The Spirit of Christmas

BY THE REV. SANDRA PFORTMILLER, NST

It seems as though almost everything has been banned in Boston and on May 11, 1659, the legislature in Boston, Massachusetts enacted a law to ban Christmas. The Puritans regarded it as a pagan revelry, papist idolatry and imposed a fine of five shillings for those who celebrated it in any way. This cheerless law remained on the books for twenty-two years before it was repealed.

Imagine no celebration of life, of love, and light, no angels, no exchange of loving gifts, no get togethers, no joyous singing the praises of Infinite Intelligence, no decorations – no reason, work as usual. Bah humbug! Scrooge must have been there.

When I think of the Holiday Celebration I think of children, with the excitement, fun, and the joy they experience. Whether the children are raised Jewish, Christian, Spiritualist, or whatever, it is a time of family, love and sharing. There is a powerful energy from the universe during this season that has caused worshippers from all ages and all religions to celebrate in some manner, and the Spirit World or the angels gather near.

Have you seen an angel, other than in a Christmas pageant, in artwork or on TV? I know I have clairvoyantly for sure and occasionally I've questioned some encounters with people who have briefly entered my life to teach me, help me, comfort me, or share with me in some wonderful way. I have started a collection of angels and they remind me of God's helping ministers. Spirit told me I would get a special angel for Christmas this year.

Children are so open to Spirit or guides visiting them. My husband, Gene, tells how as a boy he used to see a beautiful lady at the foot of his bed if he awoke during the night. When my daughter, Kim, was about four she mentioned to me one morning that there was a lady in her room the night before. I said it was probably me when I came to check her before I went to bed. With a child's exasperation at not being understood, she said, "Mom, I know you and it was not you!" I asked her if it scared her and she replied, "Oh no, she made me feel happy; she was very nice."

When I think of Christmas and angels and children, I also think of my children in the Spirit World. My three little angels are now grown to wonderful adults and that strong love link between spirit children and earthly parents continues as long as the parents send forth the love thought (not a sadness thought). Soul's are nourished by love no matter what plane of existence they are growing on.

As I wrote this I mentally projected my thoughts to the Etheric Plane and Keith (a young muscular man with dark eyes and dark hair), Derik (a lean, tall, blond young man), and April (a blond, slight, delicate teenager). My thoughts went to how could I give my spirit children a gift and as I meditated on this, I received a gift from them. Their gift was an excursion into their realm. What a joyous reunion. We first went to the home that Keith was building for his family to live in. It is beautiful and constantly changing as a new idea formulates. There is a wonderful curved staircase that leads to the second floor with a tree growing in the curve clear to the ceiling. My conscious mind questioned why a staircase was needed as just to think about being on the second floor would put one there. As I examined it I found that each step contained an unusual plant, sculpture, work of art or something beautiful.

The house was full of light, joy and laughter. It seemed to be stored in the walls. I felt if I pushed the wall it might giggle, firm but not solid. There was nature within the house and without, harmony, colors, light. Keith used the second floor as a design studio. The windows on all sides became like a huge 4-D screen for him to project his plans for a sculpture or a building onto, then with his mind alter the design until the plan or item was exactly as he desired.

I went with Derik to a place of higher learning. He had been so ill in his earthly life that he decided to study medicine in the Spirit Sphere. The class was held in an outdoor amphitheater seating thousands of students. My conscious mind questioned how so many students could learn at such a distance from the instructor, and how could they continue to keep interested. The students took their places in a chair that sort of hugged them. When the instructor began, each student experienced the demonstration through the instructor as if they were the only one there – one to one. My thoughts wondered if it followed the same principle as that of movement in the Etheric World. The entity focuses the mind on a place, or the teacher, or an experiment and they experience what is being taught.

The boys call their sister, Sissy, and they sent us off to her music lesson. I kind of expected the same format but it wasn't. She went into a small enclosure and put on something similar to earphones. As she practiced her singing the walls responded with colors and patterns. She made up or composed music and could tell when she had it the way she wanted by the beauty of the colors, designs and shapes as well as the sound. When she was pleased she touched the ear phone device and the walls were gone with instructors present. April sang her composition, then others joined in singing harmony. This time the sky responded with a light show to further enhance the music. I cried with the beauty and wonder of it.

I asked the children if they had ever met my father, who had made his transition while I was in high school. Oh sure, they knew grandpa. They took me to a tiny wood hut, where he lived all alone. I got really sad and they were surprised and couldn't understand what had made me so sad. I motioned to the small simple building. They explained that Grandpa was a nature sculptor, or nature designer, and that he could build any size house he wanted, but he chose a small one because he was so seldom there and it didn't take away from the precious space to be able to plant and grow beauty. We heard him in the distance whistling and singing to the plants, trees and birds he loved so much. There was a type of terracing he had designed and planted that made the area look sculptured. There were beautiful stones of all colors and shapes placed as walkways to enhance and protect the foliage, so you wouldn't hurt God's growing beauty by walking on it. Between the flowers, trees, bushes, and water areas were positioned benches for meditation. Entities were sitting, strolling or communicating with others, receiving inspiration, attunement and peace. The fragrance was wonderful, changing as you entered each new arrangement. My father noticed us and came over, almost shyly taking my hands. We didn't speak but shared such a strong feeling that no words were necessary. I understood that the plants, greenery and trees at the children's house were from my father. He was a part of their lives, their family and they shared love, blessings and skills with each other.

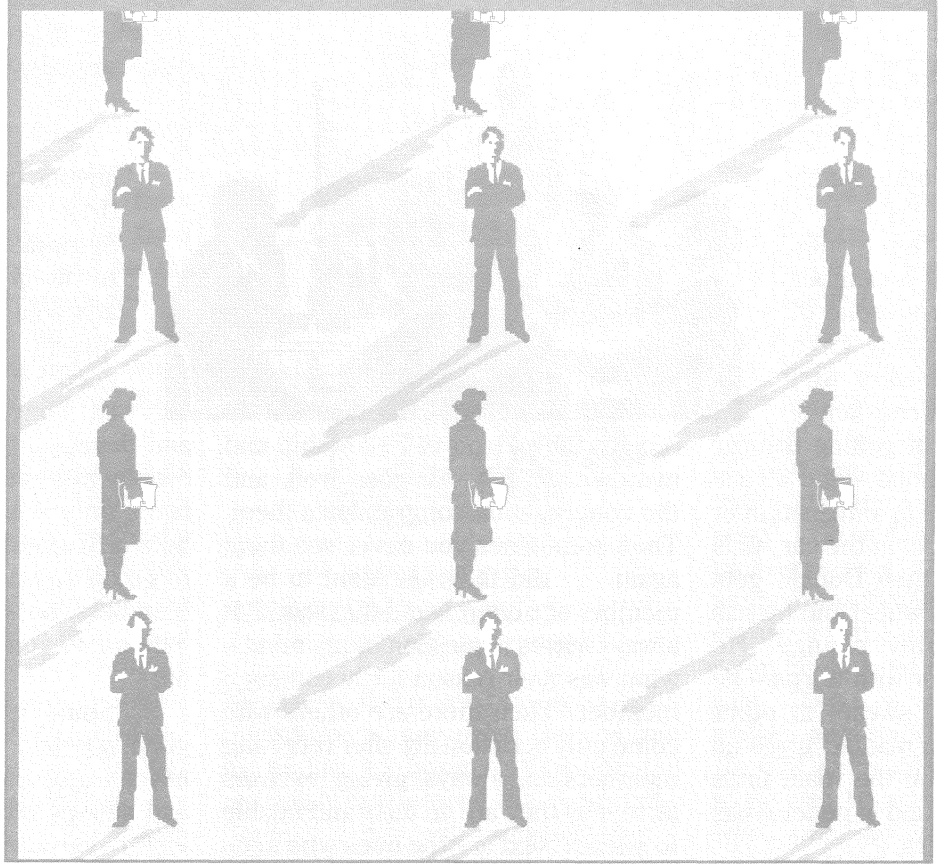

I knew it was getting time to leave and my children wanted me to meet someone special. There in a pond on a green lily pad was a small fairy, named Lilly. A happy, joyful soul who came back in conciousness with me, to delight me, and to remind me of the world beyond that is so close. She often sits on my left shoulder, a personal little angel.

Guess that I really got a special angel for Christmas, but was all of this my imagination, a fantastic dream? It doesn't matter to me as the experience was so wondrous and flows back to me each time I again touch in to the Spirit of Christmas, which is LOVE.

Where Do We Stand?

BY ELIZABETH HARRIS, DSNU, CANADA

Statistics have an astonishing way of sifting facts to assess and evaluate. We can learn much from them. Spiritualism can note, for example, it's particular place, as a non-traditional religious movement, in the general religious life of North America as well as gauging it's future from statistics.

There has been extensive research done into the religious life of North America. The Research Center and the Gallup Pole offer revealing trends.

Let us see what the statistics say.

Today, 83% of women and 76% of men are conscious of God's presence. 66% of men and 76% of women believe in life after death.

Millions of North Americans believe in a wide range of paranormal phenomena. The statistics show 46% believe in ESP, 31% in Deja Vu, 24% in Precognition and 18% in Clairvoyance.

Education is a factor in paranormal believers. Twice as many College Graduates believe in ESP, Deja Vu, Precognition and Clairvoyance as do those with no college education, while more people with no college education believe in Astrology, Angels and Devils.

One North American in three (33%) claims to have had a powerful religious insight or 'illumination.' Statistics show that this experience happens mostly to those who have no traditional church affiliation.

Recent surveys point out that North Americans expect a wide variety of services from their churches – both spiritual and practical – the most important being a sense of community. Surveys also show that North Americans are the loneliest people in the world and they want their churches to provide a sense of fellowship and belonging.

They expect practical help to respond to social justice needs without losing sight of spiritual needs. They want more communication between leaders and the people – more involvement in decision making.

Others have said they want a deeper sense of spirituality and closeness to God.

A concern that young people are not involved in church life holds a high priority.

Predictions by the Gallup Pole are, "Religious growth will be in non-traditional religions."

Undoubtedly our movement will grow in the future as the Gallup Pole predicts. For millions of North Americans are now aware of the paranormal and the psychic. Not only is Spiritualism experienced and knowledgeable in these things, but, it's also a legal, organized and attractive movement – having all the essentials of all religions – (love of God, love of our neighbor and love of our higher selves) – a spiritual movement – a healing movement.

So, having the essential ingredients and concerns of all living religions, combined with knowledge and extensive experience of psychic and spiritual laws, Spiritualism, without doubt, will undergo great growth in the future.

Could This Be Your Board?

BY THE REV. RUPERT SIGURDSSON, NST, MAINE

Although I don't often watch a cartoon on T.V., there is a Donald Duck one that stands out in my mind. As I remember it, it starts off with a scene of the family getting ready for a vacation. Donald is very well mannered, a wonderful family man. He is helpful in getting the car packed, in a good mood – and all are enjoying themselves in anticipation of the vacation. They get in the car, all is well and peaceful, then Donald gets behind the steering wheel and he has a sudden personality change. He changes into a terror with horns – he becomes impatient, swears at other drivers, drives like a maniac, gives no one else a chance on the road, finds fault with everyone and in general has terrible road manners.

Sometimes I feel a similar experience happens to some who are elected to a church board. A person, couple, or family comes to the church for the first time, sits in the congregation and after the service tells you how much they enjoyed the service and that they will be coming steadily. As weeks go by, they start to ask how to become a member and ask for an application, and in the meantime they become very helpful, bringing snacks in for refreshments or buffet, doing odd jobs for the church and giving the appearance that they will be good helpful members. They borrow books and can't seem to get enough information on Spiritualism – they appear to have a genuine interest in all areas of the philosophy, science and religion of Spiritualism.

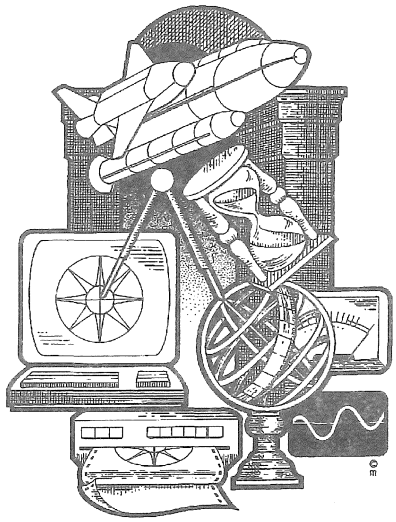

Then comes that important day when they come up on the platform to receive their Hand of Fellowship and membership pin. All goes well, and the congregation congratulates them. Then sometimes you never see them again . . . did they just want to be a member of a church and that was it? It always leaves a question in my mind – what was their reason for becoming a member? Then there are others who come only occasionally after receiving membership, always giving excuses as to why they are so busy and unable to attend. Next are the ones who keep coming, appear to do all they can to help the church and as time goes on and the yearly election comes up, they are nominated for an office – and owing to the small membership in most Spiritualist Churches they usually get in, and why not! They have helped a great deal in the church and deserve a position, they should be an asset to the board.

After a few meetings that Donald Duck personality comes out in those you least expect it of . . . first the Bylaws are attacked, they are all wrong and need revising, next it will be the church service times are all wrong or the time or day of when the business meetings are held. They always seem to have a grudge against someone else in a higher position and worst of all they feel the requirements to hold office are too strict. They wish to reduce the requirements so almost anyone can hold office whether they are well versed in Spiritualism or not – this may be to get a friend in or just advance themselves more quickly, or some may feel the need for prestige. The reliability, honesty and real interest and devotion to the Spiritualist philosophy needs to be proven – and that takes time – before a person should hold office; and these problems seem to go on and on till the church loses members, because in a small congregation everyone knows what is going on.

Some years ago I asked a very good medium and speaker why she never came much before the service, and always left shortly after the service, never attending any board meetings or any social functions, and she said she "did not want to get her messages colored by knowing the gossip or personal lives of the people or getting involved in the church politics." At that time I thought it quite unfriendly, but now I understand that it was from years of experience that she had come to these conclusions. Isn't it a shame that those who are supposed to be promoting such a beautiful belief have found it necessary to live that way in order to be able to honestly practice their gifts.

It is very hard to hold a congregation together unless everything is running very smoothly in the church, and with the steady decline of those attending church it is becoming more important than ever to live our religion in every aspect of our lives. Then maybe Spiritualism will go into the next century in a strong position. ■

Ageless Not New Age

BY THE REV. CHARLENE KLEINSCHMIDT, NST, NEW YORK

"With various religious groups carefully scrutinizing what we are advancing, and what we claim to have proven, it makes it rather imperative that Spiritualist speakers, mediums, and healers be capable of replying intelligently to all queries regarding every branch of our work.

We are living in a strange world today, where we must train ourselves to meet every need. The stress and strain under which we are living, calls for a readjustment of the value, and the living of the Truths propounded by Spiritualism. Religion can do more than all else in changing wrong thinking, inferior ideals and selfish objectives.

Our age is gradually being drawn into a state of moral instability. On every hand individually, nationally and internationally, we see an inordinate display of wealth – unfitness for positions occupied, increase in crimes and juvenile delinquency. Our religion when rightly applied can be a mighty factor in assisting in betterment of conditions. Spiritualists are not exempt from their share of responsibility.

How can we help? Through Education – for education opens the doors to all avenues of correction and advancement . . ."

Does that not sound like a platform for today? These words are quoted from Dr. Victoria Barnes in an article printed in The National Spiritualist in May of 1982. Dr. Barnes passed to Spirit on September 2, 1961.

As I read these words I thought about the meaning of the messages we bring through today and wondered what Dr. Barnes and others would think of what we are presenting to the world as Spiritualism.

It is my personal opinion that we must take care not to be confused with the "New Age" demonstrations of psychism. Have we lost sight of the meaning of the message service? The foundation of Spiritualism is the proof of the continuity of life. Originally called Spirit Greetings or Spirit Messages, the prime reason for communication was to prove the continuity of life, to bring forth evidential messages that proved that continuity. Perhaps I am old fashioned but I cringe when I sit through a message service and see nothing that identifies the Spirit communicating, or hear message after message dealing only with the material, new cars, etc. There have been times I have looked around for the sign used at psychic demonstrations "for entertainment purposes only." I dislike it when I hear a Chairperson say, "Names aren't important, people just want a message, they don't care where it comes from."

Perhaps when we began to use the term Message Service instead of Spirit Greetings we lost something of the meaning of that time in our service. Our message is ageless, the proof of continuity, as a way of educating people that now is the time to take personal responsibility for their lives. To become Spiritually aware and to learn to cultivate those things of the Spirit which will help them progress in the next dimension of life everlasting.

Let us strive to make our services so meaningful that people will not and cannot confuse it for entertainment only. There can be no more compelling message than the evidence to one's own personal knowledge of the continuity of life. Spiritualism should be a beacon to those who come to hear what we have to offer, unmistakable in veracity, upliftment and guidance to a better way of living. Let's put the meaning back in the message by giving them something others cannot give them, a purpose for today and a hope for tomorrow. Do you remember the first time you received an evidential message, where you knew the entity and were guided by the message? I do and in spite of the many messages since it has stayed with me as vividly as the day it was given. I was eighteen at the time and no one in the room could have known, the medium said, "There is a young man in a sailor's uniform standing behind you. He tells me it was an accident." His name was Art and he had taken a dive into a pool, not knowing it had been emptied. He died instantly of a broken neck. There had been some speculation that he had taken his life, the message told the truth. I told his parents later and it brought them some comfort for they had grieved for him.

There was more to the message – he promised me he would help me grow in this beautiful religion which he had not known about before his death. Art was a nice young man but notorious for going the long way round to get anywhere. There have been many detours in my progression toward Ordination and when it seemed I was stopped we have often laughed that Art was indeed helping on the way. True messages are so meaningful let us strive to bring back that old time religion, where the greeting was the message, the message of Life eternal.

THE BOOK SHELF

THIRTY YEARS AMONG THE DEAD

By Carl Wickland

Dr. Carl Wickland was a medical doctor who is best remembered for his work with Spiritualist Rescue Circles in the early half of this century. With his wife, Anna, he served tirelessly in this capacity, producing several interesting books on the subject.

Rescue Circles are rarely heard of these days, yet in the past were often used by Spiritualists to help earthbound discarnates who had become trapped in post-mortem states of confusion and were unable to progress. To this type of more traditional Rescue work, Dr. and Anna Wickland added another useful type of service; they helped living people who showed symptoms of spirit obsession by discarnates who were usually unaware of their own transition and had subsequently been caught up in the living aura of another, causing much mental confusion to the hapless victim.

Dr. Wickland explains, "In many cases remarkable evidence that discarnated entities were the offending cause of aberration has been obtained by a system of experimental concentration in a psychic circle. Obsessing spirits have been dislodged from victims frequently residing at a distance and allowed to control the psychic. Such spirits often complain of having been driven away, yet are ignorant of being spirits, or of having controlled or influenced anyone."

"By this method, and without detriment to the psychic, it has also been proven possible to relieve the victim, as well as release the entity from its condition of spiritual darkness."

How exactly does a Rescue Circle work? Dr. Wickland, using his wife as the psychic intermediary, explains, "The ease with which spirits assume control of the psychic intermediary, Mrs. Wickland, is so perfect that the majority of them at first fail to comprehend the fact that they are so-called dead and are temporarily occupying the body of another.

"Those intelligences whose reasoning faculties are alert can generally be made to realize that their situation is unusual when attention is called to the dissimilarity between their own former bodily features, hands and feet, as well as clothes, and those of the psychic. Following the statement a great deal of explanation is required before they can be brought to a recognition of the fact that they are in temporary possession of another's body.

"On the other hand, there are spirits, fixed and rooted in obstinate skepticism, who stubbornly refuse to understand that they have made the transition out of the physical. These will not listen to reason and fail to be convinced of their changed condition, even when a mirror is held before them, and prove so obdurate that they must be forced to leave, and are taken in charge by the invisible co-workers."

These invisible co-workers are absolutely essential to the work of Rescue Circles and service of this type must not be undertaken without them, says Dr. Wickland.

He explains, "Many controlling spirits act as if demented and are difficult to reason with, this condition being due to fixed ideas and various notions acquired in physical life. They are often unruly and boisterous, when it is necessary to control them by holding the hands of the psychic to keep them in restraint."

"Other spirits, again, are in a sleepy stupor, wishing to be left alone, and severe language is at times required to arouse them," says Dr. Wickland. "Upon realizing their true condition many spirits experience a sensation of dying, which signifies that they are losing control of the psychic."

This fascinating subject can be further explored in "Thirty Years Among the Dead."

THE GATEWAY OF UNDERSTANDING

By Carl Wickland

"Gateway of Understanding" is similar to Dr. Wickland's previous book in that it too explains the work of Spiritualist Rescue Circles. In this sequel to that book he again emphasizes that "Death, so-called, is only a sleep and an awakening, which process is so simple that a great majority, after leaving the physical and finding themselves possessing a body, visible to them but invisible to mortals, do not at first realize their changed situation."

Thus, "The interference, in various ways, of discarnated spirits in human affairs has proven a factor which must be recognized."

Over forty years of service to Rescue work, however, has convinced Dr. Wickland that "All spirits are redeemable through education."

That education should, however, begin before transition takes place. He says, "Intelligent Spirit Forces urge humanity to obtain a true understanding of life while here and a realization of the true relationship between the two worlds, so that we will not produce such vast numbers of earthbound spirits as at present."

Each month The National Spiritualist will feature the writing from a student who is currently taking the education course from the Morris Pratt Institute. Featured this month is an essay written by Rose E. Joshua Frazier of Tucker Smith Memorial Spiritualist Temple in Chicago, Illinois.

How does modern Spiritualism view humanity, what is one's duty to oneself, and what is one's duty to his or her fellow man and woman?

Spiritualism teaches tolerance, open-mindedness, understanding and compassion, which is connected to the objectives and principles of Spiritualism. The Sixth Principle states, "Whatsoever ye would that others should do unto you, do ye also unto them." This principle is all encompassing in regard to the above terms.

Some of the objectives of Spiritualism are to teach and proclaim the science, philosophy and religion of modern Spiritualism, to encourage lectures on all subjects pertaining to the spiritual and secular welfare of mankind; to protest against every attempt to compel mankind to worship God in any particular or prescribed manner and to encourage every person in holding present beliefs always open to restatement as growing thought and investigation reveal new truth, thereby leaving every individual free to follow the dictates of reason and conscience in spiritual as in secular affairs.

The Spiritualist is taught that one of the prime traits to cultivate in the growth process is 'tolerance'. Since the principles of tolerance embrace a fairness and understanding toward the acts, beliefs and views of our fellow men and women, it opens the doorway to greater progress and friendliness among the people of the world. As a result, cultivation of tolerance and open-mindedness and a deep appreciation of the actions and opinions of others is encouraged.

Understanding and compassion become a part of the teachings of modern Spiritualism as we relate these terms to the Golden Rule. The qualities of understanding and compassion must come from within and be directed outwardly to be of benefit. In order to have compassion, we must have understanding. One must be able to have the ability to think intelligently on an apparent situation, make a judgement of the situation, and act accordingly . . . oftentimes by being compassionate.

Spiritualism, as it relates to mankind, mankind's duty to self and others, teaches our duty represents that which is necessary in order to fulfill our obligations as a human being. An individual is on earth to manifest God – thus, one's duty to oneself is to seek and gain spirituality. It can also be expressed that one's duty in life encompasses the entire conduct of an individual mentally, morally and spiritually. Further, a human is a triune being – physical, mental, and spiritual. Each must learn to obey the material laws of nature and the spiritual laws of nature to properly care for their spiritual well-being. The Natural Laws include both the material and the spiritual aspects of life. There is no distinct separation of law – science, religion and philosophy are under the control of the same universal power. Failure to comply with laws of nature result in various effects: imbalance in the study and practice of the laws regarding the inner self results in problems relating to spirituality. Thus, the key note appears to be 'balance'. We can best maintain a balance by first of all gaining knowledge of ourselves.

Spiritualism understands and teaches a broader scope of the term of life – death is not the end, but the opening of a door to a fuller expression of life. By expressing our belief in a supreme impersonal Power that manifests life, we recognize the Infinite Source and that all life is a manifestation of that same Infinite Intelligence. The Law of Life is sometimes described in spiritual literature as the one law behind all laws. That is, all other Natural Laws, both physical and spiritual, are different ways of expressing or stating the action and reaction or cause and effect. Simply expressed by modern Spiritualism, the purpose of life is "to grow spiritually, mentally, morally, and physically." Accepting this expression, we must also accept the teaching that whatever a man or a woman becomes – unfolds from within. ■

Evolution of Consciousness

BY MERRY BROWNE, KENTUCKY

Research psychologists discovered that character mindsets are concrete by age four and that they range from criminal to almost angelic. For example, from a serial killer to a Mother Teresa. The criminal mind is totally unspiritual. It is immoral, unethical and hate filled. Consciousness evolves slowly, automatically and in time evolves "some" spirituality. Most people have evolved to the point of being spiritual sometimes, unspiritual othertimes and all of us need to self-analyze and improve. With all of the various modes of therapy taught in our universities, not one of them advocates spirituality as an aid to a better life though according to Dr. Lewis Andrews, in his book, "To Thine Own Self Be True," all therapists he researched said there could be no change in life experiences unless the person becomes more spiritual.

Neither B. F. Skinner's "Behaviorism" nor Abraham Maslow's "Humanistic Psychology" or Fritz Perl's "Gestalt" psychology mentions spiritual growth as requisite for improved life and not "Cognitive", Freudian" or "Jungian" either, only "transpersonal psychology" teaches the necessity for it. This is a new, outside university teaching that according to Joshua David Stone, PhD., is the wave of the future of psychology.

So the secularists are at last catching up with Spiritualists in the understanding that one must strive to be spiritual, moral, ethical, and loving, if they wish to have good life experiences. This is not just another psychological concept. It is a truth that can be proven in any life that daily and diligently applies the principle.

FUTURISTICS

Medicine and psychology are discovering that spirituality is healing illness and causing better life experiences. This finding will result in the inevitable conclusion that humanity has its well-being in its own hands. As each person endeavors to become more and more spiritual, it will be realized individually and collectively that one is his own physician, his own psychologist. The quantum leap to a futuristic society will have been made.

The medical science and psychology discovery of health and happiness being dependent upon spirituality necessitates knowing that it is synonymous with morality, ethics and lovingness to others to the nth degree, which is called "character".

Character flaws, immorality, unethicality and unlovingness to others, cause illness and unhappiness.

In our own behalf, we have no choice but to become spiritual.

Concurrent "Travel" Among Family and Friends

BY JANET LOUPATTY, PANAMA

I AM A RECENT NEWCOMER to this religious movement of Spiritualism. As I read the teachings, I realized that this philosophy has been a part of my life for some time now, and I wasn't even aware of it. Within my daily prayers, I bring my desires and goals before the Spirit of God and the Angels, and I ask them to assist in bringing my dreams to reality. I also converse in my thoughts with my relatives and friends who have passed on to the next life, notably my father, grandmother, aunt, uncle, and a friend.

I began doing this when my husband and I were preparing to come to Panama for his military tour of duty. At that time, we were waiting eagerly for the military to give us "concurrent travel" so that both of us could move to Panama together. It was something that was very important to us, but as with all military matters, we couldn't do much more than we already had to expedite the situation. Along with my own inner visualization and determination, I knew we needed some extra spiritual power assisting us. I thought to myself, "Now who in the Spirit World could help us regarding military matters . . . who would understand the everyday hassles in the military? Of course . . . Dad! He was always interested in the military; it had been a major part of his life!" So each day, I would put in an extra word to Dad to help us out with our "concurrent travel" need, to do something about removing whatever obstacles were in the way. I sincerely believed that he could and would help us, and that spiritual connection and belief paid off – we did get the concurrent travel. That was a unique answer to prayer since usually the military insists that the spouse has housing in the foreign country before the family arrives. I know that we all have our own beliefs about how prayer is answered, but I truly feel in my heart that Dad helped us out in that situation, so, I continue to request Dad's help with major military decisions.

Since then, I have "expanded my horizons". I began to think of the other members of our family and friends who have passed on. With each of them, I recalled their special qualities or interests. With that in mind, I mentally and spiritually connected with each of them, thanking them for their individual, positive influence on my life. I asked each of them to be my spiritual intercessor and advocate regarding an admirable quality I recalled from their life, such as:

Grandmother: During her 95 energetic years here on earth, she always retained her clarity of mind and spunky attitude. I ask her to help me keep alertness of mind and a spirited attitude throughout my life, particularly into the later years.

Aunt & Uncle: They enjoyed traveling and experiencing life. I ask them to be with us as we travel, that we may be safe and healthy, and may enjoy and learn from our experiences. As an extension of this travel, I have also requested that they enlighten my mind and spirit that I may attain the ability of "astral travel" at some time in my life.

Friend: He was a very down-to-earth, kind-hearted and cheerful individual who was dearly loved by all of his friends. He would give anyone the shirt off his back. I ask him to remind me to keep a light-hearted, cheerful and generous attitude.

Recently I have spoken with my Mother about Spiritualism. She is 75 years of age and is still living here in our earthly dimension. I said to her, "I have been thinking – when you pass on someday, I already know what your special help will be. You have always had a very strong and adventurous spirit, and have been eager and open to learning about new ideas even into your senior years; I respect and admire that quality in you. So now you know, even before you pass on, in what area I will be seeking your help. Does that sound all right with you?" She was delighted with the anticipation that we would continue with our mother/daughter conversations even after she passed into the next life.

In continuing my discoveries of Spiritualism, I am excited about the enrichment and possibilities which are available to me as I connect spiritually with those who have preceded me to the next dimension. Although I have never heard my loved ones "verbally speak" to me or through me, I am very much aware of their presence, their communication and their guidance. They have so much to share with us when we are open and receptive to it. ■

Dr. J. Rhodes Buchanan

BY MARGARET L. KING

(Taken from TNS, September 1960)

Born in Frankfort, Kentucky, J. Rhodes Buchanan, the son of a talented doctor, editor, and author, was an outstanding pioneer of Spiritualism. His life span on the earth plane began on December 11, 1814, and ended in 1899.

From this early childhood J. Rhodes Buchanan showed marked promise, especially along scientific lines. Between the ages of 7 and 8 he began the study of mathematics, science and history. At the age of 13 he commenced the study of law. After the passing of his father, the boy, then 15 years old, found a job in a printing office. By the time he was 18 years old he had become a teacher, and a very successful one. The high regard in which the young man was held is evidenced by the fact that the famous Henry Clay and the President of Transylvania College introduced him to their friends with great pride. At the age of 20, the versatile J. Rhodes Buchanan began to study medicine, and his twenty-first birthday found him a full-fledged lecturer.

After he had attained his knowledge of medicine he found that his particular field of interest and research was the study of the human brain. He believed that the brain was the center for all of man's sensing. However, he did not feel that this was simply a physical phenomenon. To him, man was more than a limited, physical being. This belief led to his interest in what he called "the science of divinity in man" and his experiments in "soul-sensing." From his experiments along these lines he later coined the term "psychometry" or soul measuring with which Spiritualists are so familiar today.

Perhaps Dr. Buchanan's most important achievement was the publication of "Buchanan's Journal of Man" in 8 volumes. These volumes contain his first exposition of his system of neurology. In this work he explains that the human being's sensations are not restricted to the sense of taste alone. He describes what he named the "nerve aura" as a subtle emanation given off by the human body, and declares that "the mental telescope is now discovered which may pierce the depths of the past." Another important publication was his "Manual of Psychometry."

While he was Dean of the Eclectic Medical Institute in Covington, Kentucky, Dr. Buchanan became interested in the experiments of the French scientist, Dr. Ferrier. Dr. Ferrier's experiments were similar to the American's in their attempt to locate the center of feeling in man.

General Polk, of Civil War fame, heard of the research being done and told Dr. Buchanan of his own experiences. The General related that when he touched objects, especially brass objects, he immediately had a metallic taste in his mouth. At the same time, medical students of Covington Medical College described to the doctor the impressions they had when holding certain drugs in their hands. In order to assure himself that these sensations were genuine, Dr. Buchanan wrapped the medicines in separate papers and shuffled them in different positions. He was astounded to find that no matter how they were arranged the medicines could always be correctly identified by the students.

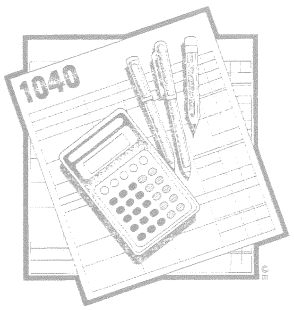

Dr. Buchanan realized the importance of his discoveries. He considered that the sensations produced by touching inanimate objects were the effect of the human aura's coming into contact with the aura of the object held. The results of the contact of the two auras produced the term "nerve aura" and confirmed his belief that a spiritual quality entered the picture.

This eminent scientist became a strong Spiritualist. He learned the art of reading billets in a way that is not practiced today. First, he asked that the name of the spirit with whom communication was desired be written on a piece of paper. Then, while holding the billets in his hand he was able to describe the spirit as he or she looked while on the earth plane. His interest also extended to direct voice and other phases of mediumship. Dr. Buchanan was the only medical scientist who came to the defense of the Fox sisters when so many accusations were being made against them.

Along philosophical and religious lines this remarkable pioneer wrote "Primitive Christianity Containing the Lost Lives of Jesus Christ and the Apostles and the Authentic Gospel of St. John." Thus, his range of mental activity extended beyond the bounds of purely scientific interest.

Because he sought the unobtrusive truth rather than the vagaries of fame, Dr. Buchanan is not well known among Spiritualists of today, and his work has not been given the recognition it deserves. Among his contemporaries, however, great minds such as Professor Denton, Robert Dale Owen, Dr. Strickland, Judge Rowan, William Cullen Bryant, Reverend J. Pierpont, and Theodore Parker recognized J. Rhodes Buchanan as an authentic genius. Spiritualists of today can do no less than give him full honor and adequate recognition for the devoted and supremely important services he has rendered to the cause for which we are all working.

EXTRA EXTRA EXTRA

Read all about it!

The National Spiritualist - Summit has an EXTRA EDITION that is prepared after the NSAC Convention. This Special Edition reviews and highlights the annual event with reports and photographs. If you couldn't come to Phoenix, at least you will understand some of the fun and business that took place. It is also interesting to see the faces of the people that are active in the movement of Spiritualism. The Editor, Typesetter, Printer and Bindery all have to squeeze time to fit in an additional magazine with the regular monthly copy and the holiday demands. The delivery schedule changes because of this and January and February issues arrive a bit later than usual in the month. Hopefully by March we are back on schedule.

Season's Greetings

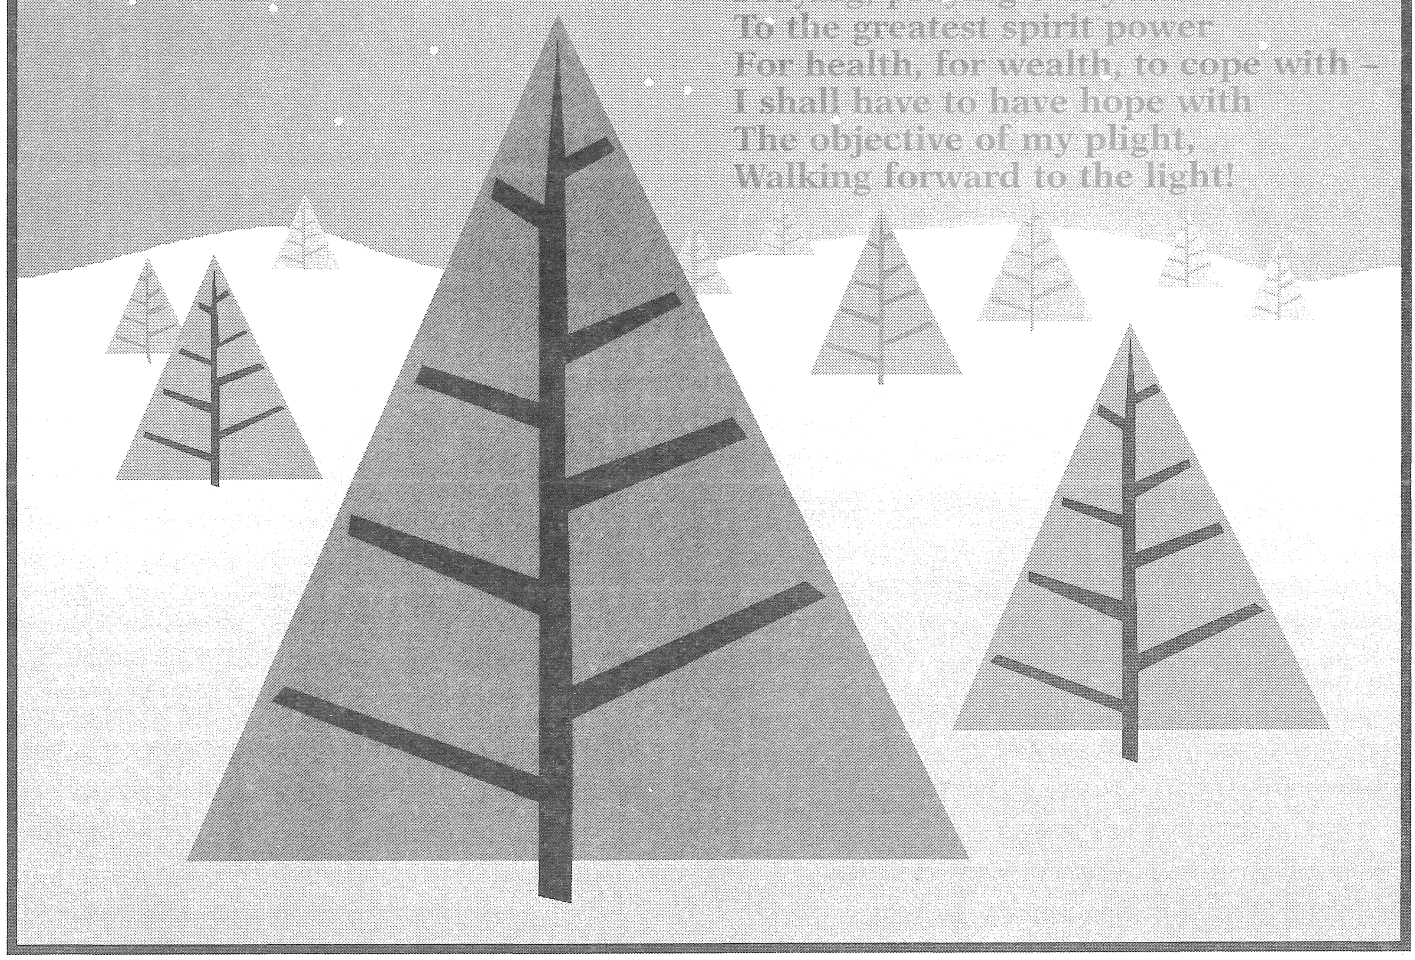

PRAYER

by Shyrlee Rueter Cole, California

Praying, praying all the time
To a great source so divine,
To know, to grow, to live for –
My heart and soul I'd give for
Just one precious word or touch
From the power loved so much!

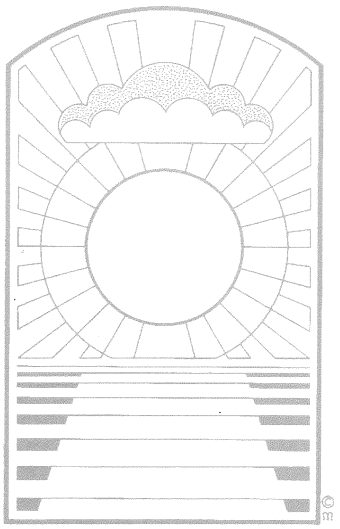

Praying, praying on a daily basis
Can I live through life's phases?
To care, to share, to teach for –
I really need to reach for
Enlightenment for my soul,
As progression is my goal!

— Prayer for Spiritual Healing —

I ask the great unseen healing force to remove all obstructions from my mind and body and to restore me to perfect health.
I ask this in all sincerity and honesty and I will do my part.
I ask this great unseen healing force to help both present and absent ones who are in need of help and to restore them to perfect health.
I put my trust in the love and power of God.

World Healing Meditation

- December 31 -

Each year countless people, from all around the world, dedicate time, energy and love to sending out prayers for our world. It is working! Prayer, meditation, and visualization are powerful and beneficial and since this began in 1984 there have been many wonderful changes that have taken place around the world. Yet continued prayers are needed to assist the changes to a more Spiritual planet.

Change in consciousness is a first step so let your prayer be for an awakened spirit in all of humanity that will lift life as we know it to higher and higher vibrations. Let us each affirm along with the song by Jill Jackson Miller, "Let there be peace on earth and let it begin with me." Let us plant seeds of love, light and healing for as "the tree is in the seed before the seed is in the ground." Let part of your meditation be a thank you and grateful prayer to Infinite Intelligence for this beautiful earth, for abundant life, for the sunshine and the rain, for all the elements, all the ethers, for the life sustaining properties of this planet we call home.

Every thought counts and can be energy for the Universe to create a healing radiation. Ask and you shall receive applies not only to individuals, but to all existence. Spiritualist's understand we are a part of the Whole, not separate energy, but One with God. We use this interconnected force to move beyond the physical and personal into the Spiritual, the Universal.

Try to dedicate time on December 31st to sing, dance, meditate, pray, and visualize JOY for all men, women and children. See a world of order, harmony, balance, and peace. If you are able to do this at the times others around the world are also sending thoughts and energy it will add to the collective power. If you cannot at that time fit it into your schedule, try to at another time that day, and everyday throughout the coming year.

This Global Mind-Link for healing is power, for when millions around the world meet in spirit, they release Love, Light and Spiritual Energy into the Ethers for World Peace Harmony and a total Oneness. Do your part! Bless You.

GHOSTLY ACTIVITIES

in The LeBaron Hotel, San Jose, by former occupant of room 538, explained from her life after life.

BY THE REV. GENEVIEVE WOELFL, NST

California newspapers called Room 538 of the LeBaron Hotel haunted. It was here in November of 1981, that a beautiful young lady in her early twenties was found, a victim of the fatal mixture of drugs with alcohol. The hotel management concluded it to be suicide. This is when the spirit entity took action!

Reportedly, she turned on the faucet's in the bathroom, whispered into the ears of the housekeeping staff, and blew cold air through the hair of the room maid. This mischievous ghostie even whistled while the room was put in order, frightening the workers.

On Sunday, May 30, 1982, Ardath Miller, local Spiritualist - Sensitive - Medium from Redwood City requested a group of ten, including mediums Louis Miller, Alice Miller and the Rev. Genevieve Woelfl - Spiritualist minister, medium, teacher, and author, to join with her in a private seance in Room 538. Two grandsons, Sean McGuire and John King accompanied the Rev. Woelfl to San Jose. Ardath Miller felt that in such a meeting, the cause of the annoying spirit's untimely transition to the spirit world would be revealed.

Following a short invocation, the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison in the softly lighted room where the drapes shut out all daylight. Suddenly the presence of the spirit entity was felt. The Rev. Genevieve Woelfl, weighing only one hundred and ten pounds, was so violently shaken (evidently by an unseen energy) that the touch of her chair at the side of a dresser caused this massive piece of furniture, to which a desk lamp and large TV were bolted down, to vibrate up and down, and back and forth. Had they not been bolted down they would surely have landed on the floor. In seeming electrical vibration, the Rev. Woelfl described the manifesting spirit entity to the others present.

At this time Ardath Miller stiffened into a sitting position, seemingly became electrified one moment, then cold the next, as the spirit entity spoke of her belief that her death was neither accidental nor a suicide. She told of receiving drugs different in composition or strength from her usual order brought to her by her supplier. When she had drinks at the time of taking these pills, it proved lethal.

The spirit person returned to her room in the hotel, she said, hoping a medium would be attracted and understand, and give a message to her parents and family that she had not taken her own life. She said she loved them all and always would, and did not want to hurt them. Further, she said she wanted to tell young people not to get involved in drugs, or their lives could "go up in smoke" just as hers had. She also said she had not meant to alarm the housekeeping staff at the hotel, and she was sure the public relations man there did not intend to capitalize on her unfortunate catastrophe. She also said she was surprised the newspapers called her room there haunted. She felt this was disrespectful of her, a spirit entity. She lives on in the Spirit World where her progression comes by helping others.

Ardath Miller hastened to give her parents the message from their daughter. All can now have peace of mind.

When the San Jose Mercury News learned of the spirit-girl's urgent warnings to other young dabblers in drugs, and that she sent words of comfort to her parents, the newspaper told her story. ABC-TV Channel 7-11 requested an interview with the mediums to be recorded in room 538 of the LeBaron Hotel. This supernormal phenomenon was featured over the ABC evening News broadcast.

In Memory of The Rev. Genevieve Woelfl, NST

By Ardath Ann Miller, Oregon

Rev.Genevieve Woelfl, NST

On December 9, 1900, in Bradford, Pennsylvania, Mary Jeanette and Fredrick Houghton Le Roy welcomed their 4th child into their family. Fredrick wanted their second daughter named Mary for her mother and Ethyl for an aunt, while Mary her named Genevieve. Her birth certificate read, Mary Ethyl Genevieve Le Roy . . . but before long the Mary Ethyl was dropped and she simply became Genevieve.

When she was a year old the family moved to Syracuse, New York and there the last two sons, Paul and Wallace, were born and their family was complete (2 girls and 4 boys).

At sixteen years of age she met Harold Lamont King, who was a senior student at the University of Syracuse, at a "Tea Dance" at the University in the Spring of 1917. Before long they were seeing each other regularly and they fell in love. Upon graduation in June, Harold enlisted in the Navy.

On November 30, 1917, Harold asked her to marry him, and they eloped because he was due to ship out soon. Because she would not graduate from high school until June, 1918, she hid her wedding ring on a chain around her neck and did not tell anyone of her marriage until her graduation day. At that time married women were barred from high school.

On April 23, 1919 Harold and Genevieve became the proud parents of a son, Harold Le Roy King, and on November 30, 1920, their second son, Robert Hardie King, was born. They were divorced in 1925.

Genevieve moved to New York City and took care of her two sons with the help of a nanny and later in boarding school, while she worked as a buyer for Macy's. In 1927 she entered the Real Estate business as a salesperson and that is how she met her second husband, Arthur Charles Woelfl and they were married on July 20, 1928. Mary Ann Le Roy Woelfl, their daughter, was born on March 19, 1930.

In the fall of 1939, Arthur Charles was working for J. Aron & Co., a coffee importing company, and was transferred to their San Francisco office. Mary Ann and Genevieve joined him in San Francisco in 1940.

During the 30's Genevieve became interested in Spiritualism as a result of experiencing automatic writing. Her mother, Mary Jeanette, often gave "tea leaf readings" for friends and family and much of which she predicted came about according to reports by Genevieve.

During the 40's Genevieve continued her studies of Spiritualism, and in October 1955 she was Ordained a Minister in the National Spiritual Association of Churches at the Golden Gate Church in San Francisco.

On June 25, 1956, Genevieve established the Redwood Church of Spiritual Science, NSAC, at 149 Clinton Street in Redwood City, California, and was their first Minister.

Her husband, Arthur, died in 1968, and now, with the freedom of time, she became absorbed in writing. Her first book was a cook book which she compiled for the Spiritualist Church. Having finished that, she wrote her book Psychic Experience. Unable to interest any publisher to print and distribute her book, she decided, with the encouragement of her family, to establish the Redwood Publishers, and printed and distributed the 5,000 copies. This is not a task most people would attempt at age 76, but over a period of time she sold all books. Nothing stopped her from continuing to write. A second book, Your Psychic Self and How to Use It," has never been printed.

By this time, Genevieve realized due to her health problems she would not be able to distribute the book on her own, and she was never able to find a publishing house interested in her book. Did this stop her? No way.

In 1986 she wrote and published her book about Sarah Pardee Winchester, A Driven Woman. This book has met with success and is already in it's 4th printing, and can be purchased at the Winchester Mystery House in San Jose and other places.

Eulogy for Mary Ethyl Genevieve Le Roy King Woelfl

Genevieve was 94 years and 9 months of age at the time of her passing to spirit, and is survived by her daughter, Mary Ann McGuire, of Newport Beach, California, her brother, Wallace I. Le Roy of Noark, Connecticut, her two daughters-in-law Mildred A. King of San Carlos, California, widow of her son, Harold L. King, and Maria R. Woelfl, 13 grandchildren, 22 great grandchildren and 5 great, great grandchildren.

Her latest contribution entitled Credo was published in The National Spiritualist-Summit, January 1995. She was a Spiritual Counselor, lectured on Philosophy and Parapsychology in Colleges, libraries and churches. She also taught a Technique for successful Meditation that many still use.

Genevieve and I, Ardath Miller, have made a pact that the first one passing over will make contact with the other, and I am eagerly anticipating that event!

Silver Anniversary in New York

On Sunday, April 2, 1995, seventy-five members and friends gathered at Felice's in Patchogue, New York, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the chartering of The Temple of Metaphysical Science and to honor our founding pastor, the Rev. Edna Claussen.

Rev. Edna Claussen glows with excitement and pride as Gail Griffith, President, presents her with the congregations' gifts and gratitude.

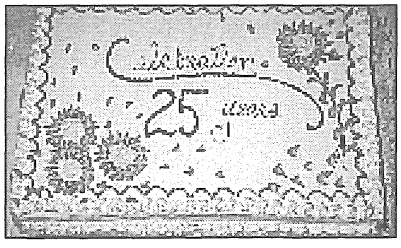

While guests wandered in and settled in their seats, a selection of popular and classical pieces was performed by the Suffolk Brass Quintet, featuring our own Rev. Janet Travis, NST, on the Trumpet.

Beaming proudly, Rev. Edna Claussen is surrounded by Rev. Janet Travis; Gail Griffith, Pres.; Rev. Catherine Snell; and Licentiate Minister, Ann Collins.

The Rev. Catherine Snell, NST, led us in grace. We then enjoyed an exceptionally delicious dinner provided by the kitchens of Felice's. Over coffee and dessert, special messages from NSAC officers and cards from friends near and far were read by Ron Collins, Ann Collins, Ed Freidlein, and Eva Pashkoff.

Lorena Doherty, professional Story Teller, performed for us "The Line" and "The Rabbi's Gift." The letter was the perfect lead in to the presentation of a gift to our pastor of twenty-five years, the Rev. Edna Claussen.

Our celebration cake . . . 25 years! Whose counting?

The Rev. Claussen, with her usual quick wit and humor, described the formation and growth of the church over the years. She expressed pride in the church's accomplishments and confidence of its continuing growth.

The program was brought to a close by Barbara Hoffman, a soloist and guitarist, who performed her own composition, "The Answer."

Board president, Gail Griffith acted as moderator of the program. ■

Lorena Doherty, Story Teller Extraordinaire, shares "The Rabbi's Gift" in commeration of Reverend Claussen's silver anniversary.

Ordination in Minnesota

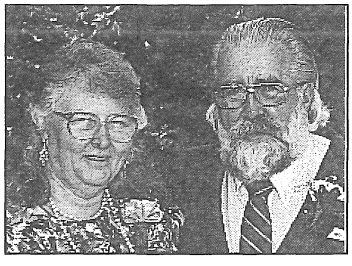

The Third Spirit Of Life Spiritualist Church of Rochester, Minnesota is proud to announce the ordination of the Rev. John Young. The service was held on Sunday, May 21, 1995 and was officiated by NSAC trustee, the Rev. Pamla Ashlay-Lehrer, NST.

Pamla, John, and seated, Cheri Roshon during the certificate presentation.

The service began with a musical prelude played by Marti Riley on the piano. This was followed by the Invocation and a solo by Susan Mundahl. Lori Redman was next on the program with the reading of the Prayer of St. Francis. Devotional Exercises were presented by Pamla Ashley-Lehrer.

After the hymn, Joyful, Joyful, the announcement that ordination was granted was made and the Ordination followed, with the reading of the charge by Cheri Roshon, church president. More solo's, hymn's and an address by John left everyone present enlightened and uplifted. The service was closed with the benediction and the joining of hands, hearts and voices in the singing of Let There Be Peace On Earth.

John with his wife, Joyce.

A wonderful luncheon was served in the fellowship hall that was prepared by the church members. It was a most beautiful and gracious service.

News from Davenport, Iowa

Wowee, what a busy time we in Davenport have had. September is gone and with it went our Senior William Buchholz, one of the founders of the Spiritualist Harmony Church. The congregation busily was preparing for our guest medium as well as helping Rev. Buchholz prepare for his once a year trip to the National Convention. All this time Anita was taking Bill to the various doctors and hospitals several times a day. It all climaxed with a 911 call on September 27th. Bill was taken to the hospital to claim his graduation to the higher plain of existence on September 28, 1995. But the "show must go on" and we Spiritualists working together followed Bill's wishes to see the church carry out the guest medium weekend. He made me promise that I would send in the "Notes from the Field" as soon as the weekend ended.

Hynda J. Ziev of Alexandria, Indiana, arrived Thursday afternoon to prepare for the weekend. She had never met Bill, however, on her arrival she told of the entity who had ridden with her, cracked jokes, supervised her timing and quipped, "This ain't so bad over here." Little did she know she was being escorted in by Licentiate Minister Wm. Buchholz, Sr. as he too carried out his duties. Was she amazed to find out it was he who had contacted her by phone. Ms. Ziev is from the Chesterfield, Indiana group. She, with the able assistance of Joy Strausser, our Treasurer, carried out the duties of handling a wonderful weekend, complete with the lovely potluck Friday, a Circle Saturday evening and the healing service and worship service on Sunday.

Anita Buchholz officially supervised the activities as Rev. Buchholz left for the NSAC Convention on Saturday following his serving as Minister at his father's graduation services. Rev. Georgia Reed recited the poem she had written, entitled Immortality, at the service. All went off as Bill wanted it, as he "bossed" from the Spirit World.

On the Saturday night schedule where Bill was scheduled with his name on the reservation sheet, I tried to write "deceased," but he came through loud and clear, "Erase that and write SPIRIT." In all my years in this work I have never heard of a spirit coming back to everyone as loud and clear as he has. The medium heard him working on the word processor and computer in the night. It is times like this when we dearly appreciate our religion. I might also add, this completes his many years as Camp Historian MVSA, Clinton, Iowa (unless, of course, he decides to continue from the other side). ■

In Memory of William Buchholz Sr.

Services for William E. Buchholz, Sr., 66, of Davenport were held on a Saturday at Runge Mortuary, Davenport, Iowa. Burial was at the National Cemetery, Rock Island Arsenal. He was employed for 25 years at Alcoa, Davenport Works. He and his son operated Buchholz Auction Co., Davenport.

Mr. Buchholz married Anita Hopkins in 1949 in Quincy, Illinois.

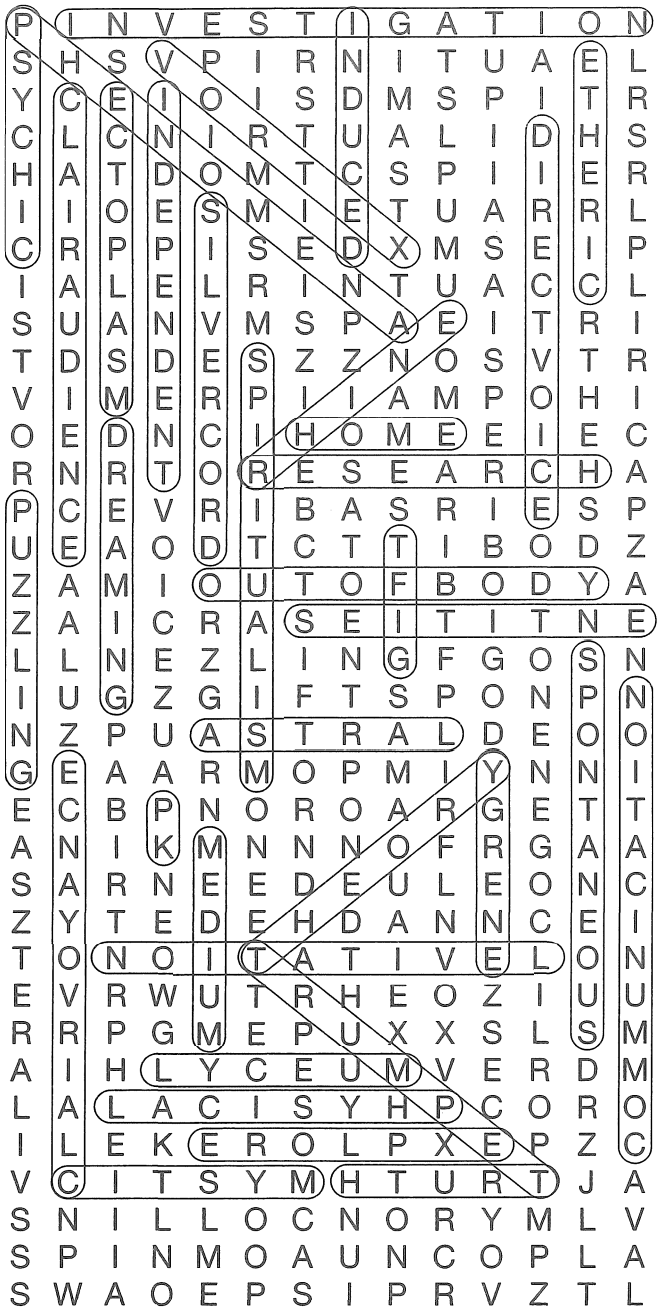

He served in the Navy from 1946-52 as a crew member on the USS Philippine Sea, which escorted Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his South Pole expedition in 1947.

He was a founder and served as an associate pastor of Spiritualist Harmony Church NSAC, Davenport. He had been historian of Mississippi Valley Spiritualist Association since 1964.

Mr. Buchholz enjoyed writing, wood carving and telling jokes.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Karen (Mrs. John) Martinez, and a son, the Rev. William E. Jr., both of Davenport.
