my foundation upon the eternal and solid Rock Christ Jesus.

I cried, "Lord, take me as I am"; and, praise His Holy Name, I have proven Him to be the Helper of the helpless.

Although I have not a merit to offer, I came just in the Name of Jesus and found that the blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin, and that God saved me to the uttermost.

When in Zion Home I came out of the Methodist Church, and am thankful to God that I had the privilege of following my Lord in Baptism, and also of becoming a member of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

At the end of two weeks I came home and was very much exhausted by the journey. I had to stay in Meaford from Friday until Sunday before I was able to go out home.

Then I began to seek God day and night, for I could sleep but very little.

During this time God gave me a heart to know Him and impressed upon my mind the truths I heard in Zion.

I gathered up all my medicine, threw some of it out and burned the remainder, and looked to God alone for healing.

I had been praying for perfect healing, yet there seemed some hindrance in the way. The thought came to me so plainly, "The fault must be in yourself. God never fails."

Praise God, I have found out that Christ never yet lost a battle.

I prayed to God to show me where I was wrong.

I heard that an old school friend, Ben Heslip, of Clarksburg (who had been a helpless cripple from rheumatism whom three doctors had pronounced incurable), had been healed by the "Great Physician," so I wrote and asked him and his mother to come up. They came.

As we talked, he said, "We are old friends. If I came and asked you for my dinner, you would give it to me?"

I said, "Yes."

This is the illustration he used: There was a table in the room. He said: "If you put the dinner on the table and I just stayed back here and kept begging and begging for it, it never would do me any good unless I accepted it. That is just what you are doing. You are begging and begging the Lord to heal you. Why don't you accept it? God is willing, waiting and able to heal you, and He does not want you to wait five minutes for your healing; for He never wanted you to be sick at all."

I said, "That is just where I am," and I felt that Christ was no farther than across the room from me.

When they were leaving for home that evening I asked him to pray for me, and said, "They are praying for me in Zion and I will pray for myself."

I claimed the promise in Mark 16:17, 18: "These signs shall follow them that believe. . . . They shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

Dr. Dowie had laid hands upon me and prayed, and I knew that he believed; and I felt that when I fulfilled all the Divine conditions relative to my healing, God's promise would be fulfilled.

It was a beautiful night, the 28th of September, 1898.

As I was lying still praying, all at once I felt that Christ was bending over my bed, holding out to me that blessed gift of Healing.

I said, "Lord, I will accept that blessing right now."

I thanked Him for it and felt that it was all right.

On other nights I would not get to sleep until two, three and often four o'clock in the morning, but now I simply went to sleep without a doubt or fear.

In the night I became very warm, and thinking that there was too much clothing on the bed, threw off some quilts and went to sleep again.

Again I wakened up and the words were coming out of my mouth, "Glory to God in the highest," "Praise the Lord," "Thank the Lord, I am healed."

I was just glowing from head to feet; had not an ache or pain, and knew that I was made every whit whole, for I had the witness of the Spirit.

I felt that I had been baptized with the fire of the Holy Spirit, with the cleansing, healing, purifying, life-giving rays of "The Sun of Righteousness."

The next morning my sister and I drove to town, five miles.

In the afternoon I did a good-sized ironing.

That night after retiring, as my father and mother were going upstairs, I called them into my room and told them about my healing; for I had not told them much about it before.

After they left my room, the fulness of joy came and I said, "Lord, I never can thank Thee enough for this wonderful blessing. I will have to have help," when all at once the room seemed to be filled with singing.

The next morning I took the pony myself and drove two and one-half miles; came home, swept and cleaned a room, my mother following me around to take the broom from me, for she did not understand, and thought it terrible to see me sweeping.

Next day was Saturday, and as I had asked God not only for the crumbs, but the whole loaf, when I went to Him for healing, I mopped the large kitchen floor, to the amazement of all in the house.

On Sunday I drove eleven miles and went to church twice.

On Monday did some washing and went to visit a friend; came home Tuesday evening, so happy and well, without an ache or pain.

My spine, which was bent from a fall when a child, was also straightened.

One time, over a year ago, I began to be troubled with a pain in my heart. My hands and arms would get numb.

I saw Mr. Heslip and asked him to pray for me. He did, and I was healed.

Shortly after this God permitted me to be very sorely tried. One night I wakened up with a terrible pain in my heart. I felt as if there were a hundred nerves around my heart and as if there were a kink in every one of them.

As I had been lying on my left side, Satan's first suggestion of doubt was, "Call some one to turn you over." But I said, "No! Lord, You know all about this."

I determined to trust God even to death.

After a while I sat up. Then I was worse than ever—suffocating—first gasping for breath; and for some time could not move again.

I suffered all night.

I did not think of taking medicine. I have not taken a drop of medicine since I was healed, over two years ago.

In the morning I got up and went to work as usual, realizing that this was a temptation.

I had been intending to visit a friend, but Satan said, "You dare not go; you would be sure to get worse."

I did not believe him, so in the afternoon I started off, walking two and one-quarter miles. When I got there I was all right.

My heart is perfectly well ever since, and thank God it is a new heart, pure and clean.

Healed of Pneumonia at Time of Prayer.

SAWYER, WISCONSIN, December 19, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I bad a request for prayer sent to you last week, and, praise God, your prayer was answered.

I am thankful to you and do praise God for His great love to the people of His creation.

I was very sick indeed with pneumonia, but the pain ceased as soon as the time came that I asked you to pray.

May God bless and keep all Zion.

Yours in Christ Jesus, (MRS) D. L. MCLENNAN.

God Heals Bone Felon.

IDAVILLE, INDIANA, December 18, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—It is with a grateful heart that I write to tell you about the healing of my finger, which had what they call a bone felon.

People said the bone would surely come out

When I thought it was time for you to pray for me, the felon broke and all the corruption came out.

My finger got well very nicely, without a scar, for which I thank you and give God the glory.

Yours in Christ, MATTIE E. GATES.

THE GENERAL OVERSEER SETS SAIL FOR AMERICA.

Grimsby Mission Successful; Forty-Four Baptized. London Meetings Successful Amidst Much Opposition and Disturbance. Several Miracles of Healing. Rev. Jane Dowie Ordained Overseer. Other Officers Ordained.

BY THE TIME this number of LEAVES OF HEALING reaches the majority of our readers, the General Overseer, God willing, will again be upon American soil!

How all Zion rejoices that the time of his homecoming is so close at hand!

How all Zion gives joyous thanks to God that He has preserved His Messenger and those with him amidst the perils of travel and amidst the still worse perils in the midst of demon-possessed, murderous men and women who were thirsting to kill him.

How all Zion praises God and gives Him glory that He has done such a marvelous work through His Messenger in the few short months that he has been away!

The story has not even begun to be told in these pages.

The cablegrams from the General Overseer, full of blessing as they have been, have given only glimpses of the wonderful battles which have been fought, of the glorious victories which have been won.

God, through His Messenger, has been making history in Europe. It is too much to expect of flesh and blood that the same man should make history and write it at the same time.

On Lord's Day, December 30, 1900, the following cablegram was read in the presence of nearly 2000 happy worshipers in Central Zion Tabernacle:

LONDON, December 30, 1900.

ZION, Michigan Avenue, Chicago.
Rejoice!
Grimsby Mission successful.
Overflowing meetings City Hall.
Many blessed.
Baptized forty-four.
Branches organized Doncaster and Manchester under ordained officers.
London meetings Bermondsey Town Hall successful amidst much opposition and disturbance.
Several Miracles of Healing.
Organized London Branch today.
Over one hundred members.
Ordained Overseer, Jane Dowie, five Deacons, one Deaconess.
Installed Evangelist Cantel temporary charge.
About to baptize nearly fifty this afternoon.
Will cable Zion's New Year Motto tomorrow.
Praise God.
Pray.
Mizpah. DOWIE.

ZION'S MOTTO FOR 1901.

"Arise Ye, and Let Us Go Up to Zion Unto the Lord Our God."—Jeremiah Thirty-One, Six. The General Overseer's Cablegram to the All-Night Meeting, Central Zion Tabernacle.

LONDON time is six hours earlier than Chicago time, and when the midnight hour was reached, the Lord's Supper celebrated and the midnight song sung by the General Overseer, at the All-Night Meeting in London, the All-Night Meeting in Central Zion Tabernacle, Chicago, had not yet begun.

When that hour came, in London, the General Overseer announced Zion's Motto for 1901, and cabled it to Zion in Chicago. It was read in Central Zion Tabernacle, at midnight, after the Lord's Supper.

There was a most fervent Amen from every true child of God in the Tabernacle, when they heard the glorious words of the Motto which God had given His Messenger for the first year in the New Century. The following is the cablegram:

LONDON, December 31, 1900.

ZION, Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Zion's Motto for the New Year is, "Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God."—Jeremiah 31:6.

My deepest sympathy and heart's love goes forth to you each in Central Zion Tabernacle.

As the gates of the Twentieth Century are opened to you and to Zion in every land, multitudes shall come and sing in the height of Zion.

God willing, I sail for Boston in Cunard steamer Saxonia, on Wednesday, January 2d.

Hallelujah! God reigns.

Pray in faith for a closer walk with God and for Christ's Triumph everywhere.

Mizpah. DOWIE.

GENERAL OVERSEER'S FINAL MESSAGE FROM EUROPE.

God Delivers Zion Party From Very Dangerous Mob in London, and Reveals a Plot to Murder the General Overseer at All-Night Meeting. Plot Foiled. Zion Absolutely Victorious in London. Zion's Message Made Known to Millions in Europe. Landslide Impending. More Lace Experts Coming.

THE last message of the General Overseer from Europe was sent from Queenstown, Ireland, Thursday, January 3, 1901, where the Cunard steamer Saxonia touched on her way to Boston, Massachusetts, U. S. A

It was read in Central Zion Tabernacle, Chicago, on Lord's Day afternoon, January 6, 1901.

There was great rejoicing over the wonderful victories which it related and the glorious prophecies of still greater blessings which it contained.

Every heart sent up a fervent prayer that God would protect His Servant and those with him on the sea and bring him safely home to Zion, Chicago. The following is the cablegram:

QUEENSTOWN, January 3, 1901.

ZION, Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Rejoice!

Philistia is howling.

See fourteenth Isaiah, thirty-first, Revised Version. (Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou art melted away, O Philistia, all of thee; for there cometh a smoke out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks.)

All see that there is no straggler in his ranks.

Terrible riot Bermondsey, Lord's Day night.

Hundreds of medical rowdies violently interrupted us and came to blows with quiet Christian people, who expostulated.

Police seemed paralyzed with fear.

All Zion behaved nobly.

Overseer Jane Dowie and our daughter were especially brave.

There was much danger to our lives.

God gave us victory.

The enemy was utterly routed and went howling into the darkness.

Zion continued until nearly midnight, when all was quiet.

But Zion's foes were determined to murder me at Camberwell, Monday night.

God revealed their plot and we held our gatherings in Hotel Russell and a private house near Russell Square.

Medical Philistines were left in London still howling to the Masonic Baal.

Hungry press Philistines clamored for interviews even to the ship, but none were granted, so they brought forth broods of lies and are sending them everywhere.

Zion is absolutely victorious in London and has a strong hold on the attention of Europe.

Zion's Message of God's Eternal Covenant of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living has been made known to millions in these five months.

Branches of Zion are springing up everywhere.

Miracles of Salvation and Healing have been wrought.

Great landslides from apostate churches are impending.

Zion is everywhere discussed.

All eyes are on Zion City and many will soon be on their way.

"Arise ye, and let us go to Zion," finds an answer in multitudes of hearts.

Many are preparing to obey the Watchman's cry from the hills of Ephraim.

Go Forward, O Zion.

Victory is assured.

Do not delay.

We had bright sunshine yesterday all the way from London to Liverpool. After terrible storms, delightful night at sea on voyage to Queenstown.

Deacon Sprecher, Stenographer Williams and Captain Stern are my companions on Saxonia.

All well.

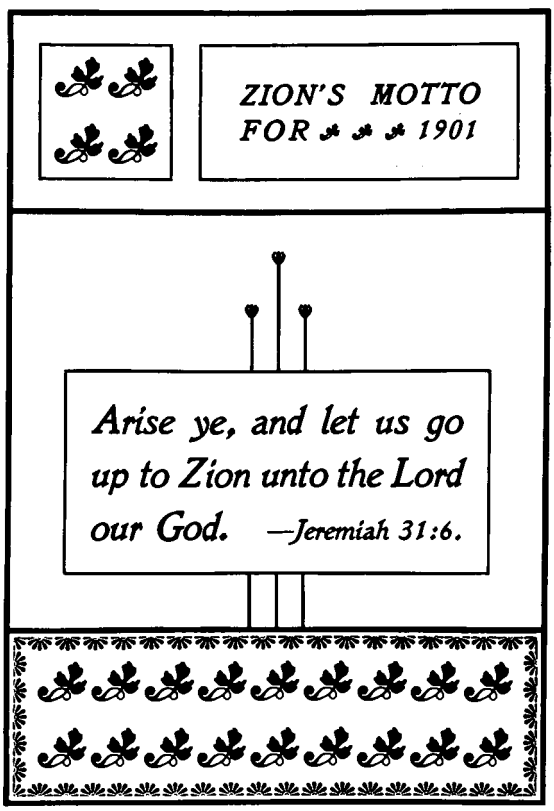
Hope to enter Boston eleventh and arrive Zion, Chicago, seventeenth.

Another party of Lace Experts sail today from Liverpool and the remainder with Arthur Stevenson on seventeenth.

Rejoice!

The Twentieth Century is Zion's.

"Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou art melted away, O Philistia, all of thee; for there cometh a smoke out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks. What then shall one of them answer the Messengers of the nation? That the Lord hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of His people take refuge."



Glorious days are at hand, and victory for God all along the line.

Pray for us on these wintry seas.

God rules the elements.

Hallelujah!

Mizpah. DOWIE.

Immediately after sending this cablegram, the General Overseer and party started on their ten-days' voyage across the Atlantic, homeward bound.

Tens of thousands of loving friends await his homecoming with great joy; the American public looks forward to it with intense interest; the sorcerers, the murderers, the adulterers, the false swearers, the oppressors and those who fear not God, against whom he is coming to witness, are regarding his approach with terror and would vainly attempt to prevent his return.

But he will return and, under his Divinely-guided direction, Zion will Go Forward as never before.

All indications point to showers of blessing which will begin with the first great gathering in the Coliseum on Lord's Day, January 20, 1901.

Zion in America has won respect and confidence for her marvelous harmony, unity, progress, and loyalty to the General Overseer, during his absence in Europe.

This, with the added impetus of the great victories which God has given the General Overseer in Europe, will make Zion a still greater conquering power for God, and for the extension of His Kingdom.

WHEN John the Baptist sent his disciples to Jesus to ask Him if He were the Christ, our Lord performed Miracles of Healing before them and said to them, "Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good tidings preached to them."—Luke 7:22.

This was to be the proof for John that they had found the Christ.

He has not changed, but is ready to do the same for His people if they have sufficient faith to claim it.

We give extracts from a letter written by a lady in an institution for the deaf.

Your kind letter is received, and I thank you for the Christian interest you express.

I often feel the need of sympathy as well as of advice and instruction.

You ask of my work here and regarding the distribution of literature among the deaf. I have thought a great deal on Divine Healing and its practical bearing on the deaf.

Surely the time will come when they shall be delivered from this terrible bondage—more awful, it seems to me, than blindness, because it lays a band of iron upon the intellect and the sensibilities which few are strong enough to break.

My "cranky" views upon the subjects of pork, medicines, etc., are known to all of the teachers and officers here, and are regarded for the most part with polite silence or curiosity.

Several are genuinely interested, however, and ask me questions regarding Divine Healing and Dr. Dowie.

One of the patrons of the school is a Methodist minister. At first he expressed himself pleased with Zion teaching; but after I loaned him LEAVES OF HEALING, in which he read some plain teaching on Secret Societies, he has had nothing more to say, only announcing that Dr. Dowie was "badly off" on that subject. He informed us that he has more than a dozen passwords to Secret Societies.

I loan Zion Literature to all who will read it.

We Thank God Every Day for Leaves of Healing.

Thus writes a lady in New Whatcom, Washington, who is actively engaged in distributing Zion Literature. She says:

The enclosed $—— is for the Zion Literature Mission Fund.

I cannot express my thanks for the literature which you have sent me to distribute.

I do the work faithfully, distributing them from house to house and on the streets and through the cars.

I send them as far as Alaska and Maine.

When I get ready to go out with them, I first ask God to direct me where to go and to bless the words to whomsoever gets them.

After I had prayed one day, I felt impressed to go to the business houses and to the banks.

It came to me like a message, "Those are the people who get the daily papers from all parts of the world with all of the lies about Dr. Dowie and the work of Zion; take them the LEAVES and let them see the right side of the matter."

I selected the LEAVES having the picture of Dr. Dowie and his Business Cabinet on the first page, as being the most likely to interest them.

I distributed these in the business houses, the bank and Court House.

In talking with me, one of the business men since said, "The reading of Zion Literature puts a different light on the subject."

Nearly every week I buy extra copies and send them out; but I always wish I had many more to give out when I see how many need this teaching.

Many who believe themselves to be Christians are seeing the teachings of the Bible in a new light, through reading LEAVES OF HEALING.

One lady has just left the Methodist Church. Elder Simmons anointed her and prayed for her healing when he was here last week. She was at the meeting in our home today and was feeling better. Her face was beaming with happiness.

I wish I might carry LEAVES OF HEALING to every home in this city, for no one knows what God can do with even one copy.

God sent the Little White Dove five years ago into our home in a strange way. It was a Divinely-sent Message and an answer to my thirty years of prayer.

I praise God it was a glorious Message.

We thank God every day for LEAVES OF HEALING and for our General Overseer.

May God bring him and his loved ones safely back to us.

A lady writes from Dayton, Ohio, and says:

I have been very thankful to God and Zion Literature Mission for the papers received.

I have nearly one hundred copies of LEAVES OF HEALING in a circulating library.

One week after I give them I visit the families where I have left them and take them up, leaving others for them to read. The work is going on as well as could be expected, after all of the newspapers have been read and no one to defend. Praise God, the people do read and accept the true side. God is blessing us very much.

Today's mail brought us from one of our regular contributors an unusually large contribution, with the following note:

Enclosed find draft for Zion Literature Mission.

I am glad you are still firing LEAVES OF HEALING at the saved and unsaved.

I have been asking God to give me more for the Mission work, and, praise His Name, He is doing so.

"The silver is mine and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of Hosts."—Haggai 2:8.

Why should not God's children ask Him to put more of it into their hands to be used for His works?

The German edition of LEAVES OF HEALING is meeting with much favor. We hear of those who have been blessed through reading it.

A lady in Germany writes:

With great joy have I and my husband followed up the work of Zion. We have read LEAVES OF HEALING with great interest. Many a seemingly dark place in the Gospel has been cleared up to us by the General Overseer.

We thank God He let the Little White Dove fly to our home.

I have always believed some in Divine Healing, and my husband and I have been much strengthened through the teaching of Dr. Dowie.

THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN OPENED.

WILL a man rob God? yet ye rob Me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob Me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse, that there may be meat in Mine house, and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of hosts.— Malachi 3:8-12.

Prospered in Many Ways When God is Not Robbed.

WASHINGTON, IOWA, December 19, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—Since paying the tithe, almost six years ago, the Lord has prospered me in many ways.

I have experienced greater blessing in first giving the Lord His portion.

Yours in Christ Jesus, (MISS) IRENE ECKELS.

PERRY, MISSOURI, December 20, 1900.

OVERSEER W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—We have found great blessings follow tithing.

We have more money, better crops and greater spiritual blessings since we began to give God what was due Him and to trust our all with Him.

Faithfully yours in Jesus, MR. AND MRS. F. C. ROSS.

God Supplies Every Need of Those Who Pay Tithes.

SHERIDAN, WYOMING, December 28, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I do feel wonderfully blessed in paying my tithes.

I know God's promises are sure.

We have been blessed in many ways.

When I have paid my tithes out of what money I had, and needed more, God has always supplied my need.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) HATTIE M. MCCULLOCH.

Physical and Spiritual Blessings Result from Obedience in Tithing.

WASHINGTON, IOWA, December 27, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—God has wonderfully blessed me in paying tithes.

Carelessness has hindered, but after making things right, deliverance came.

My wants have been less in number and my needs supplied.

Blessings, both spiritual and physical, have been the result of obedience.

Yours faithfully in Jesus, (MRS.) JOSEPHINE CHERRY.

Blessed Spiritually and Financially in Obeying God.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—We are glad to testify that God is a Covenant-keeping God in regard to tithes.

We never paid tithes until we came into Zion.

Since we began, God has blessed us both spiritually and financially.

We have been enabled to make more money since going to Zion, four years ago, and give at least four times as much, as we did in the ten years previous.

We thank God for leading us to Zion to hear the Full Gospel as taught by the General Overseer.

Yours in the Master's Service, W. HURD CLENDINEN.

God's Tenth the First Fruits.

NEW WHATCOM, WASHINGTON, December 27, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—God has blessed us, according to His Word, in bringing the tithes into the Storehouse.

When my husband brings his wages home, we take the tenth out first.

Then I take the rest, lay it before God in prayer, and ask Him to bless it. And He does bless.

We help the needy whenever the call is made on us.

We praise God that Zion is teaching the whole Word of God.

Faithfully yours in Jesus, (MRS.) J. O. LEMACH.

Great Increase in Profits When God Was Paid His Tithe.

212 MAGNOLIA STREET.
CINCINNATI, OHIO, December 26, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I feel that it is my duty to write you a testimony thanking God for the blessings which we have received through tithing.

I can refer to two summers at work with our canal boat.

The first summer I was not in Zion, and we did not pay any tithes, and we made seventy-five trips.

The second summer I was in Zion and paid tithes.

The season was a little shorter and we only made sixty-five trips, but I cleared $75 more the second season than I did the first season.

Had I made the other ten trips, how much more I could have cleared.

We are off the canal now, and can feel the blessing. Our money goes further in our home now than it ever did before. We have more money to, do God's work, and we love to do it. We thank God for health and strength and all His blessings and the teaching of Zion.

Your Brother in Christ Jesus, WILLIAM BARROWCLIFF.

Blessed in Bringing the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse.

MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, December 10, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—In reply to request in LEAVES OF HEALING, we can heartily say God has blessed us in bringing the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse, and shown us how we can add an offering besides, even though it is small. It is no burden, but a pleasure, which results in God supplying all our needs. Mother and sister join me in sending the above testimony, as we are of one mind.

I am yours all for Christ, NINA WAZAU.

The Nine-Tenths Goes Further When God Receives His Tenth.

842 GARDEN STREET,
NEW WHATCOM, WASHINGTON, December 24, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—We can truly say we believe we have been blessed in many ways through tithing.

When we get our pay and take God's share out first, and lay it aside for His use, it seems that what is left goes twice as far as it did before.

We never seem to be short of money for all our needs.

We feel that every dollar we put into the care of our beloved General Overseer will be faithfully used in our Father's work.

We can both see and feel the work that is being done by Zion. We would not be happy now if we were not paying our tithes to God.

We believe a glorious future awaits the faithful children of Zion.

Faithfully yours in Jesus, WILLIAM AND MARY MANN.

God Blesses Abundantly Those Who Pay Him His Own.

GERMANTOWN, CALIFORNIA, December 19, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—A little over a year ago we began reading and studying Zion Literature.

This has been the most blessed year, spiritually, physically and financially, we ever experienced.

We understand the Bible as we never did before. We live closer to our Heavenly Father, and enjoy more of His Presence.

We have had wonderful answers to prayer.

We put our business in the hands of the Lord, and this has been one of the most successful years we ever had.

We keep a careful account of our tithing, which is difficult in a farming business. We pay to the Lord's work, and He blesses us abundantly.

MR. AND MRS. KENDRICK.

God Sent Fourfold When Tithes Were Paid.

450 BEACON AVENUE,
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA, December 30, 1900.

DEAR BROTHER IN CHRIST:—The first tithes I paid, I had gotten down to $4. I owed $3 to God.

My husband, a traveling man, was then on the road. I did not know where to write him.

If I paid $3 I would have only $1 to live on for perhaps a week.

I determined to pay my tithes. I said, "God says, 'I will pour you out a blessing.'"

I sent the $3 to Zion.

The next morning a lady who had been owing us for over a year came and paid me $8.50.

When the mail came it brought me $5 from my husband.

I also received $15 from another source, so that in all I found that I had more than fourfold.

Since then I have never been afraid to give up my last cent.

I think great blessings come from paying tithes.

I am one who heartily believes in paying tithes.

Yours for Jesus, (MRS.) O. C. FORD.

A VOICE TO ZION AND GOD'S PEOPLE IN EVERY LAND.

O thou that tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the High Mountain Lift up thy Voice with strength: Lift it up, be not afraid: Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Isaiah, XL:9.

THE EVERLASTING GOSPEL DECLARED.

Report of Meetings held in Divine Healing Home No. 1, October 22 and 24, 1894. "Gifts of Healings Permanent in the Church," and "Lord, but Say the Word."

A TRUE WORD, spoken in love, is an inestimable power. It never dies. It goes on and on, spreading the light until the time shall come when "They need no light of lamp, neither light of sun; for the Lord God shall give them light."

All the wonderful words of God's truth; words based upon God's Word; words given him by God's Holy Spirit; words spoken with all the power of a Divinely-imparted love, which God's Messenger in Zion has spoken, have brought blessing to men in ever-widening circles.

They have been carried on the snowy wings of the Little White Dove over mountain and plain; over burning sands and ocean wave; into kings' palaces and into the dark haunts of poverty; and everywhere they have gone, men have turned from sin, have cried unto God for mercy, and have found pardon, peace and healing.

Those words have been treasured up in grateful, loving hearts and have found expression in holy lives, deeds of consecrated service and joyous testimonies to God's wonderful works in them.

The two talks which follow are full of the most blessed Divine truth, spoken by God's Messenger to Zion six years ago.

The absolute unchangeableness of God's Way of Healing, from the earliest days of His dealings with His people down to the present time, is set forth in a striking and convincing manner in the first talk. In the second is shown the great blessing which God gives to those who, through faith, can say, as did the centurion, "Lord, but say the word, and Thy servant shall be healed." These discourses have brought many blessings to those who heard them and lived the truths as set forth. They have proved, in their own bodies, that the Gifts of Healings have not been taken away.

The General Overseer has not revised these reports.

GIFTS OF HEALINGS PERMANENT IN THE CHURCH.

Divine Healing Home No. 1. October 22. 1894.

Dr. Dowie said: We are tarrying a long time with the eighth chapter of Matthew, for this is the center of all our teaching, especially the first seventeen verses. We have found it so for many years, these words especially, "Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases." I was dealing with the willingness of the Lord to heal. "I will; be thou clean."

Everything in Divine Healing Turns Upon the Willingness of God to Heal.

The origin of disease has engaged our attention in previous talks. I have dealt quite at length with the position that disease is the consequence of sin and the work of Satan. I have showed that inasmuch as our Lord Jesus Christ came to destroy the works of the Devil, He could not destroy these works without destroying disease, for disease is the work of Satan. Disease is the progeny of Father Satan and Mother Sin, who have brought forth a horrid brood of all kinds of miseries which curse humanity, disease being by no means the least.

Because disease was the work of the Devil, and our Lord Jesus Christ came to destroy the works of the Devil, and as Peter said in the house of Cornelius, "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil," and inasmuch as never did our Lord Jesus Christ say that disease was the work or will of God, I hold it was reasonable, logical and Scriptural to declare that our Lord Jesus Christ was willing to destroy disease.

After all, that was a negative side of the question, and the question is, Can we be quite sure that His will is positively to heal, and are we sure that He is at all times willing?

An Objection to Divine Healing on the Ground of an Alleged Change in God's Way of Healing.

Against the position that He is, people sometimes argue: "Dr. Dowie, you make a mistake; you are speaking as if God were willing to act now as He did nineteen centuries ago. God is not willing to act in that way now because it has pleased Him in His Infinite Wisdom to work by other means. The Gifts of Healings were only given for a time. They were removed when the necessity for them ceased to exist. The necessity for these gifts was to establish the Christian religion, and inasmuch as that has been firmly and fully established, the necessity for miracles has passed away and healing reverts to the old operation of nature and its laws."

That is the common teaching of the theological seminaries and the common teaching of the churches.

It is wholly false.

There is No Scripture Commanding, Advising or Even Implying the Use of Drugs for Healing.

In the first place, the whole assumption that God ever at any time had designed that men should be healed by means of medicines, science or doctors, whichever you wish to call it, is an assumption which cannot be based upon a single iota of Scripture truth. From Genesis to Revelation there is not one single passage which says or even implies that God has said to His people, "Is any among you sick, let him call for a doctor."

If that is the case, do you not see that the assumption is wholly unfounded in Scripture?

Inasmuch as the Scripture is to Christians the one infallible rule and guide, and inasmuch as for 4100 years of dealing with His children God never once commanded that they were to seek for healing through man, the assumption that medicine is a reversion to God's ordinary way of healing is totally unfounded.

Such teaching is diametrically opposed to the fact that God has always revealed Himself as the Healer. He made a Covenant with Moses and His people at the waters of Marah 1490 years before Christ came in the flesh. He told Moses what to do when he came to the springs and found them polluted, so that they could drink. He bade Moses cut down a tree in that desert and cast it into the waters, and promised that when he did this the waters would be healed and that the people who were famishing with thirst should drink.

Everything happened as God had declared. Moses, with simple faith, in advance of all science, so-called, cut down the tree and threw it into the water. The highest and truest science was to obey God. He obeyed God and God did what He promised. He healed the bitter waters. He made the bitter waters sweet. Then He made a Covenant. Then He gave Divine Healing as an absolute Covenant with His people; made it upon certain distinct and clear conditions. He said:

> If thou wilt diligently hearken to the Voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in His eyes, and wilt give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have put upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee.

Old Testament Verses Which Seem to Say That God Caused Evil Should be Translated Permissively.

I will call your attention to a point contained in the closing words of the passage: "I will put none of the diseases." The verb there is permissive, not causative. Dr. Robert Young in his Hebrew Concordance of the Scriptures agrees with me in that interpretation. I said it years before the Concordance appeared. As a matter of satisfaction, I am glad that a scholar has agreed to that which I declared years ago. I have called the attention of far greater scholars, professors of certain universities, to the point. They said that the point had never been raised, but they were perfectly amazed to find that a very large number of cases to which I gave them a clew were undoubtedly cases in which the active verb must be translated permissively.

The last clause is properly translated in the permissive sense: "I will permit to be put upon thee none of the diseases which I have permitted to be put upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee."

God, as you know, did not want the Egyptians to suffer at all. He sent His servant Moses to demand that His people be set free. Pharaoh hardened his heart, and God simply withdrew His protecting hand that they should reap as they had sown: plague after plague. "He that hath the power of death . . . is the Devil." God simply permitted the Devil to have his way by permitting him to bring plague after plague on the land—within limits. God simply permitted him to do certain things.

The question of permission is always a fine and somewhat difficult question. It is clear in God's work that God never causes evil. He may permit man to reap the consequences of sin.

There is no good whatever in disease. God simply permits man to receive the consequences of his own transgressions. There is no good in it except in this sense, that man is thereby taught that the wages of sin is death, and that the Law of the Spirit of Life, in Christ, is come to set him free from the Law of Sin and Death.

God Never Does Evil That Good May Come.

He is ever pleading with humanity to avoid falling into these things. In the case of the Egyptians, for instance, He sent His servant for the very purpose of beseeching the Egyptians, who had broken the covenant with Him and His people, to no longer continue this breaking of the covenant and enslaving the people, and to let God's chosen people go. But the Egyptians refused to obey, and God permitted them to reap a little of what they had sown.

God does not permit man to reap all he has sown. He is constantly interposing, permitting the Devil to go only so far and evil men to go so far, restraining them in His Infinite Mercy; for the sake of His people sparing humanity.

> If thou wilt diligently hearken to the Voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in His eyes, and wilt give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have put upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee.

God says that these conditions being fulfilled, He will permit to be put upon us none of these diseases. But the conditions are that we shall hear God and do what God tells us. The conditions never alter in any dispensation.

The Only Faith Worth the Name is That Which Finds Expression in Obedience.

For people to talk about an abstract faith which does not come down to Obedience is arrant nonsense.

Faith is absolute and practical and constant and determined Obedience to God, no matter what the consequences may be. Faith is hearing and doing. It is four times repeated in that Covenant: "Diligently hearken to the Voice of the Lord thy God," and "Do that which is right in His eyes," and "Give ear to His commandments," and "Keep all His statutes." You are to have nothing to do with listening to any other voice. It will be no excuse to say that some one else said so and so. The question is, "What did God say?"

In the great Day of Judgment you will not be vindicated; your conduct will be disapproved and severely condemned and you will lose, by not obeying God absolutely.

The trouble is that men are listening to the voices of ten thousand times ten thousand men, and not to the Voice of God. I do not ask you to listen to my voice except in so far as God in His Infinite Love and Mercy permits me to voice His own Word.

Some suppose they have nothing to do to get their healing. In a passive way they sit here and say, "I suppose that is all essential to my healing, but the sooner it is over the better." Those who listen like that will never get blessing. You must listen, and you must listen diligently. You must be quite sure that it is the Voice of God to which you harken.

You can determine whether any voice is the Voice of God or not. If it is, it will agree with all that is good and right in your conscience and reason. It will agree with the Word of God. If it differs from the Word of God, it is not the Voice of God, and if it differs from sound reason, it is not the Voice of God.

You are at liberty to disobey the Voice of God; but if you disobey, you sin; not because I say it, but because God said it.

The Covenant of Divine Healing Has Never Been Altered.

I therefore hold that those who say that medical science is a reversion to God's original plan, that God is not willing to heal today, must be charged with erring, not knowing the Scriptures nor the continuous power of God manifested in continuous ministry of healing.

There is no change in God. "I am the Lord, I change not," was said through Malachi by God Himself in the last of the Old Testament, and this Covenant is at the opening of the revelation to His chosen people, 1100 years before.

"I am the Lord that healeth thee," is at the beginning, and "I am the Lord, I change not," at the end. In the very middle of the Bible you will find:

> Bless the Lord, O my soul,
> Who forgiveth all mine iniquities;
> Who healeth all thy diseases.

God's Word gives voice always to the same thing.

As for the New Testament, the man who does not see Divine Healing taught in it is wilfully blind. He shuts his eyes. He shuts his ears. He hardens his heart. The New Testament from the very beginning to the end is full of Divine Healing.

From the opening of our Lord's ministy He went about doing good, teaching, preaching and healing. He proclaimed, when He opened His mission in the synagogue of Nazareth, fourth chapter of Luke, that He had come for the very purpose of saving and healing. Divine Healing is all through every Gospel and in the Acts of the Apostles down to the very last line, when Paul turns upon the rabbis and Jews of Rome and declares to them:

For this people's heart is waxed gross,
And their ears are dull of hearing,
And their eyes they have closed;
Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And should turn again,
And I should heal them.

Divine Healing in the Epistles and Revelation.

The Epistle to the Romans is full of it. The redemption of the body is the very center of the whole teaching in Romans: the redemption of the body from the power of Satan and sin and disease and death and hell.

All through the Epistle to the Corinthians there is a command to yield your body to God, and the glorious promise that the life of righteousness shall be made manifest.

Throughout the other epistles the same thought runs. When you get to Revelation it is full of it until you come to the end, where the River of Life is flowing from God and the Leaves of the Tree are for the Healing of the Nations.

To say that God has revealed Himself to humanity as healing in any other way, is not in accordance with the Word of God. This statement which is made in theological seminaries is merely an assumption and a poor, pitiful excuse for the purpose of supplying a faithless ministry with a false reason for the cessation of the Gifts of Healings.

The statement that the Gifts of Healings were only imparted for a time is entirely contrary to the Word of God; for the Word of God declares:

The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance.

There can be no possible mistake as to what these gifts are; for they are enumerated with exceeding accuracy by the Apostle Paul in 1 Corinthians 12:1-11:

Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

How often ought this passage to be read in Church! Never was the Church so intensely ignorant as today on the question of spiritual gifts.

For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom; and to another the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit; to another faith, in the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healings, in the one Spirit; and to another workings of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discernings of spirits: to another divers kinds of tongues; and to another the interpretation of tongues; but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each one severally even as he will.

Gifts of Healings are Permanent in the Church.

Taking that passage in connection with the one just quoted from Romans, "For the gifts and the calling of God are without repentance," you will see that any one who says that God has taken from us, or repented of, the Gifts of Healings, lies. Either he lies or God lies.

God cannot lie.

Hence the theologians lie.

There are a great many liars around, are there not? The Gifts of Healings are among the Nine Gifts. There is no man in the Church today who would say that the first three are taken away: the Word of Wisdom, the Word of Knowledge, and Faith.

What about the other six? Do not we need them still?

There is no use of people spinning out theological theories which have no Scripture to back them. As Protestant Christians have refused to take the interpretation of a fallible Church and have demanded that the Church shall be guided by the Word of God, which is infallible, they should believe the doctrine of Divine Healing which is taught all through that Word.

The Church of God Must be Guided by the Word of God.

We care nothing for the Roman Councils, or the decisions of Roman popes, or the writings of Roman fathers, except in so far as they are in accordance with the Word of God.

The Church of God is not the superior of Scripture. Scripture is inspired by the Holy Spirit for the guidance and the control of the Church of God. The Church which refuses to be guided or controlled by the Scripture is a false Church, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic.

The man or woman who refuses to be guided by the Word of God has fallen away from Him. There is no other decision. Either the Church must be above the Word of God or must be ruled by the Word of God. It cannot be both.

As for the power to interpret the Word of God, the Church cannot interpret it in a manner which is opposed to common sense, to sound reason and to the clear, unmistakable meaning which the words were intended to convey when they were first written.

It does not matter whether it is a Church of Rome, a Presbyterian, a Congregationalist, a Baptist or any other Church, the Church or minister who refuses to be controlled and guided by the Word of God is apostate and fallen.

The Protestant churches are apostate in so far as they have denied the perpetuation of that which God declares is absolutely without any change.

The charge of apostasy is a very serious charge, and no man should make it lightly.

If a Church has it in its own hands to purge itself of that charge, it must purge itself.

Instead of teaching that God has set Gifts of Healings permanently in the Church, they say He has set the science of medicine.

Medicine, Physicians Admit, is Not a Science.

Doctors themselves laugh at the expression. The wisest physicians of the day, not the least in rank in the army of Hippocrates or Galen, not the least in rank in the various schools of medical treatment, and every man of common sense and honesty throughout the whole medical profession, will tell you that medicine is purely speculative. They will admit that they have not found the first stone to lay as the foundation of a science, and that they are continually being disappointed.

They cry "Eureka! I have found it!" and they find it is only one more bubble which they have grasped; a will-o'-the-wisp which leads them into deeper bogs of fraud and humbug and lying. Take LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume I, Number 4, pages 61 to 63. There are about one hundred doctors' own statements as to what medical science is. Who challenges these statements? I did not invent them. They are quoted accurately. They are not quoted out of their proper context. They are statements which can bear only one interpretation. I know from my own personal knowledge in the great University of Edinburgh, in which many noted doctors have received their education. The highest professors in that University have declared in my hearing that medicine is not a science.

This statement that medicine is a science is met by the doctors themselves, who say with one voice, "You are wrong, medicine is not a science." This statement is also met by the fact that you can take any congregation, as I often take the congregations in Zion Tabernacle, and say to them, "All who have been to doctors and taken medicine, put up your hands." Almost without exception all hold up their hands. When you ask all who were perfectly healed by doctors and medicines to put up their hands, no hands are raised. When you ask all who have been healed through faith in Jesus to stand, hundreds rise to their feet.

God Would Not Take Away Gifts of Healings and Give Such an Inefficient Substitute as Medicine.

A bit of sound reasoning would make you think, "Could God have taken away the greater and substituted the lesser?"

Thirty five centuries ago God revealed Himself to Moses and that rabble which came out of Egypt; to that poor mass of enslaved humanity, so long ground down under oppression, so wretched, so unclean, that they all perished in the desert except a very few who, with their children, entered into the Promised Land. Thank God for giving so mighty and glorious a Covenant to these, His people, in their discouraged condition.

Is it in accordance with your conception of God that now, at a later period, with all the glory of Jesus Christ and the manifestation of the Holy Spirit, He should take that Covenant away and leave in its place every medical quack and medical sham and all kinds of abominable opposing systems, none of which heal? Is that in accordance with God's mercy in dealing with His children? It is not. God would never take away the greater to substitute for it the lesser, even if the lesser were a good thing, which in this case is not provable.

It is not provable that medicine is at all a beneficent thing. It is not provable that men would have gotten better quicker with the use of any medicine. Doctors themselves confirm this. "People get better," one candid man says in these quotations, "in spite of our medicines, and not because of them."

Miracles of Healing are Needed Now to Prove the Truth of the Gospel as Much as in Jesus' Life and Apostolic Times.

The statement that the Christian religion has been sufficiently established by works which were wrought nineteen centuries ago is not reasonable, inasmuch as historical statements can be questioned with more or less show of reason. As a matter of fact, coming to a candid admission, we have no older manuscripts of the New Testament in existence than those written in the Fourth Century. If Christianity is depending simply upon the possession of historical documents to prove its truth, then the infidel may say to us, "Find me a manuscript of your documents, written between the First and Fourth Centuries."

Christianity does not depend for its truthfulness upon the possession of any such manuscripts. It depends and always will depend for its truthfulness upon the fact that the Church of God is the possessor of the gifts, founded upon Christ, graces and powers which God revealed in these Scriptures.

If Christ is the Same, Christianity Should be the Same.

The same works are wrought in tne same Name.

It is, therefore, important that the Church of God should express the same characteristics in the Nineteenth Century as in the First. The infidels have a perfect right to demand that Christianity of today shall be exactly like the Christianity of nineteen centuries ago. You have no right to demand, on the ground of pure reason, that they shall believe the miracles of nineteen centuries ago if you cannot show them the same wonder-working God in the Nineteenth Century.

Inasmuch as Christ said, "He that believeth on Me, the works that I do shall he do also"; "these signs shall follow them that believe: in My Name they shall lay hands on the sick and they shall recover"; "the prayer of faith shall save the sick," reason demands to see the things done. Therefore, the assertion of the Church that Christianity was sufficiently established by miracles nineteen centuries ago, the proof of which depends, so far as manuscripts are concerned, upon manuscripts written nearly three centuries after the events, will not do. It is not sufficient to satisfy human reason.

If you can show that God is the same God; that Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever; that the same works are wrought today in Chicago which were wrought nineteen centuries ago in Jerusalem, then you are writing another page of the Gospel which goes to show as many and just as clear proofs of its Divinity as the pages before us. That is what the world needs.

We cannot rest upon words which were merely for nineteen centuries ago. The Words of Christ are spoken to us. We declare and He declares that they are Spirit and Life. They are Eternal, and the same results will follow faithful obedience to them.

Miracles Wrought by God Today Cannot be Denied.

Robert Ingersoll may sneer at the miracles of nineteen centuries ago, but all the sneering of Ingersoll cannot alter the fact that miracles are wrought today. He cannot alter the fact which each of the issues of LEAVES OF HEALING asserts. He cannot deny that the little boy who came in with a paralyzed leg is running about today, attending the Armour Avenue public school on the other side of the city, and is in the class for physical instruction.

The infidels ask for facts, and we are stuffing them down their throats until they will have to stop talking.

If the whole Church of God instead of trying to mislead humanity by trying to reason away the plain language of Scripture, would just set to work and put it into practice, all infidelity would be swept away like chaff before the wind, like stubble before the fire.

"LORD, BUT SAY THE WORD."

Divine Healing Home No. 1, October 24, 1894.

Dr. Dowie read from the eighth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, the first seventeen verses, and from the first ten verses of the seventh chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

He then said: This morning we will speak concerning the centurion's servant's healing. Many persons have believed that this is a case in which it is evident that the Lord Jesus Christ healed without any faith upon the part of the person who was healed; that He healed in consequence of the faith of the person asking Him, and not upon the faith of the person whom He was asked to heal. The argument is that this centurion was faithful, but that the servant had nothing to do with the healing at all; that he was simply one whom his master loved, and that his master, therefore, had come to Christ concerning him.

Faith Necessary to Healing.

Dealing with that point, first of all, let us say that it is not in accordance with the facts nor with the principles of faith. "Without faith it is impossible to please God."

I think that the seventh chapter of Luke, which we have been reading, will take away that objection. Read the first and second verses:

> After He (Jesus) had ended all His sayings in the ears of the people, He (Jesus) entered into Capernaum.
> And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto Him (Jesus), was sick and at the point of death.

Make the antecedent of the personal pronoun all through, "Jesus." The conjunction and, which makes a separate sentence of the second verse, was really a word of the same sentence.

The assumption that the centurion's servant was dear unto the centurion and not to Jesus is not sound. Read the two verses as if one. Read the pronouns he, him and his, all through as referring to Jesus. It referred to Jesus in the first verse and why to the centurion in the second verse? Many read it as dear to the centurion, but I read it as dear unto Jesus.

The Centurion's Servant May Have Been One of Jesus' Disciples.

Possibly, as oftentimes was the case among rich people of those times, the centurion was blessed through his servant. Servants were often faithful and led their masters to Christ. In that case the Lord, of course, knew perfectly well who this servant was.

A little later than this He healed Peter's wife's mother, one of His disciples. The Word does not say that because she was Peter's wife's mother He healed her. Faith must be exercised by the persons themselves who are to be healed, except in a case of mental incapacity. In that case, the faith must be exercised by the person responsible before God and before man for the infant or imbecile person.

This passage throws a great deal of light on the subject. It shows that the centurion's servant was dear unto Jesus and therefore subject to His care. Having been appealed to, He healed him because the servant had faith to be healed—not only the master, but the servant had faith.

Possibly the master might have come because the servant implored him to beseech the Lord to heal him. However, in any event, the rule is laid down, "Without faith it is impossible to please God," and he had faith, however limited and imperfect it may have been. The principal point is to consider the story itself and how the Lord healed in this case.

It is a very beautiful story. It has been very much used in our meetings. I trust that God will use my exposition of it this morning.

The centurion was a man of considerable station. At this time Galilee was held in the grip of the conquering power, the Roman Empire. A centurion, although he commanded, as you see by his name, only 100 soldiers, was a man of considerable power. These soldiers inspired great terror.

At this time the whole Roman Empire was held by 180,000 soldiers throughout the eastern and western portions. Today there are 12,000,000 of armed men in the same country, and peace is not maintained.

The power of pagan Rome was very great. The terror her legions inspired was very great. One hundred soldiers represented a great deal, just as in India 100 British soldiers make quite a representation of British power.

Remarkable Faith of the Centurion.

But this centurion had become a devout Christian. It is evident that he believed that the Lord Jesus Christ was not only a good man, but that He was God. His faith was very remarkable. The Lord said He had not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

In the first place, that faith was based on a very deep humility and a consciousness of his own unworthiness. Reading the passage in Luke, you see that the rabbis first came to Jesus and besought Him to go and heal the centurion's servant, and the recommendation which they gave was, "He loveth our nation, and himself built us our synagogue." They thought that was a proof of his worthiness. It proved beyond all question that he took a great interest in them, and probably was a Jewish proselyte.

Church-Building Not Necessarily a Manifestation of Piety.

Many build churches who are servants of the Devil. They take a great hand in building, without any piety at all. It is not an evidence of piety to build a church. The Cathedral of St. Patrick in Dublin was restored by Sir Arthur Guiness, the great brewer, who was knighted for his services. It stands amidst the most squalid surroundings and on every side you can read, "Guiness' Beer, Guiness' Stout." It was out of the people that the money was taken. God will not bless that kind of church-building. The leprosy of sin is in the very walls.

This centurion was a man who built the synagogue because he really loved God and loved the nation and loved God's own people. They thought he was worthy on that account. The centurion did not think so. The proof that the centurion was really pious was that he did not think he was worthy. Hence he sent the rabbis to the Lord. Hence he said, when he talked with the Lord, "I am not worthy that Thou shouldest come under my roof."

True humility is always accompanied with great courage, great boldness, great faith. There is a spurious humility as there is a spurious imitation of everything that is good. Everything good is counterfeited. You never saw any one counterfeit a piece of brown paper, because it is not worth counterfeiting. People counterfeit bank notes and United States currency because they are worth counterfeiting. People counterfeit Christianity because it is worth counterfeiting. People counterfeit humility because it is worth counterfeiting. There is a spurious humility rarely accompanied by courage or faith.

This centurion was really an humble man. His heart was truly humble.

You Can Measure the Majesty of a Man's Faith by His Humility.

This centurion, with his deep humility, believing that Christ was God, did not feel himself worthy, although a man of high station, that Christ should enter under his roof. But in the very same breath, he was most courageous. Christ had already said, "I will come and heal him." Most people would have been very much pleased and would have said, "O come along, Lord; I will show you the way."

But the centurion had more faith than that. He had the faith and courage to say to the Lord not only that he was unworthy to have Him come under his roof, but he said, "But say the word, and my servant shall be healed."

There was the courage of a great faith there; a faith which believed that every power in the Universe was obedient to Christ. It was a very sublime faith, when you come to think of it; for Christ's social position was a very humble one as compared to the centurion's. The centurion was a man representing the Roman power, the conquering power, probably coming down to the garrison at Capernaum and holding Galilee in his hands, while our Lord Jesus Christ was only a peasant in appearance. He had been a village carpenter; He had worked to support His mother and His brothers and sisters when His reputed father had died.

The Beautiful Illustration of Christ's Authority Given by the Centurion.

This centurion was a man of dignity, of rank and of power; owning a magnificent mansion, probably, having many servants and soldiers around him, and yet he said he was not worthy for Christ to come under his roof. He believed that Christ was God The beautiful illustration which he gave shows this. He said, in effect, "I am under authority, yet I can command men under me and be obeyed. I am under the Roman Procurator Pontius Pilate, and he is under Cæsar. I have power and can command all men under me to go, to come, to do, and they are bound to do it."

The Roman law was very strict on the subject of obedience. If a man disobeyed, he was put to death, especially if he were disobedient in the face of the enemy.

The centurion said, "I say Go, I say Come, I say Do this, and my servants obey. Thou hast only to say, Come, Go, Do this, and every power throughout the Universe must obey. But say the word, and my servant shall be healed."

Our Lord admired that faith and admired the courage of that faith. The centurion reeognized that which I hope you will increasingly recognize, that it is in the power of the Holy Spirit that all these works are wrought. The mere physical presence of Christ was not essential to the working. He is present wherever there is faith, and He will speak the word wherever true faith calls upon Him to do it. But your faith must be equal to it. There are not many whose faith is equal to this.

Large Faith Necessary for Healing Without Laying On of Hands.

There were not many persons who had faith for healing without the touching of the Lord or the laying on of hands. Still there were and are some.

We had one yesterday in the healing-room whom you saw, a lady living at Morgan Park. On Friday week last Mr. Ashley came to me and told me about her case. She was in dire distress. Her life was despaired of. Physicians said that she could not live many hours. A most malignant cancer was winding itself literally around her heart.

I could not go to see her. I knew about the lady; knew she was needed for her family, but I had great pressure upon me. Serious cases in the Home required my attention. I had duties that morning of a very pressing character.

If I had gone at the time asked, I could not have gotten back to the meeting until 6 o'clock.

I looked at my duty and saw my duty was to stay here. I said, "I cannot go and still do my duty here. I long to go. I will go in spirit. You are a man of God. We will pray and believe that God will heal her. She has earnestly called for me and I cannot come, but the Lord will but say the word, if you have faith, if her husband has faith and she is faithful. I will pray at such an hour this afternoon, expecting the healing. Send me this in the morning."

Next morning I received a letter returning the request for prayer and saying that the lady had been most marvelously healed, but needed strength. Mr. Ashley came on the Lord's Day following and told me that when he got home she was very much better. Now she is up and about, and yesterday some of you saw her in this room and heard what she said. The cancer was not one-half the size it was ten days ago. It had been firm and hard, but was getting soft. It was a most malignant looking cancer even in its death.

Instances of Healing Without Laying On of Hands.

We have seen a great deal of this healing without human touch. I should like to see a great deal of it; I should like to see the people see it much more complete in God.

After a few years of ministry in my Tabernacle in Melbourne, my people would very seldom ask me to pray for their healing. The members of my own Church, in hundreds and hundreds, went on day after day, week after week, and year after year, either coming to me for prayer or requesting prayer while in their homes. In four years I do not think I went to their homes in more than half a dozen cases. Yet prayer was always answered.

In my ministry in Australia there was a very great deal of healing of this kind in the meetings where we were speaking. One morning I was expounding this and pointing out the beauty of this centurion's faith and that the Lord had said, "Go thy way, as thou hast believed, it shall be done unto thee," and his servant was healed. When I got to the end of the exposition I said, "I am impressed, all at once, that you shall pray, and that all who are in the Home (the meeting was in my home) shall seek the Lord for their healing and expect to get it. You say, 'Lord, but say the word, and I Thy servant shall be healed.'"

We knelt in prayer. It was very crowded. We let the people at that time come into the Home. The staircase was crowded; it was quite crowded outside and everywhere.

As we knelt and prayed, there was a gracious sense of God's presence and power. I exhorted the people, before we prayed, to ask the Lord—no matter what the trouble was, blindness, deafness or anything else—to fulfil the conditions and God would answer.

We had knelt and prayed then silently for perhaps two minutes, when I heard a rustling behind me. I thought they were getting tired, so I said Amen and arose.

Touching Story of Restoration of Sight to a Girl Who Had Been Blind for Twelve Years.

I had scarcely gotten to my feet when a little German lady, whom I had not noticed at all, sprang forward, literally sprang forward, seized my hand and said, "O Herr Pastor, Herr Pastor, my maid say she can see."

I said, "Who is your maid?"

She turned round and almost dragged forward in her excitement, a great, big, tall, awkward-looking girl about twenty-one or twenty-two years of age. She towered over her little mistress and looked very poorly clad. Dragging forward this maid, she said, "Katrina, you can see, can't you?"

The maid did not say anything. She had large brown lustrous eyes. She looked all around the room. She did not seem to hear her mistress. She did not seem to notice anybody. She looked as one in a dream, as if walking in her sleep.

"Katrina, did not you tell me you could see?" said the mistress, excitedly. "Tell the Doctor; tell him."

She muttered something under her breath almost, and continued to look in the same stolid way at the audience and myself. I was watching very closely, and put up my hand for them to be still. I said, "Katrina, come here."

She just looked at me.

I said, "How long were you blind?"

"Twelve years," said her mistress; "she be blind twelve years."

I said, "Katrina, can you see?"

I never will forget the pathetic tone in which she then said words like these, I think I have them almost exactly, "O can it be that I can see?" Then looking all round she said, "Shall I wake and find it is only another dream. I have so often dreamed I could see. O shall I awake and find it another dream?"

I took her hand and gave her a pinch. Then she started, then she knew she could see, and the tears flowed. She and every one wept. There was much excitement, although I kept things as quiet as I could.

How the World Looked to One Who Had Been Blind for Twelve Years.

When they got calmed down, I said, "Katrina, I want to know what you can see." She did not know the names of some of the objects. She could tell there were flowers on the table, but had not seen any for twelve years. She was quite sure they were flowers. She remembered flowers, for she was about ten years old when she lost her sight.

She had lost her sight completely after a fever. Her blindness took that form which is most hopeless of all, absolute destruction of all nerve power. Her eyes were perfect in form, but she had no power to see.

I began to try and get her to tell me what she saw, and I thought a simple way was for her to count the number of persons on the other side of the table and tell me how many there were. She began counting, and I found she always counted one too many. She counted them again and again. "That is a man, that is a woman, that is a girl; thirteen, I am sure."

"No, Katrina, you are wrong again. One too many."

She went at it again. "There are thirteen," she said, "and the thirteenth, every time I come to her, points her finger at me." Then we saw what it was. She saw herself in the mirror, which was a large one, opposite her, and did not know herself.

She received perfect sight. A few days later she rapidly began to read. She had never forgotten the form of the letters.

One day, standing at my door, I asked her to describe the persons standing on the other side of the street. She told me even to the color of the hair.

That was instantaneous and perfect and, so far as I know, permanent. It was received just as she was kneeling in prayer.

Faith of One Inspires Faith in Another.

One evening in our Tabernacle in Melbourne, I had received a letter from Madame De la Pierre, of Mentone, France, wife of a French Protestant, saying she was watching for the arrival of the French mail steamer in Australia and expecting me to pray for her on the night succeeding the arrival of the mail, fixing the exact time when we would be at my evening meeting, Australian time. She said she would pray at the same time, expecting to be healed.

I remember reading that letter to my people and saying, "Now, I believe that woman will be healed. It is for the glory of God. She has been reading our literature and believes these things; believes the Word of God. She believes my prayer will be answered. She will be answered."

Some had been there a long time without healing. One woman was under our teaching for twelve months and had not received the healing. She was afflicted with asthma.

The people knelt, and when I prayed the prayer of faith for Madam De la Pierre, of Mentone, France, this woman prayed, "Here is Thy servant, O Lord, offering the prayer of faith which I believe in my heart is answered. I also pray for healing for this lady in Mentone, yet here I have been under this ministry and believe these things and am not receiving healing. Lord, but say the word and I believe Thou wilt heal me now."

She nad asthma in an exceedingly aggravated form and various internal disorders, and as she knelt, she lost all sense of time and place and everything. She did not know how long she was kneeling there, but was conscious that God had answered, that she had come to the "secret place of the Most High." She was so sure that she arose and breathed perfectly, freely. She turned to the people and said, "I am healed," and she retained the healing.

These things have happened so frequently in our missions that they are quite numerous now. Indeed, there are more cases in our knowledge than there are recorded in detail in the New Testament. We have seen this again and again.

One of the instances in this country which impressed many persons on the Pacific Coast was that of Rebecca Potts, told in our American First Fruits. I will tell it briefly. It is told by herself.

Healing of an Aged Woman of Severe Strangulated Hernia.

Mrs. Rebecca Potts was an aged lady over seventy years of age, wife of a minister, a godly woman, one of the oldest inhabitants of Los Angeles, renowned for her piety, and loved for good and kind consideration for the poor.

For ten years, a doctor told me, she suffered from strangulated hernia of the most aggravated kind and was oftentimes in great pain. She had to wear internal instruments for the purpose of keeping her from dying. She could not walk from her bed across the floor until all these instruments were in place, nor walk more than a block at the farthest. She was in pain so that her life had become one of comparatively feeble power for good compared to what it had been. She mourned over it a great deal.

When I came to Los Angeles she came to the meetings. It was the third day of our meetings when I had given out the hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." I commented on it as I did the other day. I said, "I believe the trouble with you is not that you do not take your troubles to the Lord, but that you do not leave them with Him. I believe that there are godly people who have taken their sicknesses to the Lord in prayer and that the Lord answered them, but they did not leave them with the Lord. I believe that if you will go to the Lord and say, 'Lord, but say the word and I Thy servant shall be healed,' you will get the healing."

After I said these words, she said in her heart, so she tells the story, "O God, Thy servant has spoken truly. I never saw that truth. I never left my trouble with Thee; I have taken it back again. I believe Thou art able, art willing; have I not the faith to leave it with Thee? I leave it with Thee now and I say, Lord, but say the word and I believe it shall be done now.'"

While the people were singing, she was standing there praying, and then she stopped because she could not pray any more. She described what followed like this: She seemed to feel a hand laid upon her head and a burning fire went through her body and the parts so seriously disordered. The pain was terrible for a moment or two. All at once it ceased and she felt she was healed.

Faith Manifested in Doing.

After service was over, she went into a retiring room in the building. She had an empty small valise with her, intending to take something home that night. She took off all her trusses and instruments and put them into the little bag and went away.

This occurred at the afternoon meeting.

Her husband came in for the evening meeting. He said, "Rebecca, do not go too far forward. The meetings are late. I enjoy them very much; but I cannot pay for a carriage every night for two and a half miles. We will miss the car again tonight if you go forward. We cannot get out quickly"

She said, "I am going forward to my old seat."

After it was over, he said, "Now, Rebecca, just as I said, the last car has gone and we will have to hire a carriage."

"No," she said.

"What do you intend to do? Stay in town all night?"

"I intend to walk to Boyle Heights." That is where they lived. It was two and a half miles away.

He said, "Rebecca, I am sure you are daft now; you have lost your head. You cannot walk two blocks, let alone two miles."

She said, "John, look at that bag." There he saw all the things. She said, "There is nothing to be said, just walk to Boyle Heights."

She walked two and a half miles home, up and down hill. She got home all right. She got that healing as she stood there.

I do not say that all have that faith. I know that all do not.

Ask God why you should not have faith? Why not let the Lord do it? He must do it, whether through my agency or through your faith. I should be very glad if you could exercise the faith this morning which would bring a perfect healing as you pray. I do not know what hinders. It is not in my power to tell. I do not see your hearts, I do not see your lives. You are strangers to me, whose faces I have never seen before. I cannot tell what in your past or present lives may be lacking. I only know that God demands a full Repentance. Do your part and the Lord is just as willing to say, "Go thy way; as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee," as He was nineteen centuries ago. I believe you could get that healing now as I got my healing thirty years ago without any human touch or any human ministration.

I should like faith to be increased so that Christian people everywhere could get this healing.

You Must Lean Upon the Lord.

I am willing to help all I can, but if you would only say as you pray, in simple faith, "Lord, but say the word and I Thy servant shall be healed." If there is nothing between you and God, what is there to prevent your being healed now? This is a good time, a good place, and the Lord grant it. In so far as you have faith, it will be done.

Lord, increase our faith.

Read The Coming City.

For all matters pertaining to the founding and building of Zion City, there is no source of information, complete and reliable, but THE COMING CITY. The story of Zion City is being and will be told in its pages, both by descriptive articles and by engravings from photographs. The paper also contains much other interesting matter, such as science notes, household suggestions, special articles on matters of interest to Zion people, and the news of the day.

The paper also contains four pages of advertisements, carefully selected, most of the advertisers being Zion people. It is important that every member of Zion should get THE COMING CITY, not only for the valuable information which it will contain, but for these advertisements. By reading them they will learn who are the Zion business men and thus be able to coöperate with each other.

Zion people should be glad to go a little out of their way to trade at a Zion shop. Zion money is thus kept in Zion instead of going to fill the coffers of the world's people, and each feels the influence of the increase in general prosperity.

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

ZION COLLEGE LECTURES ON PRAYER.

A Series Delivered Before the Students of Zion College by the President, Rev. John Alexander Dowie, General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

THE world today has learned that there is something far beyond the ordinary in the words and works of God's Messenger to Zion, John Alexander Dowie.

As this realization comes to the public, the first question always is, "How does he do it? What is the secret of his power?"

Those who know the General Overseer and have heard and heeded his teaching know that the power belongs to God. But the General Overseer is wonderfully used by God, as an instrument, on account of his mighty power in Prayer, taught him by the Holy Spirit.

Hence it was with the greatest joy that the students of Zion College received the announcement that the General Overseer would deliver a Series of Lectures on the subject of Prayer. It was an inestimable privilege to learn how to pray from a man whose whole life had become a mighty power for God through Prayer. But joyful as the anticipation was, it was more than justified by the realization.

Many members of the Christian Catholic Church also attended these Lectures and were amazed, from week to week, by the great depth and scope of the subject as it was opened up by the man of God.

Since the delivery of these Lectures there has been a loud appeal, from many sides, to have them published.

The General Overseer was reluctant, as he felt that in the great pressure of his other duties he had not been able to give the Lectures as he might have done with more time at his disposal. He also felt that he should revise them before their publication, and this he could not find time to do.

At length, however, the appeal for them being urged, he consented that they should be sent forth, without his revision, during his absence in Europe and the Holy Land.

Accordingly this wonderful teaching will be printed, almost as it came from his lips, from time to time, in LEAVES OF HEALING. In preparing these Lectures for the press, we have eliminated some allusions to topics of the time and place and have written in some headlines.

We have also cut out opening and closing exercises and arranged the matter consecutively without regard to number and date of Lectures.

We pray that God will bless these wonderful truths to all who read in even greater measure than He did to those who heard.

PRAY WITHOUT CEASING.

After reading the eighteenth chapter of St. Luke, President Dowie said:

Beloved students, the tremendous question as to when the Kingdom of God shall come and where, has been answered by the Lord.

It would be very delightful, if our time would permit, to examine that answer, but my purpose this afternoon is to deal with the beautiful words concerning Prayer which Christ interjected into His answer.

He gave them in the parable concerning Prayer, and in the illustration which followed the parable. His illustration was taken from that very day's life in the Temple; something which His own eye had seen; something which they, to whom He spoke, were accustomed to see.

The Sin of Self-Righteousness Must be Destroyed.

The proud Pharisee, with his broad phylacteries, would sweep into the Temple, leaving behind, in the Court of the Gentiles, the poor, despised taxgatherer who could not enter the sacred precincts where the sons of Abraham prayed.

That scene was not only visible then, but it is visible today. The diabolical pride which imagines that God must hear you because you are connected with some favored nation or some favored Church, or because you are doing something which merits and demands the attention of God Almighty, is in the hearts of many today.

The infernal sin of self-righteousness must be utterly destroyed.

In the chapter which I read, Jesus begins His talk of the Kingdom of God in His rebuke to those who refused to permit the little ones to be brought to Him. They thought that it was not the time for babies who were sick to be brought to the Lord. He was busy. He was talking to the men. He had no time for babies. But the Lord set them aside and told the mothers to bring the babies who were wailing in their pain that He might lay His hands upon them and bless them. He healed them and consecrated them to God's service, and told His hearers incidentally that unless they could receive the Kingdom of God as a little child, they would never enter into that Kingdom.

Pride and imperious vanity will be resisted by God, and He will put those with Divine humility above the proud.

One reason why men do not get an answer to Prayer is because they do not pray, even when they talk about praying, and even when they seem to pray. Their so-called Prayer is an offense to God. It is the prayer of the wicked. It is only hateful to Him and rejected by Him. Sometimes they pray to some one whom God does not recognize as Himself.

"Oh Thou Supreme Architect of the Universe!" That is not the way to pray to our Father who is in Heaven.

The Great Power of a Divine Humility.

That humility which is always accompanied with strength, which is always accompanied with boldness, which is always accompanied with courage, is a necessary quality if Prayer is to be answered. The meekest man upon God's earth in his time was Moses. Yet he was the man who could march, unarmed, up the steps of Pharaoh's throne, and in the face of that mighty potentate could say: "Jehovah, God, the Eternal, I AM hath sent me to say, 'Let My people go.'"

He might have lost his head in a minute at the hand of the tyrant, but that did not trouble him.

The meekest man upon God's earth was the bravest. He always is. The coward who is ever afraid to speak out never knows how to pray.

The centurion had the courage to say to the Master when He said He would come and heal his servant: "Lord, I am not worthy that Thou shouldest come under my roof: but say the word, and my servant shall be healed. For I also am a man set under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it."

Always with great faith there is great courage and great humility. A coward is full of pride. He has no humility, even though he stands washing his hands in invisible soap and water, saying to you, "How humble I am."

The Great Mass of Men Do Not Know How to Pray All the Time.

There are really few who do. I do not wish to speak of myself, but I do understand something about this. That is why I have had the temerity to lecture to Zion College upon the greatest of all themes: Prayer. I do know something about the continuity of Prayer.

In my daily life, and my nightly life, too, there is not a single day or hour in which a cry does not come for Prayer. Sometimes there is not a minute, if I average them, in which there is not a cry for Prayer. These cries reach me from all the lands.

They come by cable. They come by telegram. They come by telephone. They come by letter. They come by special messenger. They come from earth's remotest bounds.

The one thing in my life which I enjoy most is, that right through it all I have understood a little of what that word of the Lord means: "they ought always to pray, and not to faint." His disciples ought always to pray, and not to faint.

What is the fact regarding His disciples?

What is the fact regarding yourselves?

Are you praying always, or when the task is hard and you are putting brain and toil into it, do you forget to pray?

Your task will be exceedingly hard when you forget to pray. Pause for a moment and audibly say to God, "You can solve that proposition. You can make my blind eyes see. You can make my stupid mind understand. I will apply myself again. This time I will pray."

As you pray, do you know, the lines will all come out, and you will be able to solve the problem, because God is solving it in you. The Greek and the Latin will not be nearly so hard. Not that there will not be toil, but Prayer will be the solution of the whole.

When Prayer delights thee least,
Then learn to say:
Now is my greatest need that I should pray.

The Parable of the Importunate Widow.

This is a parable for the Church represented in the form of a widow with children bereft of their father, who have been robbed by an adversary. Perhaps he was a brother to whom the care of the estate had been given by a confiding man, who thought he would be kind to his wife and the orphan boys. He left the estate, as one might suppose, to a brother who was a thief, a liar, a cheat; to a trustee who was not worthy of trust; to one who feared not God, and did not regard man.

This robber was on good terms with the Judge and bribed him to give a false judgment. He bribed the Judge to leave the estate in his hands, to pass his fraudulent accounts and to declare that there was nothing left for the widow, when the fact was that this false trustee and the Judge had divided the estate between them.

The woman who had been left well provided for found that she not only had no home, but no bread. It had come down to this, that they were poor and hungry.

She knows that the estate has been stolen, and she is a brave widow. She is poor. She is hungry. Her garments are worn; but there are her little children, and they shall not die.

She goes to the unjust Judge and before his judgment seat she says calmly, "Judge, avenge me of mine adversary."

"Go and get a lawyer," is the brutal reply.

"Judge, I have no money for a lawyer. Avenge me of mine adversary. He is seated by your side there upon the judgment seat. He took dinner with you last night. He was drunk with you. He is your boon companion. He is my husband's brother, and he is a thief. Make him give up the money which belongs to me and to my orphan children."

"Get away. You have no standing in this Court. There is no money here. The case was settled long ago. This man is a good citizen. Take care what charges you make against him, or I will send you to prison, and then you will not be able to take care of your children at all. Get away."

She is driven away, and the man thinks, "I have gotten rid of her now."

That night the false trustee and the unjust Judge are at their wine and with their women, and they are drunk. They are singing their bacchanalian song, when a cry pierces through even into the banqueting hall which strikes dismay into both their hearts. It is the cry of a woman in the night: "Avenge me of mine adversary."

The servants have driven her off, but she has come back again. She has burst in upon them at the banqueting hall, and they fling her out into the night, bruised, wounded, bleeding, cold and hungry.

On the next morning they find her again before the judgment seat, her face aflame with mother love and godly righteousness, demanding justice. "Avenge me of mine adversary. You have taken an oath before God and man to do right. Do right by my orphaned children and by me."

"Drive her off."

She is driven off, but that night again in the banqueting hall there is the piercing cry, and night and day, even when she is not there, that Judge hears the cry, "Avenge me of mine adversary."

At last he says to his companion in the theft, "Life is not worth living. I cannot sleep. I hear that woman crying in the night her demand for justice. Even though I do not fear God and I do not regard man, she will wear me out. I will avenge her."

That is the story.

The Apostate Church is Not Importunate in Prayer.

When the Church of God has ceased to pray with importunity that the vengeance of God shall come from heaven and smite the hosts of hell who have robbed the Church of all its glorious powers; when the Church of God ceases to cry to God against these false shepherds who have usurped the place of the true, and have stolen the birthright of the Church, and in their daring hypocrisy are telling their people to pray to God for the restitution of that which they have stolen themselves, it is time for us to understand that parable. It is time for the true Church of the Living God to go to God the Righteous Judge, who will hear His own. How long He has borne with us when we have not been like that widow.

The fact of the matter is that the widowed Church has become a harlot. She has played the harlot with the unjust judge; has played the harlot with the unjust trustee.

The widowed Church, the so-called Church, has sold the birthright of her children and gone into the shambles of the Devil's own Lust.

God has borne long with her. Coward that she has been, she has been afraid to appeal to God the Righteous Judge. She has been afraid to ask Him to compel the unjust judge to do right.

I thank God that that fear does not exist in Zion today. I believe that the time has come when the True Church, emerging from her poverty, emerging from the darkness of the long winter of the ages, and realizing at last that there is no help in man, has gone to the Just Judge, who will avenge her speedily.

Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

One of the things which you must remember in connection with this appeal of the Church of God in Prayer to God—continuous appeal—is that God Will Not Recognize a Church Which Prays Spasmodically.

The Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church asked their people to pray from March 25th to April 1st. I never heard of any result. They were to fast; they were to pray. I hear of no revivals. I hear that the man who called for that is sick.

The Application of the Parable.

I desire to apply the parable. The Church is not one single individual person.

Ye are the body of Christ and severally members thereof.

Assembly, ecclesia (ἐκκλησία), gathering, is the simple meaning of the word church. A church is a gathering of those who are called by God and have obeyed God's call. That is the Church which consists of all believers.

The Christian Catholic Church in Zion does not and cannot, no matter how strong she may be, embrace all Christians. I wish she did. I think they would be a good deal happier in our communion than in any other.

If I did not think that, I should not go forward. But the Holy Catholic Church in Christ, throughout the world, comprises the full and complete Church, of which the Christian Catholic Church in Zion is but a part; for there are large numbers of God's children in all the churches, and they have not come out.

The cry of God in this latter time is, "Come out of her, Oh My people."

It is as it was nineteen centuries ago, when they had to come out of the Jewish Church to be saved. They could not be saved within the Jewish Church.

When men are brought into the fellowship of many of the churches of today, they become very much worse. Their prospects for salvation on earth are very much diminished. That often happens when they become Methodists and Freemasons. When a man becomes a Presbyterian and a Freemason, or when he becomes anything else and allies himself with some Secret Order, he has taken a patent road to hell. That Church which is composed, even in its highest offices, of wicked men and unjust judges who fear not God and do not regard man, is a curse to the man who enters its fellowship.

The men and women who have in their hearts the spirit of the unjust judge are damned. They are under the condemnation of God. They will not escape the damnation of hell. They turn aside to crooked ways, and God will let those who turn aside to crooked ways, turn with the workers of iniquity. In these days our appeal is to God, and not to an unjust judge.

I Have Suffered From Unjust Judges.

I have suffered from the unjust judgment of an unjust press; from the unjust judgment of an unjust pulpit; from the unjust judgment of an unjust people. I have appealed from press and pulpit to God, and God has answered.

Our appeal must be to God. We must compel the unjust judge to do right by an appeal to God, just as my importunity has compelled the wretched municipal council of this city to do right.

They did not want to do right. They wanted to destroy Zion, and I had to smash their infernal ordinance.

One reason why God commands us to continual Prayer is, because if you do not continually pray, you will drift away into laziness; you will drift away into neglect of the Word of God; you will drift away into association with the world. But if you pray when you rise in the morning, or before, and pray all the day long, I will defy you to go into a saloon and take a drink. You will either have to quit praying or quit sinning.

A man who intends to sin will have to quit praying. A man who will keep praying will quit sinning.

"Oh, Doctor, how can I pray always and do my work?" asks some one.

You will do better, if you pray.

You will wash your dishes cleaner, if you pray while you are washing them. Pray while you are washing the dish, "Oh God, help me to wash this dish so clean that no one, sitting down to eat, will see it dirty and have a charge against me as a Christian servant. Wash my heart, O God, so clean that no one shall see in my life defilement."

That is a good Prayer, is it not?

Pray when you are lighting the fire or cleaning out the clinkers, if that is your part.

Some of you, I hear, are rather above that kind of business. The Lord have mercy upon you. You will never be much good until you know how to wash dishes properly and how to clean doorsteps and do all kinds of things.

I am contemplating giving you lots of things to do in the future. I really do think I will have every one of you wash dishes. (Laughter.)

I am glad that in Zion you have a little practice.

Rising to be the Highest by Keeping Down to be the Lowest.

Overseer Wilhide is Overseer of the work in the most lovely Continent in the world, Australia. I first took some stock in him because, when his money was all out, he began to wash dishes in Zion.

"Doctor, did you ever wash dishes?" you ask.

Yes.

"Sweep floors?"

Yes. I remember once in my ministry in Australia there was a poor woman who had been abandoned by her husband in the very hour when she was about to become a mother. Twins were born and they died, and nobody would come near that woman. They thought the house was haunted. I went to her room in their hovel and the stench was intolerable, for the dead bodies of the babies were there lying in that bed. The woman had swollen dreadfully and erysipelas had set in.

I washed her face. I brought her some refreshment and gave it to her. I acted as the nurse.

That day a lady came to me and said, "Doctor, I would like very much to be employed by you in missionary work."

I knew she was a humbug, and I said to her, "I have a case. I will give you half a sovereign if you will come down with me and see it."

She came down. At the sight of the place she said, "Oh, I cannot go in there."

"Do you want some missionary work?"

"Yes."

"Come in here."

"Oh, Doctor, I want missionary work. I want to preach."

"Yes, you do. Go away. I thought you were that kind of a woman. Get off."

If ever you are to rise to be powerful for God, you must begin by taking notice of those who are in their misery and continually crying out against the injustice of the unjust judge.

Remember that this world is full of injustice.

The great mass of people are suffering from injustice.

There are many men who are suffering from wicked wives. Injustice is cast upon them for having to care for children who have been abandoned by vile women. There are still more poor women who have been abandoned by the unspeakably vile men who have left thousands and tens and hundreds of thousands of women to bear the burdens of maternity and to care for children who bear the mark of Cain upon their brow, for they are the offspring of men who were only incarnate devils.

You must cry to God against the injustice. You must go to the Just Judge. Whom will He hear? His own.

Did not Jesus say, "Ye did not choose Me, but I chose you"?

It has been His own choice and His love which have brought us where we are. It was His electing grace, manifestly, in all cases, when in His Infinite Love and Mercy He chose to listen and hear our cry when we were sick and far away out in the desert of sin and ready to die. We are His chosen. He chose us. Many another one went to the Devil, but He chose us.

God's Elect are Whosoever Will.

Who are the elect?

The elect are those who are candidates for election.

Every one who is a candidate for election is elected.

"Whosoever will, let him come."

You are all invited to be candidates. You who have been candidates for Salvation have received Salvation. You chose principally of your own will, a will which had been graciously aided by the Holy Ghost. You chose to be a Christian. You may, if you will, choose to be something more than a mere average Christian who scrapes into heaven, leaving everything behind him except his own miserable spirit, which squeezes through somehow. Such a spirit is a very small spirit. It has to get in through an exceedingly small hole.

There are some people who are saved as by fire. There is no sweeping through the golden gates. Any crack in the door will let that spirit in, it is so small.

The spiritual stature of some men and women who get into heaven must be very small. They are singing:

Hallelujah! hallelujah! let the victor in.

They are no victors. They only escaped by the skin of their teeth. They got into heaven without anything to lay at Christ's feet. They never won anything from the great harvest field.

Poor kind of Salvation, that.

That is not the way I would like to go into heaven.

Such people are like a ship which has lost all its masts, and has to be towed into the harbor. I have seen ships come in like that without a mast. They had been caught in the wind at sea, and because the men were drunk and did not get the sails in in time, they lost their masts. Perhaps they were asleep. That is the trouble with many people. The fact of the matter is that there are some of you half asleep now.

"Awake, thou that sleepest!"

"Arise, shine, for thy Light is come!"

Many people say, "Oh it is too much trouble to arise. One cannot shine all the time. It is too much trouble."

Yes, you can.

"Oh Doctor, a man cannot shine all the time; he has to sleep some."

You do not need to sleep.

You can always be awake. Your body may be asleep when your spirit is awake.

"You will not get much sleep or rest," says somebody.

I only had four hours today, and I had a great deal of rest. I made a business of resting in those four hours. My body had a real good sleep. My spirit was away to Africa, China, Australia. I was in the South Seas, and in the front in the Boer war. I was whipping the Methodists at Carmel (laughter) and fighting Baal.

With God in Prayer Even When Asleep.

If you keep in Prayer with God even when your body is getting its soundest sleep, your spirit will be with God. You will learn how a spirit can be absent from the body even here, and how it can rest sweetly when the body is at work. My body wanted to sleep all night, and I would not let it. I said, "You mean old hulk, you will have to keep awake. (Laughter.) You will have to keep going."

The body said, "I want sleep."

I said, "God wants you to keep awake," and I kept awake twenty-seven hours. I love to do it. I do it often, and thank God for it. There is a time coming when we shall never need to sleep.

Behold, He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.

If we are like Him, we shall not sleep.

The Lord who is our Keeper never sleeps. His eye never closes. His ear is always hearing.

One can make the body do a great many things under God. If God gets into your body and makes it His temple, and you keep it clean, you can be used. But if you have dirt in it, that is, if your eyes are full of lust; if you secretly read bad books, if your heart is craving the flesh-pots of Egypt and the filthiness of the flesh, music by the apostate harlot of the Church of Rome, God cannot make your body His temple.

If you yearn to hear some Mass in B or E or O or P or Q; if you are hunting and thirsting after Beethoven, and you cannot do without Wagner, and your spirit is longing for Paderewski, and your soul is all astir for Irving and Helen Terry, then you are led astray by the Devil. You may be a sweet-looking lady, but you have the Devil in you. You have so much of the Devil that I do not know whether you are Christ's at all; because, if you are God's, your soul, your flesh, your spirit will cry out for the Living God; for the Temple of God; for the Altar of God, and for the streets of the City above, and for all that is good and holy and bright and pure here. You will let Paderewski and the rest go in their way to the Devil. You will say, "I cannot afford to spend a cent of God's money that way."

The Joy of the Lord Should be the Christian's Joy.

"Oh Doctor, you are not going to take the joy out of our lives?" some of you cry.

No. I have more fun than any other man upon God Almighty's earth. I have more serious business, perhaps. I have all the comedy I need in being a Christian when I look at the contortions of the Devil. No man who was ever in a pantomime ever looked as ridiculous as does the Devil in the form of the editors and reporters and others.

Friends, you can get more fun out of the Devil than any being upon God Almighty's earth. It is serious fun, but it is ludicrous when you see the Devil in a Methodist Bishop.

But there is a better joy than that.

There is the Joy of the Lord.

Pray without ceasing. If you do not get an answer, pray. Ask God to give you increasing light to see what hinders, and to put it away. Keep praying; praying while you are putting it away; praying while you are tearing the idol from your heart; praying while you are getting the accursed thing out of your heart. Some who came to Zion College have left because they wanted art and oratory.

The most magnificent orator is the man who, knowing God and being filled with the Spirit of God, speaks forth the Message of God in the plainest words that he can utter.

I would rather have the oratory of the Apostle Peter at Pentecost than that which all the schools of oratory of the world could supply. The oratory of Peter moved 3000 men and women into the Kingdom of God in one day. I would rather have the oratory of Peter and John at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple when 5000 men were won to God in one day.

I would rather have the oratory of the holy life of one who does his duty or the humblest taxgatherer who makes no profession, than a gilded, artificial and ineffective oratory.

I would rather be the despised taxgatherer whom the Lord has chosen than Herod upon the throne or the high priest in his palace.

I would rather be chosen to be honored by the presence of the Lord in my humble home, if it were but a fisherman's hut, as Peter's was when Peter's wife's mother was healed.

Friends, we count ourselves honored when some one of highest station condescends to visit us, but when He who is the highest, the King of Kings, comes into our hearts and into our lives and into our work, how much more highly honored we are! We are the children of a King, and our bodies are the palaces of God.

Get close to God.

Pray always.

Live purely, and you will pray powerfully.

May God bless you.

Six Bound Volumes of Leaves of Healing.

What six books, besides the Bible, could be more precious, more valuable to every member and friend of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, than the first six volumes of LEAVES OF HEALING?

They contain more of the Everlasting Gospel; more testimonies to Salvation, Healing and Cleansing through Faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God; more sound teaching, than any other six books published.

The world may scoff at that, but Zion knows it to be true.

Not only that, but these six Volumes contain, in some measure, the priceless record of God's dealings with Zion in these latter days. In them, as nowhere else, can be found the history of the mighty work which God has established for the extension of His Kingdom and the preparation of the world for the coming of Jesus as King.

In them is contained a large portion of the wonderful Message which God sent to the world by His Messenger.

In fact, when we stop to consider all the glorious things which have gone into the composition of these six Volumes, we find words insufficient and inadequate to express their value.

Those who have been saved, healed, cleansed, made prosperous and happy through the Message brought by one copy of the Little White Dove, perhaps know something of what a mighty storehouse of power these six Volumes are.

These Volumes have been bound, by Zion Publishing House, in strong, handsome black binding, half-morocco, with a graceful design, LEAVES OF HEALING, in gilt upon the front cover.

Each has a carefully prepared index covering all the principal subjects in the book.

They sell at the regular rate of $3.50 per Volume, or the exceedingly low rate of $15 for the six Volumes.

These books should be in every Zion household.

Send all orders to Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, U. S. A.

Notice to Officers and Members of the Christian Catholic Church.

Send all newspaper clippings concerning the General Overseer, the Elders, or any department of the work in connection with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, to Mrs. Carl F. Stern, Room 309, Zion Home, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Send as soon as possible after publication, and carefully mark name and date of the paper clipped from on each article. If this is not done, the clippings are absolutely useless.

Has God Blessed You in Tithing?

Have you realized a fulfilment of God's promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse"? If so, let others know how true the promise is. Write your testimony and send it to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Let your testimonies be brief and straight to the point.

GOD'S WAY OF HEALING.

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

God's Way of Healing is a Person, not a Thing.

Jesus said, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life," and He has ever been revealed to His people in all the ages by the Covenant Name, Jehovah-rophi, or "I am the Lord that Healeth thee." (John 14:6; Exodus 15:26.)

The Lord Jesus Christ is Still the Healer.

He cannot change, for "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever"; and He is still with us, for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." (Hebrews 13:8; Matthew 28:20.) Because He is Unchangeable, and because He is present, in spirit, just as when in the flesh, He is the Healer of His people.

Divine Healing Rests on Christ's Atonement.

It was prophesied of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed"; and it is expressly declared that this was fulfilled in His ministry of Healing, which still continues. (Isaiah 53:4, 5; Matthew 8:17.)

Disease Can Never be God's Will.

It is the Devil's work, consequent upon Sin, and it is impossible for the work of the Devil ever to be the Will of God. Christ came to "destroy the works of the Devil," and when He was here on earth He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness," and all these diseases are expressly declared to have been "oppressed of the Devil." (1 John 3:8; Matthew 4:23; Acts 10:38.)

The Gifts of Healing are Permanent.

It is expressly declared that the "Gifts and the calling of God are without repentance," and the Gifts of Healing are amongst the Nine Gifts of the Spirit to the Church. (Romans 11:29; 1 Cor. 12:8-11.)

There are Four Modes of Divine Healing.

The first is the direct prayer of faith; the second, intercessory prayer of two or more; the third, the anointing by the elders with the prayer of faith; and the fourth, the laying on of hands of those who believe, and whom God has prepared and called to that ministry. (Matthew 8:5-13; Matthew 18:19; James 5:14, 15; Mark 16:18.)

Divine Healing is Opposed by Diabolical Counterfeits.

Amongst these are Christian Science (falsely so-called). Mind Healing, Spiritualism, Trance Evangelism, etc. (1 Timothy 6:20, 21; 1 Timothy 4:1, 2; Isaiah 51:22, 23.)

Multitudes Have Been Healed Through Faith in Jesus.

The writer knows of thousands of cases and has personally laid hands on scores of thousands of persons. Full information can be obtained at the meetings held in Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and in many pamphlets which give the experience, in their own words, of many who have been healed in this and other countries, published at Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

ZION COTTAGE MEETINGS.

By REV. JOHN G. SPEICHER, Overseer in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion for Chicago.

TO ALL them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in all sincerity,
To all the Members and Friends of Zion, and
To all whom these words shall come:

Peace be with you, and love and faith, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. We invite your hearty coöperation with us in the Cottage Meeting work. God is wonderfully blessing these meetings in the salvation of lost humanity, in the healing of the sick and suffering, and in building up in the most holy faith those who are redeemed by the precious Blood of Jesus.

Do you desire these blessings to come to your home?

Will you not open your doors for a weekly Cottage Meeting?

Let every member of the Christian Catholic Church enter into a loving rivalry, striving to make each home the greatest possible blessing to their own communities.

We solicit invitations from those who are not in Zion, that we may enter their homes with weekly Gospel meetings.

Will you not write to the above address if you desire us to come?

We will not be content until we place a meeting in every home in Zion, and in every home where there is a desire to know honestly the Full Gospel.

Below we append a list of Cottage Meetings.

Attend those nearest your own homes.

There are now 242 Zion Cottage Meetings in Chicago, in nine different languages: English, German, Swedish, Danish, Norwegian, Bohemian, Chinese, Japanese and Italian, besides in the homes of our colored people.

→ ZION COTTAGE MEETINGS IN CHICAGO ←

—Pray for these Meetings—

It undoubtedly will be of interest to Zion everywhere to hear of the Onward Progress of the Cottage Meeting work.

The accompanying map shows the location of more than 200 meetings.

Each small square represents a weekly meeting.

The seven larger squares show the location of the seven Zion Tabernacles in Chicago.

There are now regular meetings in English, German, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Italian Bohemian, Chinese and Japanese.

Excellent reports are coming in from the meetings.

During the month of November there were about 9000 in attendance at the Cottage Meetings. There have been many conversions and many have learned to know Zion better and are losing their prejudices.

Many are being overcrowded.

There are many demands for more Tabernacles.

The Swedish and German people are earnestly pressing their needs on the North Side.

South Chicago is badly in need of a Tabernacle.

Pullman also has uttered her cry for help.

This all requires much money. Will not some large hearted friend of Zion send us a Thousand dollars for this Onward Movement?

The stronger the work in Chicago, the better we will be able to reach the Country in General. Let the friends everywhere take a hint from this map and let them make their homes the center of a strong Zion influence.

Whereever there is an Elder or a Conductor of Gatherings let the cottage meeting be under his direction. Elsewhere the head of the house, where he is a member, should take the responsibility and lead the meeting or appoint a leader.

These meetings in and out of Chicago are excellent means of sowing Zion Literature.

1901 must be a year of great progress.

If our motto is "Go Forward" we must but take a new start and "Go Farther."

This can best be done by each member having the Everlasting Gospel in their own hearts and lives.

Possess and then profess.

Rev Jno. G. Speicher.

To Teachers.

We desire to register the names of teachers who may wish to teach in our Junior Schools. None need apply except experienced ones, who are members of the Christian Catholic Church, and who have first-class credentials, testimonials of successful work, etc., to accompany their applications.

Each applicant must be ready to pass examination in each of the following branches: Reading; Writing; Spelling; Arithmetic; Grammar; Geography; Physiology, including the evil effects of drugs; United States History, and Bible Study.

In your application state (a) your age; (b) married, single, or widowed; (c) amount of experience; (d) kind of school taught; (e) when can you accept a call to Zion work?

Applicants must be willing to go where sent.

Address Superintendent John H. Sayrs, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

DO NOT write letters to the heads of departments for news concerning the progress being made at Zion City, when you can find it all in THE COMING CITY. Send in your subscription to Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

DO YOU KNOW GOD'S WAY OF HEALING?

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Let it be supposed that the following words are a conversation between the reader [A] and the writer [B].

A. What does this question mean? Do you really suppose that God has some one especial way of healing in these days of which men may know and avail themselves?

B. That is exactly my meaning, and I wish very much that you should know God's Way of Healing, as I have done for many years.

A. What is the way, in your opinion?

B. You should rather ask, WHO is God's Way? for the Way is a Person, not a thing. I will answer your question in His own words, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; no one cometh unto the Father, but by Me." These words were spoken by our Lord Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son of God, who is both our Saviour and our Healer. (John 14:6.)

A. But I always thought that these words only referred to Him as the Way of Salvation. How can you he sure that they refer to Him as the Way of Healing also?

B. Because He cannot change. He is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever." (Hebrews 13:8.) He said that He came to this earth not only to save us but to heal us (Luke 4:18), and He did this when in the flesh on earth. Being unchanged, He must be able and willing and desirous to heal now.

A. But is there not this difference, namely, that He is not with us now?

B. No; for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world"; and so He is with us now, in Spirit, just as much as when He was here in the flesh.

A. But did He not work these miracles of healing when on earth merely to prove that He was the Son of God?

B. No; there was still a greater purpose than that. He healed the sick who trusted in Him in order to show us that He came to die not only for our sins, but for our sicknesses, and to deliver us from both.

A. Then, if that is so, the atonement which He made on the Cross must have been for our sicknesses as well as our sins. Can you prove that is the fact from the Scriptures?

B. Yes, I can, and the passages are very numerous. I need quote two only. In Isaiah 53:4, 5, it is written of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed." Then in the Gospel according to Matthew, this passage is quoted and directly applied to the work of bodily healing, in chapter 8, 17th verse, "That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

A. But do you not think that sickness is often God's will, and sent for our good, and therefore God may not wish us to be healed?

B. No, that cannot possibly be; for diseases of every kind are the Devil's work, and his work can never be God's will, since Christ came for the very purpose of destroying "the works of the Devil." (1 John 3:8.)

A. Do you mean to say that all disease is the work of Satan?

B. Yes, for if there had been no sin (which came through Satan) there never would have been any disease, and Jesus never in one single instance told any person that sickness was God's work or will, but the very contrary.

A. Can you prove from Scripture that all forms of sickness and infirmity are the Devil's work?

B. Yes, that can be done very easily. You will see in Matthew 4:23 and 9:35 that when Jesus was here in the flesh, He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." Then if you will refer to Acts 10:38 you will see that the Apostle Peter declares that He [Jesus] "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil." Notice that all whom He healed, not some, were suffering from Satan's evil power.

A. But does disease never come from God?

B. No, it cannot come from God, for He is pure, and disease is unclean; and it cannot come out of Heaven, for there is no disease there.

A. That is very different from the teachings which I have received all my life from ministers and in the churches. Do you really think that you are right, and that they are all wrong in this matter?

B. It is not a question as between myself and them. The only question is, What does God's Word say? God has said in all the ages to His Church, "I am the Lord that healeth thee" (Exodus 15:26), and therefore it would be wicked to say that He is the defiler of His people. All true Christians must believe the Bible, and it is impossible to believe that good and evil, sickness and health, sin and holiness could have a common origin in God. If the Bible really taught that, it would be impossible to believe our Lord Jesus Christ when He says, "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." (Matthew 7:18.)

A. But even if I agree with all you say, is it not true that the Gifts of Healing were removed from the Church, and are not in it now?

B. No, the "Gifts of Healing" were never withdrawn, and can never be withdrawn, from the true Church of God; for it is written, "The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance." (Romans 11:29.) There are nine gifts of God to the Church (enumerated in 1 Corinthians, 12:8 to 11), and all these are in the Holy Spirit. Therefore, so long as the Holy Spirit is in the Church, all the gifts must be there also. If they are not exercised, that does not prove that they do not exist, but that the faith to exercise them is lacking in God's servants. The gifts are all perfectly preserved; for the Holy Spirit, not the Church, keeps them safely.

A. What should a Christian then do when overtaken with sickness?

B. A Christian should obey God's command, and at once turn to Him for forgiveness of the sin which may have caused the sickness, and for immediate healing. Healing is obtained from God in one of four ways, namely: First, by the direct prayer of faith, without any aid from the officers of the Church, praying as the Centurion did in Matthew 8:5 to 12; second, by two faithful disciples praying in perfect agreement, in accordance with the Lord's promise in Matthew 18:19; third, by the anointing of the elders and the prayer of faith, according to the instructions in James 5:14 and 15; and fourth, by the laying on of the hands of them who believe, and whom God calls to that ministry, as the Lord commands in Mark 16:18, and in other places.

A. But are people healed in this way in these days?

B. Yes, in thousands of cases. I have myself laid hands upon many hundreds of thousands of persons, and I have seen the Lord's Power manifested in the healing of great numbers, many of whom are living witnesses in many countries, who have testified publicly before thousands, and who are prepared to testify at any time. This ministry is being exercised by devoted Christians in many parts of America, Europe, Australasia and elsewhere.

A. Is it not the same as Christian Science, Mind Healing, etc.?

B. No. Divine Healing is diametrically opposed to these diabolical counterfeits, which are utterly anti-Christian. These impostures are only seductive forms of Spiritualism. Trance Evangelism is also a more recent form of this delusion, and it deceives many.

A. But how shall I obtain the necessary faith to receive healing, which faith I am at present conscious I do not possess?

B. It is written, "Belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the Word of Christ." (Romans 10:17.) Our Missions are held for the express purpose of teaching fully the Word of God on this matter, and I very heartily invite you to attend the meetings which are announced for Zion Tabernacle. All are welcome and there are no charges of any kind made, for all God's gifts are free gifts. Salvation is the first of these, without which you cannot be healed through faith in Jesus. All the costs of this work are covered by the free-will offerings of the people who attend these meetings, and others whom the Lord leads to help; but the poorest who have nothing to give are as heartily welcome as the richest.

A. Do you see the sick and lay hands upon them in this Mission?

B. Yes; after we feel satisfied that they are fully resting in the Lord alone for the healing, we see privately, so far as time permits, those who attend; but under no circumstances do we claim the power to heal any; for "power belongeth unto God."

A. Have you any writings upon this subject which can be purchased?

B. Yes; these can be obtained at the office of Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, or at Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. But the best book on Divine Healing is the Bible itself, studied prayerfully and earnestly.

We extend to you a hearty invitation to attend the meetings, which are free to all. Our prayer is that you may be led to find in Jesus Christ our Lord and God, your present Saviour from sin, your Healer from sickness, your Cleanser from all evil, your Keeper in the way to Heaven, your Friend, and your All for Time and Eternity. We pray that these words may help many who read, and that our little conversation may bear fruit in leading many readers to look to Jesus only.

"The Healing of Christ's seamless dress
Is by all beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again."

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, December 22, 1900, was conducted by Overseer Speicher.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be eight in number, as follows:

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Canada, China, England, Ireland and Japan.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

GEORGE MISSEL, Streator, Illinois, said: "I praise the Lord I have come here. I know I have sinned and I want to be forgiven. I want you all to pray for me."

LOUIS BENKENDORF, Streator, Illinois, said: "This young man is a cousin of mine. I thank God that He gave me words to speak to him which brought him to Zion

"I praise God for teaching which has some sense in it. I praise God that when I was a boy of about fifteen or sixteen, as near as I can remember, I was converted to God. Then I went back to the world and lived a sinful life, until God came to me one night and said, 'Choose tonight whom you will serve.'

"When I made it known that I was converted, the people would say, 'Everybody speaks well of you.' I told them that they did not know what a miserable sinner I was. The Devil aided me so that my sins did not come before the public.

"There is nothing in this world better than a true conversion. True conversion makes us hate sin."

Overseer Speicher—How long have you been in Zion?

Mr. Benkendorf—"I have been in Zion since last May."

Overseer Speicher—Has God blessed you in Zion?

Mr. Benkendorf—"Yes. When I came to Zion I could not move this arm. My daughter had to dress and undress me. Now I can move it as I desire. I was also healed of a rupture. I had two doctors, but they did me no good. LEAVES OF HEALING was brought to me and I read it. I threw my medicines and my truss into the stove. I thank God I can go without a rupture band. I praise God for Zion. I thank God for Dr. Dowie. I thank God for Overseers Speicher and Piper.

"After I was converted, some of my boys got converted and read in the Word of God that it was not right to even touch the carcass of a hog, so they quit eating it and would never touch it again. My wife said, 'How will I do the cooking? I cannot do it without lard.' So I said I would butcher one for that purpose only, not thinking that it was just as wrong to eat the lard as the flesh. I got sick after that and the whole family had something wrong with them, except those boys, who would not touch it. I got sick and came to Zion for healing.

"I raised hogs for a number of years, and I can honestly say that I have never made any money in hog raising. If I were to count up the damage they did my property, I know I would be the loser in the end. They are very destructive. I was kept busy repairing things which the hogs had destroyed. Today, if I do say it myself, you can go around my place and find everything in good order. It does not look as it did when I was raising hogs."

MRS. ISABELLA S. CORKEY, Londonderry, Ireland, said: "I was speaking to a Zion friend this morning concerning my observations regarding the eating of swine's flesh. I would very often in preparing a dinner in a hurry for the children have ham and eggs, and some times have it for breakfast. I noticed that after eating it, they would become fretful and peevish. I said to my husband, 'I believe that ham is not good to eat. I think it indigestible food and we should give it up.' I did not know then that it was sinful, but now that I have the Zion teaching, I thank God that He does not wish us to use it."

DEACONESS MARY B. SPEICHER, Zion Home, said: "I desire to speak of the danger of not obeying God when one has received the light. My younger son Jacob came here and heard Zion teaching on swine's flesh. He went home and sold his hogs, instead of destroying them.

"He lost a nice horse, then two very nice Jersey cows, and I do not know how many calves, and about a hundred chickens. His crops became literally covered with bugs. I never saw anything like it. This had never happened to him before. He never had had any accidents like these."

Overseer Speicher—After he had been to Zion and heard the teaching, he knew better, but instead of destroying the hogs, he sold them and spent the money for the Armenian sufferers. But he gave cancer to the people who ate his hogs. All this happened in one season. That is what happens to the disobedient, and I am sure loss has come to many others also. We must not put our hand to the plow and then look back.

ELDER J. R. ARMSTRONG, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for His keeping power. I have been wonderfully kept and blessed since I came to Zion, and especially this fall. I do not think I have half as much sleep now as I used to have before, yet I am able to do more work week after week. I realize what it is to obey God as the Holy Spirit guides. I have gotten victory over things which the Devil has tried to put on me.

"One night it was very cold and I went out to hold a meeting. On my way home, while sitting in the car, a severe pain passed through my body, and it seemed as if the grip was approaching. The Lord told me to testify for Him. I did so, and the pain left me at once.

"I am thankful to God for Zion. It is a strong organization. God is wonderfully blessing, and we realize here that we can speak with authority. It is wonderful how effective this Message is! We can see the results wherever we enter in, even into the infidel's house. We thank God for that."

DEACONESS SOPHIA J. HERTRICH, Zion Home, said: "I am very thankful to God for the blessings which came to me before I came into Zion. But oh, I am so thankful for the added light of the Full Gospel which has come to us since I came into Zion. The Word of God is a new Book to me. I am so glad that I learned to love it before I ever knew of Zion, but it is so much more to me now.

"I am especially thankful tonight for the blessing of the last ten days. I had been away for about five weeks, and since I came back, the Devil has been after me with grip. I praise the Lord I have had the victory, as I have not had to lay aside my duties even for an hour. I praise His Name.

"I used to take cold very easily, and when I would begin to cough in the fall of the year, our folks used to say, 'Oh, that is too bad. You will cough all winter now,' which I did. I am so glad we do not have to cough every time the Devil says 'Cough,' and God gives us power to resist the Devil in coughing as well as in other things."

ALL-NIGHT WITH GOD IN ZION.

Assemblies Full of Spiritual Power and Blessing Held in Central Zion Tabernacle With the Closing of the Nineteenth Century and the Dawning of the Twentieth. Two Thousand Christians Remain Throughout.

CHICAGO.

WITH joyous songs of praise to God, Zion in Chicago met in Central Zion Tabernacle on the evening of December 31, 1900.

Hundreds upon hundreds, the happy members and friends poured into the great auditorium.

They filled the spacious ground floor. They took almost every seat in the broad curve of the first gallery. They mounted tier upon tier, high in the second gallery, till nearly every chair was occupied.

Over 2500, from nearly every State and Territory, from many lands and many climes, from almost every nation and people, were present.

Every face was shining with joy.

Every heart seemed overflowing with thanksgiving to God.

The year just closing had been the greatest, the most blessed of all the years in Zion.

It had been a year of Zion's greatest Onward Movement up to that time.

During its twelve months, thousands and tens of thousands had been led out of darkness into light; out of the awful bondage of sin and disease and death and hell into glorious Salvation, Healing, Cleansing, Life, Light and Liberty of the Everlasting Gospel, through the Message from Zion.

The year had seen, at its dawning moment, the announcement of Zion City Site; it closed with even greater progress toward that City of promise than was anticipated.

The year had seen the wonderful and never-to-be-forgotten scenes at the Consecration of Zion Temple Site.

On its pages is recorded the history of the terrible Mansfield persecution and the splendid Victory which God gave Zion.

The closing months of the year saw the fearless invasion of the strongholds of Satan in Europe by one God-sent man and his little handful of attendants. Its closing hours saw all Europe awakened, the forces of the enemy in defeat and confusion, put to rout by that one man, with God on his side, and absolute triumph for Zion.

With all these and many other blessings in mind, words were but feeble to express the gratitude in the hearts of all in Zion as they prepared to spend the closing hours of that Jubilee Year in praise and the opening hours of the New Year and the New Century in prayer.

The cheering, inspiring presence of the General Overseer was greatly missed. He had never before been absent from the All-Night With God in Zion, Chicago, and all felt that even on this occasion, although absent in body, he was present in spirit. The reading of the cablegram from him, containing the Motto for the New Year, added to the strength of that conviction.

The preliminary prayer and praise service was opened at 9 o'clock by Overseer Speicher. After the singing of a hymn, God's blessing on the services of the night were besought by all in prayer, Overseer Speicher, Elders Dinius, Richert and Tindall, Deacon Stevenson, Deaconess Hertrich and members and friends in the audience, leading.

At 10 o'clock Zion's White-robed Choir entered, singing a beautiful Processional, "Standing on the Portal of the Opening Year." The choir and congregation then joined in singing Hymn Number 63, and all joined in repeating the Apostles' Creed.

Overseer Piper then took charge of the meeting, reading from the first chapter of Paul's second letter to Timothy, with comments.

Prayer was then offered by Deacon W. S. Peckham, after which Zion's White-robed Choir sang the magnificent "Gloria" from Mozart's "Twelfth Mass," with a true spirit which made the beautiful words of the anthem full of meaning and blessing.

Overseer Piper then preached the sermon, "The End and the Beginning," with great power. He dealt with the progress of Zion and the world in general during the century and the year which were then closing, pointing out God's Infinite plan in the establishment of His Kingdom.

When he had finished, all hearts were aglow. It was with a sense of nearness to God and of the Holy Spirit's blessed presence that the great company, now one family in Zion and in God, gathered in sacred fellowship about the Lord's Table.

Overseer Mason, with earnestness, yet with simplicity, administered the ordinance.

As all were bowing in silent prayer, in the midst of this Supper, the midnight hour struck and an Old Century had passed and a New Century was born. As the hour struck, Zion's White-robed Choir sang the Te Deum, the words of which have been sung in praise to God in many centuries:

We praise Thee, O God; we acknowledge Thee to be the Lord.
All the earth doth worship Thee, the Father everlasting.
To Thee all angels cry aloud, the heavens, and all the powers therein.
To Thee cherubim and seraphim, continually do cry,
Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Sabaoth;
Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of Thy glory.
The glorious company of the apostles praise Thee.
The goodly fellowship of the prophets praise Thee.
The noble army of martyrs praise Thee.
The Holy Church throughout all the world doth acknowledge Thee,
The Father of an infinite Majesty;
Thine adorable, true and only Son;
Also the Holy Ghost, the Comforter.
Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ,
Thou art the everlasting Son of the Father.
When Thou tookest upon Thee to deliver man,
Thou didst humble Thyself to be born of a Virgin.
When Thou hadst overcome the sharpness of death,
Thou didst open the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers.
Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the Glory of the Father.
We believe that Thou shalt come to be our Judge.
We therefore pray Thee, help Thy servants,
Whom Thou hast redeemed with Thy precious blood.
Make them to be numbered with Thy Saints in glory everlasting.
O Lord, save Thy people, and bless Thine heritage;
Govern them and lift them up forever.
Day by day we magnify Thee;
And we worship Thy Name ever, world without end.
Vouchsafe, O Lord, to keep us this day without sin;
O Lord, have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us.
O Lord, let Thy mercy be upon us as our trust is in Thee.
O Lord, in Thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded.

When the celebration of the Lord's Supper had been completed, Deacon H. Worthington Judd's ringing tenor was heard in the inspiring words of the Century Closing Hymn, "Go Forward, O Zion," the congregation joining in the chorus with great enthusiasm and joy.

The cablegram from the General Overseer, giving Zion's Motto for the New Year, "Arise ye, let us go to Zion unto the Lord our God," was then read.

Telegrams of greeting were also read from All-Night assemblies of Zion in Lima, Ohio, signed by Elders Moot and Basinger, and in Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania.

After general greeting and handshaking and adjournment to the refectory for refreshments, the great company, with but very little diminution in numbers and with zeal unabated, but rather increased, reassembled for the most deeply blessed service of the night, the hours of communion with God in prayer.

The scene was one nowhere else to be witnessed, and was indescribable in its intensity of spiritual power.

Prayer was first offered for the General Overseer and his party and all Europe. There was a deep sense of the great need that God should be very near to His Messenger in the closing hours of his stay in Europe, where, for months, many enemies had been seeking to accomplish his death. God heard these and many other prayers from all over the world and delivered the General Overseer safe from all hostile hands in Europe.

Zion believes that He will answer her prayers still further, and bring His servant safely home.

Prayer for Zion City and Zion Lace Industries; prayer for Zion in Chicago and every Institution which God has builded unto her; prayer for Zion in distant Continents and the Islands of the Sea, followed.

Then the hundreds, yea, thousands, of requests were presented, asking prayer for sick, sinful and sorrowing ones, for fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, and other relatives and friends. All joined very earnestly in these petitions, and there was an assurance that God was answering faithful prayer.

Overseer Speicher then answered questions from inquirers in the audience for an hour. The Overseer's answers were quick, short and to the point, hence he was able to answer a great many queries upon matters pertaining to the every-day lives of the people, for the most part the questions being intensely practical.

The closing hymn was then sung, an earnest prayer of consecration repeated after Overseer Piper by all present, and the first meeting in Central Zion Tabernacle in the Twentieth Century was closed by the benediction by Overseer Piper.

It was 6 o'clock when the meeting closed, after having been in almost continuous session for nine hours.

The number who remained until the close of the meeting was the largest ever remaining at an All-Night with God in Zion.

The interest was unflagging to the end, and those who stood and received the benediction seemed brighter and happier after their All-Night Meeting of Praise and Prayer than when the services began the evening before.

Mansfield, Ohio.

Rev. Cyrus B. Fockler, Elder-in-Charge.

Zion's wonderful fight and glorious victory in Mansfield made a deep impression upon the citizens of that place.

With the passing of mob rule, the days of intense excitement and bitter, furious hatred, has come a reaction of calm thought and reflection. Men and women with reason see that Zion cannot be all that her enemies have called her; that in order to fight such a battle and win such a victory, she must have extraordinary qualities.

With this calm thought, there has come a desire to know the truth about Zion.

This was most clearly shown on the occasion of the visit of Deacon John H. Sayrs to Mansfield on Lord's Day, December 30, 1900. Deacon Sayrs took with him a large number of copies of LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume VIII, Number 9, the edition containing the portraits of the men who had suffered and conquered at Mansfield, and a brief résumé of the fight and the victory.

When he offered these at the Erie depot, the scene of so much of the persecution, the place where so many of Zion's ministers suffered violence, the crowd rushed for them and he distributed fifty in a short time.

Deacon Sayrs was also successful in distributing many copies in other parts of the city.

This was the occasion of Deacon Sayrs' second visit to Mansfield to conduct Zion meetings.

The first was on Lord's Day, December 23d.

On that date he held two excellent services, in which God's Spirit was present to bless.

All was quiet, there being no molestation or hostile demonstration of any kind.

On Lord's Day, December 30th, God was with the Deacon, and services were held afternoon and evening without molestation.

Thus Zion in Mansfield closed the year and the century, enjoying the peace which follows a glorious victory given by God, in the Name of Jesus Christ, His Son, and by the Power of the Holy Spirit.

From Attorney Douglass, on January 3, 1901, Overseer Piper received a telegram announcing the conviction of Allen Andrews, who hit Deacon Kessler with a brick, on a charge of rioting.

This is the first conviction in Mansfield of any of those who took part in the terrible riots of July, August, September and October, 1900. Several others are under indictment.

Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Overseer George L. Mason's Tours.

Charles W. Wright, Conductor of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, sends us the following report of Overseer Mason's visit.

Overseer Mason's visit to Pittsburg, from December 6th to 10th, inclusive, was productive of good to the members here.

The free advertising given us by the papers was not intended to benefit us. They seemed to be surprised that Zion meetings could be held without a disturbance, even though they put in a few sly bids for one.

The meeting Friday afternoon was devoted to Divine Healing teaching and prayer.

Friday evening the talk was on the folly of opposition to the Christian Catholic Church, and a few testimonies were given.

The Wilkinsburg Chief of Police was present at both meetings.

The Saturday afternoon meeting was delayed nearly an hour by a message from the Burgess, which amounted to a demand, that the Overseer should go and see him and procure a license before going on with the meeting! We went to his office and after wasting considerable time and breath, and filling us with tobacco smoke, he gave permission for the meetings to go on. He said he would decide on Monday morning whether a license would have to be paid or not.

Lord's Day morning the papers stated that "there had been some talk of chasing the 'Dowieites' out of town, if they attempted to hold a meeting, and that is the reason Officer Snyder was at the gathering. He was instructed not to interfere with the meeting if it was orderly, but if there was any disorder, his orders were to arrest the speaker."

Lord's Day morning we had Junior exercises, and at the Rodman Street (colored) Baptist Church Overseer Mason baptized three people by Triune Immersion.

After the afternoon sermon, the right hand of fellowship was given to five people, and the Overseer laid hands on twelve people for blessing in Seventy work.

The Lord's Supper was observed.

In the evening the largest audience was present, and heard something about the Purity of Life and Holy Living, such as they were not used to hearing. All seemed to be deeply interested.

Testimonies of our people were given to the power of God to heal, and save, and bless.

Monday morning the Burgess did not show himself at the appointed hour, and we concluded that the whole affair was a big bluff of the Devil.

Collections were taken, and Zion Literature distributed freely, and Zion in Pittsburg and Wilkinsburg is Going Forward!

Monday afternoon was Divine Healing teaching and prayer with the sick.

Monday evening the Overseer gave us a very interesting discourse on Secret Societies from a Biblical standpoint.

The audience was very attentive throughout, and afterwards there were several knots of people in different parts of the house discussing the points made and showing that the Overseer had stirred them up and given them something to think about.

There were three preachers in the audience.

We have already seen some of the results of the meetings.

This afternoon a hale and hearty man of about seventy years, testified that he was much blessed by LEAVES OF HEALING and in attendance on the Overseer's meetings.

We have been blessed in our home by the Overseer's presence, and esteemed it a privilege to have him at our house.

Marion, Ohio.

Rev. Archibald McFarlane, Elder-in-Charge.

Elder McFarlane sends us the following account of Zion's All-Night with God in Marion, with a number of excellent testimonies given in Zion Tabernacle, Marion, Ohio, on Lord's Day, December 30, 1900:

We had a glorious All-Night meeting. A number of brethren from a distance were here, and helped to make the meeting a success. Deacon Merchantell, of Forest, Ohio, spent the night with us and added very much to the interest of the meeting.

All seemed to enjoy themselves and took part in the meeting until the clock struck 6 A. M. We retired feeling that we had spent a very happy and profitable night with God.

The closing Lord's Day in the year brought us the following testimonies:

Mr. Yenni said: "I thank God that I am in Zion. God has healed my family a number of times. My children were healed of colds and fever in the last three weeks."

Mrs. Yenni said: "My head used to ache nearly all the time, and sometimes I could not go about because of my headache. Last summer I went into the prayer room and Elder McFarlane prayed for me. I was healed. I praise God for His blessings to me."

George B. Grace said: "This year has been a glorious year of victory for me in Zion. One week ago last Friday night we had prayer meeting at our house. My little girl had suffered all day from toothache. Her face was badly swollen. Elder McFarlane prayed and instantly the pain was gone, and soon the swelling all went away. I thank God for Zion and Zion's teachings."

Mrs. George B. Grace said: "What my husband has said about the healings in our family is all true. I have had a number of healings myself this last year. One week ago today my head was aching very badly. I went into the prayer room, and when the Elder prayed I could feel the Power of the Holy Spirit. The headache left immediately."

Mrs. William Griffiths said: "This is the happiest year I ever spent in my life. God has given me great reasons to praise Him. I have been healed of a great many diseases. Last week one morning I was very sick. I asked my husband to pray, and in a few minutes I was able to go about my work."

J. A. Main said: "Seventeen years ago I went into the Baptist Church. I did not live a Christian life there. I have done more to straighten up my life in the last year, in Zion, than all the years I was a Baptist. God is surely good to me and to my family."

Mrs. J. A. Main said: "I thank God for our General Overseer and LEAVES OF HEALING. I suffered all my life from many diseases before I read the LEAVES. God healed me. Last week my back was troubling me. I went into the prayer room and while the Elder prayed for me I could feel that God was healing me. I have been able to sell my usual number of LEAVES OF HEALING this week, and I feel quite strong and well today."

Mrs. Alice Nickerson said: "Last August I was very sick. My husband was quite alarmed about me, as he does not believe as I do. We telephoned for Elder McFarlane, and while he was praying for me I knew that God was healing me. I was not entirely healed, as I was not altogether right with God. As soon as I got right I was healed. It pays to obey the Elders in Zion, for they are men of God."

T. W. Terry said: "I cannot express the gratitude which is in my heart for what God has done for me and my family since I came into Zion. I never was strong enough to do hard work, but I thank God I can do any kind of work, and God supplies me with strength. I had a very severe cold a few days ago. My lungs hurt me very badly. I sent for the Elder and he prayed for me, but I did not get any better. He came again the next day and asked me if there was anything in the way. I confessed that I was in trouble over some things that I knew I had neglected to make right. I promised God that I would make them right, the Elder prayed, and I began to get well right away. I was soon at my work again."

Mrs. T. W. Terry said: "When we came into Zion we began to pray for our family that God would lead them to repentance. I thank God that our oldest daughter is now a member of Zion, and I believe is truly converted to God. It pays to obey God."

Miss Hazel Terry said: "One year ago today I was very sick, but God healed me, and has kept me well all through the year."

George Keifer said: "I never had good health until I came into Zion. God gave me a wonderful healing, and is supplying me with strength every day, so that I am able to work and support my family."

Mrs. George Keifer said: "This has been the happiest year of my life. About a month ago my memory would leave me and I would not know what I was doing for a few minutes. The Elder prayed for me and I have not been troubled that way since. Last Sabbath I was not well. The Elder prayed for me and I was healed instantly."

Van B. Shumaker said: "The longer I am in Zion the more I love the teaching. We have had two healings in our family in the last few days. Our little girl had a very high fever. We prayed and the fever left in a few minutes. Our baby caught cold and the fever seemed as if it would burn him up. We prayed and had the Elder pray, and he is all right again."

Howard Tonguett said: "This has been a year of victory for me in Zion. I never was as healthy as I am now. I have been able to put away a great many faults and failings which I used to have. When I look at what I used to be and what I am now, I am astonished at myself. I praise God, for I know I am growing in grace and strength. I am sure it pays to live right in the sight of God."

Toledo, Ohio.

Rev. J. C. Reiff, Elder-in-Charge.

Elder Reiff, whose work in Toledo God continues to bless and to increase, sends us the following interesting report of the opening of a new Zion Tabernacle:

Zion in Toledo is Going Forward.

We have recently leased pleasant and convenient rooms in the Toledo Law Building, in the very heart of the city.

The building is situated on the northeast corner of Madison and Superior Streets.

Electric cars from all parts of the city, and from Bowling Green, Norwalk, Tremont, and soon from Sylvania, all run either by or within a block or two of our new Zion Tabernacle.

Let all Zion in Northwestern Ohio note the change, and take frequent advantage of our better location.

Zion in Toledo welcomes all.

Elder Reiff also sends us the following testimony to God's blessing through his prayer of faith:

MONCLOVA, OHIO, December 28, 1900.

ELDER J. C. REIFF.

Dear Brother in Christ:—I thank you very much for praying for me, and also my dear Heavenly Father for answering your prayers.

The latter part of September my hands became sore. I do not know what the trouble was, but think it was salt rheum.

My husband saw you and asked you to pray for me. He set the time at 8 o'clock in the evening, but he did not get home until after the time appointed, and so I did not know about it to unite in prayer.

The second day after that he asked me how my hands were.

We looked at them and found them all well; also a large wart was gone which had bothered me very much. Praise His Holy Name!

In October I was feeling very badly. I had some fever and could hardly do my work.

I claimed the promises in the fifth chapter of James.

I wrote to you for prayers, setting the hour in the evening.

The answer came in the forenoon, and I knew you had received the letter.

I cut my hand very badly between the thumb and front finger with corn husks.

The cut was one and a half inches long and very deep.

I again sent a request for prayer.

It was surprising how so large a cut could heal so quickly. It never got sore in the least, but healed immediately.

Three of the children were sick with fever and sore throat, and then broke out with a rash.

We sent requests for prayer for each, and they were up and well very soon.

I praise God for Zion and for LEAVES OF HEALING. We could not get along without it.

Pray for us that we may ever be obedient.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) SARAH A. NEEDLES.

Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Rev. James R. Adams, Elder-in-Charge.

At a Children's Praise and Testimony Meeting held on Christmas Day afternoon, in Zion Tabernacle, Grand Rapids, the following testimonies were given, all by children:

Clifford Meloshe, of Port Huron, said: "I am so glad I am in Zion. My aunt taught me to trust God in sickness. I am healed of catarrh. I had severe headaches and malarial fever regularly every year, but God healed all in answer to prayer."

Lydia Baxter said: "I had scarlet fever when at Sand Lake, but God healed me. I am happy to be in Zion."

John Baxter said: "I was sick for four days, but grandma and mother prayed for me and in a week I was well and out at play."

Rhea Meloshe said: "I suffered so much with cramps that I would be drawn and rolled up like a ball. But I have been baptized and am in Zion. God healed me, and I never have had a cramp since coming into Zion. I was also healed of bad toothache."

Hattie Linderman said: "I am glad I am in Zion. I have had severe pains in my feet, and headaches, too. When theaElder prayed for me, I was healed, and was able to go out the same day."

Henry Linderman, Jr., said: "I had such pains in my stomach that I would often scream. The Elder came and prayed for me and God made me well. I am glad and thank God."

Jenette Van Woerkom testified to having been healed of chronic dizziness brought on by over-application to study.

Sistersville, West Virginia.

Overseer George L. Mason's Tours.

Overseer William Hamner Piper has received the following report of the blessings which came through Overseer Mason's visit to Sistersville, West Virginia:

318 WASHBURN AVENUE,
SISTERSVILLE, WEST VIRGINIA, December 17, 1900.

REV. W. HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Overseer Mason has come and gone, and we greatly enjoyed his visit.

It has been productive of much blessing.

Four public meetings were held.

Wednesday afternoon was rounded out with Triune Immersion, the Lord's Supper, Consecration of Young Children and laying on of hands and prayer.

The power of the Lord was present to heal and much blessing was experienced.

As others still wished to be baptized, another service was held Thursday, December 13th.

The Baptists had refused the use of their baptistry, but they had no lock and key on the Ohio River, and ten in all went down into the river, although it was cold winter weather, and joyfully received the Ordinance of Triune Immersion.

Twenty have now received Baptism. Four applications for fellowship were received, all of them from St. Marys.

These new members will make twelve at St. Marys, nine at Sistersville and three at a distance—twenty-four in all.

We have been quickened, strengthened and helped, and believe that Zion in Sistersville and St. Marys will Go Forward with a new impetus as a result of Overseer Mason's visit.

Faithfully yours in Jesus, MARIETTA COSPER,
Conductor of Gathering.

Auburn, Nebraska.

Rev. Charles A. Hoy, Elder-in-Charge. Evangelist Sue R. Hoy, Assisting.

Writing of the visit of Deacon Daniel Sloan, with his "Panorama of Zion," "Lectures on Zion City" and conferences with the members and friends of Zion, to Auburn and Falls City, Nebraska, Elder Hoy says:

Zion in Auburn and Falls City received much inspiration from the visit and lectures of Deacon Sloan.

We had rented a large opera house at each place, expecting crowds, and got them.

At Falls City many hundreds of the large number who turned out to hear the illustrated lecture on "Zion City and the Work of Zion" could not gain admittance owing to the crush.

There has been much favorable comment at both places concerning the lecture.

We had members with us from distant Gatherings, to whom the lectures were great spiritual feasts.

Zion's Seventies here are faithfully pushing the house-to-house work with literature.

I recently held some meetings at Napier, Missouri, and Hiawatha, Kansas, which were well attended, for the first, and with good spiritual interest.

Our Junior Christmas Services were quite spiritual, everything centering so appropriately on the Christ as Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper.

Wayland, Michigan.

Elder James R. Adams, of Grand Rapids, recently held a three days' mission at Wayland, Michigan.

Five services were held; three at the residence of Mrs. W. A. Congdon and two in the Opera House.

The friends of Zion in this little town are much encouraged to go on with the work of proclaiming Christ as God's Way of Salvation and Healing.

A Gathering has been organized and meets Sundays at 3 P. M. and Thursdays at 7 P. M., in the home of Mrs. Congdon, on Main street.

May God richly bless the faithful members of Zion in Wayland.

Zion's Conflict With Methodist Apostasy.

This book of 200 pages, just issued by Zion Publishing House, contains nine powerful discourses delivered in Central Zion Tabernacle by the General Overseer last May, during the session of the Methodist General Conference. They are of especial value for the full and fearless exposure of Freemasonry.

"The Methodist Church the Property of the Masonic Order," "Freemasonry: A Heathen and Antichristian Abomination," and "Degrees of Masonic Devilry" ought to be read by every lodge man.

The iniquity of the Mystic Shrine is laid bare.

"The Christian's Duty in Breaking a Bad Oath" is the address which preceded the public working of Masonic and Odd Fellow degrees in Central Zion Tabernacle, a full account of which is given.

Buy one of these books and keep lending it. No honest and intelligent man can read the book and still remain a Freemason.

Sent by mail, postpaid, for twenty-five cents.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

ZION MISSIONS DEPEND ON THE INFALLIBLE SCRIPTURES.

"THE Infallible Inspiration and sufficiency of the Holy Scriptures," as set forth in the first article of the Basis of Fellowship of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, is the only solid bedrock for Zion's work in all lands. We have no right to disturb the consciences and customs of other races unless we have an infallible and authoritative Message from God. There is nothing whatever in Christianity which the heathen do not already know and approve, except those great truths which are revealed only in the Bible. If these great truths are clearly, exactly and correctly expressed in God's Word, without mixture of error, then Zion may boldly confront the world with: "It matters not what I think or what you say, it matters only what God says!"

WHAT GOD SAYS is of infinite worth. He has chosen to say it in human words. He permitted full play to the minds and hearts of prophets and apostles as they wrote the Scriptures. But the Holy Spirit was in them and guided their wills in the choice of words, so that the "sacred writings" or Scriptures were God-inbreathed, theo-pneustos (θεόπνευστος) (2 Timothy 3:15-17). If God was breathing into the writings so as to communicate His law and love and life and light to man, we believe that He knew precisely what He meant to say, and that He said what He meant.

The Message of the Holy Spirit being for all ages, and for all races, the language in some passages may be general, symbolic, or poetic, but never wrong or mistaken. There are errors made by copyists and translators, but there are very few which are at all important. We have such confidence in God as to say that He could not have given originally to man a message untruthful in a single word, concerning doctrine or fact or nature.

"SCIENTIFIC RELIGION" is now a great fad in the theological mills. They study all the circumstances of time, place and event in which the prophecy was written, to ascertain its local and special use. That is well enough, but is by no means the chief thing. The Holy Spirit declares (2 Peter 1:20, 21), "that no prophecy of Scripture is of private (i. e., special) interpretation. For no prophecy ever came by the will of man: but men spake from God, being moved by the Holy Spirit."

The terms, "prophecy" and "the prophets" do not mean only passages predicting something. They mean the writings of the prophets. A prophet was one who spoke or wrote for God a message given directly by the Spirit of God. See Christ's summary of the Old Testament Scriptures as "the law of Moses, and the Prophets, and the Psalms."—Luke 24:44.

Critics have tried to give only a local and special meaning to prophecy in order to take away any reference to Christ. But we are here taught that when a prophet writes a message from God, that message has far more than a special and passing meaning. This applies also to the writings of the apostles, for apostles were also prophets.

"THE WILL OF MAN" had little to do in making Zion's Bible. "No prophecy ever came by the will of man." "Man spake from God." If so, they spoke simple truth. They were moved, literally borne along, by the Holy Spirit. That is, they were not at liberty to express their own opinions and prejudices. They willingly recorded the thought of the Holy Spirit. And not as machines, but in perfect freedom, they wrote also the very words which the Divine Will selected as He filled their minds and wills. This is the plain meaning of 1 Corinthians 2:13; "which things also we speak, not in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; comparing (margin, combining) spiritual things with spiritual"; that is, joining Divine thoughts with Divine words. Here we have Divine inspiration of the words claimed for his teaching by an apostle in the First Century.

THE WORDS OF SCRIPTURE often have far deeper meanings and uses than the writers themselves knew. A prophet would study the words which he himself had written, and from them try to learn something of the conflicts and victories of coming ages. It was revealed to him that God's words which the man had written were not chiefly for his own brief day and narrow sphere, but for men and nations of future times. That a Divine inspiration controlled both the thought and the words of the prophecy is evident from this passage in 1 Peter 1:10-12:

> Concerning which salvation the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you: searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. To whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced unto you through them that preached the Gospel unto you by the Holy Spirit sent forth from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

ASIA'S SPIRITUAL DEATH shall turn to life only through the very words of Jesus Christ, whose words are spirit and life. "The words that I have spoken unto you are spirit and are life!" There is poor comfort in that, if our Lord has only given the apostles His ideas or thought in a general way, and, after all, we do not know what the Lord's words are. For the application of this subject to Divine Healing, see LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume VII, Number 12, page 373.

ZION IN ASIA will quote to her converts what the holy Apostle Paul wrote to Zion in Europe:

> And for this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us the Word of the Message, even the Word of God, ye accepted it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the Word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.—1 Thessalonians 2:13.

God's inspiration of the very words they utter is claimed by the Scripture-writers in many hundreds of passages.

THE NIGHT OF ASIA, Buddhism, has brooded long over China and bred demon-worship, impure celibacy, lying, poverty, famine, massacre and atheism. Edwin Arnold idealizes this night of hell and calls it the "Light of Asia." "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness."—Isaiah 5:20. The vaporous dreams and sensuous fancies of worldly poets have corrupted the minds even of many missionaries. They no longer abide in Christ, and His words do not abide in them. Human opinion is honored rather than the Divine Oracles. As regards Clean Food, and Separation from Baal-worship in the lodge, and Divine Healing, and Tithing, and True Baptism, and a United Church, "lo, they have rejected the Word of the Lord; and what manner of wisdom is in them?"—Jeremiah 8:9.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 23d or 24th.

Holy Living Manifested.

1. What is holiness?—1 Thessalonians 4:1-12.
To be holy is to live in spirit as Jesus Christ lived.
It is to preserve the powers of the body for God.
It is to be honest in all business relations and dealings.

2. How is holiness possessed?—Luke 10:25-28.
It begins in the spirit's fellowship with God.
It continues in a life lived solely for God's glory.
It is ever centering the mind on Christ our Lord.

3. It is manifested in enlightenment of the understanding.—Ephesians 4:17-24.
God gives to one light so that he can see to walk soberly.
Better is the life of God than life from God.
Christ, the Light of the World, when put on, makes life blessed.

4. It is manifested in purity of heart.—Proverbs 4:23-27.
Many evils seek to get into the heart.
What the heart is full of, the mouth speaks of most.
Keep out of evil surroundings and evil will keep out of you.

5. It is manifested in singleness of purpose.—Romans 6:16-19.
A person is either committed wholly to God, or he is not.
Obedience must not come from convenience, but from conviction.
One cannot serve God until he is free from the entanglements of sin.

6. It is manifested in sanctification of the body.—1 Corinthians 6:15-20.
The body is not for lust, neither is it for the world nor the Devil.
One cannot be in health and weaken the body by sensuality.
The Holy Spirit can have fellowship only in a clean house.

The Lord Our God is a Holiness-Emphasizing God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 27th.

God's Call to New Relations.

1. The churches today are defiled with uncleanness and low standards of Christian living.—Revelation 3:1-6.
God has offered them the gifts of His Spirit, which are refused.
They work mostly for their own glory.
It is rare to find in them persons living the overcoming life.

2. God is calling people to come out and have nothing to do with these churches, that they may receive His fulness of blessing.—2 Corinthians 6:11-18.
Not to trust God fully is not to trust Him at all.
The membership of the churches is made up mostly of those without faith.
God must come in us and be given unrestrained liberty.

3. God cannot put a new truth into present denominations. They fight and deny God's power to do what He has promised.—2 Timothy 3:1-5.
A true child of God is never in peril and cannot be deceived.
The peril is for those who live for self and know not God.
Those who deny God's power to heal are to be shunned.

4. God now calls His people into a Church like unto the first, invincible in power and holy in every relation.—Revelation 3:7-13.
God will never leave Himself without a Holy Church.
Hell quakes as God's true Church moves on, in faith.
Her purity and loyalty to Him will ever be her Salvation.

5. God's harvest has been neglected, and at this late hour He calls a new organization to go forth and do His bidding.—Mark 16:14-20
These signs for centuries have not been in evidence until Zion came.
To preach the Gospel cannot be divorced from miracles.
Work done in faith will bring miracles of healing and blessing.

6. God's work calls for the use of every gift God has given by the Holy Spirit until Christ comes again.—1 Corinthians 12:1-11.
Men today are ignorant of the gifts of the Spirit.
A Church true to God and His Word will have manifestations of gifts.
Individuals who are obedient to God and covet usefulness will be honored by Him.

God's Holy People are a Call-Obeying People.

A reference encyclopedia of Bible truth can be had by those who will make the proper use of Zion's Bible Class Lessons which appear in LEAVES OF HEALING. They open up wonderful resources of preparation for Zion's Seventies together with those conducting Cottage Prayer Meetings or Zion Gatherings. These studies have been issued since Volume V, Number 27, and now number about 200 lessons. They extend over a wide range of Bible topics and subjects of practical use. Doctrinal teachings are presented, covering the full scope of Bible truth, concerning GOD, MAN, SIN, REDEMPTION, THE CHRISTIAN, A HOLY PEOPLE, THE CHURCH, CHRISTIAN WORK, THE WORLD, THE AGE BEYOND and FINAL ESTATES. These lessons can be clipped out of the paper and pasted in a book and indexed under the doctrines, subjects, topics and words of which they treat. This will be a book of ready reference and can be added to regularly. The subjects, with the varied methods of treatment as they appear in comprehensive outline, with citations of Scripture from every book of the Bible, together with practical questions or remarks thereon, may be added to by explanations and observations and illustrations which will enable every one who devoutly studies and diligently uses them to rightly divide the word of truth, and thus in an increasing measure become thoroughly furnished unto every good work.

How to study or teach a Zion Bible Class Lesson should not prove to be a difficulty to any one. It is the intention to cover simply the vital truths and important doctrines of the Bible, presenting a phase of some subject in each lesson from a given point of view, with selections of Scripture which have a plain and positive meaning, viewed from a broad light of Bible research. No commentaries are to be used, for they, in most part, are nothing but the traditions of the elders, which make void the Word of God. They, like many of the translations of the Bible, give a dark meaning to God's truth. They set forth lack of faith and show the low standard of spiritual conception at the day or time in which the work was done.

The safe rule for all is to read the Word of God in the power of the Holy Spirit, comparing Scripture with Scripture. Let the concensus of Scripture texts on one given subject, with the true meaning of the words involved, determine the points of view from which the subject must be approached.

For instance, take Zion Bible Class Lesson in LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume VII, Number 18—"Why some keep out of Zion": To illustrate the plan of going at a lesson, consider closely this lesson; for personal comprehensive study must, of course, precede the presentation of such a subject by a leader at a Zion Gathering. The first reason given is, "Because they are so used to old and corrupt theological views," as shown in Luke 5:36-39, which goes to show that a Church, in age and spiritual declension, will worship old and cherished dogmas which are held only in form, and will not accept the truths which come with waves of revival blessing.

Show how this is true in all Protestant churches in their apostasy, for they will not give up their hospitals, sanitariums, drugs, favorite medicines, surgery and doctors and trust God, who is the Creator, Redeemer and Preserver of the lives and health of the bodies of His people through Jesus Christ His Son.

The next question brings out the fact that if a new truth would get into an old Church with its lack of spiritual power, it would tear the Church to pieces. Such a Church is filled not with the unity of the Spirit, but with backsliders from pulpit to pew, who know not God in the power of the first love where "Christ is All and in All" and is trusted for everything in a full and complete consecration.

The third question cites the fact that people are slow in accepting new truths. So used are they to an old treadmill experience, bound in by walls of creeds and denominational teachings, that they cannot see that the Holy Spirit will ever continue to show things to come as God's plans unfold step by step throughout the age.

This same treatment is applied to the seven other reasons under this one subject, which is founded on that glorious prophecy in Jeremiah 3:14, 15. The analysis underneath the Scripture subdivisions of the lesson is in question form, but they can be turned into statement form and be verified, not only by the text cited or other well-known passages, but also by observation and personal experience, all of which should be brought to bear on a lesson, with such illustrations everywhere abounding as are true to the case in point. A person with spiritual perception, natural simplicity and earnestness of presentation can make Zion's Bible Class Lessons to be an increasingly great blessing to the thousands who are now studying them, as well as the tens of thousands who will yet be molded, stimulated and established in their relation to the every day affairs of life through Holy Living and fruitful service, by this method of presenting Bible truths.

SUGGESTIVE NOTES FOR THE USE OF ZION'S BIBLE CLASS OUTLINES

The Seed is the Word of God and the Field is the World. Therefore go ye and preach the Gospel to every creature; which means that people must be touched at home centers. Divide your town into two or more divisions, your city into smaller sections by streets, your township into districts by roads, and then begin and systematically follow up a house-to-house visitation with short calls. Give a small Zion tract or a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING or A VOICE FROM ZION.

Do not argue or controvert with people, but in cheerfulness of spirit and glow of countenance extend the literature with supplication in spirit and a "God bless you." Where your peace is returned, note all such places, together with the names of the parties.

Continue then in thus so doing, and you will not have gone over a very large or compact area by such thorough and systematic work until you have found material enough near at hand for an occasional Cottage Prayer Meeting in some home which may open to you.

Then you will follow this up in due time with a Zion Bible Class Gathering in a home centrally located. This Gathering will be continued regularly each week with great blessing and profit to all who attend. If it is persevered in, it will ultimately grow into a strong Zion Assembly, and eventually become a Branch Church, with an Elder-in-Charge.

Every member, however, must set aside a time for doing this preliminary work. Where there are only a few members in a place, the division of the territory must be planned in conference with the Conductor of the Gathering or the Elder-in-Charge, or whoever else may be appointed by the General Overseer at Headquarters as the representative to thus have charge of Zion's affairs. An understanding will then enable every one to set about this work in an orderly way, reaching every home as speedily as possible, without two or more persons working in conflict or covering the same territory.

This is Christ's method of evangelization as outlined in the Gospels, and will win victory for God every time, in every place and by every person who is deeply consecrated to Him in discipleship.

The day has come when this must be done. Those who refuse to do it are cursed with a curse, for God says: "Woe unto those who are at ease in Zion."

A True Use of Sabbath Day Hours.

They should be improved well by every member and friend of Zion. The Bible Class Lesson outline should, with the Bible in hand, be gone over carefully and prayerfully, and the sermon by the General Overseer should also be attentively read. Assemble, sometime during the day, your own family. Invite in, if possible, those who want to know God in power, or desire from Him some blessing for spirit, soul or body. Where this is not possible, go where the sick and sinful, poor and neglected are, who have tasted only of the bitterness of life, and open up to them the Gospel which Jesus commanded should be preached to the poor. Where there are two or more members of Zion near you, do not fail to regularly come together sometime during the Lord's Day. Pray and speak with one another, and study together the Bible Class Lesson and talk over the marvelous doings of God in Zion. DO NOT OFFEND GOD BY GOING TO SOME CHURCH SERVICE WHERE GOD IS EVER DISHONORED AS THE HEALER, CLEANSER, KEEPER AND PROSPERER OF HIS PEOPLE. Do not go to hear His truth perverted by the cry of Peace, Peace, when sudden destruction is so near because of the prevalent wickedness of the world, which, with a worldly Church, is becoming more and more corrupt. Do not go where scoffing is everywhere heard from so-called Christians at the imminent coming of "the great God and Saviour Jesus Christ." He will receive unto Himself only those who look for Him; even ZION, whom He is now calling into Purity and Holy Living, who daily, in obedience to Her Lord, whatever the cost may be, is thus making herself READY TO SOON BECOME THE BRIDE OF CHRIST AT HIS APPEARING.

PATIENCE

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 13 CHICAGO, JANUARY 19, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

WIFE MIRACULOUSLY HEALED. HUSBAND SAVED FROM SIN, DELIVERED FROM SECRETISM AND HEALED.

BUT UNTO YOU THAT FEAR MY NAME SHALL THE SUN OF RIGHTEOUSNESS ARISE WITH HEALING IN HIS WINGS.

This prophecy is fulfilled. That glorious Sun of Righteousness arose. His bright beams lighted up the whole earth.

The healing in His Wings brought its blessings to thousands.

That Sun of Righteousness has never set.

Clouds of ignorance, folly and error have arisen and hidden Him at times from men.

But He still shines; sends forth His blessed beams of Life, Light and Liberty.

His wings, filled with healing virtue, have never been withdrawn.

Over all the earth, wherever foul disease wastes and destroys, they hover, ready with the Divine Gift of Healing.

That Sun of Righteousness arose, according to prophecy, to those who fear God's Name.

But, alas, for centuries men have not feared the Name of God in sickness.

They have denied the healing power of the Sun of Righteousness.

They have feared the names of the strange gods of Medicine and Surgery.

Thus the healing in the wings of the Sun of Righteousness has been very little known in God's Church. But in accordance with His promise, God has sent, in these latter days, His Messenger, who is proclaiming the unchangeableness of God's Covenant of Healing.

He has given fearless witness against the false gods of Medicine and Surgery. He has been given Divine power in the proclamation of the Everlasting Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

MRS. IDA M. BURNETT.

Through his ministry thousands and tens of thousands have turned to God.

They have been saved, healed and blessed.

God has also, in every age, revealed Himself as the Healer, to those who truly sought to know Him and were obedient to His commands.

These Witnesses tell a wonderful Story of God's revelation of Himself to them.

The wife suffered untold tortures from many diseases for years.

Physicians gave her up and she all but lost hope.

Death seemed at hand.

Then, as they earnestly sought Him, searched His Word and heard the testimony of one of His Witnesses (now Evangelist Osborn), He sent His Holy Spirit to lead them into the truth.

in answer to prayer, the wife was delivered from all her terrible diseases, so that even her physician was convinced that God had healed her.

Six years have passed since then.

They have been six years of health, happiness and consecrated service to God.

The husband had been wonderfully saved from a life engrossed in business, from which he left God out.

He also was healed, through faith in God, of many afflictions.

These healings from God's hand led them to seek to know more about God's Way of Healing.

The Little White Dove brought them the story of Zion.

They at once recognized in the General Overseer, God's Messenger to Zion.

In obedience to his call, the husband came out from the "unfruitful works of darkness."

He witnesses to their pagan, Antichristian, demoralizing character.

Both husband and wife identified themselves with God's work in Zion.

The husband is a faithful, efficient head of one of the departments of Zion Land and Investment Association.

The wife sings sweetest praises to God in Zion's White-robed Choir.

Both are consecrated members of Zion's Seventies, and carry into the streets and lanes of Chicago the wonderful truth which has set them free.

Very recently, honoring his perfect consecration and in answer to the prayers of the officers of Zion's Financial Institutions, God gave the husband a perfect healing of the last vestiges of his diseases.

With thanksgiving to God we send these Witnesses around the world on the wings of the Little White Dove.

May God speak, by His Holy Spirit, through these testimonies, to the hearts of thousands who are bound by sin, by sickness, by the darkness of error.

May they turn from their false gods and fear the Name of God.

Then unto them shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with Healing in His wings.

It is the promise of God.

It cannot fail.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. IDA M. BURNETT.

1432 Michigan Avenue,
Chicago, Illinois, January 7, 1901.

Rev. John Alexander Dowie.

Beloved General Overseer:—It is with great joy and a gratitude unspeakable that I write this story of healing through faith in Jesus, without definite instruction from God's Word concerning the promises for our bodies in the atonement of Christ.

The knowledge of God's will came through the leading of the Holy Spirit and by His power.

I was enabled to hold through six weeks (two of great suffering) to the one verse of Scripture given me, clearly proving the text: "For no word from God shall be void of power" (Luke 1:37, R. V.).

I also see the value of the training of a godly mother, whose trust in the Lord was clearly shown in every time of trouble, who not only filled her own place, but that of my Christian father, who died when I was a child.

In January, 1890, while visiting my mother and sister at Beaver, Pennsylvania, I had a severe attack of diphtheria.

The best of nursing enabled me to sit up in three or four weeks, but, owing to partial paralysis, I could not walk; so my husband carried me to a chair until, by taking a few steps at a time, I was able to go up and down-stairs by holding to the banister.

My first walk on the street after this caused great suffering, the feeling being as if the bones just above the ankles were broken and coming through the flesh.

My whole body was full of the poison of the disease and the medicine given to kill it.

In the latter part of March my husband took me to Larned, Kansas, to take the baths at the salt wells there.

I remained until the last of September, taking a bath at 110 degrees every day except Sunday, and then being rolled in blankets, with even my head closely covered, to keep in the heat. I remained in this sweat-bath two hours, the water running off me in streams.

While much poison was eliminated from my system in this way, I still suffered from numbness and aching of limbs and back, having frequently to jump up and walk rapidly through the house to cause better circulation of the blood.

I had had a sore spot in my left lung, caused by a bad cold in 1886; also had severe attacks of neuralgia in my head and chronic liver trouble.

The last of September I went to Denver, remaining until April, when I was called East by my mother's illness. Upon her recovery we went to Philadelphia, where I took treatment at the Woman's Hospital at Twenty-third and Master Streets. Upon examination, the physicians decided that the pain in the back did not come from the kidneys, as I had thought, but that those organs were in good condition. They said the pain in the left side was caused by gas in the bowels, but they did not know what caused the gas, as my diet had nothing to do with the spells of pain. They said the chronic constipation was caused by the paralysis of the lower bowels, and that nothing could be done for it unless electricity might benefit it.

They also said that my system was in such bad condition that there might be a return of the paralysis at any time. That fear never left me, lest at some time I should not be able to walk and care for myself, until God took it away.

In the spring of 1892 I returned to Kansas without hope of ever being well.

All through that year I suffered greatly with the awful attacks of pain in the left side, which came without warning and made it impossible for me to stand upon my feet. Only God knows those years of suffering, for, while able to walk, I made no complaints.

During the year 1893 my attention was directed to Divine Healing (although not so called), and I heard a little talk on it one evening, but understood nothing, only that God did not make us sick.

I had been taught to bear sickness patiently, as God knew what was best for us. I did not know that Satan was piling these things upon me, and was delighted when I found it was not God's will concerning me.

Had I known Zion's teaching then, I should have been quickly reached. I wished to get well, but would not touch Christian Science or anything which I thought was not God's Way, although I knew nothing of Jesus as the Way.

A few months later Rev. S. B. Osborn, now Elder-in-Charge of the Branch of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in Lafayette, Indiana, then a pastor in the M. E. Church, was sent to take charge of the congregation of which I was then a member, as there was no Presbyterian Church in the town.

His wife, now Evangelist Osborn, had been instantly healed through the laying on of hands of a woman Quaker preacher. She had had no teaching and had been warned by officials in the M. E. Church not to talk of her healing, but she was too happy in her experience not to tell it to those who needed help as she had needed it.

For the next three months we talked on the subject, but she was not sufficiently clear to name the conditions and say that the Lord would heal me if I met them.

But I had gained one point—that I knew it was not God's will that I was sick. This gave me joy and made me think more earnestly how I might get the Lord's help.

About the middle of July I was taken suddenly with the worst attack I had ever had. My husband sent for the only physician in the town. He had studied medicine in Philadelphia, knew that I had been at the hospital there, and had said when discussing my case once, months before, that we need never send for him; for if they could do nothing for me at the hospital, he was sure he could not.

But my husband was in such distress that he came.

He said if the pain moved up a little more it would reach my heart and bring the end, and that my husband should be prepared for such an event at any time.

He gave me no medicine but morphine, and left powders of the same to be used if needed. The rest of that day, Friday and all day Saturday I was easier, but very weak and unable to eat.

The next morning, Sunday, there was a return of the pain worse than before. Morphine was again used.

About 11 o'clock, after its effects had passed off, my husband asked if I would like to have him read the next Sunday School lesson. I said Yes.

As he read, the verse from Malachi, fourth chapter, came to me: "But unto you that fear My Name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His wings."

Just as he was finishing, I was seized with another paroxysm, so severe that the woman, who came at once, and my husband thought I could live but a short time. For five hours I lay only partly conscious and suffering too much to heed anything when my mind was clear

When left alone for a few minutes, my husband dropped on his knees beside the bed and cried out to God for help and that His will only might be done.

In those few minutes of prayer peace came to his heart, and he rose from his knees with the rest of faith that knows no fear.

In the evening some friends came in and urged my husband to send for another doctor, who would give me medicine and do something for me. He said he would leave it with me, and when he thought I was able to talk, he asked if I would like to have another doctor.

I said, "No; no one can help me now but God.

On Monday I was more comfortable, and on Tuesday morning felt able to get up and said I would have my breakfast in the dining-room.

After breakfast, Mrs. Osborn, who had been out of town from Saturday until Monday evening, came in and was surprised to see me up, as she had heard that my death was looked for any time Saturday or Sunday.

I told her that I was going to be well, because God had given me a promise. I then repeated to her the second verse of Malachi, fourth chapter.

I had not known the significance of the verse, but it came to me like a flash when I saw her face.

She told me that she and Mr Osborn had made me a special subject of prayer the night before, and that she had the witness of the Spirit that I would be healed.

This confirmed our faith and made the Lord's leading clearer to us.

A few hours later, there passed pieces of mucous membrane from the lower bowel.

When the doctor saw these pieces, he said there had been a stricture which had broken and passed off. A new thin membrane would form, then pass off, too, when the good membrane would form, if I lived. If not, death would soon follow.

My husband said, "Doctor, we know she will live."

"Perhaps," he replied, "but it is wonderful for this to pass off of itself." He then explained the operation in stricture cases and said they never could be sure of success.

After this healing came ten days of severe suffering, which we could not understand; but at the end of that time a kidney stone, red in color, denoting uric acid, and as large as the end of my small finger, passed whole. This was a surprise to us all, after the doctors' decision at the hospital that I had no kidney trouble whatever. Our doctor lifted his hands and said, "We never knew what ailed that woman."

"No, but the Lord knew, and we are sure that He has done the work," said my husband. The doctor replied, "Well, I believe He has."

During the next week my bowels became natural in their movements, my lung healed perfectly, my liver became normal, the neuralgia disappeared and, praise the Lord, none of them have returned.

For six years I have been in almost perfect health, the few little attacks being quickly healed in answer to prayer.

Not an hour has been lost from work or duty of any kind, and even natural weariness has been quickly lifted when there was need for more hours of work.

No thought of medicine has come to my mind when attacked by grip or cold, but my heart has instantly turned to the Lord.

While all this physical blessing was good and greatly appreciated, yet the most glorious part of the work was the wonderful spiritual quickening, the consciousness of the personal presence of the Lord Jesus, by the Holy Spirit, the blessed knowledge that God was indeed my Father in Heaven, and that He loved and cared for me.

Oh, the joy of those blessed days when these truths were first revealed to us; truths so strangely new and yet so gloriously sweet! Praise God, they still are sweet, and many more just as good have been added to them.

We were thus prepared for the teaching of LEAVES OF HEALING, and knew at once that the leader was doing the work of God.

We had our own healing and knew how marvelously the Lord had led us in business plans, change of work, and in the little daily duties as well as in greater things.

We daily praise the Lord that we are permitted to be here and understand the work and plans for the future so much better than we did before coming to Chicago to stay.

Never have I seen the Lord honored as He is today in Zion by the General Overseer, officers and workers in all departments.

God is in turn honoring His faithful followers from the least to the greatest.

May the Lord abundantly bless you for the good you have done, and that which you have so wonderfully planned for, which will be carried out.

We are grateful for the unvarying kindness and helpfulness of the Overseers, Elders and Evangelists, and all in charge of special work.

I have sung in a number of church choirs, beginning as a girl and having charge of a choir for five years before coming to Zion, but I never before saw choir practice opened or closed with prayer—prayer offered for the quick recovery of members who were ill; God's blessing asked on the practice of the evening and the singing of the coming day, that the music might do its part in reaching the hearts of the unconverted and bringing them to Repentance.

Wonderful healings there are in the Choir in answer to the prayers of Elder Brasefield and Conductor Rice. I have been greatly blessed in being a member of it.

I enjoy Zion Seventy work, Cottage Prayer Meetings and all the means of grace, and only regret that the dear friends in other places cannot be here and enjoy these blessings with us, and that all the world does not know that "The Lord dwelleth in Zion."

Yours in Jesus,

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE,

General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Dear General Overseer:—While in the midst of the negotiations of one of the largest business transactions I was ever connected with, the words of the Master, "For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? or what shall a man give in exchange for his life?" (Matthew 16:26, R. V.), were so forcibly brought to my attention that I could not get away from them.

They later changed the whole course of my life.

While the accomplishment of the transaction would not have violated the law of State or Nation, yet it would have been far from fulfilling the moral law.

Fortunately for me, my early training from a good father and a successful business man, along the lines of honesty in business, caused me to withdraw.

The change of plans worked what was apparently a series of hardships.

With the loss of business came a loss of friends, social standing, cherished plans and, worst of all, loss of health and hope.

When it seemed that things could not get worse, I yielded one night in my home in Philadelphia to my wife's earnest entreaties to give myself to God.

New hope immediately came into my life, and, both serving God, we started anew to regain lost ground.

I desire to say here that God gave the best gift possible, next to the gift of His Son, that is, a good Christian wife, with a faith for great things.

Less than two months found me in the West again at my old business (milling). Later, while there, where God had blessed our witnessing for Him, my wife received her perfect and complete healing. This being such a new experience to us, we immediately began to look about to see whether others had this blessing and to learn of any other good things which God had for His children.

It was while investigating the various reforms and religious movements that we first heard of Dr. Dowie, through a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING.

At that time I was taking an active part in Church work, and at the same time was a Master Mason, Royal Arch Mason, Knight Templar and a Noble of the Mystic Shrine. I was also a member of the Royal Arcanum, a secret beneficial order, carrying a $3,000 policy.

I had previously been delivered from smoking, but I still ate pork, oysters and other unclean things. I put my trust in doctors and medicine in time of sickness.

I had been sprinkled in Baptism and thought I had fulfilled the conditions, according to the Word, which says, "Repent and be baptized."

I paid tithes, but as there was no Storehouse to put the money in, I expended it as I pleased. In fact, I was living up to all the light I had, and God was blessing me.

Soon after receiving LEAVES OF HEALING, I came to Chicago and attended the meetings at Zion Tabernacle No. 2, and one meeting at the Auditorium.

After a few days' visit, I returned home with the consciousness of having found what I had been looking for, and that our beloved General Overseer was the leader whom I had believed God would send before the coming of Jesus. I saw that he spoke with authority, and that his Message appealed to the hearts of those seeking the truth.

As quickly as possible we obeyed the Voice from Zion and raised its Standard in our home.

With the sending of tithes to the Storehouse, obeying in Baptism, giving up of lodges, insurance and unclean food, great blessing followed.

I suffered greatly from compound astigmatism of both eyes, and had worn glasses for years.

My eyes pained me very much, and there was always a slight discharge from them. Having followed the milling business for years, the dust caused me a great deal of annoyance.

I consulted prominent opticians and oculists, and spent hundreds of dollars, all to no purpose.

As my sight was the most important thing to me, I lay hold of God's promise, "If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you" (John 15:7), took off my glasses, and have not worn them since (1895).

I know now my life was spared in answer to prayer when I was virtually dying. Up to that time I did not understand full consecration, and, being suddenly stricken, we sent for a doctor, who found me in such great suffering that the only thing he could do was to administer morphine.

The return of consciousness brought a strong desire to live, and with it the conscious presence and power of God.

I immediately dismissed the doctor, made consecration, promising to trust God as my Healer, no matter what happened.

Since then (February, 1896) I have not taken any medicine or used the simplest remedies. Although I have had a number of severe attacks, I have always gotten quick deliverance in answer to prayer.

I also suffered from constipation, dyspepsia and various other things.

I am now in better health than I ever was, do not lose any time from business, have no doctor or drug bills, or any care or anxiety about my health.

On the other hand, I find it easy, as well as a real joy and pleasure, to trust God.

As above stated, I was bound by chains of Secretism, and at the same time claimed to be a Christian.

I had taken an oath in all the degrees from the Entered Apprentice of the Blue Lodge up to and including the degree of Knight of Malta in the Commandery of Knights Templar, each of which had a death penalty.

I had also taken an oath to "ever conceal and never reveal," as I was taught that "Secrecy and Silence" constituted the very essence of Masonic character (Mackey's "Ritualist," pages 523-525).

I was also taught that Masonry was a religious institution (Mackey's "Encyclopedia," page 60).

Since I have had Zion's teaching, I learn from the same work (Mackey's), on page 641, that "Freemasonry is not Christianity. It admits men of every creed within its hospitable bosom."

In the "Digest of Masonic Law" by George W. Chase, pages 207, 208, I read: "In fact, Blue Lodge Masonry has nothing whatever to do with the Bible; it is not founded upon the Bible. If it were, it would not be Masonry; it would be something else."

The Antichristian character of the above, and the false and hypocritical teaching of the Knights Templar, and the sinful practices of the Mystic Shrine, together with Zion's call to Repentance, made my duty very plain.

I hesitated awhile, thinking that my Masonic oaths carried with them a moral obligation, but God's Word (Leviticus 5:4, 5) made it clear to me that we should repent of a bad oath as we would any sin. I learned that no body of men or women who did not have the authority of the legislative, executive and judicial arms of the government could properly administer an oath, especially one involving the death penalty.

I thank God I am free from the "unfruitful works of darkness," and for Zion's bold and uncompromising position. I can truthfully say that my Masonry cost me not less than $1,000, besides loss of time and neglect of business. There was no part of Masonry which tended to make me a better man, but had I been a faithful attendant, the opposite would have been the result.

I desire to acknowledge my gratitude: First. To God for His keeping power, for blessing for spirit, soul and body, and also for the great temporal blessings which have come with obedience, in making confession and restitution, and for the marvelous way in which He has enabled me to meet financial obligations, settle up old business matters and always have profitable employment.

Second. To His Messenger, our beloved General Overseer, for his teaching and his prayers, and also for the uniform kindness of the Overseers, Elders and all the officers of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

I praise God for the privilege of being associated with the consecrated men and women who are engaged in this great work for the extension of the Kingdom of God, and for the building of Zion City.

I am also thankful for the privileges of Zion Seventy work and for the part which I have had in Cottage Prayer Meeting work.

In conclusion, I bear witness to the truthfulness of my wife's testimony, which accompanies this, and say that space and time will permit but part to be told of God's love and mercy to us.

Trusting that this testimony may be blessed to many, and especially to those who are bound by the chains of Secretism, and that God will continue to bless our great leader, Zion everywhere, LEAVES OF HEALING and all Zion Literature, I am

Yours in the Lord's service, SILAS C. BURNETT.

TESTIMONY OF SILAS C. BURNETT TO HIS COMPLETE HEALING.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, January 9, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I wish to add a few words to my above testimony, which was written December 29th, last.

You will notice I did not testify to a perfect healing, but after speaking of blessing I have had, said: "I am now in better health than I ever was, do not lose any time from business, have no doctor or drug bills, or any care or anxiety about my health," etc.

Soon after coming to Chicago, I began attending prayer meetings and doing Zion Seventy work on the South Side.

As I was continually called on to testify for this work, and realized the responsibility of the leaders of the meetings in being called upon to pray for the sick and for the sinful, besides knowing of the requests that came to our department of the work daily, there dawned upon me the necessity of a deeper consecration and a full and perfect work being done in me, for I had failed to claim a perfect work in my body. I asked various ones to pray for me.

On the occasion of the all-night prayer meeting, I felt that I had reached God and that my consecration was accepted by Him, and that I would receive a perfect work.

I did not know how it would be done, but I said I would trust Him, no matter what happened.

I went home from the office, Saturday evening, January 5th, about 10 o'clock, and retired in my usual health.

During the night I was taken suddenly sick with what was apparently inflammation of the bowels and stomach, my suffering being intense.

To make matters worse, my head pained so badly that I could not concentrate my thoughts on any one thing or get a hold of God's Word or reach Him in prayer.

My wife continued to pray and trust, and by noon we had victory.

Monday morning found me a little weak and sore, but I felt sure that if I could attend our usual morning service at Zion Land and Investment Association offices, where God was wonderfully hearing and answering prayer daily, I would receive complete deliverance.

Just before the hour for prayer I felt a new trouble coming on, and asked Deacon Judd to pray.

During the service I asked for prayer, and as we all knelt, Deacon Peckham leading, it seemed as though I would be overcome with pain.

I realized that the crucial test had come, and that it meant victory then or never.

As Deacon Peckham laid hands on me, all the host of hell seemed to rise up in rebellion. The next few minutes witnessed a hard-fought battle, in which God gave victory.

For some time I was very weak and quite sore from the intense pain, but am now ready for work again (Wednesday morning, January 9th).

Not having consulting physicians in Zion, it is often difficult to know from what we are delivered. For some time there were indications of a disturbed condition of the functions of the bowels, owing to constipation. This caused a measure of muscular paralysis, but the serious difficulty seemed to be at the junction of the upper and lower bowels. It was at this point I suffered severely at first.

Howbeit, there was an intestinal obstruction somewhere, and from the location of first pain it would indicate appendicitis; after which a sudden and unexpected change carried the attack to the region of the liver, vomiting and discharge of bile adding to the complication as well as the suffering.

God gave wonderful deliverance, for which I praise His Name, and also praise Him for the earnest prayers of those connected with Zion's Financial Institutions and for the prayers of the Zion Guards.

Now I think I can say reverently that God has answered my prayer and has completed a work in my body which will enable me to bear witness to a full and perfect salvation for spirit, soul and body.

I am glad for the knowledge of God which gives us confidence in prayer in time of trouble.

At no time did I have any fear in my heart or any doubt as to the result. I knew God could not fail if we met the conditions.

What a joy to know that those with whom you are associated are praying for you as well as all Zion!

Praise God for Zion.

May she continue to Go Forward.

With a heart full of gratitude to God, I am

Yours in the Lord's Service, SILAS C. BURNETT.

Read The Coming City.

For all matters pertaining to the founding and building of Zion City, there is no source of information, complete and reliable, but THE COMING CITY. The story of Zion City is being and will be told in its pages, both by descriptive articles and by engravings from photographs. The paper also contains much other interesting matter, such as science notes, household suggestions, special articles on matters of interest to Zion people, and the news of the day.

The paper also contains four pages of advertisements, carefully selected, most of the advertisers being Zion people. It is important that every member of Zion should get THE COMING CITY, not only for the valuable information which it will contain, but for these advertisements. By reading them they will learn who are the Zion business men and thus be able to coöperate with each other.

Zion people should be glad to go a little out of their way to trade at a Zion shop. Zion money is thus kept in Zion instead of going to fill the coffers of the world's people, and each feels the influence of the increase in general prosperity.

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

Has God Blessed You in Tithing?

Have you realized a fulfilment of God's promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse"? If so, let others know how true the promise is. Write your testimony and send it to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Let your testimonies be brief and straight to the point.

Zion College Needs Three Pianos.

The Musical Department of Zion College is growing rapidly and its needs are increasing. Three pianos are very much needed. Who will give one or all of them to be used for God? Send to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Vice-President, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Wanted.

Ablebodied young men, members of the Christian Catholic Church, having had mathematics through trigonometry, and desiring employment in Zion City Engineering Field Corps, to send in their applications for positions to the Chief Engineer. Blanks upon which to make application will be furnished upon request. Address Burton J. Ashley, Chief Engineer, 1201 Michigan Avenue.

DO YOU KNOW GOD'S WAY OF HEALING?

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Let it be supposed that the following words are a conversation between the reader [A] and the writer [B].

A. What does this question mean? Do you really suppose that God has some one especial way of healing in these days of which men may know and avail themselves?

B. That is exactly my meaning, and I wish very much that you should know God's Way of Healing, as I have done for many years.

A. What is the way, in your opinion?

B. You should rather ask, WHO is God's Way? for the Way is a Person, not a thing. I will answer your question in His own words, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; no one cometh unto the Father, but by Me." These words were spoken by our Lord Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son of God, who is both our Saviour and our Healer. (John 14:6.)

A. But I always thought that these words only referred to Him as the Way of Salvation. How can you be sure that they refer to Him as the Way of Healing also?

B. Because He cannot change. He is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever." (Hebrews 13:8.) He said that He came to this earth not only to save us but to heal us (Luke 4:18), and He did this when in the flesh on earth. Being unchanged, He must be able and willing and desirous to heal now.

A. But is there not this difference, namely, that He is not with us now?

B. No; for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world"; and so He is with us now, in Spirit, just as much as when He was here in the flesh.

A. But did He not work these miracles of healing when on earth merely to prove that He was the Son of God?

B. No; there was still a greater purpose than that. He healed the sick who trusted in Him in order to show us that He came to die not only for our sins, but for our sicknesses, and to deliver us from both.

A. Then, if that is so, the atonement which He made on the Cross must have been for our sicknesses as well as our sins. Can you prove that is the fact from the Scriptures?

B. Yes, I can, and the passages are very numerous. I need quote two only. In Isaiah 53:4, 5, it is written of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed." Then in the Gospel according to Matthew, this passage is quoted and directly applied to the work of bodily healing, in chapter 8, 17th verse, "That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

A. But do you not think that sickness is often God's will, and sent for our good, and therefore God may not wish us to be healed?

B. No, that cannot possibly be; for diseases of every kind are the Devil's work, and his work can never be God's will, since Christ came for the very purpose of destroying "the works of the Devil." (1 John 3:8.)

A. Do you mean to say that all disease is the work of Satan?

B. Yes, for if there had been no sin (which came through Satan) there never would have been any disease, and Jesus never in one single instance told any person that sickness was God's work or will, but the very contrary.

A. Can you prove from Scripture that all forms of sickness and infirmity are the Devil's work?

B. Yes, that can be done very easily. You will see in Matthew 4:23 and 9:35 that when Jesus was here in the flesh, He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." Then if you will refer to Acts 10:38 you will see that the Apostle Peter declares that He [Jesus] "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil." Notice that all whom He healed, not some, were suffering from Satan's evil power.

A. But does disease never come from God?

B. No, it cannot come from God, for He is pure, and disease is unclean; and it cannot come out of Heaven, for there is no disease there.

A. That is very different from the teachings which I have received all my life from ministers and in the churches. Do you really think that you are right, and that they are all wrong in this matter?

B. It is not a question as between myself and them. The only question is, What does God's Word say? God has said in all the ages to His Church, "I am the Lord that healeth thee" (Exodus 15:26), and therefore it would be wicked to say that He is the defiler of His people. All true Christians must believe the Bible, and it is impossible to believe that good and evil, sickness and health, sin and holiness could have a common origin in God. If the Bible really taught that, it would be impossible to believe our Lord Jesus Christ when He says, "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." (Matthew 7:18.)

A. But even if I agree with all you say, is it not true that the Gifts of Healing were removed from the Church, and are not in it now?

B. No, the "Gifts of Healing" were never withdrawn, and can never be withdrawn, from the true Church of God: for it is written, "The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance." (Romans 11:29.) There are nine gifts of God to the Church (enumerated in 1 Corinthians, 12:8 to 11), and all these are in the Holy Spirit. Therefore, so long as the Holy Spirit is in the Church, all the gifts must be there also. If they are not exercised, that does not prove that they do not exist, but that the faith to exercise them is lacking in God's servants. The gifts are all perfectly preserved; for the Holy Spirit, not the Church, keeps them safely.

A. What should a Christian then do when overtaken with sickness?

B. A Christian should obey God's command, and at once turn to Him for forgiveness of the sin which may have caused the sickness, and for immediate healing. Healing is obtained from God in one of four ways, namely: First, by the direct prayer of faith, without any aid from the officers of the Church, praying as the Centurion did in Matthew 8:5 to 12; second, by two faithful disciples praying in perfect agreement, in accordance with the Lord's promise in Matthew 18:19; third, by the anointing of the elders and the prayer of faith, according to the instructions in James 5:14 and 15; and fourth, by the laying on of the hands of them who believe, and whom God calls to that ministry, as the Lord commands in Mark 16:18, and in other places.

A. But are people healed in this way in these days?

B. Yes, in thousands of cases. I have myself laid hands upon many hundreds of thousands of persons, and I have seen the Lord's Power manifested in the healing of great numbers, many of whom are living witnesses in many countries, who have testified publicly before thousands, and who are prepared to testify at any time. This ministry is being exercised by devoted Christians in many parts of America, Europe, Australasia and elsewhere.

A. Is it not the same as Christian Science, Mind Healing, etc.?

B. No. Divine Healing is diametrically opposed to these diabolical counterfeits, which are utterly anti-Christian. These impostures are only seductive forms of Spiritualism. Trance Evangelism is also a more recent form of this delusion, and it deceives many.

A. But how shall I obtain the necessary faith to receive healing, which faith I am at present conscious I do not possess?

B. It is written, "Belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the Word of Christ." (Romans 10:17.) Our Missions are held for the express purpose of teaching fully the Word of God on this matter, and I very heartily invite you to attend the meetings which are announced for Zion Tabernacle. All are welcome and there are no charges of any kind made, for all God's gifts are free gifts. Salvation is the first of these, without which you cannot be healed through faith in Jesus. All the costs of this work are covered by the free-will offerings of the people who attend these meetings, and others whom the Lord leads to help; but the poorest who have nothing to give are as heartily welcome as the richest.

A. Do you see the sick and lay hands upon them in this Mission?

B. Yes; after we feel satisfied that they are fully resting in the Lord alone for the healing, we see privately, so far as time permits, those who attend; but under no circumstances do we claim the power to heal any; for "power belongeth unto God."

A. Have you any writings upon this subject which can be purchased?

B. Yes; these can be obtained at the office of Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, or at Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. But the best book on Divine Healing is the Bible itself, studied prayerfully and earnestly.

We extend to you a hearty invitation to attend the meetings, which are free to all. Our prayer is that you may be led to find in Jesus Christ our Lord and God, your present Saviour from sin, your Healer from sickness, your Cleanser from all evil, your Keeper in the way to Heaven, your Friend, and your All for Time and Eternity. We pray that these words may help many who read, and that our little conversation may bear fruit in leading many readers to look to Jesus only.

"The Healing of Christ's seamless dress
Is by all beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again."

THE GENERAL OVERSEER SAFE IN AMERICA.

Arrives in Boston, With His Party, Safe and Well, by Steamship "Saxonia," at 3 P. M., Friday, January 11, 1901.

"The General Overseer has arrived."
"The Doctor is safe in Boston,"
"Praise the Lord."

THUS the words flew from lip to lip in Zion, Chicago, and soon throughout America, on Friday afternoon, January 11, 1901.

It was the greeting of the hour.

It was spoken with an eager joy, with a note of godly exultation in every voice.

The response, "Praise the Lord," was reverent and deeply genuine.

The perils and toils of the European mission and of a winter sea voyage were safely over.

All the gloomy predictions of the enemy had been proved diabolically false; all their threats had come to naught.

There remained only a brief mission in Boston and a day's journey upon a flying train between the General Overseer and Zion's Headquarters.

It was the return of a victor.

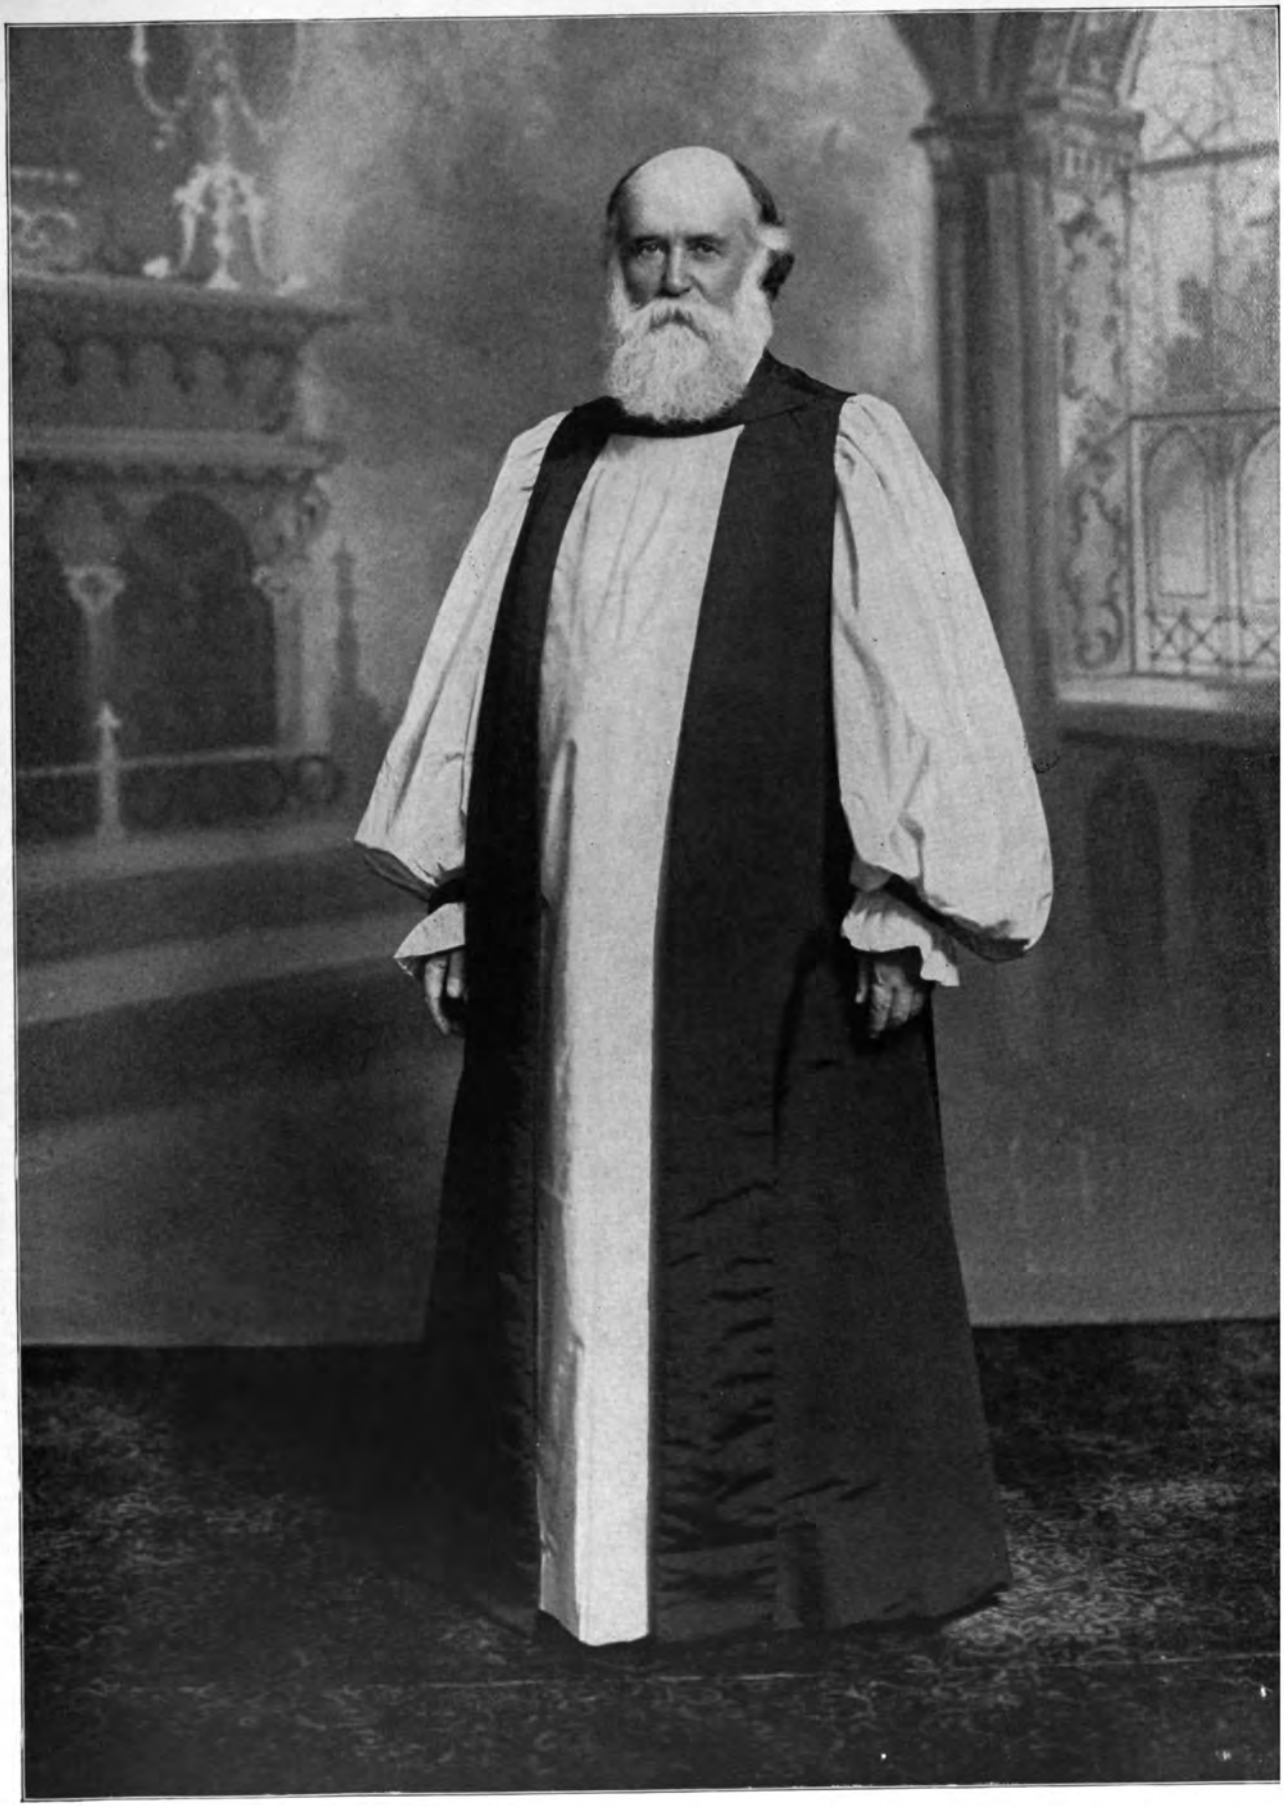
Zion's beautiful banner, fairer and brighter than ever, though it had been borne in the very front of many a battle, was crowned with the laurels of victory.

That banner had been placed upon the ramparts of the strongholds of Satan in Europe; yea, it had been borne into the very citadel.

Hosts of evil trembled before it, but the afflicted of God's people welcomed it with joy and gladness; for beneath its gold and white and blue, God had founded Zion, as a refuge for them.

Hence the return of God's Messenger, Zion's fearless Standard Bearer, was welcomed with thankgiving and praise to God, by Zion in America.

Accompanied by Deacon O. L. Sprecher, his private secretary, Captain C. F. Stern, his personal attendant, and Mr. Ernest Williams, his stenographer, he arrived in Boston on the Cunard steamship Saxonia, at 3 o'clock P. M., Friday, January 11, 1901. A. W. N.



On Lord's Day, January 13, 1901, the following telegram from the General Overseer was read in Central Zion Tabernacle:

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, January 13, 1901.

ZION, Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
Seventy-eighth Psalm, verses fifty-three and fifty-four:
(And He led them safely, so that they feared not:
But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
And He brought them to the border of His sanctuary,
To this mountain, which His right hand had purchased.)
Arrived safely Saxonia Friday.
All well.
Boston press and people have received me kindly.
Zion in Boston and from many other places welcomed me this morning.
Pray for Mission here next three days.
God willing, I shall arrive in Chicago next Thursday.
Thanks for many messages of welcome.
You are all and always in my heart, in my plans and in my prayers.
The Twentieth Century is Zion's.
All lands are awakening to hear God's Message from Zion: Arise, go upward to Zion.
Hallelujah.

ALL-DAY PRAISE AND TESTIMONY.

Reports of Meetings held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning, Afternoon and Evening, December 30, 1900. Praise and Testimony.

REPORTED BY S. D. W. AND A. W. N.

THE last Lord's Day of the Old Year and of the Century found Zion in Chicago gathered in Central Zion Tabernacle, praising God for His goodness, love and power, and telling of what He had done in Saving, Healing, Cleansing, Keeping and Providing for His children.

It was meet that Zion should thus close the year and the century; for although the world knew it not, the most important event in the Nineteenth Century was the founding of Zion by God through His Messenger, and the renewed proclamation of the Everlasting Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

It was with joyful hearts that the scores of witnesses told of the innumerable blessings which they had received from God, in the Name of His Son and by His Spirit's Power, as a result of the founding of Zion and the teaching and preaching of the Everlasting Gospel.

CENTRAL ZION TABERNACLE.

MORNING SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning, December 30, 1900.

The meeting was taken in charge by Overseer Mason, and opened by singing. The Overseer then read from First Corinthians, second chapter, closing with the following prayer:

May God bless the reading of His Word.

The tithes and offering were then received.

After prayer, the meeting was thrown open for praise and testimony.

Healed of Heart Disease of Twenty-two Years' Standing.

Lawrence King, 7064 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God for His wonderful gifts to us in Zion. I had heart disease for twenty-two years, and God healed me. I am now perfectly well."

Prayer Heard for Healing of Grip.

Mrs. Jackson, 37 East Sixteenth Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I love the Lord because He has heard my voice and my supplication. A week ago Saturday I was taken very severely sick with grip. God heard and answered Elder Graves' prayer for me. Yesterday I was sick and the Lord heard my prayers and the prayers of those in the house for me."

God Heals an Ulcerated Tooth.

Mrs. Charles Wilson, 1435 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "A few weeks ago I had an ulcerated tooth. It became so bad that one day Mr. Wilson had to stay home, and at midnight I called him, saying, 'The Devil has me.' I cannot explain it, but it was the Devil, and nothing else.

"Mr. Wilson jumped up and came over to my bed. He said, 'Can't you pray?' I said, 'No. I cannot pray for that tooth, because I do not know whether or not I ought to have it extracted.' He prayed for me, and that terrible feeling that I had all over me left, but the pain remained. Deacon Peckham prayed for me, and after a while I felt all the pain going away. Soon I noticed that the swelling was all gone down. Afterwards the whole jaw swelled up again, but the tooth did not ache. I began to repeat the thirty-fifth chapter of Isaiah and the twenty-third Psalm, and it was not long until the swelling was going away.

"God had the victory. I went to sleep and slept soundly until morning. When I awoke the swelling had entirely disappeared."

Healed of Tobacco Habit and Indigestion and Brought Out of Secretism.

J. H. Julian, Ellwood, Indiana, said: "Christian friends, I am thankful to meet with you again this morning. This is my second visit to Chicago. About the 1st of November I was in this Tabernacle. I was wonderfully healed, not only of the tobacco habit, but of indigestion and stomach trouble. I have been delivered from Secret Societies. I think I live in one of the worst Secret Society towns in Indiana. I also gave up eating pork."

August Erhardt, Zion Home, said: "I thank God that I am born again. I am so glad that I did not have to attend some university in order to be born again. I was born again several years ago, but I could only see the Kingdom. I thank God that now I am born of water and of the Spirit, and I am in the Kingdom."

God Keeps From Sickness.

Evangelist Anna Armstrong, Zion Home, said: "I have great reason to praise the Lord this morning. I went with my husband last Sunday to his meeting on the North Side. It was a very stormy day, and the Devil tried very hard to give me a cold. I did not get any cold, not even a cough, and I praise the Lord for it. I think it is always good to pray before we get sick. May God bless all helpers."

The meeting was then closed with the following

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

AFTERNOON SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, December 30, 1900.

The meeting was taken in charge by Overseer Speicher, and opened by singing Hymn Number 391:

Look, ye saints, the sight is glorious;
See the "Man of Sorrows" now;
From the fight returned victorious,
Every knee to Him shall bow.

REFRAIN—Crown Him, crown Him, angels crown Him,
Crown the Saviour, "King of Kings."

The thirty-fifth chapter of Isaiah was then repeated, after which prayer was offered by Overseer Mason.

The tithes and offering were then received.

Overseer Speicher then spoke as follows:

Zion denies that death, sickness, destruction or devastation of any kind is of God.

Zion teaches that all evil is of the Devil.

Today we claim that God is the Saviour, the Healer, the Cleanser and the Keeper of His people.

We wish to prove it again; not that it needs proof in Zion, but we desire to glorify God in telling each other, in speaking often one to another of the glories and goodness of God.

Let this be our testimony today: that what we shall say shall be for the glory of God only, that through His glory we may obtain further blessing.

Pray that God will bless these testimonies today, as they go to LEAVES OF HEALING, and bless them as they shall be read by those who have not known that God is indeed the Healer of His people.

The meeting was then thrown open for praise and testimony.

Healed of a Violent Attack of Illness.

Mrs. Holden, 14 East Sixteenth Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "Three weeks ago yesterday afternoon I was taken with a terrible pain in my stomach. It kept getting worse and worse. All night I was very sick. It seemed as if there were a flame of fire all through me. Then I had the hiccoughs. I gasped and could not get any relief, they shook me so. They almost sent me into spasms.

"I got up and started to Zion Seventy meeting. I was so ill that I doubled up and could hardly get home. I tried to pray for myself. Then I sent for an Elder. He prayed for me. As soon as he went out the door there was a bright light came before my eyes, and I said, 'Now I am well.' Although weak, I was well."

Healed of Catarrh of the Bowels.

Mrs. C. H. Hinkston, 2354 Calumet Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I have been healed of catarrh of the bowels.

"When I first started out to Zion Tabernacle No. 1, I only remained in the city a short time. I accepted the teaching the first Sabbath I heard Dr. Dowie. I was prayed for and relieved of one trouble which never came back. I have never felt it since.

"I was blessed spiritually from the beginning. I give God all the glory."

Sickness Came Through Working With Swine's Flesh; Healing When Sin Was Put Away.

James Stott, 3749 Wentworth Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "Nearly three years ago I was healed of rupture. My truss hangs on the walls of Zion as a trophy captured from the enemy.

"During the latter part of last April, the General Overseer told all those who were working amongst pork to come out. I had been very slow. I thought I would stay in for a few months longer. I was working every week and thought that we would be busier soon. Before the week was over I became sick. I could scarcely creep. I came down to Zion. Overseer Speicher prayed for me, and I received immediate relief. He told me that I was the second one who had been in that day who had been working with pork.

"During the summer I went out to Zion City, and was out there for some time. I took very severe rheumatism in my arm. Deacon Lee came out one day and I asked him to pray for me. Before morning the swelling was all down.

"For thirty years I could not lie on my left side, and now I generally lie upon that side. I am perfectly well. I was never happier in my life."

Healed of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Poor Eyesight.

W. J. Atkinson, 5242 Harrison Street, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, said: "I have been in Zion two years. When I first came here, I expected to be healed entirely that night. But the General Overseer preached Repentance, and told me what I was to do. I immediately set about it. As I went about it, I found more things and more things. I have been repenting ever since.

"I called occasionally to have the General Overseer and the Elders pray for me, for a year, but I did not get very much healing, although I gradually increased in strength. I had no faith; for I had prayed a great many hundred times when I was a Baptist and followed their teaching. I never got to an answer. Then the Lord gave me some faith. The Elders have prayed for me, and I have been healed of several serious diseases.

"I had dyspepsia. I inherited that from my mother, and I believe for several generations back they all had dyspepsia. Of that I am completely healed.

"I had chronic constipation. That is entirely healed. I had catarrh, and that is getting well rapidly. I had a corn, and the Lord healed that. I had bad eyes. After coming here and having the General Overseer pray with me, as I went home, I took off my glasses and threw them into the river. I could not afford to buy a new pair; so I had to trust the Lord. (Laughter and applause.)

"In addition to these healings the Lord has given me strength and an increase of weight constantly.

"I thank God for every bit of this. I thank the General Overseer for preaching to me, and the Elders for praying for me."

Converted and Healed of Lumbago and Other Diseases.

J. F. Peters, 682 Park Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "The first time that I knew God as the Healer was away back in 1888, down in a city in the Republic of Mexico. I had charge of a topographic survey there for the Mexican Central Railway, and contracted typhoid-malarial fever. I never knew about God as the Healer, but I think everybody knows something about God. I was not brought up a Christian, although I went to Sunday School as a little boy.

"When I got so sick I found that the medicines were doing me no good. I turned to God, and He raised me up. I got well. But I lied to God. I did not serve Him as I had promised, if He would raise me up.

"The first time that I heard the General Overseer, it seemed as if he were preaching directly to me. Everything that he said seemed to be said to me. I took it in, and as I went home that day I said to myself, 'You will have to be either a worse sinner, or repent.' That word Repent was getting into my heart all week long. I told my wife all week that I would not attend Zion Tabernacle the next Sunday; but I knew all the time in my heart that I would. When I came the next Sunday, the General Overseer asked those who wished to serve God to arise and consecrate themselves. I believe I was the first to get up. I thank God that I was.

"I came into Zion two years ago last November. In the following March I was taken sick with lumbago. I came home one morning with a pain in my heart, and could only draw half a breath. I thank God for my wife, because she was strong. I wanted to get a mustard plaster. (Laughter.) My wife said, 'No; trust God, and I will write a letter to Dr. Dowie.'

"She wrote the letter to the General Overseer. He was to pray at 5 o'clock. Up to that time I was rolling in pain, the perspiration just standing out on my forehead. It was the most intense pain, I think, I ever suffered. At 5 o'clock exactly I got out of that bed, and said to my wife, 'I am healed.' I went downstairs and ate a hearty supper, and felt as well as ever I felt in my life.

"Since then I have been wonderfully healed. One Sunday we left the Tabernacle to go over to the West Side. I began to feel as though my head would drop off. We went to the West Side Zion Tabernacle. Elder Stevens prayed, and all trace of it left.

"I thank God for our General Overseer. I thank God for all of our Overseers, and all the officers, and for the Christian Catholic Church in Zion."

Instantly Healed of Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. J. L. Beck, 358 Forty-fourth Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "Last March I was taken very sick with nervous prostration. For two weeks I lay flat on my back. I could not do anything. Elder Hoy came out and prayed for me, and I was strengthened very much through his teaching and prayers.

"On the 23d of April my husband took me to Zion Home. Overseer Speicher prayed for me. A tremendous power went right through me, and I was able to get up. I have been able to walk ever since."

Healed of Partial Paralysis, Dyspepsia and the Effects of Nervous Prostration.

Miss Emily S. Arnold, Zion Working Girls' Home, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I am amongst the many who have never testified, although I have been healed a long, long time. Nearly seven years ago God healed me in my right arm, and of partial paralysis, dyspepsia and bad constipation, and all the effects of nervous prostration. I was healed instantly and perfectly. Since then I have been healed a few times. About two months after these healings I was healed of pleurisy.

"Last spring I came to Chicago, and was taken with grip while working among the wholesale houses down town. When prayed for I very soon recovered. During the summer I had a bad tooth. Mrs. Paddock prayed for me, and one side of the tooth was perfectly healed. A few weeks after that she prayed for the other side, and that was perfectly healed. In a short time another tooth was taken in the same way, and that was healed. I praise God for His keeping power."

Healed of Inflammatory Rheumatism. Healed of Rupture When Tithes Were Paid.

Louis Benckendorf, Otter, Illinois, said: "I am glad that I can stand up before this congregation and say that I know that God has healed me of two different diseases. One was rupture, which kept me from my work nearly all last summer. I was hardly able to get around, although I did what little I could.

"I had inflammatory rheumatism in my right arm. It kept on for a long time. Afterwards my arm became so bad that I could not raise it up. All that time I was praying to God that He might heal me and help me. But I did not know how to trust Him. It was because I did not know the teaching. Now, thank God, I know the teaching which I have received in Zion, and am learning more every day.

"When I came to Zion last spring I threw away all medicine. About three weeks ago I started paying my tithe to Zion, and I thank God for it. I have received great spiritual and physical blessing since that time.

"I thank God that I have come to a place where they teach the Full Gospel."

Overseer Speicher—You were healed in Zion?

Mr. Benckendorf—"Yes."

Overseer Speicher—When were you healed of the rupture?

Mr. Benckendorf—"About three weeks ago."

Overseer Speicher—What duty did you neglect?

Mr. Benckendorf—"I owed some money to the United Brethren Church, and I supposed that as long as I had that to pay off I did not need to pay any tithe. My rupture would not heal, and I said to my wife, 'I do not know where the trouble is. I have asked God many times to heal my rupture, and it does not get well. I am neglecting something. It is something wrong somewhere, and it is not God. It is I. If there is anybody wrong, it is I.'

"Then I wrote a letter to Zion and I put in my tithe. As soon as that letter was out of the house, the pain left, and I have not felt a bit of pain since."

Overseer Speicher—Did you accept the teaching of Zion concerning swine's flesh?

Mr. Benckendorf—"Yes, sir."

Overseer Speicher—Did you raise hogs?

Mr. Benckendorf—"Yes, sir."

Overseer Speicher—What did you do?

Mr. Benckendorf—"I went home and killed the hogs." (Laughter and applause.)

Overseer Speicher—How many did you have?

Mr. Benckendorf—"In the neighborhood of seventy."

Overseer Speicher—How many dollars' worth?

Mr. Benckendorf—"Well, there was between $600 and $700 worth."

Overseer Speicher—What did you do with them?

Mr. Benckendorf—"I buried them." (Laughter and applause.)

Overseer Speicher—Are you sorry you did that?

Mr. Benckendorf—"I have never yet felt sorry for one minute, but I have had great joy."

Overseer Speicher—Do you feel that it was a right thing to do?

Mr. Benckendorf—"Yes, I do."

Overseer Speicher—Do you feel that it is right for all hog-raisers to kill their hogs?

Mr. Benckendorf—"I do."

Wife Healed of Catarrh of the Middle Ear. Healed of Incipient Typhoid Fever and Other Ailments.

F. A. Fournier, 1425 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "The first thing that I desire to thank God for is LEAVES OF HEALING. A little over four years ago I received two or three copies of LEAVES OF HEALING from a friend of mine in La Grange. It was at the time when the General Overseer was holding meetings in the Auditorium. I proposed to come down that very day to hear the Doctor, but I missed the train. I went to the home of a friend who had several copies of LEAVES OF HEALING. She read them to me for about two hours, and I thought I never heard anything so sweet in my life, although it was new to me. It was wonderful.

"She loaned me a few copies and I took them home. I began to read them to my wife.

"My wife afterward took sick. We were members of the Methodist Church at that time, and she went to our pastor, the Methodist minister, who was also a physician. He worked with her for some time, and gave her medicine, but she kept getting worse and worse. The physician did not know what was the trouble. He finally said that he could do no more. He advised her to go to a specialist in the city, who would perform an operation.

"She had catarrh of the middle ear.

"When she came home and told me the story, I said, 'You go to Dr. Dowie.' I urged her to go. Dr. Dowie was then preaching out at Stony Island Avenue.

"She started to call on her physician. When she got near his office, she stopped, halting between two opinions. One was to turn to the physician, and the other was to go to Stony Island Avenue. She turned around several times. A voice would say, 'Go this way,' and another voice would say, 'Go the other way.' She stood there at least ten minutes, not knowing which way to go.

"She finally decided to go to Zion. She there heard the teaching. She went into the prayer room, but came home no better. She had many things to repent of. The second time she went out there, she was no better. The third time she went out, she just surrendered, and then she got the healing. That night the last vestige of pain went out of her ear, and she has not had a return of it since. She praises God for it.

"The Lord has also healed me wonderfully. About three years ago I came down to the city. I had a severe toothache and neuralgia set in. I went home that night and found my wife suffering a little with headache. She was soon relieved. I said, 'Pray for me.' She prayed for me, and we prayed together. I was healed of that, and I have not had a toothache since. I was working out at La Grange a year ago last November. Typhoid fever was very prevalent in that town. I got sick and had all the symptoms of typhoid fever. I prayed, but got no better. My wife watched me most of the night.

"At 6 o'clock in the morning I lifted my heart to God, and instantly I felt a sensation go through my body. It seemed to start at my lungs, and it went through my whole system. I got up and dressed myself. We had breakfast and I went to work.

"On another occasion I had some work to do at Zion College Building, before the dedication of the College. I had only one day to do it in. I took the grip that day. I was sick all night, and the next morning I lifted my heart to God, and He healed me that I might do that work.

"I had catarrh for twenty years, and could never breathe through my nose freely. I have been almost entirely healed of that.

"For twenty years I suffered with corns. At times it seemed that it would give me the lockjaw. I could not stand to have my shoes on my feet, and would often have to take them off and go in my stocking feet. But God has healed me of those corns."

Healed in Answer to Elder Fockler's Prayers.

Miss Alice L. Bigler, Hartwick, Iowa, said: "Last spring when I first came to Zion I wore glasses, but I have taken them off and have never worn them since. God healed my eyes.

"I was sick in bed all day Christmas. Christmas morning about 3 o'clock I got up. It seemed as if everything got dark. I fell on the bed unconscious. In a few minutes I went back to bed. My mother sent for an Elder. Elder Fockler came. The fever all left when he prayed.

"I thank God for Zion, and the healing and teaching I have received."

Healed and Strengthened Without the Use of Drugs.

Mrs. Elizabeth Renz, 2708 Shields Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I have been very sick, and very weak. I have been healed and strengthened, all without doctors or medicine, or any stimulant of any kind. I thank God for it.

"I thank God for the teaching of Zion.

"I have always trusted in God, and I was healed almost instantly when I was healed. I was healed through the prayers of Elder McClurkin of dropsy and rheumatism. I had not left my bed for two months. For weeks I could not stand on my feet. Three of Zion's Seventies came to me. They found me very sick. I had three doctors. These three Seventies went and brought Elder McClurkin, in answer to whose prayers I was healed

"One morning I took a very severe pain in my heart. I thought of the General Overseer. I had been reading a day or two before what Dr. Dowie said about his praying at 9 o'clock in the morning and evening. I went on my knees and prayed to God: 'Our Heavenly Father, I come to Thee in Jesus' Name, and I come to Thee with Thy servant, Dr. Dowie, and now, Heavenly Father, thou knowest our hearts, and Thou knowest Dr. Dowie's heart. If Dr. Dowie is right in Thy sight, take this pain away from my heart.' The pain was gone immediately, and I have never had a pain in my heart since. It is true. There is no humbug about it. It is as true as I am standing here today. I had a pain and God healed it."

Call.

Every one present today, stand for God and consecrate yourselves to His service. All in this meeting.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be. Help me to hate sin with a great intensity. Deliver me from the power of sin and from the power of temptation. Help me to do right in Thy sight. Give me power to obey Christ in all things; to be obedient to all His commandments. Give me power to enter the New Century with a new life, with new power, that I may glorify God with my spirit, and my soul, and my body. Cleanse my spirit. Cleanse my blood. Heal my body, that I may be perfect for the coming of the New Year, and for the coming of the King, for Jesus' sake. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after Overseer Speicher.)

The meeting was then closed with the following

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

EVENING SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Evening, December 30, 1900.

The meeting was taken in charge by Elder Brasefield, and opened by singing.

The one hundred and eleventh and one hundred and sixteenth Psalms were then read, after which prayer was offered.

After the receiving of tithes and offering, the meeting was thrown open for praise and testimony.

Praise to God for the General Overseer's Successful Mission in Zurich.

Deaconess Marie Brieger, Zion Home, said: "I praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly of the upright and in the congregation. My heart is rejoicing over the good news received from Zurich, and over the successful meetings which the General Overseer held there. One young man writes me that he came all the way from Austria to Zurich to attend the meetings and has been healed of stomach trouble and sore eyes. The meetings were very much crowded, and the people even stood on stepladders in order to see and hear. Many were healed and seventy-two baptized."

Delivered From Cold.

Mrs. Mary Jenrich, 3233 South Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois, said. "I was out with Zion Saloon Seventies one night, and took a severe cold. I had a headache with it. I praise God that I have been delivered from the cold, and am fully delivered from all the pain."

Healed of Many Severe Diseases.

Mrs. Matilda Mahon, 41 East Sixteenth Street, Chicago, Illlnois, said. "Three years ago this last April I was delivered of several diseases through Dr. Dowie's prayers. I suffered for years with heart trouble, with Bright's disease, inflammatory rheumatism, lung trouble and stomach trouble and catarrh of the head.

"I praise God for all He has done for me."

Saved and Healed of Grip. Little Daughter Healed.

John Caldwell, 4365 Fifth Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God that He has saved me, and that He continues to keep me saved, I thank Him that He has healed me of the grip. I thank Him for Zion Schools.

"Our little one has been very sick, and she was completely delivered in answer to prayer. She choked on something at school, and one of the teachers, Miss Fisher, took her head under her arm and prayed, and the child was delivered."

Healed of Grip. Saved and Delivered From Bad Habits and Secret Societies.

P. W. Zoller, 617 Fifty-fifth Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I praise God for the blessings of these past two weeks. First the Devil got my wife with grip. She recovered. Then the Devil got me, and for a Christmas present he gave me the grip. But I thank God that the power of Christ is ever present to heal.

"When I came to Zion first I did not come because I wanted to be healed, but I came because I found God here. After I was born again, I found how sick I had been, in spirit. I was delivered from beer and whisky and Secret Societies. I praise Him for it."

Healed of Fainting Spells and Insanity.

Mrs. Emily Stewart, Winamac, Indiana, said: "I praise God for Zion and for Dr. Dowie. For many years I had fainting spells, as many as fifteen in a day. When I filled out a request for prayer, I did not know what I wrote; for I was insane. I remember filling it out, but I do not remember what I wrote. I remember seeing my son write something after I wrote it. I suppose that he told them that I was insane. On the 4th day of November I was instantly healed. My mind came back to me like the sun coming out from under a cloud, and everything was again bright."

Healed of Hemorrhoids and Grip.

Mrs. L. M. Zepernick, 41 East Sixteenth Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I praise God for Zion, and for all the blessings which we have enjoyed in Zion since we have been here. We came to Chicago from San Diego, California. Since then God has continually blessed us.

"I was very sick when we came here. God has delivered me entirely from hemorrhoids, both itching and bleeding. At times I was so ill I could not walk across the floor, and God wonderfully delivered me. That was the 15th of last April

"Last Thursday morning I was taken very ill with grip, and grew worse all day until about 5 o'clock. Elder Graves came and prayed with me, and God wonderfully healed me.

"I praise God tonight that He is my Healer. I have not taken any medicine since I have been in Zion."

Obedience in Baptism Brings Healing.

Miss Lydia Rudolph, Lowell, Indiana, said: "I am here first to thank God for a godly mother, for her prayers have brought at least one of her children to God. Four years ago I united with the Methodist Church, but I was not saved.

"Some one sent us LEAVES OF HEALING. I had been on the sick bed for four months. I had never enjoyed health from my childhood. I was having doctors continually. I was at last enabled to rise from my bed.

"In the spring of 1897 I came to Chicago. Overseer Speicher prayed for me, and I received some blessing, although I was not entirely healed. I was baptized by Triune Immersion, and then the trouble which I had in my back disappeared, and I never had it again till last spring, when I disobeyed God. I was working in a family who were not Zion people, and under their influence I was led to take medicine. Since then I have turned to God and been wonderfully blessed.

"Two days ago I came to the city in search of something to do, that I might be with Zion people and enjoy the blessings of Zion homes, and on arrival I found a place waiting for me in Zion."

Healed of White Swelling and Deafness.

Mrs. Louisa Bennett, 246 Sixty-third Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I was healed at Zion Tabernacle No. 1. I went to the healing room, Dr. Dowie laid his hands on me, and I was healed. I had a white swelling on my leg for fifteen years. I was also partially deaf. I was healed of all that. I give God the praise, and thank Dr. Dowie for his wonderful teaching."

God Takes Away Pain From Foot.

J. H. Buhlman, Clayton, Iowa, said: "I had a pain in my foot, and it seemed that I could not stand it. I told my wife that I wished she would pray for me, as I had prayed several times without any answer. She prayed and went to her bed again. After that I prayed again and God heard my prayer and freed me from the pain."

Immediately Healed of Defective Eyesight and Appendicitis.

Elder H. D. Brasefield—I feel I must have just a word. Last Friday night two young men called on me. One was a member of Zion, and one was not. I did not know that they were coming. The conversation took a very natural turn, and before I knew it I had told my story. When I had finished the young man who is in Zion College said to me, "Professor, I did not know that you had so much of a story to tell. I have never heard your testimony before."

I did not blame him for never having heard it before, for I had never told it. After he went out that took hold of me with a tremendous grip: "You have never told your story." I said right there and then, "Before the century closes I will tell my story." In telling it, I am not telling it to prove Divine Healing.

Since September 1, 1899, I have not touched a drop of medicine. In that time I have had a number of answers to prayer for colds and deliverances from sick headache and from nervous headache, but there are two experiences that I had very clearly of which I wish to speak tonight.

Mrs. Brasefield and I came to Chicago through the kindness of a friend who was a member of the Presbyterian Church in Clayton, New Jersey, of which I then happened to be the active pastor. We came here to investigate Zion and to have Zion investigate us. After we had been in Zion Home for one week, one morning, in my room, I said to myself, "What is the use, in the light of this teaching, of me wearing these glasses?" I had been wearing them since 1888, the time I was a sophomore in college. I became convinced right there and then that there was no use, and without any more ado about it, I took them off, and have not had them on since.

I have done harder work and more night work; I have done more reading and more studying; I have used my eyes harder during these twelve months than any corresponding period of my life, and they have never troubled me.

Before my healing, when I would go without my glasses, I would suffer severely from pains of the head. I could scarcely recognize a person across the street. Now I can recognize a person a block off. I have frequently stood in our room, when we were in Zion Home, and been able to read the sign on the Studebaker Building, which is at least a quarter of a mile away. That was my first experience in Zion. No one prayed with me. No one laid hands on me. I simply took God at His Word.

It is just a year ago tonight that I was in this Tabernacle, having recovered from a very severe attack of appendicitis. You say "Well, perhaps you only think it was appendicitis." The only way I know is from the word of the doctors as they diagnosed my case, having had five preceding attacks in two and one-half years.

Overseer Speicher came into my room. I had been receiving a measure of blessing. I had been on my feet continually. He came in at 11 o'clock at night, and prayed. After a severe struggle, it seemed that all the powers of hell were fighting over me, lasting until 3 o'clock in the morning, when I was freed entirely from the pain and all the fever. I arose and did the very worst thing that any man could possibly do, in a case of appendicitis, humanly speaking. I ate the juice of two oranges, took a bath, went to bed and slept four hours.

The meeting was then closed with the Six Bound Volumes of Leaves of Healing.

What six books, besides the Bible, could be more precious, more valuable to every member and friend of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, than the first six volumes of LEAVES OF HEALING?

They contain more of the Everlasting Gospel; more testimonies to Salvation, Healing and Cleansing through Faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God; more sound teaching, than any other six books published.

The world may scoff at that, but Zion knows it to be true.

Not only that, but these six Volumes contain, in some measure, the priceless record of God's dealings with Zion in these latter days. In them, as nowhere else, can be found the history of the mighty work which God has established for the extension of His Kingdom and the preparation of the world for the coming of Jesus as King.

In them is contained a large portion of the wonderful Message which God sent to the world by His Messenger.

In fact, when we stop to consider all the glorious things which have gone into the composition of these six Volumes, we find words insufficient and inadequate to express their value.

Those who have been saved, healed, cleansed, made prosperous and happy through the Message brought by one copy of the Little White Dove, perhaps know something of what a mighty storehouse of power these six Volumes are.

These Volumes have been bound, by Zion Publishing House, in strong, handsome black binding, half-morocco, with a graceful design, LEAVES OF HEALING, in gilt upon the front cover.

Each has a carefully prepared index covering all the principal subjects in the book.

They sell at the regular rate of $3.50 per Volume, or the exceedingly low rate of $15 for the six Volumes.

These books should be in every Zion household.

ZION COLLEGE LECTURES ON PRAYER.

A Series Delivered Before the Students of Zion College by the President, Rev. John Alexander Dowie, General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

THE world today has learned that there is something far beyond the ordinary in the words and works of God's Messenger to Zion, John Alexander Dowie.

As this realization comes to the public, the first question always is, "How does he do it? What is the secret of his power?"

Those who know the General Overseer and have heard and heeded his teaching know that the power belongs to God. But the General Overseer is wonderfully used by God, as an instrument, on account of his mighty power in Prayer, taught him by the Holy Spirit.

Hence it was with the greatest joy that the students of Zion College received the announcement that the General Overseer would deliver a Series of Lectures on the subject of Prayer. It was an inestimable privilege to learn how to pray from a man whose whole life had become a mighty power for God through Prayer. But joyful as the anticipation was, it was more than justified by the realization.

Many members of the Christian Catholic Church also attended these Lectures and were amazed, from week to week, by the great depth and scope of the subject as it was opened up by the man of God.

Since the delivery of these Lectures there has been a loud appeal, from many sides, to have them published.

The General Overseer was reluctant, as he felt that in the great pressure of his other duties he had not been able to give the Lectures as he might have done with more time at his disposal. He also felt that he should revise them before their publication, and this he could not find time to do.

At length, however, the appeal for them being urged, he consented that they should be sent forth, without his revision, during his absence in Europe and the Holy Land.

Accordingly this wonderful teaching will be printed, almost as it came from his lips, from time to time, in LEAVES OF HEALING. In preparing these Lectures for the press, we have eliminated some allusions to topics of the time and place and have written in some headlines.

We have also cut out opening and closing exercises and arranged the matter consecutively without regard to number and date of Lectures.

We pray that God will bless these wonderful truths to all who read in even greater measure than He did to those who heard.

REPLENISH THE EARTH.

The Value of Diversity.

I love diversity.

Diversity seems to me to be essential to enjoyment.

Of course, it is a good thing to have uniformity substantially. That is to say, there must be a unity in variety.

How poor an architecture is that which has no diversity.

I am against square lines.

I believe in curved lines in architecture.

I used to like angles, but as I grew older I began to believe more in curved lines.

That wretched Gothic architecture is an abomination. It is the rudest form of architecture. It is the architecture of savages who stuck up a couple of poles.

When God makes a man, He domes him over—puts a dome on top of him. When you meet a man who has a square head instead of a dome, look out for that fellow; he is dangerous.

There is a great deal in form.

I have been studying architecture a good deal for years, and have been giving a good deal of attention lately, at odd times, to that study.

"When do you find time to study?" perhaps you ask.

I am like the good woman who when the last baby has gone to sleep, sits down, with a sigh of satisfaction, to do some mending.

She thanks God they are all asleep.

If she has a good husband, he is asleep, too. It is all the better. She can do a great deal of work.

So I do a great deal of work and study after you are all asleep.

Study forms. Remember that everything you see in nature is a circle or the segment of a circle, or other curve.

The trees are round, not square. The sky is a dome. Your fingers have a round form. God is always making things round. He is polishing the rocks; rounding them.

A Wonderful Thought Concerning God.

Let me give you a thought concerning God which I picked up a great many years ago. I will not name the author, because he is too wicked. I do not know where he got the thought. I have often wondered at it. He was a French author, renowned for his wickedness. In the course of my university studies I was under compulsion to read that author.

I had to fling his book aside a great many times with contempt and horror, but in the course of his writings, I came across this expression concerning God. I could not help thinking, when I read it many years ago, and I think of it now, that from a standpoint of Christian philosophy it is one of the most wonderful thoughts ever expressed. It must have been a thought of God which had been dropped in this man's heart at a time when he was a different kind of a man.

It was in a Prayer which came out of one of the characters in the book—a broken-hearted man. This was the cry:

Thou whose center is everywhere; whose circumference is nowhere.

Get that thought. I think it will do you for thinking at odd times for all your life.

Give that thought, as I gave it one time, steady thinking for half an hour a day.

The great trouble with people is that they do not study things. How long do you do steady thinking?

Go down to the depths of the ocean and draw up grains of sand. Put them under a microscope, and these little black grains of sand burst into beautiful shells.

God is there. He wrought there. That was His center of operation for that moment, as it were.

If the Supreme Being centers himself upon everything He does, that is the only way you can ever do anything. Center yourself upon it for the time being. Fix yourself there.

Work at it as if it were the only thing in the Universe to work at. That capacity is Divine.

You will be met with the statement, "God's center is not in hell. It cannot be there."

If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there:
If I make my bed in hell, behold, Thou art there.

It is a thought which staggers a man.

Has He a center, too, in hell?

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Is some power working there which, by and by, will work out even from hell?

Yes.

Great thoughts sometimes will overwhelm you.

I desire to call your attention to God's command to Noah:

Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

The Wonder of the Age in Multiplication.

It is a wonderful age we are living in for multiplication. It seems to me that the unfoldings of the hidings of God's power which are imminent, which we have in part now with the capacity for reproduction in this world, are increased uniformly both for good and evil.

There is a great deal in that somewhat trite saying, "One drop of ink makes millions think."

It all depends upon the way that drop is used.

A man may write a poem with which the Devil will burn out of one's mind all that is pure and holy.

Robert Burns' drinking songs have been an awful curse to Scotland.

On the other hand, what a regenerating power to spirit and life a word of purity and power from God is!

How great is the invisible and permanent and ever-increasing power of good.

The future lies always with the right.

I remember, in this city, when Zion was so little that no one fought her. It did not matter what I said; no one fought.

I said: "The future is with God, with Zion, therefore with me, for I stand, by God's Grace, for Zion."

The future lies always with the multiplying power, the replenishing power.

Oh how much the Church of God needs replenishing today!

The Church of God Today Needs to be Fruitful.

It needs to multiply. It needs to replenish the earth; for the earth today is barren.

Some people imagine that some things are dead never to return again.

They are mistaken.

God says:

That which is hath been already; that which is to be hath already been: and God seeketh again that which is passed away.

There is not a thing in nature today which did not exist at the beginning.

There is not a flower which grows today which did not have its seed in the beginning.

What we are today is the outcome of what has been. The evil or the good there is in us today is a transmission from the past.

We are the inheritors, in ourselves, of the good or ill, spiritual, psychical or physical, of all the past. That which is to be hath already been.

God is saying to you and to me today, "I seek again that which is passed away."

That is why I am fought so hard.

My ministry requires an account of the past.

God brings before Him in judgment the things which are past.

I know what God requires. I know what God does. I know from God's Word this one great truth, that evil must be transient.

It is not eternal in its origin.

It cannot be eternal in its duration.

That which did not have eternal preëxistence can never have permanent existence.

It must die.

Another thought that is in my mind is: What do you know about God? It has been in my mind a good deal this morning. I will tell you one thing I know.

I know that whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it.

The Past and Future Center in the Present.

Take that thought to God and ask Him to show you what these two things mean: that you are not dealing with the past at all, that the past is present; that you are not dealing with the future at all, that the future is present. The past and the future center in this very present age in which we live.

The "is to be" is.

The "has been" is.

God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

Every being which ever lived in this world still exists. I think, as a matter of scientific fact, you will find that every atom of purity, that every life that has existed in this world now exists.

Nothing is Destructible.

I could put a match to that table and destroy its form, but all the gases which compose it, and everything which really made that table would still exist. Sunbeams are in that table which shone upon the tree before it was cut.

The beautiful rain from heaven is in that table. The beautiful air, all the things which made it possible for that tree to grow, are there. All the wonderful influences and powers are there.

You can destroy the form of it, but the essence hath visible and invisible form forever.

The Devil may change the form of things for the time being, but permanence of form he cannot give. The powers of evil which pervert are ridiculous and wicked in comparison with the eternal powers of God which convert. The transformation of spiritual, psychical and physical being, powerful as it seems to be, is transient; but the conversion, the bringing back of all things, is as sure as God lives.

When we are praying, let us ask God, without any fear, for fruitfulness of being, for multiplication of powers, and for the glorious privilege which we have of replenishing the barren earth of the Church and of humanity with the truths which have been so long lost.

If only we can, by the Grace of God, bring back into living power that glorious, Everlasting Gospel of Salvation and Healing and Holy Living, and can illustrate it ourselves, how glorious it will be! But just as long as you look at yourself, and just as long as you merely look at others, and just as long as you are content to live with your eyes down upon the ground, or look down upon a level, so long will you be unfruitful

If you do not fulfil the purposes of your being, and by the Grace of God put all earthly things under your feet, if you let them weigh upon your heart, then you will be a miserable failure.

By Leaving All With God We Can Do Great Things for Him.

A man said to me the other day, "Doctor, you are a perfect puzzle to me."

I said, "What is the puzzle?"

He said, "The prodigious capacity which you have for work."

He was my attorney. He said, "It would kill me ten times over."

I said, "You are a pretty strong man now compared to what you were when I first met you, when you became my attorney some time ago."

He said, "When you called me, I felt that it was of God. You make me work night and day, and now I am stronger than ever."

I said, "That is contact with me, do you not see?"

He said, "I believe it. You are a tremendous fellow for carrying things."

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

"Stop right there," I said. "The point is this: I do not carry things. If I were not able to cast my burden on the Lord, I would like to know where I would be today. I would be carrying about 6500 acres of land upon my shoulders."

Pretty heavy burden that, is it not?

If I were to carry burdens, I should have all these Elders, Evangelists, Deacons, Deaconesses, teachers and instructors upon my shoulders. Where would I be, if I were to carry the Christian Catholic Church in Zion upon my shoulders?

Where would I be?

That is just the trouble with people. They carry things themselves. They do not leave them with the Lord.

To take things to the Lord is good, but it is better to leave them there.

Do not worry.

The past is not gone. It is here. We have to fight the evil in it. We have all the blessing of the good in it.

It is glorious to me to know that the past is here.

It is glorious to know that Noah and Abraham, who have been in heaven for a good many centuries and are cleaned up now, still live.

The Last Fights are About to be Fought.

You know with what dreadful anticipation the very nations wait when a battle between two great powers is imminent.

I believe that before many years we shall see Russia and France on one side, and England and Japan and America and Germany and the other Protestant powers of Europe on the other.

That is the last fight: the fight between the nations which are apostate and in the grip of that old apostasy of Greece and Rome; a fight in which the false prophet will be standing on the side of the apostates.

Mohammedism must be dealt with. It is a tremendous power. It will fight hard. These Mohammedans are splendid fighters, because they are not drunkards, and are not pork-eaters. They can live on a handful of dates and a glass of water. They have courage and endurance.

What a tremendous thing it will be, when the conflict draws near to the end, to look at the great armies on the Gideon battlefield—perhaps down in the Valley of Jehoshaphat, right under the City of Jerusalem.

I am very much struck with a great many things which make me see more than ever that that part of the world, around these various points, Constantinople, Jerusalem and Cairo, will be the great battlefield of the Last Fight.

There the nations will clash, struggling for the possession of the Suez Canal, the Holy City, the Golden Horn.

When I was in Europe and the battles of Soudan were being fought between France and Germany, I came down from London to Edinburgh. All night it seemed to me as if I could almost hear the booming of cannon over the land. The news came that the last grip between these two great forces had come, and that the Germans had surrounded Soudan; that they were pouring into it a very hail of artillery fire.

We heard that Marshal McMahon had been wounded and had given charge of the army to a very inferior officer; that Napoleon III himself was down there in that Valley of the Soudan. We could almost hear the roar of the cannon and the screaming of the men as they were dying in thousands.

Then the news reached us that all was still; that the white flag had been rushed up and Napoleon III had surrendered. The French Empire fell with a crash, and before the day was over there was a provisional government in Paris. A Republic was established which is the Government of France today.

We are about to see great things. That crash of the great powers is nothing as to this crash, the battle of spiritual forces.

There Will Also be a Great Battle of Spiritual Forces.

They thought that Christ was a poor, weak, despised nonentity, and that when they had crushed the life out of the Carpenter of Nazareth, they had destroyed Christianity. They asked for Barabbas, and they destroyed Jesus.

What are the churches today doing?

They are calling for Barabbas, and they want me murdered.

I am only little; but if Zion is Zion, and I am God's minister in this matter, His Messenger, then the crash is coming. It will be fought out by the forces of Zion against an Apostate Church. While there will be a great visible, material and political and international conflict, there will be another conflict which is greater than that in its issue, although to the eye of the historian for the moment it would only seem but a trifle.

The historians of Christ's time did not take much notice of Christ. Josephus just gives a mere line. How very little notice was taken of Him. No philosopher thought His philosophies worth considering. No historian considered His Life worth writing outside of the Christians who wrote it.

But their histories and their philosophies have passed away, and the Story which was written by these four humble men, and the story of the Acts of the Apostles, are things which are moving humanity today.

Do not let us worry about things.

Only let us go forward. Let us be brave and each do our part. When the battle is over, and the empire of the Devil has fallen, and the Kingdom of our God is established, it will be by those who have known how to pray and how to live as they prayed. It will be by those who got the blessing, and multiplied and replenished the earth and subdued it.

That is the next thing: how to subdue the earth. The earth needs to be brought into subjection. If you do not subdue the earth, the earth will rise up against you, and will tear you with thorns and briars and thistles. You will not be able to walk in it. It will tangle you up.

The earth bears evil. Subdue it. Clean it out. Keep it clean. Subdue the earth if it is within your being. Keep under your body. Bring it into subjection.

Zion's Conflict With Methodist Apostasy.

This book of 200 pages, just issued by Zion Publishing House, contains nine powerful discourses delivered in Central Zion Tabernacle by the General Overseer last May, during the session of the Methodist General Conference. They are of especial value for the full and fearless exposure of Freemasonry.

"The Methodist Church the Property of the Masonic Order," "Freemasonry: A Heathen and Antichristian Abomination," and "Degrees of Masonic Devilry" ought to be read by every lodge man.

The iniquity of the Mystic Shrine is laid bare.

"The Christian's Duty in Breaking a Bad Oath" is the address which preceded the public working of Masonic and Odd Fellow degrees in Central Zion Tabernacle, a full account of which is given.

Buy one of these books and keep lending it. No honest and intelligent man can read the book and still remain a Freemason.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

GOD'S WORD THE ONLY FOUNDATION FOR MISSIONS.

THE GENERAL OVERSEER in Leaves of Healing, December 1, 1900, page 168, teaches that human opinion is not a safe foundation for Divine Faith; that faith must rest on an absolute, infallible Message from God. He says:

You cannot get a Divine Faith out of human opinion. Human opinion is like the wind. Human opinion is from the North one day and the South another, and boxes the whole compass, perhaps, inside of a month. Opinion is not worth a pin in itself.

The trouble with men is that they are in perpetual bondage because they are listening to this opinion and that opinion, while the mind of God is not studied.

My private opinion is in perfect accord with God's stated Word. I have no private opinion which differs from God's Word. God's Word is absolute. My opinion is of no consequence if other than God's Word.

Ambassadors of Christ have no right to preach what they think, nor what any man on God's earth thinks. The only thing which I, or any other minister of Christ, is sent to preach is what God thinks, what God says; therefore what Jesus says.

Faith will always come by hearing the Word of God.

Faith will never come by listening to the opinions of men, for there are almost as many opinions as there are men.

"If there were no Bible, we should still have Christ," is a remark often heard in some of the popular theological schools. Is the saying true? What Christ is for us, includes what He has done and taught. The Spirit of Christ produced the prophetic writings of the Old Testament. See 1 Peter 1:11. The other writings of the Old Testament also foretell Christ. Proof, Luke 24:44, 45, and many other passages.

The whole New Testament contains the teaching of Christ, without which teaching no one can know and obey Christ. In John 12:48 the Lord Jesus says: "He that rejecteth Me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath One that judgeth him: the Word that I spake, the same shall judge him in the last day."

To have Christ is first to know His teaching, and then to obey Him. How absurd and wicked, then, to assert that if we had not the teaching we should still have Christ! As well might a fifth-rate amateur fiddler exclaim, "Oh, if every copy of Handel's Messiah were burned and all of Beethoven's symphonies and all the works of the great masters of music were destroyed, we should still have music! I would keep on fiddling."

When missionaries disparage the written Oracles which our Lord, in John 10:35, says cannot be broken, they advertise their own conceited and go-as-you-please spirit—a spirit so often sharply and justly rebuked by God's Messenger, our General Overseer.

It is a specious wile of the Devil nowadays to flatter and persuade men that all of God and Christianity is wrapped up in man, and that, therefore, "if the Bible were gone, we should still have Christ." By this sophistry Satan is hoping to bring about what is foretold in Amos 8:11, 12, a famine of hearing the words of Jehovah:

And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North even to the East; they shall run to and fro to seek the Word of the Lord, and shall not find it.

Divine Authority is minimized in the denominational schools for training missionaries. President Harper, of the University of Chicago, speaking of the Baptist Theological Department, says: "We teach students the scientific as well as orthodox principles. But we leave them to form their own opinions upon religion as well as other subjects."

It is not true, however, that the students are left to form their own opinions on religion. They are distinctly taught to ridicule the idea of verbal inspiration. They are taught to explain away the miraculous in the Old Testament. They are taught in some schools a pantheistic philosophy, Monism, which holds that there is only one force in the Universe, and that that force is God—which of course makes God responsible for sin and sickness and denies flatly the teaching of Jesus regarding the Devil and evil spirits.

True, all force originated with God. But there are now working forces hostile to God. Man and evil spirits are working.

What forces are according to God's will and what are not can only be learned with certainty from an infallible Standard, the correct picture of the Life and the correct record of the Words of the Lord Jesus.

Magnetism.—Students in many schools of apostate churches are also taught that the healings reported in connection with the prayers of Zion are to be explained by mesmerism or magnetism or mental suggestion or mind cure, or by some occult law unknown to the masses; understood, perhaps, by the unwashed theosophists of India and yet to be made clear by the Society for Psychical Research, or found out in the laboratory of some professor of biology, who will solve the mystery of life by dissecting worms and clams. Thus the theological world through its wisdom knows not God (1 Corinthians 1:21). "To the law and to the testimony! If they speak not according to this Word, surely there is no morning for them."—Isaiah 8:20.

President Harper says that the minds of many of his students are unsettled in matters of faith. But whose fault is it? It is the fault of those who have no authoritative standard of religious truth. They profess to know nothing of God but what they learn from Christian thought and life, in any time or in any place. On this shifting sand they try to build theology and morals. They think the best religion is yet to come. It is to be constructed as men construct a science of botany, by observing and arranging all the facts. Christianity is a natural evolution, not a supernatural revelation, they think.

The Devil was the first professor who suggested doubts and unsettled faith. "Yea, and has God said?" was the doubt which he suggested to Eve, a doubt as to the fact that God had spoken, and then a doubt as to the truth of what God had said (Genesis 3:1-5).

The Lord Jesus in His first great battle with the Devil did not appeal to His own reason or conscience or experience. He appealed to Authority, absolute and final, the written record of what God had said: "It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."—Matthew 4:4; Luke 4:4.

The Messengers whom the Lord sent to all the nations, in the solemn hours just before the Ascension, had impressed upon them the supreme Authority of God's Word in the Scriptures. They were not told of their great need of human learning, or that they must adapt themselves and their message to the spirit of the age. "Then opened He their mind, that they might understand the Scriptures."—Luke 24:45. In the denominational schools for training missionaries, the teachers act as though the verse read: "Then unsettled He their mind, that they might criticise and doubt the Scriptures."

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME.

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, December 29, 1900, was conducted by Overseer Speicher.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be thirteen in number, as follows:

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Washington and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Austria, Canada, China, England, Germany and Japan.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

MISS SARA REIFF, Zion Home, said: "I praise God that I am well again after being four days in bed with the grip. I was very sick and my skin was a brownish-yellow color. I am so thankful that I have learned how to fight the Devil. I had the grip once before and was sick four months. In the first place, the doctor gave me an overdose of medicine and nearly killed me, and then in the Dunkard Church I was taught that God made me sick to make me better.

"I am so glad I can listen to the Full Gospel now and have learned different. It is just one year tomorrow since I came to Zion. It has been the best year of my life. I praise God for our General Overseer, a man so much loved by those who know him and so much hated by those who do not know him."

DEACONESS MARY B. SPEICHER, Zion Home, said: "God has done wonderful things in Zion. I was called again to Wisconsin to a lady who had been condemned to die with a cancer about two years ago. There was no earthly help for her when she came to Zion and was healed. I was with her when her child was born two years ago, and a beautiful child it is now. A second one has come. The cancer is entirely gone."

PETER NICHOLS, 1425 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God for His latest blessing to me. About ten days ago I took sick and had a very high fever. My head was throbbing very severely. I had pains all over my body. Overseer Piper prayed for me once when I sent him a request, and again when I went to see him in his office. I was delivered entirely of the fever and pains, and I am getting along nicely.

"I am thankful to God for the instructions of our General Overseer, Elders and Overseers, who have been so kind to me in Zion Home and in Zion College, since I came to Zion two and a half years ago. I praise God and thank Him every day for strength in spirit, soul and body."

MRS. JOHN G. SPEICHER, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for a wonderful blessing I received last week. I was taken sick very suddenly and fainted away once, and two other times I came very near it. I suffered severe pain all day, and late in the afternoon we called for Overseer Piper. God heard our united prayers and that same evening set me free.

"I also thank God for healing our little daughter Ruth this week, when she was suffering from high fever and headache.

"I am angry for getting sick at all; for I know that if we carefully guarded every avenue by which Satan might enter into our lives, we would not need to suffer. Yet I rejoice that for such time God has given us a way of deliverance.

"I do rejoice that we are connected with so great a work, and thank God for His many blessings to us constantly."

Overseer Speicher—My wife was very sick indeed. We do get sick even in Zion Home. I had to fight hard from getting sick myself. One day I kept very close to my office. It seemed as if the Devil wanted to give me the grip, but I would not take it from him.

What I want to say concerning this is that we have been exceedingly fortunate in Zion. There has not been one Elder or Elder's wife, Evangelist, Deacon or Deaconess who has died since the organization of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

There was a lady who wrote in a few days ago, asking why we never published any deaths in Zion in LEAVES OF HEALING. "Surely," she wrote, "some of the Elders die or some of the prominent people, but you do not tell anything about it in the paper."

I was glad to be able to answer her that up to that time no officer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion had ever died. We cannot use much of our space in LEAVES OF HEALING to publish notices of this kind. Suppose any of the Elders or other officers were to die, we would not be ashamed to print it in LEAVES OF HEALING.

God has wonderfully kept us in Zion. The year 1900 was a most blessed year in Zion. With the exception of a dear sister who was seventy-five years of age, there has not been one death in Chicago, so far as I remember now, of any member who has been with us a year.

OVERSEER GEORGE L. MASON, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for this past year, the happiest and most fruitful of my life. God has given me more answers to prayer in the last two years than in all my life before.

"Some cases have come to my knowledge of God's blessing LEAVES OF HEALING to insane people. I met a lady the other day who was restored to sanity through reading the LEAVES. When she was in the insane asylum she had begun to pray that God would deliver her, when she picked up a portion of LEAVES OF HEALING containing the picture and testimony of Elder Graves. She asked God that the paper might be His Message to her, and that was the means of her coming back to perfect health of mind.

"Mrs. George Conant, of North Duxbury, Vermont, was a patient in the insane asylum at Waterbury. Her friends sent a request for prayer to Zion Home. They prayed for her and sent her LEAVES OF HEALING. Within two weeks she was back home, perfectly well and happy.

"I was a guest of George Cosper at Sistersville, West Virginia, who was brought to Zion Home several years since in a dreadful condition, out of his mind entirely."

Overseer Speicher—Had to be taken care of like a baby. It was a wonderful case.

Overseer Mason—"His wife would sometimes be awakened in the night by his trying to strangle her. He often sought his own life. He was here for several months and got light gradually. He became a Christian and was delivered. He speaks with deep gratitude of the kind and fatherly interest shown by Dr. Dowie and Dr. Speicher. It was a great joy to me to lead him into the Ohio River for Triune Immersion. He then gave his first testimony in our meeting to God's healing of his mind. He had always been ashamed to confess it before."

DEACONESS HELEN A. DRUEY, Brookings, South Dakota, said: "I praise God tonight for all the blessings I have received since I have been in Zion. I know what it is now to be persecuted, as we have gone through some real persecution. The Devil tried to get the best of me by trying to make me sick. I got up one morning very sick and fainted away. That was 7:30, and I was to be in school at 9 o'clock. My sister went for a neighbor who is a Zion woman, and we prayed that I might be restored at once so that I could go to my work. I went to school as usual and stayed all day, and also held an important meeting in the evening and stayed till 10 o'clock.

"I thank God also that I have the opportunity of helping many others."

CHARLES A. SUTTIE, Galesville, Wisconsin, said: "I deem it a great joy to be here. We have a little Gathering of the Friends of Zion in Galesville. We have met regularly for two years, the number being about thirty. All of them live without medicine, so I know it is possible.

"I have been delivered from a very bad cold and the tobacco habit, in answer to the prayers of a Zion Elder."

LOUIS SEEGER, Dwight, Illinois, said: "I was healed six years ago in Zion Tabernacle No. 1. It is my joy to work for God. I love to do so. I am sorry I cannot do more. I take LEAVES OF HEALING to the Keeley Cure Institute, where I am very well known. Sometimes they tell me to get out, but I go right back again. I have sold some papers there.

"We have a little Gathering of about twelve, and I am the leader. I am only an old Dutchman, but I do the best I can. Last week I got a bad cold and my wife and I prayed, and God healed me.

"I thank God for a good wife. I believe sometimes she is more firm than I. We are often called out to pray with people. Not long ago we prayed for a little boy who had three carbuncles on his neck, and God heard our prayer.

"The Lord blesses Zion and especially our General Overseer. I thank God for a man who gives us the truth."

MISS FLORENCE WADDINGTON, Zion Home, said: "I praise God for a year in Zion. It has been a blessed year to me. I thank God for Zion Home; it has been a true home to me. I thank God most heartily for the work He has given me in Zion."

DEACONESS MARY B. SPEICHER, Zion Home, said: "This has been the best year of my life. I have traveled more miles and had more blessings and have more to praise God for than I have had in any year before. I have always tried to live a Christian life, but I was not what others thought I was. I lived every day expecting to make the next day better, but it was not very good then; but this last year, through the prayers of the Elders and Overseers, it has been possible for me to do a great deal more for God.

"I recently attended a woman who was very sick. The death-rattle was heard, but I never wavered. I never before had such great courage to rebuke the Devil in Jesus' Name. I said we must have the victory, and we got it."

ELDER EMMA K. MASON, Zion Home, said: "'God is our Refuge and Strength, a very present help in trouble.' This verse has been precious to me, but especially since I have been in Zion. I do praise God for answer to prayer and for these promises which have been so helpful to us for so many years, although only those in Zion can appreciate their full meaning.

"God has wonderfully blessed our whole family. Last night I felt quite ill. I felt as if I could not go to my Cottage Meeting, but God answered our prayer and I was able to go. I also had a fall and sprained my foot, and it seemed as if I could not get up. My husband prayed for me, and I am thankful to say that it is quite well now."

DR. ROBERT T. AISTON, 1903 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "One of the brothers here remarked that he had found it possible to live without medicine. That seems to be a natural way. The most wonderful thing is that some people live with medicines.

"I was converted through the teaching of Zion, and I give Zion and the General Overseer the credit for it. I became a member of this Church in February last, and since then I have had great blessing in many ways."

MISS SUSIE JONES, 1425 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I praise God for His healing power and for many blessings. I thank God for the last healing I received. I caught a severe cold and my throat became very sore. I trusted God. I was only able to eat a little bread and milk before retiring, but I told God I wanted to get up well. I praise God I woke up in the morning well and was able to swallow my breakfast without any soreness in my throat."

MRS. B. A. GROVE, Bascom, Ohio, said: "We read in God's Word, 'Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.' I believe that is true. I have been a member of Zion for five months, in which time I have realized my duty as a Christian more than in all the thirty years of my Christian experience.

"It has resulted in the fact that owing to my surroundings I was impressed to come to Chicago. It seems that God has led me here.

"I feel that God wonderfully blesses us in the work. We have never been so prosperous and we have never been so wonderfully blessed in health, especially since I have been paying tithes."

N. A. ROBINSON, Westfield, Illinois, said: "I feel very happy tonight as I think of the blessings which have come to me since I have come into Zion. I am very happy tonight.

"I thank God for Zion. I thank God for many blessings which have come to me through the teaching of our General Overseer, through the teaching of the Elders and Overseers here, and through the teaching of the testimonies of Zion."

The meeting was then closed by the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

Healed of Lame Back in Answer to Prayer When Wrongs Were Made Right.

SPRINGFIELD, IOWA, December 20, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I received your letter, December 7th, stating that you had prayed for me, for which I thank you.

I thank my Heavenly Father that I was greatly blessed, and that my suffering stopped instantly.

I was suffering with a lame back, and had been occasionally for over two years.

For the last three months it had been hurting me about all the time, and was worse at night.

The next night after I received your letter stating you had prayed for me, my back got so bad I could scarcely get around. The next day, as I was reading LEAVES OF HEALING, I came to Mrs. Piper's testimony. I said, "Praise the Lord," for it told me what was the matter with me that He did not answer my prayers.

I have made all things right and, thank the Lord, I am well. I can truly say that I thank my Heavenly Father that He has prepared a man who is not afraid to teach the Full Gospel.

May God spare the General Overseer and Mrs. Dowie for His work for many years.

I thank God and Zion for LEAVES OF HEALING, which has been a source of great blessing to me.

I have been healed of several things by trusting in the Lord.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) J. W. SHELHAMER.

ASK OF ME and I will give Thee nations for Thine inheritance,
And the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession.
Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron;
Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.—Psalm 2:8, 9.

THE kingdoms of the world are to become the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ. At present they belong to the Prince of the world, the Devil.

Before the Lord can reign, they must be broken into pieces as a potter's vessel, that they may be reformed and made over according to God's laws.

God's Covenant of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, which He made with His people when He brought them out of Egypt,—this same Covenant which Christ sealed with His blood—is "a rod of iron," which will not bend to man's opinions nor adapt itself to his evil nature.

The time is coming when the world must conform to it. Men must harken to the Voice of the Lord their God and do that which is right in His eyes, and give ear to His commandments, and keep all of His statutes. Then no disease can be put upon them by the Devil; for man's entire being will be taken out of his power.

Then will man have Salvation, Healing and Holiness for spirit, soul and body, and Christ, through whom the keeping of this Covenant is made possible to man, will be All and in All.

We are told that the Word of God holds this "rod of iron," which is not only to smite the nations but to rule them (Revelation 19:13-15).

The Devil will not give up the rule which he has held so long over mankind without a terrible conflict (Revelation 19:11-21).

Men shall overcome him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony to this Covenant (Revelation 12:11).

It is the old war between the Spirit and the Flesh—Christ and the Beast—brought to the final conflict.

The Devil's great stronghold is the bodies of men. As in the apostolic times, so today, the preaching of the Full Gospel of the atonement of our Lord for man's soul and body as well as his spirit enrages the Devil, because it brings men into covenant relations with God.

The first step in this great work is the preaching of Repentance. The more thoroughly this is preached, the greater the stir in the enemy's camp. Preach "Only believe and thou shalt be saved," and the Devil laughs as he listens.

Jesus said to His disciples:

Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world.—Matthew 28:19, 20.

He taught them to preach Repentance, Salvation and Healing: that great, threefold-cord Gospel Net which is able to catch and hold the nations for Him.

Instead of following the pattern given by our Lord, each Church has made its own little denominational net after the pattern of man, with which it has toiled all night and taken but few fish.

Leaves of Healing the Key to the Bible.

"The Key to the Bible—LEAVES OF HEALING—has done a great work with me and other readers." Thus writes a native in India who has been reading and distributing Zion Literature for a long time. He writes:

LEAVES OF HEALING has helped us a great deal in our Christian life.

Fornicators, and drinkers of distilled damnation, and stinkpots have been cleansed by the Grace of God, and through the instrumentality of Rev. John Alex. Dowie.

I remember the General Overseer's words in one number of LEAVES OF HEALING with regard to preaching Repentance. He says: "Soapbubble words won't convert a sinner."

I believe it is true.

I need more copies for my wide circulation.

The foolish Devil does not know my arrangements. He thought he gained a victory when he got me out of my position for joining the Christian Catholic Church and working for it.

On the contrary, I have more time to work.

I served those worldly men with no gain or privilege. When I began to serve my Father in Heaven, I felt so joyful and happy in Him.

I look to the merciful hand of God for our daily needs, for which I take no anxious care, for it is promised by my Father in Heaven.

I do not know what will happen to us tomorrow, but, thank God, He clothed us today and gave us a hearty dinner with fish and curry. Our children are doing well—no sickness.

I am reading LEAVES OF HEALING from Volume I, Number 1.

Persons here say: "Go and reconcile yourself with your superiors. See the faces of your children. This is famine time. You can work for the Lord after it is over," and other advices like this.

Is this not to make peace with the Devil?

I am not going to do anything of the kind.

On the other hand, my Redeemer's words come to me through LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume I, Number 42, page 663, the beautiful hymn called Zion:

"Loud roaring, the billows may nigh overwhelm,
But skilful's the Pilot who stands at the helm;
His wisdom conducts thee, His power thee defends,
In safety and quiet thy warfare He ends."

The Little White Dove Carries the Good News of Christ the Healer Into a Home in Canada.

MIKADO MINE,
RAT PORTAGE, ONTARIO, CANADA, December, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Praise God for the Little White Dove. It carried the good news into my home and rescued me from the hands of the enemy when I was bound by disease, hand and foot

Bless God!

He healed me and my husband and my two little girls.

Glory to His Name!

So we trust the Lord for our spirits, souls and bodies.

He is our Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper.

There are nine of us here now in this faith, and we have a blessed time praising God.

We hold meetings every Lord's Day, and there was a conversion last Lord's Day.

Pray that the work shall increase in this place and that Zion shall be built up here in Mikado Mine.

REV. F. A. GRAVES, SUPERINTENDENT.

YE DO ERR, not knowing the Scriptures.

THESE words were said by Jesus to the Sadducees. They could well be said of many today.

As Junior Seventies, preparing to go forth into the harvest field for God, we must be acquainted with the Word of God, which Word we find is the Sword of the Spirit.

When Stephen preached his great sermon before the Council, he showed that he had a knowledge of the Scriptures, and quickly took his hearers from the time of Abraham down to Christ. This rehearsing of Scripture brought conviction as well as the stones.

Apollos was "an eloquent man and mighty in the Scriptures." He mightily convinced the Jews.

Jesus, with a knowledge of the Scriptures, was enabled to successfully combat with the Devil in the wilderness.

Let us study the Bible more this year than in any previous year of our lives.

We find the Bible divided into the Old and New Testaments.

There are thirty-nine books in the Old and twenty-seven in the New.

The whole Book covers about 4100 years.

The Old Testament covers about 4000 years. Divide this into four periods of 1000 years each. You will find that there is one prominent man for each period, as follows:

First thousand, Adam; second thousand, Noah; third thousand, Abraham; fourth thousand, David.

The first period, we will study about this week. This covers the first five chapters of Genesis. We find that the life of Adam extended over nearly the whole thousand years; for he died at the age of 930.

Notice subject of each chapter:

First chapter, Creation.

Second chapter, Garden of Eden.

Third chapter, Temptation and Fall.

Fourth chapter, Cain and Abel.

Fifth chapter, Old Men.

I wish you would all read these five chapters.

The Creation Chapter. I will give you something to help you remember it:

The first day God created Light,
And thus we have our day and night.
The second, Firmament was made,
When earth's foundation first was laid.
The third came Grass, and Herbs, and Trees,
The fourth Sun, Moon, and Stars, with these.
The fifth brought Fish, and Fowl, and Bird;
The sixth the Beast, and Man was heard.
The seventh God designed for Rest,
And all who keep it will be blessed.

The Second Chapter is the Garden of Eden Chapter.

Adam was placed in charge of it to dress and to keep it. He had no weeds to destroy, for the ground had not been cursed. But he had to prune and train the luxuriant growth of vine and fruit. God made him an active being, an accountable being and a social being.

God knew that he would not be happy in idleness.

Then he had the naming of all animal life. This must have taken a long time.

He was an accountable being, for he had his commands from a superior.

He was a social being; that is, he was not to live alone. Not even the dogs and horses were sufficient for companionship for him, and God made a woman to be a helpmeet for him, and his equal.

We know not how many years they lived together, happy in the society of each other and in communion with God, knowing no sin, nor sickness, nor suffering, nor sorrow.

Here we find the first home-life established.

It is complete, with but one exception. There were no children! You who have received LEAVES OF HEALING of December 29th will see the babies who have made happy many homes.

The Psalmist says in Psalm 127:3:

Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord:
And the fruit of the womb is His reward.

The Third Chapter is the Temptation and Fall.

The first sin; The first shame;
The first guilt; The first sorrow.

The Fourth Chapter, we find, records the first death and the first murder. Let us have for our verse this year:

He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty;
And he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.—Proverbs 16:32.

Failing to rule one's spirit has caused much sorrow. Cain failed thus to do, and the death of his brother was the result.

Moses once spake unadvisedly with his lips, and by so doing was refused the privilege of entering the Promised Land.

Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
And they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.—Proverbs 18:21.

Our prayer for the coming year:

Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth;
Keep the door of my lips.—Psalm 141:3.

The Fifth Chapter is a Chapter of Old Men.

Two of them walked with God. Find which ones they were.

One was translated; that is, taken to heaven without dying. Who was he?

Let us learn the names of our ancestors from Adam to Noah:

Adam, Seth, Enosh, Kenan, Mahalalel, Jared, Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, Noah.

Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children; and walk in love, even as Christ also loved you.—Ephesians 5:1, 2.

NOTES OF THANKSGIVING TO ZION'S GOD

Healed When at the Point of Death.

1610 MICHIGAN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 20, 1900.

DEAR MRS. MOODY:—You will here find a few words of thanks to God, and to yourself for a great blessing received in your home.

I was taken quite ill on Easter Sunday, 1899, and continued so until April 30th, when Dr. Speicher sent Mrs. Moody for me to take me to her home.

At the time Mrs. Moody called I was suffering intensely. The pain was terrible. She immediately knelt and prayed.

God heard and I was somewhat relieved, but was unable to control my nerves.

I shook from head to foot so badly that the bed shook.

With God's help I succeeded in getting ready, while Mrs. Moody went for a conveyance.

I was very weak when we reached the Home. Deaconess Paddock came in and prayed for me and I was able to get upstairs to bed.

In a very short time the Devil made another effort. Before I had time to think or to ask God's help, I was almost stiff and was suffering more than I ever had. Deaconess Paddock was again sent for, and came immediately.

She prayed several times, and after a hard fight we got victory.

When the pain had ceased, I knew that my voice was gone, as it was once before, when I was unable to speak for six hours.

My tongue was quite stiff and the roof of my mouth felt so peculiar. It was a hard fight.

I did not want to give the Devil any rope, and was just thinking within myself, "I will speak," when dear Deaconess Paddock said, "Can't you say 'Praise the Lord' now?"

I was about to shake my head, but hesitated, looked up and said something which meant "Praise the Lord." I had gained a big step toward victory and made the Devil flee from me.

After it was all over I was very weak, but felt restful and peaceful.

It seemed that God was all about me. Deaconess Paddock and those who were in the room said that they felt at times that I was very near death.

God was very good. I feel that I can never praise Him enough for what He has done for me.

After this, I speedily improved and gained strength. In a very short time I was able to take a trip to Beloit, Wisconsin, for a little rest.

I feel very grateful to God and to Zion, and also to Mrs. Moody for her care and many kindnesses shown toward me.

May God abundantly bless and keep her.

Gratefully yours in Christ, GRACE GILLIS.

Boy Healed of St. Vitus' Dance When Sin is Confessed and Put Away.

DOWNER'S GROVE, ILLINOIS, December 15, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—The Lord has heard and answered prayer for the healing of my youngest child of St. Vitus' Dance.

In May, 1898, he showed symptoms of this terrible disease, having had it when only five years old.

By the 12th of June he was so bad he could hardly walk.

Every part of his body was in constant motion.

On the 14th of June I took him to the healing room. The General Overseer prayed with him, but I did not see much change.

I knew that the prayer of faith had been offered up and that God would not fail in doing His part.

I asked Him to make plain to me why the prayer was not answered. He showed me the sin which stood in the way.

I told the child what had been revealed to me. He denied it the first time.

I took it to the Lord in prayer again, and the second time the same sin was showed me.

Then I prayed that God would make him willing to confess that he might be healed. God answered that prayer.

The child, putting his arms around my neck, confessed the sin and repented. The next day I took him to the healing room again. Elder (now Overseer) Piper talked with him and prayed for him.

Within a few weeks the child began the fall term of school, and has been kept and healed ever since.

He is much stronger than ever before.

We give God all the glory and thank God for the General Overseer, who teaches a Gospel which makes us begin at ourselves; a Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

Yours in Christ, ORRILLA TOWNSEND.

DOWNER'S GROVE, ILLINOIS, December 15, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I thank God that He has been so kind to me.

All that my mother said is true, and much more could be written.

Your Brother in Christ, ORIN TOWNSEND.

Quickly Healed of Pain, Hemorrhage, Fainting Spells and Heart Trouble.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 22, 1900.

REV. J. G. SPEICHER,

Dear Overseer:—I write to thank you for your prayers and to praise God for my healing.

When my husband telephoned to you, I had been having great pain, hemorrhage, and fainting spells. It seemed to me as if my life were leaving me. My mother feared I was to have a miscarriage.

When my husband came back from the telephone, his face was shining with joy. He told me your comforting words, "Have no fear; Zion is praying!"

A little later Elder Fockler came, and when he laid hands on me in the Name of our Lord Jesus, God healed me.

I was left very weak.

The next morning, after having a restless night, I was trying to get some sleep, when all at once, like a flash, the power of God passed through my whole body.

I called my mother to tell me the time, and it was just 9 o'clock, Zion's hour for prayer.

I knew then that some one of the Lord's servants had prayed for me.

This experience brought wonderful joy into my heart and took away all weariness.

Although the enemy tried a few days later to hurt me, giving me a terrible attack of heart trouble, praise be to the Lord, God healed me again when Evangelist Fisher prayed.

May God bless Zion. To us it has been of unspeakable blessing in spirit, soul and body

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) ROBERT BRAUN.

Healed of Sick Headaches, Stomach Trouble and Chronic Diarrhea.

2701 INDIANA AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 15, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I desire to give my testimony for the glory of God, praying that it may help others.

It is about seven years since I heard you speak in a vacant lot on the corner of Stony Island Avenue and Sixty-first Street.

A friend and I went there to watch the crowd; but, thank God, we forgot the crowd and listened to you speak against breaking the Sabbath.

I liked to dance. I went to dances on the Lord's Day, sometimes, but only went once after that.

In 1894 a friend told me of a little boy who was very sick, and his friends took him to a man at Sixty-first Street, near Stony Island Avenue, who prayed for him and he was healed. I determined to go and hear you.

It was two months before the Devil let us go.

One Sunday we went, and to my surprise the speaker was the man whom I heard speak against worldy pleasures.

I have missed but few Sundays since.

I never was very strong. I was troubled with sick headache, stomach trouble and chronic diarrhea, and was anxious to know God's Way of Healing.

I had always trusted Him to keep me from evil.

Shortly before coming to Zion, I helped care for a family who had black diphtheria. Two children died within a week. God kept me from taking the disease, in answer to prayer.

In October, 1895, Mrs. Dowie asked for a maid. I took the position and had been there only a short time when one morning I awoke with one of my old headaches.

Mrs. Speicher said I had better have Dr. Dowie pray for me.

I knew he was very busy, so I went to my room and these words came to me: "Whatsoever you ask in My Name, it shall be done unto you."

I said, "O God, heal me of this headache, and never let it return, for Jesus' sake."

I slept twenty minutes and felt like a new person. My headache was gone and has never returned. My stomach and bowel trouble went also. Praise God.

In 1899 I was at home.

I took a very heavy cold and coughed constantly.

My chest was very sore and I would sweat at night until the sheets were wet.

I could neither eat nor sleep.

This continued for three days, mother telling me I had better have a doctor.

I told her that if she wanted to help me, she would pray for me.

I sent a request for prayer and God heard and answered.

He has heard and answered prayer for me many times.

Since paying my tithes, I have earned more than before I paid them, and have saved more.

I give God all the glory, and thank Dr. and Mrs. Dowie for their many kindnesses to me.

May God spare them many years for the upbuilding of His Kingdom.

Your Sister in Christ, EMILIA BREDEMIER.

Healed of Insanity and Saved From Sin.

32 EAST SIXTEENTH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 20, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—I thank God for the teaching I have received since I came into Zion.

I have been healed of one of the worst cases of insanity.

I was going to hell as quickly as the Devil could get me there.

It was my sin that caused insanity.

I cannot tell the torture and agony I was in.

But God in His Infinite Mercy heard the prayers of our General Overseer and of other people in my behalf.

My mind was restored and I repented and was completely healed.

I have never before given this testimony.

I have sinned time and again, but God has been merciful to me.

I am like the lost sheep that wandered away from the fold, but the Shepherd has found me and brought me back.

O that all the lost could be brought back to the fold!

I thank God that I have the privilege of learning this Full Gospel.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) A. HELGREN.

Quickly Healed at Time of Prayer.

DYER, INDIANA, December 18, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—We received your kind letter saying that you had remembered my mother in prayer.

About the time you received our letter the pain left her and has not returned.

She had been suffering severely from indigestion.

We gladly give God all the glory, praising Him for His wonderful goodness to us.

May others find Him as their Healer for spirit, soul and body.

We love Zion's teaching and thank God for the General Overseer.

We are also grateful to you for your prayers in our behalf.

Yours in Jesus, (MISS) KATHERINE JOHNS.

Great Blessing in Zion Working Girls' Home.

205 WEST FOURTH STREET,
CINCINNATI, OHIO, December 24, 1900.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—It gives us great pleasure to speak concerning our connection with Zion Working Girls' Home.

We received the greatest kindness and help from the Matron, Mrs. Moody, and found in so many respects that the life in the Home and the Home itself were just what was needed for Zion working girls.

Advice is ever kindly given and no effort spared in order that the girls may be placed in good positions.

Praying that the Home may become a still greater blessing, we remain

Faithfully yours, (MISS) LIZZIE DEY.
(MISS) AGNES DEY.

God Wonderfully Heals of Many Terrible Diseases.

DOWNER'S GROVE, ILLINOIS, December 15, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I feel it my duty and also a blessed privilege to send in my testimony to the wonderful change which has come into my life since I heard the Full Gospel.

I used to pray for death; now I have been taught to pray for life, and God answers my prayers.

I had been a member of the M. E. Church for twenty-three years, and was continually seeking light but getting darkness. It was getting darker and darker, but God in His Infinite Love and Mercy opened a way for me.

Five years ago Dr. Waller, of Oak Park, and Rev. R. Rooley sent me to Wesleyan Hospital. I was there five weeks and had one operation performed. A few days after, Dr. Sage told me I would have to have another one before I could get well.

About two years passed and I was worse than before.

Then I went to Dr. E. Luff, of Oak Park, stating my case to her. The medicine she gave acted as a stimulant for a while, and then I was back in the old condition again.

While under her treatment I first learned how to trust my Heavenly Father.

One of my dear friends went to Zion Home. I went to see her and she took me into the meeting.

I shall never forget that service.

I went home fully convinced that the work was of God and not of man.

This was September 23, 1897.

I left the Methodist Church, where I was starving to death spiritually, and went where we were fed with wisdom and knowledge.

At this time I was under Dr. Luff's care, taking medicine every hour. I threw it all in the stove and promised to step out fully on God's promise.

November 2, 1897, I went to the Healing Room in Central Zion Tabernacle.

Never have I doubted God's Way of Healing since.

The other troubles passed away gradually. I know they are gone.

It has been over two years since I was healed.

I will here mention a few of the diseases I know I had: Heart trouble, dizziness, catarrh, constipation, dropsical difficulty of the uterus, tumor in the mouth of the uterus.

God has delivered me of them all, praise His Holy Name.

The spiritual blessing has been more than the healing.

I have learned how to go to God and get an answer.

May God bless these words to many as the Little White Dove carries them on their way.

God bless Zion everywhere, and our dear General Overseer.

Faithfully, your Sister in Christ, ORRILLA TOWNSEND.

Injured Limb Healed in Answer to Prayer.

271 FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, December 18, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—I am well and walking.

I am sure you would like to see me walk.

You remember when I fell on the ice last winter. I broke my hip bone and injured my whole limb.

You prayed for me immediately after I fell. The bone snapped back into its place.

I was out of bed within five weeks after I fell.

I thank you very much for your prayers and for sending the Elders out to see me.

I give God all the glory.

Pray for me, that I be made strong.

Your loving Sister in Christ, (MRS.) SARAH JOHNSON.

God Delivers From Weak Eyes and Grip.

ZION CITY, ILLINOIS, January 1, 1901.

REV. J. G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—I feel it my duty to praise God for the many blessings He has showered upon me.

I praise Him for His keeping power.

He healed me of weak eyes, for which I had worn glasses for four years.

About two years ago I was instantly healed of grip when mamma prayed for me.

I have been healed several times of little ailments when prayer was offered, and I praise the Lord for it.

Praying that this may be of help to some sufferer, I remain

Your Sister in Christ, (MISS) EMMA HAUCK.

God Heals of Severe Croup.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VIRGINIA, December 26, 1900.

REV. JOHN G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—On December 20th we telegraphed you to pray for my deliverance from croup.

I had it two nights, and all the third day it threatened to be worse.

I did not know but that I would have to choke to death if it got any worse.

But at 9 o'clock, when naturally it would have gotten worse, I began to improve steadily.

Today I am almost quite well.

Praise His Holy Name!

We thank you so much for your prayers.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) LULAH L. STEVENS.

ZION CITY BANK.

By DEACON WILLIAM S. PECKHAM.

THE Nineteenth Century has closed with American prosperity at its height, and we enter the Twentieth Century with not only unprecedented prosperity in the commercial world, but with every indication that it will continue for a long period of time.

Factories have been running on full time, and whatever of our products have not been consumed at home have found a ready market in other countries. The expansion which was such a bugbear to many of our people has been shown to be a great blessing by opening up a large foreign demand for our surplus from both factory and farm.

Never before has this country fully realized that the world is its field for enterprise. Formerly we looked upon the foreign markets as places to consume our surplus, but now we have awakened to the fact that the United States can manufacture for a foreign trade and compete with manufacturers in all lands beneath the sun.

Our ability to compete with them is due to many causes, chief among which are educated and skilled labor; ability to fill orders quickly; the inventive genius of our mechanics, resulting in high-grade machinery; the great reduction in transportation charges both on land and sea, and that we produce so much raw material and have such an abundance of coal. So large has been the increase in our exports that last year we sold to other nations $640,000,000 more than we bought of them, our exports consisting largely of agricultural and manufactured products.

ONE OF THE largest items in the list of imports was that of $18,000,000 for lace. This amount went largely to England, France and Germany. With the establishment of the lace industry in this country we shall be able to keep those $18,000,000 at home and still further increase the excess of our exports over our imports. This is a field of manufacture almost entirely new in the United States, and so far as the finest grades of lace are concerned, entirely new.

The cost of the lace machines is so large, the mechanism so delicate and the skill required to operate them so great, that there is little danger of competition arising in this country.

God has given Zion Mr. Samuel Stevenson, a man of the highest Christian Character, and without a peer in ability to produce lace. With him have come many of his own helpers to assist him in establishing this great industry in Zion City. The rest of the laceworkers will soon be here. The Lace Operatives' Home is completed. The lace machines are ready to be put upon the permanent foundations which are now being built. In a very few months the products of Zion Lace Industries will go out to the markets of the world.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to Zion Lace Industries stock have been coming in rapidly, and many who are not members of Zion have applied for stock. Let all who wish to buy stock in these Industries act quickly, as there is danger of delaying until the entire amount of the issue of this stock is exhausted.

As far as possible, our General Overseer wishes that his people shall get the benefit of the large interest and dividends paid on this stock. The success of Zion Lace Industries is assured, but if failure could come, our General Overseer is pledged to redeem every dollar of stock, with interest.

From a commercial and worldly standpoint, Zion Lace Industries has every element of success. Free from an import duty of about sixty per cent, with a created demand for $18,000,000 worth of lace in this country, Zion will have a wonderful advantage over all her competitors from other lands.

Just as God kept that most perfect and beautiful site of land for the "Coming City of God," so we believe He has kept this perfect and beautiful industry for Zion. It is no accident that this falls to Zion.

Is it not written, "Beautiful Zion"? Beautiful for situation, beautiful in righteousness and beautiful in appearance, Zion will more and more take on the habilaments of a Kingdom. Jesus is coming to reign as King. Let us not be a long-faced, somber-arrayed, joyless people. Zion, awake! Put on thy strength and thy beautiful garments.

Let the Church of Christ no longer march to the funeral dirge of the First Century, but rather to the wedding march of the Twentieth Century.

Let us rejoice and be exceeding glad, and let us give the glory unto Him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and His wife hath made herself ready.—Revelation 19:7.

A PROMINENT business man of Chicago telephoned us a few days ago that he believed Zion had a tremendously big thing in the Lace Industries.

ZION LACE INDUSTRIES will, without any doubt whatever, be one of the wonders of the world in a few years.

A SISTER who has quite a nice deposit in Zion City Bank, writes us as follows: "My bank book is the result of tithing."

God must be first in all things. Tithes should always be paid before any debt to man is paid, and tithes and debts must be paid before an account is opened in Zion City Bank or stock purchased in any of Zion's Financial Institutions.

IF YOU ARE interested in Zion's Onward Movement, and would like to purchase stock in Zion City Bank, or the Land and Investment Association, or the Lace Industries, and are not able to do so at present, open a bank account in Zion City Bank and deposit from week to week until you have saved $100, then you can buy a share of stock in one of these Institutions. Many have been able to secure stock in this way who never could have done so in any other way.

ZION MEMBERS have wise and safe counsellors in the heads of the Financial Institutions. No one in Zion will be blessed or prospered who goes to the world either for advice or investment.

And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called the City of Righeousness, the faithful City.—Isaiah 1:26.

MR. HILL, of Connecticut, has introduced in the House of Representatives a bill amending the Gold Standard Act of last March. It requires that when greenbacks or Treasury notes are redeemed in gold from the gold reserve, they shall be canceled; their value in gold shall be replaced in the reserve, and against this gold certificates shall be issued, presumably to be used in the ordinary transactions of the Treasury. The effect of this bill would be the same as that of the measure recommended repeatedly by President McKinley, requiring that legal tenders once redeemed shall not again be paid out except in exchange for gold. That is a perfectly sound principle, and the gold standard cannot really be established firmly until it has been adopted. Mr. Hill does not, of course, expect action on his bill at this session, but it is well that there should be such a measure constantly before Congress until it is passed.—New York Times.

By REV. W. F. MATTHEWS, M. A., B. D., Principal Preparatory Department.

AFTER two weeks' vacation, Zion Schools resumed their sessions on Monday, January 7, 1901, with a full attendance. Nearly all the students returned and quite a number of new ones have come in. Again all the desks are occupied, and again there is need of adding more seats to accommodate new pupils.

The roll of the Preparatory and College Departments now contains 123 names. Zion truly has reason to thank God at this opening of a New Year for His favor to Zion College and for the rapid growth it has had.

One remarkable feature of the work is the way our students are bringing in their relatives and friends and acquaintances and neighbors Zion teaching, instilled into the hearts of young people all over the land, becomes a power like leaven, spreading and bringing the members of a family one by one to share the blessings of the truth with those who are already here.

Class work has been taken up where it was dropped for holidays, and the work of the last few weeks of the first term of this school year will be made up largely of reviews.

It must be considered a special cause for gratitude to God that the general health of our students has been so good. In these days when pneumonia and influenza in various forms have been so prevalent about us, there has been no serious case of illness among the students. Some have had slight attacks, but these have been quickly overcome, and any progress of disease has been checked by the prompt use of God's remedy —the prayer of faith. In Zion Students' Home for young men more than fifty persons now take their meals, all being young men who are students in Zion College, or help required in keeping up the house. Such a large number in such limited quarters necessitates something like crowding, but all seem to be comfortable and happy and learning daily from Zion's God lessons which shall be made useful in many ways in the days that are to come.

Is it not remarkable that there should be no case of serious illness among so large a number, who, under such circumstances, must be rather crowded together in close quarters? God has truly kept the pestilence away from our household.

> There shall no evil befall thee,
> Neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.

Remarkable answers to prayer for others are also coming to our knowledge almost daily. For example, a brother-in-law of one of our students was taken ill a short time ago with what proved to be typhoid fever. He was taken to the hospital by friends who had not the faith of Zion to pray for healing. The patient was delirious when taken to the hospital, and evidently a very sick man. But he had at least one friend who believed that Christ is still the Healer. Word was sent to Zion, with request for prayer. The word was received, and prayer was offered when the letter came the next day after being written. That very day the man grew better. The doctors and the nurses could not understand the case. They had never seen anything like it. They were looking for the fever to run its course for a certain number of days. But God instead had broken it up. The man became well and in a very few days left the hospital with his full strength rapidly coming back to him He did not even understand it all himself. He could not explain how it had been brought about, but he could realize that he was well again, and he knew he had been seriously ill.

The volume which contains the record of answered prayers is being written day by day. These are true stories of God's dealings with His people in these latter days, and no cunningly devised fables. The lessons which our students are learning from such records of things which we know and are not mere hearsay, are more precious even than the lessons they are learning from the books they are studying, valuable as these are.

These lessons tell us in clear words that there is a God in Zion who is working for His people, and is pleased enough with His servants to answer their prayers. Such experiences show us that Zion to some extent, at least, is learning her first lesson—how to pray. They also encourage to perseverance and to greater definiteness in petitions. We must know just what we desire, as well as know just how to ask for it.

One of the great lessons Zion is teaching the world today is the need of definiteness in prayer.

We have not only a broader field of things to ask for, but we have a more exact and clear conception of just what the things are that we are asking about.

They are in three divisions: blessings for spirit, soul and body. What we get in each division affects us in all our threefold nature. We share in the glory of God which is advanced by His answering our petitions and doing mighty works in the establishing of His Kingdom.

Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

> But we all, . . . reflecting as a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory —2 Corinthians 3:18.

What a thought is here for service and for carrying out a high ideal in prayer! In our lives we reflect the image of Christ as a mirror.

We are even changed into His image and share His glory, passing on from one step of glory to another, always led by His Spirit. So when God shows His glory by the working of wonders in the healing of disease and in other wonderful works, we share in the glory He manifests, as it is all to extend the glory of His Kingdom as established on earth.

This is the ever-increasing and ever more glorious power of Zion in her onward movement for the salvation of men. Let us always pray that we may all more and more reflect in our lives the image of Christ, and be permitted more and more to see the glorious works of God as manifested in salvation and healing and purity of life, advancing step by step from glory to glory.

CHICAGO.

ZION in Chicago spent the first Lord's Day in the New Year with great joy in the consciousness that the next time they met about the Lord's Table, the General Overseer would, God willing, break the bread and drink the wine with them.

Overseer George L. Mason spoke at the afternoon service, at which, in spite of wet, stormy weather, there was a very large attendance. He gave a very convincing argument for the verbal inspiration of the Holy Scriptures and closed with a stirring and effective appeal to all in Zion to spend more time in the prayerful study of the Word of God. Thousands arose to signify their determination to learn at least one verse of Scripture during every day of the year.

One very interesting and encouraging fact was brought out by Overseer Mason. When he asked those present who read a portion of the Word of God and had prayer with their families or in private every day to raise their hands, by far the greater part of the audience responded.

After the sermon, Overseer Speicher gave the right hand of fellowship to a large number of new members.

Then the Lord's Supper was celebrated. There was a deep sense of spiritual power in the hearts of those present.

One feature of the morning service on this day was the beautiful singing of Zion's White-robed Girls' Choir. This Choir, composed of seventy little girls, has been very carefully trained by Conductor Burt M. Rice, and their singing was an inspiration, lifting the reverent listeners nearer to God. Zion's Boys' Choir, reorganized, also took part in the services. This Choir has greatly improved even over its former excellence.

All hearts joined, silently, with these children of Zion as they sang their praises to God.

Northern Michigan.

Several weeks ago Elder W. O. Dinius, of Harvey, Illinois, made a tour of visitation to a number of the Gatherings of the Friends of Zion in Northern Michigan, including Petoskey, Epsilon and Bellaire.

The Spirit was present in power in these meetings and many blessings followed.

The incident of the brutal attack upon Elder Dinius by a professed minister of God is a sad and shocking example of the depths to which the Devil can drag a man who fights Zion.

The following is Elder Dinius' report:

During the meetings in Petoskey, stormy and severe cold weather hindered us; yet some were saved and healed.

The meetings at Epsilon were spiritual. Here we had seven members, and now we have ten. Twenty-one took communion in the little schoolhouse, although it was a very stormy day.

Ezra Schlappi is Conductor of their Gatherings, and is highly esteemed by the people in general as a man of sterling integrity. We were "Army Chums" nearly four years, closing with Sherman's March to the Sea and back through Richmond to Washington. This was our first meeting for over thirty years, and God made it a blessing to us both. We were not saved when we parted in July, 1865.

I had some good Cottage Meetings in Petoskey, and Lord's Day morning, December 17th, Elder J. E. Bodine kindly offered me his Church to preach in, on "Tithing," or any other theme if I preferred. Of course I had to preach Repentance, but spoke on Tithing and Divine Healing on the ground of perfect and willing obedience, even to Triune Immersion.

At the close of the service he said: "Elder Dinius was a minister of the U. B. Church for twenty-eight years until he joined the Christian Catholic Church. We were ministers of the same Conference in Ohio. I endorse every word he said."

On Monday night I went to the "Big Woods," six miles north of Petoskey, where James Craig, his wife and brother live. They are members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

They had the country schoolhouse full.

We had such an interesting meeting that a Rev. Call, who had been very busy spreading the false reports about Zion, and was present, became angry. At the close he said that I had tried hard to make out that he was a liar all the evening, and that I ought to have been mobbed at Mansfield, and that if I would come out doors, he would fight me.

I replied that I was not that kind of a fighter.

However, when I left the house, I unexpectedly received a blow under the left ear on the jaw, from his fist, and he threatened to repeat it.

I told him to strike again if that was his religion, but he started off, and God took away the pain when I prayed.

At Bellaire, I had little or no trouble.

At all these places they very much desire to have an Elder as soon as possible.

There is a big harvest for Zion at Petoskey. We have many friends there, but they need Zion teaching and are hungry for it.

Ledyard, Iowa.

Rev. John G. Excell, formerly Elder-in-Charge of Zion's work in St. Paul, Minnesota, now connected with the work at Headquarters, has been spending several months in visiting the Gatherings of the Friends of Zion in Minnesota and Iowa.

God has been blessing the preaching and teaching of the Everlasting Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living to many, and conversions, healings and renewals of consecration have followed.

God especially blessed the meetings held by Elder Excell in Ledyard, Iowa.

Miss Anna Oestreich, who has worked for God and Zion there and in other Iowa towns, has written to Headquarters, telling of the lively interest awakened; of those saved and delivered from the unclean tobacco and swine's flesh habits.

She also tells of the wonderful healing, in answer to Elder Excell's and Overseer Piper's prayers, of a young lady, nineteen years of age, who had never in her life been able to walk, and scarcely to sit up straight.

It is truly a most marvelous work of God.

The following is Miss Oestreich's letter:

We have had a blessed time.

The Lord has wonderfully blessed the work Elder Excell has been doing.

At present, I think, he has twelve applications for membership since the meeting began.

Some have been saved, delivered from tobacco and Secretism, and some healed. I think there are fourteen ready for Baptism.

The interest was good during all the meetings. The hall was crowded most of the time.

Farmers would bring in their grain, then tie their teams and come to the Bible Study.

People who seemed harsh at first became interested before the meetings closed.

We feel that the Lord has directed and has sent us just the man for Ledyard.

Preachers are angry, and are telling lies about Zion; but people keep coming for consultation with our Zion Elder.

Miss Lillie Hall is saved and the Lord is healing her. Yesterday she took quite a number of steps. She had never walked. She is nineteen years old, her spine was weak, and she could not sit up straight.

Her back is now straight; her feet, which were all twisted out of shape, are almost straight. Yesterday she walked, by taking her father's finger, from one room to another.

Last night she walked again with very little assistance.

The truth was presented clear and straight, and yet so kindly. We had perfect order from beginning to end.

This part of the country has not been poisoned. Zion came before the enemy told very many lies.

In a subsequent letter Miss Oestreich says:

I never saw a country so stirred up as it is around here.

Wherever we see a few men converse together they talk about tobacco and pork.

At present we know of seven who were delivered from tobacco, most of them young men.

People came to the meetings from miles around.

Members of Zion are faithful.

Zion Seventy work is to be begun.

Harvey, Illinois.

Rev. W. O. Dinius, Elder-in-Charge.

At Harvey is one of the Chicago suburban Branches of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. God has blessed Elder Dinius' work there, and the Branch meets in a very neat and convenient Tabernacle.

Elder Dinius sends the following report and testimony:

It has been several months since "Harvey Branch" has been reported. However, God has continued to be gracious to us.

The number of healings has been a cause of rejoicing. Among them there were several severe cases of typhoid fever. While others, employing doctors, had a long, lingering siege, and quite a number of deaths occurred, our people were speedily restored to perfect health, especially Mrs. Nellie Seymour, who suffered a relapse, through overdoing, and was very near death's door. But our dear Heavenly Father heard the prayer of faith, and in a short time she was helping her husband "pack up" and remove to Michigan.

The following testimony speaks for itself. It is from our dear daughter-in-law, Mrs. B. C. Dinius:

"Within the last few weeks God has very graciously and perfectly healed me of what had every symptom of typhoid fever. Of course, we had no physician, and cannot be sure what the opinion of one would have been.

"I only know that I was very ill, and that when our father, Elder Dinius, came and laid hands on me and prayed the prayer of faith, I was quickly delivered.

"Within two or three days after this I was able to go into the city and visit a Zion friend. While there we went down to Zion Home to call on some friends, and feeling after my trip a few lingering pains in my limbs, I asked Elder Stith to pray with me.

"I received a great blessing again.

"I was compelled to lay my duties down for only a few days, while others who employed doctors were confined to their beds for weeks, and at the outset their cases were apparently no more severe than mine.

"I give God all the glory, and am so thankful for this teaching which is for spirit, soul and body."

Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

God is with Zion with especial power on the occasion of the All-Night with God held during the closing hours of each Old Year and the opening hours of each New Year.

Wherever members and friends of Zion are gathered together on that night, whether in thousands in Central Zion Tabernacle or in little companies of less than ten in some of the smaller Gatherings, there the Spirit of God is; there is great blessing for spirits, souls and bodies of all.

There is a mighty unison of prayer from Zion all over the world on that night, and God is true to His promises to those who agree in prayer.

Mr. Charles W. Wright, Conductor of the growing Gathering of the Friends of Zion in Pittsburg, sends us the following enthusiastic account of the All-Night with God in that city. It was written on New Year's Day, the day following the meeting:

We had a glorious time and a great blessing at the All-Night Meeting of Zion's Gathering at Pittsburg.

Although we are not many in number, the Holy Spirit was with us. Many said it was the best meeting they ever attended.

At about 11 P. M. we sent a message to Zion in Chicago as follows:

"Zion in Pittsburg to Zion in Chicago: Greeting! We ask 2 Thessalonians 1:2 and 16."

After the midnight intermission the interest deepened, and about 6 A. M. today we were as wideawake as at any time during the night.

When the All-Night with God was first spoken of, one of the brothers said, "By all means let us have it. Our meetings never last long enough, and perhaps if we have an All-Night Meeting, we shall be satisfied for once."

When it came time to close the meeting this morning, however, we found that the All-Night had not worked a cure, as we were as loath to stop as ever. Praise the Lord, we all received great blessing, and one was thoroughly converted.

Vesta, Ontario, Canada.

The active and promising Gathering of the Friends of Zion at Vesta held its second All-Night Meeting on the night of December 31, 1900, and January 1, 1901

Members of Gatherings from many other places in that part of Ontario were present.

A. J. Turner, the Conductor of the Gathering, sends the following report of the blessings which God gave them in that All-Night of Prayer:

We held our All-Night of Prayer in Mr. Cross's new house.

We had a very blessed time together.

It was truly an "All-Night with God."

The Holy Spirit was with us in power.

Some, during our consecration, consecrated themselves, spirit, soul and body, for the first time.

The motto, "Christ is All," made of evergreen, greeted us as we entered the room.

There were about sixty persons present, most of whom belong to the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

The different Gatherings represented were, namely: Lion's Head, Wiarton, Wingham and Bervie.

Harriston and Markdale were also represented. Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Ralston from Chicago were also with us.

We began our meeting at 9 P. M. and closed at 6 A. M. We did not disperse until after sunrise. As in all our meetings the fellowship was sweet

We thank God for our General Overseer, who, under God, publishes LEAVES OF HEALING, which coming into our home was the beginning of this blessed work here.

Marion, Kansas.

Elder D. A. Reed and his good wife, Evangelist Mary A. Reed, who are laboring in the widely extended territory of Western Kansas and Colorado, recently held a series of meetings in Marion, Kansas.

God blessed the work, as related in the report sent by Mrs. Hale, Messenger of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion in that place:

Zion in Marion is rejoicing and praising God from whom all blessings flow.

Elder and Evangelist Reed, of Great Bend, have been with us and held nine days' meetings, preaching the glorious Full Gospel on the streets to large crowds before going into the hall for the evening service.

The members and friends have been greatly blessed and strengthened. Three have been added to our number; four obeyed the blessed Lord in Baptism by Triune Immersion.

Some sick and afflicted have been blessed and healed.

Zion's Seventies have been sent forth and LEAVES OF HEALING is being sold on the streets. A great interest has been awakened.

We were refused the use of any of the churches before the Elder and Evangelist came, but before our meetings closed the Christian Church opened their building and baptistry to us.

The plain teaching of the Full Gospel of Repentance, Confession and Restitution has led some to confess their faults.

We are all thankful for such teaching.

We wish to thank the editors of the Marion Record and Headlight for their straight and fair statements of our meetings.

Baby Healed Through Prayer.

BUTLER, NEW YORK, December 29, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Praise God for deliverance!

Our baby began to get better Friday, December 21st, at about 10 o'clock.

He is all right now, praise God.

We thank you for your kindness and praise the Lord for victory.

Your Brother in Christ, JOHN E. BISHOP.

HE IS JUST THE SAME TODAY.

BY REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE

HAVE you ever heard the story
How our Lord before He died
Laid His blessed hands in healing
Upon all who to Him cried?

How the sick and all oppressed ones
He rejoicing sent away?
O, I'm glad, so glad to tell you,
He is just the same today.

LET me speak to you of Jesus, kind reader of these pages. In simple, honest words, with tenderness and love, I want to tell you glad, good news. Christ changes never, and as He was on earth in ages long gone by, He is unchangeably the same even here and now. The Word which never dies is true, "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever."

All His life and ministry were beautifully described by Peter thus: "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all who were oppressed of the Devil." (Acts 10:38.)

"Teaching" patiently, "preaching" boldly, He went about with constant sympathy, "healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." (Matthew 4:23; 9:35.)

He is the same today as when He trod the Holy land, blessing the fainting, scattered, burdened sheep of God with words of life. And still He journeys over all the earth and never wearies of His loving task. He binds up still the broken, bleeding hearts, He still delivers from the tyrant's fetters, and from Himself, the Fountain, healing virtue still is flowing.

With outstretched hands He stands, quick to respond to thine appeal and banish all thy woe. Unseen but "with us alway," as He said, He stands beside thy bed of weary pain.

Loved ones bend over thee, and minister with sympathetic care; but nearer than all beside is Jesus, thy Saviour and thy Healer still.

The Hand that cleansed the foulness of the leper's flesh and made it sweet and clean; the Hand that made the deaf to hear, the blind to see, the lame to leap, the dumb to speak; the Hand which raised the dead to life is here, no vanished Christ have we.

Oh, wherefore doubt, and wherefore seek at other hands, from surgeon's knife or poison draught, the healing which He died to bring to thee, to me, to all mankind, in every age, in every land, in every clime? Christ changes never.

At noontide, sixteen years ago, I sat in my study in the parsonage of the Congregational Church, at Newtown, a suburb of the beautiful City of Sydney, Australia. My heart was very heavy, for I had been visiting the sick and dying beds of more than thirty of my flock, and I had cast the dust to its kindred dust into more than forty graves within a few weeks.

Where, oh where was He who used to heal His suffering children? No prayer for healing seemed to reach His ear, and yet I knew His hand had not been shortened. Still it did not save from death even those for whom there was so much in life to live for God and others.

Strong men, fathers, good citizens, and more than all, true, faithful Christians, sickened with a putrid fever, suffered nameless agonies, passed into delirium, sometimes with convulsions, and then died. And oh, what aching voids were left in many a widowed, orphaned heart.

Then there were many homes where, one by one, the little children, the youths and the maidens, were stricken, and, after hard struggling with the foul disease, they, too, lay cold and dead. It seemed sometimes as if I could almost hear the triumphant mockery of fiends ringing in my ears whilst I spoke to the bereaved ones the words of Christian hope and consolation.

Disease, the foul offspring of its father, Satan, and its mother, Sin, was defiling and destroying the earthly temples of God's children, and there was no deliverer.

And there I sat with sorrow-bowed head for my afflicted people, until the bitter tears came to relieve my burning heart. Then I prayed for some message, and oh, how I longed to hear some words from Him who wept and sorrowed for the suffering long ago, the Man of Sorrows and of Sympathies. And then the words of the Holy Ghost inspired in Acts 10:38 stood before me all radiant with light, revealing Satan as the defiler and Christ as the Healer.

My tears were wiped away, my heart was strong; I saw the Way of healing, and the door thereto was opened wide, and so I said, "God help me now to preach that word to all the dying 'round, and tell them how 'tis Satan still defiles, and Jesus still delivers, for 'He is just the same today.'"

A loud ring and several loud raps at the outer door, a rush of feet, and then at my door two panting messengers, who said, "Oh come at once. Mary is dying; come and pray." With just such a feeling as a shepherd has who hears that his sheep are being torn from the fold by a cruel wolf, I rushed from my house, ran hatless down the street, and entered the room of the dying maiden. There she lay, groaning, grinding her clenched teeth in the agony of the conflict with the destroyer, the white froth, mingled with her blood, oozing from her pain-distorted mouth. I looked at her and then my anger burned.

"Oh," I thought, "for some sharp sword of heavenly temper keen to slay this cruel foe who is strangling that lovely maiden like an invisible serpent, tightening his deadly coils for a final victory."

In a strange way it came to pass; I found the sword I needed was in my hands, and in my hand I hold it still, and never will I lay it down. The doctor, a good Christian man, was quietly walking up and down the room, sharing the mother's pain and grief. Presently he stood at my side and said, "Sir, are not God's ways mysterious?"

Instantly the sword was flashing in my hands—the Spirit's Sword, the Word of God. "God's way!" I said, pointing to the scene of conflict. "How dare you, Dr. K——, call that God's way of bringing His children home from earth to heaven? No, sir, that is the Devil's work, and it is time we called on Him who came to destroy the work of the Devil to slay the deadly, foul destroyer, and to save the child. Can you pray, Doctor; can you pray the prayer of faith that saves the sick?

At once, offended at my words, my friend was changed, and saying, "You are too much excited, sir. 'Tis best to say God's will be done," he left the room.

Excited! The word was quite inadequate, for I was almost frenzied with Divinely imparted anger and hatred of that foul destroyer, disease, which was doing Satan's will.

"It is not so," I exclaimed; "no will of God sends such cruelty, and I shall never say God's will be done to Satan's works, which God's own Son came to destroy, and this is one of them."

Oh, how the Word of God was burning in my heart: "Jesus of Nazareth went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil: for God was with Him." And was not God with me? and was not Jesus there and all His promises true? I felt that it was even so, and turning to the mother I inquired, "Why did you send for me?" To which she answered, "Do pray, oh, pray for her that God may raise her up." And so we prayed.

What did I say? It maybe that I cannot recall the words now without mistake, but words are in themselves of small importance.

The prayer of faith may be a voiceless prayer, a simple, heartfelt look of confidence into the face of Christ.

At such a moment words are few, but they mean much, for God is looking at the heart.

Still I can remember much of that prayer unto this day, and asking God to aid I will endeavor to recall it.

I cried:

Our Father, help! and Holy Spirit teach me how to pray. Plead Thou for us, oh Jesus, Saviour, Healer, Friend, our Advocote with God the Father. Hear and heal, eternal One? From all disease and death deliver this sweet child of Thine. I rest upon the Word. We claim the promise now. The word is true, "I am the Lord that healeth thee." Then heal her now. The word is true, "I am the Lord, I change not." Unchanging God, then prove Thyself the Healer now. The word is true, "These signs shall follow them that believe, in My Name, they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." And I believe and I lay hands in Jesus' Name on her, and claim this promise now. Thy word is true, "The prayer of faith shall save the sick." Trusting in Thee alone, I cry, oh save her now, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

And, lo, the maid lay still in sleep, so deep and sweet that the mother said in a low whisper, "Is she dead?" "No," I answered in a whisper lower still, "Mary will live; the fever has gone. She is perfectly well and sleeping as an infant sleeps."

Smoothing the long dark hair from her now peaceful brow, and feeling the steady pulsation of her heart and cool, moist hands, I saw that Christ had heard and that once more, as long ago in Peter's house, "He touched her and the fever left her."

Turning to the nurse I said, "Get me at once, please, a cup of cocoa and several slices of bread and butter."

Beside the sleeping maid we sat quietly and almost silently until the nurse returned, and then I bent over her and snapping my fingers said, "Mary!" Instantly she awoke, smiled and said, "Oh, sir, when did you come? I have slept so long."

Then stretching out her arms to meet her mother's embrace, she said, "Mother, I feel so well."

"And hungry, too?" I said, pouring some of the cocoa in a saucer and offering it to her when cooled by my breath.

"Yes, hungry, too," she answered with a little laugh, and drank and ate again, and yet again, until all was gone.

In a few minutes she fell asleep, breathing easily and softly.

Quietly thanking God, we left her bed and went to the next room, where her brother and sister also lay sick of the same fever. With these two we also prayed, and they were healed.

The following day all three were well, and in a week or so they brought to me a little letter and a little gift of gold, two sleeve links with my monogram, which I wore for many years.

As I went away from the home where Christ as the Healer had been victorious, I could not but have somewhat in my heart the triumphant song that rang through heaven, and yet I was not a little amazed at my own strange doings, and still more at my discovery that

HE IS JUST THE SAME TODAY.

And this is the story of how I came to preach the Gospel of Healing through faith in Jesus.

That very day I went to the cemetery and laid in the grave the bodies of three who had died two days before; but I rejoice to add that in the more than twelve years of ministry in Australia which followed, I only buried five, although ministering to many, many thousands.

And yet it was not all at once that I could discover how to teach the lessons that I learned that day. Not until six years after did I fully enter upon the ministry of healing as a part of the ministry of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, to preach which I was duly ordained twenty years ago.

In these twenty years I have prayed, and in Jesus' Name have laid my hands upon tens of thousands of sick ones, and, so far as man can judge, by far the greater part were fully healed. These witnesses have testified in thousands and the record of their testimonies has gone forth to many lands.

We have left our friends and home to carry Leaves of Healing from the Tree of Life to every nation we can reach. We have never proclaimed this Gospel in any city or country where God has not confirmed the word with signs following, although in some places it is still true as nineteen centuries ago, "He could not do there many mighty works because of their unbelief."

We bring this Message to this city, and to thee, kind reader. It will give us joy to tell it to all who will come. Salvation and healing are FREE, for God never sells His gifts. "Come, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

The mission opens its doors to all. It is the old-time religion and no new Gospel that is preached. 'Tis the Gospel of Jesus' Redemption for spirit, soul and body, bringing Salvation from sin, Healing from sickness, and Cleansing from every defilement of the flesh and spirit.

Let the words abide in thy heart:

HE IS JUST THE SAME TODAY.

And if thou wilt believe Him, first for Salvation and then for Healing, thou wilt go onward in the King's Highway of Holiness, singing the familiar words with a new meaning, as thou goest along the way through earth to heaven:

Thou, O Christ, art all I want,
More than all in Thee I find.
Raise the fallen, cheer the faint,
Heal the sick, and lead the blind.

DIVINE HEALING IN THE GOSPEL.

We claim Divine Healing upon the ground of the Atoning Sacrifice. We claim it because it was said, "The chastisement of our peace was upon Him," and more, "with His stripes we are healed." That we humbly claim. Matthew eighth chapter and sixteenth and seventeenth verses distinctly refers this prophecy to Divine Healing.

Yes, it is true. "Himself took our infirmities and bare our sicknesses."

We teach that the Atoning Sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ covers all kinds of sin and its consequences, of which disease is one.

Another point is that Divine Healing is a perpetual covenant with God's people; for He has revealed himself by that name—Jehovah-Rophi—"I am the Lord that healeth thee." Exodus 15:26.

The "Gifts of Healings" are ever in the Church of Christ; for 1 Corinthians 12:9 shows that they are "in the Holy Spirit," and He is ever in the Church. Again it is written: "The gifts and calling of God are without repentance." (Romans 11:29.) Therefore, the Gifts of Healings, however they may be neglected, cannot be removed, for God's Word would then fail, and that cannot be.

"The redemption of our body" (Romans 8:23 and Thessalonians 5:22-24) is a present redemption, and if we will all let God have his way we may also say with Paul, "The Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the Law of Sin and Death." (Romans 8:2.)

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, JANUARY 30th or 31st.

How God Sees Sin.

1. In all its destroying power.—Genesis 4:1-8.
   Sin destroys the soul.
   Sin incites to death.
   Sin ruins all who cling to it.
2. In all its death-dealing blows.—Romans 6:16-23.
   The wages of sin is death.
   Sin makes slaves of its devotees.
   Holiness points to happiness.
3. In all the hardships it entails.—Proverbs 13:13-25.
   The way of the transgressor is hard.
   Sin is the cause of much poverty.
   Sin is after sinners hard-handed.
4. In all the exposure it brings.—Numbers 32:20-27.
   Sin cannot be covered up.
   Serving God does not bring hardships.
   Sin is the cause of life failures.
5. In all the suffering it causes.—Romans 5:12-17.
   One sin causes death.
   Those who disobey God fall into sin.
   God has abounding mercy for sin's victims.
6. In all the abominations it incites.—Galatians 5:19-21.
   You cannot tell where sin may lead to.
   Sin manifests itself in many ways.
   The practice of sin shuts out from heaven.
7. In all deceptiveness of its workings.—Romans 7:7-13.
   The pleasures of sin deceive.
   The promises of the Devil deceive.
   The carnal mind deceives.
8. In all the blessings it shuts out from.—Jeremiah 3:2-5.
   It keeps back rains and bountiful harvests.
   It keeps back health and long life.
   It keeps back success and happiness.

The Lord Our God is a Sin-Exposing God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 3d.

The Destroying Power of One Sinner.

1. An ignorant sinner overthrows a life.—Ecclesiastes 9:13-18.
   Ignorance is not bliss, it is folly.
   It is important that one know wisdom.
   Wisdom never frets or becomes excited.
2. A cowardly sinner delays victory.—2 Timothy 4:14-18.
   One cannot be a good business man and aid the Devil.
   A man prominent in affairs can scare people for the Devil.
   One man with courage will win in battles for God.
3. A selfish sinner sometimes retards evangelization.—Acts 5:1-11.
   The Devil says you are a fool to give God all.
   To save all sometimes means to lose all.
   One's consecration to God must be genuine and include everything.
4. A worldly sinner defiles the sheepfold.—Ezekiel 34:7-19.
   Money-loving preachers are in league with the Devil.
   Some preachers think the Church owes them a good living.
   To be God's minister is to give, not to get.
5. A covetous sinner defeats thousands.—Joshua 7:10-15.
   The Church for years has not won battles as it used to.
   They cease to urge the truths of Holy Living.
   The cause of failure is not deeply sought for.
6. A lustful sinner undermines virtue.—2 Timothy 3:1-9.
   Christ will find an adulterous generation when He comes again.
   A generation like this will do awful things.
   A true servant must witness against the sins of his day.

God's Holy People are a Sin-Shunning People.

SUGGESTIVE NOTES FOR THE USE OF ZION'S BIBLE CLASS OUTLINES

A reference encyclopedia of Bible truth can be had by those who will make the proper use of Zion's Bible Class Lessons which appear in LEAVES OF HEALING. They open up wonderful resources of preparation for Zion's Seventies together with those conducting Cottage Prayer Meetings or Zion Gatherings. These studies have been issued since Volume V, Number 27, and now number about 200 lessons. They extend over a wide range of Bible topics and subjects of practical use. Doctrinal teachings are presented, covering the full scope of Bible truth, concerning GOD, MAN, SIN, REDEMPTION, THE CHRISTIAN, A HOLY PEOPLE, THE CHURCH, CHRISTIAN WORK, THE WORLD, THE AGE BEYOND and FINAL ESTATES. These lessons can be clipped out of the paper and pasted in a book and indexed under the doctrines, subjects, topics and words of which they treat. This will be a book of ready reference and can be added to regularly. The subjects, with the varied methods of treatment as they appear in comprehensive outline, with citations of Scripture from every book of the Bible, together with practical questions or remarks thereon, may be added to by explanations and observations and illustrations which will enable every one who devoutly studies and diligently uses them to rightly divide the word of truth, and thus in an increasing measure become thoroughly furnished unto every good work.

How to study or teach a Zion Bible Class Lesson should not prove to be a difficulty to any one. It is the intention to cover simply the vital truths and important doctrines of the Bible, presenting a phase of some subject in each lessson from a given point of view, with selections of Scripture which have a plain and positive meaning, viewed from a broad light of Bible research. No commentaries are to be used, for they, in most part, are nothing but the traditions of the elders, which make void the Word of God. They, like many of the translations of the Bible, give a dark meaning to God's truth. They set forth lack of faith and show the low standard of spiritual conception at the day or time in which the work was done.

The safe rule for all is to read the Word of God in the power of the Holy Spirit, comparing Scripture with Scripture. Let the concensus of Scripture texts on one given subject, with the true meaning of the words involved, determine the points of view from which the subject must be approached.

For instance, take Zion Bible Class Lesson in LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume VII, Number 18—"Why some keep out of Zion": To illustrate the plan of going at a lesson, consider closely this lesson; for personal comprehensive study must, of course, precede the presentation of such a subject by a leader at a Zion Gathering. The first reason given is, "Because they are so used to old and corrupt theological views," as shown in Luke 5:36-39, which goes to show that a Church, in age and spiritual declension, will worship old and cherished dogmas which are held only in form, and will not accept the truths which come with waves of revival blessing.

Show how this is true in all Protestant churches in their apostasy, for they will not give up their hospitals, sanitariums, drugs, favorite medicines, surgery and doctors and trust God, who is the Creator, Redeemer and Preserver of the lives and health of the bodies of His people through Jesus Christ His Son.

The next question brings out the fact that if a new truth would get into an old Church with its lack of spiritual power, it would tear the Church to pieces. Such a Church is filled not with the unity of the Spirit, but with backsliders from pulpit to pew, who know not God in the power of the first love where "Christ is All and in All" and is trusted for everything in a full and complete consecration.

The third question cites the fact that people are slow in accepting new truths. So used are they to an old treadmill experience, bound in by walls of creeds and denominational teachings, that they cannot see that the Holy Spirit will ever continue to show things to come as God's plans unfold step by step throughout the age.

This same treatment is applied to the seven other reasons under this one subject, which is founded on that glorious prophecy in Jeremiah 3:14, 15. The analysis underneath the Scripture subdivisions of the lesson is in question form, but they can be turned into statement form and be verified, not only by the text cited or other well-known passages, but also by observation and personal experience, all of which should be brought to bear on a lesson, with such illustrations everywhere abounding as are true to the case in point. A person with spiritual perception, natural simplicity and earnestness of presentation can make Zion's Bible Class Lessons to be an increasingly great blessing to the thousands who are now studying them, as well as the tens of thousands who will yet be molded, stimulated and established in their relation to the every day affairs of life through Holy Living and fruitful service, by this method of presenting Bible truths.

A True Use of Sabbath Day Hours.

They should be improved well by every member and friend of Zion. The Bible Class Lesson outline should, with the Bible in hand, be gone over carefully and prayerfully, and the sermon by the General Overseer should also be attentively read. Assemble, sometime during the day, your own family. Invite in, if possible, those who want to know God in power, or desire from Him some blessing for spirit, soul or body. Where this is not possible, go where the sick and sinful, poor and neglected are, who have tasted only of the bitterness of life, and open up to them the Gospel which Jesus commanded should be preached to the poor. Where there are two or more members of Zion near you, do not fail to regularly come together sometime during the Lord's Day. Pray and speak with one another, and study together the Bible Class Lesson and talk over the marvelous doings of God in Zion. DO NOT OFFEND GOD BY GOING TO SOME CHURCH SERVICE WHERE GOD IS EVER DISHONORED AS THE HEALER, CLEANSER, KEEPER AND PROSPERER OF HIS PEOPLE. Do not go to hear His truth perverted by the cry of Peace, Peace, when sudden destruction is so near because of the prevalent wickedness of the world, which, with a worldly Church, is becoming more and more corrupt. Do not go where scoffing is everywhere heard from so-called Christians at the imminent coming of "the great God and Saviour Jesus Christ." He will receive unto Himself only those who look for Him; even ZION, whom He is now calling into Purity and Holy Living, who daily, in obedience to Her Lord, whatever the cost may be, is thus making herself READY TO SOON BECOME THE BRIDE OF CHRIST AT HIS APPEARING.

Elders, Evangelists, Deacons and Deaconesses, as well as Conductors of Zion Gatherings, should, together with every member and friend of Zion, use Zion's Bible Class studies in their personal study of the Holy Scriptures, and also in the family gathering as well as in Seventy work and cottage meetings. The scope of these lessons is covering the teachings of God's Word concerning every relation of life, as well as blessed fellowship in spirit, soul and body with a Triune God. To neglect this is to despise opportunities. To push it aside is to count something else more important. Not to meditate on God's Word day and night, as well as to read it, grasping the sense and cultivating an understanding heart, means you do not wish God's richest blessing upon you and the greatest success to come from your labors.

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 14. CHICAGO, JANUARY 26, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

GOD'S LOVE AND POWER TO HEAL MIGHTILY MANIFESTED IN HUSBAND, WIFE AND CHILDREN.

SURELY HE HATH BORNE OUR SICKNESSES.

What depths of Divine Love!

What Infinite compassion!

Can it be that Jesus Christ, the sinless Son of God, bore our sicknesses? Can it be that the cruel agonies of the cross were borne for our diseases? Can it be that the pangs of those hours of torture were suffered that we might be free from pangs of pain?

Hallelujah, it is true!

God's Word proclaims it in prophecy.

Jesus Christ came to fulfil that prophecy.

He did fulfil it.

He purchased for all men the priceless boon of Healing.

He holds that gift out to every one of His suffering children.

He longs to bestow it.

Praise God. He is giving it.

He gives it to those who love Him, obey Him, and accept the gift.

Thousands have accepted.

Their flesh no longer quivers with the torture of disease.

Their burning fevers, their terrible pains, their nameless agonies, and all the other results of sickness, He bore upon the tree.

Their lives, freed from loathsome disease, He has filled with peace, joy and usefulness.

C. L. GREER. MRS. LUCIE E. GREER.
CHARLES WESLEY GREER.
CARRIE BETH GREER. HATTIE MAY GREER.

These Witnesses are among the many thousands who tell of such blessings.

They are a little family of God's children in the Sunny South.

The husband and father was freed from the filthy bondage of tobacco. He was attacked with disease. Satan seemed to be about to take his life. But God kept him.

He made confession of his sins.

He asked God to forgive him.

True to His promise, God forgave his sins and quickly healed him in answer to the prayer of faith.

The wife was healed, in answer to Zion's prayers, of diseases of several years' standing.

Physicians had been unable to help her.

One little daughter's healing was a most wonderful manifestation of God's power.

A severe attack of typhoid fever developed into cerebro-spinal meningitis.

Her parents called in a physician.

But she had heard, from her grandmother, through Zion teaching, that Jesus was her Physician.

The pure and simple faith of childhood was strong.

She did not want the doctor to treat her.

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

She only wanted to "just pray to God." But their faith was weak. They continued for a time to give her the physician's poisons. She grew rapidly worse. She was dying.

Then they turned to God in their despair.

He heard them and spared their darling's life.

But they still needed teaching.

Satan still tortured their little daughter with indescribable agonies.

She was unconscious most of the time.

She was paralyzed.

Death seemed often about to conquer.

If she lived, humanly speaking, she would be a cripple, and perhaps her mind would be weakened or destroyed.

Her parents brought her to Zion Home.

There they heard the wonderful truth that Jesus Christ had borne the awful sufferings of the cross that their little one might not suffer.

They obeyed God in all things.

They accepted fully the gift He purchased for them.

In answer to the prayers of the General Overseer, their daughter received a perfect healing.

No effect of the disease remains.

She is better and stronger than ever.

Her mother and her aunt tell her wonderful story.

None can dispute it.

She praises God for His love and power, in the simplicity and spontaneity of childhood.

When she first walked, after her sickness, she lifted her face, all alight with joy, to her Heavenly Father, with the glad words, "I thank You, God, I thank You, for helping me to walk."

The other two little ones have also found in Jesus their Healer.

Take this little family, O Little White Dove.

Fly with them to those tossing with agony on beds of pain.

Through their joyous witnessing tell the weary ones that Christ has borne their sicknesses.

Tell them they need not suffer.

They need only acknowledge and obey Him.

They need only accept His freely offered gift.

God forbid that any should reject that which He paid the price of His own life to purchase for them. A. W. N.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. C. L. GREER.

TUSCALOOSA, ALABAMA, December 16, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—We send you a picture of our little family, with a testimony of healing from each.

God has blessed us so much.

I was healed of an internal trouble from which I had suffered for several years.

I had been to several doctors, but only grew worse.

If I walked but a short distance, I would feel like fainting.

I also suffered with my heart and head.

My husband had Dr. Bonner, of Tupelo, Mississippi (our former home), come and make an examination, but he did not seem to know what was the trouble.

He gave me medicine to be used twelve days, but it did not help me any; so he wrote me another prescription, which I never had filled, but wrote to the General Overseer the next day for prayers.

I began to improve right away.

I was healed perfectly.

I have never taken another dose of medicine since, and that was in October, 1899.

Our little girl, Carrie Beth, was taken sick with typhoid fever a short time afterwards and we had to carry her like a baby for nearly four months; but it never hurt me.

Our other two little ones have been healed several times through prayer.

Hattie May was taken very sick a few days after we went to Zion Home with Carrie Beth.

My mother and niece thought she was taking typhoid fever, her symptoms were so much like Carrie Beth's.

But the General Overseer prayed for her twice, her fever gave way and she was soon well.

She has been healed several times of chills and fever through Zion's prayers and ours.

Our little boy has been healed of bowel trouble and fever. He was sick a few months ago and we wrote you for prayers. He was well in a few days.

I thank God for our General Overseer and the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

I thank you all for your prayers, and pray God to bless and keep you to continue this grand work.

Faithfully, (MRS.) C. L. GREER.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. C. L. GREER CONCERNING HER DAUGHTER'S HEALING.

TUPELO, MISSISSIPPI, November 7, 1900.

REV. W. HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer Piper:—It is with a heart full of praise to our dear Heavenly Father that we send you the testimony and photograph of our dear little girl, who was so wonderfully healed in Zion Home during the winter of 1899-1900, for which we give God all the glory. We thank our dear General Overseer and the Elders for their prayers.

On the 5th of November, 1900, we first called the doctor to see Carrie Beth. She was up, but had not been well for several days, and had fever at the time.

She was not willing for the doctor to examine her, so he thought there was not much the matter with her. He left a little medicine, saying he thought that would make her all right.

Monday evening she was a great deal worse, and he was telephoned to come again.

When he came I saw he thought she was a very sick child. He left prescriptions and directions for giving the medicine.

Just as he started out of the room, Carrie Beth rose up in her bed and said, "Mother, I did not want you to send for Dr. Bonner. I just wanted to pray to God."

When husband came home I told him what she said. God was talking to us through her dear little lips, but we did not listen. We went right along giving the poison.

When the doctor came Tuesday morning he pronounced her case a very severe attack of typhoid fever.

Our hearts sank within us, for she had always been a very delicate child and we had often said we did not believe she could live through a severe attack of sickness.

After the doctor was gone she said, "Mother, you have never written Dr. Dowie to pray for me yet, have you?" I told her I had not, but that I would. Then she told me about Christ raising Lazarus from the dead.

All that week she would tell me the medicine was "nasty" and she just wanted to "pray to God."

She grew worse all the time, and by Saturday evening her temperature was 105, notwithstanding we were giving her fever powders.

The last dose of medicine I ever tried to give her was on that evening, and I had to almost pour it down her.

She told me repeatedly it was "so nasty," and she just wanted to "pray to God."

It almost broke my heart to pour the medicine down her, for I felt that medicine would never do her any good. But I did not know how my husband would feel upon the subject, and old Satan made me afraid to ask him.

I tried all that week to ask him if he would quit the medicine and write to Dr. Dowie for prayer. I was fearful of the responsibility alone, and I was afraid my husband would not be willing to give up the medicine.

I felt my hopes would all be gone if he told me No.

If only I had not listened to Satan, but had gone to my husband at first, I believe our little darling would have been spared much suffering; for he was so willing to put her into the hands of God, and his faith was stronger than mine.

Saturday evening when the doctor came, I showed him a very bad action from Carrie Beth's bowels. When he looked at it he shook his head and said he did not like the looks of that, saying it was a diarrhea which accompanies typhoid fever.

Her bowels were puffed and she was growing worse so fast I knew it was impossible for her to live in that condition much longer.

I asked Mr. Greer if he would telegraph for prayer. He thought a moment, then got right up and went to the office. The office was closed.

Just after he left the house Carrie Beth seemed to be dying. She turned on her back, straightened herself out, became stiff, and her eyes were set.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

I thought she was dying, and called my mother to come quickly. Then I ran to the telephone and told Mr. Greer to come home as quickly as possible.

I then called for Dr. Bonner, but, thank God, he had gone to the country.

I then went back to her and began rubbing her and praying.

I was also crying.

I wanted to trust God, but my faith was weak.

I had much to learn.

In a few minutes Mr. Greer returned. She had begun to revive.

He was putting his coat on to return to send the message, when she asked him where he was going. We told her he was going to send a message to Auntie (Miss Lutie Stevens, one of our General Overseer's stenographers) to ask the General Overseer to pray for her. She said she wanted him to go.

He sent the telegram, and she has never had a dose of medicine since.

The next morning when the doctor came he found no puffing in her bowels and her tongue was better. Her actions had turned to a healthy color, and after that night she had no more trouble with her bowels.

When Dr. Bonner finished examining her, he told me I had better give her a dose of medicine of some kind, I do not remember what. He told me the second time before I answered him.

Then I told him we had decided not to give any more medicine, but to trust God alone for healing.

He said she did not need much medicine, but wanted to compromise the case with us and continue the turpentine emulsion; but of course we would not consent, for that was not God's Way.

Dr. Bonner then told me what to give her for nourishment.

He returned in the afternoon and told Mr. Greer she was very low.

She could not speak and paid no attention to anything that was said. I suppose she was paralyzed then, but we did not realize it.

Our cousin, Mr. Boggan, talked and prayed with us and helped to strengthen our faith. We also had our mother, Mrs. E. C. Stevens, and niece, Miss Stella Smith, a member of Zion, to sympathize with and help us.

We sent another telegram to the General Overseer and she got better.

Her fever went down to about 101-102, and she spoke to us several times.

But she got much worse the latter part of the week and began tossing her head. She would take paroxysms of jerking and would throw herself from her pillow by jerking backward and tossing her head from side to side.

Indeed, she had the symptoms of spinal meningitis, but having no doctor at the time we did not know what her trouble was.

After going to Zion Home, Dr. Speicher pronounced it cerebro-spinal meningitis.

Her suffering was terrible and her screams were pitiful.

For a while it seemed she would lose her left eye.

One night the death-rattle was in her throat and she had the hiccoughs. I thought we were going to have to give her up, yet we never had the least inclination to return to doctors or drugs.

Mr. Greer's faith was strong and he did not become the least excited.

We knew that prayers were going up in Zion for her continually.

God heard and did not allow Satan to kill her.

I felt that if we could get to Zion with her she would be all right.

Mr. Boggan thought it better that we go where we could receive the teaching and find what was in our way.

Sunday night we decided to go.

Carrie Beth had been tossing her head and screaming all the evening, but as soon as we decided we would go, Mr. Greer sat down by her, put his arms around her and told her to go to sleep. She went right to sleep and slept until the carriage came to take us to the depot.

Mr. Boggan telegraphed to the General Overseer for prayer for a safe journey.

Dr. Bonner said we were running a risk to start with her; that if she were his child he would not do it.

She rested quietly until we had nearly reached Chicago, then she began to grow tired and fretful.

We reached Zion a little after dark. Our sister, Miss Lutie Stevens, met us at the depot and took us to the Home. Overseer Speicher came immediately to our room and prayed with us. She rested well that night.

The General Overseer came up the next day and prayed with her.

We thank God that He has sent us this man of God with these wonderful teachings.

The Elders were so kind and always ready to come and pray with us when asked. We shall always remember them with much love.

Still Satan did not give up the fight. He seemed determined to slay her little body. But there was One more powerful than he.

Thursday night her eyes were set and glassy. She was dying. I put water to her lips, but she could not swallow.

She had been unconscious since before leaving home, and the tossing and jerking had continued.

There was still something in the way of her healing.

I felt it was weak faith on my part.

I left her with Mr. Greer and my sister.

I felt that I must get away from her suffering, or even the faith I had would fail me. I went to my sister's room, fell on my knees, and plead with God to take away whatever was hindering and heal her for His glory.

Our dear General Overseer came in several times that night, and his words and prayers strengthened us.

God heard and gave her back to us. About 4 o'clock she began to rally and gradually grew better.

Her fever gave way about the 1st of December.

We knew it was not God's fault that the victory was not won sooner. "According to thy faith be it unto thee."

When the victory came, it was complete.

Hers was a perfect healing.

She has not been sick a day since, and she looks better than she ever did in her life.

A catarrhal affection which she had before this sickness has entirely disappeared, and her voice is clear and unmuffled.

She is the picture of health.

She suffered terribly from toothache while in Zion, which was relieved after prayer by the General Overseer and Overseer Speicher.

Her vocal cords, left arm and lower limbs were paralyzed, but she soon regained the use of them.

The first step she took, she looked up with beaming face and said, "I thank You, God, I thank You, for helping me to walk."

She has been relieved of toothache several times through her own prayers. A part of the tooth has now come out and the rest of it is loose.

She is bright and happy and a strong little Zion girl.

She always remembers our General Overseer and all of Zion in her prayers.

We praise God every day for His goodness to us.

Yours in Christ (MRS.) C. L. GREER.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. A. H. CARTER CONCERNING THE HEALING OF HER NIECE, CARRIE BETH GREER.

ELGIN, TEXAS, November 7, 1900.

REV. W. HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Upon sitting down to state some facts concerning the serious illness and bealing of my little niece, Carrie Beth Greer, this passage comes to me: "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

It is with a heart full of praise and thanksgiving that I realize those nights of weeping and heart-anguish spent by the bedside of this little one, whom Satan had so terribly bound, have long since passed away and the joy of her healing and continued perfect health remain with us.

I shall never forget the evening that poor, little, emaciated form was brought into Zion Home by her parents. Upon looking into her little pinched face and eyes void of expression, I could detect no resemblance to the bright-eyed, happy-faced darling I had left but a few months before.

All through her sickness my heart would cry out in indignation against that false theology that God, whom our Saviour taught us to address as "Our Father," was the author of that terrible disease which was affecting the mind, paralyzing the body, and wasting the form of a once bright, happy child.

I will not go into the details of her terrible sickness, the constant tossing of the head, jerking of the body, the continuous little wail which would almost tear our heart-strings out; the paralyzed body, the glassy eye, and the chill of death upon her brow.

From a human standpoint the alternatives were merciless death or a deformed body and, perhaps, mind, the results of that terrible disease, cerebro-spinal meningitis consequent upon typhoid fever.

But God overruled the Satanic power which seemed to possess our little one and gave her back to us in a more perfect condition, physically, mentally and spiritually, than before the enemy attacked her.

Our aged mother, Mrs. E. C. Stevens, who was making her home with my sister at the time and was a constant reader of LEAVES OF HEALING, had been teaching this little one that Christ was the Healer, hence her eagerness to "just pray to God."

While in Zion Home during her sickness, our mother and Mr. and Mrs. Greer all sent in their applications for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

As for myself, my heart is full of praise to God and gratitude to the General Overseer, Overseers and Elders of the Christian Catholic Church for the many blessings I have received from Zion.

Before going to the Home as a stenographer in the private office of our General Overseer, through his prayers and the Grace of God through Christ, I was healed of asthma and bowel trouble of long standing.

I know that wherein perfect healing of all troubles has not come to me is because of unfaithfulness on my part, for God is always faithful.

While working in the private office of our General Overseer for ten months, I was in a position to know somewhat of the internal workings of

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Zion, and when I say I believe beyond a doubt that God is in that working, controlling and guiding it, I say all that need be said in recommendation of any Christian work.

I found our General Overseer truly a man of God, whose very presence brought inspiration and a benediction, so loving and gentle, and yet when the occasion demanded, it seemed God would speak in His wrath through him, denouncing sin in all its hideous forms, and commanding sinners to repent and seek God.

I was happy while in Zion and felt that I could ask for no greater happiness than to spend my life in the work.

When it became necessary last April, because of close confinement and overwork, to leave the Home for a season and come where I could get fresh air, sunshine and exercise, I was very sad.

I left intending to return, if possible, by July 1st, but in the meantime my mind underwent a change with reference to a certain subject—a woman's privilege to change her mind—and that is why I now sign my name—not (Miss) Lutie Stevens—but (MRS.) A. H. CARTER.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. C. L. GREER CONCERNING HER HUSBAND'S HEALING.

TUSCALOOSA, ALABAMA, December 16, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—God is truly good to those who put their trust in Him.

We can never praise Him enough for what He has done for us.

But for His goodness I believe I would have been a widow today.

My dear husband was taken sick with a chill the 16th of August, while at West Point, Mississippi.

He had another very severe chill the 18th and was quite sick all day, but came home that evening.

I sent a telegram to you immediately for prayers. He rested well that night and was able to get up next morning.

He did not feel so well in the afternoon, and by night his fever began to rise.

Early in the morning he began to suffer with a very sick stomach and vomiting. He wanted water all the time, but just as soon as he would drink it he would vomit it up.

By 10 o'clock his fever was very high and he began talking flightily.

I went downstairs and told my sister. When she got to him his pulse was down to thirty and he was of an ashy color.

I telephoned our cousin, Mr. Boggan, Conductor of Zion Gathering, to come at once.

We were praying all the time and before Mr. Boggan arrived, which was only a few minutes, Mr. Greer began to rally.

Mr. Boggan talked with him a little while of God's promises, and then prayed with him several times.

He said he felt better, and he looked better.

We then sent another telegram to you.

His fever went down and he was much better until the next evening.

He did not rest well that night, and the next morning had another cold spell, with a rise of fever. His pulse was 130 after he began to perspire.

He seemed to be wild. He would jump out of the bed sometimes, and was continually talking about something.

The only time his mind would be clear was when talking of God's promises or praying. He would often pray himself, but he could never stay his mind on any other subject.

His urine looked almost like blood and would have streaks of bloody mucus in it.

We continued to ask for prayers. We knew that you and Overseer Speicher were praying, and felt that the victory was sure to come.

There was still something in the way, and he had another bad spell.

We asked God to show him what was in the way, and He did.

My husband confessed. God forgave and the victory came, although not all at once; for the Devil had not given up the fight. He put several other light spells upon him; but God gave him a complete victory, and he has not lost a day's work for about six weeks; for which we give God all the glory.

We thank you and Overseer Speicher for your prayers and for your letters full of God's promises if we but did our part. They helped us so much.

May God bless and keep you in His work.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) C. L. GREER.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF C. L. GREER.

TUSCALOOSA, ALABAMA, January 4, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—My wife has written you concerning my illness.

She describes it better than I could, as I was unconscious a part of the time.

My physical man was more sorely afflicted of the Devil than ever before.

I trusted God for healing, and it came after I had confessed my sin.

The healing did not come until the sin was out of the way.

I thank God that He has shown us the absolute sin of denying Christ when we take other means for healing than His Word.

I was also healed of the tobacco habit. I was a "very bad" chewer.

I had tried to quit in my own strength several times. I could quit all right, but the desire still remained, although, in one instance, I did not use any tobacco for more than a year and a half.

Since I was made to see the sin of being a slave to such a filthy and filth-producing thing as a plug of tobacco, and determined to quit in God's strength, and asked Him to take the desire away, I have been entirely free from it; in fact, the smell is very repulsive to me, for which I thank God.

We do not use swine's flesh or any forbidden meat in our family.

We thank God for Zion teaching.

Our little daughter, Carrie Beth, was wonderfully healed of fever in Zion.

Her teeth, which were decayed and aching, when prayed for, stopped aching, and have since come out.

Our other little daughter, Hattie May, has been healed of chills and headache in answer to prayer, and we feel sure she was threatened with typhoid fever while we were away in Zion, with which, in answer to the prayers of His servant in Zion, God did not permit the Devil to afflict her.

Our baby boy, Charles Wesley, has been kept of God.

He has had no serious ailment, but has been healed of bowel trouble a few times in answer to prayer.

Wife and I have been healed often of small ailments.

We never fail to "take it to the Lord in prayer," and when we are right and leave it with Him, He never fails to hear and answer.

We thank the General Overseer and the Overseers, Elders and members in Zion Home for their kindness to and prayers for us and our children.

I am thankful to Brother L. G. Boggan, Conductor of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion at Tupelo, Mississippi, that he never lost an opportunity to "hit" tobacco while I was using it, and to make me see the sin of spending God's money for it and defiling His temple with it.

May God bless him and all Zion.

May God, by His Spirit's power, help us to trust, trust, TRUST.

We pray that the General Overseer, the Messenger of the Covenant, may be spared many years, and that God's Spirit may dwell in Him in great power, that sin may be reproved and the Everlasting Gospel proclaimed to the uttermost parts of the earth.

We pray God's blessing on every member and every institution of Zion. May they prosper in His favor and to His glory.

Pray for us.

Your Brother in Christ, C. L. GREER.

Baby Instantly Healed of Very High Fever and Great Pain.

1516 SHATTUCK AVENUE,
NORTH BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA, December 26, 1900.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Your letter in answer to telegram I sent you on Thanksgiving Day, requesting you to pray at once for our baby John, was received a few days ago.

Our baby, sixteen months old, was wonderfully healed on Friday morning at 3 o'clock.

He had been very, very sick for thirteen days, high fever all the time.

We do not know what the disease was. Sometimes it acted like brain fever, again like typhoid.

He seemed to suffer intense pain all the time. For several days he would scream if we touched him.

It was a real testing time, but God's Grace was sufficient.

On Monday before Thanksgiving we packed our household goods and had them shipped to Berkeley.

Baby John had been growing worse.

Satan fought hard for his life, and it did seem sometimes that he would win the victory.

I said, "Lord, if he dies, I know that it would not be Your fault, but it would be because I had doubts or fears."

On Thursday I sent the telegram to you, and after I had sent it he seemed much worse.

You said in your letter that you prayed at 6:30. It was between 6 and 7 that we felt in our hearts that the victory had been won in Jesus' Name.

Although the baby apparently was growing worse, he screamed until 3 o'clock in the morning, when the fever instantly left him and he went to sleep.

We give God all the glory.

We thank you, dear brother, for prayers for our baby.

Your Sister in Jesus' Name, (MRS.) W. D. TAYLOR.

How the Little White Dove Came to Londonderry.

Mrs. Isabella S. Corkey, of Londonderry, Ireland, in a reply to a request to tell how the teaching of Zion found her in Ireland, says:

A student was crossing in a steamer from England to Ireland.

He received from a fellow traveler a copy of the Rev. John Alex. Dowie's "Reply to Ingersoll's Lecture on Truth."

He took it home to his sister, who was an invalid.

She learned of Divine Healing from it.

She wrote to Chicago for literature, and began to take LEAVES OF HEALING.

She sent a request to the General Overseer for prayer, and was healed.

Her brother studied in the same college with my sons.

He knew my son, John L. Corkey, was in bad health, so he kindly brought to college with him LEAVES OF HEALING for John.

He knew his sister was healed, and thought John might be benefited by it.

I well remember the first evening my son showed me Zion Literature.

I was very much impressed with Mrs. Dowie's beautiful story, "How I Came to Speak for Jesus."

I said, "These people know God. They have found what we have been looking for and longing after."

My son put away all medicine. He sent a request to the General Overseer for prayer and was healed.

But he had not been long at college before his faith grew weak and his health failed.

He told me he knew the reason of this: he was receiving teaching which was the very opposite of the teaching in LEAVES OF HEALING and in the Bible.

He noticed when his faith went down, his health went down.

No one in the college sympathized with him in his new faith.

He and I became members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

We felt that we were strengthened by the prayers of the Church.

We began to tell the good news to others, and the sick were healed in answer to our prayers.

We got some persecution, but it did not discourage us. It only seemed to strengthen our faith.

At the end of the term, my son decided to complete his collegiate course in Zion College, Chicago.

There he is now pursuing his studies in the enjoyment of excellent health, although the physicians—among others Granger Stewart—had told him he would never be well.

After reading Zion Literature, I put away all medicine from the house and prayed for the children when they were sick. The Lord healed them.

They never had better health.

Zion Literature Mission sent us two boxes of Zion Literature, and we felt it a great privilege to carry the Full Gospel teaching of Zion to the people, most of whom received it cordially.

He Sendeth His Word and Healeth Them.

Some time ago we published a letter from Miss Rosa Maralf, in Walperswyl, Switzerland. She was quite ill with consumption. She desired to learn God's Way of Healing. She has been having German LEAVES OF HEALING sent her that she might receive faith through hearing the Word of God.

She wrote the following letter to Miss Schluppi, a student in Zion College:

DEAR COUSIN ROSA:—I received your letter.

I wish to thank you for LEAVES OF HEALING which you have sent me.

I ought to have written you sooner, for I have so much to thank God for.

He has healed me of my affliction and I am perfectly well.

To Him be all the glory and praise!

My friends tell me now that my stay in the mountains helped me to get well; but I know it did not.

I was feeling a great deal worse when I returned home. I had given up all hope of ever getting better. Just then I received your first letter and LEAVES OF HEALING.

After reading it, I at once put away all my medicine.

I gave myself to God, spirit, soul and body.

I trusted fully in Him to heal me.

I began to get better at once.

I cannot find words to express my gratitude to God for what He has done for me.

I am so thankful to you, dear Rosa, for explaining God's Way of Healing so plainly and clearly to me.

I have no one here to encourage me in the least.

My prayer is that I may be a blessing to others, and I want to be a living testimony to God's power to heal.

W. E. Watson, Grahamstown, South Africa, writes:

DEAR SISTER IN CHRIST:—Just a few lines to let you know how I am getting on with LEAVES OF HEALING.

I am distributing them all over the town, going from house to house.

They are received gladly by the poor, who like them very much, especially some of the colored people.

I want to wake up the whole town.

I have also sent it to different parts of the Colony.

I have plenty of time, as I had to give up my position in the shop where I was employed.

They sell medicine, tobacco and swine's flesh.

I told my employer I could not conscienciously sell them. I believe LEAVES OF HEALING is doing much good.

I was out with it today.

I met an old Kaffir man. I asked him if he wanted one.

He asked me if it was in the Kaffir language.

I told him no; in English.

He requested me to read some part of it to him. I did so.

It made my heart glad to see his smiling face beaming with joy at such glorious news.

I talked to him a little and told him about Christ's second coming.

He said he believed it, too.

He took a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING. I think he was going to get some one to read it to him.

I am so thankful for the Free Distribution Fund.

A correspondent in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, writes:

I have again to thank Zion Literature Mission for LEAVES OF HEALING and tracts.

One of our soldier brothers has been taking them into the camp hospital. When he paid another visit he found the men eager for more.

The books had been around the ward.

Some of the poor fellows were going home and were so glad to receive some fresh ones.

As they were going away, they left the LEAVES and small tracts for the men who were coming in to fill up the beds they were leaving.

Some of the soldiers have also been sending the books to other camps.

The news comes back that they are highly pleased with them.

In some quarters there is great indignation because the General Overseer teaches that the Gospel will be preached in hell. This is very alarming news for the Devil.

LEAVES OF HEALING is doing good work.

ANOTHER PARTY OF LACE EXPERTS ADMITTED.

Secretary Gage Decides That Party of Thirty-one Ordered Deported by Board of Special Inquiry at Portland, Maine, are Entitled to Admission.

GOD has given Zion another glorious victory in the admission of another party of Lace Experts from Nottingham, England.

A party of thirty-one arrived at Portland, Maine, by the steamship Tunisian on Tuesday, January 15, 1901.

They were stopped by the immigration inspectors, and a Board of Special Inquiry of the Immigration Bureau decided that they must return to England on the Tunisian, on the ground that they had come in violation of the Alien Contract Labor Law.

Attorney Packard and Deacon Stevenson were sent to Portland by the General Overseer. After making the party comfortable on board the Tunisian, Attorney Packard hurried to Washington, where he brought the case before Secretary of the Treasury Gage.

The result of that appeal is told in the following telegram, received by the General Overseer just as he reached Chicago and read by him, amidst hearty applause, in Zion Home, upon his arrival there:

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 17, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE,
Chicago, Illinois.

Secretary Gage has just decided to admit the entire party of Lace Experts who were ordered deported by the Portland Board of Special Inquiry.

They can therefore start tonight for Zion.

Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

SAMUEL W. PACKARD.

The party, accompanied by Deacon Samuel Stevenson, arrived in Zion, Chicago, at 8:45 Saturday evening, January 19, 1901.

GENERAL OVERSEER'S BOSTON MISSION A SUCCESS.

Thirty-two Baptized; Scores Received Into Fellowship; Evangelist Ordained. Large Attendance at Ordinance of Lord's Supper. Zion in Boston Well Organized.

THE Mission of the General Overseer in Boston, Massachusetts, on Lord's Day, Monday and Tuesday, January 13, 14 and 15, 1901, was greatly blessed of God.

The following telegram received from him on January 16th tells the glad news:

WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS, January 16, 1901.

ZION, Chicago.

I am on my way, with my party.
All well.
Left Boston two o'clock by Michigan Central.
God willing shall arrive Chicago four P. M. tomorrow.
Good mission in Boston.
Baptized thirty-two.
Ordained Deaconess Smith an Evangelist.
Received scores into fellowship.
Over two hundred at Ordinance of Lord's Supper.
Secured hall for meetings.
Some of my meetings overflowed Berkeley Hall.
Zion in Boston now well organized.
I must send them an Elder soon.
Everything orderly at meetings.
Boston press mostly fair and courteous.
And now for Zion and my home in Chicago.
Pray for me.
My love to one and all.
Hallelujah!
Ebenezer.

THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN OPENED.

WILL a man rob God? yet ye rob Me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob Me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse, that there may be meat in Mine house, and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts. And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the Lord of hosts.—Malachi 3:8-12.

Tithing Brings Blessing in Every Relation.

410 NORTH IONIA STREET,
GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN, January 7, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

My Dear Overseer:—It is with much joy that I bear witness to the truth of God's Word in the matter of tithing.

Ever since coming into Zion I have tithed all increase regularly and systematically, my wife being in hearty sympathy with me, as she is in all Zion teaching, praise God!

We have not the slightest doubt but that Zion's treasury is the true and proper successor of "the Storehouse" spoken of in Malachi.

God's blessings upon us as a family attest His approval of our so judging.

Having a definite and sure Storehouse to which we can send "the whole tithe," not using any portion ourselves, is a great comfort and blessing.

Although I preached tithing in the Congregational Church, it did not amount to much, because there was no Storehouse for wise and effective use of the funds. Each considered he was free to spend his tithe where and how he pleased.

We have experienced the following blessings as the result of tithing our income in Zion.

(1.) Our every financial necessity has been provided for according to the promise, "So shall thy barns be filled with plenty."

(2.) Once when in very special need God opened the windows of heaven in answer to prayer, and generously made us have "all sufficiency in everything."

(3.) It has taught us that Scripture commands are to be obeyed, and not argued about; that "to know the doctrine whether it be of God" is to test it by obedience, rather than to prove it by worldly wisdom.

(4.) It has shown us that God is just as true as His promises for physical as for spiritual blessings.

In a word, the God-given system of tithing has been the vehicle by which so many good things have come to us that we cannot afford to neglect it.

When the faithful tithe-payers in our work here have needed employment, time and again God has heard prayer for them and given work quickly, and at good wages, where others could not get work at all.

The children in our Junior Meeting are taught to tithe the little sums they earn. They do it as a privilege, and consider it a path to greater earnings and richer favors of God and man, as we all have proved it to be.

With heartfelt gratitude to our General Overseer for so firmly demanding obedience to God in tithing, a strong proof of his being the Messenger of the Covenant.

In Jesus' Service, Faithfully yours,

JAMES R. ADAMS, Elder-in-Charge,
Grand Rapids Branch of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

More Work and Better Pay; Protection From Sickness.

STRYKER, OHIO, January 12, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—Enclosed you will find $—— tithes, which we thank God we can joyfully send at this time.

We find that it pays to send in tithes just as soon as we get the money, and not put it off. If we do, we are sure to spend it.

I can truthfully say that when we have paid all of our tithes, we have had more work and better pay than when we failed to do our part. I have tested it, and know whereof I speak.

When we have paid our tithes, we have not only had more money, but we have had God's blessing with it, and have also been protected from sickness.

I intend to take out the tithes first this year and pay them promptly.

Please pray for us that we may do our whole duty to God and man, so that there will be nothing lacking. SAMUEL L. MALTBY.

Increase in Salary and a Blessed Joy in Tithing.

LEXINGTON, ILLINOIS, January 6, 1901.

REV. W. HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—In reply to your request for testimonies of blessing for paying tithes, I enclose the following.

For some time before I entered Zion I was convinced that it was right to pay tithes. I resolved to pay mine. I did so for a time, but soon ceased.

There was no Storehouse in the Dunkard Church, of which I was then a member, and as we received little or no encouragement in tithing, it was an easy matter for Satan to persuade me to neglect this duty.

Since coming into Zion I have paid my tithes to God, and He is blessing me much.

This year I have an increase in my salary of $12 per month.

My work is much easier.

I feel that I am working for Him. He has an interest in my work, therefore it must prosper.

I claim the promise in Malachi 3:10, and get it.

However, I think the greatest blessing comes in the joy of paying our honest debts. It gives one rest, peace and security.

It PAYS to pay tithes.

In this service my dear wife joins me most heartily.

May God bless all Zion.

Your Brother in Christ, D. C. OWEN OPPERMAN.

God Supplies Plenty When His Tithes are Paid.

WEBSTER, SOUTH DAKOTA, January 7, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER:—We can truthfully say that tithing is a blessing.

We have paid tithes into Zion's Storehouse for some time.

We did not always do it, because we did not know.

I can say that when we paid we had plenty to eat and wear, and when we have not paid we did not get much.

We thank God for teaching received from LEAVES OF HEALING.

It led us to a better conception of Christianity; one which will stand the scoffing of men.

We have received healing too many times to write of all.

Our children have been healed of many small ailments at different times; one of convulsions when a year old.

We know of God's help at our child's birth, although we did not know how to trust Him fully.

We pray God to bless Zion everywhere.

Your Brother and Sister in Christ, EARL ALLEN,
HILDA ALLEN.

Finances Never Better Than When Paying Tithes.

FINDLAY, OHIO, January 9, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I have been a member of the Christian Catholic Church about six months, although I have paid tithes for about ten years.

There are many things which I have learned about this subject in LEAVES OF HEALING, especially concerning the Storehouse.

I rejoice to know that there is a place where I can send the Lord's money, knowing that it will be rightly applied.

I deem it a high privilege to pay tithes.

I am blessed in every financial relation of my business by so doing.

Never have my finances been better under the same circumstances than now.

God's Word is true in my experience.

May God bless Zion.

Respectfully, B. J. WISE.

Debts Paid and Money Saved When God Receives His Own.

PAW PAW, MICHIGAN, January 5, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—The Lord has greatly blessed us since we began paying tithes into Zion's Storehouse.

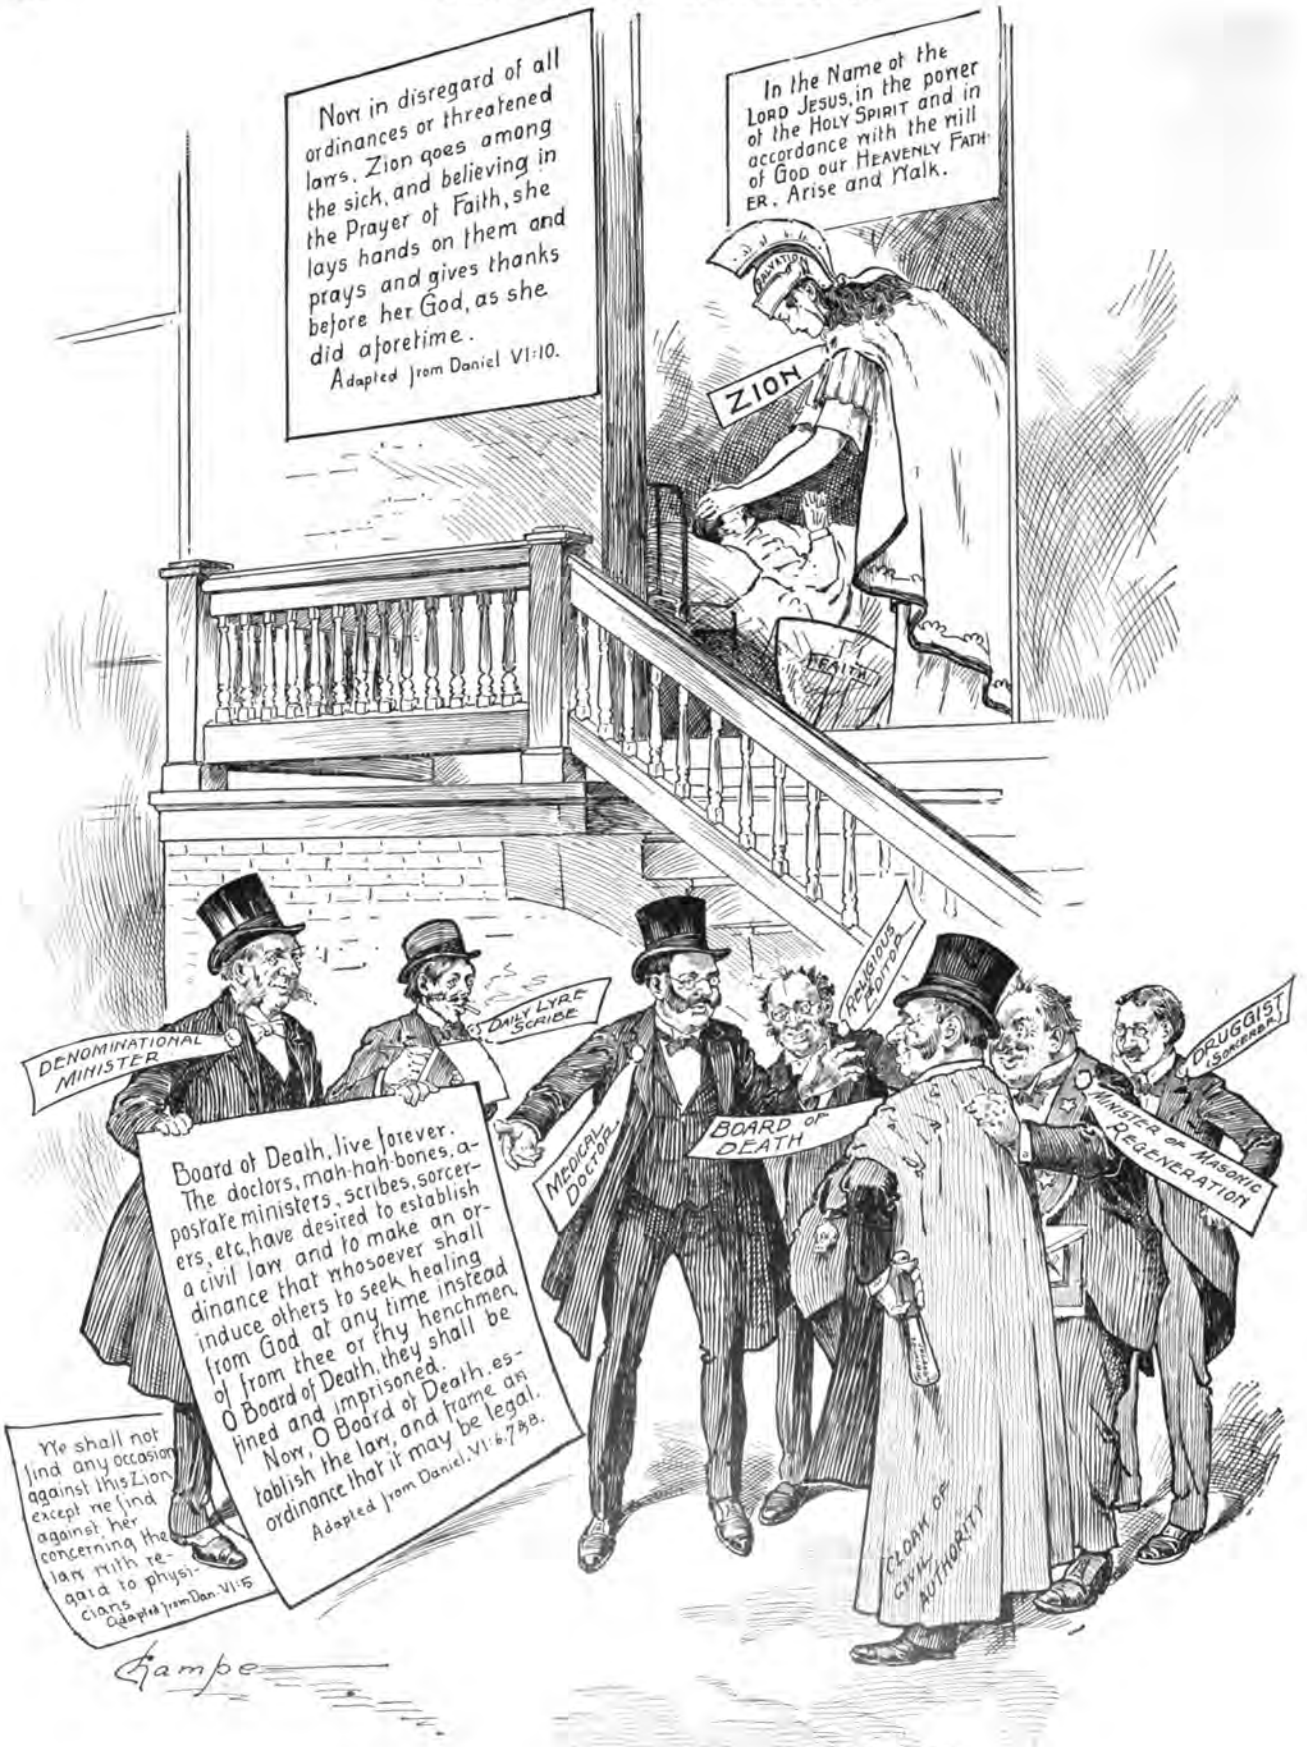
We were in debt and had been unable to get out.

The first year we paid our tithes we were able to get out of debt and had more for ourselves than we had before, for which we praise God.

We were never able to save anything before, but this last year we were able to buy a share in Zion Land and Investment Association.

We received a check this week for the interest on our stock.

As this is the first interest we ever received, we dedicate it to God's service and send it to Zion to use as you think best.



We have received great spiritual blessings since the All-Night Meeting.

May God bless Zion and its faithful officers.

Your Brother and Sister in Christ,

MR. AND MRS. DUSTIN THORPE.

A VOICE TO ZION AND GOD'S PEOPLE IN EVERY LAND.

O thou that tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the High Mountain Lift up thy Voice with strength: Lift it up, be not afraid: Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Isaiah, XL:9.

ZION IN LONDONDERRY, IRELAND.

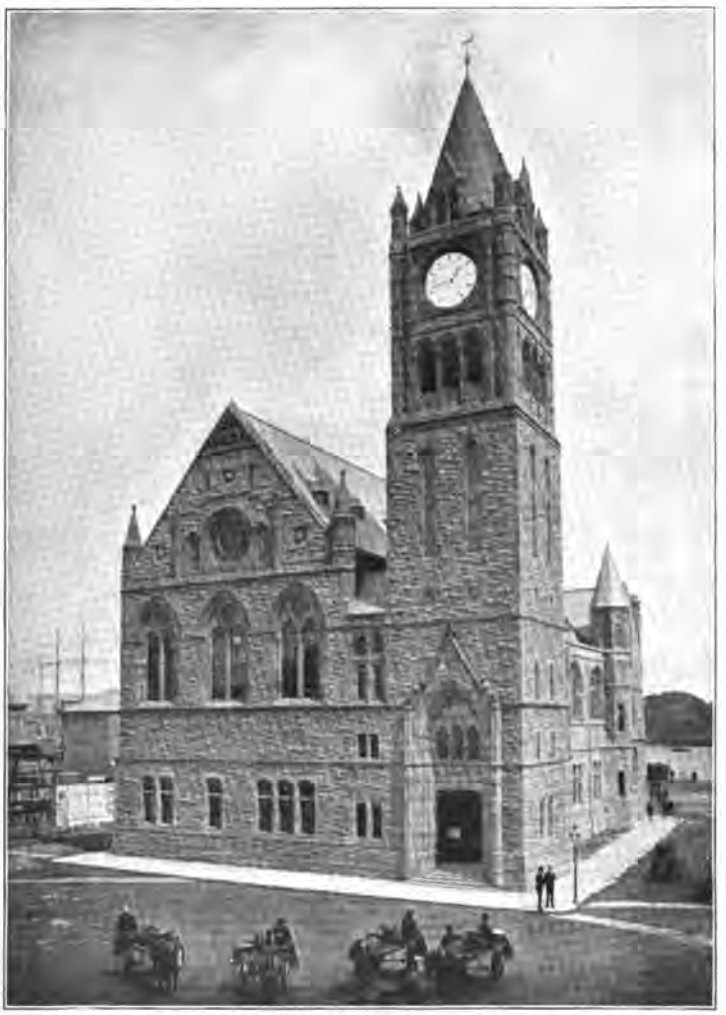
Report of Meetings held in Guildhall, Londonderry, Ireland, Wednesday and Thursday Evenings, November 14 and 15, 1900. Wednesday Evening Address: "The Chains of Good and Evil." Thursday Evening Address: "Sanctification of Spirit, Soul and Body."

*REPORTED BY E. W.

GOD gave great blessing to many in Londonderry, Ireland, through the Mission of the General Overseer there upon the 14th and 15th of November, 1900.

The Message which he there proclaimed, which was so greatly blessed, is now sent out to all the world upon the wings of the Little White Dove. It is a Message of the Everlasting Gospel. It is a Message from God, based upon His inspired Word.

It tells men everywhere that Jesus came to break the fetters of sin and disease and death and Satan and hell; that He came to bring Salvation, Healing and Cleansing to all who will trust Him.



It is a Message declaring the truth of God concerning the triune being of man and God's will that man should become a fit habitation for Himself; His holy temple.

It is a Message which tells that only in God's way can the spirits, souls and bodies of men be freed from defilement of every kind, so that they may become the dwelling-places of God, through His Holy Spirit. What greater blessing could God bestow upon man than that He should dwell within him.

It is a Message from His Word, and we have His promise that it shall accomplish that which He pleases.

We believe that it will.

*The General Overseer has not revised this report.

GUILDHALL, LONDONDERRY, IRELAND.

THE CHAINS OF GOOD AND EVIL.

Guildhall, Londonderry, Ireland, Wednesday Evening, November 14, 1900.

The services were opened by the congregation singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

The General Overseer then read the ninety-first Psalm, and from the tenth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, after which he offered prayer.

After the announcements had been made, the General Overseer delivered the following address.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words shall come, for the sake of Jesus, our Lord, our Strength and our Redeemer. Amen.

In the front of all I have to say tonight I will place two passages of Scripture. The first you will find in the fifth chapter of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah at the twentieth verse:

> Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

Then in the tenth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles at the thirty-eighth verse:

> Jesus of Nazareth, how that God anointed Him with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil; for God was with Him.

The Mission of Jesus Not Finished.

The mission of Jesus Christ, our Master, the Son of God, the One Mediator between God and man, has begun, but it is not finished.

That work still continues.

In the beginning of the Acts of the Apostles the writer says he simply continues the narrative of the works which Jesus began to do and to teach.

He is with His Church in all the ages; and despite "all that seems at strife with blessing, and all with curses rife," we know that He is blessing, and He is alive, and He is with us all the way; for His Word is true: "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the consummation of the age."

The night is not starless;
The dawn is not distant.
God is still God.
And His love will not fail us.

Christ is Eternal, and the Gospel which He preached is the Everlasting Gospel of the Everlasting Kingdom of God.

There are but two great forces in this world which are contending for mastery, and you and I are on one side or the other. You and I are numbered in the one Army or the other. The one is the Army of the Good, who follow the King, eternal, immortal, and invisible, yet truly with us now, Jesus.

That Army has no array of blood-stained banners. That Army can say:

Along our ranks no sabers shine,
No blood-red pennons wave,
Our banners bear one single line:
"Our mission is to save."

But that other army—

Marches to the drum-beat roll,
The deep-mouthed clarion's bray,
And bears upon a crimson scroll:
"Our mission is to slay."

On one side or the other you and I must stand to save or to slay; to kill or to make alive; to bless or to curse; to win the world to God, or to drive it backwards into hell.

Tonight, while my principal point will be to show you the position of disease in the chain of evil, yet it is essential in doing so that one should take a brief review of these two great chains: one of golden blessing which binds us about the feet to good, and gives, too, such glorious liberty in all His wide Universe; the other, of these dark fetters of evil forged by Satan in the fires of hell, which bind men to evil and drag them down into despair.

All Good Comes From God.

But we do not know God except as He has revealed Himself to us.

Without a revelation we could not understand Him. That revelation must come to us in a way adapted to our understanding, not to the understanding of the great wide, sweeping, philosophic mind, but to the understanding of the humblest; to the little child, to the weary toiler, to the sick, to the poor, to the sad, to the worn, and to the aged.

The adaptation of God's revelation must come to us all, and get into us all, if it is to be effective.

Hence in a wondrous way, God sent His Son to reveal to us the Father, to reveal to us Himself, and by the Holy Spirit in every age and time to maintain in our hearts these two great Revelations of a God and Father whose Love is Infinite and boundless for all His children, and of a great Elder Brother who is touched with a feeling of our infirmities and stoops to the lowest to raise them to the highest.

When He sent His Son, the "Eternal Logos," into this world, He became Flesh, and in that Flesh we saw none other than the Creator.

In the beginning was the Word (Logos), and the Word (Logos) was with God, and the Word (Logos) was God. The same was in the beginning with God.

All things came into being by means of Him, and without Him nothing has come into being that has come into being. . . . And the Word (Logos) became Flesh, and dwelt among us.

He told us that He had come to His own world, and to His own people, but His own received Him not.

God forbid that that word should be fulfilled today in us.

"He came into His own possessions, and they that were His own received Him not."

May we receive Him!

As He came, He spoke to us so clearly, in the simple language which made the common people listen to Him, and staggered the philosopher, and revealed to us a great Ocean of Love; where there are shallows in which a child may wade, depths which have never been measured, and mercy which has no limits: for it is a "Mercy that endureth forever," and is as boundless as God Himself.

That love was revealed. With the revelation, the dark shadow of the author of evil comes forth. It is Christ who tells us plainly of the personality of Satan, already revealed in the Book of Job, the oldest book in the Bible, perhaps the oldest in the world.

Satan, the Author of Evil, a Person.

In that book a personal being, called Satan, is presented, who had fallen from highest heights.

When Christ came into the Flesh, Satan strove to destroy Him at the birth. When He entered upon His ministry it was Satan who tempted Him forty days and forty nights in that wilderness, deep down in one of these dark valleys beyond the Jordan, some of which are 1200 feet below the level of the sea.

There for forty days and forty nights, He, the Redeemer, was tempted by the Defiler, who had for 4000 years made humanity miserable, and was now seeking to destroy humanity's Hope.

Jesus came up out of that terrible Temptation, manifested Himself, was proclaimed by John at the Jordan as "the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world," and then plunged into that ministry of only three years in which He demonstrated forever the fact that God had provided Salvation from Sin, Healing for Disease, Life for Death, Heaven for Hell, and that at last had come One who was triumphant over Satan.

While Satan still strides across the world, and the darkness deepens in some of the lands, so that hundreds of millions are sitting in that darkness, yet his power is broken, and his fall is imminent. The coming of the Lord draweth nigh!

I present to you tonight, first, then, the thought: that sin came into this world through Satan, that man fell through doubting, that doubt led into denial, and denial led into that transgression which God said would be followed by death.

Death Came Through Sin.

In the day that thou eatest, dying thou shalt die.

Death was not immediate; for disease entered, and man scarce knew that death had entered when disease came.

It was but a chill wind that swept over Paradise. It was but a sudden revelation of nakedness. It was but a sudden hatred to each other, where love had been. It was but the sudden flashing out of the angel's sword. It was but the Voice of God bidding them to depart, and the fiery sword standing there, telling them they could not get back that way again: then it was death.

As Eve and Adam looked at Cain, their firstborn, with the brand of guilt on his brow, and sought for Abel and found him dead at his brother's hand, then the full misery burst upon humanity, and it has been rolling on in all the ages ever since.

But there has come a Saviour who brings Salvation from sin.

That Salvation which man lost by doubt now comes by penitence, by faith, by obedience, by prayer, by compliance with God's laws.

Salvation is the sweetest sound that ever struck mortal ears; the joyful sound that comes through Jesus: for He purchased it. He paid for it by His blood. He atoned for sin by His death, and He ever liveth to make intercession for sinners with God.

But is that all?

Does the work of Christ end simply in saving our spirits? We know how precious that work is; but is that all?

I have more than a spirit; so have you.

You have a spirit, you have a soul, and you have a body. Your body is but dust, but how wonderfully that dust is built up into a temple which was intended to be a Temple for God.

The Redemption of the Body.

We have a body, and we have a soul—an animal life in common with all other creatures.

But more than soul and body, we have a spirit of which God is the Father. While we rejoice in its Salvation, and while yet that spirit dwells within its mortal clay, we need more than the redemption of our spirits. We need the cleansing of our blood; we need the healing of our body; we need emancipation from disease throughout.

The spirit itself will groan and fall, and, if it were possible, almost perish. But, thank God, it cannot perish; because the Spirit is the offspring of God, and we share the nature of our Father.

If we would be happy, we must have purity of blood; we must have deliverance in the body.

When Christ came, He brought not only Salvation, He brought Healing—that Healing which cannot pass away, for it is God's own Gift.

Oh how precious is this Revelation!

I desire you, very earnestly, to go back with me, and listen to Christ, our Lord, telling us what He came to bring.

It was a day long to be remembered when a young Man arose from His seat in a little village church, called, in those days, a synagogue, away up amid the mountains of Galilee—a young Man regarding whose life there were many strange rumors.

Some said He was the very Christ of God. Some said that Simeon, the prophet, and Anna, the prophetess, had declared Him to be the Saviour when a Baby in the Temple.

Some said that the angels had sung His welcome on the night when He was born in Bethlehem.

He had gone down to Egypt and had been away. They had never seen the Baby of Nazareth until He came back as a bright boy, possibly at the time He went into the Temple at twelve.

Then, as life went on with that family, and James, Joses, Simon, Jude, and three girls were born into the family—seven in all, besides the Lord—and Joseph passed away, that young Man had taken the place in the family as the head of the family.

He had helped Mother Mary take care of little Josie, Jimmy, Jude, Simon and the girls. He had helped to find clothes for them and bring them up, in that little village in Nazareth.

When that work was finished, He had suddenly disappeared.

They heard of Him at the Jordan, baptized by John the Baptist and proclaimed the Messiah.

They heard of mighty works at Capernaum.

Now He comes back to His village where He had been brought up, and quietly sits amid the village throng in the synagogue.

Jesus' Quiet Proclamation of His Mission.

Then at the fitting time, in accordance with the Jewish law—which permitted one at thirty years to speak, if he had anything to say—Jesus, in a quiet manner, left His seat, came up and asked the attendant for the sacred roll. Unrolling it, He came to the place where it was written:

The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me,
Because He anointed Me to preach good tidings to the poor:
He hath sent Me to proclaim release to the captives,
And recovering of sight to the blind,
To set at liberty them that are bruised,
To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

That was the first Divine Healing text: that was the first Divine Healing sermon. But how little they esteemed it is shown by the fact that they tried to kill the Lord.

They said to Him: "You shall not teach Divine Healing here! You shall not reproach us here with being unfaithful."

Then they took Him out to throw Him over the precipice on which their city was built; and, but for the Divine Power within Him, His Mission would have ended with His first sermon.

The thing which Satan hates more than all is the proclamation, not only of the emancipation of the spirit, but of the soul, and of the body.

Satan hates it in every age. But the power of God is just the same today, and Satan's power can never overcome God.

So He went about His Mission. He healed the sick. He saved the sinful. He taught them Repentance and Faith.

He taught them that, having given themselves to their Father in Heaven, if they came to Him in simple faith, there was no disease which He would not heal.

He taught them that the leper should be cleansed, the deaf should hear, the blind should see, the lame should walk. Where He saw fit—in three cases only—He raised the dead. So He established this Gospel as a Gospel of "saving health among all nations."

Divine Healing in Presbyterian Psalms and Methodist Hymns.

He joined Salvation and Healing together; so that we have sung it in old Presbyterian Scotland and Ireland for centuries:

All thine iniquities who doth most graciously forgive,
Who thy diseases all and pains doth heal and thee relieve.

We have sung it in our paraphrase:

As when the Hebrew prophet raised
The brazen serpent high,
The wounded looked and straight were healed,
The people ceased to die.

So from the Saviour on the cross
A healing virtue flows;
Who looks to Him with lively faith
Is saved from all his woes.

Again we have sung it in the hymns which poets have written:

Thou, O Christ, art all I want;
More than all in Thee I find;
Raise the fallen, cheer the faint,
Heal the sick, and lead the blind.

We have sung it over and over again:

Let the healing streams abound.

We have sung it in the beautiful hymn:

At even, ere the sun was set,
The sick, O Lord, around Thee lay;
Oh in what divers pains they met!
Oh with what joy they went away!

Once more 'tis eventide, and we,
Oppressed with various ills, draw near;
What if Thy form we cannot see,
We know, and feel, that Thou art here.

Oh Saviour Christ, our woes dispel;
For some are sick, and some are sad,
And some have never loved Thee well,
And some have lost the love they had.

We sing it in these words:

Thy touch has still its ancient power,
No word from Thee can fruitless fall:
Hear, in this solemn evening hour,
Lord, in Thy mercy, heal us all.

We have been recreant to the truth, but it has been preserved in God's Word, and in Divine song. It is true—true as when one of the last poets, John Greenleaf Whittier, wrote it:

The healing of Christ's seamless dress
Is by our beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again.

The Truth That He is the Healer is Inscribed on Every Page of God's Word.

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

It was given at the waters of Marah when God made the bitter waters sweet and said:

If thou wilt diligently hearken to the Voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in His eyes, and wilt give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have put upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee.

In every page of the Bible the Healer is revealed. God never changes.

Christ only came to reveal to us the Covenants of that unchanging God, and make them real. The Message of the Covenant is today a Message of Salvation and Healing and Holy Living.

It is the same old Message. You cannot separate Salvation and Healing.

Ah! but a false theology, misled by Satan, has said that disease is the will of God, that disease is beneficent, that disease works out good and gracious purposes, and that if you will only take it from God's hand, it will be very good for you.

With that I now deal.

I say tonight that there is not one passage in all Christ's speaking, or of the apostolic teaching, that will bear such an interpretation.

To this end was the Son of God manifested, that He might destroy the works of the Devil.

Peter, the apostle, in the house of Cornelius, the centurion, stated the great Truth when he said:

Jesus of Nazareth, how that God anointed Him with the Holy Ghost, and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil; for God was with Him.

When did Christ ever say, "Your sickness came from God; I cannot take it away without interfering with my Father's work"?

He was glorified, not in our sickness, but in delivering us from our sickness.

He was glorified, not in our sins, but in delivering us from our sins.

He is so glorified still; for there is one thing certain,

Disease Cannot Come From God.

Disease is not in God, and you cannot get out of God what is not in Him.

Disease is not in heaven, and you cannot get it out of heaven.

Disease belongs to Satan; it belongs to sinful, fallen man, diseased and corrupted through sin; but it does not belong to God. God can never will that the Devil should triumph over His work.

If any one should say, "Ah, but God wills that the Devil shall do this."

No. Because if you take that position, you would have to admit that God is in such straits for the management of His Kingdom and His children, that He cannot find angels enough in heaven, or good men enough on earth, but has to use the Devil as an executive officer to keep His own people in good order—a monstrous doctrine!

God never used the Devil, and He cannot use him.

One of the greatest blunders in this matter arises from a most painfully false interpretation of a single passage of Scripture, that passage in the Epistle to the Hebrews which says:

Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth.

I desire to speak kindly to my brethren in the ministry, and to all teachers who are here; for I know there are teachers here.

I want to say to you, "Be careful that you never again, after tonight, repeat that blunder in saying, 'Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth,' means 'Whom the Lord loveth He maketh sick.'"

That word which is translated "chastisement" and "chastening" has one definite meaning, and no other.

The True Meaning of "Whom the Lord Loveth He Chasteneth."

You can search through all the Greek literature, and you will not find any other meaning for the word than that which I am now going to tell you.

It is a very little word which all of you can find even tonight in an English Concordance like Young's. It is the word Paideia, παιδεία, which comes from the little Greek word pais, παῖς, meaning a child.

"Paideia" means, and always has meant, the "training," the "education," the "nourishment," and the "bringing up" of a child.

All of you who have read Greek in schools or in colleges will remember that one of the books you have to read is the "Cyropaideia," the instruction of Cyrus, the training of Cyrus, that wonderful man whom, though he seemed to be a heathen, even God had made a servant of His, and spoke of in the prophecy. Cyrus was trained from his earliest infancy to be strong, to be healthy, to be vigorous, to be pure, to be a warrior, to have a philosophic mind, to be kind, to be loyal, to be good, to be such a one as men could look up to, and look up to as a kind and brave leader.

But the idea of making him sick never once enters into paideia, and cannot enter into it.

That passage, "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth," means, "Whom the Lord loveth He nourisheth, He cherisheth, He traineth, He educateth, He disciplineth, as a wise father does a child, with the view to the bringing up of that child healthy and holy and happy."

It does not mean sickness at all. It never did mean that.

However it came that it has been turned into "Whom the Lord loveth He maketh sick," I cannot understand, because it never meant it, and it never can mean it.

I will say tonight that, as a matter of scholarship, the meaning I have given is absolutely indisputable. No one considering it can honestly dispute it for a moment.

The Terrible Errors Arising From Misinterpretation.

Yet ministers have come and said in their darkness, not intentionally, either, "Your God has made you sick; kiss His hand."

They have kissed the hand of Satan, who is the author of disease, and thought it was God's. In the darkness they have done as Job did—they have blessed God for what the Devil did. They blessed God for the hand which smote them with sore boils, like Job, from the sole of the feet to the crown of the head, every one of which came from the Devil.

"Oh," you say, "it is Divine permission."

Divine permission is one thing and Divine commission is another.

God permits people to sell whisky, and people will get drunk and commit crimes, but God does not commit the crimes.

God never yet wrote a license to sell liquid fire and distilled damnation anywhere upon God's earth! (Applause.)

Man may write it, but God never wrote it.

You can have shops where you can buy nicotine poison, and chew it and smoke it (noises, hisses and shuffling of feet) until you get cancer, until you get amaurosis, until you get paralysis, until you get ulcerations of the stomach and bowels. You can buy for a few dollars a whole catalogue of diseases. You can buy tobacco enough, if you keep on long enough, to make yourself a walking stinkpot! (Noises, groans, hisses.)

The Lord have mercy upon you!

But God never wrote a tobacconist's license! God never told men to sell that filthy poison!

You can get many things which are evil, but God has nothing to do with them!

You can even buy pig, of which God said:

Of their flesh ye shall not eat, and their carcasses ye shall not touch; they are unclean unto you.

(Hisses, noises and interruptions. Cries of "Rot!" "Bosh!)

A Plea for Reverence of God's Word.

That is God's Word. It is not mine. The man or boy who would say that against God's Word has lost reverence for God, and reverence for His Word.

Oh, let that never come to Derry—Derry! which with a Bible in one hand, uplifted in prayer to God, fought so nobly—may God's Word never be despised in Derry. (Applause.)

Never! Boys, never! You are the men of tomorrow.

Treasure your mother's Bible. It was a soft pillow for her head.

Treasure your father's Bible: for it is a richer inheritance than gold, or diamonds, or rubies.

I quote God's Word when I say that God said concerning the swine:

Their flesh ye shall not eat, and their carcasses ye shall not touch; they are unclean unto you.

Our Lord Jesus Christ confirmed that by what He did at Gadara.

I have no fight with any man. I have only a fight with sin. I know from my heart I have no personal antipathies, but I do hate the thing which creates disease. (Noises, shuffling of feet and hisses.)

There is not one of you can go home and turn up your dictionary to the word "scrofula" without getting a terrible lesson. "Scrofula," you will see, comes from scrofa, a breeding sow, and scrofulæ is the Latin diminutive for little pigs. If you take the "breeding sow," you will get "little pigs" everywhere, inside and out. (Groans and hisses.)

Boys! Men and women!

I Have a Right to Plead Tonight for Human Lives.

I have a right to say with God's Word:

Eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

I have a right to say, Drink what is good! As God's minister, I have a right to say, Read what is good, think what is good, and live what is good, and God will make your life full of beauty, and love, and power!

Be the opposite, and you will get disease, and defilement, and damnation, and death, and hell!

Oh God, make us clean, and let none of us fight against purity.

Disease—yes, disease has come to us now more than ever.

Take cancer, for instance. My brothers, my sisters, I have studied this as few men have, for twenty-five years.

My hands have been laid upon the sick until I have prayed more than a million times.

In my last meeting with the sick in Chicago I prayed with 800 persons in my prayer room.

I love to help. I love to see the mother raised from a bed of death and restored to her children, and her husband, and the Church of God.

I love to see the young man, stricken by the darts of disease, get salvation and healing. I am pleading, pleading for God, pleading for human lives, when I am pleading against the things which defile, and I know that in your heart of hearts you know I am.

Then why not be clean?

Why not give up the little thing that defiles?

Why put an enemy into your mouth to steal your brains and life away and defile you?

The Anglo-Saxon Race, If Clean, Will Conquer the Earth.

Let us be clean, and there is no race, there is no nation which will be able to stand before this Anglo-Saxon people.

If we are only clean in spirit, in soul, in body, we will win the empire of the world! (Applause.)

But an unclean people will not do it.

That generation which went up from Egypt to Palestine

sinned, but there arose in the wilderness another generation. It was a royal generation. It had never touched the fleshpots of Egypt. It was a Nation of those whom God had fed with manna every day from heaven. It was a Nation which had drunk the clear, sweet water which burst from the rock. It was a Nation which inspired terror. It swept the heathen out of the the Promised Land.

I long to see Anglo-Saxon domination everywhere. I believe I see the signs of the times in the approximation of America, and England, and Germany, and the Protestant powers of the north. Banded together, they are more than a match for the apostasy of the Greek Church, and for the horrible apostasy of the Roman Church, and for all the power of the Dragon. (Applause.)

But we must be loving, wise, good, pure, strong.

We cannot be that while we defile our bodies.

So God sends us a message of purity: "Abstain from every form of evil." He who gives us Salvation and Healing, gives us life, life, LIFE!

I love the word!

The Story of the General Overseer's Healing.

I was dying. There is no sick person in Derry tonight sicker than I was when I was between sixteen and seventeen years of age. I was dying. I had no hope in man, but I had that Bible. The night that the doctor said I would die, I read:

Bless the Lord, O my soul,
And forget not all His benefits:
Who forgiveth all thine iniquities;
Who healeth all thy diseases.

I said, "It is not true. You have forgiven my iniquities, but You have not healed my diseases."

Just then I heard a Voice—Oh! I thought I must be dying, because I heard a Voice I had never heard before, saying: "You never asked God."

I said, "I did."

Again I heard the Voice, "You never asked God."

I said, "I did."

Again the Voice said, "You never asked God."

I rose up, and I said, "I did, my God. I asked Thee to heal me."

Then I was silent; for I remembered I had not asked God. I had asked God to use drugs which had never done me any good.

"Now, Oh God," I said, "I will ask Thee."

I got down on my knees and prayed, that "like as a father pitieth his children," so the great God would pity me and give me life. Not that I was afraid to die. I have never been afraid of that.

God saved me under the shadow of the Tron Kirk, Edinburgh, when I was a child of seven, and He took fear out of me.

I do not know fear. I do not boast about it, but I cannot be afraid. If tonight a doom which was threatened to me today by a bad man should happen to me—if tonight I should be guillotined—I know my spirit would go to God, and I would not wake up in Derry, but I would wake up in heaven. I am not afraid.

That night, as I prayed to God, I was not afraid of death, but I wanted to live: for—

No man that breathes with human breath,
Whatever crazy sorrow saith,
Has ever really longed for death.

'Tis life, not death, for which we pant;
'Tis life of which our nerves are scant;
More life, fuller, that I want.

Christ has said: "I am come that ye might have life"; and He destroys death: for death is the Devil's work.

"He that hath the power of death is the Devil."

"Death and hell shall be cast into the lake of fire."

God gave me life. He gives me heaven; heaven now, and heaven hereafter.

Oh men of Derry!—Oh young men of Derry!—Oh young women of Derry!—There is a nobler fight to fight than even your fathers fought—the fight which lies before us now to win a world to God.

Oh let the Kingdom of God come within you, that Kingdom which is Righteousness, which is Peace, which is Joy in the Holy Spirit; which will bring you life, which will bring you health, which will bring you peace, which will bring you heaven!

Oh that God in His Infinite Mercy might give us this life, this life, THIS LIFE!

Christ Came to Break Every Link in the Chain of Evil.

The Christ who came to save from Satan's sin, disease and death and hell is here to break every link in that Chain of Evil. He is here to give you that Salvation, and Healing, and Life, and Heaven.

I have no quarrel with those who wish to get life in any other way; I only say they cannot do it.

I only say the better way is God; I only say the best way is God.

If my watch were to be out of order tonight, I would take it to the one who made it, if I could find him. I would not take it to one who does not understand it. And when my body gets out of order I take it to God; that God who that night healed me, raised me and made me strong, so that I have lived thirty-six years since then. I have tried to put a year extra into every year, and have asked God to help me to live double time.

I am older than fifty-three years; for I have toiled and suffered, and fought and won. but done so little compared to what I would do; for often-

Ashes are on my head, and on my lips
Sackcloth, and in my breast a heaviness
And weariness of life, that makes me ready
To say to the dead under us:
"Make room for me!" Only I see the dusk
Of evening twilight coming, and have not Completed half my task; and so at times
The thought of my shortcomings in this life
Falls like a shadow on the life to come.

Then I want to live: to live better, to live holier, to fight the things which keep men from God, and to do the things which bring men to God, and make them to know that they need no other than the God who made us; who can save, and can heal, and can bless us, and can keep us

I thank you all for your kindness tonight.

Every one in this great assembly who desires to be God's wholly, and all who are God's, rise and seek His blessing. (A large number arose.)

Pray with me.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee, beseeching Thee to take this whole people into Thine arms, to love and to bless them with a full Salvation in spirit, and soul, and body, for Jesus' sake.

After the Doxology had been sung, the audience was dismissed by the General Overseer pronouncing the following

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who will also do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

SANCTIFICATION OF SPIRIT, SOUL AND BODY.

Guildhall, Londonderry, Ireland, Thursday Evening, November 15, 1900.

Service was opened by the congregation singing the hymn, "On Christ, the Solid Rock, I Stand."

The General Overseer then read the one hundred and third Psalm, also a part of the fifth chapter of Thessalonians. Prayer was offered, after which the General Overseer delivered the following address.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words shall come, for the sake of Jesus, our Lord, our Strength and our Redeemer.

I desire tonight in this closing meeting to speak to you concerning that subject which to my mind and heart appeals so strongly, that if I would speak to please myself I should deliver this lecture twice a week at least.

I thank God for the blessing of all the knowledge which He has given me while teaching on this question of the tripartite nature of man, and of the sanctification of our spirits and souls and bodies.

I thank Him for the blessing which He has given me, and for the constant inspiration that it is in my own life.

I present to you the words which I have already read in the first epistle to the Thessalonians, the fifth chapter, the twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth verses:

TEXT.

Abstain from every form of evil. And the God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and may your spirit and soul and body be preserved entire, without blame at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who will also do it.

These three verses contain

An Exhortation, a Prayer and a Positive Promise.

I want to explain a little about the prayer, and then I will go back to the exhortation, and then I will take the promise.

The petition of the Apostle is one of the most comprehensive that can possibly be imagined as regards our being.

May your spirit and soul and body be preserved entire, without blame at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

I venture to say that large numbers of otherwise well-taught Christians are exceedingly ignorant upon this question as to the distinction between spirit and soul.

There is a constant confusion of mind on the subject, and the great mass of Christians imagine that the soul is the spirit, and that the spirit is the soul, and when they talk of the soul they think they are talking of the spirit.

These are not only two different words in the Greek, pneuma (πνεῦμα) and psyche (ψυχή), but two words in the Hebrew.

You have ruach for spirit and naphesh for soul in the Hebrew. It does not rest upon my assertion; it rests upon the Word of God and the testimony of the best scholarship known to the Christian Church today. Both agree that these words are entirely distinct in their meaning, and must never be confounded.

The essential difference between the spirit and the soul is, that the soul is the animal life, while the spirit is that Divine nature which is neither human nor animal, but is wholly of God.

In the first place, in the fourth chapter of Hebrews and the twelfth verse, you will read:

For the Word of God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart.

It is only the Word of God which does supply this dividing asunder of soul and spirit. The great schools of learning do not supply it. They constantly confound soul and spirit.

In the universities and learned institutions, when they talk of psychology they speak of it as if it were pneumatology.

Soul and Spirit Distinguished in the Holy Scripture.

The Bible, the Word of God, Christ, sharply distinguished between soul and spirit. The Virgin Mary distinguished between them. The Book of Genesis at the very beginning distinguished between them.

If you will look in the first chapter of Genesis and the twentieth verse, you will see that God created every growing creature in the sea with a living soul.

The word translated "life" in the Hebrew reads "a living soul."

In the thirtieth verse of the first chapter of Genesis, you will see that every bird of the air, and every beast of the forest, and every creeping thing has life, and in the margin you will read, "Hebrew, a living soul."

You will find, therefore, what I say to be a matter of exact scholarship, that every single fish in the sea, every single bird and beast, and every creature in which there is life, has a living soul.

When God made man He gave him a body and a living soul, but He gave him something more.

When God said, "Let us make man," He also said, "Let us make man in our own image." The plural words are used: God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Spirit.

The Eternal Triune God made a Triune man. He not only gave him a soul and a body, but He gave him a spirit; for it is written in the second chapter of Genesis, and the seventh verse, that, "the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground (that is the body), and breathed into his nostrils the breath (ruach) of life (that is the spirit); and man became a living soul (naphesh) (that is the animal life)."

While men and women inherit from their fathers, away back to Adam, and transmit to others a soul and a body in common with beasts and birds and fishes, they have something in them which did not come from their fathers and they cannot transmit to their children: they have a spirit. There is a spirit in man, the breath of the Almighty. The Spirit of the Almighty gives understanding to see that. That spirit comes from God, for He is the Father of spirits.

God the Father of Spirits.

He is not the Father of souls. He is the Maker of souls. He is the Maker of bodies.

He is the Father of our Spirits.

We cannot transmit to our children these spiritual natures which we possess.

They come from God, and they are as Eternal as God Himself.

They are not capable of annihilation, because God is not capable of annihilation, and we share His nature.

When we are the offspring of His Spirit, we have the same nature that God Himself has, and that is Eternal.

You most sharply distinguish between the spirit and the soul. You must remember that the Virgin Mary, when she sang that beautiful song, "My soul doth magnify the Lord," was speaking about every drop of blood in her body, and every part of that body which God had sanctified, so that He might bring forth a Holy Being, and she added: "And my spirit hath rejoiced in God, my Saviour."

Her spirit rejoiced because her soul and her body were the Temple of God.

When Christ spoke of His Spirit and His Soul, He differentiated. He said:

My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death.

The Spirit does not die, but the soul does. The prophet prophesied that He would "pour out His soul unto death"; and He did. He poured out every drop of blood unto death. He gave that life, that soul, for us.

The word which is translated "life" when it is said "The Good Shepherd giveth His life for the sheep," is pysche—"The good shepherd giveth His soul for the sheep."

The prophet said:

When Thou shalt make His soul an offering for sin, He shall see His seed, He shall prolong His days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in His hand.

He gave His soul, He poured out His soul unto death, every drop of the animal life which was in Him. He laid down His body as a sacrifice.

His Spirit never died.

His Spirit descended into Hades. His Spirit triumphed over Death, Hell, Satan, Sin, Disease, and all the powers of evil. He arose triumphant from the grave. His Spirit reanimated that body in which there was not one drop of blood; for He said when He stood upon this earth after His resurrection:

A Spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold Me having.

He animated the body which lay in the tomb.

By the Holy Spirit He was raised from the dead. But there was no drop of blood in that body. The animal life was gone; but the Spirit took possession of His body, and He reascended into heaven. That body has passed into the heavens, and is now transformed and glorified.

We Also Shall Have Glorified Bloodless Bodies.

Like unto His glorious body, we, too, shall have a body in which there will be no blood; for "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God."

There will be no blood in that Land. There will be no need for it. The body which God will give us will be a spiritual body in which the circulation of the blood, the soul, life, will not be needed.

That is the essential distinction: that the Spirit is from God, and He is our Father, and that we inherit from our parents and transmit soul and body, but we do not inherit spirit.

The Spirit which is in each one of us is a deathless spirit.

If our blood were to be shed tonight, and our body entombed as Christ's was, in a bloody grave, the spirit would return to God who gave it.

Never confuse soul and spirit.

That is one thing upon which the infidel capsizes a Christian when he foolishly contends for the immortality of the soul. There is no such thing.

The soul is mortal.

Contend for the immortality of the spirit, and then you are on ground where no infidel can shake you.

If you say that the soul is immortal, the infidel turns up the Bible and says: " 'The soul that sinneth it shall die.' How can a thing be immortal which dies?"

He will completely crush you, because he is right when he says that the soul is not immortal.

Man a Triune Being.

We have three parts. We are made in God's image. We are a tripartite being. We have a spirit, we have a soul, and we have a body.

How beautiful it is to know that we reflect the image of triunity in God.

We are only one; and yet the distinction is so clear, that if tonight by some design or otherwise our hearts were pierced and our blood was shed, our body would be dead, and our spirit would return to God. You would see the three distinct parts there manifested.

The spirit would wing its way to God who gave it; the body would return to the earth because the soul was dead; the blood, the life, was shed.

The Old Testament puts it the same, that the blood is the life, the naphesh, the soul.

You can understand the Scriptures so much better when you get the word soul as animal life, and the word spirit as having the immortal nature which you get from God.

Remembering this, and keeping clear the distinction, the Apostle Paul prays for the Thessalonian Church, and for the Church in all ages, that their spirits and souls and bodies shall be preserved entire. Not a part of the spirit, but

The Whole Spirit, the Whole Soul, the Whole Body is to be Preserved Entire, Without Blame Until Christ Comes.

How is it to be done? There are two ways in which it will be done.

Abstain from every form of evil, is the first thing to consider in the sanctification of the soul and body.

I call upon you tonight, every one of you, patiently to think and earnestly to consider this matter of abstinence from every form of evil. That is the command.

Christians are not at liberty, when they have a Divine command, to do what they like.

When we get an order, we have to obey it.

If we are employed in any house of business, and disobey orders, that simply means discharge. No business could be conducted for a single day profitably and successfully if the employees in that business were to go as they liked and do as they pleased.

Imagine a railway line run upon that principle of "go-as-you-like" and "do-as-you-please."

The firemen would go into the roundhouse in the morning and "fire up" their engines, the boilers having been washed and the fireboxes cleaned out. Then the engineer would come in and take his place. Then every one of these engineers would say: "I have my engine all ready, and I intend to run on my own time-table. I am going to run as I please. I have hitherto obeyed orders. I have run between Londonderry and Belfast. Now I will run where I like."

What would the result be?

I asked an engineer in my large congregation one day when I was talking like this, a man who had been for many years running an engine on an express train. I said, "Mr. Long, what would you do if your fellow-engineers on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway should all take it into their heads that they would run their engines upon their own time, and just as they pleased?"

"What would I do?" he said. "I would take to the first sidetrack, and I would stay there until all these fellows were gone."

"Why?" I asked.

"Why," he said, "because there would be a smash."

The Go-as-You-Please Principle Would Bring Ruin Everywhere.

Of course there would be. If this world is to be run upon a go-as-you-like and do-as-you-please basis, it will go to smash just as sure as there is a God of order in heaven; just as sure as any business would go to smash where every apprentice, and every workman, and every subordinate manager went on his own time-table, and did as he pleased.

There is not a family in existence which does not have to have a head, in order to insure peace and happiness.

I love women; I have a great admiration for all women, and especially for my own wife, who ought to be my companion. She is, and I honor her, and love her. I put her on the platform with me, and love to hear her talk, both privately and publicly. It is a great joy to me. But the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the Head of the Church.

A lady once said to me, "But, Doctor, the wife is the neck, and the neck turns the head."

"Yes," I said, "but it is only when the head is willing."

There must be a head to every family, and every good woman wants her husband to take his place as head, and do his work as the head of the family. If he does not, she is unhappy. If she has married a fellow who is the neck, or, still worse, the tail, it is a wretched business for the family.

There is a Head in this Universe, and God, the Eternal God who gave us these spirits and souls and bodies, says to us, "Abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul."

Abstain! Eat that which is good. Drink that which is good. Think that which is good. Read that which is good. Speak that which is good. Abstain from every form of evil.

That is the command of God.

You say, "Can I not do what I like? Can I not think what I like? Can I not smoke if I like? Can I not chew if I like? Can I not be a disgusting stinkpot if I like? (Noises.) Can I not be a swinepot if I like? Can I not be a beerpot if I like? Can I not be a whisky-bottle if I like? Can I not get drunk if I like? Can I not curse if I like? Can I not swear if I like? Can I not steal if I like? Can I not strike if I like? Can I not murder if I like?"

No, sir!

You cannot, and obey God's Word; because God says that you are to "Abstain from every form of evil." If you are to do the will of God in God's Word, you are to do right.

God Requires Cleanliness in Spirit, Soul and Body.

You are to have a clean spirit, and a clean soul, and a clean body. The man who does not desire a clean soul, and a clean spirit, and a clean body, has not the Holy Spirit in his heart. He has an unclean devil.

May God cast it out of him!

May God take the unclean spirits out of us!

God made this wonderful being of ours a temple, the dome of which is the head, the windows of which are the eyes. The senses are all parts of this temple. They are gates for this wonderful temple by means of which God enters. He enters by what we see. He enters our minds by the rainbow which arches the sky, and in all its glory tells us of His promise.

He enters into our minds by the flowers; he enters into our heart by the sweet innocency of the little babe whose eye kindles as we come in, who has learned to love us before it can talk, and soon holds out its little hands and says, "Papa, papa." The sweet innocence of childhood enters into our hearts. We love to hear the words.

We hear God in the sweet tones of nature when the bird rises up in the field and sings away into the sky beyond our reach of sight, and we hear the faint notes.

We get from God's nature-book wonderful things.

When we read His Word, the light shines into the temple of our bodies, and our souls, and our spirits, and we see God; for "the pure in heart shall see God."

We see God, and God sees us.

Oh, to be clean in heart, to be pure in heart, in soul; to be pure in spirit, to be pure in body!

God and the Devil Contend for the Possession of Our Spirits, Souls and Bodies.

God meant this body to be His temple. He made it to be a habitation for Himself. The Devil was envious, and he got into it. He wants to make it a habitation for himself. The great contest is going on today. We are upon that great fight now, all of us.

We must fight, and fight, and fight, and say No to the evil thing if we would keep the Devil out. We must say Yes to God when He says:

My son, give Me thine heart,
And let thine eyes delight in My ways.

God wishes to come in and drive the Devil out.

My brothers and my sisters, you cannot get this blessing while you hold on to evil. You must abstain. To abstain means to cut away from the thing which is evil. You must stand clear, and strong, and good, and faithful, and do what God tells you in everything.

You cannot do as you like. You cannot walk in darkness. You must walk in the light.

You cannot belong to any society you please. You must belong to God. You must belong to God's Church.

You must fight for the right. You must be sons of light who walk in the light every day, and every night. You must so walk that God and man shall see that you are a son of God. Your light must shine, that others seeing your good works may glorify your Father in Heaven, who has given you that light. Oh, how far it shines!

If it is only a pure, sweet little candle-light—if that is all we can be in the darkness—it will be just as when some weary soul is going over the moors and the fens and is lost in the darkness, and sees a clear little light shining from a distant cottage, and makes for that light. Oh, how they bless you that you kept that light in the window that night; for it was the only thing that kept them from death; the only thing that kept them from ruin. They would have been dead that night but for you.

My brothers and my sisters, we can all be lights: lights in the darkest place, lights amongst the most evil people, if we have the Spirit within us.

That takes me, therefore, to

The Way in Which God Will Sanctify Spirit, Soul and Body.

How is it to be done?

"This thing cannot be done," many men would say.

I often think of that Indian chief in America who when the missionary told him what he must be to be a Christian, said, "It cannot be done," and in great agitation he walked up and down his tent. He said, "Missionary, you have come to me with an impossible proposition; I cannot live that life; I want to be a Christian, but I cannot live it."

The good missionary said, "I believe you can."

"I cannot," he said. "I love you; I think you are so kind; but away with you. Go away and leave me to my heathen ways; I cannot live that life."

"No," said the missionary. "I will not go away; for think, oh chief, how it could be done."

The chief walked up and down, and in a minute he turned and said: "I see. If the Great Spirit would give me a new heart, it could be done."

"That is just what He will do," said the missionary. "That is what God has promised. He said that we were to pray, 'Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.' Kneel down, oh chief, and tell the Great Spirit that you want a new heart."

"I will," he said.

They knelt down and prayed. Presently the missionary and the chief stood up, and the chief said, "Missionary, it can be done. The Great Spirit has given me a new heart. I shall live that good life, or I shall die for it."

It can only be done that way.

Faithful is He that calleth you, who will also do it.

It is the Holy Spirit who calls us as He called the prodigal, who had gone away out into the far country, who had spent his substance in riotous living; who, when he had spent all, found, as every prodigal will find, famine in that land. The poor prodigal was obliged to go to his enemy to ask help.

His enemy sent him into the fields to feed swine—swine!

And he would fain have been filled with the husks that swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

Christ could think of nothing more detestable than that a child of God should be a swine-feeder, hence he said that about the prodigal.

Oh, my brothers, do not let the enemy make such a poor miserable use of us as to send us into the field to feed swine; there is something better than that. We can do a thousand things better than that.

Oh God, keep us from that.

The Spirit Sends Us to the Father.

But there came to that suffering boy the Spirit; it was a new heart which whispered to him, "Arise, and go to your father, and ask him for what you want."

He said, "I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father!"

Oh, the great God in heaven would stop the chariot of the stars if you cried Father. He would stoop down to hear you.

He said, "I will say, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son."

Then he started for his father. When he started he received a new Spirit. He was willing to take the lowest place.

He expected to say, "Make me as one of thy hired servants."

This was the young prodigal who said, "Give me the portion of thy substance that falleth to me. Father, let me go and spend it as I like."

He has come back. He has a new heart. Now he is willing to take the lowest place. Because he is willing, the father will not give him that place; for there are no slaves in God's house; they are all sons.

The best robe is brought forth. The ring is put on his finger, and he is cleansed—made sweet and clean. They begin to see traces in his face of the old-time boy who was the youngest son of his father, and was much loved. They are so happy that he that was dead is alive again; that he that was lost is found. They begin to be merry, and the Pharisee who grumbles cannot stop their merriment; for in heaven there is joy over the son who repented.

May God give joy, and may there be joy in heaven.

The Spirit enters in: He who calls you from sin, and from the enemy's country, and from the swine-trough, and from the paths of iniquity. He will give you a new heart. Then that Spirit who comes in will take possession.

The Holy Spirit, if you will let Him, will take possession of spirit, soul and body, and the words of your mouth, and everything that you do.

That is how it will be done. It can only be done in that way.

Ask God to let it be done in His own way, that way in which He is willing to do it now. I know no other way.

I have no new Gospel to preach. What I preach is "the old-time religion, that tells us that Jesus saves us; that Jesus heals us; that Jesus cleanses us; that Jesus keeps us; that Jesus guides us, and that Jesus takes us safe to heaven."

It is the best religion. The Twentieth Century cannot give me a better religion than the First Century religion.

Oh God, give us back "the old-time religion"!

Give us back the old-time preaching, the old-time love which we have lost so much.

Oh take away the hater, and take away the evil, and take away the sin, and take away the shame, and take away the temptation.

Lord Jesus, Come!
Again this earth by sin oppressed.
By demons from beneath possessed,
Some dark and foul as hell and night,
And some transformed like sons of light,
Usurp Thy throne within the heart;
And bid men choose the evil part.
Lord Jesus, Come!

Lord Jesus, Come!
Thy BRIDE, the Church, with longing eyes
Looks through the gloom to yon bright skies,
Where radiant shines her home above,
And thus she chants her prayer of love:
"Sweet BRIDEGROOM, come! 'tis midnight hour,
And virgin souls await Thy power."
Lord Jesus, Come!

Lord Jesus, Come!
Thine answer sweet our spirits hear,
It soothes our grief, we cannot fear.
It came to him on Patmos Isle,
Who loved and lived on earth awhile;
It comes to us—"I QUICKLY COME."
Yea, "Even so, Lord Jesus, Come!"
Lord Jesus, Come!

When Jesus Comes There Will be an End to Evil.

He will put down all rule, all authority and power, and will reign and rule in every heart. The kingdoms of this world shall no longer be at strife and at war, for they shall "become the Kingdom of our God, and of His Christ."

God, hasten the time. Hasten the time when spirits redeemed, and the souls that Thou has purified, and the bodies that Thou hast made Thy temple shall go forth in millions to tell others that there is a God of purity who can make the vilest sinner clean, and is willing to make you and me pure in spirit, and in soul, and in body.

That is all my Message. I have no other.

But I demand, as God's Messenger, that you shall seek Him, and Him alone, and do what He tells you, and no other.

May God bless you.
My voice is only a feeble one.

My life's a shade;
My days apace to death decline;
My Lord is life;
He'll raise this dust again, even mine.
Sweet truth to me, I shall arise,
And see my Saviour with these eyes.

Shall I see you there on the right hand of God, or shall there be any who will stand on the left side and be cursed, sent away because they would not yield?

Oh shame beyond the bitterest thought
That evil spirit ever dreamed,
That you should know what Jesus wrought,
And feel your haughty hearts untamed;

that you should know that He died for you, poured out every drop of His blood, and wore that Crown of Thorns for you; and yet you deny Him your heart, and will not let Him in.

Let Him in. The human heart ne'er entertained a mightier guest. Let Him in, and your home will be happy, and your business will be brighter, and your life will be one long sweet song, and you will carry the music of His peace—

Through duty lane, through wrangling mart.

Let Him in, and you will ply your daily task with busier feet, because your soul and spirit and your very body will be repeating God's sacred song of everlasting peace.

Let the Spirit take possession. Let the golden circle fill all the circle of your being, and all the circle of your life. You will be a blessing while you live. You will never die, and in heaven you will meet those for whom you have given your life, for whom you have poured out your life, for whom you have given yourselves.

Never spare yourselves. The man who loses his life will save it. The man who saves his life will lose it.

Pour out your lives. Give them to God. Give them to humanity, and let the Spirit of God flow through your spirit, and your soul, and your body, for Jesus' sake.

All who desire to be God's in every part of their being, stand and tell Him so. (The greater part of the audience arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, we thank Thee for this great multitude who stand. Oh, that they might be Thine own in spirit, in soul, in body, and live the life that makes earth happy and heaven sure, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

After the Doxology had been sung, the service was closed by the General Overseer pronouncing the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you, keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

Read The Coming City.

For all matters pertaining to the founding and building of Zion City, there is no source of information, complete and reliable, but THE COMING CITY. The story of Zion City is being and will be told in its pages, both by descriptive articles and by engravings from photographs. The paper also contains much other interesting matter, such as science notes, household suggestions, special articles on matters of interest to Zion people, and the news of the day.

The paper also contains four pages of advertisements, carefully selected, most of the advertisers being Zion people. It is important that every member of Zion should get THE COMING CITY, not only for the valuable information which it will contain, but for these advertisements. By reading them they will learn who are the Zion business men and thus be able to coöperate with each other.

Zion people should be glad to go a little out of their way to trade at a Zion shop. Zion money is thus kept in Zion instead of going to fill the coffers of the world's people, and each feels the influence of the increase in general prosperity.

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, January 5, 1901, was conducted by Overseer Speicher.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be ten in number, as follows:

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

China and Ireland.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

DEACONESS M. E. IRISH, 57 West State Street, Hammond, Indiana, said: "This is the first Saturday evening I have ever been permitted to be with you. It gives me great joy and pleasure to testify to His wonderful goodness.

"I have been blessed and kept since I have been in Zion. I was a Baptist Church member for a good many years, but I never knew what it was to enjoy the blessings of the Lord until I came into Zion. God has wonderfully blessed me and answered my prayers. I praise Him for it."

Overseer Speicher—How about your husband, Judge Irish?

Deaconess Irish—"He has had a wonderful blessing."

Overseer Speicher—Was he a Christian before he heard of Zion?

Deaconess Irish—"No, not until after he had heard Zion teaching. Elder Dinius came and talked with him, the first time he ever allowed any Christian minister to talk with him. He surrendered himself fully to the Lord. He is a true Christian now."

ELDER GERALD F. STEVENS, 107 South Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God first of all for Jesus Christ and for sending Him to die for the world of sinners. He found me when I was a sinner and brought me back to Him. Next to Jesus Christ, I thank God for our General Overseer.

"When my wife was healed of consumption through her own prayers, I came into the light concerning the second coming of Jesus Christ. I saw by prophecy that the Messenger of the Covenant must needs come before the King. I went to hear all the noted men of the age, but I found they all lacked in a good many ways. I then found LEAVES OF HEALING. I read the sermons of the General Overseer, and believed he was the Messenger of the Covenant. When I went to hear him preach, the impression which I received through LEAVES OF HEALING was confirmed.

"God has blessed me in spirit, soul and body. He has blessed our ministry in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. I desire to be used in the extension of His Kingdom and have courage to fight for the poor, sick and suffering humanity."

DEACON HERMAN G. PETERSON, 6412 Sangamon Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God for what Zion has done for me. I am so glad to say that God healed me five years ago next spring. The half of my body was dead. God raised me up through Overseer Speicher's prayers. I have been kept, thank God, ever since.

"I do thank God with all my heart for the love He has for us. We give God all the glory, and thank Him for the General Overseer, who has given us the Word so plainly."

B. F. MORRIS, 1300 Michigan Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I was converted and delivered from tobacco, liquor, profanity and other bad habits, before I knew of Zion. Immediately after, LEAVES OF HEALING came into our home and we accepted the teaching. I came to Zion with some friends who received great blessing, spiritually and physically. I did as some say, 'Swallowed the Doctor whole,' without any objection. I believed at that time, which was nearly five years ago, that the General Overseer was Elijah of whom Moses wrote. It gives me much joy to hear it proclaimed boldly before the world.

"Since I have been in Zion, I have received great blessing, physically and spiritually. The first blessing I received was healing of indigestion. Many times I wished that I could cease to exist. However, I was not ready to die. After I was saved, I prayed very earnestly for healing, but did not receive it for some time. Then the thought came to my mind, 'Why are you continually asking God for this? If you were asking a friend for a favor, you would take him at his word.' So I left it with God and forgot it, and that was the end of it.

"The focal lengths of my eyes were different; consequently, the muscles were overtaxed in correcting the difference, so I had to wear glasses. My conscience began to condemn me for wearing the glasses, therefore I laid them aside. Now my eyes are much better than the average, and are equal.

"Zion is a great blessing to me."

MISS EDITH KENNEDY, Zion Home, said: "I praise God for the blessings I have received since I came to Zion. Before I heard of the General Overseer or Zion, I felt quite sure the churches were continually compromising with the Devil. I was not receiving any blessing from them.

"As I read LEAVES OF HEALING, I saw that Zion was what I was looking for. I accepted the teaching immediately. The first LEAVES OF HEALING I received was sent to me from China, by my brother, and for that reason I am especially thankful for the work of Zion Free Literature Mission. Deaconess Hill sent papers to China before the Literature Mission was started, and I believe that most of the missionaries who have been brought from China to Zion have been brought through her work. I believe that Zion Free Literature Mission is one of the greatest works Zion is doing."

MRS. B. A. GROVE, Bascom, Ohio, said: "One year ago my child took sick and died of a disease the doctors called cholera-infantum. In my grief and despair I felt that it was not God's way. I took it to the Lord in prayer to know if it were God's will. In answer to that prayer, LEAVES OF HEALING was brought to me through a lady in our village who had been wonderfully healed just before. As soon as I got the paper, I saw that it taught God's Way. It seemed that nothing could change me, although I had much persecution. I came to Chicago to investigate the matter more fully. I found that it was all and more than it was recommended. I went home fully determined to do my duty, regardless of persecution.

"As my husband was engaged in the tobacco and drug business, along with his other business, it was not very pleasant for me to follow this teaching and tolerate that kind of work. I have determined to be faithful to God, and for this reason I have returned to Chicago to learn more of this teaching, that I may be capable of accomplishing more for Christ. I regret that I did not know this blessed way long before.

"I was healed in answer to the General Overseer's prayers in July, when I was here. I honor and respect him next to my God, for showing me this light."

ZION COLLEGE LECTURES ON PRAYER.

A Series Delivered Before the Students of Zion College by the President, Rev. John Alexander Dowie, General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

THE world today has learned that there is something far beyond the ordinary in the words and works of God's Messenger to Zion, John Alexander Dowie.

As this realization comes to the public, the first question always is, "How does he do it? What is the secret of his power?"

Those who know the General Overseer and have heard and heeded his teaching know that the power belongs to God. But the General Overseer is wonderfully used by God, as an instrument, on account of his mighty power in Prayer, taught him by the Holy Spirit.

Hence it was with the greatest joy that the students of Zion College received the announcement that the General Overseer would deliver a Series of Lectures on the subject of Prayer. It was an inestimable privilege to learn how to pray from a man whose whole life had become a mighty power for God through Prayer. But joyful as the anticipation was, it was more than justified by the realization.

Many members of the Christian Catholic Church also attended these Lectures and were amazed, from week to week, by the great depth and scope of the subject as it was opened up by the man of God.

Since the delivery of these Lectures there has been a loud appeal, from many sides, to have them published.

The General Overseer was reluctant, as he felt that in the great pressure of his other duties he had not been able to give the Lectures as he might have done with more time at his disposal. He also felt that he should revise them before their publication, and this he could not find time to do.

At length, however, the appeal for them being urged, he consented that they should be sent forth, without his revision, during his absence in Europe and the Holy Land.

Accordingly this wonderful teaching will be printed, almost as it came from his lips, from time to time, in LEAVES OF HEALING. In preparing these Lectures for the press, we have eliminated some allusions to topics of the time and place and have written in some headlines. We have also cut out opening and closing exercises and arranged the matter consecutively without regard to number and date of Lectures.

We pray that God will bless these wonderful truths to all who read in even greater measure than He did to those who heard.

A. W. N.

DIABOLICAL MISAPPLICATION OF DIVINE COMMANDS.

The thought which I left with you in my last Lecture was that there is no future with God; that "That which is hath been already; and that which is to be hath already been"; and that God forever requires in the present an account of the past.

The race to which we belong has in it today all the good and all the evil that has ever been in the history of that race. All the blessings which are to come exist now, and we get just such measure of them as our faith, the faith of God, enables us to appropriate and to assimilate and to use.

Appropriate, Assimilate, Employ.

I would like you to get the thought in these three words which I have just used. We get all that God has for us just so far as, through the faith of God, we first appropriate, second assimilate, and third employ.

We get nothing, even through faith in God—or, as I prefer to put it, through the faith of God—unless through that faith we appropriate. The appropriation even by faith would be ineffectual, if we did not assimilate. Assimilation would be a useless thing, if we did not use what we assimilated.

We can best illustrate these three ideas by referring to food.

Food is set before you. It is prepared by loving hands. You have faith; the faith of love in the loving one who places before you the food. Her hands have prepared it. She has had great delight in preparing it.

Your faith appropriates food. You eat it, but if you have not digestive power, you cannot assimilate it. The food itself, therefore, would only be a burden to you; and if you had not the assimilating power, you would fail.

You would wish to vomit and get rid of it. You would not willingly undergo the ordeal and torture of its remaining in your stomach unassimilated.

If you have the digestive and assimilating power, you not only eat the food with pleasure, but you assimilate that which you have eaten. It begins, immediately after being digested, to find its way into nourishment for your brain, nerve and muscle.

It makes the eye which was asleep flash with new life. The optic nerve as well as the brain generally has received a fresh stimulus. The feet walk quickly. The arm is stretched out, wanting something to do.

When you have assimilated the food, you have made a great gain; but if you appropriated and assimilated the food and did not use the strength which God gave through the appropriation and the assimilation; if you did not employ it; if you were a mere glutton and simply went on waiting for the next meal, that you might gobble again and assimilate again, then the food would be ineffectual; that appropriating and assimilating power would go, and the glutton would starve to death.

Truth Must be Appropriated, Assimilated and Employed.

Realize this truth in connection with the Word of God. Realize it in connection with all teaching. It is not enough that you have teaching, but you must appropriate that teaching. You must make it a part of yourself. You must assimilate it and enjoy what it imparts of strength and of power.

Your mental assimilation must not be one-sided. When we eat and digest food, we need the assimilation to take place in such a way that both sides, not one only, will be nourished. You must therefore ask God that in this teaching you shall have not only assimilation in part, but be so fed of Divine knowledge that it can be, as it were, diffused to every part.

This is what the great mass of the people do not understand. They become specialists, as they call it. To a certain extent there is room for specialists. That is to say, if you have musical talent, it is well to develop that.

It is well to develop the talent which you have, but if you throw all your strength into the development of any particular faculty or talent, you do that at the expense of the all-roundness which is essential to completeness in your life. The result will be the mere development of one part at the expense of the rest, just as if a man were to continually work with one arm, and develop that arm to such an extent that its muscles were gigantic, powerful, and he could do almost anything with that arm; but failing to develop the other muscles, they would finally become so weak as to fail to sustain the action of the strong.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Specializing Has Its Limits.

There is nothing more disastrous to a spiritual teacher than being a specialist of such a nature that he can see nothing except the one thing which he likes to see. He cannot view even that in its proportions. He pictures a monstrosity.

I desire that in Zion the students and the officers of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion shall rather be sympathetic and helpful. I would like to see them develop capacities which will make them helpful in many ways, and give them powers of adaptation to men and women and children, rich, poor, educated, ignorant, strong, weak, thoughtful, thoughtless, patient, impatient, true, false, mean, liberal; the opposites, so that you shall enter into such a sympathy with humanity that you will meet it on all sides, and that you will help on all sides.

I say these things by way of introduction, because it is a thought I should very much like you to understand and to reach out for.

Going back to the historic line of teaching, let me remind you that the main line of the teaching in these Lectures on Prayer is to show you by tracing the historic past, and especially the early ages of the existence of this race upon this earth, the way in which it became necessary for men to pray; to show you how the regrettable necessity for Prayer is imposed upon man. I am pointing out to you that man has to be supplicant continually to God for deliverance from evils which, through the primitive transgression of our first parents, and their descendants, come to be great burdens. We are inheriting the wicked and terrible consequences found in that ninth chapter of Genesis.

The Terrible Effect of Noah's Curse Upon Ham.

It is very real. What is the fact concerning the descendants of Cain and Ham?

When Noah awoke out of his shameful stupor and nakedness and drunkenness, he found that his son Ham had made sport of him in his debauchery. With the anger of a brute beast, and not with the tender love of a kind and wise parent, Noah arose and cursed his son.

That curse has followed the race of Ham.

The black races of this earth have reaped long centuries of misery, of tears, of blood, as the result of that curse. There never was a time when they were reaping the consequences more than they are in this century.

The horror of the oppression of the inferior races of the earth by the superior, and especially the horror following the wickedness of the race of Shem and Japheth in carrying out the curse of Noah, is one of the reasons why the groaning of the nations is being heard by God. Blood will yet have to flow before the matter is settled.

Racial hatreds are not ancient history. They are modern history. The conflict is not merely between the white and the black. The oppression by the races of Shem and Japheth of that of Ham has developed into a conflict between Shem and Japheth. Those who oppress the black man are today tearing at each other's throats, and the end is not yet.

Every apostasy of Japheth and the heathenism of the race of Ham are in conflict and will be in conflict with the race of Shem.

I point this out for a moment as something to think about, that we ought to pray that God will reveal to all mankind the universal provision which He has made in Christ, who tasted death for every man. Of all these three great divisions of the human race we, most of all, ought to pray on account of this regrettable necessity imposed upon us, because of the curse of that drunken prophet. That man was faithful amidst a faithless world, but he fell and dragged down his house more in his fall than did Sampson, whose eyes were put out by the Philistine powers.

The Awful Destructiveness of Alcohol.

Alcohol made Noah a drunkard. He made out of the sweetest and most beautiful, I think, of all the fruits, the most damning of all the poisons, that which destroys everything.

If it destroyed only life like the swift poison of an adder's bite, it would be innocent, compared to the destructiveness which it has. It destroys not merely the animal life and the body, but it defiles the spiritual being and makes the man to seek strange women. Wine and damning lust have ever gone hand in hand, and have ever dug the graves of empires.

I desire to go back a little further in the story and talk with you for a short time of some of the facts connected with the first part of this important ninth chapter of Genesis.

I call your attention to the fact that the command which God gave to Noah, after He came down to earth, was:

Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

In all things God demands increase. The Parable of the Talents in the Christian Dispensation, by Christ Himself, is the teaching of God in all ages.

God gives seed that it may grow and multiply and increase the productiveness of the earth; so that large numbers of inhabitants shall be constantly upon it, and that they shall be happy, nourished, healthy and divinely blessed.

Get this thought as applying to spirit and soul and body, but as covered always with the thought of purity.

There is a Multiplication Which is Devilish.

There is an increase which is infernal.

One man in New York even this week has made $1,700,000, it is alleged, by a cruel trick. The man has lived in this city for some time and is well known here. I think his residence is in Chicago. He has been manipulating the stock of a certain trust over which he had control, in a diabolical way.

That is what I mean by diabolical multiplication. He conceived the plan of multiplying his wealth in an illegal and improper manner as regards Divine Law, but within human law.

What did he do?

Being the President of this trust, he was able to spread abroad the idea that there had been an over-production in this particular manufacture. In consequence, he alleged, it was necessary to close a great many factories so that production should cease. Time should be given, he said, for the sale of the product which was already in their hands, so that there should not be a glutting of the market. That was the pretense.

Under that pretense, which, it is alleged, was wholly false, he closed a number of factories until further notice, throwing all the people working in them out of employment.

That immediately caused a drop, as they call it, in the value of stock of this trust. It went down in the market. He bought it. He bought the stock which he himself had depreciated by his trick.

Today that man is afraid to face his colleagues in the trust.

He bought up the stock when it had gone down in the market. Now it has risen again, and he has pocketed $1,700,000.

That man is a thief. Human law may have no means of reaching him. If I had the making of the laws, I would make one that would reach him in short order. When Zion rules on this earth, we shall reach such a man. Meanwhile he will probably go undealt with by justice.

But he has been fruitful in the use of his talent. He has multiplied. He has replenished his own coffers. He has done it in a devilish way.

You must beware. All multiplication is not Divine.

Children are born into this world who are the offspring of damning lust and in no fulfilment of this command. Brought into this world as the result of evil passions, they are hellish in their nature.

Thousands, tens, hundreds of thousands of people are born into this world like incarnate devils, wicked almost from the hour of their birth.

I desire to warn you against a misapplication of this command of God. This command of God is always within the lines of Divine purity. Some make this command the excuse for promiscuous, damning, hell-satisfying procreation. Such has been the case in these horrible organizations which have cursed, and do still curse, this land, such as the Mormon Church, such as these various communities which have come into existence to be a curse to America, from the Oneida Community down.

The Devil Often Misapplies a Divine Command.

You must watch and see that there is no misapplication of this command; for the Devil can quote a Divine command and cause people to obey as if they were obeying God, when they are simply obeying the Devil. The Church is responsible for this, because the Church itself enforces commands which are the commands of the Devil.

The apostate churches of Greece and Rome have done this to a terrible extent. The apostate denominations are doing it today. They are letting loose the awful gates of abominations. They have done so already, secretly violating all the principles of purity in many denominations by lowering the standard of marriage and of divorce.

They have done so by lowering the standard of Christian life and permitting fellowship with the world in theaters, in dancing and in the diabolical association of musical entertainments which are born for the very purpose of dragging people down into damning lust.

The opera, for instance, is nothing else than putting into music a mass of abominable immorality and shameful wickedness. Hence you must watch and pray. One of the great reasons why we have to pray, as well as watch, is that we shall not enter into temptation, which a misapplication of even a Divine command will oftentimes create.

For instance, there is no command which is more Divine than the command "Be patient." I wish you would all be patient.

Oh my brothers and sisters, be patient. Be patient.

To those who can earnestly work and patiently wait all good things come.

But there is a misapplication of that command.

The Church has given it the wrong meaning. It has stood beside the bedsides of the sick and said, "Be patient. This cancer, this fever, this horrible disease is the will of your God. Be patient. Take it as from His hand. He sends sickness, and He sends death. Be patient." So the Church has taught its people to be patient with the Devil's own work.

I mention this because I wish you to be careful, watchful upon this matter.

The misapplication of this Divine command is the cause today of almost countless miseries. A sexual impurity has to be faced in connection with the work of God continually. Just as in business the increase can be lawfully or unlawfully acquired, so it is in the matter of other increase.

I have pointed out to you an illustration taken from history of today in the man who stole a million and three-quarters by the manipulation of the stocks this week

I could tell you another story of a fair and honorable increase with which we have had something to do ourselves. That is the purchase, skillfully and carefully, of that land north of the city. That land is now worth at least twice as much as when we bought it, because we have made a compact city site out of a great many disunited pieces of property which, separately, were only valuable as dairy farms. The mere change of the map from disunited farms into one united and suitable site has increased the value of it legitimately by just as much again.

An Honorable Increase.

I therefore say that we made that million dollars honorably.

If we shall establish a Lace Industry there which will give us an honorable profit of millions a year, by and by, for Zion, that will be good and honorable. But if we were to establish an industry and manipulate the stock in such a way as to rob other stockholders and simply enrich ourselves, the increase would be simply diabolical.

The whole question of increase, therefore, must be watched carefully. We must beware that the misapplication of that principle shall not take place in ourselves or in Zion.

We have met at the outset again the necessity for watching and praying lest we should enter into temptation through a misapplication of a Divine principle.

The longer you live, the more you will understand the significance of these remarks.

The next thing which I desire to introduce in this teaching is between the seventh and the seventeenth verses: the establishment of a certain Covenant.

In the new conditions which obtained upon the earth after the fall, we find the necessity for new relations to exist between God and man; between man and the lower creation.

God had already put Noah at the head of creation. The fear of him, the dread of him was to be upon every beast, fowl of the air and fish of the sea. Into his hand and into the hands of men were they delivered.

We must therefore remember that we are to realize our lordship over inferior creatures. These inferior creatures are not to be looked upon or considered as claiming from us the same attention and consideration as human beings. For instance, horses, dogs, cats, cows and pigs are to be dealt with according to their proper relation; as inferiors.

As a matter of fact, it is true that the great mass of men are dominated by their property. They are not merely dominated by their live stock, but they are dominated by the dead, dull, cold earth. They are earth hungry.

Of all the horrible things that can ever happen to a man, the most horrible is when he shall become an earth-worm and gobble up earth, earth, earth, until the worm destroys itself; bursts itself feeding upon earth, and dies.

The only good thing about it is that it makes good earth—a good fertilizer. That is about the only good thing some men ever are to the earth—they make good fertilizers when they are buried.

It is a horrible thing for a living man to become a mere earth-eater.

Men and Women Who Bow Down to Beasts.

It is a horrible thing to see women in ecstacies over their brute pets. They pay them attentions and have them cared for with a degree of consideration which they would not give to their babies. Such women leave their own babies to servants to be brought up according to the ideas of the servant. They care more about the feeding and fondling of a pug dog.

If there is anything disgusting, it is sending out the baby in the care of a nurse and taking a dirty little pug into the carriage.

If there is anything more detestable, it is fashionable society women sending to Paris for costumes for the spring races, and thousands and tens of thousands of men and women going down and bowing before the horse.

Another abomination is a fat-stock show, with all the farmers and their wives and children from far and near going to look at prize pigs. (Laughter.)

It seems very ridiculous to talk about these things, but we are dealing with practical humanity.

Instead of humanity ruling the beast, the beast is ruling humanity.

There are people so angry and mad with Zion because we have attacked the sacred American hog, that they want to murder us.

They want to murder every minister of this Church who dares to attack the sacred hog.

That is not imagination. That is fact. You will see this as one of the needs, therefore, for Prayer, that you shall, in thinking about your fellowman, see just where his god is.

The Covenant which God established with man at that time was a Covenant of Salvation, a Covenant of preservation up to a certain time.

Remember, that the Covenant which God made with Noah is limited. It is unlimited so far as God's promise is concerned: that the world shall never again be destroyed by water.

That bow in the heavens, with all the brilliant colors in it, made by the sunshine through the raindrops, is the emblem of God's promise that there never shall be such another flood upon the earth which will destroy mankind as it did in Noah's time.

It is limited, however; for there is to come a destruction by fire. It is reserved for fire the next time. Water did not clean up things, and water never will.

Water Cannot Clean Everything: the Fire Must Come.

Water is a good thing. We could not get along without water. But when earth and water both are afire, then things will be cleaned up.

The next housecleaning which the earth will have is when God lets loose these elements; just the formation of elements now existing. It is not a difficult thing to do, because it is being done all the time scientifically. Oxygen burns with hydrogen.

Decompose water into its elements and you have oxygen and hydrogen, the most inflammable materials.

Now that is going to come. Everything is going to melt. The elements will melt. Meanwhile there is a Covenant of God that until that time comes man will be preserved.

That Covenant needs to be very carefully studied.

It is the first Covenant that God entered into with man after the Flood; a voluntary promise on God's part.

It is a Covenant, not only with man, but with animals.

And I, behold, I establish my Covenant with you, and with your seed after you; and with every living creature that is with you, the fowl, the cattle, and every beast of the earth with you; of all that go out of the ark, even every beast of the earth. And I will establish My Covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of the flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth. And God said, This is the token of the Covenant which I make between Me and you and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations: I do set My bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a Covenant between Me and the earth.

It is a good thing to remember that the mercy of our God extends not only to us, but to the lower animals. In our lordship over the lower creation, we are under Covenant with God to deal with the lower creation as being covered by the covenants of God.

Creatures have their rights as well as we. Dogs have their rights. They have no right in the drawing-room. They have no right in their master's rooms to the exclusion of the baby.

Cats have their rights, but they have no right to be objects of idolatry.

Horses have their rights, but when a whole people goes mad over a horse race, that people has gone to the Devil. They will drink the cup of devils on the night after the horses run for the prize cup.

Horse-Worship in Australia.

In Australia, that sunny land, horses flourish and are magnificent. Horses there can live out all the year through and never go into a stable, except as they are brought in for a cleaning.

In that climate, so comfortable for horses and their development, the most of the people in the great cities have become horse-worshipers. In the City of Melbourne, with a population of over half a million, sometimes 200,000 people will be gathered at one time upon the race course.

It is said that oftentimes more than ten millions of pounds —that is $50,000,000—will be lost in one race, and as many as ten millions of dollars will be spent on wine and women and dissipation during one meeting.

We see in these colonies of Australia the horrible thing of equine worship; literally equine worship. Men who have abandoned their wives and families regard horses.

Men worship horses and bet upon them in admiration of their qualities, who will steal to get the money to do it with, robbing the widow and the fatherless.

When the Melbourne Cup is run for, it is a scene when the Cup of Devils is triumphant.

I say these things to you because I want you to realize that while the Covenant extends to the lower creatures, you are to carefully remember there must be no animal worship.

Animal worship is only one of the powerful forms of heathenism. In Egypt the bull was the first personification of a god. The highest form of god known to them became incarnated in the bull.

You will notice that word bull is just the word Baal with a slight difference in spelling. It is the same thing. The worship of Baal was simply another form of the worship of the reproductive powers of nature in the sun-god. It is the most hellish, filthy form, therefore, of a disgusting thing: idol worship. The worship of Aphrodite by the Greeks and Venus by the Romans, horrible as it was, was not to be compared with the worship of Baal.

Into such worship the children of Israel had gone when Freemasonry was triumphant in the days of Elijah.

The Shedding of Blood.

As we study this Covenant, we certainly are stronger in standing upon the ground of not shedding blood.

We know that to eat blood is sin. Not only did God say it to Noah, "The blood which is the life thereof shall ye not eat," but in the first Council of the Christian Church held in Jerusalem, which considered such matters, the apostles dealt with the decree to be sent to all the nations of earth commanding them to "abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication."

This Covenant which God made extended to animal creation.

I do not say that you have no right to kill anything and eat it. Yet I do say that the animals which can be killed and eaten are few. There are animals, and fish, and fowls, which it is simply doing the Devil's own will to touch or eat.

"Their flesh ye shall not eat, their carcasses ye shall not touch," rang out in the Mosaic Dispensation. It rang out in all the ages. Christ denounced and destroyed the swine.

The Sin of Blood-Eating.

Great care must be taken. Zion must stand by the principle that whatever flesh is eaten, must be flesh which is permissible, and that the blood shall never be eaten. To eat it is wickedness; it is sin.

If you eat the blood of the brute and be like it, you will be as the prize-fighters are. They love to eat blood, and they become like the brute. The longer I live, the more I am inclined to believe that you should have less and less to do with flesh as food. I do not say you should avoid it altogether.

Today I have taken no meat, although I have had a very long day of labor, and a very long night of labor. I intensely enjoyed fruit and cereals and just a little fish. That has all been appropriated and assimilated, and I am employing it now. (Laughter.)

The appropriation and assimilation of food is an extremely important matter.

If you have not a good digestive apparatus, you will not be much of a preacher; you will not be much of a teacher; you will not impress humanity much. Humanity has only to look at you and say: "Ah, that is a dyspeptic. That person has no religion but a liver out of order."

Of all the creatures whom I do not care to see, are persons who have asthenic diseases which have succeeded in reducing them to asthenic shadows and skeletons.

Be careful. "Eat that which is good. Let your soul delight itself in fatness." There is no delight in leanness. Be rich. Let your blood be rich, but let it be clean. The more blood you have in your brain, if it is clean, the larger will be your thinking capacity.

You may think that you can think better when you fast. If you keep on fasting, the machinery in your brain will work at a terrific speed until it runs down and lands you in insanity.

When you can think without being the victim of a brain which is working at a terrific rate, you will have the power God gives you to think quietly; to think carefully; to think with an all-around view of things, which will give you consideration for others who do not think as you do, and while you strike the wrong, will give you love and make you very patient with the wrongdoer. When anybody does me a wrong in attacking me publicly, I usually have two thoughts concerning it.

My first impulse is laughter. I do not always laugh aloud, but, as the Quakers say, I laugh inside.

The next thing I think is, "How wicked to lie about me as they do; to make me out an enemy of God, when I am God's servant all the time, toiling and living for Him; willing to die for Him." I begin to think how serious it is. Their lies are an incitement to wicked men to commit murder.

A man might be kidnaped in this city, and taken up to some lodge room, and who would know he was there?

These rooms are never inspected. They are not inspected any more than nunneries are inspected. Who knows who are inside of nunneries?

You will have to fight out in the light. Fight for God to establish His Kingdom. Study the Everlasting Covenant which God has given here. Remember that the great purpose of God in Zion is to establish the Covenant: to let men know that they are under the Covenant, and to let animals know they are under the Covenant.

Animals Realize That They are Under the Covenant When Well Treated.

How well a horse knows that he is under the Covenant when he belongs to a kind Christian man.

The horse comes up and rubs its head against its owner, who loves it.

We have two little horses over at Ben MacDhui. They would run all around the place for my daughter, because she carries around sugar for them. They know it. She has apples for them, and they know it.

Let your kindness and love extend to them without worship or without putting them in your heart.

Above all things, remember that the first Covenant continues to be the Covenant of Salvation. It is not a Covenant for one particular man or one particular woman. It is a Covenant for all men.

God will ultimately triumph over all.

Get that established. God will win.

Jesus said, "I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Myself."

I am glad that we can pray with confidence for the establishment of this Covenant extending "to the whole creation," which "groaneth and travaileth in pain until now."

I am glad that in Zion we can teach you how to pray with confidence for that. The vilest may yet be saved.

Nothing that God has made shall ever be finally lost. "The Times of the Restoration of All Things, whereof God spake by the mouth of His holy prophets which have been since the world began," will continue to come.

Man But a Little Lower Than God.

I am so thankful that although we do not yet see all things put under Him, we see Jesus crowned with glory and honor, made a little lower than God. We see man but a little lower than God. The words in the eighth Psalm are not "Thou hast made him (man) a little lower than the angels," but the Revised reading is the correct reading: "Thou hast made him but little lower than God, and crowned him with glory and honor."

The next creature to God on this earth is man.

Keep thinking. Keep praying. Watch and pray. Get the Covenant. See how far it reaches. See how Christ only makes it clearer and more beautiful and establishes it.

May God establish Zion as a home for His Covenant, that His people may find a refuge in Zion and realize that the Covenant means Salvation, and Healing, and Holy Living.

May He bless you.

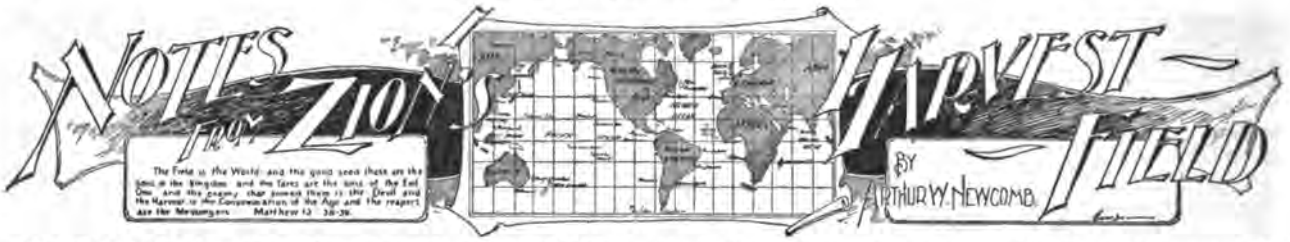
You who are in Zion should consider it a Divine favor to be here at the beginning of things, and that God should see in you that you are really trusting Him, and that you are consecrating your all to God, and that you are coöperating with Zion, with every Divine power that God gives you.

The man who keeps back from God and from Zion anything now, is not worthy of the Kingdom. I should think if the Lord came, that such a person would have to be left behind with the foolish virgins.

He is not prepared. He will not be among the wise.

CLOSING PRAYER.

Father, command Thy blessing upon Zion College. Bless this talk today in the days to come, when our voice shall no more speak on earth. Preserve every good thing which is worth preserving. Bless these young men and women, that they may be pure in spirit, soul and body; that all their increase may be such as God shall bless, and that they shall be spiritually very fruitful. May they be a blessing to Zion, and to all the lands whither they shall go in the coming time, for Jesus' sake.



Has God Blessed You in Tithing?

Have you realized a fulfilment of God's promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse"? If so, let others know how true the promise is. Write your testimony and send it to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Let your testimonies be brief and straight to the point.

Zion College Needs Three Pianos.

The Musical Department of Zion College is growing rapidly and its needs are increasing. Three pianos are very much needed. Who will give one or all of them to be used for God? Send to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Vice-President, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

THE GENERAL OVERSEER'S RETURN TO CHICAGO.

Thursday, January 17, 1901, the Most Joyous Day in Zion, Chicago, Since Its Inception. Reception at Central Zion Tabernacle a Feast of Good Things.

FOR five months Zion in America had looked forward to the day with longing hearts.

Zion was confident that the day would come.

When all the worldly and religious "prophets" predicted his failure to return, Zion only smiled and said, "We know he will return."

When disquieting news came from across the Atlantic, telling of the General Overseer fighting the battles of God surrounded by thousands of demon-possessed men and women seeking his life, Zion trusted God to "cover his head in the day of battle," and was confident that the day of his return would come.

Tens of thousands of true, loving hearts all over the land had prayed to God daily, during all those months, to spare His Messenger's life and bring him safely home, and Zion believed her prayers were answered.

As the day drew near, Zion counted the hours.

As the hours grew less and less, every heart was singing praises to God, every face was shining with joy, and on every lip was the ever-recurring note of exultation: "The General Overseer is coming home."

Then the day came.

It was hailed with a deeper joy than any previous day in all the history of Zion in Chicago.

It was a quiet joy; too deep for words; too deep for demonstrations.

The General Overseer and party were to arrive from Boston on the Michigan Central train due at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

He was met at Michigan City, Indiana, by Overseers Piper and Speicher, Deacon Barnard and others.

Upon his arrival at Chicago, he entered his carriage and was driven at once to Zion Home.

The arrival of the General Overseer and party at Zion Home was a quiet but intensely joyous event.

All the guests and help had gathered in the main office to welcome home their beloved leader.

From the door to the elevator they extended in two lines, leaving a broad passageway between.

When the loving, loved face of the man of God appeared at the door, tears of joy and thanksgiving sprang to every eye, and Zion's grand old Marching Song, "We're Marching to Zion," which was being sung, seemed to die away. Voices trembled with joyous emotions which could not be expressed even in song.

There were some silent handshakings, but no one seemed, for the moment, able to speak.

Then that beloved Voice, the sweetest music to every Zion ear, was heard, broken with emotion at first, but gradually growing stronger as he spoke.

In a very few words he expressed his gratitude to God for his safe homecoming after five months' absence; for the work which God had done through his Mission in Europe, and for the loving and heartfelt welcome which these of his people had given him.

He then read a telegram from Attorney Samuel W. Packard, sent from Washington, announcing the joyful news that Secretary of the Treasury Gage had decided that all the Lace Experts who had been held on board the Tunisian at Portland, Maine, by the Board of Special Inquiry of the Immigration Bureau, should be admitted to the United States.

Then, with a few more words of greeting from the General Overseer and the singing of the Doxology, by hearts so full of praises to God that they could scarcely sing, the impromptu but singularly blessed little gathering was at an end.

The General Overseer went to his private apartments to remove the grime of travel and to take some refreshment and a brief rest before the reception in Central Zion Tabernacle in the evening.

Central Zion Tabernacle has been the scene of some of the most wonderful religious meetings of the age.

It has been truly the House of God, and there have been times when the presence of God, by His Spirit, was remarkably manifest.

It has ever been a place of rejoicing in the Lord.

But never before was there such rejoicing as on this occasion.

To see the General Overseer come upon the platform with his well-known quick, elastic step; to see his beloved face looking out with loving eyes upon his people; to hear that ringing Voice once more, was more blessed to the more than two thousand there assembled than any other human sights and sounds could have been.

Tears of happiness flowing down smiling faces spoke more eloquently than words.

Overseer Speicher was in charge of the meeting, and on the platform were seated the General Overseer and his party, Captain Carl F. Stern, personal attendant, Deacon O. L. Sprecher, private secretary, and Stenographer Ernest Williams, private stenographer; Overseer John G. Speicher, Overseer in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion for Chicago; Overseer William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion; Overseer George L. Mason, Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion for China; Elder O. L. Tindall, Principal of Zion Ministerial Training School; Deacon Charles J. Barnard, Cashier of Zion City Bank and Treasurer of Zion Lace Industries; Deacon H. Worthington Judd, Secretary and General Manager of Zion Land and Investment Association and Secretary of Zion Lace Industries; and Arthur W. Newcomb, Assistant Editor of Zion Publications and Manager of Zion Printing Works.

From the railing of the first gallery were suspended the beautiful silk flags: the Union Jack, the Stars and Stripes and Zion's Gold, White and Blue, while above the Choir two members of Zion Guards supported the beautiful Zion Banner which had been carried through all the battles in the European Mission.

After the singing of a hymn, Overseer Speicher read a portion of the thirty-first chapter of the Book of the Prophet Jeremiah.

Prayer was then offered by Overseer Piper, and Zion's Choir sang a very beautiful and appropriate anthem, after which Overseer Speicher in a few happy words congratulated Zion on her General Overseer's return and gave an outline of the programme for the evening.

Speaking, then, of the work of which he had oversight, he told briefly, but vividly, of God's goodness in extending the work, even beyond what Zion had prayed for, during the General Overseer's absence.

Then, on behalf of Zion in Chicago, he extended to the General Overseer a most hearty, loving welcome.

Overseer Piper, with more than his usual stirring eloquence, spoke for the work of Zion in America at large.

He truthfully characterized this homecoming as an event unsurpassed in ecclesiastical history, citing historical welcomes to mighty men of God. After giving God glory for Zion's Onward Movement, even when the General Overseer was away, he extended to his superior a joyous welcome on behalf of Zion in America.

Then the General Overseer stepped forward and was given an ovation with an enthusiasm which lasted for several minutes. But he explained that he only wished to tell a bit of good news; that Secretary Gage had decided that all the Lace Experts held at Portland, Maine, were entitled to admission to the United States.

Overseer George L. Mason told, touchingly, of the great blessing which had come into his life through the General Overseer and LEAVES OF HEALING. He then spoke of Zion's work in the Orient, and expressed his joy that God's Messenger to Zion understood so thoroughly the Eastern Problem, closing with a heartfelt welcome to the man of God on behalf of Zion in the Orient.

Elder O. L. Tindall, speaking for Zion's Educational Institutions, told how God was using them; of their importance and their remarkable growth. In their behalf, he extended to the President of Zion's Educational Institutions a hearty welcome home.

Deacon Charles J. Barnard, speaking for Zion City Bank and Zion Lace Industries, told of Zion's financial prosperity.

He spoke of the great admiration for and confidence in the General Overseer's business ability which was expressed by Chicago business men. Then, on behalf of the institutions which he represented, he welcomed home their chief.

Deacon H. Worthington Judd gave God praise for His favors in connection with the building up of Zion City during the five months of the absence of the man who, under God, is its founder. In a few well-chosen words he extended the welcome of Zion Land and Investment Association.

On behalf of Zion Printing Works, Zion Publishing House and Zion Publications, Arthur W. Newcomb gave thanks to God for His blessings on Zion Literature and especially LEAVES OF HEALING, and with love welcomed home the Editor-in-Chief.

Then the moment for which all had been waiting came.

With a ringing "Now—" the General Overseer walked forward and in his inimitable way, so well known to his loving hearers, stepped quickly across the front of the platform.

The effect was electrical!

Instantly, led by Overseer Piper, the entire audience arose to its feet, and the Tabernacle presented an unsurpassed scene of quiet, orderly enthusiasm.

It was a sea of fluttering white handkerchiefs.

With a movement of his hand, the speaker requested the audience to be seated.

Then he began to speak. It would be impossible in this brief sketch to outline that talk. Even the verbatim report, which will, God willing, appear in our next number, cannot fitly portray those words of praise to God, love to his people and recounting of blessings. It was a family talk; a father talking with his spiritual children.

The audience received with great joy the General Overseer's cheering assurance that his dear wife, Overseer Jane Dowie, was now in as good health as she had been in twenty-five years.

At the close, there was another announcement which caused great rejoicing; that was that the next time the General Overseer left America, he would have renounced his allegiance to the Union Jack of Great Britain and would be sailing under the Stars and Stripes of the United States.

It seemed so good to hear that Voice again that the audience settled itself to listen with an air which plainly said that they would be perfectly happy if this reception should be turned into an All-Night Meeting.

But it must needs come to an end.

The General Overseer was weary with his long journey and the strain of his Boston Mission, which had kept him almost constantly at work for three days.

He needed to recruit his strength and spare his voice for the great Coliseum meeting of the coming Lord's Day.

Hence he begged to be excused from the severe task of shaking hands with two thousand people, although he would have been delighted to grasp his people by the hand.

Although disappointed, Zion saw the wisdom of his request and bravely answered Yes when he asked to be excused.

Deacon Sprecher, Captain Stern and Stenographer Williams each said a few words expressing joy at being at home again.

The Doxology was then sung with a wonderful meaning in the glorious words of praise, the General Overseer's voice was heard in the familiar benediction, and the meeting closed with a "Zion handshake," which was but a feeble outward manifestation of the strength of the tie of love which bound every one present to the General Overseer.

The General Overseer's homecoming was recounted at great length in all the Chicago papers and telegraphed all over the land. Some of these reports were fair and truthful, some maliciously false.

CHICAGO.

The power of God was present in a marvelous way at the meeting held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, January 13, 1900.

Overseer W. Hamner Piper preached upon the theme, "Repentance and Baptism."

With great power he emphasized the necessity of Repentance as the first step to Salvation, Healing and Cleansing.

His voice rang out with an earnestness which brought conviction to many a heart.

Following up the victory which the Spirit had thus gained, he commanded, as God's minister, all Christians who had not already obeyed God in Baptism to be baptized by Triune Immersion.

He enforced his command by a clear exposition of God's Word concerning this most important Ordinance.

Fifteen persons obeyed the first call and presented themselves as candidates for Baptism.

Overseer Piper made another call.

Elders, Deacons and other officers and members of the Church began personal work with those who still hesitated.

One by one these yielded to God and came with faces full of joy and peace to the section reserved for candidates.

The power of the Spirit was felt by all present.

During the time of conflict and decision, Conductor Rice sang a simple but beautiful and effective solo, and the Choir and congregation sang hymns of consecration and obedience.

It was an hour never to be forgotten.

When the candidates were ready for the charge, one hundred and one had been added to the fifteen who first presented themselves.

The charge to the candidates, heart-searching, yet loving, was given by Overseer Piper. The responses were firm and earnest.

The Ordinance was then administered in the presence of fifteen hundred prayerful witnesses.

God blessed all faithful hearts present.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Rev. Gideon Hammond, Elder-in-Charge. Deacon Charles F. Kelchner, Assisting.

Elder Hammond sends us the following wonderful testimony of an orthodox Jew who was convicted of sin through reading LEAVES OF HEALING, converted through Zion's Mission in Philadelphia and healed in answer to the prayer of faith of Zion's faithful Elder in that city.

It is written from 1427 Somerset Street, Philadelphia, under date of January 12, 1901, by Mr. Samuel Wolf Kutz:

God has so wonderfully blessed me that I want to tell of it.

One day while sitting in a restaurant I saw a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING in the hands of a waiter, Albert Rudiger. I asked him to give it to me.

I was very much impressed while reading the paper, but I could not break away from sin. I knew all the time that I was a sinner and that I could not be saved unless I came to Jesus; but I had so much to break away from, being an orthodox Jew from birth.

About fourteen months after this, Thanksgiving evening, I attended a service of the Christian Catholic Church for the first time; also another service the following Sunday.

I was deeply convicted, and on Friday following I called to have a talk and to have prayer that my sins might be forgiven. I was so troubled, I had no desire to live; I wanted only to be forgiven.

I received a great blessing; then came the desire to live.

The next day I received a great physical blessing. I had been wearing glasses since January 1, 1900, and for some time was unable to read with the right eye, even with glasses.

The Lord wonderfully healed my eyes.

Sunday, December 9th, I found at the supper table that I could read with the right eye with the glasses, and at the meeting I could read fine print without the glasses.

I have lately been healed of bowel trouble.

I have been blessed financially. I owed nearly $200 for money which I had unjustly gotten. I have been able to pay back nearly all of this and will soon have it all paid.

I have also received a position which I know God has given me. I know He has helped me to keep it, the work being such that I knew I could not get along without His help. I have been in the tobacco business, and God has graciously opened the way since I gave up that sinful work.

I never knew how to pray; did not even know the Disciples' Prayer.

I feel deeply grateful for the teaching I received from the Lord through the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. I am glad to know that I have been received as a member of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. I am paying my tithes.

Warren, Pennsylvania.

Numbers came from other places to attend Overseer Mason's meetings. Among the six happy people who received Triune Immersion in the swift current of Jackson's Run were Rev. D. M. Carpenter, a well-known ex-Methodist minister, and Mrs. Thilda Anderson, of Falconer, New York, a sister of Evangelist Viking, of China.

Some came out of apostate denominations under much opposition to join the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Wednesday evening meetings are held at the home of the Conductor, Mrs. A. H. McKelvy, 404 Liberty Street; on Lord's Day afternoon with Miss Louise Miller, 510 Liberty Street.

In Northwest Pennsylvania, "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into the harvest."

Bradford, Pennsylvania.

The Zion meetings are held on Lord's Day at the home of B. S. Love, 11 Kane Street; on the first and third Thursday evenings of the month with Otto Boquist, 1 Howard Street; on the second and fourth Thursdays at the home of Mrs. Harriet Wynkoop, 6 Brennan Street.

Conductor Love has already reported Overseer Mason's meetings. The thorough preparation for the meetings helped to their success.

Pray for the loyal band in Bradford.

This beautiful city is filled with church-members who are lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God. Many are defiled through Secretism and tobacco.

Port Allegany, Pennsylvania.

Overseer Mason held two meetings in a hall, November 30th. The Zion people are few in number but rich in faith. Three received Triune Immersion in the country, about 125 of the town people walking out to witness the Ordinance. Regular Zion meetings are held at the home of George W. Berfield, Lord's Day afternoons and Tuesday evenings. Remember Port Allegany in prayer.

Lima, Ohio.

Rev. Silas Moot, Elder-in-Charge.

Elder Moot sends us the following testimony of healing of an ulcerating tooth of two years' standing and to the healing of a baby of scrofula:

BUTLER, OHIO, November 28, 1900.

DEAR BROTHER MOOT:—I testify to the glory of God in the healing of my tooth, which had bothered me for nearly two years by little ulcers forming at the root. It was very painful at times.

I spoke to you about having it extracted, when you advised having it healed by God through prayer.

That was last April.

We prayed, and the tooth was healed.

It has not bothered me since.

It seems quite a contrast to the young man you spoke of at Bluffton, who scoffed at us, disturbed the meeting at Ada about the same time, and died of an ulcerated tooth.

I have felt for some time that we ought to testify, also, to the healing of our little boy, who was afflicted from the time of his birth with scrofula, the skin coming off in large scales and leaving his body almost raw.

We had heard of Divine Healing and I, having seen some of the glorious healings in Zion Home, decided to go to Ada in order to attend the meetings, and be with the true people of God.

In the meantime we had Elders Moot and Kennedy pray for our little one.

He was perfectly healed, and is now hearty. His skin is as clean and pure as any child's.

We truly thank our Heavenly Father for all the blessings of the past, and trust Him for all that are to come.

I thank you for your kindness and prayers.

May the Lord bless you and your family, and strengthen you for His service.

Your Brother in Christ, _____ C. J. ROSS.

Western Kansas.

Rev. D. A. Reed, Elder-in-Charge. Evangelist Mary C. Reed, Assisting.

Elder and Evangelist Reed send us a report of the wonderful blessings which God has been bestowing upon them and Zion in the wide field over which they travel, carrying Zion's Message of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

May God continue to bless them as they ride over these broad prairies, and may He greatly bless the people to whom they carry the Gospel.

We find wherever we go those who have received blessing through Zion Literature.

We receive great blessing in selling LEAVES OF HEALING on the streets.

The Devil attacked Evangelist Reed on Saturday with grip, just before time to go out on the streets with LEAVES OF HEALING. Her children prayed with her, and in less than half an hour she was well and on the streets all afternoon.

A lady in Sterling, Kansas, was sick and received healing when she started out to sell LEAVES OF HEALING.

A little boy in Marion, Kansas, received healing of hernia through Zion teaching.

A young man attending the meetings held at Abilene, was asked how he liked "Dowieites." He said, "When I join a Church that is the one I'll join."

A lady in Nickerson, Kansas, received LEAVES OF HEALING, but loved swine's flesh. She became quite angry and her body was nearly covered with sores. Since repenting and coming into Zion and giving up the dirty swine's flesh, she has received wonderful healing.

We have visited fourteen different towns and preached the Everlasting Full Gospel.

In every place the people testify to wonderful healings and blessing in spirit, soul and body since coming into Zion.

One man, who was dying of consumption, received Zion teaching, had the General Overseer pray, yet was not healed.

He got down before God and said, "Lord, Thy servant hath prayed and I am not healed. Show me what hinders."

He said he never saw himself so small and so unworthy before. Then he prayed, "Oh Lord, not because I am worthy, but because Thy servant hath prayed and You have promised."

The healing power came. Today be is well and Conductor of a Zion Gathering.

One little Zion girl was afflicted with rheumatism, and prayer was not answered until she went to her teacher and confessed a wrong done the teacher. After confession was made, prayer was answered.

Requests for prayer come in from many parts of Kansas and Colorado. When the conditions are met, praises keep coming in for answers to prayer.

In Wichita, Kansas, we found people from many different denominations who have Zion in their hearts and are on their way to Zion. In five meetings held, six united with us and many more are coming.

We could not begin to tell of all the blessing God is pouring out upon Zion and through Zion to the people in this State.

Kansas needs more ordained officers to do the work and gather in the harvest already white.

May God continue to bless all Zion.

Pray for us.

Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Rev. James R. Adams, Elder-in-Charge.

Elder Adams writes us the following story of conviction of sin, Salvation and deliverance from Secretism, tobacco and drugs through Faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, which came through the teaching of the Word of God in Zion Tabernacle, Grand Rapids, Michigan:

A man, wearing the Odd Fellows' badge and equipped with both smoking and chewing tobacco, came into the afternoon meeting in Zion Tabernacle here on Sunday, December 30th.

God's Spirit convicted him of the sins of Secretism and body-defiling.

At the call to consecration he stood up with others, and after the meeting was dismissed he gave up his "100 Fools" emblem and laid his tobacco on the altar, at the same time requesting prayer for deliverance from the desire and habit of tobacco.

He also requested prayer for his child, that he should be healed of what was supposed to be an incipient tumor.

I have received from him the following letter:

"FRANKFORT, MICHIGAN, January 13, 1901.

"REV. JAMES R. ADAMS.

"Dear Brother in Christ:—We arrived here on New Year's night, and our goods on Thursday night.

"On the Lord's Day we read the Bible and the tracts you gave us.

"You ought to see me eat since I quit using that stinking tobacco.

"The bunch which was on the little boy's neck is going away, thanks be to God.

"As we unpacked, we came upon the Devil's poison medicines. We threw them away.

"Thank God, we have learned to trust Him to heal us of our sicknesses.

"I wish that there were a Branch of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in this town. M. A. KENNON."

Mr. Kennon and his wife have sent in their applications for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Like scores of thousands of others, they have taken refuge in Zion from the afflictions of Secretism, disease, evil habits and the ever consequent poverty (Isaiah 14:32).

NOTES OF THANKSGIVING TO ZION'S GOD.

God Heals a Broken Hip.

ANTIGO, WISCONSIN, December 30, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—One year ago the 4th of last September a ladder upon which I was working broke and I fell about thirty-five feet to the hard ground.

My left hip was broken, and it seemed for a time as if my spine were also broken.

I could neither rise nor roll over.

They sent for a doctor, but I would not let him touch me, as I had God for my Physician.

Two weeks from the time I fell, I walked a half mile and went to work.

My left hip bothered me somewhat, however, when I worked hard on a ladder.

About December 18th I wrote to you, requesting prayer for my hip.

The next day it was very lame and sore; but some time during that night God healed me.

It has not bothered me since.

God blesses me more and more in paying Him my whole tithe. I get $20 now where I formerly got one.

God has removed temptations which were very hard for me to resist.

I give Him all the glory and thank you for your prayers.

Your Brother in Christ, A. G. BROWNING.

Instantly Healed of Pain and Suffering at the Time of Prayer.

128 FIFTH STREET,
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, January 1, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Your prayer in my behalf yesterday was instantly answered.

I had an incessant pain in my eyes and head for about thirty hours, was choked up in my throat, my flesh was dry, and I was sore all through. I could get no answer myself.

When my son sent you the telegram, I prayed and trusted for the blessing.

It came instantly, as near as I could tell from the time you prayed.

The pain passed away. My flesh became moist. By evening the soreness had all left me, for which I thank and praise God.

I thank you for your prayers in my behalf.

I feel well today, only a little weak

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) M. R. VAN EMON.

Healed of Constipation. Many Blessings in Family.

NEW WHATCOM, WASHINGTON, December 27, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I praise God for healing me of constipation two years ago.

I had been troubled for about thirty years. I was always obliged to take medicine of some kind for relief.

Since I learned to trust God for healing of my body, I have given up the use of medicine of every kind and God has healed me.

I thank God for the healing and for the many blessings to us as a family.

Whenever we get sick or any other trouble comes along, we go to God in prayer. He heals us and helps us out of our troubles.

Praise be to His Holy Name.

I am glad that Zion teaches a Full Gospel.

I pray God to bless Zion everywhere, and bless her officers with power of His Holy Spirit.

Yours in Jesus, (MRS.) J. O. LEMACH.

Healed of Toothache at the Time of Prayer.

NOBLESVILLE, INDIANA, December 7, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I wrote to you on Thanksgiving Day, stating that I had the toothache and asked you to pray for me.

On the evening of the 30th my tooth stopped hurting me entirely, and has not hurt me since.

Praise the Lord, my faith is strengthened in God and in Zion.

May the Lord continue to keep you and bless you with all Zion everywhere.

Yours faithfully in Jesus, J. L. CLARK.

God Heals Little Boy.

MONROE, WISCONSIN, January 3, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—We are glad to write that our darling boy was relieved in answer to your prayer on the 24th ult.

His bowels moved naturally about 4:30 in the afternoon.

We thank you for your prayers and are so glad that we can trust God for all things.

More and more He reveals His goodness to us.

Yours in Christ, (MRS.) ELIZABETH LIDDLE.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

OUT OF APOSTASY AND INTO ZION.

AFTER graduating from college in Granville, Ohio, in 1875, I spent three years in the oldest Baptist school of the prophets in America, Newton Theological Institution, near Boston. There was much that was good in the life and teaching of the school. There was also much to show that the Baptists had already fallen far away from apostolic purity and power.

The teacher of the Old Testament, though a most worthy man in many respects, was a tobacco sot, worthy of the title stinkpot.

The teacher of New Testament interpretation was a smoker, who easily became an Episcopalian.

The teacher of homiletics was polished, dignified and learned; but his preaching did not save men, and he made no effort to teach what he did not know: the secret of spiritual power.

The teacher of another department was a most kindly man, but had no power over the Devil in his own family; for his wife was a confirmed victim of narcotic drugs.

The teacher of theology was most conscientious and loyal to his convictions; but his learned and foolish treatise to prove that the Lord Jesus was a moderate user of intoxicating liquor became a favorite campaign document of the distillers and saloonkeepers.

Romanism was studied very little historically, and the students were not shown how to take a Roman Catholic Bible and use it for the conversion of a Roman Papist.

Tobacco, rum and impurity, and how to fight them, were not mentioned.

The evil of poison drugs, the privilege of Divine Healing, and the supreme duty of personal purity, making the body a temple of God—these subjects were rarely if ever named in the class-room.

Faith, that is, a correct mental belief, was made the chief study. Repentance was very lightly touched upon.

Missions were not made prominent in the teaching.

How to Pray had no place in the curriculum.

The necessity of Christian Union was never enforced.

Beer-soaked and tobacco-poisoned German professors were quoted as the highest authorities on Biblical learning and interpretation. In those days, however, Baptists were more cautious than now in the use of Jehudi's penknife in cutting the Bible to pieces and in disputing openly the plain statements of the Lord Jesus concerning Moses and the prophets.

Secretism, the Christless religion of the lodge, Baal-worship, was already intrenched in every city and village of the land, and was destroying the spiritual life and power of hundreds of thousands of Christians. But we never had from our teachers one word of instruction or caution to have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness.

Separation from the world was not urged; for nearly every leading Baptist Church in New England was controlled by a local "society," which held the property and shaped the policy of the Church. A mongrel society consisting of church-members and ungodly citizens united to manage the Lord's work!

Deep love to Christ and an earnest and tender desire to save men were not manifestly the atmosphere of the school. An unconverted man could easily learn all the lessons, pass all the tests, and become an acceptable preacher, if only he were of good moral character and had fair mental and social qualities.

The shocking defects in the theological teaching and practical life were little noticed by the students, for we breathed the poisoned air of the apostasy and were used to it. We stayed in cold-storage, all harmonious and united, because we were all frozen together.

May God have mercy on the theological "cemeteries"!

While in China, under the American Baptist Missionary Union, I read the "Life of Dorothea Trudel" and the "Ministry of Healing," by A. J. Gordon. These books gave light, but not enough fire. Through them, however, we were led at times to trust God and to get healing. Yet they did not teach directly the sin of polluting the body with poison drugs and they did not speak with authority; so, even after seeing God's power to heal, we went back to man's experiments with medicine, and lived far below our privilege as Christians.

For several years our daughter Pansy was ill with chronic dysentery. But in 1892, after giving up drugs and doctors, she was quickly healed in answer to the prayer of faith offered by her mother and several friends. The news of this remarkable healing coming to me in China helped to prepare me to take a decided step the next year in committing my body to God in an everlasting covenant.

In June, 1893, Dr. D. D. Main said I was in danger of consumption, as my symptoms were a cough, emaciation, night-sweats and low fever. In August, a brother of the China Inland Mission prayed over me, anointing me with oil in the Name of the Lord. I made a definite vow to God that I would never again use medicine of any kind. God then healed me.

"Divine Healing Vindicated," by Dr. Dowie, was sent me in 1894, by a Baptist deacon of Chicago. It brought great blessing at a time of sickness in the family.

But we did not know of Leaves of Healing until the autumn of 1896, when a copy was sent me by a Baptist missionary. Soon after I became a subscriber and joyful reader.

For two years I kept hoping to be able to teach Divine Healing and to lead the Chinese up to the Zion standard of Holy Living, and at the same time remain in the Baptist Mission. Vain hope!

In December, 1898, before daylight one morning, God used the General Overseer's address to the Seventies, "Peace Be to This House," to show us that we must resign. We did so immediately, and remained on the field only long enough to turn over the Baptist mission work in good shape to my successor.

The temptation was strong to engage in independent mission work. But January 25, 1899, about 5 o'clock in the morning, in reading Jeremiah 33:3, "Call unto Me, and I will answer thee, and will show thee great things and difficult which thou knowest not," the Holy Spirit showed that, for me, that meant the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. By faith we filled out and sent our applications for membership.

To some of our friends we confessed that we had taken steps to join. But such was the fear sometimes put into our hearts by the general hatred toward Zion, that I did not always openly declare that our applications were already sent in; and, indeed, we did not know for a certainty that the Christian Catholic Church was all it claimed to be, and that we should be members in full, till we arrived in Chicago.

That doubting and trembling in China in the presence of enemies God has forgiven and taken away wholly, and it is vain for them now to attempt to use it against us.

NOTES OF THANKSGIVING TO ZION'S GOD

God Answers Prayer for Healing of Cancer.

HARVEY, ILLINOIS, January 7, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—With gratitude in my heart, and with many thanks to you for your prayers in my behalf some two and a half months ago in Central Zion Tabernacle, I write this testimony.

I asked you to pray for me for the removal of a large lump or callous which was located under the skin just between my shoulders near the spinal column. This callous was as large as a large peach seed, and had been there most of my life.

But I never paid any attention to it, as it never gave me any pain until just a few days before you prayed for me.

It first began to itch and burn and to get very sore.

When you prayed for me, I was suffering very much from the pain and itching.

I was led to believe it was the beginning of a miserable and loathsome cancer.

I have had some knowledge as to what a cancer is. I was afflicted with cancer some ten years ago, at least it was pronounced so by the physicians. My father was also afflicted with cancer, and that was partly the cause of his death.

The pain and burning ceased after you prayed.

The cancer gradually began to grow larger from that time on for several days, until it was two-thirds as large as a hen's egg. It was very dark in color and looked very ugly.

In eight or ten days from the time you prayed for me, my son examined the sore and pressed upon it lightly. It broke and discharged a large quantity of blackish-looking pus. The odor from it was very offensive.

This discharge continued each day for some time.

This lump or callous all came out with the pus, in pieces; often in pieces as large as a large pea. This substance was white and hard like gristle.

I thank God it all disappeared and I am completely healed.

I also thank God for His keeping power, as He has kept me from all sickness since I was so wonderfully healed of all my old army diseases, some months ago.

My testimony to the healing of my old army diseases may be seen in LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume VII, Number 5, May 26, 1900.

I have never had a minute's sickness from any of my old army troubles since I was healed.

I have not taken a dose of medicine of any kind or in any form for almost two years.

I never have tasted pork, I never have tasted whisky, beer, tobacco, either by chewing it or smoking it, since I gave up all these bad and evil habits and took the Lord Jesus as my Healer, Keeper and Cleanser.

I am thankful that I am a clean man.

I am enjoying better health today than I have in thirty-five years.

I am very thankful for the teachings I have received from the General Overseer concerning Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

My prayers are and will be that God may continually bless you and your labors.

May God bless you all.

Your Brother in Christ Jesus, GEORGE D. CHENOWETH.

God Heals an Unusual Case of Fractured Arm.

HINSDALE, ILLINOIS, January 5, 1901.

DR. JOHN H. SAYRS.

Dear Sir:—I will here send my testimony and tell what God has done for me.

On November 17, 1900, I went up to see a football game.

A boy took hold of me, and I slipped and hurt my arm.

A friend of mine took me in a buggy to Dr. Lawton.

He said I had an unusual case of fracture; that a little bone was broken and that if he had to treat me, he would have to have another doctor to help him.

When I heard that, I went home and said to my mother that I did not want a doctor.

I said, "Let us go to Zion tonight."

It was too late to get a train. On Sunday morning we went to Central Zion Tabernable.

Dr. Sayrs prayed for me in the morning and Overseer Piper in the afternoon.

The day after we were there, the doctor sent word to my father that he would like to see him. He asked him if I had had any treatment.

My father said that I did not need any treatment. The doctor said that the arm would not be all right if something was not done to it.

He said that I had to have it lanced and an ivory pin put in, and then have it in splints for four weeks.

My father told him that I had been attended to.

Thanks be to God that I did not have anything like that done to me.

God healed me and my arm is all right now.

I give God the glory.

I thank Dr. Sayrs and Overseer Piper for their prayers.

I pray that God will bless the General Overseer and his family, and Zion's Elders everywhere.

I hope that this testimony will be a help to others.

Your Brother in Christ, ROBERT KOFOED.

HINSDALE, ILLINOIS, January 5, 1901.

The above is my boy's testimony, which is all true.

We give God the glory for his healing, and thank Dr. Sayrs and Overseer Piper for their prayers.

I thank God for Zion's teaching, which has been a blessing for us all in our home.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) LAURA KOFOED.

Little Boy Instantaneously Healed When Apparently Dying of Broken Neck.

IVANHOE, ILLINOIS, January 7, 1901.

DEACON E. S. ANDERSON.

Dear Sir:—I wish to relate an incident of God's favor here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Beckwith.

About September 24th the children were playing, after supper, when Elmer, five years of age, ran and in trying to hide under the table struck his neck just below the chin on the edge of the table.

He fell back on his knees, with his head thrown back, his eyes set and glassy, and his face purple.

His father cried, "O, Elmer has broken his neck!" I took hold of the child and found his body stiff and impossible to bend.

I held him closely in my arms and prayed to God to bring him back to life again, in Jesus' Name, through the power of the Holy Spirit and in accordance with His Will.

The father said that the child was dead, and it was no use to pray.

The mother was agonizing and saying that her baby was dead.

I told her to pray, and I still held the child and continued the same prayer.

God heard and answered the prayer and caused the child's eyes to close and his head to come back into the proper position.

The pulsation and breathing then began.

In a few minutes he drank some chocolate, and in less than twenty minutes was playing with his little wagon. Not a mark was to be seen on his neck.

He said he hurt his neck and then did not know anything, but that it does not hurt now.

For this instantaneous healing and other healings I praise God and give Him all the glory.

Thanking God daily for the blessings which He brought to us in Dr. Dowie and Mrs. Dowie to teach us the truths of God's Word in such a way that we can make use of them today, I am

Respectfully yours in Christ, (MISS) MARY E. A. BOLTON.

God Answers Elder's and Overseer's Prayers.

526 YORK STREET,
CINCINNATI, OHIO, January 11, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I praise the Lord for what He has done for me, in answer to your prayer and also the prayer of our Elder Voliva.

I had a very bad cold in back, kidneys and lungs.

I kept on working in the factory till I was compelled by pain to stay at home.

My body felt as if broken in pieces.

We called for the Elder. He prayed with me. We also sent a telegram to you, asking you for prayer.

God answered yours and the Elder's prayers.

I rejoice very much over the wonderful Zurich Mission.

May God bless the General Overseer and Zion all over the world.

May God bring my people in Zurich to Zion, and all Switzerland.

I am faithfully your obedient Brother in Christ,

HERMAN JOSEPH VILLIGER.

Zion's Conflict With Methodist Apostasy.

This book of 200 pages, just issued by Zion Publishing House, contains nine powerful discourses delivered in Central Zion Tabernacle by the General Overseer last May, during the session of the Methodist General Conference. They are of especial value for the full and fearless exposure of Freemasonry.

"The Methodist Church the Property of the Masonic Order," "Freemasonry: A Heathen and Antichristian Abomination," and "Degrees of Masonic Devilry" ought to be read by every lodge man.

The iniquity of the Mystic Shrine is laid bare.

"The Christian's Duty in Breaking a Bad Oath" is the address which preceded the public working of Masonic and Odd Fellow degrees in Central Zion Tabernacle, a full account of which is given.

Buy one of these books and keep lending it. No honest and intelligent man can read the book and still remain a Freemason.

Sent by mail, postpaid, for twenty-five cents.

Notice to Officers and Members of the Christian Catholic Church.

Send all newspaper clippings concerning the General Overseer, the Elders, or any department of the work in connection with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, to Mrs. Carl F. Stern, Room 309, Zion Home, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Send as soon as possible after publication, and carefully mark name and date of the paper clipped from on each article. If this is not done, the clippings are absolutely useless.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 6th or 7th.

Wondrously Redeemed.

1. Redeemed from destruction so that every power belongs to God.—Isaiah 43:18-21.
   We belong to God by creation.
   We belong to God by redemption.
   We belong to God by preservation.
2. Redeemed from death so that the life will be only for God.—Hosea 13:14.
   How great a death He hath saved us from!
   The horrors of the second death are awful.
   How deep our consecration should be because of this.
3. Redeemed from the hand of the enemy so that God can lead into liberty.—Deuteronomy 7:8, 9.
   God wills not to have any of His children in bondage.
   He will lead them far into the paths of righteousness.
   He calls to a highway where the Beast cannot come.
4. Redeemed from confusion so that peace may ever abound.—Isaiah 63:7-9.
   He saves from the strife of tongues.
   He knows all about the distresses which afflict us.
   None is able to pluck those who trust Him out of His hands.
5. Redeemed from all iniquity so that we can walk in fellowship with Him.—1 John 1:5-7.
   To be tainted with sin hinders fellowship with God.
   We cannot agree with sin and walk with God.
   Light shows from what we need to be cleansed.
6. Redeemed from all oppression so that we can fearlessly talk of His doings and walk in His ways.—Luke 1:68-73.
   The accuser, if he has a hold on us, will talk loudly.
   He that believeth shall never be ashamed.
   The song of praise follows the song of deliverance.
7. Redeemed from all trouble so that not a care nor a burden need distress us.—Isaiah 43:1, 2.
   Where there is fear, there is torment.
   To be truly His is to have no fear.
   If we are His, He will see to it that we are kept.

The Lord Our God is a Life-Redeeming God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 10th.

The Household of Faith.

1. Inceptive Christians: Those who have doubts and are lacking a sense of justifying grace, but are convicted of sin, ignorant of self, and yet are called of Christ.—Hebrews 2:1-13.
   It is one thing to be begotten.
   It is another thing to be born.
   It is yet another thing to have knowledge.
2. Child-talk Christians: Those who have not much depth, who are asleep to opportunities, weighted down by sin, living for self, nothing more than babes in Christ.—1 Corinthians 3:1-7.
   Some get only temporary victory over the enemy.
   It is impossible to work for a sect and for Christ.
   The life within must throw off formalism and inactivity.
3. Growing Christians: Those who have a warfare, who are withholding something, temporizing with sin, in some way are sparing self, yet who are followers of Christ in some measure.—John 6:24-34.
   You have nothing of life that you have not received from God.
   Self must at His feet be reckoned dead for one to become alive to God.
   Resurrection power is not real until the crucifixion is complete.
4. Mature Christians: Those who live for others, who are dead to sin, who are alive to God, who forget self, and are in aim and purpose, as well as in works, disciples of Christ.—Romans 6:8-13.
   We are to be so awake to righteousness as to sin not.
   To live with sin having no dominion over us, is our calling.
   To live for others is to have the truest joy and pleasure.

God's Holy People are a Maturing People.

REV. F. A. GRAVES, SUPERINTENDENT.

CONTENTS OF THE BOOK.

JUNIOR GEMS, selected by Elder F. A. Graves. To be learned one each Lord's Day and repeated in concert from day to day. Tell what it is and where it is.

A pleasant variety can be made by singing the ones set to music as they come in order, or repeat the Gem first, then sing, as the one in charge may direct, and thus comply with Colossians 3:16.

AND the Lord's servant must not strive, but be gentle towards all, apt to teach, forbearing.—2 Tim. 2:24.

BEHOLD, I stand at the door and knock, if any man hear My Voice and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with Me.—Rev. 3:20.

CREATE in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right Spirit within me. Cast me not away from Thy presence; and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me.—Psa. 51:10, 11.

DO all things without murmurings and disputings—Phil. 2:14.

EVEN a child maketh himself known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.—Prov. 20:11.

FOR God called us not for uncleanness but in sanctification.—1 Thess. 4:7.

GO YE therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.—Matt. 28:19.

HEREIN is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be My disciples.—John 15:8.

IF YE abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you.—John 15:7.

JUSTICE and Judgment are the foundation of Thy throne; mercy and truth go before Thy face.—Psa. 89:14.

KEEP thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life.—Prov. 4:23.

LET the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer.—Psa. 19:14.

MY SON, give Me thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in My ways.—Prov. 23:26.

NEITHER is there Salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.—Acts 4:12.

O HOW love I Thy law! It is my meditation all the day.—Psa. 119:97.

PRAY without ceasing.—1 Thess. 5:17.

QUICKEN me after Thy loving kindness; so shall I observe the testimony of Thy mouth.—Psa. 119:88.

REMEMBER also thy Creator in the days of thy youth, or ever the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them.—Eccl. 12:1.

SEARCH me, O God, and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts; and see if there be any way of wickedness in me and lead me in the way everlasting.—Psa. 139:23, 24.

THE Angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivereth them.—Psa. 34:7.

The Lord bless thee and keep thee; the Lord make His face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee; the Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace.—Num. 6:24-26.

UNTO thee, O my strength, will I sing praises; for God is my High Tower, the God of my mercy.—Psa. 59:17.

VERILY, verily I say unto you, he that believeth hath eternal life.—John 6:47.

WHO forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases.—Psa. 103:3.

XAMINE yourselves whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves.—2 Cor. 13:5.

YEA, and all that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.—2 Tim. 3:12.

ZION heard and was glad, and the daughters of Judah rejoiced: because of Thy judgments, O Lord.—Psa. 97:8.

Hear, O Israel: the Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be upon thine heart; and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.—Deutronomy 6:4, 5, 6, 7.

We find the Word of God is:

Lifegiving.—John 6:6-8.
Nourishing.—1 Timothy 4:6.
Healing.—Psalm 107:20.
Enduring.—Isaiah 40:8.
Comforting.—1 Thessalonians 4:18.
Profitable.—2 Timothy 3:16.
Discerning.—Hebrews 4:12.

Let us love the words of God. Job says in Job 23:12: "I have treasured up the words of His mouth more than my necessary food."

The Psalmist says in Psalm 119:72: "The law of Thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver."

Parents, if you will teach these Gems to your children at family worship it will be a great blessing to you and to them.

Sing those which are set to music:

Sing them over again to me,
Wonderful words of life.

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 15. CHICAGO, FEBRUARY 2, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

SISTERS HEALED BY POWER OF GOD, WHEN DYING OF HEART AND LUNG TROUBLE AND SPINAL DISEASE, AND CONSUMPTION.

JESUS CHRIST IS THE SAME YESTERDAY AND TODAY, YEA AND FOREVER.

These two happy Witnesses praise God for this glorious truth.

Each was attacked by disease. Each "suffered many things of many physicians." Each "was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse."

Miss Helen Zaiser lay in the clutches of heart disease and lung trouble.

She was in constant pain for five years of untold misery.

Then for weeks unable to be moved, she lay in one position, propped with pillows.

Her sufferings were indescribably terrible.

Her physician said she was dying; could live only a few days.

Her pastor, himself ignorant, had taught her the horrible lie that God was her torturer and was about to be her murderer!

He exhorted her to be reconciled to His Will.

But as she read God's Word, she could find no confirmation of such diabolical teaching.

She read, instead, throughout the whole precious Book, of God's willingness to heal.

She read of Jesus, doing His Father's Will, "going about, healing all that were oppressed of the Devil." She found Him ever "Teaching, Preaching and Healing." throughout His earthly ministry. She saw His tender compassion ever going out to the afflicted. She heard Him say to the leper, "I will, be thou clean."

MISSES REGINA AND HELEN ZAISER.

Then she read that He was "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever."

Struggling in the darkness of ignorance, deceived by those who should have led her, she sought God for light.

Ever ready to give to those who truly seek Him, He sent her a Message, by His Spirit, through an humble Messenger.

Then she saw Jehovah her Healer.

At the midnight hour, as she lay apparently at the very point of death, she looked to Him in faith.

Instantly the power of the Holy Spirit came upon her and she arose.

She arose from the cramped position, where she had lain so many weary weeks.

She walked unassisted.

All the pain, of five years' duration, left her in the twinkling of an eye!

She rapidly regained her strength. But no Christian rejoiced with her. She received no further teaching as to God's Way of Healing.

Two years later the Devil again attacked her with spinal trouble.

In her ignorance she sought not unto the Lord, who had so gloriously healed her; but unto the physicians, who had never helped her.

As before, they were, as God's Word says, "of no value."

For a half year she lay too ill to sit up.

God's Spirit again led her.

At the same time He brought a Messenger, telling her of the wonderful work which God was beginning to do through Rev. John Alex. Dowie.

Her faith was strengthened by that Message.

She laid aside all human means and trusted God only and fully.

He fulfilled His promise, "Call upon Me, and I will answer thee."

She again arose and walked in His strength.

Then she heard, for the first time, the full Message of the Everlasting Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living from the lips of God's Messenger to Zion.

Her joy was unbounded.

For seven years she has been happy, healthy and strong.

She has worked every day, serving God in Zion.

Her sister, Miss Regina Zaiser, was weak and sickly from her youth.

She grew constantly worse.

Although she saw her sister healed, she lacked faith.

She became very ill with tonsilitis.

Her physicians gave her no hope for recovery.

God, by His Spirit, gave her His Message of His Covenant of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, by His Messenger, in Zion Tabernacle No. 1.

There, in that despised Little Wooden Hut, she learned the great truth which made her free.

Her disease developed into consumption.

Consumption!

The very word is a death-knell to all human hope.

That terrible scourge was eating out her lungs.

A large cavity had been made.

Then she reconsecrated herself to God, fulfilling all His conditions.

God's servant in Zion prayed for her, "in the Name of Jesus, in the Power of the Holy Spirit and in accordance with the Will of God, our Heavenly Father."

Instantly the promised healing came.

Her cough stopped.

The cavity in her lung filled out.

Strength and vigor came rapidly.

Since then, over six years, she has been kept well and strong by the power of God.

Now, Little White Dove, carry this Message to the ends of the earth.

Tell men and women everywhere that Jesus is still the loving Saviour, Healer and Keeper.

Tell them that His great heart of love still throbs with Divine compassion.

His mission is still to destroy the Devil's work.

He is the same today.

He is the same forever.

What a glorious Message!

What glad tidings to thousands, dying in agony.

Jesus is the same.

He healed the multitudes yesterday!

He is healing multitudes today!

He will be the Healer until Sin and Disease and Death and Hell and the Devil are no more! A. W. N.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MISS HELEN ZAISER.

AURORA, ILLINOIS, January 10, 1901.

OVERSEER J. G. SPEICHER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—Nearly nine years have passed since God in His great love and mercy raised me up from a dying bed.

It is with deep gratitude in my heart that I tell of His keeping and healing power through all these years.

From childhood up I never was strong and healthy, and a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism affected my heart so that I did not recover.

For five years I suffered constantly.

The last two years of that time I became so ill that I never was left in the house alone, as I would suddenly faint, and be unconscious for hours.

Many physicians attended me.

They said I could not be cured, my heart and lungs were so badly diseased.

During these years of illness, I read and studied my Bible a great deal, and was impressed that God could heal now just the same as when Christ was on earth.

But still I doubted God's willingness to heal, as, of course, I had been taught that sickness was for a person's good.

The minister who often came to visit me told me to be reconciled to the will of God, as I would have to die.

My desire was to get well. I felt that my life thus far had amounted to nothing, as I had never been anything but a care to others.

I prayed that God would take away my desire to live.

Then I would turn to my Bible for help, and instead of finding resignation to die, would read of some instance of Christ healing the sick.

At that time I did not realize it, but now I see God's leading through it all, as I was cut off from all earthly teachers.

During the winter of 1891 and 1892 I was confined to my bed.

Becoming so weak that I could not be moved, for many weeks I was propped up by pillows, lying on my right side, unable to turn on my back or left side on account of the terrible pain and oppression for breath.

The fainting and sinking spells occurred more frequently, owing to the increased weakness of my heart.

On January 30, 1892, the doctor told my parents that I was dying; could live but a short time.

That day a woman, a member of the Salvation Army, and a stranger to us, having heard of my illness, called to see me.

She gently asked me if I did not believe God could heal me.

She told how she had been healed in answer to prayer.

I said, "Yes, I believe God can, but do not think it is His will."

She told me to trust God and she, together with my mother and sister, would pray for me.

Her words were just what I needed, for from that moment I believed God would heal me.

All through that day and night and until midnight of February 1st, I seemed to be just struggling with death.

But God was very near to me, and although I could not speak, my thoughts were on my Saviour.

At midnight, mother thought I was dying, and was kneeling at my bedside, silently praying.

All at once it seemed as if I heard a Voice, telling me to get up out of bed.

I looked to God for strength and slowly I arose from my pillows.

Mother wrapped me up, not saying a word, for she said she could see by my face that the power of God was being manifested in me.

I got up, and, without assistance, walked out into the sitting-room. While doing so, I still had all of that severe pain.

I sat down in an easy chair, and lo, all pain was gone!

All of that intense pain which I had so long was gone instantly, and I could take a long breath, something I had not been able to do for years without pain.

I thought I had gone to heaven, it seemed such a relief to be released from such misery.

I gained in health and strength with exceeding rapidity.

I received no encouragement from Christians who I thought could understand God's Way of Healing.

How gladly would I have read LEAVES OF HEALING, had there been such a paper in existence.

Two years later I was again taken seriously ill, with spinal trouble and other complications.

In my ignorance, instead of going to God, I again resorted to doctors for help.

Several of them attended me.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

I grew worse, constantly suffering so much that I frequently had spasms, and could eat nothing but baby food.

For six months I was confined to my bed, never being able to sit up long enough to have the bed made.

Finally, after a day of more than the usual suffering, I determined to lay aside all medicine and trust God alone for healing.

I asked God to forgive me for not trusting Him fully

A day or so later a friend called and told me about the first account of Dr. Dowie in the Inter Ocean of April, 1894; how the sick were being healed in great numbers in Chicago.

I was inspired with more faith.

I soon had strength to arise and walk, and could eat solid food without distress.

A week later my sister went to Chicago to hear Dr. Dowie preach for the first time.

The enemy had not given me up without a struggle, for that Sunday I was again prostrated and suffered intensely.

When my sister returned, she prayed with me, and I was relieved from pain. My faith was strengthened by what had been seen and heard.

In June my sister accompanied me to Chicago, and we attended services in the "Little Wooden Hut," Zion Tabernacle No. 1, gladly receiving the precious teachings of God as presented by Dr. and Mrs. Dowie.

I used to go to church sometimes feeling very weak physically, and how I did just long for some word of encouragement.

Yet I never once heard a minister say "Trust God for healing," until I heard Dr. Dowie preach.

The first time I heard Dr. Dowie, it seemed as if he were talking to me individually. How blind I had been not to have seen God's willingness to care for my body as well as my spirit before!

Nearly seven years have elapsed since that healing.

During that time I have taken no medicine. When taken sick I have trusted God, and have always been delivered.

I am much happier since I have learned to trust God for everything.

I am able to work every day.

I praise God for the many blessings He has given me.

I thank God that I am in Zion.

May God bless Dr. and Mrs. Dowie, for without their clear teaching I feel that I would have fallen by the wayside.

Your Sister in Christ, (MISS) HELEN ZAISER.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MISS REGINA ZAISER.

AURORA, ILLINOIS, January 10, 1901.

REV. JOHN G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—It is with great joy and thankfulness of heart to my Heavenly Father that I can add my testimony to His Healing Power to that of my sister.

I had been afflicted with lung trouble since my eighth year, having had pneumonia several times, which, naturally, left my lungs weak.

During my school days I suffered more or less and always had a cough.

I took innumerable tonics and cough medicines in the vain hope of growing stronger, but every winter either my sister or I would be sick, often both together.

Finally she became so seriously ill as to require the constant attendance of mother and myself.

Then came her wonderful healing.

How happy I was!

Words cannot express my joy.

Although I had seen her healed, I did not accept Christ as my Physician, but, in my ignorance, kept on doctoring.

Then my throat became affected and I suffered constantly from tonsilitis and other complications.

Many physicians, both in this city and Chicago, treated me, some of whom urged change of climate, while others gave me but little hope as to my ultimate recovery.

Meanwhile my sister again became ill, and after suffering so long was healed at the time when we first heard of Dr. Dowie.

In June, 1894, we spent a week in Chicago attending the meetings at Zion Tabernacle No. 1.

I saw the truths of God as presented by Dr. Dowie, and I accepted Christ as my Physician, receiving a partial physical blessing.

As I was so worn, I decided to go West to rest and recuperate, returning in time for school to begin.

About the middle of September I became seriously ill.

I coughed constantly, expectorated very much, and soon could take no food but milk.

Then I began to have night sweats, and by the middle of October a cavity large enough to lay my hand in had been made in the lower lobe of my right lung.

My respirations daily became shorter and I realized that, so far as human means were concerned, my time on earth was limited.

Still I did not even wish to return to medicine, for I had learned that there was no virtue in it.

We had sent requests for prayer to Dr. Dowie, but I was not prepared to received the healing, so did not get it.

I grew steadily worse until November 8, 1894, when I reconsecrated myself entirely to God and determined to be healed for His glory.

That day my sister and I went to Chicago. God gave me the needed strength for the journey.

After Dr. Dowie had prayed for me, I felt that I had received the blessing.

I returned home that night and at once began to improve.

My cough stopped gradually; the expectoration ceased and the cavity in my lungs soon filled out.

I gained strength and vigor rapidly.

Since that time I have been kept by the Power of God and today am stronger than I ever was in my life.

I attend to my daily duties as a teacher, and feel so thankful for the practical teachings of Zion.

God daily grows more real to me, and I delight to learn more of Him and His wonderful goodness to His children.

Your Sister in Christ, (MISS) REGINA ZAISER.

Healed of Tumor When Medicine and Surgery Failed.

SOUTHPORT, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, December 3, 1900.

REV. J. A. DOWIE.

Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I have been entirely healed through faith in Jesus.

For some years I suffered untold agony.

I had some internal trouble, for which I underwent an operation in the Charlottetown Hospital.

I left the hospital worse than when I entered it.

Doctors and medicine did me no good.

Finally I went back to my doctor and told him how wretched I felt.

He said he thought I had a tumor, and must come back to the hospital for another operation.

I was on the point of going back when a young lady, who had been to Chicago, and saw the Divine Healing which God was doing there through the agency of Dr. Dowie, advised me to give up doctors.

I did so.

I read LEAVES OF HEALING.

Dr. Dowie prayed for me.

Jesus healed me.

Yours very truly, EVA A. STEWART.

Healed of Sick Headaches.

CHENOA, ILLINOIS, October 10, 1900.

REV. GEORGE L. MASON.

Dear Overseer:—I feel it my duty to write and tell you what a blessing I received from the Lord in September.

I attended the Sabbath meeting you held in Pontiac, Illinois, September 2, 1900.

You made the remark, after I had testified, that that sister would be blessed because she had asked the prayers of Zion.

God did bless me.

I will be thirty years old next January, and I had never been able to wear my hair done up on my head without having sick headache.

Praise God, I rode home from Pontiac to Chenoa, a distance of twelve miles, bareheaded and the wind blowing a perfect gale, without having a bit of the old headache.

I have been wearing my hair up ever since.

I wish also to say that the prayers of Zion have been answered in behalf of our little boy, who was prayed for that he might be healed of eneuresis

God heard and answered, praise His Holy Name.

Ever your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) F. W. HEIDEWALD.

God Answers Prayer for a Sick Animal.

WANATAH, INDIANA, December 31, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—On October 21st I wrote you, asking you to pray for one of my horses, which was very sick. I am glad to be able to write you at this time that God has granted the request, and my horse has been perfectly healed.

Thanking you for your prayers and praising God for all His goodness, I beg to remain,

Your Brother in Christ, JOHN H. SCHWERDT.

GENERAL LETTER FROM THE GENERAL OVERSEER

The Christian Catholic Church
GENERAL OVERSEER
THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

GENERAL OVERSEER'S OFFICE,
ZION,
1201 MICHIGAN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, U. S. A.

January 25, 1901.

TO THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE CHRISTIAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN ZION THROUGHOUT THE WORLD, AND TO ALL CHRISTIAN READERS OF OUR LITTLE WHITE DOVE:

Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

With great joy and thanksgiving I once more address you from my Headquarters Offices in Zion, and thank the many thousands of you who, by letter, telegram, cablegram, and in great assemblies, have welcomed me on my return.

I rejoice that the labors of my Assistant Editor, Mr Arthur W Newcomb, and his fellow-workers, have been so abundantly blessed.

I rejoice that LEAVES OF HEALING has not only maintained its circulation, but has increased; so that its present issue is a minimum average of nearly fifty thousand copies weekly, including the German edition, with an occasional maximum of twenty to thirty thousand more.

In addition to this, tracts have been printed and circulated in various languages and in vast numbers, so that the operations of Zion Printing Works have once more become so large that our present Printing Plant is strained to its utmost capacity, having frequently to run night and day.

I desire to express my hearty appreciation of the splendid work of all my helpers, during my absence, and also the hearty co-operation of all my readers.

A NEW PAPER.

Many of our readers have been subscribers to THE COMING CITY, which was announced for only thirteen issues. It has just completed its career.

There is, however, an urgent call for a semi-secular weekly paper, which will not only give full information upon all matters pertaining to Zion City, but will deal with world-wide issues of a political and social character.

We have, therefore, determined to enlarge our Printing Plant, once more, and to publish a weekly paper to be called

THE ZION BANNER.

We earnestly invite the co-operation of our friends in this matter We hope that many will feel led to send us large contributions toward the very great cost of the extension of Zion Printing Works, which is necessitated not only by this projected paper, but by the great increase in every department of our Printing and Publishing work.

It would greatly cheer us if some kind friend would send us Forty Thousand Dollars for this purpose. Should this friend not be forthcoming, we should be glad to receive the sum from Twenty Thousand friends sending us an average of at least Two Dollars each; for we have no funds other than those which God provides.

We are going forward in this matter in simple faith, knowing that the extension of Zion Printing Works is an imperative and immediate necessity.

We hope soon to be able to send forth a Prospectus calling for subscriptions, and announcing the date of the first issue of the new paper, which will be but the precursor of a daily paper which we hope to issue from Zion City when our Printing Works have been removed to a location there.

CONCERNING THE FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

After much prayerful consideration we desire to announce to our readers that we have informed the Elders, Evangelists, and other Officers in charge of Branches of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, that we shall not hold any Special Conferences this year in connection with the Fifth Anniversary of the Organization of the Church, which takes place on February 22d.

It is desirable that this Anniversary shall be celebrated in their local Zion Tabernacles by the Branches of the Church in all lands, and that in future the Special Anniversary Conferences shall be held at a more suitable season, namely, the Anniversary of the Consecration of Zion City Temple Site, on July 14th.

Arrangements will be made, God willing, for special railway rates from all parts of the United States for the celebration of the First Anniversary of that occasion. These rates will be in effect from Friday, July 12th, until Monday, the 22d.

Arrangements will this year be made for the Accommodation in Tents of many thousands, and for Special Celebrations at Zion City. There will also be important Gatherings held in Chicago.

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION ON LORD'S DAY, MAY 26TH.

It has been arranged that a great demonstration shall be held in the Chicago Auditorium, on Lord's Day afternoon, May 26th. Zion in Chicago will at that time, God willing, receive Overseer Jane Dowie, on her return from Europe. We shall then inaugurate the new plans which are being developed for a great

ONWARD MOVEMENT OF WOMEN'S WORK IN ZION THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

It has been determined that special departments shall be directed in the Church by Overseer Jane Dowie, to provide for and conduct Orphanages, Homes for Erring Women, Homes for Aged Women, and Special Institutions of many kinds for the instruction and betterment of Working Girls, with a systematic organization for the clothing of the poor, and the visitation of women in times of distress and need.

To this Gathering I heartily invite all Members and Ordained Officers of the Christian Catholic Church, especially Deaconesses and women Elders and Evangelists.

Special railroad rates will be secured in the United States from Friday, May 24th, until Monday, June 3d.

A special Series of Excursions to Zion City will be arranged during this period.

Conferences will be held in connection with the General Operations of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion throughout the world.

I do not doubt that vast numbers will be present to welcome my beloved wife, who is now with our daughter in France. She will on that occasion deliver the Inaugural Address on Women's Work in Zion, and, under my supervision, will assume its direction throughout the world.

It is a peculiar coincidence that the date on which this celebration will be held is the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of our Wedding, and that the previous day is my Fifty-fourth Birthday and the Twenty-ninth Anniversary of my Ordination to the ministry.

I make these early announcements for these celebrations in May and July because of many inquiries, and in order to give our friends everywhere adequate notice. Full details will appear in future issues of LEAVES OF HEALING.

WORDS OF THANKS.

It is our duty to express our thanksgiving not only to God, but to the multitudes who assembled to bid us welcome in the Coliseum, Chicago, on Lord's Day last, January 20th, when it is estimated that there were twelve thousand five hundred within the building, and probably more than twenty thousand outside, who desired to enter.

The deep spiritual tone of that vast Solemn Assembly with its inspiring Processional and Recessional Songs will evermore remain in our memory.

The touching scene of those hours melted thousands into tears. When we uttered the Prayer of Consecration there were more than ten thousand persons who arose to their feet and followed us most earnestly

It is difficult to see how we can ever gather into one building, no matter how large, all who desire to hear the Word of God at one time on these special occasions.

We rejoice that already Zion is able to say that God has opened "the windows of heaven and poured out a blessing" that there is not "room enough to receive it."

Zion is becoming increasingly faithful in bringing "the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse."

Zion is receiving God's promised reward.

We are looking forward to the day, possibly this year, when we shall lay

THE FOUNDATION STONE OF ZION TEMPLE,

on the Site which we have already consecrated. We realize, as we write, that Zion Temple must not be made to contain less than twenty-five thousand persons. Worship, adoration, praise, consecration, and the presentation of acceptable offerings unto God, will mark continuously the services of Zion Temple, as they do now, in a measure, the services in all Zion Tabernacles.

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

We long to see that glorious Dome arise in the midst of Zion City, where multitudes shall offer acceptable service unto God, and receive blessing and inspiration which will flow from thence to all the world.

When we compare the winter of 1893-94 in the Little Wooden Hut, as our enemies sneeringly called Zion Tabernacle No. 1, with the throngs which are gathering around us in Chicago this winter, we can only say with adoring gratitude, "What hath God wrought!"

Looking forward into the years to come, we confidently anticipate such mighty gatherings in Zion City as have never been exceeded in any age or place.

SUCCESS OF ZION'S PLANS.

One great feature of the past few months has been the world-wide Conflict and the world-wide Victory which God has given to Zion.

We shall at another time speak in detail regarding the Conflicts in Europe, but here we desire simply to announce the recent Victories in America.

Fierce and unrelenting hatred found its expression in the determination to exclude three parties of nearly a hundred persons, who followed one another to these shores from England, to come to Zion City and establish the great Zion Lace Industries.

Again, and again, and again, the enemies of Zion have endeavored to drive them away from these shores. But the thrice-recorded victory of Zion has only awakened the interest of the whole world in Zion's Industrial Plans. The oppression and hatred and malice of God's enemies have only increased God's great love, and goodness, and power toward us, so that blessing and glorious success have accompanied us in every undertaking.

We have been delighted with the reports of our Officers in every Department of Zion, spiritually and financially.

Zion has increased in Chicago so that there are now no less than two hundred and fifty Cottage Meetings held every week, and ten Zion Tabernacles which minister to hundreds of thousands, by means of a great staff of Ordained Officers and Zion Seventies.

Add to these Zion College with its four Homes, and the numerous Zion Schools and Homes of every description for rescue and preventive work; add to these the wondrous institution of Zion Publishing House from whence the Little White Dove carries to millions throughout all the world the Everlasting Gospel, and it will be seen that we have a right to rejoice in God, even while we send forth these words, and say:

Give thanks unto the Lord,
Call upon His Name,
Declare His doings among the peoples,
Make mention that His Name is exalted.
Sing unto the Lord;
For He hath done excellent things:
Let this be known in all the earth.
Cry aloud and shout,
Thou inhabitant of Zion:
For great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

This is proved not only in all the glorious spiritual work of the Ecclesiastical Institutions of Zion which we have named, but also in the PROSPERITY OF ZION'S FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS.

The value of the land which we have purchased in Zion City has now become very great. Nearly all of the great financial papers of the world have concurred in saying that our operations have been phenomenally successful, and that our plans promise wonderful results from a business point of view.

May we not, therefore, urge upon all in Zion to obey the command of God in Zion's Motto for this year:

Arise ye, and let us go up unto Zion unto the Lora our God.

When the Cashier of Zion City Bank made his report to us three days ago, it was so marvelous that if we were to give figures of the increase it would scarcely be believed. This we will say, however, that the footings of the weekly report in the twenty-second month of the Bank's existence, are no less than sixty-one times greater than those of the first weekly report.

We believe that this is entirely without precedent.

When we also remind our readers that it is probable that the value of Zion City land has already increased, at the lowest computation, more than five times, it will be seen that God has granted a wondrous prosperity and has begun to fulfil His gracious promise which He spake by His Prophet Malachi:

And all Nations shall call you happy:
For ye shall be a delightsome land,
Saith the Lord of Hosts.

We earnestly urge upon our friends to arise, and go up unto Zion, and enable us without the aid of the world outside our ranks to complete the purchase of that land this year; thus to throw every acre of the ten square miles of Zion City, except the Zion Reserves, open for selection and purchase by God's people.

ZION HEADQUARTERS OFFICES.

So great has been the increase that we shall have to consecrate the entire building known as Zion Home, on Michigan Avenue and Twelfth Street, to the purposes of Headquarters Offices for the Church and all its varied Institutions, from the first day of May.

Until regular Divine Healing Homes and Hospices have been built in Zion City, we shall be compelled, when our friends come to Chicago, to ask them to find accommodation in the numerous boarding-houses of members of the Church, in the neighborhood of Central Zion Tabernacle in Michigan Avenue and neighboring streets.

We have been busy during the few days since we returned, not only in ministering to great multitudes in Central Zion Tabernacle and in the Coliseum, but in receiving the reports of our Officers, and arranging for new Departments and a great increase to our staff in all directions.

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Here we desire to say, without any qualification whatever, that every one to whom we committed large and important interests in Chicago, both ecclesiastically and financially, has proved perfectly faithful to his trust and has greatly increased the talents committed to his care.

It has been an incessant joy to examine the work in detail after these five months of absence, and to find it in so healthy, vigorous, and prosperous a condition

Let Zion arise everywhere and gather in tens of thousands this year, to Zion City, bringing with them millions of dollars for investment in the land and in the Industries which are arising, strong and stable and powerful, on the shores of Lake Michigan, in the beautiful City which God is beginning to build for us, and to make a joy to all the earth.

CONCLUDING REMARKS.

Again thanking most heartily all the thousands and tens of thousands of Zion in America and throughout the world for your continuous prayers and your undivided love and sympathy and co-operation with us, and rejoicing that once more we are enabled to grasp the helm and guide once more from Headquarters the wondrous Ship of Zion, and praying for your blessing in heart and home and business, and for increased prosperity in all things temporal and eternal, so that God may be glorified, and sin-stricken and disease-smitten humanity everywhere blessed, I am

Zion's Conflict With Methodist Apostasy.

This book of 200 pages, just issued by Zion Publishing House, contains nine powerful discourses delivered in Central Zion Tabernacle by the General Overseer last May, during the session of the Methodist General Conference. They are of especial value for the full and fearless exposure of Freemasonry.

"The Methodist Church the Property of the Masonic Order," "Freemasonry: A Heathen and Antichristian Abomination," and "Degrees of Masonic Devilry" ought to be read by every lodge man.

The iniquity of the Mystic Shrine is laid bare.

"The Christian's Duty in Breaking a Bad Oath" is the address which preceded the public working of Masonic and Odd Fellow degrees in Central Zion Tabernacle, a full account of which is given.

Buy one of these books and keep lending it. No honest and intelligent man can read the book and still remain a Freemason.

GOD'S WAY OF HEALING.

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

God's Way of Healing is a Person, not a Thing.

Jesus said, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life," and He has ever been revealed to His people in all the ages by the Covenant Name, Jehovah-rophi, or "I am the Lord that Healeth thee." (John 14:6; Exodus 15:26.)

The Lord Jesus Christ is Still the Healer.

He cannot change, for "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever"; and He is still with us, for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." (Hebrews 13:8; Matthew 28:20.) Because He is Unchangeable, and because He is present, in spirit, just as when in the flesh, He is the Healer of His people.

Divine Healing Rests on Christ's Atonement.

It was prophesied of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed"; and it is expressly declared that this was fulfilled in His ministry of Healing, which still continues. (Isaiah 53:4, 5; Matthew 8:17.)

Disease Can Never be God's Will.

It is the Devil's work, consequent upon Sin, and it is impossible for the work of the Devil ever to be the Will of God. Christ came to "destroy the works of the Devil," and when He was here on earth He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness," and all these diseases are expressly declared to have been "oppressed of the Devil." (1 John 3:8; Matthew 4:23; Acts 10:38.)

The Gifts of Healing are Permanent.

It is expressly declared that the "Gifts and the calling of God are without repentance," and the Gifts of Healing are amongst the Nine Gifts of the Spirit to the Church. (Romans 11:29; 1 Cor. 12:8-11.)

There are Four Modes of Divine Healing.

The first is the direct prayer of faith; the second, intercessory prayer of two or more; the third, the anointing by the elders with the prayer of faith; and the fourth, the laying on of hands of those who believe, and whom God has prepared and called to that ministry. (Matthew 8:5-13; Matthew 18:19; James 5:14, 15; Mark 16:18.)

Divine Healing is Opposed by Diabolical Counterfeits.

Amongst these are Christian Science (falsely so-called), Mind Healing, Spiritualism, Trance Evangelism, etc. (1 Timothy 6:20, 21; 1 Timothy 4:1, 2; Isaiah 51:22, 23.)

Multitudes Have Been Healed Through Faith in Jesus.

The writer knows of thousands of cases and has personally laid hands on scores of thousands of persons. Full information can be obtained at the meetings held in Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and in many pamphlets which give the experience, in their own words, of many who have been healed in this and other countries, published at Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

ZION'S TRIUMPHANT ONWARD MOVEMENT

Twelve Thousand Five Hundred People Throng the Coliseum to Welcome Home the General Overseer and Hear His Message Ten to Twenty Thousand Turned Away for Lack of Room.

TWELVE THOUSAND Five Hundred people thundered their joyous welcome in the largest auditorium in the city! Uncounted thousands at the doors and thronging the streets, patiently waited to enter! Thousands more came and, seeing the throngs, went away disappointed!

Such was the welcome home which Chicago gave to the man whom but seven short years before she had sneered at and ignored!

Such was the unprecedented ovation which she gave to him, whom six years before she had dragged from his home and from his pulpit, as she would a criminal, a hundred times.

The man who had been reviled and hissed on every street of the city was accorded the honor of addressing the largest audience ever gathered at a Divine service in Chicago.

God had given the victory!

When one remembered the obscurity, the persecutions, the calumnies, the attempted murders of past years, and looked upon that glorious scene and heard those sounds of approbation, friendliness and love, emotions of joy and wonder overwhelmed him.

THE COLISEUM, CHICAGO.

Only God could have wrought the change.

Clouds and darkness of conflict with foes, open and secret, had pressed upon Zion in the closing years of the Nineteenth Century.

But before the end came the rosy tints of dawn, and when God opened the portals of the Twentieth Century, the long shadows were fleeing away in a glory of light.

Zion saw that her General Overseer was right when he flashed the words under thousands of miles of ocean:

"THE TWENTIETH CENTURY IS ZION'S."

Zion opened her active work for that Century in Chicago with the Coliseum Meeting on Lord's Day afternoon, January 20, 1901.

The great building, with seats for 8000, was packed with people.

Besides those seated, there were at least 4500 people who stood along the sides and in the corners, making over 12,500 who heard the voice of the General Overseer.

Thousands stood for hours, quietly and attentively listening to every word. Outside, the sight was a marvelous one.

When the building was full and the doors were closed, fully 5000 people were at the doors, filling the broad sidewalk in front of the building, standing in the street and crowding the sidewalks on the opposite side of the street for blocks. This was before the hour for beginning the service.

Every transit line near brought large additions to the crowd with every train.

Many stood patiently waiting for hours, until some leaving the building made room and they were admitted. Others waited but a short time, and then reluctantly went away.

It is impossible to estimate accurately the number who would have attended had the building been large enough, but those who saw the crowds, inside and outside, place it from 20,000 to 25,000, as a minimum estimate. There were, doubtless, thousands more who desired to attend, but seeing the crowds did not come near the building.

Those who waited outside were orderly and quiet, discussing Zion and her General Overseer. As one went about through the crowd, he heard more praise than censure, saw more smiles than sneers, met more friends of Zion than enemies.

Although midwinter, it was an exceptionally bright and beautiful day, with warm breezes from the south, which made it seem like spring.

The day before had been stingingly cold, but God, who has so many times favored Zion with cloudless skies and bright sunlight, changed the weather in a night.

The Coliseum's gracefully vaulted roof was tastefully decked within with flags and streamers.

In the north end, a spacious platform had been built, with seats for Zion Choir, tier upon tier up to the gallery.

Two hundred Zion Guards and the trained ushers from Central Zion Tabernacle, assisted by a number of uniformed Chicago police, found seats for the people and prescribed the limits of the standing room.

Respectful, obedient, orderly, the great multitude of people was handled without a jar or suggestion of friction.

In front of the platform, two large tables for the press had been provided, and reporters from every paper in the city were present.

Papers which had again and again declared that the General Overseer had been driven out of the city; that Zion was on the verge of collapse; that the General Overseer would never return from Europe, sent reporters to record his address.

At precisely 3 o'clock, the tones of organ and piano struck up the ringing notes of the Processional, "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand." Instantly the great audience was still.

The seventy little girls of Zion's Girls' Choir, in their robes of white, marched slowly up the broad center aisle, from the rear of the building. They were followed by Zion Boys' Choir and Zion Adult Choir.

When the two long lines of gently-swaying figures reached the platform, they stopped and, separating, stood facing each other across the aisle. Then, preceded by Zion's banner of Gold, White and Blue, the General Overseer marched slowly to the platform. As he passed there were whispered prayers from loving hearts in the audience, "God bless you, Doctor." Following him came Overseers Piper, Speicher and Mason, the Elders, Evangelists, Deacons and Deaconesses of the Christian Catholic Church, dressed in the robes of their offices.

When the officers had passed, the 250 voices of Zion's White-robed Choir took up the victorious words:

Ten thousand times ten thousand
In sparkling raiment bright,
The armies of the ransom'd saints
Throng up the steeps of light:
'Tis finished! all is finished,
Their fight with death and sin:
Fling open wide the golden gates,
And let the victors in.

What rush of alleluias
Fills all the earth and sky!
What ringing of a thousand harps
Bespeaks the triumph nigh!
Oh, day for which creation
And all its tribes were made:
Oh, joy, for all its former woes,
A thousandfold repaid!

Oh, then what raptured greetings,
On Canaan's happy shore;
What knitting sever'd friendships up,
Where partings are no more!
Then eyes with joy shall sparkle
That brimmed with tears of late:
Orphans no longer fatherless,
Nor widows desolate.

Bring near Thy great salvation,
Thou Lamb for sinners slain;
Fill up the roll of Thine elect,
Then take Thy power and reign:
Appear, Desire of nations,
Thine exiles long for home:
Show in the heav'ns Thy promised sign:
Thou Prince and Saviour, come!

Singing as they marched, they mounted the platform, crossed it, and then ascended into the choir gallery.

Then the entire audience arose as the voice of the General Overseer was heard, clear and strong, penetrating to the farthest gallery of the giant auditorium, repeating the words of the beautiful Scriptural invocation:

God be merciful unto us, and bless us,
And cause His face to shine upon us;
That Thy way may be known upon earth,
Thy saving health among all nations.
For the sake of Jesus. Amen.

Then Zion's well-known and well-beloved Marching Song: her inspiration and comfort in days of battle, her pæan of victory when triumphant, rang out: "We're Marching to Zion."

All present joined in repeating the Apostles' Creed.

The General Overseer then read God's wonderful prophecy concerning Zion in that psalm of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, the thirty-fifth chapter of Isaiah; also a portion of the eleventh chapter of St. Matthew.

Zion's White-robed Choir then sang Stanford's Te Deum in B flat. Never was Zion's Choir put to such a test, and never did they sing more gloriously than on this occasion, when such multitudes were lifted toward God by His Spirit, speaking through the music.

The following prayer was then offered by the General Overseer:

PRAYER BY THE GENERAL OVERSEER.

Our Father who art in the heavens, we call upon Thy Name in the Name of Thy dear Son.

We bless Thee. By Thy Holy Spirit we seek to offer unto Thee today a simple, heartfelt and acceptable service.

Receive the songs of gladness which have come up from Thy people's hearts.

Accept my gratitude and theirs for mercies and kindnesses without number. Now that we have come back to this land of our adoption, and city of our love and toil, we glorify Thee for the kind reception of these more than twelve thousand hearts. (Amen.)

We ask Thee today to bless the words of our mouth that we may speak something which will help these people to understand Thy great purposes as the swinging portal of the Twentieth Century opens and humanity hastens to its consummation.

Oh God, let the Consummation of the Age be accompanied speedily by that which Thou hast promised, the Restoration of All Things, and the Times of Refreshing of which Thou hast spoken by the mouth of all Thy holy prophets since the world began.

We thank Thee for the Eternal Hope which has been forever springing up in the human breast; that amid the darkness, the weariness, the strife, the toil, sin-stricken and disease-smitten humanity should at last reach God, and peace, and purity, and blessing.

O God, grant that the Christian Catholic Church in Zion which Thou hast raised up may fulfil her glorious mission in this century. (Amen.)

Now be with us, and bless this people.

Bless the Government of the United States, the President and Cabinet.

Grant that the executive and judicial and legislative arms of government may work in harmony for the best and highest interests of the people, and that those who would by sinister means and evil motives seek only for their own welfare and not that of others may be removed from the national councils, and that men who love their fellowmen and are true to their God may take their place. (Amen.)

Bless this city, the Mayor and all his administration.

Bless, we pray Thee, all the people of this city, and grant that they may all know that they have but one Father, God, and one Saviour, Jesus the Christ, the sympathetic Friend of every toiler who toils in the workshop. Let them have the grace of the Holy Spirit that they may be blessed.

Now, be with us this afternoon. Grant to this vast multitude the calmness and the peace and the thoughtfulness which will enable them to listen to the Message of Thy servant, we ask in Jesus' Name.

Through the wide world, may men everywhere be blessed.

O God, through all the earth, today, there pulsates a chord of sympathy with the aged monarch of the British Empire who has lived and loved and served her land and the world so well. God bless Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India. If she is to pass away soon, give her sweet rest and an abundant entrance into Thy Heavenly Kingdom and Glory.

Bless the great Empire, that the hands to which she leaves it may be pure, and the heart clean, and that it may be administered for God, and that peace may speedily come.

Hear us now, and bless throughout the wide world the heathen in their darkness, in their chains of ignorance, in the night of their sorrow. O God, bless them.

Bless Thine ancient people. Bring them back to see that in Christ they have rejected the Saviour of men, the Jew, Jesus the Christ, the Messiah of God. Bring all the world to know the power and glory and beauty of Christ the Lord, the Saviour, the Intercessor, and the Judge of all who will come to reign. Lord Jesus, come quickly. (Amen.)

Bless us, our Father, as we with united voice and hearts pray in the words which Jesus taught us when He said, After this manner, therefore, pray ye.

The Choir and congregation joined in chanting the Disciples' Prayer.

Then the audience listened in perfect quiet as the clear, sweet voices of Zion's Junior Choir floated out through the vast building in the exquisite melody of Sullivan's "St. Theresa" and the inspiring words of the hymn, "Brightly Gleams Our Banner."

The General Overseer then said:

It is our custom at this period of the meeting to make the announcements, and any remarks concerning the work which seem to be necessary, and then to receive the tithes and offerings of the people.

Thanksgiving for Chicago's Welcome.

Perhaps you will permit me—and whether you do or not I would take the permission—to thank you not only for this wonderful gathering of, they tell me, more than 12,000 persons in this vast auditorium, but for the many thousands who have not been able to get into this building, who desire to be within the sound of my voice.

I thank God that in the City of Chicago I have today that endorsement of my fellow-citizens and my friends which is an ample and satisfactory answer to tens of thousands of tongues of malice of my enemies. (Applause.)

I believe that in Chicago these enemies are few. They are principally confined to those disgruntled churches which have suffered so much through Zion's Onward Movement, and to the still worse disgruntled generation of vipers who control the press. (Applause.)

I have never feared them, thank God. (Amen. Loud applause.)

A Reply to the Lies of the Press.

I desire to say a few words concerning their fearfully and wonderfully constructed report of my reception at a private gathering of about 3000 of my people last Thursday night, into which they could not get because the admission was by ticket. But that is of no consequence at all to a Chicago reporter—he makes up the whole thing from his sublime imagination. (Laughter and applause.)

It would be more difficult to find anything true in their reports, than the false. I desire today to take this opportunity of asking for fair play, and for this word to go forth. If these papers have a spark of honesty, they will do it.

They said that I had cursed the flag of my fathers. I never did.

Audience—"No." (Applause.)

General Overseer—I will ask the 3000 of Zion who were there to stand in the presence of God and all this company. (Those requested arose.)

Did I curse the British flag?

Voices (in a unanimous shout)—"No."

General Overseer—Did I curse any nation's flag?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—That is a record which is better than the Chicago Record. (Laughter and applause.)

Another charge was made. They said that I had said that I wanted every Christian to come into the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and that if they did not come I wanted them all to go to hell. Did I say that?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Have I not spoken with love concerning my fellow Christians?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—I thank God today I can love even the generation of vipers whom I am chastising. (Laughter and applause.)

The boys and I get along all right. The trouble is not with the reporters, but with their infernal Mah-hah-bone editors. (Laughter and applause.)

Of course, I would not be Dr. Dowie if I did not have some surprise for you.

I have been keeping the press of two continents busy, and I have, by the Grace of God, been enabled to plant the Standard of Zion with my own hand in five countries, thank God. (Applause.)

I come back to Chicago loving all the wide world better than ever I did. He that would hate his brother is a murderer. This great Church, which consists in Chicago alone of forty-two different nationalities, has nothing but friendship and love for every nation under heaven.

God has made of one blood all men.

Zion's Defiance to Mah-hah-bone Devils in Mansfield.

It pleased the adversaries of God and of Zion in a little town in Ohio, called Mansfield, to distinguish themselves under the leadership of their Mayor in a series of outrages upon the law which made that little town a scandal and a hissing and a scorn throughout the whole world. Among the other foolish things which they did, their Grand Jury, just as I was leaving last August, found a true "billygoat" against myself. I will take that "billygoat" by the horns and deal with the true bill which the Grand Jury found against Elder Fockler, Overseer Piper, others of Zion's Elders, and myself.

What is the allegation of that Grand Jury? It says that Mayor Huntington Brown was criminally libeled.

What did I say? What I have said is on record. If I have wronged him, he has a right to a remedy. But what did I say?

Mayor Huntington Brown, Governor George K. Nash, what did I say about you? I said that you were members of an organization whose emblem was the "point within the circle"; and that such emblem was, as your own Masonic authors agree, the emblem of the Phallic worship of the sun-god, Baal, the most immoral and foul worship that ever cursed this earth!

You say I have libeled you? Very good. We shall appear and answer the indictment. We shall prove our statements to be true, that the Masonic Order is everywhere the foe of God, and Home, and Nation. (Applause.)

We shall prove that Jesus Christ's Name dare not be mentioned in the three degrees of the Blue Lodge, which are the foundation of Masonry.

We shall prove that the only kind of a resurrection that they know anything about is the resurrection of the stinking carcass of Hiram Abiff by King Solomon upon the "five points of fellowship," all of which is an infernal lie. It never happened.

We shall prove that Jesus Christ is shut out of Masonry, and that Masonry belongs to the Devil, root and branch. (Applause.)

Mansfield must now either fish or cut bait. (Laughter.) They must either back water and enter a nolle prosequi, or we will come down to Mansfield one after another, and fight the matter out. It is probable that we may apply for a change of venue to some other point. We shall fight in the highest Court of the Nation, if we have to, in the Supreme Court of the United States, to maintain our right to smite the immoral and ungodly and unsocial and Antichristian and antinational organization, Freemasonry. (Applause.)

That is quite a little programme. We have cut out a little work for you, Mansfield. You thought that you could blast my character by branding me as a criminal. It did not hurt me a bit in Europe, for no one took you seriously, here or there.

The "Point Within the Circle" Shall Not Replace the Stars and Stripes.

The question at issue, Governor Nash, Mayor Huntington Brown, President McKinley, is this: Shall the Black Flag of Death, shall the "point within the circle," replace the Stars and Stripes?

Shall it?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Shall it be a crime for a man to tell the truth regarding a secret organization?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—No, verily. The time has come, and the man has come, who will do it, by the Grace of God. (Applause.)

I love peace, and that is why I fight for it.

I love this land, I love this people. While I love the flag which has braved the battle and the breeze a thousand years, under which, all that time, my forefathers have lived; while I love Scotland, which gave me birth, I have come back to this land to cast in my lot, and that of my family, with my people, and to become an American citizen. (Prolonged applause.)

I shall fulfil my duties as such. I hope to keep that flag from having upon it a circle with a black dot in the center of it.

Zion has her banner, too, but she will be loyal to the flag of every nation which will protect civil and religious liberty. Zion will do what she can to bless the land to which she comes.

We have no race hatred, and we will not allow the Devil to triumph on God's green earth.

The earth is the Lord's. The Devil never made it, and we shall fight to get the Devil out.

I ask you to pray for me.

A Mystic Shriner Captured for God.

Yesterday I captured a Mystic Shriner's cap. I captured all his secrets, and I captured all his papers from the first degree of Entered Apprentice right down—for it is a descending scale all the time, down into the depths of hell—to the Mystic Shrine. There they are. (Loud applause.)

Thank God, the reign of the secret orders will soon be past. (Applause.)

The voice of the people will back up Zion in seeing that the United States shall not be ruled by the Secret Lodge, but that it shall be ruled in the open light by its legally elected and proper governors. (Applause.)

They who say that they want to go into Secretism had better at once renounce their Christianity; for Jesus said, "In secret spake I nothing."

"He that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, that they have been wrought in God."

The tithes and offering were then received.

The splendid anthem, Stainer's "Zion, Awake," was sung by Zion Choir.

Zion in Seventeen Cities in Europe Cables Love to the General Overseer.

Overseer Piper—The General Overseer requests me to read a cablegram which he received this morning:

LONDON, January 20, 1901.

DOWIE, Chicago.

Zion in London, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Grimsby, Doncaster, Birmingham, Ashbourne, Aylesbury, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry, Ballyhalbert, Paris, Saint Cloud, Zurich, Chevenez, and steamer New England send love greeting General Overseer.

Psalm forty-seven. CANTEL.

"BEWARE, YE DESPISERS OF ZION!"

The General Overseer continued:

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, be profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words shall come, in this and every land, in this and all the coming time, till Jesus come. (Amen.)

I take this afternoon for my text a few words which were spoken by the Apostle Paul in the synagogue of Antioch, which I believe today to be appropriate to our special circumstances.

In the thirteenth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles you have, after the call of Barnabas and Saul to the apostleship, the entrance upon that wonderful apostleship. It was the purpose of God that the apostleship should be a perpetual office in the Church.

The Apostle Paul was invited in this synagogue of Antioch of Pisidia to speak, a most unusual favor. He delivered, as he always did, a most eloquent discourse to those whom he loved so dearly, who were of his own blood. I think I can say the same. Although it is far back, the blood of the Hebrew flows in the veins of the people of my tribe and ancestry, and I rejoice that it is so.

I would say lovingly the words which Paul said to those of his own people nineteen centuries ago.

I would say today, to my brethren and sisters in the various churches and denominations who have hitherto fought every foot of the way against the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, I would say to all in Christendom, wherever my voice can reach through the pages of LEAVES OF HEALING, or even when they are filtered through the pages of the Chicago press, beware how you fight the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

I desire to reach the people.

A Zion Daily Paper Would Win in Chicago.

I incidentally give the Chicago press notice that if they continue to misreport me and malign me, I shall establish a daily paper in Chicago which will excel them all. (Applause.)

I have no doubt of Zion's power to do it. Have you?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—When we are ready, we will; but we will take our own time.

You will find my text in the thirteenth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, the fortieth and forty-first verses:

TEXT.

Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets;
Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish;
For I work a work in your days,
A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

Christianity at the date when these words were spoken was a very despised and contemptible religion.

The preacher whose words we have quoted was looked upon as a renegade and apostate. He had been a Rabbi, and doubtless a member of the Sacred Council of the Seventy, the Sanhedrin.

This is proved by two things.

First, by the fact that he was an official witness at the execution of the first Christian martyr, Stephen; that he was consenting thereto, and had a judicial vote. He was the official witness at whose feet those who murdered Stephen laid their clothes.

Second, he was the ambassador of the Council of the Seventy to Damascus on the day of his conversion.

Paul was a very little man, tradition says, about my height; and, strange to say, with some of my physical peculiarities—especially that of bandy-legs (laughter) and a bald head.

I rejoice when I think of that little Jew and what he did.

How he was despised! How he was hated, and especially by his own countrymen! Yet today how he is loved, so that the proudest cathedral of Christendom, in London, rears its mighty dome in honor of St. Paul.

He died in obscurity to make a Roman holiday, either thrown to wild beasts, burnt in tar on the night of one of Nero's feasts, or he was crucified or decapitated at Rome.

How wonderful that today his mighty tones reverberate throughout the world, and we love, venerate and delight to read the words of Paul!

When he gave this warning, they did not like it.

There is That in the Human Heart Which Resents Being Warned.

I heard the other day, in Scotland, a number of interesting stories. One of them was of the pride of a Highlander who did not like to have it known that he was sick. The doctor said to him, "You will have to look out for your liver." He became indignant and asked what the doctor had to do with his liver, anyhow. He was very angry.

There are some people who will get angry if you even talk about their liver, or their stomach. If you gently hint that he is defiling himself, to the fellow who eats tobacco and squirts it out on every street; or to the man who smokes it, and walks all his lifetime behind a cigar, who has "A pillar of cloud by day, and of fire by night," and is a stink all the time, they get angry. (Laughter and applause.)

If you tell a man that he is a stinkpot, although it is true, he looks as if he would like to hit you on the nose. But there is not a woman in this vast assembly who does not believe that the fellow who chews and spews out tobacco like a spewing buzzard and stinks everywhere—there is not one woman in this audience who is a clean, good woman, but believes with me that he is a stinkpot. Is that not so?

Women—"Yes."

General Overseer—Now, you stinkpots! (Laughter.) You have received your character. (Laughter.)

You know I love you, and that is why I chasten you. I would like you to live eight years longer, and if you will give up pig, liquor and tobacco and telling lies, you will live twelve years longer. (Laughter and applause.)

Paul did not mean any harm when he quoted the words of Habakkuk. That was the prophet he was quoting when he said:

Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets;
Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish;
For I work a work in your days,
A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

I tell the churches of America, and tell the various churches of Europe, Asia, Africa and Australasia also, that the time has come for them to take care what they do with Zion.

These people at Antioch might have said, "Paul, you are a very conceited fellow. Your Christianity is only the religion of a few slaves. Your Christianity was founded by a man who was put to death on the cross, the vilest kind of a death for a criminal. Your Christianity is only the belief of a fragment of renegade Jews, and poor outcast slaves in a few cities."

"How dare you rebuke Imperial Caesar," they might have said, "and the great religious cults of our time?

"How dare you rebuke the Hebrew, especially, and the splendid rituals of Moses. Paul, you are a conceited little humbug, and you must be put down. We will get the Jerusalem Recorder, the Jerusalem Tribune, the Jerusalem Chronicle, and the Jerusalem Daily Wail to come down on you and put you right, Mr. Paul. We will damn you until you are cursed everywhere."

Paul was the kind of a man whose backbone stiffened when you told him a thing like that. He stood a little straighter, and the majesty of his spiritual stature filled the place. He said to them that day when they were caviling and beginning to criticise: "Behold, ye despisers. You will continue to wonder, and you will perish; for the work which God is doing you will not believe, although it is told you by tens of thousands of witnesses."

Warning to Those Who Fight Zion.

The time has come, Mr. Denominational Minister, for you to take care what you are doing in fighting the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Behold this scene today. This is the spontaneous action of Chicago today.

Behold this scene! Think what it means, lest that should happen to you which Paul said would happen, which in fact did happen, to them.

They despised and they wondered, and they perished, because they rejected.

What am I talking about? I am talking about the work which God planted right here in Chicago in 1893, when I first raised the Banner of Zion in the despised "Little Wooden Hut" outside the gates of the World's Fair.

I am talking about a work which was formed definitely into a Church less than five years ago. That Church began with 500 members, and today has more than 60,000 adult adherents, and hundreds of thousands of persons interested in it throughout the world.

Thank God for that.

What are the distinctive things for which Zion has been standing?

Zion has been standing for a Full Gospel of Salvation and Divine Healing and Holy Living.

Zion has been standing for a clean life, a clean home, and a happy home.

Zion has been standing for a healthy body.

Zion has been standing for a good wage for a good day's work.

Zion has been standing between her people and poverty and sickness and sorrow.

Thank God, Zion in every one of its members is happy and, for the most part, healthy, and going on to heaven with songs of joy.

What or whom are you despising?

Are you despising the preacher? That does not matter much. He never took any stock in your praises or curses. My hope is in God, and always will be.

When days have been dark, and friends have been few, I have preached as boldly as I do today. (Applause.)

Divine Healing is but a small part of the Everlasting Gospel which Zion proclaims.

You have misunderstood Zion if you imagine for one moment that all we are concerned in is the healing of the body. We are concerned in the emancipation of the spirit, soul and body of all humanity. Therefore Divine Healing is but an incident, although an important one, in this great Gospel.

You are despising facts.

No Wise Man Can Afford to Despise Facts.

You ask, "Where are the people who have been healed?" Do you want to see them now? Shall I show you them?

Zion, all who have been healed through faith in Jesus Christ, Stand!

As the General Overseer made the request, thousands of persons all over the vast auditorium sprang gladly to their feet. Many were already standing, hence it was difficult to estimate, but conservative persons who witnessed the sight placed the number at 5000.

Have you eyes to see? Reporters, get up and look at it. You will not. You will lie about it, though.

Witnesses, did God heal you?

Witnesses—"Yes."

General Overseer—Did you dream it?

Witnesses—"No."

General Overseer—Did I do it?

Witnesses—"No."

General Overseer—Did I charge you anything for it?

Witnesses—"No."

General Overseer—Have you ever been compelled to pay a dollar?

Witnesses—"No."

General Overseer—Do you know of anybody who has?

Witnesses—"No."

General Overseer—Has Zion's been a ministry without money and without price?

Witnesses—"Yes."

General Overseer—Have you given gladly?

Witnesses—"Yes."

General Overseer—Yes, and you have made Zion the possibility that it is today, thank God.

Behold, ye despisers! If you continue to lie and to say that these thousands of people do not know what they are talking about, then I will quote for you reporters a passage of Scripture: "All liars shall have their part in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone." (Laughter and applause.)

You ministers and others, if you will not acknowledge the truth—and you are too cowardly to acknowledge it—I will quote you another passage. I will quote you the beginning of the same verse, the end of which I have given in great love to the reporters.

It is not the liars who lead the procession to hell. They come last; so there is a chance yet for the wretches who lie. (Laughter.)

It is "the Fearful and the Unbelieving and the Abominable" who lead the procession. It is the coward everywhere who leads the procession to damnation.

Cowards!

The press is not afraid. It is not afraid to tell lies. (Laughter and applause.) They are not cowards about that, at any rate. I will say further of the press, that it never makes any mistake. It always lies on purpose. (Laughter.) It is brave in doing its master the Devil's work.

You Christians are cowards, nine-tenths of you. You are afraid of your own shadow. You are afraid of the parson. You are afraid of the doctor. You are afraid of your mother, your wife, your sister, your friend, your uncle, your niece, your aunt. You are afraid on every side, you cowards.

Cowards! You are afraid to investigate. You will lie without investigation.

> Behold, ye despisers, and wonder and perish;
> For I work a work in your days.
> A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

I declare unto you that "The Lord hath established Zion." (Amen.)

Thank God for that.

What Does Zion Propose to Do?

Do we propose to steal something?

Do we propose to destroy something?

Do we propose to injure the body politic?

Is it our purpose to run away with something?

Ah, you newspapers said I would run away, did you not, you liars? (Laughter and applause.)

You said, "He has the money, and Chicago has seen the last of him."

You are not through with me yet. (Laughter.) You will never see the last of me until the day that God calls me to sleep in Jesus, and I am buried in the midst of Zion City Temple, and my people. Let that day come when God wills. I am not afraid.

You lied about me. You know you said I would never come back; and here I am. You are feeling it, too. (Laughter and applause.) Oh, I love you, boys; I do.

It is not you who are to blame for the lies; it is those infernal editors of yours. One boy said to me in London, "Doctor, do not blame me. I gave a good clean report, and when I saw it the next morning in the paper, I did not recognize it. It was that infernal editor."

I told him I would rather break stones in the streets than be a reporter for the Daily Wail. (Applause.)

I will tell you what Zion aims at. Let me speak plainly and simply. I am no orator. I am perfectly well aware of that. I am only a business man in the ministry.

When God called me to the ministry, He called me from business, and I did not understand. Although I went and passed through the University, and got a little more Greek and Latin and Hebrew, I remained a business man.

In answer to the charge that has been made about my making a business of my ministry, I say, I do, and if you did, some of you poor, miserable, one-eyed jokers (laughter), you would have success instead of failure. (Laughter and applause.) If you would make a business in your ministry, instead of going around America with a lecture on "Fools: by One of Them," you would do better.

Unless a man makes a business of his religion, and a religion of his business, both will be utter failures.

I charge you to carry your religion into your business, and your business habits into your religion. (Amen.) That is why we make a success of Zion under God.

White-robed Choir! Not one of them would marry a stinkpot. (Laughter and applause.) Would you, girls?

Girls—"No."

General Overseer—Would you, boys?

Boys—"No." (Laughter and applause.)

General Overseer—"What!" you say, "women are not stinkpots?"

"You are mistaken. In the hotels of Europe you will find women of title and fashion lounging in the open daylight smoking cigars and cigarettes; smoking them in the railway depots, smoking them in the trains. One of the curses of today is that the women of Europe are becoming victims to nicotine poison. There is not one of you stinkpots who wants your wife to smoke.

Zion Stands for the Infallible Inspiration and Sufficiency of the Holy Scriptures as the Rule of Faith and Practice.

Zion stands for the "Old-time Religion," which says that every Book in this Book, from one cover to the other, is an inspired revelation by God. Zion declares that this Book is the infallible rule of faith and practice. (Applause.)

The man in Zion who does not believe that, let him get out before midnight, or repent.

We believe that the Old Testament is one thing, and the New Testament another. We thank God that we are not under the Old Testament, but under the New; that we have not only Ten Commandments, but we have Eleven.

The other day a newspaper office in Boston called me up by telephone at the Westminister Hotel and asked, "What is the Eleventh Commandment?"

I told him what chapter and verse to find it in. He said, "Doctor, excuse me; we do not have any Bibles handy, will you please quote it to me?"

So I said, "The Eleventh Commandment is this:

"A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; even as I have loved you."

The Ten Commandments never got higher than loving your neighbor as yourself. The Eleventh Commandment tells you to love your neighbor better than yourself, and to do for your neighbor what you never expect your neighbor to do for you. That is the Commandment which is supreme in Zion today, thank God. (Amen)

Zion Seventies, stand. Zion workers in all branches, stand. I command you to carry the principle of the Eleventh Commandment into every home with the words: "Peace Be to This House." Will you do it?

Seventies and Workers—"Yes."

General Overseer—Will you live it?

Seventies and Workers—"Yes."

General Overseer—God help you. Sit down.

Zion Stands for the Eternal Covenant, of Which the General Overseer is the Messenger.

We believe in an Eternal Covenant, of which God has made me His Messenger. That Covenant covers three things: First, Salvation; second, Healing; third, Holy Living. Do you love it, Zion?

Zion—"Yes."

General Overseer—Will you live it?

Zion—"Yes."

General Overseer—Thank God.

Therefore, we believe that Christ came and was made poor for our sakes that we through His poverty might be made rich.

We think poverty a curse, disease a curse, sin a curse. We pray for the removal of all.

Zion stands for the "old-time religion" which tells us that Jesus saves us, heals us, cleanses us and keeps us.

Therefore Zion will care for all her children, will do her best to find every man employment, to shield every girl from temptation, and to seek the erring and the lost, and to be a blessing to Chicago, and to the world.

Is it a good programme?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Let us live it. All who desire to live it, stand to your feet.

As the General Overseer outlined the glorious truths, principles, practices and purposes of Zion, the faces of the thousands in the audience, listening with the deepest attention, began to light up with sympathy and approbation. As he drew to a close, this expression deepened into one of conviction and purpose. When the climax came with this ringing invitation, the thousands of Zion arose immediately, and with them, some rising quickly and some with deliberation, were thousands in all parts of the house who never before had repeated the following

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, soul, body. Give me power to do right, no matter what it costs. Give me Thy Holy Spirit, that I may serve Thee; do right to my fellowmen; trust in Jesus the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin and the sorrow and the sickness of all who trust Him. For His sake help me to live as I pray. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

Did you mean this?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Will you live it?

Audience—"Yes."

Then singing the reverent prayer of the Recessional, "Saviour, Again to Thy Dear Name," Zion's Choir and officers marched slowly out, while the audience sat with bowed heads.

When the music ceased, the voice of the General Overseer was heard, pronouncing upon this wonderful service the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

Six Bound Volumes of Leaves of Healing.

What six books, besides the Bible, could be more precious, more valuable to every member and friend of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, than the first six volumes of LEAVES OF HEALING?

They contain more of the Everlasting Gospel; more testimonies to Salvation, Healing and Cleansing through Faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God; more sound teaching, than any other six books published.

The world may scoff at that, but Zion knows it to be true.

Not only that, but these six Volumes contain, in some measure, the priceless record of God's dealings with Zion in these latter days. In them, as nowhere else, can be found the history of the mighty work which God has established for the extension of His Kingdom and the preparation of the world for the coming of Jesus as King.

In them is contained a large portion of the wonderful Message which God sent to the world by His Messenger.

In fact, when we stop to consider all the glorious things which have gone into the composition of these six Volumes, we find words insufficient and inadequate to express their value.

Those who have been saved, healed, cleansed, made prosperous and happy through the Message brought by one copy of the Little White Dove, perhaps know something of what a mighty storehouse of power these six Volumes are.

These Volumes have been bound, by Zion Publishing House, in strong, handsome black binding, half-morocco, with a graceful design, LEAVES OF HEALING, in gilt upon the front cover.

Each has a carefully prepared index covering all the principal subjects in the book.

They sell at the regular rate of $3.50 per Volume, or the exceedingly low rate of $15 for the six Volumes.

These books should be in every Zion household.

Send all orders to Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, U. S. A.

IF THOU wilt diligently hearken to the Voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in His eyes, and wilt give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have put upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord which healeth thee.

A VOICE TO ZION AND GOD'S PEOPLE IN EVERY LAND.

O thou that tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the High Mountain Lift up thy Voice with strength: Lift it up, be not afraid: Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Isaiah XL:9.

THE GENERAL OVERSEER'S RETURN TO CHICAGO.

Report of Meeting held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Thursday Evening, January 17, 1901. Reception of Welcome to General Overseer.
Reports of Meetings held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning and Evening, January 20, 1901. Morning Service—Sermon: "A Message With Authority"; Evening Service—Sermon: "The Last Supper."

REPORTED BY S. D. AND E. W. AND A. W. N.

FOR Zion's thousands in Chicago, the first few hours and the first Lord's Day after the General Overseer's return from Europe were epoch-making times.

There was a deeper, more holy joy in the Lord than ever before.

There was a most marked sensibility of the presence and power of God's Holy Spirit.

There was a stronger feeling of love and unity and loyalty to the General Overseer, whom God had so wonderfully spared and brought safely home.

There was a new song of praise and thanksgiving for all the wondrous victories which God had won in Europe through His Messenger.

There was a strong faith that in the months and years to come, God would most marvelously bless His people in Zion, and give them great victory and progress and prosperity; in fact, that the long-expected Times of Refreshing from the presence of the Lord were close at hand.

The joyous reception to the General Overseer was described in "Notes From Zion's Harvest Field," in the last number of LEAVES OF HEALING. This week a verbatim report of the addresses appears.

The first Lord's Day after the General Overseer returned to Chicago, Lord's Day, January 20, 1901, will not soon be forgotten by Zion or Chicago.

In another part of this paper appears the report of the unprecedented meeting at the Coliseum in the afternoon.

In the morning, at Central Zion Tabernacle, the members and friends of Zion met in a most precious family gathering with the General Overseer. There were about two thousand five hundred present.

At the close of day, with hearts overflowing with joy, fully 2500 of Zion met with their beloved General Overseer for the first time in over five months, in most sweet and blessed Communion with their Lord.

Never did He seem nearer, and never were the words of the man of God filled with greater power.

RECEPTION OF WELCOME TO THE GENERAL OVERSEER.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Thursday Evening, January 17, 1901.

As the General Overseer appeared upon the platform, he was greeted with applause, and all united in singing the words:

Praise God from whom all blessings flow,
Praise Him, all creatures here below;
Praise Him above, ye heavenly host;
Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

The General Overseer then said:

God be merciful unto us and bless us, and cause Thy face to shine upon us, that Thy Way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations, for the sake of Jesus. Amen.

Greeting by the General Overseer.

Before I sit down I want just to say how glad I am to see you. I wish I could kiss you all (laughter and applause); because it just feels like coming to my family, my children. (Laughter)

The only thing that I miss about it is that I have not Mrs. Dowie and my daughter and son here.

God has been wonderfully gracious to us. I will say a few words by and by. Meanwhile it will be good to sit here and look at you. (Laughter.) I am so glad to see you.

They want to talk to me tonight, so they say, so I will sit down and be good. (Laughter and applause.)

All then united in singing Hymn Number 44:

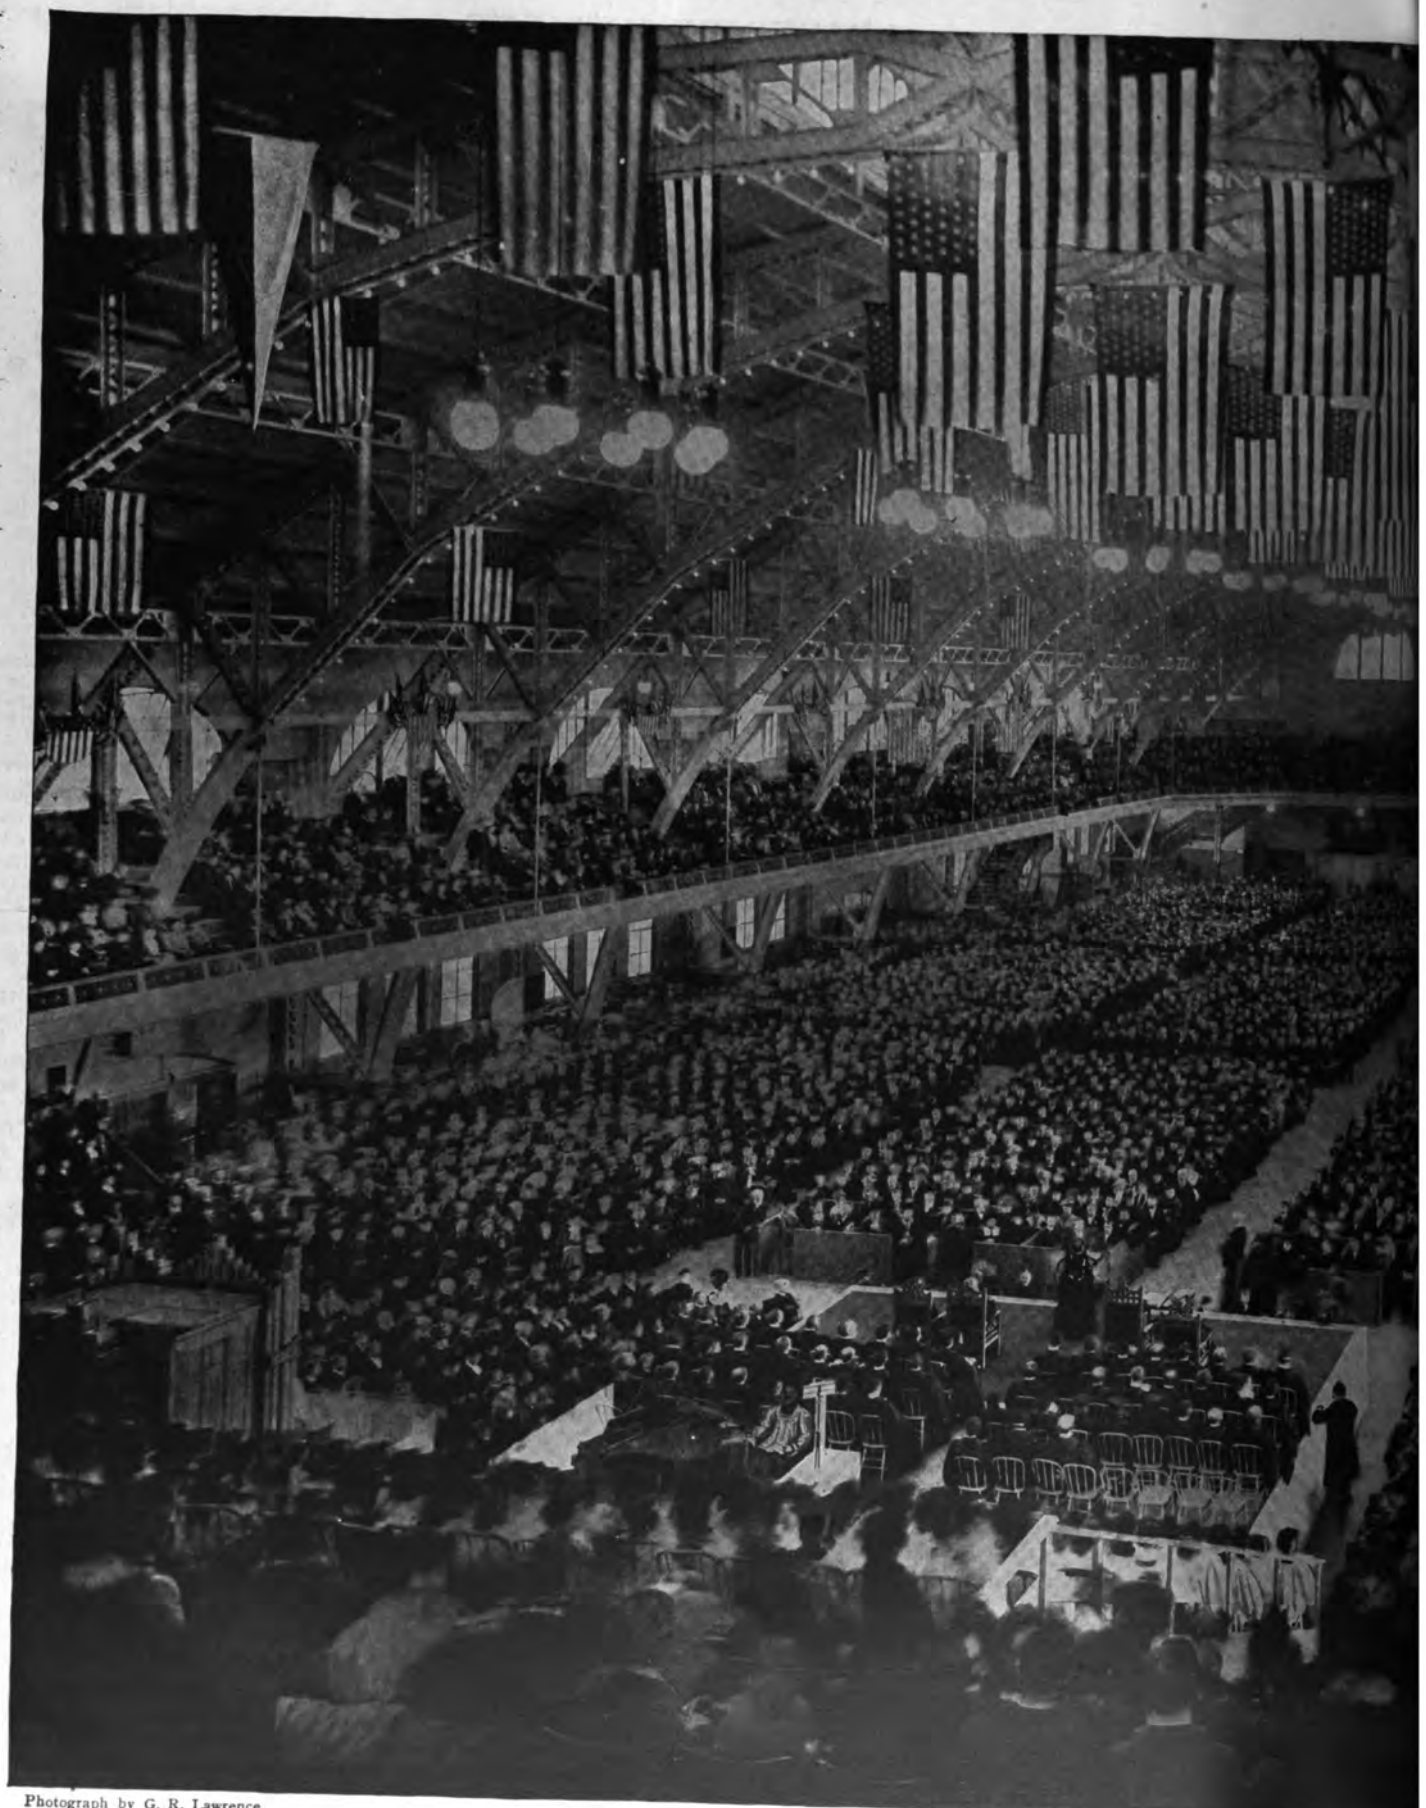
Oh, wondrous Name, by prophets heard
Long years before His birth;
They saw Him coming from afar,
The Prince of Peace on earth.

CHORUS.

The Wonderful! The Counsellor!
The Great and Mighty Lord!
The everlasting Prince of Peace!
The King, the Son of God!

The Scripture lesson was then read from Jeremiah, thirty-first chapter, and the first fifteen verses of Isaiah, the twelfth chapter, by Overseer Speicher, closing with the following prayer:

May God bless His Word.



Prayer was then offered by Overseer Piper.

Overseer Speicher then said:

Address of Welcome on Behalf of Zion in Chicago, by Rev. John G. Speicher, Overseer for Chicago.

"A long time ago, somewhere away back in the other century—and it seems to me a good deal longer than it actually has been—we had a meeting in this room, something similar to the one this evening, only that was a farewell meeting—and this one—(laughter and applause)—I can hardly say what it is. But I am so glad. I know you are all glad with me.

"That was a little over five months ago, and some of us wept then.

"It was somewhat of an experiment for our dear General Overseer to leave his babies such a long time. He had left us for a few days at a time before, and he had come back and found us all here. But there were misgivings on our part about his going away so long a time.

"What if he should never be able to come back?

"To be gone half a year seemed a long, long time. It was a long time to be gone, leaving Zion in the midst of a great and wicked city. But he left us in the care of God Almighty, as we had to leave him in the care of God.

"We have waited for the months to roll away, and the day to come when he should be with us again, and, thank God, that time has come. (Applause.)

"We will soon hear from him something of what he has been doing, and hear of the battles that he has been fighting for the Lord. We have all followed these battles with the utmost interest. We wish we could have been there, and have fought the battles with him.

"But before we give him an opportunity to speak, we have taken this meeting in our own hands tonight and made our own programme. We intend to say a few words.

"I have asked Overseer-at-Large Piper to speak for the work of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, in America at large.

"I have asked Overseer Mason to speak for the foreign work.

"I have asked Elder Tindall to speak for Zion's Educational Institutions.

"I have asked Deacon Barnard and Deacon Judd to speak for Zion City Bank, Zion Land and Investment Association and Zion Lace Industries.

"I have asked Mr. Arthur W. Newcomb to speak for Zion Printing Works, Zion Publishing House, LEAVES OF HEALING, and Zion Publications.

"It is my pleasure tonight to speak of the work in Chicago especially. I feel that our General Overseer will be glad to hear a little in detail of what God has been doing in Zion in his absence.

"You remember, some of you, that just before he went away he said, 'Now I do not expect you to extend the work specially while I am gone; I expect that you will be united and hold your own, but you will not extend the work very much.'

"We did not expect to extend the work very much, but we did intend to do what the Lord would enable us to do; and I am glad to say tonight that God has extended His work very considerably while the General Overseer was away engaged in His work in Europe.

"I wish to speak first for you, my dear friends; of your attendance in the public service in Zion Tabernacle. The people have been especially faithful in this regard. I say to the glory of God, General Overseer, and for the praise of Zion, that the people have been faithful to your admonition and the request that you made of them, and words of exhortation that they should be faithful in attending the services in the House of the Lord. They have done so, and tonight this is only a representative congregation, as to size.

"The morning and evening services have been increased very markedly, thus showing the loyalty of the people to you.

"I desire to say a word about the baptisms during our General Overseer's absence. When he left, the Lord put into my heart to say that we must have 1000 baptisms in America in the six months that he was gone. I am able to report tonight that the number has reached 1040. (Applause.)

"It would only be fair for me to say a word about the outlying Zion Tabernacles. Excellent work has been done on the North, West and South Sides. The congregations have increased everywhere.

"I report an increase of Zion's Tabernacles.

"There is one new Zion Tabernacle on the Southeast Side, at Parkside. We now number ten Tabernacles in Chicago and its suburbs. The demand was so great there that we were compelled to give them a little hall to hold their meetings in. I believe that meets with your approval.

"Concerning the extension of Zion's Seventy work, while perhaps not so many of the Seventies have been engaged in the Seventy work as there were when you were here, yet there have been a larger number engaged in a very definite and practical religious work.

"From about twenty or twenty-five Cottage Meetings when our General Overseer left us, we have now increased to nearly 250 Cottage Meetings in Chicago every week. We believe that God has used these meetings in bringing together larger numbers to the Tabernacle services than would have been brought in in any other way, in his absence.

"I wish to say about Zion Home of Hope and Zion Working Girls' Home, that God has singularly blessed the work during the past year. They have been constantly growing in efficiency. The reports show, in Zion Home of Hope, that of the large number who have entered and have been cared for, nearly all have been converted. There are at this time fifteen babies in Zion Home of Hope, and God has wonderfully blessed and taken care of all the inmates. Many have realized Salvation and Healing under dear Deaconess Paddock's care.

"Zion Working Girls' Home has cared for 101 girls during the year, or since the first of May. God has blessed that Home very largely.

"I wish to speak of an Institution of Zion, General Overseer, which is not yet established—Zion Orphans' Home. God is putting it into the hearts of people more and more to give of their means for the establishing of Zion Orphans' Home. One lady bequeathed what will amount to at least $5,000.

"In behalf of Zion in Chicago, the Headquarters; in behalf of the people here; in behalf of the officers of the Church in Zion; in behalf of all the Institutions, I praise God, not for keeping us only; not only for blessing and enlarging His work here, but for the fact that Zion has proved to the world that this work, founded under God by John Alexander Dowie, our beloved General Overseer, has indeed been founded by God.

"Some wrote to me and said, 'Dr. Dowie has gone away on a vacation to have a good time.' (Laughter.)

"I think that not one of us tonight would want to pass through the 'good time' that he has gone through.

"It has not been an easy time, although it has been a good time with him.

"I am so thankful for what God has done for him. For, do you not think that if he had gone to Europe and come back in perfect quiet; if he had met with no persecution and no mobs, then he would have said, 'Did I not tell you when I got to England they would enforce the laws there?' (Laughter and applause.) Now I believe he will say with me that Chicago is just as good as London. (Applause and laughter.) We have more hopes now of his getting under the Star-Spangled Banner than ever before. (Applause.)

"I believe this is home to him, any way; not that he will stay here, for God will call him to all the Continents of the world to plant Zion everywhere.

"I thank God for what He has done for him and through him in Europe, and I thank God for bringing him back to us so safely tonight. (Amen and applause.)

"May God bless Him."

Welcome on Behalf of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in America, by Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large.

"Bless, our Father, what we have to say, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

"We meet tonight on what seems to me to be a momentous occasion.

"The Christian Catholic Church in Zion, born of the Spirit of God in the closing decade of the Nineteenth Century, was, in all probability, and was certainly in the ecclesiastical world, the greatest event in that century. It is quite fitting that we should have such an occasion as this to usher in the Twentieth Century, which, under God, will be the greatest century that the world has seen since the creation of man.

"I believe that as officers and members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion we have reason tonight to congratulate ourselves, to thank God, and to take courage for the remarkable work that God has been able to do through our beloved General Overseer in his absence from us in Europe, and for the blessing He has given to us in America during that absence.

"As one looks out over this vast audience and allows the inspiration for the moment to bring up to mind the historic events which might be classified under this same general head; as he looks around at the flags and banner which represent the two greatest nations upon the face of the globe, and the mightiest and strongest organization ecclesiastically that the world has ever seen, many are the memories and suggestions historically which come floating into one's mind.

"The flag, in all generations, has in a large measure been the emblem of war.

"I thank God for the warrior He has given us in Zion, who carries not the sword of steel, but the Sword of the Spirit. (Amen. Applause.)

"I rejoice for the fact that the Sword of the Spirit in his hands was plunged clear through my heart. Thousands, at least hundreds of you, rejoice that it pierced through yours. (Amen.)

"It is not a very common thing in the history of the Church for such an ovation as this to be tendered to any man.

"We were very much interested, the eleven of us who went out from Chicago as far as Michigan City today, to meet the General Overseer. I was reminded of the time when the brethren went out from the City of Rome as far as the Market of Appius to meet the Apostle Paul.

"We rejoice tonight in the homecoming of our General Overseer as much as it was possible for the members of the early Church in the City of Rome to rejoice over the coming of the Apostle Paul. (Amen.)

"Time would fail me to tell you of the events in history when great ovations have been tendered to warriors who have returned from the field of carnage and from bloody warfare. The remarkable difference between those ovations and this one is that they assembled to pay tribute to men who went out to do battle to send men's souls either to heaven or to hell—perhaps in the majority of cases to hell—whereas our General Overseer has returned, having fought the good fight of faith, to win men for God, and to start them on the way to heaven. (Amen.)

"I remember of reading of the time when John Knox returned to Scotland in the darkest days of Scotland's history. When he landed on Scottish soil, the word was passed from lip to lip, and from house to house, and from city to city, and from street to street, 'John Knox has come. John Knox has come.'

"When John Alexander Dowie landed in Boston, the word went up, 'Dowie is in America,' and Zion said, 'The General Overseer has landed. Thank God he is here again.' (Amen. Applause.)

"When we landed in Michigan City, we had been there only a short time when a newspaper reporter, one of those omnipresent fellows (laughter) who have done so much altogether unintentionally on their part to advertise Zion, came up. About a dozen of them were waiting at the Illinois Central Depot. They were crowding one another this way and that way to get at him. The word has gone through Zion, through the City of Chicago, and tomorrow, in all probability, the papers will publish it all over the United States, that Dr. Dowie has been given a royal reception by the members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, in Chicago, and by the members who have come from outside points.

"I rejoice tonight with you in the fact that God has brought him back well and strong. (Amen.)

"And may He spare him to us yet many years. (Amen.)

"When we first heard the report that the Banner was torn to pieces, we were all sorry; but I rejoice tonight that the Banner which has gone through a number of conflicts has come out intact.

"I recall an event in the Revolutionary War, in the history of this country. When, in the siege of Fort Moultrie, the American flag was shot down, Colonel Jasper leaped over the ramparts and clutching it, fastened it in its place again. His name has gone down in history as a courageous character.

"I rejoice tonight that in the midst of all the conflicts, and in the midst of all the hatred that the Devil has tried to hurl against Zion, the Banner of Zion comes back borne by the warrior-in-chief.

"We rejoice tonight in his homecoming, and we praise God for the fact that he is among us, and for the fact that he will lead the hosts of Zion on to greater victory. (Amen.)

"The Overseer for Chicago has unfortunately stolen a little of my thunder. (Laughter.) I wanted a chance to say, too, that the 'government of the people, by the people and for the people' is not such a bad thing after all. (Laughter and applause.) I agree with the General Overseer that the principle is a selfish one, but I do not think he has had quite so hard a time of it in Chicago as he did in Great Britain. It only demonstrates this fact: that the Devil is the same, whether on British or American soil.

"I read in the newspapers that Joel Stevens had gone to Boston to hinder the landing of the General Overseer. (Laughter.)

"Of all the fools either living or dead, I think he is the supremest I know. (Laughter.)

"I thought, if they had not let the General Overseer land in America, and they sent him back to Great Britain, and they would not let him land there (laughter), what a delightful time he would have traveling across the water. (Laughter.)

"It would be all the worse for America and Great Britain, but it would be a great deal better for the ship's crew.

"When the General Overseer went away, he left me a delightful inheritance: Mansfield! (Laughter and applause.)

"A most delightful inheritance!

"A little den of rattlesnakes!

"Whenever they heard of a 'Dowie Elder,' as they said, Mayor Brown just opened the cage and said, 'Go for them.'

"Thanks be unto God who hath given us the victory in Mansfield! (Amen.) I thank God for your encouragement and coöperation, and I am especially grateful to God for the loyalty of the officers during the Mansfield fight whose portraits appear in the Christmas number of LEAVES OF HEALING.

"Let me remind you not only of that victory, but of the tremendous victory which God gave Zion in connection with the fight over the admission of the Lace Experts.

"Let me also remind you of the fact that since the beginning of the persecutions in the City of Chicago, running all through these years; that in the midst of mob after mob, lie after lie, persecution after persecution; let it be said tonight to the glory of God, that in the midst of all these, without a single exception, God has universally given Zion the victory! (Amen.)

"Never has she lost a single battle.

"She will not lose as long as she continues true to the teachings of him who under God has founded the Church.

"Never will she lose a battle as long as we are faithful to King Immanuel, and obey the teachings and the dictates of the Spirit of God.

"On behalf of the Church at large, I should like to say that the work has gone on steadily. Application after application for fellowship has come in. Men and women have been saved and born into the Kingdom of God. They have been healed.

"Zion Literature has taken a tremendous sweep onward.

"God bless the Message in LEAVES OF HEALING!

"I do not like to close for the reason that this will be my last chance for some time. (Laughter and applause.)

"It is perfectly delightful to preach to a large audience, especially when some other man has gotten it together for you. (Laughter.) Yet I am sure I speak the truth when I say that I shall most gladly remain silent during the weeks and months to come and listen to a man who can talk.

"I thank you who are members of the Church in the City of Chicago for your loyalty to the General Overseer, which you have manifested in your loyalty to those whom he has left in charge. We rejoice in what He has done for us during these months that are past.

"As one who has been born into the Kingdom of God through the ministry of our General Overseer, I again say that I rejoice in his homecoming. What little I may ever amount to in the Kingdom of God, I think I may as well say to his face as to his back, I shall owe it all to God under John Alexander Dowie. (Amen. Applause.)

"I rejoice in what he is to me. I rejoice in what he is to you. I rejoice in what he shall be to you and to the multitudes who are yet unborn into the Kingdom of God.

"I ought not to forget to remind you of the fact that no man, especially a man who has stood strongly for God, is ever appreciated in a very large degree by the world at large, until he has passed away. I am sure that the time will come, and it has already come, when even the world itself begins to understand the man better because they know his Message better.

"May the day soon come when tens of thousands of people where we now have a thousand, or even one, shall want to know the Message which God has been delivering through our General Overseer to the world.

"God hasten that day.

"Now with a heart full of thanks that the General Overseer is back, and again thanking you for the loyalty and coöperation and fidelity to the truth of God, as the representative of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion at large, I welcome back to the platform of Central Zion Tabernacle our beloved General Overseer, and may God forever bless you." (Applause.)

The General Overseer at this point arose and read a telegram which conveyed the news that the latest party of Lace Experts, arriving at Portland, Maine, had been admitted to the United States by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Overseer Mason then said:

Welcome on Behalf of the Orient, by Rev. George L. Mason, Overseer in the Christian Catholic Church for China.

"I speak as a representative of the ancient people who number, perhaps, one-fourth of the human race.

"I can say very little, but I must say a word or two and personally state how LEAVES OF HEALING, the truth, reached me four years ago, and went through my heart, showed me my own defects and my own sins, and sometimes brought me down literally on the floor of my study in tears. I often, after reading, confessed to God, arose and went out with a new love to God and a tenderer love to man.

"It was that same LEAVES OF HEALING that came to us one morning about 5 o'clock, two years ago last December. We were at the port of Shangahai for a few days, and as we eagerly opened the paper early in the morning, my eye fell on that address of the General Overseer to Zion's Seventies. The sweet words of that Message, "Peace Be to This House," although not a direct Message to me, yet were used to call me out of apostasy, for the Holy Spirit so interpreted it.

"We did not that morning know that meant surely that we should come into the Christian Catholic Church in Zion As I read it aloud, my whole being was filled with joy with the Message.

"We said, 'We must resign. We must do it now.' We resigned; sent the letters that day. Then we went back to our inland station, and it will be two years in a few days when again the Holy Spirit in the morning seemed to teach me the second step, as I opened the Book of Jeremiah and my eyes fell on the command:

"Call unto Me, and I will answer thee, and will shew thee great things, and difficult, which thou knowest not."

"As quick as a flash it came to my mind, 'That is Zion. That is the Christian Catholic Church.'

"I rushed upstairs. I consulted my wife, and before breakfast we had filled out our applications. That day we had them started to Chicago.

"I thank God from my heart for the blessing it has been to myself and family.

"Now about China. There your brothers and sisters, many of them, are besotted with tobacco and alcohol and opium, worshiping demons and deceived by demons, not knowing God. I thank God that He has shed abroad His love in the heart of our beloved General Overseer so that he is able to take in the needs of the greatest nation of heathendom, the most compact and terrible of all the forces of heathenism in the world. The General Overseer has taken it in his heart and in his mind.

"I never heard such a clear, forcible and thorough presentation of the question of the far East as the General Overseer gave us for an hour and three-quarters in Zion Home to a little company of thirty or forty people.

"I have the pleasure of reporting, beloved General Overseer, that the work has taken root in Japan and in China.

"Dear Brother Cairns in Japan has shown himself a good soldier of the Cross, fighting the good fight, and in an humble and joyous spirit spreading the work. He knows that Zion cannot quickly take up with men until they are tested.

"In China, also, we have the great joy of now having among our workers Mr. and Mrs. Cossum. Mr. Cossum is a man of great power, who is ready to be ground fine in the mill of Zion. He is waiting for orders. He is enduring the hardships as a good soldier.

"Elder Viking, in Shanghai, has published Zion tracts, taught native preachers, and made a good start.

"I believe that God will do great things through the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in China because of the Full Gospel she presents, and more than that, because of the presence of the Holy Spirit in the work.

"I thank God for the feeling which is getting deeper and deeper into our hearts, that the work of Zion is one. It is not local merely. It is not Chicago. It is not America merely, but the whole world for which Christ died. The success of one Zion officer is the success and joy of the whole. The failure and disappointment of one is the sorrow of all our hearts. Zion is one.

"I thank you for your earnest prayers for the Chinese people.

"General Overseer, your name in Chinese is Dao Iah-an. That is 'Dowie John.' We always begin in the proper way in the Chinese. We always put the most important part first.

"That name is a household word in not a few Chinese families. We trust that you are planning and that Zion people will be praying that God will help in some way the solution of the great question how Chinese Christians may get rice to eat and still do right. The same thing confronts the people there that meets the Zion people here, only in a worse way."

Welcome on Behalf of Zion's Educational Institutions, by Elder O. L. Tindall, Principal of Zion Ministerial Training School.

"Beloved General Overseer, I am happy to represent to you tonight the schools of Zion, Zion Educational Institutions in her three departments. Zion in that department is a trinity. We have the Junior Department, and we have the Preparatory Department, and the Ministerial Department.

"Our subject is not quite so large as that of the Overseer for Chicago. It is not so large as that of the Overseer-at-Large. Our subject is not as large as that of the Overseer for China. If we should graduate our speech in proportion to the size of our subject, it would be very short, but if we should graduate it according to its importance, General Overseer, it would be quite as long as any.

"We are most happy to extend to you our gratitude and love for your return. We were very sorry when we learned your disappointment, I suppose, in not being able to stand on the Mount of Olives on the first day of this New Century. At the same time, we felt compensated, in a measure, in the thought that we would see you at home so much sooner. We felt like saying, as the brethren said to Paul when they exhorted him earnestly not to go up to Jerusalem, and he persisted in going: 'The Lord's will be done.'

"When you went away, we felt as if you had left us orphans. Yet it was not altogether so. Jesus said to the disciples when they mourned His departure, that He would not leave them comfortless. We are grateful to God and to you that you left us a very good recompense in the person of our Overseer-at-Large. (Applause.)

"Zion College wishes to say that he has been very faithful to his trust. He has looked after us with a jealous eye. He has scrubbed us considerably, too. (Laughter.) We are grateful for that.

"We have missed, General Overseer, those very excellent and helpful Lectures on Prayer while you have been gone. Perhaps it has been well in this respect; we have had a good opportunity to put into practice what you have taught us in regard to prayer. I trust we have not been altogether negligent in that respect.

"Zion College, as Zion in all her other departments, has been growing. God has been blessing us.

"I feel to take shelter under what you taught us, and remember very distinctly in regard to prayer, that true prayer was never fully expressed in words.

"I feel, General Overseer, tonight, as I stand here to express the feelings not only of my department, but also of the other deparments, that it is true words are too weak. We cannot express our feelings of gratitude for your return and for the many blessings which we have already personally received in Zion. We are very thankful to God, and wish to extend to you our most hearty welcome."

Welcome on Behalf of Zion City Bank and Zion Lace Industries, by Deacon Charles J. Barnard, Cashier.

"General Overseer, this is indeed a happy reunion.

"Ever since the day you last stood upon this platform and bade your people be of good courage and fight the fight of faith, we have not ceased to pray for you, that your mission in the foreign lands would be blessed, and that thousands would be saved and healed through your Message. We thank God tonight, and we praise His Name that those prayers have been answered. We believe thousands have been saved and blessed.

"You have been welcomed home by those who represent the ecclesiastical and educational departments of Zion, I welcome you home as the representative of Zion City Bank.

"I remember a meeting which you held in Oak Park some years ago, in which you talked about obedience. I had been in Zion but a short time.

"You looked straight at me and said, 'Deacon Barnard, I believe that if I should say the word now, you would leave your position in the Commercial National Bank and go where I tell you.'

"I said, 'I would, Doctor.'

"It was not long after that when I was called up on the telephone, and you gave me that call. You called me out from a bank in which I had been engaged for thirty years. My friends often told me that I was very foolish. They often went so far as to tap their heads, as if to say, 'Well, it is too bad.' (Laughter.)

"I thank God that I obeyed that call. The six years which I have spent in Zion have not only been the most profitable years of my life, but they have been the most happy years.

"The business men of Chicago, beloved General Overseer, have said, 'We know nothing about Dr. Dowie's religion, but we do believe that he is a first-class business man.' (Laughter and applause.) One banker, a man who has held high positions of trust and responsibility, not only in some of the leading banks, but of the United States Government, told me just before you left for Europe, in speaking of Zion, and of Zion City more especially: 'Barnard, Dr. Dowie has got the biggest thing in America today.' I said, 'I believe it.' There are others who believe it, too.

"I rejoice that I can welcome you home in behalf of the 3000 customers of Zion City Bank and the many shareholders in Zion Lace Industries.

"I believe that the coming years in which God will permit us to work together will be the best years of our lives, because we have now the forces behind us, and God with us. I believe, under God, greater things will be accomplished for God in Zion under your leadership than have ever been accomplished before.

"I give you a hearty welcome tonight, and may God bless you." (Applause.)

Welcome on Behalf of Zion Land and Investment Association, by Deacon H. Worthington Judd, Secretary and General Manager.

"Beloved General Overseer, the words which I can utter can but feebly express the joy which it gives me to welcome you home. We have longed for your return. We have missed your wise counsel, your words of cheer and encouragement, as well as your well-directed words of reproof, especially along spiritual lines. We also feel to rejoice that God has given you such glorious victories for Christ and the Full Gospel in Europe.

"We realize that it is the entering wedge of Zion, whose teaching must soon pervade that whole Continent and bring joy and peace to thousands of misguided hearts.

"Sometimes during your absence it has seemed as if an impenetrable barrier would appear across our pathway. Then the thought would come, 'How much better we should know how to overcome this obstacle if our General Overseer were only with us.'

"Then we saw the necessity of trusting God and taking new courage, feeling that although you were absent in body, you were with us in spirit, and your voice was ascending to God's Throne in supplication for us. We remembered your words of warning, not to allow fear to get into our hearts, and, thank God, it has never entered for a single moment. I am pleased to welcome you tonight in behalf of the officers and employees of Zion Land and Investment Association. I am sure there is nothing but joy in every one of our hearts at your homecoming. May God ever bless and preserve you and enable you to accomplish great things for the upbuilding of His Kingdom and the establishment of Zion City this year." (Applause.)

Welcome on Behalf of Zion Printing Works, Zion Publishing House and Zion Publications, by Arthur W. Newcomb, Manager and Assistant Editor.

"Beloved General Overseer, on the 9th of August of last year, after I came back from the train where I had bidden you farewell, I sat down at my desk and thought: 'What will LEAVES OF HEALING do now?'

"I remembered the long hours of toil, night after night, every week, which you had given to that paper.

"I remembered the wonderful things you had been able to do during those hours of labor, on LEAVES OF HEALING.

"The thought came, 'Now he is gone. Now he cannot give that time to the paper.' I could not see, for the moment, what would become of LEAVES OF HEALING.

"Then I thought: 'The General Overseer has gone, but, thank God, I have his Message, pages upon pages, and I can use that.'

"I have reason to thank God for the words which he spoke six years ago to a little company of people back in Divine Healing Home No. 1.

"I thank God especially for the words which he spoke in the Hall of Seventies to a few students and members of the Church. During his absence, these words, folded away in typewritten pages, have been brought to light through the Little White Dove, and thousands and tens of thousands—yes, I believe hundreds of thousands all over the earth—have received the blessed truth they taught.

"Through LEAVES OF HEALING the General Overseer speaks every week to by far his largest audience.

"My heart is full of thanksgiving to God tonight that I can report that LEAVES OF HEALING has gone forward. When you went away, General Overseer, the presses in Zion Printing Works turned out about 20,000 papers every week. Now they turn out 40,000. Each paper, at a conservative estimate, is read by five persons. That means 200,000 readers. An audience of 200,000 people hear, through the Little White Dove, the words of the Message of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living every week! What can that mean? When one copy of LEAVES OF HEALING has brought Salvation and Healing and Cleansing and Joy and Peace and Prosperity to families and scores of families, what can 40,000 copies of LEAVES OF HEALING every week do? We cannot comprehend it.

"I thank God for the loyal coöperation of all those in Zion Printing Works and Zion Publishing House. They have served God in their daily work. They have gone forward with a true interest in their work which has made management a joy.

"I also thank God for the kindness and coöperation of the Overseers and Elders and members of the Church, and of those in the Financial Departments with whom I have been in contact.

"I thank God that your prayers have been with Zion Printing Works. I have been able to feel their sustaining power through many a long hour of labor. I know that but for your prayers we certainly must have fallen many times.

"Speaking for myself, this is the first opportunity I have had to say a word about what God did for me through our General Overseer. He digged me from an awful pit. I was a daily newspaper reporter. (Laughter.) I think it was a miracle that a daily newspaper reporter should ever become Assistant Editor of LEAVES OF HEALING. I thank God and our General Overseer for it.

"On behalf of Zion Printing Works and Zion Publishing House and LEAVES OF HEALING, I welcome you home with a heart full of love." (Applause.)

Overseer Speicher then said:

"There might be a great deal more said, but perhaps we have all said too much and taken a good deal of time, for this is a rare occasion in Zion when the General Overseer sits still and listens to us. I am sure we are all aching to hear him speak. (Applause.) We will be glad now to hear the General Overseer's side of the story." (Applause.)

The General Overseer said:

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and profitable to these, our beloved people, and to all to whom these words shall come, everywhere, for Christ's sake. Amen.

Now—— (Enthusiastic and prolonged applause, the audience rising to its feet and waving handkerchiefs.)

I think you all know what I mean. I am on my native heath again.

I suppose you have not seen anybody walk up and down that platform like this. (Laughter and applause.)

We Are Old Friends.

I asked the Overseers that tonight the audience should consist entirely of our own people, so that it would be a family gathering. Of course I know the whole family is not here, because it is impossible to get the family here at any one meeting like this. Either the wife or the husband has to stay home and take care of the little folks. Besides, it is a very cold night, and the distances are very great, and they all expect to be here on that day "when congregations ne'er break up and Sabbaths never end." (Laughter.)

Next Lord's Day is to be a royal day, you know. We will begin in the morning and go right through for a good day.

The difficulty with me would be to know where to end, if I began at certain points. There is just one great thought in my heart first of all, and that is that if a total stranger were here who knew nothing about this work, he would be startled to be told that as an organization the Christian Catholic Church in Zion is not quite five years old! Yet in that time what hath God wrought?

It has pleased God to permit me to found all the Institutions on behalf of which these brethren have welcomed me home.

I have had the loyal coöperation of those who have been blessed under my ministry; for as you have heard tonight, nearly all of them acknowledge my paternity. I am glad to be their spiritual father.

Five years is a short time in the history of the human race. It was remarked very frequently in England, both in the religious and secular press, when announcing my coming, that the Christian Catholic Church in Zion and my poor little self were the most remarkable things in connection with the ecclesiastical, social and even political life of the closing century.

Zion and Her General Overseer the Principal Topic of Interest in London Clubs.

For instance, in one of the great society papers in London, devoted to fashion and to club gossip, and to all the aristocratic fads, appeared this article: "This week has been a remarkable one in the history of the club," said the writer. "The C. I. V. (that is, the City Imperial Volunteers) filling all the City of London have returned to get the greatest multitude that ever appeared in the streets of London, but it will not be a surprise for our readers to hear that in the clubs it has not been the C. I. V.'s and their return that have been most discussed, but that remarkable little man, Dr. Dowie, and his meetings at St. Martin's Town Hall." (Applause and laughter.)

Zion was the talk of the clubs. Zion was the talk of Society from the palace to the hovel. Zion stirred the city. Sometimes when we would drive up to St. Martin's Town Hall, we would find many thousands of people outside, filling a great part of Trafalgar Square. You would almost think that they were in perpetual session, because they were there in the afternoon, and they were there in the evening. They were there when we went in, and they were there when we came out. Then we had the Chorus from Guy's Hospital. That is what they call it—a very appropriate name. (Laughter.)

Sometimes there would be thousands of students about the hall.

I do not intend to talk tonight about the battles we have fought. What I have to say in detail regarding them will be said in LEAVES OF HEALING.

I desire to say that, by the grace of God—for I want to put my own personality out of sight for a moment, yet I cannot entirely do so because I was the fellow around whom the whole thing turned—wherever we went, the city and the land were stirred

There was something peculiar about it.

They did not want to write about us, perhaps, or talk, but they had to. On every man's mouth and lips would be Zion and Dowie. Continually you would read it in the papers, and find it in the public omnibuses and in the pulpits and on the platforms. There was a continual reference to me up to the time I left, and I do not think they have forgotten me yet. (Laughter and applause.)

I thank God that I had the joy of carrying with me the flags of these two great Anglo-Saxon nations: the British Empire and the American Republic; but between them and over them I carried that blessed Banner of Zion. (Applause.)

That Banner above the choir is the Banner we have planted in five great countries: England, Scotland, Ireland, France and Switzerland, and indirectly in more than ten other countries, during the past five months.

It would be tedious to recall all the incidents or to attempt to. It would take weeks and years to do it. But everywhere amongst the apostate churches there was a fear of Zion. They were afraid as to what this preaching would bring about. They said, "This man's words and his work split up everything in connection with the churches."

Thank God it was so. (Amen. Applause.)

The Difficult Task of Awakening London's Seven Millions of People Was Accomplished.

It is hard to awaken the people in these old countries where populations are so densely packed. In the City of London alone there are more people than there are in the State of Illinois by two millions. Greater London now has seven millions of people. It is something to be able to awaken the great mass of 7,000,000 people and set them all thinking and talking; but we did it, by the Grace of God. The Lord did it through us, and the principles for which we stood are now well known.

There was a good deal of contention over the announcement of the Messenger of the Covenant. As things went on, however, men began to say, "He is preaching, for the first time in many centuries, the Kingdom of God itself—Salvation, Healing and Holy Living. Who can object, if the signs follow?"

The signs did follow.

People would ask the meaning of the seven or eight things which I wrote in my little card.

We found that the churches, the apostate denominations on every side, were dead.

Spurgeon's Tabernacle used to seat nearly 5000. When they reconstructed it upon the old site, the congregations had been diminishing. How many seats have they now, do you think, in that largest Baptist Tabernacle in the world? It seats 200 less than this Central Zion Tabernacle. It only seats 2900. In order to fill up the space, they widened the distance between the pews, and made things more comfortable for the people.

When we arranged this place, we wondered if we could make it do with a little less room between. (Laughter.)

Some people thought I was rather pushing the thing in having two galleries. Indeed, Dr. Speicher was wholly antagonistic to that upper gallery.

Overseer Speicher—"I had ten good reasons for not building the upper gallery."

General Overseer—And what did they amount to? (Laughter.)

What would we have done without the upper gallery? What would we do next Sabbath Day without the upper gallery? You know that if all our own dear people were to come, they would not be able to get into this Tabernacle at any one time. Think of the thousands whom we have frequently turned away because there was not even standing room.

One remarkable thing that struck me in going along the line of our Mission in Europe was that there was a great deal of preparedness for us. The people had been preparing for months. The ministers had been trying to get their people not to come, but if sheep know where to find good water and good grass, some way or another the sheep come in flocks, and so it was.

Zion's Greatest Work Has Been That Which Cannot be Tabulated.

It is not the amount of work which can be tabulated which has had greatest effect in the Mission in Europe, because the greater part of the work cannot be tabulated.

It is true that we have baptized hundreds of people.

It is true that we have had audiences where in many cases the people could not begin to get into the building.

It is true that we have come through great conflicts when life was threatened and in great danger for weeks together.

It is true that a vast amount of literature has been circulated, and that large numbers of persons have entered into fellowship with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

It is true that the principles of Zion have been established, and that multitudes are desiring to know more of how we can combine so many things in one organization and not go mad.

They cannot understand how one poor little head like mine should be able to carry it all. They cannot understand how a man can devise and continue to carry out, and have his hand upon the helm all the time, even thousands of miles away.

Although I let these dear brethren do their respective parts, my hand was ready, if it had been necessary, to be upon the tiller, and to turn the whole ship in an instant. Once or twice I did it. I never lost sight of the work here for one moment. I oftentimes refused to give advice when they asked it. I said to myself, "I intend to see what my helpers will do without my giving advice. (Laughter.) I will see what they would do, if, instead of my being in Europe, I had gone to heaven."

Accordingly, when they looked at the pyramid, they saw the Sphinx. When they looked at the Sphinx, it was silent.

Overseer Speicher—"Spoke never a word."

General Overseer—Not a word. I watched to see what they would do, and as they nearly always went right without my saying anything, I felt it would be all right if I should go to heaven. In fact, you have given me such an excellent account of what you have done while I have been away that I have been rather sorry that I came back so soon. (Applause.)

I have been thinking whether you would like me to go again very soon; whether you would like me to go away next month?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—But I am not going. (Applause.)

But I did not say I was not going at any time. I think you will see with me, as this work develops, that

The General Overseer Must Give Some Portion of Every Year to the Nations Beyond.

I think you will all say Amen to that.

Voices—"Amen."

General Overseer—One of the most remarkable things was when I had climbed up to the foothills of the Alps at Zurich. I went to the top of the Uetliberg, near Zurich. The day before had been a very dull day, and there was still a great deal of mist around the Alps, but when I got to the top of the mountain, 2500 feet high, I had one of the grandest views of that wondrous Chain of Snowclad Mountains. God was so good to us that He brought down the beautiful curtain of mist from the Alps and showed us everything in that vast Semi-circular Panorama of Glory.

I looked at the lakes which flow into the Rhine, and these mountains which are the great watersheds of Europe. I looked upon the faces of the strong Swiss people. The next day, when I stood in the Tribunal—I stood in the place where the Chief Justice sits—I looked upon an audience which perfectly astonished me.

Where had they come from? They were crowding that building to overflowing.

When I began to find out whence they came, I found that they came from nearly every Canton in Switzerland; that they came from many parts of Germany; that they came from France; that they came from Austria; that they came from Buda-Pesth, Hungary; that they came from Italy; that some of them came from the northern part of Africa; that some of them came from the Islands of the Mediterranean Sea.

I was astonished to find myself in the midst of an audience assembled in the City of Zurich in which there were persons of high rank: judges, princes, lawyers, merchants and aristocrats. While I was speaking through an interpreter, more than half the audience knew English before it was turned into German. We had a glorious time.

When I had climbed to the highest point which I reached in Europe, I found the greatest blessing.

When at the close I asked those who had received Zion's doctrine to stand, there was not one single person sitting, so far as we could see. I did not see one.

Captain Stern, you were sitting on the platform; did you see one?

Captain Stern—"Not one."

General Overseer—It was not because I had given them eau-de-cologne or soft-soap. I spoke plainly about the things which Zion stands against.

I learned one German expression: "Rauchen verboten." (Laughter.) What is that in German?

Voices—"Smoking forbidden."

General Overseer—Then I got it in French. I got it in Italian. I got hundreds and thousands of these people to give up the things which defile their spirits, souls and bodies. They received Zion's Doctrine of Purity for spirit, soul and body.

Great Value of Deaconess Breiger's Work.

In Zurich, I think, we had our greatest success; because when they scattered they went back to all the countries, and planted the Standard of Zion in Baden, in Gratz, Buda-Pesth, and many other places, including Meran, from which our beloved sister Deaconess Brieger came. I believe that it was her faithful work, as my Assistant Editor, and the Translator of LEAVES OF HEALING into the beautiful edition which I send forth called BLATTER DER HEILUNG, which had helped to bring together the nucleus. These brought others, until, I believe more than twenty countries were blessed.

From these Alpine heights the Water of Life was sent streaming down into the valleys of the Rhine, and indeed through all Europe, and across the Mediterranean to Africa.

May the River keep on flowing forever.

We have had one place where we have not been able to do much; that is in poor, stricken France. Yet, perhaps, what we have not been able to do in France will tell more than all that we have done in Europe put together.

I do not wish to talk about this now. The great sorrow that shadowed our home and well-nigh ended my wife's life as well as her sister's, took me swiftly from the north of England by a very rapid journey, day and night, to St. Cloud, near Paris.

God instantly used me. I showed my wife what I tell you now: that God had nothing to do with the death of our beloved sister; that it was the Devil's work, root and branch. Her death was the result of an act, not on her part, but that of another, which was not wilfully done, but which was the direct cause of her departure.

I showed my wife that in a flash. Whatever else I may not be able to do or say, in connection with Divine Healing and all that belongs to it, I have been given the Light of Heaven to see the truth. In a moment I showed it to my wife. It was the truth which set her free. (Amen.)

When she saw that God had nothing to do with it, saw it clearly, then she was able to hear the Voice of the Advocate, who is also the Comforter. Quickly she turned to me and said, "You are right. I will do what you tell me."

I said, "Get right up out of this bed, and come down and have something to eat."

I am very practical. I had her up. I had her out the next day. I had her in the carriage the next day. I made her laugh. She said, "Why do you make me laugh?"

I said, "You know that if I did not do a little laughing, I would break my heart."

She did not think she would ever laugh any more, but she has done a great deal of laughing since then.

We have been glad to know that God had nothing to do with the departure of that beautiful life, although God permitted. That life was not designed to be taken away in that way. It would not have been, had things been as they ought to have been. Into that I shall not enter further than to say it is true.

Overseer Jane Dowie in as Good Health as at Any Time for Twenty-Five Years.

My wife has a very clear mind; in fact, she says it is like mine, and that our heads are the same shape, only that mine is a little bigger. That is the reason why we, for the most part, see eye to eye together.

I know you will be glad to know that Mrs. Dowie has entirely gotten over all her prostration. She accompanied me in my last trip across the Channel to England. She was with me in my final meetings, and bravely stood in the front in one of the fiercest of battles. She was with me to the end, when we came out in perfect peace. She has gone back to St. Cloud, near Paris, to remain there for the winter with my dear daughter, and to pursue certain studies which can only be pursued successfully, as it seemed to us, in Paris. These are studies in connection with French and other matters which will be of great value by and by to my dear ones in helping me to conduct correspondence, and to understand the work to be done in France.

Overseer Dowie is now in as good health as I have ever seen her during the last twenty-five years. (Applause.)

She is sure to come back this year, because the 26th day of May next is our Silver Wedding, and you could not keep her away from me then for anything. , (Laughter.) In fact I would go for her myself if she did not come.

As the years have rolled on I have learned to understand my wife better. This sorrow has had this good result, that I said to her, "I have given up Palestine for your sake, and I will stay close by you. We will discuss the whole of God's work in Zion."

We discussed the work, and what part she would take in it in the future. It took away every bit of sorrow to discuss what she would do with the new strength which God would give her.

When I offered her the post of Overseer of all the Women's Work in Zion she bowed her head, she waited a moment or two, and then she looked me in the face and said, "You are the General Overseer, and if you command me to do it, I will have to obey. If you will pray for me, I believe God will help me to do it." (Amen.)

Accordingly I ordained her in London as an Overseer, especially to be the friend and helper of all the women Elders and Evangelists and Deaconesses, and to oversee the work in connection with Zion Homes of Hope for Erring Women and for Working Girls, and all matters which specially apply to women. While she will be the first woman Overseer, she will, probably, not be the last. Pray that God will bless her in this great work.

The Christian Catholic Church About to Enter Upon a New Unfolding.

This Church has been very much alive since the beginning. We thank God that the plans and purposes and prospects of Zion are brighter than they ever were.

I do not think, Deacon Barnard, that there is any business man down town now who touches his head when he looks at you, and says that you made a mistake. Are they saying that still?

Deacon Barnard—"No."

General Overseer—They are not saying that to you, are they, Deacon Judd?

Deacon Judd—"No."

General Overseer—That day has gone by.

A man in London said to me, "Would you mind telling me what you paid for the land of Zion City Site?"

I said, "No; it is a matter of public record." Then I told him.

He said, "Do you mean to say that you bought two and a half miles of lake front on Lake Michigan, and all that vast area of land, and it did not cost you over $200 an acre?"

I said, "Yes."

"When did you do it?" he asked.

I said, "I did it while I was engaged in the Holy War." (Laughter and applause.)

No man in Chicago would ever have dreamed that I was at that time carrying to completion the largest real estate transaction, barring none, which any one has undertaken in Chicago. There is no other one man, not even Rockefeller, Astor, Vanderbilt, or Pullman, who has undertaken to purchase 6500 acres of land near to Chicago for the building of a city. I did that, however, and whipped the Devil three times each day throughout those months of Holy War. (Laughter and applause.)

I had it out with the Devil at Hammond, Oak Park, and West Side Zion Tabernacle. I had a large portion of the police force of the city out to take care of us.

Who would have dreamed that I could have been engaged in such a transaction?

But we had thought it out. I had gotten my Business Cabinet together, and we had been doing things for months. But we did not tell everybody. You know I did not even tell you, and you did not ask, because you felt that the secret was best locked in our hearts.

The Enormous Value of Zion City Site.

The result was, then, that we purchased 6500 acres of land for less than $1,200,000. That man said to me, "I know Chicago, and I know Milwaukee, and I know just where the railway passes through your land. We were talking about your land the other day, and do you know what we value it at?"

I said, "No; I would like to know."

He replied, "Without an acre being sold, we value your land as a City Site at $1,500 an acre, which would make the value of the whole $9,750,000."

We have the opinion of real estate men and a railway man, that Zion actually made a profit amounting to eight and one-half million dollars. That is very good for one day's work, is it not? (Laughter.)

I asked this same man, "What do you think Zion Lace Industries are worth?"

"What are they worth?" he exclaimed. "With sixty-five per cent duty, and expert men to teach the business; with men of that kind to manage it, and a great clientele like yours to back you up, and to do everything that you like to ask them"—

I said, "I do not know that they do that. I would have to ask them to do right things. I could not ask them to do anything wrong."

He said, "You would persuade them." (Laughter.)

"They are very bright, clear-headed people," I replied. "They would have to understand that it was in accordance with the Word of God, and in accordance with good, sound sense."

"That is all right," he said. "I consider that there is no estimate can be made of the value of Zion Lace Industries once they are set on foot, for the simple reason that about twenty millions of dollars' worth of the lace which you will make is now imported from England every year. You will save $20,000,000. If you can only get enough people to work at it and the machinery, it is a trade of at least from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year, and you start with one hundred per cent to the good over the foreigner, in the fight to get that trade." Then he added, "It is worth —— millions per year."

I said, "You are mistaken, sir; it is worth immensely more, because I intend that we shall supply lace not only to the United States, America and Canada, but by and by I am coming over to show the Nottingham people how to do it." (Applause and laughter.)

"Well," he said, "what do you want? I have been in the States, and they have an expression there which says that a man wants the earth. Do you want the earth?"

I said, "Every inch of it." (Laughter.)

The Earth is the Lord's.

"I want the earth for Jesus Christ, my Lord and Master, who is the rightful Owner of every inch of it. I want it to belong to His people.

"I want all the wicked people to become good. If they do not become good, I shall be thankful when they have gone to hell.

"I want all the Christian people good and faithful. If they will not become good, I shall be thankful when they are all in heaven.

"I want the good people to inherit the earth, as God wants them, and to have authority over all things."

"You are a man of the biggest ideas that I ever saw," he said, "for a fellow who stands—how high do you stand?"

I said, "A man saw me the other day when there was nobody else on the platform. He said the Rev. John Alex. Dowie was a man of commanding appearance." (Laughter.)

He said, "You are not a small man. Dr. Dowie, I am greatly in sympathy with you, because I believe that you want to be a blessing to humanity. All I have to say is, may God bless you."

"That is a good prayer," I said, "but you have a few millions of dollars—come out and help be a blessing." (Laughter and applause.)

"I will be in Zion, Chicago, next summer," he replied.

Now, remember that, and pray for him.

I am glad to come back. After five months I find this work not only as strong as when I left it, but stronger. I thank God for it. That shows that I must have been enabled, by the Grace of God, to form an enduring organization, and to put the right men at the head of every department.

I think that shows that the Christian Catholic Church in Zion is a Tree of God's own planting.

Is that not clear?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—I thank God for the increased spirituality.

If you and I, my brothers and sisters, will all continue to pool our interests, spiritually, physically, materially and financially, and to pull together, and be as one man working for the one common good, the extension of the Kingdom of God, and blessing each other, there is no man, or organization of men, who will be able to stand before us.

Zion will be the strongest organization, ecclesiastically and financially, the world has ever seen. May God grant it. (Amen. Applause.)

Pray for me.

I present to you my three companions who went away with me: Stenographer Williams; my personal attendant, Captain Stern; my private secretary, now Deacon Sprecher. They have been my faithful servants in Christ. They have been brave and valiant and heroic. They have come out splendidly. They are worthy of God's calling. They are worthy of Zion. May God bless them.

The General Overseer's Companions Thank God for Safe Return.

Deacon Sprecher, offer your thanksgiving to God for coming back again safe and sound, and that you did not leave your little body in an Edinburgh or London graveyard.

Deacon O. L. Sprecher said: "I shall simply say in the language of the Psalmist: 'The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.' I thank you and thank God for this privilege."

Captain Carl F. Stern said: "I thank God for being able to be back again here tonight and to see you all. I rejoice in what God has done for us."

Mr. Ernest Williams said: "I praise God for the privilege of being here tonight. I feel almost too happy to say anything, only that I am glad to be back again."

General Overseer—I do not think I could have kept them away much longer. (Laughter.) I am not quite sure, however, that they will not be willing to go again. I never ask them whether they are willing to do a thing or not. I tell them and you to do it, and you always do it.

Now may God bless Chicago.

I will tell you another thing: the next time I leave the United States, I will have laid aside my allegiance to that flag, and will belong to that one. (Prolonged applause.) That does not mean that I approve of all these young men said tonight. When I get time to correct them, I will do so. (Laughter.)

If it pleases them, however, it does not hurt me. (Laughter.)

There was some truth in what they said. I told them in England that I would have to acknowledge there was some truth in it.

The service was then closed by the General Overseer pronouncing the following

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

MORNING SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning, January 20, 1901.

The General Overseer conducted the service, which was opened by the Congregation singing Hymn Number 355, at the close of which the Apostles' Creed was recited.

The General Overseer read in the inspired Word of God in the sixty-seventh Psalm and in the tenth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, closing with the prayer:

May God bless His Word.

Prayer was offered by Overseer Speicher, following which the General Overseer led the Congregation in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

Thanksgiving to God for Homecoming.

Beloved friends, I express once more my gratitude to our God and Father that by His Spirit's power, through our blessed Lord, He has led you and blessed you in my absence, and has led and blessed me.

We can thank God today that Zion is now formally established by our own hands under God in five new lands since I last saw you.

The flag of Zion is now planted in scores of places in England, in many parts of Scotland, and in various parts of Ireland.

It would be impossible to tell you how many Gatherings there are, for I think there are just about as many Gatherings as there are families of Zion throughout the United Kingdom.

In Paris today we have Overseer Jane Dowie. God bless her (Amen) and our daughter, the young man in charge of Zion Literature Bureau in Rue Cambon, and a few very faithful people. Throughout France there is a good influence.

We have, away up there in the foothills of the Alps, under the shadow of the Uetliberg, that beautiful Branch in Zurich, which is the mother now of so many Branches. As the streams fall on every side from Lake Zurich flowing into the Rhine, finding their way into many valleys, and flowing down into many other lands, so we have Branches springing up all over Hungary, Austria, Italy and many parts of Germany. Indeed, it would be easier to tell where we haven't them springing up than where we have, because the Little White Dove has carried good seed, and dropped it everwhere.

Wherever the Holy Dove goes, there the seed is dropped. You find suddenly a Branch has sprung up, and you wonder how it came. It came up, no one knowing how, until you begin to examine, and find that one single copy of LEAVES OF HEALING set one heart aflame, won one person into the Kingdom of God, and that from thence many, many have been blessed.

The tithes and offering were then received, after which Mr. Samuel Henry Root, of Boston, Massachusetts, was ordained as a Deacon in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

A MESSAGE WITH AUTHORITY.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, profitable unto this people and unto all to whom these words shall come, for the sake of Jesus. Amen.

My brothers and sisters, I give you a text. Although I will not be able to say much about it in the little time before me, I ask you to carry it with you in your hearts.

In the nineteenth verse of the tenth chapter of St. Luke:

TEXT.

Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall in any wise hurt you.

When any one goes out to work for God, whether he is a Seventy, a Deacon, a Deaconess, Evangelist, Elder or Overseer, unless he is sent with Divine Authority, his ministry will be a conspicuous and constant failure.

One of the greatest and best statesmen who ever lived in this world was William Ewart Gladstone. I have had him much in my mind today.

Many years ago I had the honor of defending the truth of God against one of the most eloquent and able of the prelates and princes of the Roman Catholic Church, Roger B. Vaughn, in New South Wales.

He had come to Australia to bring Australia to the feet of the Pope.

He was a magnificent man. If I were as big as he, you would all have to look up to me. You do look up to me in your love, but you would have to look up to me because of my stature, if I were like him. He was a man, if I remember correctly, one or two inches over seven feet tall, and vast in proportions. He was splendidly educated, belonging to the noble family of the Vaughns of England, a magnificent specimen of humanity, with a very pleasant face. When he used to ride out in his chariot he would take the smallest priest in the diocese to sit alongside of him. (Laughter.) I used to laugh at him a good deal, but I admired his magnificent eloquence.

One day he delivered a great discourse, and it staggered the whole community. Who was to "bell the cat"? Day after day passed, and no champion appeared.

An Early Fight With the Roman Apostasy.

I was only a little David, and after two weeks I answered him in my own church. The Metropolitan and others of the Church of England came and asked me to be the champion in the city. Accordingly I delivered the lectures, famous at that time, called "Rome's Polluted Springs," in answer to his, entitled "Hidden Springs."

These lectures brought me into touch with this great statesman in England, William Ewart Gladstone. When yesterday I opened one of the volumes of his works and read his beautiful and magnificent tract, "The Influence of Authority in Matters of Opinion," I was reminded of the fact that William Ewart Gladstone had sent me a copy of that tract, inscribed with his own handwriting, thanking me for what I had done.

I mention this incident to recall the fight which I had more than twenty years ago.

I am a young man, younger than ever, but an old fighter. (Laughter and applause.)

While in Europe I had occasion to recall my old conflict. I realized that I was dogged everywhere by the steps of the Jesuit. They never forget, they never forgive, and, when it is possible, they will destroy. They are like our friends of the Mah-hah-bone persuasion. There is a great deal of analogy between papal and pagan Rome and pagan Masonry.

Authority From Above.

I recall it today to tell you that I made no mistake when I realized that I went forth upon my Mission to Europe with the Authority of my Lord. I realized that when He called me to this work of General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, it was God who called me. I am so glad that it was not the people.

I am so glad that it was not the sheep who called the shepherd.

When God called me, I went away out there into that wilderness, by the World's Fair. I lifted my voice amidst that Babel. Nobody would listen.

After the Babel was over and everything was a failure; when the World's Fair buildings began to go up in smoke from the torch of the incendiary; when the Mayor of the city was stricken down by the hand of the assassin; when liberty was throttled by the hand of the Anarchist Debs and those associated with him, and this city had to be protected by the United States Army; it was then that God brought forth Zion. (Amen.)

Nobody would listen at first, but oh, in the sorrow, and in the sickness of the people they began to hear the Voice. You know, many of you, how they filled the place at Zion Tabernacle No. 1, and how you could not get within an acre or two of it, and how God blessed the solitary preacher.

The Authority of the General Overseer is From God.

When at last God formed the Church, He led me to call it the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and to assume the office of General Overseer—which simply means Catholic Bishop—it was looked upon as a great assumption. I did not care about that.

I have never considered how the Daily Lyre looks at things.

I have never considered how the World, the Flesh and the Devil look at things, except to consider that when the Devil does not like a thing, then I rub my hands and say, "It must be good." (Laughter.) When the Devil makes a great noise about a thing, then I know it must be very good. When he wants to kill me for doing a thing, then I say, "Hallelujah! this is superlatively good."

I had the Authority. I knew I had.

Authority is more than Power. I had the Authority before I had the power which I now possess.

I stood alone, but I had the Authority.

People used to say, "Why, that fellow talks as if he had authority."

When I read that I said, "Yes, I have, you stinkpots! Do what I tell you, and do it quickly!"

You did it, didn't you?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Have you not been doing it ever since?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer— And are you going to keep on doing it?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—God gave me the Authority. I love you; you know it. But my Authority does not depend upon your approval.

After Authority was put into my hands and I had organized the Church, in due time, I left it. That was the best thing I ever did. I consider that the best thing the Lord Jesus Christ ever did, was to leave the Church. If he had remained on earth, a bodily Presence, everybody would want to flock to that one place; but He went to heaven, and He sent the Holy Spirit to fill all the earth with His presence. Hence, where'er we seek Him, we can find Him in Spirit and in power. He is everywhere. Is that not better than being in only one place?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—He gave His apostles Authority.

"All Authority," He said, "hath been given unto Me in heaven and on earth. Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations."

Marvelous Effect of a Message With Authority in Zurich.

When I got to Zurich, Switzerland, a gentleman said to me, "What are you going to do here, Doctor?"

I said, "Nothing."

"I did not think you would do much," he replied, "but I will not say that you will not do anything."

I said, "I shall do nothing, sir."

"If you expect to do nothing, why did you come?" he asked.

I said, "Because I expect God to do a great deal. I expect God to take me and use me. I have the Divine Authority. God will make disciples of you beer-drinking, tobacco-smoking and careless-living Germans."

"Do you intend to talk to us like that?"

"I am going to scrub you," I replied.

I got them. They filled that Court House. The President of the Tribunal himself was there, and God blessed us.

At the end we had, as we had everywhere, many healed, many saved, many added to the Church, and many baptized. You saw the list in last Saturday's LEAVES OF HEALING, seventy-two who were baptized at the close of a three days' mission. But that was not by any means all who could have been baptized. Had opportunity offered, we might have baptized many hundreds.

I return with great joy, as the Seventies did. I come to you and say today:

I have seen Satan fall like lightning from the heavens. I have seen him prostrate in the dust. I see that, like the old serpent, he is compelled to crawl on his belly and eat dust. I see that he is being cast out of many, and is being driven back to hell. I see today that that which Christ said to the Seventies is as true regarding myself and every officer of this Church as it was then:

> Behold, I have given you Authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall in anywise hurt you.

"Unto you that fear My Name," said God through Malachi, the last but one of the prophets of the ancient dispensation—John was the last—"Unto you that fear My Name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His wings, and ye shall go forth, and gambol as calves of the stall. And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I do make, saith Jehovah of Hosts."

I have gone nowhere where the wicked have risen in great power but that God has enabled me to dash them to my feet, and to tread upon them. (Amen.)

I have trodden upon the Devil in London, in Edinburgh, in Liverpool, in Manchester, in Leeds, in Belfast, in Ballymena, in Londonderry, in Paris and in Zurich!

I have never been the under one in any fight! (Applause.)

That is an Americanism, but you will all understand. (Laughter.)

We were not the under one at Mansfield, were we?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—

We Are Not Through With Mansfield Yet.

We have only begun. I may as well give you notice here—Overseer, you know nothing about it, but you are to go down to Mansfield and stand trial.

Overseer Piper—"All right." (Applause.)

General Overseer—Elder Fockler!

Elder Fockler—"Here."

General Overseer—You are to go down to Mansfield and stand trial.

Elder Fockler—"All right." (Applause.)

General Overseer—If they will not enter a nolle.prosequi, we will have them try you, and punish you, if you have been wicked. (Laughter and applause.)

When you and others whom they indicted are through, I intend to go down and stand trial myself. (Applause.)

They say I have libeled Mayor Huntington Brown. For what? Because I spoke of the essential immorality of Freemasonry. I am going down there to prove it. (Amen. Applause.)

I will place Freemasonry on trial before High Heaven, before all the Continents, and America! (Applause.)

I predict that there will be a nolle prosequi. They will probably back down, but they must either back down or fight, and do it quickly. I will call you as a witness, Conductor Rice, if there is a fight. (Applause.)

I will prove by you that in the first three degrees of Masonry the Name of Jesus Christ is not once mentioned. I will prove that the diabolical lie, the resurrection of the dead Hiram Abiff by a mythical King Solomon upon the five points of fellowship, is all the resurrection there is in that accursed Masonry.

I will have the Mystic Shriners there. I will put them on the witness stand. I will prove before high heaven the essential immorality of Freemasonry. I will show that its emblem of the "point within the circle" is the filthy emblem of Phallic worship, the worship of Baal, the sun-god, and that the greatest Masonic authority in America said so, and printed it, and that Masonic booksellers sell his book. We will have a lively time. (Laughter.)

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

They expected things to be lively when I came back. They will be lively. (Applause.)

I will be my own counsel, with the assistance of a greater legal luminary whom you all know. I propose to fight this thing out.

They indicted us as criminals. They got a "true bill" from the Grand Jury.

A true bill, was it? There are various "billygoats" who will find it difficult before we are through. It was a "false" bill in every line of it.

I thought I would let you know that piece of news right at the beginning. Overseer Piper and Elder Fockler did not know a word about it. Zion's officers are not accustomed to being told in advance. They are ready to obey their General Overseer in the noble, self-sacrificing, loyal spirit that they have always shown. The Overseer-at-Large will be a larger man when he is through. (Laughter.) I will not know what to do with him if he gets much larger. (Laughter.)

I am inclined to think Zion's enemies will not fight; that they will back water. I should be almost sorry if they did, because we have the power to "tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt us."

Hallelujah!

We believe every word of it. (Applause. Amen.)

All who believe it, stand and tell God. (Apparently all arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me power to do right, to support those who lead in Zion, with prayer, with money, with earnest zeal. Help me to do right. Bless Mansfield. Make it a place full of blessing. Bless its Mayor. Convert him, Lord. Convert the sinful men who injured Thy children, and make Mansfield as famous for blessing as it has been notorious for folly, for Jesus' sake. Now be with us today. Bless the meetings. Give Thy servant the grace he needs, for Jesus' sake. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

After the Doxology had been sung, the service was closed by the General Overseer pronouncing the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. EVENING SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Evening, January 20, 1901.

The General Overseer was in charge of the meeting, and opened the service by pronouncing the invocation. This was followed by the congregation singing Hymn Number 201, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

After the Apostles' Creed had been recited, the General Overseer read from the twenty-second chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke. Overseer Piper then offered prayer and made the announcements, at the conclusion of which the General Overseer said:

Thanksgiving for the Blessings of the Day.

Let me talk to you now regarding the work in general in a conversational way.

First of all, let me give thanks to God for that unprecedented meeting in the Coliseum today. (Amen.)

We have every reason to thank God. When the time came and I called upon the people who desired to live that Gospel to stand up, nineteen-twentieths of that vast assembly were upon their feet. I do not believe that out of those present there were anything like a thousand who kept their seats. I am very glad that many thousands consecrated themselves to God.

I thank God, too, for the many kind words spoken to me. I had a great big lump in my throat a great many times as I passed through the processional and heard so many ejaculating a cry to God for my blessing. It has been a great joy to me to have your love.

I have never doubted it for a moment. To have the loyalty of my brothers in the Eldership, and in the Overseership, and in all ranks has been a great inspiration during my Mission in Europe.

I do not know how to talk about Zion's White-robed Choir. It is delightful. As the sweet little children sang their lovely little song, "Brightly Gleams Our Banner, Pointing to the Sky," it was so delightful to know that some of them had been born in Zion since their parents had entered it, and that all of them nearly will never know anything else than Zion all their lives.

What a Royal Generation that is which is coming! (Amen.)

My brothers and sisters, I desire you to be practical more and more in your association together.

I thank God for the Cottage Meetings. Maintain them.

Many are looking at our operations and marveling how this man can do so much. It is not this man; it is this people. You have been so kind and loyal that you have followed my leadership and received the instruction which God gave to me. It seems to me that I am training in Chicago a vast missionary organization the like of which the world has never seen.

But enough of mere prophesying. Let us get down to more and more practical business.

Zion's One Common, Steadfast Purpose the Extension of the Kingdom of God.

Do you believe with me, with all your hearts, that we shall have increasingly one common, steadfast purpose, namely, the extension of the Kingdom of God?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Are you willing, as you were when I left you, to consecrate your time, talent, money and lives to that purpose?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Are these things yours or God's?

Audience—"God's."

General Overseer—Will you keep your money in the hands of the World and the Flesh and the Devil?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Will you keep your money in banks which are run by men who belong to the world?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Will you not at this time coöperate with us to rapidly extend our activities? It is wonderful what we have been able to do. The greater part of 2000 acres of that 6500-acre tract is ours. The rest has to be acquired quickly, if we are to open the whole tract in the spring. My policy is not to sell an inch of the land until we throw all open for selection.

Any one looking at that meeting at the Coliseum today must see that a most powerful and compact organization for the extension of the Kingdom of God, and the upbuilding of its people's prosperity, is now a great accomplished fact. Who can tell what it will be, if this is the result in the center of operations in less than five years of church life? What building would contain the people five years hence? But the great Coliseum did not contain those who wished to enter today. They tell me there were thousands outside who lingered all the time, and tens of thousands may have gone away who came up and saw and went.

The Days of Doubt as to Zion Are All Over.

I have come back again. (Laughter and applause.) That simple sentence told today in the Coliseum.

God has never left you. He has been with you every hour. You have been happy, and prosperous, too. As I said the other night, I do not know whether I have not come back six months too soon.

But I cannot bear to be too long away from you. You have won my heart, for I have won yours.

I feel that my God is your God. Where you dwell, I want to dwell. And your prosperity is the constant aspiration of my life.

The tithes and offerings were then received.

Zion's Choir sang the anthem, "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away," with a depth of feeling admirably voiced in harmony and expression.

THE LAST SUPPER.

The General Overseer continued:

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and profitable unto this people, oh Lord, my Strength and my Redeemer.

TEXT.

And He said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Beloved friends, Christ only could see with prophetic vision, which was His alone, the sharpness of the Cross, the terrible agonies which must come before He had finished His work for humanity. He who saved others could not save Himself. He must die.

It was an intense desire of His that He should gather at a Last Supper His beloved, the men to whom He had given His heart's love, whom He intended to use in founding His Church.

He was the Rock upon which He built that Church. That Rock abides. That Church you saw today issuing forth in its youth and beauty. Who shall tell what it will be when our processions in thousands sweep along the avenues of Zion City to Zion Temple? With what desire do I desire to see that day!

I shall see it, God helping me. (Amen.)

But to the Christ there was only death.

My brothers and sisters, I agree with John Bunyan, who put the Valley of the Shadow of Death in the middle of the Christian journey. He did not put it at the end. The sun was shining at the end. There were psalms of Victory there.

I am going to see Him whose face was spit upon for me. I am going to see the Brow which once was crowned with thorns for me. I am going to see Him who bore my sin, and my sorrow, and my shame. I am going to see Him whose heart was riven for me.

It is not the end of the journey that is dark. It is the middle. I have had my Valley of the Shadow of Death. It can never be darker, now I have passed through. I am glad that I did not fall when I passed through it. I am glad that the Devil could never make me fear. I am glad that now we see Jesus every step of the way, and there is no dark valley any more.

Zion Has Passed Through the Valley of the Shadow of Death.

Zion is on her way to the Celestial Mountains. Zion is on her way to victory on earth and victory in heaven.

But on that night when Christ said these words He was about to suffer.

O, how He suffered! He suffered in ways which no human being can understand. I know a little. I have suffered when I have gone down into the dark, dark valley.

But I desire to call your attention to the fact that beyond the eating of that Passover He had a glorious, peaceful Prospect.

With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat it, until it be fulfilled in the Kingdom of God.

My brothers and my sisters, the Kingdom of God is at hand. The Christian Catholic Church in Zion is the only Church I know in the world which is preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom of God. (Amen.)

Zion is telling everywhere that there is only one King.

Zion is telling that her King is coming.

Zion is getting ready to receive Him.

Our beautiful City, midway between Babel and Beer, is a glorious thing to think of.

But, beloved, I never deceived you. I told you I would help Zion to build other cities.

I wish to see a Zion near Boston. (Amen.)

I wish to see a Zion near Philadelphia. (Amen.)

I wish to see a Zion near Hell Gate at New York. (Amen.)

I wish to see a Zion near Golden Gate at San Francisco. (Amen.)

I wish to see a Zion near London. (Amen.)

I wish to see a Zion near every great city of the world. (Amen.)

I desire to help all, that all these cities shall build the old Zion in Jerusalem, and make it so beautiful for the King. (Amen.) He is coming. Let us get ready. Let us prepare the way of the Lord. Let us get the Palace ready for the King.

If He were to come tonight, we would not be ready. That is why I know He is not immediately coming, because we are not ready. But we are living in the days when a great City can be erected and populated by Zion in hosts within five years.

He talks about eating the Passover when the Kingdom is fulfilled.

Sometimes there seems to come the thought that my Lord may let me stay until He comes Himself. (Amen.) Then I feel so unworthy.

But, O Lord, I will help those who will get the Palace ready for Thee. He is coming to eat in His own Kingdom; coming to establish His Kingdom, and we shall see Him and glorify the Lord. We poor, puny little lights will seem so small. We will be willing to seem so small when the King appears. He will not forget us.

Zion is Preparing for the Coming of Her King.

We have fought His battles in the dark days, and we love Him and serve Him, and are willing to die for Him. Every time we have this Passover Feast we say:

"Till He come!"—Oh let the words
Linger on the trembling chords,
Let the "little while" between
In their golden light be seen;
Let us think how heaven and home;
Lie beyond that, "Till He come!"

When the weary ones we love
Enter on their rest above,
When their words of love and cheer
Fall no longer on our ear,
Hush! be ev'ry murmur dumb,
It is only "Till He come!"

Clouds and darkness round us press;
Would we have one sorrow less?
All the sharpness of the cross,
All that tells the world is loss,
Death, and darkness, and the tomb,
Pain us only "Till He come!"

See, the feast of love is spread,
Drink the wine and eat the bread;
Sweet memorials, till the Lord
Call us round His heavenly board,
Some from earth, from glory some Severed only "Till He come!"

As we take this cup, we say "Till He come."

The Roman soldier took an oath that he would, by grace of the gods, serve Imperial Rome and die. He took the cup and poured out the wine at the feet of their god. We do not. We take this cup—it is a sacramentum—He gave His own blood—He gives us Himself in all the spiritual reality and living presence. While we do not invest the elements with that which they do not possess, we do know that in the taking of this bread, and the drinking of this wine in the Spirit that He directed, we eat His flesh and drink His blood, and have His life in us. That life makes us conquerors over Satan and Sin, Disease and Death, and Hell. Hallelujah for the life of God! This Cup is our Sacramentum, and beneath this Banner of Zion we renew our vows to love and follow Him wherever He leads. (Amen.)

The Ordinance of the Lord's Supper was then administered to fully 2500 communicants.

The service was closed with the following

PRAYER AND BENEDICTION.

Our Father, bless tonight the thousands who have stayed with us at this Feast of Love. Oh let the Holy Spirit be in every one, and let the Water spring up into Everlasting Life and flow into every part of their lives. Keep us together in love, in purity, in peace, and lead us on in power to win the multitudes of sin-stricken and disease-smitten to Thyself.

Bless Zion everywhere. (Amen.)
Zion in Africa. (Amen.)
In Europe. (Amen.)
In Asia. (Amen.)
In Australia. (Amen.)
In the Islands of the Sea. (Amen.)

Beloved, Jehovah bless thee and keep thee. Jehovah make His face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee. Jehovah lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you, keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

Has God Blessed You in Tithing?

Have you realized a fulfilment of God's promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse"? If so, let others know how true the promise is. Write your testimony and send it to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Let your testimonies be brief and straight to the point.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

ZION'S MESSENGERS DARE NOT COMPROMISE WITH SIN.

THE Apostasy of both the Papal and Protestant Churches in America during the first six decades of the last Century was very marked on the question of slavery. Horace Greeley says in his history, "The American Conflict":

The antislavery cause, throughout the years of its arduous and perilous struggle up from contempt and odium to respect and power, received far more of hindrance than help from our ecclesiastical organizations. And this fact explains, if it does not excuse, the unorthodox, irreverent and "infidel" tendencies which have been so freely, and not always unreasonably, ascribed to the Apostles of Abolition. These have justly felt that the organized and recognized religions of the country had not treated their cause as it deserved and as they had a right to expect. The pioneers of "Modern Abolition" were always uniformly devout, pious, church-nurtured men, who, at the outset of their enterprise, took the cause of the slave to the clergy and the Church, with undoubting faith that it would there be recognized and by them adopted as the cause of vital Christianity. Speaking generally, they were repulsed and resisted, quite as much to their astonishment as their mortification.

THE CHURCHES, as organizations, had no pity for the slave until the cause of the slave began to be a little popular.

The leading churches pleaded for compromise. Men were blinded by business interests. They were full of caste spirit. They loved reputation, ease and the good will of near relatives. They were bound by their pride, prejudice and perquisites. The preachers loved the salaries and the soft praises of men who dared not offend the slave power (Ezekiel 34:1-10).

HONORED MARTYRS.—Two hundred Protestant missionaries and many thousands of Chinese Christians were murdered last year; noble spirits, but they were in apostate organizations.

MISSIONARY salaries are paid in part by planters, sellers and users of dirty nicotine. They sell the multitudes tobacco, the bread of hell, and with the profits hire men to deal out the Bread of Life to the Chinese! (Micah 3:10.)

Moreover, the bread of life which they carry is in many cases moldy with unbelief. It cannot fail to be more or less tainted with the foul air of compromise which fills most of the theological bake-shops.

Do they not compromise with Secretism and Romanism in the schools where they make missionaries? Do they warn against poison drugs? Do they not eagerly read and repeat slanders against the Christian Catholic Church in Zion? Are not many of their students more skilful in criticising the Scriptures than they are ready to obey them? Are they not more familiar with modern literature than with the Word of God?

THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARIES were taught by hirelings who fought the Abolitionists. The students were quicker than their teachers to plead for the slave (Micah 3:11).

THEY HATED GARRISON not for the phraseology he used, but for the principles he taught. They hate Dr. Dowie not for his vocabulary, but for his victories.

In 1836 the Antislavery Society in Boston could get neither hall nor church for its meetings. In most cities the despised reformers had the same difficulties in getting halls which Zion now has, and they were met with the same Satanic arguments—the throwing of eggs and stones and filth (John 10:31).

A MOB IN BROADCLOTH led William Lloyd Garrison, with a rope around his neck, through the streets of Boston. A young lawyer saw it, and at once he gave his life to God and Liberty. He was Wendell Phillips.

Mobs encouraged by respectable apostate preachers have disturbed the meetings and threatened the lives of the General Overseer and Zion's Elders. But many a young Wendell Phillips is looking on who will one day plead for the Freedom of man from all that defiles.

Garrison's motto in his paper, The Liberator, had a Zion ring: "Our country, all the world; our countrymen, mankind."

NO COMPROMISE.—This from Garrison has a flavor of Zion: "I will be as harsh as truth and as uncomprising as justice. I am in earnest. I will not equivocate. I will not excuse. I will not retreat a single inch. And I will be heard."

ROMAN CATHOLIC ROBBERY of the Chinese is what Chinese term the demand for about $169,000 indemnity made on their Chinese Government for the murder of two Roman Catholic missionaries in 1897 by a few fanatics. The money was paid. The Bishop was not satisfied. He appealed to the German Government. Then followed the German seizures of the port of Kiaochau. The Independent justly says that the German occupation of Kiaochau was the principal cause of the Chinese massacres in 1900.

MEDICINE IN ASIA is the occasion of much rumor and slander among the natives. Pandita Ramabai, of India, in her annual report, says:

For instance, many of the unconverted girls in my homes have a great fear in their mind. They think that some day after they are well fattened, they will be hung head downward, and a great fire will be built underneath, and oil will be extracted from them to be sold at a fabulously great price for medical purposes.

ELDER VIKING writes:

China Inland missionaries who profess to believe in Divine Healing do not confess it in public. The whole is a mass of compromise. One lady of that kind died this week in Shanghai. Yet her death is blamed on Divine Healing!

However, one of their missionaries from West China took sick of fever and sent for me.

He believes in Divine Healing, but he confessed that he had consented to vaccination before and was a compromiser all around.

He got rid of the fever. The next day he was out and well.

I told him to report himself to headquarters and confess his hypocrisy. He was going to do so.

The Baptists try to make out Dr. Dowie to be the Devil and the healings to be of the Devil. At their church meeting they formally excluded Li Dz-eng and wife and Mr. Tsiu, my translator. No letters are given to those who wish to become members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

LEAVES OF HEALING goes this week into every office in Shanghai where there are foreigners (Europeans or Americans).

Some men are coming for more literature. The people are talking all over.

Some newspapers are noticing us. The Union speaks of the doctrines.

We shall have a nice time when we get a Tabernacle and helpers from home.

To begin to work this terrible Shanghai mountain is a hard task.

But we are glad.

Zion is going to bring forth much to the glory of God.

Last Sunday afternoon at a meeting of nearly all native churches in Shanghai, the Christian Catholic Church was discussed

Warnings were given against visiting our chapel.

One man spoke about our chapel being a kind of gr ery store, or something like that, as we already have a number of articles as small shoes, medicine, tobacco pipes, etc., on the walls. Hallelujah!

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, January 12, 1901, was conducted by Professor Harnley.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be twelve in number, as follows:

Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Canada, England, Ireland and Japan.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

MRS. MARGARET MUDGETT, La Junta, Colorado, said: "I praise God for the privilege of being in Zion. We are almost alone in our town and it is a great joy to get with Zion people. I also praise Him for the privilege of working for Him. When I was in the Methodist Church, and would pass by the saloons and see the drunken men and women, my heart went out to them. I do praise God that in Zion we can carry LEAVES OF HEALING to them and help them to live for God. I praise Him for LEAVES OF HEALING, which has led so many into Zion. It has been an inspiration in leading so many to stand for God."

WILLIAM BRAUER, 963 North Francisco Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God for the many blessings I receive when I read the Bible. I am a living witness that Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever. God had done much for me, my family and many others whom I could mention. God is a good Father. He hears and answers the prayers of His children. My little girl was blind and received her sight. My wife was very hard of hearing for twelve years. She is now getting better. The Devil gave me the grip. I was unable to work, but the Lord took it away."

S. B. HADY, Zion Students' Home, 1243 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I praise God for the wonderful answer to prayer on behalf of my brother-in-law, A. B. Groff, editor of the Somerset County Democrat, Somerset, Pennsylvania. I received a letter from my father in Meyersdale, Pennsylvania, stating he was very sick with typhoid fever and had been taken to the Memorial Hospital at Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

"I immedietely telephoned to Overseer Speicher and asked him to pray for him. On January 9th I received another letter from my father, stating that Mr. Groff came home on Saturday, relating a very remarkable experience which he had at the hospital.

"Christmas Day he was very low. On Wednesday (the day Overseer Speicher prayed) the physician of the hospital examined him. He pronounced him a well man. The doctors of Johnstown were also called in. All stated they had never seen a case like it before.

"Mr. Groff told this experience several times before he learned that Overseer Speicher had prayed.

"I thank God for Zion. Through Zion, God led me out of a life of sin and sorrow to one of peace and happiness. I thank Him for LEAVES OF HEALING and for the privilege of sending it to my people."

L. D. CARROLL, 1243 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "It is between three and four years since I first entered this room. I was then a total wreck. I was first with the Christian Alliance people. While I was with them I took sick with typhoid fever. They did not tell me that I had to make my wrongs right. I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. When my relatives saw I was getting no better, they forced me to have a doctor. After that I had four doctors, but became worse. I then got inflammatory rheumatism. For eighteen months I could hardly feed myself. I could hardly get my hands to my mouth. I was a total wreck in every way. I had fallen from a weight of 143 pounds to less than ninety. The General Overseer prayed with me. I was able to walk across the end of this room several times. I grew stronger as I walked. Afterwards I was baptized in Findlay, Ohio. There I received more blessing. From that time on I have been able to work hard. I praise God for the health and strength He is giving me day by day.

"I first heard of Zion through LEAVES OF HEALING."

MISS LIZZIE DAUBNEY, Zion Home, said: "I praise God for answer to prayer. I had a bad cold with severe pains in my head. Deaconess Hertrich prayed for me and I was delivered."

GEORGE J. HUSTON, Laurens, Iowa, said: "I was healed nearly three years ago, in my own home. I had a chronic disease. I was a wreck. I left my case in the Great Physician's hands and He healed me. I came just as a child and He delivered me. I thank God for Zion."

MRS. ANN STEVENSON, formerly of Beeston, Nottingham, England, said: "I praise God tonight for healing me from a very severe cold. Elder Graves and Overseer Mason prayed for me, and I believe through their prayers and trust in God I have been delivered."

MRS. ELIZABETH KRUSE, San Jose, Illinois, said: "I thank God for all the blessings I have received. I had a very severe cold and it is now all gone. I thank God for it."

MISS ISABELLA DAUBNEY, formerly of Beeston, Notts, England, praised God for the blessings she had received in Zion.

JOHN F. BAKER, Plymouth, Indiana, said: "I praise the Lord for what He has done for me and my family. My little daughter was taken with a very bad cold. She did not eat any breakfast or dinner. This afternoon I telephoned to Elder Fockler to come and pray for her. Within a few minutes after prayer was offered, she got up and asked for something to eat, and has been well since. I praise the Lord and trust Him for all things."

MRS. C. E. PECK, 1311 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I praise God tonight for healing from grip."

ELDER FOCKLER, Zion Home, said: "I would just like to say a word of encouragement in regard to the distribution of LEAVES OF HEALING. About ten days ago two ladies came to my office seeking to know about the work of Zion. One of them has a father in Canada who is very sick. Some one sent him a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING. He was filled with hope, and sent the paper to his daughter in Kansas. She read the paper and took hope for her father. She gave the paper to a friend who was very much diseased. This friend was just about to be operated upon, but was restrained. This lady also had hope. The two at once made arrangements to come to Chicago to find out more about Zion. They subscribed for LEAVES OF HEALING and promised to come back.

"We cannot tell what a nickel will do. Sometimes when I am weary I feel that some fruit would do me good. Then the thought comes, 'How much good that nickel spent for LEAVES OF HEALING will do.' Some of you ride in the street cars too much. If you would walk five or six blocks, it would strengthen you and you would have a nickel to spend for LEAVES, which will bring salvation and healing to some needy one."

Notes of Thanksgiving to Zion's God

Little Boy Miraculously Healed When Dying of Terrible Diseases.

EAU CLAIRE, WISCONSIN, December 26, 1900.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—We praise God for His goodness to us and send this testimony, hoping it may be a blessing to others.

The 17th of last September our little Harold was taken suddenly with epileptic fits.

We did for him what we had always done before.

It did him no good.

When he came out of the first fit he was paralyzed. He could not hold anything in his hand, nor talk.

We thought he would die if he had one more, but in two hours he had another.

I decided that no doctor could help us.

I sent for Deacon Stochholm to come.

Harold had two more fits after he came.

During the last one, we thought the little one must go. His pulse left and his little fingers got cold.

But God heard the prayer of His servant and children, and gave him back to us.

Praise God, in one hour he ate a little supper and talked.

At 9 o'clock he went into internal spasms, from one to another for four days and nights.

It seemed he must die.

His bowels never moved for five days.

He had a high fever all the time.

I sent to Overseer Speicher for prayers.

His spasms and his fever left.

His bowels moved for the first time. Nothing but green poison passed his bowels.

His mouth and throat were coated thickly with a white, gristly coating, which grew brittle on being exposed to the air.

Four or five times during the time he was the same as dead, or apparently dying.

He had three abscesses, one in his left eye, one in his right ear and one just under his ear.

His head was swollen almost as large again as normal. Jaws were set two days. He did not speak for about four weeks.

I thank God he is well and fat now.

No tongue can tell the suffering he endured.

Thank God, he never had one drop of medicine.

Some who saw him said he would be an idiot if he lived, and some said he would never walk. But I knew better.

Harold says, "God healed me. I am a Zion boy."

All of our other children were taken with canker sore throat, but were speedily healed in answer to prayer.

One of them was very near death. His throat was almost shut and the canker reached nearly to his teeth.

He was delivered in two hours in answer to prayers, without any medicine.

I have been healed several times of different things.

My husband has given up tobacco and we gave up pork one year ago.

We thank you for your prayers and give God all the glory. It would take pages to tell all the blessing we have secured in the last two months.

May God bless you and our dear General Overseer.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) A. A. FELTON.

Delivered From Death From Fever.

ROCKY FORD, COLORADO, January 10, 1901.

REV. J. G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—I know Zion will rejoice with us how wonderfully God delivered me when at death's door with the fever.

It left me last night about 8 o'clock, and I rested peacefully all night.

I shall never cease praising God for what He has done for me.

I thank you and all of Zion who prayed for me.

Had it not been for your earnest prayers, I should not be here.

Very sincerely yours in Christ, (MRS.) LIZZIE COLLINS.

Mother Healed of Pneumonia; Daughter of Painful Induration of the Breast.

297 GRAHAM STREET,
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, January 10, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—We have every reason to believe that mother had pneumonia. All symptoms agree with those she had twenty-two years ago when Dr. Senn gave her up, but God in His mercy raised her up, although we did not then look to Him.

The symptoms were of a severe nature, and only by supplicating God has she been enabled to continue at her work, all pain and sickness being taken from her as we called on God.

The cough did not change until asking your prayers, when she received a great blessing.

I wish to add my personal testimony to healing from an affliction which very few knew of.

Some months ago I found a lump in my breast which pained me.

I dreaded to acknowledge it, even in the above language, although Satan suggested a cancer, which I refused in the Name of the Lord, claiming Jesus my Keeper as well as my Healer from diseases.

Just before Christmas I promised the Lord not to touch it again, leaving it all with Him, neither did I, as long as I felt its presence.

Last night, the breast being free from any tightness, I made search for the lump in order to testify and, praise the Lord, I could not find it.

We cannot thank and praise God enough for making known to us through Zion teaching that there is Healing as well as Salvation in Jesus Christ.

Yours in the Master's Service, NINA WAZAU.

God Quickly Heals of Scarletina.

PAISLEY, ONTARIO, CANADA, January 11, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I wish to testify to God's goodness and mercy to us when our daughter Jennie had the scarletina.

She was quite sick a few days before Christmas, and had a very sore throat.

I sent you a request for prayer on the Friday before Christmas. I also sent a request for prayer to Zion's Gathering here on the following Lord's Day.

She received a rich blessing about 4 o'clock. All at once she got so much better, the feverish heat passed away, and her throat, head and eyes were greatly relieved.

She said she could get up, but we thought best not to let her, as she was covered with the rash.

She gained very rapidly, and was at our All-Night Meeting.

We belong to the Malcomb Gathering, which meets at our house every third Sabbath.

We thank God for Zion, which teaches us to banish fear and unbelief and trust God alone for healing.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) ANNIE CAMPBELL.

PAISLEY, ONTARIO, CANADA, January 11, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I was very sick for a few days, but God graciously delivered me and blessed me in spirit, soul and body.

I feel well and strong now, and praise God for it.

Praying that God will continue to bless Zion in all things,

Your Sister in Christ, JENNIE CAMPBELL.

The Prayer of Faith Effective.

SPENCER, IOWA, January 11, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I wish to thank you for your prayers.

I am thankful to God that He heard and answered.

About two weeks ago I took a severe cold, which terminated in the grip. It finally settled in my right side.

I had a terrible soreness and pain in my side continually, which hurt me to breathe.

It kept getting worse for nearly a week, when I sent to you to pray for me.

The day after I wrote, the pain was worse than ever, but when I arose the next morning, the pain and soreness had entirely gone.

I have felt nothing of it since.

I have been healed a good many times in answer to prayer.

Yours in Christian Love, (MRS.) IDA BIRD.

Healed of Rheumatism While Praying at the Family Altar.

MINERAL POINT, WISCONSIN, January 2, 1901.

REV. J. G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—Last Friday I caught a cold and got rheumatism very severely in my hips, legs and around the edge of the ribs; also lame back.

In this condition I kept my bed most of the time, with but little sleep.

Part of the time I was delirious.

This morning I arose and dressed.

While on our knees around our family altar, God healed me of all rheumatism and lame back, praise His Name.

When we got up from our knees, I moved around as usual.

With much love to you and Zion in Chicago and elsewhere,

Your Brother in Christ, S. HOCKING.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 13th or 14th.

God Is No Respecter of Persons.

1. He made all alike.—Acts 17:24-28.
   God is the Father of every spirit.
   Every being is constrained to seek God.
   Every power in our nature is God-given.
2. He loves all alike.—John 3:14-17.
   God does not hate anyhody.
   God does not want any one to die.
   He wants every person to be saved.
3. He calls all alike.—Acts 17:29-31.
   God calls first of all to Repentance.
   God calls men to escape judgment.
   God calls persons to forsake idolatry.
4. He has mercy for all alike.—Romans 10:5-12.
   He is not afar off from any one.
   His Word is the revelation of His mercy.
   Riches of mercy is offered those who seek Him.
5. He saves all alike.—1 Timothy 2:3-7.
   He saves from sin.
   He saves from ignorance.
   He saves from enmity.
6. He blesses all alike.—Matthew 5:2-12.
   He has wealth for the poor.
   He has joy for the sad.
   He has honor for the lowly.
7. He heals all alike.—Acts 10:34-43.
   He cannot heal those who will not forsake sin.
   Neither can He heal those who will not do good.
   He does heal all seeking to know Him in faith.
8. He bestows His Spirit on all alike.—Acts 2:15-21.
   He gives His Holy Spirit to those who ask Him.
   He gives His Holy Spirit to those who obey Him.
   He gives His Holy Spirit to those who serve Him.
9. He rewards all alike.—Psalm 126:1-6.
   Those who sow incorruptible seed, will reap.
   The precious seed when sown will grow.
   The song of redemption precedes the harvest song.
10. He judges all alike.—Romans 14:7-13.
    The judgment of the Cross is where sin is condemned.
    At the Judgment Seat of Christ rewards are fixed.
    Before the Great White Throne destinies are settled.

The Lord Our God is an Impartial God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 17th.

Restoring Grace and Mercy.

1. Restoration follows repentance and confession of sin.—Psalm 51:10-17.
   So many are unclean in thought and desire.
   So many live in vales of sadness.
   So few are filled with the power of godliness.
2. Restoration is the work of Christ unto greater righteousness.—Psalm 23:1-4.
   Christ wants us to be contented.
   He wants us to be calm in mind.
   He wants us to be in perfect fellowship with Himself.
3. Restoration is based in incentive on the holiness of Christ.—Revelation 3:7-13.
   We should be holy because He is holy.
   Christ wants us without rebuke.
   We ought to be invincible in our lives.
4. Restoration means a return of the revivifying power of the Holy Spirit.—Zechariah 10:1-4.
   God's time to give His Spirit is now.
   God's time to scatter gloom is now.
   God's time to show His word of power is now.
5. Restoration will come after deep hunger and longing for it.—Isaiah 44:1-8.
   God can do nothing when fear fills us.
   Wavering faith is not likely to get refreshing from God.
   When watered, one is sure to grow into fruitfulness.
6. Restoration gives great light on prophecy and future events.—Proverbs 1:20-23.
   People are so ignorant of God's ways.
   The Bible has so little effect on most lives.
   We will understand it, when we read it, if we have His Spirit.
7. Restoration gives great faith in final restitution.—Acts 3:19-26.
   Jesus is not coming back to suffer on the cross again.
   Present salvation must be enjoyed before future salvation will be realized.
   God will be satisfied in the work of redemption as He was in creation.

God's Holy People are a Restored People.

Deacon Sloan has resumed the teaching of Zion's Bible Class Lesson in Zion Hall of Seventies, Sabbath Days from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock. Members of Zion, for personal growth and Seventy work, as well as preparation for conducting Cottage Prayer Meetings, are urged to regularly attend his class; also to prayerfully follow in study these lessons each week, which are covering such a wide range of Bible truth and Scripture knowledge, vital to Holy Living and a right understanding of the relations of life.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 16. CHICAGO, FEBRUARY 9, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

HEALED AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING FROM MANY DISEASES.

AS MANY AS TOUCHED WERE MADE WHOLE.

This Witness tells a Story of terrible suffering from disease.

She experienced the utter failure of human means. Her life was ebbing away in darkness and despair. An attack of the grip, during the blighting epidemic of 1890, left her with an internal disease.

Drugs and treatments made her worse.

Complications set in.

From this time on, for several years her life consisted of terrific struggles to comparative health, only to be plunged again into an agony of torture.

She was afflicted with diseases of the womb, kidneys, liver and bladder.

Words cannot describe her sufferings

Such is the dark side of her Story.

Praise God, there is a bright side!

His Divine Light came into her life and all the darkness fled away.

That Light was brought into her home by a student in the Moody Bible Institute.

He told her of the work of God s servant in Zion, the General Overseer.

With joy she heard the Message.

Eagerly she sought out the "Little Wooden Hut," Zion Tabernacle No. 1. There she heard from Mrs. Dowie's lips the wonderful Message of God's love, His power, His willingness to heal.

Prayer was made for her, and she received a blessing according to her faith. But her faith was weak. "Faith cometh of hearing," and she had heard but little.

MRS SUSIE PELTON.

In the fearful struggle between doubt and faith which followed, faith came off victorious.

Then, throwing aside all human means and consecrating herself fully to God, she sought Him for Healing.

She had met His conditions.

He fulfilled His promise.

She was perfectly healed.

Every vestige of the disease which for so many years had made her life a burden was removed.

With her heart full of joy, she went forth to tell the wonderful Story to her brethern in the Baptist Church.

She thought they would rejoice with her over God's great goodness

To her astonishment, her Story called forth not smiles of gladness, but black looks; not praises to God, but ugly whispers of doubt.

Her husband also told the Story with thanksgiving in the Baptist Church, of which he was a member. The pastor and deacons threatened to lock the doors of the church building against him.

The same spirit was in them that made the rabbis cast the man healed of blindness out of the Temple.

It was the same spirit that finally led the high dignitaries of the Jewish Church to demand the crucifixion of Jesus, the Divine Son of God.

But all their rage was impotent. Jewish rabbis could not stop the onward march of Divine truth.

Jesus is still the Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper, although they murdered Him and cast out those whom He healed.

He is the same today, although Baptist ministers and deacons in jealous fury turn His Witnesses out of their churches.

Howl on, then, ye who deny your Lord!

His Witnesses will still tell the blessed Story.

They do not fear your threatenings.

They know that "the Lord hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of His people take refuge."

Thousands and tens of thousands have thus taken refuge in Zion.

Zion rejoices in their deliverance.

She gladly sends their stories to the ends of the earth on the spotless wings of the Little White Dove.

May God bless this Story to thousands of His people.

May they find in Zion a refuge from their sins, their sicknesses, their sorrows. A. W. N.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. SUSIE PELTON.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, January 5, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—For some time I have felt that I should like to write and tell what the Lord bas done for me.

It will soon be six years since I was healed through faitb in Jesus.

In the spring of 1890, I was taken with what the doctors called the grip.

For three weeks I was unable to lie down, because of the intense pain around my heart. Along with this, there were other diseases more painful.

I had inflammation of the bladder, kidney trouble, also ulcers of the womb, and dyspepsia, so I could not remain in a room where meat was being fried.

After I had been treated by a physician for some time, he told me there was no medicine which would help me; that I would have to undergo an operation of some kind before I could receive any benefit.

With this fact staring me in the face, I left his office, disgusted witb doctors.

I was next advised to get an electric belt. This I wore for nearly a year, but received no benefit from it.

I was still taking medicine.

The more I took, the worse I became. I finally said I would take no more, and taking up the bottles, I threw them all into the street.

For six weeks I suffered intense pain, but when the weather settled, having a strong constitution, I became, as I thought, pretty well.

I was left, however, with a constant pain in the right side of my abdomen.

In the fall of the same year I was taken sick again, although not bedfast.

I kept getting weaker and weaker.

I went to another physician, who told me the same as the first (this was in Independence, Iowa). The last doctor mentioned was our family doctor. He said, "There is no use taking anything; you will have to have an operation."

He gave me a wash to use, but said it would only keep me from getting clear down.

I had always been so well and strong previous to that year, I thought they were looking for the money, and not to help me.

I would not consent to an operation.

Although I gained in strength, I was far from being well.

In the fall of 1891 I came to Chicago, in October.

I consulted Dr. Davis. He was then located on the corner of Western Avenue and Van Buren Street.

He said that nothing but an operation would benefit me.

He prescribed for me, nevertheless. I received no help from this.

I was always tired, and so nervous I could not stand the least noise.

I had failed so in flesh that in the spring of 1892 I only weighed 121 pounds, my average weight being 145 to 150 pounds since I was sixteen years old.

I was sick most of the time during the summer of 1892, but during the winter felt quite well, and gained considerably.

I was married in March, 1893. My health continued to be about tbe same until March, 1894.

Then I began to fail again.

We consulted with Dr. Camp, of Englewood.

My body was so full of disease that nearly every organ was out of order.

He treated me twice a week for some time.

He told me that I had catarrh of the womb; that my liver, kidneys and bladder were in a very bad condition.

I finally had to take my bed, and typhoid-malaria set in.

For five weeks I never expected to again get well.

Words can never express the awful pain I suffered; such excruciating pain in my back.

It was during this sickness that Divine Healing was brought to our notice.

C. W. Safford, a student in the Moody Bible Institute, told me of you and your work, and how a Mrs. Henderson had been instantly healed of internal diseases, and that God was wonderfully using you in the Salvation and Healing of scores of people.

We said we would give up medicine, then ask God to give me strength to go over and hear you.

Mrs. Dowie took charge of the meeting the day we went.

At the close I went into the prayer room.

I had received but very little teacbing, and believe I was only trying God, instead of trusting.

However, when you laid your hands on me and prayed, I received a blessing.

That nigbt, what a fight we had with the Devil!

What agony I suffered!

We wrestled until ten minutes of five in the morning.

Then I said, "Father, give me rest."

I fell asleep and slept until 8 o'clock.

When I awoke, I felt so well I got up and dressed myself.

Many called that day, and each one told me what was used when she was sick. They recommended many things, talked a great deal, and for a long time. They thought to do me good, but instead I became nervous, my pain came back and I had to excuse myself and lie down.

We had another battle that night, worse than before.

I was in such pain I could not pray.

My husband thought Divine Healing was not for us.

I took morphine to quiet me.

This time it took twice as much to deaden the pain.

I grew rapidly worse.

We went back to medicine, although every chance I got, when alone, I would not take it.

On the 6th of January, 1895, I dressed myself, and sat up part of tbe day, for the first time in nearly two months.

I again stopped taking the medicine entirely.

When the doctor came that evening, he was surprised to see me up; for he had left strict orders for me not to even sit up in bed.

I became stronger and was quite well as far as the fever was concerned, but my internal diseases were not gone.

In March I began to come down again, starting with malaria, as before.

I had taken my bed, and for three days had taken no nourishment whatever. I could not keep a spoonful of water on my stomach.

My dear husband came home from Sunday School, feeling very blue because of my condition.

I had a high fever and was feeling very much worse.

I said to him, "I can stand it no longer. Something must be done."

He asked me if we should pray or go for a doctor.

I said, "We will pray."

He prayed for me, and instantly God heard.

In less than two minutes I was perspiring quite freely and felt well.

I ate a large baked potato with great relish.

A short time after that I was healed of all my internal diseases.

Bless God, I was also healed of a severe form of gastric colic.

Last week I was wonderfully healed of the grip.

We give God all the glory, through Jesus' Name.

We were members of the Baptist Church at the time of my healing.

Some of them even denied my sickness as being what I have described.

They became angry when I would tell of it. Some refused to speak.

My husband was the President of the Young People's Society, and had announced three subjects for study: "Christian Baptism," "Second Coming of Christ," and "What the Bible Teaches on Divine Healing." The pastor, C. R. Betts, called a meeting of the Board of Deacons, of which my husband was one, and brought him before them.

After some hours' discussion, they decided to lock the church doors.

The following Wednesday evening they called another meeting, and tried to persuade him to drop the lessons.

When they found he was firm, one shook his fist in his face and said, "We will lock the church."

He told them they could not keep him from teaching Bible truths, and handed them a letter telling them to drop his name from the roll.

That same evening God sanctioned his action, by saving my brother and his wife in our home.

We did as God's Word commanded, and joined the Christian Catholic Church, December 3, 1899.

We were baptized by Triune Immersion December 10th.

We thank God for all His blessings to us and for sending such a fearless and godly man to teach us the Full and Everlasting Gospel of Jesus Christ.

We praise God for such a Saviour, Healer and Keeper.

I thank God for bringing me into Zion.

Thanking you for your prayers and teaching, and praying God will spare you and Mrs. Dowie to us for many years, I remain.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) SUSIE PELTON.

W. W. PELTON CONFIRMS HIS WIFE'S TESTIMONY.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, January 5, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I desire to add that my wife's testimony is true. The half has not been told.

We are grateful to God that in our time of trial and suffering He heard us and gave us deliverance.

We never so realized His love before. We cannot help but trust Him.

Neither did we realize the condition of the Church until they so bitterly opposed His Word and denied me the privilege of conducting a Bible study on Divine Healing in the B. Y. P. U., of which I was President.

Our own Pastor came to the meeting, tried to break it up, and ordered me from the platform.

But we held the meeting, which proved a great blessing.

Many received the truth and are now rejoicing in Zion in a Full Salvation.

There have been eight of the Sunday School teachers from this same Church who have united with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Your Brother in Christ, W. W. PELTON.

Healed of Inflammation of the Stomach and Bowels in Answer to Prayer at the All-Night Meeting.

PARROTT, OHIO, January 8, 1901.

OVERSEER W. H. PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—On December 29th my husband wrote, requesting you to pray for me, as I was very sick.

We received a letter saying that you had remembered me at the All-Night Meeting with God.

After sending request, I rapidly grew worse.

The grip came on and a very high fever with it.

As evening came on, my suffering increased until I was obliged to retire.

Then I knew that inflammation of the stomach and bowels had set in.

My faith never wavered, as I knew that my Father would deliver.

Severe purging kept up all Saturday night, also all day Sunday.

Quite late in the evening God heard and answered our prayers for that, but I continued in great pain until Overseer Piper prayed for me at the "All-Night With God."

I slept well and all pain left. I suffered no more.

I sat up all day, except a few minutes' rest.

I thank you for praying for me and give God all the glory.

If I had been trusting in human aid, I would have been sick for two or three weeks.

May these words be used for God.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) EDITH N. THOMPSON.

Healed of Sores in Head in Answer to Prayer.

MONTREAL, CANADA, January 8, 1901.

OVERSEER W. H. PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—Yours of the 2d was received today.

I can answer with thanksgiving and praise to God that I am healed of the sores in my head, and my heart trouble is nearly all gone.

I thank you, dear brother, for your prayers.

God bless Zion.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) E. BERRYMAN.

DO YOU KNOW GOD'S WAY OF HEALING?

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Let it be supposed that the following words are a conversation between the reader [A] and the writer [B].

A. What does this question mean? Do you really suppose that God has some one especial way of healing in these days of which men may know and avail themselves?

B. That is exactly my meaning, and I wish very much that you should know God's Way of Healing, as I have done for many years.

A. What is the way, in your opinion?

B. You should rather ask, WHO is God's Way? for the Way is a Person, not a thing. I will answer your question in His own words, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; no one cometh unto the Father, but by Me." These words were spoken by our Lord Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son of God, who is both our Saviour and our Healer. (John 14:6.)

A. But I always thought that these words only referred to Him as the Way of Salvation. How can you be sure that they refer to Him as the Way of Healing also?

B. Because He cannot change. He is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever." (Hebrews 13:8.) He said that He came to this earth not only to save us but to heal us (Luke 4:18), and He did this when in the flesh on earth. Being unchanged, He must be able and willing and desirous to heal now.

A. But is there not this difference, namely, that He is not with us now?

B. No; for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world"; and so He is with us now, in Spirit, just as much as when He was here in the flesh.

A. But did He not work these miracles of healing when on earth merely to prove that He was the Son of God?

B. No; there was still a greater purpose than that. He healed the sick who trusted in Him in order to show us that He came to die not only for our sins, but for our sicknesses, and to deliver us from both.

A. Then, if that is so, the atonement which He made on the Cross must have been for our sicknesses as well as our sins. Can you prove that is the fact from the Scriptures?

B. Yes, I can, and the passages are very numerous. I need quote two only. In Isaiah 53:4, 5, it is written of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed." Then in the Gospel according to Matthew, this passage is quoted and directly applied to the work of bodily healing, in chapter 8, 17th verse, "That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

A. But do you not think that sickness is often God's will, and sent for our good, and therefore God may not wish us to be healed?

B. No, that cannot possibly be; for diseases of every kind are the Devil's work, and his work can never be God's will, since Christ came for the very purpose of destroying "the works of the Devil." (1 John 3:8.)

A. Do you mean to say that all disease is the work of Satan?

B. Yes, for if there had been no sin (which came through Satan) there never would have been any disease, and Jesus never in one single instance told any person that sickness was God's work or will, but the very contrary.

A. Can you prove from Scripture that all forms of sickness and infirmity are the Devil's work?

B. Yes, that can be done very easily. You will see in Matthew 4:23 and 9:35 that when Jesus was here in the flesh, He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." Then if you will refer to Acts 10:38 you will see that the Apostle Peter declares that He [Jesus] "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil." Notice that all whom He healed, not some, were suffering from Satan's evil power.

A. But does disease never come from God?

B. No, it cannot come from God, for He is pure, and disease is unclean; and it cannot come out of Heaven, for there is no disease there.

A. That is very different from the teachings which I have received all my life from ministers and in the churches. Do you really think that you are right, and that they are all wrong in this matter?

B. It is not a question as between myself and them. The only question is, What does God's Word say? God has said in all the ages to His Church, "I am the Lord that healeth thee" (Exodus 15:26), and therefore it would be wicked to say that He is the defiler of His people. All true Christians must believe the Bible, and it is impossible to believe that good and evil, sickness and health, sin and holiness could have a common origin in God. If the Bible really taught that, it would be impossible to believe our Lord Jesus Christ when He says, "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." (Matthew 7:18.)

A. But even if I agree with all you say, is it not true that the Gifts of Healing were removed from the Church, and are not in it now?

B. No, the "Gifts of Healing" were never withdrawn, and can never be withdrawn, from the true Church of God: for it is written, "The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance." (Romans 11:29.) There are nine gifts of God to the Church (enumerated in 1 Corinthians, 12:8 to 11), and all these are in the Holy Spirit. Therefore, so long as the Holy Spirit is in the Church, all the gifts must be there also. If they are not exercised, that does not prove that they do not exist, but that the faith to exercise them is lacking in God's servants. The gifts are all perfectly preserved; for the Holy Spirit, not the Church, keeps them safely.

A. What should a Christian then do when overtaken with sickness?

B. A Christian should obey God's command, and at once turn to Him for forgiveness of the sin which may have caused the sickness, and for immediate healing. Healing is obtained from God in one of four ways, namely: First, by the direct prayer of faith, without any aid from the officers of the Church, praying as the Centurion did in Matthew 8:5 to 12; second, by two faithful disciples praying in perfect agreement, in accordance with the Lord's promise in Matthew 18:19; third, by the anointing of the elders and the prayer of faith, according to the instructions in James 5:14 and 15; and fourth, by the laying on of the hands of them who believe, and whom God calls to that ministry, as the Lord commands in Mark 16:18, and in other places.

A. But are people healed in this way in these days?

B. Yes, in thousands of cases. I have myself laid hands upon many hundreds of thousands of persons, and I have seen the Lord's Power manifested in the healing of great numbers, many of whom are living witnesses in many countries, who have testified publicly before thousands, and who are prepared to testify at any time. This ministry is being exercised by devoted Christians in many parts of America, Europe, Australasia and elsewhere.

A. Is it not the same as Christian Science, Mind Healing, etc.?

B. No. Divine Healing is diametrically opposed to these diabolical counterfeits, which are utterly anti-Christian. These impostures are only seductive forms of Spiritualism. Trance Evangelism is also a more recent form of this delusion, and it deceives many.

A. But how shall I obtain the necessary faith to receive healing, which faith I am at present conscious I do not possess?

B. It is written, "Belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the Word of Christ." (Romans 10:17.) Our Missions are held for the express purpose of teaching fully the Word of God on this matter, and I very heartily invite you to attend the meetings which are announced for Zion Tabernacle. All are welcome and there are no charges of any kind made, for all God's gifts are free gifts. Salvation is the first of these, without which you cannot be healed through faith in Jesus. All the costs of this work are covered by the free-will offerings of the people who attend these meetings, and others whom the Lord leads to help; but the poorest who have nothing to give are as heartily welcome as the richest.

A. Do you see the sick and lay hands upon them in this Mission?

B. Yes; after we feel satisfied that they are fully resting in the Lord alone for the healing, we see privately, so far as time permits, those who attend; but under no circumstances do we claim the power to heal any; for "power belongeth unto God."

A. Have you any writings upon this subject which can be purchased?

B. Yes; these can be obtained at the office of Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, or at Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. But the best book on Divine Healing is the Bible itself, studied prayerfully and earnestly.

We extend to you a hearty invitation to attend the meetings, which are free to all. Our prayer is that you may be led to find in Jesus Christ our Lord and God, your present Saviour from sin, your Healer from sickness, your Cleanser from all evil, your Keeper in the way to Heaven, your Friend, and your All for Time and Eternity. We pray that these words may help many who read, and that our little conversation may bear fruit in leading many readers to look to Jesus only.

"The Healing of Christ's seamless dress
Is by all beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"ARISE YE!"

"LET US go up to Zion
Unto the Lord our God."

WE TAKE our seat once more in our editorial chair, with thanksgiving and praise unto God for all the way in which He has led us.

With great delight we once more address our readers throughout all the world in these brief Editorial Notes.

IT IS JUST three weeks since we returned from our Mission in Europe.

During that period we have been busy with the almost innumerable details of our office as General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, both private and public, and especially the former.

IN OUR PUBLIC ministrations we have had the joy of speaking, during these twenty-one days, to audiences of at least thirty-three thousand persons in the aggregate.

No words can express our gratitude to God, and to our dear people, and to the thousands and tens of thousands of our friends outside of Zion who have cordially welcomed us on every occasion of our public appearance.

WE ALSO rejoice that God has blessed these ministrations.

Letters have poured in upon us from all sides, showing that the Holy Spirit is leading many to repentance of past transgressions, and to earnest desire to confess and restore to their fellowmen whom they have wronged, as well as unto God.

Large numbers of critical so-called Christians have written desiring forgiveness for many bitter criticisms of the past, and have testified that they have found Salvation and Healing and Holy Living through our ministry.

All these things have brought much joy to our heart, and given us much occasion for praise to God.

BUT OUR principal work has been in private.

We have toiled night and day in long interviews with officers in all departments of Zion, in special instructions and acts of care for the Institutions of Zion City, and for the financing of large undertakings connected therewith.

In addition to all this we have paid considerable attention to our vast correspondence, which continually threatens to overwhelm us, and in the almost literally thousand and one details of administration of the Institutions of Zion in Chicago, and in the oversight of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion throughout the world.

Besides all these, we have to attend to the study of the Word of God, to prayer, and to a wide range of reading, for which we have increasing opportunity through the large additions we have recently made to our private library.

WITHIN THE LAST few days we have had the joy of taking a Great Upward Step in the acquisition of the land which we purchased under contract a year ago for Zion City.

We have the pleasure to announce that on February 1st we paid to the owners of the land over One Hundred Thousand Dollars, and that on that day we acquired the title to five hundred acres, making now in all One Thousand Five Hundred and Seventy-Five acres of which we have full legal possession.

IT WILL BE SEEN, therefore, that we have secured within one year and one month the fee simple of One-Fourth of the Entire

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Area of the Six Thousand Five Hundred acres, which we contracted to purchase a year ago for the Site of Zion City.

THE ACQUISITION of this large tract, therefore, of two and one-half square miles out of the ten, calls for our gratitude to God, and to all who have coöperated with us.

The land thus acquired comprises the entire two and one-half miles frontage on Lake Michigan, and the greater part of the land required for the future manufacturing districts of the City, the whole of Zion Temple Site and its immediate surroundings, etc.

In short, we have now secured title to the most costly and valuable portions of all the land.

THE LARGE PAYMENTS which have been made in accordance with the contract, will now make the acquisition of the title of the remainder much easier, and we propose, God helping us, with the aid of our friends, to clear the title to all the remainder of the land, at the rate of about a thousand acres a month.

By midsummer of this year we shall hope to be able to say that we possess title to every inch of the six thousand five hundred acres, or that we are in a position to possess that title.

WE THEREFORE ask all our friends, far and near, to pray earnestly for the accomplishment of this most desirable end.

Let all who are able help us to the utmost extent of their power, by taking up rapidly the stock of Zion Land and Investment Association.

The acquisition of that stock will entitle them to many privileges if they wish to use it in purchasing lots.

The stock in itself has also become very valuable.

A day will come, we believe, in the not distant future, when Zion stocks will all be at a premium: for the issues will be limited.

We are still pursuing the policy that we have from the beginning, of endeavoring to keep the whole of the stock, and the possession of the land, in the hands of those who are in full sympathy with Zion, and especially in the hands of those who are likely to become citizens of Zion City.

At the same time we do not refuse to sell stock to those who are friendly to Zion, and will cordially agree with the terms on which it is sold.

The advantage of our early completion of the land purchase in the extension of the Kingdom of God, the rapid upbuilding of Zion City Temple, Zion Colleges and Schools, and Institutions of every kind is very apparent.

And the advantage to those who invest is very great, inasmuch as the money will all be kept circulating in and around Zion City, and interest and profits will not be sent away for investment in distant lands, and for ungodly purposes.

All that we make as profits out of the land will, in one form or another, be spent in such a way as to constantly increase the value of every purchaser's holdings.

THE RESPONSE to our Appeal in our discourse of this issue, "LET US GO UP TO ZION" (pages 498-501), has been very prompt, and encourages us to believe that before the spring is well advanced, we shall have all we require.

We therefore again impress upon our readers who are in Zion, and all our friends who are interested in Zion, to get into immediate communication with Zion Land and Investment Association and secure the advantages which investment will now bring.

MUCH ATTENTION has also been given by us since our return to the Establishment of the many Industries which are now arising, and to others which are in contemplation, in Zion City.

THE LAST PARTY of our Experts for Zion Lace Industries has arrived from England, and the whole company, for the most part with their wives and families, is now in Chicago.

The draftsmen are already at work in their department, and the managers are making final preparations for the shipping of the machinery to the temporary premises erected at Zion City.

But the weather is much against us, for, at this writing, the thermometer is at zero.

The whole site is lying under a deep shroud of pure white snow, in the firm grip of a very cold winter.

Still many things are in progress, and much quiet activity is going on.

We hope, ere the summer opens, to see Zion Lace a finished product, ready for sale.

We have already eager competitors amongst wholesale purchasers of lace for every yard that we can manufacture for some time to come.

We have in the United States alone a market for scores of millions of dollars' worth of lace every year, and it is a constantly increasing market.

Of course a great amount of work has yet to be done before we can get the factory in full running order, and the severity of the winter is very much against our settling Zion Lace Workers in the large and commodious Home which has been already prepared for them, and in various houses which have been taken for their accommodation on Zion City Site and its neighborhood.

READERS OF THE COMING CITY will remember the very flattering article quoted from The Economist, which appeared in the last issue of that paper, telling of how our operations had enhanced the values of all land in the neighborhood of Zion City.

It is very apparent that soon there will not be an unoccupied house in the entire neighborhood.

More than a hundred persons are now settled on the land in various capacities, and more than a hundred and fifty are ready to go out the moment that the weather becomes fine.

In fact, there is every probability, within a few weeks, of the first five hundred residents being very busily engaged in preparations for the coming spring and summer.

WE HAVE received applications for stock in a number of new enterprises which are about to be launched, such as ZION GENERAL STORES, which will, no doubt, in days to come, be conducted on a very vast scale.

ZION LUMBER ASSOCIATION is also about to be launched and has already a footing, in a preliminary way, for we have established our first lumber yard in Zion City under the management of Mr. John Johnson.

Other Industries and enterprises are likely to be entered upon very soon.

WE HAVE BEGUN to reorganize the whole Business Staff of Zion, in view of the immense expansion which has already taken place, and of that still greater expansion which is in sight.

We have, therefore, to record officially, in these Notes, some of the more important appointments for the information of all concerned.

DEACON CHARLES J. BARNARD, hitherto Cashier of Zion City Bank, has been promoted to the office of Manager of Zion City Bank, and, in addition, has been placed at the head of a New Financial Department, under the title of GENERAL FINANCIAL MANAGER OF ALL ZION INSTITUTIONS.

This great Department will, under our personal direction, be in absolute control, financially, of all the various Industries and Institutions for which we are responsible, and will supervise all expenditures, upon properly certified requisitions.

It will also control the income, under our direction, of all Zion Departments, both ecclesiastical and business; and, in short, it will be the Clearing House for Zion, and relieve us of an immense amount of detail which we have hitherto directed from our personal office.

The responsible direction, of course, will still remain with us; but the methods of organization which we have adopted will enable us to see at a glance, every week, the exact financial condition of all Zion's Enterprises, and reduce our personal labor in this matter to its minimum consistent with a proper discharge of our responsibilities to God, and to our investors, and to the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

DEACON WILLIAM S. PECKHAM, hitherto Assistant Cashier, has been promoted to Cashier of Zion City Bank, and will be the immediate executive head of that great and growing Institution, which "within twenty-two months has increased its business more than sixty-one times," an almost unprecedented but steady and constant growth.

The confidence of our friends, far and near, in Zion City Bank has grown with the weeks and months and years, and we do not doubt that, under the combined skilful management of Deacons Barnard and Peckham, Zion City Bank will, ere long, take a very high place among the Financial Institutions of the United States of America.

The day will come when Zion City Bank will have its Branch Offices on every Continent.

A VERY IMPORTANT Auditing Department is being organized, and will be maintained in a high state of efficiency, so that leakages and extravagances of every kind will, it is hoped, be prevented, and accounts be kept in a thoroughly effective manner

---

DEACON RICHARD H. HARPER, B. A., a brother of very great capacity, has been appointed Superintendent of Construction for Zion City. He has already entered upon his work, and is now organizing his staff.

He will have charge of the Construction of all the works designed by Zion City's Engineering and Architectural Departments.

We have had for a number of years many opportunities of judging of the value of this Deacon's work; for he has been a Superintendent of Reconstruction in connection with all the Zion Institutions in Chicago, and we have found that he possesses a truly great capacity, although, like some other great people, he is not very large of stature.

WERE I so tall to reach the pole?
Or mete the Ocean with a span?
I must be measured by my soul:
The mind's the measure of the man.

DOUBTLESS our readers will recognize these four lines which we have just quoted as the reply of the famous Dr. Isaac Watt to the loud whisper of a titled lady, who remarked, "What a little man?"

Lady Huntington shortly afterwards introduced the astonished aristocrat to the famous Christian poet, and he, with his usual wit, improvised the stanza.

And so it stands, a comfort forever to little men and women who have to undertake great things.

MUCH ATTENTION has been given by us to the coming changes in the large building which we have purchased in Chicago known as ZION HOME, where our Headquarters Offices now are, at the corner of Twelfth Street and Michigan Avenue, which will be transformed into a ZION OFFICE BUILDING, God willing, on May 1, 1901.

The General Offices of Zion City Bank and Zion Land and Investment Association will occupy a splendid hall on the ground floor, which will be seventy-six and one-half feet north and south, and fifty-five feet east and west, and will include a large, comfortably furnished parlor for the accommodation of the customers of the Bank and Land and Investment Association, while transacting business, etc.

Zion Lace Industries, with its beautiful samples, will occupy, in all probability, the large room on the upper floor, now occupied as a drawing-room, and the other Industries and offices will be suitably arranged for in the Building.

It will also be the official residence of ourselves and of the Overseers, Elders, Evangelists, Deacons and Deaconesses, and Heads of Departments engaged in the general work of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

In short, the whole Building will be a hive of Administration Offices.

The work throughout the whole world demands every inch of space in that great Building, which is seven stories high, and has become so well known now to the citizens of Chicago by its conspicuous position near the Lake Front Park, on the finest Boulevard of the city.

It is believed that the moving of Zion City Bank and Zion Land and Investment Association to this better location will greatly increase the business of these Institutions.

WE ARE ALSO arranging for increased accommodation for Zion Printing Works, in view of the publication of THE ZION BANNER early in the spring, and also because of our ever-increasing business in the printing of LEAVES OF HEALING, A VOICE FROM ZION, and Zion Literature of every kind.

We shall also establish a department in Zion Printing Works for the jobbing work required by our large Zion business constituency.

BUT ALL THESE arrangements will only be temporary, for the time is fast approaching when we must begin the construction of the future home for the many Departments of our large Printing and Publishing House in Zion City.

WE TRUST that our readers will emulate the good example of our friends at a recent Tuesday afternoon Divine Healing Meeting in Central Zion Tabernacle, attended by about a thousand persons.

When we mentioned the appeal which we were about to make to the readers of LEAVES OF HEALING to raise a fund of Forty Thousand Dollars for a new weekly paper to be called THE ZION BANNER, the people started from all parts of the house for the platform, each with at least Two Dollars in his hands, and some with Five, Ten and Twenty Dollars, without any appeal for them to do so.

Within a few minutes we had a considerable sum in our hands to start with, and it has been since increased.

But it will require large gifts, as well as small ones, from Zion's friends to enable us to get a plant and good start for THE ZION BANNER.

We trust that many of our forty thousand readers will feel the great importance of Zion Printing and send us special offerings for this great work.

We are now making investigations concerning the necessary machinery. We shall probably set up the new paper by typesetting machines.

Zion Printing Works and Zion Publishing House constitute one of the most important Business Departments of Zion's Work. We rejoiced in Europe to hear, in every country to which we went, of the blessing which accompanied the weekly visit of the Little White Dove, LEAVES OF HEALING.

We still hope that some wealthy friend of Zion will be led of God to send us a very large sum for THE ZION BANNER Fund.

In any event, we ought to have no difficulty, within two or three months, in getting the Forty Thousand Dollars from our readers.

IN RESPONSE to many questions, we must say that we are not yet ready to publish any prospectus as to the form of THE ZION BANNER and its subscription price, much depending upon the result of our investigations as to the cost of plant, etc., and the result of this appeal to our readers for necessary funds.

We believe that, under God, this extension of Zion Printing Works will mean the planting of the Banner of Zion still more extensively in all parts of this land, and in every Continent throughout the world. We further believe that the doing of that means the Salvation, Healing and Cleansing of millions of sin-stricken, disease-smitten, and sorrow-laden sufferers in many nations.

WE ARE NOW taking steps to establish our first ZION ORPHANAGE, a number of orphans having come into our care, through our Zion Seventy Work, whom we cannot feel it right to hand over to unsatisfactory organizations established by state, church, chance or charity.

We believe that the time has come for us to begin this very important work, which, of course, will by and by have a large center in Zion City. Pure Religion demands the care of the Widow and the Fatherless by a Pure Church.

WE ARE also giving much attention to the question of providing, temporarily, for the great increase in the number of students who have come to study at ZION COLLEGE.

We are again literally crowded out, not only in College and School accommodation, but in the Zion College Homes, of which we now have four in Michigan Avenue, where students from a distance are boarded.

The cry is for more accommodation in every line, and the cost of providing this is very great in the City of Chicago.

We desire, of course, to be able to begin our Institutions at Zion City as quickly as possible; but, as every one knows, even after the land is thoroughly secured, it takes time, as well as money, to grade streets and to build and furnish the extensive buildings which will be necessary for the permanent housing of all these Institutions.

WE ARE looking forward to the Profits from the Sale of Zion City Land to enable us to do this, and many other things.

Meanwhile, we are giving much attention to the imperative necessity of providing for immediate needs.

There is every prospect that, ere this year ends, the number of students in the Ministerial Training and Preparatory Departments of Zion College will be more than doubled.

This imposes a very serious problem.

However, God has given us great joy in undertaking these many things, and if we occasionally suffer from growing pains, we do not feel it would be right for us to complain.

Zion grows like a Tree planted by the River of Life.

ZION HOME OF HOPE FOR ERRING WOMEN and Zion Working Girls' Home are both full to overflowing.

Glorious work is being done in these Institutions, the one for the reclamation from, and the other for the prevention of, those miseries which, alas, are the work of the Devil, who is ever ready, with the help of tens of thousands of demon-possessed human monsters, to drag woman down to nameless depths of sin, and shame, and crime.

Larger Homes for both these Institutions are urgently required.

We are leaving for Overseer Jane Dowie, and a very large staff of women helpers whom we are preparing to assist her, the inauguration of a very large movement for the betterment of women.

We expect her to return from Europe early in May, and a great Inauguration Demonstration is being arranged for in the Chicago Auditorium on May 26th, as we announced in our last issue.

ALL OVER AMERICA and the world, the cry for help is ringing in our ears continually—that old Macedonian Cry which Paul heard when in a vision he saw a man of Macedonia stretching out his hands across the sea, and crying, "Come over and help us."

From all the Continents of this earth, and from the Islands of the Seas, this cry is coming increasingly—"O, come and help us."

The waters of prejudice are everywhere abating, and our Little White Dove comes back to Zion from every land with a Branch, which shows that the Seed which she carried from Zion has been sown, and that above the dark waters of the awful Flood of Iniquity, the Tree of Life is growing.

THESE MANY employments for every moment of our time will give our distant readers, as well as near, some idea of the work that we have had to take up in these three weeks since our return from Europe, and of the work which lies before us.

It is a joyful work, and yet most arduous, and were it not that we know that it is God who leads us on, and that He will give us continually, by His Spirit, daily grace for daily needs, we should be overwhelmed; but we remember that—

"Day by day" the promise reads:
Daily strength for daily needs.
So we live exempt from care,
By the energy of prayer.

THE DEEP-ABIDING consciousness that what we are doing is our Father's will, is that which sustains us.

Our little plannings in what our friends so often call our great City and Zion Movement, are but "little things" to God, our Omnipotent Father, when compared with the vast concerns of His Universal Empire.

We know that there is no burden in God, nor is there any burden to those who cast their burden on Him.

Hence, we Go Forward, doing His will.

AMONG THE recent developments of the work of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion has been the use made of Zion's Seventies, in the City of Chicago especially, as the leaders of nearly Three Hundred Cottage Meetings scattered through the whole of the vast area of the great city.

WHEN WE ordained Overseer John G. Speicher to the special Overseership of the Church in Chicago, shortly before our departure for Europe, we gave him the charge to make the utmost possible use of Zion's Seventies in gathering the people together in regular weekly meetings in every district of the city.

RIGHT WELL has he fulfilled this great charge.

In addition to a most extensive visitation covering the homes of hundreds and thousands of persons weekly in Chicago, we have the great joy of seeing these now well-trained

Digitized by Google

Zion's Seventies engaged in conducting hundreds of excellent little Gatherings for Praise and Prayer and Reading of God's Word, and for Testimony and for Teaching.

And so the work of grace is being deepened in the hearts of tens of thousands in Chicago, and the consecrated services of Zion College students and earnest Christian workers, led by faithful Elders, Evangelists, Deacons and Deaconesses, are producing far-reaching and abiding results.

The extension of this Zion Cottage Meeting system to other cities and lands is of course only a matter of time, and we trust that we shall soon be able to report not only great Gatherings in a few hundred Zion Tabernacles, but a glorious face-to-face work in the homes of the people, such as that which was undertaken by the Church in Pentecostal and Apostolic times.

WE READ that not only did the early Church continue daily and with "one accord in the Temple," but that they brake "bread from House to House, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, praising God, and having favor with all the people."

RELIGION which finds expression only in great public services, no matter how glorious they may be, and does not get into the Homes of the People, is of very little power.

Temple Preaching, Tabernacle Preaching, Open-air Preaching and other kinds of Preaching is rendered far more effective if it is followed up by "House-to-House Teaching," where individual men and women are brought into direct contact with those whose feet God has already guided into the Way of Life and Light, and Love and Purity, and Peace and Power, through faith in Jesus Christ.

THIS SEEMS, also, to have been the practice of the Apostle Paul, since he said (Acts 20:20) in his address at Miletus to the Elders of the Church in Ephesus, "I shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly, and from house to house, testifying both to Jews and to Greeks Repentance toward God, and Faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ."

It is evident, therefore, that the Apostle preached not only publicly, but from "House to House."

We rejoice that is now the case in Zion, and that our beloved Zion's Seventies and officers are testifying to all "repentance toward God" as the foundation of a true faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

We rejoice to record the fact that God's work in this glorious department of Zion's activity is spreading rapidly.

We believe that we shall be able to announce in a very short time that Zion's Seventies are conducting a Thousand Cottage Meetings weekly in the City of Chicago alone.

THE DAY WILL soon come when every Zion Home will in effect be a Little Zion Tabernacle, where the friends and neighbors shall be invited to gather, at appointed times, in the Name of the Lord, to hear His glorious Word read and to hear many wonderful testimonies from the lips of humble people who can testify of their own knowledge that in Jesus Christ, and by the power of the Holy Spirit, they have personally experienced that God is still the Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper of His people, in Spirit, in Soul and in Body.

WE ARE NOW reaping the fruits of years of patient Sowing and Preparation in Zion, and, by the Grace of God, we shall continue to reap and speedily garner into the Church multitudes from the streets and the lanes of all the great cities of the world.

HOW DIFFERENT is the condition of Chicago today, with hundreds upon hundreds of doors eagerly opening to Zion's Messengers, from what it was when we began the work, when not one door was open for Jesus Christ as the Saviour and Healer of His people in all the city!

HOW DIFFERENT is the work today than when our Little Wooden Hut, Zion Tabernacle No. 1, stood amidst a wilderness near the burnt fragments of the World's Fair in a practically abandoned district, where it was almost impossible to get, for some time, a larger congregation than from seven to seventy persons!

Contrast this with the teeming multitudes who thronged the Coliseum in Chicago at our Welcome Meeting three weeks ago tomorrow, when more than 12,000 people within and probably more than 20,000 people without desired to hear the Word of God from the lips of His Messenger in Zion.

WHEREUNTO will this grow?

Who can estimate what this work will be even two years hence, much less twenty or fifty years, should the Lord tarry?

THE DETAILS of the daily work of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in Chicago alone would fill every column of this paper, and the details of the work, throughout the whole world, even in its present early stage, would every week fill the paper ten times over.

What will the future be, should we maintain only the same rate of increase?

By the Grace of God, we shall maintain that rate of growth, and shall even exceed it.

ZION IN CHICAGO is the crucial point in organized Christianity today.

It is here that the great Problems of Christian organization must be wrought out.

It is here, for the present, and for some time to come, that all the malice of the apostate churches will be directed to destroy, if that were possible, the work which God has so graciously planted in Zion.

It is here that hundreds, thousands, and tens of thousands of workers must be prepared and sent forth as Zion's Messengers to every land and every nation.

It is here that the great problem of a Christian Community, free from the curse of the Babel cities of the world, shall prove, in the establishment of Zion City, the possibility of Christians coöperating in Profitable Industries and in building up a clean Christian Commonwealth, where a joyous, free, holy, and happy life can be lived every day with God, in Christ, a life of which He alone is "the Alpha and the Omega."

IT IS IN THAT CITY that a great Temple must be erected where vast multitudes can continually hear the Everlasting Gospel, where the great services of a United Church may be carried out in solemn Acts of Adoring Worship, and in Services of Praise, Prayer, Consecration, Communion, Baptism, and Ordination, and the endowment of the prepared ones with the powers and gifts of the Holy Spirit.

IT IS HERE, in short, that the Great Battle must be fought which will prove that the Church of God can exist without the aid of the World, the Flesh and the Devil, where it can prepare its young children, by a Christian and practical education, in all the good arts and true sciences, to take their

Report of Meeting held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, January 27, 1901. Sermon "Let Us Go Up to Zion."

REPORTED BY S. D. AND E. W. AND A. W. N.

GOD signally blessed the first Divine Healing Meeting held by the General Overseer after his return to Zion, Chicago, on Tuesday Afternoon, January 22d, at which more than a thousand persons were present.

Hundreds of sick, from all parts of the city and land, and from other lands, gathered in Central Zion Tabernacle to hear the teaching of God's Messenger concerning His Covenant of Healing, and to have his hands laid upon them in prayer.

Plainly, clearly, yet lovingly, the man of God laid down the conditions upon which God had promised to heal.

Graphically he related examples, taken from the rich storehouse of his many years of experience.

"Repentance and Confession" were the thoughts particularly enforced.

The Spirit of God was present and carried the stirring words of the speaker to the hearts of his audience with convincing power.

At the close, there was an earnest prayer of Repentance, Confession and Consecration in which all present joined.

Prayer with the sick followed, God working Healing and blessing.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Tuesday Afternoon, January 22, 1901.

Overseer William Hamner Piper, at the request of the General Overseer, opened the meeting.

Prayer was offered by Elder McClurkin. The congregation then joined in singing Hymn Number 425:

My hope is built on nothing less
Than Jesus' blood and righteousness;
I dare not trust the sweetest frame,
But wholly lean on Jesus' Name.

Overseer Piper read from the eighth chapter of Romans, and after he had made a few comments upon it, the General Overseer came upon the platform and took charge of the remainder of the service.

The General Overseer then delivered the following

ADDRESS.

As I entered this building today I felt what a joy it was to be able to preach a Gospel which was the Power of God unto a Perfect Salvation for Spirit, Soul and Body.

I am glad there was a Paul. What a grand fellow he was! I am glad that he wrote that epistle which I have just been hearing. I am glad that he said in that epistle those beautiful words:

> But if the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, He that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your Mortal Bodies through His Spirit that dwelleth in you.

This Mortal Body Wants Quickening.

The great trouble with a great many people is that their mortal bodies are like balls of iron with chains. They are dragging along their mortal bodies. It is a wretched thing to have a mortal body in that condition.

You want this mortal body quickened.

The word "quicken" is to "make to live."

How is it to be done?

By His Spirit who dwelleth in you.

But if the Spirit does not dwell in you, how can it be done?

There are a great many people in whom the Spirit does not dwell, who are Christians.

Jesus said to His own disciples concerning the Holy Spirit:

> He abideth with you, and shall be in you.

He was not in them at that time. He dwelt with them.

It is one thing for Overseer Piper to dwell with Elder Graves. If these two go along together, they will be very strong; but if you could only put Overseer Piper inside of Elder Graves, he would be a bigger fellow, would he not?

He would be a larger man. He would be Elder Graves and Overseer Piper rolled into one.

But if a Mortal Man has the Spirit of the Immortal God dwelling in him, how much bigger he is! What is the dynamic power of that spiritual being?

A man's power alone is as nothing, but if God is dwelling in him, what a tremendous power!

The Indwelling of God.

The power of a true Christianity is an indwelling Christ, an indwelling Spirit, an indwelling Father—the indwelling of a Triune God.

I believe not only in the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, but more. Jesus said:

If a man love Me, he will keep My Word: and My Father will love him, and We will come unto him, and make Our abode with him.

Who is the "We"?

The Father and the Son will dwell in the man who has the Spirit of God, and who by the Holy Spirit loves God.

Can a man love God without the Holy Spirit?

It is impossible.

Man first is led by the Holy Spirit to love and trust Jesus as his Saviour and Intercessor, and then he loves God the Father from whom the Son and Spirit come.

What a power love is!

"If a man love Me, he will keep My Word: and My Father will love him, and We (the Father and the Son) will come and make Our abode with him."

I believe in much more than the indwelling by the Holy Spirit. I believe that the Father, the Son, the Holy Spirit, a Triune God, must dwell in a triune man if that man is to fulfil the purposes for which God made him.

What did God make us for?

To be "a Habitation for God."

That was the first object of God in making man. God desired an indwelling place. He created man with a beautiful Inner Sanctuary in the interior of all his being, a spirit. "There," He said, "I shall dwell."

But the Devil got in.

By temptation, the lust of the eye, the lust of the flesh, and the accursed pride which made Eve think that she could run that ranch alone, the Devil got in. She did not want to wait for Adam to come home. There was a chance of getting ahead of Adam; there was a chance of being "a god," so Satan said.

"Eat," said the Devil at last, "and you shall be as gods knowing good and evil. You will be as God."

Poor, foolish Eve believed him. She ate; she fell; and Adam fell in the transgression.

The Damning Power of Lust.

I do not think that Adam was ignorant of what he was doing when he ate the fatal fruit; when he committed the fatal sin. His love for the woman whom God gave him, made him willing to go to hell with her, made him willing to go out of Eden with her. If she was to go out of Eden, he would go, too.

It seems to me that Adam knew what he was about; that he sinned with his eyes open.

It is an awful thing to use the power of human love to drag a man down to hell, or to drag a woman down to hell. It is the most horrid crime against God that one can imagine to use the love of another for purposes of impurity.

I have no doubt that love, originally, between Adam and Eve was the love of pure and innocent people, but when sin entered, Damning Lust took the place of love.

Lust and Love are as far apart as heaven and hell.

Lust and Love are as far apart as the Devil and God.

Lust is selfish, brutal, beastly, desiring gratification, at no matter what price.

Love is unselfish, holy, and seeks self-effacement rather than self-gratification. Love is willing to die for the object of love.

What a power is Divine Love!

What a hellish counterfeit Lust is.

Why is it that there are in this room probably hundreds of people who are sick?

I declare without fear of any mistake that the diseases from which you suffer are directly or indirectly the consequences of Damning Lust; perhaps not your own.

It may be that you have inherited the consequences of the sins of your ancestors.

The Great Power of Divine Love.

I ask you, first of all, to consider with me the tremendous power of a Divine Love, and the horrible power of a Hellish Lust.

I ask you to see, by the Message of Divine Love, the way out of the horrible prison-house of Hellish Lust and its consequences.

All the diseases from which we are suffering today in this world, saint or sinner, are the direct or indirect consequences of lust. If you cannot prove it in yourself or in your parents, you can trace it away back to the damning lust which entered into the heart of Eve in Paradise; to the damning lust which sprang from the vile, filthy being of the serpent of which Satan had taken possession. The serpent in himself was not guilty. It was the Devil who had taken possession of the serpent, and was speaking through the serpent, who was guilty.

The glorious power of Divine Love is in this glorious Message of Divine Redemption.

Have you really in your own experience believed, realized the power of the Love of God in bringing you to a true Repentance, to a simple Faith, to a full Salvation in your spirit? You will know the Love of God, if you will continue to serve God; in its blessed effects of cleansing in your spirit, and healing in your soul and in your body.

Salvation is the offspring of the Love of God.

"God so loved," that there sprang from His Own Being the Redemption for Humanity.

"God so loved," that the Holy Spirit conceived a Sinless Being in a Sinless and Sanctified Virgin.

Go back to that Immaculate Conception every time you think of Love. It was the Holy Spirit overshadowing who brought into being through that Blessed, Holy, Virgin Mother the Holy Child called Jesus.

I go back to that for a moment or two for this reason: I desire you to realize, my sisters especially, that God designs you to be as pure as He can make you; therefore that you should be perfectly pure. God desires you, through faith in His blessed Son, to have within you a new birth—to have within you a new birth, a new creation.

If any man is in Christ, he is a new creation.

Man! Woman! Youth! Maiden! Sinner, stained with sin!

The Holy Spirit is Today the Author of a New Creation!

What do you know about a new creation?

I desire to start aright with you.

What do you know about the words, "Behold, I make all things New"?

How many things are new in you?

Do you think that you can glorify God with a kind of patching of your own devilishness, with a kind of putty and varnish over the ravages of sin?

Do you imagine for one moment that the object of God is the repairing of your old heart, patching it up like a watch which is wearing out, and just cleaning it a little?

What you need is a new mainspring, a new creation, a new birth, a new power, and the operation of the Holy Spirit's power within you until everything within you is new.

"Behold, I make"—how many things?

Audience—"All."

General Overseer—"All things"—what?

Audience—"New."

General Overseer—"New." A new spirit, is it?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—A new soul, a new body, a new love, new hopes, new aspirations, new possibilities?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—A new heaven, and a new earth. What a wonderful thing it is. All things new. All things new.

It is such a delight.

God Will Give a Clean, New Heart.

"Oh," I heard an old man say, "if I could only get a new heart."

I said, "God will give it to you."

"Ah," he said, "I have a dirty old heart of damning lust. I have a dirty old heart which seeks for tobacco and liquor and pig, and everything you hate, and which I also know are dirty. Oh, if I could only have a new heart."

I said, "God will give it to you."

"A new heart? What are you talking about, sir? How can God give an old wretch like me a new heart?"

"Suppose we go and ask Him," I replied.

We started in; we began to ask Him. All at once the Holy Spirit began to work in that man and to convict him of sin; convicted him of the righteousness of Christ, and with a tremendous force convicted him of judgment to come.

He cried out as he threw up his hands, "Oh, the judgment to come! Oh, the judgment to come! Oh, the Righteous Judge before whom I shall appear! Oh, what a sinner!"

He turned to me, "You have made me miserable. Your God has made me miserable."

I said, "I am so glad. Keep on."

"Oh," he said, "how can you be glad, that a man shall be tortured like this; that he shall be afraid of judgment; that he shall be afraid of the Righteous Judge, and that he shall be convicted of his sins? My God, whither have you brought me? I see every sin I have committed."

"Hallelujah," I said, "I am so glad."

"Oh," he said, "that is inhuman."

I said, "Keep on. Keep on."

Presently there came to him with the conviction of sin the answer to the prayer which I was making, that the Righteous One would reveal Himself as the Advocate.

Jesus Christ Our Righteous Advocate.

I said, "That Righteous One of whom you are afraid is pleading for you, the Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the Righteous."

"Is he?" he asked.

"Yes," I replied.

"He used to do it when He was here," he said. "Is he still the same?"

"Yes," I answered.

"Does he really plead for sinners like me?" he again inquired.

I said, "He does. Go ahead."

He began to pray that he, a sinner, might believe.

Presently he turned to me saying, "Dr. Dowie, I am not afraid now."

I said, "Why are you not afraid?"

"I cannot tell you," he answered, "only, did I not put my case in the hands of the Righteous Advocate just now? Did I not ask the Father for His sake to have mercy upon me?"

"Yes."

"Then," he said, "I am not afraid of Him now."

"What about your past sins?" I asked.

"Does He not forgive them?"

I said, "He does."

"Hallelujah!" he said, and he jumped.

You know, some people object to jumping.

"Ah," said a man one day in London, "actually Dr. Dowie jumped on the platform."

Some one else said, "Did you hear what he said about it? He said you would jump, too, if you had something to jump about. (Laughter.) You never had any religion worth jumping over."

That old man, who had received a new heart, jumped. He had enough religion to make him jump.

Some of you have scarcely religion enough to make you crawl. (Laughter.)

Your religion has never gotten beyond the grub state.

Oh you denominational grubs! You miserable grubs, what is the matter with you? Growling and grubbing along. God has put within you wings, and you say, "No, I do not want wings; I want to be a grub."

Healing of a Man Seventy-Nine Years Old.

That man was emancipated. He was an old man, and he got Salvation.

Then he said, "Why should I not get healing?"

He lived in New Zealand. He had rheumatism. He told me that he was seventy-nine years of age, and that he had had rheumatism off and on for something like forty-seven years, mostly on. (Laughter.)

"John," I said, "what else have you?"

"This stomach of mine is all out of order; you see how bloated I am."

I said, "John, let us go further, and ask this great God and Father who has saved you to heal this mean, dirty old carcass of yours."

"That is pretty hard upon a fellow, is it not?" he asked.

"Is it not true?" I said.

"Oh, it is all you say—'mean, dirty old carcass.' He has made me happy in my heart; but I find there is more, for you tell me Jesus purchased not only my Salvation, but my Healing?"

"Yes."

"Will He not heal me, and let me live a few years to tell people how good a God He is? If I were as happy as this all the time, why, I believe everybody in this city would have to believe me, especially if they saw me healed."

And I prayed and laid my hands upon him, and told God what I wanted.

"Now," I said, "John, throw away that stick. Now walk!"

He started to walk—walked up and down. Presently he stood up.

"You see my waistcoat?" he asked.

"I do not see that big paunch you had; it has gone down."

"Hallelujah!" he cried.

He made tracks for the door. That was the last I saw of him until, that night, in marched John like a young man. He was leading in many of the bums of the town. (Laughter.) I do not know how many he got in, but he was an old bum himself, and a miserable old fellow going around, exciting pity and drinking all the bad whisky he could get.

I saw that man three and a half years afterwards, and they called him Happy Jack. He had never gotten very much further than shouting and jumping. He never could do anything else. He said, "I do not know how to tell you how happy I am, but look how I can jump. You all know I had rheumatism forty-seven years off and on, mostly on." Then he would tell the story, until tears of joy choked his utterance. And then, with a final jump, he would go on his way.

There was a man seventy-nine years of age saved and healed.

A Wretched Old Sinner Made New.

The point I desired to make in telling that incident was this: I saw that man made new before my own eyes. He was a dirty old bum of the town, a miserable old humbug, sick and worldly. He had wasted his life. How he had lived, God only knows. At seventy-nine years of age I saw him convicted of sin; I saw him converted from sin; I saw him get a new heart; I saw him get a new life; I saw that mortal body quickened. I saw that man go about without his crutch; I saw him without a bloated stomach; I saw him come back that night with those whom he had led in from the public houses, the low saloons; I saw him years afterwards, happy in God; and I shall see him by and by in Heaven, amongst the glorified, radiant with all the glory of a celestial body.

If God can do that with an old worn-out castaway of the Devil, is there any of you whom He cannot save tonight?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Is there any of you whom He cannot cleanse tonight?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Is there any of you whom He cannot heal tonight?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Do not get the thought into your heart that it is too late. "Too late" can only be said by those who are standing outside the gate which is shut. But this gate is open—this Beautiful Gate of a perfect Salvation and a perfect Healing, this Beautiful Gate of Holy Living.

How are you to get there?

The Love of God alone can bring you there.

If it were the Justice of God we were talking about, we would have to go to the other place quick. If it were the Justice of God, we would be under condemnation, as many still are. If it were only the Justice of God, how could any one stand?

But Justice wears the garb of Love. He is still just, but He is the Justifier of those who confess their sins, and forsake their sins.

Sins Must be Confessed and Forsaken.

That is the trouble with some of you. You cover your sins. You will not confess them. You will not forsake them. God has said, "He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper." I wish you would repeat that.

Audience—"He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper."

General Overseer—"But whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy."

There is not a particle of mercy for you if you will not confess, and if you will not forsake. If you will not confess and forsake your sins, you will go to hell, where you belong.

If you will not confess, God has never promised to forgive.

If you will not forsake, God has never promised to restore.

If you can find me one promise in the Bible which says that God will forgive a man who does not confess his sins, give it to me. Do you know where to find it?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

"Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon."

If you do not confess and put away your sin by forsaking it, and put away your sin by bringing forth fruits meet for Repentance, then you are covering it and you will not prosper. You will perish.

Practical Repentance.

Practical Repentance means that the woman who stole, steals no more, but confesses her theft and restores what she stole. It means that the man who stole, lied and cheated, must do right; that the sinners shall confess their sins, not only to God, but to each other.

Confess, therefore, your sins one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working.

My supplication would not avail an iota—the supplication of the Christ of God Himself would not avail an iota, unless you confessed your sins one to another as well as to God.

I lay that upon you.

"Oh," you say, "it is too hard a burden. I cannot do it. The price is too hard. If I confess my sin, my husband will turn me out of doors."

All right; perhaps you deserve to be turned out of doors. Let him do it. If he wants to do that, go. There are worse things than being turned out of doors. Is it not a worse thing to be turned away from the gates of heaven?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—But it is probable that your husband will do no such thing.

A Husband Saved Through a Wife's Confession.

A woman said to me one day, "If I told my husband what I had done, he would kill me. He would certainly turn me out of doors."

Of course I saw what she had done. She had failed in her marital vows. I knew what a mean dog her husband was; that he was a bad man. He was a stinking fellow; you could smell him yards off, as you can some men who chew and smoke tobacco, and drink alcohol. I knew that he was a cruel man to her.

I said, "Do you love him?"

"I do," she said, "but I lied to him. If I go and tell him I lied to him, he will throw me out of doors; he will kill me, perhaps."

I said, "What are you going to do about it?"

"I cannot confess," she said.

"Then," I said, "you will go to hell."

"No," she said, "I do not want to go to hell. Oh, I cannot go to hell. I cannot let this dear baby go to hell."

"What are you going to do about it?" I asked again.

"I am going to do as you tell me," she replied.

"Go home," I said, "get all the house cleaned. Wash up everything nice. Take three or four days to do it. Pack up your trunk, send it to your mother, and on Saturday when he comes home have ready the most royal dinner you ever made for him. (Laughter.) What does he like?"

"Oh, he likes everything."

"Give him roast beef and plum pudding. Pour into him custards. Just cook for him until he will wonder what on earth has happened. When the animal is full, go right up to him and say, 'I want to confess to you.' Tell him you want to get to heaven; you want him to go to heaven; you want the baby to get to heaven, and that in order to get to heaven you must confess sin. Tell him that you have to do right, and that you will do it if you die for it. Perhaps he will not want to be disturbed, and he will not want to hear your confession. You must make him hear it."

The next Tuesday I saw her, radiant. I said, "How did you get on?"

"Why," she said, "it was wonderful. I did exactly as you told me. I put my arms around him and told him, 'Oh, John, I have been such a sinner.' I cried. I told him I had something to confess.

"He said, 'Do not talk about it, Mary; I do not care what it is. I forgive you. You have been good to me.'

"'But I must get your forgiveness,' I said."

She told him her sad story. She confessed to him that she had lied to him. It found his heart. But he seemed to be as hard as a stone.

She said, "John, forgive me; for the sake of the baby, forgive me. Oh, do not send me out into the street. I love you, and I have been faithful to you."

She did not know what he was doing, his face was so hard; but he was really trying to keep from crying. Presently out it came with a great burst as he fell on his face, crying, "Mary, Mary, do not talk; I am ten times worse than you. God have mercy upon me."

That man is in Zion today. You can reach his heart better by a sermon now than you could by a dinner then. (Laughter.) But he was a perfect hog, and it was his wife's confession which led him to God.

Confession to God and to Those Wronged Our First Duty.

I will tell you this, I do not care what it is, you must confess. Husband, father, friend, employer, in nine cases out of ten you will find the party who is wronged willing to forgive, if you go in the right way. You will find also that the party wronged will himself confess his wrong and get forgiveness. You may lead him to God. Some of you are keeping your husbands out of heaven because you do not boldly tell them your own sin, whatever it is.

Some of you are keeping your wives out of heaven because you do not boldly tell them your sin, whatever sin it is.

Some of you are keeping your friends out of heaven because you do not confess your sin.

I talked like that one day, and a banker in Australia heard me. He said, "I am without light. I am an Elder in a Church, and as you spoke to sinners today I felt I had sinned somewhere. You know me, tell me my sin."

I said, "If I tell you your sin, you will be angry."

"No. If you will, I will thank you," he insisted.

"Alexander L——," I said, "you are a coward. You do not witness for God in your business. You do not witness to your partner, Mr. D——. You do not tell him, although you take no part in the liquor trade, that he is a sinner, and that he is selling liquid fire and distilled damnation, and that he will go to the same hell to which he is sending people to whom he is selling the liquor."

He looked at me. He grew pale.

"My God," he said, "you have hit the nail on the head. I am a great big fellow compared to you, but I am a coward. I do not know how to talk to my fellowmen; but I am a Christian, if I am a coward."

I said: "I do not take any stock in the Christianity of a coward. It would not pay to give a penny in the pound for such stock. You are the kind of Christian Peter was when he denied his Master through his fear."

The Glorious Result of a Courageous Confession.

The result of it was that he went to Mr. D—— and said: "Mr. D——, I ought to have warned you, when I gave up my part in the whisky business, that I could not continue because I felt I would be damned. I ought to have told you what Mr. Dowie told me down at his Church, that I was to tell you: that you would go to the same hell whither the people went who drank your brandy."

Mr. D—— said: "Alexander L——, if anybody else had told me that, I would have struck him."

He said: "Do not reject it, D——."

The man's face worked for a moment. Then he said, "It is true. I know that I am a lover of money. I intend to have money at all risks."

"At the risk of your damnation?" Mr. L—— asked.

He sat back in his chair in his office, and he gripped both sides of the chair hard. He said, "Mr. Dowie is right. Have we ever prayed in this office? I am a member of a Church, and you are an Elder. You never prayed with me. You are my senior, and you never helped me."

He said, "Forgive me. Let us pray."

They locked that office door, and they prayed. L—— confessed his cowardice to God, and he confessed it to D——.

D—— confessed his worship of Mammon; his grubbing for money. He confessed that his brandy went into the infernal saloons and dragged people down to hell.

He cried to God, "O God, take out of me that accursed love of Mammon! Help me to get rid of the infernal thing."

That day there was another who went out of the liquor traffic forever, thank God.

Salvation of a Dying Consumptive Through Confession.

The next day L—— was sitting in his office, very happy. An old business friend came in, a coughing consumptive. He said, "L——, I have come in on some important business. I am sick. What am I to do? I'm afraid I am going to die."

L—— closed the door. He went up and put his arms around his dear consumptive fellow-merchant—a wealthy man with whom he had done business for twenty years. The man looked up and saw L—— crying. L—— said, "Forgive me, Charley, forgive me. I never told you you were a sinner, and that Jesus Christ was a great Saviour. I am such a coward."

Then he told him of D——, and presently that man burst into tears. He said, "O, L——, I wish you had spoken to me years ago. I wonder if it is too late."

L—— said, "It is not too late."

They knelt and prayed. That man passed away in a short time after that, and L—— stood over his grave.

He came down to me and told me these things. I said, "L——, you are no more a coward. I know you are going to heaven."

He said, "I am so happy, but I am so sorry for the many I might have told before I confessed my sin to God. What a coward! What a coward!"

On the next Saturday afternoon his son went out into the woods to look for father. It was a hot day, and he had said he would go down to the woods and lie in a hammock. He found him sleeping in the hammock. He stepped up to him. As he looked upon his father's face it had such a beautiful smile that the son thought it a shame to disturb him, and went away.

He came back again in half an hour, and looked—the same smile, the same face, only paler; he seemed to be sleeping still. He touched him, and found that he was "asleep in Jesus." His spirit had passed away.

I Do Not Care as Much About Your Healing as I Do About Your Getting to Heaven.

If you do not confess your sin and do right and forsake it, I do not see how you are to get to heaven. You had better do right now.

I may say that L—— did not know that he was sick. I do not know what he died of. His wife said to me, "I almost think he died because he was too happy, that his heart burst with his joy."

Of course that was just her way of putting it. That came to her and comforted her in her sorrow.

It seemed to me that it was not death at all; he simply slept. At least Christ's words were true in L——'s case, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep My Word, he shall never see Death." L—— saw only the Angel of Life.

I will take you another step. God does not want you to die.

He wants you to live out all your life.

He wants you to have these bodies quickened.

I can be no more use to you, nor Overseer Piper, nor Elder Graves, nor any Elders of this Church, no more use in prayer, no more use in laying hands upon you than if they were laid upon a piece of wood, unless you will fulfil the Divine conditions. Then God will hear you.

No man can save you.

No man can heal you.

It is the Spirit of Him who raised up Jesus from the dead who must dwell in you and quicken you.

May the Holy Spirit come today. (Amen.)

May He come to every one of you. (Amen.)

The Healing will come, quick as a flash, if you do right.

Now every one in this room who is determined, God helping him or her, to fulfil the Divine conditions of a true Repentance, of full Confession, forsaking all sin, stand up and tell God so. (Apparently all arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Help me to do right, no matter what it costs; to do it quickly in Thy sight, and to my fellowmen. Give me true Repentance and power to do right, and Thy Holy Spirit, that my spirit may be clean, that my blood may be clean, that my body may be healed, that I may be clean throughout. Help me to persevere until I get this perfect blessing, for Jesus' sake. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

My brothers and sisters, can you say before God that you meant that prayer? Can you say, I did?

Audience—"I did."

General Overseer—Will you live it out?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—God help you.

What a power it is, is it not, to think that here today there are more than a thousand people who will live that out? It will be a mighty power in Chicago, and throughout the world, if you will do it. May God bless you.

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who will also do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

The General Overseer desires every sin and sickness-oppressed reader of these Addresses to pray with those who heard these words, the Prayer of Consecration, asking God to follow it with Immediate Deliverance from the Bondage of Corruption, whether it be in their spirits, souls, or bodies.

Probably there are but few who are so wholly free from sin or sickness that they have attained to the Perfect Blessing of which the Prayer speaks.

Let those who receive Deliverance immediately send their Testimonies to Zion.

MORNING SERVICE.

THE General Overseer began a series of Lord's Day morning services in the outlying Zion Tabernacles of Chicago and suburbs at the South Side Zion Tabernacle, 6428-6434 Wentworth Avenue, Englewood, Chicago, on Lord's Day morning, January 27, 1901.

This commodious Tabernacle, which was opened by the General Overseer during Zion's Holy War, in October, 1899, has been since that time a place of blessing to many.

Between 1500 and 2000 people were present on this occasion to welcome the General Overseer to the South Side Zion Tabernacle for the first time in many months.

Many of them were members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion who live in that section of the city, but there were also many strangers present, who heard the Message of the General Overseer with close and respectful attention.

The Message was a witness against darkness; darkness in deeds, darkness in intellect, darkness in spirit. It was a proclamation of the glorious truth, "God is Light," and a call to every hearer to come into that Light.

The witnessing was effectual. Many arose to express their desire to leave behind the darkness and its deeds and to come into God's marvelous Light.

Zion's White-robed Choir led in praise to God and reverent worship to His Name.

South Side Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning, January 27, 1901.

The services opened by the General Overseer pronouncing the invocation, after which the congregation joined in singing Hymn Number 6:

Behold a Fountain deep and wide,
Behold its onward flow;
'Twas opened in the Saviour's side,
And cleanseth "white as snow."

CHORUS—Come to this Fountain,
'Tis flowing today;
And all who will may freely come,
And wash their sins away.

The Apostles' Creed was then recited, at the conclusion of which the General Overseer read the first chapter of the First Epistle of John.

Overseer Mason offered prayer, followed by the General Overseer.

The congregation joined with Zion Choir in chanting the Disciples' Prayer. The announcements were then made by Elder Stokes, Elder-in-Charge of the South Side Zion Tabernacle, after which the General Overseer said:

Thanksgiving.

I desire to thank God that I am privileged to meet with you in this part of the city. I determined that as soon as possible after my return home I should talk on the South Side.

We have had wonderful meetings in the few days since we came back. I do not know just how many people we have talked to. If we could have had a big enough place, we would have talked to 30,000 persons on a recent occasion. I am told by the police and others who estimated the crowd that there were 20,000 persons outside the Coliseum last Lord's Day afternoon who could not get in.

I am glad for this privilege of speech to visible hearers. I think I am still more glad for a very much larger audience to whom we are talking through the pages of LEAVES OF HEALING.

Leaves of Healing Read Everywhere in Europe.

I found in Europe everywhere that the LEAVES had gone before us. The "Little White Dove" was a welcome visitor in all parts of England, in all parts of Scotland, and in all parts of Ireland.

I found it being read by prince and by peasant in Europe. I found it being read most earnestly by priests of the Roman Catholic Church, ministers of the Lutheran Church and dignitaries of the Church of England. Whatever might be the opinion of the readers, thousands were sufficiently interested to read our Message and the Records of God's Work in Zion, and to want to get more.

I have been very much pleased indeed with the fact that God is blessing the Message which goes forth from Zion.

A very dignified looking gentleman stopped outside of the depot for Zion Literature in the Rue Cambon, in Paris. He looked at the words Christian Catholic. He looked at the window. He looked at the pictures. He looked at Zion Literature. Then he went inside and bought some. He quietly went away.

He came back a few days afterwards, and said to our Evangelist, "Kindly send that card to Dr. Dowie, and tell him that I send him my Christian love. Although I am what you see this card says, I am profoundly impressed with what he has written and said."

It was the card of a Cardinal of the Church of Rome.

This will show you just how God is blessing the world; that one in the office of Cardinal, close to the Pope himself, was impressed by the Message of Zion, and sent me a very loving and kind message.

I could tell you a good deal more about that, but I do not tell you everything at once; I keep it until by and by. Besides, there are many things which we cannot speak of until the time has come.

Zion has learned to know that while we are not in any sense in sympathy with Secretism, we understand how to maintain the confidence of those who trust us, and are investigating. The position in their churches is such that it would be a very great danger in some cases for them to let it be known what they are doing until the time comes when they are willing to take all the risks, and trust God and come out.

May God grant that a mighty landslide may soon come from the Church of Rome. (Amen.)

I Have Great Sympathy With Roman Catholics Who are Profoundly in Earnest and Profoundly Wrong.

They are sinfully misled. Their leaders have been misled by generations of false teaching; by generations of men who thought they were teaching the truth, but were teaching that which Satan had changed into a lie.

The Apostle Paul said of the Roman Christians of his day, that there were many who had "exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen."

Wherever we fall short of making God the Supreme Object of all our thought and all our life, there we have failed to render an acceptable worship. Wherever we have brought God down to our petty level—and in the Church of Rome, O to what a wretched level they have brought Him down! Lower than the level of humanity, lower than the level of the very brutes!

The Church of Rome has sent forth the accursed dogma that a priest, by his hocus-pocusing of a little bit of wet flour and the utterance of certain words, can prevail upon God to transform it into the body, blood and bones of Jesus Christ! It is a scandalous lie, a horrible lie!

God cannot be brought down into such a condition. We are to seek God. We are to rise to God. We are ever to be rising upward to God, and He, in His Infinite Mercy, will come down to us. But God is Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship Him, not in a bit of bread, but in Spirit and in Truth. The adoration of the Sacrament is a wicked, heathenish and idolatrous act, which cannot be otherwise than displeasing to God.

Friends, I do at the same time, however, sympathize with my beloved friends in Rome who are eagerly seeking for a great truth even in that very Ordinance.

I think, on the other side, the Protestant churches have erred in not finding at His Table that which Christ said we should find. He said that we should find Him there in Spirit and in power.

We are to Find God in Our Services and in Our Ordinances.

We must find God in the Baptistry.

We must find Father, Son and Holy Spirit in the glorious Ordinance of Baptism.

We must find God at the Lord's Table.

We must find God in our homes, God in our workshops, and God in our business.

We must find God everywhere. (Amen.)

Seek for Him. Do not enter into anything or go anywhere where God is not to be found.

That is the reason why we fight Secretism, and these accursed associations which shut the Lord Jesus Christ outside the door. They say, "You cannot enter here. We cannot name your Name here. We can name every name except Your Name, but inside this Lodge we cannot name the Name of Jesus Christ."

That, we say, is the most horrible of all apostasies. It is infinitely more dangerous than Rome even at her worst. I do not hesitate to say that the Masonic apostasy today has honeycombed and destroyed the spiritual life of the Protestant churches, as organized bodies, despite the fact, which I heartily admit, that there are multitudes of true Christians, as individuals, both in the ministry and membership of these denominations. But they become feebler and fewer every hour that they remain there.

May God smite the monster of Secretism! (Amen.)

I say these things at the risk of my life, they tell me. My life still continues, however, and will until my work is done. I do not desire to live longer than that.

I warn you who are in Secretism that when you enter into a Lodge or place of any kind where Jesus Christ has to be left outside, that you have sinned against your God. You ought not to go anywhere where you cannot take your Lord with you.

It is a bad place, and it is a bad business in which you cannot name the Name of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who gave His life for you.

Look into that closely and earnestly.

What do you need of Secretism, anyway?

Must we not "walk in the light as He is in the light"? If we walk in the light as He is in the light, we shall not find any need for walking in the darkness at all.

It is bad business when you have to come down to oaths and passwords and covenants with death and with hell.

Terrible Results of Secretism.

I speak very plainly regarding Secretism today. I do so for the reason that there is not a week, there is not a day, but that I find most terrible things arising in consequence of the fact that there are more than ten times as many Secret Society Lodges in Chicago as there are churches.

What does it mean? It means that the women and children are at home while the man is riding his goat every night of the week. He is coming home drunk; finding his way, sometimes, into houses of shame before he gets home. He is sometimes being robbed because he is utterly incapable of taking care of himself or of his property.

There is not a day, there is not a night, that sorrowing and broken hearts and wrecked homes are not coming under my notice in consequence of these Secret Society churches, which number ten times as many as the churches which profess to be Christ's. And the ministers and members of these professedly Christian Churches are found in very large numbers during the week-nights in Secret Lodges where Christ is excluded, and in Society Gatherings where "it is not good form" to mention His Name or His claims. It is a terrible thing.

Digitized by Google

The money and time go, spent in foolish games and silly, abominable suppers, where men are gluttonous and drunken. When women go into it, then the family is gone altogether. There is no longer a home when the mother, or the woman in charge of the home, becomes a Maccabee or a Macca-wasp, or something of that kind (laughter), or when she goes out to see "Stars." (Laughter.)

What becomes of the children in such a family? Let common sense answer.

What becomes of their comfort and the blessedness of home? What becomes of the education of the children? Let common sense answer.

I am not bringing a railing accusation when I say these things.

Zion Will Fight Secretism to the Bitter End.

Zion will win, too. Secretism must perish.

God helping us, we will walk in the light. We will fight in the light, and will do nothing mean. We will say nothing in secret.

What we have to say we will say straight out in the light.

Think of what I say.

My brothers and sisters, get out of the lodges, and keep out. Get into Zion.

That is a pretty good place to get into, is it not?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—We find it so. God is blessing Zion every day.

I want you to know, no matter how you feel, that what I say is true. God knows it is true. You know it, and the more quickly you realize that the better.

There are some who cannot stand such talk. They go to places where the minister is sure to say nothing to offend them. If the poor fellow does dare, what follows?

The churches are so constructed that if the shepherd does not please the sheep, or the goats, they all get together and butt him out of the pasture. (Laughter.) You cannot butt me out of the pasture. (Applause.)

I tell some in this audience they do not need to sit there looking at me savagely. (Laughter.) I am right, and you know it.

I wanted to say these kind, loving things, because I long to see the people get together and do right. That is what we desire in Zion. That, by the Grace of God, we are getting. We are getting together to help to extend the Kingdom of God. We are getting together to do right; to make happy homes and happy families.

I do not take any stock in the man or woman who neglects his or her family in order to go to a prayer meeting. If you cannot go to a prayer meeting without neglecting your family, stay at home and have a prayer meeting there. You do not need to neglect your home, however. The wife and the husband can take care of the house by turns. While one is at home, the other can go out and help some poor sinner to find in Christ a Saviour and Healer.

The tithes and offering were received, during which an anthem was sung by Zion Choir. The congregation then joined in singing "Wonderful Words of Life."

GOD IS LIGHT.

The General Overseer then delivered the morning address.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and profitable unto this people, oh Lord, my Strength and my Redeemer. (Amen.)

TEXT.

And this is the Message which we have heard from Him, and announce unto you, that God is Light, and in Him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with Him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: but if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus His Son cleanseth us from all sin.

"In Him"—not in the world, not in the Secret Lodge, not in paths of sin and shame, and doubt and fear, but "In Him is no darkness at all."

The Highest Intellectual Light Often Accompanied by Deepest Spiritual Darkness.

Intellectual light, mental culture and scientific attainments are all possible in a man who has sunk to the utmost and meanest and most degraded moral depravity.

A man can be an intellectual giant and an incarnate devil.

A man can be an embodiment of scientific power and a power for evil.

One thing is perfectly certain, and that is that the world by its own wisdom knew not God.

When the arts and sciences had reached their highest in Egypt, in Greece, and in Rome, men had reached their lowest point of depravity.

When Praxiteles brought forth the most beautiful productions of his art; when Aristotle and Socrates and Plato brought forth the most beautiful philosophies and reached the highest point in the science of mathematics; at that time the world, as a whole, was steeped in its deepest moral and spiritual and physical degradation.

Heathenism was perfectly in keeping with high intellectual development of a certain kind.

I do not desire to judge Chicago University by the words which were uttered as having come from the President and professors during this past week, but if they said anything like that which they are reported to have said, then it has been a curse that Chicago University was ever founded. Unless it is changed, it will be a continuous curse to Chicago.

A Personal God in Science.

What! Are we living in a Christian age, and are these so-called Christian men who tell us that God must be eliminated from the world of science, that the laws of nature demand no longer a personal God?

Where is the logic of the man who talks like that? How can a law exist without a Lawgiver? How can a law ever be maintained without the existence of One who has the power to maintain His laws?

What! Ye men of intellect tell us that laws exist without a Lawmaker, without a Law-controller, and that God, as a personal Being, must be eliminated because we have law?

If some Chicago University professors have no Father in Heaven, and eliminate Him from His own creation, I think I know where to find their father. They are fatherless children, if they are not the children of a living Devil.

The father of lies himself could never curse this city more than by the statement, if it was made, as reported, that God must be eliminated from His world, and that His laws take His place.

Every man of real scientific mind knows that when you talk of law, you are talking of that which is as Infinite as God Himself. When you are talking of the operation of a real admitted law, you can never shut out the fact that by the operation of a higher law, God can come down and suspend the operation of the lower law.

These men do not understand that the Law of Sin and Death means that the sinner shall die—have perdition here and hereafter; that the man who has sinned shall be sick, and shall go down in rottenness to his grave. They do not understand that the Law of God, the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, steps in and sets aside the Law of Sin and Death, and that the poor sinner finds Salvation, and the sick find Healing.

What do you think of that, Mr. Chicago Professor?

You know nothing about it, because you do not know your Father in Heaven. You have been studying His laws, and you have been leaving the Lawgiver out

God is Light.

That is my Message. "In Him is no darkness at all."

Men Who Walk With God, Walk in the Light.

The Masons say that they are groping in darkness, seeking for light. They are right. There is no light in Baal, the sun-god, the monster whose emblem is the point within the circle, that symbol so precious to Masonry.

They will never get into the light, but they will ever be groping in the darkness until they believe the Message of Christ that "God is Light, and in Him is no darkness at all."

If any man walk in darkness, we know well that he is not in the Light of Divine Life. If we say that we have fellowship with Him and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth.

I speak with caution, because I do not trust the infernal press. It was reported that a certain dignitary of the University said that churches had their place—he liked to see beautiful buildings and have a comfortable pew. Is that all? I would rather have my "Little Wooden Hut," Zion Tabernacle No. 1. where we began this work in Chicago, outside the gates of the World's Fair, with hard little chairs, than your magnificent church and your cushioned pew.

Is that all? To listen to an intellectual essay that will hurt nobody—is that all there is in the Church of God?

Has God, our Father, left His world and given up the guidance of His children? Has the mere cultivation of the intellectual faculties taken the place of the restoration and liberation of the eternal spirit, and of the soul, and of the body, that tripartite being which the Triune God designed to be a temple for Himself? If so, then confess it. Write over your University: "God is eliminated from this world, and law, as we define it, prevails."

Zion University Will Honor God in Everything.

I think we will have to find another University. God helping us, there shall be another University at Zion City. (Amen. Applause.)

There men will be taught just as thoroughly intellectually as they are in Chicago. I will back the Christian University of Zion, twenty years hence, against the infidel and rationalistic University of Chicago. (Applause.)

Zion will have something to say about this very question. The doubt which has been long in our minds concerning Chicago University is being very rapidly brought to a clear decision, namely, that it was born by a steal; that it is maintained by a steal, and it is now endeavoring to steal away the little faith which is left in Chicago.

God helping us, it shall not. (Amen.)

I am stirred, deeply stirred. I realize more and more that Zion has an all round work.

Zion is called, by the Grace of God, to provide, especially for her own children, an education from the Kindergarten to the highest branches of instruction in Zion University. In all her Educational Institutions the Alpha and the Omega shall be Christ. Zion University will honor God first, God last and God all the time. (Amen.)

Leaving Christ Out of the University Would be Very Acceptable to the Infidel.

It would be very acceptable to those who have never owned the Lord Jesus Christ to leave Him out. It would be very acceptable to the Jew who continues to deny His Divinity and His Messiahship to leave Him out. It would be very acceptable to the Unitarian who denies the Divinity of his Lord. It would be very acceptable to the Christian Scientist, who is neither Christian nor scientific, who has said that we have no God except an abstract principle, and no Holy Spirit except this continent of mud called Christian Science. Such teaching would be very acceptable to these, but Christianity is not dead in the world yet, thank God. (Amen.)

There is not one true Christian who would tolerate that kind of talk for a moment.

We dare not send our sons or daughters to such Universities if that stand is maintained.

I have only one daughter, whom I was thinking of sending to the Chicago University. But if these are the principles of its President and its professors, I would sooner send her to a Mohammedan mosque than to a University where they say, if they did say, that God must be eliminated from the control of His own world and the direction of His own laws.

I am glad that we have not only law, but a Lawgiver. I am glad that we have not only Law, but, in the Infinite Mercy of God, we have the Everlasting Gospel. We cannot worship a Law.

Thank God that the Law of the Spirit of Life, that higher law, comes in to set us free from the Law of Sin and Death.

Thank God that the Gospel tells us that Jesus Christ is still the same Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper, and that He is with us all the way.

Thank God, that in the midst of this depravity and intellectual degeneracy, that in the midst of this scientific humbug where men are telling us that their science is going to replace our God, the Bible still lives.

Thank God that His Word is not bound.

Thank God that the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit still control the Universe—One Eternal Triune God; and that His Covenant is ever the same.

Thank God that He has raised up Zion. (Amen.)

If we walk in darkness, and say we have fellowship with God, we lie and do not the truth.

Intellectual Degeneracy Accompanied by Moral Depravity.

Mr. Chicago University Professor, if you are walking in mental, moral and spiritual darkness, and say that you have any fellowship with God, you lie not merely to man and to the University, but to God.

Investigation will prove very quickly that the man who is an intellectual degenerate, is a moral degenerate also. Intellectual degeneracy is always accompanied by moral depravity. I would not trust a man who had lost his God, and believed that he was simply a mere machine amenable to a law from which God was eliminated.

If we walk in the Light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus His Son cleanses us from all sin.

Mr. Professor, what do you know about the blood of Jesus? Have you no confidence in the sacrifice of the sinless Christ, the Lamb of God who took away the sin of the world?

If you have not, tear down your word "Christian" from your Department of Theology. Place there instead, "This hall of theology is erected to the worship of Baal," for that is all you have left. All you have left is the Phallic symbol of "The point within the circle." All you have is the base and sensual and devilish worship of the procreative forces of nature.

When you have lost Jesus Christ, you become a pagan and a brute.

I will maintain that position. I know it is true.

How many of us here know the other side! How many humble hearts here came to God their Father in their sin and their sickness and their sorrow, and obeyed Jesus Christ!

Did you not find Salvation?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Did you not find Healing?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Did you not find Cleansing?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Did you not find power to live a better life?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—All who desire to follow Jesus, stand and tell Him so. (Apparently all arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me Thy Holy Spirit, that I may do right, repent of sin, trust in Jesus and follow Him. Forgive me. Cleanse me. Help me henceforth to understand the Message of God, His Life, and Light, and Love, and that in Him is no darkness at all. For His sake, lead me into the Perfect Life in His Name, who died for sinners. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

After the Doxology had been sung, the services were closed by the General Overseer pronouncing the following

BENEDICTION.

The grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, abide in you, bless you and keep you, spirit, soul and body, forever. Amen.

AFTERNOON SERVICE.

"ARISE YE, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God," the inspiring words of Zion's Motto for 1901, formed the basis for the General Overseer's address in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day afternoon, January 27, 1901.

The upward march, the climbing of the "Hill of Difficulty," was especially emphasized.

The snow and cold doubtless kept many away, but, nevertheless, there were fully 3000 persons present.

The service itself was full of the "Upward" spirit. As the General Overseer proceeded in his discourse, and the toils of the "Hill of Difficulty" were made to disappear in the glories of the "House Beautiful," the hearts of all were lifted up to God, so that at the close the service reached its climax in the wonderful sight of almost the entire audience standing and reverently consecrating their all to the Divine purposes which God is working out in Zion and Zion City.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, January 27, 1901.

The services were opened by singing Hymn Number 12:

God is Love!—His word proclaims it,
Day by day the truth we prove;
Heaven and earth with joy are telling,
Ever telling, "God is Love!"

CHORUS—Hallelujah! tell the story,
Sung by angel choirs above;
Sounding forth the mighty chorus—
"God is Life, and Light, and Love!"

The Apostles' Creed was then repeated by the audience, after which the General Overseer read the fifteenth Psalm; also in the Book of the Prophet Jeremiah, the thirty-first chapter, closing with the following prayer:

May God bless His Word.

Prayer was then offered by Overseer Speicher; also by the General Overseer.

The General Overseer then made the announcements, and among other things said:

During the first week of my return I spoke to 20,000 persons in the aggregate in Chicago in many great assemblies, and I have been very busy in my office speaking to some hundreds of thousands more in various ways.

I should like to say many things this afternoon, but I have said the principal things I would wish to say at this time in a letter which I have addressed to the Christian Catholic Church in Zion throughout the world. It is in type, and will be finally revised tomorrow morning. It will be in your hands next Saturday, February 2d, in LEAVES OF HEALING.

In that letter I have returned my thanks to God and to His people for their kindness to me in these welcoming services. I have also outlined some immediately important engagements ahead of us.

Defiance to Board of Death Vaccinators.

There are many, many things in Zion which have to be attended to, which cannot be matters of public talk. We simply have to do our work.

I desire here and now to give straight, honest notice to Dr. Reynolds, the head of the Health Department, that if he endeavors to make his infernal ordinance of Compulsory Vaccination applicable to the schools and establishments of Zion, we will fight it to the last. (Applause.)

I have received today a copy of that ordinance which would seem to compel us to see that all whom we control, young or old, shall be "promptly, frequently and effectively vaccinated." Dr. Reynolds knows that his ordinance is not worth the paper it is written on.

Dr. Reynolds knows that the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois has said that a person cannot be punished for refusing to allow his children to be vaccinated, and that the School Board has no right to exclude a child on that account. This decision was given in May, 1897, in the case of Posts vs. Breen, where the Court said: "Nowhere is found a provision of law prescribing vaccination as a condition precedent to the exercise of such rights"—referring to the right of children of proper age to attend Public Schools. The Court also spoke of the rights of "those who seriously object to Vaccination" and said, "they cannot . . . be denied of their Rights to Protect themselves, and those under their control, from an Invasion of their Liberties by a Practically Compulsory Inoculation of their Bodies with a virus (vaccine poison) of any description, however meritorious it might be."

The Ordinances of the City of Chicago must be kept within the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois, or else these Ordinances are themselves Anarchistic Abominations. (Amen.)

Dr. Reynolds and his staff of vaccinators desire to propagate cowpox for so much per head for the vaccinator. It is a very profitable thing for the doctors.

Ordinances are not laws. We had to teach that to the City of Chicago in a long fight, extending over a year, when we smashed their infernal ordinance which said that we should not pray for the sick in the Homes which we had established.

We took that wicked ordinance and smashed it again and again and again, until there was not a vestige of it left. (Applause and laughter.)

I tell the Commissioner and the doctors of the Board of Death that they may look out for the biggest fight they have ever had, if they attempt to impose that ordinance upon Zion. Every man and woman in Zion would rather go to prison than obey it. (Applause.)

They would have to make a very large prison (applause and laughter) if they attempted to get into it all the people who were in the Coliseum last Sunday who "seriously object to vaccination."

Dr. Reynolds, it cannot be done. Others who will obey, may, if they choose, submit to your inoculation with the disgusting virus in your vaccine points. Zion will never permit you to take our babies or ourselves and put that infernal pox into us. (Applause and voices of "Never.")

It is illegal. If it were not illegal we should fight that law, for it would be fundamentally illegal.

In England that question is settled by law. Throughout the British Empire vaccination is not compulsory. Every one who declares that he has conscientious reasons against vaccination, either for himself or his children, is by law exempt.

Zion has conscientious reasons. (Amen.)

More than that, Zion has good physical reasons.

Vaccination a Most Dangerous Menace to Health.

Zion declines to take the lymph of the diseased cow. She declines to take the lymph which has been taken from human bodies filled with disease. Zion knows what Dr. Reynolds knows, what every man of sense knows: that vaccination has propagated not merely cowpox, but many other filthy diseases, when it has been taken from the human body. Most of the lymph is so taken.

In a recent case in Ohio, bone erysipelas, from which scores and scores of persons suffered numerous tortures and many died, resulted from vaccination. The principal vaccinator himself died from his own vaccination. Thousands and tens of thousands have been made unutterably miserable from diseases created by vaccination, and thousands have died from that cause. The recorded cases fill many volumes.

We will fight it. We will never submit to it.

Zion, am I voicing your sentiments?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Will you follow my leadership.

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Stand and say so, you who will follow my lead in this matter. (Apparently the entire audience of fully 3000 persons arose.)

Will you follow my lead?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Do I voice your sentiments?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Let this voice of many, many thousands, representing tens of thousands in Chicago, go back to the Board of Death. Amen.

Let Zion be Clean, in Body as Well as in Soul and Spirit.

Let your "hearts be sprinkled from all evil conscience," but remember the other part of that: let your "bodies be washed with pure water."

Be sure to keep your bodies clean. Smallpox is a disease of dirt. People who keep themselves clean and the pores of their body open, and eat good food and drink that which is good, and put themselves in God's hands, will be all right.

So far as I know today there is not one case of smallpox in Zion. (Amen.)

Is there one?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—I know of none. Board of Death, you have it all over Chicago. Zion is all over the city, and there is not a member of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in the United States this day known to have smallpox. Thank God. (Applause.)

There has not been one single case amongst our people in Chicago, and I do not know of one elsewhere.

We have a better vaccinator than you, Dr. Reynolds. We have all been inoculated with Divine Healing in Zion by God.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

I do not say that others shall not do as they please. If anybody likes cowpox and bone erysipelas, and all the rest of it, they can have it. I cannot prevent it; but I will give you good advice: do right, keep your bodies clean, and do not fear, and you will be all right. God will take care of us.

If there should be a case of smallpox in any house, we wish to know it immediately.

We do not anticipate that; but if it should come, let Zion Headquarters know it immediately, and you will get the proper counsel.

I have had many a long fight with this Board of Death. I know the smell of them afar off. (Applause and laughter.) It lasted once a whole year, and you know what happened.

I do not think that Dr. Reynolds is aching for a fight with Zion. If he is, he will get all he wants when he starts.

I have more confidence in the good sound sense of Mayor Harrison than to suppose that he will permit the Board of Death to enforce an Ordinance which is contrary to law. Tens of thousands of persons in Zion will rather die than submit to "a compulsory inoculation of their bodies with a virus of any description." (Amen.)

I Thank You for Many Tokens of Your Love.

I cannot find any words for it. Last Lord's Day was wonderful. All the week through I have been receiving from all parts of the land such kind letters, many of them from persons who are not in Zion at all.

Sometimes I think, when I read some of these letters, of the passage in God's Word which reads:

When a man's ways please the Lord,
He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

If I have received one letter asking me for forgiveness, within the last week, I must have received a hundred.

I do not answer every one of them, but every man who has offended or wronged me and asked my forgiveness, is forgiven at once.

God bless you all. I thank you, and I ask you now to pray for the few words which I shall say this afternoon.

The tithes and offering were then received.

"LET US GO UP TO ZION."

The General Overseer then delivered the following address:

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and profitable unto this people, oh Lord, my Strength and my Redeemer.

TEXT.

For there shall be a day, that the Watchmen upon the hills of Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God.—Jeremiah 31:6.

That day has come.

Ephraim stands, in my opinion, for that portion of Israel which is found in these United States, and upon this American Continent. I will not enter upon that at great length.

I am a firm believer, and have been for thirty years, in the Israelitish origin of the Anglo-Saxon race.

There was no part of my recent journey which I viewed with more interest than my visit to Iona and Staffa. I am studying concerning what I then saw. I am intensely interested in the whole story of St. Columba.

Columba means a dove. Columba was the first preacher of the Gospel in the Eighth Century to Scotland. He came from Ireland.

I was led to make a number of examinations and to follow up some clews by reading of ancient history, and I am not through yet. Everything I read and see and experience confirms me in the conviction that the Anglo-Saxon race is the lineal descendant of the Ten Tribes of Israel who were scattered abroad. That in this land it is the dominant race is, of course, without question.

The time has come when, on the high places of this land, the call goes forth, "Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God."

Zion's Motto This Year Means "Go Upward."

In previous years Zion's Motto has been, "Go Forward," in 1899, and in 1900 the promise, "I will bring you to Zion." This year Zion's Motto is "Go Upward." "Arise ye, and let us go up."

We have gone forward. We have come to the foot of the hill. Now we must climb. We have come to the foot of the hill, and we are going to climb up. It is not altogether an easy matter that lies before us.

The "Hill of Difficulty" is the way to the "House Beautiful."

In that beautiful allegory of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," Christain got into difficulties into which he would never have gotten if he had kept on climbing. But there was a little arbor on the "Hill of Difficulty," where the Lord had given a place for saints to rest. Instead of merely resting, he went in there and had a snore.

He went to sleep, instead of resting.

There are some people whose resting consists in going to bed, and having a snore. You cannot do anything with them. They tell you that they are resting, and that they have a right to rest on the "Hill of Difficulty." You cannot get them to wake up. They will get into real difficulty.

In that allegory of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," many of you will remember that Christian, the pilgrim, went to sleep in the arbor instead of resting a little while and then resuming his journey. While the sun was still shining a little, there was plenty of time to see his way, so that he could go on to the "House Beautiful" before the sun set.

Owing to his sleeping, there fell out of his bosom something which he did not know had fallen out.

He awoke suddenly to find that the day was declining. The "House Beautiful" was beyond the top of the hill.

He must be quick about it, if he wished to reach there before dark. He asked the Lord to forgive him for sleeping, and began to go up hurriedly.

Some People are in Too Great a Hurry.

You are in a feverish hurry, some of you.

Some of you want to hurry me. Do I not go fast enough? If I do not go fast enough, who does? We have gone far ahead of all our engagements in connection with the purchase of the land for Zion City, and in many other ways.

There are some of you who seem to think that the General Overseer will take a little jogging. You had better look out. If I jog you back, you will get a terrible jog. Some good Christians are in a hurry, especially when it is Number One who is to be looked out for.

If I were only to look after Number One, I would not be in a hurry. I have thousands and tens of thousands, and even hundreds of thousands of people to think about.

I have a great deal more to think about than your lot 40x150. I have to think of ten square miles, and beyond that there are a good many other things. Just by the way, I tell you not to be in too great a hurry. I notice that the people who want to hurry everything are those who have never succeeded in anything. Jesus had once to say to His own brothers who wanted to hurry Him, "My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready." Talkers of that kind were, and are, ever an offense to Jesus.

I will lead you as quickly as you will follow with safety. There are some of you who desire to run ahead all the time. You had better look out. You will get into some difficulty.

Christian was very sorry that he had slept. He asked the Lord to forgive him, brought himself together, and toiled up the hill.

He did not know that he had left something. When he got to the top of the hill, he put his hand into his bosom.

What!

He had left the most important document in the world down where he had been sleeping: the roll containing his Assurance. It was left in the arbor. He could not get into the "House Beautiful" without that roll. He must present it there, so there was nothing for the poor man, who was in a great hurry, but to go back.

He had to go down. By the time he got there, weeping for his roll, he found it in the dim twilight just where he had been in such a hurry. He snatched it up and put it into his bosom. Then he began to toil up again.

But the sun was setting. The shades of night were falling. As he got to the top he met Mistrust and Timorous, fleeing.

"What is the matter?" he asked.

"Are you a pilgrim?" they asked him.

"Yes," he replied. "What is the matter?"

They said, "There is a lion in the way. In fact there are two of them, and you cannot get to the 'House Beautiful.' You will be eaten up by lions"

There are some lions in the way here. There are Mah-hah-bones and Boards of Death in the way. (Laughter.)

Poor Christian had very great temptation, for there were two pilgrims running away.

A Christian Has No Armor for His Back.

I read of a breastplate, a helmet, a girdle, shoes, greaves for the legs, a shield, and a sword, but can any one tell me where the Christian's backplate is?

There is no backplate. It is a good policy for you Christians not to turn your backs because you will get one under the fifth rib, sure. (Laughter.)

The Devil knows that the Christian has no backplate, and when a Christian turns his back and runs, then the Devil can give him a stroke. I do not blame the Devil at all for doing that—a coward is always despicable, and especially so when he professes to be a Christian.

There are quite a number of persons who are drawing pensions from the United States Government who were severely wounded in the Late War. They never tell you just where they were wounded.

One man said to me one day, "Doctor, I would be ashamed to tell—I got wounded in the back when I was running away." (Laughter.)

Christian got to the top of his "Hill of Difficulty" with the darkness descending, the sun set and only a little light along the western horizon. Many deep shadows were in the valley and on the hills.

Man is liable, if he is not strong, to be a little fearful in the dark. Christian was only in the beginning of his pilgrimage, and was a little fearful. For a moment or two he hesitated; but, as I say, he remembered that the Christian had no armor for the back, hence it was not good policy to flee. Besides, he thought, where would he go? If he were to go back to that arbor and sit there in the cold all night, a lion might come there.

Accordingly he made up his mind that he would go forward, lion or no lion, and he went forward. But the darkness deepened, and the roar of the Mah-hah-bones and the "Board of Death" was heard. (Laughter.)

There were real lions, two of them, between Christian and the "House Beautiful."

The sluggard saith, There is a lion in the way.

The Sluggard Denounced.

If there is any man on God's earth whom I want to see in heaven quickly, it is the sluggard.

That lazy Christian always reminds me of that song the Negro Jubilee Singers used to sing. The deep bass used to groan, "The la-a-a-ziest man about the town." After he was dead he was "The la-a-a-ziest ghost about the town."

There are some Christians who are not only lazy in life, but the very memory of them is lazy. I hope they will never bother Zion. We have no place for slothful men.

Men who will not work shall not eat in Zion. Is that right?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—And women, too, mind. (Laughter.) Is that right?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—All work. If there should come a time when we had to nurse you, we would nurse you when you could not work. If a man can work and will not, he has no place in Zion. We have no place for slothful men.

It is only a slothful coward who says that there is a lion in the way.

It does not matter how many lions there are in other roads, there are no lions on the King's Highway of Holiness.

The Bible says, "No lion shall be there." If you walk in the King's Highway of Holiness, you will find no lion there.

Christian went on because he dared not go back. The lions roared louder than ever. As he drew near he could see the flash of their eyes in the deepening darkness.

So the Board of Death roars. They can roar tremendously, especially when the Chronicle, and the Tribune, and the Record, and all the rest help them to roar. (Laughter.) But they are only asses in lions' skins. (Laughter and applause.) That is all.

I must go back to that hill. Christian saw before him in the distance the "House Beautiful."

The Lions Chained.

It was all lit up full of light and life, and love and song. He was out in the darkness, and the lions were between. He stopped. He did not go back. He stopped with a feeble, timorous heart. The door of the "House Beautiful" opened, and the Porter said, "Christian, come on! Christian, come on! The lions are chained. They are not on the way. Come on!"

He heard the voice, and went forward. The lions were chained, and although he was afraid, just a little, he passed them by, and they could not touch him.

Remember that, all ye Mah-hah-bones and Boards of Death. (Laughter and applause.) God has a chain upon you.

He went on, and passed in at the door of the "House Beautiful."

That is my text.

Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God.

Do not sleep on the road.

If Christian had just simply gone up, he would not have been late. He would have seen the pathway before him in the bright sunshine. He would have seen that the lions were chained, and that they were not on the way at all.

But it was dark, and he could see nothing.

Brothers, sisters, we are climbing the hill.

Let us go up, up, UP! The "House Beautiful" is at the top.

Elders, hear me; Evangelists, hear me; Deacons, Deaconesses, professors in Zion College, leaders of Cottage Meetings and Zion Seventies, hear me; throughout the world, tell Zion not to sleep.

Oh Zion, let not thine hands be slack.

Go right on. Rest a little, if you will, now and then, but do not let the shades of darkness fall. Rise up and go up to Zion. Do not wait a year, two, three. Be sure to keep the roll of Divine Assurance within your breast.

This is the time for going up. One more hill and then Zion City, the House Beautiful, is reached.

If you do what I tell you, I shall lay the Foundation Stone of Zion Temple on the 14th day of July of this year, in Zion City. (Great applause.) But remember, it is only if you do what I say—so I will not bind myself farther than that.

God Gives Refreshment and Strength to Work Through the Night.

Sometimes when it is day no longer, and the night has fallen, and I am tired, I say, "I think I will sleep." Then I see the work to do, and I say, "O God, give me refreshment. I have done a long day's work, and it is time to sleep; but, O God, I desire to work."

Then there comes to me that sweet refreshment which lengthens out the day. I go on and on and on, and the night is not long.

I am toiling while others are sleeping. I am weeping sometimes while others are sleeping. I sow what others will reap.

But I am so glad that the "sun stands still." Although the sun of earth has set, the Sun of Righteousness with Healing in His wings is flooding all my life with light. The night passes, and I often find that I have been able to do two days' work in the four and twenty hours.

So it goes on all the time. I think, sometimes, I have lived a hundred years in my fifty-three, because I have asked God to double and treble the ordinary day's work.

All I ask for is the joy of working for God and for humanity, the joy of reaching that Beautiful Gate ere the shadows fall.

Will you not arise and go up with me? Will you not arise and go in with me?

What does it mean to open the Gate of Zion Temple at Zion City?

It means, I think, to open a Gate of Hope to the millions of the earth.

Could you but see them as I see them!

Could you see as I see it, poor, degenerate France, which used to be so noble, so majestic in spiritual power, where the Huguenots lived and loved, and served their Lord, and filled France with the Light of the Gospel before England was reformed!

Could you see Italy as I see it, and the deep depravity which has fallen upon that nation where the noblest martyrs of the Christian Church lived!

Today, under Rome, you will find in the catacombs, dug out of the rocks, the facts which show you where the martyrs of the first ages lived and worshiped, and loved and died in subterranean caverns rather than deny their Lord. They died in thousands for Him. Yet in these lands, where once Christianity was supreme, today the moral, spiritual and physical degradation of the people is extreme.

I Love the Latin Nations.

It is true that they are degenerate, but I remember how they were a blessing to us. It was Rome that sent the Gospel first to Great Britain and to Europe.

May God bless Rome again!

May God bless Italy again!

May God bless France and Spain and Portugal again!

May Zion be their blessing, under God. (Amen.)

Look at our own favored race in its center in London. I bring no railing accusation; for I love my nation. I loved the Queen who has passed away. Perhaps, next Lord's Day, I may be ready to talk of her.

I could not talk without tears today; for I remember her when I was a little boy in Edinburgh. I used to meet her with Prince Albert, the Royal Prince Consort, and her family. Sometimes I would get a word from the Prince, and sometimes from the Queen. We lived near Holyrood Palace.

I think of the Mother, the Mother of the Empire; the Mother whose body lies dead in Osborn; but whose spirit is, I do not doubt, in heaven.

I know that never shall the earth again see such a monarch upon the throne until Christ shall reign on Zion's Holy Hill. King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

The Reign of Infidelity, Impurity and Intemperance.

How degenerate is that nation! How degenerate is London itself! How it has gone down into the depths of degradation. The accursed trinity of Infidelity and Impurity and Intemperance is reigning over the majority of the people in that city and Empire. London is a veritable Babel with its Seven Millions of inhabitants, of which it is as true today as it was of Nineveh in the time of Jonah that "there are more than six score thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand."

The future of London gives great concern to its best citizens and to the wisest amongst the rulers of the British Empire.

That trinity is reigning here; that same accursed trinity of Intemperance, Impurity and Infidelity; the infidelity of which some are boasting at the Chicago University.

I ask you to rise and go to Zion. I ask you to help me this year to secure all that land.

If we are united, then let us go up

I am afraid of no engagement I have made.

Everybody knows that Zion has met all her engagements in the last year in connection with this land purchase. Not only that, but Zion has acquired title, years ahead, to between 1000 and 2000 acres. We wish to go still further ahead of our contract and take, this year, full title for all the rest of the land. It is a splendid investment. Already it is worth millions more than we paid.

Arise. Bring your money with you. Do not leave it in the arbor where you have been sleeping and where you may, like Christian, have left a still more precious thing. Arise and bring your Assurance in God that you will trust God whatever betide.

Sometimes a man says: "I have all assurance in God, but I will leave my stock just where it is. I will leave my money just where it is. I will leave my Church membership just where it is."

"Oh Doctor, I pray for Zion," write some people to me, "and I love you so much. I long to see Zion succeed."

Those Who Love Zion Should be in Zion, and Help to Build Up Zion City.

If that is true, why do you stay in the Denominational Church?

You know that Zion is doing this work and fighting its battle, and Zion, you say, is in your heart—then come into Zion, and go through the glorious conflict with us.

Wherever this Voice from Zion reaches today, I say to those into whose hearts Zion has come, "Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God."

It is not Go Forward this time.

It is Go Upward.

Go up!

I had some experience while I was away in climbing mountains.

I climbed to the top of Ben MacDhui. I was not long in climbing up the mountain. I was as fresh as a daisy when I got there. The trouble was coming down. (Laughter.) I wore myself out coming down. I can climb up. I cannot go down very easily—it hurts me.

I desire to climb up and never come down.

I long to be where I can send this Gospel to all the earth.

Zion is not going to leave Chicago. If the Board of Death thinks that, it is mightily mistaken. We will have about a thousand Zion Tabernacles in Chicago before we get through. We will have more Zion Tabernacles than all the denominations have church buildings. (Applause.)

We have nearly as many meeting places, large and small, principally small, now.

Inasmuch as most of their churches are going down, perhaps we may be able to buy the whole outfit. (Applause and laughter.)

There are quite a number of them for sale now.

A good offer would buy two dozen churches today in Chicago.

I know where to get them, but I do not know that I want some of them because the leprosy of sin seems to be in the walls.

Zion Must First Build Zion Temple.

I thank God for this place, but it is only a tent. One day we may build a Zion Tabernacle not far from where this tent now stands.

We shall build many, but we must build Zion Temple before anything is built in the way of a new Zion Tabernacle anywhere. The Dome of Zion Temple must rise on the beautiful shore of Lake Michigan as soon as possible.

What a splendid thing it will be!

We will put our light on the top of it. We will make it shine by night, and that white dome will shine by day. The mariner far up the lake will say, "Did you see the Light of Zion?"

It will shine farther than any light along the shore.

Thank God for the new City which is rising midway between "Beer and Babel." (Laughter.)

May God be with us.

I desire to see a practical rising up.

Spiritually We Must "Go Upward."

If we are to go up externally and materially, we must go up to God spiritually. We must get into the way of leaving the earth and communing with God, even while we do its earthly business.

We must go up in our Christian experience. We must go up in our family life; in the way we do our business for God.

I have no notion, you delegoats, of a uniform wage for the toiler. I wish to lift the toilers above all your wage systems. I wish to make them partakers in the profits of their industry. I would make the toilers, by and by, to be largely the holders of the stock in Zion's many Industries. (Amen. Applause.)

No dream of mine is more earnestly sought for than the realization of that.

Every Man Should Receive What He is Worth.

There are some men who want more than they are worth. They will not get it in Zion, if we know it. There are some men who take less than they are worth. We make a note of those men, and by and by they get more.

There are some men who do not know their value. They think it is higher than it really is. Some men think they are worth less than they are. But Zion will be able to find out just what each is worth.

My aim is a population of godly people who shall work together for something more than dollars; who shall work together to help each other up.

The poor girls who now work for just a few dollars a week, when they are out of work are upon the ragged edge of poverty, and upon the precipice of sin. I wish the arm of Zion to be around the dear girls who have fathers and mothers but no homes, and who have neither mothers nor fathers nor homes of any kind. I wish to see them raised up, until a woman shall get the same wages as a man, if she earns it. (Applause.)

I think it is a perfect abomination that a woman should get less than a man because she is a woman.

May God have mercy upon the mean wretches in this city who pay a woman who does the same work less than a man, simply because she is a woman. (Amen.)

I long to raise women up. I long to raise men up. I do not desire to level down; I want to level up.

Arise ye, let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God.

Brothers and sisters, if we cannot find the Lord our God in Zion, then I do not want to go.

If Thy presence go not with me, carry us not up thence.

I say it as Moses said it.

My Lord, my God, if You do not go with me, I do not want to go. I have no desire to go.

I do desire to go, however, because I know I shall find God there in the midst of His people. I shall be able to help them to sow and plant, and build and reap, and inhabit.

I believe that I shall. I know I shall. I already have, to some little extent.

Now let us go up.

The world is watching us.

The Devil is watching us.

The angels of God are watching us from the battlements of glory. Holy ones are looking down, and are saying: "Will he fail as others have failed? Will this Church be the Church which shall welcome her Lord when He comes, or is it to go back as others have done?"

Shall we go back, or shall we go up?

Voices—"Up."

General Overseer—May God grant it.

Every one who desires to go up in spirit, soul and body, stand up and tell God. (Almost without exception the entire audience arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul and in body. Give me power to do right to every one whom I may have wronged. I will arise and go to my Father, and say, "Father, I have sinned". I will arise and do right to my fellowman.

I will arise and go unto my God and Father, and say: "Father, I am Thy child. Take me, cleanse me; help me to be among those who day and night go upward, ever upward to Zion to the Lord our God."

Give us patience. Give us perseverance. Give us brotherly kindness. Give us love. Make us wise to those who are without, and let us be devotedly determined to help all who are within; to coöperate faithfully; to follow the leadership which Thou hast given Zion, for Jesus' sake. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

Did you mean it?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Then may God grant it.

CLOSING PRAYER.

Father, hear my prayer for this people. Hear my prayer for myself. Hear my prayer for Zion everywhere today, and everywhere throughout the world may this cry of Arise be responded to. Let us go, when we go, with all the power of God. What a wonderful going it will be! Let us go up, up, up! until we see the "House Beautiful"; until the World, the Flesh and the Devil see it, and from the light and glory of it let the evil powers pass away into darkness, wondering and perishing. Oh God, prepare Zion to receive her King, for Jesus' sake.

Now be with us. Help us to live what we preach and sing and pray. Help us every day in every part of our daily lives, for Jesus' sake.

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

Prayer to God Answered for Injured Foot.

SILVERTON, January 12, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—On December 24th, while loading rock, I stepped on a ten-penny nail, which penetrated my foot three-quarters of an inch.

It was very painful.

I asked God to relieve me.

I worked the rest of the day and walked home at night, which was two miles.

I told my wife what had happened. She took my foot in her hand and prayed. We trusted God.

I stayed at home on Christmas Day and went to work the next day.

My foot is well.

The Lord is my help in time of need; praise His Name forever.

There are only two of us in Zion here; but we know the Lord is the Healer.

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, January 19, 1901, was conducted by Elder Excell.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be thirteen in number, as follows:

Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Canada, England, Germany, Ireland, Japan and Scotland.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

MRS. CYRUS B. FOCKLER, Zion Home, said: "I have great reason to thank God for a healing which took place in our family last Sunday. Our little baby had a very severe cold and coughed considerably. He became very sick in the afternoon. Services were being held in Central Zion Tabernacle. I sent for an Elder, but there was none in the Home at the time. Mr. Clemons telephoned to Zion Tabernacle requesting prayer for the child. I did not know that he had done so at the time. The child was lying on the bed in a semi-conscious condition, when my little daughter remarked, 'Mamma, I believe Harold is dying.' He was breathing very heavily. I said, 'That is the change.' It was miraculous. He broke into a perspiration from every pore of his body. This took place at the very moment prayer was offered at Zion Tabernacle. I never saw anything stop so quickly. I praise God."

MRS. CHARLES CHAMPE, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for His wonderful goodness to us during the past week. Our baby had taken a severe cold. Tuesday afternoon, when I requested united prayers, he broke out in a perspiration and since then he has been getting better every day and is now well."

CHAPLAIN MILLARD, 1311 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I find Zion to be the House of the Lord. I am a witness of the power of God to heal the body as well as the spirit and soul. Sometime ago I fell and struck my knee joint and scraped the bone down to the ankle. I was sent to the hospital. The doctor on examining me said that is was a dangerous wound and might lead to blood-poisoning. In that case, of course, the case would be nearly hopeless. He thought he could save my life if I would submit to a surgical operation. The wound was to be cut open from top to bottom and the bone scraped. He said it would never heal with those pieces of broken bone in it.

"I said, 'God, whose I am and whom I serve, is able to deliver me.'

"I had been confined to my room for two weeks and only able to leave my room by the aid of crutches. I prayed to God to deliver me, and in the strength of the Lord I threw away my crutches and walked. Glory to God for Divine Healing."

MRS. MARY E. BROWN, Elma, Iowa, said: "About four weeks ago I was afflicted with a severe pain in my side, and other troubles. I sent word to Zion for prayer and received a great blessing. I praise God for Zion. It is more like heaven on earth than any other place I know of. I thank God that I am here."

MISS CARRIE H. TURNER, Cincinnati, Ohio, said: "I thank God for Zion and for our General Overseer. Four years ago, I was brought to Zion in a very low condition. I had been suffering for ten years and for four years was a helpless invalid. I had paralysis, heart trouble and an internal injury which caused me very much suffering. I was told that I would not live.

"The third day after I arrived in Zion Home, I was lying on a couch in this room. The General Overseer was holding the meeting and Mrs. Dowie was reading Psalm 103. As she read, 'Thy youth is renewed like the eagle,' I thought that was for me. As the General Overseer was teaching, I arose from my couch and walked. The Lord raised me up. The next day I walked seven blocks. That was the 18th day of May, 1896. I have been able to do Zion Seventy Work. The Lord gives me strength, and I thank Him for it."

JOHN GALLANT, Hebron, Nebraska, said: "I praise God for LEAVES OF HEALING coming to us four years ago. We have been reading it ever since. We compared it with the Word of God. We praise God they corresponded exactly. The result was I was healed of a terrible complication of diseases. It was done very quickly. I was healed of a cough from which I had suffered greatly. I said, 'Lord, take this away.' He did so. He also delivered me from the torment of tobacco.

"I preached many years. I belonged to the Methodist Church. I was just starving to death for spiritual food. I could not get it in the churches. My wife and son and I wanted to get out of the Church, but did not know where to go. Finally, we found a Church which fears God and keeps His commandments. I praise God for the General Overseer, who preaches the truth.

"I am in my eighty-second year and am healthy.

"Praise God for a free and full Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living. Bless His Holy Name."

MRS. JULIA A. BURTRIDGE, Kenosha, Wisconsin, said: "I am so glad there is a place where the Full Gospel is preached. This is the Church I have been seeking. God has healed me at various times in answer to my own prayers. I prayed to God, and trusted Him because He said He would heal me, and He did."

MRS. JOHN LARSEN, Akron, Ohio, said: "I thank God for many blessings I have received since I have come to Zion. Last Wednesday I had a very severe attack of grip. I requested prayer and God delivered me. I have also had many other blessings since coming here, for which I thank God."

PETER SCHAEFFER, Cincinnati, Ohio, said: "I thank God first of all for the Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living. I thank God for bringing to us our beloved General Overseer to preach to us the Full Gospel. It is nearly four years ago since the Little White Dove brought this precious Message to me.

"I had been troubled all my life with indigestion. The first LEAVES OF HEALING I saw contained the testimony of Miss Fannie E. Law. I grasped the truth at once. I got down on my knees before my bed and prayed to God to deliver me. Praise His Holy Name, from that time on I was healed. I had taken large quantities of medicine and had any number of doctors, but nothing ever did me any good.

"I was also a sinner. I used a large quantity of tobacco in a day. God has been very good to me. Whenever I have been sick, I have taken my sickness to God and He has answered. I will trust Him for everything. Praise His Holy Name."

Miss Lucy E. Hicks, Newport, Kentucky, said: "I thank God for leading me into Zion. Two years ago I had nervous prostration. I had been treated by physicians for a good many years. I had taken all kinds of medicine. I suffered with nervous chills. I had about thirty during a month, an average of one a day. I had them in the night and also during the day.

"I was just about to be treated by a specialist in Cincinnati and had just about given up all hope. He said I was going into consumption. Before that the doctors and others kept this from me. I was to meet this specialist at the Palace Hotel. As I was walking along I saw the sign, Zion Tabernacle. I thought, 'Don't that sound like the Tabernacle in the wilderness? I believe I'll go in,' and in I walked.

"I did not care what became of me. My mother and father were dead. Before I heard Zion teaching, I thought God had killed them. I was so glad to know differently. Instead of going to the specialist, as I intended, I went into the prayer room and Elder (now Overseer) Piper prayed for me. I had not received much teaching, and I did not give up all remedies right away. But as I heard the teaching, I trusted God fully. Now I am so strong I can go out on Zion Seventy work and Saloon Seventy work."

Mrs. D. S. Fletcher, Wolcottville, Indiana, said: "I praise God tonight for a wonderful healing I received a short time ago. On the 13th of December, 1900, I assisted a very sick mother. I had a sore finger at the time, but I gave no thought to myself. The second day after my finger began to pain me dreadfully and finally it became black. If a physician had seen it, he would have said that the finger must come off. The pain reached to my shoulder and in my chest. We sent a request for prayer by telephone to Zion Home. I praise God that I have been healed."

John W. Parcel, Westfield, Illinois, said he had ceased to use medicine and swine's flesh and had accepted Zion's teaching.

Miss Clarissa Anderson, Garfield, Washington, said: "I praise God tonight that I have the privilege of being here. I praise God that although I was in the Methodist Church, I never have had a doctor. I praise God that He has saved me and that He keeps me. I will follow Christ wherever He leads."

Elder A. J. McCreery, Belvidere, Illinois, said: "I have been troubled more or less with bronchial trouble. Whenever I took a little cold, I would begin to wheeze. I forgot about this trouble. God has healed me of it, for which I praise Him tonight."

W. C. Clough, Stanningley, Leeds, England, said: "I thank God that I am in Zion, and above all, that Zion is in me. I first heard of Zion six years ago while in South Africa. I was there when the Little White Dove reached me the first time. I learned the lessons of obedience, such as giving up swine's flesh and paying tithes, through Leaves of Healing. I thank God I had been delivered from smoking before I heard of Zion. I thank God for His goodness to me. He has healed me many times. I knew a little about Zion and I have come to learn more. God has wonderfully blessed us away over in England, through the General Overseer."

Mrs. Mary A. Anderson, Francesville, Indiana, said: "I am glad to say that I am in Zion. Twenty-eight years ago I accepted Zion in my heart. I was justified by faith in the Methodist Church. I rejoiced when I heard there was such a place as Zion in Chicago. During Zion's Holy War I resolved that I would come to Chicago and see for myself. I had heard so much about Zion and so much about Dr. Dowie, and of the persecution, and was satisfied in my heart that this work was of God, and that our General Overseer was a man of God. I praise God for the victory He has given him. I praise God tonight for the joy I have in my heart. I thank God I have known Jesus as my Saviour and Healer. He is everything to me."

The meeting was then closed by the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

The following testimonies have been omitted from the regular reports and are appended without date, that they may go forth as a part of Zion's record:

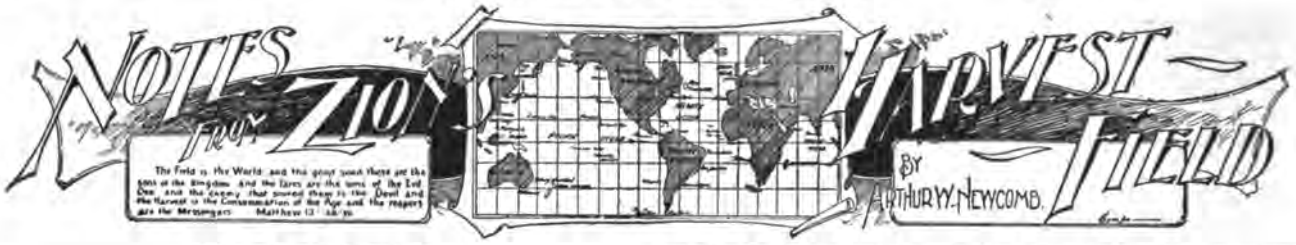
Mrs. Clara P. Drake, Beaver, South Dakota, said: "I thank God for the General Overseer and also for answer to prayer. For about five years I prayed for the salvation of my husband and that he might come into Zion. God has answered, and I now have my prayer realized."

T. A. Lindsay, Zion Home, said: "I am very thankful to God that I am in connection with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. I never belonged to any Church before, but I attended other churches, especially the Methodist and Presbyterian. I found that these churches were not what they ought to be. When I first read Leaves of Healing, I became disgusted with the way the churches were carrying on.

"I was reluctant in joining the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, as I did not care to pay tithes, and we did not have to pay tithes in the Methodist Church. The Devil kept me back.

"A little over a year ago I was called to see my brother, whom I dearly loved. He had typhoid fever and was in a German hospital in the City of Toronto, Canada. I had Leaves of Healing sent him, but he did not seem to accept the teaching, and died soon after I arrived. I was so disgusted with the way he was used in that hospital that I vowed to God that I would never touch another drop of medicine. When I came back home, I immediately sent in my application for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

"I am so thankful for Zion, her principles and the purity of life. My desire is to live a pure life and to obey God in all things."



T. H. Kettell, Zion Home, said: "I came to Zion a year and a half ago, discouraged and despondent. I thank God for Leaves of Healing and what He has done for me through it. These meetings have been the source of great encouragement to me. As I have testified in public and private, the peace which every Christian should have has gradually come to me. I am very thankful to be permitted to listen to this teaching. I thank God for the General Overseer."

Mrs. D. E. Brownewell, 1425 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God for His keeping power. He has kept me wonderfully since I came into Zion. I came here two months ago, almost totally blind. I have received a wonderful blessing. My eyes are so much better that I have been sewing every day this week. I am very happy that I am well and in Zion."

Mrs. M. E. King, 1425 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I thank God for the many blessings I have received since I have been in Zion, both spiritually and physically. I have been healed of many diseases. My eyesight has been restored. I lost sight in one eye, but it is just as strong now as the other.

"I am very thankful for the teaching we get in Zion and for the servant God has sent us to teach us the wonderful Full Gospel. I praise God every day for the good He is doing."

CHICAGO.

RENEWED earnestness and activity in all lines has marked the first two weeks following the General Overseer's return to Zion, Chicago.

The mighty momentum of the unprecedented gathering in the Coliseum on the first Lord's Day after his return is gathering force as the days go by.

Deeply impressed by what they saw and heard on that day, hundreds are inquiring "concerning Zion with their faces thitherward."

The Zion Tabernacle services throughout the city are more largely attended, the outlying Tabernacles going forward under the impetus of a series of Lord's Day morning services led by the General Overseer.

The Cottage Meetings, which are becoming one of the bulwarks of Zion's work for God in Chicago, are steadily increasing, both in numbers and in spiritual power.

The Tuesday afternoon Divine Healing Meetings in Central Zion Tabernacle have again been taken by the General Overseer and are proving to be seasons of great blessing, not only in mighty manifestations of God's Healing Power, but in spiritual uplifting and renewed consecrations.

The material interests of Zion are keeping pace with the spiritual.

The fourth and last party of Lace Experts from Nottingham, England, arrived in Boston on the steamship New England, on Friday afternoon, January 25, 1901.

They were in charge of Mr. Arthur Stevenson, brother of Deacon Samuel Stevenson, the third of the Stevenson brothers to come to Zion in connection with Zion Lace Industries.

The party was stopped by the Immigration Inspectors on the ground of their coming in violation of the Alien Contract Labor Law.

A. J. Gladstone Dowie, son of the General Overseer, who is attending the Law School of Harvard University, met the party, and on the following morning conducted their case on an appeal to a Special Board of Inquiry of the Immigration Bureau.

Mr. Dowie's argument was convincing, and after three hours' discussion, the Board decided that the experts were entitled to admission to the United States.

They arrived in Zion, Chicago, on Sunday evening, January 27, at 10:25 o'clock.

The following is a list of those in the party:

Mr. Arthur Stevenson and wife.
Mr. G. Gurton, wife and two children.
Mr. J. Marriott and two daughters.
Mr. J. Willimot and one child.
Mr. B. C. Harrison and wife.
Mrs. H. Owen.
Mr. J. Hazeldine.
Mr. W. Walker.
Mr. H. Bailey.

San Francisco, California.

Rev. W. D. Taylor, Elder-in-Charge.

The work of the General Overseer in America was begun in the City of San Francisco, twelve and one-half years ago. God greatly blessed that work, and there are thousands, not only in San Francisco, but all along the Pacific Slope, who owe their natural and spiritual lives, under God, to John Alexander Dowie.

There was no permanent organization of those who thus learned the truths of the Everlasting Gospel. The great necessities of the work in Chicago and other parts of the world prevented active operations on the Pacific Slope, yet many remained loyal to the General Overseer throughout all those years, and many of them became members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion upon its organization. More have come in during recent years. Now many Gatherings of the Friends of Zion shine like beacon lights all along that coast, while a Branch of the Church has been organized at San Francisco, with Elder W. D. Taylor in charge.

Elder Taylor resides at 1516 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California, while the Branch holds its meetings in Zion Tabernacle, 927 Mission Street, San Francisco, California.

Meetings are held at 3 and 7:30 P. M. every Lord's Day, and at 7:30 o'clock on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Two Cottage Meetings are also held. One meets at the home of Elder Taylor (address given above) on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock; another at 5608 San Pablo Avenue, Oakland, California, at 7:30 o'clock, Thursday evening.

God is blessing the work in California.

He is bringing many in that beautiful State to a practical knowledge of Himself through Christ as Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Rev. Gideon Hammond, Elder-in-Charge. Deacon C. F. Kelchner, Assisting.

We have received from Miss Mary S. Ortman, the teacher in Zion's Junior School at Philadelphia, the following wonderful testimony to healing of a broken leg of one of the Junior school boys, in answer to the prayers of Deacon Kelchner:

We would like to add our testimony to the many we see and enjoy reading in LEAVES OF HEALING.

A few days before Christmas, one of our Junior boys, John Kaufmann, 2838 Park Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with a schoolmate and another boy, was playing among the cars in a freight yard, and while jumping from one car to another he was pushed and fell and broke his leg.

Virgil Pangborn, his schoolmate, lifted him up upon his back and hurried off with him.

The policeman called to the boys about the ambulance and the hospital, but Virgil, telling of it, said, "We did not want to go to the hospital, so I ran as fast as I could and got away from the 'Cop'; but John was awful heavy."

Our Juniors fear the hospital and shun it as they would a pest house.

As Deacon Kelchner prayed and took hold of the leg, he could feel the lump caused by the broken bone go down.

The boy kept his leg quiet, but there were no applications whatever used—no splints, etc.

In two weeks' time he began to walk, and in less than three weeks he returned to school.

We praise God for this victory over the Devil.

We rejoice to see that this blessed truth of Divine Healing is taking hold of the children.

Instantaneous Healing at Time of Prayer.

UPPER SANDUSKY, OHIO, January 22, 1901.

DEAR DR. SPEICHER:—We received your letter yesterday and thank you for your prayers.

I was instantly healed the same day, and the little boy's finger burst open the next day at 4:30 P. M.; for which we thank God.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) GEORGE A. DIRMEYER.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

places as Builders of Zion, in every State of this Union and in every Republic and Commonwealth of this Continent, and of every Continent and Island throughout the world.

If within the lifetime of one man, Christianity could spread, in the First Century, over all the earth, what may not be done in the Twentieth Century by God through a Living Church, "built upon the Foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief Corner Stone"?

What are the possibilities to a Church filled with the Power of the Holy Spirit, and able to employ by its wealth and talents all the material forces of the "Hidings of God's Power," in this Twentieth Century when "one drop of ink makes millions think"?

The possibilities which are now unfolding before us in Zion are not the wild Imaginations of a dreamer of dreams, but, as the world is everywhere seeing them, they are the Glorious Realizations of God's Promises to His Zion, which have come down to us from the distant ages through Divinely-inspired prophets, which God said would be realized in the latter days.

ARISE! SHINE! O Zion, for thy Light is come,
And the Glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

A LITTLE ONE shall become a Thousand,
And a small one a Strong Nation;
I the Lord will hasten it in its Time.

WE PROCLAIM confidently that God's time to fulfil this Promise in Zion has come, and that this First Year of the Twentieth Century is the First Hour of a Glorious Day.

The darkness is already beginning to flee away, although "gross darkness" still covers many of the peoples.

But the Dawn has come.

The Light has come, and Zion is going forward, obeying that Voice which rang through all the Holy City's palaces and towers, and in the solitudes of Judea, long centuries ago:

Make ye ready the Way of the Lord,
Make His paths straight!

THIS IS the Day of Preparation.

Make the Lord's Way ready, oh Zion!

This is the day for action, for bridging over all the deep, dark valleys, for climbing up to the heights of the highest mountains, and swiftly descending to the seas.

The River of Life will flow, and is flowing, through the Oceans and the Islands and the Continents, until all the world shall know the glorious truth of the Everlasting Gospel: "One is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are Brethren."

WHEN THAT day comes, every Tyrant's Throne will fall to rise no more, and Wars and Contentions between nations will forever cease.

When that day comes, every Ecclesiastical Apostasy will vanish to curse the world no more with the dark shadows of crimes and superstitions and hypocrisies.

When that day comes, men shall know the Lord.

It is the mission of Zion to "make ready" for her Lord that happy day, albeit that she is still going upward, contending earnestly for "the Faith once for all delivered to the Saints," rejoicing as she goes "walking in the Light."

The Time of Final Triumph for the Kingdom of God will come.

It will be as when the engineering difficulties in the great transcontinental railways had been overcome, when rivers had been bridged, slimy marshes had been crossed, the rocky mountains had been climbed, away up to their highest peaks, the rocks were tunnelled through, pathways hewn out of the cliffs along the narrow canons of the rivers, and when at last the Panting Steam Horse had on its Iron Way crossed the plains, and come down to the Pacific Ocean!

Then the Way for millions to cross was at last made plain, every foot of all the thousands of miles of it, from "Hell Gate" at New York to the "Golden Gate" at San Francisco!

Even so the Way of the Lord shall be prepared from the very Gates of Hell to the Golden Gates of Heaven. Hallelujah!

THIS IS God's Message and Zion's Mission.

WE IMAGINE that when these words are read by the Philistines of the Churches in their Gath, and by the Mah-hah-bones in their Pagan Temples, that they will perhaps laugh a little, and endeavor to keep their courage up by some of their old-time scorning.

But even while they do it, we see their lips are pale and their hearts are quaking; for God has sent forth a hand which has written on the walls of all their Masonic-Belshazzar-feasts:

"Mene, Mene, Tekel."

And they know in their ungodly hearts, in their hypocritical mummeries, in all their dens of iniquity, in the press and behind the pulpit, in all the places where they are scheming to deceive the people, that they are under the Condemnation of God.

God has written these Words of Doom upon all their walls, and this is still their interpretation, as when Daniel interpreted them—

Mene—"God hath numbered thy kingdom and brought it to an end."

Tekel—"Thou art weighed in the balances and art found wanting."

WE HAVE no hatred in our hearts against any one, even were he as wicked as Belshazzar; but we hate with all the intensity of Divine Love the abominations which have so long retarded the establishment of the Kingdom of God o'er all the earth.

ENDING WHERE we began, we proclaim that God's Word is being fulfilled in America today, and in this Voice from Zion—

There shall be a Day that the Watchmen upon the Hills of Ephraim shall cry,
Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God.

LOOKING OUT upon the white-shrouded earth now lying beneath the winter snow, we cry to Zion everywhere, "Arise, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God."

For yet a few weeks and the Winter shall pass away and the Spring shall come, and the Rivers shall flow, and the Ice-bound Lakes shall laugh and dance and leap for very joy in the Summer Sun and reflect the unclouded blue of the throbbing sky.

The Bright and Glorious Days of our happy Reunions in Zion are near, and God will do Mighty Works in Zion this year.

ARISE: AND come up to Zion, "unto the Lord our God," and let us build the City which He hath already founded, where the Site for His Temple is already consecrated, and to which throngs of the Ransomed are coming with Songs from every Continent, filled with determination to coöperate with us in making Zion the Joy of the whole earth.

BRETHREN, PRAY FOR US.

ZION CITY BANK.

By DEACON WILLIAM S. PECKHAM.

But a woman that feareth Jehovah, she shall be praised.—Proverbs 31:30.

THE entire English-speaking people of the world share in Great Britain's sorrow over the death of her beloved Queen Victoria. The death of any other of the crowned heads of the world would have caused more concern politically, but not one of them would have been so universally mourned. Queen Victoria was preëminently a monarch of peace, and many times her influence kept England from war. On several occasions her strong hand and wise counsel kept her ministers from precipitating war with the United States.

She was a true woman, a devoted wife and mother, a noble Christian, with an intense love for the Bible. Once when asked what was the secret of England's glory and greatness, she said it was due to the Word of God. Her influence was ever on the side of Christianity.

Not only was her reign the longest in the history of Great Britain, but it was marked by the most wonderful progress in the nation's greatness, in its wealth, resources and expansion. Vast additions have been made to her territory, and the "gates" of the world are almost all held by Great Britain.

The sun never goes down on the "Union Jack." The English navy is the largest and most powerful in the world.

The Elizabethan age was scarcely more remarkable for its literature and great authors, and no reign of any of England's kings and queens saw so many grand statesmen, among whom none stood higher than Hon. W. E. Gladstone, heroic defender of Christianity and the Bible.

THE HEAVY SELLING in the London market consequent upon the death of Queen Victoria caused many foreign holders to part with American securities. But there has been a decided rally and the conditions of trade with the United States are all that could be desired. In fact, many of the leading men of Europe are now advocating a league against the rapid encroachment of American manufacturers in their markets.

OUR EXPORTS still continue to lead our imports in increasing ratio. The increase in the bank clearings of all the great cities of the country shows large gains, in several instances the increase being eighty per cent.

The jobbing trade continues very heavy and collections are reported as excellent.

Banks universally show large gains in deposits and increase in loans; but in nothing is the prosperity of our people shown more clearly than in the remarkable and steady growth of our savings institutions. It is not so much what a nation or a man makes, as what each saves, that determines their ultimate success and prosperity. The large increase in the savings banks' deposits indicates thrift, industry, frugality and healthy economic conditions.

Very few people have any idea of the vast sums of money now on deposit in the savings banks in the United States, which now reach the enormous total of $2,400,000,000. The number of depositors is 6,000,000, and the average deposit $400.

During the year 1900 the number of depositors in savings banks increased 420,000, and the deposits were increased by $220,000,000. This reflects the splendid conditions existing in the industrial and commercial world, and reveals the fact that mechanics and toilers of all kinds are employed at good wages, and able to lay aside a portion of their earnings. It is estimated that one person out of every ten is interested in the savings institutions of the country.

ZION CITY BANK opened 233 new accounts in its Savings Department during the month of January, and now has 2850 depositors in this department alone. Our commercial business is growing steadily, and our foreign exchange business is also increasing. Zion City Bank will go into its new and beautiful quarters in Zion Office Building, now Zion Home, about May 1st, with a well-established business, and will be glad to leave the old crowded rooms in Zion College Building. No doubt our new quarters will again be too small in a few years, for Zion is constantly outgrowing her clothes.

IN ASSUMING the duties and responsibilities of the position of Cashier of Zion City Bank, I am very glad to know that we shall still have the wise counsel and direction of Deacon C. J. Barnard, who has been made General Financial Manager of all Zion's Financial Institutions and Industries, whose enterprise and ability have done so much to put Zion City Bank on its present solid foundation. Best of all, we rejoice in having the oversight and control of our beloved General Overseer, whose wisdom, large experience and wonderful executive powers are acknowledged by the keenest business men of Chicago.

NOW IS THE TIME to purchase Zion Lace Industries Stock. Do not delay until it has all been taken.

NOW IS THE TIME to purchase Zion Land and Investment Association Stock. Do not delay until your choice of lots is gone.

ARISE YE, and let us go up to Zion unto the Lord our God.—Jeremiah 31:6.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

WHO ARE THE REAL GODS OF CHINA AND JAPAN?

WHAT IS IDOLATRY? It is not, as many think, the mere worship of images of wood and stone and gold.

The Chinese think they worship the spirit of some dead person which they suppose visits or dwells in the idol. They deem it to be the spirit of an ancestor, or of some hero or sage of the past. Every god is only human, they think.

He may have been a good man or a villain. That does not matter. If the Emperor of China has appointed him to be a god, his spirit may be worshiped.

The power which makes can unmake. But we have heard of no gods deposed even by the Empress Dowager. And new gods are often added to the Chinese pantheon.

Who are the gods? Certainly not the spirits of dead men. The bloody and immoral General Kwan-ti is now worshiped as the Chinese god of war in every county of the Empire. In which of his 2000 shrines is his spirit present? It can only be in one place at a time. Yet in each of his temples there is a personal influence controlling the people.

A subtle spell, mysterious and strong, is exerted over those who bow before the images. It is the cunning power of evil spirits. In 1 Corinthians 10:20 the Holy Spirit says: "The things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to demons and not to God." In the Revelation of Jesus Christ (9:20) He speaks of those who repented not of the works of their hands that they should not worship demons and idols.

The teaching is plain. Asia does not worship mere idols. Nor is the worship received by spirits of the departed. It is received by a host of wicked demons under the control of Satan.

The good in heathenism makes some missionaries deny the Satanic origin of idolatry. But he would be a stupid Devil indeed if he did not mix in some good with his systems.

Echoes of God's primeval revelation to Adam have come down to man in all ages and lands. Man has by experience learned other truth. Some truths which God revealed and some which man has learned, Satan has taken and perverted by mingling with his own lies, connecting it all with many impressive and seductive forms of worship, ostensibly offered to the lost ones gone before, but really received by the lying demons, the spiritual hosts of wickedness, led by the "Prince of the Power of the Air" (Ephesians 2:2).

The anger of Jehovah would not burn so fiercely against idol-worship if it were merely a mistake of men; or if, as many teach, idolatry is only a crude and yet sincere way of adoring the unseen Creator. Idolatry is inspired by Satan. In Revelation, chapters 21 and 22, it is classed with lying, uncleanness and murder. To entice another to worship evil spirits, under the old law, was a crime to be punished with instant death.

If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers; of the gods of the peoples which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth; thou shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him: but thou shalt surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people. And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; because he hath sought to draw thee away from the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is in the midst of thee.—Deuteronomy 13:6-11.

Heavenly Foot Society.—The Chinese, through missionary influence, have formed a Heavenly Foot Society. Heavenly is used in the sense of natural. It is a protest against the cruel custom of dwarfing and deforming the feet of little girls by tight bandaging.

The Chinese might well send missionaries to England and America to start a Heavenly Waist Society. The same Devil that invented the Chinese fancy goat-hoof for girls, to attract the lustful gaze of men, devised the European hour-glass waist for the same purpose. The delicate vital organs are cramped out of shape and the waist made small so that the bust and hips, by contrast, may look large.

Why? Ask the Devil why! Ask the demi-monde!

A Chicago firm advertises the only corset "that positively reduces the abdomen." It is "recommended by physicians," of course. It helps their business. "No other corset can accomplish the same results."

There are not a few weak sisters in Chicago who will bite at this nicely-baited hook of Satan and then go to a missionary meeting and whine for money to rescue Chinese girls from footbinding! Wasp-waisted women are wicked.

One would better be "A pagan suckled in a creed outworn" than such a Christian (1 Corinthians 3:16, 17).

Physician's Wife Healed.—Elder Viking writes from Shanghai, China, of the Baptism of nine and of healing:

The Lord has blessed and given several marked healings lately among the Chinese.

The wife of a Chinese physician had been sick in bed one month. The last week she was in agony and pain, having some peculiar stomach disease.

She had no appetite.

She was practically given up as hopeless by her husband.

He had heard about Zion. He got some of our Chinese tracts, came to our chapel, asked for prayer, and requested us to come and see his wife.

I took Mr. Li with me.

We had it out with the physician about his profession, so full of the Devil.

We told him that her healing depended upon their repentance and their giving up of the Devil's service.

They were led to see the truth and to give up their business.

We then prayed, ordered her to eat, and left them.

Two days after, we returned. We found the wife at work making socks for a store near by.

In a house near by somebody was dying. Two Buddhist priests were there with drums, candles, papers and all kinds of noises in order to cast out the Devil.

What a contrast!

The bad feeling against us in Shanghai comes from so-called Christians.

The leaders are at their wits' end how to prevent the Chinese from coming to us.

The churches are being visited by Zion Literature.

Several of the leading native preachers have been to see us, defending drugs, whisky, tobacco, pork, etc., to their everlasting shame.

Anti-vaccination information in detail may be found in Leaves of Healing, Volume VII, Numbers 21, 22 and 23.

BY DEACON H. WORTHINGTON JUDD.

NO REASONABLE person who is honest at heart and familiar with the circumstances connected with the purchase of the more than ten square miles of land for Zion City, can deny the fact that more than human agency has had to do with the accomplishing of what has already been done by our General Overseer, John Alexander Dowie.

Every thoughtful, earnest Christian must learn to know that strict obedience will bring the fulfilment of God's promises to His Zion. The secret of the success of God's servant is that he has learned the lesson of obedience and has the knowledge of that fact written in his heart. God through his ministry is fulfilling the promise to Zion as recorded by the Prophet Isaiah, who says:

I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways: he shall build My City, and he shall let My exiles go free, not for price nor reward, saith the Lord of Hosts.

For many years God has given His servant, our General Overseer, the assurance that this should be accomplished in these last days. He has seen that the afflicted and persecuted of God's people should have a place of refuge, a harbor of safety from those who are the enemies of God and fight the truths contained in His Word. There the Covenants of God will be so securely written in the hearts of His people that none will have need to teach his brother, saying, "Know the Lord": for all shall know Him "from the least to the greatest of them," as their Redeemer, their Healer, Cleanser, Keeper, their All and in All.

How wondrously has God spared and kept His Messenger through the many conflicts with the hosts of Satan who have encamped around about him, determined, if possible, to destroy his life. As God's Messenger declaring His Ever-living Covenant, he has been a swift witness against the oppressors, the adulterers, the false swearers, and especially the doctors, or sorcerers, the latter adopting as a means of defense the ruffianly tactics learned on the football gridiron.

But God has brought him through triumphant, and Christ has conquered everywhere. Praise His Holy Name!

Some time in the month of September, 1899, a little company met together in Zion Home to arrange a plan to be pursued in securing options on the land for Zion City Site, the selection of which had been plainly marked with the stamp of God's approval.

Prayer was offered by the General Overseer, who asked God to specially prepare the way for our agent, who was being employed at that time, that he should find favor with the many farmers and others with whom he must negotiate in order to get the land. God most wonderfully answered that prayer, and although obstructions arose, which seemed to be serious, yet the way was opened until fifty separate landholders had consented to the sale of their properties. We have yet to hear that Zion's agent has even the ill-will of any one of the large number of persons he had to deal with.

We believe this favor is more deeply felt toward Zion because of the honest and prompt manner in which she has more than fulfilled every contracted obligation. In fact, it is widely talked about by business men throughout the whole country as being the squarest real estate deal they have ever known.

Hiram Ferry, whose total holdings were about 600 acres, was the one prevailed upon to sign the first contract for the sale of 497 acres of his land, eighty acres of which we obtained possession of a few weeks ago, it being located where the first new lace factory is now being erected.

On February 1st we paid for the remainder of this land, which gives us possession of 1150 acres of the most valuable land purchased, lying between Sheridan Road and Lake Michigan. This land will, within a very few years, be worth many thousands of dollars per acre.

Every day during the time the agent was obtaining the options on the land, field notes were being received from him stating the experience he was having, how much had been secured, and how hard they were trying to guess whom the purchaser might be. Never was he compelled to falsify, but he was brought sometimes into very close corners.

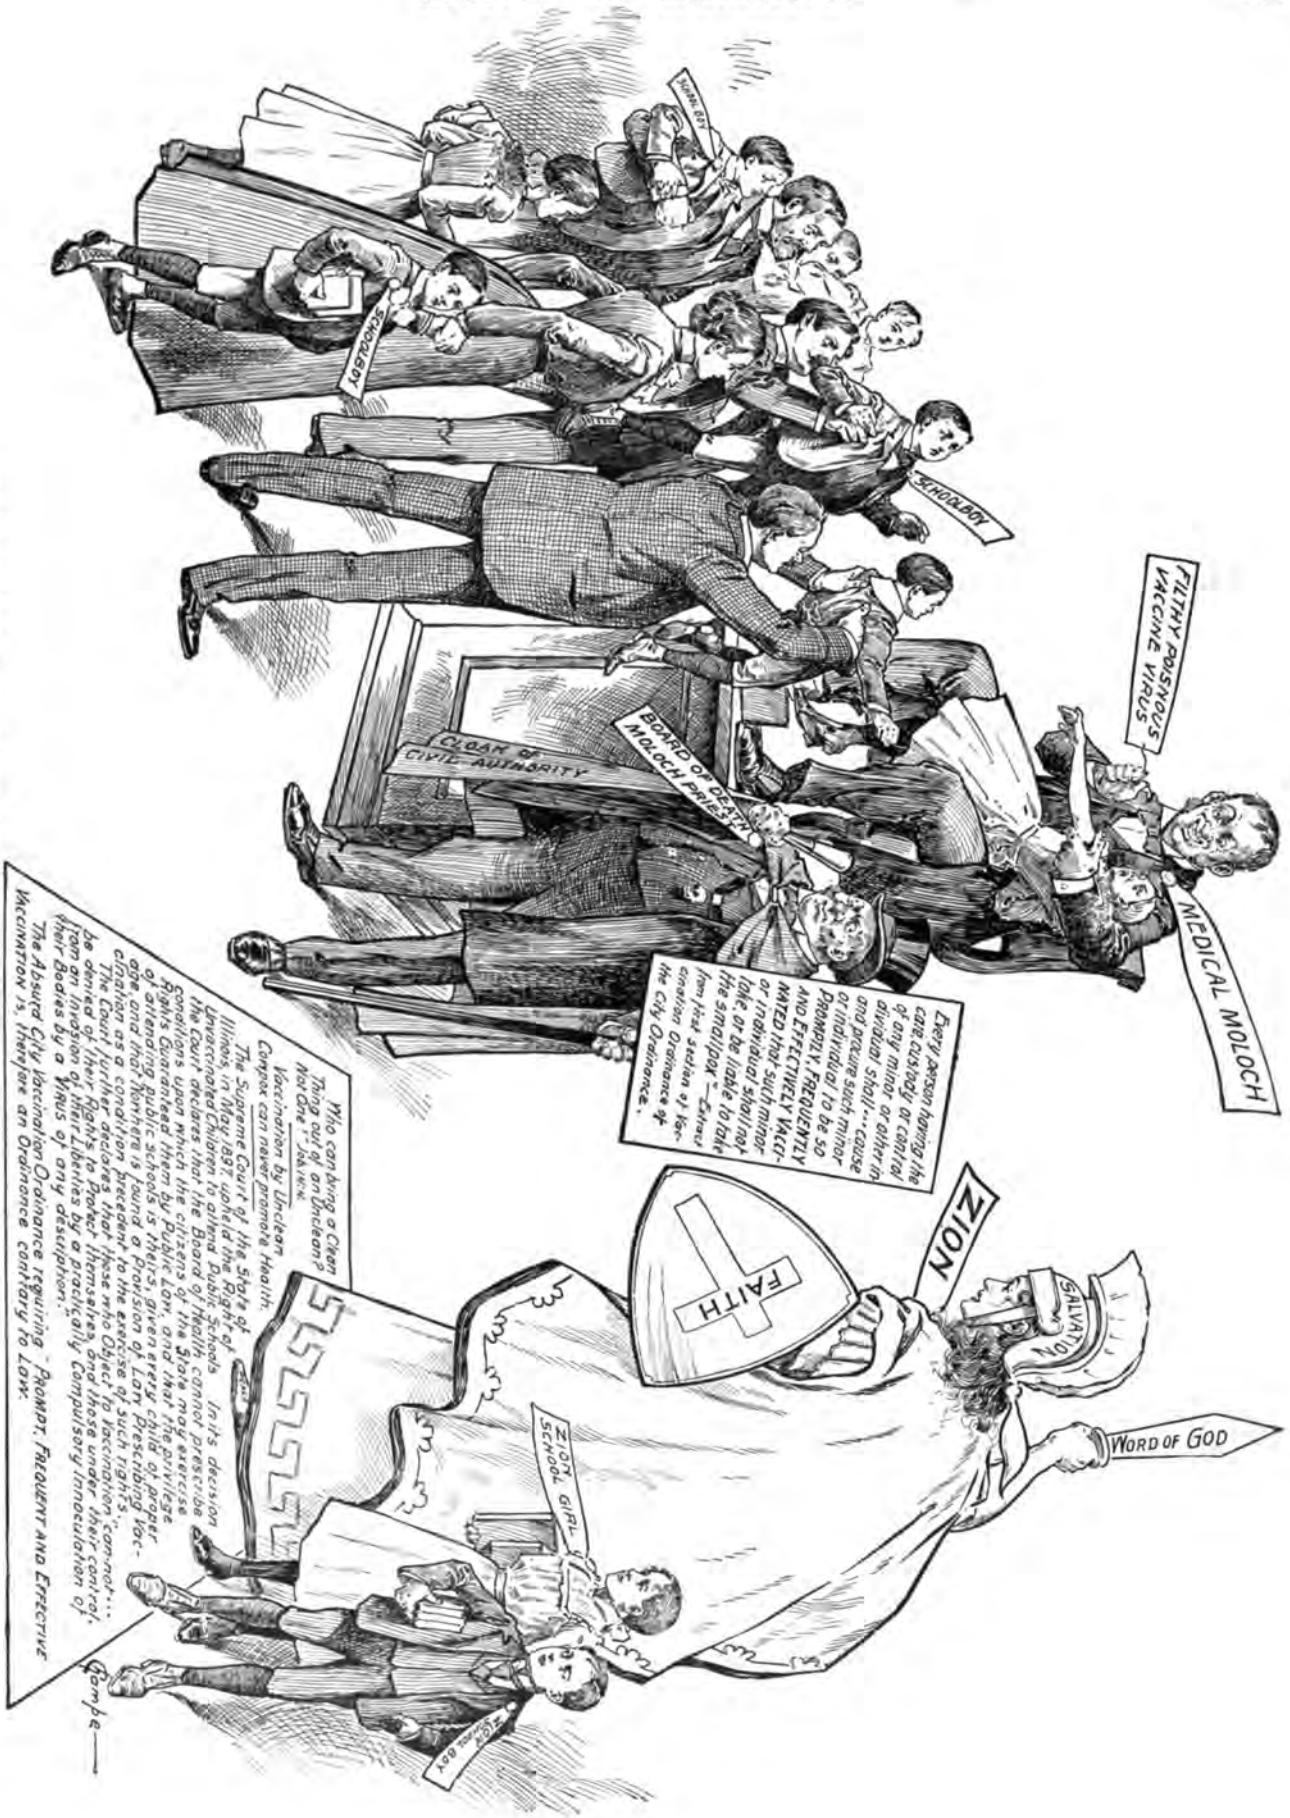
Their guessing availed them naught. First, they said that Rockfeller, the oil magnate, was buying the land. Then they were sure it was for a cemetery. Then they thought certainly it was for a stockyards or a beet-sugar refinery. Then a telegram came with the announcement that Frick, the coke king, was the man; then the Wisconsin Central Railway, and so on. They never suspected for a moment who the real buyer was, although it seemed at times as if the General Overseer, who was running over with ecstasy and joy at the prospects, would surely make it known, coming so perilously near to it that it made us shudder lest the location would be revealed.

After the welcome announcement did come on the morning of January 1, 1900, how the Devil howled, saying: "He never can carry it through," and "The coming of these Dowie people into this community will be an awful calamity to the county."

But what a change has come now!

The business world everywhere is looking upon the enterprise with much favor. The people with whom Zion has had dealings, instead of being surly and indifferent as at first, now show a willingness to treat fairly without prejudice, even voluntarily offering to grant favors.

Here the Scripture is being fulfilled, which says: "When a man's ways please the Lord, He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him."



Now God has performed another miracle for Zion. On the first day of this month, His servant, our General Overseer, was enabled to pay out in cash and securities the large sum of One Hundred and Thirty-Eight Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Dollars, which gives Zion possession of 1575 acres, or one-fourth of the most valuable land secured.

If Zion City grows the next fifty years in proportion as Chicago has grown during the past fifty years, this land alone will be worth at a very conservative valuation One Hundred and Fifty Millions of Dollars.

The future plan of the General Overseer is to take up 1000 acres of the balance of this land every month, and he should have the loyal and hearty coöperation of every true child of God in Zion, that it may be speedily accomplished.

In the meantime everything will go forward in the way of improvements. The land will be prepared for occupancy as fast as possession can be acquired, until it can be announced on the 14th day of July, at the Anniversary of the Temple Consecration, that every acre of the land is in Zion's control and possession.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 20th or 21st.

What Men Do With God's Word.

1. They change it.—Romans 1:22-25.
   By reading meanings into it.
   By false conceptions of God.
   By standards of human thought.
2. They corrupt it.—2 Corinthians 2:14-17.
   By forming a religion out of it.
   By defining its truths in some creed.
   By seeking to build up some sect.
3. They twist it.—2 Peter 3:16-18.
   So as to mean that God will not do what He says.
   By inferring that God has not clearly made known plans for the coming time.
   By substituting some pursuit of knowledge instead of Christ.
4. They lie about it.—James 3:13-17.
   By saying it warrants one getting unduly angry.
   By saying it permits one to take drugs when sick.
   By saying, "We must not expect to be too good on this earth."
5. They discuss it.—John 8:4-7.
   In the light of their customs.
   In the light of some school of theology.
   In the light of the opinions of some man.
6. They disobey it.—2 Thessalonians 1:7-10.
   Because their hearts are wicked.
   Because their prejudices are set.
   Because their teachings have been wrong.
7. They explain it away.—Matthew 15:4-9.
   For the reason that their Church says so and so.
   For the reason that they have never experienced it
   For the reason that it relieves them of some duty
8. They dogmatize concerning it.—Luke 20:27-33.
   By picking out some particular verse.
   By a one-sided view of the truth.
   By worshiping a doctrine instead of God.

The Lord Our God is a Bible-Defending God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 24th.

Principles to Observe in Reading the Bible.

1. The Scripture in original form is given by inspiration.—2 Timothy 3:16, 17.
   The original language of the Bible is Greek and Hebrew.
   These two tongues have never changed in meaning.
   The accuracy of the Bible is thus fixed for all generations.
2. The many translations are not inspired.—Matthew 28:19, 20.
   Translations are compromised by common agreements of the scholars.
   When sprinkling was taught as Baptism, they would not translate the word.
   The word "baptizo" means to dip repeatedly, and Christ says how often.
3. These translations in the main present a true conception of God, while faulty in particular words and verses.—1 John 2:12-14.
   The Bible teaching on God's mercy in forgiving sins is plain.
   The Bible teaching on God's power in overcoming the Devil is plain.
   The Bible teaching on God's strength for physical weakness is plain.
4. The meanings of words change, and for this and other reasons translations are a necessity.—2 Corinthians 12:15-17.
   The word "crafty" usually is understood to mean being deceptive.
   "Guile" means effecting one thing while designing for something else.
   One word in one place in our English Bible does not always mean what it does in another.
5. Translations partake of the spiritual dimness of the day in which they are made.—Acts 4:8-12.
   One translation would strive to make works essential to salvation.
   Another would seek to make Baptism essential to salvation.
   The word "salvation" in the text and context means soundness of body.
6. Textual errors in translations do not confuse those who compare Scripture by Scripture.—1 John 2:20, 21.
   Scripture in one place must be put beside Scripture in another.
   The Holy Spirit binds Old and New Testament as well as certain Books to each other.
   Out of a translation He will reveal the truth by consensus of teaching.
7. God's Spirit will ever guide the humble into full salvation through the Scripture.—2 Timothy 3:13-15.
   We are commanded to hold fast the form of sound words.
   We are told also to contend for the faith once delivered.
   All is so plain that even a child can find Jesus as Saviour, Healer and Sanctifier through the Scripture.
8. Misinterpretations of Scripture show that one has not walked in the truth, because he stumbles.—2 Peter 3:14-17.
   God's truth is to lead every one to liberty and faultless living.
   The truth can only be seen when God's Spirit lights up His Word.
   His Spirit is given to all who obey Him.

God's Holy People are a Bible-Wise People.

Deacon Sloan has resumed the teaching of Zion's Bible Class Lesson in Zion Hall of Seventies, Sabbath Days from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock. Members of Zion, for personal growth and Seventy work, as well as preparation for conducting Cottage Prayer Meetings, are urged to regularly attend his class; also to prayerfully follow in study these lessons each week, which are covering such a wide range of Bible truth and Scripture knowledge, vital to Holy Living and a right understanding of the relations of life.

He sendeth His word — PATIENCE — and healeth them.

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee. — And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 17. CHICAGO, FEBRUARY 16, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

QUICKLY HEALED OF ASTHMA, HAY FEVER, CATARRH AND CHRONIC ULCERATION.

HEAL THE SICK!

This was an important part of the commission which Christ gave His Apostles.

He was sending them forth to carry on the work which He had begun. That glorious work is not yet finished. He is still carrying it on, by His Spirit, through His chosen ministers.

The needs are the same.
God's Power is the same.
Sicknesses are the same.
God's Love is the same.
Sorrows are the same.
God's Will is the same.

Hence true ministers of Christ go forth with the same commission today.

Those who have not the commission, the Authority, are not His ministers.

Those who have the commission, have the "signs following."

God honors their faith and obedience.

He answers their prayers.

By His Holy Spirit, He heals the sick when they plead for them.

He has thus honored His Messenger to Zion.

He thus, daily and hourly, sets the Seal of His Divine Approval upon His ministry.

Wounded devils may shriek their impotent imprecations.

Envious ecclesiastics may sneer their lying insinuations. But their puny voices are drowned and swept away by the irresistible volume of the testimony of tens of thousands of God's Witnesses.

The young woman who looks out from this page is one of those Witnesses. Satan had literally closed his terrible fingers upon her throat, and was strangling her to death.

MISS CLARA L. DAVIS.

She suffered the tortures of asthma.

Physicians, drugs and treatments, which God never promised to use or bless, availed nothing.

She grew steadily worse.

She also suffered from hay-fever and catarrh.

Was there no hope?

Was her young life to be thus darkened and ended?

It was not God's Will.

He sent her the Little White Dove, LEAVES OF HEALING.

It told her that it was not His will and that He had said, "I am the Lord that healeth thee."

It told her that He was still healing His children through the prayers of His true ministers.

She believed He could heal, but that she was too ill to be healed.

Then He showed her, by His Spirit, through His Word and LEAVES OF HEALING, "that no prophecy of Scripture is of private interpretation."

His promises were for all alike who would fulfil His conditions.

By this time she had been brought down to the very door of death.

Life was kept in her body only by a fearful struggle.

Then she claimed God's promises for herself.

She fulfilled God's conditions.

She believed in the Authority of His Messenger to Zion.

She asked Him to pray.

In Zion, Chicago, he prayed, "in the Name of the Lord Jesus, in the power of the Holy Spirit, and in accordance with the Will of God our Heavenly Father," for her deliverance.

God heard.

Far away, across the prairies of the State of Illinois, where this Witness lay in the agonies of death, God's Spirit came Instantly the diseases were killed.

Her suffering ceased.

She was soon well.

Those diseases have never since afflicted her.

Later she was attacked by chronic ulceration of the nose, which may have been the dread disease cancer.

Again God honored the prayer of His servant in Zion and she was quickly healed.

Her mother also tells a wonderful Story of healing when dying of blood-poisoning.

She also was delivered in answer to the General Overseer's prayer.

Thus they add their glad voices to the ever-swelling Song of Praise.

It comes up from all the lands beneath the sun.

It is the sweet song of God's Witnesses.

Thousands and tens of thousands are singing their thanksgiving.

They have been saved.

They have been healed.

They have been made happy.

These blessings have come through the ministry of God's servant, the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

They are the Seal of his commission from God. A. W. N.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MISS CLARA L. DAVIS.

1635 MICHIGAN AVENUE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, February 2, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—It is with a grateful heart and thanksgiving to God that I desire to testify to the many blessings which He has bestowed upon me.

First of all, I thank the Lord for a Christian mother, whose prayers followed me through many years when I was living a thoughtless, worldly life, and was indulging in pleasures which were not pleasing in God's sight.

I thank God that He honored the prayers of my dear mother, and by His Holy Spirit convicted me of sin and showed me my need of a Saviour.

In 1893 I gave my heart to God, and from that time on I have lived a Christian life, so far as I have had the light.

I rejoiced in Christ as my Saviour, but did not accept Him as my Healer until November, 1898.

For years I was a victim of that distressing disease, asthma. At first it seemed nothing more than shortness of breath, but it gradually grew worse until it became so serious that I consulted a physician, Dr. Shimer, of Mount Carroll, Illinois, who was considered one of the best physicians in that part of the country.

He called my diseases hay-fever, asthma, and catarrh. He gave me treatment for my catarrh, also two kinds of medicine for the other two diseases.

He said it was useless to expect a permanent cure for either asthma or hay-fever without a change of climate.

I followed closely his directions for some time, but found that each attack was more serious than the preceding.

In autumn, especially, I would be for weeks unable to lie down or walk, and the least exertion would cause such difficulty in breathing that it seemed as if every breath would be the last.

Even the moving of my chair would sometimes bring on such an attack, at which time my breathing could be heard in every part of the house, and I would frequently expectorate blood.

When I contracted a cold, it would always be accompanied by asthma, and if I walked fast or was out in the dust, I could scarcely get my breath.

I cannot find words to describe my feelings when these spells would come on.

How I dreaded them, as I felt confident that at some time I would take one and not recover from it!

The thought of having an incurable disease fastening its grip tighter and tighter upon me, was a terrible one.

My lungs also were weak from the time I had lung fever, several years before.

I consulted several other physicians and tried every remedy recommended to me.

One of these remedies was so very strong that after taking several bottles of it, my stomach became so badly affected that it would digest only certain kinds of food. Unless I was very careful what I ate, I would suffer from indigestion.

I believe if I had continued taking that medicine, it would have completely destroyed my stomach.

Hardly a day was I free from headache caused by catarrh.

It also began to affect my throat.

For eight years I was oppressed in this way by the Devil, and yet did not realize that it was not God's will that I should be so afflicted.

I tried to bear it patiently and to say as little as possible concerning it to any one.

There was scarcely a time during those years when I was not suffering in some measure with these diseases.

I was a teacher, and although at times unable to attend to duties, never gave up the work entirely.

I gave up all hope of ever being well, and had lost all faith in medicine.

LEAVES OF HEALING had been given to us by a friend. I read it with interest and believed the teaching was of God.

I looked upon the General Overseer as His servant. Yet Satan bad so blinded my eyes and my case seemed so hopeless, as the physicians had never given me any encouragement, that I felt that there was no healing for me.

We subscribed for LEAVES OF HEALING, and through it learned God's Way of Healing, and that "Jesus was the same yesterday and today, yea and forever," and was ready and willing to heal "all manner of diseases" today just the same as when He was on earth.

I then saw a ray of light and began to realize that it made no difference what the disease might be, God would heal us of it if we did our part.

In the fall of 1898 I had a very severe attack of asthma.

One night my parents had to rub me and fan me to keep me alive.

My arms and limbs were numb, and it seemed impossible for me to get my breath.

They thought I could not live, and I myself had given up.

It was then that I laid aside all human means, trusted my case fully in God's hands and decided to leave the result with Him.

A request for prayer was sent to the General Overseer, and a few hours after I began to recover. That night I was able to lie down all night, something I had not done for several nights.

I gained strength very rapidly, and in a little over a week was able to resume my school work.

Since that time, which is over two years, I have had no return of these diseases.

I have also been healed of other troubles, for which I thank God and give Him all the glory.

I did not join the Christian Catholic Church at once, as I should have done, and was not under the influence of Zion's daily prayers, which I now deem a great privilege.

Soon after I received my first healing, a sore began to form on the inside of my nose.

It was very annoying and became so bad that it almost ate through between my nostrils.

It bled a good deal and was painful at times.

It also broke out on my upper lip.

This lasted for about five months, and I became very much concerned about it. I did not think of going to a physician, but took it to God in prayer.

Owing to our family history, my people thought it was a cancer, my grandmother having been operated upon twice for cancers.

I do not know that it was anything more than chronic ulceration.

I did not receive answer to my prayers, and realized that there was something for me to do.

I made out my application for fellowship and sent it to Zion Headquarters, together with that of my mother and sister, and a few weeks later came to Chicago.

Elder Viking laid hands upon me and prayed the prayer of faith, and God healed me.

I have been baptized by Triune Immersion, and am happy in Zion.

I praise God for raising up our dear General Overseer, who has brought back to us the Full Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

I wish to express my appreciation of your kindness in giving me a position as stenographer in connection with the work of Zion at Headquarters.

The time I have spent here has been the happiest and most profitable of my life.

I daily praise God that I have the privilege of doing my little part toward the extension of His Kingdom.

Thanking you for your prayers and teaching, and praying God's continued blessing to rest upon you, and that your life may be spared for many years, I am

Faithfully yours in Christ, CLARA L. DAVIS.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. KATHRYN DAVIS.

MOUNT CARROLL, ILLINOIS, February 4, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear General Overseer:—I wish to confirm the testimony of my daughter, and also to add a few words of testimony to what God has done for me.

I was a member of the Free Methodist Church for years, but got very little teaching on the subject of Divine Healing.

They claimed that God could heal, but that it was all right to take medicine and ask God to bless it.

I was an invalid for eighteen years, and was under the care of a physician most of that time. I did not send for an Elder of the Church to pray for me, as he would have advised me first to send for a doctor.

I had a complication of diseases; heart trouble, dropsy, neuralgia and catarrh, but was not always confined to my bed.

I was unable to do any work the most of the time.

Often I would lie in fainting spells for four hours, and for years my husband carried me from the chair to the bed.

Sometimes I was so very weak that he would put his ear to my heart to ascertain if I were breathing.

They had to care for me almost like a child.

There was no color of blood in my face and I became so emaciated that I was almost skin and bones.

I did not care to live, as I felt I was only a burden to those around me, and had no hopes of recovery.

At last when I was suffering intense pain with neuralgia and toothache, I earnestly called upon God to deliver me, and instantly I was healed, not only of neuralgia and toothache, but of all my diseases.

I do praise God for His keeping power, which has kept me free from them ever since.

A few years later we received LEAVES OF HEALING through a friend.

I read it eagerly and believed every word of the teaching. That was just what I had been looking for, but failed to find it in the denominational churches.

Three years ago, while out in the orchard, I was bitten by a poisonous insect.

I paid little attention to it at first, but soon a large sore formed where I had been bitten.

From that time I gradually grew weaker until I was compelled to be in bed part of the time.

I had two chills regularly every day and fever and night sweats.

I did not know what was the trouble with me.

My daughter happened to meet our old family physician, who inquired about me, and she described my case to him as nearly as possible. He said I had blood-poisoning and that it was a very dangerous thing.

We at once sent a request for prayer to the General Overseer, and from that time I began to improve.

In three days I was well, with the exception of my hands. The skin had come off of them, but it soon grew on.

My hair all came out and my finger nails came off.

I know that God healed me in answer to your prayers, for which I give Him all the glory and express to you my heartfelt thanks.

I do not get any spiritual food from the churches here, and could not get along without LEAVES OF HEALING.

I receive so much blessing through reading the Little White Dove.

May God bless you and dear Mrs. Dowie, and give you much wisdom and strength, is my prayer.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) KATHRYN DAVIS.

NOTES OF THANKSGIVING TO ZION'S GOD.

Aged Mother Healed Quickly When Very Ill.

WEST UNION, ILLINOIS, January 14, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—My mother, Mrs. Isabel Buckner, took sick on the 28th of December.

She took a severe cold, which settled on her lungs and in the right side of her abdomen.

She coughed continually from 10 P. M. until morning.

I sent for my brothers.

They wanted to send for a doctor.

Then mother said, "I cannot stand it any longer unless I have help."

She was in terrible agony and was rapidly growing worse.

She said, "You must write to Overseer Speicher."

As soon as brother began to write, she became easy.

Shortly after he started to mail the letter, she fell asleep.

About 9 P. M. she went to sleep and slept until 3 A. M., then she awoke and drank some milk and slept until morning.

The next night she rested all night, something she had not done before for years.

Her cold seemed to be all gone.

She gives God the glory and thanks you for your prayers and kindness to us.

She is nearly eighty years old. (MRS.) M. E. HILLS.

God Heals a Very Sore Finger.

2842 UPLAND PLACE,
MOLINE, ILLINOIS, January 15, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I wish to write my testimony to the honor and glory of God.

December 10, 1900, I noticed that my finger was paining me.

There was a piece of dead skin stuck up between the flesh and the nail.

At the time I thought it would not amount to very much.

Mother cut off the dead skin, but my finger grew worse.

The next day I had what is called a "run-round" on my finger.

We prayed, but it grew worse until Thursday morning.

Thursday morning a friend of Zion came to our home and we had prayer.

I went on with my work, which was scrubbing the floor.

I paid no attention to my finger, until in the afternoon the pain was all gone.

By Friday all inflammation and fever was gone and the dead skin began to come off.

By Sunday it was perfectly well, and remains as natural as my other finger, for which I thank God.

Your Sister in Christ, (MISS) ELZARID HECK.

Healed of Asthma, Catarrh, Constipation and Liver Trouble.

SPENCER, IOWA, January 19, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I wish to thank you for prayers.

Two weeks ago yesterday I could hardly breathe.

We sent a request for prayer.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock that evening I was much better.

The next day I was up all day, and on Sunday rode eleven miles into the country.

I thank God for the teaching we have in Zion.

God has healed me of asthma, which I had for twenty years; also catarrh, constipation and liver trouble.

I had breathed through my mouth almost continually for fifteen years, but now am breathing through my nose.

I have many things to thank God for.

Yours in Christ, FANNIE R. LOWERRE.

Immediately Healed of Pneumonia.

FREDERICKTON, NEW BRUNSWICK, January 20, 1901.

OVERSEER W. H. PIPER.

Dear Brother in Christ:—I feel that I must tell you how wonderfully God has blessed me and that through your prayers and the prayers of our own little band I was immediately healed of pneumonia.

When our little company of believers prayed, I would seem to get the victory for a while, but the suffering would return, until you prayed.

Then I got a perfect deliverance.

I did as much work as usual on the 12th, the day you got my letter.

Praise the dear Lord, I have been as well as ever I was since then.

May the blessing of God ever rest upon Zion and all everywhere who take Jesus as their Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper.

Yours in Jesus till He comes, (MRS.) GEORGE PRESCOTT.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

AWAKE! AWAKE! PUT ON THY STRENGTH, O ZION!

CHICAGO, except in its busiest business streets, lies under deep snow, which, in many of its streets and lanes, is piled up from three to seven feet high. Winter still holds the land in its icy grasp.

BUT THERE IS no winter in Zion. The evidences of growth and glorious fruitfulness are apparent on every side. From distant lands, as well as from all parts of America, good news of ever-increasing blessing is constantly coming

NORTH SIDE ZION TABERNACLE overflowed last Lord's Day morning, and Central Zion Tabernacle in the afternoon, hundreds standing in the former, and many being turned away from the latter because of lack of room.

We shall have something to say next week, when the report of our afternoon service appears, concerning the disgraceful conduct of the Chicago Press, upon which we laid firm hold and most effectively squelched There has not been another word of their shameful lying in an endeavor to make the people of Chicago and America believe that Zion had entered upon a career of anarchy in smashing drug stores.

IT BECOMES easier each succeeding time to throttle the slimy serpents of the unclean Newspaper Press. This last exposure, which has proved beyond all question that both the press and the drug stores were in a conspiracy of lying, has had a splendid effect in every part of the city.

IT WAS GLORIOUS to see more than two thousand persons remain to witness the Baptism of last Lord's Day evening, after more than three hours of meeting. Indeed, it does not seem possible to weary a Zion audience. We can only say that our experience has been that they will stay in their seats, in thousands, as long as we will stand upon the platform.

BUT BEST of all is the joyful tidings of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living which every day brings to us. We cannot say that all who come to our services are saved, or healed, or cleansed, but we rejoice to know that it is only the few who fail to receive the blessing. The constant testimony is that many, and by far the greater proportion of the people, are blessed.

GLORIOUS TIDINGS have reached us of the progress of the work in Europe, in Asia, and in Australasia. We shall give some account of these in future issues, when we, amongst other pictures, will present a view of our first Zion Tabernacle in Melbourne, Australia, and a view in Zion Publishing House in the same city, which have been sent to us by Overseer and Elder Wilhide.

MOST CHEERING progress is being made in preparing for the launching of two new Institutions, Zion General Stores and Zion Lumber Association. A very considerable amount of capital has been already subscribed, even though we have not called for subscriptions for stock.

Zion Lace Industries is now beginning to attract very widespread attention. A considerable amount of stock is being taken by persons who are entirely unconnected with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, who have the utmost confidence in this splendid investment.

Zion Land and Investment Association keeps, of course,

Digitized by Google

well in the front, as we desire that it should. We are receiving many thousands of dollars weekly in subscription to its stock. We confidently anticipate that we shall be able to acquire title to another thousand acres of Zion City land during next month.

Zion City Bank, of course, as our great Financial Institution, keeps in the front of all. We rejoice in its increasing prosperity.

On every side there are joyful hearts. When the snow passes away and Spring appears, everything is being gotten ready for the great Onward Movement in connection with Zion City.

BUT WE ARE also busy in planning for considerable alterations and additions to our Zion Institutions in Chicago.

After much reflection, we have determined to keep Zion Printing and Publishing House in Chicago for the next two years.

We have secured a favorable extension of the lease of the large and beautiful building which we occupy at 1300 Michigan Avenue, of which we here give a small picture.

ZION COLLEGE BUILDING.

This substantial building is now occupied by a number of Institutions, but so great and so immediate is the need for larger premises that from the first of May it will be entirely given up to Zion Printing and Publishing House. Nearly every portion of it will be at once fully occupied by this Institution, where THE ZION BANNER will find its home, in addition to LEAVES OF HEALING, BLATTER DER HEILUNG, A VOICE FROM ZION and the Zion Seventy Messages.

We continue to remind our readers of our needs in this matter, and ask them, as God's stewards, to send us quickly, as an offering to Him, all that is required for the enlargement of our operations, and the establishment of this much-needed weekly paper.

Tens of thousands of persons in Chicago are eagerly waiting for its first issue; but we cannot even send forth the Prospectus until we have been able to arrange for the purchase of the plant and secured the necessary accommodations for the increased business and literary staffs.

A good beginning has been made for the Forty Thousand Dollar Fund, one good friend sending $330 as her contribution this week. Many scores and hundreds are sending in their Two Dollars.

We personally and earnestly appeal, however, to our friends more widely to respond to this special appeal, and to enable us to purchase for cash, and quickly, a suitable plant, and to make the necessary changes in this establishment.

We have directed our Acting Manager to prepare, as soon as possible, an article giving an outline of the Story of Zion's Printing Enterprise. We are sure the facts will greatly interest our readers.

THE STORY can really never be told of what the Little White Dove, our LEAVES OF HEALING, has, by the blessing of God, wrought in millions of hearts. No account of the mere machinery and beautiful process employed in our Printing House can ever be half as interesting as the infinitely more beautiful facts which are constantly being set forth in these pages, and the still greater multitude of facts which it would be impossible to find room to record in these pages.

We praise God unceasingly for the delight which we have had in this, as in all other Departments of His Service. We know that our beloved friends in all parts of the world have only to realize how fruitful an Investment for Eternity can be found for their money in Zion Printing and Publishing House, to cause them to send us a sum even larger than that for which we at present call.

Long before the two years have expired, and indeed almost within sight now, we can see that even this large building will be inadequate for the printing and publication of our Zion Literature. But we feel it right to keep Zion Printing and Publishing House in the city until the transfer of our Institutions to Zion City is fully effected, and our own permanent home established there. This transfer will be gradual, but it will take two years to complete, so far as we can now foresee.

Again we say, let our friends remember that the appeal which has been made is one which we ask God to deeply impress upon all our readers' hearts, so that we may be quickly in a position to Go Forward with THE ZION BANNER.

WE WELCOME to our columns this week a very beautiful article which has just been received from our beloved wife, Overseer Jane Dowie, entitled "How Jesus Heals the Little Ones."

We trust that this will be only the first of a number of articles which she will be able to send us from France.

We take this occasion to ask our readers to pray for our dear wife and for the great work to which God has called her in the Oversight of Women's Work in Zion throughout the World.

WE WOULD also remind our friends, far and near, of the Special Excursion Rates which will be given on the Railways from May 24th to June 3d, which will cover the Great Demonstration to be held after the arrival of Overseer Jane Dowie, in the Chicago Auditorium, on Lord's Day, May 26th, and a series of Conferences and visits to Zion City.

WE CALL ATTENTION to an article of a different nature, but excellent also in its way, an interview by one who is not a member of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion: namely, Mr. A. A. Douglass, Zion's Attorney at Mansfield, Ohio.

This interview appeared in the Mansfield Shield of February 1st, and has been reprinted in its weekly issue, and very widely circulated and reprinted throughout America.

It gives a very interesting account of how Zion now appears to one who has had only to do with the protection of her legal interests in Mansfield, Ohio, but has been led through that to see somewhat of the real nature of this whole movement.

Mr. Douglass' article has appealed to many who do not read Zion Literature or come in contact with Zion people.

IN THIS CONNECTION it is amusing to notice the frantic eagerness with which Governor Nash bellows and roars, and rages and storms, and declares that he will call out the whole force of Ohio Militia to prevent a terrible outrage upon the fair fame of the great State of Ohio, namely—only a fight between two brutal pugilists at Cincinnati!

How is it that this great "protector" of the fair fame of Ohio had nothing to say but contemptuous sneers when the streets of Mansfield were weekly the scenes of the most horrible and brutal outrages upon unoffending and respectable citizens? Zion ministers' clothes were torn from their backs; they were cruelly beaten and bruised, and outraged by tortures worthy of Apaches, under the direct protection of Governor Nash, Mayor Huntington Brown and many other municipal and State authorities.

This continued for weeks and months; but there never existed in this great Governor's tender and patriotic breast anything like the indignation which moved him to heroic action when he saw the awful possibility of a Cincinnati prize fight!

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Why is this so?

We shall ask this question, Governor Nash, in your own State, one day, in a manner which you will never forget.

Depend upon it, God is not through with you and all who aided and abetted you in that horrible series of outrages which defiled the town of Mansfield and stained the State of Ohio with the foul disgrace which has not yet been blotted out.

Remember, all ye hypocrites who "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," that these words are written by God's finger on the walls of all your Mah-hah-bone Feasts, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord."

The Day of Reckoning is drawing nigh!

The next move is Zion's.

Zion will take it when she is quite ready.

Zion has not forgotten that the Grand Jury (!) of Mansfield found "true bills" against ourselves and others last August, upon which false and malicious documents none of the so-called "authorities" have dared to act.

Zion's officers will appear, when we are ready, to answer these indictments for crimes of which the false advisers of the Grand Jury well knew these officers were never guilty.

If Governor Nash and Mayor Huntington Brown, the Attorney for Richland County, and other authorities of Mansfield want the fight to go on a little more quickly why do they not apply for an Extradition Warrant for ourselves and various other officers of this Church, to stand trial on their indictment?

That indictment was a contemptible, mean, disgusting "bluff," intended to throw dust in the eyes of the whole country.

One, also, of the Elders indicted has never left the State and can be found in Marion, Ohio.

Why does not this "defender" (sic) of law, order, peace, good-will and harmony not arrest Elder McFarlane and bring him to instant trial for his terrible crime in preaching the Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living in Mansfield?

Why, again we ask, does not Governor Nash demand of Governor Yates the extradition of the writer, and of the other alleged criminals who are easily to be found in Chicago?

"THE MILLS of God grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine."

YOU WILL HAVE a most interesting time, Governor Nash, when God and Zion call you to an accounting for your protection of the brutal mobs who violated homes and indecently paraded innocent men in a state of nudity through the streets of one of your cities, time after time, whilst you refused to do your plain duty.

Shame! Shame! SHAME! Governor Nash and all who were associated with you in that shameful series of atrocities, you now pretend to be the guardians of public purity, but for many months you were the protectors of a long series of the vilest and most indecent outrages!

Shame on you, you hypocrites, and ten thousand times shame!

MEANWHILE, with ever-increasing delight, Zion moves forward and the Gospel is weekly proclaimed by her ministers in Mansfield, for which we praise God alone.

YEA, AND THAT GOSPEL is being proclaimed over all the earth.

It is the Message of the Covenant of the Everlasting Gospel of the Kingdom of God, and it will prevail.

BRETHREN, PRAY FOR US.

Debts Paid and Money Invested in Zion.

216 CENTER STREET,
WAUKEGAN ILLINOIS, January 31, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—It is with great pleasure that we send our testimony in regard to paying tithes to God.

We first began paying tithes twelve years ago, when we were members of the Baptist Church.

God blessed us very much as long as we paid faithfully.

But we became careless about it a few years before coming into Zion.

We have been especially blessed the last three years, since we have been members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and have paid our titbes faithfully into Zion Storehouse.

We have been enabled to pay off old accounts and invest some in Zion Land and Investment Association.

It has been a joy and delight to give freewill offerings, as we feel we are not giving in paying the tithe; it belongs to God.

Faithfully your Brother and Sister in Christ,

MR. AND MRS. R. A. SCHULTZ.

Financial Blessing When Tithes are Paid.

1221 MILITARY STREET,
PORT HURON, MICHIGAN, December 18, 1900.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I wish to testify to God's wonderful fulfilment of His promise to bless those who obey His command to bring the whole tithe into the Storehouse.

In my case, God has blessed me in a financial way, although, by taking the stand which we have for Zion and her teaching, our business seemingly would have been destroyed if God had not been with us.

He has also blessed us in all ways, and we feel very grateful to Him for His goodness unto us.

Hoping that this little testimony will be of benefit to some one, I am

Your Brother in Christ, HERBERT HOWARD.

God Rebuked the Devourer for Her Sake.

115 SUMMER STREET,
GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN, January 31, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I have a fruit farm north of Grand Rapids, at Frankfort.

Last fall was the first season I had it.

I put it into the hands of the Lord and knew it would be all right.

The neighbors said I would not market my grapes because the frost would take them.

I put that in the hands of God, asking Him to keep the devourer away. Praise His Holy Name, He did.

Then the neighbors said that it was because I had it.

I told them it was because God had it.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) ELIZA P. PAXTER.

Back Tithes are Debts to God.

RICHMOND, INDIANA, January 14, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—In reply to your request regarding tithes, I have this to say to the glory of God.

While in Zion Home, the subject of back tithes was brought very forcibly to my mind, and I, wishing to know the mind of the Lord in the matter, asked Him that if it were His will that I should pay all my back tithes, He would make it known by replacing the amount which I had lost in a recent investment.

This was done in a short time, and in such an unexpected way that I did not realize at the time that it was an answer to my prayer.

In Jesus' Name, (MRS.) E. A. RICH.

Easier to Pay Debts When Tithes are Paid.

MARION, KANSAS, January 12, 1901.

REV. WILLIAM HAMNER PIPER:—In reply to your inquiry, "Has God blessed you in tithing?" I can say that I have been paying tithes for the last ten years, eight years in the Methodist Church and two years in Zion, and I can pay my debts a great deal better now than before I began paying tithes.

I would no more think of ceasing to pay tithes than I would think of cheating my neighbor out of an honest debt.

I know that it pays to "bring the whole tithe into the Storehouse."

HOW JESUS HEALS THE LITTLE ONES.

BY OVERSEER JANE DOWIE.

WHEN we wish to speak to children, our thoughts naturally turn to the story in the Gospels of how the little ones were brought to Jesus, and He said:

Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not: for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Jesus had been speaking to the people, and they had asked Him questions. His answers were good and full of purity and wisdom, as He told them, in answer to these questions, that Moses had permitted some things because of the hardness of their hearts, but that in the beginning it was not so; one man was for one woman; God made them male and female.

We can imagine that the parents of these children, listening to the teaching of the Master and looking at the loving face of Jesus, wanted Him to bless their little ones. Then, too, knowing that Jesus laid hands upon the sick and they recovered, they wanted Him to lay His hands upon them that they might be healed of their sicknesses.

So these mothers, thinking first of their children before every one else, boldly pushed their way to Jesus.

The disciples rebuked them, but Jesus said:

Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not: for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Then He took them up in His arms, laid His hands upon them and blessed them. We feel sure that when He did that, they received a spiritual blessing, and that those who were sick were healed. What happy mothers and fathers!

OVERSEER JANE DOWIE.

What happy little children were they to have had the hands of the loving Saviour laid upon them, and to have received blessing and healing through His tender, loving hands.

"But," you say, "these things are of the past. He does not bless and heal the little ones now in that way. He has given us another way. We must receive blessing through the priest's or minister's words only and healing through the doctor. They are the balm of Gilead; they are the physicians of this day. Jesus is not here now," they say. "He was crucified and is dead and buried."

Is He? I thought the angel said to the women at the tomb, "Why seek ye the Living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen." And Jesus Himself has said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

We present to the children a Living Christ, a present Saviour and a present Healer.

We tell fathers, mothers and children to come to Jesus for Cleansing, Healing and Keeping power, for He "is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever," unchanging and unchangeable.

This story of the children being brought to Jesus is read by ministers when they are sprinkling infants; but nothing is said in the Gospel story about Baptism in connection with His blessing the children. Baptism, too, has to be preceded by Repentance, hence this could not have reference to that Ordinance.

In the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, we believe that it is a good thing for parents to bring infants to the House of God to receive a blessing. So the parents bring them and present them to the Lord. His minister lays his hands upon them and blesses them, in the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

The parents are responsible to God for their children until they are old enough to understand, and the parents, bringing their children to the House of God, promise to train them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and to show in their own lives the example of godliness.

Many a time have I told this lovely little Story to our children in Zion. Although it is repeated down through the ages, it never loses its charm. Such are all the narratives of the healings of children in the Gospels.

How sweet the story of the little daughter of Jairus, whose father came to Jesus on her behalf, and how touching the story of the woman who was healed as Jesus was on His way to heal Jairus' little daughter!

Ah! how in that day the rulers, as well as others, felt the helplessness of human strength apart from the Divine. How many there are, like this woman, who had spent her all on physicians and "was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse." How they cry out for the Great Physician!

This woman believed that if she could but touch the hem of His garment, she would be made whole. And she was.

The little girl, twelve years old, was raised from the dead by the touch of the loving Jesus.

The children love to hear that story.

They also love the story of the nobleman who came to Jesus for his son, when Jesus said, "Go thy way; thy son liveth."

We love to read the story of the woman of Samaria, who

WILLIE ESSER.

"A little child shall lead them."—Isaiah 11:6. Paralyzed and diseased for six and a half years, his hip was lengthened, and strength to walk without crutches, brace or boot was given in a moment, through faith in Jesus. (See LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume I, Number 1, page 14.)

brought her daughter, greviously vexed with a devil, to Jesus. When she became willing to humble herself, begged the children's bread for her child, and was willing to become as the little dogs, if she could thus be let into the Master's House, and eat of the crumbs that fell from the Master's table, she was taken into the Kingdom, and her daughter set free from those awful demoniacal possessions!

Then we have the story of the man who brought his son to Jesus. The boy was possessed of an unclean devil, and "ofttimes it cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him."

The man cried to Jesus, "I brought him to Thy disciples, and they could not cure him."

Jesus said, "Bring him hither to Me."

These disciples, while Jesus had been on the mountain, had been busy disputing among themselves who should be the greatest, and so God could not use them at that time.

The man brought his son to Jesus, and He had compassion on him and cast out the evil spirit as the father had prayed Him to do.

Jesus came down from the beautiful mountain scene where He was transfigured with Moses and Elias, to cast out horrid, unclean devils, and to find His disciples disputing as to who should be the greatest.

Then He called a little child and set him in the midst of them and said:

Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven.

Jesus wants us to be His true children, humble and teachable

He was a little child Himself once, so He knows how it feels, and can understand little children.

His Book also says, that the angels of the little ones "do always behold the face of My Father which is in Heaven."

As a little child in a father's house can get to his father and talk to him, so a little child who is in the Kingdom of Heaven, on earth, can pray and receive what the Father in Heaven has promised to give to His children: good gifts to those who ask Him; the Holy Spirit to those who obey Him.

We tell the children that they must obey. That is the lesson we begin with in life, and we have to keep on learning it.

They obey God first. To a little child, father and mother are in the place of God until he understands.

"Children, obey your parents," is a Divine command. How necessary, then, for parents to be wise with their children, and not "provoke them to anger." That is a Divine command also.

Then, too, we urge upon the children the necessity of Repentance and Confession.

When they do wrong, they must be sorry and put things right. They must tell it to those whom they have wronged and to God, and ask them and Him to forgive.

Then they must ask God to put His Holy Spirit into their hearts to keep them from sin, and witness with their spirits that they are His children.

If the Holy Spirit is in their hearts, they will not love sin. He will say in their hearts, "This is not right; do not do it!" and then they must not do it or they will grieve the Holy Spirit, and He may leave them to the consequences of sin.

We also get them to ask God to cast out all fear from their hearts, so that they can love Him with a perfect love.

Perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect in love.

"But," you ask, "does this help them to receive healing for their bodies? Can a child understand how to do this?"

Certainly they can, and they do.

If it were as easy to get older people to know the Way, with all the lessons of the past, as to show them how not to believe, and how to explain away the simplicity of faith, the Gospel of Healing would now be welcomed in all the churches, and the people would not have had to come out of the denominational churches in order to keep their faith in Christ as the Healer.

But Zion has been established by God Himself as a refuge for the afflicted of His people. Her gates are open wide to all who belong to the Kingdom. We are large enough to receive all.

In the earlier part of our work in Chicago, after we had built our first Zion Tabernacle there, we commenced to have one day a week specially set apart for the children, to teach them and to pray with them.

I shall never forget that time and the great number of lame, blind, deaf, deformed, imbecile, and sick children of every kind who came.

It was indeed a strange sight.

One wondered where they all kept coming from, week after week.

My husband was very much loved by these poor little children.

When the time came for prayer, I used to arrange them for him in the room, and do such things as he asked me to do.

Some of them were not over clean, and they all had something the matter with them, but they were all the same to him.

He took each little child up in his arms, inquired what the trouble was, then laid his hands on the diseased parts and prayed, "In the Name of the Lord Jesus, in the Power of the Holy Spirit, and in accordance with the Will of God our Heavenly Father."

Then kissing the little one, he set it down and went on to the next.

Perhaps the next little one had been prayed for before, and was much better. She would greet him with a happy smile, and tell him how her lame leg had come down four inches, and she had no pain now.

The mother would say, "Yes, Doctor, she used to cry all the time, and now she is so happy, singing all day, and sleeping all night."

He would thank God for this, pray again for the child, and tell the mother to keep on bringing her till she was all well.

And so on he would go around amongst them, seeing many at a time and laying hands upon as many as five or six hundred sick children in one day.

The dear little creatures used to love to get as close to us as possible, and, as the building would always be full, and all the space had to be used, we let them sit down on the platform, on the edge of it, and on the steps.

I have often gone in to begin the meetings till my husband would come, and as soon as they saw him, their faces would light up with joy. How different from the looks with which they would greet a surgeon or a medical doctor!

At first, some of these children would shriek if he came near them. Their mothers explained that it was because they were afraid of every man with a black coat, they had suffered so much from the treatments of doctors and were afraid to be touched.

But when they found it was just that we were praying to the Heavenly Father in the Name of Jesus, and that no nasty medicine was to be given, faith and love took the place of fear. The only trouble was they could not get enough of the "Good Doctor's" laying on of hands.

Their pains were now gone, their abscesses were healed, and the terrible inflammations from which they had suffered were all passed away.

My husband always told the children, "I cannot heal you. The healing comes from God, who has promised to heal, and His dear Son Jesus told me to lay hands upon you in His Name."

So they fully understood that it was God's work, but they loved Dr. Dowie just the same.

He used to like to have them witness. One favorite way he had was first to call on all the children who had been healed of lameness to stand up. Often as many as twenty would stand.

He knew each one and would ask them, "Where are your crutches and high boots now?"

Out would ring their little voices, "On the wall, Doctor!"

"Do you need them now?"

"No, sir."

"How many inches has your leg lengthened?"

They would answer, and the answers were all the way from an inch to, in one case, eight inches.

In the same way he would have those who had been blind and deaf testify.

Then he would have some come up on the platform and let them give particulars.

I think I can hear now the clear little piping voices as they gave their thrilling testimony.

One little girl is saying: "When I came here first, I could not walk at all.

"I had never walked.

"I am twelve years old.

"My spine was paralyzed.

"My mother carried me, and when Dr. Dowie saw me he said, 'Can you walk?' and I said, 'No, sir.'

CORA CARLEY.

Deaf three years; ear drums destroyed; twelve bones removed from nose; was healed so that she now hears the slightest whisper. Restored through faith in Jesus. (See LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume I, Number 25, page 385.)

"Then he put his hands on me and prayed; and then he took my two hands in his and said to me, 'In Jesus' Name, you can walk'—and I walked.

"I have been able to walk ever since.

"I thank God, and ask Him to bless dear Dr. and Mrs. Dowie."

Then my husband would say, "Let the people see how you can walk," and she would walk up and down the platform to show them.

The mother then would give her testimony with a grateful heart, telling the names of the doctors who had treated her in the past, and giving their statements of the hopelessness of any cure to her child.

What man could not do, God had wrought.

I hear another sweet little voice talking. It is little Mary Dowling.

She is saying: "When my mamma brought me here first, I could not see; my mamma and my sister led me by the hand.

"When I was quite little, I had the measles and my eyes were weak. I could not see well when I went to school. So the teacher sent me home, and mamma took me to the doctors.

"I could not go to school any more, and I had the doctors a long time.

"The doctors doctored me blind.

"So my mamma brought me here.

"I gave my heart to God, and then when Dr. Dowie prayed for me and touched my eyes, I could see.

MARY DOWLING.

Totally blind in left eye for six and one-half years, and nearly so for eight months in the right eye. She is now able to read fine print, and is going to school. (See LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume I, Number 25, page 401.)

"Now I can see quite well. I go to school and am in the Second Grade.

"I thank God and dear Dr. and Mrs. Dowie."

Then my husband would say, "Let me see; you say you can read," and, opening the Bible at the story of the healing of the man who was born blind and to whom Jesus had given sight, he would have her read the verses:

The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not from whence He is, and yet He opened mine eyes. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshiper of God, and do His will, him He heareth. . . . If this man were not from God, He could do nothing.

We felt as they did of old. We have seen strange sights today, for He hath done all things well. He maketh both the blind to see and the deaf to hear. They glorified the God of Israel.

Another little voice is speaking.

This is little Cora Carley.

After she has spoken, her mother tells her story while she stands upon the Doctor's table to look at the people. There is not a scrap of fear in her little heart, for she is a witness for Christ.

The mother speaks out with a rich, clear voice.

She tells, first, of how she heard of the wonderful works of God, and then brought her little girl.

She had come a long journey; but when she saw so many who seemed to be even worse than her child, she gave them her place several times, because there were so many that some had to be left, and she could come again.

At last her turn came, and she said she felt that it had been good for her to wait.

Cora had a disease which had decayed the bones in her nose, the back part of her head behind the ears and in her ears.

Pieces of bone would come from her nose; her hair came off from portions of her head, leaving them bald.

The corruption was very offensive indeed.

She was told by the doctors, whose names she gave, that her little girl's ear drums were destroyed.

The little one was totally deaf.

A doctor gave her strong medicine to put in the child's ears. She had to put her down on the floor and hold her with force while she put this strong medicine into her ears.

She thought at that time she must do this, and that it was her duty to her child because the doctors had ordered it.

The poor child screamed so that the neighbors came to expostulate with her, and know why she was so cruel to her daughter, whose piercing shrieks were more than they could endure.

Then she was told of God's wonderful works in healing. She thought Divine Healing was more merciful and more like God's Way.

Little Cora was prayed for and went home.

That same day the little girl was playing with a little boy at the end of their yard. They were playing with a spoon in the sand.

The mother wanted Cora to come in. "So," she said, "I called to the boy who was playing with her to tell her, when Cora turned herself and, holding up her little spoon in her hand, came running and crying out, 'O mamma! mamma! I heard you. I heard you."

From that time on she has heard perfectly. Her hair has grown again and the horrible disease is all gone.

This certainly was a Miracle of Healing.

Little Cora then heard and answered the questions put to her, and as she had listened with a happy, smiling face to her mother's story, it was quite apparent to every one that she could hear all that was said.

These are just a few illustrations of the great work God was doing at this time.

People thronged from all parts to Zion Tabernacle.

As so many persons were being healed free, Divine Healing being without money and without price, the doctors did not like it.

As people were coming from the churches, the ministers did not like it. The people belonging to Secret Societies did not like it, and many others whose crafts were in danger did not like it. It did not touch their hearts to know that the sinful were saved from lives of sin; that unclean habits were put away, and the sick healed.

History repeats itself.

They wanted to destroy the servants, as those whom He rebuked wanted to destroy the Master.

They banded together to pass an ordinance in the City Council of Chicago. On the authority of this Ordinance, which they passed for that purpose, they arrested my husband and tried to imprison him.

They also had the doctors of the Board of Health to work, to attempt to prevent such "unnecessary" healing These doctors decided that praying for the sick with the laying on of hands was practicing the healing art. Practicing the healing art, they decided, was practicing medicine, and as we did this without a license from them, they had us before the magistrate to answer for this awful crime.

My husband's case was tried first. He made no secret of the fact that he prayed for the sick. He had persons who had been healed go into the witness box. where they told how they were healed, without any medicine, but in answer to prayer.

The Doctor told them, in answer to their questions, that he was a minister of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, not a doctor of medicine; that he had his commission from the Bible. Then he read the passages to them.

The magistrate, after several days' trial, took two weeks to think it over. He then delivered himself of the monstrous verdict that my husband was guilty of "practicing medicine without a license," and sentenced him to pay a fine and costs. He refused to do so, and told the magistrate to his face what he thought of him.

My husband at once appealed the case to a higher court, and as this Judge was so unjust we asked for a change of venue when my case was called.

They never brought up either of these cases again, because they knew that they could not stand in law and they would be defeated.

But they apparently decided that the ordinance which was made in the City Council was to be the persecuting machine.

This ordinance was also an interesting and unique idea.

The crime which they tried to make out the Doctor had committed, in this case, was keeping a hospital without a permit. This ordinance defined a hospital as any place where the sick were received and cared for. It declared that a permit must be obtained and $10 paid for it to the city.

As we received sick people into our house, they had witnesses to prove they saw them going in, and that was sufficient to prove that we had a hospital. As we declined to ask for a permit, the cases were proved.

My husband contended that these verdicts were illegal, because the ordinance was contrary to law; that an ordinance could only be valid if in accordance with the common law.

They, on the other hand, claimed that he committed three offenses a day, and arrested him on one hundred warrants.

One Sunday they took him from his platform, officers being sent with firearms in their pockets.

These men took him in the morning and kept him till the afternoon. When he came to preach at the afternoon meeting, he was arrested and carried before a police magistrate on the other side of the city. He gave bonds and returned to take the evening meeting.

The indignation of the people was very great, but my husband was very calm. He spoke quietly to the people, telling them to keep calm; that this was done by a form of law, to which for the present we must submit, although it was illegal. He said that it would only please the persecutors to be able to make us commit some disturbance of the peace.

The people did just as he told them.

He turned to me and told me to give the sermon that morning. This I did, and God wonderfully strengthened and blessed me. Even though their indignation was aroused to fever heat, the people listened so quietly that you could have almost heard a pin drop.

The enemy hoped by keeping up this system of persecution to weary us out, and eventually to be able to shut up our Divine Healing Homes, our Zion Tabernacle and our Zion Publishing House.

But they failed in it all.

They did not know the material they had in hand to deal with. God was with us, and when He is with us, it does not matter who is against us.

The ordinance at last reached the upper courts, and there it was eventually pronounced invalid.

I put in this piece of history at this point, because it was during this period that I first took up the Children's Day at Zion Tabernacle

ALTA GERTRUDE NOWELS.

Healed of curvature of the spine, partial paralysis, diseased lungs, etc., in Zion Home. The instruments of surgical torture, previously used without benefit, caused her such severe pain that she would lose consciousness. (See LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume II, Number 14, page 209.)

Many a time, just as Dr. Dowie was teaching the children, would these police officers arrive. Then the usual performance of finding a magistrate to take bonds and get him free consumed a great deal of time. The trial of all these cases, each one separately, also took him away a great deal.

I had to start in and do just what I could. We did not omit one meeting.

God began at this time to raise up other faithful workers.

Dr. Spiecher (now Overseer for Chicago) and J. T. Wilhide (now Overseer for Australasia) both came to us at about that time, and were very helpful.

Now we have a very large staff of Ordained Officers.

How those little children cried when they knew that they could not have the "Good Doctor" to pray with them!

I said to them, "Jesus is here just the same. He will hear me, and I will teach you and lay hands upon you in Jesus' Name."

I began then taking these Children's Meetings regularly. I did so for over three years. I had much joy in this work.

It has always been a joy to me to be with the children, for I have a natural love for them. Little children never trouble me.

In my testimony meetings, I used to ask all the children who wanted to tell what God had done for them to come up to the platform to me, and tell the people about it.

I will give you a few of these testimonies.

SUNSHINE HARDING.

Healed of scarlet fever. When her mother tried to have her take medicine, she refused, saying, "Why don't you get closer to Jesus?" A telegram was sent to Dr Dowie which he received and answered from the platform, and God healed the child. (See LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume II, Number 28, page 433.)

Two nice, intelligent boys, with their mother, came up. The boys told that they were quite healed of a trouble they had had from their earliest recollection, and they wanted to thank God and serve Him all their lives because He had been so good to them.

The mother then arose and said: "I brought my two boys and came myself to hear the great preacher, but when we came I was disappointed, because I had come from the other side of the city, a long way, and he was not here. They had him in the police courts.

"I thought at first I would go back, but when Mrs. Dowie began to speak I became interested and listened. I felt that she was right and that disease was evil, the result of sin and the work of the Devil.

"I saw that doctors could not heal; but that Jesus came to destroy the work of the Devil; that He healed the sick, when He was in bodily presence on the earth, and that He had said:

"He that believeth on Me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works shall he do; because I go unto the Father.

"I knew I was sick and miserable, and that I and my boys had suffered from constipation all our lives. We could only get relief by artificial means, and life was always a misery.

"When the meeting was over I was going away, but my two boys said, 'Mother, we want to go into the room to be healed.'

"I thought to myself, 'Do they expect to be healed?' But I saw they were eager, so I went in with them.

"The room was full, and Mrs. Dowie went around and put her hands on the heads of the children, praying a brief prayer with each in turn. Then she let them go.

"My boys walked quietly out with me, and we took the train for home. On our way we passed the drug store at which we were accustomed to deal, and I stopped to go in.

"I had thought when I came out of the prayer room, 'Is that all they do?' So I was going for the old thing again.

"My boy put his hand on my arm and said to me, 'Mother, don't. We won't need it. I am healed. Besides, you know we promised the lady we would take no more medicine.'

"I thought to myself, 'Does he really mean it? Has he more faith than I have?' As I looked at his face, I saw that he was in earnest.

"So I went without the medicine, and that night and the next day everything was natural with the boys.

"It was wonderful.

"I have not thought since then that prayer was nothing. I felt how faithless I was as compared to my children's simple faith.

"The following Sunday I came and heard Dr. Dowie's wonderful teaching. At the end I repented in tears and gave myself to God; for I do not believe I was a true Christian before, although I had professed to be.

"The next Tuesday, Dr. Dowie prayed and laid his hands upon me, and I was healed of about six different ailments.

"I do praise God.

"Never again will I look upon prayer as nothing."

How many persons, if you tell them that when you are sick you pray, will say to you in horror, "But do you do nothing for it?"

You say, "Yes, I pray. That is something; it is the mightiest force on earth. The power of God is put forth to answer prayer."

A young man brought up his little step-brother to testify in Central Zion Tabernacle.

The little fellow was twelve years old. He had been injured by a wall falling on him and his back was broken.

He could only walk on his hands and feet, bent over like an animal.

His brother brought him to Chicago, because the doctors in Milwaukee, who had treated him for a long time, wanted to break his back again to see if they could straigthen it in that way.

The little fellow was very happy to come, for he said to his step-brother, "I believe Jesus will heal me."

They carried him into the Prayer Room out of a chair in which he had to work himself about.

He was healed.

His brother said, "He walks now on his two feet."

We let him come up and he showed, with his face full of happiness, how now he could even jump, which he did. He jumped up about a foot high.

Then his step-brother said to him, "Show them how you used to walk," and he walked in the old way, on his hands, making them like the paws of an animal.

The people all cried and rejoiced, in turn.

I thought it was so good of God to answer my prayers in this marvelous way. It was only His wonderful goodness.

Here is another story from Central Zion Tabernacle.

A mother and father had one only child, a little boy eight years old.

He became blind.

When the friends of the family knew this, they wrote to her, telling her of various doctors to go to in Chicago.

Among the letters, however, they received one from an intimate friend of former years, who had written to my husband and had been prayed for, receiving a marked and wonderful healing.

This friend sent a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING, and begged them to leave the case entirely in God's hands and have Dr. Dowie pray for the child.

The boy listened to his parents talking about this, and when his mother took him to still another doctor, who gave no more hope than the others, he said, as they came out, "Mother, take me to Zion Tabernacle. This is the day (Thursday) for the children. I want to go there, because God can heal me, mother, if the doctors cannot."

She came. She thought she would hear Dr. Dowie, but it was only Mrs. Dowie. She heard the simple Gospel Story, the healing of Jairus' little daughter.

She heard the children testify to their healing, but she only listened without heeding, for her heart was so full of sorrow that her boy was blind, and she could not take her mind off what the doctor had told her

But with the child, it was not so. He could not see, but he could hear. The Holy Spirit got into his heart because he was ready to receive, and he drank it all in.

At the close I said, "All who believe that God will heal them today may stay and come into the Prayer Room. I will believe that God will heal today all who obey and believe Him."

The mother, taking her boy's hand, turned to go toward the front door. But the boy, feeling her turn, said, "No, mother, not that way. The lady said the door to the Prayer Room was behind her; you are not going the right way."

She looked down into the face of her child, which was full of sweet trust and expectation. She said, "Do you believe, dear, that God will heal you today?"

"Yes, mother, I do. I know He will today"

She turned to go the right way with the child, and that day he received his sight.

He went home seeing.

Cannot a little child understand and believe? Surely he can.

Our children in Zion now look upon the least thought of taking drugs as sin. They are taught to pray themselves, and if they do not receive the answer, they must search their hearts to find the hindrance. Then they have their parents pray with them, and if the answer does not come, they obey the Word of God and send for an Elder of the Church, or the parents bring the child to the place of prayer.

There have been very, very few deaths among the vast number of Zion children.

One Sunday morning, just as we came from the platform, my husband was accosted by one of our Zion members, who asked to be let come into the vestry. He had his little son wrapped in a rug.

This little man, three years old, was quite a favorite of the Doctor's. He used to save his pennies for Zion, and then come with a bag full of them to give to the work, surprising the Doctor with the vast amount of his acquired treasure.

The plump little face was all flushed with fever. He had his shoes on the wrong feet, and when the rug was off him he was seated on the table, his legs sticking out and a woeful expression on his face.

One could see that not only was he in pain, but he was in sad disgrace. It was evident that he had sinned.

What was the matter?

His father seriously and solemnly told the story, while his blue eyes opened to their fullest extent as he listened.

He had sinned, and it was wilful sin.

His father had a wagon factory, and the men would come in and out and leave the gate open.

It was a wet day, and Micky's mother had told him he must not go out in the wet, and also that he must not go with some naughty boys who used bad words.

Micky watched to see when his mother was busy, and then ran out and went off with the bad boys. His mother could not go after him, so he was away a long time.

The consequence was that Micky had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. It was all over his body. His fat little ankles, his knees, his shoulders and wrists were swollen. It was pain for him to move himself at all; and he had a high fever with it.

It was all the direct result of wilful sin.

Doctor said to him, "Micky, I am shocked to think you could do this! What have you to say?"

The little mouth twisted and then he said, the tears filling his big blue eyes and dropping down his cheeks, "I was naughty, Doctor. I won't do it again. I am sorry."

So he was told to tell God he was sorry; whereupon he folded his hands together, closed his eyes and repeated the prayer.

Doctor then took him and prayed, passing his hands around the joints. Then he moved the ankles without pain; then the knees and arms and wrists.

Then Micky stood and walked. Doctor then told him to thank God, which he did.

We kissed him and letting him go, Doctor said, "Now, Micky, God has been good to you." With a twinkle in the back part of his eye, he added, "I am not quite sure that you deserved Him to be, but be sure you do not do that again."

MISS ETHEL POST

Healed of cancer in the mouth and blood-poisoning when her case was considered hopeless by an eminent physician. (See LEAVES OF HEALING, Volume III, Number 48, page 753.)

He was fully impressed with the gravity of his case. He, a little Zion boy, who had been healed before in answer to prayer, being wilfully disobedient to his mother, and playing in the wet and mud with children of the Devil who used bad words!

He knew he deserved the Devil's wages.

This is the story of little Michael Lindskog's healing, but he was also healed of other things, amongst which was the bite of a mad dog.

Among the testimonies I loved to hear there were those who told how fear had gone from them.

One mother said to me: "I do love you so much, because, through you, fear has gone from my little boy. He was a timid child from his birth and was not able to sleep without a light in his room. If he awoke in the dark, he would scream with fear. Now he tells me, 'Mother, put out the light. I am not afraid any more, because Jesus is here. He will take care of me.'"

I have sought earnestly to get fear out of the hearts of the mothers; for from them it gets into the children even before they are born.

Famine and plague have slain their thousands, but fear its tens of thousands. Even after you think it is cast out, how often it will try to pop up its ugly head again!

Many a child has come into the world with an inheritance of fear.

Fear has prevented many beautiful little spirits from coming into this world at all. They have been killed before they were born.

Mothers, do not fear to have your children. God will take care of them and of you, if you will obey Him.

Do not take the bad advice of doctors who tell you to do things which are sinful to your bodies. Our bodies are fearfully and wonderfully made, and are most tender in their construction. As long as God's laws are obeyed, they can be kept in good order The Bible is the book which instructs us in these matters.

It is to the interest of the doctors to keep women sick; not to have them made well.

God's command to the first man and the first woman was: "Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth." That was given before the fall, as well as after.

God's Book also says: "Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord."

When a husband and wife unite together to train up their children for God, and live as God would have them do, then the promises which were given for the seed of the righteous will be fulfilled in them, and they shall inherit the earth.

When my children were very little they knew God. It was one of the first things they were taught, as soon as they could walk and talk.

My boy, who was the older and is now a young man, was very young indeed when he began to talk, and very intelligent.

He used to read his child's Bible when only five years old, and repeated the second chapter of Luke when he was not three years old, just by having heard it read a few times at family worship.

I do not remember his ever having any fear in his heart at all. He thought every one was his friend, and had a very happy disposition. His name which we called him when a child just fitted him. It was Gladdie.

When he was less than five years old we were away from home, and boarded for a short time with a lady who had an old Irish servant for a cook.

This old cook, Mrs. O'Leary, was a good servant, but she had an unfortunate failing. She had periodical times when she would get off on a drinking bout. Then she would get right again, and go on for a while doing her work well. Her mistress was sorry for her and tried to do what she could with her because of her good qualities.

When she was recovering from the effects of liquor she would be afraid of everything.

On one occasion her mistress asked her to go across the street for something, only half a block away. It was a dark night, and she was afraid to go. She said so.

Little Gladdie heard her, and looking at her with surprised eyes, he went up to the poor creature and putting his hand into hers, said, "I will go with you, Mrs. O'Leary. Then you will not need to be afraid, because God always takes care of me."

She looked at the child. Then she said, "Sure I will. I believe God does take care of ye."

I am sure many a mother wonders that her boy comes through dangers and difficulties. My boy was very venturesome, but he always came through unhurt.

When I heard him speak as he did to this old servant, I knew that he had faith in God's protecting care over him.

My little daughter once when quite young got fear into her little heart. She was about eighteen months old at the time. Before that, she had never known fear.

It was a hot night in summer, when we lived in Melbourne, Australia.

A maid who had been with us for some time, left to go to her home in the country. It was while the new maid was with us that this happened.

A young man, son of one of our members, had taken an epileptic fit. His mother came and begged us to go and see him. We did so.

It had taken twelve strong men to hold him, he was so possessed. When we arrived, my husband had them let him go and kneeled down beside him, holding his temples with his hands and praying. In Jesus' Name the Devil was cast out.

We paid another visit afterwards and reached home at 11 o'clock, having no uneasiness about our children, because they never awoke in the evening after they were put to bed.

We had our latch-key with us, and as we put it into the door we were surprised to hear a smothered sound of weeping coming from the nursery. I said, "That is our little Esther," and we went quickly upstairs to her room.

She was in her little bed with the blanket held tightly over her face with both her hands. Her sobs sounded as if she had sobbed thus for a long time and was all tired out, so that she could hardly cry any more.

The perspiration was all over her body and her face was wet with it.

I said, "Why, Esther dear, what is the matter?"

Her papa began to take the blanket off her, but she held tightly to it crying, "Oh no, I can't. I can't look; there is a black man there."

We said, "No, dear, there is no black man. Papa and mamma are here."

But she said, "There is a big black dog down the lane, and he is coming to carry me away."

Then we saw at once what had happened.

This child had never been told anything but the exact truth all her life, and she believed exactly what was told her. This new maid had wanted her to go to sleep quickly for some reason of her own, and had told her these things to make her lie down and cover herself up.

Then she had awakened, and the horrid black man had come up before her vivid imagination. She had, at that time, never seen any colored person, and would not have feared one if she had. As for a big dog, she never was afraid of any animal. But this wicked girl had put into her heart the spirit of fear.

Immediately her father said, "Esther dear, there is no one here but papa and mamma and Jesus. He is here. He is always here when we are not. He will always take care of our little girl."

She at once dropped her hold of the blanket and smiled at us, looking around the room. We talked to her and took off the clothes, which were wet with perspiration. We put fresh sheets on the bed and a fresh gown on our dear little one. Then she laid down again, saying to herself, "Only papa and mamma and Jesus."

We kissed her good night, put out the light and went into our own bedroom. She was asleep in a few minutes.

The next morning when we arose, the children had eaten their breakfast.

I saw her first at the top of the stairs, a dear little pet, with her big brown wondering eyes fringed with their black eyelashes, and her beautiful head covered with dark brown curly hair.

She stood and looked at me. I said, "What is it, dear?"

She said, "Mamma, I have been looking for Jesus."

She then went back to her room, looked behind the door, under her bed and all around. I watched to see what she would do.

Then she said, "I can't find Him now, mamma. He was here last night. I saw Him, but He is not here now."

Then I saw what that look meant, and I said, "Esther, He is always here, dear. We cannot see Him, but His Spirit is here. Although you do not see Him, papa and mamma tell you He is always taking care of His little child, and no wicked persons can harm you. You can always ask Him to take care of you."

See looked very happy and, smiling at me, said, "He is always here, mamma."

She never again had any fear.

Of course, we at once sent away the bad girl who had so wickedly frightened her.

When the sick people came to our house for healing, as they did shortly after this time, she took great interest in the sick children and would talk to them about Jesus. One day her doll had a bad fall and broke its head. She ran at once to her father and knocking at the door of his room, where he prayed with the sick, she got in and, laying the doll down on his knees, she said, "My baby is sick, papa; pray for her."

Her father took the injured doll and gently put it together, tying it up. He explained to her that a doll was not quite like a little girl, but he would do what he could to mend it.

Our son and daughter are now grown to manhood and womanhood, but they are not afraid, and believe that what Jesus said is true, "Lo, I am with you alway." No one can fear who really believes this, for they can say from their heart, "I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me."

We trust that in the years to come all the instruction and knowledge which our son and daughter are now busy acquiring in great schools of learning will be turned to good use in furthering the work of God. They were given to Him from the beginning of their lives. May He ever guard and bless them. As we have prayed for you and yours, we also desire that you will pray for us and ours.

There are many more things which I could say, but I think I have made this now long enough.

I would just add that Jesus has been our Home Physician for almost twenty-five years, and we wish you to make Him yours. We are not telling you to do what we have not done ourselves.

Never a drop of medicine has been in our home, either for ourselves or our children.

We have lived with the sick a great part of the time, but God has kept us; and when any sickness has come, God has answered prayer in our behalf.

Just one more little story, and with that I close. An artist once painted a beautiful picture intended to represent the mothers bringing their little ones to Jesus.

He made a beautiful picture of Jesus, and then put in some beautiful little children. Jesus was holding out His hands to them, and looking lovingly upon them; but some of them were hiding behind their mothers' skirts and pulling back, the mothers gently drawing them forward as they did so.

The artist took his little girl to see his picture, and asked her how she liked it.

She looked at the face of Christ, and her face lit up; then she looked at the children. He said, "Are they not beautiful little children?"

She said, "No, papa, I do not like them! If Jesus looked at me like that, I would run to Him. I would not want to be pulled and pushed to Him."

He saw his mistake. He wiped out these children and painted in their places the beautiful picture of the little children, holding out their arms and running eagerly to Jesus.

Ah, that has been the trouble! Our Heavenly Father, the Lord Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit have not been presented to the world as they are, a glorious Tri-une God.

If we had always been shown Him as a loving Father, merciful and gracious, pitying His children as a father pitieth; if we had always thought of Him as loving us with an Everlasting Love, whose mercy endureth forever; if we had pictured Him as one who went about full of sympathy with the sick and sorrowing, bearing away from them their burdens of sin and sickness; if we had kept more in mind that He said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not: for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven," and had always known that He is ever ready to take them up in His arms and bless them, what a different world this would be!

The time would be indeed hastened when the prayer which our Lord taught His Disciples to pray would be fulfilled:

Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth.

A VOICE TO ZION AND GOD'S PEOPLE IN EVERY LAND.

O thou that tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the High Mountain Lift up thy Voice with strength: Lift it up, be not afraid: Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Isaiah, XL:9.

THE EVERLASTING GOSPEL DECLARED.

Report of Meeting held in West Side Zion Tabernacle, Chicago, Lord's Day Morning, February 3, 1901. Address: "God, the Father, Giver of Every Good Gift."

Report of Meeting held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 3, 1901. Sermon: "Purity." Reception of New Members. Ordinance of the Lord's Supper.

REPORTED BY S. AND E. W. AND A. W. N.

THE first Lord's Day in February, 1901, witnessed the worst storm of the winter in Chicago. Beginning on the Saturday, the Storm King sent forth his shrieking cohorts of wind and snow.

On the Lord's Day morning the wind was fiercer, the snowfall more rapid.

Huge, heavy drifts of wet, clinging snow were piled in the streets and on the sidewalks.

Traffic was interfered with and in many places completely blocked.

All through the day the wind raced, eddied, whirled and howled, ever bearing on its pinions the rapidly-falling snow.

Snow entangled the feet, snow blinded the eyes, snow was plastered upon faces and garments.

So fierce was the storm that in Chicago it claimed ten killed and many injured, while others are missing.

Despite the discomforts and dangers of the storm, the General Overseer spoke to large audiences at both morning and afternoon services.

The morning service was the second of the series in the outlying Zion Tabernacles of Chicago, being held in the West Side Zion Tabernacle, at the corner of South Paulina and West Madison Streets.

God blessed the Message, a Message setting forth His love for His children, and His willingness to give them every good gift.

In the afternoon, at Central Zion Tabernacle, there were fully 2000 present. It was a wonderful sight. No Tempest could keep these thousands away from Zion.

The man of God spoke with great power upon that most important subject, "Purity." There was an intense earnestness in the hearts of many as they repeated the words of the Prayer of Consecration, "O God, make me pure, that I may see Thee."

God heard the prayer and many are being set upon the beautiful Highway of Holiness.

Seventy-two new members were received at the close of the service, the General Overseer extending the right hand of fellowship with his earnest benediction.

Then, while the elements raged without, all within the House of God was quiet, calm and hushed with a Divine Peace as nearly 2000 Christians gathered with thanksgiving, song and prayer about the sacred Table of the Lord.

The General Overseer administered the Ordinance.

Then, for the first time since his return, the members of the Christian Catholic Church in Chicago had an opportunity to grasp the hand of their beloved General Overseer. Crossing the platform from south to north, the long line of people shook hands with him, extending a personal welcome home and receiving his kindly, loving greetings.

West Side Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning, February 3, 1901.

The service was opened by the General Overseer pronouncing the invocation. The congregation then joined in singing Hymn No. 226, after which the Apostles' Creed was recited.

The General Overseer said:

Let us read in the Inspired Word of God in the seventh chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew.

Scripture Reading and Exposition.

Judge not, that ye be not judged.

The word "judge" here, of course, has the signification of condemnation, of passing verdicts upon things, of attempting to settle the whole matter by a wicked, censorious judgment.

For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast your pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone; or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him? All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.

That is as high as they attained. If you do as much as that, you do very well; but there is something better than the law and the prophets.

Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. For narrow is the gate, and straitened the way, that leadeth unto life, and few be they that find it.

The great mass of the people will never "find" the Narrow Gate. They will have to be led to it. They will have to be guided to it.

They do not know the way to Christ.

It is true that Jesus Christ is the Way to God, but there are many ways to Christ.

There is only one Way to the Father, but there are many ways to Christ.

We ought to endeavor to use every possible means to bring people by every possible way to Christ.

Christ is the Door. He is the Gate.

The people will not find Him, unless they are helped.

The people will not even seek Him, unless they are told about Him.

Many people do not believe that there is such a Gate. They do not see others going in there. Their fathers and mothers did not go; they know nothing about it, and they will have to be led to it.

Few there be that find it.

But I thank God many there be who are led to it.

Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves. By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in Heaven.

Doing, Not Saying or Singing, is What God Desires.

God takes very little account of what you say, unless you do it.

Saying is all very well, very profitable and very helpful, if you do it.

It is nice to sing sweetly, but you must live so, if your song is to be of any power.

It is nice to preach well, but you will have to live as you preach, if your preaching is to be of any power.

It is nice to speak sweetly, but you will have to live sweetly.

By their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in Heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by Thy Name, and by Thy Name cast out devils, and by Thy Name do many mighty works?

There are many people who read this passage who say, "A man may do very many mighty works, and a man may cast out devils in Jesus' Name, and yet when he gets to heaven he will be set aside."

They make that assertion simply because they read ignorantly.

These people said that they did these things, but Christ did not say that they did. On the contrary, He said they lied.

Many will say to Me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by Thy Name, and by Thy Name cast out devils, and by Thy Name do many mighty works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from Me, ye that work iniquity.

Do you see what that means?

He will say, "I never knew you. There never was a time when you were Mine. There never was a single thing which you did in My Name. You lie when you say that."

Christian Science, So-Called, Falsely Claims to Work in Christ's Name.

The same can be said today to those who are using the Name of Christ to cover one of the greatest abominations which has ever cursed modern society. Take, for instance, Christian Science, which is neither Christian nor scientific; which denies the personality of God, the Father; which denies the Divinity of Jesus Christ, His Son; which denies the personality of the Holy Spirit. That system denies the triunity of God. It speaks of God as "Father God and Mother God." It speaks with perfect contempt about our Lord Jesus Christ as having made Atonement for man's sins.

That whole Abomination has in the front of it the Name of Christ. They say they do these things in Christ's Name. They do not do any such thing. Their theology and their books are the proof that they do not.

They deny that man is capable of sin, sickness or any departure from holiness. They say that all these so-called sins and sicknesses and departures from holiness are things the existence of which you must deny. When you have denied their existence, they say you will discover that they do not exist.

These people have the audacity to put the Name of Christ in the front of that continent of mud called Christian Science. They have the audacity to say they are doing these things in Christ's Name.

They know that claim is false.

They are apostates, mostly led by persons who have been spiritualists, theosophists and infidels, and sometimes by women who deny the commonest principles of morality.

It is not very many years ago since the woman next in rank to Mrs. Eddy publicly divorced her husband, and took another. You know what the result was. She found out that her new husband had many wives besides herself.

So-Called Christian Science is Essentially Immoral and Mercenary.

Any one who makes terms and agreements for money to pray the prayer of faith is simply a cheat, a liar and a blasphemer.

Mrs. Eddy boldly tells you she had a Divine revelation that she should charge $300 for each treatment. She has a charge from that to $500 for teaching so-called Christian Science in a class.

It is perfectly shameful!

The Name of Jesus Christ is dragged in to protect a thing and to cover a philosophy and a so-called religion which is an Abomination.

I have no confidence whatever in the so-called healings in Christian Science. Not an atom!

I believe that there may be among the Christian Scientists, just as there are among the Roman Catholics, those who, despite the fact that they are amongst those who are apostate, really love the Lord, and have really sought Him, and received a blessing. There are many Roman Catholics who have received Divine Healing, because, notwithstanding all the abominations by which they were surrounded, they went to God in faithful humble prayer and got a blessing.

There are many persons connected with Christian Science, no doubt, who really get away from the false philosophy, and get to God. In such cases they will get healing, not because of Christian Science, but in spite of it.

Any one who believes in Christian Science as it is taught in "Science and Health" by Mrs. Eddy is simply believing in a mass of Antichristian imposture

I do not believe in their alleged healings because they teach their people to lie; to profess that they do not have any pain and do not have any disease, when the disease is there, and the pain is there all the time.

It is a shameful mass of lying!

When they go before God with their impudence and say: "We do this in the Name of Christ," the Lord Jesus Christ will say, "Mrs. Eddy, I never knew you. Depart from Me; depart from Me ye that work iniquity. You never were converted. You never were Mine." Go!

I Have a Strong Conviction That Christian Science Must be Utterly Destroyed.

It has no real power now. It would have no existence at all but for the fact that the churches have denied the truth of Divine Healing, which leaves the way open for a great mass of imposture.

I call your attention to this passage, which is oftentimes quoted as if these people had done all these good things in Christ's Name, and had after all been rejected. It is no such thing. Christ never knew them; their claims were false.

Every one therefore which heareth these words of Mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, which built his house upon the rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock. And every one that heareth these words of Mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, the multitudes were astonished at His teaching: for He taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

Authoritative Teaching the Only Effective Teaching.

That is the only way in which any teaching can ever come. It must be authoritative teaching. The man who teaches mathematics must have the Authority of personal knowledge, and must have the Authority from the proper sources.

If a man has no Authority, he is simply an abomination as a teacher.

If a man pretends to be a police officer when he has not the Authority, he is a criminal. He can be very severely punished.

Wherever this Everlasting Gospel is proclaimed, if the preacher has not Divine Authority, it is a curse to him; it is a curse to the people.

Where there is Authority on the one side, there must be Obedience on the other. If I speak to you today, my brothers and my sisters, with the Authority of a Messenger of God, then you must obey, not because I say it, but because God sends His Message.

I am speaking that Message with Authority. Authority in teaching is the indispensably great thing.

These miserable old scribes and Pharisees did not have any power with the people because they had no Authority. Whenever they preached they would say, "Rabbi Elieser says this, Rabbi Joseph says the next thing."

What does it matter what Rabbi Joseph says, or Rabbi This, or Rabbi That?

The only thing that matters in this world is what God says.

"Can they not tell us what God says?" asks some one. "Then they would speak with some Authority."

No; they could tell you what Moses and the prophets said, but they could not know what God said.

They may teach what Moses said, they may teach what the prophet said, they may teach what is in the Gospels, and they may teach what is in the Epistles, and yet they may have no Authority.

It is easy to talk, just as easy as it is for one man to impersonate another. There are multitudes of men today who are preaching this Gospel in words, who have no Authority. No one obeys them, because every one sees that they have no Authority.

When Jesus spoke, the people were astonished at His teaching. He taught them "as one having Authority, and not as their scribes."

What we need today is Divine Authority, so that you may know that the Message is from God.

Every honest man and woman is simply desirous of knowing what is God's will. Honest persons want to know what God wants them to do.

They want it told them plainly.

The more plainly I can speak, the better.

May God help you. May God bless you.

Rev. Gerald F. Stevens, Elder-in-Charge of the West Side Zion Tabernacle, then offered prayer, followed by the General Overseer, at the close of which the congregation joined in repeating the Disciples' Prayer.

The General Overseer then continued: I am very glad to be on the West Side again and to speak to you.

This very, very stormy morning no doubt accounts for the fact that a very large number whom I know desired to be present are not here, although the Tabernacle is nicely filled.

I am glad to see you who are members who live on the West Side. I know you are doing very good work. I am very glad to hear of the success that has accompanied Elder and Evangelist Stevens's ministry among you.

I thought that after I had tested his patience among the Dutch at Grand Rapids, I would give him a place where he would have plenty of scope, and where the people would be a little quicker than the Dutch. The Dutch are not to be despised, but they are very hard to move. They are hard people, hard as granite. They are stubborn. They are stupidly stubborn. They will not think. They hold to one idea. That is a grand thing, if the idea is wise and good; but just the opposite if it is a foolish idea.

The Absurdity of the Boers Going to War With Great Britain.

If they had possessed good sense, the Boers would never have gone to war with the British. It was a perfect piece of absurdity. Just look at it. Suppose the people of Hyde Park or Englewood, 250,000 people, were to solemnly declare war upon the United States, and tell the United States that they are to do exactly as they wanted or they would sweep them into the sea.

It was worse than that, because the Boers defied an empire of 500,000,000 people, six times as many people as there are in the United States. The Boers were about as many as the people living in some of the smaller divisions of the City of Chicago, about 200,000 people.

They should never have gone to war. There would have been a very large party in England who would have helped them in every way to get whatever really belonged to them.

Many people do not understand this Boer question.

You say it was their country. It was no such thing. It was no more their country than it is yours. They came and took it from the Kaffirs. They stole it from the Kaffirs. They flogged, murdered and enslaved the Kaffirs. To this day they treat the Kaffirs brutally.

They treat the missionaries who stand up for the Africans in the same way. Some of you do not seem to know the history of the Boers.

If you will read the history of the life of David Livingstone, the great missionary, you will find that these Boers came down upon him because he protected the interests of the blacks, and destroyed his property, drove off his cattle, smashed up his things and tore his books to pieces.

That is the kind of people they are.

They will go out and sing a Psalm after committing such outrages. I do not take any stock in that kind of Psalm-singing.

I do not say that there are not many good people amongst them, because we have a good many members of this Church among the Boers, and there are many noble Christian men and women amongst them.

They are downright stupid, nevertheless, when they once get a wrong idea into their heads.

Great Britain has done one good thing—I will say that for her.

Great Britain Has Everywhere Protected the Rights of the Black Man.

She has given him freedom under her flag. She everywhere demands that he shall be treated as a man, and that his property and life shall be protected. Woe to any man under the British flag who assaults or robs or kills a black man! He will be fined, imprisoned or hanged, no matter how rich he is, just as sure as he commits the crime.

A black man is treated fairly under the British flag. I have never known of a case of lynching in Australia. I have never known of a case of lynching, either black or white, in England in my lifetime. Let the law take its course.

My heart is very sore when I see people make this great blunder about the Boers. You seem to forget that England never proclaimed war against the Boers. It was the Boers who proclaimed war against England, and England was not ready.

England did not have 10,000 troops in Africa when the Boers declared war. The Boers were ready, and they swept over into Natal, and nearly siezed that whole province.

The Boers Want to Embroil Europe in War.

They do not care if they do get France and Germany and England and Russia all fighting one another. They do not care so long as they can get what they want. What a horrible thing a war amongst these millions of Europe would be! The Boers are eager to get nations to embark in their quarrel and fight with one another. That is not a Christian spirit.

I do not say that England is always right. I do not say the United States is always right. I do not say that men anywhere are always right. I think that, for the most part, there is a great deal of wrong on every side; but on this matter there is no doubt whatever that there was no desire upon the part of the great majority of the people in the British Empire for war at all. Why should there be? It is absurd.

The idea of a great nation of four or five hundred millions wanting to go to war with a little people like that, about the size of a small division of Chicago, not more than one-eighth of its population. It is ridiculous.

People ought to think of things in their right proportions before they talk.

I desire you to pray God to give us peace in our time. I am hoping that with the advent of the new King of Great Britain we shall see an endeavor to make peace in Africa.

There are magnificent men upon the Boer side, splendid men, good men, wise men; but the great majority of the Transvaal Boers are illiterate. They are uneducated. They do not educate their children properly. The consequence is they do not know much. Many of them are very, very ignorant. Their ignorance is appalling.

They have very few books, and do not care to read. The boys delight to shoot, and are taught from their childhood to shoot to kill. It is a horrible thing when boys are trained up for the purpose of shooting to kill. The Boers will tell you frankly that they have trained up all the young generation to shoot to kill. They tell them that every bullet which they carry ought to be worth a British life. That is a horrible, murderous thing. I do not care who does it, it is wicked.

May God bless the nations. I love all mankind.

I am glad that the Christian Catholic Church in Zion has members in Johannesburg and Pretoria, in Orange River Colony, in Cape Colony and in Natal; scores and scores here and there, hundreds in the aggregate throughout southern Africa.

It has been very touching to me all through this war, to get letters by the same mail from those who were on the firing line of the Boer and British sides—both of them good Christians.

The tithes and offering were received.

GOD, THE FATHER, THE GIVER OF EVERY GOOD GIFT.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and be profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words shall come, in this and every land, in this and all the coming time, till Jesus come, for His sake. (Amen.)

TEXT.

If ye then being evil know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Heavenly Father give good things to them that ask Him?

This is a question—an interrogation. How much more?

Children, have you fathers and mothers?

Children—"Yes."

General Overseer—If you asked an egg, would they give you a scorpion?

Children—"No."

General Overseer—If you asked a fish, would they give you a serpent?

Children—"No."

General Overseer—If you asked for bread, would they give you a stone?

Children—"No."

General Overseer—That is what Jesus said.

Even Bad Men Give Good Gifts to Their Children.

"If ye then being evil know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more," how infinitely more than evil men and women will the Heavenly Father give good things to them that ask him?

Saloonkeepers I count very bad men. A man who sells "liquid fire and distilled damnation," in my opinion, is a very bad man; a man who, for the sake of money, sells that which makes people drunk and mad, drives them to commit crimes, keeps them from their wives and families, and steals their children's bread.

He is a very bad man who sells that damning liquor.

The man who licenses them is bad, too, and the country which allows such a traffic is bad. The city which puts money into its pocket out of the degradation of its citizens is a wicked city. It is a bad business all through.

But the worst men among these saloonkeepers are fond of their babies. They are fond of their little children; and often and often what a man or woman will not do because it is right, the little child with its words of love and caresses will get an evil father or mother to do.

I have known men to go right out of that business because their little children were converted, and went up to them and put their arms around them and said, "Papa, do not sell liquor any more. Papa, do not make people drunk any more. Papa, do not do that any more."

I have known a man to break right down, and look into his child's face and say, "I will stop right here, and close the saloon."

The most evil men love their children. Even these Pharisees who hated Christ, when they went back to their homes, and their little children met them, forgot all about their hatred of Christ, and just loved their children.

They did not give them stones when they asked for bread.

They did not give them serpents when they asked for fishes.

They did not give them scorpions when they asked for eggs.

The Wickedness of Failure to Provide for Children.

He must be a terrible man who will do anything like that. There are wicked fathers who sometimes even kill their children. There are wicked fathers who forget what is due their children. Sometimes, if they do not give them a stone for bread, they drink all the money, and the children have no bread, have no eggs, have no fish. It is just about as bad to give them nothing at all as it is to give a scorpion or a stone.

That is just what it comes to in a great many cases.

Our Lord Jesus Christ puts this beautiful simile, and asks this beautiful question that we may answer it.

He was talking to the Pharisees at this time, and to His disciples. He asked:

If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in Heaven give good things to them that ask Him?

God, Our Father, Gave His Greatest Gift in His Son.

I desire to present to you the great truth that Salvation is the Gift of God.

The greatest of all gifts which God has given to humanity has been the Gift of His own Son.

Who gave the Son? Was it not the Father?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—God the Father gave His own Son. No one else could have given Him.

For God so loved the world, that He gave His Only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

Salvation was the gift of God.

Every good gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turning.

If we without wavering will ask Him in faith, doing those things which are right, He will give good gifts.

He has promised this. It is natural.

Surely if we love our children, and are willing to give them all the good things we can, it is reasonable and right to suppose that our Father in Heaven loves us. If we have a Father, if we do not come by chance, then our Father surely loves us—and we have a Father; He is the Father of our spirits, and He loves us.

Remember that great fundamental fact.

No matter how wicked the children may be, God is good to all.

He is good to the saloonkeepers and druggists; good to the poor harlots; good to the murderers; good to all.

This morning God is feeding the murderer in his cell.

He sends him bread.

He sends him water.

He sends him protection, even though he is a murderer.

Under Christian law in this city the murderer is protected. He gets a great many good things, although the law may eventually hang him by the neck until he is dead. God has put that law of pity and of love and of justice into Christian hearts.

So God is really good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works.

God is Perfectly Impartial.

Never let us think that God is partial.

You love your good children. You are glad to know how well they are getting on. The good children have left your home, and have loved you, and come back to you, and given you much joy every now and then with their visits. The good children are doing well. You hear about them having good husbands and wives and happy children, and you are so glad to visit them; you think a great deal of them.

But if there is one wandering child, if one poor girl has left the fold, and gone away out into the mountains, cold and bare; if one poor boy has gone into sin and become the victim of his own depravity, and of vile associations, and perhaps is in a prison cell today, your thoughts will go a thousand times to the one who has gone astray. Your thoughts will follow the boy who has gone from home, to the girl who is you know not where.

You will seek to find out where that wanderer is. You will go wherever that wanderer may be, if you are true fathers and mothers, and you will plead with him to come home.

Our Father in Heaven has thoughts of love for all mankind.

He loves those who are banished by their own transgressions from His presence.

He loves those who have passed out of this life, and cannot enter heaven; for they were not prepared for it.

For we must needs die, and are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again; neither doth God take away life, but deviseth means, that he that is banished be not an outcast from Him.

He seeks the lost.

He seeks the perishing.

He will ever seek until the last wandering sheep is brought home.

He will ever follow with the good gifts which His Spirit gives the wanderer, no matter where he goes.

Seeking a Lost Sheep.

Watch that shepherd. It is a bitterly cold day. He has missed one of his sheep. He comes back for refreshment and help. Then he calls around him his faithful dogs, just as one whom I saw in Scotland a little while ago. He talks to the dogs. He says to them in language which they perfectly well understand that there is a sheep missing, and that the sheep has to be brought back. Then he goes out and sends one collie away up this glen, and another collie away up that glen, another collie in front of him. When they find the sheep, which has slipped over the rocks, perhaps, and broken its leg, the dog which finds it barks and yelps, and makes the mountains ring with his joy. He brings the other dogs to the place where the wounded sheep is lying, perhaps dying. He brings the shepherd.

Then the shepherd lifts his lost sheep upon his shoulders and carries it home.

God does the same.

The greatest of all God's good gifts is the sending of the Great Shepherd of the sheep, who not only seeks and cares for the ninety and nine who are safely in the fold, but seeks that wandering sheep which has gone far away.

He is seeking the sinner today. That is why He came.

I often think of those lines which were once found under the head of a Roman Catholic ex-priest high in office. He had ceased to be a priest. He had fled from Rome because he feared for his life. He had the secrets of the papacy in his hands. He was a very quiet man who went in and out, not pretending to be a priest at all. No one knew his name. He loved the little children in the street, and they loved him.

Finally he became very sick. One morning the good woman who cared for his room found that he did not answer the knock, far on in the day. She went with her husband into the room, and there he lay with a very sweet smile on his face, but his spirit had gone.

They knew nothing of who he was, until they began to search his papers; but the very first paper that they found was a little hymn under his pillow. It was this:

I was wandering and weary,
When the Saviour came unto me;
For the paths of sin were dreary,
And the world had ceased to woo me.
And I thought I heard Him say,
As He came along His way,
"Wandering soul, Oh! do come near Me;
My sheep should never fear Me;
I am the Shepherd true."

At first I would not listen,
I put off till the morrow;
But life began to darken,
And my heart was sick with sorrow;
And still I heard Him say,
As He came along my way:
"Wandering soul, Oh! do come near Me;
My sheep should never fear Me;
I am the Shepherd true."

At last I stopped to listen,
His Voice could ne'er deceive me;
I saw His kind eye glisten
So anxious to relieve me;
And I was sure I heard Him say,
As He came along the way:
"Wandering soul, Oh! do come near Me;
My sheep should never fear Me;
I am the Shepherd true."

He took me on His shoulder,
And tenderly He kissed me;
He bade my love grow bolder,
Told me how He had missed me;
And I was sure I heard Him say,
As He came along my way:
"Wandering soul, Oh! do come near Me;
My sheep should never fear Me;
I am the Shepherd true."

I thought His love would weaken,
As more and more He knew me;
But it burneth like a beacon,
And its light and heat go through me,
And I ever hear Him say,
As He comes along Life's way:
"Wandering soul, Oh! do come near Me;
My sheep they never fear Me;
I am the Shepherd true."

The Good Shepherd.

The Greatest of all the Gifts which God has given to man is this great Good Shepherd, who still goes about doing good, saving the sinner, healing the sick, cleansing the leper, raising the dead, bringing comfort to the sorrowing and strength to the weak, light to those who are in darkness, and bringing them to God.

All who desire to trust that Good Shepherd, stand and tell Him so. (Apparently all arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me Thy Holy Spirit, that I may love Thee, and believe that Thou art my Father; that Thou wilt give me the good thing I need, the forgiveness, the healing, the strength, if I truly repent and fully believe. Help me so to repent. Help me to do right to all, and in Thy sight to trust in Jesus. Cleanse my spirit, my soul, my body, and keep guiding me until I arrive at home in that land where there is no sin, and no sickness, and no sorrow, and no winter, and no night, for Jesus' sake. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

After the Doxology had been sung, the service was closed by the General Overseer pronouncing the following

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

AFTERNOON SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 3, 1901.

The services were opened by singing Hymn Number 63:

"For God so loved!" Oh, wondrous theme!
Oh, wondrous key to wondrous scheme!
A Saviour sent to sinful men—
Glory to God, the Father!

CHORUS—Glory to God, the Father!
Glory to God, the Father!
Glory, glory,
Glory to God, the Father.

The General Overseer then said:

Let us read in the Inspired Word of God, in the Gospel according to St. Matthew and in the fifth chapter.

Scripture Reading and Exposition.

And seeing the multitudes, He went up into the mountain: and when He had sat down, His disciples came unto Him: and He opened His mouth and taught them, saying,

Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

I would like to say here, just in passing, while I shall use the accepted translation, the Kingdom of Heaven, it is well to remember that in the original word the plural number is used.

It is not the Kingdom of Heaven, but the Kingdom of the Heavens.

There are Many Heavens.

Paul speaks of a third Heaven, and we read of the "Heaven of Heavens."

Of course, if there was a third Heaven, there was a second and a first, and so on. We must understand by this expression, the Heavens, that there are different degrees of glory; that God in His Infinite Wisdom has arranged the glorious Kingdom even here on earth so that we get just that unto which by grace through faith and obedience we attain. The degree of progression in the Divine Life is not equal in all persons.

It is a very great blessing, therefore, in the Divine Life to be able to progress. The blessing is an ever-increasing one; ever upward. We are changed from glory unto glory.

There those who have attained by a steadfast, quiet, calm, obedient spirit, who have gone forth to do God's will continually; they have reaped the reward which always comes to those who aspire every day to reach higher in the Divine Life with an ever-deepening humility, and a purer faith. They get a brighter hope and a more exalted vision of God.

That which is the case here is the case in the world beyond.

In the Revelation of Jesus Christ, John sees thrones, dominions, angels and archangels, cherubim and seraphim.

Therefore, remember, that while I shall read the word "Kingdom of Heaven," it ought to be and must be understood in your mind in the plural: the Kingdom of the Heavens.

Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.
Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.
Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.
Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.
Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for My sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.
Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a bill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven.
Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil.

Christ Has Fulfilled the Law.

I wish that Christians would remember that He did fulfil, and that the law is fulfilled. Excepting in its moral and spiritual and other requirements which are connected with purity, the whole of that old law of ceremonials and of social and political life has passed away.

We have nothing to do with it.

We have no more to do with the law of Moses concerning marriage, than if Moses had never been born. What have we to do with a law which practically and actually commands polygamy? Nothing at all.

It is set aside. There is no question about it.

All these relationships which cluster around a polygamous condition and are the curse of polygamous society, are swept away in Christianity.

Those mean, petty little tithes of mint and anise and cumin, keeping people under perpetual bondage for fear of a failure to fulfil one little requirement lest they should be under condemnation from God; those things were set aside. They have given place to greater and broader and larger things: to the Tithing of Love which we bring to Jesus, our "High Priest forever after the Order of Melchesidec."

The Law and the Prophets are fulfilled in Christ.

I am no minister of the Old Testament. I am a minister of the New Testament, and I never profess to be a minister of the Old Testament. I love its prophecies which tell me of the glory of Christ, and the glory of His coming Kingdom. There are none too many, and they are glorious. I love them. They are full of Divine worship.

But there are many things in which we should sin if we followed the example of Old Testament saints.

You cannot get me to curse my enemies with David, and pray that their wives shall be widows, and their children fatherless.

David may do his own cursing, but I will not help him in it. (Laughter. Amen.)

I do not see that I am under any obligation to curse like David. If I read certain Psalms today, and told you to obey them and curse your enemies, I should disobey Christ.

I would rather disobey David any day.

I Have No Considerable Respect for David.

A man who was blessed by God as David was, should have kept close to God.

God had blessed him in every way, and then when he got to the throne, the mean dog that he was, the damning lust in him made him seek for his neighbor's wife; his own valiant soldier's wife. He stole her and made her a harlot. Then he got that man back from the wars to father a bastard. When he could not get him to do it, he sent him to the front of the battle, where he would be murdered.

I hope he got to heaven, but I do not say that he ever deserved it. (Laughter.)

He was a mean man. On his deathbed he told his son to commit murder. He did not want to murder Joab while he was alive, but he wanted Joab killed as soon as the breath was out of his own body. He told Solomon to kill Shimei also.

Solomon improved upon that. He killed his own brother Adonijab, and murdered a number of people.

Solomon Was Not Much Account.

I do not care what you say; a man who was blessed as Solomon was, who got such wisdom and wonderful power, and then ended his life with 700 wives and 300 concubines, was a dirty dog. I do not care what you say about it.

You could not get me to praise Solomon. I am speaking as a Christian now. I will not believe that these men were good. They were not. I do not say that God did not use them. They were good in stripes. They were very good sometimes.

That is the curse of the thing. God had blessed them so, and made them such a blessing, and then when they obtained power they used it to serve the Devil, and to "make God's enemies blaspheme in every generation," as Nathan said they would do because of David's sin.

I will give them away. (Laughter.) I do not defend them. I will not defend any member or Elder of this Church who will go to the Devil. I have a sharp stick for that fellow. (Laughter.) I will help him back to God, of course, if he repents.

I have nothing but words of contempt for guilt like David's and Solomon's.

Why should I declare a standard of morality for you, and another standard for a king?

Let us get some good sound sense into us. God says this Record is inspired, and it is inspired. That does not mean, however, that it is for our imitation. It is for our warning, in a great many cases.

It is written in one of the Apostle Paul's letters to Timothy: "Every Scripture inspired of God is also profitable for Teaching, for Reproof, for Correction, for Instruction which is in Righteousness: that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every Good Work."

Have men forgotten that God sent Nathan the prophet to David to tell him the story of that one ewe lamb? He told the King that a man had a great flock and that his poor neighbor had only one ewe lamb. When a hungry traveler came, the owner of the big flock stole the one ewe lamb, killed it and served it to the traveler. Then David said, "As the Lord liveth, that man shall die."

"Thou art the man," came quick as a flash from Nathan.

Then David saw it.

I think David was right. He ought to have been hanged for it. He uttered the sentence that the rich robber should die. Why should he not die? If it was right that a subject of King David's should be put to death for taking a lamb, was it not right that the King himself should be put to death for killing a brave soldier and stealing his wife?

He should show the best example. He had the greatest blessing.

Sometimes people write, "Will you not please let up on David and Solomon?"

Never! (Laughter.) The facts are given by God, "for Reproof, for Correction and for Instruction in Righteousness."

I Am a Minister of the New Testament.

I am free. I will not cover over anything. There has been too much of filling up of holes with putty and varnish. That will not do. I have no putty and varnish in Zion.

I will speak the truth whether it cuts myself, or you, or another. Let us get the truth. Is that not what we are after?

Voices "Yes."

General Overseer—I am a minister of the New Testament. I am glad of it. I believe in the inspiration of every letter of this Bible. It is an Inspired Record. A vast portion of it was written for my warning, not for my imitation; for my instruction and for my reproof, as well as for edification.

When David says a good thing, rejoice in it. I love David's Shepherd Psalm.

When he was all right with God, there was no man who could sing a sweeter song, and from the depths of his heart.

I like David's Penitential Psalms. I thank God that he did repent. It is a good thing he did. But that does not alter the fact that the sin was committed. That sin went down in his own family. He was a man of blood.

Solomon was followed by Rehoboam, who said, "My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions."

What was the consequence? The Kingdom of Israel was rent in two parts, Judah and Israel, and has never been united since.

You cannot get good fruit from bad trees. It is contrary to human nature to expect anything but that the children of men like David and Solomon will set aside their good influence, and imitate most easily their bad deeds.

Let Us Stand for Purity.

Stand for Purity. That is what I am after. That is the cry which must ring through the world today—"Be clean!"

Stand for Purity, even if Solomon and David, and many more have to go over like so many nine-pins. Let them go. Let us all go, but remember God has given us a Standard in Christ of a Pure and Holy Life, and let us aim to attain unto it. (Amen.)

Let us get some common sense now.

I came not to destroy the law and the prophets; I came to fulfil.

I thank God that He did fulfil.

For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished.

Thank God, it was accomplished. He cried on that cross: "Tetelestai" (τετέλεσται). "It is accomplished!" It was finished.

Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least Commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the Kingdom of Heaven.

You cannot break any one of the Ten Commandments without sin. Christ has reënacted them.

> In vain we call old notions fudge,
> And bend our conscience to our dealing;
> The Ten Commandments will not budge,
> And stealing will continue stealing.

And lying will continue lying;
And murder will continue murder;
And adultery will continue adultery.
Nothing can alter it.

You must obey the Ten Commandments. No trick or sophistry can get around the Ten Commandments. They must be obeyed to the letter, and in the spirit. Do not make any mistake about that. There are more than ten commandments.

There is an Eleventh Commandment.

I always call your attention to it when I speak of the Ten.

Jesus said, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them, for this is the Law and the Prophets."

Yes, that is the Law and the Prophets, but there is something more than the Law and the Prophets. There is the Gospel. That Gospel says:

A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

The Gospel says that you are to do to your fellowmen what you would never expect them to do for you; that you are not only to love your neighbor as yourself, but you are to love your neighbor better than yourself.

You are to do things for your neighbor by crucifying yourself; by giving up yourself; by relinquishing your time, and your money, and your power, and giving them to your neighbor, who cannot help himself, and who can never recompense you.

That is the Eleventh Commandment: to love your neighbor better than yourself.

The Law and the Prophets never got any higher than to love your neighbor as yourself. There are many of you who have not gotten as high as that. (Laughter.) You do not get even as high as the Law and the Prophets. You do not love your neighbors as yourselves, some of you.

If you did, you would not stink them out with your dirty tobacco. You want to please yourselves.

"Can I not do what I like?" is your cry all the time.

No, you cannot do what you like, and serve God. You must say No to yourself. You must deny yourself, and "denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly and righteously and godly in this present world."

If you do not say No to self, you are of no account at all.

Let us obey the Eleven Commandments.

For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not kill.

Now He is showing what the Ten Commandments mean. Killing does not simply mean murdering with a knife. Here is the Interpreter of the Law; the Lawgiver Himself:

And whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: but I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of the hell of fire.

That is also a Hebrew expression of condemnation; final judgment, as it were.

If therefore thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the last farthing.

Christ Taught of a Place Where Man Would be Corrected.

I do not wish to teach a doctrine of purgatory, but I think that in swinging to the opposite extreme, we have failed to teach the truth of Christ. The truth of Christ is that if you will not do right, you will be taken and be put where you will have to do right, ard you will not get out until God sees that you will do right. Even here on this earth that is true.

A man may say, "I will believe just as much of Zion teaching and of the Bible as I care to believe. I will do as much as I like."

You will miss the blessing if you do that.

You will be kept where you will not get the blessing.

You will have to pay the uttermost farthing for your folly.

You will find yourself in the hands of your great adversary, the Devil.

There is a hell of fire here. There is a hell of fire hereafter. I say it boldly.

Whatever any one else may say of them, there are many of God's children who by their disobedience are kept in a tormenting Fire of an Accusing Conscience. They are kept in the tormenting Fire of a Spirit of Evil. They are under condemnation, because they will not obey. Their hearts are hot and angry, and they do not like to be told that they must.

They say they will, and they will not, according to their likes and dislikes.

That is the way a man talks who goes to the Devil.

That is the way a man talks who has gone to the Devil.

If you have gone to God, you will say, "I will do what God tells me if it takes my life to do it." (Amen.)

Then you will be free.

If you will not obey, you will never be free until you have paid the utmost farthing. The Devil will have you. He has a right to you. You are on his ground, until you do right. You are on the Devil's ground, and I do not care whether you are a saint or a sinner, the fire will consume you.

The Terrible Effects of Tobacco, Satan's Consuming Fire.

It does not matter that a man is a Christian, if he takes tobacco, Satan's Consuming Fire, it will dry up his gastric juices. It will give him chronic dyspepsia.

It will create ulcerations of the stomach. Consequent upon the food being imperfectly digested, the bowels will be torn, and there will be ulcerations of the stomach and bowels.

I have seen a minister dying with ulceration of the bowels, and screaming to be heard blocks away. No opiates could dull his pain. He would smoke. The nicotine poison had entered into the sores which had been created owing to impe-fectly-digested food. There is no use talking, if you will smoke, if you will sin, you will get the torments of the damned.

If you will drink, you will get the torments of the Devil.

If you will eat pig, you will get "little pigs" all over you. The Latin word scrofulæ means little pigs. You deserve them, too. You will have to pay the utmost farthing for your transgression, and when you have paid it and got out, do not go back again. Do not be like the sow returning to her wallowing in the mire, and the dog to his vomit.

There are some people who are like hogs. No pig I ever knew of wanted to be clean. Do you ever hear of a pig wanting to be clean?

There was a stupid artist who once painted a picture of pigs.

Oh, such beautiful, delightful little pigs, and old pigs!

They were all standing in nicely arranged rows, feeding out of the troughs. An old farmer came up to London, and stood before that picture and laughed: "Ha, ha, ha, ha! Where did that fellow come from who painted that pig picture?" asked the farmer. "Whoever saw a dozen pigs like that without half a dozen of them having their feet in the trough, and one lying down in it?" (Laughter.)

You can paint your nice stories about the pig, but the pig is dirty. Therefore do not be pigs. Do not go back to wallowing in the mire. Why should a man go back to his filthiness? If the good Lord has taken you out of filthiness, drunkenness, infidelity, and intemperance and impurity, keep out. God help you to keep out. (Amen.) Keep others out, too.

Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not commit adultery: but I say unto you, that every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Get that into your mind. You cannot read dirty books; you cannot look at filthy pictures, even if they be of ideal women; you cannot look at mortal woman with adulterous eyes without having the condemnation of God. You have broken the commandment. You have committed adultery in your heart.

Oh God, Give Us Pure Hearts.

That is what is needed. That is what I am to plead for today.

This word Purity is ringing through my mind.

Let us have pure hearts; pure thoughts.

Let us eat the thing which is clean and pure.

Let us read the thing which is sweet and pure.

Let us sing the song which has got no sting of impurity in it.

Let us enjoy communion with our friends without the dirty, filthy passions of hell being in the enjoyment.

Let there be Purity. If there is not, do not think that you are not an adulterer; because you are.

You are an adulterer if you think evil.

You are a murderer if you think hatred.

You are a thief if you covet.

You are an idolator if you worship anything and place it before God.

And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee:—

That is to say, No matter what the thing is, no matter how precious it may be to you, tear that evil thing from your heart.

—for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body be cast into hell.

That is into Gehenna, the place of the cleansing fire.

God's Law Concerning Divorce.

And if thy right hand causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into hell. It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: but I say unto you, That every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

It does not matter what the laws of the State of Illinois or any other State say concerning Divorce, there is the Eternal Law.

If you put away a woman for any other cause than for fornication, then you make her an adulteress. If any one marries her, you make that man an adulterer. You are the cause.

Incompatability of temperament is not a sufficient cause for divorce. If your wife shied a plate at your head, perhaps you deserved it. (Laughter.) Perhaps you got a great deal less than you deserved. Perhaps you created her bad temper.

Such things may be causes, in some cases, for legal separation. Separate maintenance is necessary, in some cases, for the protection of a woman from the violent passion of an ungodly husband. Sometimes I have known the woman to be the offender.

Recently a poor little fellow went into court and said he was in fear of his wife all the time. She was big enough to make him fear, too.

While there may be causes for legal separation and for separate maintenance, as the courts may rightly decide, there is no cause for divorce, no matter what the laws of any State or country say, except that of fornication.

If you are married to a woman who obtained a divorce for any other cause, she is not your wife. You have no right to live with her.

If you have put away your wife for any other cause, you had no right whatever to put her away.

If she is married to another, she is living in adultery.

Both she and you must give up your adulterous associations, and return to each other, no matter what the cost may be.

That is plain talk, and I know that talk is right. It is needed today.

If there are any in Zion, which God forbid, who are living in such relationships, I command them not to approach the Lord's Table today; for they are eating and drinking condemnation to themselves.

This sin must be put away everywhere throughout all the world.

That Voice must ring which rings in your ears now, the Voice of the Spirit of God—because the Spirit is still speaking in the world by God's Messenger—in these words:

It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

There, you see, Jesus Christ came into sharp conflict with Moses. Moses' Law protected divorce.

Jesus Christ said in another place, "Moses said unto you, but I say," "a greater than Moses or Solomon is here. I tell you what is right."

It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

That is as plain as words can ever make it. If anybody does not understand that, it is because they will not.

Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: but I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for it is the Throne of God;

That means that you are not to swear on every occasion, by the heaven or by the earth, or this, or that, or the other thing. I do not think it refers to legal oaths, although if any one thinks otherwise, the law gives him the right to make affirmation.

Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shall perform unto the Lord thine oaths: but I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for it is the Throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and whatsoever is more than these is of the evil one.

The Value of Positive, Simple Speech.

Oh that God would help us to be positive and simple, and to say No and Yes, and have no middle ground—no hesitation.

Say No to the Devil every time. Say No to your own sinful heart. Say No to evil and Yes to God.

As you say Yes to God, His purity will come into you, and the impurity will be swept out. But you cannot say Yes to God until you have said No to the Devil.

Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: but I say unto you, Resist not him that is evil: but whoever smiteth thee on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have the cloke also.

That, of course, has its limitations, as all of you will see. It does not mean that you are to invite all the vagabonds of the country to come and steal.

And whosoever shall compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

That, of course, has to be understood in the way in which the Lord meant it. It certainly could not mean that everything that men ask of you you are to give. I can show you in a moment that it could not be so.

Suppose a man should ask you to give him your wife. Would this command of our Lord justify you in doing it?

Suppose that a man, a lustful devil, asked you to give him your daughter, would you be justified in doing it?

Suppose a man comes and asks to borrow a thing you are using yourself in the work of God, and can make a better use of than he can, does it mean that you are to let him have it? Of course it does not. It has its limitations.

There may be things which you are to give because a man asks you; but you might commit a great crime if you were to give him everything he asked for, without limitation.

This command is limited by reason, and by that which is right in the sight of God.

You are to give what is right to give. You are to lend what is right to lend.

Suppose a man comes to you and asks you to lend what is not yours, and to give what is not yours, because you happen to be the custodian and steward. You would be a thief if you did. You would be amenable to the laws of God and man.

This has its plain, common-sense limitations. It means giving as far as it is right to give; it means lending as far as it is right to lend.

Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy: but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and pray for them that persecute you; that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust.

It does not follow that because you love your enemy you are to put him at your table and make him the bosom friend of your wife and daughter and children, unless he has repented. Nor are you compelled to do so even if he has repented. But to take an impenitent man to your home would be to introduce a snake, a serpent, a whole brood of them into your house. You have to understand the limitations and the wisdom of this.

Love Often Finds Highest Expression in Severity.

It might be a very good way to love your enemy to send him to prison. One of the very best things you can do for some men is to put them where they can do no more harm; where they will have a chance to sober up, get some good sound sense into them, get the devil of liquor out of their heads, and the devil of passion out of their beings.

Give them a chance. Give them an opportunity.

You would be loving some men in the very best way possible by seeing that they were properly punished.

You will love your own children by not sparing the rod. If you neglect proper punishment you make the child a curse. You do not cease to love your child because you punish it. You punish the child because you love the child.

Get some sense about this.

Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy: but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and pray for them that persecute you; that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the Gentiles the same? Ye therefore shall be perfect, as your Heavenly Father is perfect.

May God bless His Word.

Prayer was offered by Overseer Piper and the General Overseer. The announcements were made, and the tithes and offering received.

PURITY.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words shall come, oh Lord, my Strength and my Redeemer.

I desire to direct your minds, for a few minutes, to the eighth verse of the fifth chapter of Matthew:

TEXT.

Blessed are the Pure in heart: for they shall see God.

There are so many things which I would like to say concerning this subject, that it seems to me almost an impertinence to even announce the text, and then say so little; but better to say the little, perhaps, than nothing.

The exposition of the chapter, you notice, was all in the line of bringing out that thought of Divine Purity.

This is one of the most beautiful of the Beatitudes of our Lord.

The Blessing of Knowing God.

I know of no blessing which can possibly come to a man so great as that of knowing God. For us to know ourselves is a very good thing. Do not let anybody think that because we are believers in Divine Healing, we are not students of anatomy; that we are opposed to the study of our own being. I very, very greatly deprecate that thought.

I have always had great help in this mission from my knowledge, pathologically, of humanity. I have always found that all knowledge, whatever its nature, can be harnessed to the chariot of Divine Progress. No knowledge is ever lost.

Nevertheless, in using the word knowledge, I am speaking of the knowledge of that which is good.

There is a great deal of knowledge which is not only evil, but is very hard to get rid of when once you have acquired it.

God Will Cause Those Who Obey Him to Forget Evil.

I have heard grown men with gray hairs on their heads say many a time, "Oh Doctor, if I could only forget! If I could only forget the infernal books I have read, the infernal pictures I have looked at, the infernal theaters I have attended, the infernal sights which I dare not name! If the great God who has forgiven me, would also give me forgetfulness, what a blessing it would be to me!"

I have said to them, "There will come a day when you will forget," and they thought it impossible.

I have had such men come to me afterwards and say, "It is true. It is only with an effort that I can now recall what the past was; for I am so glad to know that not only does God forgive, but God forgets."

God casts our sins into the Sea of Forgetfulness. What a wonderful thought that is, a Divine Forgetfulness!

He remembers no more these transgressions.

It is a wonderful thing! There can be no doubt whatever that until that Divine Forgetfulness comes, and the Holy Spirit has completely altered the whole structure of the being, and until the consequences of damning lusts and passions are removed, that the torments of the memory are the most horrible torments of all.

It was worse than the fires of Gehenna for that rich man to remember his selfish, gluttonous life on earth.

When Abraham said, "Son, remember," it was that awful undying worm of memory which was his chief torment in hell.

The torment of the damned in those disembodied spirits is that they cannot satisfy the damning lusts which ruined their bodies and stained their souls and spirits while they were upon earth. Deprived of all embodiment, but not deprived of the horrible hellish passions, their miseries are intensified by the fact that these passions can find no exercise in the flesh.

Hence it is that the evil spirits who have been condemned to hell, and are now cursing this earth, are willing to enter into any kind of a being that they may be embodied. They will enter a pig, human or otherwise, that they may get into that being and be embodied.

The great cry, therefore, of Divine Wisdom is this central truth, Purity.

In the teaching of Divine Wisdom the Word of God declares that

"The Wisdom That is From Above is First Pure."

All the other beautiful things that follow, "peaceable, gentle, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and of good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy," are only possible when you get Purity.

The first thing, therefore, is Purity. The constant striving of the wise, who are wise unto Salvation, is for Purity of spirit, soul and body; Purity in their surroundings, that they may be made and kept pure.

This cry for Purity comes out of the very depths of our necessity.

How many there are of us in all the world who cry for this Purity, not only for ourselves, but for others.

The Cry for Zion City, With Its Pure Surroundings.

How the cry has come up, "O, General Overseer, hasten Zion City as fast as you can; for my children are going to the Devil in these cities where there are in some districts half a dozen saloons to the block on the average; where there are these infernal druggist shops which sell all these abominable things."

If I were merely to enumerate the horrid wares sold in drug stores, it would fill us with shame. If I were to enumerate them, and the hellish purposes for which they are used, I would cover these people with shame, but I should be staining your mind and memory. The druggists know to what I am referring. They know that their infernal stores are but the storehouses of filthinesses, and things which are the very damning and accursed trappings of hell. They know that I am not bringing any railing accusation.

The cry is coming up: "Oh, can you not help us to get to a place where we can educate our children beyond the reach of these things, where the surroundings will be pure?"

Oh how many thousands and tens of thousands are thanking God for that prospect. We all are thanking God that Zion will be a still greater reality (Amen) in Zion City and elsewhere.

But, beloved friends, we must get Purity in ourselves before we can seek for it in others, and help to create it in others.

It is impossible for us to be used of God in extending Purity, and yet be ourselves unclean. Therefore it is of the utmost necessity that we should understand this great Beatitude:

Blessed are the Pure in heart: for they shall see God.

The pure in heart shall see God in all things that God hath made; not in the things as the Devil has marred them.

We can see God in the pure, sweet, innocent little babes. No thought of lust or damning passion comes with that pure babe. Its very nakedness is purity.

But, oh, to think of that sweet little girl baby becoming the horrid thing which that being so often becomes, the very plaything of devils and of foul panderers of hell. She is become the most horrid menace to humanity. Her beauty now is but the expression of devilish bestiality, until to touch her or come within her reach is a horror, a shame and a defilement.

What a difference there is between the baby as the Devil has marred her, and the baby as God gave her.

The nakedness of innocence begets nothing but compassion and love and purity of thought.

The nakedness of vice, the nakedness of shameful, damning, horrible pollution which would drag you down to hell, is not that the very highest embodiment of the Devil's power?

The Damning Curse of Venus-Worship.

In the days when heathenism was supreme, the highest thought of the filthy heathen mind found its expression in the beautiful form of Aphrodite or Venus.

With her there was no power to bless; there was only the power to curse. Associate of Mars, associate of Adonis, associate of every filthy god, she became the very Goddess of Lust.

In that City of Corinth where her worship was at its height, it was a shame to be called a Corinthian. The epithet, "Thou Corinthian girl," was a synonym for calling a woman bad and false.

Heathenism, therefore, embodied lust.

"Ah," you say, "but that does not apply to this country and this time."

If you say that, you show your crass ignorance. Today—and I charge it upon them, if they shoot me tonight for it—there are men who bow before that Phallic symbol of "the Point within the Circle," which is nothing else than the symbol of damning lust, the foulest form of Baal-worship. I charge it upon the Masons that they are not Christians. They are using the Name of Christ and the cross of Christ outwardly while they deny His Name to be used in their lodges at all.

Their cross is not the cross of Christ, but the cross of Baal.

There are a million of them in America. There are millions more who have the same mark of the beast upon their foreheads all over Europe and the other continents.

The world is full of impurity. It were a shameful task for me to prove that assertion. We know it, who know what the lands are.

A pure man, passing through Paris today, is offended and shocked, if he has a grain of modesty, by the unutterable filthiness of the press which flaunts on every side its filthy, disgusting pictures, the deepest depths of obscenity. He sees this not once or twice, but continually.

So it is throughout Europe in greater or less degree; not always so prominent as in Paris, where the degeneracy is so extreme, but everywhere; whether London, Paris, Berlin, St. Petersburg, Rome or Lisbon, it is the same thing.

Every great city in Europe is cursed by the Trinity of Impurity, Intemperance and Infidelity.

Christianity Owes All its Power to the Purity of Christ.

He was sinless.

He was a Holy Being. Into His physical organism as well as into His psychical and spiritual being there entered nothing of sin. The virginal purity of Mary was never contaminated by the foul lust of humanity. Hence it is that the Child who was born was that Holy Thing. It is His words that I am repeating today—His words that I wish to ring throughout the world:

Blessed are the Pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Beloved, if the Holy Spirit of Purity enters into and takes possession of your thoughts, your aspirations, all your desires, you will not lose the vitality, the virility, and the splendid humanity which God gives to the healthy.

You will lose that accursed passion which makes Love to be transformed into Lust; which "exchanges the truth of God for a lie, and worships and serves the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever."

It is this exchanging of the Truth of God for a Lie which has always been the curse of humanity. Do not let there be any exchange in Zion. "Buy the Truth and sell it not."

The truth, the fundamental truth in Divine Teaching, is that the Wisdom which is from above is first Pure. That which is at the beginning pure, must remain so. Through all the other gifts, Purity must run.

Five Gates for Ingress of Purity or Impurity.

Remember, my brothers and sisters, that there are Five Gates by which purity or impurity may enter—Eye-gate, Ear-gate, Nose-gate, Feel-gate, Taste-gate.

There they are, these Five Gates of the physical senses.

As sure as there is a God in the heavens, unless you guard the Gates, no matter what your age or your experience in the Divine life may have been, unless you guard the Gates, you will find that the enemy will enter.

The Lust of the Eye, the Lust of the Flesh, and the damning Pride of Life will bring to you, my brothers and my sisters, these fleshly lusts and hellish passions. Although they spring from the dust, they curse the spirit with almost boundless misery.

I therefore say to you, Take care. None of us, even the holiest and best, can do other than be watchful.

What Jesus said among His last words is true today: "What I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch."

Watch! Watch!

Set a watch at each of these Gates, and see that there enters by the eye, the ear, the nose, the mouth, the bodily senses of touch, nothing which would defile, nothing that "worketh abomination," or "exchanges the truth of God for a lie."

Your being should be as the very gates of heaven, so that nothing unclean should enter. Therefore watch what you read, watch what you say, watch what you hear, watch what you taste, watch what you smell, watch what you touch.

If you are watchful, vigilant, you will get the blessing: for there will come within the Gate from which the evil powers are kept out, every blessed visitant from Heaven: every blessed power of the Holy Spirit.

Angels are on that ladder between us and heaven, and there will come pure and holy things, whereas before our visitants were unclean and detestable.

The Practical Application.

These words mean that bad books, bad pictures, bad words, bad associations, the touch of bad fingers, the touch of vile hands, be avoided.

The very communication by the touch of some people's fingers is an abomination. I can feel them afar off.

I can smell them.

I can see them.

I can hear them.

I can watch them.

I understand, as every one of you will, when the evil powers are around you in full force.

They will come to you, sometimes, not clad in hideous forms. There is the power of the Devil. As an angel of light, he bids you to observe the beauty of God in what he would call nature. He leads you away, by sensual thought and words and sense and touch, into the very depths of hell.

But if you have a pure spirit, then the controlling power in your every nerve and blood and life will be God's. You will not see the Devil as so many of you do see. You will not feel and know the power of the Devil as so many of you do feel, but you will see God.

You will see God in the darkest night. You will see Him when the darkness is so deep that it may almost be felt—suddenly He will appear. He will hear me when I call, and the Valley of the Shadow of Death will be lit up with His Presence. I shall fear no evil, for the dark, hellish things will go away as the Divine Light shines down upon the path of Eternal Purity.

Oh, to tread that Path of Holy Living; to tread that Path of Holiness with God!

My brothers and my sisters, it is not enough that He shall come and save you; it is not enough that He shall come and heal you; but it will be all you need, if you will let Him lead you into the King's Highway of Holiness. May God take you there.

All who desire that Purity, stand and tell Him so. (Apparently all arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me deliverance from every evil power: impurity of every kind. Give me power to do right, and cleanse me through the blood of Jesus, the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world. By Thy Spirit Thou canst make the vilest clean. Thou cleansed the woman who crept in from the street; Thou cleansed the murderer and thief upon the cross: cleanse Thou me in every part of my being. Give me purity that I may see Thee, O God, for Jesus' sake. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

Did you mean it?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Will you continue to seek Purity until you find?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—May God help you.

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

Six Bound Volumes of Leaves of Healing.

What six books, besides the Bible, could be more precious, more valuable to every member and friend of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, than the first six volumes of LEAVES OF HEALING?

They contain more of the Everlasting Gospel; more testimonies to Salvation, Healing and Cleansing through Faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God; more sound teaching, than any other six books published.

The world may scoff at that, but Zion knows it to be true.

Not only that, but these six Volumes contain, in some measure, the priceless record of God's dealings with Zion in these latter days. In them, as nowhere else, can be found the history of the mighty work which God has established for the extension of His Kingdom and the preparation of the world for the coming of Jesus as King.

In them is contained a large portion of the wonderful Message which God sent to the world by His Messenger.

In fact, when we stop to consider all the glorious things which have gone into the composition of these six Volumes, we find words insufficient and inadequate to express their value.

Those who have been saved, healed, cleansed, made prosperous and happy through the Message brought by one copy of the Little White Dove, perhaps know something of what a mighty storehouse of power these six Volumes are.

These Volumes have been bound, by Zion Publishing House, in strong, handsome black binding, half-morocco, with a graceful design, LEAVES OF HEALING, in gilt upon the front cover.

Each has a carefully prepared index covering all the principal subjects in the book.

They sell at the regular rate of $3.50 per Volume, or the exceedingly low rate of $15 for the six Volumes.

These books should be in every Zion household.

A TRIBUTE OF PRAISE TO GOD FOR ZION

And the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Written by Elder C. F. Viking, After One Year's Absence From Zion Headquarters.

UNITY OF PRAYER AND BROTHERLY ALLOWANCE.—It is just one year since we left beloved Zion Home, in Chicago. It is not our intention to record the events of the year.

Our desire is to inscribe a tribute of praise to God for Zion and the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Our send-off from Headquarters as Messengers of Zion to the Orient one year ago, January 4, 1900, was a royal one. Unworthy of all that was showered upon us, we set our faces to the lands of the Rising Sun and of the Dragon.

During the year that has just past, the General Overseer and the people in Zion have stood by us in the same spirit which filled their hearts at our departure.

We have an organization behind us which is united in every detail of the work for the one aim: the overthrow of the Anarchy of the Devil and the building up of the Kingdom of God.

The strong power of Unity of Prayer and the Brotherly Allowance in meeting our expenses tend to free us of every care and enable us to fight with faces toward the enemy, and an absolute assurance of a loyal people as a guard behind.

The words of the enemy to the contrary do not trouble us. We stand for God and Zion.

ZION HAS CONFIDENCE IN HER OFFICERS.—On the other hand, it has been to us a great comfort that we are trusted by the General Overseer and the Church.

The office of Eldership in Zion is not an easy one. There is no comparison between the ministry in Zion and the ministry of the apostasy. It does not begin to come near. Zion's ministry is of God, and not of the people. Theocracy, authority and love stamp every move of Zion. Praise the Lord!

Cry aloud and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

When the ministry is pure, the Church will be pure.

The apostasy has gone to the Devil because its ministry went first. The few exceptions are exceptions.

The Geshems in the valley who cry against the tithes and offerings in Zion are for the most part cheating God. There is no such spirit in Zion. Any one in Zion who keeps back his tithes is behind in spiritual devotion to God.

When we were baptized, we received power through the Holy Spirit for service—power to give.

Zion City will be a rejoicing in all the earth, and will create possibilities for building other cities for God, some of them, as we hope, in China.

Baptism in Zion is, besides many other things, a giving of one's self and all to God to be used for Him as He requires. If you have not lived up to that, do it now. No matter what the Tobiahs say, and if the Sanballats do threaten, let us still give to God all that is due Him.

BLESSING THROUGH ZION'S TREATMENT OF THE APOSTASY.—The lies of the apostate churches about Zion reflect upon their ministers. They are trying to hinder the work of Zion by lies. But every liar is a coward. One day the coward sends around the Ram's Horn with lies about Zion; another day the coward flees because of rumors of danger. He gets afraid of his own friends, his own self and his own shadow.

When all seeming danger is over, the apostasy takes part in the Vanity Fair. That is where the apostasy is today. Hence the gnashing of teeth at Zion.

It is not for the apostasy to dictate to Zion how to deal with it, but it is for the apostasy to take warning from the Voice which rings out from Zion.

To stand up against century-old bad customs and wrong principles in the apostasy is not a self-made calling. Thousands who have been blessed through Zion testify that the very thing which opened their hearts to be willing to receive teaching and set things right was the Zion treatment of the apostasy.

ZION IN SHANGHAI.—It has been a privilege to us to be the first to bring the standard of Zion to China. There is not much to show as yet, but the little that there is is characteristic.

During the great excitement in Shanghai in July and August last year, Zion here rented and opened a small chapel for Chinese. We also had our first Baptism soon after the opening.

Today the walls are being decorated with "trophies captured from the enemy."

Never before in the history of missions have small shoes been hung up before the people as a protest against footbinding and as a testimony to the freedom Zion brings.

A sorcerer's signboard, captured not many days ago from a Chinese now ex-sorcerer, is a good beginning in the victories against the Pill-Fetish.

We believe that some important preparations for the future work of Zion in China have begun, but the time has not come to publicly speak on this subject. There is much more to do. If we did not have Zion and the possibilities for progress which Zion, under God, creates, we would leave China at once.

THE MESSENGER OF THE COVENANT.—We praise God that we are living at this time.

Every day from now on will be a day of great events. That God's Messenger has appeared is a proof that God has not forgotten His promise and that the Coming of Jesus is near at hand.

Long before we entered Zion, and from the very first of our coming in contact with the teachings of Dr. Dowie, he found a large room in our heart.

As soon as we saw the plain, underlying principles of his Bible teaching, we took his side. As we have seen the truth open to us, on and on we have pressed, until today we rejoice in our blessed relation with God, His Word and His servant.

So much falsehood is written against our beloved General Overseer that if he did not get strength from God, he would be utterly crushed. But when God wanted a man for a certain work, He was able to train one and fit him out with the necessary qualifications.

Our General Overseer, although he appears to be hard as flint, is the most sensitive man the writer has met.

Although he appears to be in a towering rage and a burning passion against God's enemies, yet he is the most merciful of men.

Although he appears to be full of thunder and lightning, yet he is the most loving of us all.

God needed the most sensitive, the most merciful and the most loving of men to prepare for the Second Coming of His Son.

It would be impossible for the Messenger of the Covenan to have faith to carry out the needed revolutions without these qualifications.

Our thoughts here expressed are not hasty. That the age in which we live will not be able to see with us in these observations does not hinder us from making them known.

We praise God for Zion.

We praise God for John Alexander Dowie, who so mightily and fearlessly proclaims Jesus the Christ as the God-given Saviour, Healer, Cleanser and Keeper of God's people now as well as in the beginning of the Christian Era.

We praise God for the Eternal Will of God made plain to us in the teachings of His Messenger.

God bless him, and keep him, and use him to the utmost capacity for the good of all.

CHRIST IS ALL AND IN ALL.

AS A MANSFIELD ATTORNEY SEES IT.

A. A. Douglass, Zion's Attorney in Mansfield, Ohio, Not a Member of Zion, Gives His Impressions of Zion, the General Overseer and Mansfield Troubles.

ATTORNEY A. A. DOUGLASS, a resident of Mansfield, Ohio, who has ably represented Zion, legally, in that city, attended the great welcome meeting to the General Overseer, on Lord's Day, January 20, 1901.

Upon his return home, he gave an interview to the Mansfield Shield, in which he very forcibly expressed his opinion concerning Zion, the General Overseer, and the Mansfield outrages of last summer and autumn.

While the Editor cannot endorse everything which the attorney said, he feels that this statement, coming from a lawyer of experience and ability, thoroughly conversant with the premises, but not a member of the Church, will be interesting to the readers of LEAVES OF HEALING.

"Well, what about Dowie matters?" said a Shield man to Attorney A. A. Douglass.

"Oh, Dr. Dowie is all right," was the reply.

"You were up to Chicago last Sunday week?" queried the reporter.

"Yes, I was up, and I took my wife and babies along, too."

"I suppose you had a fine time?"

"You can wager a week's wages we did not have a bad time."

"Well, tell us what you saw and heard of Dowie, won't you?"

"Why, of course I will. I saw Dr. Dowie; I heard him preach in his Central Tabernacle in the morning to about 3500 people and at 3 o'clock I heard him preach to more than 10,000 people in what is known as the Coliseum Building. This was the most wonderful religious gathering I ever saw in my life. It was truly a wonderful sight.

"I sat in amazement as I looked upon that vast throng of humanity. There sat 10,000 people quietly listening to what any fair man could not help but admit was a most eloquent sermon, strange, peculiar and in many parts quite sublime; while on the outside of this immense structure nearly as many as had gained admission were struggling to get in.

"Think of it!

"Dr. Dowie on last Sabbath one week ago preached to nearly as many people, who actually heard him and wanted to hear him, as reside in the City of Mansfield. I could not help asking myself, 'Is this all a myth? Is he a righteous man? When he says that God will actually hear and answer prayer (for this is his theme), does he really believe it, or is he simply deceiving the hosts that gather around and believe in him?'

"There, upon the platform with him, sat Rev. William Hamner Piper, Rev. Speicher and at least 100 Elders, all men of high ability, most of them men of letters, college graduates; is he fooling all these people, are they all deceivers?

"After seeing what I did and hearing from many lips many things concerning him, I came to the conclusion there was much of good in Zion, more than I ever before believed. He is indeed a remarkable man. He is simply a wonder.

"When he started in Chicago he was laughed at by Chicago—now he laughs at Chicago. He accomplishes what he proposes. He said he would build a Tabernacle and preach to more people than any other minister in Chicago—this he said but a few years ago—this he has not only done, but instead of building one Tabernacle he has built seven. The Central Tabernacle is a much more imposing structure than our Congregational Church.

"He said he would go to Europe; people said he would not go. He went. When he went, they said he would not come back. He came back. When he started to come back, they said he would not be allowed to land. He landed. They said his lacemakers would never come. They came. They said they would not be allowed to land. They landed. What has he said he would do that he has not done?

"People here have no idea of the extent of Zion in Chicago. Their home is larger than three Vonhof hotels. Their printing establishment is larger than any such place in our city. They have their own schools, senior and junior, also a college. They now hold meetings in 242 places in the city. They have their own bank, well equipped; besides they own 6500 acres of land, forty-two miles from Chicago, upon the lake front and upon which they will build 'The Coming City.' I notice some one says this City is being built slowly; this no doubt is true; they do not propose to build it in a day—it will take years, but it will be built."

"So you really think John Alexander Dowie is a great man?" said the reporter.

"Well, I say he is a wonder. He carries his brains in his head. He strikes hard. He is a great fighter. He hates vice and he dares to preach against it. He tells his followers they must pay their debts, they must not smoke, chew, or drink, nor belong to Secret Societies. In burning language he preaches against these habits. He bitterly denounces Christian ministers, who, as he says, have not the courage to denounce these customs."

"But how about his faith cures?" asked the scribe.

"Well, I never saw any, but have heard the testimony of many who claim they have. In fact, I was taught to believe that God would answer prayer. Of course, this may be a mistake, and, while I am going to stick to the old orthodox belief, yet when any of my babies are sick you will see me going after Drs. Stewart or McArthur or some other good doctor; but Dr. Dowie would tell me I would not do this if I had the proper faith.

"Oh, I tell you they have given me some very good advice. If I had taken the advice of my good friend, Overseer Piper, or Deacon Kessler, I would be a better man than I am and might rely a little more on prayer in case of distress than I do."

"But, now, really, do you think that these Elders are sincere in their work?"

"I know they are. I am well acquainted with Overseers Piper and Speicher. I have met Elders McClurkin, Moot, Basinger, McFarlane, Stevens, Williams, Dinius, Matthews, Bouck and Fockler; also my good friends, Deacons Kessler and Lee, and Evangelists Loblaw and Fisher. Nearly every one of these men has advised with me; I have heard their plain, simple story; I have faith in their sincerity; I only wish I was as good as many of these men."

"But how about Fockler?"

"Well, you know I have always said that if Elder Fockler said what some people say they heard he said, he should be punished; but I say he never made use of this language—it is simply an old-fashioned lie. He has too much sense to use such language.

"Oh, just wait; when his trial comes we will see who, under oath, says he heard these cruel words. I predict the coward who proclaims he heard Fockler slander our good working girls will skulk or be shown to be a revengeful sneak. I am dead on to a few people whom Rev. Piper turned down who were ambitious to be deacons, but on account of their wickedness were not accepted."

"Well, how do you account for the feeling against Dowieism all over the country?"

"That is easy of explanation.

"First, Dr. Dowie antagonizes the newspapers when he thinks they are wrong. This is always dangerous. We have no idea of the power of the press. A lie published is gulped down by the public and relished as a glass of beer by a red-hot Democrat on a red-hot day.

"Second, he antagonizes Secret Societies. This is also dangerous, as many people are very touchy in this line; for my part, I care little what any one says about any Secret Society to which I belong, as I am much inclined to think that, just as with churches, a little scoring does them good; but all people don't think so. Besides, there are a good many people who, when they become members of a Secret Society, 'swell up' and thank 'the stars' that they were not 'blackballed,' and with great gusto and many winks and nods give the world to understand that they do actually belong to the Masons, Odd Fellows, K. of P.'s or some other good organization, and if needs be would stand upon their heads or sacrifice a few right arms to protect the lodge of their choice, which don't need protection and will live and continue to live when its enemies are dead, provided it be a society of merit.

"Third, he antagonizes alleged Christian ministers who play to the galleries and who are too big cowards to tell their parishioners that each and all of them who swear, drink, dance and gamble are hypocrites. This is very dangerous when we consider how many good Lutherans, Methodists, Presbyterians, etc., would have fits if given a real Dowie lecture on tight lacing and certain matrimonial irregularities, including a few incidental remarks upon sobriety, genteel gambling and certain other matters too tedious to mention.

"Fourth, because of the continued misrepresentation of his principles and teachings. People generally think that when a person joins this Church that they forget Christ and put their faith in Dr. Dowie. This is most foolish. Dr. Dowie claims nothing for himself as a man. All power, he says, comes from above.

"His enemies say he is a great money gatherer. I think that is true, yet I have not heard of many other ministers taking to the woods when money was offered them. He is a good business man. He says he mixes his religion with his business and declares it makes great seasoning. Because, however, he has been successful beyond ordinary expectation, both religiously and financially, people not exceedingly religious and with small ability to accumulate wealth find in his methods a very fertile field for criticism.

"I know some people say that an occasional follower of the Dowie faith goes crazy; this is awful. I never heard of any good Baptist or Congregationalist going crazy over religion, did you? Yet the enemies of Zion make much out of these few instances.

"But, then, we must remember that Dowieism is not opposed everywhere as in Mansfield. The why for this is plain. Just think of the abominable lies that have been told on them here. I know more about the Elder Fockler lies than any other man in this city. I have been in the fight from the start, and if God gives me health and strength will be in it to the finish. I mean, of course, the legal battle. I say Fockler has been lied about beyond measure.

"Zion has been lied about fearfully. Some people say that it has been published that its people here have been urged to sell and mortgage their property and send the proceeds to Zion. This is a notorious falsehood, and I defy any one to produce such a letter.

"It has been shown by the public prints that occasionally a husband and wife quarreled on account of one believing and the other disbelieving in Zion. Ain't this awful? Did you ever hear of a Presbyterian husband and a Baptist wife having a knock-down argument upon which was the better way to baptize? It actually happens sometimes, husband and wife differ upon the subject of religion, and it ain't all in Zion, either. But it's awful, just simply fearful. if a Zion wife differs from her Presbyterian husband.

"But the real reason for the enmity against Zion in Mansfield was the conduct of Mayor Brown and a part of his police force in the very beginning of these troubles. The first mob that was organized was a semi-official mob, and I can prove it. These ruffians of the mob in the beginning were given to understand that they could do what they did do, and I can prove this statement. Let those in authority make oath to the contrary if they dare. The time may come, in a court of justice, where certain officials may get a chance to deny this under oath, and I assure you I have the courage to ask the proper questions and back my assertions with proof."

"Do you think the trouble is ended in Mansfield?" asked the reporter.

"I certainly do. Because the people, the good citizens, will stand it no longer. Do you think that our decent people will longer allow a drunken mob of loafers to go into and search people's houses without authority of law?

"Think of the idea of a few villains going into respectable homes where there are lone women with three-months-old babies in their arms and frightening them nearly to death!

"Think of nearly two score of homes searched by drunken reprobates here in our city! Why, I should be afraid to allow some of these fellows to search my barn for vermin lest they might steal my harness.

"Think of a thing in human form leading a naked, bleeding, painted Elder through the streets of our beloved city, compelling him most sacrilegiously to get upon his knees before a howling mob and pray, and then with the fist of a baboon slap the bleeding Elder and say, 'Damn you, shut your eyes; you can't pray with one open.'

"Will we endure this longer? Oh, no, this unholy outrage has killed itself. It, however, is a lasting disgrace to the City of Mansfield, and one which should bring shame to every person who encouraged it, be he high or low, black or white."

"You really think Fockler will be tried?"

"Most certainly; I am ready on three days' notice."

"Will Piper and the others indicted be tried?"

"Most certainly; we are ready. Rev. Piper and Dr. Dowie are indicted for libeling Mayor Huntington Brown in LEAVES OF HEALING. Some mighty plain things were told, I admit.

"Many people thought this wrong, but it is a curious fact that the very people who find so much fault with the caricatures of our Mayor Brown in LEAVES OF HEALING, laugh till the slobber runs out of their mouths about certain 'pictures' that appear in the News in which the Dowie attorney is seated astride a mule or jackass, with a few Dowie Elders following. When the mayor is libelled, this is awful—but when the attorney for the Dowieites is libelled, this is funny. Oh, it's so funny!

"But is this libel? We shall see what we shall see. It makes much difference, however, whose ox is 'hooked,' or words to that effect.

"In the meantime we will remain where we are and continue to act as the attorney for the Dowieites at Mansfield, Ohio, until John Alexander Dowie says he needs our services no longer; and no other power or influence could swerve us one iota from our determination; we ain't in the habit of asking any one whom we will defend, and this will not be an exception. We have enlisted during the war, we are here to stay, and we won't leave town, either. The only time we will is when we go to the cemetery, and then we will kick if we can. Good night."

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

CONDUCTED BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, FEBRUARY 27th or 28th.

Who Get Answers to Prayer?

1. He answers the prayer of the oppressed.—Exodus 3:7-10.
   Who are ground down by business relations;
   Who are oppressed by social customs;
   Who suffer from civil legislation.
2. He answers the prayer of the captives.—Psalm 79:8-13.
   Imprisoned for obeying God;
   Because they have broken laws contrary to God's Word;
   Or, who are bound out of spite in the heart of enemies.
3. He answers the prayers of the troubled.—Psalm 81:1-7.
   The trouble may be a mental one;
   It may be caused by some other person;
   It may also be a spiritual conflict.
4. He answers the prayer of the needy.—Psalm 113:1-9.
   Giving to one friends for the heart;
   Perhaps bread for the table;
   Even clothing for the body.
5. He answers the prayer of the afflicted.—Psalm 116:1-14.
   Who because of folly suffer;
   Who because of mistakes suffer;
   Who because of failure suffer.
6. He answers the prayer of the sick.—2 Chronicles 32:24-26.
   Prostrated by some acute disease;
   Suffering some sore malady;
   Troubled by some chronic complaint.
7. He answers the prayer of the ignorant.—1 Kings 3:5-15.
   Who may be under great responsibilities;
   Who may be facing new duties;
   Who may be pressed by growing needs.
8. He answers the prayer of His servants.—Daniel 10:10-21.
   When He tries their hearts;
   When He tests their purpose;
   When some enemy seeks their overthrow.
9. He answers the prayer of the righteous.—Psalm 34:11-22.
   For they obey His voice;
   For they live to His glory;
   For they keep close to His side.
10. He answers the prayer of the sinful.—Luke 18:9-14.
    Who repent of their sins;
    Who forsake their evil ways;
    Who plead for mercy.

The Lord Our God is a Prayer-Answering God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, MARCH 3d.

What Kind of Prayer Avails?

1. Necessitous prayer.—Matthew 6:5-8.
   We will never cease to have needs.
   We are to pray without ceasing.
   God is the Supplier of every need.
2. Exampled prayer.—Luke 11:1-4.
   The child has a cry for daily needs.
   The heir has a hope for an inheritance.
   The worshiper has a song of daily deliverance.
3. Specific prayer.—Luke 11:9-13.
   Ask for a definite thing.
   Ask for the best thing first.
   Ask also for perishing comforts.
4. Incessant prayer.—1 Timothy 2:1-8.
   There is enough to pray for.
   All men are to be subjects of prayer.
   Mingle among them, observe their needs, and then pray.
5. Emergency prayer.—Ezra 8:21-23.
   When a crisis comes, call on God.
   When an emergency arises, pray.
   When all escape is cut off, cry to God.
6. Importunate prayer.—Luke 18:1-8.
   Cling to God until you get an answer.
   Carry the verdict away with you each time.
   Some say Pray, and leave results with God. No, get results.
7. Intercessory prayer.—Luke 11:5-8.
   Cry to God for the needs of others.
   You get things from God for yourself; how about others?
   Do you want to save others? Pray for them.

"ARISE AND THRESH, O DAUGHTER OF ZION:"

"I WILL MAKE thine Horn Iron,
I will make thy Hoofs brass."

ONCE MORE we have been called to defend Zion against a severe attack; this time from the Illinois House of Representatives.

OUR READERS will remember that in our last issue we dealt with the alleged attacks of Zion women upon Druggists' shops.

In this issue we give the detailed proofs that no such attacks ever occurred.

The whole country rang with the false statements, originated by a conspiracy of Druggists and Reporters.

Immediately after our discourse of last Lord's Day week, reported in this issue on pages 557 to 560, the whole matter dropped out of public sight. No further reference has been made to it by the press They have made no apologies for their villainy in having manufactured the whole thing.

WE ARRAIGNED the chief offender, Victor F. Lawson, Editor and Proprietor of the Chicago Record and Daily News, at the close of our discourse, and branded him as a Scoundrel, a Liar, and a Thief of the worst kind.

He has not attempted to seek a remedy from the courts of law for our characterization of him. He knows full well that he has hundreds of times justified these very severe appellations.

At the close of last week, however, on the evening of Saturday, February 16th, there appeared in one of his two papers, a copy of the Resolutions appointing a committee to investigate Zion City Bank, etc., which we have given in full on page 566.

TO THE SURPRISE of the whole city, on Monday last the House of Representatives at Springfield, Illinois, passed the Resolutions and appointed a Committee.

NOT A single newspaper in Chicago, even amongst our bitterest enemies, has justified the action of the House in their leading columns. On the contrary, leading articles have appeared in the Chicago Tribune, Chronicle, and Times-Herald, declaring in effect that the action of the House was grossly illegal, and that we were justified in defying the Committee.

THE SPLENDID rally of Zion to our support in sympathy and prayer, and in practical help has excited deep gratitude in our heart, and made a profound impression in the community.

THE FOLLOWING letter from the General Financial Manager of all Zion Institutions, who is also the Manager of Zion City Bank, will explain itself.

It was handed to us on Tuesday afternoon last, just as we were about to speak in Central Zion Tabernacle at 3 o'clock.

We read it, amidst hearty applause, to an audience of about one thousand people:

ZION CITY BANK, February 19, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE,
General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear General Overeeer:—Since you made the announcement in Central Zion Tabernacle, Sunday, February 17th, that you would fight every attempt made by the Illinois Legislature to examine the books of Zion City Bank, we have received increased deposits, amounting to many thousands of dollars, and the following amounts for investments in our various Industries, viz:

Zion Lace Industries Stock	$12,400
Zion Land and Investment Association Stock	8,300
Zion City Bank Stock	10,000
Total	$30,700

Not one account has been withdrawn from the Bank, but many have been added.

Just previous to writing this letter, a gentleman, who is a member of the Second Baptist Church of this City, purchased ten shares of Zion Lace Industries Stock; making his total investments during the last ten days $3,000. And he says: "I shall have thousands of dollars more to invest in Zion's Securities."

Zion was never stronger financially than she is today.

Faithfully and obediently yours in Christ,

CHAS. J. BARNARD,
General Financial Manager.

NOT ONE single depositor withdrew a dollar from the Bank, nor can we find a single dissatisfied investor.

The effect of the attack has been to consolidate Zion and strengthen her more and more.

THE EFFECT in the outside world has been very marked in winning for us sympathy in our defiance of the malicious action of the lower Branch of the Legislature. The fact that the investigation has been ordered without a single complaint ever having been made by our depositors or investors, and that, on the contrary, all our clients have taken every possible opportunity of increasing their deposits and investments, shows the animus of the attack.

It has been quite apparent that the blow was aimed at us not for the purpose of protecting "poor depositors," but for the purpose of endangering and destroying Zion.

SO FAR as we can see, this is a three-cornered attack, urged on by the representatives of the Press, the Druggists and the Jesuits.

There are many reasons which cause us to believe that these are the leaders in this new movement.

But the author of the resolutions is a young lawyer, who is a graduate of the Jesuit College of St. Ignatius in this city, and behind him, doubtless, are the wily machinations of the Black Pope, the General of the Jesuit Society. He aspires not only to rule the three-quarters of a million of Roman Catholics in Chicago; but, by terrors of various kinds, he aspires to rule Chicago altogether.

MR. CHARLES CHAMPE'S splendid Cartoon on page 564 well describes the situation, and will doubtless create much interest.

AS THE week comes to a close, it is evident that the Resolutions adopted by the House of Representatives have already become unworkable. They have been taken twice into the repair-shop. From the evening papers of Friday, the 22d, it is evident that they are to be repaired a third time next week.

No attempt to put them in force has been made.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL HAMLIN has, according to the Chicago Chronicle, stated publicly that he does not know of any law which could authorize this investigation. Several members of the Senate of the State of Illinois, who are reputed to be good lawyers, have expressed the same opinion.

Our defiance of this illegal and malicious procedure has, therefore, been justified by God, by our people, and even by our enemies. Like all of the other attacks on Zion, it is evident that this is doomed to utter failure

---

OUR READERS will see that these continuous attacks, with all the heavy work and responsibilities which have come upon us, impose very great labor. But God gives us joy and strength, and splendid health for the fight.

ZION'S ABLE and greatly-loved attorney, Samuel W. Packard, has been kept very busy in preparing for any move on the part of the enemy. We are now quite prepared to deal with any subpœna that the committee may issue at any time.

It is worthy of note that Hon. George R. Lyon, Representative in the State Legislature from Waukegan, Illinois, was one of those who strongly opposed the passage of these illegal resolutions.

Zion's attorney has addressed to Mr. Lyon the following letter, which sets forth the law in the case in an interesting manner, and with Attorney Packard's usual convincing clearness:

LAW OFFICES OF SAMUEL W. PACKARD.
Suite 1603 Ashland Block.

CHICAGO, February 21, 1901.

HON. GEORGE R. LYON,
Member of Illinois House of Representatives,
Waukegan, Illinois.

Dear Sir:—I am glad to notice the stand you have taken in reference to the dangerous and unwarranted precedent which the House is attempting to make in appointing an inquisitorial committee to pry into the private affairs of the Rev. John Alex. Dowie, who is running a private bank and other business enterprises.

In Kilbourn v. Thompson, 103 U. S. Reports, page 168, the highest court in the land held that Congress did not have jurisdiction to compel the giving of evidence in only those cases in which it exercises judicial functions, as for example where it inquires into the qualifications of its members and in impeachment proceedings, etc.; that it possesses no power of making inquiry into the private affairs of a citizen. And Congress was compelled to appropriate $20,000 to pay the judgment for damages which the witness Kilbourn obtained for this foolish and fruitless effort by Congress to compel him to testify. See 32 Fed. Rep. p. 253, where Mr. Justice Field of the United States Supreme Court says, in speaking of that case:

"This case will stand for all time as a bulwark against the invasion of the right of the citizen to protection in his private affairs against the unlimited scrutiny of investigation by a Congressional Committee."

He also says in the same case, p. 250-1:

"There is no doubt that Congress may authorize a commission to obtain information upon any subject which in its judgment it may be important to possess. It may inquire into the extent of the productions of the country of every kind, natural and artificial, and seek information as to the habits, business and even amusements of the people. But in its inquiries it is controlled by the same guards against the invasion of private rights which limit the investigations of private parties into similar matters. In the pursuit of knowledge it cannot compel the production of the private books and papers of the citizen for its inspection, except in the progress of judicial proceedings, or in suits instituted for that purpose, and in both cases only upon averments that its rights are in some way dependent for enforcement upon the evidence those books and papers contain.

"Of all the rights of the citizen, few are of greater importance or more essential to his peace and happiness than the right of personal security, and that involves, not merely protection of his person from assault, but exemption of his private affairs, books and papers from the inspection and scrutiny of others. Without the enjoyment of this right, all other rights would lose half their value. . . .

"It is a forcible intrusion into, and compulsory exposure of, one's private affairs and papers, without judicial process, or in the course of judicial proceedings, which is contrary to the principles of a free government, and is abhorent to the instincts of Englishmen and Americans."

I notice that Attorney General Hamlin and Senator Riley, both of whom are good lawyers, pronounce this inquisitorial investigation without legal authority.

I call your attention to the editorials in the Chicago Chronicle and Tribune of February 21st, and a very sensible letter from Hiram B. Prentice, published in the Chicago Times-Herald of the same date on the editorial page. I think Mr. Prentice fairly voices the sentiment of the intelligent business men of the State, when he says:

"If an investigation is necessary, let it be done in the legal way, through the courts. Every private banker, stock broker, grain dealer and merchant in Illinois is interested in the precedent which this procedure will establish."

I trust the sober second thought of the House will induce them to reconsider their action and thus prevent the establishing of a bad precedent, which may be hereafter used against some other citizen, who is less able to protect his constitutional rights than my client, the Rev. John Alex. Dowie.

Your very truly. SAMUEL W. PACKARD.

ATTEMPTS have been made in the press to make it appear that we intend to resist the Committee by the help of Guards armed with slug-shot and shot-guns, all of which is utterly false. We have no such intentions. Zion Guards are entirely unarmed.

They simply exist for protection, especially in connection with the great crowds who gather at our services and on our gala occasions, such as that at the Coliseum, in Zion City, and elsewhere.

The Guards are often very useful in maintaining a clear passage for us through the crowds which sometimes gather on the outside of many of our Zion Tabernacles, when we are announced to preach.

But for their assistance we could scarcely get into the buildings, which are often filled to overflowing long before the time of beginning the service.

They are most peaceable and godly Christian men, but have been misrepresented for weeks past in the Chicago papers as if they were bloodthirsty hoodlums.

GOOD NEWS continues to come from Zion in all parts of the world.

We regret that the very lengthy reports of the services of the last two Lord's Days shut out from our columns a great deal of valuable and interesting matter which we have in type, ready to appear.

We intend, hereafter, to publish the reports of our Lord's Day discourses on the following Saturday.

WE ARE grateful that LEAVES OF HEALING continues to increase its subscription list.

On a recent occasion two thousand copies were sold at Zion Tabernacles in the city in a few hours, and the demand for the paper is constantly increasing.

DURING THE week since last Lord's Day we have had very large Gatherings in Central Zion Tabernacle at our Tuesday and Friday afternoon meetings, the latter being the Fifth Anniversary of the Organization of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

ZION IS full of enthusiastic determination to Go Forward and to Go Upward "to Zion and unto the Lord our God."

BRETHREN PRAY FOR US.

GOD'S WAY OF HEALING.

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

God's Way of Healing is a Person, not a Thing.

Jesus said, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life," and He has ever been revealed to His people in all the ages by the Covenant Name, Jehovah-rophi, or "I am the Lord that Healeth thee." (John 14:6; Exodus 15:26.)

The Lord Jesus Christ is Still the Healer.

He cannot change, for "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever"; and He is still with us, for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." (Hebrews 13:8; Matthew 28:20.) Because He is Unchangeable, and because He is present, in spirit, just as when in the flesh, He is the Healer of His people.

Divine Healing Rests on Christ's Atonement.

It was prophesied of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed"; and it is expressly declared that this was fulfilled in His ministry of Healing, which still continues. (Isaiah 53:4, 5; Matthew 8:17.)

Disease Can Never be God's Will.

It is the Devil's work, consequent upon Sin, and it is impossible for the work of the Devil ever to be the Will of God. Christ came to "destroy the works of the Devil," and when He was here on earth He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness," and all these diseases are expressly declared to have been "oppressed of the Devil." (1 John 3:8; Matthew 4:23; Acts 10:38.)

The Gifts of Healing are Permanent.

It is expressly declared that the "Gifts and the calling of God are without repentance," and the Gifts of Healing are amongst the Nine Gifts of the Spirit to the Church. (Romans 11:29; 1 Cor. 12:8-11.)

There are Four Modes of Divine Healing.

The first is the direct prayer of faith; the second, intercessory prayer of two or more; the third, the anointing by the elders with the prayer of faith; and the fourth, the laying on of hands of those who believe, and whom God has prepared and called to that ministry. (Matthew 8:5-13; Matthew 18:19; James 5:14, 15; Mark 16:18.)

Divine Healing is Opposed by Diabolical Counterfeits.

Amongst these are Christian Science (falsely so-called), Mind Healing, Spiritualism, Trance Evangelism, etc. (1 Timothy 6:20, 21; 1 Timothy 4:1, 2; Isaiah 51:22, 23.)

Multitudes Have Been Healed Through Faith in Jesus.

The writer knows of thousands of cases and has personally laid hands on scores of thousands of persons. Full information can be obtained at the meetings held in Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and in many pamphlets which give the experience, in their own words, of many who have been healed in this and other countries, published at Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

"Belief Cometh of Hearing, and Hearing by the Word of God."

You are heartily invited to attend and hear for yourself.

FOR THE Word of God is living and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart.—Hebrews 4:12.

The General Overseer's Visit to Grimsby, England.

The following extracts are from a letter written by a gentleman in Grimsby. He says:

We had a grand meeting at Boardman Hall on Saturday night.

It was crowded.

Strangers were admitted by ticket.

The only difficulty was to keep people out.

On the next day the Town Hall was nearly full in the morning, and full in the afternoon, and crowded at night.

We had a lively time and good order. The enemy was kept at bay. The Devil was nearly dumb all Sunday.

The General Overseer's address has been a blessing to many.

All were delighted to have the pleasure of seeing and hearing him.

The old Devil has been stirred up.

The members and parsons of many churches are saying some very wicked things.

The denunciation of sprinkling, single immersion, tobacco and pig is causing a great many to squeal.

The General Overseer worked hard. It is surprising how much he can do.

At the close of the evening service hundreds arose to their feet at the invitation to repeat the Prayer of Consecration.

On Monday evening he conducted a baptismal service in the Stanley Street Baptist Mission Church.

The address was very interesting and profitable.

It cut like a two-edged sword some of those present who have not obeyed the Lord's command.

Forty-four persons were baptized.

We give extracts from a letter concerning

The Visit of the General Overseer to Londonderry, Ireland.

The writer says:

For days before the General Overseer arrived, the chief topic of conversation was Dr. Dowie and his teaching.

The General Overseer was to arrive by midday train from Ballymena.

Head Constable Gallagher had arranged to have an escort of police at the station to prevent anticipated disturbances; but the General Overseer stole a march on the Derry people. He arrived by the first train, about 10:20 A. M.

We walked down together to the hotel, where I had the privilege of nearly two hours' conversation with him. I was deeply impressed with his conversation, his clear business insight, and his own personality.

His first remark in the hotel was, "You are interested or in sympathy with us?"

I said, "Yes, I can go the whole way with you in Divine Healing. I can see that to be God's plan; but there are some things I cannot agree with."

He said, "For instance, what?"

I replied, "Regarding Triune Immersion and the final restoration of all."

He very patiently entered into an exposition of both points, giving me more teaching than I had ever before received on these topics.

But prejudice dies hard. Although I got many new thoughts, it was not until I looked up Liddell and Scott's Greek Lexicon that I saw Triune Immersion as being the Scriptural mode.

I see that clearly now.

I hope some time to have the privilege of being immersed into the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.

At 3:30 P. M., we went to the Guildhall to attend the first meeting. There were between 300 and 400 present.

The General Overseer spoke very plainly.

Quite a number were disappointed because they could find no fault with what he said.

The evening meeting was packed to overflowing.

The General Overseer delivered a telling address on Good and Evil.

Some of the Magee students tried to raise a disturbance. This was quickly quelled and all was quiet.

The next afternoon a few of the ultra-denominationalists left the meeting when the General Overseer said, "If Jesus Christ should come to Derry today and proclaim Himself as the Christ, He would not get a pulpit from which to preach."

However, the meeting went well, and a good impression seemed to have been made.

In the evening the hall was packed to overflowing.

It was really the first meeting of the series.

The General Overseer delivered his address on Spirit, Soul and Body.

It opened up a new line of thought for most people; but they could take no exception to the teaching.

The English press had told so many lies, which were in turn copied into the Irish papers, and were believed by those who knew nothing about Zion teaching, that the people in Derry were bitterly disappointed because they could find no fault with the address.

At the close of the meeting the General Overseer asked all who wanted to be freed from sin and to serve God, to stand and pray.

Almost the entire audience arose.

Thank God, Winnie Thompson had her neck healed in answer to the General Overseer's prayer.

This is a marvel to many who were watching the case.

I tell you nothing but a firm reliance in God could have enabled Mr. and Mrs. Thompson to stand all the opposition and persecution which they endured over that child. But, praise God, they withstood it and trusted Him who never fails.

Winnie is now a living Witness for Jesus the Healer.

A correspondent in Pietermaritzburg, Natal, South Africa, writes:

We have again to thank Zion Literature Mission for the joy of bringing the Water of Life to the people through LEAVES OF HEALING.

We lend the books for a week. At the end of that time we call with a fresh one, where it is desired.

None of the books are wasted, and we know who desire to know God's truth.

We are thankful to see a beautiful harvest before us even now.

As we returned this evening from a very encouraging round of visits, we felt the need of many more laborers in the harvest.

Among those we visited were a number of intelligent colored people, who received Zion's Message gladly. It is a joy to us to meet those who love LEAVES OF HEALING and are anxious to receive a fresh copy.

They are also being read among the soldiers.

Mr. Cox came down this evening for some more.

Our dear John Taylor also writes to send LEAVES to some addresses. He says: "I am endeavoring to find a man in every regiment of the service who will distribute Zion Literature in his regiment."

All who love the truth must love Zion Literature. Pray for us, that God may call more laborers into the Field, for there is so much ground to go over.

The following notice is printed on a slip of gummed paper ready to be fastened on the Literature:

"This book will be lent for one week, and will then be called for, and, if desired, another will be left in its place."

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME.

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, January 26, 1901, was conducted by Overseer Speicher.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be sixteen in number, as follows:

California, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Canada, China, England, Germany, Ireland, Japan and Scotland.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

DEACONESS ROBBINS, Zion Home, said: "I rejoice in the wonderful work that is being done in Zion Cottage Meetings. I thank God for the blessings these meetings have brought to the people in Pontiac, Illinois. Last evening I attended a Cottage Meeting in this city where the wife had been converted through having these meetings in the home.

"I rejoice for the prayers which are offered in the different departments in Zion. The Bank opens with prayer. The College opens with prayer. The Printing Works open with prayer, and the Publishing House, Deaconess Hill's department and other departments. The thought comes to me that Zion surely will stand because it is founded on prayer."

MISS LOUISE RODENBERG, Newport, Kentucky, said: "I thank God for His goodness to me and for bringing me into Zion. I thank Him for healing power. It was so difficult for me to walk, but since coming to Zion I can walk any distance. I have not been sick for two years. I thank God for this and for spiritual help."

MRS. ELIZABETH KRUSE, San Jose, Illinois, praised God for blessings received by herself and others.

MRS. A. R. KETTELL, New Britain, Connecticut, said: "I am thankful that God has kept me so many years. I first heard of Zion through LEAVES OF HEALING, sent to me by a dear sister. I had been very bitter against Zion, for which I ask all the people of Zion's forgiveness. I was a member of the Methodist Church for many years, but I had never been converted. I thank God tonight that I can say that I am converted. I can see the truth in Christ Jesus."

AUGUST ERHARDT, Zion Home, said: "I thank God that He has healed me of a sore toe, caused by an ingrowing toenail. At first when I requested prayer, there was no answer. There was a little thing I had to make right. After I had fully repented of that, my toe was no longer sore. It is all right now. God healed it. I thank God for spiritual blessing I have received in Zion. I never was so happy in my life as now."

MRS. ELLA HALBERT, Sturgis, Michigan, said: "I thank God that I am in Zion and for the privilege of being here for the past two weeks. I thank God that the joy of the Lord is my strength."

MRS. A. F. LEE, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for His keeping power. It is over two years since I have taken a drop of medicine. I have once been instantly healed of the grip and once instantly healed of another trouble. I thank God that neither my husband nor myself have been sick this winter, not even with a cold. We have been wonderfully blessed."

MRS. DAVIS J. SMITH, Raleigh, North Carolina, said: "You will be glad to know of the interest the dark-skinned people are taking in LEAVES OF HEALING. They need this truth. They are very much in want. These people are praying constantly. I overheard one woman give her testimony. It was a wonderful testimony. I hope you will remember these dark-skinned people in your prayers. I thank God that I have been healed of nervous prostration."

A. G. HUGH, Dixon, Illinois, said: "I thank the Lord for Salvation. I have received much blessing since I have been in Zion. I have been healed of grip this last week. Before I came here I suffered with sick headaches, but I have had only one in several weeks."

MISS L. MAE SHOCKEY, 41 East Sixteenth Street, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I feel that God has given me strength, for which I am very thankful. This is the first testimony I have ever given in Zion, and I am glad to give it."

SAMUEL SCHWEITZER, Cavalier, North Dakota, said: "I am thankful to God that I have read LEAVES OF HEALING and for the person who first handed the paper to me. I belonged to the Methodist Church, but I saw that it was not the right teaching. I am glad that I have come to Zion."

GEORGE MARTINEAU, Zion Home, said: "I thank God for the many blessings I have received in Zion. I thank God for His keeping power. I have not been sick for a day since coming into Zion. I have had some colds, but God has always delivered me."

MRS. J. W. BARR, Logansport, Indiana, said: "When I first came to Zion Home, about the 16th of October, I was so sick that I thought I would die. I had hardening of the liver, and lung trouble. I was taken to the best doctors in Logansport, who said that I could not get well. I believe that if I had not come to Zion, I would have been in my grave. I thank God for His great goodness to me."

J. W. BARR, Logansport, Indiana, said: "I thank God for the many blessings I have received since coming into Zion and for the many precious meetings I have been able to attend while here. I thank God for His wonderful healing power, especially for my wife's wonderful healing. I desire to add a few words to what she has said. She was sick about two years and ten months. She was taken with inflammation of the liver. We have had three different doctors and she has taken a great deal of patent medicine."

MRS. MARY MUNGER, 1514 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, said: "I have much to thank God for. It is six years since I first heard of Zion. I was taken to the Little Wooden Hut, Zion Tabernacle No. 1, in a carriage. God wonderfully healed me."

MRS. MARY SLAWSON, Vincennes, Indiana, said: "I had something like a cancer on my face, for five or six years. Dr. Dowie prayed for me and it left my face. I have also been healed of many other things."

The meeting was then closed by the

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you, keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

ZION IN THE ORIENT.

By REV. G. L. MASON, B. A., B. D., Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in China.

THE APOSTASY OF THE DENOMINATIONAL MISSIONS.

APOSTASY is a falling away from Christ in faith and life. A Church may believe mentally much precious truth, and still be apostate, having a form of godliness, but denying the power. A Church may even oppose some great evils, and still be apostate. The real nature of apostasy is shown in the warning, "Take heed, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the Living God." (Hebrews 3-12.)

Satan does not fight the old denominations very strongly. The massacres in China have been more anti-European than Antichristian, occasioned by the greed of the nations.

The missionaries are fair representatives of the clergy of Europe and America. Denominational ministers are not persecuted. They forget that "the friendship of the world is enmity with God" (James 4:4). Apostasy escapes persecution.

The Lord said: "Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for My sake." "The world cannot hate you; but Me it hateth, because I testify of it, that its works are evil." Where is "the sect everywhere spoken against"? The offense of the cross has ceased. Preachers cavil at the saying, "All that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." Here is a plain mark of apostasy, the absence of any distinctive Christian life or testimony that awakens the hatred of the ungodly world (John 16:1-3).

What is read by the denominations is the same that the world reads. The Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist book stores in the large cities sell many wholesome books. But their shelves also groan with trashy fiction.

The Baptist Publication Society announced "all the books of all the publishers." I found some wholly worthless books, a few thoroughly demoralizing novels, and very many fictions that are of the earth earthy, devoid of the wisdom which is first pure; books not even mentioning the Name of God or of Christ. The Apostasy feeds on chaff (Isaiah 55:2).

The publication societies, for money, spread ungodly literature among the people. And the preachers, being apostate, see no wrong in this, make no complaint, and are quite indifferent to it all (Luke 16:15; 2 Timothy 4:3, 4).

The denominational apostasy of feeding on worldly books and papers has affected the missionaries also (Luke 4:4).

Higher criticism, so-called, is leading the denominations into lower and lower depths of apostasy. The Authority of God's Word is gone. No one feels quite sure what is God's Word. There is no more any Divine standard of truth. Hence every man thinks as he likes and does as he pleases.

Holy Living and Divine Healing are impossible to them, for they are forever doubting and questioning what Christ said.

Theatricals, smoking concerts, esoteric dances, drinking revels, progressive euchre, gambling and secret societies in the University of Chicago are the result of a big-head Bible-criticising apostasy, wise in its own conceit (Luke 10:21).

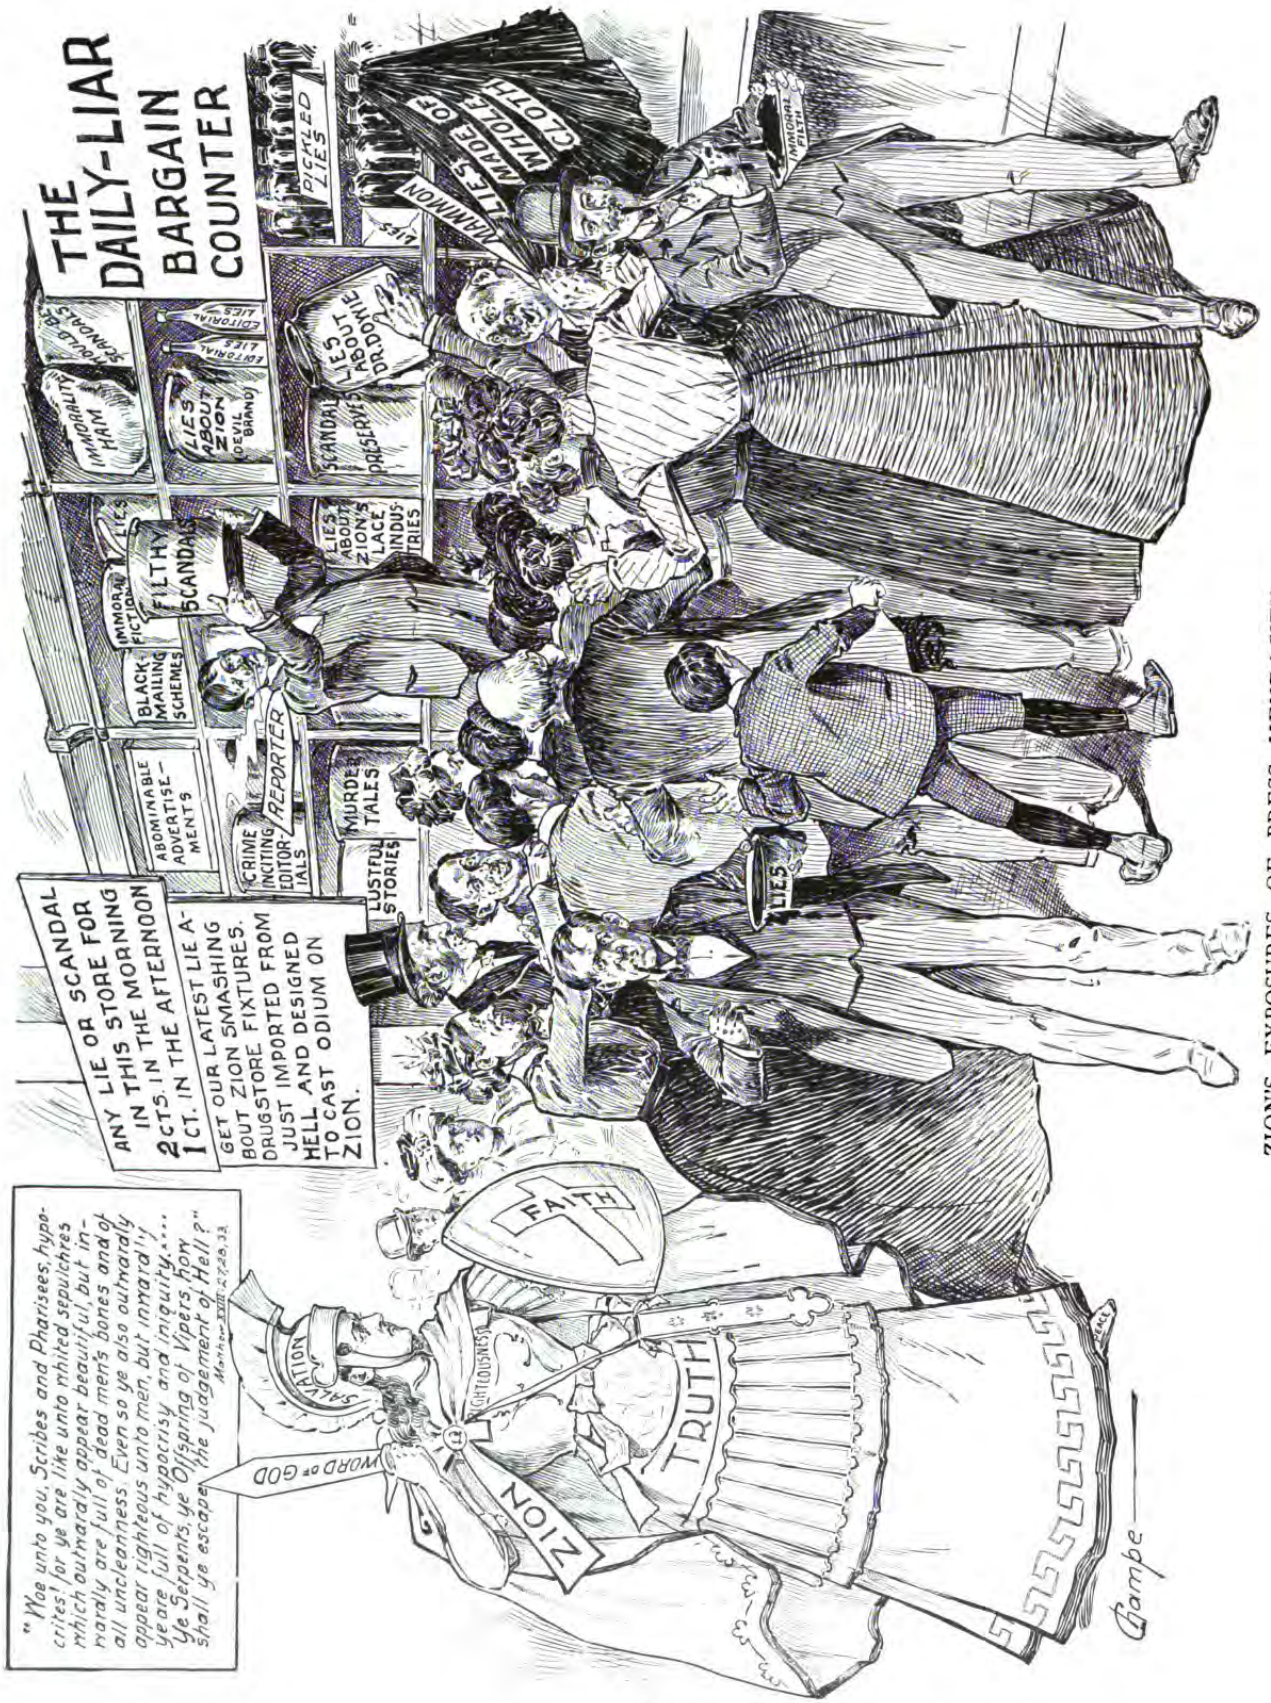
The Tobacco Devil is not disturbed by the denominations. The nicotine habit is more widespread and more seductive than the alcohol habit. It it equally polluting. Many Sunday School boys are smoking. The pastor only feebly opposes. Why? Because religious druggists and grocers are everywhere selling tobacco. Religious farmers in the Connecticut Valley, in Ohio, in Wisconsin, and all over the Central South are cultivating tobacco. The preacher's mouth is padlocked, for the users of and dealers in tobacco help to pay his salary. The apostasy is a nasty nicotine apostasy, for which there is no possible excuse (2 Corinthians 6:17; 7:1).

Smoking Japan.—Nearly all Japanese church members, men and women, are nicotine stinkers. In China, most of the native Christian men and some women are smokers. Even some of the missionaries smoke. The missionary, even if clean himself, cannot make a strong fight against tobacco when American tobacco dealers help pay his salary with polluted money.

Caste Spirit prevails in fashionable churches. Some of the genteel members are lineal "descendants of Hem and Sham." They send missionaries to the children of Ham and Shem, because it is "good form" to do so. Mission work is proper.

The Southern churches have never repented of the sin of slave-holding. They still hate and disfranchise men because of their color. Even in the North, in many churches the color or race line is seen. God's plan of having all races and all classes in one Church is ignored. A few colored members may be received. If there are many, they are advised to form churches of their own. Mrs. Grundy gives money to build mission chapels for races which she and her set do not care to welcome into their own elegant church. "Of course, we cannot associate with Italians, and as for the French-Canadians," she says, "they have a peculiar odor about them, making it unpleasant to sit in the same pew with them."

Foreign missionaries win many converts who are poor. Some are so very poor that they simply cannot have changes of wadded clothing. Therefore a little unpleasant odor is unavoidable. Would such be welcome in the fashionable city church in America? Read 2 Timothy 3:1-5.



The missionary partakes of the spirit of the Church which trains and sends him. A backsliding Church will make backsliders of its missionaries. The Church of Laodicea will produce lukewarm preachers, causing the Lord nausea so that He spews them out of His mouth. Study Revelation 3:14-22.

What sort of missionaries will grow in a Church that is run by a fickle majority or a lawless minority? The smart set requires hired music from an ungodly quartette. The Presbyterians must have a new "edifice" with higher steeple than the Baptist, and with a forty-thousand-dollar mortgage. Then comes an endless round of shows and oyster frolics to cajole money out of the sinners to pay the debts of the saints.

They call it a Church! It is a social and literary club. The pastor is the puppet of the best-paying pews. The rich are flattered (James 2:1-6). The poor are neglected. The prayer meetings are stiff and stupid. Priest and people cherish an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the Living God. The truly pious few mourn for a while in secret, but are chilled at last and frozen like the rest. Apostasy chills and kills.

The foreign missionary of an apostate organization is in great danger of spiritual asphyxia. Let him escape for his life. Babylon is fallen, "Come forth, my people, out of her."

A VOICE TO ZION AND GOD'S PEOPLE IN EVERY LAND.

O thou that tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the High Mountain
Lift up thy Voice with strength: Lift it up, be not afraid: Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!
Isaiah, XL:9.

THE EVERLASTING GOSPEL DECLARED.

Report of Meeting held in North Side Zion Tabernacle, Chicago, Lord's Day Morning, February 10, 1901. Sermon: "The Mission of Jesus."
Report of Meeting held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 10, 1901. Prelude: "How to Smash Things Which Need Smashing." Sermon: "One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism."

REPORTED BY S. D. AND E. W. AND A. W. N.

EVERY seat in North Side Zion Tabernacle was filled, and as many as could find room stood throughout the service, when the General Overseer spoke in that place on the sunny morning of February 10, 1901.

Many strangers were present and heard the Message which God's Messenger delivered with intense interest and respectful attention.

It was the "Old, Old Story"—yet ever new in this day of so-called higher criticism, ethical culture and literary sermons—of Jesus' "Teaching, Preaching and Healing."

It was a Message with Authority; hence with power.

Its effect was seen in the faces of the hearers and heard in their voices when they repeated after the General Overseer the Prayer of Repentance, Confession and Consecration.

In the afternoon, Central Zion Tabernacle was filled literally "to the rafters," while many—how many cannot be estimated—were turned away because there was no room.

There were about 3500 who heard the words of the speaker.

The service was opened by the impressive and reverent Processional of Zion's White-robed Choir of 250 voices and the resident Ordained Officers of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in the robes of their office.

As a Prelude to his discourse, the General Overseer demolished the absolutely unfounded lie of the press to the effect that women, members of Zion, had gone to certain drug stores in the city, insulted the proprietors and then smashed bottles and showcases, shouting "Hurrah for Dowie." The papers had given the names of the druggists which they claimed had suffered loss and the location of their stores. They had also pretended that they had received information from a certain woman, giving the names of the guilty women.

They had also falsely reported a visit of a reporter, some alleged detectives and alleged druggists to Zion Home with the alleged purpose of searching for the women who had done the alleged "smashing."

The General Overseer quickly and easily proved that the entire concoction was a figment of the imaginations of druggists and editors, closing his prelude with a scathing but richly deserved denunciation of Victor F. Lawson, the editor of the paper which hatched the lie, and a call for a showing of all those who would not buy or read his papers. Nearly the entire audience of about 3500 people quickly arose.

The General Overseer then spoke briefly, but convincingly, upon the subject, "One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism," showing the unquestionable fact that when Jesus commanded Baptism, "into the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit," He meant Baptism of those who had repented and believed, by Triune Immersion.

After the Recessional of the Zion Choir, he delivered the charge to sixty-five candidates for Baptism, and then, in the presence of 2000 people, baptized them, according to the Lord's command, by a Triune Immersion into the Name of the Triune God.

North Side Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Morning, February 10, 1901.

The services were opened by singing Hymn No. 355:

O day of rest and gladness,
O day of joy and light;
O balm of care and sadness,
Most beautiful, most bright;
On thee the high and lowly,
Through ages joined in tune,
Sing "Holy, holy, holy,"
To the Great God Triune.

The General Overseer then led the audience in repeating the thirty-fifth chapter of Isaiah.

He then read from the fourth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, beginning at the twelfth verse. Prayer was then offered by Overseer Mason; also by the General Overseer.

Greetings to North Side People.

In making the announcements the General Overseer said, among other things:

I am very glad to be with you in this North Side Zion Tabernacle. I am glad to see those of you who are members of the Church and those who are friends to it. I am also glad to see the people who are not friendly, because when they get to know us better, they are very likely to be friendly.

If there are any who are unfriendly, we hope they will be the friends of those who are the friends of God, and are fighting for God's righteousness.

The great trouble all over the world, I have found everywhere in all my life, is that the people do not know, they do not understand each other.

For instance, in France they have the most ridiculous ideas regarding both America and England. These are promulgated by a wicked press.

The newspaper press of today is the curse of the world. It creates bitterness in every land. It gives the most atrocious misrepresentations. The consequence is that the people are stirred up against each other by press-lying all over the world.

The French press lies about Great Britain, and the German press lies about the French. The French press lies about the German press. They all lie about each other, and the Devil is highly pleased. I think the Devil runs the whole institution of the newspaper press, with very few exceptions, both in Europe and in America.

The Son of God was manifested that He might destroy the works of the Devil.

You Cannot Do the Works of God Until You Destroy the Works of the Devil.

This is a very ramshackle place. One of these days this ramshackle place will have to give way to a fine building, no matter who owns the property. If I owned the property, I would put a fine building here.

One could make more money out of a fine building. If you will build me a magnificent hall here, I will rent it at a fair price.

But this is a ramshackle place. I do not take much stock in it. I am glad to be here, but it is a miserable place for our work. See if you cannot get a better place, Elder McClurkin, by May 1st.

But remember that if the owner of this valuable land is ever to build a better building on this site, he must first take away the ramshackle building.

In the same way, if the Kingdom of God is to be established on this earth, the kingdom of darkness and error must fall and be swept away. God hasten that day. (Amen.)

The announcements were then made by Elder McClurkin.

THE MINISTRY OF JESUS.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words may come, in this and every land, in this and all the coming time, till Jesus come, for His sake.

In the fourth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, and the twenty-third verse, you will find the Scripture upon which I shall base the few words which I have to say:

TEXT.

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people.

That very same Jesus is doing still the very same work.

He is the very same Saviour, the very same Healer, the very same Cleanser, the very same Friend and Helper of humanity.

He is with us all the days, even unto the comsummation of the age.

Effectiveness of Christ's Words.

Our Lord Jesus Christ in the days of His flesh went about doing things.

His words were effective. They were not mere words which passed into the air, sweet sounds which come to the ears, and did not affect the heart.

The words which He spoke were Spirit and Life. They came with the power of the Spirit of God.

They did something.

They smashed things which needed to be smashed.

They came like the mighty Hammer of God.

They came like the sharp Sword which killed the evil thing.

They came to bless the contrite heart.

They came to heal the sickness and misery of humanity.

He is just the same today.

He still goes about doing good and casting out Devils.

Either those who say that Jesus Christ has changed lie, or else the Bible does.

The Bible says, "I am the Lord that healeth thee."

The Bible says, "I am the Lord, I change not."

The Bible says that Jesus Christ is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever."

Those who teach that Christ is not the Healer of His people teach a lie, or else the Bible tells a lie.

Which is it?

If the Word of God lies, if the preaching that Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever, is false, then let the Bible go altogether; for there is no reliance to be placed upon a single word in it. More important than the revelation is the consistency and reliability of the recorder. If God can change, and He can lie, then all must go.

We Preach No New Gospel.

Yet it is ever new to multitudes, because another gospel has been preached: the gospel which tells them that Christ used to be something which He is not now, and used to do something which He does not do now.

The mighty power of His Spirit regenerates the human heart, and changes a man from a godless heathen and a pagan brute and a miserable hypocrite and sham into a pure and holy man. That is the Gospel which lives.

Some of you tell us that it is replaced by science.

Science? How can that replace God? Science itself can only be accurate knowledge of something; but knowledge is not God.

God is more than knowledge, and therefore more than science.

Man does not want merely knowledge. Man wants God. Man wants his Father. Man wants to be in communion with God, no matter how great the sweep of his knowledge. Knowledge of nature, that is, material things, no matter how vast, can never take away the heart-longing for God; for a living God; for a Father in Heaven; for that Being from whom we came, and to whom, if we are pure in heart, we desire to go.

The Pure in Heart Shall See God.

Of course, if you are an unclean, dirty dog, you do not want to go to God. You do not want to appear before God. You do not want to stand before the Great White Throne, and in the searching Light of God.

If, however, by the Grace of God your spirits have been cleansed from sin; if by the Grace of God you have received the touch of the Healer; if you have learned to love and to serve and to rejoice in God, the best hour of life is the last hour of it; for then the pure in heart shall in their pureness see God. They who have seen by the eye of faith, shall see Him as He is.

This Good Tidings comes first in the way of Teaching, in the way of Preaching, and in the way of Healing.

Our Lord Jesus Christ, as this passage says, went about doing three things:

First, Teaching.

Second, Preaching.

Third, Healing.

That is the Divine Order. If you look at the ninth chapter of Matthew, thirty-fifth verse, you will find exactly the same words:

And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, Teaching in their synagogues, and Preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, and Healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

Over and over again in the Gospel you will see that this Divine order is not accidental. It it a providential order.

The Most Important Thing is Teaching, Not Preaching.

Preaching is simply the proclamation of an ascertained truth, the declaration of a fact, as when a herald proclaims a great fact.

The Royal Heralds appeared the other day at the Mansion House in London, and at other points.

For more than sixty years Heralds proclaiming the accession of a New Monarch had not been seen in public in their array of heraldry in the British capital. The Garter King at Arms stood upon the steps of the Mansion House, surrounded by the Heralds, and the silver trumpets blew, and the silver trumpets blew again, and the silver trumpets blew again, and then the Garter King at Arms proclaimed, "The Queen is dead; long live the King."

Digitized by Google

He was a Preacher.

That is the word in the original for Preaching: the simple proclamation of the herald.

He entered into no particulars. He did not tell the people about the Queen's illness. He did not attempt to explain the cause of the Queen's death. He did not attempt to tell who Edward VII was. He simply stood there and proclaimed a fact that the Queen was dead, and that the King lived. The people shouted. They accepted the fact.

Preaching is the simple proclamation of an ascertained fact. Properly speaking, that is all a preacher should do. When he preaches, he should simply declare facts. He should declare that God is good, and that the Devil is bad.

He should declare that God lives; that the Devil lives, but that the kingdom of the Devil is coming to an end.

He should proclaim the great Glad Tidings that Jesus Christ came to destroy the works of the Devil.

All he has to do with people in preaching is not to persuade, but to command. He is not to say, "Now I would like you to consider this question of Baptism, and go all around it, and think all into it, and take lots of time."

He has no right to say that. He has to say, "Repent and be baptized every one of you!"

Repentance first: for it is written, "Now He commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent."

The Preacher's business is to utter commands, and to show that these commands are such as he is qualified and empowered by the eternal proclamation of God's truth to utter. When he speaks, he must speak with authority.

He must simply deliver the Divine command. He has nothing to do with it, but to deliver it.

The command is Repent. The command is Do right. Restore, if you have stolen; confess, if you have lied; cleanse your hands, ye sinners; purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

Turn to your God and tell Him, "I have sinned against heaven and in Thy sight." Ask God for Jesus the Christ's sake to forgive your sins, and then, helped by His Spirit, go right and do right.

Be baptized, and enter into fellowship with God's people.

Take your place in the ranks, and go forward and obey orders.

That is the command. But there is something comes before that.

Men Have to Be Taught.

They have to be taught that it is a right thing to obey a command; that the command is good; that the command is pure, and that the command is holy and for their best interests.

Hence our Lord Jesus Christ began by teaching. He had to teach patiently, as all teachers have to.

There are some people who say that they intend to teach humanity great lessons of advanced truth and take them to lofty heights of knowledge and wisdom in science and philosophy.

What are they talking about? Men never climb the Pyramids at a vault. They have to take it step by step; for the Pyramid is but a gigantic stairway. They can go up but one step at a time. You who talk about doing tremendous things all in a minute, do not forget that humanity cannot be blessed that way. If you take humanity upward, it must be step by step. Those who are higher up must help those who are lower down.

When men climb the Pyramids the guides go ahead. The Arab guide is strong, lithe of limb and powerful of arm. They make a human chain. They help up the ones who start at the bottom. Then the one who has taken a step helps the one next below him. The one who has taken a higher step goes on, and the third one helps the fourth. So you will see a whole chain of people, some of whom have reached the top of the pyramid, while others are but taking their first step.

That is the way in which the True Church of God and all her teachers must lead humanity to God and to Heavenly Wisdom, Love and Power. While some in the Church of God have passed into heaven above, the highest possible point of the Pyramid of Glory, they are linked to us and we must be linked to each other. Each of us must help up the last one who has to take the first step. The only right way to get to the top in all true Wisdom is by beginning at the bottom.

Begin at the Beginning.

Some people do not like that. They like to begin at the middle, or at the top.

That is just like some children who do not want the First Reader, and they do not want the Second Reader. They wail, "Ma, can I not have a Fourth Reader? Can I not have a big book?"

"Yes, you can have it, but you can have it when you have gone through the First, dear, and the Second, and the Third."

Some of those big, brainy men remind me of a house with a great many empty rooms to let. (Laughter.)

There is plenty of room in the upper story which is not occupied, except by vanity and wind. (Laughter.) These men amuse me. I used to be among them when I was a Congregationalist. We were all big heads. (Laughter.)

Friends, you learn after a time that you can have a big head, and a very small heart. It is not a big head that counts, but it is getting something into the head.

I was talking in London one day. A big, brainy, fellow wagged his head and frowned, and intimated his dissent until I grew weary. I said, "What is the use of your shaking your head? There is nothing in it." (Laughter.) He never shook his head any more. (Laughter.)

I was persuaded there was nothing in it. He was very savage, but at the end of the meeting he came up to me, put out his hand, and said, "I thank you, Doctor, for that reproof. I declare to you there was nothing in it. (Laughter.) It was downright folly upon my part, because I knew by the time you got through that you knew what you were talking about, and I did not."

The Necessity of Humility.

The great thing to remember in Teaching is, first of all, to take a humble station, and to be willing to begin at the bottom. As sure as you live, if you attempt to take the Third Reader before you have the First Reader, you will have to go back again, and have to undo a lot of false notions.

The very first thing, therefore, in the Divine Life is to say, "O, God, I will begin at the bottom."

For that reason, our Lord Jesus Christ taught men that they were all sinners; that they all needed to repent; that they all needed to come with deep humility, and that there was no royal road, whether it was David the King or the beggar at his gate. All had to start at the same point, and say, "I am a sinner. I come to Thee—

> ". . . without one plea,
> But that Christ's blood was shed for me,
> And that Thou bidst me come to Thee—

"O Father in Heaven, I come."

In our instruction, and in our education, the very first thing that a true teacher has to do is to teach the child that he does not understand. The little one has the notion that he does understand.

He has no idea how ignorant he is. He thinks he knows it all. That is just the mistake of all the sweet little children.

But you must not knock the child's head against the wall because he thinks he knows it all. The worst of it is that there are old men who think they know it all.

A Doctor Who Knew It All.

On board a certain steamer in one of my recent voyages, there was a man who had a mouth very much like a certain fish of Massachusetts Bay, which is three-fourths head and mouth, and the rest tail and body. That man talked and talked, and he shouted, so that all the people in the saloon could hear him give his opinions, upon almost every conceivable subject.

I was not surprised to find out upon inquiry that he was a doctor and, in his own opinion, a scientist.

I was not surprised, also, to find that he was a member of the Society of Psychic Research. I was pained, as were many others; we were all weary with his loud talking. One day I heard him suddenly shout, "I know all about it, I tell you; I know all about it."

I thought, "Yes, that is exactly what I expected."

When a man says he knows all about a thing, set him down as an ignoramus; as not only an ignoramus, but a superlatively

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

and disgustingly conceited ignoramus. Set him down as that kind of a fool of whom Solomon speaks when he says:

Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle among bruised corn,
Yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

Set him down as that kind of a man. If any man says he knows all about anything, be sure he is ignorant.

There is no man living who knows all about any subject. I care not how profound his knowledge may be, it is only partial.

The Vast, Unexplored Ocean of Truth.

The wise man will admit that in connection with knowledge upon any subject, whether it be scientific as applied to material, or moral or spiritual things, he can have only a partial knowledge.

Knowledge is, as Sir Isaac Newton so ably expressed it, like the vast Ocean beside which he said that he was but a little child, picking up a pebble here and there, while the great Ocean of Truth lay unexplored before him.

Edison would say, "I am only upon the verge of a great Ocean of Truth. I have only found a little, but oh, what a mighty hidden power is throbbing in every cubic foot of the air in that wondrous power which we call, for want of a better name, Electricity!"

That strange force when harnessed is a good servant, and otherwise is a very severe master.

There are people who trifle with electricity. They say that they do not believe that a small wire will convey a deadly current. But after they have touched it, they never trifle any more, for there is a first-class funeral in a few days for the fool who "knew all about it." (Laughter.)

A man is a fool who thinks that he can know all about any subject. The man will make the largest gains in knowledge who has truest and deepest humility.

The first thing that the teacher has to do in anything is to teach humility.

When I sent my son and daughter to school, they were very young. I said, "Now dears, you do not know anything. Your teachers have to teach you everything. What they say, believe, and what they say, do. Do not dispute it, for I am sending you to teachers who can teach."

I never sent them out without that little morning prayer that God would grant to them that day to be obedient to their instructors, kind and considerate to their companions, and to pursue knowledge in the fear of God. I hope that they have benefited by that.

They have never given me the heartaches from which so many parents suffer who have proud, conceited and "know-all-about-it" children: for they have always recognized how little they knew. They are no longer little children. I have now a well-educated man and woman, who are still being educated, and whose education will never be "finished."

"As a Little Child."

My brothers and sisters, remember that this lesson of deep humility is the first thing. Come to God with the simplicity of a little child. He who would understand the Kingdom of Heaven must remember what Jesus said, when He took a little child, and put that child in the midst of His disciples, and said that if they would enter the Kingdom of Heaven, they must become as little children; showing how sweet a little, simple, unspoiled child is who is willing to be taught.

As a little child relies
On a care beyond his own,
Knows he's neither strong nor wise,
Fears to stir a step alone,—
Let me thus with Thee abide
As my Father, Guard and Guide.

Let us be taught of God, and listen to what Jesus says.

Let us find in God our Friend and our Saviour, and do what He tells us.

The man who knows most is most childlike.

Humility of the Mighty.

I have the acquaintance of a few men who stand high in the world's places, some of whom are celebrated. My acquaintances are principally among the poor and the humble, and the great masses of the people, but I know some who are in high station, and some who are near a crown.

I have found that in the greatest and noblest men and women there is a sense of deep humility and of the great importance and responsibility of power. The greatest men and women I know, both in outward station and in intellectual power, are as humble as little children.

I know that the conceited fool is not worth anything.

You will be great if you become little. You will ascend the Pyramid of Knowledge and of Power and of Wisdom if you will begin at the first step. If you wish to begin at the middle or the top, you will simply waste your time, and be nothing but a fool.

Christ taught men to be wise by teaching them to be humble.

He taught the sinner to come to His feet, as the woman who wept and washed His feet with her tears and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

Oh, she had sinned much, and she had sorrowed much! She had loved much. The Damning Lust which had burned out her life was replaced by a Divine Love which enriched her life. She was forgiven, and the Pharisee who sat at that table was cursed; for he said, "This man, if He were a prophet, would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth Him, that she is a sinner."

You remember how the Lord dealt with the unclean thoughts of the Pharisee. He said:

Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. . . . Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest Me no water for My feet: but she hath wetted My feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. Thou gavest Me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss My feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed My feet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. And He said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

Hypocritical Attentions of Those Who Desire Favors.

I get many invitations now to public occasions. I am asked to let my name appear as a member of many things now. I am invited to many places now.

It was not so five years ago.

It was not so four years ago.

Hypocrites!

They do not care for me. They want me to help them grind their little axes, their social, political, or literary axes.

"Simon," said Jesus, in effect, "you invited Me here to help you grind your little ax. You old hypocrite! That woman is blessed: for she is penitent, and she loves Me, and she obeys Me. You are cursed until you repent!"

Repentance is the first essential of the Divine Life. The next is Trust, and the next is Obey.

The next is, "Come ye who repent, ye who trust for Salvation, and let the great God who made your body heal it."

If I desired to have that watch repaired, should it go wrong, where would I take it? To a butcher? To a baker? To a candlestick maker? (Laughter.) Where should I take it?

A Voice—"To the watchmaker."

The Story of a Watch.

General Overseer—I should take it to the maker, if I could find him. I know the maker of this watch. This watch was made for the firm of one who loved me, and is an exact copy of his father's watch. It was given to me as a token of love.

This man's sister was brought up to Chicago, dying. She opened her eyes in my own home. She said, "Where am I?"

"Oh," said, "you are in a good place."

"Who are you?" she said. "Are you Dr. Dowie?"

I said, "I am."

Her sisters were there by her bedside. She had been delirious. She had been out of her mind for weeks. She had taken the damning morphine and the cocaine doctors give to people when they know that they cannot do them any good. They make them mad with the accursed stuff, and sometimes send them into eternity. She had been under their evil power until that hour. She had heard about me before.

"Am I really in the Divine Healing Home?" she asked.

"Yes."

From that hour God began to heal her; and, after a time, her brother sent me this beautiful present.

That watch was made in the firm of which her father had been a member.

If that watch were to go seriously wrong, I would send it to that firm to put it right, because they made it.

I would send it on to the maker, and he would put it right.

God, the Maker of our bodies, loves us and will put them right, if we put them confidently, and without fear, in His hands alone.

The General Overseer's Healing When a Lad.

Oh God, You remember the time I was sick and dying. I had no strength. I looked at my Bible that night, and I read in the Book, "Like as a father pitieth his children, so Jehovah pitieth them that fear Him. For He knoweth our frame; He remembereth that we are dust." And oh, You remember that night I brought this pain-racked earthly body to You, and You healed me.

God remembers.

I was only a lad then. I remember the night when I was dying and God healed me.

The knowledge that suddenly and miraculously, by the touch of God, his body is healed, brings a man closer to God.

My poor stomach, which could digest nothing, was changed like that. (Snapping his fingers.)

I ate my oatmeal and read my Bible that very morning with intense delight.

The next day I ate everything in sight, except pig. And now I never eat pig. (Laughter.)

Eat what is good, and God will take care of you.

All who believe that Jesus is the same Christ, Saviour, Healer and Cleanser, and desire God to bless them, stand and tell Him so.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me Thy Holy Spirit, that I may trust Thee; that I may do right to any whom I may have wronged, no matter what it costs. Give me power to serve Thee by Thy Holy Spirit. Cleanse me in spirit, in soul, in body, for Jesus' sake. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

Did you mean it?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Live it.

After the singing of the Doxology, the service was closed with the following

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

AFTERNOON SERVICE.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 10, 1901.

Services were opened by the General Overseer pronouncing the invocation, after which Hymn No. 216 was sung:

Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love;
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above.

The Apostles' Creed was then repeated by the congregation.

The General Overseer read the fifteenth Psalm and twenty-third chapter of Jeremiah.

Prayer was offered by Overseer Piper; also by the General Overseer.

The announcements were made by Overseer Speicher, after which the tithes and offering were received.

PRELUDE—"HOW TO SMASH THINGS WHICH NEED SMASHING."

The General Overseer said:

I have promised to say a few words this afternoon by way of prelude to my discourse.

I do so with some little regret. My opportunities in public are quite limited just now, however, owing to the immense amount of work which has to be done in my offices in connection with the more perfect organization and administration of Zion in its three great divisions—ecclesiastical, educational, and business—which each consist of many separate departments.

We have been making provision for the expansion in all departments of Zion which has taken place, is taking place and will take place.

I regret to have to take even a few minutes; but I know of no other occasion on which I can speak so as to be heard by thousands. I think, however, that if an ass or an ox had fallen into a pit, we would be justified, according to the Lord's own words, in pulling the ox or the ass out of the pit.

I am very desirous of pulling the press out of the pit into which it has fallen. (Laughter.) They dug it themselves.

I am to say a few words to you about how to smash things which need smashing. First of all, therefore, I desire to smash the Daily Newspaper Press of Chicago.

It needs smashing.

Smashing Power of God's Word.

The word puts in Hebrew means to dash in pieces. God said of Israel:

Thou art My battle-ax and weapon of war: and with thee will I break in pieces the nations; and with thee will I destroy kingdoms.

Therefore God's Israel is to be a Great Smasher.

Is not My Word like a fire? saith the Lord: and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

God's Word is a Great Smasher.

In the glorious Word of the Book of the Revelation of Jesus Christ, in the second chapter and the twenty-seventh verse, the words are:

He will rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers.

It is a very proper thing, therefore, that everything that needs smashing should be smashed.

I Have Not an Iota of Sympathy With Mrs. Nation.

I have no sympathy with the smashing of whisky bottles or medicine bottles or people's windows anywhere. It is worthy of a silly child, or a poor, weak, miserable lunatic (laughter), but entirely unworthy of a Christian man or woman. (Amen.)

We are living in a Nation which has a Constitution.

The Constitution of the Nation is magnificent, if it were not for the tobacco and the whisky, and the pig and the other things which the Nation tries to assimilate.

As a consequence of these things, its Constitution is very much damaged.

The Constitution of the Nation, too, is very much damaged, because in all the cities and in all the States multitudes of miserable, wretched ward-heelers get into power and become—save the mark—aldermen or legislators.

They know much more about the varieties of whisky and the brands of tobacco than they do about legislation.

The people, in their folly, have elected such persons, and until the people are wiser they will get the kind of legislation which these legislators produce.

The Constitution of the United States is continually damaged and destroyed and injured by men being sent to State Legislatures and to the United States Congress who have no capacity for legislation.

It is a most idiotic thing to send a man to make a pair of boots who never made a pair of boots.

It would be an exceedingly stupid thing to send me to make soup, because I do not know how. (Laughter.)

It would be folly to ask me to make your puddings and your pies. All the potatoes would have hard hearts, and you would have to break the pie with an ax. (Laughter and applause.)

Stupid as that is, however, it is nothing like so stupid as to send a saloonkeeper and a ward bum to make laws in the Legislature of the State, or in the Congress of the Nation.

What can you expect of men who are not learned in the Law, and know nothing about the Gospel?

You can expect nothing from a pig but a grunt. (Laughter and applause.) You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

You cannot get proper legislation at Springfield, or wise administration in Chicago, or good laws at Washington, while the men whom you send to those places with authority have no more capacity for law-making, in hundreds of cases, than a man who never made a pie has for pie-making.

I have no respect at all for this mode of electing aldermen or legislators.

I Have No Respect for the Opinion of the Majority.

The majority of the people are nearly always wrong. They have been in the past.

They were mightily in the wrong when they asked for the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

Digitized by Google

They were mightily in the wrong in all the stages of the history of this Nation and other nations.

It was the few men who upheld the right, who stood alone, and compelled, by and by, the majority to come as they thought, who gave the Nation what good it has.

It is not so long ago since the "Liberators" had their type scattered and their machinery smashed in Boston and in New York, because they dared to print the truth demanding the abolition of human slavery. Statues of great men are erected in many cities by the children of those who cursed and persecuted the hero whom all now delight to honor.

The people have to be led, and it is the minority who are the leaders of the Nation. The majority are usually wrong—usually behind, and have to be taught. In my judgment, majorities have no right to rule.

My judgment is that you get better rule when you do not elect your rulers.

If you want to find the best governed city in this United States, you will find it in Washington, in the District of Columbia, where no man or woman has a vote. Some of the most intelligent men and women in the United States live there, but none of them vote.

The city is ruled by a few commissioners selected by Congress. Its streets are kept in good order, and the taxes are properly spent.

I wish we had such commissioners in Chicago. (Applause. Amen.)

The Best Judges In This Land Are Not Elected.

The greatest and most magnificent arm of government in this country is the United States Supreme Court. It has, in my judgment, a far greater power for good than either the Legislative or the Executive branches. It is the Court of last resort, and has the power and authority to interpret the law. Enforcement can be demanded by the judicial at the hand of the executive power.

That Court is appointed, not elected. The best departments of government which you have in this country are the courts and the administrative offices in which somebody with sense selects a man who knows what he is talking about, and has the capacity to do the thing which he is put there to do.

May God give us some way of getting that done soon. (Amen.)

If it were so, there would be no difficulty in Kansas. There is a law there which is prohibitory of the liquor traffic. In fact, it is a part of the Constitution of that State.

Mrs. Nation's Saloon-Smashing is Anarchy.

Persons have said that Mrs. Nation had a perfect right to smash the saloons because they existed in defiance of the law.

Mrs. Nation would have a perfect right to smash saloons if she were the legally appointed officer of the law. But Mrs. Nation, when she makes herself an officer of the law, is an anarchist, and nothing else. (Applause.)

I say that plainly.

I have been an abstainer all my life. I hate liquor as I hate the Devil. If I were to give liquor a name—and I have given it several names—I would call it not only liquid fire and distilled damnation, but I would say that intoxicating liquor was the Devil in solution.

On the other hand, I must call your attention to the fact that unless we are to abdicate in favor of lynch law, unless we are to demand that the Executive, the Legislative and the Judicial arms of the Government shall all be subordinate to the first man or woman who chooses to assume false executive power, all things must be accomplished by a due process of law. Without that you have anarchy. The last persons in this country to show an anarchistic hand, should surely be the Christian and the Temperance people.

I stand for Law against the Lawless One wherever he shows his cruel brutal head in Church, or State, or Home or Business.

The Man of Sin has been clearly revealed in the Pope of Rome, and "the Sure Word of Prophesy" says that he is to be speedily followed by "the Lawless One."

There are many signs of his revelation—that Monster of Lawlessness "whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the Breath of His Mouth, and bring to naught by the Manifestation of His Coming."

My conviction is that Lawlessness is more and more getting into the Lawmakers in Legislatures, and also into Municipal and National Rulers.

Life, Liberty and Happiness are all in great danger at the hands of Evil Men who occupy places of power in Church and State.

Zion's Record of Respect for Law.

When I fought my battle in Chicago for one whole long year, although I was illegally arrested a hundred times, I never disputed with the officer of the law. I shook his hand, told him to be seated. I spoke to him courteously and kindly. I went with him and gave my bail bonds. I obeyed the law. I fought out my cases, and smashed their infernal illegal Ordinance in all the upper courts. I won my case, but I never broke the law.

Zion has no sympathy with lawbreakers in any form. If we have to resist an illegal act, and say that we shall not obey it, we shall resist passively.

Zion has shown that example everywhere.

Did we not show it in Chicago?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Have we not shown it in Mansfield?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—And have we not won everywhere?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Of course we have.

We shall win because we will stand for God and Righteousness, and uphold the administration of Law and Justice.

No man or woman has the right to take the law into his or her own hands. The man or woman who does that, is at once a lawbreaker, and ought to be punished.

I will ask a question. Let every member of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion now present stand to his or her feet. (Members of Zion to the number of about 3000 arose.)

Zion's Members Unanimously Refute the Charges of the Chicago Press.

Members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, is there any one of all the thousands now standing who took part in any breaking of druggists' bottles, or in any way insulting the druggists, or injuring their goods?

Members—"No!"

General Overseer—Any one who did it, say Yes. (No response.)

I will ask another question: Is there any one of you who knows of a member of this Church who did such a thing? If there is, say Yes. Tell me about it. (No response.)

I ask again: Is there one of you who know of any one—for it has been alleged in all the papers that our people have done this—is there one of you who know of any member of this Church who did such a thing?

Members—"No."

General Overseer—Any one who does, say Yes. (No response.)

I will ask another question: Is there one member of this Church who knows of any other persons having done this thing?

Members—"No."

General Overseer—Any one who knows of such person or persons, say Yes. (No response.)

Thank you. Sit down.

The moment that this thing was published I said, "That is a lie from the beginning, unless there are some of my people who have suddenly become insane." (Laughter.)

I could not believe any member of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion would have done it, because if there is anything that Zion is renowned for, it is her level-headedness.

Zion people are not given to going about the streets and shouting "Hurrah for Dowie!" (Laughter and applause.)

I do not need your hurrahs. I should feel very much insulted if you shouted them in a foolish fashion in drug stores or anywhere else.

Astounding Lie of the Record Copied by Other Papers.

This thing began in the "Record" of daily lying, which I call the "Daily Lyre." It started there with a story that was perfectly astounding. It was a story to the effect that women who were members of Zion raided several drug stores in the city, shouting "Hurrah for Dowie," and smashing bottles and other property.

I started at once my investigations.

If there is any druggist here, you will have to take your medicine quietly. (Laughter.) I will not spare you. I will not spare either the papers or the druggists for their wicked lying. I will smash something today which needs smashing.

I saw at once that this was just another attempt to array public opinion against us on the ground of our being a set of lawbreaking lunatics.

I waited several days for the result of my inquiries.

Then I telephoned to the Chief of Police these words: "I have investigated this matter to the bottom. I find that the druggists themselves admit in many cases that these things did not happen; that neither the names they give of persons who are alleged to have done this, nor that of the informer of whom they speak, can be found on our Church rolls.

"If any of Zion's people have been guilty, I hope they will be detected and punished. I will add ecclesiastical punishment to the legal. I will cause any who have broken anything in any drug store to restore to the owner the value of it, as well as apologize for any insults of which they have been guilty, and meanwhile, I will myself on behalf of Zion pay every cent of the damage done."

The druggists could not tell where the alleged "informer" lived. They said that her address was "General Delivery."

She lives at the General Delivery. (Laughter.)

She occupies a box in the postoffice.

They do not know her, although they have seen her.

They know her name, but they are not quite sure of it, and the fact is that they know nothing at all.

They swore out their warrants on the information of a bogus informer, Clara Hehn, who is not on our list and never was in our Church. We know nothing about her. The fact is that Hen never laid a single egg—they were all the eggs laid by the cockatrice in the "Daily Liar" office. "Mrs. Hehn" was Mr. Victor Lawson and his brood of vipers in the offices of the "Chicago Record" and "Daily News." The five women whose names she was alleged to have given, the General Recorder says, are not to be found on the C urch roll.

Here is his letter to me:

General Recorder E. S. Anderson Nails Some Chicago Press Lies.

ZION, 1201 MICHIGAN AVENUE, CHICAGO, February 9, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE,
General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Dear General Overseer:—In accordance with your directions, I have thoroughly searched our Church rolls to ascertain whether or not any of the names for which the Chicago press states warrants have been issued, in connection with the alleged raids upon drug stores in Chicago, are, or ever have been, upon our rolls.

I find that neither the name of party given as informant, nor any of the names said to have been given by her to the police, are, or ever have been, upon our rolls as members, or in any way connected with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion; neither have I in my three years' connection with the Church ever met any such persons, or heard their names mentioned.

I desire also to state that I was absent from my office yesterday when the alleged officers called; and, therefore, could not have made the statements attributed to me in this morning papers.

Faithfully your Servant in Christ, E. S. ANDERSON,
General Recorder of the Christian Catholic Church.

Before I took another step I told Overseer Speicher to get a cab, and to go to these druggists and tell them if any of my people had injured them or their stores, I would pay the whole damage to the uttermost farthing, and I would punish any member of the Church who was guilty. (Applause.)

What was the fact?

Overseer Speicher investigated and made a report.

I will let him read it.

The gentlemen who is about to speak is the Rev. John G. Speicher, an ex-M. D., once a sinner for about ten years as a physician; but now for seven years a faithful co-worker in Zion, whom you all know and love.

Dr. Speicher will read the result of his investigations.

Overseer John G. Speicher Reveals the Utter Falsity of the Stories of the Press and of Certain Druggists.

ZION HOME, CHICAGO, Friday, February 8, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE,
General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Dear General Overseer:—I herewith submit a report of my visit to seven drug stores concerning the matter published in the daily papers.

According to your instructions, on yesterday I visited the following drug stores:

First, I went to Herman Schapiro, corner of Jefferson and Twelfth Streets. I inquired as to the occurrences of the day before as reported in the paper, and asked him what truth there was in the statement of the paper.

I was immediately and most emphatically told that nothing whatever had occurred there; that it was all false, and that they knew nothing whatever about the matter.

From there I went to Herman Lieberman's place, 515 South Halsted Street, and again began inquiring concerning the truthfulness of the statements concerning the occurrence, as given in the Chicago Record.

It was again most emphatically declared that no such thing had happened; that no women had been in their drug store to do damage; that no damage had been done, and that there had been no trouble whatever.

General Overseer—Give a groan for the press. (Groans. Applause and laughter.)

There is fair play (?), is it not? This is the majestic institution (?) which exists for the public information. (Groans.)

Our next call was to Leo L. Mrazek, corner of Ashland Avenue and Eighteenth Street.

At this place, Mr. Mrazek claimed that some women had been in the day before, in the afternoon, who had used canes and umbrellas in trying to destroy the bottles on his shelves.

There was a vacant place on two of his shelves, where perhaps a half dozen bottles had stood, the bottles having been removed in some way.

Mr. Mrazek could give no description of the women and knew absolutely nothing whatever about them.

No broken bottles were to be found and no damage of any kind could be shown.

Mr. Mrazek himself had not been injured, according to his own statement. They had not struck him nor tried to strike him, and he said that the statement in the paper was much exaggerated. (Groans.)

At B. Loewenthal's drug store, Twelfth and Robey Streets, Mr. Loewenthal was not in, but his partner said that he had been told that some women had been in, but he knew nothing about the matter personally. He said some bottles had been broken; otherwise no damage had been done. No description could be given of the women, except that they were well-dressed women, and they knew not whence they came or whither they went. (Groans. Laughter.)

I did not call until the following day at Charles C. Toucek's, Sixteenth and Center Avenue.

At no place was any claim made that the women were members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, or that they had any connection with Zion.

At only one place did they claim that they said anything about Dr. Dowie, and that was at Mr. Mrazek's, who said that one of the women said "Hurrah for Dowie."

This (Saturday) afternoon, you again sent me out to investigate the affairs as reported to have occurred on Milwaukee Avenue.

Accompanied by Mrs. Speicher, I called upon George Remus, proprietor of the drug store at the corner of Milwaukee Avenue and Paulina Street.

At this place, Mr. Remus was quite bitter against Dr. Dowie and against Zion. All he knew about Zion was what the papers had said.

All he knew of the other affairs, of the breaking of the drug store furnishings, was what he had read in the papers and what others had told him.

Mr. Toucek, of Sixteenth and Center Avenue, is a personal friend of Mr. Remus, who was much surprised when I told him of my visit on yesterday to the drug stores on Twelfth Street.

He insisted that a number of women had come into his store yesterday and had endeavored to destroy his property; that he threatened to throw poison upon them if they did not go out, whereupon they left the store, after having smashed a few bottles.

I looked around in his store and tried to find the showcase which was broken, and when I asked him where it was he answered, after considerable hesitation, that it was one which he had standing on the outside. When I asked him to let me see it, he said that it was nowhere around, that it had been taken away. He seemed very much confused. (Groans.)

A young clerk standing near said, "Surely, the bottles were broken. You see that bottle has a stopper missing," pointing to a large gallon bottle standing on the floor under the counter, full of the red liquid which druggists have in their show windows. It was minus a stopper. I suggested that it would not be very hard to remove a stopper from a bottle like that. They had nothing to say.

Mr. Remus began a tirade against Dr. Dowie and about the crime of allowing little children to die without medicine. A young alleged physician who was sitting near by also chimed in with his pathetic appeal for suffering humanity in Zion.

When I suggested that a few die even with physicians to attend them, it somewhat upset him and his argument.

I gave them a few facts and a little understanding about the position of Zion, and went on.

I also asked Mr. Remus for a description of the women and how many there were. He said that there were about four or five, and that several had on "automobile cloaks" and one had a short coat. One was a short lady and the others were about medium height. He judged that their ages ranged from twenty-five to thirty-nine years.

He could give me no exact or definite description of any one.

He said that they were in a very short time, only four or five minutes. I suggested that one could get a pretty good view of people in four or five minutes.

"Well," he said, "I do not remember."

Iver L. Quales, 1086 Milwaukee Avenue, was the next druggist visited. He had very little to say; in fact, he would rather not say anything. He said that a few bottles had been smashed there and then the women went out.

I asked him to show me some of the things they had broken, but he could not do so.

I asked him why he did not have the women arrested, and he said he did not want to give them any trouble. (Groans.)

He could give me absolutely no description of the women who came in. (Groans.)

I gave him your message, as I did in the other cases: that you desired to ascertain whether any of the women were members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and that if they were proven to be so, you would pay the damages and expel the women from the Christian Catholic Church.

They showed very little zeal toward finding the guilty parties.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Mr. Remus said that some one had sent him a list of names, supposedly the names of the parties who had been in the store. This, he said, had been sent to Mr. Quales' store. Mr. Quales could not find the list of names and knew nothing about it. No one could give any names.

The last man visited was J. L. Frank, 1144 Milwaukee Avenue, at which place the women were supposed to have first called.

He said that all he knew about it was that there was a woman or two in his store who had spoken to some one about the medicine, advising them not to take any medicine; that there had been no trouble whatever in his store, and that no damage had been done.

This afternoon, before I went to Milwaukee Avenue, a druggist on the corner of Eighteenth and Wabash, by the name of Louis E. Winship, called on me and said that he had received an anonymous letter, stating that Miss Carrie Davis, Miss Jane Hitchcock, Mrs. Marie Martin, Mrs. Annabel Willits, and a woman by the name of Summers, were to visit his place and smash up his outfit. He refused to let me see the letter and failed to find any persons in Zion Home bearing the names which he gave us.

We believe, dear General Overseer, with what we have been able to find in this investigation, that there is no truth whatever in the statements of any of the druggists, with the exception that possibly in one of the drug stores some woman may have made some remark about drugs and druggists.

In no case could they describe the weapons used, and in no case could any definite information be given. The fact that Mr. Toucek on the South Side and Mr. Remus on Milwaukee Avenue are familiar friends, would indicate the possibility of a plot.

The three drug stores on Milwaukee Avenue are close together, within less than two blocks of each other.

Most respectfully submitted, JOHN G. SPEICHER.

General Overseer—Is there anything in this long series of alleged drug store smashings by Zion women, which has so largely occupied the papers for many days, and has been telegraphed all over the world, but a Lie?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—I will ask Deacon Lee, the Recorder of Zion Seventies, to read his report. We read that certain persons came to our offices and did certain things. Long accounts of the circumstance were given in the newspapers. I do not need to read them to you, but the story as given never happened.

Deacon Lee Refutes a Mass of Newspaper Lies.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, February 9, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE,
General Overseer Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Dear General Overseer:—Inasmuch as this morning's Chicago Record gives a most disgustingly false report of a visit of one of their reporters, with three or four other "lewd fellows of the baser sort," to Zion Home yesterday, I herewith submit to you a brief report of the actual facts in the case.

It was between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon that one of our office boys brought these young men to my office and presented a list of six names, with the request that I tell them whether or not they appeared on our records as members of the Church.

As Deacon Anderson, the General Recorder, was not in, I unhesitatingly and carefully compared the list with our records—which, by the way, are not kept, as they indicate, in a book, but by the best and most improved card system.

This was done in their presence. After I had assured them that none of the names appeared on the records, they asked if the name of Mrs. Clara or Cora Heimer was on record.

This woman's name they spelled for me and informed me that she was the person who had furnished them with the names of those I had been asked to look up.

I asked them to give me this woman's address, but was told they could give none save General Delivery, Chicago.

Of course, this name, like all the others, could not be found on our records.

I notice, however, that the Chicago Record states that it was Mrs. Clara Henne, of Burnside, who furnished the list of names; but even Mrs. Henne's name cannot be found on our records.

The Chicago Record states that the detective asked permission to look through our records for himself and was flatly refused the privilege, which is absolutely false, for none of the party made any such request.

The Chicago Record also states that the detective then asked permission to search the building, and was again most flatly refused, which is just as false as the other statement. Nothing of the kind was even suggested by them.

As they were about to leave, however, Mr. Carl Stern, who, contrary to the Record's statement, had not been present, met them at the door, and after learning their mission informed them that if it could be proven that any Zion people were guilty of such charges, the General Overseer would see that all damages were repaired in full and the persons properly dealt with.

These I affirm to be the true facts in the case, as will also the four office assistants who were present at that time, also Overseer George L. Mason.

Faithfully yours in Christ, A. F. LEE.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—In giving you my statement of the visit of our friends the druggists and newspaper reporters to our office Friday afternoon, I should have mentioned a little incident which may help to explain the cause for all the wailing and gnashing of teeth on the part of these poor fellows.

Recently, two of our faithful Seventies, in obedience to their instructions to carry the Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living into every house in Chicago, entered one of our city drug stores.

After giving the usual salutation, "Peace be to This House," they handed the druggist one of their little tracts.

He turned and looked at them in perfect amazement, and said, "Well! if you women haven't got nerve."

They replied that they had, just enough to carry the Gospel of Christ anywhere, or words to that effect, and walked out.

Sincerely yours in Christ, A. F. LEE.

Have we not smashed the whole thing?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Did it not need smashing?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—We will not take any more trouble about it.

What did they do it for? In order to send throughout the world by telegram, and in their filthy sheets, their false statement that Zion is composed of lawless lunatics.

Will that stand?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—I ask you now, every one of you, can you not help me to smash the Daily Liar a little more?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Then you drop the Record now. (Amen.) Do not take another copy. (Loud applause.) Do not take the Daily News. Will you promise me that?

Audience—"Yes." (Applause.)

General Overseer—All who will promise me that they will take neither the Record nor the Daily News, stand. (The entire audience of over 3000 poeple, with but few exceptions, arose.)

Thank you. That is three or four thousand cents out of their pockets every day, besides thousands of subscribers throughout the country, who will join you in doing this when they read these words. (Laughter.)

Victor Lawson Denounced.

I brand Victor Lawson, the editor and proprietor of that paper, as a Scoundrel and a Liar, and the worst kind of a Thief (applause); for he "who steals my purse, steals trash," but he who filches from me or this Church its Good Name, is the worst kind of a thief. (Amen.)

I proclaim that the other papers in copying Victor Lawson's lies, are Thieves of the same kind. May God have mercy upon them.

Victor Lawson, I ask you to take your remedy, if you believe I have wronged you. The Courts are open, and I can easily be found in Chicago.

"ONE LORD, ONE FAITH, ONE BAPTISM."

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and profitable unto this people, oh Lord, my Strength and my Redeemer. (Amen.)

TEXT.

One Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all.

My words must be very few.

Over Nine Thousand Persons Baptized in Less Than Four Years.

Within less than four years, thanks be to God, we have baptized in this Church 9200 persons.

There is but one Lord.

That one Lord Jesus Christ was a Triune Being. In Him there dwelt the Father; in Him there dwelt the Son; in Him there dwelt the Holy Spirit: for He was "the fulness of the Godhead, bodily," Father, Son and Holy Spirit in one Lord, a Triune Being.

The only Faith of the Church is a Triune Faith.

It is a Faith which brings Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

Our Lord commanded that men should all everywhere repent, believe unto Salvation, be baptized and receive healing, and have power to live holy lives.

Therefore the Faith of the Church is a Faith in Jesus Christ, our one Lord, for Salvation, Healing, Holy Living, a Triune Faith.

The Baptism of our Lord is a Triune Baptism. The last words which He said on the mountain where He taught His disciples for nearly forty days after His resurrection were:

Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the consummation of the age.

If I had three vats standing before me, one containing black dye, another blue dye and another yellow dye, and I said to some one, "Baptize this handkerchief into the black, and the blue and the yellow," how many times would they have to dip it?

Voices—"Three times."

General Overseer—Could they do it with one dipping?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Neither can you baptize into the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit by one immersion.

Hence it is that the Church for 800 years had no other form of Baptism than by Triune Immersion.

I challenge the scholarship of the world to successfully deny that statement.

Opinion of High Scholars Concerning Triune Immersion.

The greatest Dictionary of Christian Antiquities which has ever been produced is that edited by Sir William Smith, D. C. L., LL. D., of London. In that dictionary the late Rev. Wharton B. Marriott, M. A., of Exeter College, Oxford, writes on Baptism. The Church to which he belongs believes in the sprinkling of babies.

Dr. Marriott, in writing the article upon Baptism in that great and learned work, says:

Triple Immersion, that is thrice dipping the head while standing in the water, was the all but universal rule of the Church in early times. Of this we find proof in Africa, in Palestine, in Egypt, at Antioch and Constantinople, in Cappadocia. For the Roman usage, Tertullian indirectly witnesses in the Second Century; St. Jerome in the Fourth; Leo the Great in the Fifth; and Pope Pelagius and St. Gregory the Great in the Sixth. Theodulf of Orleans witnesses for the general practice of his time, the close of the Eighth Century. Lastly, the Apostolical Canons, so-called, alike in the Greek, the Coptic and the Latin versions, give special injunctions as to this observance, saying that any bishop or presbyter should be deposed who violated this rule. . . . Eunomius (circ. 360) appears to have been the first to introduce simple immersion "unto the death of Christ."

Who was Eunomius?

Eunomius was a man who denied the Divinity of the Lord Jesus Christ, and denied the personality of the Holy Spirit. Eunomius was a bad man and a false shepherd. In order to show his contempt for the Holy Trinity of God, he baptized by one immersion.

Eunomius was expelled from the Church, and was held as a traitor to its word, and to its laws, and to its constitution. He was, undoubtedly, a bad man otherwise.

There is no question about the historic facts.

There is no question, either, that you cannot baptize into the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit by one dipping. You cannot get the spiritual idea of Baptism by one immersion.

Baptism is not only Death to Sin, but it is Life in God, it is Power for Service.

"Are ye ignorant," says the apostle, "that all ye who were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into His death?"

But it did not stop there. He said:

We were buried therefore with him through Baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. For if we have become united with Him by the likeness of His death, we shall be also by the likeness of His resurrection.

These are the three things which Baptism brings: Death to sin, Life in God and Power for Service.

The requirements of God are that we shall preach one Lord who in Himself was a Triune Man, and was the embodiment of the Triune God, whose Faith is a Triune Faith; whose Baptism is a Triune Baptism, and which meets the necessities of our Triune natures, Spirit, Soul and Body.

Ye who are God's children, and have thus been baptized, stand. (A large company arose.)

All who desire to obey God in all things, now stand. (Many more persons arose.)

I command you who are now standing who have not obeyed in Baptism, to be baptized. Let the whole people arise and commit themselves to God.

PRAYER FOR THE PEOPLE

Father, bless this company, for Jesus' sake, and let them commit themselves unto Thee.

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me power to do right, no matter what it costs. Give me Thy Holy Spirit, that I may obey Thee now in Baptism, and in all things. Let Thy Spirit come upon those about to be baptized, for Jesus' sake.

The Recessional was then sung by the Choir, as, followed by the robed Officers of the Church, they passed out of the Tabernacle.

The General Overseer then delivered the

CLOSING PRAYER.

Father, grant us Thy Peace through this night, and until the night shades flee away, and the light of the Eternal Day shall come. Follow with Thy Benediction this people.

BENEDICTION.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who will also do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

After a brief intermission, the General Overseer delivered a solemn and impressive charge to the sixty-five candidates who presented themselves for Baptism, while a very large audience listened intently to his word.

Then the Ordinance was administered by the General Overseer.

"EXCEPT A MAN DIE—"

Powerful Sermon by the General Overseer, Beautifully Illustrating the Necessity of Death in Order to Attain the Highest Life.

In a brief but cogent discourse, on Lord's Day afternoon, February 17, 1901, the General Overseer made plain the wonderful teaching of Jesus concerning Death and Life.

The day was pleasant, the air crisp and bracing, and although no special announcement had been made, Central Zion Tabernacle was crowded. Only a few of the least desirable seats in the upper gallery were left vacant.

There were fully three thousand people present when, with the beautiful words, "Love Divine, all Love Excelling," Zion's White-robed Choir and the Officers in their robes slowly marched up the aisle and took their respective places.

Deeply moved by the powerful truths proclaimed by the man of God, in the sermon which followed, the audience listened with the closest attention.

Grasping easily the plainly-presented teaching, they arose, at the close, and, almost without exception, consecrated themselves to God and to the faithful sowing of the Good Seed, in His Name.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 17, 1901.

The services were opened by singing Hymn Number 307:

In the heav'nly pastures fair,
'Neath the tender Shepherd's care,
Let us rest beside the living stream today;
Calmly there in peace recline,
Drinking in the truth Divine,
As His loving call we now with joy obey.

CHORUS—Glorious stream of life eternal,
Beauteous fields of living green,
Though revealed within the Word
Of our Shepherd and our Lord,
By the pure in heart alone can they be seen.

The Apostles' Creed was then repeated by the congregation.

The General Overseer then read from the twenty-third Psalm; also the fortieth chapter of Isaiah.

Overseer Speicher then offered the general prayer, the General Overseer presenting to God the petitions of the sick and sorrowing, which had reached him in hundreds, from all lands.

After the announcements had been made the General Overseer said:

A Few Words Concerning Obedience in Baptism.

We are determined more and more to get the Full Value of a Complete Obedience to God.

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

The blessing of God is in exact proportion to the obedience of faith, not only as individuals, but to our faith as a Church and people.

The power of Obedience to God is so great that I would not hesitate to say that if the Christian Catholic Church in Zion should reach the plane of a Perfect Obedience, it would sweep the world completely with the All-Conquering Everlasting Gospel within twenty-five years—yea, within ten—yea, within five!

There is that possibility.

God has foretold, by His prophet, that the time will come when a nation shall be born in a day.

Remember, however, nations are not fully educated in a day. Nations do not become Christian in full stature in a day.

There are a great many people who are not patient. They want that which is born, to be a man or a woman at once. You cannot get it that way. When you get a baby, you get the sweetest little thing in all the world, and the dirtiest little creature. (Laughter.) It does not know how to keep itself clean for an hour.

It is born, but it has to be educated. It has to find powers of expression. It has to find its little feet. It has to walk in the right way. It has to learn that fire burns, and that water will drown. It has to learn many things which it does not know. It has to find out what a great many people never do find out in all their lifetime. They are babies all their lives. They think that everything they can get is good to eat (laughter) or drink. The consequence is that they fill themselves up with every kind of muck.

Nations Will be Born in a Day.

How are they to be born?

They are to be born by Repentance, by Faith, by the Power of the Spirit of God. They are to be born into full Christian life, just as they obey God in a Real Baptism.

Every one who is born of God sees the Kingdom, but except you be born of water and of the Spirit, you will never enter into the Kingdom.

Moses saw the Promised Land, but he was disobedient and was kept on the Mount Pisgah side of the Jordan because of disobedience.

Joshua crossed and entered, and possessed the land.

Just as long as you keep from obeying God, just so long you will lose blessing.

You entered into a fuller life, you who have been baptized, when you obeyed God in Baptism. Is that not true?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—I desire Obedience; Obedience to God in Baptism.

We have baptized 9300 in three years and eleven months.

I know that there are more than 700 people in Chicago alone under conviction on this subject. Why should they not be baptized? Of course they should be baptized. They will miss blessing until they are.

I therefore announce that there will be

A Baptism at the Close of Every Lord's Day Afternoon or Evening Service in Central Zion Tabernacle.

There will also be a Baptism every Wednesday evening. These special Lord's Day Baptisms will be continued until the middle of March, and possibly longer.

I desire you to help bring in those who are keeping out a blessing by disobedience. I am determined that we shall obey God fully. I should like to see the number of those baptized 10,000 by March 14, 1901.

Overseer Speicher then made the announcements for Chicago, after which the tithes and offering were received.

DEATH NECESSARY TO LIFE.

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, and profitable unto this people, and unto all to whom these words shall come, for the sake of Jesus. Amen.

TEXT.

The voice of one saying, Cry. And one said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field: the grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the breath of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the Word of our God shall stand forever.

"Change and decay in all around I see."

Or, as a great English poet wrote,

> The Old Order changeth, yielding place to New,
> And God fulfils Himself in many ways,
> Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.

Generation after generation comes and passes away.

The Earth is One Vast Cemetery.

The Continents are built up amid the Oceans upon the bodies of the dead. Coral insects labor away down in the depths of the warm seas. In countless myriads they die and add their dead bodies to the dead bodies of their progenitors, until at last the coral reef comes up to the surface, where the last generation of the coral insect works its last work and dies.

Then there drifts to that coral reef, wood, plants and earth. Then a little island is formed. The palm-tree seed, sown by the birds, carried by the winds or washed thither by the waves, is planted.

In going through these seas, sometimes you see, high up in the sky, the fronded leaves waving, while the trunk is so slender that you do not see it in the distance. The beautiful green leaf of the cocoa-nut palm appears, as you come near it, growing up out of the white coral sand, the Continent of the Dead.

Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit.

There is a need for the planting of the seed which seems to die.

There is no form of Life so powerful as that which follows Death, as men call it.

Jesus made us understand this. When speaking of Himself, He said that He must needs die.

Except a man gives his very life, in doing his Divinely-appointed work, he will never be a great blessing to his race.

Unless the Son of God had given His Life for the world, we should have no life.

The Soliloquy of the Seeds.

You are looking forward to the Spring. You are looking forward to your little lawn. You have the grass seed, perhaps, all ready. You have thought out a lovely garden-plot. You have put away the little seeds which you intend to sow.

If you could get these seeds talking, as it were, if they were capable of it, they might, in their ignorance, say:

"How happy we are; we are so carefully guarded from all harm. We are enveloped in silver tissue paper and highly prized. The little children come and peep at us and say, 'Oh, I am so glad to see you there, you dear little rose seed, you dear little violet seed, you sweet little pansy seed, you beautiful lily seed. I am so glad to see you there.'"

"What pleasure we give the children, and how great is the care they take of us."

But, when the snow is gone, and you have well-prepared the soil, and all seems ready, perhaps your children say, "Mamma, isn't it time to plant the seeds? Cannot we do it today?"

"Wait a little longer, dear," you reply, "until the earth is warmer; until all the frost is out of it; until the sun shines more warmly. Then we will put the seeds in their little beds Then we will plant the roses."

Then the day comes when you plant them. Your iittle ones are dancing around, saying, "We are going to plant the seeds today."

Then you or the gardener, whoever he or she may be, plants the seed.

All at once the seeds stop talking. They are planted. They are left alone. They hear no happy voices of children any more. They are in their graves.

Oh, what a chill comes over the seeds! If the seeds could talk, they would say, "Why put us here? We were so happy. The children buried us, laughing and dancing."

The Death of the Seeds, and Their New Life.

Then the seeds would be so lonely.

By and by they begin to feel something happening. They have wept so much, that they are beginning now to expand. They are breaking their hearts. They are crying out as they swell, down there in the earth under the influence of the rain, and the water in the earth, and the sun: "It is getting so warm, and it is getting so terrible. What is this?"

They grow bigger. They are going to burst.

They cry, "Oh, I am going to die."

They die.

But the children are dancing around the flower beds. They say, "Mamma, when will it come up?"

"Oh, in a day or two, dear."

Presently, there is a little green shoot appears above the soil.

"Oh, mamma, it has come up, I saw it." And the little one is very happy.

Is the seed dead?

The little shoots which come up watch for the children, and if they could talk, would say: "Are we the same little seeds?"

The children will be laughing and playing around them, watching them grow, and watering them.

"Oh, how nice this is; it is better than when we were seeds," the roses, or the other lovely flowers say.

Then some day, somebody plucks the rose and takes it away. Ah, but the rose tree goes on to do its glorious work. Are there not within it thousands of new seeds which can be sown again?

Thousands of New Rose Bushes now bloom and blossom and bear flowers which never would have been had the little seeds we first saw not been buried in the earth, and died, as men call it.

Analogy of Man to the Seed.

Except a man die to sin, to self, to all that is evil, and lets the great God by His own infinitely wise processes expand him until his own old, old self is gone forever—except he die, he "abideth alone."

Look at the result of the death of the seed.

There are a hundred seeds where there was one. There are the many beautiful branches with their flowers continually growing throughout the season. They let some of the flowers grow. They do not pluck them. Then they take the seed from them, perhaps, a thousand fold.

Can we not learn this lesson: that the Word of God liveth and abideth forever, but the Word must be hid in good, honest hearts?

It must be planted.

It must grow.

It must die, if it is to live, and not until that Word becomes a new life can it ever fulfil its duty.

Story of the Mummy Wheat.

Only a mummy!

Only a dead Egyptian; 3000 years in the Pyramids. This is his skeleton. So frail is it, as they unrobe the mummy swathing, that when it is exposed to the atmosphere it crumbles into dust.

Three thousand years ago it was buried there.

Search in the mummy case. What strange things you find there!

"I say, I have some wheat," says Belzoni or one of his companions, and they look at it. There are the large grains of wheat which had been buried with the dead Egyptian 3000 years before.

"I wonder if it would grow?" says one.

"Yes," says another, "I believe it would."

"You take that mummy wheat," says Belzoni, "and plant it."

It was taken and planted. They watched to see whether a seed that had been buried in a pyramid, and in a mummy case with the dead, could grow after 3000 years.

It grew, and it grew, and it grew. They tell me that in this day there are vast waving fields of wheat all over Manitoba, and in many parts of Australia, which sprung from that handful of mummy wheat. It was carefully trained, carefully preserved, carefully resown, and none of it used until it came to be a great seed wheat.

Buried truths will lie for thousands of years, but if these truths are the Good Seed of the Word of God, then, when they are brought forth and sown again in the hearts of the people, they will bear an abundant harvest.

All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field: the grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the breath of the Lord bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the Word of our God shall stand forever.

What though the grass withereth, and the flower fadeth, there is one thing which never withers. There is one thing which never fades. "The Word of our God shall stand forever." Thanks be to God for that! I am so glad that there is something which stands, and that it is the Word of God.

Jesus said:

It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit and are life.

God's Messenger Only Sows the Seed of Truth.

Sometimes, you will read in books, magazines and papers concerning this humble man who talks to you, "I wonder how Dr. Dowie does it. I wonder how he does it."

A great many people seem to imagine that I have some occult way of doing things. Oh, if they only knew what I have told them all the time, that I never did anything at all, but that I simply took the wheat, the golden grain which had been buried for hundreds of years in the mummy case of a dead Church. I took it. I said, "This seed is the Gospel of the Kingdom of God. This Word is true: 'I am the Lord that healeth thee.'"

I sowed the seed, and it grew, and it grew. Here (indicating the great audience) is some of the increase.

How did I do it?

I sowed the Good Seed.

I sowed beside all waters.

I sowed not only in the spring, but in the winter.

I sowed when the snow was on the ground.

I sowed sometimes when the thermometer was ninety-eight in the shade in Zion Tabernacle No. 2. I was melting away (laughter), but I sowed it, and I kept on sowing it.

Now, thanks be to God, you are sowing it. That is what the Lawsons and the Daily Liars do not understand. (Laughter.) They cannot understand how the Word of God is fulfilled.

I am so glad that those people who are but as the grass are never able to withstand for a moment the Word of God.

A Sure Stronghold is Our God.

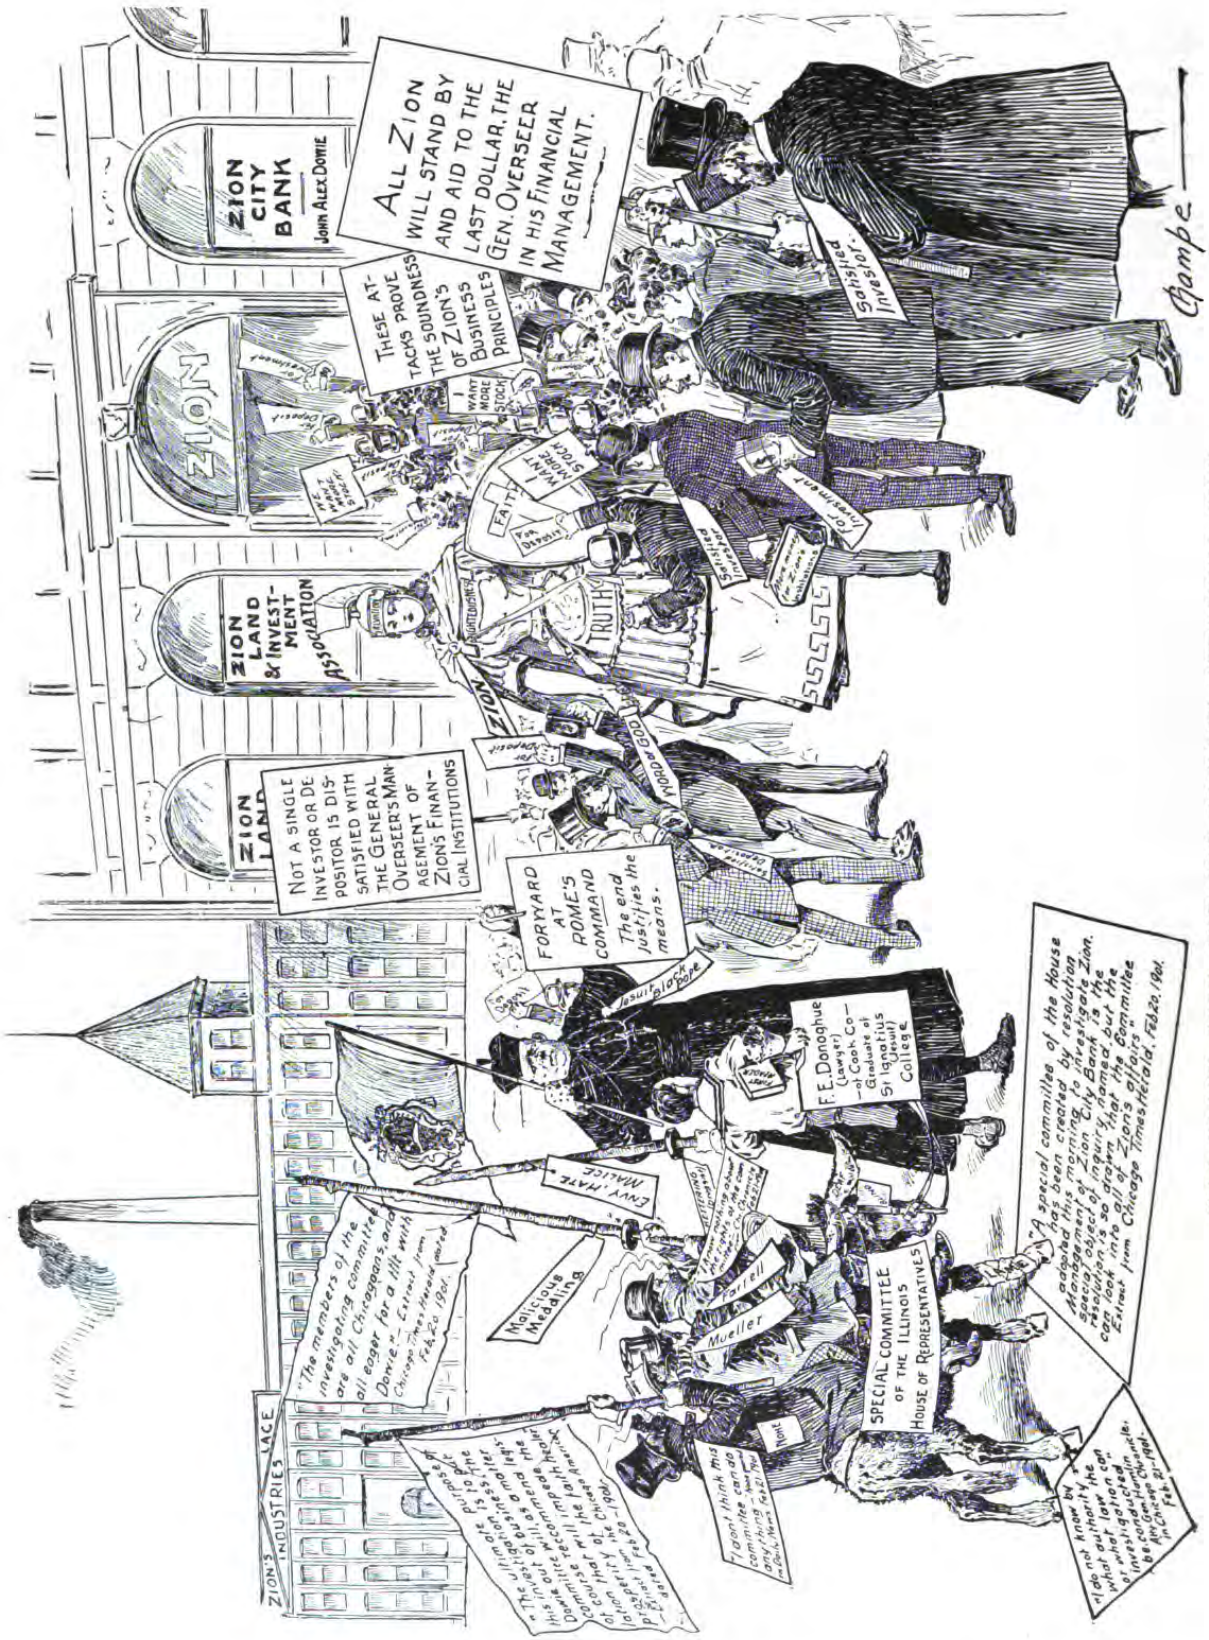
The German hymn that has rolled down through centuries, comes to mind in this hour. I take Carlyle's translation:

A safe stronghold our God is still,
A trusty shield and weapon;
He'll help us clear from all the ill
That hath us now o'ertaken.
The ancient Prince of Hell
Hath risen with purpose fell;
Strong mail of Craft and Power
He weareth in this hour,
On Earth is not his fellow.

With force of arms we nothing can,
Full soon were we down-ridden;
But for us fights the proper Man,
Whom God Himself hath bidden.
Ask ye, Who is this same?
Christ Jesus is His Name,
The Lord Zebaoth's Son,
He and no other one
Shall conquer in the battle.

And were this world all Devils o'er,
And watching to devour us,
We lay it not to heart so sore,
Not they can overpower us.
And let the Prince of Ill
Look grim as e'er he will,
He harms us not a whit:
For why? His doom is writ,
A word shall quickly slay him.

God's Word, for all their craft and force,
One moment will not linger,
But spite of hell, shall have its course,
'Tis written by His finger.
And though they take our life,
Goods, honor, children, wife,
Yet is their profit small;
These things shall vanish all,
The City of God remaineth.



Thanks be to God, the Word which God spoke shall be fulfilled, despite all the powers of hell in Chicago. Zion City shall be built, and God shall be glorified. (Applause. Amen.) This people shall do it. This is a Message from God.

My brothers and my sisters,

We are the Oldest Generation of the World.

Upon us have come all the ages, and all the generations of the past. The hosts of hell from beneath and the hosts of heaven from above are looking at the Great Fight which must take place in this Twentieth Century.

Shall we be recreant to our God and fear the face of man?

Shall we be recreant to our God and fear the hate of Devils?

Shall we be recreant to our God and fear any power upon earth or in hell, or shall we be true to God, and go upward to Zion?

All who intend to go upward, Godward, in all their lives, stand up and tell Him so. (With a few exceptions, the entire audience arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me Thy Holy Spirit, that I may do right; that I may repent, restore and confess. Give me power to serve Thee. Help me to take the Good Seed of Thy Word and plant it in many desolate hearts, and water it with sympathetic tears, and shine upon it with sympathetic love. Then let Thy Seed grow in my heart, and may I know that although this body shall pass away, my spirit will live forever, and that that which Thou hast sown in me on earth will live in heaven. For His sake help me to believe this and rightly to do Thy will in Jesus' Name. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

When the audience had finished this solemn prayer, with an earnestness which betokened its sincerity, they stood, silently, with bowed heads and prayerful hearts, while the sweet voices of Zion's White-robed Choir sang the Recessional,

Saviour, again to Thy dear Name we raise,
With one accord, our parting hymn of praise.

Following them, the Officers of the Church marched slowly down the aisle, the General Overseer leaving the platform last.

Then, as the voices of the singers ceased in the distance, the voice of the General Overseer was heard in the

BENEDICTION.

Jehovah bless thee, and keep thee:
Jehovah make His face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee:
Jehovah lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee Peace.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

After a brief intermission, the General Overseer reappeared on the platform, with Overseers Piper, Speicher and Mason and Deacons C. J. Barnard and H. Worthington Judd, without the robes of their offices.

The audience was still very large, fully 2000 remaining to the Conference.

THE ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE DEFIED.

The General Overseer Strongly Denies the Right of the Legislature to Investigate Zion City Bank. An Attempted Blow from the Hand of the Black Pope.

Legislation against Zion has often been threatened in the Illinois Legislature; but even those who knew best the notorious character of that remarkable body scarce expected that the first attempt would be anything quite so idiotically absurd as the resolution for the investigation of the affairs of Zion City Bank proposed by young Representative Francis E. Donoghue, of the Fifteenth Senatorial District.

The General Overseer dealt with this crudely-constructed attack upon Zion Financial Institutions with characteristic energy and thoroughness, in a Conference of the members of the Church, held at the close of the afternoon service on Lord's Day afternoon, February 17, 1901.

The Conference brought out not only the fact that Zion City Bank had not a single discontented depositor, and Zion Institutions not a single dissatisfied investor, but the unprecedented pledge of financial support to their last dollar, from two thousand people.

The Conference was opened by singing Hymn Number 151.

All then joined in repeating the ninety-first Psalm.

After the congregation had sung "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," the General Overseer offered the following prayer:

PRAYER BY THE GENERAL OVERSEER.

Our Father who art in the heavens, we ask Thee in Jesus' Name that the Spirit of Wisdom, and of understanding and of knowledge, and of the fear of the Lord may be given to us that we may be of quick understanding in the fear of God, not judging after the seeing of the eyes or the hearing of the ears.

Help us, O God, never to fight behind entrenchments, but to go forward at the first challenge of the enemy and to sweep out of the way those who would prevent the extension of Thy Kingdom. O God, help us therefore to do our work tonight in Jesus' Name, and for His sake, that the way to Zion City may be made plainer and plainer, and that the City may be gloriously built and Zion established for Jesus' sake. Amen. (Amen.)

General Overseer—What I say to you I desire to say wisely.

I desire that every one of you here will most carefully consider what I say.

I suppose you do not read the Daily News now, do you?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Do you read the Chicago Record?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—I heard of an Overseer who read the paper over another man's shoulder (laughter), but the Overseer told me that he only promised not to buy it. I think that was all I said about it.

You promised me that you would not spend a penny on these papers of Victor Lawson's, did you not?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Do you intend to keep that promise?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—I will have to spend some pennies on them at our Headquarters Offices just to enable us to see what the Devil is doing in these vile papers.

Last evening when I was at supper and looking at the evening papers, the first thing I saw was what I am going to ask Overseer Piper to read. I wish you to listen very closely. I will ask him to read every line, because there is a very useful old Latin maxim which reads obsta principiis, which means "resist beginnings." I have always found, in this great warfare, that when there was a fire started, the first thing was to stamp it out, and to stamp it out quickly.

When there was a leak, I always found it a good thing to stop the leak quickly.

When there is a fight, have it quickly done and through.

I took up that fight last week, and smashed the lie concerning the alleged drug store smashers being members of this Church. There has been no more of that Lie which Victor Lawson's papers originated, not a whisper. Where are the drug store smashers? How very mysteriously did they all disappear after I proved that there were none of them in Zion, and, in fact, that they did not exist!

Beloved friends, I have not the slightest doubt that Victor Lawson was looking about all week for some way in which he might get back at Zion. I do not blame him. If I were the Devil, I should get back at Zion every time. I could not help it. If I were the Devil, I would be wicked.

If I were Victor Lawson, I should do the same thing. He could not help it. He is a wicked Hypocrite; a mean Scoundrel; a Liar; a Thief. He has been at that work so many years that he thinks he can succeed by going on with it. But Zion in the power of God will crush that generation of vipers who are now misleading and deceiving the masses of the people by suppressing the truth and manufacturing lies concerning Zion.

I desire to show this whole Nation and world that Lying Does Not Pay.

God has answered my prayers, and has delivered Zion every time, has He not?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—He will deliver her this time?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—This is only something which is going to be done. If it is done, I will let all concerned know what Zion will do.

Please to read that article, Overseer Piper, just as it is printed in the Daily News of last night in this city.

Overseer Piper then read the article:

MAY PROBE ZION BANK.

RESOLUTION FOR INVESTIGATION WILL BE INTRODUCED IN THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

DOWIE'S DEALS ARE LARGE.

F. E. DONOGHUE AUTHOR OF THE MEASURE—APPLIES TO ALL UNCHARTERED BANKING FIRMS.

John Alexander Dowie's Zion City Bank will be investigated by the State Legislature if a resolution prepared by Representative Francis E. Donoghue, of the Fifteenth Senatorial District, passes.

The measure calls for the appointment by Speaker Sherman of a committee of five members to probe the private banking business in general and "Dr." Dowie's savings institution in particular. It will be introduced in the House of Representatives next week.

The investments in the Zion City, near Waukegan, made by Dowie recently, together with the general air of mystery surrounding all the Zion financial interests, have led Representative Donoghue to think it would be well to lay bare the entire business, so it can be learned whether or not the depositors' funds are endangered. Other members have promised to support the measure, according to Mr. Donoghue, and it is known there has been a general feeling on the part of many members some such steps should be taken.

THE RESOLUTION IN FULL.

The resolution is as follows:

"WHEREAS, There exist in the City of Chicago, County of Cook, State of Illinois, institutions receiving savings deposits and transacting other banking business, without any official supervision for the protection of depositors, among such institutions being a bank known and described as the Zion City Bank, which is said to be owned, operated and controlled by John Alexander Dowie, alleged faith-healer; and

"WHEREAS, There have been deposited in said Zion City Bank large and numerous sums of money, to be held in trust or invested for the benefit and use of the said depositors; and

"WHEREAS, In such an institution as said Zion City Bank, where one man may be led by a religious enthusiasm or untrained business judgment to make reckless investments, or be misled into other mismanagement of depositors' funds, there is constant danger of disaster which would be attended by impairment of trust funds and consequent loss to thousands of poor people, the depositors, or their hard-earned savings; and

"WHEREAS, It is notorious that the said John Alexander Dowie, or his agents, have purchased hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property at tremendously inflated values, as a site for a proposed city or religious community, and contemplate adding thereon improvements which in the aggregate will amount to an enormous sum; and as failure to realize profits on said real estate speculation, or any circumstance adversely affecting the success of that enterprise, would be likely to involve the Dowie interests in financial ruin; and

"WHEREAS, It is currently reported that the said banking institution has expended other large sums of money in questionable enterprises; and

"WHEREAS, The recent failure of a number of private banks has demonstrated the necessity of some regulations for the protection of innocent and trusting depositors; therefore be it

"Resolved, By the members of the House of Representatives hereof assembled, that a committee of five members be appointed by the Speaker for the purpose of investigating conditions surrounding the private savings bank business in general in the City of Chicago, and said Zion City Bank in particular, to learn what regulations, if any, exist for the protection of depositors; whether the funds of said Zion City Bank have been used for speculations of any character whatsoever; who, if any one, is associated with said John Alexander Dowie in the management or financial responsibility of said Bank; what collateral or other security is in existence as representing the assets of said Bank, if any; what margin of cash is kept on hand for use in the event of a 'run'; and to report back to this honorable body with recommendations as to needed legislation not later than April 1, 1901; and be it further

"Resolved, That the committee are hereby invested with full power and authority to send for persons, papers, and books, administer oaths and examine witnesses."

DONOGHUE EXPLAINS HIS BILL.

"Dowie has been making a lot of investments lately and some of them look pretty wild on their face," said Mr. Donoghue today in explaining his motives, "and a number of the members think something should be done toward protecting the depositors. There cannot be too many restrictions placed around the banking business respecting savings, and when a man brings religious pressure to bear upon communicants of his faith in order to induce them to deposit their funds in his Bank, it is time that the subject should be looked into.

"So far as I can learn everything connected with this so-called Zion is in Dowie's name, not as trustee for the Church, but personally. There is much in that connection which I am convinced would repay investigation. I made inquiry of the State Auditor, and he says there are absolutely no State regulations affecting such banks as Dowie's, so there is no way of finding out what is being done except by special investigation."

Zion City Bank Depositors Contented and Confident.

The General Overseer then continued:

I will make short work of it as far as we are concerned. Let every one who has a dollar in Zion City Bank, or a dollar in any of Zion's Investments, stand. (Several hundred arose.)

Is there one, man or woman, amongst you who desires the Illinois Legislature to investigate Zion City Bank?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—If there is, say Yes.

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—I will ask another question of both you standing and you sitting. Has any one of you ever been unable to get from Zion City Bank any money you put there?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Is there any one of you who knows of a single discontented depositor?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—If there is, say Yes. I want that discontented depositor to go down tomorrow morning and get his money at once.

Is there one of you discontented?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Are you afraid?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—We would be better off without any who are discontented; but I do not believe there is one who is. I thank you.

Do you think that Zion is afraid of investigation?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Do you think we ought to allow investigation?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Do you think it is right for us to show exactly what money you have in the Bank?

Audience—"No."

General Overseer—Is that the business of Mr. Donoghue or anybody else?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—I will further question: Is there one single person, whether a member of this Church or not, who has any charge to make against Zion Investments of any kind? If there is one, let him stand up. We will give him the floor. (There was absolutely no response to this offer.)

Now let me deal with this thing.

Who Is Mr. Francis E. Donoghue?

What does it mean? I wanted to know who this young man was. On Saturday night I found nobody who knew anything about him. Our own attorney, who knows all the attorneys of standing in the city, and has been in practice in the city for more than thirty years, knew nothing about him.

A noticeable fact about this, first of all, is that it was only the Daily News yesterday that had this information. Neither the Post, nor the Journal, nor the American, nor any of the morning papers, Tribune, Times-Herald, Inter-Ocean or Chronicle, knew anything about it. But the Daily News knows all about it.

What is it?

It is nothing that has happened, but something that may happen. If a certain resolution prepared by Representative Francis E. Donoghue passes in the House at Springfield, then the Illinois Legislature may examine Zion City Bank.

I shall not be at all troubled at what the Illinois Legislature may choose to do. If the Illinois Legislature chooses to undertake a quixotic attack upon Zion City Bank, it will have to take the consequences, just as some other people have had to take the consequences of their attacks upon Zion. Every attack has failed to injure Zion.

I am not afraid of the Illinois State Legislature.

I am not afraid of the Congress of the United States.

I am not afraid of any man or combination of men living.

I fear God, and I will keep His commands. (Amen. Applause.)

Has any depositor of Zion City Bank called for an investigation?

Voices—"No."

After talking over the phone last night with Attorney Packard, I set to work to find out what I could gather about this young man. I did not know whether he was young or old at the time, but the Sunday papers had something, I was told, and two of them were brought to me, the Chronicle and the Tribune. The Tribune has a portrait of this novice, in which it says that the author of this proposed resolution represents the Fifteenth Senatorial District and is serving his first term in the Legislature.

Yes, I should think he was. (Laughter.) This looks like the action of an imprudent first term man. It looks like the work of a kindergarten child in the school of legislation.

He lives at 398 West Adams Street, and has resided in the district since his birth, twenty-nine years ago.

After graduating from St. Ignatius College, the Jesuit College of Chicago, he became associated with Jesse Holdom, and was admitted to the bar eight years ago when he was just twenty-one.

Then I looked at the face the Tribune pictured. I have been accustomed to look at faces. This face is one-fourth chin, one-fourth forehead, and two-fourths cheek. (Laughter and applause.)

I would be unworthy of the honor which you have done me all through, and of the confidence which thousands upon thousands of persons repose in me throughout the world, if I did not at once take this shameful thing, which he says he will ask the House of Representatives to pass, and strangle it in the very beginning.

Defiance to Rome.

This young man is a harmless kind of legislative tyro in himself, no doubt, but he has suffered himself to be made a tool of—whom? A tool of the Devil.

St. Ignatius College is attached to the Jesuit Church on Twelfth Street, I think, near Blue Island Avenue. What is the Jesuit Order?

Before I go further, let me say, I have been wondering when Rome would show her hand.

I have expected all through that one of the next big fights would be with that old Harlot of Babylon; the Mother of Harlots, Rome. If Rome wants a fight with Zion, she can have it whenever she likes. The Christian Catholic Church in Zion does not fear for a moment the Jesuitical Catholic Church in Rome. (Applause. Amen.)

If the time has come for me to lay bare what Rome is, I am ready. I have long been ready.

I am an old fighter in regard to Rome. I have wrestled with one at least of her greatest ecclesiastics.

In the conflict in Australia between myself and Archbishop Vaughn the result was declared immediately by the fact that his pamphlet, which I analyzed at the request of the entire Protestant community in Sydney, New South Wales, was withdrawn from circulation as soon as my pamphlet appeared. Friends and foes admitted that. His was entitled "Hidden Springs," and my reply, to which thousands listened in 1877, was entitled "Rome's Polluted Springs."

For years my life was in great danger from the Jesuit power. I dare say it is still.

This move is, in my judgment, a Jesuit move. Rome has become seriously alarmed. Rome, through the Jesuit Order, marks and watches the rising up of any power that will be likely to damage the papacy.

When Rome desires to reach a man who damages her, she employs that "Society of Jesus," as it is miscalled, which has been so infamous in all the ages since it was brought into existence by Ignatius de Loyola, whose so-called Spiritual Exercises require a Jesuit "to be like a corpse which has neither will nor understanding, or like a small crucifix which is turned about at the will of him that holds it, or like a staff in the hands of an old man who uses it as may best assist or please him." The General of the Jesuits, called by the Roman populace the Black Pope, controls absolutely every member of the Society, and, therefore, Francis E. Donoghue, novice of that Order in all probability, is simply ac cadaver, "as a corpse," in the hands of the clever and unscrupulous Jesuit Fathers of St. Ignatius College and Church in Chicago. The White Popes have either been the bitter foes of the Jesuit Order, or its creatures and slaves. Popes Urban III, Innocent XI, Alexander VIII and Clement XII opposed the Jesuits, and Clement XIV, in 1773, issued a Brief of Suppression and commanded them to disperse at once. But other Popes have been their tools, as Pius IX, the immediate predecessor of the present Pope Leo XIII: for they procured the declaration of the Infallibility of the former by the Vatican Council, and caused the election of the latter. Therefore the Jesuits are supreme at Rome and in America, and the Black Pope, their General, has apparently given his orders.

When Rome wants to destroy an antagonist, she employs the Black Pope.

The White Pope is Leo XIII. The Black Pope is the Jesuit General. I fear neither the White Pope, nor the Black Pope. (Applause.)

Rome Fears Zion.

Zion is like the Israelites of old who marched out of Egypt. They were trained in the desert. They marched upon Caanan, and the fear of them made the hearts of the heathen to be like water. The fear of Zion is such that you cannot talk to a priest or an apostate minister of any Church but the very words Zion and Dowie give them an epileptic fit, as it were. (Applause and laughter.)

This attack, properly understood, is a great compliment to Zion.

Do any of you believe that poor Mr. Francis E. Donoghue is lying awake at night weeping over the possibility of poor people losing their money in Zion City Bank? (Applause and laughter. Cries of "No.")

Has he anything there?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Have any of his friends anything there?

Have any of our depositors asked him to do this?

Who has asked him?

Voices—"The Jesuits."

General Overseer—The Black Pope, the Jesuit General.

If I am called upon to fight this fight, I shall probably tell you at great length what are the principles of Jesuitism which this young man imbibed at St. Ignatius College, and of which he is probably a novice.

There are six, or possibly seven, grades of Jesuits: Novices, Scholastics, Temporal Coadjutors, Spiritual Coadjutors, Professors of the Three Vows, and Professors of the Four Vows, and it is evident, too, that there is a seventh grade, known in Europe as "Jesuits of the Short Robe."

Rome Has a Covetous Eye Upon America.

Despairing of conquering Europe, from which they are being driven every day, the Jesuits are determined to conquer America. But God has raised up Zion. The true Catholic Church will conquer, and not a false Catholic Church. (Applause.)

Rome sees in Zion her greatest danger. She is sharp. She is bright. She knows when danger comes. She knows that it is not in the big, worn-out, effete organizations where the ministers are too busy riding goats at night and eating banquets to be of any danger to Rome, but that it is in an organization like this, where, from the General Overseer to the humblest man and woman, the members are devoted to God, to truth, to purity, are willing to coöperate, with their money, and with their time, and with their talent, and are willing to live and die and stand together for the Extension of the Kingdom of God. (Applause.)

All who are willing to do that, stand. (With a very few exceptions, the entire audience arose.)

I will not deal with Rome very much further today. I give Rome notice, however, that if this thing goes on, I will hunt it down. Then there will be more than the exposure of the poor little fledgling with one-fourth brain, one-fourth chin and two-fourths cheek.

I shall feel that the time has come when I must tighten my girdle and go out for the biggest fight of my life. That will be to smash the Roman Catholic Church in Chicago (applause), and to deal it a heavier blow throughout the world than it received in Luther's time.

That fight must come some day. I feel it must.

Ah, Rome feels that the people are slipping from her grasp in all parts of America. They are here in the fellowship of this Church in hundreds and in thousands, and they are coming.

Mr. Donoghue's Proposed Resolution Examined.

Let us look at this suggested resolution of this poor little lawyer.

God in Zion has entrusted to me for the past five years the oversight of her ecclesiastical, her educational and her business interests. Have they suffered?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—What is the verdict of our enemies?

This man says that Zion must be investigated because of current reports. What are they? He says that large and numerous sums of money are put in that Bank and are in great danger because of the "one man who may be led by religious enthusiasm or untrained business judgment, to make reckless investments."

Now it is exceedingly impudent of a young lawyer twenty-nine years of age, who when I came to this city was only a boy of eighteen, to look in the face of a man of nearly fifty-four who has my experience and say to him that he is untrained in religion and in business.

Who is this who passes this verdict? A boy, young enough to be my son—a piece of downright impudence!

I was in business, and in the front of a large business, eight years before this young man was born. When he was admitted to the bar eight years ago, a mere boy of twenty-one, I had been God's minister for twenty-four years.

Witness of the General Overseer's Enemies to His Business Ability.

It is a piece of remarkable impudence upon the part of a youth of this kind to speak of me as an untrained business man, especially when even our adversaries among the newspapers even in Chicago say in the plainest of plain terms that whatever you may think of my religion, there is no question about my business ability.

The Chronicle said last week, in effect, that if I had not the harmlessness of a dove, there was nothing in the way of the wisdom of the serpent which could beat me in America. (Applause.)

Or shall we put it as did the Economist, the great real estate paper, which said that my investments had been of so remarkably a successful character that they had not only proved of immense value, but they had raised the entire value of land along the "North Shore" of Lake Michigan.

The Financial Times of London said: "The potential importance of Dr. Dowie's plan is plainly manifest."

The Nottingham papers said:

Dr. Dowie is admired in Nottingham. Nobody is very certain if he ever visited the place at all; certainly he never carried on there such a campaign as we lately witnessed at St. Martin's Town Hall.

But there is hardly a man of any importance in connection with the lace trade of Nottingham, no matter what may be the branch with which he is chiefly concerned, who has not lost some of his best hands.

Dr. Dowie or his agent at Beeston has known whom to choose, and will relieve Nottingham of none of its useless labor.

The Evening Journal of this city said: "If Dr. Dowie would float a few millions of stock, there are a good many shrewd investors who would take a little Zion preferred."

The Tribune, the very next morning after I had announced this purchase, said: "In any case, however, Dr. Dowie has probably made a safe and profitable investment from which he may later realize an immense unearned increment."

Not one paper in all this Continent or in Europe has criticised my business capacity, but praised it, and especially in connection with our purchase of ten square miles of land near Chicago as a site for Zion City.

Who, then, is this youth of twenty-nine years, this "corpse," or "crucifix," or "staff" of the Black Pope who has come to judgment? (Laughter.)

Donoghue a Cat's-paw of the Jesuits.

The contemptible cat's-paw of that Scoundrel, Thief and Liar, Victor Lawson, as well as the contemptible cat's-paw of the Black Pope, who would put a dagger in my heart tonight, if he could! He thinks, however, he can effect more by ruining Zion City Bank, and thus bringing to ruin all Zion's plans in religion, education, and business.

Can he do it?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—I do not believe he can. I thought I some day should have this fight, and I begin to smell it coming: for the atmosphere of the Press has been getting more and more sulphurous.

He says next that I have bought the land at tremendously inflated prices. If he can go in and buy the land at fifty per cent more than I paid for it anywhere as near Chicago as Zion City, he will be the cleverest real estate man in this city.

Regarding the Prices Paid for Zion City Land.

The fact is that we have bought that vast tract of land, ten square miles, at less than $200 per acre on the average, with two miles and a half frontage on Lake Michigan, with not a single bad acre in the whole of it. It would be profitable for cabbage-growing at that price. We could make money out of it in growing garden truck.

He lies. He knows that land so situated cannot begin to be bought now at the price we paid for it; and that the getting together of so vast an area of land in one compact block for a city site, cannot possibly be duplicated between Chicago and the Wisconsin border, along the shores of Lake Michigan. That fact alone makes the land of immensely greater value: for it requires skill, time, wisdom and money to effect so large a purchase.

Does he possess the power to do better?

Let him do something before he again embodies his impudent, ignorant and impotent criticisms of Zion's Land Investments.

What are the facts as to the actual value of my investment in behalf of Zion?

Did we not print within a short time after our purchase that Mr. Kilgallen, who had financiered successfully the townsite of Chicago Heights, made, through my attorney, an offer of half a million dollars for our bargain?

In our Editorial Notes in LEAVES OF HEALING for February 10, 1900 (Volume VI, Number 16, pages 503-4), the following appears:

We are receiving from all sides evidences of the confidence that the best business men in Chicago have in Zion City. This is seen in all branches of the city's commerce; but especially among real estate men.

It is manifested in many curious ways, among which are a number of offers to ourselves personally to buy from us what we have purchased, and pay us a very large sum of money upon our bargain.

One of these is set forth in the following letter which we have just received from Zion's esteemed attorney, Mr. Samuel W. Packard:

"LAW OFFICES OF SAMUEL W. PACKARD.

"Suite 1513 Ashland Block,
"N. E. Cor. Clark and Randolph Streets.
"CHICAGO, February 6, 1900.

"REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE,
"1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

"Dear Doctor:—Today Mr. M. H. Kilgallen, the General Manager of the Chicago Heights Land Association, was in my office on a business matter not connected with Zion City, and took occasion to say some very pleasant things about your undertaking which I thought you would be glad to hear.

"He said if you wanted to sell out your option on this six-thousand-acre tract of land, he could find you a purchaser at a nice advance above what it has cost you.

"He regarded the plan as a very nice one outside even of the question of having a loyal constituency ready to take the lots and become residents of the city.

"He thought you secured the land at a very low figure, considering its character, location and compact form.

"He has been frequently called into courts here as an expert on the value of outlying land, and is probably the best posted man today in Chicago as to the value of a body of land located as this is.

"He considered it very advantageous, as well as unusual, that the option contracts enabled you to get the land as you wanted it without having to pay but a small portion of the purchase price down, and the balance to run without interest for so long a time.

"I told him that you would not sell the land and there was no use to try to induce you to part with it, but that I would report to you what he had said, as I knew it would please you to find out how your purchase was regarded by outsiders capable of forming a correct judgment on the enterprise.

"Yours very truly, S. W. PACKARD."

When we received this letter, we immediately telephoned to Mr. Packard, requesting him to ask Mr. Kilgallen if he had any objection to permitting us to publish his opinion in LEAVES OF HEALING.

He at once replied to Mr. Packard, "Certainly not; he is quite at liberty. I meant just what I said, and I mean it all still."

We thank him for his kindness: for his opinion is of very great value, being entirely unsolicited and wholly disinterested. It was given at the very time he was desirous of purchasing our property, a circumstance which adds to its value.

The well-known fact that he is frequently called as a witness in the upper courts as to the value of lands in the immediate vicinity of Chicago suitable for town sites, and the further fact that he has been the successful promoter of the beautiful town known as Chicago Heights, south of Chicago, adds strength to his opinion.

The assertion that this gentleman is "probably the best posted man today in Chicago as to the value of a body of land situated as this is," would be very generally confirmed by all Chicago business men whose opinion is of value in such matters.

Conductor Rice knows this gentleman. What does he say at this time about my investments?

Conductor Rice—"I saw him last night. He says they are all right. He is interested. He talked more about Zion City than he did about Chicago Heights." (Laughter.)

General Overseer—I am not going to give the business secrets of Zion even to Zion itself. Zion trusts me, do you not?

Voices—"Yes."

Digitized by Google
Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

General Overseer—If you do not, I will ask God to take me to heaven.

If Zion Did Not Trust Me, I Would Not Care to Live.

I have nothing to live for, but the work of God. I would not care about living, if I did not have the favor of God and the confidence of my people. But I have that favor and that confidence.

This is an attempt to break my heart, and to destroy that confidence; but it will take more than a little Jesuit novice, a petty lawyer in his first term in the Legislature, to overthrow this mighty work of God in Zion. (Amen.)

He lies when he says, in this proposed resolution, that I purchased land at tremendously inflated values. Mr. Kilgallen is an expert upon land matters. He is often chosen as a referee, and appears in the courts as being able to give authoritative testimony as to the value of land. It is he who offered me half a million dollars for my bargain, which was an advance of thirty-three and one-third per cent upon my purchase.

If I chose to dishonor myself by selling the site of Zion City, I could get millions. But I would count it fraud. It would not be fraud legally.

Everything has been done in my name, and everything has been done by the sweat of my brain, and I would have a right, if I chose, to the profits. But I did it in the Name of God, and in the name of my people.

I stood here on the first day of last year, and said that this was God's land which I had purchased. If it is God's, it is not mine.

Zion City Land is God's Forever.

If I were to take advantage of my own legal position today, I could sell out Zion and put $5,000,000 gold in my pocket. But if I do so, write Ichabod upon my forehead, and Ichabod upon the Christian Catholic Church in Zion; for the glory will have departed, and the Devil will be in possession.

Hence, if any man in Chicago should come to me and say, "Dr. Dowie, there are ten millions for you, or ten millions for Zion, if you will part with your interests in that land on the North Shore," I would say, "No, sir."

In the first place, the land is worth more to Zion than ten millions, and in the second place, there is no money in America that could buy it. It is God's, and it is my belief that it will be God's forever. (Applause. Amen.)

I say this because I desire the fact to go far and wide throughout the world: that as long as there is breath in my body I will preserve every foot of that investment for God. I will not sell an inch of it. I thought of giving you leases for 1100 years, but Mr. Packard's investigation has proved the legality of a 4000-year lease. So I may give you a 4000-year lease. (Applause and laughter.)

It appears that there is a decision in one of the highest courts concerning a 4000-year lease, holding that it is good in law. Therefore, I will give you a lease, which will forever keep out the pig and the pills, the drugs and the tobacco, and the damning liquor, and will give us power to root out at once any violations of the lease, and immediately suppress any place which is used for gambling or immorality.

Zion City shall be clean. (Amen.)

That is what they hate. They see it is coming, and they are trying by every means to destroy it.

He says, in this proposed resolution, that a number of private banks have failed, and it is necessary therefore to examine Zion City Bank.

Defiance to the Legislature at Springfield.

I have made up my mind as to what I am now going to say: Mr. Donoghue, you say you will get Speaker Sherman to appoint a committee of five to come down here and call for me and call for my books, and investigate Zion's most private business.

There is a scene in Shakespeare's King Henry Fourth where the following brief dialogue occurs:

> Glendower—"I can call spirits from the vasty deep."
> Hotspur—"Why, so can I, or so can any man;
> But will they come when you do call for them?"

Yes, Novice Donoghue, "But will they come?" There's the rub. (Laughter and applause.)

I commend that quotation to the Legislature at Springfield. (Applause and laughter.)

You can call for me. You can call for my books, but I will not tell you anything about my business, nor tell how much money my people have to their credit. That is their business and mine, and we trust each other. (Amen.)

Moreover, it is none of your business, Messrs. Legislators. If you will pass a law which says that private banks shall disclose their business to public examiners, you will have to make it applicable not only to John Alex. Dowie and Zion City Bank, but to N. W. Harris & Co., to A. O. Slaughter & Co., to Farson, Leach & Co., Knight Donnelley & Co., Lyon, Gary & Co., Jamieson & Co., Farwell Granger & Co., all doing business, with many others, as Private Bankers in the City of Chicago; and you will also have to extend it to every one of the one hundred and thirty Private Banks in the State of Illinois. Perhaps you will also get it in New York to apply to J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., and Russell Sage.

I think you will find yourselves in a very considerable mess if you attempt to say that a man, whether he is a banker or a draper, whether he is a grocer or a steel manufacturer, if he has any private business, shall be compelled to open his books to the Illinois Legislature.

There is Something Bigger Than the Illinois Legislature.

Gentlemen of the Legislature, I think there are a few honest men among you. I think there are some sensible men among you. I think there are a number of business men among you. I think there are some good lawyers among you. I think these ought to prevent your going into such a foolish business.

If I do not come, the Legislature, it is said, can do something. What can they do?

They can arrest me for contempt.

Yes; I once told a Court in Chicago, during our year of persecution, 1895, when the Judge threatened to punish me for contempt, "That is simply impossible."

He said, "I can."

I said, "You cannot; this Court is beneath contempt." (Laughter.) And the Court went no further: for he well knew it to be true.

The Result of a Fight With the Legislature Would be a Victory for Zion.

They might arrest me for contempt, but there is such a thing as the Habeas Corpus Act. If they arrested me for contempt, I should at once call upon the highest court in this city, the Federal Court, to release me on a writ of habeas corpus. Then I should fight the matter out with the Illinois Legislature, and the results of the fight would be three things:

First, I should win.

Second, they would lose. (Laughter and applause.)

Third, Zion City would get an advertisement worth half a million dollars. (Applause and laughter.)

I hope the Illinois Legislature will not attempt the impossible.

Nothing can ever take away my common law rights or yours. I can trust you with a dollar if I please. You can trust me with a dollar if you please. If we think that it is in good hands, the Illinois Legislature has nothing at all to do with it. Is that not fair and square?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Zion is not afraid of investigation. It would be found, if there were an investigation tomorrow, that what we consider to be ample and enormously large collateral is to be found in Zion City Bank, against every advance; and that we have a sufficient sum in gold coin immediately available to meet our depositors' demands.

I ask the Manager, is that not true?

Deacon Barnard—"It is true."

General Overseer—Do you consider that the securities which you hold are, in the names and in the property they represent, immensely more than the advances you have made?

Deacon Barnard—"Yes, sir."

General Overseer—Is that your solemn statement?

Deacon Barnard—"Yes, sir."

General Overseer—Is it yours, Deacon Peckham, Cashier of the Bank?

Deacon Peckham—"Yes, sir."

General Overseer—Is it yours, so far as you know the affairs of the Bank, Deacon Judd?

Deacon Judd—"Yes, sir."

General Overseer—I am Proprietor of the Bank by the unanimous voice of my people. All that Zion wants to know is that those who have the conduct of affairs are satisfied.

It Would be a Very Unwise Thing to Let Every One Know Just How Zion is Managing Her Affairs.

Any man of business knows that.

I have some deals in hand, in connection with Zion affairs, which would be seriously affected by information as to our intentions being given.

For instance, if I were planning to buy a forest of lumber, and the books and the correspondence disclosed where we were going to buy it, I would be handicapped in that deal, and Zion would have to pay more money for the lumber. I am buying lumber, I tell you plainly, and I am buying coal. (Laughter.)

I am buying for Zion General Stores, and I find business people everywhere eager to do business with Zion on every line.

There is nobody I know in Chicago who has Mr. Donoghue's opinion. I am of the opinion it is not his opinion. If it is his opinion, his opinion is, as the editor of the Knickerbocker Magazine once said, "worth a little less than nothing at all." (Laughter.)

A year ago a sustained attack was made upon Zion's Financial Institutions. What was the result? Within two weeks Zion's Financial Institutions showed about $80,000 larger resources. Is that true? Do you remember it?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—I told it publicly. If you know of a single dissatisfied depositor, send him down tomorrow morning to Zion City Bank to get his money. Those, if any, who are dissatisfied, do not trust us, and we do not trust them. I know there will be none.

I will read to you a letter from a brother in Pennsylvania:

DEAR BROTHER:—Ever since the persecutions at Mansfield, Ohio, I have believed that you are a people of God. Hence I have full confidence in you. I send you $1,700 for investment. (Applause.)

He is not a member of the Church.

A member of Dr. Lawrence's Second Baptist Church came down last week with $2,000 and told Deacon Barnard there was more to follow. We want him to follow. (Applause.)

An Unparalleled Pledge of Financial Support.

Mr. Donoghue says that his great fear is lest a run should take place upon the Bank.

His great hope is that there will be. That is what he means. He would like to make a run; but we will make him run before we are through with him. (Applause and laughter.)

I am right in saying, from my knowledge of the seating capacity of the building, that there are close upon 2000 persons in this building at this moment.

I will ask you, my brothers and my sisters, if our enemies could cause a run upon the Bank, would you not come to my aid with the last dollar in your pockets?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—All who would do that, stand. (Without an instant's hesitation, with possibly an exception or two, the entire audience arose.)

If I had a run tomorrow, would you bring me every dollar you had?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—Every dollar you could borrow?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—One word more, and I will close. I will stand here for a minute or two and answer any proper question that any depositor or shareholder in Zion's Institutions likes to ask. If there is one of you who desires to ask a question, stand up and ask it now.

A Brother—"I would like to have some more stock. Can I have it tomorrow?" (Applause and laughter.)

General Overseer—Any one else? Yes, you can get more stock.

The Day Will Come When Zion Stock Will be Unprocurable.

Just now it is procurable, and we can do very well with hundreds of thousands of dollars of capital this year to rapidly extend Zion Industries, and make the improvements to the City. I thank God for this confidence.

I will now tell you a little story. Deacon —— came up from —— a few days ago, and as nearly as I can recall his conversation, this happened

He said, after talking about other matters—you know he is a bright business man: "General Overseer, I have a proposition which may mean a hundred thousand dollars stock in Zion Lace Industries. Will you permit me to make it to you?"

I said, "I do not deal with these things in detail. I turn them over to Deacons Judd and Barnard."

He said, "There is a reason for my making it to you."

I told him to proceed.

An Extraordinary Offer.

He said: "A certain gentleman in —— greatly admires your business capacity. He is not a member of Zion, but says that he will sell out his stocks—and they are good stocks—in a certain concern to the extent of a hundred thousand dollars. He will start with $15,000 today, if you will vary the Agreement slightly."

I said, "Stop! I will never do it. I will never have one Agreement for the mass of my people, and another Agreement for some rich people. There is one Agreement for everybody. Is not the Agreement good enough?"

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—He said Yes, too. But the answer he made, laughingly, was this: "General Overseer, he does not object to the Agreement, except on one point. You claim the right to end that Agreement; to give one year's notice and pay any or all stockholders out. That gentleman has so much confidence in you that he wants you to give him a written or verbal Agreement that you will keep that money in Zion Lace Industries for twenty-one years."

I said, "I will not do it."

I will tell you why.

Shareholders Not Members of Zion to be Early Paid Out of Zion Lace Industries.

In Zion Lace Industries, we propose to give six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven and twelve per cent, each year of the first seven, respectively, and twelve per cent thereafter for fourteen years, subject to the right to pay off stockholders at any time upon giving one year's notice.

I may keep the money for seven years; I will not even guarantee that. But at the end of the seven years, I shall put my little ax upon my shoulder and walk into the garden and say to the gardener, "I see the stockholders fattening, growing rich upon twelve per cent. Tell me, Deacon Barnard—put a tab upon the neck of each one who is not a member of Zion."

He puts a tab upon the neck of each one who is not a member of Zion. I come in. I chop, chop. (Applause.)

Those who are not members of Zion will be given a year's notice and paid out. I do not intend to have twelve per cent of Zion's profits go to fellows who are spending it in beer, skittles and "champagne at night and real pain in the morning." I will give the high rate of interest and dividends to Zion's people, just as soon as I can.

Then I might even reduce some of Zion's people. I might say, "Tell me which of the shareholders are widows or orphans." Then I would pay out some of those who were not widows and orphans.

I said to Deacon ——, "That man does not belong to Zion, and if he does get into Zion we will not fatten him forever with the profits of Zion Industries."

I desire that Zion—God's people—shall get the profits. There are great profits in Zion's Investments.

In Michigan Avenue, where Zion Home is, the land, within the memory of a living man, I am told, was sold for less than a hundred dollars a foot. Today it is valued at $3,000 a foot. That price was paid for land across the street.

I Want Zion's People to Have the Profits on Zion Investments.

I want my people who have been with me from the beginning, and have borne the burden and heat of the day, to get this money. And I want all who come in now, and those who are on the way to Zion, to share in Zion's prosperity.

I want God's people to get it; for it means more happiness in their homes, furniture, food, books and clothing. It means nice little gardens. It means more money to God's cause, and more gratitude and love to the great God Himself. I want this. I will toil for it. I will fight for it, and I believe I shall win, even although I have to fight the Illinois House of Representatives.

Pray for me, will you not?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Stand by me, will you not?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—It is just as well to kill this thing at the start, but I hate to have to take so much time to do it, and on this sacred Day.

Pray for me.

This work is tremendous. I have a thousand things to care for which you cannot see; but I shall win if you will pray and stand by me.

I believe what I say now to be true as it is in God's sight: I would rather my hand were cut off than that Zion should lose through my folly or my sin. I can only pray God to spare my life, that the investments which are already valuable shall be increased, and that the income shall be so great that Colleges and Schools and Temples shall be built, and that thousands and tens of thousands of men and women shall be trained as Zion Messengers to all parts of the World, before God shall call me.

Then I wish my body to be buried where I turned the first spadeful of earth for the Site of Zion City Temple, last July.

I Wish My Dust to Lie in the Midst of the Temple in the Midst of My People.

Your God is my God. Your happiness and aspirations and expectations are mine, and when I pass away, I want my clay to mingle with the clay which I consecrated on the 14th day of last July.

When I was in England, and there was once danger of my murder, I told my attendant, "If I should die and you can get my body, embalm it, take it out and bury it where I consecrated the Site of Zion Temple."

I am desirous of establishing this great City, because I believe it will be a Preparation for the Coming of the Lord. I believe we can establish Zion Cities in other lands. I believe we can extend the Kingdom of God and overthrow the powers of the Black Pope and the White Pope, and the Mah-hah-bone Pope (Amen), and all the other Popes over all the earth in due time.

On all sides God is blessing.

May God give Zion the Victory. (Amen.)

All who want that Victory for God, and will pray for me, stand. (Apparently all arose.)

CLOSING PRAYER.

Our God and Father, bless us each to the other, as General Overseer, and all associated in Zion. Give Zion Victory over all her enemies, and give us grace to be quiet and godly, and earnest and diligent, that we may bring no reproach upon the Name of Christ and upon Zion, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Notice to Zion Travelers.

Friends of Zion going to Europe and other parts of the world are respectfully informed that an Agency has been established to secure rates, accommodations and protections for first, second and third class passengers to and from all parts of Europe, etc.

Arrangements have been made with the principal steamship and railroad lines to book passengers to and from all parts of the world, at the lowest possible rates.

For rates, maps and full information apply to DAVID F. ROBERTSON, Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Speedy Healing in Answer to Prayer.

WATERLOO, IOWA, January 24, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—Your letter of 23d in reply to telegram saying you had prayed for Mr. Smelcer, received.

A short time after the message was sent, Mr. Smelcer went to sleep and continued getting better rapidly. He is now up and around.

We are very grateful to you.

We also thank you very much for the Scripture given; it was just what I wanted.

Yours in Christ, CLARENCE MILLER.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, MARCH 6th or 7th.

What God's Word is Like Unto.

1. It is like unto water.—Ephesians 5:25-28.
   To refresh the spirit;
   To revive the soul;
   To animate the body.
2. It is like unto fire.—Jeremiah 23:29-32.
   To burn up the dross;
   To purify the affection;
   To warm the heart.
3. It is like unto wheat.—Jeremiah 23:23-28.
   To nourish the spiritual forces;
   For it is indispensable to life.
   It is sound from cover to kernel.
4. It is like unto gold.—Psalm 119:121-128.
   Which answers every need.
   The desire to possess it becomes a passion.
   The more one has of it, the more he wants.
5. It is like unto honey.—Psalm 119:97-104.
   Nothing is sweeter than God's Word?
   No soul that loves it can be sour.
   It gives life to one's spiritual insight.
6. It is like unto a lamp.—Psalm 119:105-112.
   The way is light when God's Word is followed.
   One needs light for the slippery paths of life.
   Those who walk in its light never stumble.
7. It is like unto a sword.—Ephesians 6:16-19.
   The Devil does not stand fight when the sword is wielded in power.
   Faith enables one to strike hard blows without fear.
   To go into life's battles without it, is to be defeated.

The Lord Our God is a Scripture-Comparing God.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, MARCH 10th.

What to Do With God's Word.

1. Receive it meekly.—James 1:21-25.
   Come to it to be taught, not to confirm your notions.
   To all who hold on to some sin, it is a closed Book.
   Not to obey it is to lose all the good it would yield.
2. Search it carefully.—John 5:39-47.
   You will ever get a better knowledge of Christ through the Scripture.
   One cannot believe one part of the Bible and not another.
   Unless you see Christ, the All in All, you search it in vain.
3. Love it constantly.—1 Peter 2:1-5.
   The appetite should ever relish God's truth.
   To feed on the Living Word is to grow.
   Only those who have tasted of Christ will relish His Word.
4. Approach it reverently.—Psalm 119:161-168.
   Do not approach God's Word in a haphazard way.
   Prepare your heart, for this Book has been prepared for you.
   It will yield you a peace which knows no alarm.
5. Obey it willingly.—1 Peter 1:22-25.
   It never costs too much to obey God's truth.
   When it is obeyed, it creates one anew.
   To do it is to abide forever in security.
6. Use it prayerfully.—2 Timothy 2:14-17.
   Do not rush at people with the Bible.
   Bible talk is not always timely.
   Fit the truth to the man, but the man must be prepared for the truth.
7. Explain it patiently.—2 Timothy 2:22-26.
   Some will always see God's truth in the wrong sense.
   You cannot help people always by answering their questions.
   Unless they see the Devil has them, they will not want the way of escape.

God's Holy People are a Bible-Devoted People.

NOTES OF THANKSGIVING TO ZION'S GOD.

By DEACON O. L SPRECHER, Private Secretary to the General Overseer.

THE RANSOMED of the Lord shall return,
And come with singing unto Zion;
And everlasting joy shall be upon their heads:
They shall obtain gladness and joy,
And sorrow and sighing shall flee away.—Isaiah 35:10.

THOSE who were with the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion throughout his missions in Europe, have much to reflect upon and untold blessings to rejoice over.

While it is true that conflict followed conflict, yet God gave victory after victory in every way.

We recall how marked was the prejudice depicted upon the faces of so many who attended the first public meeting in London, held in Holborn Town Hall, on Lord's Day morning, October 7th.

In contrast with this, there comes to our minds the love and sympathy which was manifest in the faces of so many hundreds who sat in St. Martin's Town Hall on the night of October 31st, when the last meeting of the first London Mission was held, and miracles of healing were testified to.

As we write these lines, there lies before us the letter of a very prominent business man of a certain city in England. This gentleman tells of how he had been prejudiced against the General Overseer, but after attending some of the meetings he found that God's Holy Spirit had taken hold of him and was making him see how much a work of grace was needed in his own heart.

He had been blessed through the teaching of the General Overseer. The prejudice went away, and he found himself thanking God for the ministry of the General Overseer.

He then went about inviting his friends to the meetings, and doing all he could to refute the lies of the daily papers and to get the prejudice swept from the minds of the people.

Much blessing has come to his home, and he rejoices over the privilege of hearing the General Overseer in London. This is but one of the many such cases.

We think of another, whose face comes to our mind, as we remember how humbly he wrote to the General Overseer asking forgiveness for the way in which he had spoken against him in his ministry in times past; because he had been misinformed and had allowed prejudice to spring up and remain in his heart. This gentleman had labored in evangelistic work in England for many years. Of course, he was freely forgiven, and the General Overseer had the pleasure of dipping him deep in Triune Immersion some days later.

It is impossible to even mention more cases in this connection; suffice it to say that the Holy Spirit worked in the hearts of the people and many were made to see that they had grieved God in misjudging His servant. They repented, and in many ways showed their sincere love for the Messenger and the truths which he was preaching. Many even obeyed him whom they had despised but a short time before.

In short, it may be said that the Holy Spirit was present in every meeting, convicting the people of their sins and leading them to Repentance and to fuller Consecration to God.

With deep emotion some wept their way to God and sought and found His peace and blessing.

We have before us a letter in which the statement is made that both the husband and the wife surrendered themselves to God immediately upon receiving a letter written to them by the General Overseer, assuring them that he had prayed for their Salvation and Healing. Not only had peace come to their hearts, but relief from pain and sweet sleep had come to the sick one. They praised God for His goodness to them.

Applications for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion were received from many, informing the General Overseer that they were converted in this or that particular meeting which he conducted, and that they desired to come at once into fellowship in the Church.

We think it well to record here a brief testimony of Salvation given by two who had been drawn into Spiritualism. They surrendered themselves to God in the last meeting in St. Martin's Town Hall. As one reflects upon that meeting, it seems impossible that any one should have gone away from it without consecrating themselves to God.

Here is the testimony given by two bright young people:

41 GRANVILLE SQUARE, KING'S CROSS ROAD,
LONDON, W. C., 13th December, 1900.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—From early boyhood I was compelled to go to church and Sunday School, against my will most of the time. I must admit that I was sometimes disobedient and played truant in that matter.

A number of years ago I met the young woman who is now my wife, and I came into contact with the Spiritualistic teaching, as some of my wife's relatives believed in it.

I contrasted some of the Spiritualistic teaching and its effect in the lives of some who believed it with the teaching in certain orthodox churches, and the result of that teaching in certain persons' lives, and I thought there was more reality and power in the Spiritualistic side than the denominational Christianity as I saw it.

I have attended a great many meetings where the doctrines and not the phenomena of Spiritualism were taught.

It seemed to me that these Spiritualistic teachers spoke as mediums of the Spirit.

I thought that all ministers ought to be mediums for the Holy Spirit.

When I would see ministers read their sermons, it would set me dead against them. I could not believe in them.

As a Spiritualistic believer, I did not believe the Bible to be inspired.

Christ was not preached as a power today. The churches did not preach that He healed today, through the power of the Holy Spirit.

I believed that Christ did heal as a man, as a medium of God; but I did not believe in His Divinity.

In these Spiritualistic meetings I have heard Christ taught as a good man, but never heard Him acknowledged to be the "Son of God manifested in the flesh."

I understand that the Spiritualists believe the Bible to be a history, but no more; they do not believe in its inspiration.

I looked upon Jesus as a very good man, about the best man that ever lived. I believed that He was the Son of God in the same sense that we are all sons of God, but I did not accept the claim of His Divinity.

However, I believed that healing ought to be done today by a medium.

The churches seemed to me to teach the Divinity of Christ without any evidences of it.

However, the Spiritualistic teaching did not satisfy me and my wife.

They taught that we must bear our own sins and their consequences, with no escape from the consequences.

They told us to pray to God for help, but, as we now see it, they did not lead us to the Father, because they did not pray in the Name of Jesus Christ, the Son of God; and as He has said that there is no other Way to the Father, they could not get help from God.

Some years ago my wife and I had joined the Countess of Huntington Connection, which is a sect between the Church of England and the Wesleyans.

I now know that I was not converted at that time, although I had a desire to live a better life. My wife also feels that she was not converted, although she had thought she was.

During the past summer we have been attending various Socialistic, Atheistic, Christian Evidence, Christadelphians and Humanitarian Deism meetings.

We have been seeking for the truth for a long time. We were not decided as to whether the Spiritualistic teaching was of God or the Devil, and we could not find any one who could prove to us whether it was right or wrong.

We heard of your meetings in St. Martin's Town Hall. We read about the riots of the medical students.

My father had attended some of the meetings, and he came home and reported that he believed that some people had been healed in answer to prayer.

I do not know that he just asked us to go and hear you, but on the day that the C. I. V.'s had their parade, my wife and I were drifting around for amusement.

We passed St. Martin's Town Hall in the evening, and out of curiosity we went in and looked at some of the literature on the table downstairs.

We bought some copies of LEAVES OF HEALING, and found some things therein regarding the eating of swine's flesh which interested us. I will remark here that there was no more bacon for our home.

We went up into the Hall to hear you speak, and sat reading LEAVES OF HEALING while waiting for you to come.

I went into the meeting in a criticising mood.

We listened to your address, and liked what you said so much that we determined to go again on Wednesday evening. Wednesday evening was the last meeting which you were to conduct.

As we sat in St. Martin's Town Hall that Wednesday evening, listening to what you said and hearing the remarkable testimonies which were given as answers to prayers offered by you in the Name of Jesus Christ, we were made to see the truth.

We turned to each other several times and said, "That is the truth. That is what we have been looking for. We have got it at last."

We repented of our sins and consecrated ourselves to God. We felt that we ought to join Zion at once, but we did not know where to find any Zion meetings. We felt lost without them.

We have joined the Christian Catholic Church, and we have peace in our hearts.

I find that the Holy Spirit is working in my spirit to such an extent that I am able to give the Devil a few hard knocks.

We know that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that He was manifested in the flesh.

We know in whom we have believed.

We know that the Bible is the Inspired Word of God.

I have had no indigestion since I ceased to take in pig.

ROBERT J. B. BUSHNELL.

We cannot attempt to give any further details concerning the conversions which took place.

The Message of Repentance toward God and man, as it has ever been preached by the General Overseer, has always brought about the same results: namely, that sinners have yielded themselves to God in every service he has conducted, and those who were already Christians have had a deeper work of grace wrought in their hearts.

Throughout the entire mission in Great Britain and Europe, it was a common thing to see the largest portion of the audiences rise to their feet, at the call of the General Overseer, and repeat the Prayer of Consecration.

This Prayer of Consecration has ever been the means of leading thousands of those who have repeated it into richer blessings in spirit, soul and body than they had ever experienced before.

Many were led to see the wickedness of belonging to Secret Societies which, in reality, denied their Lord.

We remember especially how one who had been prominently connected with a Masonic Lodge in London came out boldly and renounced it, was baptized, and later on was received into fellowship in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

We remember how tears of penitence filled the eyes of the people again and again, and how many sought counsel from the General Overseer, asking him to direct them how to make confession and restitution to those whom they had wronged, and to pray with them that God would forgive them and grant them His blessings.

It was just such teaching and preaching as the General Overseer gave that was needed to show the people their real condition in the sight of God. It led many to true conversions and to Holy Living.

One of the grand results of the ministry of the General Overseer in Great Britain and Europe was the large number of persons who were ready to obey God in Baptism, after listening to his careful and thorough teaching on the subject.

Four baptismal services were held in London during his missions there. Three hundred and seventeen persons were baptized in these services, and a number were still waiting the opportunity when he left that city, January 2, 1901. A number of these have since been baptized by the Evangelist-in-Charge, Rev. H. E. Cantel.

Baptismal services were also held in Belfast, Ireland; in Grimsby, England, and Zurich, Switzerland, at which places eleven, fourteen and seventy-two, respectively, were baptized. There would have been many more candidates in each city had it been possible to have taken more time for teaching on the subject and to arrange more suitable hours for the services.

A large number were ready for Baptism in Edinburgh, Scotland, but no satisfactory arrangements for the service could be made there.

We thank God for the wonderful blessings which many received in their Baptism.

Again and again we saw the faces light up with joy and heard the words which came from those who had just been baptized, as they came up out of the water, saying, "Praise God!" "Bless the Lord!" "I believe I have received what I asked for!" "I believe I am healed," etc. And so it proved to be. They had received the blessings, according to their faith, in spirit, soul and body.

We have applications for membership from many who state on their applications that they received great blessing in Baptism, and a number remark on their applications that they were healed of certain diseases in the act of Baptism.

Satan was cognizant of the obedience of so many to God in Baptism, and he took much delight in creating much bitter persecution toward some who had been baptized. Some were made the subject of most unkind and unchristianlike acts on the part of professed Christian leaders of certain religious organizations, and some even lost their positions on account of their obedience to God in this matter of Baptism.

God has been overruling all this, and we have heard no expression of regret from those who obeyed.

God has ever made Baptism in Zion a power. Throughout the mission in Europe He continued to manifest His pleasure in those who obeyed His command, and poured out His Spirit in large measure upon them.

No sooner had the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion announced in America his intention of visiting Great Britain than the religious press there began to attack him and to criticise him in a most unfair way, and endeavored to make it appear that he was a false teacher of the very worst kind.

As soon as he arrived in London, the secular press came out with wholesale lies regarding him and his mission in that country. These things caused quite a stir in the religious and secular world, and soon agitated the medical profession into a lively attitude of opposition, which was, of course, quite to be expected.

It is impossible to put into a few words the story of how day after day and night after night the General Overseer was compelled to face a hostile crowd, who sought opportunity to vent its feelings toward him.

Not content with constantly interrupting the meetings, on two occasions they created riots inside the hall, by refusing to leave the hall when the meeting had closed, by rushing toward the platform, and threatening the life of the General Overseer and the destruction of property.

When resisted by the officers of the law, who attempted to take them from the building, these medical students injured some of the officers by kicking, beating, and even throwing some of them down the stairs.

The General Overseer then found it necessary to grant admittance into the hall only by tickets which were given to those who would give evidence that they desired to listen to the teaching and not disturb the meetings.

Then these medical ruffians gathered their forces into great crowds which met the General Overseer every day and night, for a time, at the door of St. Martin's Town Hall, and attempted to prevent his entrance and to do him bodily injury.

In the face of all this in London, and various forms of bitter opposition in the other cities which he visited, particularly in Edinburgh, Scotland; Belfast, Ballymena and Londonderry, Ireland, and Manchester and Leeds, England, the General Overseer stayed at his post of duty and delivered the Message which God had given him to each city and land.

Thank God, this Message was received with gladness on the part of many hundreds, and was listened to with careful attention by thousands.

The command to Repentance was obeyed.

The command to be baptized was obeyed.

The General Overseer faithfully taught and preached the Everlasting Covenant of God, and commanded the people to look to God for healing, through the power of the Holy Spirit, telling them that it was God's will to grant them that blessing, for Jesus' sake, if their hearts were right in His sight and if they would obey and trust Him fully. Some did trust God, and a gracious answer was given to the prayers of the General Overseer in their behalf, and they were healed by God.

We have before us a bunch of foreign letters giving testimonies of what God has done for the writers, through the ministry and prayers of the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

One of the first persons to be healed through his ministry and prayers when he came to America over twelve years ago was a poor old woman who had a disease in her feet. It was also a glad fact that one of the first to be healed through his prayers in his first mission in London was a comparatively old woman who was troubled with a disability in her feet. We give herewith a little testimony which she sent to the General Overseer while he was in London:

46 BURGOYNE ROAD,
STOCKWELL, LONDON, October 18, 1900.

I do not know how to address you.

I am not learned. I must use the words of one dear woman who called you "Dear man of God."

I have been so blessed.

My feet are now well.

I did believe before, but I never saw the way or never heard the way so plainly.

I can walk from Brixton Station to Kensington Gate.

Before coming to hear you, I lost my position on account of my feet.

I do thank God for giving me the time and health to come and hear the Good Shepherd's Voice in you, Dr. Dowie.

I want to spread abroad what I know.

I can say from my heart I do wish to abstain from all appearance of evil.

I intended to tell out last night that my feet were well.

I am old and have known the Lord, as I thought, but I found my knowledge was not worth having.

How I wanted to go into that water last week!

I was baptized forty years ago, but I did not see anything or know it. I was moral.

But now I see Jesus.

He seems to speak to me from the water. He says Come, and come I must.

Yours humbly, SARAH GAYWOOD.

We recall the bright, happy face of the writer of the above, as we often spoke to her during the course of the meetings and noted her hearty thanksgivings to God for His having led her to hear the General Overseer, and having granted to her such rich blessings in her spirit, soul and body.

She obeyed God in Baptism and presented her application for fellowship in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

A certain little income which had been coming to her regularly for some time past was taken away from her by a certain party because she attended the meetings of Dr. Dowie, was baptized and joined the Church; but she trusted God, believing that He would supply her every need. He did answer immediately by giving her, from another source, exactly the same sum of money as that which had been taken away from her. It was given to her in such a way that she gained some by receiving it from the latter source.

It is not possible to give details concerning many of the healings which God wrought through the General Overseer's ministry in London, but we shall mention a few more, to the glory of God.

No one who attended the last night of the October mission in London will easily forget that meeting.

The General Overseer replied that night to the wicked articles which had been printed in the British Weekly. His words were well chosen and had the effect of convincing many hundreds that the whole attitude of the British Weekly concerning him and his mission was most unfair and malignant.

It was not only the words which he himself said which had their effect, but God had in a very special way witnessed His approval of the General Overseer and his mission in London. On this night witnesses were there to testify concerning what God had done for them through his ministry.

We here give place to a letter which was placed in the hands of the General Overseer on October 30th, in St. Martin's Town Hall:

52 NEWINGTON GREEN,
ISLINGTON, NORTH LONDON, October 30, 1900.

DR. DOWIE.

Dear Sir:—Many thanks to God our Father for His Healing Grace through you, delivering me from rupture, after twenty-two years wearing a truss.

I praise God I have no further use for the truss, being perfectly healed.

On October 18th I came, believing God would undertake, and the next morning I left the truss at home and went to my work (I am a gardener).

I have been working ever since, realizing and testifying to the fulness of God's Salvation through Christ Jesus, to the glory of the Father, through the Son, in the power of the Spirit, according to His Divine Will.

I am a Salvationist, and I told it out on Sunday last to the surprise of all the people.

May God continue to bless you to the Salvation and Healing of the masses, through Christ our Lord, is the prayer of your humble servant.

WILLIAM PITT.

The above letter was read by the General Overseer to the audience assembled in St. Martin's Town Hall, Wednesday night, October 31st, and the writer of the letter was then called upon to testify personally before the audience to what God had wrought in him.

He came forward to the platform and gave a very clear and emphatic statement concerning his healing. It was thrilling to see how the audience rejoiced and thanked God for His work. His wife confirmed his statements, and the blessing of God seemed to pass over the whole audience.

But this was not all. On this evening another very remarkable Miracle of Healing was witnessed to before God and the people.

Mrs. Lucy Hurran, of 13 Alma Street, New North Road, Islington, London, came forward to the platform and testified that she had been healed instantaneously, at the moment of prayer, when the General Overseer prayed for her on Friday, October 19th, the very next day after Mr. Pitt had been prayed for. We will further remark that these dates, October 18th and 19th, were the days on which the medical students created the riot in St. Martin's Town Hall.

Mrs. Hurran had been sick about eleven years, suffering with Bright's disease of the kidneys. She had sought the help of physicians, had taken their drugs and medicines, "was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse."

Digitized by Google

Before coming to Dr. Dowie's meeting to listen to his teaching and be prayed for, it was evident that she was in the last stages of the disease and that she was rapidly sinking into the grave.

God heard the prayer of the General Overseer, and she was healed at the time above stated.

Her intelligent appearance, her careful statement of her sickness, her clear testimony to her healing, and her every action were such as to impress the audience with the genuineness of the story.

The hearts of hundreds present were lifted to God in praise and thanksgiving.

The wonderful testimony of Miss Essie Thompson, of Ballyhalbert, Kirkcubbin, County Down, Ireland, was also read in this meeting. It was not convenient for her to be present in person and witness to her healing, but the story had been written by a friend of hers and sent to the General Overseer.

Sick for years, confined to her bed for months, having passed through an operation on her foot, very low at the time of prayer, was her condition when God in His mercy regarded the prayers which the General Overseer offered in London in her behalf, and she and others prayed at their home in Ballyhalbert.

God raised her up instantly.

This young lady was able to attend the meetings held in Belfast a few weeks later, and testified publicly to her healing before the great audience filling the large Ulster Hall in that city.

As these wonderful testimonies were brought forward on this night of October 31st, in London, prejudice melted away and love filled the hearts of hundreds in that hall. They thanked God for the testimonies given and praised Him for sending His servant, Dr. Dowie, to London.

God wrought a mighty work in the hearts of the people in that audience that night.

The writer has attended many grand testimony meetings in Central Zion Tabernacle, Chicago, and has heard testimonies from hundreds of those whom God has blessed and healed, but no testimonies ever heard here have ever seemed more beautiful than those which have been mentioned as being given in this meeting in London, October 31, 1900.

For weeks the enemy had howled, and the storm of prejudice, bitter hatred, calumny, and even threatened and attempted personal violence had raged.

It would have been easier sometimes to have wept than to have smiled, had we looked only at the human side.

The servant of God was pouring out his life for the sin-stricken, disease-smitten and dying humanity, who needed to know God's Message of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living, but was being made the subject of continual scorn, ridicule and anathemas of every kind.

Throughout it all he had stood for God and the truth, never once retreating or shirking his duty.

Now he stood justified in the sight of God, and the people were compelled to praise God.

It was like a beautiful sunshine and calm after a storm. The Sun of Righteousness had arisen with healing in His wings, and He had gone forth and given His blessing to the sinful, sick and dying, vindicating the ministry of the General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

It will be noticed by the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Bushnell, given on pages 572 and 573 of this article, that their conversion was a direct result of this meeting. We have heard much of the deep impression and lasting blessing which came to many through this wonderful service. All those persons whose testimonies were given in this meeting were baptized by the General Overseer and are now members of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Their steps in these matters have been followed by many other members of their families and some of their friends. Indeed, it is not possible to tell how much the Kingdom of God has been extended through these testimonies and through the ministry of the General Overseer in Europe.

We hear almost every day of some new development of the work in the various cities which the General Overseer visited. Letters keep coming, reporting more healings which took place through his ministry and are now proved to be well established.

It is proposed to publish some of the cases of healing in detail, with photographs of the persons healed, when a sufficient time has elapsed to give the healings a thorough test.

As we close these Notes, we realize that we have only touched the story of the General Overseer's ministry in Europe, even as we saw it. We are sure that no man or woman can ever write the story fully.

Only God knows all that it meant.

He alone sees fully what was wrought, and we must leave Him to reveal in the future, in His own time and way, that which human and fallible beings cannot tell.

Little Girl Instantly Healed of Jaundice.

DYER, INDIANA, January 15, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER SPEICHER:—My dear little daughter Ruth was taken very sick with jaundice the last part of November, 1900.

We sent a request for prayer and she received a blessing, in that she was able to walk around and eat.

But her color was very green and her bowels in a bad condition.

Eight days after I took her to Zion Home, as she was still sick.

Evangelist Fisher laid hands upon her and prayed, and she was healed immediately.

We give God all the glory, and ask Zion to pray that God may permit her to work for Him in helping extend His Kingdom and hasten the coming of Jesus our King.

Yours in Jesus, (MRS.) KATHERINA STOMMEL.

I desire to confirm the above testimony. A. W. STOMMEL.

Brought Out of Roman Apostasy, Healed and Prospered in Tithing.

HOMEWOOD, ILLINOIS, January 8, 1901.

REV. W. HAMNER PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—The Bible is a new Book to me; for I never read two chapters in it before I came to Zion.

I was a Roman Catholic.

Thanks be to God that now I am a Christian Catholic.

God wonderfully healed me.

I was a complete wreck.

By the laying on of hands and the prayer of faith, by an Elder, I received great blessing.

Now I am obeying God in tithing and never miss the money at all. I am prospering.

Your Brother in Christ, JOSEPH TOMSHECK.

God Answered Before Call Was Made.

214 EAST TWENTY-SEVENTH STREET,
TACOMA, WASHINGTON, January 13, 1901.

DEAR OVERSEER PIPER:—I wrote you a few days ago to pray for me, as I had the grip.

I thank and praise God for healing me even before the letter was out of the house.

I awakened in the night and every particle of pain was gone.

I went out in the rain the two following afternoons selling LEAVES OF HEALING, and God kept me, and does still, praise His blessed Name.

May God bless Zion everywhere.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) A. W. SPRAGUE

God Gives Safe Deliverance.

FOREST CITY, IOWA, January 16, 1901.

REV. W. H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—I have felt for some time I should write to testify to being safely delivered in childbirth, without the aid of a physician.

We have a nice baby boy, born October 12th.

I thank and praise God for His goodness to me.

I also thank you for prayers in my behalf.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) JULIA A. THOMPSON.

He sendeth His word PATIENCE and healeth them.

LEAVES OF HEALING

I am the Lord that healeth thee.

And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

EDITED BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

VOLUME VIII. NUMBER 19. CHICAGO, MARCH 2, 1901. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GOD'S WITNESSES TO DIVINE HEALING.

QUICKLY HEALED OF A TERRIBLE ATTACK OF BLOOD-POISONING AND OTHER AILMENTS.

I WILL CLEANSE THEIR BLOOD THAT I HAVE NOT CLEANSED.

This man's blood was poisoned.

The life-current in his arm was full of pollution.

His arm swelled to a great size. It seemed almost to rot.

It died. It was cold, lifeless, powerless.

The bones in it were decaying.

Humanly speaking, amputation was inevitable, if the man's life were to be saved.

But God's power has no limitations.

God's Love is Infinite.

He was the Creator of that arm.

It was not His will that it should be amputated.

God did not pollute the blood; for there is no pollution in Him.

God did not cause that arm to die; for he that hath the power of death is the Devil.

God made man perfect and clean in body and in blood.

The Devil defiled and maimed him.

But God could not cleanse this man's blood when there was sin in his spirit.

God's cleansing begins at the center and works outward.

Man's spirit is at the center of his triune nature: spirit, soul and body.

JOHN MURDOCH.

This man had sinned. In answer to prayer, God showed him his sin.

By His Holy Spirit, He led him to confess his sin.

When he had repented and humbly asked forgiveness, God forgave him. Through reading God's Word and hearing it taught by God's Messenger, he was given faith to believe that God would not only cleanse his spirit, but, according to His promise, would cleanse his blood, his soul, his life; and heal his body.

He also believed that God's Messenger, the General Overseer, was a minister of God with Divine Authority.

He believed that Jesus meant what He said to His disciples:

> He that believeth on Me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works shall he do; because I go unto the Father.

He believed that Jesus meant it when he said:

> These signs shall follow them that believe: in My Name they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

He believed that the General Overseer had been given Gifts of Healing by the Holy Spirit.

Hence he asked the General Overseer to lay hands upon his arm, praying God to heal.

Every condition had been met, and God kept His promise. The poisoned blood was cleansed.

The dead arm was revived. The decayed bone was restored.

Soon the right arm was as good as the left, which had never been poisoned.

This Witness has also found in God an unfailing Physician at other times He tells his wonderful Story simply and truthfully, with a heart overflowing with praise to God.

The sun, the engraver and the printing press also tell the Story in pictures.

The pictures give indisputable evidence.

Take the Story and the Pictures, Little White Dove, and carry them to tens of thousands in every part of the earth.

Men and women are everywhere suffering the tortures of hell because the Devil has defiled their blood.

Tell them that God has promised to cleanse their blood.

Tell them that He is cleansing the blood of thousands, as He cleansed the blood of this Witness.

Tell them that He is waiting and longing, with a heart full of Divine Love and Sympathy, to cleanse their blood.

They have but to fulfil His conditions of Repentance, Confession, Restoration, Faith and Obedience. A. W. N.

CHICAGO, ILL., Dec. 18, 1900.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear General Overseer:—In December, 1891, I first heard you preach the beautiful doctrine of Divine Healing through faith in Jesus Christ.

During the summer of 1892 it was my privilege to hear you a great many times.

I soon learned that it was every Christian's privilege not only to be saved from sin, but to be healed of all diseases.

I immediately sought forgiveness for many sins by a real Repentance toward God and man.

In the fall of 1892 I sought God for healing of a chronic sore throat of sixteen years' standing. I had suffered from it with special severity for three days and nights.

The third night it kept me awake all night.

I was wondering how I could get word to Dr. Dowie, who then lived at Evanston, when it came to me, "Dr. Dowie cannot heal you. 'I am the Lord that healeth thee.'"

I also thought of the passage: "If two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father."

I told my wife that I believed God would heal me if we would ask Him in faith.

We knelt in prayer, and before we arose from our knees my throat was healed. Blessed be God it has never troubled me since. I was also healed of being scalded in the eyes with hot water and steam, at a pressure high enough to knock me down.

I knelt and prayed and God answered in a moment, or I believe I would have been blind. I was also healed of two broken ribs, kidney trouble and bleeding piles.

On May 1, 1897, I went to be an engineer in Zion Home.

In the latter part of December, while repairing one of the engines, I cut the thumb of my right hand upon one of the brasses.

The next morning one of the urinals in the toilet room was out of order. I took it out, and whether I got poisoned in that wound I do not know, but in the morning my hand began to swell. It was very painful.

I went up to the dining room and had the General Overseer pray for me, but there was no answer

At the All-Night Meeting, he prayed for me again, but there was no answer.

On that afternoon God showed me that I had sinned, and that it must be confessed or there would be no healing.

I immediately sent for our General Overseer, and he and Mrs. Dowie came over.

I told them what was in the way, and he prayed for me. I got relief at once.

Two days after, I stood in the hall talking to a friend, and caught cold in my hand. It swelled worse than ever. Our General Overseer came over on Wednesday evening as he went to church. My hand and arm were so badly swollen that I thought they would burst.

He prayed and laid hands on me, and it opened in three different places.

The first thing I knew the matter had soaked through the bandages and run down to the floor.

The smell was very offensive.

How often Satan would tempt me and say, "You will never be able to use that hand."

I knew he lied from the beginning.

I never for one moment doubted that God would make that arm all right, if I would only obey.

Christ was once more Conqueror.

Overseer Speicher prayed for me several times; but the arm was still dead and cold as a piece of wax.

When the General Overseer prayed and laid hands on that arm, there was a warm feeling went down to the tips of my fingers.

The next morning I could move one of my fingers.

The arm continued to grow stronger until it became whole as the other.

I can say truly that a Miracle of Healing has been wrought.

That man who lay dying of blood-poisoning has been brought back to life and God has once more fulfilled His promise by the prophet Joel: "I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: for the Lord dwelleth in Zion." That arm which was paralyzed and dead, and the bone decayed for six long weeks, has grown strong as ever.

On the 5th of December, 1900, I was bitten by a large dog weighing over a hundred pounds.

He made seven wounds in all, three of them quite severe, on my hand, my arm and my leg. They began to swell and were quite painful. I sent a request to Overseer Piper to pray for me at 11 o'clock.

At that time I knelt in our office and prayed.

I arose from my knees with the calm confidence that Christ was again Conqueror.

I went about my work as if nothing had happened, and the swelling was nearly all gone in the morning. In four days it was well.

I was told how dangerous it was, but was willing to trust God at any cost.

I enclose a photograph of myself taken by my son when I was sick, also one as I am now.

I thank you, dear General Overseer, and all officers and members of Zion for their kindness to me.

Above all do I thank God for our beloved General Overseer and Mrs. Dowie, and for their kindness to me, although I was stubborn and disobedient.

May the Triune God forever bless them.

With a deep sense of gratitude to God, I pray that these feebly written lines may bring blessing to thousands who sit in darkness and the shadow of death.

I remain

Your Brother in Christ, JOHN MURDOCH.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MRS. AMELIA MURDOCH, CONFIRMING HER HUSBAND'S TESTIMONY.

CHICAGO, DECEMBER 18, 1900.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear General Overseer:—With pleasure and heartfelt thanks to God first, then to our dear General Overseer and to Mrs. Dowie, I write these lines.

In answer to their prayers my husband was healed when dying from blood-poisoning in every part of his body.

He was also healed of many other troubles, which you will see by his testimony, which I can truthfully say is every word of it true.

I also wish to say that during the time he was the worst it seemed as if he could not get enough to eat. I had to get up four and five times during the night to get him something to eat, as well as that many times during the day.

I thank and praise our Heavenly Father for His loving kindness and keeping power through it all; for we never doubted God's promises for a moment.

I thank God for the teaching of the Full Gospel and for the many blessings received since being in Zion.

May God bless our dear General Overseer and Mrs. Dowie, and all Zion everywhere.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) AMELIA MURDOCH.

HEALED OF GRIP IN ANSWER TO PRAYER.

REV. J. G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—I am now sound and well, and I did not take an ounce of medicine.

I kept putting off sending a prayer request when I was first taken sick, and did not begin to improve until I did send one.

I was very sick at the time I sent it, with high fever and aching all over. The next day, thank the Lord, I was up and able to do my work. By Tuesday I did not feel as if I had been sick at all.

I am thankful that I belong to the Christian Catholic Church in Zion; for I know I belong to a clean Church.

I have been healed several times of simple aches and pains, and I felt as if I ought to tell it, for I feel so grateful for it all.

Your Sister in Christ, AGNES DEPEW.

REV. JOHN G. SPEICHER.

Dear Overseer:—I write you by request of Oliver Dunham, thanking you for your prayer for him.

He says he is healed of bronchial and stomach troubles; but, better than all, his sins are all forgiven and taken away. He feels like praising God all the time.

He was attacked by grip severely afterwards, but looked to God and came over to our home. We taught him and prayed for him, and he was instantly blessed and healed.

He also sends an application for membership.

DO YOU KNOW GOD'S WAY OF HEALING?

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Let it be supposed that the following words are a conversation between the reader [A] and the writer [B].

A. What does this question mean? Do you really suppose that God has some one especial way of healing in these days of which men may know and avail themselves?

B. That is exactly my meaning, and I wish very much that you should know God's Way of Healing, as I have done for many years.

A. What is the way, in your opinion?

B. You should rather ask, WHO is God's Way? for the Way is a Person, not a thing. I will answer your question in His own words, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; no one cometh unto the Father, but by Me." These words were spoken by our Lord Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son of God, who is both our Saviour and our Healer. (John 14:6.)

A. But I always thought that these words only referred to Him as the Way of Salvation. How can you be sure that they refer to Him as the Way of Healing also?

B. Because He cannot change. He is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever." (Hebrews 13:8.) He said that He came to this earth not only to save us but to heal us (Luke 4:18), and He did this when in the flesh on earth. Being unchanged, He must be able and willing and desirous to heal now.

A. But is there not this difference, namely, that He is not with us now?

B. No; for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world"; and so He is with us now, in Spirit, just as much as when He was here in the flesh.

A. But did He not work these miracles of healing when on earth merely to prove that He was the Son of God?

B. No; there was still a greater purpose than that. He healed the sick who trusted in Him in order to show us that He came to die not only for our sins, but for our sicknesses, and to deliver us from both.

A. Then, if that is so, the atonement which He made on the Cross must have been for our sicknesses as well as our sins. Can you prove that is the fact from the Scriptures?

B. Yes, I can, and the passages are very numerous. I need quote two only. In Isaiah 53:4, 5, it is written of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed." Then in the Gospel according to Matthew, this passage is quoted and directly applied to the work of bodily healing, in chapter 8, 17th verse, "That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases."

A. But do you not think that sickness is often God's will, and sent for our good, and therefore God may not wish us to be healed?

B. No, that cannot possibly be; for diseases of every kind are the Devil's work, and his work can never be God's will, since Christ came for the very purpose of destroying "the works of the Devil." (1 John 3:8.)

A. Do you mean to say that all disease is the work of Satan?

B. Yes, for if there had been no sin (which came through Satan) there never would have been any disease, and Jesus never in one single instance told any person that sickness was God's work or will, but the very contrary.

A. Can you prove from Scripture that all forms of sickness and infirmity are the Devil's work?

B. Yes, that can be done very easily. You will see in Matthew 4:23 and 9:35 that when Jesus was here in the flesh, He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people." Then if you will refer to Acts 10:38 you will see that the Apostle Peter declares that He [Jesus] "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil." Notice that all whom He healed, not some, were suffering from Satan's evil power.

A. But does disease never come from God?

B. No, it cannot come from God, for He is pure, and disease is unclean; and it cannot come out of Heaven, for there is no disease there.

A. That is very different from the teachings which I have received all my life from ministers and in the churches. Do you really think that you are right, and that they are all wrong in this matter?

B. It is not a question as between myself and them. The only question is, What does God's Word say? God has said in all the ages to His Church, "I am the Lord that healeth thee" (Exodus 15:26), and therefore it would be wicked to say that He is the defiler of His people. All true Christians must believe the Bible, and it is impossible to believe that good and evil, sickness and health, sin and holiness could have a common origin in God. If the Bible really taught that, it would be impossible to believe our Lord Jesus Christ when He says, "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." (Matthew 7:18.)

A. But even if I agree with all you say, is it not true that the Gifts of Healing were removed from the Church, and are not in it now?

B. No, the "Gifts of Healing" were never withdrawn, and can never be withdrawn, from the true Church of God; for it is written, "The gifts and the calling of God are without repentance." (Romans 11:29.) There are nine gifts of God to the Church (enumerated in 1 Corinthians, 12:8 to 11), and all these are in the Holy Spirit. Therefore, so long as the Holy Spirit is in the Church, all the gifts must be there also. If they are not exercised, that does not prove that they do not exist, but that the faith to exercise them is lacking in God's servants. The gifts are all perfectly preserved; for the Holy Spirit, not the Church, keeps them safely.

A. What should a Christian then do when overtaken with sickness?

B. A Christian should obey God's command, and at once turn to Him for forgiveness of the sin which may have caused the sickness, and for immediate healing. Healing is obtained from God in one of four ways, namely: First, by the direct prayer of faith, without any aid from the officers of the Church, praying as the Centurion did in Matthew 8:5 to 12; second, by two faithful disciples praying in perfect agreement, in accordance with the Lord's promise in Matthew 18:19; third, by the anointing of the elders and the prayer of faith, according to the instructions in James 5:14 and 15; and fourth, by the laying on of the hands of them who believe, and whom God calls to that ministry, as the Lord commands in Mark 16:18, and in other places.

A. But are people healed in this way in these days?

B. Yes, in thousands of cases. I have myself laid hands upon many hundreds of thousands of persons, and I have seen the Lord's Power manifested in the healing of great numbers, many of whom are living witnesses in many countries, who have testified publicly before thousands, and who are prepared to testify at any time. This ministry is being exercised by devoted Christians in many parts of America, Europe, Australasia and elsewhere.

A. Is it not the same as Christian Science, Mind Healing, etc.?

B. No. Divine Healing is diametrically opposed to these diabolical counterfeits, which are utterly anti-Christian. These impostures are only seductive forms of Spiritualism. Trance Evangelism is also a more recent form of this delusion, and it deceives many.

A. But how shall I obtain the necessary faith to receive healing, which faith I am at present conscious I do not possess?

B. It is written, "Belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the Word of Christ." (Romans 10:17.) Our Missions are held for the express purpose of teaching fully the Word of God on this matter, and I very heartily invite you to attend the meetings which are announced for Zion Tabernacle. All are welcome and there are no charges of any kind made, for all God's gifts are free gifts. Salvation is the first of these, without which you cannot be healed through faith in Jesus. All the costs of this work are covered by the free-will offerings of the people who attend these meetings, and others whom the Lord leads to help; but the poorest who have nothing to give are as heartily welcome as the richest.

A. Do you see the sick and lay hands upon them in this Mission?

B. Yes; after we feel satisfied that they are fully resting in the Lord alone for the healing, we see privately, so far as time permits, those who attend; but under no circumstances do we claim the power to heal any; for "power belongeth unto God."

A. Have you any writings upon this subject which can be purchased?

B. Yes; these can be obtained at the office of Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, or at Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. But the best book on Divine Healing is the Bible itself, studied prayerfully and earnestly.

We extend to you a hearty invitation to attend the meetings, which are free to all. Our prayer is that you may be led to find in Jesus Christ our Lord and God, your present Saviour from sin, your Healer from sickness, your Cleanser from all evil, your Keeper in the way to Heaven, your Friend, and your All for Time and Eternity. We pray that these words may help many who read, and that our little conversation may bear fruit in leading many readers to look to Jesus only.

"The Healing of Christ's seamless dress
Is by all beds of pain;
We touch Him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"THANKS BE TO GOD, WHICH GIVETH US THE VICTORY THROUGH OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST."

GOD HAS GIVEN a Glorious Victory once more to Zion, in the face of all the lands.

IN OUR LAST ISSUE, pages 565 to 571, a full report is given of our Defiance of the Black Pope and his Brigade, who had attacked Zion by introducing a resolution of six "Where-Asses" into the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois, demanding an "Investigation of Zion City Bank," and, eventually, of Zion in every Department.

TO THE ASTONISHMENT of the whole country the House of Representatives passed the illegal and malicious resolution on the following day, Monday, February 18th, and appointed a committee, consisting of a young Roman Catholic lawyer, who had graduated from St. Ignatius (Jesuit) College, a druggist, another lawyer, and two "well-known" politicians.

THIS COMMITTEE, and a few of their foolish colleagues in the House of Representatives, gave interviews to the press, announcing their determination to "crush Dowie" and to "smash Zion," and generally to bring our work to a disastrous conclusion.

Some of them were heard to express in loud drunken mouthings, on the railway cars, their pious desires to "hang Dowie," and one said, "I would like to nail him up."

BUT ERE THE WORDS were well out of their mouths, they found that they could not get their "Where-Asses," and their committee, to move in any way, and again and again during that week they took the wretched "resolution" into the repair shop.

At last they announced that everything was ready for the "Investigation," for which no one called except those who had no interest whatever in Zion's Financial Institutions.

THE SPLENDID rallying of all our people around Zion's Banner, and the fact that all our enemies combined could not discover one single dissatisfied depositor or investor, and that within a very few days more than forty thousand dollars were added to Zion's resources, and not one single account removed or deposit called for, was an Answer before all the Nation that deeply impressed the public, and even the foolish legislators.

However, up to Saturday of last week, the 23d, they still continued to talk of the investigation, although they acknowledged that their wretched resolution would require to be again taken into the repair shop.

BEFORE THAT could be effected, however, we were enabled last Lord's Day to deliver the Final Blow to the Black Pope and his Brigade, which sent the committee, as shown in Mr. Champe's cartoon on page 586, back to Springfield in full retreat, so that it might be taken into "the repair shop" for the fourth time.

WHEN THE COMMITTEE arrived in Springfield, on Monday, February 25th, with their fellow legislators, they had read the reports of our previous day's discourse in Central Zion Tabernacle, at which some of them had been present, and each found lying upon his table a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING of February 23d.

The reading of these things took all the "whoop" of the week before out of them, and gave them very serious reasons for thought: for by this time they found that the whole country was laughing at them.

They also found that there was not a single one of our enemies in the Chicago press who would dare to approve the resolution in their editorial columns, and that nearly all of them had denounced it, editorially, as being unworkable and illegal

This was ungraciously done; but they were compelled to do it.

THE REPORT of our Conference with the Friends of Zion last Lord's Day afternoon, in Central Zion Tabernacle, at which we read the very able Legal Opinion addressed to us by Zion's Legal Counsellor, Attorney Packard, will be found in full on pages 590 to 596.

ALL THE ATTEMPTS of the committee in the House of Representatives to make the resolution workable, during the early part of this present week, utterly failed.

And although the committee met, we are told by the Chicago American of February 25th, in its evening edition, very appropriately "at the State Industrial Home for the Blind at Twenty-first Street and the Burlington tracks," in Springfield, they were unable with the assistance of all the oculists there to get enough sight to see their way even one step.

They also obstinately remained deaf to all reason, and although all the "Where-Asses" had been wounded beyond remedy, they still continued to utter great swelling words of bombastic determination to "meet tomorrow and arrange for immediate action," and that they "would lose no time in showing the head of the Zion institution the power they have."

AT LAST, however, the farce was put an end to and the "Where-Asses" were put to death, amidst their loud brayings of protest, by the Opinion of Attorney-General Hamlin, consisting of several thousand words, which contained the following sentences:

The preamble and resolution presented for my consideration show an attempt to inquire merely into the operations and business of a single institution. It is an inquiry into the private affairs and management of Zion City Bank. It would not be competent for the General Assembly to legislate simply concerning Zion City Bank.

All the evils complained of (the evils are imaginary and the allegations false, Mr. Attorney General) in the preamble and resolution are cognizable in the courts of the State.

I am of opinion that the preamble and resolution do not contain such matters as would support or justify a committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives under that resolution in compelling the attendance of witnesses, or compelling them, against their will, to give evidence before such committee, nor could the House of Representatives punish witnesses refusing to testify before such committee for a contempt of that body in such refusal.

THUS DIED, very young and unlamented, the ugly and monstrous litter of Six "Where-Asses," born in the House of Representatives on Monday, February 18, 1901, after a brief but painful life of ten days.

They were really the conception of a Jesuit in Chicago, urged on to his work by Victor Lawson's morning and evening Daily Liars, the name we now give to the Record and the Daily News.

But to the disgrace of the State of Illinois they were born into existence by the maternal folly of the House of Representatives.

They have brought that branch of the present State Legislature into general contempt, to the great injury of the whole body politic.

WHEN THE PEOPLE see that the Speaker and the House of Representatives are so careless, or so ignorant, or so malevolent, as to pass and amend again and again a series of "Where-Asses," that, as Attorney-General Hamlin says, have no authority in law, that action is a most shameful thing, and utterly destroys all respect for the brutal band of lawbreakers who have been entrusted with the functions of lawmakers.

The sooner such a body ceases to exist, the better will it be for the State to whom its presence in the capitol at Springfield is a dishonor.

Its immediate dissolution alone can save it from further disgrace.

ABANDONED by the vile press which inspired their monstrous paternity, the "Where-Asses" will remain on the Records of the present Illinois House of Representatives as a proof of their incompetence to deal honestly with Zion.

And should any further action of an antagonistic and illegal nature against us be taken in that House, we here and now give notice that we shall fight and oppose, and, by the Grace of God, destroy such action, even as we have, by the Grace of God, already done.

IT IS TIME for words of Mockery and Laughter, and Derision and Overwhelming Contempt, all of which God Himself approves in such a case: for it is written in His Word:

He that sitteth in the Heavens shall Laugh;
The Lord shall have them in Derision.
Then shall He speak unto them in His Wrath,
And Vex them in His sore Displeasure:
Yet have I set my King
Upon my Holy Hill of Zion.

IT IS AS VAIN today as it was nineteen centuries ago for the "heathen to rage" and the "people to image a vain thing," or for "the kings of the earth to set themselves" and the "rulers to take counsel together against the Lord and against His Anointed."

GOD HAS sent forth His Eternal Decree, which no man can annul

Christ is God's eternal Son.

He is the King of Zion.

He has "asked of God," the Eternal Father, for Universal Dominion.

God has given Him "the Nations for an Inheritance."

God has given Him "the Uttermost Parts of the Earth for His Possession."

And God has said:

Thou shalt break them with a Rod of Iron;
Thou shalt DASH THEM IN PIECES like a potter's vessel.

THE HOUSE of Representatives has evidently never considered that God has established Zion, and that He will maintain it, and give it, as He has done continuously, Victory in every Conflict with the Powers of Evil, whether they are to be found in the apostate churches, or in the wicked rulers of the State.

SENATOR RILEY is reported by the Chicago Chronicle of February 21st, to have said:

I think Dr. Dowie has the advantage. In my judgment he is protected in the conduct of a private business by the Bill of Rights. . . . To reach Dowie you must get at the source of his power over credulous people.

This witness is true, all except the impertinent reference to Zion's many thousands as "credulous."

But does he know whereof he speaks when he speaks of the "Source" of our power?

He speaks of God.

All our Springs are in Him.

Yes, Senator Riley, when you can dethrone God, you can destroy Zion: for Zion's Power is that which flows continually from Him.

But Zion will live and conquer: for "God is in the midst of her."

ZION STANDS by hills surrounded;
Zion kept by power Divine;
All her foes shall be confounded,
Though the world in arms combine.
Happy Zion:
What a favored lot is thine.

THESE MANY CONFLICTS with "wickedness in high places" involve much toil, but they bring much blessing.

They prove the operation of Supernatural and Divine Power in Zion: for only God could give such a series of splendid victories.

They prove that God has called into existence a People whom neither the apostate churches, the Sadducean and Pharisaic press, nor the vile powers which have usurped authority in the State, can terrify.

Zion has a people who love and trust God, and will follow their leader loyally in every battle for the right, at no matter what sacrifice.

LET THE Word of God be remembered:

For behold, the Day cometh,
It burneth as a Furnace;
And all the proud, and all that work wickedness,
Shall be stubble;
And the Day that cometh
Shall burn them up,
Saith the Lord of Hosts.

THAT DAY shall "leave them neither Root nor Branch."

Let the wicked tremble.

Let the proud be humbled; for that Day has come.

That Day is still in its early morning, and the Sun has not risen far above the Eastern horizon.

Yet the Day has come.

And as it continues to brighten, still more glorious manifestations of God's power will appear, and the Promise of God to His children will be still more fully fulfilled:

But unto you that fear My Name
Shall the Sun of Righteousness arise
With healing in His wings;
And ye shall go forth,
And gambol as calves of the stall,
And ye shall Tread Down the Wicked;
For they shall be Ashes under the Soles of your Feet
In the day that I shall do this,
Saith the Lord of Hosts.

WHEN WE CLOSED our services last Lord's Day, and had finished, also, late in the evening, a series of private Conferences with some of our responsible officers, we felt the need of rest and of a quiet place in which we could hold an important conference with our Ecclesiastical Cabinet.

Our readers will remember that the work of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion is conducted in three great departments—Ecclesiastical, Educational, and Commercial.

ACCORDINGLY we took the midnight train from Chicago, accompanied by Overseers Speicher and Piper, and proceeded to "Ben MacDhui," our quiet retreat on the shores of White Lake, Michigan, arriving there at 10:30 A. M. on Monday, February 25th.

For two days and a part of two nights we considered, and decided upon, important lines of action for future work in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Amongst these matters we decided upon the Ordination of more than a Hundred New Officers: Elders, Evangelists, Deacons, and Deaconesses.

We also decided upon many important changes in the stations of officers in the coming spring and early summer, in connection with Zion's work in all the Continents of the World.

THE TWO OVERSEERS returned to Chicago by the early train on Wednesday morning, February 27th, to carry out these decisions, and to attend to their important duties in Zion.

Deacon O. L. Sprecher, our private stenographer and secretary, joined us late on Tuesday night, February 26th, and has been attending with us to our large correspondence.

He is now receiving our dictation of these Notes, in our private office, on the morning of Friday, March 1st.

"BEN MACDHUI" never looked so charming, so beautiful, and yet so solemnly pure in all its surroundings, as it does at this moment.

A lovely mantle of purest white snow covers field and forest and garden and lake.

Not a "spot or wrinkle" appears in the covering, and as day by day the golden beams of the sun, and night after night the white silvery beams of the moon, have shone from the unclouded sky, upon the dazzling snow for miles and miles around, the purity of the scene has preached to us the most inspiring of sermons, since it is God's own emblem of purity in His gracious words:

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord:
Though your sins be as scarlet,
They shall be as white as snow;
Though they be red like crimson,
They shall be as wool.

OH THAT a sin-cursed, sorrow-burdened and disease-smitten Humanity might turn to Him, who "tasted death for every man," and whose blood was shed to make the foulest sinner's heart "whiter than snow!"

AMIDST THE PERFECT quiet of this lovely resting place, as we have looked upon all nature sleeping beneath the thick covering of pure white snow, we have often thought of that winter of the years 1893-1894, in which God made Zion first to appear in her beauty to our eyes.

It was after the dark scenes in Chicago which closed the World's Fair: scenes of desolation, of fire and blood.

The winter of 1893-1894 will never be forgotten by us. On the city's margin, close to Jackson Park, near the gate of the "White City," as they called the World's Fair, our first little Zion Tabernacle stood buried deep in the snow.

All the world passed on its way, oppressed by the burdens of that awful time, and not thinking at all of our existence or of Zion Tabernacle No. 1, except as with a sneer of contempt an occasional passenger on the Illinois Central Railway, which ran behind it, would refer to the "Little Wooden Hut," as the Tabernacle was contemptuously called.

BUT GOD had established Zion there.

And we there saw Zion appear in her glory, the glorious Kingdom of our God, the Zion of All the Ages.

And with that vision there soon came wondrous scenes of blessing, which made that "Little Wooden Hut," near the snow-covered shores of Lake Michigan, a very Bethesda (a House of Mercy and of Healing) for multitudes who flocked there from all parts of the city, and soon from all parts of the land.

Soon the little solitary Tabernacle of Zion amidst the Wilderness of Snow was thronged with multitudes within and without, sitting on improvised benches on the snow piles outside of the windows and listening to the Word of God—crowds which came early every day, and remained until midnight as often as permitted, seeking Salvation and Healing and Holiness through Faith in Jesus; and in thousands finding what they sought.

AND NOW, seven years from that time, Zion stands forth before all the earth, a Mighty Power.

Her Banner is planted on every Continent and on many of the Islands of the Sea, and the Message of God's Eternal Covenant has gone forth from her to millions upon millions, in many tongues, by the Little White Dove, LEAVES OF HEALING, and other Zion Literature.

And it is still going, and will go, until Zion's mission is fulfilled.

ON THE RAILWAY CAR,
RETURNING FROM "BEN MACDHUI,"
FRIDAY EVENING, March 1st.

Ere we close these Editorial Notes, it seems to be our duty to call the attention of friends of Zion far and near to another Outbreak upon the part of Victor Lawson's morning and evening Daily Liars, the Chicago Record and Chicago Daily News.

IN THE Daily News of February 26th there appears the following:

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST DOWIE.

LETTERS RECEIVED BY CHAIRMAN KETTERING OF A STARTLING CHARACTER.

Special to the Chicago Daily News.

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS, February 26.—Letters from two persons who represent they have intimate knowledge of transactions in John Alexander Dowie's Zion City Bank were received today by Chairman A. J. Kettering, of the Dowie Investigating Committee, together with a number of other letters intended to aid the committee in its researches.

Chairman Kettering declines to make the communications public, as he intends to use them to aid the committee in securing evidence.

Both letters give names and addresses of persons said to have knowledge of the transactions, and when the committee begins its work it will have the persons whose names are given subpenaed to give testimony.

If all the assertions made in the letters can be proved, revelations of a startling nature will result. The writer of one goes into the details of a set of entries by which $5,000 deposited to the credit of one depositor was transferred to Dowie's personal account as a "punishment" for an "ungodly" act committed by the depositor. It then declares that when the depositor left the Church and demanded the return of the money, under threat of prosecution, it was returned; and that the same day Dowie mortgaged his printing establishment and with the proceeds and other funds made up an alleged deposit of $50,000, upon the subject of which he is said to have delivered a sermon intended to show what confidence moneyed men had in his Bank.

The communication also states that $200,000 representing deposits in the Bank is now in the name of Dowie's son.

The letter goes into circumstantial details, and the writer offers to produce further evidence for the committe to substantiate his charges.

WE RECEIVED this copy of the Chicago Daily Liar at "Ben MacDhui," on Wednesday, February 27th, and on the same day we dispatched the following telegram as our reply:

"BEN MACDHUI,"
MONTAGUE, MICHIGAN, February 27, 1901.

CHARLES J. BARNARD.
Financial Manager of Zion's Financial Institutions,
1300 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Referring to Daily News' special from Springfield, published last night, I desire you to go on the platform at Central Zion Tabernacle this evening and to declare in my name that the letter alleged to have been received by Representative Kettering contains charges that are absolutely false in every particular.

No such incident ever happened as that concerning alleged deposit of five thousand dollars.

My printing establishment never has been mortgaged, and the alleged deposit of fifty thousand dollars made up from the proceeds of such mortgage, et cetera, is a shameful fabrication.

Last of all, the declaration that two hundred thousand dollars deposits are now in the name of my son is a disgraceful lie.

In short, the whole of these alleged letters are criminal libels, and that I challenge Mr. Kettering to give the names of the writers and publish the letters, in which event I will have the authors behind the prison bars as quickly as they can be arrested; and failing his production of these letters, I brand him as equally responsible and guilty with their authors, and I will not fail to say this publicly myself next Lord's Day.

You can send copies of this telegram to the newspapers, and say that I have reached a point where the further publication of criminal libels of this kind may require to be stopped by criminal proceedings against not only the authors of such falsehoods, but their publishers.

Communicate this, also, to Attorney Packard before you go on the platform tonight. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

IT WILL BE SEEN that these vile falsehoods must have been published for some evil purpose.

That purpose has speedily come to light, as will be seen by the following extracts from the Chicago Daily Liar (Record) of February 28th:

NEW ATTACK ON DOWIE.

GRAND JURY INQUIRY PLANNED.

OPINION BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL HAMLIN UPSETS PROPOSED LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATION—COMMITTEE TO CALL UPON MR. DENEEN.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Record from a Staff Correspondent.

SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS, February 27.—"Dr." John Alexander Dowie is to be attacked upon the flank, for the Dowie Investigating Committee from the lower House of the General Assembly is planning to take him before the Grand Jury of Cook County.

Original from NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Chairman Kettering of the committee, and Frank Donoghue, the father of the Dowie investigating resolution, were appointed a subcommittee by the full committee this evening to call upon State's Attorney Charles S. Deneen, of Cook County, and place before him certain letters. These letters, it is claimed, contain information relating to "Dr." Dowie's financial and land enterprises, which the committee regards as competent evidence to be shown to the Grand Jury.

WE HAVE NO FEAR as to the result of this appeal to the Grand Jury, should State's Attorney Deneen be foolish enough to permit it to be made upon the testimony of a mass of anonymous falsehoods.

Not one of the charges thus made has the slightest foundation in truth.

They are villainous fabrications from beginning to end, and we defy any one to appear before the Grand Jury and support these charges.

We know that can never be done; for the incidents alleged never happenened; and the anonymous scoundrels who make these charges will never run the risk of a sentence to the Penitentiary by perjuring themselves before the Grand Jury.

It will only afford Zion another opportunity of demonstrating the deep malignity and unprecedented mendacity of her foes, and at the same time enable us to stand forth as absolutely free from all guilt in the matter.

BUT EVEN this vile attempt seems to have failed: for the evening edition of the Chicago American of March 1st has the following:

DENEEN DODGES CASE OF DOWIE

Representatives Kettering and Donoghue of the legislative committee appointed to investigate Zion Bank held a conference with State's Attorney Deneen this morning regarding the proposed indictment of John Alex. Dowie, the head of the Bank. At the close of the conference Mr. Deneen announced that the matter would not be brought before the present Grand Jury.

The two members of the committee are said to have presented a great deal of hearsay evidence to the State's Attorney relative to the affairs of Dowie's Bank, but the prosecutor will demand positive evidence before he will take up the case.

Until the committee has obtained evidence of irregularities Mr. Deneen says the matter will not come before the Grand Jury.

The two members of the committee called upon the State's Attorney, it is said, in order to find out what evidence will be necessay before an indictment can be secured. The conference lasted for half an hour.

BUT WHAT is to be said, it may well be asked, of a press and of members of the House of Representatives who have sunken so low as to publish such utterly unfounded calumnies?

It can only be said that these are manifested signs of the latter days. Of such men the Apostle Peter wrote:

These, as creatures without reason, born mere animals to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their destroying surely be destroyed, suffering wrong as the hire of wrongdoing; men that count it pleasure to revel in the day time . . . that cannot cease from sin; enticing unsteadfast souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness; children of cursing, forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the hire of wrongdoing. . . . These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; for whom the Blackness of Darkness hath been reserved.

THIS AWFUL description is given of those whom the Apostle says were the enemies of God and of His Church in apostolic days.

It is also a description of those who were to appear in the "last of the days" of this dispensation, for he says:

In the last days Mockers shall come with Mockery, walking after their own Lusts.

These vile men are yielding themselves to murderous hatred, and to the insanity produced by ungovernable passions, which make them Public Scandals, both in the Press and in the Legislature.

THE APOSTLE JUDE, also, in his Catholic Epistle, well describes these men in the following words:

These rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they destroyed. . . . These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaketh great swelling words), showing respect of persons for the sake of advantage.

And he also adds:

In the Last Time there shall be Mockers, walking after their own Ungodly Lusts.

THE LAST TIMES are truly upon us; for these Mocking Incarnate Demons are now occupying places of power in the Unbridled and Licentious Press, and in an Ignorant and Lawless Legislature.

Such men are disgracing the country which they foully misrepresent.

They are filling up the Measure of their Iniquities to the brim, and they drink the Cup of their Shame with a leering, drunken brutality which reminds one of the Fabled Satyrs, creatures half goat and half man, who in the ancient mythology are represented as foremost in the disgusting orgies of the worship of Bacchus, or in the Phallic Mysteries of the worship of Baal.

COST WHAT IT WILL, we lift up our Voice and denounce, in the Name of the Eternal Tri-une God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, this Horrible Conspiracy of Lying.

It is a Conspiracy of Associated Press Liars throughout the United States of America, and indeed throughout the world.

It is a Conspiracy in which the Papacy and Secretism, the Apostate Denominations and Drug Sorcery, with Alcohol, Nicotine and Swine Sellers, and Evil Men and Women of every kind, can, for the moment, forget their differences, and, like Herod, Pilate and the Pharisees, unite to destroy God's servant and God's work.

But it is a Conspiracy which will utterly fail: for God lives, and there are millions of people who will rally to the Standard of Zion, which will float one day over all the Earth.

We shall never lower Zion's Banner.

And, God helping us, we shall never allow it to suffer loss: for it is the Standard of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

BUT LET there be no mistake as to what these words mean.

We are loyal to the Constitution and Laws which govern the United States of America, believing that, properly interpreted, that Constitution and those Laws give us, and every man, the right to worship God according to conscience, and to do His will, and our daily business, without hindrance, so long as we do not rebel against Rightful Authority, or interfere with our fellow-citizen's Liberty, or Property, or wilfully endanger his Life.

WE HAVE no quarrel with that which is Lawful and Right. But it is our absolute duty to remind our readers, and the people everywhere, of the wise words in Section 20, Article 2 of the Constitution of Illinois, which declares that "A frequent recurrence to the Fundamental Principles of Civil Government is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of Liberty."

IN ALL THAT we have done and are doing, we are simply recurring to those Fundamental Principles which are founded upon the Laws of God.

In no other way can the Blessings of Liberty be preserved.

Should we, by our weakness and unwillingness to suffer, or to risk even life itself, fail to discharge our duty, we should be unworthy of our high calling as the Messenger of God's Covenant, and of the General Overseership of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion throughout the World.

We will rather part with Liberty, Property, and even Life itself, than fail to do our duty at this crisis.

BRETHREN, PRAY FOR US.

Notice to Zion Travelers.

Friends of Zion going to Europe and other parts of the world are respectfully informed that an Agency has been established to secure rates, accommodations and protections for first, second and third class passengers to and from all parts of Europe, etc.

Arrangements have been made with the principal steamship and railroad lines to book passengers to and from all parts of the world, at the lowest possible rates.

For rates, maps and full information apply to DAVID F. ROBERTSON, Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Has God Blessed You in Tithing?

Have you realized a fulfilment of God's promise to those who "bring the Whole Tithe into the Storehouse"? If so, let others know how true the promise is. Write your testimony and send it to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Overseer-at-Large of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Let your testimonies be brief and straight to the point.

Notice to Officers and Members of the Christian Catholic Church.

Send all newspaper clippings concerning the General Overseer, the Elders, or any department of the work in connection with the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, to Mr. Carl F. Stern, Room 309, Zion Home, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Send as soon as possible after publication, and carefully mark name and date of the paper clipped from on each article. If this is not done, the clippings are absolutely useless.

Zion College Needs Three Pianos.

The Musical Department of Zion College is growing rapidly and its needs are increasing. Three pianos are very much needed. Who will give one or all of them to be used for God? Send to Rev. William Hamner Piper, Vice-President, 1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

IF THOU wilt diligently hearken to the Voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in His eyes, and wilt give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have put upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee.

GOD'S WAY OF HEALING.

BY THE REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE

God's Way of Healing is a Person, not a Thing.

Jesus said, "I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life," and He has ever been revealed to His people in all the ages by the Covenant Name, Jehovah-rophi, or "I am the Lord that Healeth thee." (John 14:6; Exodus 15:26.)

The Lord Jesus Christ is Still the Healer.

He cannot change, for "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and forever"; and He is still with us, for He said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." (Hebrews 13:8; Matthew 28:20.) Because He is Unchangeable, and because He is present, in spirit, just as when in the flesh, He is the Healer of His people.

Divine Healing Rests on Christ's Atonement.

It was prophesied of Him, "Surely He hath borne our griefs (Hebrew sicknesses), and carried our sorrows: . . . and with His stripes we are healed"; and it is expressly declared that this was fulfilled in His ministry of Healing, which still continues. (Isaiah 53:4, 5; Matthew 8:17.)

Disease Can Never be God's Will.

It is the Devil's work, consequent upon Sin, and it is impossible for the work of the Devil ever to be the Will of God. Christ came to "destroy the works of the Devil," and when He was here on earth He healed "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness," and all these diseases are expressly declared to have been "oppressed of the Devil." (1 John 3:8; Matthew 4:23; Acts 10:38.)

The Gifts of Healing are Permanent.

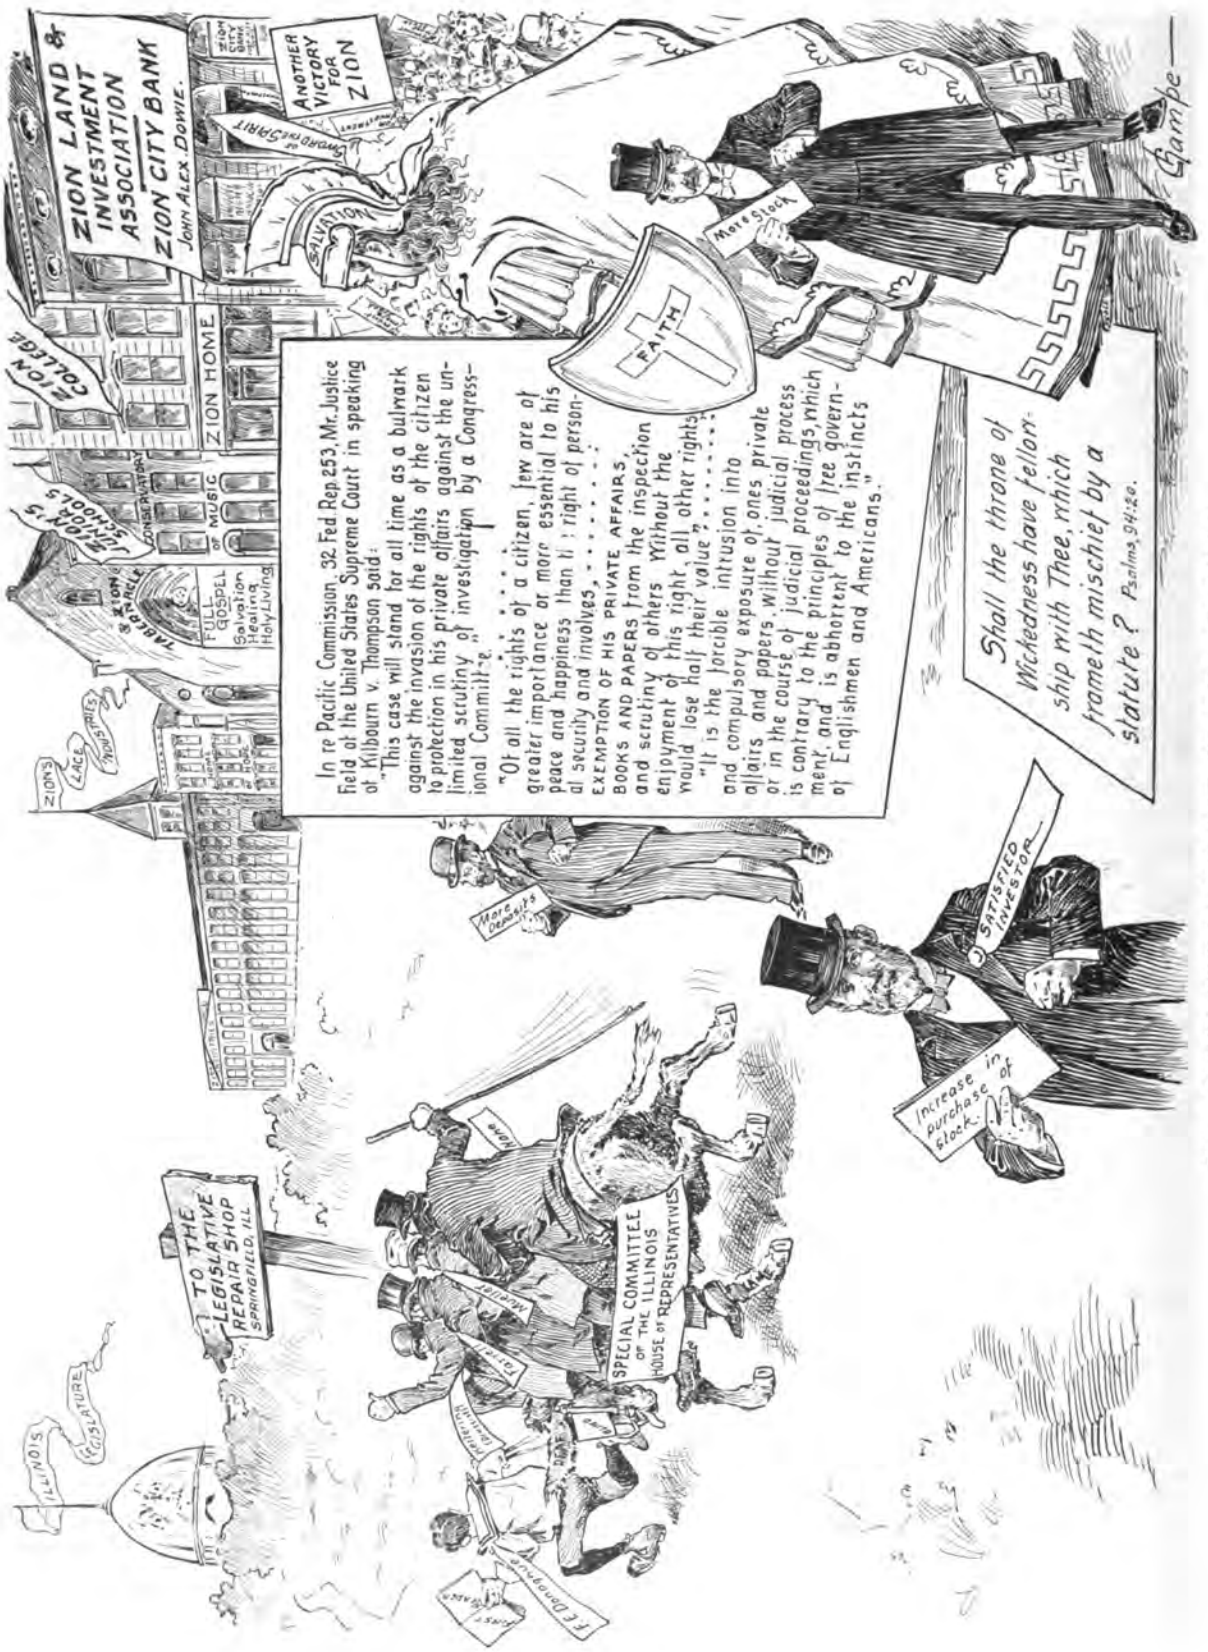
It is expressly declared that the "Gifts and the calling of God are without repentance," and the Gifts of Healing are amongst the Nine Gifts of the Spirit to the Church. (Romans 11:29; 1 Cor. 12:8-11.)

There are Four Modes of Divine Healing.

The first is the direct prayer of faith; the second, intercessory prayer of two or more; the third, the anointing by the elders with the prayer of faith; and the fourth, the laying on of hands of those who believe, and whom God has prepared and called to that ministry. (Matthew 8:5-13; Matthew 18:19; James 5:14, 15; Mark 16:18.)

Divine Healing is Opposed by Diabolical Counterfeits.

Amongst these are Christian Science (falsely so-called). Mind Healing, Spiritualism, Trance Evangelism, etc. (1 Timothy 6:20, 21; 1 Timothy 4:1, 2; Isaiah 51:22, 23.)



Multitudes Have Been Healed Through Faith in Jesus.

The writer knows of thousands of cases and has personally laid hands on scores of thousands of persons. Full information can be obtained at the meetings held in Zion Tabernacle, 1621-1633 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and in many pamphlets which give the experience, in their own words, of many who have been healed in this and other countries, published at Zion Publishing House, 1207 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

THE EVERLASTING GOSPEL DECLARED.

Report of Meeting held in Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 24, 1901. Sermon: "God Not Man's Adversary." Conference Concerning Legal Right of Committee of Illinois House of Representatives to Investigate Zion Institutions.

REPORTED BY S. D. AND E. W. AND A. W. N.

ONE THING is being most clearly demonstrated on almost every occasion on which the General Overseer speaks in Central Zion Tabernacle; that is, that Zion in Chicago has by far outgrown even that splendid auditorium.

Although there are fixed seats for 3100 persons within that amphitheatre, there is scarce an occasion of importance when there are not hundreds, and at times thousands, turned away for lack of desirable seats. There are very often many standing in the aisles and vestibules, or even outside the Tabernacle.

Central Zion Tabernacle seats more people than any other church edifice in the City of Chicago, and is second only to the Auditorium among the halls built for public speaking.

Yet Zion more than fills it, even in cold, stormy, disagreeable weather.

Her own people in Chicago, if all brought together at any one time, would more than fill it.

An audience which occupied every available inch of space in the Tabernacle, with, probably, many thousands turned away, assembled in Central Zion Tabernacle on Lord's Day afternoon, February 24, 1901.

Friends, foes, and the merely curious mingled as they quickly, quietly and respectfully assembled, long before 3 o'clock, the hour announced for service.

So great was the crush that a number of Chicago police was sent to the Tabernacle. The people, however, were orderly, and gave the officers no trouble.

All bowed in reverent, solemn silence as Zion's White-robed Choir entered, marching slowly up the broad center aisle, across the platform and into the Choir gallery, singing the joyous words of the Song of Victory and Praise:

Ten thousand times ten thousand
In sparkling raiment bright,
The armies of the ransomed saints
Throng up the steeps of light:
'Tis finished! all is finished,
Their fight with death and sin:
Fling open wide the golden gates,
And let the victors in.

What rush of alleluias
Fills all the earth and sky!
What ringing of a thousand harps
Bespeaks the triumph nigh!
Oh, day for which creation
And all its tribes were made;
Oh, joy for all its former woes,
A thousand-fold repaid!

Oh, then what raptur'd greetings
On Canaan's happy shore;
What knitting severed friendships up,
Where partings are no more!
Then eyes with joy shall sparkle
That brimm'd with tears of late;
Orphans no longer fatherless,
Nor widows desolate.

Bring near Thy great salvation,
Thou Lamb for sinners slain;
Fill up the roll of Thine elect,
Then take Thy power, and reign:
Appear, Desire of nations,
Thine exiles long for home:
Show in the heav'ns Thy promised sign:
Thou Prince and Saviour, come!

The scene was impressive, inspiring, sustained.

It prepared the hearts of all present for the wondrous words of the ancient Scriptural Invocation of Divine Blessing, pronounced by the General Overseer when the robed Officers had slowly marched to their places:

God be merciful unto us, and bless us,
And cause His face to shine upon us;
That Thy Way may be known upon earth,
Thy saving health among all nations;
For the sake of Jesus. Amen.

Full of beauty, full of eloquence; best of all, full of the Power of the Spirit, was the Message which God's Messenger spoke to his great audience.

God not the adversary in man's adversity was his theme, and sharply he showed the truth about God—that truth which has been so long denied and is now so widely denied; the truth of God's Divine Love and Pity manifesting themselves in the redemption of man, spirit, soul and body, and His guiding and keeping His children.

When, at the close of his brief sermon, the man of God appealed to those who would accept the gifts which Jesus came to give, there were many among all the thousands who arose, who were for the first time seeking God.

Central Zion Tabernacle, Lord's Day Afternoon, February 24, 1901.

The meeting was opened by singing Hymn Number 151:

Come, ye that love the Lord,
And let your joys be known,
Join in a song with sweet accord:
And thus surround the throne.

CHORUS—We're marching to Zion,
Beautiful, beautiful Zion;
We're marching upward to Zion,
That beautiful City of God.

Then all united in repeating the Apostles' Creed.

The General Overseer then read from the sixty-third chapter of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah and in the Gospel according to St. Matthew, ninth chapter, beginning at the twenty-seventh verse.

Overseer Piper then offered the general supplication, followed by the General Overseer, who offered the petitions for the sick and sorrowing.

The local announcements were delivered by Overseer Speicher.

The General Overseer then gave a special announcement, commenting in the following words:

I desire to add to these announcements that, at the close of this service, there will be a gathering of the friends of Zion to hear a few words from my lips, and a very important document which I hold in my hand.

I will speak concerning the illegal and malicious procedure of the Illinois House of Representatives, the lower house of the State Legislature.

It will be a gathering of the friends of Zion, but if there are any foes of Zion who will behave properly and desire to be present, we will not send them away.

There will be no other speaker today from this platform except myself.

No person will be permitted to take any part whatever in the meeting, unless I shall call upon an Overseer or Elder or other officer of this Church to do so.

I say this because some foolish remarks have been made in the press regarding what has been alleged to have been said by certain members of the House of Representatives as to their speaking here today.

The Press Has Printed Lying Reports of Interviews Which Never Were Given.

I wish to say further, in this connection, that I do not believe many of the things which are said in the press concerning the legislators or members of this committee.

I have been quoted all the last week as having said a great many things to the press.

I have never seen a single reporter.

I have never spoken a word to any one representing the press.

I have never authorized any one to speak a word in my name, so that all you have been reading in the papers as to what I have been alleged to have been saying is simply a mass of falsehood. I never said a word of it.

It was all born in sin and conceived in iniquity and rolled out of the newspaper offices, which are the profligate mothers of innumerable lies and crimes.

How sad it is that the great mass of the people can never rely upon this mendacious press, a Legal Censorship of which is essential. May God give it soon. (Amen.)

This unbridled, and malignant, and vile press must be controlled.

Thieves are arrested and imprisoned for stealing, but those who steal another man's good name and defile the whole land with their falsehood, should certainly be beaten with many stripes.

Now they only laugh, and swear, and puff their stinking smoke in your faces, and "make a mock at sin," when their falsehoods are exposed; sometimes only after a woman's heart is broken, children's names disgraced, or a terrible crime committed.

Unwhipped of Justice, and insensible to Pity or the common feelings of Humanity, they go onward in their career of Crime, glorying in their shame, and recounting with glee, like so many literary ghouls, the number of "graves" which they have robbed, and how they have wrung the hearts of the living with agony, as they have sported with the corpses of the dead.

Unwhipped of Justice, these "ogres" of literature take delight in defiling with their lies the reputations of those whose characters are too pure for them to touch, but whom they cause the public to believe, for a time, are as vile as these devouring demons represent them.

Unwhipped of Justice, they have brought down the gray hairs of honest and patriotic statesmen to premature graves, in order to make way for the advancement of time-serving and corrupt scoundrels to municipal, State and national offices.

And these facts keep the best men, in many cases, out of public life: for few are willing to run the risk of a contest with the filthy, slimy Dragon of the Associated Press Liars of America and Europe—yea, of the World: for they are a Cosmopolitan Syndicate of Robbers, Thugs and Thieves who "all hang together" as will one day be seen when Christ reigns as Universal King, and they get their legal deserts.

May God grant that the time shall come when that vile press shall be brought under subjection. (Amen. Applause.)

You will find in LEAVES OF HEALING, for Saturday, February 23d, full and accurate reports of what I said last Lord's Day, and God willing, next Saturday, you will find accurate reports of what I say now, with such additions, etc., as I may be led to make when I revise the reports.

The Zion Banner.

LEAVES OF HEALING has a very large circulation, sometimes reaching a hundred thousand copies a week in the English edition alone. By and by, when God gives us THE ZION BANNER, our semi-secular paper, we will make it very interesting for the newspapers of Chicago. (Applause.)

There will be one paper at least that will tell the truth, and not fear man or Devil, or the Great Dragon of the Associated Press Sin-dicate, or all the little vipers of the press. (Applause.)

The Day Has Come for Plain Speaking.

Plain speaking will come. The day has come to take this vampire of the press by the throat, metaphorically, and say, "You shall lie no more without paying the Penalty."

As I look upon the many standing and the many whom I know have gone away unable to get seats, and I see this going on Sabbath after Sabbath, I feel we have outgrown this Tabernacle. Pray that God will give me wisdom to secure another "tent," a little larger, until we can build Zion Temple in Zion City. I wish to build that to hold 25,000 people.

I desire to thank you for the unbounded confidence and kindness which you and multitudes have shown during this past week, and for the fact that every one of these papers, vile as they are in their reportorial columns, has been compelled to admit in its leading columns that we are in the right, and the Legislature is in the wrong. (Applause. Amen.)

The tithes and offering were then received.

GOD NOT MAN'S ADVERSARY

The General Overseer then delivered the following discourse:

INVOCATION.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, be profitable unto this people, and to all to whom these words may come, in this and every land, in this and all the coming time, till Jesus come.

In the sixty-third chapter of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah and at the ninth verse, these words were written:

TEXT.

In all their affliction He was afflicted.

I think I will call your attention to the reading in the margin, which is a better translation:

In all their adversity, He was no adversary. And the angel of His presence saved them: in His love and in His pity He redeemed them; and He bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

Digitized by Google

God is Never Man's Adversary,

God is never the afflictor of humanity.

In the insensate folly of humanity, and in the bold and diabolically wicked spirit of disobedience, lies man's misery.

Sin is the transgression of law, but law must needs be defined.

If you say that because some man has a little brief authority, the accident of the primaries and the offspring of the political sandbaggers, he wields Divine Authority, I tell you, nay!

The only Authority which is Divine is the Authority which comes from God.

Men may make laws, but "shall the seat of wickedness have fellowship with God, which frameth mischief by statute?"

Know you not that there never was any iniquity wrought upon this green earth which was not done in the name of law?

Know you not that the Christ Himself was crucified by law? The scribes and Pharisees said, "We have a law, and by that law He ought to die."

Know you not that murder, such murder, too, as would have annihilated the race of God's own people, was again and again enacted by law, as when Pharaoh gave orders that every male child of Israel should be slain at the birth? That was a law. It was a law which was gloriously broken by Moses' mother, by Miriam his sister, and by the daughter of Pharoah.

Know you not that

All the Great Iniquities of the Ages Have Been Wrought by Law?

Read the story through the ages.

It is a law that sends the just and holy Daniel into the den of lions.

It is a law that sends Shadrack, Meshack and Abed-nego into the fiery furnace, because they would not worship the golden image which the king has set up.

It is a law that drags the apostles to the very judgment seat where the Lord Himself has just been unlawfully, and yet by a law, condemned.

Look down through the ages of martyrs.

The first Christian martyr called the Council of the Seventy by its right name, a council of murderers, although it was a legislative body which had been in existence for fifteen centuries.

It was by a law that Stephen's body was stoned, and his brains crushed until there was no life in him.

The Apostle Paul, at that time the Rabbi Saul, was the administrator of that law.

It was a law which sent the martyrs to the murderous fires kindled by the horrible monster, Nero.

It has been law, so-called, in every age, that has wrought every iniquity.

The Jesuitical Order was established by Ignatius de Loyola and approved for a time by the papacy, because the leaders in Rome hoped it would counteract the Reformation.

That horrible and diabolical Order used the secret Tribunal Inquisition, which they had established through the Dominicians, and subjected innocent and godly people to the most fiendish and horrible tortures.

Through that Inquisition they murdered tens and hundreds of thousands in Europe, Asia and America. They made the streets of Paris and of France run red with Huguenot blood, in the awful massacre of St. Bartholomew. They drove out, by the Edict of Nantes, the best in France. They destroyed religious liberty, confiscated property, and put multitudes to death, all in the name of law; yes, and also in the Name of Christ.

Thanks be to God, we are standing here today to maintain

The Integrity and the Eternity of God's Law Against All Merely Human and Diabolical Laws.

Let us understand the issue.

In every age the adversary has striven to trick the people by endeavoring to make the very Christ of God Himself, the very apostles of Christ; and the holiest and best men who ever lived, appear as lawbreakers and traitors.

It is an old trick.

In America—alas! especially in Chicago—the history of the nations is not very well known; because Rome has been ruling in the school system of Chicago.

False history is taught in the public schools. Lies are taught instead of history. You have histories which are the mockery of every educated man.

History is, as much as possible, even in its false form, kept out of schools. Yet history remains in the Word of God. (Amen.)

It tells us that in every age the Law of the Spirit of Life is in conflict with the Law of Sin and Death. Thank God, it is in conflict with that law today. (Amen.)

In the Affliction of Man, God Himself Has Always Been Afflicted.

Oh how He was afflicted when He saw the misery of four centuries of slavery in Egypt, where His people had not only become slaves, but the iron of that slavery had entered their souls, and they had become degraded by means of it, all, of course, by law.

Brothers! sisters! slavery in which one man enslaves another man's body is bad, but the slavery which is the enslavement of the spirit, the conscience and the essential liberties of humanity, is worse.

The Devil has always been striving to erect tribunals of law, and he has succeeded. Hence the liberties of humanity have always been won by the overthrow of false tribunals.

In all their adversity, He was no adversary.

When men turn away from God and allow themselves to be tricked by their great adversary the Devil, they sometimes fight beneath his banner, yea, often thinking that it is the Banner of Law, when it is only the Flag of Rebellion.

God's Sorrow for Humanity is continuous through all the ages.

The Angel of His Presence Saved Them.

Thanks be to God, there has never been a time when He has left His people without a saving power. That power is always somewhere. It may be, and usually it is, much in the minority. The saving power has been left with God's people.

The poor black man was lashed and oppressed. His offspring were treated as if they were brutes. Yea, the very offspring of the slave-holding master which, by illicit intercourse, had come through his own black women slaves, were put upon the block, beneath the American flag, and sold as chattels, within living memory, by law.

It took a terrible war to dethrone that awful lie that God had meant the black man to be forever the slave and chattel of the white. There are many now in America who are not sure that the African negro is a man, or who would apply to him the Truth that Christ our Saviour "tasted death for every man."

Liberty can only be preserved by constant conflict with diabolical powers, sometimes established in seats of power, who assume that to be Law which is not Law, but Anarchy.

It was my privilege to fight this battle in this city in 1895, the results of which are a matter of record. After an entire year of conflict, the infernal Ordinance and all the infernal procedure of the city government was declared to have been illegal, null and void, and our right to teach, and pray for, God's sick children, in the Name of Jesus only, was fully established.

And now, as we shall hear later, Zion has to fight out the question of lawless action by a legislative body. But if God is to give Zion the great glory of being the protector of true law against Jesuitical foes, may He make us strong for the task. (Amen. Applause.)

The Afflictions With Which God's People Suffer Are Innumerable.

They suffer from their own sin, or that of their parents, or others.

They suffer from consequent sickness.

They suffer from consequent poverty.

They suffer from consequent oppression of every kind.

God, the great God our Father, always sends some Angel, some Messenger from His own Presence, to save His people.

In the fulness of time, He sent His Son, and, through Him, "in His love, and in His pity He redeemed them."

What wonderful words they are! Love and pity!

Pity standing alone, we reject.

When a man tells me that he pities me, I say, "Keep your pity to yourself. I do not want it. I do not need to be pitied. Do not pity me. I am doing my God and Master's work, and I do not feel the need of any pity at all."

If you come to me, however, and you say, "I love you," and link the Divine Love with the Divine Pity, then it becomes the sweetest kind of sympathy.

The union of Love and Pity is the creation of the glorious Divine and Human Sympathy, which makes the Christ so strong in ruling over humanity, for He sympathizes. He feels with us and for us.

He suffered with us, and He suffers still.

In every pang that rends the heart,
The Man of Sorrows has a part;
Though now exalted up on high,
He bends on earth a brother's eye;
He sympathizes with our grief,
And to the sufferer sends relief.

No longer the Man or Sorrows, ruling triumphant in the highest heaven,

Christ Remains Forever the Man of Sympathies.

He feels with us. He is with us all the time as we "fill up the measure of His suffering" in these poor members of His Body.

He sympathizes with us; He knows what strong temptations mean, for He has felt the same.

Strong Son of God, immortal love,
Whom we who have not seen Thy face,
By faith, and faith alone, embrace.

But for Thy sympathy and Thy love, all the light would have gone out of life. Thou art with us and Thy love never fails. Thy pity never fails, for Thou art the Sympathetic Friend of Humanity forever! (Amen.)

I am so glad that in His love and in His pity Christ is the Redeemer. He is the Redeemer not only of the spirit, but of the soul and of the body; our Redeemer from ignorance; our Redeemer from impotence; our Redeemer from the accursed arrogance which sin brings.

He is our Redeemer from sin and disease and death and all the powers of hell.

He is the same Saviour, the same Healer, the same Cleanser, the same Keeper. Blessed be His Name forever!

He is "the same yesterday and today, yea and forever." (Amen.)

So our hearts rejoice today as we say, "In His love and in His pity He redeemed us."

He does more.

He bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

Thou great Burden-Bearer of Humanity! Thou eternal Father, what burdens Thou hast had to bear with this sin-cursed race!

Thou dost bear still with humanity.

He bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

He bears and He carries us still.

How wide an Ocean is His Love.

It is like that ocean which today bears up the mightiest vessel and the tiniest boat!

There is no effort in God to bear upon the bosom of His Infinite Love all the miserable shortcomings of His people.

Today we proclaim Jesus as the Bearer of all your Burdens.

Is He your Saviour?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—We proclaim Jesus is the Healer. Is He your Healer?

Voices—"Yes."

Over Three Thousand Witnesses to Divine Healing.

General Overseer—This is the day when every month we have a testimony to that glorious truth. Let every one in this assembly who has been healed through faith in Jesus, stand. (Over 3000 persons arose.)

Did God heal you?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Did I heal you?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Were you healed through faith in Jesus?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Does He keep you?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Thanks be to God for the thousands present whom He healed. So long as Zion can maintain this testimony, she will never be the slave of liquid fire and distilled damnation, or the accursed poison of the druggist, the speculations of the physician, or the victim of the knife of the surgeon. Thanks be to God.

I am glad for this testimony.

It always comes from the thousands of Zion, every time it is called for.

Ere I close this brief address, let me implore those who have never yet found in God their Father, in Christ their Saviour, and in the Holy Spirit their Comforter, to realize how broad is that Salvation, how deep, how high, how eternal, how satisfactory.

I am glad today that this Gospel is winning its ever-widening way, and that in Chicago tens of thousands have been won to God within the five years of Zion's history as an organized body, and multitudes have been healed. The poor wandering women have been sought and won. Zion Homes for Erring Women are full to overflowing with those whom we have brought into them from the street. We have restored them in scores to their friends. We are taking their babies and helping them to raise them for God. And Zion's Preventive Work for Women goes forward, and will, presently, attain very large proportions.

Zion's Glorious Work for God.

I thank God for Zion's work from hour to hour and day to day all around this earth in winning the wandering and the erring to God.

I thank God for Zion's work in calling sinners to a Saviour, and the sick to a Healer, and the wandering to their Father's home.

I thank God for Zion's work in teaching men that God loves and pities them, and is never their Adversary, or the Creator of their misery.

Never forget the beautiful words of my text—"In all their Adversity, He was no Adversary."

I thank God for Zion's teaching that Satan and Sin, Disease and Death and Hell are links of the same chain of Evil, and that Jesus, Salvation, Healing, Life and Heaven are links of another, a golden chain of Good.

We stand with God, who in Christ has sent that embodiment of Love and Pity which brings Salvation and Healing and Life and Heaven.

All who desire what Jesus came to bring, stand up and tell Him so. (With a few exceptions the entire audience arose.)

PRAYER OF CONSECRATION.

My God and Father, in Jesus' Name I come to Thee. Take me as I am. Make me what I ought to be, in spirit, in soul, in body. Give me power to do right, no matter what it costs. Give me power to confess wrong to those whom I have wronged. Give me power to restore and do right to all my fellowmen and in Thy sight. Father, I have sinned. For Jesus' sake, the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world, take away my sin and my sickness and make me Thine by Thy Holy Spirit; to love Thee, to serve Thee, to dwell with Thee on earth and by and by in heaven, for Jesus' sake. Amen. (All repeat the prayer, clause by clause, after the General Overseer.)

Did you mean it?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Live it.

LAW FOR ILLINOIS LEGISLATORS.

The General Overseer Reads a Very Able Document by Attorney Samuel W. Packard, Showing Why the Illinois House of Representatives Cannot Investigate Zion City Bank, and How Zion Can Prevent It.

A SHARP THRUST with the Sword of the Spirit!

A few keen thrusts with the rapier of truth!

Some quick strokes with the flashing sabre of the law!

A volley from the musketry of public opinion!

Thus ended the "tilt" with Zion for which the Illinois House of Representatives professed to be so eager.

In fact, even these blows were scarcely needed.

The foolish attack had already fallen by its own weight.

Zion was everywhere acknowledged to be the victor.

It was but another in the unbroken succession of victories.

God has always given Zion victory over all foes, no matter how powerful.

When Representative Francis E. Donoghue introduced his clumsy resolution for the investigation of Zion City Bank, the press and the legislators were full of bravado and bluster.

In less than a week the attack had practically collapsed.

Press and legislators were attempting a graceful retreat.

On Lord's Day afternoon, February 24, 1901, what is believed to be the final "tilt" occurred. The first blows struck for God and Zion in this fight were reported fully in our last issue, which is having a very large sale.

At a Conference held immediately after the afternoon service, the General Overseer devoted a few moments to the attack, then read a letter from Zion's Legal Counsellor, Attorney Samuel W. Packard.

In this letter the attorney set forth, in an interesting, clear and convincing manner, the decisions of the highest courts of the country showing the absolute illegality of the proposed investigation.

He also showed how Zion could protect herself against such an invasion of her rights, and what damages might be recovered from, and what punishment inflicted upon, those who attempted to force such an investigation.

Concerning this document, one of the Chicago papers, although hostile to Zion, said: "Bit by bit and step by step the document tore the action of the Legislature to pieces. Decisions of State and National Supreme Courts were called to the aid of Zion in proof of its unassailable position."

The General Overseer called upon Overseer Speicher to ask a blessing upon the meeting.

INVOCATION BY OVERSEER SPEICHER.

Our Heavenly Father, we come to Thee at this time and ask Thee that Thou wilt continue Thy blessing upon us. Bless, we pray Thee, all the words that the General Overseer shall speak to this people. May the Holy Spirit rest upon us and lead us. May we receive from Thee the necessary grace that we may continue to be Thine, and stand steadfastly to the truth which Thou hast delivered unto us. We ask it for Jesus' sake. Amen.

The General Overseer then continued:

I always like to put a passage of the Word of God in the front of all that I say. I have been reflecting a good deal during the last few days upon the Word in the ninety-fourth Psalm and the twentieth verse:

TEXT.

Shall the Seat of Iniquity have fellowship with Thee, which frameth Mischief by a Law?

The Old Version is "the throne," but the margin reads, "the seat." Hence the passage applies to any and all forms of government.

The Seat of Iniquity.

That is the seat of in-equity, the inequitable seat, no matter who occupies it, whether he be Legislator or Governor. Whatever his place in authority may be, I declare that the man who is inequitable and unjust has no fellowship with God, and that those who frame mischief by a law are the greatest enemies of mankind.

When, last Lord's Day afternoon, I stood before you in a meeting like this, I dealt with the threat of a poor, weak, first-session Representative; a mere Jesuit boy in his first political reader. I smiled when I saw that threat, as I looked down the list of all the "whereasses." (Laughter.)

Some people may call them "whereases"; but I call them "where-asses." I think I found five "whereasses" (laughter), and when I saw these "whereasses" (laughter) I said, "Such a resolution as that would be a disgrace to a debating society. No intelligent and honest president would allow it to be put."

I never could have believed that Speaker Sherman would have ever put such a motion to the House.

He may say now that he has nothing to do with it, but it is too late. The duty of the Speaker is to protect the dignity of the Legislature and the State he represents, and to refuse to put such a motion.

Mr. Sherman may have another idea, but Mr. Sherman is not beyond criticism, and that is my idea. (Applause and laughter.)

Yes, and as the week rolled on it has become the idea of all the people except the representative "whereasses." (Laughter.)

There is not a lawyer of any repute who can be found to uphold this resolution. Attorney General Hamlin, of Illinois, says he does not know of any law which gives them the power to pass it or enforce it.

The State Senators of the Legislature agree with the Attorney General; and, mirabile dictu! every one of the Chicago morning papers agree that Dowie is right! (Applause.)

No matter what the reportorial columns may say, no matter what these young lions who "lack and suffer hunger" write, the editors have enough sense, if only horse sense, left to see that the "whereasses'" attack upon John Alexander Dowie and Zion was an attack upon the essential liberties of this people, and that tomorrow the same power might be used in attacking somebody else.

I am sorry that it has been my lot in this city and land so often to correct the authorities.

I have always marveled not merely that the municipal rulers and the legislators did not know the Gospel; but I have been supremely amazed to find that they, in many instances, knew neither Law nor Gospel. (Laughter and applause.)

The essential liberties of the Constitution of the United States, as well as the Constitution of the State of Illinois, was attacked in these "whereasses." (Laughter.)

The "Whereasses" Will Not Go.

The fact of the matter is that this miserable committee pretends that its "whereasses" have not yet been able to emerge from Springfield. The "whereasses" have been taken back into the repairing shop no less than three times (laughter), and they tell us they are going to be taken back a fourth time. Then they hope that the donkey will finally go. (Applause and laughter.) But, blind and deaf and lame and laughed at on every side, I do not think the donkey will appear. (Laughter.)

However, in order to give it its final quietus, we are here today without any fear of the subpenas of the august (!) Legislature; without any fear of what they may say, do, think or threaten. A man who does that which is right in God's sight, and is honest and obeys the law, need fear no man, whether he be Legislator, Governor or President. (Amen. Applause.)

I do not need to announce my policy. My policy has been before you all the week, and beyond a question it has triumphed.

There is not a lawyer or litterateur of any capacity whatever but will say that it has triumphed. Therefore, what is the use of slaying the slain? I do not propose to do it, but I do propose to remove some false impressions which have been made by that generation of vipers, the press, because

This Resolution Was Born of a Jesuit Father and a Daily Liar Mother.

I would be the last man in this land to stir up the odium theologicum.

I have not sought this fight; it has been forced upon me. But standing, as I do, as the representative of Zion, I am not sorry that the fight has come, because it will prove once more to Zion in America, in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, in Australia, that God has given to Zion that wisdom which enables Zion always to conquer. (Amen.)

It will show that the hand which holds the helm of this ship is kept in strength by God. (Amen.)

I shall ask before I proceed further that every one who is an investor or a depositor in Zion investments or Zion City Bank, will please stand. (Several hundreds arose.)

Zion's Financial Institutions Have No Dissatisfied Depositors or Investors.

Is there one of you who is dissatisfied with your investment?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Is there one of you who has any fear about your deposit?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—If there is, say Yes. I want that one to go down to Zion City Bank tomorrow morning and draw out your deposit. I will be glad to get rid of you. But such a depositor does not exist, so far as we can ascertain.

My brothers and sisters, not only have you during this week of persecution stood by myself and the Financial Institutions of Zion, but more than $40,000 in deposits and investments has come into Zion during the week, thank God. (Amen.) There is more to follow. (Applause.)

Digitized by Google

An Offer of a Loan of a Million Dollars.

Let me say, addressing the investors and depositors, that in the midst of this fight I was offered by an agent of an Eastern capitalist a loan of a million dollars.

Deacon Judd, have you not the letter making that offer?

Deacon Judd—"Yes, sir."

General Overseer—That has come in the midst of this persecution, thank God. (Applause. Amen.) I have not accepted it. I do not wish to accept it. I desire members of this Church and friends of Zion to keep on finding the money for Zion's Investments that they, and not outsiders, may obtain the profits.

I thank you now. I thank the distant depositors and investors, as well as those in Chicago, that not one dollar has been taken out of Zion City Bank by any depositor, and that not one account has been removed.

Many new accounts have been added, many new deposits have been received, and Zion today has larger resources by more than $40,000 than she had last week. Thank God. (Amen.)

Now perhaps the little Jesuit boy in the First Reader will notice that there is not much danger of a "run." (Laughter.)

Does any one believe for a moment one of these "whereasses" which says that it is necessary, in the interests of depositors, to investigate Zion City Bank?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Does any depositor call for it?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—The Jesuit, the druggist, the doctor, the mere miserable politician who makes traffic of politics, have called for investigation, but not one in Zion.

No petition came before that House for investigation.

The Investigation Came, I Believe, at the Bidding of the Jesuit General.

In a Jesuit College and Order, the manufacturer of this resolution was trained. He is, doubtless, a novice in the so-called "Society of Jesus."

It came at the bidding of the Black Pope in Europe, because Rome has begun to be seriously alarmed about Zion, since we have baptized, in Europe and America, about 3000 Roman Catholics in less than four years. (Amen. Applause.) Thanks be to God for that.

Let me say, however, that I do not doubt that there are many responsible and able men in the House of Representatives who were tricked and did not realize what they were doing when they sent these "whereasses" through with a shout. Now they would be very glad if they could take them back.

I notice that the committee are in a quandry as to their legal powers. They are going to get a lawyer to tell them what they are, or if they have any.

Would it not have been better to have gotten the lawyer before they began? (Laughter.)

I Desire to Show You What the Law on This Matter is.

For that purpose I have especially called you together.

I do not believe that we shall hear any more of the "whereasses," except their distant braying as they are being put to death at Springfield. (Laughter and applause.)

Should it not be so, however, one thing is perfectly certain: the policy laid down will not be departed from one iota, if I have to spend a year in prison.

I shall maintain my right, and your rights, to manage our own affairs as we please, as long as we do not transgress the law.

I shall maintain our right under the law to keep private the affairs of Zion and the affairs of every depositor and investor.

I wish now that the legislators who act first and think afterwards would do a little thinking now for their own sakes, as they do not know the law, and have been telling us so all week. I have the law. I intend to give them today a present of the Law and the Gospel. (Laughter and applause.)

This which I hold in my hand is

One of the Ablest Documents Ever Produced by a Lawyer.

I need not tell you that it is produced by our able and much-beloved Attorney, Samuel W. Packard. God bless him. (Amen. Applause.)

I will read it, and then I place in the hands of Overseer Piper six copies of it which the morning papers can have, if they want it.

But I am afraid that the last thing that they want is to tell the truth. (Laughter.) However, I challenge them to publish this legal statement. They have been hungering and thirsting for interviews all this last week, now I give them an interview.

You will now please to follow with very close attention this able letter.

Able Document by Attorney Samuel W. Packard, Setting Forth the Law Regarding the Rights of the General Overseer Against the Inquisitorial Committee.

LAW OFFICES OF SAMUEL W. PACKARD.

Suite 1603 Ashland Block,
Telephone Central 2848.

CHICAGO, February 23, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE,
General Overseer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion,
1201 Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Dear Doctor:—In order that you may clearly understand your rights, privileges and remedies in reference to this threatened inquisitorial investigation by a Legislative Committee of the Illinois House of Representatives into your private business affairs, in connection with Zion City Bank and the other Zion Financial Institutions, I wish to say:

Such committee is without power to compel you to produce your private books or disclose your private business affairs, or to punish you for contempt for failure to do so. There are, in my opinion, four, and possibly five, grounds or reasons for substantiating this position. I will mention only three of them.

First. The authority of our State government is divided into three departments, Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and Article 3 of the Constitution expressly provides that:

"No person or collection of persons, being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

Article 6, Section 1, also provides as follows:

"The judicial powers, except as in this article is otherwise provided, shall be vested in one Supreme Court, Circuit courts, County courts, justices of the peace, police magistrates, and such courts as may be created by law in and for city and incorporated towns."

The Legislature of Illinois has no judicial power to compel the giving of testimony or the punishing of a contumacious witness, except in impeachment proceedings or in an investigation having for its object the removal from office of a Judge for cause shown, or the determination of who are entitled to membership in either House, or who should be expelled. The Constitution also expressly provides in what other cases this arbitrary power to punish for contempt may be exercised by the Legislature. As no review or appeal is allowed from a judgment finding a party guilty of contempt by the Legislature, or either branch thereof, in a matter within its jurisdiction, this power is one of the most despotic of any power known to our laws.

Whenever a Court, inferior to the Supreme Court, finds a party guilty of contempt, either constructive or direct contempt in the presence of the Court, an appeal can be taken from such judgment, so as to obtain the opinion thereon of the Court of last resort. In Stewart v. People, 3 Scammon Rep., 395, Mr. Justice Breeze of the Supreme Court of Illinois, said:

"Perilous, indeed, would be the condition of the citizen, if he had not the privilege in such a case to have it (the judgment in a contempt proceeding) reviewed by another tribunal, and defective would be our jurisprudence if it afforded no means of relief."

Section 9, Article 3 of the Illinois Constitution provides as follows:

"Each House may punish by imprisonment any person not a member who shall be guilty of disrespect to the House by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence."

Now I have never been in its presence (laughter), and I do not think I will be. (Laughter.)

Under the well-settled maxim of interpretation, that the mention of one thing is the exclusion of another, the power of either House of the Legislature to punish for constructive contempt, outside of those cases where it exercises judicial functions, is necessarily denied by this express provision.

The power to punish a contumacious witness for refusal to appear or testify involves the exercise of judicial powers or functions. It necessarily involves the exercise of judicial power in determining whether or not the witness is compelled to appear, and whether the inquiry is within the scope of the power conferred in taking evidence. In Bouvier's Standard Law Dictionary, Volume 2, page 47, under title of "Judicial Power," it is said:

"Wherever a power is given to examine, hear, and punish, it is a judicial power, and they in whom it is reposed act as judges."

This has been so held over and over again by the courts.

In case of Ziebold, 23 Fed. Rep., page 791, Judge Foster of the Eighth U. S. Circuit released upon habeas corpus a witness who refused to testify in obedience to a statute of Kansas, which authorized county attorneys to summons witnesses before them, and commit them to jail for contempt, if they refused to obey.

The Court held that the witness was deprived of his liberty under this statutory proceeding without "due process of law," which is guaranteed to every citizen, under the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution; because the power to compel the attendance of witnesses by subpena and attachment to punish them for disobedience, necessarily involved the exercise of judicial powers which, under the Constitution of the State of Kansas, could only be vested in the courts.

There are numerous other decisions to the same effect, where fruitless efforts have been made by inquisitorial bodies in pursuance of legislative acts or proceedings to compel the giving of evidence.

Digitized by Google

In the case of Interstate Commerce Commission v. Brimson, 154 U. S. Reports, 447, Mr. Justice Harlan in delivering the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States, said.

"The inquiry whether a witness before the Commission is bound to answer a particular question propounded to him, or to produce books, papers, etc., in his possession and called for by that body, is one that cannot be committed to a subordinate administrative or executive tribunal for final determination. Such a body could not, under our system of government, and consistently with due process of law, be invested with authority to compel obedience to its orders by a judgment of fine or imprisonment. Except in the particular instances enumerated in the Constitution, and considered in Anderson v. Dunn, 19 U. S., Wheat., 204 (5:242), and in Kilbourn v. Thompson, 103 U. S., 168-190 (26:377-386), of the exercise by either House of Congresss of its right to punish disorderly behavior upon the part of its members, and to compel the attendance of witnesses, and the production of papers in election and impeachment cases, and in cases that may involve the existence of those bodies, the power to impose fine or imprisonment in order to compel the performance of a legal duty imposed by the United States can only be exerted, under the law of the land, by a competent judicial tribunal having jurisdiction in the premises."

Another notable case on this subject which perhaps I had better also cite is that of Kilbourn v. Thompson, reported in 103 U. S. Rep., page 168, where the Supreme Court of the United States held that even the Congress of the United States, or either branch thereof, had not the power or jurisdiction to compel the giving of evidence by an unwilling witness except in impeachment proceedings, or in proceedings involving the determination of the question of who should be members of the body, or proceedings of like character where judicial powers were given to such body; and that neither House had power to enter upon an investigation into the private affairs of individuals who hold no office under the government. In this case, the witness Kilbourn, who was released on habeas corpus proceedings subsequently, recovered a judgment of $20,000 for damages for false imprisonment, which was paid, together with the costs of the proceeding, by Congress.

Did the people send Mr. Donoghue and the other "whereasses" to Springfield for the purpose of being compelled to pay $20,000 to me for foolish procedure? Is that what they sent them to the Legislature for?

Voices—"No."

In that case, the United States Supreme Court held that the right of Congress to punish a party for contempt could derive no support from the precedents and practices of the two houses of the English Parliament, nor from the adjudged cases in which the English courts have upheld these practices, because the English Parliament was originally a high court of judicature, and after its separation into two houses each was considered to have retained the functions of a court.

The United States Supreme Court further held that:

"No person can be punished for contumacy as a witness before either House, unless his testimony is required in a matter into which that House has jurisdiction to inquire."

That: "neither of these bodies possesses the general power of making inquiry into the private affairs of the citizen."

That: "all the powers intrusted to government, whether State or national, are divided into three grand departments, the Executive, the Legislative and the Judicial. The powers confided to one of these departments by the Constitution cannot be exercised by another."

That: "the committee had no lawful authority to require Kilbourn to testify as a witness, beyond what he voluntarily chose to tell, and the orders and resolutions of the House and the warrant of the Speaker under which Kilbourn was imprisoned for refusal to testify before such committee were void for want of jurisdiction in that body, and his imprisonment for such refusal was without any lawful authority."

And further that: "the House of Representatives is not the final judge of its own power and privileges in cases in which the rights and liberties of the subject are concerned, but the legality of its action may be examined and determined by the Court."

In re Pacific Railway Commission, 32 Fed. Rep., 253, Mr. Justice Field of the United States Supreme Court, in speaking of this case, said:

"This case will stand for all time as a bulwark against the invasion of the rights of the citizen to protection in his private affairs against the unlimited scrutiny of investigation by a congressional committee."

In the same case Mr. Justice Field held that it was beyond the power of Congress to compel an unwilling witness to testify as to his private affairs or to produce his books or papers for investigation, even though Congress had expressly authorized the investigation for the purpose of obtaining information for legislative purposes, saying:

"There is no doubt that Congress may authorize a commission to obtain information upon any subject which, in its judgment, it may be important to possess. It may inquire into the extent of the productions of the country of every kind, natural and artificial, and seek information as to the habits, business, and even amusements of the people. But in its inquiries it is controlled by the same guards against the invasion of private rights which limit the investigations of private parties into similar matters. In the pursuit of knowledge it cannot compel the production of the private books and papers of the citizen for its inspection, except in the progress of judicial proceedings, or in suits instituted for that purpose, and in both cases only upon averments that its rights are in some way dependent for enforcement upon the evidence those books and papers contain.

"Of all the rights of the citizen, few are of greater importance or more essential to his peace and happiness than the right of personal security, and that involves not merely protection of his person from assault, but exemption of his private affairs, books and papers from the inspection and scrutiny of others. Without the enjoyment of this right, all other rights would lose half their value. . . ."

That is what I have always contended for; and it was to maintain that "right" that I announced my opposition to the "whereasses" before the House of Representatives at Springfield adopted them. And now that the House has illegally and maliciously passed them I have declared that I will never obey them.

"It is the forcible intrusion into, and compulsory exposure of, one's private affairs and papers, without judicial process, or in the course of judicial proceedings, which is contrary to the principles of free government, and is abhorrent to the instincts of Englishmen and Americans."

Now, Mr. Whereasses, put that in your Legislative corncob pipe (laughter) and see if you can smoke it.

The Question as to Which is the Bigger, the Legislature or I, is Settled Now.

The Chicago Daily News drew me with an exceedingly large brain, a very much elongated head, and put me up alongside the Illinois State Legislature, which had no brains, except a pepper caster (laughter and applause) and a corncob pipe, and asked the question, Which is the bigger? Perhaps they will give us another cartoon tomorrow morning answering their own question.

In the case of Interstate Commerce Commission v. Brimson, before mentioned, the Supreme Court of the United States referred to this decision of Mr. Justice Field with approval, saying:

"Neither branch of the legislative department, still less any merely administrative body, established by Congress, possesses, or can be invested with, a general power of making inquiry into the private affairs of the citizen. Kilbourn v. Thompson, 103 U. S., 168-190 (26:377-386). We said in Boyd v. United States, 116 U. S., 616-630 (29:746-751)—and it cannot be too often repeated—that the principles that embody the essence of constitutional liberty and security forbid all invasions on the part of the government and its employes of the sanctity of a man's home, and the privacies of his life. As said by Mr. Justice Field in re Pacific R. Commission, 32 Fed. Rep., 241-250, of all the rights of a citizen, few are of greater importance or more essential to his peace and happiness than the right of personal security, and that involves not merely protection of his person from assault, but exemption of his private affairs, books, and papers from the inspection and scrutiny of others. Without the enjoyment of this right, all others would lose half their value."

In Brown on Jurisdiction, the learned author very carefully and correctly summarizes the powers of legislative bodies in Section 121, pages 331 and 332, where he says:

"It has been held that legislative bodies could punish for contempt, and it was expressly so ruled by the Supreme Court of the United States more than sixty years ago. But this decision has been substantially overruled by that same high Court in the case of Kilbourn v. Thompson, 103 U. S., 168. In that case Justice Miller, in delivering the opinion of the Court, shows that the original authority vested in the English Parliament to punish contempts rested on the fact that it was a court of general jurisdiction. Congress, and legislative bodies generally, possess but limited judicial powers, and can only punish for contempt when necessary to preserve order, and while exercising judicial power. The commitment of one to prison for a contempt requires a judicial body capable of rendering a judgment. To render judgment contemplates a trial. A trial can only be conducted by a Court, and only had before a Court. Under the Constitution of the United States the judicial power is vested in the Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The power to punish for contempt is therefore a judicial power that can only be exercised by a Court. The jurisdiction of a Court is always open to inquiry to determine the judgment affecting the individual rights of the plaintiff. Congress and other similar bodies are not courts of law to decide private rights, but lawmaking bodies, and have no power to hear, try and determine a cause. Congress has no right to impose a judgment for contempt, except in cases where it acts as a Court, by authority granted by the Constitution of the United States, as in the trial of a case of impeachment, and in proceedings where it has jurisdiction to so act. It is by the Constitution made the judge of the election and qualification of its own members, and may fix their punishment for disobeying its rules. It also has inherent power to preserve order in its own body and punish the violators of its rules, such power being essential to its protection."

Second. Another reason why this inquisitorial committee would be without power to carry on this investigation against you is because the resolution limits the inquiry to matters appertaining alone to John Alex. Dowie's affairs. The last clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution would protect you from such a special invidious discrimination. That provision reads as follows:

"Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The United States Supreme Court has held many times that this provision was violated by the State, no matter by "whatever instruments or in whatever modes that action was taken."

Judge Taft in the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, in 96 Fed. Rep., on page 122, in speaking of the agencies of the State in reference to whose conduct this Fourteenth Amendment guaranteed protection, said:

"The principle was applied in ex parte Virginia to a judge of a County Court who had excluded jurors from a jury in a State Court on account of race, color, and previous condition of servitude. It was followed and restated in Neal v. Delaware, 103 U. S., 370-397, where the particular act under investigation was the act of the officers charged by the law with the selection of jurors. This was held to be State action, and in so far as the officers excluded from the jury men on account of their race, it was held to be a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment. The same principle is laid down in the Civil Rights Cases, 109 U. S., 3-17; 3 Sup. Ct., 18. In Yick Wo v. Hopkins, 118 U. S., 356; 6 Sup. Ct., 1064, the ordinance of a municipal corporation with reference to regulating the carrying on of public laundries which conferred arbitrary power upon the municipal authorities to give or withhold consent to the carrying on of such business, was held to be State action violative of the guaranty of protection in the Fourteenth Amendment." In this last mentioned case the Supreme Court of the United States nullified and pronounced illegal the action of the Supervisors of the County of San Francisco in discriminating against Chinamen under an ordinance regulating laundries.

The Court held that although the ordinance on the face of it did not necessarily discriminate against a particular person, or class of persons, yet, as in the execution and administration of it, the officers, who were charged with that duty, did so discriminate, that such discrimination was a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, and entitled the person so discriminated against to relief in the federal courts.

It, therefore, follows from this case that, if the House of Representatives should again side-track their resolution and run it into the repair shop for another overhauling, and should repair it so that it would include on its face the right to examine all private bankers in Illinois, and the committee should then, in the execution of the authority so conferred, single you out for investigation, the whole proceeding would be illegal, and you would be entitled to protection through the federal courts against such unauthorized invasion of your rights.

In the case last referred to, the United States Supreme Court through Mr. Justice Matthews, said:

"Though the law itself be fair on its face and impartial in appearance, yet, if it is applied and administered by public authority with an evil eye and an unequal hand, so as practically to make unjust and illegal discriminations between persons in similar circumstances, material to their rights, the denial of equal justice is still within the prohibition of the Constitution."

Third. Although the act of February 25, 1874, of the Illinois Legislature which provides that "Any person may be compelled by subpena to appear and give testimony as a witness and produce papers and documents before either House or a committee thereof or a joint committee of both houses" is not expressly limited to the taking of evidence in those matters only in which the Legislature has jurisdiction, yet a proper legal construction of such act must so limit it.

It is well settled that an act will be so construed as not to be unconstitutional, if the courts can put such a construction upon it. If this act is construed so as to confine the power of the Legislature to take evidence only in those matters where it has jurisdiction and can exercise judicial functions, then the act is legal. If it goes beyond that, it is unconstitutional and illegal.

To illustrate, if the Honorable House of Representatives should in their wisdom see fit to appoint an inquisitorial committe to take evidence to enable John Smith to recover in his bill for a divorce against Mary Smith, and should attempt to punish Mary Smith for refusing to testify before such an inquisitorial committee as to whether John Smith had grounds for divorce or not, every sensible person would admit that the House was assuming judicial functions beyond its jurisdiction, and that the whole proceeding was illegal and void.

It follows that there must be some limitation upon this inquisitorial power of the Legislature, even if we should admit that a legislative body had the right to compel the giving of evidence for the purpose of obtaining facts or data as the foundation for legislation.

But apart from this, and independent of the protection afforded by the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, I insist that the House of Representatives could not proceed under this resolution, for another reason, namely: because on the face of it it is apparent that the resolution was not introduced or passed for the bona fide purpose of obtaining information to enable the Legislature to frame a legislative act, but, on the contrary, was introduced and passed for the illegal, sinister and unconstitutional purpose of injuring Rev. John Alexander Dowie.

A special telegram to the Chicago American, dated Springfield, February 19th, and published in the paper of February 20th, says: "The ultimate purpose of this investigation is to put Dowie out of business."

They Will Never Put Me Out of Business as Long as God Lives.

We shall always do His business. (Amen. Applause.)

There is no doubt, from the phraseology of the resolution, that this is the true animus of the proceeding. Among other reprehensible statements obviously designed to injure you is the statement that you are an "alleged Divine Healer"—

There was the impudence of that young Jesuit. One of the first "whereasses" said that I was "an alleged Divine Healer."

God the Only Divine Healer.

I shall ask this audience of about 3000 persons one question: Have you ever heard me say that I was a Divine Healer?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Have you heard me deny it?

Voices—"Yes."

General Overseer—Whom have I said was the Divine Healer?

Voices—"God."

General Overseer—Have I ever claimed to heal; to heal at any time?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Did I ever ask you for any money for praying for you?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Did I ever ask you to believe that I had healed you?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—This allegation that I claim to be a Divine Healer, is it false or is it true?

Voices—"False."

General Overseer—Take that, Mr. Donoghue, and ye also in the House of Representatives, into your cob pipe.

It is false. Your first allegation was a lie.

—although you have distinctly, repeatedly and publicly disavowed any claim to be a Divine Healer, and, on the contrary, have always stated that in every case of healing through your prayers it was not you but God who was the Healer.

The fact that the other 129 private bankers in Illinois were omitted from the resolution furnishes still further corroborative proof that the inquisitorial committee was appointed simply for the purpose of carrying out the illegal, unrighteous and prejudiced judgment and sentence of the House rendered against you on the "whereases" of the resolution to final execution. Such being the purpose and object of the resolution, it falls of its own weight.

It is unrighteous, illegal and unconstitutional on its own face, and does not need the aid of direct admissions or proof dehors the record, to show that the House, in its prejudiced zeal to injure you, has overleaped its power.

Now, what are the remedies which the law affords you against this illegal proceeding?

The "whereasses" will perhaps be more affected by what I can do than by what I can say. I do not desire to take revenge, but I may teach somebody a lesson some day in this very matter by giving them into the hands of the Law which they constantly dishonor.

I do not desire to tax the overburdened taxpayers with heavy damages, but I will now show you what Mr. Packard declares are my remedies. Perhaps that will affect this committee, and those who have given them spurious "authority."

Remedies to Which Zion in Entitled Against the Inquisitorial Committee and the House.

It is a maxim of law that there is no wrong without a remedy, yet many people are wronged who never obtain legal redress. The reason usually is that they have not availed themselves of the weapons for their defense which it is the business of those learned in the law to find out and apply.

Yes, Mr. Packard; and I will add also another thing: The people are too poor and have to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow, and they cannot defend themselves. Thanks be to God, however,

Zion Will Defend Every One of Its Members.

We will have a law department big enough to do it some day. (Amen. Applause.) We have now. There is no man wronged in Zion anywhere whom I do not help to the utmost extent of my power, and usually very effectually.

Zion has a long hand. God lengthen its hand, and strengthen it. (Amen.) You take care; when you touch a Zion man, you touch me, and I will be down upon you, you "whereass." (Laughter.)

In the short time that has been afforded me to investigate the matter since this crusade began, I have come to the conclusion that you have at least six methods of legal redress.

It may be, upon further investigation, that I shall be able to discover more. However, I think those which I have already discovered will be sufficient to give you a happy issue out of all your troubles—

Brother Packard, when did I say this was a trouble? I have not felt it. I have felt that while I did not like it and would not have sought for it, I have had lots of fun out of it. I will have more fun out of it. (Laughter.) It is a "good fight," so far as Zion is concerned, and, since God calls me to fight, I cannot consider it a "trouble."

Zion will get lots of good out of it. I did not say troubles, Attorney Packard.

—in this regard and also vindicate the majesty, benignancy and supremacy of the law, under whose protecting shield it is the glory and pride of our constitutional form of government that the rich and the poor, the high and the low, may all alike find protection and immunity from illegal attacks.

1. If you should be arrested under this proceeding, you will be entitled to the immediate restoration of your liberty through habeas corpus proceedings carried on in the State Court or before one of the State judges.

2. You would also be entitled to relief by habeas corpus proceedings in the Circuit Court of the United States. You would be entitled to relief in the Federal Court because the proceeding would be in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, in that you would be deprived of your liberty "without due process of law," and also because you would be denied the "equal protection of the laws."

3. You would also probably be entitled, through proceedings in the State Court, to the extraordinary and unusual remedy afforded by the Writ of Prohibition.

That writ is so seldom used that most lawyers have forgotten that the Common Law provides for the issuing of any such writ.

"When an order or citation in contempt is made without any jurisdictional basis, or a lower court attempts to enforce a void order or judgment, by proceedings in contempt, the writ will be granted to restrain the proceedings or prevent the execution of the judgment in contempt, if one has been entered." (See 16 Enc. of Pl. & Pr., p. 1112.)

4. You would also have a right of action against the officer who arrested you, for false arrest and imprisonment.

In such a proceeding you would be entitled to recover large damages, in order to rebuke the assumption of such unwarranted and unconstitutional power on the part of the officer and the Lower House of the Legislature. Mr. Kilbourn recovered a verdict for $60,000 damages for the fruitless efforts made by Congress to compel him to testify. The verdict was cut down, however, to $20,000, which was paid by Congress for the little experiment in which it indulged in assuming the functions of a court when it simply possessed the powers of a legislature.

Digitized by Google

Do you hear that? You "whereasses." After arresting a man and trying him and compelling him to give evidence, $20,000 was paid by Congress for the little experiment in which it indulged in assuming the functions of a Court of Law, when it simply possessed the power of a Legislature.

5. You would also be entitled, in my opinion, to an injunction in the Federal Court to restrain the inquisitorial committee and its executive officer from depriving you of your privileges and immunities secured by the Fourteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, under Section 1979 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which reads as follows:

"Every person who under color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, custom or usage of any State or Territory subjects or causes to be subjected any citizen of the United States or other person within the jurisdiction thereof to the deprivation of any rights, privileges or immunities secured by the constitution and laws, shall be liable to the party injured in an action at law, suit in equity or other proper proceeding for redress."

Although it is a well-settled principle that courts of equity will not usually afford redress by enjoining a criminal procceding, yet an exception exists where property rights are involved. In this case I should set up in a petition for an injunction, if one were filed, that the good-will of your Bank was a property right, and that the proceeding threatened to injure or destroy that property right. The depositors and customers who have done business with your Bank would be apt to abandon it and do their banking business elsewhere—

Zion Would Not Desert Zion City Bank on Account of Persecution.

No, no, you do not know Zion.

Would you be apt to abandon the Bank because of this persecution?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—I should think not. But Attorney Packard is giving the legal view of it.

—if they found that their private transactions with you were to be the subject of public investigation and exposure, when they would have immunity from such exposure if they did business with other banks or bankers. That would necessarily have a tendency to destroy the good-will of your business, and so become a deprivation of a property right. That would entitle you, in my opinion, to equitable relief, by injunction, under the section of the United States Statute which I have before referred to.

I think that point is a good one. Would you like the committee at Springfield to know just how many pennies you have in Zion City Bank?

Voices—"No."

The Legislature Has No Right to Inquire Into Your Private Business.

General Overseer—If you had borrowed money from the Bank, would you like the committee to know just what security you gave?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—The fact is, it is a downright piece of wilful, wicked and abominable illegal procedure.

Similar relief was afforded in the case of Schandler v. Welch, 42 Fed. Rep., 561, by Judge Phillips, of the Eighth Circuit. The Court in that case enjoined the State officials of Kansas from prosecuting the petitioner criminally for alleged violation of the State law of Kansas, on the ground that such State law was unconstitutional, and hence the petitioner was deprived of his property rights "without due process of law."

The Court said: "The declared object and purpose of the respondents (that is, the State officers of Kansas) is to obstruct and prevent the right of complainant and his agents to pursue a lawful avocation and business in commerce between the states. In short, in intent and in effect, to destroy complainant's business and expel his property, imported into the State for mercantile purposes, from the State. Certainly such a condition of affairs calls into activity the equity powers of the Court to protect the property rights of the complainant secured to him by the Constitution of the United States."

6. If this legislative inquisition should proceed under the powers given to it by the last resolution, passed on Wednesday, February 20th, and result in the arrest or molestation of any one of your employes who is a citizen of the United States, then I believe all the members of such committee, as well as the doorkeeper who served the warrant, and perhaps the Speaker and all the members of the House who voted for the resolution, would be liable to indictment in the Federal Court for conspiracy "to injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate a citizen in the free exercise and enjoyment of the rights and privileges secured to him by the Constitution of the United States."

Would it not be a terrible turning of the tables if I brought the entire Illinois House of Representatives, from the Speaker to the doorkeeper, into Court and indicted them for "Conspiracy"? (Laughter.)

It would be a conspiracy to deprive a citizen of his rights under the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, which gives him immunity from arrest "without due process of law." As the proceeding would be illegal and unconstitutional, it would be "without due process of law," or, indeed, any process of law whatever, and therefore every one aiding or abetting such illegal act could be held criminally liable, in my opinion, under Section 5508 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which reads as follows:

"If two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States, or because of his having so exercised the same, . . . they shall be fined not more than $5,000—

Just think of every one of them having to pay $5,000.

—"and imprisoned not more than ten years; and shall, moreover, be thereafter ineligible to any office or place of profit, honor or trust created by the Constitution or laws of the United States."

That would be the hardest thing of all. They would never be able any more to eat out of the government crib! (Laughter and applause.)

That the Federal Courts do not hesitate to enforce and give effect to the privileges and immunities afforded by the Federal Constitution, even against high State dignitaries, is apparent from many cases where criminal proceedings in the Federal Courts have been successfully prosecuted, and the decisions sustained by the highest Court in the land, namely, the Supreme Court of the United States (see in the matter of J. J. Coles, Judge of the County Court of Pittssylvania County, Virginia, 100 U. S. Rep., page 339; United States vs. Waddell, 112 U. S., 76; Motes v. United States, 178 U. S., 458).

In conclusion, I will say that my health is very good at the present time, and that I know of no reason why you should not avail yourself of this timely opportunity to show your loyal obedience to the requirements of Section 20, Article 2 of the Constitution of Illinois, which declares that: "A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of civil government is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty."

Mr. Packard is, of all men in this countrv most able to call attention to those principles.

We are determined to call attention to "the fundamental principles of civil government," for the blessings of both private and public "rights," and the blessings of civil and religious liberty are imperiled.

I remain, with great respect,
Yours very truly, SAMUEL W. PACKARD,

May God bless him. (Amen. Applause.)

Zion Will Not Resist Wrong by Force.

A statement has been made that I am prepared to resort to force. Did I ever do that?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Have I ever taught that? I have always yielded to the law, even when the procedure was illegal. I have sought my remedy, or else put up with the injury after I had won the victory, and I have always won in all cases of public persecution of Zion and her interests of every kind.

The lies of the newspaper press that I have Zion Guards with shotguns and slungshots are just as wicked as the very demons who wrote them, with the distinct purpose of creating public disgust and contempt of Zion. Is there any truth in them?

Voices—"No."

General Overseer—Zion Guards, stand, please. (The Zion Guards, about 300 in number, arose in every part of the building.) Are there any of you who ever carried a weapon of any kind?

Guards—"No."

General Overseer—Do you intend to carry weapons?

Guards—"No."

General Overseer—Have I ever asked you to be a body to do anything forcibly.

Guards—"No."

General Overseer—Do you exist for protection and defense?

Guards—"Yes."

General Overseer—Not for aggression?

Guards—"No."

General Overseer—Are you simply to preserve property and keep these meetings orderly and quiet?

Guards—"Yes."

General Overseer—And to protect my life against the frequent and open threats which are made against it?

Guards—"Yes."

General Overseer—I charge you never to carry a weapon, except the Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God. That is the kind of weapon which all the Devils fear and fly before.

I thank you for this, and ask now that all who have confidence in my administration of Zion will please to stand. (Thousands arose, nearly all in the vast auditorium.)

I ask you, Are you prepared to stand by me, God helping you?

Audience—"Yes."

General Overseer—I have no personal hatred against any of my enemies. May God bless them and save them and bring them to heaven.

BENEDICTION.

Jehovah bless thee, and keep thee:
Jehovah make His face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee:
Jehovah lift up His countenance upon thee, and give thee Peace.

Beloved, abstain from all appearance of evil. And may the very God of Peace Himself sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole Spirit and Soul and Body be preserved entire, without blame unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is He that calleth you, who also will do it; the grace of our Lord Jesus, the love of God our Father, the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, our Comforter and Guide; one Eternal God, abide in you, bless you and keep you, and all the Israel of God everywhere, forever. Amen.

WONDERFULLY HEALED AFTER TWO YEARS' SUFFERING.

The letter quoted below tells clearly and convincingly of the powerlessness of physicians and drugs to heal, and of the power and love of God, who is ever willing to heal those who obey His commands and trust Him alone.

The writer tells how her body, weakened and tortured by several diseases, was quickly and perfectly restored to health in answer to prayer:

ALMA, WISCONSIN, February 3, 1901.

BELOVED GENERAL OVERSEER:—It is about four years ago since God graciously revealed His saving and healing power to me.

At the Consecration of Central Zion Tabernacle I first heard of God's Way of Healing.

I had been suffering for nearly two years with constipation, indigestion and other troubles.

In February, 1897, mamma was feeling very badly and went to Chicago to Zion Home.

She took me with her, but I stayed with relatives.

The teaching was mostly new to her, but just what she wanted.

She was baptized and fully persuaded that you were a man of God.

She tried to persuade me to stay at Zion Home, but I was very stubborn and would not, because all that I had ever heard about you was in mockery.

But when a physician in Chicago told me I had a floating kidney and would have to be operated upon, I decided to go and see you.

I witnessed a Baptism of about 140 that day, and the beautiful, solemn scene impressed me very much.

I went into the Healing Room, and when you laid your hands on me and prayed, I felt such a strange feeling pass all through my body.

I then and there gave my heart to God.

I felt that God had healed me.

I went to Central Zion Tabernacle after that, and the more I heard you teach, the more I learned to love you and to feel that you were a Messenger of God.

At the beginning of my sickness I had been treated by a physician of our town, but as he could not help me, and I was growing thinner and paler every day, mamma took me to Winona, to a better physician.

I grew so bad that I was obliged to stop school.

For a long time I could eat scarcely anything but bananas, a very soft boiled egg, and milk.

I suffered with pains in my side nearly all of the time, and used treatments regularly.

I very often felt so miserable that I wished I could die.

After you had laid your hands on me, I was still very ignorant, and having become accustomed to the treatments and thinking I could not get along without them, still kept on using them.

God taught me differently.

I laid all remedies aside and put full confidence in Him.

Words cannot express my gratitude to God for delivering me from a life of misery and sickness.

I thank you also for the beautiful teaching you have brought us.

I am thankful that God has led me to Him in my youth, because I am happier in His service than I was in the few pleasures of the world.

I now attend the High School regularly, and have not been obliged to miss one day because of sickness since God has healed me.

I delight in doing Zion Seventy work.

It is my earnest desire that Zion may go forward very quickly, so that all nations may know of the wonderful mercy and goodness of God, and that Jesus may come quickly.

Praying the Father to spare you many years to us, I am

You loving Sister in Christ, IRENE M. ZELLER.

ZION'S BIBLE CLASS.

BY DEACON DANIEL SLOAN.

MIDWEEK BIBLE CLASS LESSON, MARCH 13th or 14th.

The Rebukes of God.

1. He rebukes self-righteousness.—Luke 18:9-14.
   Which looks with disdain on the poor.
   Which comes in austerity to Church services.
   Which prays in self-admiration.
2. He condemns money-hoarding.—Mark 10:17-27.
   Which causes one to always be full of business plans.
   Which leads one to worship success.
   God cannot get into the heart which is trusting something else.
3. He silences self-presumption.—John 8:1-11.
   To be fit to judge those guilty of common sins, you must be free from those failings yourself.
   People usually unsparingly condemn what they are guilty of themselves.
   Christ came specifically to save, not continually to condemn.
4. He exposes sectarian prejudice.—Luke 5:33-39.
   Some want others to ever act as they do religiously.
   Salvation that is ever new is the only kind that keeps.
   New light is ever coming to the enlightened man.
5. He unmasks hypocrisy.—Matthew 23:13-33.

SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS LESSON, MARCH 17th.

The Weary Complaint of Some.

1. Saying much against the mission of others.—Numbers 12:1-11.
   Some are very ready to criticise God's ministers.
   Some know just how a preacher ought to talk, and what he ought to say.
   Some are more wise than the wisdom God gives His leaders.
2. Saying that God ought to give them better things.—Numbers 11:4-9.
   It is fleshly desires that make saints weep.
   Some do not seek first the hidden manna.
   What God gives means life; what we often want causes death.
3. Saying there is no way out of trouble.—Exodus 14:10-18.
   Some think they cannot find God and cannot get away from the Devil.
   When we trust and do not fret, God can help us.
   God cannot deliver those full of fear.
4. Saying that God has made the load too heavy.—Numbers 11:10-15.
   Some cry in trouble instead of pray.
   When God's people obey they never come to want.
   Sin ever puts heavy loads on heavy hearts.
5. Saying obstacles are too great to get where God plans us to go.—Deuteronomy 1:22-32.
   God selects the place for His City.
   God always chooses good places for His people.
   When we look other than to God, faith fails.
6. Saying life is only a weary grind of worry.—Job 7:1-17.
   God did not say Man is born unto trouble, as sparks fly upward.
   God does not cause sleepless nights.
   God does not want any one to die or even long for death.
7. Saying the discipline of God is harsh and severe.—Hebrews 12:4-16.
   God is love, He cannot be harmful.
   God does not teach with a rod in His hand.
   Do not rebel and you will find His yoke easy.
8. Saying the cost of discipleship is too exacting.—Matthew 19:16-22.
   To give all to God is to get all from God.
   The wages of sin is death, for it costs a person the life.
   The earth is God's, to follow Him is to inherit it.

God's Holy People are Not a Murmuring People.

WOE UNTO you! for ye took away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.—Luke 11:52.

THE following letter to the General Overseer is from a gentleman in London, well known there in literary circles. He writes:

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Reverend Sir:—May I beg very respectfully to introduce myself to you by this letter?

Having heard a great deal about you and your teaching during your sojourn on the Continent and throughout England, especially in London, I became interested and tried to find out all I possibly could about Divine Healing.

Needless to say, I had much difficulty; for I found that the press generally, pandering to the public taste, condemned you on all hands, misrepresenting you and your teaching in the grossest and most contemptible manner.

Without giving their readers a truthful impression of your principles and creed, they condemned them because they were new, or uncommon or unconventional.

For my own part, I must admit that I was somewhat in doubt with such false reports circulated; but feeling certain that there must be something in it, I investigated and inquired for myself.

At last I came upon a copy of LEAVES OF HEALING in a public library, and of course I read it eagerly.

I was greatly surprised at what I learned, and could find nothing in what was written that could support the theory of the newspapers that "it was a fraud."

To me, what I read seemed great truths.

Not knowing where to obtain a copy of your paper in England, I told many of my friends what I had learned, and tried my best to convince them that it was worthy of consideration; but they would accept nothing without authority (LEAVES OF HEALING).

Therefore I am writing you for authoritative information and to ascertain where LEAVES OF HEALING can be obtained in England.

AND IN that day shall ye say, Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon His Name, declare His doings among the peoples, make mention that His Name is exalted.—Isaiah 12:4.

John Price, of Erdington, England, writes:

OSBORNE HOUSE, RESERVOIR ROAD,
ERDINGTON, NEAR BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

DEACON O. L. SPRECHER.

My Dear Brother in Jesus:—I regret to know that the General Overseer and yourself are leaving our land.

After our meeting last evening, one of our members informed me that his wife and he had been reading LEAVES OF HEALING and that they had to begin to pay their tithes at once.

We were delighted to read your letter, with its glad tidings regarding the mother being saved and the dear little girl being healed.

It is just like our Father.

We have had some most blessed answers to the prayer of faith lately, more amongst the children.

In one family the little baby was given up to die and the father was very ill. The distracted mother sent a request for prayer to our meeting.

That very night God had mercy on them.

The father had a change for the better, and they are both nearly well.

The dear mother's face is quite bright again.

Another little baby was fading away—its eyes being sunken in its head.

The father and mother brought it to the meeting and they both humbled themselves before God in prayer and confession.

The little one was anointed. It went to sleep in the meeting and has been improving, and is now quite well.

The Devil has kept us going lately.

The dear little boy about whom my oldest son wrote, asking you to pray, had a marvelous deliverance.

He was near unto death, but is now quite recovered, praise God.

These things need telling out more, that His Name may be exalted.

These blessed deliverances are all brought about through LEAVES OF HEALING, more or less.

It was a happy day, years ago, when dear Brother Stevenson introduced LEAVES OF HEALING to our family.

I thank God that ever He opened my eyes to see a Full Salvation for spirit, soul and body, and that we do not now believe the old lie that God is the defiler. We believe that the Devil is the author of all sickness and disease.

Our constant prayer is that our dear General Overseer may be spared many years to denounce and expose the tricks of the Devil.

IF YE BE willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land.—Isaiah 1:19.

We give a letter from Natal, South Africa, addressed to Overseer Piper:

REV. WILLIAM H. PIPER.

Dear Overseer:—Herewith I send you my application for membership, as I cannot remain outside of Zion any longer.

Zion teaching has been in my heart for three years.

But I have been disobedient to the Voice from Zion.

Now I see that I have lost three precious years and the Devil has gained three.

How foolish it is to be disobedient

God has called me through LEAVES OF HEALING to delay no longer.

We are only four here in Durban who have accepted Zion teaching to any extent.

We need your prayers that God will do wonderful things through LEAVES OF HEALING and through our simple testimony in this dark city full of apostate churches.

IS ANY among you sick? let him call for the Elders of the Church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Name of the Lord: and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him.—James 5:14, 15.

The following letter was written to the General Overseer from England:

2 COWPER VILLAS,
CHURCH ROAD, YARDLEY, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—We came to believe in Divine Healing through reading LEAVES OF HEALING, sent us by my dear Brother Baum, of Cincinnati, who was converted and baptized by Overseer Piper.

We were and are thankful to God to know and live the truth.

We do thank Him for sending LEAVES to our home.

We forward them to surrounding neighbors. Some have been converted. Many are interested.

We have sent in our applications for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

We hold a small meeting on Wednesday evening and study the Bible Lesson in the LEAVES.

Although there are only four of us, we are praying and happily looking forward to the time when we shall have an Elder over us and be a strong Zion Gathering for God in Birmingham.

We pray God will ever bless your mighty work in delivering the true Gospel to the world.

CHICAGO.

Presentation of Banners and Standards to Zion Guard by the General Overseer.

ON Monday evening, February 18, 1901, a grand rally of Zion Guard was held at the South Side Zion Tabernacle.

The General Overseer was present and made the occasion a memorable one by the presentation of the beautiful silken Zion Banner and the silken flags of the United States and Great Britain which served as his Banner and Standards all through the European mission.

The Guard was drawn up in two batallions facing inward, when the General Overseer entered. Zion Band, of over thirty pieces, made its first appearance at this time, and, with the escorts of honor, escorted the General Overseer to the platform.

The meeting was opened by the reading of the twentieth Psalm, which the General Overseer has designated especially as the Psalm for Zion Guard.

The General Overseer then spoke briefly to the Guard, reminding them that their only weapon was the Word of God, then passing on to a very interesting talk on the significance of the Banner and Standards.

Speaking of the Banner, he said:

"First, the color at the bottom is the color of the Great White Throne itself: the pure white which is the blending of all colors.

"As it takes every color to make white, so it takes every grace to make a man or a woman pure.

"The Gold, of which the streets of heaven are laid, is the emblem of pricelessness. It always has been the Standard of pricelessness, the beautiful emblem of heaven.

"The Blue, the emblem of the clear, unclouded sky, represents the boundless glory of God.

"The Sword and Crown represent the Sword of the Spirit and the Crown which God gives. Our motto is not 'No Cross, no Crown,' but 'No Sword, no Crown.'

"The Sword of the Spirit is the Word of God. There is nothing that cuts like the Sword of the Spirit, if you have the right hold on it. If you have hold of the wrong end, however, you will get hurt.

"That Book has been dearer to me than anything man could ever give me, and is dearer still. It is not merely the Sword, but the Word of God. We are speaking of the Bible as Christ spoke of it."

The presentation was then made, the Guards promising to Go Forward under the Banner to fight the good fight of faith; to defend the principles which it represented; to use only the Sword of the Spirit, and to maintain the purity of Zion.

The General Overseer then presented the American and British Standards with a few appropriate words, after which he spoke briefly concerning some of the plans for the future of the organization.

He was then escorted to his carriage.

Zion Guard now consists of about three hundred members, divided into seven companies and Zion Band. One of these companies is formed of men who reside at Zion City.

These three hundred men are being carefully and systematically drilled in order to bring them to the point of highest efficiency in their important but peaceful duty of protecting lives and property and preserving law and order in Zion in Chicago and at Zion City.

Fifth Anniversary of the Organization of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

Friday, February 22, 1901, was the Fifth Anniversary of the Organization of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

According to his previously announced plan, the General Overseer did not hold the special services and Conferences, with an ingathering of members and friends of Zion from all the world, which have heretofore been held on the Anniversary of Organization.

Instead, each Branch and Gathering held special services on that day, and a special meeting was held at Central Zion Tabernacle at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The General Overseer conducted the service, touching upon the salient points in the history of the five years since organization.

He showed how wonderfully God had wrought through Zion in those few short years; to how many tens and hundreds of thousands the Message of the Everlasting Gospel of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living had been carried; how many had been saved, healed, cleansed, blessed and made prosperous through that work.

He, and all the audience of over a thousand members and friends of Zion with him, thanked and praised God for His glorious work.

But Zion is too fully occupied with Going Forward and going Upward to give more than an occasional glance at the path already trod.

She marks the milestones in her journey, then passes on.

She is surrounded by many bitter foes as well as many who love her better than all the world beside. She is in a continuous warfare for God against these diabolical foes, hence she cannot afford to devote much time to reminiscence.

The completion of the first half-decade of her existence was fittingly observed, but she presses on and up.

Benton Harbor, Michigan.

Rev. Edward Williams, Elder-in-Charge.

God's mighty hand is carrying forward His work in Zion in Benton Harbor.

As in apostolic times, He gives His servants all boldness to preach the Word, while He places the stamp of His Authority upon their ministry by stretching forth His hand to heal.

Two families, one of six children and another of three, were recently healed, immediately, in answer to Elder Williams' prayer. The little ones were able to be out on the following day.

Mrs. Williams, the Elder's good wife, was recently attacked very severely by the grip. Her bronchial tubes were rapidly filling up, and she could scarcely breathe. In answer to her husband's prayer she was perfectly healed in the twinkling of an eye.

A colored woman, member of the Methodist Church, was instantly healed after three years' sickness, in answer to Elder Williams' prayers.

Zion's work in the near vicinity is also being greatly blessed.

In the jail at St. Joseph, which has about thirty inmates, Elder Williams conducts services on each Lord's Day afternoon. Members of the Church in Benton Harbor send in LEAVES OF HEALING, and the prisoners are taking a great deal of interest. They have pasted up Zion pictures in all their cells.

The Elder recently held a series of meetings at Millburg, Michigan. The interest was intense, the hall being crowded so that no more could get in.

The meetings were attended by two ministers of the so-called Christian Church. They became so angry and stirred up such opposition that threats were made to burn down the hall if the meetings were continued. The owner became fearful and refused Elder Williams farther use of the hall.

One man who had used tobacco sixty years, gave it up and handed the Elder his tobacco box.

We give below a few testimonies to God's healing power from the members of the Church in Benton Harbor:

BENTON HARBOR, MICHIGAN, February 2, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear General Overseer:—About six weeks ago a scaffold upon which I was working broke.

I fell, striking with my side at about the third rib, on the edge of a board.

This caused a fracture, tore the lower ribs loose in front and broke one or two near the spine.

I think I was also hurt internally, but how badly I do not know; because I was instantly healed of that.

As soon as I got up I prayed, and as soon as I could talk I asked two brothers who were working for me to pray for me. In a short time I was relieved so that I could walk and I rode in a buggy about four miles.

I followed the instructions in James 5.

I rested well that night and was able to walk nearly a mile to the meeting the next day.

God answered prayer at once and took all the soreness out. All I had to do was to keep my body quiet, so that the bones could grow together again. In one week I was able to help shingle the roof.

I praise the Lord for the teaching we get from Zion through you, our General Overseer.

I often think that if I had gone to a doctor great suffering would have followed. Praise the Lord, we have learned a better Way.

I pray that God will bless you and all Zion everywhere.

Your Brother in Christ, AUGUST PETERS.

BENTON HARBOR, MICHIGAN, February 21, 1901.

REV. JOHN ALEX. DOWIE.

Dear General Overseer:—We have been taking everything to God in prayer, sickness included, for about eighteen years. However, in a great many cases we called in the doctor, until about five years ago.

Through the reading of LEAVES OF HEALING, which came into our hands through some friend, we awakened out of sleep. From that time the Lord has been our Healer.

We have in several cases received most wonderful healing.

About two months ago I ran a nail into my foot.

The foot swelled to twice its normal size.

As soon as we turned to the Lord for our help, the swelling went down, praise His Holy Name.

In less than two hours after Elder Williams prayed for me, I went about my business as usual.

I was taken with grip last Monday, and was very sick for two days. Then I received, all in a moment, a manifestation of God's power, which healed me.

I am not writing this to prove Divine Healing to be true, for that is true even though there be no one healed.

May God bless His work in Zion.

Your Brother in Christ, C. DRUPSTEIN.

BENTON HARBOR, MICHIGAN, January 30, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I praise God for the grace He has given me to free me from the bondage of sin wherewith the Devil had bound me.

I had used tobacco for about twenty-five years and drank a great deal of liquor when I could get it.

LEAVES OF HEALING was handed to me last winter.

I read with great interest, saying to my dear wife that if that was all true, this was the work of God.

Drink would let me think no farther.

I had taken the Keeley treatment some years before, but it was no success. I drank worse after the treatment than before.

When we moved to Benton Harbor I went to Zion Tabernacle.

Elder Williams told me that I must repent and trust God as my Healer and my Cleanser.

I threw away my tobacco and began to pray that God might deliver me from my habits.

He has done so and I praise His Holy Name for His wonderful blessings and Keeping power.

I desire to thank dear Overseer Piper and our dear Elder Williams for their earnest prayers for me in time of need.

May God bless our dear General Overseer and all the officers and Elders of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, and all those who worship God in spirit and in truth.

Your Humble Brother in Christ, WILLIAM D. BAUSHKE.

BENTON HARBOR, MICHIGAN, February 2, 1901.

I feel it my duty, also a great privilege, to praise God for the many blessings He has showered down upon me.

He healed me last summer of a severe cough and great soreness through my lungs and shoulders; also of lame back and several other minor disorders.

Elder Williams prayed for me and God answered his prayers.

I praise God for our dear Elder.

Your Sister in Christ, (MRS.) CHARLES MORRILL.

Detroit, Michigan.

Rev. E. B. Kennedy, Elder-in-Charge. Evangelist Sarah L Kennedy, Assisting.

Elder Kennedy and his excellent wife, Evangelist Kennedy, have been working for God in Zion in Detroit for over three months. God has blessed their earnest, consecrated labors and is almost daily adding to them such as are being saved.

In a recent report of Zion's work in Detroit, Elder Kennedy says:

We asked God for ten applications for membership for the montb.

On the last Lord's Day in the month I had but three of the ten applications.

On Monday morning, in beginning to make out my report, I filled out the blank for ten applications. Yesterday we had but eight. But at the meeting last night God gave us the remaining two.

The tenth application was that of an old soldier. He was brought to the Tabernacle in this way:

We needed a janitor badly. After giving the "drones" an opportunity to volunteer their services, no one offering to do the work, I asked the people to pray for a janitor.

On Tuesday a stranger was on hand, saying he had heard we were in need of a janitor.

He erroneously thought himself saved, but God took the scales from his eyes and he gave himself to God. I felt the leadings of God in this matter had been so clear that I had no hesitancy in taking his application and forwarding it with this month's report.

The conversion of this man is the third for the week.

A man and wife came to Zion Tabernacle on Lord's Day for the first time.

LEAVES OF HEALING had prepared him to receive what God had for him. On Tuesday he sacrificed a day's wages and came to Zion Tabernacle with the determination to give himself to God. He got what he came for.

God is working.

Our meeting together in Zion Tabernacle and Zion Cottage Meetings has been with increasing blessing and power.

A number of others are finding their way into the truth of Salvation, Healing and Holy Living.

Zion Seventies are meeting with more opposition now as they go forth with LEAVES OF HEALING.

Litchfield, Michigan.

Rev. Martin Hayden, Elder-in-Charge.

Deacon Charles O. Hatch, formerly of Hammond, Indiana, now residing at Homer, Michigan, sends us the following remarkable testimony to the instantaneous healing of a broken bone in his eight-year-old son's forearm. The healing took place in answer to the prayer and laying on of hands of Elder Martin Hayden, of the Litchfield, Michigan, Branch, Overseer Piper praying at the same time.

The following is Deacon Hatch's testimony:

It is with heartfelt gratitude that I write to tell you of the blessing which came in answer to prayer.

On the 10th of last October our little eight-year-old son Frankie fell from a fence while at school and broke his arm between the wrist and elbow He was brought home by a lady and her son who lived near the school.

The lady said to my wife, "I am afraid the little boy's arm is broken, You ought to get a doctor at once to see to it."

My wife said, "No, we will not have a doctor."

At that time I was seventy miles from home.

My wife obeyed the command to "call for the Elders of the Church."

She telegraphed you, telegraphed Elder Hayden, of Litchfield, to come, and wrote to me.

A later letter to my wife's father stated that Elder Hayden had come the next morning and prayed with him, letting the arm down in its natural position, and that the pain immediately left and that the boy was somewhere out in the yard.

Her parents said that if he was all right and out, he never had his arm broken.

But there is no denying that it had been broken, for there is unmistakable evidence of a bone having been fractured.

He has perfect use of all muscles and joints, and has never had a particle of pain in it since the Elder prayed.

I think nothing ever happened in or near Homer before to arouse the "They says" as it did to have a person trust God for the healing of a broken bone.

The first we heard was that mortification had set in, and then it was gangrene; and only a week or two ago they said we had been to Ann Arbor and had the arm taken off at the shoulder. Yet during the time of all this talk, not one, besides my own parents, came to find out for himself whether it was all true or false.

Thanks be to God, it was all false. We are very thankful to God for our General Overseer and those who are called with him who come teaching the full Gospel.

We are praying daily for them and for the Onward Movement of Zion.

Mount Sterling, Ohio.

One of the many Gatherings of the Friends of Zion in Ohio is at Mount Sterling, under the conductorship of Mr. W. A. Dodds.

God is blessing all these Gatherings, making them very important nuclei of Zion which will, in time, develop into Branches. They are also distributing points for Zion Literature, which bears the Message of the Everlasting Gospel, the All-Conquering Message of the ages.

Mr. William Highmiller, Messenger of the Gathering at Mount Sterling, sends us the following report:

Zion meetings are held each Lord's Day afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. W. A. Dodds, our Conductor.

Many have been the blessings in answer to prayers for healing and keeping of spirit, soul and body.

Mrs. Paulina Dodds testified at a recent meeting to the healing of a severe sore throat and the grip in answer to prayer, giving God all thanks and glory.

Mr. J. C. Dodds gave God all praise and honor for answering his prayers for keeping him from getting sick.

Ella Dennison testified to the healing of a severe cold in answer to prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Highmiller testified to the healing of tonsilitis.

Our little daughter Esther, four years old, was taken with high fever and complained of her throat. We examined her throat and it was a mass of yellow blisters, the Devil's marks. We took it to the Lord in earnest prayer.

While we were calling her name in prayer, she said, "Papa, I's not sick. The Devil is gone. Jesus made me well."

And so it was; for there was no more sore throat. She was well the next morning.

We cannot give thanks to God enough for raising up such a man as the General Overseer, who gives us the Full Gospel.

We thank God for His answers to our prayers in behalf of all our family.

He cares for us and heals us of our diseases.

He provides us with employment.

We give God all glory and praise; for His promises never fail.

Mansfield, Ohio.

Rev. Cyrus B. Fockler, Elder-in-Charge.

Zion in Mansfield, given Victory by the power of God over all the wrath, fury and power of a bitterly malicious and murderous enemy, goes forward rejoicing in the Lord.

Every Lord's Day an officer of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion conducts meetings at the home of one of the members.

God's Spirit is present to bless, and, in spite of opposition, contumely and ridicule, those who are beginning to see the light as it shines forth from Zion are, one by one, leaving behind the old life and beginning, by Repentance, Confession, Restoration, Faith and Obedience, the New Life in Zion.

We quote an extract from a letter from a talented man who recently sent in his application for fellowship from that place:

I deem it my duty, as well as a great privilege and pleasure, to hand to you my application for membership in the Christian Catholic Church in Zion.

I have carefully read the teachings as recorded in LEAVES OF HEALING, and find them, according to the Word of God, absolutely true.

I have been greatly benefited and blessed by the inspiring words of the General Overseer.

I feel the lack of teaching, but, God helping me, I shall learn more each day by careful study and a listening ear.

Pray for our spirit, soul and body, that we may live many years to be a help to Zion's Onward Movement and a blessing to our family.

May God bless Zion City. May she be a clean and pure City, inhabited by a pure and holy people who shall grow in power and strength till Jesus come.

May God bless Zion everywhere.

Bradford, Pennsylvania.

Mr. B. S. Love, Conductor of the Gathering of the Friends of Zion in Bradford, sends us the following brief but comprehensive report of the work which God has been doing in Bradford during the year just past:

Zion is going forward in Bradford, praise the Lord.

Our first year's work shows good results, so far as we can count.

We started with four members and now have fourteen; started with one meeting each week, now have six.

Zion Junior Seventies are doing good work.

Many others are looking toward Zion.

The pastors of some of the churches are saying, "Keep away from those Zion people. Do not read the papers; they are teaching devilish things."

Praise the Lord, we are selling thirty copies of LEAVES OF HEALING each week and will soon increase that number.

God is blessing us wonderfully.

Pray for us.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Rev. Gideon Hammond, Elder-in-Charge. Deacon C. F. Kelchner, Assisting.

We have received the following wonderful testimony of almost immediate healing of a disease which the physicians failed to cure.

The testimony is from Philadelphia, written under date of January 24, 1901.

It was written by Miss Clara Thatford, who was healed of severe pressure of the nerves and weak eyes, in answer to her own prayers after she had read LEAVES OF HEALING and, asking God's help, had put aside all human so-called remedies:

DEAR ELDER HAMMOND:—In February, 1895, I was taken with severe pains in my shoulder, neck and head. In a short time it gradually extended to my back and right arm; afterward to my left arm.

I was treated for about two years, going to three doctors in that time—one a specialist.

They called it pressure of the nerves.

I finally gave up going to doctors, at no time having had much faith in them.

Not having had the teaching, I did not know that it was always God's Will to heal.

One Monday morning in December, 1898, the Little White Dove brought its sweet Message of Gospel truth to me, through Miss Vina Peck's testimony.

After reading it I went at once to my room and, kneeling down, promised my Father that as He had now shown me His Way of Healing, I would never again take medicine, but trust Him, no matter what the result.

The only thing that had been any help in my sickness had been the wearing of a jacket lined with raw cotton. I was impressed at once to leave this off. I left it off, putting nothing on in the place of it.

Sunday was a raw, cold day. When I arose the Devil said, "Now, is this not a very imprudent thing to do? It is not good sense."

I looked up to my Father and said, as I took up my Bible, "Father, show me."

I opened to these words: "Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: is there anything too hard for Me?" (Jeremiah 32:27.) My heart answered No.

I went out trusting.

I at once began to get better. I did not have a single cold all that winter—a most unusual thing.

A few weeks later I left off my glasses, which I had worn for about ten years.

It is now more than two years since I had them on. My eyes are better than when I wore the glasses.

I have since had a number of healings, for which I praise God.

I went back to my usual work in September, 1899, and have lost only about four hours from work since on account of sickness.

Shortly after I began to trust God as my physician, mother did the same.

Mother is in her sixty-fifth year, does all her own work, but is feeling much better than she has been for years.

We praise God for the General Overseer and for Zion.

Waupaca, Wisconsin.

Rev. Mark H. Loblaw, Evangelist-in-Charge.

God has been greatly blessing the consecrated labors of the members of the Branch of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion in Waupaca, led by their energetic Evangelist, Rev. Mark H. Loblaw.

The work in this beautiful little Wisconsin city, and in several smaller towns in the vicinity, which are often visited by Evangelist Loblaw, is very encouraging, having in it the promise of a strong Zion Branch and community.

The Evangelist sends us the following report, showing how God is increasing the work and stretching forth His hand to save, to heal and to cleanse:

Zion in Waupaca is going forward.

We had a good time Lord's Day, February 17. God was most manifestly with us all day, especially in the afternoon when we spoke on Matthew 28:19.

A number followed the Lord in Baptism and the Master blessed them in so doing.

Despite the fact that it was stormy the people came in large numbers. We had many strangers present. They manifested a deep interest in everything that was said and done and remained throughout the entire service, Baptism included. It was truly an impressive service all through and many so expressed themselves.

Our people here in Waupaca are in a much better spiritual condition than ever before. A true Christian spirit is shown among the entire membership.

We expect much blessing as we continue faithful to God.

I find a willingness on the part of our people here to promptly obey their leader.

A loyalty to Zion at Headquarters is among our people.

Since our coming the membership has increased at least one-third of former membership, and the attendance has also increased, for which we praise God.

Our Father in Heaven has been very kind to us in many ways.

We have had some rather wonderful healings here, and one of recent date I wish to say a word about.

A young man came to the Scoville House a few weeks ago suffering from cancer of the stomach. He had spent nearly eight hundred dollars on doctors, to no effect.

He had been examined by X-ray and told that there was a cancer at the pit of his stomach.

He had suffered much and was no better.

We invited him to our meetings. He came and was much interested.

He came the second time when I spoke on "The Great Physician."

He listened and obeyed the call to Repentance and Full Consecration to God, spirit, soul and body.

He came to me after the service and asked me to pray for him. I did so.

He has had no trouble since and can eat anything good without distress, a thing he could not do for months.

He declares he is healed and desires to come into fellowship with us.

I mention this to the praise of God only.

Falls City, Nebraska.

Rev. Charles A. Hoy, Elder-in-Charge. Evangelist Sue R. Hoy, Assisting.

At a testimony meeting conducted by Elder Hoy, at Falls City recently, some excellent testimonies to God's great goodness and His Love, Power and Willingness to heal were given.

These testimonies were afterwards put in writing by the Witnesses and forwarded to us.

We give them below:

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, January 23, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I have many things to thank God for in the way He has healed and kept myself and children for almost five years.

Before knowing God as the Healer, I used much medicine every year, and had miserable health.

I am thankful that I heard God's Word preached in fulness and power in July, 1896, in Zion Tabernacle No. 2, Chicago.

My freedom from drug-slavery dates from then.

Myself and children have had healing of various ailments. I have received healing of neuralgia of nerves of right lung, for which I was treated while living in the East and West for five or six years.

I have also had healing of chronic constipation, which had caused hemorrhoids, for which I had undergone an operation in a Salt Lake City hospital in April, 1894.

The operation brought no permanent improvement, but God has done what the knife could not do.

After learning from God's Word and Dr. Dowie's preaching that He was the Healer, I threw away my medical muck.

I have no desire for medicine.

God quickly delivers from the little as well as more serious afflictions.

I have proved that God is also interested in our temporal welfare.

God kept my home in Park City, Utah, from destruction by fire by changing the direction of the wind.

When our stock gets sick we do not give medicine, but God heals it.

Saturday, January 19th, I was suddenly and severely attacked with the grip.

Elder Hoy prayed for me and I was healed and enabled to attend the three Lord's Day services.

I give God all the glory, and pray Him to bless and protect our dear General Overseer and all Zion everywhere.

Your Sister in Christ, RUTH WEAVER-DENNIS.

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, January 20, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I was quite sick during June and July.

I took medicine, but got no better, having white swelling.

I could not walk without crutches.

The doctor offered to operate on me and to cure me for $25.

I had beeen reading LEAVES OF HEALING and had lost all faith in doctors.

I sent for Elder C. A. Hoy to come and pray for me.

He taught me to trust God and prayed.

I got immediate relief, that Saturday afternoon, and went to work on the following Monday.

I have not had a sick day since.

To God be all the glory.

Respectfully, EDWARD RHODES.

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, January 21, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—Last fall I was healed of bloody flux through the united prayers of myself and wife.

We give God the glory.

Our little son Norman, five years old, had bowel trouble.

We prayed, but he did not get well.

We took him to the Divine Healing Meeting, had Elder Hoy pray for him, and he got well right away. He has remained well ever since.

Our baby, Alvia Walton, was threatened with croup several weeks ago, and was instantly relieved when Elder Hoy prayed for him.

He was a year old January 13, 1901, and is a true Zion baby, being a child of prayer.

He has never seen medicine or a doctor. We give God the glory.

Respectfully, S. L. YOUNG.

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, January 25, 1901.

DEAR ELDER HOY:—I wish to praise God by sending in my testimony.

God wonderfully and mercifully keeps my baby and myself.

If I think there has been danger or exposure to cold, or if we have the slightest symptoms of cold, I take it to my Heavenly Father and forget it, and it goes.

Baby was born without a doctor and is a splendidly strong and healthy child. I have prayed several times when his bowels had not moved for six or seven days, and God graciously answered.

Baby was not even mopey under the delay.

I can testify that it pays to take God in everything, and brings sweet reward with peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.

God has always blessed me in tithing.

Faithfully yours in Jesus, (MRS.) LAURA SAYLOR.

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, January 21, 1901.

DEAR GENERAL OVERSEER:—I have recently had two answers to prayer for myself and little son Frank.

We were both taken with a severe attack of the grip, but I praise the Lord for hearing my prayer and healing both of us immediately.

I thank God for bringing me out of darkness into the noontide light of the Full Gospel, and for sending us such a dear Messenger, in the General Overseer, to show us the way.

Since I recently obeyed God in Baptism I have had greater blessing in spirit, soul and body than ever before.

I truly thank God for dear Elder Hoy. He is such a blessing to us.

Your Sister in Christ, MARY M. MCCUMBER.

CHEERING WORDS FROM ZION'S GUESTS

NOTES FROM ZION HOME

THE regular Praise and Testimony Meeting held in Zion Home, Saturday evening, February 2, 1901, was conducted by Elder Excell.

After the usual opening exercises, the States represented were enumerated and found to be fourteen in number, as follows:

Arizona, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia and Wisconsin.

The following foreign countries were represented:

Canada, China, England, Germany, Japan and Scotland.

The meeting was then thrown open for testimony.

MRS. J. H. SAYRS, Zion Home, said: "I praise God for healing me of the grip last Monday week. I was very sick. I could not stand up. I was sick for about twelve hours, and I was able to stand up in the Name of the Lord."

F. R. BURR, Scottsburg, Virginia, said: "I thank the Lord for His keeping and healing power. About three weeks ago, while I was in Wisconsin, I received word by telegram to come at once as my little girl was sick; in fact, she was dying. I did not go home, but trusted God that she would be all right. In a short time I received another telegram saying that she was better. I then went to the depot and telegraphed home, 'I am praying and trusting God for victory.' At the same time I sent a telegram to Overseer Piper. God heard our prayers.
