By George Adamski

Author of "Inside The Space Ships"

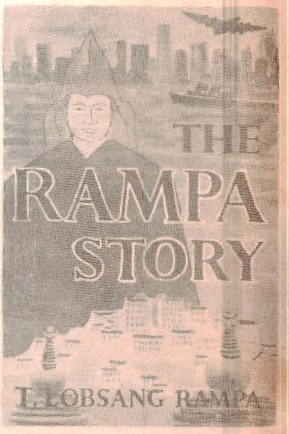

The author has undertaken to present a far-reaching new concept - a Space philosophy for a Space Age, describing how, through contact with Space Visitors, men may some day construct self-propelled Space-Craft at fantastic speeds.

He describes civilizations on Venus and gives evidence of Planetary Visitors during Biblical times. Also telling how our fear of today of Unidentified Flying Objects keeps them from making themselves known, except in very few instances, although there are many working among us today.

Included in his account is his world tour highlighted by his private audience with Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and also his clash with the Silence Group in Zurich.

The controversial figure of Dr. T. Lobsang Rampa, at last comes forth with a full detailed story of how his spirit of a Tibetan Lama took over the body of an Englishman, telling in detail what happened both in the conscious mind, and the spirit realm, bringing with it his conscious memory and personal powers far beyond the Englishman's knowledge and ability.

This is by far his greatest book.

WAR is generally considered to be a "declared" thing, and those under attack (at least after the initial assault) are aware of their danger. If the enemy is merely in the offing, a good government will warn its citizens of the oncoming danger, and advise them to prepare to defend themselves while it moves its forces to the national defense. Today we are at war, but none of this has happened. No war has been declared, rather, it has been denied. No warning to defend yourselves has gone out, quite the reverse, the existence of an assault has been said not to exist, and specifically, if it does, is so minor as not to require a defense. The war of which we speak is Atomic TESTING.

Already, as this is written, radiation levels in some localities of the world have been recorded as high as 2850 times normal. Ten times normal has been declared to be dangerous by recognized atomic authorities. The Soviet Union has not declared war upon us, but it is attacking us. Its fallout production is highly dangerous, more dangerous than the 1958 levels which terrified even Russia into spontaneous cessation of tests, and a plea to the world to stop all testing. This was done, and humanity breathed easier. It seemed that the facts had been recognized, and no matter what happened in the future, atomic poisoning of the atmosphere would be avoided by mutual consent, just as gas was not used by mutual consent because of its horrors. Now, for what must be a reason even more urgent and terrifying than radiation poisoning of the atmosphere, Kruschev has resumed testing at what he KNOWS to be a reckless and extremely dangerous pace. Already, according to Scientist Lapp, the fallout level is more than three times more than the danger level. And this in spite of the fact that the bulk of the Soviet testing fallout will not descend to earth until winter, and spring of next year.

Leaving the subject of the why of Kruschev's act for the moment, let's return to the undeclared war and our own government's role in both protecting us and warning us. In protecting us, it has resumed tests of its own, underground, true, where fallout is nonexistent. But in warning us it has assured us that the enemy in our borders (fallout) is a mild fellow, and not dangerous at all. Science says this is not true. Science is right. The Soviet tests of the first 30 days, if continued for eleven more consecutive periods, would contaminate the atmosphere to that point described by experts as the point of no return, the point of irreparable damage, the point of racial suicide. The debris of 100 megatons of atomic testing would destroy civilization as we know it. 10 megatons have already been detonated, all of them "dirty", and perhaps even dirtier than the dirtiest previous explosion; the one that so terrified the Soviets when it caused a disaster in the Soviet Union of proportions that have never been admitted or even hinted.

The American People are not sheep, who cannot be warned of the Judas Goat in the midst of the flock. If there is a way to protect ourselves, we would not find it out of lack of effort. We make no effort because we are told there is no reason to do so. Why has our own government taken so casual a position on a danger of vital proportions?

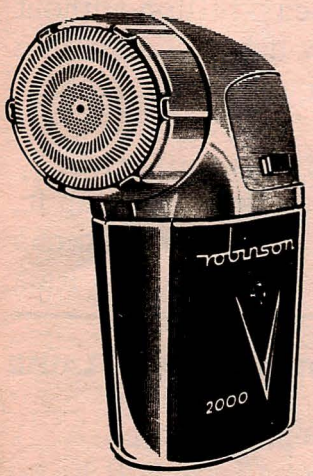

Perhaps now we can come to the reason for Comrade Kruschev's resumption of testing. To anyone who reads the papers (ala Will Rogers), there is no difficulty in discovering the reason. First, Mao, of China announces that China can make the bomb. China can also make rockets (she invented them). But most important, Mao says bluntly: "China can lose 300 million people in an atomic war, and win; I will sacrifice 300 million Chinese in an atomic war, and I will win." That's plain talk if we ever heard it. So plain that Kruschev can understand what he means. Kruschev knows that China has no room for its nearly one billion people, no food to keep them alive; while Russia is vast and (by comparison) virtually unpopulated. Mao, very soon now, can take Russia in a war, and no matter that Kruschev can destroy half his people, the odds being even, there will remain nearly a half billion Chinese and no Russians at all. And no Europeans either, and precious few Americans. As a matter of fact, Mao could win without a war, merely by the atomic blackmail of testing us to death. He would be better off with fewer people to feed.

Obviously, if this premise is correct, Kennedy knows as well as Kruschev the menace of the long-feared "Yellow Peril", and it does not seem too great a stretch of imagination to say that the two Ks are in a sense allied in this matter of testing.

Why would they be allied? Once more we can turn to the utterances of science for our reason: there is a "super bomb" which has no blast, destroys no cities, produces no fallout. It merely emits death-dealing x-rays that can kill every living thing within 200 miles. It is the neutron bomb. The only catch is that we don't know how to detonate a neutron bomb; we have no "trigger" to our gun. Most likely a hydrogen bomb would be the trigger. Kruschev may be trying desperately to find it. For with a neutron bomb, he can destroy China and all its teeming near-billion without so much as knocking down a straw hut. Faced with a neutron bomb, Mao would no longer roar as a dragon, but meow as a kitten.

Kennedy could not avoid developing a similar bomb, for he knows full well that if Kruschev does develop it, Mao will not be the only kitten to be uttering piteous wails of fear. - Rap.

YOUR FUTURE

DOROTHY SPENCE LAUER

THESE predictions are written Sept. 2, 1961.

It will really look like war, but there will be no war. We will send troops, but Kennedy will come up with an idea that will astonish Mr. K. It will save the situation. JFK's life will be threatened but the man will be caught. Many more planes will fall. There will be a new design for planes that will eliminate much of this disaster. China will be in the news, something astonishing. Spiritualism will again come to the foreground, very much so. But beware of false mediums. Be wary of gold mine offers through the mail, any sure thing. It will not take place.

Following predictions written October 1, 1961.

There will be much building of atom shelters. This is not wise. Better to build a community shelter, than the selfish idea of being safe and cozy while your neighbor loses his life. Who could be happy under these conditions? Also, the shelters will never be used. Older people will have some type benefit coming their way soon. American Motors stock is good, so is Revlon and Bell and Howell. Mrs. Roosevelt should watch her health; she is not as well as she thinks she is. Several stars of prominence will pass away; one very well known. There will be an upsetting condition due to the passing of someone in Congress. Sòme magnetic force will be found to be the cause of many plane crashes, this will save many planes.

AMERICA– Is It God's Model For Liberty?

By HENRY GADE

THE BELIEF that America is a sort of "promised land" wherein the destiny of mankind will reach its fulfillment and final freedom is an almost universal one among those people who possess a mystical conviction that the general plan for mankind's advancement is indeed a plan, and not a happenstance. There have been many names given to this "new land" ranging from the New Israel, Ephraim, Atlantis Reincarnated to Guatama and the Thouri of that mysterious book, Oahspe. Whatever the name, there seems to be an occult significance to America, somehow tied up with the "time of the end" of the Bible.

Most of these have been hashed and rehashed in article and book, many times. We won't repeat them here, choosing to dwell instead on the last of the names we mentioned, that of the Thouri of Oahspe. We will quote from Oahspe itself to illustrate the general belief which it seems so completely to demonstrate:

"And now came the long journey across the ocean. God said: Great is Thy wisdom, O Jehovih, in the division of the waters! Thy barriers provide nations against nations. A refuge hast Thou made beyond the waters, and the evil man cannot pursue. But greater still are Thy spirit oceans, O Father. The spirits of darkness cannot cross over, and the spirits of newborn peoples are not contaminated. Thou Far-seeing,

Thou Bestower of thrift into the hands of Thy Gods and Thy Lords.

"The master of the ship provided well for the journey; and presently the vessel of fire sped over the water, high above the clouds that cover the ocean. Onward to the west, bleak and desolate, through the spirit sea, unseen by mortals. On the far-off borders where the lands come to the waters' edge, the Lord of the land of Thouri (America, - Ed.) stood, stationed in a ship, to welcome God to the great west lands.

"And this was the land called by the angels in aftertime North Guatama, signifying the meeting of nations and the dawn of kosmon.

"God came down out of the ship and stood on the land, and a light of etherean flame descended upon him, and Jehovih spoke out of the light, saying: Hear me, O My Son! Hither have I brought thee. This land is the last of the circle, even as Whaga is the first. Behold, when the earth is circumscribed around about with such as choose Me, I will come hither with a great awakening light to the souls of men.

"On this land will I finish the dominion of the Gods and Lords on earth, even as begun on Whaga; through thee and they Lords will I now lay the foundation for My kingdoms. On this land will I raise up a people who shall be the fulfilling of that which the I'hins of Whaga profess; for My chosen shall come out boldly against all dominion save Mine, even Jehovih. Look over this land, My Son, and provide unto the time of kosmon.

"My prophets shall foretell them what shall happen; thou shalt look upon the mountains and strong standing rocks, and the thought of thy soul shall pierce them, and the impression thereof shall be as a written book before the races of men in that day. Neither shall they know the cause, but they shall come forth in tens of thousands, putting away all Gods and Lords and ancient tyranny, for My sake. Thy soul shall be My talisman, deep engraven in the land and water and mountains.

"On this land alone shall not any Lord nor God be established by the sword, for it is My land, which I planned for the deliverance of the nations of the earth."

To quote any other statement of this belief in the existence of America as "God's country" would only be to repeat what Oahspe has said so well. Whatever the variety of opinion, there are many thousands of people the world over who regard America as the final bastion of freedom, both physical and spiritual, and are convinced that it has become so because the Creator planned it that way, and that it has now come about, and that its final triumph is near.

With this in mind, the believers in the destiny of America should have no fear of defeat by any of the forces that menace it today, for to believe so is to believe that the Creator Himself can be defeated. This would be an impossibility.

America - is she God's Land of Liberty?

This writer thinks so - what about you?

What GENESIS Tells Us About The SPACE AGE

By JUSTIN COLFAX

WHEN MOSES WROTE THE book of Genesis, he might have had a copy of a modern-day newspaper detailing the flights of our American astronauts, Shepard and Grissom. For what he said about space, and conditions on and near the earth are clear-cut duplicates of those modern-day newspaper stories.

For instance, Genesis says: "... and darkness was upon the face of the deep." It is quite obvious that the "deep" referred to here is outer space. And certainly Shepard and Grissom know for a fact that it is dark in space.

Next, Shepard saw no stars (nor the moon), and was so impressed with this strange and unexpected development, that he made a bet with Grissom that neither would he see any stars. Grissom won the bet, but not quite legally, for he saw only one star, and that at the comparatively low altitude of 32 miles. This is still in the atmosphere, for a mere airplane has just recently flown that high.

What does Genesis say about this? "And God said: Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters. And God made the firmament and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so. And God called the firmament Heaven."

From this we can see that Heaven, or the Firmament, were above the waters which God gathered together to make seas and oceans on the earth's surface, but below some other waters which were thus kept separate (at least until the Flood, when they descended in history's worst deluge).

How high was the firmament? It would seem that it was less then 100 miles, because Shepard and Grissom went very little higher than that. And to quote Genesis on the location of stars, we find the following: "And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days, and years: And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so. And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also. And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth."

All this occured on the fourth day, after the earth had already been created. Scientists have argued that this is incorrect, because obviously the stars are older. Perhaps so, but the lights (including the stars) we call the sun and moon (for Genesis is quite specific that these are the lights being described) are not the actual bodies themselves, which are invisible in space, but merely images of them formed in the firmament, which extends barely 32 miles above the surface of the earth, as discovered by Shepard and Grissom. Once again we find that Genesis is the last word in scientific accuracy in this so-called "new" space age of which we are so proud. What we are "discovering" with our space adventures was old stuff to Moses, and naturally to people who lived before him, because he merely wrote down the verbal records of the previous races.

The stars, the moon, the sun, are but ghosts; mere "lights" in an area of space called the firmament, and heaven, in the Bible, and the "sky" by us, or the stratosphere. These lights are generated by energies which might be likened to electricity, which causes a layer of gases to glow, producing "daylight" and the phenomenon we know as the "blue" of the sky, plus "focal points" where the light is intensified into an image which we call the disk of the sun, the moon, and the points we call "stars". What actually generates the initial energy is something that cannot be seen by the human eye, as Shepard and Grissom well know.

Perhaps a complete Bible reading would tell us much more about the Space Age, and save us a lot of unnecessary investigation. It's been right so far!

LANDS IN THE SKY

By FRANK PATTON

BACK IN THE early days of science fiction, one of the stories that fascinated us was one called "Island In The Sky". It told of an invisible island of a sort of fourth-dimensional matter where people lived, where there were cities, rivers, lakes, oceans. The hero of the story flew his airplane too high, and crashed on this mysterious land. The rest of the story was very poor, but the concept always appealed to a sense of conviction hard to rationalize. Could it really be possible that such invisible lands could exist?

Years later, when the fiction of science fiction became fact, radar began spotting apparently solid areas in the atmosphere that brought back a "hard" signal.

An introduction to Charles Fort, and his "New Lands" gave us numerous queer happenings that seemed to point to areas above us where very physical things existed. There were "rains of fish, frogs, fresh meat, ice, stone axes" and a whole host of other things that fell out of nowhere. Somehow the explanations of how they got up there did not satisfy - it seemed more logical to believe they were up there in the first place, and there was no need to extrapolate an ascent.

There were also the mysterious "hoistings" of human beings into the circumambiant ether - such as the famed and unfortunate Oliver Lerch, who went out one night to get a pail of water, and the last seen of either Oliver or the pail was his rapidly ascending body, and the sound of his receding voice crying out in terror. History seemed full of such occurences, beginning with the Bible and the chariot-assisted flights of Elijah and Enoch, and even the ascent of Jesus. Was there indeed a place of "residence" above our heads, where there were "many mansions?

Later came the totally baffling, and certainly not enough publicized incident of Grote Reber, and his radar receiver which brought him intelligent signals from an area which could only have been atmospheric and rotating with the earth, because his radar disk could not be focused on anything else. We all know where Mr. Reber wound up, heading a giant Government radar installation in Hawaii, where we presume he is still listening to intelligent signals, although we hear nothing of what he hears, not even of the "hissing noises" it is claimed he is hearing (at least we should have a report on the hissing!). Is there really something to listen to electronically in the atmosphere that makes intelligent signals useful to human beings?

When we became acquainted with Oahspe, perhaps one of the strangest books we have ever read, we discovered that it is almost entirely concerned with what it terms "plateaus" in the atmosphere, ranging from as low as 20 miles to 50,000 and more, each inhabited by the spirits of former surface dwellers who had gone to a new life after death. Many fascinating accounts are given of these atmospheric continents, likewise surrounded by watery (or should we say foggy?) oceans, including such things as disasters that cause them to sink to the surface and condense into denser matter; and even raising them still further from the surface in order to keep the inhabitants from descending to "haunt" their unsuspecting descendants.

As a boy, we had traveled much over the areas of the United States where the so-called glaciers had deposited their debris. As a boy, we had been brash enough to doubt that it was the glacer which had done all this piling of sand and stone and boulder in such fascinating layers and windrows and dunes - it seemed more like the work of wind; and what a wind it must have been! Yet, were not the layers piled up exactly as wind would have piled them up; and had not the action of water wrought the changes in them that were to be observed, cutting into and carving out these piles into strange shapes? The geologists stuck to their ice and water, but it seemed to look like wind and water, to a mere lad, who had studied the small example to decipher the large. Had, indeed, the debris of a former aerial continent fallen to earth in a gigantic storm of dust, sand, pebbles and boulders, all ground into weird shapes, and smashed into shards by the collision of their falling?

Then came such mysterious things as Winston Churchill, apparently following Oahspe's line, and saying to Senator Wiley of Wisconsin that when he died, he wanted to go further out than the mere 400 and 600 miles the Senator had mentioned as the location of two new satellites of the earth that had recently been discovered (at least, that's what he called them).

Not so long ago, we visited Richard S. Shaver on his farm in Wisconsin, drawn by his remarkable accounts in the new magazine, THE HIDDEN WORLD, and we found him deep in a search of the entire area for the rock remnants of a civilization's cities that existed there as long as 30,000 years ago. He showed us the stones he said were bits of this smashed city, explaining that the grinding power of the glacier had reduced them to their present state, and therefore it was hard to see the carvings and pictures on them that were the record of that ancient civilization. We could see such things as remarkable likenesses of human faces, as many as seven on one pebble, all complete as to features, which is hard to accept as "accidental" likenesses; but into our mind flashed the old concept we had of all these pebbles and debris falling from the sky, and the concept of "continents in the atmosphere" where matter was much more rarified than on the surface, and finally of Oahspe's account of a particular "plateau" which descended in smashing ruin on these very Wisconsin territories. Could it be true that the picture "books" Shaver was showing me were really the "condensed" and terrifically compressed (into rock) of the very real books of a super civilization?

Imagination can indeed carry us far afield - but is it imagination? We have such a stone on our desk now. It looks remarkably laminated, like the pages of a book which has been petrified, turned to stone by being immersed in mineral-bearing waters, and then compressed by immense weight, and finally worn away by the action of water and wind and scouring sands until it is unrecognizable as the book it once was. Could it really be a book, existing once a thousand miles up, and now lying at the bottom of an atmospheric ocean where comparative pressures are tremendous?

Says Shaver "If only we had the penetrative rays these ancient people must have used to look into these rocks, and see the pictures and writings that are in them, and which we can only see in fragmentary form when we cut them apart with a diamond saw!" I did not express my own theory, that perhaps the pages were not as they are now, when originally read by those ancient races, but perhaps plastic, or metal sheets of a valuable permanent historical record, now hardened into agate. He would have laughed at me for my wild imagination.

And now, the saucer believers are writing books about Sky People and invisible realms above our heads. Can it be that the tendency to picture Lands In The Sky is a favorite one of mankind, and that there is some significant reason for it? Perhaps an inspiration on the part of some spiritual thing to make us look ever upward toward "new lands"? Who can tell?

HOW TO PUT AN END TO WAR

(CONCLUSION)

By Hannes Bok

"OYAAH, YOU THINK you're so smart!" So states a letter from A Truth-Seeker. "For thousands of years, the wisest men alive have been trying to find a means of stopping wars, but without success. And now you come around and say that you know how to do it."

And the letter concludes, "Just who do you think you are -- anyway?"

Well, it can be taken two ways. One, telling me off for imagining I've found a solution to an age-old problem. Two, the expression of a negative wish for me to fail -- in other words, a hope that wars will continue. Dear-dear Truth-Seeker, you'll get this wish. Just because I know how wars could be stopped by no means guarantees that they'll ever be stopped.

In my preceding article (Number Seven) I gave you a list of Man's basic instincts, thereby to prove that self-preservation isn't the first law in life, but that self-importance is paramount over all other nine of Man's fundamental drives.

Ego, then, is the basis of everything in which Man is concerned. Ego, meaning self-esteem, vanity, the urge-drive-instinct to prove that one exists, by eliciting response from others and from things: one's Intentions, individuation, his reason-for-being.

(In case you've forgotten, Ego in a man's horoscope is denoted by his type of birth-Moon; in a woman's horoscope it's indicated by her type of birth-Sun -- meaning not only its sign-position, but house-position as well, and its aspects or relationships to all the rest of one's birth-planets.)

Keeping this in mind, let's continue our rather zigzag flight toward our target of terminating war -- by considering a few natural laws.

As for these laws being merely my "opinion" and having nothing to do with astrology, I've mentioned often enough in these articles that astrology taught me how to think, or to "relate" -- hence all my opinions have an astrological basis. I happened to observe these natural laws (which I'll be mentioning) in my practice of astrology.

But since astrology is simply facing facts -- and not at all the one-and-only way of facing facts -- anybody with eyes-to-see could apprehend them without any resort to astrology. Matter of fact, a great many persons are well aware of these natural laws. The trouble is that they don't use them.

First let's consider the natural Law-of-Extremes, also called the Law of Opposites, the Law of Contrasts and the Law of Complements:

Nothing can exist except in relation to its complement. It's amazing how many persons refuse to believe this! Well, men, see how many generations you'll survive without women!

Who's never wept is ill-equipped to apprehend joy. Heat is measured against cold, light against darkness, strength against weakness, wealth against poverty, love against antipathy, health against sickness. All things are comparative and related.

A saint among fiends very obviously is a saint indeed. But this same saint among other saints gets lost in the shuffle, becoming a mere nobody because he's a commonplace item. A fiend, out of his element among saints, gets all the attention.

Another natural law is:

Related things gravitate toward each other. Bees are attracted to other bees, to hives and to flowers, but seldom to typewriters, television and tacks.

And don't pull that old Popular Superstition on me that "Opposites attract"! It takes a neurotic to love a neurotic. However, to make our point clearer, we can amend this law of attraction to read, Opposites of the same category gravitate toward each other, the weaker to the stronger, or the negative to the positive.

The hungry gravitate toward food; the destitute toward the wealthy; the misfits toward the well-adjusted; the unloved toward the loving -- that should be patent enough. You may imagine that you can come up with instances which refute this trend, but if so, examine your terminology -- you may be getting your categories confused.

The balance (or more properly, the imbalance) of your instincts dictates what you are, and to what you'll gravitate.

Astrologically of course, your instincts are none other than the fixed birth-planets of your horoscopes, which are unconscious drives, hence obsessions or "fixed ideas"; many astro-texts call them "urges", which amounts to the same thing.

Another natural law is:

Change is Eternal (better worded as, Development is Eternal). Hence it's our unchanging, unconscious, fixed instincts which eventually kill us. Fixity is the Will-to-Fail at work; the oak which refuses to bow to the hurricane and is uprooted, while the pliable grass bobs up unsullied.

Hence the desire for stability or security is the Will-to-Fail, because security depends on fixity or crystallisation -- security means monotony, means mediocrity, means non-adaptability, means stagnation, means suicide, means death. (So if you're one of those short-sighted nincompoops who yearns for a Welfare State, perhaps now you can perceive that at heart you're a traitor, willing this nation to extinction.) H. G. Wells' THE TIME MACHINE points this out graphically and beautifully -- read it lately?

One thing that annoys the tar out of me (and should annoy you too) is the notion that there's a beginning or end to anything. Life isn't like that. Life flows. Change is eternal; Development is eternal; Continuity is eternal. Today's cause is yesterday's effect; and tomorrow's effect is today's cause -- a nice little paradox (and as I've said before, Nothing is true unless it's paradox, and Like begets like; cause begets cause begets cause, which is the same thing as saying that effect begets effect begets effect.

Thus when I read something about "The end justifies the means" -- meaning, the effect justifies the cause -- I tend to pop my cork. The end never justifies the means simply because there ain't no end -- just Continuity or Development! Ah well, them as don't realise this always wind-up hoist by their own petard. Even death isn't an end -- your physical shell becomes fertilizer and its elements keep right on going in other forms, so that an atom or two of the air we breathe and the water we drink, and the dust we curse when it films our Venetian blinds, possibly is a physical trace of Cleopatra or Helen of Troy. As for what happens to your immaterial self, let's not concern ourselves with anything but the material right now and here, but take refuge in the fact that nothing can be destroyed -- only transmuted.

Getting back to our first natural law, Nothing can exist except in relation to its complement, if you wish to make the unpleasant befall you, (to become a martyr, in short) simply step outside your element. A fool among sages is either ostracised or put to onerous work. A wise man among fools is persecuted (unless he's wise enough to pretend that he's a fool). Moral: find out what you are via your horoscope or other means, and don't be like the cat that went looking for horns and came back without its ears.

Since our horoscopes are indicators of our individual levels of awareness, we tend to commit blasphemy by "judging others by ourselves" -- to the pure all is pure (but also to the impure, all is impure, which is a nice dig at censorship in general!). To pass judgement on others is to usurp the role of God because it's a form of murder, through the wish to make others over in our own images. And that mark on your brow and mine is the mark of Cain.

To get hurt, step out of your element. Now you might think that to avoid getting hurt, you should drive out anything foreign to your element -- as the Chinese attempted, during the Boxer Rebellion -- and you know what good that did them!

But no -- like begets like; violence begets violence; the negative begets the negative. Every action begets its complementary action or reaction in corresponding ratio. Try often and hard enough to drive out the foreign element, and you'll have it moving in and trying to drive you out.

Fear something, and you willy-nilly attract it -- because by fearing it, you admit that it's a threat to your precious identity, hence stronger than you, hence your master -- which is an open invitation for it to come and claim you.

All negative (fearful) action consists of denying an instinct, or pursuing a false value, meaning a false ideal or illusion.

To prosper, seek an element (or popular standard) and become it to the utmost, thereby winning popular support (which is what Hitler and Mussolini did), meaning that you should by your actions represent one of the major archetypes or goals of the masses, the "public element". The masses will "identify" in your favor, because all things tend always to specialise or become "more so" (and gerontologists agree with this). All Nature asks of us (and "it's the purpose of life" in case you've wondered why we're here) is to individuate or specialise, and to survive -- and do both jointly. (Death always results from the neglecting of one for the sake of the other.)

This type of "prospering" is perfectly fine -- until such time as the "public element" you've chosen to represent (by becoming it to the utmost, or becoming its archetype -- as Rita Hayworth once was known as "the love goddess") encroaches on another and stronger variety of mob-element, which eventually it's bound to do -- because all of us inhabit ten or twelve different elements simultaneously, one for each of our instincts or drives.

Complicated, huh?

(Taking the Rita Hayworth "love-goddess" example, the poor lass unfortunately wasn't also the archetype of security, of self-preservation, of reason, of health, of piety, of a lot of other things -- and when these cumulatively proved stronger than her pleasure-promise, she was demoted back to being just another actress.)

(Which makes one wonder what it would have been like if Hitler, Mussolini or who-not had represented not only "security" and "progress" but also "love" and "beauty"!)

Since like begets like, and all things tend always to become "more so", and elements exist to produce types -- eventually every type improves itself right out of existence through becoming unable to adapt outside of its own element, hence dies out -- as the dinosaurs died out, as race-horses have been so "improved" that they're scarcely even good for racing, and as an overdose of tragedy becomes so utterly ludicrous that one can't help but laugh at it (which is why smart film-makers always keep "comic relief" on hand even in depicting direst tragedy -- so that the audience won't laugh in the wrong places").

Well, now! Development is eternal; conditions or circumstances forever are changing. No type therefore can remain "pure", but must adapt or perish. Hence all ideals save survival (and whatever promotes it) are futile. (Survival, by the bye, is synonymous with Endurance.)

Best survival of course is not just individual survival (yours or mine alone) but total survival, so that group survival is more important than mere individual survival -- and when I say group, I con't mean the members of a town, county, state or nation, but all mankind.

And now we begin to see war for what really it is -- lunacy. (Which is a nice pun -- remember, in male charts the birth-Moon is the ego or self-esteem, and egoism thus is lunacy.)

War is mass-type versus mass-type. Viewpoint versus viewpoint. "I" versus "I". Element versus element. All of which are simply statements of instinct fighting instinct.

Unless we have perfect horoscopes (and nobody has) we all have instincts-in-conflict within ourselves. Meaning that to be at war with others, we first have to be at war with ourselves. War is part of our natures, then, and since war is lunacy, we're all nuts.

Well, it should be obvious enough that when you fight with your mate or a neighbor, it's really because you don't know how to get along with yourself. And you can't be good for others until and unless you're good for yourself.

We war on others because we're at war with ourselves. You'd think (but then you and I both are nuts, so we don't think) that to know this would be sufficient to stop war.

But how do we get to know anything? Almost all which we "know" is hearsay evidence, "slanted" to form our opinion by the news-vendors (who aren't in business just to be obligingly informative). Hence we have the nutty spectacle of those who damned

Kennedy during his campaign now reversing themselves and announcing that we should co-operate with him; apparently he turned from fiend to angel in a flash (which somehow I missed). Before War II, the Reds were naughty-naughty; during War II they were goody-good; now they're naughty all over again. During War II the Japs were devils. Now they're angels. Isn't it amazing how millions of persons can switch from one extreme to another overnight?

Well, I told you -- we're all nuts. We have to be, to accept such idiocy.

All excess is fatal. That's still another natural law for you. Nothing can exist except in relation to its opposite, you know -- and to affirm something is to deny its opposite; take any viewpoint and stick with it, and then the "fun" begins. The reason is that when we affirm something noble, we're denying something ignoble in ourselves. When we say "Love is grand", we're also saying, "Lack of love is abominable" -- and as shown earlier, we're really saying that we're afraid to go unloved: and what we fear always claims us.

When we say that wealth and security are good, we're also cringing from poverty and insecurity -- and that fear hounds us and eventually claims us. The fastest way to get hurt is to give-in to fear (and thus affirm its opposite). If you don't believe me, try running away from a snarling dog. You're inviting him to bite you. Stand serenely still and so will he -- in fact, he may decide you're a friend.

And so, since excess is always fatal, and to prosper involves typifying whatever element in which you wish to prosper, and thus becomes self-destruction, you prosper at your own risk! And it's far better to stick to the "middle of the road", to moderation.

"Jack of all trades and master of none?" Yes. Because you then can adapt to whatever changes (continuity) you encounter. It's the "trickster" archetype, the "shape-shifter", the "middle-man" who survives. Astrologically, the trickster is denoted in your horoscope by the placement of your birth-Mercury and the aspects made to it by the rest of your birth-planets. And Mercury is Perception, Reason, Logic.

You think, do you, that by exterminating all the Reds you can exterminate Communism forever? Nuh-uh. What you're really afraid of is the Communist-within-yourself. You think that by annihilating all prostitutes, there'll never be any new ones? You're just running away from the evil within yourself. You're deadly afraid of certain of your instincts which threaten your self-esteem, so you run from them -- and they bite you.

What to do then, fight them? Hardly, because by fearing them you're already at war with them. Like begets like; war begets war.

Well, what to do, then? Affirm them? (But to affirm one thing is to deny its opposite!) Aha, we seem to have reached an impasse of hopelessness!

But the heck we have!

You can't destroy Communism or immorality or perversity. Remember, nothing can be destroyed (but all things can be transmuted), not even ideas (which are as much "force" as the energy which constitutes matter).

"Know yourself" -- and I don't mean imagine or guess who and what you are, I mean know. Know that all things exist within yourself, in the form of instincts (as shown by your birth-planets). Know that everything in the universe is related, and that whatever at all you are aware-of is part of you (like to like, you know; we never make friends or enemies -- we only recognise them, meaning that we respond to our inner archetypes or are guided, too often misguided, by our instincts). What you admire, you are -- yes. But what you fear, you also are.

You can't destroy Evil by fighting it, nor by running away from it. As long as you're aware of it, you keep it alive. Like everything else, Evil is only a point of view. Deny it and you simply create it.

Well now, what am I doing, advising you-all to become prostitutes, dope-fiends, rapists, murderers and Communists? Yep and nope. Extremes are fatal. Prostitutes are created through an excess of "morality" or denial of so-called "baser instincts". If and when wives behave a little whorishly with their husbands, the husbands won't feel any need to run out looking for whores.

We-all think it's too terribly terrible that dope-pushers seduce innocent children into the "habit". But durn few of us feel any guilt at all about seducing our own offspring into pernicious viewpoints (the blind leading the blind) which force them to run away from themselves into alcohol and narcotics.

We still burn people at the stake (only now it's "character assassination") to get the devilishness out of them, and to prove that we're angels. We regard it as extremely reprehensible that rapists attack our bodies, but we think nothing of raping each others' minds (one of the simplest examples is "keeping up with the Joneses"). We all deplore murder, but daily we play God and wish murder on whomever won't agree with us, though we sweetly call it, "straightening them out". We detest the nasty Reds because they wish to overthrow our government, and we go right along cheating on our income tax, getting traffic-tickets fixed, refusing to integrate, and making whores out of have-not nations by trying to buy their favors.

We're a thousand per cent good, and anybody who doesn't agree with us is a thousand per cent bad -- and who're we kidding?

Nothing is right nor wrong except as it promotes or hinders individuation and total survival.

Once we realise this and start acting upon it -- and it means descarding a lot of our so-precious "values", and coming from the clouds down to good old solid earth -- wars will stop, simply because at long last there'll be nothing to fight about. But Pessimists needn't worry.

There's no chance ever of it happening.

Atomic warfare threatens not only individuation but total survival. This is one time when the "victor" will obliterate himself right along with the vanquished. And to show how nuts we all are, we've declared genocide a crime -- and characteristically, now that it's against the law, we're going to break the law.

Ain't insanity fun?

Breakdown, anyone?

REVISED THINKING

By Alex Saunders

IT WASN'T TOO LONG ago when most scientists shook their heads at the idea of marine life existing deep within the ocean. The tremendous pressure, they informed knowingly, ruled out that possibility. Their reasoning went like this:

Air pressure on we land-dwellers is about fifteen pounds on every square inch. As one descends into the ocean a little more than half a mile, and water pressure increases to 1,300 pounds, how could any living creature stand up to that terrific pressure? More ridiculous, how could life be expected to exist even deeper, say two or three miles?

But it does, and the earlier scientists were wrong - dead wrong - as time proved. In recent years one fact has been established. Life does exist far in the cold, unlighted depths of the ocean where deep-sea creatures withstand thousands of pounds of water pressure on every square inch of their bodies!

Then, in astronomical circles, there was the question of intelligent extra-terrestrial life. Fact or fantasy? Again, derision was once mainly the rule. Life was something unique in the whole universe, we were confidently told, and only here, on the green planet Earth, did it exist at all. The argument was dismissed, laughed off.

But time passes, and with its passing discoveries are sometimes made which necessitate radical revisions in thinking. Most modern astronomers agree that the universe MUST hold intelligent alien life.

Mount Palomar's marvelous 200-inch telescope can reach out seven billion light years. Within its range are stars in their uncountable trillions

As for how many possess a planetary family like Sol, the answer is two that we know of so far. The binary star system 61 Cygni happens to be one. The other - the system 70 Ophiuchi. Both were discovered during the 1940's.

Out of all this comes an inescapable conclusion. That not only our own galaxy, but all other ones must surely possess planets that are distributed with more or less uniformity.

If, in our own Milky Way galaxy, only one star in every hundred harbors a satellite planet(s), that alone would total some billion planetary systems!

Walter Stewart, Staff Reporter for THE TELE-

GRAM (a Toronto, Ontario daily newspaper) pointed out in the June 5, 1961 issue that life was once thought to be a rare phenomena, the product of a fantastic chain of circumstances perhaps limited to Earth.

Surprisingly complex chemicals, as recent experiments have shown, are products by purely natural forces, such as ultra-violet rays or lightning acting on substance that would be found in the seas of any planet.

Many of these chemicals, says Stewart, are the base blocks of life. Modern biologists have argued convincingly that, given enough time, life will spring up from inorganic materials, arising wherever there are favorable conditions.

Nature's definition of favorable conditions is a broad one indeed. Witness our own globe. Not only do creatures flourish in the near-boiling temperatures of sulphur-springs, but also in the frigid wasteland of the Antarctic.

Many well-known authorities believe in alien intelligent life. Science writer Arthur C. Clark and biologist Sir Julian Huxley, to name only two. British astronomer Fred Hoyle puts it this way in his book NATURE OF THE UNIVERSE:

"Surely somewhere there is a team that can beat the Australians at cricket."

Christianity vs Communism

By

Alfred W. Pritchard

IT IS DOUBTFUL WHETHER so much responsibility has ever before been thrust upon the shoulders of the Christian Minister.

Prior to his death in 1924, Lenin drew the "Blueprint" for enslaving the world, for establishing a "One World Government", under Communist rule. Those who have succeeded him have followed the blueprint exactly. They have not deviated from it one iota. Day by day, hour by hour, the Communists move on relentlessly toward their predetermined goal; world enslavement.

According to figures published by the American Opinion Magazine in 1960, 43% of the total world population was then "UNDER COMMUNIST SLAVERY." Another 28% were rated as having an excess of 50% Communist influence. This adds up to a frightening 71% of the world population which is either already under Communist slavery or are "SLIDING INTO THE ABYSS."

The Hon. Francis E. Walter stated a profound truth when he said; "It is later - much, much later than you think. It is happening here, now."

There is no question about it - it is happening here, NOW. This is an established fact.

In view of the fact that this matter concerns the freedom or slavery and perhaps the life or death of each and every one of us, it would seem logical to suppose that we should, at this time, make a vital decision. Should we not decide NOW whether we are going to accept this un-Godly onslaught or whether we are going to resist it while there is still a chance to do something about it?

If we decide to accept it, of course no action is required; except to try to make God understand why we were so cowardly as to let Him down. If we decide to resist it, does it not appear that any effective resistance would be directly related to: (1) Understanding the ambitions, the goals of the Communists, and the ways and means, the techniques used by them in their attempt to enslave the world? (2) The design of an effective plan of counter-action based upon an understanding of item (1) and the things which would prove effective in combatting them. (3) The administration of the counter-action plan.

It is generally stated that the tenets of Communism are directly opposed to those of Christianity. How this is determined when the tenets of Christianity are so grossly misunderstood as to result in 400 differing Christian teachings in the United States is difficult to understand. Either Christianity is true or it is not true, and 400 differing teachings does not prove its validity.

The Communist net is drawing tighter every day, there is no time for the mincing of words. We can either face the facts and make the necessary corrections, or we can be stubborn and turn our back upon the facts and go down in defeat.

Every intelligent person as well as all ministers should realize that we cannot afford to be divided on the issue of Communism, or upon the vital issues of Christianity. All religious denominations and individuals have many interests and aims in common. On the few points where opinions differ tolerance and understanding should inspire everyone to seek greater understanding and to unite with God and His coworkers in freeing the world of Communist influence.

There is only one way in which destructive Communist propaganda can be rendered null and void. It is only the truth that will prove the lie. The truth that will prove the Communist lie is found everywhere throughout the Bible - but it is not preached from the pulpit, nor taught in the Christian School. Unadulterated Christian Truth is the only weapon that will ever defeat Communism. Unadulterated Christian Truth cannot be divided into 400 differing teachings and retain its validity. If ministers were aware of the profound Truths of the Christian Teaching, they would have no need to consult psychologists or psychiatrists as their true position is much higher than either one of them.

Even from a selfish standpoint, every individual and every minister should consider the likelihood that if Communism succeeds in enslaving mankind churches and ministers will not be tolerated. Ministers who then persist in bringing God's Word to the people, and individuals who refuse to agree with or accept the insane ideology of the Communists will probably be sent on a one way journey to the salt mines, or to mental institutions raving mad with insanity brought about by the use of drugs and brain surgery.

All ministers who are truly devoted to their high calling must seek those points of provable truth, which would allow for an organized united action against the evils of Communism. Time is rapidly running out. All ministers and other faithful servants of God and man must quickly realize that if Communism succeeds in taking over the world control, the Golden Opportunity of serving God and man will be a dead thing of the past.

Yes - it is true that the tenets of Communism are directly opposed to the tenets of Christianity - but - how are we to work effectively if we do not understand at what points they are opposed, and why they are opposed. Not according to our opinion, but rather according to Biblical scripture. How are we to work effectively if we do not understand the "dynamics" of the Communist techniques? How are we to counteract these dynamics if we do not thoroughly understand the more powerful dynamics of Christianity?

We are told in the Bible that the "Spirit of Truth" will guide us unto all truth. "Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth;" (St. John 16:13). The awakening of this "Spirit" in all ministers and in all individuals is absolutely essential to the matter of establishing a unified action against Communism. A strong united front must be established, and it must be established on the foundation of scriptural fact, as correctly revealed by "The Spirit of Truth."

There are certain vital scriptural issues upon which the Christian Churches MUST come into agreement. The attitude, "I'm right and you're wrong," shall have to cease in regard to religious affairs. Instead, those in disagreement shall have equally to seek those points of Truth wherein is found the True Powerful Dynamic which will defeat Communism.

Let us just be honest about it, the POWER OF GOD is not present in the church today. And let us recognize another fact, nothing short of the POWER OF GOD is going to defeat Communism.

It is well understood that ministers minister according to the teachings of the particular school in which they were trained. The question is - is this adequate to the present situation - is this adequate for the teaching of God's True Message which is carefully concealed in the Biblical scriptures? The question which should prayerfully be upon the mind of each and every minister is - "Am I preaching the "letter" or the "spirit." (2 Cor. 3:5,6) "Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God; Who also made us able ministers of the New Testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life."

Over and above all Christian "Schools of Thought", there is one authority, and that is the Bible - spiritually revealed. The sincerity of the minister and his love of God and mankind is not here questioned; but the validity of his teachings are - hence they would all be united in one True Christian Doctrine. Let us therefore not be too critical of the other fellow who may have a "mote" in his eye; rather let us first see if we can get rid of the "beam" in our own, by striving to understand truly what the scriptures are saying - not literally - but spiritually, and then we will have a weapon which may be effectively used in combatting Communism.

Without an understanding of the goals the Communists seek, and an understanding of the ways and means by which they plan to fulfill their goals (which have been extremely successful this far) any effort on our part to protect ourselves, or to defeat Communism, would be a wasted effort, for we would be fighting in the dark, and likely to fall right into their arms.

A good deal about their plan and about the techniques used to fulfill their plan may be learned from the booklet, "BRAINWASHING", which is a synthesis of the Russian Textbook on Psychopolitics. The word "Psychopolitics" is defined in Brainwashing as follows: "PSYCHOPOLITICS - the art and science of asserting and maintaining dominion over the thoughts and loyalties of individuals, officers, bureaus, and masses, and the effecting of the conquest of enemy nations through "MENTAL HEALING".

Modern advertising has produced countless "gimmicks" or psychological tricksters, to make the people think they have need for the particular product they have to sell. None of these would near compare to the effectiveness of the gimmicks used by the communists. Words and pictures, when scientifically used, are powerful instruments for directing the thought forces of the individual.

Every sincere person is interested in his fellowman - his physical health, his mental health, and his welfare in general. Every good person is ready and willing to support a movement with a "Noble Purpose". Knowing this, the Communists shroud their evil "fronts" with the Banner of Noble Purpose. "MENTAL HEALTH" is one such Banner. In the textbook on Psychopolitics, they state: "Mental health organizations must carefully delete from their ranks anyone actually proficient in the handling or treatment of mental health." Also, they state: "No mental health movement with actual goals of mental therapy should be continued in existence in any nation."

The ultimate aim of the Communists is clearly set forth as that of creating a world wide state of insanity; a type of insanity that would make the people slaves or wards of the state. This is accomplished by the gradual and systematic degradation of the individual. They state in the textbook: "The first thing to be degraded in any nation is the state of Man, himself." They also state: "Nations which have high ethical tone are difficult to conquer. Their loyalties are hard to shake, their allegiance to their leaders is fanatical, and what they usually call their spiritual integrity cannot be violated by duress. It is not efficient to attack a nation in such a frame of mind. IT IS THE BASIC PURPOSE OF PSYCHOPOLITICS TO REDUCE THAT STATE OF MIND TO A POINT WHERE IT CAN BE ORDERED AND ENSLAVED. Thus, the FIRST TARGET is MAN, himself. He must be degraded from a spiritual being to an animalistic reaction pattern. He must think of himself as an animal, capable only of animalistic reactions. He must no longer think of himself, or of his fellows, as capable of "spiritual endurance", or "nobility".

"The best approach toward degradation in its first stages is the propaganda of "scientific approach" to Man. Man must be consistently demonstrated to be a mechanism without individuality, and it must be educated into a populace under attack that Man's individualistic reactions are the product of mental derangement. The populace must be brought into the belief that every individual within it who rebels in any way, shape, or form against efforts and activities to enslave the whole, must be considered to be a deranged person whose eccentricities are neurotic or insane, and who must have at once the treatment of a psychopolitician."

It should be clearly comprehended that the real danger is not in a Communist atomic attack, but rather in the quiet conquest of the mind.

If the degradation of Man is the effective tool of the Communists - would not the up-grading of Man be the effective tool with which to combat it? If a man must be degraded to effect a tyrannic control - would not an up-grading insure his continued freedom?

In matters regarding mental health, there is no book in the world that can compare with the Bible. The subject of Mental Health is therein dealt with from every possible viewpoint. However, it remains to be understood by the ministry and it remains to be taught to the people. Every Communist lie ever invented is laid bare when held before the Light of Truth contained in the Bible.

There has been and there is, one all important vital point concerning the Bible that has been overlooked by the Ministry. This pertains to the fact that the English versions of the Bible have been translated from Hebrew and Greek manuscripts, and that the English words used do not always convey the true meaning of the original words. In fact, in many cases, the English words are extremely misleading, as we shall see later on. This can only be revealed by referring to the original words and the true definitions thereof.

In the first chapter of Brainwashing it is stated:

"Basically, Man is an animal". This is the lie upon which countless other Communist lies are founded. Literally hundreds of scriptures could be cited to prove this lie, however, the one here chosen should suffice.

Jesus said: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." (St. John 3:6) This scripture means nothing more and nothing less than exactly what it says. However, understanding of the scripture is dependent upon understanding exactly the meaning of the words. The Bible writers were not "sloppy" in their work of recording the scriptures, but rather extremely "exact". This "exactness" must be given the respect to which it is entitled.

Personal definitions or opinions cannot be applied to the meaning of scriptural words without destroying the true significance thereof. Another viewpoint of this same thought suggests the "meeting ground" whereon all Christian Ministers may unite in Biblical Understanding. A thorough study of the original words used will reveal the true spiritual message of the Bible intended for the people, and this is the message that should be preached from every Christian pulpit. This true unadulterated message is the only thing that will ever defeat Communism - or any other evil tyrannic plan.

In 2 Timothy 2:15, mankind was instructed to: "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Herein we note that "The word of truth'' needs to be divided, and divided rightly by study in order to be approved unto God. To be point blank blunt about it, this means that the scriptures are talking about several levels of man's beingness, including the beastly, the natural, and the spiritual, and that if the individual wants to be approved unto God - to understand the message of the Bible - these matters must be rightly divided by study.

In the foregoing scripture, to wit: ''That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit;'' the word ''flesh'' was translated from the Greek word ''sarx''. This word is as: ''Flesh (as stripped of the skin), i.e. (strictly) the meat of an animal.'' It is extremely important to give particular attention to the fact that this word has reference to the meat only - and not the skin.

The Greek word that was translated as ''Spirit'' in this scripture was ''Pneuma'', which is defined as: ''Spirit, i.e. (human) the RATIONAL SOUL, (by impl.) Vital Principle, mental disposition . . . (Superhuman) Christ's Spirit, The Holy Spirit.''

The word ''Spirit'' may be better understood when viewed in its relationship to the word ''soul''. The Greek word translated as ''soul'' was ''Psuche'', which is defined as: ''The animal sentient principle only, thus distinguished on the one hand from Pneuma which is the Rational and Immortal Soul (Mind); and on the other from Zoe, which is mere vitality, even of plants.'' The important thing to note here is the double nature of the soul or mind. This dualness is spoken of in many ways in the scriptures.

When the Communists state that man is basically an animal, they are not stating the truth, but rather only a half truth. That which is not of the animal is denied. A careful study of "Brainwashing" will reveal their profound understanding of the animal part of man. It is not difficult to understand why so many have fallen victims to their tenets. The tenets of Communism concern the lower nature of man, the Psuche Mind, (the natural man) and the animal body. To the natural man these tenets seem entirely reasonable and logical. However, truly speaking, reason and logic is of the higher mind. Things which concern the spirit can only be discerned by the spirit. This is clearly set forth in the scriptures, to wit: "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." (1 Cor. 2:14) The word "spiritually" used here is related to the Greek "Pneuma," the Rational Immortal Mind. The word "natural" in this scripture is related to the word "Psuche" which is the animal sentient principle. The English word "Psyche" is derived from the Greek Psuche and defines the field of endeavour of the Psychologist and the Psychiatrist.

There are several key words in the scriptures, which when understood in their true light, will establish that "meeting ground" whereon all Christian churches can band together in one great united effort to defeat Communism.

Several of these are, God, Jesus Christ, Soul, Spirit, Flesh, Sleep, Death, and Repent. When these words are rightly understood, Christianity becomes a Dynamic Living Power. This is the only Power capable of defeating Communism.

In the booklet Brainwashing, the Russians state: "Man is a stimulus-response animal." They further state: "His entire reasoning capabilities, even his ethics and morals, depend upon stimulus-response machinery." This is another one of the great lies of Communism. If this were true, there would never have been such a thing as Christianity. Before Christianity there was only the LAW of the lower mind. The New Testament teaching goes further - to include a knowledge of the higher Mind or the Spirit - which is for the proper fulfillment of the Law, and the further development of the hu-man being.

It is of the most vital importance that the double, or dual nature of the hu-man mind be clearly comprehended as this is the basis of the New Testament, or Christian Teaching.

When the Russians state that "Reason" is a function of stimulus-response mechanisms of the Psyche, or the Psuche Mind, they lie. "Come now, and let US reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow:" (Isa. 1:18) It will later be shown that "The Lord" is the second mind, the Immortal Mind.

There is no "reason" in the Psyche or the "natural" mind, but only a computing mechanism which after a very poor fashion substitutes for reason until the higher mind, or the Lord is consulted. "For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory forever. Amen."

It should be clearly observed that Christianity deals with those matters which are for the development of the individual. The word "development" used here has a direct reference to the "bringing-forth" or "investment" of the hidden "talents" or "abilities" of the individual. This matter is dealt with in the New Testament in "The Parable of the Talents." The Talents (Abilities) are Biblically spoken of as "The Lord's Money."

Communism deals with those matters which are for the strengthening of the tyrannic state rule, necessitating the degradation of man to the status of slave, or "ward" of the state, in the sense that the state will do their thinking for them and direct their every activity.

The stimulus-response machinery of the lower mind is the instrument upon which the Communists play in order to accomplish their evil ends. They have made a profound study of this part of man's beingness. They have discovered a great many ways in which stimulus-response mechanisms may be established to accomplish their aims.

Advertising firms have also discovered many secrets of this functional operation, and as a result can determine quite accurately before-hand the returns that will come in in response to a given advertising campaign.

One method is the continual hammer - hammer - hammer - of a suggestible idea, until it becomes implanted within the mind and becomes a directive force.

Obedience to authority may be established by the administration of physical pain associated with verbal commands. This is the somewhat "old-fashioned" way of establishing parental authority. Newer and more effective Russian means of establishing "Loyalty to the State" is accomplished by "Drug-Hypnosis" - or the administration of verbal commands while the person is under the influence of drugs.

In Communism, all authority is retained by the state. Loyalty to the state is enforced by FORCE. They state in the textbook on Psychopolitics: "Obedience is the result of force . . . Concurrent with force is brutality . . . Savage force, sufficiently long displayed toward any individual, will bring about his concurrence with any principle or order . . . . If you would have obedience you must have no compromise with humanity. If you would have obedience you must make it clearly understood that you have no mercy. Man is an animal. He understands, in the final analysis, only those things which a brute understands."

In Communism, individual endeavour or purpose is taboo, everything is for the benefit of the state. The people thusly controlled by stimulus-response mechanisms are but robotic cogs in a gear of a giant infernal machine operated by the state. In Communism, the State is the "Supreme Authority."

The basic truths of Christianity concern those things which concern the liberation of the soul (Psuche Mind). These are not fantastical things, but rather forces and powers that are very real. "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." (Eph. 6:12)

Some of these forces allow for the "conditioning" of destructive stimulus-response mechanisms. Others allow for liberation from these destructive forces. It is only when the soul has been liberated, that man is living in the manner intended by his Creator.

The spiritual laws involved in the "Washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost," are just as exacting as the laws of nature or the laws of chemistry, or any other Laws in the Universe.

In the New Testament, the word "God" is translated from the Greek "Theos," which is defined as "the supreme authority." The scriptural statement: "God is a Spirit," tells us where God is, as the word "Spirit" was translated from the Greek "Pneuma," which is the Rational Immortal Mind. This substantiates another statement made by Jesus, to wit: "The kingdom of God cometh not with observation (via the senses): Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

The Bible states truly that God is "The Supreme Authority", and this Authority shall have to be recognized from a viewpoint of Understanding if we are ever to have peace among men upon this Earth. The Christian leaders shall have to decide WHO is going to be in the "seat of Authority", and if it is going to be God, they shall have to come to agreement concerning the TRUE SCRIPTURAL doctrine of Christianity.

So long as the individual must be "obedient" or place his "Loyalty" in any external being, church, or state, he cannot be loyal to God or Jesus Christ. This is one extremely important point that must be properly comprehended, taught and practiced, if we are to be a "Godly Nation". Loose talk about God does not make a nation Godly.

The infallibility and supreme authority of the church, at once, denies the True and Living God. The true purpose of the church is to lead the people to God; not to impose an authority that prevents the individual from finding God.

It should be clearly comprehended that Jesus Christ Himself is the Shepherd and that it is the Christian duty of the Minister to lead the people to the Shepherd - not to substitute for Him, as "anti" in the Bible means "substitute" and to substitute for Christ is to be an "anti-Christ".

Anyone, that would in any manner, regardless of how high sounding the words may be, prevent the individual from finding the Inward "Supreme Authority'' by imposing an external authority is using the same destructive tyrannic principles as the Communists. To deny God, is to be denied by God.

The Bible is not talking about nonsense, it is talking about very real things. When it states: ''And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God,'' (Rom. 12:2) it means exactly what it says, and these instructions cannot be thrown aside in favor of psychological substitutes, and retain any measure of Christianity.

Jesus stated a profound truth when he said: ''Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.'' (St. John 3:3) This again has direct reference to the dual nature of the hu-man mind. He further stated: ''Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.'' (St. John 3: 5)

Every mother, every doctor, and almost everyone else, knows that the physical child is born of water. Why cannot we recognize the directness, the simplicity of the scriptures? Why do we have to attach mysterious, idiotic ideas to straightforward statements?

The second birth relates to the birth of the Second Man, which relates to the Spirit, the Pneuma Mind.

We see by the definition of the Greek word used in the original manuscripts that the soul is the animal sentient principle. To state it another way, it is the "Mind of the senses". It is mortal because it is of nature. Because it is of nature, it is called the natural mind.

By definition of the Greek word "Pneuma" we determine that there is a second soul or a second mind, which is sometimes called "the second man", also "the last Adam", also, "The Lord from heaven". This is the Rational Immortal Mind - the Spirit.

The word "natural" in the scriptures is translated from the Greek "Psuchikos", which is defined as: "Sensitive, i.e. animate (in distinction on the one hand from PNEUMATIKOS, which is the higher RENOVATED nature; and on the other from PHYSIKOS, which is the lower or beastial nature): natural, sensual."

We therefore come to the fact that we all consist of three levels of being.

1. Beastly, the flesh or meat of the animal.
2. Natural - (Soul - Psuche - Psyche) The animal Sentient Principle, the Mind of the Senses.
3. Spiritual - (Pneuma) The Rational Immortal Mind.

In 1 Cor. 15:42, it is stated that the resurrection of the dead is sown in corruption; and raised in incorruption. That: "It (resurrection) is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory (honour): it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body. And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening Spirit." (1Cor.

These things have heretofore been greatly misunderstood, and the misunderstanding thereof has prepared the soil for the growth of Communism.

The generally accepted idea that Adam was the original being of the human race, is one of the roads that lead to confusion and misunderstanding. The word Adam is of Hebrew origin and is in the Hebrew written in three forms, representative of three meanings. This is not indicated in the English translations. However, the New Testament scriptures very clearly point out the existance of two different Adams, and both of these have reference to every member of the hu-man species of any time or age, or every time and age.

Historical things have not been adquately distinguished or divided from Spiritual things. If the spiritual things are not understood, Christianity is not performing its proper function. Communism can only be defeated by a true understanding and practice of LIVING CHRISTIANITY.

The Christian leaders shall have to decide whether they are going to continue to preach Hebrew astronomy or the true tenets of Christianity. If they are going to preach the true tenets of Christianity - they shall have to stop pointing to the stars when they speak of God - rather they shall have to accept the reality of the statement: "The kingdom of God is within you," as Jesus taught. (St. Luke 17:20,21)

They shall have to stop preaching the false hope that God is going to come down from the heavens above to set up His Own Earthly Government. This pertains to Hebrew astronomy, and perhaps, was introduced into the Christian Church via something similar to Communist influence. To preach a "waiting for " the kingdom of God is to preach a lie. The scriptures are very explicit concerning the fact that the kingdom of God must be sought, and that the kingdom is within you. (St. Matt. 6:33 - St. Luke 12:31)

The Communists would prevent mankind from fulfilling these instructions. They want to keep mankind in utter ignorance of God and keep the people subject to the tyrannic power of their evil science of Psychopolitics.

Jesus said: "Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment." (St. John 7:24) The reason for this is that a judgment according to the appearance is a judgment of the natural mind, the mind of the senses, and is not a righteous or right judgment. To a great extent, the judgment according to the appearance, is the reactionary force of the conditioned stimulus-response mechanisms.

We have heretofore seen that there are two Adams, or two men. "The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven." (1 Cor. 15:47) The second man is the man that is supposed to be expressing through the first man. However, the "evidence of the senses", of the first man, denies the existance of the second man. That which is inward and is trying to express outward, is prevented from doing so because of the impact of the exterior world upon the first man.

Man's true obligation to God in this earthly existance is to bring the natural mind (the first man) around to the point of being subservient to the Second Man - or as the Bible states it - the Lord from heaven. One must continually remember the Biblical statement; "All scripture is given by inspiration of God." (2 Tim. 4:16) and, "God cannot lie." (Titus 1:2) Whenever there is a difference of opinion regarding the meaning of the scriptures, a diligent search for true understanding should be conducted. Traditional points of view are not necessarily acceptable to God. Man was instructed to: "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." (1 Th. 5:21)

We are told in the scriptures that the things of the Spirit of God are spiritually discerned. This means that they are only discerned by the spiritual mind - the second man - the Pneuma Mind. The natural mind receives a stimulus from the senses because it is in that realm of beingness. It knows nothing about spiritual things. It is not of that realm. It is in the realm of corruptible things and its judgments are corruptible. It is of the realm of visible and tangible things which may be evidenced by the senses - all of which are corruptible.

If Christians are going to defeat Communism, they are going to have to get into the realm wherein the POWER OF GOD is released. We must remember; "For the kingdom of God is not in word but in power." (1 Cor. 4:20) Christians today need POWER; and there is only one place to get it, which is, "THE KINGDOM OF GOD." And there is only one way to get it, which is, according to Bible instructions.

If the word white in the original versions of the Bible had been translated as black in the English versions, it would not be a greater error that translating the Greek "Metanoeo" as "Repent". The Greek "Metanoeo" has absolutely no counterpart in the English "Repent".

In "placing the blame" for the loss of Christian POWER - this one error reaches tremendous proportions.

Let us examine the facts concerning this word. First, we find that the word "Repent" is used 45 times in the King James Version; 22 times in the Old Testament and 23 times in the New Testament. Next we find that it was used to represent two different words in the Hebrew, namely, "Nacham" and "Shuwb"; and two more different words in the Greek, namely, "Metanoeo", and "Metamellomai", and none - not even one - carres the meaning of the English "Repent".

At the moment, we are concerned only with the Greek "Metanoeo". This is because it is directly concerned with the attainment of Christian POWER and ETERNAL LIFE. It is used 20 times in the New Testament scriptures, including the following examples. The first time it was used it was John the Baptist preaching; "And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." (Matt. 3:2) The second time it was used it was Jesus speaking: "Repent for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." (Matt. 4:17) The third time it was used it was Jesus speaking again; "And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel" (St. Mark 1:15)

What is the Gospel? It is "The Good Message" or "Good News" about the KINGDOM OF GOD.

The Greek word translated as "repent" in the foregoing three scriptures was "Metanoeo". This is a compound word consisting of "Meta" and "Noieo". "Meta" is defined as meaning, "prop." denoting accompaniment; "AMID". "Noieo" is derived from "Nous". Nous is defined as the intellect, i.e. Mind (Divine or human; in thought, feeling, or will); by impl. meaning: "mind, understanding." "Noieo" (derived from nous) is defined as meaning: "To EXERCISE THE MIND (observe), i.e. (fig.) to comprehend, heed: - Consider, perceive, think, understand."

Another scripture containing the word Metanoeo which was translated as repent is: "I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent (exercise the mind), ye shall all likewise perish." (St. Luke 13:5)

In The Acts, 2:38, Peter also used the word "Metanoeo"; "Then Peter said unto them, repent (exercise the mind) and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost."

The importance of understanding the meaning of this word could hardly be overemphasized. It is truly the hidden key that unlocks the great mysteries of the True Christian Doctrine.

This specific mental activity is the ONLY way in which one may break through the sense conditioned confinement, the stimulus-response mechanisms, of the lower mind and bring into activity the forces and powers of the HIGHER RATIONAL IMMORTAL MIND. This action of Metanoeo could be said to be the "bridge" or the "link" between the two minds, the mortal and the Immortal.

As we trace more vital words to their true significance we will understand how tremendously important this is in understanding the True Christian Doctrine.

The word "Logos" is not found in the King James Version of the Holy Bible, however, the word was used a great many times in the Greek manuscripts of the New Testament, and has been translated as 20 or more different words in the English. This Greek word is defined as "Something said (including the thought), . . . also reasoning (The mental faculty) or motive . . . The Divine Ex-pression. (x i.e. Christ)"

It is here to be observed that the "Divine Expression" may only be released to the human intellect by means of "Metanoeo" or EXERCISING THE MIND.

If one were to make a very close study of Communism, and the methods and techniques of enforcing it, he would find that every possible effort is made to keep the individual from EXERCISING THE MIND. By this means, by imposing an external "authority" - by demanding external obedience, the Divine Expression, i.e. Christ, is never permitted to be released, hence the soul remains in bondage.

The importance of "Repentance" is stressed over and over in the scriptures, but it means nothing if not understood in the sense of "Metanoeo". This is the way and the means of releasing the POWER OF GOD - and of establishing Christ as the Governing Head in the Individual.

Christ's Government is an INTERNAL GOVERNMENT and when the people are taught how to break through the bondage of the mortal mind and release the Divine Powers of the Immortal Mind - we shall not be subject to such evil tyrannic types of Government as Communism, where everyone is held in mental and physical slavery, but rather, the people shall enjoy that which has promised so long ago - "THE GLORIOUS LIBERTY OF THE CHILDREN OF GOD." (Rom. 8:21)

Where The Reader Has His Say

Dear RAP:

Congratulations on your new shape and size magazines. They are easier to handle now, and the stories and features improve with each issue.

I am one of your newer readers, and I must say that I am favorably impressed. I know I can believe what I read in FLYING SAUCERS and SEARCH. That is more than I can say for many magazines of this type that are on the market today.

I read with interest Rex Eidson's OUT OF THE SKY. It may be of interest to you to know that in North Carolina on Caney Fork Creek near East Laporte there is a gigantic rock with some very strange carvings on it. The monster of the Mississippi, which is engraved in the side of a cliff, has never been explained, and neither have all of the strange signals and symbols carved in rocks throughout the Southwest. - Janice Kelley, 15 Francis Ave. W., Bridgewater, Mass.

Dear Mr. Palmer:

You seem to be very sincere in your support of the bible Oahspe. This surprises me a little since I have become convinced the entire book is a fabrication. Most probably by Newbrough and his friend Davis. I read the 1891 edition several years ago but have read only part of the 1882 edition. Oahspe does contain amazing information which could not have been acquired from any book then in existence. It is my belief that some one in the caverns played thought records for Newbrough who probably thought that these things had taken place on the spiritual plane. Either one of these two men could have spent several years writing the stories and filling in the gaps from their own imaginations. In your addendum you wrote that, "the book of discipline which appears in the 1891 edition, does not appear in the 1882 edition, and unfortunately there is no evidence that it appeared in the original manuscript."

It seems quite possible that it may have been written at a later date, and not by any spirits.

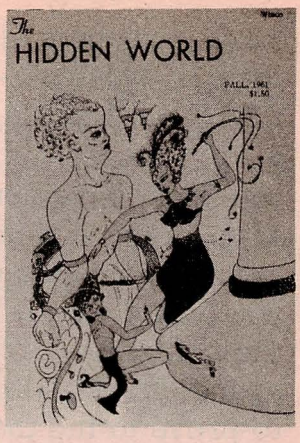

How can you have photographs of children, who obviously lived in Newbrough's time as their clothing indicates, then say they are the children of Shalam which has not yet been built?

Stories which obviously come from cavern thought records are being twisted to make them seem as though they happened only in some spirit world.

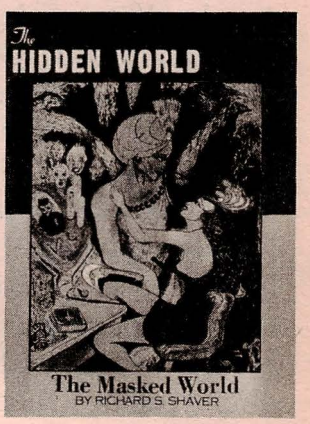

Why do the pictures of prophets from all ages and races look like retouched paintings of Mexicans? Is

THE HIDDEN WORLD

A NEW IDEA IN BOOK PUBLISHING
THE SUBSCRIPTION BOOK

Here it is at last! The entire Shaver Mystery in book form! The greatest single obstacle to publication has been cost — the average book costs $4.00. And the Shaver Mystery, in its entirety, will take a whole series of books, perhaps as many as ten. Now we've solved our problem — we can give you these books, 192 pages (large size), fine quality book paper for permanence, excellent printing, in heavy enamel paper bindings, at a saving of $2.50 per book! The difference is in the binding, plus regular quarterly publication. We will publish one book every three months, and sell them by subscription only, one year for $6.00. Each book will contain 115,000 words, twice the average book! In addition to the Shaver Mystery, we have other mysterious and thought-provoking books to publish, and that is why these new books will have an over-all title of THE HIDDEN WORLD. Now, via the Subscription Book, the researches of thirty years can be published. You've wanted to know what I REALLY know and think! Here's your chance at last, at a price you can afford.

What is the Shaver Mystery? There are many theories: There are those who support Shaver in his materialistic honeycomb of caverns the world over, heritage of a Titan-Atlan race which fled a poisoned world over 12,000 years ago. There are those who call his caverns the "astral", his dero the spirits of the dead. Some say it is "another dimension", another realm of life alongside ours, invisible under ordinary circumstances. They fight among themselves, but in one way they join solidly together — the Shaver phenomena are REAL.

there perhaps a clue in the fact that the paintings were done in Mexico? - Alfred I. Sothern, 715 So. Hope St. Y.M.C.A., Los Angeles, Calif.

● If you are convinced that Oahspe is a fabrication, you must have some evidence of it. We'd like to know what it is. Yet you do not have the same feeling regarding Shaver's Caves, although to my mind, they are not only related, but are one and the same thing. Just the scientific portions, just now being discovered by our space efforts, which Oahspe has given accurately, seem to prove to me that Oahspe has just as much claim on that basis to authenticity as Shaver has.

Those photographs of the children are orphans taken into a colony called Shalam formed by Newbrough himself after he published Oahspe, and they are actually Mexican (some of them) as you say. Newbrough sunk a half million dollars into his premature colony, and it was wiped out in a flood.. it was destroyed in a flood. But I don't see how you can say the paintings of the prophets look like retouched Mexicans? Ethnologically speaking, they are remarkably true to race features and not one resembles a Mexican. We believe these paintings to be evidence in themselves that at least Newbrough knew his races of the world, particularly ancient, and painted very well and true. The paintings were not done in Mexico, as you infer. Unless you have a source of information other than our own? My personal opinion (opinion only) is that they were painted, as Oahspe was written, in New York City.

OAHSPE—THE LONG LOST, AUTHENTIC, UNEXPURGATED, UNCHANGED FIRST EDITION

AFTER 75 YEARS!

THE 1882 EDITION OF THE WONDER BOOK OF THIS AGE, PHOTOCOPIED FROM THE ORIGINAL, NOT A COMMA CHANGED!

In 1891, for reasons not acceptable to many, including myself, John Ballou Newbrough and Andrew M. Howland issued a "revised and corrected" edition of OAHSPE. These revisions and corrections (and omissions and additions) have never been satisfactorily outlined, and because since 1885 the first edition could not be purchased anywhere, the public has been unable to ascertain what these changes were. In all my life, I have been able to find but one copy of the 1882 edition. Others are rumored to exist, but if they do, they are in private collections. With this photocopied edition of OAHSPE, reproduced from this lone volume, the 1882 edition is once more made available to the public. With the advent of the Space Age, OAHSPE is being vindicated, thus I am pleased to make this controversial edition available to those who, like myself, believe it to be one of the world's important books.

Perhaps the best way to describe OAHSPE is in the words of the book itself: "A sacred history of the dominions of the higher and lower heavens on the Earth for the past twenty-four thousand years, being from the submersion of the continent of Pan in the Pacific Ocean, commonly called the Flood or Deluge, to the Kosmon (present) Era. Also a brief history of the preceding fifty-five thousand years, together with a synopsis of the cosmogony of the Universe; the creation of the planets; the creation of man; the unseen worlds; the labor and glory of gods and goddesses in the etherean heavens; with the new commandments of Jehovih to man of the present day. With revelations from the second resurrection, formed in words in the thirty-third year of the Kosmon Era." The purpose of the book is: "To teach mortals how to attain to hear the Creator's voice, and to see His heavens, in full consciousness, whilst still living on the earth; and to know of a truth the place and condition awaiting them after death."

This edition of OAHSPE contains 928 pages. It also contains nearly three quarters of a million words, and calculating from actual time of writing, it was written at the rate of 120 words per minute! This on an 1880 Sholes typewriter is a miracle in itself. Many of the drawings in OAHSPE were done at the same time . . . in the dark! The Book of Cosmology might have been written by today's space scientists! Much of the science in OAHSPE has only recently been "discovered". Newbrough could not have "guessed" so rightly, especially in the face of all the authorities of his day. Today space satellites are discovering "how it is" out in space, while in 1882 OAHSPE contained the same information! As an instance, the now famous Van Allen radiation belts, complete as to nature and height! The scientific reader is overwhelmed by the science of OAHSPE.

Yes, I am sincere in my support of Oahspe. Even Shaver supports its historical background, and also says that the spiritual phase of it is most likely true, and that out in space, such spirit forms certainly do exist.

Unfortunately, I cannot at this time say what I really know to be true about Oahspe's manuscript, and the paintings, because I would most certainly be sued for libel, slander, and what have you. There are powerful enemies of Oahspe, and they will stop at nothing to discredit it and to halt its publication. That factor alone is enough to keep me publishing it. Any sign of opposition to my freedom of expression, and I will fight to the bitter end. Even for an enemy of mine (and I do have some). The whole basis of my work is information, and the dissemination of it to all persons interested, without hindrance or alteration. The very fact that the original Oahspe was censored, revised, changed, altered, expurgated, hidden (any more nasty words you can think of?), is reason enough to publish the original, if for no other reason than to defy censorship.

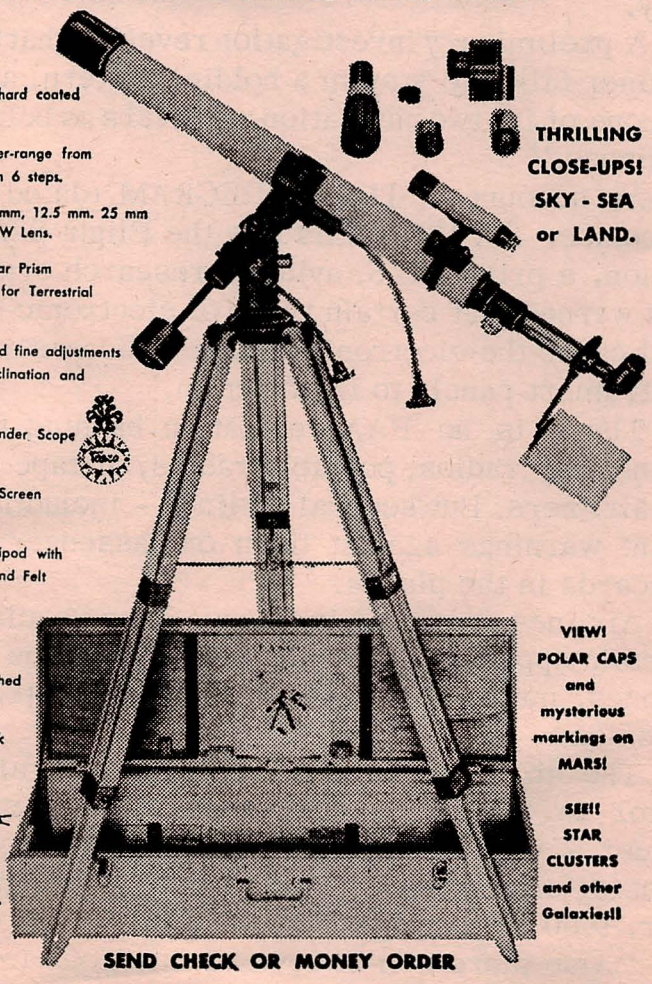

If I may hazard a guess, your conviction of the fabrication of Oahspe is not based on logic or reason or research, but on a preconceived notion. What that notion is, I have no idea, but ask yourself whether your opinion has been carefully thought out, or has been arrived at out of wishful thinking. Rap.

readers will have entirely forgotten the tragic air collision of Dec. 16, 1960, between a United Airlines DC-8 and a TWA Super Constellation over New York City.

A preliminary investigation revealed that the United jetliner failed to stay in a holding pattern, and reported one of its two navigation receivers as being "out of business."

An account in THE TELEGRAM (dated Tuesday, December 20, 1960) tells how the Flight Safety Foundation, a private U.S. aviation research organization, has warned that certain types of electronic equipment will cause the electronic course indicators on airliner instrument panels to malfunction.

There is no FAA regulation banning the use of transistor radios, portable radios, or tape recorders on airliners. But several airlines - including United - print warnings against them on passenger tickets or placards in the planes.

Airlines operating in Canada have regulations that certain appliances, such as portable radios and dictaphones, may not be used without the captain's permission.

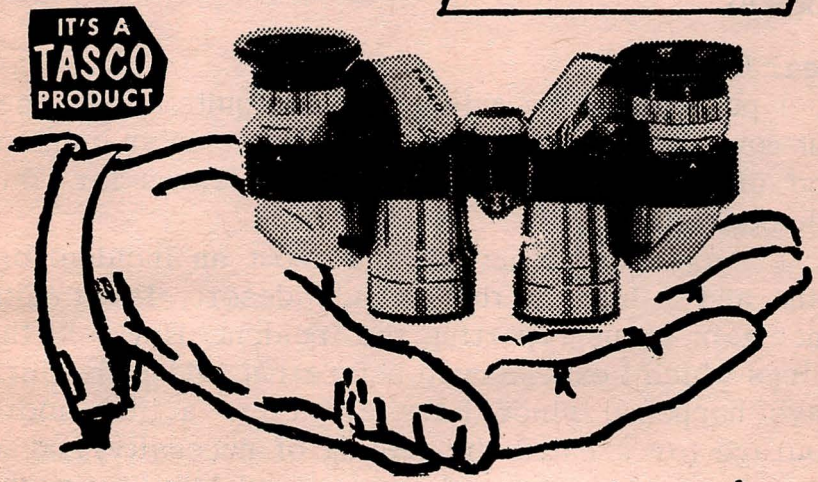

The above set me thinking about a regular contributor to SEARCH - Psychometrist Dorothy Spence Lauer - who has more than once predicted the final erasing of airplane crashes. Quoting from the December, 1960 issue, page 39:

"Also there will be several situations arise whereby the airlines are going to find out finally what is causing so many crashes. This will be discovered before too long."

So, I ask: Could the answer for the numerous unaccountable plane crashes be due, simply, to the personal belongings of passengers or crew? Like, for example, radio transistors? If not, does the answer lie, not in mechanical failure, but in some other unsuspected and seemingly innocent personal belonging? - Alex Saunders, 17 Mackay Avenue, Toronto 4, Ontario.

Dear Ray:

I put off writing this letter for quite some time, but now I will take the liberty of expressing an opinion, and offering a couple of my experiences for your consideration.

I wrote you sometime ago about an incident my wife and I had on the Nevada desert. I was quite uncertain about reporting the incident. However the things which I experienced before that, and those which have happened since have given me a little more courage (or created the feeling of necessity) and so I wish to give you and your friend Mr. Shaver the benefit of my experiences. You two seem to be the only sensible voices in the wilderness surrounding this subject.

I can recall many times hearing about people living under the Sahara Desert. (Nevada Desert?) I think it was H.P. Blavatsky who stated that there was a race of people living under the desert. Why

I BELIEVE IN passing on a good thing, so read what I have to say in the following notations, and if you take my tips, and wind up unsatisfied, tell me personally, and I'll refund your money from my own pocket! That's how "sold" I am on these things I recommend that YOU buy!

TURN-ER'S - FOR YOUR HAIR.

I had dandruff problems that had me licked, until Ken Arnold left half a bottle of Guy Turner's hair preparation at my house. I used it, instead of mailing it to him - and by golly, it ELIMINATED my dandruff. And I do mean eliminated! Let the Food and Drug Administration say what it wants about dandruff being incurable - probably it is. But when I use Turn-er's, I don't have dandruff! No falling flakes, no itching, no nothing! And another thing I noticed is that it darkens your hair. If you've got gray hair, it'll sure hide it! My wife got rid of a skin rash with it. A whole raft of my readers have written me saying it's terrific. I believe them! Why not write GUY L. TURNER, BOX 145-P, BOISE, IDAHO and order a bottle ($5.00). It'll last a long time, so it's really cheap! Naturally, Guy gives me a commission - but what's wrong with helping to finance this magazine any way we can?

THE HYPNOTISM HAND-BOOK, by Charles Edward Cooke & A. E. Van Vogt. Take a look at the spiral at the left. It's what Cooke uses along with a hypnotizing technique that he reads, word for word, as in Chapter 2 of his book, to hypnotize his subjects, so that he can then read the particular word therapy that applies to his particular problems. This book is loaded with valuable therapy formulas: such things as relaxation, insomnia, headache, constipation, overweight and reducing, breaking smoking habit, painless childbirth, dentistry, concentration, memory, and dozens of other things. Cooke has hypnotized as many as 400 people at once; he has taught doctors, dentists, psychiatrists, psychologists, ministers, nurses and many others. He can teach you! Why not order his book from AMHERST PRESS, Rt. 2, BOX 36, AMHERST, WISCONSIN ($4.50)? It's the best!

DO YOU LIKE GOOD CHILI? Well, I'm just plumb crazy about it, and I'm also real particular about how it tastes - and I've found a chili seasoning that is GREAT! Let me send you some right away before you spend more of your life missing the most delicious chili you've ever tasted. I'll send you my own personal recipe, easy to make, never fails! It comes in individual air-tight foil envelopes containing enough for an 8-person serving. One envelope, 25¢; Five envelopes, $1.00; Twenty-five envelopes, $3.50. Order direct from me, RAY PALMER, AMHERST, WISCONSIN.

Ever hear of anybody giving tips like this, and backing them up with his own refund money? You can't lose, only gain, on a deal like this!

not other places too?

In California about a year before the Nevada incident a group of six people were sitting around the swimming pool in front of our apartment. What appeared to be a disc, like the ones used in track events, flew over the apartment passing about six feet above the pool, then back over the top of the building, disappearing into the night. Three of us saw it clearly.

Mr. Shaver is correct in saying that people hear voices. I myself have heard broken statements on occasion. Example: "Let's get this straight." "Young boys are being served." "You crazy bastard." Etc.

One other incident occured which I would like very much to have an explanation of. Possibly Mr. Shaver can help. While lying in bed one evening, just after turning the light out, I heard a voice which seemed to be about the height of the edge of the bed, and about six inches from my ear. In a louder than normal voice someone or something said, "Hello there, Arthur." I was so startled I jumped straight up in bed. As you know my name is not Arthur.

Once when trying out a new boat I heard someone yell "Stop"! I turned the motor off and looked around for the Person who had called, but there was no one to be found anywhere around.

After reading "Hidden Worlds" I became concerned because I had sold myself that the voices were from bone conduction or some such thing.

I hope this information will be of some value to

Dear Mr. Palmer:

The "normal" person has no idea of what it is like to really know something for a fact when all evidence points in the opposite direction. Alien to most is the feeling that "Something is rotten in the State of Denmark" when all about is covered with milk and honey. And far beyond the comprehension of most is the fact, or suspicion, that all this milk and honey is but a purposeful front with which to hide something sinister and detrimental to their happiness and very lives.

No "normal" person has been plagued with the compulsion to question God, or to doubt the sincerity of their country's leaders. No, and no "normal" person has tried to show the rest of the "normal" people where the evil lies. But the abnormal people such as I have, and we always meet a stone wall with the intelligence to match. Oh, yes, we are psychotic, maladjusted, and malcontents who lash out at nothing, thinking it to be our antagonists. We are sick! But guess what we're sick of. The normal people, that's what!

And so we abnormal stumble along, getting nowhere in life. We blame unseen and impossible beings. We spend all our neurotic time dreaming up reasons for the evils we "think" exist, and these reasons usually are embellished with "newly found fact" which lend credence to our contentions.

And then we reach the zenith of our glory; we find and bring forth one man, the most abnormal of the abnormals, Richard S. Shaver. With him we perpetrate the greatest hoax known to "modern" man. And we call it The Shaver Mystery.

In this mystery all abnormals can find the causes of their persecutions: the dero.

How the "normal" ones laugh, pointing their orthodox fingers in "rightful" indignation at the abnormals as they spend all their free time and money (money which isn't so free, in case the "normals" think otherwise) drawing up answers and writing stories which "prove" their contentions. How smug they are in their attitude of detached sympathy! How understanding are the doctors who analyze the details of this hoax, issuing "authoritative" commentaries proving that our persecutors are figments of demented imaginations.

Then, when the whole hoax is in full swing and there is danger of the "normal" ones being deluded into believing us, the "learned" men go to work thinking up counter theories that coincide to a point, but leave the truth in the beginning and explain it (away) by foisting their theories upon us as those of "mystics", "mediums" (with all the respect due to those who have mediumistic powers), and a whole passel of other cults who have more knowledge of what these deros really are. Of course! Shaver found the incarnate souls of the departed criminals! some say.

Others say he astrally projected himself to a plane of existence which coincided with his own soul development, and therefore found evil spirits only, as he is evil, being an atheist.

Yes, on and on went the new found reasons for Shaver's Mystery. But why bring up these reasons if the place underground didn't exist in the first place? Our intelligence is insulted right there, for we should be smart enough to spot an evident set of fabrications without the help of our blessed "learned" men. But, no! We must have the help of those who know more, for we aren't capable of discerning the truth for ourselves. Then, this "help" from our "superiors" must have resulted from their fear that the "normal" ones might see some shaft of light in this abnormal's story, and therefore had to go along with him just so far, then stop and double back with "the real truth." Whatever the reason, they made a good show of it. Good enough that those who might have come out of the dark were kept there for good, seeing nothing but light around themselves and their knowledge about the astral projections and the souls of departed criminals and the mistaken theory that this all meant the deros were material beings.

What are some of the things the abnormal believes, outside the impossible Shaver Mystery? Why, we believe that psychiatrists and doctors are tools of Satan! At least I do. We think these reputable men hide the truth with what we call "flowery" explanations. We even condemn the institutions of higher (get that word, Orfeo s firs! book THE SECRET OF THE SAUCERS, went into five editions! The glimpse its readers got of cosmic perceptions raised a demand for more—and in this book, Orfeo has given what is in his heart.

The dynamics of the Universe are presented simply in Son of the Sun. The Cosmos lives in a music of the spheres as a concept of Infinity and Eternity is laid bare. In this very real Space Age there is a moral and spiritual undercurrent which soon may swell into world tides, for Man not only seeks all the truth, but knows it when presented.

higher!) learning, claiming that the only reason for the study of philosophies is to teach the students to go in such complex, impossible circles of thought when considering something that when they are thru they have no idea of what they started out to do. An abnormal condemns the methods used by which a decision is reached today, claiming that this beating-around-the-bush-to-get-at-the-answer is not really rational thinking, but quite the contrary: idiotic and senseless. We are so abnormal we think one should look into the horse's mouth and count the teeth instead of sitting around for hours on our behinds arguing over the theoretical possibilities for the number of teeth a horse has in its head.

We abnormals also believe that the so-called crack-pots are the only ones with the true answers. With our "persecution complexes" we bemoan the fact that all crack-pots have been labeled as such by lying, face-saving deceivers disguised as "humanitarians". Yes! We abnormals have gone so far as to say that the "normal" men in high places are there only to cover up for the truth concerning our beginning, and that they don't have all the answers and that when some lowly slave happens to find an answer the "learned" ones tag the knower of truth with a label of "crack-pot" so that the other slaves won't listen to him, therefore hearing the truth which might start them thinking for themselves.

Now, just how does a person become abnormal? Why, when he begins thinking for himself, that's when.

When one thinks for himself, throwing away the stagnant dogmas and dictums, he soon learns that he isn't getting all the answers from the ones who should be giving them. And then it is that he commits the "unforgivable." He questions the words of his "superiors." (Oh, horrors of horrors!) If he is persistent enough in his questioning he soon earns the label of "ne'er do well" or some such name which tells the world he is, in short, an ignoramus, a malcontent. With that the free-thinker is thrown out into the cold world, unprepared (unbrainwashed) for the coming years of servile servitude where "yes, yes, yes" are the stepping stones to success. "Society" doesn't want him in her skirts, for his kind are usually trouble makers and often come up with embarrassing questions which might make some one think, and, Heaven Forbid! it isn't the thing to do, think!

And so the new abnormal strives for a living. Keeping his mouth shut (which he learns to do after losing one or two jobs) about such things as the actuality of flying saucers, dero, tero, the truth in Fortean theory, and anything relating to TRUTH, he succumbs to the will of those over his future, still a "yes" man, but one who knows, inside, that the answer to most statements heard in "polite" and "intelligent" company is an emphatic "NO!"

The above are the thoughts that course thru my mind day after day, and have done so for many years before I ever knew there was anything underground other than water pipes, the Holland Tunnel, and oil

THE GATHERING STORM!!

IS AMERICA DOOMED? Are YOU doomed to a horrible death too terrible for your mind to grasp, and which you dare not even contemplate?

"Summit meetings" will ALL fail! This last demoniacal struggle, fiercely seething backstage even now, will NOT be between Communism and Capitalism, has nothing to do with integration, etc. etc., but as all the top brass everywhere well know, is nothing but window dressing for the masses. You have never faintly imagined the utterly unbelievable brutal carnage of this coming world wide holocaust being planned backstage NOW while powerful propaganda mills keep your mind and attention diverted and THE TRUTH HIDDEN FROM VIEW. You, your sons and daughters; millions more; will have their eyes, their ears, their hair, their teeth, their arms, their legs, their hopes, their ambitions, their aspirations, their love, their life's blood, their everything; spattered and smeared and plastered all over the landscape, or burned to a cinder; and FOR WHO AND FOR WHY AND FOR WHAT? We fought one war to "make the world safe for democracy", WHAT WILL THIS TOTAL WAR BE FOUGHT TO "MAKE THE WORLD SAFE" FOR??

Within the pages of this 70,000-word U. S. Copyrighted book you will find ALL the answers, simple as ABC and as crystal clear as the noonday sun! Went into all the 48 states in just 14 days and into 20 foreign countries to circle the earth in just a few months.

Why did a prominent import-export man write: "I am in contact with thousands of people around the world. Quote me prices on lots of 1,000 to 25,000 copies. I'll get a copy to each if I have to give it away!"

Why did a man after reading it immediately order five copies sent to relatives and friends, then drive 200 miles to see the author?

Why did a party write and offer to come clear across the U. S. to see the author?

What impelled a man to come from a foreign country and arrive unannounced to see the author?

What impelled readers to reorder copies - one man 125, another 80, etc. etc.?

What impelled readers of the book to write scores of unsolicited letters such as these?

"It nearly knocked the wind out of me. It's packed with TNT!" - Quebec.

"Most books walk softly in Truths. Your book ROARS!" - Worcester, Mass.

"I believe it is true! Send me another book." - A pastor, Los Angeles, Calif.

"The most astounding book I have ever seen! Just can't put it down!" - Munhall, Pa.

"So packed with power I could only read a small portion at a time!" - A retired printer, Lansing, Mich.

"You certainly have an Atomic and Hydrogen bomb all tied up in one package!" - Lompoc, Calif.

"Our Creator's boundless blessings on you and yours!" - Washington, D. C.

Pages and pages more on request and 3¢ stamp.

You too will be SPELLBOUND and STAGGERED by what you learn! So far as we know, FROM NO OTHER PLACE ON EARTH can you get ALL the information contained in this one book. We guarantee it or your money back on request. YOU BE THE JUDGE! If you are to be blown to bits, or burned to a cinder, why not find out the truth of FOR WHO AND FOR WHY AND FOR WHAT?

Prices of our present limited stock have been CUT IN HALF to make way for the fifth printing. Simply say, "send book", and RUSH only $1.00, cash check or M. O., to:

wells. Where do they come from? Well, being an abnormal I now know. Yes, I know. And so do other thousands upon thousands. But what does that prove? Mass hysteria! Collective idiocy! A great threat to "normal" humanity! It proves there is a blight upon the face of the earth that can only be controlled by building more and more insane asylums. That is why, at one time, the "normals" were going to build a large sanitarium way up in Alaska. The better to isolate these abnormals from the "normal" population.

Regretfully I conclude this epistle with an account of what we abnormals term "ray murder". Of course this tragedy was the result of a man's deranged mind, and is to be considered as only an everyday occurrence; that is, to you "normals" who might, by some queer idiosyncracy, be reading this magazine devoted to those who suffer from persecution complexes and worse. For those abnormals who thrive on giving insane reasons to such occurrences, I set it down here that you might be amused:

Today, Saturday, April 15, a 22 year old man took his stand in the middle of a railroad crossing in Chandler, Arizona. He calmly puffed on his cigarette as a diesel approached him at 45 miles an hour. Why was he doing this? Reporters say he told his friends watching, "I'll show you I'm not "chicken".

He had done this once before, and lived. Tonight, as I write this, the man is fighting for his life in the Mesa Southside hospital. And down below, perhaps

LIVE FOREVER IN PERFECT HEALTH

We are living in an age of miracles. Scientific and technological knowledge has transformed our way of life. Many of the advances made in the last decade may be properly termed as impossible and fantastic, yet we know them to be facts.

For untold centuries, man has fallen before the grim reaper; he has walked in darkness while his soul cried for light. His daily life was beset with sickness, disease and pain. It terminated in death, and he passed on into the great unknown.

The wise men of all ages have searched for the secret of ETERNAL LIFE. A fountain of youth has been the dream of kings and paupers in all ages. Many lives have been offered up on an altar of ignorance as man searched in vain for the elixir of LIFE.

Philosophers and theologians, as well as great men of science, continue on trying to find the secret of immortality through many mediums. The search has not been in vain.

Now, after thirty years of scientific and biblical research, and traveling to many nations and parts of the world, Dr. Lindsey has discovered the secret of the ages. The cause of the ageing process, deteorioration, and death.

But far greater was the discovery of the processes of LIFE and IMMORTALITY as taught by Christ Jesus, the Master of LIFE and IMMORTALITY, and how a man may use this formula and NEVER DIE. YES, YOU CAN LIVE FOREVER IN PERFECT HEALTH IN YOUR PRESENT PHYSICAL BODY, RESTORED TO ITS VIGOROUS YOUTH.

The life of Dr. Lindsey has been devotedly spent ministering to the sick, afflicted and downtrodden in many nations. Thousands claim healing through his divinely annointed ministry, and the touch of his healing hands. He would like to send his latest book, THE SECRET OF PERFECT HEALTH AND IMMORTAL LIFE to everyone on earth free of charge, but we all realize this is impossible.

However, this marvelous book is made available to everyone at a minimum cost. Nothing like it has ever been offered to the public at any price. To those answering this ad, we will enclose a free book, THE MAN WHO TALKS WITH GOD.

HEALING STONES
by
DORIS M. HODGES

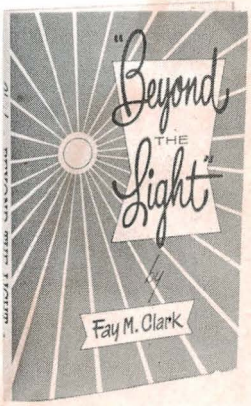

THE HEALING properties of gems and of even lesser stones have long been known in the Orient, but in the West such information as may have been spread by Dr. Bhattacharyya of the Oriental Institute of Baroda, India, has gone almost unnoticed.

In this book the writer has gathered from all available sources the information concerning the healing characteristics of stones and has given it to the reader in a most entertaining way. Her running account of the history of famous gems and the effect they had on their owners is most entertaining and will furnish the reader with fascinating conversational material to use in any company. The healing information is, of course, given most careful simplification and presentation. Now you can be sure whether or not you are wearing the right stone. Paper covers Price $1.00

by
FAY CLARK

FOR CENTURIES the Indians of the west and Mexico have worshipped the peyote cactus because the eating of its buttons or roots seems to draw aside the veil and allow the mind of man to touch a higher level of KNOWING.

Mr. Clark tested the effects of peyote and experienced an amazing expansion of consciousness. Directing this out-reaching with self-suggestion, he was able to look backward into the past incarnations of his friends and to see how the human being grows and progresses, or stumbles and loses ground. He looked for the ultimate truth in religions and saw the great and living truths separate themselves from the mass of dogmas and become so simple and self-apparent that he could describe them in history-making sentences. In no other book has the full range of sensations produced by peyote been so graphically portrayed. This book opens new windows of insight and experience. No sincere searcher can afford to overlook it.
