YOUR MAJESTY OF SPIRIT

by Robert Chaney

In olden days when the seal of emperor or king was placed upon a document, it signified that the person who carried it was an official emissary of state. In that official capacity the emissary carried out orders, delivered messages and established decrees entrusted to him.

Let's apply the idea to you and your life. If you are to understand the true majesty of your Self, and thus realize your own potential, let us consider you an emissary of the ruler of the universe.

EMISSARY OF THE INFINITE

You — an emissary of the Infinite, the Cosmic Being we call God or Brahma or Allah or any of a thousand different names!

You are in the image of that God. You are stamped with the seal of the Infinite.

Therefore, though you may be involved in material affairs that seem of little consequence, it is nevertheless your majestic mission to carry out the orders of the Infinite, to speak Its messages and establish Its decrees to the best of your ability to comprehend them.

THE SEAL OF DIVINITY

Each will understand such messages in a different way and to a different degree. Each will find a different channel through which to express them. We all bear the Divine Seal upon our inner nature, but in an individualized aspect which is different for each of us.

Look at your hands for a moment. Here are bones and tissue, tendons and nails, hair and muscles. Now flex them.

Think: These are the hands that do the work of God in the world of men.

Are you building a space ship? You use these hands to weld and wire. They press buttons, draw lines and turn switches. Hands build a ship that will take man on a faroff venture into new worlds of life. You play a part in something vital to our time.

But let us say you are doing nothing more than building a dog house. Is using your hands to build a dog house less spiritual than to build a space ship? .. It may seem so, but when evaluated from the spiritual point of view we cannot say it is. In both instances you are doing something for a form of life . . . carrying out an order as an emissary of the Infinite in this material world.

YOUR VOICE HAS POWER

Think of your voice! This is the voiee that speaks for the Infinite Being in the world of men.

Let us imagine it is being used to sing an aria in an opera. Before you are three thousand listeners enthralled by the wonderful sounds you are creating. They are lifted to a high state of ecstasy.

But then let us imagine your voice being used for nothing more than to say "Hello." Is this an unimportant mission?

I sometimes think the way we say hello to one another has more effect on the progress of humankind than everything ever said by the world's greatest orators. In two thousand languages "hello" creates good or bad human relations in the lives of unnumbered millions every day.

What does your "hello" really say? What kind of electromagnetic quality have you implanted in this simple little word? Is it the vibrational pattern of discouragement and dismay, distrust and doubt, or does it uplift and exhilarate, does it establish a new decree in the mind of the hearer?

Does it say to that person, "You are an individual who can accomplish something. Though you are beset by troubles you have a worthwhile life to live. Though outward circumstances seem to indicate otherwise, you are a majestic individual!"

Does your "hello" say that? Does it establish a true brotherhood between you and the one to whom it is spoken? Whether that person is of the same religion as you, or color, or nationality? Does it create a functional brotherhood in both your lives?

You can thrill thousands with an aria, true. But an aria may not accomplish nearly as much as the way you say hello when it proceeds from the inner depths of your spiritual nature.

A THIRD FORM

Your hands and your voice are just two of the physical qualities you possess for expressing the spiritual majesty of your being. Now think of your mind. Think: This is the mind that expresses the Infinite Consciousness in the world of men . . the portion of your Self that expresses the vitalizing energies of God.

The greatest intellect in the world today may not influence these vitalizing energies any oftener than the humblest. The energies of the Infinite pass through each of us — and at least in that sense we are all born equal though in outer circumstances we obviously are not. In the inner sense we are equal in that these vitalizing Infinite energies are available to each of us; the humblest intellect may use them equally with the greatest.

MAJESTY WAITS AT THE GATE

Majesty of spirit resides within you at this very moment. It waits patiently but expectantly at the gate of consciousness, ready to pass through into the world around you when you open the way. Ready to permeate the deeds of your hands, the words of your voice and the expressions of your mind with all the potent powers it possesses.

Is it difficult to open the gate of consciousness? To open the way so the majesty of spirit will circulate throughout your affairs?

One of the principal requirements is simply the recurring realization that you are the delegate of God on earth. It is a kind of awakening and then daily reawakening to the fact that you bear the seal of the Infinite indelibly stamped upon your finite spirit. Act as the representative of God.

There is a spiritual writing which says something like this: "When man awakens and realizes he is truly a son of God, and that all the powers of God are within himself, it is then that he will begin to achieve his true mastership." It is then he will function in the full majesty of which he is capable.

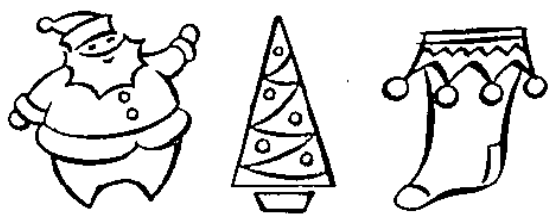

This article is an excerpt from Dr. Robert's supplementary lesson "Awaken Your Higher Potential." He discusses how to awaken your majesty of spirit, your highest inner qualities and your ability to govern circumstances.

This practical and inspirational booklet is available for a tuition of $2.50, and is just one of the many general lessons, books and meditation aids now available in Astara's revised Special Catalog, recently mailed to all members.

TYPEWRITERS NEEDED

Because volunteers stop in to do manuscript typing, label typing, letters, etc., Astara frequently needs more typewriters than we now own. If you have a good electric standard pica size typewriter that you no longer need and would like to donate to Astara, it would be a wonderful help to us. Bring it to Fred Stewart on campus, or ship it to his attention. We'll use it immediately after its arrival to type a very sincere thank you for your help!

YULETIDE BOUTIQUE SET FOR DECEMBER

Do you remember the gala bazaar we had on campus in March? All kinds of donated handcrafts, planters and baked goods went on sale in a fun, creative, educational and delicious fundraising effort for the Upland Center.

For all you buyers and vendors who had such a great time then – the good times are coming back again. A Christmas Boutique has been slated for December 3 and 4, and we're letting you know early so you can begin your own craftwork in plenty of time. At the last bazaar, many of the craft donations were weeks in the making, including quilts, lacework, knitted items, artwork and jewelry.

Even more important, lots of people made great new friends as they joined together in crafts workshops at each others' homes. It's a nice way to make the Christmas spirit start early and last long. But even if your creative effort is just a quick batch of your best cookies, start thinking of the recipe now and may visions of sugarplums dance in your head . . .

An Astarian In Need Never Walks Alone

He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. (Ps. 147:3)

Dear Dr. Earlyne,

I want to tell you about the wonderful healing that began to take place with me this past weekend while at the Upland Seminar with you. I began to have arthritis 3 or 4 years ago in the fingers of both hands. I had been taking medication similar to aspirin for almost a year, but I just happened to forget to take any of it when I began to attend the seminar.

On Saturday, my fingers had begun to swell and become tender. Then during the healing, when you told all of us to visualize the Pyramid over the whole building, the moment I did this, I began to feel very, very warm in the palms of my hands. That's the only place I felt heat. I didn't raise my hand to tell you because I wanted to be sure it wasn't imagination and expectancy.

Later that night I suddenly discovered the welling and tenderness had left my fingers, and my rings were loose and turning. Ordinarily without the medication, the swelling would have been even worse, and my fingers stiff the next morning. Sunday morning there was none of this.

Sunday afternoon during the healing, the same hot feeling came into my palms. I tested them on the bare arm of my friend sitting next to me. She said, "You're burning up!" So I raised my hand. At the end of the service I made my way to the front to speak to you.

I had waited 9 years for the opportunity to meet you in person. My life has changed dramatically and drastically since I became an Astarian. I know that it was the longing I've always had for the spiritual that brough about these changes, painful though many of them were.

You told me Sunday I needed to change my diet, and I want you to know that I am determined to do so, and have already set about it. I have left off the arthritis medication completely, and my fingers are not swollen at any time. And the yoga exercises first thing in the A.M. relieve any hint of the headache I used to wake up with when I was not on medication.

To come here to live and be near Astara is a dream come true. Now I have begun the disciplines anew and know the Masters are near.

Sincerely,
G.F.
Westlake Village, CA

Would you like to work on Astara's staff someday? We periodically have openings for employees in a variety of campus positions:

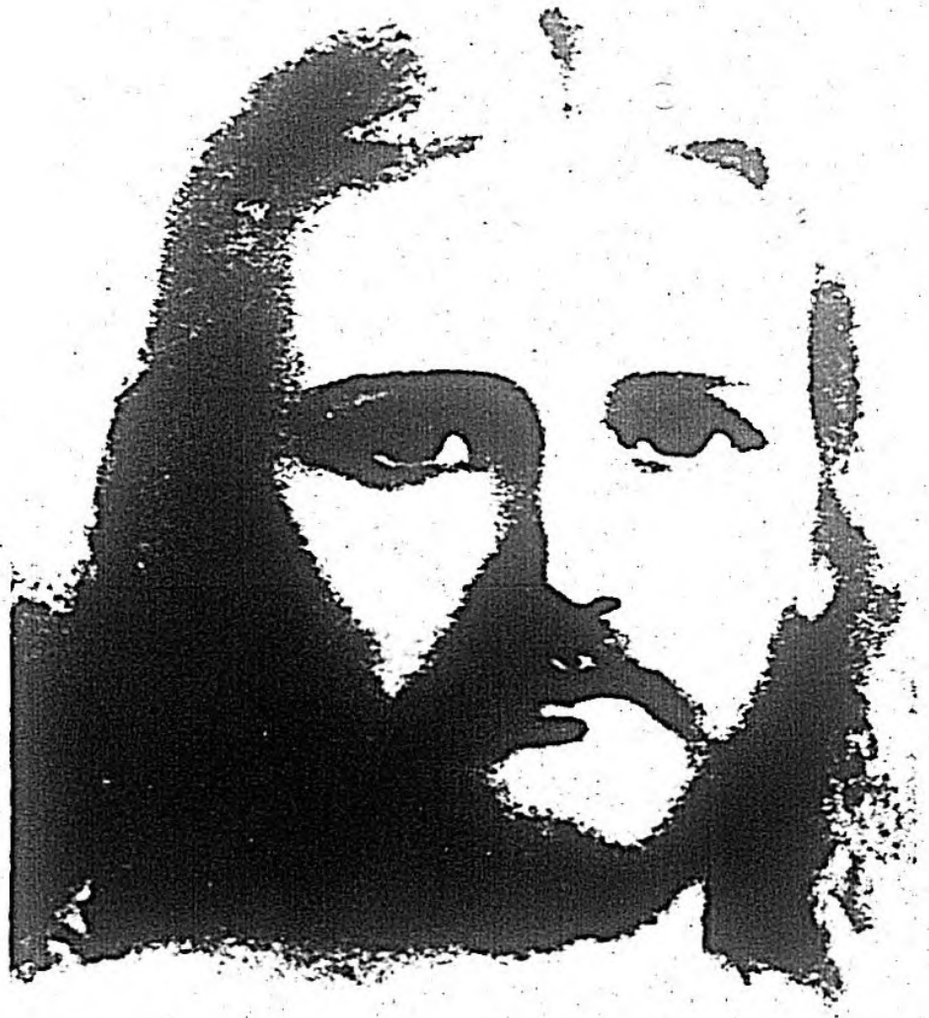

Secretary, graphic artist, mailroom clerk, dormitory housekeeper, cook or cook's assistant, maintenance help, gardener, etc.

If you'd like to be considered when such a job needs to be filled, write to Fred Stewart at headquarters for an application. We'll keep it in our "reservoir of talent" file for possible future needs. (If you returned an application several months or even years ago, you might want to send in a note letting us know you're still interested in a position, perhaps updating your resumé or other information.)

Meditation Focus for August

You are invited to join fellow Astarians in a moment of communal prayer at 10:00 a.m.
Pacific Standard Time on any or every day of the week.

". . . his eye seeth every precious thing
. . . and the thing that is hid bringeth he forth to light."
Job 28:10, 11

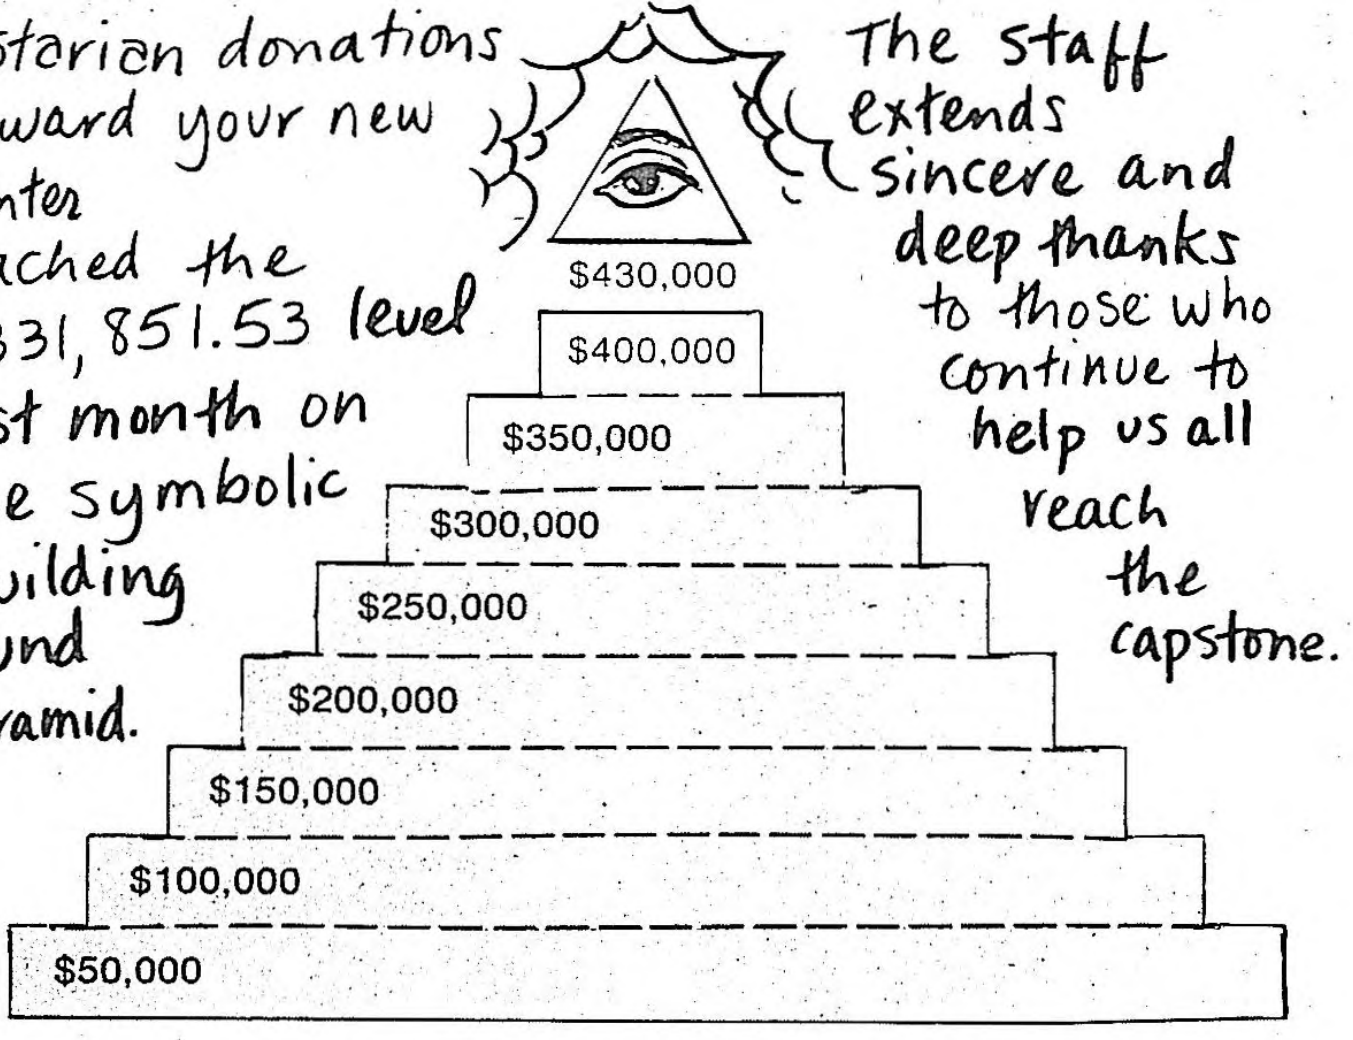

As I take this moment to pause in the day's activities and look deep into the Master's eyes,
may I also see deep into my own consciousness.
May this deeper vision uncover and bring to light the hidden precious metals of my spirit:
strength, balance and direction.

(This image of Christ is said to have appeared to and been photographed by a group of boys in British Columbia at a church summer camp.)

Astarian donations toward your new Center reached the $331,851.53 level last month on the symbolic Building Fund Pyramid.

The staff extends sincere and deep thanks to those who continue to help us all reach the capstone.

Dr. Earlyne's Upland seminar in July included her "Initiation in the Great Pyramid" slide lecture. Although given in other cities on her continuing nation-wide teaching tour, the Egypt program had not yet been presented for a "hometown" Astarian gathering. It was well worth the wait.

Many of the slides taken on her trip to the Great Pyramid last year show signs of psychic manifestations affecting the film. This evidence of "Pyramid Power" is important, and a 3-day seminar this month will further illuminate the alchemical potential of the pyramid form -- in Egypt's magnificent stone structure or in a miniature replica by your kitchen sink.

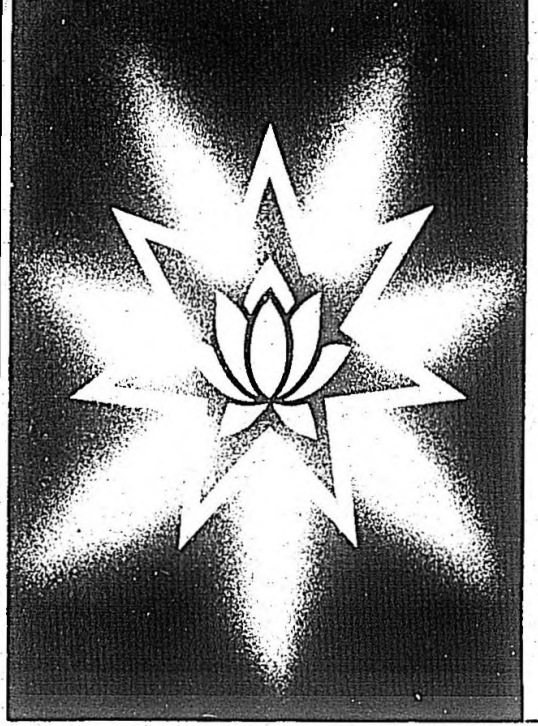

But Dr. Earlyne and this month's seminar speakers all emphasize that it is the healing forces and wisdom embodied in the pyramidal concept that we must really seek to unlock, understand and activate in our lives. Your financial help toward the Astara Center's fund-raising capstone will make possible a spiritual capstone in the lives of other Seekers: an eternal source of energy, strength and peace on the Path to initiation.

NEW VISION — NEW WORLDS —

Through the ages man has been motivated by an irresistible urge to discover. It is an urge of the spirit. After centuries of exploring the deepest jungles and highest mountains he has turned to both inner and outer space in the physical world.

What next?

Most men of wisdom have long realized that the greatest of all worlds to explore, and the one most people know the least about, is the world within your Self—the greatest vision is insight. It is to this type of individual exploration that Astara's Lessons are dedicated.

You are already providing just such an opportunity through your Astarian studies. Use the Continuation Form on the reverse side of this page for additional Astarian Lessons.

Give us, O God, the vision which can see Thy love in the world in spite of human failure.
Give us the faith to trust Thy goodness in spite of our ignorance and weakness.
Give us the knowledge that we may continue to pray with understanding hearts, and show us what each one of us can do to set forward the coming of the day of universal peace. Amen.

a visit with Robert

August, 1977

Dear Fellow Astarian,

If your mail is similar to mine these days, you are frequently receiving announcements from both organizations and individuals offering courses and books on "How to Use Your Mind to Control Your Body and All the Circumstances of Your Life." Years ago, advertising for such courses offered the glories of a highly developed body only.

The change from the physical end of the spectrum to the mental center intrigues me. A generation from now will it go on to focus only on the spirit?

It seems to me that one great error in all this is to focus exclusively upon one aspect only. Why not include mind and body instead of mind alone or body alone? Both are, or at least should be, functioning together in this present sphere of life. It is intriguing to be able to control your pulse beat by an expression of the mind. But, would it not be more productive to learn how pulse beat and consciousness can function rhythmatically in unison? We still have much to learn.

Earlyne's "Weekend at Astara" early last month was really a sensational time here on the campus. Total attendance at all the meetings combined was just under two and a half thousand.

What a sight it was to see throngs of people roaming the campus and attending the meetings. All of it was indeed memorable. It will become an annual event and Earlyne plans to hold it in the future on Memorial Day weekend. So, you may wish to begin making your plans now for next May.

Many years ago, I told the staff (which at that time numbered only about 18 people) that on the first day on which Astara enrolled 100 or more new members, they would be treated to a special lunch as Astara's guests. It happened about six weeks ago. The staff now numbers approximately 40. So, the luncheon turned out to be about twice the size originally expected.

At the luncheon I announced that another would be given on the same basis on the first day that 125 new members were enrolled. That happened just two weeks later! The Spirit of Astara is really active. 150 new members enrolled in one day is the next goal. Best wishes --

FAIR-WEATHER ADDRESSES

The folks in Astara's registry who keep track of your lesson records have a special seasonal request: Please do not send in changes of address for temporary summer locations. Such changes usually create more data and delivery problems than they solve, so take the registry's advice: rest up during your summer vacation, maybe re-reading some past lessons or one of Astara's books along the way, and then come back home ready to study and absorb with new energy: your next lessons will be waiting.

The registry workers also ask that you always include your former address when reporting a change of address, including your old and new zip codes. To start your new records, they need to find your old ones – seems reasonable, doesn't it?

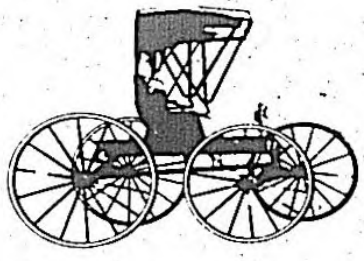

WE'D LIKE YOUR RESPONSE . . .

So that we can "test the waters," so to speak, would all Astarian in the New York area interested in having Dr. Earlyne come to New York for a seminar please contact:

aikido!

On Sundays (August 7, 14, 21 & 28) at 2:00 p.m. this month, Astara is fortunate to present a series of four Aikido workshops under the direction of Neal and Dawn McKenzie – $2 tuition for each session.

Aikido is perhaps best known as an Oriental form of self-defense, related somewhat to martial arts such as judo or karate. But Aikido goes far beyond physical prowess to develop the idea that "true victory is really victory over oneself."

A look at the word Aikido itself gives a better idea of this unique wholistic discipline:

Ai . . . agreement, oneness, harmony
Ki . . . environment, nature or spirit of universe
Do . . . road, path, way of life

"Aikido" can thus be translated as a way of life through harmony with the spirit of the universe.

Neal McKenzie presented a class several weeks ago at Astara for one of our seminars, and students in his class later commented that they especially enjoyed the very friendly and relaxed attitude in his demonstrations. Some older students, who didn't care to participate in some of the physical exercises, still found a wealth of practical and valuable information in the ideas of Aikido. These include principles in how to respond to all kinds of negative, threatening or problem situations, how to effectively channel higher energies, how to use breathing to enhance control and mental calm, and a host of techniques for dealing with stress in general.

Find out more about this beautiful, gentle, potent and amazing mind-and-body art form: experience Aikido at Astara in August.
