THREE ADVANTAGES OF MAGAZINE ADVERTISING

1. ITS PERMANENCY.

The life of a magazine advertisement is long. It remains effective for many months, often for years. A magazine is read, passed on, reread, goes to hospitals, to the army, navy, abroad, and is at last put on sale in the second-hand book stores, to begin a new life. No other form of advertising has this longevity.

2. ITS PUBLIC.

The magazine reading public is the live, up-to-date, busy, enterprising, inquisitive public. The magazine is the business man's and the housewife's literature. It is the recreation of the leisure hour, and the mirror of the world's events, when they have been sifted from the chaff of rumor and mistake. Magazines are cheap enough to reach all intelligent readers, good enough to command their attention. The magazine public is the material upon which to build permanent advertising results.

3. ITS COMPANY.

The great magazine advertisers are the prominent successes of the business world. To be associated with them in the public mind is to secure the very best publicity—to enter the aristocracy of advertising.

First Cooper Mine Still Pays Profit

Rio Tinto, the oldest copper mine in the world, once worked by the Romans, and before them by the Phoenicians, last year paid to its British owners the handsome sum of £2,145,830 or about $10,500,00. That represents an earning capacity of 95 per cent on the capitalization of the company.

Mexico will Purchase Benito Juarez Relics.

Mexico City, Mexico:—The treasurer general of Mexico has proposed to all government employes thru the secretaries of state, governors and chiefs of garrison to subscribe one day's pay each to aid in purchasing valuable relics of President Benito Juarez, Emperor Maximillian and Empress Charlotte. The collections are valued at 175,000 pesos or about $87,500.

They do Things in Mexico.

Mexico City, Mex.:—The Mexican Mercantile alliance, composed of prominent Mexican business men, began early in May their efforts to reduce the high cost of living in this capital. The alliance is bringing in trainloads of food and other necesities from the surround-country and selling these products at cost. The prices, it is said, will be maintained far below the prices quoted in the regular markets.

year. Having learned that the demand for corn, wheat and other staple foodstuffs would be heavy and prices correspondingly high, the Mexican hacienda owners have plowed up their cotton lands in this famous cotton growing district of Central Mexico and have planted food crops.

Mexico to Complete Big Legislative Hall.

Mexico City, Mex.—Plans are now under consideration for simplifying and cutting down the plans of the new legislative palace. Work on this great building, which is intended to house the Mexican congress and which, as projected, would have been the largest legislative building in the world, was begun under President Diaz. The steel framework of the building was completed, but no work has been done on the building since 1910. It is estimated that it would cost $32,000,000 to complete the building under the original plans, and it is proposed to simplify these plans and utilize the work already done to form part of a less pretentious structure.

New Aztec Ruins Found Beneath Mexican Streets

Mexico City, Mex.—Recent excavations in Mexico City in Reloj and Maria Teresa streets have uncovered fifty-five splendid examples of Aztec tile work.

These tiles form a portion of what once was a floor of the grand temple of Tenoxtitlan and portray the mythological wars and dances of the Aztec gods.

As the rainy season is approaching, during which the tiles might be damaged, they have been removed from the ruins to the department of inspecion of archeological monuments.

French-Speaking 'Stenos' are Wanted

Does your "steno" parle vous Francais?

If she does, grapple her to her desk with hoops of steel, for the government's arm is reaching after her and the siren voice of patriotic service at good pay is calling her to France.

The American Red Cross has sent forth the call for French-speaking stenographers to accompany American hospital units to France. Stenographers speaking French will not only be given preference over those equipped only with English is filling this branch of the administrative personnel but will be given the top salary. This is $60 a month in gold, in addition to board, room and transportation.

Market in U. S. is Sought for Products of Mexico.

El Paso, Tex.,—Mexican consuls and consular agents in the United States will co-operate with the govenors of Mexican states in finding and promoting markets for Mexican products in the United States. This is the plan of Andres Garcia, inspector general of Mexican consulates in the United States.

The plan is to have the Mexican representatives in the United States obtain from manufacturers and from government departments the needs of American industries and provide lists of them to the governors of the various states who will send copies of them to the producers of the products needed in the United States.

Mexico produces much rubber, fiber cotton, wool, food products and native woods.

Good Report Made by Greene-Cananea.

Bisbee, Ariz.,—In the past year the ore reserves of the Greene-Cananea, south of here, in Old Mexico, have increased 10,000,000 tons and there is now enough proven ore on the property to last many years. The grade averages between three and four per cent. and notwithstanding a 3-cent per pound bullion tax to the Mexican government, which amounted to $1,600,000 last year, the company has been able to earn two and one-half times its dividend of $8 per share. At $46 per share, the Anaconda company last year added 20,000 Greene-Cananea shares to its holdings.

Charles Mills of the Inspiration Copper company has been elected president. An important discovery of ore has been made on the 1,000-foot level on the Capote claim.

Farming Operations go on in Canal Zone.

Ancon, Canal Zone,—Farming operations are being carried on in the suitable sections of the zone, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Originally begun as a military move to prepare the isthmus for a siege, the operations have been stimulated by the scarcity of food and the call from all parts of the world for increased production.

The United States government is operating more than a dozen plantations for the growth of garden truck and fruits has 40,000 acres of land cleared for the pasture of cattle, has stocked Gatun lake with imported food fish in addition to the indigenous varieties, has begun a hog farm and has 12,000 chickens already on hand.

Stricken San Salvador Known as 'The City Magnificent'

Splendid Governmental and Educational Buildings Attracted Eyes of Tourists—Bulk of Residents Were Cultured and Refined.

San Salvador is the capital of the republic of Salvador, Central America. It is situated about twenty miles inland, east of the Pacific ocean and is on the eastern slope of the volcano San Salvador, whence the city took its name. This city has been destroyed more than once by volcanic eruptions similar to that reported today. The city, however, has been rebuilt repeatedly after each eruption and before the recent disaster was the seat of a bishop, contained a cathedral of unusually fine architectural beauty, an observatory and botanical garden.

The National University of Salvador long has been noted for its excellent curriclum and its faculty. The university contained departments of law, medicine and surgery, civil engineering and pharmacy. Other educational institutions were present in large numbers in San Salvador, all supported liberally by the government.

San Salvador is known in Central America as the "City Magnificent." Among its many wonderful buildings were the national palace. The capitol was one of the handsomest and most dignified public buildings in Latin America. It is reported in ruins now. During the centennial festivities it was beautifully illuminated, its whole facade being one mass of brilliant electric lights. It cost more than $1,000,000.

The cathedral, which is also believed to have been destroyed by the latest eruption of the neighboring volcano, was a fine speciment of Latin American ecclesiastical architecture.

The National theater, one of the many public buildings reported destroyed, was the home of opera in Latin America. Each year companies from Italy or France visited this structure, and the opera there always was patronized liberally.

A mammoth national armory was another building that attracted the eye of tourists in the ill-fated city.

The city had a population of 60,000 at the time of its destruction. Cultured and refined residents, well educated men and women, formed the bulk of its citizenry.

A railway ninety miles long connected the city with the port Acajutla on the Pacific coast. San Salvador enjoyed a vast trade in agricultural products, especially indigo. About ten miles southwest of San Salvador is the town of Nueva San Salvador, or San Tecla, with a population of about 20,000. This latter town is believed to have been in the district affected by the volcano disaster.

The republic of Salvador is bounded on the southeast by Honduras and on the northwest by Guatemala and on the west and southwest by the Pacific ocean.

Aztecs Smoked Pipes Assert the Scientists.

During the course of some special studies on the utilization of fire, conducted by Dr. Walter Hough, of the United States National Museum, his attention was drown to the collection of aboriginal incense burners in the meseum, and eventually he undertook a special study of this collection in a paper recently published by the museum.

The use of censers began in the prehistoric times, he says, which, at a certain stage, were employed to express feelings and reverence. So, when the fire smoke of the aboriginal wave fire rose from the earth and disappeared into the air, it apparently ascended to the heavens, carrying his prayer or protestation to the Supreme Being above.

Discoveries Made in Mexico

In the great temple compound of Mexico it is said that there were 600 masonry braziers, both of round and square design, arranged before shrines and other sacrificial places, were perpetual fires were maintained and offerings consumed. These were not incense burners in the strict sense, but the victims were sometimes scorched before the fires. These braziers were the source from which live coals were taken for igniting the incense burners and censers. They apparently represented the perpetuation of the primitive communal fire. The braziers were usually shaped like an hour glass. Nearly all represented the human body in some way.

Large pottery vases of hour-glass shape, which from another class of stationary braziers, have been discovered in large numbers in and about the City of Mexico, and at many other places. They are undoubtedly characteristic of the Central American censer brazier, and are remarkable examples of pottery, both as regards size and decoration. More artistic and detailed work is found in the class of pottery braziers, due, no doubt, to the fact that the makers were enabled to work easier in pottery than in hard stone.

Development of the Pipe.

The history of the development of pipes is fascinating and forms an important part in the history of censers. It is believed that the pipe antedates the use of tobacco, although the importance of smoke appears to have been chiefly if not wholly due to its supposed medical properties.

The offering of incense made by the Aztecs to the Spanish conquerors resembles in many respects the familiar peacepipe customs of the American Indians, and the piper themselves are similiar to those found everywhere between southern Mexico and Canada. The custom of smoking probably did not originate through the enjoyment of the taste of the smoke, but arose in connection with the development of the fire cult, in which it had a sacred signicance. At first offerings were made from a campfire or fire place. Then as progress was made in the arts, the braziers were used, and finally the natives came to use portable appliances, which gave use to a great variety of forms, including handled pots and censers. The European swinging censers are evidently a development of the stationary vase form, as is also the pipe.

Cigarettes of the Pueblo Region

Another form of incense offering fouud rather generally in the Pueblo region, especially in the southern portion, is tl.e cigarette, made from a section of cane tube filled with vegetable incense. The cigarette tube is packed with a mixture of herbs, which when burned produces a pleasing odor. The specimens collected, as a rule, appear not to have been lighted, but apparently were offered by implication. In some cases, however, they seem to have been ignited at the time of offering. This is the case in certain shrines located in the caves of the Clue River. Arizona, where large cane cigarettes have been collected.

Usually the cigarettes are girdled with strands of white and dyed cotton cord, and sometimes miniature blankets, beads, and feathers are attached, carryin out the original idea that the sacrifice was animate, and symbolically represented the human body. This girdle decoration is found on centers and braziers as well.

Many varieties of gum and herbs were used for incense, among which was tobacco. Dr. Hough says that tobacco was a sacred herb, and its smoke was unquestionably incense.

Tobacco Used as an Incense

The wild tobacco plant was incorporated in the mixture used as incense by the Hopi and some other American tribes, and it is stated that tobacco played precisely the same part among priests and medicine men of ancient Mexico as it has from the remotes times down to the present day among the various savage tribes of North and South America.

It was powdered and mixed with incense and formed into pellets, which were carried in a pouch by officiating priest. In other parts of the United States artemisia, the balsom root, cedar tops, sweet grass, and among the Siksika a sweet gum of some kind, were burned for incense.

Add Corn Meal to Flour and Cut High Bread Cost

Washington, March.—One solution for the high cost of food problem may be found in the department of agriculture's announcement today that after many experiments it was found excellent bread can be made of a mixture of one part cornmeal, which is comparatively cheap with three parts of wheat flour. Raw meal may be mixed with the flour, but a better method recommended is to cook the meal into a mush and use this as a yeast medium or "sponge," to which the flour is added last.

The Macmillan Publishing Company, 66 Fifth Avenue, New York City, is sending out a book on The Early History of Cuba, price $2.00, which gives some historical facts that would be of interest to the readers of Cuban history.

The D. C. Heath & Company, publishers of New York City, have published a 68 page book, compiled by Henry Erwin Bard, A. M., Ph. D., called Brief Outline of Study Suggestions with Bibliography, mostly of South American subjects, which is of considerable interest to the student of the Latin Countries, price 60 cents. It gives a list of books. where information may be found that the student may want that is quite valuable

The United States Government is in want of Typewriters and Stenographers, and have made arrangements for Examinations of parties for those offices in 400 of the principal cities of the country. Application may be filed with the Civic Service Commissioner of the principal cities of the country, salaries from $900 to $1,200 a year.

The United States Government year Book of the Department of Agriculture for the year of 1916, is just out, and we are in receipt of a copy, for which we are indebted to that department of the government. It certainly has a wide expanse of information not alone for the farmer, but for all that are interested in the products of the earth, almost in every line — and we compliment the officials in their workmanship, the book should be in the hands of every thinking farmer.

We are in receipt of a pamphlet on Mexico. A Review and a Forecast, issued by The Pan-American Union of Washington, D. C. Edited by Mr. John Barnett, which we highly commend to our readers. It gives a great insight into the grandeur and possibilities of that wonderful country, that so few know about, but that is laying right here at our door, and, which is going to be with us, a great factor in feeding the people of the earth, and supplying them with all kinds of metals, fruits, rubbers, and ten thousand other things. It should be read to be appreciated.

Buy a Bond

The government of the United States has two methods of raising money. One is by taxation. The other is by the sale of bonds, which is a method of borrowing money.

The government bond is the printed promise of the government to pay back the borrowed sum of money at a certain time, and to pay interest on it at regular intervals until it is repaid.

The government borrows money in this way only after it has been given the right to do so by act of congress approved by the president, and the terms of the loan are set out in the act.

Back of the promise of the government stands the honor of the government and all its taxing resources.

Really the whole wealth of thenation stands behind this solemn promise of the government to pay.

This makes a United States government bond the safest investment in the world. If the bond of the United States government is not safe, no property in in the United States is safe. If the United States can not pay its bonds, it is hardly probable that it will be able to protect tne citizens in their other rights.

It is not necessary to pay cash in full for a bond. One can pay down 2 per cent. of the purchase price on application—that is, $1 for a $50 bond, $2 for a $100 bond, etc.—18 per cent. on July 25, 1917; 20 per cent. July 30, 1917; 30 per cent. August 15, 1917; and the balance, 30 per cent. August 30, 1917.

The Pan-American Union, of Washington, D. C., Mr. John Barrett as Director General, and Senor Francisco J. Yaues, Assistant Director, have issued a beautifully printed card board, in the form of a Calendar, showing the Pan American Commerce between the United States, and Latin America, for the year 1916, which is very commendable. American Textiles in Porto Rico and Jamaica

A report on the textile trade of Porto Rico and Jamaica was made public today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Department of Commerce.

It points out the fact that the United States practically controls the textile trade of Porto Rico and will continue to do so when the war is over unless the business is badly managed in the meantime. In Jamaica the United States is second to England in the textile trade, and the report states that there are opportunities for improved business there.

The report contains chapters on the character and extent of the trade in cotton fabrics, woolen fabrics, woolen fabrics, knit goods, and ready-made clothing, and on trade methods and the future of the trade. It is the work of Special Agent W. A. Tucker, who is to cover the whole of the West Indies and Latin America. There are 31 pages in the pamphlet, which is entitled, "Textiles in Porto Rico and Jamaica," Special Agents Series No. 137. Copies may be purchased for 5 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, or any district office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

"Must Speak Sanish".

'Es Menester Hablar Español'.

Este y muchos otros avisos he visto aun en los periódicos de Denver. Si en Denver publican estos anuncios que será en los periódicos del Este o de la costo del Pacífico donde están más próximos a los países que tanto anelan personas con conocimientos técnicos y que haben español, siempre la misma cosa MUST SPEAK SPANISH. Es menester que sepan hablar español.

Que de promesas y oportunidades se reunen en esa frase tan lacónica, must speak Spanish. El estilo Americano lo más corto posible aun para una exigenia, como si el hablar español se comprara en la tienda de la esquina.

Oportunidades, sí, ¿pero para quien? ¿Qué acaso para los jóvenes que han tenido la dicha de nacer y crearse en donde se habla tan bella y dulce idioma, acaso para el que escucho por primera vez tales frases como: Lindo, precioso, hijo mío. Mi cielo, mi encanto, mi tesoro. Miles de frases cariñosos que solo los labio de una madre Latina puede pronunciar con un, no se qué, de divina dulzura. Desgraciadamente no es para éstos la oferta a que se refieren los periódicos y anuncios que tanto exigen "must speak Spanish".

Estas oportunidades son para el que se apura para aprender, para mejorar, para avanzar en este mundo. Para aquellos que no están satisfechos con Solo vivir con lo zue esté más a la mano.

La felicidad de haberse creado en pecho Latino es más que dicha, es más que felicidad. Quiere decir oportunidades insuperables, inmejorables. Quiere decir que estos tiene las ventajas de poseer algo que no se puede adquirir en un día ni en dos. Posee precisamente lo que otros tienen que adquirir artificialmente. Lo que les costará mucho trabajo, muchos estudios y mucho dinero.

Hay una compañía en esta misma ciudad que día tras día anuncia empleos para los países Latino Americano y nunca ha llegado a satisfacer las necesidades de sus parroquianos que con tanta exigencia piden hombres para tal o cual empleo siempre con la misma cláusula 'must speak Spanish'. La Interstate Co. de esta ciudad ofrece $250.00, $300.00 y Easta $500.00 para los que quieran ir a países Latinos, pero 'es menester saber hablar español'.

Para cada diez hombres que se la piden a esta Compañía suple uno, cuando mucho dos. ¿Quienes son los que van a estos empleos tan lecrativos? ¿Acaso los jóvenes Latino Americanos? No, no son los chiquillos que mamantearon con las hermosas palabras españolas sonando en sus oídos. Estos están satisfechos con que sus primos sajones sea los que aprovechen las inmensas oportunidades que les esperan aun en este mismo país. Digo en este saís porque en Arizona se emplean Mexicanos en casi todos los trabajos de construcción, minas y ferrocarriles. Para mandar a estos trabajadores se necesitan hombres técnicos que sepan hablar español, siempre la misma cosa, la misma exigencia 'must speak Spanish' es menester sepan hablar español.

Entre ocho personas o quien conozco quienes han sido enviados a desempeñar empleos de esta naturaleza, solo tres Latino Americanos han sido los aprovechados. Los demás han sido sajones y hasta un alemán, un jóven Pablo Snyder quien aprendió español aquí mismo. Sin saber hablar una palabra en español se puso a estudiar y un año después de ponerse a estudiar consiguió el empleo que un Latino Americano debía desempeñar debido a que éste tiene todas las ventajas sobre aquél, menos la de la ambición.

¿Deseas mejorar? Estudia, aprende y creceras.

April 24, 1917.

Lessons by Frank D. Hines, Magus
Stenographic Report of Initiate Lesson No. 23.

There are three stages of development, and most of us are in the first stage, which applies to every force and every phase of development that is included in divine healing, and is occultism in so far as it refers to your own or other's benefit. Most of us are developed only in the stage where we work for others - for their health,for their success, for their good, for their betterment in every way; and for ourselves, for our own health, enrichment, or betterment in our environmentals, and the effort to become more perfect.

The second is that of phenomena, or getting into the land of phenomena. This includes the visitation of spirits and all invocative work. For everything that is done in occultism we invoke the Hierarchies, Elements, and Elementals, which is necessary in order to accomplish results in this line of work.

The third stage is true Mysticism, and this is where we get out of the land of environment and let the soul of us sink back into the mystic silence which is knowing nothing of our surroundings and is a state of transcendental ecstacy. After we have dropped all desire to attain anything, all desire to have anything, all desire for environment, all desire for friends and associates - all desire for anything except that which is communion with God, then we have reached transcendental ecstacy, which is true Mysticism. This is the third and last degree, and when you reach this yon are in danger of being carried out of your body, or translated. There is such a thing as going out of the body without death - this has been done, and if we are not careful to keep hold of ourselves and keep within bound of the material, we will lose ourselves. We should not allow ourselves to go so far that we are not actually living and are in a state of being where we are no use to mankind whatever. We must pull ourselves back again and get into communication with personalities on earth, for it is best that man should associate with his krnd - man should not live alone, and we must be good citizens while on this earth.

After you have reached this third stage of development you will lose all strong attachments to the interests of earth life - you will not see life as you used to see it, and you will not enjoy the pleasures of life as you used to - you will lose yourself and you will simply see form as manifesting soul, and the beauty of holiness through the form. We do not advise your getting to this stage. There is such a thing as getting so far that you are perfect master over your appetites, and we would advise your not going beyond this phase. Do not get out of your own sphere of activity. You should retain enough of your appetite to enjoy good food and enjoy visiting with each other - be able to partake of the pleasures of this earth, but remain above its temptations. We should pull ourselves back if we get too far beyond this point, and it is hard to keep yourself back after you have reached the abnormal - you lose your ability to be a good companionable associate. This is not freakishness - it is simply being carried off, wanting to get back into your higher self; this is getting into the transcendental or third state - true Mysticism.

Every one of us is more or less gifted with that which is the power of alchemical demonstration - and alchemy is that which is the power to transmute all that is poison, all that is ill, all that is against you, into that which is palatable, into that which is good, into that which is medicinal. Also to change conditions around yon into good, to change darkness into light, dross into pure gold. This is Divine Alchemy. Those who have reached the plane of expression that most of us have who are here are already to a degree alchemists. Alchemy means to seize upon the Power of Love, and through this Power to translate, transmute, change, dross into gold - which means to change those conditions which are against you - that is against your health, or those chemical conditions in your body which are destroying your body - change those conditions and sweeten and strengthen you and bring out more beauty.

When you use Divine Love in an Alchemical Process you become in a degree an alchemist. "The work of alchemy is one of purgation, education, and what we call exaltation. We have to purge out the impurities, unfold the virtues, and raise the elements - and what we cannot purge we must transmute. Your virtues are contrary to your vices, and so your vices must be turned into virtues. Thus the work in the main--that is to say, after the preliminary cleansing- is wholly one of unfoldment from within". Strictly speaking, then, from within we operate and do all things. The first great thing is to recognixe the within and to place all that is without as mind. Recognize the within as the Absolute - then everything, yourself included, as mind - and then operate as the Absolute, as a part thereof, as a continuance thereof, in mind, through the imagination and control your environments. The unfoldment within brings you to that recognition of the Absolute which works in its emanation. We are one with this universe, the material universe, Mind - but as soul and spirit we are the Absolute in actualized volition - consequently, we are as idealized, as transcendental beings, working in mind. You do not sit down and try to force things out of you. You must sit yourself off in a chair and you must teach and instruct yourself that you are the Absolute talking to that self over there. You are working in the mind of you - you are not mind working; you are simply recognizing mind as that in which you operate. You are spirit - not a spirit - you are soul and soul is spirit, and then the Divine Spirit in soul is the Entire Power. You sit yourself over there and treat yourself just as you treat another person, and you cannot do it unless you recognize yourself as a factor and impression of the Absolute. Recognize yourself as a part of the emanation of God. Do not accept God as Mind, but as the Absolute, You are in soul and spirit operative as the Absolute - your soul is the Absolute in manifestation. You treat yourself as soul treating body - but do not think your mind is talking to the body - the mind is in the body sitting over there in the chair. You must be Spirit operating in mind and leave the mind in the body. The trouble is that we get the idea that we are mind. The body is mind and you are mind in so far as the body itself is concerned - but the Absolute is not Mind - it is All Power, All Wisdom, All Intelligence, All Light, All Life, actualized, the fact. It expresses the spirit - and spirit talks to body, to mind. You are mind sitting there. What kind of mind? If you spiritualize it the mind you have is illumined mind and it will do just what you tell it to do. You are spirit, and spirit in the actual, in the Absolute, and as spirit you are an immortal soul - and you will have all power, all intelligence, all wisdom, all light, all life, all might, as spirit operating in mind, as form. Idealize yourself sitting over there as mind and you as spirit must talk to yourself as mind. You are mind over there in form, and spirit is talking to mind. Learn to separate the mind the spirit.

Digitized by Google

You are not God, but you are the Absolute in so far as you are able to present yourself to yourself as the Absolute and able to understand and apprehend the Absolute, and thus far can you appropriate the Absolute within yourself. You can not will disease out of you - this is only a sort of self - hypnotism - and you cannot overcome disease in yourself until you can treat yourself. You must purge out, raise up, resurrect into a higher phase of expression - then you "turn on the light." I do not operate as I think with this mentality, because it does not amount to anything, it simply decides how I attitude myself, and I will think and believe only as the Absolute decrees, and I will be ruled and possessed by the Absolute, and "I am that I am" is the part of the Absolute that manifests for me, that really shall exalt me.

You purge out your impurities first, then you educt or unfold the virtues, and raise the elements. You simply intelligence the Four Elements as you will have them be toward you. You invoke them to come and serve you, and then you dismiss them.

"In its great finale, the union of the individual with the Universal Spirit is the object. It ts the individual who must seek the Universal; the soul must seek God - the steel filing the powerful magnet." You are the steel filing and your soul seeks the God -soul. You seek the union back with the Universal Spirit. "It is the Spark Divine, the Vital Spark of Heavenly Flame which must return into the Ocean of Life. It is not laceration of the flesh and war with environment; it is not renunciation - but it is by the perfecting and beautifying of the flesh; it is by adjustment with higher environment, and by civilizing that which is savage in our surroundings." If you can understand this you can understand why we are seeking, through the inner, that which is illumination. We term it illumination because the Light is that which everyone must have. Light such as was never seen on land or sea is man illumined, and when man is illumined he is the most beautiful of beings, and in so far as the material universe is concerned, he is lord and master. He is also a creator, because recognizing the material emanation as the workshop of that which is the Absolute we can, certainly, take mind, seize upon it, and through the Great Magical Agent, the translucid, the imagination, mold and shape everything around about us to meet our own ideals. If a place does not look to you as it should you can idealize and picture out how you would like to have it appear. After you have done so then you can take your genius and use your hands and eyes and feet and every part of your personality and furnish up this environment to suit yourself.

But the ideal must come from within. If you had no ideal there would not be anything to find fault with. If you cannot have things as you would like to have them you must go to work and imagine that you desire (and there is no picture you cannot instantly bring into your mind's eye) and then you are working with the Cosmic imagination, which is the Astral Light, and then you have that which is the Great Magic Agent operative as the imagination on an enlarged scale, so that you in mind operate thruout your own environment or your own universe. So you are a creator and translator of all you intend to have done.

But, there is one thing yet - and that is to always be absolutely good in order to reveal and build absolute good. You cannot build good with a faulty ideal, or with ill in yourself. You cannot extend through the Magic Agent anything different from that which you are within your own selfhood. The Magic Agent is the Astral Light; it is the translucid; it is the diaphane - it is that which sees and holds, idealizes and forms, and consequenily you must be careful when you become Initiates not to permit yourselves to fall below the mark, because if you do you are going to get the benefit of your own ills. You manufacture a lot of conditions that are sure to come back with double action upon yourselves.

The absolute "I" - the power that will operate in mind, and then create and construct, is your will to be. Do not think you are mind operating, because you are Spirit operating all the time after you become a real Mystic. You are the Absolute in so far as you are able to express Absoluteism. If you do not recognize the Absolute as Power, as the Only Power, as Life and the Only Life, as Light and the Only Light, you will fall short and you will be caught in your web, and the web will be your own mind. Separate Spirit and mind and then you will be able to illuminate that mind, and do not let yourself be caught by your own strange delusions.

Remember, you are a generator of light as well as a receiver of light. When you generate light you receive more. You can be light or you can be shadow.

When you are in your silence, in your meditations, remember to commune a little more with Nature. The city is the great curse of modern civilization and many of us are not in a position to be able to commune with Nature, as the great poets and mystics always have - but if we cannot commune directly with Nature we can portray Nature. For the perfectionizing of your soulual nature and the beautifying of your tabernacle, I would like to have you, in your meditation, always take Nature as she is, disrobed of all false garments - but, at the same time, permit a cloud or two to float through your atmosphere, for clouds are just as necessary in life as sunshine. Picture to yourself little brooks; see green pastures, fences, houses; see cattle in the fields; see the grass, tiny springs, mountains and big ravines. See the mountains barren or covered with vegetation - see them white with snow, or radiant with beautiful flowers. You can see anything you choose with your imagination, and there is nothing that will cultivate your spirit of vision as seeing things this way, and there is nothing better for strengthening the memory or changing the featuaes like these exercises. You can travel and see the finest scenery in the world; you can travel and see the finest scenery in the world; you can take a journey any time you please. This is becoming the translucid, becoming the Magic Agent operative, and consciousness translated, which permits you to take in a universe. This development means more than phenomena; it means expanding out and taking in what you want, sometimes taking in what you cannot afford to buy with gold. You can enjoy California in this room as well as by going out there if you can only learn that within you is the whole thing. This is alchemy operative, because you get your imagination rightly cultured and you go there in spirit, and make the mind be what the spirit reveals you are. You may think you have no privileges, that you are shut in for lack of money, but you are divine riches, for anything God has is yours if you can rigetly appropriate it, and all riches are not money, It is no dream that you can go to any place on earth you please and dwell there as long as you please. There is no part of God's earth you can lock away from me. We can become that which is the inner and we can go among persons and partake of their goodness and sweetness instead of their sourness and ugliness on the outside, for everything is power within, everything is holy within - and to him who is pure all things are pure. There is nothing impossible because you go within, and you can get the pure, which is within, and you see persons from within instead of from without. You will always see God within the man, then, and when you see God there is no danger of your seeing the other. You are looking with the eyes of the pure and to you all is pure - all is beautiful.

When you want to build your mansion, when you want to travel, or get away from your surroundings, do it in meditation and you will see visions when you begin to build them, and you cannot see them until you build in imagination. Anything you value in any way, or attracted to, you can become instantly at one with and become the owner of it and no man can steal it away from you. This is what we call the riches of the mine within ourselves. Do not look upon anybody's work as if he owned it, but take the attitude that "all that the Father has is mine" - not meaning that you must possess it or take it away from those who own it, but it does mean that you can take it in, enjoy it, claim the benefits of it. This is the way you get what you want. If you are not satisfied you must be a creator of that which is idealized of what you do want. It will come, for the soul is the Absolute operative, and the Absolute cannot be defeated - but you must do a little idealizing, building, in your soulual way. God in man is the Ideal Perfection in Being. "The Magi", wise men are coming to save the Soul of Civilization.
