SPECTRO-CHROME

APRIL 1923

LEMON 1923

VOLUME 2

NUMBER 4

Devoted to: Spectro-Chrome Therapy Dedicated to: Service of Humanity

CONTENTS Page

Dinshah's Platform—Spectro-Chrome Therapeutic Area Chart—Spectro-Chrome Therapeutic System 242
Intermediate Equipment—New York Office—Information about Remittances—Business Routine during Tour—To Raise Postal Rates—Pulling Teeth by Incorrect Diagnosis—Pharmacist as Human Servant—The Institution of Marriage; What a Woman Thinks and What I Think—Poison Gas for Paresis and Tuberculosis; Use Spectro-Chrome—United States Supreme Court Upholds Principles Underlying Spectro-Chrome Therapy and Spectro-Chrome Therapists; Study the Reasons Why—Advice to the Mother of an Epileptic—Grapes Are Sour—Opening of the Boston, Massachusetts, Class—Crazy Doctors of Medicine—Intoxicating Liquors and Life—How Do You Get That—An Unsolicited Endorsement—Porter Came to Porter's Port 243-256
Harry and His Appendix; a Rhode Island Tale (by Kashmira Dinshah, S.C.T.) 256
Dr. Kate W. Baldwin Unfurls the Spectro-Chrome Banner in Washington, D. C. (Reported by Miss Grace E. Griswold, S.C.T.) 258
Violent Mental Cases, High Blood Pressure, Burns, Blood Poisoning Relieved by Spectro-Chrome Therapy (by Dr. James C. Daniels, S.C.T.. 260
Ivy Poisoning, Nasal Catarrhs, Heart and Bladder Dis-Eases Relieved by Spectro-Chrome Therapy (by Gertrude Burgess, D.O., S.C.T.) 261
Papilloma of Bladder, Hemorrhage, Mastoiditis Relieved (by Martha J. Peebles, M.D., S.C.T.) 261
Light of Life (by Mrs. Mary P. Hynson) 262
What America Needs (by Irene Grace Dinshah, S.C.T.) 262
Violet Flower State Welcomes Spectro-Chrome Therapy 264
Price List ..... Inside Back Cover
Registration Notice of Trade-Marks—Notice to Purchasers and Patients—To Our Contributors—Advertisement Rates ..... Outside Back Cover

Editor

Dinshah P. Ghadial

In course of life you reach a time,
When Doctor, Lawyer, Priest alike,
Does fail to give the sought relief,
To troubled mind or burdened heart—
Then come to me;
I help you to help yourself.

SPECTRO-CHROME.

Copyright, 1923
By Spectro-Chrome Institute
U. S. America

NEW NEW YORK OFFICE

On May 1, 1923 the New York Office will vacate 171 Madison Avenue and move to the Metropolitan Building, Number One Madison Avenue, Room 201A. The present telephone connection will be discontinued until the 10th of May 1923. Thereafter, the same number Ashland 6232 will be resumed.

Business will go on as usual undisturbed during the period of change; however, your indulgence is requested.

INFORMATION ABOUT REMITTANCES

So many people have recently acquired the inconvenient habit of changing their mind a few days after placing their orders, so many others have gotten into the astonishing habit of sending or handing personal checks with funds insufficient to meet at their banks and so many more have become absent-minded (perhaps through change of weather) as to what they want or what they wish me to do, that I repeat here what I said often before so clearly.

Personal checks are certainly accepted by the Spectro-Chrome Institute from responsible persons, but, the orders do not go out until the checks are cashed and payment received through the banks. This is one reason of apparent delay in the execution of orders of certain persons, for which delay I am blamed constantly.

Out of town personal checks had therefore better be sent certified or still easier send Postal or Express Money Orders or Bank Cashiers' drafts.

I very much regret the obvious inconvenience to my esteemed and beloved "friends," but I shall thank them cordially to let me know what I should do otherwise when my safe carries in a special drawer under double lock and key several thousand dollars of utterly worthless (un)negotiable paper. Bless your kind heart, please find someone else to practise your arts; why pick on me? I am doing my best to serve you.

I learnt my bitter lessons long ago and mean to profit thereby; yet I am open to learn more always, but not thus through you.

Do not place your orders unless you desire shipment; do not send checks unless they are currency.

It means you; if the cap fits wear it; I mean business. Time is too valuable and one life is too short to complicate by bookkeeping of bad debts; I have yet more to accomplish—very much more than I already did—help me do it, please.

BUSINESS ROUTINE DURING TOUR

Please Read Carefully

The same business routine as was outlined in the February 1923 issue will be followed.

Bulbs, charts and similar supplies may be had for cash at the Central Office or the New York Office.

The situation for slides is the same as before. Slides must go by mail to 2401 N. Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa., duly packed and insured.

No slides will be given out "at the counter."

Kindly remember; Spectro-Chrome Institute does not maintain a credit department; all orders and transactions are Net Cash with order, F. O. B. New York, N. Y. or Philadelphia, Pa. from wherever they are shipped. Our responsibility ceases with shipment.

No C. O. D. orders, please.

Spectro-Chrome Institute in its business transactions has no exceptions and acts on a single policy with all.

Will you my friend, help me in bearing my standard of Spectro-Chrome Therapy by curtailing useless correspondence? I did not yet succeed in producing a 25th hour in the day. Letters outside of my business routine are not desired and will not be answered. No weather reports or racing bets or scandal talks or how the hat shoe or coat of some one fits have place in the busy life of the staff of Spectro-Chrome Institute. As the scope of our work increases, our responsibility increases and we shall be obliged if friends will help us by sending reports of their Spectro-Chrome work, in place of grumbles—create first your right to grumble by sharing some of our arduous toils.

TO RAISE POSTAL RATES

A dispatch from Washington, D. C. states:—"The Postoffice Department is about to launch a count of mail to determine the average cost of handling it, with a view to a readjustment, either of postal rates or contracts with transportation companies. The count, which will begin in selected cities September 21 and end October 20, will embrace the four classes of mail.

It is estimated that the cost of the postal service is about $500,000,000 annually, and revenue from the sale of stamps comes within $65,000,000 of that amount. Officials say that eventually the postal service will pay for itself. There is a possibility that Congress may see fit to raise postal rates."

There is nothing in our Postal System to brag much about. Throughout my travels, I came in touch with different methods of Postal Government, but, have no reason to believe our system here any way equal in efficiency to the British Post Offices. Our complicated zone systems and the odd postal privileges granted without common sense are nothing short of nuisance to the public. There is no efficiency and accuracy in the Postal Service of the United States and most of the time, special delivery letters reach hours behind regular service, registered letters are delivered to strangers without authority, restrictions are imposed without regard to public convenience and in every manner inefficiency and insolence is meted to its owners (the public). The whole system needs, in my opinion, a thorough overhauling by a strict non-partisan business man. As it is, I do not care to call its operations anything approaching the British Postal Service for public good.

PULLING TEETH BY INCORRECT DIAGNOSIS

Dr. Kurt H. Thoma, a Boston dentist, speaking before the American Laryngological Society in convention at Atlantic City, N. J. said that incorrect diagnosis was responsible for the merciless extraction of a number of teeth which otherwise could have been saved. But what can those tooth-pulling dentists do? They know nothing else to strengthen the teeth or prevent the rot in the gums. Spectro-Chrome Attuned Color Waves judiciously used and carnivorous food debarred would produce the desired beneficial results without much expense, preserving the beauty of the mouth along with its effective mechanical power.

PHARMACIST AS HUMAN SERVANT

In a recent writing in a Providence, Rhode Island newspaper, the pharmacist is said to have summed himself in a few words, "If we can be of service to humanity, we will feel amply repaid." I am glad to read the pharmacists are so anxious to serve humanity and am doubly pleased to lay down the route. Abolish alcohol from your Tinctures and Extracts, stop dealing in Opium, its derivatives and other dopes, avoid the conversion of your business into liquor saloons, cut out from your counters the half million "patent remedies" (poisons) and go exclusively in the sale of candy and ice creams and you will be blessed in heaven by the humanity you thus serve and save. There is no other way brothers.

THE INSTITUTION OF MARRIAGE—WHAT A WOMAN THINKS AND WHAT I THINK

Writing in the New York Evening World Mrs. Helen Carter of 63 St. Mark's Place comments in a way unusually frank for an American woman. I have pleasure in presenting her views to my readers, because there is surely some screw loose in the married life of United Staters. She says:

"Contrary to the established opinion that marriage as it exists to-day is a useful social institution, we find it to be a snare and a menace and mainly for the reason that men are too chivalrous, and considering that their wives belong to the weaker sex allow themselves to be exploited by them. The result of such point of view is that marriage is almost always unhappy, as evidenced by the enormous number of divorces and tragedies that are worse than divorces. Why are divorces so much on the increase? Why is it that our grandfathers and grandmothers were not suffering from that social evil to the extent that we do? Because in grandfather's time man was the head of the family and the vow to love and obey was carried out literally. As Milton said: "Man looked to God, but woman found her God in man.

Undeniably there were certain evils of a reverse kind then. Women were too suppressed, as they still are in the Orient, but those were individual cases. At any rate, no such widespread epidemics of separation and divorce took place. Then the pendulum swung the other way and woman is now dictator in the family. Woman now has not only equality but a great many special privileges and still demands more. But she forgets that she is naturally unfit for the tasks of the opposite sex and for many a reason. And men, unfortunately, do not take it very seriously, and out of a sense of false chivalry and good nature allow their wives to assume superiority and they themselves become subordinate.

Do they forget, these husbands, that nature cannot be conquered? That no matter how far civilization has carried the human race, the nature of both man and woman can never be changed to such an extent as to be reversed? Woman was created to be man's helpmate, not his equal and certainly not his superior, and no amount of agitation and social advance can change it.

Nor does the economic situation make any difference. The extravagance of the rich wife, the giving in to her endless whims and fancies will often ruin a rich man. The same is true of the poor man. The latter cannot give her all the good things she craves, so the least he can do, according to his ideas, is to sacrifice his individuality, to submerge himself and become her slave. How often do we see this type of a husband after a hard day's work come home to run errands for his wife to the grocery store, wash dishes and take care of the baby!

All this not being in accordance with the course of nature, something must give way, and does; and that is the happiness of the home. Either there is a sudden revolt on the part of the husband, which means going to extremes, or the weak feminine nature not finding anything to hold her back, becomes entirely perverted and seeks new thrills, and experiences which finally lead to the divorce court. Those conditions did not obtain a few generations ago for the reasons I have mentioned, nor do they obtain in families of the manly man, the so-called brute. The curious phenomenon about the brute husband is that his wife feels quite happy, a good deal happier than her pampered sister, the wife of the obedient husband, and it is a known fact that woman will love a strong man.

And this, as it seems to me, is the true solution of the problem—let the husbands become the true heads of the families, the senior partners, so to say, or in other words obey what nature ordained. Marriage will then enrich one's life, and a divorce and an unhappy family will become a rarity."

After studying the subject from various angles, my firm conviction is that the hustling life of the business man of the United States makes him a very inferior lover. With all her boasting of man being nothing to her, even the busiest business woman cannot avoid craving what makes her the "woman"; the absence in American love-making of those subtle etherial thrills that accompany true mating on all the levels of physical, psychical and mental aspirations conduces to much mismating and when such abnormality is mixed with the absurd 48 marriage and divorce laws of the country, the incongruity is heightened to the polarity of ridicule of God's highest aims in life. The clergy have filled the mind of the credulous that "marriages are made in heaven" and that is another reason why they generally end elsewhere. Marriage is the noblest function of animal life; its responsibilities are far-reaching and its actual functions extremely important, but, its ties must not be so tight as to compel two mismated unfortunates to sleep in the same room in the same bed and procreate children for the nation without having the bubbling influences of potent love. Where love disappears, marriage becomes worthless, useless, eventually positively pernicious and a menace to society. As it exists, it is in many cases nothing short of vicious adultery licensed and sanctioned by law. The marriage and divorce laws must be unified and unicoded and divorce must be granted without compulsive perjury as long as the fruits of the marriage (the children) are taken care of in such a way by the parents as not to encumber the State. The easier the Divorce the more difficult will become the Marriage—think over the true psychology of human nature.

POISON GAS FOR PARESIS AND TUBERCULOSIS; USE SPECTRO-CHROME

At every step of new scientific research and investigation the so-called specific and potent remedies brought to light by the drug therapists, strengthen the mathematical accuracy and corroborate the preciseness of the action of Spectro-Chrome Therapy. Says the Evening World of New York:—"The possibility of curing tuberculosis, influenza, paresis and other diseases by the use of poison gases is believed by Army experts to be entirely possible, following tests now being carried on at Edgewood Arsenal, near Baltimore.

It is asserted that through experiments with chlorine gas, the chemists have established that epidemics of grip and colds may be checked almost instantly by the introduction of weak concentrations of the gas into the rooms occupied by those exposed.

That mustard gas is a specific for tuberculosis apparently seems to be demonstrated by the experiments conducted under the direction of Lieut. Col. Edward B. Vedder of the Army Medical Corps. Guinea pigs, inoculated with tuberculosis germs and a concentration of mustard gas were apparently rendered immune by the gas and failed to contract the disease. An equal number of guinea pigs, inoculated with tuberculosis germs and not subjected to the mustard gas treatment, contracted the disease.

As a result of experiments with the burning gas known as lewisite, the chemists have evolved what appears to be a remedy, if not a cure, for paresis and locomotor ataxia. Lewisite is composed of arsenic and acetylene gas.

Dr. A. S. Loevenhart of the University of Wisconsin has been studying the effects of lewisite upon the human system in conjunction with the chemists at Edgewood Arsenal. He has the records of forty-two persons committed to insane hospitals with paresis, which have come under this treatment. Of that number twenty-one have been cured and have left the hospital.

A professor of the University of Arkansas, during a mild epidemic of influenza, subjected 300 students to a mild concentration of chlorine for five minutes each day, with the result that the epidemic was reduced among that group 90 per cent.

According to Army officers, there is almost no limit to the practical application of the use of the so-called poison gases in combatting disease."

They are certainly on the right path though groping in the dark and they will finally land into Spectro-Chrome Therapy when their ancient cobweb-covered medical ideas are revised and rejected. What they are "searching" today, the Originator of Spectro-Chrome Therapy has been teaching a number of years as a glance at page 242 will indicate. The Green Wave (of Chlorine) has the Disinfectant, Purificatory, Antiseptic and Germicide effect and the Orange Wave effect of Arsenic and Acetylene is a Respiratory Stimulant, Thyroid Energizer and Lung Builder. Reports of the highly beneficial effects of the Green and Orange Attuned Color Waves are common to Spectro-Chrome Therapy and dis-eases that puzzle the medical men do not in the least puzzle the knowing Spectro-Chrome Therapist. A course on Spectro-Chrome Therapy would be the best post-graduate training a highly competent medical man even may receive without lowering his dignity. It will be his best eye-opener.

ANOTHER MEDICAL BUBBLE BURST

For years Doctors of Medicine have been prescribing the filthy oil of cod liver for the amelioration of lung troubles. Now Dr. Michel Mouriquand of Lyons, France sounds a warning against its use! He says in part, "Long experiments involving the use of cod liver oil in guinea pigs and rabbits show that while cleansing the blood and preventing, even curing, scorbutic diseases, there is also the danger of promoting bone maladies for which there is no cure. Better, the doctor says, rely upon castor oil, which though unpleasant is much surer in results, whereas even non-Fascisti in Italy are not known to have succumbed to the maximum doses administered as punishments by Mussolini's disciples."

Better be punished with the pure vegetable castor oil and be purged of intestinal mud than to be dosed with the foul products of the liver of a fish. How do the doctors expect to purify the blood in the entire body by deluging the stomach with the stinking oil of a fish? When will these fool ideas stop and when will humanity turn to sane views of life?

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS PRINCIPLES UNDERLYING SPECTRO-CHROME THERAPY AND SPECTRO-CHROME THERAPISTS. STUDY THE REASONS WHY.

A report from Washington, D. C. states as follows:—"The paramount right of the individual was the basis for a decision by the Supreme Court nullifying at one sweep State laws of Nebraska, Iowa and Ohio, which made it illegal to teach any language but English in private, denominational, parochial or public schools. The laws were aimed at instruction in the German language.

Two Justices dissented, Holmes and Sutherland. The former, in a brief statement, justified an experiment in accordance with the restrictive laws as necessary to an assimilation of foreigners, who, living in large groups, would have limited opportunity to become familiar with the prevailing tongue of this country.

A Nebraska case was chosen by the court for its principal opinion, which was read by Justice McReynolds. In another opinion Justice McReynolds reviewed the cases coming from Ohio and Iowa.

The problem involved was stated as being whether the State law unreasonably infringed upon the Fourteenth Amendment, that no State "shall deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

"Without doubt," the Justice continued, "it denotes not merely freedom from bodily restraint, but also the right of the individual to contract, to engage in any one of the common occupations of life, to acquire useful knowledge, to marry, establish a home and bring up children, to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and generally to enjoy those privileges long recognized at common law as essential to the orderly pursuit of happiness by free men."

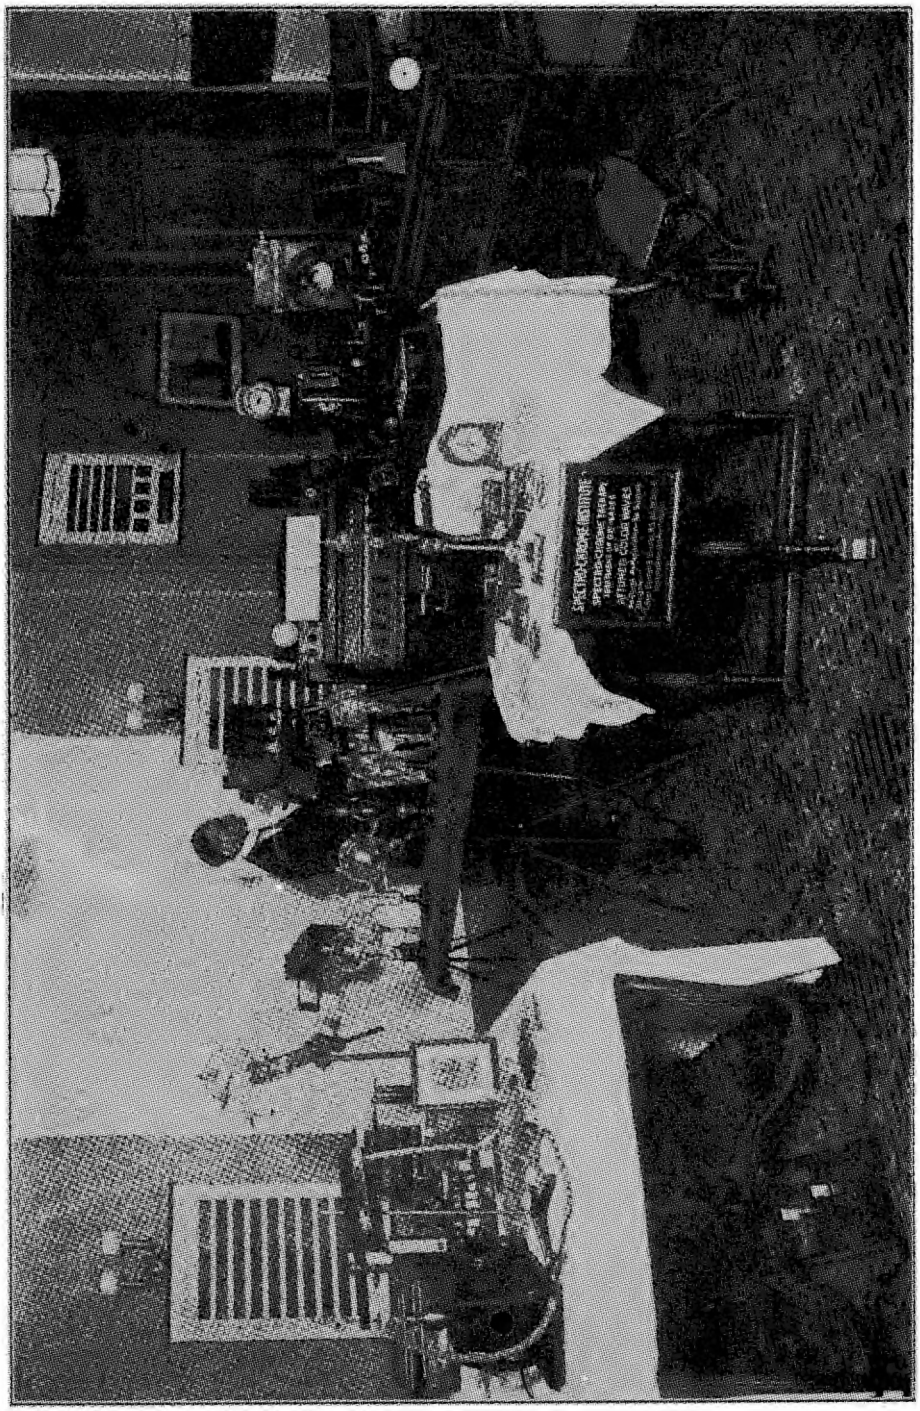

Saying education long has been recognized by the American people as of supreme importance, Justice

McReynolds added:

"Mere knowledge of the German language cannot reasonably be regarded as harmful. Heretofore it has been commonly looked upon as helpful. Plaintiff in error taught this language in school as part of his occupation. His right thus to teach and the right of parents to engage him so to instruct their children, we think, are within the liberty of the amendment."

This is the very ideal I always have maintained and for which I have idolized the Constitution of the United States of America. The medical profession and the laws regulating the practice of "Medicine and Surgery" may be quite welcome and within their rights to choose, select and direct whatsoever laws their lobbied legislations may enact, but, as soon as they place their fingers on each and every Drugless Cult or System they are exceeding the birthrights of humanity, which are Liberty, Property, Security and Contract. A person may be required to be licensed under certain laws to practise "Medicine and Surgery," but Drugless Cults and Systems of Healing are neither "Medicine nor Surgery" and the medical laws cannot touch them. Subsequently, the medical profession, in its horrible jealousy, got other laws passed through by pressure on the legislations, terrorizing the various Drugless Practitioners and succeeding partially in placing their thumbs on the carotids of some weaklings. The underlying reasons of such partial success were the weaknesses in the public policies of such systems and the lax ways in which their teachings were conducted. The main feature of the fight hinged on the use of such Drugless Systems of the same textbooks on Anatomy, Physiology, Bacteriology, Histology, Pathology, Biology, Diagnosis and a number of other "lologies" as were taught in the regular medical schools and were "changed" every ten years to suit them. It was also owing to the followers of such Drugless Systems, appending the title of Dr. (Doctor, Driver or Debtor?) before their names, which irritated further the older school-members, perhaps deservedly.

When Spectro-Chrome Therapy was perfected and brought to the stage of commercial practical clinical application, the Originator had waded fully through these obstacles and legal complications. It was thought unwise to launch out, until this new Drugless Science could go before the whole medical and non-medical world and challenge boldly the right of the so-called Medical Profession to dictate to humanity what system should be used and how in order to alleviate the sufferings of the ailing. Step by step, in Spectro-Chrome Therapy, the Originator evolved a system of healing which not only had nothing in common with any Drug or Drugless System, but which at one stroke swept clean the motheaten, ancient, valueless, destructive and inhuman doctrines foisted under the name of the healing art by ages of uncivilized and civilized so-called "sciences." In Spectro-Chrome Therapy, the Originator boiled down the known and to-the-general-public unknown knowledge of physical and metaphysical fundamentals, evolving a complete absolutely new science, art and profession, whose follower and practitioner can do everything the Drug or Drugless Systems aim at performing and at the same time whose knowledge did not need the usual Anatomy, Physiology, Histology, Pathology, Biology, Bacteriology, and the intricate like. At one clean sweep, the Originator of Spectro-Chrome Therapy not only discarded the filthy, foul, dirty, obnoxious vaccines, serums, blood and urine therapies and the like, but, he threw into the scrap-heap of an ignorant past all the so-called methods of differential diagnosis of the various "strains" of human disorders, by which the ignorant public was hoodwinked into believing the regular Doctors as the "allwise."

The power of Spectro-Chrome Therapy in all these is so great that graduate after graduate is now discarding old views and bowing to the Divine Laws of Nature as enunciated in Spectro-Chrome Therapy. They are now fast awakening to the fact that Spectro-Chrome Therapy needs no support of other systems to carve its way, in as much as it stands unrivalled on its own merits. It holds forth to the entire medical world the most potential challenge in the Healing Art and in as much as it follows entirely novel and universally unknown or unrecognized Laws of Nature, its followers and practitioners have positively nothing to fear in the existing manmade legislation governing other systems of healing.

The decision of the learned Supreme Court of the United States of America positively upholds the absolute birthright of the individual in education, worship, orderly pursuit of happiness, the right of contract et cetera, and on the same principles will the future of Spectro-Chrome Therapists be resting. No legislation can touch either as long as the system and its practitioner has nothing in common with Drugs, Manipulation or Surgery. No law can be enacted and enforced which may debar an individual from being treated by a Spectro-Chrome Therapist or may debar Spectro-Chrome Therapy being practised. Spectro-Chrome Therapy is the Natural Octopus of the Healing Art; its every tentacle has the grasp of Nature's Unchangeable Laws and until the Sun, Moon and Earth begin new tunes of oscillatory periodicity, its principles and fundamentals will survive against all odds.

Drugs and Destructive Surgery have had their day and the public is craving for more rational and sane methods. In Spectro-Chrome Therapy lies the direction of the future Universal Healing Science and the quick expansion of the activities of the Spectro-Chrome Institute in spite of pessimistic imitators is the best proof of its efficacy and potentiality.

At the time of writing this, the Originator is establishing classes for Personal Intensive Training at the approximate rate of one each month in different States. Each class meets daily, six days a week and receives two discourses a day with numerous convincing demonstrations, illustrations and experiments proving the whole system at each step and stage. The fascination attached to this original work is so positive that on the last session, it is practically impossible to make the students believe it is time to disperse.

Those who graduated from the Spectro-Chrome Institute in its early years, when the activities of the Originator were centered in a single office will do well to glance at the picture on the next page. It is of a part of the lecture hall of the Spectro-Chrome Institute, at Providence-Biltmore Hotel, Providence, Rhode Island, where the thirteenth class received its training. It is easy to note what an amount of time, money, energy and conscientious labor is spent by the Spectro-Chrome Institute in giving a thorough training in the Latest Revelation in the Healing Art—Spectro-Chrome Therapy.—Spectro-Chrome Institute is actually a University of Learning all alone.

There is no similar institution anywhere in the World, where the student is taken in hand as mere raw material willing to listen only and where from being an ignoramus or an all-knowing skeptic he is patiently led step by step until he is turned out into a finished product with full conviction that "there is much to learn outside of the medical colleges." The training given is unobtainable anywhere else and the fact that without outside advertising or trumpeting fanfares of so-called boosters the work of the Spectro-Chrome Institute is quietly paving the way for the attainment of the goal of "Therapeutical Emancipation," stands as the highest credential and testimonial to the appreciation of the unselfish labors of the Originator and his devoted staff. They shall ever be at the Service of Suffering Humanity.

ADVICE TO THE MOTHER OF AN EPILEPTIC

To the editor of the New York Evening Journal a distressed mother Mrs. C. D. wrote:—

"Is there any cure for epilepsy? Do you know of any specialist in that disease? I have a daughter who suffers from epilepsy and would appreciate any information you can give me, as I have tried more than twenty physicians and numbers of other remedies besides without satisfactory results."

To this communication the editor of the said newspaper replied:—

"There is unfortunately no absolute cure known for epilepsy, one of the most ancient, strange and baffling of all diseases.

Eventually science will conquer that disease undoubtedly as it has conquered others. Meanwhile, the best that can done is by careful living and diet to modify the violence of attacks, which sometimes pass away entirely.

For the benefit of our readers we have consulted one of the ablest doctors in New York. Below appears the letter received from him.

Sufferers should not try "outside cures" or "quack" remedies. Anybody who says that he can "cure" epilepsy is deceiving you, holding out false hopes and ought to be put in jail.

This letter, written by a thoroughly scientific physician, will be recognized by other conservative physicians as embodying about as much as is now known.

Before using any drugs in the treatment of epilepsy, a doctor, of course, should be consulted. And it may be remembered that in that, as in some other diseases, drugs are of comparatively little avail. Wise living and wise diet are most important.

A Doctor on Epilepsy

March 20, 1923.

Editor New York Evening Journal:

Dear Sir: I know of no "cure" for epilepsy. However, a great deal can be done to control the disease by suitable diet (strictly vegetarian), by careful regulation of the bowels and by the administration of small doses of luminal. On this regime my epileptic patients have gone for a whole year without a seizure, whereas, before, the seizures had not been infrequent. Of course, a great deal depends on how long the illness has lasted and the severity of its original onset. Any neurologist should be able to use the methods suggested.

With kind greetings, I am,

Very truly yours,

M.D."

It is a matter of surprise that the editor Arthur Brisbane should publish anything like a favoring of "strictly vegetarian" diet." He wrote last year and is always writing against vegetarian diet and now it is held as a curer of this formidable evil. Neither he nor his doctor friend realizes that epilepsy is a sex disorder and that in the Purple Systemic and Orange on Areas Numbers 9 and 10 is a powerful remedy according to Spectro-Chrome Therapy. Let the mother of this girl leave the M.D. and go to the capable S.C.T. and she will find better results than in drugs. Drugs are to be avoided like fire near gasoline.

GRAPES ARE SOUR

In order to encourage Pasteurizing milk and other substances, the advocates of that system of artificiality insist that the process is beneficial and should be resorted to, yet, it does not appear as if they know the fundamentals of the source of dis-ease. Writing about temperature and bacterial growth, Safe Milk says:—

"Bacteria have minimum, optimum and maximum temperatures of growth. They multiply fastest at their optimum temperature; any variation from it, either up or down, retards their growth. Different bacteria grow best at different temperatures. Those that grow in milk seem to prefer about 72 degrees Fahrenheit.

At ordinary low temperatures bacterial growth is inhibited, but the germs still exist and multiply rapidly after the temperature is again raised. It is much easier to kill them by heat, however. The maximum temperature at which the germ of tuberculosis, the most resistant of any disease producing organism, that could get into milk, is safely below the pasteurization temperature (142-145 degrees Fahrenheit.)

Pasteurization is 100% efficient in killing the pathogenic or disease producers, and about 99% efficient as regards the ordinary souring or the inert bacteria of milk. This lengthens the life of milk, but, of course, does not prevent its souring.

After pasteurization, milk should be kept at as low a temperature as possible. The milk bottle, previously sterilized, with its tight-fitting cap gives ideal protection to milk, but it will not keep it cold; the housewife must see to this and also that it is kept covered at all times."

I should like to know where the "pathogenic" germs come from. Germs are not the original causators of dis-ease; they are present in pathologic conditions as semaphores indicating merely the existence of what is going on. The World will some day soon wake up to scrap all these wrong ideas. Pasteurizing milk, instead of making milk better removes its vitality and the fact that it sets back the natural souring through the "inert bacteria" is the signal proving the unnaturalness of the universally accepted views.

OPENING OF THE BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, CLASS

The fourteenth Spectro-Chrome Therapy class will open at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, Massachusetts, at 7 P. M. on Monday June 17, 1923. This class will study four hours each night, six nights a week, thus completing the full course of 24 discourses in 2 weeks.

There will be delivered two public lectures on Friday and Saturday the 15th and 16th June 1923 at the Recital Hall (Jordan Hall) Huntington Avenue and Gainsborough Street, Boston, Mass. at 8 P. M.

CRAZY DOCTORS OF MEDICINE

In a certain famous hospital in Pensylvania, a case of Diphtheria developed. Another case of a girl was there just recovering from an exceedingly serious and grave illness. The life of this girl had only been saved by the exclusive use of Spectro-Chrome Therapy and through the care and skill of the surgeon attending. Notwithstanding this, the Health Authorities injected Diphtheria Serum, without the knowledge or consent of the surgeon in charge of the case. Am I not justified in saying, as I do in public, that the medical fraternities have powers more than necessary, and their wings need clipping by the voice of public opinion? The action of those injecting doctors was utterly reprehensible and even unethical. The conscientious surgeon is complaining bitterly, but what?

INTOXICATING LIQUORS AND LIFE

A Danish scientist declares that the life of a human being is shortened 25 minutes for each booze. I may not agree about the 25, but, if alcohol is a preservative and prevents digestion of food products, it surely must interfere with the leading of a normal life—which also must mean its shortening.

HOW DO YOU GET THAT?

A milkman advises his customers to eat many vegetables, especially of the leafy type. Then he says, "If you greatly dislike such vegetables, you may eat more milk, as the cow has eaten many of them for you!" The advice is good, but the argument and logic are foul in principle. Mr. Milkman, the same argument and logic are used by those masters of butchery. Armour and Company and their millions-making brethren—eat the cow? You fellows need to be taught the laws of the conversion of energy and elements. Why not eat a dead human baby—what is the difference?

AN UNSOLICITATED ENDORSEMENT

The following letter from one Doctor of Osteopathy and Dental Surgery who with his wife, sister and sister-in-law graduated as Spectro-Chrome Therapist from the Providence, Rhode Island class to another prominent expert who is a user of Spectro-Chrome Therapy but did not yet take the course was sent me with express permission for publication. It breathes confidence and sincerity and shows the broad mind of the writer. I am pleased to inform him that Dr. Francis A. Cave and Dr. Edith S. Cave will take the course in the class of Boston, Massachusetts.

Dr. Francis A. Cave,

Boston, Mass.

Dear Dr. Cave:

Dr. Alice and I finished the course in Spectro-Chrome Therapy last Saturday evening and to say we are pleased is putting it mildly.

It is clear, concise and to the point and gives a thot along therapeutic lines worthy of consideration, and now that we know what it is, we would say to you not to miss it.

With best regards I remain

yours fraternally

S. L. GANTS.

PORTER CAME TO PORTER'S PORT

When I went to Chicago, Illinois last year, I had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Earle Wilbour Porter, who undertook the advertising work of the Spectro-Chrome Institute and conducted it very creditably and successfully. He also took the course and graduated as Spectro-Chrome Therapist. As I returned from Rhode Island, I received a postal card and knowing Mrs. Earle Wilbour Porter personally, I have the honor to extend greetings. The contents of the card are good:

There came to port the other night
The queerest little craft
Without an inch of rigging on Our Baby here at last!
God shipped our darling little one
Across the unknown water
For us to guide, love and protect Junior Earle Wilbour Porter.

On a side line the card states the Baby Porter was born at West Suburban Hospital, Oak Park, Illinois on June First 1923 and the weight was 8 pounds 12 ounces. Good big baby indeed; the boy received some Spectro-Chrome treatment before birth; it is now necessary to nourish him on Spectro-Chrome principles, without flesh, fish, eggs, tea, coffee, tobacco or alcohol in any shape or form and by all means keep him from the abominable contamination of Vaccination. Keep his blood clean and clear and he will bless his good thinking parents all his life.

Attuned Orange Wave

(Humor, Wit, Fun, Satire, Tickle, Irony)

HARRY AND HIS APPENDIX

A Rhode Island Tale

By:—Miss Kashmira Dinshah,
S.C.T.
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

It has long been a favorite theory of the medical doctor, that pain in the human body signifies the presence of some mysterious germ or foreign substance. To his conception, even the appendix is "useless organ just thrown into the body perhaps for the purpose of filling up space." Foreign substance! In a moment of mental aberration, the Grand Maker just flung in a few extra parts which might be removed without injury to the organism or its operation; in fact the chopping out of the "worthless" appendix is known to benefit the chopper, (monetarily) while the choppee goes his way, lightened of his inside load and incidentally, his bankroll. Thus, though "idle and useless in the body," the appendix does double duty. The trusting public has no defense against the licensed hewer of humans. it being made to believe that it is for their own good to have the destructive surgeon's knife stuck into them from time to time as the M. D. sees fit, until the patient goes into fits and losing patience, dies just to spite the doctor. Perhaps the high cost of funerals is one reason why some people are so ready to have chopped out their appendix, etc. They think it will not cost so much for disposal after death if half of themselves is cut out beforehand. There will be less to cremate. But this cuts no ice with the good undertakers. If they can not put it over you, they will not undertake you because you tried to beat them. They want the whole of your wallet and the whole of you besides. But you can not help it if you are not all there, because the rest of you is in the doctor's office, in neatly labeled bottles filled with anti-Volstead fluid and he will not give them back.

A laughable but cruel instance of medical "what shall I call it" happened in Providence, R. I. The scene of it was laid in a private hospital on Blank Street. The street name is ironical to the victim, a man named Harry who is now an attendant in a restaurant on Eddy Street: Dining in the restaurant where Harry worked, we struck friendship with the man and in the course of conversation, spoke to him of Spectro-Chrome Therapy, "Can it cure appendicitis?" he asked. "Most assuredly," said father, "a few treatments with the proper Attuned Color Wave and the patient goes home happy and well with a healthy appendix still inside. "Well," said Harry, "my appendix was cut out a couple of years ago." "Is that so?" remarked father, "it is a pity. You will suffer all your life from constipation, indigestion and a host of other troubles." "Oh, how did you know? I do suffer from all those things!" exclaimed Harry, "after my appendix was taken out, I became constipated, my back ached, my head hurt and I felt terrible." "Did you go back to the doctor and tell him?" "Surely I did," answered Harry, "I went to the doctor and said, 'Doctor, you took my appendix out and charged me one hundred and sixty dollars for it but I am not well yet. Aside from that, you made me pay seventy-eight dollars for two weeks stay in the hospital and ten dollars extra for the operating table. I ought to be healthy after paying all that money, but I am not!' So the doctor gave me some more medicine and sent me home." "The physician must have told you the trouble was only the 'reaction from the operation,'" father observed. "That's just what he said, 'reaction,'" Harry continued, "but that 'reaction' kept up for over a year. I went to the doctor again and again but he just gave me any old medicine and carelessly told me to go home. He had my money and he had my appendix, but I had aches and pains like Old Harry. I felt dreadful; I thought I would fall flat any minute with all those things gone wrong inside of me. One day I mustered courage and went to the physician's office. He used to become angry when he saw me coming so often. What did he care for me now that I hadn't another appendix to be taken out? So this time I was trembling, wondering if he'd kick me out, but I was determined to have something done for me." Here the man stopped for breath. We listened attentively as he related the climax of his story. "Well," Harry went on, "the doctor called me into his office and said, 'Say, what are you always hanging around here for?' I told him, 'Doctor, it is over a year I've been suffering like this. That appendix operation didn't do me any good—it has made me worse. You must make me well!' 'Oh, get out, you are dreaming.' I said, I'm not dreaming. I have pains all over. Give me something to cure me. I can't pay money all my life for medicine; I'm a poor man. You've soaked me nearly clean out already! What did you take my money for if you couldn't cure me? I can't help it if I have to hang around here so much. I'm so sick I'm afraid I'll keel over right here.' Then the doctor said, 'I won't give you any more medicine. You've bothered me long enough. Go home!' When I heard that, I was wild. 'Yes,' I said bitterly, 'it is nothing to you now what becomes of me. You have my money and I have nothing but pains. You give me a pain, too.' At that the doctor became hot under the collar and —would you believe it?—this is what he told me. 'Say, young fellow,' he shouted, 'there is nothing the matter with you! All you need is a new set of brains! Get out!' "

Attuned Green Wave

(Spectro-Chrome Therapy, Spectro-Chrome Therapists)

DR. KATE W. BALDWIN UNFURLS THE SPECTRO-CHROME BANNER IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Reported by:—Miss Grace Eunice Griswold, S.C.T., Vice-President, Washington Association of Spectro-Chrome Therapists.

Kate Wylie Baldwin, M. D., F. A. C. S., Senior Surgeon in the Philadelphia Woman's Hospital, gave a public lecture in Washington, D. C., on March 24, 1923, at the invitation of the Washington Association of Spectro-Chrome Therapists. It was the biggest Spectro-Chrome event in Washington since Dr. Dinshah gave his course here a year ago. It is now a part of Spectro-Chrome history.

The White Parlor of the Ebbitt Hotel, seating two hundred, was filled to capacity, with persons sitting in the windows and standing, gathered chiefly by the personal invitation of members of the Association and their friends. Dr. Baldwin's name and reputation attracted a number of prominent physicians of different schools of medicine; among them were doctors from Walter Reid Military Hospital, and many medical students.

The Committee of arrangements had spared no pains in the endeavor to have every detail complete; every member of the Association "did his bit," feeling that nothing was too good for Spectro-Chrome, or for Dr. Baldwin. The last act of Dr. Horace B. Coblentz, late honored and beloved President of the Association, in the cause of Spectro-Chrome, was to call a meeting to plan for this lecture. The new President, Rev. Simon P. Fogle, introduced the speaker.

Hearing of the enthusiasm her coming had aroused, Dr. Baldwin was in her element, and gave a masterly summary of the principles of Spectro-Chrome Therapy. Calling attention at first to the finer but almost unrecognized forces of Nature —light and air—without which life could not long exist, then taking up more fully the powers and principles of light and color, she expounded the theory of Spectro-Chrome Therapy with such clearness that both laymen and physicians could not but grasp it.

After an hour she asked the audience whether they would prefer theory or cases." There were calls of "more theory" from many parts of the hall; so she enlarged somewhat, giving illustrations from her extensive private and hospital experience of the wonderful results obtained in tuberculosis, sarcoma, carbuncle, goitre, asthma, drug addiction, etc., and the "star case" of Grace the burned child, which attracted marked attention.

A grateful Spectro-Chrome patient loaned and operated a stereopticon, with which near the conclusion of the lecture Dr. Baldwin projected slides demonstrating the Single Polarity Predominance Chart, Operation of the Attuned Color Waves through the Cerebro-Spinal and the Great Sympathetic Nervous System, Therapeutic Area Chart, Attributes of Attuned Color Waves and the like. These slides were loaned to the speaker by courtesy of the Spectro-Chrome Institute. She added further interest by showing four views of the burnt girl, as before and after Spectro-Chrome treatment.

Dr. Baldwin was interrupted by frequent applause, her happy hits keeping the audience alert. When after the early pictures of the burned child in her great sufferings, she was shown later with her sweet and radiant face, nearly healed, the contrast was so great that a wave of emotion swept over the audience, followed by a spontaneous burst of loud applause.

Many intelligent questions were asked by physicians and others in the audience, showing keen interest and close following of the subject and proving that the great underlying principles of Spectro-Chrome had been "put across" by the speaker, who also expressed herself as greatly satisfied with the quality of the audience.

In conclusion, many gathered around Dr. Baldwin to clasp her hand and voice their appreciation of the privilege of hearing her speak upon this up-to-the-minute topic. An eager group lingered for nearly another hour asking further questions. For many Dr. Baldwin "rolled away the stone" of doubt, prejudice and ignorance that had held them, and made Spectro-Chrome a living reality.

Many appreciative sentiments were overheard. One physician said "Dr. Baldwin's argument was clear and convincing and inspired a desire to take up the course of study." A lawyer, whose wife is a physician said, "Dr. Baldwin's argument appealed to me because it was so logical." Others were impressed by the speaker's fairness and honesty and said they could not help believe.

The Graduates of the Spectro-Chrome Institute including the speaker, were decorated with a knot of ribbons of the true primary colors, Red, Green and Violet, so they could be easily distinguished. A list of the graduates using the Spectro-Chrome Equipments had been prepared for inquirers, and was eagerly taken. Copies of the charter and prospectus of the Spectro-Chrome Institute were distributed and some copies of the magazine Spectro-Chrome sold.

Some of the daily newspapers which had consistently refused all mention of Spectro-Chrome in their columns relaxed for this occasion and gave brief notices and reports. So Dr. Baldwin legitimatized Spectro-Chrome, as it were and gained for it a wider recognition by her splendid presentation of convincing facts.

The next morning, she met the local Spectro-Chrome Association in a two-hour informal conference, discussing individual cases and giving many practical suggestions. Her last words before leaving Washington were: "Spectro-Chrome Therapy is the most fascinating thing I have ever engaged in." So saw we all and the many friends she made for Spectro-Chrome join us in the hope that she may return soon and often to Washington.

Spectro-Chrome is thankful to you, Miss Grace, for your graceful report. Dr. Kate W. Baldwin is certainly placing Spectro-Chrome Institute under an obligation so extensive as to be unrepayable. Her high knowledge of Medicine and Surgery and her vast hospital experience upholding Spectro-Chrome Therapy mean an endorsement of the most potential character to the system. She pioneered it in the State of Pennsylvania and by her persistent successful clinical use of it, built for Spectro-Chrome Therapy a solid foundation which the Originator needed to present the system before an ultra skeptical body. For all she did and for all her kind endeavors in the promulgation of Spectro-Chrome Therapy, Spectro-Chrome Institute offers the most cordial thanks.

VIOLENT MENTAL CASES, HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, BURNS, BLOOD POISONING RELIEVED BY SPECTRO-CHROME THERAPY.

—

By:—Dr. James C. Daniels, S.C.T.
In Charge, Spectro-Chrome Therapy Department, Lindlahr Sanitarium, Chicago, Illinois.

Just a little note to let you know we are still using Spectro-Chrome here at Lindlahr Sanitarium with some success.

The following are some cases specially noted:

Case 1—Violent mental cases; quieted by Attuned Violet.

Case 2—High blood pressure; bad nephritic condition; one foot in the grave when he landed here. Wonderful results from Nature Cure treatment backed up by Attuned Purple Systemic, Scarlet on Area Number 18, which I changed to Lemon on Area Number 18 with better results. This patient says Spectro-Chrome is one of the better treatments we give here.

Case 3—Woman washing hair accidentally poured very hot water over her head; was badly scalded. Treatment was Turquoise on scalp and Indigo for pain. Excellent results.

Case 4—Woman; poisoned finger with glandular swelling in axilla; 105° fever. Fast and cold packs only temporary help; supplement Blue for fever (½ hour treatment every 3 hours) alternating with Indigo for pain as a cellulitis had developed all over the body. Fine result.

Many others are being treated, but, have not received reports yet.

I am truly pleased to receive your reports and thank you for the trouble. I also thank the worthy Dr. Henry Lindlahr for introducing Spectro-Chrome Therapy in his famous sanitarium. The allusion to Spectro-Chrome Equipments made by him in the April issue of The Lindlahr Magazine is very kind and it is gratifying to know that he is getting results from the Graduate and other Spectro-Chrome Equipments he possesses. All success to the great man in his efforts for the relief of the sick.

IVY POISONING, NASAL CATARRHS, HEART AND BLADDER DIS-EASES RELIEVED BY SPECTRO-CHROME THERAPY

By: — GERTRUDE BURGESS, D.O., S.C.T. Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Among others, I treated the following cases with success:—

Case 1—T. C. age 11 years. Ivy Poison on hands. Had three ½ hour treatments in 48 hours; color Indigo. Affected parts dried and healed leaving no scars.

Case 2—Mrs. D. M. age 25 years. Nasal Catarrh of several years standing. Received half hour treatments every 24 hours for about 2 weeks. Color Turquoise on Area Number 1. Condition improved from first treatment.

Case 3—Mrs. D. G. R. age 37 years. Severe catarrhal disorder. Received two half hour treatments in less than six hours. Color Turquoise on Area 1. Result was marked and relieved patient very much.

Case 4—Mrs. E. C. age about 45 years. Acute heart condition. Applied Magenta on Area 4 in two periods of 20 minutes each in 24 hours with very good result.

Case 5—Miss M. M. age 39 years. Chronic bladder affection. Had to be catheterized once and often twice every 24 hours for several months. Applied Indigo on Area 10 every 12 hours in periods of 20 minutes each. After the third day, it was no longer necessary to use the catheter. The patient is steadily improving under correct treatment with Green Systemic, Magenta on Areas 4 and 18, Yellow on Area 9, Indigo on Area 10. She admits she is in better health now than she was during more than twenty years.

PAPILLOMA OF BLADDER, HEMORRHAGE, MASTOIDITIS RELIEVED

By:—MARTHA J. PEEBLES, M.D., S.C.T. Formerly Inspector, Department of Health, City of New York

It will be remembered, in my earlier reports to the SPECTRO-CHROME, printed in the February issue, I cited a case of Papilloma of the Bladder with hemorrhage, in an old man of 74 years, the bleeding having been controlled with ONE treatment. This was in March of last year. I continued to treat the patient for a month, when he discontinued treatments to go to the country. I advised him in the Fall to resume treatments as Papilloma are frequently of a malignant nature and in my opinion it would require 3 to 6 months of treatment to eradicate it entirely. Recently, he reported back to me, suffering from the bleeding. Indigo Attuned Color Wave again controlled the hemorrhage in one treatment, pressure being exerted (and I think it will work) to convince him that he must continue treatments long enough to be considered totally well.

I like to report another case also.

A man aged 50, six weeks prior had threatened Mastoiditis with Parenceticis. Since that time he had suffered great pain in the neck on the same side with spasm of the outer margin of the Trapezius muscle. Medical treatment at the hands of the family physician failed to relieve him. 1½ hour of Indigo Wave stopped the pain. This patient had a low blood pressure—120 mm. systolic, this being considered by me the cause of the spasm of the muscle. Red Wave was given on the back in conjunction with the local Indigo for pain. It is needless to say the patient is enthused.

Attuned Turquoise Wave

(Poetry, Romance, Drama, Art)

LIGHT OF LIFE

By:—Mrs. Mary P. Hynson

Were life but a flame . . .
A flame which heats, consumes;
It could not be a life-force—
But an error, a Force—presumed.

But the Force of infinite being
'Tis a wonderous, beauteous thing
That shimmers in a sea of life,
And tints, its varied form-screens.

The flame of life—burns,
And doth consume its forms . . .
It heats, and radiates . .
But dies with its wasting sperm.

But the infinite Force of God—
Whose rays are life divine,
Preserves—the forms it shines upon
And lives to the end of time.

Attuned Blue Wave

(History, Travel, Biography, Geography, Language)

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS

By:—Irene Grace Dinshah, S.C.T.

Philadelphia, Penna.

History declares that being discontented under the severe disciplin of their Mother Country, the Pilgrims came to America to work out their own salvation—to worship God in their own way. Thus, our glorious land, America (the country that we find comfortable to live in) was built by neither "highbrows" nor "lowbrows," but by truehearted, [illegible] America could be compared to a business concern just launching out into the wide World; she played her part well with her few workmen (Pilgrims) but, the business (America) so expanded that more employees (immigrants) were essential.

Truly, America was merely toddling.

I class in three stages, our country's development since 1492. First:—the Welcome; second:—the Undeserved, "It is the same to us if you do or do not come; third:—the "Morons."

The Welcome

In countries far away poor struggling peasants were advised through this (now appearing sinister) question, "Why do you not come to America—the Golden Land of Opportunity?"

They came willingly,

Were welcomed cordially,

Toiled unflinchingly,

Lived quietly, happily.

America was their country as well as ours.

This was followed by ungratefulness.

The Undeserved

It was sufficient to cause the foreigners despair, when, instead of being greeted through Columbia's Gates as the pioneers had greeted the immigrants' forefathers, they were knocked around by heartless jeering people who shouted, "Hey, you Wops, you Sheenies, where did you come from?" In Columbia, the Land of Hope, Freedom, Justice and Equality, the newcomers found, worked for and got nothing more than "Hail Columbia." They may or may not have seen the American flag in the land of their birth, but, they wanted to respect it at any rate. They did respect our flag; they saw—some got—the "stripes" and fortunately or unfortunately saw "stars," also. If they inquired for directions, some snobbish remark was hurled at them. Such was their remuneration. It was distinctly shown that they were not wanted, from the attitude displayed by real Americans!!

The Morons

Now, the urgency for deportation and exclusion of foreign immigrants by law is the topic of the day. Another set of "real Americans" (dissimulators) expected loyal Americans to place credence in the obnoxious assertion that our country is over-crowded. Even residents of New York City tenement houses had the pleasure of seeing miles and miles of God's country unoccupied since Ford automobiles came into existence; and for it they had not far to go! Nevertheless, these political hypocrites, who call themselves "real Americans," concocted another scheme, when, to their disappointment the first was a failure.

An immigrant may be perfectly normal, perhaps even unusually intelligent, but, because he fails to answer meaningless jargon that some nonsensical immigration authority uses as a test to determine whether or not the person is mentally deficient, he is pronounced a Moron (a poor fish) and is supposed to credit him with the brains of a child twelve years of age; some papers are signed and the person deported.

When I learned about the absurdity of the examination, I thought how unhappy must they be—they who would like to earn an honest living in a country where Democracy is supposed to prevail, but where injustice does not seem inevitable. Those law makers forget that:

All

Must

Enjoy

Rights

In

Congenial

America.

How fortunate for me that I was born in America! I would surely have been adjudged and awarded the title of "Moron" otherwise by the present-day "tests." Even Dinshah, the Originator of Spectro-Chrome Therapy, with his wide knowledge of languages would be unable to answer many questions without consulting a dictionary. Can you define the word abovousqueadmala? To know the definition will not make you any better American.

Georges Clemenceau, the ex-Premier of France says, "If you think an academician knows how to spell, that only proves the persistence of a legend." Therefore, do you not think we should show at least a little leniency toward the willing-to-learn-and-become Americans?

To reject and deport the would-be-loyal future citizen and welcome the clever brainy scamp, in itself is absurd.

America needs the builders,
Not destroyers;
America needs the workers,
Not the shirkers.

The sooner Americans wake up to this responsibility, the better for America—the better for the World. Let all the hardworking, honest brawnholders be welcomed to America—there are brains enough here.

VIOLET FLOWER STATE WELCOMES SPECTRO-CHROME THERAPY

Rhode Island, the smallest State in our Union gave an exceedingly good reception to Spectro-Chrome Therapy. There was such harmony in the class that it appeared like a family gathering rather than a number of comparative strangers taking a course in the Latest Revelation in the Healing Art. On the final day, the following testimonial was handed to the Originator of this new science:

Spectro-Chrome Institute,
Providence, Rhode Island.

June 2, 1923.

We, the students of the thirteenth Class attending the Course of Instruction in Spectro-Chrome Therapy, wish to express our deep appreciation to Col. Dinshah Ghadiali, M.D. for his unfailing courtesy and broad-mindedness.

We also wish to express our sincere thanks to you, our beloved Master and Teacher, for the brilliant skill and manner to teach us in the Science of Spectro-Chrome Therapy.

Pledging ourselves to co-operate with you to carry the message which you have brought to us, to others, we wish you God-speed on your noble mission and hope that your untiring efforts to relieve suffering humanity will, in the near future, be crowned with the desired success for which you so earnestly are looking forward.

(Signatures of the Students)