We Must Build Our Churches

by Charlene Kleinschmidt

The religion of Spiritualism is built by a community of believers in the good within each man. The "I's" don't have it but the "We's" do. When we become less concerned with personalities and more concerned with the life of the church and the proof of life in the Spirit World, we will build our churches the way our Spiritualist pioneers visualized them.

What do we offer that makes us an example to emulate? Are we lovingly accepting of all the members of our congregation, understanding where each stands in his progression, and supporting his search for progression? Do strangers wish "to join our table" or "stand idly" by as we dash about too busy to notice their need to be needed.

We cannot and dare not speak in disparaging terms of what we perceive as faults in other religions or groups, if we are but clanging cymbals ourselves.

Looking back on the early pioneers, one finds a true harmony of personalities, as circles surrounded the young workers and helped their progress. Years of nurturing were not unknown and the desire to do spirit's bidding was most prominent. Certainly, there were those who, entranced by their own abilities, abused the gifts and flamed brightly for a short time, but the majority labored long and unrewarded in terms the average man understood. Are we doing that today? Do you have true guidelines and standards for development? If our young workers studied the pioneers and understood how often they served for years without recompence, perhaps we would find fewer comets blazing in our midst only to burn out quickly and all too often run out the door and back to the safety of more orthodox views.

We must find a part for every member to play or only the stars will shine and soon we dwindle to a handful applauding one another.

Let us see ourselves not as separate entities but as parts of the whole, and let each one do that which gives him joy in service to spirit as we find ourselves and our own. Everyone needs to give and we must allow all the opportunity. The more we help each other to help the whole, the more searching souls will turn to us. We should strive to discover and develop each member's unique talents. "People" should be encouraged to help plan socials, terrific cooks to share their goodies, those who enjoy children might love to share adventures with the young. We must find a part for every member to play or only the stars will shine and soon we dwindle to a handful applauding one another.

If we study the rise and fall of various religions, we find amid persecution and travail, they shared the common goal and struggled together for their cause, forced by circumstance to forget individualities. As suppression was replaced by acceptance, they began to find fault with one another and make previously unheard of demands in what they perceived as seemly behavior for their members. Finally their numbers dwindled, their temples dimmed and fell, not slain by the enemies they'd known, but by the ones they could not recognize; pride, jealousy and self-service.

Let us not fall into the snares that have shattered others. We must listen to our pioneers, be a community of believers who know and prove the truth, live according to the highest natural laws and we will build our sanctuaries as they are meant to be, loving temples for the Infinite Intelligence that dwells within each of us. Let us continue the work of our pioneers that they may count us as blessings. And, as the community of educated faith-filled, rather than blindly faithful grows, so will the peace and harmony for which our souls yearn.

We Can Change the Future

by Herbert Ray Worth

"Strike while the iron's hot!" So reads the old adage. Although most of us have never had the experience of working with heated iron, (blacksmiths are rather scarce these days) we readily grasp the significance and inference of the words. We know that the metal, when heated to a glowing red stage becomes malleable, and can be hammered and shaped into many useful tools and articles.

The adage makes clear that there must be a definite timing of our efforts, if we would obtain meaningful results. The accomplishment of any particular effort requires not only an expenditure of energy properly directed, but it also requires the synchronization with other factors and conditions which alone can determine the success or the failure of the entire undertaking.

Many of these factors and conditions exist in the very fabric and structure of Nature itself, thus constituting the basis of the Natural Laws, which in turn, govern our lives, our world and our universe.

We see and experience these laws in action daily. They are so much a part of our environment and taken so much for granted, that they will probably not elicit a conscious thought unless our attention is directed to a particular point of issue. We plan our planting when the season is conducive to the seeds' germination, survival, and growth. We schedule our work day and our daily activities to coincide with the sun's light and warmth. Sea captains for centuries have timed and set the hour of sailing with the tides. Astronomers must time their observations of the planets and the heavenly bodies, when their relative positions are best suited for the scrutiny of their faraway surfaces.

History clearly indicates that human events move in very definitely formed cycles. There are periods of intense activity, followed by periods of virtual inactivity - even stagnation. In these ever recurring cycles of fruitfulness and barrenness, is measured the extent and quality of man's progression. In these great cycles there is a point of origin and a point of return - which we might think of as home base. Whether as individuals, or collectively as families and nations, we move out along the course of the path which constitutes a particular cycle, where we gather that which we find to hold value and purpose. We attract that of a like nature, and we experience growth and fulfillment. When we complete this cycle and again touch into home base, we have gained something meaningful and worthwhile in the process. We have not returned empty-handed. Neither is home base our ultimate destination. We have fulfilled one mission, and in so doing have prepared ourselves to embark upon another - one which involves greater complexities, and requires greater knowledge, greater wisdom, and greater endurance for those who again step forward in response to duty's beckoning.

Some of these cycles are of very brief duration, and we are privileged to witness their unique drama from beginning to completion. Others encompass centuries - even millennia. The role we play in the great movements or cycles of exceedingly long duration is just as effective and just as essential as those wherein we see the entire scope of activity as it moves from starting point to finish line. No one is alive in the physical body today who witnessed the birth of our Nation in 1776. The intervening two hundred years encompass the individual dramas of millions, from the day of birth to the day of graduation to a higher and nobler expression of life. Yet our present vantage point in time reveals our Nation in a panoramic view, from which we envision only a vast display of activity, growth, advancement and refinement. We see not the imprint and seal of "death," but the dynamic action and exhilaration of life.

The change of command has been orderly and efficient. All have been touched by the inevitable law of change, yet the change has been accomplished without a ripple of obtrusion. The ranks vacated by transitions have simultaneously found replacements from our youth, continually emerging into manhood and womanhood. The unified overall movement is one of constant and unbroken progression.

As we near the completion of a great two-thousand year cycle, Spiritualists are clearly aware that we are again moving into position to launch the next world-resounding era or cycle of spiritual enlightenment. We have at our disposal all that has been

"Spiricom"

Electronic Link With the Spirit World -

Scientists Hail Breakthrough!

Easter week marked the announcement of a dramatic invention, an electronic link with the spirit world - a device which is called Spiricom. The news was broken at the National Press Club in Washington, D. C. A Group of American Scientists stated in the news release, that conversations had been held for more than an hour with the use of Spiricom. One of the main communicators is an associate professor of engineering and mathematics - who died after a heart attack in 1967. The communicant is George J. Mueller, PH.D. with whom was established "dramatic and evidential" contact.

The device, known as Spiricom, has been developed under the auspices of the Metascience Foundation. It is based in Athens, California.

Simultaneously details were released in London, Paris, Rome, Zurich, Frankfurt, Tokyo and Manila.

The inventors - who have issued a test-our-machine challenge to sceptics - claim:

For the first time in man's history "it has been proven incontestably death is merely a door to continuing life."

It is now "certain" personality continues to exist and function in a "disease free and pain free environment," in other words the spirit world.

The needless and destructive fear of passing on can be removed as well as the deep concern caused by a loved one's death.

The taboo around death can be ended.

Non-productive religious dogma "that has ruined countless lives over the centuries" can be disposed of.

Spiricom developments will hearld changes in science and religion, to the improvement of both.

Each individual "can realize he or she is a permanent inhabitant of an apparently limitless cosmos and not just a soulless maze-running rat or corn-pecking pigeon as proclaimed by present-day behaviouristic psychologists."

In decades and centuries ahead when this new instrumental system is perfected, "mortal man will have access to the accumulated wisdom of the ages."

Researcher and industrialist George W. Meek made the dramatic announcement to newsmen concerning the invention. Among his comments were:

I am an engineer and an inventor. More than 40 years of my life have been spent in industrial research and development.

We have chosen Easter week to make this announcement; for many Christians this may be one of the most significant Easter weeks in 2,000 years.

Twelve years ago, I stopped my professional career. I decided to devote the rest of my life to intensive research into the basic nature of man. It has taken me all over the world.

I have built up a network of colleagues in the fields of physics, medicine, psychiatry, psychology, religion and electronics.

Fourteen of those colleagues joined me in 1978 to report on one phase of our work. We described it in a book.

The research led on to still more significant study. It was aided by the information explosion in many fields, particularly in physics.

Western man has received more light on the mysteries of health, life, illness and death and what happens after it during the last 40 years than in all of recorded history.

For the first time in the history of western man, we have electronic proof that the mind, memory bank, personality and soul survive death of the physical body.

What is our proof? During the past four years, we have had many hours of conversation with some among the so-called dead.

Most useful have been the extensive conversations we had during 1981, with an American scientist, Dr. George Mueller, who suffered a heart attack and died 14 years before.

An elementary start has been made towards the eventual perfection of an electromagnetic-etheric communication system that will someday permit those living on earth to have telephone-like conversations with persons very much alive in higher levels of consciousness.

We have three very serious problems.

First, there will be charges of fraud.

Second, there is the troublesome fact that the energies we are using are at least part outside the four energies recognized by present day science - eltromagnetic, gravitational, nuclear and radioactive.

On both of these points, we are in the precise position described by the great Danish physicist Niels Bohr. He said:

"When the great innovation appears, it will almost certainly be in muddled, incomplete and confusing form. To the discoverer himself, it will only be half understood; to everybody else it will be a mystery.

"For any speculation which does not at first glance look crazy, there is no hope."

Bohr's keen insight would have been appreciated by Thomas Edison.

When he created a device to make it possible for man permanently to record his spoken words, he only dimly understood the spinoffs that would result in the next 100 years.

Edison certainly mystified both laymen and scientists.

The "New York Times" carried an editorial insisting that man would not fly for 1,000 years. Only nine days later, the Wrights had the first successful powered flight.

The "New York Times" did not deign to report the event to its readers until eight days after the flight and crash!

The third of our problems is even bigger than the first two.

We frankly admit our present crude devices do not work every day. There may be many weeks or even months between successful communication.

Here again, we take solace in the tribulations of the Wright brothers.

The above information is condensed from the Psychic News of London, England and two U.S. newspapers and radio broadcasts.

gained, all the evidence which has been so carefully documented, all the facts we need to present our beautiful religion, our beautiful abundant way of life to a world which is anxiously waiting.

Satellite Seances is the vehicle that will provide the means to achieve successful entry into this epoch-making period, which lies in the immediate future.

The adage, "strike while the iron's hot," most assuredly applies to the handling of the golden opportunity which now requires our sincere, dedicated, immediate action. The time is now - not ten, twenty, thirty, or even fifty years from now.

Mrs. Emma Hardinge Britten (1832-1899) noted Spiritualist, writer and propagandist - predicted that Spiritualism would follow three distinct fifty-year cycles. We are presently in the third fifty-year cycle, and only sixteen years remain until its completion.

The N.S.A.C. Board, at the 89th Convention at Denver, Colorado, acted upon the guidance of spirit to initiate this monumental undertaking which we know as Satellite Seances. They acted not only upon their own personal faith, but, also the faith that all Spiritualists would rally and respond to this glorious occasion to present to the world this truth, which so long has cried out to be heard.

This is the type of faith that has characterized Spiritualists from the beginning. It is the faith which moves mountains. It is not the blind faith which rests upon ancient creeds and pronouncements that came from men far less knowledgeable and qualified than the leaders in the present-day Spiritualist movement. Spiritualists have added unto faith, knowledge.

The future of the world can be reshaped with the truth which Spiritualism offers.

Today, millions are seeking the answers which the adherents of Spiritualism, so ably and willingly, will share.

The timetable for the initial Satellite Seances program, to be beamed over the airways, depends entirely upon the response and generosity of all Spiritualists. This is not a time to bury our talents or to hide our light under a bushel. It is the time for each to put a shoulder to the wheel, and experience the joy of being a part of this noble unified effort. It is very probably a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to demonstrate, in a meaningful way, the convictions of our stewardship, and the privilege to be a part of an event which has the potential to change the course of history.

With your prayers, your personal efforts and your generous support, we know it will be!

The Lily Dale Experience

by Paula Vogt

Imagine a halcyon setting of nostalgia blended with everyday challenge. Envision buildings that are a lovely example of Victorian charm setting next to ones that represent the twentieth century. For, this is a fascinating part of the Lily Dale experience.

Situated in the hills of western New York, Lily Dale has tall stately trees that form marvelous forest settings. And, because it nestles along the shore of a small lake, the community enjoys the beauty, the recreation and upliftment of peaceful waters.

Imagine groups of students attentively listening to words of instruction and guidance from their group leader. Envision a large auditorium filled with people listening to the lecture and observing the demonstration of mediumship and psychic phenomena. For, this, too, is a challenging part of the Lily Dale experience.

Education in the areas of Spiritualism and related phenomena has always been important to the administrators and visitors to Lily Dale. A serious effort has been made to present to the inquiring mind enough information to stimulate interest and promote learning. Interesting lectures, informal classes, and daily demonstrations of mediumship are all a part of the Lily Dale scene.

Imagine lovely glens nestled within quiet forests, for this is where "The Stump" and "The Forest Temple" are located. Here is found daily communion between man and spirit. Here is part of the spirituality that has made Lily Dale famous. Envision spiritual seekers after truth observing mediumship through readings and at auditorium demonstrations. This is the Lily Dale experience.

The spiritual advancement of man is the most important service that can be offered. Spirituality, its attainment and practice, should be the ultimate goal of all seekers of truth. Realizing this, Lily Dale attempts to offer spiritual enlightenment to all who earnestly seek it.

Participation in the Lily Dale experience can be challenging, exciting and rewarding. The season extends from July 2nd to September 5th. Join the growing Lily Dale family and plan to enjoy the variety of events it has prepared for your enjoyment.

Spiritualism's Message To The Bereaved

"There is no death." That is the fundamental message which Spiritualism proclaims. This truth has been proved by millions all over the world, for well over a century.

Survival after death is not a hope, a belief or a speculation. It is a fact, capable of demonstration. The evidence is beyond reasonable doubt. It is recorded in thousands of books, written in practically every language of the civilized world. It is impossible for any honest, receptive person to dismiss these accumulated proofs.

Survival is a law of nature which operates in the case of every person who dies. It is a biological fact, just as natural as birth, and is unaffected by religious doctrines. Communication with the so-called "dead" is due to nature's law. Man is spirit expressing himself through the physical body. He lives because he is spirit. He survives because he is spirit. He returns from beyond the grave because he is spirit. These are the great central truths of Spiritualism.

The so-called "dead" come back, whether killed on the field of battle thousands of miles away from their homes, whether they perish because of combat in the air or on the vast expanses of the oceans. They come back whether in service or civilian life, whether they die in time of peace or war.

Space is no limitation. Distance is no barrier. The hastily constructed grave, marked with a rough wooden cross, or the elaborate mausoleum is not their end. The church cemetery, the peaceful garden of remembrance, a crematorium, the water grave - these do not spell eternal silence.

We do not, we cannot disturb them. We have no power to compel them to return. Often we are the stumbling blocks. Our prejudice, our superstition and our ignorance stand in the way.

Why, then, do they come back? Because they love us, because the ties of love, affection and friendship are not severed by death. Man may destroy bodies, but God has created His children infinite, like Himself. Life and love are imperishable.

They all come back, the rich and the poor, the saintly and the sinner, the king and the commoner, each with the great message, "There is no death."

They come back through mediumship, the gift of psychic sensitiveness possessed by "human wireless sets," those mediums who register the subtle and delicate vibrations of the spirit world, which is round and about us. We all have these latent psychic faculties, but because we have not developed them, we cannot see or hear the so-called "dead" as mediums do.

It is just as foolish for people to deny that the so-called "dead" can be seen and heard, because they lack this experience, as it is for the blind to repudiate the fact that the sun shines because they have not seen it, or the deaf to reject the fact that birds sing because they have not heard them.

We do not ask you to accept Spiritualism without evidence. And it is illogical to say its case has not been proved when you have failed to make any inquiry. All we ask, is that you should investigate for yourself. Do not take anything we say on trust.

Scores of famous people, men and women of unimpeachable integrity, have already given their public testimony to Spiritualism. Sir Oliver Lodge, the world-famous scientist after 50 years of investigation said, "The veil between the two worlds is wearing thin. It is possible, given the right conditions, to communicate with those we call the dead. They are still mindful of our love. They do not think of themselves as "dead." They assure us that all is well with them and that love bridges the chasm."

Finally, here is a message from Silver Birch, spirit guide of Hannen Swaffer's home circle:

"To those whose eyes are filled with tears and whose hearts are heavy with sadness because they mourn the ones they love, I who have lived in the spirit world for many years wish to tell them, that death cannot divide those whom love has joined."

"Love breaks all barriers; love always finds its own. Do not weep because the ones you love have left a world of cruelty, misunderstanding, and ignorance, and gone to a larger life where they can find richer expression, free from the restrictions of your world."

"Try to understand that death is part of the new life. Life and death are both servants of the Great Spirit. Both are used to teach His laws to those who do not yet properly understand them.

"Dry your tears. Your sorrow should not be, for the one you love is always close to you. Death cannot destroy love; love is infinite as the Great Spirit is infinite too."

"Death spells freedom. While you mourn the ones removed from you, we rejoice, knowing they begin a life of new freedom with greater opportunities for expressing that which is within them."

Your body is not you. You are an eternal spirit, part of the life force that sustains the whole universe, part of the Power that fashioned the whole planetary system that governs the ebb and flow of tides, that regulates the eternal cycle of the seasons, that enables the sun to shine and the stars to twinkle. You are divine, just as divine as the Great Spirit - for you also possess what that Power possesses. It is the same quality in essence - different in degree, but fundamentally the same, and that transcends all material conceptions. It is greater than anything you can conceive."

"You are indeed mighty atoms-infinite, yet expressing yourselves in a finite manner. Within you there is a power that one day bursts all its bonds and insists that it shall express itself in a body more fitting to its reality. When that which you call death happens, you mourn and you weep and you sorrow, because still thinking that the body is the individual, you believe that death removes the one you love."

"But death has not power over life; death cannot touch life, cannot destroy life. The material is not stronger than the spiritual. If the eyes were open, if the ears could hear, if the soul left behind could register the more subtle vibrations of spiritual life, it would see the resurrected spirit, liberated, triumphant, joyous, welcoming the escape from the bondage of a material prison."

"Do not grieve for those to whom freedom has come. Do not weep because the cage has been opened and the bird has been set free. Rejoice and know that the enfranchised soul has found liberty and that, if you would unfold the powers that the Great Spirit has given you, you could share some of the new beauty and joy which is theirs. You would understand the plan of death and realize that death is but a stepping stone, a door through which you enter into the larger freedom of the realms of spirit."

Monumental Moments

by Marion Egner

Contrast - have you ever noticed how every object you see, or every event you experience is a little or perhaps a great deal different from one another? Sometimes, it takes a learned scholar to notice the difference, but often it is very obvious.

This contrast is not only interesting, but necessary - that man may enjoy to the utmost, his surroundings. And his way of life expands with each bit of knowledge. One cannot imagine our days to be exactly the same, our experiences being identical, one after another.

No, we waken to a fresh new day with little forewarning of what the day holds for us. This will whet our senses and give us a feeling of expectation for the new and interesting events.

At times of discouragement, we may become prisoners of our gloomy thoughts. We may waken with foreboding or calamity ahead. But, this is our error and we must hasten to correct it. For the dark moments usually come upon us suddenly, and we must prepare for them with trust in God.

These dark days will not last. The sunshine always follows rain and the contrast emphasizes the difference. Many times we will see a rainbow, telling us the sun is shining despite the rain we see. The rainbow is a beautiful token of God's reassurance to us.

We see a great contrast in day and night. How tiring it would be, to have daylight through the twenty-four hour period. We would enjoy the opportunity to continue our activities, but soon, we would crave the darkness - that we might rest peacefully. In contrast, how much we would dislike continual darkness.

With all things, we need the contrast. Work needs recreation, sadness needs joy, loneliness needs companionship. Bright colors accent beauty mid large areas of duller hues. Notice the bright flowers in dark foliage or red rocks where many are brown or gray.

Even in our lives, we see the contrast. We do not appear in mature age as when we were children. This contrast goes deeper than appearance also. Our experiences teach us daily, and our bodies reflect our years.

We are not comfortable with great contrast or changes. We need to feel the subtle altering of whatever we may be experiencing. Too great a change upsets the thoughts, as well as the physical being.

Sometimes, we ourselves bring about changes and often they are thrust upon us. We must welcome all change as experience and knowledge. There is much of value to each. The enjoyable changes we will embrace; the sad ones we will overcome by our attitudes.

We must remember that our experience may be new to us, but rarely is it unknown. Someone has gone through this experience and survived it. When we realize we are but one person much like someone else, we cannot feel alone in our trouble.

Just as God has come to their aid and sent His helpers to get them through, so He will do for each of us, when we call on Him. And may we continually thank Him for giving us this interesting life, so full of contrasts, for our enjoyment.

What is success? Each one of us has his own definition. For one may desire a great fortune and as he industrially works, storing up his coins, he feels great satisfaction in what he feels is success.

Some will use their wealth in acquiring material things, mansions, expensive jewels and art. Their desire is to show others the extent of their success. This appears to be their happy situation of goals reached.

Some become great speakers or actors. They spend many hours in perfecting their art that thousands may cheer their efforts. In entertaining they give great pleasure; although, they often disappoint their audiences in their private lives.

There are many who toil for the benefit of others, and their lives are models for us all. The doctors and nurses who try so hard to make us whole again. The ministers who sincerely struggle to ease our inner troubles and turn our attention to God.

The inventors constantly thinking up new means of making things work better, always changing and trying out new methods. We joyfully accept each new implement which tends to make our work easier.

Success so often means great gains in whatever man desires most. But, often one may be successful in just doing the ordinary everday things well.

When night comes and he prepares for rest, he should feel satisfaction if he has done his best throughout the day. If he

The Spiritualist Principles

Third Declaration

by Steven W. Ross, NST

The Declaration of Principles are a summary of the beliefs and teachings which form the foundation of Modern Spiritualism. The continuation of this series is presented for a broader, more comprehensive enlightenment, in the perspective of present day understanding.

The Declaration of Principles

Third: We affirm that a correct understanding of such expression and living in accordance therewith constitute true religion.

This is the first of the principles that starts with "we affirm." An affirmation is more than a belief. An affirmation is based on knowledge. So, we are saying that we know this to be true, we have evidence that this is true, and we concur with the evidence.

First of all, we cannot conceive of a personal deity that can be responsible for all the things, all the power, all the laws, all the phenomena that I enumerated for you in the discussion of the Second Principle.

Spirit has to be part of everything, has to permeate everything in order to guide all. As I mentioned before, think of the analogy of the water droplets and the ocean. The ocean consists of droplets, all droplets are part of the ocean, but none is the ocean. So, here we come to the understanding of the concept of Spirit. We say that a correct understanding constitutes true religion.

As a next step, we must look at the term: Religion. Webster has defined it as a "binding back." As far back as you can bind, is the great creative cause of this universe. Spiritualism recognizes this supreme power, and further recognizes the necessity of harmonizing with all its mandates. Again, what does this mean? If we recognize one great power, call it God or Infinite Intelligence, or any other name, and we accept that this power has created the universe and made all the laws that govern it, and since we are part of this universe, then we should follow those laws. (In a later article, we will discuss what happens if we don't follow them).

We know that one of the great laws of the universe is the Law of Attraction. Through this law, man is bound to all else in this universe, for we can, in no sense, accept the scheme of nature as a "pluri-verse," a multiplicity of unrelated objects, things, forces and concepts. No, we see the universe as one stupendous whole; therefore, man must live in accordance with the law that governs all else. This, then, is true religion which is the essence of our every day lives because it is the response of the great spirit power within, attempting to harmoniously attune itself with the same power pervading all other expressions of life.

This is what we mean when we affirm that a correct understanding of such expression and living in accordance therewith constitute true religion.

has brought happiness to others, if he has eased some burden.

To do the best one can, in whatever situation one finds oneself - that is success. To use ones thoughts to the best advantage, keeping them on the high level so important to the upliftment of the soul, that is success.

To follow the teachings of Jesus, to practice patience and love for all mankind, that is success. And the store of unseen, but spiritual treasures, becomes enlarged with each effort.

With material success one is apt to become self satisfied. To see the gains growing larger, brings hope for still more of the same. The goal becomes the master and the man the slave.

To be a slave is not a happy life, even in this manner. Too many chances for helping others, are left behind in the onward push to gain more. This success is limited indeed, and if the material gains are destroyed, great is the anguish and sense of loss.

Let us look again at our meaning of success, and build our efforts toward gaining a truer form of success, one that will expand our efforts towards more spiritual ends. This success means true happiness.

A Healing Network Is About To Become A Reality

by Rev. Janice R. Baynes, President, Healers League

Healers: Ready, On Call! Soon; Perhaps Very Soon

Outside of Spiritualistic camps and the local church, accessibility to a healer is often difficult. The number of these potential healing centers is so few when set before the wide-spread membership of Spiritualists - both those possessing faith in the church and those, larger in number, who turn on occasion to the more talented missionaries of Spiritualism.

It is not uncommon for healers to receive telephone calls and letters from those in need, a thousand miles away. Usually it is because there is no church nearby; no one they feel they can trust. Cases such as this single out the distant healer as a beacon of hope - perhaps the only beacon with which the caller feels comfortable.

Looking up a healer is not as easy as flipping the pages of a phone book, although there are references: The National Spiritualist Association of Churches Year Book: the listing in the National Summit; or a call to the local church, however distant. The Year Book and National magazine are good references. But some telephone listings are unpublished, so a name and address may not deliver immediacy. If you are a well known member at the church, then your request for a healer will come swiftly. Otherwise, the appeal may bump against the common threat hanging over all workers of the faith: Are you a legitimate caller seeking assistance or the member of an investigative team? Then, there is the question of good ethics: Spiritualists share a common reluctance to pick one healer over another - at least, when advising a stranger.

Obviously, the Healers League has no intention of erasing these traditional barriers, which were established out of need and sound reason. Nor, is it the wish of the Healers League to supplant the meritorious service of the hard working healing centers throughout the country.

The desire of the Healers League is to place before the public, more qualified healers able and willing to serve. It is our hope that through emphasis on a healing network, that more workers can be united to work in harmony, for a common cause. Until now, this has been the exception and not the rule.

There are a number of obvious barriers to the success of such an effort. Some of these are beyond the control of any single group as small as the Healers League. However, there are those obstructions, also, which can be overcome. A lot depends upon you!

If you are a certified healer, we invite you to join the Healers League and the concerted effort about to be waged.

You have probably already received your personal copy of the covering letter of invitation. Give us your yes, and join in.

Obviously, an active organization such as the Healers League is not for everyone. Those who join intent upon service within the network, will be listed in a publication under preparation by Charles Jessup, III. While the listing in this booklet will, in part, duplicate some of the names of those found in the 1982 Year Book, it will go a step further by asserting that these are workers who have made the commitment to help, individually, in a team effort.

The objective of this network is not profit!

The objective is to help! To place before the public and healers alike, a fountainhead of power available through a minimum of correspondence.

Eventually, it may be possible to evolve this network into regional, even church prayer calls. However, for the present, our requests must be simple enough to attract a sufficient team of willing hands to ease the burden, yet allow effective time to do the work.

It is the League's hope that many of you will respond to our cover letter sent by the secretary, Rev. Barbara Thurman.

The challenge is here. The opportunity is also here! It is my sincere hope that you will choose to lend the league your talents and love to assist a world in need.

In the words of a popular commercial now appearing on TV, "Let the healing begin."

Visionary Glimpses

The mere knowledge of a future life may have no moral efficacy in a mind that does not see the grandeur of the possibilities involved in the fact. The knowledge must be spiritualized by meditation and by emotion before it can assume its rightful authority in shaping the moral life and constitution.

Being a demonstration of the continuous life of man through the association of a spirit-body, perfect in all its parts, with the material body, Spiritualism has manifestly as intimate a relation as any fact of our mortal existence can have, to natural morality; for it is as much related to the present as manhood is related to youth, or old age to manhood. It illustrates the laws that govern the relations of human life, because it explains innumerable facts in human history long relegated to the realms of the mysterious and the supernatural, throws a flood of light on psychological questions, and has a most direct practical bearing on our habits of thought, our affections, and our hopes. A moral science, in no wise based on spiritual facts, would be as imperfect as a science of physiology that did not recognize the brain and the nervous system.

"The essential teaching of Spiritualism," says Mr. A. R. Wallace, "is, that we are, all of us, in every act and thought, helping to build up a mental fabric which will be and constitute ourselves, more completely after the death of the body than it does now. Just as this fabric is well or ill built, so will our progress and happiness be aided or retarded."

Every mental affection we experience, as it helps to mold the spirit-body, thus leaves its impress on our inmost character; every thought we think, and every desire we feel is indelibly registered in the very constituents of our being, and becomes an integrant part of our individuality: what is once in the memory is there forever; it may be concealed from consciousness for a while, but annihilated never. Thus well-ordered thoughts and a well-ordered life issue in corresponding endowments of the spirit-body.

These facts have a most direct and unequivocal bearing on natural morality. They make us severally the authors and shapers of our own characters and destinies. They teach us that our thoughts and our deeds, good or bad, have an imperishable element which incorporates itself with our very organisms, and these become the expression of our actual interior states. We gravitate where our affections carry us.

With the eclecticism which must accompany all genuine science, Spiritualism accepts and assimilates, from all codes, creeds and systems, whatever they may have of moral and religious truth. It reduces all morality to its scientific valuation, and asks for no other authority than the fact itself; regarding a revelation as in no wise true because, as Milton bravely says, "If a man believes things only because his pastor says so, or the assembly so determines, without having other reason, though his belief be true, yet the very truth he holds becomes his heresy."

Epes Sargent (1813-1880)

A Message For Those Unacquainted With Spiritualism

by Ruby J. Melick

(Mrs. Ruby J. Melick is the mother of Rev. William F. Melick, who is Director of Summit Publications and Editor of TNS - Summit. Mrs. Melick is a certified medium and the secretary of Psychic Science Spiritualist Church in Indianapolis, Indiana. She is a dedicated worker in the Spiritualist movement, and has served most of the N.S.A.C. churches in Indiana, churches in Illinois, at Crystal Fountain Park, Sherwood, Ohio, also the Indiana State Convention for many years.

This is her first written contribution to appear in TNS - Summit. Mrs. Melick has kept a carefully documented record of the spiritual manifestations which she has received, since finding in Spiritualism, a beautiful and rewarding way of life. In this article she shares her convictions with us. Those who are new to Spiritualism, or still unacquainted with many of the avenues of its comforting, uplifting, and progressive teachings, will find her message both timely and appropriate.

The following was received by Mrs. Melick several years ago, while in a trance state which lasted about twenty minutes. The scene which she envisioned was outside a Spiritualist Chapel, prior to a service. She found herself talking to three ladies of the Jehovah Witness faith, and was explaining to them some of the beliefs and teachings of Spiritualism. When she emerged from the trance state, she was talking aloud, asking the ladies, in turn, to tell her something about their God. She immediately asked her guides to help her recall the conversation which had transpired. This being accomplished, the following was written down at once).

Before we start our service, I would like to explain to you three ladies, of a different faith from ours, about our God. We believe in a God of love, and we believe that God loves all of us. We are His children. We believe in the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as we would have them to do unto us." This we believe and live each day. We worship our God in Spirit and in Truth. (One of the ladies started to speak and I interrupted her, "just let me finish my few words and then you can talk all the rest of the afternoon if you like." For this they all thanked me most graciously.

We believe also that our God lives within us; He guides and helps us in our everyday life, if we will but let Him. We believe that He manifests in everything - everywhere. He is our breath that we breathe, our eyes to see, our voice to talk; and we live by His laws which are the Laws of Nature. We believe in Father God and Mother Nature; this is our Universal Intelligence, and through this, every thing is possible. (Nothing is impossible).

When people believe otherwise, we do not condemn them; we understand that the Light of Truth has not been given to them as yet. No, that is not the way I wish to say it - for the Light of Truth has always been here, in this universe. It is the people - we, who have not grasped this Light of Truth. Some think that the preacher knows all the answers, and that he gives us our rightful directions of living. But, we must not depend upon him; he has a big job finding his own way and keeping in the straight and narrow path. We must search and find the Truth for ourselves. Our angel loved ones will help us, if we trust them. Our Light of Truth is very simple and plain, so that any child can understand it; Right from wrong; good from bad; truth from a lie.

God, through Jesus, spoke that Truth and He lived it while on this earth plane. He gave us examples - how to live rightly, through Love. Love is everywhere; Love fills the air; Love is like a song;

Love can remove mountains; Love is deeper than the ocean; Love overcometh evil; Love melts the heartstrings and doeth good always; Love is everywhere, and through Love anything can be accomplished.

We hope you understand now - how we feel about our God of Love.

Now, you tell us about your God.

Is He a God of Love? (Silence) -

Speak, tell us. (But not a word was spoken).

So, I invited them to join our meeting and hear the speaker for the afternoon service. And I also said: "You have come here with a purpose in mind. Was it to do good, and did you receive some good from attending our previous meetings, that you were urged to come back for more of our Truth?"

Love is everywhere and we love you and will be very happy to enlighten you about our Light of Truth, so that you may help your people to also see this Truth, this Love. Where there is Truth, where there is Love, there is God; and where two or three people are gathered together in His Love, there He is in the midst of them.

Satellite Seances

by Jesse James, Jr.

It is the hour before the dawn - darkness, confusion, and humanity is anxiously waiting for light.

We are the messengers, the masters of the hour - the ones who are striving for the liberation of our brothers. Satellite Seances is that light within all true Spiritualists which is destined to come forth. It is the rappings of this generation, the same force the Fox Sisters experienced on March 31, 1848. It was those rappings that brought forth all of those who had an interest in spirit return. It is the same Spirit that is now working through the medium of this day - known by all as television.

This is the opportunity for all Spiritualists throughout all the world to band together to bring true religious teachings, teachings that have not been blemished with a dogma or creed. We must all - (this is not a project for a few) - but for all to help in whatever way possible to further this program.

You know we have been criticized by many non-Spiritualists and even some Christian-Spiritualists, that we have no foundation for a religion, and that we are in league with the devil. Now is the time to present to the world (and I must say to the world) because this truth shall and will be given to all of God's children wherever they are.

One thing we must all remember, and that is we Spiritualists work with Spirit, not any old spirit, but with the Spirit of God. Man through his closed mind has accepted many half-truths and has not realized the reality of a continuous life.

It will be through the media of Satellite Seances, where we on the earth plane, striving for perfection will be assisted by those in the spirit world to bring to our brothers and sisters on the path of life, that we are truly a religion. It is not to convince but to present.

We Spiritualists must lay aside our differences, and our fears that some non-Spiritualists may make fun or try to destroy what we already have. We know spirit cannot be destroyed, and so it is with truth.

We must all let the gospel of good news be known that Spiritualism is the science, philosophy and religion of continuous life.

Do you know that there are people walking this earth looking for spiritual food? These are souls who hear a voice, see the lights, sense the presence of spirit, and are still stumbling.

Our institutions are filled with these sensitive people, whose families don't understand, and don't care.

We Spiritualists know and understand the value of clairvoyance, clairaudience, trance, and healing.

We must let these people know who we are, what we stand for, and where we can be found.

Satellite Seances is an awakening. Are we going to listen to the raps which confirm the communication between the material and the spiritual worlds, or are we going to return to our half-filled churches, and live among the "dead." I hope not.

We must let our light shine. We must come out of the seance rooms and let the world know that the light of truth is now being presented. Now is the time to clear up all of the superstition that man has heard about our religion.

All of you physical mediums who have been sitting on your hands - now is the time to come out from under the shelters of churches and camps, and demonstrate your spiritual gifts.

Don't let your pride stand in your way. The Spirit of God is calling all of us forth to work for His will.

One other thing I would like to interject, and that is the reaction when the Christian world finds out that we Spiritualist are going to be on the air ways - and they will find out.

There will be all kinds of threats and demonstrations - you name it - anything to prevent us from showing our side of the coin.

Mark my word - we must be prepared. We must put on the whole coat of armor. We must know and understand our religion, and to be able to explain it to those who will be seeking truth.

We must be able to explain the Bible through the eyes of a Spiritualist, because that is where they will start.

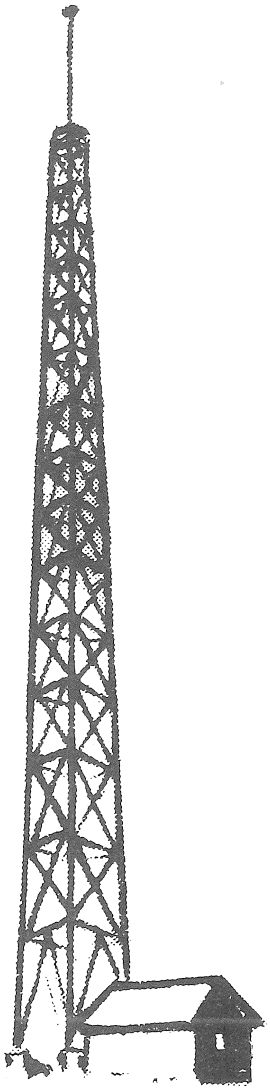

Are you prepared? Stand firm!

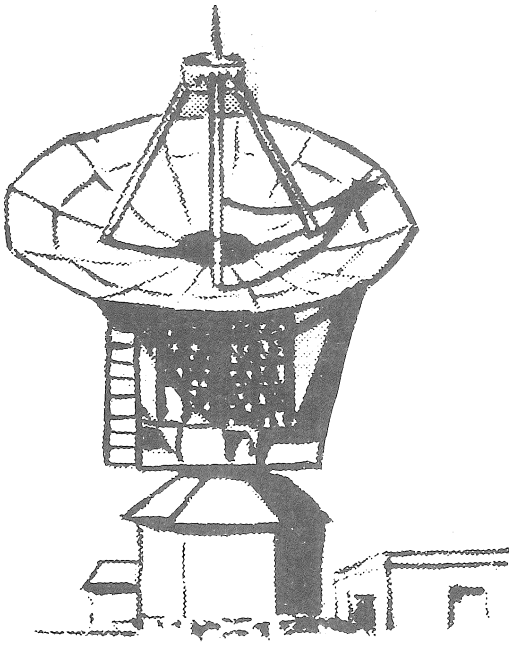

When the fog is cleared and man has begun to enjoy truth, it will take a little while, but in time our churches will be filled again as in years past, and those so-called dead will be happy that we took that giant step into the medium of Satellite Seances.

Promotional Film

Satellite Seances Special

The documentary film "Satellite Seances" is now available on VHS video cassette. The cassette film is brand new. (We expect to begin delivery of orders by June 1). It is prepared especially for N.S.A.C. Churches, auxiliaries and other organizations interested in Spiritualism. The promotional educational film features Reverends Joseph H. Merrill and Evelyn L. Muse as well as others of the past and present. Also excerpts are included from the previously advertised documentary.

An agreement to donate a set amount for use of the video film is required. A per person donation is recommended for fund raising when showing the television show. The proceeds from such showing can be forwarded to the N.S.A.C. Special Fund for Satellite Seances. A signed agreement is required plus a fifty dollar deposit which is returnable.

(The "Satellite Seances" documentary replaces the older film, "There Is No Death, There Are No Dead.")

For reservations of the film, write:

Satellite Seances is making news. The April issue of TNS - Summit had hardly hit the press with the news of an available film "There Is No Death, There Are No Dead" when we were notified the film was outdated. There is a new video cassette film which takes its place.

SATELLITE SEANCES is it's title and its message.

The new documentary is a promotional educational film, produced by Videography and National Spiritualist Association of Churches, on behalf of "Satellite Seances."

President Joseph H. Merrill and Trustee Evelyn Muse of N.S.A.C. together with Bob Kiger of Videography, began shooting the film Monday April 19th. I have been advised that Mr. Kiger is as tough in demanding perfection as he had indicated at convention. The video film will be available by or before June 1, 1982.

The preparatory steps have begun. Satellite Seances is under way. Not on the airways, but on that steady progressive direction.

Reservations for scheduling the use of the film are required.

The new cassette film "Satellite Seances" is on VHS cassette and requires a cassette player, which in turn, shows the picture on your television. The film is available to N.S.A.C. charter churches, auxiliaries and organizations sincerely interested. It is the preparatory step on the ascent to the bursting forth on the airways of cable televising the weekly Satellite Seances programs. Nearly a month ahead of time, we now have it - the beginning stages of "Satellite Seances."

Make reservations and use the film to help raise funds for the momentous event of the launching experience.

We need your help. You love your religion. You love to receive a message from Spirit. You understand that there is Life after so-called death.

Have you ever wished you could shout from the housetop the good news about communication with the Spirit World?

Now you can, I can, we all can. Not literally from the housetop, but greater than that. Satellite Seances is preparing to do it for you. For all of us. It's the greatest missionary effort ever conceived. The waiting world will correctly receive the message of "life after death" and its blessings.

All things worth-while require effort. The effort is the help that all of us can give. Satellite Seances requires a great deal of money. Please help, by giving generously to this "life's eternal message."

Will you give $25.00 - $100 - $1000? Please do. We need your help.

Contributors Column

We recently had inquiries about sending a monthly donation to Satellite Seances TV show.

Yes, by all means send a donation monthly. This TV show is our very own and needs all of our help in every way.

Other religious groups receive funds to stay on TV and they are individual donations. Our TV series is for everyone (Spiritualist, scientists, philosophers and inquirers) who know or wonder about life after death.

Send a tax deductable donation as often as you can.

Colorado

The good, dependable, trustworthy workers of Temple of Harmony Church at Denver, Colorado met at the basement of the church to prepare for the rummage sale that was to be held a couple of days later. We are very proud to send $250.00 to the National Organization earmarked for Satellite Seances.

Corrine Staggs has many outlets for rummage that will be donated throughout the year. All items will be sold for commission. Things that cannot be sold through the stores will be cleaned and mended to be given to the missions of Denver.

Thanks to Dorothy Haskins for preparing meals to feed the helpers of the rummage sale.

We sincerely hope that our efforts will give light to all the workers and buyers of our discarded items. Other events are being planned.

California

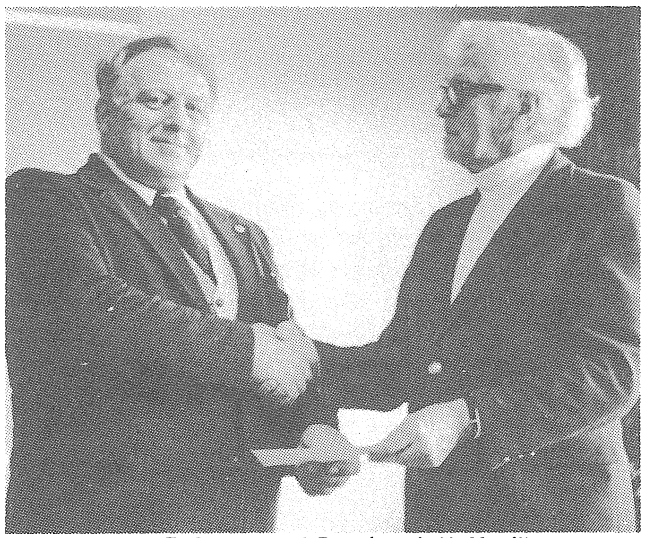

The Church of Two Worlds wants to go on record as being completely in accord with the precept of the Satellite program.

We think that it could be the "Atom Bomb" of Religion, in that it will focus the world's attention on our Religion.

We have been pushing the Satellite at our church and know of several hundred that have been contributed by our members.

We wish you all of the best and pray that this comes to pass as you so envision.

New York

Paul F. Spencer and Rev. Joseph H. Merrill

Ronald Spencer and his hard working church members donated another $1,000.00 for Satellite Seances. The challenge that by raising $500.00 - an amount would be donated to match it, stimulated quick results.

Mr. Paul Spencer, N.S.A.C. Trustee proudly presented the check to Rev. Joseph H. Merrill, president, during the board meeting in Tacoma, Washington last April.

California

I just wrote Joe Merrill, that last Sunday at our annual membership meeting of the Redwood Church of Spiritual Science, Redwood City, California, we voted to send $1,000 to Satellite Seances.

NOTES from the FIELD

In Tribute

The following beautiful poem, written by William Graham Turner, is shared in remembrance of his transition. All Spiritualists will long remember the achievements, the enthusiasm, the dedication of one who gave so much for the cause of Spiritualism. We shall miss his physical presence, but we know his work will continue with the same warmth, the same energetic appeal which we had come to know so well. He will continue to reach back through those channels of communication, which he had demonstrated so often while on this plane - as he follows the path of progression in life's other and greater dimension.

Morning Glories

While yet the winter snow lay white
In patches here and there,
My Mother's flowers came peeping from
The cold earth, brown and bare.

Before the marigolds put forth
Their first green, tender leaves,
My Mother's morning glories had climbed
Nearly to the eaves.

On a bright morning fresh with dew
I saw, with wonder and surprise,
The growing buds of yesterday
Had opened wide their big blue eyes!

In the warm summer evenings' dusk
I loved to stray across the park,
To watch the fireflies as they lit
Their little lanterns in the dark.

On the board latticed window sill
My Mother used to set a light,
That shone through lace of trailing vines
To call me home out of the night.

And as, with faltering feet I climb
Towards Heaven's Garden, fair,
There'll be morning glories blooming
On that Golden Stair!

For me, the Light of Glory shines
Through Mother's morning glory vines!

Wedding in Muncie, Indiana

On Saturday, April 17th, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Church of Spiritual Science at Muncie, Indiana, Anna Conrad Hewitt and John Acker were united in holy matrimony. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Virginia L. Falls, pastor of the church.

The church, beautifully decorated with blue and white gladiolas was filled to capacity.

Gaye Lynn Thompson was the bride's attendant; Dallas Slater was best man.

Relatives and friends from California, Florida, and New Jersey were on hand to extend their well-wishes.

A reception followed at the Holiday Inn where the bride has been employed for the past twenty-two years.

Anna Conrad Acker has been Chairman of Ways and Means during many of the Indiana State Conventions and has rendered her services in many other ways.

We all join together in wishing Anna and John every happiness.

Testimonial

Dear Sir:

I have wanted to write to you many times, but being as I am not much of a letter writer, I put it off. But now, I feel I have to write.

I moved from New York to Florida a few years ago, and in Florida, my son George was dating a young lady who asked me to go to church with her. I did because I felt I had strayed from God's way of life. Well, we went to the Spiritualist Church of Awareness, which was held in a building that was next to a paint store, and the second door from A. A.

I thought, where is she taking me? We laughed outside. It was a night, "out of the house" so to speak. The service that evening was an all message service. The following Wednesday, I went again and met people who were so beautiful and friendly. I became a member of the church, and I do believe I was being prepared for what was to come.

My precious seventeen year old son was killed in a car accident, August 30, 1980.

Margaret Green and Elizabeth Edgar came to my home and took over, because I didn't know what was going on. My sorrow was so great I wanted to die also, but while I was in shock, my son came to me and told me not to be upset or he could not leave. I believed it and let him go. I see him often and when the tears fall, I ask him to forgive me, it's just so lonely without him - but I have learned to think positive and have beautiful thoughts of my son Arthur. Even though I have moved back to New York, I still telephone Margaret Green and get comforting messages from her. No one could ever give better advice and greater comfort than that which I received in Orlando. If there was a "Medium of the Year," my vote would be cast for the beautiful lady who devotes her all to the church - Margaret Green.

I thank God for showing me the way to your way of life, and I will do my part to do whatever I can to help the Spiritualist Church in any way I can. I am so proud to belong to the church, I will never deny what church I have found - and I spread the news everywhere. I believe because I have seen, and it's too bad if people don't believe, they don't know what they are missing in communication with people on the other side and here with us.

I just wanted you to know what lovely people are the Spiritualist people.

Thank you, and God bless you all.

Sincerely,
Margaret De Santis
Altamont, N.Y.

He is survived by his wife Virginia, sons Paul and Nyle of Montana and daughters Stan Ann Reller of Port Angeles, Washington and Bernice Buckholder of Seattle, two sisters Mrs. Hazel Beadle and Mrs Wanda Smith and two brothers Harold and Willard.

After being a member of Tower Memorial Church for approximately twenty years, he was vice-president of the Church of Spiritual Truth at the time of his transition.

Walter's greatest love was healing. A member of the Healers League, his favorite three little words were, "Heal Thy Self."

Bridges, Mrs. Geraldine (Jerry) passed to spirit, at her home, March 10th. Mrs. Bridges had lived in New Castle 36 years. She had worked as a legal secretary for a local law firm, having retired in January. She was a long time member of the First Church of Spiritual Science at Muncie, Indiana, where she was church secretary for a number of years and a member of the "Evening Star" class. She was a member of the New Castle Order of Eastern Star and a past vice president of the Henry County Legal Secretaries Association.

Mrs. Bridges is survived by a son, three sisters, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The Rev. Virginia L. Falls officiated at the funeral services at the Macer Funeral home where she had conducted the services for The Rev. Lee Bridges less than a week earlier. Burial was at South Mound Cemetery.

Bridges, Rev. Lee 70, passed to spirit, March 4th in Henry County Memorial Hospital after an extended illness. Rev. Bridges was co-pastor of the First Church of Spiritual Science at Muncie, Indiana. He was ordained in 1961 by The Rev. Robert J. Macdonald, then N.S.A.C. President.

Born in Mount Vernon, he moved to New Castle after serving in the Marine Corps in World War II. A U.S. postal employee, he had retired in 1975.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge 91, the Scottish Rite of Indianapolis, and was a past president of the New Castle Postmaster's Club.

His wife, Jerry (Sullivan) Bridges passed to spirit less than a week following Rev. Bridges' transition.

Survivors include a son, a sister, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The Rev. Virginia L. Falls officiated at the funeral service. Burial was at South Mound Cemetery.

Turner, Rev. William Graham, of Cassadaga, New York passed to spirit after a somewhat prolonged illness. Billy, as he was known by many who loved him, was a profound speaker.

Churches and Camps in several states have already and will conduct memorial services in his honor.

Little Things

It takes but one small candle,
To set one heart aglow.
It only takes one seed of kindness,
And love to make it grow.

It takes a little thoughtfulness,
Of those you may often pass by.
It takes but a nod and a cheery smile,
To shorten the length of a sigh.

It takes but one little moment,
To offer a silent prayer.
Why not try it each morning,
And find a blessing to share.

Historic Facts

Camille Flammarion
(1842-1925)
Eminent French Astronomer

To admit only the facts that can be explained in the present state of knowledge is a great error. Not to be able to explain an observation proves nothing against its existence. An incomprehensible fact is still a fact, but an incomprehensible explanation is not an explanation. The mental faculties which we have just watched in operation, prove that there is in the human being a psychic element distinct from the physical organism, seeing across time and space, penetrating the invisible world, and to which the future as well as the past can appear as present.

We are studying here the world of the soul which it is not longer permissible to misunderstand.

I hope that this proof has been rigorously made.

Psychic observations prove that the universe is not limited to things that can be reached by the five or six senses derived from our animal inheritance. There are other orders of creation.

Crowd of Spirits Made Visible By Lightning.

One Sunday evening, in Ludlow Place, occurred the grandest manifestations of Spirit presence I ever witnessed or heard of. Our good friend Dr. A. D. Wilson and his friend Dr. Kirby had come in the Doctor's carriage; and, as a great thunder-storm was gathering fast overhead, he ordered the carriage home, to return at nine o'clock, or when the storm should be over. We sat round the table in my private room on the second floor, four of us - the two gentlemen, mother, and myself. Soon the vivid lightning flashed and the near thunder rolled and rattled overhead: while in the intervals the blackest of darkness was around us, the Spirits having directed us not to have lights. The "raps" bade us to sing: and, my mother leading, we sang the Methodist hymn: "I'm a pilgrim; I'm a stranger," etc. (my father and mother were Methodists). But as the peals and flashes came so mightily I was afraid, and thought it unseemly for us to sing in the presence of these grand manifestations of the lights and the voices of the heavens. Presently Dr. Wilson started up with the exclamation, "Oh my God! there's my mother," and we all saw a form in the doorway leading from our room to another in the rear. And then, to his friend Dr. Kirby, "And there's your mother with her arms around your neck!" And then again to my mother, "Oh, Mrs. Fox, there's your noble father by you!" And we all saw the Spirits.

The whole room was crowded with a glorious company of Spirits!

We would see them only by the flashes of the lightning. When the flash had vanished, all was blackness; but, on its return, there they were still, different forms and with varying features; and they looked as natural as when in this - our life. What were our feelings? How could I express, or who will need that I should attempt to do so? We all responded deeply to Dr. Wilson's exclamation, "I would not have missed this for all the world! Oh, who after such a sight could ever again commit a sin?"

It would seem that while we had not Spiritual sight to see them clairvoyantly in the darkness, they could bear the electric brightness of the lightning which revealed them to our eyes.

A deep awe rested on us all, and we all united in a beautiful old Methodist hymn which my mother sang. Many a time afterward we have sat in the hope of a repetition of this glorious spectacle; and Dr. Wilson would come when there seemed some prospect of thunder and lightning. But it never came again. Perhaps there was something in the quiet solemnity of that Sabbath hour which prompted it to the Spirits; and once shown, it was enough: for memory could not but keep it ever fresh in our minds, as it is and will forever remain in mine.
